Summit brings no-war vow

Senate OK's clean water bill

WASHINGTON (UPI) — The Senate today passed a stringent clean water bill to require the states to establish minimum federal drinking water standards.

The bill would set up a special clean water office within the Environmental Protection Agency to prescribe maximum limits for contaminants in water, and to set standards for the operation and maintenance of drinking water systems and testing procedures.

The states primarily would be responsible for enforcing the standards to be set by EPA. The EPA can step in if states fail to act in case of "imminent hazard" to public drinking water.

Caroline on Tennessee visit

KNOXVILLE, Tenn. (UPI) — Caroline Kennedy, 15, daughter of President John F. Kennedy, is visiting medical clinics in Campbell County near here.

The visit was the second by Miss Kennedy in about a month. Sources reported she will serve as a social worker in some area of the country during the summer.

Pope asks Catholic unity

VATICAN CITY (UPI) — Pope Paul VI urged liberal and conservative factions in the Roman Catholic Church today to overcome "divisions, misunderstandings and mutual suspicions" and give an example of unity and love to a troubled world.

Addressing cardinals who congratulated him on the 10th anniversary of his election, the 75-year-old pontiff said the state of the world was such that "there would be reason to tremble" if it were not for God's help.

French N-test halt asked

THE HAGUE (UPI) — The International Court of Justice asked France today to suspend nuclear testing in the South Pacific, but the French government denied the world court's jurisdiction in the case.

In an eight to six vote, the court said "the French government should avoid nuclear tests causing the deposit of radioactive fallout on Australian territory."

Former Irish coach Leahy dies

PORTLAND, Ore. (UPI) — Frank Leahy, who coached Notre Dame to seven unbroken seasons in football, died Thursday after a five-year battle against leukemia and other ailments. He was 64.

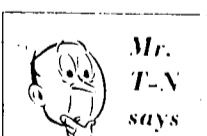

(Story, p. 17)
Leahy coached the Fighting Irish to an 87-11-9 record from 1941 to 1954, with the exception of 1944-45, when he was in the Navy. Before going to Notre Dame, he coached Boston College to a 20-2 record.

Postal rate hike panel passes

WASHINGTON (UPI) — The House Post Office Committee has sent to the floor a bill increasing second and fourth class postal rates gradually over the next 10 years.

Approved by a 13-10 vote, the increases for second class rates for magazines and newspapers and fourth class books and records are based on a percentage of the regular rate and the number of pieces mailed.

California's heat wave should thaw out Comrade Brezhnev over more than his Washington visit

Norway sets Korean tie

OSLO (UPI) — Norway and North Korea have agreed to establish diplomatic relations at ambassadorial level, the Norwegian foreign ministry said today.

A foreign ministry spokesman said that Norway's ambassador in Peking will be accredited in Pyongyang.

"It is not decided when the ambassador will be accredited here," he said.

Drug called depression aid

NEW YORK (UPI) — A new drug, lithium carbonate, has eliminated the need for electroshock therapy in most cases of manic depression, a researcher told the American Medical Association Thursday.

Dr. Ronald Fieve, New York, said the drug allows the family physician to treat the illness. He said about 50,000 of the 6 million Americans afflicted with the illness are now receiving the drug.

WASHINGTON (UPI) — President Nixon and Soviet leader Leonid I. Brezhnev pledged today to avoid military confrontations and threats of force that might lead to nuclear war between their two nations.

In a policy declaration, the leaders of the two nuclear superpowers agreed to "immediately enter into urgent consultations with each other" should the risk of a nuclear conflict arise.

Nixon and Brezhnev signed the agreement — the eighth since the start of their summit talks — in a ceremony in the East Room of the White House a few hours before their scheduled departure aboard the presidential jetliner for San Clemente, Calif., for the conclusion of their week-long conference.

In the agreement, the two leaders promised that the United States and the Soviet Union "will not in such a manner as to prevent the development of situations capable of causing a dangerous exacerbation of their relations, as to avoid military confrontations, and to exclude the outbreak of nuclear war between them and between either of the parties and other countries."

The accord also calls for the signatories to proceed from the premise that each will refrain "from the threat or use of force against the other party, against the allies of the other party, and against other countries, in circumstances which may endanger international peace and security."

In advance of the signing, Nixon briefed congressional leaders of both parties on the declaration, which is a statement of policy not a treaty — and therefore does not require Senate ratification.

Presidential adviser Henry A. Kissinger said the intent of the doctrine was "to prevent the outbreak of nuclear war."

Kissinger said steps toward the agreement began at the end of the Moscow summit meeting between Nixon and Brezhnev in May, 1972. Kissinger said the accord "can be a significant landmark in relations between the two great nuclear powers."

The accord, effective immediately, is of unlimited duration and both parties said nothing in it would affect or impair the right of individual or collective self-defense under the U.N. Charter or separate treaty obligations, such as those the United States has as a member of NATO.

Kissinger said the declaration is a "formal obligation" on the part of the United States and the Soviet Union "to practice restraint in diplomacy and to build a peace that is permanent."

Threat nets Hunt payoff of $72,000

(c) New York Times Service

WASHINGTON — E. Howard Hunt Jr. received a final cash payment of $72,000 in mid-March after he had warned John D. Ehrlichman that he was ready to "tell all" about the White House operations against Dr. Daniel Ellsberg in 1971, sources close to the Watergate case said Thursday.

The warning, the sources said, was included in a letter that Hunt sent to John W. Dean III, the former White House counsel, for relay to Ehrlichman, then President Nixon's domestic affairs adviser.

"He said 'pass this along to Ehrlichman,'" according to a person who has seen the message. This source added that Hunt, who was given a provisional 35-year jail term on March 23 for his role in the Watergate break-in in June, 1972, demanded a payment of $72,000 for himself and $50,000 for attorney fees.

A few days before the letter was sent, another source said, Hunt told a former White House official that he was planning to write a book about Watergate unless he got more money. The Washington Post reported last week that the former Central Intelligence Agency official had received more than $200,000 at the time of his renewed request.

Hunt, along with G. Gordon Liddy, the leader of the Watergate break-in team has been linked to the attempted burglary of the Los Angeles office of Ellsberg's psychiatrist in September, 1971. At the time, the two men were members of a special investigations unit that was set up under Ehrlichman inside the White House after the publication of the Pentagon papers in June, 1971.

On Sunday, the New York Times reported Dean was prepared to tell the Senate Watergate committee in his televised testimony that he was told that Nixon had authorized the break-in of the offices of Ellsberg's psychiatrist.

Agency conflicts occupy CAA board

TWIN FALLS — Conflicts with the Idaho Office on Aging were the main issues discussed at a Community Action Agency board meeting last night, according to CAA director Bob Russell.

Russell said today the CAA board instructed the staff to set up a meeting during the second week of August among various CAP representatives throughout the state and Office of Aging Director Kay Fell. The board also asked that a representative of the governor's office be invited to attend the meeting.

Response by Nixon necessity

(c) Washington Star-News
WASHINGTON — Sen. Howard H. Baker Jr. declared again today his independence of the White House on the Watergate investigation.

He said that at some point President Nixon was going to have to respond to questions raised at the Senate hearings.

Baker, senior Republican member of the investigating committee, said there was a substantial question of whether Nixon was involved in the Watergate affair and that the committee expected to reach a "definitive" conclusion on that.

Baker apparently felt compelled to assert his independence because there has been some innuendo in recent leaks and counterleaks of private Senate testimony that he has been in consultation with the White House on the conduct of the investigation.

Russell said his agency was just not "able to work" with the IOA. He said problems have repeatedly been encountered in making grant applications and funding senior citizens programs.

Russell said CAA ordered a bus eight weeks ago for the senior citizen program in Kippberly for which funding had been approved. He said this morning the IOA turned down CAP's monthly funding request "because we have too much money on hand."

According to Russell, the IOA has also made impossible demands for application information which does not come under CAA responsibilities but rather the responsibilities of IOA itself.

Russell said the problems with IOA were "in contrast to almost every other Idaho agency."

He said the human factor was not taken into account by IOA. "I just don't think they know how to work a great deal with people," he said.

Back to Earth

Astros return safely

ABOARD USS TICONDEROGA (UPI) — Skylab's astronauts landed in "super shape" in the Pacific Ocean today and walked shakily a few minutes later to the doctors' office to see how well they had withstood a record 28 days in space.

The bullseye splashdown and quick recovery by this veteran aircraft carrier marked a flawless end to a mission that started with failure. The flight took a major step toward giving man a place in space.

Charles "Pete" Conrad, Joseph P. Kerwin and Paul J. Weitz returned in the Apollo command ship in which they were launched May 25. The big space station remained in earth-orbit, ready for its next crew in five weeks.

President Nixon quickly sent a telegram to the men who had just completed an 11.5 million mile journey and invited them to visit him at San Clemente, Calif., Sunday.

"You have given conclusive evidence that even with the most advanced scientific and technological support in the world, the courage and resourcefulness of good men are still central to the success of the human adventure," the President said.

Conrad, commander of the nation's first space station mission, reassured recovery forces several times that he and his crewmen were all right after the strenuous re-entry which quickly built up deceleration forces 3 1/2 times the force of gravity.

"Everybody's in super shape," Conrad radioed after three orange and white striped parachutes eased the command module into the gently rolling seas of the Pacific 834 miles southwest of San Diego.

"Everybody's in super shape," Conrad radioed after three orange and white striped parachutes eased the command module into the gently rolling seas of the Pacific 834 miles southwest of San Diego. The splashdown drama was captured by television cameras and beamed back by satellite.

The spacecraft was hoisted aboard this ship with the pilots still inside, a switch from past procedures made to keep the astronauts' exertion to a minimum. Medics were ready to carry Conrad, Kerwin and Weitz on stretchers, if necessary, from their scorched capsule to the blue mobile medical laboratories 66 feet away.

N-arms statement sign of optimism

WASHINGTON (UPI) — The Soviet-American statement on further limitation of offensive nuclear weapons appears more an expression of mutual optimism and good intentions than a realistic report on where the talks stand now and how they can be given more momentum.

That was the view Thursday by some diplomatic officials, foreign and domestic, who are not engaged in the process of trying to make the current U.S.-Soviet summit conference appear as successful as possible.

Administration officials acknowledge the vagueness of some of the wording in the statement. However, they contend that the important ingredient which assures ultimate success is the close relationship of trust which has been built up between President Nixon and Soviet leader Leonid I. Brezhnev during the past couple of years.

The document the two leaders signed is entitled "Basic Principles of Negotiations on the Further Reduction of Strategic Offensive Arms." It contains nothing of substance which was not included in the interim agreement on limiting offensive weapons which was signed a year ago in Moscow at the time the two nuclear superpowers hammered out a formal treaty limiting defensive nuclear weapons.

However, the Thursday statement did set a target date of 1974 for completing a formal treaty on offensive nuclear weapons, whereas the interim agreement signed a year ago gave them up to five years to achieve this.

Idaho CAP wing lauded

By GEORGE WILEY
Times-News writer

TWIN FALLS — The national commander of the Civil Air Patrol said Thursday the Idaho wing of the volunteer agency is "strong and a good outfit."

Brij, Gen. USAF Leslie J. Westbury, national commander of the CAP, was in Twin Falls Thursday as part of a continuing national tour of regional CAP headquarters.

Westbury said the CAP is a private volunteer agency which receives no direct government funding. CAP does receive materials from the Air Force during search and rescue operations, he said. Government surplus noncombat military equipment is also funneled to the agency, he added.

Westbury said the Civil Air Patrol handles 70 per cent of the rescue operations in the U.S. annually. The 60,000 national members flew more than 27,000 hours in rescue work last year, he said, operating more than 14,000 aircraft, most of them privately owned.

Westbury said CAP operates four aircraft in Idaho, with an additional 50 planes owned privately by member. Three of the CAP planes in Idaho are currently equipped with direction finders to locate signals from downed aircraft, he said. The fourth will soon be so equipped.

By next year FAA requirements will call for the placement of an emergency transmitting device in all aircraft, Westbury said. He said this would make search and rescue operations much quicker with the use of the direction finders.

In addition to search and rescue work, CAP runs aerospace education programs in public schools throughout the country and also has a leadership building cadet program, the General said.

He said the upcoming switch to an all-volunteer army, navy and air force would place greater emphasis on CAP cadet squads and college ROTC units as pools from which to draw voluntary military personnel.

Westbury said the CAP has overall "the greatest communications capability that I have ever seen." He said 70 per cent of CAP members are not pilots, but many are radio operators and also participate in other aspects of coordinating, rescue and disaster assistance.

Westbury is a former fighter and bomber pilot. He served in World War II, the Korean War and the Vietnam War. He is a former chief of staff of the 7th Air Force, which he said was the chief coordinating agent for Indochina operations.

McClure urges expansion plan

WASHINGTON — (UPI) — Sen. James A. McClure Thursday urged the expansion of proposed private property regulations in the Sawtooth National Recreation Area "to help create the smoothest possible transition."

McClure, in a letter to Forest Service chief John McCuire said the regulations ought to reflect the agreement by the Forest Service that properties condemned for non-complying use or for aesthetic reasons could be directly exchanged for federal lands located in more suitable areas within the NRA.

McClure said he was "puzzled" by the lack of any reference to the exchange concept in the published regulation proposals.

Hansen Postmaster Lena Bohrn to retire

Hansen woman retires after 34 years on job

HANSEN — Lena Bohrn will complete her career as postmaster of Hansen on June 30.

She is retiring from the position after 34 years as Hansen postmaster which began July 25, 1939, when her appointment was signed by then President Roosevelt. She has held the position continuously since that time. Although she lived in Hansen at one time, she has moved back to Twin Falls, driving daily to the post office.

Ms. Bohrn's desk name plate is still in a plastic container, and she laughingly explains it was just given her a few weeks ago.

"After 34 years they finally sent it now that I am retiring," she said, "but I think I'll take it home as a memento."

She admits she has to know just about every family in Hansen but says the past few years have seen a number of new names in the community and it is getting more and more difficult to remember where everyone gets his or her mail.

Ms. Bohrn and Ruth Wright began work in the Hansen Post Office at the same time. Mrs.

Wright retired in 1967. There are now three others working out of the Hansen post office, Vernon E. Smith, mail carrier, and Mrs. Bernice Simmons and Mrs. Nadine Froehlich. Mrs. Simmons will serve as postmaster until an appointment is made.

Ms. Bohrn moved back to Twin Falls where she was born, to care for her father, Michael Bohrn, now 94. She first moved to Hansen in 1934 to work for the late Peter Link, Sr., at the Independent Warehouse. When the vacancy at the postoffice developed Howard Walker, a friend, suggested she take the exam and she received the appointment.

"Although the population in Hansen has declined, mail volume has increased."

"Especially the third class mail I can remember when we had one small sack of third class mail a day and now there are several. Magazines are getting smaller, and this will reduce the amount some," she said.

