

Jo Hillis in line for Minidoka post

RUPERT — Mrs. Edward (Jo) Hillis, a Rupert newspaper correspondent, is in line today for appointment to the Minidoka County commission.

Gov. Cecil D. Andrus is expected to appoint Mrs. Hillis to the $3,600 a year post to fill a vacancy created by the death last week of Wayne Hollenback at the age of 69.

Mrs. Hillis was selected for the position by a Minidoka County Democratic Central Committee last week when county chairmen O'Dell Smith cast a tie-breaking vote, handing the position to Mrs. Hillis over Rupert City Councilman W. F. Whitton.

A possible challenge to the selection, based on the allegations that two county precincts weren't notified of the selection meeting has failed to materialize. Whitton today said Mrs. Hillis had his support for the position.

Smith said over the weekend the selection process had been fair, and said a letter of recommendation had been sent to Andrus with Mrs. Hillis' name.

A spokesman for the governor said today the letter recommending Mrs. Hillis had not yet arrived at his office. But the spokesman also said Andrus would appoint the person recommended by the local party committee.

Watergate probe chief appointment due soon

WASHINGTON (UPI) — A special prosecutor will be named to supervise investigation aimed at "uncovering the whole truth" in the Watergate scandal, Attorney General designate Elliot L. Richardson announced today.

Richardson, himself designated just a week ago by President Nixon to take command of the government's inquiry into the widening scope of the plot and subsequent efforts to cover up its scope, said the person selected would be given "all the independence" necessary to conduct a full and impartial investigation.

Richardson read a statement of his plans during an appearance at the Pentagon before newsmen, and declined to answer any questions about who the prosecutor would be.

He explained that the reason was his forthcoming confirmation hearings, starting Wednesday, by the Senate Judiciary Committee, which he said was the only "appropriate forum" for such questions at this time.

Several possibilities for the job have been mentioned, including William F. Coleman, a Philadelphia lawyer who was a classmate of Richardson's at Yale and who later served with Richardson as a Supreme Court clerk to the late Justice Felix Frankfurter.

Coleman was asked this morning in Philadelphia if he had been asked to take the job. He refused to comment on all questions related to the matter.

Richardson said at the outset of his Pentagon appearance that he wanted the Judiciary Committee to know, before it started hearings on his nomination for attorney general two days hence, that he intended to name a prosecutor as President Nixon gave him optional authority to do last Monday.

Richardson said he was searching for a man to meet the exacting standards the special prosecutor would have to have and would name him as rapidly as possible. Many senators want to have the right to confirm the man.

today in brief

Henry Brezhnev confer

MOSCOW (UPI) — Presidential adviser Henry A. Kissinger postponed a planned sightseeing trip to Leningrad today, U.S. sources said, so that he and Leonid Brezhnev can confer more about the Soviet leader's trip to Washington next month.

Kissinger has been secluded in Brezhnev's hunting lodge, on a wooded country estate on the Volga river, 75 miles from Moscow, since shortly after he arrived Friday night.

Bruce arrives in China

HONG KONG (UPI) — Special Envoy David K.E. Bruce arrived tonight en route to Peking to push ahead with what President Nixon called "a purposeful process" in Sino-American relations.

Bruce's mission to Peking, as Chief of a United States Liaison Office in the Chinese capital, is one of the key steps in Nixon's long campaign to normalize relations between the two countries.

Dobrynin promotion due

WASHINGTON (UPI) — Anatoly P. Dobrynin, 54, Soviet ambassador to the United States for the past 11 years, may soon be in line for promotion to first deputy foreign minister.

Soviet sources said Dobrynin can be considered logical successor to Vasily V. Kuznetsov, 67, now near retirement as first deputy foreign minister. Importance of the post is increased with Foreign Minister Andrei Gromyko's appointment to the Soviet Communist Party Politburo.

Right wingers demonstrate

MADRID (UPI) — Thousands of right-wing demonstrators roamed downtown Madrid today demanding that Generalissimo Francisco Franco fire his government and put the army in power.

The demonstrators carried banners reading "Government resign," but made clear they meant the cabinet by shouting "Franco is government no."

Saigon resumes exchange

SAIGON (UPI) — Saigon today resumed its civilian prisoner release program, suspended for 10 days in a dispute over safety measures, but sources reported a rescue team helicopter was fired on Sunday over Communist-held territory.

A government military spokesman said 200 Communist civilian war prisoners were taken to the Thac Han riverbank near Quang Tri City for release today.

Victim recovered

By GEORGE WILEY
Times-News writer

CASTLEFORD — Rescuers spent more than 12 hours Saturday and Sunday to remove the body of a Hansen man from a 250-foot well northwest of here.

Efforts were underway today to determine the cause of death. The body of Richard M. Anderson, 22, was removed from the well on the Anton Potucek ranch at about 4 a.m. Sunday morning, according to Sheriff Paul Corder.

Corder said Anderson was lowered into the well to weld an eye on a drill bit which had broken off and was impeding further drilling by the George Ganley Well Drilling Co., Kimberly.

Corder said Anderson was lowered into the well at about noon Saturday. At about 3 p.m. Corder's office received a call that workers had lost contact with Anderson and requested assistance.

Corder said that according to employees of the drilling firm, Anderson was lowered into the shaft, which measured 21 inches at the top and then narrowed to 16 inches after about 50 feet, in a 3-foot high bucket, carrying compressed air and a mask and his welding equipment.

The sheriff said that Anderson reached the bottom of the shaft and reported everything was all right by walkie-talkie. Anderson reportedly then said he was going to start welding. Witnesses heard the contact of one arc from the welding rods and then heard nothing more from Anderson, Corder said.

Vic Chittock, who had gone down in the well a few days previously to inspect the drill bit, was contacted in Kimberly and volunteered to go down to see if he could check Anderson's condition.

Chittock was lowered about 150 feet into the well, without oxygen, and then flashed to be pulled out. He told those at the top that he smelled "powder smoke" and felt stuffy, according to Coroner Cloyce Edwards, who was at the scene.

The Army Reserve was contacted in Twin Falls and brought out an air compressor to pump fresh air into the shaft.

Meanwhile, Doug Etter, Twin Falls, had come into the sheriff's office in Twin Falls and volunteered to go to the scene and go down in the well. Corder described Etter as "real slim."

Etter was taken to the scene and lowered into the shaft. Corder said he didn't know what Etter was able to do while in the shaft, but was able to see that the bucket holding Anderson was tipped so that it could not be drawn out.

Coroner Edwards said a drill bit was used to straighten the bucket out and a cable with a hook was used to catch Anderson's clothing to straighten him out. Anderson's body was then lifted out of the well.

Edwards said laboratory tests are now being conducted to determine whether Anderson suffocated. Should these prove negative, Edwards said, he will "probably" conduct an autopsy to determine if Anderson could have been electrocuted when he struck the arc with the welding equipment.

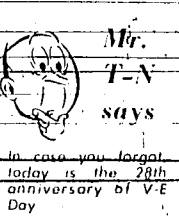

Rescue units from Mountain Home Air Force Base were requested, Corder said, but did not respond because there was no chance of Anderson's being alive.

Corder said that he could see Anderson's body slumped over the bucket with binoculars from above and that "this long a man hanging head down, I think it was pretty obvious that there was no life."

Ex-judge, 87, dies

GOODING — Duran H. Sutphen, 87, a district judge in Gooding for nearly 30 years, died Sunday evening at the Green Acres Terrace nursing home.

He retired in 1950 after serving nearly 30 years as a district judge. He was the first attorney to practice law in Gooding, working with his brother, Percy, until his appointment as district judge in 1929.

Mr. Sutphen was instrumental in securing irrigation water for the Gooding area through establishment of the American Falls Reservoir District No. 2.

IRA target in crackdown
BELFAST, Northern Ireland (UPI) — Security officials on both the Northern and the Republic sides of the Irish border Monday began new crackdowns on the outlawed Irish Republican Army (IRA). Ten suspected IRA members were seized in the Irish Republic.

State remap plans under voting act

WASHINGTON (UPI) — The Supreme Court ruled 6 to 3 today that state reapportionment plans are subject to the 1965 Voting Rights Act, designed to protect minorities.

The Court laid down that standard in a decision requiring new reapportionment of the Georgia House of Representatives.

The Voting Rights Act forbids certain states and other jurisdictions with past records of low voter participation to make political changes that might affect minority political rights without prior approval by either the U.S. attorney general or by the U.S. District Court for the District of Columbia.

Guerrillas break word

GUADALAJARA, Mexico (UPI) — The guerrilla kidnapers of U.S. Consul General Terrence G. Leonard went back today on their promise to release him once 30 political prisoners were flown to Cuba and were reported to be making new demands, possibly involving a cash ransom.

There has been no word since Sunday when Leonard sent word in a letter that he was in "good health" and being treated well. But as time passed with no release there were fears for his safety and government sources said still another factor might be involved—the kidnapers might be "too afraid" to release him immediately.

They pointed to a local news story in which police Chief Jesus Ahumada Mercado was quoted as saying the kidnapers may already have been identified and that local authorities were ready to move against them as soon as the American diplomat is freed.

There has been total official silence, however, on the case since Jalisco State Gov. Alberto Orozco Romero indicated Sunday night that new demands were being put forth by the guerrillas. The governor later retracted the statement, saying he only knew of "rumors" of new demands.

Hailey man killed

MOUNTAIN HOME — Randall E. Miller, 22, Hailey, was killed in a one-car rollover eight miles north of Mountain Home Sunday.

Elmore County sheriff's officers said Miller was thrown from a car driven by Harold A. Stevens, 24, Bellevue, when it failed to negotiate a curve on the Canyon Creek Road about 12:30 p.m. Officers said the car rolled over on Miller.

Stevens was released from Elmore County Hospital, Mountain Home, after being treated for injuries. Another passenger, Lorle Clifford, 16, Sun Valley, was reported in "satisfactory condition" in St. Luke's Hospital, Boise, today, with injuries sustained in the wreck.

She was transferred to the Boise hospital after receiving treatment at the Mountain Home hospital. (Obituary, p. 2)

Gem agency's TF office 'holds tight'

By DAVID ESPINO
Times-News writer

TWIN FALLS — A month after the creation of the Idaho Department of Environmental and Community Services (DECS) the Twin Falls Regional Office of the state's largest agency is "holding tight."

Merged from the former Department of Environmental Protection and Health and Social and Rehabilitation Services, as well as the State Youth Training Center, the regional office currently is without a permanent administrator, and apparently unauthorized to go ahead with new programs.

Instead, the Region-V office, which oversees about 150 workers in existing positions, not filling many of the vacancies that occur on the staff and temporarily "holding up" on previously announced plans to "staff up" the vacant tuberculosis hospital in Gooding.

Formerly classified as surplus property, the vacant hospital was transferred to agency control by the state legislature last winter.

While the department undergoes its reorganization statewide, which has included the hiring of a New York consulting firm, Touche Ross and Co., for $30,000 and the formation of various task forces, local officials report they have received a number of interim policy guidelines.

They range from a restriction on "out-of-region" travel by administrators, a new restriction on the approval of service contracts in the region and a directive instructing local officials on how to place the agency listing in the local telephone book.

At the same time, Dr. James A. Bax, agency administrator, has not yet filled the position of deputy regional administrator, one of three vacancies left in the seven regions statewide.

Speaking in Twin Falls several weeks ago, Bax said the local administrator would have broad authority to innovate within his region, and also indicated he expected the administrator to take responsibility for getting services to the public.

He also said he hoped to have the position filled within two weeks. But four weeks later, there still has been no announcement.

The person mentioned most frequently, Dr. Wayne Carte, is currently the director of the South Central Idaho Health District, but Carte has indicated he is unwilling to take the $20,000 a year job.

Special Watergate prosecutor looms

"I have taken into account the fact that, because I have held office in the administration from its beginning, my objectivity may be questioned," Richardson said in his statement. "I am also convinced that the attorney general must retain final responsibility for all matters coming within the jurisdiction of the department."

Richardson said the President "charged me with the responsibility for uncovering the whole truth about the Watergate case and related matters...no matter who is involved, and that was exactly what he intended to do."

He said the person he picks as prosecutor will be given "all the independence, authority and staff support needed to carry out the task entrusted to him."

"Although he will be in the Department of Justice and report to me—and only to me—he will be aware that his ultimate responsibility is to the American people."

He said the special prosecutor must have "outstanding competence as a lawyer, preferably including trial experience." This would rule out former Sen. John J. Williams, D-Id., favored by several members of Congress to investigate the case.

Spelling out the qualifications the prosecutor must have, Richardson said: "The person selected to fulfill this role will have to meet stringent standards of qualification. He must not only be an individual of the highest character and integrity but be widely recognized."

"He must not have been associated with any of the persons alleged or suspected to have had a part in the matters under investigation. He must be judicious in temperament and independent in spirit. He must have a proven record of outstanding competence as a lawyer, preferably with trial experience."

Richardson said he would ask the Judiciary Committee to hold public hearing on the appointee and "would welcome an expression by the Senate on its confidence in his prosecutor."

In other developments:

Former Attorney General John N. Mitchell said in the context of Watergate that: "Any thought of the President resigning is ridiculous." Earlier, Mitchell's wife, Martha, told UPI the President should resign because of the case. Mitchell criticized UPI for reporting his wife's comment, saying her late night phone calls to the press were "fun and games" and should not be taken as sensational public statements.

Attorneys for Daniel Ellsberg, defendant in the Pentagon Papers trial in Los Angeles today were to ask the U.S. Ninth Circuit Court of Appeals to dismiss the case because presidential aide John Ehrlichman—since resigned—offered Judge "Milt" Byrne, the presiding judge in the case, the job of head of the FBI.

The New York Times said today that Gen. Robert E. Cushman Jr., commander of the Marine Corps, who in 1971 was deputy director of the Central Intelligence Agency (CIA), authorized use of CIA material and research in the burglary of the office of Ellsberg's psychiatrist. The Times said Gen. Cushman was questioned last week by the FBI and "reportedly" accepted full responsibility for permitting CIA assistance in preparations for the break-in, previously linked to Watergate conspirators Howard Hunt Jr. and G. Gordon Liddy, who both worked for the White House.

A Marine Corps spokesman declined comment on the Times story. He said Gen. Cushman is in the Netherlands as the guest of that country's Marine commandant and is expected back in the United States in "a few days."

A White House spokesman declined comment on a story by Newsweek magazine that fired White House counsel John W. Dean III was prepared to give testimony linking President Nixon with attempts to cover up the Watergate scandal. Newsweek said Dean has told federal investigators that Nixon and White House aide H.R. Halderman were pleased by Dean's efforts to "keep the lid on," and that Dean quoted the President saying, "Good job, John. Bob (Halderman) told me what a great job you've been doing."

Sen. Brooke said he felt the earlier special prosecutor resolution, introduced by Sen. Charles H. Percy, R-Ill., had been handled too hastily by the Senate. Sen. Robert D. Kkan., said the Senate would vote "overwhelmingly" for a special prosecutor in a roll call.

Sen. Robert Dole, R-Kan., said Sunday he was sure someone in Congress would move to impeach the President if it is proved he had personal knowledge or involvement in the Watergate affair.

Question

Is my widowed mother eligible for Social Security disability benefits even though she is not yet 60 years old and I am willing and able to support her?

Answer

Your ability and willingness to support your mother have no bearing upon her entitlement to a widow's disability benefit. She is eligible if:

- Your father was insured under Social Security.
- She is entitled to a benefit by social security regulations.
- She is over age 50 and became disabled within 7 years of your father's death or if she became disabled while receiving benefits as a mother or within 7 years thereafter.

