Mexican airliner returns

MEXICO CITY (UPI) — Seventy-three passengers and seven crewmen of a hijacked Mexicana Airlines jet returned to Mexico City today from Havana where they flew. Thirteen members of a Communist urban guerrilla organization holding $320,000 in ransom, issued a statement Wednesday calling the six prisoners released to give in to the hijackers' demands "common hoodlums." They had been arrested only Tuesday for a series of holdups of commercial establishments.

The hijackers, describing themselves as friends of members of the "Armed Liberation Front" anti-government guerrilla organization, seized the Boeing 727 over Saltillo, about 50 miles south of the northern Mexican industrial city of Monterrey. After forcing the plane's crew to return to Monterrey, the five spent six hours bargaining with authorities. Officials said they threatened to kill one passenger every 30 minutes unless their demands were met.

Arturo Suarez, the top security officer at the scene, said the hijackers raised their demands every time previous demands were met. Eventually, they collected the ransom and the prisoners plus two unidentified companions who flew with them to Cuba. The six prisoners were released from jail and taken to the plane, one of them a woman who was carried aboard on a stretcher.

The six were arrested one day earlier and named as suspects in a robbery ring. "There was no mistreatment of the passengers by the hijackers," according to Ricardo Ortiz Chacon, a Mexico City lawyer who was on the Boeing the capital city Wednesday. "At first everyone was nervous. But later we got talking and we even joked a bit. They said they were acting in the fulfillment of an ideal, the economic liberation of Mexico."

The hijackers had let off 20 women, two children and seven men in Monterrey but kept one woman—the niece of Nuevo Leon Gov. Luis M. Farías—among the hostages who made the flight to Cuba.

The Mexican government today prepared an extradition request for the guerrillas. It

Paris talks bring clash

PARIS (UPI) — The United States said today that President Nixon's election brings peace nearer in Indochina and optimistically predicted a final meeting soon between President adviser Henry A. Kissinger and Hanoi negotiators. North Vietnam said "peace is not for tomorrow."

These statements came at the 16th session of the Paris peace talks. Before the session, U.S. Ambassador William J. Porter told newsmen that Nixon's reelection enhanced the chances of peace and that "with every passing day peace comes perceptibly nearer."

U.S. delegation spokesman David Lambertso said later: "We are optimistic that an additional private meeting will take place fairly soon between Kissinger and Hanoi negotiators and that in that meeting an agreement will be reached."

The meeting will take place as soon as Hanoi so decides," Lambert said that Porter's optimism came from "profound knowledge" of what was happening. Kissinger has called for one final session with the North Vietnamese negotiator to iron out the details of a draft cease-fire agreement.

The North Vietnamese at today's talks were not so optimistic.

Peace is not for tomorrow, North Vietnamese negotiator Nguyen Minh Vy said as he left the talks. "The reason is simple — The United States refused to sign the peace accord it has already agreed to."

Both sides accused the other of pouring supplies into South Vietnam. The Communists said that instead of signing a treaty the United States was supplying 1,500 tons of equipment a day to South Vietnam.

Porter told newsmen before today's session that President Nixon's overwhelming reelection enhanced the chances of peace. "With every passing day, peace comes perceptibly nearer," Porter said.

At the conference table Vy and the Viet Cong's foreign minister, Mine, Nguyen Thi Binh, accused the United States of going back on its pledge to sign a cease-fire on Oct. 31.

Man dies of wreck injuries

SHOSHONE — John Haran, 60, Shoshone, died at Magic Valley Memorial Hospital about 8:45 p.m. Wednesday of injuries received in a one-car accident Tuesday.

The accident occurred one mile west of Dietrich on Highway 24 about 9 p.m. Tuesday. Officers said Haran was traveling toward Shoshone and his car failed to negotiate a curve. The vehicle overturned and he was thrown out.

Passing motorists called sheriff's officers. Mr. Haran was taken to St. Benedict's Hospital at Jerome and Wednesday morning transferred to Magic Valley Memorial Hospital.

Near-fatal returns from Tuesday's balloting showed the Democrats had staved off the Nixon avalanche to pick up two seats in the Senate and to lose no more than 12 or 13 in the House. Thus they maintained Democratic congressional control unbroken since 1954.

Israeli raids spark battles

By United Press International Israeli and Syrian planes, artillery and tanks duelled along the Golan Heights cease-fire line today in the heaviest fighting between the two nations in 27 months of comparative Middle East peace.

Israel said its jets shot down two Syrian MIG-21s in dogfights along the entire length of the border and that it sustained no losses. A Syrian military spokesman said four Israeli planes and two Syrian aircraft were shot down. He said the first two downed Israeli planes fell inside the occupied territory but the last two were seen falling on the "border proper" and Israeli helicopters removed their pilots.

Israel denied the Syrian reports. Both sides reported the border tense but quiet by 6 p.m. after hours of dueling between artillery and tanks. A Syrian military spokesman speaking over Damascus radio blamed Israel for starting today's flurry of raids and reprisals.

The air fighting followed an initial Israeli air strike against two frontline Syrian army camps and a heavy artillery duel begun by the Syrians in response. Syria said tanks later joined the artillery duel.

Today's fighting was the first between the two countries in ten days and only the second Israeli air attack on Syrian army positions since the 1967 war, started at noon, Syria reported. Interrupting its regular news broadcast, Damascus radio said Israeli planes attacked two Syrian frontline military positions, killing one soldier and wounding two others.

Syrian artillery responded to the air attacks with a heavy barrage on Israeli military positions along the occupied Syrian Golan Heights and Syrian aircraft took to the air to repel the intruding Israeli planes and fought them in dogfights along the cease-fire lines, the Syrian spokesman said.

Tax reform Demos' goal

WASHINGTON (UPI) — Assured of continued House and Senate control despite President Nixon's landslide, Democrats today charted goals for the 93rd Congress including tax reform, consumer protection, national health insurance and a boost in the minimum wage.

They said the first votes in the new Congress, which convenes Jan. 3 to spend its first month organizing, likely will come on efforts to pass again over a presidential veto. If necessary—some of the bills Nixon killed by pocket veto after the 92nd Congress adjourned.

With the election behind them, the Democrats also kicked off a contest for House majority leader, in the probable event that the current leader, Rep. Hale Boggs, D-La., is dead. Boggs and Rep. Nick Begich, D-Alaska, have been missing since their plane disappeared over Alaska on Oct. 16.

Rep. Thomas P. O'Neill, D-Mass., now the party whip in the House, and Rep. Sam Gibbons, D-Fla., a five-term southern liberal, were reported sounding out fellow members, seeking support for the post.

A rumored challenge to Speaker Carl Albert had not materialized. Most members now believed Albert, after one term in the highest elective office field by a Democrat, would be picked without opposition at a pre-session caucus for another two years as speaker.

hoped the Nixon sweep would carry in enough Republican challengers to switch control of the Senate, where they needed a net gain of five seats. They even had said it was possible they could take over the House, where a net gain of 39 GOP seats was required.

In retrospect, Republicans said Nixon already could claim a pretty fair "philosophical majority" in the House, where a coalition of Republicans and conservative Democrats traditionally have been able to win.

As for the Senate, they conceded that it now takes on a somewhat more liberal hue. But they said Nixon's historic win over George S. McGovern must have carried shock waves to Capitol Hill—and that Nixon now should get better support.

But O'Neill dismissed any suggestion that the Nixon victory had "carried a message" to Congress. "There was no message there," O'Neill told a reporter. "In fact, the new Congress probably will be more independent of the President than the old one. As far as Congress is concerned, the election mandate appears to have been for more independence in Congress."

Indians abandon offices

WASHINGTON (UPI) — For six days, hundreds of warpaint-clad, club-wielding Indians vowed to remain inside the Bureau of Indian Affairs "until the death" to win demands for justice from the federal government.

On the seventh day, after the national election, they rested and went home—with $60,000 of government money to help them get there, amnesty for taking over the building and federal action to respond to their grievances within 60 days.

They came Nov. 2 on what they called a "Treaty of Broken Promises" and left Wednesday, their wake a trail of wreckage at the BIA.

"Our holding of the building, although not a complete victory, is unprecedented in history," said Indian spokesman Russell Means.

The demonstrators, at their peak numbering 1,000, made 27 demands on the government—principally an end to bureaucracy and deceit they said was cheating them of aid and treaty rights.

They got a White House promise from the government of amnesty and $60,000 in travel aid for Indians who had no means to get home.

2nd term reforms planned

WASHINGTON (UPI) — President Nixon let it be known today that he envisions his second term as a period of reform—"reform using money more effectively"—but ruled out any "massive new social programs."

The President was engaged at the Florida White House in what was described as intensive second term planning, with little time taken to celebrate his avalanche victory Tuesday over George S. McGovern, while Democrats looked ahead to reshaping their leadership.

McGovern flew off this morning to the Virgin Islands to rest while Democratic National Committee officials quickened plans for a reorganizational meeting one month from today in Washington.

Nixon told Cabinet members and other top aides Wednesday, just after his 49-state election sweep, that significant changes would be made not only in personnel but structure of the executive branch in his new term.

He outlined his reform plans in considerable detail, two days before the election, in an interview with Garnett D. Horner, White House correspondent for the Washington Star-News, published today.

He said he had seen speculation that after reelection, since he cannot succeed himself, "I will now be free to advocate some massive new social programs."

CAA sets meet

TWIN FALLS — The Community Action Agency board of directors will meet tonight to agree on what they hope will be their final work program of the year.

But the directors will also discuss the explosive issue of whether the majority of agency staff personnel should be fired as has been dictated by regional poverty officials.

The most recently revised work program, coming in the middle of the program year, runs over 100 pages in length, including supporting data.

It sets forth goals in the areas of low income participation for researching low income housing needs, senior citizens programs, affirmative action plans, insuring that agency vendors are all in compliance with equal employment opportunity laws, and an agency administration management system to "promote a better understanding of CAA's programs, goals and functions among board, staff, and community members."

In effect, the agency has been operating without an acceptable work program since the beginning of the fiscal year on July 1. The first program was rejected by regional Office of Economic Opportunity officials this summer, and a second plan, submitted on Sept. 30 after a 90-day period, was also rejected.

Food price rise slowdown seen

WASHINGTON (UPI) — Food price increases probably will slow down in the fourth quarter of this year, and gains in the first half of 1973 may be smaller than those posted in the first half of this year, Agriculture Department economists said today.

Government economists said the proportion of national take-home pay spent for food in 1972 may be down slightly to a new record low, but the change may be too small to be noticed by the average family.

A department "food situation" report said some fourth quarter leveling off in food price rises now appears likely following a jump of nearly 1.5 per cent in the third quarter, although the price index may rise on a seasonally-adjusted basis. Heavier meat supplies, especially pork, will be weighing down on prices through December, the report said.

"Looking ahead to the first half of 1973, the food price index may show less year-to-year increase than in the first half of 1972. Most of the rise will come from livestock-related foods, although crop-related food prices will also be higher," the report added.

For 1972 as a whole, economists added the food price index will be up more than 4 per cent—a greater increase than last year, but smaller than the gains of 1969 and 1970.

Despite this year's higher prices, experts said the proportion of national after-tax income spent on food may drop from the record-low 1971 average of 15.8 per cent to another new low between 15.6 and 15.7 per cent. This is because overall "disposable" income is rising faster than food spending.

Economists cautioned the under-10 per cent estimates do not represent what an "average" or "typical" family spends on food because the figure is constructed by comparing total national food spending with the income of all Americans, rich and poor alike.

One expert said, that while no precise figures are kept, many economists believe a middle-income family with $10,000 to $12,000 left after taxes probably currently spends about 19 to 20 per cent of its income for food.

A decline from last year's overall national figure of 15.8 per cent to 15.6-15.7 per cent for 1972 might be too small to have any noticeable impact on the percentage of income spent for food by an "average" family, the specialist added.

The new food report also noted that total food spending was up to an annual rate of $125.3 billion in the third quarter, up 7 per cent from a year ago because of a combination of higher prices, food.

population increases and in-cresed services packaged with food.

Seek magistrate

MOUNTAIN HOME (UPI) — Fourth District Court is looking for a lay magistrate in Elmore County, according to administrator Warren Gilmore, Boise.

Gilmore said the appointment will be made for a two-year term beginning next Jan. 8. He said applicants must have a high school diploma or a high school equivalency certificate.

Applications are being accepted through Nov. 30 and Gilmore said they may be obtained at the administrator's office in the Ada County Courthouse.

He said Robert Rowell has been reappointed lawyer magistrate for Elmore County.

Gem GOP revives after victories

By RICHARD CHARNOCK

BOISE (UPI) — Republicans rebounded from their statehouse debacle of two years ago Wednesday and took new interest in the two-party system after a smashing victory at the polls in Idaho.

Not only did they give President Nixon the state's four electoral votes with a landslide of bipartisan support, they won three seats in congress and took overwhelming control of the legislature.

At the same time, interest generated in the campaign produced a record vote of more than 300,000, eclipsing the 300,450 ballots cast in 1960.

