

Battle lines drawn over Idaho budget

BOISE (UPI) — The chairman of the Senate Finance Committee said Wednesday the legislature is going to have to set the governor's recommendations aside and come up with its own budget proposals.

"I think we're just going to have to set aside the governor's recommendations and come up with a legislative program — hopefully with bipartisan support," Sen. Richard High, R-Twin Falls, said.

High made the comment after a legislative leadership meeting with Gov. Cecil D. Andrus earlier today to discuss his clarification of his budget message.

Andrus now says he wants all the inventory tax phase-out moneys to go to the public schools. He says counties and cities can make up their losses through federal revenue-sharing.

High and other Republican leaders attending the conference disagree with Andrus.

Democrats, as might be expected, stand by him.

"The key thing to zero in on and most important to the schools is equalization of school funding," High said.

"This should be a number 1 goal and we all know this requires substantial increase in school funding to make it work," he said. "But I think we have the money, considering revenue-sharing."

High said he agreed with Andrus' proposal to transfer the 54 per cent of the inventory tax replacement moneys now going to the schools into the state school aid distribution formula.

But he said he disagreed with taking other inventory tax replacement moneys away from other local units of government and giving them to schools.

For one thing, he said, only the counties and cities get federal revenue sharing at the local level. Cemetery districts and other local taxing districts do not, he said, and therefore could not make up their loss if the inventory replacement moneys were removed.

Part of Andrus' budget plan calls for seven mills in county school levy property tax relief. High said he doubts this can be done and the state appropriation increased sufficiently to guarantee equalization of school funding.

He indicated the lawmakers probably will not go along with the property tax cut.

The net effect of the governor's program, he said, "is to give tax relief at the expense of the schools."

"I think we should use revenue sharing moneys for schools," he said of the state's share of the federal funds. "We should use non-recurring moneys for endowments (the endowment funds) and recurring moneys to straighten out the maldistribution (of school funds)."

MV aides rap fund raid

By RICHARD G. HIGH Times-News managing editor

TWIN FALLS — Gov. Cecil Andrus' plan to take $6.3 million from Idaho cities and counties to balance his budget drew harsh criticism today in Magic Valley.

Some officials said it could force new taxes to make up for the loss.

In a "clarification" of his budget issued Monday, Andrus asked that $6.3 million scheduled to go to cities and counties should either be given directly to school districts or to the general fund.

In Twin Falls County alone the proposal would cost county government, cities and highway districts an estimated half million dollars next year.

During the past year, these political units received $176,493 from the fund.

But school districts in the county, should part of the money be given directly to them, would receive an additional $46,000 from the measure, based on 1972 distributions.

According to Twin Falls County Commission chairman William Chancey, "The governor asked for economy in the government as a whole. If he borrows it from the county to make his picture a little brighter, it puts it right back on the taxpayer's back. Chancey said the governor's proposal might force the legislature to reimpose the inventory tax to make up for the lost revenues. He criticized Andrus' statements that the influx of new revenue sharing funds to cities and counties would make up the difference.

According to Chancey, the county's revenue sharing money is "already committed." "It looks like they give it with one hand and take it away with the other hand," he said. City officials expressed concern over the proposal.

Twin Falls Mayor John Christoffersen said today that he had asked the governor on Monday whether city funds would be reduced. "At that time he gave no indication, in spite of my asking, of any reduction make up the loss with revenue sharing moneys," he said. "That's a stupid idea. It defeats the whole concept of revenue sharing. It was given to allow cities to do what they could not normally do." "The revenue sharing program might blow up in two years and then where will we get the money?" he said. "I am certainly not in agreement with the governor's recommendations."

Jerome project loan given OK

JEROME — Rep. Orval Hansen, R-Idaho, announced today the Farmers Home Administration has approved a $270,000 loan to the Brent Corp. of Jerome County.

The loan is for a multi-rural low rent housing development planned by Andy Anderson, Boise, owner of the corporation. He plans to build 2622 one and two bedroom low rent units at an estimated cost of $250,000 to $300,000.

According to FHA officials, the loan is subject to Jerome City Council approval of the project, which is planned for east of Davis Street adjacent to the Kerr Subdivision in the southeast section of Jerome.

A public hearing on rezoning and annexation for the proposed housing is scheduled for 7 p.m. Jan. 31, at Jerome City Hall.

"We're running a budget of say $1 million. We get $1.2 million in ad valorem taxes. The rest has to come from some other source. We can't have $300,000 of revenue sharing funds do a million dollars of work."

"I think the revenue sharing funds should be left as intended for emergencies and catchup work. . . Why did they give it to us if they want to get it back," Christoffersen said.

He said that if city revenues are taken away it could lead either to imposition of a tax on businesses or a one-half cent sales tax for cities.

Garis Robertson, Burley mayor, told correspondent David Horsman today that, "I don't see his (Andrus') point because this is taking the place of our inventory tax loss. With schools getting 54 per cent of the phase-out money I just can't see his thinking."

More talk before Viet war ends, envoys hint

By United Press International Rumors persisted today in world capitals that a Vietnam cease-fire ending the longest war in American history was imminent, but diplomatic activity in Paris, Saigon and Washington made it clear there would be more talking before the shooting actually stops.

American sources in Washington cautioned against expecting President Nixon to announce a cease-fire before his second inauguration on Saturday and South Vietnamese President Nguyen Van Thieu's office denied widespread reports Nixon would make the announcement on Friday.

One of the clearest signs that the United States expected a cease-fire soon came in Saigon where military sources said the U.S. Command ordered American military advisers with South Vietnamese forces to withdraw if attacked during fighting expected to flare up before a cease-fire actually goes into effect.

The military sources said the order aimed at reducing unnecessary American casualties was taken for both political and humanitarian reasons but that U.S. air power would continue to "hit" Communist positions in South Vietnam, Laos and Cambodia until the cease-fire comes.

Some of the last minute talking was in Saigon where Gen. Alexander Haig, Nixon's emissary, held an unusual one hour night session tonight with Thieu to discuss terms of the agreement worked out by Dr. Henry A. Kissinger and Hanoi's Le Duc Tho. Thieu has not yet given his official public reply to the latest truce terms.

Spokesmen for neither side would discuss the Haig-Thieu meetings but Saigon government sources said Haig presumably presented Thieu with a new U.S.-Hanoi draft agreement and a statement that the United States intended to sign it with or without Thieu's signature.

There was more diplomatic talking in Paris where law and language experts from Hanoi and Washington met again today to work on details of the cease-fire. There was no official statement on their work.

UPI correspondent Aline Mosby quoted diplomatic sources in Paris as saying a cease-fire is not expected to go into effect within the next few days because the necessary control teams are not organized yet.

Cassia budget hiked

BURLEY — The tentative budget announced today by Cassia County commissioners represents a 40.9 per cent increase over the 1972 figure.

The total amount budgeted is $1,168,525 as compared to $843,611 in 1972. The big jump is shown in the general fund appropriation. It increased from $73,730 in 1972 to a tentative figure of $222,930.

County clerk Frank Kearns said $200,000 of the general fund money will go toward the proposed city-county law enforcement buildings in Burley.

Kearns also said that $152,000 in revenue sharing money will be distributed throughout the budget to alleviate any raise in mill levies because of the law enforcement appropriation.

Another big jump came in the revaluation figure. It was set at $51,500 as compared to $49,927 last year. Kearns said added money would go toward hiring of personnel to expedite revaluation.

The health budget came up from $30,923 to $49,927 to provide Cassia County's share in a proposed new health district office in Twin Falls. The $18,000 of the increase will probably come from revenue sharing funds, Kearns said.

CSI due about $15,000 as Gem holdback ends

By DAVID ESPO Times-News writer

BOISE — The removal of Gov. Cecil Andrus' 1.9 per cent general fund holdback for higher education will mean nearly $15,000 for College of Southern Idaho.

Andrus told the legislature last week the state's economy was sufficiently strong to enable him to remove the holdback he ordered last summer, but only for the state's colleges and universities.

A budget office staff member said Tuesday the state's two junior colleges would be entitled to the withheld funds because of Andrus' decision.

Because of lifting the holdback, CSI and North Idaho College in Coeur d'Alene will receive $24,795 that had originally been appropriated by the legislature a year ago, but then withheld by executive order.

Of the total, CSI will receive $13,533, while North Idaho College, the smaller of the two institutions, will get $10,252.

The two schools will have to submit revised allotment requests to receive their extra funds, since they have already submitted requests for the next funding period based on the funds they would receive with the holdback still in effect, the staff member said.

