House rejects ERA rescinder

BOISE — The Idaho House debated for over an hour Thursday then refused to rescind its ratification a year ago of the equal rights amendment to the federal constitution.

The vote was 38-32 in favor of a resolution to rescind the amendment passed a year ago — a majority of the 70 representatives, but far short of the two-thirds majority needed to pass a resolution.

The defeat apparently will be the end of the effort to get the state to retract its support for the equal rights amendment, a cause that drew about 1,000 persons to a public hearing earlier in the session.

The received House area live television coverage. It was the center of a legal dispute about whether the state had the authority to rescind its action, and was finally freed from the House Judiciary Committee at a secret meeting in the House lunch room, an area barred to the press and public.

The debate and vote came before a packed gallery in the House and three armed policemen.

House Speaker William J. Lanting, R-Bollinger, told reporters earlier in the day he had requested two security guards because of the possibility that demonstrators would be a demonstration during the debate, and that three of the men responded to the call.

Lanting warned the gallery spectators at the outset of the debate that he would have no choice but to order the spectators removed if there was any applause or demonstration during the deliberations of the House.

The final vote, when it did come after a total of 11 representatives had debated the bill, was held under a gavel of the house, which required that every representative be present and voting.

Rep. Ralph Gines, R-Nampa, the floor sponsor of the measure, led off the floor debate by warning that the equal rights amendment would lead to the eradication of present laws providing protection for women.

He said legal scholars were divided on the question of the amendment, and some of them were appalled by what it would do to the US Constitution.

But he said the "real issue" involved in the debate was the "dramatic surrendering of states' rights to the Congress of the United States and the Supreme Court of the United States."

School bias end ordered

WASHINGTON (UPI) — A federal judge Friday ordered the Department of Health, Education and Welfare to begin desegregation proceedings against all public school systems of 10 states and some school systems in six others.

U.S. District Judge John H. Pratt ruled that HEW must take steps to bring the 16 states into compliance with the 1964 Civil Rights Act.

Pratt ordered desegregation proceedings begun within four months against all public school systems in Louisiana, Mississippi, Oklahoma, North Carolina, Florida, Arkansas, Pennsylvania, Georgia, Maryland and Virginia.

He ordered similar action begun within two months against some school systems in Kentucky, South Carolina, Tennessee, Texas, West Virginia and Missouri.

The school systems involved include those of Baltimore and Kansas City, Mo.

HEW would have to hold hearings before it cut off any federal aid.

HEW had found the school systems in the first 10 states to be segregated during the 1968-70 school year and found some school systems in the other six segregated during the 1970-71 school year.

Pratt also ordered HEW to begin desegregation proceedings against state vocational schools throughout the country "without unreasonable delay."

Under the terms of his order, HEW will have to report back to him within the stated period of time showing that the school systems have taken steps to comply with the 1964 act.

Of the 10 states, four operating segregated school systems, five had submitted desegregation plans that HEW found unacceptable.

HEW declined to comment officially on the plans.

Among the other large school systems affected by Pratt's orders are Asheville, N. C. and San Antonio and Galveston in Texas.

The Civil Rights Act states, in part, that "No person in the United States shall, on the grounds of race, color or national origin, be excluded from participation in, be denied the benefits of or be subjected to discrimination under any program or activity receiving federal financial assistance."

Nixon out 'on limb' over aid

By RICHARD G. HIGH
Times-News managing editor

TWIN FALLS — Sen. James McClure, R-Idaho, said Thursday President Nixon may be out on a limb on his plans to supply North Vietnam direct postwar aid.

McClure said the President is in opposition to direct aid to North Vietnam, he said.

"Yes, it does leave the President out on a limb I don't think his salary is big enough to cover all he promised."

McClure made the comments during a visit to Twin Falls Thursday.

While McClure said he opposed direct US aid to North Vietnam, he said it might be possible to supply some aid in a multi-national program, possibly extending long-term.

loans through the Asian Development or World banks.

He suggested that the Mekong River system in North Vietnam would be suitable for large-scale development under any such effort.

McClure discussed a wide range of subjects.

He said he opposed impoundment of funds by the President.

He said he would support a constitutional amendment to prevent executive impoundments of congressional appropriations in the event the courts rule the President does have the power to impound.

Despite his objection to fund impoundments, McClure said, "I applaud the President for prodding the Congress."

Viets free more POW's

WASHINGTON (UPI) —

The unscheduled release of 20 American prisoners of war at 10 p.m. Saturday, MST, the Pentagon announced today.

A Defense Department spokesman, Jerry W. Friedheim, said the men would arrive at Clark Air Base in the Philippines, the first processing point for returning POWs. About 1 a.m. MST Sunday if the schedule follows that of previous releases. Some of them might be on their way back to the United States in a day or two later.

The number of POWs that have been freed or that Hanoi has promised to free on a specific date. Friedheim said he did not know whether this small release would reduce the size of the next scheduled POW handover, expected about Feb. 26.

On the other hand, being released this weekend are military officers, 16 from the Air Force and four from the Navy. Friedheim said details of the release were worked out during meetings this week.

Army affirms Calley's term

WASHINGTON (UPI) — The Army Court of Military Review today refused to overturn Lt. William L. Calley Jr.'s conviction or reduce his 2 1/2-year prison sentence for the murder of at least 22 civilians five years ago at My Lai, South Vietnam.

The court, which has the authority to reduce sentences, refused to alter Calley's sentence of prison, loss of all pay and allowances, and dismissal from the service.

Calley, 29, now has 30 days to petition the U. S. Court of Military Appeals for further review. That court, composed of three civilian judges, is the supreme court of the military judicial system.

The manner in which the charges were made, and the inadmissibility of some testimony.

But George W. Latimer, Calley's civilian attorney, also told the court of military review in December "it was the policy dictated from on high, to try and convict and punish the participants in the alleged My Lai incident in order to cleanse the army of any guilt."

The Army Court of Military Review is composed of three military judges: Col. William C. Vines, Jr. of New Orleans; Lt. Col. Wayne G. Alley of Portland, Ore.; and Col. James D. Chase, Jr. of Eunice, La. Calley remains confined to his quarters at Ft. Benning, Ga. He has requested parole from the secretary of the Army. That is a separate action and was not addressed by the Court of Review.

Calley has two other avenues involving the authority of the court martial to try Calley, the

Kissinger, Chou meet

WASHINGTON (UPI) — Henry A. Kissinger conferred with Prime Minister Chou En-lai of China in Peking for four hours today; the White House said.

The meeting took place on the second day of Kissinger's four-day mission to attempt to engage in "concrete consultations" following the Vietnam cease-fire.

Press Secretary Ronald L. Ziegler, reading from a terse cable from Kissinger said that President Nixon's national security affairs adviser met with Chou from 2-10-6 p.m. Friday (Peking time).

Sitting in on the meeting on the Chinese side were Foreign Minister Chi Peng-fei and Vice Foreign Minister Chao Kwan-hua.

While they were meeting there was a separate session held between Alfred Jenkins, a State Department-Asian expert, and Chang Wen-chin, assistant foreign minister.

Kissinger arrived in the Chinese capital Thursday evening and has met with Chou a total of 7 1/2 hours.

Abortion measure advances

WASHINGTON (UPI) —

The full Senate Health, Education and Welfare committee will get its chance Monday to act on a proposed measure defining state control over abortions.

A five-man subcommittee has drafted the legislation along with representatives of the state attorney general's office.

Subcommittee Chairman Sen. Leon Swensen, R-Nampa, said the final drafting changes would be completed later today, giving the committee members the weekend to look over the proposal.

Swensen also said he would recommend that the committee consider a proposal that would protect hospitals and medical personnel from performing sterilization procedures if it were against their moral or religious principles.

The committee voted into the floor without recommendation a bill that would include noncertified employees in provisions for sick leaves from school districts and to change the amount of sick leave granted from one day per month to eight days a year.

The committee also voted to hold three measures, including one which would give annual lump sum appropriations to the state's junior-college.