A disabled widow who receives benefits at age 50 is paid 50% of her deceased husband's primary insurance benefit. This amount increases up to 82% at age 60.

Ostrichlike

"The prince... must imitate the fox and the lion, for the lion cannot protect himself from traps, and the fox cannot defend himself from wolves. One must therefore be a fox to recognize traps, and a lion to frighten wolves."

Thus wrote Niccolo Machiavelli, the granddaddy of all hard-nosed political realists whose name, quite unjustly, has become synonymous with deviousness, deceit and intrigue.

Machiavelli was referring to traps set by one's enemies, but traps can also unwittingly be set by one's friends. In fact, the latter kind are more dangerous than the former because they are so difficult to guard against.

Watergate may be the prime example of this century. What was a plot against the Democrats has been transformed, in its sorry denouement, into a blow against the Republican party that will take years to recover from, as well as a blow against the integrity and continuity of the Nixon administration whose effects it is still too early to estimate.

There is no reason to believe President Nixon is not telling the truth when he says that his initial investigation satisfied him that none of his staff was involved in the attempt to bug Democratic headquarters.

Nor is there any reason to believe that the President had to know about the plot from the beginning. There is every reason to believe that he wanted NOT to know about such things.

The trouble with President Nixon's behavior throughout the Watergate affair has not been an excess of "Machiavellianism" but a deficiency. There was too little of the fox in the President when the break-in was first exposed in the summer of 1972, when a little less trustfulness of perhaps wishful thinking and a little more ruthlessness to those who had betrayed their public trust could have spared him from the trap he has now fallen into and have earned him the praise of the nation.

And certainly, there has been nothing of the lion in the President in his actions in recent days, especially during his disappointing television address following the resignation and/or firing of three top White House aides and the Attorney General.

The public does not want the President to accent "responsibility" for Watergate in a rhetorical sense and let it go at that. It wants to see heads roll — all the heads — and by that it does not mean through quiet resignations.

It also wants, at long last, to learn the facts of the matter, not only about Watergate but about a whole list of sinister plots that have come to light — from fabricated cables implicating President Kennedy in the assassination of South Vietnamese President Diem to a flood of phony telegrams supporting the President's handling of the war in Vietnam to

"How laudable it is for a prince to keep faith and live with integrity," said Machiavelli. Also how difficult it is, he noted.

How much more difficult it is when those around the prince do not act with integrity, and how tragic for a nation.

WASHINGTON (NEA) — Friends, yes, friends of President Nixon do not believe he advanced his personal cause or that of the presidency in any enduring way by his cool and lofty tale of the all-consuming

Watergate affair. The tone was presidential. His comment bore the marks of the high quest for truth and justice battling his office. It was reinforced by solid action in the earlier removals of four top administration men, including his two closest aides. For the sake of the country and the office, even his Democratic adversaries wanted these very things from him. Yet, somehow, it all came to too little. In the view of some who have known and like him, what Mr. Nixon said lacked the impressive force of specific candor. It was presidential gold dust thrown in the eyes, or a glittering movie set facade supported by shaky props.

He told the American people that, uncharacteristically, he in 1972 delegated most of his campaign decisions to others. But he did not say to whom, nor what crucial instructions he gave to his chosen surrogates.

Besides being uninformative at its heart, this assertion is not accurate. Observers and men who toiled in his campaigns can testify convincingly that he delegated heavy campaign authority in 1968 and perhaps before.

His newest utterance seeks, then, to perpetuate an unsupportable legend, Nixon the man with his eye constantly on every political gauge (but too busy with higher duties in 1972 to follow pattern).

Another gaping hole in the facade: Who repeatedly reassured him that his key people were not involved? Was it always the same man, or were there several?

The bare-bones sound of his announcement of legal counsel John Dean's resignation suggests this young man, who conducted the President's first inquiry into Watergate, may be marked for blame as an architect of a cover-up.

Still, Mr. Nixon left the way

open for others to be touched, saying no one could be spared from the workings of justice and there would be no "whitewash" in the White House. Though his voice choked a bit, there was something of the cold shyness in his final pat on the back for "closest friends and trusted aides" John Ehrlichman and H. R. (Bob) Haldeeman?

Even as the President promised no whitewash, some of his key words had the pale cast of euphemism. He spoke of men whose zeal "exceeded their judgment" and whose good intentions in a cause they believed right graded easily into "shady" campaign activities.

How does this cover the alleged break-in by Nixon reelection agents at the office of the psychiatrist serving Daniel Ellsberg, defendant in the Pentagon papers case?

Indeed, as digested by some of his "critical friends," this euphemistic language is judged to be far short of matching the magnitude of the offenses already revealed or hinted at in the Watergate espionage-abolition case.

The President has seemed to "clean house," leaving his establishment painfully disorganized in the face of pending big events. But his basement and his attic still hold too many secrets which can cloud the fresh image he tried to paint.

Too Much Iron

Dear Dr. Thosteson: I have been diagnosed as having a hereditary blood disease called hemochromatosis but have not been able to find much information about it. What effect, if any, does it have on my blood pressure? Is there any medication for hemochromatosis? — D. H.

Hemochromatosis involves an increased absorption of iron (a strange anomaly when so many people suffer from a lack of sufficient iron.)

Concern is more with other problems than blood pressure. The excess iron is deposited in various organs of the body, with emphasis on the liver and pancreas.

This in turn poses problems of liver disease and diabetes, this particular form being called "bronze diabetes" because it is accompanied by a brownish discoloration of the skin.

Treatment, therefore, is focused on the liver, and on control of the diabetes with insulin, and large doses usually are required.

Reduction of the iron in the system is primarily accomplished by frequent withdrawal of a pint of blood, iron being plentiful in the red cells.

Occasionally medication may be used for release of iron, but drawing blood is the usual method.

This complicated ailment is seen chiefly in men, but sometimes affects women, too.

Dear Dr. Thosteson: All the people I know in the 60-year bracket have told me they have a hiatus hernia. Is this a common ailment? —

What treatment is available? Or do you have a pamphlet? — Mrs. A.C.

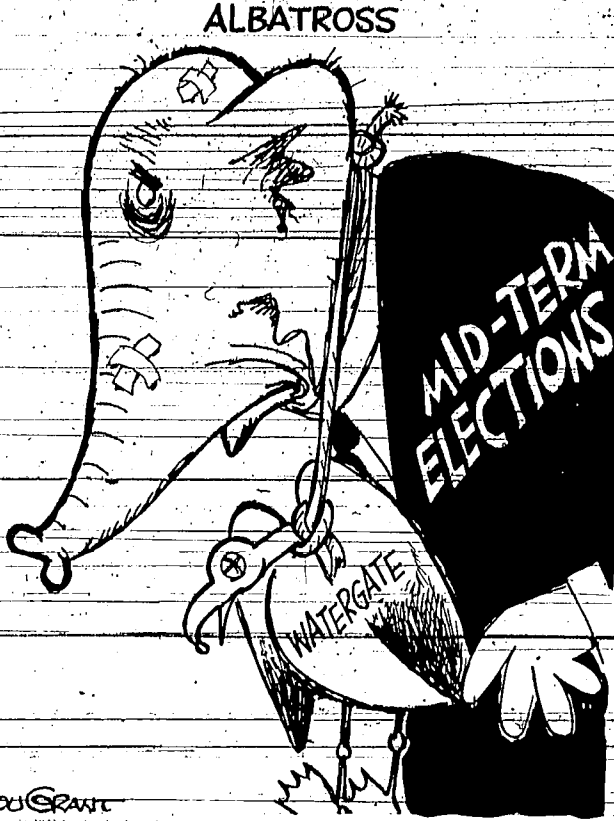

Either hiatus or hiatus is correct. It's not such a universal complaint as your experience would indicate, but it is much more common than was realized some years ago. If you haven't had any stomach distress (cramping, ulcer-like pain, regurgitation) there's no reason to think you have a hiatus hernia. Or if you do happen to have it and it doesn't bother you, nothing need be done about it.

If you DO have distress, that's a different matter. Yes, I have a booklet, "Hiatal Hernia and Eight Ways to Combat It," available, as usual, by mail. Send 25 cents and a long, self-addressed, stamped envelope to me, care of Times-News.

Dear Dr. Thosteson: About once a week I take a spoonful of Motamul and this seems to keep me in pretty good shape. But in view of the fact that I have diabetes, I wonder if taking this more or less regularly is a good idea. —

It won't harm you, and if this once-a-week dose helps keep you regular — fine.

Dr. Thosteson welcomes all reader mail but regrets that, due to the tremendous volume received daily, he is unable to answer individual letters. Readers' questions are incorporated in his column whenever possible.

The River People

Our wettest winter is over and the worst of our soggy spring is past.

The wrung-out river people who survived are going back where they say they "belong," shoveling mud, shoring foundations, sinking roots in no man's land.

At the crest of this spring's flood, I flew low along the rampaging, Mississippi from St. Louis to Memphis.

That's what all of it comes to, but that was enough. I know that river. The Harveys have Missouri whiteface cattle farm overlooking a mile of that river.

I've watched her with awe and admiration for a lifetime, by sunlight and starlight. I know how she looks in bed and how mean and ugly she gets when she's drunk!

And she was drunk! Above Cairo where the Ohio dumps its load, the river was a brown ink 20 miles wide and dotted with rooftops.

The river line between Missouri and Kentucky was a multiplicity of muddy fingers sprawling over farmlands while searching for shortcuts to the sea.

Roads to nowhere disappear into that murky water. But beyond where the road disappears, parallel rows of rooftops outline where it once was. Gray-green acres of cultivated high ground protruding above the rampaging water are pathetic reminders of what's gone.

A few brave bargemen dared to shove their steel hulls against the current, but no lesser boat would brave the tree-size floating debris.

Passing Hlytheville, Ark., we were running out of daylight. Lights were coming on in Osceola. Somewhere out there ahead — across the wide water — was Memphis. But in the twilight, the pretzel-bends of the mighty Mississippi's many improvised channels disappeared snakelike on all horizons.

At the news desk — all those rolling mobile homes — rolling end over end. All those island towns and devastated farmsteads become numbers. When the governors petition Washington for help they cite numbers. But when you've lived with the river people they are names.

You've seen them, warned, herd their livestock to high ground, then, themselves, stubbornly return home to wait it out.

And you'll find them sometimes and pluck them out of a tree, fish them out of the impotency and wretched sun looks and boat — or chopper them to some safe retreat.

They'll help sandbag the soggy levee sheltering a downstream town and they'll sweat vengeance, demand to be separated forever from the merciless river and yet, by George, the first day the mud is wade-able they're tracking back to wherever home was, mopping up, shoveling out, making do, digging in, and sinking roots again.

A spider weaving his web on the moving hands of the clock.

Nixon And God

WASHINGTON — Last week President Richard Nixon went to Camp David alone, without family or aides. Press Secretary Ron Ziegler dabbles it, but it has been reliably reported that the President went up the top of the mountain to speak with God.

"God, God, why are you doing this to me?"

"Doing what, Richard?"

"The Watergate, the coverup, the grand jury hearings, the Senate investigations. Why are you doing this to me, Richard?"

"I gave you my Blessing to win the election, but I didn't tell you to steal it."

"God, I've done everything you told me to do. I ended the war. I defeated poverty. I cleaned the air and the water. I defeated crime in the streets. Surely I deserve a break."

"Richard, I tried to warn you that you had sinful people working for you."

"When, God?"

"Just after the Committee to Re-Elect the President was formed. When I saw the people you had selected to head up the committee, I was shocked. We've got a long file on them up here."

"Why didn't you tell me, God?"

"I tried to, but Ehrlichman and Haldeeman wouldn't let me talk to you on the phone. They said they'd give you the message I called."

"They never told me, God."

"It figures. Then I sent you a telegram saying it was urgent that you contact me."

"The only telegrams I read during that period were those in support of my bombing North Vietnam."

Richard? You introduced me to Pat and then you gave me a ball point pen.

"I didn't know it was you, God. So many people show up at these prayer meetings. Is that why you're punishing me — because I snubbed you?"

"Pat — not punishing you, Richard. But even I can do just so much. If it were merely a simple case of bugging at the Watergate, I could probably fix it. But your Administration is involved in the obstruction of justice, the bribing of witnesses, the forging of papers, wiretapping, perjury and using the mails to defraud."

"God God, nobody's perfect."

"I guess that's what the grand jury is saying."

"Look! I've got less than four years in which to go down as the greatest President in the history of the United States. Give me a break."

"You've got to clean house, Richard. Get rid of everyone who has any connection with the scandal. You must make it perfectly clear you were hoodwinked by everyone on your staff. You must show the American people that when it comes to the Presidency, no one is too big to be sacrificed on the altar of expediency."

"God, are you asking for a human sacrifice?"

"It would show your good faith, Richard."

"All right, I'll do it. Will you like Jeb Magruder, Richard Kleindienst and John Dean III?"

"What kind of sacrifice is that?"

"John Mitchell?"

"Keep going."

"Haldeman and Ehrlichman?"

COMMENT

In The Aviary

Portland Oregonian — The hullabaloo over White House aides' involvement in bugging Democrats in their Watergate offices has diverted attention recently from another prime Democratic target — Roy Ash, director of the powerful Office of Management and Budget. There are so many legal and political questions about Watergate that politicians and the press just haven't had time for Ash.

When President Nixon appointed Ash budget director (and chief impounder of congressional appropriations) there was a loud outcry. A good bet would have been that the Senate would not have ratified the appointment had it been subject to confirmation. Some members even filed bills to make the OMB job subject to Senate approval.

Ash won the President's confidence by heading a commission that studied and made recommendations for reorganization of the executive branch. He was also a generous contributor to the Nixon re-election campaign fund. But Ash was not so popular with the Defense Department or Congress. Litton Industries, a very large conglomerate founded and headed by Ash, was publicly charged on a variety of counts of inflating naval shipbuilding contracts by many millions of dollars. In the 1950s, when he was an executive for Highes Aircraft, he was charged with falsifying affidavits for payment for Air Force contracts. None of these charges, however, were criminal charges.

A member of Congress, Rep. Les Alphin, D-Wis., now is making public letters from Ash reporting that he has been unable to divest himself of 12,028 shares of Litton stock which is collateral with a bank, and that he has not reported to the Securities & Exchange Commission the transfer to a blind trust of the rest of his Litton stock, 225,000 shares, as a condition of his federal employment.

It has never been demonstrated that the morality or impartiality of a federal executive has been guaranteed by his divestiture of stock and resignation as an official of private companies. Still, Litton industries continues to have very large defense contracts. Ash's appointment to OMB was questionable at the time and remains questionable. If Watergate results in a White House shake-down, the Nixon administration's credibility would also be enhanced by the departure of Mr. Ash.

Greed Showing

Seattle Times — Taxpayers who grappled with federal income tax forms in the weeks leading to Monday's deadline had ample evidence of Uncle Sam's bureaucratic greed. The forms were radically out of balance with respect to space provided for recording income, on the one hand, and deductions, on the other.

An example: Schedules A and B for Form 1040, used by taxpayers who itemize deductions and report income in dividends and interest, provided just four lines for contributions in contrast 35 lines for specifying dividend income and 44 lines for interest income.

Uncle Sam is generous in accommodating acknowledgement of income on which a tax must be paid, niggardly in providing space for declarations whose effect would be to reduce the tax. Changes should be in order for next year.

Filer community classes readied

FILER — New adult and children's programs under the Community Education Program will commence June 11, according to Mrs. Roy Watson, coordinator.

Beginning on June 11 and continuing each Monday for six weeks a story hour for ages 3 through 7 will be held at the Filer Elementary School. Mrs. Don Lierman is group leader and books will be read in small groups of five to six children with reading to be done by volunteer mothers.

