Europeans debate future role

PARIS (UPI)—The nine nations of the European Common Market met at the summit today to celebrate their growth and plan their future but immediately split over the issue of unity.

After smiles and waves to spectators in the chill sunshine outside France's International Conference Center near the Arch of Triumph, the masters of the 250-million-person Community marched indoors, settled around a table usually used by Vietnam peace talk negotiators, and issued statements lauding their growing wealth and vowing to avoid battling other trade bloc powers, principally the United States.

Then a giant from a small nation rose.

Six-foot-six Barend Biesheuvel, using his presidency of the market commission to take the floor first, demanded progress toward a politically unified Europe.

"I am certain that neither the next (Dutch) parliament nor the next (Dutch) cabinet would be prepared to assist in the transition to the second stage of the economic and monetary union without being given some assurance that the community's power of decision would be considerably enhanced and that there was to be effective parliamentary participation in policy making," the Dutch giant in the dark blue suit said.

The smiles around the table stopped. The six original market members—France, West Germany, Italy, the Netherlands, Belgium and Luxembourg—began their progress with the 1959 treaty of Rome that specified economic cooperation. It also specified political unity. But the market nations shied from surrendering their individual political powers.

France, under the late Charles de Gaulle, used vetoes to hold down progress toward any United States of Europe. But the Dutch and other members kept the dream alive and today Biesheuvel acted.

Pompidou removed the cigarette from his mouth. As host to the summit, he exercised his right to speak next.

His heavy eyebrows moving up and down as he spoke, Pompidou said, "The French position is open so long as one does not fail to recognize the fact that political control must remain in the hands of national parliaments."

Power County officers are continuing the investigation

TF link probed in death

TWIN FALLS—A man whose body was found by duck hunters near Pocatello Wednesday may have been shot in Twin Falls County.

That possibility is being investigated, Twin Falls County Sheriff Paul Corder and Deputy Harold Jensen said today. The shooting may have occurred late in July.

Corder said positive identification of the body has not been made, and the connection between the body and a possible shooting in Twin Falls County has not been established. Until the body is identified, Corder said, any connection must be considered speculation.

Jensen said Power County officers described the shooting victim as a male in his early 20s, frail and apparently feminine in appearance. The victim was wearing high topped zipper boots. The man had been shot seven times with a .22 caliber weapon, and apparently died sometime in late July.

The body was found on Michaud Flats west of Pocatello. Teeth and hands have been sent to the Federal Bureau of Investigation to attempt to establish identification, Jensen said.

Vile vial

CANCER researcher Dr. Wilhelmina Dunning holds a vial similar to vials stolen from the Institute earlier this week in Miami, Fla. The vials contain substances used to deliberately produce cancer in animals. If just a small amount of the substance is rubbed on a rat, a spokesman said, it would produce cancer in 30 minutes. The vials were found today near a junior college, apparently unopened. (UPI)

Namebearer dies

GLENN FERRY—Roy E. Glenn, 94, a member of the family for which this town was named, died Tuesday night at a Mountain Home rest home.

Mr. Glenn, a stock raiser and farmer all his life, was born in a log house on the Glenn Ranch about one and one-half miles north of the present site of Glenn Ferry.

His father, Gus Glenn, and his grandfather built and operated a ferry across the Snake River which gave the town its name.

Gus Glenn was a freighter, operating between Kelton, Utah, and Boise.

One sister and three brothers preceded Mr. Glenn in death. Another sister is a resident of a Mountain Home rest home.

Funeral services will be announced through Smith Mortuary, Mountain Home.

Red forces grab close-in hamlet

SAIGON (UPI)—Communist troops early today captured the hamlet of Thanh Hoa, 10 miles from Saigon, in their deepest penetration toward the capital in three years, field reports said.

Viet Cong broadcasts exhorted Communist troops to "tighten the siege around Saigon to win large, significant victories."

There were some clashes only seven miles from Saigon and U.S. and South Vietnamese fighter-bombers answered the challenge with 48 strikes Wednesday and today. Five waves of B52s dropped 450 tons of bombs on "enemy troop concentrations" within 33 miles of Saigon and others hit Mekong Delta targets, the U.S. Command reported.

The flareup of fighting near Saigon came as Dr. Henry A. Kissinger, President Nixon's security adviser, met with President Nguyen Van Thieu and top U.S. and South Vietnamese military officials on the issues of war and peace. Kissinger flew in from peace talks in Paris to meet with Thieu.

Field officers told a UPI reporter that an unknown sized Communist force penetrated Thanh Hoa early today and by midmorning was in full control of the hamlet. A reaction force of government militiamen and armored cavalry was organized, but was slow in counter-attacking.

In the pattern of the Vietnam War hundreds of residents fled the hamlet for the safety of nearby Lai Thieu district capital or Saigon itself. Military spokesmen said that the occupation of the hamlet was the closest penetration into the Saigon area since the Communist offensive in the spring of 1969.

New attacks were reported in the Central Highlands provinces of Pleiku and Kontum today, UPI reporter Matt Franjola said. The most significant was the ambush of a military convoy halfway between the two province capitals 245 miles north of Saigon.

Franjola said the Communists attacked the trucks with mortars, machine guns and rifles, halting it. There were no immediate reports of casualties.

The Communists clung to four hamlets in the two provinces captured early this week, Franjola reported. Government efforts to retake the villages have been proceeding slowly, he said.

Spending Congress adjourns

WASHINGTON (UPI)—With a warning by President Nixon that their actions might cause a tax-boost, lawmakers headed home today after rejecting Nixon's request for emergency powers to cut government spending.

In adjourning the 92nd Congress Wednesday night the Democratic majority abandoned compromise efforts and killed a measure to limit outlays this year to $250 billion. The bill would have given Nixon power to make cuts as needed—estimated at up to $10 billion—to reach his economy goal.

In a message to the Senate before the crucial vote, Nixon served notice he would consider a vote against the ceiling a vote for a tax boost next year.

Both House and Senate, Mills said, had voted for a $250 billion limit. They deadlocked however on how to achieve it. Mills said Nixon would rely on traditional powers exercised by presidents since Thomas Jefferson to "withhold" some of the money voted by Congress.

Final adjournment, delay from the original target date of Oct. 14, came amid the usual conflicting assessments on what had been done. Democrats said the record was great. Republicans called it mediocre at best.

In two years the Congress had lowered the voting age to 18, outlawed discrimination on the basis of sex, boosted Social Security payments by more than 30 per cent, and launched a historic plan—proposed by Nixon—to share federal revenues with the cities and states.

In other action Wednesday, Congress completed the process of passing over Nixon's veto a $24.6 billion program to fight water pollution.

Republicans deserted the President in droves during the vote on the veto override. The Senate vote was 52-42, while in the House the vote was 247 to 23. Only 13 Republicans backed Nixon in the House.

No more Lavelles?

WASHINGTON (UPI)—Defense Secretary Melvin R. Laird said today new steps are being taken to prevent such incidents as Gen. John D. Lavelle's unauthorized bombing raids on North Vietnam.

Laird also said the military retirement system—which also came under attack as a result of the Lavelle incident—may have been abused and be in need of reform.

During an informal meeting with reporters, Laird said he had set up an in-house watchdog agency to improve civilian control over the military and to prevent repetition of any actions such as those Lavelle is said to have taken.

An investigation following the Lavelle incident, he said, turned up a serious lack of any watchdog authority which would cut across service lines.

For this reason, Laird said he had set up an inspector general system for the unified commands that will have greater authority than the inspectors general for each of the services within those commands.

Saigon talks tense

SAIGON (UPI)—Presidential adviser Henry Kissinger held two rounds of private talks with President Nguyen Van Thieu on ending the Vietnam war today and as they met, the Saigon government rejected a coalition with the Communists as a peace condition.

The South Vietnamese Information Ministry issued an unprecedented statement reaffirming Thieu's opposition to the Communist-proposed three-part coalition. Normally, official statements on talks between representatives of the allies are issued jointly at the conclusion of the conferences.

Kissinger arrived in Saigon Wednesday, a day after his latest round of secret peace talks in Paris with North Vietnamese negotiators. The unexpected second trip to Saigon within two months heightened speculation in South Vietnam that major new developments had occurred at his private Paris talks.

But high level officials in Washington told UPI reporter Stewart Hensley that Thieu was "highly suspicious" of American contentions that "significant" progress at the Paris talks had been made that could head at least to an interim peace pact.

The Washington officials told Hensley that Thieu doubted the sincerity of Hanoi's concession on a coalition government and said it was not adequate even if true.

Signal spurs Boggs search

NEVADA CITY, Calif. (UPI)—A ham radio operator here says a Cessna pilot told him via radio Monday night that all in his plane "were injured just this side of Juneau."

That was the night that House Majority Leader Hale Boggs and three other persons disappeared in a Cessna during a flight from Anchorage to Juneau, Alaska.

The ham operator, Al Miller, said the pilot had radioed minutes earlier on an emergency channel: "I'm out of gas."

Replicans deserted the President in droves during the vote on the veto override. The Senate vote was 52-42, while in the House the vote was 247 to 23. Only 13 Republicans backed Nixon in the House.

I'm heading down. This is it." Miller heard during intermittent, broken radio transmissions that the pilot was "out of gasoline and he was putting down."

"He had eight minutes of gas," Miller said. "He could not make the hump because of the storm and had 70 miles per hour headwinds and couldn't get into Juneau."

The Air Force said 73 planes would search for 50 miles on each side of the plane's flight path today, while the ships would continue to cruise among the many uninhabited islands along the coastline of Alaska's southern peninsula.

An 11-man ground search party was searching the rugged Portage Pass near Anchorage for the missing plane. The weather in southern Alaska was the best since the search began.

US economy slows

WASHINGTON (UPI)—The nation's economy slowed considerably this summer, with inflation creeping higher and real output dropping by a third, the government reported today.

The Commerce Department said preliminary figures showed the "real" growth in the economy during the third quarter was 5.9 per cent compared to an unusually robust 9.4 per cent in the April-June quarter.

At the same time, prices rose from a 1.8 per cent seasonally adjusted annual rate in the second quarter to 2.2 per cent in the summer quarter—July through September.

The growth and inflation rates were reported in the Commerce Department's third-quarter preliminary estimate of the Gross National Product—(GNP), which measures the value of the nation's total output of goods and services.

Although there was a marked and expected decline in "real" growth—output adjusted for the effects of inflation—real GNP has grown at a 7 per cent annual rate for the first nine months of 1972.

The administration thus appeared to have a good chance of bettering its 6 per cent annual growth rate estimate made last January.

Inflation has advanced at a 3 per cent rate for the first three quarters—and that is the maximum the administration set as its goal for price increases during 1972.

The GNP figures "show that the economy is continuing to expand at a rapid rate and that inflation has been held in check," according to Assistant Commerce Secretary Harold C. Passer.

He said the report was "further confirmation of the sweeping impact of President Nixon's new economic program on the economy."

With the effects of inflation included, the GNP grew at an 8.3 per cent rate in the third quarter after gains of 12 per cent and 11.4 per cent in the first and second quarters.

GNP stood at an annual rate of $1,162 billion ($1.1 trillion) in the July-September period.

Nobel prize won by West German

STOCKHOLM (UPI) — West German novelist Heinrich Böll won the 1972 Nobel Prize for Literature today, the Swedish Academy announced.

The 54-year-old writer won the $100,000 award "for his writing which through its combination of a broad perspective on his time and a sensitive skill in characterization has contributed to a renewal of German literature," the Academy said.

Böll, who has been described as the best known postwar writer in both Germanies, became the first German to win the world's most coveted literary award since Thomas Mann got the 1929 prize.

German-born Hermann Hesse was a Swiss citizen when he won the prize in 1946.

Böll, a chunky man who cares little about his clothes and general appearance, has published a string of novels and short stories since World War II.

His best known works include "The Clown," "Billiards at Nine-Fifty" and "Doctor Murke's Collected Silences."

His last novel, "Gruppenbild Der Dame" (Group Portrait of a Lady), published in the fall of 1971, was a success both with the critics and the readers.

Böll is West Germany's most pointed and persistent critic of the Roman Catholic church but says it is unthinkable he should be anything but a Catholic.

Almost as prominent in Böll's stories is his disgust with war and his contempt for those who feel there is virtue in soldiering. He drew on firsthand experience: he was drafted into the German Army in 1938, and was wounded three times in fighting against the Russians.

Counterpoint is provided by his criticism of the capitalist system.

For all of these reasons, his books have sold more than two million copies in the Soviet Union, where his popularity exceeds that of any author working in East Germany.

Böll was born in Cologne, the greatest of the Rhineland cities, on Dec. 21, 1917. Cologne's life has been dominated for centuries by its great twin-spired cathedral and the Catholic Cardinals who held sway there, and this probably explains Böll's preoccupation with the church.

Mother's IQ too low; court takes children

DES MOINES, Iowa (UPI) — A young couple lost custody of their 4-year-old twin daughters Wednesday when the Iowa Supreme Court ruled the mother's low IQ made it impossible for her to give the children proper care and attention.

In an 8-0 ruling, the court ordered David and Diana McDonald of Davenport, Iowa, to place the children up for adoption.

Shortly after the precedent-setting McDonald case, the high court also ordered five of the six children of Mr. and Mrs. Charles Alsager of Des Moines placed up for adoption. Few details were given in the Alsager case except to note the situation was "almost identical."

The court said the Alsager children probably were harmed more than Joyce and Melissa McDonald because they lived with their natural parents longer. The Alsager children ranged in age from 1 to 10.

The court said adoption was in the best interest of the children because Mrs. McDonald "simply is not able to give to these twins the proper care and attention including, but not limited to, the stimulation which the twins need and to which they responded almost immediately when placed in foster homes."

The court said "the tragic deficiencies of the McDonalds . . . Work a cruel injustice on the children."

Court records said Mrs. McDonald had an IQ of 47, while her husband's IQ was 74. Although David could care for the children, "considerably better" than his wife, the court said "the best interest of the children requires a termination to him as well."

