

Idaho abortion law needed, aide says

BOISE (UPI) — The Senate Health, Education and Welfare Committee was told today to "come to grips" with a Supreme Court ruling on abortion because Idaho's law appears to be unconstitutional.

Assistant Atty. Gen. Kent Taylor told the committee Idaho's law is similar to the Texas law declared unconstitutional in the recent Supreme Court ruling.

The ruling legalizes abortions during the first six months of pregnancy.

Taylor said one of the problems that the legislature would have to address was if no state law was passed Idaho would be "wide open" concerning what type of facilities were to be used for abortions and who could perform them.

"If something isn't done the state could be wide open," Taylor said.

At the same time, Gene Thomas, general counsel for the Idaho Hospital Association, said, "I think the Idaho abortion law if tested would be found unconstitutional. The state is going to have to come to grips with the problem."

Sen. John Barker, R-Buhl, chairman of the NEW committee, instructed the attorney general's office to work with doctors, hospital officials, in preliminary preparation of legislation to regulate where and who could perform abortions.

Thomas said according to the ruling the mother and her physician would make the decisions on abortions during the first three months.

But he added that during the second three months the state could regulate where the abortions could be performed and what type of equipment should be present.

During the last three months of pregnancy, according to the ruling, the state could outlaw them outright.

Sen. Leon Swenson, R-Nampa, wanted to know what role the father played in deciding whether his wife should have an abortion.

Thomas told him the question of the father's role had not been addressed in the Supreme Court ruling.

Dr. Glen H. Weybrick, a Boise physician told the committee he thought the father should be included in the decision making procedure if he were available.

Weybrick said it would be possible for the state to include such provisions in its law. But he added that provisions should be included if the father had left the home and could not be found.

Dakota battle

HIGHWAY PATROL officers turn back charging Indians trying to re-enter Custer County Court House at Custer, S.D., to protest charges in stabbing death of Indian. Building was later set fire by American Indian Movement members and nearby chamber of commerce office was burned. (UPI)

Indians, police clash; 8 injured

CUSTER, S.D. (UPI) — Militant Indians, protesting the slaying death of a fellow Indian, battled police and riot gear for more than an hour Tuesday. Twenty-seven persons were arrested, and eight others, including six lawmen, were injured.

Fire, triggered by molotov cocktail devices, destroyed the one-story, wooden Chamber of Commerce building directly across the street from the Custer County Courthouse, scene of the battle. The courthouse also sustained extensive fire, smoke and water damage from a blaze set in the building's front lobby.

The violence came shortly after five members of the American Indian Movement (AIM) were admitted to the courthouse to meet Hobart Gates, county state's attorney over the filing of manslaughter charges last month against a Custer white man in connection with the stabbing death of an Indian. The Indians wanted the charge changed to murder.

Law officers fought back with tear gas, smoke bombs and water hoses before clearing the demonstrators from inside the courthouse.

Shortly after the meeting started, about 100 protesters stormed the courthouse located in the Black Hills not far from where Indian fighter Gen. George Armstrong Custer once

"We almost didn't have enough men," said Gates, who was caught inside the building in rocks, bottles and other objects were tossed through the courthouse windows.

"I was trying to keep my composure during the meeting. They wouldn't listen to anything I said. I could have spoken Greek and it wouldn't have made any difference."

Gates said the AIM leaders "came down here with the intention of causing trouble."

Fires were also set at a service station and bulk warehouse building located about one block away from the incident. Two sheriff's cars were damaged, and two shotguns were stolen from inside the vehicles.

Vietnam policing snarled

SARGON (UPI) — Truce policing bogged down today in bickering over such things as how many stenographers would take notes at meetings of the Joint Military Commission (JMC), and cease-fire violations climbed to the highest total of the week.

The question of the exact date of the return of prisoners of war remained unanswered because of the squabbles and the red tape. A morning meeting of the JMC was called off because there were no drivers available for cars of the Communist delegates.

Although a Canadian spokesman indicated Tuesday that the first U.S. prisoners of war probably would be released Saturday, Canadian sources said tonight they did not know the date of the first release.

South Vietnamese sources said the release of American prisoners held in jungle camps near the Cambodian border probably would come in the An Loc area before Monday.

Henry off to Asia

WASHINGTON (UPI) — Henry A. Kissinger flew to Bangkok today on the first leg of a trip that will take him to Hanoi and Peking.

With a wave of his hand and a broad smile but with no comment to reporters who saw him off, Kissinger departed at 10:48 a.m. EST in a presidential jet from Andrews Air Force Base in suburban Maryland. Kissinger, who negotiated the Vietnam cease-fire for the United States, was accompanied by Herbert G. Klein, President Nixon's communications chief.

The Kissinger plane is due in Bangkok, Thailand's capital,

Thursday morning, Washington time, after refueling stops in Spain and Iran.

Before going to North Vietnam this weekend, Kissinger holds high level meetings in Bangkok with Thai leader and in Vietnam with Laotian officials, apparently to try to expedite a cease-fire in Laos and Cambodia.

Before leaving Washington, Kissinger held a 10-minute meeting with Nixon at the White House.

The schedule calls for the national security affairs adviser to spend Feb. 10-13 in Hanoi. He will be the first American official in almost two decades to visit the North Vietnamese capital when he arrives there Saturday for private talks it is hoped will allow U.S.-Hanoi relations to move "from hostility to normalization."

U.S. sources said the talks would include a thorough review of North Vietnam's postwar reconstruction needs.

Kissinger will spend two days at an unannounced rest site following the Hanoi talks and then will spend Feb. 15-19 in Peking in "concrete consultations" with Premier Chou En-lai and other Chinese leaders.

Diplomatic sources said Kissinger would meet with Prince Norodon Sihanouk, the exiled Cambodian leader, in either Hanoi or Peking.

In Bangkok, Kissinger planned to confer with three U.S. ambassadors.

BONN (UPI) — Speculators drove the dollar down to its crisis point again today and Germany rescued it with emergency purchases.

That rescued about 100 million unwanted dollars to the $2.5 billion already in German vaults.

Speculators on the Frankfurt Bourse said the Central Bank pushed and shoved against new speculative pressure for about an hour in morning trading and bought an estimated $80 to $100 million.

This rescue operation, only a fraction of the effort required, Tuesday, stabilized the dollar's exchange rate by midday at a weak but legal 3.1518 marks, they said.

But the dollar plummeted right back to its lowest legal rate—3.1500 marks—at the 4 p.m. market closing, when the Central Bank ended its business day. Traders' cleaning up leftover business then showed how weak the dollar is without official German support, driving its price down to 3.1500 marks.

Money traders reported the dollar dropped quickly to its legal red-line rate of 3.15 marks in Germany during early trading and also fell below Monday closing prices in Brussels, Amsterdam and Zurich. It rose slightly in France.

The German government called the Central Bank's governing board into emergency session scheduled for the afternoon.

On the Frankfurt bourse, speculators resumed hectic dollar selling today where they left off Tuesday.

Second hearing possible

BOISE (UPI) — Another public hearing may be called on a measure to rescind Idaho's ratification of the equal rights amendment to the U.S. Constitution, it was reported today.

Chairman E. Don Coppel, R-Boise, made the comment after a meeting of his House Judiciary Committee in which the question of the pending joint resolution never came up for consideration.

He said he has received complaints from both proponents and opponents of the measure that they did not get an opportunity to testify at the committee's five-hour hearing Monday night.

Approximately 50 of the 275 persons who registered to testify had an opportunity to speak at the Monday night hearing. Coppel said persons from Pocatello and Lewiston complained they were not heard.

Just when another hearing would be scheduled, Coppel said, he is not certain. That may depend in part on the feelings of those who have strong feelings on the resolution.

Normally, the question of disposition of the resolution should have come up at Wednesday's meeting of the judiciary committee. But it did not.

Burley escapees, friend nabbed

BURLEY — A teen-aged girl who helped two juvenile girl friends escape from the city jail at gunpoint early Tuesday was captured later at a motel by police.

Cassia County Prosecutor Gordon Nielson said the girls were picked up about 2 p.m. at the Carlos Motel by police who had search warrants.

Police Dispatcher Fred McCoy said the girl had entered his office about 1:45 p.m. and asked to see a friend being held in jail. When he told her she could not visit at that hour she left.

About 1 a.m., McCoy said, the girl returned and got the drop on him with a .22 caliber automatic pistol. McCoy said she took his .38-caliber, snub-nosed pistol from his holster and a short time later got the drop on Officer Bill Daley when he came into the office.

Holding both officers at gunpoint, McCoy said, she marched them down to the jail, freed her friends and locked them behind bars and escaped.

An hour and a-half later another officer, puzzled because the dispatcher did not respond to either radio or telephone calls, came into the police station, heard the other officers yelling from their cells and released them.

Nielson said a juvenile petition would be filed against the one girl on criminal charges of assault with a deadly weapon, robbery and aiding and abetting escape of the two other girls.

Charges were pending against the other two, he said, and all three were in the Burley City Jail.

Magistrate Judge Gleason Anderson said the trio would probably appear in his court today.

Special session for Idaho?

BOISE (UPI) — Sen. Richard High, R-Twin Falls, told the Idaho Senate Tuesday that the state is facing "very serious problems" in funding because of federal money and possibly the legislative leadership should agree to appropriate on an interim basis and come back for a special session.

"Maybe I am standing here in simple frustration," High said. "But he said the joint finance and appropriations committee has been seeking answers on federal funding but has come up with no answers."

High said there is little information available about federal funds to the state and there could be changes in the amounts that could change the money available to state agencies.

High said of the 66 general fund agencies, 30 of them are facing problems because of interrupted federal funds.

"I would hope that the leadership of both parties could sit down together — not as a political problem but as a problem facing the state — and work it out," High said.

High suggested that the leadership consider a special session rather than to stay in session for five months waiting for the information from the federal government.

Democrat leaders in the Senate also agreed that a meeting should be held between their party and the Republicans to make some decisions concerning the problem.

Sen. John Barker, R-Buhl, chairman of the Senate Health, Education and Welfare Committee, agreed with High's suggestion and said he has faced problems of funding because of amendments to the Social Security Act and Medicare.

He said if a special session were called it could take place possibly in the spring or as late as November, depending when the information from the federal government is available.

High's suggestions followed a letter to the Senate by Gov. Cecil D. Andrus. The letter contained remarks in a letter sent to the state's Congressional delegation in Washington, D.C.

"I urge the Idaho Legislature to appropriate state funds cautiously with an eye to preserving those beneficial programs which may be eliminated should Congress concur with the President's recommendations," the letter said.

The governor said Idaho simply cannot afford to be caught short a year from now because of federal actions beyond our control.

"The President's proposed budget would eliminate approximately $2.8 million from the support of public schools in Idaho," Andrus said. "This, plus the elimination of our presently operating federally-funded kindergarten programs in 41 Idaho communities, makes your total support for public education in Idaho all the more critical."

Woman flight officer hired by Frontier

ST. LOUIS, Mo. (UPI) — Sitting snugly behind the captain in the cockpit of the Boeing 737, Emily Howell made aviation history Tuesday as the first woman flight officer on a commercial airline in the United States.

"It's a little unusual today," said the tall brunette, "but after things settle down, it'll be just another job."

Miss Howell, 33, denied she was invading the cockpit as a move towards equal rights for women. "I'm not a woman's libber and I'm not trying to strike a blow for anyone. Frontier hired me for my own qualifications."

Miss Howell's quest to become the first female pilot on a commercial airliner began when she was 17.

"Originally, I wanted to be a stewardess," she said. "I took a flight on Frontier in 1950 to see how I would like flying." She liked it, but the crew told her she was too young to be a stewardess. So she started flying lessons instead.

She had logged about 7,000 flight hours when Frontier hired her as a second officer in January. She holds FAA ratings in air transport, instrument and instructor. She also is an FAA flight examiner and has checked out many pilots for instrument ratings. She is fully qualified on Frontier's planes and has just finished the indoctrination training given all new pilots. She resigned as chief pilot for a private aviation company to take the Frontier job.

On Tuesday's roundtrip flight from Denver to St. Louis, Miss Howell sat behind the captain and copilot and watched the maze of dials and instruments.

"My job on the flight is radio communications, monitoring other communications and taking orders from the captain," she said. As a backup pilot, she must be ready to take over the controls if the pilot or copilot were unable to handle their regular duties.

Capt. Les Nettleblad said she "did just fine." He said he had no objections to sharing the cockpit with a woman, "as long as she's qualified."

Miss Howell, a divorcee with a 7-year-old son, said the life of a commercial pilot may be a bit hectic for a mother, "but I have relatives who live near the airport and help with the baby sitting."

Stennis fights, still critical

WASHINGTON (UPI) — "He's made a remarkable comeback from where he was yesterday," Nixon said. "I think he's going to make it."

The President went to the hospital in northwest Washington shortly after 9 a.m. EST.

This was two hours after a hospital spokesman issued a statement indicating that Stennis was managing to hold his own in a battle against effects of a bullet that damaged his intestine, pancreas and colon.

Nixon told reporters that he had sent his personal physician, Brig. Gen. Walter Tkach, to see Stennis Tuesday night and again earlier today. He said he was told the senator had had "a very good night" following additional surgery early Tuesday.

The President also praised Stennis anew for his service to the nation, saying "he's done so much to help his country and now the country is trying to help him" with prayers.

Also present at the senator's bedside were his wife Coy and son, John Hampton Stennis.

Train hits bus, kills children

LITTLEFIELD, Tex. (UPI) — A fast-moving freight train plowed into a school bus taking 23 children home to farms and ranches outside this Texas Panhandle town Tuesday. Seven children were killed and everyone else in the bus, including the driver, was injured.

"The kiddos were all scattered up and down the tracks," said Police Chief James Cox. "The ones who were conscious were hollering and screaming."

Cox said the crossing was marked by red flashing warning lights and bells, which he said were operating at the time. He said the driver, Artis Ray Johnson, 68, who became a bus driver last September when he retired as a carpenter, said he did not see the train or the warning signals.

"We talked with him, but he was real shook," Cox said. "I just didn't see it. I stopped and then started again. I just didn't know it was there."

Johnson was hospitalized in Lubbock, Tex., suffering from injuries and shock.

Superintendent of Littlefield's schools Paul Jones scheduled a memorial service at 2 p.m. CST Thursday for the seven dead students, who ranged in age from 5 to 18.

"The driver of the second bus, right behind the one hit, said Johnson stopped; looked both ways, and even opened the door before he started up again," Jones said. "We believe our vehicles operated according to the law. Maybe, the train was going too fast."