"There never has been a better opportunity for two-party strength in Idaho," Larry Jackson, executive secretary of the GOP state central committee, said. "The party now will be effective in producing votes."

His election was a far cry from Republican spirits in November, 1970, when Cecil D. Andrus became the first Democrat to win the governorship in a quarter-century. GOP fortunes ebbed so low after that the party could not raise enough money to pay its telephone bill.

Andrus acknowledged the licking the Democrats took at the polls Tuesday, including a tremendous legislative loss that gave the GOP a 52-18 margin in the House and a 23-13 grip on the Senate.

But he refused to view the defeat as a dire portent of things to come.

"I don't think this has created a situation for us that puts us behind the eight-ball," Andrus said. "We still have the major position we won two years ago."

He promised to work for the Republican-controlled legislature for the betterment of Idaho, but he took note of a mandate from the people for improved government without tax increases.

Nixon beat Sen. George McGovern better than 2-1 in Idaho, taking the state by 65 per cent. Rep. John Schmitz, the American Party candidate, came in third with about nine per cent. Nixon won every county.

Rep. James A. McClure, the Payette Republican who gave up a "sure" bet for a fourth term in Congress from the First District to run for the Senate, pulled out the big one.

He beat Democrat William E. (Bud) Davis, Pocatello, president of Idaho State University, more than 20,000 votes to take the Senate seat being vacated by retirement of Republican Len B. Jordan. Jean Stoddard, Salmon, the American Party candidate, received some 6,000 votes in all.

McClure fashioned his victory in the traditional Democratic bailiwick of northern Idaho, two staunch Republican areas of southern Idaho and the farming areas of Davis' eastern Idaho back yard.

Davis' supporters attributed the McClure victory in part to controversy over the lettuce-potato boycott talk. Davis' life entry into the campaign and the strong Republican trend.

McClure won 33 of the state's 44 counties. Steven D. Symms, 34, Marsing apple grower, trounced Democrat Ed Williams to win McClure's old seat in the First Congressional district. He won 14 of the 19 counties — including some in the north — and whacked his Meridian opponent hard in GOP territory.

Rep. Orval Hansen, Idaho Falls, easily won a third term in Congress from the Second District — capturing 70 per cent of the total vote in his race. Democrat Willis Laddow, Pocatello, and American Party's John Thibert, Twin Falls, never were in the ball game.

Jaycees set fall meeting Friday

TWIN FALLS — Some 400 persons are expected in Twin Falls this weekend for the mid-year convention of the Idaho Jaycees.

All sessions will be held in the Holiday Inn. Principal items of business will include discussion of the Prisoner of War-Missing in Action project sponsored by the Jaycees and the Keep Idaho

Green activities.

Open house at the recycling plant operated by the Twin Falls Jaycees is scheduled during "free time" during the Saturday schedule, according to Tom Lane, member of the host arrangement committee.

Activities begin with Jaycee and Jay-Cette executive committee meetings Friday at 7 p.m. followed by a mixer at 8 p.m. at the Holiday Inn and a dance at 9 p.m. in the American Legion hall.

A "no-host" breakfast is scheduled at 7:30 a.m. Saturday followed by general membership meetings for both groups. Several national Jaycee officers are expected to attend and participate in the Jaycee forums, Lane said.

Writer Sheehan sets CSI talk

TWIN FALLS — Neil Sheehan, journalist involved with the publishing of the Pentagon Papers, will speak Monday at 8 p.m. at CSI Fine Arts Auditorium.

Sheehan, a New York Times reporter, became involved with the sensational series when the Times began publishing articles based on the papers in June, 1971.

The Times was restrained by the Justice Department from publication of the series with the justification that the papers were harmful to the defense interests and national security of the United States.

A U.S. Supreme Court decision freed the newspaper to continue publication.

Sheehan obtained the papers for the Times and played a major role in the investigative reporting and preparation of the newspaper's articles.

He is now based in the Washington bureau of the Times and specializes in political, diplomatic and military affairs coverage.

Shoshone chapter prepares for visit

SHOSHONE — Lincoln Chapter 42, Order of Eastern Star, Tuesday night made final preparations for the official visit of the worthy grand matron, Mrs. Glenadine Keister, Nov. 15.

There will be a luncheon at 1 p.m. by the Past Matrons Club in honor of Mrs. Keister. A school of instructions will follow at 2 p.m. at the Masonic Temple. All officers are asked to attend. Mrs. Elmer I. Terry, worthy matron of the Shoshone chapter, said.

A banquet will be held at 6 p.m. at the Manhattan Cafe, preceding the special meeting, and a salad bar is planned after the chapter meeting.

The altar was draped at Tuesday's meeting, in memory of Fred Miller, past grand patron of the Grand Chapter of Idaho, O.E.S. This history was read by secretary, Mrs. Charles Pendleton.

Mrs. George Kenaston, ESTAR, chairman of district 6 was welcomed.

Invitations for friendship night were read from Marie chapter for Dec. 4 and Filer chapter for Nov. 29.

New silverware has been purchased for the lodge kitchen, it was reported.

Members of the serving committee for the evening were Mrs. Dorothy Clayton, Mrs. Frank Finlayson, Mrs. Ray Clayton and Mrs. John Thomas.

Board member introduced

TWIN FALLS — Mary Alice Florence was introduced as a new Twin Falls Public Library Board member during a trustees meeting Tuesday afternoon at the library.

Mrs. Florence replaces Betty McRoberts who resigned last month.

Mrs. James Kinney discussed the fall library workshop at the Rogerson Hotel. She said braille, talking books and tapes are available to Idaho blind and handicapped users through the contract between the Idaho State Library and the Utah State Library.

Lions hear Rostron

TWIN FALLS — Growth of Twin Falls was discussed for the Lions Club Wednesday by Ray Rostron, chamber of commerce manager.

Speaking at a luncheon at the Rogerson Roundup Room, Rostron said in reply to a point raised by a member of the audience that the Kellwood Co. brought only eight families into the area, with other employees coming from Twin Falls and the Magic Valley.

The Hang-Up

Every once in awhile, in one of its slower moments, the United Nations gets around to discussing colonialism. This is unfortunate, because the world organization sounds more asinine every time it talks about the subject.

Colonialism in the UN is a one-sided street. It sees every possession, every territory, every political attachment, of a western power as a horrible example of imperialism at its worst.

But it blithely ignores the largest and most repressive colonial power on earth today — the Soviet Union. When Goa was a Portuguese possession (a political status, incidentally, which went back some 500 years), hardly a month passed that some agency of the UN was not condemning Portugal for mistreatment of the tiny territory. Then came the vicious Indian attack on Goa, which ended in total assimilation into India and the obliteration of the territory as a political identity.

This action the UN did not condemn, nor has any significant reference been made to Goa in the world organization since it disappeared behind Indian "liberation" a decade ago.

Not that the UN has forgotten its double standard on colonialism. A constant enemy of free peoples, according to UN definition, is the United States! It is worried no end about United States repression of Puerto Rico, which is periodically brought to the fore in the UN by Cuba!

Because of the caliber of members which have recently been admitted to the UN, no one should be surprised if the UN not only voted the U. S. out of Puerto Rico, but voted India in as administrator and benevolent protector if Castro declines the post.

Consolation

A losing candidate, after the election, has to pinch himself to ascertain that he's still alive and residing in the same world. It's hard for him to get accustomed to a telephone that has ceased ringing. Or to the fact that reporters do not want to see him.

But most exasperating of all in many cases is the obduracy of bill collectors who refuse to join the ranks of all the others but seem to think they can get blood out of a turnip.

But a losing candidate can always console himself with the delusion that he overestimated the intelligence of the voters.

MR. SPECTATOR

The Grand Old Man

Looking at this picture you would probably think he's the guy who runs the store around the corner from where you live — or that elder lawyer in the downtown office building — or the retired businessman now delving into city affairs.

Well, you would be wrong on all counts because the picture is of King Gustaf VI Adolf of Sweden. He will celebrate his 90th birthday come this Saturday and there will be observance ceremonies of all types in Sweden.

King Gustaf became ruler of his country at the death of his father, Gustaf V in 1950. As such he is first citizen of the realm, head of state and is a leader with a strong sense of duty. The full day of observances starts this Saturday with a morning religious service in the Royal Chapel in Stockholm and will run throughout the day with various programs, ending that evening when a gala performance is given at the Royal Opera House.

Why does Mr. Spectator tell you this about King Gustaf? Well, we thought you might like a change of pace after the elections and what have you. OK?

The Irony Of Political Claims

WASHINGTON — It was ironic, not to say disgraceful, to hear both Presidential candidates claiming credit for the 5.4 billion-a-year Social Security bill, which boosts benefits for 3.8 million widows and some six million other aged, blind and disabled persons.

Neither President Nixon nor George McGovern mentioned that the bill also will rob most low- and middle-income Americans blind — and unnecessarily so.

The new law, or heist, will increase payroll taxes on employers and employees from the present $168 each now pays to $231.80 each in 1973, and then boost the take again, from 1974 through 1977, to $262. These figures are based on an increase of the present taxable base of $9,000 a year in earnings to $10,000 in 1973 and $12,000 during the 1974-77 period.

Working stiffies who are not millionaires should arise and plead in one voice that Uncle Sam stop doing them such favors. Low-income workers, for whom any tax is a crushing burden, are hit especially hard by Washington's beneficence.

The employee with two or more dependents who earns the minimum of $3,000 a year — pays no income tax, but he is now paying $176 in payroll taxes and will pay $192 in 1973. This is social legislation?

And, of course, the middle-income worker gets his usual kick in the teeth. Combined Social Security and individual income taxes for a family of four earning $10,000 a year will amount in 1973 to 19.9 per cent in income. In 1963, the same family paid 16.9 per cent of its income in taxes. For middle-income families, payroll tax increases have more than offset the much trumpeted reductions in personal income taxes of 1964, 1969 and 1971. Our reigning clowns have not forgotten how to give with one hand while taking away with the other.

Moreover, despite all the famous talk on both sides of the aisle about soaking the rich, those in the high-income brackets continue to do well. The coiling on wages subject to payroll taxes is insurance that all earnings over the ceilings — $9,000 today, $10,800 in 1973 and $12,000 from 1974 to 1977 escape the payroll tax altogether. Thus, the combined employer-employee payroll tax rate on a worker earning $9,000 or less per year in 1972 is 10.4 per cent. For the person earning $50,000 the rate is only 1.9 per cent.

It is true, of course, that the employer also will be paying a much bigger payroll tax in the years to come. But most of the burden, if not all of it, falls on the worker because the employer's tax by law is properly considered part of the cost of doing business. And whenever the cost of doing business goes up, so do prices.

What should bug us all — is the gratuitous aspect of the new Social Security tax setup. Increased payroll taxes are just not needed — to keep the retirement fund solvent.

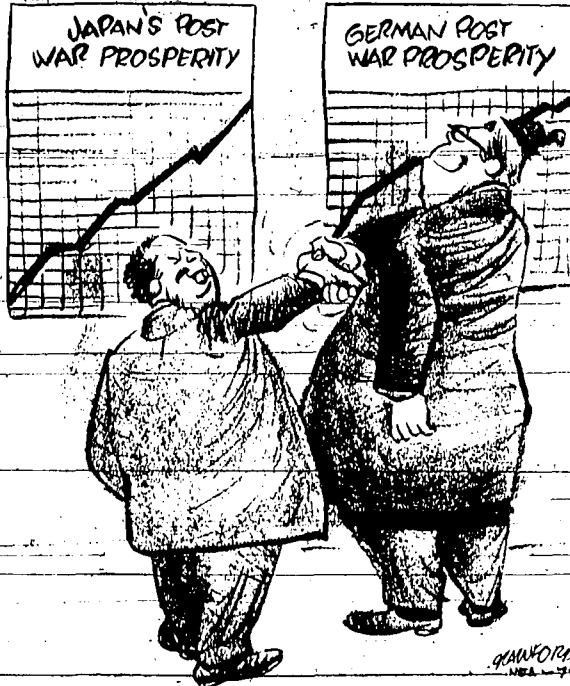

Between 1965 and 1971, payroll taxes collected exceeded payments to beneficiaries by a whopping 13 billion clams. It should come as no surprise to the public that the Federal government has gleefully used these surpluses to finance other programs, including pay raises for members of Congress and "foreign aid" limousines for illiterate dictators.

There are, of course, new benefits in the new law for widows et al at an added cost of $5.4 billion a year. But with the working force increasing every year, even during periods of recession, it would seem as sure as death, taxes, and deodorant commercials that there will always be many millions more workers paying Social Security taxes than beneficiaries. At any rate, our ruling masters might have considered using up Social Security surpluses before raising the payroll levies.

But, no. Why should they be seized with any such rational thoughts? The American public has become a lumpy flock of spiritless sheep it will stand for anything except confiscation of its TV sets. Among other faults, we are not, alas, a people addicted to reading the fine print.

"As One Loser to Another, Congratulations!"

Pulling Hair

Dear Dr. Thosteson: What could cause a child of 9 to pull hair out of her head in bunches until she is completely bald? This started after a death in the family (grandmother).

