Zone fight heats

By CHARLOTTE BELL
Times-News writer

JEROME — The Jerome Zoning Commission came under heavy fire Tuesday night from mobile home owners at a public hearing.

The hearing was called by the commission to hear protests over a proposal to amend the city's zoning ordinances and building code to eliminate installation of mobile homes as residences in certain areas of the city.

Over 45 people, most of whom are mobile home owners, attended the hearing where at times tempers flared and insults were lodged.

No one in favor of the proposal spoke at the meeting. It was the general consensus of those present they were being treated like second class citizens and were being discriminated against by being told where they could and could not park their mobile homes.

S. A. Kolman, Jerome attorney, presented petitions which contained 353 signatures from Jerome citizens who were opposed to the zoning proposal.

Kolman said he felt the hearing was a complete waste of time because it seemed to him and others present that the commission had already made up its mind and was not at all interested in what the people had to say.

He reminded the commission members that mobile home owners were tax payers also and were entitled to as much consideration as home owners. Kolman suggested that the matter be put to the voters and that an advisory election be held as it was with the dog leash law.

Lynn Bingham, city building inspector, informed the group that under the present city building codes there are no provisions for trailer houses and that most being constructed do not meet the standards of the code.

It was his recommendation that an amendment be added to the code to include mobile homes if and when the definition of a mobile home can be obtained.

Mike Sullivan, commission member, said the proposal would not displace any of the present mobile home owners but would provide orderly development for mobile homes which will be coming into the community in the future.

Shift approved for TF retarded

TWIN FALLS — Twin Falls school trustees voted to move retarded children from the eyesore Happy Day School to the new state Child Development Center.

Besides new quarters, the eight children involved in the shift will receive a wide range of professional services not now available.

Supt. George Staudaher said he hopes to complete the move to the center by the beginning of the next semester.

He said only signatures on a contract remain before the school completes arrangements with the state agency.

According to Donald Frank, regional director for the Idaho Department of Social and Rehabilitation Services, about $20,000 of new professional assistance will be provided through the program.

Under the arrangement, he said, the school district would contract for a package of services and the use of the building. The schools in return would pay the state its annual state allocation for each of the retarded children — $1,000 per child this year.

Staudaher said the school district would continue to provide the teacher's salary and classroom supplies at a cost of about $11,000 per year.

In addition, extra costs would be incurred as the school district will employ a part-time cook and food for the children.

Three retarded students of school age now trained at the center will be included in the program.

Students involved are those classified as "trainable." Another larger group of retarded students, classified as "educable," who attend the special education program at Robert Stuart Junior High School, are not involved in the new arrangement.

According to Frank, the new arrangement will fit well with existing programs at the center. He said the center currently has programs for the trainable retarded for preschool youngsters and persons beyond school age.

He said a team of specialists will create an individual program for each student, which will guide him from infancy to adulthood.

The in-class program, however, would be controlled by the school district's teacher, according to Staudaher.

The Twin Falls School District is the only one in Magic Valley currently involved in the program, he said.

He said contacts have been made with the Jerome School District to include its retarded pupils in the program.

The center's pre- and post-school programs are open to students throughout the valley, he said.

Staudaher said he is optimistic about the program. The situation of the involved students, he said, will be "considerably improved."

"We've been trying to get these children out of the Happy Day School for quite a while," he said.

The new arrangements, if finally approved, will have an immediate impact on a proposed school construction bond issue proposed by the school district and by a citizens committee which studied school construction needs.

All school construction proposals have included an first priority construction of new facilities for the Happy Day pupils.

With the new arrangements, that portion of the bond issue would be eliminated, school officials said.

Little progress in Paris talks

PARIS (UPI) — Peace negotiators Henry A. Kissinger and Le Duc Tho of North Vietnam met for the third time this week today. Both Kissinger and Tho smiled and looked relaxed, but there was no indication they had made progress toward ending the war.

The two sides started their meeting at 3 p.m. in a French Communist Party villa in Gif-sur-Yvette, 13 miles south of Paris.

For the first time since the new round of bargaining started Monday, the two Communist negotiators smiled broadly and waved cheerfully to newsmen as their cars arrived at the heavily guarded villa.

Kissinger also dropped his previous grim look, and wore a broad smile.

As in the past two days the negotiators did not meet at the doorsteps to shake hands, Kissinger and his aides opened the door and walked inside the red-roofed, white-washed mansion without any formal welcome.

About two hours later, Kissinger and assistant-deputy Secretary of State William H. Sullivan and four aides walked through the small garden of the villa for a few minutes, presumably discussing developments in the negotiations. They returned to the negotiating table 10 minutes later.

Neither side has been willing to characterize the two previous meetings this week during which Kissinger and Tho talked for 10½ hours. But the North Vietnamese Communists' Party newspaper Nhan Dan said Tuesday, "There is no sign allowing one to state that the talks might be fruitful. On the contrary, on the American side, there are emerging again indications auguring badly for the future."

The paper said that as late as Jan. 5 President Nixon repeated his determination to continue mining North Vietnamese ports and bombing the country.

In Stockholm, the Swedish Broadcasting Corp. (SR) said today there were indications that Hanoi expects the Paris peace talks to break down and U.S. bombings to resume before the end of the week.

SR said Hanoi had requested the Stockholm Conference on Vietnam, an organization of writers, politicians and scientists from various countries critical of American policies in Vietnam, to send an international delegation of observers to the North Vietnamese capital in case the bombings were resumed.

County budget to rise

TWIN FALLS — The Twin Falls County commissioners were prepared late this morning to adopt a $6,125 million tentative county budget for 1973.

Commission Chairman William L. Chancey said formal approval of the tentative budget would likely come this afternoon.

The tentative budget compares with $5.8 million for 1972. Most of the county departments showed a modest increase over 1972. An accounting shift placing responsibility for prisoner meals in the commissioners' budget is responsible for a large increase while the sheriff's budget shows a corresponding decrease.

The commissioners have until the second Monday in February to approve a final budget for the year. State law requires the final budget not exceed the tentative budget.

The commissioners have until

Residents pass SV bond issues

SUN VALLEY — Sun Valley voters Tuesday overwhelmingly approved two general obligation bond issues totaling $500,000.

With about half the registered voters participating, question 1, calling for issuance of $350,000 in bonds received a 36 for, 2 against vote.

Question 2 for $150,000 bonds passed unanimously, 41-0.

The $350,000 will be used to construct a public building to house the city's police and fire departments and their equipment.

The $150,000 will cover the cost of new fire fighting equipment and related apparatus, including coats and helmets for the volunteer men, air-breathing packs, ladders and hoses.

Repayment of the bonds will be spread over a 20-year period.

A two-thirds majority of those voting was required to pass both issues. Sun Valley has 8,000 registered voters.

At the time the City Council gave the go-ahead for the election, Councilman William Innes said the city may choose not to use the full $500,000.

"What we are doing," he said, "is asking the residents to give us this amount as a maximum. If the new building, for instance, costs only $200,000, that is the amount of the bonds we will sell."

New Perrine span bid opening set

BOISE — Bids for a new Perrine Memorial Bridge north of Twin Falls will be received March 20, Idaho Department of Highways officials announced today.

The 1,500-foot-long steel arch bridge and approaches will be provided through an Idaho federal aid project to replace the present two-lane structure which is now open to limited use by heavy vehicles.

E. L. Matthes, state highway engineer, said bids will be opened at 2 p.m. March 20 in the Idaho Department of Highways office in Boise.

Plans for the project may be obtained by prospectus-bidders from the department of highways, Boise, or the district highway engineer's office in Shoshone.

Announcement of the bid call does not carry a project completion date but states the department of highways will insist on completion of the project in the shortest time consistent with good construction practices.

Location of the new structure is to be just east of the present bridge with land acquired from the Twin Falls County side through private purchase and from the federal government on the north side.

Presently the bridge is 1,400 feet in length with the new span to be slightly longer. Costs will be provided by 78 percent federal funding and the remainder in 22 percent state highway revenue. Both appropriations have now been approved.

Plans call for a four-lane span across the river with a divider between north and south bound traffic lanes.

Estimated cost of the bridge has increased to $6 million, in recent estimates. The present bridge, built in 1927, cost $600,000.

Because of the importance of the canyon crossing, part of U.S. 93, the bridge project was given the number one priority on the department's 1973 construction program.

Since 1969, the bridge has been closed to any load beyond 22 tons in total weight. As a result the department of highways has maintained temporary checking stations on either side of the bridge on a 24-hour basis.

US planes hammer panhandle targets

SAIGON (UPI) — U.S. firing from "one of the hot spots" of Communist pirates warplanes armed with guided craft concentrations shot down a U.S. Navy A6 Intruder-fighter aircraft Tuesday during a missile attack on the North Vietnamese panhandle.

