

Viet peace talks begin new round

By United Press International—What may be the last Vietnam peace negotiations began here today, but there were new signs of discontent from Saigon.

Presidential adviser Henry Kissinger and North Vietnam's Le Duc Tho resumed their talks with optimistic statements about the outcome. The talks are expected to last for several days.

One of the snags holding up the peace talks has been the massive resupply effort by both the United States and North Vietnam. U.S. military sources in Saigon said today the big airlift had ended last Friday "for all intents and purposes" although some shipments are still on the way.

The shipments included hundreds of tanks and helicopters, artillery, armored vehicles, ammunition and other supplies. As much as 500 tons a day had been shipped in to beef up the South Vietnamese battle capability.

In Vietnam, fighting continued today, although at a reduced pace. There were raids by U.S. B-52's near Quang Tri and shelling attacks by North Vietnamese against Saigon forces' positions in the Central Highlands.

In Saigon, the newspaper Tin Song, which frequently reflects the views of President Nguyen Van Thieu, reported today U.S. Ambassador Ellsworth Bunker briefed the South Vietnamese president Sunday on the American proposals for the latest Paris talks.

Tin Song (Live News) is financially backed by Thieu's nephew and closest adviser, Hoang Duc Nha.

The newspaper did not report details of the allied plan but added:

"The position of the Republic of Vietnam with regard to the negotiations remains the same—it is just and logical."

"Thus, all peace treaties must follow the principles put forth by the Republic of Vietnam. Any change in view to break the deadlock must come first from the Communists."

Tin Song also said its source reported the South Vietnamese government continues to demand direct negotiations with the Communists "and there will be no proxy in the signing."

Thieu also wants the North Vietnamese army to withdraw from South Vietnam, Cambodia and Laos and the Hanoi government must agree to abide by terms of the 1954 Geneva agreement.

In a related development, William J. Porter, chief American negotiator to the Paris peace talks, denied that he told French officials the United States no longer trusts French Foreign Minister Maurice Schumann.

The United States has carried out heavy air attacks against such resupply efforts and against Communist buildups in the Demilitarized Zone and the Quang Tri area just to the south. U.S. B-52 bombers dropped 1,250 tons of explosives on Communist positions near Quang Tri City Sunday and today to try to break up a nine-day-old shelling attack against South Vietnamese troops, the U.S. command said. Field dispatches said the Communists were firing 1,000 shells a day against government positions there.

A command spokesman said the B-52s flew 14 missions near Quang Tri City in the 24-hour period ending at noon. There are normally three planes in each mission.

TF Police hold tongue after depot shooting

TWIN FALLS — Armed robbers pistol whipped and shot the 63-year-old night attendant at the Twin Falls Union Bus Depot early today.

Twin Falls Police investigators are withholding details of the investigation.

City police chief of detectives, Capt. Tim Qualls, said he could say only that the shooting occurred about 2 a.m. when two men entered the bus station, beat, robbed and shot the attendant.

Roy Gwinn, 63, who was on duty alone at the time of the robbery is listed in fair condition, awaiting surgery. He was taken to Magic Valley Memorial Hospital by ambulance after he telephoned police at 2:23 a.m. and said he had just been robbed and shot.

Capt. Qualls said "during the robbery" the man was hit over the head with a weapon and was also shot in the right shoulder.

He said the city's investigation is continuing and "two male suspects" are being sought by officers.

Qualls also said about $180 was taken from the attendant during the robbery. The men, he said, entered the building through the rear side door leading from the parking lot. He said he could disclose the attendant was alone in the building at the time of the robbery.

Otherwise, he said, it is necessary to retain all information to protect the investigation of the case.

"You can ask all the questions you want," he told the Times-News, and my answer will be "No comment."

Wayne Steele, manager of the Union Bus Depot, said he had been told by Capt. Qualls to disclose no information.

"I have told the victim to make no comments," Qualls said this morning. Steele said Gwinn has worked for him about one and one half years and said to his knowledge this is the first armed robbery of the Union Bus Depot, which moved from the old location behind the Rogerson Hotel to the new location on Second Avenue South in September.

As for the weapon used in the robbery, Qualls said he could only say it "is a handgun."

Asked if he knows the caliber and size, he said, "No comment."

Malta driver killed

MALTA — Angel Mialgalarra, 28, Malta, died in a one car rollover at about 11 p.m. Saturday three miles south of Cottrell Port of Entry.

He was alone in the car when the accident occurred.

Mr. Mialgalarra was born June 7, 1944, at Ereno, Spain. He had lived and worked in the Malta area for the past four years.

State Patrolman Rance Torres said the one-car accident was the result of speed and drinking. He said the Mialgalarra vehicle skidded along the highway 104 feet, 40 feet along the left borrow pit and 75 feet along the fence line, before coming to a stop.

The victim was thrown from the car, he said, and was dead on arrival at Cassia Memorial Hospital.

Kissinger may resign

ATLANTA (UPI) — Author Charles R. Ashman said Sunday night he has been told by confidants of presidential aide Henry A. Kissinger that Kissinger will resign to become head of the Rockefeller Foundation.

The source of his information, Ashman said in an interview on WSB-TV, was "several close friends and relatives of Kissinger in New York and Washington."

Appearing in connection with the Eastern release of his book, "Kissinger: The Adventures of

The new secretary of state, according to Ashman, will be either Gov. Nelson Rockefeller of New York or former Treasury Secretary John Connally.

Ashman said he has been told by Kissinger associates that Secretary of State William Rogers' resignation will be among those submitted by cabinet members that will be accepted by the President. Rogers, he said, hopes to be appointed to the Supreme Court.

"If it's Rockefeller, in all probability Kissinger will remain for one year or less for the purpose of working on elimination of the Berlin wall and other European problems," Ashman said. "If it's Connally, his (Kissinger's) resignation will be accelerated."

Plotters arrested

By United Press International—Diplomatic sources in Beirut said Sunday anti-Soviet military men attempted to overthrow President Anwar Sadat of Egypt last week, but failed when security forces arrested between 35 and 40 officers.

The diplomats said the plot was broken Nov. 11, a few days before ringleaders planned to order the arrest of Sadat and his top aides, including Premier Aziz Sidky. They said the plotters planned to set up a junta to run the country.

It was the second reported attempt against Sadat within a year.

Spankings survive court eye

WASHINGTON (UPI) — The Supreme Court refused today to decide whether paddling public school students without their parents' consent is unconstitutional.

Lower federal courts held in a Dallas, Tex., case that a decision on the matter would improperly interfere with the operation of the schools.

The case was instituted in U.S. District Court in Dallas by Marshall Ware and his son, Douglas Ware, against Superintendent Nolan Estes. The papers filed with the court did not state whether the youth had suffered corporal punishment.

The Wares said this practice of the Dallas Independent School District deprives both children and parents of "fundamental liberties" and is "cruel and unusual punishment" in violation of the constitution.

Texas law allows "moderate corporal punishment" by a principal or an assistant principal without parental permission.

Teachers, however, may paddle a child only after receiving written permission.

Winter arrives Snow wraps Valley area

TWIN FALLS — The first storm of the season Sunday left a three-to-four-inch blanket of snow in most Magic Valley towns, but Fairfield reported only a trace of precipitation.

The National Weather Service reported three inches of snow fell in Twin Falls Sunday afternoon and night, while Buhl and Kimberly received four inches of snow. Jerome had the greatest recorded depth, four and a half inches.

The weather forecast for today was gradually lessening chance of further snow, although a spokesman at the Weather Bureau said "heavy snowfall" could be expected in southeastern parts of the state.

The snow-blanketed roads contributed to a rash of minor accidents, but no serious injuries were reported in the dozen mishaps reported to city, state and county law enforcement officials.

Twin Falls School Supt. George Staudacher said school buses ran on schedule without problems this morning. Spokesman at Hughes Air West and Greyhound Bus Lines both reported air and ground transportation remained unaffected by the snow that fell over a period of several hours.

The State Department of Highways reported roads in some parts of the valley were slick, with slickness reporting fog and freezing streets early this morning.

At Galena, clear skies and icy roads were the result of the snow-fall, while at the other end of the Magic Valley, on the interstate highway from Cottrell to the Utah state border, four inches of snow and a broken snow floor were reported.

Interstate 80N from Jerome to Hazelton reported icy spots with a broken snow floor and snowing, and Interstate 15 W and U.S. Highway 30, from Bliss to Buhl had icy spots along the road.

You would think the TF Police would realize you can't keep a shooting in a public bus depot quiet.

Brandt triumphant in German vote

BONN (UPI) — Chancellor Willy Brandt headed triumphantly into a new four-year term today, riding high on a resounding national vote of confidence so strong it made his Social Democrats the largest West German party for the first time since World War II.

The largest voter turnout—90 per cent of the electorate—in the 23-year history of the West German republic returned Brandt and his coalition to office Sunday with a new, increased majority.

It was a personal triumph and a ringing endorsement of his policies of peace and good neighbor relationships in Europe.

"Our country's voice has won increased weight in the world," Brandt said after the results showed he scored his greatest political triumph. His voice cracked with emotion and tears filled his eyes.

The official final results showed the Social Democrats gaining 17,168,052 votes, or 45.0 per cent, an increase of 3.4 per cent over the Brandt-led party showing in 1969.

The main opposition Christian Democrats finished with 16,794,407 votes or 44.8 per cent while the Free Democrats, allies of Brandt in parliament, finished with 3,128,821 votes or 8.4 per cent.

It meant 230 seats in the Bundestag for the Social Democrats, 224 for the Christian Democrats and 42 for the Free Democrats. No other party won a seat.

The Communists, the right-wing National Democratic party and other splinter groups managed to attract only 1 per cent of the vote among them.

"The danger of our isolation between East and West has been banished," Brandt said. "The government will use every chance to push ahead the process of easing tension and of cooperating in the unification of Europe."

WILLY BRANDT... retains grip

Congressmen question Navy chief

WASHINGTON (UPI) — A congressional subcommittee today summoned the Navy's chief of personnel to testify about alleged racial and disciplinary problems that have resulted in fights and protest demonstrations aboard Navy ships.

Vice Adm. David H. Bagley was scheduled to be the only witness before the House Armed Services subcommittee sets out for San Diego and Hawaii to hear from the men and officers of the aircraft carriers Constellation and Kitty Hawk.

Navy officials said they welcomed the investigation into the incidents which in the last month included a clash between whites and blacks aboard the aircraft carrier Kitty Hawk and the refusal of 123 dissident sailors, mostly black, to carry out orders while assigned to the Constellation. There also was a fight blamed on racial strife aboard a fleet oiler off Vietnam.

Following the closed hearing in Washington, the three-member subcommittee tentatively scheduled to take testimony in San Diego on Tuesday and Wednesday regarding the Constellation and then travel to Hawaii for hearings aboard the Kitty Hawk.

A spokesman for Rep. Floyd V. Hicks, D-Wash., chairman of the special subcommittee, said all hearings will be closed to the press and the public. Others serving on the subcommittee are Reps. W.C. Daniel, D-Va., and Alexander Pirnie, R-N.Y.

Adm. Elmo R. Zumwalt, chief of naval operations, issued a tough message last week directed at young enlisted men.