Could this be handled by punishing the girl, which is happening, or should help be some other way? What could be the reasons? — E.F.

This is an emotional reaction, and it would appear that the death of the grandmother was the shock that started it.

It may not be loss of the grandmother that is the sole motive. The child may really fear that the loss of someone closer — a parent — may be coming next.

So, of course, punishment is not the way to help her stop the hair-pulling habit. It only makes the little girl's problems that much more difficult for her.

Some hyperactive youngsters also resort to this hair-pulling. Can it be that this child is, to some degree, hyperactive? If so, that means she requires even more help.

If the parents of the girl will talk to their family doctor, maybe with some cooperation they can find out what is motivating her. It's worth a try. If it doesn't help, a child psychologist or psychiatrist ought to be consulted.

She isn't pulling her hair out because of wickedness or meanness. She does it because something is bothering and worrying her.

Dear Dr. Thosteson: Do you have any booklets on bladder infection, burning of the bladder, etc? I have had these attacks off and on for years but lately every month or two.

What can I do to prevent them? Is it brought on by diet? I've had antibiotics from the doctor, and have been advised to take lemon juice, also soda water. — Mrs. E. R.

Yes, a booklet, "Your Kidneys: Facts You Need to Know."

Dear Dr. Thosteson: Please explain what "Gram-negative" is. What does it come from? How is it treated? Does it cause any permanent incapacitation? Is it a diet deficiency? — J.H.R.

Been peeking at a lab report, haven't you? Gram-negative is a technical term meaning that certain bacteria and white blood cells do not retain a stain used when examining them under the microscope, in a technique called "Gram's method of staining."

It can give the doctor some guidance as to what types of organism he is dealing with, but whether a germ is Gram positive or Gram negative has nothing to do with diet.

Those Last Days

TULSA, Okla. — Iron self-control successfully imposed by Richard M. Nixon in the last stage of his final campaign for public office stripped the Vietnam amnesty issue from his basic speech for last weekend's six-state swing

In private strategy sessions at the White House earlier last week, President Nixon told aides he was winning over many Democratic voters because of Sen. George McGovern's supporting amnesty for draft dodgers. Naturally enough, his aides expected amnesty to be featured in the President's eleventh-hour campaigning. In fact, there was no mention of amnesty to enthusiastic airport rallies in Chicago and Tulsa.

The reason is Mr. Nixon's amazing success mastering his natural inclinations for political brawling with hard-line accusations on emotional issues such as amnesty. Stressing his positive diplomatic accomplishments, the restrained Nixon last weekend was a wholly unabrasive Nixon.

Thus collapsed the last frail foundation of McGovern's ruined victory plan. McGovern strategists envisioned a nervous Nixon raving from the White House in late October to rasp bitter denunciations of McGovern amid ear-splitting Republican rallies, thereby driving Democratic defectors back to McGovern. Considering Mr. Nixon's sorry record of late campaigning (particularly in 1970), this was not entirely wishful thinking.

The President's own political lieutenants had the same nightmare. Accordingly, months ago — long before McGovern's nomination — broad plans were drafted for

Mr. Nixon to stay in the White House all year and campaign hardly at all. What astonished

On Evolution

Evolution, inevitably, is accelerating.

It has been just 20-some months since a black youngster saw a black person on a TV soap commercial and ran breathless to the kitchen to announce, "Mommy, hurry, we're on TV." Just 20-some months ago.

And where blacks were conspicuous in their early TV appearances in commercials and newscasts, in choruses and choruses — they were now

Now the chairman of the FCC says the ice is broken, the barriers are down, it's time to replace the quota system with the merit system.

Equally as fascinating to an anthropologist is the emergence of women from subservience to prominence.

Ladies, the Labor Department's Manpower Administration is watching you, right now conducting the largest survey ever undertaken of workingwomen, involving in-depth interviews with 10,000 of you.

It will be most of a year before this report is complete, but I can give you an interim report now.

Women workers are moving up and into high-pay positions of authority — heretofore reserved for men. Not just a token few.

Females now hold 18 per cent of all managerial jobs. No, that's not "equality." But it's 18 per cent better than nothing. And nothing was your share of executive jobs just 10 years ago.

even the White House inner circle was that the President followed the plan to the letter.

And the new federal regulations — giving workingwomen antidiscrimination protection just became effective during this past year.

Recruiters on college campuses are now seeking women graduates for prestigious jobs.

No, you don't yet get equal pay for equal work, but business and industry have increased starting salaries for women by as much as $2,000 just in this past year.

The opportunities for women have outdistanced their logistics. There are many more technical job openings than there are women to fill them.

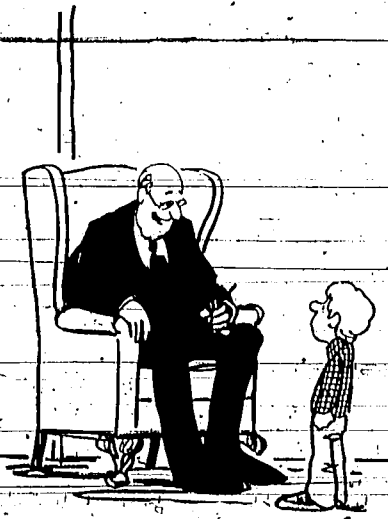

Yesterday's women trained to be nurses are now prepared to be doctors.

Yesterday's coed enrolled in education, social science; she is not qualified in technical fields. But back down there at the undergraduate level other women are presently enrolling in professional and technical courses.

Just at the right time, when men workers were becoming increasingly complacent, spoiled, lazy; they've been shaken awake. At the Detroit GM headquarters suddenly 1,600 management, technical or professional positions are filled most adequately by women.

It took some retraining for all of us to accept black faces on TV. It will be impossible for some men willing to say "Yes, sir" to learn to say "Yes, ma'am," but it's they who will get left behind.

BERRY'S WORLD

"Time flies. The next thing you know, YOU'LL be old enough to vote against somebody for president!"

Disenchanted Democrats hint of revolt in wake of defeat

WASHINGTON (UPI) — Disenchanted Democrats whispered or shouted today of a counter-revolution against both the movement which led to a landslide loss in Tuesday's presidential election and the McGovernist drive to overhaul the national party.

They did not talk of reversing the irreversible reform campaign set in motion by the disorder of the 1968 convention and the left-wing triumph at the 1972 convention.

But they did speak of taking a new look at the reforms, of moving the party back toward the middle-of-the-road and of displacing Mrs. Jean Westwood, presidential nominee George S. McGovern's choice for the national party chairmanship.

This talk coincided with a warning from an old pro, Lawrence F. O'Brien, that the party must avoid "rancor, blood-letting and Monday morning quarterbacking" arising from President Nixon's crushing defeat of McGovern.

"We mustn't fall into that trap," said O'Brien, twice national chairman before he was named McGovern's campaign chairman. O'Brien served as a bridge to party regulars alienated by McGovern's push for the nomination.

Among the first to call for the replacement of Mrs. Westwood were Sen. Lloyd Bentsen of Texas and Govs. David Hall of Oklahoma and Wendell H. Ford of Kentucky.

Without naming anyone, Gov. Marvin Mandel of Maryland said some party leaders should be thinking about stepping down.

Joseph E. Crangle, New York state chairman who would be available to head the national party, refused to speculate about the possibility of unseating Mrs. Westwood but said, "We don't have to reform, we have to revive."

Minnesota State Chairman Richard Moe said the Democrats must avoid recriminations and could regain the White House in four years "with a lot of effort and cooperation."

Oklahoma Hall said he already had talked with a number of governors and senators and felt sure that "there will be a move to bring a centrist in to replace Mrs.

Final Gem totals told

BOISE — President Richard Nixon took 64 per cent of the Idaho vote in his successful reelection bid Tuesday.

Final unofficial vote totals from the News Election Service show Nixon with 197,589 votes, compared to 80,588 for Ben. George McGovern. McGovern's total was 26 per cent of the total vote cast.

American Party candidate Rep. John Schmitz had 28,221 votes, slightly less than 10 per cent of the total, and Peace and Freedom Party candidate Dr. Benjamin Spock tallied 810 votes, less than one per cent.

Rep. James A. McClure, Republican senator-elect, received 161,239 votes, 52 per cent of the total vote cast, compared to Democrat William E. David' 46 per cent, 140,546.

American Party candidate Jean Stoddard tallied 2 per cent of the final vote count with 6,738 votes.

In the second district congressional race, incumbent Rep. Orval Hansen was the biggest winner in the state, getting 72 per cent of the vote, compared to 28 per cent for Democrat Willis Ludlow.

Hansen has 101,396 votes; Ludlow drew 38,952 and American Party candidate John Thibert has 6,121.

Ticket splitting may set record

WASHINGTON (UPI) — The snowballing trend toward ticket-splitting may have set a record this year.

This movement away from the once common straight-ticket voting became noticeable during the late years of the Franklin D. Roosevelt presidency. It was conspicuous this year in national results giving President Nixon 61 per cent of the vote over Democrat George S. McGovern while Democrats retained control of Congress and gained one governorship.

Gov. Calvin J. Rampton of Utah, elected to an unprecedented third four-year term in his state, was the champion Democrat among winners on split tickets. He polled 70 per cent of the Utah vote against 68 per cent for Nixon.

On the Republican side, Sen. Edward W. Brooke ran 20 points ahead of the President with 65 per cent of the vote in Massachusetts, the only state carried by McGovern.

Other notable cases of ticket splitting for Democratic victors:

Arkansas — Gov. Dale Gribble, 76 per cent, and Sen. John L. McClellan 62; Nixon 60.

Alabama — Sen. John J. Sparkman 64; Nixon 76.

Brooke eyes top race

BOSTON (UPI) — The nation's only black U.S. senator is giving "serious thought" to running for the Republican presidential nomination in 1976.

"I don't rule myself out as a possibility" for 1976, Sen. Edward W. Brooke, R-Mass., said Wednesday after winning election to a second term in Congress. "I'm going to give it serious thought."

Brooke, 52, said he did not believe Vice President Spiro T. Agnew had the inside track for the Republican presidential nomination four years from now.

"Very frankly," Brooke said, "I think we ought to have liberal moderate thought in Republican party leadership. In my opinion, Mr. Agnew is not the heir apparent."

Minnesota State Chairman Richard Moe said the Democrats must avoid recriminations and could regain the White House in four years "with a lot of effort and cooperation."

B52s attack Viet convoy

SAIGON, (UPI) —U.S. B52 bombers dumped thousands of tons of bombs on North Vietnamese southbound convoys Wednesday night and early today in a continuation of the most concentrated American aerial attacks of the Vietnam war.

Military sources said the campaign was designed to blunt a last-ditch drive by the North Vietnamese to move men and military equipment into South Vietnam before a cease-fire banning such movement.

The United States also was trying to rush war materiel in before such a deadline. American military transports and chartered civilian jetties conducted their biggest airlift to Indochina in more than four years to strengthen South Vietnam's armed forces.

Military sources said shipment of U.S. planes, tanks and other supplies go on for at least another week.

The three-day-old campaign by B52s was concentrated in Quang Tri province and inside the Demilitarized Zone (DMZ). U.S. command spokesmen said.

Between noon Tuesday and midday today, at least 64 waves of the eight-engine B52s, each with an average three planes, dropped nearly 4,860 tons of bombs in that area. Twenty-three multiplane raids were flown Wednesday night and today.

Thirty F5 Freedom Fighter jets "borrowed" from Iran have already been flown to South Vietnam in giant C6A Galaxy transport planes, the sources said. Another 90 from South Korea and Taiwan will be flown in soon.

Tanks, armored personnel carriers, guns, bombs and ammunition were pouring into Saigon's Tan Son Nhut airport and nearby Bien Hoa airbase, the sources said. It was the largest U.S. airlift since 1960. Marines and paratroopers were rushed to South Vietnam on 48 hours' notice in the 1968 Tet offensive.

Fifty U.S. fighter-bombers from a carrier and bases in Thailand hit North Vietnam Wednesday despite bad weather caused by Typhoon Pamela. B52s also hit the north.

All of the reported raids were below the 20th parallel, 65 miles south of Hanoi, under orders from President Nixon to stay away from the North Vietnamese heartland to show American "good faith" during peace negotiations.

The Saigon high command said battlefield activity dropped to a two-week low between dawn Wednesday and daybreak today, with only 65 "enemy-initiated incidents."

California judge rules lie detector acceptable

TORRANCE, Calif. (UPI) —For the first time, a California judge has accepted a lie detector test as evidence, saying scientific tests have now shown the machines to be so accurate that old rules against them in courtrooms should be changed.

The unprecedented ruling came Wednesday from Superior Court Judge Allen Miller in the case of a man charged with the possession of marijuana.

Miller made his ruling in the case of Raymond Cutler, who was arrested at Los Angeles International Airport and took a lie detector test to prove the evidence was illegally seized. It showed he was truthful and the judge ruled the evidence could not be introduced.