Two crewmen were reported missing. In South Vietnam, six Americans were reported missing in the loss of a helicopter just south of the Demilitarized Zone separating the two Vietnams.

The capture went down in bad weather Monday night.

The Institutions

There is in the United States today a general disposition to question, test and scrutinize all our institutions.

The philanthropic foundation, that's distinctively American development, has not been immune to this process.

All foundations came under the shadow of public scrutiny a few years ago when it was revealed that a very few were little more than tax-dodges by some individual taking advantage of liberal laws governing foundations. A congressional inquiry culminated in a host of new regulations written into the Tax Reform Act of 1969, whose effects foundations are still trying to cope with.

At the same time, the true scope and nature of the role played by foundations in American life remain poorly understood by many Americans.

"Foundations are an important means of putting private resources and private initiatives to work for the public good," says Robert F. Goheen, former president of Princeton University, who last fall became the first full-time chairman and chief executive officer of the Council on Foundations, Inc., whose membership includes more than 500 independent, community and corporate foundations.

Everyone has heard of the giants in the field — the Rockefeller Foundation or the Carnegie Corporation and a few others, whose annual grants amount to many millions of dollars.

But there are more than 25,000 other foundations, most of them quite small and many of them directed toward localized or restricted concerns, such as research into a specific disease.

They represent, says Goheen, a diversity of interests and activities, corresponding to the multiplicity of felt needs in the community. He describes the small foundations as "extended pocketbooks" for charitable giving.

Between 1960 and 1971, foundations gave some $12.95 billion to religious, educational, welfare, health, civic and cultural institutions and agencies and other causes, or about 8.8 per cent of the total philanthropic dollar.

As reforms sometimes do, the Tax Reform Act may have reformed too much. While establishing needed safeguards against abuse, it has unnecessarily curtailed the freedom of action of foundations in some areas.

For instance, a punitive 4 per cent tax on net investment income is returning considerably more money to the government than the cost of auditing the foundations. The tax has not hurt foundations but has hurt those the foundations serve, says Goheen, because they simply have that much less income to spend.

Because the publicized foundations are usually linked to names of great wealth, there is a widespread assumption that foundations have great influence in our society and an unwarranted concern over their supposed power.

Actually, it points out the total assets of all foundations amount to about $25 billion and their annual grants are in the $1.5 to $2-billion range. By comparison, annual expenditures of the Department of Health, Education and Welfare are around $30 billion.

As diversified and decentralized sources of funds for the public good, foundations will continue to play an important role in America's future.

Size Of The Crowd

In Los Angeles, the other day, a crowd estimated at 5,000 gathered to pressure California's Congressional delegation for a peace move.

It turned out to be one of the top "exposed" stories on national TV.

On Sunday, Jan. 14, in California, the annual Super Bowl game will be played. As we remember it, the anticipated crowd will come to 100,000 or so.

Could this be an indication that our citizens are satisfied with the way president Nixon is trying to wind down the war?

Anyway you look at it — it shows something!

WE ARE SORRY

In a recent column we complained because we had not been invited to the inauguration of President Nixon. Well, we are sorry we mentioned it, because yesterday we received such an invitation. True; it admits us only to the area where spectators will be standing, but at least we were invited in. Only trouble is — we will be unable to go. We will have to be content with watching it on TV and reading about it in the paper.

A Solid Nixon Court This Year?

WASHINGTON — Attaches in the marble palace occupied by the Supreme Court, who enjoy a bit of gossip as much as the next bureaucrat, are betting that a solid 5-4 Nixon Court will come into being this year.

Only one more appointee is needed to achieve that goal, and the morning line dispensed in the Court's corridors is that either Justice William O. Douglas or Justice Thurgood Marshall will retire in 1973 to clear the way for a fifth Nixon man. The administration lineup on the highest bench now includes Chief Justice Warren E. Burger, and Justices Harry A. Blackmun, Lewis F. Powell Jr., and William H. Rehnquist.

At 74, Douglas is the Court's oldest member. He wears an electronic heart pacemaker in his breast, a circumstance which suggests he could be having thoughts about retirement. Marshall, 64, but he has been ill off and on for the past few years.

Appointed by Franklin D. Roosevelt, Douglas is the justice Nixon would most like to be rid of — the last of the New Dealers, a fierce libertarian who led the 1971-72 Court session in dissents with 56. But despite his heart condition, Douglas just as well might be the healthiest man on the Court. He is still an outdoors buff and an enthusiastic long-distance hiker. He seems in robust good health and his mind may be the sharpest on the bench; his mental processes certainly are the most stubborn.

Moreover, "Douglas is determined not to quit. He recently told a close friend

"They'll have to carry me out in a pine box unless I decide my mind is failing." Douglas sees himself as the Court's foremost guardian of individual rights, and he has a low opinion of Richard Nixon's attitude exactly the same votes in 34 of the 64 cases in which all participated. For example, all four dissented in the Court's decisions to outlaw the death penalty and to force integration of the Emporia, Va., school district.

Indeed, even without a consistent majority on the conservative side, the Supreme Court already has swung to the right. Justice Byron R. White, a former Justice Department official, frequently has joined the Burger team in 5-to-4 rulings. Less often, the four conservative justices have been joined by Justice Potter Stewart in civil rights and welfare cases. Stewart is an Eisenhower appointee, while

White was named to the Court by President Kennedy.

Age could be a factor on both liberal and conservative sides in Nixon's plans to re-do the Court. The older Warren Court, liberal, youthful-looking William J. Brennan, at 65 is the second oldest justice. Burger and Powell are 65; Blackmun is 64; Stewart, 57; White, 55, and Rehnquist the baby at 40. They are all in good health, although Burger suffers from a chronic back ailment, but the older justices are also subject to Nature's laws.

But the fact remains that however Nature deals its hand, the Court will retain its conservative flavor for many years to come. Richard Nixon would name no liberal to replace a Burger or a Blackmun or a Powell, and he'll have the power of appointment for four more years. Senate opposition to the contrary notwithstanding. Any neutral actuary would have to bet that the child born today will find a Nixon Court still sitting when he reaches voting age.

GEORGE C. THOSTESON, M.D.

Slipped Disc

Dear Dr. Thosteson: I have recently had an X-ray of my lower back which showed a slipped disc and arthritis. I do not understand what a slipped disc is and wonder if you could explain it. The doctor mentioned an operation as a last resort. What does this operation entail? I do not want to undergo any more surgery if I can avoid it. — E.H.P.

"Slipped disc" is a term that has come into common use, medically speaking, but it isn't always an accurate term. "Damaged disc" might be better.

Anyway, between the vertebrae of the spine are pads or "discs" of cartilage, so that the bones do not bear directly on each other.

Sometimes a disc becomes misshapen, whether from injury, disease, wear and tear or whatever. For example, a disc may become worn down on one side and may "or may not be pushed somewhat out of its original normal position.

This may or may not cause any trouble. Chances are that most of us, by the time we have reached the age of discretion, have acquired a certain amount of wear on these spinal discs.

So long as they do their job — providing some separation and "padding" between the bones — who cares? But if, however, the disc is distorted enough so that pressure comes on the nerves which merge at various points from the spinal column, then the patient most certainly does care.

The result may be pain in the back or in the legs or elsewhere, depending on which nerve is being pinched, and how much.

There may — as in your case — be some arthritis, with a certain amount of change in the shape of the bones, too. But the whole picture quite commonly is lumped under the term "slipped disc."

Surgery on the spine, if it becomes necessary, is not a

Dear Dr. Thosteson: I am 33 and in the last few weeks have been bothered with a quick sharp pain in my left temple. It seems to occur when I bend over or exert myself, such as raising a window, etc.

I am in seemingly good health. Is there an explanation?

Mrs. D. D.

It can indicate early temporal arteritis (inflammation of the artery in the temple). If so, there should be tenderness if you press on it. It may mean trigeminal neuralgia.

I suggest you have your doctor check it.

Dear Dr. Thosteson: What about these artificial sweeteners? Why should they be used only by people who have to restrict their intake of ordinary sweets? — Mrs. S.S.A.

The pure food laws require such statement on items containing artificial sweeteners because, after all, sugar is a food. The artificial sweeteners do not provide any nourishment.

The phraseology does not, of course, specify why a person "has to restrict intake of sweets." That leaves it open for those who restrict sweets in order to lose weight.

BERRY'S WORLD

ROBERT ALLEN

Biting The Hand

WASHINGTON — Chile's Marxist President Salvador

Allende is busily playing both sides of the ideological street — seemingly with U.S. acquiescence and cooperation.

