Nixon greets Brezhnev

Golda to run

TEL AVIV (UPI)—Golda Meir, who once described her job as "impossible," ended months of suspense Sunday and reluctantly announced she would seek another four-year term as Israel's prime minister.

With the support of three-quarters of the Israeli public, according to a recent poll, the 75-year-old Ukrainian-born, American-educated grandmother is virtually assured of re-election.

Her announcement, made in a letter sent to governing Labor party Secretary Aharon Yadin and read to a cheering secretariat meeting, ended months of agony among her political allies who feared she would step down.

Quake rocks Japan

TOKYO (UPI)—A strong earthquake followed by a tidal wave hit the northern Japanese islands of Hokkaido and Honshu Sunday, injuring at least 23 persons and causing more than $5 million damage, the local government said today.

The damage included 26 battered or sunken ships, about 200 flooded homes and fissures in highways. About 300 tons of dead salmon were washed ashore by the 6 1/2-foot tidal wave that followed the tremor.

Dollar hits low

LONDON (UPI)—With concern running high over the Watergate scandal, the dollar slumped to record lows in Frankfurt and Amsterdam in early trading today and lost ground on other European markets. Gold prices surged ahead. In Frankfurt, the dollar dropped to 2.5550 marks by mid-morning as compared with Friday's closing rate of 2.5700, the previous record low there.

The dollar opened at 2.7200 guilders in Amsterdam, down 0.44 per cent from the previous low of 2.7320 guilders set at the close Friday. The dollar has declined by 14.24 per cent against the guilder since the Feb. 13 devaluation of the U.S. currency.

Alert aired

GREENVILLE, S. C. (UPI)—An educational television station startled viewers Sunday night by accidentally airing a message that a national emergency existed.

The message, telling viewers to stand by for a message from the White House, interrupted a telecast of "Masterpiece Theater" about 7:40 p.m. MDT.

About 15 or 20 minutes later, WNTV broadcast another message, telling its audience to disregard the earlier one.

Aussie to visit

CANBERRA, Australia (UPI)—Australian Prime Minister Gough Whitlam said Sunday he will meet with President Nixon toward the end of July.

President Nixon cabled an invitation to Whitlam on Saturday, senior government officials announced.

"We will be in Washington between July 28 and 31 and expect that the time of meeting will be settled on either of those three days," an official note from Whitlam's office said. "The prime minister is looking forward to meeting President Nixon."

Italian S critical

ROME (UPI)—Italy's lame duck government instructed banks today to buy more bonds in an attempt to discourage speculators in the country's worst currency crisis since early postwar years.

The government of outgoing Premier Giulio Andreotti took the stopgap measure pending appointment by President Giovanni Leone of a new premier who could take more energetic steps.

WASHINGTON (UPI)—President Nixon today welcomed Soviet Communist Party Leader Leonid I. Brezhnev to the White House for seven days of talks, which he said could "lift the burden of armaments from the world and build a structure of peace."

In welcoming remarks on the White House lawn televised in both the United States and the Soviet Union, Nixon said he was sure the summit would be seen as "a great step forward" by the entire world.

"This year at the summit in Washington we will not only build on the foundation we laid last year but we have the opportunity to make even greater progress than we made last year toward the goals of better relations between our governments, the goals of a better life for our two peoples," Nixon said.

The President said that during his visit to Moscow last year he and the Soviet leaders had signed agreements "that changed the relations between our two countries in a very profound way." "All the world is watching," Nixon added, because "the people of the world know that if, the leaders of the two most powerful nations in the world can work together, the chances of peace will be increased."

"I am confident that in our meetings this week we shall not disappoint those hopes," Nixon added.

Nixon spoke in English and Brezhnev responded in Russian. The Soviet leader's words were translated for the benefit of the carefully selected crowd which attended the colorful ceremony marked by military pomp.

Brezhnev promised to work hard in his talks with Nixon to "justify the hopes of our people and serve the interests of a peaceful future for all mankind."

He said his objective was "one great goal which is ensuring a lasting peace for the people of our countries" and noted he was making "my first visit to your country and my first direct acquaintance with America and the American people."

But in the welcoming ceremony, he looked like an American politician on a campaign trip. Turning his back on the troops he was supposed to be reviewing, Brezhnev pushed toward the crowd, grabbing outstretched hands with both of his hands.

Protest 'barred'

DEMONSTRATORS wearing stripes and standing behind the bars of a mock jail in Washington protest the treatment of Soviet Jews. "Timing the protest with the arrival of Soviet leader Leonid Brezhnev," organizers of the rally said all Soviet Jews must be allowed to emigrate freely. (UPI)

Duster plane hit

HANSEN—The entry on the blotter at the sheriff's office said "anti-aircraft fire."

Bill Blackburn, a commercial pilot for Breder Flying Service, reported to sheriff's officers Saturday morning that his plane was shot at and hit while he was crop-dusting south of Hansen.

Blackburn told officers he thought at first he had hit a power line when he felt the bullet hit his plane. He said he circled around but saw no snapped lines.

After landing at the airport, Blackburn told officers he noticed that a small spreading propeller at the rear of the plane had been struck by the bullet, which then lodged in the plane's battery compartment.

Officers checked at the farm of Joe Dilte, where Blackburn had been spraying, but failed to find a spent cartridge or other evidence of shooting. Blackburn said the incident occurred about 9:10 a.m. Investigation is continuing.

4 submariners trapped; Navy rescue efforts fail

KEY BISCAYNE, Fla. (UPI)—The Navy, using its most sophisticated underwater rescue equipment, tried desperately today to rescue four men trapped in a research submarine 360 feet deep in the Atlantic before they could be overcome by carbon dioxide.

A severe current kept a roving diving bell from San Diego, Calif., away from the 21-foot sub which was caught in the wreckage of a scuttled World War II destroyer while studying fish life in the Florida Keys for the Smithsonian Institution.

Describing the situation as "grave," the Navy sent the diving bell down a second time later in the morning, trying to catch a "slack" tide. "The designer of the submarine, Edwin A. Link, whose son was one of the four crewmen aboard, had put a noon deadline on the men's survival because he said a chemical that absorbs carbon dioxide would be exhausted by then."

The two men in the rear compartment of two-chamber Johnson-Sea-Link apparently were unconscious. They were believed to be Link's son, Clayton, 31, of Binghamton, N.Y., and Dr. Robert Meek, 27, an ichthyologist from Santa Barbara, Calif.

The crewman in the front or glass viewing chamber—apparently the pilot of the craft, Archibald "Jack" Menzies of Vero Beach, Fla., and Al Stover, 51, Juno Beach, Fla., a diver, said by radio they could see the other men and they're still breathing, but they're not moving. They said they couldn't tell whether the men were unconscious or resting.

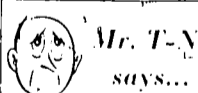

Summit draws ire

WASHINGTON (UPI)—Leonid I. Brezhnev's visit drew protest reactions today from musicians, dancers and fundamentalist Christians only hours after 8,000 to 10,000 Jews and Ukrainian exiles decried the Soviet Communist leader.

Leaders of the American Guild of Musical Artists said they would bring 5,000 persons to the State Department to protest the loss of jobs to touring Russian companies.

The Rev. Carl McIntyre said he would bring a "formidable following" to the Washington Monument to denounce trade agreements that McIntyre said would cost U.S. taxpayers $250 billion.

Sunday, while Brezhnev was at Camp David preparing for his visit with President Nixon, sympathetic congressmen joined Jews and Ukrainians in a demonstration at the U.S. Capitol and the White House ellipse.

Skylab crew sets record

HOUSTON (UPI)—Skylab's healthy and spirited astronauts, passed Russia's space endurance record of 24 days today and wished the Soviet cosmonauts good luck in the future.

Charles "Pete" Conrad, Joseph P. Kerwin and Paul J. Weitz aimed toward the four-week mark with a splashdown Friday.

They established the new record at 3:22 a. m. EDT while the space station crossed Africa on its 500th orbit. The pilots swept into their 25th day of flight at 9 a. m. as they went busily about their last full day of space research.

"We're homing in on the end of the mission," said flight director Neil Hutchinson.

In a morning telecast transmitted to mission control, Kerwin reported, "We've been remarkably free from illness on this flight." He is America's first space physician.

Ground communicator Henry Hartsfield advised the astronauts when they passed the endurance record and said they were the new "world's champs for longest space flight."

"OK, thanks for the note," Weitz answered casually, as he, Conrad and Kerwin nonchalantly went about a daily routine of weighing themselves on a special device that measures their mass in zero gravity.

The previous mark of 23 days, 18 hours and 22 minutes was set two years ago by the three Soviet Soyuz 11 cosmonauts who died when their ship suddenly lost cabin pressure just before re-entry because of a hatch leak.

Just after breakfast, Conrad asked Hartsfield to have astronauts Donald K. Slayton or Thomas P. Stafford relay a message to Soviet cosmonauts. Slayton and Stafford are members of the Apollo-Soyuz test flight crew in which an American spaceship will dock with a Russian ship in orbit in 1975.

"Relay to the Russian cosmonauts our respects to them and their comrades and wish them good luck from us in the future," said Conrad, who by this morning had logged 1,077 hours in space, the world's record for one man.