Miller conceded that California appellate court decisions in 1955, 1957 and 1968 held that the findings of a polygraph test were not sufficiently certain, by scientific standards, to be admitted as evidence. Most U.S. courts, local and federal, will not accept lie detector tests as proof that a person is telling the truth or a lie.

But, the judge said, courts are greatly in need of some way to determine when defendants and witnesses are telling the truth, and the lie detector has now reached an acceptable level of accuracy.

The trial verdict may depend on credibility, he said. "Perjury is prevalent and the oath taken by witnesses has little effect to deter false testimony. The principle role of the trier of fact is the search for truth and any reasonable procedure or method to assist the court in this search should be employed."

17 US servicemen die in Vietnam

SAIGON (UPI) —Seventeen American servicemen were reported killed in South Vietnam last week, the highest total in a month and third highest this year, the U.S. command announced today.

Three battle deaths were reported the previous week. Fifteen of the 17 lost their lives in the Oct. 31 crash of a CH-47 Chinook helicopter about 35 miles southwest of Saigon. All 15 soldiers and two American civilians aboard were killed when the helicopter went down in what military sources said was possibly a Communist rocket attack. All aboard were listed as killed in combat.

It was the highest American death toll since the week ending Oct. 7, when 21 U.S. battle fatalities were reported. That week's toll was swelled by the deaths of 19 American sailors aboard the cruiser USS Newport News. A gun turret exploded while the ship was firing on targets just south of the Demilitarized Zone (DMZ). The second highest toll this year was the week ending May 6 when 19 Americans died in battle.

Fighting last week took the lives of 598 South Vietnamese soldiers and 2,391 Communists, military spokesmen said. The South Vietnamese total was 94 higher than the previous week. The Communist death toll was up by 310.

Two other Americans died from nonbattle causes last week, four fewer than the previous week, while four Americans were wounded, 13 less than the week before.

The South Vietnamese command reported 2,540 of its soldiers were wounded and 123 missing last week.

Planes rushed to Viet

SAIGON (UPI) —The U.S. Air Force has completed rush delivery of F5 Freedom Fighter jets "borrowed" from Iran for South Vietnam in an airlift expected to continue another five to seven days, military sources said today.

About 30 of the F5 jet fighter-bombers, the sources said, may have arrived from Iran aboard huge Air Force C5A Galaxy transport planes. The planes can carry up to three F5s with wings removed, sources said.

Altogether, the sources said, from South Korea and Taiwan are expected to "loan" South Vietnam 120 F5s.

The United States is bringing in different types and amounts of war materiel to the South Vietnamese armed forces ahead of any cease-fire because the proposed agreement would limit arms deliveries to replacement of existing equipment.

The airlift also involves smaller U.S. Air Force C141 Starlifter jet transports and chartered civilian air freight jets.

In addition to the F5s, the sources said, South Vietnam received 32 four-engine C130 Hercules prop-jet transport planes, which will more than double the South Vietnamese Air Force's airlift capacity. It currently is operating old U.S. C47 Skymaster, C119 Flying Boxcar, C7 Caribou and C123

Mafia adviser's heart plays out

MIAMI (UPI) —Meyer Lansky, the reputed financial adviser of the American underworld, was reported in satisfactory condition today in the Mount Sinai Medical Center where he is undergoing treatment for "cardiac insufficiency."

A Miami heart specialist said cardiac insufficiency is a "general term for heart failure. At 70 years old, his heart may be playing out," the heart specialist said.

Lansky is free on $250,000 bond plus a signed recognizance note of $400,000 on three charges: contempt of a federal grand jury, skimming proceeds from gambling operations at the Flamingo Hotel in Las Vegas and having his income tax returns falsified. While Lansky rested in the hospital, Doug McMillan, chief of the local Justice Department organized crime strike force, said he felt the high bonds on Lansky "will discourage any disappearances."

But, McMillan said, federal agents were keeping him under very close surveillance.

McMillan said he believed Lansky would be brought to trial within 45 days on the contempt charges, and then would be sent to New York to face charges of having his tax returns falsified.

The contempt charges stem from Lansky's refusal to return from Israel last year to answer questions about illegal gambling operations.

Sailors refuse order

SAN DIEGO (UPI) —A group of 130 disgruntled sailors, mostly blacks who were put ashore after a riot on the carrier USS Constellation, confronted the U.S. Navy today saying they would refuse an order to return to their posts.

The blacks charged racial discrimination by their officers. A Pentagon racial affairs troubleshooter was flying from Washington to take a hand in the week-old personnel crisis aboard the giant carrier.

The 80,000-ton "Connie" has been in and out of port three times since last Saturday due to problems with aircraft and crew. Its combat training exercises, begun last week but delayed by the disruption, have been postponed until after Thanksgiving.

The action of the carrier's skipper, Capt. J. D. Ward, in not taking punitive action against the men's refusal to obey orders but opting instead to remove them from the ship was apparently without precedent in American naval history.

Reorganization backed in valley

TWIN FALLS — Magic Valley voters have shown strong support for reorganization of state executive departments.

Nearly equaling the 60 per cent statewide margin, 50 per cent of valley voters supported SJR 132.

The amendment would consolidate state agencies into no more than 20 departments, not counting elective offices provided in the existing constitution.

The reorganization amendment was one of two approved by voters in every valley county. The other was SJR 63, which would permit non-voting stock, commonly called preferred shares. SJR 63 was approved by 62 per cent of the valley voters.

Other amendments supported valleywide include HJR 73, which permits passage of bond election for revenue bonds for sewer and water projects when only a 50 per cent majority approve the bonds, instead of the current requirement of a two-thirds majority.

Voters in Twin Falls, Blaine, Camas and Minidoka counties approved the change in the revenue bond requirement, while voters in Lincoln, Gooding, Jerome and Cassia counties rejected the proposal. The valley total was 52 per cent in favor.

SJR 124 was approved by six of the eight valley counties with a total valley support of 53 per cent. The amendment would permit the state to issue requirements for school attendance for more than three years now required in the constitution.

Only Lincoln and Cassia counties rejected the school attendance amendment.

Valley voters rejected five amendments — all of which failed on the state level.

Rejected were SJR 110, making the Idaho Land Board appointive, SJR 112 and SJR 113 (two alternative proposals for changing legislator salaries), HJR 35 (permitting state funds for use to transport parochial school children), and HJR 52 (requiring the governor and lieutenant governor to run from the same political party.)

Blames President

JOHNSTOWN, Ohio (UPI) — conservative challenger to Nixon.

Rep. John M. Ashbrook, R-Ohio, blamed President Nixon for the failure of the Republicans to gain control of Congress.

"It's obvious from the election results that it was not a Republican victory," said Ashbrook, who was elected to a ninth term Tuesday. He waged primary campaigns in several states last spring as a policy.

TWIN FALLS — Construction of the new Blue Lakes office of the Idaho First National Bank started today.

The new facility, to be constructed on property on Blue Lakes-Boulevard North across from the Blue Lakes Shopping Center, has been designed by Harold E. Gerber, Twin Falls architect.

He said that although the building has clean lines of the typical-contemporary structure, the brick arches will reflect a style used by builders in the Old West.

The arches enclose an arcade leading from parking areas to either of two entries. The brick selected for the building is a deeply embossed unit with an earth-brown color.

The building will provide complete banking services to commercial and individual customers on the north and west sides of Twin Falls. There will be seven teller locations inside the bank and drive-in facilities will include three more stations for the convenience of motor-bank customers.

Thomas Frye, president of the Idaho First National Bank, said in Twin Falls Wednesday that "care will be taken to preserve several large shade trees located on the building site." These trees, he said, will make a "pleasing contrast to the commercial development of the general area."

The structure, he said, will be completed in the spring of 1973.

'Mysterious' recruitment

SAIGON (UPI)—Mysterious recruitment of civilian "armaments technicians" continues in South Vietnam with no indication of where they will be employed.

UPI reported from New York last week that military advisers in South Vietnam and Cambodia might be replaced by civilians in the event of a Vietnam cease-fire.

A Pentagon spokesman said plans were incomplete but that some civilian advisers under contract to the Defense Department would be used to train South Vietnamese pilots to fly C-130 cargo planes.

Help wanted advertisements have been appearing almost daily — including Wednesday's edition of Saigon's only English language newspaper. Some of the ads listed only a postal box. But the largest number listed the advertiser as the Management Services Division of Lear Siegler Inc. A firm of that name manufactures aircraft and electronics equipment in the United States.

An official of the U.S. Agency for International Development, who supervises USAID contracts, said the recruiting by Lear Siegler is not based on any known existing U.S. government contract. He said he is familiar with both USAID contracts and those awarded by the Military Assistance Command Vietnam (MACV) procurement agency.

However, contracts awarded for Central Intelligence Agency clandestine operations in Southeast Asia are not matters of public record.

The advertisements specify that those hired must be U.S. citizens.

A UPI reporter and a photographer visited the Lear Siegler recruiting office in a modern three-story apartment building near Tan Son Nhut air base.

ALOHA! HAWAIIAN CHICKENS

The chickens themselves didn't come from Hawaii (no fooling) but Mr. Swensen just did, with a nice tan and a couple of extra pounds, we might add. So we thought we would take the chickens that came from Georgia and put 'em together with Mr. Swensen who just came from his trip to Hawaii and have Hawaiian Chicken. Isn't that amazing! And what's even more amazing is the PRICE which will make it possible for you to go to Hawaii with the money you save! Anyway it wouldn't be any fun if we didn't exaggerate a little.

MINNEAPOLIS, Minn. (UPI) — Hubert H. Humphrey III and Vince Lombardi were elected to the Minnesota legislature in Tuesday's election.

The two young lawyers won in Twin Cities suburban districts in their first try for public office.

"Skip" is the son and namesake of the Minnesota senator, who attended his victory celebration. Young Humphrey won a senate seat, defeating Rep. Donald Forseth, a conservative Republican.

Lombardi, son of the late coach of the Green Bay Packers, won a house seat running as a conservative.

Thieu backs secret plan

By United Press International
A Saigon newspaper supported by President Nguyen Van Thieu's top aide said Tuesday the president may drop his insistence that North Vietnamese publicly acknowledge, then withdraw, its forces from South Vietnam in favor of a "secret understanding" with Hanoi to pull out its army.

Whatever the secret understanding, the Communists must put up guarantees so that South Vietnam and the allies can accept it, said Tin Song, the newspaper's editor.

The newspaper quoted a "high government official" as saying: "If North Vietnam wants to protect its honor by refusing to sign a paper (admitting it has troops in South Vietnam) it should at least spill it out in such a way that we can believe them before we agree that they can secretly withdraw."

North Vietnam has never publicly admitted it has troops in the south, but insists all fighting is done by the Viet Cong.

Thieu has refused to agree to a Vietnam cease-fire unless the North Vietnamese troops are withdrawn.

The newspaper said, however, that Thieu continues to insist on three major demands before any peace settlement—North Vietnamese withdrawal, a cease-fire throughout all Indochina and no coalition government.

North Vietnam said Tuesday that President Nixon's public requests for changes in the draft-Vietnam peace treaty are "unreasonable and unrealistic."

Both South Vietnam and the United States have already indicated they want language of the proposed pact changed.

Hanoi and the Viet Cong indicated that unless the agreement is signed as written, they may revert to their pre-Oct. 8 demands for Thieu's removal as a condition for an armistice.

Dropping the demand for Thieu's removal and ending Communist insistence on a coalition government for South Vietnam made possible the drafting of the Oct. 8 agreement, according to presidential adviser Henry A. Kissinger.

GEORGE MCGOVERN'S... consolation

McGovern feels he brought US nearer peace

SIoux FALLS, S.D. (UPI) — His presidential aspirations crashed, George McGovern found consolation in the belief that his effort brought the United States closer to peace.

McGovern conceded the election Tuesday night in the town where he announced his presidential bid 22 months earlier. His face showed a little strain under the television lights. His wife, Eleanor, was near tears, and their youngest daughter, Mary, dabbed at her eyes with a handkerchief during the nine-minute speech.

"There can be no question at all that we have pushed this country in the direction of peace, and I think each one of us loves the title of peacemaker more than any office in the land," McGovern said. "We will press on with that effort until all the bloodshed and all the sorrow have ended once and for all."

Earlier Tuesday, McGovern said that he would never run for president again and emphasized that "I really mean it."

He said he would run again for the Senate when his term expires in 1974.

McGovern planned to return to Washington about noon today and to fly Thursday to the Virgin Islands for a vacation of a week to 10 days.

The South Dakota senator and his family listened to the returns at their Sioux Falls motel. It became obvious Nixon was the winner when Illinois with its 26 electoral votes slid into the President's column. McGovern then drove in near freezing temperatures to make his concession at the Sioux Falls coliseum before about 2,500 supporters, most of them young people.

He read the telegram he had sent to Nixon congratulating the President on his victory.

"I hope that in the next four years you will lead us to a time of peace abroad and justice at home," McGovern said. "You have my full support in such efforts."

He urged his supporters to form a "loyal opposition" during the next four years but warned that "we do not rally to the support of policies that we deplore."

