WASHINGTON (UPI) — The United States and North Vietnam will create a joint economic commission to oversee rebuilding of the war-torn country with U.S. dollars, the two sides announced today.

A communique issued by the White House and Hanoi on four days of talks by President Nixon's envoy, Henry A. Kissinger, and North Vietnamese leaders in Hanoi listed no specific figures for U.S. post war aid.

But the language displayed a new cordiality between the two nations.

"The normalization of relations between the Democratic Republic of (North) Vietnam and the United States will help to insure stable peace in Vietnam and contribute to the cause of peace in Indochina and Southeast Asia," the communique said.

The announcement said the two Indochina war enemies "agreed that they would continue to have periodic exchanges of views in order to ensure that the (cease-fire agreement) and its protocols are strictly and scrupulously implemented."

The two sides pledged anew to carefully adhere to all of the provisions which ended the fighting in South Vietnam and the bombing of North Vietnam.

The communique also said the United States and North Vietnam welcomed discussions now going on between Saigon and the Viet Cong as well as the cease-fire negotiations between the parties in Laos.

In a briefing for reporters, White House Press Secretary Ronald L. Ziegler said Laotian cease-fire is now expected "in a matter of a few days." Ziegler said Kissinger and Hanoi leaders extensively discussed the Laotian situation, which "the United States considers a matter of great urgency."

Kissinger was in Hanoi from Saturday through Tuesday. He is now resting in Hong Kong before embarking Thursday on a diplomatic mission to China.

In the Washington-Hanoi communique, the two nations pledged to "strive for a new relationship based on respect for each other's independence and sovereignty, noninterference in each other's internal affairs, equality and mutual benefit."

"The two sides exchanged views on the manner in which the United States will contribute to healing the wounds of war and to post war economic reconstruction in North Vietnam," the communique said.

"They agreed to establish a U.S.-N. Viet Joint Economic Commission. This commission, which will be composed of an equal number of representatives from each side, will be charged with developing the economic relations between the Democratic Republic of Vietnam and the United States."

While no specifics were contained in the communique, prior to the cease-fire agreement, President Nixon had spoken of a $7.5 billion reconstruction program for Vietnam with $2.5 billion targeted for the North.

Kissinger said following the cease-fire agreement however that the aid provisions were subject to negotiations and that there was no reason to focus on the $7.5 billion figure.

Gold price soars on money markets

By United Press International

World money markets reopened today and early prices indicated dealers did not know quite what to make of the new, devalued dollar. The dollar was strong in Belgium and Frankfurt, weak in London and Amsterdam and at an all-time low in Tokyo.

In London the price of gold jumped $3.30 an ounce to an all-time high of $72.30 on the bullion market. The previous record was $69.50 set only a week ago.

Greece formally announced a 10 per cent devaluation of the drachma but in Spain many tourists continued to receive pre-devaluation prices for their dollars. Brazil reported an upward revaluation of 13 per cent of the cruzeiro — the first time in this century it has been marked upward in relation to the dollar.

In Tokyo, the price of the dollar fell to a record low when the markets reopened today and the state bank bought 150 million unwanted dollars to keep its price from falling below 271.10 yen.

The dollar opened well above its new parity in Belgium. In London and the Netherlands, it slipped slightly from the prices official and unofficial posted Tuesday.

Swiss banks today devalued the dollar by up to 14 per cent instead of the official 10 per cent while waiting for the Federal Bank and government to fix the new dollar-Swiss franc parity. By the end of trading today banks were giving only 3.35 to 3.36 francs for one dollar compared to the former official rate of 3.34 francs to the dollar.

In Italy, the government let the lira float away from its previous parity and it quickly rose against the dollar, but dipped as compared to stronger European currencies.

The Hong Kong dollar today was revalued upward nearly 10 per cent in relation to the U.S. dollar.

Finance ministers of the nine Common Market nations called a meeting later today to study the new situation. High on the agenda were the Italian float, which threatened the Market's economic unity, and the dollar devaluation, which will force recalculation of Europe's complex farm support prices.

Sir Christopher Soames, the Market's commissioner for external affairs, was leaving for Washington and two days of talks with U.S. officials, including Secretary of State William P. Rogers and Treasury Secretary George Schultz.

The administration's trade bill, with its threat of higher tariffs and its potential as a trade war weapon, will be central to Soames' talks, Market sources said.

In London, the pound went up from its Monday closing price.

Food prices keep rising

WASHINGTON (UPI) — The Agriculture Department says 1973 supermarket prices will average 6 to 6.5 per cent above 1972 — the sharpest one-year increase in 22 years.

But it said most of this annual gain has already taken place, and it predicted consumers will find the pace of price hikes slowing as meat supplies rise.

In a "Food Situation Report," department economists said record-high beef and pork prices in the past few months account for much of the gain and have forced upward revision of earlier forecasts for 1973 food prices.

The 1973 price predictions are taking place despite a series of administration actions aimed at easing prices by increasing farm production. They contradict word from administration officials only last week that 1973 prices of raw farm products would be down from record levels.

President Nixon has said grocery prices are a key to success of his overall Phase III economic control program.

Asked what further administration moves might be made, a government economist said, "I don't know what there is left to do."

The report said retail prices of all food both products bought at supermarkets for home use and foods consumed in restaurants — probably will average around 6 per cent above 1972. A department expert added in an interview that the supermarket increase probably would be 6 to 6.5 per cent, while restaurant foods may rise about 5.5 per cent.

Supermarket prices increased 4.3 per cent last year, 2.4 per cent in 1971, and 3 per cent in 1970. The 1973 increase would be the biggest jump since an 11 per cent hike recorded in 1969 during the Korean War inflationary spiral.

Red unit grenade target

SAIGON (UPI) — Unknown persons exploded a tear gas grenade outside the Communist compound tonight after a day of wrangling within the Joint Military Commission over prisoners and ending the fighting in South Vietnam. Viet Cong members of the JMC were left coughing, choking, crying and gasping for breath.

UPI Correspondent Donald A. Davis reported from Quang Tri City that 175 Communist prisoners were ferried across the Thach Han River today aboard outboard motorboats flying South Vietnam flags and that some of them displayed freedom banners inscribed with their own blood.

Although more Communist war prisoners were freed, the two opposing sides couldn't even agree on the number released. A North Vietnamese spokesman said the release "went off very well" and listed a total of 1,050 freed.

2nd group POW's off for states

SAIGON (UPI) — The next group of 20 American prisoners of war to be released by North Vietnam will be freed in Hanoi Friday or Saturday, an international diplomatic source said today.

A source close to the International Commission for Control and Supervision of the Vietnam cease-fire said an ICCS team will fly to Hanoi Thursday and remain there to supervise the release.

Impending release of the 16 Air Force and four Navy men was announced in Washington Tuesday.

Abortion policy unchanged

By BONNIE BAIRD-JONES and DAVID HORSMAN Times-News writers

TWIN FALLS — Magic Valley hospitals have not yet changed their abortion policies following a Supreme Court decision legalizing most abortions.

Area hospital spokesmen say their institutions have taken a "wait and see" attitude until the status of abortions in Idaho is clarified.

Many expect the legislature to pass a law regulating abortions within the guidelines laid down by the high court.

The Supreme Court ruled that abortions were legal during at least the first six months of pregnancy. During the last trimester of pregnancy, the court said, the state may outlaw abortions entirely.

During the first three months, the court held, the mother alone, with her doctor, could decide to have an abortion. During the second three months of pregnancy, the state properly could regulate the circumstances of abortion but not prohibit it.

In general, hospitals affiliated with religious units intend to oppose or severely limit abortions in the future. Public hospitals, while permitting abortions on a limited basis at present, expect to follow the expected legislative guidelines.

James Rosenbaum, administrator of Magic Valley Memorial in Twin Falls, said the hospital has a well defined policy of long standing. It is therapeutic in consequence, he said, and requires consultation of two other physicians in addition to the patient's own doctor. All three must concur the abortion is necessary for the protection of the mother's health or life.

"We will wait and see what the state is going to do with the regulation and when and if we do allow abortions other than therapeutic it would be done only through a policy set by the hospital board, only after the board receives recommendations from the medical staff and legal counsel," Rosenbaum said.

Rosenbaum said the abortion procedure "transcends more than law." There are some compelling moral and sociological factors on the part of physicians and hospital personnel to be considered, he said.

Until a new law is adopted or a formal ruling presented, Rosenbaum said Magic Valley Memorial will adhere to its present policy.

Robert Barton, Cassia Memorial Hospital administrator, said his hospital is operated by the LDS Church and would never participate because abortions violate church principles. (Continued on p. 15)

Energy use cited

WASHINGTON (UPI) — President Nixon told the American people today they must recognize the "stark fact" the nation is using up more energy than it is producing.

