Nixon refuses tapes

WASHINGTON (UPI) — President Nixon told both the Senate Watergate Committee and special Watergate Prosecutor Archibald Cox today that he would not furnish to them tapes of his White House conversation about the scandal.

In a letter to Sen. Sam J. Ervin chairman of the Senate select committee, Nixon said he had personally listened to a number of the tape recordings and said they are "entirely consistent with what I know to be the truth and what I have stated to be the truth."

Nixon said that if the tapes would settle the "central questions at issue in the Watergate inquiries," then their disclosure might serve a substantial public interest.

However, he said that the tapes contained many comments that "persons with different perspectives and motivations would inevitably interpret in different ways."

"Accordingly, the tapes, which have been under my sole personal control, will remain so," he said. "None has been transcribed or made public and none will be."

Ervin had asked for the tapes after a former White House aide testified a week ago today that tapings were made on most of Nixon's conversations in his oval office and in another office he uses in the Executive Office Building.

The witness, Alexander Butterfield, also said that Nixon's conversations on four telephones were "also" automatically recorded since the spring of 1971.

Cox made a separate request to Nixon for access to the recordings. Cox's request was turned down in a letter by Charles Alan Wright, an assistant in the office of the President's legal counsel which is handling the Watergate matter for Nixon.

Nixon's letter to Ervin did not mention the senator's request for a private meeting with Nixon to discuss informal ways for the committee might be given access to the recordings.

The Watergate Committee believes the tapes would clear up the central question of Nixon's personal involvement in the Watergate break-in and subsequent cover-up.

Nixon said he was turning down the request for the same reason he refused an earlier committee request for access to other presidential documents — that it would seriously jeopardize the President's ability to conduct the duties of his office.

In addition there are other practical considerations, Nixon's letter to Ervin said.

"As in any verbatim recording of informal conversations, they contain comments that persons with different perspectives and motivations would inevitably interpret in different ways," he said.

Furthermore, there are inseparably interspersed in them a great many very frank and very private comments on a wide range of issues and individuals, wholly extraneous to the committee's inquiry.

"Even more important, the tapes could accurately be understood or interpreted only by reference to other documents and tapes so that to open them at all would begin an endless process of disclosure and explanation of private presidential records totally unrelated to Watergate and highly confidential in nature."

He promised once again to discuss the Watergate matter publicly "at an appropriate time during the hearings." He declined to say how this would be done.

3 killed in fiery crash

By CHARLOTTE BELL Times-News writer

JEROME — Two truck drivers and a woman passenger were killed Sunday in the fiery crash of a heavy truck south of Jerome.

The impact of the wreck was so great that the wreckage had to be scooped off the pavement with a backhoe and loaded into a dump truck.

The accident killed Thomas Cazier, 27, Mountain Home, the driver; Richard Halverson, 40, Boise, relief driver; and a passenger, Linda Marie Frieholtz, 19, San Bruno, Calif.

Officers said the Frieholtz girl apparently was a hitchhiker picked up by Cazier. Jerome Sheriff Elza Hall said when officers first arrived at the scene it was thought only the driver and relief driver were in the truck at the time of the accident.

"They were only the two bodies we could see at the time," Hall said. He said he went back to the funeral home with the bodies and while trying to make identification of the victims, he noticed what appeared to be part of a woman's blouse.

Hall said he returned to the scene of the accident and discovered the woman's body under the cab of the truck. A crane was called to lift the truck so the body could be removed.

Hall said the company president and dispatcher knew nothing about the girl being in the truck.

State patrolmen said the driver apparently fell asleep at the wheel. There was no attempt made to correct the truck before it struck a bridge abutment, sheared off a guard rail and fell more than 40 feet to a county highway which runs under the interstate.

The truck apparently burst into flames upon impact. The Jerome Rural Fire Department was called to the scene.

State patrolmen said they were called at 3:18 a.m. Sunday. One vehicle's watch had stopped at 3:12. Officers said they presume that is when the accident occurred.

Patrolmen said they were surprised that the driver had fallen asleep since he had left the Caldwell area enroute to Iowa. The truck carried a load of frozen French fries.

Crews worked until late Sunday afternoon to clear up the debris.

State police are still investigating the accident.