Active in the Royal Neighbors, Ms. Bohrn plans to continue participating in the organization as well as TOPS and Modern Woodmen. She served two terms on the Hansen school board.

After retirement, she said she also hopes to travel and participate in Idaho Traveler Association tours.

Being a postmaster — there are no longer such things as postmistresses — is not always easy. The postmaster is expected to work until the office closed. She has been reporting for work by 7 a.m. and working until 5 p.m. or later.

There are such extra jobs as finding out the proper place to deliver a letter addressed to just "Grandma" or to a guest in a certain home in Hansen when only the guest's name is given.

"I guess the patrons do get better service in a small town where the postmaster or postal workers know everyone. We are more apt to know whose grandchildren are writing to their grandmother from a certain town in California than a postal worker would in a large city," she said.

Nuclear arms document tells good intentions

On the face of it, and in view of the lack of progress on the offensive treaty during the past six months of negotiations, it appeared Nixon and Brezhnev had simply saddled their negotiations with the additional problem of trying to solve their differences in an unrealistic limited period of time. If there is a more charitable interpretation, it was not apparent in the document itself.

The new document talks about not only limitation on the quantities of offensive strategic nuclear weapons but also about restrictions on their "quantitative improvement."

This was not unexpected, since presidential adviser Henry A. Kissinger said at a briefing in Moscow a year ago that he expected the Russians would be able, during the time before a formal treaty was achieved, to master the technique of putting multiple warheads on a single missile. This technique has given the United States a great lead in this respect and enables it at present to actually deploy about three times as many offensive nuclear weapons as the Russians on an equal number of missiles.

Military and diplomatic experts said it was obvious that Russia would insist on a treaty giving it considerable latitude to improve the "quality" of its offensive nuclear weapons by putting multiple warheads on them, despite any limitation or reduction of the number of missiles bearing the warheads.

This, they said, was going to make for extremely difficult negotiations, no matter how much good will was exhibited at the gala signing ceremony in the White House Blue Room.

Another troublesome element would appear to involve the question of how to make certain that the Russians are abiding by any "qualitative limitations" on their weapons.

Nixon, in the new statement of principles, agreed that any limitations on strategic offensive arms, qualitative as well as quantitative, "must be subject to adequate verification by national technical means."

This means that there can be no inspections carried out by either party on the territory of the other. If the agreement will work, it must presume that U.S. spy satellites — which are permitted under the agreement — had somehow been given the capability to peer inside nuclear warheads and determine the state of the technique used in their manufacture.

TF zone change delayed

TWIN FALLS County Commissioners Thursday delayed until July 18 a decision on a zone change requested by the CUI rendering plant east of town.

The firm requested a zone change to permit expansion of their firm which is now in a non-conforming use of commercial in an agricultural zone.

Protests to the zone change were heard Thursday morning from a number of residents and one business in the east part of the city. Roy Roper told county commissioners his theater business is suffering and he is having to refund tickets to customers who become ill from the odor of the rendering plant.

New air pollution regulations have been prepared for the firm by the Department of Environmental and Community Services.

Commissioner Merl Leonard said the commission plans to hold up any decision to determine if the plant can and will meet these requirements before allowing the zone change.

Agency asks compliance over gas

BOISE — The Office of Oil and Gas has asked the Fearless Farris Stinker Stations to comply with voluntary gasoline allocation guidelines.

The request for compliance follows a complaint by independent Twin Falls gasoline retailer Joe Clements that Stinker is pumping gas in its own stations that rightfully should be sold to Clements under the voluntary allocation procedures.

In a letter dated June 19, Eugene W. Standley, regional representative for the Office of Oil and Gas in San Francisco, calls on Stinker to make the voluntary allocation, or "elect not to participate" in the voluntary allocation program, "in which case I will make a recommendation to Washington, D.C. for a hearing and issuance of a mandatory order on your company."

Under the voluntary guidelines gasoline wholesalers are asked to allocate 70 per cent of last year's sales to each customer.

Clements has argued that while he received no gas directly from Stinker last year he did receive it indirectly through Carey, broker, A. L. Taylor, who bought from Stinker which in turn bought from Little America Refining Co.

In an earlier letter to the Office of Oil and Gas, Neal R. Olson, Stinker vice president said that Stinker had been cut off by Phillips Petroleum and therefore needed all its Little America allocation to serve its own stations. Olson said gas had been sold to Taylor last year on a "spot basis" only when Stinker had a surplus.

In his response, Standley wrote Olson "what Phillips elects to do in the Voluntary Petroleum Allocation Program does not set your company's policy as far as we (Office of Oil and Gas) are concerned. You will have to make your own choice to participate or not to participate."

Standley wrote Olson that

Stinker had been identified as the member of the "supply chain" from Little America to Clements which was not "sharing the supply in accordance with the provisions" of the allocation program.

"You have stated that you were selling to Mr. A. L. Taylor," Standley wrote Olson, "Obviously from your Little America supply, therefore, he is entitled to a 70 per cent portion of the quantities you furnished him during the corresponding quarters of the base period. In turn he will have to furnish Mr. Clements with 70 per cent of the amount he furnished in the base period."

Jury Tampering

In a sort of now-it-can-be-told story, five social scientists have revealed how they conducted a pretrial survey which is credited with helping defense lawyers win a mistrial in the celebrated trial of antiwar priest Phillip Berrigan on charges that he and seven others conspired to kidnap presidential adviser Henry Kissinger and blow up heating ducts in Washington.

They therefore stressed to defense counsel the importance of questioning the jury panel for as long as possible, getting unfavorable people rejected for "cause" and holding out for "the statistically rare but desirable people sketched by our survey findings."

Anticipating charges that their behavior was improper, the sociologists emphasize that they sought basically to help the defense overcome the handicap imposed by the Justice Department's move to bring its indictment in Harrisburg — a community that has three Republicans for every two Democrats, several military installations and war-related industries and an active KuKlux Klan.

For whatever reasons, the social scientists write in Psychology Today magazine, "bad" defense jurors seemed more likely than "good" ones to opt out of jury service by stating the escape formula, "I have formed an opinion."

The researchers in fact found that 80 per cent of the residents polled trusted their government, a figure far higher than the national average of 40 to 45 per cent.

The value of the pretrial survey — which cost a mere $450 — is shown not only by the votes for acquittal but by the fact that it came despite the later-revealed dislike of the jurors for chief-defense attorney Ramsey Clark and their sympathy for the outnumbered prosecution attorneys.

Should Nixon Go Public?

(c) Field Enterprises WASHINGTON — While President Nixon deals at the summit with Soviet leader Leonid Brezhnev, the subterranean conflict inside the White House over how he should deal with Watergate has broken out again.

the President must hold his press conference. Colson's support for that policy is strongly backed by virtually every elected party officeholder, and many non-elected party operatives, he has discussed it with.

Moreover, although not all public opinion polls agree, some samples indicate the existence of a comparatively high sympathy quotient for Mr. Nixon, despite a widespread feeling that he knew far more about the Watergate cover-up than he has so far admitted.

The cancer in the music business is not in padded expense accounts, and the puny-stricken men who head CBS today know it; the cancer is what killed singers James Joplin and Jimi Hendrix — the new currency of the record industry, hard drugs.

Richard Salant, president of CBS News, would win plaudits by putting the heat on Sen. John Pastore and Rep. Harley Staggers, whose committees have obviously been failing in their responsibilities to oversee this partially regulated industry.

Singular Trend

So marriage-minded has American society been traditionally that it comes as somewhat of a surprise to learn that one out of every three adult Americans is single — a total of 43 million.

Of this number, 22 million have never been married. An almost equal number, 21 million, have been married but through divorce or widowhood are again single.

Taxpayers foot education bill for some Gem aides

By RICHARD CHARNOCK
BOISE (UPI) — State employes in at least two major agencies are able to continue their education at taxpayers' expense and some day all state employes may be able to enjoy this privilege.

A spot check with the Departments of Education and Environmental and Community Services showed Thursday that both — and DECS' predecessor agencies — have had continuing education policies for several years.

Similar privileges for all other executive agencies of state government are being considered by the department of administrative services for possible recommendation to the governor.

Both education and DECS believe it is in the interest of the state that their employes improve their skills and, when desirable, advance to more responsible positions through continuing education.

A statement put forth by the State Board of Education Sept. 1, 1971, said the board's policy

"is for its employes to receive training in the knowledges and skills required to perform their duties or to advance to more responsible positions, that they may serve the state and the public with maximum effectiveness."

Dr. James A. Bax, administrator of DECS, puts it another way.

"Just like business we can attract people when we can show them they can continue their education.

But, he added, "It must not only be of benefit to the individual but a distant benefit to the agency."

Both agencies said the advanced studies also must be job-related.

"An accountant couldn't take a class in ceramics," Jerry Armstrong, DECS personnel officer, said.

Education and DECS as well as other agencies conduct in-service training for their employes and the personnel commission conducts a special supervisory training course periodically.

But both education and DECS also provide for educational leave so that professional staff employes may work for college degrees. They also have programs of clerical training whereby they pay for a tutor and/or allow employes to spend part of their workdays improving their skills through classroom training at colleges or business schools.

During the past three years at least five employes of the education department have received doctorate degrees under the continuing education policy of the State Board of Education. Key personnel in DECS have received masters' or Ph.D. degrees.

Such advanced degrees obtained with the help of tax dollars often lead to increased pay and responsibility.

Professional leave for education department employes is limited to persons with at least two years of service in the department in a professional or technical position. Those in DECS must be "permanent" employes who have completed probationary periods.

Those chosen for the education department's program are culled from candidates on the basis of the promise of personal professional improvement and potential benefit to the department. Those chosen for such training by DECS, Bax said, are picked on merit by a panel of top administrative personnel.

In many cases, Bax said, it is advantageous to train personnel for jobs difficult to fill — such as social psychologists.

Staff members on professional leave from the department of education may be paid a full salary for one half of a calendar year or one-half year's salary for a full year while attending classes.

Salary policy varies from person to person in DECS, Bax said, and can range from leave without pay to leave with full pay. He said often the question is settled by "negotiation."

Educational department policy also provides for reimbursement of education employes for training costs — including tuition, registration, laboratory and other required fees.

In addition, it covers the normal fringe benefits — such as insurance and retirement — when a staff member is on professional leave. Certain salary seniority benefits also accrue to the staff member while on professional leave but sick leave and annual leave do not.

Bax said his agency also pays tuition for staff members on educational leave.

At present, DECS is attempting to bring together by July 1 three different educational leave policies, Bax said. These are the policies of the old health and welfare departments and the youth training center which were merged to form DECS.

Bax said the department receives 75 per cent federal matching funds for advanced studies by personnel in the social services field. The state puts up the other 25 per cent.

Those who go after advanced degrees on leave, Bax said, must agree to work for the agency for two years upon completion of the study program or reimburse the state what it has paid out.

E. Europeans have mixed views of summitry

By PHIL NEWSOM
UPI Foreign News Analyst

East European communist bloc nations view the Nixon-Brezhnev talks with mixed feelings.

On the one hand improved relations between the United States and the Soviet Union opens the way for them to improve their own economies and standards of living through increased access to Western products and know-how.

On the other hand are the misgivings shared by the Soviet Union itself over the effects on their own populations of increased contacts with Western ideas and peoples.

Among the small nations there also is the fear that the Russians may be bartering away to the United States and West Germany some of the oil and other materials upon which they have come to depend for their own economic planning.

A case in point is the huge Occidental Petroleum-El Paso Gas project covering export of Siberian gas.

Within the bloc Hungary has almost no raw materials of its own and depends upon the Soviet Union for up to 90 per cent of its supplies. The Hungarians are now planning for beyond 1980 and are pressing the Russians for estimates of what they can expect.

On the other side of the coin is a statement issued in the name of COMECON, the Communist bloc's trade organization, after a meeting in Prague early this month.

Member countries confirmed their willingness to develop economic relations with other countries, regardless of their social and state systems on the basis of equality, mutual advantage, and non-interference in internal affairs," the statement said.

Analysis

Beneath the cautious wording was a new willingness to enter into cooperative projects with the Western nations.

West Germany, France and Italy already have investments in some bloc nations and are planning to invest in others.

But, while eager for expanded economic relations, the Communists also are throwing up what safeguards they can against an invasion of Western ideas.

At a meeting in Warsaw in May, Konstantin Katushev, a trusted lieutenant of Brezhnev, called for "complete ideological and organizational coordination" within the bloc against dissidents and revisionists at home.

Similar calls came from other speakers and suggested the fears not only were concerned with Western ideas but also with a growth of Maoism among the younger workers.

It will be a subject of major debate at next month's European security conference in Helsinki.

Changes mind

JACKSON, Miss. (UPI) — A robber got $35 from the manager of a curb grocery Wednesday, then changed his mind.

The manager said the man — armed with a pistol — threw the money back, saying he didn't want it.

That incident and two successful store robberies occurred within a one-hour period. Police said the same man could have been the handit.

Baby abandoned

PATROLMAN John Raetzman holds an hours-old baby boy he and his partner found in a garbage can in an alley on Chicago's west side Thursday. They took the child to Illinois Masonic Hospital where doctors estimated the child was only one hour old when found. The child is in excellent condition. If the parents are not located the baby will be offered for adoption. (UPI)

Martha says John covers for Nixon

WASHINGTON (UPI)—Martha Mitchell said today her husband John Mitchell would go to jail for Richard Nixon.

"He's protecting the President of the United States," she declared in an early morning telephone conversation.

Mrs. Mitchell said she had a number of "reasons" to express these views but she declined to be specific.

"I don't know why, but maybe it's because he had so much faith in Nixon, even after all this," she said.

Mrs. Mitchell declined to say from where she was calling. Thursday, she was seen leaving her New York City apartment house with travel luggage. Mitchell apparently stayed behind.

As to how her husband is bearing up after being implicated in the Watergate scandal, Mrs. Mitchell said, "He's a hurt person. My husband had more integrity on Wall Street than anyone else. He feels everybody's got their tail between their legs and is running now."

She said her husband had lost a "helluva lot of weight" in the past few months, and had been preparing for his defense.

She once again said she would be "perfectly willing" to testify before the Watergate investigating committee, but added "they don't want me." Mrs. Mitchell said that "anyone who says my husband was fired" from the Committee to Re-elect the President is wrong. "He quit because of me," she said.

She recalled that when her husband went to the Westchester Country Club in Rye, N.Y., to bring her back to Washington last June after she had given him an ultimatum to quit politics, they sat down together and drew up a list of six names of possible candidates to replace him as Nixon's campaign manager. She said Nixon telephoned "and tried to make me feel better."

"My husband talked to the President by telephone every night when he was in Washington—when he was attorney general and when he was at the committee," she said.

She also disclosed that Mitchell "still takes up" for H.R. Haldeman, the dismissed White House chief of staff. John D. Ehrlichman, Nixon's former domestic adviser, she said, however "was so nasty to John, it was unbelievable."

