Doomed pilot: 'There is a big mess, uh?'

TEL AVIV (UPI) — Pilot to tower: "Check position now. Just we have some problems. Some problems, some problems with the heading and we have four MIG fighters just behind us. Could you give us radar fix?"

It was 1:40 p.m. Wednesday. A Libyan Arab Airlines Boeing 727 with 113 persons aboard, piloted by Jacques Bourges, a Frenchman, was flying over the Sinai desert, pursued by four Israeli Phantom jets. Sixteen minutes later the plane would be shot down; 100 persons would be dead, six would die later.

Israel said it was a "tragedy of mistakes and misunderstandings."

Libya said it was "deliberate and premeditated."

Arab crowds in Cairo demanded revenge and Egyptian President Anwar Sadat met with the Supreme Committee for the Battle.

The incident threatened to wreck the 22-year-old Middle East cease-fire and herald a resumption of fighting. The discovery of the plane's "black box" flight recorder, details of which were released by Israel Saturday, showed confusion on the part of pilot Bourges; Israeli authorities thought he was on a spy mission—possibly a mission to crash the plane into an Israeli installation—and shot it down.

High over Sinai, Bourges turned to a passenger who asked about the warplanes riding behind the wings of his airliner. "Don't worry," he said, "they're ours."

A swirling sandstorm obscured the ground. Bourges thought it came from the Egyptian desert and that he was approaching the Cairo airport. Instead he was 50 miles inside Israeli-held territory over Sinai, nearing a top-secret Israeli base at Bir Gafgafa, and heading away from Cairo.

American-built Israeli F4 Phantom fighter-bombers scrambled to intercept the wandering intruder.

Feisal Mohammed el-Shariya, Egyptian, on his way to marry a girl he never met, was a survivor.

"The pilot, Captain Bourges, was walking up and down the passenger compartment," el-Shariya said from his hospital bed in Beersheba. "I said, 'Captain, I see fighter planes.' He replied, 'Don't worry, they're ours.'"

The recording from the "black box" of the plane's radio transmission told what happened:

"Just we are having some problems," the pilot told the Cairo tower. "We have four MIG fighters just behind us."

Copilot to pilot: "What is this aircraft? MIG, eh?"

Pilot: "Yes, but which nationality?"
 Copilot: "I see before."
 Pilot to Cairo: "Cairo, radar fix."
 Copilot: "They are trying."
 Pilot to flight engineer (French): "Do you see, eh?"
 Flight Engineer: "Yes, well, I have followed it, but it is something of..."
 Cairo to pilot: "We are trying to fix by radar. Check your level now."
 Pilot to Cairo: "We are 4,500."
 Cairo to pilot: "Roger. Try to descend, to climb to 170, to correction 100."
 Pilot: "We are approaching. Ah yes, my friend, but you are... eh, ah, no, but I do not understand this language."
 Pilot to copilot: "They are still behind, eh?"
 Copilot: "Here they are, sir."
 Pilot: "I don't... To Cairo: 'We are still 6,000 because we cannot get VOR (radio frequency).'"
 Cairo to pilot: "Okay, sir. Because you unable to fix your position."
 Pilot: "Do you have ILS (another radio frequency)?"
 Pilot: "What is that?"
 Copilot: "Ah, we have rockets."

Gripping tale from black box

Pilot: "Eh?"
 Copilot: "I have seen some rockets here."
 Pilot: "Oh, eh?"
 Beep for 15 seconds as the landing gear goes down, noise of aircraft passing by.
 Flight engineer to pilot: "You have the ILS. Are you going down (landing)?"
 Pilot: "No... To copilot: Check the ILS on yours."
 Copilot: "What?"
 Pilot to first officer: "The ILS of Cairo."
 Copilot: "110.3."
 Flight officer to pilot: "You have the ILS. They are coming back, coming back. There is a big mess, eh?"
 Pilot to copilot: "He is coming back?"
 Three bursts, followed by sounds of jets.
 Pilot: "What's happening now?"
 Copilot: "They have got us."
 Pilot: "Cairo control I.N.114, I guess we have serious troubles with our heading compass. We are now shot. We are now shot by your fighter. We are now shot by your fighter."
 Copilot to pilot: "You are unreported aircraft and we do not know where you are."
 Copilot: "It's Israeli fighter, an Israeli fighter."
 Pilot: "Keep going."
 The plane crashed seconds later.

TF mom tops in Idaho

By GEORGE WILEY
 Times-News writer

TWIN FALLS — Mrs. Mary McCusky, Twin Falls, was named Idaho Mother of the Year Saturday.

"It all comes as a total surprise," Mrs. McCusky said. She said she was enjoying a peaceful afternoon at home when she received the call notifying her of the honor.

"The person said 'Hello, Idaho Mother of the Year,'" she said. "Who is this? I just couldn't believe it."

Nixon to trim antipoverty 'fat'

WASHINGTON (UPI) — In a sharp attack on the nation's poverty and welfare workers, President Nixon said today "too much money has been going to those who were supposed to help the needy and too little to the needy themselves."

"Those who make a profession out of poverty got fat," Nixon said in a taped night-time radio address. "The taxpayer got stuck with the bill, and the disadvantaged themselves got little but broken promises."

Nixon's speech, third in a series of radio broadcasts in advance of special messages to Congress, offered almost no clues to what legislative proposals he will make in the areas of health, education, welfare and other social programs.

The White House said a message on human resources would be sent to Congress early next week.

Nixon said he would seek reform of the present welfare system but did not spell out details. He said he believes that "no family should be deprived of the freedom to make its own health care arrangements without bureaucratic meddling."

But he did not say what his health insurance proposals will be.

"The President is in the process of dismantling the office of Economic Opportunity and distributing most of its programs among other agencies. He said this will 'make the economic opportunity dollar go farther.'"

He sharply assailed the social welfare programs of the Kennedy and Johnson administrations.

"During the 1960s, the federal government took ambitious, sometimes almost utopian, commitments in one area of social policy, after another, elbowing aside the state and local governments and the private sector and establishing literally hundreds of new programs based on the assumption that any human problem could be solved by throwing second federal dollars at it," he said.

Pentagon secrets sold from 'menu'

DETROIT (UPI) — A congressman says he purchased confidential military secrets for $1,000 per item from three men who offered the Pentagon secrets from a list "like a menu," the Detroit Sunday News said.

The News, in a copyrighted story by Seth Kantor of its Washington bureau, said Rep. Harold L. Runnels, D-N.M., said he bought the secrets from the men whom he believed to be either current or former civilian employees of the Department of Defense.

Runnels did not identify the men, saying he had been advised by the Justice Department to say nothing further to newsmen. But the News said a Justice Department spokesman said he could find not a trace of any inquiry from Runnels about the matter.

Runnels, 48, said he purchased the secrets in cash transactions so that he could ask intelligent questions of generals at meetings of the Armed Services Committee, of which he is a House member.

Runnels said his main interest was cost overruns and waste in contracts.

"The information they sold me was accurate," Runnels told the News. "It was right on the button."

"It was marked 'confidential.' I was bothered because they had access to classified information and they were selling it."

Runnels said he made two purchases from the "menu" last summer, paying the three men $1,000 for each secret in $50 and $100 bills from his own pocket.

He told the newspaper he stopped buying last fall when the price went up to between $3,000 and $4,500 per set of secrets and the men wanted to be put on a monthly retainer that would have cost him $36,000 a year.

Runnels said he met with two of the three men in his private office in the Longworth House office building last summer after they contacted him by phone.

"The first offered me well, it was like a menu," Runnels said. "It was a list of snippets and the price, they said, was $1,000 for any subject I wanted information on," he told the newspaper.

"They insisted on cash payments. No checks. No records."

Big appropriation good news for CSI

Special to the Times-News

BOISE — The College of Southern Idaho got some good news Saturday.

The Joint Finance-Appropriations Committee approved a $142 million appropriation for the state's two junior colleges.

It approved by the Legislature, most of the money would go to CSI.

The figure represents an increase of $65,000 or 39.5 per cent over last year's junior college appropriation — one of the largest increases approved yet by the legislative panel.

The approved figure was $371,425 above that recommended by Gov. Cecil Andrus in his executive budget. The colleges have requested $2.02 million.

Sen. Richard S. High, R-Twin Falls, co-chairman of the joint committee, said Saturday the figure was reached on the third vote.

He said the first motion before the committee, for a budget of $2 million, failed by a close vote. A second motion for the Governor's recommended figure, failed by a large majority.

"The final vote was approved by a strong majority of the committee, including all four Magic Valley legislators on the committee, High, co-chairman William Roberts, R-Buhl, Rep. L. V. McMan, R-Ketchum, and Sen. John Peavey, R-Rupert.

Among the Valley members of the committee, only co-chairmen Roberts and High voted for the initial motion.

High said the figure will bring state funding of junior college academic programs to 46 per cent, up from 30 per cent last year.

"There's just so much logic for this big increase. I think the Legislature as a whole will support it," High said.

"Compared with the present level of funding of public schools — with the kind of money we expect to put out — of about 70 per cent, and higher education at 100 per cent and vocational education at 100 per cent, we feel this increase from 30 to 45 per cent state support is very justified," he said.

It approved by the legislature, the money would be divided between the College of Southern Idaho and North Idaho College on the basis of enrollment — with CSI getting the lion's share.

If current enrollment trends continue, CSI would get about $1.05 million of the total — an increase of about $250,000.

The appropriation affects only academic programs. Vocational programs at the junior colleges are already funded 100 per cent by the state.

TF zoning hearing set

TWIN FALLS — Hearings on zoning or two areas for which annexation has been requested are scheduled Monday evening before the Twin Falls City Planning and Zoning Commission.

The commission's meeting will start at 8 p.m. in the city hall council room.

The areas for which the zoning recommendations are scheduled are:

- At 204 Eastland Drive, owned by the East Side Southern Baptist Church.
- At the southeast corner of the intersection of Washington Street North and Falls Avenue, property owned by Planned Resources, Inc.

Also scheduled is a public hearing on an amendment to the municipal zoning ordinance allowing pharmacies as outright uses in residential professional zones.

An application by Tranmer Corp. for a variance to permit construction 12½ feet from the rear property lines in residential low-density zone between 1290 and 1231 Evergreen Drive will also be heard, chairman John Rosholt said.

Juniors win trophy for TF high school 'spirit'

TWIN FALLS — Junior class members at the Twin Falls High School received the Spirit trophy Friday by accumulating the most points during the year in school spirit events.

The trophy was awarded at the conclusion of Bruin Week and covered points accumulated during the year, and those won in the week's competition. Juniors took the top awards for hall decorations and in skits Friday to clinch their trophy winning performance.

Bruin week began Tuesday with the decorating of home room doors and judging of the decorations. On Wednesday students dressed in school colors, blue and white, and on Thursday each dressed to represent a different period of history. The old fashioned day included sophomores appearing in the 1850 to 1900 era, juniors, 1901 to 1960, and seniors, from 1961 to 1969.

Halls were decorated Thursday and Friday the decorations were removed and some transferred to the gymnasium for use during the basketball tournament.

Classroom awards were also presented during the Friday assembly with best decorated room doors announced.

Farmers attend meet

TWIN FALLS — Several Twin Falls County residents attended the Idaho Farm Bureau Young Farmers and Ranchers leadership conference Thursday and Friday in Boise.

Attending from Twin Falls County were Mr. and Mrs. Pat Cullen, Mr. and Mrs. Blehard, Kelley, Mr. and Mrs. Larry Thursday, each dressed to represent a different period of history. The old fashioned day included sophomores appearing in the 1850 to 1900 era, juniors, 1901 to 1960, and seniors, from 1961 to 1969.

Measles increase

TWIN FALLS — An increase in the number of measles cases in the South Central Health District in the past two days has brought a warning from district officials.

Dr. Wayne Carte, medical director urged all children who have not had the disease or have not been immunized to obtain immunizations immediately.

Immunization against Rubella (three-day measles) for all girls from age one to puberty and for boys of all ages is also urged, Dr. Carte said.

Rubella is a disease, innocuous in itself, but responsible for birth defects of contacted by pregnant women. A combination vaccine against measles, mumps and Rubella is available for children who have not had any of the diseases or have not been vaccinated for any of the three.

Parents were urged by Dr. Carte to contact their private physicians or the local health department about immunizations.

Four TF County highway aides discuss facilities

TWIN FALLS — Transportation facilities of Twin Falls County's major county highways and roads were discussed Friday afternoon in a joint meeting of four county highway districts.

Meeting in the Twin Falls Highway District offices, representatives of the Twin Falls, Murtaugh, Filer and Buhl districts reviewed the proposed new county zoning ordinance as it relates to transportation needs and discussed problems they face in district growth and changes.

Kenneth Poe, Twin Falls district board president, conducted the meeting. Keith Anderson, district engineer in Twin Falls, said collector roads and access control to preserve the primary function of the collector system on a county wide basis was discussed.

Setbacks, subdivision regulations, as to road, curb and gutter construction, and routing were discussed.

Highway districts are in support of the county's proposed zoning regulations, Poe said, and feel it will help establish guidelines for road needs.

District representatives expressed concern over the possible further loss of gasoline.

Line snaps

TWIN FALLS — About 200 northeast Twin Falls families may have gone without a hot lunch Friday as a felled tree toppled cross Eastland Drive about noon, snapping a power line.

Idaho Power Co. electrical superintendent James L. Johnstone said Saturday the outage lasted for about an hour.

Johnstone said the outage occurred when a private party, whom he could not identify, was cutting a large tree along the west side of Eastland Drive and the tree fell out of control onto the power line on the east side of Eastland, severing the line and damaging conductors.

Johnstone said the homes affected by the outage were mostly in the area from Filer Avenue to Falls Avenue and from Mafrona Street to Eastland Drive.

Negligent damages will be sought by the power company, Johnstone said.

Firm given loan

WASHINGTON (UPI) — Sen. Frank Church, D - Idaho, announced Friday the Rural Electrification Administration has approved a loan to the Project Mutual Telephone Cooperative Association, Inc. in Rupert, Idaho.

The $1,400,000 loan will be used to finance facilities to connect new subscribers, build a new headquarters, construct new line and finance other system improvements.

The association services five Magic Valley counties.

Golden Age club installs leaders

TWIN FALLS — John Henderson was installed president of the Golden Age club at a meeting Friday night in the Twin Falls DAV Hall.

Edythe Kooz, past regional governor of the Soroptimist Club, installed the officers, assisted by Lora Doss, Soroptimist club representative to the Golden Age group.

Other new officers include Lewis Smith, vice president; Louise Harral, secretary; Emma Stone, treasurer, and Lela Griffin, pro tem.

Henderson assisted Lillian Arnsa and Louise Harral in leading community singing.

The next meeting will be a potluck supper, scheduled for 6:30 p.m. March 9 at the DAV Hall.

Dancing and card games completed the evening's meeting.

Democrats last to know on state school funding

By DAVID ESPO
Times-News writer

BOISE — The Republican on the Joint Finance Appropriations Committee apparently got tired of washing their dirty laundry in public.

Monday, the committee approved a shopping $57.8 million funding level for public schools, including a $12 million increase. It should be noted, however, that the co-chairmen, Sen. Richard High, R-Twin Falls and Rep. William Parks, R-Buhl, voted against the figure, feeling it $1 million too high.

Tuesday, the Republicans tried to reconsider their move, but were stilled when one of their own number, Rep. Paul Worthen, R-Boise, sided with the Democrats and kept the funding level where it was. (A two-thirds majority vote by the committee is necessary to reconsider.)

Also on Tuesday, High announced he thought it would be tough to fit a $57.8 million school funding level figure into a $155.4 general fund overall budget, as both the majority caucuses have opted for.

So Wednesday, the committee Republicans, united after Tuesday's split, ran roughshod over the six Democrats and rescinded the proposal after some fancy parliamentary procedure.

Sen. William Egbert, D-Tetonin, raised some objection to the maneuver, asking whether it didn't involve some "subterfuge." Roberts responded that it didn't, but if the rescission move was successful, the committee could start all over again.

During the floor debate Thursday, majority and minority members went at one another, pausing only to introduce guests in the gallery before they began swinging verbal clubs.

Egbert took the floor and said the two-thirds Republican majority on the joint committee didn't bother to keep the

Analysis

Democrats informed of the reasons for the switch in signals.

But the reason is fairly distinct. The committee leadership wants a figure for education that the other party legislators won't reject as too high.

The committee's effort to get the caucus to support the higher figure has apparently failed, and so their gamble-forcing the caucus to accept a fait accompli — has also failed and they must pull back their funding bill and education's increase.

So the Republicans seem split on the issue of how and how much to fund the schools, and give the Democrats something to raise a fuss about — something they haven't got the votes to do in committee.

Apparently tired of all the switching, reconsidering, caucusing, rescinding and funding, the Republicans summoned by High and Roberts, pulled themselves into a closed-door meeting Thursday afternoon, rolled up their sleeves, and fought among themselves in private for a change.

The net result is probably going to be a public school increase of something less than $12 million, speaking personally figures about $9.5 million.

But the way things are proceeding, the Democrats will be the last to know.

Woman relates doctor troubles

Editor, Times-News:

Reply to Dear Abby letter. I would like to say what happened to "Desperate" in Twin Falls also happened to me. The situation was about the same. I was seven months pregnant. I also used the telephone to make an appointment, which you have to do. You can't walk into a doctor's office without one unless it's an emergency.

After calling several doctors, and was told the same thing. In one doctor's office in particular I was told it would be cash on the first visit.

I asked the receptionist since when did a doctor ask for cash before he even know what kind of health you were in.

She said it had always been their office rules. I didn't care to have his services if that's all he was concerned about.

Others didn't want the responsibility because I was seven months pregnant.

When I was about to give up, I called Dr. Jerome Hies, no questions about money, just the condition I was in. He's a wonderful doctor, not because he didn't ask for money, but because he knows what he's doing and does it well.

I think these doctors better check with their receptionists before they judge who's right and who's wrong. "Desperate" was not as wrong as they would like her to be.

P.S. In answer to Monday night's issue, we're not concerned with how a doctor spends his money. We're concerned about the care a doctor is supposed to give you before asking for cash.

TF concert marred by noisy youths

Editor, Times-News:

On Tuesday evening, The Magic Valley Symphony Orchestra presented one of the finest concerts it has performed in some time in that not only was there an outstanding soloist, Martin Wright, pianist, but there was also an excellent choral work, the Faure Requiem.

The latter was performed by a volunteer chorus directed by Mrs. Albert E. Allen, and, in all parts, the chorus showed in the command of the music the long hours which had gone into perfecting a difficult work.

For me, the whole concert was marred by the constant loud whispers of a group of junior high and high school age students sitting in the upper part of the balcony.

In spite of requests by a member of the audience (twice) and by a college official (also twice) the only time the whispers could not be heard was during the final section of the "Battle Hymn of the Republic" when the combined orchestra, chorus and audience singing drowned them out.

The whippers were plainly audible all through the balcony section, all the way down to the front row.

Perhaps these students were required to attend the concert because they were in some school music class. If this was the case, they should have been coached beforehand not to pop bubble gum and talk while the music was being performed, or they should have been accompanied by an adult who could prevent their rude and utterly inexcusable behavior.

Young people should attend concerts because they are, after all, the audience of tomorrow, but they should behave like a concert audience, not like spectators at a sports event.

Jerome writers support walkout

Editor, Times-News:

As interested citizens who attended last week's Jerome School Board meeting, we feel it is our responsibility to correct and expound upon the obviously biased reporting of the Times-News. The articles we refer to appeared February 13 and February 16.

We agree that it is the school board's obligation to inform us on the operations of the school. Dale Vining and James Keith gave no indication of intending to withhold the status of Jerome's accreditation. They merely objected to the manner in which the entire matter was handled.

Chairman Hollifield assumed authority by confirming the report before contacting all board members. The Idaho School Trustee Manual states, "Good board members act as a board, they do not attempt to assume individual responsibility and authority. The state grants its authority to the board not to the individual members."

In fact, "The board actually is not in existence until it is sitting in a legal session."

We as Jerome patrons felt no embarrassment over Vining and Keith's walk-out and resent your presumption to dictate our feelings. We only feel amazement that their objections were not comprehended.

Returning POW needs outlined

Editor, Times-News:

What are they going to expect? What are they going to want? What are they going to need? Have we planned ahead for them while they were fighting the longest, most frustrating war in our history?

Are they coming home to an expanding economy, one that is forging ahead (one that is planning to put new ground under the plow, open new roads to our mineral and forest wealth)?

Are they coming home to new horizons of greatness based on reasonable development of our natural resources and on sensible, logical consideration of the environment and the quality of life?

Yes, they are if we stand tall for those ideals that have made this country great and channel all our efforts towards the three basic principles that lead to prosperity:

- (1) Jobs (useful work and training)
- (2) Industrial expansion (open new markets)
- (3) Agricultural development (and improved distribution)

The wants of many of the men returning to civilian life are quite simply: (1) a job, (2) a place to live, (3) a car, and sooner or later, (4) a wife. (Not necessarily in that order.)

We can provide the first three only if we have a healthy expanding economy; the fourth (the wife) is his responsibility

TF center in jeopardy if Nixon gets fund cuts

By DWIGHT JENSEN
Special to the Times-News

BOISE — Hit a million dollars for a mental health center at Twin Falls could be one of the big items cut out of President Nixon's federal budget, and one of the reasons Idaho legislators are concerned about keeping money on hand to make up for lost federal funds.

Roy Haney, Idaho's coordinator for federal programs, has been making a list of the problems created for the state by the Nixon effort to cut back on domestic programs.

He estimates that Idaho could lose almost $11 million if the President's budget proposals are approved.