TWIN FALLS — Gary Van Engelen, 27, Twin Falls, was listed in serious condition at Magic Valley Memorial Hospital today following a one-car accident Sunday north of Kimberly. Alan Crothers, 22, Twin Falls, a passenger in Van Engelen's car, was treated and released at the hospital. According to Idaho State Police, Van Engelen apparently lost control of his vehicle on a curve on Falls Avenue East.

'Capt. Eddie' dies at 82

ZURICH (UPI) —

Eddie Rickenbacker, an American pioneer and World War I air ace, died in a hospital early today. He was 82. Rickenbacker's 26 aerial victories topped American pilots during World War I. Cause of his death was not immediately announced, but it apparently followed a heart attack. He had been admitted to a Zurich hospital July 5. (Obituary, p. 2)

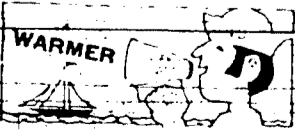

AIM leader denounces arrest

CHICAGO (UPI) — Vernon F. Bellecourt, national coordinator for the American Indian Movement, said Sunday his arrest was part of a move to crush the Indian movement. Bellecourt, 42, was arrested by FBI agents at a Chicago airport Saturday. He was released Sunday under $10,000 bond. He was charged with violating federal anti-riot laws in connection with the Wounded Knee, S.D., takeover.

Hijackers want fuel for 7-17

DUBAI, United Arab Emirates (UPI) — Hijackers of a Japan Air Lines jumbo jet ordered complete refueling of the plane today and demanded that the body of a woman hijacker killed by a grenade explosion be delivered to the plane. Dubai officials said.

The twin commands gave the impression that the Arab and Japanese hijackers were preparing to take off from this Persian Gulf emirate for an unknown destination with the 150 hostages who have suffered for three days in the burning desert heat.

Clean files, aide told

WASHINGTON (UPI) — Gordon C. Strachan testified today that his boss in the White House, H. R. Haldeman, directed him to purge White House files of political memos on intelligence operations on the Monday morning following the Watergate break-in.

Strachan, 29, said Haldeman told him on June 20, 1972, "We want to make sure the files are clean."

The Senate Watergate Committee questioned Strachan while awaiting a response from President Nixon to its request for access to his tape recorded conversations touching on the Watergate cover-up.

The President was expected to reject the request. The release of his letter to the committee, the White House said, was postponed until some time this afternoon.

The straw-haired lawyer, who lost his job as counsel to the U.S. Information Agency three days before Haldeman resigned from the White House staff on April 30, told his story to the committee under a grant of immunity protecting him from prosecution on the basis of what he revealed.

Strachan said Charles W. Colson, another White House lawyer, was known in the executive mansion as the aide in charge of "dirty tricks."

"Mr. Colson's office was referred to as the office of dirty tricks," he said. "Periodically, press reports would appear about things you would jokingly or not jokingly refer to as dirty tricks. It was sort of a joke, nobody really knew what Colson was doing."

Strachan disclosed that Haldeman and John N. Mitchell, then attorney general, discussed the intelligence gathering plan at a White House meeting on April 4, 1972, two months before the break-in and just a few days after the matter came up for consideration at a Key Biscayne, Fla., political strategy session. Job Stuart Magruder, then running the committee for the Re-Election of the President (CRP), has testified that Mitchell approved the plan at that meeting. Mitchell denied it when he appeared before the committee; but a third person at that session, Frederick C. LaRue, said Mitchell remarked that the decision on the scheme could be postponed.

BUHL — Get rid of hungry herons and scavenging seagulls without killing them. That's the problem facing fish hatcheries along the Snake River Canyon near here.

Herons, seagulls, kingfishers, occasional ducks and a few magpies are raiding hatchery rearing ponds for meals. It's an annual problem for both commercial fish producers and for government owned hatcheries. Most of the suspected culprits are protected by federal migratory bird laws.

Compounding the problem is a policy change by the U.S. Department of the Interior. Up to 1970, that department issued permits to hatchery operators allowing predatory birds to be killed. But now the permits are issued only by high officials in that department as a last resort.

Non-lethal methods are recommended instead of killing predatory birds. Commercial hatchery operators would like to have their killing permits restored to allow them to combat raiding birds. Before they get them, they will have to document their losses and assure the Department of the Interior that other methods won't do the job.

Some federal officers say the fish growers have "a legitimate gripe."

First moves in trying to regain those permits are being taken.