Because of Ehrlichman, Mrs. Mitchell said, her husband wanted to quit as head of the Justice Department two years after he was in office. "I persuaded him to stay on because I thought he was doing a good job," she said.

Wreckage examined

PARIS (UPI)—A Soviet cargo plane left for Moscow today with three tons of wreckage from the supersonic Tupolev 144 which crashed during the Paris International Air Show June 3.

A French inquiry commission finished its examination of the debris so it was shipped to Moscow where a Soviet inquiry commission will study it, a spokesman at the Soviet embassy said.

Minibus death probes to start

FORT PIERCE, Fla. (UPI)—The Coast Guard convened a board of three officers today to investigate the deaths of two of four crewmen trapped more than 30 hours in a minibus off Key West.

Today's meeting at the Fort Pierce Smithsonian Institution offices coincided with scheduled memorial services in nearby

Vero Beach for the victims of the underwater tragedy. E. Clayton Link, 31, and Albert Stavor, 51. The two survivors, Dr. Robert Meek, 27, and Archibald "Jack" Menzies, were asked to be among the witnesses questioned by the Coast Guard investigators.

Strauss denies Cuban payments to Democrats

WASHINGTON (UPI)—Robert S. Strauss, chairman of the Democratic National Committee, has given sworn testimony in which he termed "ridiculous" the notion that the Castro government in Cuba gave money to the Democratic presidential campaign.

Strauss thus denied one of the premises of the Watergate bugging. Some of the convicted conspirators, including Bernard L. Barker, have said they were looking for evidence to back up reports of such Cuban payments.

"I thought it was the most ridiculous suggestion that I believe I have ever heard, and I know of no money like that that came in," Strauss said in a pretrial deposition in connection with his committee's $6.4 million civil suit against the Republicans for damages resulting from the bugging.

Meanwhile, a furor was growing on Capitol Hill over the latest round of news leaks in the Watergate case, many of them involving testimony secretly given by former Presidential Counsel John W. Dean III, who testifies in public next week.

Senate Democratic leader Mike Mansfield urged the Watergate committee to adopt "stricter procedures" to prevent leaks of preliminary testimony. Senate Republican leader Hugh Scott charged that "a great many people" were waging "separate campaigns" to their own ends through "manipulation of leaks."

A Watergate committee member, Sen. Lowell P. Weicker Jr., R-Conn., said in a television interview (with Martin Agronsky) that a conspiracy was afoot to discredit Dean's testimony in advance.

One set of documents recently leaked involved a White House summary making Dean appear as the prime person covering up the scandal. Other leaked information concerned reported testimony by Dean that he borrowed Republican campaign money to finance his honeymoon.

There were these related developments:

—Thomas F. McBride, one of the Watergate special prosecutors, said a separate grand jury might be convened to probe campaign financing. He and his staff are looking into allegations that Republican officials drew up a list of corporations which had problems with the government and then went after them for campaign contributions.

Amtrak extension block threatened

WASHINGTON (UPI)—Sen. Vance Hartke, D-Ind., has threatened to block a pending two-year extension of Amtrak, apparently in an effort to force the corporation to extend its passenger train routes.

Hartke, chairman of the Senate Surface Transportation subcommittee, said he had reached agreement with House Commerce Committee chairman Harley O. Staggers, D-W.Va., not to allow the bill to come to a vote in the House until Amtrak provides some —Sen. Barry M. Goldwater, R-Ariz., elder statesman of conservative Republicans, said that if Democrats had done the burglary and bugging, the press would have called it "cute" rather than criminal. "The press never goes after those things when it concerns a Democrat," he said in Indianapolis. He also said Republicans should stick by Nixon unless it is "proved beyond any question of a doubt" he was involved.

—Publishers of a book by convicted Watergate conspirator James W. McCard, to come out in July or August, said it will implicate President Nixon.

—The St. Louis Post Dispatch said the mysterious spy referred to in Senate hearings as "Sedan Chair" was Michael W. McMinuwahy, a Louisville, Ky., private detective and that he was employed by the Nixon campaign to spy on Democrats.

satisfactory answers about its route expansion policies.

Staggers could not be reached for comment immediately.

However, the chairman of the House Transportation subcommittee, Rep. John Jarman, D-Okla., said he had heard of no such arrangement and, "I don't think we're in a position to dictate routes to Amtrak." Rep. Brock Adams, D-Wash., influential in transportation matters, said he had not heard of the arrangement in advance and did not go along with it.

Police battle Paris students

PARIS (UPI)—Riot police battled thousands of crash-helmeted leftist students Thursday night in the 93rd and most violent mass demonstration in Paris this year. Authorities said at least 76 policemen were injured.

Students armed with iron bars and tossing Molotov cocktails fought for hours in the Latin Quarter with police who retaliated with tear gas volleys and club-swinging charges.

Officials said sixteen of the injured police were hospitalized, nine of them suffering burns, and 15 youths were arrested. Scores of demonstrators were injured, police said, but the exact number was not known.

Two police vans, a police bulldozer and six automobiles were set afire or damaged in the melee, witnesses said.

The main clash came on the Rue Monge where hundreds of youths wearing crash helmets and armed with axe handles, iron bars and bottles filled with gasoline—tossed firebombs at police from the street and from rooftops in a vain attempt to prevent a rally held by an extreme rightwing group, Ordre Nouveau (New Order).

The demonstrators, dispersed by thousands of police called to the riot area in scores of vans, failed to stop the New Order meeting and some 500 of their rightwing counterparts cheered speakers inside the police-ringed Mutualite Hall.

Interior Minister Raymond Marcellin said it was the 93rd mass demonstration of the year and police said it was by far the most violent.

Talks planned

TEL AVIV (UPI)—Foreign Minister Abba Eban is willing to meet with Egyptian officials for talks on solving the Middle East crisis, a government statement said Thursday.

The foreign ministry, replying to remarks made by Egyptian Foreign Minister Mohammed el-Zayyat, said Eban would be willing to meet the Egyptian official in the presence of U.N. envoy Gunnar V. Jarring so long as Cairo did not set prior conditions for the talks.

By prior conditions, a foreign ministry spokesman said, Israel meant that el-Zayyat would not use as a basis for the talks proposals made by Jarring as head of a peace-seeking mission created by the United Nations to end the Arab-Israeli dispute.

Bypass queried in Ketchum public meeting

KETCHUM — The need for a proposed four-lane highway bypass was questioned and use of a small high speed area rail transit system was recommended by the Ketchum Community Project.

The conclusions of the project were contained in a report issued at a public meeting Wednesday night.

Vhay said project traffic studies indicate a high volume of traffic coming into the downtown Ketchum area, a large volume destined for Sun Valley and a high volume destined for Warm Springs.

Traffic flows through the city destined north, which would warrant a bypass system as proposed by the highway department, Vhay said, were "fairly limited." Traffic projections, he said, also tended to "question the need for a four-lane highway."

Vhay said the project findings recommend the establishment of an area rail system utilizing a small, high speed unit. Proposed routing to facilitate the system would shift the present railroad line further east and would include a terminus near Sun Valley.

Vhay said factors which would warrant such a system would include the type of development occurring in the valley, possible fuel shortages and the high volume of traffic between Hailley and Ketchum.

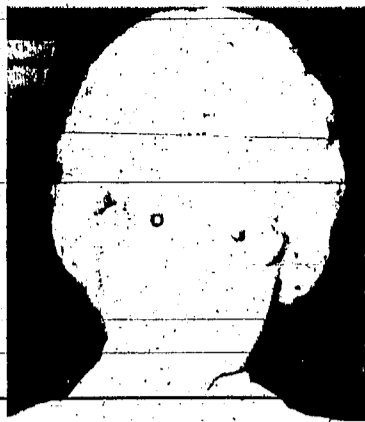

Possible uses for the rail line, Vhay said, would be transportation of school children; transportation of persons from the airport to recreational complexes; providing commuter service, and transportation of skiers to the various lift areas.

Further project proposals include: — Encourage concentration of development in bench areas. — "To every degree possible," retain flood plain areas for public use.

Vhay said the project recommended that the city initiate a land trust or land acquisition program, which could be partially funded by possible swapping or selling of city street land in areas where extension of the streets is unlikely.

— Encourage maintenance of a central city core business area.

— Delineate pedestrian and bicycle routes separate from vehicular traffic.

Retires after 19 years

MRS. LUELLE L. Kinsey, Lincoln County clerk-auditor for 19 years, has submitted her resignation effective Aug. 1. She says ill health has caused her to cut short this last four-year term of office. Mrs. Kinsey was honored at a reception at the courthouse.

4-H projects judged

TWIN FALLS — The Happy Go Lucky 4-H Club met Wednesday at the home of Christine Britt.

The flag salute was led by Marcia DePew and the 4-H pledge was led by Janet High. Christine Britt, teen leader, gave a demonstration on the difference between ironing and pressing, and on how to turn a corner. She also passed out "Know Your Sewing Machine Books."

Mrs. Helen Walker, home economist for Idaho Power Co., was special guest and evaluated the girls' cooking projects.

The next meeting will be Wednesday at the Britt home.

McCord's book says Nixon implicated

NEW YORK (UPI) — A book written by Watergate conspirator James McCord will implicate President Nixon in both the planning and the cover-up of the bugging operation to an extent which has so far not been revealed, McCord's publishers said Thursday.

The book, "Watergate Sanction," to be published in late

July or early August, will also provide details of how FBI efforts to get to the bottom of the affair were suppressed by the Justice Department, according to Edward Ublan, president of Exposition Press Inc., a New York publishing company.

In an interview with UPI, Ublan said the book would also describe efforts by top administration officials to make the CIA a scapegoat in the scandal. It would reveal more about the conspiracy, particularly Nixon's involvement in it, than did McCord's testimony in front of the Senate Watergate hearings, he said.

"McCord" was limited to answering questions in the Senate hearings. He was counter-punching and the Senate only peeled a few layers off the Watergate onion," he said. "The book, as far as McCord is concerned, will be a sworn testimony from him and tell the real story in all its detail."

Social Security bill under consideration

WASHINGTON (UPI) — Key Senate Democrats said Thursday they would try to attach an increase in Social Security benefits to a bill which must pass Congress by the end of this month.

One proposal under consideration called for increasing benefits for the 28 million recipients of Social Security by 7 per cent — roughly the amount of inflation that has occurred since last October's pre-election 20 per cent hike in benefits.

The Senate Finance Committee scheduled a meeting later in the day to consider the idea. Its chairman, Sen. Russell B. Long, D-La., endorsed the plan. Long and Sen. Abraham A. Ribicoff, D-Conn., who also announced that he was backing the move, said payroll taxes to finance the higher payments would not rise. Instead, the increase would be financed from the surplus in the Social Security trust fund.

Treasury Secretary George P. Shultz, testifying before the Senate committee on the debt ceiling, said the administration opposed a new Social Security increase on top of last year's "tremendous" boost. Other riders under consideration would:

— Require the Health, Education and Welfare Department to postpone new regulations covering social services, provided by the states largely with federal funds to help poor people stay off welfare. Under HEW's proposals, states would receive only $1.9 billion in the new fiscal year starting July 1 for social services. If the regulations were delayed, spending would rise to $2.5 billion.

— Alter a new program, which goes into effect Jan. 1, under which 6.2 million elderly, blind and disabled people receiving welfare are guaranteed federal minimum incomes.

Parma police arrest suspected burglar

PARMA (UPI) — Police and sheriff's deputies talked a suspected burglar into surrendering Thursday following an exchange in gunfire which caused more than $1,000 in damage to a Parma drugstore.

No one was injured. Canyon County sheriff's deputies said they arrested Anthony Thompson, 27, Parma, and booked him on a charge of first degree burglary.

Fourteen law enforcement officers from the county, Parma, and Caldwell surrounded the Seeley Drug Store after officers received a report that the alarm had gone off in the store.

Shooting began when deputies arrived shortly before 5 a.m. and continued for 10 minutes. Officers used a public address system to talk the suspect into surrendering.

Officers said they found a box loaded with handguns just inside the store.

Youth team to visit TF

TWIN FALLS — A Lutheran Youth Alive team will visit Immanuel Lutheran Church June 27 — July 3.

The ten, composed of high school and college students, will lead the congregation in worship services, conduct Bible studies, listen to youth and parents, visit inactive community youth, and present a music and drama program during the week.

They will also conduct a similar program at St. John's Lutheran Church, Buhl, the week of July 4-10.

The purposes of the L-YA movement are:

To encounter nonbelievers with the claims of Jesus Christ.

To encourage and help young Christians to witness to their peers.

To confront Christian youth with Christ's call for a complete and unreserved dedication.

To provide Christian young people with the opportunity of using their talents in witnessing of their personal faith.

Eden man will attend confab

EDEN — Henry Schutte, Eden, will leave this week for New Orleans, La., where he will attend the 50th regular convention of the Lutheran Church-Missouri Synod.

Delegates will meet from July 6 to 13.

Schutte, a member of the Trinity Lutheran Church, will be one of 30 delegates representing the northwest district of the synod. States included in the northwest district are Alaska, Washington, Oregon and Idaho.

Major issues confronting the convention will be problems resulting from the controversy between the existing administration and the faculty at the St. Louis Seminary.

Basics in the conflict are matters relating to the understanding of the Bible and its interpretation.

Group formed

KIMBERLY — A high school youth group has been organized at the Kimberly Redeemer Lutheran Church.

The group decided to meet once a month during the months of June, July and August.

Rick Slevers has been elected temporary president with Mike Critchett and Mrs. Gerald Slevers serving as counselors.

Plans call for a bowling-pizza party Wednesday. The group will meet at 7:15 p.m. that day at the church.

Members include Tom Calvin, lead singer and manager; his wife, Karen, pianist; Dave Williams, tenor; Don Fee, baritone, and Dave Wynkoop, bass guitarist.

Song fest at Eden

EDEN — The Eden Seventh Day Adventist church plans to hold a song fest the last Saturday of each month throughout the summer.

Group singing and special numbers are presented during the session.

June 2 was the first of the song sessions. Pastor and Mrs. Kenneth Brown, Jerome, assisted local members and guests. Participants came from Filer, Twin Falls, Jerome, and Hazelton.

A potluck dinner is usually held at noon.

Services are held each Saturday morning and at 9:30 a.m. The public is invited to attend.

Filer LWML meets

FILER — Rev. T. D. Johnston presented the topic "Marriage to Peace Lutheran Woman's Missionary League members at their meeting in the church.

Mrs. Walter Mueller was in charge of the devotional service. Guests introduced included Mrs. Lowell Dier, Mrs. Elmer Dier, Mrs. Marvin Thrush, Mrs. Louis Kellogg, Mrs. Donald Puder and Tammy Allen.

The group made plans for a rummage sale in July or August. The league has placed 24 new hymn books in the church. The countries of Spain and Holland have been chosen to be highlighted at this fall's mission festival.

Mrs. Joyce Harding and Mrs. Paul Kalbfleisch were hostesses.