My husband is mentally ill. his Social Security benefits are being paid to him through me. May I apply some of this to a prepaid funeral for him?

Answer...

According to the Social Security Administration the answer is yes if the funeral contract is valid under applicable state law if the current needs of your husband are being met and if the cost of the funeral plan is reasonable in the light of your husband's financial situation.

Our prepaid funeral plan is legally valid under state law as required, therefore, if your husband is being properly cared for, and if your expenditure for his funeral is reasonable, you have met the necessary qualifications.

In addition to any prepayment made on a funeral service for your husband he is entitled to a death benefit allowance from Social Security. For any further information please telephone or stop by our office.

It's The Aftermath Of Defeat

WASHINGTON — A number of down-right ribald ironies are behind the increasingly rancorous clamor to boot out Democratic National Chairman Jean Westwood. The raucous contradictions, inconsistencies and incoherencies are graphically symptomatic of the inflamed personal, political and ideological differences among the wrangling leaders, factions and elements of the election party.

been a "good national chairman" — carefully not mentioning two highly pertinent facts; she has only held the office about three months; and she played literally no part in the Presidential campaign, being forcefully sidelined because of ineptness and bungling by the McGovernites who handpicked her.

Instead of being active in running the campaign, she spent her time busily stumping to keep herself in office. She did far more electioneering for herself than for the party's standard bearer.

(2) Mrs. Westwood's pious warning that the fight to oust her would be "divisive and unhealthy for the party" — a self-serving hyperbole if there ever was one. Her continuance as national chairman is one of the main divisive factors within the party. — Intensely controversial, persistently bumbling and ineffectual, as long as she remains national chairman there will not only be endless rowing and feuding but the virtual certainty of deep schisms and costly defections.

(3) In some ways perhaps most hilarious of all is that, while Mrs. Westwood owes the chairmanship solely to the McGovernites, she is now sternly disapproving of the South Dakota radical and the kind of campaign he waged. She orates unctuously about the need to "reach out to all elements of the party" and, inferentially, get rid of the kooks and gooks that now control the party machinery.

So far, McGovern and his inner clique are taking this blatant somersault in silence. They may have no alternative. An open clash with her would only confirm another of their numerous blunders — beginning with the still smoldering Eagleton affair.

Also, time is inexorably working against McGovern. As a national figure he is through — both in and outside the Democratic party. He may still declaim and posture, but it is of no consequence. Basically, the South Dakota leftist no longer has any real influence or authority in party councils.

Egotistically, he may think he has, but if he does he will learn painfully that he is sorely mistaken. From the way things are shaping up behind — the scenes, the same inescapable fate is in store for Mrs. Westwood.

GEORGE C. THOSTESON, M.D.

A Wry Neck

Dear Dr. Thosteson: Please tell me what you know about wry neck and also the best way to treat it.

Is an operation to cut the muscle dangerous? Will it handicap you? — B.C.

Do you mean tell you everything I know about wry neck? Or just some?

And the "best way to treat it?" The best treatment is the one that fits the cause — if you can find out the cause.

Torticollis, or wry neck, is a pain in the neck more ways than one. In plain language, it is difficult to treat and results are unpredictable. Most of the time, the cause is not clear, which makes it difficult for all concerned.

A basic part of investigating the trouble is to have X-rays in case changes in the neck spine are responsible.

Often no such distortion is found — but the psychological factor can be the paramount problem, and in some cases psychotherapy is necessary to get the patient's psychological quirks "unwound."

Sedatives may help; muscle relaxants usually do not, even though excessive tautness of certain muscles may be the basis of the problem. This trouble is, how do you relax certain muscles while not affecting other muscles, the services of which are required to draw head and neck back into balanced condition?

Surgery — cutting of certain nerve trunks or muscles — is a last resort procedure. If that happens to work, fine, but there's no guarantee that it will.

Wry neck is, as I've already said, no easy proposition, and the "best treatment" is the one that works. If it does.

Dear Dr. Thosteson: When one has Parkinson's disease and is taking L-dopa, is there anything to take for sleepless nights that wouldn't interfere with the L-dopa? Is it safe to take aspirin or sleeping pills? — G.T.

Sleeping pills — such as barbiturates — may be used with L-dopa. Aspirin also can be used — for some patients it has a sedative effect.

Dear Dr. Thosteson: About 10 years ago the doctor found my husband had emphysema and should quit smoking. Sometime later a specialist found he had angina.

He quit smoking for 10 years and felt good and looked good. A short time ago he started to smoke again. He has lost weight and has a peculiar cough, especially at night.

I am very concerned and would like you to explain the effect of smoking on a person with this condition. — Mrs. D.S.

Why should I explain, when you are seeing what happens right before your eyes? The angina and emphysema complicate each other. No emphysema patient should smoke — and I am astonished and saddened that your husband can't understand it.

Dear Dr. Thosteson: I have noted companies listing a spraying method for killing bugs, etc. What effect, if any, does this have on the person doing the spraying? They certainly are breathing — the same air. — J.B.C.

You are quite right, sir. The sprayer breathes the same air. If it is poisonous for the bugs, it can be for the sprayer, to one degree or another.

You are bigger than a bug so it takes more poison to bother you. All the same, read the directions carefully before using. If they say you shouldn't let the mist settle on dishes or cooking utensils or surfaces on which food will be prepared, then don't. If it says to avoid breathing the spray, don't.

Unfinished Business

Portland Oregonian

President Nixon's hopes and plans for America in the next four years of his Administration, as outlined in his interview with the Washington Star-News, may depend for success on the resolution of two major issues raised in the campaign.

War and Watergate, while not of equal importance, troubled Americans most as they weighed the merits of President Nixon and Sen. George McGovern. If the second term of Mr. Nixon is to accomplish its goals, these clouds must be dispelled. Peace must now be achieved in Vietnam and all of Indochina, as Mr. Nixon says he is confident it can be achieved shortly. Public confidence in the Administration, badly shaken by charges of misuse of campaign funds, espionage of Democratic headquarters and improper campaigning, must be restored.

Trials of those arrested in the Watergate affair, the forced entry and bugging of Democratic National Headquarters, will take this incident somewhat out of the political domain and into the courts. The trials should produce facts less tainted with politics. But congressional investigations and hearings may be expected to wring the last drop of political advantage from the many allegations of Republican campaign "corruption." Some counter-charges against the Democrats also are expected to be examined.

President Nixon certainly is aware of the harm that can be done to his programs for international and national betterment if the taint of these charges lingers on. His press secretary said that Mr. Nixon's plans to accept the resignations of several Cabinet officers and lesser appointees have nothing to do with Watergate. Still, the President's public insistence that he have the resignations of all his appointees on his desk promptly — as is the custom at the end of each presidential term — makes it evident that there will be involuntary as well as voluntary changes.

There is no reason why anyone in the Nixon Administration or its campaign committees guilty of any wrong-doing should be spared the legal and moral consequences. The President must deal sternly with malefactors and fools if he is to justify the avalanche of votes in his support. The voters were giving him the benefit of the doubt.

And of course there can be no letdown in the Administration's efforts to obtain a cease-fire in Indochina and work out the details for a political settlement. The President was fully justified in refusing Hanoi's demand that the rush into a settlement which would not stand the test of time and assure peace. He would not be justified, however, in permitting South Vietnam's President Thieu to stall the settlement beyond reason.

It is very likely that little can be accomplished to nail down peace in the Middle East, improve U.S. trade and monetary positions with Europe and Japan and expand on the openings with the People's Republic of China and the Soviet Union until the war in Indochina is ended. — W. A.

Healthy Enough

Contrary to the impression created by television shows and popular novels, hospitals are not always the most beloved institutions in a community.

Hospital boards generally like to operate with as little publicity or public scrutiny as possible, a foolish policy which allows the public imagination free rein in any direction, and which may have fostered unfounded rumors here recently.

Bannock Memorial Hospital was accused of losing large sums of money this summer, and rumor painted a crisis picture.

Robert Smith, Bannock Hospital administrator, says the hospital is expected to have a deficit of $25,000 to $50,000 this year, but he adds time deposits now gathering interest, are expected to make up the loss.

For a small community hospital, the anticipated deficit is not unusual. In many places, hospitals almost always operate at a loss, with taxpayers or a sponsoring agency such as a church making up differences.

According to Smith, Bannock County last year budgeted $40,000 to Bannock Memorial. The money went to a new cobalt therapy unit. Patientwise, accounts balanced, the administrator says. In 1969, the $3 million operation showed about $100,000 net gain, according to Smith. This contrasted with a 1968 net loss of $92,182 and a 1967 $31,427 net loss, he states. The health of the citizens, obviously, affects the health of the hospital.

A "profit" or loss of $100,000 annually is considered a good situation for hospitals of Bannock's size, he feels. Part of the dollar crunch felt by Bannock and many other U.S. hospitals this year will be the muzzle fitted by Phase 2, which imposed price controls.

The hospital's financial situation, while not ideal, is not as bad as rumor has painted it. Of more concern is the situation which can foster such undue alarm.

As Gerald Hart, associate administrator at Bannock asked, "Why don't they ask us in person if they have questions?"

Norway could well have been a "yes" for entry. Last month's summit conference in Paris, of leaders of the expanded market also heightened the Norwegians' impression of being left out.

One cannot help feeling that the Norwegian voters never really understood the issues involved in the referendum. This was due in large part to the strident campaign of the antimarketers, who whipped up emotions in a way extraordinary for a people usually as placid as the Norwegians.

However, it will always be possible for Norway to reapply for membership, and, if the opinion swing is confirmed, that day may come sooner than seemed likely six weeks ago.

President's Purge

WASHINGTON — It's been a grim week in the White House. After his landslide election, instead of getting even with the Democrats, President Nixon surprised everyone by announcing that he was purging the Republicans who helped him get elected. Everyone with a high Administration job has been asked to hand in "his resignation."

Who goes and who stays is still very much up in the air, and it's very hard for one to do his job when the black cloud of unemployment hangs over his head.

One source in the White House told exactly what kind of week it's been:

Pat Nixon came into the President's office.

"Look what someone just gave me," she said angrily.

"What is it, Pat?" the President asked.

"It's a resignation form to fill out. Are you asking me to resign?"

"It's just a formality," President Nixon said. "I've asked everyone in the White House to resign so I can get rid of the people I don't want."

"But that's unfair," Pat protested. "I worked very hard for you during the campaign."

"Of course you did, Pat, and I told Haldeman and Ehrlichman to take that into consideration. I said, 'When we go over the list of the people we're dropping, keep in mind that Pat was at my side during the three times I left the White House to campaign.'"

Mrs. Nixon held the resignation in her hand and said tearfully, "You would think, after all these years there would be no question about my staying with you for your second term."

"Now don't get upset, Pat," the President said. "I owe you a lot, but I have to do what's best for America. I can't give special favors to any group nor can I as President favor one person in the White House family over another. I assure you we will take a close look at your record before we make any definite decision."

"Dick, don't you remember the 'Checkers' speech," the stonking in South America, your defeats in 1960 and 1962? I was the only one who didn't turn her back on you. Doesn't that count for something?"

