MV observes holiday

Magic Valley residents enjoyed the sun and fun today during the 197th observance of the birth of the nation. The Buhl Sagebrush Days parade stepped out late this morning, featuring riding groups, floats and marching bands providing entertainment for all. A carnival and concession booths were featured during the afternoon. The championship rodeo will begin at 8 p.m. A fireworks display was planned at the Buhl Elementary School grounds and an adult western dance was to begin at 9 p.m. in Jaycee Hall. The ice carnival was to be in Sun Valley tonight. Nationally-known skaters and members of the Sun Valley Skating Club will be featured. A fireworks display was to be featured during the carnival. Proceeds from swimming receipts between noon and 6 p.m. will be donated to the YMCA and YWCA swimming pool fund.

High target

TWIN FALLS — A Mountain Home balloonist has good reason to be up in the air today. While he was making a flight above a drive-in restaurant here Monday evening, thieves stole equipment valued at more than $800 from a trailer parked behind the restaurant on Blue Lakes Boulevard North. Douglas A. Misner told police two movie cameras, a case of cherry smoke balls and an instrument pack for the balloon were missing when he arrived in Pocatello to make another flight. Misner told police he also stopped in Burley but didn't leave the trailer unattended there.

No canyon jump

TWIN FALLS — It's a certainty. Even if he will not leap the Snake River Canyon today. A call to the motorcycle daredevil's home in Butte, Mont., this morning confirmed that he is alive and well and playing golf at the country club there. According to the youthful informant on the telephone, he will not come to Twin Falls today to make his jet-powered motorcycle leap of the Snake River canyon. The jump had been scheduled for today, but was postponed until next year. The Times News has received telephone inquiries from across the nation concerning the jump. A woman from Fort Wayne, Ind., said her family had planned a Fourth of July vacation around the event. When told he would not perform the feat today, she said, "I could just push him into the canyon!"

US, Charlie observe

BARTOW, Fla. (UPI) — The United States and Charlie Smith, its oldest known living citizen, celebrate their birthdays today. The U.S. is 197 years old, Charlie is 131. There will be little formal celebration for Charlie, who is beginning to show his age. But he still sees well without the aid of glasses and uses a hearing aid very little. The past year has been enough excitement for him. He was honored guest at Cape Kennedy for the launch of Apollo 17 but he still doesn't believe the astronauts went to the moon. He also flew to Los Angeles. Numerous visitors have dropped by at his small bungalow here from time to time. Charlie, who adopted his birthday on the day he was sold into slavery at a New Orleans auction in 1854, looked forward to his annual birthday greeting from the President and scores of other remembrances he receives each year.

A surprise will be a huge birthday card prepared by the local weekly newspaper. It will carry big photographs of Charlie being honored at different places during the past year.

Charlie claims to have been born in 1842 in Liberia, Africa. He said he was kidnapped into slavery and brought to this country in 1854. He is the oldest living person listed on the Social Security Administration rolls. He wasn't discovered by the agency until a Social Security worker found him picking fruit in a citrus tree at the age of 118.

Dean's recall on funds set

(c) New York Times Service
WASHINGTON — John W. Dean 3d will be recalled by the Senate Watergate committee this fall to testify about President Nixon's personal financial dealings in his purchase of his $1.5-million estate in San Clemente, Calif., the committee's chief counsel said today. Samuel Dash, the counsel, said in a telephone interview that Dean would be questioned to determine, among other things, whether any Republican re-election campaign funds had been involved in the purchase. Sources close to Dean have said that the former White House counsel was prepared to testify during his televised Senate appearance last week that he was convinced the White House had "covered up" the full financial affairs behind the purchase of the estate. However, the question never came up during Dean's five days of testimony. Dean's associates told reporters before he made his Senate appearance that "the White House has not made a clean breast" of the arrangements behind the purchase. "John didn't think that the whole thing had been flushed out," one source close to Dean said in reference to a White House statement May 25 on San Clemente. That statement acknowledged that an unnamed investment company controlled most of the property. "It's another big, elaborate cover," the source said of the statement. Although questions about Nixon's personal finances were never specifically asked during last week's hearings, Dean referred on at least two occasions to his working knowledge of the President's affairs. In response to questions last Tuesday about his functions as White House counsel, Dean caustically said that "the title was probably the best part of the job." Then he declared, "some of the work of the counsel's office was really related to technical legal problems, making sure that the I's were dotted and the K's were crossed on certain documents."

Staff's letters opened

(c) Washington Star-News
WASHINGTON — The chairman of the Federal Power Commission has admitted that his office routinely intercepts and opens mail from Congressmen and Senators addressed to members of the FPC staff.

The admission, by John N. Nassikas, was made in correspondence between him and Sen. Henry M. Jackson, D-Wash., chairman of the Senate Interior and Insular Affairs Committee. The exchange of letters was placed quietly into FPC public file Tuesday. The procedure may well be unique among the federal independent regulatory agencies. Checks with the Interstate Commerce Commission, Civil Aeronautics Board and Securities and Exchange Commission show that mail addressed to individual agency employees — whether from Congressmen or not — goes directly to the individual. The ICC, however, does require that copies are sent to the commission secretary's office which handles most Congressional correspondence.

Nassikas defended the procedure on the grounds that in the past important inquiries from members of Congress were sometimes lost or delayed for inordinate periods of time in the course of internal processing. The matter of the mail arose in a letter Jackson wrote on June 29 which he accused Nassikas of placing restrictions on the access of Congressional committees to the expertise of selected FPC staff members. Nassikas has forbidden an FPC economist, David S. Schwarz, from meeting with members of Jackson's committee staff who needed his advice in connection with an energy study being made by the committee.

Nixon 'doublecross' charged

WASHINGTON (UPI) — President Nixon double-crossed Congress when he escalated the US bombing campaign in Cambodia, Sen. Walter F. Mondale, D-Minn., charged Tuesday. Mondale said the stepped up air war in Cambodia "blatantly violates" a compromise Nixon reached with Congress to end all U.S. military activity in Indochina by Aug. 15.

Demo wants press statements

WASHINGTON (UPI) — Assistant Senate Democratic Leader Robert C. Byrd of West Virginia says President Nixon should replace press secretary Ronald L. Ziegler and answer all questions about the Watergate bugging at a full scale news conference. In an interview with NBC, Byrd said that because of some of Ziegler's statements on Watergate, which were later retracted, "the American people today cannot view the statements by Mr. Ziegler as being necessarily the truth." An American source said, "The secretary replied it was under consideration and he would move with deliberation on this score but could not forecast a specific date."

U.S. E. German relations eyed

HELSINKI (UPI) — Secretary of State William P. Rogers met briefly with East German Foreign minister Otto Winzer Tuesday night and discussed opening relations between the two countries, an American source said today. Sitting near one another at a dinner, Winzer raised the question of discussions for establishing diplomatic relations between the two countries.

Lawyer Bailey faces censure

BOSTON (UPI) — Famed criminal attorney F. Lee Bailey is again facing possible censure for his conduct in court, this time by the Massachusetts Supreme Court. Officials said Tuesday the court is looking into Bailey's conduct in a case in Pennsylvania which resulted in his censure in that state in 1972 for failure to submit written briefs prior to making oral arguments.

French call off N-test

PAPEETE, TAHITI (UPI) — The daily newspaper Tahiti Dispatch said today France has decided to call off plans for underground nuclear explosions at Elao in the Marquise Islands because the terrain is unsuitable. The newspaper said scientists of the Bureau of Geological and Mineral Research were encouraged by initial probes, but drillings to a depth of 8,500 feet disclosed the lower layers were incapable of withstanding explosions in the megaton range.

Dean to testify on President's estate purchase

"We are going to get into it in another phase of the hearings," he added, "with the persons who were working on the Nixon Foundation and did some personal work on the President's San Clemente properties and other personal things like that for the President, where I was the conduit to the law firm that was handling this for the president."

One of the partners in that firm, Herbert W. Kalmbach, also served as Nixon's personal attorney until his involvement in the cover-up payments to the Watergate defendants became publicly known.

Asked about Dean's assertions of a White House cover-up in the San Clemente statement, Dash said that the seven members of the Senate committee agreed before last week's testimony to limit all questioning to the "watergate bugging and cover-up."

"We stayed away from that (the president's personal financial affairs) in the first round," Dash said, "because we're going to get into it in another phase of the hearings."

"I've already told Dean that I want him back to discuss San Clemente and other aspects" of his testimony that were not related to Watergate, Dash said.

"San Clemente may become a very important issue," the counsel added, "but not at this point."

Within the next few weeks, Dash indicated the Senate committee will make a firm decision whether to open the next stage of its inquiry with public testimony about political sabotage or campaign financing. He said that inquiry would begin in late September, after the current inquiry into Watergate and the cover-up had been completed.

The Watergate counsel specifically referred to reports that leftover Republican campaign funds were utilized in the initial purchase of San Clemente and said this would be investigated.

Hurricane touches Bermuda

HAMILTON, Bermuda (UPI) — Alice, the season's first hurricane, barely touched the edge of Bermuda today, "knocked down a few trees" without causing injuries and then disappeared in the North Atlantic Ocean.

Packing 95-mile-an-hour winds, Alice fooled the experts at the National Hurricane Center in Miami, who had said residents of the British resort island should take "all precautions" and warned that Alice could hit Hamilton, the island's capital, full blast.

But Constable Alan Procter at Hamilton police headquarters said the eye of the hurricane "passed about 30 miles west of Bermuda. It knocked a few trees down in Hamilton but there were no injuries."

Aussie airplane ransom found

SYDNEY (UPI) — A young man renovating his house in suburban Balmain has found more than $250,000 that was part of the huge ransom paid two years ago by Qantas Airlines in a bomb hoax, police said today.

Police would not identify the man, but said he found a green plastic bag stuffed with money underneath his home. They said he notified authorities and they opened two locked safes in the house and found more of the ransom loot.

Qantas paid out nearly $500,000 after a telephone threat said a bomb was aboard a jetliner bound for Hong Kong. In return for the payment, the extortionist said he would tell where the bomb was located on the plane and how to defuse it. Qantas paid. There was no bomb aboard.

Pator Rasquale Macari, 36, is serving 15 years in prison on a conviction in the case. Raymond James Poynting was sentenced to seven years.