Sister school ends

SHOSHONE — Sister school ended today after two weeks of classes.

Sister Rosemary Boessen, RSM, Buhl, taught at the school, assisted by Mrs. Dale Harding, Mrs. Wilson Churchman and Brenda Hulbs.

Classes for children first grade through eighth grade were held from 1:30 to 3:30 p.m. each week day.

A picnic was held at the church grounds Friday afternoon, as a school-end event.

The Gallileans

Gallileans will sing Sunday

TWIN FALLS — The Gallileans, a group of vocalists from Boise, will appear at two Assemblies of God churches in Twin Falls Sunday.

They will sing at the 11 a.m. service at Faith Assembly of God Church and at 7:30 p.m. in a special youth night concert at the First Assembly of God Church, North Locust and Shoup Avenue East.

The group was formed in 1967 and has performed throughout Treasure Valley, Magic Valley and has made four tours of Eastern Oregon and the Northwest coast area.

Members include Tom Calvin, lead singer and manager; his wife, Karen, pianist; Dave Williams, tenor; Don Fee, baritone, and Dave Wynkoop, bass guitarist.

Leaders sustained

HUNT — New officers for the Hunt Ward LDS Relief Society were sustained in a Sacrament service at the church Sunday night.

Mrs. Marguerite Child is the new president, replacing Mrs. Viola Wagenman who has moved from the area. Her counselor are Mrs. Laura Wilding and Mrs. Beta Tarbet. Mrs. Gladys Butler was retained as secretary.

Briefs

SHOSHONE — The Rev. Father Juan Garateu, priest for St. Peter's Catholic Church, is taking a one-month vacation trip to Spain.

Mass is being recited at the church during his absence at 7:30 p.m. Saturdays and a m. Sundays by guest priests from the Twin Falls Priory.

Priest to talk

TWIN FALLS — Father Cosmas White, St. Benedict's Priory, will be the guest speaker at the 10 a.m. service Sunday at the First United Presbyterian Church.

Father White's sermon will be "Corpus Christi," with scriptures from the 10th chapter of the Book of Mark.

Special music for the service will be performed by Nancy Bonnett and Cathy Lynch, who will sing the duet "Master of Life."

The First United Presbyterian Church is located at the corner of 5th Ave. North and 2nd Street North.

Indians topic at Kimberly

KIMBERLY — United Methodist Women heard a program on the American Indian Wednesday afternoon at the church.

Mrs. Lavilla Legg gave the lesson with the assistance of Mrs. W. C. Kluttz, who spoke on her early experiences in Oklahoma Indian Territory, and Mrs. Mabel Helton, Mrs. Kluttz and Mrs. Edith Patterson were hostesses.

3 Filer boys get awards

FILER — Three Filer Boy Scouts received their God and Country awards during the Sunday morning worship service of the Filer United Methodist Church.

Rev. Donald Crego, pastor, presented the awards to Jesse Olson, son of Mr. and Mrs. William Olson; Bob Elliott, son of Mr. and Mrs. Bill Elliott, and Craig Lincoln, son of Mr. and Mrs. Wayne Lincoln.

Olson and Elliott are members of Boy Scout Troop 73 and Lincoln is a member of the Knoll Scout Troop 62. Pins were presented to Bill Elliott, scoutmaster of the Filer Troop, and Bob Toewe, scoutmaster of the Knoll unit. The mothers of the three boys were presented pins and corsages.

Pope Paul celebrates 10th year in top post

VATICAN CITY (UPI) — Giovanni Battista Montini quietly celebrated his 10th anniversary as Pope Paul VI today, looking back on a decade that perhaps saw greater change in the Roman Catholic church than in any other this century.

Montini began his reign just after noon June 21, 1963, when elected by the 80 cardinals who had gathered in the Vatican's Sixtine Chapel to decide on a successor to the throne of Peter.

mass below him and uttered his first benediction as Pope—"Sic nomen domini benedictum"—Blessed be the name of the Lord.

Then he gave the sign of the cross and left the balcony to return inside the Vatican. The pontificate of Pope Paul VI had begun.

It has been a period of introspection of the church, of dialogue, of travel and of difficulty for the spiritual leader of the more than half a billion Catholics in the world.

Paul made ecumenism one of his major goals and in the celebration of the 10th anniversary of his pontificate, he continues to stress that ecumenical spirit.

The actual celebration of the anniversary will come Saturday with the opening of a new branch of the Vatican museum, which will house gifts of art from the United States.

In the evening, famed conductor Leonard Bernstein will conduct a concert at which the New York Boys Choir will sing.

A crowd of thousands gathered below sent up a roar as the white smoke erupting from the roof of the chapel, signified a choice had been made.

Then, at 12:22 p.m., Montini stepped out on the balcony of St. Peter's Basilica to give his first blessing as the new pontiff.

Bedecked in white gowns and an embroidered stole, he raised both hands to the cheering

Pope Paul has been called too liberal by the conservatives and too conservative by the liberals.

Nonetheless, Paul went ahead with the Second Vatican Council begun by his predecessor, John XXIII. He traveled around the world in the early years and has started a major dialogue with other world religions and Communist nations.

Paul made ecumenism one of his major goals and in the celebration of the 10th anniversary of his pontificate, he continues to stress that ecumenical spirit.

Grace Baptists slate program

TWIN FALLS — A special program of sacred music will be presented at the Grace Baptist Church June 29 at 8 p.m.

Pastor Robert Seaman said one of four ensembles representing the Bob Jones University, now touring the country with a summer schedule will be at the local church for a Friday evening program.

The musical ensemble will sing special arrangements of familiar hymns and sacred classics. Members of the group are Kay Cornell, soprano; Angela Dominick, alto; Richard Stewart, tenor and pianist; Jay Martin Pinner, baritone and violinist; and Mrs. George Pritchard, pianist. Mr. Pritchard, who received the bachelor of arts degree in Bible in 1972 and is presently pursuing the master of arts degree in the School of Religion, will bring a short Gospel message.

Stewart, a sophomore, are sacred music majors; a music education major, Miss Dominick is a junior; Miss Cornell was graduated in May with a major in home economics; and Mrs. Pritchard is a member of the BYU faculty in the School of Fine Arts.

REV. EARL RIDDLE sets TF talk

Former TF cleric to speak

TWIN FALLS — The Rev. Earl Riddle, former pastor of the First United Methodist Church, will preach at the 9 and 11 a.m. services at the church July 1.

Rev. Riddle served at the church in Twin Falls from 1960 to 1965. He is now currently director of the Oregon-Idaho Conference.

Church briefs

Land definition covers all Idaho

BOISE (UPI) — An Idaho Mining Association official Thursday told a legislative interim committee that one definition contained in proposed land use planning would cover all the land in the state.

Al Teske, executive secretary for the mining association, said the definition for lands of critical concern stipulates the lands must have natural, historical or archeological value.

According to Teske, there is "not an inch of Idaho that couldn't be classified as an area of critical concern under that definition."

He also said the proposed legislation probably would be dealing "almost exclusively with private lands."

He said federal agencies could not be expected to relinquish jurisdiction to the state. What is left in the planning, he said, is land owned by private individuals and local governments.

Paul Pusey, representing the Associated General Contractors, told the committee of his concern that access be retained for areas containing natural elements necessary in the building industry.

Neil Sampson of the Idaho Planning and Community Affairs Agency assured Pusey that the planning report contains statements "of a very heavy interest" to take such needs into consideration.

The committee agreed to start public hearings in north Idaho in the third week of July on land use planning proposals.

Subsequent hearings on the proposals will be held throughout the state with the final ones tentatively scheduled for Boise in October.

During the morning session, state Sen. Eyle Cobbs, R-Boise, told committee members to "tread lightly" on state-local relationships in land use planning.

He expressed concern about a state agency charged with land use planning telling local officials how their land should be used — especially when the local people might be more familiar with the area and its problems.

"I wonder what our country would have been like if we had had this legislation on the books from the beginning," he said.

"We probably wouldn't have industry."

He said the eastern part of the United States also might have been different had the nation adopted the kind of legislation the interim legislative committee is considering.

"I think we ought to tread lightly," Cobbs said.

The state planning legislation introduced for study at the last session of the legislature and its ramifications on other laws and interests was reviewed by committee members and Sampson.

Cenarrusa rejects recall petition

BOISE (UPI) — Secretary of State Pete T. Cenarrusa Thursday sent back a "qualifying petition" to the group who is seeking to recall Rep. Patricia McDermott, D-Pocatello.

Cenarrusa said his action was taken on the advice of Atty. Gen. W. Anthony Park who said in an opinion that the group's petition was not in "substantial compliance" with the Idaho code.

It was the second petition rejected by the attorney general and the secretary of state's office. The latest one only had 36 signatures and was submitted to Cenarrusa to make sure the form was legal before going ahead with the recall drive.

An earlier petition with 2,550 signatures was also rejected because some information regarding the signator addresses was missing. Cenarrusa said a qualifying petition form will accompany the rejected petition which will go back to the group's attorney Stanley Crow, a Boise attorney.

Cenarrusa said with the form petitioners should not run into any legal complications in the future. The secretary of state said he is not required by law to make up such a form but has done so as a public service.

Park's opinion on the latest petition said the form used by the group lumped together certain of the supporting information required by the statute in "one columnar headings."

Since the rejection of the first petition, the group has filed a suit in Fourth District Court asking that Cenarrusa accept the first petition, which has some 200 more names than the needed 2,230 to start a recall election.

Andrus applauds decision

BOISE (UPI) — Gov. Cecil D. Andrus Thursday applauded the U.S. Supreme Court for its decision giving local authorities power to crack down on obscene and pornographic material.

"I applaud the decision," Andrus told newsmen at a quickly-called news conference.

He said he has written the prosecutors in the state's 44 counties to remind them that the new state obscenity law goes into effect July 1. The new law, passed by the last session of the legislature, is designed to close down establishments which deal in hard-core pornography.

Andrus said the attorney general will assist any local prosecutor who is having problems closing such establishments.

"This should be the end to smut in Idaho," Andrus said.

U. S. Supreme Court rulings Thursday established new standards defining obscenity in movies and publications. The rulings allow state court juries to use prevailing local standards rather than a national standard in deciding whether something is pornographic. The rulings came on two California cases and one from Georgia. All were decided by 5-4 votes.

During the conference Andrus also said he has sent a letter to U.S. Secretary of Interior Rogers C.B. Morton asking the federal government to approve some of the state's in-lieu lands selections.

The lands, owed the state by the federal government, would be returned to state ownership.

Andrus said the state is now interested in 19,000 acres.

Andrus said the federal government didn't hesitate "when it took our lands" and he didn't think it should hesitate in returning them.

Church says ITT violated no law

WASHINGTON (UPI) — Sen. Frank Church, D-Idaho, said Thursday International Telephone and Telegraph violated no law, but "overstepped the line of acceptable corporate behavior" in trying to get the CIA to interfere in the 1970 Chilean presidential election.

Church said legislation would be introduced to make it a criminal offense for American citizens or residents to offer funds to U.S. government agencies to interfere in foreign elections or for such agencies or government employees to accept such funds.

Church also urged Congress to review in depth the methods by which CIA clandestine operations are authorized and reviewed.

"I am very much disturbed by the behavior of both the ITT and the CIA, but we can find nothing illegal about it," Church said. "That is why we have proposed the legislation."

Church, chairman of the foreign relations subcommittee on multinational corporations, which investigated the matter, said in a report on the hearings: "The highest officials of the ITT sought to engage the CIA in a plan to covertly manipulate the outcome of the Chilean presidential election of 1970."

"In so doing, the company overstepped the line of acceptable corporate behavior," he said.

Legislation holds promise for drunks

WASHINGTON (UPI) — Sen. Frank Church, D-Idaho, Thursday said legislation passed by the Senate to extend and improve the Alcohol Abuse and Alcoholism Prevention Act can mean a new existence for the persons who suffer from alcoholism.

In remarks during the debate on the bill, Church said that "alcoholism is a problem which affects the lives of millions of people in our country — it is estimated that over nine million Americans are afflicted personally with drinking and alcoholism problems."

Church said the legislation extending and strengthening federal efforts to combat alcoholism "can mean a new existence for those nine million sufferers; not to mention the hope and promise it holds for their families and loved ones."

Candle-making firm must distribute assets

BOISE (UPI) — Fourth District Judge Alfred C. Hagan has ordered the Idaho assets of Seent of the West Inc., Salt Lake City, put in the hands of a receiver for distribution to Idaho residents.

Hagan's order, issued Thursday, follows his order of May 9 which enjoined the candle-making firm from selling Idaho distributorships by misrepresenting the amount of money purchasers could earn.

In May, Hagan also ordered the firm to offer refunds to purchasers who asked that their contracts with the company be rescinded.

Deputy Atty. Gen. James G. Reid told the court about $110,000 worth of such requests have been made since the decision.

Reid's motion for a receiver for the Idaho assets was granted over objections from Richard Richards, Salt Lake City, the firm's attorney. Richards said the firm's assets in Idaho amount to about 55,000 candles worth $35,000. He suggested the attorney general's office take title to the candles without a receivership.

In arguing against receivership Richards said the firm's total operation will be affected when it is learned it is in receivership in Idaho.

"A receivership here means a receivership everywhere," Richards said. "It will only hurt the little people."

Hagan named Paul Boyd, a Boise attorney and former U. S. referee in bankruptcy, receiver in the case.

Botulism victim gives birth

BOISE (UPI) — A Nyssa, Ore., woman under treatment for botulism has given birth to a 3-pound, premature boy at St. Alphonsus Hospital.

Mrs. Raquel Gonzales, 32, Nyssa, delivered the child about midnight Wednesday. The baby, transferred to the neo-natal intensive care unit of St. Luke's Hospital, was about one or two months premature.

Hospital officials were uncertain whether the child has botulism and said they will have to make further laboratory tests before they can be sure. Mrs. Gonzales, the baby and Mrs. Gonzales' father, Anselma Sifuentes, 69, also Nyssa, were all listed in critical condition by hospital officials.

The woman and man were admitted to St. Alphonsus last Sunday with the reported cases of botulism. Dr. John Mather, chief of preventive medicine for the department of Environmental and Community Services, said a bottle of home-canned peppers was thought to be the source of the botulism.

Couple weds in Clover rites

PH. ER — Kathleen Lassen and Douglas Morrison were united in marriage in rites June 8 in the Clover Trinity Lutheran Church.

The bride is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Raymond Lassen, Filer, and the bridegroom is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Dale Morrison, Port Orchard, Wash.

The double ring ceremony was performed by Rev. T. D. Johnston before a background of altar vases and heavy baskets of pink chrysanthemums and seafoam statice in shades of pink and lavender, tied with pink ribbons. She wore a pearl necklace, a gift from the bridegroom.

