Smacks brother

KRISTINE Whelock, 8, with the heroism plaque clutched in her hand gives her brother Brand, one of two brothers she rescued from their burning home, a kiss when Evendale volunteer firemen awarded the youngster the recognition for her act Sunday. This year, the fact Kristine is deaf makes the rescue even more miraculous. (UPI)

Hospital workers strike in London

LONDON (UPI) — Hospitals struck by non-medical hospital workers turned away or sent home all but emergency cases today and resorted to feeding patients frozen television dinners.

One maternity hospital asked husbands to bring food from home for their wives. The strike had closed the hospital's kitchens.

At West Cheshire hospital, a spokesman said: "This hospital cannot be closed. There are 1,300 mentally ill patients here. Many of them are geriatric cases. There is nowhere else we can send them, and the bedding situation is desperate."

Hospitals improvised to feed patients and huge mounds of soiled and bloodstained linens piled up in hospital corridors because laundry workers also were on strike.

More than 220,000 nonmedical hospital workers struck 241 institutions in the latest of the "strike-a-day" series stunning Britain this week as workers protest the 3-month-old freeze on pay increases imposed by Prime Minister Edward Heath.

Medical authorities said a 72-hour walkout had forced most hospitals virtually to close down.

The country's rail workers, who stopped all train service Wednesday for 24 hours, decided to walk off their jobs again next Thursday and to stop all train service on Sundays until their wage demands are met.

On another front, authorities ordered the continued closure of 900 schools today for the second day because they lacked sufficient heating.

Millions of homes and about 2,500 businesses also were hit when gas workers turned off gas taps in their 15-day-old dispute over low wages.

A gas corporation spokesman said the situation was expected to grow worse this weekend with the possibility of gas supplies being cut off to entire towns.

Industrial observers said the labor protests added up to Britain's worst week of strikes since World War II. Up to 700,000 strikers were involved.

Lawyers call CIA witness

1408-ANGELES, (UPI) — Daniel Ellsberg, defense lawyer, called as a witness today a CIA analyst who has said his Pentagon Papers contained information that came from lies made up by the Army.

Improved

As its second witness, the defense in the Pentagon Papers trial scheduled, Samuel A. Adams and planned to follow him with Rep. Phil McFetridge, D-Calif., who opposed President Nixon for the Republican presidential nomination last year.

Adam's testimony was expected to be another round in the defense's attempt to rebut the prosecution's argument that information in the Pentagon

Papers could have been used to harm the security of the nation.

12 nations sign

Viet peace plan

PARIS (UPI) — The nine-point plan designed to ensure a lasting peace in Vietnam pledges the 12 signing parties — scrupulously — to respect the Paris peace accord and calls on other countries to do the same, according to the text published today.

It provides mechanism to reconvene the conference if peace is threatened in the future and sets up machinery for reporting cease-fire violations.

It also commits the parties to refrain from any action at variance with the provisions of the Jan. 27 peace agreement.

The signatories to the plan, published in English, French, Russian, Vietnamese and Chinese, are the four belligerents — the United States, North and South Vietnam and the Viet Cong — U.N. Security Council permanent members China, Russia, Britain and France, and the four superpower powers — Canada, Poland, Hungary and Indonesia.

The document was produced during four days of "deliberation" by the 12 governments and is aimed at ensuring an enduring peace in Vietnam.

It was prepared for signature in the presence of U.N. Secretary General Kurt Waldheim.

"Roundtable" is an abbreviation version of the document.

1. The 12 parties solemnly acknowledge, approve and support the Jan. 27 Paris peace accord.

2. That accord responds to the aspirations and national rights of the Vietnamese people and the right of the South Vietnamese to self-determination. It constitutes a major contribution to peace and improvement of relations among countries.

Mrs. Harmon said the use of helicopters or snowmobiles makes the horses frantic they'll run until they just drop over dead.

Clair Whelock, BLM assistant state director, said the only definitely identified band of wild horses run the Little Lost River area, bringing the necessity to clear the federal lands of privately owned horses.

Military takeover in Chile

SANTIAGO, Chile (UPI) — The military assumed command of law enforcement throughout Chile today in an effort to prevent violence in Sunday's congressional election which could determine the future of President Salvador Allende's left-wing government.

Gen. Carlos Prats, the interior minister, named army, air force and naval officers to command police in each of the nation's electoral districts.

Federal law requires the military to take charge of local police 48 hours before the polls open. Government sources said Prats had also prepared a series of emergency decrees giving the military extraordinary powers in the event of election-day violence.

HAILEY — Mrs. Ramona Gardoqui Cenarrusa, 82, died Thursday in a Sun Valley hospital following a long illness.

Born Nov. 26, 1896, in Germea, Vizcaya, in the Basque country of Spain, she immigrated to Spokane in 1914 and married Joe Cenarrusa Sept. 15, 1915.

He had immigrated earlier from the Basque country. He died in an automobile accident Oct. 27, 1972.

Surviving are two sons, Pete Cenarrusa, Boise, and Luis Cenarrusa, Carey; two daughters, Mrs. Robert (Nieves) Watson, Belmont, Calif., and Mrs. Frank (Lucia) Sonnen, Hailey; a sister, Segunda Cardigan, Spain; Germany and six grandchildren.

Burial services for Mrs. Cenarrusa will be recited at 8 p.m. Sunday with Requiem Mass being celebrated at 2 p.m. Monday by Rev. Frs. Joseph M. Gebhardt and Juan Garatea. Both Rosy and Mass will be at St. Charles of the Valley Catholic Church. Interments will be in the Bellevue Cemetery. Friends may call at the Bird Funeral Home Sunday.

The family suggests memorials to the American Cancer Society or the Lynn, Feredy Memorial Scholarship Fund for Basque Studies.

Capt. Tim Qualls, chief of detectives in Twin Falls, said the four were arrested by Twin Falls and Jerome city and county officers. Three have been released to their parents and another is in custody of the city police here, pending court action.

Qualls said the four are charged with at least 16 incidents of window breaking in Twin Falls and possible other incidents in Jerome County and Twin Falls County.

He said no estimate of damage has been compiled on the windows but 14 windows were broken at the Special Education School in Twin Falls alone. Most other incidents involved plate glass windows in homes.

Qualls said two of the boys are 16 and the other two are 17 years of age.

Scheduled is the premiere of "The Thief Who Came to Dinner," a new Warner Bros. film starring Jacqueline Bisset and Ryan O'Neal as a pair of jewel thieves who burglarize a wealthy socialite of Houston.

The special premiere is being given to the foundation by the producer-director, Bud Yorkin.

Fresh snow brings area good skiing

TWIN FALLS — Good late winter skiing is forecast again this weekend with most resorts reporting shirt-sleeve weather and good snow conditions.

Sun Valley reports six inches of new snow during the week with three inches of new snow Thursday. Total depths are 35 inches at the top of Baldy, at the Roundhouse and 24 on the valley floor. Roads are good but with some wet spots.

Magic Mountain received about one inch of new snow Thursday on a packed base of between 40 and 50 inches. The road was widened Thursday and is in good condition but with some wet spots in the lower valley and a snow floor in the upper area.

Temperatures are between 30 and 40 degrees in the daytime. The area is operating Friday, Saturday and Sunday with buses at 9 a.m. on Saturday and Sunday.

Pomerene reports the arrival of new snow since last weekend with total depths of 40 inches in the lodge and drifts up to 15 feet deep at the top of the mountain. The chair lift and small rope tow are operating and the resort is open seven days per week.

High court appeal set in TF case

TWIN FALLS — An appeal to the Idaho Supreme Court has been filed in the case of John S. Dayley.

Dayley was found guilty in a jury trial on Dec. 21, 1972, of robbery and resisting an officer by means of violence. He was accused of the Sept. 25 robbery of Shelly's Market.

On Feb. 13 he was sentenced to 10 years on the robbery charge and five years on the resisting charge, the sentences to run concurrently.

In filing the appeal, Dayley's attorney, Charles Brubach of the public defender's office, stated that the appeal was "upon the rulings of the court during the trial—and at the saptly hearing held prior to trial, and upon the further reason that the verdict of the jury was contrary to the manifest weight of the evidence."

Insurance suit filed

TWIN FALLS — Daniel B. Mehl has filed suit in Fifth District Court against Manufacturers Life Insurance Co.

In the suit, Mehl alleges that his late wife, Maureen, made application, took physical examinations and paid premiums on a $20,000 double indemnity policy with Manufacturers Life prior to her death by accident on March 6, 1971.

Mehl alleges further that the insurance company has refused payment on the policy. He seeks $10,000 for the double indemnity coverage, plus attorney fees and court costs.

Term set

TWIN FALLS — Carl W. Heidenreich, 33, Twin Falls, has been placed on 18-months probation after serving 126 days in the Idaho State Penitentiary.

Heidenreich pleaded guilty to a charge of grand larceny in Fifth District Court on Sept. 5, 1972. He was arrested on June 23, 1972, and charged with helping to steal more than 100 used radiators from Janssen's Wrecking Service, Twin Falls.

Files plea

TWIN FALLS — Johnny Gater, 30, Twin Falls, pleaded guilty to three counts of issuing checks without funds in the bank, a felony.

Appearing in Fifth District Court before Judge James M. Cunningham, Gater, through his attorney, requested the completion of a biographical report prior to sentencing.

Moorehead found guilty by jury

TWIN FALLS — David Dean Moorehead, 18, was found guilty by a Fifth Judicial District Court jury here Thursday night.

The verdict came at the end of a third trial for Moorehead on charges of delivery of a controlled substance. Trial began about 5:15 p.m. Thursday and the verdict was returned shortly after 9 p.m.

Moorehead's first trial began Jan. 22, but ended when a mistrial was declared after one day of testimony and following an article in the Times-News which the court ruled prejudicial.

A second trial for Moorehead began last Friday and ended in a hung jury and another riding of mistrial. Judge James M. Cunningham heard the three trials.

A motion for a change of venue was asked this week by Monte Carlson, representing Moorehead, but Judge Cunningham overruled the motion saying he believed an unbiased jury could still be selected.

Moorehead was arrested last July 24 by Twin Falls City police on a warrant charging he sold marijuana to a police officer through an intermediary April 15.

Judge Cunningham ordered a pre-sentence investigation for Moorehead and set him free for sentenced pending completion of the investigation.

The road is rutted in the lower area but has been plowed with snow. Tires required.

Temperatures are from 30 to 35 degrees. A Spring Fling is planned for March 31.