Gymnastics for children ages 5 through 10 years will be held each Monday and Thursday from 10-11 a.m. in the Filer Elementary School. Classes will include tumbling, acrobatics, etc. under the direction of Nina Shields.

Arts and crafts for children of grades four through six will begin June 11 at the Filer Elementary School and continue for six weeks. Carol Wells will be instructors.

New math for parents will begin June 11 and be held each Monday from 7-9 p.m. at the Filer Elementary School with Gordon Larson, instructor.

A defensive driving course, open to all drivers, will be held each Monday and Wednesday for two weeks, starting June 11, from 7-9:30 p.m. at the Filer High School. It will feature driver improvement programs of lectures, film and discussion under the direction of Leo Wright.

A baton class for grades one through six will begin June 12 from 10 a.m. to 12 noon at the Filer Elementary School, with Becky Carter, instructor. A baton class for grades seven through 12 will be held from 10 a.m. to 12 noon at the school with Penny Waldon, instructor.

Arts and crafts for children from grades one through three will be held from 1-3 p.m. beginning June 12 and continuing for six weeks. Carol Wells is instructor.

A guitar class for high schoolers and adults will begin June 12 and run for ten weeks at the Filer High School music room. Time will be from 7-8:30 p.m. with Keith Ferrell, instructor.

Women's physical education will begin June 18 at 7-9 p.m. at the Filer Elementary School. Irene Ross will be instructor.

Aerobic painting for ages 12 to 99 will start June 13 at the school with Mrs. Leonard Crismon, instructor. Times will be from 1-3 p.m.

Golf organization meeting and first session will be held at 7:30 p.m. June 11 at the Filer Elementary School. Class schedules will be made for children, beginning adults and intermediate adults. Bill Heaps is instructor.

A tennis class for adults and high schoolers will be held from 9-11 a.m. starting June 11 with Melanie Bubak, instructor.

The Hollister Elementary School will have a special reading program beginning June 11 and running daily through July 6. The program will be for grades one to three and will be held at 9-10 a.m. with Mrs. Marvin McClure, instructor.

A special reading program for grades four through six will be held from 10-11 a.m. daily at the school also with Mrs. McClure as instructor.

Gets Award

ROBERT BUNCE, son of Mr. and Mrs. W. M. Bunce, Filer, has received a $500 activity scholarship from Utah State University, Logan. He is student body president of Filer High School where he belongs to the National Honor Society, was a Boys State delegate and a senator for the Youth Legislature. He belongs to the College of Southern Idaho stage band and played for productions of "Guys and Dolls", "Carmen" and "Hello Dolly". He also is an Eagle Scout.

Reds building S. Viet missile sites

SAIGON (UPI) — The Communists have five or six new SAM-2 antiaircraft missile sites under construction near the old U.S. Marine base at Khe Sanh and in the nearby A Shau Valley in northern South Vietnam, in addition to two sites already built and manned, intelligence sources said Saturday.

At least four missile sites appear to be under construction around Khe Sanh, where the Communists also have improved the old Marine air strip, the sources said. These are, in addition to two sites reported in the area late in March.

At least one additional missile site is apparently under construction in the A Shau Valley, 47 miles northeast of Saigon, the sources said. The A Shau Valley was the site of fierce fighting in 1969 at a spot known as Hamburger Hill. It also was the route of the Ho Chi Minh trail complex until 1960 when a joint U.S.-South Vietnamese operation forced the Communists to move it westward into Laos.

In March, the United States protested to the Joint Military Commission that the two existing missile sites were a violation of the Paris peace agreement. The Communists said they were already in place when the truce began on June 28. The issue was never wholly resolved.

The proximity of the missile sites to the ancient imperial capital of Hue was considered significant, the sources indicated. The A Shau Valley was the launching point for the 1968 Tet offensive against Hue and Khe Sanh was a major staging area for the Communist offensive a year ago. Khe Sanh is 50 miles northwest of Hue; the A Shau is 30 miles southwest.

In another development, the Saigon government announced Saturday it had reached agreement with the Viet Cong to release 200 more civilian prisoners on Monday, Communist spokesman Lt. Col. Le Trung Hien said. The release site would be moved from Loc Ninh, 75 miles north of Saigon, to Quang Tri city, 400 miles northeast of the capital.

A dispute between the International Commission for Control and Supervision (ICCS) and the Provisional Revolutionary Government (PRG) over the width of air corridors for ICCS helicopters has blocked release of the Communist captives for more than a week. Several ICCS helicopters have been fired on from Communist-controlled territory and the Viet Cong has charged they wore off course. The wider air corridors presumably would help alleviate this problem.

If the 34-foot-long Soviet-built "flying telephone poles" are installed in the A Shau, it will be their southernmost deployment in the history of the Indochina conflict. The SAM-2s were the weapons credited with downing most of the 16 U.S. Air Force B-52 bombers during last December's blitz of Hanoi and Haiphong.

Allied officials are concerned about the reported missile installations but not alarmed, the sources said. The sites are thought to be one of several Communist efforts to "keep their options open" while making a political drive to secure their objectives in Indochina.

Bishops seek secret ballot

COACHELLA (UPI) — Bishop Joseph Donnelly, a farm labor spokesman for a national group of Catholic bishops, has joined United Farm Workers Union Organizer Cesar Chavez in calling for a secret ballot election among Coachella Valley's farm workers to determine which union should represent them.

Bishop Donnelly, of New Haven, Conn., met Friday with UFWU workers picketing the ranches of growers who have signed union contracts with the rival Teamsters Union.

"It is wrong morally for the growers and Teamsters to simply announce those workers want the Teamsters union when, at this time, an election could be held," said Donnelly, chairman of the National Conference of Catholic Bishops' Committee on Farm Labor.

Chavez has claimed that his union represents the majority of the valley's farm workers and has proposed a worker election to prove it.

"While we were talking with workers on the picket line," Donnelly continued, "one man who identified himself as a Teamster shouted at us to 'stop spouting that Communist line.' It was a very bad situation."

In Los Angeles Friday, Teamster member Jim Dycas said he planned meetings with "hundreds of Teamster members, especially Chicanos" to protest the use of Teamster funds to "send goons into the Coachella Valley to fight the Farm Workers Union."

The Teamsters Union has employed a number of persons as security guards to help protect their fields during UFWU picketing.

"Right now we're protecting and supporting our members working in the vineyards under our contracts from harassment by the Chivistas (Chavez' followers)," responded Teamster Representative Ralph Cotner. The UFWU was voted out and we're in and we're going to live up to our obligation to protect the work of our people who desire to work."

Ellsberg burglary nod given by aide

LOS ANGELES (UPI) — The Pentagon Papers trial, now deeply mired in Watergate and peopled by almost the same cast, today takes up an affidavit from a former presidential aide who reportedly admitted he authorized "the Ellsberg burglary."

Attorneys for Daniel Ellsberg and Anthony Russo, working several avenues of alleged improper conduct in efforts to get the case thrown out of court, said they may appeal to higher federal courts to halt the trial.

U.S. District Judge Matt Byrne Friday night received a copy of an affidavit by Egil "Bud" Krogh, former deputy assistant to President Nixon and now undersecretary of transportation. The judge did not reveal the contents of the affidavit. Defense attorneys demanded it be turned over to them, saying that "if news reports we've heard are correct, it more firmly establishes the link between President Nixon and criminal activities carried out by his subordinates in connection with the prosecution of Daniel Ellsberg and Anthony Russo."

The judge scheduled today's hearing to determine whether to give the affidavit to the defense.

The Los Angeles Times quoted a "close associate" of Krogh as saying that he had told federal prosecutors in Washington that he helped supervise the break-in at the office of Dr. Lewis Fielding—Ellsberg's psychiatrist—in Beverly Hills, Calif.

The revelation of the break-in, reportedly to get information for a psychiatric profile to be used against Ellsberg, was the initial link between the Pentagon Papers and Watergate cases.

Convicted Watergate conspirator E. Howard Hunt told the Watergate grand jury in Washington that Krogh authorized the break-in, according to grand jury testimony made public at the trial here.

Flooding causes heavy damage in Denver area

DENVER (UPI) — Four inches of rain in the metropolitan area and 20 inches of very wet snow in nearby mountains swelled the South Platte River over its banks Sunday, forcing the evacuation of thousands of persons from low-lying areas.

A Red Cross official estimated between 3,500 and 7,000 persons were forced to leave their homes as the South Platte rose two to three feet above flood stage.

"Only about 500 took shelter at established emergency areas inside Denver proper, but we don't know how to count the others in the suburbs because most of them go to friends' houses," said Gaylord Colle, Red Cross director of disaster services.

equipment on the city's southwest side as a precaution.

The Colorado State Patrol said numerous state and federal highways in the Denver area were closed because of flooding.

Flood conditions were reported along a 200-mile stretch of the Platte extending from Conifer, southwest of Denver, to the Colorado-Nebraska border 160 miles away. Nebraska officials said it would be at least a week before the Colorado situation affected the Platte in Nebraska.

Stations forced to close

WASHINGTON (UPI) — Government figures show that 342 gasoline stations—mostly in the Midwest and Southeast—have been forced to shut down due to the shortage of gasoline, according to Rep. Les Aspin, D-Wis.

Aspin, who said he obtained the statistics from the Office of Emergency Preparedness (OEP), said the fuel crisis also threatens to drive out of business another 930 stations. He said the government figures represented "just the tip of the iceberg."

"As a very rough guess, I'd say 7,000 persons left their homes in Denver and the suburbs, but that's strictly a ballpark figure," he said.

Colle said flood warnings had been issued through tonight for sections of Denver, Littleton, Englewood, Sheridan, Jefferson County and low areas along the Platte west, east and north of Denver.

The Denver fire department received more than 900 calls from citizens asking help to pump out flooded basements.

Denver police closed low sections and exit ramps of the Valley Highway, Denver's main north-south artery, and called in earth-moving

"By the middle of August, thousands of stations, mostly independent stations that sell cut-rate gas, will probably be closed and thousands more will be very short on supplies," Aspin said in a statement Sunday.

Aspin said the Midwest and Southeast sections of the nation have been particularly hard hit because they have a proportionately higher number of independent stations and refineries. He claimed 136 stations had closed in the Midwest and 117 in the Southeast.

Additionally, 30 stations have closed in New England, 30 in the Mid-Atlantic states, 8 in the plains states and 12 in California and the Southwest, he said.

Of 930 stations now threatened, he said 437 were in the Southeast and 200 in the Midwest.

PHNOM PENH (UPI) — Communist gunners set fire to one ship and another "went aground Sunday night when 11 yachts carrying relief supplies to Phnom Penh tried to slip up the Mekong River under cover of darkness.

Nine of the vessels made it to the capital, but all of them sustained damage and officials said the captain of one of them was missing. There was no report of injuries among crewmen of the battered convoy.

Communists scored the hits despite heavy U.S. air support along the river.

Three young girls were killed and 21 persons wounded Sunday night when a hand grenade was tossed into a crowded marketplace at the Phnom Penh suburb of Stung Meanchey. Witnesses said the market was jammed with shopping housewives when a man hurled the grenade and fled.

In the convoy relief operation, skippers said, Communist gunners opened fire on the file of four tankers, four cargo ships and three tugs soon after they left the river town of Neak Luong, 32 miles southeast of Phnom Penh.

The tanker Vira 1, flying the Panamanian flag, was hit at Dey Dos, 25 miles southeast of Phnom Penh, and set afire. The ship was carrying 175,000 gallons of badly-needed aviation fuel. The Phnom Penh port authority said the ship's captain was missing but that no other crewmen aboard the Vira 1 were hurt.

The Nationalist Chinese and Cambodian-owned cargo ship Veng An, carrying candles, oil and general supplies, was hit at Ment Krasas, about 12 miles outside Phnom Penh. It was seriously damaged and grounded at a point where the four tributaries of the Mekong meet, ships officers said.

Most of the damage was done, said seamen aboard the vessels, by grenades fired by rockets.

It was the first convoy to attempt the perilous trip up the Mekong from South Vietnam since April 23. One Korean seaman was killed and three other sailors wounded during that supply run.

VOLCANO, Hawaii (UPI) — Kilauea volcano smoldered and sputtered today after a spectacular eruption sent fountains of fire soaring 100 feet in the air, ripped open a giant fissure and touched off forest fires.

The unexpected eruption Saturday on the island of Hawaii, amidst hundreds of earthquakes, occurred just 10 days after a devastating earthquake shook the state, causing severe damage to the town of Hilo just 30 miles from Kilauea.

Dr. Donald Peterson, in charge of the volcano observatory, said it appeared that the fiery activity eased Sunday.

"The volcano is in a deflated condition," he said. "But if she re-inflates, then further eruptive activity could occur."

JERUSALEM (UPI) — Israel turned 25 today, displaying its military might in a parade of air, armored and troop power over and through the Holy City as the high point of its anniversary celebrations.

An honor guard stepped off from in front of the oblong official reviewing stand at 10:05 a.m. and a formation of V-tailed Fouga Magister training jets swooped overhead, streams of vapor trailing into the clear blue sky.

Sources said the parade cost about $5 million.

Military police in jeeps passed the reviewing stand 87 minutes later, following behind the 2,000 troops, warplanes and 450 vehicles watched by a white-suited Prime Minister Golda Meir from under a white veil to shield her eyes from the sun.

The flypast of screaming jets and droning propeller planes and clattering helicopters, the clanking of armor and the tramping of infantry boots marked Israel's first independence day military parade in five years — a flexing of muscle to show the nation's weight in the Middle East balance-of-power.

Heavy security precautions, white police spokesman Michael Bitchner described as the largest in effect throughout the city with civilian police, white helmeted military police and soldiers patrolling to guard against possible Arab guerrilla attacks.

"Everything went according to schedule," a police spokesman said. "There have been no accidents."

Lebanon still under curfew

BEIRUT (UPI) — Much of Lebanon remained under a dusk-to-dawn curfew today despite a generally effective truce between army troops and Arab guerrillas whose leaders continued negotiations today on the their future role in this pivotal Middle East land.

Despite the cease-fire agreement reached between Palestinian guerrilla chief Yassaf Arafat and Premier Amin Hafez, there were scattered shooting incidents and explosions in parts of the country.

But the mood was generally calm and despite the incidents, Beirut and five other major cities remained under a curfew first imposed last Wednesday when fighting erupted between guerrillas and the 12,000-man army.

Before the truce was arranged, officials said the fighting — the most serious such clashes since 1969 — killed at least 160 persons and wounded another 473.

Early Sunday, a rocket was fired at the headquarters of the governor of south Lebanon in Sidon. About the same time, "armed men" seized 11 border officials during a raid, but later released them. Late Sunday, soldiers and guerrillas exchanged shots in the Sin El-Fil district of Beirut.

No casualties were reported in the Sunday incidents.

On the negotiation front, talks on the future of the Palestinian guerrillas continued into the night Sunday between Lebanese authorities and guerrilla leaders led by Arafat, leader of the Palestine Liberation Organization (PLO).

Several high-ranking Arab figures, including Arab League Secretary-General Mahmoud Riad, expressed hope for a reconciliation between the two sides.

Hafez, a 48-year-old former journalist who became premier only 13 days ago, met with Arafat and other guerrilla chiefs Sunday in compromise talks.

"I am maintaining my efforts, day and night, to ensure the security of all who live on Lebanese soil, without exception, and to serve Lebanon's sovereignty and the Palestinian cause, which is the Arabs' primary cause," Hafez said. "I will spare no effort or sacrifice in order to reach this objective."

Government sources said earlier Lebanon wanted a revision of the 1969 Cairo agreement that defined how and where guerrillas could stay in Lebanon.