"It does, Pat. We've not only got all those facts but we have your FBI record as well. On the basis of all this I would guess you have a better than 50-50 chance of staying in the White House. But it isn't my decision alone. The purge staff has to look at the big picture. How much money is it costing us? Is the person doing more than his share of the work he is assigned? Was he involved in the Watergate bugging affair? And finally, is the job worth not eliminating altogether?"

"I went with you to China, I went with you to Russia, I went with you to Iran. Surely that must mean a lot to you."

"It does, Pat. The boys were very impressed with those trips and it's a big plus. At the same time, the next four years are going to be the most important in the history of the United States. I can't afford to make any mistakes if I want my rightful place in history. That is why I asked for everyone's resignation. There is too much deadwood in my Administration."

"Suppose I refuse to resign?"

"Pat, please don't put me in that position. You've meant a lot to me during all these years, and I would hate our relationship to end on a bitter note. I assure you that when your name comes up in the meeting, I'll be fighting for you to stay on, even if we have to change your job designation."

"Thank you, Dick," Pat said. "I appreciate that."

Just then the door flew open and Julie Nixon Eisenhower and Tricia Nixon Cox burst in.

"Daddy!" cried Tricia. "They've asked us to resign!"

"Good grief," the President said exasperatedly. "I can't save everybody."

anything except his own labors. He was never rich, but what he had when he died he had earned by hard work that at times approached drudgery.

His life, in today's context, was guided by the old-fashioned values "reformers" urge us to discard. He enlisted in the Army at 17 to fight in World War I, and nearly died of diphtheria resulting from a wound suffered on a Flanders battlefield.

Except for his belated engineering studies as a middle-aged father, he had little education. He worked for many years with his hands, as an auto mechanic. He pumped gas in his own filling station and changed flat tires in a day when you wrestled tires off the rim with your bare hands, not by turning a crank.

And at last he was able to turn to his true vocation as an engineer, surveying thousands of acres of land in the outdoors he loved in January's blizzards as devoutly as in June's sunshine.

He and Esther raised four handsome strapping sons and two comely daughters — and marvelled at countless grandchildren. In their home there was not only affection but caring, and a firm parental demand that responsibilities be assumed.

So I write about my brother, who is dead. But if there is, in these words it is paid not so much to Ben as to a whole brotherhood, men to whom no monuments are raised, just him that he might live by men who pay their way.

ANDREW TULLY

Ben Sat Down

SOUTHBRIDGE, Mass.

Ben sat down to read the evening paper after supper — his kid brother in Washington is the only member of the family that eats dinner at night — and quietly died, as he had quietly lived.

He was the oldest son in a family of seven, and he was so much older than the baby that I suppose he and I statistically belonged to different generations. But except that he was always stronger and handsomer and quietly wiser, I never noticed the gap because Ben was such good company.

Until the telephone rang to tell me he had gone, I had never realized he was old enough to call it a lifetime.

After all, he could still put away his share of rye and beer chasers with the youngest around the kitchen table. His stride was strong because he had walked thousands of miles in the tracing and often subzero New England air as a civil engineer. He had biceps like hams, only more gracefully carved.

But I write of him not to parade a personal loss, which is great, but because to me he represented a breed I fear, may be dying out in this country. I expect Ben was what our political elitists and social planners would call "little."

He was as big as they are, whoever they are, and so are the millions like him across the land.

Ben was big because he did his share. It never occurred to him that he might live by men who pay their way.

Apparent Regrets

Christian Science Monitor

Norwegians, who turned down membership in the European Common Market in a referendum six weeks ago, are now beginning to wish they hadn't.

A recent opinion shows a remarkable swing in favor of joining the market. Of those questioned, 55 per cent supported market entry to 45 against. In the September referendum 53.6 per cent voted against joining and 46.4 in favor.

Apparently the Danish referendum held one week after Norway's and resulting in a strong majority in favor of entry, caused many second thoughts among Norwegian voters. Had the Danish vote been held first, the result in

New Demo leader urged

Monday, November 20, 1972 Times-News, Twin Falls, Idaho 5

WASHINGTON (UPI) —The leader of the Democratic Governors Conference believes his party must have new leadership following its presidential election defeat but feels the ouster of National Chairman Jean Westwood need not necessarily be carried out next month.

Gov. Dale Bumpers of Arkansas said Sunday the Democrats need a chairman who "will help us all lower our voices and raise our ideals a little bit." He indicated he did not believe Mrs. Westwood, the hand-picked chairman of presidential candidate George S. McGovern, could unify the party.

Bumpers also said, when asked what McGovern's role in the party should be, that he had "never believed in this business of titular heads of the party." He said, however, he believed McGovern would continue to play a very active role in the party "as he rightfully should."

The Democratic governors will meet Dec. 3 in St. Louis, and at that time may make a recommendation on the party leadership. Last week, Bumpers and four fellow Democratic governors met in the Washington suburbs and issued a statement calling for Mrs. Westwood to step down.

The 303-member Democratic National Committee will meet in Washington Dec. 9 and may decide the issue of party leadership at that time. For her part, Mrs. Westwood has said she will not resign and does not intend to serve as a "scapegoat" for McGovern's landslide defeat by President Nixon.

Bumpers was asked if he felt Mrs. Westwood should be replaced at the Dec. 9 meeting. "I don't think that's absolutely necessary at all," Bumpers said. "I just think that we should be seeking new leadership."

Bumpers said, however, that a vote on Mrs. Westwood's leadership "could come" at the Dec. 9 meeting.

The Arkansas governor was interviewed on CBS News' "Face the Nation."

Bumpers declined to say who he believed should be named party chairman. He said he believed there were a number of Democrats who were "eminently qualified" for the job. He said it was "probably, true" that new leadership should be more centrist.

"Certainly this past election has demonstrated that the mood of the country was highly centrist," Bumpers said.

Bumpers said he believed there should be "another look" at rules designed to give young people, women and minority groups a greater voice in party affairs. He said the rules "actually distorted the democratic process."

'Dirty politics' increasing

WASHINGTON (UPI) —The Fair Campaign Practices Committee reports it received 25 per cent more complaints of dirty politics during this year's election campaign than it did in 1968.

The committee's executive director, Sam Archibald, said Sunday his records of the 1972 campaign showed more candidates than ever before tried to "distort the facts, to falsify political rhetoric, to misinterpret the facts."

Many of the offenses occurred in campaign mailings, Archibald said in a UPI "Washington Window" interview.

Instead of the usual objections about unfair television campaign spots, Archibald said, "we got a large number of complaints about dirty letters."

"We received only three complaints this year about dirty, overstated television advertisements in political races," Archibald said.

Candidates, he said, "seem to be going the direct mail route to the voters."

Archibald said many of the complaints were from candidates objecting to the abuse of the free mailing privilege given to members of Congress.

Tax revenue hike proposed

WASHINGTON (UPI) —Rep. Henry S. Reuss, D-Wis., wants to increase federal revenues by $9 billion a year through a "loophole-plugging tax reform" bill.

Reuss, a leading congressional advocate of tax reform, said Sunday he would introduce his bill when the 93rd Congress convenes in January.

His proposal can be implemented immediately while the House Ways and Means Committee carries out its pledge to review the entire internal revenue code, Reuss said.

Reuss said it would raise $3 billion in revenue to repeal the asset depreciation range (ADR) system which permits a 20 per cent faster depreciation writeoff of plant equipment than provided in tax guidelines for corporations.

Another $2 billion would be raised, Reuss said, by applying the capital gains tax levied on appreciated assets that are transferred by sale or gift to similar assets transferred at death. He said still another $2 billion could come from increasing the 10 per cent minimum tax on preferred income such as oil depletion allowances and the excluded half of capital gains to 20 per cent and lowering the first $30,000 of income exempted from the tax to $12,000.

Troop number drops

SAIGON (UPI) —American military strength in Vietnam dropped last week by 1,000 men to 29,300, the lowest level in 6-12 years, the U.S. command said today.

To meet President Nixon's goal of 27,000 men by Dec. 1, troop strength must drop by another 2,300 men in the next 10 days.

The last time American troop strength in Vietnam was as low as it is now was in March, 1965, when there were 29,100 servicemen.

The command said most of last week's reduction was in the army, which dropped by 1,500 men to 16,600. The last American base camp perimeter guard company was disbanded earlier this month when Long Binh post, once the largest American military installation outside the continental United States, was turned over to the South Vietnamese.

The other 300 men leaving the country during the week were air force personnel. There are now 9,900 airmen in Vietnam.

Viet Cong wipe out Cambodian convoy

By SYLVANA FOA PHNOM PENH (UPI) —The Viet Cong "almost entirely wiped out" a 50-truck Cambodian army convoy carrying troops and their families during an ambush Sunday on Highway 5 only 35 miles north of Phnom Penh, the government said today.

The attack came two days after the highway was declared safe from Communist attack for the first time since August. Col. Am Rong, the official Cambodian military spokesman, said the government suffered "heavy" losses of both men and equipment but he gave no casualty or damage figures. Reliable military sources said nearly every truck, including the escorting U.S. armored personnel carriers, was destroyed in the attack.

Government reinforcements were trying to reach the area.

Although the Viet Cong attack began shortly after dawn Sunday, radio appeals for air support from the embattled convoy were still being monitored at 1 a.m. today. Shortly thereafter all contact was lost with troops in the area.

Air support was denied the convoy, the sources said, because of drenching rains and heavy black cloud cover.

Government operations to open Highway 5 have been thwarted by a Viet Cong strategy of fading away from one stretch of road as government reinforcements approach only to appear several days later to cut another portion of the highway.

The high command also reported that 15 Communist and nine government troops were killed Sunday in heavy fighting around the military petroleum storage depot, 12 miles northwest of Phnom Penh just off Highway 5.

The fighting was sparked by a Viet Cong attack on a military camp close to the petroleum farm early Sunday.

Monday, November 20, 1972
Movie — On Channel 21 at 7 p.m. "Barefoot in the Park" Robert Redford and Jane Fonda shine as Paul and Corie Bratter, who are playing the newlywed game in a hopeless Greenwich Village apartment — a fifth floor walk up with no heat, no bathtub, a broken skylight and a bedroom that accommodates only a single bed. More complications? You bet — the bride's over solicitous mother, and the eccentric old rake from upstairs.

Warning on mushrooms

SAN FRANCISCO (UPI) — Health officials issued an urgent warning for Northern California residents to beware of a "burgeoning" of the normally rare "Death Cap" mushroom, which has caused the death of three persons in two weeks.

The "deadly mushroom" is "burgeoning in unprecedented numbers" in the San Francisco Bay Area, according to Ronald Russo, an expert naturalist with the East Bay Regional Park District.

The "Death Cap" is so poisonous, he said, that "you should wash your hands if you so much as pick it up."

The California Department of Health said that in addition to three known deaths in the past two weekends, at least 14 cases of violent poisoning have been reported.

Dr. Ronald Roberto of the department said of 100 deaths that occur each year in the United States from eating mushrooms, 80 per cent are due to the "Death Cap."

Russo said the "Death Cap" looks "as though it would be good to eat."

"In fact," he said, "survivors have told us it's delicious."

In 1948, William Mackenzie King retired as prime minister of Canada after serving a record 21 years, five months and five days in the post.