In a radio address outlining his legislative program for the environment and related fields, Nixon said he would give Congress "a new and far more comprehensive energy message containing wide-ranging initiatives to insure necessary supplies of energy at acceptable economic and environmental costs."

He will submit his proposals to the House and Senate Thursday.

Nixon did not reveal in his speech any of the specifics of his legislative program for the environment and related fields, he declared.

"We must face up to a stark fact. We are now consuming more energy than we produce. Energy policy will continue to be matter of the highest priority," as shown by my budget proposal to increase funding for energy research and development even in a tight budget year.

Discussing environmental problems in general, Nixon said "day by day our air is getting cleaner. In virtually every one of our major cities, the levels of air pollution are declining. It also said water pollution problems are being solved and he defended his decision not to spend $6 billion in congressionally approved funds to build sewage treatment plants to help clean up the nation's waters.

"We are now buying new facilities nearly as fast as the construction industry can build them," Nixon said. "Spending still more money would not buy us more pollution control facilities, but only more expensive ones."

Nixon also noted that 19 natural resource and environmental bills he submitted to the last Congress were not enacted. He said the programs were urgently needed, and he would resubmit them to the new Congress.

On pollution, he said the cost of controlling it should be paid for by the people who do the polluting and not by the general taxpayer.

Wendell asks farmland bids

WENDELL. — Bids will be opened at 8 p.m. Feb. 26 by Wendell school trustees for cash rent for 23 acres of farmland. The land is on 40 acres east of town which the district is purchasing for $12,000. Supt. Lawrence Lattue said the money is on hand for the purchase and 10 acres of the land will be developed immediately for a football field and track field. Lattue said there are no board plans at this time for another bond election for a school gymnasium and junior high addition on the purchased property at this time. "Eventually we hope to do that," he said. Mrs. Meredith Sisson, Richard Moore and Jim Sax, junior high instructors, met with the board Monday night to request that a separate bond election be held for the junior high addition. In the two previous bond elections, the school addition and the new gymnasium were considered together. No action was taken by the board. A grievance procedure was approved for all teachers. The agreement followed negotiations between the Wendell High City Education Association and the board. Supt. Lawrence Lattue said the grievance procedure will give an opportunity for a teacher who feels he has been unjustly treated to file a formal complaint. The complaint would be on three levels, he said: First to the principal, then appeal to the superintendent, and finally to the board of trustees. The trustees discussed the possibility of the five year term trustee zones in order to equally distribute the population in each zone. The zoning may involve a change in board members, according to Lattue, but new boundary lines have not yet been drawn. 1971 population figures will be used. A five year bus contract with the Hub City Bus Co. was approved. The bid includes $25.25 per bus and $30 per mile for extra curricular trips. Will Spilling and Mrs. Arlin Dennis, school principals, presented recommendations for retiring all certified teachers who have completed a full school year with the district. Supt. Lattue was instructed to check into the possibility of instituting a special education classroom for the district or cooperating with other districts to form special education classes.

Club honors officer, hears district judge

TWIN FALLS — If laws don't match social customs, it is difficult for laws to operate, District Court Judge James M. Cunningham told the Twin Falls Exchange Club Tuesday. Judge Cunningham discussed the relation of the law to custom in society and some of the aspects of enforcing the laws through the court at the club's observance of Crime Prevention Week. At the close of the meeting, Capt. Tim Qualls, chief of detectives, Twin Falls Police Department, was recognized by the club as its "police officer of the year." He was presented with an engraved desk set and multiple band radio set by Daniel Worsenraft, program chairman. Qualls told the club in response that the police department is only as good as the public support it receives. "We work from your help," he said. Other special guests at the meeting were Police Chief Frank Barriell and Twin Falls County Sheriff Paul Currier. The observance is part of a national effort by Exchange Clubs each

WWI vets conduct district meeting

TWIN FALLS — National and department officials attended a Fifth District meeting of Veterans of World War I Monday. Attending were William L. Robison, national Eighth Region commander, and Mrs. Ann Robison, Boise; Malcolm Rogers, Idaho department commander; Hugh H. Judd Sr., vice commander, and Mrs. Judd, Rupert; Harold O. Chelme, chief of staff, Gooding; Mrs. Edna Chelme, president of the district women's auxiliary; Gooding; Larry P. Evans, legislative chairman, Boise; Dean Holt, department adjutant, Hagerman; A. E. Williams, department quartermaster, Twin Falls; and Esther Deakens, department auxiliary president, Payette. A special award was given to McCullough, Spanish-American War veteran, Twin Falls, who is an honorary member of Barracks 509. Potluck dinner was served to 77 members, wives and widows, followed by meetings of the veterans and auxiliary. The department auxiliary president addressed that meeting on membership and each auxiliary unit reported on its work for the past three months. Reports on legislative matters were given by Mrs. Grant Kunkle, legislative chairman, Rogers and Evans. A date for an April meeting will be announced.

Jerome meet set

JEROME — Jerome Chapter of the American Red Cross will meet at 7:30 p.m. today at the Magillon Grade School. This meeting will be for all volunteers and workers of the American Red Cross of the east end of Jerome County. A film will be shown on Red Cross fund raising activities. A second meeting has been scheduled for 7:30 p.m. Feb. 21 at the Jerome County Courthouse. Anyone interested in helping the Red Cross with the upcoming fund raising drive is invited to attend either of the meetings.

"The truth is we haven't gone very far from the days when we had the tribal council to compare acts with customs," Judge Cunningham said. The council determined that if the acts of a member of the tribe fit the customs, it was fine, but if it did not then a crime had been committed, he said. Customs produce a society's laws, the judge said, and changes in moral values, customs and matters deemed to be important are all reflected in laws and how those laws are enforced. Judge Cunningham said the probation officer plays a key role in rehabilitation of persons who have appeared in court on criminal charges but their efforts are hampered by small numbers and heavy case loads. A group of volunteer probation officers working with the regular personnel are "doing a good job," but their numbers are insufficient, the judge said. Judge Cunningham invited members of the club to join in assisting with the volunteer probation program, which he termed "one way you as citizens can help prevent crime."

According to the accident report, witnesses at the scene told investigating officers Jones ran squarely in front of the Fischer vehicle and Fischer had no way to stop or to avoid hitting the youngster. The accident occurred at 5:05 p.m.

TF man charged in wreck

TWIN FALLS — A Twin Falls man was arrested Tuesday night for driving while under the influence of alcohol following an accident on Kimberly Road. According to police reports, the accident occurred at 7:35 p.m. Tuesday in the 1800 block of Kimberly Road. Loyal D. Williams, 49, was cited for DWI after a sedan he was driving east on Kimberly Road hit the rear of a properly parked semi-trailer and truck belonging to William E. Johnstone, Pocatello, Ore. Williams was taken to Magic Valley Memorial Hospital, treated and released, before being taken into custody on the drunk driving charge.

Cassia commissioners adopt budget; hear no protests

BURLEY — Cassia County commissioners formally adopted a $1.18 million county budget for 1973 after no protests were registered concerning the tentative figure Monday. The budget was adopted with no changes in the proposed figures announced Jan. 17. The general fund appropriation for the county shows the biggest increase at $322,930 — more than four times the 1972 figure of $79,730. Contained in the tremendous jump is $200,000 for a proposed

TF youth injured by auto

TWIN FALLS — Well-meaning motorists could learn a lesson from Kenneth Jones, 10, Twin Falls. The Jones youth was struck by a car Monday afternoon when an unidentified driver in a stalled lane of traffic motioned him to cross the street into the path of an oncoming vehicle. Although struck, young Jones was not seriously injured. He was treated and released after being taken to Magic Valley Memorial Hospital. According to police accident reports, Jones was walking north on Second Avenue-North when he was motioned across Addison Avenue by a motorist in the east bound lane of Addison which was stalled by traffic backed up from Second Avenue North. As the Jones youth ran across Addison, he was struck by a car driven by Dale E. Fischer, 23, Filer, which was traveling west on Addison.