Social workers and nurses reported that during repeated visits to the home they found the twins unattended and often left alone while the parents were out of the apartment.

The twins have been in and out of foster homes since they were four months old. The court ordered immediate adoption, noting "the longer they remain in foster homes, the more difficult adoption will become."

The court said "it was 'reluctantly convinced' that Mrs. McDonald, despite 'coaching' from her husband, could never take proper care of the children 'or at least provide them with the stimulation in her home that they must have to grow and develop into normal healthy children.'"

Twin Falls mall complete

TWIN FALLS — The Twin Falls downtown mall is finally complete.

With the completion of the project, a third anniversary celebration is planned for Friday and Saturday. In conjunction with the anniversary of the mall opening will be the Twin Falls High School Homecoming parade and activities.

Downtown parking areas are now finished, furnishing shoppers and businessmen with over 1,000 parking spaces. The alleys also are finished. All construction is complete in the mall area for the first time.

Anniversary celebrations will begin at 10 a.m. Friday with Mayor John Christoffersen introducing Gov. Cecil D. Andrus, who will make a short speech.

Also presented on the program will be various political candidates. The League of Women Voters will have a booth at the Twin Falls Bank and Trust Co. corner of the mall both days.

The College of Southern Idaho band will be playing in and around town Friday afternoon.

The homecoming parade will begin at 2:30 p.m. at John Chris Motors, proceed through the downtown mall area and end up in the Sears parking lot.

Featured in the parade will be the Twin Falls High School floats, band and girls drill team. The University of Idaho Band and Drill team, 180 members strong, will also be on hand for the parade.

Political candidates and other dignitaries also will ride in the parade. Homecoming activities continue Friday night as the Twin Falls Bruins take on the Highland High School Rams from Pocatello in the homecoming game. The game will begin at 8 p.m. with pre-game ceremonies at 7:45 p.m.

Saturday afternoon a booth sponsored by the downtown merchants will sell 10 cent hot dogs and provide free soft drinks with every hot dog purchase. The Twin Falls Young Republicans group will be giving away free cookies.

That afternoon the Bruin band will entertain downtown and throughout the city.

Dream becomes reality

TWIN FALLS — The dream of a downtown mall, beginning in the minds of several Twin Falls men in 1965, finally became a completed reality this month.

The completion of the Twin Falls downtown mall comes actually at the third anniversary of the completion of the first phase.

The mall began as the four parks project — HUD-URA Project No. Idaho R-1 — in October of 1965. At that time the Twin Falls Urban Renewal Agency selected an area for an Urban Renewal feasibility study.

The area was known as "Four Parks Area" and included all of block 118 and the southwesterly one-half of blocks 102, 103 and 104 of the original townsite of Twin Falls.

It was listed in the annual Urban Renewal report as immediately southwest of the central business district and bounded by the alley between Main and Second avenues, Second Street West, Third Avenue South and Third Street South.

"The project area consisted of 5 and three quarters acres, including streets, sidewalks, curbs and gutter. Forty-one properties, occupied by 31 structures, were involved. Preliminary surveys on acquisition costs, building deterioration and improvements were conducted," the report said.

In November of 1965 the agency and the Twin Falls City Council approved resolutions authorizing the filing of a survey and planning assistance with the Department of Housing and Urban Development.

In January of 1966, HUD approved an advance to aid in financing surveys and plans in the amount of $84,961 and earmarked $871,427 of capital grant funds to cover the three-fourths federal government participation in estimated net project costs.

Legal and paper work continued until January of 1967 when the boundaries were amended to the present size of the project. Later that month the amendment was approved and an application for loan and grant were filed with HUD by the Urban Renewal Agency.

Construction on the mall area began June 22, 1970, with Neilsen and Miller Construction Co. doing the work.

In the latter part of the month the progress seemed slow to Twin Falls residents because most of the improvements were underground. The power and sewer systems were being laid out.

Things finally began to happen as the downtown area was being torn up. Only after three weeks the merchants were becoming dissatisfied at the seemingly slow progress.

Yet the contractors said the improvements would be finished and Phase I of the mall ready for the Oct. 31 deadline.

With the exception of a few tree plantings the mall was finished and an extravaganza was planned to celebrate its opening. Nov. 12-14 was set as "Twin Falls, Idaho, America the Beautiful" Day.

In February of 1971 plans were being made to start a downtown improvement program beginning in July of that year. Phase II of the mall area would consist mainly of reconstruction and improvement of five parking lots and alley ways behind the six-block downtown core area.

In June several old buildings, including the old Workman Ford building and the Wiley Drug Co. and Waite Electric Building were demolished to make way for newer buildings.

FUNNY BUSINESS

By Roger Bollen

Official City and County Newspaper Pursuant to Section 40-108 Idaho Code, Thursday is hereby designated as the day of the week on which legal notices will be published. Published daily and Sunday, except Saturday, at 132 Third Street West, Twin Falls, Idaho, 83301, by Magic Valley Newspapers, Inc. Entered as second class mail matter April 8, 1918, at the post office in Twin Falls, Idaho, 83301, under the act of March 8, 1879.

Veterans Day

The fields of glory are not always fields for remembrance. As Veterans Day of 1972 approaches, those who remember the First World War grow slender in numbers.

Most of the men who survived the mud and muck of that first of the wars to end all wars are now old, and even the youngest of the warriors are in their middle seventies. To them the memory is not dim.

It remains, and brightens like a torch, suddenly but unmistakably.

It is the same with those who fought the Second World War. They remember the glory and the agony and those who never returned. Some had time for sadness, others for pride, for war brings different memories.

But all, for a single moment out of every year, can stand silent and give to those who made the final sacrifice the dignity of remembrance.

For more than four decades, Americans celebrated this as Armistice Day. It was on November, 11, 1918 that the armistice was signed ending World War I. The United States came out of that conflict with one enduring thought: There must not be war, ever again.

For years we celebrated Armistice Day with determined reiterations of that theme. You know the sequel. We did not gain peace; we merely encouraged the forces of aggression that waged war on helpless individuals and weak nations. We found that "peace at any price" has a terrible cost.

Veterans Day is a day when time stops. Just for seconds in some homes, and for hours in others. For those from all the wars, those who suffered, the dead, the survivors, the loved ones.

Who can pass such a day by without a pause? It is worth a mountain of memories, for that is what it is for. To remember is never to forget the sacrifices of the men who were assured they did not die in vain.

This year the observance is next Monday — October 23. But to the Dough Boys of the First World War it will always be November 11 — because that is when it stopped. — OAK

A Torch For English Teachers

WASHINGTON — Ever since I encountered a lady named Thecla Fitzgerald in a New England public high school, I have carried a torch for English teachers.

Without derogating the rest of the faculty, especially a tough little football coach named Harry McMahon who did his best to sneak a basic knowledge of chemistry into my closed mind, I must give top grades to Miss Fitzgerald. She taught a barbarian to respect the English language and to enjoy as well as venerate the classics. This was especially important in the barbarian's case because a bankrupt family purse made college an impossibility.

All this is by way of leading into the comments of an English teacher in a Southwestern city on a recent column critical of the nonreading habits of so many of today's students. The teacher will be nameless because she has some hard things to say about her superintendent and school board, but her remarks are too telling and cogent to bury in my personal files.

"I am teaching corrective reading," she writes, "a course that research says should contain no more than 15 students per hour. In one of my classes I have 40 students; in the others over 30. I trust that any intelligent person (and this unfortunately does NOT include our superintendent or our school board) can see the utter impossibility of trying to correct reading problems for 170 students each day."

Referring to my charge that many children seem ignorant of Shakespeare or Dickens, Miss X continues: "Contrary to popular belief, most high schools still do teach both. But teaching and learning are two different things. If a child has not been made to feel that such learning is valuable either by society or, more importantly, by his parents, he will very likely not even remember the author's name."

"But at home, a poll of my students revealed that 80 per cent (of their parents) did not subscribe to a newspaper and that fewer than 10 per cent had any magazines in their homes, let alone any books. My room is lined with hundreds of dollars worth of paperback books of all kinds — and indeed many students do read them in the classroom. But few read them at home. They have never been shown that it is the thing to do. A Carnegie study has shown that children are NOT influenced by what takes place in school — they see school as a place where 'weird people' tryto teach them things that have nothing to do with life as they see it in their homes and their society."

"You may say most people of your generation had parents who didn't read much — maybe they couldn't read at all. Yet their children developed a love of reading. I am willing to bet that almost 100 per cent of the adults who are readers today had parents who let their children know that it was important for them to read — even though, or perhaps because, they themselves did not have the advantages of an education."

"But today the average American is distinctly anti-education, loath as he is to admit it. He may be pro-school, in that he wants Johnny to stay there so he can get a 'good' job, but he is opposed to education in any classical sense of drawing the best out of a person, of valuing the thoughts of great men of all time, of learning for the pure love of it."

"Children are great hypocrisy spotters. They get the REAL message when Dad tells them to read and then settles in front of the television with a beer."

"Until America really wants the things she says she wants, we will continue to turn out poor readers, nonreaders and worse, nonthinkers. Not even the most brilliant, talented, dedicated, overworked teachers can make a dent in a kid whose parents think life is all about buying a new car every year."

Thank you, Miss X. You have placed a rose on Thecla Fitzgerald's grave.

Dirty Tricks

WASHINGTON — It took the President's White House staff all day to locate the Old Nixon. They finally found him at Howard Johnson's across the street from the Watergate, eating a meat loaf sandwich. "You'd better get back to the White House right away," John Ehrlichman told him, "the boss is really steaming."

When the Old Nixon walked into the President's office, he found the New Nixon in a rage. "I've just received information that you're behind the Dirty Tricks Department of the Committee for the Re-Election of the President. What do you have to say for yourself?"

"I refuse to comment as I don't want to prejudice the rights of the defendants in the Watergate bugging trial."

"Don't hand me that stuff," the President said.

"You've put me in a helluva spot! How could you do it to me?"

"Ah, come on. You're overreacting. We were just having a little fun with the Democrats. No one takes it seriously," the Old Nixon said.

"But we didn't need it," the New Nixon said. "We're ahead by 28 per cent in the polls. It makes us look cheap and unscrupulous."

The Old Nixon retorted.

"Sure, you can say that now. But at the time we started the intelligence operation no one knew what was going to happen. Suppose it had been real close?"

Our Dirty Tricks Department could have made the difference. You've been President so long you don't even understand politics any more."

"And you've been out of it so long," the New Nixon said, "you don't understand I am more interested in my place in history than I am in some rotten espionage operation against the other political party. I'm being clobbered in the press by all this publicity."

"Will you stop worrying about your place in history? We took a survey, and it showed that the public couldn't care less about the Watergate and the other things that have come out concerning our operation. That attitude is 'Everyone does it during an election year.'"

"That's just swell," the New Nixon said sarcastically. "But do you know how many man-hours the Justice Department, the FBI and the White House have spent on this problem? I've had to promise a complete and open investigation of every facet of the case."

"And you've done a good job on it, Dickey boy," the Old Nixon chortled. "They won't be able to lay a finger on us before Election Day."

"Don't be so smug, the New Nixon said. "You've made a mess of things, and I'm giving you an order to stay out of the offices of the Committee for the Re-Election of the President. I don't want anyone in the White House to have anything to do with my campaign."

"You can't do that to me," the Old Nixon protested. "The Dirty Tricks Department was my baby. It was the only fun I've had in four years. What am

I going to do now?"

"You're to stay in your room until Election Day," the New Nixon said firmly.

"Suppose I don't? Suppose I spill everything to the Washington Post?" the Old Nixon asked.

"Don't threaten me, Tricky," the New Nixon said.

"If you do anything to further embarrass me or endanger my re-election, I will turn over to Richard Kleindienst everything I know about your involvement with the Howard Hughes plan. Do I make myself perfectly clear?"

The Old Nixon, looking downcast and defeated, said, "Yes sir, Mr. President."

PAUL HARVEY

Bound-Gagged

The father had beaten his own small son so cruelly, so viciously, that the boy subsequently died of his injuries.

But did you know that the policeman who intercepted that beating was himself summoned before a review board accused of using "intemperate and unbecoming" language during the arrest?

And it's possible that infraction of regulations could influence a court in favor of that father!

Let me tell you how it used to be before we bound and gagged our policemen.

In the early 1800s, the high constable of New York was named Jacob Hays. He is credited with the "Hays collar" for dealing with street brawlers.

The outnumbered policeman would use his night stick to knock off the troublemaker's hat. When the guy leaned down to retrieve his hat, the policeman would shove him forward face first so that his prostrate body became a momentary barrier to hold back other rioters.

But the fine art of making a "collar" has changed a great deal since Constable Hays' days. Perhaps significantly, so has the crime rate.

Today's police academy lessons on the arrest technique are very explicit, and the new rules are all in favor of the troublemaker.

And if the arresting officer violates any one of those rules the worst culprit may go free on a technicality and, the policeman will be reprimanded and may be sued.

The policeman may handcuff the ringleader but should do so as promptly as possible but with minimal physical force. Don't hit him!

However confusing the situation at the time, be sure no bystanders get hurt — even if the bystander is spitting on the arresting officer.

Then, of course, there is the so-called "Miranda law" reminding every policeman to close his ears to any confession of guilt unless and until the confessor has been advised of his right to be silent and so forth.

There are some other department regulations limiting the prerogatives of policemen to conform to laws in many states which I will not delineate because to do so would serve only to make those policemen more vulnerable.

Sgt. John Harrington of Philadelphia, the national president of the Fraternal Order of Police, says unless the courts stop paroling criminals and persecuting police, lawmen may resort to the old Mexican "deguello." That's a shoot out where police take no prisoners.

He wants to know why the Veterans' organizations — the American Legion and the Veterans of Foreign Wars — don't promote respect for laws and lawmen on the home-front war front. And so do I.

GEORGE C. THOSTESON, M.D.

About Gonorrhea

Dear Dr. Thosteson: I am writing in response to the letter from the 15-year-old girl. She thinks she has gonorrhea.