Mr. T-N says:

Money matters produce most of the fights that develop at home and in legislative halls.

Show food contents, FHA orders

WASHINGTON (UPI) — In what it called the most significant change in food label rules in 77 years, the Food and Drug Administration (FDA) today ordered the makers of everything from milk to bread to begin listing on their labels such things as calories, fats, carbohydrates and the breakdown of vitamins in each serving.

Consumers could begin seeing the new labels as early as this summer, although the full impact of the change is still two years away. It will affect any food product "fortified" with a nutrient, or making claims in its label or advertising about protein, fat, calories, dieting, vitamins or the like. The FDA could not immediately estimate what percentage of the nation's food supply would be covered. But it appeared a wide range of canned, baked and liquid products would be included. Such things as fresh meat and raw vegetables would not be affected unless advertising claims about their nutritive value are made. The actions we are announcing today will result in the most significant change in food labeling practices since food labeling began," said FDA Commissioner Charles C. Edwards. The government's involvement in food labeling dates from the Tea Importation Act of 1898, when stamps were required on tea packages for the first time.

The nutrition labeling order is technically voluntary. If a firm decides to stop adding nutrients to its product, or to stop advertising its caloric content for instance, it would not be covered. But competition was likely to prevent such changes.

The rules specify that the nutritional information must be placed immediately to the right of the main label, unless the configuration of the container forces it to be printed elsewhere.

Here is what the label would list: — Serving size (by cup, spoon or whatever.)

- Servings per container.
- Caloric content (per serving.)
- Protein content (in grams, per serving.)
- Carbohydrate content (in grams, per serving.)
- Fat content (in grams, per serving.)
- Percentage of U.S. recommended daily allowances of proteins, vitamins and minerals (Vitamins A, C, thiamin, riboflavin, niacin, calcium and iron, plus others, if desired, per serving.)

Holdout remains on Corona jury

FAIRFIELD, Calif. (UPI) — Only one holdout remained today on the exhausted jury trying to decide if Juan V. Corona killed 25 farm hands in the worst mass murder in U.S. history.

The jurors were split 11 to 1 on a verdict, with no indication which way they were leaning when they called it quits for the day Tuesday. The panel of 10 men and two women was ordered to reconvene today for a sixth day of deliberations.

The jury, which had spent 36 hours and 40 minutes on the case since receiving it last Thursday, sent word it was tired and planned to go to a nearby town for coffee and rest.

An hour earlier, the jurors apologetically asked Superior Court Judge Richard Patton to read his instructions on what constitutes "reasonable doubt."

The judge, who had told them to keep deliberating Monday despite an 8 to 4 deadlock, asked foreman Ernest Phillips how it stood. "Gloves to one, sir," ruffled Phillips.

The judge then instructed the jurors again that "each of you should decide the case for yourself."

Corona, 38, who had been hospitalized since the weekend at nearby Vacaville State Prison for a recurrence of his heart ailment, appeared pale after he was driven in a prison van to the courthouse for the brief session.

"Juan was really nervous but he looked really happy after he learned it had gone 11 to one," said defense attorney Richard Hawk, who said he thought the 11 votes were for acquittal.

Corona was returned to the prison after a half-hour discussion with his lawyer.

Marijuana conviction overturned by court

WASHINGTON (UPI) — The Supreme Court reversed the marijuana conviction of a South Carolina civil rights worker today on grounds the jurors were not questioned about possible racial prejudice.

Citing a 1931 decision on the subject, Justice William H. Rehnquist said in the opinion involving Gene Ham of Florence, S.C., "The essential fairness required by the due process clause of the 14th amendment requires that under the facts shown by this record, (Ham) be permitted to have the jurors interrogated on the issue of racial bias."

The justices declined however to deal with the question of possible bias against blacks. Ham is black. He wore a beard at his trial.

The NAACP Legal Defense Fund (LDF) had urged the Court to rule that the jurors should have included questions about their attitudes toward people with beards. The Court majority refused. Justices William O. Douglas and Thurgood Marshall dissented on the beard issue.

At the same time he noted that the 1931 ruling gives judges broad discretion in determining what questions to permit. This, plus the present Supreme Court majority's inability to "distinguish prejudice against beards from a host of other possible similar prejudices," rules out the constitutional necessity for interrogation on that subject, he said.

Marshall, in a partial dissent, said, "It makes little difference to a criminal defendant whether the jury has prejudged him because of the color of his skin or because of the length of his hair. In either event he has been deprived of the right to present his case to neutral and detached observers."

Angela's friend throws tantrum

SAN FRANCISCO (UPI) — San Quentin lifer Ruchell Magee, the "other defendant" in the Angela Davis case, was carried out of court Tuesday after kicking a table and taking a wild swing at his lawyer.

Four bailiffs hauled the screaming defendant to a holding cell near the courtroom after his tantrum — one of the most violent of the many he has staged during two and one-half years of proceedings in his case.

Magee, 33, who is serving a life term and faces another if convicted, is charged with blowing off the head of Judge Harold J. Haley with a shotgun blast during an abortive escape attempt from Marin County courthouse in 1970.

Miss Davis was acquitted last June on similar charges after the state accused her of helping plot the escape, which ended in the deaths of four men — the judge, two convicts and an accomplice.

After Magee was removed from court, screaming threats and obscenities at Robert Carrow, his court-appointed attorney, a newspaper photographer described the bloody aftermath.

Teddy's bill would hold oil importing

BOSTON (UPI) — Sen. Edward M. Kennedy, saying the Nixon administration's oil policies have produced a national emergency heating crisis, Tuesday announced plans to file a joint resolution to suspend import restrictions on home heating oil until April 1, 1974.

The resolution, to be filed with Sen. Adlai Stevenson III, would also suspend crude oil limitations for the next 90 days, Kennedy said at a meeting with New England fuel oil dealers in his office.

Today in the Midwest homes are going without heat, schools are being closed and businesses are cutting back on their operations because of the shortage of home heating oil. And we are facing a similar threat here in New England," Kennedy said.

US advisers ordered to avoid fight

SAIGON (UPI) — The U.S. command today ordered American military advisers to pull back from ground combat areas if attacked, U.S. military sources reported. They said the contingency orders were issued to prevent needless American casualties in fighting expected even after a cease-fire is announced.

The orders did not apply to air operations and there were heavy strikes in South Vietnam, Laos and Cambodia, with U.S. B52s flying their heaviest raids in South Vietnam in more than three months.

Other U.S. planes supported South Vietnamese ground forces.

The military sources said the South Vietnamese army was placed on maximum alert in contest areas, including all five of the northern provinces, in expectation of Communist assaults to place as much territory as possible under their control before a cease-fire becomes fully effective.

American troops have ended their ground combat role in Vietnam but military advisers still remain with many South Vietnamese army (ARVN) units. The military sources said these troops were told to pull back rather than help the ARVN fight for small locations.

The sources said the action was ordered both for political and humanitarian reasons. They said the new orders in no way prohibited Americans from shooting back if they were endangered.

Military sources said the full American air armada of nearly 1,000 Guam and Thailand-based B52s and Thailand and carrier-based jet fighter bombers would be maintained at full strength for the foreseeable future.

The U.S. command said U.S. jet fighter-bombers flew 311 one-plane strikes in South Vietnam in the 24-hour period ending at 8 a.m. today — the first full reporting period since the bombing halt over North Vietnam took effect.

NS Canal Co. elects directors

JEROME — Three directors were elected at the Northside Canal Co. annual stockholders' meeting Monday in Jerome. Leo Hobday, Illas, was re-elected to the district 5 board of directors; Lester Saunders, Hazelton, was re-elected from district 1, and James Shauber, Eden, was elected as a director at large, defeating Happy Irwin for the post vacated when Ray Ward retired.
The stockholders discussed at length the American Falls Dam problem and agreed that the dam should be replaced as soon as possible, but with very little cost to the canal company.

Snows blanket Ketchum

KETCHUM — A heavy snowstorm Tuesday blanketed the Wood River Valley with as much as six inches of new snow.

Beginning about 11 a.m. and continuing through Tuesday evening, the storm dumped about 11 inches of snow in Ketchum, making a total of 21 inches on the valley floor, according to officials at the Ketchum Ranger Station.

Ketchum Police Department officers were busy early this morning, citing and towing away 22 vehicles in violation of a city ordinance to facilitate snow removal.

The law requires that no vehicles be left on city streets and right-of-ways between 3 a.m. and 6 a.m. each day.