GOP leader sees aid OK

WASHINGTON (UPI) —

Although conceding that the basic concept "goes against the grain," Senate Republican Leader Hugh Scott has predicted that Congress will approve the administration's proposals for helping rebuild North Vietnam.

Several of his colleagues have expressed open hostility to the plan.

"I hate the whole idea of spending money on a country with which we have recently been at war," Scott told reporters Thursday.

But there is a highly rational reason for it if we are engaged in the rehabilitation, we will have a great deal more input into how the peace is kept," he said.

Secretary of State William P. Rogers, who Thursday held his first Washington news conference in six months, also admitted that pushing postwar reconstruction funds through Congress will pose a severe problem, but said the aid program must be approved for a lasting peace agreement in Southeast Asia.

He predicted the congressional opposition would be overcome once the legislators fully consider all the facts and realize that the reconstruction program for Indochina, including aid for North Vietnam, will be a "very good investment in peace."

The most vocal critic of the proposed aid program was Assistant Senate Democratic Leader Robert C. Byrd of West Virginia.

Prosecutor pay increase sought

TWIN FALLS — Twin Falls Republican Central Committee members have called on the Idaho Legislature to increase the salary of the Twin Falls County prosecutor.

In a letter announced today by committee chairman Douglas Kramer, the committee pointed out the Twin Falls County prosecutor is being paid $10,500, or less than the prosecutors of the adjoining but smaller counties of Cassia and possibly Minidoka.

Kramer said the county commissioners have recommended a $15,000 annual salary for the county prosecutor, which would bring it in line with positions of the same type in similar counties.

In his letter to Twin Falls County legislators, Kramer suggested the introduction of a bill to increase the salary in Twin Falls County. Maximum salaries of prosecutors in various counties are set by the legislature.

In the bill passed during the last session of the legislature revising salary schedules for prosecutors, the Twin Falls County figure was left at $10,500.

Since no statewide revision is being planned in the present session, Kramer said, a bill involving Twin Falls County only would be required and he urged the county legislators to introduce such a bill.

Robert Galley, Republican, is presently Twin Falls County prosecutor. Leon Smith, prosecutor at the time of the legislature's failure to increase the Twin Falls County salary in line with others last year, did not seek re-election.

In other comments to the county legislators, Kramer said the central committee urged efforts to retain the stream channel law of Idaho. Committee members feel it should not be repealed even though it may require some amendments.

Administration of the law, the committee said, should be retained by the Idaho Water Administration agency.

The committee also called for continued consideration of the problem of "mal-apportionment" of the state central committees of the political parties of Idaho.

CSI fund outlook 'cloudy'

TWIN FALLS — College of Southern Idaho President James L. Taylor said Tuesday the school's budget for the coming year will remain cloudy until the legislature makes its appropriations.

Taylor said he thought his budget requests presented before the joint legislative appropriations committee earlier this month had been well received. However, he said he expected the legislature to be cautious in appropriating funds in the light of expected federal cutbacks.

"I can appreciate their problems," Taylor said of the legislators. "They're sitting there trying to project what's going to happen July 1."

The biggest problem faced by the legislature, Taylor said, centers around the Nixon administration's plans to "do away with most of the programs affecting education at all levels."

The governor's budget proposals call for CSI to receive about $10,000 for the 1973-74 academic year.

Plot foiled

BEIRUT (UPI) — Jordanian intelligence officials foiled a spectacular guerrilla plot to seize government buildings and cabinet ministers in Amman and assassinate King Hussein when he returned from a trip to the United States, Lebanese newspapers reported today.

The independent newspaper An Nahar said the guerrillas belonged to the "Black September" organization which staged the attack on Israeli Olympic athletes in Munich last September.

An Nahar described the plot as "the most daring guerrilla operation against an Arab capital to date."

Monday holiday for some in TF

TWIN FALLS — Monday, which has been legally proclaimed as George Washington's Birthday, will be a holiday for many workers and students in Twin Falls.

Public schools will close in District 41, Twin Falls, and nearly all other schools of the valley. The College of Southern Idaho will also close.

County, city, state and federal offices will be closed, including the post office where regular holiday schedules will be observed. There will be no mail deliveries and no window services but mail will be put in post office boxes.

Stores will be open with a special Washington's birthday "celebration" expected to attract large numbers of shoppers to the downtown and shopping center areas.

Twin Falls City Hall will be closed. The City Council meeting scheduled for Monday will be postponed until Tuesday, including a public hearing advertised for Monday.

Ski areas, normally closed on Monday, will operate for the holiday, giving winter sports fans an additional day of skiing.

There will be no holiday for city, county and state law enforcement officers, however, as they will be working regular shifts.

Grocery stores for the most part will be open Monday on a regular week day schedule.

Tax office now closed in evening

TWIN FALLS — Friday evening income tax information hours are being discontinued, according to Calvin E. Wright, district director for the Internal Revenue Service.

The discontinuation is due to lack of public response, Wright said. However Saturday hours from 9 a.m. to 1 p.m. will be continued until the April 15 deadline for filing returns.

Regular IRS office hours are 9 a.m. to 5 p.m. Monday through Friday.

SAN JUAN, P. R. (UPI) — Puerto Rico has 1,447 practicing medical doctors, or one for every 36 inhabitants. The goal in the next 10 years is to cut the ratio to one doctor for every 600 inhabitants.

Student figures decline

TWIN FALLS — Figures released Wednesday by the College of Southern Idaho show student enrollment dropped about four per cent from fall to year terms.

According to the office of Gerald R. Meyerhoeffer, director of admissions, academic enrollment dropped from 1,477 in the fall term to 1,341 in the spring term, a decrease of 136 students or about 9.2 per cent. Of this total, full-time enrollment dropped from 1,224 to 1,146, a decrease of 78 students or 6.4 per cent. Part-time academic enrollment was down to 116 from 253, a decrease of 137 students, or 53.7 per cent.

Vocational enrollment overall rose 11.2 per cent in the spring term. The 338 spring term students compared to 304 in the fall term. However, 20 of the new vocational admissions were on a part-time basis, while there were no part-time vocational students fall term.

Special student enrollment spring term fell off about 1.3 per cent. Meyerhoeffer's office reported, from 1,236 to 1,218.

Meyerhoeffer said this was the first significant drop in enrollment between terms at CSI. "We've always held our own before," he said.

Nevada man bound over

TWIN FALLS — Dan Wilton Dunn, 46, Winnemucca, Nev., was bound over to Fifth District Court Thursday on a felony charge of forgery.

Appearing before Magistrate Russell C. Shaud, Dunn, through his attorney public defender Charles Brumbach, waived a preliminary hearing. He remains in custody at the county jail on a $2,000 bond.

Dunn was arrested by Twin Falls police on Feb. 7 and charged with presenting a forged check for $142.81 to Shelby's Market on Nov. 29, 1972.

George's parade Saturday morning

TWIN FALLS — If you see a long-haired bespectacled man dressed in colonial garb cruising around Twin Falls streets in a boat Saturday morning, frantically hurling little gold coins to screaming admirers, please don't call the police.

And don't throw any of the coins at him. The long hair is only a "George Washington" wig and the coins may be used at many Twin Falls Stores for valuable discounts during the George Washington Birthday "celebration" scheduled Monday.

As for the boat, it's only a means of transportation for George. And the man is George Washington (in real life, Hardy Bond), leading the parade through Twin Falls streets drumming up support for his birthday anniversary sale.

Workshop set to aid people

TWIN FALLS — A workshop of the State Educational Task Force de la raza (of the people) is in session today and Saturday at CSI.

The workshop is sponsored by the Chicano Organization to Promote Community Awareness (COPCA).

Isragl Espinoza, Rupert, president of the Twin Falls COPCA said, "The task force is interested in solving some of the educational problems the Chicano student confronts in this state."

He said the educational task force is statewide agency of educators, community members, students and administrative personnel.