TF chief delayed at cabin

TWIN FALLS — Fire Chief Bobby K. Bopp and his family almost became the objects of a search and rescue operation Monday. They went to their cabin on Warm Springs Creek above Petchum Sunday morning, telling friends and relatives they would return Sunday night. When they had failed to appear by Monday noon, Twin Falls sheriff's officers were notified and they asked the Blaine County sheriff to make a search. Officials at the fire department had expected Bopp back on the job by Monday morning, and knowing the area frequently has snow slides and the family would be traveling to and from their cabin by snowmobile, they became concerned for the family safety. Bopp said they reached the cabin a bit later than anticipated Sunday and with snow to be shoveled from the roof and things to be dug out after a new heavy storm, the family simply decided to stay all night and leave Monday. "We never thought about anyone being concerned," he said. They returned home about 1 p.m. Monday after enjoying the overnight stay in the snow bound cabin, but are still explaining why they were a day late.

city-county law enforcement building, $30,000 for new equipment in the treasurer's office and $1,200 for Cassia senior citizens. Both the district court budget (upped to $17,075 from $14,000 last year) and the sheriff's department appropriation (increased to $72,418 from $67,163) include $3,725 for the hiring of a court deputy, or bailiff, if pending legislation requires it. The sheriff's budget also includes $7,100 in salary for a building inspector, a new position recently filled by Clark Ward, Burley. The prosecuting attorney's budget was increased to $38,400 from $31,000, including approximately $7,800 for the hiring of a deputy prosecutor. Although 1973 is a non-election year in the county, $14,000 was appropriated in the elections fund to allow complete pay-off of voting machines purchased last year. The 1972 allocation for elections was $20,000. The public health fund increased from $30,923 to $49,927. It includes nearly $18,000 in revenue sharing money for the county's share of a proposed new district health office in Twin Falls. An agricultural extension service increase from $17,480 to $22,320 will allow the hiring of another extension agent if legislation makes it necessary. In the special levy section of the budget, the revaluation figure was upped to $57,500 from $12,860 to pay for added workers who will expedite revaluation efforts. The county roads fund shows an increase from $54,295 to $61,655, including a sum to contract the resurfacing of the highway between Conner's Corner and Alma in the southern part of the county. A new special levy category was established for the Cassia County Historical Society. The group will get $3,500 under the adopted budget. (Other official appropriations (with the comparable 1972 figures in parentheses) include clerk, auditor and recorder, $42,750 ($38,610); public defender, $10,000 ($7,500); magistrates division, $24,000 ($22,440); Probation officer, $4,000 (same); treasurer, $23,025 ($21,300); assessor, $46,429 ($40,795); county commissioners, $13,150 ($12,850); coroner, $2,750 ($2,745); county building, $22,660 ($20,360); civil defense, $2,125 (same); Indigent, $15,465 ($103,800); fair exhibits, $21,000 (same).

Money problem still unsolved

LONDON (UPI) — Devaluation of the U.S. dollar has taken the heat out of the current money crisis. But the real deep-seated problem remains unsolved.

That is, how to achieve a basic long-term reform of the non-Communist world's creaking monetary system and do away with the recurrent crises that have plagued it in recent years.

It means finding a replacement for the agreement signed at Bretton Woods, N.H., in 1944 under which the international monetary system has operated for nearly 30 years.

It also means a sweeping new worldwide agreement on tariffs and trade, designed to liberalize international trade practices.

When the United States and other major trading nations in December, 1971, concluded the "Smithsonian Agreement" which devalued the dollar for the first time since the 1930s, they also agreed to work out long term monetary reform.

Talks started in the so-called "Group of 10," consisting of the 10 wealthiest non-Communist nations.

But progress was slow.

Last September the "Group of 10" was expanded into a new "Group of 20" by inclusion, at the request of the United States, of a number of developing nations.

It may or may not have a blueprint for worldwide monetary reform ready to present to the next meeting of the International Monetary Fund (IMF) scheduled at Nairobi, Kenya, next September.

Even if it makes this elastic deadline, this means there is no likelihood of the sweeping new agreement being achieved this year which most governments now agree is needed if future monetary crises are to be avoided.

Parallel with and closely connected with these money talks, a new round of trade and tariff negotiations is scheduled to begin next fall in Geneva — provided President Nixon gets the necessary tariff-cutting green light from Congress.

But the new "Nixon round" as it now is being called on the pattern of the "Kennedy round" of tariff-cutting talks a decade ago — is unlikely to achieve concrete results before 1975.

Thus, even on the most optimistic assessment, economists see little prospect of either worldwide money reform or a new international pattern of freer trade being agreed on for two years at least.

Meanwhile, the risk remains that the settlement of the interest money crisis could be as shortlived as the "Smithsonian Agreement" of only 14 months ago.

Analysis

Added revenues needed by Idaho

By INGRID STROPE

(for the FF League of Women Voters)

The Idaho Constitution charges the legislature to establish and maintain a general, uniform, and thorough system of public, free education schools.

Wide variations in district area and population, expenditures per student, and educational offerings indicate that equal over $120-per-pupil.

This wide disparity, coupled with the heavy dependence upon money raised by the property tax, obviously results in great variations in the tax burdens.

Recent court decisions require that the quality of a child's education cannot be a function of the taxable wealth of the property within a district. This means that the property tax would not be unconstitutional if the yields from the property taxes for education were equalized so that all districts with the same tax rate received the same amount of school money per child.

A court suit challenging the constitutionality of Idaho's school funding scheme is now pending.

Meanwhile Idaho must devise a better scheme for funding its schools. Local control is both necessary and good; local effort should be rewarded.

A gradual transformation to more equalized funding in a manner consistent with Idaho's needs is preferable to a court mandate. Senate Bill No. 1033 is designed as a step toward solving these problems.

Gov. Cecil D. Andrus has recommended that the public school's share of the county property tax be reduced. This is desirable.

But his proposed general fund spending is insufficient to both compensate for the property tax cut and provide for equalization. Additional revenue is urgently needed to provide equal educational opportunities throughout Idaho.

Commentary

educational opportunities are not being provided.

Nearly half of the money for public schools comes from property taxes. Heavy reliance on property tax is due to the collectibility and stability of this form of taxation.

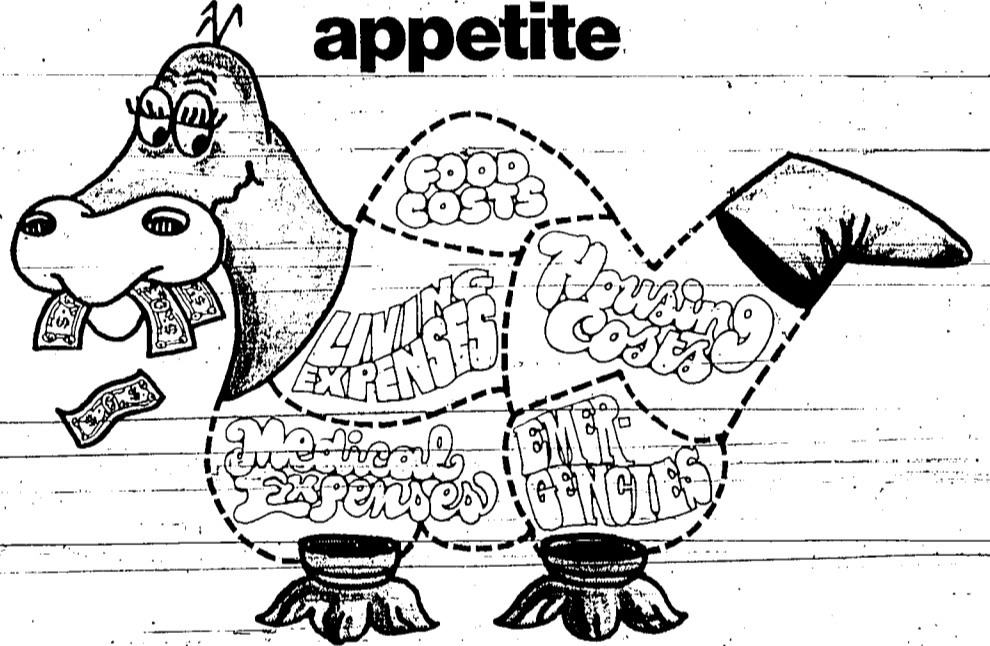

Historically property was a measure of wealth, but it is no longer a valid measure of ability to pay taxes. If a homeowner has a large mortgage on his home and actually owns only a small part of it, he still pays the tax on the full value. If he had the same amount in savings he would pay tax only on the interest.

The assessed valuation per pupil in Idaho districts varies from less than $3,000 to over $120,000, so the amount which districts can raise with each mill levied varies from less than $3 to

Judges to run on records

BOISE (UPI) — Sitting in judgment on court reform, the house sentenced district magistrates today to run for election on their records after their initial appointment to office.

By a vote of 46-22, the house approved a bill requiring magistrates to run for retention on a non-partisan ballot two years after their appointment. If successful, such magistrates would serve for four more years before they would have to stand before the electorate in their districts again for another retention vote.