The Ketchum Ranger district officials said the eight inches of snow received in Haley was heavy and wet, with 1.40 inches of moisture contents.
A total of 15 inches of snow was reported in Haley.

Pentagon Papers trial arguments begin today

LOS ANGELES (UPI) — After more than a year of maneuvering and delays, the federal government and the men who leaked the Pentagon Papers faced the start of arguments before a federal court jury today over whether that was a crime.

Justice Department lawyers were to make their opening statement to the jury this morning.

Daniel Ellsberg, and Anthony Russo, former colleagues at the Rand "think tank" in Santa Monica, Calif., are charged with conspiracy, theft and espionage for their actions in making public the classified Pentagon report on the origins of U.S. involvement in the Vietnam War.

Ellsberg has admitted turning over portions of the report to the New York Times and other newspapers, and Russo has admitted being associated with him.

Ellsberg and his attorneys have indicated in pretrial actions and remarks that their defense will be that Ellsberg and Russo did not commit a crime, but were acting in the best interests of the nation by making public information the citizens had a right to know.

The New York Times printed portions of the papers in June 1971 and won a Pulitzer Prize for it. The prosecution however is not aimed at the newspaper, or at Ellsberg's actions in giving the papers to reporters, but at the removal of the papers from classified files at Rand and possession of classified material.

The way was cleared for testimony and statements to start today by the selection Tuesday of six alternate jurors, including two blacks, one Chicano and three women.

United Action for Education coalitions are operating in Boise, Pocatello and Idaho Falls. Ella Nelson, league president, said the purpose of the coalitions is to encourage the Idaho Legislature to adopt principles outlined by the ad hoc committee on public school all counties responsibilities which would formula funding and school district organization. Mrs. Nelson said citizens and representatives of organizations have been invited to attend to determine if there is sufficient interest in backing a coalition concerned with education in Twin Falls.

The committee agreed on the following basic principles:

1. The state should provide adequate funds to operate a uniform, thorough, free system of public schools.
2. The state should reduce excessive reliance upon property taxes and place greater emphasis upon state sources.
3. Educational funding for a district should not be limited by the assessed value per student or the assessment ratio of the property in the district.
4. The same ratio of assessment or a ratio adjusted to the state average, and for all school levies, should be used in

MR. SPECTATOR

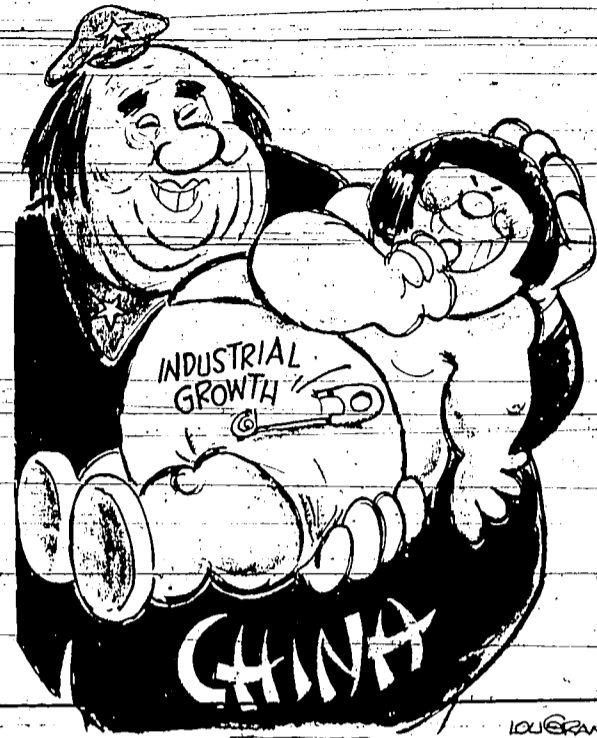

Hard To Believe

Times do change — but some of the changes are difficult to believe. We can remember back — and, believe me, it was only a few years ago — when most communities, and states, were trying everything they could dream up to attract more people.

industry. In this type of industry only a few people come with the "package." Most of the employees come from the work force sitting here waiting to be hired. There is room for argument — but everything being as is, we see no change in attitude.

A Public Test

WASHINGTON — There seems to be some kind of a campaign by Administration officials to discredit the press. How successful it'll be depends on the public, which hasn't been too happy with the media lately because it keeps bringing them such bad news.

western United States millions of dollars. You: (A) forget it because it would make people question the Department of Agriculture's bean policies; (B) forget it because the taxpayers will pay for it anyway; (C) forget it because farmers make too much money; (D) forget it because the license of the TV station you work for is up for renewal.

ideological background; (D) decide it isn't news, and you are personally invited to a cocktail party for the Shah of Iran given by Secretary of State William Rogers.

Clark, who more or less served as Lyndon Johnson's Attorney General, and more recently as the radical-chic's delegate to North Vietnam, is in the news again. This time he puts the blast on New York Gov. Nelson Rockefeller's proposal to ship dope pushers to jail for life, without parole. He describes The Rock's proposal as reflecting "an utter madness of a society that doesn't understand."

said the governor: "He clears his calendar, he goes home, and everything looks fine. I'm concerned about society, about protecting the people... I think we've got to conform our courts to the needs of society, not society's protection to the needs of the courts."

1. You, a reporter, have just covered a Senate hearing where Gordon Rule, the U.S. Navy's expert in procurement, has testified that Litton Industries overcharged the Navy million of dollars on ships it promised to build. It was also brought out in testimony that Roy Ash, the President's choice to head the Office of Management and Budget, was not a very good manager when he was president of Litton. You: (A) write the story quoting Mr. Rule's charges; (B) kill the story because it reflects badly on the Navy; (C) try to prove Mr. Rule is incompetent for criticizing a presidential appointee; (D) sell your stock in Litton Industries.

RAY CROMLEY The Foul-Ups WASHINGTON (NEA) — Some time back an engineer acquaintance placed a bid with the government for supplying technical equipment of a radical new design. Because he badly wanted the contract to demonstrate his competence (in the hope of thereby getting an inside track on future work), he cut his estimate to the bone and figured the date for completion with so little leeway for error he knew that he and his associates would be compelled to put in a great deal of overtime to meet the deadline.

was not met. The company doing the work had cost troubles. At last word it appeared that if the government agency wants to get the equipment it ordered (late) it will need to put up more funds. The tragedy is that this small incident is multiplied many times over in government contracting — by the Defense Department and other major agencies which buy advanced types of technical equipment.

Said the Rock: "I am totally intolerant of the position that we should not protect the people because it won't work in our system, because we need plea bargaining (permitting a suspect to plead guilty to a lesser charge to save the state time and money) to clear our court calendars."

ABOUT DRIVING

The Ohio Turnpike continues to be one of the best advertisements for the role of Superhighways in helping keep down the nation's appalling traffic death toll.

There was not a single fatal accident on the pike during the five-day Christmas holiday period. Yet more than 325,000 drivers used the road.

And for the New Year's weekend, for the 18th straight year since the Ohio Turnpike opened, there were no traffic deaths.

Out here in Idaho — something just has to be wrong! We kill with reckless abandon.

CONTEST OF SOME GRAVITY

For the 24th year the Gravity Research Foundation of Boston (according to information Mr. Spectator received) is offering five awards, from $100 up to $1,000, for short essays on gravitation.

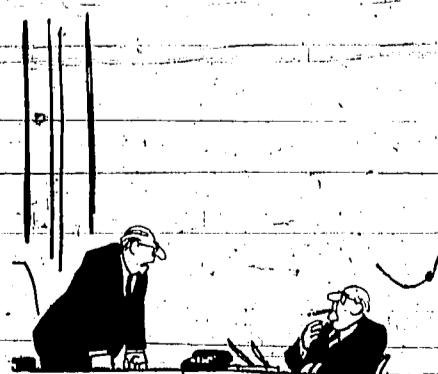

While submission should be short — 1,500 words or less — light treatments of so heavy a subject will probably not be favorably viewed by the judges.

Gravitation, of course, is what inspired the expression "What goes up must come down," spoken long ago by someone who never heard of the cost of living index.

Woodcock move tied to talks

DETROIT (UPI) — The reluctant agreement of United Auto Workers President Leonard Woodcock to serve on the government's labor-management advisory committee is tied to this summer's contract negotiations with the "Big Three" auto companies.

Woodcock will join four other labor chiefs and five top business leaders in Washington Thursday in the first meeting of the group which will advise the federal cost-of-living council on new wage and price guidelines. Woodcock would like to see both groups abolished and all controls ended.