Death cap

THIS "DEATH CAP," a mushroom so poisonous that you should wash your hands if you so much as pick it up, is burgeoning in unprecedented numbers in the hills of San Francisco, the bay area in California, according to Ronald Russo, resident naturalist for the east bay regional park district. (UPI)

Peron's loves changed history in Argentina

BUENOS AIRES (UPI) — Juan Domingo Peron in the course of his career acquired two loves which changed the course of Argentina's history — fascism and Martin Eva Duarte.

He began his rise to power as a member of a pro-Nazi group of colonels who deposed President Ramon Castillo on June 4, 1943.

On Oct. 27, 1943, President Pedro Pablo Ramirez named Juan D. Peron president of the then unimportant and bureaucratic-ridden national labor department. The appointment changed Argentine history.

Peron had become a disciple of Mussolini while a military attaché in Italy. He had taken up with Eva, a comely, blonde radio actress from the provinces, after his first wife died childless in 1932.

Peron instituted paid vacations for all wage earners for the first time in Argentine history. He enacted a bill of laborers' rights, telling the industrialists that it was better to "control" labor and to ward off trouble.

He also created, in 1945 and 1946, the General Labor Confederation (CGT) which was to become the backbone of his own political movement. His popularity soared.

Jenious army officers pressed for Peron's removal. On Oct. 13, 1944, Peron was hustled off to Martin Garcia Island in the River Plate, a political prisoner.

Ironically, it was the act that brought him to full power.

College aide visits in valley

TWIN FALLS — Erwin H. Schiebert, consultant for planned giving, College of Idaho, Caldwell, Saturday concluded several days of fund work in Twin Falls.

He said Saturday friends of the college can help private education more than they realize if they will fully investigate the estate planning, a mutual benefit to themselves and their surviving families and the college.

Schiebert said all private colleges need support and colleges such as the Caldwell one, serving since 1891, are especially deserving as they function without federal, state or local tax grants.

Legislation slated

BOISE (UPI) — The State Parks and Recreation Board will seek enactment of a bill requiring subdividers to dedicate land in new subdivisions and planned unit developments for neighborhood recreation use.

The board also plans to sponsor legislation to tax non-returnable soft drink and beer bottles and cans, earmarking revenue for state park acquisition and development.

The United States got nearly all its beef from Texas a century ago.

Shoshone club plans projects

SHOSHONE — The Booster Club will meet Dec. 4 at the high school building.

Robert Haddock, president, states a number of projects are being investigated as possible promotion projects by the club this season.

The Booster Club was organized in the spring of 1969 to aid in obtaining a universal gym for the Shoshone school and has since been involved in several worthwhile projects.

They aim to assist with athletics and have purchased such things as new scoreboards for the high school gymnasium and installed backboards and black-topping on the outdoor court at the high school.

Each spring they host a banquet to honor athletes. A membership drive is planned, Haddock said.

SPARKLE FOR YOUR EYES

By Mary Sue Miller

More is needed for sparkling eyes of an evening than glamorous long lashes. The eyes must look clear and rested.

More eyes seem to tire and tear now than in years past. You can put the increase down to smog and air pollution. Work strains are a continuing story, of course. Whatever the cause, stinging and redness have to go.

A 10-minute rest, flat on your back with eyes closed is the best fatigue chaser. If you cover closed eyes with cotton pads dampened with witch hazel or with a prepared gauze mask, you arise refreshed and eye-bright.

But say you cannot take a treatment unless you are at home — not at the office or on the wing. You can, though, with individually wrapped masks that are impregnated with soothing unguents. You just lean back and press a mask to your closed eyelids for the time at your disposal.

After removing the mask, touch up your makeup. Compress cool water to your face. Then renew needed cosmetics — cheek color, lipstick, mascara. If you apply face powder, compress cool water to your face the second time. You'll sparkle, for sure!

P.S. Do you have an eye makeup problem? Let me know it and I will find an answer. Please do enclose a self-addressed, stamped envelope; write me in care of this paper. Otherwise a reply cannot reach you.

RELIEF FOR OILY SKIN

An oily skin can be improved. Just send for my leaflet, RELIEF FOR OILY SKIN. Advice covers corrective treatments and makeup; such special problems as pimples, blackheads and enlarged pores. For your copy, write to Mary Sue Miller in care of this newspaper, enclosing a self-addressed, stamped envelope and 15 cents in coin.

By Oswald & James Jacoby

Oswald: "Four spades is a mighty good contract. In the actual play North managed to make 12 tricks after the deuce of spades lead; a spade return to West's ace and the play of a third spade by West. After that start, South had time to ruff one of dummy's clubs and eventually discard all his three hearts on the last two clubs and the fourth diamond."

Jim: "More inspired defense would have held South to five odd. The hand is given to show one of the modern bidding conventions. North's two-diamond bid is what is known as a 'reverse.' He has bid a second suit in such manner that if partner wants to return to his first suit he must go to the three level."

Oswald: "Way back in 1935 I first wrote about reverse bids and said that such bids should be strong. A reverse by responder was a one-round force; a reverse by opener was a very strong invitation to partner to bid again."

Jim: "Modern expert bidding has gone one step further. Any reverse is now treated as a one-round force."

Oswald: "Thus, when North bid two diamonds he wasn't worried about his partner dropping the bidding there. South was forced to rebid. Not that South wanted to. He had a very minimum response. Then, as mentioned earlier, once he rebid, North had a clear-cut four-spade call."

Peron, politicians slate conference

BUENOS AIRES (UPI) — Former president Juan D. Peron today made his first major bid since returning from exile to reshaping Argentina's political future. He asked leaders of all major political movements to confer with him at dinner at an exclusive restaurant.

Altogether, a Peron spokesman said, 70 top politicians were to meet the former strongman tonight at "Nino's," an exclusive restaurant located about 20 blocks from Peron's residence.

Leaders of two movements were not invited—the "New Force," which defends free enterprise, and the "Popular Alliance," led by a retired admiral who once held the post of welfare minister under President Alejandro Lanusse. Spokesmen did not explain their exclusion.

The purpose of the meeting, a spokesman said, is to reach agreement on ground rules for national elections scheduled next March.

The military government Lanusse heads is seeking the return of civilian rule through elections and tolerated Peron's return after 17 years in exile because he still controls the huge Justicialista Party. Peron remains barred from running for president himself, but party sources "he probably will nominate a member of his party to represent Peronist interests."

Peron received wild acclaim from supporters after arriving from Rome, where he went from Madrid in a futile bid to see Pope Paul VI. But Lanusse, in his first comment on Peron's presence, sounded a less enthusiastic note Sunday. "It gives me indignation," he told dinner guests at the governor's mansion in La Plata.

A presidential press statement said Peron's neighbors suffered from noise his followers made and said police would adopt "adequate" security measures to prevent disorder and safeguard the peace. With Peronists complaining their leader had returned only to find his freedom curbed, the government withdrew an army security detachment and all but a handful of police at his residence Saturday.

SALT 2nd round opens on Tuesday

HELSINKI (UPI) — After protracted consultations East and West governments have decided to embark this week on a set of sweeping negotiations aimed at new order in a low pressure Europe and at more comprehensive nuclear arms curbs by the super powers.

On Tuesday SALT II, the second round of Strategic Arms Limitation Talks, gets under way in Geneva between Russia and the United States to seek permanent curbs on offensive missiles and their qualitative improvements. On Wednesday some 34 nations from East and West Europe, including the neutrals and unaligned as well as the United States and Canada begin to prepare for a all-European Security Conference which, if successful could result in a new European order for peaceful co-operation between rival political and ideological camps. Finally, on Jan. 31 of the coming year members of the rival North Atlantic (NATO) and Warsaw pacts headed by Russia and the United States respectively are to probe into the chances of balanced, mutual force reductions in Central Europe that could help further to defuse the situation on the continent.

The scope of these negotiations is sweeping and in some ways unprecedented. The problems are great and manifold.

Burley Nazarene services planned

BURLEY — Pastor Earl D. Hunter of the Burley Church of the Nazarene has announced his church's plans for special evangelistic services during the Thanksgiving week.

The Rev. Michael Grimshaw, an ordained minister in the Church of the Nazarene, and his wife, Judy, will serve as evangelists, singers and musicians in the special six-day program.

Rev. Grimshaw travels as a full time evangelist throughout the United States and Canada. He is a graduate of Olivet Nazarene College, Kankakee, Ill., and has been preaching since he was 17. He has served as pastor of the English speaking church of the Nazarene in Frankfurt, Germany, and has held evangelistic crusades throughout Germany and Italy. Mrs. Grimshaw is a graduate of Seattle Pacific College, Seattle, Wash., and has taught public school in the United States as well as in the U.S. military school system on Okinawa and in Germany. She has traveled extensively throughout the far east and Europe.

The Grimshaw's musical program covers a wide spectrum, from vocal solos and duets to choir work and instrumental numbers.

The crusade will begin at 7:30 p.m. Tuesday and close Sunday evening. Services will be at the same hours each night except on Sunday when Sunday School opens at 9:45 a.m. and youth activities begin at 6 p.m.

Role shift sought

BOISE (UPI) — Department of Environmental Protection and Health Administrator Dr. James Bax has said a gradual conversion of the St. Anthony Youth Rehabilitation Center to a different role is needed.

In a television interview Sunday on KTVB's "Viewpoint," Bax said he believes there is a real use at the center for diagnosis, evaluation and vocational training.

The administrator, who spent a night in a dorm at the facility, said he talked with the children there and with the staff during a trip to eastern Idaho.

He said, "I think the age of putting people in institutions not to solve problems but to duck them, is over."

Officials meet

TWIN FALLS — Librarians and trustees from Region Four will meet at the Reference Center in Twin Falls Tuesday.

Marilyn Jardine, newly appointed regional library assistant, will be introduced to the group. She will work at the Twin Falls Library and coordinate library activities for the eight county regions.

Ideas for regional and local library development will be discussed, as well as budget requests for the coming year. The meeting will begin at 10 a.m.

White House staff hiring attacked

WASHINGTON (UPI) — Rep. Les Aspin, D-Wis., has accused the White House of illegally refusing to allow an inspection of its payroll records and of breaking its promise to Congress by hiring 60 unauthorized staff members.

Aspin said Sunday he had learned the White House had built its staff up to 600, although it was authorized only 540 by Congress. He said that he and other House members, asked the Government Accounting Office (GAO) last August to review selected White House payroll records.

However, Aspin said, several days before the election the White House stopped cooperating with the GAO, which is the fiscal watchdog agency of Congress. Aspin said the GAO has the right to examine all payroll records under the 1931 Budget and Accounting Act.

"The White House made a solemn pledge to Congress that it would be honest and candid with Congress about the hiring of White House personnel," Aspin said.

Gambler offers more bets

SALMON, Idaho (UPI) — Before leaving the flying B ranch this weekend for his raft trip down the Salmon River, Amarillo Slim made another bet — this one on a football game.

T. A. Preston or Slim told his host at the ranch that he and his crew planned to go about four miles down the river to spend the first night at Driftwood Campgrounds.

They flew into the ranch from Boise Friday afternoon and spent the night playing pinochle.