The speed limit for trains going through Littlefield is 60 miles an hour. Cox said Santa Fe officials recovered the speedometer of the train from the wreck and it was frozen at 58.

The survivors were taken to three hospitals in the area. The dead were all from the farmstead between Littlefield and Fieldton, a small town 10 miles to the north.

The dead were Anita Martinez, Edward Ortiz, 17, Aurora Ortiz, 9, Duana Frusto, 7, David Frusto, 10, Mary Medina, 10, and Julie Davis, 9.

"It shook the whole town," said Jones. Littlefield's population is 6,700.

"Damn it was terrible," said David Roden, 22, an employee of a pharmacy across the street from the scene of the crash.

"The bus was smashed. There were arms and legs lying all over the place."

Funeral services will be conducted at 2 p.m. Friday at the White Mortuary Chapel by Rev. James Hughes. Burial will follow in Sunset Memorial Park. Friends may call at the mortuary Thursday and Friday until 1 p.m.

return barred

By ROBERT E. SULLIVAN BUENOS AIRES (UPI) — The military government barred the immediate return of former president Juan D. Peron Tuesday and asked a court to abolish the political party which Peron directs from exile.

The government accused Peronists of violating election laws and advocating violence for political ends.

President Alejandro Lanusse cleared the way last year for Peron's return from 17 years in exile by eliminating criminal charges against him. Peron returned to Argentina but was barred from running for president in the March 11 elections called to return the country to civilian rule.

The former dictator stayed one month in Argentina before returning to Spain. He chose an aide, Hector Campora, to run in his name as presidential candidate for his Justicialista party.

The government accused Peron last month of incitement to violence because of alleged statements in Madrid on the situation at home. The government also objected to such slogans as "Peron Or Death" and "Campora For President, Peron In Power."

Argentine governments repeatedly have tried to eliminate Peron's followers from the electoral process since his nine-year dictatorship was overthrown in 1955.

Fire caused by electric flaw

BOSTON (UPI) — Officials said today a preliminary investigation indicated a subway fire which killed one person and injured about 100 others Tuesday was started by a malfunction in the device which supplies electricity to the subway cars.

The smoky blaze killed Arthur Rotch, 74, of Milton. More than 300 persons scrambled or were led to safety from the commuter-jammed train through the heavy, black smoke.

The fire began shortly after the train pulled out of South Station.

The investigation indicated the malfunction occurred in a contact shoe, a device on the subway car which takes current from the electrical rail, or so-called third rail, to power the train.

A spokesman for the Massachusetts Transportation Authority (MTA) said the transit authority, "taking every precautionary measure, has decided to keep all cars with

TWIN FALLS — More than 100 Magic Valley 4-H Club leaders and county agents were told that any youth development program must have the support of the parents to succeed.

Grant Hall, district 4-H leader, made the statement at a district 4-H leader training session Tuesday at the Holiday Inn. Janice Buckner, Moscow, 4-H clothing specialist, Charles Thomas, Moscow, area 4-H specialist; Dick Johnson, Moscow, soils specialist, and Charles Dunham, Pocatello, area 4-H specialist, attended the session to help instruct the leaders.

Hall went on to say that any youth development must also be centered around the youth and be supported by its leaders for success.

He said 4-H was once centered around the project in order to teach skills in home economics and agriculture, but now teaching youth management practices, independent thinking, planning skills and decision making receives more emphasis.

According to Hall, the 4-H program offers youth an opportunity for growth. He said the leader should consider several points. Some of them that the members are more important than the projects; 4-H does not try to replace, but supplements the home, church and school; that 4-H members should be the best exhibit; that competition is a natural human trait and should receive no extra emphasis; that members learn by doing; that each member needs to achieve and receive praise and that the members should be guided in how to think, not in what to think.

Dick Johnson, Moscow, soils specialist, said some 4-H programs are currently being revised and updated. He used the newly planned plant and soil science program to illustrate the changes, saying that it offers introductory and advanced programs dealing with plant life and soils and their relationships in place of several former projects.

Those with special interests may either enter the plant and soil science program as background material for the special interest, or may work in the special interest program only.

Johnson said he thought the new program would offer a head start for the college-bound 4-H'er and good information for those who will farm or engage in other agricultural occupations without college training. The program has been designed so that leaders should be able to introduce new phases as needed to maintain member's interest.

Earl Haroldsen, district manager for Idaho Power Co., addressed the group briefly at a noon luncheon sponsored by the power company. He said that he thinks southern Idaho will experience growth problems as word gets out as to what a delightful place it is to live in, in order to keep the area a desirable place to live in, he said, continuance of the 4-H program of training tomorrow's leaders is needed.

"I don't subscribe to the doom theory that we are going to destroy ourselves," Haroldsen said. He urged the leaders to continue their work, saying that programs like 4-H help to create the stable atmosphere needed to give companies a chance to keep providing the goods and services contributing to a high standard of living.

Leaders attended special interest training sessions in clothing, self-determined projects, plant and soil science and mechanical projects. At each of the sessions, questions were answered and help with special problems was offered.

TWIN FALLS — City Manager Jean Miller said today City Hall will be closed Monday, Feb. 19, for George Washington's birthday anniversary.

Miller said he is making plans ahead of time as city employees and the public will know the score.

A public hearing advertised for the City Council meeting which would normally fall on Feb. 19, will be held Feb. 20. The City Council Monday night adjourned its meeting until 7:30 p.m. Feb. 20, a Tuesday, because of the holiday.

A communications breakdown resulted on recent City Hall closures. Mayor John Christoffersen, through his secretary, advised news media the city hall would close for the funeral of former President Harry Truman. Since city employees were unaware of the closure, city hall was open.

For former President Lyndon Johnson's funeral, the mayor announced plans to keep city offices open, but after the announcement was in print, other council members prevailed upon him to close city hall and it was too late to change the announcement.

Health change sought

BOISE (UPI) — Despite fears it will make the state health administrator a dictator to district health boards, the House approved 49-20 Tuesday a bill to revise the district health board laws.

Rep. Russell Fogg, R-Idaho Falls, floor sponsor for the measure, said the bill will bring the local health boards "as close to the people as we know how."

He said some of the revisions simply bring the district health board laws into line with changes made last year in the Department of Environmental Protection and Health. He said a fiscal portion of the bill revises the formula for state aid to make certain the state picks up 35 per cent of the tab for supporting the seven health districts.

Rep. John Beardon, R-Boise, said a section in the bill giving the health administrator power to delegate and approve district actions gives the health administrator too much power over the local entities.

Carpet offered

TWIN FALLS — The Twin Falls Public Library Board has received an offer from the Civitan Club to carpet the children's room at the library.

Helen Cannon also presented the 1972 auditor's report to the board at the meeting Tuesday evening.

An oral history program, in conjunction with the state library, will be started by Marilyn Jardine, regional assistant for this area.

A coin operated photocopy system has been installed at the library. The new machine replaces the old system of making copies for those needing them.

Soviets ask exemption

VIENNA (UPI) — Western diplomats said today the Soviet Union is trying to exempt nearly 40,000 of its troops from any eventual East-West agreement on mutual cuts in men and weapons in central Europe.

The diplomats said North Atlantic Treaty Organization (NATO) members were seeking new meetings with negotiators from the rival Warsaw Pact in an attempt to clarify the situation. At the same time they asked their home capitals for advice on what to do next.

The new issue threatened to delay even longer the opening of preliminary talks on Mutual and Balanced Force Reductions (MBFR), originally scheduled to start last week. Diplomats said they doubted the talks could begin before next week. The issue arose when the Soviet Union proposed the removal of Hungary's status as a full participant in the talks Tuesday and it receive "special status" as a "flank" nation instead.

Since the talks, as originally conceived by the West, is to deal only with countries with troops in Europe, the exemption of Hungary would, in effect, exempt both its troops and the 39,000 Soviet soldiers stationed there, the diplomats said.

TWIN FALLS — Janis Rae Stewart, 24, Idaho Falls, was arraigned in Fifth District Magistrate Court Tuesday on a charge of issuing a check without funds in the bank. Magistrate Daniel B. Meehl set bond in the case at $100.

Fresh measure on merger due

BOISE (UPI) — In an effort to save a proposed merger of the departments of health and welfare from defeat, a brand new bill is being written by a house committee to water down the powers of the administrator.

At a brief meeting this morning, the health and welfare committee went over the proposed changes and gave them their blessing.

Chairman Rudy Andersen, R-Boise, said he hopes a rough draft of the new bill will be ready for committee consideration by Thursday morning.

Andersen said during the debate the merger is necessary before March 31 if the state is to pick up an additional $3 million to $4 million in federal aid. He said the proposal also will save some $300,000 in administrative costs.

Among the changes is one altering the name of the surviving agency to the department of environmental and community services from the originally proposed "department of environmental, health and social services."

Others would:

- Give the governor instead of the administrator power to establish substate administrative regions.
- Change the name of the head of the regional offices to director from regional administrator and require concurrence of the board when the administrator appoints him.

Arrests reported

TWIN FALLS — Three persons have been arrested in Twin Falls this week.

Robert Bateman, 37, Twin Falls, was arrested by Twin Falls police Monday afternoon on a charge of assault and battery. He was arraigned Tuesday before Magistrate Daniel B. Meehl and released on his own recognizance.

Dan Willon Dunn, 46, Berkeley, Calif., was arrested Tuesday afternoon on a charge of forgery. Dunn was taken into custody by Twin Falls County Sheriff's deputies. He was scheduled to be arraigned in Fifth District Court today.

Ralph Dawson Smith, 59, Boise, was arrested Monday by Twin Falls police on a charge of issuing a check without sufficient funds in the bank. He was released later in the day under $300 bond.

Utah man named

TWIN FALLS — Allstate Insurance Co. has filed suit in Fifth District Court against N. Kent Smith, Wendover, Utah.

In the suit, Allstate seeks $5,000 allegedly paid to Dora Hamilton under an uninsured motorist's policy for injuries suffered in an accident in which Smith allegedly negligently operated his vehicle.

The accident referred to in the suit allegedly occurred Sept. 14, 1970, near Burley between a vehicle operated by Smith and a car driven by Sadie Perry in which Dora Hamilton was a passenger.

Allstate contends that it paid $5,000 to Dora Hamilton for medical expenses and other costs and that she in turn signed a trust agreement allowing Allstate to seek recovery of the $5,000 from Smith.

In addition to the $5,000, Allstate seeks court costs and such further relief as the court may deem proper.

Injury suit filed

TWIN FALLS — Anthony Harry Cortez has filed suit in Fifth District Court against Eugene Carroll Widmer as an individual and doing business as Widmer Texaco Service.

In the suit, Cortez alleges that he suffered injuries in an accident Jan. 17, 1973, on Rock Creek Road and that the injuries were a direct result of Widmer's negligence in driving a vehicle improperly while allegedly intoxicated.

Cortez alleges that he suffered permanent disfigurement and probably permanent partial loss of use of his right hand as a result of the accident. He seeks $18,000 for general damages and medical expenses, plus all costs of the suit and such further relief as the court deems proper.

Cortez alleges that he rode as a passenger in the Widmer vehicle, a pickup truck, while doing work at Widmer's request and that he was asked by Widmer to ride in the vehicle.

Lodge aide makes Buhl lodge visit

BOHJ. — Mrs. Jean Markham, Mountain Home, president of the Department Association of Ladies Auxiliary Patriarch Militant of Idaho, made her official visit to Buhl.

Mrs. Markham visited the Canton Colfax No. 13, Ladies Auxiliary Patriarch Militant, during its Monday evening meeting at the Buhl Odd Fellows Temple.

Other honored guests included Mrs. Goldie Ridgeway, chaplain of the DA; Mrs. Irene Childers, right aide to chaplain of DA; Mrs. Dassar Eastman, left aide to chaplain of DA; Mrs. Anna Leth, past president of DA; Mrs. Velma Fenton, secretary of DA; Frank Markham, department adjutant; Dale Boyman, first aide of department staff; Frank Eastman, sentinel of Department Council; Letty Fenton, vice president of Department Council; Ted Arbogast, past department commander, and Mrs. Esther Arbogast, past present of DA.

New yearbooks were distributed by Mrs. William Breeding, president, and the thought for the day was given by Mrs. Leth. The closing thought was given by Mrs. Eastman and the origin of Valentine's Day was given by Wanda Easton.

Mrs. Bowman read an article honoring Thomas Wilder's birthday, the original organizer of the Rebekah Lodge.

Mrs. Markham instructed the auxiliary of her yearly program and how to reorganize the title of a chevallier by emblem on shoulder strap.

It was voted to designate May as the department association month.

Rupert Auxiliary No. 10 extended an invitation for its potluck dinner and meeting March 26 when Mrs. Markham makes her official visit.

The next meeting will be at the Buhl Odd Fellows Temple when Brig. Gen. Roy O. Ingle makes his official visit. There will be a potluck dinner at 6:30 p.m., followed by a meeting.

ignored the Geneva agreement of 1954, Ho Chi Minh proclaiming promptly after its signature that the fight for "liberation" would go on — as it did for 18 agonizing years. This time, even as the participants drank toasts in Paris to see the peace agreement, Madam Binh, the ineffable Viet Cong leader, stated: "The struggle will continue."

Missing Prisoners

Before the first prisoners of war returned from North Vietnam it was evident that fewer Americans will come home than many officials and private citizens — perhaps engaging in wishful thinking — had hoped for.

missing men except hope that more of them will, somehow, show up in the days and weeks ahead. But that this number will be sizable is now doubtful. The probability must be faced that the number missing in action will continue at a high level and the number of prisoners accounted for at a low level.

WASHINGTON — Old Senate hands furious over the first term "inaccessibility" of President Nixon and his top aides were bug-eyed when John Ehrlichman dropped in for a long, cozy chat with liberal Republican Sen. Jacob K. Javits of New York in the Senate Office Building last Tuesday afternoon (Jan. 30).

White House clout as one of Mr. Nixon's two most powerful lieutenants (H. R. (Bob) Haldean, major domo of the White House palaco guard, is the other) to act as President's emissary on touchy political matters.

Thus, two weeks ago Ehrlichman spent 75 minutes trying to persuade liberal Republican Sen. Charles H. Percy of Illinois to modify his demands for Senate confirmation of six top presidential aides.

So-What Is New?