I guess I know something about it. I have had it. I was 19 when I got it. That was three years ago. If I had known the warning signs, I would have saved myself a lot of grief.

I thought that because I was a nice girl something as horrible as V.D. wouldn't happen to me. (I went with the boy three years.)

One year after I got married (to a wonderful man) and, two years after I had contracted V.D., I found that I had it — because I was having so much pain I couldn't walk.

Now I have been married for two years, I am 20 and I don't know if I will ever be able to have children. I have a large cyst in my ovary and have a period or bleed every 15 days approximately.

My husband is wonderful, he has understood and accepted the whole thing. But gonorrhea has caused my husband and me grief, a possibility that we may never have children of our own, and very expensive medical bills.

The point I want to stress to you, and maybe you can pass it on, is that it just isn't worth it. One moment of fun can bring years of grief.

I don't believe in free love or sex outside of marriage, but my one mistake has really cost me.

Please, Dr. Thosteson, tell the kids of today that it isn't worth the grief, tell them, even if they are planning marriage, to WAIT, as they may marry someone else, and marriage takes a lot of work without added problems.

Thank you for letting me get a load off my mind. — C.C.

P.S.: My family doctor said if we had not found the gonorrhea when we did it could have killed me. I lost 25 pounds and it had gone into my bladder and bowel. — C.

Need I add anything to this letter?

Dear Dr. Thosteson: We butchered a beef and the meat is rather tough. My family won't let me use meat tenderizer because "it tenderizes meat and our inside organs are meat." They say they are afraid of it. What is the truth? — Mrs. L. K.

They shouldn't be afraid of it. First, the lining of the intestine is not at all like the "muscle meat" which is the beef you eat. Tenderizer won't hurt it. For the final answer however: the heat of cooking destroys the tenderizer anyway!

MR. SPECTATOR

Do You Believe It?

Why not just build a high fence around Idaho and keep it just like it is? Keep visitors out. Give birth pills to all females living inside the fence. Thus, by letting no one in and by having no more children, we will someday reach the point where there will be nobody here at all.

Sound peculiar? Yes, it does, but it is just about what the Idaho Environmental Council has called for. A couple of days ago they came out urging state and federal agencies and elected officials to "stop exploitation of Idaho's heritage and natural resources."

They called for an "immediate" cessation of advertising by the state to induce tourism. In fact they called for a halt in the spending of any state money to get people to visit Idaho.

Unless we keep these people out, according to the council, they "fear" that the Idaho which all Idahoans treasure greatly will be as much a thing of the past as the California richness which has been squandered and forever lost."

Hard to believe, isn't it?

Of course, it would help us all in Magic Valley. We wouldn't need Sun Valley, we wouldn't need Tupperware, we wouldn't need Kellwood, we wouldn't need the rest areas along the interstate — in fact we wouldn't need the interstate. We wouldn't need a new Perrine bridge or that new secondary treatment plant for our fair city.

All we would really require would be a big cemetery — and the day would come when we wouldn't need that because there would be no one left to put in it.

Sound silly? Not according to what has been advocated by members of the Idaho Environmental Council.

One word can be used to sum up the feelings of Mr. Spectator along this line. Nuts!

NATURE SCORES

Nature is not as fragile as man sometimes thinks she is. The Los Angeles County Parks and Recreation Department three years ago decided it was becoming too costly to replace trees and other foliage along some San Pedro streets which were dying from pollution, disease and vandals.

What would be more practical than plastic trees, someone reasoned, and rows of the ersatz specimens were installed. The idea was not well received by many of the inhabitants of the area, but their objections gave way to practicality — temporarily.

Now the department is undertaking another replacement campaign. Living trees will replace the plastic trees, although not with any admission that aesthetics are involved. The plastic plants were not durable enough.

There is irony in the turn of events. Man-made materials have made wondrous changes in living standards and provided man with many new technical capabilities. But a substitute for nature they are not. A tree imparts a strength — real and visual — which not even the hardest of plastics can touch.

SV fire truck bids set

SUN VALLEY — Councilman William Innes told the Sun Valley City Council Tuesday night bids for the two new fire trucks will be opened Friday.

He said purchase of the trucks will depend on the passage of a planned bond election.

Total cost of the two trucks is expected to be about $100,000, he said. Both will be 1,000 gallon per minute capacity pumpers, but the second truck will have a 55-foot elevating snorkel platform.

Innes said the platform was needed in the event of a fire at the Sun Valley or Elkhorn condominiums and to insure safety for the volunteer firemen.

The councilmen also discussed his planned expenditure of $550 for a two-way radio and a base station, which will be shared with Ketchum.

City Clerk G. Robert Ackerman said the city's financial consultant is presently drawing up a bond proposal to be submitted to the council. A $500,000 bond election is scheduled to be held sometime this year, but the bonds will not be issued until 1973.

Under the proposal, $350,000 will be allocated for public facilities, with $150,000 to be used for fire fighting apparatus and related equipment, Ackerman said. Passage of the bond will authorize expenditure of $500,000, however he said after a final determination of costs, all bonds may not be issued.

In other action, the council approved a five-year lease at $336 per month of a new X-ray machine for Moritz Community Hospital.

Ackerman said hospital radiologist Paul Heuston had recommended the move because parts were not readily available for the present 1960 model and it posed some leakage problems.

Final approval was also given to the Elkhorn Twin Creeks Subdivision No. 2 plat, subject to specific designation of the roads to be dedicated to the city and labeling of bridge paths, driveways and undedicated roads.

According to Elkhorn engineer Joseph Humphrey, the subdivision contains 65 lots, ranging in size from one-fourth to three acres.

Humphrey also submitted a preliminary drawing for the council's study of Elkhorn Phase II condominiums, scheduled for construction next year. Planned for the project are 136 units on nine acres.

The council requested, for fire purposes, that hydrants, hose houses, pathways and snow dump sites be designated on the drawing.

Plant submits pollution plan

BOISE (UPI) — The Department of Environmental Protection and Health is studying a plan to correct pollution of the Snake River by an eastern Idaho potato processor.

Dr. James A. Bax, administrator of the department, said Idaho Potato Foods, Inc., of Idaho Falls, presented a proposal to the department this week.

Bax said his staff is evaluating the company's proposals before taking further action. A hearing on pollution charges lodged against the company, scheduled for today in Idaho Falls, has been postponed, he said.

A formal complaint against the company was filed by Bax on Sept. 22.

Jerome veterans meet

JEROME — Fifth District World War I Veterans Auxiliary president Edna Chelene, Gooding, made her official visit to the Jerome auxiliary Tuesday afternoon.

La Rue Smith, president, introduced Mrs. Chelene to the group and she was welcomed. She spoke briefly concerning the 1973 membership campaign and about the fifth district meeting at 12:30 p.m. Oct. 27 in the Gooding Memorial Hall.

A $10 donation to VAVS chairman Winifred Harker for the Veterans' Hospital Christmas party was approved.

An Armistice Day party is scheduled for noon Nov. 11 at the American Legion Hall. There will be a potluck dinner followed by a program of music and card play.

Tuesday's meeting was preceded by a pancake and sausage dinner.

Earl McCullough, Spanish War veteran and honorary member of the barracks, was introduced and spoke briefly.

Games and supper completed the activities.

Holdback

BOISE (UPI) — Gov. Cecil D. Andrus says he hopes to rescind the 1.9 per cent holdback of general fund spending in higher education.

Andrus earlier imposed the holdback on all general fund expenditures and higher education was one of the hardest hit areas.

Hopeful raps land sale

By United Press International
Congressional candidate Ed Williams said in Emmett Wednesday that Idaho would turn into a forest of neon signs and hamburger stands if federal lands were sold to private individuals.

Williams was hammering away at an earlier statement made by his Republican opponent in the First District race, Steve Symms, who suggested that some of the federal lands be returned to private ownership. Williams said, "the California land speculators who would buy the land are not interested in prudent forest management. They just want to cut trees and make money."

Meanwhile, Symms blasted those politicians who, he said, would change the whole system of freedom and free enterprise by turning it into a government-controlled and operated welfare state.

"I was shocked to hear my opponent Ed Williams at a press conference in Boise Tuesday criticize a rancher in Idaho for selling his ranch to an out-of-stater," Symms said. He said the right of citizens to own and sell their land was a basic principle.

Republican senatorial candidate James A. McClure said in Hailey Wednesday that more people with more time and money will be using Idaho's resources at an unprecedented rate.

McClure, incumbent congressman, predicted that the rate of increase would continue for sometime.

Speaking at a luncheon, McClure said a balanced and rational view of resource use is needed to effectively provide for the needs of all interested groups.

Robbery suspect taken into custody in Oregon

ENTERPRISE, Ore. (UPI)—A robbery suspect was in custody today after the pilot of a plane he hijacked fooled the man into thinking they were low on fuel and landed in open country.

Joseph T. Johnston, 30, Portland, Ore., was captured Wednesday burrowed inside a haystack as protection against 25-degree cold.

He was arraigned before U.S. Magistrate Arthur Barrows in Pendleton on charges of air piracy, kidnapping and interstate transportation of stolen property.

Johnston was ordered to appear at a hearing next week on the charges stemming from his escape that began in McCall, Idaho, where he was being questioned about a robbery Tuesday.

Officers said Johnston overpowered Deputy Sheriff Darold Lynsky, forced him to drive to McCall airport where he commandeered a light plane piloted by Philip Remalkus and forced Lynsky to go along on the ride.

Remalkus said that while they were flying around the northwest, he convinced Johnston they were low on fuel and "would land someplace in the country where he could get the hell out."

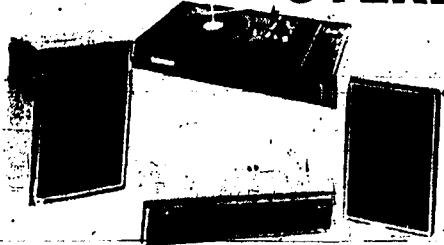

The pilot put the plane down on a gravel road and Johnston left his hostages behind.

TF fire

TWIN FALLS — Firemen extinguished a trash fire in the alley behind the Bowl and Board, 221 Main Ave. West at 2 p.m. Wednesday. The store's owners had received a shipment of merchandise and stacked the wrapping in the alley. Fire department officials said someone walking through the alley apparently set the pile of trash on fire.

Democrat proposes Gem corps

TWIN FALLS — Mel Lucas, Democratic candidate for state senate from the 25th district, has called for establishment of an Idaho Youth Conservation Corps.

Lucas said his proposal resembles the CCC program of the 30s and 40s. It would provide jobs for high school drop outs and others desiring training toward a job skill.

If elected, Lucas said he would introduce legislation to create the corps. A long range plan to protect the environment in Idaho could be developed with the assistance of the young workers 16 through 21.

Enlistees would be provided a salary, clothing, housing, food and medical needs, he said. Each would work four hours per day on projects such as building public rest stops, reforestation, pollution control, building and protecting scenic and recreational values and other projects.

Each enlistee would also receive two hours of training per day with the remainder of his time free.

Training would cover everything from truck driving to forest ranger requirements, Lucas said.

Oil spill barrier 'holding'

PIUTE FARMS, Utah (UPI) — Driving rain today pounded the San Juan River where three booms kept a giant oil slick from running unchecked into Lake Powell.

"The barriers are holding," said a federal official. "But the more rain, the more strain on them, and it continues to rain hard." He said there was no indication of "any significant seepage" into the lake.

Flash flood warnings were posted for the area by the National Weather Service.

The booms — two of styrofoam and one of wood — held the debris-filled 168,000-gallon spill at the point where the river enters the vast lake in Utah and Arizona.

A 110-man task force worked in the rain to clear the debris from the slick which began Oct. 10 when a pipeline ruptured in northwestern New Mexico, sending the oil through an irrigation ditch and down 138 miles of the river to the man-made barriers.

Misspelled name changed

TWIN FALLS — Bob Geer, Democratic candidate for county commissioner, has been hoping voters will remember his short four-letter name on election day.

However, he said today he apparently isn't convincing everyone, or maybe there's another "Watergate case" in the making.

"I've spent money on large advertising signs, posters and cards with 'G E E R' all over them," he said.

In spite of this the printing firm which made up the paper ballots for Twin Falls County lists him as "Greer."

"With only four letters in my name, you'd think they could spell it right," Geer said.

County Clerk Harold Lancaster said steps have been taken to correct the error on the voting machines and in nearly all of the mailout absentee ballots although a few went out before the error was discovered.

Car avoids TF bus; driver, 2 injured

TWIN FALLS — A Twin Falls youth and his two passengers were injured in a one-car accident Wednesday as he avoided collision with a school bus.

According to Twin Falls Police, Dwight Mills, 16, was driving his car east in the right lane of Filer Avenue East. A school bus was traveling in the same direction in the center lane.

Police said apparently the bus started to change to the right lane. Mills, in order to avoid hitting the bus, swerved to the right, hitting a power pole. The bus had, however, switched back into the center lane also to avoid collision. There was no contact between the two vehicles, police said.

Mills sustained a broken wrist in the accident. Passengers Cindy Royce, 16, and Lorrie Lee, 15, both Twin Falls, sustained only slight injuries. Another passenger, Kathy Royce, 15, Twin Falls, was not injured.

Police report failed to list the bus driver's name.

Redraft supported

TWIN FALLS — Mrs. G. W. (Jerry) Creed, Democratic candidate for the state legislature, said this week she supported constitutional reform of state government.

A vote on Senate Joint Resolution 132 Nov. 7 will determine whether to reorganize Idaho state agencies to a system of fewer than 20 agencies.

In a letter prepared for voter canvassing, Mrs. Creed joined with other Democrats locally in throwing her support behind the amendment. Also in the statement, Mrs. Creed called for better funding for education at the state level without heavy reliance on property tax, and also promised not to support any attempt to raise legislative pay against the wishes of the people, "as the elected representatives did two years ago."