Hatchery operators are now keeping track of losses and compiling other data to support their effort.

Late this week, Joe Packham, assistant state supervisor of the division of wildlife services, U.S. Bureau of Sport Fisheries and Wildlife, will visit the Magic Valley. He will try to evaluate fish losses, what techniques have been tried to reduce those losses, and if there are environmental conditions that might be changed to help relieve the problem.

Packham said there may also be some tests of methods which could help hatcheries repulse raiding birds.

Those moves were agreed upon at a meeting this past week of hatchery operators, Idaho Fish and Game Department personnel, and representatives of the Bureau of Sport Fisheries and Wildlife. (Continued on p. 1E)

RICKENBACKER

By United Press International
Edward V. Rickenbacker lived the adventure of aviation from the cloth-covered biplane he flew as America's World War I "ace of aces" to the jetliners he controlled as board chairman of Eastern Air Lines.

"Captain Eddie", one of the most colorful and dashing figures of World War I, was an American success story who rose from rags to riches in true Horatio Alger style.

Strong-willed and aggressive, he was a Congressional Medal of Honor winner, onetime owner of the Indianapolis Speedway, chairman of Eastern. He brushed death countless times, including a three-week ordeal on a life raft in World War II when a plane in which he was flying ditched in the Pacific.

Rickenbacker converted his skill as a mechanic and love for speed into a career as an early racing driver, and then into leadership of the famed "Hat in the Ring" American fighter squadron in World War I.

In 1963, Rickenbacker retired as chairman of Eastern at the age of 73. But he remained active in conservative political causes.

The adulation from his war exploits helped him in his postwar career but it was his acumen and drive which converted an ailing subsidiary of General Motors into Eastern, one of the giants of American aviation.

Born Oct. 8, 1890 in Columbus, Ohio, Rickenbacker quit school at 12 when his father died and worked at odd jobs — usually around the developing automobile — to help support his mother and four younger brothers and sisters. He took correspondence courses and soon was designing engines for a Columbus, Ohio, car maker and winning fame as a racer.

His career was interrupted by World War I and Rickenbacker went to Europe as Gen. John J. Pershing's driver. Within three months he transferred to the Army Air Corps in France and started his life in the air.

Rickenbacker shot down 26 enemy aircraft over the Western Front, more than any other American pilot. His trademark was a "Hat in the Ring" painted on his biplane.

For his exploits, he received the Medal of Honor, the Distinguished Service Cross, Medal of the Legion of Honor, and the Croix de Guerre of France.

In 1934 after an automobile venture failed, he joined Eastern, which had been founded six years before. He converted it from a losing venture to a profitable business. In 1948 he became the airline's president, and the board chairman in 1953.

Returning to his auto racing background, Rickenbacker purchased the Indianapolis Speedway in 1928. When he stepped down as president in 1945, it was the country's biggest sporting event.

During World War II, Rickenbacker helped form the Military Air Transport Service (MATS). War Secretary Henry L. Stimson enlisted Rickenbacker to fly a converted bomber on morale missions to various parts of the world.

It was on one of these trips that the bomber Rickenbacker was piloting ran out of gas and crashed at sea. He and six other crewmen survived 24 days by collecting rainwater in their service caps and catching fish with bait cut from a seagull that landed on Rickenbacker's head.

Rickenbacker's first fame came as teen-age auto racer. He was in England to participate in a race when the United States entered World War I. He returned to the U.S. to enlist and, possibly because of the public relations value on the war mobilization effort, he was assigned as Pershing's driver.

But Rickenbacker, who had watched aviation develop in parallel with automotive progress, soon saw he belonged in the fledgling air command of Gen. Billy Mitchell.

He became Mitchell's engineering officer in France, and after much pushing on Rickenbacker's part, he was assigned to combat flight duty at the age of 27 — considered advanced for the flying corps.

Later he credited his racing experience for the "seat of the pants" feel that combat flying required in the early days.

Rickenbacker shot down 22 German planes and four balloons. Once he singlehandedly attacked five German Fokker and two Albatross planes and shot down two of them.

After the war, when his own automobile company went bankrupt, Rickenbacker joined North American Aviation, Inc., which owned Eastern Air Lines. North American wanted to get Eastern in the black and Rickenbacker wanted to pay back the debts he created with the auto firm.

Rickenbacker was named general manager and helped land government mail contracts and expand routes.