From 150 to 200 persons are expected for the workshop, Espinoza said. "Today's sessions have been open to the public, and tomorrow will be

Mail shambles

When it comes to the U.S. mails, it seems to be a case of the more things change, the more they become a shambles. Back in July of 1971, the venerable Post Office Department, a Cabinet-level agency dating back to Washington's first administration, was transformed into the semi-autonomous U.S. Postal Service.

very immensity of the problem precludes any real solution. The mails, by one estimate, handle some 87 billion pieces a year. As a Postal Service representative noted in a recent Los Angeles Times report, even if the mail went through 99.9 per cent swiftly and without error, the .01 per cent delayed or otherwise mishandled would still provide grounds for 87 million complaints a year.

Program good idea

In the years immediately following World War II, there were great expectations for international exchange programs in the building of a lasting peace. The idea was that if the world's peoples, particularly the young, got to know each other, and understand each other's cultures, there would be less likelihood that they would have to shed each other's blood.

firm is pioneering its own in-house program. Clark Equipment Company, which does business in 156 countries, is sponsoring an exchange program for teenage children of its employes throughout the world. For the initial year of the program, the firm is providing 10 exchange scholarships for teenagers from North America, Argentina, Brazil, France and Germany.

WASHINGTON — The umbilical cords which two high officials returning to private life are keeping plugged into the White House are part of President Nixon's grand design to Republicanize an overwhelmingly Democratic capital city. The cords are viewed as unplugably hostile. Charles W. Colson, Mr. Nixon's closest political adviser, will leave the White House staff next month to join the Washington law firm of Morin, Dickstein, Shapiro and Galligan. But he tells friends he will be doing so much troubleshooting for his old boss that he may have little time to practice law.

Williams, a partisan Democrat, hosts Liberal Democratic Senators at half-time receptions. In fact, however, Vice President Spiro T. Agnew is an occasional honored guest. But that is merely facade. Through Republican administration, the federal bureaucracy has remained stolidly Democratic. Republican recapture of Congress seems more distant than ever. No wonder then that Washington's super-lawyers, past and present — Paul Porter, Abe Fortas, Clark Clifford, Tom Finney, Myer Feldman, Edward Bennett Williams, Joseph Califano — are practicing Democrats. In a Democratic town, why would a corporation hire a Republican? Consequently, the radical redesigning of the federal government being attempted by Mr. Nixon is in part aimed at changing the shape of the town.

Noise from 2 former pals

WASHINGTON — Two of our sometime pals have been making curious noises again. Prime Minister Indira Gandhi has attacked the American bombing of North Vietnam as racist, and France's Foreign Minister Schumann has announced that no cease-fire would have been possible without his country's "essential" intervention in the negotiation.

better from a lady with Mrs. Gandhi's peaceful pretensions. Take so many of us around the world, she at least could have expressed hope that real peace would break out. Even some of Mrs. Gandhi's most delirious fans by now must have doubts about her credentials as a dove. After all, it was she who sent the Indian armed forces into East Pakistan to fight a brief but bloody war which ended in the creation of the state of Bangladesh. True, the Bengalis were miserable under Pakistan rule, but India's motives were cynical; Bangladesh is little more than an Indian colony today.

It also comes with ill grace for Mrs. Gandhi to speak about American savagery. Despite a United Nations resolution and worldwide protests, India has continued to hold 90,000 Pakistan prisoners for 13 long months in violation of the Geneva Convention. Indeed, the International Red Cross has charged, and India's own army officers have acknowledged, that the POWs have been subjected to "Nazi-like tortures." Only Indira Gandhi could see Vietnam with such a big mote in her own eye.

Vitamin B needed

If one vitamin — B-3 — were removed from all food, within one year a plague of neuroses and psychoses would swoop every nation. Animalistic, men would turn on themselves — or on one another — decimating the population of the earth. This is the grim prognosis of Dr. Abram Hoffer of the University of Minnesota. But conversely, massive doses of that same vitamin promise to head emotional ills. New discoveries concerning the effects of body chemistry on human behavior are the subject of a book called "Sugar and the Criminal Mind."

Dear Dr. Thosteson: Is there such a thing as varicose veins in the hands and can they be cured surgically? I am in my 30s and except for my hands in excellent physical condition, but the veins are getting thicker and bluer by the month and cause me quite a bit of embarrassment. Mrs. W.W. Veins in the hands may become quite prominent, but they aren't varicose — you don't have blood standing in the veins because of faulty valves. This seems to be a rather common cause of worry, but it shouldn't be. The fact that the veins can be seen and have a bluish cast doesn't mean anything is wrong with them.

Now payless days

WASHINGTON — Something new is being added to the Spirit of '76 — payless paydays. As of Feb. 15, the funds of the American Revolution Bicentennial Commission ran out, and if President Nixon has his way, as is very probable, the bumbling and widely criticized agency will be abolished before the year is out. He wants to replace it with a more practical and effective setup — to be known as the American Revolution Bicentennial Administration.

little since being launched in 1967 — despite the expenditure of more than $1.7 million. That's why the agency ran out of money as of Feb. 15. The last Congress was so disgusted with the Commission's aimless and fruitless record, that it refused to give it a full year's funding. The commission sought a budget of more than $6.7 million for the current fiscal year, later reduced to $4.3 million. But Congress, shortly before adjourning last October, voted only $1.56 million "for salaries and expenses" — just enough to last until Feb. 15. This was done in the expectation that by that date the future of the bedraggled agency would be known. That deadline was barely met. Last week, several days before Congress was shut down for a 10-day recess, the President sent a message to Capitol Hill urging that the 50-member commission be abolished and replaced by a single administrator.

He also charged there was "not a man on this committee that can act on this bill intelligently."

ERA rescission loses in Idaho House vote

Rep. Wayne Loveless, D-Pocatello, argued the amendment was "entirely superfluous" and that the benefits it would provide for women could be accomplished under present law.

But Loveless' Pocatello colleague, Rep. Pat McDermott, D-Pocatello, disagreed the amendment was superfluous.

She agreed the provision would be needed only if everyone awoke each morning "with charity in his heart and love for his fellow man," saying "I shall not do evil to another man."

Rep. Peggy Bunting, R-Boise, the first debater to oppose the resolution and speaking after Gines, told the House women had made little progress in the field of employment opportunities in the 40 years since the equal rights amendment was first considered in Congress.

Citing a Council of Economic Advisers reports, she said national unemployment for women last year has 6.6 per cent of the total market, while the figure for men was 4.9 per cent.

Rep. John Reardon, R-Boise, who told the House it could debate from now to doomsday without changing anyone's mind on the measure, nevertheless said, the legislature last year had done a "very bad thing," and urged a public referendum on the equal rights amendment.

Women split vote

BOISE — The five women representatives in the Idaho House split their vote 4-1 against rescinding the equal rights amendment to the US Constitution Thursday.

The split women member to favor the rescission was Rep. Elaine Kearnes, R-Idaho Falls.

Voting to retain the amendment as passed a year ago were Rep. Pat McDermott, D-Pocatello; Rep. Norma Dobler, D-Moscow; Rep. Peggy Bunting, R-Boise, and Rep. Dorothy McCann, D-Wallace.

Rep. John Reardon, R-Boise, who told the House it could debate from now to doomsday without changing anyone's mind on the measure, nevertheless said, the legislature last year had done a "very bad thing," and urged a public referendum on the equal rights amendment.

Reserve asked

WASHINGTON (UPI) — Sen. Henry M. Jackson, D-Wash., has called for a top-priority program to establish a "90 day strategic oil reserve." He said currently there is only a six-day supply.

"We have no reserves at all, just what is in the pipeline from the last six days," the chairman of the Senate Interior Committee said Thursday in a speech before the National Press Club.

Jackson predicted that either the oil companies or the government will be forced to ration gasoline this summer because of the critical petroleum shortage.

State rests case in Magee's trial

SAN FRANCISCO (UPI) — The state rested its case against convict Ruchell Magee Thursday after taking the jurors to see the yellow escape van where a judge is charged with killing a judge during the Marin County shooting.

Robert Carrow, Magee's court-appointed attorney, planned to open his defense case today after protesting the judge's refusal to allow former U.S. Attorney General Ramsey Clark to join the defense team.