Mrs. Creed is a candidate for the Idaho House of Representatives in district 25, the eastern half of Twin Falls County.

Jerome candidates

JEROME — A "Meet the Candidates" meeting will be at 8 p.m. today at the American Legion Hall, Jerome, for candidates from Legislative District No. 23.

The meeting is sponsored by the Jerome County Farm Bureau. According to Farm Bureau chairman Gordon Hollifield, it will be conducted the same as the one for the candidates for sheriff last week.

"Each candidate will be given a certain amount of time to get his qualifications and/or reasons for seeking election. This will be followed by a question and answer period," Hollifield said.

He noted the meeting is non-partisan and is open to the public.

Band set for TF homecoming

TWIN FALLS — Two performances of the University of Idaho marching band are scheduled here Friday in connection with the Twin Falls High School homecoming.

The band and Vandalettes marching unit will appear in the homecoming parade, scheduled for 2:30 p.m. and again at 7:45 p.m. in Bruin Stadium for a pre-football game show.

Gov. Cecil D. Andrus has been invited to serve as marshal for the parade, which will move through the downtown mall area. A pep assembly is scheduled at 1 p.m., and both junior and senior high schools will be dismissed for the event.

Other events include a sophomore football game at 7:30 p.m. today, followed by a pep rally and snake dance.

Hopeful raps land sale

By United Press International
Congressional candidate Ed Williams said in Emmett Wednesday that Idaho would turn into a forest of neon signs and hamburger stands if federal lands were sold to private individuals.

Williams was hammering away at an earlier statement made by his Republican opponent in the First District race, Steve Symms, who suggested that some of the federal lands be returned to private ownership.

Williams said, "the California land speculators who would buy the land are not interested in prudent forest management. They just want to cut trees and make money."

Meanwhile, Symms blasted those politicians who, he said, would change the whole system of freedom and free enterprise by turning it into a government-controlled and operated welfare state.

"I was shocked to hear my opponent Ed Williams at a press conference in Boise Tuesday criticize a rancher in Idaho for selling his ranch to an out-of-stater," Symms said. He said the right of citizens to own and sell their land was a basic principle.

Republican senatorial candidate James A. McClure said in Halley Wednesday that more people with more time and money will be using Idaho's resources at an unprecedented rate.

McClure, incumbent congressman, predicted that the rate of increase would continue for sometime.

Speaking at a luncheon, McClure said a balanced and rational view of resource use is needed to effectively provide for the needs of all interested groups.

His opponent, Democrat William E. Davis, said the property tax should be phased out as the primary funding base for public education. He called for its replacement by general state and federal funds.

Speaking to government classes at Boise State College, Davis said the federal government should supply at least two-thirds of the total cost of public education.

Second congressional district candidate Willis Ludlow Wednesday repeated his challenge to his opponent, Rep. Orval Hansen, to "stand personally before the voters, and allow them to question him regarding his voting record on critical issues."

Robbery suspect taken into custody in Oregon

ENTERPRISE, Ore. (UPI)—A robbery suspect was in custody today after the pilot of a plane he hijacked fooled the man into thinking they were low on fuel and landed in open country.

Joseph T. Johnston, 30, Portland, Ore., was captured Wednesday burrowed inside a haystack as protection against 25-degree cold.

He was arraigned before U.S. Magistrate Arthur Barrows in Pendleton on charges of air piracy, kidnapping and interstate transportation of stolen property.

Johnston was ordered to appear at a hearing next week on the charges stemming from his escape that began in McCall, Idaho, where he was being questioned about a robbery Tuesday.

Officers said Johnston overpowered Deputy Sheriff Darold Lynsky, forced him to drive to McCall airport where he commandeered a light plane piloted by Philip Remakus and forced Lynsky to go along on the ride.

Remakus said that while they were flying around the northwest, he convinced Johnston they were low on fuel and "would land someplace in the country where he could get the hell out."

The pilot put the plane down on a gravel road and Johnston left his hostages behind.

Today is Thursday, Oct. 19, the 293rd day of 1972 with 73 to follow.

The moon is approaching its full phase.

The evening stars are Mercury and Jupiter.

Those born on this date are under the sign of Libra.

American novelist Fannie Hurst was born Oct. 19, 1889.

On this day in history:

In 1781, the American Revolutionary War neared an end as British general, Lord Cornwallis surrendered at Yorktown, Va.

In 1814, "The Star Spangled Banner" was sung in Baltimore for the first time.

In 1936, an around-the-world airplane race by three newspaper writers ended at Lakehurst, N.J. H. R. Elkins won over Dorothy Kilgallen and Leo Kiernan with a time of 18 days, 11 hours, 14 minutes and 33 seconds.

In 1967, the American space vehicle Mariner 5 swept past Venus.

A thought for the day: German author Thomas a Kempis said, "Be not angry that you cannot make others as you wish them to be, since you cannot make yourself as you wish."

Mrs. Creed is a candidate for the Idaho House of Representatives in district 25, the eastern half of Twin Falls County.

Jerome candidates

JEROME — A "Meet the Candidates" meeting will be at 8 p.m. today at the American Legion Hall, Jerome, for candidates from Legislative District No. 23.

The meeting is sponsored by the Jerome County Farm Bureau. According to Farm Bureau chairman Gordon Hollifield, it will be conducted the same as the one for the candidates for sheriff last week. "Each candidate will be given a certain amount of time to get his qualifications and/or reasons for seeking election. This will be followed by a question and answer period," Hollifield said.

He noted the meeting is non-partisan and is open to the public.

TF fire

TWIN FALLS firemen extinguished a trash fire in the alley behind the Bowl and Board, 221 Main Ave. West at 2 p.m. Wednesday. The store's owners had received a shipment of merchandise and stacked the wrapping in the alley. Fire department officials said someone walking through the alley apparently set the pile of trash on fire.

Oil spill barrier 'holding'

PIUTE FARMS, Utah (UPI) — Driving rain today pounded the San Juan River where three booms kept a giant oil slick from running unchecked into Lake Powell.

"The barriers are holding," said a federal official. "But the more rain, the more strain on them, and it continues to rain hard." He said there was no indication of "any significant seepage" into the lake.

Flash flood warnings were posted for the area by the National Weather Service.

The booms — two of styrofoam and one of wood — held the debris-filled 168,000-gallon spill at the point where the river enters the vast lake in Utah and Arizona.

A 110-man task force worked in the rain to clear the debris from the slick which began Oct. 10 when a pipeline ruptured in northwestern New Mexico, sending the oil through an irrigation ditch and down 138 miles of the river to the man-made barriers.

Misspelled name changed

TWIN FALLS — Bob Geer, Democratic candidate for county commissioner, has been hoping voters will remember his short four-letter name on election day.

However, he said today he apparently isn't convincing everyone, or maybe there's another "Watergate case" in the making.

"I've spent money on large advertising signs, posters and cards with 'G E E R' all over them," he said.

In spite of this the printing firm which made up the paper ballots for Twin Falls County lists him as "Greer."

"With only four letters in my name, you'd think they could spell it right," Geer said.

County Clerk Harold Lancaster said steps have been taken to correct the error on the voting machines and in nearly all of the mailout absentee ballots although a few went out before the error was discovered.

Democrat proposes Gem corps

TWIN FALLS — Mel Lucas, Democratic candidate for state senate from the 25th district, has called for establishment of an Idaho Youth Conservation Corps.

Lucas said his proposal resembles the CCC program of the 30s and 40s. It would provide jobs for high school drop outs and others desiring training toward a job skill.

If elected, Lucas said he would introduce legislation to create the corps. A long range plan to protect the environment in Idaho could be developed with the assistance of the young workers 16 through 21.

Enlistees would be provided a salary, clothing, housing, food and medical needs, he said. Each would work four hours per day on projects such as building public rest stops, reforestation, pollution control, building and protecting scenic and recreational values and other projects.

Each enlistee would also receive two hours of training per day with the remainder of his time free.

Training would cover everything from truck driving to forest ranger requirements, Lucas said.

Russia drops Jew tax

MOSCOW (UPI)—The Soviet Union dropped a demand for payment of a $300,000 education tax from 19 Jewish would-be emigrant families as a "gift" to President Nixon, Jewish sources said today.

The exception to the recently-passed requirement that prospective emigrants reimburse the state for the cost of their free higher education applied only to the 19 families. The sources said two Soviet generals made that point clear to the heads of the families.

The decision Wednesday "was a gift to help President Nixon at a special time of attacks on Soviet-American deals," the sources said.

Several U.S. congressmen demanded the Nixon administration withhold most-favored nation trade status from the Soviet Union until it dropped the tax, described by Israel as a ransom.

Word the families could leave immediately without paying coincided with Wednesday's announcement in Washington that the United States and the Soviet Union had reached a comprehensive trade agreement which included settlement of its World War II Lend Lease debt.

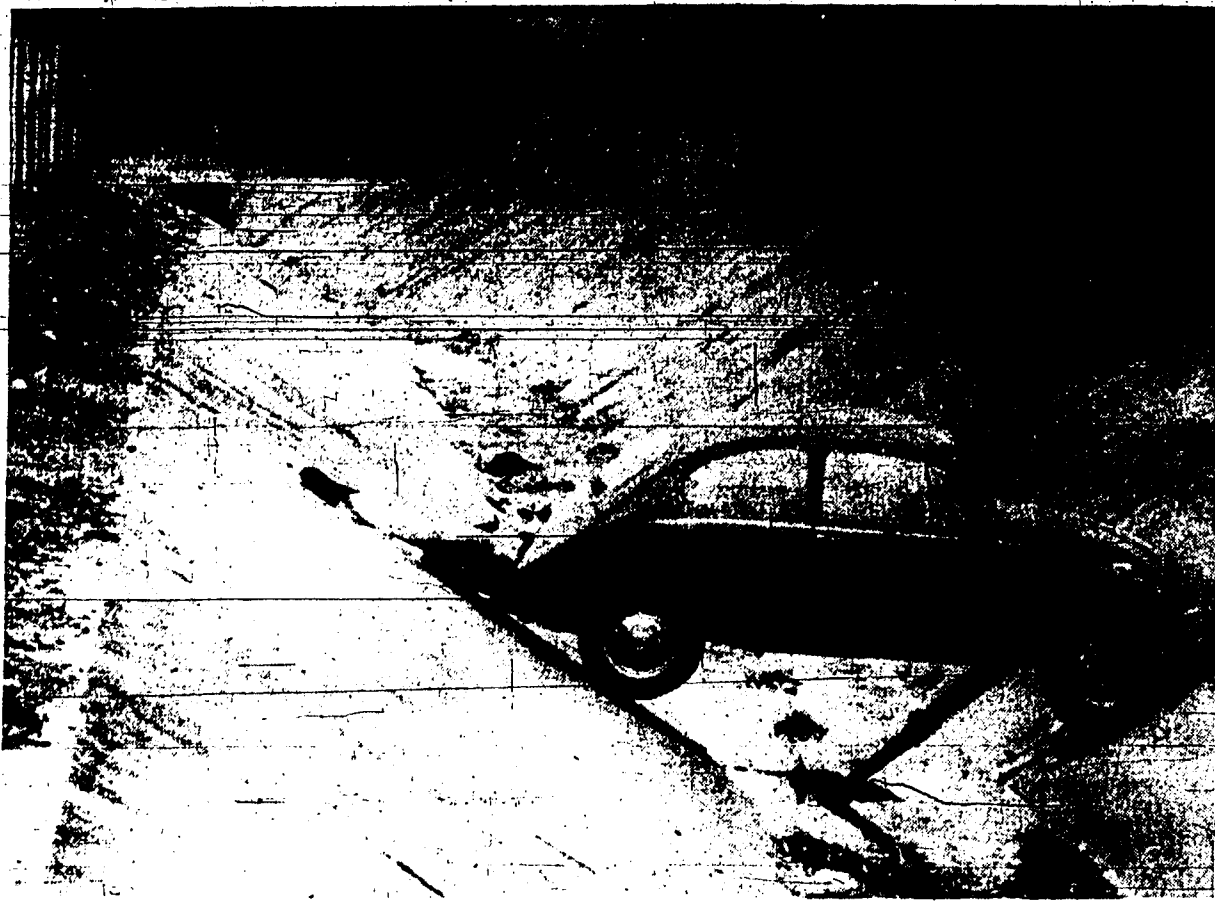

Western observers in Moscow considered the timing of the relaxation and the trade announcement more than coincidental, if not directly linked.

Earlier Wednesday, a group of Jewish academics held a news conference for western correspondents and denied there was any possibility the government was considering scaling down the education tax, which ranges up to $24,000 for someone with a candidate of science—roughly equivalent to a Ph.D.

There was "no sign at all" such a move was contemplated, according to cybernetics expert Alexander Lerner.

The group said six families were given permission to leave for Israel by Nov. 6, provided they pay a $200,000 tax they called "impossible."

"Our reserves are exhausted," the 10 Jews told newsmen.

Lawyer suspect tried to join McGovern unit

NEW YORK (UPI)—The New York Times reported today that a lawyer linked to efforts to spy on Democrats apparently tried to join Sen. George McGovern's California primary campaign.

The Times reported previously that several persons had alleged that the lawyer, Donald H. Segretti, tried to enlist them in attempts to interfere with the Democratic campaign.

However, records of volunteers reportedly found in the files of McGovern's Santa Monica headquarters were "the first solid evidence that Mr. Segretti himself had sought to become involved directly in the McGovern campaign," the Times said.

The Los Angeles Times, meanwhile, reported today that records it had obtained showed Segretti spent thousands of dollars traveling in 1971—while still in the Army—to cities where Sen. Edmund S. Muskie, then the leading Democratic contender, was preparing primary campaigns.

The New York Times reported Wednesday that at least 28 telephone calls charged to Segretti had been made to the White House; the home of Dwight L. Chapin, an aide to President Nixon; and the home or office of E. Howard Hunt Jr., a former consultant to the White House who has been charged with the alleged bugging of Democratic national headquarters in Washington.