"It is doubtful at best that the price controls in effect since August, 1971, significantly altered the course that prices would have taken in their absence," said Woodcock. "Wage controls on the other hand, have been all too effective and have inflicted grave inequities upon workers."

Last March, when Woodcock resigned from the now-defunct federal pay board, he called Phase II "scandalous and unfair." But the head of the 1.5-million member said Phase III "is a step in the right direction."

In accepting a seat on the 10-man committee, Woodcock said he had discussed the upcoming round of negotiations with Treasury Secretary George P. Shultz.

"The impression I got is that we (the auto companies and the union) would be on our own to work out our problems," he said. "And not being measured up to a rigid, specific figure makes it much more sensible in being able to work out our problems."

Woodcock indicated there would be no rigid adherence to the present wage raise limit of 5.5 per cent, plus .7 per cent for fringes, under the new guidelines. But he refused to speculate on what the union would ask for when contract talks open in mid-July.

Soviets hint interest in ties

HELSINKI (UPI) — Western diplomats said today the Soviet Union has sent cautious signals to the West indicating it is prepared to discuss the West's goal of a more open society as part of a new Europe.

The diplomats said the signals arrived while the ambassadors of 32 European countries, plus the United States and Canada, continued to discuss a proposed European security conference. "The open society proposals were outlined Monday at the Helsinki talks and called for 'freer movement of peoples and ideas' between East and West as a fundamental basis for the security conference."

Among the Western suggestions were relaxation of Communist rules governing travel, tourism, trade and censorship. Western diplomats said they knew Moscow could only go so far in this area without undermining their entire society. But they said there were "signals" that the Russians, spurred on by some of their more liberal East European allies, were at least willing to discuss or "play around" with the ideas, if not to accept them totally.

The first signal, they said, was a speech Dec. 21 by Soviet Communist party chief Leonid Brezhnev. Commenting on earlier Western suggestions for "the exchange of ideas, broader information and contacts between nations," Brezhnev said, "We too are in favor of this if, of course, such cooperation is conducted with respect for the sovereignty, the laws and customs of each country."

NOTICE TO TELEPHONE CUSTOMERS

We are planning increases in the rates for some out-of-state calls.

The American Telephone and Telegraph Company has filed a new schedule of interstate rates with the Federal Communications Commission which increases charges for some customer-dialed calls during weekday business hours, for some operator-assisted calls, for some person-to-person calls, and for WATS (Wide Area Telecommunications Service).

All rates for interstate Long Distance calls you dial yourself without operator assistance in the evenings, at night, and on weekends will remain unchanged.

The new rates for Long Distance calls become effective on January 22, 1973. The new rates for WATS become effective on March 13, 1973, unless suspended by the FCC.

Interim rates and supporting data have been filed with the Federal Communications Commission. The increases for Long Distance calls have been authorized by the FCC on an interim basis to be effective January 22, 1973. The FCC will conduct additional hearings on the lawfulness of the rates, and FCC rules permit any interested persons to appear and participate.

This will be only the second general increase in interstate Long Distance rate levels in almost 20 years. During this period, in spite of inflation, interstate Long Distance rates have been reduced repeatedly. Even with this increase, the level of the new rates will still be below the 1953 level. Yet in those 20 intervening years, the cost of living has gone up more than 50 percent. The new rates are designed to increase total revenues from interstate service by about two percent.

Here are the provisions of the new interstate rates:

- Some of the rates for station-to-station calls you dial yourself without operator assistance from 8 a.m. to 5 p.m., Monday through Friday, will be increased five cents or 10 cents for the first three minutes.
- Some of the rates in all time periods for operator-assisted station-to-station calls (that includes credit-card, collect, third-number, hotel-guest, and coin telephone calls) will be increased five cents for the first three minutes.
- Some rates for person-to-person calls in all time periods will be increased five cents or 10 cents for the first three minutes.
- The rates for each additional minute on some calls in all time periods will be raised in a range from one cent to five cents.
- Interstate WATS rates will be increased about two percent.
- Rates for station-to-station calls you dial yourself without operator assistance during evenings, nights, or weekends will remain the same.

Examples of Long Distance rates for coast to coast calls

	Station to Station Dial It Yourself	Operator Assisted	Person to Person
Weekdays 8 a.m. to 5 p.m. Sun. & holidays	70¢ first 3 minutes	$1.40 first 3 minutes	$1.55 first 3 minutes
Evenings 5 p.m. to 11 p.m. Sun. through Fri.	85¢ first 3 minutes	$1.40 first 3 minutes	$1.55 first 3 minutes
Nights 11 p.m. to 8 a.m. daily	35¢ first minute (minimum call)	$1.40 minimum call (3 minutes)	$1.55 minimum call (3 minutes)
Weekdays 8 a.m. to 5 p.m. Mon. through Fri.	$1.45 first 3 minutes	$1.85 first 3 minutes	$1.50 first 3 minutes

Rates shown (tax is not included) are for the days, hours and durations indicated and for the types of calls specified at the head of the columns. Rates may be even less, of course, on out of state calls for shorter distances. Dial-it-yourself rates apply on all interstate calls (excluding Hawaii and Alaska) completed from a residence or business phone without operator assistance. They also apply on calls placed with an operator from a residence or business phone where direct dialing facilities are not available. Dial-it rates do not apply to person-to-person, coin, hotel-guest, credit-card, or collect calls, or to calls charged to another number, because an operator must assist on such calls. *One minute minimum calls available only at the times shown, and additional minutes are 20¢ each, coast to coast.

Thompson said nine volunteer firemen and two trucks responded to the call. The fire was extinguished by 10:30 a.m.

PORTLAND, Ore. (UPI) — In the age of computerized police, fugitives even have to be careful about how they cross the street. Jack R. ### Three free on bond

TWIN FALLS — Three persons arrested in connection with robbing two calves in an Easterday Farms feedlot near Castleford Saturday night have been released on bond. According to Sheriff Paul Corder, William Elwin Boggs III, 24, Buhl, and Richard Shackelford, 22, Buhl, were released Monday afternoon on bonds of $500 each. Susan Margaret Manning, 20, Buhl, also facing a grand-larceny charge in the case was released on $1,000 bond, Corder said. They were arrested Sunday afternoon. Bond on all three persons was originally set at $2,500 but the bonds were reduced at arraignment in Fifth District Magistrate Court Monday by Judge Daniel H. Mechl. Judge Mechl was in Court and said not be reached for comment Tuesday on the bond reductions. Sherkhov Prison in the Soviet Union has at times accommodated 40,000 prisoners.

Bill specifies seats

By DAVID ESPO Times-News writer
BOISE — The Senate Health, Education and Welfare Committee has introduced legislation which requires that candidates for junior college trustee boards run for specific seats.

question about whether candidates ran at large or for specific seats on the five-man board. Senate Bill 1032 amends present law by adding the provision that "An individual shall be a candidate for a specific position of the board and each candidate must declare which position he seeks on the board of trustees."

The election held at CSI in 1972 was questioned when one of the candidates for office said the election was on shaky legal grounds because it violated a law calling for at-large elections.

The legislation introduced by the committee would enjoin that interpretation. Barker predicted success for the measure when it comes up for a vote in the legislature.

Bus ban proposed

BOISE (UPI) — Over protest votes Tuesday, the House Education Committee approved a measure eliminating authority for school districts to bus private school children.

Those voting against the bill did so because, they said, they felt the private school children should be able to ride school buses. The bill now goes to the House floor for a vote.

Delay requested

BOISE (UPI) — Milton Small, executive director of the Office of Higher Education, asked the Senate Health, Education and Welfare Committee today to hold any action on a memorial to eliminate the director of medical education in that office.

John Barker, R-Buhl, told Small the committee had already introduced the memorial, but Barker later said he would ask the Senate to delay any action on the proposal until the committee can meet with the Board of Education on Jan. 31 concerning the matter.

Rockfest controls proposed

BOISE (UPI) — On a 10-4 vote, the House State Affairs Committee has agreed to introduce a bill to control such mass gatherings as prolonged rock-festivals.

The measure — similar to one introduced in the Senate last year — has two differences: such a gathering would have to go on for 22 hours, and family gatherings where 90 percent of those attending were related would be exempt.

Lotteries bill held

BOISE (UPI) — A resolution proposing a constitutional amendment to legalize state-operated lotteries was withdrawn Tuesday from the senate because of wording. The measure, according to several senators, would include constitutional legalization of parimutuel betting on horse races along with the lotteries.