One big loser could be the Department of Environmental Protection and Health, which stands to lose $1.5 million, including the money for the mental health center at Twin Falls.

On top of that, the budget would cut out $3.3 million in expected Hill-Burton hospital construction money.

Parks and Recreation would lose $1.2 million directly, and would suffer additionally because much of the $1.3 million that Special Services would lose is used to pay for additional help for the Parks Department.

Other big losers would be: Education, $1.1 million. Vocational education, $500,000. Humane Resources Development Council, $2.2 million. Department of Employment, $600,000. Public Lands, $100,000. Libraries, $289,000.

The cutback would have an effect on higher education and on welfare, but Haney says the factors are so variable that it's impossible to assign a dollar value to the changes.

In the case of higher education, the emphasis is intended to change so that more money goes to individual students and less to the institutions they attend.

That would make it easier for a student to finance his education, but more difficult for the state to provide an institution in which he can study.

Writer defends DDT use

By GENEVIEVE UTT
Eden

Bumper stickers for cars now carry advice such as "Eat More Beef," "Eat More Pork," "Eat Lamb, 40,000 Coyotes Can't Be Wrong."

The Coyote enjoys a variety of food: little pigs, chickens, domestic ducks and newborn calves fall prey to these marauders.

Coyotes have been very destructive and should be eliminated.

DDT insecticide has been banned. The Audubon Society has been demanding that this be done for some time. A biologist, as a member of this society, stated in 1970 that native birds were disappearing and imported birds such as the starling, house sparrow and pigeon were increasing in number.

He blamed insecticides saying it caused calcium imbalance which affected sex hormones, and was "a frightening" thing because of its danger to man.

Another Audubon member said bird eggs became too fragile because of insecticides.

This is faulty reasoning. A professor from the University of Utah states that DDT has never been known to have caused the death of anyone. It has been used for over 30 years, as one of our more important insecticides.

Many years ago, my son found a robin with a broken wing near Kimberly. He brought it home and cared for it until it could fly again. It built a nest in the open area where they still use it.

At first they hatched out three broods a summer but now only one, and the nest is often full of shells.

These robins have always spent the winter here, and on the coldest days may be seen hunting for berries or weed seed. The mother robin was probably unable to make the long flight south.

These birds are now harassed by magpies who eat bird eggs any place they can find them. It is a constant fight to save the eggs so they will hatch.

Eggs of all native birds who disappearing because of this, while the starling, pigeon and sparrow build their nests under a roof protected from the magpie and are increasing in number.

Insecticides are not the cause of the decrease in bird numbers, magpies are to blame. Insecticides do not harm birds.

A movement is under way to ban the use of phosphate. It is one of the most important fertilizers used to improve soil.

As it will cause fish to die, it is said to be dangerous to man. This is faulty reasoning.

Phosphate can be purchased at a drug store without a prescription. It is a medicine, a vitamin, and it is used in cattle, and it is used for soil improvement. It is safe for all warm blooded people and creatures, while it is deadly to all cold blooded ones.

Snakes, worms, insects, bacteria and fish are cold blooded, while people, cattle, birds, etc., are warm blooded.

Medicine, insecticides and preservatives are deadly to cold blooded creatures and helpful to warm blooded beings, if used as directed. Any of these in concentration in water will act the same on fish.

Fly spray will paralyze a fly and dies from lack of oxygen. It acts the same on fish. They die from purgists, not from lack of oxygen in the water.

Many new kinds of soaps and shampoos carry the words, "no phosphate." I prefer the kinds which use it. Dithenone and Pyrethrum are said to be "safe" insecticides, yet they will kill fish also. Organic gardeners can have their vegetables and bugs, I prefer those treated with insecticides.

Modern scientists will be slow to accept these facts for they prove the "Theory of Evolution" false. Evolution could never have crossed the barrier of difference in blood, between warm blooded beings and cold blooded creatures. They cannot bridge this gap.

Medicines and insecticides are helpful to warm blooded beings and deadly to cold blooded creatures. "The Theory of Evolution" is false.

The banning of DDT is wrong, and the banning of coyote control measures is unwarranted. If we used a little common sense in our planned ecology?

Swensen's ad hit by writer

Editor, Times-News:

The Swensen's Magic Markets advertisement on page 8 in the Times-News Thursday, February 22, 1973, titled "Supreme Court Aborters Stink," deserves a comment.

This disrespectful barnyard tantrum attack on the Supreme Court justices is probably a good indication of the general level of intelligence of those who own the Swensen Markets.

Fortunately for the Magic Valley there are only three Swensen Markets and they are easily bypassed.

Senate votes no tax break for racism

(Special to the Times-News) BOISE — The Senate voted 20-12 Friday that the state should stop giving tax exemptions to organizations practicing discrimination on the grounds of race, religion or national origin.

The measure now moves to the House.

The vote in the Senate comes about a week after Atty. Gen. W. Anthony Park issued an opinion holding that tax exemptions were illegal for fraternal organizations which practice discriminations.

At the time Gov. Cecil D. Andrus hailed the opinion as "just" and said it would be the law until legislation or litigation required otherwise.

Sen. majority leader Phil Batt, R-Wilder, the floor sponsor of the measure, told the Senate that discrimination was "a cancer" and also said that though some of the nation's social ills could be traced directly to that source.

"Everybody should be able to discriminate as they choose," he said, "the only question is should the state back this with tax exemption."

Sen. Warren Brown, R-Merida, opposed the passage of the bill, saying that the U.S. Supreme Court had spoken in the area, and the state legislature should remain silent.

But he did say that he thought the tax exemptions now granted to a number of organizations and groups were causing problems for the state and constituted a matter, the legislature "is going to have to face up to."

Sen. Vern Brassey, R-Boise, supported the measure, saying that if some organizations were going to discriminate, "maybe it's time to get out and say 'you're going to lose your tax exemption.'"

Senior salute

NEW YORK (UPI) — When the average worker passes the age of 65, he usually is not as efficient as a younger man, is injured more often and is absent from work for longer periods, right or wrong.

Wrong, reports the Institute of Life Insurance. A survey by the New York State Division of Human Rights concludes that workers over 65 perform their jobs "about equal to and sometimes better than younger workers."

The older workers also have fewer on-the-job accidents and are less often absent from work because of illness.

Old dates OK'd for holidays

BOISE (UPI) — The State Affairs Committee in the House has approved for introduction legislation to restore four major holidays to their traditional dates.

Under normal procedures, it will come up for debate and final vote of the house early next week.

The measure pulls Washington's Birthday, Decoration Day, Columbus Day and Veterans Day off the list of three-day weekend holidays and requires observance on the traditional dates.

Rep. Roy Lincoln, R-Twin Falls, was unsuccessful in a try to hold the bill in committee. He said he felt different dates by the state and federal governments for observing the holiday will lead to confusion.

In other action, the committee voted to introduce legislation that would require the state police to provide police protection for the capital mall and the elected officials.

Reporter 'shield' OK'd

SPECIAL TO THE TIMES-NEWS

BOISE — The Senate gave its approval Friday to a measure protecting newsmen from having to reveal their confidential news sources before courts and grand juries.

The vote on the measure was 25-9. It now goes to the House.

Sen. Phil Batt, R-Wilder, floor sponsor of the bill, said the proposal had been mistaken when it was tagged as a newsmen's shield law.

"I believe what we are asking for is the protection of the public," he told the Senate during debate.

Noting that a number of newsmen are now in jail or have served jail terms recently for not revealing their sources, Batt said it was "fair time" for enough and jail reporters often enough.

Gem panel approves change for stream channel statute

By DAVID ESPO, Times-News Writer

BOISE — The Senate Resource and Environment Committee gave approval Friday to the changes suggested in the 1971 stream channel protection act made by a special joint subcommittee.

The drafted changes in the current stream channel law would redefine several terms, including "natural" and "ordinary high water mark" and "stream channel," as well as add a provision that restoring erosion on embankments would not require the issuance of a permit by the Department of Water Administration.

The committee also gave approval to a recommendation to proposals that would facilitate the use of private funds to replace the American Falls Dam.

The first measure would authorize irrigation districts to bond themselves for the reconstruction of the dam, eliminating the existing limitation on building new ones.

The other would remove the limitation written into existing law on the length of a contract for the sale of surplus power.

The move to get the legislation on the floor of the Senate with a "do pass" recommendation was successful, after Sen. John Peavey, R-Rupert, failed in his effort to have the bill placed on the 14th order for amending on the floor.

Sen. J. Wilson Steen, R-Glenns Ferry, co-chairman of the special ten-man subcommittee which has been studying possible changes in the 1971 law since early in the legislative session, said a companion measure, dealing with permits needed for lake alterations would be ready for introduction in a few days.

Steen said following the meeting he would delay floor debate on the stream bill until the lake legislation could be prepared.

But Sen. Gene Budge, R-Soda Springs, said the proposal was a "good bill, probably an answer to the problems we've had in the past."

He labeled Peavey's efforts to have the measure amended as "harassment."

The committee also gave approval to a recommendation to proposals that would facilitate the use of private funds to replace the American Falls Dam.

The first measure would authorize irrigation districts to bond themselves for the reconstruction of the dam, eliminating the existing limitation on building new ones.

The other would remove the limitation written into existing law on the length of a contract for the sale of surplus power.

Twin Falls attorney Tom Nelson, representing special holders in the dam, had appeared before the committee earlier in the session asking for the changes in the law.

Committee members also gave in to Budge's request that a personal bill of his changing the term of office of the administrator of the water department be sent to the

School pay hikes requested

Special to the Times-News
BOISE — The Senate Health Education and Welfare Committee voted Friday to ask the State Affairs Committee to introduce legislation that would mean pay increases for non-administrative and non-certified school employees.

The committee turned aside the objection of Sen. Leor Swenson, R-Nampa, who thought the measure might pose a constitutional problem.

The measure would require that any school district participating in the state equalization program take 75 percent of its increased funding from state and county sources for the coming year and apply it for salary increases for the specified personnel.

The measure would apply for only one year.

Swenson made it clear he was in "sympathy with the intent" of the proposal, but questioned whether the legislature had the authority to dictate how schools spend money raised at the county level.

Erza Moore, spokesman for the Idaho Department of Education, told Swenson there are no constitutional difficulties with the move.

The committee efforts to look at legislation placing restrictions on abortions was delayed when Swenson announced that sections of the bill had to be renumbered.

Swenson chaired a special five-man subcommittee earlier in the session to draft legislation in light of recent U.S. Supreme Court decisions. Deputy attorney general Kent Taylor told the committee earlier that Idaho's law would be unlikely to survive a court test in light of the national rulings.

Check your tuna supply

BOISE (UPI) — The Idaho Department of Environmental Protection and Health has issued a warning to all Idaho residents to check their pantry shelves for possible contaminated cans of "Star Kist Chunk-light Style" tuna fish.

Carroll Despain, Chief of Food Quality Control of DEPH, said Friday Star Kist brand tuna bearing two code numbers — 924G4-D419 and 924G4D417 — has caused illness in South Dakota, Wisconsin and Minnesota, and the batches have been recalled.

Distribution of the suspect tuna was nationwide. DEPH was notified after 12 noon Friday by the center for disease control, Atlanta, Ga., regarding the possible danger. Despain said the center said symptoms — nausea, vomiting, diarrhea, and a burning sensation in the mouth — were indicative of "scombroid" fish poisoning.

House balks at tot bill

(Special to the Times-News)
BOISE — A move to get the Senate passed version of a kindergarten bill to a vote of the House failed Friday by a vote of 22-43.

The vote came on the effort by Rep. William Onweller, R-Boise, to get the bill off general orders on to the House calendar, where it is likely to be amended, and onto the regular reading calendar, where it would have been voted on in its present form.

The bill came out of the House Education Committee Thursday after passing the Senate last week on a vote of 20-15. In its present form, it would enable local school districts to use state money to establish kindergartens on a vote of the district residents.

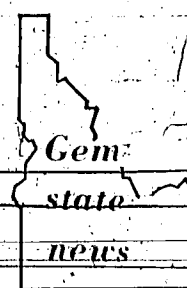

But Rep. Larry Jackson, R-Boise, said that version would be difficult to pass through the House, and said a number of amendments had been prepared.

One of them, he said, prepared by Rep. John Sessions, R-Driggs, would allow local districts to establish kindergartens, but that would require a referendum.

Spud fieldmen pay bill OK'd

BOISE (UPI) — The House approved 53-7 and sent to the Senate Saturday a bill to allow the Potato Commission to pay actual expenses to its field men.

Rep. Allan F. Larsen, R-Blackfoot, said that at present the commission engages in "subterfuge" by hiring its three field men through the advertising agency representing the commission.

Birth control bill changes gain backing

BOISE (UPI) — The House Health and Welfare Committee voted Saturday to amend a Senate-approved bill allowing dissemination of birth control information to provide for state review of advertising.

Committee members indicated they felt the legislation would have a better chance if it included a provision allowing the Department of Environmental Protection and Health to censor advertising.

"We are not worried about the pamphlets and information of family planning organizations," Rep. Russell Fogel, R-Idaho Falls, said. "But it is the outside people who come in to sell their products and services and their regulations."

The Home Affairs Ministry reports 57,601 fires broke out in Japan during 1972.

Executive pay irks

BOISE (UPI) — Executive salaries, long a sore spot with Idaho legislators hit a nerve in the House again Saturday.

During debate on a bill to allow the Potato Commission to pay actual expenses of its field men several members took a poke at the $29,000 salary paid the commission's director, Gordon Randall.

While admitting Randall may be worth what he is paid, Rep. Wayne Tibbitts, R-Lorenzo, said those who pay a tax to finance that salary nonetheless never were consulted.

He and other representatives pointed out that Randall's salary is $11,000 more than that paid to his predecessor. Even the sponsor of the bill in question, Rep. Allan F.

Larsen, R-Blackfoot — said he, as a conservative, could not condone it.

Both houses met for a couple of hours Saturday morning but handled primarily non-controversial legislation. Four new measures were introduced in the House and three in the Senate.

The House passed five bills, including the Potato Commission measure, while the Senate approved eight.

Senators also defeated one bill — the Governor's proposal for a state land use planning study. Members of the Joint Finance-Appropriations Committee resumed their labors in an effort to bring this session of the legislature to a close as soon as possible.

A week ago, some leaders predicted possible final adjournment by next Saturday.

Now, however, it appears it may take 10 days to two weeks more before the lawmakers can adjourn sine die.

Larsen told the House the Potato Commission asked for the expense allowance bill as it can do openly what it has done by "subterfuge" for many years.

He said the commission's three field men are on the road year-around promoting Idaho's famous spuds in eastern and other markets. He said they cannot live on the travel allowance set for state employees so they are hired and paid by the commission's advertising agency.

Solon tries to cut PUC

BOISE (UPI) — Rep. Gary Ingram, R-Post Falls, declared war today on the Public Utilities Commission, saying he will try to block a proposed pay increase and attempt to cut the group's budget.

Ingram signalled his intentions Friday afternoon when he led a fight in committee of the whole to try to block an amendment to the commissioners' pay increase bill.

This bill originally called for a $3,000 pay increase — to $19,500 from $16,500 — for PUC, Industrial Commission and Tax Commission members. It was amended in committee of the whole to reduce the raise to $2,000 per year.

Saying it still was too high, Ingram tried to block the amendment and even asked for a division of the house when the committee shouted its approval of the change. He was beaten 3-2. He is angry, he said, because the PUC will not grant a re-hearing of the Idaho Water Commission's case. He said the PUC approved a 20 percent hike last summer and that it has hurt many of his constituents in the Coeur d'Alene area.

"I went over there with a couple of other representatives and went over the case in detail," he said. "But they said they have no basis for holding another hearing."

He said he was not criticizing the original hearing but simply wants to have the PUC re-examine the facts on which it based its decision. Perhaps by going after the pay bill and, later, the commission's budget, he said, he can get the PUC's attention.

NEW RAINBOW LOOK FROM MEADOW GOLD

There's a bright, fresh new "rainbow" look to milk packaging in Idaho this week. It's provided by the newly designed Meadow Gold homogenized milk cartons with their dazzling stripes of white, yellow, orange, red and blue. Packages for chocolate milk, buttermilk, skim milk and half and half are in similar multi-colored designs. "Some time ago the Meadow Gold dairy in Hawaii introduced this new line of Puro-Pak milk carton designs in bright, multi-colored stripes," says Gary D. Phillips, manager of the Meadow Gold Dairies division of Beatrice Foods Co. in Twin Falls. More recently the new designs were introduced in several mid-west states and the results have been so satisfying that they now are being introduced here and soon will go into other sections of the country.

"Homemakers have been enthusiastic about the bright, fresh appearance of the cartons, which is completely distinctive from all other milk carton designs in the country. Now we're bringing the new, bright, modern Hawaii look to homemakers in this area."

"We've been working on the design concept for more than a year. We feel that it's right in step with Meadow Gold's general outlook — that of a modern, up-to-date, forward looking company."

toward your purchase of an electric water heater

If you are due for a water heater replacement, you couldn't find a better time than right now! Idaho Power Company is offering through plumbers and dealers in our service area a twenty dollar lift toward your purchase, subject to the rules shown below.

Keep your family hot water happy with the clean, energy-conserving electric. Because it's flameless, it's the heater heater. It requires no chimney, adds nothing to the air, takes nothing from the air — indoors or out.

New electric water heaters are completely wrapped in insulation. The heating elements are immersed for direct release of energy into the water. Get a new electric water heater from your dealer or plumber while this special offer is still open!

Idaho Power Company

WISE USE OF ENERGY. Save $20 on the insulation-wrapped water heater that requires no energy-wasting chimney.

- Effective dates: February 12th to March 10th, 1973.
- This offer is open to any Idaho customer of Idaho Power Company for the replacement of an existing water heater.
- The twenty-dollar discount is available through any Idaho dealer or plumber in communities served by Idaho Power Company.
- The discount may be applied on any electric water heater of 40 gallons or larger, with elements of 4000 watts or more, and with at least a five-year guarantee.
- An installation check will be made by an Idaho Power representative.
- This offer does not apply in Oregon.
- Residential rate customers only.

Youth quarters OK'd for Twin Falls jail

By BONNIE BAIRD
Times-News Writer

TWIN FALLS — Immediate steps for remodeling of the Twin Falls County jail to provide male and female juvenile quarters was favored Friday in a meeting of city and county officials.

Merl E. Leonard, county commissioner and jail complex committee chairman, said while final action is awaiting further discussion by the Twin Falls City Council and County Commission, those attending the meeting Friday generally agreed the need is now here for some type of juvenile facilities in the county jail, and remodeling as planned last year should proceed with all possible speed.

Leonard said Paul Ostyn, City Council member, will discuss current status of the project with city councilmen.

Present hopes of the county are for the addition of space for 28 juveniles which could be used by other prisoners if not needed by juveniles.

"This would allow our present jail to handle up to 75 or 80 persons," Leonard said, "which our sheriff feels would be adequate for some time."

Sheriff Paul Carder told the group he contemplates a security room in connection with the remodeled fourth floor area of the courthouse. Here a security officer or "jailer" would be on duty 24 hours a day with communication with the sheriff's office on the first floor to report any problems or jail break attempts.

The county will pay for the remodeling program under state law which requires the county to house all prisoners. Matching federal funds are also available.

Last year Twin Falls County budgeted $80,000 for the remodeling but did not levy for the amount as time did not permit the start of the project.

Leonard said another $95,000, including $12,500 local funds and a similar amount in federal funds has been budgeted this year for the project.

It is also possible the county can do the work without federal money at a much lower cost if doing its own planning and standards.

As for a county-city jail complex, Leonard said, those attending the Friday meeting agree this is several years in the future yet and will also depend on changing legislation and jail trends involving such things as regional jail programs.

Gooding hospital funding approved

Special to the Times-News
BOISE — The Joint Finance Appropriations Committee Friday gave a do pass recommendation to a $3,000 appropriation for maintenance of the vacant tuberculosis hospital in Gooding for the coming year.

The action came after the committee had approved the transfer of $10,035 for the current year from the Department of Public Lands to the Department of Social and Rehabilitation Services.

The State Land Board approved the transfer of the vacant structure to SRS earlier this year. It has been classified as surplus state property.

The figure approved for the coming year represents an increase over the $40,000 approved for maintenance of the building and grounds for the year ending June 30.

The hospital was approved for transfer to the regional SRS office which could establish a child development center for that area of the Magic Valley.

Charges dropped against US POW

WASHINGTON (UPI) — The Army has dropped court-martial charges against a former prisoner of war in connection with an alleged assault against another GI in Vietnam nearly three years ago, just before the defendant was captured by the Viet Cong.

An Army spokesman said Friday there would be no punitive action of any kind against Spec. 4 Keith A. Albert, 21, of Thibodaux, La., who was freed near An Loc, South Vietnam, on Feb. 12 and is now completing medical examinations and debriefings at Brooke Army Medical Center, San Antonio, Tex.

Although the Army gave no reasons, a source close to the case said that "to pursue the charges would serve no useful purpose. The offense was not one of sufficient magnitude to make it necessary to add more tribulation after all he's been through already."

Albert, who was assigned to Vietnam July 8, 1969, was charged with assaulting another serviceman April 19, 1970, a little more than a month later, while awaiting trial, he was captured in a Viet Cong ambush outside DaLat.

Gem hero recognized

COEUR D'ALENE, Idaho (UPI) — A Coeur d'Alene man has been given a community service award for his efforts in averting a possible disaster last summer.

Ben Patzer was issued the community service award by the Veterans of Foreign Wars Post 889. The award cited Patzer for bravery in driving a burning truck away from gasoline and fuel oil storage tanks last June 30.