Superior Judge Morton Colvin denied the motion to allow Clark to act as co-counsel despite Carrow's insistence that Clark has studied the case and had helped interview prospective defense witnesses on a volunteer basis.

Haley was killed by bullets from outside the van before the sawed-off shotgun tipped to his neck went off.

"I interpret the court's action as a purposeful effort to saddle me with the entire job of presenting the defense in this case," Carrow said. "That is an impossible job."

Magee is charged with pulling the trigger on the shotgun that killed Judge Harold Haley during a kidnapping and escape attempt from the Marin County Civic Center Aug. 7, 1970.

In addition to the judge, three other persons were killed, including two San Quentin inmates and Jonathan Jackson, brother of slain black revolutionary George Jackson, who invaded a courtroom with a satellite of guns during the trial.

Canada clamps lid on US oil

OTTAWA (UPI) — The Canadian government, trying to ensure adequate supplies for the country's own needs, Thursday imposed controls on oil exports to the United States.

Officials said there would be a sharp overnight cutback in exports, but they probably would be kept at or slightly below the present level of 1.22 million barrels per day—about five per cent of total U.S. oil consumption.

The immediate action would simply ration exports so that Canadian refiners could be guaranteed adequate supplies in the peak demand month of March. A longer term control system, to protect Canadian reserves as well as to ensure Canadian supplies, would be worked out after public hearings later this year.

Energy Minister Donald MacDonald and officials of the National Energy Board announced the move in testimony before the House of Commons committee on national resources.

Mrs. John Intravartolo, Seattle, Wash., sister of the bride, was a special attendant.

Mrs. D. A. Jackson, Twin Falls, entertained at a shower preceding the wedding.

The marriage ceremony was performed in the Sun Valley home of her uncle and aunt Mr. and Mrs. John W. Anderson, Twin Falls.

An informal open house Feb. 1, given by the parents of the bride, honored the couple. The event was attended by relatives and close friends.

The bride is a graduate of Twin Falls High School and attended the University of Idaho. She is presently completing her studies at Boise State College.

Abby

Abigail Van Buren

DEAR ABBY: What's all this fuss about how often a person should take a bath? My grampa lived to be 98 years old. He was big and strong and was never sick a day in his life.

DEAR TEX: Good for Grampa. I'll bet nobody needed directions on how to find him.

DEAR ABBY: You're a dirty old female chauvinist! Your advice on bathing reflects that state of your mind. What is natural is by no means "dirty" unless the mind is inclined that way.

Bathe—or not?

You belong in India, where your views would allow you to label women "unclean"—and "untouchable." Go soak your head.

DEAR ABBY: Like all other human beings, you are entitled to your opinion. However, I think there must be some underlying motive in your statement that "women can't bathe enough."

DEAR GERTIE: Neither. I just have a love affair going with soap. And that's all right.

DEAR ABBY: This is in response to your reader who suggested that bathing regularly was tantamount to effete snobism and totally unnecessary. It may be I am particularly susceptible to detecting this distinction, but I think I am not alone.

As physical recreation I regularly swim a mile in the campus pool during my lunch hour, and I find it surprisingly easy to distinguish who has and who has not showered before entering the pool and as swimming alongside me.

For what it is worth, I have found this an infallible way to discover who is and who is not nice to be near, the lambs or the old goats, one could say.

DEAR LOVES: I vote for the lambs.

DEAR ABBY: You doll! Your statement, "A man should bathe once a day, and a woman can't bathe often enough" said it all. We are a group of men who must work in close quarters with some women who do not believe in bathing.

DEAR ABBY: I have been wanting to write to you for a long time because I have a very serious problem. I do not want my letter to appear in your column because this is a small town and everybody would know I wrote it.

I know that you say you will answer problems personally if the person sends a stamped, addressed envelope, but I want to be sure that if the one I enclosed got lost, another one would not be sent to me with your name on the outside, advertising the fact that I wrote to Dear Abby.

DEAR NEEDS: You may write to me with absolute assurance that my personal reply will be sent in the envelope you provide, or a plain one. I NEVER send replies in envelopes bearing a hint of my name.

Completion set

Jerome project nearing end

JEROME — Construction is nearing completion on the Jerome Catholic Church parish hall. The structure is expected to be completed in time for the annual spring dinner-dance fund raising project sponsored by the St. Benedict's Hospital Guild. Mrs. Jess Wilson, chairman of the program for the guild, said the date for the dinner dance has been tentatively scheduled for April 6 or 7, and will be held at the new St. Jerome's Parish Hall. Mrs. Wilson said that as in the past the money derived from the program will be used to purchase much needed equipment at St. Benedict's Hospital. The evening will feature a dinner, catered by the Catholic Women's League, followed by dancing. She noted that an orchestra had not as yet been selected. Assisting Mrs. Wilson with the project are Mrs. Hubert Williams, guild president; Mrs. Oscar Fort, Mrs. Frank Titus, Mrs. John Miller, Mrs. Kathy Reddick and Mrs. Dudley Strout. Groundbreaking ceremonies for the new parish hall were held Sept. 17, 1972, which marked years of planning by local officials and members of the congregation. The 7,000 square foot structure which is nearing completion was built on church property west of the present parish hall which will be sold and removed from the area. Estimated cost of the new hall was approximately $80,000 and is designed with two levels. The building contains six classrooms, a banquet room that will accommodate 400 persons, a kitchen and a multi-purpose room where church organizations can hold their meetings. The banquet area also will serve as a recreation hall for basketball table tennis, volleyball and other activities.

ST. JEROME'S new parish hall is expected to be completed in time for the spring dinner. The structure is a two-section brick building.

Fair tonight

HUNT — An "Old-Time Country Fair" will be held at the Hunt LDS Church at 7 p.m. Friday as a fund raising program to buy church furnishings and equipment. There will be a white elephant auction, a donut shop, cake walk, fish pond and a handmade quilt will be auctioned. A barbecue picnic type meal will be served. The public is invited to participate.

World prayer day March 2

TWIN FALLS — The Twin Falls unit of Church Women United will celebrate World Day of Prayer March 2 at St. Edward's Catholic Church. According to Mrs. Ralph Nelson, Kimberly, president of the local Church Women United, the celebration is international, and shows faith and unity among Christian women. Participants in 168 countries will be praying with the theme, "Alert in our Time." World Day of Prayer is truly ecumenical as well as international. It is the most widely observed celebration sponsored by Church Women United, a movement through which Protestant, Roman Catholic, and Orthodox women manifest their unity through fellowship, study, and cooperative action. World Day of Prayer observances are planned by an international committee, with liaison officers from each national committee. The worship services are prepared each year by women from different parts of the world. The 1973 service was written by women of New Zealand, and is adapted by each country for its own use. The women of New Zealand explain the theme "Alert in our Time" through their expression of these concerns: "Because of our isolation, there has been something of a time-lag between us and the more populous countries. This has given us time to prepare for social changes, but it also means that we tend to be lookers of the world scene, rather than participants. Our small population of under three million in a country roughly the size of England, our high standard of living, abundant food and temperate climate — all these are a temptation to live complacently and to watch the outside world go by on our television screens. However, Christians are thinking New Zealanders are greatly concerned with the world problems of hunger, population explosion, fear of nuclear war, pollution of the environment, economic and social needs both here and abroad." The theme of the 1973 prayer observance "Alert in our Time" expresses the intention of women to be aware of the crucial needs in the world and to be agents of God's reconciling love in those areas. In 1973 Church Women United in the United States will translate their prayers into action through three areas of concern: health services, seeking ways of cooperating with professionals to deliver adequate health care to all persons; creating new life lines for inter-action with the rapidly changing world; and becoming alert to world trade problems.