Gem weed campaign fund set

TWIN FALLS Funds to implement enforcement of the Idaho weed law have been assured, Merl Leonard, county commissioner said here Saturday after returning from the Idaho Weed Control Association convention.

Leonard and Commissioner William Wiseman attended the convention at McCall late this past week. Leonard said the convention's emphasis was on the fact weeds are everyone's problem, not just the concern of the farmer.

Weed growing, taking up land and water, which could be producing food, can bring a higher cost of supermarket items, convention speakers said.

Leonard said the Idaho Weed Law — which became effective in 1921 but which has not been enforced because of lack of funding for personnel — requires all land owners to eradicate weeds on the property they own or hold the responsibility to prevent spread to other property.

Speakers from the Idaho Department of Agriculture indicated the state will work with all counties, through the boards of county commissioners, for weed eradication control programs.

Leonard said Twin Falls and Canyon County are among the state's leading counties in weed control departments already established. Some counties, he said, do not have a weed supervisor or eradication equipment.

Queries enliven tour for Maryland cabbie

By GEORGE WILEY Times-News writer

TWIN FALLS — If you thought you saw a taxicab from Maryland on the streets of Twin Falls over the weekend, don't head for the psychiatrist's office. You weren't seeing things.

Howard Chappell, a cab driver from Street, Md., near Baltimore, is touring the United States in his yellow and black taxi. He spent the night in Twin Falls Saturday.

With his wife, Rosa Lee, and his mother-in-law, Tressie

Check, Chappell has traveled about 6,500 miles since leaving Maryland on July 4.

Chappell's list of the states he has been through includes Virginia, West Virginia, North Carolina, Tennessee, Alabama, Mississippi, Louisiana, Arkansas, Texas, Oklahoma, New Mexico, Arizona, California, Nevada, Oregon, Washington, British Columbia, and Idaho.

Chappell said his cab has attracted a lot of attention.

"People come out in a service station. 'What? You got a cab all the way out from Maryland?" he said.

In Washington State a highway patrolman stopped him to see what the cab was doing so far from home.

Chappell has been a cabbie for more than 28 years, and in that time he has driven more than a million miles.

He said the oddest thing that happened to him while driving cab was when he got a fare to Raleigh, N. C. but turned back 20 miles short of his destination because his passenger said he was "too drunk to go home" and asked to be driven back to Maryland. The pointless trip cost $125 at the lower prices of several years ago, Chappell added.

Unlike some city cab drivers, Chappell said he has never been robbed.

He buys a new cab every two to three years and at least every five years, he said.

Chappell plans to go to Salt Lake City before driving across the Midwest and back to Maryland. He said the whole trip should cover 10,000 miles.

If Chappell were charging himself the 50 cents a mile he charges regular travel fares, he would finish with $5,000. Enough, he said, to buy another new cab.

Gooding woman to head alumni

TWIN FALLS — Bethel Day, Gooding, was elected president of the Twin Falls High School 50-year Alumni Association during the meeting Friday at the Holiday Inn.

Other newly elected officers include Bernice Babcock, vice president, Twin Falls; Esther Blei, Murtaugh, secretary; Frank Beer, Jerome, treasurer, and Helen Houston Epperson, Jerome, historian.

Vaughn Price, Boise, president, was in charge of the meeting attended by 54 members and guests from graduating classes between 1913 and 1923.

Newsletters were read from many classmates. Musical numbers were furnished by Keith Johansen accompanied by John Holder, both Jerome.

The numbers were composed by Mr. and Mrs. Ralph Day, Gooding.

Each member present gave a two minute talk on their life history to be added to a book of biographical sketches.

Mrs. Frances Burke Crookston and her guest Fern Grimm of Concord, Calif., traveled the greatest distance.

A class member of 1919, Letha Sparks Fitzsimmons, Portland, a multiple sclerosis patient came in a specially made van accompanied by her art and nurse.

Twenty-seven guests attended an informal breakfast at the Holiday Inn Saturday morning.

The next meeting will be the third Friday in July of 1974.

Hells Canyon NRA measure offered

WASHINGTON — Senators Frank Church, Mark Hatfield, Bob Packwood and James McClure today introduced legislation to create a new Hells Canyon National Recreation Area.

Their action follows several months of meetings between the Oregon and Idaho senators and represents a consensus among the four lawmakers on the best management plan for the Hells Canyon region.