Soldier Mountain lists four inches of new snow since last weekend with total depths of 30 to 45 inches on the ski runs. The road has been plowed but snow tires are recommended. Temperatures are from 30 to 35 degrees.

This service is available on Saturday and Sunday and the area's operator, Woodstock, through Sunday. The resort plans a teen-age race March 11.

Unchanged

TWIN FALLS — Velma C. Thompson, 50, Fargo, N. D., remains in critical condition today at Magic Valley Community Hospital.

She was injured late Wednesday when the vehicle she was driving left U.S. Highway 30 west of Twin Falls and rolled over into a field. Hospital attendants said she is being treated for severe chest, internal and head injuries.

Church Hits spender tag

TWIN FALLS — Lloyd J. Hundley, 21, was bound over to Fifth Judicial District Court Thursday on two separate felony charges.

Hundley was served at the time he was arrested for assault on December. Hundley is accused of writing a $10 check to Albertsons grocery on Oct. 7, 1972, without funds in the book.

He is accused of acting in cooperation with Timothy R. Cutts, 21, to assault a Twin Falls man. He was arrested on the charge Dec. 18.

According to court minutes, prosecuting Magistrate Daniel B. Mehl found that the state had barely presented sufficient probable cause to bind the defendant over to district court.

At the same preliminary hearing, Judge Mehl also ordered Hundley bound over to district court on a charge of taking a check without funds in the bank.

The second warrant against

Guilty plea filed

TWIN FALLS — Leonard Darrell Haegstrom, 33, has pleaded guilty in Fifth District Court to resisting a police officer by means of force and violence.

Haegstrom's plea was the result of bargaining with the prosecutor's office.

In return for the guilty plea,

Few FBI shifts

FBI agent says changes few since Gray chosen

TWIN FALLS — No drastic changes have taken place within the bureau since the death of Director J. Edgar Hoover and the appointment of E. Patrick Gray as acting director, according to the Butte special agent.

Robert W. Evans, special agent in charge of the Butte division which covers all of Montana and Idaho as well as Yellowstone Park, Wyo., told Exchange Club members the most significant changes in the bureau since Gray's takeover have been a relaxation of standards on hair and dress and the hiring of women agents.

"We're still in business on bank robbers," Evans said.

Evans said Gray, whose nomination as director is now before the Senate, has his vote for the job of heading the FBI.

"I cannot think of anyone who could do a better job than Mr. Gray," Evans said. "I certainly hope he gets the job, and I don't see any reason why he shouldn't."

Evans, appearing before the Exchange Club in celebration of Law Enforcement Week, complimented the group for the work it has done. He said he thought riotous conditions in the country, in which the FBI did no involve itself unless requested, were "going downhill" due to the support of groups such as the Exchange Club.

"Law enforcement is a real frustrating job," Evans said. He said it had been hard for some men to remain cool while being called a "pig."

"No one likes to be called a pig," said Evans, especially when he's doing a job." He said the adoption of "little pig" ties by officers in some localities and the use of the slogan "Pride, Integrity, Guts," had taken some of the sting out of the epithet and deflated hecklers.

Evans said the jurisdiction of the FBI had not changed in the last few years. He said a recent presidential directive allows FBI agents to assist in cases where police officers are murdered, but only if requested to do so by local officers.

False Advertising For Postal Service?

Russia's Might

Soviet Russia is steadily expanding air, land, sea and missile power and has no intention of slowing down the pace, despite beginning talks for lessening tensions in Western Europe.

A Russian General, Serge Sokolov, First Deputy Defense Minister, blamed Western "imperialism" that compels us to take steps for further raising the combat strength of the armed forces.

In a speech on Soviet Army-Navy Day, Sokolov naturally found fault with the West's policy of peace from strength and said the aggressive strategy of imperialism is spearheaded against the Socialist countries.

"We do not want to intimidate anyone," Sokolov added. The record does not support his statement, which followed on the heels of a new British assessment of Russia's aggressive buildup.

"There is no sign that the Soviet Union is anticipating the outcome of the negotiations by slackening of its defense efforts," a British White Paper said. "The Soviet Union's defense expenditures continue to rise each year in real terms."

The British gave a grim view of Russia's present strength, including construction of 90 new silos for intercontinental ballistic missiles, six new missile firing submarines and 300 attack and cruise missile submarines. Soviet Naval forces, carrying the most advanced weapons system, have been deployed around the world and some 11,600 war planes range over the Atlantic, Pacific and Indian Oceans and Mediterranean and Caribbean seas.

The British document observed: "There are at present some 94 Russian and other Warsaw Pact divisions in Eastern Europe and another 129 divisions elsewhere in the Soviet Union."

The White Paper pointedly observed: "Only negotiation from strength is likely to produce equitable agreement. There must therefore be a unilateral reduction in defense capabilities in the West."

Russia has taken a hardnosed line, no doubt encouraged by concessions won in the SALT I talks and the fact that some members of Congress want unilateral U.S. troops cutbacks in Europe.

Senator James Buckley of New York urges that Congress go on record as opposing reduction of our forces in Europe until and unless current negotiations produce equitable concessions from the Soviet Union.

Solid backing from Congress would immensely strengthen President Nixon's hand for the hard bargaining ahead.

The Russians may not want to intimidate anyone but they have done it before and will do it again when they confront weakness.

WASHINGTON — Rep. Lester L. Wolff, D-N.Y., has come up with a novel idea to call to account that "legitimized filum" and otherwise known as the United States Postal Service. Wolff has filed a complaint with the Federal Trade Commission charging the management of this spawned Pony Express with false advertising.

Wolff's complaint is based on a Postal Service promotion — costing $296,000 — which guaranteed next-day delivery with 95 per cent assurance for zipcoded airmail letters deposited before 4 p.m. at specified collection points and destined for designated major cities generally within a 600-mile radius.

This sounds like the fine print in a life insurance policy, but Wolff's beef is that the guarantee is a phony. His office made test mailings to 25 addresses across the country, dispatching the letters both airmail and first-class. According to Wolff, 32 per cent of the first-class letters were previously had seemed to view delivered ahead of the airmail postal couple as just a bad letters, and 28 per cent arrived on the same day. The airmail letter arrived first only 10 per cent of the time. A first-class letter to Stamford, Calif., for him personally had tripped, for example, arrived Feb. 7, the 700th week — and summoned his first-class airmail letter arrived Feb. 8, 85 regional managers to an conference a couple of weeks make false claims, are called to talk. Klassen actually took Wolff. "Our Postal Service is a quasi-private corporation. It, too, should be held accountable for misleading advertising." Frankly, I don't believe Wolff's action will get to first communities. He gave local base, but I applaud his spirit. He just might succeed, after all, to revise work schedules and more these years of loamy mail service, in persuading President Nixon or Congress, or both, that the Postal Service is muleteering the public just as surely as the Mafia family which runs a dry cleaning empire in New York City. Indeed, Postmaster General Elmer T. Klassen, who is even wondering whether the Postal Service should own its own fleet of mail planes. I trust that thought is unvoiced. Mail users just want to use flying machines; they don't want to court bankruptcy by buying them.

But fine. It's nice to know that Klassen at least has gotten around to admitting he has problems. I expect he's been hearing voices. The General Accounting Office is investigating the Postal Service (at last) and a couple of Congressional inquiries are in the works, in addition to Lester Wolff's hounding.

Maybe our system of government by public disclosure is good enough even to get a postcard delivered to the next town on odd Tuesdays. Let us hope. My Indian friends tell me that communication by smoke signals requires clean air.

GEORGE C. THOSTESON, M.D.

Varicose Veins

Dear Dr. Thosteson: What's without support hose. Best the proper procedure to cope with superficial varicose veins? I wear support hose, and am very busy.

Dear Dr. Thosteson: My sister-in-law's baby is six months old. It's a normal baby and all, but its tongue is always sticking out. It's as though its tongue was too big for its mouth.

It is not sticky or anything, but it is always sticking out and she sucks on it every so often. Is this anything that should be paid attention to or should we ignore it? — Mrs. J. M. K.

The wife has probably just discovered her tongue and is maneuvering it as part of the sucking instinct.

While I doubt there is any problem here, I would advise you to call it to the doctor's attention at the next visit so you can be reassured.

Dear Dr. Thosteson: I understand that varicose veins are treated by injections — I interpret that as your meaning of "dried." A sclerosing solution is injected to "dry up" or close off the veins through which circulation is so sluggish as to be doing more harm than good.

When the veins are in such condition that pain in the legs becomes a problem, then it is more usual to remove them by stripping. That means a small incision at top and bottom of a section of varicose vein, and the vein is drawn out lengthwise; so the remaining scars are very small.

It has another advantage or two over sclerotherapy: the injected or sclerosed veins may leave dark streaks on the legs; and in some cases the veins may gradually open again later.

With only methods the hospital stay is brief — a day or two. After that you are advised to be mildly active and to walk about to encourage circulation in the other veins which take over the work of those that fail. Mild household chores, therefore, would be approved. Your doctor can best give you more specific instructions about how much activity will be helpful for you.

Whether you will have to continue to use support hose after the faulty veins have been removed will depend very considerably on the condition of the remaining veins in your legs.

Such hose does not correct varicose veins or improve them; it can to some degree retard the progress of varicosity; it is primarily a matter of comfort. ROWLAND EVANS & ROBERT NOVAK

Meany vs. Nixon

MIAMI BEACH — The deep ambivalence among labor leaders toward Richard M. Nixon surfaced again here where he thrilled the AFL-CIO Executive Council by comparing his own job to theirs but fell far short of meeting their demands for protectionist trade legislation.

In many vacation spots there are thousands of moderately priced places where a vacationist can stay and have fun. If states catering to the tourist trade would go to more pains to get information out to accommodations, recreation and scenic offerings, business would really boom.

The average American has two weeks for a vacation. If he scans the travel magazine, what does he find?

Right and soon, no doubt, articles on how to get to the moon.

All this makes good reading especially for those who do their traveling by book, but it does not tell millions what they want to know.

So perhaps some day someone will start a different kind of travel magazine.

TODAY'S CHIEF: Average husband: "Where am I when you serve the meals from which I always get the leftovers?"

PURSUING PAYOFFS:

Gypsies failed in one area formerly had little trouble swinging into business in another. But state consumer fraud bureaus are now making their roving difficult.

No amount of warning will keep the gypsies from encouraging fakers, for the hope of getting something for nothing springs eternal. But many persons are taken in by seemingly legitimate deals that collapse only because their sponsors were crooks.