Urging the committee to introduce the bill was Rep. Gary Ingram, R-Post Falls, who said it is designed to prevent the type of thing that occurred during a July 4, 1971 rock festival at Farragut State Park.

No Gem-power

BOISE (UPI) — The female chairman of the Senate Judiciary and Rules Committee said Tuesday the legislature does not have the power to rescind its ratification of the 26th Amendment to the U.S. Constitution which gives women equal rights.

Sen. Edith Miller Klein, R-Boise, said she checked with the attorney general's office and found a U.S. Supreme Court decision which states that once a state legislature ratifies a proposed constitutional amendment it has exhausted its power to act.

Elders' aid due

BOISE (UPI) — Gov. Cecil Andrus assured representatives of senior citizens' organizations Tuesday Idaho will not strand the elderly if the federal welfare program is cut.

Dr. John Marks, director of social and rehabilitative services, said another item of distress is that under the changed program, "people in this category also will not be allowed to use food stamps which will further cut their incomes."

Salary battle in Senate ends

BOISE (UPI) — It would appear that the running battle over salaries for Idaho legislative attaches may be over at least in the Senate.

But senators finally agreed to vote on their own resolution, which passed over 10 "no" votes from the Democrats.

Tuesday the Senate, over the opposition of the minority Democrats, passed a resolution fixing salaries for employes for the first session of the 12nd Legislature and granting two raises.

The resolution granted a $5 per day raise for the Senate public information officer and a $2.50 per day raise for the Senate lunch room boss.

For the past week, the Senate has squabbled over who should get the raises and how much they should be.

Senate Minority Leader John Evans, D-Malad, told his fellow lawmakers the minority party has fought the raises and would continue to do so.

In 1917, the United States bought the Virgin Islands from Denmark for $25 million.
In 1950, nine bandits staged a $1.5 million robbery of a Brink's armored car in Boston.
A thought for the day: Benjamin Franklin said: "Doth thou love life? Then do not squander time, for that is the stuff life is made of."

Abby

Abigail Van-Buren

DEAR ABBY: My problem is with my husband, age 22, and his two nieces, ages 16 and 17. (They are sisters.) We went to an all-night roadhouse inn to have breakfast at 2 a. m., and my husband disappeared with the 17-year-old for two hours. They said they were upstairs looking at the view.

When they came back I didn't say anything, but I was plenty mad. Whenever my husband and I take these two nieces out, he takes turns dancing with them and leaves me sitting. It's gotten so he never takes me out alone, he's always got these girls with us. He has fixed them up with dates with some of his friends who are his age, and for all I know my husband could be seeing them himself. He has disappeared for whole nights and comes home with lipstick on his shirts.

Serious relatives

I have told the girls' mother about this and she says I am silly to worry, but I don't think I am because there was a lot of talk about incest in their family between my husband's younger brother and his older sister.

When my husband says goodbye to these nieces, he kisses them on the mouth. My question? Is this healthy?

JEALOUS IN COLORADO

DEAR JEALOUS: It's not healthy, and neither is the relationship between your husband and his young nieces. Set this swinger down and talk to him like a Dutch Uncle, or that uncle will be in Dutch for fooling around with minors.

DEAR ABBY: My husband and I have a little problem we need help with. We have been going to a doctor for the past four years since we've moved to this town. Once, when our regular doctor was on vacation his partner filled in for him, and Abby, the partner was fantastic! I liked him so much better than my regular doctor.

My husband also had the partner and liked him better than our own.

We would like to switch over to the partner but we don't know how to go about it. We are so afraid of hurting our first doctor's feelings.

Do you happen to know how doctors feel about this sort of thing?

MRS. B.

DEAR MRS. B.: I doubt that a doctor would be overjoyed to learn that a patient preferred his partner, and would like to switch. But a patient has a right to choose his own doctor—unless he goes to a clinic where it is understood that he will take whichever doctor is available. Head on. Another reader has your problem in reverse.

DEAR ABBY: About two months ago my doctor took in a partner. The problem is that, when I go to my doctor's office, the nurse tells me I have to have the partner.

I like my original doctor, and since I am paying the bill I feel I am entitled to get the doctor of my choice.

I am told the new doctor is "just as good," but I still prefer my old doctor.

Please tell me what I can do about this. I don't want to make a trip to the doctor's office, and then go home without seeing a doctor because my own doctor won't see me, which is what I intend to do if this happens again. Please advise me.

DISGUSTED

DEAR DISGUSTED: The next time you want an appointment, tell your doctor's secretary which doctor you want to see, and make it clear that you will see no other! It is common practice for a doctor to have his partner (or some colleague) substitute for him while he is on vacation or in an emergency, but no ethical doctor will arbitrarily transfer a patient to his partner without the consent and approval of the patient.

Problems? You'll feel better if you get it off your chest. For a personal reply, write to ABBY: Box No. 49700, L. A., Calif. 90069. Enclose stamped, self-addressed envelope, please.

MR. AND MRS. MOJANET BROADIE

HAILEY — Deborah (Debbie) Diane Neyman and Mojanet (Moj) J. Broadie were married in an evening ceremony Dec. 30 at the Hailey Ward LDS Chapel.

The double ring ceremony was performed by Bishop Alden M. Parker before beauty baskets of white Spider chrysanthemums and holly.

The bride is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. James Neyman, Hailey, and the bridegroom is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Lester Broadie, Pico.

Given in marriage by her father, the bride wore a gown designed with cascading ruffles of scalloped Chantilly lace which swept to a cathedral train. The Sabrina neckline was bordered in pearled Chantilly lace scallops and the lily point sleeves were trimmed with pearls.

Her veil of double English illusion was held by a pearl crown of Chantilly bordered with seed pearls. She carried a bouquet of Forever Yours roses entwined with holly.

She carried a lace handkerchief that had belonged to her late grandmother, Mrs. David K. Hendry, and wore a watch borrowed from her aunt, Mrs. Deborah Worthington.

Melody Potter, niece of the bride, was maid of honor. Bridesmaids were Heather Stuhberg, Debbie Schöles, Twin Falls, cousin of the bride; Peggy Lenx, Melba, and Karen Pippitt, Nampa.

Jess Hurst, Boise, was best man. Ushers were Lyle Guffy, Bellevue; Denny Patterson, Hailey, and Shane Parke, Carey, cousin of the bridegroom. Mark Potter, Ketchum, nephew of the bride, was ringbearer.

Mrs. Robin Haak was soloist, accompanied by Mrs. Susie Gold.

The couple was honored at a reception immediately after the ceremony at the cultural hall. The hall was decorated with Christmas trees, a snowman couple, and a wedding alcove set off with white topiary trees trimmed in red and green.

The floral-wedding cake was decorated to resemble a red and green skirted wedding party ascending to the bridal couple on top. The bridegroom's cake was baked by Mrs. Gladys Young.

Mela Van Hook, cousin of the bridegroom was in charge of the guest book.

The cake was cut and served by Mrs. May Rice, Gooding, and Mrs. Deborah Worthington. Jerome PUNCH was poured by Mrs. Edith Wright and Mrs. Pamela Schroeder, both Jerome.

Other reception assistants included Mrs. Dorothy Van Hook, Pico, and Mrs. Joyce Parke, Carey, aunts of the bridegroom, Mrs. Gladys Young, Mrs. Norma Ellsworth and Mrs. Lucille Brower.

Tina Parke, Patti Ellsworth and Vicki Sutcliff served guests at quartet tables. Gifts were received by Ellen Potter and Dustin Northcott, nieces of the bride. They passed out scrolls to departing guests.

Gifts were opened and displayed by Mrs. Patti Rogers, Boise, sister of the bridegroom, Mrs. Joie Northcott, Mrs. Mary May Potter and Mrs. Elizabeth Stuhberg, all sisters of the bride.

Tom Northcott was master of ceremonies for a short program. Al Fidler provided music for dancing after the program.

After a honeymoon trip to Salt Lake City, the couple resides in Boise, where both attend Boise State College, majoring in business.

The bride was honored at a pre-nuptial shower given by Mrs. Gladys Young.

and hope for the best. It won't happen. You just can't make two hearts.

Playing the transfer, you can bid two diamonds and let your partner struggle with the two hearts. He won't make it any more than you would but better action is possible. You respond two clubs!

You plan to bid two hearts if your partner rebids two diamonds but something nice happens. Your partner has spades and bids two of that suit.

You pass and let him play there. West opens the queen of diamonds and your partner has no trouble making the two-spade contract.

A king of spades opening would probably have beaten him but somehow or other people don't find such brilliant and unusual leads.