The eight storage tanks are located on Coeur d'Alene's west side and near North Idaho College and Sherman Elementary School.

Viet parley

PARIS (UPI) — North Vietnamese Foreign Minister Nguyen Duy Trinh said Saturday he hopes the International Conference on Vietnam starting Monday in Paris will secure an end to cease-fire violations.

Trinh arrived at Bretigny military airfield as the head of the Hanoi delegation to the talks which are aimed at providing international guarantees for the 12-party foreign ministers conference. U.S. Secretary of State William P. Rogers left Washington for Paris Saturday, saying he thought that the meeting would be interesting, short and successful.

Monday's conference will be historic because for the first time ever the Foreign Ministers of the world's three superpowers — China, the Soviet Union and the United States — will meet together in the same room.

Trinh said that in executing the agreement certain positive results have been obtained, but there have been many violations some of them very serious.

In his arrival statement Trinh also said "The Vietnamese people and world opinion are deeply preoccupied with this situation and demand strict respect and scrupulous execution of the agreement."

Anti-drug chemicals studied

RICHLAND, Wash. (UPI) — Scientists at Battelle — Northwest are investigating a new approach to the "problem of drug addiction."

Battelle officials said the goal of the research program is an effective "narcotic antagonist" — a chemical that opposes the action of hard drugs and keeps users from experiencing a "high."

The study is concentrated on the development of a bio-degradable implant that will slowly dissolve to release the antagonist over a period of weeks or months, according to Dr. Maurice F. Sullivan, leader of the research program.

He said several promising materials are being tested in laboratory animals at the Battelle Life Sciences Laboratory in Richland.

The drug research program was initiated by a $99,200 contract with the health department of the city of New York.

Sullivan said there are about 600,000 hard drug addicts and many more suspected users of hard drugs in the United States, and present medical treatments for them principally rely on the use of methadone, a heroin substitute.

Sullivan said methadone is being supplied to about 60,000 addicts.

The Battelle scientist said the methadone produces a mild "high" and must be taken daily.

Business briefs

BOISE — David Schmidt, son of Mr. and Mrs. Paul Schmidt, Ruhl, has received his Idaho license to practice architecture after passing state registration examinations.

Schmidt will continue with the Boise firm of Hummel, Hummel, Jones and Shawver as a design consultant. He has served a three years' apprenticeship with that firm.

Unions request trade barriers

MIAMI BEACH (UPI) — The AFL-CIO said Saturday the answer to the nation's monetary and trade problems lies in curbing imports and on the overseas flow of American technology and capital.

The AFL-CIO Executive Council, nearing the end of its midwinter meeting here, blamed currency speculation and dollar dumping by multinational corporations, banks and speculators for bringing on the recent world monetary crisis.

"In cold fact, U.S. corporations and banks put profits ahead of patriotism, selling their country's currency in order to make swift profits for themselves," the council said.

The labor leaders called for passage of the Burke-Hartke bill allowing import quotas, regulation of the export of American technology and capital and removal of tax breaks for overseas income of American firms.

President Nixon has moved closer to labor's position on import curbs by asking Congress to give him authority to set flexible tariffs for selected products in order to offset barriers to American exports.

But the White House has not proposed any curbs on American investment overseas or any higher taxes on overseas earnings of U.S. firms, such as asked by labor.

AFL-CIO President George Meany said earlier that he saw merit in Nixon's tariff proposal, but would withhold final judgment until the legislation is drafted.

The council said that the dollar devaluations of 1971 and 1973 gave the speculators "their big profits, forced the United States to bail them out, the U.S. currency suffered another blow and the rest of America will pay the price."

The labor panel said "both devaluations were actions taken in crisis," and that devaluing the dollar "cannot possibly solve the problem" of America's trade deficit because other nations "can offset all or part of the dollar devaluation through the management of their domestic economies."

Enemies socialize

PARIS (UPI) — The South Vietnamese, Viet Cong and North Vietnamese attended a party Saturday night to socialize in public for the first time in the history of the 15-year-old war.

The Saigon delegation to the conference gave a reception at a luxury for all delegates and approximately 900 other guests.

Mme. Nguyen Thi Binh, foreign minister for the Viet Cong, walked through the receiving line and shook hands for several seconds with South Vietnamese Foreign Minister Tran Van Lam. Later they chatted while he protectively held his arm behind her back to ward off the crowd.

Shootdown pondered

LONDON (UPI) — The International Federation of Airline Pilots Associations (IFALPA) said Saturday its officials will meet Monday in London to discuss the downing of the Libyan airliner by Israeli jets.

The British Airline Pilots Association (BALPA) is pressing for a boycott of flights to Israel, aviation sources said.

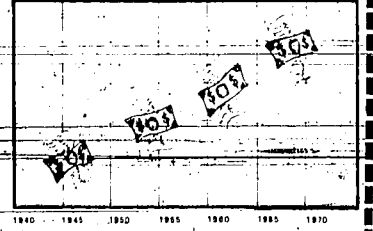

A spokesman for BALPA, which recently urged an aviation boycott of any country involved in "aerial piracy," said today: "We are going to make some strong recommendations, but I can't say what they are."

The American and Canadian pilots associations, which along with BALPA have demanded stern measures to end hijackings and air sabotage, will be represented at Monday's meetings. IFALPA represents 64,000 pilots.

Reds agree on Mediterranean

LONDON (UPI) — The Soviet Union is "very willing" to reach a settlement with the United States on pulling back from the strategic Mediterranean, but only on an equal basis, the official English language publication of Soviet Weekly said today.

The publication said that despite many recent improvements in the European situation, sources of potential danger still remain, not least in the Mediterranean.

"The Soviet government has never considered it an ideal situation for fleets of great powers to spend a great deal of their time away from their own coasts," it said. "The Soviet government is very willing to reach a settlement on that question, too. But only on an equal basis."

Diplomatic sources said the implication clearly was that Moscow wants the American 6th Fleet out of the Mediterranean or at least reduced in strength. This has been a long-standing Soviet aim, openly proclaimed by Party Leader Leonid I. Brezhnev at the Communist summit meeting in Karlovy Vary, Czechoslovakia, some five years ago.

But the Soviet call at this stage also points to Moscow's desire to reduce its commitments in the area, following the cooling of relations with Cairo and a pullback from its earlier heavy military involvement there, they said.

Reporter wants release

SAN FRANCISCO (UPI) — William T. Farr has filed an appellate court brief asking that a contempt of court citation against him be dropped because the information he refused to divulge concerning a newspaper article he wrote could no longer be of significance.

Farr, a former Los Angeles newspaperman, was jailed for violating a secrecy order during the 1971 Charles Manson trial. U.S. Supreme Court Justice William O. Douglas later ordered him released.

Farr seeks to reverse a federal district court ruling denying him habeas corpus.

Q — We're trying to follow a lot-fat diet and it's often difficult to determine what to choose by reading what's on the labels.

A — Isn't the government coming out with a new law which will make food companies put information on labels to help those with special food problems? — Mrs. A. F., Bethesda, Md.

A — The Food and Drug Administration has issued a new set of rules to provide nutritional labeling on a voluntary basis. The labeling will include such things as fat content and the amount of cholesterol the food contains.

Other information on carbohydrates, protein, vitamins and minerals will also be listed as a percentage of the government's "recommended daily allowances."

This nutritional labeling will take time to implement and nutritionists claim you still won't have all the information you need on the new labels.

Meanwhile, I recommend an excellent booklet, "Brand Name Shoppers Guide," for those who want to cut down on fat and cholesterol in their diet. It's put out by the Montgomery County (Md.) Heart Association and you can get a copy by sending 25 cents to the association headquarters, 7847 Old Georgetown Rd., Bethesda, Md. 20814.

The booklet lists such things as "egg substitutes," special cheeses and the cholesterol levels of specific servings of various foods (one egg has 252 mg., angel-food cake has zero, liver has 372 mg., canned chow mein has 5 mg. per cup).

All foods are listed by brand name wherever possible and there's a special section for people on hyperlipoproteinemia diets (low sugar, low carbohydrates).

Q — In a recent column, you suggested that readers who have problems with automobile insurance (injury) claims should get in touch with their state insurance commissioner. This won't help.

The poor man's ticket to the courthouse is the trial lawyer who is available to represent the average insured client for absolutely nothing. Attorneys are available on a contingency basis (they only make money if you make money on your claim). — H.H., California Trial Lawyers Association.

A — I didn't tell readers to write their state insurance commissions and be done with it. I told them to write their commissioners and to send a copy to their state legislature representative. This is still good advice if anyone is having trouble getting a response from an insurance company.

It's true that a lawyer can get quicker action out of an insurance company if there's a dispute over the amount of money in an injury claim and if there's a dispute over who was at fault.

One thing I didn't mention the first time is the fact that your own insurance company should be able to help, especially if you have medical coverage.

Q — In your column on old records, your facts were generally correct. May I make a few corrections?

Records by Caruso, Gailt-Curel and others were made by the Victor Talking Machine Co. which became part of the RCA organization in the 1930s. The old, one-sided records were on Victrola not RCA labels and were made of a shellac compound, not acetate.

The Archive of Recorded Sound, Stanford University, was set up as a depository for these old records. We do not have funds to purchase records but we can receive them as gifts (they're tax deductible).

We can make official evaluations. Interested donors may write Archive of Recorded Sound, Stanford University Libraries, Stanford, Calif. 94305.

A — Thanks for the tip. Peter Weaver welcomes questions from readers for possible use in his column. Please send letters to him in care of this newspaper.

Table offered

CONVERSATION PIECE In any home, a plastic covered petrified wood and gem coffee table is displayed by Harold O. Waggoner, chairman of the 21st annual Magic Valley Gem Show. Someone attending the show March 3 and 4 will be given the table valued at $395.

MV Gem Show set in TF

TWIN FALLS — Gem and rock displays from throughout Idaho and several adjoining states will be featured in the 21st annual Magic Valley Gem Show March 3 and 4.

Someone attending the show will also go home with a $395 memento, a coffee table made of petrified wood and inlaid with decorative stone. The table was made by Jay Davis and is a hexagon shape with travertine rock and other stone inserts highlighting the petrified wood top.

Harold O. Waggoner, show chairman, said the table is one of some 100 items to be given away during the show which will be held Saturday, Saturday night and Sunday in the National Guard Armory at Frontier Field.

In addition to faceted stones, collections of cut and polished items, jewelry and unusual rocks and gems, there will be several dealers displays.

Five dealers, most of them from out of state, will be exhibiting and several demonstrations will be given in faceting and polishing during the event.

Dr. Ellwood Reen, who won honors in the national show will display his winning exhibit. Competitive exhibits will be judged and awards presented during the event.

The show is open to the public at a nominal charge which entitles those attending to compete for the many prizes. The person who receives the special table need not be present at the time the award is made.

'Cop-killer' shot to death

ATLANTA (UPI)—One of two "killers" slain in a shootout with a lone Atlanta policeman, identified Saturday as John Perry Boyd—an accused cop killer who was the subject of the most intensive manhunt in Detroit's history.

The other man who died in the Friday night shooting was Owen D. Winfield, 30, believed to be Boyd's half brother.

Boyd and Winfield were slain when officer Bobby W. Davis stopped them, as suspicious persons in a black district of Atlanta. Davis said Boyd, while being questioned, whipped out a paratrooper-type carbine which he carried on a sling under a long coat.

The patrolman said he pushed the gun barrel aside just as Boyd fired, then drew his own revolver and returned the fire as he dashed for cover. The second man also opened fire, and Davis brought them both down while telling a woman who was standing on a nearby porch to call for help.

WASHINGTON (UPI)—Sen. William Proxmire, D-Wis., charged Friday that Patrick Gray was serving illegally as acting director of the FBI and that he should resign.

Proxmire told a news conference that he was dead serious about his charge and that he was not "nitpicking" or having "political fun."

Gray, said Proxmire, was illegally serving because of a federal law which limits the tenure of an agency's acting director to 30 days.

Gray has been acting director since May 3 and President Nixon did not send his name to the Senate for confirmation until last week.

Proxmire said the General Accounting Office supports his view, but that the Justice Department disagreed.

"The FBI would not comment but a Justice Department spokesman said, 'We interpreted the legal code one way and the GAO interpreted it another way.'"

Proxmire said he was calling for Gray to resign immediately.

A reporter wanted to know if Proxmire was not just having "some political fun."

"No," Proxmire replied. "I think this is very important. This is a government of laws. I don't mean to be nitpicking or technical in any way."

Proxmire produced a letter from Comptroller General Elmer B. Staats who wrote that sections of the United States Code were clearly intended to preclude the extending filling of an office subject to Senate confirmation without submission of a nomination to the Senate.

But Staats noted that the Justice Department thinks the Gray appointment is not included in the statutes cited.

Disagreeing, Proxmire said: "The United States Code flatly prohibits the use of temporary appointments to fill positions subject to Senate confirmation for longer than 30 days. Mr. Gray should step down."

The Senate Judiciary Committee will take up Gray's nomination Wednesday. It is expected to be approved by the committee and the full Senate.

winners. There was a 50 per cent change of getting two more out of the heart suit. All he had to do was find East with the queen.

There was a better chance for getting two extra tricks in clubs. A suit breaks 3-2 some 68 per cent of the time.

At first glance the club play looked best, but South went on to how can I make this hand and saw that the opponents would collect three spades, one heart and one club if they were given a club trick. So South led to dummy's king of diamonds and played the jack of hearts. East had the queen. The 30 per cent chance worked and the student triumphed.

By Oswald & James Jacoby

South was one of those students of the game who tried his best to apply his learning to every bid and play.

In particular, he applied the code word ARCH to start the play of every dummy.

He analyzed the lead as fourth best and saw that his best play from dummy would be the nine spot. This would give him two stoppers in the suit if West had led from ace-10, and East held the queen.

Unfortunately the nine merely forced East's 10 and South could do no better than take his king on trick one.

Review of the bidding told him nothing except that he rather wished that North had just bid two no-trump instead of three.

Congressional wrinkles still remain

WASHINGTON (UPI) — Congressional reformers once again have performed plastic surgery on the aging face of the seniority system, but many of the old wrinkles remain.

For years liberals in Congress have fought to abolish the system that selects powerful committee chairmen purely on the basis of elective longevity.

Significant changes have been made in the way the system works; most recently in the current session. And some reformers unblinkingly have declared that the unwritten custom has been "abolished."

In truth, however, the traditional system of turning over the reins of congressional power to Congress' most experienced — and in some cases, oldest — members continues as it always has.

openly to challenge a chairman. In fact, it was only used once in an unsuccessful challenge against former Rep. John L. McMillin, D-S.C., who headed the District of Columbia Committee.

House Republicans, at that time, agreed to require secret votes by their entire membership to choose their top-ranking committee leaders. And, predictably, the senior-ranking Republican on each committee "was selected."

Last month, House Democrats agreed to follow the GOP lead and called for a secret ballot on the selection of each committee chairman. One by one through 21 successive votes, the senior-committee leaders were chosen by an overwhelming vote of confidence.

Rep. Richard Ichord, D-Mo.,

chairman of the Internal Security Committee, had the most opposition with a 108-49 vote, but that represented House opposition to the committee itself rather than to Ichord personally.

Again, on the GOP side, ranking minority leaders all were approved easily.

Senate Republicans also approved similar reforms last month, expulating changes made two years ago by their Democratic colleagues. Here again the ranking GOP members of each committee automatically were given power.

And the trappings of prestige and power still are considerable.

The chairman sets the committee's agenda, designates subcommittee chairmen, refers bills to his subcommittees, decides when the committee meets and whether to hold hearings, approves the list of witnesses, hires staff, decides what to investigate, manages legislation on the floor, decides when the committee is to vote on bills and opens and closes committee debate.

Ranking Republicans hire minority staffing on each committee and agree in-line for the chairmanship should the GOP win a majority in the Senate or House.

In the coming years, he added, "through the seniority system, you'll have liberals coming up taking their places."

'In truth, the traditional system of turning over the reins of congressional power to Congress' most experienced members continues as it always has.'

Janss heads Gem Easter seal drive

WARREN BARRY
area chairman

Barry named as area chairman

TWIN FALLS — Warren Barry has been appointed as Easter Seal Society campaign chairman for the magic valley area this year.

Barry will head a campaign beginning Thursday and continuing to April 22. His appointment was announced today by Ilay Larson, Boise, executive director of the state campaign.

In accepting the appointment, Barry said, "Despite the abundance of government programs in areas once reserved for philanthropy, the average citizen still accepts the responsibility for paying his share, however small, in making community health care needs the voluntary way."

He said government and private health agencies form a partnership to meet needs. Private agencies, such as the Easter Seal Society, serve as the catalysts and innovators, through demonstrative programs, in the critically needed areas of massive public assistance, Barry said.

Barry, vice president and manager of Volux Inc., Twin Falls, Jerome and Burley, which he joined as a salesman in 1948, has long been active in community affairs. He has served as a member of the Board of Trusts, College of Idaho; member and past chairman of the Salvation Army Advisory Board; past president of the Twin Falls Rotary Club, chairman of the Twin Falls Industrial Development Corp., past vice president of the Twin Falls Chamber of Commerce, former member and president of the county fair and rodeo board, as a member of the National Advisory Council, Small Business Administration, and was named small businessman of the year in Idaho in 1972, receiving a commendation from President Richard Nixon for SBA service in 1970.

Barry is owner and chairman of the board of Sun Valley Co. Inc. He is also a member of the District Advisory Board of SBA, and a member of the Idaho Board of Aeronautics and is active in many community, church and social organizations. He holds a 21-year safe flying award and "C" badge in the Soaring Society of America.

Historical drama set at college

TWIN FALLS — Cast members of the College of Southern Idaho Drama Department production, "The Lion in Winter," are announced by director Eddie Collins.

Michel Guillen will play the role of Henry II, with Patricia Elledge as Eleanor of Aquitaine in the historical drama by James Goldman. Henry's sons, Richard the Lionheart, John and Geoffrey, will be played by Tracy Hansen, SUN VALLEY — William C. Janss has been named honorary state campaign chairman for Idaho's 1973 Easter Seal Campaign.

Janss is owner and chairman of the board of Sun Valley Co. Inc.

Ruth M. Patorson, Jerome, state board director and Magic Valley campaign coordinator who made the announcement, said Janss will lead more than 6,000 volunteers in the annual appeal for funds. The 1973 campaign will be conducted from March 1 to April 22.

According to a Sun Valley News Bureau news release, the Easter Seal Society is a direct service organization, using more than 92.8 per cent of all funds for its programs to aid and rehabilitate Idaho's handicapped.

The society operates speech and hearing centers in Twin Falls, Boise and Idaho Falls. Kindergarten classes for speech handicapped children of pre-school age are also conducted in Twin Falls and Boise. The society also makes an annual grant of $1,000 to the speech and hearing department of Idaho State University, Pocatello.

Each year, the society sends 40 to 50 crippled children, ages 9 to 17, to Camp Easter Seal at Lake Coeur d'Alene, which is operated jointly by the Idaho and Washington Easter Seal societies and is staffed by Washington State University. The society also provides case service in every county within the state. Transportation to medical centers for surgery and hospitalization, crutches, wheelchair, corrective shoes, braces and other orthopedic devices are provided to crippled children and adults who need them.

In accepting his appointment, Janss said "The Idaho Easter Seal Society receives no government money and is not affiliated with any other fund raising campaign. I strongly urge all Idahoans to respond Larry Kimball and Roy Greybill, Sue Palmer will play Alais, with Robert Haynes as Philip.

The drama will be presented in CSI Fine Arts Auditorium March 29-31.

Production staff members are Laura Brandon, stage manager; Betty Norris, property manager, and James Van Leishout, assistant director.

more useful future by doing so."

Janss has been a full-time resident of Idaho since the Sun Valley Co., Inc. purchased the resort from the Union Pacific Railroad in 1964. He is a graduate of Stanford University and has managed and operated cattle feed lots in the southwest United States and Hawaii.

In 1940 he was selected as a member of the US Olympic Alpine Ski Team. Janss is a member of the board for several corporations, including Janss Investment,

First Security and Johns-Manville. He also serves as a member of the board for the National Ski Areas Association and Elkhorn at Sun Valley.

Crackdown welfare cheaters draws protest from governors, solons

WASHINGTON (UPI) — The administration's proposed crackdown on welfare cheaters and sloppy welfare administration has drawn condemnation from 150 governors, state and federal lawmakers and local welfare organizations.

Four of the comments filed with the Department of Health, Education and Welfare (HEW) complain about the effect of the

The latest national survey of state administration of federal welfare aid reveals an ineligibility rate of 6.8 per cent and an overpayment rate of 13.7 per cent in aid to needy families, the budget said. It added the error blind and disabled, the error rate is 4.9 per cent ineligibility and 0.7 per cent overpayment. The administration asked Congress for authority to hire 725 new persons to monitor welfare spending.

The basic objections of the states are that the cutback would have no impact on overpayments or payments to ineligible recipients; would impose heavy fiscal losses on each state, and would penalize states for errors "largely if not entirely beyond their ability to correct."

HEW estimates that the $689 million savings would result from controls during the current fiscal year and fiscal 1974. The executive committee of the National Governors Conference endorsed the principle of improved welfare administration but strongly objected to the proposed rules on the grounds that they would allow no tolerance for error "in administering a complex federal-state welfare system which is dominated by federal law and often changing federal regulations." Both the League of Women Voters and the National Urban League said the cutbacks could penalize the poor.