Joyce Lassen, sister of the bride, was maid of honor. Bridesmaids were Grace Thaele and Barbara Gihring. Dennis Morrison, brother of the bridegroom, was best man. Groomsmen were Roger Lassen, brother of the bride, and Stan Schleif, cousin of the bride. Ushers were Ron Lassen, brother of the bride, and David Morrison, brother of the bridegroom.

Taper lighters were Jerry Schleif and Danny Schleif, cousins of the bride. Mrs. Vernon Lassen, aunt of the bride, was organist and accompanied Bruce Lutz, soloist.

A reception was held at the Clover Fellowship Hall after the ceremony. A four-tiered cake was decorated with pink roses and topped with a gold Christogram. The cake was made by Mrs. John Orthel, aunt of the bride. The bride's shoulder-length veil of bridal illusion was held by a headpiece of flowers and pearls. The gown and veil were made by Joyce Lassen, sister of the bride.

The bride's bouquet featured a nosegay of roses, carnations, chrysanthemums, baby's breath and seafoam statice in shades of pink and lavender, tied with pink ribbons. She wore a pearl necklace, a gift from the bridegroom.

Members of the Clover Lutheran Women's Missionary League assisted with the reception. Shelly Van Ostran was in charge of the guest book. Carolyn Orthel and Marilyn Bailey received the gifts which were carried by Darrell Morrison, brother of the bridegroom, and Erik Partin.

Presiding at the bride's table were Mrs. Lauren Schleif and Mrs. Norbert Lassen, aunts of the bride; Mrs. Dave Hamph, cousin of the bride, and Mrs. Earl Pomeroy, aunt of the bridegroom. Norbert Lassen and Ray Schmidt served ice cream. Assisting with serving were Karen Meltzer, Joan Baden and Rose Baden, cousins of the bride.

The couple reside at 620 2nd Ave. E., Twin Falls.

A pre-nuptial shower for the bride was hosted by Barbara Gihring and Grace Thaele.

Special out-of-town guests included Mr. and Mrs. Herbert Pfeffer, grandparents of the bridegroom. Other guests attended from Seattle and Port Orchard, Wash., Hebron, Neb., and Caldwell.

Candlelight rites unite pair

TWIN FALLS — Nancy Ann Hollifield became the bride of G. Kent Taylor during a candlelight ceremony June 9 at the Presbyterian Church, Twin Falls.

Presiding at the ceremony were Rev. Robert VanNest and Rev. John Simms.

The bride is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Clarence W. Hollifield, Hansen. Kent is the son of the late Vern Taylor and Mrs. Ruth Taylor, Boise.

The bride was given in marriage by both her mother and her father. She wore a floor-length gown designed by William Cahill Original. The bodice and skirt of the gown featured imported French lace. The tri-layered chapel-length veil was trimmed in the same lace. Sheer Juliet sleeves were accented by lace cuffs and satin buttons.

She carried a cascading bouquet of white orchids, white roses, and greenery on a white family Bible. She carried a sacred Japanese coin in her shoe, a gift from one of her students. A special garter made by her aunt, Hazel McIntyre, was also worn. Her only jewelry was a sterling bracelet, a gift from the bridegroom.

Candlelighters were Connie Brown, Glenns Ferry, and Diane Daniel, Sandpoint. Both are sorority sisters of the bride.

Matron of honor was Carol Hollifield, sister-in-law of the bride. Bridesmaids were Patsy Watts, cousin of the bride, Connecticut; Connie and Lynn McIntyre, cousins of the bride; Lorene Stanger, Boise, and Connie Yrazabal, Mountain Home.

Vanessa Grove, cousin of the bridegroom, passed out long-stemmed flowers to the women in the audience witnessing the ceremony—Flower-girl was Susan Roberts.

Best man was Don Taylor, brother of the bridegroom. Groomsmen were Dwight Board, Boise; Bob Bilow, Boise; John Alden, Portland, Ore.; Terry Hollifield, Hansen, and Bill Hollifield, Washington, D. C.

Douglas Small, Boise, served as soloist. He sang the couple's personal vows to the audience. He also prepared and sang a special song to the couple when they lit their unity candle. Serving at the bride's table were Hazel McIntyre, aunt of the bride; Hazel Hill, Bonnie Guley, Mary Thomas, June Wilson, Eva Barnes and Lana Davis.

MR. AND MRS. G. KENT TAYLOR

Hostesses were Carol Carlson, Paula Edmonds, and Judy Baxter.

Presiding at the guest book table was Christie Long Pocatello.

The bride's table was covered with white lace and pink satin with double flounces of lace. Sterling candelabra that flanked the bride's parents' cake were also used.

The five-tiered wedding cake was set on top of a small water fountain. Surrounding the fountain were six heart-shaped cakes. The cake was frosted in white and decorated with delicate pink roses. The same cake top used by the bride's parents exactly 30 years ago was used by the bride.

Bridegroom's cake was passed out by Bryan Grove, cousin of the bridegroom, and Caren Clarke.

Honored guests at the ceremony were the bride's grandfather, O. L. Barnard, Myrtle Barnard, and her great-aunts, Hazel Beecher and Della Runyan.

Out-of-state guests were from Alberta, Canada, Connecticut, Michigan, Maryland, Washington, D. C., Utah, Arizona, California, Oregon, Washington and Colorado.

After returning from their honeymoon in Florida, the bride will continue as R.S.V.P. director at the College of Southern Idaho and Taylor will begin a law practice in Twin Falls. They will reside at 241 Polk Street East, Kimberly.

Valley Briefs

TWIN FALLS — The Women of the Moose will install women's officers at 8:30 p.m. Saturday. All Moose members and their families are invited. Those participating in the installation should be there at 8 p.m.

Abby

Abigail Van Buren

DEAR ABBY: I am in the United States Air Force. I am a married man, but I have spent more time away from my wife than with her because I have been stationed overseas in places where dependents are not permitted.

I love my wife with all my heart and nothing could ever change that. We have had a good marriage in which we have always said that we would be absolutely truthful with each other. Well, that is my problem. I have failed in my part of the agreement.

I have told my wife that she was the only woman I have ever had an affair with. That's a lie. Before I was married, I had an affair with a married woman. While I was overseas I had two "one-night stands" with a different girl each time. They meant nothing to me. I can't even remember their names.

Truth hurts

I have prayed for forgiveness and feel that Jesus has forgiven me, but I feel so guilty about lying to my wife. But if I told her the truth now she would never believe another word I said.

Should I confess these lies to her or not? Abby, you are the only person to whom I've told this.

At the bottom of your column in the Stars and Stripes it says: "Write to Abby, you'll feel better if you get it off your chest."

I think I do. Now tell me, should I tell my wife?
OFF MY CHEST IN GUAM

DEAR OFF: No, no, no! Confessing to your wife would only make her unhappy. You've confessed to Jesus. That's enough.

DEAR ABBY: There is an unwritten law of ethics among hairdressers. One operator does not deliberately steal another operator's patrons. If the customer herself decides to switch of her own accord, fine and dandy. But for an operator to try to lure away a co-worker's best-paying or most interesting customers is unethical.

As a shop owner who is also a hairdresser I have seen some excellent operators fall victim to such ploy and consequently lose their self-confidence. By the time the owner of the shop becomes aware of what has happened, the offending operators have made themselves so valuable to the shop that the owner can't afford to fire them. How are the victims to fight back?

DEAR NAMELESS: It's conceivable that a salesperson might successfully lure away a co-worker's customer. But it's highly unlikely that a hairdresser could "steal" a satisfied patron from a co-worker. If the patron can be "lured away," she's not satisfied, in which case it's her privilege to switch.

DEAR ABBY: I am a middle-aged woman with a problem I hope you won't think is too silly to answer. Every summer I visit my sister in Omaha for a week. She has a lovely guest room, and I enjoy visiting her, but there is one annoyance.

In the hall just outside my bedroom door there is a grandfather clock which chimes on the half hour, and then again on the hour. These chimes keep me awake practically all night. I can't understand how my sister and her husband can sleep with that clock in the hall. When the chimes are silent, I am disturbed by the loud ticking.

I hate to complain to my sister, but I am dreading my next visit. Perhaps if you print this she'll get the hint.
"TICK, TOCK, AND BONG"

DEAR TICK: Here's your letter. And if that clock is still "ticktocking" and "bonging" when you arrive in Omaha, ask your sister to please stop the clock for the duration of your visit.

A Lovelier You

SWEETS FOR A SWEET TOOTH

By Mary Sue Miller

A sweet tooth is the stumbling block in dieting for many reducers. This letter from a reader tells it as it is. "I crave sweets to the point where I'd rather be fat than eat another bite of raw fruit for dessert. Then I go overboard for double fudge sundae. The splurge not only weighs on my conscience but on my scale."

Well, now, a reducer with a nagging desire for sweets does not have to relinquish them altogether. A wise course is to get acquainted with sweet-tasting delights in the low-calorie category. Flavors are great and you can indulge without becoming a diet dropout. Actually, fewer sweets and fats in summer can keep all of us from having heat waves.

Good low-cal desserts come packaged, ready to serve or quick to prepare. Among the readyies are dietetic ice cream, honey cake and angel puffa, whipped topping and chocolate syrup.

With a little work, dieters' puddings, gelatins and cake mixes make luscious treats, especially if you use a bit of imagination in the preparation. For example, de-carbonized gelatin can be used as a basis for frothy snow puddings. Just sprinkle instant coffee on vanilla-diet pudding or serve gingerbread (low-cal mix) hot with whipped topping and you've got a taste thrill.

When it's gussied up, raw fruit becomes a delicacy. Try a dash of rum flavoring on peach halves or fresh mint on fresh fruit cup — and your wisdom tooth will tell your sweet tooth to move over.

POCKET CALORIE COUNTER

Do you really know the calorie counts of the foods you eat? Our leader, POCKET CALORIE COUNTER, tells the score at a glance. It also gives a diet plan—a way to eat and slim. Fred Karpin gives this hand played by British expert Victor Molfo to show card reading at its best.

The twist to this hand is that John Q. Ordinary bridge player would make four spades just as surely as Victor did.

Victor ruffed the third heart and played out three rounds of trumps. At this point in the proceedings a good player not quite in the expert class would reason, "West has shown six hearts and three spades. He must be short in clubs." Then the good player would take his ace of clubs, lead a club to dummy's king, finesse the 10 of clubs on the way back and lose to West's jack.

Victor decided to try to get some more information by playing diamonds. Should West show up with two diamonds he could not have more than two clubs so Victor played ace and another diamond.

When West showed out on the second diamond lead Victor had obtained a complete count of his hand as three spades, six hearts, one diamond and three clubs.

There were no problems left. He ruffed the diamond East led with his last trump, played out his top clubs to drop the jack and made the 10th trick with his last club.

4-H work expands

HAILEY — A summer-long project to develop and expand the Blaine County 4-H program is in progress.

Employed for the project on a full-time basis through August is Cheryl Byington, Gannett. The project is funded under a special $1,000 grant by the Blaine County commissioners.

Miss Byington said she is presently seeking leaders to organize new 4-H Club and is building interest in existing clubs by working with individual 4-H members on their projects.

Newly organized clubs include an art club and a photography club both in Hailey; a clothing and foods club, Bellevue; and a small engines club, Gannett.

Miss Byington said, because of a past concept of 4-H as a strictly rural program, urban residents are seldom aware of the wide variety of projects that are available to them.

She said possible projects open to all youth from 9 to 19 years old may include the following topics: automotives, bicycling, electricity, entomology, nutrition, forestry, gun safety, horticulture or soil and water.

Blaine County Extension Agent James Eakin said a project to re-vitalize 4-H was initiated last year in Lincoln County and proved successful. A similar project has also been started in Cassia County, he said.

Eakin said each individual 4-H program has a learning goal and is usually conducted in progressive steps.

All 4-H clubs are guided by non-paid volunteer leaders.

Bean trade halt asked

(c) 1973 Washington Star-News
WASHINGTON — The Department of Agriculture Thursday asked the Chicago Board of Trade to restrict trading in soybeans and soybean meal futures because of an "emergency situation."

In a telegram to Warren E. Lebeck, acting president of the Chicago exchange, Alex Caldwell, administrator of the department's Commodity Exchange Authority, said that the forecast shows that at the start of the new crop year on Sept. 1, the soybean supply "will be barely enough for two weeks usage" and that protein supplies generally "are in a bind."

The major effect of continued trading in soybean futures is the fact of the short supply would be to create an artificial market because investors would be dealing in futures that might not exist.

"The high-protein soybeans are used for animal feed and a variety of other purposes. The Department of Agriculture said that the carryover stock will fall to a minimal 40 million bushels by Sept. 1.

The United States supplies most of the world's soybean crop. But because of bad spring weather, soybean planting has been delayed this year.

CHERYL BYINGTON aids 4-H work

Specifically, Caldwell asked that trading in July, August and September, 1973, soybean and soybean meal futures be restricted to "liquidation orders, except for new sales for delivery purposes."

The exchange's board of governors went into session immediately after receiving Caldwell's telegram, delaying the opening of the commodity market.

At 11 a.m. trading was begun in wheat and corn but not in soybeans, soybean meals or soybean oil. The C.E.A. has asked that trading in oil be suspended (however).

Washington brokers say they believe the exchange's board of governors will honor Caldwell's request and restrict trading in soybeans and soybean meals, by liquidation orders only.

Blaine students complete course

HAILEY — Two Blaine County students have completed a six-day environmental workshop conducted by the University of Idaho Cooperative Extension Service.

Rick Laverty, Ketchum, and Kathy Rainey, Hailey, were sent to the event by the Blaine Soil Conservation District. Both are seniors at the Wood River High School, Hailey.

Workshop instructors included university faculty members and professional resource managers from various federal and state agencies. Topics covered were soil, water, range land, wildlife forest.

The workshop was designed to teach participants how to present what they learned to civic and conservation groups within their communities; to explore resource management; and to assist youth to appreciate environmental quality and the problems involved in wise use of resources.

Laverty said the workshop site at Alpine, Idaho afforded access to various habitats, including grazing, sagebrush and timbered areas. The workshop, he said, also included a field trip to Palsades Reservoir and a "tournament" of "the Outdoors."

Miss Rainey said the observation-oriented workshop stressed a multi-use approach to resource use.

Peanut support rising to record US payments

By BERNARD BRENNER
UPI Farm Editor
WASHINGTON (UPI) — Government spending to support the price of peanuts will amount to record levels, unless Congress rewrites a rigid support program that has covered the crop for more than three decades, a General Accounting Office (GAO) report warns.

The report, sent to Congress with little fanfare several months ago, urges lawmakers to reduce the minimum planting allotment of 1.6 million acres, which has been in effect since 1938. Under current conditions, the GAO said, fewer than 1.1 million acres are needed to produce enough peanuts for commercial markets.

Congress which did nothing about a similar GAO proposal five years ago because farmers and the Johnson administration couldn't agree on what to do, has made no moves yet to tackle the problem.

But peanut growers, after rejecting one administration proposal, are urging the Agriculture Department to back their own new plan for reducing government costs while providing ample peanut supplies for human food and livestock feed.