Public meet set Friday

TWIN FALLS — Several areas of Sawtooth National Forest have been designated for further study as wilderness and will be reviewed Friday in two public meetings.

Ed Fournier, supervisor of the Sawtooth, said the meetings will be held in the supervisor's office, 1025 Addison Ave. E., at 10 a.m. and 2 p.m.

Interested persons and groups are urged to attend or to make appointments with forest personnel for individual briefings at more convenient time.

All forests in the nation were reviewed for possible further wilderness area classification or other land use during public hearings last March.

Fournier said the supervisors then recommended wilderness study areas and these were reviewed in the regional headquarters and in Washington, D. C., for further consideration.

Those officially designated for additional study and possible wilderness classification have now been listed and will be reviewed during the briefings.

Robert Hong, staff recreation officer for the Sawtooth forest, said the meetings will be the first step in the procedure of setting up studies.

Other opportunities will be given the public for review and comment as the process continues.

Secy. of Agriculture Earl L. Butz has scheduled briefings in Washington, D. C., on Thursday when the chief of the US Forest Service will officially announce a list of roadless areas tentatively proposed for study as wildernesses.

Chart plans

Volunteers needed for TF Hotline project, mental health group told

TWIN FALLS — Volunteers are urgently needed for the Hotline operation in Twin Falls.

Members of the Twin Falls County Mental Health Association heard a status report on the telephone listening and referral service from Annette Abernathy Monday night at the Episcopal Church.

She said there are presently about 20 operators who are scheduled at least two evenings a month, but since some of the volunteers are students, there is constant turnover and more people are needed.

There also is need for volunteers to handle administrative details, such as scheduling, typing and interviewing, in addition to the persons who answer the telephone.

Mrs. Abernathy also presented plans to the mental health association of a drug education workshop slated for Jan. 26-27 at the Ascension Episcopal Church.

The workshop will be presented by 8 to 10 members of the regional drug education team.

Team members, who include several students, plan to conduct the workshop in small discussion groups. They offer no solutions, but hope to give a new perspective in dealing with the drug culture, Mrs. Abernathy said.

Lotus Schmucker, mental health association president, reported new appointments following the annual meeting in November include: Rev. John Wallace, membership; Father Albert Allen, special projects, including liaison with the Hotline project which the association supports financially, and Lorayne Smith, public relations.

Royal Slotten, vice president, heads the fund raising committee and he and Mrs. Bryan Harris, Hansen, treasurer, represent the group on the United Fund.

Rezoning study planned

By CHARLOTTE BELL, Times-News writer

JEROME — The Jerome City Council Tuesday night took under advisement a recommendation on complete rezoning of the city.

The rezoning was recommended by the Jerome Zoning Commission. The recommendation was formed last Tuesday following a public hearing on a proposal to change city ordinances in an effort to confine trailer houses to one area of the city only.

At Tuesday night's City Council meeting the recommendation was read to the council. It stated the council should defer their decision on the proposed ordinance pending a complete rezoning of the city either by professional planners or by naming a blue-ribbon committee separate from the commission.

The commission also recommended that the committee or planners be given the assistance of the city attorney in an effort to determine the definition of a mobile home or trailer house.

The commission recommended that if the city adopts the zoning proposal the present building code be amended to include mobile homes. The report to the council said the consensus of those present at the hearing was that any changes in the zoning ordinances be submitted to the electorate.

Sumner Johnson, Boise, JUB Engineers, gave a report on the procedures necessary in applying for funding for a city sewer project. Johnson said the first step would be to hire an engineering firm to compile a preliminary engineering report.

"After the report is finished, application is then made to the state clearing house, which then makes recommendations based on the local area. Following this, application is then made for federal and state funding," he said.

He said the local funding could be handled by FHA or by retaining a fiscal agent and selling bonds on the open market.

"After approval of these steps, a bond issue to finance the project will have to be submitted to the voters," Johnson said.

He estimated it would take at least four to six years to actually complete the project.

Jerry Eliot, representing Jerome Post 468 of the Veterans of Foreign Wars, was given permission by the council to remodel the old coal room in the basement of Pioneer Hall for the storing of hospital equipment and records.

Building permits in the amount of $91,000 were approved by the council, including three new homes and a new grocery store for Bob's Sawtooth Market which was partly destroyed by fire last spring.

Harold Livingston was appointed to serve on the Jerome Housing Authority and Mrs. Lois Jeppson was appointed to the zoning commission. She will replace Bessie Stanley who has resigned effective Feb. 1.

The council adopted ordinance 490 which amends the city subdivision ordinance making subdividers responsible for repairing of the street, sewer and drain installation, as well as water hookup.

William Block, City engineer, reported that the Idaho Highway Department as per request is checking into the placement of speed signs in Jerome and that some changes will be made.

Idaho now ranks 2nd in barley production

By MARJORIE LHERMAN, Times-News writer

TWIN FALLS — Idaho now ranks in second place for Moravian barley production, according to Adolph Coors Co. officials.

Other states raising the barley for Coors are Colorado, home state of the company; Wyoming and Montana, said Willard Hayes, director of commodity department, at a dinner for area growers Tuesday evening in the Holiday Inn, Twin Falls.

Hayes said the Moravian barley used by the company in its breweries is raised by the growers originated from a small packet of seed brought from Moravia, Czechoslovakia, by way of West Germany in 1930. The grain was named after the country of Moravia.

Approximately 200 Magic Valley farmers attended the dinner at which Bud-Wydmann, Coors Industries social director, extended the welcome and served as master of ceremonies.

A film, "The Barley Story," showed the season of the Moravian barley from its planting time through irrigating and spraying in the summer to the harvest which usually takes place in this part of the country in July.

Also shown were the research laboratories where the grain is tested for color, the warehouse where it is screened and stored, in the greenhouses, where improved strains of seed are cultivated and improved water conservation methods and methods of machinery to give more efficiency.

Personnel introduced included John Sitzman, general barley production manager; Doug Laumann, Barley fieldman, and Ellis Smith, Twin Falls agronomist.

Also introduced were Leonard Peterson, Frank King, Buhl elevator manager; Ron Myer, sales and marketing director; Dr. Marvin Jensen and Bud Ruffing of the Kimberly agriculture research center, and Theodor Rangen, Buhl, warehouse owner.

Cassia plan goes 'under'

BURLEY — The federal government has gone underground in plans for a city-county law enforcement building here.

Cassia County commissioners and Burley Mayor Garis Robertson conferred Tuesday with an Army Corps of Engineers official who said they could get 50 per cent federal matching funds for construction of a basement in the joint law building.

According to Laurence Nichols, regional engineer for the corps and a representative of the Defense Civil Preparedness Agency, the federal aid is available if an Emergency Operating Center is included in plans for the basement.

The EOC is a civil defense facility that would probably take up no more than one or two of the underground offices.

Cassia County civil defense director Lyman Martindale also sat in on the meeting.

Other than the EOC facilities, the only strings attached to matching funds would be requirements that communications equipment and a kitchen be housed in the basement, Nicholas said.

"The entire communications center could be set up in the basement," the engineer added, "and you could kill two birds with one stone."

The Cassia officials had formerly taken for granted that the radio equipment would go above ground. But, Nichols said, based on previous projects, the basement communications prove desirable and practical in added security.

Nichols estimated the cost of the basement construction at $27.50 per square foot. The agency's financial participation would be limited to 4,250 square feet; anything more would cost the county 100 per cent.

The maximum participation is based on the county's population of nearly 18,000.

If the basement is restricted to 4,250 square feet, the total construction cost would approximate $114,000, according to Nichols.

He said the agency would also pay half of the architect fee for the basement (estimated at $8,200), one-half the cost of an emergency or standby power unit (including fuel) and half the cost of any additional communication equipment needed.

Mayor Robertson noted a discrepancy in plans for the one-story building and the basement (if it is limited to 4,250 square feet).

The Cassia officials had been planning a law building that would cover approximately 10,000 square feet — obviously any plans for a basement half that size would call for some basic re-appraisal.

Robertson partially reconciled the matter when he said the added basement would eliminate the need for much of the above-ground floor space. If the county decides to build the basement with federal civil defense funds, two federal agencies will be involved in the law building's construction.

The commissioners and city officials have already talked with Frank Finlayson, regional director for the Law Enforcement Planning Commission, concerning LEPC funding of the above-ground portion.

Finlayson said the LEPC could funnel money under the federal Omnibus Crime Control Bill into the project on a 50 per cent basis.