Police said $210,000 is still unaccounted for from the incident.

One of the wall safes also contained a passport, travelers checks and a British driver's license in the name of Brian Rodger Adams, which a detective said was "one of the many aliases used by Macari."

Kimberly woman awaits decision

TWIN FALLS — Magistrate Court Judge Daniel Meehl has taken testimony in the voluntary manslaughter case of Sally Turner, Kimberly under advisement.

Two days of testimony in the preliminary hearing ended late Tuesday afternoon. Judge Meehl said he would study the evidence before rendering a decision as to whether the young Kimberly woman should stand trial on the charges and be bound over to District Court.

Mrs. Turner, 23, took the stand late Tuesday to describe events leading up to the fatal shooting of James Lee Dotson, 27, Twin Falls, early May 22.

She is represented by the public defender, Monte Carlson. The defense introduced a long list of witnesses in an effort to show the shooting was justifiable.

Mrs. Turner told the court Dotson came to her home and was denied entry. He forced his way into the home and engaged in an altercation with two other men. She told the court she was trying to protect her home and family.

Other witnesses also described the incident, saying Dotson came to the Turner home in an attempt to see a girl friend with whom he had a disagreement earlier.

Testimony began Monday and continued throughout the day, resuming at 1:30 p.m. Tuesday.

Inside Report On Nixon Justice

WASHINGTON — Before the Watergate scandal broke open this spring, the Justice Department's investigation of Nixon campaign "dirty tricks" in the 1972 Florida presidential primary either ignored or suppressed a key FBI report...

But Briggs, an ardent Republican, did not request an FBI investigation until last October when a column by Jack Anderson revealed Jackson's request. Even then, Briggs declared it "absurd" to connect the letter with Republicans of the Nixon administration...

and Republican leader Robert Benz of Tampa, testified before the grand jury (Benz under immunity) and were not indicted. Why so fruitful in May, when the investigation was so barren in March? Briggs told us he received unspecified new information...

Atty. Gen. Henry Petersen, but not to Briggs. A source close to Briggs denied that Briggs has seen the Feb. 6 report or any "final" FBI report — to this very day. This leaves two possibilities: Briggs saw the Feb. 6 report and ignored it until Watergate erupted, or he never saw it at all...

highly barren investigative summary, omitting vital information developed by the FBI. This one aspect of the Justice Department's investigation of Segretti's nationwide operations suggests many things: blind partisanship, stunning incompetence, a possible cover-up. The story of how the Nixon administration enforced the law is still unfolding.

Revolution

Suppose the drafters of the Declaration of Independence had neglected to add this paragraph to their document:

"And for the support of this Declaration, with a firm reliance on the protection of Divine Providence, we mutually pledge to each other our Lives, our Fortunes, and our Sacred Honor."

It would have been remarkable if any revolution could have been made.

But, of course, the delegates to the Continental Congress of 1776 added that final paragraph, stuck their necks under the shadow of King George's hangman and set to work to make their fine vision in accomplished fact. The Declaration of Independence did not create the Revolution, men did.

One hundred and ninety-seven years have passed since that hot summer day in Philadelphia. That historic bit of parchment, faded and scarred, is still a part of mid-twentieth century America. Sometimes, however, we act as though we would like to forget about the acts and deeds of the men which gave meaning to the Declaration.

We have a tendency to assume that once we have made the right sort of speeches and passed the proper kind of resolutions, nothing more needs to be done.

We have some lovely sets of words. But sometimes we seem not to know how to fit them to them. We can sign declarations of independence, but we don't stick around for Valley Forge and Saratoga.

There are plenty of good examples: Within the last few years, Americans innumerable have voiced ringing declarations about the irony of permitting poverty to exist in a land of unrivaled plenty; about the need to wipe out city slums; about the criminal folly of allowing Americans to kill themselves on the highways; about the necessity to pressure our natural environment; about the unalienable right of all people to freedom, justice and opportunity.

But are we doing enough to translate any of these declarations into fact? We have talked and resolved and deplored and condemned — and the targets of our resolving and condemning still loom large and frightening.

We could take a hint from the men of 1776. They spoke these words about the iniquity of Tyranny — and then, with their own hands, went out and delivered themselves from it.

Nader Doesn't Have To Be Right

Ralph Nader filed one of those action lawsuits seeking to shut down 20 of our nation's nuclear power plants. Anybody can shut down vast segments of our nation's economy — and they don't have to be right.

Under the questionable legal umbrella of the so-called "class suit," individuals, capriciously or maliciously, many cripple our country — and they have nothing to lose. Without risking a dime, they may press for injunctions and other blockages.

For example, at this moment dozens of nuclear power plants have been halted in various stages of completion because of environmental lawsuits. The value of these projects exceeds a billion dollars. The annual loss, because of the tie-ups, runs into hundreds of millions of dollars. And the tie-ups further curtail potential power for 15 states which already face acute shortages of power.

Now along comes Nader seeking to shut down existing nuclear power plants — the name of "public safety" — though not one mishap has harmed even one "public" in more than 20 years of operation.

Some of the suers paralyzing progress in the name of ecology are also in the forefront of those protesting our 5 per cent unemployment. They can't have it both ways. It is their opposition which halted the $69 million Tellico Dam in Tennessee at a loss of thousands of jobs.

When the $100 million Cross-Florida Barge Canal project was canceled, thousands of jobs were lost.

When the $386 million Alabama waterway project was stopped, other thousands were left jobless.

When the multimillion-dollar Gilham Dam in Arkansas was scuttled, more thousands were put out of work.

Additionally, hundreds of other carefully engineered projects and programs have been brought to a halt throughout the 50 states.

Never before have so few conspired to deny jobs to so many.

And while there is much castigation and condemnation of "big industry" for ignoring the rights and needs of workers, how about the "professional consumers" who are building big businesses for themselves by tearing others down?

Publisher Charles Gould of the San Francisco Examiner urgently recommends that the individuals and organizations willing to stop the clock and diminish further our already critical supply of power at least should be bonded so that those unfairly harmed by them could recover damages.

As it is, anybody can, without risking one dollar of his own money, jeopardize millions — billions — of yours.

GEORGE C. THOSTESON, M.D.

The Meaning Of "Chemical Diabetes"

Dear Dr. Thosteson: What is chemical diabetes? I have been tested several times and blood tests have been normal. I do not use sweets and am 70 years old. — C. B.

There are different classifications of diabetes. Overt diabetes means there is no question of presence of the disease. Chemical (also called latent) diabetes means that a fasting blood sugar is normal, but a sugar tolerance test is not.

That is, a fasting blood sugar would be a test made a substantial time after you have last eaten. A sugar tolerance test is a series of tests, an hour apart, with the patient being given a measured amount of sugar.

Thus with the fasting test, you can conclude that the patient manages to use up enough sugar, given time. The sugar tolerance test will show whether he uses it up rapidly enough.

With a chemical or latent diabetes, the salient symptoms of diabetes do not appear — excessive thirst, frequent urination, loss of weight. However, I would suspect that your doctor at some time or other detected some sugar in your urine, making him rightly suspicious.

One must keep in mind that at your age blood sugar values may be a bit higher than what is considered normal for younger ones. A chemical diabetes can remain the same, or can get worse if you don't follow a suitable diet, or can improve if you cut out sweets and reduce weight.

Which will happen in your case remains to be seen: I would recommend a periodic blood sugar test, taken two hours after a meal, to keep track of the situation.

Dear Dr. Thosteson, I am a 21-year-old girl who is living with a boyfriend. I am on birth control pills, not only to avoid pregnancy but for medical reasons as well. I used to have terrible cramps and my cycles were very irregular.

The problem is that I have been taking the pills for two years now and my sister says that to take them any longer is dangerous.

I prefer to remain on the pill, but now my sister says she read somewhere that taking them for longer than two years could cause cancer. Do you know if this is true? — M. B.

Dear Dr. Thosteson: Is it harmful to take "bromos" constantly for indigestion? My husband has been doing so for years, and I've noticed that now I'm buying a "family size" bottle every two or three weeks. — but seems to be from smoking and drinking. When he quit smoking for several months four years ago he didn't require any. But when we've been to a party where there is drinking, he takes more.

I've heard about bromide poisoning. Is this any reason to worry? — T. Y.

It is the alkali in the fizzy portion of such preparations that quiets the stomach. The bromide portion acts as a sedative, and yes, habitual use of bromides can be harmful, causing brominism, with such symptoms as sleepiness, lethargy, weakness, skin disorders. Bromides should be used within limits. It's not wise to let the habit become a fixed one.

Note to Mrs. L. B.: No, you don't become "addicted" to streptomycin used to treat your tuberculosis.

Never take a chance on diabetes! For better understanding of this disease, write to Dr. Thosteson in care of this newspaper for a copy of the booklet, "Diabetes — The Sneaky Disease." Please enclose a long, self-addressed (use zip code), stamped envelope and 35 cents in coin to cover cost of printing and handling.

Dear Dr. Thosteson: What is your opinion of treating carcinoma of the prostate with female hormones? How long will it last? I have not had a biopsy, just a hard spot on the gland which my doctor says is a 70 per cent indication of cancer. — G. L. C.

This has been one of the extremely successful methods of treating cancer, it was, if I remember rightly, the first successful cancer treatment by chemotherapy — that is, by chemical action rather than surgery.

I can't give you any specific time over which the treatment is effective, but it is measured in years. Quite a good many years. Maybe you do or maybe you don't have cancer. But if you do, you have reason to be thankful that this hormone treatment was discovered.

Dear Dr. Thosteson: If a person uses dye, coloring or whatever on the hair, will it affect the brain? If so, why symptoms are there? — Mrs. N. B. S.

This is a popular, but mistaken notion that keeps going around. What you use on the surface of the skin isn't going to get inside the brain — particularly since it would then have to penetrate not only the skin but also the skull.

Because of the tremendous volume of mail received daily, Dr. Thosteson regrets that he cannot answer individual letters, but whenever possible he uses readers' questions in his column.

Once upon a time a thousand years ago there was a king of DENMARK named Gorm the Old. All through the years his family has ruled the oldest kingdom of the world, and the present queen MARGRETHE II is a descendant of the old king Gorm.