An index card in the Santa Monica records showed that a person who identified himself as Segretti came to the office and volunteered to join in a bicycle parade for McGovern three days before the June 6 primary, the New York Times said.

The newspaper said that another index card indicates Segretti agreed to distribute leaflets June 5. It said both index cards show Segretti's name, home telephone number and address.

The Los Angeles Times said Segretti visited at least 11 cities, some of them repeatedly, in the second half of 1971. The visits began at least three months before he was discharged from the Army at Ft. Ord, Calif., in September of that year, the newspaper said.

"The purpose of these trips however could not be learned, nor is there evidence to suggest that Segretti's visits were related to these state primaries that were several months away at the time," the Los Angeles newspaper said.

Meat eaters

NEW YORK (UPI)—In 1971, the average American ate 50 more pounds of meat a year than did his parents a generation ago, says the American Meat Institute. The Institute also reports per capita consumption of beef in the United States has doubled since 1940 to 113.3 pounds per year.

McGovern flays Nixon's pension reform proposal

TOLEDO, Ohio (UPI)—Sen. George S. McGovern said today the Nixon administration's pension reform plan "discriminates heavily" in favor of the rich and unveiled a proposal of his own to guarantee workers retirement pay after five years on the job.

The Democratic presidential candidate announced his new program for private pension plans backed by federal insurance in a statement for delivery at a labor luncheon in Philadelphia. Before leaving Toledo, he planned to hold a breakfast meeting with local union officials.

McGovern was buoyed by a turnout of several thousand fans at a rally here Wednesday night and scheduled appearances with black voters today at Cheyney State College in Pennsylvania and a rally at Bedford-Stuyvesant in Brooklyn with Rep. Shirley Chisholm, who sought the Democratic presidential nomination herself.

As outlined, his pension reform program would require the guaranteeing of 50 per cent of the benefits after five years of work and an additional 10 per cent for each year of service thereafter up to five years.

The guarantees would apply retroactively for workers over 40, he said. "Otherwise, these older workers will be deprived of a proposal as this if adopted," he said.

To avert personal hardships, he also proposed that a federal insurance program be established.

"Federal insurance already covers bank deposits, home mortgages, securities losses resulting from the failure of brokerage houses and the Lockheed loan," he noted. "Why should it not be extended to cover retirement income earned by working people and set aside for them in pension plans... More than 35 million American workers are enrolled in private pension plans, yet more than half of them will receive absolutely no pension benefits when they retire and many others will receive only minimal returns. The Nixon administration has largely ignored this injustice.

SHOSHONE — Scouts and Explorers of Troop 58, sponsored by the LDS Church, are carrying out fund-raising projects at this time.

They are collecting deer and elk hides and solicit anyone with some to donate to contact them through their leader, Byron Hall.

The Explorer post has been picking and selling potatoes for sometime, under direction of Dan Gillett.

Also introduced were Lucille Huston, grand representative to Texas; Ruth Davis, Ketchum, grand representative to Kentucky; Beulah Johnson, Gooding, grand representative to New Jersey.

Grand committee members introduced were Irvin Davis, Ketchum; Hazel Loucks, Gooding; Marvin Langdon and Ruby Dean, both Twin Falls.

Conservation workshop attended by students

SHOSHONE — Fifth grade students from Shoshone, Richfield and Dietrich traveled to the Sawtooth 4-H Camp Tuesday for the fourth annual

Birchers launch campaign

KIMBERLY — John Birch Society members have launched a four-day anti-United Nations Campaign.

Michael D. Thomas, Kimberly, Birch co-ordinator for this area, said the climax will be observance of Oct. 24, founding day of the U.N. as "Day of Shame." He said the designation commemorates the pro-Communist actions of the world body.

Thomas said the John Birch Society's position, strongly opposes the U.N. policies.

"It was exactly one year ago the U.N. used its 26th anniversary to demonstrate its total subservience to its Communist masters when it voted to expel the Republic of China from membership and to seat instead the murderous tyranny of Mao Tse-tung and Chou En-lai," Thomas said.

The society coordinator said volunteers will be distributing literature containing more information on the United Nations' record and why Oct. 24 is proclaimed a day of shame by the society.

Pamphlets, flyers, books and cards will be available at the U. N. Information booths located in shopping centers and other public places.

Some volunteers will also be going door to door to hand out information opposing the United Nations.

A film, "The United Nations — Peace Dove Unmasked," will be shown in a public program Tuesday in the Idaho Power service building auditorium, 273 Blue Lakes Blvd. S.

The showing begins at 8 p.m. and the public is invited to attend and to hear other John Birch Society information.

conservation workshop.

The students divided into groups to do environmental investigations in various areas including forestry, soil, water, plants, wildlife and recreation.

While exploring the areas they discovered bear tracks as well as signs of other animals.

At the soil station, they examined soil texture and soil profile, tested and made a soil horizon. They also determined the slope of land and participated in a watershed experiment.

Students at the plants and forest stations investigated the forest habitat and several species of plants and trees. At the water station students found various types of aquatic life and measured the volume of water.

Changes in the Blaine County economic base and comparison with Lincoln County was the topic discussed at the recreation station. They also sketched a mountain scene with natural materials and wrote poems about their drawings.

Mrs. L. M. Hatmaker, fifth grade teacher, directed her students in presenting a conservation play during the lunch hour.

Leading the various activities were agency representatives and teachers, including Frank Rowlands and Tom Farr, Ketchum, U. S. Forest Service; James Eakin, Hailey, and Ivan Hopkins, extension agents; James Pate from the Shoshone Agricultural Stabilization and Conservation Service; Louis Logosz and Mike Phillips, from the Shoshone office, Bureau of Land Management.

Leo Senften and Rusty Tews from the Shoshone Soil Conservation Office, and Donald Wright, from the Idaho Fish and Game Department, along with Mrs. Hatmaker and Mrs. J. R. Churchman, teachers from Shoshone school, completed the instruction staff for the day.

The students were presented conservation workbooks from the ASCS office which contained not only the day's agenda, but information pertaining to the various fields of study.

Even the bus trip to the camp site was utilized for study and fun, with instruction and games alternated, all on the topic of conservation.

GOPs set mall clean-up

TWIN FALLS — Young Republicans in the Twin Falls area will be at work over the weekend to clean up the mall area.

A contingent of young Republicans will be at work Thursday and again Saturday to clear litter from the mall area, scheduled to be dedicated Friday. John Mead will head the effort which will include work

Thursday in preparation for the dedication ceremony and clean up Saturday.

The youths will also be washing car windshields in the downtown area Saturday, according to a spokesman, "to convince voters to join them in support of Nixon, McClure and other Republican candidates."

In other party activity, the Republican Women are sponsoring a contest to find the county's oldest and youngest Republican voter. Entries are available at the GOP headquarters at Main Avenue North and at the booth the party will maintain on the mall Oct. 20 and 21 in front of the Bank of Idaho.

The public is invited to stop in at the booth on both Friday and Saturday.

Oil shale problems spotted

DENVER (UPI)— Harrison Loesch, head of the Bureau of Land Management (BLM), said Tuesday development of oil shale in the western states would be halted if environmental problems could not be overcome.

"If we can handle the environmental problems, well and good," said Loesch. "If we can't handle them, we would call a halt."

Loesch, formerly of Montrose,

Colo., said the Interior Department had decided to go ahead with prototype development of oil shale in Colorado, Wyoming and Utah to find out if the energy could be produced economically.

He also said he disagreed with critics who claim that development of shale oil should be shelved until further production research is done and answers to environmental problems are pinpointed.

"It's going to take a long time to bring in sun power and atomic power," said Loesch. "I don't think Americans are ready ... to go back to the pastoral stage and wait for these energy sources to be developed."

The Interior Department last week held hearings in the three states to gather reaction from residents to plans to sell six tracts of land to private developers for prototype production of oil shale.

Spring fashions look pretty cozy

BEVERLY HILLS (UPI) — There is a theory going around in California that the state's weather may be cooling off. West Coast designers must have gotten the word early because many of their looks for spring 1973 are pretty cozy.

The thing to have for spring if you're having only one is a cardigan sweater. With buttons or without, a la Coco Chanel, the cardigan is put over everything from a bikini to an evening gown.

Members of the California fashion creators are showing this week to some 85 fashion writers from across the nation. West Coast designers like all kinds of pants — high-rise trousers as well as form fitting "fanny pants." They like skirts, ending at the ankle or conservatively at the knee. They like sweaters on everything, even on top of sweaters.

Fred Rothschild uses the evening sweater set over a long skirt. This house, which has long specialized in the coat and dress costume, puts turtle-neck tops on their dresses and endorses snugly wrap coats.

By Oswald & James Jacoby

Here is another Jeff Rubens problem. You find yourself in an inferior six-diamond contract. Inferior because six no-trump depends on picking up the queen of hearts. At six diamonds you also must worry about a potential diamond loser.

Rubens' explanation of how you reached six diamonds instead of either three or six no-trump is that your partner misbid. That is as good an explanation as any so we accept it.

The Rubens' problem is: How do you plan the play? The answer is that you win the club lead in dummy and lead a trump toward your hand.

Why do you do this?

Your only worry is that the trumps may break 4-1. If they do and West has four to the jack-nine, you will have to lose a trump trick. If East has four to the jack-nine, you can find out about it with two trump leads and finesse against East.

If you win the club in your hand and lay down the ace, a smart East may drop the nine to give you the option of playing the king next on the theory that West started with jack-5-4-2.

If you lead the first diamond from dummy, East is much less likely to make that nine-spot play. If he does you pay off to him.

Abby

Abigail Van Buren

DEAR ABBY: The woman who wondered whether she was "Honest or Stupid" for returning that which she had found, was obviously disgruntled because no rewards were offered.

If one expects to be rewarded for honesty, it means that honesty today is a rarity, and I don't believe it.

A number of years ago I was stranded in Durham, N. C., after having lost my wallet. A Negro bellhop paid my hotel bill plus breakfast, and when I obtained cash by wire to send me on my way, I left a repayment plus a reward for his kindness to me.

When I returned home I found a letter—with the reward money returned to me from the bellhop, stating there was no price on his friendship to man. I was deeply moved by his action and shall never forget it. By the way, I am white, which made no difference to my black humanitarian friend.

H. A. L., PANORAMA CITY, CAL.

DEAR ABBY: You gave a good answer to the woman who asked "Does it pay to be honest?" ("Honesty pays in the currency of honor and self respect.")

May I add a postscript? In determining what is right, I find it is helpful to consider the alternative.

With regard to the abovementioned situation, the alternative would have been to keep the items she found instead of returning them to their rightful owners, rationalizing, "I probably won't even get a 'thank you.'"

This type of rationalization would surely create nagging guilt feelings which would be harder to live with than the resentment of unexpressed gratitude on the part of the owners.

Again and again I have found that considering the alternative has made the immediate unpleasantness much easier to bear, and helped in making the right decision.

THE REVEREND C. W. KIRKPATRICK
LUDLOW, MASS.

DEAR ABBY: In reply to "Honest or Stupid," I wish to relate an experience I had some years ago in Philadelphia:

While shopping on my lunch hour in the five and ten cent store, I noticed a woman's large pocketbook setting on the counter. It was a shabby bag of expensive quality. I looked around to see if anyone appeared to be looking for it, and since no one was, I looked inside for the owner's identification. I felt so guilty searching a stranger's purse you'd have thought I had stolen it.

There was a wallet bulging with several hundreds of dollars—maybe more. I was too nervous to count it. Also, a large bunch of keys, and several credit cards, bearing the owner's name and address.

I felt so conspicuous, and half fearful that I would be approached and accused of stealing it, I rushed immediately to the Lost and Found Department and turned it in, leaving my name and address.

Several days later I received a nice note and a lovely handkerchief supposedly from the "owner" of the purse. She mentioned that altho she had only "a few dollars" in her wallet, she was grateful to have had her keys and credit cards returned!

I quickly realized that her purse had not been returned intact. Most of the money had been removed. Imagine how I felt!

I learned a lesson then and there. If I ever found anything again, I would NOT turn it in. I would leave MY name and address at the Lost and Found, with instructions to have the owner contact ME. That way I'd be sure of its safe return.

REALLY STUPID

DEAR ABBY: Concerning rewards for being honest: I was raised on a farm in Indiana by a father who didn't spare the rod, and I thank God for him every day of my life. When other kids were being rewarded for being "good," my father used to say, "It's not what you'll get if you're GOOD, it's what you'll get if you're NOT GOOD you ought to worry about."

She'll vote for first time

AUGUSTA, Maine (UPI)—Cora Estle, 97, is among 200 patients at Augusta State Hospital, a mental institution, who will be voting in the presidential election. They will cast absentee ballots Oct. 31 at the hospital.

The voter drive began when patients asked why they could not vote. Since there is no law against it, Democratic and Republican groups along with University of Maine law students visited the hospital this fall to register the voters. About 30 of the new registrants are over 65 and a few are under 20.

For Miss Estle, it will be the first vote of her life. "When I came here as a young woman, ladies didn't have the right to vote," she said.

Concert season to open

TWIN FALLS — Christopher Parkening, classical guitarist, opens the Magic Valley Community Concert Association season when he appears Oct. 23 at 9 p.m. at the CSI Fine Arts Auditorium.

Andres Segovia, master guitarist, has proclaimed Parkening as "one of the most brilliant guitarists in the world." Parkening took up the guitar at the age of 11, studying with Celedonia and Pepe Romero. He gave his first recital at 12.

He has concerts scheduled this week for the 1972-73 season with the New York Philharmonic, the Minneapolis Symphony, the Baltimore Symphony and the Milwaukee Symphony.

He is also scheduled for a recital at Lincoln Center, New York City, in November, and is completing plans for a tour of major European cities in the next year. He plans a trip to Japan where he recently completed a tour.

The Magic Valley Community Concert Association will offer members three other concerts this season. The Canadian Opera Company will appear on Nov. 17; Longstreth and Escosa, duo-harpists, Feb. 22 and Simon Estes, bass-baritone, March 5.