The legislation, the four senators said in a joint statement, will offer permanent protection for the Middle Snake River and the Hells Canyon area. The bill represents the culmination of a study we began at the start of the 93rd Congress.

Major features of the legislation include: — Creation of a Hells Canyon National Recreation Area, consisting principally of the canyon and its surroundings.

— Creation, within the recreation area, of a Hells Canyon Wilderness.

— The total prohibition on construction of any further dams along the Middle Snake River in Hells Canyon.

— Language which protects upstream water rights in Idaho.

— A specific directive that existing grazing on public lands within the Recreation Area and the Wilderness Area shall be allowed to continue.

— Limitation on the current condemnation powers exercised by the Forest Service in acquiring private lands.

— Preservation of multiple use management for all parts of the recreation area, excepting wilderness.

— Authorization of funds to improve public access to Hells Canyon at Pittsburg Landing on the Idaho side of the river and at Dug Bar on the Oregon side.

— Designation of the Snake River, between Hells Canyon Dam and Asotin, Wash., as part of the National Wild and Scenic Rivers System.

— Deauthorization of the proposed Asotin Dam on the Snake River.

— A study of the Rapid River drainage on the Idaho side, and of lands within the recreation area on the Oregon side, for possible future inclusion in the National Wilderness System.

The legislation introduced today is the latest chapter in a long effort to protect Hells Canyon and the Middle Snake.

The bill represents the first time that all Idaho and Oregon senators have reached agreement on the approach to be taken.

We recognize, the senators said in their statement, "that hearings on this legislation may well indicate that changes should be made. However, we view the introduction of this bill as a major step toward safeguarding Hells Canyon."

(c) New York Times Service PARIS — The soybean and the dollar are aggravating tensions between Europe and the United States and causing Europeans to rethink some basic policies.

The Europeans, though they have a number of disagreements among themselves, now seem resolved to expand their domestic food production and loosen their dependence on foreign supplies because of the restrictions the United States has placed on exports of soybeans and other animal foodstuffs.

They also appear determined to press ahead with plans for constructing a monetary union to loosen their dependence on the dollar.

Although resentment against "aggressive" American policies has built up in recent weeks because of the fall of the dollar and the export curbs on soybeans, most observers are convinced Europeans are going to great lengths to avoid a trade war and political confrontation with the United States.

Illustrating that indignation has not given rise to confrontation, the Common Market countries at their latest council of ministers gathering in Brussels have refused to take any retaliatory action against the United States.

On the American side the important agreement to sustain the international value of the dollar with American reserve assets if necessary, even though it is not yet clearly manifest in the markets, has had a measurable psychological impact.

The French finance minister, Valery Giscard d'Estaing, has gone so far as to suggest that monetary balance is already being restored and that order should return to the world currency system by 1974.

There is a good deal of sympathy in Europe for France's campaign to make the continent more self-sufficient in food, but agriculture experts still believe Europe will continue to be a major market for American farmers simply because land and climatic conditions inhibit European self-sufficiency in food output.

Pique at the United States is behind a campaign that is strongest in France to get Europe to withdraw from the world trade negotiations scheduled to begin formally Sept. 12-14 in Tokyo. The preliminaries in Geneva are going badly, and no one expects much beyond formalities to happen in Tokyo.

Belgium's finance minister, Willy De Clercq, summed up the American monetary threat as follows: "Should the business cycle take a turn, it is plain that a definitely undervalued dollar would become unbearable for Europeans. They would be compelled to take serious measures to defend employment."

Even though Europe will probably remain a large market for American farm products, the soybean incident will probably stimulate some additional production of animal feeds in Europe, which would probably affect American sales. However, much depends on how long the soybean restrictions remains in effect.

To loosen their dependence on the dollar, the Europeans are more determined than ever to press ahead with plans to create a single currency area during the next decade. One sign of this is the fact that the joint float of the Common Market currencies has lasted longer than the experts predicted when it was set up in March.

Finances approved for Gem projects

BOISE (UPI) — Six projects to provide services to Idaho's developmentally disabled have been approved for financing.

Gov. Cecil D. Andrus said Friday $126,870 in funds have been appropriated for new programs. The Governor's Advisory Council on Developmental Disabilities had recommended that they be approved for Developmental disabilities are defined as mental retardation, cerebral palsy and epilepsy.