Before leaving the ranch at mid-day, the Texas gambler made a bet with ranch manager Roger Thompson on the outcome of the UCLA-USC game.

The trip is part of another of Slim's bets. This one is for $31,000 and provides Slim with the wager if he can make a trip down the Salmon in the winter.

Forest service maps indicate the length of the trip from the Flying B ranch to the mouth of the canyon where they will leave the river is a distance of 35 miles.

Part of Slim's crew includes a helicopter pilot who will check on the progress of the party and assist with photographing the trip.

However, to win his bet Slim cannot have help from the helicopter or members of his party other than the one guide in his raft.

Studded tires OK in Idaho

BOISE (UPI) — Studded snow tires are allowed on Idaho highways from Oct. 1 through April 15, the Idaho Department of Law enforcement says, while some neighboring states outlaw them or have similar seasons for their use.

Colorado, Wyoming, New Mexico and Nevada allow studded tires all year around. The state of Washington has a season from Nov. 1-April 1; Oregon, Nov. 1-April 30; Montana, Oct. 1-May 31; California, Oct. 1-May 1, and Arizona, Oct. 1-May 1.

Utah does not allow the snow studs at all, officials said, but motorists passing through the state or there on a short-term basis would not be cited for tires with studs.

Bingham solves problem

BLACKFOOT (UPI) — Bingham County's solid waste disposal problem may be solved by placing container-trailers around the area which would be removed each day by a contractor and hauled to a central landfill site.

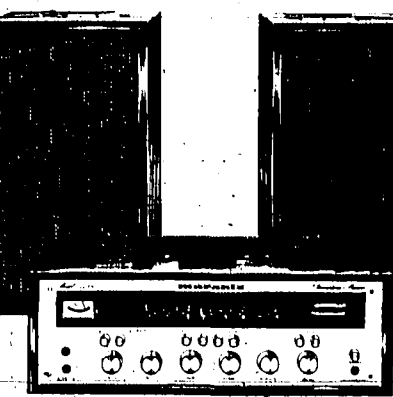

Recently, Blackfoot City, Bingham County and health authorities discussed the problem and a county-wide group was appointed to study a proposed container system.

One Blackfoot contractor explained one proposal that would have cities and the county responsible for building dumping sites with one or more in each city and others dispersed throughout the county.

He said garbage trucks and private residents could dump garbage and trash into the containers which would be removed daily by a contractor and replaced with an empty one.

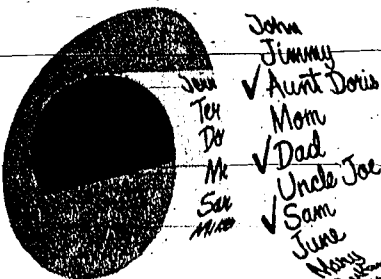

He estimated the project could be contracted for $75,000 a year. He said it would be economical because it would reduce the number of dumps and hauling mileage.

Power of British empire declined under Elizabeth

Editor's Note: This concludes a series on the marriage of Queen Elizabeth and Prince Philip who observe their 25th wedding anniversary Nov. 20.

By ROBERT MUSEL
UPI Senior Editor

LONDON (UPI)—She was young and attractive and as the Archbishop of Canterbury held the great crown of England—one of the jewel masterpieces of the world—over her head the British believed anything was possible.

It was June 2, 1953, the coronation of Elizabeth II before a mighty concourse in Westminster Abbey where she was married on Nov. 20, 1947, to Prince Philip, the Duke of Edinburgh.

Sir Winston Churchill called her "this gleaming queen" and many believed they were witnessing the start of a new Elizabethan Age. They weren't. The power and influence of the empire steadily declined. A succession of territories asked for and were granted independence.

At the Kenya Independence ceremonies in 1964, just before the Union Jack came down for the last time, irrepresible Prince Philip turned to President Jomo Kenyatta and said: "Are you sure you don't want to change your mind?"

The Commonwealth was badly shaken by the withdrawal of South Africa where Elizabeth on her 21st birthday had pledged her life to the service of her people. Her reign has now stretched from the Korean War through Suez, Cuba, Vietnam and the troubles in Ireland. Six prime ministers have made their weekly reports to her for she has the right to be informed and the right to advise though her advice may be disregarded.

It has not been easy as queen or woman. Her younger sister, Princess Margaret, fell in love in 1953 with Group Captain Peter Townsend, a divorced man—and the queen is head of the Church of England which does not recognize divorce. But she let her sister make up her own mind, in the sensation of 1955, not to marry Townsend. She was threatened with assassination before a tour of Canada in 1964 and Quebec separatists jeered and insulted her when she was there but she went. Her courage has never been questioned.

She was booed by students, some of them drunk, at Stirling University in Scotland in October this year. It was a particularly flagrant example of boorishness and most of the students later apologized. In a less offensive situation involving the young, the queen told an aide: "Wouldn't you have done the same at their age?"

Elizabeth and Philip and Crown Prince Charles and Princess Anne are the first British royalty of the TV age and their people know more about them and have seen more of them than any royal figures of the past. The cameras have imposed some restraints—royalty has to resist the impulse to scratch a nose or ear because the cameras will close in. Sensitive microphones mean they must watch their language. In Australia in 1970 Princess Anne could be heard complaining that her "bloody scarf" kept blowing into her eyes.

On the other hand a 105-minute BBC documentary on the Royal Family in 1969 was shown around the world and gave her people a view of the queen, her life and her family they had never seen before. They saw the sovereign feeding carrots to her horses from a silver tray, making the salad at a family barbecue and licking the dressing from her fingers. Whatever drawbacks there might be in televising of public appearances, TV more than made up for everything with the Royal Family.

The queen has been abroad 28 times and traveled 380,000 miles on visits to 48 countries including the United States in 1957 where she was a guest of President Eisenhower at the White House, and in 1959 when she addressed the United Nations. This is not much more than half the trips made by Prince Philip but then, as the queen once remarked, "Philip was born with itchy feet."

It was Philip's rage for travel that led to rumors of trouble in the marriage in 1957. The prince was on a four-month Commonwealth voyage and did not break it to fly home for Christmas. What emerged from that flurry was that the royal couple have differences like any other married pair but nothing serious. And there was no other woman.

The queen and Prince Philip sleep in a large double bed with a silken canopy. They have individual bathrooms and dressing rooms. They breakfast together (the pats of butter are monogrammed) at 8:15 a.m. in a room overlooking a small flower garden and she pours out his coffee before her own tea. They discuss the mail, the day's engagements and read four newspapers. The queen also reads Sporting Life, an authority on thoroughbred horse blood lines.

It's not easy to oversleep in Buckingham Palace. Ever since the time of their mutual great-grandmother, Queen Victoria, a Scottish piper has marched outside the bedrooms at 9 a.m. shrilling his pipes. The children look in before going to school and by 9:30 the queen and Philip are in their separate offices for several hours desk work. They may not see each other again until evening when they try, engagements permitting, to dine together. Afterwards they watch TV if there is something they particularly want to see.

Usually during the evening officials arrive with documents for the queen to sign. The royal couple goes to bed about 11:30 p.m. with a pot of tea they made themselves with a silver kettle he gave her for Christmas. That's the weekday routine. Weekends are for private family life, at Windsor Castle, if possible. They ride and, in summer, swim in the palace pool. At night they have their hobbies, Philip with his painting and model making, the queen with her jigsaw puzzles or books on the turf.

Philip was one of the best polo players in the country but has given it up because of an arthritic wrist. The queen was a crack rifle shot and in 1961 killed four stags with four shots from an army issue rifle but she does less tramping in the Scottish wilds than in former years.

The younger children call Prince Philip Poppa. He is raising the two young princes, Andrew, 12, and Edward, 8, on a committee basis. They have a vote in decision affecting them. Philip was spanked as a boy and his children get the same treatment when merited. They have been known to wear the hand-me-down of elder brother, Charles, the heir to the throne.

Philip is a member of the Privy Council and his wife has declared him First Gentleman in the Land in precedence but he does not have—and may not want—the higher title of Prince Consort which Queen Victoria conferred on her Albert. This would give Philip the right to see state papers but it would also subject him to security restrictions. He has enough on his plate as it is. He makes 60 to 80 speeches a year, writes most of them himself and is involved in over 350 organizations.

The queen uses a sunlamp in winter because of the nose and throat weakness common in her family. One persistent cold and cough in May, 1971, worried her friends, and her doctors would like her to be able to spend part of the winter in a warmer climate. One of her doctors, Dr. Margery Blackie, is a homeopathist. The Royal Family has a long connection with homeopathy and herbal medicine. The queen eats sparingly.

drinks a little, doesn't smoke, has her hair done once a week and sometimes arranges it herself. She has always had a string of corgi dogs one of which is buried with the headstone: "The Queen's faithful friend, Susan."

Her obsession with horses is sometimes satirized on TV and in print but the truth can be found in a visit to Australia an aide gave Philip a cable for the queen. It read "one-second-four." "I don't know what this means," Philip said. "It must be code." The queen laughed: "Not at all. It's that horse I was interested in. It came in first in the second race by four lengths."

What do doctors recommend for patients in pain?

Doctors all over the country dispense over 50,000,000 of these tablets to their patients each year.

There are many medications a physician or dentist can prescribe for pain. Some are narcotic, many are available only on prescription. But there is one pain reliever, available without prescription, doctors dispense again and again... Anacin.

Each year, doctors give over 50,000,000 Anacin tablets to their patients in pain. If doctors think enough about Anacin to dispense all these tablets, what better recommendation can you ask when you are in pain?

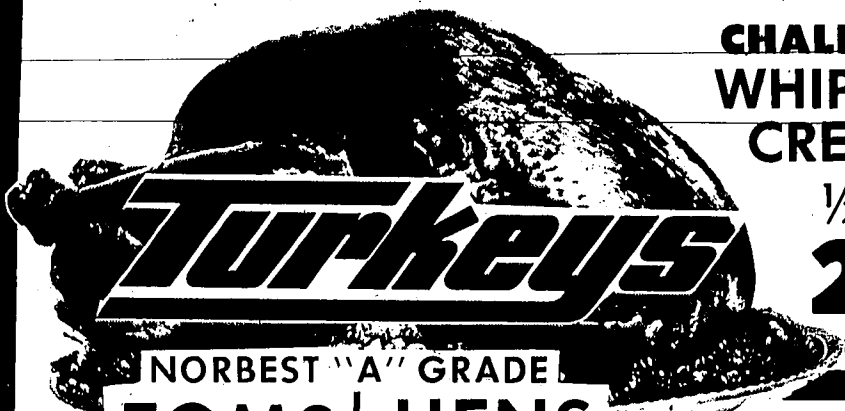

You see, Anacin, contains more of the pain reliever doctors recommend most than any other leading tablet.

Headache and dental pain is relieved incredibly fast; minor pains of arthritis are dependably eased for hours; even the aches and pains of colds and flu respond to Anacin. So the tension and depression that can be caused by such pain will be relieved too. And millions take Anacin without stomach upset. When you're in pain, why don't you follow the practice of so many doctors and take the tablet a doctor might give you in his own office. Take Anacin.