Suit for firm dropped

BOISE (UPI) — Boise Cascade Corp. said Tuesday that U. S. District Court for the Southern District of New York dismissed a suit brought against the Boise-based firm and a subsidiary by Deltec International Ltd., and its Argentine subsidiary. The action involved a large contract and recapitalization of Tumbo, S. A., an Argentine corporation, in which the Boise Cascade subsidiaries hold a majority interest. Deltec holds a minority interest, also. The firm said Deltec stated it was established to its satisfaction there was no wrongdoing on the part of Boise Cascade. It is clear to us that the lawsuit arose in part from misunderstandings between the Boise organization and our firm," Deltec said.

Devaluation will pass Congress

WASHINGTON (UPI)—Congress has no real choice but to go along with President Nixon and enact the bill which will formally devalue the dollar. But it remains to be seen whether Congress will go along with him on trade legislation and give him what he seems to be seeking: broad, almost unlimited power to raise and lower tariffs at his sole discretion.

Congress has become hostile in recent weeks about abdicating its powers. The right to set trade policy is one of its traditional preserves.

A bill increasing the official price of gold and thus devaluing the dollar is sure to sail through because it will merely ratify what in fact occurred the instant devaluation intentions were announced late Monday night.

Rep. Wright Patman, D-Tex., the populist-style chairman of the House Banking Committee, promised speedy action when the House returns next week from its Lincoln Birthday recess.

He said he first wanted to investigate the role of foreign branches of U.S. banks and corporations which "stashed away" $70 billion and engaged in speculation, "betting against their country and their country's currency."

The dollar crisis is almost certain to reawaken demands that the United States withdraw some of its 300,000 troops from Germany to save the billions spent for their support.

Although the administration thought to troop pullback last year when Senate Democratic Leader, Mike Mansfield proposed it, the administration this time was using the troop issue as a bargaining chip.

The State Department hinted Tuesday that failure to reform the international monetary system in a manner which would stem the flow of dollars abroad would result in a reduction in U.S. forces in Europe.

7 US civilian POW's victims of illnesses

CLARK AFB, Philippines (UPI)—Seven American civilian prisoners of war released by the Viet Cong experienced a wide range of tropical illnesses. But their condition eventually stabilized at a less healthy level.

Frank A. Sievert, a State Department official, said the civilians returned with bruised and injured legs and discolored skin.

Sievert, the State Department's expert on the civilian POWs, told newsmen most of the seven, now undergoing examinations at Clark Air Base Hospital, were ill in captivity, but now had the "prospect of a great physical recovery."

They were among 27 POWs freed Monday in South Viet Nam. They were flown here to join 116 military prisoners repatriated from North Viet Nam. An eighth civilian elected to remain in Saigon.

"They all had swellings in their ankles and feet from living for years with the Ho Chi Minh sandals (rubber sandals made from car tires) and walking endless distances and suffering from nutritional deficiencies. Whether actual

Anti-hijack accord set

WASHINGTON (UPI)—The State Department announced Tuesday that basic agreement on an anti-hijacking pact had been reached with Cuba. A spokesman said a few "procedural details" would be worked out in the next few days "to conclude the agreement."

Nixon commented on the pact Tuesday night as he strolled back to the White House after having "dinner at a nearby restaurant."

"This does not mean normalization of relations with Cuba," Nixon said. "It's simply an understanding on hijacking."

The provisions of the agreement were not revealed.

Lava bomb plan out

REYKJAVIK (UPI)—Geologists rejected today suggestions that U.S. warplanes bomb the volcano Helgafjell as a way of controlling the lava flows threatening more damage on the island of Heimaey.

"There is no possibility of bombing the craters without endangering the town of Vestmannaeyjar," said a spokesman for geologists and salvage crews studying the volcanic eruptions since they started June 23.

Some experts suggested American bombers carry out strikes against the craters and slopes of Helgafjell to blast new paths for lava spilling down its sides to engulf much of the island located off the coast of Iceland and bury it under tons of ash and molten rock.

Tot class measure facing hearings

By DAVID ESPO
Times-News writer

BOISE — The chairman of the House Education Committee said Tuesday a kindergarten bill which passed the Senate Monday would receive a public hearing, and would probably be amended before it reached the floor of the House.

Rep. Kurt Johnson, R-Idaho Falls, said the committee would probably begin its deliberations on the measure later this week. The bill, which provides for state funding for kindergartens approved by local school district voters, passed the Senate Monday 20-15 after over an hour of debate.

Sen. John M. Barker, R-Buhl, chairman of the Senate Health Education and Welfare Committee, and the floor sponsor of the measure, said Tuesday he would try to appear before the House committee to present the arguments for the bill in detail to its members.

Barker told the Senate in floor debate Monday that he had opposed kindergartens in past years, but his objections were answered by the bill that has been drafted.

Johnson indicated that several of those objections might still apply in the House Committee. He said the estimated $2.9 million cost to the state school foundation formula of kindergartens would "dilute" the formula, and that some districts would be forced to raise property taxes to support the programs if their voters approved the classes.

In addition, he said, "the overall budget isn't set," and with the effort being made to raise public school teachers' salaries there was question about how much money was available.

Johnson said there was little chance for passage of the measure in the House as it was currently written, and said that some unnamed "educational organizations" had voiced objections.

But he did say that Barker would be given the chance to appear before the committee if he wanted.

Barker said the chances for the bill were currently "no better than so-so."

Johnson did not say when he thought the public hearings on the bill would be held, but he said that the bill's "deep implications" needed further study.

The Senate floor debate Monday centered around a question of priorities for Idaho's educational programs. Several senators said there wasn't enough money to fund salary increases, vocational-technical education and state supported kindergartens.

Trustees must run for specific seat

BOISE — A bill requiring that candidates for junior college boards of trustees run for specific seats became law Tuesday.

Gov. Cecil D. Andrus signed the measure, one of five legislative bills that he approved during the day.

The bill had sailed through both the House and the Senate with little opposition earlier in the legislative session.

The bill was proposed by College of Southern Idaho officials after a problem arose during the December board elections at the school.

Elections were held for one full six year term and one unexpired two year partial term. Seven candidates declared their intentions for the two seats with college attorney Robert Alexander advising college officials that there were two separate races.

Fire, police levy lid lifting seems unlikely

BOISE (UPI) — Cities that need more money for police and fire protection may have to rely on the revenue sharing funds they receive from Uncle Sam.

That seems to be the consensus among House taxwriters and especially a subcommittee that looked into bills to lift the levy ceilings for those purposes.

Rep. Peggy Bunting, R-Boise, told fellow members of the House Revenue and Taxation Committee Tuesday that her subcommittee found very little chance of passing either bill at this session.

As an alternative, she said, the subcommittee recommends cities make use of their federal revenue sharing funds to beef up their police and fire-fighting forces.

Or, those who cannot stretch federal revenue sharing far enough might try to persuade this legislature to give them some referendum authority.

But, Mrs. Bunting stressed, this legislature is in no mood to take the restraints off any local units of government and permit unlimited tax on property owners.

Members of the full committee accepted the report, but took no further action. They have shown a reluctance, however, to move forward on legislation which appears to be headed nowhere.

Meantime, the committee sent in the floor with a favorable recommendation a measure affirming findings of a Joint House-Senate Committee on Revenue Projections.

Leasing measures scanned

BOISE (UPI) — On a request from a Utah attorney Tuesday, the State Land Board has agreed to ask the attorney general to look into laws governing oil and gas exploration leases.

Robert Puritt of Salt Lake City, an attorney for the Anschutz Corp. of Colorado, told the board that insurance firms are making more money from bonding oil and gas exploration projects than the state is receiving from exploration leases.

He said current interpretations of the statutes call for $1,000 bond on each lease and a single firm may hold several hundred leases for one project.

Puritt asked also for clarification of when rental fees should begin, when the lease application is filed or when it is signed.

He said recent applications his company made took six months to complete and rental fees were charged from the time the application was made.

The board said the delay was another indication of the manpower shortage in the land department, but decided to continue the present policy of charging from the time the application is made.

Idea wins

BOISE (UPI) — Rep. Vernon Raverscroft, R-Tuttle, talked the House Resources and Conservation Committee Tuesday into introducing a memorial asking the Forest Service to refrain from condemning ranches in Hells Canyon.

Andrus applauds exemption ruling

By GEORGE FRANK

BOISE (UPI) — Gov. Cecil D. Andrus says an attorney general's opinion stating Idaho cannot grant property tax exemptions to fraternal organizations, which discriminate because of religion or race, is a "just" one.

Andrus called an impromptu news conference Tuesday following the release of the opinion by Attorney General W. Anthony Park. The Governor asked for it on behalf of the National Association for the Advancement of Colored People (NAACP).