Clash menaces probe harmony

(c) Newhouse News Service WASHINGTON — The bipartisan harmony of the Senate Watergate hearings is being threatened by a behind-the-scenes conflict over whether the panel will produce an interim report to the Senate and to the public this summer.

Chief Counsel Samuel Dash is urging that work begin on an interim report as soon as the current phase of the hearings conclude, probably in early August. The report, Dash says, probably would not be issued publicly until September.

But Dash's recommendation is strongly opposed by Sen. Howard H. Baker, R-Tenn., vice chairman of the investigating committee.

"I won't sign an interim report," Baker said in an interview. "I don't believe there should be any report until all of the facts are in."

C. the committee chairman, has not taken a position on the question, according to his aides. Ervin and Baker have yet to disagree publicly on any major point in the course of the Watergate investigation and hearings.

Dash said it would be "natural for us" to make a report at the conclusion of the hearing's current phase, which has focused on the burglary and bugging of Democratic National Committee headquarters on June 17, 1972, the cover-up of White House involvement of President Nixon.

"It is inconceivable that we wouldn't issue an interim report," Dash said. "The resolution calls for us to do that."

S. Viets release POWs

SAIGON (UPI) — South Vietnam began releasing civilian prisoners today in the first prisoner exchange with the Communists in three months, but 30 of the first 375 prisoners rejected a return to the Viet Cong, a government spokesman said.

Thirteen of the Communist prisoners aboard the third flight from the big Bien Hoa air base, outside Saigon, to Loc Ninh, 75 miles north of the capital, requested asylum and received it, the spokesman said. Seventeen more prisoners aboard the fourth flight made a similar decision.

There were 75 prisoners aboard each of five completed flights to Loc Ninh, Lt. Col. Le Trung Hien, spokesman for the South Vietnamese command, said. Earlier in the day, a field military spokesman had said each government C130 Hercules flight would carry 100 prisoners.

A government spokesman said plans had called for freeing 900 Communist prisoners today but military sources said a tardy start and a bureaucratic snarl involving the International Commission for Control and Supervision (ICCS) reduced the total.

Among those whose detention was prolonged by the delayed release were at least 22 infants whose mothers were among the prisoners.

Government military sources said the ICCS team supervising the prisoner exchange decided to leave the Loc Ninh release site promptly at 5 p.m. to return to Saigon, an hour's flight away, although there was still two hours of daylight remaining.

When the 5 p.m. ICCS departure time arrived, the sixth group of 75 prisoners was already on the ground at Loc Ninh, awaiting release, and the seventh and eighth flights were inbound on the 20-minute C130 flight to the Viet Cong held former U.S. base.

A government military source said: "We would like to release the prisoners aboard those three flights without ICCS participation but we are not sure we can legally do so under the Paris agreement."

Other factors which reduced the total of prisoners freed today included a shortage of aircraft, government military sources said, and a decision within the two-party Joint Military Commission (JMC) to reduce plane loads from 100 prisoners to 75.

Insurance bill revised

(c) Washington Star-News WASHINGTON — A revised national no-fault bill that would save motorists 25 to 40 per cent or more on their auto insurance premiums goes before the Senate Commerce Committee in closed session this week.

The newly reshaped bill gives much more authority to states to keep costs down while assuring full protection for motorists. Under a no-fault plan, motorists involved in an accident are compensated regardless of who caused it.

The cost savings were figured out by Milliaman and Robertson, Inc., who were hired by the National Association of Insurance Commissioners to determine the costs of various state no-fault bills.

The company, which analyzed the cost factors in the federal bill before it was revised, found that a state, by enacting a plan in compliance with the national standards of the bill, could save motorists 25 to 40 per cent in total premiums.

The cost study is expected to increase the bill's chance of passing the Senate this session.

One of the reasons that the measure died last year was the charge that it would cost motorists substantially more than they are paying now. With the study, proponents are confident that argument can no longer be made.

The bill spells out the minimum standards that a state no-fault bill would have to meet.

Roger Moore is foreman of the construction.

Each sprinkler head will cover a 40-foot pattern, which means an 80 foot circle.

Pipe laid underground varies from a two-inch line to one inch lines, Moore said.

Due to the low pressure of the water system in Shoshone, only about 10 of the sprinkler heads can operate at a time.

If the pressure permitted, the system could operate 20 of the sprinklers at once.