He estimated the total cost at between $100,000 and $150,000, based on a 10,000 square foot building.

Finlayson also set up a March 31 deadline for submission of the federal aid requests to the LEPC. The county officials are on a tight schedule now in planning and preparing the paperwork.

A team of Cassia representatives including commissioners, city councilmen, the mayor and police and sheriff's officials, traveled to Logan, Utah, today to study a recently completed law enforcement building there.

Gooding County budget increases 18 per cent

GOODING — County commissioners here set a tentative 1973 budget late Tuesday increasing proposed expenditures 18.8 per cent over 1972.

The tentative budget which can be reduced but not increased prior to final adoption is $512,225, compared to $423,133 actually spent in 1972.

In addition, the county adopted a separate budget for allocating the $98,795 revenue sharing money and $3,924 federal and state grants. This will be announced later.

Commissioners increased the county budget by $89,092 with some increases shown in all county departments and in special levy budgets with the exception of election costs which are down this year because of no general elections.

The county assessor's revaluation budget was increased greatly this year for full scale revaluation work and the sheriff's budget is also by a wide margin as are the county building budget and junior college tuition. The regional airport levy is down slightly.

Gem funds Landowners rap joining

BOISE — The Senate Health, Education and Welfare Committee has introduced legislation to insure annual disbursement of state funds to junior colleges.

Committee chairman Sen. John M. Barker, R-Buhl, said the bill stipulates that junior colleges receive their state total appropriations and end-year on the first day of September.

Barker said the legislation would bring law into compliance with annual budgeting, but also would eliminate a point of friction between the state's two junior colleges and the state government.

The College of Southern Idaho and North Idaho College protested last year when the state budget bureau said it wanted to make disbursement of funds every six months, rather than annually, as has been the case.

Budget officials said the move was needed to bring the junior colleges into line with disbursement procedures for other state agencies.

College officials objected, claiming the move amounted to "changing the rules."

Barker predicted Tuesday the measure would meet with success in the legislature.

George McDonald who said, "If a local improvement district is successfully petitioned in that area there will be street improvements, probably including H Street. The council is anticipating future problems should we use city money to improve the portion of H Street that is outside the city limits."

"If they want improvements, let them pay for them," was the reply of one landowner.

Councilman William Strasser added that the residents would benefit from city water and sewage service. He said the Sandpoint water wells used by most could become contaminated and recommended monthly testing of the wells by health officials.

Another council member, W.F. (Bill) Whitton, said as long as the out of city area wasn't detrimental to the city he couldn't support annexation without the approval of affected landowners.

The city tabled a decision concerning the annexation but Mayor Wendell Johnson stressed "We are not trying to push annexation on anyone."

MV aides hit treasury raid

Twin Falls City Manager Jean Millar said today the state could jeopardize its future share of revenue by the action.

"If they reduce the amount of shared revenue with the local government it would reduce in subsequent years their federal revenue sharing. It might gain the state this first year, but the state would suffer in the future."

Millar said the uncertainty of the city's revenue position will make it difficult to budget accurately for next year. He said it is likely that the legislature will not have acted on the governor's proposal before the city must have prepared its budget.

"I kind of like to know where I stand," he said.

The funds involved are the 20 per cent of the state sales tax revenue that currently is diverted to local units of government. The diverted money was intended to replace revenues lost to local taxing units when the inventory tax was eliminated.

Statewide, 54 per cent of this fund goes to school districts, and 46 per cent goes to counties, cities and highway districts.

Gov. Andrus at first proposed that the amount of this fund to be diverted be reduced to $8.2 million from an estimated $13.7 million.

On Tuesday his office said the $6.2 million should go directly to the schools or the state general fund, with none going to counties, cities or road districts.

The $6.3 million — the city and county share on a statewide basis — would be taken away.

During 1972 the $772,277 in inventory phase out replacement funds were divided in Twin Falls County as follows:

County government received $221,643;

All cities received a total of $177,623;

All highway districts and bridge units received a total of $77,227;

And all schools received a total of $302,732.

Workshop slated

Anderson, Scott to lead All-Stars to lead All-Stars

DALLAS (UPI) — Half of the world champion defensive backfield will be on the field Sunday in the Pro Bowl game, and maybe by then it will have started sinking in to Dick Anderson and Jake Scott what their Miami Dolphins have accomplished.

Forever Miami will be known as the first NFL team to go through a season undefeated, but the significance of that fact is being overshadowed in Anderson's and Scott's mind for the time being by a single game.

"It hasn't hit me yet," Anderson said Tuesday following his first workout with the American Conference all-stars. "Everybody is talking about us going 17-0, but the thing we really wanted was the Super Bowl. That is the thing that was important to us."

And in the glow of just completed superb success the two Miami defensive backs are not in the mood to look too far ahead — like to next season. They will be playing the Pro Bowl in the home of the team they dethroned as world champions, the Dallas Cowboys, and next season Anderson, Scott and the rest of the Dolphins must face the disease which bothered Dallas this season — the post-tittle no-hurns.

"Don Shula (Miami's head coach) will take care of that," Scott said. "He will take care of the momentum."

"Look at Vince Lombardi," said Anderson. "He got them (Green Bay) back again. Shula is the same kind of coach."

During the playoff period a good deal of discussion revolved around the schedule, which Miami played this season, which did not include a single playoff club.

Anderson said such talk never bothered him.

"Before the season we thought we had a heck of a schedule," he said. "We played Kansas City, Minnesota and the Jets three of the first four weeks."

All three of those teams were being mentioned as

Tigers favored

DUHL — The Jerome Tigers rate as prohibitive favorites in the annual Buhl Invitational Wrestling tournament-Friday.

The eight-team meet will open at 1 p.m. with the second round at 3:30 p.m. Champions will be crowned in the final session starting at 7:30 p.m.

Participating in the tournament will be Wendell, Wood River, Jerome, American Falls, Piler, Kimberly, Valley and Buhl.

Unitas will make decision May 1

NEW YORK (UPI) — Johnny Unitas said Tuesday he will wait until May 1 before he makes any move regarding his future in pro football.

Unitas' contract with the Baltimore Colts ends that day and the passing star gains the right to make a deal for himself as a free agent.

The 39-year-old Unitas said he has been approached by several clubs about a quarterback job, but refused to identify them. He does have some preferences, however, especially with clubs close to the Baltimore area where he has his home and business interests.

Washington and New York are the best of the nearby teams.

Unitas still is bitter over being "put down" by Colts general manager Joe Thomas in mid-season while Baltimore was a playoff contender.

"They've embarrassed me and I'd never play for Baltimore again," Unitas said. "I started the season well and I finished high in passing for our division, but Thomas made a bad mistake in replacing me with Marty Domres, an inexperienced quarterback, too early in the season."

NFC-AFC pro bowl worth watching

DALLAS (UPI) — To some it is known as the letdown bowl or the anti-climax All-Star game, but to Chuck Noll it is something worth playing for.

Noll, whose Pittsburgh Steelers made a rush for glory this season only to be eliminated by Super Bowl champion Miami in the AFC title game, will be coaching the American Conference Stars Sunday in the Pro Bowl game.

"I see it as a very interesting ball game," said Noll. "Despite what people might think, this isn't just another game for the players or the coaches."

There is a matter of pride between the conferences as well as personal pride in trying to do well and not look bad and let somebody else down.

"After all, we don't get to face the AFC that much."

The game Sunday in Texas Stadium will be only the third meeting of All-Stars from the two conferences, a format which began with the formal merger of pro football's two leagues.

Two years after Baltimore won the Super Bowl, the NFC won the Pro Bowl game. Last season, following Dallas' victory in the Super Bowl, the AFC was Pro Bowl champion.

Kickoff will be at 2 p.m. MST. Washington's Bill Killmer and New York's Norm Snow will be quarterbacking the NFC.

Proell's victory also went down as a surprise, as she is considered the underdog of the field.

Bobcats beat Montana 70-65

MISSOULA, Mont. (UPI) — Montana State University forward Craig Buehler came off the bench to spark the Bobcats to a decisive 70-65 Tuesday night in Big Sky Conference action over the University of Montana.

The Bobcats had a 33-25 lead at the half when Buehler came in to score 23 points and pulled down eight rebounds. Buehler's hot shooting gave the Cats the edge they needed to hold on for the win in a see-saw final quarter.

Proell falls

WENGEN, Switzerland (UPI) — Conchita Paug of Spain clocked the fastest time in the first heat of today's women's World Cup slalom race.