Nixon defense: 'Misinformed'

WASHINGTON (UPI)—President Nixon is expected to defend himself from allegations of involvement in the cover-up of the Watergate affair by saying he was "misinformed" by his former chief-deputation, news reporter attributed to White House and other government sources said today.

The Washington Post said in its morning editions it had been told by the sources the President no longer will broadly claim noninvolvement in the case. Instead, the reports said, Nixon will acknowledge misjudgments on his part and indicate they resulted from misinformation and unauthorized action by former Chief of Staff, H.R. "Bob" Haldeman and former domestic affairs adviser John D. Ehrlichman.

The Post story, written by Pulitzer prize winners Bob Woodward and Carl Bernstein, said the strategy was designed to counter charges by John W. Dean III, the former White House counsel. Dean reportedly is ready to testify that Nixon, Haldeman and Ehrlichman knowingly participated in the cover-up of Watergate and other illegal intelligence gathering operations.

In another development, Martha Mitchell, wife of former Nixon campaign director John N. Mitchell, said today that Nixon "always knew" what was going on.

"I'll be damned if I'll let my husband take the rap for Mr. President," Mrs. Mitchell said in an early morning telephone call from her New York City home to UPI's Helen Thomas in Washington. "Between you and me and the gatepost, Mr. President always knew what was going on."

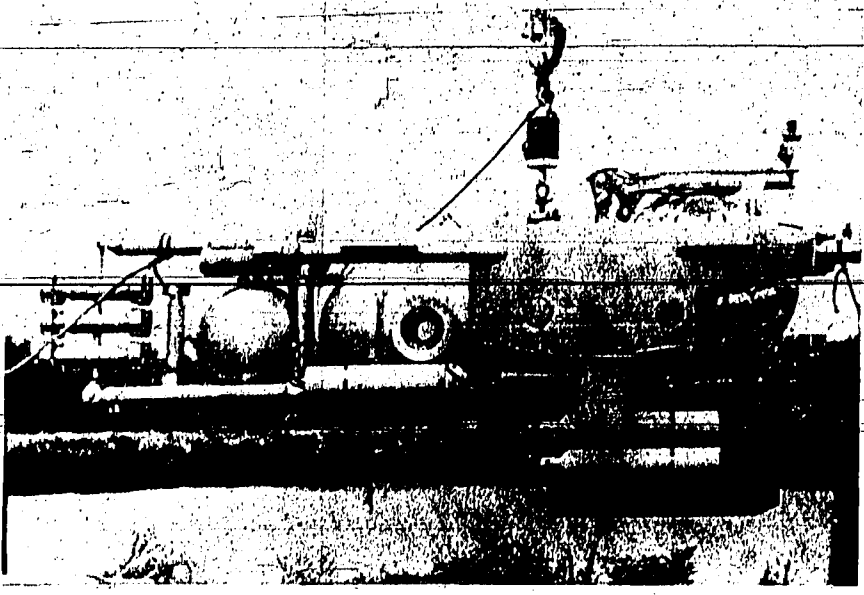

Dean becomes a witness at the televised Senate Watergate Committee hearings when they resume Tuesday morning. He was interviewed for five hours under oath by committee attorneys Saturday and was expected to repeat his testimony to a closed meeting of the seven-member committee today.

Sources close to the Senate investigation told UPI Sunday Dean had told the committee staff he "assumed" the President was aware of the Watergate cover-up within weeks of the bugging because he reported on it regularly to Haldeman and Ehrlichman. But the sources also said Dean testified he himself did not discuss aspects of the cover-up personally with Nixon until last March.

Both Haldeman and Ehrlichman resigned from the White House April 30, the same day Dean was fired. That night, Nixon in a televised address described Haldeman and Ehrlichman as "two of the finest public servants" he had ever known. The Post in its account said it informed John J. Wilson, attorney for Haldeman and Ehrlichman, of the President's reported change of position, and Wilson replied, "What's he (the President) been doing for us lately?" Wilson censured the innocence of his clients and said he had not heard of the President's reported change in position.

The newspaper quoted one White House source as saying, "If the Dean charges are too devastating and there is no reason to think they won't be, the President plans to come forward and acknowledge overwhelming negligence on his part but will still deny criminal knowledge."

HUGH PHILLIPS Manager. Question... My invalid mother is not old enough to qualify for Social Security benefits from my deceased father but she does receive a small veteran's pension. To your knowledge, are there any other sources of income available to her?

Answer...

Although your mother may not be old enough to qualify for an annuity based upon her own earnings or your father's earnings, if she has ever been employed under Social Security request your local Social Security office to check her wage history. Ask them also to review your mother's situation for entitlement to disability benefits based upon your father's employment history. Recently Congress passed a bill implementing the amount awarded monthly by a veteran's widow if the widow is in need of regular and attendance. Since your mother is already receiving a pension she can receive an additional $50.00 each month if she is disabled to the extent that she needs home care or if she is in a nursing home.

League backs rim site

TWIN FALLS — Following a study of the Snake River Canyon area in Twin Falls County, the League of Women Voters has urged retaining the canyon as a natural attraction.

The league's study, which began more than a year ago, lists eight specific recommendations on several different aspects of development around the canyon rim.

The League of Women Voters in Twin Falls urged strong consideration be given zoning of public lands in an "open space" classification. This zoning would allow the land to remain in natural condition, the League said.

Emphasis should be placed on acquiring easements and purchasing private lands to accommodate the future recreational needs of county citizens and tourists, League recommendations said.

Because of geological and scenic factors, the League said, development should be discouraged adjacent to the canyon rim and a buffer zone established for future recreational use, greenbelts and or scenic transportation routes.

Geology, water quality and other ecological concerns necessitate an environmental impact statement on all development in or near the canyon, League members said.

They recommended open space requirements in planned unit developments be expanded to a minimum 20 per cent, excluding pavement areas.

The League also recommended frontage roads adjacent to U.S. Highway 93 because of increased traffic from commercial development at the north entrance of Twin Falls. Scenic strips or landscaped buffer zones should be placed between the highway and frontage roads, they said.

League members also recommended the depth of the commercial zone along Blue Lakes Boulevard be decreased.

In a final recommendation the League urged planning in any area include strict enforcement of zoning regulations, cooperation between the city and county and continual awareness of future demands on the land.

Army band draws crowd

TWIN FALLS — Magie Valley residents like band concerts.

That was proven again Saturday night when the 25th Army Band — an Idaho National Guard unit from Caldwell — presented a 90-minute-plus concert at City Park.

Several hundred persons turned out — or, in some cases, simply stopped in — to hear the performance despite threatening skies.

Under direction of Warrant Officer Don Robyer, the band displayed considerable talent in presenting a varied program. It ranged from traditional marches to Latin American numbers, echoes of the "big band" sound, medleys from Broadway musicals, modern rock arrangements, vocal offerings, and even a couple of novelty numbers.

Even though the audience was of mixed ages, most of those attending appeared to enjoy the numbers performed and the showmanship of some of the performers. Their applause produced one encore at the close of the concert.

The Twin Falls stop was one of a series of concerts presented by the band as part of its annual training session.

The one missing element — which seems to us to be almost inexcusable for a military band — was the playing of the National Anthem either at the opening or the conclusion of the concert.

But lack of that element didn't detract from the demonstrated abilities of the performers as musicians and showmen. — DALE STEWART.

Charter members honored by DUP

TWIN FALLS — Tribute was paid during the annual Brigham Young dinner here to the five remaining charter members of the Daughters of Utah Pioneers of Twin Falls County.

Alton Welker, county president, pinned charter member ribbons on the three members who were able to attend the event. These include Emma Lake, Mary Wright and Lenore Carroll. Those unable to attend included Lillian Tucker Davidson and Alleen Bingham Harris.

The Twin Falls Company of DUP was organized April 25, 1938, by President Kate B. Carter, Salt Lake City, who still heads the National Society of Daughters of Utah Pioneers.

There were 25 charter members. All have died except five.

Mrs. Welker presided during the dinner meeting Friday in the LDS Stakehouse. Music was furnished by Resga Peterson who also accompanied the group singing of the "Theme" song. Invocation was given by Chaplain Mrs. Bulah Newman. A brief history of the DUP organization in Twin Falls was read by Mrs. Blanch Menia. Mrs. Jean Staley presented two special vocal selections accompanied by Miss Peterson. Mrs. Ruth H. Johnston gave a reading and the Kimberly Pioneer Band played several numbers.

School food service elects

JEROME — Mrs. Charles Otto, Jerome supervisor for the Jerome School District hot lunch program, was elected vice president of the Idaho School Food Service Association, it was announced Saturday.

Mrs. Lewis Dille, Burley, was elected president and Mrs. H.R. Bartlett, Mountain Home, was elected treasurer at the association annual meeting held in Boise.

Mrs. Otto said Saturday that supervisors of hot lunch programs from throughout the state attended the two-day workshop which included nutrition, sanitation and meal planning. She noted the group toured several storage and freezer plants plus an equipment company in Boise.

Mrs. Otto explained that one of the workshops featured providing a selective foods program. "I am going to try and introduce the program this fall in the high school," Mrs. Otto said. She explained that under the program a scrambled line is used where students can buy sandwiches, salads or hot-dogs instead of the regular daily lunch which will still be provided as well as the extras. "How it will work out I'm not sure, but I think we should give it a try," Mrs. Otto said.