There are a few things we should all remember on this July 4. We should remember that as the United States approaches its 200 year as the world's oldest republic, Denmark is celebrating its 1073rd year as the world's oldest kingdom. We should remember that the State of Idaho became one of the United States just 83 years ago yesterday, July 3.

We should remember that some people get so caught up in what is going wrong that they fail to see or appreciate what is going right in this nation of ours. We have our problems, but imperfection does not spell disaster. All of us — and especially those who see only the bad and who gloat on it — should join in asking that God continue to bless America.

Nixon names USAF leaders

SAN CLEMENTE, Calif. (UPI) — President Nixon Tuesday named John L. McLucas to be secretary of the Air Force and Gen. George S. Brown, former Air Force commander in Vietnam, to be chief of staff, the service's top ranking uniformed position.

McLucas, 52, who has served in the Defense Department for six years, has been under secretary of the Air Force since March 5, 1969. He succeeds Robert C. Seamans, who resigned May 14.

McLucas, a native of Fayetteville, N.C., served as deputy director of defense, research and engineering from 1962 to 1964 and then went to Paris for two years as executive secretary general for scientific affairs of NATO.

He spent three years as head of the Mitre Corp. in Bedford, Mass. before returning to the Pentagon to take the undersecretary post.

Brown graduated from West Point in 1941 and reached the rank of colonel in only three years, flying with the Eighth Air Force in Europe and winning the Distinguished Service Cross, the second highest award for bravery.

He commanded the 62nd Courier Group and the 56th Fighter Wing in the Korean War, was commander of the 7th Air Force in Vietnam, and served as deputy U.S. commander for all operations in Vietnam from August, 1966, to September, 1970.

The President also nominated a career Foreign Service officer, William P. Stedman Jr., 50, to be ambassador to Bolivia.

Stedman, a Baltimore native described as having a broad background in Latin American affairs, was nominated for the post left vacant by the nomination of Ernest V. Siracusa to be ambassador to Uruguay.

Robert L. Spiers, 58, was nominated to be the first U.S. ambassador to the young Commonwealth of the Bahamas. Spiers is a career Foreign Service officer now serving as assistant secretary of state in charge of politico-military affairs.

Alvin I. Alm, 36, was named assistant administrator for planning and management of the Environmental Protection Agency.

Teachers begin merger palaver

By JOHN MATTHEWS
(The Washington Star News)
PORTLAND, Ore. — The initially placid convention of the 1.3-million-member National Education Association here is suddenly confronted with a new proposal by its president to begin merger talks with the rival AFL-CIO teachers union, the American Federation of Teachers.

Merger of the NEA and the 300,000-member AFT, the teachers union, would lead to massive, united teacher power throughout the nation, particularly in major cities.

The proposal by Catharine Barrett, the outgoing NEA president, presumably has the support of the new president, Helen Wise, and the executive secretary, Terry Herndon.

It would be one year to winding pact — one year to the rival organizations with merger talks to begin Sept. 1.

The Barrett offer is being subjected to a variety of interpretations. Some dismiss it as no more than a publicity gimmick, since it speaks against affiliation with the AFL-CIO.

The teachers union has said it cannot give up its affiliation as a price for merger. This was the statement seen at the beginning of a wide spread NEA campaign to lure the smaller teachers union.

Others say the proposal is a genuine overture that has received behind-the-scenes backing of teacher union leaders.

Albert Shanker, the influential New York teachers union leader, was equivocal about it but did not dismiss the NEA proposal. Shanker has been accused of wanting to lead a million NEA teachers into the AFL-CIO to gain for himself nationwide standing as a labor leader. Shanker, who has led several teachers strikes in New York City, is a member of NEA since the year-old statewide merger of both union and NEA units.

The merger talks proposal was ratified Monday night by a 62-37 vote of the NEA board of directors. It could be rejected by the 9,000 delegates who make up the representative assembly.

Americans celebrate 4th

By Clifton Press International
Americans across the country hailed the nation's 197th birthday today with fireworks, parades, festivals, concerts, regattas and watermelon feeds.

This could be the last time Americans celebrate Independence Day by shooting fireworks at home. The federal government is considering a ban on all but a few "safe" fireworks, such as sparklers, pinwheels, Roman candles and fountains.

The National Safety Council urged parents to take their children to public fireworks displays instead of staging "do-it-yourself" pyrotechnics. Chicagoans had a choice of watching a fireworks gala at Lakeside Soldier Field or a fireworks and thrill show in suburban Evanston.

Bob Hope flew 53 nieces, nephews, grandnieces and grandnephews from Cleveland to Los Angeles for a spaghetti dinner Tuesday night and a "real old-fashioned" holiday with California relatives today.

Eight canoeists tracing the historic Mississippi River route to Joliet and Marquette, Ill., planned a celebration today at the St. Louis riverfront.

Florida Gov. Reubin Askew asked for Floridians to stop what they're doing at 2 p.m. today and ring a bell in observance of the anniversary of America as a free nation. This is designed to foster a resurgence of patriotism and a renewed faith in the ideals with which our founding fathers launched this nation, the governor said.

Thousands of vacationers were in Milwaukee, Wis., to watch the city's annual circus parade, featuring antique circus wagons from the Circus World Museum and Dick Sparrow of Zeating, Iowa, driving a 40-horse hitch.

Conventioneering Shriners — 70,000 strong — highlighted a parade in Atlanta, and an estimated quarter million persons were expected for tonight's annual fireworks display atop Georgia's Stone Mountain.

Grable services planned

BEVERLY HILLS, Calif. (UPI) — Memorial services will be held Thursday for Betty Grable, whose golden legs supported the morale of millions of GIs in World War II.

Miss Grable died of lung cancer Monday evening at St. John's Hospital in Santa Monica. She was 56, and had been ill with cancer for some time.

At one time, she was the highest paid woman in the United States, when her movies, frequently lavish musicals, were big box office draws in the 1940s.

POW counts dropped

WASHINGTON (UPI) — The Army and the Navy Tuesday dropped charges of collaborating with the enemy against seven former prisoners of war, saying there was not enough evidence to support the accusations.

Army Secretary Howard H. Callaway and Navy Secretary John W. Warner also said the charges filed May 29 by Air Force Col. Theodore Guy — who had been senior officer in the POW camp where the men were held — violated the policy of the Department of Defense against holding trials for alleged propaganda statements.

The action by the two civilian service secretaries followed by six days the apparent suicide death of an eighth enlisted man, Marine Sgt. Abel L. Kavanaugh of Denver. Kavanaugh's widow has charged the accusations were "fictitious" and drove her husband over the edge.

Rep. Olin E. Teague, D-Tex., former chairman of the House Veterans Affairs Committee, said in a statement that the charges "seriously contributed to the death of Sgt. Kavanaugh."

The Pentagon, Teague said, "should order that no former POW should give news releases saying that charges will be made on another former POW."

The men charged by Guy, in addition to Kavanaugh, were Sp5c. Michael P. Branch of Highland Heights, Ky.; Staff Sgt. Robert P. Chenoweth of Portland, Ore.; Staff Sgt. James A. Daly Jr. of New York; Staff Sgt. King D. Rayford of Chicago; and Staff Sgt. John A. Young of Gaylesville, Ill., all of the Army; and Pvt. Frederick L. Elbert Jr. of Brentwood, N.Y., and Staff Sgt. Alfonso I. Hiale of Santa Rosa, Calif., both Marines.

Director resigns

WASHINGTON (UPI) — Dr. Gordon K. MacLeod, director of Health Maintenance Organization services, became Tuesday's second federal health official in a week to announce his resignation in protest against administration reorganization of health services.

MacLeod, quoted from an internal memorandum in the Department of Health, Education and Welfare which he said approved action to "submerge HMO services in a bureau of community health services."

"It is with some regret that I feel obliged to resign my position with the federal government and what was an important federal initiative to improve the health of the American people," MacLeod, 44, told UPI in a telephone interview.

Administration officials in charge of the reorganization, which is nearing completion, declined comment.

Dr. Arthur J. Lesser, veteran chief of federal health services for crippled children and low-income pregnant mothers, quit Friday because of the reorganization.

Departure delayed

OTTAWA (UPI) — Michel Gavrin, Canada's ambassador to the Vietnam truce team, has delayed his departure from Vietnam because of the disappearance of two Canadian officers, an External Affairs department spokesman said today.

Gavrin had been expected in Ottawa this week where he was to hold talks with government ministers and officials before resuming his post as Canada's ambassador to Greece.

Rome fuel short

ROME (UPI) — Gasoline distributors accused of hoarding supplies today of rationing supplies in hopes the government will soon authorize an increase in gasoline prices in Italy.

Andrea d'Andrea, president of the Federation of Gasoline Station Operators, told newsmen the resulting shortage has created "a problem which can only be solved through a price increase or a courageous measure making supplies compulsory."

Spokesmen for oil companies denied the accusations and blamed along holiday weekend for the shortage which forced a number of gasoline stations throughout the country to close down in recent days. They said the large flow of vacationers — 7.4 million cars on the roads on Sunday alone — combined with a "shutdown" in tanker truck movement due to the holidays.

D'Andrea said oil companies, with the sole exception of the state-controlled AGIP, were deliberately withholding supplies to pressure the government into allowing an increase in Italy's gasoline price, already Europe's highest.

Italians pay $1.10 a gallon for gasoline. Of this, the state takes 75 per cent in taxes, with the remaining 25 per cent paying for prospecting, production, transportation and distribution.

TWIN FALLS — The monthly premium for medicare medical insurance, scheduled to be increased in July, has been rolled back in keeping with president Nixon's 90-day price freeze policy.

According to Jack K. Carlton, Social Security District Manager of Twin Falls, "The higher amount will continue to be charged until the premium record for each beneficiary can be corrected."

Refunds in full will be made at a later date. This also applies to railroad retirement beneficiaries and civil service annuitants who pay premiums for medical insurance under medicare.

Watergate cause of tax dispute

SAN GLEMANTE, Calif. (UPI) — The Western White House Tuesday blamed a climate of suspicion generated by the Watergate affair for controversy over the property tax bill on President Nixon's estate here.