The consumer is often helpless in such a circumstance unless he has an official agency to fall back upon. Swindlers will always be present, but no effort should be spared to keep them on the run.

VACATION INFORMATION:

Instead of endorsing the AFL-CIO's specific protectionist aims when he addressed Meany and the Executive Council behind closed doors, Mr. Nixon attempted to enlist their help with an ingenious argument, in effect, he told them as follows:

Your job and mine are very similar. You cannot go into a bargaining session with management "unless you have the right to strike." I could not end the Vietnam war unless I, too, had the right to strike (in reference to his highly successful December bombing of Hanoi and Haiphong).

The President then drew an analogy with his need for new trade legislation, saying that he could not possibly deal with the flood of imports from Japan and West Germany "unless I have the right to strike" by imposing higher tariffs and other protectionist devices.

Further, Mr. Nixon said that he knew a labor leader could never marshal the full strength of its international union unless he had the power of his local unions in his own hands.

Translators of officially approved summaries of some of the preliminary documents in this foreign policy planning have been sent this writer recently by contacts in Hong Kong.

The China strategy centers on isolating the United States and the Soviet Union. To accomplish this, the rest of the world would be divided into three major blocs, then subdivided into sub-blocks according to economic status, political outlook and the type of potential conflict of interest with the two super-powers.

The first bloc would include the two major enemies of the people of the world. They are the capitalist countries of Western Europe and Asia. The objective must be to convince both groups that they do share a common interest — an opposition to super-power hegemony.

The second bloc, which includes Japan and other second-echelon capitalist countries. The Chinese say these lands require Peking's assistance in organizing to fight Soviet and US attempts at control, interference and bullying.

Media upholds rights*

By United Press International
The Washington Post, the New York Times and Time Magazine say they will fight subpoenas served on reporters and executives in connection with the Watergate bugging case.

The Washington Evening Star News, the fourth news organization involved in the controversy, says its subpoenaed reporters would appear in court but would not reveal "any privileged information."

The subpoenas were obtained in Washington Monday by attorneys for the Committee for the Re-election of the President and other Republicans involved in civil suits arising from the Watergate bugging.

In announcing the Post's opposition, Benjamin C. Bradlee, executive editor of the newspaper, said Thursday the subpoenas "blatantly disregard the First Amendment rights of freedom of the press and the public's right to know."

The subpoenas were issued for Katharine Graham, publisher of the Post; Howard Simons, managing editor, and reporters Carl Bernstein and Bob Woodward.

Newbold Noyes, editor of the Washington Evening Star News, said reporters Jeremiah O'Leary, James Polk, Patrick Collins, and Joseph Volz will appear in response to the subpoenas. However, they will not violate the public's constitutional guarantee of a free press by revealing any privileged information.

In New York, a spokesman for Time Inc., said Thursday the company will give "full assistance" to reporter Dean Fischer in filing a motion to quash the subpoena in U.S. District Court in Washington. The spokesman said the subpoena is an invasion of Mr. Fischer's rights under the First Amendment to the Constitution and "it is improper . . ."

The New York Times said it will take "all legal steps" to quash a subpoena served on reporter John Crewdson.

Times-publisher Arthur Ochs Sulzberger said in a statement that the subpoena "violates the basic First Amendment rights of the Times, its reporters and the public." He said the newspaper "will take all legal steps to have the subpoena quashed."

Aide raps health budget

WASHINGTON (UPI) — A physician congressman says the administration's health budget cuts "cure" one of the blides and spleens of the elderly, sick and disabled."

Rep. William R. Roy, D-Kan., a lawyer and obstetrician, made the remark in sharp questioning Thursday of Health, Education and Welfare Secretary Caspar A. Weinberger during Weinberger's first appearance on Capitol Hill as a Cabinet member Thursday.

Roy and Rep. Paul G. Rogers, D-Fla., chairman of the House Public Health subcommittee, led a Democratic assault on Weinberger, after item in President Nixon's "proposed budget."

Roy asked Weinberger how he justified planned increases in payment rates by Medicare patients. Weinberger replied that "over-utilization" of hospitals for diagnosis and short-term purposes had driven the cost of hospitalization up to $104 to $105 a day.

"What we are trying to do is discourage over-utilization," Weinberger said.

"You're telling me that elderly persons go to the hospital because they want to and not because they have to," Roy asked. "These increases are coming out of the blides and spleens of the elderly, ill and disabled."

Rogers challenged administration plans to end the federal portion of the community mental health center program. Congress approved the program in 1963. The Administration plans to end federal funding for the program — about a third of its cost — as of fiscal year 1973 and leave it entirely to state and local governments and private groups.

Outlook good

MONTGOMERY, Ala. (UPI) — Gov. George Wallace said Thursday he is well-on-the-way to coping fully with his partial paralysis and feels that he could win "any election I run in."

Wallace made the comments shortly before he left Washington and the National Governors' Conference to return to the state capital.

"I feel like that my election [in 1976] will be able to win," said Wallace, 53, who was left confined to a wheelchair as a result of a shooting at Laurel, Md., last May 15.

He said he has not yet decided whether to seek re-election as governor in 1972 or whether he will make a fourth bid for the presidency in 1976.

"I'll be talking about it a little later," said Wallace, who was campaigning in the Maryland presidential primary when he was shot five times by a would-be assassin.

Washington visit ends

WASHINGTON (UPI) — Israeli Prime Minister Golda Meir winds up her Washington visit today, apparently having received promises of most of the military and economic aid she sought.

Mrs. Meir came here with a long shopping list for military hardware and economic aid. According to Israeli sources, she appeared to have obtained most of it.

"She could not be happier," said one source close to her.

Neither Mrs. Meir nor the administration would divulge details.

White House Press Secretary Ronald L. Ziegler told reporters after a 90-minute meeting between President Nixon and Mrs. Meir: "The President assured Mrs. Meir of continuing U.S. support. As you know, we provide Israel with economic and military assistance. This will continue."

Administration sources said privately that Mrs. Meir asked for $300 million in military credits to buy 30 F-4 Phantom fighter-bombers, 30 A-4 Skyhawk tactical bombers,

SOMETHING DIFFERENT... 'BASQUE BALLADEER' at CACTUS PETE'S HORSE SHU

LOUIS MICHEL IRIGARAY
THE BASQUE BALLADEER!

Something new in local entertainment is coming to Jackpot. Starting tonight at Cactus Pete's Horse Shu, you can enjoy the music and songs of Louis Michel Irigaray, the "Basque Balladeer." The Basque singer came to Jackpot from Carson City where he has been appearing at the new Ormsby House since its opening last summer.

The former Basque Sheepherder turned singer has an interesting and traditional Basque background and appears to be well on his way to becoming a new star in the entertainment world. Following this appearance, he decided to spend his full time in show business.

Louis has a casual, warm style which seems to please all crowds and age groups. He knows many Basque people in the area and has been asked to come and perform here.

In speaking of his music, Louis says: "The Shepherd's way of life is fading fast. Before it disappears, I want to capture it in music. People haven't changed since the beginning of time. Humans have made them happy for centuries, so I think I can make people happy now." He also gains self-satisfaction from his talent. "This is affording me the opportunity to be myself. It's giving me encouragement for the future."

Lynch concedes defeat

DUBLIN (UPI) — A coalition of opponents toppled Prime Minister Jack Lynch and his Fianna Fail party from power today after 10 years of uninterrupted rule in the closest election in Irish history.

Fianna Fail gained only 64 of the 144 seats in the Dail (parliament) and, with 12 results left outstanding, the combined opposition of the Fine Gael and Labor parties held 65 seats.

Lynch conceded defeat. "I have lived with victory and defeat all my life," he said. "I accept defeat when it comes."

The counting of the rest of the votes past Wednesday was adjourned until later today. But political experts and computer forecasts said Fianna Fail could hope to win only five of the 13 outstanding seats, giving it a final total of 79 to the opposition's total of 73.

At the end of the first day's results, the Fine Gael held 48 seats, Labor 17 and independent two.

The man most likely to succeed Lynch was Liam Cosgrave, the 53-year-old son of independent Ireland's first prime minister.

"I am most anxious to consult with Mr. Cosgrave."

But the grim struggle for lost marginal seats to Fine Gael and Labor parties held 65 seats.

The government surprisingly party, a political arm of the rural strongholds, Fianna Fail maintained its position in the illegal Irish Republican Army.

Fianna Fail gained only 64 of the 144 seats in the Dail (parliament) and, with 12 results left outstanding, the combined opposition of the Fine Gael and Labor parties held 65 seats.

As Lynch before him, Cosgrave turned his attention to Northern Ireland, where violence between Protestants and Roman Catholics has raged the past three years.

"We will do everything in our power to bring about a just and lasting peace to the north," he said.

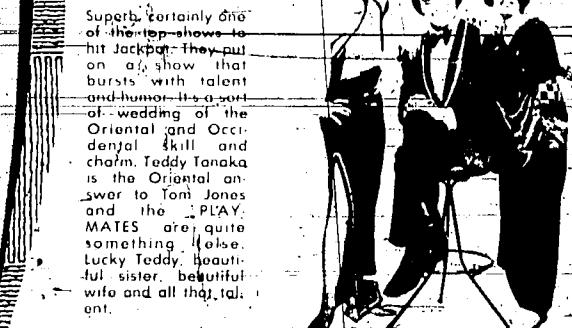

Lynch himself scored a personal triumph in his Cork constituency, where he topped the poll with 42,427 votes, an increase of 1,200 votes over his

Catholics rap court decision

WASHINGTON (UPI) — The Roman Catholic Church has charged that the U.S. Supreme Court in its recent decisions is encouraging "a lifestyle" of abortion-on-request throughout the country.

The court in a decision issued Monday ordered lower-court judges to decide the constitutionality of eight state abortion laws on the basis of its Jan. 22 ruling on abortion.

The justices also refused to reconsider their January decision, which struck down abortion laws in Texas and Georgia and set new liberal legal limitations which state statutes must meet.

Msgr. James E. McHugh, director of the U.S. Catholic Conference's Family Life Bureau, said Monday that the court had "invoked the narrowest legal understanding of the 14th Amendment to the Constitution to deny the protection of the Constitution to children prior to birth."

The court's action can be expected to encourage a lifestyle of abortion-on-request throughout the country," the church spokesman said.

McHugh said the Monday Supreme Court rulings amounted to "a further display of its obstinate refusal to recognize the existence of human life during the first six or seven months of pregnancy."

The court cleared its calendar of challenges to abortion laws in several states by remanding them to Federal district courts. The lower court judges are bound to declare the statutes unconstitutional if they fail to comply with the Jan. 22 yardstick.