WASHINGTON — To anyone who has lived in Hell City longer than overnight, the comment of Sen. Charles McC. Mathias Jr., R-Md., on the murderous shooting of Mississippi's Sen. John C. Stennis could not have been viewed as hot news. Stennis was robbed and gunned down by two youthful assailants outside his home in "respectable" northwest Washington at the presumable "safe" hour of 7:40 p.m.

night. When the sun goes down in Hell City, fear rolls in like fog. Yet, crime is not news in the capital unless it involves a well-known name. The Washington Post, and the Star-News ordinarily — and quite sensibly — relegate crime stories to their inside pages; in fact, most of the Post's crime reports are carried in agate type under a standing head: "Crime and Justice." News, after all, is what is uncommon, and crime in Hell City has become commonplace. No editor could find enough room on Page 1 for the day's supply of terrorism.

car at the curb in front of his home when two youths "jumped from the shadows." While one youth held a gun on the Senator, the other took Stennis' watch, wallet, Phi Beta Kappa key and 25 cents. Then, said Stennis, one of his assailants said something like "Now we're going to shoot you anyway."

This diluted interest in killing — even for trophies — which I have sensed may be part of the explanation for a new fascination with this handsome animal. Now he's hunted mostly by photographers.

About Cancer

Dear Dr. Thosteson: How can a patient know if a physician is telling the truth if, when questioned, he states that you do not have cancer? We all know that physicians will not tell terminal cases, for fear of suicide. God bless them for that. However, why be examined? — Ms. R.

the situation is. They feel happier (and sometimes think they are sparing relatives and friends) by pretending it isn't cancer. But they know. Others, however, want it laid on the line. Best rule, in my opinion, is to wait until the patient asks the question directly. If he asks, tell him the truth. If he doesn't ask, it may mean that he just doesn't want to be told.

I can't follow your flat statement that "we all know that physicians will not tell." It just isn't so. Most physicians are naturally and humanely reluctant to tell a patient pointblank with a newly-found cancer, "You have cancer."

Dear Dr. Thosteson: I'm 16 and have been having my period for several years. Just lately I have started to use tampons, but when my mother found out, she told me I shouldn't do so for the first few days of my period. She said they could make you clot which could hurt you later on. Is that correct? — S. R.

Suppression charged in Pentagon trial

LOS ANGELES (UPI) — Lawyers for Daniel Ellsberg charged today the government illegally suppressed evidence by instructing its star witness to refuse to be interviewed by defense counsel prior to the trial.

Leonard Boudin, chief counsel for the defense in the espionage-conspiracy trial of Ellsberg and Anthony Russo Jr. in connection with the Pentagon Papers, said he would move to strike all the testimony of Brig. Gen. Paul F. Gorman.

Gorman, a former commanding officer in Vietnam and a member of the U.S. mission of the Paris peace talks, testified Tuesday that he originally had agreed to meet with defense lawyers, but reneged after prosecutor David Nissen told him not to.

"Mr. Nissen advised against that and I did not," Boudin said under cross-examination.

"He said any transactions between me and the defense would be a matter of court discussion and he'd rather I didn't cooperate."

Boudin immediately asked the judge to instruct the jury "that the government is prohibited by law from suppressing evidence by preventing witnesses from talking to the defense."

U.S. District Court Judge Matt Byrne told Boudin such matters should not be discussed in front of the jury.

Boudin said he planned to file a formal motion today to remove from the record all testimony by Gorman in two and a half days of direct examination and two days so far by cross-examination.

Gorman, who helped compile the secret Vietnam war history, testified that facts contained in the papers would be helpful to a foreign power, even though the identical information was available in books and newspaper articles.

A thought for the day: American author Mark Twain (Samuel Clemens) said, "Truth is the most valuable thing we have. Let us economize it."

Testimony given on Nixon aide

WASHINGTON (UPI) — Sworn testimony made public Tuesday showed that within hours after the break-in at Democratic national headquarters last year the White House was aware a former presidential aide possibly was involved and was trying to locate him.

The man in question was E. Howard Hunt Jr., at one time a $100-a-day White House consultant, who last month pleaded guilty to participating in the burglary and wiretapping of the Democratic National Committee offices at the Watergate complex in Washington.

White House concern over Hunt's role in the incident was reported in a court deposition, made public Tuesday night, which was taken last Aug. 30 from Charles W. Colson, one of president Nixon's chief political advisers. The deposition was made in a $3 million civil damage suit filed by the Democratic National Committee against Nixon's reelection committee and its officials.

Colson told in the document of nothing a telephone conversation with John D. Ehrlichman, Nixon's domestic affairs adviser, the afternoon of last June 7, which was a few hours after five men were arrested by police inside the Democratic offices and charged with burglary.

Tax proposal said intriguing

WASHINGTON (UPI) — Chairman Wilbur D. Mills of the House Ways and Means Committee says he finds "intriguing" a proposal which would eliminate favorable tax treatment for capital gains — the tax feature which more than any other allows the wealthy to reduce their tax liability.

Mills refrained at Tuesday's tax reform hearing from endorsing the idea, under which maximum tax rates would be reduced from 70 to 50 per cent and capital gains would be taxed just like any other form of income.

Under existing law, only one half of the profit arising from the sale of stocks or other assets held six months or longer is subject to taxation. The consequence is that individuals with incomes of $100,000 or more are able to hold their tax liability to an average of about 30 per cent or roughly the same rate paid by a salaried $35,000-a-year taxpayer.

Mills said if capital gains reform raises billions, he would propose using the revenue to give a tax credit to parents who send their children to parochial schools a plan advanced by President Nixon.

If revenues still permitted, Mills told reporters, he would like to cut tax rates for middle-income taxpayers.

Own outfit

WASHINGTON (UPI) — A House-Senate study committee says Congress should have its own outfit to handle the federal budget in order to keep the legislative branch on a par with the administration.

This would take the form of a permanent budgetary committee in Congress, run by a chief budget officer, according to a proposal made by Congress' Joint Study Committee on Budget Control.

The permanent group would oversee government revenues and debt levels, recommend limits on spending authority and measure the "budgetary effect" of proposed appropriations, according to the proposal.

Lava cuts power, water

REYKJAVIK (UPI) — A 220-yard-wide stream of lava from the Helgafell volcano cut the electricity and fresh water supply of deserted Helmaey Island early today. Salvage teams said it was only a matter of hours before the lava would close the harbor and make transportation to the mainland impossible.

UPI reporter Kari Jonasson flew over the island today and said the main crater of the volcano was emitting a massive flow of glowing lava, now only 100 yards from the harbor entrance and slowly creeping closer.

The volcano sprang to life 15 days ago after lying dormant for 5,000 years, forcing the evacuation of the entire 5,200 population from the island's main fishing town of Vestmannaeyjar.

The electricity cables and two water mains from the mainland running on the bottom of the sea near the harbor were knocked out early today, officials said, but a small emergency electric station on the island continued to provide power for the 300 salvage workers still there.

All ships were ordered out of the harbor Tuesday night to avoid being trapped by the lava. Rescue officials said it was difficult to navigate near the harbor entrance because of the steam generated when the hot lava meets the sea.

The water was so hot that the crews of ships trying to enter the harbor have difficulties keeping the ship's engines cool and in working condition, the officials said.

Workers have been working on the island since the volcano's first eruptions, salvaging personal goods and protecting what intact property remains.

3 banks rapped for hike

NEW YORK (UPI) — Three major banks criticized by government inflation-watchers for recent increases in their prime lending rates backed down and retracted the interest hikes today.

A fourth bank that had raised its prime rate the interest charged on loans to banks' most favored business customers — said it would keep its borrowing fee at 6 1/2 per cent, up from 6 per cent last week.

The Franklin National Bank of New York, the Bank of New York and the Girard Bank in Philadelphia announced their decisions separately after the close of business Tuesday. Since Friday, the higher prime rate levels had been criticized by the administration's Committee on Interest and Dividends, which asked the banks to justify the increases through recent changes in costs and earnings.

Suez canal plan eyed

WASHINGTON (UPI) — Administration officials, after conferring with Jordan's King Hussein, believe an agreement to open the Suez Canal remains the best approach to peace in the Middle East.

Knowledgeable officials said neither Secretary of State William P. Rogers nor Hussein offered any new solutions for the Arab-Israeli conflict when they met Tuesday.

In conversations at the White House, President Nixon reassured Hussein of U.S. economic and military assistance. Nixon has said he will give high priority in his second administration.

Security fund need cited

By DAVID ESPINO
Times-News writer

BOISE — Twin Falls City Manager Jean Milar asked the House Revenue and Taxation Committee Tuesday to write legislation enabling localities to raise money to defray new airport security costs.

Milar was part of a four-man Twin Falls delegation to appear before the committee. Others making the trip were William Wiseman, county commissioner; Harry Merrick, city-county airport manager; and Bill Powell, chairman of the airport commission. Representatives of the Boise, Lewiston and Pocatello airports as well as Mike Murphy, representing the Air Transport Association, and the state director of aeronautics, Darrell Manning, also were present.

All told the representatives cost to the local airports because of newly imposed regulations on security demanded new revenues for the airports.

Beginning in 10 days, at the end of a temporary injunction just granted the Airport Operations International Council, a law enforcement officer must be present at the airport for all domestic flights. Beginning in May, fire and crash safety equipment must also be present and manned at the airport for all flights.

Milar said the cost to the Twin Falls airport during 1973 for the new security would amount to about $27,000, or about $1 for each passenger boarding. Unless there is some way for the city to impose a boarding fee, or some other way to pass the cost on directly to the passenger, Milar said, the cost would be borne by the county taxpayer — the person who uses the airport only rarely.

Rep. Ralph Olmstead, R-Twin Falls, said he thought Milar's request would be a "proper approach" for legislation.

Peavey chided but gets wish

BOISE — Sen. John Peavey, Whole, agreed with two of R-Rupert, got a scolding and amendments but refused to go then his wish Tuesday.

The Senate Resource and Environment Committee voted to introduce a new bill banning non-returnable beverage containers.

The action came on a roll call 7-6 vote in an afternoon committee meeting on the 30th legislative day, the final day for the committee to introduce bills.

Peavey said the new legislation was a combination of his old version of the bill and amendments he wanted to include in the original draft but which the senate voted against in floor debate last week.

Peavey told committee members he "honestly" believed the proponents of his original measure would lend their support for the amended version of the bill, and argued that the "legislature owes it to the people" to vote on the "best possible legislation."

Sen. Mike Mitchell, D-Lewiston, who opposes the measure, briefly questioned some of the amendments contained in the proposal, but Peavey assured him they were the ones that had been considered by the Senate last week and in some cases, rejected.

The measure will now move to the floor of the Senate, the second time this session that a beverage container proposal has made it that far.

The first time, the senators, acting as the Committee of the

Naming heard

BOISE — The Senate State Affairs Committee sent to the floor of the Senate Tuesday appointment of Donald Kramer to the Idaho Water Resource Board.

Kramer was named to the board by Gov. Cecil D. Andrus several weeks ago, but the confirmation by the senate has been held up for the committee report.

The committee has been considering about 30 gubernatorial appointments during the current legislative session.

HEW panel asks for information

BOISE — The Senate Health, Education, and Welfare Committee met with a group of federal officials Tuesday but failed to get answers it needed to speed up legislative budgeting.

Sen. John Barker, R-Buhl, committee chairman, and Sen. Mike Mitchell, D-Lewiston said the information they received was identical to what they were told at a meeting in Arizona last month, called to discuss the amendments to social security and medicare laws.

Upset because he couldn't receive answers to some of his questions, Barker told one of the federal officials, "We really need the answers not in 30 days, but two weeks ago."

John Henderson, a federal planning officer, said, "I couldn't agree with you more. Time is running out."

Mitchell and Barker both agreed the Joint Finance Appropriations Committee needed information about how much money would be needed from state sources to cover some of the changes in the social security laws.

Don Sutcliffe, a regional social security commissioner, hinted a special legislative session could be needed for action by the legislature later in the year, to deal with the situations that develop when federal guidelines are drawn up.

Farming monopoly bill eyed

BOISE (UPI) — A bill to outlaw "vertical integration of agriculture" made it to the pre-introduction bill preparation room of the legislature Tuesday.

The House Agricultural Affairs Committee agreed to send the measure — offered by the National Farmers Organization — that far before considering it further.

Designed to prevent farming by giant corporations not engaged directly in farming, the bill would brand such activities as monopolistic.

It provides felony penalties for individuals who violate its provisions and fines of $10,000 to $50,000 for corporations who would fail to heed its provisions.

WASHINGTON (UPI) — Rep. Orval Hansen, R-Idaho, is asking Congress to use recycled materials, particularly paper, to set an example for the public of the need to save natural resources.

Hansen introduced a bill Monday to encourage representatives, senators and committees to use recycled items.

Mobile court law rapped

TWIN FALLS — A Twin Falls ordinance adopted several months ago has drawn criticism from two mobile home park owners.

Harold Hoover, Twin Falls, told city council members Monday night he is already established and operating a mobile home park in the city, and thus is not subject to new and expansion regulations.

He said, many of the restrictions in the city's ordinance are not good as applied to new courts. He said the $250 annual fee required of mobile home parks is "way out of line" considering the city's largest motel complex pays only $1 per year for its permits.

The requirement for restrooms in a mobile home park where recreational trailers are not mounted on an overnight basis is "ridiculous," Hoover said. Many of the modern mobile homes have two baths and a restroom facility would be no more than an added expense for the operator.

The 25 foot "set back," he said is also a hardship on the operator and not necessary.

This is just another 25 feet of lawn the owner must irrigate and mow but which mobile home owners do not need or want. Hoover said the mobile home owner lives in a mobile home to get away from such things as yard work and the park owner does not need the extra work.

Ray McDonald, owner of a mobile home park, said his city is considering changing the ordinance to allow individual mobile homes on city lots in certain residential zones of the city. They would be far superior to some low cost housing now permitted, he said. Regulations should require minimum size mobile homes, probably double wide, he said, and should stipulate full skirting and proper building supports, and landscaping.

The two men said mobile home living is becoming more popular and cities must accept it for retired persons and others who do not wish to or cannot afford to build costly homes.

TWIN FALLS — "Medex," a term relatively new for Idahoans, was explained to members of the Magic Valley Memorial Hospital Auxiliary during their meeting Monday.

Medex David Hallman, 40, Buhl, explained the training and duties of the Medex, noting they are former military corpsmen from the Air Force, Navy, Coast Guard and Army, including special forces.