Press Secretary Ronald L. Ziegler's comments came in response to a report in the Register of Santa Ana, Calif., that the President's property tax bill was at least $25,000, and perhaps as much as $55,000, too low over the past three years.

He said the property tax "is a matter totally up to the tax assessor. There is nothing for me to say. The tax assessor should assess."

He criticized suggestions that the President "or someone in the White House was involved in getting a low tax assessment," saying stories implying misuse of power to enrich the President were totally without basis, and stemmed from the climate of suspicion generated by the Watergate scandal.

He said the White House counsel's office informed him that most California property is appraised for tax purposes at

Wilkins views black progress

INDIANAPOLIS, Ind. (UPI) — Roy Wilkins, executive director of the National Association for the Advancement of Colored People, Tuesday said the progress blacks have made in the past 27 years may be eroded by new educational theories.

Wilkins and Wilson Riles, California superintendent of public instruction, Tuesday addressed the 64th annual NAACP convention during separate sessions attended by most of the 2,500 delegates.

Wilkins said new theories being advanced in education may return the nation to a "separate but equal" doctrine.

He said William Shockley of Stanford University has developed a theory of genetic inferiority that "maintains that Negroes are inherently and innately inferior to whites and that no matter what legislation is enacted, what opinions courts may have and what administrative policies are pursued black Americans are just plain unable to cope from their mother's wombs."

Wilkins also attacked a theory developed by Christopher Jencks of Harvard University, which the NAACP executive said maintains that education, little or much, does not affect the obtaining and holding of any job.

"The adoption of this thesis would dump all black protests on educational inequality into the ash cans," he charged. "It would play havoc with the system which whites have built so painstakingly to frustrate other whites and particularly to block blacks."

Riles, who was presented the Spingarn medal, the NAACP's highest award, said, "We have advanced in education—but only to a degree. The truth is that the progress of black children and black scholars remain pathetic. There is a color gap in education."

There is a need, he said, for the nation's universities and colleges, for the high school principals and school boards, for the teachers and administrators at all levels of education including this state superintendent standing before you—to stop thinking about blacks in patronizing ways and to stop trying to help blacks on the conventional, token ways."

Defense secretary assumes duties

WASHINGTON (UPI) — Taking over as secretary of defense, James R. Schlesinger Tuesday called on the military services to do without luxury weapons, discard parochialism, and set an example for restoring national unity and purpose.

The Armed Forces historically have displayed the discipline and the pooling of effort for common purposes that serve as a cure for self-centeredness and individualism gone awry, Schlesinger said.

The third man head of the Defense Department since President Nixon's re-election, Schlesinger was welcomed on his first day at the Pentagon with a 19-gun salute. He formerly headed the Atomic Energy Commission and the Central Intelligence Agency.

He urged the services to use restraint in requesting weapons systems but also said the United States must have a force structure "which adequately reflects and maintains the military realities and the balance of political power."

"At this point in our nation's

Wallace to get award

DECATUR, Ala. (UPI) — Sen. Edward M. Kennedy, D-Mass., and Alabama Gov. George Wallace, who stand apart on politics, will stand together tonight when Wallace receives a "Spirit of America" award.

Wallace, whose legs were paralyzed after a would-be assassin shot him during a campaign trip in Maryland May 15 of last year, will be hoisted to his feet in a special platform to accept the patriotism award.

His acceptance will follow a speech in which Kennedy is expected to laud Wallace for his "courage and determination and willingness to face personal hardship."

Wallace aides said the governor and Kennedy will meet informally and attend a closed reception after their appearance.

The ceremonies will be held in a wooded, peninsula-like state park on the Tennessee River near here. Kennedy's address and Wallace's acceptance of the award will be part of a fourth of July celebration including frog jumping and pig chasing contests and a beauty pageant. More than 12,000 persons are expected to attend.

Wallace, who is expected to run for governor of Alabama again next year, is scheduled to arrive just prior to the 6 p.m. ceremony, accompanied by national Democratic Party Chairman Robert Stauss.

Kennedy is scheduled to fly to Atlanta and then to nearby Huntsville.

Security for the ceremony was described as "heavy but normal." Helicopters and boats ringed the park. Plainclothes security officers were scheduled to mingle with the crowd.

The celebration marks Kennedy's first visit to Alabama since the fall of last year, when he visited Wallace at the governor's mansion in Montgomery while on a speaking tour.

Announce separation

ELIZABETH TAYLOR announced a separation from her husband Richard Burton Tuesday saying "Maybe we have loved each other too much." (UPI)

Elizabeth tells of separation

NEW YORK (UPI) — Elizabeth Taylor, the raven-haired actress whose four previous marriages ended in divorce or death, Tuesday said she has separated from Richard Burton, her spouse of nine years.

"Maybe we have loved each other too much," she said, "not that I ever believed such a thing was possible but we have been in each other's pockets constantly, never being apart except for matters of life and death, and I believe it has caused a temporary breakdown of communication."

Word of the rift came in a two-page note that Miss Taylor, 41, wrote on Regency Hotel stationery in spindly block letters. Her agent distributed it to reporters.

There was no comment from Burton, who is staying with the couple's lawyer at a beach house in Quogue, N.Y.

"I am convinced it would be a good and constructive idea if Richard and I are separated for a while," said Miss Taylor's note, which was apparently scrawled quickly. A few words were scratched out.

"I believe with all my heart that this separation will ultimately bring us back to where we should be—and that is together."

"I think in a few days I shall return to California because my mother is there and I have many old and true friends out there as well, and friends are to help each other aren't they? Isn't that what it's all supposed to be about?"

"And if anyone reads anything lascivious (or dirty) that was scratched out here) into that last statement, all I can say is it must be in the mind of the reader—not mine, or my friends or my husband's."

"Wish us well please during this most difficult time."

signed Elizabeth Taylor Burton

There was no explanation of the reference to "old and true friends."

Burton was married in Montreal in 1964. They broke up with their previous mates two

Happy day

COLCHESTER, England (UPI) — Bert Goodchild spent 20 years planning his retirement speech and when the big day came Tuesday he made the most of it.

"This is the happiest day of my life," the 65-year-old Goodchild told office workers gathered to present him a gold watch marking his 25 years of service. "Because I won't have to come here again."

"I want no memories of this place, I've had enough. Conditions where I worked are disgraceful and I'm glad to be leaving."

US, China name bank

HONG KONG (UPI) — Banker David Rockefeller ended a trip to China today and said the Chase Manhattan Bank has been designated the first American bank in 24 years to do official business with the Bank of China.

"We have been asked to be the first correspondent with the Bank of China in the United States since the time of the (1949) revolution," Rockefeller, chairman of the board of Chase Manhattan, told a news conference shortly after his arrival in Hong Kong.

"Naturally we were very pleased we were chosen."

Rockefeller said that after final negotiations are completed it is possible that most of the trade between China and the United States, which totaled more than $300 million last year, would be handled through Chase Manhattan. Those transactions are now handled through third-nation banks.

Connally restless

FORT WORTH, Tex. (UPI) — John Connally said Tuesday he left his job as an unpaid advisor to President Nixon because he was restless and not because of differences with the President.

"We have had no troubles at all—none at all from a personal standpoint, or, for that matter, from a political standpoint," the former treasury secretary said.

Connally, who left the White House last month, said he plans to return to his Houston law practice July 15.

He said he became restless in Washington and this was his primary reason for leaving the post he was appointed to in the wake of Watergate-related dismissals within the administration.

Pesticide ruling squelch demanded

WASHINGTON (UPI) — Seventy-one House members signed a letter asking President Nixon to squelch as costly and unwarranted modified emergency regulations designed to safeguard farm workers from hazardous pesticides.

The regulations issued by the labor department's Occupational Safety and Health Administration (OSHA) set restrictions on allowing workers to enter fields and orchards after treatment with certain pesticides.

The House members, representing both parties and all sections of the country, said they agree some regulations are needed but objected to OSHA's claiming an emergency exists so its order can take effect immediately, without hearings.

OSHA issued stronger regulations last spring but withdrew them June 14 after 52 House members, many of them also signers of the new letter, sent Nixon a letter of protest May 23.

A spokesman for the House members said the regulations were modified and released in emergency status. He said the emergency is based solely on a 1970 report by a Senate subcommittee based in turn on 1968 testimony that there had been some deaths and injuries from misuse of pesticides.

The deaths and injuries were projected onto a national scale with a mathematical result that indicated there have been 800 deaths and 80,000 injuries, the spokesman said.

In the letter, the House members said OSHA has not been able to substantiate this projection or to support its claim that an emergency exists.

Both the original regulations and the new scaled-down version provide mandatory time lapses before laborers can re-enter a field or orchard that has been sprayed with certain pesticides.

Grain trade firm named in charges

WASHINGTON (UPI) — The Agriculture Department Monday said it has filed charges of "incomplete and inaccurate" reports on futures trading against a firm that handled more than half of last year's big sale of US grain to the Soviet Union.

Officials said the complaint "does not constitute proof of violation of the law." They said a determination would be made by a judicial officer after a hearing to be held in New York.

The reports in question were filed during the summer, when the Soviet grain deal unfolded, and the Agriculture Department's Commodity Exchange Authority contends they amounted to a willful violation of the Federal Commodity Exchange Act.

Alex C. Caldwell, CEA administrator, said that nothing in his agency's investigation indicated Continental could have profited from filing the incorrect data.

Bean markets maintain uncertain atmosphere

DENVER — Bean markets continued in an atmosphere of uncertainty as traders attempted to assess price restrictions.

The basing point for the freeze is the principal area of concern. Demand for beans is generally good, as consumers continue to search for low priced protein foods, according to Bean Market News edition of June 27.

The USDA Agricultural Marketing Service publication shows pinto prices in Idaho holding about steady in limited trading. Packers are continuing to use up existing stocks before making new purchases.

About the only area that traded Great Northern last week was Idaho, and many sales were made above and below the quoted range. A few isolated sales were made at the $9.00 level while others were reported at 21.25. Volume was limited. Bids to growers in Idaho held at 16.00-17.00 in very tight supply.

Small reds and pinks in Idaho held at 11.00 per hundredweight.

Idaho bean planting has been completed and stands appear to be good. A few fields suffered from frost in June and will need replanting. Recent cool weather has delayed growth, and the crop is now about one week behind normal. Overall conditions appear excellent.