Mrs. Otto has been with the Jerome School District since 1952 and took over as supervisor of the hot lunch program in 1961.

Dairy princess named by bureau

INKOM — A Soda Springs youth was crowned as Idaho Dairy Princess here Saturday at the second annual Idaho Farm Bureau State Dairy Princess Contest.

Larane Barker was crowned by last year's princess Brenda Williams, Pongree, during the conclusion of the events.

Miss Barker, 19, will now begin a tour of Idaho county fairs, and local meetings for the promotion of Idaho's dairy products. "I'm going to try and make the dairy industry in Idaho something meaningful to people," Miss Barker said.

The Caribou County resident was chosen from contestants who represented ten other counties in the state.

According to the judges, Mr. and Mrs. Wallace Parrish, and Mrs. Alice Smith, the winner was chosen on her ability to talk to people and large audiences, knowledge of dairy products, poise and personality. She was awarded $100 by the Idaho Farm Bureau Woman's Committee, the contest sponsors.

She plans to attend Utah State University, majoring in business or child development. When she isn't working at home or at her job at the Trail Motel, she likes to spend most of her free time riding horses.

Postmasters end 3-day convention

SALMON — The Idaho Branch of the National League of Postmasters has elected Loretta Johnson, Arbon, president to succeed Gary Gunter, McCammon.

Others named during a three-day convention in Salmon June 13-15 were Ned Gibler, Kouskua; Alice Hanson, North Fork; Lyman Merrill, Weston; Viola Anglin, Tendency and Capitola Whiting, Basalt, all vice presidents.

Elaine Morgan, Menan, was named secretary, and Dale Davis, Downey, editor of the group's newsletter. Gibler, Hanson and Merrill were all re-elected. Mrs. Johnson stepped up from a vice president.

Phillip Hathaway, Driggs, was honored as postmaster-of-the-year based on his outstanding service record. He has been postmaster at Driggs 17 years.

Senator disagrees with Agnew view

SEN. BAKER offers praise

WASHINGTON (UPI) — Sen. Howard H. Baker Jr., the ranking Republican on the Senate Watergate Committee, disagrees with Vice President Spiro T. Agnew's view that the committee hearings are perverting the processes of justice.

"I disagree with the vice president," the Tennessee senator said Sunday.

"I think that the committee is doing a good job of what it was created to do. I do not think we are jeopardizing future legal prosecutions. I think that both will occur and occur efficiently and equitably."

Baker was interviewed on ABC's "Issues and Answers."

Baker said he believed that once the committee hearings are completed there will be more calls for impeachment of President Nixon, but he said he doubted the calls would reach

"substantial proportions."

"I have been constantly surprised throughout this thing, so I reserve the right to change my mind, but at this moment I don't see that likelihood," Baker said.

Baker said he had "never ever had any substantial conversation of a substantive matter on Watergate" with Nixon. He said he did not discuss the issue with Nixon when he traveled with the President last Friday to Pekin, Ill., for the dedication of a congressional research center named in honor of Baker's father-in-law, the late Sen. Everett M. Dirksen, R-Ill.

The Tennessee senator said he had rejected the suggestion of a White House staff member that the White House have "some say" in the selection of the committee counsel.

Smashed

SAN FRANCISCO (UPI) — Egon J. Fleber took his brand new sledge hammer and smashed out 19 huge plate glass windows at a downtown bank.

"It was either this or I was going to get a rifle and go up on a rooftop to shoot at people," Fleber, 29, told arresting officers.

A crowd of more than 100 gathered Saturday to watch Fleber shatter the 8-by-15 foot windows, worth $700 each. Some cheered and some took photos.

"This guy seemed like he was enjoying himself, just smashing one window after the other," said Dirk Hoyt, a security guard at a bank across the street. He called police.

Cities to receive aid, mayors' conference told

SAN FRANCISCO (UPI) — The nation's cities will be getting more federal aid than ever, a Nixon administration official assured the 41st Conference of Mayors Sunday.

The statement from James T. Lynn, secretary of Housing and Urban Development (HUD), came in rebuttal to criticism from host Mayor Joseph Alioto, who charged the cities have become "orphans" under the Nixon administration.

"We have never known who was in charge in the cities for Nixon," the San Francisco mayor said on the NBC television program "Meet the Press."

Lynn denied this, saying the cities were "not orphans at all but vital elements in domestic planning."

He added that under the Better Communities Act (BCA), 30 out of 50 of the nation's cities would receive more federal aid in the future than they do under existing grant-in-aid programs.

BCA would provide direct grants to cities and states for programs to be determined by local governments rather than by federal mandate, he said.

Lynn also denied that older cities with Democratic voting records would come out on the short end of distributions. He said New York, for example, will get $700 million in the next five years, compared with $20 million received during the past five years.

Mayor Louie Welch of Houston, Tex., another of the six mayors on "Meet the Press," said the main problem concerning the more than 800 municipal officials representing 50 states and Puerto Rico at the conference is the "gap" between federal revenue sharing funds and federal funds made available for specific problems.

Welch said he could not agree with administration officials who say the gap is small.

"We may be looking at it a little more realistically," he said.

But the panel agreed that local control of spending programs as laid out in the President's so-called "new federalism" is a good sign.

Others on the television panel included: Kenneth A. Gibson, Newark, N.J.; Neil Goldschmidt, Portland, Ore.; Ben Boo, Duluth, Minn.; and Pete Wilson, San Diego.

Brezhnev might take advantage

WASHINGTON (UPI) — Sen. Henry M. Jackson, D-Wash., fears Soviet leader Leonid I. Brezhnev may use the atmosphere of the Watergate scandals to "take advantage" of President Nixon in this week's summit talks.

"I'm not saying that you must have a superior posture," Jackson said Sunday. "But, my Lord is this the kind of environment in which to negotiate at the summit? I say no. It just doesn't add up."

Jackson conceded it was too late to postpone the negotiations now, but he said he believed successful international negotiations depend on the ability to negotiate from strength.

Brezhnev could take advantage of Mr. Nixon in this situation and I fear that Mr. Nixon might try to do something, melodramatic in order to draw attention away from Watergate," Jackson said.

"It is not the best environment to negotiate in a summit meeting."

Jackson was interviewed on television (Face the Nation, CBS).

Sen. Charles H. Percy, R-Ill., disagreed with Jackson. He said Sunday in a statement

Nixon deserved credit for going ahead with the meeting.

"The promise of increased Soviet-American cooperation in reducing world tensions is too great to be postponed," Percy said. "The President has made the right decision in proceeding with the summit talks."

But Jackson said he was "more suspicious now" about the summit meetings since Brezhnev said at a Moscow news conference on Thursday he would not mention the Watergate issue with Nixon and didn't think much about it.

"Now, who is kidding whom?" Jackson asked. "I don't believe him. He doesn't have to bring up Watergate. My God, Watergate is everywhere."

Jackson, one of the Senate's chief authorities on defense matters, said Nixon and Brezhnev should agree on new reductions of U.S. and Soviet strategic arsenals. He said they should cut nuclear submarines to 35 each and strategic offensive missiles to 900 each.

Postal rates rise to meet labor costs

WASHINGTON (UPI) — The Postal Service probably will raise first class mail rates from 8 cents to 10 cents next January to meet increased labor costs.

Postmaster General Elmer T. Klassen said Sunday that "in all likelihood" the Postal Service will ask the Postal Rate Commission in September for the increase.

"I think we'll recommend a 10-cent stamp," Klassen said. "That's how we see the situation now."

Klassen was interviewed by U.S. News and World Report magazine.

The increase would raise an additional $1 billion a year, Klassen said, and most of the sum would go to cover "very substantial wage increases" granted postal employees over the past few years.

Klassen conceded this was "a great deal of money...but so is the cost of union proposals."

Labor costs continue to rise, Klassen said, although the Postal Service has reduced its personnel by 47,500 since July 1, 1971. He estimated 85 per cent of the Postal Service's costs are "wage-related."

Goldwater believes Nixon

WASHINGTON (UPI) — Sen. Barry M. Goldwater doesn't believe President Nixon was involved in the Watergate affair, but feels Nixon should resign if it is proved that he was.

"If it ever gets down to the fact that he has been involved—and I don't think he was—then I think resignation would be the cheapest, easiest and best way to do it," the Arizona Republican said Sunday. "Get Agnew in and get going."

Goldwater said he did not believe Nixon should be impeached "unless it is proved that he had."

The 1964 presidential nominee was interviewed on a CBS-TV special, "The watergate year."

Goldwater said he believed Nixon was plunged into the crisis because Nixon is a loner who "lives his life by himself (and) never asked his friends what he's done wrong or what he's done good."

"I think most of the trouble he has is the fact that he never has been able to be one of the boys," Goldwater said. "I've seen him on occasion sort of let his hair down, and there's no more delightful guy in the world when you catch him in one of those rare moments when he hasn't weighed every word, every action."

As for himself, Goldwater said, the Watergate scandal has left him "frustrated" and wondering why he has spent a third of his life trying to build up the Republican party.