Yost says false facts presented

By PEGGY CHU
Times-News Writer

WENDELL — James Yost, senator-elect from district 23, has charged that the proposed amendment to cut the number of state agencies, was misrepresented to the people.

Yost (R-Wendell), who defeated Sen. Don Frederickson said that there are not 260 funded state agencies, as SJR 132 supporters maintained.

"He said some of the agencies were listed twice and that some of those named were not even funded by the state. In the case of the wheat, bean and other agricultural commissions, the state functions only as a bookkeeper, appropriating the same amount back to the commissions as the agency collects in dues and turns over to the state, he said.

Yost, 24, said that some of the other amendments, possibly more important than SJR 132, might have passed if as much attention had been given them, but added that he was in favor of the concept of SJR 132. "The state government is overstaffed with directors and administrators who are afraid to take decisive stands," Yost claimed. He said he hoped that consolidation of agencies, especially in the administrative channels, would help alleviate the problem.

Yost describes himself as a conservative, conscious about the tax dollar. He said the tax dollars could be used more efficiently and provide more services.

Calling for abolishment of the electoral college and a popular vote for the President, Yost stated that the governing power should be turned back to the people. The federal government should yield power to the state and the state should yield more of its power to the local government, he said.

Yost says he is a concerned, but not radical environmentalist who thinks that all interests can work together to preserve the natural beauty of Idaho. He said that he is against closing the door to anyone or any industry that wants to come here, but that the state should show preferences to industries which are compatible with the state.

Yost was born in Rupert, raised in the Hazelton area, and moved to Wendell during his junior year in high school. He attended CSI and was graduated from Boise State College in 1971 with a B. A. degree in education. Upon his return to Wendell, where he is a Young's Dairy distributor for the area, friends talked to him about entering politics, he said.

He first became interested in politics when he served as a Boys' State legislator in high school. While at BSC he met many political figures, and had conversations with Gov. Don Samuelson while he was employed as a groundsman at the governor's mansion.

In May of this year, Yost began attending Gooding County Republican Central Committee meetings. Because there was no Republican candidate for the senate seat, after some deliberation he decided to run, he said.

For two days after the state Republican convention he and his wife, the former Ronda Hagan, Hazelton, mapped out his campaign strategy. Yost said he never mentioned his opponent, not wanting to get into a mud-slinging contest. He said he concentrated on making his name known, did a lot of door-to-door campaigning and ran on his qualifications.

Trucker injured in wreck

TWIN FALLS — A Kearns, Utah truck driver escaped serious injury Saturday when the truck and Semi-trailer he was driving went out of control and crashed south of Rogerson.

Idaho State Police said William Kay, 29, was driving south about 12 miles south of Rogerson on Highway 93, about 6 p.m. when his rig crossed the dividing line and separated.

The trailer continued off the east edge of the road, while the truck crossed back over into the southbound lane and went off the highway on the west side.

Damage to the rig was estimated by police officials at $5,000.

Kay was treated at Magic Valley Memorial Hospital Saturday and then released.

Interstate accident

AN ESTIMATED $10,000 damage was done to a truck and trailer which turned over this morning on Interstate 89 west of the Kimberly-Hansen exit. The vehicle overturned after the driver Clarence Kay Francis, 36, Burley, attempted to pass another vehicle on the slush covered highway. Francis and his passenger John Fommesbeck, 30, Oakley, were not injured.

AF pilot rescue told

WENDELL (UPI)—The rescue over the weekend of an Air Force pilot, whose parents live in Wendell, brought relief to his family, his mother said Sunday.

Mrs. Oscar Thaele said she received a telegram that told of the rescue of her son, Capt. Kenneth D. Thaele, 33, the father of three, and a 10-year air force veteran who went to Vietnam last April.

"We got a telegram that said he is all right. He went to a hospital for treatment of a burn over his right eye," Mrs.

Thaele said.

"I don't know much more about it, but the telegram said our son would see us soon. I don't know if that means he will be coming home or what, but we are relieved," she added.

Thaele and Maj. Norbert J. Maier, 36, Avalon, Pa., were shot down last Thursday while flying an escort mission for a B52 bomber strike. Their F105 Thunderchief went down some 15 miles southwest of Thanh Hoa, near the 20th Parallel.

A helicopter flew into a valley near the north Vietnamese port of Thanh Hoa to rescue them Saturday, defying well dug-in communist troops. The two men parachuted into the jungle between two hills three days before.

Thaele's wife, Diana, and their three children, who live at McConnell Air Force Base, Wichita, Kan., were notified of his rescue.

Mock blastoff slated

CAPE KENNEDY (UPI) — Engineers prepared to pump frigid propellants into Apollo 17's rocket today in the final hours of a countdown rehearsal for the last scheduled launch to the moon Dec. 6. The trial countdown was headed toward a mock blastoff at 9:53 p.m. EST, the time of day astronauts, Eugene A. Cernan, Ronald E. Evans and Dr. Harrison H. "Jack" Schmitt are scheduled to begin their 13-day flight.

Today's countdown drill was the last major preflight test before the actual countdown begins Nov. 30.

Technicians working under the glare of 130 powerful floodlights moved the massive mobile service structure away from the 363-foot rocket-spacecraft combination during the night to prepare for the start of fueling operations.

Cernan, Evans and Schmitt are not participating in the exercise today because of the dangers involved with a Saturn 5 rocket loaded with more than 1 million gallons of propellants.

The astronauts plan to wait until the liquid oxygen and liquid hydrogen fuels are drained and then run through their part of the countdown Tuesday night. They will wear spacesuits and board their command ship "America" as if they were about to set out for the moon.

The three crewmen have completed the most intense part of their training and they now are restricted to the Kennedy Space Center and nearby Patrick Air Force Base in an attempt to minimize their chances of exposure to contagious diseases.

A thought for the day: American writer O. Henry said, "What a woman wants is what you're out of. She wants more of a thing when it is scarce."

Knieval saved the other boy, Kelly, 12, by grabbing his jacket to keep him from going under.

The four were duck hunting aboard the 13-foot raft when the craft struck a log and capsized.

Filer schools hold conferences

By MARJORIE LIERMAN Times-News writer

FILER — The Filer schools' parent-teacher conferences ended Friday evening with the general consensus they had been productive and worthwhile.

Although some schools in the state have had those conferences for a number of years, this was the first time the Filer schools had scheduled them.

Fifteen-minute sessions took place between teachers and parents in the Hollister Elementary School, Filer Elementary School and Filer High School.

Teachers were enthusiastic about the results of the conferences. Several stated that many times there are parents of some children they would never have a chance to meet otherwise.

"They felt many questions regarding children's progress in the classes had been successfully answered."

Most parents agreed the meetings were a very good thing with only a small majority objecting to being called to the schools for conferences with their children's teachers.

Parents were given their choice of two afternoon or one evening meeting times. Because of many fathers wanting to attend the sessions, limit had expired.

the evening-time proved most popular and some parents were kept waiting in lines for short times.

Parents took advantage of the waits for a cup of coffee and cookies made at each school by the hot lunch staffs. A delicious assortment of many flavored cookies was on hand, as well as punch for those preferring it to coffee.

At the high school the bells rang to donate the fifteen-minute periods. At the choice of two afternoon or one evening meeting times, and parents were informed by the principal of the Filer Elementary School.

Students from the four top grades of the elementary schools served as guides to help parents find their children's rooms and teachers, also assisted in serving refreshments.

Teachers had assembled folders for each child with their name on, containing samples of work and the report card for the first nine months season.

Due to school board ruling, plans are to hold the teacher-parent conferences at the end of each first and third nine-week period, according to Bill Heaps, principal of the Filer Elementary School.

Abby

Abigail Van Buren

DEAR ABBY: Do you know a doctor who will perform a hysterectomy on me? I live in Chicago, but I'll go anywhere. I've been to three doctors and they all refused me.

I am 33 years old, married, and have three children, which is all I want. My husband is 44, and he doesn't want any more either.

Birth control pills are out. They gave me all the symptoms of pregnancy and I felt rotten all the time I took them. And the other methods are too much trouble. The only safe way I know of closing down the baby factory is to have a hysterectomy and get it over with.

Rush me the name of a doctor I can go to and say, "Abby sent me." Thank you.

NO MORE BABIES

No baby factory

DEAR NO MORE: Sorry, but I don't know a doctor who will remove healthy organs. Since both you and your husband agree that your family is complete, why doesn't he consider a vasectomy? It's a relatively simple, inexpensive operation which changes a working model into a sports model.

DEAR ABBY: I have a 35-year-old daughter who has been married for 14 years to a man who is the most overbearing, foul-mouthed bully who ever lived.

He yells at her in front of people and he orders her around like she was his servant. Agnes has worked to help support the family (they have four children) and between her job and her home she has her hands full. Her husband has never left a hand to help her at home. Every weekend this bum is either playing golf or at some kind of sports event.

Agnes is a gentle person who never stands up for herself. She just lets him push her around.

I contend that as her father, I have the right to demand that he treat her with the respect she deserves.

I would like your opinion. SON-IN-LAW PROBLEMS

DEAR PROBLEMS: I realize it hurts you to see your daughter abused, but you have no "right" to demand anything. Agnes is an adult, and if she allows herself to be pushed around and treated like a servant, it's her problem, not yours. And until she makes a few demands and stands up to him, she can expect more of the same.

DEAR ABBY: I baby-sit five days a week for eight preschool children in my own home. I love children and need the money. I am a widow and am helping to get my own children thru college.

All the children I baby-sit with are given excellent care and attention, and I charge a nominal fee for the service I render.

Recently, a woman with two children asked me if I would give her a reduced rate. Abby, it's no easier to take care of two children from the same family than from different families. If anything, it's more difficult, because sisters and brothers are more likely to quarrel or gang up together against the other children.

Doctors, dentists, amusement parks don't give discounts for children from the same family. Why should baby sitters? How can I explain it to this mother?

CONSCIENTIOUS SITTER

DEAR SITTING: Simple. The same way you explained it to me.

CONFIDENTIAL TO THOSE WHO DON'T KNOW WHAT TO GIVE THE CHILD WHO HAS EVERYTHING FOR CHRISTMAS: I highly recommend a subscription to the monthly magazine Highlights for Children. There are stories for adults to read to youngsters not yet able to read, as well as articles for children from 6 to 12 years old. RICHFIELD — New library shelves will be added to the Richfield High School library.

Richfield PTA members approved the building of the shelves as its service project for the year at their regular PTA meeting Thursday night at the school.

Mrs. Linley T. Sanders, high school librarian, said the added shelves are needed to hold the increasing number of new books being added to the library.

For the program the high school drama club presented a one act play, "The Storm." Cast members included Mickey Holland, Nick Husbsmith, James Kennison, Yvonne Jensen and Brenda Johnson. The play was directed by V. C. Ross.

The attendance awards went to the third and ninth grade rooms. Refreshments were served by the sixth grade room mothers.

Market Review

NEW YORK (UPI)—Investors remained cautious today and prices on the New York Stock Exchange moved irregularly in moderately active trading.

Shortly before noon, the Dow Jones industrial average was off 1.65 at 1,003.02. Standard & Poor's 500 stock index was off 0.17 at 115.32. Advances led declines, 600 to 501, among 1,004 issues on the tape.