Dealer selling prices for U.S. No. 1's for the weeks of June 26 and June 19 were:

Poultry disease hits turkey farm

RIVERSIDE (UPI) — Newcastle disease, the poultry-killing virus declared epidemic among Southern California flocks last year, has broken out again among more than 50,000 turkeys near Romoland.

The new outbreak is the first confirmed reappearance of the disease in Southern California since May 14, according to the state-federal newcaste task force here.

"It's evident that the disease has been controlled," said Dr. E. C. Sharman, the task force director. "But eradication has not yet been accomplished."

He said the disease has infected a flock of 57,500 turkeys at a ranch near Romoland in Riverside County.

The Newcastle epidemic, which began in March, 1972, caused the destruction of 11.6 million birds in eight Southern California counties, Sharman said. The government paid $24.4 million to owners of vaccinated flocks, he said.

Meat firm shuts shop

CANTON, Ohio (UPI) — Sugarland Foods Inc. a full-line meat packer with sales in five states, announced today it was terminating its pork kill and cut operations as of July 13.

David Lavin, chief executive officer of the firm, said a loss in his firm's pork operations coupled with a short supply of hogs necessitated the action.

Karen Thompson, Allen recite vows

TWIN FALLS — Karen Thompson and Terry Allen, both Twin Falls, were united in marriage June 16 in the Valley Christian Church. The bride is the daughter of Dale Thompson, Cleveland, Tenn., and Edna Thompson, Twin Falls. The bridegroom is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Clark McKean, Twin Falls. Rev. Leslie Brown performed the double ring ceremony before an altar decorated with blue chrysanthemums and white gladioli. The bride, given in marriage by her father, wore a white floor length gown, featuring cap sleeves and an empire waistline. The bodice and sleeves were covered with chantilly lace. Her mantilla veil, edged with venice lace, fell to the floor, forming a chapel train. The gown and veil were made by her mother. She carried a crescent shaped bouquet of white roses and baby's breath. Debbie Kirkman, sister of the bride, was matron of honor. Carla Bowyer was bridesmaid and Erica Greenwell was flower girl. Rick Allen, brother of the bridegroom, was best man. Marty Allen, brother of the bridegroom, was groomsman. Robert Thompson, brother of the bride, was ring bearer. Mrs. Willa Rider served as organist accompanied soloist Callie Smith. Cherie Eries had charge of the guest book.

The bride's table was covered with a net three tiered skirt. It was centered with a three tiered cake and white roses and flanked with silver candelabra. Out of state guests attended from Tennessee, Washington and Oregon. The bride was honored at a pre-nuptial wedding shower with Mrs. Charles Bowyer Jr., as hostess. She was assisted by her daughter, Carla, and Debbie Kirkman. The Christian Women's Fellowship also honored the bride with a pre-nuptial shower at the home of Mrs. Raymond Mather. Following a honeymoon trip to Newport, Ore., the couple resides at 740 Maurice St., Twin Falls.

'73 fashions show more soft lines

TWIN FALLS — Fussiness in dresses is out. Ensembles are in. Soft feminine lines are prevalent in '73. The shirt dress is a favorite again in long and short sleeve models, often with drawstring belt. The three part look combines dress with jacket and ribbed knit bodice. Jacket self ties are popular. Dress skirts have swing pleats. Three-piece suits combining solid colors with contrasting trim feature white with navy as a favorite combination. Floral suits abound as do plaids. The A-line shift reappears this spring, often in dacron polyester double knits and triple colors such as grass-green, navy, and white. Dresses and coats are combined in stripes and plaids.

Abby

Abigail Van Buren

DEAR ABBY: My sister and her husband have never had children of their own, so they have taken a special interest in ours. I think this is very nice, but I resent very much having my sister tell my children EVERYTHING from the year one that has happened in our family. There are things I have not told my children because I feel that no good purpose would be served in their knowing. Besides, people have a right to turn over a new leaf and live things down in their past, and I've never believed in passing along gossip that has been dead and buried for years. Now my kids are telling me they didn't know Grandpa served a year and a day in prison. The did. But so what? He has paid his debt to society. Also, that Aunt Marge "had to" get married. And a cousin they never knew had to be put away in a mental institution. Things of that nature. Every family has a few skeletons, and ours is no different, but I resent this sister hauling them out for our children to see, if I prefer to keep them in the closet. If I am wrong, please tell me so. UPSET

DEAR UPSET: I can't muzzle your sister and neither can you. But do tell her exactly what you have told me, and hope if there are any other skeletons she hasn't hauled out, she will leave them be.

DEAR ABBY: Robbie and I are both 26 and have been happily married for over a year. But one problem, which will probably sound ridiculous to you, has me at the end of my rope. Please don't laugh. Abby, his heels are so rough that sleeping in the same bed with him is actually hazardous! His heels rake and scrape my poor sensitive legs and feet at night and leave my skin sore. I have tried every way I know to end this nocturnal battle. I've purchased softening lotions and pumice stones and have placed them in or by the shower where he has to see them. The result? Zilch!

Please, Abby, suggest some way I might persuade him to use something on those heels of his to relieve my discomfort. ROBBIE'S MUTILATED SPOUSE

DEAR SPOUSE: Quit playing games. At bedtime, tell Robbie you have a treat for him, then YOU tenderly apply the lotion to his rough heels. Presto! Problem solved.

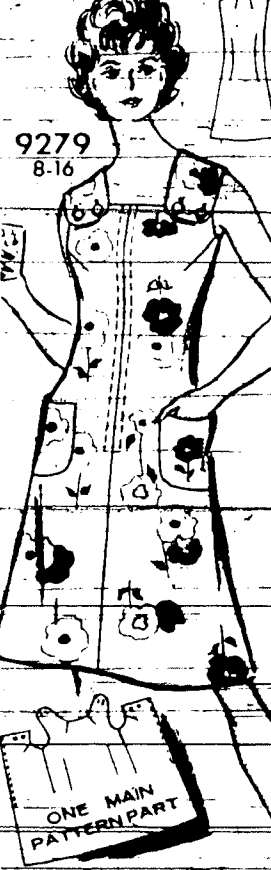

DEAR ABBY: In my dentist's office there is a sign which reads, "For your health's sake and the comfort of others, please don't smoke." How do you like it? A FAN IN BOULDER

DEAR FAN: LIKE IT? I love it!

DEAR ABBY: When I read about that attractive, intelligent lady who talked too much, I was reminded of an experience I shall never forget. Just before answering Uncle Sam's call to help him win World War II, I took a 120-mile bus trip home, and I goodby to my mother. The bus was practically filled, and I couldn't believe my good fortune when I spotted an empty seat right beside a beautiful young lady. Naturally I grabbed it. Many envious glances were cast my way, for she was truly a beauty. About 20 miles out it became apparent why she was traveling alone. That girl talked incessantly, and she had a kind of a whine in her voice. She droned on and on and I couldn't get one word in. By the time we had traveled 50 miles I was ready to get off the bus and hitchhike the rest of the way. That pretty face suddenly lost all its beauty. Now every time I see a beautiful girl I am reminded how unimportant beauty is if a girl doesn't know how to keep her mouth shut. BADGER STATE

Problem? You'll feel better if you get it off your chest. For a personal reply, write to ABBY, Box No. 4700, E. A., City, Utah. Enclaves stamped, self-addressed envelope, please.

Parents of the couple are Mr. and Mrs. William H. Tracy, Almo, and Mr. and Mrs. William Morris, Las Vegas, Nev.

An arch of greenery entwined with vines of the Valley formed the background for the ceremony. Other decorations included lavender satin bows with long streamers and white wedding bells.

The bride, given in marriage by her father, wore a floor-length Bridal Original gown of sheer white nylon over peau de soie with empire styling. The gown was fashioned with a rounded, scalloped neckline enhanced with lace trim.

Her mantilla style veil was of not bordered with the same lace and fell to a cathedral-length train. She carried a cascade arrangement of daisies and stephanotis centered with a large lavender orchid and tied with pink and lavender streamers.

Mrs. Earl Anderson, Fielding, Utah, sister of the bride, was matron of honor. Mrs. Melvin Warr, Malta; Shirley Nye, Ogden, Utah; and Mrs. Kevin Tracy, sister-in-law of the bride, were bridesmaids. Flower girls were Kenna Tracy, sister of the bride, and Tina Tracy, niece of the bride. Michael Tracy, cousin of the bride, was ringbearer.

William Morris was best man. Ushers were Teddy Tracy, brother of the bride, and Peter Morris, brother of the bridegroom.

Mrs. H. E. King played traditional wedding music on the organ and Mrs. Marvin Hall played the violin.

The couple was honored at a reception after the wedding in the home of the bride's parents. The bride's colors of lavender and pink were carried out in decorations and refreshments.

The wedding party greeted guests before the background used for the wedding ceremony.

Mrs. Wallace James, Murray, Utah, registered guests. Each guest was given a thank-you scroll from the bride and bridegroom.

The bride's table was covered with a white lace cloth and the four-tiered wedding cake surrounded with pink and lavender net and fresh flowers was placed on a large mirror in the center of the table. Made and decorated by the bride's mother, the cake was iced in white and trimmed with pink roses. It featured Grecian column dividers between the layers. The third layer was topped with a fresh pink peony with purple columbine and baby's breath. A miniature cupid standing beneath lace trimmed white bells and surrounded with white net was placed on top of the cake.

Guests were seated at quarter tables covered with white lace cloths. Centering each table was a round glass candle holder and candle encircled with lavender and pink net and small flowers.

Mrs. Bert Tracy, aunt of the bride, cut the cake. She was assisted by Mrs. Verl Anderson, Mrs. Clifford Pettingill, great-aunt of the bride, poured.

Sisters of the bridegroom, Julie Morris, Mickie Morris and Terry Morris, helped with the serving. They also were gift bearers.

Special guests were Mr. and Mrs. Clifford Pettingill, Logan, Utah; Mrs. Bertha Loosli, Idaho Falls, and Mrs. Ella Beecher, Elba, a great-great-aunt of the bride.

Out-of-town guests attended from Salt Lake City, Ogden, Logan and Murray, Utah; Las Vegas, Nev.; Sandpoint, Idaho Falls, Albion, Burley and Malta.