Work starts in Shoshone

SHOSHONE — Work was begun this week on installation of an underground sprinkler system at the Lincoln County Courthouse yard.

The project was budgeted for under the revenue sharing program of the federal government.

The overall project will take in about one mile of pipe, laid under the lawn with 80 quick-coupling valves included in the setup.

FDA recalls glass jars of mushrooms

WASHINGTON (UPI) — The government has launched a campaign to track down 336,000 glass jars of mushrooms which may contain harmful botulin bacteria.

The Food and Drug Administration (FDA) said the massive recall campaign was started after Canadian authorities confirmed that a Montreal woman had been stricken with botulism poisoning after eating from a jar of mushrooms that had been contaminated by botulin toxin.

The FDA urged the public in the New England states, New York, New Jersey, Pennsylvania and California to return unopened any of five brands of mushrooms—all in glass jars—produced and packaged by Wirth Food Products, Lawrence, Mass.

The brands were identified as Pastene, Purveyor, Carriage Trade, Marinated Mushrooms and Wirth.

The contamination usually results when insufficient heat is applied during the packaging process, allowing the botulin bacteria to develop because the contents are not adequately sterilized.

New EPA head selected

(c) Washington Star-News WASHINGTON — Russell E. Train, President Nixon's chief environmental adviser, is soon expected to move to the Environmental Protection Agency as its new administrator.

Train, who is head of the Council on Environmental Quality, would replace William R. Ruckelshaus, who resigned in April to become acting director of the Federal Bureau of Investigation.

A White House announcement is scheduled for early this week, an administration spokesman said today.

Train, 53, a Washingtonian and a nationally known conservationist, joined the Nixon administration in January 1969, as under secretary of interior under then Secretary Walter J. Hickel.

When the three-member

Environmental Quality Council was formed two years later, Train was appointed its chairman.

In his new post, Train will be the country's chief environmental "policeman," making certain the country's anti-pollution laws are carried out.

The council's function is a more philosophical one and the group is an arm of the White House. Besides advising the White House on environmental matters, it is responsible for drafting the administration's environmental legislation and writing an annual state-of-the-nation environmental report.

Train has been involved in conservation issues since 1965, when he resigned as judge of the US Tax Court to head the Conservation Foundation, a non-profit, research education and information organization.

He was appointed to the court in 1957 by President Eisenhower.

As council chairman, Train was co-chairman of the US delegation to the United Nations Conference on the Environment in Stockholm last year and has bilateral agreements with other countries, including the Soviet Union and Canada.

Since Ruckelshaus's departure, the EPA has been headed by acting administrator Robert Fri, who is expected to resign soon.

Gunfire reported at Port-au-Prince

PORT-AU-PRINCE, Haiti (UPI) — Fire broke out today in the National Palace of President-for-Life Jean-Claude Duvalier, and there were sounds of ammunition exploding inside. Gunfire was reported earlier.

The government had no explanation and the Port-au-Prince Fire Department said only that the palace had caught fire and munitions stored inside were being detonated.

Persons living near the palace in downtown Port-au-Prince said they heard sounds of small arms and machinegun fire at 2 a.m. (1 a.m. MDT) before there were signs of any fire.

Later they reported the sounds of explosion of larger caliber ammunition.

The area around the palace, a stark white structure built by the U.S. Marines, was cordoned off by soldiers.

The rest of the city was quiet.

France confirms nuclear blast

PAPEETE, Tahiti (UPI) — The French government today finally confirmed last weekend's nuclear test in the Pacific, and said the explosion brought satisfactory results.

Aymar Achille-Fould, secretary of state to the Ministry of Armies, said: "The test was carried out to the satisfaction of all."

Achille-Fould, who flew to Tahiti from the Mururoa Atoll test site 720 miles away, warned newsmen about accepting the initial estimate of the size of Saturday's blast by the New Zealand protest frigate Otago, which first reported the explosion.

"It is not wise to accord too much faith to the reports given by the Otago concerning the energy and power of the bomb," the official said.

Crewmen aboard the Otago, which steamed into the test area with a cabinet minister aboard to protest the blast, said the explosion appeared to be in the five kiloton range, approximating the force of 5,000 tons of TNT.

Asked if there would be other explosions soon, Achille-Fould said: "The position of the government is to be silent in such matters. The hypothesis of other tests is not excluded."