On one hand, he is enthusiastically acting the Kremlin's stooge and puppet; on the other, he is engaged in wangling some $10 million in ground and air weapons from the U.S. — on credit, naturally!

It would come under the expansively inclusive heading of "military aid."

In the past two decades, the U.S. dished out to Chile more than $1.281 billion in "foreign assistance" of various kinds. In addition, there is outstanding $1.7 billion in defaulted loans and credits by U.S. government agencies, foremost among them the Export-Import Bank and the Agency for International Development.

In the latest arms acquisition, Allende has made considerable progress.

A contract has been signed with Lockheed Aircraft Corporation for the purchase of a giant $5 million C-130 air force transport — with the Pentagon putting up the money.

The big cargo carrier still hasn't been turned over to Chile, but Lockheed has a sale order all signed and sealed. So presumably delivery will be soon.

The contradictions in the bewildering dealings with Marxist Allende are mind-boggling, but the facts are indisputable. Following is the series of paradoxical events that have taken place recently:

In November, President Allende made a fanfare pilgrimage to Moscow where he was lavishly entertained and feted by Kremlin rulers.

Following his departure, Chile's Foreign Minister Clodomiro Almeyda staged a press conference in Santiago and announced Russia had granted a $30 million credit for the immediate purchase of food and cotton, and another $180 million credit for machinery, transport equipment and other capital goods.

Allende was given a prolonged standing ovation after venomously denouncing the U.S. for "new imperialism" and waging "financial-economic blockade" against Chile by opposing her efforts to obtain more loans from the World Bank and the Inter-American Development Bank.

Allende is the Court's oldest member. He wears an electronic heart pacemaker in his breast, a circumstance which suggests he could be having thoughts about retirement. Marshall, 64, but he has been ill off and on for the past few years.

Moreover, "Douglas is determined not to quit. He recently told a close friend

"They'll have to carry me out in a pine box unless I decide my mind is failing." Douglas sees himself as the Court's foremost guardian of individual rights, and he has a low opinion of Richard Nixon's attitude exactly the same votes in 34 of the 64 cases in which all participated.

For example, all four dissenting in the Court's decisions to outlaw the death penalty and to force integration of the Emporia, Va., school district.

Indeed, even without a consistent majority on the conservative side, the Supreme Court already has swung to the right. Justice Byron R. White, a former Justice Department official, frequently has joined the Burger team in 5-to-4 rulings. Less often, the four conservative justices have been joined by Justice Potter Stewart in civil rights and welfare cases. Stewart is an

Eisenhower appointee, while

pennies a week. In effect, they are telling the family breadwinner that, having no challenge at work, they'll fix it so he'll have none at home, either.

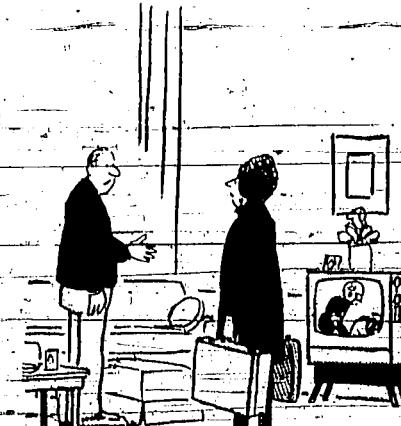

No wonder some of the young folk are badly confused, and come up with responses that range from the one extreme of drugs, violence, and similar manufactured "excitements" to the other of total lassitude, and symbolized by the unbroken figure draped horizontally on a ledge or sidewalk in a bustling business area. (for pointed contrast).

These responses are excited by some Americans as perceptive comment and highly intelligent, "realistic" rebellion against the shortcomings of this society.

Actually, they are gross confessions of ignorance and defeat. The earth is spinning away their precious days, and for all they're getting out of the ride, they might as well be lounging in the gray dust of the moon, staring absent-mindedly at an abandoned moon-rover.

We all want romance and drama and excitement and challenge in life. But to get it we have to pay our dues. And, notwithstanding the absurd fancies of those who scorn the "work ethic," that means doing a great many things that are boring, repetitive and painfully unimaginative.

They spend much of their time telling us how easy life can be. Everything useful and enjoyable is to be had at the mere flick of a finger — for

TF school chief raps ISU hiring

TWIN FALLS — Twin Falls Schools Supt. George Staudaher was sharply critical of Idaho State University for hiring away a Twin Falls teacher in mid-year.

The school trustees agreed voting unanimously to penalize the teacher two per cent of her annual salary for leaving about $150.

The teacher, Mrs. Carolyn Morgan, teaches social studies at O'Leary Junior High School.

She has been hired as assistant professor of consumer economics at ISU.

Staudaher said in a written statement to the board that "We do feel that the actions of Idaho State University violate their teachings of professionalism in the way this matter has been held."

He said the resignation at the present time is untimely and places the school district and the children that she teaches in a poor position.

Mrs. Morgan had requested the resignation be effective no later than Friday.

Staudaher asked the board to decide "whether or not to pursue through the Professional Practice Commission if her action was unethical."

The board took no action to bring the matter before the Professional Practice Commission.

Mrs. Morgan said today she would have "no comment" on the question raised about her professional ethics.

The chairman of the ISU Home Economics Department, Mrs. Jeanette Rowe, said today "I cannot tell who were really pressuring her from the Twin Falls system. It was not planned that way."

She said the position had been vacated "suddenly" when the instructor moved away when her husband had been transferred from Pocatello.

She said Mrs. Morgan "was the most qualified person" for the position.

She said Mrs. Morgan had the option of refusing the ISU offer, but that Mrs. Morgan's acceptance and the ISU decision to offer the contract were "not unethical."

Twin Falls school trustee Dr. Howard Runk criticized the ISU action Tuesday night, recalling that the University of Idaho had hired away Twin Falls High School Principal John Lawrence shortly before the school year began in 1972.

"The thing that is bothering me is the damn proselytizing by the state colleges. It shouldn't go unnoticed."

Runk said "The gal is a top teacher. The kids who have her are darn lucky."

Gordon Armstrong, vice president of the TFEA, told the board that 175 teachers had designated his organization as their representative.

In other business, the trustees decided to postpone consideration of a proposed school construction bond election until architect Ed Peterson could develop estimates of costs.

A citizens committee had recommended construction of new elementary and junior high classrooms along with site acquisition.

According to Charles Powers, president, the sale is subject to Federal Communications Commission approval.

He said GreenTree Broadcasting has purchased the entire facility and business from Western Broadcasting Corp., Mississippi. Powers said the broadcasting company also owns a station in Illinois. He is also president of Century Broadcasting, Grand Junction, Colo.

He said he feels the Magic Valley and Twin Falls area is just beginning to grow industrially.

"We feel we want to be a part of the potential of the area," Powers said. "We have faith in the future of the Magic Valley."

The programming and staff at the radio station will not be changed. The station operates on 5,000 daytime watts and 1,000 nighttime watts.

Stacey re-named chairman

TWIN FALLS — Eugene Stacey was re-elected chairman of the Twin Falls Library Board Tuesday.

Robert Payne was named vice chairman and Mrs. James Kinney re-elected secretary-treasurer.

A bid for new shelving was awarded to Hase Inc., with a low bid of $2,33 delivered.

During the librarian's report, given by Arlan Call, Twin Falls librarian, it was announced a coin operated photocopier will be available at the library soon, replacing the currently operated-by-library personnel.

Center funding planned

TWIN FALLS — Region 3 Law Enforcement Planning Commission will meet in Twin Falls next Thursday at 10 a.m. The meeting will be at the Magic Valley Rehabilitation Alcoholic Center, 130 7th Avenue East. Purpose of the meeting, which will include a luncheon, is to consider a grant to the rehabilitation center through the law planning commission for $15,000.

The money would be used to fund the alcoholic center's operations for a year. The center has been in operation about 10 months and has provided service to about 150 men.

The center provides rehabilitation services to alcoholics throughout the Magic Valley and operates a live-in unit in Twin Falls, according to director-manager Harold Livingston.

At the present time, the center's live-in facilities are for men only.

Chinese missiles better

WASHINGTON (UPI) — Sen. Stuart Symington, D-Mo., said Tuesday China was on the verge of becoming "a superpower from the standpoint of missiles."

At a hearing by the Senate Armed Services Committee, Symington told Defense Secretary-designate Elliott L. Richardson, "I was very surprised and shocked to find out how close another power is to becoming a superpower from the standpoint of missiles."

He said outgoing CIA Director Richard Helms gave the committee new information about Chinese capabilities at a closed briefing Monday.

Veterans set meet in TF

TWIN FALLS — The fifth district meeting of Veterans of World War I and Auxiliary is scheduled for Feb. 12 in Twin Falls.