The complex grower proposal would give farmers continued price support at about current levels for enough acreage to meet domestic food and seed needs — perhaps about two-thirds the acreage now being produced.

Farmers would be allowed to plant an additional acreage — bringing total planting up to the current 3.6 million acre level — at a somewhat lower net return. Finally, a third bloc of acreage would be authorized for planting, with the harvest to be sold to the government at the low world price.

Administration officials have not yet given any direct response to the proposal. But some speculate—the potential cost of the program — while well below current levels — may still be above the levels sought by budget planners.

The GAO report said the growing peanut program cost was compounded of several factors, including:

While the Agriculture Department cannot cut planting allotments below 1.6 million acres, per-acre peanut yields have been rising steadily — up 20 per cent from 1966 through 1971 — which means the volume of peanuts eligible for support increases every year.

Price support for the crop is set at a minimum of 75 per cent of the "fair earning power" parity price. Since parity increases with the general cost level, the dollars-and-cents peanut support price goes up each year. In 1972, the prop was $285 a ton, and this year it rose to $310.50 a ton.

As a result, Agriculture Department peanut support cost totaled $279 million from 1967 through 1971, up 66 per cent from the previous five years.

For the five years beginning in 1972, officials estimated recently that costs would jump to $537 million.

House panel approves farm measure

WASHINGTON (UPI) — Dismissing an administration veto threat, the House Agriculture Committee Thursday voted 314-4 for a new farm bill containing support targets that Agriculture Secretary Earl Butz labeled "unacceptable."

The measure, providing for lower target price levels than those in similar legislation recently passed by the Senate, was expected to come up for a House vote around July 9.

Rep. W. R. Poage, D-Tex., the House Agriculture Committee chairman, told reporters after today's action that he thought farm bloc leaders have a "good chance" to pass the bill despite Butz' pledge to fight for reductions of the cotton, wheat and feed grain support targets provided in it.

Poage said he interpreted Butz' stand as a threatened presidential veto of the measure, but predicted the administration "would do a lot of headscratching" before carrying out such a threat if the bill passes in its present form.

Poage said he believed Butz wanted to persuade the House to approve "unrealistically low" farm price targets to leave room for compromise with the Senate.

All 20 Democratic members of the House committee voted to approve the bill today and were joined by 11 Republicans. Four Republicans voted against.

The legislation also includes a compromise reduction in grain and cotton subsidy payments to big farmers. But Rep. Paul Findley, R-Ill., served notice he will seek on the House floor to bring the ceiling down to $20,000 per farmer rather than the $37,500 per crop proposed by the committee, and to close loopholes in enforcement of the ceiling.

The bill would revise and extend a farm law expiring this year and is built around a new "target price" system to provide income protection for farmers.

Under this system, 1974 targets of $2.05 per bushel for wheat, $1.38 a bushel for corn and 38 cents a pound for cotton would be established. In the three succeeding years of the four-year bill, the targets could escalate under a complex formula—to which the administration has agreed—based on rising farm costs and increases in farm productivity.

Butz said in his letter that so long as the escalator formula which the administration opposes remains in the bill, any 1974 target levels above $1.84 for wheat, $1.26 for corn and 35 cents for cotton are "unacceptable to this administration."

"If the bill contains price-guarantees above these levels, we will work aggressively to defeat the measure on the floor of the House of Representatives. Should the Congress want to remove the escalation features, we will be willing to discuss somewhat higher guarantee prices," Butz said.

The House bill, in general, resembles an earlier Senate passed measure which contains higher target prices—$1.53 a bushel on corn, for example—and a faster-acting escalator clause. The Senate measure, however, would knock the ceiling on payments to big growers down to $20,000 per farmer on all three major crops, while the tentative House committee bill drops the limit only to $37,500 per crop.

Last pool set

TWIN FALLS — The fourth and final lamb pool of the season for members of the Twin Falls County Livestock Marketing Association Inc. will be shipped July 10.

Don Youls, secretary of the association, said lambs and feeders will be received from 8 a.m. to 10:30 a.m. at the Twin Falls Livestock Commission Co. Bidding will open at 11 a.m.

Growers are advised the lamb pool committee will mark the fat lambs for sale July 5 in Jerome County and July 6 in Twin Falls County.

Growers may bring lambs weighing over 60 to 70 pounds to be sold in a separate pool. Members of the committee marking the lambs include Marvin Lohr, Filer; Kenneth Park and Marvin Custer, Twin Falls and L. E. Venable, Hansen. Persons with lambs to be marketed may contact committee members.

Charles Potucek, Kimberly, association president, also announced the third pool of the season sold June 9 with 417 lambs and a gross weight of $71,495 pounds. Average weight was 100 pounds and the high bidder was Pete Atkins of Camel Sheep Co., Blackfoot. He purchased the lambs for $38.81 cwt, and a 4 per cent shrinkage. Other bids included Ted Whiting, $36.15 and Reed Culp, $34.33.

5 Gem bean projects OK

BOISE — Harold West, executive director of the Idaho Bean Commission, said Thursday five new research projects have been approved and funded by the Idaho Bean Commission.

"Each of the studies involves a different aspect of the industry," he said, "and taken together they will develop important information of benefit to growers."

West said the projects include:

— New crop program to determine the feasibility of producing southern pea for seed in Idaho and where the most likely areas might be. While the popular name for this crop is blackeye pea, West said it is actually part of the bean family.

— Varietal improvement program to develop an Idaho variety of small-white dry beans and to enhance the appearance, nutrition and marketability of processed snap beans.

Curly-top review publication. Dr. L.L. Dean of the University of Idaho will develop an in-depth report on his several years of research in development of curly-top resistance in snap beans.

A study of the agricultural input-output relationships in Idaho's economy to develop a complete information model on the economic aspects of Idaho agriculture for use in impact analysis, input to state development programs, forecasting and economic research.

Bean harvesting study to develop more effective cutting methods and equipment and to determine additional improvements in the harvesting process.

West said the programs were selected as priority projects that could be funded through available budgets at this time. He said the commission would continue to review other research proposals.

Gem potato crop harmed by frost

BLACKFOOT — Frost early this week damaged the Idaho potato crop, Max Huntsman, executive director, Potato Growers of Idaho, said Thursday.

Huntsman said telephone checks Wednesday indicated 60 to 65 per cent of the state's acreage was affected, with damage ranging from light to heavy in various localities.

Early estimates are that yields from damaged fields will be cut from 10 to 50 hundredweight per acre. This will cause a 6 to 10 million hundredweight reduction in total production, Huntsman said.

Areas hardest hit were in the seed areas of Teton, Ashton and Grace, where 50 to 60 per cent of the crop had emerged and was frozen back to the ground.

The Rupert-Mindoka and Raft River-Malta commercial areas were also hard hit. Others in that category where damage resulted included Mud Lake, Roberts, and Humer; west of Idaho Falls to west of Blackfoot, Pleasant Valley and American Falls, Aberdeen, Springfield, and Rockford.

Huntsman said surveys before the frost showed the 1973 crop was a week to 10 days behind normal growth.

Agencies schedule tour of TF ranges

TWIN FALLS — The Idaho Section of the Society for Range Management in conjunction with the College of Southern Idaho's Water-Animal Relations Symposium plans a rangeland tour Wednesday.

The bus tour will leave the CSI campus at 8:30 a.m.

The tour will emphasize water-animal relations on the Burger Resource Conservation Area. This tract of federal land under the administration of the Bureau of Land Management has been developed for intense grazing practices, through cooperation of 59 private ranchers permitted to graze livestock on the area.

Water, a key factor for successful use of this area, has been developed and put into a pipeline 89 miles long for distribution and use of wildlife, domestic livestock, and the recreationist.

The area is fenced and cross-fenced into pasture units and a rest-rotation grazing system is used for management of the livestock. Anyone interested in seeing what can be done to improve grazing intensities on semi-arid lands and the development of water for livestock use are welcome on the tour.

There is a fee of $5.50 per

Dry land crops aided by rains

BOISE — Rains late in the week ending June 15 were beneficial to dry land crops and ranges, but hindered haying in Idaho.

According to Crop Weather, publication of the U.S. Department of Commerce Weather Service, cool temperatures throughout the state retarded plant growth, particularly in the eastern counties where development of potatoes, sugar beets and grain is from ten days to two weeks behind normal.

Winter wheat is growing well in the eastern part of the state, but continued lack of moisture and cool weather has delayed progress in the north. Winter wheat is about 50 per cent head with 20 per cent blooming.

Spring wheat fields are mostly in the boot stage with heading occurring and light blooming in earlier fields. Barley is more advanced with about 30 per cent headed and 1 per cent of the state fields blooming.

Potatoes in the southwest are beginning to close the rows. All fields in the southwest are emerged with 85 per cent in the southern area and 50 per cent in the east emerged. Stands are uniform and in good condition.

Corn planting is complete in the state, and southwestern fields are up. About 90 per cent of south central fields are emerged.

Dry bean planting is nearly complete with about 85 per cent emerged in the southwest and 70 per cent in the southcentral.

Sugar beet, blooming and thinning is about four-fifths completed in the state.

About one third of the first alfalfa crop in the state has been harvested. Dry weather in north Idaho will result in a short first cutting.

The fruit crop is progressing well.

person. This includes bus fare and hot lunch consisting of roast lamb.

The tour will return to CSI about 5 p.m. Make reservations with Dr. H. F. Mayland, ARS USDA, Route 1, Box 186, Kimberly, Idaho, 83341 or the Burley BLM office.

Idaho milk rules draw no protests

BOISE (UPI) — Proposed milk regulations to satisfy state sanitation authorities drew no opposition today from farmers or milk producers in Idaho.

A hearing held in the Statehouse ran about 15 minutes and was attended by a half-dozen persons representing portions of the state's milk industry. The hearing dealt with regulations to bring Idaho into conformance with surrounding states concerning production and transportation.

The hearing was called by the Department of Environmental and Community Services.

Harold Hoyer, environmentalist for the Central Health District, said the purpose of the proposed regulations was to establish clear procedures and interpretation of the abnormal milk section of the Idaho Grade A pasteurized milk regulations. He said the regulations were also designed to satisfy sanitation authorities of states receiving Idaho Grade A milk shipments that Idaho's controls are equal to their control measures.

Reservoirs filled

BURLEY — All reservoirs on the Snake River above Milner Dam were filled this year, according to a June 20 news release from Carlos C. Randolph, Mindoka Project superintendent.

Randolph said all reservoirs were full Wednesday except American Falls which was filled to the restriction point of 1.12 million acre feet in April, and held 995,000 acre feet Wednesday.

Warm temperatures during May resulted in a peak inflow above Heise of 27.178 cubic feet per second and the recorded flow at Heise was controlled to 15,680 CFS as the system stored 11,578 CFS, preventing flood damage in the lower valley.

There is adequate water to mature crops, Randolph said, but with a below normal snowpack on the watershed, the natural river flow for the balance of the year will be low. Water should be put to the best beneficial use, he said, to assure a larger carryover in the storage system this fall, and to alleviate a potential shortage of water for the 1974 season.

Brezhnev drives Nixon's gift

CAMP DAVID, Md. (UPI) — Leonid I. Brezhnev took the wheel of his shiny, new Lincoln Continental Wednesday and drove President Nixon for 10 minutes over the narrow mountain roads of Camp David.

The stocky Soviet Communist party general secretary, 47 car collector, tried out the black, $8,000 automobile given him by his American host during a break in their summit talks.

Nixon formally presented the car to Brezhnev Monday, but the Russian hadn't had a chance to look at it until Wednesday, when he emerged from a two-hour meeting at Camp David's Laurel Lodge and found the auto parked nearby.

Only a Russian interpreter accompanied Nixon and Brezhnev on their drive.

The leaders have exchanged several gifts during their summit talks.

Taking note of Brezhnev's hobby of hunting, Nixon gave the Russian a hand-tooled Pedersen rifle.

Brezhnev in turn gave Nixon an antique silver Russian Samobin—a silver ewer with 12 stemmed goblets on a large round tray—and a Bokhara rug in tones of red.

Mrs. Nixon was given a Russian-China tea service, a Russian coffee service for 12, a malachite and bronze jewel box, a crocheted shawl of white wool with an amber brooch attached, and a set of six cut glass tea glasses with white enameled vermeil holders.

Brezhnev apparently has an unproletarian fondness for fancy automobiles and reportedly keeps a number in Moscow. One of them is a Cadillac Nixon gave him at their talks in Moscow last year. Brezhnev retaliated by giving Nixon a Hydrofoil boat.

The Continental has a plaque on the dashboard saying it is a gift to Brezhnev on the occasion of his visit and was paid for by the Ford Motor Co. which is charging it off to sales promotion.

Mondale's bill would limit world arms trade

By ROBERT GRUENBERG (c) Chicago Daily News

WASHINGTON — The industrial nations of the world are in a multi-billion dollar race to supply conventional arms to smaller nations, says Sen. Walter Mondale, and the United States — which is the source of more than half the business — must do something to stop it.

Accordingly, Mondale, D-Minn., has introduced an amendment to the $740 million Foreign Military Sales and Assistance Act. It would require President Nixon to call an international conference of the chief arms supplying countries to work out a "ceiling" on such arms sales, and eventually reduce them.

While the United States and the Soviet Union have been making progress toward the limitation of strategic weapons, little has been accomplished to control the international sales-trade in conventional arms," the Minnesota liberal said.

"Yet the greatest danger to world peace may well be not so much in the sudden outbreak of nuclear warfare between the superpowers, but step-by-step escalation of a local war fought with conventional weapons."

Under Mondale's proposal, Nixon "would undertake a concerted effort to get the Soviet Union, Britain, France, West Germany, Canada, Sweden, Czechoslovakia and China to attend a meeting with the United States within 18 months to establish the limitation."

He pointed out that in 1971 a total of $216 billion was spent on arms worldwide, and in seven years it is expected to be $340 billion.

"The United States is the source of more than half of the world arms trade," when measured in dollars, Mondale said.

Recent examples have been the sale of F-5E jet planes to Chile, Argentina, Brazil and Columbia, and an agreement "in principle" to sell F-4 Phantom fighter-bombers to Saudi Arabia and Kuwait.

(U.S. military officials disclosed last week a four-year agreement with Israel for the sale of 48 F-4 Phantoms, and approximately 36 A-4 Skyhawk bombers, aside from the delivery previously agreed to of 120 Phantoms and 200 Skyhawks.)

Oil council looks to fossil, N power

WASHINGTON (UPI) — The National Petroleum Council says it will take $213 billion and an all-out effort to convert to nuclear power in order for the utility industry to meet the electricity demand of 1985.

A council report says demand for electricity by 1985 should require new generating power of about 560,000 megawatts. Most of the additions are expected to be in nuclear or fossil fuel steam plants, such as those fired by coal, oil and natural gas.