"All of a sudden as I near the end of my time in politics, I wonder what the hell has it all been for?" Goldwater said. "I feel terribly let down, frankly. I get up in the morning and think, 'oh, well, what the hell can you do?'"

Goldwater said he felt sure Vice President Spiro T. Agnew would be the party's 1976 nominee. He said Agnew "hasn't been touched" by the scandal.

"He has a great following in the Republican party," Goldwater said. "Even before Watergate, I think Agnew was more popular with rank and file Republicans than Nixon himself."

Pollsters say Nixon knew

NEW YORK (UPI) — Two pollsters said Sunday that about 50 per cent of those questioned believe President Nixon knew about the efforts to cover up the Watergate break-in and bugging.

The Gallup poll said a survey in mid-May showed 56 per cent of those interviewed believed the President participated in the cover-up. Forty-six per cent were said to believe that Nixon knew of the undercover operations at Democratic national headquarters before they happened.

A poll commissioned by the CBS network showed 48 per cent of those interviewed believed Nixon knew of the cover-up, while 27 per cent felt he did not. The CBS poll said 29 per cent believed the President knew of the break-in itself in advance, while 44 per cent said he had no advance knowledge of it.

Fifty per cent of those polled favor impeachment proceedings against Nixon if evidence were presented to show that he knew of both the break-in and the cover-up in advance.

US asks release of POW

WASHINGTON (UPI) — U.S. officials in Laos are attempting to obtain the release of the first acknowledged American prisoner of war captured since the cease-fire.

He is Emmet Kay, from Honolulu. The small propeller-driven plane he was piloting went down May 7 over Communist territory while he was flying in bad weather to a Laotian government outpost at Bouam Long near the Plain of Jars.

Kay's capture was disclosed June 1 after Pathet Lao officials announced they had captured an American major. U.S. officials, however, contended he was a civilian pilot flying for the contract airline, Continental Air Services, Inc.

A congressional investigator said Kay probably was flying for the Central Intelligence Agency (CIA), but a spokesman for Continental said this was not the case.

The State Department acknowledged Friday that officials from the U.S. embassy in Vientiane had been meeting with Communist Pathet Lao officials to discuss terms for Kay's release.

Whatever Kay's status—civilian or military—he was the first American acknowledged to have been taken prisoner since the Indochina accords went into effect and U.S. prisoners taken in the long war were returned.

Two American military pilots are listed as missing in action in Cambodia in the post-

Vietnam cease-fire period. There has been no word from Cambodian Communist officials as to whether they are prisoners.

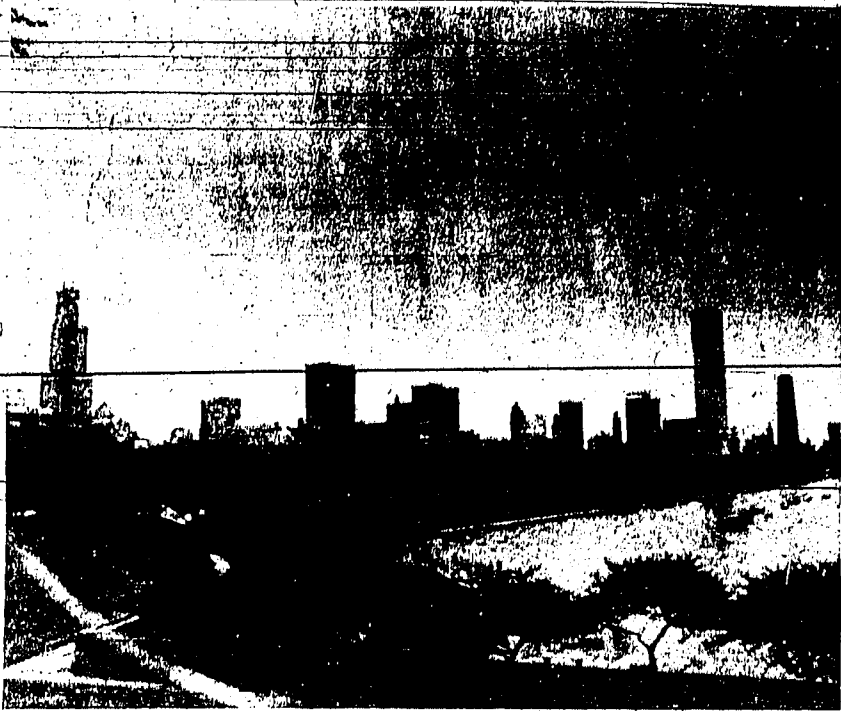

Officials in Vientiane, the Laotian capital, said Kay was on a "routine" mission when his plane went down. He reportedly was ferrying at least four CIA-recruited guerrilla soldiers.

Congressional reports suggested Kay, who is from Honolulu, was one of perhaps more than 500 Americans working for contract airlines and carrying supplies and irregular troops hired by the CIA to fight the Communists in Laos. This CIA activity has been going on since 1962. The CIA refused to make any comment about the case.

However, congressional investigator Richard M. Moose, sent to Laos three times to probe the "secret war" for the Senate Foreign Relations Committee, has reported that Continental Air Services is one of three main charter carriers doing work for the CIA.

A spokesman for Continental, contacted in California, was asked if Kay was flying for the CIA. He replied: "No. Air America is the CIA's airline. Everybody is always confusing us with them. It's a pain in the neck." The spokesman said Continental in Laos usually flies missions under contract to the U.S. Agency for International Development (AID).

Moose, however, told UPI in a telephone interview that all U.S. government flying contracts in Laos are issued through AID, which then bills the agency that actually uses the airplane.

Violent storm

Farmer 'sacrificed'

DENVER (UPI) — The president of the Rocky Mountain Farmers Union said Sunday the farmer was being sacrificed by the Nixon Administration in an effort to halt spiraling inflation.

"The squeeze is downward wherever it will give," said John Stencil. "We're most concerned that this pressure is going to mean substantially lower prices for products of our farms and ranches, while inflation and the costs hurting everyone continue to eat away at the farmer in the form of record-high production costs."

Stencil said the fact that Nixon's latest freeze was not applicable to raw agricultural products was moot. He said the prices processors can charge were frozen so "prices to farmers can go nowhere but down."

Heavy fighting persists

PHNOM PENH (UPI) — The thrust of the Communist offensive south of Phnom Penh entered its second week today with reports of heavy fighting around two towns only 13 miles from the capital and more raids in the area by U.S. warplanes.

Field reports said a third town, Thnal Totung, was recaptured by government troops Sunday. One witness who took the 20-mile helicopter trip from Phnom Penh to Thnal Totung said the Communists who overran it had burned it to the ground.

"There was only one house standing in the rubble," he said.

(The Japanese Ambassador in Phnom Penh Saturday urged Japanese residents there to leave Cambodia temporarily due to the deteriorating military situation, the Foreign Ministry announced today in Tokyo.

(Ambassador Noboru Sugura was quoted in today's Mainichi Shimbun, one of Japan's three largest dailies, as saying that "the Cambodian situation has worsened and there is no indication it will improve.")

U.S. warplanes, meanwhile, were in action today in two areas of the country—at the Cambodian-South Vietnamese border and in support of government troops in the fighting south of the capital. Today marked the 105th consecutive day of the intensified American air campaign in Cambodia.

Heavy fighting was reported near the market town of Bek Chan, attacked by the Communists Saturday, and Ang Snoul, which has been surrounded by rebel soldiers since last week. Both towns are on Highway 4 about 13 miles south of Phnom Penh and U.S. fighter-bombers were blasting suspected rebel positions in the area today.

Naval sources said a large convoy of oil tankers and freighters from South Vietnam crossed the border into Cambodia under the heavy U.S. air cover today for the hazardous trip up the Mekong River to Phnom Penh. Rebel gunners lining the waterway have blasted supply convoys attempting the trip in the past.

The sources said eight oil tankers, four cargo ships and two barges were in the convoy, expected to complete the 84-mile trip to the Cambodian capital sometime tonight.

Informed sources said a U.S. Air Force HH53 helicopter that crashed into the Tonle Sap Lake in northwestern Cambodia Thursday was one of two Jolly Green Giant rescue craft on permanent station over the lake.

U.S. Pacific command headquarters in Honolulu announced the crash Sunday. It said two of the five crew members were killed, two were rescued and the fifth was listed as missing.

Terrorists shoot 9 family members

SAIGON (UPI) — The South Vietnamese Command said Communist terrorists shot nine members of a family to death early today. Canadian officials reported the Communists had attacked three truce team helicopters hitting one.

The command said a deputy hamlet chief and eight members of his family were shot to death shortly after midnight near Thuan Nhon in the Mekong Delta 100 miles southwest of Saigon. Another member of the family was wounded, the command said.

It blamed "Communist terrorists" for the shootings but had no other details.

It was the worst incident involving a single family in years, a command spokesman said. The most serious incident involving civilians, not all from the same family, occurred near Tam Ky, 340 miles north of Saigon, May 15 when a bomb went off at an outdoor film show, killing 20 persons and injuring 25.

A spokesman for the South Vietnamese Foreign Ministry read a statement at the daily press conference saying, "The government of Vietnam denounces to public opinion Communist ill will in implementing the joint communiqué," which was signed in Paris last week to renew the Jan. 27 cease-fire agreement. The renewed truce went into effect Friday noon. Since then, the spokesman said, 60 South Vietnamese soldiers and 18 civilians have been killed in 289 Communist cease-fire violations.