Two-hour volume came to more than 7,000,000 shares compared with 6,200,000 shares in the same period Friday.

Some analysts were dubious about the ability of the market to continue upward. The Dow has risen over 80 points since Oct. 10, with minimal profit taking. Several encouraging economic reports have bolstered investor sentiment recently, including a report early Friday the government would revise third quarter gross national product upward.

In the news background, presidential adviser Henry A. Kissinger met with the North Vietnamese in Paris for continued peace talks.

Morrall leads Dolphins to tough win over Jets

MIAMI (UPI) —Earl Morrall, Miami's aging "insurance" quarterback, brought the Dolphins from behind twice with a 31-yard touchdown run and a key first down dash Sunday for a cliff-hanging 28-24 victory over the New York Jets which clinched the American Conference East title for Miami.

The 38-year-old Morrall's heroics gave the Dolphins their 10th victory without defeat and second win of the season over the Jets who are now 6-4 in the AFC East with only four games to play. Miami became the earliest division title winner since 1961 when the San Diego Chargers turned the trick with nine straight wins.

In addition to his long touchdown run with 8:55 left in the third period, Morrall threw a nine-yard touchdown pass to

Buffalo outlasts Patriots

FOXBORO, Mass. (UPI) — John Leyboldt booted a 45-yard field goal five seconds before the final gun after Maurice Tyler intercepted his second pass of the game and the Buffalo Bills packed 10 points into the final 55 seconds Sunday to top the New England Patriots, 27-24.

Dennis Shaw gave the Bills a tie at 24-24 with 14:05 gone in the final period with a 42-yard touchdown pass to Bob Chandler that was set up by Linzy Cole's 51-yard kickoff return.

Tyler picked a Jim Plunkett pass on his own 34 yard line and returned it 28 yards to the New England 38 to set up Leyboldt's 45-yard winning boot.

The Bills led 17-7 at halftime but Plunkett tossed a two-yard touchdown pass to Bob Windsor with 2:34 in the third quarter to bring the Patriots to within three points at 17-14.

O.J. Simpson fumbled at his own 40 on a Buffalo running play and Honor Jackson pounced on the ball to set up John Zarver's one-yard run that gave New England a 21-17 lead.

Mike Walker closed out the New England scoring with a 36-yard field goal with 1:55 left in the game.

The Patriots took a 7-0 lead at 14:08 of the first quarter as Jim Plunkett, who hadn't thrown a touchdown pass in six games, completed a 32-yarder to Randy Vataha.

But Lane, Stagers and John Brockington came back to give the Packers an 11-point margin. Stagers returned a Pastorini punt 15 yards to the Green Bay 49 to set up the final touchdown. Lane, who made 126 yards in 16 carries to lead all ground gainers, ran twice for eight yards, Brockington ran twice for seven yards and then Lane raced the final 36 yards crossing the goal line standing up.

McArthur Lane scored the Packers' other touchdown on a 36-yard run in the fourth quarter after Houston had pulled to within four points 14-10. Green Bay added a safety with 4:01 to go in the game when Bob Brown tackled Dan Pastorini in the end zone.

Houston's only touchdown came on a one-yard run by Paul Robinson in the second quarter. Skip Butler kicked a 13-yard field goal in the last quarter to pull the Oilers close.

Landry is key to Lions win

DETROIT (UPI) —Quarterback Greg Landry completed 18 passes, two of them for touchdowns, to lead the Detroit Lions to an easy 27-14 victory over the defensively weak New Orleans Saints Sunday.

Landry was able to hit 11 receivers almost at will through a weak Saint pass defense. Landry passed for more than 270 yards, completing 18 of 27 passes in his best passing performance of the season.

Saints quarterback Archie Manning, who in past National Football League games has done a lot of running, stayed in the air and completed 20 of 29, including a sensational 48 yard pass to Dan Abramowicz, his favorite receiver all day.

The Lions completely dominated play in the first three quarters, scoring on Landry passes in the first and second quarters, an Earl Mann field goal in the third and a one-yard run by Mel Farr in the last after Len Barney's second interception of the afternoon.

The Saints, stalled in earlier drives by fumbles or interceptions, finally got on the scoreboard in the fourth quarter when Manning took the Saints 83 yards in 13 plays and hit Abramowicz for 13 yards in the end zone.

touchdown and hit end Wayne Stewart with a five-yard scoring pass at 3:59 of the third quarter to put New York ahead 24-21 at that point.

Fullback John Riggins capped an 80-yard Jets' drive at 2:23 of the first period with a one-yard touchdown plunge. Bobby Howfield booted a 33-yard field goal late in the second quarter after W. D. Hloks intercepted a Morrall pass and returned it 40 yards to the Miami nine.

Cowboys batter Eagles

PHILADELPHIA (UPI) —The Dallas Cowboys battered Philadelphia into errors of all sorts Sunday and clubbed the Eagles 28-7 behind Greg Morton's passing and Calvin Hill's running.

Morton threw for 167 yards and a touchdown before giving way in the fourth quarter to Roger Staubach, who made his first appearance of the season after recovering from a shoulder injury.

Hill rushed for 100 yards, scored on a six-yard scamper, and ran seven yards to set up another touchdown. Hill fumbled at the one on the play, but guard John Niland pounced on the rolling ball in the end zone.

The Eagles' broke a string of 14 quarters without a touchdown when Larry Watkins crashed 15 yards in the first quarter for their first score this season by a running back. But errors kept the Eagles from making a game of it after they led briefly 7-2.

San Diego upsets Chiefs

KANSAS CITY, Mo. (UPI) —Underdog San Diego, behind the running of Cid Edwards and the passing of John Hadl, scored 17 points in the second quarter Sunday and blitzed the fast-fading Kansas City Chiefs, 27-17.

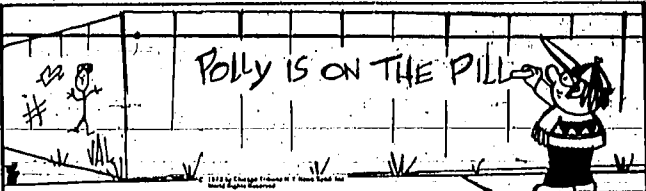

The victory was only the third for San Diego this season, while the Chiefs fell to 5-5 and 1-2 games behind Oakland in the American Football Conference's Western Division.

Hadl passed for one touchdown, ran for another, Edwards set up another with a 61-yard run with a pass and Dennis Partee kicked two field goals as a crowd of 79,011 braved 34-degree temperatures to watch.

The Chargers took command with the 17-point second quarter. San Diego broke a 7-7 tie after Tim Rossovich recovered a Mike Adamle fumble at the San Diego 46. Edwards took the ball to the Chiefs' 37 on a 15-yard run and, when the drive stalled, Partee kicked a 49-yard field goal.

Seconds later, Leonard Dunlap intercepted a deep Len Dawson pass and returned it 26 yards to tie Kansas City 47. The Chargers gained a first down when Pettis Norman ran nine yards on fourth down out of a punt formation, and Dave Williams ran 14 yards on a deep reverse.

Browns rally with late FG to nip Steelers 26-24

CLEVELAND (UPI)—Don Cockroft went from goal to hero Sunday when he booted a 26-yard field goal with eight seconds remaining as the Cleveland Browns won their fifth game in a row and kept their hopes of repeating as the Central Division champions alive in the American Football Conference with a 26-24 comeback victory over the Pittsburgh Steelers.

O'Brien boots FG for Colts victory

CINCINNATI (UPI)—Jim O'Brien kicked a dramatic 25-yard field goal on the last play of the game Sunday to celebrate his personal homecoming with a 20-19 victory for the Baltimore Colts over the Cincinnati Bengals.

O'Brien, a former University of Cincinnati star, also caught a 40-yard touchdown pass from Marty Domres and booted a 31-yard field goal in the Central Football Conference game played in a steady rain.

Spurrier paces SF past Bears 34-21

CHICAGO (UPI)—Steve Spurrier passed for five touchdowns, the best performance of a spotty, six-year career, to give the San Francisco 49ers a 34-21 victory over the Chicago Bears.

Spurrier, who won the Heisman Trophy in 1966 at Florida but has been mostly a second stringer as a pro, threw to Ted Kwalick for two first half touchdowns and hit Gene Washington, Vic Washington and Larry Schreiber for scores in the second half.

He completed 17 of 27 passes for 275 yards.

The 49ers built a 21-0 lead before the Bears, plagued by first half fumbles, finally got a touchdown midway through the third period.

But when Chicago threatened to get back into the game, closing the gap to 27-21 in the fourth quarter, Schreiber took a Lydell Mitchell bulled his way 11 yards for a touchdown in his first professional running attempt early in the fourth quarter to give Baltimore a 17-13 lead that looked like it would stand up until the Bengals mounted their 80-yard drive.

Mitchell's 11-yard run was preceded by the key recovery of a blocked Baltimore field goal attempt by linebacker Ted Hendricks, giving the Colts a second chance to score.

Mitchell, a rookie from Penn State, shook off linebacker Ken Avery behind the line of scrimmage and swept left end, dragging Cincinnati safetyman Tom Casanova the final three yards.

swing pass from Spurrier and ran 64 yards for the clinching touchdown with 8:30 to go.

Bobby Douglass threw passes 85 yards to George Farmer and 35 to Jim Seymour for touchdowns and scored himself on a two-yard bootleg.

Chicago fumbled the ball away three times in the first half, leading to both touchdowns by Kwalick.

Spurrier hit Kwalick with a two-yard pass after Ron Smith fumbled a punt and San Francisco recovered at the six-yard line and Kwalick caught a 16-yard scoring pass to end another drive that started with a fumble recovery.

That march, which consumed 9-12 minutes as the 49ers went 89 yards late in the first and early in the second quarters, was marred by six penalties—three on each team.

leading 24-23, also connected on field goals of 26, 38 and 12 yards as the Browns moved into a first-place tie with the Steelers in the Central Division.

Cool-headed quarterback Mike Phipps rifled a 17-yard pass to Browns wide receiver Frank Pitts for one touchdown and sneaked into the end zone on a one-yard plunge for his fifth TD of the year to add to Pittsburgh coach Chuck Noll's woes.

Phipps, a third year man from Purdue who took over the helm from veteran Bill Nelsen early this season, connected on 14 of 25 passes for 194 yards and a touchdown while having

New York topples Cardinals

ST. LOUIS (UPI)—Ron Johnson dove one yard for a touchdown and Pete Gogolak kicked two field goals, all in the fourth quarter, to give the New York Giants a 13-7 victory over the St. Louis Cardinals Sunday.

Johnson led all rushers with 132 yards and 29 carries.

St. Louis led most of the game and had New York in trouble late in the fourth quarter, but quarterback Nord Snead passed to Bob Tucker on a third-and-23 situation which left New York one foot short of a first down at the St. Louis 21.

Snead hit Tucker again and the big tight end was stopped one yard short of the goal line, with Johnson going in for the score.

Gogolak's field goals came from 40 and 21 yards, but he missed a 49-yarder and had another attempt blocked by John Richardson at the Cardinal 37 late in the first quarter.