The district meeting will open with a potluck dinner at 1 p.m. Feb. 12 at the Old Fellows Hall, it was reported at a meeting of the Magic Valley Barracks 509 and Auxiliary Monday.

Mrs. Roy Gaskill, welfare chairman, reported on food baskets given at Christmas time.

A social and work meeting is planned for 1 p.m. Jan. 26 at the home of Mrs. M. M. Barron.

Auxiliary and barracks members will furnish meat, rolls and coffee for the district meeting dinner. All World War I veterans, wives or widows are invited.

Rifles stolen at Filer club

FILER — The Filer Rifle Club at the corner of Main and Union Streets was burglarized sometime between last Thursday evening and Monday evening.

According to Twin Falls sheriff's reports, the door to the locker room and shooting range was forced open. Eleven rifles and one handgun were reported missing from the shooting range.

No estimate of the value of the stolen guns was available.

Center retains chairman

TWIN FALLS — Bruce Glandon was named chairman of the Magic Valley Alcohol Rehabilitation Center board of directors at a meeting Monday evening at the judicial building.

Other board officers include Ralph Lockery, vice chairman; Margie Hlops, secretary, and Howard Burkhardt, treasurer.

Board members include judges James Cunningham, Reed Vaughan and Daniel Mehl; Morris Roth, John Qualls, John Glandon, Royal Slatten, Raymond Stewart and Charles Brumback.

Howard Livingston is manager of the center and James Glandon is assistant manager.

Judge Vaughan announced that a meeting of the Region III Law Enforcement Planning Commission is scheduled for 10 a.m. Friday at the center.

The meeting will conclude with a noon luncheon at the center, located at 130 Seventh Ave. E., telephone 733-9762.

Filer Mutual sets meet

FILER — The annual meeting of the Filer Mutual Telephone Co. will be at 2 p.m. Jan. 18 in the company's office.

Two directors will be elected and future policies and business will be discussed.

The two directors whose terms expire are H. O. Cedarholm, Filer, and Orson Jones, Hollister. Both are running for re-election.

Holdover directors are Datine Rasmussen, Arnold Gies and Merle Leinenweber. Charles Cunningham will give the manager's report and there will be a financial report given by a certified public accountant.

Friendship circle has TF meet

TWIN FALLS — The Friendship Circle of the Women of the Moose met Monday evening at the home of Mrs. Merlin Miller.

Mrs. Jake Pope was hostess. Mrs. Gene Hamilton led the prayer and Mrs. Charles Mattice led the flag salute.

Plans were made for a progressive dinner Jan. 27 at 7 p.m. The appetizers will be served at the Charles Mattice home; salads at the Charles Miller home, and the dinner at the home of Mrs. Clyde Greenup. Dessert will be served at the Moose Hall, with Mrs. Lucille Smith in charge.

Youth held on larceny

TWIN FALLS — Dennis Batchelor, 18, Twin Falls, was arrested by Twin Falls Police Monday evening on charges of grand larceny.

According to police, Batchelor is accused of grand larceny in connection with the theft of a pickup truck from the Peppi-Wise Drive-In parking lot on Thursday.

Bridge winners

TWIN FALLS — The Twin Falls Duplicate Bridge Club met Monday evening at the home of Mrs. W. J. King.

Chief of staff briefs Congress

WASHINGTON (UPI) — The nation's highest-ranking military man has told a House committee he was not consulted before the United States launched the heaviest bombing strikes of the Indochina war against the North Vietnamese heartland Dec. 17.

Adm. Thomas H. Moorer, chairman of the Joint Chiefs of Staff, appeared Tuesday before the House Armed Services Committee. Rep. Michael Harrington, D-Mass., said Moorer testified he was not consulted by the White House either in October, when the bombing was halted, or in December, when it was resumed.

Harrington said Moorer told him a contingency plan was drawn up for massive B-52 strikes against the heartland of North Vietnam and was placed into effect on presidential order without consultation with the Joint Chiefs of Staff.

Asked at a news conference after the closed briefing whether the President had given him any explanation or justification when he ordered the contingency plan put into effect, Moorer said: "None. The restriction that had been placed on bombing (north of the 20th parallel) was simply lifted."

Moorer, equipped with charts and aerial photographs, spent the day briefing House military committees on the bombing strategy in an effort to stifle mounting complaints from congressmen that they were not being kept informed about the status of the war.

Harrington said it was "very painfully obvious" that Moorer's assignment was to cover the "ill-conceived" move the administration holds for Congress. He said he personally was not satisfied with the briefing because of Moorer's limited role in the decisions that led to the resumption of the bombing.

But Chairman F. Edward Hebert, D-La., and Rep. Sam Stratton, D-N.Y., said they were impressed with Moorer's three-hour briefing and his contention that the bombing was a major military success.

Government sets case against Watergate

WASHINGTON (UPI) — The government today will give the first clues about the case it has built against the "Watergate Seven" and how it will try to prove they purloined political secrets from high-level Democrats.

The hints were to come from assistant U.S. attorney Earl J. Silbert who makes his opening statement to the jury—traditionally the forum for prosecutors to sketch their strategy and provide a taste of testimony and evidence to come.

Lawyers for at least five of the seven defendants in the conspiracy/burglary-bugging trial also were expected to have opening statements. One, Henry B. Rothblatt, who represents four of the accused men, said he "would say a little bit about my clients and their emotional feelings about this case."

On trial in U.S. District Court are two former White House aides and the five men arrested inside the Watergate building offices of the Democratic National Committee in the early morning hours of last June 17 with what police said were burglary tools and electronic eavesdropping gear.

Silbert has said he may call some 60 witnesses. Although his list includes a half-dozen current or former staffers at the White House or at President Nixon's re-election headquarters it does not include any of the high administration officials who reportedly were behind the political espionage effort or Sen. George S. McGovern, who the indictment charges was one of the targets of the alleged spy squad.

Defense attorneys agreed Tuesday to accept the testimony of another 20 prosecution witnesses without putting them on the stand most of whom were airline, hotel, or telephone company officials who apparently could provide records as evidence.

Family group to perform

Musical family

A FATHER, son and daughter group, the Freemans, will be among those entertaining Magic Valley residents attending the Southern Idaho Country Music Jamboree. From left are Candy, Bill and Doug Freeman. The benefit jamboree is set at 8 p.m. Monday and Tuesday at the CSI Fine Arts Center.

Abby

Abigail Van Buren

DEAR ABBY: My husband falls into bed dead tired without even kissing me goodnight. Then about 4 o'clock in the morning he wakes me up and forces himself on me without saying a word. After he has satisfied himself he turns over and goes to sleep. All the while I am lying there like a statue. Would you call this statutory rape?

CURIOUS-IN-PERSCO

DEAR CURIOUS: No. It's more like STATIONARY rape.

DEAR ABBY: In one of your columns you told a girl it was all right for her to smile and wave at truck drivers. Thanks a lot! My husband is a truck driver and all he needs is good looking girls waving and smiling at him all day. He's a good-looking guy, and it doesn't take much to turn him on, and I'd just as soon he didn't make any new friends on his job. Not all truck drivers are alike, but I know my husband better than you do, so watch it, will you, Abby?

The standard no-trump has a point-count range of 16-18 but many good players prefer to reduce it to 16-17. Others use 15+ to 17+ or 16 to 18, which is about the same thing.

We don't care which you use—provided you don't go all out and use 15-18. Use of 15-18 gives you a chance to bid more no-trumps but it also muddies the picture.

We use 16-18 with minor adjustments. In particular we are careful not to open no-trump with 18 points and a hand with extra playing potential such as the South hand shown in the box.

South has 18 high card points but also a strong five-card suit that will probably take four tricks by itself.

DEAR LADY: Tell Sam that when your sister shows up at your door to spend the night with you, you will not refuse to let her in. She can eat you out of his will if he wants to, but he can't eat you out of his wife's.

Now Sam calls accusing me of "breaking up his home." He says if I didn't let his wife come here to sleep she would stay home where she belongs. The old fool should know that if I didn't let her sleep here she could go to a hotel. She has plenty of money.

Sam says if I let Gertrude sleep here one more night he will cut the oil on his will, and his wife's will, too. Can he do that? Please advise me.

LAUDERDALE LADY

DEAR LADY: Tell Sam that when your sister shows up at your door to spend the night with you, you will not refuse to let her in. She can eat you out of his will if he wants to, but he can't eat you out of his wife's.

TWIN FALLS — Bridging the generation gap with music is what one family is doing as they prepare to participate in the forthcoming jamboree.

A family group, the Freemans, will be among the many Magic Valley Musicians donating their time and talent for the shows.