The chief point of disagreement, source said, is a Lebanese demand it regain jurisdiction in the areas of the refugee camps. Palestinians have policed their own camps and people since the 1969 agreement.

But late Sunday, the Palestinian news agency Wafa rejected any discussion of the Cairo agreement. It called for both sides to renew their commitment to it.

"Nothing is done," it said. "For what is the guarantee that what the Lebanese army did last bloody Wednesday will not be repeated today, or tomorrow, or in a few months time?"

24-day national mail strike ends

ROME (UPI) — A 24-day long national mail strike ended Sunday, but post office officials warned today that normal deliveries will resume only after a cleanup operation they predicted will take two months.

Authorities said hundreds of tons of unsorted letters were piled up all over the country, including millions of Easter greeting cards. Officials in Venice said several days ago that 61.3 tons of mail were packed into their post office alone.

Mail sorters and deliverers returned to work today following agreement between their unions and the government giving postal employees monthly $21 pay boosts. Under the agreement, postmen will now receive minimum monthly wages of $170.

Government officials said the strike caused inestimable damage to the economy and that it would take at least two months to clear away the tons of mail piled up at railway stations and post offices across Italy.

Among the unsorted mail were checks, many to pensioners, and money orders worth more than $1.6 billion. In Rome and other cities, pensioners could not collect checks because there was no one to drive armored delivery trucks.

The strike involved only a minority of the country's 180,000 postal workers but there were enough strikers to block deliveries in most areas, authorities said.

The biggest winners in the strike were private messenger firms that sold their services to companies seeking to deliver and collect bills. Some business even hired messengers to take more urgent letters to neighboring Switzerland, France and Austria for mailing.

Political sources called the agreement a victory for the government of Premier Giulio Andreotti, who stepped into the negotiations a few days ago.

Abby

Abigail Van Buren

DEAR ABBY: I am a Catholic widow married to a good Catholic widower. The problem is he won't let me into our bedroom while he's dressing or undressing. And if he's in the room while I'm undressing, he turns his head. He acts as if it's sinful for us to see each other undressed.

I thought maybe time would improve the situation, but it has been years, and he's still the same.

I must admit that our new life is wonderful in the dark. This may not seem like much of a problem but it makes me feel less of a wife, and I am hurt.

What is the official Catholic position on nudity, Abby? Perhaps the reason for my husband's attitude can be found there.

FRUSTRATED

He fears nudity

DEAR FRUSTRATED: There is no Catholic doctrine on nudity. Nudity is the natural state and is so regarded in matrimonial affairs. You can't blame your husband's inhibited attitude on his religious upbringing. Leave well enough alone, lady. You're doing well where it counts.

DEAR ABBY: We're a couple of old goats. My husband is 72 and I'm 70. We're not in the best of health, but we're not feeble or senile. I hope, and the Lord willing, we will celebrate our 50th wedding anniversary in June.

We want to give a dinner party ourselves and invite our friends, relatives and a few neighbors, but our married daughter and son won't hear of it. THEY want to give the party and foot the bill.

Abby, we appreciate what the kids want to do, but they both have families and need their money. We want printed invitations with a line on the bottom, "No gifts, please." The kids are having a fit and say, "You just don't do that." (Abby, we don't need anything!) We don't want to make jackasses of ourselves, but at our stage in life we don't want more things. Help, please.

MIDWEST READER

DEAR READER: Let the kids give the party, and don't suggest "no gifts."

DEAR ABBY: My problem is so personal I cannot discuss it with anyone. I am 67 years old. I lost my husband two years ago, and at the same time I lost my hearing. It is amazing how your friends will desert you when you've lost your hearing, so I took up lip-reading and sign language.

Last summer I met a 30-year-old man who is also deaf, and we have been having a wonderful romance. It is discreet and does not flaunt it.

My husband was impatient the last 10 years of his life due to illness, but I remained faithful to him even though the desire for sex was still in me. It still is, and this young man has made me feel like a new person.

My friends have criticized me terribly for going with him. After being denied sexual pleasure for 10 years I feel I am entitled to a little enjoyment for as many years as I have left.

I have no intentions of marrying the young man because if I did, I would lose all my benefits. Please let me know what you think. I will abide by your decision.

ANONYMOUS IN ARIZONA

DEAR ANON: As an adult, you may make your own decisions without consulting your friends with what your so-called friends say. I advise you to do just that.

CONFIDENTIAL TO "WAITING TO GET EVEN" IN HUNTSVILLE, ALA.: Of all the virtues, being able to forgive and forget will do the most for you.

Problems? You'll feel better if you get it off your chest. For a personal reply, write to ABBY: Box No. 69798, L. A., Calif. 90069. Enclose stamped, self-addressed envelope, please.

For Abby's new booklet, "What Teen-Agers Want to Know," take it to Abby, Box 69798, Los Angeles, Cal. 90069.

He plays out ace-king and another spade. You discard a diamond on the second spade. What do you discard on the third one?

Oswald: "It is easy to see that you can't spare your high heart. You can let the club go and hope your partner holds the jack, but the right discard is another diamond. Declarer surely holds seven spades. This means he will be able to make his tenth trick by a diamond finesse, unless he is void of diamonds. So you throw a diamond and find out later on that you have saved."

Oswald: "Here is the first hand in his book. The chapter is entitled "Bread and Butter Discards." Look at the North and East hands only and see if you can find the right play. If you can't, don't be discouraged. It's a real tough one."

Jim: "West opens the ace of hearts and continues. You win the second trick and South ruffs the third heart."

Mini-Reviews

TWIN FALLS — Mini-reviews are released by the Twin Falls City Library.

In "The Silent Sky," by Allen W. Rokort, the author recreates the last perilous years of the passenger-pigeon, with accuracy, suspense and unusual sensitivity.

"State-Trooper" by Noel B. Gerson. The time is a Labor Day week-end of mounting crisis. As the hours pass, one vital question emerges. Will the training and discipline of the troopers pay off, so that violence can be contained?

The Weils, a family of Polish Jews, learn to play the game of war, using deception, lies and murder in "Kinderarten" by Elizabeth Ettinger.

"800,000,000: The Real China" by Rosa Torrell. The most sensitive and informal eye-witness report study you will find of the people, government and leaders of China.

"Enemies: A Love Story" by Isaac Singer. This is the love story of three or is it four enemies. The reader will follow it to its end with fascination. No one but a madman or a blockaded captain, wild for action would have thought of taking a ship to sea in conditions such as Captain Penbody faced in the Delaware in "The Captain" from Connecticut" by C.S. Forester.

"Mile High" by Richard Condon tells the tale of West's father, Paddy, fresh from Ireland making his way as a bordello operator and a saloon keeper to become New York's boss of bosses.

"Winter Twilight" by Charles Argoff is a rich and intense novel about David Palonsky's romantic life and how he gets involved with a vibrant, exciting, highly passionate actress.

"Fire in the Lake" by Frances Fitzgerald tells about the Vietnamese themselves and their struggle to find a Vietnamese solution to their problems.

An unforgettable explanation into the nature of evil is found in "Come Spring" by Evan Hunter.

Auxiliary elects at Glenns Ferry

GLENN'S FERRY — Mrs. Florence Greer is the newly elected president of the Veterans of World War I Auxiliary, it was announced Saturday.

Mrs. Harold Tibece was re-elected first vice president; Mrs. Fay Lawrence, junior vice president; Mrs. Margaret Sims, secretary; Mrs. Arthur Greer, treasurer; Mrs. Finley Murphy, chaplain.

elected VFWI commander; Earl Heth, first vice commander; Fay Lawrence, second vice commander; Arthur Groer, quartermaster; Roy Watkins, chaplain; James Bellefonte and Alfred Wicher, trustees.

Heth installed the man of officers and Mrs. Charles Whipple, Mountain Home, installed the women officers.

A potluck dinner was held before the election meeting.

Medics fear income loss from insurance plans

SAN FRANCISCO (UPI)—A physicians' trade union sent letters to all members of Congress Saturday expressing fear that doctors' income would be reduced by the adoption of a national health insurance program.

But, he said, if the program is instituted there would be a discriminatory reduction of physicians' compensation. He said the cut in income was "not acceptable."

Dr. Sanford A. Marcus, the president of the American Federation of Physicians and Dentists, now has over 25,000 members. Both groups are part of the growing number of doctors' trade unions.

Dr. Marcus, a San Francisco surgeon, said, doctors spend years of study to become qualified, and work many more hours per week than the average American. He said the average physician works the first 30 to 35 hours of his week just to cover his overhead.

Fund climbing

ROGER MAXWELL, right, and Myron D. Johnson, show the Rotary Club "Swimming Pool Fund" graph, which indicates the $18,000 mark is nearly reached. They solicit aid of the entire county and friends to send donations and pledges as soon as possible in order to reach the necessary $24,000 local fund goal.

Shoshone swim pool funds grow

SHOSHONE—The Lincoln County swimming pool fund is nearing the $18,000 mark since the latest canvass and coffee-hour Thursday.

Myron D. Johnson, Rotary Club chairman of the drive, said about $800 was raised during the Thursday night canvass, but that more support is yet desired to reach a $24,000 goal necessary.

In order to secure matching federal and state funds to guarantee construction of the pool, the local limit of $24,000 must be met in the very near future.

The coffee hour was held at the Manhattan Cafe with waitresses there baking the cookies served. A total of $125 was cleared at the coffee hour.

Probe sought on mining claims in western states

WASHINGTON—The U.S. Justice Department Friday was asked to investigate the activities of Merle Zweifel, a land speculator from Oklahoma, who is filing mining claims in the Rocky Mountain States.

Sen. James A. McClure, R-Idaho, said in a letter to Attorney General designate Elliott Richardson "a resolution of this situation is of the utmost importance to the people of Idaho and surrounding states."

McClure also said he will seek a congressional investigation if a federal probe is warranted by the U.S. Attorney General.

In the letter, McClure noted Zweifel has allegedly filed mining claims in the Rocky Mountain States in excess of two million acres.

"I would ask that an investigation be opened to determine whether or not federal land violations have been committed by this individual or his agents," McClure said.

According to McClure an investigation on the federal level is warranted because Zweifel or his corporation "has been operating in interstate commerce in seeking 'colocators' to buy into speculative claims, and since Mr. Zweifel is using the U.S. patents and since he is dealing with claims on public lands

1971 Eldorado 1973 Sedan deVille 1969 Coupe deVille

Own a Cadillac? Of course you can!

Right now, you could be very, very close to the special pleasures of Cadillac ownership. Because right now there exists a very special set of circumstances favoring the person who longs to be a Cadillac owner.

It begins with the beautiful new 1973 Cadillacs themselves. These cars are the finest ever built by Cadillac—reflected by the fact that the '73 Sedan deVille, shown above, has already established itself as the single most popular luxury car in automotive history.

There are nine great '73 Cadillacs from which to choose. And right now, your Cadillac dealer can probably supply just the model you want... just the way you want it.

If a new Cadillac is not yet in your plans, consider the pleasure of driving a Cadillac of another year. The great demand for new Cadillacs has made a number of beautiful previously-owned cars available. Like the 1971 Eldorado or 1969 Coupe deVille, shown above.

It's true. A Cadillac of any recent year will likely have more luxury, more convenience features, more power equipment than you'll find on many of today's new cars.

For a lot of reasons, there couldn't be a better time to visit your authorized Cadillac dealer than right now.

First choose Cadillac... then choose the year.

Fire district stores

2 trucks in Shoshone

SHOSHONE — Clarification is given by R. B. Kelley regarding ownership of fire trucks by the Wood River Fire Protection District.

The district owns three trucks, one located at Palmer's Service northwest of Shoshone, and two stored in the city of Shoshone.

The trucks, though owned by the district, are ordinarily operated by city volunteer firemen, who are in turn compensated by the district. The fire district receives money from a four mill levy which is paid only by property owners in the Wood River Fire Protection District.

The city of Shoshone owns two fire trucks, one kept on each side of the railroad tracks. Since the tracks run through the center of town and a long freight train might delay a truck arriving at the scene of a fire in time, this method is considered advisable.

There are enough volunteer firemen to guarantee necessary crews in event there are fires in Shoshone and the rural area at the same time.

FCC announces new TV, radio station rules

WASHINGTON (UPI) — Radio and television stations every 15 days how to submit comments or criticism about programming, the Federal Communications Commission (FCC) announced Friday.

In a package of new rules, the FCC said broadcasters also must run a schedule of announcements notifying the public six months before their licenses expire.

Four months before the license expires, the FCC said, a station must notify the government if it intends to seek renewal. The current requirement is three months.

This longer time period, the commission said, will give community groups an opportunity to "discuss any problems with the licensees and, if desired, to file timely applications to deny."

The FCC originally proposed that the announcements inviting public comment be aired on prime time every eight days. But the final order made it every 15 days with prime time announcements only once every 30 days.

FCC Commissioner Nicholas Johnson described the new rules a "tiny gesture" toward reforming the license renewal process. He said the FCC's failure to increase the number of announcements inviting criticism before a license expires "represents an attempt by the commission to keep such public participation to an absolute minimum."

The rules also require television stations to place their public inspection file a list of significant problems and needs of their areas and examples of programs which they aired to meet those needs. The stations also will have to keep records of what time of day they run public service announcements.

Jerome junior high choruses perform

JEROME — The Jerome Junior High School choruses will present a special concert May 10 at 8 p.m. in the junior high auditorium.

It will be a pro-festival concert to help raise money to defray the expenses of the district music festival May 12 in Murtaugh which the Jerome students will be participating in.

"A small admission charge will be made to the public to help pay the $156 festival entry fee," Mrs. Jo Premos, music director, said.

Those performing will include the seventh-eighth grade boys chorus, girls chorus and the freshman chorus, who will be performing some of the selections they will present at the festival.

Selected soloists and ensembles who will be competing at the festival will also present selections.

The freshman chorus is under the direction of Carson Wang.

Tax exemptions due May 15 in Lincoln

SHOSHONE — Residents of Lincoln County are reminded that May 15 is the deadline for widows, disabled veterans and retired persons over 65 to apply for property tax exemptions at the assessor's office.

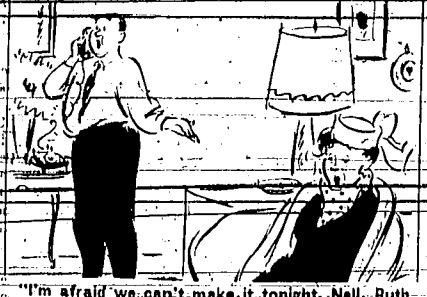

Assessor Sanford Connell said widows and disabled veterans need not apply each year but persons 65 and over are required to fill out an application form annually.

Widows and disabled veterans who have never applied before must meet with the county commissioners after acquiring an appointment through the assessor's office.

Murder charges filed in deaths

SWANSBORO, N.C. (UPI) — Murder charges were filed Saturday against a Swansboro man following a shootout that claimed two lives, wounded two officers and left two women hostages shaken by a wild, gun-blazing police chase.

Authorities said Glen Glancy, 29, a former cab driver, emptied two pistols and a shotgun before five law officers captured him on a dead-end road.

Glancy was charged with killing his brother, William T. Glancy, 24, and Edward L. Steigerwald Sr., a neighbor who happened on the scene.

Sheriff Tom Marshall said the two-hour episode began when the two brothers had an argument at the victim's home Friday night.

Following the quarrel, Marshall said, Glancy went to his father's house, picked up a pistol and shotgun and returned to his brother's house.

His sister-in-law, Patricia Glancy, fled the house as her husband fell dead from shotgun blasts. Her son escaped by diving out a bedroom window.