"I received the Attorney General's opinion," Andrus told newsmen, "and it sets forth very plainly that under the 14th Amendment of the United States of America's Constitution individuals and private organizations may be able to practice discrimination, but not at the taxpayers' expense."

The opinion said no Black, Indian or White citizen is free to choose whether or not to give financial assistance to an association which excludes solely because of race if the state gives the organization property tax exemption.

"Instead, he is required by state law to subsidize this financial assistance the state gives to an association which excludes him solely because of his race."

The opinion said the state may not provide direct financial aid in the form of property tax exemptions if such association excludes citizens from membership solely on racial grounds.

A copy of the opinion is to be forwarded to the state tax commission for action, Andrus said, adding the tax commission is a constitutional body and through them enforcement of the law could be met.

The Governor said, "until such a time as litigation or legislation provides otherwise, this is the law and it will be enforced."

He said a bill is pending in the Legislature providing no exemption from ad valorem taxation to any group, corporation, organization or association refusing service to or denying membership to any persons because of race, color or national origin.

The Governor said passage of the measure currently in the Senate State Affairs Committee would clearly define tax exemptions.

Commenting on the opinion, Chairman Allan F. Larsen, R-Blackfoot, of a House tax committee said the statement may cause more problems.

"I'll have to see the opinion first. It very well could cause additional problems for the committee."

"We've got enough problems in revenue and taxation now without any new ones," he said.

Gem ERA loophole located

BOISE (UPI) — Rep. Wayne Loveless, D-Pocatello, may have found a loophole in Idaho's 1972 ratification of the Equal Rights Amendment to the U.S. Constitution.

He said Tuesday Idaho may have to start all over if it wants to ratify it. Rather than rescind action the legislature thought it took last year, he said, this session may have to begin anew the process if it desires ratification.

The Pocatello Democrat said he can find no official notification from Congress to Idaho that the ERA was proposed for ratification. He also said he was unable to find any receipt from Congress that it ever received notice from Idaho that the legislature ratified the proposal.

State officials are checking into the matter.

Today, the ERA rescission resolution is up for floor action in the House. But it is next to last on a long debate calendar and could be held over for a day or more.

Birth control measure due reconsideration

BOISE (UPI) — The Idaho Senate passed 20-14 Tuesday but will reconsider today a bill making it legal to advertise and disseminate contraceptives and birth control information.

After the bill passed 19-15 Sen. James Yost, R-Wendell, changed his vote to "yes" and moved for reconsideration of the measure.

During the 20 minute debate Sen. Richard Egbert, D-Tetonia, said if the legislature passes this measure "it would give its stamp of approval to immorality."

Sen. Phil Batt, R-Wilder, who carried the measure, said under the present law anyone distributing such information concerning birth control or contraceptives could be found guilty of a felony.

"We are one of four states left with this archaic provision," Batt said. He pointed out the 1,000 illegitimate children born each year in the state and the rising numbers of venereal disease cases.

"These numbers could be significantly reduced," Batt said of the passage of the bill.

Sen. Leon Swenson, R-Nampa, said he could not see the relation between the dissemination of such information and the decrease in venereal disease.

But Batt said the information could point out the consequences a person faces when he or she participates in intercourse.

Sen. Dane Watkins, R-Idaho Falls, said the state did not need billboards along highways advertising this type of information. He said there presently is enough of this type of information available.

Batt said "it appears we are all against it. We should be voting on this." He added that family planning units in the state are not able to do their jobs because of the law.

House dodges annual hassle

BOISE (UPI) — House taxwriters voted Tuesday to avoid this year a perennial hassle with the Senate over revenue projections.

They sent to the floor with a favorable recommendation a senate concurrent resolution affirming their belief in the projections of a joint house-senate subcommittee earlier at this session of the legislature.

Rep. Allan F. Larsen, R-Blackfoot, told new members of the revenue and taxation committee that in past years there has been considerable "hassle" between the two houses — and sometimes with the governor — over revenue projections.

This year, he reminded them, the legislative leadership attempted to avert this by setting up a joint study committee to arrive at conclusions which everyone could buy.

He said the purpose of the concurrent resolution is to formalize the findings.

Rep. Maurice Clements, R-Nampa, said he felt perhaps by sending the resolution to the floor with a favorable recommendation he would be voting to establish a level of spending.

Older members of the committee told him that was not the case — that he simply was affirming his belief that the present general fund revenue sources would produce a given amount of tax dollars; the next fiscal year

Bill stalled

BOISE (UPI) — The Senate State Affairs Committee Tuesday pigeon-holed all measures proposing biennial budgeting or biennial sessions.

The committee took no action on five bills which were on its Tuesday agenda and Chairman H. Dean Sumner, R-Boise, said "they will not again on the agenda unless asked for by a committee member."

State fund-census OK

BOISE (UPI) — The Senate debated for nearly an hour Tuesday and then passed 24-11 a bill allowing cities to take special censuses for use in determining future appropriations of state funds.

The measure, which passed the house earlier in the session, will now go to the governor for his consideration.

Sen. Charles Bilyeu, D-Pocatello, told the senators the measure would enable rapidly growing areas to readjust their population figures to insure equitable distribution of state funds between national censuses, which are taken every 10 years.

Under the measure, Bilyeu said, the cities themselves would have to pay for the census at an approximate cost of $1 per person in the cities.

Abigail Van Buren

DEAR ABBY: I am a young guy 20 years old and I will be inducted into the Army soon. This is fine with me as I always wanted to be a soldier, but I have a problem. All my hair fell out about a year ago and I wear a hairpiece. It is a really good one—I paid $500 for it and it is custom-made for me and I almost never take it off. I go swimming in it, play football, and even hockey in it. I am worried about what the Army will do to me if I refuse to take it off. Abby, I don't need anyone to laugh at me. Maybe I am nuts for feeling that way about it, but I honestly don't have any hair on my head at all. Why it fell out, I don't know. It just did. My dad was bald at my age, too, so it could be hereditary. Anyway, I am not asking to be a long-haired guy because I know the Army doesn't go for that, but if they try to make me take it off they will need guys to knock me out as it would destroy me emotionally to go around baldheaded.

Please hurry your answer, and thanks for your time.
UPTIGHT

'Hairy' situation

DEAR UPTIGHT: You're lucky it's the Army because they allow men to wear hairpieces, cut to regulation length, even in training. The Marine Corps shaves all heads for the 12-week training period, so you'd be baldheaded for the first three months whether you liked it or not.

DEAR ABBY: I would like to meet a lady between 25 and 35 years old who is mentally okay but has some kind of physical handicap. I mean someone who maybe has one arm or leg. I wouldn't even mind a person who is deaf and can't talk, but I would like one who can see.

I am mentally and physically okay myself and could return as much love as she could give me, and I feel that a handicapped woman would appreciate a good, sober, hard-working bachelor more. I live alone on a ranch, but please don't publish my name. LONELY AND LOOKING

DEAR LOOKING: The National Society for Crippled Children and Adults [some agencies are known as the Easter Seal Society] have clubs where handicapped men and women socialize. Also, Goodwill Industries who employ the handicapped may be able to help you. I suggest that you apply in person and bring current character references along. You sound sincere, and I wish you luck, but I urge you to be very, very careful.

DEAR ABBY: About girls who wear glasses: When I was in college (Radcliffe, '40) we used to say:

"Men don't mind the glasses
If you have the chassis."

JEAN V. OWENS, BETHLEHEM, PA.

DEAR JEAN: Cute. But you were topped by Mr. J. J. Conlon who wrote:

Are asses."

By Mary Sue Miller

Some of the most misleading beauty ideas concern human hair. Despite the advances of science, hair-raising tales from "way back when" still persist.

One myth has it that hair can turn white overnight. But science has never discovered a valid case. The process is gradual, sometimes triggered by shock or illness. Premature gray is inherited, or so it is generally agreed.

Another misconception involves color "restorers" that purport to coax gray hair back to its original shade. Prior to permanent tinting, the use of semi-permanent color shampoos or color combs renders the final dye job less drastic to the eye. Of course, the temporary device should be applied in successively graduated shades — each application should be lighter than the last, or vice versa, depending on the goal.

A third notion which has not survived the modern laboratory is that ends should not be trimmed but singed, in order to seal in vital fluids. The control of dryness, oiliness and endless depends on proper care from scalp downward.

So do take care in every way that has the approval of present day technology. Select your shampoos and conditioners, your brushes and hairdressings with expertise. Never ever overcurl or overcolor.