But Mrs. Julia N. Krull of Margate, Fla., one of 10 individuals who filed comments, wrote: "Three cheers and it's about time HEW put some clamps on welfare money. The taxpayers of this country have no quarrel with people who are unable to work receiving help. But we are more than tired of able-bodied lazy parasites refusing to work and doing their part to help others who really need help." (Next: Water Pollution Control Spending.)

crackdown on individual welfare recipients because the poor generally have no lobby. Instead, the argument usually is at a higher level — politicians and government officials squabbling about the legality of such cuts.

Indeed, more than 30 states have hired a District of Columbia law firm and have threatened court action to prevent the cuts. HEW said regulations reducing federal matching aid will be effective no later than April 1. The administration threatens to withhold from states the amount of money that HEW believes "now is going to multiple or overpaid welfare recipients."

In his proposed fiscal year 1974 budget, President Nixon told Congress that improved management of welfare aid was more important at this time than the welfare reform plan he had proposed to Congress during his first term.

"It is now this administration's intent, pending future long-range legislative efforts, to come to grips with the high levels of error — primarily ineligibility and overpayment — that currently exist in the federal-state maintenance assistance (welfare), medical assistance and social services programs," said the proposed HEW budget.

Filer gets funds for swim pool

PHILIP — The city of Filer will receive a federal grant in the amount of $1,235 for the design and engineering of the Filer swimming pool.

Merle Allison, member of the Idaho State Parks and Recreation board, made the announcement of approval of the grant by the Department of Interior's Federal Bureau of Outdoor Recreation, Pacific Northwest Region Division.

Allison, in making the announcement, said the project is administered on the federal level by the Bureau of Outdoor Recreation and is administered locally by the state of Idaho.

To date, Idaho has received over $8.6 million for Bureau of Outdoor Recreation Land and Water Conservation Fund projects for local units of government.

The Filer project has a total cost of $83,567 and completion is planned sometime in the winter of 1974.

Engines stolen in TF

TWIN FALLS — Jack Leshner, operator of Twin Falls Auto Parts, reported to police Thursday that engines and other metal had been stolen from the premises of his business.

Police reports estimated the value of the missing equipment at about $30. It was stolen from an open yard, police said.

Part of George's home transferred

WASHINGTON (UPI) — George Washington's "River Front Farm," once a part of his Mt. Vernon estate along the Potomac River south of Washington, was officially transferred Friday to the American Horticultural Society to be used as a national horticultural center.

The property gained widespread attention in 1931 when the Russian government attempted to purchase it for use by Soviet embassy personnel. The attempt was blocked by the State Department but the 25-acre estate remained closed to public access.

The Horticultural Society purchased the estate and the grounds with a $1 million gift from former magazine editor Mrs. Emil A. Haupt. Mrs.

Haupt said she gave the money after becoming concerned that the public might not have access to the scenic property.

After hearing that the Soviet government wanted to buy the estate as a summer retreat, "I immediately tried to get the State Department on the telephone but couldn't," she said. "I understand I was just one of millions who were concerned."

The society, a national membership organization, intends to establish headquarters on the property and open it as a teaching center available for lectures, meetings and other activities related to experimental work on plants and environmental problems.

George Washington bought the land from an Indian chief when it was a farm in 1760 and gave it to Tobias Lear, his private secretary, to use during his lifetime. The estate's 1,000-foot frontage on the Potomac River has remained essentially unchanged since that time.

"River Front Farm is one of five properties purchased by General Washington during his lifetime and which became part of his family estate," Mrs. Haupt said. "My only stipulation in making this gift was that the mansion and grounds remain available for the viewing, enjoyment and pleasure of Americans as part of their heritage."

During winter, bees maintain a tight cluster within the hive, creating a temperature as high as 95 to 100 degrees at the cluster center.

Mixup

BUFFALO, Okla. (UPI) — The only explanation police have is that the two teen-age robbers must have gotten the bank mixed up with the library.

"It's the first attempted library robbery I ever heard of," policeman Ray Dawson said Thursday.

Dawson said the teenagers held out an empty pillow case and told the library attendant, "Put it in."

"Put what in?" the attendant asked.

"The money. Put it in and nobody'll get hurt," the youth demanded.

The attendant, who said there was less than $1 in collected library fines in his petty cash box, ran out the door and escaped. The teen-agers, believed to be runaways from Florida, were arrested hours later in Garden City, Kan.

The town's library and bank are a block apart on corner locations, and the exterior of the bank is partially obstructed because of scaffolding used in remodeling.

"It would be easy to go in the wrong door, thinking you were in the bank," Dawson said.

Shoshone club meets

SHOSHONE — DIMO-Bridge Thomas, Mrs. James Canine club met at the home of Mrs. C. and Mrs. E. I. Shaw.

After bridge, Mrs. Roy Coles entertained the group with piano selections.

Prizes were won by Mrs. John

Most property taxes collected

TWIN FALLS — About 96 per cent of the 1972 Twin Falls County personal property taxes have been collected, according to county treasurer Ruth K. Jones.

Included under personal property liable to taxation, Mrs. Jones said, are machinery, tools, equipment, art and coin collections, furniture and fixtures and signs and signboards.

Mrs. Jones said Wednesday that $352,282.70 of the total assessment of $366,790.52 was received by the Dec. 25, 1972, deadline. She said delinquent personal property tax amounted to $14,515.82, about four per cent of the total.

Mrs. Jones said warrants of restraint on the delinquencies are filed with the sheriff's office and that the sheriff is empowered to seize the property upon which the tax is delinquent and sell all or part of it to meet tax charged.

Personal property is distinguished from real property, Mrs. Jones said, in that the land upon which the property is located is not owned by the owner of the property on the land.

Question: What would cause a bit two-year-old Siamese neutered male to want to chew up wool, yarn, socks, anything that is wool? He's well-frisky, and eats good - but the wool chewing has got me.

Answer: It's gotten me, too, several times when I tried to find a physical explanation. You can try increasing bulk in the diet (more dry cat chow), vitamins, especially biotin, adding oil to his food, and giving him some nice chewy objects like catnip mice and rubber strips.

But the truth is he'll probably still be chomping socks, afghans, blankets and bathrobes until you decide he's neurotic, disturbed, depraved, and depraved. There you have the diagnosis.

Most wool-chewers are frustrated by something in their environment: a new cat on the block, too much teasing, lack of exercise, a female in heat, recent move, whatever psychs them out.

If the cause can be found and changed the mitten-munching stops overnight, almost like magic!

Question: I have a question about my cat. Would you please answer it for me? What does it mean when your cat (it is a male cat) slobbers on the furniture and you? Is it possible to stop it?

Answer: It means he drools.

Some of the respiratory diseases that may lead to teeth, trench mouth, gum diseases, foreign objects lodged in the teeth and some kidney problems can cause excessive salivation.

Or an enraptured feline may be so captivated by his companion that he forgets to close his mouth and swallow. The first syndromes require veterinary intervention; the latter, a large handkerchief and lots of compassion.

Question: I have a parakeet, Caruso, who has been vomiting lately. He actually throws up his seed. He doesn't do it all the time, though. Can you possibly tell me what is wrong with him?

Answer: Parakeets can vomit at will and it sounds like Caruso will vomit until he sets the score straight. Have you added any new toys to his cage?

Many parakeets have been known to vomit persistently when upset by a mirror that showed them their figure. Others have reacted to owner's nervousness by becoming upset and vomiting whenever that person approached.

First, remove all new toys, food, perches, etc. Next, calm yourself. Then, if Caruso remains temperamental, take him in for a physical.

If you have a question about your pet, send it to The Merry Pet, in care of the Times-News.

Fight said not yet won

WASHINGTON (UPI)—Democrats Friday disputed President Nixon's claim that the fight against pollution is close to being won, and challenged him to join Congress in enactment of new environmental legislation.

House Speaker Carl Albert, in a 10-minute reply to Nixon's earlier broadcast on the environment, said, "Our environmental achievements over the past 10 years are dwarfed by what remains to be done."

"I wish I could agree with Mr. Nixon's recent statement that 'We are well on the way to winning the war against environmental degradation.' However, the problem has been and still is very critical. The war is not close to being won," Albert said.

The speaker was picked by Democrats to give his party's reply on radio time provided by the networks.

"I do not intend to paint a picture of the environment just to take issue with the President," he said. "This crisis goes beyond partisan politics to the very heart of our existence."

Albert took issue with Nixon's claim that the old 92nd Congress failed to act on 19 major environmental bills. He said, "The President would have done well to note that the last Congress passed more than 150 bills dealing with the environment and natural resources."

Albert also said that one major measure, the water pollution act, was vetoed by Nixon and that Congress overrode the veto.

"However, the President was just as determined to delay antipollution efforts and arbitrarily decided not to spend $6 billion of the money Congress appropriated for the water pollution bill, Albert said.

Park reservations computerized

WASHINGTON (UPI)—The popular parks soon will be computerized. The National Park Service told Congress Friday that reservations for campsites in six parks as well as at six of the nation's most famous national parks will be computerized.

Ronald H. Walker identified the six parks as Yosemite in California, Yellowstone in Montana and Wyoming, Grand Teton in Wyoming, Everglades in Florida, Grand Canyon in Arizona and Acadia in Maine.

Tax hike favored over Nixon cuts

WASHINGTON (UPI)—Liberal economist Walter W. Heller said Friday a federal tax increase would be preferable to the slashes in social spending President Nixon has proposed.

Heller, chairman of the Council of Economic Advisors, under Presidents John F. Kennedy and Lyndon B. Johnson, accused Nixon of adopting a philosophy of "if at first you don't succeed, give up," in declaring more than 100 social programs to be failures and proposing to abandon them.

Those programs are seeking solutions to tough problems such as curbing water pollution from 40,000 different sources—and greater patience is warranted, he said.

Heller made his remarks in testimony before Sen. Edmund S. Muskie's Senate subcommittee on intergovernmental relations.

Heller said tax reform could raise the billions necessary to continue the federal attack on national problems Nixon wants to ignore. But if tax reform can't pass, a federal tax increase would be justified, he said.

Plan unit narrows field

JEROME—Members of the South Idaho Resource Planning and Development Association have narrowed the field of applicants for a four-county planner.

In a meeting here Wednesday afternoon members of the board of directors of the association reviewed applications and interviewed several applicants for the position of a fulltime planner.

William Chancey, Twin Falls County commissioner and representative on the board, said a final decision was delayed until further information can be obtained on several of the prospective planners.

The post was vacated earlier this month when Eric Barnes, who has held the job the past year, resigned because of ill health.

POW treatment listed

NEW YORK (UPI) — Some American prisoners of war in North Vietnam were mistreated to force them to make anti-U.S. statements and others freely cooperated with the enemy during their imprisonment, the New York Times reported today.

In a dispatch from Washington, the Times said that some returning senior military officers have expressed a desire to bring court-martial charges against at least two former prisoners.

Quoting Pentagon, military and other sources, the Times said there was a wide diversity of opinion about the war among the POWs and that occasional fist-fights broke out. One pilot reportedly pulled a knife on another prisoner during an argument.

Those who chose to cooperate with the North Vietnamese were dubbed "house radicals" and were separated from prisoners who had been captured the longest and were housed with men captured more recently.

One officer said that most of the POWs want this to come out eventually but don't want to do anything now that might jeopardize prisoners still being held.

Some returning prisoners reported that treatment at POW camps was harsh during the early years of captivity with isolation and poor food commonplace, the Times report said. Some were subjected to brutal interrogation and forced to sign antiwar statements and make propaganda broadcasts.

The treatment of POWs by the North Vietnamese changed abruptly for the better in October, 1969, one officer told the Times. Conditions were eased, food improved, the men were allowed to live in groups of 20 and there was more opportunity for exercise and recreation.

One government official said that the press descriptions of the joyous flights from Hanoi to Clark Air Force Base in the Philippines were accurate as far as they went.

One plane, he said, contained two former prisoners who were believed to have collaborated with their captors. Both were senior officers and pilots, he said.

Nobody said a word to them.

Marjorie Ehresman arranges flowers

Blind woman begins career

By JOCELYN CLOWARD
Times-News writer

TWIN FALLS — Flowers and floral decorations fill the home of Mrs. Marjorie B. Ehresman here.

Mrs. Ehresman, who is legally blind, opened her home floral business Feb. 1. Although not completely sightless, she has been partially sighted since birth, a physical handicap which eventually led her into opening her new business.

With the help of her husband, Gayle, and the assistance and encouragement of the Idaho Commission for the Blind, Mrs. Ehresman bought the home on Sparks Avenue and remodeled it to include a cooler and flower racks for display.

Arrangement work is done in her kitchen. There, she said, "My customers can see how I make arrangements. Some even like to pitch in themselves."

Mrs. Ehresman has supplies and decorations available for weddings and funerals as well as arrangements, corsages, plants and novelties. She also makes paper floral arrangements.

"I try for something different," she said, "and hope to have a special every day."

Mrs. Ehresman was assisted in her career in floristry by the Idaho Commission for the Blind.

"Three and one half years ago," she said, "a commission representative came to my home and asked me if I would like to further my education. I was interested in floristry, but it took a lot of talking to convince the commission that such a field was possible for me," she said.

"The Commission helped me attend the Cliff Mann Floral School in Denver, Colo. in January, 1972," she said. "I was the first partially sighted person to graduate from a school of floral design," Mrs. Ehresman said.

At the school, she was trained in buying, wholesaling, retailing, design and proper care of plants and flowers.

In spite of her training and certification she was unable because of her vision to find permanent work with area florists. It was then that she was encouraged by the commission to establish a shop, she said.

"The commission encouraged and helped me," she said, "so that I might be able to make my own living. They believed in me."

Any partially sighted or blind person can receive counseling from the Commission for the Blind, Idaho Statehouse, Boise, she said.

The new business is a culmination of many years of overcoming what Mrs. Ehresman calls a "necessary nuisance."

"Everybody has some defect he must learn to live with," she said. "I dislike the word 'handicap.'"

Born with congenital cataracts, Mrs. Ehresman attended schools in Gooding, Pocatello and Carbon High School, Price, Utah.

"I did not go on to college," she said, "but this was a mistake. It wasn't until last year that I discovered that I could have pursued a career as a medical diagnostician, something in which I was interested."

Able to see color, Mrs. Ehresman found her interest in floristry when she was hired by a Soda Springs florist about 13 years ago. "I have always loved plants," she said. "I learned a great deal about the floral business in my six years at that job."

"What other people do by seeing, I do by feeling," she said.

Mrs. Ehresman has one son, Gary Donnelly, attending the University of Idaho, and one daughter, Mrs. Kelley Benningfeld, at Idaho State University, and two grandchildren.

Hung jury ends trial

Times-News Writer

TWIN FALLS — A hung jury Friday night resulted in the second mistrial within a month in the case of David Dean Moorehead, 18, Twin Falls. Moorehead, on trial on a charge of delivery of a controlled substance, was remanded to the custody of the County Jail until Monday by Fifth District Court Judge James M. Cunningham after the jury foreman told the court he was absolutely sure the panel could not reach a decision.

The jury had been in deliberation four-and-a-half hours before court was reconvened at 9:30 p.m.

Judge Cunningham, in remanding the defendant to the County Jail, asked that County Prosecutor Robert W. Galley inform the court on Monday whether further prosecution would be sought in the case.

A previous mistrial in Moorehead's case was declared by Judge Cunningham on Jan. 21. Interestingly enough a month to the day prior to Friday's hung jury — after an article appearing in the Times-News was construed as prejudicial.

In granting Moorehead's mistrial Judge Cunningham ruled favorably on public defense attorney Monte Carlsson's motion that the Times-News article, which appeared after the first day of trial, was prejudicial by making facts about the case which would not have been admitted in court known to the jury.

Judge Cunningham at the time said he especially objected to publication of the fact that the defendant had earlier made and changed a guilty plea to not guilty and that then presiding Judge Theron W. Ward had told the defendant at the change of plea "I have the distinct feeling that you think you are playing games." Judge Ward withdrew from the case after an Affidavit of Prejudice was filed by the defense.

Moorehead's second trial began early Friday morning. In questioning prospective jurors, either Prosecutor Galley or defense attorney Carlsson asked each person called up off the jury rolls if they had read the article in the Times-News. Most said they had not, and those who admitted they had said for the most part they couldn't remember the content.

The jury heard from narcotics agents who testified that Moorehead had sold them marijuana through an intermediary in mid-June of 1972.

The jury also heard testimony, including that of the defendant, to the effect that the marijuana which was sold to the two undercover agents was not sold by the defendant but by the alleged intermediary.

Defense counsel Monte Carlsson said in his summation it was obvious someone had not told the complete truth on the witness stand. He said only two of the witnesses were trained in the art of deceit, the narcotics agents. "They are actors, they're trained to play a role they may very well read too much into someone's actions,"

Carlsson said. "I don't know what happened after the agents talked to Moorehead on the April night in question. He said Moorehead had testified the agents badgered him to sell them drugs. 'Did the agents supply my client with the opportunity or the idea of committing a crime?' Carlsson asked, focussing on the question of entrapment. He told the jury they had to find Moorehead guilty of selling drugs beyond a reasonable doubt. "All the evidence," he said, "points to (the alleged intermediary) making the sale." Prosecutor Galley rebutted that either the crime was committed or it was not. He said Carlsson's argument for entrapment was faulty because "if there was entrapment, there had to be a crime." Only after recognizing a crime has been committed, he told the jury, "can you think about entrapment." Galley alleged that the intermediary was under the influence of drugs at the time of the sale and that he was the dupe of the defendant. "If the deal was with (the intermediary) why did they (the agents) let him go?" Galley asked. "The jury argued behind closed doors for more than four hours before announcing they had been unable to reach a decision. The jury foreman told Judge Cunningham that the panel members were deadlocked 10 to 2 in favor of finding the defendant guilty." Cunningham declared a mistrial and dismissed the jury.

Idaho wing of CAP meets in Burley

By DAVID HORSMAN
Times-News Writer

BURLEY — The Idaho Wing of the Civil Air Patrol (CAP) heard a briefing by Lt. Col. Robert Galt during its annual conference in Burley Saturday.

Galt is chief of operations at the Western Headquarters of the AeroSpace Rescue and Recovery Service (ARRS) at Hamilton Air Force Base, Calif. He outlined the coordination duties of the ARRS in overseeing search missions throughout the western region.

The ARRS is required by law to funnel Idaho CAP alerts through the state department of aeronautics according to Galt. He said Darrell Manning, state aeronautics director, works closely with the ARRS and CAP during search missions.

The ARRS has a potential of 10,625 civilian aircraft and 40,000 military aircraft at its disposal during search mission, Galt added. The search and rescue forces include army, navy, coast guard, marine, CAP, national park service, sub/motorcycle and sheriff's air posse units, he stated.

More than 80 per cent of the inland search and rescue missions are flown by CAP, the officer said. He said 180 persons were saved through search and rescue efforts last year.

Manning, who spoke to the conference concerning emergency locator transmitters, said CAP is a major rescue resource in the state. He said Idaho Search and Rescue Inc. and sheriff's air posse units are also invaluable in the search efforts.

Col. George Faulkner, Rupert, Idaho Wing commander, said CAP participated in nine search missions in the state last year.

CAP cadet major, Doug Botmer, Twin Falls, said the cadet program in Idaho is dedicated to training junior members between the ages of 13 and 21 in aerospace procedures and military leadership.

The Twin Falls Cadet Squadron was chosen the top squadron in the nation during 1971, he said.

Col. Frank Swain, commander of the Rocky Mountain CAP region, addressed the conference in a banquet Saturday night. He told the CAP members of aerospace education plans and set the course for CAP operations next year.

Saturday's program included briefings by section heads including Lt. Col. Merritt Shotwell, communications; Lt. Col. Mary Harris, personnel; Lt. Col. Keith Lysinger, aerospace education; Lt. Col. John Kober, senior member training; Senior Member Vince Cooke, logistics; Major Ray Crandall, finance; Lt. Col. C. A. Purrott, transportation; and Capt. Jerry Merrick, flight operations.

A senior training clinic will complete the CAP conference at the Ramada Inn today.

Rupert man named head of North Side group

SHOSHONE — Claude Bowman, Rupert, was elected president of the North Side Communities, Inc., at the Thursday night dinner meeting held at the Manhattan Cafe, Shoshone.

Nominating committee chairman, Merle Hanna, Rupert, said the vice-president will be named at a later date and the officers select their own secretary-treasurer.

Bowman, who has been vice-president the past year, replaces Mrs. Harrell Thorne, Shoshone, in the post.

Ralf Lucke, Gooding, is the retiring secretary-treasurer.

A plaque in recognition of her work was given Mrs. Thorne by Hanna in behalf of the organization, and Lucke was given a gift.

The president's annual report indicated activity of the past year to include interest and promotion of projects of common interest to communities on the north side.

These included further work toward an improved Magic West reservoir road, improved State Highway 24 roadway between Dietrich and Kihama, special programs pertaining to Bureau of Land Management, State Highway Department, Fish and Game Department, Youth Rehabilitation Council, and State rehabilitation programs along with a special emphasis on need for historical societies in each community. Barbara Newell, Shoshone, was featured speaker for the Thursday night meeting, showing use of antiques and using utilization of things on hand to attract visitors and preserve the past. Miss Newell exhibited some of her own art work and family heirlooms, all of which are used in their home for useful purposes.

She pointed to the natural surroundings of area communities to give emphasis and tourist attraction through such historical arts, and noted the inexpressiveness of such a project within the communities.

Mrs. Thorne pointed out that the North Side Communities, Inc., is completing its 22 Year. The organization, begun in 1950, represents Chambers of Commerce of all communities on the North Side of the Snake River, encompassing seven counties, seven and one-half million acres of land and more than 40,000 people.

Community reports were given by Merle Hanna, for Rupert; Mark Koll, Wendell; Lucke, Gooding; and Mrs. Thorne for Shoshone.