A pre-wedding supper was given at the home of the bride's parents for the parents and relatives of the bridegroom, the bridesmaids and their families, special guests and other relatives and friends.

The bride was honored at a personal shower given by Mrs. Bert Tracy at her home.

The bride was graduated from Raft River High School and attended Ricks College, Rexburg, for one year. The bridegroom is a graduate of Magna High School.

had disappeared into limbo, but six was there.

Should he bid six no-trump or six hearts? Maybe the trump ace was the one that was missing and South held the ace-queens of spades and diamonds and a long heart suit to the king-jack.

Not much of a two bid but South wasn't much of a player. How about six hearts? Nothing could touch that contract so North bid six hearts and sat back to watch the slam wheel in.

It didn't. South won the club lead with the queen and promptly laid down the king. East ruffed and led a diamond to his partner's ace.

At this point we stop to give North a prize as gentleman of the hand. He said, "Sorry partner. I should have bid six no-trump."

Four Blaine aides named defendants

By TERRY CAMPBELL
Times-News writer

HAILEY — Four members of the Blaine County School Board have been named defendants in a suit seeking a "legal and proper annual" school district meeting.

Included as defendants in the suit filed in Fifth District Court Tuesday were Ronda Hunt, trustee chairman; Mark Patterson, Dorothy Moore and Dr. Art Richards.

Not named was trustee Leif Orlmark, Ketchum, who according to the filed complaint "is willing to act and is therefore not made a party to these proceedings."

Listed as plaintiffs were Corby Dibble, Phillip Ritzau, Duane D. Gibson, Beatrice Longley, Alice Scherthanner, John Weekes — newly named president of the Citizens Committee for Quality Education — and "all others similarly situated."

The suit stems from the June 11 annual district meeting and states that the defendants, through their actions at the meeting, "have deprived the plaintiffs of their rights as electors of the Blaine County School District."

"The suit also states that the defendants 'have failed and refused to conform to the laws of the state of Idaho regarding the holding of a proper annual meeting for and in said school district.'"

During the meeting, the suit states that the school board failed to "respond to various and numerous requests from the electorate to discuss and consider general questions pertaining to the school and its interests."

These questions, the suit states, included future salaries, the length of the school year, the proposed 1973-74 budget and the "facts and circumstances surrounding the refusal of said board to offer a contract of employment to the principal of the Ernest Hemingway Elementary School."

The suit further states that several votes were taken among the electorate present to determine whether the questions should be discussed and disposed of during the annual meeting. Such action was approved by a vote of 280 to 40, according to the suit.

The defendants, the suit states, "failed and refused to recognize any of the motions made, votes taken or demands for discussion and did not, in fact, vote upon any questions of any kind or nature whatsoever from and after the time that the new board members were installed."

The plaintiffs are represented by Ketchum attorney E. Lee Schlender. The school district is represented by Ketchum attorney Stratton Laggis.

Fire probed

KETCHUM — Investigation is continuing into the cause of a fire which destroyed an unoccupied two-story frame house in Ketchum.

According to Ketchum Fire Chief Bill Brand, the fire was believed to have been set.

The fire occurred about 5:30 p.m. Monday at 110 East Avenue North. The house was owned by Arthur Morgan, Seattle, Wash.

About 25 volunteers from the Ketchum and Sun Valley Fire Departments responded to the call. Brand said the fire was brought under control in about three hours and was contained from igniting adjacent structures.

Filer reunion set

FILER — The Filer High School Class of 1943 will hold a 30-year reunion Friday and Saturday. Friday evening at the Turf Club a social hour will begin at 7 p.m. and dinner will be served at 8. A picnic is planned Saturday at 7:30 p.m. at the Idaho Power Co. picnic grounds, Buhl.

Sentence given

HAILEY — Bruce A. Gill, Ketchum, has been sentenced by Fifth District Judge Charles Scoggin to 60 days in the Blaine County jail on a second degree burglary charge.

Gill pleaded guilty to the charge, which was reduced from first degree burglary, made in connection with the December theft of goods from Sturtevant's Clothing Annex. He was arrested Dec. 20 by Ketchum Police Department officers.

Representing Gill was Robert Korb, Blaine County public defender's office. Stephen W. Bolter, Blaine County Prosecuting Attorney, represented the state.

Youths charged

KETCHUM — Four 17-year-old youths have been charged with possession of marijuana and minor possession of alcohol.

The youths were arrested about 2:10 a.m. today in Ketchum by Ketchum Police Department officers. Two youths are from Rupert, one is from Heyburn and one is from Paul.

They remained in custody this morning in the Blaine county jail.

Patrol with bicycles

BOISE (UPI) — The bicycle craze has hit the Boise Police Department which is using two-wheelers to patrol nearby Boise State College.

The college contracted with the city to have police interns patrol the campus from 4 p.m. to 8 a.m., seven days a week. The interns provide their own bicycles for the summer and the department may use a covered electric vehicle during the winter.

Department officials say the bikes are the simplest way to provide the campus with security. While the one-month-old bike patrol has been rather uneventful, they said, one apparent burglary attempt was stopped by a bicycling intern.

MH man charged

MOUNTAIN HOME (UPI) — Rosendo Tijerina, 37, Mountain Home, was arraigned Tuesday on a charge of involuntary manslaughter after a car-motorcycle head-on collision Monday night killed one man.

The victim was Gerald Tyner, 35, Mountain Home. He was dead on arrival at St. Alphonsus Hospital in Boise. Tijerina was not injured in the collision.

Tijerina is being held in Elmore County jail in lieu of $2,500 bond.

Sediment spills

SALMON — A massive slide on Dump Creek has spilled sediment into the Salmon River below North Fork.

Some five acres of hillside slid into the canyon several weeks ago near the head of the Creek.

John Emerson, Salmon National Forest supervisor, said the creek was dammed and formed a section of new channel.

Kiddie parade

KAMI BIRD, 2, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Stan Bird, Hailey, rides in a covered wagon wearing a pioneer woman's hat in the spirit of the "Days of the Old West." She was among those participating in a Kiddie Parade Tuesday, a part of the Hailey celebration. Among other entries were a pint sized desperado riding a shepard pony, a group of children portraying the "Spirit of '76" and a dragon and "Jack-in-the-box."

Theater troupe sets opener

BUHL — The Antique Festival Theatre will present "Medicine Wagon" during its first appearance for the 1973 season at 8 p.m. Saturday in Bowers Field, Buhl.

"It will be pure nostalgia for those who can remember back that far, and pure fun for those who are too young for such memories," said Aldrich Bowler, producer-director of the AFT. In the event of inclement weather, the performance will be in the Buhl High School gymnasium.

The play is presented in a modern setting, but is based on and compiled from records of authentic medicine shows including the ever-fascinating huckster raving the magic of his cure-all elixir, the mystery of Princess Lotus Blossom, the awesome electric sparking machine and much hocus-pocus.

The excitement of the rare visit of the medicine show with its song, dance, gaiety and tantalizing mystery to the isolated rural towns in those pre-radio, pre-television days captured, he said.

Bowler said most non-professionals do not realize that it is not easy to find, in a small group of trained singers, four voices that blend well, but it has happened quite by accident in this year's group of players, and an AFT barbershop quartet will be performing as one feature in this musical theater season.

Now in its tenth season, AFT started in Buhl with the single production of "The Bourgeois Gentleman," with community adult and high school actors. Now grown to be a year around venture, the theater books fall and spring tours into schools of Idaho under the Department of Education, presenting different age-level plays and directing workshops.

It is supported by the Idaho Commission on Arts and Humanities and the National Endowment for the Arts, Washington, D. C., in addition to the Idaho Bicentennial Commission.

The director of "Medicine Wagon" is Peter Marshall, who will be remembered for his performances in the 1966 AFT productions of "The Merry Wives of Windsor," "The Twin Menaechmi" and "Tartuffe."

Since then he has been in Germany, earned his master of arts degree, and has now joined the theater organization on a permanent basis, residing in Hagerman.

He will appear as an actor in the other two 1973 productions, "The Streets of New York" and a revival of "The Bourgeois Gentleman," revised to include more music.

The performance is under the sponsorship of the Buhl Chamber of Commerce. There will be a small admission fee.

Escapee sought by TF police

TWIN FALLS — Sheriff's officers in Twin Falls are looking for a Twin Falls man who declined the hospitality of the county jail early this morning.

Jack Earl Roland, 24, was brought to the sheriff's office by Idaho State Police officer Steve Cozier and booked on charges of driving while under the influence of drugs.

Kenneth Shew, deputy on duty, booked the man and put his gun away to escort him to the jail. As they walked toward the elevator, the prisoner darted toward the door of the courthouse. The door had been opened for ventilation.

Shew said he shouted to the state officer who was just outside of the door and Cozier gave chase but lost the man just beyond the O'Leary Junior High School yard.

City police were called to assist but were unable to find Roland. Shew said the incident occurred about 1 a.m.

Mayer last U.S. chance for title

WIMBLEDON, England (UPI) — America's unseeded Alex "Sandy" Mayer Tuesday upset his second consecutive seed to reach the semifinals of the $131,000 Wimbledon lawn tennis championships and become the United States' last hope to win the men's singles title.

Mayer, 21, the U.S. intercollegiate champion who dumped top seed Ilie Nastase of Romania in the fourth round, fought back to a 3-6, 4-6, 6-3, 6-4 center court victory against eighth seed Jürgen Fassbender of West Germany.

Trevino stalks 3rd British win

LONDON (UPI) — Leg Trevino, playing "as well as ever" and "talking pretty good too," swept through London in his inimitable style on the way to his defense of the British Open golf championship at Troon in Scotland.

Trevino played the course three years ago in a pro-am. "I like the course and I will be getting to grips with it at the end of the week."

Wood wins as Sox, Texas split pair

ARLINGTON, Tex. (UPI) — Chicago came up with 15 hits to help Wilbur Wood end his personal six game losing streak with a 15-1 win over Texas in the opener of a doubleheader Tuesday night.

In the second game Bibby won his second start in a row by giving up only four hits and only one unearned run.

"In general I don't feel I am under a great deal of pressure," Mayer said, despite being the only American left in the men's singles.