Minico drills Bruins to hold tie for SIC lead

The Minico Spartans, behind senior guard Val Christensen and their two junior forwards, Scott Morehouse and Nyle Keller, dominated every phase of the game from the second quarter on Tuesday and drilled the Twin Falls Bruins 66-49. Minico hosts Idaho Falls Wednesday.

The victory was crucial to Minico as it kept the Spartans tied with Minico for the Southern Idaho Conference lead. Twin Falls, whose hopes had been less than slim for the past three weeks, fell out with its fifth loss.

The Spartans hit Twin Falls right in its pride of late — the forward line. Keller and Morehouse, teaming with lanky Craig Hepworth, took the corners away and among the three had little problem on the boards.

Twin Falls made two early runs, jumping up by eight and later by nine, but in each case went to the instant offense and Minico promptly made them play. After the score was tied 19-19, Twin Falls hit nine straight. But on the next five

Layoff pass

WITH THE DEFENSE UP in the air, Twin Falls' Eric Hovey shunts off a pass to teammate Kim Nielsen (35). Looking for the shot that didn't come are Minico's Ritchie Donner (35) and Craig Hepworth. Minico won 66-49 to keep its hopes alive for a share of the Southern Idaho Conference championship. The teams split two seasonal meetings, each losing at home.

Torrid Declo hangs first loop defeat on Oakley 82-75

DECLO — The Declo Hornets exploded for 71 points in the first three quarters Tuesday night and handed the Oakley Hornets their first Magic Valley Conference loss of the season 82-75.

The Hornets got torrid shooting from four men at different times as they hurried into a 28-point lead that was enough to offset a fourth-quarter surge paced by Oakley's Don Bedke.

Mallory started the thing off for Declo by hitting 12 points in the opening period. He went the second quarter without scoring but junior Keith Schrenk and Rob Hiding picked up the point string with nine and 12 each as Declo piled up a 49-31 advantage.

Mallory came back with eight to pace another big third quarter but then the Hornets' shooting abated while Oakley started coming on. Bedke hit 14 of his 18 points in the final period but the Hornets had little chance of ever winning it.

Filer stops late Shoshone bid 64-62

FILER — The Filer Wildcats, after wasting just about all of a 12-point fourth quarter lead, turned to the free throw line in the closing two minutes to turn back the rally; Shoshone Indians 64-62.

Filer looked like an easy winner as it jumped ahead in the first quarter and stayed with double figures leads most of the time. The Wildcats entered the last quarter with a 12-point bulge but Shoshone started to whittle away at it as Gary Kinghorn pumped through 10 of his 23 points.

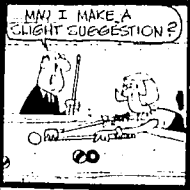

With 1:45 left, Craig Sorenson hit two free throws to reduce Filer's advantage to 59-58 but Lynn Thaeft offset those with two from the line. Kinghorn came back with two free throws on a pair of one-and-one situations before Ron Jones got a charity toss to send Filer back up to 62-60.

Wolves top Devils, cop runner-up tie

CASTLEFORD — The Castlerock Wolves dropped the Murtaugh Red Devils 65-58 Tuesday night to clinch at least a tie for second place in the Magic Valley Conference.

Castleford, posting only its second victory in four years over the Devils, now is 8-3 with one game left. Declo, which upset Oakley Tuesday night, could catch them as the Hornets hold a 7-4 record. The Wolves will beat Oakley in the season finale Friday night.

Hansen outscores Hagerman

HAGERMAN — The Hansen Huskies put together their biggest offensive show of the year Tuesday night in rolling past the Hagerman Pirates 64-62.

Coach Gordon Hogan saw all five of his starters get into double scoring figures as the Huskies, nursing an 8-6 lead in the first period, ran off with a 22-point second quarter to lead 30-19.

The Huskies stayed in control of the game from that point although Gilbert Hafen hit 13 of his 21 points in the final period to keep Hagerman hopes alive.

Castleford has a big second quarter, pumping through 28 points while Murtaugh was managing 14. That left it 41-25 at intermission and neither team scored well in the third period.

The Huskies shot 44 per cent from the field while Hagerman hit 32 per cent.

Murtaugh started a quarter-long rally in the final set and succeeded late in the game to reduce the deficit to four points with enough time left to pull it out. However, Castleford, which hit only 21 of 43 free throw attempts, then hit enough from the line to hold the victory.

Hagerman won the preliminary.

Can you spot the Camel Filters smoker?

In this picture everybody has a gimmick... almost everybody. Try picking the one who doesn't go along.

1. Nope. He's Alfonso Cliggitt, divorce lawyer. Gimmick: fat out dress to intimidate the opposition. Smokes cigarettes made of dried tundra.
2. Hatford A. Baer, rare book expert. ("Books Old and Rare from Harry Baer") Thinks rolling his own makes him look younger. A real dingbat.
3. If she's the Camel Filters smoker, the guy with the beard is Jean Harlow.
4. Gene Harlow.
5. Right! He's just himself. And he sees through all the gimmicks. That's why he smokes an honest, no-nonsense cigarette. Camel Filters. Easy and good tasting. Made from fine tobacco.
6. A. Boswell Farquar. Gimmick: a white (not green) parrot. Hasn't seen a movie in years. They won't let his parrot in.

Southern Idaho rips BSC jayvee

TWIN FALLS—The College of Southern Idaho Golden Eagles rolled by the Boise State frosh 84-67 in a ho-hum contest for their 22nd victory of the year here Tuesday night.

The game started with neither team doing much offensively or defensively. For the first 10 minutes of the contest only 20 points were posted on the board as the lead saw-sawed back and forth.

Darrell Groves and Vince Volmut actually kept CSI in the ball game for the first part of the game. Finally the Eagles came alive in the second 10 minutes of the half as Groves put the Eagles ahead to stay 12-11.

Volmut then hit three in a row as CSI began to take a commanding lead 19-14 with 8:30 left in the half. He scored 11 of the Eagles first 19 points.

From then on it was just a matter of how many points the Eagles would win by. The balanced Eagle scoring attack upped and kept their lead at as much as 12-14 points until the half.

The only offensive punch the Colts could muster was from George Glover. He scored 14 points in the first half and was the only Boise State player to score for over eight minutes, hitting 10 straight for the Colts.

Scott McIlhenny hit two free throws with 39 seconds left in the half, but Groves hit a jumper at the buzzer to give the Eagles a 42-20 half time lead.

The second half was hardly enough to keep the few fans on hand awake as the Eagles built leads as high as 25 points and six players scored in double figures in the game.

With a little under six minutes left in the contest Boise State started a scoring surge hitting 19 points to CSI's nine as the Eagles defense slackened off to a slow run.

The fact that Coach Jerry Hale unloaded the bench in the waning minutes of the game gave the Colts the only life they showed at all.

The win gave the Eagles a 22-3 record for the season. They travel to Eastern Utah Friday night and Mesa Saturday.

Rebounding pilfering

GOLDEN EAGLE Curtis Thompson (7) takes a rebound away from Boise State's Pat Hoke (52) under the CSI basket in action here Tuesday night. The Eagle's controlled the boards and scored almost at will to whip the Colts 84-67. Vince Volmut (55), scored 23 CSI points in the contest.

Lakers edge Sonics 101-98

INGLEWOOD, Calif. (UPI)—The Los Angeles Lakers narrowly averted their first home loss ever to the Seattle SuperSonics Tuesday night by squeezing out a 101-98 NBA victory.

The Lakers squandered a 16-point halftime lead and Seattle had a chance to go ahead with 13 seconds remaining. However, Spencer Haywood nussed a jump shot and the Lakers' Gail Goodrich controlled the rebound.

Seattle now has lost 19 games in Los Angeles in its 6-year history.

Wilt Chamberlain, rarely defensive-minded this season, scored 14 of his 18 points in the second half to help withstand a Seattle rally led by Haywood and guard Fred Brown. Haywood finished with 35 points to lead all scorers.

30-game season predicted by Wood

CHICAGO (UPI)—Wilbur Wood, the busy Chicago White Sox knuckleball pitcher who won 24 games in 1972 and 22 in 1971, signed a two-year contract for an estimated $100,000 annual salary Tuesday with a prediction that he would win 30 games in 1973.

The prediction didn't come from Wood. General manager Stu Holcomb made the prediction.

Wood and said Wood would become the team's first pitcher to reach that total since Ed Walsh hung up 40 victories in 1908.

Wood tied one workhorse record set by Walsh last season when he started 49 games.

Bucks thump Detroit 110-96

DETROIT (UPI)—Kareem Abdul-Jabbar and Bob Dandridge each scored 28 points Tuesday night to lead the Milwaukee Bucks to a 110-96 victory over the Detroit Pistons in a National Basketball Association contest.