By the end of next week, there will be 11 Medex in Idaho, with at present time only three in the Magic Valley area, Medex Michael Erkel with Dr. Glenn A. Huss, Twin Falls; Medex Jay Butler with Dr. Robert C. Gwinmer, Halley, and Medex Hallman with Dr. C. W. Cullings, Buhl. A fourth is planned in Jerome County, possibly next week.

Hallman, with Dr. Cullings for six months now, told of the unique program to channel untapped skills of former corpsmen, who often are unable to use their service-acquired training and know-how in civilian life, into helping to relieve the critical physician shortages existing particularly in small towns and rural areas.

Himself a retired career Navy corpsman, Hallman went into the 15-month MEDEX training program at the University of Washington School of Medicine, bringing with him a background of 17 years as medical department representative aboard submarines and prior training which included 29 months intensified medical schooling, 15 months in direct diagnostic and surgical practice and two years of college.

Encouraged by the warm reception he has received from both patients and physicians, Medex Hallman confidently predicts that the MEDEX program will continue to expand, bringing more and better care into areas of the United States which have been traditionally deprived of adequate numbers of medical doctors.

Medex Hallman showed a film on the MEDEX project that gave greater emphasis to his talk. He was introduced by Vivian Hicks, Buhl, auxiliary vice president.

President Dolores Brawley introduced the guests and along with Mrs. Hicks served refreshments from a table decorated in a valentine motif by members of the tea committee.

The next meeting is set for 1:30 p.m. March 5 instead of the previously scheduled 10 a.m.

Medex demonstration plan begins to move into Idaho

TWIN FALLS — A demonstration program, begun in Washington in 1969 to train former military medical corpsmen to work with private physicians, has moved into Idaho.

The project is called MEDEX for "Medical Extension." The Medex is a new kind of health professional who can help doctors increase their productivity by relieving the physician of certain tasks that can be performed by a person trained to do them under the physician's direct supervision. This frees the doctor to perform those functions for which he is uniquely qualified.

Idaho doctors are recognizing the value of the MEDEX program as an important and unique innovation in the delivery of health care. Currently there are three Medex in Magic Valley with another planned in Jerome County soon, bringing the total to 11 in Idaho. Although the program is relatively new in Idaho it is expanding rapidly.

A large part of the training of a Medex comes with the assignment of the trainee to a preceptor-physician. This physician closely supervises the work of the Medex for a year, after which, by prior arrangement, his field training completed, the Medex becomes the employe of his preceptor.

The trained Medex is equipped to relieve the physician of many of his daily routines such as taking histories and doing routine-physical examinations, simple X-ray diagnosis, suturing, minor surgery such as the removal of cysts and moles, handling night calls, home visits and emergencies, always with the back-up of the physician when needed.

The time saved by such "medical extension" in an extra pair of skilled hands allows the physician not only to devote more time to the patients with complicated disorders, but also permits the doctor to have some time of his own.

"The program, which takes its name from the French medical extension was conceived in 1968 by Dr. Richard Smith a professor of health service at the University of Washington. Smith had surveyed his state and found a serious imbalance between urban and rural medical services. Smith and his medical school launched the first Medex demonstration in 1969 with 15 former medical corpsmen. Paid by the government, the men got training that emphasized skills missing from their military experience, such as pediatrics and geriatrics. The trainees were then paired with general practitioners.

In a 1971 Washington survey of the results, eight doctors reported they were able to treat 40 to 50 per cent more patients than the year before because of the Medex.

No-fault insurance discussed for BPW

TWIN FALLS — No-fault insurance legislation which is pending nationally was outlined Monday by Dan Obenchain, speaker for the Business and Professional Women's luncheon meeting.

Other legislative matters at the Idaho level were discussed by Doris Harper who suggested the club send members to a legislative session in the near future, Agn Powel and Doris Flinn also reported on proposed legislation.

The meeting was held in the Rogerson Hotel Round-up room. Wanda Widner gave the invocation and Betty Ainsworth, club president, led the sing and a Valentine decorations were provided by Lois Adanson, Beverly Leeds, chairman of the legislative committee, presented the program speaker.

Pearl Aldrich, corresponding secretary, read thank-you notes from members. An invitation was received for the South Central District BPW meeting in Rupert March 24 and an invitation to the South East Idaho district meeting in Pocatello March 17. Plans were made to attend both meetings.

District officers including Billie Buehler and Roberta McKeercher, both Halley, will be guests of the Twin Falls club Feb. 19 at the Senior Citizens Hall in Sunny View Courts.

Abby

Abigail VaneBuron

DEAR ABBY: Cleanliness can be overdone, you know. I once had a neighbor who bathed every morning, noon and night. And after each bath, she washed every garment she had worn. She used so much detergent (to kill the germs) she blocked up the plumbing, so her husband, out of guilt and remorse, actually called the landlord and offered to raise his own rent!

This superclean screwball always carried a bottle of disinfectant and a wash cloth in a plastic bag in her purse in case she touched something "dirty." (Someone once asked her what she did with all her old dirty paper money.)

CAROLYN SIMERLY sets date

August wedding date set

WENDELL — Mr. and Mrs. Lloyd Simerly, Wendell, announce the engagement of their daughter, Carolyn Jean, to Eric Forrest Samples.

Samples is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Ted V. Samples, Twin Falls.

The bride-elect is a 1972 graduate of Wendell High School and is attending the College of Southern Idaho, majoring in chemistry.

The couple plans an Aug. 4 wedding. After their marriage, they will reside in Portland, Ore., where they will continue their education.

EMMY KIDO names date

Couple reveals truth

JEROME — Emmy Kido and Robert Bacon announce their engagement.

Miss Kido, formerly of Hepbeck, Mich., currently resides in Scottsdale, Ariz., where she is employed by Motorola, Inc. in the International Accounting Department.

Bacon, son of Mr. and Mrs. J. Robert Bacon, Jerome, is a graduate of Arizona State University and a member of Sigma Alpha Epsilon Fraternity. He is a partner of John Brooking and Associates, a financial planning firm in Tempe, Ariz.

The couple is planning a March wedding.

Abnormal phobia

She also carried a bottle of sweet-smelling cologne with which she literally drenched herself. She became more moderate in its use after a swarming bunch of bees surrounded her, forcing her to run inside for cover.

Now, do you still think women can't bathe enough?

JUST A STINKER

DEAR STINKER: Your neighbor had an abnormal obsession (or phobia) of germs, which is a far cry from my suggestion that every woman should invest about five minutes and a little soap and water to insure freshness and fragrance before intimate contact. (P.S. And the mail from men who said "thank you" in eight different languages for my suggestions — nearly broke my mailman's back.)

DEAR ABBY: I recently read a letter in your column from a woman who asked if she could join Parents Without Partners. She admitted she was married but she said her husband was a rotten father, and if she could meet someone better she would gladly make a quick change. You gave her good advice when you told her she wasn't eligible to join.

That brings up the following problem I belong to Parents Without Partners, and I keep seeing a man there who I know is married, but he is very deceitful about his marital status. I don't think this is fair, but I don't want to be the one to turn him in, so what do you suggest?

DEAR SCHENECTADY: Tell him he had better discontinue the charade or you will report him. Then do so, if he doesn't drop out. You would be doing the organization a service, and the heel doesn't deserve to be protected.

DEAR ABBY: "Depressed Up North" sounds like my husband. Why is it always the wife's fault if a couple's sex life is unsatisfactory? I admit I let myself get fat and I'm not proud of it.

Magazines are filled with articles telling women to stay slim and attractive if they want to keep their husbands. I have yet to see an article that informs men that women are not exactly turned on at the sight of a 260-lb. mass of flab. Aside from the fact that it's just plain revolting, a physical encounter is more like an endurance contest with a steam roller.

Frankly... I feel frustrated and cheated, too. HE was slim and handsome when we were married.

DEAR ALSO: What are you waiting for? Join Weight Watchers together; you have a lot to lose, and everything to gain!

DEAR ABBY: You seemed to sympathize with the hostess who served venison to a guest, and received an anti-hunting lecture when the guest learned she had been served deer meat.

The hostess claimed, as most hunters do, that hunting is necessary to thin out the over-populated herds. If this is actually the case, wouldn't this duty be far better left to trained government hunters who would eliminate the old and weak as nature intended rather than to kill the biggest and strongest as trophies as most sportsmen do?

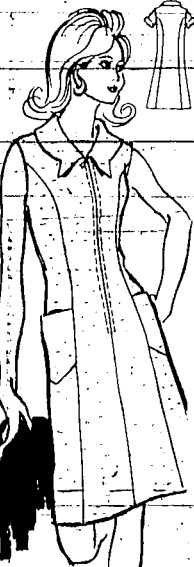

The feeble arguments in favor of hunting are mere rationalizations. If there is any animal that needs thinning out because of over-population and doing violence to the world, it is man. Perhaps one day sniping at old drunks in the ghetto will become a wonderful new sport.

crossruff for the rest of the tricks and his contract.

West glared at his partner and said, "Why didn't you let me hold the first club so I could shift to a trump and set the contract?"

East said nothing. He was too mad. He confided in us later that he had an urge to kill his partner and might well have done so if the next hand wasn't already being dealt.

We don't believe in homicide at the bridge table but East certainly would have had cause.

To start with, West should have opened a trump — not a club — to follow up. West should have shifted to a trump when he got in with the jack of hearts and last and most important West should have kept his mouth shut.

Grange slates supper

TWIN FALLS — The 24th annual Grange Troop 62 pancake supper will be held Saturday night to raise summer camping funds.

The pancakes will be served at the Knoll Community Center on Highway 74 from 5 p.m. to 9 p.m. For a nominal fee, individual or family rate patrons can have all they want to eat from a menu including home made pancakes, sausage, scrambled eggs, hashbrown potatoes.

The pancake supper is the only fund raising event of the year for Troop 62 and funds will be used to enable members to go to Camp Bradley west of Stanley Basin this summer.

In previous years as many as 400 persons have attended the fund raising dinners with the troop members netting $300 to $400 for their camping fund.

All residents of the county are invited to attend the supper and help support the troop's summer camp program.

Twin Falls anti-crime week set

TWIN FALLS — Mayor John Christofferson has signed a proclamation declaring next week as Crime Prevention Week in Twin Falls.

Members of the Twin Falls Exchange Club are sponsoring the observance here of crime prevention activities during the week.

In his proclamation, Christofferson urged citizens of the community to join Exchange Club members in activities scheduled to call attention to the high cost of crime and methods in which the average citizen can discourage theft and robbery.

Theme of the week is "You've Just Been Hobbed" and posters and brochures will be distributed by the nation's Exchange Clubs.

Exchange Club members point out the high cost of crime in this country ranges in the vicinity of $140 million per day and the American public must pay the price.

Club members will be talking to school children during school visits in the coming week and providing home owners with information on burglar proofing their houses and talking to high school and college students about careers in law enforcement.

DAV group holds meet

TWIN FALLS — The Disabled American Veterans auxiliary met Monday at the DAV Hall. A business meeting was conducted by Mrs. Arthur Patterson, Mrs. T. M. Knight served as chaplain pro tempore, and reported on the potluck social at the home of Mrs. Harold Armstrong.

The next social will be held at the home of Mrs. Lillie Madsen, Feb. 27. Husbands are invited to play pinocle.

Duplicate winners

TWIN FALLS — The Monday Afternoon Duplicate Bridge Club had seven and one-half tables in play.

North-south winners were Mrs. Truman Greenbald and Mrs. Harmon Munyon, first; Mrs. Helen Victor and Mrs. Eldo Peterman, second, and Mrs. Gus Averett and Mrs. L. M. Hall, third.

East-west winners were Mrs. Joe Stasny and Mrs. Parn Faler tying with Mrs. Thomas Marozeca and Mrs. Max Hogg for first and Mrs. Gene Carpenter and Mrs. John Stoddard, third.

Blaine project staffing delayed

By TERRY CAMPBELL

KETCHUM — Action on staffing questions is pending for a community project to develop a comprehensive plan and policy for Ketchum.

The Ketchum City Council voted full support of the proposed three month project — introduced by David L. Vhay — during an executive session following a regular council meeting Monday evening.

However, the Blaine County Planning and Zoning Commission Tuesday evening referred a request by the council for use of the county staff for basic project work to the county commissioners.

A determination is expected to be made on whether the staff, including Vhay who also serves as county planning and zoning administrator, can be freed for about three days work a week on the project.

Board chairman, Robert Vernon said the council's request posed "a question of manpower." Member Nick Purdy said he opposed the move because, he said Vhay legally represents the county which has no jurisdiction within the city.

A proponent of the move, board member Gerald Sidwell said problems considered in the project "entail more than the city of Ketchum."

During the Monday evening council meeting, Vhay said he presented the proposal as a community resident and called the measure "an expression of my concern over the present situation which faces the city of Ketchum."

"It is my feeling, and the feeling of a great many residents of this community, that the decisions which are being made and which will be made in the near future will have a profound effect on the character of this community," Vhay said.

He said, as a member of the Ketchum Planning and Zoning Commission, "I find it difficult, in good conscience, to pass judgement on major projects before the commission due to the total lack of any comprehensive plan, project or objectives, regarding the future development of the city."

The proposed project is divided into three phases: A development period to consume eight weeks; a one week review period of proposals; and a formalization period to delineate proposals and policies derived from the development phase, which will consume three weeks.

During the meeting, Vhay said the present moratorium on connections to the Ketchum sewage treatment plant, if extended through the winter season, would allow the time period required for the project. He also requested consideration of planned revisions to the planning and zoning ordinance be delayed.

Vhay said $10,000 in private funds had been committed to provide the feasibility of hiring additional staff and for materials; and about 1,000 feet of office space in downtown Ketchum has been dedicated to the project.

Defining the project as "a community endeavor," Vhay said, hopefully the proposed project can be structured so as to allow to the greatest degree possible, a direct relationship between individual members of the community and the final proposal.

The development period first calls for community dialogue — a series of outgoing community meetings related to general community problems, ideas, objectives and desires. Second, existing and required data will be collected, including environmental, land use, sewer and water use, characteristics and population data.

Further phase work will consist of definition of alternate programs, policies and objectives as well as application of these to specific areas of anticipated growth, including north Ketchum, Warm Springs, the downtown area, west Ketchum and south Ketchum.

A second phase will allow review and comment by city and county officials.

The formalization period would take into consideration modifications to existing ordinances, publication of proposals and public hearings, possibly a referendum vote and adoption, Vhay said.

Vhay said, "Proposed zoning ordinance revisions, sewer studies and other projects presently under consideration are at best temporary solutions. While attempting to solve specific present problems, they fail to consider many of the major forces acting on the community with respect to the future growth."