The spokesman said, "As long as the firing is still going on it will be difficult to carry out Article 4" of the cease-fire agreement providing for the South Vietnamese to work out their own political future."

A command spokesman said 30,928 Vietnamese on both sides have been killed since the original cease-fire agreement went into effect Jan. 28, including 23,754 Communist troops, 6,118 Saigon troops and 1,056 civilians.

He said the Communists have violated the truce 17,144 times, including 87 in the 24 hours ending at noon today. The Communists allege about 100,000 allied violations overall.

The Canadian sources said one flight of two helicopters was fired at while flying over Communist-controlled territory Sunday six miles south of An Loc.

Johnny Miller fires 63 for open victory

OAKMONT, Pa. (UPI) — Johnny Miller, who says he used to "choke" when he thought about winning, won the U.S. Open Golf championship Sunday with one of the most incredible performances in history.

Six strokes behind at the start of the day's play, Miller blazed his way around the monstrous Oakmont Country Club course in eight-under-par 63, shattering two records along the way and winning the most prestigious title in golf by one stroke.

To do it, the 26-year-old Californian had to pass Arnold Palmer, Jack Nicklaus, Gary Player and Lee Trevino, and he did it in almost unbelievable fashion.

Making nine birdies and only a single bogey, Miller wiped out both the all-time open and Oakmont 18-hole records and his five-under-par 279 total for 72 holes was four strokes better than anyone ever had done here.

That can hardly be called choking, but Miller thought he should have done better.

He birdied the first four holes and then slowed down. He missed a birdie putt on No. 7 and made his only bogey at No. 8, a 24-yard, par-3 where he hit the green and three-putted.

"Honestly I can say I gagged on those putts on seven and eight," Miller said.

If he gagged, then what can you say about Palmer, the 33-year-old hero of the Western Pennsylvania gallery who was one of the four co-leaders starting the final round and actually had the lead to himself for a while.

Suffering another heart-breaking finish in his bid for a second open title, Palmer made the turn four-under-par for the tournament and then bogeyed the 12th, 13th and 14th holes in succession.

While Palmer faltered, Miller remained brilliant. "Telling myself to keep cool," as he explained it, Miller birdied four holes in a five-hole stretch of the back nine and saw three other birdie putts either miss by a couple of inches or hit the cup and lip out.

"All through the round," he said, "I kept telling myself, 'don't shank it, kid,' and I didn't."

"I can only say if I hadn't shot this round they (other players) would be out there choking among themselves. That gave them something to shoot at."

Miller, who had earlier rounds of 71, 69 and 76 — "I had no desire this morning after that 76 yesterday," he said — will receive $35,000 for his victory. But the U.S. open championship is considered worth a lot more to someone with the personality of Miller, a tall, lean blond.

His 63 wiped out the all-time open record of 64 shared by Lee Mackey (1950) Tommy Jacobs (1964) and Rives McLee (1966) and was two shots better than the Oakmont course record 65 set Friday by little-known Gene Borek, who finished 10 strokes behind Miller.

John Schlee, the astrology buff who said the stars told him it was "a good week for Gemini," won the $18,000 second prize with a one-under-par 70 and a 280 total.

Tom Weiskopf, who won three tournaments and a record $117,145 on the PGA tour in the last month, was alone in third place with a 70 and 281 total.

There was a three-way tie for fourth among three of the only four players in history to win a million dollar on the PGA tour — Palmer, who had a 72 Sunday, Lee Trevino, who had a 70, and Jack Nicklaus, who shot 68.

Nicklaus came up with too little, too late, when he birdied the 16th and 17th holes, and it must have been a particularly galling defeat for the "golden bear" who was shooting for a record-tying fourth open title and record-breaking 14th major championship overall.

"Although he is almost always favored, Nicklaus has won just four of the last 24 major championships since the 1967 British Open.

Lanny Watkins, whose 65 was impressive on its own, came in at one-under-par 283 with 53-year-old Julius Boros and Jerry Heard, who had 63s Sunday.

Palmer, Heard, Schlee and Boros had been tied for the lead at the start of the day with three-under-par 210 totals, the first time four players ever shared the lead after 54 holes of the open.

The nine players finishing the tournament under par tied another record, matching the nine sub-par scores in 1946 at Canterbury in Cleveland, where the PGA championship will be decided in August.

Gary Player, the leader at the 18 and 36-hole marks, finished with a 73 following his 77 of Saturday for a 287 total, eight shots behind Miller. Player, who missed four months of action this year because of surgery, plans to return to his home in South Africa Monday for a month of work on his game.

Miller is the No. 7 money winner on the PGA tour this year and has finished in the top 10 in eight of 17 tournaments but, until Sunday, the closest he ever came to winning a big one was in the 1971 Masters.

That time, Miller had the lead with three holes to go but made a couple of bogeys and lost to Charles Coody.

In the open, Miller previously had finished eighth as an amateur in 1966, fifth in 1971 and seventh last year.

"It's not a case of placing," he said. "The only thing that's probably made me choke is first place."

"I've learned something the hard way — I used to get very excited when I made birdies, really riled up for the gallery. They loved it, but I learned you just can't lose your emotions, you can't lose your composure."

Jocelyne Bourassa leads tournament

MONTREAL (UPI) — Jocelyne Bourassa came one step closer to winning her first professional golf tournament Sunday when she shot a one-under-par 36 on the final nine holes to take a one-stroke lead over Judy Rankin at the end of two rounds of the $50,000 La Canadienne Golf Championship.

Miss Bourassa, who shot a one-over-par 37 on the front nine, came back strong on the final nine holes with eight pars and a birdie to close the day out with an even par 73. Her two-day total after Friday's five-under-par 68 now stands at 141 going into the third and final round.

Miss Rankin came into Sunday's second round with a two-under-par 71 and equalled that performance again to carry a 142 total into Monday's final round.

Jane Blabek and Carol Mann tied for third spot with two round totals of 143, three under par. Miss Blabek turned the Montreal Municipal course with a four-under-par 69, while Miss Mann had a one-under-par 72.

Mary Dwyer Horner, Mrs. Horner was tied for second at the end of the first round, but fell to a four-over-par 77 Sunday to give her 147 for the tournament, leaving her six strokes off the pace.

Kenee Powell, who also had a piece of second place Friday, slumped to a 78 on the soggy course. Betty Burnfeind set a course record with a six-under-par round of 67 Sunday to move back into contention after a 79 in the opening round. It left her in seventh position behind Betsy Rawls and Sandra Haynie who have totals of 144 and 145 respectively.

After opening the second round as she did the first, with a birdie and a bogey, Miss Bourassa ran into some difficulty. She birdied the third but then went on to bogey the par three eighth and the par four sixth, before closing her opening nine at 37.

She missed the green on the eighth and her tee shot landed behind a small tree to the left of the green. From there she played her next shot into the middle of the fairway and then chipped to within five feet of the cup on her next effort. She then putted out to preserve her bogey.

Miller describes his emotions during round

By MILTON RICHMAN UPI Sports Editor OAKMONT, Pa. (UPI)

Also some of his soul, and maybe more. He choked.

This inside information comes to you courtesy of the copyright owner — Johnny Miller himself.

"I told myself keep cool, keep cool, don't let the gallery get you excited," he confessed Sunday following his record-smashing triumph in one of the most hotly-contested Opens ever.

Ellis is seeking must win

NEW YORK (UPI) — Jimmy Ellis will earn $25,000 Monday night when he meets Earnie Shavers, but the money will be little compensation if he's upset because it would probably finish him as a heavyweight contender.

Ellis, the former World Boxing Association champion from Louisville, Ky., and Shavers, an unranked knockout artist from Warren, Ohio, will clash for 12 rounds in the main event at Madison Square Garden.

For much of the time, Johnny Miller did keep cool. You should've seen him after his second shot on the 17th hole when the gallery following him tendered him an ovation that could almost be heard in the next county.

Miller merely raised his right hand an inch or so above his shoulder, and to look at him you'd swear this was Charlton Heston parting the waters.

It wasn't always that way though for the tall, square-jawed, 26-year-old who also had a chance to win the Masters two years ago but let the whole thing fritter through his fingers.

"Today I was so pumped up, I was super nervous," he said after checking in with nine birdies for an eight-under-par 63 that gave him a new all-time Open record for one round as well as a record for the Oakmont course.

Palmer is shocked at open win

OAKMONT, Pa. (UPI) — Johnny Miller's U.S. Open victory Sunday came as a complete surprise to Arnold Palmer.

Palmer called it "a shock." Walking onto the 12th hole, four shots better than par, he was astounded to discover Miller was five under par and leading the tournament.

What caused Palmer's astonishment is the fact that Miller's name was listed last on all the scoreboards and Palmer couldn't see it because of the huge crowds blocking the board.

"I was shocked," said Palmer, who had a final round 72 and finished in a fourth place tie three strokes behind Miller.

"I had no idea, I thought I was in complete command. I didn't have the slightest notion of what was going on."

along the way. Once he gets started, Miller is one of those compulsive non-stop talkers. He was so excited over what he did Sunday he was practically babbling when he came into the press tent to describe his round.