The new president announced the next meeting will be at 7:30 p.m. March 22 at the Manhattan Cafe.

All Chambers of Commerce are urged to appoint their delegates prior to that date and solicit them to attend.

Three Buhl men honored at Jaycee special event

By Pauline Day
Times-News Writer

BUHL — Three Buhl men were honored Saturday during the annual Distinguished Service Awards banquet sponsored by the Buhl Jaycees.

Ralph Assendrup received the senior distinguished service award for his outstanding contributions in civic and church work in the Buhl community. The presentation was made by Bill Dillard, Jaycee DSA chairman.

Dan Mabe, superintendent of Buhl School District, introduced and presented the award for Outstanding Young Educator to Henry Savage, Buhl high school biology teacher.

Arthur Jones was named Outstanding Young Farmer. Larry Lammiers, OYP chairman, presented Jones with his award. Jones will be entered in the state Outstanding Young Farmer contest.

Assendrup was cited for his civic contributions as has been Buhl Red Cross Chapter Blood chairman for 12 years. He served as Red Cross District blood chairman for two years.

He is a member of the Buhl Hodge Association Board, Magic Valley Memorial Hospital board, the Buhl Search and Rescue unit and of the original Twin Falls County zoning and planning commission. He is active in the Intimate Conception Parish and a member of the third and fourth degree Knights of Columbus.

He is president of the Buhl Board of realtors, past president of the Buhl Chamber of Commerce, serves on the chamber of commerce board of directors, served as delegate and voting member of the south Idaho Chamber of Commerce, is a voting member of the inter-county 4-H council and served as president of the Twin Falls County 4-H Council.

Assendrup owns the Clear Lakes Agency, a real estate and insurance firm. He and his wife, Evelyn, are the parents of three children, William Assendrup, Buhl, Mrs. Robert (Karen) Hay, Boise, and Mrs. Larry (Jeanette) McChung, North Carolina. They have eight grandchildren.

Savage and his wife Marilyn have two children. He said he raises calves during the summer.

Jones and his wife, Glenda, live 10 miles west of Buhl, with their two children. Jones, who has resided in the Buhl area for two years, received his bachelor's degree in agricultural economics from the University of Idaho.

He began farming in 1963 as a partner on their farm near Hansen. Three years later he farmed on his own. Two years ago he filed on two 320-acre entries under the Desert Land Act on property in the Bell Rapids project.

In addition to the 640 acres he owns, he rents an additional 320. He raises potatoes, sugar beets, burdock and beans. In addition to the row crops, he runs stock cows, pasture calves and feed lot calves.

Educational TV summer program at the University of Idaho in 1968.

He is active in the Buhl First Church of the Nazarene, serving on the church board. He has coached track, cross country and basketball while at Buhl. He is a member of the National Association of Biology Teachers and the Idaho Academy of Sciences.

Savage and his wife Marilyn have two children. He said he raises calves during the summer.

Jones and his wife, Glenda, live 10 miles west of Buhl, with their two children. Jones, who has resided in the Buhl area for two years, received his bachelor's degree in agricultural economics from the University of Idaho.

He began farming in 1963 as a partner on their farm near Hansen. Three years later he farmed on his own. Two years ago he filed on two 320-acre entries under the Desert Land Act on property in the Bell Rapids project.

In addition to the 640 acres he owns, he rents an additional 320. He raises potatoes, sugar beets, burdock and beans. In addition to the row crops, he runs stock cows, pasture calves and feed lot calves.

He is a member of the Agriculture, Stabilization and Conservation Service and the BPOE.

Jerome man hurt

HAILEY — A Jerome man received minor injuries in a two-car accident Saturday morning north of Hailey.

According to a Blaine County sheriff's deputy, Don Brown was taken by ambulance to the Blaine County Hospital following the accident.

The deputy said the Brown vehicle was traveling north on US Highway 93 about 9:50 a.m. one-half mile north of the Ohio Gulch Road. As he prepared to turn left off the highway he was struck on the left side by a northbound vehicle driven by Fern V. Wallace, 51, Bellevue.

The Wallace vehicle sustained about $400 in damage and the Brown vehicle about $250, the deputy said.

Fete planned

SHOSHONE — Shoshone Chamber of Commerce will host a July 4 celebration this year. Reid Newby, president, announces. Wilson Churchman will serve as chairman for the committee in charge of the celebration. He will be assisted by Lynn Hopkins and Myron Johnson.

The next chamber meeting will be at 12 p.m. Tuesday, at the Manhattan Cafe.

New UF officials

Dilettante production 'nears

TWIN FALLS — Can "Dolly" arrange the romantic affairs of her friends so that she and all of them end up satisfied and happy?

The Magic Valley Dilettante production of "Hello Dolly" scheduled for March 24 and March 26 will afford theatergoers an amusing and enjoyable answer.

"Hello Dolly" is a light hearted musical based on "The Matchmaker" by Thornton Wilder. In the story "Dolly" played by Mrs. Ed (Janet) Collins, becomes quite involved in the lives of Horace Vandergelder, played by Jim Latham, and her other friends. "Horace" is a widower and feed store owner.

She has "Horace" paired up with "Irene Malloy" when she decides she wants him for herself.

"Dolly" works during the play to find another partner for "Irene" and finally succeeds. In a side story line, "Horace's" niece, "Ermangarde," is in love with "Ambrose," a train company employe, and "Horace" thinks she is too young and opposes their marriage.

The country boys go to New York where "Dolly" introduces them to some city girls. Their attempts to impress the sophisticated girls provide a lot of amusing byplay.

The main feature of the show is the large choral production numbers, according to Mrs. Terri Woods, publicity director for the show.

"Dolly Levi," better known as Janet Collins, has spent the better part of the past five weeks developing a character style to fit her part. In order to better portray "Dolly" she will dye her brownette hair red.

Since Mrs. Collins is 22 and "Dolly" is an older woman, it takes a lot of makeup to produce the lines needed to age her skin.

Mrs. Collins attended Arkansas College where she majored in speech and drama. She traveled with a singing group called the "Lassies" for three years. During this time the group spent three months in Germany with the USO.

She has also made several dramatic appearances and worked in children's shows. She presently teaches speech and drama at Filer High School.

Her husband, Ed Collins, teaches drama at the College of Southern Idaho.

Jim Latham, entering his fourth season with the Dilettante group, plays "Horace Vandergelder," the male lead.

Latham's first experience on the stage came as a part of a musical group at Utah State University. The group basically copied the then popular "Four Freshmen." On opening night, the quartet suddenly became a trio with Latham doing a "lip-synch."

Following that experience, stage performing was not a part of his life until, on a dare, he tried out for and received a part in the Dilettante production of

"Mame" four years ago. He then ceased to accept dares! A week after rehearsals for "Mame" started, the director dared him to quit, but he declined!

He then branched out into drama, portraying "Murray," the cop, in Little Theater's presentation of the "Odd Couple."

Latham settled for a chorus part the following year in "Oliver Twist." The experience helped round him as an on-stage performer. Bradford T. Hickerson, who directed that production, said later he was impressed with Latham's ability to dance "with his hands."

In 1971-72 he portrayed the character "Benny Southstreet," in "Guys and Dolls."

Major supporting roles in the production are portrayed by Gary Dalton, Jerome, "Cornelius Hackle," Linda Dunn, Jerome, "Irene Malloy," Brad Hickerson, Twin Falls,

"Barnaby Tucker," Peggy Quesnell, Twin Falls, "Minnie Fay"; Diane Hickerson, "Ermangarde," and Benny Wentworth, "Ambrose Kemper."

The musical will be presented in the CSI Fine Arts Center with the March 2, 3, 8, 9 and 10 performances commencing at 8:15 p.m. There will be a matinee performance at 2:15 p.m. March 4.

An opening night party and dinner preceding the March 2 performance is planned at the Turf Club. Reservations for the party and dinner as well as more information concerning the party are available by calling Rex-Reed, 326-5235; Judy Driscoll, 733-4499, or Hank Willis, 733-2290.

Tickets are being sold from 9 a.m. to 5 p.m. Monday through Saturday until March 10 at the Boy Scout office in Twin Falls. Tickets are also being sold at Say-Mor Drug, Buhl, and Sullivan's Music, Jerome.

'Woman power' aired in Nevada

CARSON CITY, Nev. (UPI) — Nevada women are threatening to use their buying power against Nevada legislators who vote against the Equal Rights Amendment (ERA).

The "woman-power" idea came up in a past week at a meeting of about 65 residents who stressed continued support of ERA through three activities — a voting bloc, consumer endorsement and more women in elective office.

Assemblyman Alan Glover, D-Carson City, and Joe Dind, D-Yerington, were accused of backing down on campaign promises to support the amendment, now under consideration in the Nevada Senate. The group also criticized Sen. Archie Pozzi, R-

Carson-Douglas, and Assemblyman Lawrence Jacobsen, R-Minden, for their expressed opposition to the amendment.

Eunice Garrett suggested that favorable ERA votes dictate where consumer dollars, especially those of working women, are spent.

"There are more than 99,000 women workers in Nevada," she said. "Multiply that by a yearly salary and you can see the extent of our consumerism."

"Is your legislator a tax man, attorney, a car man, businessman? If so, you can make your power felt by not patronizing them," she said.

Glover is a student, Pozzi an auto dealer, Dind a bar operator and Jacobsen a fuel oil distributor.

Assemblyman Jean Ford, R-Las Vegas, said she believes the ERA "has a chance to pass in Nevada." A senate committee is expected to take action next week.

"Regardless of how the legislature votes, ERA has inspired a hard, piece-by-piece look at discriminatory laws in Nevada," she said.

Dind said Thursday he has not come out for or against the amendment but "has an open mind on the matter." Glover said he favors it.

Mississippi in 1837 passed the nation's first state law against dueling.

MR. AND MRS. HENRY C. WILSON

TF couple plans 50th observance

TWIN FALLS — Mr. and Mrs. Henry C. Wilson will celebrate their 50th wedding anniversary with an open house reception March 4.

The reception will be in their home at 1235 Seventh Ave. E. and their children will serve as hosts for the event.

The couple's three children are Lowell Wilson, Twin Falls; Mrs. James (Betty) Ulrich, Vancouver, Wash., and Mrs. Ray (Barbara) Tilley, Hansen.

Mr. and Mrs. Wilson and their family came to the Filer area in 1937 to visit friends for one school term. They liked the Magic Valley area so well they returned to their Osborne, Kans., farm to harvest their crops and have a farm sale.

They then moved to Filer where they lived for three years before moving to Twin Falls where they have since resided.

Wilson was employed by the Cornell Seed Co. for 15 years and then by the Twin Falls County Weed Bureau until his retirement in January, 1972.

The couple has 10 grandchildren and two great-grandsons.

The couple invites all of their friends to the reception and requests no gifts.

Parents in Britain are required by law to see that their children receive efficient full-time education at school or elsewhere between the ages of 5 and 15.

Abigail Van Buren

DEAR ABBY: What do you think of a husband who constantly complains that he doesn't get enough loving, but when his wife lets him know she's in the mood, he turns her down to watch a football game.

Should I take it lying down (excuse the pun), or should I go out and find myself another man? ON THE VERGE

DEAR VERGE: Obviously there is nothing to take-lying down or otherwise. Next time he complains, kick him in the end zone!

Ball game beats mate

DEAR ABBY: The other day my wife asked me if I minded if she went to a night club with some girls. [The night club is a respectable place.]

I asked her who "the girls" were, and she told me that one was a single co-worker who was entertaining her sister from out of town, and the other was a married woman who is known in every motel in town as "Mrs. John Smith."

I told my wife I didn't mind her going out, but I did not think it would be good for her reputation to be seen in the company of this "Mrs. John Smith." My wife admitted the woman's reputation was not the best, but she said she was a "lot of fun, good company," etc., and then started quoting the Scriptures. [She's pretty good at that.] So I heard all about how Jesus cavorted with thieves and prostitutes, forgave seven times seven, and about judging not lest ye be judged.

I ended the discussion by saying she could go if she wanted to, but I thought she had a duty to her husband and children to keep her reputation free from scandal. Was I wrong? HER HUSBAND

DEAR HUSBAND: No. But you missed an opportunity to quote a bit of Scripture yourself: "Abstain from all appearance of evil." [New Testament, 1 Thessalonians, 5:22.]

DEAR ABBY: Please don't think I'm crazy, but I have a problem I haven't been able to conquer for five years.

My husband will not kiss me! He kisses our kids, but not me. We kissed before we were married, but since then he won't kiss me at all.

I am not ugly and I use plenty of mouthwash so I don't have bad breath. I used to be a good kisser, but I am getting out of practice. I have cried, begged, and tried to reason with him but nothing helps. Believe it or not, we have a good marriage and a good sex life, but no kisses.

We are both 25 and I hate to think of the years ahead without a kiss. Can you help me? This is no put-on. I am dead serious. MRS. KISSLESS

DEAR KISSLESS: Ever heard of a fixation? Well, it appears that your husband has developed one about kissing. But don't despair. It can be fixed by a fixer-upper of fixations. So get your kissaphobic mate to a head doctor and head off a kissless future. [Marriages have been kissed off for less.]

DEAR ABBY: I am right and I always wanted to play the drums. My big brother plays the drums and I figured that since he has a set, my folks wouldn't have to buy one for me. [He's away at college.]

Well, I asked my mother and she said no. Afterwards I found out that my mother talked it over with my brother and he said it wasn't really "feminine" for a girl to play the drums. I'm not one of those big Women's Lib girls. I just want to play the drums. What do you think? LIKE THE DRUMS

DEAR LIKES: I think your brother ought to be ashamed of himself. If he's a musician worth a drumstick, he knows there is nothing unfeminine about playing the drums. He probably just doesn't want his kid sister messing with his drums while he's away.

Wins pencil

TWIN FALLS - Nettie Magel won the blue pencil for the best speech at a Thursday evening meeting of the Magic Toastmistress Club. Gretta Smith won the red pencil for the best performance of the evening. Dot Miller won the table topics. The meeting was conducted by Mrs. Miller. Ruby Box served as toastmistress. "How It Happened" was the subject of the program.

Area 4-H events outlined

TWIN FALLS - Important coming events in 4-H were announced to Twin Falls County 4-H leader at training sessions this week, according to Mrs. Pat Maughan.

Mrs. Maughan is Twin Falls County home extension agent. The leader training sessions conclude Friday.

Dates discussed included Achievement Day, July 12; Club Congress, June 10-15, and a tentative date for 4-H camp.

Plans for Achievement Day include a bicycle rodeo and a tractor driving contest in addition to the usual project critique and demonstrations.

Mrs. Maughan said 4-H Club Congress in Moscow on the University of Idaho campus is open to all 4-H members 14 years of age and over. It will feature workshops in many areas of interest to the 4-H youth.

They will have an opportunity to choose such things as conservation, pollution control, foreign cooking and political information. They will also have an opportunity to attend dances, talent shows and assemblies.

The annual 4-H summer camp has tentatively been set for July 20 through August 22, according to Mrs. Maughan.

She said other areas of interest discussed in the meetings included self-determined projects, art, foods projects and overall information the leaders need in order to properly maintain records for their members. Home improvement and teen leader projects were to be discussed Friday.

Mrs. Maughan said the self-determined project is mainly for the older teen 4-H member. It gives the person an opportunity to investigate almost any area of interest, setting his own goals and planning activities and projects to help reach them.

The projects are judged at the end of the year to determine how successful the member was in reaching his or her goals.

The foods project review included a demonstration of measuring and mixing techniques for muffins and pastry at the Idaho Power Auditorium.

Mrs. Maughan said an overview of all foods projects was conducted, plus a record-keeping. Leaders were also told how to evaluate the finished project.

Rest rooms off limits to police

SAN FRANCISCO (UPI) - The California Supreme Court ruled Thursday that policemen cannot tuck in public restrooms to watch patrons unless they have probable cause a crime is being committed there.

The court held that such spying was illegal exploratory search and violated the constitutional rights of privacy.

"When innocent people are subjected to illegal searches including when, as here, they do not even know their private parts and bodily functions are being exposed to the gaze of the law, their rights are violated."

The court overturned the conviction of a man arrested by a detective in a restroom at a Los Angeles public park after the officer peered through an air vent and witnessed an illegal sex act between two men.

Spartans drill T.F. to stay undefeated

Minico moves into A-1 title game

RUPERT — The Minico Spartans, getting the right man at the right time, overpowered the Twin Falls Bruins 54-45 Saturday night to move into the district A-1 championship round.

Twin Falls, which nipped Burley 50-49 Friday night, now must travel to Burley Thursday with the loser going to the sidelines and the winner challenging Minico. The challenge is tough. Minico must be defeated twice to be prevented from a third straight trip to state. Only the champion goes.

Minico, with Craig Hepworth the steady influence with 10 points, pressured Twin Falls into submission, particularly inside where the Bruins couldn't find many points. Only Eric Hovey, his driving netting him several trips to the deck and a few less to the foul line, kept Twin Falls from total departure. He scored 24 points and grabbed seven rebounds.

At the outset, Val Christensen hit two long shots to give Minico a quick 8-2 lead with Twin Falls coming back on seven Hovey points for a 12-12 first quarter deadlock. But Christensen hit to open the second period and Twin Falls was behind for keeps.

Ritchie Donner added a long shot before Christensen hit two more and Nyle Keller got one from the free throw line. That pushed Minico up 21-13 with Hovey coming back with four free throws. Hepworth then added four from the line to offset a field goal by Charlie Browne. The Bruins missed two one-and-ones to end the half behind 25-20.

Minico started away in the third period with Keller coming on. The 6-5 junior-carded eight points, his last bucket giving the Spartans a 39-27 lead. Hovey and Landy Haynes then got Twin Falls going and Bob Durham and Hovey closed it with points to reduce the margin to six.

Kent Schmidt pulled Twin Falls to four seconds into the fourth period, but then Kim Babel and Hepworth took over. Babel, hardly known for his scoring, banked four straight long shots and Hepworth added five points. Twin Falls answer was eight points by Hovey as the Spartans moved out by 11 with just under two minutes left and then tucked the ball away.

Twin Falls sophomores won the preliminary 41-24 to remain undefeated.

Friday night, Eric Hovey's two free throws with 33 seconds left and a control ball situation thereafter let Twin Falls outlast the rallying Burley Bobcats 59-49.

The game was played in two opposite halves with the difference being the Bruins had one more point in theirs. There was the first half when Charlie Browne waxed hot out of the corner and pured through 14 points. Hovey hit 11 during the span while Burley was having shooting miseries.

Twin Falls broke on a 12-12 tie late in the first period on a free throw by Kent Schmidt and Browne's closing field goal. Hit two free throws to open the second quarter and Brown then hit four straight shots off the deep baseline.

Burley sandwiched a long shot among that by Brent Nielsen but it wasn't until 1:32 remained that Tracy Nielsen got the second Burley bucket of the period. Hovey answered with four points to give Twin Falls a 15-point lead with Bob Randlek's follow shot at the buzzer cutting it slightly to 31-18.

Browne and Kim Nielsen opened the third period with points for a 35-18 advantage. Burley then inserted Taylor into the lineup and he hit three foul shots — the first one starting Burley back. Hovey's three-point play offset that but then came consecutive buckets by Jackson, Tracy Nielsen and Taylor. Bob Durham interrupted momentarily with a Twin Falls follow shot but Burley ripped off the next 10 points as Nielsen warmed up.

Four Nielsen points cut the early fourth quarter deficit to 42-20 and from then on it was an ultra tight game. Hovey and Martindale and Durham and Nielsen had offsetting buckets as the time ran faster than the scoring. Hovey's shot out of the corner gave Twin Falls a 48-44 lead but with two minutes left, Mike Sager converted a three-point play off an offensive board to make it 48-47.

Burley had a couple chances after that on Bruin turnovers but couldn't get ahead. With 1:14 left Twin Falls went into a deep delay which culminated in Hovey's decisive free throws. The Bruins got the ball back and wasted the clock to nine seconds before missing a free throw. They stood back and gave Burley the final bucket as the last seconds ticked away.

Twin Falls won the preliminary 47-43.

Charging and blocking

CLOSING THE MIDDLE, the Burley Bobcats contain Twin Falls' Bob Durham on this drive. Durham was called for charging Burley's Taylor, headed for the deck, and Tracy Nielsen (30) deflected the ball. Twin Falls outlasted Burley 59-49.

Cal pins defeat on Washington

BERKELEY, Calif. (UPI) — California made up for its poor shooting by hitting with consistency from the free-throw line Saturday night to pin a 72-72 Pacific-8 conference basketball defeat on Washington.

The Bears converted 23 of 31 free throws while the Huskies went to the charity line only 12 times and made six of them.

Washington scored 33 baskets and shot 50 per cent from the floor while Cal managed only 27 baskets and a .400 shooting percentage.

Cal was leading 72-70 with 40 seconds to go when Washington guard Louie Nelson lost the ball out of bounds on a fast break and it went over to Cal.

An assistant Washington coach was slapped with a technical for arguing the call and Carl Meier converted the technical. Ricky Hawthorne added two more free throws to give the Bears a comfortable 75-70 bulge with 10 seconds remaining.

Meier canned 21 points to pace the Bears to their fourth win against eight losses in the Pac-8 and 11-12 overall. Washington fell to 4-6 in the conference and 15-11 on the season.

Nelson, a 6-2 senior, hit 13 of 22 field goals to top the Huskies with 30 points.

Chicago topples Phoenix

CHICAGO (UPI) — Bob Love netted 30 points Saturday night to lead the Chicago Bulls to a 122-100 win over the Phoenix Suns in a National Basketball game, their sixth straight victory and ninth win in the last 11 games.