St. Louis took over and marched 63 yards with Gary Cucco passing 13 yards to John Holand to cap the drive. St. Louis threatened in the final minutes, but Danny Anderson was stopped on a fourth-and-one run and New York ran out the clock.

Anderson led the Cardinal rushers with 121 yards and 22 carries.

The game was played in a snowy drizzle which made the artificial turf slick and stymied both teams' passing game.

two intercepted. He showed a standing-room only crowd of 83,009 that the Browns trade from a Miami draft choice, giving up famed wide receiver Paul Warfield, has developed into much more than had been expected just last season.

Cornerback Tom Darden's 20-yard interception of a Terry Bradshaw pass intended for wide receiver Frank Lewis set up Phipps' touchdown after running back Bo Scott cranked out 25 yards in two carries, ending the afternoon with 84 yards in 14 attempts.

Pitts caught Phipps' pass at about the 10 and sidestepped Pittsburgh cornerback John Rouse as he glided into the end zone. The score capped an end-play, 86-yard drive and put the Browns ahead 20-3 with 61 seconds left in the first half.

But Bradshaw, a three-year man from Louisiana Tech, engineered his only touchdown of the first half on a three-yard pass to Gerry Mullins who was all alone in the end zone.

Steelers' running back John Fuqua went over right guard for the club's lone TD in the third period on a one-yard blast.

Ducks defend track title

HOUSTON (UPI)—Neil Cusack and his teammates from East Tennessee State will battle defending champion Oregon and the other major college track powers for the NCAA cross country championship over the University of Houston course Monday.

Cusack finished seventh and East Tennessee was fifth last year with a record time of 29:14. Cusack ran the same course in the district this year and broke Steve Prefontaine's record with a 28:20.6 and teammate Eddie Leddy was third.

Blanda sets mark at Denver

DENVER (UPI)—Darryl Lamonica hit Fred Biletnikoff with a pair of touchdown passes and George Blanda kicked three field goals and set an NFL record with four extra points Sunday to lead the Oakland Raiders to a 37-20 win over the Denver Broncos.

The four extra points gave Blanda 812 during his 23-year professional career, moving him ahead of ex-Cleveland Brown place kicker Lou Groza, who kicked 810 extra points.

Oakland also scored on a three-yard run by Marv Hubbard and a five-yard jaunt by Charlie Smith.

Denver's touchdowns came on Charley Johnson passes of 23 yards to ex-raider Rod Sherman in the first quarter and three yards to tight end Billy Masters with 19 seconds to play. Jim Turner kicked both extra points and field goals of 49 and 45 yards.

Hubbard opened Oakland's scoring with his three-yard dash to cap off an Oakland drive of 77 yards following the opening kickoff.

Denver took a 10-7 first quarter lead when Turner kicked his 49-yard field goal and Jimmy Warren fumbled the ensuing kickoff to give Denver the ball on the Oakland 23. After Johnson threw incomplete to Floyd Little, he hit Sherman for the touchdown.

Oakland took off on another long drive with the kickoff and Lamonica threw 27 yards to Biletnikoff to end a 75-yard march early in the second quarter.

Tarkenton leads rally as Vikings top Rams

LOS ANGELES (UPI)—Fran Tarkenton threw four second-half touchdowns, including bombs of 76, 70 and 66 yards, Sunday to bring the Minnesota Vikings twice from behind in a 45-41 victory over the Los Angeles Rams before a crowd of 77,082.

The win gave the Vikings, 3-12-point favorites, a 6-4 record and enabled them to maintain their second place tie with Detroit behind Green Bay in the NFC Central Division.

The logs dropped the Rams to 5-4-1 and into a first place tie with San Francisco in the NFC West. Atlanta, 5-4, plays Washington Monday night and could move into the lead in the Western Division with a victory.

The Rams came on strong in the first half against the Vikings and led 20-10 at the intermission on a pair of one-yard touchdown plunges by Jim Bertelsen and Roman Gabriel and field goals of 33 and 34 yards by David Ray.

Minnesota got a first quarter 37-yard field goal by Fred Cox and Bill Brown scored a touchdown on a one-yard plunge.

Safetyman Paul Krause gave the Vikings a big lift on the second scrimmage play of the second half when he picked up a bouncing Willie Ellison fumble and streaked 30 yards for a score. After Cox's conversion, the Rams had only a three-point lead—20-17.

At 2:30 of the third quarter, Tarkenton connected to Brown on the Viking 47 and the veteran 213-pound running back bulldozed over Jim Purnell and Jim Nettles and rambled all the way on a play good for 70 yards.

That put the Vikings out in front 24-20 but the Rams regained the lead 27-24 after Bertelsen scored his second touchdown on another one-yard thrust to cap a 92-yard march.

FORECAST FOR TUESDAY, NOVEMBER 21, 1972

GENERAL TENDENCIES: Think out carefully how you would like conditions to be in the future. Although you want quick action, you find there are delays which will give you more time to get your affairs in better condition. Show your ability to consider problems carefully and avoid appearing impatient.

ARIES (Mar. 21 to Apr. 19) Get busy at those business matters, though you may have much shopping and other chores, also. Reach a perfect understanding with associates. You can get information or data needed from a close tie or neighbor.

TAURUS (Apr. 20 to May 20) You are able to get financial affairs in fine order now, so use your intellect to come up with the right answers to problems. Listen to what a financial expert has to suggest. Show more interest in civic matters.

GEMINI (May 21 to June 21) Don't lose your temper in the face of delays, but show patience and get busy on other matters that are important, also. That social affair is fine, but don't spend too much money. Keep within your budget.

MOON CHILDREN (June 22 to July 21) You have duties to perform that are best done right away, for you will surely have trouble if you run off on some tangent or other instead. Plan to get information you need from an expert. Use tact, though.

LEO (July 22 to Aug. 21) You are able now to gain some wish that means a great deal to you, so be sure you work slowly and carefully. You want to be with good friends, which is fine, but don't pressure them in any way. Show utmost courtesy, too.

VIRGO (Aug. 22 to Sept. 22) A fine day to put that plan in operation of a career or civic nature that will improve your image considerably. An official can be demanding and make you most uncomfortable, but use tact and all is fine.

LIBRA (Sept. 23 to Oct. 22) Get the data you need at this time if you really want to enter some new outlet that can bring you added income. A new ally gives some that is not applicable. Contact better sources later in the day.

SCORPIO (Oct. 23 to Nov. 21) You have to be conscientious in going ahead with certain tasks before you, or you can nile a higher-up badly. Small favors for the one you love mean much now. Stop acting in such a supercilious manner, too.

SAGITTARIUS (Nov. 22 to Dec. 21) Make sure you know what it is that partners want of you, and do not back out on any promises you have made them or others. Stop picking on that bone of contention, or it could become a serious problem. Keep steady.

CAPRICORN (Dec. 22 to Jan. 20) You need to get right at all those tasks ahead of you and have them satisfactorily out of the way once and for all. Gain the cooperation of co-workers who can be of real assistance right now. Take it easy in p.m.

AQUARIUS (Jan. 21 to Feb. 19) Get into the amusements that make you forget your worries and fit you better for tomorrow's big activity. Tonight you can iron out the wrinkles in your particular skills. Then you can make headway in the future. Don't worry and increase happiness.

PISCES (Feb. 20 to Mar. 20) Try not to make remarks at home that will worsen matters in that important realm of your existence and then business day is not ruined. Buy whatever is needed to add to comforts at home. Pave the way for greater harmony.

IF YOUR CHILD IS BORN TODAY he or she will be one of those young people with a truly good mind. Is apt to be impatient and would want to get out of tasks that are not to his or her liking, but are necessary for release of excessive energy and for discipline, so be sure to teach early to complete tasks well. Then the pattern is set for a successful life. There is much managerial ability here which, coupled with the ability to plan well and execute properly, can lead to a wonderful life. "The Stars impel, they do not compel." What you make of your life is largely up to YOU!

What's What

L. M. Boyd

It is in the month of December that the average wife walks 11 miles a day. Her strolling average in other months is eight miles a day.

"INSTEAD of syrup, try topping off your breakfast pancakes with a can of sardines," suggests a San Francisco gourmet. "Tasty." Not this morning.

WHY California's Napa County is such a tough place for matrimony I don't know. But seven out of every 10 marriages there break up in divorce, the record shows. Can you explain it?

THE TV COMMERCIAL showed a woman happily passing out to a roomful of men a certain brand of cigar. But the commercial was a flop. It did not inspire smokers to hotfoot it out in droves to buy said cigar. The ad agency boys wondered why. They hired a scholar to find out. After lengthy study, he told them most men enjoy cigars partly because women don't like the odor. The typical cigar smoker, this authority claims, knows full well he is going to leave a stench in the room.

QUERIES
Q. "What's the life expectancy of a 100-year-old man?"
A. He's good for another 1.53 years, statistically.
Q. "LIGHTNING starts the most fires, no?"
A. The most that really do big damage, certainly.
Q. "HOW LONG has it been since Frenchmen cut off people's heads with the guillotine?"
A. Three years, about.

CHAIN SMOKERS tend to snore. Or so some sleep researchers claim. Remember that, young lady. If the fellow

THE SECOND-HAND car has a bad name. This is unfortunate, our Love and War believes. It should be reversed, maybe even enshrined. Bear in mind, please, the enormous majority of matrimonial proposals are delivered in second-hand cars.

Navy improves under Zumwalt

WASHINGTON (UPI)—Navy officials said Saturday that despite recent racial problems discipline has not fallen apart but has in fact improved dramatically since Adm. Elmo R. Zumwalt Jr. took command.

Zumwalt took over as chief of naval operations on July 1, 1970, and soon reformed the tradition-bound Navy by changing rules about beer, beards and other matters.

But a lot of old salts — particularly retired admirals — soon were complaining that Zumwalt was making a fun and games club out of what should be a tightly honed military organization. There were charges that Zumwalt's "permissiveness" was undermining discipline.

The racial problems of the past few weeks aboard three different Navy ships—including the refusal of some crew members to sail aboard the aircraft carrier Constellation—added force to the criticism with Zumwalt.

In response to a request from UPI, Navy legal authorities provided statistics on court-martial, jail population, and minor punishments which they said show that discipline has actually improved since the reforms.

In fiscal year 1968, three years before Zumwalt took over, there were 76,000 captain's masts or 101 for every thousand Navy men.

Twin Falls man named college dean

TWIN FALLS — A former Twin Falls and Filer man has been named dean of the Willamette University College of Law.

Larry K. Harvey, son of Mr. and Mrs. Keith A. Harvey, Boise, was a 1957 graduate of the Filer High School and formerly held a private law practice in Twin Falls.

Harvey had served 16 months at the college as acting dean before his appointment. He entered the college in 1968 and served as assistant dean to Arthur Custy for two years and was named acting dean when Custy returned to teaching in South Carolina.

A cum laude graduate of the College of Idaho, Harvey earned his J.D. degree from the University of Chicago where he was a member of the Order of the Coif.

He is listed in Who's Who in the West, and is past chairman of the War on Poverty Committee of the 4th and 11th Judicial District Bar Association of Idaho, adviser to the Oregon State Bar Committee on Family and Juvenile Law for two years, and reporter for the 1962 Oregon Judicial Conference.