"There was one thing I kept in my head out there all day," he said, laughing some more. "Don't Shank!" I was thinking that on almost every iron shot. I know that's bad thinking, but I couldn't help it. It was always up there in my mind."

The ingenious new U.S. Open champ laughed when he talked about it because professional golfers aren't supposed to shank the ball, only duffers are. But a "shank," or mis-hit of the ball so that it goes skittering off to the side, happens to every golfer sometime in his life, and Miller didn't want it happening to him here in the U.S. Open on national TV, in front of the whole world so to speak.

Miller is much more mature than he was in the 1971 Masters where he had a two-stroke lead with eight holes to go — "and blew it, that's all you can call it."

Still, he does have lapses now and then and he had some here this past week.

The third round Saturday was a good example. Miller called it "a nightmare."

He came out to the course and forgot the card on which he had marked down the yardage of each hole. All golfers consider those yardage guides practically standard equipment. Some of them would rather venture out on the course without their blood than without those cards.

"I went into my bag and the yardages weren't there," said Miller. "I had no idea at all what to hit. What I had done was put the card in my pants' pocket back at the hotel, and didn't take it out."

Miller has been on the tour five years now and apart from this one, managed to win only two tournaments — the Southern in 1971 and the Heritage last year. He has won a lot of money but few titles.

"I was starting to get a tag like Tommy Aaron," he said, meaning the label Aaron has gotten for finishing second in so many tournaments. "I thought about that, too, during the last few holes. I said to myself 'if you blow it now, you'll really have a Tommy Aaron tag.'"

Blaine grassman tour Thursday

CAREY — The Lava Lake Ranch, operated by Nick Purdy, will be the site of the annual Idaho Grassman Tour Thursday.

The tour will begin at 9 a.m. at the Carey fairgrounds. Participants will then be transported by buses to the ranch, which is located about 14 miles east of Carey. At the conclusion of the tour, a no-host lunch is scheduled at the fairgrounds, followed by a short program.

During the tour, Purdy — recipient of the 1972 Idaho Grassman of the Year award — will discuss the ranch program of range improvement and seeding, sprinkler irrigation, deferred rotation grazing and his Hereford cattle operation.

Rangeland fertilization, livestock production testing, Greener intermediate wheat grass seedlings and Topar pubescent wheatgrass seedlings will also be featured. The state grassman program is sponsored by Idaho Power Co.

Agencies cooperating in staging the tour include the U.S. Soil Conservation Service, University of Idaho Extension Service, U.S. Bureau of Land Management and the Agricultural Stabilization and Conservation Service.

1972 Blaine grassman

NICK PURDY, 1972 Idaho and Blaine County Grassman of the Year, has operated the Lava Lake Ranch since 1962. In addition to aiding his father, Bud Purdy, in the operation of the Prawn Livestock Co., Purdy also serves as vice chairman for the Blaine County Planning and Zoning Commission.

Chavez limits pickets

SALINAS, Calif. (UPI) — A judge has ordered Cesar Chavez' United Farm Workers Union to limit the picketing outside the local headquarters of the rival Teamsters Union.

Monterey County Superior Judge E. J. Leach Jr. issued a temporary restraining order Friday which allows the UFW a maximum of two pickets outside the building. The court order also restrains the UFW from threatening the Teamsters Union and its employees.

The UFW and Teamsters are involved in a jurisdictional dispute involving the unionizing of farm workers in California's agricultural heartland.

The court order climaxed a week of pitched battles between members of both unions. On Tuesday, sheriff's deputies were forced to draw their revolvers to quell a disturbance. And on the following day, six autos were damaged and one UFW picket arrested during a rock-throwing confrontation outside the Teamsters office.

About 10 days ago, several field workers went on a wildcat strike at a Bruce Church field near Gonzales.

Forestry association conducts field trip

BOISE — Members of the Southern Idaho Forestry Association will be in charge of a field trip Thursday and Friday from Boise to Galena Summit.

The annual event which this year will concentrate on goods and services from Idaho Public Lands, will be sponsored by the Southern Idaho Forestry Association, the Society of American Foresters and the Intermountain Pest Action Council.

En route between Boise and Galena, the group will view effects of forest insects and control techniques, the impacts of recreational land development, restoration of sheep grazing and specialized management problems inherent with the National Recreation Area compact.

Thursday night tour participants will have a cookout at Redfish Lake. State Rep. Vernon Ravenscroft, Tuttle, will be featured speaker.

Fred Kisabeth, chairman of the Southwestern Idaho Chapter, Society of American Foresters, said about 40 persons are expected to participate in the tour.

Shoshone 4-H youths to UI

Glenns Ferry 4-H's make final fair plans

GLENN'S FERRY — The 4-H County Builders and 4-H Council will hold their monthly meeting at 8 p.m. Monday at the fairgrounds in Glenns Ferry.

Final plans will be made for the fair at that time and all leaders and 4-H'ers who are 14 years and older are urged to attend. The group will decide on what needs to be done before the fair.

Mrs. Marilyn Jordan, Elmore County home extension agent, asks all 4-H'ers who would like to attend the 4-H camp north of Ketchum, June 25-29, to please get their registration, health and permission forms into the extension office by Wednesday if possible.

If any 4-H members did not receive their forms, they may obtain them from the extension office in the basement of the courthouse. Forms were sent to all 4-H'ers whose leaders have turned in their enrollment lists, or the 4-H'ers who sent in his or her enrollment card.

Lincoln County Fair Board selects leader

SHOSHONE — Lincoln County Fair Board chairman this year is Jerry Nance, Dietrich.

The fair will be held on Aug. 3 and 4 at the grounds in Shoshone. Other officers are V. C. Ross, north Shoshone, vice chairman; Mrs. Joyce Bernard, secretary-treasurer; Mrs. Clifford Stutzman, 4-H home economics exhibits; Mrs. Robert Furtado, women's department; Ross, grounds and materials; Pat Riley, community living exhibits; Janice Pate, program and merchant's displays; Nance, 4-H agriculture; Gail Serr, Future Farmers of America.

Mrs. Furtado replaces Mrs. Lyle Deeds on the board. Mrs. Deeds having resigned because of ill health, and Mrs. R. B. Kelley will assist her with assignments during the fair this year.

Food booths for the fair have been awarded Opal Rebekah Lodge, Shoshone, and the Dietrich Grange, and the game booth went to the North Shoshone Home Improvement Club. Novelty booths will be handled by the LDS Church and Cub Scouts. Gail Serr has received a merchant's exhibit booth permit.

Applications for space for community living, display booths have been approved for the Soil Conservation, Richfield Grange, Cub Scouts, Bureau of Land Management, Pomona Grange, National Farm Organization, Future Farmers of America, Dietrich Grange, Dietrich Holyettes, Wood River Center Grange, Home Improvement Club of North Shoshone, and Magic Grange. There is space for six more such booths.

The fair board announces additional stalls are being built for horses at the grounds along with other necessary work to ready the area for the fair.

Special emphasis is being given the aim to have each 4-H or FFA member clean the farm area their animals use. Penalties may be assessed for those who fail to meet requests.

A leave of absence has been granted Joe Gonzalez for his trip to Spain. Austin Webb is doing the fairgrounds custodial work during his absence.

Farm population realigned

By BERNARD BRENNER UPI Farm Editor WASHINGTON (UPI) — The 1960s produced a dramatic realignment in the nation's farm population map, an Agriculture Department study shows.

The dominance of Texas and the Old South faded sharply, and Corn Belt states moved up to take the leadership in farm population figures.

"Farm population went down in every state in the 1960s, but nowhere as much as in the south. The number of farm residents there was reduced by nearly half during the decade, from 7.2 million to 3.8 million," the report said.

Agriculture Department population specialists Calvin L. Beale and Vera J. Banks, who prepared the report, said that as a result, the 1970 figures are the first since state reports began in 1920 which fail to show a southern state as number one.

The south lost its farm population faster than other areas, the report said, largely because the mechanization of cotton farming was mainly completed in the last decade.

As the share-cropping system vanished, millions of rural southerners, particularly blacks, trekked to the cities.

In addition to those who were "traced off" as machines replaced hand labor, many more were lured off by the prospects of better jobs and living standards in nonfarm areas, the report added.

The south's black farm population, as a result of these trends, dropped 60 per cent during the 1960s.

The report showed national farm population, which had totaled about 32 million in 1920, was down to 15.7 million in 1960 and 9.7 million by 1970.

North Carolina, which had led the nation in farm population in 1960 with 950,000 farm residents, dropped to fifth place with 463,000 in 1970. Texas, number two in farm population with 806,000 persons in 1960, fell to fourth place with 414,000 in 1970.

The new study showed the nation's heaviest farm population states, on a percentage basis, are the Dakotas where about 25 per cent of the people are still listed as farm residents. Nationwide, however, only 13 states had 10 per cent or more farm population in contrast with the 1920 figures when two-thirds of the then-48 states had 20 per cent or more of their people on farms.

The states with 10 per cent or more farm population in 1970 included North Dakota, South Dakota, Idaho, Montana, Wyoming, Nebraska, Kansas, Minnesota, Wisconsin, Iowa, Arkansas, Mississippi and Kentucky.