Usually Bill Freeman plays bass or lead guitar with another group, then stands on the sidelines smiling with pride as his son, Doug, and daughter, Candy "do their stuff." This year they will be playing as a family entertaining Magic Valley residents attending the benefit jamboree sponsored by the Southern Idaho Country Music Association.

The programs are set at 8 p.m. Monday and Tuesday at the College of Southern Idaho Fine Arts Center Auditorium. Gary Cummings will serve as master of ceremonies both nights.

Others participating will be Bobby Jones and the Hits and Misses featuring Kathy; the Misfits and Wanda; the Walden Brothers and Linda; Ray Crumbley and the Saints with Penelope; the McBride Brothers from Boise; the Country Sweethearts, an all-girl country band; George Serr and the Shadows, and Allan Devries playing the "Nashville Sound."

Tickets for either or both shows can be obtained from all Magic Valley music stores, the CSI Rodeo Club, all participating musicians and at the door the nights of performances.

Net proceeds will go to Mrs. Charlie (Atton) Crane, the Salvation Army and the CSI Rodeo Club.

Hospital use plans onto shelf

BOISE (UPI) — The Idaho Land Board Tuesday approved draft amendments to the Idaho Mining Act that would bring strip mining under the act while keeping in mind small operators.

The board agreed to compromise proposals that would allow a certain minimum disturbance by surface mining before an operator would be required to file with the department.

In other action, the board postponed a decision on a program that would use the state hospital at Gooding for a satellite child development center and a rehabilitation program for the physically and mentally handicapped.

Gov. Cecil Andrus suggested the board wait to take action on the request since there is a possibility the programs will be

Elections advisory panel set

BOISE (UPI) — Secretary of State Pete A. Camarrus Tuesday announced the formation of an advisory committee on elections.

He said the committee will advise his office on matters relating to the election process and to study the election code for the purpose of recommending statutory change.

Camarrus said the committee would provide broader representation than an ad hoc committee created in 1970 to study election laws.

He said the committee would meet during the current session of the legislature to help formulate legislative recommendations. The 20-member committee is composed of legislators, state officials and others.

Snakes move through a forward and backward motion of their ribs on the underside of the body.

No-fault plan set

BOISE (UPI) — The House no-fault bill would apply.

Coppie said the measure could be amended later to comply with whatever the legislature enacted in the way of no-fault insurance. He said a number of proposals for no-fault will be introduced at this session.

Chairman E. Don Coppie, R-Boise, who presented the measure to the committee, said this would be "similar to what the state is doing in workers' compensation."

This measure provides for state administration of a no-fault program if the first party medical payments are in excess of $10,000 or if the first party disability payments are in excess of $6,000.

Rep. Ed Rice, R-Boise, who eventually moved to introduce the bill to give it an airing, said he felt it might be better not to put dollar limits in the bill.

"Ninety-five per cent of the claims are under $2,000 to $3,000," Rice said. "Aren't you in reality exempting the area

Gem land board OK's streamline idea

BOISE (UPI) — The State Land Board has approved a motion to streamline the board's work and make possible better service to the public, land commissioner Gordon Tronbley says.

The motion, passed unanimously Tuesday at the Land Board meeting in Boise, suggests that the land board will act as a policy-making board and will determine the policies by which the land department will carry out its duties, Tronbley said.

The board will review its policy decisions on a continuing basis and maintain the compatibility of those policies with the times," he said.

State auditor Joe R. Williams presented the motion that will free the board of many details the department could handle.

The board was established in the Idaho Constitution to "have the direction, control and disposition of the public lands of the state."

Members include the Governor, Secretary of State, Attorney General, State Auditor, Superintendent of Public Instruction and an appointed executive officer.

Cost cut claim challenged

BOISE (UPI) — The two co-chairmen of the powerful House-Senate Finance and Appropriations Committee have challenged Gov. Cecil D. Andrus' statement that his administration is cutting down the accelerating costs of government.

Sen. Richard High, R-Twin Falls, and Rep. William Roberts, R-Buhl, Tuesday contended the statements made by the governor in his State-of-the-fund budget increase requests — not administrative — were untrue.

State address Monday, $136.0 million in the 1965-67 biennium to $171.9 million in 1967-69. The figures showed a climb to $223.6 million in 1969-71, to $263.6 million the last two years.

"When you compare the actual cost of operation of those bienniums we find the governor's requested increase for the 1971-73 biennium represents a 31 per cent increase over the Figures compiled by the staff of the Finance Appropriations Committee showed the general fund budget increased from previous biennium," Roberts said.

In other action Tuesday, two eastern Idaho legislators introduced a bill, if passed into law, would restrict the second regular session of each legislature to fiscal matters.

Reps. John Sessions, R-Driggs, and Melvin Hammond-Drexburg, would limit the second session to 30 days and open the first regular session to general ratifiers. However, the bill left the door open for emergencies by providing for consideration of bills sought by the governor or two-thirds of either house.

Fruit and vegetable packers told a legislative joint committee hearing they are unduly burdened by mandatory unemployment security payments they have to make for seasonal workers.

The state amended its laws to include workers who were not included before in the program after the federal government informed the state Idaho would have to comply with its regulations.

"I am here to protest the ruling of the Idaho Department of Employment in regards to the application of unemployment taxes on our seasonal employees," Dan Isert, vice president and sales manager of the Isert-Prairie Co., said.

L.U. Billington, director of unemployment insurance for the Department of Employment, told members of both the House and Senate agriculture committees the reason that seasonal employees were covered is because the state was told to conform with the federal regulations.

"We were told if the state didn't do something to improve their laws, federal standards would be imposed," Billington said.

Merger drafted

BOISE (UPI) — The chairman of the Senate Health, Education and Welfare Committee said Tuesday a bill outlining the consolidation of two of the state's largest departments would be ready in three days.

John Barker, R-Buhl, said proposed legislation for the consolidation of the departments of Environmental Protection and Health and Social and Rehabilitative Services would be considered by the committee some time this week.

Barker also said that the committee was anticipating receiving legislation which would clarify the 18-year-old residency requirement.

Idaho, like many other states, has faced challenges in tuition related to residency requirements since Congress passed the 18-year-old voting rights bill which allows students to be residency for the purpose of voting.

Mondale sets Gem address

BOISE (UPI) — Idaho Democrats announced today that Sen. Walter F. Mondale of Minnesota will address the Idaho Jefferson-Jackson Day dinner.

The annual fund raising event will be Feb. 3 at 6 p.m. at the Tropicana Inn in Boise. Regular tickets will be $25 each.

Mondale was appointed to the Senate in 1964 to fill the unexpired term of Vice President Hubert Humphrey. He won election to the seat two years later. His work in the Senate includes serving on the aging committee of which Sen. Frank Church, D-Idaho, is chairman.

Dependent collection gains told

BOISE (UPI) — An attorney for the Department of Social and Rehabilitation Services said Tuesday the department hopes to hit the $100,000-per-month mark soon in child support collections from neglectful fathers.

Richard Russell, told the Senate Health, Education and Welfare Committee that six regional attorneys have been hired by the department to assist in collection child support payments due to mothers receiving aid to dependent children.

He said when the new collection effort was started a year ago the department received only $36 in such payments in the first month. But he added that the figure was up to about $35,000 in November.

Ravenscroft named Rep. Lloyd Dunn, R-Georgetown, chairman of a five-member committee on ratio study.

He said the committee composed both of representatives and senators also is seeking historical data on general fund revenues, trends on corporate income tax revenue and a random sampling and analysis on what tax law changes have done to the revenue picture.

Meantime, as acting chairman of the revenue and taxation committee in the absence of Chairman Allan Larsen, R-Blackfoot, Ravenscroft appointed three subcommittees. He said he did so at the request of Larsen who is attending a convention in the Bahamas.

He named Rep. Virgil Kraus, R-Mountain Home, chairman of a six-member committee to confer with state agencies and the administration and expedite their tax legislation.

Ravenscroft named Rep.

Lloyd Dunn, R-Georgetown,

chairman of a five-member committee on ratio study.

BOISE (UPI) — Staff members from the legislative council advised the House State Affairs Committee Tuesday enabling legislation is needed to give the state control of health and safety regulation enforcement.

Such legislation was proposed to the Idaho Legislature last year and narrowly rejected.

It came back before the House committee Tuesday and Chairman Harold Show, R-Moscow, asked for information on its fiscal impact before the committee takes any action on it.

Bill eases Gem state evictions

BOISE (UPI) — A bill to make it easier for a landlord to evict a non-paying tenant from his house or apartment was approved for introduction today by the House Judiciary Committee.

Put before the committee by Chairman E. Don Copple, R-Boise, the bill would take the place of a quick-eviction law passed two years ago but invalidated by the Supreme Court.