Although Detroit was ahead 52-50 at the half, Milwaukee outscored the Pistons 17-2 to take 67-61 lead in the third period. Laevis Allen had six points in the spurt and closed the game with 11.

All slower, still dangerous

LAS VEGAS, Nev. (UPI)—Muhammad Ali, the aging 31-year-old former champion who insists he's still the best, is a strong favorite Wednesday night to dispose of European heavyweight titleholder Joe Bugner, his former sparring partner, in a 12-round fight.

"I guess I've slowed down a little but I still have three or four more years left," said Ali in a moment of rare candor. The former Cassius Clay won the title from Sonny Liston nine years ago this month.

"I need more sleep now because you begin to feel it when you get over 30 in this business."

Kansas State edges Kansas

MANHATTAN, Kan. (UPI)—Lon Kruger's two free throws in the final 22 seconds put Kansas State ahead for the first time and gave it a 67-66 Big Eight Conference victory over Kansas Tuesday night.

With five minutes to play, Kansas State battled back from a 11-point deficit with Danny Beard, Steve Mitchell and Larry Williams leading the way.

Kansas had two shots in the final 10 seconds but missed both of them.

Hot Warriors top Cleveland

CLEVELAND (UPI)—The Golden State Warriors, paced by Rick Barry's 36 points, hit on 11 of their first 12 shots in the third quarter and rolled to a 103-90 NBA victory over the Cleveland Cavaliers Tuesday night.

Barry, who hit on 16 of 29 from the field, poured in 22 first half points to take the Warriors to a 48-33 halftime lead. Golden State then unleashed a fast break attack by tossing in 11 baskets, including eight layups, in the first six minutes of the third quarter.

Cleveland bounced back to outscore Golden State 15-7 in the next six minutes to trail 70-72 after three quarters. The Cavs couldn't get within five points in the final period, however.

Temperatures rising in player-owner squabble

NEW YORK (UPI) — The shouting between both parties in baseball's annual pre-season bargaining squabbles took on a louder pitch Tuesday with Commissioner Bowie Kuhn taking his turn at bat, swinging away at Marvin Miller.

Kuhn admonished Miller, Executive Director of the Players Association, for abandoning the bargaining table and resorting to a "deliberate effort to create confusion over the status of the current negotiations in the minds of clubs, players and the public alike." In response to Miller's charges Monday that the owners have threatened an illegal lockout of spring training, Kuhn said "no decision has been made by the clubs as to whether or not spring training should be opened March 1. Both the players and clubs have from time to time asked for recesses while they sought to adjust their positions."

"Last week, however, league presidents Joe Cronin of the American and Chub Feeney of the National ordered a shut-down of all spring training facilities until March 1, until a settlement of the dispute is reached and a "lockout" would not then become official until that date.

Allen claims Rams demanding too much for Roman Gabriel

WASHINGTON (UPI) — Coach George Allen dashed cold water Tuesday on prospects that Los Angeles' passing star Roman Gabriel will be coming to his Washington Redskins.

"I don't see how the Rams could trade a player like Roman Gabriel who we could give up all of the players they've been talking about," Allen said in response to a question at a National Press Club lunch.

Dolphins in January. The Redskins coach also predicted that quarterback Sonny Jurgensen, sidelined by an Achilles tendon injury midway in the season, would be back with the team next year.

He hedged on whether Jurgensen or his quarterback rival Billy Kilmer would be No. 1 in 1973, but emphasized that Kilmer "is a winner."

"I talked to Sonny's doctor last week," Allen said of his veteran star, "and he said Sonny is doing fine. We expect him to be with us next year."

"I think the game would improve with some sort of instant replay camera operation," Allen commented. "It wouldn't slow down the game as critics say, any more than changing the yard sticks does now."

He was asked about his penchant for trading future draft choices for veteran players to play on his "Over the Hill Gang."

"You're never going to run out of draft choices," the Redskins coach said. "You get new ones every year and there's always going to be some team trying to go through a five-year program."

Sanderson richer, happy to be back

BOSTON (UPI) — Maybe Derek Sanderson has changed. After all, a million dollars does something to a fellow who was earning only $4,000 a year three seasons ago.

"For one thing, I'm more humble," Sanderson says. "It's a humbling experience, leaving a team like I did, and then trying to come back. If I had the decision to make all over again I never would leave. But the money was good."

Money, it meant a lot to Derek Sanderson. It still does. It fits his flamboyant life style. With it he can spend $31,000 for a shiny new Rolls Royce. He can pay the $4,700 insurance on it.

He can even spend $85 to have it washed and waxed. And he can afford the taxes on the car — taxes that cost him more than the best car he had ever before owned.

He couldn't wait to tell you how he loved to get under the skin of the New York Ranger fans.

He was a legend off the ice as well as on it. The women gathered around him at the local night spots. When he was hospitalized during the playoffs, then coach Tom Johnson explained it was "probably a good thing for him. It's the only way he'll get some rest."

He had many cars. That was Derek Sanderson.

But now, the Turk says, he does care. Being away from something you love, hockey makes you care. Those months he spent waiting for the Philadelphia Blazers of the WHA to decide what they would do with him turned everything around, he says.

"It's good to be back playing hockey," Sanderson insists. "That's all I wanted to do. I'm just going to try to do the job I did before. Kill penalties and give Espie (Phil Esposito) a break once in awhile."

And, he says, being back with the Stanley Cup champion Bruins gives him some added responsibility.

"I'm glad it's over. My last year (with WHA) is glad it's over. In fact, Bobby was more worried than I was. It's a good feeling to be back. Coming back from Philadelphia is like coming back from Vietnam."

Sayers named aide to Kansas U A D

LAWRENCE, Kan. (UPI) — Gale Sayers, the greatest football player in University of Kansas history, will return to his alma mater as assistant athletic director, it was announced Tuesday.

Sayers, many times an all-pro halfback for the Chicago Bears, will be involved in recruiting, counseling and possibly some coaching in the football program.

The announcement ended nearly a week of speculation about the appointment. The announcement was held up because Sayers first wanted to tell Bears' owner George Halas.

The terms of Sayers' contract at Kansas were not revealed. A. C. (Dutch) Lonborg currently is serving as interim athletic director at Kansas while the school continues its search to replace Wade Stinson, who resigned in November. One of his most prominently mentioned names in connection with the job was head coach during the time Sayers played.

Twice an all-America, Sayers was the No. 1 draft choice in 1965 of the Bears and the Kansas City Chiefs. Sayers chose the Bears and, in 1969, was voted the greatest halfback in the first 50 years of professional football by the Pro-Football Writers of America.

Sayers still holds two records at Kansas — a 99-yard run from scrimmage against Nebraska in 1963 and 283 yards rushing against Oklahoma State in 1962.

Colts will name new head coach

BALTIMORE (UPI) — Baltimore Colts' general manager Joe Thomas will announce his choice for head coach Wednesday, and the man who will take charge of Thomas' new look team will probably be Howard Schnellenberger, 38, offensive coach of the world champion Miami Dolphins.

He will succeed John Sandusky, fired by Thomas after the season ended. Sandusky took over from Don McAfferty, now head coach at Detroit, after an early season slump, from which the Colts never recovered.

Schnellenberger, one of three Dolphin coaches considered by Thomas, is thought to have the best chance because colleagues Bill Arnsparger and Monte Clark said recently they are out of the running.

The new coach will have to deal with a new team that Thomas is putting together after trading such stars as John Unitas, Bill Curry and Jerry Logan in order to field a younger club.

Thomas said the new coach will have the greatest job in football. If the team wins, he'll be a hero. If it loses, that's the bum.

McMillan studying for Rhodes

COLLEGE PARK, MD. (UPI) — Pro basketball has its eyes on Maryland All-American Tom McMillen, but his sights focused on a Rhodes Scholarship.

If the scholar-athlete gets the prestigious grant it would mean two years of study abroad at Oxford.

"Please don't get the idea I'm ruling out professional basketball after I graduate next year," said McMillen. "The Rhodes Scholarship would be an option I might not even want."

His 3.8 cumulative scholastic average as a pre-med student means McMillen earned straight A's with only a B or two slipped in through five semesters of study.

Also in his corner are membership on the President's Council on Physical Fitness and the 1972 U.S. Olympic Basketball Team.

McMillen has his reasons for the Oxford quest.

"I haven't been able to study everything I'd like to at Maryland with the scholarship. I could take two years off and do things I might never get a chance to do again. It would increase my life experiences and my dimensions."

No confidence

LONDON (UPI) — British bookmakers, showing no more confidence in Joe Bugner than their American counterparts, Tuesday offered 20-1 odds against the European champion beating Muhammad Ali on points in their 12-round bout at Las Vegas Wednesday.