Health unit sites narrow

TWIN FALLS — South Central Idaho Health District officials and county commissioners in the area have narrowed the future health district home to two possibilities.

William L. (Bill) Chaney, chairman of the health board, said today the two are the American Legion Hall in Twin Falls and a five-acre site north of town on Falls Avenue now the Seventh Day Adventist school.

Those attending a meeting of county commissioners and health board members in Jerome Tuesday afternoon voted 6 to 1 to turn down an offer of free land from Cassia County in favor of locating the headquarters in Twin Falls where it would be more accessible to the majority of the district's population.

Dr. Wayne Carter said the American Legion Hall can be purchased outright for $15,000 and it would require between $50,000 and $100,000 additional money to remodel it to provide adequate health district offices, clinic and laboratory space. He said the building is most adequate in space now, but there is no room for expansion if the state should combine mental health and other agencies. One other drawback, he said, is the difficulty in parking space adjacent to the building.

Points in favor of the Legion Hall, he said, include the amount of space in the building and the central location. The second site, he said, would provide adequate room for expansion and parking space with possible land available for sale to help pay the cost of remodeling and expanding the present building. It is now a school with three classrooms and a basement and would meet space needs except for a clinic area which would have to be added. The property could be purchased for $60,000 with remodeling costs in addition to this.

A site committee including Chaney, Dr. Stephen Lincoln, Tom Nelson, Dr. Charles Parker and Clyde Petersen, will meet with both the Legion and the Seventh Day Adventist Church for further negotiations, Chaney said.

Chaney said another meeting has not been set but the next regular health board meeting is Feb. 28 in Jerome at which time it is hoped a final recommendation can be made.

If the Health District does not acquire the Legion Hall, the Twin Falls City Recreation Department has plans for it. Originally it was offered to the city free if a small area could be retained for Legion and auxiliary meetings and activities.

The health district offices, now located in city hall, are to be vacated by April, 1974, to allow the city to utilize all of the city hall area.

Chad Browning, city recreation director, said his department could utilize the Legion building to good advantage for many of its programs. He said it could provide a meeting and activities center for senior citizens as the main floor provides a good dance floor or large auditorium.

Arts and crafts programs could be provided for senior citizens and all other interested persons.

Blaine meeting set Thursday

HAILEY — A meeting of the Blaine County Schools Program and Facilities Study Committee has been scheduled for Thursday evening in Hailey.

The work session will begin at 7:30 p.m. at the Wood River Junior High School.

According to Walter Hoesel, coordinator for the study towards a new high school, will be several substantial changes in the organization of the study which have been recommended by the group steering committee to the district board of trustees. Particularly important is an expected acceleration of the time schedule for completion of various tasks affecting the instructional program and the eventual construction of the new school, Hoesel said.

Other agenda business includes analysis of the results of the school questionnaire; nomination of members for the site selection group and organizational meetings of the architect selection, financial analysis, population study and instructional program groups.

Hoesel said the steering committee has developed guideline criteria and target dates for task completion for each of these groups: Group membership is drawn from the study committee and the community, he said.

Dr. Lindley Sitter, Northwest University consultant to the study and chairman of the study committee, will be available for advice and recommendations to each group, Hoesel said.

Directors are, from left, Robert Jones, county sheriff's deputy; Doug Williams, Halley Police Chief; and Pat Pidgeon, Ketchum Police Department. Mrs. Bowen will be moving to Tooele, Utah, Feb. 16.

Relative aboard

TWIN FALLS — Cmdr. John L. Townley, commander of the destroyer USS Baslone, which lost three crewmen in a boiler explosion Monday, is the son-in-law of Mrs. L. L. Langdon, Twin Falls.

Commander Townley, who was not injured in the accident, is married to the former Lucille Langdon. Mrs. Langdon said he is due to be reassigned Feb. 20.

Rupert council hires mechanic

RUPERT — Gary Jenkins, a Rupert mechanic, will direct a preventive maintenance program for this city's vehicles.

He was hired by the Rupert City Council at a meeting Tuesday night and will begin work Feb. 15 at a salary of not more than $550 per month.

According to Councilman Clark Cameron, who drafted the preventive maintenance program and recommended Jenkins for the job, the mechanic will set up card files on the city's more than 40 vehicles and see that they are serviced regularly and systematically.

Jenkins will also do repair work, although many of the larger jobs such as overhauls will be contracted with local firms. In other action, the city

Extra funds needed

BOISE — The Region V administrator for the Department of Social and Rehabilitative Services said in Boise Tuesday a supplemental appropriations would be needed to maintain the vacant tuberculosis hospital in Gooding.

But Don Frank, Twin Falls, SIS official, said that after a meeting with legislators, they intended to provide the supplemental funds, and had known in advance the money would be needed.

Frank said the vacant hospital, which is being transferred administratively from the Department of Public Lands to SIS, would be used initially for two separate programs, both of which are already operating in the region.

The first program is a rehabilitation and evaluation center for the physically disabled and retarded persons. Frank said the program would provide primarily evaluative and "short term work habit training" services, with the use of community-located "work stations."

The second program would be, in effect, a child development center for Lincoln, Gooding and Camas Counties. He also said there was a need for the development of a short term evaluation treatment center for the mentally disturbed children in the area.

CAA votes salary hike

By CHARLOTTE BELL, Times-News writer

JEROME — South Central Community Action Agency directors Tuesday night voted a salary increase for their executive director and a $2,730 budget for his critics, the Community Improvement Agency.

The action came following a half-hour executive session during the regular meeting in which board members apparently discussed the letter of the CIA withdrawing support of the CAA administration.

Gary Krefl, Twin Falls, chairman of the CIA, asked the group for $2,730 to fund CIA work on behalf of housing, medical aid, landlord-tenant relations legislation and education. He was asked by board members why the CIA would withdraw support of the Community Action Agency on one hand and ask for its financial support on the other.

Krefl explained the CIA has no quarrel with the principles and policies of the agency, but is withdrawing support only from the "administration" of the CAA. Robert Russell has been the administrator since last August.

Krefl said, "We have had several meetings with the administration in which we were given specific guidelines. We have followed these but there has been no effort on the part of the administration to meet their obligations," he told the board.

Russell told the board the amount of money has been reserved for the CIA and is available. The vote to approve the money for the agency was unanimous.

Following the executive session, the board voted to increase Russell's salary by $50 per month.

Cecil Galley, board member, told the CAA officials he believed the salary increases given earlier this year to other staff members are illegal. He said they exceed the 5.5 per cent wage control limits and said a $50 raise for the family planning director is in direct violation of the President's program because the job description did not change and the director was never fired and rehired. No action was taken by the board.

Krefl, who submitted a letter last week during the Twin Falls county CAA board meeting withdrawing support of the CIA from the "CAA administration," told the group he has learned the OEO will be phased out and grants and programs will be continued through the Council of Governments in the future.

He suggested immediate efforts be made to obtain funding for area programs through the new agency to avoid loss of revenue which might require eliminating several programs.

Russell told the group he has had no definite word on the future of the OEO programs, only rumor. He said some CAA groups have already closed down and others are planning similar action.

"The only thing I have seen in writing," he said, "is that CAA should work closely with local governments to determine the future of their programs. The recommendation to phase out CAA, is a presidential order and may not gain the approval of Congress."

He said Congress still has something to say and may not agree with the proposal which could mean "simply a name change for the agency with funding from other sources."

"We are budgeted for the next five months," Russell said, "and I think we should make every effort to show local governments our programs are worthwhile and deserve financial support."

Galley moved the CAA "plug into" local governments or the Council of Governments for the support of existing programs and gained a unanimous vote for his motion.

Council okays Filer budget

FILER — The proposed budget for the city of Filer, for 1973 was approved by the Filer City Council Tuesday evening at its meeting in the city hall.

A public hearing on the budget, set for an hour before the regular meeting, was unattended.

Clyde Carlson of Idaho First National Bank met with the council and offered the former bank building to the city for use. The city accepted the building with details on a transfer to be worked out at a later date. Future plans include expansion of the Filer city library which now occupies one room of the building.

Chief of Police Roger Hinton was given permission to attend law enforcement seminars in Twin Falls and Jerome at later dates.

The treasurer's report was accepted and bills allowed. Other routine business was transacted.

Elmore meet set

GLENN'S FERRY — The Elmore County 4-H Leader's Council and the County Builders will meet at 7:30 p.m. Monday at the Courthouse in Mountain Home.

This will be a very important meeting for all Elmore County leaders, as final plans will be made for the kick-off dinner and election of officers for the year will be held.

All boys and girls who will be in 1973 are urged to attend the County Builders meetings. Jobs for the kick-off meeting will be decided at this time.

The Simplicity Wardrobe of Photo Fashions will be the weekend of Feb. 24, according to Mrs. Marilyn Jordan, Elmore County 4-H extension agent. It is hoped that the models for these garments may be assigned at this meeting.

The County Builders will also elect their officers for the coming year.

Land bank meets

Volume records fall in 1972, TF land bank members told

TWIN FALLS — Stockholders of the Twin Falls Federal Land Bank Association held their annual luncheon Monday at the Turf Club.

Jay Felt, vice president of the Federal Land Bank of Spokane, told the stockholders that 1972 shattered every past volume record. He said full implementation of the Farm Credit Act of 1971, which gave the 12 federal land banks broader authority, was responsible in part for the surge in business during 1972.

The Twin Falls FLBA is affiliated with the Federal Land Bank of Spokane. Neither bank is connected with federal Government operations.

Twin Falls manager David Burgess said the land banks were originally capitalized by the federal government in 1916, but the capitalization was paid back long ago, he said, and the land banks are now privately owned operations providing farm loans.

The Twin Falls bank along with 46 other regional banks owns capital stock in the Spokane land bank. The Twin Falls FLBA is in turn owned by private stockholders. Burgess said the Twin Falls FLBA serves 664 farmer-rancher members in Twin Falls and Jerome counties with over $13 million in farm real estate mortgage credit.

A statement of financial condition released by the bank Monday listed $973,480.14 in assets, mostly in capital stock in the Federal Land Bank of Spokane, and liabilities of $1,929.24, mostly in accounts and notes payable.

Following the luncheon at the Turf Club, stockholders re-elected members of the board of directors, including Leslie Jones, Twin Falls; John Rotee, Eden; Gordon Hollfield, Hansen; Melvin Jagels, Buhl, and George Atkins, Buhl. Jagels was re-elected president and Atkins vice-president.

Burley officers moonlight to meet bills, chief says

BURLEY — A Burley police recruit takes home $363 per month and usually has to moonlight in order to make ends meet, according to police chief Ken Barry.

Barry spoke to the Burley Chamber of Commerce Monday at the request of the Burley Exchange Club. Exchangees are sponsoring a National Crime Prevention Week which will be observed in Burley Feb. 11-17.

Blaine Jones, Burley Exchange president, introduced Barry and announced the 1973 crime prevention theme: "You have just been robbed."

The police chief said serious crimes are decreasing in many urban areas and increasing in suburbs and rural communities. Burley police recorded 527 crimes last year, he said, including 55 burglaries, eight auto thefts and seven robberies. Nationwide, crimes cost a total of $54 billion last year (approximately $270 per citizen), he added.

Barry appealed for more and better qualified policemen to help fight the crime rise and said higher salaries are essential in achieving that goal. Of the $363 taken home by the beginning officer, $100 is spent on rent, $110 for food, $45 for utilities, and an average of $75 for loan repayment, he said. The remaining $33 must provide clothing, medical services, entertainment, and other miscellaneous needs.

"Obviously, the officer cannot keep his head above water for very long without another job," Barry stated, "and it is a sad commentary that some leave the force to take easier, higher paying jobs."

The low pay and resultant low community prestige also lowers the morale of the officers, he said.

"We have a fine police force, as good as any city could hope for, but we need better salaries to keep it. It shouldn't be necessary for officers to work elsewhere," Barry said.

SV places in Wyoming races told

KETCHUM — Placings of the Sun Valley Nordic Ski Team at the Evanston, Wyo. are announced.

According to a Sun Valley Ski Education Foundation news release, eight team members participated in the event last weekend.

Placing first in their classes were Farleigh Allatt and Mark Siemon. Liz Richards and Kevin Swiger were both third in their classes.

Sarah Richards was fifth and Wendy Thurber was ninth. Doug Swamer placed seventh and Ikek was 11th.

According to head coach Rob Kiesel, the Nordic racers have shown constant improvement with each competition.

Race Sunday

SUN VALLEY — Sun Valley will host an Intermountain Division cross-country ski race Sunday.

About 70 racers from Wyoming and Idaho will compete for points to determine whether or not they will race at the National Junior Championships in March.

The race will be staged north of the Sun Valley Gun Club and on the Sun Valley Golf Course, across from the gun club. Race time will be from 10 a.m. until 4 p.m.

Stanley snowmobile race results told

STANLEY — Results were released today for the fifth annual Stanley Creek to Stanley, cross-country snowmobile race.

Sponsored by the Salmon River Snowmobilers, the race was conducted Sunday. Four-man teams competed in two classifications — "Class A," 1950 cc; and "Class B," 1575 cc.

The first team across the finish line in Stanley, a "Class B" team captained by Bill Karst, Hailey, completed the course in about three hours and ten minutes. Nine out of 14 starting teams finished the race.

Race officials included Bruce Kaufman, club president, and Don Cutler, race chairman, with club members serving as registrars and manning the start line, check points and finishing line.

The Medivac helicopter, Mountain Home, stood by at the race as well as the Stanley Ambulance Service, a nurse practitioner and emergency medical technicians. Blaine County Sheriff Orville Drexler and Custer County Sheriff Duffie Sorenson supervised points where the course crossed the highway.

"Class A" results: First place team: Ted Gould, St. Anthony; Larry Seipert; Greg Wood, both Rexburg; and Max Gould, Teton City. Second: Dan Fife, Caldwell; Don Cutler, Stanley; Bob Dohse, Twin Falls, and Darrel Brown, Hailey.

Third: Milo Seipert; Lloyd Boulter, both Rexburg; Gene Ranstrom; and Ron Ketchum, both Idaho Falls. Fourth: Steven Housel; Norm Housel; John Housel; and Willis Castle, all Ketchum.

"Class B" results: First place team: Bill Karst, Hailey; Larry Peterson; Carey; Rocky Sharline; and Bill Sharline, both Ommett. Second: Bill Otterstein; Mike Otterstein; Ray Wheeler, and Stovon Wheeler, all Hailey.