Cassia confab hears speaker

DECLO — "Be ye doers of the word and not hearers only," said William H. Bennett, at the Cassia LDS Stake quarterly conference last week. Bennett, an assistant to the Council of the Twelve Apostles of the LDS Church, told the conference at the Declo stake center, "We, as a church, should set the proper example, for we are being watched." "One of the most difficult things is to be tolerant of your own actions. Each one of us should be very critical of ourselves, but tolerant of others. Always be engaged in living the gospel," he said. His message to church youth was "I have goals and objectives and to live virtuous lives. Other subjects he discussed were temple marriages, family home evening, tithing, the church welfare program and the word of wisdom. In his concluding remarks he said, "This is the most fascinating, the most challenging, and the most wonderful age of the world, but it is also the most dangerous, confusing and complex time in which to live. He told members to live the Lord's commandments more fully. Stake president, Joseph A. Gillett, who conducted the conference, told the congregation that the Lord's commandments are here to make us happy." He said that the only way peace will ever come to the earth is by people living the law. "He is therefore perfect even as your Father which is in Heaven is perfect," he quoted. "Christ came to call us to repent from the things which cause unhappiness," he continued; "we are here to do his will." He explained the missionary system of the church and advised the members to let the light of the gospel to shine in your lives that you may all be missionaries and share the light of the gospel with others." He warned the people to be thrifty, to have a two year supply of food, fuel, clothing, and even money on hand. He further advised families to raise gardens this year. Other speakers were Mrs. Joseph A. Gillett, Maria Ellison, and Corby Kidd. A sustaining vote was taken to advance Roger Manning, Gaylen Osterhout, Russell Zollinger, Roland Zollinger, David Bell, Douglas Nye, Bruce Boucut, Leon Adams, Cory Kidd, Monte Loveland, Reed Richman, Donald Burton, S.N. Smith and Philip Hodges to the office of elders in the Melchizedek priesthood. Earl Darrington was released from his office as assistant stake clerk and sustained as a stake high councilman. Dennis Osterhout was sustained as assistant stake clerk. Jay Neilson read the names of the general authorities and their positions in the church as well as stake officers, and the congregation voted to sustain them in their various positions. Singing was directed by Merle Marchant with Mrs. Clyde Wardle as organist.

Moslems beat heads at rites

NABATIYEH, Lebanon (UPI) — More than 400 men and youths — their heads shaved — gathered in a square outside a mosque Tuesday and beat their heads bloody. Using implements ranging from razors to 14-foot-long scimitars, each man beat his own head until blood flowed. Several men fainted from the pain and were carried away. Others were restrained by friends because they were inflicting severe cuts. The men were members of the Shia sect of the Moslem religion and were marking a religious anniversary called Ashoura. The annual commemoration of his death has become a test of faith for the Shias — and something of a test of manhood for Shia youth. Ashoura was the climax of a 10-day mourning period dedicated to Hussein.

4 Western RR systems proposed

BLUE LAKES SHOPPING CENTER — HOURS: 9-9 MON. THRU SAT. — 12-5 SUNDAY

Friday, February 16, 1973 Times-News, Twin Falls, Idaho 9

WASHINGTON (UPI) — The Interstate Commerce Commission was urged today to consolidate all major railroads west of the Mississippi into four super lines.

An ICC administrative law judge, Nathan Klitnie, made the proposal in the Rock-Island Railroad merger case.

Under Klitnie's recommendation, the railroads that would remain in operation west of the Mississippi would be the Union Pacific, the Santa Fe and the Burlington Northern.

Klitnie recommended that the commission approve splitting the Rock-Island Railroad among the Union Pacific, Southern Pacific, and Santa Fe. He said the division of the railroad was necessary to correct the "inefficiencies and inadequacies of the midwestern railroad system."

Klitnie said "The reduction of the large number of carriers to four basic systems" would present an opportunity to strengthen the railroad industry on a nationwide scale.

Klitnie's consolidation recommendation involving western railroads comes as five northeastern railroads are languishing in bankruptcy — the Penn Central, the Reading, the Erie Lackawanna, Central of New Jersey, the Boston and Maine.

Penn Central, largest railroad in the nation, told Congress last month it would need at least $600 million in government aid over the next three years, or else it would have to shut down.

But Klitnie said if the commission approves his recommendation for the western railroads it would set up four highly efficient, coast-to-coast systems, each completely competitive, financially strong and serving major producing and consuming areas throughout their length.

Under Klitnie's recommendation, the Union Pacific would get part of the Rock-Island, Southern Pacific and the Northwestern.

The Southern Pacific would get part of the St. Louis-Southwestern system, the Kansas City Southern, Missouri-Kansas-Texas and Arkansas and the Texas and Pacific railroads.

The Santa Fe would take part of the Rock Island, the Missouri Pacific, Texas and Pacific, Chicago and Eastern Illinois Southern Pacific, Western Pacific, and the Denver and Rio Grande Railroads.

The Burlington and Northern would get parts of the Colorado and Southern, the Rock Island, and the Ft. Worth and Denver railroad.

BOISE (UPI) — The president of the Union Pacific Railroad Wednesday called railroads the transportation of the future, but predicted little chance for the return of passenger travel by rail in the west.

John C. Kenefick told Greater Boise Chamber of Commerce

Holiday shift asked

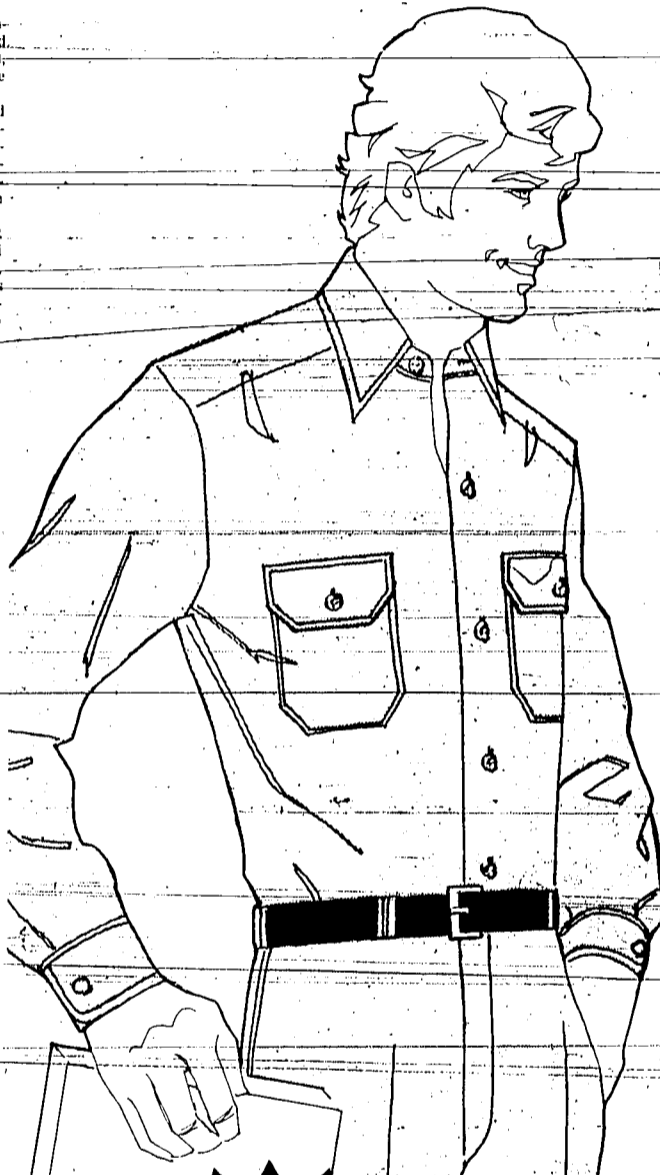

BOISE (UPI) — The House State Affairs Committee Wednesday introduced a bill to restore public holidays to their traditional dates.

Washington's Birthday, under the bill, would be celebrated on Feb. 22 and not the third Monday in February each year. Memorial Day would be May 30 and not the last Monday in May; Columbus Day would be Oct. 12 and not the second Monday in October and Veterans Day would be Nov. 11 and not the fourth Monday in October.

members Wednesday there is no need for passenger service in the west.

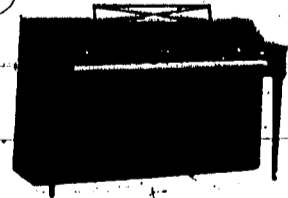

He said people did not believe it when the railroads said they were losing their shirts so the government took over rail transportation, cut the services in half and is losing $100 million a year.