Gem poultrymen set annual meet in TF.

TWIN FALLS — Members of the Idaho Poultry Industry Federation (IPIF) will hold their annual meeting at Twin Falls Wednesday and Thursday.

Activities, scheduled at the Twin Falls Holiday Inn, will begin with 11 a.m. registration, according to Gordon Meyer, Moscow, University of Idaho extension poultry specialist and IPIF secretary.

Wednesday speakers will discuss Idaho egg product regulations, recent legislative actions affecting the Idaho poultry industry, egg production systems, management aspects of layer and pullet growing operations and waste disposal.

The Thursday session will open with an IPIF business meeting, including election of officers.

Speakers during the morning will present information on hatchery operations, and outlooks, ways to cut protein and feed costs, feed purchasing and inventory, commodity market operations and planning for retirement.

The annual meeting is scheduled to adjourn at noon.

Sugar beet experts set tour in MV

TWIN FALLS — Sugar beet technologists from the production and processing phases of the industry from 14 countries will gather in Twin Falls this week.

Part of the American Society of Sugar Beet Technologists annual tour, the 100 specialists will arrive at 11:45 p.m. Tuesday and will spend Wednesday and Thursday inspecting sugar beet fields and the processing operation of Amalgamated Sugar Co. here.

On the tour schedule for Wednesday will be a breakfast at the Holiday Inn and a morning of relaxation. In the afternoon the group will tour a sugar beet farm and then go to the Snake River Trout Farm near Buhl for a picnic hosted by the Idaho Beet Growers Assn.

Scheduled for Thursday is a trip to Milner Dam immediately after breakfast followed by a tour of the Snake River Soils and Water Resource Unit. At noon the group will meet at Shoshone Falls Park for a luncheon as guests of the Amalgamated Sugar Co. followed by a tour of the Bob Norris Sugarbeet farm.

From there the group will go to Amalgamated's Twin Falls factory to inspect a piling ground and visit the research laboratory.

Later in the afternoon they will visit the Ramseyer Farm and Thousand Springs and then go to the new farm development on the Bell Rapids Project where they will inspect overhead sprinkler irrigation and the highlift pumps. Thursday night will feature a dinner at the Holiday Inn.

On Friday the group will depart for Craters of the Moon National Monument enroute to West Yellowstone, Mont.

Robert Day, of Amalgamated Sugar Co., said the Twin Falls area is the only Idaho visit of the group. He said the joint meeting, with this being the fourth annual, is for members of the American Society of Sugar Beet Technologists and the European counterpart, Institute International de Recherches Betteravieres. The beet producing countries of the world use the annual event to exchange ideas in producing and processing sugar beets. He said one of the items of discussion will probably be government controls since European growers and processors face even greater controls than the American counterparts.

Wives of the delegates will be entertained by a group of Idaho Sugar Beet Grower wives. They will attend a luncheon Thursday at the Blue Lakes Country Club and tour scenic areas.

Mrs. J. D. Chaborn and Mrs. Robert Day, co-chairmen, will be assisted by Mrs. Peter Link in handling the language differences during the two day visit.

TF shed and other materials destroyed by fire

Fires destroy house, shed

TWIN FALLS — Fire destroyed a shed and other material at the site of the old Super's Sales lot at 1950 Kimberly Road Sunday.

Earlier on Sunday a fire caused extensive damage to a house on Harrison Street.

Two pump trucks and a ladder truck responded to the Kimberly Road fire about 8:10 p.m. Sunday.

Fire Department Captain F. E. Horejs said today the cause of the Super blaze had not been determined. He said the antique and junk lot operated by Super had recently been closed and most of the valuable goods auctioned off.

Horejs said it was possible youngsters set fire to cardboard cartons which still remained in the shed.

He said the shed was destroyed and nearby trees damaged. He said the ladder rig was called to put out fire in the trees.

Horejs declined to estimate damage at the site, although he characterized it as minimal. He said the department had been waiting to get clearance to burn rubbish at the site.

In the second fire, the back bedroom of a house belonging to Irene Doane at 302 Harrison Street was destroyed, Horejs said. He said the cause of the fire, which occurred about 4:05 p.m. Sunday had not been determined.

He said the fire burned through the carpet and floor of the back bedroom and "pretty well gutted it."

Horejs said there were no injuries in either of the fires.

Collectable taxes total $1 million

TWIN FALLS — About $1 million in property taxes remains to be collected from Twin Falls County taxpayers by June 20, Ruth K. Jones, Twin Falls County treasurer said this morning.

Mrs. Jones said this is the largest outstanding amount on this date for several years. She said payments have been coming in at a slow rate and noted that only two days remain before the books will be closed by Idaho statute. She said tax payments may not be accepted by her office from the closure date until after July 23.

4th runner-up

HOLLISTER — Helen Flegor, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. LeRoy Flegor, Hollister, was named fourth runner-up in the Miss Idaho contest conducted over the weekend in Boise. She represented Boise State College in the contest.

Wendell sewage system planned

WENDELL — Construction of the Wendell sewage system is scheduled to begin Sept. 1, Hugh Hedges, city engineer said today.

Because of a re-evaluation of priorities for federal Environmental Protection Agency grants, construction grant money should be available soon, he said. Previously the EPA money was not expected to be available for several months.

Hedges said construction money allocated to larger cities whose proposed sewage systems are still in planning stages was distributed to smaller towns waiting to begin construction.

The Wendell system will include an aerated lagoon, pump lift station, chlorinator and sprinkler irrigation system. Estimated cost of the project cannot be divulged until bids are received, Hedges said.

Final plans for the system were approved by the Wendell City Council Friday morning and taken to the State Health Department, Boise.

The deadline for submitting plans for the available grant money was June 15. The Wendell plans had been submitted within the deadline.

Construction of the system is expected to require 270 days.

The new sewage system will alleviate what mayor Eugene Soares described as a state of emergency in an April City Council meeting when the council moved to restrict any further sewer hookups.

Balloon trip set

COEUR D'ALENE, Idaho (UPI) — Bob Sparks made final preparations here Monday for the first stage of a trip he hopes will end with his "Yankee Zephyr" landing somewhere in the north of France.

Jerome canyon unit sets meet

JEROME — A meeting of the Jerome County Canyon Rim Planning Council will be held at 8 p.m. tonight at Pioneer Hall. Thomas Mahan, chairman of the Jerome County Planning and steering committee said the meeting has been called to establish a planning task force to develop a site plan for the proposed development of the canyon rim area and along State Highway 93 from the Perrine Bridge to the 93-25 junction.

Mahan said all government agencies involved in the management of land in the area have been asked to attend the meeting along with private individuals and the state legislators from Jerome, Gooding and Twin Falls Counties. He said the meeting is open to an interested or concerned person.

Mahan said tonight's meeting is the continuation of several meetings which have been held recently on canyon-rim planning. The Bureau of Land Management has completed a series of three meetings held to gather public input into the best possible use of the land.

Also prompting the meeting tonight is a controversy over the establishment of a private amusement center north of the Perrine Bridge on Highway 93. The Jerome Planning Council has gone on record opposing the amusement center and requesting the Jerome County Commissioners not to approve a variance in the zoning ordinances to permit the park to operate.

The VPW had originally planned to meet at Pioneer Hall tonight, however, their meeting has been changed to the city council chambers at City Hall.

2 arrested in TF

TWIN FALLS — A Twin Falls man and a Eureka, Nev., woman were arrested Sunday on unrelated charges involving bad checks.

Ann S. Tadlock, 31, Eureka, Nev., was arrested about 9:45 p.m. Sunday on a Twin Falls police warrant for issuing a check without sufficient funds in the bank. She was released on her own recognizance by Magistrate Reed P. Maughana short time later.

Anthony Davida, 26, Twin Falls, was arrested on a city forgery warrant about 3:10 p.m. Sunday. He remained in jail today in lieu of $500 bond. Davida was arrested originally by Ely, Nev., sheriff's officers on the warrant on May 24 and transported to Twin Falls by county sheriff's deputies on Sunday.

2 men assaulted

TWIN FALLS — Two Twin Falls men told police they were assaulted Saturday morning after leaving the Log Tavern on Shoshone Street North.

William P. Rodgers and Duane W. Gauger reported they had left the rear of the tavern about 1 a.m. Saturday morning and were crossing the alley when they were jumped by six to eight unidentified men.

Rodgers was severely beaten and kicked during the assault and was taken to Magic Valley Memorial Hospital for examination following which he was referred to a private physician.

Investigation is continuing.

Nevada inmates badly beaten

CARSON CITY, Nev. (UPI) — The discovery of two badly beaten inmates Sunday triggered a spontaneous racial clash between almost 100 prisoners at the Nevada State Medium Security Jail, Warden Ed Pogue said.

Five inmates were injured in the clash during which groups of black and white prisoners hurled rocks at each other, armed themselves with mop and broken handles, smashed windows and personal effects such as radio and television sets, Pogue said.

Pogue said that two inmates whom he would not identify were found apparently beaten with fists in a dormitory Sunday evening. One of them was taken in serious condition to Carson-Tahoe Hospital.

Suddenly, he said, everybody started running around.

Temper cooled before reserve guards arrived.

The prison was back to normal after about an hour, he said, but extra guards were posted as a precaution.