Third: John Adams; Paul Adams; Dan Schmitt and James Thornton, all Bellevue.

George sets visit in TF

TWIN FALLS — George Washington. You remember him, don't you?

He was that white-wigged gentleman from Virginia who led our boys against the British almost 200 years ago and ended up as first President of the country.

Well, he's donning his duds and coming to Twin Falls for a bit of birthday hoopla during the next 10 days.

A joke? Not at all — although it must be admitted, for honesty's sake, that the real Mr. Washington (of colonial fame) died over 170 years ago.

But Twin Falls has its own Mr. Washington. He's Hardy Bond, a likeable soul, who is a retired Swift and Co. sales executive. Hardy has graciously consented to portray the famous first president of the United States for a 12-day term of office.

It's all part of the "George Washington Birthday Celebration," being planned by Twin Falls merchants in honor of the annual event. And the star will be Hardy Bond (our George) playing George (the founding father).

For weeks, plans have been busily worked by retail merchants' committees and the advertising staff of the Times-News. An elaborate schedule of activities, which should be fun for all, has been set.

George is scheduled for personal appearances at the Rotary and Kiwanis clubs where he will tell about his historic mentor at their noon luncheons. He will visit surrounding Magic Valley towns and will be available on request for personal visits to schools in the area.

In his snappiest colonial garb, George will trek to the edge of Snake River canyon. He will attempt to chuck a silver dollar across the river. Remember the Potomac? He will also attempt a boat ride across the Snake River. Remember the Delaware?

On Saturday, Feb. 17, there'll be a gala parade through the shopping areas of Twin Falls, with — you guessed it — George Washington leading the way. But instead of a horse, he'll enjoy his trip via boat pulled by a brand new automobile.

Over 12,000 "George Washington" commemorative coins, some red, some gold in color have been purchased for the event. Wherever George travels during the next 12 days, he will be giving away the souvenir coins. The gold coins will be worth valuable discounts at participating merchants in the Washington Birthday Celebration.

Monday, Feb. 19 will be the official celebration date for Washington's Birthday in Twin Falls. Merchants throughout the city will offer special discounts for the one-day party. The Times-News edition carrying all the Washington's Birthday advertising will be published on Sunday, February 18.

GF lodge meets, drapes charter

GLENN'S FERRY — The charter was draped in memory of Mrs. Anna Barnes at the Monday evening meeting of Aileen Rebekah Lodge 62, at the Veterans Memorial Hall.

The chaplain Mrs. Earl Hoast, acting for Mrs. Florence Greer, the past noble grand, Mrs. Oral Irving, and the noble grand, Mrs. Arthur Greer, conducted the draping ceremony, with Mrs. Olive Majors as musician.

Mrs. Irving and Mrs. Mary Lewis reported on a district meeting held in Boise recently, in which they took part. They also gave a report of the "Home On The Hill" the Oddfellow home, at Caldwell.

Each lodge is to select a member as Ruth and plans were made to do this at the next meeting.

Mrs. Ray Whitt, Mrs. Zoe Hull and Mrs. Irving are on a committee to make plans for the district convention in Glenn's Ferry March 24.

Mrs. Paul Manning, Mrs. Lewis and Mrs. Jean Howard were hostesses at Hansen's Cafe following the business meeting.

Bruins overpower Jerome by 73-36

JEROME — The Twin Falls Bruins jumped to a 4-0 advantage in the opening minute and went on to defeat the cold shooting Jerome Tigers 73-36 Tuesday night.

The Bruins remain in action Thursday and Saturday, entertaining Highland and Borah in a pair of key Southern Idaho Conference battles. Jerome draws the tough chore of hosting Mountain Home, winner of 13 straight, Friday night.

Twin Falls forced the action throughout, its guards picking up-early and backing up each other for the first time consistently this year. It forced Jerome to start its offense early and the Bruin forwards put pressure on the wings. That basically kept Jerome well out throughout the evening and except for some streak shooting by Rich Watson and Al Schvaneveldt, the Tigers had trouble scoring.

All the Bruin starters scored at least two when Twin Falls jumped into a 10-6 first-quarter lead and in the second quarter Landy Haynes and Bob Durham potted eight each to make it 35-17 at intermission.

Twin Falls blew hot in the third quarter, picking up 25 points, Eric Hovey, the game's top scorer with 10, scored 13 during the first six minutes — the last on a fine layoff pass from Haynes and Durham picked up six more to account for most of the scoring.

Twin Falls also collected the preliminary 55-38.

Basketball, mat all-star clashes set

All-star basketball and wrestling competition have been okayed by the Fourth district board of Control of the Idaho Interscholastic Activities Association.

The fourth district coaches association will sponsor the wrestling tournament, pitting the top two finish in district class A and B competition, probably in Jerome Feb. 19.

The Magic Valley Eastern Seals Society, headed by the same committee that introduced all-star play into Magic Valley and the state last year, was given permission to conduct the second basketball game. It will be held March 16 in the College of Southern Idaho gymnasium.

A change in the basketball format will have the head coaches of the 26 Magic Valley schools selecting both the players and the coaches.

Kollie Moore, basketball committee chairman, said his committee would conduct the balloting.

The game will be played within the guidelines established by the state board of control, which closely followed the format set up by the game committee last spring.

Although balloting will be conducted prior to the end of the regular season, those selected to play will not be announced until the Sunday following completion of the four state tournaments.

Moore added a new provision in the basketball game provides funding of a clinic for fourth district coaches and eligible students.

CSI entertains Idaho State junior varsity on Thursday

College of Southern Idaho, holding a 19-3 record, will entertain the Idaho State Jayvees at 8 p.m. Thursday in the third set of their four-game seasonal series.

The Eagles, who lost their second contest to Utah State's Jayvees Monday, found Idaho State a little tougher to handle at Pocatello than they did earlier in the season at home.

CSI had to come from behind in the second half to snake out a tight 53-49 decision.

It will mark the second appearance locally of ex-Magic Valley stars Lon Frazier, Burley, and Frank Krahn, Gooding, Idaho State also will be Gary Cutwright, former SIC scoring leader, who is a sophomore but missed the first show here due to a knee injury.

CSI will be idle the rest of the week but travels to University of Utah Jayvees Monday night and returns to Twin Falls Tuesday to entertain Boise State.

Scoring has become more and more a problem for CSI as it runs consistently into zone defenses and hasn't mustered the outside shooting to beat it. Conversely, Coach Jerry Hale has been setting his Eagles in zone defense much more often than usual.

The zones also have been reducing CSI's effectiveness on the boards, which was expected to be one of the weak points in pre-season prognosis.

Declo outscores Hagerman 86-73

DECLO — The Declo Hornets answered a fourth-quarter flurry with a late surge of their own Tuesday night to defeat the Hagerman Pirates 86-73.

Declo took the early lead and stayed there. The Hornets looked like a shoo-in when it jumped into 21-point advantage early in the third period but Hagerman then turned hot and started coming back. Gilbert Hafen paced the rally with 10 points and early in the fourth period the Pirates reduced the deficit to six points.

Oakley thumps Rockland

OAKLEY — Grant Sever and Don Bedke staged an outside shooting display Tuesday night that carried the Oakley Hornets past the zoning Rockland Bulldogs 61-40.

The non-league affair saw the Hornets lead through and take 13 points into the fourth period. They hit eight quick points to blow the lead into 19 points and both teams went to their benches.

First win in 8 years nets favorite's role for Schlee

PALM SPRINGS, Calif. (UPI) — It took John Schlee nearly eight years to win his first tournament title but off his play in the Hawaiian Open last week, he rates a favorite's role this week in the 90-hole, $150,000 Bob Hope Desert Classic starting today.

"The first one always is the most elusive and the toughest to win," Schlee said after taking the top prize of $40,000 with some great putting in the Hawaiian. "Now, my confidence is up and really that's all you need to win out here."

Schlee tees off at Tamarisk today, so he won't be on camera Saturday when portions of the fourth round will be televised nationally, but among those fans will be able to see Saturday are Jack Nicklaus, Arnold Palmer, Doug Sanders, Lee Trevino, Billy Casper and

"Old Sarge" Orville Moody, the new darling of the galleries. Moody came out of the Army to win the 1969 U.S. Open and the World Series of Golf and then went into eclipse, last year slipping all the way down to competition in a minor league Texas tour. But Orville came back to the big tour this year to finish second in the Crosby, won by Nicklaus in a playoff, and in the Hawaiian.

White Schlee had all sorts of putting luck in the Hawaiian Open, Moody continued missing the short ones, as he did a two-footer on the final hole of the Crosby when he blew $20,000, but he made enough long ones and that's the sort of play that endears a pro to the weekend hackers.

Bermuda Dunes join Tamarisk as the four courses this year. All are flat desert layouts with hard greens and aren't all that difficult unless the wind blows. The forecast is for clearing skies—it rained here Sunday and Monday—and a temperature range from the mid-70s to low-90s.

Palmer has won four Hope titles, starting with the 1960 event. His last victory here was in 1971 and ironically that's the last year he won any title. So he comes here hoping to regain his winning touch.

"Too green my game is as solid as it's ever been," Palmer said. "But it's the same old problems on the greens." I'm just not making the birdie putts and you have to make some of them or you can't win."

Last year, Arnie thought he had his game under control when he shot a 12-under 348 in the Hope to finish four strokes behind winner Bob Rosburg. But once he went back East, he lost his touch on the green and went the entire year without winning a single tournament.

While Palmer's fortunes go down Nicklaus' keep rising. He finished 1972 as the game's top money winner with around $320,000 and then when Moody gave him a chance in the Crosby, Jack came on to win on the first hole of a sudden death. So he comes to the Hope with a first and a second (at Los Angeles) in his two starts in 1973 and, naturally, he's the man to beat here.

Jack gave a preview of his play in a practice round Tuesday at Bermuda Dunes when on the final hole, he chipped in from more than 100 feet.

"I should have saved that one for later," Nicklaus quipped.

Murtaugh has 62-57 win over Trojans

MALTA — Murtaugh's Ted Devils maintained a seven to 12 point lead from almost the opening jump Tuesday night as they defeated the Raft River Trojans 62-57.

Raft River led 1-0 in the opening minute but Murtaugh, with four men in double figures,

Marquette tops Badgers

MADISON, Wis. (UPI) — Tenth-ranked Marquette's pressing defense forced Wisconsin into numerous turnovers, and the Warriors defeated the Badgers 64-58 Tuesday night.

It was the 17th victory of the season for the Warriors, who have lost two—Wisconsin dropped to 7-10.

Wisconsin moved to an early five-point lead, but Marquette pulled back and by halftime was ahead 32-29. The Warriors started fast in the second half and spurred to a 13-point lead at 47-34, mainly behind lanky Larry McNeill who finished as Marquette's high scorer with 17 points.

Rockets drop Philadelphia

SAN ANTONIO, Tex. (UPI) — Rudy Tomjanovich tied a career high of 35 points to lead the Houston Rockets to a 123-117 victory over the Philadelphia 76ers Tuesday night.

Mike Newlin of Houston set a new career mark of 15 assists and had 25 points including 11 of 11 free throws.

The Rockets' rookie guard, Paul McCracken, appearing in his first professional game, scored nine points (filling in for injured Calvin Murphy).

Tomjanovich also led Houston's rebounders with 16.

For the 76ers, Fred Boyd scored 28 points and Fred Carter had 24. Center Leroy Ellis hit for 18 points and grabbed 18 rebounds. Manny Leaks hit 20 points.

Cleveland nips Celts

CLEVELAND (UPI) — Lenje Wilkens poured in 31 points and Austin Carr added 20 Tuesday night to lead the Cleveland Cavaliers to a 110-105 National Basketball Association victory over the Boston Celtics.

After the Cavs took a 51-50 halftime lead Wilkens and Carr combined for 20 of Cleveland's 38 third-quarter points to give the Cavs an 89-74 lead going into the final 12 minutes.

Carr, who has averaged only 12 points in his last five games, tossed in three baskets and Barry Clemens added a pair of two-pointers to give the Cavs a 103-89 lead with 0:05 left in the game.

Bucks batter Suns 126-111

MILWAUKEE, Wis. (UPI) — The Milwaukee Bucks used balanced scoring and a second quarter spurt to offset a 29-point performance by Charles Scott and posted a 126-111 win over the Phoenix Suns in a National Basketball Association game Tuesday night.

The Bucks spurred from a 40-34 second-quarter advantage to a 53-36 lead and Phoenix was forced to try and play catchup the rest of the night.

But Scott got little help from his teammates, with the exception of Neil Walk who scored 23 points and Phoenix was unable to come close the rest of the night.

Kareem Abdul-Jabbar led the Bucks with 35 points, while Lucia Allen had 23, Bob Dandridge 26, and Oscar Robertson 18.

Marquette tops Badgers

MADISON, Wis. (UPI) — Tenth-ranked Marquette's pressing defense forced Wisconsin into numerous turnovers, and the Warriors defeated the Badgers 64-58 Tuesday night.

It was the 17th victory of the season for the Warriors, who have lost two—Wisconsin dropped to 7-10.

Wisconsin moved to an early five-point lead, but Marquette pulled back and by halftime was ahead 32-29. The Warriors started fast in the second half and spurred to a 13-point lead at 47-34, mainly behind lanky Larry McNeill who finished as Marquette's high scorer with 17 points.

Castleford hangs defeat on Hansen

CASTLEFORD — The Castleford Wolves put four men in double scoring figures Tuesday night and rolled over the Hansen Huskies 64-42.

The Wolves, jumping into a 14-point lead in the first quarter, held comfortable leads through the first half. In the third period Hansen spurred from 11 down to within seven points but Castleford's pressure caused a couple of turnovers which the Wolves capitalized on and from then on the Wolves were in full command.

Castleford won the preliminary.

Sonics overhaul Blazers 118-117

PORTLAND, Ore. (UPI) — Spencer Haywood's second-half scoring and Butch Beard's floor play sparked the Seattle Super-Sonics to a 118-117 come-from-behind National Basketball Association victory over the Portland Trail Blazers Tuesday night.

Haywood, who scored 31 of his game-high 41 points in the second half, including 20 in the third period, sank two free throws with 1:07 remaining to give Seattle its final points.

Berry, Parker, Schmidt placed in grid shrine

CANTON, Ohio (UPI) — Former football stars Raymond Berry and Jim Parker of the Baltimore Colts and Jim Schmidt of the Detroit Lions will be enshrined in the Pro Football Hall of Fame here July 28.