This new proposal, Copple said, is patterned after an Oregon law upheld by the Supreme Court of the United States.

It enables the landlord to file an action for possession of his property and requires the court to set a trial within five days. It applies only to property of five acres or less.

Log

By United Press International JBI (Sessions & Hammond) — Restricts subject matter of second regular session each legislature to fiscal matters.

Newsman cited

POCATELLO (UPI) — The Idaho State Journal of Pocatello and its editor, Lyle Olson, were cited Tuesday with contempt of court for publishing an editorial Monday which Sixth District court said prejudiced the jury in a rape case.

The citation from the court of Judge Gus Carr Anderson stated that the journal "knew before the appearance of the article that a rape case was commencing in district court the following morning" (Tuesday).

As a result of the editorial, the beginning of the trial was canceled and a change-of-venue ordered. The citation requested the Journal to reimburse all costs incurred by Bannock County and all parties involved, estimated at $2,000.

Tax status rule asked

BOISE (UPI) — Gov. Cecil D. Andrus asked the attorney general and the tax commission Tuesday for a ruling on whether the Benevolent and Protective Order of Elks in Idaho should enjoy tax-exempt status.

Andrus said the NAACP wrote him and the 42nd Idaho Legislature an open letter informing them of a recent federal district court ruling which removed the tax-exempt status of the Elks in Oregon.

The Idaho Migrant Council is now accepting applications for Assistant coordinator and Secretary, Bi-lingual preferred. Starting Tuesday, Jan. 9, 1973. Deadline will be Thursday, Jan. 11, 1973. For more information call Dionicio Benavides at 734-3336. From 8:30 to 5:30.

Castleford man named to board

BOISE — Donald R. Kramer, Castleford, has been appointed to a four-year term on the Idaho Water Resource Board.

Kramer, 40, has been a member in the Castleford area for 16 years. He was one of four members appointed to the board Tuesday by Gov. Cecil D. Andrus.

Others named were Franklin Jones, Boise; Ferris M. Munz, Montpelier; and Joe Nettleton, Murphy. Kunz and Nettleton were re-appointed.

The terms of all four will expire Jan. 1, 1977.

Andrus said appointment of Jones and Kramer would bring a new balance to the water board.

water board."

Jones succeeds Thomas Olinstead, Twin Falls, and Kramer succeeds Charles J. Marshall, Jerome, as district 3 representatives.

Kramer is chairman of the Land Use Committee in Twin Falls County and is chairman of the Castleford School District board of trustees.

Jones is a printer who has served as president of the Idaho Wildlife Federation and the Ada Fish and Game League.

He has also been IWF representative on the Citizens Advisory Council to the water resource board.

A short executive session followed involving reinstatement of a student.

Business items discussed during open portion of the meeting included the suggested purchase of a video-tape machine which the board decided might be obtained on loan from the Hansen school rather than purchased.

The board agreed to grant Mrs. Norma VanLeeuwen permission to travel to British Honduras and Central America between Feb. 9 and Feb. 26 but rejected her request that she be allowed full pay for the time absent.

Expenses were granted for Henry Hornbacher to attend the Northwest District Music Conference, Portland, Ore., Feb. 15 to Feb. 20. Principal William Box will also attend the Idaho state principals meeting, Jan. 29 and 30.

Approval was also given for representatives to attend a planning workshop for a proposed program for handicapped students.

process of obtaining FHA approval for the housing developments.

He reported earlier that the multi-rural, low rental housing would be single story homes completely carpeted and would include washers and dryers.

The rental price would be $100 per month for the one bedroom units and $110 to $115 for the two bedroom homes. This rent would also include utilities.

The proposed project calls for each unit to be connected to use common walls for joint foundations with a staggered type of building design which does not give a "cookie cutter" appearance, he said.

Anderson said that he is trying to keep the housing above minimum standards and the

Kimberly school renews contract

KIMBERLY — The Kimberly School Board Monday night renewed the contract of Superintendent Clinton Bugg for one year.

The board deferred action on Bugg's salary until total salary proposals for teachers and administrators can be studied.

The action followed consideration of a heated protest brought by Mr. and Mrs. Lee Leija, Kimberly, against alleged teacher and administration harassment of a student and school truancy policy.

"We certainly don't condone teachers harassing students," said Jack Claeboe, chairman of the board.

The board then agreed to look into the complaint.

With the increase in county assessed valuation, Gardner said no increase in mill levies was anticipated.

With salary increases forming the bulk of changes over 1972 tentative budgets compared to last year's budget were as follows:

Clerk, auditor and recorder, $32,380 compared to $30,000; treasurer, $27,920, $24,000; assessor, $31,500, $27,100; and appraisal program, $23,915.

Commissioner chairman C. W. (Andy) Gardner said the intent of the commissioners was to try to hold the line on expenses and still supply adequate health and means of operation to meet progressive county growth.

In other action before the commission Tuesday, the commissioners voiced support of a land trade with the Bureau of Land Management at Indian Creek, north of Halleys.

Proposed by developers John Koppes and John Urban,

Koppes told the commissioners that a trade will be sought of about 1,000 acres of the hillside land for about 400 acres situated on a more gentle rolling terrain.

The county agent's tentative budget showed a $1,000 increase to fund an additional summer employee devoted to 4-H.

The county commission budget was raised $10 to a tentative $10,400. The election budget was reduced from 1972's $10,000 to a tentative $3,800.

Students, other dependents required to file own tax returns

By RAY GRANE

(Third-in-a-series)
Several million students and others under the age of 19 who will be claimed as dependents on their parents' tax return will be compelled to file their own tax return this year.

They will meet this filing requirement if they had $750 or more in gross income for 1972 which included any interest, taxable dividends or any other form of unearned income. This must be done despite the fact that the tax tables for single people show no tax is due until income passes the $2,050 mark.

In closing a tax loophole for a few, this burden of filing a return has been imposed on perhaps a few million. Here is the background of the situation:

$675 made it possible for a single person to have a total raised last year to $1,300 by personal exemption was hiked to $750. These two facts added together would have made it possible, for well-heeled young people to receive as much as $2,050 in dividends and interest without paying a tax. Plugging this loophole for the wealthy requires the filing of returns by all the other who have any dividend, interest or other unearned income even though for most of them no tax will be due. In filing their return they must use Form 1040.

Here is how a college student, to this page immediately after turning 20 years old, with $1,400 in summertime and after-school earnings and with $20 in interest, adjusted gross income figure. If he does not itemize his deduction (most young people do not) he must ignore the printed instructions on Line 52, and take as his standard deduction of $120 on Line 53 which is immediately wiped out on Line 54 by his personal deduction on Line 52 either: (1) His personal exemption of $750. He has no taxable income remaining as shown on Line 17, but not more than $2,000; or, (2) his earned income or $1,300, whichever is smaller. (Note that the $2,000 and $1,300 maximums cited above are earned only $20 and had $1,400 in taxable dividends and interest.)

The best option for Line 52 is also No. 2, but in his case it permits a standard deduction of only $20 — his earned income. Now after taking his personal deduction of $750, he still has a taxable income of $650. The tax on that is $70 plus 15 per cent on the amount over $500, for a total tax of $92. Nielsen leads 'Cats past Buhl

BUHL - Six-foot, eight-inch Tracy Nielsen, enjoying a big height advantage, dominated the boards and scored 28 points Tuesday night in leading the hot-shooting Buhr Bobcats past the Buhl Indians 94-46.

Nielsen, who came within four points of his-season high on an assortment of close-in hooks and jumpers, and augmented his total on the offensive boards. Meanwhile, Burley's guard shot well from the outside. Overall, the Bobcats hit 48 per cent from the field.

Burley completely dominated the first half and took a 44-23 halftime lead. But in the third period the Bobcats scored only six points and blistered Buhl with a 14-point quarter.

During the final two quarters, Nielsen continued his scoring

Hornets shock Hagerman 79-57

HAGERMAN - The undefeated Oakley Hornets shocked the Hagerman Pirates with a stunning 26-point first quarter and rolled to a 79-57 Magic Valley Conference victory Tuesday night.

The Hornets led 25-7 at the first rest period and although Hagerman came back to make a game of it thereafter, it was already decided Oakley's thrust was padded by a 14-point bulge at the foul line and four Hornets hit double figures.

On the other hand, the Hornets had 25-7 at the first rest period and although Hagerman came back to make a game of it thereafter, it was already decided Oakley's

Boise St. hits road against Puget Sound

BOISE - It will be rearrange and check battle-plans for Boise State head basketball coach Murray Satterfield as he takes his team on the road this weekend for their second straight series of away games.