Fassbender had taken the first two sets easily, bawling many spectators to leave the sunny center court to find what they thought would be more interesting matches outside.

Taylor ends Borg's act

WIMBLEDON, England (UPI) — Britain's Roger Taylor put an end to Bjorn Borg's giant-killing act Tuesday with a remarkable show of center court sportsmanship which took him to the semifinals of the $131,000 Wimbledon lawn tennis championships.

GMU offers money, but gets no stars

MILWAUKEE, Wis. (UPI) — The big names will be missing when the Greater Milwaukee Open gets underway Thursday, but golf addicts here have learned to accept that and concentrate instead on the lesser lights and the stars of the future.

This year's GMO will be a new site — the six-year-old Tuckaway Country Club course.

Back for a crack at the title will be all five previous winners. Heading the list will be defending champion Jim Colbert, whose victory a year ago came in the tourney's most exciting finish ever.

Putting may also produce some problems. The greens are large and rolling and should provide the pros with plenty of opportunity to call on their green-reading savvy.

NEW YORK (UPI) — Ron Blomberg hit a towering 400-foot drive into the upper deck in right field with two men on base in the first inning Tuesday.

The Yankees managed only four hits off Marly Patten, but two of them came in the first inning after two men were out.

When McDowell, now 3-1, issued his seventh walk of the game to Aparicio leading off the seventh.

After issuing another walk to Graig Nettles following the blast, Patten retired 14 consecutive batters until Alan Rensch hit for his second single in the sixth.

McDowell went down to his 10th defeat in 18 decisions as Boston wasted several good opportunities against Yankee starter Sam McDowell.

The Red Sox, who had just three hits, scored their only run in the fourth when Carl Yastrzemski led off with a double.

Jipcho runs 2nd fastest 3,000 M

STOCKHOLM, Sweden (UPI) — Benjamin Jipcho, of Kenya, the African star runner who closed in on the world mile record Monday, Tuesday night ran the second fastest 3,000 meters steeplechase race in the world but failed to whittle down his own one-week-old world's best.

Jipcho, 30, finished in 8:18.2. He failed to better the 8:14.0 record he set in Helsinki last week but was well below his own former world record of 8:19.8.

Runner-up was Swedens Anders Garderud, who shared the former record with Jipcho, and now, record for a non-European and Swedish record of 8:18.4.

Tuesday's part of the Stockholm Olympic Stadium track and field meet lacked the tension of Monday night when Jipcho barely missed American Jim Ryun's six-year-old mile record of 3:51.1, finishing in 3:52.0.

But the 16,000 crowd woke up when the steeplechase started after having watched a series of average results earlier and cheered the Kenyan prison guard to the world's second best time ever.

"I ran just to win, not to set another new world record," Jipcho said after the race. "I felt sure of winning all the time, but Garderud started to press me during the two final laps. I'm sure I can go below 8:14.0 in another race," the Kenyan said.

His fellow countryman Evans Mogaka, who ended up fourth behind Ryun's Kapitanen, set the pace for the first half of the race until Jipcho and Garderud took the lead.

Jipcho was clocked in 2:48 minutes at the 1,000 meters mark, 4:11 at 1,500 meters and 5:38 at the 2,000 mark.

Russia's Olympic silver medalist Janis Lasis won the javelin event in 288 ft and Randy Williams of the U.S. won the broad jump in 25 ft.

American Al Feuerbach won the shotput in 66 ft 10 and Uganda's Olympic winner John Akii-Bua won the 400 meters hurdles in 49.65 seconds ahead of Jim Bolding of the U.S. in 49.86.

SOME PEOPLE seem unable to resist grabbing young animals and birds in the wilds. This is a problem Idaho Fish and Game Department conservation officers contend with each spring. Officers receive calls about young deer and bears or other wildlife species which have been taken out of the wilds and put in private homes. The department reminds outdoor goers it is against the law to have game animals or birds in captivity without a permit. The young sandhill crane (above) was removed from its habitat and died two days later — a complete waste of wildlife.

Salmon anglers urged to return fish tags

Idaho salmon anglers are being asked by the Idaho Fish and Game Department to assist in the management of their sport by watching for and returning tags that will be found on chinook salmon in Idaho this year.

The Fish Commission of Oregon, with funds provided by the U.S. Army Corps of Engineers, has been placing tags on a large number of chinook salmon and releasing them near Bonneville and The Dalles dams. That work will continue through the remainder of the salmon run this summer.

The primary purpose of the study is to determine the effect of manipulating the water flow through the dams upon the migration and survival of chinook salmon between dams and eventually as far as the spawning grounds.

Another purpose is to determine more accurately the harvest of chinook salmon by the Indian commercial fishery above Bonneville Dam. In relation to possible benefits to Idaho, it is felt that the study can aid in protecting Idaho chinook from adverse effects from peaking operations of the dams on the Snake and Columbia rivers. Information to assist in regulating the Columbia River commercial and Indian fisheries to provide more equitable escapements of chinook salmon to Idaho may also be gained.

Tags being applied to salmon are relatively small and of various colors. They will usually be found near the dorsal fin.

Allison leads big race field

DAYTONA BEACH, Fla. (UPI) — Bobby Allison of Hurytown, Ala., heads a field of 40 of the world's top stock car drivers today for what is expected to be one of the slowest Firecracker 400 races in recent years.

Allison qualified for the inside pole position Sunday with a pole lap time of 1:29.619 miles per hour. That speed is considerably off the Firecracker qualifying record of 194.015 m.p.h. set by Cale Yarborough in the 1970 race.

New carburetor restrictions imposed by NASCAR officials held down lap times during qualifying and are expected to slow down the drivers during the 160-lap race today over the 2.5-mile Daytona International Speedway tri-oval track.

The restrictions, which reduce the size of the carburetor's throttle bore openings, slow down the cars by reducing the amount of air taken into the carburetor.

Many drivers believe the restrictions have the least effect on the smaller engine cars such as the Chevrolets. There are 15 Chevrolets in the 40-car field, including the two 1973 Chevys on the pole, Allison's and Cale Yarborough's.

Four-time Grand National champion Richard Petty starts from fourth position in his Day-Glo red and blue 1973 Dodge. Petty has won the prestigious Daytona 500 three times, but has never won the Firecracker.

NASCAR regulars Bobby Isaac, David Pearson, Donnie Allison and Coo Coe Martin are among the top 10 starting positions, along with 26-year-old Darrell Waltrip, odds-on favorite for NASCAR's rookie of the year.

Buddy Baker of Charlotte, N.C., starts his 1973 Dodge from the 31st position, the worst starting position he has had since he started big time racing.

Baker and his chief mechanic, Harry Hyde, have been the two most heavily hurt by the carburetor restrictions. Baker missed the first two days of qualifying trying to coax more speed out of his big engine Dodge and finally had to settle for a qualifying speed of 172.433 m.p.h., 16th fastest of the 40-car field.

King, Court favored to meet in net finals

WIMBLEDON, England (UPI) — Margaret Court of Australia is sleeping on a board to protect a suspect back, Billie Jean King of Hilton Head, S.C., has had the hardest draw, but since they are the highest money players in the business bookmakers made them favorites today to meet in the finals of the Wimbledon tennis championships.

Mrs. Court, the top seed, is rated 7-1 to beat fourth-seeded Chris Evert of Ft. Lauderdale, Fla., today's semifinal. In the other semifinal Mrs. King, the defending titleholder and second seed, is 6-5 to eliminate Evonne Goolagong of Australia.

Miss Evert says she is happy to have gotten so far in her second Wimbledon appearance and while she will make every effort to beat big Margaret, she considers her "the toughest of us all on grass." Despite the bookmakers, some experts are favoring Miss Goolagong who is showing the speed and form that won her the title here in 1971. Mrs. King, on the other hand, has had to fight hard for her last two victories.

The two women's semifinal matches were the scheduled highlights of the ninth day of the $148,000 All-England championships as the men rested up for their semifinals Thursday.

The men's pairings will pit Alex Mayer of Wayne, N.J., the sole remaining American and unseeded player, against fourth seed Alex Metreveli of Russia, and third seed Roger Taylor of Britain against Czechoslovakia's Jan Kodess, the No. 2 seed.

A's paced by Holtzman over Angels

OAKLAND (UPI) — Ken Holtzman snapped a personal five-game losing streak with a 12-strikeout five-hit performance and Joe Rudi gave him all the help he need with a two-run homer Tuesday night in pacing the Oakland A's to a 3-0 victory over the California Angels.

Montreal crushes Mets 19-8

MONTREAL (UPI) — Bob Bailey hit two homers, including his fourth career grand slam, and drove in seven runs; and Ken Singleton drove in five runs as the Montreal Expos established a club record for runs and hits by crushing the New York Mets 19-8 Tuesday night.

Bailey blasted his 14th homer of the year with the bases loaded off Mets' reliever Tug McGraw in the sixth inning to give the Expos a 11-5 lead. He later produced Montreal's 18th run as he homered through the bases empty in the seventh inning off Phil Hennigan.

Bailey also doubled in the fifth inning to drive in two more runs.

Singleton drove in five runs with a three-run homer in the seventh inning and run-scoring singles in the fifth and eighth innings. John Boccabella also had a two-run homer in the sixth inning then saw the Expos erupt for seven runs. The Expos produced a record 21 hits while the 19 runs off four New York pitchers were the most ever scored against the Mets in their history.

Philadelphia drops Cubs

CHICAGO (UPI) — Jim Lonborg scattered nine hits and got home runs from Greg Luzinski and Mike Schmidt to win his fourth straight game as a starter Tuesday as the Philadelphia Phillies beat the Chicago Cubs 2-2.

Lonborg, running his season record to 7-6, walked one and struck out one.

The Phillies got seven of their runs in less than three innings off Cubs starter Milt Pappas, who allowed five hits before he was relieved by Bill Bonham in the third. Pappas is now 5-6.

game ahead of Minnesota and dropped the Angels three games back.

All the hits off Holtzman were singles. The Angels threatened in the ninth when Sandy Alomar hit his third single and Winston Llenas also singled but Holtzman struck out Bob Oliver to end the game.

The 12 strikeouts gave Holtzman a season high and helped him gain his 12th victory and his first since June 9.