Admission to the association concerts is by membership only.

Blue ribbons will be awarded for the best food. There will be fun and games for everyone and the public is invited.

MIA presidents Delbert Tree and Mrs. Grant Flavel are in charge of the arrangements for the affair.

Bond posted in Blaine drug cases

KETCHUM — All but three of 17 persons arrested this week on drug charges have been released on bond from the Blaine County jail.

The arrests stemmed from eight months of investigation conducted by the Idaho State Bureau of Narcotics and Drug Control in cooperation with the Ketchum Police Department. All are scheduled to appear in Blaine County Magistrate Court today.

Held on $2,500 bond each this morning were Michael Scott Hughes, 22, Ketchum, and Leslie J. Sisiam, 18, Bellevue, who are charged with delivery of a controlled substance.

In custody in lieu of a $500 bond was Ronald S. Ashlimon, 26, Ketchum, charged with possession of marijuana.

James Arthur Riggen, 24, Hailey, arrested for six counts of delivery of a controlled substance, has been released on $3,500 bond, with Richard D. Barks, 18, Hailey, charged with one count of delivery of a controlled substance being released on $3,000 bond.

Kimberly man injured at Stormy Peak

SALMON — An injured Kimberly hunter was brought to Salmon Tuesday evening by helicopter from the Stormy Peak area west of here.

He suffered two cracks in his pelvis when a horse fell on him.

Oscar Johnson, 68, was reported in good condition at Steele Memorial Hospital Wednesday.

William Baker, Lemhi County sheriff who investigated, said he was telephoned Tuesday about 4 p.m. by Duane Johns, Aberdeen, one of Johnson's hunting companions, requesting a helicopter.

A helicopter was obtained from Stevensville, Mont., and picked up the injured man and brought him to Salmon.

Johnson apparently was injured last Friday.

Sheriff Baker said Johns apparently had ridden horseback to Pine Creek then driven to Shoup to notify him of the accident.

Paul warehouse license taken

PAUL — The office of the Idaho commissioner of agriculture has reported a temporary suspension of the state warehouse license held by Minidoka Seed Co., Paul.

The office of Commissioner Oscar Arstein reports that as of this week, license No. 104 was temporarily suspended and cannot do business as a public warehouse. The suspension will remain in effect until further notice, pending an investigation by the Department of Agriculture.

The suspension is in accordance with Section 69-228 of the Idaho Code, which give authority to close a warehouse whose records are not in accordance with the code.

The spokesman in the commissioner's office said the department is not alleging any specific violations against the firm, pending outcome of the investigation.

The firm deals in grain and grass, alfalfa and other type of small seeds.

Library receives books

TWIN FALLS — A "sister city" relation struck up by Twin Falls and Singen, Germany, in 1955 continued as Twin Falls Mayor John Christoffersen officially visited this summer.

The mayor said the relationship began as a part of a program President Eisenhower set up after he was elected.

In 1955 Singen was about the same size as Twin Falls. That year the mayor, city engineer and several City Council members came to visit the United States. They stayed in Twin Falls for eight weeks.

In past years the two cities have exchanged books and other mementos of the area. Yet, until this year, no official representative of Twin Falls ever visited Singen.

When Mayor Christoffersen visited Europe in August, he made the first official visit to Twin Falls' sister city.

He said he was treated like a king. Several of the city's 36 councilmen, mayor and past mayor met him.

Almost anti-climactic were the books he brought back for the Twin Falls Library. Both are books telling of the city and the area surrounding the city. The engraving is historical, depicting part of the history of a siege on Singen Castle.

Jerome hearing recess slated

JEROME — The preliminary hearing in Jerome Magistrate Court for Gay Dean Standlee, 30, Hazelton, has been recessed until 9:30 a.m. Nov. 9.

The recess came following three days of testimony by witnesses subpoenaed by the state and law enforcement personnel who conducted the investigation.

Standlee is accused of first degree murder in the death of his ex-wife, Sharyn Woodall, and attempted murder in the wounding of her husband, Theral Woodall, on Aug. 17 at the C. H. Standlee residence. They are from Silverton, Ore.

The recess was called after the court was informed that James May, Twin Falls, attorney for Standlee, would be out of town today.

Jerome County Pros. Atty. Eugene Fredericksen said he had no objection to the recess. He said the state is still waiting for information submitted to the FBI on evidence found at the Standlee home.

The state has not concluded its case and still has several more witnesses left to call before the defense begins presenting its case. The state's last witness Wednesday was Woodall.

Woodall, who was on the stand for over two hours, testified to what happened before and after arriving at the Standlee home.

Following several legal debates between May and Fredericksen it was decided by May to subpoena Woodall as a witness for the defense when the preliminary hearing resumes.

Jerome County Sheriff James B. (Pat) Burns also testified Wednesday.

Other witnesses Wednesday included Cloyce Edwards, Twin Falls County coroner and operator of the Twin Falls Ambulance Service, and Pat Birmingham, ambulance attendant.

FAA safe flying meet held in TF

TWIN FALLS — A Federal Aviation Administration winter safe flying seminar attracted 90 area pilots Wednesday evening.

Held at the College of Southern Idaho Shields Building, under sponsorship of Twin Falls Fliers, Inc., the briefing program featured three speakers, a slide presentation and a motion picture, the latter on ice formation in flight.

Taking part were John J. Quinn, Salt Lake City, official of the National Weather Service; Jack Van De Reitt, Boise, accident prevention specialist with the general aviation district FAA office, and Bert Cortright, Burley, new chief at the Burley Flight Service Station, also with the FAA. Ivan Skinner, check pilot with the Twin Falls Fliers, represented the sponsors.

The overflow crowd of pilots heard Quinn say 90 per cent of the weather "is fine, but it's the other 10 per cent which presents the problem in winter flight."

The speaker also urged pilots to make more use of the flight service station facilities, either by radio or by personal contact, and also urged flight instructors to expose their students to "adverse weather instead of only flying when things are just right."

Both Quinn and Van De Reitt told the pilots to take their own weather observations when flying, thus augmenting those given by the weather briefing stations.

They both concluded that mountains have "everything to do with winter flying in this section of the country."

In a brief discussion Cortright announced new radio frequencies for flight contact and said all pilots would receive copies of them by mail.

An FAA medical team from Oklahoma City will present the seminar program here in November at a date to be announced.

Proposal aired at Jerome meet

JEROME — A small number of Jerome Citizens attended a public meeting Wednesday night at the courthouse to hear a proposal on Senate Joint Resolution 132.

Joe Welch, associate director of reorganization said to those present that in the ten years between 1960 and 1970 state government spending more than doubled.

"A major reason for this increase in expenditures was a continuing practice of creating new state government agencies to handle special problems," Welch said.

He said that during the last legislative session a bipartisan committee of five Democrats and Five Republicans drafted Senate Joint Resolution 132 (SJR 132) which passed both House and Senate by overwhelming majorities. SJR 132 will appear on the Nov. 7 ballot. If passed, it will limit the number of state agencies to a maximum of 20 and direct the legislature to consolidate the present 268 agencies into a structure of no more than 20 departments by Jan. 1, 1975.

Welch said that in 1919 Idaho was one of the first states in the nation to recognize the problem of unchecked agency growth. At that time the legislature abolished over 40 agencies, boards and commissions and consolidated the remaining agencies into nine departments. However, because no limit was placed on the number of agencies that could be created the agencies again began to multiply.

He said that in 1949 and 1965 the legislature again recognized the continuing problem of mushrooming agency growth. Studies failed to produce any workable plan to halt this growth.

Welch said the continued growth of state agencies will result in state government becoming less and less responsive to the needs of the people.

"Idaho is not the only state facing this problem. 37 of the 50 states have already reorganized or are in the process of doing so," Welch said.

He pointed out that the state at present has no definite plan and has not spent any money on developing a plan for consolidation of the agencies.

Shoshone man hospitalized

SHOSHONE — Elmer I. Terry, Shoshone rural mail carrier, is hospitalized at St. Benedict's Hospital, Jerome, for undetermined injuries sustained in an automobile accident.

The accident occurred at 10:20 a.m. Wednesday, 16 miles northwest of Shoshone, one mile northwest of Palmer's Service on an intersection of the county oiled road and a gravel roadway.

Mrs. Lyle Adams was traveling north in a pickup truck and Terry was traveling east on the oiled road. They both told investigating officers they failed to see the other vehicle in time to avoid the accident.

Terry was taken to the hospital by Bergin ambulance. Mrs. Adams was not injured. Terry's mail car received about $2,000 damage while damage to the Adams truck was estimated to be about $100.

New chief

SHOSHONE — The new chief in the division of resource management in the Shoshone district, Bureau of Land Management, is Don Sweep, formerly of Coeur d'Alene.

Sweep, a native of Homedale, was graduated from the University of Idaho in 1960 with a B.S. degree in forestry, range management.

After two years in the Service, he began working for the bureau in 1963. His first assignment was in Burley where he advanced to area manager, then went to Washington, D. C., in 1968 where he participated in the Department of Interior's departmental manager training program.

In 1969, he moved to Coeur d'Alene. His wife and daughter are looking for a home in Shoshone.

Gem GOP hopeful conducts survey

GOODING — Significant portions of the state tuberculosis hospital can be put back into service for existing state programs, Rep. Vernon Ravenscroft, R-Tuttle, said today.

Ravenscroft, candidate for re-election to the Idaho legislature, said he conducted a survey of agency, needs in Magic Valley and found nearly 12,000 square feet of office, classroom and laboratory space is needed within the coming year.

He said, "In at least two cases the taxpayers face rental, remodeling or new construction expenses if the state TB hospital is not used."

His survey, he said, indicates the South Central Idaho Health District will need 6,000 square feet of office and laboratory space by Jan. 1, 1975.

Region Five, Department of Social and Rehabilitation Services, needs a child development center and an adult training program facility, he said.

About 2,000 square feet of classroom space will be needed by the child development center and the adult program will require about 4,000 square feet of space, the candidate said.

Grassman honored

JEROME — The Jerome Chamber of Commerce Wednesday afternoon presented Herman Stammerjohn with a white hat for having been named Jerome County's 1972 Grassman of the Year.

Making the presentation was Mike Sullivan, chamber president.

Stammerjohn received the honor for his outstanding work during the past ten years in developing his 160-acre farm southwest of Jerome. He is competing for the district and state title.

In other business, Sullivan reported on his effort to get the city to clean up the main street of Jerome, noting that he attended the Tuesday night City Council meeting and was informed that the city sweeper is out every Saturday morning at 4 a.m.

McClure talks in Hailey

By TERRY CAMPBELL
Times-News writer

HAILEY — The U. S. Senate race has "degenerated" into a negative campaign, Rep. James McClure said Wednesday.

Speaking at a luncheon in Hailey with local Republican candidates, McClure said he has had to fight "erroneous" statements and "half truths" made about him by his opponent, William E. (Bud) Davis.

This situation, the Republican contender said, "does not lead to the informed discussion I feel we should have on the issues." He listed the four continuing issues as the war in Vietnam and the United States foreign policy, the economy, the environment and education.

McClure said the U. S. is getting out of Vietnam and said he supported Nixon's position that "we are not going to fight others' battles for them." However, he cautioned against the country slipping into isolationist policies.

Incumbent candidate for district 21 senator, John Peavey said he would work toward disclosure of campaign contribution sources as well as sources of lobby group funds. He also discussed the "14-month head start" given to IBM in competing for the state auditor's office computer business.

E. V. McHan, incumbent for district 21 representatives, said the district has "a winning team" and expressed the hope that it will be returned to the legislature.

The second representative incumbent, Steve Antone, said he opposed executive reorganization because it may lead to the establishment of "20 super chiefs" as well as possible conflicts within each department as contrasting agencies are grouped under the same department.

Russ Horn, candidate for district 2 Blaine County commissioner said a lot of uncertainty exists about the future of the county. Dennis Haynes, challenger for county sheriff, said a definite change is needed in the department and said he would "upgrade and professionalize" personnel.

Also speaking briefly was incumbent Stephen W. Boller, who is running unopposed for county prosecutor.

Wheat surplus seen possible in '73

By BERNARD BRENNER
UPI Farm Editor

WASHINGTON (UPI) — A return to normal crop conditions in major wheat producing nations could lead to a surplus harvest in 1973, Agriculture Department experts indicate.

This year a drop in production, highlighted by an extremely short wheat crop in the Soviet Union, produced a strong gain in import demand which is reducing world reserve stocks and has raised grain prices around the globe.

The Soviet Union alone has bought about 19 million tons of wheat for 1972-73 delivery, about two-thirds of it from the United States.

But amid reports that American farmers intend to step up wheat production for 1973, and with "go slow" warnings coming from some U.S. farm leaders, government economists now say the world supply-price situation could change next year.

"Current world prices can be expected to induce higher production levels in a number of exporting countries in 1973," Agriculture Department specialists noted in a new report on the "World Grain Situation."

"Much depends upon weather and crop conditions," the experts cautioned. But they added:

"Normal crop conditions, the inducements for larger plantings, and heavier application of fertilizers could permit a substantial rebuilding of stocks in 1973-74."

Rebuilding of stocks means simply that production would exceed demand, leaving an excess to pile up in storage. This kind of supply-demand balance could be expected to bring prices down.

The special Agriculture Department report added, however, that if 1973 crop conditions in major nations are below normal, a "relatively strong" market could continue for another season.

Government officials here have not yet issued any forecasts on prospective wheat planting increases for 1973. But farmers have reportedly increased seeding of winter wheat sharply, although they will not have to make final decisions on how much to harvest until early next year.

Fred V. Heinke, president of the Mid-Continent Farmers Association, recently urged growers not to gear next year's crop to more than the 1973-74 market is likely to absorb.

"We better hold onto our hats," Heinke said. "Before we hasten to increase wheat acreage, we better do some studying and thinking. We just got rid of a price-depressing surplus. Let's not rebuild it," the MFA leader added.