He added there is a possibility such service could be justified as a social necessity and not an economic necessity, but "then you should not expect private enterprise or railroad shippers to pay for it."

Sen. McClure sees opposition to Vietnam aid

 In McClure's view, the President would have impounded funds "if Congress had held spending down." He said he is "reluctantly" on the side of Congress on the question.
 "I don't like impoundments. We struggle against the item veto, now it's not in spirit. He agreed there is 'no provision' in the Constitution for the President to veto a single item within an appropriations bill.

 McClure criticized the recent US Supreme Court decision legalizing abortions during the first six months of pregnancy. The Supreme Court decision goes too far in my judgment.
 "Suppose a woman delivered a six-month baby and discarded it in the ash can — is that a murder. If a doctor does it it's now OK."
 McClure said there is "little likelihood" that the Congress "could muster a two-thirds vote to amend the Constitution on the abortion issue."

 He lauded the release of US prisoners of war held by North Vietnam and the Viet Cong.
 "We've been waiting a long time to create the conditions necessary to bring the POWs home. We can't do that unless we've fulfilled a commitment to make sure they were not forgotten."
 He termed it a "moment of joy not only for their families but for all of us."

 He argued that the wholesale price increase of 2.9 per cent during the past two months resulted from failure to control the underlying causes of inflation, which had "built up pressures" during the time of wage-price controls.
 "We haven't sufficiently cooled" the fires beneath the economy to take off controls without some movement.

But McClure supported the President's decision to remove most wage-price controls. "We don't like any wage-price controls of any kind," he said.
 He said farm prices are not too high, although beef prices "may be a little bit."
 McClure said this week's 10 per cent devaluation of the dollar was the result of inflation and would not by itself be the cause of further inflation.
 He said that while there is "no good way" to "go" about devaluation, the best is to have a floating currency exchange instead of the fixed exchange rates now used.

 He supported joining West Germany, Britain and France in extending diplomatic recognition to East Germany.
 "I'm reluctant to do it, but I would follow the lead of West Germany. I don't know an argument now why we should not."

He said the US is "edging closer" to resumption of relations with Cuba. But the question of Cuban recognition is "more difficult" because of the "pugnacious" attitude of Castro who is trying to export revolution.
 "It is not to Cuba's internal politics. But, he said, 'We have a right to react to what they do outside their boundaries.'"

Burley pair to greet son

By DAVID HORSMAN
 Times-News writer
BURLEY — Capt. Larry Chesley, Magic Valley's only POW, will arrive at Travis Air Force Base, Calif., at about noon Saturday, his father, Verl Chesley, learned today.
 The eager parents received a call from Mountain Home Air Force Base at 9:45 a.m. today notifying them of the homecoming of their son.
 Larry leaves Clark Air Force Base in the Philippines at about 8 p.m. tonight (Idaho time), his father said.
 Although the Air Force said the parents could wait until Saturday morning to fly to Travis, Verl Chesley said, "We just can't wait any longer, we are itching to get there."
 He and his wife, Sissie, left by automobile this morning for Boise where they will board a commercial flight to San Francisco. A military aide will meet them there and escort them northeast to Travis.
 Their son has been held captive for nearly seven years in North Vietnam. He was 27 years old and an Air Force lieutenant when he was shot down in 1966 and is returning as a 34-year-old captain.

 An unexpected morale booster came at 6 a.m. this morning when Larry placed his second telephone call to the Chesleys from the Philippines. He has spent the past four days at Clark undergoing physical examinations and debriefings.
 "He said he was feeling real good in fact, a lot better and he had gained six pounds in the past three days," his father said.
 "He said he is going to Washington, D.C., to shake President Nixon's hand," the proud father said.
 Roger Shields, federal director of Operation Home Coming, will arrange the White House visit, Chesley said. The officer told his parents he will probably spend five days at Travis.
 An indication of his understandable confusion as the entire nation awaits word of his every move, came when he asked his father if there had been much news coverage of his release.

Farm leader speaks at Rupert

RUPERT — A capacity crowd heard Idaho Farm Bureau president Dale Rockwood speak at the annual Minidoka County Farm Bureau banquet here Thursday night.
 The more than 125 bureau members also elected community board representatives during the three hour affair at the Rupert Elks Lodge.
 Roger Woodward and Gary Carney were elected from the Pool area, Charles Smith from Norland, Howard Hinks from Minidoka and Acepahu, Elmo Stocking from Emerson and Howard Wilkins from Rupert.
 Bruce Birmingham was appointed to the Minidoka Young Farmers and Ranchers organization.

Minidoka Farm Bureau president Jim Tuckness introduced Rockwood, who took state and national legislation and agricultural innovations as his speech topics.
 Rockwood said a state land use planning bill introduced in the Idaho legislature this year will probably not be adopted, but encouraged members to take an active interest in the measure since some form of land use planning will undoubtedly become a reality in the future.
 "We'll be a lot better off in agriculture if we have 'some input' at the local level," he said.
 No-fault insurance will probably become law during this session of the state legislature, according to Rockwood. He said the measure would be a modified version of no-fault, allowing suits for extensive damages.
 Concerning the controversial Occupational Safety and Health Act, the Farm Bureau official said minimum federal standards will be required even if responsibility for the standards are assumed by the state.
 He said Idaho Rep. Steve Symms will ask other members of the state delegation to join in an effort to gain rescission of OSHA.
 The merger of the state departments of Environmental Protection and Health and Social and Rehabilitative Services might have an "adverse impact" on Idaho agriculture in the future, Rockwood said.

 If effected, the merger could result in a confusion of priorities that might leave agriculture on the short end, he said.
 Although the Farm Bureau has requested that the federal budget be trimmed to reduce tax costs, it is hoped that the farmer doesn't have to absorb all the cutback through farm subsidy losses, Rockwood said.
 The Farm Bureau is presently preparing a "line-by-line" recommendation for budget cuts, he added.
 The prospects of a healthy livestock industry look "real good," according to Rockwood. He said red meat is needed through the world and increased exports, especially to Japan and Germany, should maintain a good price for American livestock.

 Nuclear powered planes and ships may prove beneficial to farmers in getting their commodities to market, he said. The competition to railroads and trucks may aid in stabilizing transportation costs, according to Rockwood.
 The Farm Bureau has recognized the need for a natural resources department, the official said, and has hired a specialist to keep the organization abreast of measures concerning resource.

French teacher at CSI reviews qualifications

By GEORGE WILEY
 Times-News writer
TWIN FALLS — The current French instructor at CSI said Wednesday that Terrill Castaneda was "undoubtedly a better French teacher" than he is.
 Ms. Castaneda taught first and second year French at CSI for two years before the college administration declined to renew her contract.
 The Idaho State Human Rights Commission declared last week that it had found "probable cause" of sexual discrimination on the part of CSI in failing to renew Ms. Castaneda's contract.
 William Hughes, assistant professor of languages, said Wednesday that he is qualified to teach French on a secondary level but not on a college level. He said he had three years of French as an undergraduate. He currently teaches one class of first year French, the only French class offered at CSI.

Hughes also teaches first and second year German and a basic English course. He holds a master's degree in German from Memphis State University. He also studied Czechoslovakian through the US Army Language School.
 Hughes said he first began teaching French at CSI at the request of the administration four years ago after the regular French teacher became ill. He said he had previously taught French in high school.
 Hughes said he taught French for a year and then convinced the administration to hire someone with a major in French.
 "If I felt I were well-qualified, I would never have made the original recommendation for somebody with a master's degree to teach the French program," he said.
 According to Ms. Castaneda, the CSI administration based its decision not to rehire her on the drop-out rate in her second year French class in spring 1972.
 Hughes said Ms. Castaneda was "a very conscientious French teacher." Keeping her quality up "actually drove the students out," he said.
 "Many teachers who have been good teachers who aren't here any longer expected too much from their students and treated them as regular university students," Hughes said.