The Suns, losing for the first time in three games, led after the first period and trailed by only four points at 57-53 at the half.

But the Bulls broke the game open in the third period with a spurt of 18 straight points in which Love counted 10 straight and had a 19 point lead at 93-74 heading into the last periods.

The Suns never closed the gap thereafter as the Bulls cleared the bench while holding leads varying between 20 and 22 points.

It was the third win for the Bulls in five games with Phoenix this season.

Canadian horse gets U.S. win

ARCADIA, Calif. (UPI) — Canadian bred Kennedy Road raced to his first major United States victory Saturday when he scored a nose win in the fifth running of the $43,150 San Antonio Stakes at Santa Anita.

Coming down the stretch, Kennedy Road and the Cinderella horse of the meeting, Crusading, staged a head-and-head battle in their desperate bid for victory. At the finish, Kennedy Road barely flashed his nose in front to avenge his disqualification loss to Crusading in the San Carlos Handicap last month.

Big Spruce was third while Finalista finished fourth in the field of six.

Kennedy Road raced the one and one-eighth miles in the good time of 1:47 3-5 to stamp himself a major contender in next month's $170,000 Santa Anita Handicap. Six previous winners of the San Antonio have gone on to win the big race of the meeting with Ack Ack the most recent in 1971.

Sent off at odds better than 5-1 by the crowd of more than 40,000, Kennedy Road returned $13.20, $4.80 and $3.60. Crusading, suffering his first loss after five straight wins, paid $11.40 and $2.60 while Big Spruce returned $3.40.

Denver tops Carolina

CHARLOTTE, N.C. (UPI) — Warren Jaball scored 20 points and Bryon Bech had 20 as the Denver Rockets held off a fourth quarter Carolina Cougars rally for a 115-104 victory Saturday night.

The Rockets took the lead away from Carolina midway through the first quarter and were never behind for the remainder of the game.

They enjoyed their greatest lead of 18 points, 62-74, early in the fourth quarter before the Cougars began their rally.

Fryson sets point record at 42 as CSI drills BYU

Freshman Don Fryson set a single game scoring record of 42 points Saturday night in leading the College of Southern Idaho Golden Eagles past the BYU frosh 97-73.

Fryson's performance, which ended with 15 left on a crumpled leg, rather spoiled what was to be sophomore night. The Eagles were saying good bye to four starting sophomores, all of whom performed well, and got standing ovations from (for once) a fairly good crowd when they left the game.

But the fans keeping score in the stand knew the deal when with 1:31 left Fryson scored his 40th point, tying the mark established last year by Victor Kelly. The public address announcer had just finished telling the crowd that the record had been tied when a BYU player fumbled the ball away.

Fryson gathered it in to a growing crescendo of sound as he was alone and headed for a crumple. Just inside the foul cricle, however, the muscles in his left calf cramped. He nearly went down, righted himself and hopped in for the record points. Then he crashed to the floor.

Fryson hit 30 of his record points in the second half, playing the offense of the zone defense and picking up an assortment of tip-ins and rebound shots, little jumpers, and longer set shots.

Rick Sobers also put on a ball handling show in his farewell performance, particularly in the closing minutes of the first half. "I'm sad to see it end (playing at CSI)," he said afterward, "but you've got to think about going on to bigger and better things." He threw in 18 points.

The other man in double figures was Willie Williams. Oklahoma State freshman Mark Steinneyer sank four free throws in the last 30 seconds Saturday night to give the Cowboys a 70-66 win against Big Eight opponent Colorado.

The Buffaloes, down by 19 points in the first half, rallied in the second period, but were thwarted by Steinneyer's charity tosses. Kevin Fitzgerald scored 20 points for the Pikes to take game scoring honors and Scott Wedman headed the Colorado attack with 10.

K-State wins in fast 2 seconds
MANHATTAN, Kan. (UPI) — Gene McVey connected on two free throws in the final two seconds Saturday night to give Kansas State an 82-78 Big Eight win over Oklahoma.

K-State now stands at 9-2 in conference play and 19-4 on the season. Oklahoma slipped to 5-6 in the Big Eight and 15-8 overall.

Louisville ends Bearcat skein
LOUISVILLE, Ky. (UPI) — Seventeenth-ranked Louisville eager for a bid to the National Invitation Tournament, snapped Cincinnati's five-game winning streak Saturday night and downed the Bearcats 91-81 with the aid of a bizarre gift basket by Lionel Harris.

Attempting a cross-court pass to Jesse Johnson, the Cincinnati guard threw the ball into the Louisville basket for a field goal that put the Cardinals ahead 51-49.

who had a good rebounding night, and also canned 20. Steve Swanson and Vince Volmut, the other two departing sophomores, who had six and nine, respectively, rebounded well and maintained perhaps the best inside defensive pressure of the season.

"We played well," said Coach Jerry Hale at the end. "We moved the ball, shot well but I was most pleased about the way the boys forced themselves to work on both ends of the court — particularly on defense."

CSI just shot to goal by BYU to hope to win this one. The Eagles ran out 6-4 with BYU coming back to, within one. After a couple of minutes, CSI stretched a 14-11 advantage to 24-11 with Sobers hitting six of the 12 points.

BYU then flurried briefly with Williams and Allen getting most of the points in reducing the lead to 26-19. But Willie Williams broke that rally with two quick buckets and Swanson scored on a soft jumper to send CSI away for good.

Fryson hit the first four points of the second half but over the first nine minutes of the period had pumped his total only to 22. Then he hit four in a row and the rush was on.

In Friday night's action the Golden Eagles easily outdistanced the University of Idaho frosh squad 76-60 led by Don Fryson with 24 points.

Idaho needed the first field goal for their only lead in the game. Fryson scored twice to put the Golden Eagles on top 6-2 and on their way to the second victory of the season over the Idaho frosh.

Idaho stayed close until late in the first half when the Golden Eagles went to a 45-31 margin with 2:11 minutes remaining and with Rick Sobers providing the scoring spark were up 51-31 at the intermission.

The University of Idaho rallied in the early going in the second half and came back to trail only by six at 51-45 with 14:30 left in the game. Fryson then scored twice and Groves added a field goal to put the Golden Eagles on top 58-40 with ten minutes remaining.

The Golden Eagles then began to increase their lead and regained their first half 20-point margin with 3:26 on the scoreboard.

Fryson led all scorers with 28 points on 14 field goals and Willie Williams added 18 for CSI. Steve Duncanson led University of Idaho scorers with 13 points.

Buckeyes belt Northwestern
COLUMBUS, Ohio (UPI) — Ohio State's basketball team handed Northwestern its ninth conference defeat in 10 games Saturday by rolling to a 90-81 victory over the Wildcats.

The Buckeyes, getting their sixth Big 10 conference victory in 11 games, owned 28-point leads three times in the second half, the last at 77-49 with 6:40 to play. But the Wildcats scored the final 13 points of the game soon after all starters were pulled out by OSU Coach Fred Taylor with his team leading 90-68 and 2:10 remaining.

OSU got 32 points from Wardell Jackson, who hit his previous high of 26 in Monday's upset of Purdue.

Buckeye captain Allan Hornyak, third leading Big 10 scorer, sent his OSU career total to 1,486 with 22 points.

Indiana edges Wisconsin
BLOOMINGTON, Ind. (UPI) — Indiana stayed off a last minute surge by Wisconsin for a 57-55 victory that kept the Hoosiers in second place in the Big Ten race.

Indiana now has a 9-3 conference mark and Wisconsin is 3-4.

The victory came when Steve Green hit a pair of free throws after Leon Howard had tied the score for Wisconsin at 55-51.

Indiana led by only five points, 33-27, at halftime and extended its advantage to nine points before the Wisconsin rally.

Oakley clinches trip to state A-4 meet

Hornets defeat Wolves; Devils eliminate Hansen

MURTAUGH — The Oakley Hornets, weathering an early litz, came from behind to top Castleford 59-54 Saturday night to gain the fifth district A-4 tournament finals and a trip to the state playoffs.

In earlier action, Murtaugh dropped Hansen out of the meet. The Red Devils now will meet Castleford Thursday night with the winner advancing to the state semifinals.

Senior veteran Lynn Reese hit three straight field goals to ignite Castleford which then hustled into an 18-4 first-quarter lead.

But the Wolves ran into a nine-point second-quarter white Oakley finally warmed to the task. The Hornets reduced the deficit to 27-25 at intermission and tied it immediately in the third quarter. Reese came up with another three-field-goal binge but the rally didn't continue.

Oakley pulled back into a tie and then went ahead 42-41. Castleford's hopes died with 6:30 left when Reese fouled out and the Wolves appeared to have lost their leadership. Still they came within four points with 1:59 left but Stanger, who hit five straight from the line and Pickett who added four more, then carried Oakley away.

Murtaugh's victory came in the second period when the Wolves slipped ahead by 11 and pretty much stayed there. Robb Wright and Bryon Stanger offset eight points each as Murtaugh managed a 14-11 first-quarter edge. But all the Red Devil starters got into the scoring column in the second period while Hansen scored only six points.

Early in the third period, Hansen, behind the 14-point second half of Bryon Stanger, closed the gap to four but Murtaugh then started pulling away and boosted its final margin in the last period when Wright ran through eight more.

Friday night, Byron Stanger put the Hansen Huskies on his scoring shoulders and carried them to a come-from-behind 54-53 victory that sent Hagerman to the sidelines. Stanger hit 29 points, 21 of them in the second half, as the Huskies overcame a 13-point-half-time deficit and finally won it in the closing seconds on Stanger's three-point play.

Brown gave Hagerman a great start, collecting 13 points in the first half and three more early in the second period. That ran the Pirates out to their 13-point intermission edge.

But in the third quarter, Stanger had six field goals and Ted Christensen tanked four points as the Huskies cut the deficit to 41-39.

Hansen caught up at 43 and the game then was tied four times, the last time at 51-51. With 47 seconds left, Stanger got his three-point play and Hagerman could muster only a pair of free throws by Bennett in reply.

Murtaugh made several runs at breaking away from Haft River but the tenacious Trojans hung on until the closing minutes before bowing 71-57. Murtaugh once ran out to a 12-point lead, only to see the Trojans cut the gap to three and that pretty much was the story.

The rest of the story came at the foul line where Murtaugh hits 21 of 26 attempts, not missing until the fourth quarter, while Haft River managed just seven from the line.

In joyous play, Murtaugh drilled Hanson 67-56.

Boise State ops Idaho after beating Gonzaga in overtime

BOISE (UPI) — The Boise State College Broncos broke open a close ball game in the second half Saturday night and coasted to an 87-73 victory over the Idaho Vandals.

BSC's season record is now 11-14 and 5-3 in the Big Sky while Idaho dropped to a 7-14 overall record and 3-9 in the conference standings.

Five Broncos scored 10 or more points in the contest, as senior Steve Clifford, was the leading scorer of the game with 23 counts. Another senior Bill Barnes contributed 20 points.

The Broncos broke out of a 39-39 tie and took command with 16:29 remaining, 47-45. The largest lay of the game came with five minutes left when the Broncos leby 18 points, 75-57. The Vandals went into a cold shooting sp midway through the second half by not scoring any points in five minutes, while the Broncos scored 12 straight to break open what had been a close battle.

It was the last game for the BSC team this season, and they wrap it up next Friday night in Pocatello against Idaho State.

A 25-foot jump shot by Boise State's 5-6 freshman Alonzo Gagnas at the final buzzer Friday night gave the Broncos an 87-85 overtime win past the Gonzaga Bulldogs.

The Bulldogs held a 37-34 halftime lead with both teams fighting to capture the lead throughout the second half. The score was tied 10 times in the second half and the lead changed hands nine times.

Gonzaga took the lead at 70-68 with 1:26 remaining in regulation play on a 10-foot jumper by senior Greg Sten who had a total of 29 points for the evening.

Gonzaga ran off with a six-point lead 78-72 in the overtime period, but the Broncos came storming back to tie up 79-78 with 2:22 remaining.

ISU nips Gonzaga, overpowers Idaho

POCATELLO, Idaho (UPI) — Jerry Sabins sank two free throws with 11 seconds remaining Saturday night to give Idaho State a 74-72 win over Gonzaga in the Big Sky Conference.

The win kept ISU's second-place hopes alive in the conference. The Bengals are now 17-7 for the season and 9-4 in the Big Sky. Gonzaga's records are 12-12 and 4-8.

Sabins scored ISU's last six points, including a 15-foot jumper and his two game-winning free throws.

Idaho state rallied from a 63-55 deficit with eight minutes to play behind the strong scoring of reserve forward Edison Hicks who played with an ailing knee. He finished with 11 points, most in the late stages. He also snared eight rebounds.

Leading Gonzaga was center Stewart Morrall with 21 points. Bulldog forward Joe Clayton led all rebounders with 15.

Roserve Nick Ysuran and center Jim Spindler tossed 55 points between them to lead Idaho State to a 94-75 win over Idaho Friday night.

After leading 38-33 at intermission, ISU ran off 11 straight points midway into the Spindler had 22 points and rebounds. Ysuran hit for 20 points, high for the Bengals, and had nine rebounds from the guard line. Jim Anderson had 17 points.

Idaho freshman Steve Weist took the game high scoring honors with 29 points but only one other Vandals was in double figures, as reserve Jim Valentino came off the bench to hit 16.

Baseball settlement appears imminent

NEW YORK (UPI) — The baseball strike was not settled Saturday but enough progress was made during the three-hour meeting between the respective counsels representing the players and the owners that suggests a settlement is imminent.

Both parties will meet again at 9:30 a.m. (MST) Sunday at the offices of John Gaherin, chief negotiator for the owners.

Gaherin arrived for Saturday's meeting, which began at 2 p.m. in the offices of Marvin Miller, executive director of the Players Association, with a party of five men representing the owners, including league presidents Joe Cronin and Chub Feeney. An hour into the meeting, Harry Allan, an attorney for the owners arrived.

Attorneys Barry Rand, Lou Hoines and Jim Gurner were also present. Miller, attorney Dick Moss, and pitcher Jim Perry, the Minnesota Twins player representative, comprised the players delegation.

Miller, Moss, and Perry left the meeting, one of the longest between the two parties, since the talks were stepped up over a week ago, on four different occasions while the owners' committee caucused behind closed doors.

The owners, meanwhile, were asked to leave the bargaining table only once.

Both the players and owners maintained their closed-mouth attitude concerning what had been discussed during negotiations, but Moss said comment: "It's appropriate to say progress was made today."

Cronin, president of the American League, said "we continue to have amiable discussions."

The two sides continue to bargain over two major issues—salary arbitration and free agency of the reserve clause.

Gun man says non-residents, predators doomed Idaho game

SALMON Elmer Keith, Salmon, who has gained the distinction of becoming the "dream of American Handgunners," says the predators and "out-of-state hunters" have been allowed to take much of Idaho's wild game.

Keith, looking back on 42 years in the Salmon area, says there "isn't one deer here now where there was at least a thousand in 1930."

"All of California has moved in and cleaned us out. The predators have been allowed to take over, killing the goat kids and sheep lambs. The small game has all been nailed by the eagles, and the coyotes are killing calves in broad daylight.

"There isn't anything left for the predators and they are going to have to move out."

Keith said the game situation results from policies of the Idaho Fish and Game Department, U.S. Forest Service and Bureau of Land Management.

"They run down mountain sheep with a helicopter to tag them, then wonder why they die. They encourage large numbers of hunters with low license fees. And they protect the predator. A big cat averages two deer a week."

"We need a three-year closed season on game but the money hungry fish and game department would never give us that."

Keith said as a result the game is gone in the Salmon River country and Idaho.

The 73-year-old Keith was 40 years. He is best known for his extensive big game handgun hunting and his efforts which produced the .307, .41 and .44 Magnum cartridges.

Keith outfitted for Zane Grey, the novelist, during his trip into the Middle Fork of the Salmon River in 1931 that took him to Thunder Mountain. It was the subject of a Grey book.

Keith has been shooting editor with "Guns and Ammo" magazine nearly 13 years. He considers himself as the last of the old gun editors.

During his outdoor career he made six hunting trips to Alaska, two to British Columbia and two safaris to Africa.

With Capt. Harry Gueleke, pioneer Salmon River boatman, he ran the Salmon from 1930 to 1940 in wooden scows, hauling fishermen and hunters into the primitive area.

Today he devotes his time to answering correspondence and phone calls in connection with his job as a columnist and writer. He produces a column each month and writes articles.

LOOKFAST FOR SUNDAY, FEBRUARY 25, 1973

GENERAL TENDENCIES: A day of confusion when some persons are those and speak out of turn, stating opinions that are too critical. They are likely to change suddenly at a later date and become embattled about it. Take time to attend to your feelings.

ARIES (Mar. 21 to Apr. 19): You are anxious to be in new places and make new friends so make plans early for a delightful time. Try to understand others better. Use fact and wisdom when exchanging ideas with others.

Taurus (Apr. 20 to May 20): Use your good judgment instead of your intuition today, since the latter could be erroneous. Listening to what an expert has to suggest is wise. This could lead to something very fine.

GEMINI (May 21 to June 21): Avoid an associate who has an axe to grind and could cause a big argument now. Don't take any risks where the general public is concerned. Make sure not to lose your temper at home.

MOON CHILDREN (June 22 to July 21): Handle the work that is of a philanthropic nature and get good results today. Take health treatments and give much thought to improving wardrobe. Evening is time for home fun.

LIO (July 22 to Aug. 21): You want to have a good time but make sure you don't force your fun on others or you could be disappointed. You have a creative project that needs some of the kinks taken out. Work on that.

VIRGO (Aug. 22 to Sept. 23): Don't make matters worse at home by criticizing others too much. Use tact or keep quiet and all is fine. Get busy and make your home more charming and comfortable. Show devotion to mate.

LIBRA (Sept. 24 to Oct. 23): Impulse in motion is important today as well as thinking. Actually before speaking. Attend the services that inspire you. Later, visit with wise persons who can give you good advice.

SCORPIO (Oct. 24 to Nov. 21): Elevate your consciousness to a greater abundance for the future and take steps in the right directions. Get in touch with a business expert and you will know how to handle a problem.

SAGITTARIUS (Nov. 22 to Dec. 21): Don't do anything that could make you feel dissatisfied and bitter, or you will regret it later. It might be better to avoid social functions if you are not feeling up to par.

CAPRICORN (Dec. 22 to Jan. 20): If you concentrate on lofty ideas, you get no one to humiliate or feel you have let those duties attend to instead of fussing about them. Make this a constructive day. Relax tonight.

AQUARIUS (Jan. 21 to Feb. 19): Don't permit a disturbed friend to get you into any kind of trouble today. Steer clear of social affairs where there is too much controversy. Show others that you have peace in your life.

PISCES (Feb. 20 to Mar. 20): Take no risks where your good name is concerned. As you will regret it later. Follow every rule and law that applies to you. Stay away from a friend who is not in good humor today.

IF YOUR CHILD IS BORN TODAY: He or she will be one of those youngsters who likes to hear the sound of own voice. Teach to speak only when something important has to be said. Otherwise, conserve energy for work and learning. Add foreign languages to the educational curriculum and direct study along important and expanding lines. Sports are very much to your property's liking. Some religious training early.

The Stars impel, they do not compel. What you make of you life is largely up to you.

What's What

L. M. Boyd

Just exactly what proportion of the teenagers in this country have smoked pot? Figure 15 per cent. That's what the Columbia University School of Public Health found out in the first nationwide household survey on the matter. About 9 per cent of the youngsters were rated as experimenters, having tried it less than 10 times. Approximately 3 per cent were called occasional users, with 10 to 60 tries. And another 3 per cent were called frequent users, with 50 times or more. This is possibly the most authoritative study of the subject so far. And possibly not.

FIGURE ABOUT 40,000 doctors now are retained full or part-time by sports clubs. . . EXACTLY 76 TIMES more men than women commit robbery. . . AVERAGE AGE OF U. S. Supreme Court Chief justices at the time of their appointments has been 57.5 years. . . REMEMBER, A TON of recycled paper saves 12 trees, sir. . . WHY I DON'T KNOW, but in Wamamassa, N. J., one dandy little ordinance prohibits dogs from crying no matter how softly.

AMILLION
In the writings of ancient Egypt, the figure 1 was likewise simply a vertical line. But 10 was a horseshoe, 100 a corkscrew, 10,000 a pointing finger, 100,000 a jumping frog, and 1,000,000, that momentous numeral, it was represented by a man with an astounded expression on his face. Certainly reasonable.

IT'S ESTIMATED more than 97 per cent of the world's water is saltwater. In the oceans, mostly. And more than 2 per cent is in ice. Glaciers, icebergs, so on. That means all the rest of the water - underground, in the rivers, in the lakes, in the atmosphere - still makes up less than 1 per cent of the total supply. Remarkable.

QUERIES FROM CLIENTS
Q: "If an airplane crash were to wipe out a big-league baseball team, what would happen to the league's schedule?"
A: "Not much. Baseball Commissioner Bowie Kuhn has said each remaining team in the league would make three players available to put together an instant team."

Q: "ISN'T it right that the bride should make the plans for the honeymoon?"
A: "Why? The bride makes the plans for the wedding. Our Love and Wedding man, who's not at all wrong, thinks the groom ought to have the final say so about the honeymoon."

Q: "WHERE'D we get that phrase 'I'm from Missouri' meaning 'you've got to show me'?"
A: "That dates back to 1902. Missouri Congressman Willard Duncan Vandiver said it in reference to some sort of dubious statement by a preceding speaker."