Hall of Fame officials disclosed the names of the 1973 enshrinees Tuesday. The trio comprises the smallest class ever chosen for the annual honor. Their addition will increase the number of Hall of Famers to 77.

Berry, a favorite receiver of Johnny Uhlins, caught 611 passes in 15 years. He led the National Football League in receiving three straight years — 1958, 1959 and 1960.

In a 1958 overtime championship game against the New York Giants, Berry caught 12 passes for 178 yards, including two key receptions in Baltimore's final winning drive.

Parker, an offensive lineman for the Colts, was named to the Pro Bowl team eight times. He won league honors four times as a tackle and four times as a guard. The 6-3, 275-pound Parker won the Outland Trophy as the nation's best college lineman in 1956 when he played at Ohio State.

Schmidt was one of pro football's earliest stars at middle linebacker. He was named to the All-NFL team eight times in nine seasons from 1954 through 1962. Schmidt also played in nine Pro Bowl games. Schmidt was named the most valuable Detroit player four years and captained the team in the seasons. After his retirement in 1965, Schmidt became an assistant coach with the Lions and was head coach from 1967 through last month, when he resigned.

Those to be inducted into the Hall of Fame are chosen by 27 electors made up of one football writer or broadcaster from each NFL city and an officer of the Pro Football Writers Association.

Headed for victory

Jerome, Burley move away in A group; Buhl, Filer lead B's in mat tourney

GOODING — Burley and Jerome turned the class A battle into a two-team race while Buhl and Filer shoved off in front of the opening day of fourth district wrestling action Tuesday.

Jerome took a 37-35 advantage over Burley while Minico surprised by staying in contention with 29. Twin Falls dropped out of it with 17. Buhl piled up 28 points while Filer had 20. Raft River 18½, Wood River 14, Valley 13½, Kimberly 11, Deelo 10½, Glens Ferry 8, Oakley 7, Gooding 6 and Wendell and Shoshone four each.

The class A teams wrestled down to the semi-finals and the important part of the scoring is still upcoming — but not until Thursday night. Burley held a slight edge in number of men still eligible for championship by nine to eight over Jerome. Burley has both finalists at 115 pounds.

Eagles hire Boyd Dowler

PHILADELPHIA (UPI) — The Philadelphia Eagles moved to upgrade their passing game Tuesday when new head coach Mike McCormack acquired former Green Bay pass-catcher great Boyd Dowler to be his assistant.

The 35-year-old Dowler joined former Baltimore head coach John Sandusky and Colts' offensive backfield coach John Itzik, acquired last week, on McCormack's staff.

Dowler, who ranks among the top 15 receivers in the National Football League with 474 catches for 7,270 yards and 40 touchdowns, played 11 seasons with the Packers before moving to Los Angeles as an assistant under George Allen in 1970.

Ohio State-Minnesota rematch draws national TV, memory of bloody brawl

MINNEAPOLIS (UPI) — Coach Bill Musselman and his fifth-ranked Minnesota basketball team travel to Ohio State Saturday for "just another game" — a nationally televised, rematch between the teams which engaged in a bloody brawl in Minneapolis a year ago.

"I'm just treating it like any other game," Musselman said. "What can I say to my ball club? 'Listen boys, stick together.' All I'm worried about is our kids being ready to play a good basketball game."

"It's not my job to worry about trouble. Ohio State has all the responsibility."

Musselman and the Gophers, 4-2 and in fourth place in the league standings, are in desperate need of a victory if they hope to win a second straight Big Ten title. They undoubtedly will face emotional strain at Ohio State.

On Jan. 25, 1972, Ohio State was leading 50-44 with 36 seconds remaining when Minnesota's Corky Taylor kneed Buckeye Luke Witte in the groin, both benches cleared and more than 100 Minnesota fans swarmed onto the Williams Arena court.

As a result of the free-for-all, three Ohio State players, including Witte, were hospitalized, and Gophers Ron Bohannon and Taylor, both seniors this year, were suspended for the season after a long series of hearings and appeals.

Minnesota, using an "iron five" lineup that played almost the entire 40 minutes the rest of the season, rallied against public criticism to win the Big Ten with an 11-3 record. The Gophers are 14-2 this year.

Ohio State, longtime Big Ten power, faltered last year and has had its troubles this season with Coach Fred Taylor sidelined much of the time with an undetermined illness.

Witte, a rugged 7-footer who was invited to the U.S. Olympic tryout camp, was not suspended in spite of Gopher protests that his conduct was unsportsmanlike, but he had showed no semblance of his 1972 form until Monday night.

He did the Gophers a favor by scoring 19 points and grabbing 18 rebounds in leading the Buckeyes to a 70-69 upset of first place Indiana (6-1) in Taylor's first night back on the bench.

"The win over Indiana will really fire up Ohio State (3-3), which can now get back into the thick of things," Musselman said. "They had some lean days, but now seem to have it all together."

Behagen, a 6-foot-10 forward, also has lacked sharpness in recent weeks after winning most valuable player honors at the Far West Classic over the Christmas holidays.

"It's just another game," he said. "I'm not going to worry about it. If something weird is going to happen, it's going to happen anyway."

Privately, Minnesota Athletic Department officials have expressed little concern about the game itself, but seem worried about possible fan reaction before or after the game. Musselman and the Gophers have made reservations at a hotel several miles from Columbus.

Privately, Minnesota Athletic Department officials have expressed little concern about the game itself, but seem worried about possible fan reaction before or after the game. Musselman and the Gophers have made reservations at a hotel several miles from Columbus.

"I just hope nothing crazy happens," said Gopher captain Jim Brewer, who played on friendly terms with Witte at the Olympic camp. "I don't have any reason to dread playing at Ohio State."

"You can make a big thing about the game being more important and about last year. But in the end, it's a competitive game. You have to compete and your team has to compete." The game at 13,400-seat St. John's arena has been sold out since last spring.

Three marks set in women's city bowling tournament

Olympia Beer Team No. 3 set an alltime high for a Twin Falls women's city tournament to claim the championship in the final round of the 1972-73 competition.

Members of the team, sponsored by Matt Smith, were Bonnie Ryan 399 (84 pins over her average); Margaret Pulkitt 416 (50 pins over average); Ruth Sanders 355 (94 pins over average); Donna Benkula 407 (107 pins over average); and Leeta Love 569 (224 pins over her average).

Leeta Love, naturally was the star of the victory as she posted games of 210-125 and 234. These won 200 and 225 pins, the Idaho State Gutter Classic match and 100-over average award.

Joining in the all-time record breaking brigade were the doubles champions, Maureen Fleener and Teddy Trey who combined for a 1,332 mark. They also grabbed the scratch doubles with 1,134.

The top ten doubles included Naydene Fife and Cheryl Ringenberg, 1,296; Linda Sandlaw and Darlean Anderson 1287; Kay Cron and Carmen Kevan 1276; Janet King and Ina Suran 1268; Maxine Kulhaneck and Susie Pullham, 1,264; Roberta Walden and Alpha Malone 1,263; Hazel Weller and Maxine Erickson 1,260; Carol Conntz and Bertie Courtney 1,254 and Mike Rasmussen and Martha Watson, 1,252.

Linda Feenen collected the singles handicap with a record 719 total and the scratch title at 602. Rounding out the top 10 were Barbara Powell 703; Gail Bates 689; Carmen Kevan 683; Donita Ford and Norma Fine 669; Dot Dierker and Jean Stokesberry 667; Hené Earl 664; Louise Hatch and Linda Kunsman 657 and Rhoda Gassert 652.

Sooners can coach over gaming probe

NORMAN Okla. (UPI) — The University of Oklahoma announced Tuesday it had requested and received the resignation of assistant football coach Joe Granato because of Granato's association with a federal gambling investigation.

School President Paul W. Sharp said Granato, who was in charge of scouting for the No. 3-ranked Sooners last fall, had resigned Jan. 20.

Granato, 33, and one other Sooner coach were subpoenaed to testify before a federal grand jury in Midland, Tex.

"The University of Oklahoma has a firm policy which forbids coaches or members of our athletic teams from associating in any way with known gamblers," Sharp said.

He said university officials became aware last month that Granato may have violated this policy and that Chuck Fairbanks, head coach at the time, and now coach of the New England Patriots, discussed the report with Granato.

Sharp said at the conclusion of the meeting Fairbanks asked for and received Granato's resignation.

"We cannot speculate on what actions may or may not be taken by the federal grand jury in Texas, which is apparently also investigating this matter. We are aware," he said. "That two of our four assistant coaches were subpoenaed in that investigation, one Granato and the other Gene Hochevar, who also was called as a witness apparently because of his association with Granato."

"Our investigation indicates that Hochevar was not involved in any improper behavior, we are confident that Granato's action was an individual one, and that no other University of Oklahoma coaches were involved," Sharp said. Sharp also said the situation had been discussed with new head coach Barry Switzer before his promotion and had his assurance that — no — others were involved.

In Midland, sources said the grand jury was believed investigating bookmaking activities in the city and surrounding area.

Colts cut coach list to four

BALTIMORE (UPI) — General Manager Joe Thomas says the new head coach of the Baltimore Colts will be selected from one of four pro assistants currently with winning teams, but he won't make his pick known until next week.

Thomas was expected to name the new mentor this week but said Tuesday "I came up with some other work to do. After we get a jump on signing draft choices and free agents, we can start on the coaching thing."

"The former Miami Dolphins player personnel chief said five more interested coaches called this week but stressed that 'nobody else will be considered besides my four. And the one I pick will be strictly my choice.'"

Dolphins' head offensive coach Howard Schnellenberger, 39, is viewed in some circles as the man destined to come to Baltimore. "I figure I spent an awful long time thinking about this coach," Thomas said. "It would probably add up to eight full days."

Lakers snap Knick streak

NEW YORK (UPI) — Six straight points by Jim McMillan midway through the final period carried the Los Angeles Lakers to a 95-90 victory over New York Tuesday night that cracked a 20-game Knick home court winning streak.

McMillan tied the score at 76-all with 6:30 left to play and put Los Angeles in front for good on a layup 30 seconds later. He followed with two foul shots to give Los Angeles an 80-76 lead and widened the Lakers' winning skein to 11 games.

The Knicks, playing without Walt Frazier, who bruised a heel against Cleveland last Saturday, could get no closer than four points the rest of the way.

McMillan tied all scorers with 27 points and teammate Gail Goodrich netted 24 for the Lakers. Will Chamberlain controlled the boards as he collected 18 rebounds through the first three periods.

West ABA stars rally past east

SALT LAKE CITY (UPI) — The Western All-Stars, down by 20 points in the third period, used 16 points by Willie Wise in the fourth period to rally and beat the East, 123-111, in the American Basketball Association mid-season classic Tuesday night.

The West victory evened the series at 3-3 as Wise finished with 26 points.

Denver's Warren Jabali was named the most valuable player in the game for his fourth quarter efforts when he used a three-point tie to tie the score at 92-92 with 9:47 remaining. Wise, of the Utah Stars, put the West ahead, 94-92, with two free throws and then scored nine more points to finish out the game as leading scorer.

The West was down 71-52 with 11:04 left in the third quarter and managed to reduce the gap to eight at 92-94 at the end of the period.

The West then outshot the East 13-0, holding the losers scoreless for nearly 5½ minutes. It was during that stretch that Jabali and Wise gave the West the lead.

The East's Julius Erving, who finished with a team-high 23 points, tried to salvage the game with driving layups, but the West defense doubleteamed the 6-6 Virginia forward and shut him off under the basket.

The West had five men in double figures, including three with over 20 points. Behind Wise was Indiana's Mel Daniels with 25 and Pacer teammate George McGinnis with 23.

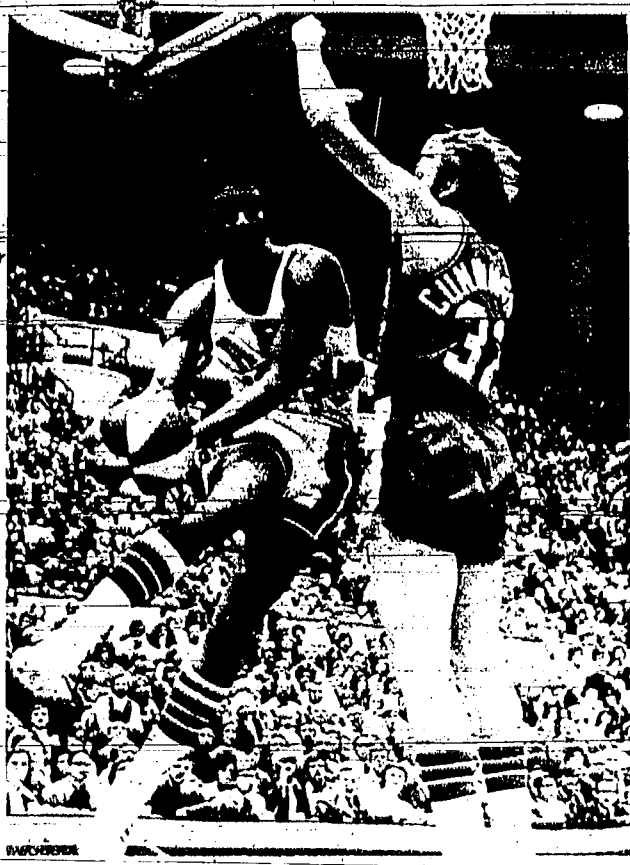

Seven Easterners finished in double figures, with Carolina's Billy Cunningham scoring 18 and Mack Calvin of Cougars with 13. Artis Gilmore of Kentucky, George Thompson of Memphis and Louis Dampier of Kentucky each had 10.

The East jumped to early domination of the game, following a 28-all first period tie. The losers took a 65-52 halftime lead, behind the shooting of Erving and Cunningham. The two highly rated forwards combined for 21 points before intermission.

The West's Daniels came alive under the basket to lead his club back from the 19-point deficit early in the third frame and joined with Jabali to close the gap to an eight-point margin going into the fourth quarter.

Wise then took command at the fourth quarter jump and accounted for seven of the West's 13 unanswered points. The West was sharper from the field with 50 per cent shooting, compared to 36 per cent for the East. The losers had a 60-53 edge in rebounding. Gilmore was the game's leading rebounder with 16, one more than McGinnis.

Blunting the drive

Champion to watch Friday bout

NEW YORK (UPI) — New heavyweight champion George Foreman, proclaiming he'll take on all comers as he assesses his first title defense, will be an interested observer when unbeaten Ron Lyle and stubborn Jerry Quarry meet in a 12-round elimination bout Friday night at Madison Square Garden with the winner emerging as a prime challenger for the championship.