Marshall said Mrs. Glancy was taken hostage, along with Bonnie Hatchel, 14, who was in a grocery store Glancy allegedly tried to rob. Another person in the store, Jimmy Odum, managed to get to a phone and call police and state trooper James Taylor gave chase.

With Mrs. Glancy driving, Taylor said Glancy fired at him with the bullets striking the patrol car on the left door and fender.

When the suspect's car turned around, young Odum whipped his car into its path, forcing Glancy to turn around again with the trooper still in pursuit.

Glancy's car was finally chased down a dead-end, landfill road leading to his father's house. Several other patrol cars arrived and Steigerwald, who was standing near his truck, was warned to take cover.

But Glancy, with both women at his side, bounded out of the car with guns blazing, shooting Steigerwald four times and spraying the patrol cars with bullets and buckshot.

He emptied both weapons before lawmen pounced on him.

Deputy Paul Buchanan was treated for minor buckshot wounds of the face and arm and Swansboro detective Jerry Reed suffered a minor finger wound.

The hostages escaped unharmed.

Sen. Long's aide told sweet truth

MEXICO, Mo. (UPI) — Helen Dunlop, secretary and companion to former Sen. Edward V. Long, D-Mo., was telling the truth when she said long told her shortly before his death that he had been poisoned by candy, according to results of a lie detector test released Saturday.

The test results were released by Miss Dunlop's attorney, Jerome W. Stegried, with her permission.

She had taken the test April 26, shortly after she told authorities about Long's statement about the candy. Thomas Osborne, Audrain County prosecuting attorney and investigator in the case, revealed the results of the test in a letter to Miss Dunlop.

Months after Long's death, Miss Dunlop had told authorities that Long told her he had received the poison candy in the mail.

Long died Nov. 6 and the death certificate, signed by Pike County Coroner J. O. Mudd, listed cause of death as a stroke.

Long's body was exhumed Thursday and an autopsy was performed to determine the cause of his death. Dr. George Gantner, St. Louis County medical examiner, said results of the autopsy were not expected until the middle of next week.

A large pituitary tumor revealed by the autopsy could conceivably have caused his death, authorities said. The tumor had been discovered at Walter Reed Medical Hospital in 1967 but doctors at the autopsy were said to be shocked at its size.

In the letter from Osborne to Miss Dunlop the following transcript of the lie detector test was included:

"Q. Did someone suggest that you make up the poisoned candy story?"

"A. No."

"Q. Did you fabricate the story about the poisoned candy?"

"A. No."

"Q. Did Senator Long tell you he thought he had been poisoned?"

"A. Yes."

"Q. Is your statement to (Missouri Highway Patrol) Sgt. Barnett the truth concerning the poisoned candy?"

"A. Yes."

"Q. Are you now withholding any information whatsoever about the cause of Senator Long's death?"

"A. No."

In the letter Osborne said, "In the opinion of Cpl. George Payne of the Missouri State Highway Patrol, your responses as shown on the polygraph charts were those of a truthful person."

Long's widow, Florence S. Long, gave her permission for the exhumation of the body. They were separated at the time of Long's death and he had rewritten his will shortly before he died, leaving only $10 each to his wife and their daughter and the bulk of his estate, estimated at $2 million, to his granddaughter.

Mrs. Long has filed a $3.25 million allegation of affection suit against Miss Dunlop, charging that she "carnally" knew Long.

THE GREAT AMERICAN APPETITE.

America has a tremendous appetite. Not just for food, but for the natural resources that produce energy — gas and petroleum.

And we're running short of them, because the country is growing so fast, and using up its currently available resources even faster. People call it the Energy Crisis, and the current gasoline shortage is part of that crisis.

WHAT AMOCO IS DOING ABOUT THE SHORTAGE.

We want you to know that we're doing all we can to get as much gasoline to you as possible. In fact, we're making more gasoline than ever before in our history, up 15% in the last two years.

Amoco refineries are running at over 95% of capacity (the practical maximum with available crude). This is well above the industry average.

What's more, our refinery through-put is up about 100,000 barrels a day since 1971. And we're now importing more foreign crude than in any other time in our history. Even though foreign crude is becoming more and more difficult to get.

Also, we want you to know we're working on new refining and conversion processes and new pipeline capabilities that will increase our output even more. And we're intensifying our search for crude oil to supply our refineries. This year, Amoco and its affiliates will spend more on expansion, exploration and crude oil production than in any year before.

We wish we could say we'll solve the problem soon — and all by ourselves. But we can't do it alone. We need everyone's help: In the oil industry. In business. In government. And in every walk of American life.

WHAT YOU CAN DO.

If every American used just one gallon of gasoline less every week, there wouldn't be a shortage.

And there are many ways you can cut back. Walk a little more. Many times you can walk to the store when you have small purchases to make.

Form car pools. You and your neighbors probably go to a lot of the same places separately. Why not go together? To work. To the train. Even to meetings, parties and get-togethers.

Combine trips. Plan ahead so you don't have to make separate trips to the cleaners, and the drug store, and the grocery store.

Keep your car in top shape. A poorly tuned engine can reduce your gas mileage up to 10%.

Slow down. If you drive 50 miles an hour instead of 60, you can save about one gallon in ten. And take it easy when you start up. Jackrabbit starts eat up gasoline, too.

In summary, the gasoline shortage is no one individual's fault, but a combination of events. And it's up to all of us to find the solutions. And effect them.

Brokerage firm files Utah suit

LOGAN (UPI) — A Florida brokerage firm filed suit Friday in First District Court against Utah State University and former investment officer, Donald Catron, in an attempt to recover some of nearly $2 million it invested for USU in the stock market.

The First Equity Corporation filed suit claiming it will be damaged because of the funds it invested for USU without prior payment by the university.

The suit lists five companies in which the Tampa, Florida, brokers invested a total of more than $1,943,000 beginning last fall and through February.

Mark Madsen, of the Utah attorney general's office, said, "We were expecting this litigation, and it is no surprise."

When asked about the suit, he said, "There are certain regulations of the Federal Reserve Board and the Securities Exchange Commission which we think do not require us to pay for stocks or to accept delivery in view of the circumstances of these particular stocks and these deliveries."

The funds the firm put into five stocks are part of an investment program which abruptly ended in March after investigations of the state attorney general's office.

The nearly $2 million invested by the First Equity Corporation forms a portfolio of speculative stocks allegedly purchased by Catron without the knowledge of the University Investment Council, an organization which oversees university investment programs.

The portfolio is a part of an overall program which involved from $6 to $9 million and which was praised as a profit-raising venture in December. At that time the attorney general ordered the university to halt its stock market investment dealings.

The brokerage firm invested funds for USU in Great Basin Petroleum, Computing the Software (now known as Codura Corporation), Anntones Company, Panelrama and Advanced Memory Systems.

The firm has already succeeded in selling 3,000 of 5,000 Advanced Memory shares.

The firm charges that "USU is in breach thereof in that it has, despite repeated demands, refused to pay the plaintiff either the purchase prices for Advanced Memory shares or the applicable and customary commission in connection therewith."

The suit will attempt to get a decision from USU on Catron. In either case the suit asks relief in the amounts equal to the difference of $111,250 as the purchase price of the Advanced Memory stock and the total amount gained in the sale of the stock, $87 in commission on Advanced Memory stock and $12,134.15 in commissions involving shares purchased in the other four firms.

'Dare to be Great' offers settlement

PITTSBURGH (UPI) — Glenn Turner, a Florida sales-consultant whose dealings have led to millions of dollars in litigation, has offered to settle the nationwide claims against him for $3 million.

An estimated 75,000 persons have filed claims against Turner on grounds he defrauded them through a series of schemes involving Glenn W. Turner Enterprises, Inc.; Dare to be Great, Inc.; Kibscot Interplanetary, Inc.; and several subsidiaries.

Attorney Howard A. Spector of Pittsburgh, assigned to the case by Federal Judge Gerald J. Webster to negotiate a possible settlement with Turner, said the $3 million would be put into a court-controlled escrow account with 60 days if the claimants agree to accept it.

Spector said Turner made the new cash proposal because an offer last March involving the exchange of $1.7 million in securities was too "complex."

The earlier proposal involved the transfer of most of Turner's remaining assets to a West Indies firm which in turn would have issued stock to the claimants.

The new proposal and the forms necessary for claimants to participate in the settlement will be mailed to all claimants by June 1.

Idahoans' personal pay up

BOISE — Idahoans' personal income for January showed the largest percentage increase over year-ago figures of any state in the nation.

According to the April "Economic Indicators" issued by the Idaho Department of Employment, personal income for Idaho reached $250 million in January 1973, a gain of 2.2 per cent over January 1972. The bulletin said this was the largest gain of any of the states.

Taken as a group, five economic indicators used to measure the health of the state's economy fell off by 60 percentage points (from 80 to 20 per cent on a diffusion basis) from February to March.

Despite the drop, the bulletin said the figures showed "no definite trend for the months ahead." The index normally fluctuates widely from month to month.

Of the five leading indicators only Daily Average Non-Agricultural Placements increased from February to March — by 55 per cent.

Of the four which dropped, Non-Residential Building Permits fell by 68 per cent to $995,000, the smallest figure since September, 1972. Weekly Average Initial Claims for unemployment benefits rose by 17.9 per cent to 1056; Average Manufacturing Workweek fell by 8 tenths of a percentage point to 38.2 hours, and Residential Building Permits declined 36.6 per cent to 2,438.

A second series of 15 "coinciding and selected" indicators used to measure economic trends declined, as a group, by 7 percentage points from February to March, but the bulletin noted that "still there appears to be an upward trend for the index."

The decline in the selected series was caused by fall-offs in New Car Registrations and Food and Kindred Products Employment. All other indicators either increased or held stable.

New car registrations, the bulletin said, were over 2,000 for the first two months of 1973, but dropped 34 per cent in March to 1,525. Food and kindred product employment fell by 2.7 per cent from February to March to 142,000.

Another indicator, Bank Debits — which are computed only for the Boise metropolitan area — reached their highest level ever in March, $731.7 million. This was a jump of 29.7 per cent over March 1972 and an increase of 9.6 per cent over February 1973, the bulletin said.

Demo backs Viet vets

WASHINGTON (UPI) — Sen. George S. McGovern, D-S.D., contending that tight-fisted administration policies have made Vietnam veterans "prisoners of peace," offered five bills today to improve the lot of the three million men who served in the Vietnam war.

In a speech prepared for delivery in the Senate, McGovern accused President Nixon of indifference to veterans. McGovern recalled that, two weeks before the election last November, Nixon signed bills improving educational grants for veterans, but two months after the election Nixon impounded $50 million in funds for part-time jobs for veterans and asked Congress to rescind a $50 million program to encourage colleges to admit Vietnam veterans. "There is a discordant note amid the cheers and accolades for our prisoners of war," McGovern said. "The peace with honor we hear so much about appears more and more to have left tens of thousands of other veterans prisoners of peace."

His bills, which McGovern's office said have been endorsed by six veterans groups, would: — Create a veterans' task force composed entirely of Vietnam veterans to discuss all veterans programs; — Provide direct VA payment for tuition books and fees similar to the World War II GI Bill of Rights — which helped pay for McGovern's education — instead of the current flat payment of $1,980 a year; — Permit a veteran to draw his full 36-month educational entitlement in a shorter period so he can earn a degree in less than four academic years; — Remove from discharge papers given veterans the code numbers which McGovern said employers have learned to interpret.

TF man directs NW commission

BOISE — Scott Brown, Twin Falls, has been named director of the Pacific Northwest Regional Commission, Gov. Cecil D. Andrus reported today.

In addition, Andrus reported studies are underway by the commission to define solid waste disposal alternatives for some demonstration areas on the Washington-Idaho and Oregon-Idaho borders, plus an investigation on a regional policy on log exports.

Andrus is opposed to export of logs from the northwest. "Brown leaves the job" of community development specialist for the University of Idaho agricultural extension service. He had been stationed in Twin Falls.

GOP study unit checks possible group changes

by DAVID ESPINO
Times-News writer
TWIN FALLS — A seven-member Republican study committee is looking into possible changes in Idaho's political party central committees.

She said the panel was authorized by the party's executive committee meeting several days ago, and directed to study the current apportionment of central committees.

His suggestion would have given greater representation to the legislative districts at the county's expense. At the time, Lincoln said the proposal would extend "one-man-one-vote" to the party process.

According to Orritto-Sinclair, Twin Falls, Idaho Republican National Committeewoman and head of the group, recommendations for changes in the current setup will be made to the state Republican central committee meeting in October.

Memberships on the committees is authorized for 44 county chairmen, 44 county committeemen and 44 county committeewomen, and 36 legislative district chairmen, Mrs. Sinclair said, as well as 34 youth committee persons.

Two of the lawmakers who opposed the bill in committee have been named to the study group.

Critics of the setup have claimed it favors sparsely populated counties over legislative districts, which have been apportioned on the basis of population.

Rep. Ray Lincoln, R-Twin Falls, proposed changes in the law during the last session of the legislature, but the measure never came to a vote.

Any changes in the central committee apportionment must be made by the legislature.

Break-in probed

JEROME — Jerome chief of police Howard Dufois said today that several vandals broke into the Jerome Junior High School over the weekend. Yellow and blue paint was sprayed over the walls, also on several automobiles in Jerome, he said. Dufois asked for the assistance of Jerome residents who may have any knowledge about the vandalism.

Search continues

BOISE (UPI) — The search for two Idaho State Penitentiary inmates expanded to two states but the two men remained the object of a search this morning. Monte Dean Dryden, 19, Burley, Idaho, and Russell George Slowe, Jr., 19, Wenatchee, Wash., walked away from the Eagle Island Prison Farm Saturday night. The search expanded to Oregon and Washington Sunday and an all-points bulletin was issued for Idaho a spokesman for the prison said this morning.

Commander named

MOUNTAIN HOME, Idaho (UPI) — Col. Howard W. Teal has been named commander of the 366th Tactical Fighter Wing at Mountain Home Air Force Base. Teal will replace Col. Raymond R. Clark, who will become commander of the 327th Air Division at Tule Lake Air Station, Taiwan.

MH vote set

MOUNTAIN HOME, Idaho (UPI) — Mountain Home School District voters are to decide a $2.65 million bond issue Tuesday, and if passed it would provide funding for a new high school. Board of trustees chairman Alton Hurris said the bond issue could be repaid over a 20-year period with a six mill tax increase. Superintendent of schools Jack Kanes said the present high school cannot adequately meet student needs. He estimates enrollment will increase by 100 students each year for the next five years.

Drugs confiscated

CALDWELL (UPI) — Law enforcement officers confiscated $2,000 worth of heroin, $3,000 in cash and arrested 10 persons at three residences during a 12-hour narcotics raid Sunday. Canyon County Sheriff George Nourse said officers also seized two cars in the raids, which ended about 11 p.m. He said authorities hit a Caldwell residence and homes southwest and east of Wilder.

Over 400 people in the Filer, Hollister and Clover areas have been invited to the event. From left are Mrs. Tom Sharp, Mrs. Don Puder and Mrs. Fred Decker.

Jerome officers raid beer party

JEROME — Officers raided a large beer party Saturday night, arresting five of 105 participants.

Minidoka and Cassia counties. "One of the youths arrested escaped and will be charged with escaping," Hall said.

Jerome county sheriff Elva Hall said his department received a tip early Saturday that there was going to be a large beer party Saturday night west of the Kasota Road in Jerome County.

"We expect to make more arrests as the investigation continues. So far we are not sure if the beer confiscated was bought or stolen or who it belongs to," Hall said.

When we arrived at the scene there were over 105 youths and... adults. Five juveniles, but no adults were arrested, and eleven kegs of beer in an old truck were confiscated, Hall said.