The Agriculture Department's world grain report added, meanwhile, that this year's tight supply situation had been compounded by unusually low rice supplies in Asia and uncertainty about production in India and China.

In India, production of fall harvest grain has been reduced by a long delay in monsoon rains. For the moment, however, officials said India is expected to try to offset the smaller crop by living off its own reserves and is not expected to import as much as it did last year. If the 1972 crop is smaller than now expected, however, imports may increase.

On a world basis, the report said total production of wheat, feed grains and rice this year was expected to sink to 303.3 million tons, down 20 million tons from a year earlier. Total world reserve stocks were expected to sink from 49.6 million tons on July 1, 1972 to an estimated 34 million tons on July 1, 1973.

Cars should fit

NEW YORK (UPI) — Cars that don't fit their drivers can cause accidents. Dr. Julian Waller, professor of community medicine at the University of Vermont, says so. He told of a study that showed drivers who are above or below average in size may have trouble reaching their cars' controls.

Harvest gains

BOISE (UPI) — Potato and sugar beet harvest operations dominated the agricultural scene in Idaho this past week, a report from the Department of Agriculture said today.

Although rainy weather disrupted fall grain seeding and plowing, the summary said, moisture was generally beneficial to the new seedlings and had little effect on beet and potato harvest.

According to the report, potato harvest is almost two-thirds complete in the Magic Valley and nearing final stages in eastern Idaho.

Sugar beet digging is gaining momentum and is about 15 per cent done in southwest and south central portions, and nearly 25 per cent complete in the east.

According to agricultural statistician Richard C. Max, temperatures for the week averaged normal to slightly above normal. Precipitation was reported as variable during most of the seven-day period. Greatest totals reported were recorded in the Moscow area southward into the Clearwater Basin.

Whittom launches tree plant drive

HAILEY — A tree planting campaign was begun in the Wood River Valley Tuesday by W. F. (Bill) Whittom, candidate for the district 21 Idaho Senate seat.

The Rupert Democrat said, "I think the tree planting will do more for the area than cluttering it with bumper stickers and placards. Whether I win or lose, these trees will be a contribution to the community."

With similar plantings planned throughout the district, Whittom placed one flowering fruit tree in a public area in each of the Wood River communities — Hailey, Bellevue, Carey and Ketchum.

The main goal of the campaign, Whittom said, was to show he was interested in doing his part to add to the ecological scene.

"It is with humbleness and gratitude that I plant these trees today," Whittom said.

"I feel humble because it is difficult for man to add to the beauty that nature has already endowed Idaho with, and I am grateful that I live in a generation where we recognize that we must guard this beauty, or our grandchildren will never witness the splendor of one of the nation's most scenic playgrounds," he said.

Whittom said, if elected, he would work for environmental protection and will also stress legislation to keep streams and creeks free from pollution.

In the fourth precinct, candidates for sheep representative include Everett Campbell, Bellevue, incumbent; Bill Byrd, Malad, and Domingo V. Equillor, Paul.

Cattle representative in the fourth precinct will be elected from among LaVern Montgomery, Rupert, incumbent; Oris Gibson, Rupert; W. Cloyd Mecham, Carey, and Kay Hunt, American Falls.

Report on school bond issue given at Hansen

HANSEN — Property owners of the Hansen School District will have to pay another 7.4 mills in school taxes if the Nov. 1 bond issue carries.

This was reported by school board members Tuesday night in a trustee meeting to discuss final plans for the $280,000 bond issue. The polls will open at noon and close at 8 p.m.

A letter from architect Harald Gerber explained the building will be of hexagon modular type construction and will provide an open area concept of teaching with no permanent classroom divisions. Board members plan to house the first six grades in the new building, leaving additional space in the present building for higher grades.

Percy Christensen, superintendent, said the location is southwest of the present school facilities. Six acres will be purchased from Joe and Blake Froehlich for new building, he said. The building will face on Walnut Street, as does the existing School.

The superintendent said brochures, explaining the election and plans for the new elementary building will be distributed to all patrons of the district prior to Nov. 1. Working with the board are Gerber; Jerry Mowlin, First National Bank, Boise, fiscal agent, and Fred Decker, Twin Falls, attorney.

In other business the board heard a report on the new bus which has arrived and is in use, and a report on the teacher's aide in the fifth grade, Mrs. David Call. Christensen said the teacher's aide program is successful.

Board members set May 24 at 8 p.m. as the time for graduation and May 20 at 2 p.m. as the time for baccalaureate. Plans were also approved for converting the coal heating system to natural gas.

Downtown atmosphere pleasant

Platform told by Jerome man

JEROME — Paul E. Whaley, write-in candidate for Jerome County sheriff, announced his platform in a newsrelease today.

Whaley said there is a need for up-to-date law enforcement and a sheriff who is knowledgeable in crime prevention and detection. He said he believes law enforcement should not mix with politics.

"I believe in running my own department in full cooperation with other agencies on all levels. However, I strongly hold to the locally independent police force," he said.

"Through my contact with people across the county," Whaley said, "I have found that my 10 point program has been enthusiastically received, and I feel that this program, together with my experience and training, will give the people of Jerome County the kind of law enforcement they have been asking for and deserve."

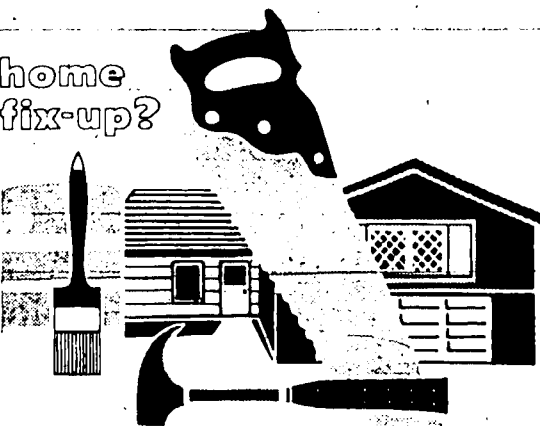

Woman elected

CALDWELL — Mrs. Harry W. Morrison, Boise, has been elected to the College of Idaho Board of Trustees, according to Robert E. Smylie, board chairman.

She is the widow of the late Harry W. Morrison, the founder and chairman of the Morrison-Knudsen Co.

Active in civic affairs, Mrs.

Morrison is a trustee of the Boise Art Association and an advisory board member of the Boise Philharmonic Association, Inc. She is also a member of the advisory board of the Idaho Historic Preservation Council and a trustee of the Boise State Foundation, Inc. and of Holy Names Foundation, Inc.

Titles on line in area grid battles

With many Magic Valley teams just one week away from putting the pads away, the title pictures in several conference come into sharp focus this weekend.

Among the mainliners are: Burley at Bonneville for the EIC title and battle of loop undefeateds; Buhl at Mountain Home with possible last calls in both the South Central Idaho and Cross State Conferences at stake; Shoshone at Glenns Ferry where the two undefeated Little Five loop co-leaders meet; Camas County at Carey where the Mushers are heavily favored to make it two Snake River Conference titles in a row. But fans don't have to wait until Friday to get into the swing of things. Declo, defending champion now turned possible spoiler, entertains Magic Valley pace-setting Raft River at 7 p.m. Thursday with the visitors needing the win to stay a step ahead of Murtaugh and Castleford.

Bonneville poses as a difficult opponent for the Bobcats who have been improving with each week and now are definitely given a chance of winning it. At season's start the Bees loomed as perhaps one of the two best in the eastern half of the state while Burley was getting off to a slow start. But Burley's defense may have come of age in the past two weeks, shutting out Buhl and then shacking Mountain Home.

And speaking of Burley-Mountain Home, three Tigers went to the sidelines against the Bobcats last week and may or may not be available to play against Buhl. Buhl, meanwhile, is starting to get some of those pre-season (non-football connected) wounded back. The result could be a difference in the first non-conference game which Mountain Home won 14-8. That was a blood-letter.

The Little Five thing should again be a matter of the Shoshone defense stopping Glenns Ferry. The Indians don't score much, getting five touchdowns in their last two games which is three more than in their previous four battles. The defense, however, has posted four shutouts so now you know why — Shoshone is undefeated in the league.

Glenns Ferry has been alternating by weeks on offense — up to three, down to zero — for the past four weeks — and, if one believes in trends, this is a down week. This one logically could make the tie-breaker stage, starting, from, say 0-0.

Raft River, for the first time in five games, put together three touchdowns in a game and Coach Kay Harper couldn't have been happier. His defense has been performing well, but always under pressure of protecting meager leads.

The Trojans' problem is a nearly healthy Declo club. "We lost four men for three games just as the conference started," Coach Mike Matthews points out. "That's when we fell out of it. But three of them are back now." Then, to point up just how the two teams feel about this all-Cassia County battle, he added "we probably aren't going anywhere but we'd like to have the satisfaction of becoming factor in the race. Besides, we (Declo) always like to beat Raft River." Of course, Raft River just loves beating Declo, too — title or no title.

The Big Six Conference also could have a re-ordering in the hierarchy with undefeated Wood River traveling to Gooding, which is one game back in the lost column. SCIC-leading Jerome figures to stay that way where it entertains Filer. The Wildcats are showing promise but with mostly juniors and a sprinkling of sophomores, the promise is a year hence so far as this game goes.

With the top dogs fighting in the Little Five, Wendell can enhance its position and keep its hopes alive when it goes to winless Kimberly. Valley steps out of loop play to entertain the Oakley Hornets at 2 p.m. Friday, each hoping to break a four or five-game losing streak.

In the magic Valley league, Hansen, coming off a week's layoff and showing stronger in the past three games, will test the Wolves at Castleford, who have to win to keep up with Murtaugh and Raft River. Hansen's problem is stopping the break-away threat of Lynn Reese and Castleford's problem may be the passing of Marty Shepherd. Second-place Murtaugh should be cautioned when going to Hagerman because the Pirates have been ambushing folks right along this season.

In eight-man play, the top half is against the bottom half of the standings. Undefeated Camas County will be scouted by probable post-season foe Meadows Valley at Carey; Dietrich will make the long trip to Rimrock while Richfield goes to Bliss.

Nicklaus returns to golfing battle

NAPA, Calif. (UPI) — Soggy fairways and all, Jack Nicklaus takes off in pursuit of golf's first $300,000 year Thursday in the rich Kaiser International Open while Billy Casper and Arnold Palmer each shoots for his first tourney victory of the year.

The three are the game's only millionaires, but while Jack's fortunes have been looking up this year Palmer and Casper have been going downhill.

Casper is the defending champion in the $150,000 Kaiser, which for the first two rounds will be played over Silverado's North and South courses. Billy's 1971 Kaiser triumph was his only one of the year and now he's back trying again to keep it from being a shutout year which would be the first of his career in 16 years on the pro tour.

Palmer, a little fuller in the face these days and sporting a pair of those wide-rimmed glasses popular among athletes, has been strangely silent this year, and so, too, have been the golf writers about the game's most popular player.

"What is there for me to say," Palmer replied when asked about his game. "I'm out there trying my best. Some days it works and some days it doesn't. Obviously, the reason I'm not winning is because I can't seem to put four good rounds together. Always, I have one really bad shooting round."

Nicklaus has won six tournaments this year, including the Masters and U.S. Open, and $280,482. Victory here—first place is worth $30,000—would put him over the $300,000 mark for the year. No one ever has won that much money in one season, but Nicklaus seems matter-of-fact about his chances here.

"I haven't played in a while," Nicklaus said, "so I don't know what shape my game is in. Sure, I'd like to reach the $300,000 mark, but I don't expect to — not this week anyway."

"Right now, I'll play here, in the Sahara and the Disney World and then call it a year. You might say I'm playing for fun. If I put too much emphasis on trying to win $300,000 I might hurt my game."

Reds nip A's 1-0, stay alive in world series

OAKLAND (UPI)—Cesar Geronimo's seventh-inning single scored Tony Perez from second with the game's only run and Jack Billingham, with help from ace fireman Clay Carroll in the ninth, pitched the underdog Cincinnati Reds to a 1-0 victory over the Oakland A's Wednesday night in the rain-delayed third game of the World Series.

Billingham, who usually pitches his best late in the season, held the A's to three scratch hits, struck out seven batters and walked three in the eight innings he worked as the Reds gained their first Series victory after two losses at home.

The victory gave the Reds a chance to tie up the Series if they also can win the fourth game here Thursday night and it made certain the Series will go at least through a fifth game Friday afternoon.

Perez opened the seventh against John "Blue Moon" Odom with a ground single to left and advanced to second on a sacrifice by Denis Menke. Then, Geronimo, hitless in nine previous Series at-bats, lined a single to center to score Perez, who made it even though he slipped on the wet-turf rounding third.

The victory went to Billingham, while Carroll picked up the save. Carroll set a major league record this season with 37 saves. Odom, touched for three of the Reds' four hits, struck out 11 batters in the seven innings he worked but nevertheless was tagged with the loss.

Billingham said his slider was his best pitch and the fact a National League umpire, Mel Steiner, worked balls and strikes, was a factor.

The A's took a lot of low and away pitches, mostly on my slider," said Billingham, who split 24 decisions during the regular season. "In our league (the National) those are strikes but not always in the American, where they call more high pitches strikes."

Joe Rudi's little nubber to the left of the mound in the fourth was Oakland's first hit of the game. Dick Green got the second in the fifth when he beat out a roller toward third with Menke playing back and pinch-hitter Gonzalo Marquez got the third when he outlegged a roller near second.

Otherwise, the A's managed to hit only three balls to the outfield, all to centerfielder Bobby Tolan.

The Reds didn't exactly wear out the ball either, as Fingers added three strikeouts to Odom's 11 for a total of 14. Outside of their four hits they got only two other balls to the outfield: Johnny Bench, who led the majors with homers and RBIs, wound up the easiest batter for Oakland pitchers as he struck out three times. Billingham also fanned three times, but that was expected.