Pogue said he did not know what led to the initial beatings, but that damage to the prison was estimated at $500.

Rodeo honors

DAN ROESER and Leslie Isaacs were named All-Around-Cowboy and Cowgirl during the Idaho State High School Rodeo which concluded Sunday in Burley.

Market Review

NEW YORK (UPI) —

Concern that President Nixon's latest anti-inflation measures will put the squeeze on corporate profits and add to the nation's balance of trade deficit forced stocks broadly lower Monday in slow trading on the New York Stock Exchange.

Minutes before noon, the Dow Jones industrial average had a drop of 9.94 to 878.61. Declines ran well ahead of advances, 867 to 243, among 1,464 stocks across the tape.

Volume was slow, about 5,000,000 shares, compared to 5,900,000 shares in the same period Friday. Some observers said trading may remain slow at least until the freeze is ended, and it becomes clearer what form Phase IV will take.

Camas Prairie, Halley and lower Wood River Valley: Partly sunny and warmer through Tuesday, except for a few showers over the mountains this evening.

Lows tonight will be in the mid 30s, and highs Tuesday in the 60s to lower 70s. The outlook for Wednesday is continued warming.

Synopsis: An upper level disturbance, accompanied by very cool air moved through Idaho Sunday. As a result, record low temperatures were reported at several locations over eastern Oregon and Idaho Monday morning. Boise recorded a low of 36 degrees, the coldest June 18 low reading ever observed in 75 years of records. Some low readings around the state were: Kuna 31, Fairfield 24, Aberdeen 31, Idaho Falls, 33, Kimberly 34, at the five foot level, and 27 at the one foot level above the surface.

A warm high pressure system at the surface and aloft is building over the Pacific northwest. Idaho will experience an upward trend in temperatures the next several days.

Stocks tumble in Phase IV's wake

By LEE MITGANG UPI BUSINESS WRITER

NEW YORK (UPI) —

A half-point, one way or the other, usually doesn't mean much on Wall Street. But this week investors looking for Phase IV from President Nixon Wednesday night had to settle for Phase III 1/2, and stocks tumbled in light trading on the New York Stock Exchange.

The Dow Jones Industrial Average fell 31.45 points, more than wiping out the previous week's 26.04 advance, which had been fueled largely by anticipation of a return to tough wage-price controls. Standard & Poor's 500 Stock Index dropped 1.93. The NYSE Index declined 0.93 to 55.36.

Declines led advances this week, 992 to 794, among 1,945 issues traded.

Investors stayed on the sidelines, and volume dropped 64,666,515 shares, compared with 66,615,440 shares the week before, and 77,379,070 shares the previous year.

High hopes for strong, long-term, wage-price controls, which had boosted stocks the week before, carried over, although trading was restrained.

After the close Friday, June 8, the Federal Reserve had announced an unusually large 2-point increase in its discount rate, the interest it charges on loans to member banks. Some analysts said the rise was a calculated move by Fed Chairman Arthur Burns to spur President Nixon into taking an active role against inflation.

On Tuesday, stocks staged a strong rally, although on light volume, after White House sources hinted President Nixon soon would address the nation on television to unveil a new economic game plan. At that time, observers predicted mandatory, selective controls, some of which probably would be aimed at cooling the sharp price rises in heavy industry.

Word came during Wednesday's session the President would present that night his new strategy to beat inflation, and many traders sold to maintain their profits.

By week-end the list was faltering badly — losing more than 14 points in the Dow Friday — as the investment community worried openly about a serious slump in corporate earnings as a result of the freeze.

Coal industry urges separate research

WASHINGTON (UPI) — Carl E. Bagge, President of the National Coal Association, urged President Nixon Friday not to slow down or submerge coal research if it is transferred to a consolidated research agency. Bagge sent Nixon a telegram saying: "The coal industry has noted press reports of an impending announcement of the consolidation of all energy research into one agency. We are concerned that in such a move there be no loss of the momentum and expertise already acquired in the vital area of coal research. It is urgent that coal utilization and production research should not be subsumed and lose its identity in a nuclear dominated research agency."

FORECAST FOR TUESDAY, JUNE 19, 1973

GENERAL TENDENCIES. A day to make sure you are very much aware of modern trends and viewpoints and of ways you can utilize them for quicker, more efficient progress in the things important to you.

ARIES (Mar. 21 to Apr. 19) Morning is fine for thinking out how to have more rapport with good friends for excellent results. Make better plans for the future. The social side of life is especially fine in p.m.

TAURUS (Apr. 20 to May 20) A new approach at career matters sees them better handled, inner results gotten, and then the p.m. is ideal for rapport with the influential. Use wise ways to improve worldly position.

GEMINI (May 21 to June 21) You need more data before you are able to realize that ambition that is so important to you. Look to new advisers for advice you indeed need in p.m. Sit down and write those important letters, too.

MOON CHILDREN (June 22 to July 21) Contact those who operate in a modern way and get good ideas and advice from them for your advancement. Evening is fine for harmony with mate. Show your true devotion.

LEO (July 22 to Aug. 21) Sit down with associates and figure out how to operate more sensibly and profitably in the future. Talk out any debatable points. Devote yourself to kin in p.m. who feel neglected. Think.

VIRGO (Aug. 22 to Sept. 22) You can get all that work out in an exact fashion today, if you start early and plow right through. Lark some time to coordinate your efforts with co-workers so there surely will be no friction.

LIBRA (Sept. 23 to Oct. 22) If you plan your evening activities well during day, they can move without a hitch. Get into some progressive work in the afternoon. Your mate requires a different kind of treatment. Advance.

SCORPIO (Oct. 23 to Nov. 21) Home and kin require much attention now, so give it, even if only in planning and thought away from home. Bring friends home in p.m. and entertain them hospitably. Ease tensions considerably.

SAGITTARIUS (Nov. 22 to Dec. 21) Get into all the duties ahead of you with vim and vitality and be sure to handle correspondence carefully and well. Evening is fine for the recreational side of life. Join with good friends.

CAPRICORN (Dec. 22 to Jan. 20) You have to do something quickly about improving your financial situation, or you could get into serious trouble. Update your budget and property so you get better returns. Don't lose your equilibrium.

AQUARIUS (Jan. 21 to Feb. 19) You need professional help to improve your appearance and health early, then you can be with good friends in p.m. State what your aims are and gain their assistance for them. Avoid one who is jealous of you.

PISCES (Feb. 20 to Mar. 20) Take some time out from duties to think out how to make the future brighter and how to become a more efficient person. A pal can be in real trouble and needs your help. Be sure to give it willingly.

IF YOUR CHILD IS BORN TODAY... he or she will be one of those fascinating people who will be looking into the future and planning how to make changes that will be good for humanity in general, but will also have a practical sense to make own life more affluent. Give as fine and complete an education as you can so that the life ahead will bring fame and all the fine talents will be fully realized. Spiritual training early for best results, as well as good manners. Sports are a natural here.

Raft River sets unique program, but needs aide

By MARILYN ELLIOTT
Times-News writer

BURLEY — A unique counseling program will go into effect in Raft River this fall if the school district can find a school psychologist to operate it.

The district received approval for the Title 3 project the first of April but has been unable to find a qualified school psychologist or social worker needed to implement the program.

"We have no intention of dropping the project," instructional supervisor Norman Hurst said Wednesday. "but we would like to have a school psychologist 'yesterday'."

The project to be implemented in the Raft River schools in the fall is titled "Parent-Teacher Involvement in Counseling," and seeks to teach students a better self-concept — "a feeling about themselves that they are something," Hurst said.

All Raft River teachers will receive pre-service training this summer "to increase their competencies in communication, conferencing and counselor-training," according to the project report.

Consultants will be called in to give the training and will follow up with on-site evaluation and recommendations to each participant.

A parent clinic will also be held with a team of school psychologists and a social worker "aiding parents in reaching mutually agreed upon goals for student improvement," according to the report.

Although the government will pay 80 per cent of the psychologists and social workers salaries up to $10,000, the salaries asked by most qualified applicants are prohibitive, Hurst said.

As written the project requires two psychologists and one social worker for implementation. The district currently has one qualified psychological tester who may be used as a school psychologist. The three counselors would spend about half of their time on the project, Hurst said, and about half working at large in the school district.

"Every learner needs to improve a good self-image, make his own decisions and be responsible for them," the report says. "The school's responsibility is to provide an avenue for making the decision," it says.

The project is innovative in that it will involve teachers and counselors as well as parents in a goal-setting process. Each student will set goals for himself with the help of the three.

Classes will be set up, in whole or in part, to discuss goals and self-concepts with the students. Recurring parent clinics will be set up where everyone will get together and go over the program. Teachers will use their training in daily class situations.

The exact nature of the program's implementation has not been outlined, Hurst said, pending the hiring of the psychologist.

The project, the only one of its kind in the state, has been budgeted for $18,500 in government funds for the Raft River project this fall.

If this program succeeds, it will be implemented in Burley schools the following year with a budget of $91,850. The following year it will be taken to Declo and Oakley schools with $39,450 in government funds.

If the project fails or is unable to get off the ground in Raft River this fall, it will be dropped.

The project originated with the district administration and a community advisory committee composed of counselors, principals, teachers and parents last fall.