 Hughes said in his opinion foreign language should always be taught as if the students will transfer to a four-year school and continue the language, unless "it's a conversational class such as night Spanish."
 "You can't offer one class and enter to everybody," Hughes said.
 Hughes, a former chairman of the English and foreign language department at CSI, also said that he was never formally consulted on teachers in his department who were not rehired. He said he resigned his chairmanship after one term.
 In a recent student evaluation of instructors, Hughes received an average overall rating of 7.41 out of a possible nine points in his two German classes, compared to a rating of 6.90 in his French class. He received a score of 6.67 in his English class.

Filer fund on final lap

By MARJORIE LIFERMAN
 Times-News writer
FILER — Filer's swimming pool fund drive is on its final lap with efforts being made to raise the $7,000 needed to begin construction.
 The fund has reached the $30,000 mark, according to Bill Brake, pool chairman. The $7,000 will put the drive over the top, and the $37,000 total will be matched by funds from the Idaho Parks Department of the Bureau of Outdoor Recreation funds.
 The Asgrow Seed Co., Filer, presented a check for $500 to Brake this week for the pool. The Idaho First National Bank

Snow condition report given

HABLEY — The weekly snow condition report for the Stanley Basin, Sawtooth Valley and upper Wood River area has been released.
 According to Frank Rowland, recreation assistant for the Sawtooth National Recreation Area, average weather conditions through Sunday are presented to provide an outlook for weekend conditions.
 However, Rowland said changing weather conditions could alter the avalanche potential and cautioned recreationists entering the back country to check with local Forest Service officials to obtain an updated forecast.
 Rowland said, generally through this week, a great deal of settlement of the snow pack has occurred. This settlement, he said, combined with the lack of wind during the last storm, has compacted the granular depth hoar base and has resulted in more stable snow pack conditions than were present during past weeks.
 The surface snow layer remains powdery and granular,

Court upholds Calley sentence

Military Appeals — Both the secretary of the Army and the President have the authority to involve themselves in the case and to reduce the sentence or overturn the conviction.
 President Nixon has said he will review the matter when the other channels are exhausted.
 Nixon already has entered the case once, to order that Calley be allowed to live in the officers quarters during the appeal procedure, rather than being confined to the stockade.
 In the final page of the 104-page decision, written by Judge Alley, the court concluded:
 "No doubt Lt. Calley would never have directed or participated in a mass killing in time of peace. Nevertheless, he committed an atrocity in time of war that we judge him, Probably Lt. Calley's judgment, perception and stability were lesser in quality than the average lieutenant's, and these deficiencies are mitigating to some extent. However, the deficiencies did not even approach the point of depriving him of the power of choice. The approved sentence is not too severe a consequence of his choosing to commit mass murder."

Former editor gets post

BOISE (UPI) — R.J. Brunning, Wallace, former editor and publisher of the North Idaho Press, has been appointed a special assistant to Gov. Cecil D. Andrus.
 In announcing the appointment Thursday, Andrus said there is a growing need for him to be several places at once, and people in different sections of the Gem State with difficult problems are not able to travel to Boise to meet with him directly.
 "In order to alleviate this problem," Andrus said, "I'm appointing R.J. Brunning as my special assistant."
 He said Brunning will represent him at a variety of meetings throughout the state.
 Brunning, a graduate of the University of Missouri Journalism School, became editor and publisher of the North Idaho Press in 1962.
 He is presently serving as Vice President of the Idaho State Park Foundation and as a member of the solid waste advisory committee for Panhandle Health District Number One.

Amendments asked

BOISE (UPI) — The Senate Commerce and Labor Committee Thursday voted to seek amendments to two no-fault automobile insurance bills and send them both to the Senate floor.
 The bills include one which is generally known as the uniform no-fault measure and the other was written by Idaho Insurance Commissioner Robert Hay.
 Hay's bill is considered to be a modified version of the uniform measure.
 Named to a subcommittee to work out amendments to the two bills were Chairman Vernon K. Brassey, R-Boise, and Sens. Edith Miller Klein, D-Boise; John Barker, R-Buhl; Cy Chase, D-St. Maries, and Robert Kingdon, D-Idaho Falls.

Last game NCAA guidelines established for division reorganization

The Twin Falls Bruins will make their last home appearance at 8 p.m. Friday when they host the Pocatello Indians.

Pocatello won the first meeting 61-59 and Twin Falls is hoping for some revenge.

The Bruins will play the year at Skyline Saturday.

KANSAS CITY, Mo. (UPI) — A proposal for reorganization of the National Collegiate Athletic Association will be presented to the NCAA Council at its April 29-May 1 meeting.

The proposal, formulated by the Special Committee on Division Reorganization, will be sponsored with a minimum of 10 national championships to be conducted in each of the three divisions.

The NCAA Council and the NCAA Executive Committee will be restructured with each division being guaranteed representation.

"We believe our proposal will enable each NCAA member to seek the level of competition it desires and it will permit each division, within certain limits, to determine its own legislative destiny," said Edgar A. Sherman, chairman of the Special Committee on Reorganization and athletic director at Muskingum (Ohio) College. "The Committee will meet again to consider the initial response of the membership to the plan, minor alterations prior to presenting the plan to the Council, but I am confident our basic program will be received favorably by the vast majority of the membership."

The membership will be divided into three categories: Division I, II and III. The NCAA Council will determine which legislation will be subject to divided voting.

Each institution will be given the prerogative of determining in which division it wants to vote and participate, exclusive of football.

Not later than the 1975-76 academic year, approximately 39 national championships will

Jerome tops area teams with 3 state mat semi-finalists

REXBURG — The Jerome Tigers advanced three to the semi-finals in the A division while Buhl and Filer sent two a piece in the B classification after two rounds in the state wrestling tournament Thursday night.

Jerome saw Chris Weigle, Tom Cochrane and Norm Cochrane gain the semi-finals while Burley advanced. Glynn Robinson and Paul Garrett.

Twin Falls' defending state champion, Mark McKain, also moved into the semi-finals to give the fourth district the thinnest represented district in the meet, one-fourth of the semi-finalists. All will see action Friday night with the winners harvesting a fat seven points for their teams.

At the conclusion of the second round, Pocatello, the odds-on class A favorite, had moved to 22 points and seven up on runner-up Nampa, a surprise showing by the Bulldogs. South Fremont had 13, Skyline 12 and Jerome, Snake River and Burley were tied at 11.

In the B division, perennial champion Teton moved ahead with 13 points while Marsh Valley and 11. DeLo was fourth at 6 and Buhl wound up the top five with six.

Jerome came through the first round in good shape when Weigle defeated Yaw of Sandpoint, Brad Diehl topped Barry of Borah; Tom Cochrane defeated Sanborn of Coeur d'Alene; Dale Reddick defeated Kirtland of Capital and Norm Cochrane ousted Ferris of Boise.

McKain defeated Bartuski of Snake River as he and Tom Cochrane kept alive Magic Valley's only hope for an all-fourth district final.

In the biggest reversal for the class A Magic Valleyites, Graham of Minco was defeated in overtime. He was tied on a reversal in the last 15 seconds of the third round and then defeated 8-0 in overtime.

Probably the biggest win in the B division was posted by Jefferson of Wood River who pinned last year's fourth place finisher, Sherbine joined Jefferson in the semi-finals at 101 pounds for the Wolverines.

DeLo kept two in title contention, West at 122 pounds and Matthews at 148. Buhl kept Dwight Stutzman and Rhodes alive while Filer sent Ron Griff and John Courtney into the semi-finals.

Things will get tough there, however, Griff, who was down 3-0 with 30 seconds left and came back to win 4-3 on a reversal and two-point tilt, draws two-time state champion Hansen of Teton Friday night.

Courtney goes against Evan Leitz, North Fremont, who finished second here last year, Courtney also came from behind, twice coming off his back to pin his man.

Rhodes of Filer draws Weatherby of Firth, who finished fourth in state last year and currently is undefeated for 1972-73.

Idaho, BSC noted in PCAA shakeup

LOS ANGELES (UPI) — Two schools have been dropped from the Pacific Coast Athletic Association in a major move by the PCAA to upgrade itself to a university-level conference.