The Broncos, now holding down a 5-6 mark for the year, will face the University of Puget Sound, in Tacoma, Wash., on Friday night and then Portland State in Portland, Ore., on Saturday night. Game time for both encounters will be 9 p.m. (Mountain Standard Time).

Both Bronco opponents will be acquiring travel arrangements this weekend over the Broncos. In games earlier this year the Broncos defeated Portland State 70-61 and Puget Sound 109-87. That Puget Sound win in Tacoma was the last victory for Boise State. They have now dropped four in a row.

Last weekend the Broncos suffered defeats in their first two Big Sky Conference outings. The Gonzaga Bulldogs did the trick in Spokane by a 73-50 score and the Idaho Vandals beat the Broncos 72-67 in Moscow, Idaho.

Boise meets ranked Oregon grapplers

BOISE - The Boise State decision to play on Dec. 21, the wrestling team will face the Broncos now are 1-1-1 for the Southern Oregon, the number five team in the nation in NIAA tournaments, Thursday, Jan. 11 at 7:30 p.m. at Borah High School in Boise.

The Southern Oregon squad was one of just three teams to defeat the Broncos last year.

"Except for some key injuries the team is improving," State and Brigham Young commented wrestling coach University. After dropping a Mike Young.

ISU Anderson named Player of the Week

BOISE (UPI) - Idaho State's rebounds and eight assists, 6-foot-3-inch junior forward, "Honorable mentions" went Jim Anderson, is the first Big 10 Ken Gubler, Weber State; Sky Conference "Player of the Week." Tom, Idaho; Scott McDonald, Montana State; Skip Molitor, Gonzaga; Eric Hays, Montana, and Mark Champagna, Northern Arizona.

Anderson hit 18 out of 26 attempts in the two games, for a total of 39 points, including three free throws. In addition, he was credited with 20 rebounds and eight assists.

The Bengals host the University of California at Irvine Thursday evening and then return to the Minidome Saturday to play Chicago State.

Both games start at 7:30. There are no junior varsity contests either night.

ISU picked up a 2-0 Big Sky record with wins away from home against Gonzaga 66-68 and Idaho 87-55. Two road wins to start a conference season is an unprecedented feat for an ISU basketball team. "We improved our conference road wins 100 percent and we've only played two," says Killingsworth. "It's a great start for our conference season. However we have three more road games against conference opponents before we start our home conference schedule February 2nd against

Northern Arizona."

'Distractions' worrying Allen

ANAHEIM, Calif. (UPI) — George Allen, sipping a glass of milk and worrying about "distractions" Tuesday, pro football is usually ranked among the best teams in pro football history. That team demolished the Kansas City Chiefs 35-10 on Jan. 15, 1967 in the first Super Bowl and included such standouts as Bart Starr, Jim Taylor, Jerry Kramer, Dave Robinson, Willie Davis, Ray Nitschke and Willie Wood.

"But despite the obvious strengths of the Miami team Allen's Redskins will meet Sunday in Super Bowl VII, Allen's main worry" doesn't seem to be the Redskins. Allen, who almost has a fetish about concentration, is mainly worried about the "distractions" and the carnival atmosphere of the Super Bowl.

"The biggest thing we have to overcome is all the strength of the Miami team," Allen said. "They're a better team than the '66 Packers who beat the Rams twice in my first year in Los Angeles," Allen said. "There isn't a weakness on the team. We've never faced a team that has set so many impressive records and we haven't played a team with a 16-4 record."

Federal agencies asked for funds

WASHINGTON (UPI) — Sen. Wallace F. Bennett, R-Utah, has asked two federal agencies whether they could finance the 1976 Winter Olympic Games if they are awarded to Salt Lake City.

Bennett said he had asked for reports "as soon as possible" from the U.S. Bicentennial Commission and the Bureau of Outdoor Recreation on the availability of funds.

The Utah Republican said he also had contacted White House aides on Monday to urge support for holding the games in Utah.

Bennett has met with Salt Lake City Mayor E.J. Garn and other Utahans who succeeded last week in having the Utah capital named as the U.S.

candidate for the 1976 games after Denver withdrew.

The senator said the Utah bid for the games would probably be rejected when the International Olympic Committee meets to select a new site unless the federal government makes a firm financial commitment

Stars trail, rally past Tams 115-111

SALT LAKE CITY (UPI) — The Utah Stars, trailing 96-92 with 9 1/2 minutes left to play, reeled off 14 straight points and held on to defeat the Memphis Tams 115-111 Tuesday night.

The victory was the third straight for Utah and the Stars' 17th in the last 19 games.

The Stars played most of the second half without guard Glen Combs, who suffered a dislocated knee cap. Combs is expected to be out of action for two or three weeks.

Utah also lost the other starting guard, James Jones, on two technical fouls.

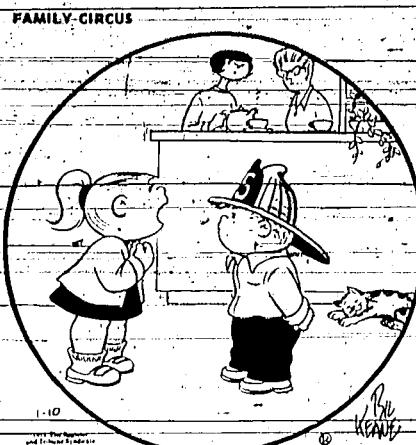

But reserve Bobby Warren came off the bench to spark the hot club in the fourth quarter, stealing the ball from the Stars and driving for a basket to post a 100-96 lead with 6:57 to play. Utah took a 10-point lead, 106-96, with 1:33 remaining and despite two three-point shots by Tams' Wylene Ladner, Memphis was unable to overcome Utah's 14-point spurt.

It was another in a series of hair-raising wins for the Warriors, who had 20-77 with six seconds left. Albie McGuire sank a free throw and Marcus Washington added two more to ice the win?

FORECAST FOR THURSDAY, JANUARY 11, 1973

GENERAL TENDENCIES: The early morning is fine for making serious plans for getting ahead in the ways that are most vital to your welfare and happiness. The afternoon and evening are good for taking chances and it is then best to build up your health and vitality by taking treatments.

ARIES (Mar. 21 to Apr. 19) It is wise to handle important affairs in the morning since others are not very receptive after or you meet with many delays. Make your plans early and follow-through cleverly. Relax at home tonight.

TAURUS (Apr. 20 to May 20) Make the right arrangements so that you can carry through with a special plan you have successfully. Don't neglect to do your shopping. Keep an eye on your wallet or purse. Count your change.

GEMINI (May 21 to June 21) Contact close ties and gain their cooperation for the plans you have. Avoid the social side for the time being. Concentrate only on the material side of life today. Think constructively and advance.

MOON CHILDREN (June 22 to July 21) If you contact an influential person you know, you get the right slant on how to become more successful. You can get the data you need confidentially. Use it wisely. Relax at home tonight.

LEO (July 22 to Aug. 21) A higher-up can inspire you to get going on a new course of action that can be successful, so see this person early. Study carefully data given you in the evening. Take action on it tomorrow.

VIRGO (Aug. 22 to Sept. 21) The morning is best time to get tasks completed that you started yesterday, since co-workers are very cooperative. Your hunches are helpful during the day, but don't rely on them tonight. Be cheerful.

LIBRA (Sept. 23 to Oct. 22) The mid-morning is the best time to discuss with an associate how to improve a mutual project. Don't wait until the afternoon to do this when the aspects are not so good. You get cooperation early.

SCORPIO (Oct. 23 to Nov. 21) Early morning is best time to make inroads into a big project, otherwise later in the day you meet only with opposition. Then get wardrobe fixed. Take the health treatments you need for added energy.

SAGITTARIUS (Nov. 22 to Dec. 21) Planning social and other activities early is fine, but then get busy with routines and get them out of the way. Don't criticize others or you get into trouble. Show more devotion to mate.

CARCINOPHIL (Dec. 22 to Jan. 20) Handle home affairs early and see that all is improved to everyone's satisfaction. The afternoon is fine for improving business conditions. Avoid arguments. Be more cheerful at home. Be wise.

AQUARIUS (Jan. 21 to Feb. 19) You have co-workers who need your cooperation more now and you should be willing to give it so that the results will be fine. Communications should be handled without further procrastination.

PISCES (Feb. 20 to Mar. 20) During the morning you can see clearly how to advance in a financial way and should take the right steps to do so. Take the time to pay bills that are important. Consult with an expert in the afternoon.