The states involved are Connecticut, Missouri, Illinois, North Carolina, Utah, Kentucky, Ohio and South Dakota.

Presbyterians observe rites

TWIN FALLS — In recognition of the beginning of Lent Wednesday, the First Presbyterian Church will observe the sacrament of the Lord's Supper Sunday.

The sacrament will be prepared and served at 9:30 and 11 a.m. services by deacons Mrs. Kenneth Dunkin, Mrs. M.

V. Gillespie, Rick Allen, Mrs. William Bolster, Mr. and Mrs. Charles Capps, and Robert Peterson.

Rev. Robert Van Nest will preach the first in a series of Lenten sermons based on the Beatitudes, entitled "Happiness is Being Humble."

Speaker set

TWIN FALLS — Dr. Roy E. Howe, pastor of the Boise First Presbyterian Church, Boise, will be the featured speaker for Saturday meeting of the Full-Gospel Business Men's Fellowship International.

All interested people are invited to attend and hear what is happening in Dr. Howe's church in Boise. This will be a dinner meeting at the Holiday Inn in Twin Falls at 7 p.m., Saturday, according to Wayne Barney, president.

Shrove event set

TWIN FALLS — The Ascension Parish youth group (TEYC) will cook the annual Shrove Tuesday pancake supper Tuesday in the Bishop Rhea auditorium from 5 to 8

Family or individual tickets may be purchased for the non-denominational event. The public is welcome.

LDS continue no-abortion

SALT LAKE CITY (UPI) — Hospitals operating under the Health Services Corp. of the Church of Jesus Christ of Latter-day Saints, continue to follow a no-abortion policy despite a late-January Supreme Court ruling that the decision on abortion is solely that of a woman and her doctor.

"We are opposed to doing abortions in our hospitals," said Dr. James O. Mason, commissioner of the Health Services Corp.

The church opposes abortion and counsels its members not to submit to abortion except when the life of the mother is seriously threatened," he said.

Mason said he could see future problems with this no-abortion stand.

"In an area where there is only one hospital, we see that we might have problems come up," he said. "A woman may feel her rights are being violated because she can't get an abortion anywhere else, and the local hospital refuses to give one."

Sen. Frank Church, D-Idaho, has already introduced legislation to prohibit the federal government from requiring religious hospitals to perform abortions if contrary to their faith. At St. Benedict's Hospital in Oigden, Mother Henriette Oenert took a stand similar to Mason's.

"We will absolutely not permit abortions to be performed in our hospital," she said. "We do let a doctor perform one if the pregnancy endangers the mother's life."

The Order of St. Benedict takes the unequivocal stand to support life," she added.

A national survey indicated that most hospitals are proceeding with caution in taking steps to implement the Supreme Court's decision, and a few are keeping their ban on abortions, Mason said.

He said the ruling "doesn't force a person to do an abortion or force an institution to do something against its standards."

Mason added that freedom of conscience provides us the opportunity to make laws forbidding abortions."

Mason said the Mormon Church with its position of trying to obey the law, wants good laws. It is very tragic that we even have this type of problem come up."

Essentially, the Supreme Court ruling of Jan. 22 made it that a woman can ask her doctor for an abortion and can seek a doctor willing to perform it. The decision does not say that it grants the right to abortion on demand, Mason said. Doctors are not compelled to oblige a woman who happens to request an abortion.

At St. Benedict's Hospital in Oigden, Mother Henriette Oenert took a stand similar to Mason's.

Honest aid for married people

By REV. DAVID POLING

The hot topic for the mass magazine is marriage Plenty of dicey preconditions. Tons of statistics on divorce. Much handwringing over the pressure being put on the family. What is the future of the home in the midst of all this chaos? Again, clatter over the new role of women in the marriage contract and how the men will fare in the rearrangement of personal relationships.

Some experts put all the blame of a bad marriage on the lack of sexual prowess and technique. So the nation is engrossed with stacks of manuals to improve everything in the bedroom, except the people themselves. Since that has failed, even with films, slides, and illustrations, clowns have appeared to help the timid and the lame to improve on the sexual scene all over again. One national magazine reported on a wife's experience at one of those new marriage sex clinics. It was O.K., concluded our victim, but they were getting divorced, anyway. "Boredom finally beat the bedroom."

For those who are serious and reaching out for some honest help in a truly marriage, and that hits everyone at some point in their marital bliss, we heartily recommend the counsel and writings of Dr. James R. Hine of the University of Arizona. He nearly 30 years Dr. Hine has been helping those who are married or about to take the big step. His seven books include such titles as "Grounds for Marriage," "Alternatives to Divorce," "Your Wedding Workbook," and his latest, "Your Marriage Analysis and Renewal." All from Interstate Publishers, Denville, N.J.

Since Dr. Hine has married nearly 1,000 couples from University of Illinois and now Arizona, most of his material is battle-tested. Many of those married attended Dr. Hine's classes while in school and continued to stay in touch with their favorite professor. Many of these couples continue to report on the progress of their marriages, filling out new questionnaires and writing frankly about their victories and defeats.

Readers who want to salvage a marriage or improve a good one should have a copy of "Your Marriage." This 96-page booklet, which can be used by a couple or with a group of married couples, deals directly with all the stress and heartache and joy of marriage. Says Hine at the beginning: "Several hundred married couples were asked to state the most important factor affecting good relationships in their marriage. The majority of them replied: The ability to talk things over."

At the end of one chapter, Hine says simply, "Marriage should be a situation in which, as it has been said, our sorrows are halved and our joys are doubled."

Hine lists 10 factors that make for a successful marriage, again material gleaned from hundreds of couples that are active on his mailing list. One that I can remember is Acceptance. "The appropriate time to use strong critical faculties towards the other person is before marriage. Once the decision has been made, the critical stance should give way to acceptance."

Nixon budget 'callous indifference to poor'

By LOUIS CASSELLO

United Press International

President Nixon's new federal budget and the legislative program associated with it reflect — in the view of the Union of American Hebrew Organizations — a callous indifference to the needs of the poor, the sick, the elderly and the dispossessed.

In the light of this ethical tradition," says Albert Vorspan, social action director of the Union of American Hebrew Congregations. "It is distressing to find that the new administration budget is now offering America a heart of stone, a stirring call for retreat from Jewish compassion."

It has published, for group discussion in all congregations, a booklet by Rabbi Richard G. Hirsch entitled "The Way of the Upright." It is filled with quotations from the Bible and the Talmud to show that Jewish tradition for 4,000 years has been distinguished by a "sensitive concern for the poor, the weak and the aged, to misery and anguish."

"We call upon the U.S. Congress to reorient the false priorities and false economics imposed upon them in this budget."

"In the light of this ethical tradition," says Albert Vorspan, social action director of the Union of American Hebrew Congregations. "It is distressing to find that the new administration budget is now offering

It is unusual for any denomination, Jewish or Christian, to issue such a forthright attack on a President's budget and domestic legislative program. Behind it is a deep concern among leaders of Reform Judaism about the fact that many Jews, who used to be liberal Democrats, switched over to vote for Nixon.

Hagerman youth goes to Africa on lay mission

WENDELL — A special service of commissioning was held in the Wendell Presbyterian Church last Sunday for Stephen A. Bennett, son of Mr. and Mrs. Jim Bonnett, Hagerman.

Rev. Francis E. Horner, pastor of the Springs of the Transvaal, will meet Stephen at John Smuts International Airport, Stephen met Mr. and Mrs. Horner on a visit which they made to the United States last summer to attend the General Assembly of the United Presbyterian Church, USA, meeting in Denver.

The Horners came on to Wendell following the meeting of the General Assembly to meet the local Presbyterian Church people who had offered them assistance in 1970 when they were threatened with expulsion from South Africa because of the church's strong stand against the government policy of apartheid.

Stephen will leave New York Sunday for Johannesburg, South Africa, where he will spend several months as a youth worker and lay missionary on the staff of the St. Michael's Presbyterian Church, Transvaal.

The deportation order was eventually rescinded, but the Horners did not forget the kindness of the Wendell church.

Out of that meeting just summer, Stephen developed an interest in the work of the church in South Africa, and determined to seek a way to go to that country if possible. He worked during the summer and fall to earn money for transportation and maintenance after his arrival.

Then word came at last in February that the St. Michael's congregation wanted him to come at once. Arrangements for visa and passport were quickly made, business affairs put in order, and with the help of the local Presbyterian church and friends,

He is a 1970 graduate of Hagerman High School and attended the College of Idaho, Caldwell, for two years.

A Lovelier You . . .CARE OF COMBINATION SKIN

By Mary Sue Miller

Skin is in double trouble when some areas are dry and other oily. The nose, chin and forehead shine; the cheeks parch and flake. The condition is known as "combination" skin. It can be remedied if a sufferer is willing to take double-trouble care:

Each area is treated differently within the same time span. Like so:

1. Wash oily areas three times a day, dry areas only at bedtime. Use a mild bar soap or sudsing liquid with the pH factor which helps to normalize the skin's balance. Apply either one with your fingers and work up a good lather; rinse well with splashes of cool water and pat dry.

2. To a cleansed face at bedtime, apply two treatments: a) Light moisture product to dry areas; b) Liquid formulated for control of oily areas.

3. Weekly, scrubs with cleansing grains deter shine. Using a neutral shampoo, wash hair once or twice each week.

4. Any makeup applied should fall in the corrective category. Medicated foundations are suited to use on the entire face. Cosmetics must be removed with a medicated cleanser before washing. Obviously, there's a practical aspect to leaving off makeup whenever possible.

The double effort soon remedies the double skin trouble. You better believe it!

Nevada votesagainst ERA

CARSON CITY, Nev. (UPI) — Neglecting the lone-woman senator's argument that her sex was not created equal, the Nevada State Senate Wednesday killed ratification of the Equal Rights Amendment.

The Senate voted 16 to 4 against the amendment to the U.S. Constitution, which has been ratified by 28 of the 38 needed states.

The battle against ratification was led by Sen. Helen Stier, D-Las Vegas, who called the defeat "a great day" in Nevada history.

"This act deliberately undermines the family which is the cornerstone of society," she said. "We are not created equal. God made us different."

Abby

Abigail Van Buren

c 1973 by Chicago Tribune-N. Y. News Synd. Inc.

DEAR ABBY: My heart is breaking, and altho I think I know the answer, maybe if I saw it in print I could accept it more easily.