Dick Williams had nothing but praise for Billingham. "The man pitched a fine game," said the A's manager, "what more can I say? We were beaten, 1-0, and had only one chance to score, but they held us off. It was a pitcher's night, no question about that." On Geronimo's hit, Williams said it was just one of those things. "We handled him with no trouble before and we weren't all that concerned about him," said the A's skipper. "He just hit the ball. It was too far back for our second baseman and too short for our centerfielder."

Indiana may show Ohio State it doesn't own Big 10 loop

By BILL MADDEN
UPI Sports Writer
The names Ken Starling, Ken St. Pierre and Ted McNulty do not immediately conjure up thoughts of Red Grange and Bronco Nagurski or even Harry Gosso and John Isenbarger for that matter.

And yet that rather anonymous trio has passed and run even more anonymous Indiana right into first place in the Big Ten along with the more notable Ohio State and Michigan. Perhaps even more surprising than their uncustomary lofty position in the Big Ten ranks, however, is the fact that when the Hoosiers travel to Columbus this weekend for a head-to-head showdown with fifth-rated Ohio State, a lot of people are picking them to win.

"This is the best football we've played all year," said Indiana coach John Pont after the Hoosiers upped their record to 4-1 by trouncing Wisconsin

33-7 last week. "We tried to tell people all summer that we'd be competitive but apparently they didn't believe us."

They're believing now and with Starling averaging 4.2 yards per carry and McNulty passing better than 56 per cent, Pont has come up with his best Indiana team since the Gonzo-Isenbarger Rose Bowl outfit of 1967. Knocking off unbeaten Ohio State in Columbus, however, is a tall order—even for a Cinderella team. That's why the Buckeyes have been installed as 19-point favorites.

First order of business is to score on the Buckeyes' defensive unit headed by the linebacking trio of Randy Gradishar, Vic Koenig and Rick Middleton—rated the best in the country by many observers.

Then there's the problem of stopping the Ohio State offensive machine headed by super freshman Archie Griffin, twice named to UPI's backfield of the week, and burly fullback Champ Henson who has accounted for nine touchdowns already this season.

In other games involving rated teams Saturday, top-ranked Southern California is an off the board favorite over Washington, No. 2 Oklahoma is rated 18 over No. 10 Colorado, No. 3 Alabama is 6 over Tennessee, No. 4 Nebraska is off the board over Kansas, No. 6 Michigan is 17 over Illinois, No. 7 LSU is off the board against Kentucky and No. 18 Notre Dame is likewise off the board against Missouri.

Also it's Air Force 16 over Navy, Auburn even with Georgia Tech, Stanford 181-2 over Oregon and Penn State 21 over Syracuse.

Grambling-Jackson State, Samford-Livingston State and Tennessee State-Florida A&M are the matchups that highlight small college action.

Meantime, while most football fans will be eyeing the outcomes of the Big Eight Oklahoma-Colo and SEC Alabama-Tennessee "ratings struggles" John Pont is just hoping to "be competitive" in Columbus this Saturday.

Idaho wants out of Big Sky loop

MOSCOW (UPI)—The University of Idaho president, Dr. Ernest W. Hartung, announced Wednesday afternoon the university will seek permission from the board of regents to withdraw from the Big Sky Athletic conference. Hartung, who had sent a memorandum to board members on the matter said he now planned to bring it up Friday because Kenneth Thatcher, a board member, mentioned it Tuesday during a meeting in southern Idaho.

"We prefer not to discuss the matter before board members have an opportunity to discuss it at their regular meeting Friday morning in Pocatello," Hartung said.

The regents' agenda, now in the hands of board members, does not include the item but Hartung said the issue will be placed before the board at the appropriate time for new business.

"At the time the memorandum is presented, there will be adequate copies of the proposal for the press," the president said.

Hartung also noted the information had been before all members of the board for about one week and said he was hopeful that a decision can be made as the regents move to the item for open discussion.

Numerous members of the staff, particularly the football staff, have been advocating the move for the past few years. Idaho is the only school in the Big Sky conference playing in the university division in football. The rest are in the college division.

Pacers drop Utah 107-103

INDIANAPOLIS, Ind. (UPI)—Center Mel Daniels scored from 10 feet out with 28 seconds left, leading the Indiana Pacers to a 107-103 victory over the Utah Stars Wednesday night.

It was the first loss in three games for the Stars in the new ABA season. The Pacers evened their record at 2-2.

Bruins meet Highland in homecoming battle; Minico travels to Idaho Falls

The Twin Falls Bruins, who haven't played at home since the days of first-quarter sunlight, return to Bruin Stadium at 8 p.m. Friday to hopefully celebrate homecoming at the expense of the Highland Rams.

Twin Falls, which last played to the home crowd Sept. 15 and since has split four games, enters the battle as the Southern Idaho Conference's top defensive team while Highland brings the loop's best offensive record.

Meanwhile, the Minico Spartans, tied with Twin Falls at 3-2 in the league, will go to Idaho Falls Saturday to meet the winless Tigers.

Highland will bring a host of offensive talent against the Bruin defense. It has Frank Green, the SIC's total offense and passing leader. Green rolls out with the option of handing off, running or passing. He does all three well and gives a defense a lot of things to think about. The Rams have one of the best kickoff and punt return men—who also is one of the top receivers—in Larry Kemp and the fourth best ground gainer in Greg Helm who is averaging 6.0 per carry with 514 yards. Also, Bill Thiemann is the best punter with an outstanding 42.0 average and his placement kicking makes the Rams a scoring threat from the 30-yard line on in.

Offensively, Twin Falls can't match the Rams so must rely on its defense which thus far has held six foes to 1,055 yards totally. Highland has amassed 2,712 at the same time.

"We feel we have four of our toughest five games ahead of us," says Coach Norm Thomas. "We've built up a little momentum with two wins and hope that will help us. Offensively I think we're starting to click a little better. In our last two games we could have thrown for a lot more yards and more points but we're trying to get our ground game going." (The Bruins shifted from the wishbone to the I formation three weeks ago).

Since then Gary Scott has come from nowhere to about 13th in rushing in the league. He carries most of the time. Mike Sturgill, ranked sixth in passing and total offense, has been passing better since the offense change.

But the key for Twin Falls will be the defensive ends and outside corners because that is where Highland hits best—and oftenest.

Minico isn't expected to have much trouble with Idaho Falls, a team that has little depth and is playing mostly juniors. The Tigers have a speed burner in Van Ashton for a break away threat but shouldn't be consistent against Minico's improving defense.

FORECAST FOR FRIDAY, OCTOBER 20, 1972

GENERAL TENDENCIES. Early hours of the day are certainly not good for financial or travel activities or for borrowing or lending. But as the day advances, you find that you become more in tune with those about you and are able to know the right answers to problems facing you. Employ more goodwill.

ARIES (Mar. 21 to Apr. 19) Safeguard your reputation today when others are in a mood to criticize. Keep busy at handling personal affairs wisely. Show others that you are a very charitable person. Avoid arguments.

TAURUS (Apr. 20 to May 20) Wait until the afternoon before putting a new arrangement into operation that will put your debts behind you. Talk with mate without losing your temper. Come to a fine understanding.

GEMINI (May 21 to June 21) A good day for discussions with associates but not for putting over deals in the business world. A civic activity can now be very successful. Show that you are a go-getter, not a push-over.

MOON CHILDREN (June 22 to July 21) Study the duties ahead of you and find a way to get the cooperation of fellow workers. Avoid an associate who is not thinking clearly today. Do something to improve your appearance.

LEO (July 22 to Aug. 21) You have too much work ahead, so do only those things that are important and then go out for recreation. You can complete it tonight with ease. Prove that you can carry through with good ideas.

VIRGO (Aug. 22 to Sept. 22) Talk with kin and plan how to have more harmony and security in the future. Not a good day or evening for social or recreational activities. Handle fundamental affairs efficiently.

LIBRA (Sept. 23 to Oct. 22) A day for much constructive activity, such as shopping, keeping appointments and obtaining information you need. A quiet attitude at home is fine. Evening is fine for family entertainment.

SCORPIO (Oct. 23 to Nov. 21) You have to use much care in travel and in motion today. But your monetary matters become much clearer to you. Others come to you for advice, so be sure to give it. Be gracious.

SAGITTARIUS (Nov. 22 to Dec. 21) You know pretty well how to gain aims of a personal nature, but it would be well to consult with experts where business matters are concerned. Happiness is yours for the making.

CAPRICORN (Dec. 22 to Jan. 20) Although your judgment is usually good, it would be wise now to do some deep thinking about a private matter. Steer clear of social affairs where you confront inflated egos.

AQUARIUS (Jan. 21 to Feb. 19) Contacting good friends and listening to their ideas is fine today. Evening is fine for complete relaxation and thinking out how to gain your most cherished longings. Avoid one who hinders.

PISCES (Feb. 20 to Mar. 20) Don't rely on good friends who are too busy and can't help you today, but higher-ups can be contacted with fine results following. Put your talents forward with the right people. Be wise.

IF YOUR CHILD IS BORN TODAY he or she will be one of those fascinating young people who will have the wisdom to listen to what business experts have to say. The intuitive faculties here are very pronounced and the life will be based largely on this. Fine success can result in whatever the forte may be here, which could be music, the ministry or art. Religion is a natural in this chart.

WORLD'S most dedicated golfers today, I'm told, are the Japanese. With some 450 courses there. Twenty years ago Japan had maybe 30.

IN THAT place long known as Latvia, married women don plain bunnets while single girls sport fancy bright headdresses. This is just about all any bachelor on his way to Latvia needs to know, it's believed.

Q. WHAT'S the origin of the name "Jones"?

A. That's Welsh for Johnson. Was more than 400 years ago that the Bishop of Lichfield listed these Welsh names this way: "Take ten," he said, "and call them Rice. Take another ten, and call them Price. A hundred more, and dub them Hughes. Take fifty others, call them Pughes. Now Roberts name some hundred score. And Williams name a legion more. And call," he moaned in languid tones, "Call all the other thousands - Jones."

LOVE AND WAR

What makes a lot of couples elope is doubt. That's the claim of one student of such matters. Says he: Many a gentleman and his lady friend decide to run off in the night to marry, fearing there'll be a change of mind, if they wait. Our Love and War man declines to argue the point. He admits, in fact, that elopements do not work out successfully quite as often as do conventional marriages.

INTELLECT

"Whereas a man reaches his intellectual peak between 20 and 30, a woman reaches it in middleage," says that renowned specialist on the differences between male and female, Theo Lang. "More significantly," says he, "a woman's intellectual performance is at its lowest during the years she is marrying and having children." Interesting. However, Mr. Lang's observation appears to contradict that widely reported contention that men are at their conversational best in their mid-40s, women in their late 20s.

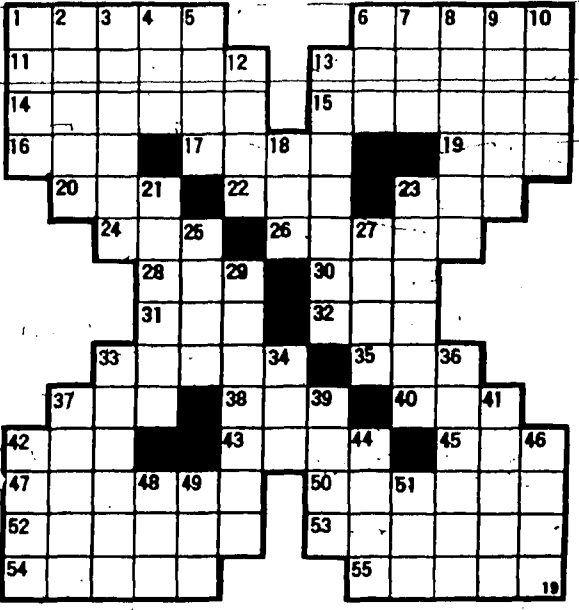

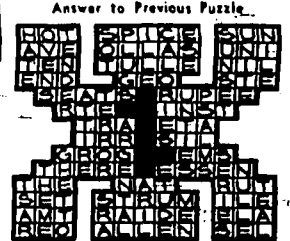

AN OLD PUZZLE, this, but still it stumps quite a many. Look at these numbers: 8, 5, 4, 9, 1, 7, 6, 3, 2. What order are they in? Do not spring this query on the mathematician in the family. Spring it on the speller. They're in alphabetical order.

Horses returned to former owner

RUPERT — Custody of 56 horses was given to Merle Masoner by Magistrate Gleason Anderson, Cassia County magistrate, following a hearing in Minidoka Magistrate Court yesterday.

An order for temporary custody previously given the Twin Falls Humane Society was dissolved by Anderson. Masoner's custody of the horses is subject to a lien of $336 to the humane society for feed and care of the horses for the past two weeks.

The horses had been sold to Warren and Claire Collins by Masoner and the contract of sale was rescinded.

The case arose following a court order issued Oct. 2 granting temporary custody of the animals to the Twin Falls Humane Society after charges of mistreatment of the horses had been filed by society president Bobbi Glasman.

Richfield Lions hear Malta man

RICHFIELD — Al Meedo, Malta, a director for the Lions eyesight conservation program in Idaho, addressed the Richfield Lions Club.

In his remarks Tuesday evening, he said 1,238 persons have donated their eyes to the eye bank.

Meedo said that in the screening program for children ages 3 to 6 conducted by the Lions in Idaho, 13 per cent are referred to doctors. In low income and ghetto areas there are up to 50 per cent who can be referred to doctors for additional help.

He said that if the "lazy eye" problem can be caught in these children, blindness could be prevented in the 50 per cent of those with the problem, who eventually go blind.

Harold Stoltz, Jerome, secretary of the board and deputy district governor of the Lions, also spoke.

The Lions and West End 4-H Club project to provide trash cans for the community is complete. The cans will be placed in March.

Marvin Webb read a letter from Art Cutforth, South Milwaukee, Wis., thanking the people of Richfield for letting them camp at the Richfield City Park this summer.

Guests at the meeting included Mr. and Mrs. Eugene Alexander and Mr. and Mrs. Jack Hubsmith, all Richfield.