Utah, Arizona and New Mexico have tremendous coal reserves. The southwest corner of Utah, including Carbon, Emery and Grand Counties is rich in coal deposits, as yet largely unmined.

The Black Mesa area of Arizona is one of the largest and most pure coal deposits in the nation.

The northwest corner of New Mexico is also rich in coal deposits.

The utility companies will probably depend heavily on the three states for future electricity generating fuel.

An electricity task group looked at various combinations of fuels, concluding one in particular appears the most feasible for the electric utility industry "if the industry is not subject to any severe constraints on its decisions," the group said.

The projected fuel mix would double the use of coal and oil in generators by 1985, but the use of natural gas and water-powered generation would remain the same.

However, the projection said use of nuclear energy in electricity generation would rise 70 or 80 times making it the dominant source by 1985.

French Hell's Angels cry 'discrimination'

PARIS (UPI) — France's version of the Hell's Angels, whose motto is "a woman for one night, but one motorcycle for a lifetime," say they are victims of a new racism.

Chased last fall from their favorite Paris stomping ground and blocked from holding their first big rally this summer, the big bike enthusiasts point to a number of new laws to support their claim of persecution.

The government's value-added tax has been raised from 18 to 33 per cent on motorcycles of more than 240 cubic centimeters.

Alleging that motorcycles are dangerous, insurance companies raised riders' premiums by 40 per cent just two months ago.

Beginning July 1, the bikers will no longer be able to blast down Paris boulevards on their Hondas and Kawasakis with their hair blowing in the wind. A safety helmet will become mandatory in cities as well as on the highways.

And the age requirement for a motorcycle license will be raised from 16 to 18.

The toughest blow to the bikers came last October. For five years the highlights of any motorcyclist's week had been the Friday night get-together at the Place de la Bastille, where thousands of the bikers met, talked mechanics and showed off their machines.

But residents, complaining of too much noise and too many young people, pressured police into politely inviting the bikers to spend their Friday nights elsewhere.

Then during May the bikers planned a big weekend run to the small village of Bievre southwest of Paris. Posters, tracts and cartoons advertised the outing throughout France.

When the first 350 riders arrived, they found the town sealed off by 500 riot police.

The next day, bikers showed up from all over the country but were forbidden to enter the town aboard the machines. It was the last attempt at such an outing.

As mechanic Jacques Lemoine summed it up: "The great brotherhood of bikers is going all to hell."

Gem aides use campers on individual basis

BOISE (UPI) — Official use of privately-owned campers and trailers by state employees traveling on public business will be approved or rejected on an individual case basis, the Board of Examiners decided today.

Earlier, the board turned down a request to use a privately-owned camper on state business and agreed at that time to consider further the question.

It was raised again today by the Bureau of Mines and Geology concerning an employee who will be conducting a geological survey in the mountains of northern Idaho.

Board members decided it would be cheaper to pay the employee $8 per day for use of his own trailer rather than have him return to civilization each night to rent a motel or, in the alternative, rent a trailer for the study.

One summer with an under-engineered mower makes a man ripe for a Toro

"Anyone with a wrench can slap some hardware and a blade together and call it a mower," says Toro's Chief Engineer.

"Toro aims for more than that. Every Toro' mower is a rugged, precision-engineered lawn cutting machine."

Easy to start. Toro "Key-Electric" models start with a key. Pull-start models require minimum effort.

Engineered for safety. Toro pioneered the rear toe guard and side stone deflector found on all Toro models.

Makes lawns look beautiful. Toro's patented vacuum action whips grass upright for a clean cut. Vacuum bag eliminates need for raking clippings.

Easy to handle. The self-propelled Toro mowers have front wheel drive. This makes backing and turning easier than with rear wheel drive.

Durable, easy to maintain. Home maintenance is simple. Oil drains without mess. Air filter unsnaps, cleans quickly. Blade unfastens with a single bolt. Toro mowers are guaranteed against defective parts and workmanship for one year, transportation costs excluded.

X-ray drawing shows what makes a Toro a Toro

Labels in the diagram include: Vacuum bag eliminates raking; Key-Electric start; Toro logo; Starts with key (optional); Fold down handle for easy storage; Safety shield helps protect operator; Vacuum bag helps collect clippings; Fold down handle for easy storage; Anti-scalping cup helps prevent gouging; Exclusive "Wind Tunnel" housing vacuum lawn; Tilted blade cuts clean; "Sail" on blade aids vacuum action; Front wheel drive (optional); Heavy-duty cast iron frame; Operator instructions on handle; Toro logo on handle; Safety shield helps protect operator.

Supreme Court hands down five new decisions

WASHINGTON (UPI) — In a long-awaited Denver decision, the Supreme Court ruled today that intentional racial discrimination in part of a northern city school operation means the entire system is subject to federal court desegregation orders.

The court also revised its previous legal definition of obscenity and said that states and local authorities need not apply a "national standard" of morality in cracking down on pornographic movies and publications.

The Denver case — the first involving a non-southern city to be decided by the high court — dealt with school board policies which black parents said resulted in a discriminatory dual school system. There was no law on the books at issue in the dispute.

The vote was 7 to 1, with the majority opinion delivered by Justice William J. Brennan Jr. Justice William H. Rehnquist dissented and Justice Byron R. White, who comes from Colorado, did not participate in the decision.

In most Southern school cases, the court dealt with de jure segregation which was based on actual state or local laws. The Denver case presented the issue of de facto segregation where schools are racially imbalanced because of neighborhood living patterns or unwritten policies.

Brennan said that where a policy of intentional segregation has been shown as resulting from school board policies in a significant portion of the system, the authorities must prove that their actions involving other racially imbalanced schools were not likewise motivated.

Chief Justice Warren E. Burger set forth the new obscenity yardstick in three 5-4 decisions involving two cases from California and one from Georgia.

He let stand a 1957 definition of obscenity: "Whether to the average person, applying community standards, the dominant theme of the material taken as a whole appeals to prurient interest."

However, he struck down a later requirement that the material must be shown to be "utterly without redeeming social importance."

Burger added two other tests: Whether the work describes "in a patently offensive way, sexual conduct specifically defined by the applicable state law;" and "whether a work, taken as a whole, lacks serious literary, artistic, political or scientific value."

The majority opinion also declared that juries in pornography cases can apply local standards of prurient appeal and offensiveness and are not required to apply any "national standard" in state courts.

In other actions, the court: Ruled 5 to 4 that a newspaper can be prohibited from carrying help-wanted ads to indicate one sex is preferred to another for various jobs. The case stemmed from action against the Pittsburgh Press by the National Organization for Women, a women's rights group.

Upheld the rights of the states to require welfare recipients to seek and accept employment as a requirement for receiving federally-funded Aid to Families with Dependent Children. The decision in favor of a New York policy was 2 to 2.

Ruled that 12-member juries are not mandatory for deciding civil cases in federal courts.

In the Denver school decision, Justices William O. Douglas and Lewis F. Powell, Jr., wanted to go further than Brennan. They argued strongly for an end to any distinction between de facto and de jure discrimination in schools.

In his dissent, Rehnquist said it was "quite conceivable" in a school district as large as Denver's that the school board may have engaged in racial gerrymandering to keep one school largely Negro and Hispanic, and the other largely white, without affecting the constitutional rights of students at other schools in the district.

"It certainly would not reflect normal English usage to describe the entire district as 'segregated' on such a state of facts," Rehnquist said. "And it would be a quite unprecedented application of principles of equitable relief to determine that if the gerrymandering of one attendance zone were proven, particular racial mixtures could be required by a federal district court for every school in the district."

Hollister awaits quake

STANFORD, Calif. (UPI) — If an earthquake doesn't hit the small California farming town of Hollister pretty soon, red-faced seismologists are going to have to produce some new theories. But the mayor of "the earthquake capital of the world" thinks the experts are safe.

For the second time in three months, a quake expert predicted Wednesday that the town of 8,500 about 100 miles south of San Francisco would be rattled by a tremor.

Prof. Robert L. Kovach of Stanford University said a quake measuring 5.8 on the Richter scale — "a healthy jolt" — will hit the Hollister area within two weeks if current theories are correct. He said it would cause little damage.

"We're due for a pretty good jolt," agreed Hollister Mayor Earl Holt. "We haven't had one in two or three years. But I'm not saying it's going to be a 5.8."

Holt said townspeople weren't too concerned since Hollister has been shaken by moderate tremors an average of twice a year since the 1930s.

"I'm giving the same advice I did in March when the government made its prediction — keep your bourbon in a safe place," Holt said. "Heck, I'll probably be out of town anyway. I'm going fishing next week at Eagle Lake. So let 'er shake."

U.S. Geological Survey scientists predicted March 22 that the Hollister region would be shaken by a 4.5 to 5.0 Richter quake "in the next several months."

Unusual descent caused Japan plane to crash

NEW DELHI (UPI) — Descent at an "unusually high rate" appeared to have been the immediate cause of the crash of a Japan Airlines (JAL) DC-8 near here last year resulting in the death of 89 people, the government said today.

"The immediate cause of the accident appears to be the descent of the aircraft at an unusually high rate which was not realized by the flight crew until the last moment," the note said.

"While no clear evidence has been found determining the cause of this unusual descent, the disaster could have been averted if the flight crew fully cross-checked the instrument indications."

A press note issued by the Ministry of Tourism and Civil Aviation said this was one of the conclusions reached by the government after a study of the report submitted by the commission of inquiry headed by Justice Prakash Narain.

Eighty-six of the 89 persons aboard the plane died and three laborers were killed on the ground when the plane crashed on June 14 last year about 16 miles from New Delhi's Palam International Airport. It was on a Tokyo-London flight.

Street project starts in TF

TWIN FALLS — First stages of reconstruction of a portion of Shoshone Street have begun. Crews began trenching for burial of telephone lines near the intersection of Sixth Avenue and Shoshone Thursday. City Engineer George Michael said the local improvement district project will include excavation of Shoshone with new curb and gutter, gravel base and asphalt surfacing. The project will extend from Sixth to Tenth Avenue and will eventually be tied in to reconstruction of the North Five Points intersection he said. Completion of the project is anticipated by late July, Michael said. Other street improvement work scheduled this summer includes portions of Filer Avenue near Washington Street North and Locust Street from Fourth Avenue East to Kimberly Road. Conduit for the Mountain Bell lines to be installed later is being placed now so that the street will not have to be torn up later, Michael said.

Bellevue mishap hurts 5 persons

BELLEVUE — A Norwegian woman visiting relatives in Twin Falls was one of five persons injured in a traffic accident near here Thursday. Mrs. Marie A. Skogland, 70, Norway, is listed in good condition at Magic Valley Memorial Hospital in Twin Falls. Her husband, Johannes Skogland, 69, also involved in the three-car accident, was treated for minor injuries and released. Also hospitalized in Twin Falls is Elsie Rommetvedt, 72, Twin Falls, a relative of the Norway couple. She suffered a fractured jaw and was in good condition pending surgery today. Her husband, Arne Rommetvedt, 75, Twin Falls, driver of one of the vehicles involved, was also treated for cuts and bruises and discharged from Magic Valley Memorial Hospital. Blaine County sheriff's officers said a vehicle driven by Mary Cutler, 60, Caldwell, was pulling from the highway to the roadside 4 of a mile north of Bellevue about 10 a.m. Thursday. A second vehicle, driven by Alzona N. Timmons, 22, Boise, collided with the rear of the Cutler vehicle, swerved to the left and into the northbound lane of traffic where it collided with the Rommetvedt car. Both Mrs. Cutler and Mrs. Timmons were traveling south. Mrs. Timmons and her 2-year-old daughter, Nita, were hospitalized in the Blaine County Hospital. They are listed in good condition today.

July 4 event set

SHOSHONE — The Shoshone Chamber of Commerce announces plans for a fireworks display the evening of July 4. The display will be at the city recreation area, as in other years, probably to start at 10 p.m. Daytime activities for the 4th will not be sponsored this year the members decided. City volunteer firemen and the Bureau of Land Management will be asked to assist with the fireworks.

Progress report given on Blaine school study

By TERRY CAMPBELL
Times-News writer

HAILEY — Continuing cooperation with the University of Idaho and the initiation of new programs within the Blaine County school district were among recommendations stemming from the county Plant and Facilities Study. Dean B. J. Chandler of the school of education, Northwestern University, reviewed the progress to date for the now almost year-old study and presented the recommendations during a meeting Thursday night. In attendance were study committee members, the district board of trustees and community residents. Dean Chandler said a written review of study accomplishments and recommendations, compiled by himself, Walter Hoegel — an site coordinator for the study — and Dr. L.J. Siles, Northwestern University, will be submitted to the school board within 30 days.

Recommendations based on the study as presented by Dean Chandler included the following:

- Extend the study by 10 to 12 months. The original study plan was to encompass about three years, however, the study has been compressed with a completion date set for December.
  - Redirect task assignments for the study instructional group toward completion of the Idaho needs assessment program.
  - Assign a person within the district to coordinate the study after the departure of Hoegel.
  - Have trustees develop a renewal statement supporting the fundamental principles of the study.
  - Engage Dr. Terry Armstrong, U of I, as a consultant on curriculum.
  - Develop with the trustees in each district, an ad hoc advisory group of citizens to meet regularly with their individual trustee.
  - Establish the post of director of community resources to centralize adult education programs and to explore community resources for education.
  - Make a format and funding available to allow faculty members to visit other schools and make reports to the district faculty at large.
  - Develop a continuing program with the U of I for teacher internship and seminars for faculty members.
  - Encourage task groups and community groups to become actively involved in identifying educational goals.
  - Enhance the involvement of PTA groups by developing specific task oriented activities directed by the study steering committee and or the board.
- Dean Chandler urged the group to focus attention on the problems and issues of the study and "to deal objectively with differences of opinion."

Gem practical nurses elect

BURLEY — New officers of the Idaho Licensed Practical Nurses will be installed here tonight at the close of the group's annual convention. Faye Gardner, Blackfoot, was named president in elections Thursday. Grace Holton, Caldwell, was named first vice president; Elva Owens, Blackfoot, secretary; Genevieve Newsome, Blackfoot, treasurer, and Ruth White, Boise, director. About 200 LPN's from throughout the state will wind up the four-day convention at the Ponderosa today. Three Twin Falls physicians, Dr. John M. McKain, Dr. Russell Newcombe and Dr. Harry F. Brumbach, conducted seminars this afternoon reviewing the modern surgical approach for the treatment of trauma. Prizes for educational achievement were awarded during a noon luncheon. "Facing the Issues", a speech written by Earl W. Rowe, Dyke College, Cleveland Ohio, will be presented by Marjorie Kramer, RN. New officers will be installed at the annual dinner tonight. Slim Dossey, Twin Falls, former member of the Sons of the Pioneers, will be the featured speaker. Next year's convention will be held in Caldwell.