I am an unmarried woman who has been absolutely faithful to a married man ever since we fell in love four years ago. His excuse for not leaving his wife and marrying me was his children. I accepted this. I know that hundreds of husbands and wives live under the same roof after they stop loving each other just for the sake of their children, but they usually have their own interests, and go their own way.

Lover untrue

Abby, I never asked him to leave his home, his wife, or his children, but I did expect him to be just as true to me as I was to him.

Well, I was true to him—but he was sleeping with both of us!

He says he loves me, but I am beginning to wonder. I can understand his keeping his marriage intact for the children's sake, but must he SLEEP with his wife for the children's sake? Or is it just because he wants to HURT me?

DEAR HURT: I hate to hurt you further, but unless a man "wants to," he's a pretty ineffective bed partner.

DEAR ABBY: With some people marriage doesn't work. In our case, the divorce didn't work. After five years of marriage and two children, my husband and I got a divorce. The first three months we stayed apart, but the last three months we have been living together just like we did when we were married. We still love each other, and we want to be man and wife again. I know you can get a marriage annulled. Can you get a divorce annulled?

ME AND HIM

DEAR ME: Ask the lawyer who handled your divorce; you never heard of "annulling" a divorce. You may have to wait until your divorce is final before you're free to marry again.

DEAR ABBY: When a wife complained because her husband was turned on by the sight of beautiful women in pictures, movies, in person, etc., you said those feelings were natural for a man and he should not be made to feel guilty.

Well, it's natural for a woman to feel jealous when she sees her husband enjoying the beauty of other women especially when the husband is of greater physical endowments. So she shouldn't feel guilty about her feelings either.

If a man is smart he will forego the pleasure of looking at other women when he's with his wife. It will pay off, believe me. Just last night my husband took me out for dinner, and at a nearby table was a beautiful girl, provocatively dressed. Her tight-fitting, low-cut gown showed off her best features, and as if that wasn't enough she had a slit in her skirt which revealed a lovely leg right up to her thigh! Every other husband in the place couldn't take his eyes off this girl. My husband gave her one glance, and pretended she wasn't even there for the rest of the evening. When we got home, believe me, I gave him a right to remember! I'll bet all the other husbands got the cold shoulder.

LUCKY

DEAR LUCKY: How do you know?

CONFIDENTIAL TO B. J. IN SIOUX CITY: She's no bargain. If she'll cheat WITH you, she'll cheat ON you.

an overtrick: the first was to just discard a heart on the second club.

The other was to ruff the second club and continue with a submarine play in trumps. In other words, just underlead his ace-king-queen. He could not be forced again and would have been able to pull trumps safely.

South's bidding was just about as bad as his play but really good bidding might have been punished.

Six-diamonds-is-a-good contract. Only a heart opening and perfect follow-up defense could beat that contract and if South had been up on his toes he might have carried his partner to that spot.

By Oswald & James Jacoby

You don't really think of a five-card suit headed by ace-king-queen as a shaky trump holding. South certainly didn't think so and as a result South managed to get set of four spades.

He did it quickly. He ruffed the second club and promptly played out his ace-king and queen of trumps. East showed out and the best—South—could do was start on diamonds.

West ruffed the third diamond for the second defensive trick and South still had to lose two hearts.

South had two ways to bring home the contract plus

Golf
clinic
slated

TWIN FALLS—Officials of the Blue Lakes Country Club have announced a Ladies Golf Clinic to be conducted every Friday morning in March.

There will be two sessions each Friday one at 9:30 a.m. and one at 10:30 a.m. Those wanting to attend are asked to sign up ahead of time.

A special get-together to kick-off the spring golf season is planned for women members. It will begin with brunch at 11 a.m. March 8, followed by golf or bridge depending upon the weather. Reservations should be made.

March 17 has been designated "Green beer in shamrock time" by club officials. Details of the event will be released later.

A fashion show and luncheon, sponsored by the Ladies Golf Association, is planned for 12:30 p.m. March 22. Members are asked to make reservations. Club officials also ask members not to bring local guests.

The Round Room will be open until 7 p.m. beginning March 1.

County Club officials remind members that local guests may not be invited to special club parties unless the party is designated as a get-acquainted party for local guests.

A local guest is defined as any non-club member residing in either Jerome or Twin Falls counties. A local guest may be a guest at the country club no more than three times in any calendar year. A single member of the country club may bring any guest anytime according to club policy.

banquet

AMONG those planning the annual Office Occupations Association's employer-employee banquet are, from left, Nancy Brooks, president of the Twin Falls group; Mrs. Dorothy Pressey, instructor, and Nancy Rogers, mistress of ceremonies. The event is set for 7 p.m. Monday at the Turf Club.

Employer-employee fete set

TWIN FALLS—Members of the Office Occupations Association will have their annual employer-employee banquet at 7 p.m. Monday at the Turf Club.

Nancy Rogers, Twin Falls Clinic, will serve as mistress of ceremonies. Ruth Morris will give the invocation and Nancy Rogers will welcome members and their employers. S.D. Van Orden will respond to the welcome.

Officers of the Office Occupations Association are Nancy Brooks, president; Holly Bastow, vice president; Janette Huijsh, secretary; Salle Mencel, treasurer; Debbie Kineel, parliamentarian; and Karen McClusky, historian.

The State Office Education Association—leadership conference has been set for April 4-6 in Boise. Twelve members from Twin Falls plan to attend.

TORCH donates

TWIN FALLS—The Twin Falls unit of the Teens Organization for Retarded Children (TORCH) also contributed to the fund for the motorized wheelchair for Betty Coxen, her mother reported Wednesday.

Mrs. Gladys Coxen said this group was not included in a recent news release in the Times-News. She said the group's members did many things to earn money for the contribution.

Pesticide use, health seminar planned in Burley in mid-March

BURLEY An area-wide seminar on pesticides and environmental health will be conducted March 13-15 at the Ponderosa Inn. The program is sponsored by the U.S. Environmental Protection Department, Idaho Department of Environmental Protection and Health and the South Central District Health department.

Sessions begin at 8:30 a.m. all three days. The first day's agenda includes a presentation on the changing pesticide patterns by the EPA; regulation of pesticides by John Flanagan; pesticides of public health significance, by Robert Olson and fate of pesticides in the environment, by the EPA. The first afternoon session will cover pesticides in man, by the EPA; with an explanation of the national monitoring program; pesticides in food, by Maxwell E. Gibson, Food and Drug Administration, Seattle; implementing the new federal Environmental Pesticide Control Act, by Robert Poss; and pesticides in the air, by EPA.

Tentative agenda for March 14 includes a presentation by an official of the Idaho Fish and Game Department on pesticides in wildlife; community pesticide research by W. W. Benson; investigation of incidence of unknown pesticides also by Benson; and the laboratory in pesticide investigations by Joe Galica.

The afternoon session will include talks on pesticide toxicology by Harold W. Brown. He also will discuss occupational exposure to pesticides.

Scheduled for the morning of March 15 is safety in handling pesticides by the EPA; pesticide disposal, transport and storage of pesticides, all by the EPA.

The seminar will conclude at noon with a report by Robert Poss on pesticide accident survey system, followed by a question period.

Big crowd anticipated at Burley

BURLEY — More than 6,000 Idaho farmers are expected to view the latest developments in irrigation March 7-8 at the Idaho Irrigation Equipment Show at the Ponderosa Inn here.

Attracting the large turnout of agriculturalists will be displays of automated equipment, electrical control systems and other new devices. New irrigation equipment will be featured in 57 commercial displays, according to Dorell C. Larsen, Boise University of Idaho extension irrigation specialist who is coordinating the arrangements for the show.

Ten state and federal agencies will present educational exhibits spotlighting new developments in water conservation and environmental quality protection, he said.

Irrigation experts from a dozen different states will be available for consultations with Idaho farmers attending the show, Larsen said.

"Firms exhibiting irrigation equipment have promised to send to the show their factory representatives and other specialists," Larsen said. "These experts will share with us the latest ideas and tips on irrigation technology."

Local arrangements for the show are being handled by Jack

Shortages hit Russia

MOSCOW (UPI) — Food shortages have occurred in some parts of the Soviet Union because of last year's disastrous harvest, diplomatic sources said today.

They said they have not been able to assess fully how serious the problem is. But meat and poultry have been in noticeably short supply in rural areas outside Moscow. In the Volga region and in other parts of the country, the sources said.

There have been occasional reports in the last two months of rationing in some outlying parts of the country, but diplomats said they had no information to confirm that.

Pravda, the Communist party newspaper, said earlier this week that food was in plentiful supply in all parts of the country, and that distribution was proceeding smoothly.

Diplomats said that "report" apparently was intended to discourage "seige" buying such as occurred last year when the dimensions of the crop problem became apparent to the populace.

The Soviet Union suffered its worst crop "disaster" of the century in 1972, due mainly to prolonged drought and other unfavorable weather conditions.

As a result, the country had to buy a record $1.8 billion worth of grain from abroad, mostly from the United States.

Meat always has been in relatively short supply in the Soviet Union. But diplomats said the shortage became critical last year when large numbers of livestock were killed off when fodder ran short.

They said Soviet authorities have made certain that no food shortages occur in such cities as Moscow and Leningrad, where they would have a greater public impact and be readily apparent to foreign residents.

But some persons from rural areas around Moscow have been coming into the capital to buy food that is not available in their own villages and towns, the sources said.

Planning workshop

MV planners end TF meet

TWIN FALLS — Planners from throughout Magic Valley concluded a two-day workshop here today in which they applied their planning knowledge to developing a "Microvile."

The planning session was conducted by four members of the Colorado State University community services coordinating staff. Using "Microvile" as a simulated community, the 80 Magic Valley planning committee members and local government officials developed a concept of planning and applied it to a growing community.

Members of the Colorado State University team working with local delegates included Judy Smith, Roger Martinez, Jr., and Tom Sork.

Disposal systems installed at KH

KING HILL — George Fox, environmentalist with the Central District Health Department, said 12 residents of King Hill are in the process of installing septic tanks.

Fox said the residents' sanitary needs have been served by a sewage collection line for about 56 years. The line emptied raw sewage directly into the Snake River.

A Twin Falls contractor, E & G Excavation Co., headed by Frank Echavaret, has begun work on the installation of septic tanks. Fox said the new disposal systems and the necessary leach fields are of a type approved by the health department.

Three TF men named in suit

TWIN FALLS — James J. Huett has filed suit in Fifth District Court against W. E. Stewart, Gary Cullen and Earl Barnes doing business as Barnes Realty.