He said that none of the cars at the party whose license plate numbers were recorded was from Jerome County.

Assisting were Cassia and Minidoka County sheriffs departments, Burley police, members of the state alcoholic safety patrol and the local state liquor law and criminal investigator, Edward Robinson.

Camas, Shoshone vote today on override levies

2 MV counties vote on levies

FAIRFIELD — Voters in two Magic Valley school districts voted today on override tax levies.

A simple majority of voters for approval. Shoshone school district patrons will also decide a mill levy override today.

Camas County residents are voting today on five-mill override levy for the school district. Polls there will be open until 7 p.m. at Camas County High School, according to Supt. Harold Stroud.

The 2.5 mill proposal will raise approximately $11,750 and provide 10 per cent salary increases to teachers and non-certified personnel, according to Supt. Kenneth Crothers.

Stroud said the levy will provide a 9.5 per cent raise for teachers and non-certified school personnel. A home economics program will also be added with the $18,500 raised by the levy, he said.

Polls will be open at Shoshone High School until 7 p.m. Crothers said the mill override will not increase the general fund levy since the last state legislature cut three mills from the current 30 mill limit levied by the district.

If the levy proposal is defeated, "It's a cinch we won't be able to add the home economics program" and the salary raises might be cut back, Stroud said.

The district has never voted a mill override, Crothers said.

The district has passed five mill override levies for the past two years. The measure takes

If the measure is defeated, the school district might have to cut the pay increases to five per cent, Crothers added.

Remade state agency awaits regional head

(Continued from p. 1) In the interim, the position is being filled by David Humphrey, a former Department of Social and Rehabilitation service division administrator.

In addition, the DECS has responsibility for Youth Rehabilitation, the Child Development Center program, the Work Incentive Program, and the Adult Development Center.

Installed in the former hospital facility. Frank had previously said the hospital could be used for a satellite child development center as well as a program for the handicapped.

Aside from Humphrey, Harold Smith, whose name appears on a statewide organization chart as welfare officer, has been appointed liaison with the regional office for reorganization.

Currently, according to Humphrey, "any big program changes are three to six months off."

Aside from the social programs, little has been done, thus far, Humphrey said, to combine any environmental protection services into the regional setup.

Both Humphrey and Smith say they are not being considered for the permanent administrator's position.

He said that included previously announced plans for bringing state programs to the Gooding Tuberculosis Hospital. The state legislature transferred the vacant facility to SRS control last winter after Dr. John Marks, former commissioner of SRS and Donat Frank, former Regional SRS Regional director said they thought the facility could be put to use for programs.

He said some state environmental staff personnel were working in the area, but they had not yet been brought under DECS Regional control.

Smith is currently commuting to Twin Falls once a week, and occasionally more often, according to Humphrey, to assist with the transition of the new department.

But Marks is leaving state government, he announced this week after the new statewide organization chart omitted his name, and Frank has taken a job in north Idaho with DECS, and Humphrey indicated this week it would be several weeks before a program can be

To assist with a number of the programs regionally, an assistant attorney general's office has also been opened in conjunction with the DECS office.

Smith, Humphrey and other officials are trying to smooth reorganization for a department that currently has responsibility for the former local SRS offices in Twin Falls, Burley, Rupert, Jerome, Gooding, and Halley.

Paul Smith, the assistant attorney general in charge of the office, said his main function is to initiate court action to enforce collection of child support payments, to investigate and prosecute fraud, and to provide general legal advice to the region.

Russ wheat needs less than in 1972

WASHINGTON (UPI) — The latest look at Russia's grain prospects provides a strong hint the Russians are doing better, and will still need to buy from the United States about half what they bought in the past marketing year.

The Foreign Agriculture Service of the Agriculture Department said today "with normal weather during the summer and fall of 1972, the 1973-74 (marketing year) demand should increase enough to mean sizable purchases of grain, although the increase will not be quite so high as during the current year, when grain is needed to replace non-grain feed crops."

The report said the Soviets bought 28 million tons of grain from all sources last year, with delivery spaced out and occurring mostly in the current marketing year.

"Current crop prospects and shipping information indicate the Soviets may take in 1973-74 about half the quantities purchased in 1972-73," the report said. Current world grain prices, however, would tend to point to a larger proportion of corn than in 1972-73.

It is too early for a good forecast of the Soviet crop, but that government has set a goal of a record 197.4 million tons, or 18 per cent above last year's crop. The problems that could water down that goal include a poor winter snow cover and acreage somewhat lower than projected.

Weather has been rather good for grains recently, however, the report said.

As for the purchases from other countries, it said, "The expectation of purchase has been strengthened by trade reports from Europe that the Soviets recently chartered large numbers of third-country vessels suitable for carrying grain."

"The reports indicate the Soviets recently obtained time charters for the next 18 months to 20 months giving them the use of vessels capable of carrying an estimated total of six million tons of grain on annual basis. This tonnage is in addition to that to be carried on time charters obtained earlier, as well as that to be carried on U.S.-flag and Soviet flag vessels."

The Foreign Agricultural Service said as of April 20, over half the 19.2 million tons of U.S. grain and soybeans that Russia bought in the past year had been shipped. Shipments totaled nearly 10 million tons as of that date. The price will increase in view of the early opening of the St. Lawrence Seaway, it said.

In the past month, the Russians have bought considerably more grain, the service said. Purchases totaled around 4.6 million tons, some for delivery in the coming 12 months and some for delivery in the marketing year following that. The recent purchases included some 500,000 tons of French barley and about two million tons of Canadian grains — wheat and barley.

The USSR has two parallel trends for the coming year in their livestock program, the service said. Building up herds and producing less meat than had been the goal previously.

The signal those trends give to America is that "demand for livestock feed should again be high in 1973-74," the service said.

Agency wants to de-emphasize two features of food price reporting

WASHINGTON (UPI) — The agriculture Department is quietly trying to de-emphasize two key features of a report which has been providing the government's only one-package monthly summary of trends in retail food prices, middlemen's margins and farmers' returns for food.

In place of this single package look at the three major food factors carried by the department's monthly "price spread" report, officials now want to use the publication to focus attention on only one of the factors — the middleman's charge for processing, shipping and retailing food.

Don Paarlberg, the department's director of economics, said anyone who wants retail price averages can get them in a regular monthly Consumer Price Index (CPI) report issued by the labor department's Bureau of Labor Statistics (BLS).

Similarly, Paarlberg said, anyone interested in farm prices can follow the mid-month report issued by the agriculture department on average prices of raw agricultural commodities. Paarlberg said the department's original intention in converting the "price spread" from an obscure quarterly publication to a widely publicized monthly report two years ago was to focus attention on what happens to food prices between the farm gate and the supermarket checkout counter.

He said the retail and farm elements of the report has been emphasized in media stories, "but we want to keep the (middleman) spread before the public and that's why we're making changes in the report."

When the monthly publication began, the reports were showing that increasing middlemen's margins were responsible for most changes in retail prices. Over the past year, however, rising farm prices have accounted for most of the hike in consumer prices, and the agriculture department has been criticized by some farmers for publishing the data.

Between March, 1972, and March, 1973, for example, the cost of a typical market basket rose from an annual rate of $1,301 to a new record of $1,458. The $158 increase included $143 attributed to higher farm prices and $14 to bigger middlemen's margins. This ran counter to the trend of the past two decades in which marketing costs rose much faster than farm prices.

In an attempt to shift the focus of the "price spread" report, the agriculture department now has eliminated all reference to the retail cost of the market basket. Publication of dollar estimates was halted last November, and a remaining note on the percentage change was eliminated from the March issue which appeared last Monday.

Field day set at Dubois soon

DUBOIS — The U.S. Sheep Experiment Station Field Day will commence with registration at 9 a.m. May 18 at the station headquarters about six miles north of Dubois.

The morning program beginning at 9:30 a.m. features sheep research results which will be presented by the U.S. Sheep Experiment Station Staff.

Other featured speakers for the program include remarks by Dr. Jack McCroskey, head, department of animal science, University of Idaho, Moscow; also Roy Harniss, range conservationist of the U.S. Forest Service, Logan, Utah, and Dr. Floyd Frank, head, veterinary science department, University of Idaho, Moscow, who will present interesting research on sheep diseases obtained through cooperation with this station.

Lunch will be served at the station at noon.

Highlights of the afternoon program starting at 1 p.m. will include exhibits and demonstrations of research in sheep diseases, wool production, reproductive physiology, animal breeding and artificial rearing.

The public is welcome to attend, according to Dr. Donald A. Price, director of the U.S. Sheep Experiment Station.

Leafhoppers abundant

MOSCOW — Spring weather conditions in the range areas have produced an abundance of beet leafhopper host plants.

A report from the cooperative extension service of the University of Idaho said the spring adult populations are sub-economic in the combined breeding areas, averaging 31 per 100 square feet, as compared with 7 per 100 square feet in 1972, 34 in 1971, 28 in 1970, 60 in 1969 and 42 in 1968. Fifty beet leafhoppers per 100 square feet is considered economic.

Borderline economic populations were found in the Indian Cave, Brown's Gulch and Grindstone Butte areas, all in the Suller Creek survey district.

No chemical control is anticipated at this time. However, nymphal surveys will be made to monitor populations in the borderline areas listed above.

Athletics sweep pair from Indians 12-0, 7-3

CLEVELAND (UPI) — Two run homers by Deron Johnson and Sal Bando and Gene Tenace's eighth homer this season backed up the six-hit pitching of Vida Blue Sunday afternoon to give the Oakland A's a 7-3 victory over the Cleveland Indians.

Ken Holtzman tossed a five-hitter and Bert Campaneris and Bill North each drove in three runs as the A's banded out 18 hits in breezing to a 12-0 victory in the opener.

The Indians grab together four singles to get a 3-0 lead in the second inning of the nightcap against Blue but the A's pushed across four runs in the third on a two-run double by Reggie Jackson and Johnson's homer.

Tenace led off the fourth with a blast into the left field stands.

After Jackson walked to open the eighth, Ray Lamb replaced Cleveland starter and loser Brent Strom. Johnson fled out and Bando followed with his sixth homer of the season over the right-center field fence.

Blue, making his first start since April 21, struck out four and walked one in boosting his record to 2-1 while Strom is now 1-2.

Johnson, a designated hitter who was picked up by Oakland from the Philadelphia Phillies last Wednesday, banded off eight hits in 10 at bats and drove in seven runs in the four game series.

Errors by right fielder Rusty Torres and shortstop Leo Cardenas opened the door to five Oakland runs in the first two innings of the opener and the A's then made it a rout.

Holtzman boosted his record to 5-2 while lowering his era to 1.43.

Campaneris hit a two-run triple in the second inning to knock out Cleveland starter Dick Tidrow and walked with the bases-loaded in the third.

North drove in his first American League run with a single in the second and added run-scoring singles in the seventh and eighth innings. Joe Rudi belted his fourth home run of the season into the right field stands in the fourth.

Tidrow, who blanked the A's on two hits April 25, lasted only 13 innings and was tagged for five runs on five hits in seven decisions.

Coach tries to make peace

TRYING TO GET in between San Francisco Giants right fielder Bobby Bonds (R) and Cubs pitcher Jack Aker (L) is Chicago Cubs coach Pete Reiser during the fourth inning which saw both teams pour out on the field for the free-for-all. Reiser collapsed after possibly getting hit by mistake and had to be carried from the field. (UPI Telephoto).

Giants defeat Chicago twice

SAN FRANCISCO (UPI) — Young Jim Willoughby, with ninth-inning relief help from Elias Hosa and Sam McDowell, beat the Chicago Cubs 4-3 in the second game to give the Giants a sweep of a Sunday doubleheader.

The Giants won the four hour, six minute first game 11-9 on a 12th inning homer by Bobby Bonds. The game was delayed during the fourth inning when a free-for-all erupted at home-plate.

Willoughby, 24, scattered 10 hits through the first eight innings. Hosa retired the first two Chicago batters in the ninth inning and McDowell was called in to get pinch-hitter Jim Hickman for the final out.

Chris Speier drove in two runs for San Francisco with a single and triple. His triple highlighted a fifth inning two-run burst. Bonds scored on the triple and Dave Kingman then single to score Speier with what proved to be the winning run.

The Cubs scored their first run in the second on a single by Jose Cardenal and a double by Ken Rudolph.

A two-run pinch homer by Adrian Garrett accounted for the final two Chicago runs in the seventh inning.

Willoughby now has a 3-2 record for the season while losing pitcher Larry Gura is 1-1.

The first game was marred by a fourth-inning brawl that got four participants ejected and left three in the hospital.

The freeup was touched off in the third inning when Giants pitcher Jim Barr hit Chicago third baseman Ron Santo with a pitch following a three-run homer by Joe Peitzone.

Cub pitcher Milt Pappas retaliated, hitting Barr on the elbow with a pitch when he batted in the fourth inning.

Padres topple Pittsburgh 8-0

SAN DIEGO (UPI) — Mike Caldwell laced in a two-hitter and his San Diego teammates worked over four Pittsburgh hurlers for a season high of 16 hits, including home runs by Johnny Grubb and Clarence Gaston, as the Padres pounded the Pirates 8-0 Sunday afternoon.

The Padre southpaw, who pitched his first complete game since Sept. 7, 1972, and the first by a Padre in 16 games, allowed only two singles as Caldwell permitted only one runner to get as far as second base and retired the last 16 batters in a row.

It was his first win of the year after three setbacks.

Bob Moose, 22, was the loser, going out as a pinch-hitter in the third inning after giving up four runs and eight hits.

The shutout was the third in Caldwell's three-year career and the first sustained by the usually heavy-hitting pirates this season.

The Padres jumped on Moose for six hits and a pair of runs in the first inning and added two more in the second to give Caldwell a 4-0 lead.

Enzo Hernandez and Grubb opened the San Diego first with singles to put runners on first and third. Hernandez scored when Leron Lee grounded out and Nate Colbert's double drove in Grubb in the second inning. Caldwell singled and came home ahead of Grubb on Grubb's first Major League homer.

Houston defeats Mets 14-8

NEW YORK (UPI) — Luf May hit a grand slam home run in a seven run seventh inning rally and Bob Watson had four hits including a three-run homer to power the Houston Astros to a 14-8 rout of the New York Mets for their eighth straight victory.

Baltimore shuts out Angels

BALTIMORE (UPI) — Catcher Earl Williams drove across three runs to back the five-hit pitching of Jim Palmer Sunday afternoon as the Baltimore Orioles snapped a five-game losing streak by shutting out the California Angels 5-0.

Hitting lets Texas top Tigers

DETROIT (UPI) — Toby Harrah batted in four runs with a single and a triple and Alex Johnson drove in three with a home run and a single Sunday to power the Texas Rangers past the Detroit Tigers 9-2.

Rich Hand gave up six of his eight hits in the first three innings but settled down to post his second victory in three decisions.

In the first-inning, Harrah singled in Dave Nelson, who had singled and taken second on a passed ball, before coming in himself on Johnson's second home run of the season that made it 3-0.

Pro Wood hurls Chicago past Yanks 11-2

CHICAGO (UPI) — Willie Wood, who has not lost to New York since July 18, 1972, was lunched for 10 hits but beat the Yankees for the seventh straight time Sunday in pitching the Chicago White Sox to an 11-2 triumph for the team's ninth consecutive victory.

Wood, who raised his record to 7-2 while becoming the first seven-game winner in the majors, has now won his last seven and his earned run average remains an amazing 1.43.

The Sox rapped out 17 hits including 16 singles and a triple off Yankees' starter Steve Kline and reliever Jim Magnuson, and Chicago put the game away in the sixth inning by scoring five times on the strength of seven singles.