"But we do love this country and we will continue to beckon it to a higher standard," McGovern said.

Congratulations

MOSCOW (UPI) — The Soviet union Wednesday congratulated President Nixon on his reelection and said it hoped Soviet-American relations would further improve in the coming months.

The Tass news agency said Moscow's best wishes to Nixon were sent in a telegram from President Nikolai V. Podgorny.

Demos survey wreckage of worst presidential defeat in history

WASHINGTON (UPI) — Democrats surveyed the wreckage of their worst presidential election defeat in history today and wondered who could repair it and how.

The depth of the defeat is still to be measured, but it certainly will create tensions lasting for weeks, months or possibly years.

Skilled craftsmen will be needed for the rebuilding and to ease the tensions which ripped the national party structure. But their job may be easier than that which faced the Republicans after their landslide defeat in the 1964 presidential election which carried deep into local offices, Congress and the state legislatures.

Despite the dimensions of Nixon's victory, the Democrats retained control of Congress and a majority of the governorships, although Republican governors remain in office in half or more of the 10 most populous states. Nixon may have won a great personal victory, but he could not lead his party to majority status.

How the Democrats try to restore unity will depend much on their presidential nominee, Sen. George S. McGovern. If he persists in offending dominant Democrats in the South, the big cities and major segments of the labor movement, peace in the party may be far away.

Civil war inside the GOP after Thomas E. Dewey's unexpected loss in 1948 and Barry M. Goldwater's disaster in 1964 led to the replacement of their national party chairman. Democratic cries for the ouster of Mrs. Jean Westwood, McGovern's party chairman, are predictable results of McGovern's defeat.

Fourth in 10 years

ALBANY, N.Y. (UPI) — President Nixon won traditionally Democratic New York State Tuesday, becoming only the fourth Republican presidential candidate to do so in the past 40 years.

Nixon's popularity was so vast that he came close to carrying New York—City—something no GOP presidential candidate has done since Calvin Coolidge in 1924. After trailing most of the night in New York City, Democrat George S. McGovern pulled ahead by about 80,000 votes early Wednesday.

With 84 per cent of the vote counted, Nixon had 58 per cent of the vote—almost a million vote lead over his Democratic rival.

Nixon alone in biggest victory

WASHINGTON (UPI) — It was perhaps characteristic that when the greatest victory of his political career was unfolding, Richard M. Nixon was alone with a yellow legal pad jotting down his thoughts.

As state by state fell into his column, an aide, H.R. Halde-man, telephoned him the news. Occasionally he would leave his chair in the Lincoln Sitting Room to chat with his family clustered around a television set next door, but the only time he joined them in watching was when George S. McGovern appeared on the screen in concede defeat.

This passion for planning ahead has characterized his four years in office and is one of the chief reasons for his unprecedented victory.

He is a man with a remarkable sense of the ebb and flow of public sentiment and the overwhelming impression is that he carefully orchestrated events over the past four years as only an incumbent can to bring his popularity to a peak now.

He swallowed hard, for instance, and ordered wage and price controls in the summer of 1971 to correct serious dislocations in the economy. And he flew in the face of widespread

Analysis

The decision was made to run the President as the incumbent, above the partisan battle. And the man who has spent only about half his nights in the White House since taking office suddenly found himself too tied down in Washington to do much campaigning.

Instead, dozens of "surrogates"—cabinet officers, members of the First Family and selected members of Congress—fanned across the country. Their attacks on McGovern kept the Democrat on the defensive throughout the campaign, an unhappy position for a challenger who normally spends his time criticizing the record of the incumbent.

Shriver salutes George

WASHINGTON (UPI)—Sargent Shriver said early Wednesday that, although he and George McGovern were soundly beaten by President Nixon and Spiro T. Agnew, the Democratic ticket successfully advanced "the noblest call of all—the call of peace."

Appearing before a crowd of cheering and occasionally sobbing supporters shortly after midnight, the Democratic vice presidential candidate said he and McGovern had successfully carried the "banner of truth" in their campaign.

Declaring he was "proud" to have been McGovern's running mate, Shriver said, "He has advanced the noblest cause of all—the cause of peace. And tonight, therefore, I salute the courage and the record and the performance of George McGovern."

Shriver appeared at what had been planned as a Democratic Party victory rally in the ballroom of a downtown Washington hotel. There were scattered boos when he announced he had sent a telegram to President Nixon offering "sincere congratulations" on his victory.

"I pray that your term of office will be fruitful and peaceful and prosperous for the good of America and all mankind," Shriver wired Nixon.

Later at a news conference, Shriver said he felt the ticket would have done better "if we would have had about 20 million more dollars." With their limited funds, he said, he and McGovern had a tough time getting across their message on peace, inflation and unemployment.

Asked if he would seek elected office again, Shriver said he would "if the proper opportunity arose." But he declined to say which office he might seek or when.

Earlier in the afternoon, the Shriver team occupied itself at the candidate's suburban estate with two of the Kennedy family's favorite pastimes: politics and touch football.

Jerome annexes 40 acres in continued growth

By CHARLOTTE REIL

Times-News writer
JEROME — The city of Jerome continues to grow with the annexation of 40 acres of land southwest of Jerome.

The Jerome City Council Tuesday night adopted two ordinances which rezone and annex 40 acres of land that includes the site of the Moore Business Forms building, the Ed Hietzman property, the Jerome Cemetery and part of the LDS Church farm.

Also adding to the growth of Jerome was approval by the council of 20 building permits for new homes in the Hillcrest subdivision. The homes are valued at approximately $14,000.

The council heard a report from the Jerome Zoning Commission which met Monday night and set a public hearing for 7 p.m. Nov. 17 on the request for annexation of two and one-half acres of land. A. W. Handy owns two acres of the land and the rest is owned by F. M. Johnson. The land is located on the south side of East Avenue I.

The first reading was given an ordinance which will annex 0.6 acres of land north of Jerome between 10th Street and the Hillcrest subdivision.

Kenneth Hessler, who was cited for speeding on North Lincoln in Jerome, complained to the council that he felt the crackdown by the Jerome Police Department on motorists was impractical at this time, because of the non-uniform placement of speed limit signs within the city of Jerome.

He said the placement of speed limit signs on North Lincoln is nothing more than a speed trap by the police department.

Jerome police chief Howard DuBois told Hessler his department was aware of the differences in speed limits coming into Jerome and they were presently trying to make some changes, but they have no control over the placement of signs on the state highways leading into and out of Jerome.

He also said he has asked the city to paint the speed limits on the street so motorists could not possibly miss seeing them.

Gale Hendrick, representing the Jerome LDS Church, thanked the council for its work and consideration in the annexation of four acres of land southwest of Jerome which is the site of the new $600,000 LDS Church.

The council approved the transfer of the garbage hauling contract for Jerome from the Elden Corp. to the BML Co. The approval was subject to final approval by the council and city attorney of the transfer papers.

The council also heard a report from Eric Barnes and Ray Mickelson, both Twin Falls, who are with the South Idaho Resource Planning and Development Association. Barnes told the council the organization had received $3,000 in grant money which has been designated as part of the request made by both Twin Falls and Jerome County. The council had earlier requested financial assistance in developing a comprehensive study on the sewer and water needs for Jerome.

Councilmen agree to a recommendation by Mickelson that no further steps in the matter would be taken until a report by the FTA on sewer and water services in the state is complete.

The council agreed to let St. Benedict's Hospital use one of the wave frequencies on the fire department's pte-tone unit to contact hospital personnel who are on standby for emergencies.

What do doctors recommend for patients in pain?

Doctors all over the country dispense over 50,000,000 of these tablets to their patients each year.

There are many medications a physician or dentist can prescribe for pain. Some are available only on prescription. But there is one pain reliever, available without prescription, doctors dispense again and again... Anacin.

Each year, doctors give over 50,000,000 Anacin tablets to their patients in pain. If doctors think enough about Anacin to dispense all these tablets, what better recommendation can you ask when you are in pain?

Doctors recommend most than any other leading tablet.

Headache and dental pain is relieved incredibly fast—minor pains of arthritis are dependably eased for hours; even the aches and pains of colds and flu respond to Anacin. So the tension and depression that can be caused by such pain will be relieved too. And millions take Anacin without stomach upset. When you're in pain, why don't you follow the practice of so many doctors and take the tablet a doctor might give you in his own office. Take Anacin.

Army's new plan

TWIN FALLS — The Army announced a new plan to guarantee those joining the modern volunteer Army that what they want is what they get.

Referred to in the auto industry as a "buyer protection plan," it is a contract guarantee signed by the Army assuring the recruit if he doesn't get what he signed for he can contact the Pentagon to get action, he said.

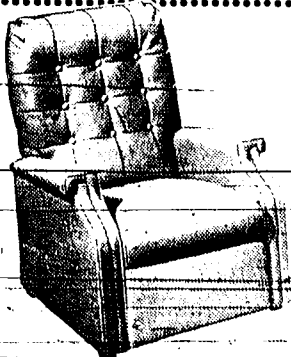

When men and women join the Army, they co-sign a wallet size contract card that guarantees the enlistment, option promised by the recruiter. On the back is the address of the office of the Army's Chief of Personal Operations at the Pentagon.

The recruit is instructed by his local Army recruiter that following basic training if there is some foul-up on his assignment that can't seem to be resolved by his commander or post personnel officer, he writes or wires the Pentagon.

"Today's Army is offering so many things that a lot of young people and parents don't believe what we promise," said SFC Joy. "We want to assure our prospects that what we say is what they get. If we promise they can live and work in Europe or Hawaii, it's our job to see that promise is kept."

Concert season to open in TF

TWIN FALLS — The Magic Valley Symphony Orchestra, under the baton of Del Slaughter, will open its 14th season with a pops concert. The concert is set for Nov. 21 at 8 p.m. at the College of Southern Idaho Fine Arts Center.

Guest performer will be Warren Burton, associate professor of music at Utah State University, Logan, who is currently working on his doctorate at the University of Oregon.

Although he is a very fine cellist, his contribution to the program will be done with a violin. It starts as a serious concert performance and ends in unexpected musical hilarity. He has done well over 100 of these performances in the past few years, appearing at many school programs for civic and church groups and conventions.

At the music conventions his own peers have consistently accorded him standing ovations.

For his undergraduate work,

Burton attended the University of Utah and Utah State University. He has done graduate work at Northwestern University and received his M.A. degree from Utah State University. He is chairman of the elementary music education program and also cello instructor at Utah State University.

He does extensive clinic work for school districts and state music conventions in both elementary music and general music, as well as some orchestra clinics.

He is married and has eight children. The five oldest play cello, violin, viola, flute and piano. The family has done many programs together for clubs and civic groups.

Burton has played with many orchestras, most notably the Tanglewood Symphony, with Leonard Bernstein as conductor. He has been principal cellist with the Salt Lake Chamber Society Orchestra and the Utah State University Symphony Orchestra.

He has done a number of chamber music festivals in string trios, quartets and quintets. At Utah State he has the largest class on campus with an average of almost 400 members each quarter.

This is a very popular introduction to music, which is not required, but seems to attract many students. Twice in recent years he has been runner up for professor of the year.

Selections by the orchestra will include suite: "English Folk Song 1: 'Seventeen Come Sunday'; 2: 'My Bonny Boy'; 3: 'Folk Songs from Somerset' by R. Vaughan Williams, arranged for orchestra by Gordon Jacob; "Carnegie" (selection for orchestra) by Lerner and Loewe; "Boston Pops March" by Ernest Gold. "Gypsy Legend"—violin solo with orchestra — by Mantovani; "Pops" Hoe-Down by Richard Hayman; "The Sleeping Princess"—Valse from the Ballet by Tchaikowsky; "Slaughter on Tenth Avenue" from "On Your Toes" by Richard Rodgers, arranged for orchestra by Jack Mason.

WARREN BURTON

"The Sound of Music" selection for orchestra by Rodgers and Hammerstein, arranged by Robert Russell Bennett; "Pandango" by Frank Perkins, and "Strings on Fire," composed and orchestrated by Henry Mancini.

Families will be admitted on patron tickets. General admission tickets may be purchased at Garth's Music Center and the Warner Music Co., in downtown Twin Falls and at Sullivan's in the Lynnwood Shopping Center.

When choosing the holiday turkey allow about one-half pound per serving of cooked bird. Then add more for second helpings.

Calendar sale in progress

SUN VALLEY — The annual Moritz Community Hospital Auxiliary appointment calendar sale is currently in progress.

According to Rita Hogg, publicity aide for the group, the calendar is available in most area stores and at the Rogerson Hotel, Twin Falls.

This year the calendar is printed on colored paper, designed to match the motifs of most rooms. Other innovations are the inclusion of December, 1972, in the calendar and the addition of 1974 on the back of the calendar, she said.

Proceeds from the sale are used for worthwhile projects at the hospital, Mrs. Hogg said. Auxiliary members are also preparing for the group's annual Christmas tree sale in December, Mrs. Hogg said.

According to Mrs. Harry Holmes, about 45 potted trees and lights have been ordered and the trees will be decorated by auxiliary members. For the sale, members are also making long, hustess aprons designed for holiday entertaining, and felt refrigerator stickers containing a message for dieters.