In the civil action, Huett alleges he made arrangements in August, 1972, to purchase 44 acres adjacent to the Wendell city limits from Stewart for a total price of $125,000.

Huett claims he made a down payment of about $24,000 on the property through Barnes Realty. He also claims that except for $100 his down payment was not returned.

Huett seeks $34,900 to cover his down payment plus losses incurred in moving. He also seeks reasonable attorney fees, court costs and such further relief as the court deems proper.

Report gives Elba study

ELBA Recommendations of a comprehensive rural water and sewerage planning study for the community of Elba were released this week to Cassia County commissioners.

The study of Cassia County communities was written under the direction of the Idaho Water Resource Board and funded by the Farmers Home Administration.

The discharging of sewage effluents into Cassia Creek should be discontinued as soon as possible to insure the quality of the stream. All individual sewage systems should be converted to septic tanks with individual wells.

Due to sparsity of development, it was found that neither system could be justified. However, in order to insure and protect the health of the community it was recommended that the individual water and sewage systems be upgraded to meet the current health department standards.

The high water table which exists during the spring not only presents an operational problem to sewage disposal, it also presents a potential source of contamination to the in-drain wells.

Both the Elba and Cassia County superintendents of the county school districts believe the primary needs of the schools.

In Elba, Supt. Burton Lenker felt that an industrial arts building is needed and that science and languages courses should be expanded. A new grade school, more science and vocational courses and a special education class are needed in the Hagerman school district, according to a report by superintendent Kenneth Black.

In the Wendell district, Supt. Lawrence LaRue told Mrs. Ferguson that a new high school decisions affect only a county or city, local government should have the responsibility for these decisions. A majority felt that long range policy should seek to stabilize Idaho's population at some desirable level. They agreed that home building should be encouraged on flood plains and that houses, industries and highways should not be built on prime agricultural land if other sites are available.

Responses slightly favored land owners right to develop or build on own land without local and state government interference.

Fourth in series

Findings for Elba are:

The community does not have either a central water or sewer system. Domestic water is obtained from individual shallow wells 10 to 80 feet deep.

All new installations should be thoroughly inspected by the local health department representative.

The thirty-four year old Mexican-American had recently completed naturalization procedures.

Proposal offered by power firm

BURLEY — American Falls reservoir stockholders today were offered a proposal from Idaho Power Co. for the utility to pay almost the entire cost of a new American Falls dam.

Robert A. Hogg, retired Idaho Power vice president, said the company would help finance the replacement dam over a 40-year period with revenue from a new power plant it would build, own and operate at the site.

The American Falls Reservoir District would sell bonds to finance construction of a new dam — estimated to cost $19 million, plus interest, excluding a roadway — to replace the present deteriorated structure whose irrigation water storage has been cut back by the U.S. Bureau of Reclamation for safety sake.

Idaho Power, whose new plant of about 100,000 kilowatts is estimated to cost $300 million, would reimburse the district for its bond obligations in an amount equal to the dam's actual construction cost but not exceeding $19 million plus interest.

Idaho Power's offer does not include the cost of replacing the present dam's roadway and other non-power producing facilities.

KIMBERLY — Kimberly Supt. Clinton Bugg commented Thursday on the findings of a State Department of Education committee.

"The committee was sent to Kimberly by the Idaho State Board of Education to investigate a citizens' complaint brought before the board in February. The committee report dismissed seven charges listed in the complaint and found the board at fault in three of the items listed. The findings were published in the Thursday edition of the Times-News.

When contacted Thursday, Bugg said, "We have welcomed this committee."

"I would like the public to realize that the citizen's complaint went back to 1959. The present board and superintendent are not responsible for all of the issues raised."

"When they have to go back that far to dig up dirt, I feel that we've had a pretty fine school board," Bugg said.

He said that the board has given him authority to revise the school policy manual, and the school district now has a six-man committee working on recommendations for use of the school system's gymnasium.

"This has been one controversial issue in the community which has caused bad feelings," Bugg said.

"Personally, I feel that the facilities are for the kids. If the public wants to use the gym, they should have to pay for it just as they do for other forms of recreation."

On school-board meetings called under the 24-hour notice limit set by law, Bugg said, "I think that a superintendent should have authority to call a board meeting in case of emergency. When you have an emergency, you have to deal with it immediately."

"I also don't think communication is bad. Many times I have been here at noon, before school and after school for the purpose of satisfying complaints," Bugg said.

Jerome rezone plan set for City Council

BY CHARLOTTE BELL
Times-News writer

JEROME — The Jerome Zoning Commission will with construction to begin sometime in April.

Tuesday night 4:18 acres of land east of Jerome to be rezoned and annexed into the city and annexed into the city.

The commission decided on the recommendation at a public hearing Thursday night when no opposition was heard on the zoning so she would be able to avail herself of city water and sewer facilities. Some question was raised as to whether or not the Jerome Department, which has the property, should recommend the area for rezoning to business if the Fish and Game property abutted the Doran property.

Chi Chi, Gilbert top Citrus field

ORLANDO, Fla. (UPI) — Juan "Chi-Chi" Rodriguez, little man on the pro tour, came up with a big round Thursday — an 8-under-par 64 — to tie Tennessee's Gibby Gilbert for the lead in the $150,000 Citrus Open Golf Tournament.

Rodriguez, a 126-pound Puerto Rican who is dieting to get down to 120 so he can live to be 110, turned in his best round in nearly nine years with a 32-32 round that started and ended with 20-foot birdie putts. Gilbert, who finished earlier in the day, had six birdies.

Those sparkling 64s have Rodriguez and Gilbert a two-stroke, first-round lead over native Floridian Bob Murphy, who was shooting off for the home folks, decorated Vietnam veteran Brian Albin and 1972 Collegiate champion Tom Kite.

Thursday was a near-perfect going day at Rio Canoe. The Greens were true, the wind helped shorten the 6,326-yard course and a threat of rain never materialized. The conditions were reflected by the scores as 27 golfers in the 147-man field shot in the 60s.

Controversial Dave Hill, despite missing half the fairways with his driver, was in at 5-under-par 67 along with Bob Payne, a last-minute entry as an alternate qualifier, and Ed Sned.

The A-large group at 69, including Horace Blaneau, New Zealand left-hander Rob Charles; Dave Stockton, John Mahaffey, Dan Stiles, Bobby Mitchell and Tom Shaw.

Arnold Palmer, the 43-year-old sentimental favorite here because he owns a golf course not far away, had a 70 Thursday. Jack Nicklaus, the man who has replaced Palmer as the King of Golf, is not playing in the Citrus Open.

Gilbert, a 32-year-old native of Chattanooga who now lives in Florida, teed off 3 1/2 hours ahead of Rodriguez Thursday and turned in a dazzling display of putting, needing only 11 on the back nine where he birdied all but three of the holes.

"I only missed one green, but I didn't really have it close except at a few holes toward the end of the round," said Gilbert.

Mike Ditka announces retirement

DALLAS (UPI) — Mike Ditka, who has caught more passes for more yards than any other tight end in pro football history, retired Thursday to become the receiver coach for the Dallas Cowboys.

Ditka, who played his last four seasons with the Cowboys, caught 212 passes during his career for 5,913 yards and 43 touchdowns. He played six seasons with the Chicago Bears and two with the Philadelphia Eagles before coming to Dallas in 1969.

Among the highlights of Ditka's career was the fact that he caught the first touchdown pass in pre-season, and the last touchdown pass in the Super Bowl during Dallas' 1971 championship year.

"We're delighted to have Mike as our coach," said Dallas Head Coach Tom Landry. "He has been a great player and has the potential to become a great coach. He had reached a point in his career where he was in a position to make a decision like this."

"We both feel coaching provides a greater opportunity for Mike than playing another year or two."

Ditka, 33, said coaching was something he'd been wanting to do.

New manager Bobby Winkler pushed his players through a three-hour workout and said he was impressed with the hitting of Bobby Valentine and Jim McCormick.

McCormick said he was pleased to sign Sisemore. "He is the type of player we need — a winner and a strong hard-nosed kid."

With a win Wednesday evening, he was pleased to sign Sisemore. "He is the type of player we need — a winner and a strong hard-nosed kid."

Sisemore had been wanting to do.

"You have got to work hard and I think I can do that," he said. "It's something I've always wanted to do."

Sisemore came into the league with the 1972 Southern California team and was part of the team that won the national title.

He was selected by the Dallas Cowboys in the fifth round of the 1973 draft. After college, he had been signed by the Green Bay Packers, the Minnesota Vikings, the Philadelphia Eagles and the New England Patriots.

Ditka, 33, said the players he signed were "good players" and "had some potential." He said he had been told by the Cowboys' coaches that Sisemore would be a good fit.

He said he was "excited" about the new challenge. "It's a different kind of challenge. It's not just running routes or catching passes."

Ditka, 33, said he had been thinking about retirement for a while. "I've been thinking about it for a long time," he said. "It's just that when you're in football you don't want to give it up."

Early opening

SEVERAL HUNDRED—Magic Valley residents enjoyed the opening day of fishing on the Frank Osler Lakes at the Hagerman game refuge Thursday. Stu Murrell, Idaho Fish and Game Dept., said it is a new idea to open these lakes this early. Here Mr. and Mrs. Fred Millar, Wendell try their luck. Many fishermen caught their limits, Murrell said.

At-large selections, pairings made by NCAA

KANSAS CITY, Mo. (UPI) — Court-embattled southwestern Louisiana will play Houston at the second round and if Friday's scores are as good as Thursday's it will take par golf to make the cut.

"Actually, I was surprised that scores were as low as they were," said Murphy who is quite familiar with the course.

"It's true that the greens are excellent here but they are so much thicker than those we played on last week,

Houston (21-3) is ranked ninth nationally while southwestern Louisiana (22-2) is ranked 12th. Southwestern Louisiana currently is facing 110 charges of recruiting infractions by the NCAA and, if later found guilty, will have to forfeit its place and money received from the tournament.

The test of the first-round pairings:

EAST: Syracuse (22-4) vs. Southern Conference champion at Philadelphia; St. John's (N.Y.) (19-5) vs. Ivy League champion at William & Mary; Providence (21-2) vs. middle Atlantic Conference champion at St. John's.

MID-EAST: Marquette (22-2) vs. Miami (Ohio); Miami and Jacksonville of Florida; (21-5) vs. Ohio Valley Conference champion at Dayton, Ohio.

MIDWEST: Texas Tech (18-7) vs. South Carolina (19-5) and Southwest Louisiana (18-7) vs. Houston at Wright-Kart.