Nolan Ryan went the distance for the Angels and suffered his seventh loss in his last 10 decisions and his 10th overall compared to nine victories. Ryan had 10 strikeouts.

Ryan retired the first 11 batters before Sal Bando singled in the fourth. Then Deron Johnson led off the fifth with a single and one out later Rudi hit a towering homer to center, his 10th of the season.

The A's added an insurance run in the seventh on walks to Johnson and Ray Fosse and a single by Dick Green.

Padres beat Dodgers 4-1

LOS ANGELES (UPI) — Nate Colbert hit a three-run double in the sixth inning to power the San Diego Padres to a 4-1 win over the Los Angeles Dodgers Tuesday night, handing the division leaders their fourth straight loss.

The Dodgers opened a home-stand against the Padres after dropping three in a row to Cincinnati. Randy Jones, rookie Padre pitcher, set the Dodgers down with four hits to get his first major league victory against two losses. Jones struck out and walked none.

Tommy John started for the Dodgers, trying for his fourth straight win. He lasted six innings, giving up six hits and three runs to make his record 8-4. John limited the Padres to two hits through the fifth inning. In the sixth, successive singles by Derrel Thomas, Jerry Morales and Dave Roberts loaded the bases.

WITH HIS BAT and the ball on the ground by him, Cubs' Jose Cardenal lies dazed after being hit on the right shoulder by a pitched ball thrown by Phillies' Jim Lonborg in the second inning of a Tuesday night game. He was taken from the game to a hospital for examination. (UPI)

Player grounded Crampton didn't win but achieves big goal

NEW YORK (UPI) — Bruce Crampton, the intense, sometimes intractable Australian, seldom says much, but he's the first foreigner ever to win a million bucks here in the U.S. and that says plenty right there.

It says something for the PGA's Tournament Players Division. It says something for this country.

And above everything else, it also says something for Bruce Crampton, a golfer some find difficult to understand.

In a way it was somewhat typical that Crampton, the 37-year-old son of a Sydney police official, should become only the fifth golfer in all history ever to create the million dollar barrier in a tournament he blew.

Crampton led after the first and third rounds and after nine holes of the final one, only to finish in a tie for fourth place behind the winner, Billy Casper.

Crampton wasn't upset over the fact he didn't win. "I achieved my most important goal," he said.

He meant moving into that elite million dollar category along with Arnold Palmer, Jack Nicklaus, Lee Trevino and Casper. "What made the occasion typical was that it came out somewhat bitter-sweet, and that usually is how things have been turning out for Bruce Crampton ever since he joined the tour here 16 years ago.

He has played well, generally, and has made his ample share of money, but he never gained anywhere near the recognition or following of a Palmer or Nicklaus or even a Trevino or Chi Chi Rodriguez.

That might be because of his personality. Actually, Bruce Crampton has a good one — if anybody takes the trouble to get to know it. That's the rub. A lot of people don't. Crampton isn't entirely blameless either. He doesn't extend himself that much, and there you have the perfect tipoff on his personality.

"I simply don't believe in pushing myself on others," Crampton said to me during the U.S. Open at Oakmont, Pa. "I was brought up to mind my manners, and I suppose it's unfortunate, but when I try to do that, some people interpret that as indifference."

Human nature being what it is, some of the touring golfers gave the introspective, newly-arrived Aussie the cold shoulder when he first came to this country. Crampton felt that his being a foreigner might be the reason.

But foreigner or not, no newcomer gets the red carpet treatment from the other golfers when he joins the tour. After all, it's a bit difficult bringing someone a piece of cake when this same fellow is trying to take the bread out of your mouth at the same time.

Regardless, Crampton still managed to make his mark in this country.

Okay, so he doesn't have the following of a Palmer or Nicklaus — how many golfers do? — but you ought to see how many people kept surrounding him for his autograph.

Ketchum OK's new route

By TERRY CAMPBELL
Times-News writer

KETCHUM—The Ketchum City Council approved, with stipulations, a new access route for the planned Balsamroot Condominium project Monday night.

The new route includes access from U.S. Highway 93 onto the street south of Swank's Lodge and two 90 degree turns linking the access to Jade Street.

Under stipulation by the council, Balsamroot will obtain additional land to widen the 90 degree turns to 50 feet to allow access for the city's ladder firetruck and pave the access to a 24-foot width.

The new access was one of the options recommended to the council by the Ketchum

Planning and Zoning Commission.

Last summer, the council had given approval to the preliminary Balsamroot master plan, which included access on Garnet Street.

However, a group of Garnet Street residents and property owners filed a petition against Ketchum Mayor Kenneth Richey and the four member council to seek a writ of mandate to bar use of the street. The petition was denied by Fifth District Judge Charles Scoggins and the matter is subsequently pending in the Idaho Supreme Court.

In other action, the council adopted an ordinance amending an earlier ordinance, setting regulations for the administration of the sewer system.

The new ordinance calls for a $300 sewage system hookup permit and inspection fee for each residential and commercial unit. The fee for industrial construction will be determined individually by the type of use.

Mayor Richey said the increase over the present $10 fee was designed to raise additional funds for the city's planned improvement to the Ketchum sewage treatment plant.

Deferred for two weeks a decision on the request by Thomas Dempsey, president of the Dempsey Construction Corp. for a building permit for 32 units for phase 2 of the Horizon Four Condominiums. Dempsey said that he had applied for a building permit last fall, but that the permit was not granted before the moratorium on sewage hookups was adopted in January.

The contractor requested as an alternative that he be allowed to use some of the $25,000 worth of lumber stored on the building site to construct foundations and conduct ground work.

Thirty presently is involved as a defendant in a law suit brought by Greyhawk Development Company Inc. to seek issuance of a building permit and permission for sewage hookup for a multi-unit development planned for Warm Springs.

So the wine license fee at $100 per year.

agreed to meet with the city attorney to investigate leasing rights.

Ben Compton proposed a 12 building site subdivision between Colorado and Neyada Streets north of Second Avenue.

Compton says he plans to sell the sites or to construct houses. He will present further plans at a later council meeting.

Councilman Gene Kelly announced that sidewalks to the high school are now complete. The walks were constructed with federal revenue starting funds.

A review of the summer recreation program was presented by councilman Valdo Gray. One hundred children are participating in Little League ball teams and 22 are enrolled in the arts and crafts program, he said.

Nine building permits totaling $40,745 were approved.

Gooding manager asks for lease

By PEGGY CHU
Times-News writer

GOODING—The Gooding City airport manager has asked the City Council to lease him airport property.

Earl Kelly, airport manager, and Ray Hendrix met with the Gooding City council Monday night to request leasing city airport land for farming.

Kelly asked to lease 140 acres of the land, while Hendrix plans to farm only 55 acres. Kelly said in order to make his farming operation pay off he will have to use all of the 140 acres, some of which is under lease to the Gooding County International Raceway Inc.

He said he plans to begin planting next spring, and stated that his costs would be about $50,000 to convert the property to tillable land.

Hendrix stated his costs would be about $22,000 to farm 55 acres of land north of the airport.

The council took no action, but agreed to meet with the city attorney to investigate leasing rights.

Minidoka project study funded

By MARILYN ELLIOTT
Times-News writer

RUPERT—The Bureau of Reclamation has awarded $15,000 to the University of Idaho to study irrigation management services in the Minidoka Project.

One of the main objectives of the study, according to Charles Brockway, research professor of the water resources institute at the University of Idaho, is to determine how to tailor new programs, such as computer scheduling of irrigation, so they are better accepted.

The first phase of the study will involve the interviewing of a random sample of farmers in the A and B and the Falls irrigation districts in Blaine County.

Concerning the computer scheduling of irrigation, those using the service and those not using it will be asked in a personal interview what they think of the program and how they think it might be changed or improved.

In the second phase, the program will be modified if needed according to the results of the survey and an educational program will be set up. The new program will then be taken into a new district, eventually becoming a state-wide project.

"There are new techniques for irrigating coming out all the time," Brockway said, and the study will include these. The big one now is the

Birth control clinic probed

MONTGOMERY, Ala. (UPI)—An immediate Justice Department investigation was ordered Tuesday into the operation of a federally funded birth control clinic which the Office of Economic Opportunity says has involuntarily sterilized as many as 11 minor girls.

Attorney General Elliot L. Richardson, reported by Justice Department sources as "upset" by the OEO reports, ordered the Civil Rights Division to begin the investigation. He said he did not want to wait until the case came to him through regular government channels.

Joseph Conklin, head of the Montgomery Community Action Committee, Inc. (MCAC), which is being sued for $1 million for the sterilization of two black Montgomery girls, denied the reports of 11 sterilizations as alleged by OEO Director Randal Teague.

Conklin said his records showed that eight persons had been sterilized under the MCAC's supervision in the last 16 months.

He said the eight were definitely not all minors and definitely were not all of the same race.

"I have looked at our records, and have found only eight persons have been sterilized in the last 16 months," Conklin said. "He would not reveal the ages of those eight or whether any minors in that group had their parents' knowledgeable consent."

Teague's disclosure came as the OEO temporarily restored the agency's $39,000 a month grant, pending the final outcome of an OEO probe launched last week after the suit was filed on behalf of the two girls, ages 12 and 14.

Free from the standpoint of liability we should look into this," said Richardson in Washington. "We shouldn't want to be pushed in a case like this we need to enhance confidence in the integrity of government."

Richardson said there was a possibility of civil liability which could result in a civil suit, or possibly federal civil rights violations.

The attorney general said there may have been a failure on the part of the federal agencies to understand people's rights, but there was no reason to think that sterilizations had occurred in other states.

The OEO temporarily withdrew the local agency's funds after OEO acting director Howard Phillips said the sterilizations of Minnie and Mary Alice Relf were illegal.

The $1 million suit filed on behalf of the Relf sisters said their illiterate mother thought she was authorizing her daughters to take more birth control shots when she signed a permission form, marking her 'X' on the blank.

Attorneys for the girls claim Mrs. Relf and other mothers do not have the right to make decisions for their children's child bearing.

The controversial birth control clinic was operated by the Department of Health, Education and Welfare until its contract expired June 30. County Health Officer Dr. James Ross said the County Health Department has taken over the clinic for 18 days. After that, "nobody knows what will happen to the center," he said.