Jerome warns of fire danger

JEROME — The Jerome Fire Department answered four fire calls within a five hour period Thursday night and officials said the fire danger is extremely high. Tom Rupert, rural fire chief, asked residents to be careful with cigarettes and weed fires. The first fire, at about 8 p.m., occurred southeast of Jerome where weeds were being burned along a ditch bank and the flames got out of control. The firemen were called back to the same area shortly after 8:30 p.m. The weed fire, from a

48 officers study brand identity

GOODING — Law enforcement officers from eight counties met in Gooding Thursday to study the growing problem of cattle rustling in the state. Forty-eight officers from the Idaho State Fish and Game Department, state police, county sheriff's offices and state brand department, from Owyhee, Fremont, Ada, Lincoln, Elmore, Twin Falls, Blaine and Gooding counties learned to identify brands and livestock and familiarized themselves with brand laws during the day-long school. Assistant Pros. Atty. Jack Varin, Gooding, explained the laws, and Elmer Summers, assistant state brand inspector, explained how the law departments can cooperate in making rustling arrests. Tim Qualls, Twin Falls City Police, discussed how to conduct a criminal search and demonstrated the preparation of plaster casts of tire prints. A film on rustling methods and prevention was shown. The group met at the Gooding Livestock Commission Co. in the afternoon and inspected six head of cattle with the assistance of Casey Bartholmew, district brand inspector, who demonstrated brand reading and identification marks. According to Gooding County Sheriff Earl Brown and FBI school may be conducted later to discuss interstate rustling and assisting law enforcement officers. He reported that a four-county rustling deputy will be hired by July 1. The school was sponsored by the Idaho Peace Officers Training Academy under the direction of Larry Plott, Pocatello.

BLM crew controls fire near Shoshone

SHOSHONE — A fire in the Star Lake area, seven miles southeast of Dietrich, burned 2,670 acres of rangeland Thursday afternoon. Mike Green, public information officer for the Bureau of Land Management, Shoshone, said fireworks are suspected as the cause of the fire. He urges the public to be extremely cautious with use of fireworks and not to discharge them adjacent to any rangeland. He said the range grass is very dry at this time. The 42-man crew was dispatched to the area at 2 p.m. The fire was under control at 8:10 p.m. and declared out at 9:30 p.m. From the BLM office, there were two shovel crews, four tankers and one refill tanker, in addition to a spotter aircraft and a per diem guard crew. Green said the Shoshone district has about 43 fire fighting crew members. This is just eight short of the average full fire season crew employed by the district. The lookout station at Bell Mountain was opened this week. Notch Butte and Kamima were opened earlier this month.

Arraignment continued

SHOSHONE — An arraignment in magistrate court here for William Kerner Jr., 30, charged with neglect of animals, has been continued until next Thursday. Kerner faces the neglect charge as a result of action instigated by the Lincoln County Humane Society after 25 dead calves were found on his property. The animals allegedly died of starvation. An arraignment for Kerner was scheduled this morning but was continued by the court at the request of the defense attorney Svært Swenson, Gooding.

Efforts combined

SUN VALLEY — Sun Valley and Elkhorn announced Thursday that they have combined efforts to support the Ketchum Community in its annual Red Cross blood drive to take place Monday. With a source of more than 600 persons on Sun Valley's payroll, this campaign should enable Ketchum to meet its quota for the first time, officials said.

Gives guilty plea

SHOSHONE — Jim Trowbridge, 26, Shoshone, has entered a plea of guilty to a grand larceny charge of cattle rustling. Trowbridge, free on a $10,000 bond, will be sentenced by District Judge Charles Scoggin upon receipt of report of the probation officer who is conducting a pre-sentence investigation. This will probably be next Thursday. Trowbridge appeared Thursday morning, represented by public defender for Lincoln County, Phillip Becker, Gooding. Howard E. Adkins, Lincoln County prosecutor, represents the State. Trowbridge was arrested last month on a complaint charging him with the rustling of four small calves from the Star Lake Cattleman's Association where he was working as a range rider.

Rehearing asked in land suit

BOISE — A petition for rehearing has been filed in a ninth U.S. Circuit court in an effort to reverse a decision of that court which would invalidate the Indian Hills land development near Hammett. Entymen have filed the petition for a new hearing after the circuit court reversed the decision of Idaho Federal Court Judge Itay McNichols. Judge McNichols found in favor of the entymen, stating the desert entries were in order and free of fraud. The matter has been in litigation since 1964 and some of the land development has been underway since then.

Involved is the Indian Hills project, 3,700 acres of land south of the Snake River near Hammett. Two other projects may be endangered under the same ruling. Bureau of Land Management officials say if the high court ruling stands, they would have no alternative but to apply the same action to the 5,000-acre Saylor Creek project and the Black Mesa unit, which includes 4,000 acres. These are also located in the same general area around Glens Ferry and Bliss. The 12 entymen filed on the Indian Hills land in 1961 and the Idaho Director of the Bureau of Land Management approved the development in 1964 but a year later the Secretary of Interior set aside that approval. In 1966 the chief hearing examiner for the Department of Interior ruled a lack of good faith intent and evidence of fraud and rejected the entries. Five of these entries had been approved for patent in 1964. Hood Corp., which installed natural gas lines through Idaho and in the area of Indian Hills, became interested in the financing of the development. When the United States sued to eject the patentees, Hood Corp. sued to invalidate the Secretary of Interior's 1966 ruling. In July, 1970, Judge McNichols ruled in favor of the Hood Corp., holding the five patents were free of fraud. It was this decision the government officials appealed to the Ninth Circuit court and which was reversed. The Circuit court held the entymen in 1963 had agreed to transfer their lands to others on completion of the patents. The court also said the granting of Hood Corp. a right to farm the entries constituted secret arrangements and understandings.

FORECAST FOR SATURDAY, JUNE 23, 1973

GENERAL TENDENCIES: Until early in the afternoon, this is an adverse time and you could get into much trouble if you try to force matters or take risks. However, the afternoon and evening find a new awareness of what can be done to improve your position in almost any department of your life, so take such action then.

ARIES (Mar. 21 to Apr. 19) Morning influences can be quite confusing, but if you relax all works out to your benefit by p.m. Evening will then be just fine for social activities. Show your artistry.

TAURUS (Apr. 20 to May 20) Rather unfavorable influences are all around you during day, but take in your stride and by evening all will change. Enjoy the companionship of mate then. Lend a helping hand to needy persons.

GEMINI (May 21 to June 21) Argument could start with friends during day, so avoid, but evening is then just the opposite and social activities most pleasurable. Some aim should be thought-out well-in-a.m. Then go after it with a vengeance.

MOON CHILDREN (June 22 to July 21) Morning is not good for starting projects, but after lunch all works out well and continues throughout evening. Don't argue with a high-up early; then you can get the support you want. Stop being so unyielding.

LEO (July 22 to Aug. 21) You have new ideas and projects in your mind early, but need to wait until afternoon before putting any of them in action. Do some careful studying of detail, etc. Steer clear of one who has a bone to pick with you.

VIRGO (Aug. 22 to Sept. 22) Instead of arguing about bills, study them with care and you know just how to handle matters in a peaceful/wise manner. Attachment is not in a good mood during day. Keep cool and by evening all changes.

LIBRA (Sept. 23 to Oct. 22) After lunch is best for talking over certain matters with associates, otherwise there could be arguments if attempted earlier. Civic work is best done on another day. Don't waste your time with a bore in p.m.

SCORPIO (Oct. 23 to Nov. 21) Cooperate with co-workers, accomplish much, and you are rid of nervousness. Restore energies tonight. Light reading is good.

SAGITTARIUS (Nov. 22 to Dec. 21) Evening best for amusements since daytime finds you doing important work. Don't neglect this, or you will regret it. Set up appointments early.

CAPRICORN (Dec. 22 to Jan. 20) Don't try to straighten out matters at home in a.m., but wait until after lunch when it can be done wisely and intelligently. Show you are devoted to kin. Control temper at all costs.

AQUARIUS (Jan. 21 to Feb. 19) Early evening is best time to put new systems to the test so you improve routines greatly in the future. Your mind is working very rapidly and you can reorganize your ideas to make them more workable. Avoid one who bickers.

PISCES (Feb. 20 to Mar. 20) Those monetary problems are best handled in the evening since the morning is apt to be quite confusing; your thinking is muddled. Get property improved. Add to its value and beauty as well.

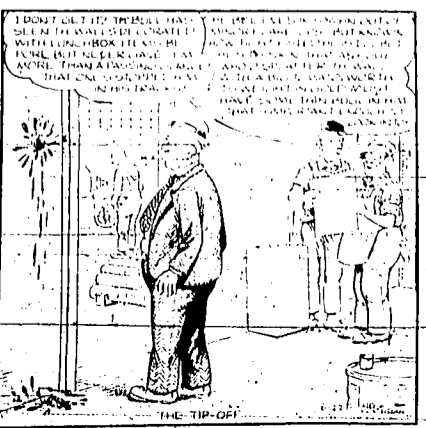

IF YOUR CHILD IS BORN TODAY... he or she will be one of those delightful young people with a very inquisitive mind and will do much investigating to get at the true facts, so as parents you have to be most patient with your youngster and answer questions quickly. Send to right schools that will put your child on the right track in life. The pioneer is definitely in this chart, even in philosophical understanding, and spiritual training is a must early.

Have you been told about that restaurant in Honolulu where nude male waiters serve the lunch crowd? It's comprised largely of secretaries, sales girls, lady shoppers? # Market Review

NEW YORK (UPI) — Stocks opened higher in active trading on the New York Stock Exchange Friday, responding to relaxed restrictions on corporate dividend payments.

Shortly after the opening, the Dow Jones industrial average was ahead 2.41 at 876.06. Advances led declines, 7 to 1.

The prime factor in the turnabout from Thursday's sharp decline was the decision of the Committee on Interest and Dividends to relax restrictions on the amount of dividends many companies can pay sharply limited during President Nixon's Phase III economic program.

The announcement was made late Thursday — after the close of trading on the NYSE. Prices on the Pacific Coast Stock Exchange rose sharply after the announcement.

However, many of the nation's leading banks have been raising their prime lending rate to 7 1/2 per cent from 7 1/4 per cent.

Saturday hot, chance of showers

Twin Falls, Northside, Burley-Rupert area: Continued hot through Saturday, with a chance of afternoon or evening thundershowers. The highs will continue in the 90s through Saturday with the lows tonight in the upper 50s to low 60s.

The outlook for Sunday is for a little cooler temperatures and a chance of thundershowers.

Camas Prairie, Halley and lower Wood River Valley: Continued hot through Saturday with a chance of afternoon or evening thundershowers. Highs will be in the upper 80s both days and lows tonight near 50.

The outlook for Sunday is for slightly cooler temperatures and a chance of thundershowers.

High pressure centered over eastern Idaho continues to feed hot, dry air over most of southern Idaho. This high level flow will gradually become more westerly increasing cloudiness over southern Idaho through Saturday with a chance of afternoon thundershowers mostly over and near the mountains.

Temperatures will continue warm through Saturday. High temperatures on the first day of summer yesterday were the warmest recorded this year at most locations. Highs ranged from the upper 80s in southeastern Idaho to the 90s and low 100s in the southwestern valleys. Lewisville with 102 was the warmest recorded in Idaho.

The extended outlook for Sunday through Tuesday indicates little or no precipitation. Temperatures will continue warm with a slight cooling trend.

Successful Investing

By ROGER E. SEAR

May I have your opinion on Dorelvestor Gas (OTC) of which I hold 800 shares at a cost of $3.80 a share? A. H. Although these shares are up 36 percent from your purchase price, I would favor their continued retention. For the fiscal year ended last August, per share earnings rose 36 percent on a 14 percent gain in revenues. Net more than doubled in the first half of the current fiscal year, while revenues were up 19 percent. Financial position improved in the period with current assets reaching 3x current liabilities. The redemption of the remaining 6.5 percent subordinated convertible debentures will be completed this month.

The company has been carrying on an active drilling and exploration program, participating this year in 30 wells in Colorado, Kansas, New Mexico, Oklahoma, etc.

Deliveries from the Hugoton Field in Kansas should soon upgrade deliveries from 3.2 million to 12 million cfd per day. This speculative issue should benefit from the natural gas shortage and a fast-paced exploration program.

Would you be kind enough to tell me whether you consider Kane Miller Corp.'s 1960 sale to hold? M.S.

This $22.5 million bond issue, which represents 12 percent of the corporation's long-term debt, carries only a B rating. This single B rating is regarded since debt obligations which are regarded as speculative, i.e. interest payments might not be certain under difficult economic conditions. In 1972, interest and fixed charges were covered 1.8x by earnings, an improvement over the previous year. However, first quarter 1973 witnesses a strong recovery in profits from 17 cents per share to 78 cents. Should this trend be extended over the balance of the year, coverage would be notably improved.

Profits take leap

WASHINGTON (UPI) — Corporate profits made their biggest jump in history between January and March, the Commerce Department said today.

The rise in dollar terms was the biggest quarterly increase on record whether measured on a before-tax or after-tax basis, exceeding even the profit spurt in the first quarter of 1971, when the economy was rebounding from the effects of a strike against General Motors.

The department today updated figures it issued last month in a preliminary estimate of first quarter profits. They showed that before-tax profits of corporations rose $12.8 billion in the first three months of 1973 and $6.5 billion after taxes.

Today's figures pushed before-tax book profits to a seasonally adjusted rate of $11.3 billion, larger than the $11.3 billion estimated a month ago. More property income

Aussies threaten France with 'superbug' if nuclear blasts let loose

SYDNEY (UPI)—Can Australian scientists blight France's grape crop? Can the Australians put the French champagne companies out of business? Yes, the newspaper The Australian reported today. With a fifth column of "superbugs" already smuggled into France.

The Australian, a respected national daily, said the scientists' sinister superbug would be turned loose on French vineyards if France goes through its planned nuclear atmospheric tests in the Pacific.

The Australian said the unidentified bug, akin to the rose-loving aphid, is immune to all insecticides except one developed by its breeders, and would bring havoc to the vineyards.

The Australian based its frontpage report on a letter cabled to the newspaper by one "Mary Smith" in the Philippines Wednesday. But an independent check in Manila showed the person who had sent the cable used a pseudonym, and she was not found in the hotel she gave.

"Australian scientists are reported to have planted a sinister superbug near the best of France's champagne grapes, ready to strike if the French go ahead with their planned nuclear tests," The Australian said.

"The tiny insect—reputed to prefer only the pinot and meunier grapevines—is said to be waiting in the hands of a French sympathizer at Reims in the heart of the Champagne-producing district.

"According to reports, the insects will spread very quickly, injecting a bitter fluid directly into the grapes and then be able to retreat, immune to all present insecticides except one developed by the scientists who bred the bug."

The report, cabled to The Australian, said two scientists, one employed by the Commonwealth

Scientific and Industrial Research Organization (CSIRO), and the other from a university in the Eastern Australian states, have spent a month in France establishing the groundwork for their operation and are now on their way back to Australia. The Australian reported.