Senior loans available

SHOSHONE — An older citizen living in the country or small town may be eligible for a loan to build or buy an adequate home, Mrs. Jean Annett, home economist, said today.

For people with very low incomes, interest credits may bring the interest rate down as low as one per cent.

If you are 60 years old or older and living on a low, fixed income, you have access to a number of rural housing loan programs of the U.S. Department of Agriculture.

Loans may be used, also, to repair existing homes, repair a leak in the roof, make the house weatherproof, provide safe, adequate water and waste disposal systems, install bath or make other improvements. These loans, too, bear interest rates of only one per cent.

In 1971 borrowers averaged about 62 years of age. The bulletin, "Housing for the Elderly," gives data on the subject, Mrs. Annett said.

Abby

Abigail Van Buren

DEAR ABBY: Forgive me if I make many mistakes, but I was not brought up in English. I am a widow, 45 years old, and lonely for male companionship, as are many others. I read an advertisement promising dating by computers. I foolishly answered this ad which supposedly had offices in West Hartford, Conn.; Manchester, N. H.; Boston, Mass.; Portland, Me.; and Providence, R. I. I paid $295 and was promised two "computer matched" dates per month over a period of 36 months. The contract was full of phrases like "if possible" and "if necessary" and "do not guarantee." But is there no recourse against these people who disappeared in thin air? I should have been smart enough to see this trap, but they talk so fast while they are with you, that like an idiot you sign the contract without realizing that you are being taken.

Lonely widow

Anyway, after I paid my money and no dates were arranged, I went to the police with my contract and all the correspondence. They looked it over and said that it had been so cleverly worded, I was hooked. But they told me to write to the Department of Consumer Protection and to the Better-Business Bureau, and if I (and others who had been taken in as I was) would do the same, these people would be in hot water one way or the other.

I hope you will print this, Abby, so others who have been robbed as I was will write to the above mentioned places and complain.

ROBBED AND ANGRY

DEAR ROBBED: Another suggestion: never sign any kind of contract or agreement without having a lawyer look at it first.

DEAR ABBY: Do you see anything wrong with smiling and waving at truck drivers? I have always enjoyed it, but my sister says I should cut it out because the neighbors might get the wrong idea. My brother and brother in law also say it's wrong for me to smile and wave at these truck drivers. They think I should act my age (which is 20) and be a lady, and ladies do not wave at truck drivers.

Abby, it makes me feel so good when I bring a smile to a stranger. I often say "Good day" to old people when I see them on the street. They seem to be cheered by it. Is this also not ladylike?

I'll take your advice, and I hope you say it's okay.

LIKES PEOPLE

DEAR LIKES: Smiling and waving at truck drivers is okay. Also a cherry greeting to oldsters you pass on the street. But don't go overboard. Some strangers might mistake your friendliness for an invitation to something more. In other words, if you don't want a stray dog in your lap, don't pet him on the head.

DEAR ABBY: My husband-and-my-brother are on the outs. It's been going on for a long time in a rather silent way, but my family is not aware of it.

My brother's daughter is being married soon and we are invited to the wedding. My husband flatly refuses to attend even tho I have tried to get him to go just for my sake. My parents are elderly and ailing and they would take it very hard if my husband didn't accompany me.

I am a nervous wreck thinking about going to this wedding without my husband and wondering how to explain his absence to my relatives.

I will go alone if I have to, but I wish there were some way I could get my husband to go with me.

NERVOUS WRECK

DEAR WRECK: A family wedding is one occasion where all "grades" should be put aside and anyone who isn't willing to do it is childish and stubborn. If your husband refuses to accompany you, tell your parents why, but you aren't obligated to explain it to the rest of the family.

Problems? Trust Abby. For a personal reply, write to ABBY, BOX 6704, L. A., CALIF. 90040 and enclose a stamped, addressed envelope.

Blue Bird unit formed

"BURLEY" — "Blue Bird and Flowers" is the name chosen by members for a new Bluebird group organized at the Burley Presbyterian Church.

Virginia Estes is leader. She is assisted by Kathy Bergener with Mrs. Danny Asson as sponsor.

Chelle Harrison was chosen president. Other officers include Wendy Foster, vice president; Nancy Asson, secretary; Therese Wolf, treasurer; Carrie Mai, Chris Sullivan and Jeannie Bergener, flag-bearers; Colleen Estes, candle ceremony leader, and Sheri Thompson, Leslie Actis and Sherry Larson, housekeeping committee. Heidi Asson is roll call chairman.

Parents interested in having daughters enter Blue Birds are asked to call Mrs. Estes, 678-5971, or Mrs. Wright, 678-2056.

Summer wedding planned

engaged

HAZELTON — Mr. and Mrs. John Otman of the Kasota area announce the engagement of their daughter, Nancy Sue, to Mike Warren.

Warren is the son of Willard Warren and the late Betty Warren, Paul.

The bride-elect is a senior at Minico High School and is employed as a nurses aide at Minidoka Memorial Hospital. Warren was graduated from Minico High School in 1971, attended Northwest Christian College and is currently attending the College of Southern Idaho. He is employed by Sears Roebuck and Co. in Twin Falls. The couple plans a June wedding.

MR. AND MRS. RANEY L. BORQUIN

Miss Newberry weds Bourquin

TWIN FALLS — Valencia Faye Newberry and Raney Lee Bourquin were married in rites Oct. 27.

Rev. Kenneth Rhoades performed the ceremony in the First Church of the Nazarene, Twin Falls.

The bride is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Duell Newberry, Twin Falls, and the bridegroom is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Ross Bourquin, Twin Falls.

The bride wore a long white gown accented with blue ribbons attached to the empire waistline.

Her elbow-length veil was accented with strands of yellow roses down the back. It was attached to a white crown also trimmed with yellow roses.

She carried a cascading bouquet of white chrysanthemums accented with yellow netting and blue leaves.

Sherrie Inman was maid of honor. Laura Newberry, sister of the bride, was bridesmaid. Both are from Twin Falls.

Mike Boyd, Twin Falls, was best man. Randy Backing, Twin Falls, was groomsmen.

Wedding music was played by Mrs. Kenneth Rhoades. Soloist was Mrs. Bill Smith.

The couple was honored at a reception after the ceremony in the church fellowship hall.

The four-tier cake was decorated with blue and white and was flanked by candelabra trimmed with yellow and blue roses. The cake and wedding gown were made by Mrs. William Bauer.

Reception assistants were Mrs. William Baker and Mrs. John Morris, both Twin Falls, serving cake, and Mrs. Earl Bird, Twin Falls, and Mrs. Don Moxey, Wichita, Kan., serving coffee and punch.

Mrs. Gene Bosserman, Jerome, attended the guest book.

Donation given

TWIN FALLS — Mary "Time" Club members voted to send $5 to the Idaho Youth Ranch, Rupert, at their Tuesday meeting at the home of Mrs. Ronald Stokesberry.

Mrs. Marie Webb was a guest and Mrs. Homer Crawford received a gift. A silent auction was featured.

Mrs. Robert Crawford will be hostess for the Dec. 5 potluck dinner which will begin at 1 p.m. There will be a gift exchange and also exchange of cookies.

Valley Briefs

JEROME — Evangelistic meetings will be Nov. 10-11 starting at 8 p.m. at the First Baptist Church. The public is invited.

TWIN FALLS — The Golden Age Club will meet at the DAV Hall at 7 p.m. Friday. Those attending are asked to bring a snack lunch. Dancing and cards will be featured after a short meeting. All persons over 60 years of age are welcome.

TWIN FALLS — The Single-lites Club will have a dance this Saturday night at the Old Fellows Hall. There will be live music and dancing starting at 9 p.m. All single persons between the ages of 30 and 60 are welcome.

Generous George overbids all no-trump hands and most suit hands. Hence his three no-trump call.

North put George right in six and West opened the king of hearts. George saw that six clubs would have been a cinch but that six no-trump might well not come in.

Nothing showed on his smiling face as he remarked to West, "I am generous enough to let you hold this first trick."

George won the continuation and ran off his five clubs. Somewhere along the line East let go a diamond and the slam wheeled in.

"You talk like you are generous," remarked West. "My partner is the generous one. He gave you your slam."

"Not at all," said George. "You were both squeezed. He had to come down to six cards including four diamonds. The other two would be either two spades or a spade and the 10 of hearts. If he came down to two spades, you would be squeezed in spades and hearts when I cashed my diamonds. If he came down to one of each, you would not be squeezed but my ace of spades play would drop his queen and I would make the slam by finessing against your jack. There was no way to beat me once I gave you the first trick."

Lack of training cause of Kellogg mine fire

WASHINGTON (UPI) — The Interior Department says dilapidated safety standards and non-existent disaster training were largely responsible for the death of 91 miners in the Sunshine Mine fire at Kellogg, Idaho.

The report, prepared by the department's hearings and appeals division, said another factor was that nobody expected an underground fire in a hard rock mine.

Two miners survived underground for eight days after the fire broke out May 2. Some 100 escaped after the blaze broke out 3,500 feet underground.

The report said the mine operators complied with all mandatory state and federal safety requirements before the fire, but it criticized some aspects of enforcement by the U.S. Bureau of Mines, suggesting a review of advisory standards to determine if some should be made compulsory.

Other factors contributing to the deaths, the report said, included a lack of remote controls on underground exhaust fans, lack of training on self-rescue breathing devices, failure of all men to carry the rescue devices underground and a lack of self-contained breathing devices in the mine.

The report suggested the Bureau of Mines should take up such weaknesses in existing safety standards as marginal mine warning systems, gas detection systems and communications equipment in the mine.

As yet the Bureau of Mines has made no final report on the disaster.

Director James M. Day of the hearings and appeals division wrote the interim report, basing it primarily on the hearings conducted at Kellogg July 19-25.

Winter has arrived in Yellowstone Park

YELLOWSTONE, NAT'L PARK (UPI) — Winter has arrived, at least in Yellowstone National Park.

Late Tuesday afternoon officials closed the park roads to public travel for the winter. The main road through the park is U.S. 20 by way of West Yellowstone.

Idaho State Police said Idaho highways to the Yellowstone area will remain open except for momentary closures by snowfall although the park roadways are closed.

European resorts vie for Olympics

BERN, Switzerland (UPI)—European resort towns rushed to fill the gap Wednesday in an effort to replace Denver as the site of the 1976 Winter Olympic Games. Most have staged the snow spectacular previously.

The citizens of Colorado voted out the Games by refusing to approve additional state funds needed by the organizers. They gave spiraling costs and ecology as the reasons for turning down a chance to host the Games.

The International Olympic Committee (IOC), which awarded the Games to Denver at Amsterdam 2 1/2 years ago, has scheduled a meeting of the nine-man Executive Board for Nov. 13 at its Lausanne headquarters.

Mark Hodler, president of the International Ski Federation (FIS), said he thought the IOC at that time would offer the 1976 Games to those towns which lost the vote to Denver two years ago.

Sion, Switzerland, which lost in a close vote, has expressed a willingness to go through with the project. Trentin, Italy and Vancouver, British Columbia, Canada, also would be offered the Games.

Innsbruck, Austria, host of the 1964 Games and Grenoble, France, which held the Games four years later also have expressed interest. Lake St. Moritz, all they need do is build an Olympic village.

Lahti, Finland, an unsuccessful candidate in 1970 again expressed renewed interest provided a site can be found outside for the Alpine events. There are no suitable mountain sites in Finland for this popular phase of the Olympics.

Rudolf Nemetschke, an Austrian IOC representative, said "the Games still were not definitely lost to Denver, but if they are we are ready to step in."

Nemetschke noted the United States will celebrate its 200th anniversary in 1976 and for this reason, federal funds may be made available to Denver despite the Colorado vote.

Nemetschke said the IOC showed a positive reaction when he advised the Committee that Innsbruck was willing to replace Denver.

The Innsbruck facilities have had little use since 1964. Mayor Alois Lagger said: "We even have a bob run," in reference to Denver's decision to cut the four-man event from the program because of the costs involved in building a run.

Grenoble chances must be slim because the IOC did not like the idea of the sites being spread around the Alps. Speed skating, figure skating and ice hockey were the only events held in the city during the 1968 Games.

But city fathers still think they have a chance. Mayor Hubert Dubedout said: "If the IOC asks us to stage the 1976 Games, we'll accept, but our position depends on the willingness of the Ministry of Sport to meet the expenses of the organizing committee."

Count Jean de Beaumont, IOC vice president, said "I will be very happy to return to Grenoble, which has already proved it is capable of doing well by the sport."

SUCCESSFUL HUNTER Andy Russell, 13-year-old son of Mr. and Mrs. Dean Russell, Twin Falls, displays the buck he bagged during the archery hunt in the South Hills above Indian Springs. Russell's arrow struck an artery. The five-point animal had a 24 1/2-inch rack span. It was Andy's second season with a bow.