Harrison, Brinkman hold plaque

National honors to TF auto firm

TWIN FALLS — Thiessen Motors, Inc., Twin Falls, has been named the number one rated Lincoln-Mercury dealer in sales percentages for 1972 by national company officials. A plaque honoring the firm for percentage of sales was presented Tuesday to the owner and vice president of the concern, Emmett Harrison, by H. H. Brinkman, district manager, Denver, Colo.

During 1972 the Twin Falls dealership reached 31 per cent of new car sales in its trading area, a percentage which is close to six times the national Mercury sales average of 5.5 per cent, Harrison said.

"We are also proud, Harrison said, of the report of Richard Walsworth, customer relations manager, Salt Lake City, Utah, that we have the lowest customer complaint ratio of any area Lincoln-Mercury supervised dealers.

Second and third place awards went to dealerships in Massachusetts and Florida, Harrison said.

Garrett promotes executive

POCATELLO — Lawrence M. Alsberry, formerly of Twin Falls, has been promoted to executive vice president of Garrett Freightlines.

William J. Wilson, president of the trucking firm, announced the promotion, which will make Alsberry senior vice president of the company, which operates in 11 western states. Headquarters are in Pocatello.

The executive vice president's post has been vacant since 1966 when Wilson advanced to president of the firm after the death of Clarence Garrett.

Alsberry is the son of Mrs. Bob Blunfield, Twin Falls. He graduated from high school here in 1955.

He started as a line truck driver and has been with the company since 1959 and then the company absorbed Chaney Freight Lines.

SEC followup lack scored

WASHINGTON (UPI) — The Securities and Exchange Commission (SEC) is doing a poor job of regulating the securities industries because it does not see it that its views are carried out, a Senate subcommittee says.

The major regulatory problems in the securities industry have not been solved because of the SEC's lack of authority but rather of its apparent lack of the will to use the powers it already has, the Senate Securities Subcommittee said in a 240-page report.

"SEC has always followed a policy of encouraging self-regulation by exchanges and broker-dealers, but the Senate panel said self-regulation has broken down.

Believing it had a choice only between "using the big stick" or "doing nothing," the SEC "has generally done nothing," and its recommendations have been ignored, the report said.

The report was unanimously approved by subcommittee members. The subcommittee also commended the movement of the SEC and the securities industry toward price access to the current price

Sugar firm promotes 2 at Mini-Cassia plant

RALPH C. BURTON transferred, LARRY K. WILLIAMS promoted

BURLEY — Promotion of two employees at the Amalgamated Sugar Co. plant here has been announced by company officials.

Ralph C. Burton, office manager at the company's Burley plant, has been promoted to general office accounting manager and transferred to the firm's headquarters in Ogden, Utah.

Larry K. Williams, assistant office manager at Burley, will advance to the post formerly held by Burton.

Burton has been with Amalgamated since 1970 when he came to Burley from Wyoming where he was an accountant with an oil company.

Burton and his wife are the parents of four children.

Williams started as a sales clerk with the company in 1968. He was assigned to the Burley office in 1971. He was affiliated with a supermarket chain in Utah prior to joining the sugar company.

Williams, his wife Diane and their son live in Burley.

Business

Honored

RICHARD STOSICH, sales manager for Mutual of New York, received the Excellence Award from James Ringas, president of the firm, during a regional meeting in Boise.

The award for managerial excellence, titled the Twin Falls office's top ranking in production from new agents for the entire company during 1972.

Earnings gain for bank told

BOISE, UPI — Idaho First National Bank shareholders were told Thursday net earnings for 1972 were operating earnings of $124.2 million, representing a $3.51 per share increase over 1971.

Loans were reported at $124,023,000, a $70.9 million increase over 1971. It was also reported that all categories of transactions showed increases over the previous year. The bank's total resources were $766.6 million, making it the largest banking institution in the State of Idaho and ranking 19th in deposits among all banks in the United States.

Looking to the coming year, Humphreys said. We are optimistic about 1973 with regard for continuing economic expansion throughout the United States and for even greater growth within the state of Idaho. We anticipate a steady loan demand throughout the year, and we believe that Idaho's needs will be taken care of by the commercial banking industry.

Shareholders re-elected as directors: A. L. Alford, Jr., Lewiston; Thomas H. Allen, Boise; Henry H. Bennett, Idaho Falls; Harry Bettis, Payette; Laurence M. Bettis, Boise; Donald S. Carley, Boise; James B. Cruzen, Boise; Henry C. Fleeor, Boise; Thor J. Fraser, Boise; Thomas C. Frye, Boise; Fred C. Humphreys, Boise; Win. E. Irvin, Boise; E. R. Jones, Boise; Stanley M. ## New RV offering for Ford

LENNIE SCHMECKER, director center

DETROIT (UPI) — Ford Motor Co. will enter the Recreation camper market this spring with an 11-foot slide-in camper designed to fit its F-350 super camper special pickup truck.

Ford will be marketing the "American Road" enclosure this spring at 65 franchised Ford recreation vehicle dealers in California and five Midwest states. It will put it on public display at the Chicago Auto Show.

The entrance of Ford into the recreation vehicle market is the second by a major automaker.

General Motors last month introduced two self-contained motor homes, selling in the $12,500 price range. Ford set no price for its unit.

Ford's entry into the pickup camper market is a natural extension of its recreational vehicle marketing program said John B. Naughton, Ford vice president.

The recreation enclosure market will be 600,000 units in 1973, an increase of 37 per cent from the 440,000 units sold just two years ago, he said. About 15,000 units are expected to be slide-in pickup campers.

The "American Road" camper will be sold and serviced by selected Ford dealers. It has a neoprene fiberlike outer skin which is leak-resistant and ligates with the F-350 pickup which will be offered with an optional 460 cubic inch V8 engine and special tires.

They company is expected to produce 10,000 motor homes by the third of April but has orders for more than 1,000.

Send US money to North Viets?

QUESTION: What is your opinion of President Nixon's proposal to allocate United States funds for reconstruction in North Vietnam? Do you think the US has a moral obligation to rebuild the North because of the bombing?

DICK ROBINSON, BLIHL
"I'm definitely opposed to spending money on reconstruction for North Vietnam when we need to reconstruct here."
"No. They brought the bombing on themselves, too."

CONNIE GLÒRE, TWIN FALLS
"First of all I was against the war from the beginning," and therefore it follows that any aid which is to be given to North Vietnam I would be for, now that their country has been ravaged and destroyed. I'm just sorry the whole thing happened in the first place."

JOE MILLER, RUPERT
"Well, I don't think we should, really. We need the money here."
"No, I really can't see why we should because if we're in a war with them then help them they'd just do it again to my way of thinking."

LIBBY WALLACE, TWIN FALLS
"I think it's okay. Mainly, because we're the ones who bombed them out."
"The war was really rather useless. I think it could have ended a long time ago by the US leaving Vietnam."

GORDON LUNDY, TWIN FALLS
"I believe that he's making a drastic mistake. We're gonna have another Korea, another Japan, another Germany. The only conclusion I can draw is that everytime we go in war with a country we make them the next largest economic producer in the world."
"Not at all. This war should have been over five years ago. We should have made an all-out bombing attack — gone in and got it over with. I don't like political chess matches."

LORIE DUGGER, TWIN FALLS
"I don't know anything about it to be honest. But I really feel President Nixon should allocate some of the money to reconstruct the US, such as in poverty areas. There are also a few roads that could be rebuilt."

RAMON GALINDO, TWIN FALLS
"Being a veteran of the Vietnam war myself, I object very strongly to US tax dollars being spent on the reconstruction of North Vietnam."
"No. I read in the paper they're going to take money from the blind and the elderly. I imagine all this is just to spend money re-establishing the government of North Vietnam."
"My own opinion is that the war was just a waste of time and lives. Sometimes, I wonder if it wouldn't start the whole thing over again."

ANGIE WEBB, TWIN FALLS
"I think the US needs the money more than North Vietnam does."
"I think that we could have nicer streets and let the poor people have more money, but not just give it to them — check them out before you give it to them."

Hermit lived in Rock Creek cave

Rock Creek hermitage

HERMIT LOU DUMROSE lived in this cave in the side of Rock Creek. The stovepipe to the right of the entrance led from the kitchen wood stove. The vent at the rear supplied ventilation to a rear storeroom. Dumrose removed all the dirt in foreground from the cave by hand.

By STEVE MANNICH and BART QUENNEL. Special to the Times-News
TWIN FALLS — Lou Dumrose was a loner, a hermit, who spent the last three years of life in a cave he laboriously carved into the sandstone in Rock Creek canyon.

No one was as close or knew as much about Dumrose as his aunt and closest friend, Mrs. Carrie Crockett of Rock Creek.

"He was a little odd," Mrs. Crockett said. "He talked to very few people, never socialized, and preferred to be by himself. He thought people knew enough about him and he wasn't going to tell anything else."

"He was really quiet, and didn't say anything when he didn't have anything to say."

Dumrose wrangled horses and worked cattle for several ranchers in the area but got the reputation of a drifter who worked only when he wanted to.

"He would work when he had to," Mrs. Crockett continued, "then quit and go off by himself again. It didn't take much for him to live and when he ran out of money, he'd get him a job somewhere. He was a good worker and could do anything. But he and regular work didn't get along very good."

Many Rock Creekers wondered how he could live doing as little work as he did.

"They'd get disgusted with him because he didn't work more, but he didn't need much money to live on and he didn't want any more money," Mrs. Crockett remarked. "Just enough to live, that's all he wanted."

Dumrose lived and died out in the open. Most of his life was spent in a cave, tent, or dugout as he trapped, fished, hunted, mined, prospected, and gardened.

Talings panned at previous gold diggings in Idaho's Florence Basin grubstaked Dumrose's prospecting trips into California, Oregon, Nevada, and northern Idaho. But he never struck it rich on these explorations and would end up back in the canyon.

"He'd come and go and we never did know where he was until he came," Mrs. Crockett said. Dumrose dug a 90-foot hole in the Nevada desert at Emigrant Springs looking for lead but failed to hit a big vein.

He nailed old boards across the top of a dugout at this mine, and lived there alone off and on (Continued on p. 11)

Penny Fuller, Sarah Marshall, Larry Hagman, Robert Mandan and Harry Evans have been signed to appear with Lauren Bacall in the special television version of the Tony Award-winning Broadway musical "Applause." The adaptation of the play, which is currently getting a big hand and additional awards at Her Majesty's Theatre in London, will be taped this month at London's Pinewood Studios for broadcast on the CBS Television Network Thursday, March 4.

Connecticut General Insurance Co., represented by Cunningham & Walsh, Inc., and Volkswagen of America, Inc., through Doyle Dane Bernbach Inc., are major sponsors of the special Lawrenceasha and Joseph Kipness, co-producers of the Broadway presentation will also produce the television version along with Richard M. Rosenbloom, Ron Field, who won Tony Awards for directing and choreographing the Broadway production which opened at the Palace Theatre in March 1970, is repeating those roles for the special, together with television director Bill Foster.

In the special, Mill Fuller, who won much critical applause for her portrayal of Eve Harrington on Broadway, is recreating the role as the sugar-coated aspiring actress with the heart of a culture who schemes her way into the confidence, life and performance of a Broadway star named Margo Channing.

Miss Bacall received a Tony Award for her portrayal of the alternately tough and touching Miss Channing in this musical version of Joseph L. Mankiewicz's 1950 Academy Award-winning motion picture "All About Eve," which starred Bette Davis. It was adapted for the musical stage by Betty Comden and Adolph Green. Charles Strouse and Lee Adams won Tonys for their respective music and lyrics.

Also repeating his Broadway role is Robert Mandan as Howard Benedict, the easily used producer who eventually understands all about Eve.

Sarah Marshall, daughter of the late Herbert Marshall, will portray Karer Richards, the playwright's wife, the role she is currently playing in the London stage production.

Larry Hagman, Mary Martin's son, who is known to television audiences for his roles in "I Dream of Jeannie" and "Here We Go Again," will be seen as Bill Sampson, the tried-and-true director in love with the star, and Harry Evans will play hairdresser-confidant Diane Fox.

Musical director for the special will be Robert Farnon.

Miss Bacall, internationally known as a motion picture actress as a result of her roles in such films as "Harper," "Designing Woman," "How to Succeed in Business Without Really Trying," "Confidential Agent" and "To Have and Have Not," has also starred on Broadway in "Cactus Flower" and "Goodbye, Charlie" and appeared in several earlier plays, "Franklin Street" and "Johnny 2x4." Her rare television appearances have included her role in "Blithe Spirit" with Noel Coward.

George III described in history

KING GEORGE III by John Brooke (McGraw-Hill, $12.50).
 The story of America's last monarch. Englishmen call him "mad King George," whose principle distinction was losing the New World colonies.

Colonial Americans called him "bad King George," described him in the Declaration of Independence as "unfit to be the ruler of a free people."

A very personal history rather than just another history.

LIVE AND BE WELL by Harry R. Litchfield, M.D. (Libra, $6).

Not just another book on nutrition, but a book full of comprehensive information from Gout to sex in old age. It explains the chemistry of the body's functions and the body's health, and the body's requirements in terms of nutrition for what we demand of it.

HOW TO RAISE YOUR PLANTS by David Allan Hubbard (Holman, $3.95).

Fear is universal and ever present. The unknown threatens the joy of today. We fear failure, rejection, financial setback, insignificance, temptation, persecution and worst... death.

Dr. Hubbard, president of Fuller Theological Seminary, picks antidotes to fear from the Bible.

CRAFTING WITH NATURE'S MATERIALS by Chester Alkema (Sterling, $2.95) describes the magic of creating designs with things found in forest, field, sea or park.

A petal collage, a rice mosaic, weaving with reeds, sculpting with plants, pine cones.

A book with 82 magnificent pictures, 22 in color.

Along with Trapunto, Decorative Quilting, Jo Christensen and Creative Lace-making by Harriet Fish, and addition to Sterling's explicit Little Craft Book series.

HARMSSEN'S WESTERN AMERICANA by Dorothy Harmsen (Northland Press, $5).

A collection of 100 watercolor paintings with biographical profiles of the artists, covering 150 years from 1821 to 1971.

Colors meticulously reproduced, a rich diversity of styles and subject matter, beautifully designed and printed by one of the master publishing houses at preserving the American west.

A rare and invaluable book for pleasure and research.

A FORTUNE IN DEATH by Leonard St. Clair (Pawclet, $7.75).

A novel of headling international intrigue, set against the backdrop of London, Paris, the Middle East.

The brutal story of a man caught in a terrifying adventure between his greed for oil and desire for a woman he dare not trust.

A good night full of forgetfulness by a comfortable fire.

KISSINGER, THE USES OF POWER by David Landau (Houghton Mifflin, $5.95).

As much as Richard Nixon, perhaps more than Spiro Agnew, the name Henry Kissinger is a household word in today's United States.

Who is this intellectual who came to New York as a boy, returned from Hitlerism, how did he rise from enlisted man to general's aide to Harvard professor of government to president's advisor?

No one has ever voted for him, yet he wields more power than any American other than the President. A fascinating profile.

Brian Clemens evokes terror in television dramas he writes

Brian Clemens is a bearded, lively, amusing man who has the ability to evoke terror in the plays, films and television dramas he writes. His most recent project is a series of five original mystery-suspense films for the ABC Television Network's new late-night series, "ABC Wide World of Entertainment."

Following a week of "Jack Paar Tonight," the multi-formatted late-night series featured a week of mystery and suspense dramas. The initial offering was written by Clemens. "An Echo of Theresa," starring Paul Burke and Polly Bergen. Later that week Barbara Feldon and Robert Powell appeared in "Lady Killer," another Clemens program. In weeks to come, "Possession" and "The Color of Blood" will be telecast. All these late-night offerings are steeped in the supernatural, the eerie, the macabre, and terror hangs heavy in otherwise normal settings.

"I haven't had any personal experience of the supernatural type," Clemens admits. "I neither believe nor disbelieve in ghosts, although I like most people I have had strange experiences like telepathic communication, the feeling that one has been to a place before, and entering a house and sensing an unfriendly atmosphere."

"The nearest I have come to seeing what might have been a ghost was when I was a kid walking along a dimly lit road by a cemetery. A shadowy figure suddenly appeared from behind a tombstone. I didn't wait to find out what it was."

Thrillers have always fascinated him. He has never missed a Hitchcock film. But, although he has written many spine-chilling stories, he has never set out deliberately to concentrate on thrillers. In fact, he has written many other types of scripts, from light-hearted comedy to tender love stories.

"What has happened," he explained, "is that having had a fair amount of success with thrillers, people keep coming to me for this sort of story. But in writing this new series I was motivated by the feeling that the thriller had reached a low ebb in its construction. It has drifted into showing violence on the screen.

"I am taking violence off the screen and putting it back where it belongs, in the minds of the audience. The imagination can conjure up far more frightening pictures than physical action."

"Frightening audiences use imagination is (a) not offensive to taste and (b) more frightening. For instance, if you hear footsteps on the stairs, they are far more frightening than when you actually see a man coming into the room."

"There is very little violence on the screen in my stories. The attack is on the nerves rather than the eye."

Clemens' first television play, a thriller submitted without any personal contacts, was immediately accepted.

At the time he was with a London advertising agency. He had begun as a messenger boy, hoping the job would be a stepping stone toward realizing his ambition to become a journalist.

It could be that his flair for writing was inherited. He is somewhat obliquely related to Mark Twain: "I believe he was my great-great-great-uncle, but the curious thing is that my grandfather was his double."

He has written since he was about 5 years old. "My mother still has copies of those very early stories."

In the 20 years since his first script was accepted, he has become one of the most prolific writers in Britain and in 1963 he won the Edgar Allan Poe Award for Best TV Thriller. He wrote the first episode for the Patrick McGowan half-hour series, "Danger Man." The series later became one-hour segments, shown in America under the title "Secret Agent."

He wrote the first story for "The Avengers" series and was associate producer on the first 26 episodes. He then became producer, with Albert Fennell, of the remaining 60 episodes on this series which was twice nominated for an Emmy and won such awards as the Spanish Writers Award for Best Production and the French Critics Award for Best TV Series.

"For this series," Brian noted, "I wrote the first and last segments for Honor Blackman, the first and last episodes for Diana Rigg, and the first and last episodes for Linda Thorson."

He also wrote the opening episode for the Tony Curtis-Roger Moore series, "The Persuaders," and has written stories for numerous other British TV shows including the current Robert Vaughn series, "The Professionals."

Among his movie scripts have been the Mia Farrow starrer, "See No Evil," and (in collaboration with Bryan Forbes) "Station Six Sahara."

He also wrote the London stage play based on "The Avengers" and collaborated with Richard Waring in devising one of the most popular of recent British comedy series, "My Wife Next Door."

Pesthouse

CHICAGO (UPI) — The first secular hospital in what is now the United States was for servicemen, but those who were admitted perhaps would have been better off somewhere else.

It was established on Manhattan Island in 1658, according to Encyclopaedia Britannica, by the Dutch West India Company as a pesthouse for soldiers and sailors. It later became a combination poorhouse, orphan asylum, penitentiary and clinic for the pauper sick and insane. Much later, it became Bellevue Hospital.

The first secular hospital without workhouse characteristics was the Pennsylvania Hospital, founded in Philadelphia in 1751.

Green Thumb: Of Red Bed Bug Plants

Got a bed bug plant? Many readers have "bed bug" plants in their homes and don't know it — at least not by that name.

The bed bug plant gets its name from the tiny little plants that drop off the edges of the leaves. This plant is so prolific it's also called "Pregnant Plant," because it's forever dropping young ones.

With a little imagination, the "young ones" do resemble bed bugs. Other common names for bedbug plant include "Mexican Hat Plant" and "Candelabra plant" (resembles a candle stick holder). Real name is Kalanchoe (pronounced Kal-an-koh-ee diagrammiana).

There are many kinds of Kalanchoe but the most common is blossfeldiana, sold by florists around the holidays. K. pinnata is called "air plant" or "magic-leaf" because baby plants hatch along its scalloped leaf, when pinned to a window curtain.

Green Thumb care: All Kalanchoes take same care. They like a sunny or semi-sunny window, average temperature and a soil equal parts of sand, peat and loam. Let them get on the dry side and they apply water.

They are toughies and can withstand dryness to a considerable extent. Start new plants by planting the baby plantlets in a pot of soil, or by dividing plants and then repotting.

A weed killed Lincoln's mother:

We just celebrated Lincoln's birthday, but did you know that a weed killed his mother, Nancy Hanks? She died from "milk sickness," passed on through cattle that had eaten the white snakeroot plant.

The white snakeroot that killed Nancy is still around, just as others are that plagued her people. Some weed seeds have incredible durability. After 30 years of storage in the soil, 91 per cent of the Jimson Weed seed and 30 per cent of the velvet leaf seed germinated.

And how about lambsquarters and spurry seeds growing after 2,000 years reported preservation. If you own an acre of land, you can safely say there's about 3,000 pounds of weed seed in it.

Best weedkiller for the home gardener is a sharp hoe and some muscle. Plastic mulch works fine in crowding out and is probably the easiest way to fight the weed hazard, a form of pollution.

Cyclamen care: After your cyclamen finished blooming, allow it to dry gradually and place it in the cellar where the leaves will die down and shrivel. Allow the corm to rest in the pot all summer.

In early fall you can scrape off upper two inches of soil and replace with a fresh mix. As soon as a new shoot starts, it's a signal to water the plant.

Medicine plant: We've mentioned this item many times and still get inquiries about it. Medicine plant or Aloe vera is used to soothe the pain of a kitchen burn.

Some men use it for after-shave lotion, so you can see why it is one of the most common plants in the kitchen. Medicinal uses of aloe have long been known. In the fourth Century B. C. it was used on inflamed painful parts of the body.

The fresh leaf juice of the plant contains a drug called aloin. The juice easily oozes when the thick fleshy leaves are cut.