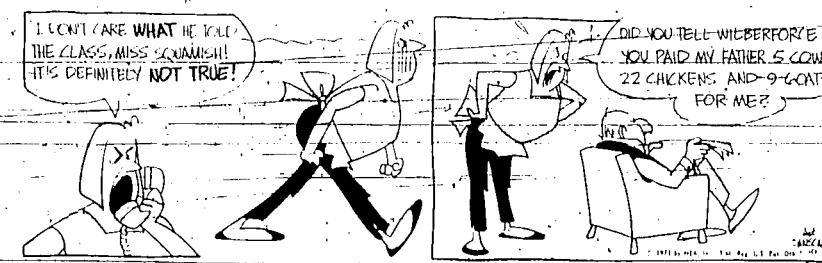

IF YOUR CHILD IS BORN TODAY . . . he or she will be one of those clever young children who, early in life, sees the importance of getting ahead and will have the practical sense to carry through with them so that a comfortable middle age can be attained. Give as fine an education as possible and equip your progeny properly for whatever is the true forte here. The philanthropist is in this chart upon reaching old age give good religious training.

"The Stars impel, they do not compel." What you make of your life is largely up to YOU!

FUNNY-BUSINESS

THE BORN LOSER

What's What

L. M. Boyd

A research team at Guy's Hospital in London soaked a whole batch of healthy teeth in 14 different solutions. Orange juice was one of these. Beer was another. The teeth in the orange juice developed cavities in about six weeks—but the teeth in the beer remained perfect. Brewers are toying with the notion of using this data in an ad campaign.

THE PYTHON is cold-blooded, you knew that. But did you know it's the only cold-blooded animal whose temperature rises several degrees above that of the surrounding air when it hatches its eggs? Or so a zooman claims.

NINETY-PERCENT of the dropouts from that university known as Harvard go back. That's good. Less than half of those wind up with degrees. That's bad.

ALMOST BUT NOT quite half of the Army recruits catch colds in their first six weeks of basic.

ENDS AND MEANS

Q "Who said, 'The end must justify the means'?" A A fellow named Matthew Prior almost 300 years ago. And a fellow named Nicolo Machiavelli taught the oddball notion maybe 200 years before that. Just bunk! It was for that great American writer Willa Cather a generation ago to get the thing right when she said: "The end is nothing, the road is all."

AMASKED if we ever had a postage stamp with a picture of a nude woman. Not in this country. But Spain in 1930 put out such a stamp bearing Goya's famous painting "La Maja des Nuda." Stirred up some fuss. Was promptly withdrawn.

FEAR OF WORK

An authoritative client contends claustrophobia is the most common human fear. Doubt that. Consider ergophobia, the dread of work!

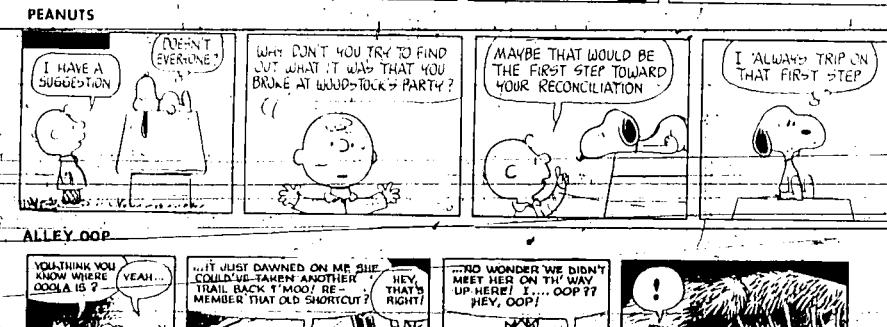

ANOTHER OPEN QUESTION: Why is it antelope fawns develop so much faster than any other young deer? In just a day or two, they can run up to 25 m.p.h. in sprints. How come?

AMONG those single women who are 40 years of age, only one out of seven eventually will marry. But among 40-year-old divorcees, two out of three will remarry.

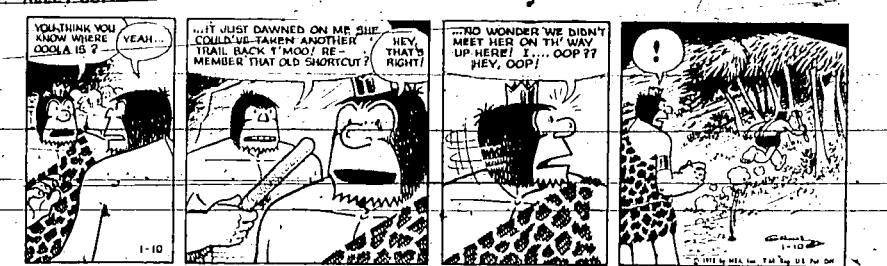

A SENSE OF well-being and buoyancy, that's what you're supposed to wake up with every morning, mister, if you body and brain are in dandy condition. It's no news. What's news is far more women than men awaken daily with this feeling of security and bright-eyed bounce. The medical boys say their studies in hospitals prove it, but they don't know the why of that, either...

Superintendent appointed at Valley

VALLEY SCHOOL — Valley principal:

school board Monday night approved the appointment of Arly Bodilly, 36, as superintendent of Valley schools.

He is married to the former Norma June Hansen, Hazelton. They have a 2-year-old daughter.

Bodilly will assume the position June 1, replacing Dr. Tom Utterback who is retiring. Bodilly was born in Lewiston, Utah, and graduated from Valley High School. He obtained a B. S. degree in political science at Brigham Young University, Utah, and a M. S. in education at Idaho State University.

He has been with the school district for 13 years, starting as a teacher, moving to position of counselor and then high school

The past two years Bodilly has been assistant superintendent under Dr. Utterback.

He is married to the former Norma June Hansen, Hazelton. They have a 2-year-old daughter.

Bodilly said he does not anticipate any changes in the present administration of Valley schools, saying he feels Dr. Utterback has done an outstanding job and he will continue to pursue Dr. Utterback's programs.

In other action the board agreed to hire a principal for Valley High School which has not had one for the past two years as the responsibilities of the principal have been assumed by Bodilly and Dr. Utterback.

It was agreed the position of assistant superintendent would be abolished upon Bodilly's assumption of the superintendent position.

The trustees also approved the bid of Continental Oil to supply fuel oil for the district for the remainder of the year at the rate of 13.0 cents per gallon.

Approval was given to six seniors for early graduation. Members of the Valley School debate team received approval to attend debate programs scheduled at Pocatello Jan. 12-14 and at Boise Feb. 9-10.

A transfer of $3,000 was made from the general school fund budget to the hot lunch program in the form of a loan to cover the costs of the lunch program until reimbursement funds for the program are received from the Department of Education on the manner on which he is conducting the survey.

Supt. Utterback reported to the board on the state administrative meeting he attended which dealt with schools proposals that will be presented to the Idaho legislature.

Dr. Utterback also reported on the progress of the evaluation of the district now being conducted. It was brought out at the meeting that Dr. Utterback has received commendation from the Idaho Department of Education on the manner on which he is conducting the survey.

According to Bodilly, the evaluation is now half completed with a teacher's release date of Jan. 1 in order to give teachers an opportunity to complete their evaluation.

He said that the state team will be at Valley schools March 19 to 21 to complete the program.

CAPTAIN TROUNSON receives promotion

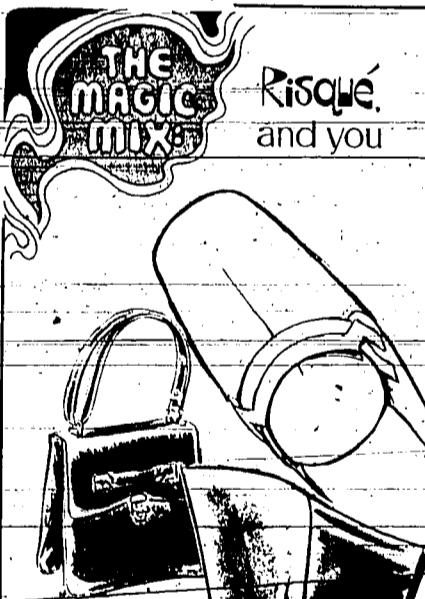

WENDELL — Jim Trounson, son of Wes Trounson and the late Bonnie Trounson, Wendell, was recently promoted to the rank of captain in the U.S. Army.

The ceremony took place at the U.S. Army Vietnam headquarters in Saigon and was presided over by Col. M. D. Thomas, commanding surgeon. Capt. Trounson, a former Wendell High School student body president and a 1969 distinguished military graduate of Idaho State University, was previously stationed in Germany.

In Germany he was company commander and later the adjutant of the US Army Hospital Nuremberg, then commanded by Col. Thomas whom Jim went to Vietnam to again serve with.

This time as chief of the administrative division in the office of the command surgeon. This headquarters is responsible for providing medical care to all American personnel in Vietnam, assisting the Republic of Vietnam in improving its medical capabilities, and lately, preparing for the medical treatment of released American POWs.