Buck unhappy with Colorado voters

NEW YORK (UPI)—Clifford Buck, president of the United States Olympic Committee, said Thursday he was "deeply disappointed with the people of Colorado for the way they expressed themselves over the Olympic issue."

Buck, a native of Denver, said the majority of the voters did a great disservice to Colorado and the United States by refusing to vote the funds needed to hold the 1976 winter Olympic games in the state. "I think it is a tragedy for the state and to some degree for the nation in as much as it gives the United States and Colorado the image of accepting an assignment and a commitment on which they reneged," Buck said.

---Buck said the USOC and the Denver Olympic Committee will hold a joint board meeting over the decision.

Squaw Valley would welcome Olympics

SQUAW VALLEY (UPI)—The head of a firm which operates Squaw Valley, site of the 1960 Winter Olympics, Wednesday said the California ski resort would be "more than happy" to host the 1976 Olympics if a new site is selected.

Alexander C. Cushing, president of the Squaw Valley Development Corp., which owns the valley's major facilities, issued the statement after Colorado voters rejected plans to finance the 1976 winter games in Denver with public funds.

"If the world wants to come to Squaw Valley, we would be more than happy to welcome them here," Cushing said in the statement released by his firm. Cushing was out of state on business.

Hans Von Nolde, the firm's public relations director, said if the International Olympic Committee next week asks other cities to bid for the games, "we'll very definitely be interested."

Von Nolde said Squaw Valley, just west of Lake Tahoe, should have the "inside track" among possible U.S. sites for getting the games because "the best Olympics ever held were held in Squaw Valley."

Lake Placid, N.Y., has been mentioned as a possible U.S. site. The United States celebrates its bicentennial in 1976.

Von Nolde said he foresees no opposition from local residents for holding the Olympics in Squaw Valley.

"The people loved the 1960 Olympics here," he said. "It put this area on the map."

Cushing was a leader in the effort to bring the 1960 Olympics to Squaw Valley.

William Brimer, a Placer County Supervisor, and a member of the two-state Tahoe Regional Planning Association, said he will ask the Placer County Supervisors to endorse the Olympics for Squaw Valley. He also said a bill will be submitted to the California State Legislature, which reconvenes Thursday, asking for its endorsement.

Brimer estimated that a minimal state expenditure of $1 to $2 million will be needed plus the $15 million the federal government promised Colorado to put Squaw Valley into shape. Part of the money, he said, would be used to build a 35-mile high speed transit system from Truckee to Lake Tahoe.

Most observers believe Squaw Valley has the best ski complex in the United States with existing provisions for all Alpine events, an ice rink and Olympic Village. A speed skating rink would have to be added; the ski jump site rebuilt and about 25 per cent more housing space would be needed for athletes if the Olympics were awarded to the area.

Catchers Fisk, Rader named Sporting News' top rookies

ST. LOUIS, Mo. (UPI)—Catchers Carlton Fisk of the Boston Red Sox and Dave Rader of the San Francisco Giants won the Sporting News rookie-of-the-year awards Wednesday in a poll of major league players.

"Pitching choices were right-handers Dick Tidrow of the Indians in the American League and southpaw Jon Matlack of the Mets in the national Fisk's selection by the players marked only the second time since the national sports weekly began rookie awards in 1946 that an American League catcher had won the honor.

Rader, however, is the third National League backstop to earn the rookie citation in the past five years, the weekly said.

The Sporting News also said Cleveland's Luis Tiant in the American League and Cincinnati's Bobby Tolan in the National League earned comeback awards.

"Early in 1971, following a freak injury to his right shoulder, Tiant was jobless and after he did hook up with a major league club late in the season, his record with Boston was 1-7," the publication said.

"This past season Tiant very nearly pitched the Red Sox to a divisional championship," it said. He finished with a 15-6 record and a 1.91 earned run average.

Tolan, from his zero production with the Reds in 1971, shook off the effects of operations to repair the twice-torn Achilles tendon in his right leg and, while he didn't match his impressive statistics of two years earlier, proved his recovery almost complete by putting together a productive 1972 season with the National League champions, batting .283, driving in 92 runs and swiping 41 bases," the weekly said.

STATELINE, Nev. (UPI)—Second-ranked Nebraska seeks to make hay while No. 1 Southern California is idle this Saturday, and the oddsmakers say the Cornhuskers' should flatten Iowa State by at least 21 points.

Auburn, ranked 10th, is the only other team in the first 10 this week that is in action with third-ranked Alabama an 11-point pick over sixth-ranked Louisiana State in the odds listed by Harrah's Tahoe Racebook.

Fourth-ranked Ohio State is six over Michigan State, No. 5 Michigan is 21 over Iowa, No. 7 Oklahoma is 27 over Missouri, No. 8 UCLA is seven over Washington and No. 9 Texas is 13 over Baylor.

Celtics bury Warriors

BOSTON (UPI)—John Havlicek's 25 points paced the Boston Celtics to a runaway victory over the Golden State Warriors Wednesday night 128-111.

The Warriors played even with Boston in the first period as the lead changed hands four times. Cazzie Russell had 10 points for the Warriors in the first period.

The Celtics went into the second period leading 27-25 and opened up their patented running attack. Paul Silas ran up 12 points and Havlicek scored eight as Boston led at halftime 64-51.

Boston continued the pressure in the third period as guard Don Chaney dropped 11 points and Havlicek sunk another eight points, building the lead to 104-80 going into the final period.

Federal judge rejects NHL's reserve clause

PHILADELPHIA (UPI)—A federal judge Wednesday enjoined the National Hockey League from exercising its reserve clause against extrinites in the new World Hockey Association, citing the senior circuit's "desire to maximize the available buck."

U.S. District Judge A. Leon Higginbotham granted the WHA a preliminary injunction against the reserve clause in a 123-page opinion to a WHA suit seeking to declare the reserve clause in violation of anti-trust laws.

The court order was to become effective upon the WHA posting a $2.5 million bond, requested by the judge to insure against damage to the 14-team NHL. "If my ruling is wrong or is reversed by an appellate court,"

Boise hopes to repay ISU for last year—knock Bengals off title perch

BOISE — In what could be called an almost "instant replay" of last year, the Boise State Broncos and the Idaho State Bengals collide in Bronco Stadium in a game which will decide the Big Sky football championship.

Game time in Boise State's Bronco Stadium is set for 1:30 p.m. One year ago from this Saturday, 364 days to be exact, the Bengals knocked off the Broncos 21-17 allowing the Idaho Vandals to take the league title. This year the shoe is on the other foot and a Bronco win over the Bengals will give the title to the Montana State Bobcats.

Idaho State is 4-0 in league play and 6-2 overall while the Broncos are 5-3 on the year and 1-2 in the Big Sky. A loss at the hands of the Broncos would put the Bengals at a 4-1 mark while Montana State is 5-1 and they would win the title since Idaho State plays one less league game than the Bobcats.

The Bengals of rookie head coach Bob Griffin are rolling. After suffering two losses in their first two encounters, 30-14 from Wyoming and 35-7 at the hands of South Dakota, Idaho State has gunned-out six straight wins for the first time since 1960.

Idaho hosts Montana, hoping for first Big Sky decision

MOSCOW — The Idaho Vandals will host the Montana Grizzlies in their only home conference game of the year at 12:30 p.m., PST, Saturday at the new Idaho stadium.

The Grizzlies, who have a 3-6 record for the year, do have two important conference wins under their belt in a 40-17 win over Northern Arizona and a 28 upset victory over Boise. Last week the Grizzlies lost 21-3 to the Montana State Bobcats.

The Grizzlies have been on an up-and-down team. However, they have shown some good strength with their wishbone offense and especially with freshman quarterback Van Troxel. Troxel, who made his first start against Boise and led the team to the win, is the son of Idaho assistant football coach, Ed Troxel.

In the backfield, Coach Jack Swarthout has numerous running backs with talent. Buddy Walsh, a sophomore, has been averaging nearly four yards a carry; Jeff Hoffman, a senior, has over four yards a carry; and Jim Olson has been packing the ball for nearly seven yards a carry through their nine games. Rock Svenningsen, a sophomore who is backing up Troxel, also has been a fine runner, giving the Grizzlies plenty of depth at quarterback.

The Broncos got back on the winning track last Saturday with a 33-7 win over the Portland State Vikings and coach Knap hopes that the Portland State win will provide a springboard to a fine effort against Idaho State.

It could very well be a passing offense against a great passing defense Saturday afternoon in the "Broncos' homecoming game." The Bengals have allowed a measly 84.4 yards per game passing for their opponents in eight games and just three touchdowns via the air.

The Broncos, on the other hand, have a game average of 250.8 yards per game in the air and have scored 24 of their 36 touchdowns in the passing department.

Lineup of the Week for his five catches and 204 yards against Portland State last Saturday, now has 39 catches for 779 yards and seven scores. His receiving mate, Hutt, has 37 catches for 572 yards and also seven scores.

Hull debuts in losing effort

QUEBEC CITY (UPI) — The magic of Bobby Hull was in evidence at the Quebec Coliseum Wednesday night but Nordiques' goalie Serge Aubry managed to repeatedly block the best of Hull's shots.

Although this was Bobby's first game in the World Hockey Association, he clearly demonstrated his professional talents as he outplayed and outscored everyone on the ice.

The 10,000-plus Quebec fans, although part, were clearly amazed by his ability to stockhandle with apparent ease through the Nordiques' defense. They were left in awe by the speed and accuracy of Hull's wrist shots, the fastest shots seen in Quebec WHA games.

Defensively, senior Leo LaRoche, an all-conference defensive unit, which also has two fine linebackers in Curt Donner and Ron Rosenberk. Coach Don Robbins feels that the Vandals will have to regroup after the disastrous loss to Utah State. However, he feels that Idaho has been a strong team when on the rebound and this week the Vandals will be at home where Idaho has been tough to beat.

"We did not pick up any new injuries last week and, although our pride suffered at the hands of the great Tony Adams and Tom Forzani, we will be back and in good shape for the Grizzlies," Robbins said. "Utah State has a fine football team."

Scott shoots Suns to win

PHOENIX (UPI) — Charlie Scott tossed in 34 points for Phoenix, including 12 straight during a four-minute span in the third quarter, to lead the Suns past the Cleveland Cavaliers, 107-99, Wednesday night.

Scott triggered a third-quarter comeback after the Suns trailed by nine points at halftime in the National Basketball Association contest.

The Suns came back from intermission to outscore Cleveland 19-4 in the opening five minutes and move into a 64-58 lead.

Archibald, who leads the league in scoring and assists, sprained the thumb on his shooting hand in the first quarter, had only four first half field goals, and the hapless 76ers sputtered to an early 12-point lead.

But veteran Johnny Green put the Kings ahead to stay, 76-74, when he scored on a fast break with 3:46 left in the third quarter.

Erving paces Squires' win

DENVER (UPI) — Julius Erving scored 38 points Wednesday night to lead the Virginia Squires to a 116-111 victory over the Denver Rockets.

Erving provided nearly all the action for the Squires, dazzling the Rockets with his shooting, passing and ball handling. He also puffed down nine rebounds to share honors with teammate Jim Eakins.

The American Basketball Association game was deadlocked 50-50 going into the final quarter, but Erving's shooting and a sudden cold spell by the Rockets provided Virginia with all it needed.

Warren Jabali and Ralph Simpson each scored 22 points for Denver. The Rockets also had a big rebound margin, 65 to 33 with Julius Keye, Byron Beck and Merv Robinson each grabbing 11.

Gooding-Burley, Tigers-Buhl tilts, playoff set on weekend

A couple of playoffs, two traditional meetings and the start of a third account for the seven-game schedule for Magic Valley football teams this weekend.

This is the last of the regularly scheduled games plus the meeting of the one-two teams from the SRV-B and Little Five Conferences. Twin Falls will travel to Minico at 1:30 p.m. Friday while Gooding is at Buhl at 2 p.m. That means the Jerome at Buhl game will be the final game of the regular season, starting at 8 p.m. Friday.

In the playoffs, the Shoshone Indians, representing the Little Five as the No. 1 team on the basis of a coin flip with co-champions Wendell and Glenns Perry, will play host to the Middleton Vikings at 7:30 p.m. Saturday. Wendell travels to Homedale at the same time.

The upset of Buhl by Filer last week took some of the show-down glamor off the Indians-Jerome game but it should be a barnburner because those teams love to rip each other. Jerome can clinch both the SCIC and the Cross State titles with the decision while a loss would move the Tigers into a tie with Mountain Home. The SCIC winner meets the SRV-A conference champion—Knights of Bishop Kelly in a playoff next week at the home of the SCIC winner.

Jerome, already favored, became more so Wednesday when Buhl Coach Jon Jund reported quarterback Charles Hepworth, currently second in SCIC total offense, and Chuck Gillette, both hurt against Filer, would be sidelined. Gone also are the defensive ends, each aggravating injuries sustained earlier.

In all Coach Jund and the Indians have lost 12 men from the start of practice, 15 by injuries, one by moving away and another for disciplinary reasons.

"But we're going after them," Coach Jund promises. "We're going to present them with the biggest defensive line they've seen this year."