WEST: Long Beach (22-4) vs. Weber State (19-5) and Oklahoma City (20-5) vs. Western Athletic Conference champion at Utah State.

Of the nine at-large berths filled Thursday, only two — Houston and Southwest Louisiana — will meet in the first round. All others will meet for the first rounds of the regional tournaments on Saturday.

Regional tournaments will be held March 15-17 at Charlotte, N.C.

Jackson and Gironi each scored eight points as the Knicks closed the gap to within seven at 99-92. But the Bucks went on a 10-in surge to put the game away.

Jackson finished with 22 points and Bill Bradley added 19 for New York. Oscar Robertson added 23 for Milwaukee.

The Knicks had been held scoreless by the Bucks for most of the game. Jackson and Gironi each had 13 points when Milwaukee's defense stepped up.

Both teams had a hard time getting to the free throw line.

"Milwaukee had 13 free throws and 10 misses. We had 20 free throws and 10 misses," Jackson said.

The Bucks had a much easier time getting to the foul line. They had 17 free throws and 14 misses.

"Milwaukee had a lot of bad free throw shooting," Jackson said. "They had a lot of bad foul shooting."

Irish, Virginia named to play in NIT tourney

NEW YORK (UPI) — The Irish, Florida State and Ohio State among its victories, Tournament, which lost local favorite St. John's to the NCAA tournament, picked a box office replacement Thursday by selecting Notre Dame, along with Virginia Tech and American University, to participate in the 36th annual post-season classic.

With a shortage of good local teams this year, the NIT committee was hoping that the NCA tournament bypass St. John's, leaving the Redmen and their faithful alumni available for the 16-team tournament at Madison Square Garden, March 17-25.

But St. John's was one of the first teams selected to the NCAA tournament when the bids went out Thursday morning, leaving the NIT without a major draw.

Notre Dame, coached by Dick "Digger" Phelps, drew more than 10,000 in each of its two appearances in the Metropolitan area this season.

The Irish boast one of the youngest teams in the country with four Sophomores and a junior in the starting lineup. They also have played one of the toughest schedules in the country, having lost to such powerhouses as UCLA (twice), the likes of Marquette and St. John's.

Notre Dame, which will be making its second appearance in its starting lineup, is the Irish's best hope.

Fresno managed to slow down the tempo of the game but never stopped the game.

Fresno's record is 35-21 for the season.

TF ousts Burley, hosts Minico tonight

Hovey's cripple in last second gains 66-64 win

BURLEY — Eric Hovey's kamikaze court length drive for a cripple with one second left lifted the embattled Twin Falls Bruins past the stubborn Burley Bobcats 66-64 Thursday night and kept their title hopes alive against undefeated Minico.

Twin Falls returns to its home court Friday night to entertain Minico and must defeat the Spartans twice to wrest away.

The title and this region's only available berth in the state tournament. If Twin Falls should win Friday, the extra session will go at 8 p.m. Saturday in the Burley gymnasium.

Hovey's twisting dash, which started off a jump ball at the Burley free throw line, dashed up the ball, then finished his solid last two-minute rally by Tracay Nielsen led Burley that cut a seven-point deficit to the tie. Burley had the ball with 33 seconds left, missed a shot and Bruin Bob Durham, one of the state's best leapers, tied up the rebound with Mike Sagers.

Durham controlled the tip to Hovey who, as everyone in the place knew wasn't going to give call for charging after getting off the shot which put all the pressure in the world on a junior Bobcat. His first shot bounced off the back of the iron. Sagers rebounded and it became academic if the follow shot would have counted since it bounced away, too.

It was a bitter loss for Durley, which dropped four straight to Twin Falls this season. The Bobcats, whose shooting stats had been hitting 52 per cent from the field, led most of the time. Sagers performed well in the first half and Nielsen, who missed his first five shots then atoned for it by hitting his team's last 10 points, kept the Bobcats ahead until the closing seconds of the third quarter.

Twin Falls bounced out by seven with 3:45 left, then went into a delay game. But the Bruins can turn a couple of turnovers and Burley consistently went to Nielsen who brought them back. He tied it at 62-62 with Twin Falls then breaking the press for Charlie Browne's easy layup. Nielsen tied it again, at 64 with 47 seconds remaining.

The Bruins missed a close-in baseline shot 14 seconds later and Burley held the ball until the decisive tip play and Hovey's drive.

Hovey's driving proved instrumental in the game as on three occasions the Bruins bogged down offensively. In each instance, Hovey, who is a streak player, came up with a streak.

Both teams started slowly in scoring and with 2:36 left Burley had only a 6-6 lead. Then the Bobcats burst out 10-9 to close the quarter as Sagers, Nielsen and Brent Nielsen all scored.

Early in the second period Charlie Browne whacked a fine second half, Randy Haynes and Hovey set Twin Falls back with Hovey's cripple tying it 20-20 with 3:01 left.

Hovey and Sager swapped four points each but at 24-24, Jackson, Sager and Brent Nielsen all scored and Burley was ahead for quite a while.

Twin Falls cut the deficit to one as the second half began on Kent Schmidt's bucket but Brent Nielsen cranked through two long shots and that sparked the Bobcats into their biggest advantage of the night at 46-37.

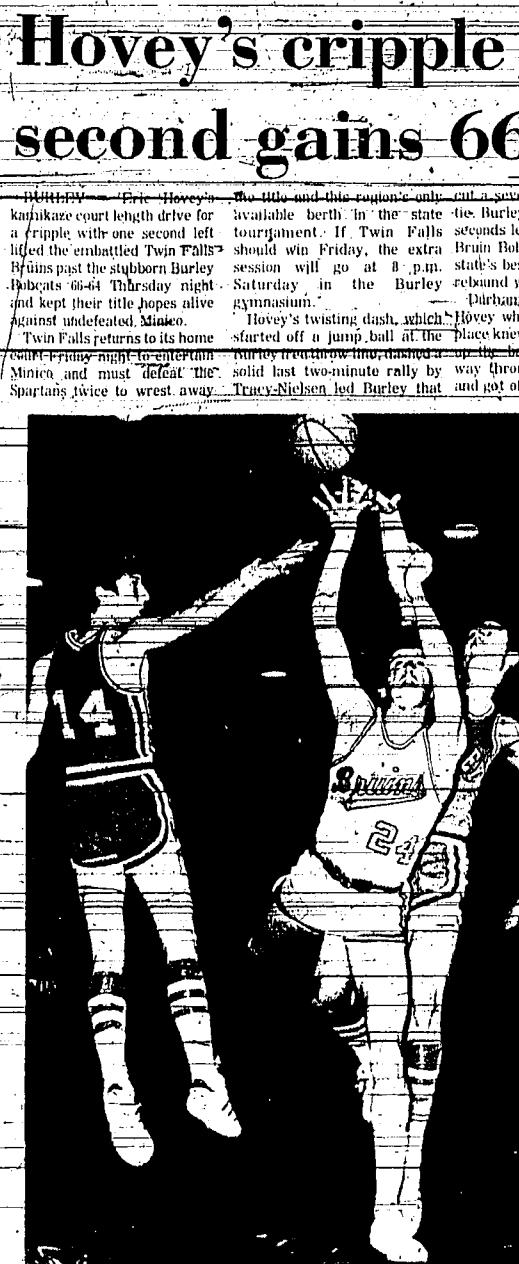

Then came a Hovey streakie opened with a three-point play and added four more points on the next two possessions. Durham tied it momentarily before Sager shot Burley into the lead for the last time at 48-47.

Haynes' long shot followed by a closing Browne field goal sent Twin Falls away and Dugham and Browne opened the last period with points.

Twin Falls crept at 59-52 on a Schmidt goal and from then on it was classic. Nielsen. He wound up with 14 points in the last period.

Coach Ron Watson's Twin Falls sophomores nipped Burley 41-39 "to go 3-0 in the jayvee playoff.

Valley nips Wendell, meets G.F. for title

No points this time

CHECKED FROM BEHIND, Twin Falls' Eric Hovey was surprised on this drive by Burley's Mike Sager while Paul Jackson (14) hovers and watches. Twin Falls nipped Burley 66-64 to gain A-1 finals with Minico at Twin Falls Friday night.

Hitting the baseline

SCOOB SHOT off the baseline, one of three Tracy Nielsen befooled Twin Falls' defense with Thursday night, helped the Bobcats in the fourth period. Nielsen hit 14 in the last period and 25 overall but Twin Falls edged the Bobcats 66-64.

Playoff site set in T.F.

The eighth berth in the state A-1 basketball tournament will be up for grabs in a one-game playoff Monday night at Twin Falls high school, reports Bob Donnelly Twin Falls athletic director. Game time is 7:30 p.m.

Donnelly said the change in site between the third-place teams from the Pocatello-Idaho Falls region and Boise area was made Thursday morning when the teams couldn't decide on travel.

Because of a poor turnout for the playoff here last year, the state originally had set the playoff up closer to one of the communities participating. A flip of the coin gave the Boise area the home-site designation. However, Skyline and Rigby Thursday declined the longer trip and precluded Mountain Home as a possible compromise as a doubleheader with the Magic Valley third district runner-up, and third place playoff.

Thursday night Rigby defeated Skyline 54-47 to relegate the Grizzlies to third. They will meet the winner of the Capitol Nampa game to be played Friday night in Monday's playoff.

Mushers cop spot in state A-4 meet

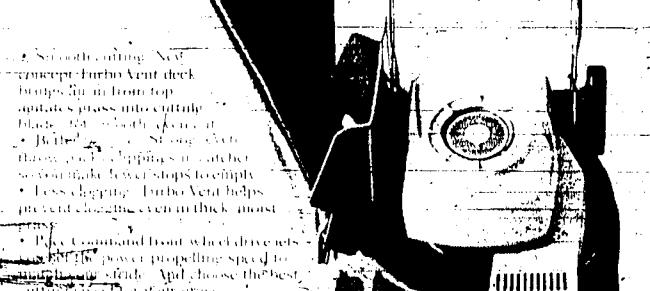

COOTING — The Camas after one-quarter with Gooding County Mushers rattled State starting-to-move-away in Gooding State with full court press in the second period. But Bill Strand hit six points, two Thursday night to claim a 59-48 straight buckets, to keep the victory and a trip to the state A-4 basketball tournament.

The final matchup will be the fourth meeting between Camas and Richfield. The County and Richfield. The Mushers won both seasonal games in picking up the Northside Conference title. But Richfield exploded in the closing seconds of their first tournament meeting for a seven-point decision.