The 20-year-old Spanish girl sped through the 43-gate course which dropped 450 feet in 39.83 seconds in light snow.

Austria's Monika Kaserer was fractionally slower in 39.85 seconds to take second place ahead of Hanny Wenzel of Liechtenstein, who stopped the clock in 40.69.

Annemarie Proell of Austria, leader in the World Cup standings, fell when she hooked her left ski on a marker pole. Several other favorites also went out on the first run, including French girls Patricia Emonet and Odile Chalvin, Susan Corcock and Sandra Poulsen of the United States and Austrians Marianne Ranner, Sigrid Eberle and Brigitte Schroll.

Canada's Judy Crawford posted fourth best time in 40.73 followed by Rosi Mittermaier and Pamela Behr of West Germany and Françoise Christine Rolland.

The second heat was due to be run through 44 gates.

ISU takes winning streak against Boise St. Thursday

POCATELLO — Idaho State's conference play this week. Always-tough Boise hosts ISU Thursday at 7:30 and on Saturday the Bengals travel to the City of Roses to face Portland State at 9 MST.

While the Bengals have won seven in a row, their longest streak since 1961's 11-game win streak, Boise has lost six in a row. Coach Murray Satterfield has seen his hopes of Big Sky contention fade due to injuries and sub-par performances. BSC center Maurice Buckingham, a big thorn in ISU's side in two previous meetings, has a broken hand and won't play.

Top Boise sub Booker Brown has been out with a severe groin pull but may be back to face ISU. Brown has played mostly at guard but could start at forward Thursday. He's averaging 9.4. If he doesn't start he's fresh Pat Hoke, who is scoring only 2.8 ppg in four varsity contests will. Former starter 6-7 Steve Clifford is averaging 10.6 but has been in a slump lately.

King's Archibald leads NBA scorers

NEW YORK (UPI) — Tiny Nate Archibald continues to reign as the biggest man in the National Basketball Association scoring race.

The 6-foot-1 guard for the Kansas City-Omaha Kings is averaging 33.5 points a game and also leads in assists with an average of 11.5.

Kareem Abdul-Jabbar of the Milwaukee Bucks is second to Archibald in scoring at 27.0 while also placing second in field goal percentage at .563 and fourth in rebounding with 16.3 a game.

Wilt Chamberlain of the Los Angeles Lakers continues to lead in the field goal percentage department with a mark of .751 and ranks first in rebounding with 17.7 a game.

Rick Barry of the Golden State Warriors leads in free throw percentage with a mark of .925.

Wolves top Huskies 52-34

HANSEN — Dave Wiggins and Lynn Reese poured through 10 straight points in the fourth quarter Tuesday night to pace the Castletown Wolves past the Hansen Huskies 52-34.

The Wolves held the lead throughout the game and were up by 14 at intermission.

Hansen inched back in the third quarter and early in the fourth reduced the deficit to eight. But Wiggins then hit three straight and Reese two to blunt any rally hopes.

Hansen won the preliminary 30-27.

A sober-up pill, first, what the researchers are working on now at the Tucson Veterans Administration Hospital. Possible ingredients: Sodium acetate. It's said to burn up the alcohol in the blood in a speedy manner. Also, vitamins B-1 and B-5. They're known to cut down the liquor wobbles, it's claimed. These men of science so far only are testing their concoctions on rats. Get the rats drunk, then sober them up. Drunk, sober again and again. It's pretty hard on the rats, I guess.

THAT AMERICAN MEN are growing taller and heavier with each generation has been widely reported. Hat manufacturers, however, say the sizes of our heads do not seem to be getting any bigger. Most men buy hats size 7-1/8 or smaller, still.

IN THE LAST 30 years, an average of one submarine every 21 months has sunk accidentally. The record shows more than 1,000 men have died in these collapsed vessels.

QUERIES FROM CLIENTS
Q. "Your claim that the Great Wood this is the only hat that flies up down may be right. I once saw a duck try it, but it quacked up."
A. Please knock it off.

Q. "THE FACE that launched a thousand ships was that of Helen of Troy, right? How old was she when Paris carried her off from Sparta?"
A. Age 12, it's said. But that was a little young for ship launching thereabouts then. Spartan girls didn't usually get married until they were about 20.

IF MORE young folk fall in love than get sick, why is the greeting card makers sell fewer valentines than get-well messages? It's a fact valentines rank only No. 1 on that list of best-selling cards. Christmas, birthday and get-well, respectively are Nos. 2, 3 and 4.

PHYSICAL TYPES
Again am asked to explain mesomorph, endomorph and ectomorph. These are the three physical types of folks. Consider for the moment only the female of the species. The mesomorph woman tends to be medium in height and roundish of figure. All right, pleasingly plump. Mesomorph women almost invariably are good cooks. The endomorph woman tends to be the athletic type. Usually, she's a lands' swimmer. And a good talker, too. The ectomorph woman is slender, most often serious in her manner, sometimes exceedingly sensitive, even poetic in her outlook. More later.

NO MAYBES, the penitentiary is not penitentiary, definitely. Not such a recent finding in an extensive study of the matter at Ohio State University. I'd previously quoted a pointer, expert to the contrary. We were wrong. Apologies.

GEMINI (May 21 to June 21) Find some new outlet through which you can add to present income and utilize free hours intelligently. Listen to what a clever business expert has to suggest. Evening best spent at home.

MOON CHILDREN (June 22 to July 21) A good day to get in touch with those with whom you have had misunderstandings, whether of a business or personal nature and reach right accord. Don't lose your temper and all goes well. Show you have wisdom.

LEO (July 22 to Aug. 23) You can make the behind-the-scenes preparations now that will insure the success of some plan you have in mind. Your intuitions are good, so don't put them aside. They can be most helpful in your dealings with others.

VIRGO (Aug. 24 to Sept. 23) You have to take the lead with friends and associates if your relationships with them are to be successful now. Show true devotion to kin. Make this a very interesting and happy day for you.

LIBRA (Sept. 24 to Oct. 23) The full moon can help you, make big advancement in the world of business, so get out early and show you have real know-how. Get the okay of kin before you start that new work that interests you.

SCORPIO (Oct. 24 to Nov. 21) Find some new and better system for handling personal and emotional affairs. Uncover the data you need that can be most helpful. Don't neglect to pay important bills, make mortgage and insurance payments on time.

CAPRICORN (Dec. 22 to Jan. 20) Ideal day to get into new topics with partners, kin and mate and make the future more successful, satisfying and effective. Listen to the ideas of others as well as expounding your own. Find that happy point of camaraderie.

AQUARIUS (Jan. 21 to Feb. 19) Do the important work that you like to do first and get right results and then you can easily handle the unimportant. A good day to pick up that new outfit you have in mind. Show you have excellent taste.

PISCES (Feb. 20 to Mar. 20) You can follow through with those ideas you have for recreation that can also help to bring in the bacon. Try to build up the ego of mate and have more accord in the future. Don't take some situation to heart so much.

IF YOUR CHILD IS BORN TODAY he or she will be one of those delightful young people who will be almost born with divine discontent that could lead to real martyrdom if you, as parents, do not teach early to stand up for own rights and have more faith, as well as confidence in himself or herself. Teach to smile more and to develop a sense of humor, which can be a lifesaver at times. There, say by June, in this chart, provided the route is found and specialized in early in life. Religion a must here.

Market Review

NEW YORK (UPI) — Prices backed off slightly from their earlier advances in active trading today on the New York Stock Exchange.

Shortly before noon, the Dow Jones Industrial average was up 2.06 to 1087.17. It had been ahead 3.91 earlier. Advances outnumbered declines, 714 to 508, among the 1,500 issues on the tape.

The two-hour volume was about 8,000,000 shares, compared with roughly the same amount in the corresponding period Tuesday.

Gulf Oil was the most active issue, up 1/4 to 28 1/4 on 242,800 shares. Second was U.S. Industries, off 1/4 to 19 3/4 on 231,600 shares, including a block trade of 215,900 shares at 19. Federal National Mortgage was third, unchanged at 16 1/2, on 196,500 shares, including a 162,700 share block at 16 1/2.

Glaxo registered a broad advance, Wrigley gained 3/4. The company said Tuesday it would effect a two-for-one stock split and increase the monthly dividend. Xerox was up 1 1/4 and Polaroid 1/4.

Electronic and computer issues were mostly mixed. Sperry Rand ticked up 1/4 after announcing a new computer system and healthy second quarter performance. Memorex was up 1/2. Bill Barron's lost 3/4 after announcing redemption of debentures.