Of course, the Indians will be shooting for a shutout because offensively they don't figure to score many points.

Buhl has moved in auxiliary bleachers. "We'll have a seat for everyone who shows up at the gate and a game he won't want to miss," Jund concluded. Buhl's problems, in addition to the obvious one of scoring against the powerful Tiger defense, are Rich Watson and control.

Not blessed with any great break-away speed, the Tigers have shown the ability to grind out touchdowns—and end up as much as a quarter along the way. Watson can throw the ball, having 485 yards so far this season in passing and 710 in total offense. In addition, Watson ran second in the SCIC in both kickoff and punt returns.

Buhl has the top rusher in junior Brent Watson who has 796 yards now. Jerome's top two are Stacy Camp with 437 yards and Steve Hurd with 352.

The Burley-Gooding battle should develop into a low scoring affair as both teams have been better at stopping the ball than moving it. Gooding has a good sized backfield, headed by big Cash Nickols who is fast enough to go the distance. Burley's main break-away threat is junior fullback Ken Harper.

The difference could come in passing where Burley's Pat Pike holds the edge.

Wendell and Shoshone both figure to have tough battles against their Boise Valley foes. Homedale defeated Shoshone roundly—including a fight—during the playoff last year and the defending champs have a number of men back from that aggregation awaiting Wendell. It seems rather fitting these two should meet on the gridiron since they've developed a bitter rivalry in track, taking turns winning regional and state championships by scant margins over each other.

However, Middleton is the SRV-B champion and that gives Shoshone fans pause. Middleton is figured to be tough but lost in the title game by 14 points. The Indians again will be heavily relying on their defense, which so far has held up well. Coach Bill Clossen would like to get some offense going, however.

Thomas placed on reserve

SAN DIEGO (UPI) — (Continued from page 1) — Coach Tom Landry placed Tom Thomas on reserve last week because of a knee injury. Thomas failed to appear for practice with the National Football League San Diego Chargers Wednesday and was placed on the reserve list.

The action by Coach Landry makes Thomas ineligible to play for the rest of the season. Thomas was acquired before the start of this season from Dallas for running back Mike Montgomery and wide receiver Billy Parks.

He was activated for the first time last Sunday but saw no action. He did not take calisthenics with the team then, walked along the sidelines during the national anthem and sat on the bench throughout the game staring straight ahead.

"I have been weighing this decision for a considerable amount of time," Sware said. "The conclusion is that Duane is not prepared to play this season. Obviously, he's got some problems that won't permit him to play now."

"His actions Sunday were not deliberate and were not intended to be disrespectful."

Thomas went through a full workout Tuesday and looked quick on kickoff and punt returns.

"He is a very complicated young man," Sware said. "The problem is not narcotics. The marijuana incident in Texas was the only incident."

Sware said the club "is not hurting" for running backs and the status of Thomas will have no influence on the Chargers draft next year.

Dallas seeks cornerback to complement Cornell Green

DALLAS (UPI) — In the years when the Dallas Cowboys were gaining and polishing their reputation of not being able to win the large ones, an ever increasing number of people entered and departed the Cowboys lineup at the cornerback position opposite Cornell Green.

There were Phil Clark, Mike Johnson and Warren Livingston to name three. None distinguished themselves particularly.

Now, with the whispers about the Dallas defense turning into low numbers, the chief concern is once again at that corner back spot opposite Cornell Green.

Herb Adderley came to the rescue from Green Bay for two seasons, but he was benched last week by Coach Tom Landry for seemingly losing that fatal half step. Charlie Waters was moved up to the starting spot against San Diego and promptly was the victim of two touchdown passes.

"I'm not worried about it," said Landry Wednesday. "Charlie is still a very good possibility at cornerback. Mark Washington (a third year man) is another possibility, and Adderley could move back in there for that matter."

K.C. certain of NFL club

KANSAS CITY, Mo. (UPI) — Kansas City councilman-at-large Victor Swayden said Wednesday he's "confident that by the end of the week Kansas City, Mo., will have a National Hockey League franchise."

A franchise was awarded last spring to Edwin Thompson and his associates for 1974 in Johnson County, Kansas. But that apparently fell through Tuesday when voters rejected a restaurant tax that would have helped finance a new arena in Overland Park, Kan., a Kansas City suburb.

Last week plans for a new arena and convention center were announced in the Kansas City, Mo., stockyards area.

"I think anybody could have been beaten by the moves Charlie had put on him by the Chargers' Chuck Dicus. We were in one-on-one coverage and he just got beaten by some great moves and two great passes by John Hadl."

But it is just not Waters who has been beaten the past few weeks.

After turning in two of his best defensive performances of the season against Pittsburgh and Baltimore, the Dallas defense has taken an occasional nap against Washington, Detroit and San Diego.

The nap against Washington cost Dallas the game.

"I'd be foolish to say there has not been a dropoff in our defensive effort," said Landry. "But I see a lot of solidness at this point. I don't see any panic."

"Our defense has played good at times and has had bad lapses at times. We need to play like every game is a must game. We can't afford an upset

The defensive difficulties have come at the same time that the Dallas offense has awakened from its early season slump.

"Our offense is moving the ball better this year," the coach said. "Last year we were winning close games and not scoring a lot. Whether this has relaxed the defense, I don't know."

The latest lapse came last Sunday in San Diego when, after Dallas had assumed a 31-9 lead, the Chargers rallied to close the final margin 34-26.

That is obviously disappointing to Landry, but not just because of the defensive letdown.

Minico entertains Twin Falls in finale Friday afternoon

RUPERT — The Minico Spartans, who haven't defeated Twin Falls since 1959, rate as slight favorites to end that string at 1:30 p.m. Friday when the two teams wind up their Southern Idaho Conference football season.

The battle line for the game appears a little fuzzy with the exception that it brings together the two best defensive teams in the conference. Twin Falls has moved about 50 yards ahead of Minico in that category after three weeks of trading the lead.

It could well be that the game will be decided in the air — provided big breaks don't take effect. Played straight down the middle both teams will find the other hard to run on. Twin Falls has the better speed but Minico the bigger defensive players.

Statistically the teams are strikingly similar. Sometimes quarterback sometimes halfback Richie Donner ranks fourth in the SIC in total offense with 1059 yards while Bruin Mike Sturgill is fifth with 911. Sturgill is sixth in SIC passing with neither Donner nor Bruce Fagg getting in due to splitting time during the season. However, Minico has the fourth best receiver in split end Ron Jones who has caught 22 for 386 yards and three touchdowns. Donner also brings the added dimension of the halfback pass which Twin Falls must respect.

Neither has a man in the SIC top 10 rushers but Bruin Gary Scott is 11th with 591 yards and a 4.9 average. Straightway, Scott will be the fastest man on the field most of the time. The only one faster is Bruin Bill Woodson, still having ankle and shoulder problems.

So it boils down to the passing attack. Both teams are enjoying their best anti-air campaigns of recent years.

Bullets roll over Buffalo

BALTIMORE (UPI) — Elvin Hayes stuffed 12 of his season-high 25 points into the last eight minutes of the second period as the Baltimore Bullets beat the Buffalo Braves, 126-94, Wednesday night in an NBA runaway.

Mike Riordan added 20 points and seven assists as the Bullets grabbed an early 33-21 first-period lead and handed the outclassed Braves their 10th loss in 13 games.

Hayes, who added 20 rebounds, helped the Bullets blow away from a 41-26 advantage to lead 65-34 with two minutes left in the half. The Braves trailed after three periods, 92-63, and never got back in the game.

Cougars belt Kentucky

LOUISVILLE, Ky. (UPI) — The Eastern Division-leading Carolina Cougars swamped the Kentucky Colonels 126-111 Wednesday night behind an 84-point production from their "3-C" offense of Mack Calvin, Billy Cunningham and Joe Caldwell.

Calvin, who hit all of his six shots and five free throws in the first half, was high for the game with 33 points. Cunningham contributed 29 points and Caldwell 22 as Carolina forged an insurmountable 64-50 lead at intermission of the American Basketball Association game.

The Colonels, bothered by Carolina's pressure defense, got 29 points from Dan Issel

FOR CASE FOR FRIDAY, NOVEMBER 10, 1972

GENERAL TENDENCIES The early morning is good for all kinds of new beginnings, travel matters or changes. However, in the evening you feel better and get the support of a highly placed man.

ARIES (Mar. 21 to Apr. 19) Plan early what you are going to do with regard to some career or community matter, and then go through with it quickly. Come to a better understanding with the one you love. Comprehend civic matters better.

TAURUS (Apr. 20 to May 20) You can now widen your horizons, so take steps quickly to do so and get good results. Cement better relations with a fine partner. This is not a good time for recreational matters.

GEMINI (May 21 to June 21) You can handle those responsibilities in a most efficient way now, so get an early start. Your best chances come in the morning. Follow them. Get the backing of a co-worker.

MOON CHILDREN (June 22 to July 21) Plan early to join congenials you really like at the recreations that are mutually pleasurable. Follow through on a plan for better understanding with mate. Do not procrastinate.

LEO (July 22 to Aug. 21) Morning is best time for that work you need to do, so don't delay. Afternoon is good for taking care of home affairs that are pressing. Put that plan across that will solve a difficult problem.

VIRGO (Aug. 22 to Sept. 22) Plan early to see charming friends during a m., then the evening is fine for talking over with partner ways to have more success in the future. You can lighten your spirits in ways that appeal to you.

LIBRA (Sept. 23 to Oct. 22) Don't be afraid to state what you think should be done at home with kin, then you can make everything there more harmonious. Add to holdings. Make the repairs there that are necessary and increase comfort.

SCORPIO (Oct. 23 to Nov. 21) Make those appointments early that will bring you the results you want of a financial nature, or property wise. Don't neglect to shop, communicate via letters, telephone, etc. Show you are thorough in discussions.

SAGITTARIUS (Nov. 22 to Dec. 21) You can formulate a new plan with a specialist that can be very fine for both of you and make your life more pleasant. Your lunches are good, so follow them. Take good care of your health.

CAPRICORN (Dec. 22 to Jan. 20) Pleasing others in business or social circles can bring excellent results now. Show you are thoughtful and gracious. Get the advice of a good pal on how to gain the favor of a bigwig. Follow through on it.

AQUARIUS (Jan. 21 to Feb. 19) You can make those plans now with good friends that will be helpful to all concerned. Do the work that is necessary promptly. Consult with a bigwig before taking definite action, though.

PISCES (Feb. 20 to Mar. 20) Some personal matter that means a good deal to you is best handled with the aid of an older but wiser person. Find the right angles to use. Stop being so glib.

IF YOUR CHILD IS BORN TODAY... he or she will be one of those interesting young people who early in life wants to have top place in the community in field of endeavor. It would be wise to plan the education so that such a pinnacle can be reached, if humbly possible. Property management and finances are best here as outlets or any of the high professions, such as medicine, law, salesmanship, etc. Give good spiritual training early.

There's one chance in 100 the girl next door will become completely bald. OUT OF every $1 a fellow pays in a first-class hotel, about six cents goes to cover the cost of what he's apt to take with him. Inadvertently or otherwise. I like the runt soap, stationery, shoe shine cloths. MIGHT ask the botany expert around your sector why the eucalyptus throws less shade than any other tree its size. Quite an oddity. Its leaves constantly turn their edges toward the sun so said greenery casts needle-like shadows.

LIVESTOCK A WIFE is none too easy to fool. Or did you know that, up? The psychology hon. at DePaul University made a study of this matter, too. They contend a woman tends to be much better than a man in judging a person's tone of voice to determine whether said party is prevaricating. They say also a woman who tells a lie is far less likely than a man to give that fact away.

CLOCKS Amazing how many little clocks you and I have in our bodies. At least 40. To control temperature, pulse rate, blood pressure, absorption of oxygen, intestinal activity, so on. But there's only one we're accustomed to the clock we shake every now and then with a cup of coffee. To influence that thing the medics call "the lunge curve."

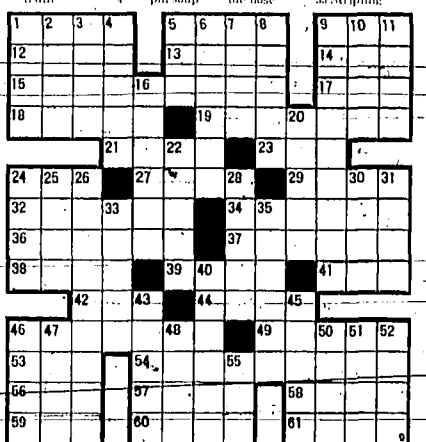

ARE YOU acquainted with that American toothpaste called "Bestol"? Did just fine in this country. But when the marketing boys transported same to Brazil, it flopped. Most embarrassingly. The name there translated to "jackassol."

Q. "WHAT does your Old Superstitions man say it signifies if you're left hand netches?"
A. Means you're going to have to pay out some money, he says.
Q. "WHAT five common foods produce perspiration of a particular distinctive odor?"
A. Garlic, alcohol, coffee, butter milk. I give up, what's the fifth?