Tigers roll over Wolverines 68-41

Fast break stopped

GATHERING for the shot, Wood River's John Rooney (30) eyes the basket and Jerome's Roger Clubb (13) before going up at the end of a fast-break in A-2 basketball action Thursday night. Clubb caused Rooney to miss the shot as the cold shooting Wolverines lost to the Tigers 68-41.

TWIN FALLS — The Jerome Tigers ripped cold shooting Wood River 68-41 Thursday night to earn the right to meet Gooding for the District A-2 Championship.

The Tigers were never behind in the half-game as the Wolverines couldn't get any closer than a four point deficit after half way through the first quarter.

It was sweet revenge for the Tigers as they had lost their only two other meetings with Wood River this year. Jerome took early control of the game behind the outside-shooting of seniors Roger Clubb and Stan Walters. The two scored six unanswered points about halfway through the first period to give the Tigers a 7-1 lead, with 4:21 left.

From that time on, the Wolverines couldn't stop Clubb as he hit two more buckets from the field, giving him 10 points in the first quarter.

Walters added six more in that period with his outside shooting.

As the two seniors were rattling the bucket from the outside the

Jerome defense kept the Wolverines from getting inside and forced them to the outside.

Wood River had three players,

Rooney, Aldinger and Hurst in double figures.

Sutton eyes job at Oklahoma State

OMAHA, Neb. (UPI) — Eddie Sutton, director of athletics and basketball coach at Creighton University, said Thursday he met with Oklahoma State Athletic Director Floyd Gass for a "lighthearted" discussion of the Cowboys' coaching vacancies.

We talked for about an hour and a half and I agreed to go to Stillwater for an interview with the proper authorities after our final game next week," Sutton said.

The meeting with Gass was held Wednesday night in Kansas City, he said, during a Sutton recruiting trip. He said Gass was in Kansas City for the Big Eight Conference meetings.

"I would emphasize my main reason for going is that so many people in Oklahoma have gone out of their way in insisting that I consider," Sutton said. "I feel an obligation to them."

He said if he accepted the job

he would have a difficult decision to make. "I have very strong feelings for our players, the entire Creighton family and Omaha," he said. "I do not know if I would accept the job if it were offered."

Sutton said he would discuss the matter with his players Friday during their trip to Denton, Tex., to play North Texas State.

The Wolverine threat ended there as the Tiger's put together a balanced scoring attack, making eight unanswered points, before Rooney hit two free throws with under four minutes left in the quarter.

In the last three minutes of the period, the Tigers threw in eight more points to take a 46-33 lead into the fourth quarter.

Koontz was the Wolverines' only scoring threat in the period as he put in six of their points.

Walters, Clubb and Parker kept up the pressure in the last period, scoring 10 points before leaving the game with over four World Record Holder Jones Hines (24.9), Jim Green, Melinda Pender, Jean-Louis Bavelon and Cliff Branch will be in the field.

Other world record holders competing are Wyoming Tyus in the women's 100-meter (11.0), pole vaulter Bob Seagren (14.5), and Lee Evans, world record holder at 400 meters (43.8).

Evans will run in the 600 against Marty McGrady, the champion of the indoor boards and Larry James.

The shot put will be a battle of the giants, with Matsun in a grudge match against Brian Oldfield, 1972 Olympian. Also scheduled to compete are Karl Sab and Fred Debernard.

The Stars trudged by 12 at the end of the first quarter 35-23 but came to within four at the half, 46-36 with Wise playing with seven stances on his right hand and Ron Boone turning the axis around by igniting a fast break offense.

Utah tied the score eight times in the third period and finally went ahead for good on two free throws by Wise 87-86 with two seconds left in the period.

It was all Utah in the final quarter. Boone added 26 points and Ciney Powell 21.

Six Ducks players scored in double figures with rookie James Slat 23 points tops for the visitors. Bob Netolicky had 12.

The Baylor Bears are one of two conference teams to have whipped Tech this season, and Myers is quite glad Saturday's game is not one that will decide the conference championship.

ARIES (Mar. 21 to Apr. 19) A day to do whatever you can to please good friends and recent acquaintances and deepen relationships. Attend some small, select gathering. Much good for the future can come of this.

Taurus (Apr. 20 to May 20) Get your work activities well organized to please higher-ups. Show more interest in the community in which you reside will bring you added acclaim. Use logic instead of relying so much on emotion.

GEMINI (May 21 to June 21) That plan you have had in mind for some time requires fuel for thought and further study to round out properly. Write or wire an out-of-towner who can be helpful in this. Do not waste time with gossiping.

MOON CHILDREN (June 22 to July 21) Be certain that you carry through—consciously—with promises made to others. Get your house in order. Some special thought for mate brings you more devotion.

LEO (July 22 to Aug. 21) If you carry through with contacts you have with acquaintances you make this a most productive day—p.m.—Try not to antagonize further one who opposes you or you get into deep trouble. Avoid one who bickers.

VIRGO (Aug. 22 to Sept. 22) You have many tasks awaiting your attention, but be sure to use more modern methods so they are quickly completed. Show more courtesy toward fellow workers and get better results. Take it easy in p.m.

LIBRA (Sept. 23 to Oct. 22) This can be a most-happy day and p.m., at the recreations you like, plus some new expression of your talents. Rid yourself of small stumbling blocks in the path of your happiness. Avoid one who is jealous of you.

SCORPIO (Oct. 23 to Nov. 21) Place your attention on home and family today and forget gadding about with fast friends who could get you into some kind of trouble. Clear up any questionable points that spoil the harmony in that important realm of your existence.

SAGITTARIUS (Nov. 22 to Dec. 21) Once you get your shopping and errands done, go out with congenials and have a delightful time. You may get unexpected and excellent results from a fascinating person you meet today.

CAPRICORN (Dec. 22 to Jan. 20) Take the time to analyze your financial position and to discuss with key people how to improve your position in the future, add to assets. You have a good idea to put in operation—even though you have to make a few changes first.

AQUARIUS (Jan. 21 to Feb. 19) Make sure you spend some time getting yourself and home-toned-up nicely so you feel happy and can impress others favorably today. Repay some social debt long overdue.

PISCES (Feb. 20 to Mar. 20) Plan how to get ahead faster in the days to come and seek the advice of one who is an expert in your field of endeavor. Try to find more happiness with mate. Show you are thoughtful and kind.

"IF YOUR CHILD IS BORN TODAY," he or she will be one of those delightful young people who likes to help others gain their aims because there is a love-of people here. Should be permitted to have many playmates around early in life, as a testing ground for the valuable work your youngster can do upon reaching adulthood—that will mean dealing with many persons, with the public in general, and in vocations that have to do with the humanities. Teach how to handle the emotional side of life early.

New Freedom Singers to appear at Shoshone

SHOSHONE — As a fund-raising project for the Lincoln County swimming pool, the Rotary Club is sponsoring a concert of the "New Freedom Singers."

The 10-member-singing group from Ricks College, Rexburg, will appear at the Shoshone High School gymnasium at 8:30 p.m. on March 9.

Theme of the two-hour program is, "What's Right With America."

The singers are selected through extensive auditions from among the 5,000 member student body and they have given concerts from coast to coast.

TF police arrest resident

TWIN FALLS — Robert Gene Clayton, 25, Twin Falls, was arrested Wednesday afternoon in connection with a burglary of Triple-A Construction Co., Tuesday night.

Chief of Detectives Tim Qualls said this morning that Clayton was arrested following investigation by detectives. He said $500 in stolen merchandise had been recovered.

Clayton is in jail on a $500 bond.

Students chosen

MOSCOW — University of Idaho officials have released the names of Magic Valley-area students chosen as pledges to the university chapter of Intercollegiate Knights.

Named to the service honorary on the basis of grade point average and service to the school were: William G. Eisinger and Mark S. Toone, both Gladning; Charles A. Dow, Hansen; John C. Hohnhorst, Hazelton; David G. Ascuena, Mountain Home; Thomas H. Toews, Rupert; Jon G. Thorpe, Twin Falls, and Kirk C. Dennis, Wendell.

YWCA pool benefits

TWIN FALLS — Winners of the YWCA Pool Players, supervised bridge club, for the current week include LaVern Asher, first; Billie Ditty, second; Erva Bower, third, and Dorothy Vice, fourth.

YWCA officials said the supervised bridge is played each Monday at 1 p.m. with Mrs. Herb Burgess as supervisor. Anyone interested is invited to attend.

Each player contributes $1 to the day's play and funds go to help the swimming pool fund.

Merry Mixers list winners

KIMBERLY — The Merry Mixers Club met Wednesday afternoon at the home of Mrs. Merle Zacharias.

Mrs. Elsie Henry and Marie Emerson were guests. Mrs. Henry was high score winner and Mrs. Willa McDaniel was low score winner. Mrs. Ira Hall won the traveling prize.

The next meeting is March 5 at the home of Mrs. Hall.

MV bridge club winners listed

TWIN FALLS — Magic Valley Duplicate Bridge Club met Wednesday at Episcopal Hall.

North and south winners were Mrs. H. M. Murphy and Mrs. H. M. Proctor, first; Mrs. Roy Hill and Mrs. K. G. Knoll, second; tying for third, fourth and fifth were Mrs. B. R. Williams and Mrs. John Hahn, Mrs. J. D. Payntor and Mrs. R. R. Watson and Mrs. F. F. Jensen and Mrs. Faren Falter.

East and West winners were Mrs. Floyd Broadhead and Mrs. M. V. Cook, first; Mrs. Earl Neilsen and Mrs. D. D. Driscoll, second; and Mrs. Geno Carpenter and Mrs. M. Hogg, third.

Motorcycle 4-H club planned

TWIN FALLS — An organizational meeting will be Tuesday night for a new motorcycle safety 4-H club, the first of its kind in the county. Sponsored by the Checkmates Motorcycle Club, the new 4-H club is open to anyone from 10 to 19 years of age. Those joining need not have their own motorcycles but should have access to one.

All youngsters interested in the program and their parents are invited to attend the Tuesday night meeting of 8 p.m. in the extension service offices in the old hospital building.

Additional information is available from Dick Fuchrour, county extension agent, 734-3300.

MV engineers graduate at U of I

MOSCOW — The names of engineering, both Fairfield, Magic Valley engineering students of the University of agricultural engineering, Ruppert, mechanical Idaho who have successfully passed engineer-in-training examinations are announced by Orthorn, mechanical engineering, university officials.

They are John F. Priester, Buhl, civil engineering; Robert E. Hallock, electrical engineering and C. Steven Miller, agricultural.