The light, greenish-yellowish juice quickly forms a protective coating when applied to the skin. It gradually turns into a dark, gummy mess but is easily washed off with warm water.

Aloe likes a semi-sunny window, good drainage and a soil mix of 1 part each of sand, peat and loam. Start new plants by offsets or simply divide the plant.

Organic mulches: A mulch is a material placed over the soil to keep weeds down and soil moisture in where it belongs. Which is better, apply organic mulch to the surface of the soil, or to work the material into the soil?

Tests show a greater plant growth where the mulches are left on the surface. Eventually, the mulch seeks its way into the soil where it helps to produce a desirable soil structure, allowing air and moisture to move freely in the soil.

Use any material you have: sawdust, peatmoss, compost, rotted leaves, chopped straw, wood chips, shredded newspapers — just anything else that's organic.

Freezing tomatoes again: A reader writes: "I'll never again process tomatoes in a Jar-T-Deal and cook a big kettle of ripe tomatoes. Add cut up celery, onions and green pepper.

Cook until tender, cool then bag and box. Add no sugar or salt. When unfrozen they are just as if you had cooked up a batch . . . and so easy to do. No more canning tomatoes for me!"

We're printing different menus for freezing tomatoes, and thanks to our friends for sending their tips along.

Camphor plant: a reader asks for information on growing a gunphor plant. He writes: "As a child, I remember all our Italian neighbors had at least one plant in their gardens.

They smelled so good. Leaves used for children with tummy aches or fever. Plant was a bush 2 feet tall, green white leaves and they must have been hardy because they survived the winters."

The camphor tree (Cinnamomum camphora) is the source of camphor of commerce, has cinnamon or camphor scented leaves and makes a good shrub for pot culture. Does any reader grow the camphor tree? Please write and tell us of your experience with it.

Two TF views on the Equal Rights Amendment

Yes!

By LOUISE KOONTZ

On March 22, 1972, the Congress of the United States passed and sent to the states for ratification the Equal Rights Amendment.

Only 2 days later, on March 24, 1972, the Idaho Legislature ratified this amendment without holding public hearings or even giving sufficient public notice that it would be voted on.

Probably the main reason that ERA passed Congress by a majority vote and has been ratified by some states is that most people think "equal rights" simply means "equal pay for equal work."

I agree that women should be paid according to their skills and responsibilities the same as men.

Congressmen were also influenced by the fact that many national womens-organizations gave their endorsement to ERA; probably thinking that it would mean better job opportunities and better pay for women. These women probably did not know or consider the rights and protection that they will lose.

Another reason that it passed longer be financially obligated to support his children. Again quoting from the "Yale Law Journal" on pages 944-945: "In most states the husband is primarily liable for the support of his wife and children. The child support sections of the criminal nonsupport laws could not be sustained where only the male is liable or support.

The Equal Rights Amendment would bar a state from imposing greater liability for support on a husband than on a wife merely because of his sex.

I am perplexed to read these interpretations of ERA and realize that the proponents believe that these things will be good for the country. It leads me to wonder if these people reject our Judeo-Christian custom that since women must bear the physical consequences of the sex act, men must carry their share by supporting and protecting.

Even if ERA were not a direct and immediate threat to the basic family unit, it would still be opposed to it because it is totally unnecessary. The Civil so hurriedly is that, as you have seen on T.V. and in the newspapers, the women's liberation agitators were on the scene and very vocal; some congressmen voted in favor of the amendment so that they wouldn't be labeled "anti-women." They just didn't hear from the happy, busy, well-adjusted women.

'The husband would no longer be financially obligated to support his children'

Professor Thomas Emerson of the Yale Law School is an advocate of the Equal Rights Amendment and made a study of it for the Yale Law Journal, published in April 1971.

In it he states that ERA would eliminate laws which now protect women from dangerous or unpleasant jobs. On page 935 of that publication, he states that, "There is little reason to doubt, therefore, that courts will invalidate weightlifting regulations for women under the Equal Rights Amendment."

In no other country of the world, or another time in history, have women enjoyed more rights and privileges than we do here in the United States. Never before have more women been in the legal and medical professions, owned more businesses, or held executive positions in government and private industry; yet those who wish to remain in the home still have the protection of the legal responsibility for the husband to provide for them and their children.

If the ERA is ratified, the husband and father would no

Rights Act of 1964 already guarantees that no person may be discriminated against on account of race, religion, or sex.

Let's look at a few more of Prof. Emerson's findings from the "Yale Law Journal."

"Courts faced with criminal laws which do not apply equally to men and women would be likely to invalidate the laws rather than extending or rewriting them to apply to women and men alike."

Seduction laws, statutory rape laws, laws prohibiting obscene language in the presence of women, prostitution and "manifest danger" laws... The ERA would not permit such laws, which base their sex discriminatory classification on social stereotypes.

"The statutory rape laws, which punish men for having sexual intercourse with any woman under an age specified by law... suffer from a double defect under the ERA."

"The ERA will have a substantial and pervasive impact upon military practices and institutions. As now formulated, the Amendment permits no exceptions for the military."

"Neither the right to privacy nor any unique physical characteristic justifies different treatment of the sexes with respect to voluntary or involuntary service, and pregnancy justifies only slightly different conditions of service for women."

'Equality of rights under the law shall not be denied or abridged by the United States or by any State on account of sex'

By MARY LOU LAMPE

TWIN FALLS — Under the Equal Right Amendment our laws will treat men and women equally.

It will outlaw discrimination against women as a class, granting them equality in matters of property and inheritance, for example. It will forbid special privileges for women that are denied to men, shorter working hours and higher minimum wages.

Some of the effects ERA would have on our laws include:

When a law confers a benefit, privilege or obligation of citizenship on one sex, the law would be extended to the other sex. When the law restricts or denies opportunities of women or men, it would be rendered unconstitutional.

Laws applying to only one sex because of reproductive differences, such as maternity leave or rape, would NOT be affected.

What if a law applies to both sexes but makes an age distinction because of sex, notably marriage laws, the age distinction would be removed.

'Laws applying to only one sex because of reproductive differences, such as maternity leave or rape, would not be affected...'

The most cogent argument against the ERA is that it is unnecessary because the 14th Amendment can be held to prohibit discrimination against women. The 14th Amendment in its key clause provides that no state shall deny to any person within its jurisdiction the equal protection of laws; it is that amendment which has outlawed racial discrimination under the law.

For many years women have sought a Supreme Court ruling affirming their equal rights under the 14th Amendment. They have consistently been turned down.

Finally in 1971 a woman won an equal protection case in the Supreme Court. The court's decision struck down an Idaho law that favored men over women as administrators of estates.

But the case was narrowly confined to the facts. The court's opinion did not go to the heart of the matter.

Women can continue the slow, costly process of bringing case after case to change discriminatory practices in state after state. They have done so for more than 50 years.

The Equal Rights Amendment, however, will sweep with a broad brush. It will shift the burden of proof to the states to justify sex discrimination as necessary. During debate in the US House, Edith Green of Oregon confessed that she had been wrong for many years in opposing the ERA.

She had argued in the past, "that wrong could be righted and more quickly through the legislative process and through the courts. But through the years I have watched the legislative actions on both the national and state levels and I have come to the conclusion that I was wrong."

In defense of her point, Mrs. Green cited instances of recent actions in the house that showed discrimination against women on the issues of equal pay and full educational opportunities.

Opponents of the ERA, particularly "gentlemen of the old school," contend that family life can be destroyed by the ERA. They say that laws on family support, alimony and child custody will be wiped out.

It is true that laws that give women, as a class, preference over men would be ruled discriminatory. Each case in domestic relations would be decided on its merits, according to the circumstances of the man and woman involved. That is now the trend in court cases.

Protective labor laws to protect women and children would be unconstitutional, but they could be extended to men as well as women as is the recent trend. Many women contend that laws described as "protective" in reality discriminate against the earnings and opportunities of women.

For instance, 26 states have laws or regulations that prohibit employment of women in specified occupations or industries. "Rosie the Riveter" showed in World War II that she could perform well in a job traditionally performed by men.

Under the ERA an individual's capacity to do a particular job would be the criterion for selection.

The end to the draft occurred on Jan. 1, 1973, and with the inception of the voluntary Army the arguments concerning the draft simply do not apply.

The ERA restricts only governmental action and activities covered by state and federal laws and purely social relations and customs among the sexes would not be subject to legislation.

Green Thumb: Red Bug Plants

Question of the week: F. C. "Two years ago we planted Linn Perennial ryegrass and Kentucky Bluegrass,  $\frac{3}{4}$  and  $\frac{1}{4}$  respectively. It came up but after a few mowings we noticed that the mower (a rotary type) would shred the grass instead of really cut it, leaving a whitish appearance which later turned brown.

"Thinking it was the lawn mower, I had the blade sharpened and the mower checked. Still the same problem and I even borrowed a mower, but it too shredded the grass. What causes this?"

The unsightly, shredded appearance is definitely caused by the kind of grass — in this case the perennial ryegrass. The seed you planted is regarded as a pasture-type perennial ryegrass. Your difficulties would have been far less if you had chosen one of the new turf types, such as Manhattan or Pennline.

The publicity given to ryegrasses for lawns pertains to the new ones on the market. In your mixture you had too much ryegrass, and probably bluegrass had little chance to become established in competition with the faster-growing ryegrass.

Where ryegrass nursegrass is to be used, do not have over 10 or 15 per cent, if you use the old types, with the newer turf types such as Compas, Manhattan, NKU, Polo, Pennline, etc.) a population predominately ryegrass would be acceptable.

The old ryegrasses will not grow so readily as other turf species (bentgrasses, fescues, bluegrasses).

Solution: There's nothing you can do to overcome your problem, short of plowing down all the ryegrass you have and starting over with a better seed mixture — one designed for fine turf rather than rough cover.

C. G. "We want to start our tuberos begonias early so the plants will be ready to set out and bloom. What's the best way?"

"Put the dry bulbs in a shallow box or pan surrounded with a layer of peatmoss, leaving the top of the bulb visible. Keep moist and in a warm place until growth begins to show, then pot up in a mixture of one-third each sand, peat and loam.

Avoid overwatering while tuber is rooting as it has no roots to absorb the moisture. After rooting has taken place, give more water and place in bright window. Set outdoors when weather is warm enough.

Camera never lies?

MAYBE: just a fib in this case. The human-headed caterpillar above is the work of a "silt camera," modified so that instead of the normal shutter between the lenses and film, there is a slit which moves during exposure, magnifying and distorting a photo subject's movements. With it a man can wrap himself around a lamppost.

He stretched an old inner tube across the entrance for a door and slit a small portion of it open at the bottom so his cat could run in and out whenever it wanted.

This quiet man always had a dog or cat around. A Basque sheepherder once gave him a little sheep dog that only understood Basque. The dog became a partner and companion but only after many patient weeks.

"The dog understood him after a while but he had to teach him to talk English," Mrs.

He felt politics were unnecessary, never voted in his life, and never married.

"He lived in the upper end of Rock Creek canyon one whole winter in the snow," Mrs. Crockett recalled. "He pitched a tent and seemed content to live away from everybody."

"He could get along with anybody if he wanted to," she continued. "He was a little temperamental, but you hit him just right and he'd be the best friend you ever had. He didn't like to be crossed. He liked to do things his way and if he didn't like the way things were going he'd go somewhere else."

"You could depend on him cake as any woman I ever saw and put up many a jar of fruit and jelly."

Dumrose also had an instinctive gardener's ability. He built small box "hathouses" covered with wire mesh and glass in front of his cave. When the plants were big enough Dumrose transplanted them in his Aunt Carrie's garden. They always thrived.

Charley Lundy, Rock Creek, was one of the few people who cowboyed with Dumrose regularly.

"Lou always had a lump of tobacco big as a baseball stuffed in his cheek," Lundy laughed. "When you were sit down at a hundred yards and knock a tick off a brush," said Lundy. "He was the best shot I ever saw in my life."

Dumrose's sandstone cave is nestled in the sagebrush about a half a mile west of Carrie Crockett's place. It took him three years to carve his last home.

"Dumrose would never use the same trail twice when going to his cave, according to Lundy. He would scan the country before starting for his abode and again after he got there to make sure no one was watching him."

Lundy remarked that friends came to see him at the cave but he didn't want them there.

The home extends 50 feet into the sandstone hill. A wood stove, with a stovepipe extended up through the hill, sat in the far corner of the kitchen just to the right of the entrance. A five foot dugout in the rear wall of the kitchen was his bedroom.

To the left of the entrance is a six foot square dugout with shelves. The corridor leading to the partially completed rear storeroom had several smaller dugouts filled with shovels. Vents extended upward from this rear storeroom to allow for sufficient oxygen to that part of the cave.

Charley Lundy gave Dumrose two gas lanterns for light but they were never used. Gas would saturate the tunnel and not allow Dumrose enough oxygen. Instead he used candles to find his way through the complete darkness of his home. To give additional light he used Crockett said. "Carrie Crockett remembered her nephew's early years well. "When he was a little kid he always wanted to go stay to Aunt Carrie's. He made a lot of things for me too. He nearly always would get me a Christmas present," she said. "He didn't get very many presents for anybody, but once in a while one for me. He'd do anything for me, it didn't matter what it was."

Mrs. Crockett recalled that Lou dropped out of school after the eighth grade.

"He didn't even go to high school," she commented. "He just learned it. He just had the ability to learn things."

His mother died when he was 16 years old and Dumrose started living with Carrie most of the time.

His father, owner of a candy store, and three sisters lived in Rock Creek City, but he wouldn't live with them after his mother died. He visited them but never slept there.

though. If he told you he'd do something, he'd do it."

Dumrose was a musician and a good cook. He played guitar, violin, banjo, blew some on the harmonica, and used to cook during roundup.

"He was a good cook and loved to do it," Mrs. Crockett said. "He could make as good a riding with him you always wanted to make damn sure you rode upwind. He didn't care if you were in the way."

Buhl-man builds cement yacht

By PAULINE DAY
Times-News writer

BUIHL. — "A cement yacht?"
"Will it float?"

Those questions have been asked many times according to Bill Kyles, Buhl, who is in the process of building just such a cement craft.

His answer, "Yes, it will float."

Kyles, a retired science teacher, said the boat-building project had been a life-long dream.

"No matter where you go you must have a home. With a boat you have your home on land or sea."

He says when the boat is completed he will have an 11-ton cruising yacht worth about $30,500. He said he has about $4,000 worth of material in the craft and more hours work than he cares to count.

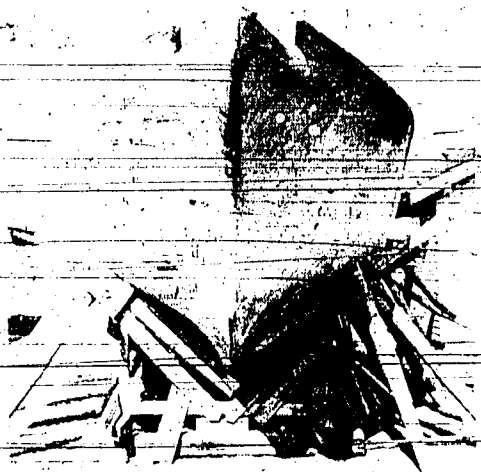

The yacht is 38 feet long and 11 feet 4 inches wide.

Kyles obtained plans for the craft from Samson Marine Design Limited of Vancouver, British Columbia.

"Cement boats are not uncommon on the east or west coast. They have proven themselves seaworthy and cost much less than elaborate fiberglass crafts." He said a 7,500 mile trip had been made from Korea to Los Angeles in a boat similar to the one he is constructing. The cement construction is also being used for houseboats.

Kyles started construction on the boat in October, 1971. He said weather conditions this winter had put him behind schedule. He expects the project to take about two and one half years.

The boat was formed on an inverted mold. The hull is constructed with two layers containing four thicknesses of chicken wire and one layer of steel with 1 by 6 or 4 by 8 mesh reinforced with steel rods which are wired to the mesh. Ferro-cement is then vibrated with a cement grouting machine under pressure to fill all spaces and smooth out the surfaces. The cement must all be put on at the same time so it dries evenly.

When the cement is dry, the craft was turned right-side-up and work began on the cabins and deck of the craft.

Kyles began building the boat on a vacant lot across the street from his home. When the cement was dry, he had it moved to his own property where he has built a support to hold the boat upright.

The yacht will be powered by a 25 horsepower diesel engine, with a speed under power of 6.5 knots. It has a sail area of 700 square feet. The main mast is about 40 feet in vertical length with a second mast of 28 feet. The hull displaces 22,400 pounds and the draft, the portion of the craft below the water line, is five feet six inches.

Headroom for the craft is six foot four inches and the boat will have a capacity of 100 gallons of fresh water. When completed the yacht will comfortably accommodate five or six people.

"A cement craft is a 'stiff boat,'" Kyles said. The ballast of 5,500 pounds of cement and steel will keep the boat stable in all conditions. "Cement boats have been run ashore and have hit icebergs with the only damage being an eggshell-type break, which is easily repaired," he said. "Other type crafts are severely damaged by such encounter," he said.

Kyles has built much of the cabin indoors this winter. "Building a boat is unique because you have angles running in all directions," he said.

The main cabin will have a living room with carpeting and fireplace and sleeping quarters for two or three people. Additional sleeping space will be in the forward hole cabin.

Lockers for anchor chain and line, closets and cabinets will also be on board. The ship's galley will have complete facilities. Bathing facilities on the yacht will be modern and the craft will have a self-contained septic tank system.

The wheelhouse will accommodate the captain's chart table, instruments and the ship's wheel.

The interior of the yacht will be finished much like the inside of a travel trailer, Kyles said.

"Being an amateur archeologist, I decided the craft would be great for exploration. The sea is the only frontier remaining," he said.

Kyles plans to move the boat by truck and flatbed to the Columbia River near Pasco, Wash. for her maiden voyage.

He said he would use the boat in inland waters until he was familiar with international laws governing the oceans. He currently is taking a skipper's course offered by the Coast Guard.

Dumrose with 1925 Ford

Hermit

tin soapbox tops as mirrors to reflect sunlight into the cave.

The natural insulation of the sandstone gave the cave a year-round temperature, variance of two degrees. In winter it never dropped below sixty degrees and never exceeded 62 in summer according to Landy.

The pick marks sweeping down the walls and arched entryways between the rooms reflect the effort and sweat that went into the construction of the cave. Dumrose also tacked cellophane and tinfoil to the ceiling to keep sand particles from continually falling.

"I'll tell you," Charley Landy repeated, "In my life and your life you'll never see nothing like this again."

Souvenir hunters have broken the kitchen wares, torn away the original doors, stolen the wood stove Dumrose used to cook sourdough pancakes and biscuits on, and carved their initials into the two-tone pink and brown sandstone walls.

Dumrose, a stooped figure of a man in his 60's, carried buckets of water on his back through the desert from Carrie's place to his cave for a little more than a year.

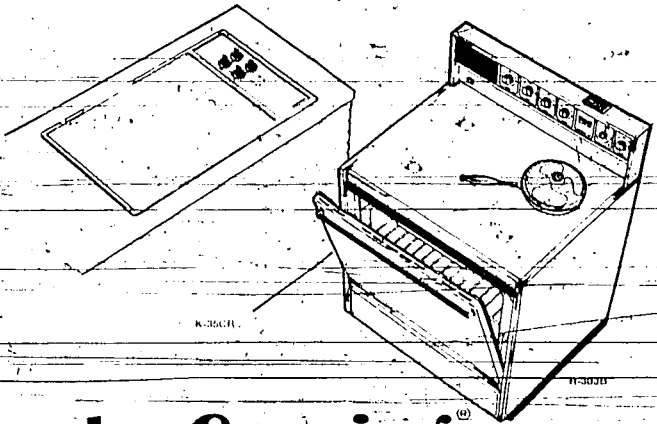

One fall day in 1966, Dumrose was laying on a sofa at his Aunt Carrie's when he complained of a pain in his left arm. Mrs. Crockett and Landy asked about it, but he told them he had only fallen. They didn't believe him, however, they left him watching a football game and went to help a neighbor, Asahel Murray, brand calves.

Charlotte Crockett, found Louis (Lou) Dumrose lying face up in the yard later on that October afternoon — dead. He had walked outside and laid down to die in the open air.

"He lived the easiest life and died the easiest of any man I ever saw," said Charley Landy.

"You couldn't stop him," added Carrie Crockett, "Age would never stop him. Take it all together, he was an odd character, that's all."

put a Corning® smoothtop under it!

You've probably heard about the beautiful Corning cooktops that use matching Cookmates® cookware. But some great cooks really believe in the magic of Grandmother's iron-breakfast skillet. Some wouldn't think of shelving Aunt Hattie's copper teakettle and what about all those lovely pots and pans from the wedding? Who could part with them?

That's why Corning also has a smoothtop range or cooktop that lets you use almost every pot and pan in your kitchen. They're the family models of the Counterange® electric range or The Counter That Cooks® cooktop. As easy to care for as they are to cook with.

- Smooth, one-piece glass-ceramic cooktop wipes clean with Corning's Cleaner-Conditioner and a damp paper towel.
- Cooking areas can be used as handy extra counter space when cool.
- With Corning ranges turn two knobs and three hours later the pyrolytic self-cleaning oven looks new again.

Introduce beautiful smoothtop cooking to your favorite cookware today. We'll bet they'll like each other.

Now use your favorite pots and pans with the new Family Counterange® electric range by Corning.

- Cook on one easy-care glass-ceramic surface.
- Select infinite heat settings from 10 to HI.
- Bake with a timed oven . . . pyrolytic self-cleaning of course.