Lyle, a 30-year-old ex-convict who has built an impressive ring record since his release from the penitentiary in 1969, now faces his biggest test as a professional fighter—one that could project him into the title picture. Lyle has knocked out 17 of his 19 opponents and is rated fourth in the world. He was named Fighter of the Year in 1972 by the World Boxing Association.

Quarry, once the white hope of the heavyweight division, is two years younger than Lyle at 28, but is much more experienced, having fought for the title against Jimmy Ellis and Joe Frazier. Quarry lost those two fights and others to Muhammad Ali (twice), George Chuvalo and the late Eddie Machen.

Hawks reduce Bullet lead

ATLANTA (UPI) — The Atlanta Hawks led from the third minute on to chop one game off the Baltimore Bullets' lead in the NBA Central Division Tuesday night by a score of 112-106.

Lon Hudson led the Hawks with 30 points, and a pair of three-point plays by him midway through the fourth quarter put the Hawks ahead by 16. They then had to withstand a barrage of five straight goals by Phil Chenier who led Baltimore with 30 points, 18 of them in the last quarter.

Syracuse stuns Fordham 73-71

NEW YORK (UPI) — Syracuse put down a late drive by Fordham, which was keyed by substitute Walt Douglas, to edge the Rams, 73-71, Tuesday night.

A pair of free throws by Mark Wadach gave Syracuse a 73-65 lead with only 1:34 left to play, but Douglas, who played only six minutes, hit three 15-foot jump shots to narrow Fordham's deficit to two points. But the Rams were unable to get the equalizer.

Jabali isn't impressed with European trip and MVP award

SALT LAKE CITY (UPI) — Warren Jabali and the other players of the victorious West ABA All-Star team were in a relaxed, joking mood.

"I won a trip to Europe," the Denver star said with a wide grin, "but I guess I'd rather have the money. I get to travel enough."

Jabali was the man of the hour in the Salt Palace after he had helped lead the underdog West to a come-from-behind 123-111 win over the East in the sixth annual American Basketball Association All-Star game.

His late-game efforts, including a key three-point play, won him the game's MVP honors, although the hometown fans felt Utah's Willie Wise should have won them for his 16-point spurge in the fourth quarter.

Wise took it all in stride. He jokingly remarked he would have liked the European trip and added, "but I was glad to see Warren win it."

West Coach Ladell Andersen, obviously delighted with his team's performance, said it was all a matter of momentum.

"We got our momentum going and kept it going and it carried us right through to the win," the Utah stars coach said, as his West players congratulated Jabali with "Right on! Good work," and heaped praise on the easy-going Wise for his fourth-quarter heroics.

Erving, the ABA scoring leader and the East's high scorer with 22 points, said he would have liked to win but he didn't seem particularly upset.

ABA Chaparrals to move to New Jersey

SALT LAKE CITY (UPI) — A New Jersey corporation Tuesday acquired the Dallas Chaparrals American Basketball Association franchise and will move the team to Jersey City, N.J.

ABA Commissioner Robert Carlson made the announcement following a day-long business session of the league's trustees here.

The trustees met here Monday and Tuesday in connection with the ABA All-Star game scheduled for Tuesday night at the Salt Palace.

Carlson said the Chaps are being bought by New Jersey Meadowland Professional Sports, Inc., with the agreement going into effect three days after the end of Dallas' 1972-73 season.

Bulls topple Kansas City

CHICAGO (UPI) — Bob Love hit his career high of 49 points for the second straight game Tuesday night to lead the Chicago Bulls to a 114-97 win over the Kansas City-Omaha Kings, breaking a three-game King winning streak.

The Bulls had to stand off a determined rally by the Kings to win their second game in the last four starts and only their fourth in the last 12. Chicago held a 25-point lead twice in the second period but the Kings pulled within three points in the final period before the Bulls pulled out the decision.

Piston rally beats Braves

BUFFALO (UPI) — Dave Bing, Curtis Rowe and Bob Janier led Detroit's second half heroics Tuesday night in the Pistons comeback 107-105 National Basketball Association victory over the Buffalo Braves.

The Braves, playing without 7-foot center Jim McMillen, sidled in with a leader left knee, roared to a 20-point lead with less than four minutes gone in the second quarter, 44-24. But Bing, with 10 points after a scoreless opening period and Rowe with eight, helped the Pistons chip away to trail by only 10, 60-50, at halftime.

K-State nips Iowa State

MANHATTAN, Kan. (UPI) — Ernie Kusnyer's layup and two free throws in the last 30 seconds carried Kansas State to a 78-74 victory Tuesday night over Iowa State in a hard-fought Big Eight Conference basketball game.

The victory left the 12th ranked Wildcats knotted with Colorado for the conference lead with 5-1 records. The two teams meet Saturday in Boulder.

The Wildcats and Cyclones traded baskets down the stretch. Kusnyer's layup with 20 seconds left put Kansas State in front, 76-72, but Martinez-Denmon needed only 10 seconds to pull Iowa State within two points again with a driving layup.

WASHINGTON'S BIRTHDAY SALE

The biggest and most spectacular single - day, community wide sale of the year!!

chopping prices is our business

It's the moment of truth you've been waiting for . . . our community-wide George Washington's Birthday sale, with rock-bottom prices in every participating store in town. It will be a real bargain bonanza . . . super savings, astounding discounts . . . nobody will be able to top the values you'll find, by George! It's an all-American event, highlighted by the personal appearance of Mr. George Washington (himself????)

George says, "Here's how to get your Washington's Birthday Lucky Commemorative Coins:

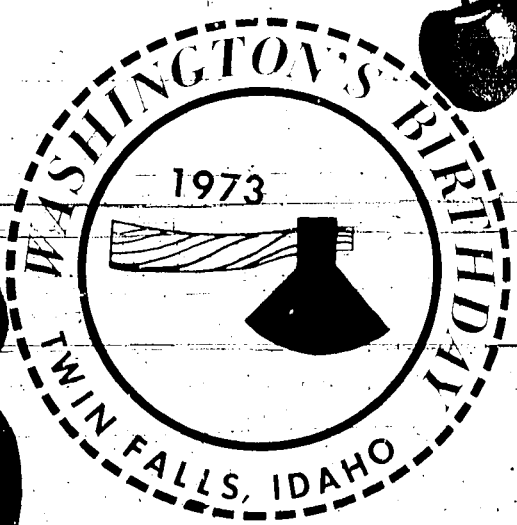

DAILY: Watch for George Washington. He'll make personal appearances in Downtown Twin Falls and all the Shopping Centers. He'll be giving away lucky Gold and Red Commemorative coins. Look for him around your favorite business locations.

PARADE: On Saturday, February 17th, there will be a Parade in downtown Twin Falls and also at all the Shopping Centers in Twin Falls. Look for George Washington riding in his boat. He'll be throwing red and gold coins to the on-lookers.

NEWSPAPER: You can get a Gold Coin in the Times-News, too. Watch your Sunday, February 18th Times-News. If your paper has a "Gold" coin printed in it, the coin has the same value as the ones George gives out. Just clip it out and bring it to Twin Falls.

Watch for the Big Washington's Birthday issue of the Times-News SUNDAY, FEBRUARY 18th advertising deadline for this issue is: WEDNESDAY NOON, February 14.

You may be one of the lucky ones to catch a valuable gold coin

Watch the Times-News for details daily about when, where and how the Washington's Birthday Commemorative Coins will be distributed.

Each gold coin is worth a valuable discount at participating stores with the sign on the door!!

NEW YORK (UPI) — Prices rallied in heavy trading today on the New York Stock Exchange with a brightening of economic and financial news.

The Dow Jones average of 30 selected blue-chip industrials was up 6.02 to 985.93 shortly before noon. Standard & Poor's 500 stock index advanced 0.57 to 114.09.

Advances led declines by a headcount margin, 744 to 394 among the 1,548 issues on the tape.

Big Board glamors advanced. Disney added 2 1/2, Corning Glass 1, Polaroid 1 1/2.

Electronics and computers also rallied. IBM rose 5 1/2, Texas Instruments 1 1/2, Honeywell 1 1/2 and Motorola 1.

Oil was mostly higher. Superior gained 5, Getty 1 and Mountain Fuel Supply 1 1/2.

Chemicals and motors picked up. DuPont gained 1 1/2, Dow 1 1/2, Chrysler 1 1/2 and Ford 1.

Steels, rails, airlines and aircrafts were mostly higher in fractions.

FORECAST FOR THURSDAY, FEBRUARY 8, 1973

GENERAL TENDENCIES: Despite a tendency to think you can get more done than is actually possible, make sure you move forward to desirable goals in such a manner that others are not inclined to think you are too pushy. Use your present cleverness to forge ahead.

ARIES (Mar. 21 to Apr. 19) Work on personal aims now and make great progress, but keep out of the way of rate higher-ups. Engage in activities that improve relations with friends who are helpful and mean much to you.

TAURUS (Apr. 20 to May 20) Find the right means that will gain you the favor of higher-ups, that you desire very much. An adviser can give you suggestions that are most valuable. Don't take anything for granted, though.

GEMINI (May 21 to June 21) Know what your true personal aims are and go after them in a clever fashion and you get the right results. A fine evening for a party and bringing good friends together. This can bring much goodwill.

MOON CHILDREN (June 22 to July 21) It is best to see a higher-up alone instead of with associates and get the backing you need quickly. You can now obtain the information you need to make the future brighter.

LEO (July 22 to Aug. 21) A day for much activity, such as making changes, planning a trip and getting routines out of the way. A new contact can be most helpful to you in the future. Show that you appreciate the assistance.

VIRGO (Aug. 22 to Sept. 22) Aspects are excellent for getting much of that important work ahead of you out of the way quickly, so get busy early. Wise individuals can be most helpful to you. Contact them without delay.

LIBRA (Sept. 23 to Oct. 22) You can accomplish more in the business world today than you can at home, so get an early start. Discuss policy matters with associates and iron out all problems nicely. Relax at home tonight.

SCORPIO (Oct. 23 to Nov. 21) Handle all that work ahead of you and be sure to cooperate with fellow workers more than you have in the past. Invest in new appliances that make your work easier and more efficient.

SAGITTARIUS (Nov. 22 to Dec. 21) You have an opportunity to have a delightful time today, but be certain you don't spoil it by being too extravagant. Try to please friends who accompany you. Show you have poise.

CAPRICORN (Dec. 22 to Jan. 20) It's better to listen to what kin have to suggest today since your judgment is not as good as usual, and the planets are in their favor. Seek those who can be helpful. Avoid one who bickers.

AQUARIUS (Jan. 21 to Feb. 19) Contacting those persons who are able to assist you to gain your aims more quickly is wise. You are able to obtain the information you need for advancement. Perseverance wins for you.

PISCES (Feb. 20 to Mar. 20) You can make advances along financial lines now and should pursue such a course instead of wasting time with friends who want to have fun. Make sure you invest wisely and add to what you possess.

IF YOUR CHILD IS BORN TODAY he or she may appear to have a big ego, but since there is much ability in this nature, it would be well to give the finest education possible. Fine success is possible during lifetime and there will be the desire to help others climb the ladder of success. Give the right spiritual training early as well as some discipline for best results. Sports are a natural and a must here.

"The Stars impel, they do not compel." What you make of your life is largely up to YOU!

What's What

L. M. Boyd

That the average citizen has about 40 moles has been reported. A scientist which has found ordinarily, moles on a woman. The woman, Peculiarly, though, girls tend to have more warts than do boys. At hand also is a detailed report on acne. Expect it later. No need to pack all the most charming topics into one column.

AFTER EXAMINING garages, storerooms, and medicine cabinets in numerous households nationwide, one old boy recently came up with the astonishing finding that the average home contains at least 40 potential poisons.

WHATEVER you and I learned in school about April showers, better we forget it. April actually ranks ninth in this country's monthly rainfall report. Wettest month, am surprised to learn, is August.

QUESTIONS FROM CLIENTS Q--Ask your--Fostmaster--to come up with an appropriate toast to a girl who's never home when I call. I mean she's out to a different club with a different guy every night. A. All right, he suggests: "Here's to a young lady of Kent... Who said that she knew what it meant... When men asked her to dine... Gave her cocktails and wine... She knew what it meant... but she went!"

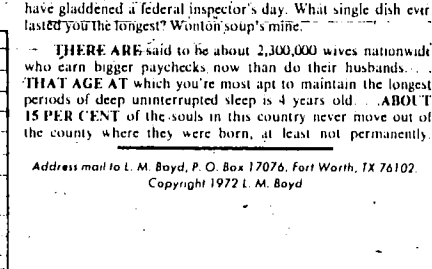

Q--"IN BATTERED baby cases, which parent is most apt to be the one who abuses the child, the mother or the father? A. It's a tossup. Statistically, neither sex seems to be less liable.

Q--"WHAT was the first metal discovered by man? A. Gold; almost certainly.

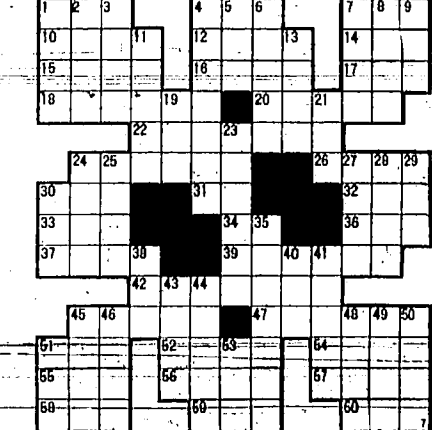

PERSONAL MATTER If at least 5 per cent of that bowl of wonton soup is not meat, the government could get nasty with the Chinese chef. Only 5 per cent? Odd. One season years ago in San Francisco, I lived almost exclusively on wonton soup at 25 cents a bowl for a number of weeks. It was more than 5 per cent meat, believe it. This cafe was a basement place where Chinatown meets North Beach, cheap and alien and unphilosophical. The cold help served no smiles. But that soup-oh-tourist would have gladdened a federal inspector's day. What single dish ever lasted you the longest? Wonton soup's mine.

THERE ARE said to be about 2,300,000 wives nationwide who earn bigger paychecks now than do their husbands. THAT AGE at which you're most apt to maintain the longest periods of deep uninterrupted sleep is 4 years old. ABOUT 15 PER CENT of the souls in this country never move out of the county where they were born, at least not permanently.