Directors of the PCAA voted Thursday to drop 13 Santa Barbara and Cal State Los Angeles from the association effective June 30, 1974, because the two schools were unable to finance an intercollegiate football team on the university level.

The directors had voted several months ago to toughen the conference's bylaws in a long-range attempt to bring the PCAA up to the university level. They gave the two schools until Thursday to comply.

The remaining five schools already compete at the university level in intercollegiate athletics.

One of the five, San Diego State University, has resigned from the PCAA effective June 30 of this year but withdrew the resignation following Thursday's action.

In light of the now clearly defined goals and directions of the PCAA to maintain conference competition in all sports at the university level," a PCAA spokesman said, "San Diego State University has elected to remain a member of the PCAA."

The directors put off until their June meeting discussion of expanding the PCAA to six teams to meet all university-level conference requirements.

University of Idaho, Boise State College and Utah State University were believed to have the best chances of joining the PCAA. Other possibilities in the future include University of Hawaii and Cal State Fullerton.

GASOLINE ALLEY

What's What

L. M. Boyd

As drinkers, those Southern Californians in Los Angeles and Orange counties must have tossed off enough booze, precisely calculated, to float 22 aircraft carriers. Statistically, that's almost 23 gallons for each man, woman and little inebriated child.

WHY AREN'T there any short catchy names for mothers-in-law and fathers-in-law? That's what I asked. "There are!" reports a Pennsylvania customer. "In our family, 'Mil' stands for mother-in-law and 'Fili' stands for father-in-law, and all concerned find it pleasant." Not bad, not bad.

AMONG THE PECULIAR pieces of proposed legislation, please list this dandy submitted sometime back to the state lawmakers in Missouri. That any widow or spinster who turned down a man's proposal should pay $100 fine and darn the fellow's socks and sew on his buttons for six months. Didn't pass, oddly.

OF BEAVERS

Q. "In building a dam, which beaver does the most work, the male or the female?"
A. That's still a mystery. In the field, nobody human can tell the feminine beaver from the masculine beaver. To find out, the science boys even have to take blood tests of trapped beavers, then band same. They're doing that now.

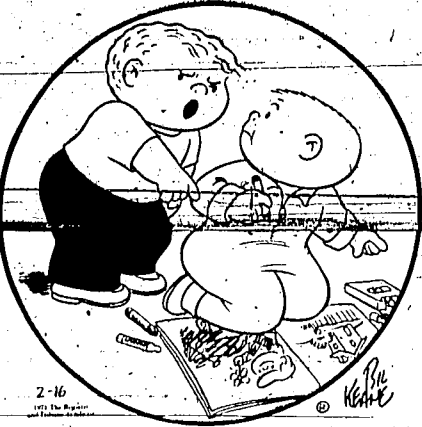

YES, IT WAS indeed Harry Stevens who popularized the hotdog at sports events. But the actual inventor of same is said to be one Anton Ludwig Feuchtwanger, a Bavarian sausage salesman. At the Chicago World's Fair in 1893, he peddled his so-called redhots, passing out with them white gloves so customers wouldn't burn their fingers. Cost too much. Those mustard crowds pocketed the gloves. So Feuchtwanger, a true giant, hit upon the notion to wrap those wieners in buns, instead. In light of this, a hotdog should be called an Anton Ludwig Feuchtwanger, and I intend to conduct a huge intensive campaign to effect this name change.

THE NEAREST STAR

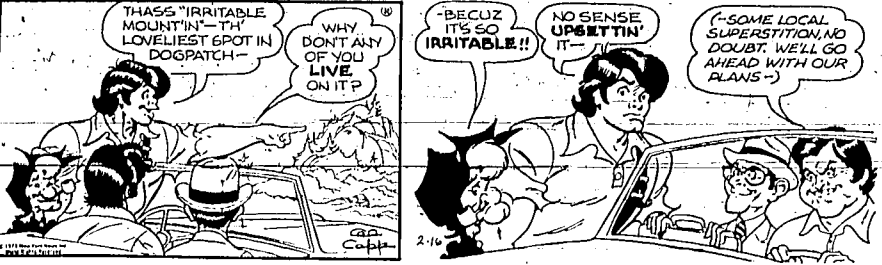

Still can't figure out how far it is to the nearest star? Try this: Say it costs a penny to go 1,000 miles. A jaunt around the world then would cost 25 cents. To the moon, figure $2.38. To the sun, that would be $930. But a voyage to the nearest star would cost $280 million.

WHAT CAN a hairpiece do for a bald salesman? That's what the president of an insurance company wanted to know. So he surveyed the performance of his company's representatives who had purchased toupees. Their sales, he found, had risen by an average of from 16 per cent to as much as 40 per cent. Matter of self-confidence, he surmised. Certainly.

FORECAST FOR SATURDAY, FEBRUARY 17, 1973

GENERAL TENDENCIES: You have a great deal of energy released today and tonight, but you are all too apt to use it in directions that later prove to be adverse for your welfare, so double-check whether or not your new ventures have proven to be a success, and if not, forget them and concentrate upon outlets that have worked out well.

ARIES (Mar. 21 to Apr. 19) Many duties have accumulated that can be gotten-out-of-the-way quickly today and for which you have not hours enough during busy work days. But save some time for recreation in p.m. Catch some good TV program tonight.

TAURUS (Apr. 20 to May 20) Use only proven methods in whatever you do today and make sure your appearance is just right when dealing with others. Evening is best for amusements you like. Avoid one who is rowdy.

GEMINI (May 21 to June 21) Give attention to those affairs at home that do not appear to be vital, but are important just the same. Make the right preparations so you become more successful in the future. Put that time plan to work.

MOON CHILDREN (June 22 to July 21) Make it a point to contact those who are vital to your way of life and increase the goodwill you now enjoy. Get your shopping done early, but do it wisely and count your change. Fun in p.m.

LEO (July 22 to Aug. 21) Fine day for repairs at home that make it more functional and comfortable. Study your financial position well and try to plan so your income is greater than your outgo. Consult with experts, too.

VIRGO (Aug. 22 to Sept. 22) Good day to improve both your health and charm through right treatments. You have to use tact if you want to put that plan across at group affairs. Show you are a romantic type of person.

LIBRA (Sept. 23 to Oct. 22) Clear the slate for bigger things ahead by getting through all those tasks at hand. Your attachment has other interests right now, so get busy at whatever else interests you. Make this a productive day, p.m.

SCORPIO (Oct. 23 to Nov. 21) Join with congenials who have the same interests as yours and you can have a delightful time together, but try not to hurt their feelings in any way. A good friend needs your assistance. Do your utmost to help.

SAGITTARIUS (Nov. 22 to Dec. 21) Get into the outside world but be sure you do not lose your temper with others. Handle vocational details cleverly. Get rid of whatever is blocking the path of your progress.

CAPRICORN (Dec. 22 to Jan. 20) You have new interests that appeal to you and are well within your scope of ability, so begin them early. Get out to the right places for self-expression. Show others you appreciate them.

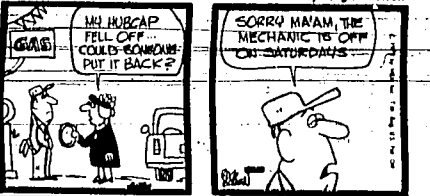

AQUARIUS (Jan. 21 to Feb. 19) You have promises to keep that you have made to others, so do not disappoint them, prove you can be relied upon. Rise above arguments with mate. Get on the constructive side of life.

PISCES (Feb. 20 to Mar. 20) Sit down with associates and exchange views that can lead to more harmony and profitable operations in the days ahead. Not a good day to try to reconcile with one who opposes you. Await a better day for this.

IF YOUR CHILD IS BORN TODAY... he or she will be one of those fussy and tricky young people who must be taught early that ordinary cleanliness is sufficient when there are more important things to be done, otherwise your progeny could turn into a household drudge and little else. There is a definite humanitarian quality in this nature and this should be slanted along a life's career for best results. Your youngster could become quite a boon to humanity at large.

"The Stars impel, they do not compel." What you make of your life is largely up to YOU!