The Sox as a team are now batting .307 and against the Yankees the Sox are hitting a Chicago's Bill Melton drove in four runs with three singles, including two in the first inning when the Sox loaded the bases with nobody out.

Pat Kelly, who collected three hits, increased his league-leading batting average to a lofty .463.

BLOOMINGTON, Minn. (UPI) — Larry Hise led off with a homer and Danny Thompson hit a two-run double to highlight a four-run fifth-inning Sunday as the Minnesota Twins snapped a 3-3 tie and went on to rout the Boston Red Sox 10-3.

New York City, which covers the 23 square miles of Manhattan Island, is the smallest county in the United States. Since 1624 about 3,650 acres of land or about one-quarter of Manhattan's area has been added by man as he filled bays and inlets. The World Almanac notes.

Two-hitter gives Dodgers victory

LOS ANGELES (UPI) — Al Downing pitched a two-hitter and Joe Ferguson belted his sixth home run of the season Sunday as the Los Angeles Dodgers made the most of four hits to beat the St. Louis Cardinals 3-0.

Improving his season's record to 3-1, Downing didn't give up a hit until Alan Foster singled up the middle with one out in the sixth inning. The only other St. Louis hit was a double by Ray Busse off the glove of shortstop Bill Russell to lead off the eighth.

The 31-year-old left-hander, who had a two-hitter in a 3-0 win over Houston last season, got all the offense he needed when Ferguson drove a 1-1 Foster changeup into the left field pavilion with one out in the second.

Downing struck out five and walked two as the Dodgers completed a three-game series sweep of the Cardinals with their eighth win in their last 10 starts.

Los Angeles scored an unearned run in the third inning when Russell got aboard on an error by shortstop Busse, was sacrificed to second by Downing, stole third and came home off Dave Laps's sacrifice fly to right.

Cincinnati blanks Montreal Expos

MONTREAL (UPI) — Johnny Bench drove in two runs with a sacrifice fly and his fifth homer of the season and Dave Concepcion homered and stole three bases Sunday afternoon as the Cincinnati Reds blanked the Montreal Expos 6-1 behind Roger Nelson's eight-hit pitching.

The win snapped Montreal's four-game winning streak.

The Reds took a 1-0 lead in the first inning when Concepcion singled, then stole second and third before Bench's sacrifice fly drove him home. Bench's home run came with nobody on in the seventh inning

Porter hits homer for Brewers win

MILWAUKEE (UPI) — Darrell Porter hit his second home run of the season in the eighth inning to break a 2-2 tie and give the Milwaukee Brewers a 3-2 victory over the Kansas City Royals Sunday afternoon.

Jerry Bell allowed the Royals just four hits in picking up his fourth win of the season against two defeats. Bell didn't give up a hit in the final 5-23 innings. Dick Drago allowed the Brewers just four hits but lost his second game against two wins.

The score was tied 2-2 and Drago had retired 10 Brewers in order when Porter's homer broke up the pitching duel.

The Royals took the lead on an unearned run in the second. Ed Kirkpatrick singled to extend his hitting streak to 13 games, then attempted to steal second. Porter's throw had him safe by several feet but Kirkpatrick kicked the ball out of second baseman Pedro Garcia's glove and Garcia was charged with the error. Lou Piniella then singled to make it 2-2.

In the fourth John Mayberry made it 2-0 when he stepped into a slider off Bell, then stood at the plate and watch it sail 380-feet into right field for his seventh homer.

Crampton captures Houston top prize

HOUSTON (UPI) — Australian Bruce Crampton fired an even-par 72 Sunday to win the $205,000 Houston open by one stroke and pass Jack Nicklaus to become the leading money winner on the tour this year.

Crampton, winning his third tournament of 1972, finished with an 11-under 277 on rounds of 72-66-67-72 over the par 36-36-72, 6905-yard Quail Valley Golf Club course.

Dave Stockton shot a 67 on the final round to move into second place at 278. Lanny Wadkins, trying for his second straight tour title, shot an even-par 72 to slip from second to third position at 281.

Wadkins, the tour's No. 4 money winner, birdied two holes on the front nine to stay within three strokes of Crampton, but he bogeyed Nos. 11 and 14 to drop out of contention.

Crampton appeared to have a one-sided victory assured with two holes to go, but he bogeyed the 17th hole while Stockton birdied both No. 17 and No. 18 to reduce a four-shot deficit to one stroke at the end.

Wadkins sank a 15-footer to birdie No. 3 and a 20-footer to birdie No. 7. He said the turning point in his chase of Crampton came on the eighth when he hit his tee shot two feet from the cup on the par-3 hole.

As he walked to the green he learned Crampton had hit his second shot in the water on No. 7 and thought he had a chance to pull within one stroke of the lead.

Neither Nicklaus nor Trevino were entered in Houston, although Trevino will rejoin the tour next week in Fort Worth after recovering from a shoulder muscle pull.

Crampton, a 17-year veteran of the tour, also moved into fifth place in career earnings with $945,121, passing Gary Player, who has $935,529. He trails only Nicklaus, Arnold Palmer, Billy Casper and Trevino.

Bob Goalby broke the course record Sunday with a 65, lowering the mark of 66 which came up in Dallas. That's another crown I've got my eye on.

Smith and Lutz advanced to the finals Saturday by defeating the Australian team of Rod Laver and Roy Emerson, 7-6, 7-6, 4-6, 7-6.

In the consolation round for a third place prize of $1,000, Laver and Emerson downed fellow Australians Ken Rosewall and Fred Stolle, 6-3, 6-3.

"We played very well as a team and my service was excellent," Lutz said after the match. "We know what each other of us was doing all the time and I guess you have to say it was one of our easiest wins of the entire tour."

Smith told newsmen, "We're happy to win the title and of course the money is an added bonus. That's the first doubles championship we've won and it goes without saying that's the best doubles match we've ever played."

Lutz has tendonitis in his right knee and took a week off before the tournament. Smith said, however, he felt his partner was in good shape.

"We both felt very good going into today's match and we were both very loose," he said. "We played a basic game of running and serving well. Now I can concentrate on the world's singles championship."

Golf winners are announced

TWIN FALLS — The Ladies Blue Lakes Invitational overall tournament winners are:

First place: Eve Camozzi, L. Børlase, M. Sommers, B. Shields. Second: R. Henry, J. Burgess, M. Elliott, V. Gustavson.

Winners on first 9 holes are first: R. Jenkins, A. Hewitt, J. Rountree. M. Thiel. Second place: A. Dodds, K. Erb, S. Richmond, L. Musters.

Second 9 hole: first: C. Everton, R. Stone, G. Thompson, P. Ballard. Tied for first: R. Carpenter and R. Parish, J. Bashell, and B. Kiehl.

Third 9 holes: flat: J. Jones, M. McKenzie, D. Wilson, M. Jensen. Tied for second: M. Peterson, S. Soronson, L. Berrett, C. Ayres. 2nd group: E. Chris, M. Dirks, S. Robinson. 3rd group: G. Cosgriff, C. Martin, M. Arvaer, and E. Kerns.

But Wadkins missed his putt and Crampton salvaged his par on the seventh to keep the three-stroke margin.

Crampton birdied the first hole with an eight-foot putt, bogeyed No. 2 by missing a 30-inch putt and birdied No. 3 by sinking a 15-footer.

He bogeyed the 17th hole when he was long with his approach shot, and flubbed a pitch shot.

The $14,000 Crampton won pushed his money winnings to $153,562, which PGA officials said they thought was a record for this point on the tour.

Stockton made the tournament close by making a 20-foot putt on the 17th hole and knocking his approach shot on the final hole to within 2 1/2 feet of the cup.

Crampton, who has now finished in the top 10 eight times this year, passed Nicklaus, who was the leading money winner with $146,064, and Lee Trevino, who had $125,881.

Neither Nicklaus nor Trevino were entered in Houston, although Trevino will rejoin the tour next week in Fort Worth after recovering from a shoulder muscle pull.

Rankin captures tourney

RALEIGH (UPI) — Blonde Texan Judy Rankin fired an even par 72 Sunday for a 217 total to win the Raleigh Women's Golf Classic, beating Japanese golfer Chako Higuchi by two strokes.

The win earned Mrs. Rankin, 26, top prize of $4,500. The runnerup took $3,400.

The victory made Mrs. Rankin only the fourth champion in the eight-year history of the tournament. Kathy Whitworth and Carol Mann have both won three titles while Sandra Haynie has won one.

Miss Whitworth, only one stroke behind co-leaders Jo Ann Prentice and Mrs. Rankin after Saturday's second round in the 54-hole tournament, wound up with a fat 75 Sunday and tied Gull Denenberg for third at 221, five over par. Both collected $2,365.

Mrs. Rankin said her game was "steady" on the Raleigh Country Club's 6,300-yard course. She had a one-over 78 on the opening round and a par 72 Saturday.

Crampton, had established in the second round of the tournament. Goalby finished at two-under-par 282 to tie him for the 12th spot.

Former Masters champ Charles Coody and tour sophomore Leonard Thompson, finished in a tie for fourth with six-under 202s. It was the best finish of the year for Stockton, Coody and Thompson.

U.S. tries to clinch cage series

NEW YORK (UPI) — The United States, which still feels it has something to prove, goes after the clincher Monday night in its cross-country basketball series against the Soviet Union.

The Americans, still upset over their controversial one-point loss to the Russians in the Olympic basketball final at Munich last year, gained a 3-1 lead in the six-game series with an 83-75 victory at Indianapolis Saturday night.

With only two games left, the U.S. needs just one more victory to clinch the series.

All three American successes have been by comfortable margins. Even the eight-point difference of the fourth game is misleading since they led by as many as 22 points, at 66-44, in the second half before letting up.

Another consistent factor thus far has been the bone-crushing play at Indianapolis, for example, there were 85 fouls called, 43 on each team.

Don Behagen of Minnesota was allowed to play for a while with five personal fouls, which should have meant automatic expulsion before he was sent off the court.

It is the feeling of some of the Russians that the American desire for revenge of Munich has been responsible for the heavy play.

Guard Ernie DiGregorio of Providence, one of the players who has made a big impression on the visitors, led all scorers with 20 points at Indianapolis while Aleksandr Belov topped the Russians with 17.

Pollard leads Indy practice

INDIANAPOLIS, Ind. (UPI) — Racing grandfather Art Pollard of Medford, Ore., led Sunday's rain-interrupted practice at the Indianapolis Motor Speedway in preparation for next weekend's opening time trials.

Pollard posted a quick time of 1:53.223 miles per hour to fend five drivers over 190 miles an hour but no one approached the 1:57.8 clocking by Swede Savage of Santa Ana, Calif., Saturday.

Savage's time stands as the fastest of the tune-ups in the first nine days as the drivers chase the so far elusive '200 m.p.h. barrier.

Secretariat's brilliant victory Saturday over Sham gave Meadow Stable, trainer Lucien Laurin and jockey Ron Turcotte consecutive Kentucky Derby victories.

Last year their dream of a Triple Crown was shattered when Riva Ridge finished fourth in the race at Pimlico although he went on to win the Belmont Stakes.

Laurin stopped by the barn briefly to check on Secretariat before hurrying off to fly to Miami on personal business.

"There was a lot of satisfaction and it took a lot of pressure off," the trainer said. "I think this horse differently than any other Kentucky Derby runner will be there."

Secretariat clocked the last quarter mile in 24.75, dipping Whirlaway's 1941 mark of 23.3 and turning in one of the fastest final half miles as well.

"Whenever you can throw that kind of a quarter at them, you can kill any of them," Forrest said.

"Don't ask me what it does to the other horses, but it flattens out those other horses every time. It's like when a fighter gets that solid punch on your jaw: You may still be on your feet but you are a kicked son of a gun."

Nor was Forrest alone in that opinion and they may have a tough time lining up a sizeable field to challenge Secretariat in the Preakness Stakes at Pimlico on May 19.

Secretariat will be flown to Maryland Monday to prepare for the race.

Stablemate Angle Light, who finished 10th, will be sent home to Belmont Park.

Drag racer checks Mustang

CHECKING OVER THE cockpit of his 2000 horsepower 1973 Mustang is Jerry "The King" Ruth as he prepares for action at Firebird Raceway this Sunday at 1 p.m. Ruth's new car will be in action against both Funny Cars and California AA-Fuel Altered during the special Mother's Day program.

Horsemen predict Secretariat will win elusive triple crown

LOUISVILLE, Ky., (UPI) — His devastating speed over a quarter of a mile will carry Kentucky Derby winner Secretariat to a sweep of the Triple Crown classics, horsemen at Churchill Downs insist Sunday.

"Barring an accident, no horse in the country can beat him," said trainer Ron Forrester, who won the Kentucky Derby in 1966 with Kausal King and with Forward Pass in 1968. He watched Secretariat smash the track record with a 1:59.25 clocking as a neutral observer.

He did not have a starter this year.

David Pearson wins Winston 500 event

TALLADEGA, Ala. (UPI) — David Pearson, surviving an early wreck that sidelined most of his top competitors, coasted to victory Sunday in the Winston 500 stock car race to notch his fifth straight victory on the NASCAR circuit.

Pearson, 36, of Spartanburg, S.C., maneuvered his red-and-white Mercury through the debris of wrecked cars on turn No. 2 in the 11th lap of the 2.6-mile track at Alabama International Motor Speedway.

He moved into the lead with 268 miles to go, finishing a full lap ahead of the No. 2 man, home-state favorite Donnie Allison of Hueytown, Ala., in a Chevrolet.

It was the fourth superspeedway victory for Pearson this year and his fifth consecutive win, including the first place finish at Martinsville, Va., last Sunday.

The race was run for an hour under the caution flag following the spectacular crash that eliminated 15 of the 60 cars that started and left into the second turn.

Richard Petty, always a favorite on the NASCAR circuit, had oil pan problems, which were later repaired, after a piece of debris from the wreck struck the undercarriage of his Dodge.

Petty was running nine laps behind the leader when the oil pressure failed and he left the race for the day.

The accident happened when Pearson's car was leading the race and he was running 15 laps behind the leader when the oil pressure failed and he left the race for the day.

Firebird track sets major race

BOISE Firebird Raceway's second major event of the season gets underway this Sunday. Headlining the action will be AA-Funny Cars, the California AA-Fuel Altered and Bob Perry's "HeliOn Wheels" 135 miles per hour wheelstanding Sherman Tank.

Bill New, Firebird manager, has spiced up the competition by allowing the Funny Cars and Fuel Altered to run against each other in heads-up action. During the 1971 season the 200 mph roadster bodied Altered proved to be the favorite type of car appearing at Firebird while the Funny Cars held top appeal last year.

Responding to fans wishes, New has allowed the Altered to take on the plastic machines.

Jerry "The King" Ruth, the nation's quickest driver in 1972, will attempt to uphold the reputation for the Funny Cars with a brand new 2000-horsepower Mustang. Ruth, during the car's first check-out run, traveled the quarter mile in 6.38 seconds at over 220 mph.

Backing up Ruth will be Mike Miller, Seattle, and his potent '73 Demon.

"Dave Hough, San Bernardino, Calif., and Mike Sullivan, Riverside, Calif., will attempt to champion the cause for the Altered. Hough's 1923 Model T Roadster has already gone over 214 mph and holds strip records in four states while Sullivan and his Hemi powered Fiat have traveled throughout the country for years and hold a host of records including the Fuel Altered mark at Firebird Raceway at slightly under 200 mph.

Between rounds of 200 mph racing fans will be treated to the newest wheelstanding sensation, the 135 mph Sherman Tank driven by Bob Perry of Tucson, Arizona. The fiberglass replica is powered by a 454 cubic inch supercharged Chevrolet engine and travels the length of the drag strip on its hind quarters, showering sparks across the asphalt.