Ali was offered at the prohibitive odds of 1-8 to win and Bugner at 6-1. Ali was 4-1 to win on a decision and the odds for a knockout ranged from 5-1 in his predicted seventh round to 3-1 for a 12-round kno.

Bugner's odds for a knockout ranged from 66-1 to 22-1 for the same rounds.

Russian Olympians slate tour of U.S.

NEW YORK (UPI) — Nine members of the Russian Olympic gold medal basketball team have agreed to play an eight-game series beginning April 26 against a team of U.S. amateurs which will be selected by the Amateur Athletic Union (AAU) at the conclusion of the current college season.

The tour will begin with a game in Salt Lake City and further contests are scheduled for Los Angeles, San Diego, Albuquerque, Indianapolis, Lexington, Ky., and New York.

Among the Russians who will compete will be 6-9 Alex Belov, the forward who scored the winning basket in the Soviet Union's upset 51-50 victory over the U.S. in Munich this past summer.

A spokesman for the AAU said that every effort would be made to enlist the services of the same outstanding college players such as South Carolina's Kevin Joyce, Maryland's Tom McMillen, Long Beach

Hunt license fee increase required

BOISE (UPI) — Fish and game director Joseph Greenley Tuesday said license fees must be raised next year or his agency will be in financial trouble.

Greenley told the house resources and conservation committee that license revenue is not keeping pace with game management needs in the state. Increases, he predicted, may run about 12 per cent of current license costs.

An alternative to hiking all game license fees would be to boost increases on tag fees, he said.

The average hunter 13 unrealistic about the cost of a license," Greenley said. "You can go skiing for a day and it costs more than a season's hunting license."

What's What

L. M. Boyd

The matrimonial analysts studied 3,000 marriages. In those where the women suggested to be in charge, approximately 41 per cent of the couples seemed to be happy. Where the man was boss, just about 61 per cent were happy. Where neither was dominant, a big 87 per cent claimed they were happy. This is Item No. 1476B from our Love and War man's file labeled "Who Wears the Trousers?"

Q. "I KNOW the feet of American men are getting bigger every generation, but how much bigger?"
A. About a third of an inch every 20 years.

STATISTICALLY, young lady, odds run three to one your gentleman friend will forget your birthday this year, two to one he'll overlook your anniversary.

STADIUM VENDORS say baseball fans rarely buy hot dogs after the seventh inning.

NINE OUT OF 10 divorces are uncontested.

DAY PEOPLE, NIGHT PEOPLE Whether you tend to be a night person or a day person depends on what the medical fellows call your circadian rhythm. There's been much debate as to what regulates said rhythm. Now, though, the belief is rapidly growing among the scientists that the hour of your birth sets your pattern. If you were born in the afternoon, that's when you will be your liveliest for the rest of your life, some think. Or if in the morning, then that's when further proof is needed. But researchers at Temple University School of Medicine, for instance, say they appear to be close to a definite understanding of this phenomenon. They claim daylight and darkness have little to do with it. They say our body clocks are set in motion when life starts, tick tick.

IT'S PITTSBURGH In 1901, the U.S. Geographic Board ruled the correct spelling of that sizable Pennsylvania city would be Pittsburgh. Never, cried the populous, year after year. In 1911, the U.S. Geographic Board said, oops, make it Pittsburgh.

AM ASKED WHAT the surgeons customarily charge these days for a complete facelift operation. About $2,500 is average. Recovery about four days in the hospital, maybe a month recovery time at home.

WORLD'S LARGEST collection of American folk music is not in Nashville, New York City, Los Angeles. It's at the Library of Congress in Washington, D.C. Daily, it's said, professional song writers visit therein to see what fresh musical notions they can pilfer, the rascals.

Energy feast over in US

CINCINNATI (UPI) — America's "energy feast" is over and unless the country can find 100 billion barrels of domestic oil in the next 10 years there will be a "famine," an executive of a major oil company said Monday.

John L. Ross, senior vice-president for natural resources of Standard Oil Co. of Ohio, told the Ohio Grain, Feed and Fertilizer Association meeting here the oil and gas shortage has hurt farming and industry in many states.

"Farmers cannot dry crops because of fuel shortages, gas supplies have been curtailed to many industrial users and new industrial plants have been scrapped because gas supply permits have been rejected," Ross said.

"We must find more domestic oil in the next 13 years than has been produced in the last 114 years since the first oil well was drilled in the United States in 1859."

"The energy feast is over and America faces the grim reality of an energy famine that may threaten its very existence," he said.

Ross said unless the United States can find new reserves by 1985, it faces the alternative of importing more than half its needs, which would increase the U.S. balance of payment deficits $25 to $30 billion per year.

"It is imperative that top priority be given to the development of potential domestic oil and gas reserves," Ross said. "The oil and gas shortage is a national emergency. North Slope was a step forward, but they won't reach the market until 1977—at the earliest because of the environmentalists' blocking of a pipeline permit."

No effect

WASHINGTON (UPI) — If the dollar devaluation has you worried, relax a little.

Unless you're making a trip abroad or plan to buy a Japanese television, German car or other foreign-made product, the devaluation means virtually nothing.

The action means the dollar is cheaper compared to other world currencies. But the price of a haircut, a dozen eggs, or other American goods and services should stay the same.

Travelers will immediately find that the dollar no longer buys as much overseas.

But because exporters generally order well in advance at a fixed price, it should be some time before prices of foreign-made goods go up in U.S. stores.

Retired businessman writes verses

LOVELAND, Colo. (UPI) — Ted Thompson says he's no poet, but the retired businessman writes verses each year that are read by thousands of persons across the globe.

Thompson, 68, writes the verses that are stamped on the Valentines that are sent to Loveland and then remailed to wives, husbands and sweethearts.

"I'm not a poet," said the man who is called "Mr. Valentine." "It's quite a chore because I'm not inclined that way. My wife, Mable, serves as my critic."

Thompson was president of the Loveland Chamber of Commerce when the Valentine mailing program first started in 1947. Former Postmaster Elmer Ivers had been receiving 40 to 50 Valentines each year for remailing and suggested it might be a program that the chamber should undertake.

The city now receives about 100,000 Valentines each year for remailing.

At first, the city planned to use the same stamp annually, but it soon was receiving requests for something more elaborate. Thompson started writing a four-line jingle in 1955 and has been creating a different verse each year since then.

"I have limitations I have to stay within," Thompson said. "I can't make them too gushy—because a lot of older folks want to send them. I try to keep them as neutral as I can."

"Then I have to keep them fairly short—2½ inches is all the length. It takes a little but it soon was receiving requests for something more we want and in the space that we have available."

This year's cachet includes the verse: "More than the tender memories that enrich this happy time... is the pure delight in knowing you are still my Valentine."

There also is an emblem showing a cupid wearing cowboy chaps firing an arrow through a valentine letter.

Thompson said messages which accompany the Valentines have ranged from the ridiculous to the sublime. One letter said: "Kindly remail these cards in time. Am getting older (75) and my love fires are slowly cooling off."

5 Viets refuse return

SAIGON (UPI) — The Viet Cong reported that five South Vietnamese soldiers held by the Communists refused repatriation Tuesday during the exchange of prisoners of war at Loc Ninh.

There was no immediate confirmation by the South Vietnamese government.

In reporting the alleged incident at Loc Ninh, the Viet Cong's Provisional Revolutionary Government (PRG) said in a statement:

"At the return time, within the presence of the ICCS (International Commission for control and Supervision) and the four-party JMC (Joint Military Commission) teams, five servicemen of the Saigon group captured or detained by the PRG side decided to stay in the liberated areas."

The PRG also accused the United States and South Vietnam of deliberately stalling on implementing the cease-fire. South Vietnam and the Communists have been exchanging prisoners, but snags have caused the releases to fall behind schedule.

Missile goes out of control

CAPE KENNEDY (UPI) — A Polaris A3 missile launched by the British submarine HMS Repulse dipped out of control shortly after launch Tuesday, and fell into the Atlantic Ocean off the Florida coast.

The 31-foot missile appeared to trace a roller coaster path in the partly cloudy sky before plunging into the sea, trailing a bright orange plume of flame.

The American-built rocket, carrying a dummy warhead, was launched at 9:30 a.m. MST while the Repulse was submerged 30 miles east of here. It was a routine test launch concluding a series of shake-down operations after the submarine was reconditioned in England.

The Air Force, which operates the Eastern Test Range, said the malfunction occurred during the operation of the missile's first stage. A spokesman said the exact location of the missile's impact was not immediately determined.