A large number of area racers will be taking part in the day's action. One Magic Valley racer expected to fare quite well against the competition is Dave Austin, Twin Falls, in his modified '57 Chev.

TWIN FALLS 733-8371

New York defeats Los Angeles 87-83 behind shooting of Reed, Earl Monroe

NEW YORK (UPI) — Willis Reed, the key to New York's 1970 NBA playoff victory over Los Angeles when he was injured, could be the Knicks' savior against the Lakers in this year's title series.

Reed, refusing to be intimidated by Will Chamberlain's four-inch height advantage, scored 22 points and battled his 7-2 adversary almost on equal terms under the boards Sunday as the Knicks defeated the Lakers, 87-83, to take a 2-1 lead in the championship playoffs.

"It's my best playoff game since I got hurt three years ago," Reed intoned as he slumped on his dressing room stool. "The key was our defense. They weren't getting the ball where they wanted it and they didn't go to Will much. There's not too many games left and Jim getting back into my rhythm just in time."

Reed suffered a debilitating hip injury in the '70 series, but the Knicks rallied around their team captain to win in seven games. Last year, an injury to Dave DeBusschere sapped the Knicks' strength and they lost to Los Angeles, 4-1.

The trend of events could be reversed again this year. Jerry West suffered a pulled hamstring muscle in his right leg in the third period and his effectiveness was immediately diminished. His status for Tuesday night's fourth game here depends on how well he recovers.

While Reed and Monroe, who scored 21 points, were pacing New York on offense, the Knicks put up one of their patented defenses that throttled the Lakers just when Los Angeles thought it could break the game open.

"We asserted ourselves and it just feels good when everything goes right," said Monroe, who hit 10 of 16 shots, including several twisting layups as he passed Chamberlain on the drive.

Bill Bradley brought the end result even closer, when he said: "Our defense depends on each other. Theirs depends on one man — Chamberlain."

The Knicks are not an offensive-minded team, chimed in Phil Jackson, therefore New York must rely on defense.

"The Lakers are great shooters and they're not going to miss unless you challenge them," Jackson said. "We tried to get them frantic and make them do things they don't want to do."

West was injured during one of these occasions. He started to go left on one play, found the lane blocked and went back right too quickly.

"There was no contact, I just felt something and the injury inhibited my play," West said. "I wanted to return in the fourth quarter, but (Bill) Sharman decided against it."

"We won't know about West until just before Tuesday's game," said the Laker coach. "I know Jerry wanted to go back in, but I just didn't want to take a change on his aggravating the injury and maybe staying out for the whole series."

The Laker total was their lowest in playoffs since moving from Minneapolis. The previous low was 88 points against Boston in the fourth game of the 1969 finals.

The Lakers had an opportunity to blow New York off the court in the second period when they went on a 15-2 surge while holding the Knicks to Walt Frazier's lone field goal for the first seven minutes of the quarter. Jerry West and Gail Goodrich combined for 10 points during the spree as Los Angeles grabbed a 39-28 lead.

The Knicks then cut the margin as Reed and then Monroe each scored two baskets that cut the Lakers lead to three points at 39-36 and New York kept the pressure on for the rest of the period, leaving at intermission on the short end of a 47-44 score.

West, who scored 15 points in the first half, had only one point the rest of the way as he suffered a pulled groin muscle in the second quarter.

Reed drives for layup

LEAPING HIGH FOR layup shot is N. Y. Knicker Willis Reed (14) as Los Angeles Lakers' Jim McMillan (6) watches during the third game of the Knicks-Lakers NBA playoff series in New York on Sunday. Knicks won 87-83. (UPI Telephoto).

Dryden leads Montreal past Black Hawks 4-0

CHICAGO (UPI) — Goalie Ken Dryden scored his first Stanley Cup shutout in 41 games Sunday to lead the Montreal Canadiens to a one-sided 4-0 triumph over the Chicago Black Hawks in a nationally televised contest.

The win gave the Canadiens a 3-1 advantage over the Hawks in their best-of-seven series for hockey's most prized trophy.

Two of the next three games, if necessary, will be played on the Canadiens' rink, the next on Tuesday night, a site where the Hawks have not won a playoff contest in 11 years covering 13 games.

Dryden, who stopped 19 Chicago shots, had little pressure throughout the contest and was protecting a lead after the first 68 seconds when Marc Tardif bounced a dribbler off Chicago goalie Tony Esposito's pads into the net.

But Dryden had plenty of protection from his teammates, who put on a stellar display of forechecking and who frequently intercepted or knocked away attempts by the Hawks to set up a shooter in front of the net.

The Canadiens got their insurance score with less than six minutes remaining in the second period when Yvan Cournoyer netted a three-footer from just outside the crease as Tardif passed the puck across the goalmouth. The score culminated a span of almost two minutes in which the Canadians dominated the play in the Chicago end and kept constant pressure on Esposito.

New England wins WHA championship

BOSTON (UPI) — Larry Pleau scored a three-goal "hat trick" and Tom Webster added two goals and two assists Sunday afternoon to give the New England Whalers the first World Hockey Association championship and the AVEO World Trophy with a 9-6 rout of the Winnipeg Jets.

Pleau blew the game open with two goals in less than two minutes during the third period after the Whalers watched a 6-2 lead dwindle to 6-6.

Pleau blasted a 15-footer past Winnipeg goalie Joe Daley with 5:44 gone in the period, then drilled a 20-footer through a screen of players at 7:31.

Chuck Lefley got the next Montreal goal only 90 seconds later on a 25-foot drive between Esposito's pads while Claude Larose finished up the scoring with a 30-footer past Esposito in the last period.

The shutout was the first in the Stanley Cup playoffs for the Black Hawks since April 10, 1968, when Detroit triumphed 7-0. Since then the Hawks have played 69 Cup games without being blanked.

Olympic superstar is married

BEVERLY HILLS, Calif. (UPI) — Olympic superstar Mark Spitz was wedded Sunday to blonde UCLA student Susan Weiner.

The victory, which gave New England a 4-1 triumph in the championship series, was the 14th straight for the Whalers on home ice, a WHA record.

En route to the World Cup title, the Whalers won all three best-of-seven playoff series in five games and took all nine playoff games on Boston ice.

Cournoyer's goal was his 13th in the playoffs this year and put him within one of tying the playoff record of 14 set by teammate Frank Mahovlich in 20 games in 1971. Cournoyer's total has been reached in 13 games.

Montreal had a vast edge in shooting Sunday, getting off 30 at Esposito.

The 23-year-old Spitz and Miss Weiner, who met when Spitz moved to Los Angeles last fall after winning a record seven gold medals in Munich, were married in a traditional Jewish ceremony in the Crystal Room of the Beverly Hills Hotel.

En route to the World Cup title, the Whalers won all three best-of-seven playoff series in five games and took all nine playoff games on Boston ice.

Webster put the Whalers in command in the early going, scoring in the first moment of play in each of the first two periods.

There were no Hollywood celebrities among the 350 guests, but Spitz swim coaches Sherman Chavoor and Doc Councilman of Indiana University were on hand, along with Olympic teammates Gary Hall and John Kinsella.

He gave New England a 1-0 lead with a five-footer 21 seconds into the first period and made it 6-2 just 15 seconds into the second stanza.

His first period goal was followed at 4:43 with an unassisted score from Pleau.

Spitz and his bride, who was wearing a traditional white empire gown, posed for some 100 news photographers following the ceremony.

Spitz was asked how he proposed to Miss Weiner, and she replied for him: "Verbally."

Guy Smith, Rick Ley and Tim Sheehy also got first period goals as the Whalers took a 5-2 lead.

Mike Byers gave the Whalers their other goal with 2:40 left in the game, scoring into an empty net after Daley was removed for a six-man attack.

Norm Beaulin and Duke Asmundson got two goals apiece for Winnipeg while Danny Johnson, Mill Black and Bob Woytowich scored one each.

Wells, who listed his local address and that of his father in Beaumont, Tex., was picked up Saturday.

Wells' career was brought to a halt in 1969 when he pleaded guilty to attempted rape in nearby El Cerrito and was put on probation for three years.

Ornately styled-out glass reputedly became fashionable in England after a heavy tax was levied on crystal glassware in 1745 according to its weight. Deeply cut, intricate designs reduced the glassware's taxable weight.

Some octopuses can change from shades of light aqua to a deep red-brown within seconds, blending with the sea or mimicking a coral mass, to fool their prey and enemies.

Former Raider is jailed

BERKELEY, Calif. (UPI) — Former Oakland Raiders wide receiver Warren Wells was jailed Sunday on charges of public drunkenness, disturbing the peace and resisting arrest.

Police said that Wells, 30, had not posted bail of $475 on the misdemeanor counts and will be charged in Berkeley-Albany Municipal Court on Monday.

Wells, who listed his local address and that of his father in Beaumont, Tex., was picked up Saturday.

Wells' career was brought to a halt in 1969 when he pleaded guilty to attempted rape in nearby El Cerrito and was put on probation for three years. That year was also his best for the Raiders. He caught passes for a total of 1,200 yards and 14 touchdowns.

The probation was revoked in 1971 after he was stabbed by a woman in a Texas tavern,

Market Review

NEW YORK (UPI) — Stock prices lost ground in slow trading Monday on the New York Stock Exchange.

The erosion was blamed in part on the new round of prime interest rate increases to 7 percent from 6 1/2 percent. Some major New York banks lifted their rates Friday, and others around the country were following.

Shortly before noon, the widely followed Dow Jones industrial average had fallen 0.47 to 947.40. Declines topped advances: 647 of 472 among 1,528 issues on the tape.

Volume was light with 5,200,000 shares traded on noon, compared to about 6,400,000 shares in the comparable period Friday.

Shoshone carpet shop open

SHOSHONE — A new business is opening in Shoshone this week. "Jerry's Carpets," on South Apple Street across from the High School, is being opened by Jerry Padgett, the first time Shoshone has had a resident carpet-layer business. Padgett has been laying carpet for six years, starting in the Boise valley, and working the past two years in Magic Valley area for other business firms. Padgett says his carpet and drapes are from exclusive lines, the carpet coming from Century Carpet Mills, Los Angeles, and from Show Case Designers, Salt Lake City, Utah. He said he is willing to work day or night to serve the customer's needs and invites the public to see his fine of stock.

Business opens

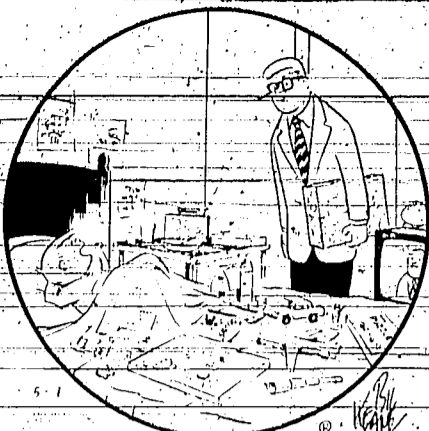

JERRY PADGETT shows some of the Britany puppies he will give to the first 12 people who attend the grand opening Thursday and Friday of his carpet shop in Shoshone.

FORECAST FOR TUESDAY, MAY 8, 1973

GENERAL TENDENCIES: You are likely to start the day thinking you can do far more than is advisable. You would be wise to let others know you value their good points, listen to their suggestions, investigate further, then prepare to put a big new course of action in effect tomorrow for best results.

ARIES (Mar. 21 to Apr. 19) If you strive for the goodwill of others, you find you can enjoy recreations that are just right for you, inexpensively. First get good suggestions from an expert concerning business matters and complete work started.

TAURUS (Apr. 20 to May 20) Although you believe in your own ideas, be sure you do not try to force them on others. Work on them yourself and get ahead faster. Make a plan that pleases you and those who dwell with you.

GEMINI (May 21 to June 21) Tend to your shopping while you think out those personal plans you have, then be very cooperative with associates. Reach a far better understanding. Avoid writing letters that could lead to controversies right now.

MOON CHILDREN (June 22 to July 21) Forget the financial now, and concentrate on being with good friends for pleasure or important conversations, or both. Get on the policy level at group affairs. Avoid shop talk.

LEO (July 22 to Aug. 21) You want to make a complaint to a big official, but are not sure of your facts, so forget it. Do nothing that can jeopardize your good name. Evening can be delightful with the one you love.

VIRGO (Aug. 22 to Sept. 22) Don't fuss with little things if you have some big plan to put across. Get right at the practical work. Make that fine new contact, and steer clear of one who complains. Take it easy tonight.

LIBRA (Sept. 23 to Oct. 22) Listen to what a good friend has to suggest instead of putting that hunch to work that is not accurate. Get into the recreational activities that most appeal to you. Avoid one who could lead you in the wrong direction.

SCORPIO (Oct. 23 to Nov. 21) An associate could deliberately be doing what you disapprove of, but if you remain calm you win out. Handle all career matters in a most efficient way. Show others you are intelligent.

SAGITTARIUS (Nov. 22 to Dec. 21) Expressing your creative talents is best today. Avoid business and emotional matters as much as possible. Perfect those hobbies that are to your liking. Seek to gain more education.

CAPRICORN (Dec. 22 to Jan. 20) Change conditions somewhat with good friends so there can be more harmony in the future. Get into the amusements that are most appealing. Make your home a true haven of rest.

AQUARIUS (Jan. 21 to Feb. 19) Don't disagree with one at home who is just as subtle and stubborn as you, or there could be a bad argument that is best avoided. Get together with associates and accomplish a great deal. Get rid of whatever disturbs harmony at home.

PISCES (Feb. 20 to Mar. 20) Handle those affairs that require real intelligence and impress others favorably. Control temper on telephone with one who may be exasperating. Show others how much you like them.

IF YOUR CHILD IS BORN TODAY... he or she will be one of those strong-willed, young people with great charm. Teach early to use tact and a smile instead of trying to fight way through life which would accomplish little and cause self-hurt. Also teach to focus on big things instead of fussing over the small ones that amount to little. Then there can be much success, especially in government, teaching, writing, etc. "The Stars impel, they do not compel." What you make of your life is largely up to YOU!

I don't think there's such a thing as a real top-notch woman poker player. It just doesn't seem to me that their hearts are as big as a pea, and you need a lot of heart to be a high-roller poker player."

Q "The electricity went off while we were on vacation, so all the food in our refrigerator spoiled. Gad, the odor! Will anything get rid of it?"

A Put a saucer full of vanilla in there. Change it daily. Hear that works about as well as anything.

Q "I know the table tennis team of the People's Republic of China is ranked No. 1 worldwide, but where is the U.S. table team on that roster?"

A It's No. 28.

Q "What year did Kleenex tissues start selling so big?"

A That was 1930. Some bright boy associated with Kimberly-Clark dreamed up the ad slogan, "Don't put a cold in your pocket." Zoom went sales, higher and higher, right through the Depression.

LADY SHADOW

The law enforcement boys admit the female police officer is far superior to the male-in that duty known as "tailing a suspect."

Can you name the actor who created the original Malt Dillon, character of "Gunsmoke"? William Conrad, star of the TV series "Canon," was the fellow. On radio. When he was in his early 20's. He played that role for 11 years.

Each of these 14 cities has a population of more than one million. Name of each begins with B. Can you list them? Wait, nobody can. From memory, anyway. They are: Baghdad, Baku, Bangalore, Bangkok, Barcelona, Belo Horizonte, Berlin, Birmingham, Bogota, Bombay, Brussels, Bucharest, Budapest and Buenos Aires.

No, that elderly article of underwear known as the union suit was not so named because of any association with the northern forces in the Civil War, as popularly believed. Fact that it was a one-piece garment, United, gave it the union name, says our Language man.