Reports from Paris have said two other test explosions could quickly follow Saturday's blast and there could be three more at the end of August.

In Wellington, New Zealand Prime Minister Norman Kirk said today the Otago's vigil off Mururoa Atoll could force France to either abandon or modify future nuclear tests in the Pacific.

He said the protest "has aroused enough attention in enough places around the world to have a continuing effect and may lead to some substantial reductions or abandonment of the project."

The Otago moved back into the 72-mile security zone around Mururoa today after taking on fuel from the Australian oiler HMAS Supply.

Heavy rain fell around the French Pacific test site today and officials said a nuclear blast during the day appeared unlikely. Kirk, however, said he expected the next explosion on Wednesday.

Ignoring worldwide protests, the French exploded the first in its 1973 series of atmospheric tests Saturday at Mururoa atoll, about 720 miles southeast of Tahiti, and touched off denunciations that included formal diplomatic protests by New Zealand, Australia, Japan, Canada and Sweden.

The resumption of the tests caused a protest even in Tahiti, where a lawmaker lowered the French flag to half-staff and said he sought an end to Tahiti's ties with France.

Paris ignored the protests and did not even comment on the explosion.

A New Zealand warship moved out of the test zone Sunday when heavy rain began falling.

Senate committee investigates

WASHINGTON (UPI) — The Senate Armed Services Committee will decide this week whether to hold a full investigation into secret U.S. bombing raids over Cambodia, congressional sources said Sunday.

Some sources said the bombing, which began in March of 1969 but was not officially acknowledged until last week, could be the nub of a new conflict between Congress and the President.

US raids closest

PHNOM PENH (UPI) — U.S. warplanes streaking across the skies over Phnom Penh blasted suspected Communist positions today on all sides of the capital in the closest such raids in more than a month.

A U.S. observation plane crashed while trying to make an emergency landing at Phnom Penh's Pochentong airport in the second crash in two days.

Airport officials said the pilot escaped without serious injury as his plane burned.

The Cambodian high command said ground fighting was reported at Prek Ho, 2 1/2 miles south of the suburb of Takhmau, at Wat Sleng, 10 miles down Highway 3 to the south, and near Phnom Basset, 10 miles to the northwest.

Concussions of concentrated American air strikes to the south and northwest rocked back and forth through Phnom Penh.

Not since American planes carried out raids on the outskirts of Phnom Penh in the wake of Communist rocket assaults on the capital's airport last month had U.S. jet-fighters hit so near the city center.

The high command also said heavy fighting occurred during the weekend at Prek Kri, about 42 miles north of the capital, where Communist infiltration routes have been reported.

Military officials said 70 insurgents were killed in the fighting there while government forces reported four killed.

Growth not slowed

WASHINGTON (UPI) — President Nixon's chief economic adviser does not foresee a recession despite a sharp drop in the rate of growth of the economy.

Herbert Stein, chairman of the President's Council of Economic Advisers, said Sunday that he did not believe "there's any doubt that the rate of growth of the economy has slowed down."

But he said he did not see "any evidence" a recession was in the immediate future despite the fact the gross national product annual rate of growth dropped to 2.6 per cent in the second quarter of this year after booming at an 8 per cent rate in the first quarter.

"I don't think it is the most probable development," Stein said of the recession talk. "We don't think it's a likely development, but we are in the business of being concerned about possibilities and considering what might be done if that possibility, which we now think is small, should become more serious."

Both Stein and Agriculture Secretary Earl L. Buttz conceded Sunday there would be increases in food prices in the coming days due to the lifting of most price controls with the start of the administration's Phase IV economic program.

Stein said the putting into effect of more flexible controls was "the only way to assure an adequate supply of food and less rapidly rising food prices a year from now."

Buttz said the loosening of controls was necessary to have the produce here than not prevent shortages of some foods.

"It is far more important to have the produce here than not to have it there at 15 per cent lower prices," Buttz said.

Stein was interviewed on CBS' Face the Nation. Buttz appeared on NBC's Meet the Press.

Buttz ruled out food rationing during the Phase IV period but conceded that "spot shortages of beef likely would develop in the months ahead."

"We may have some spot shortages of beef and some cuts of beef may be in short supply in some locations in the months ahead," Buttz said.

Nixon's program announced last week kept price controls on beef until Sept. 12 but eased controls on other foods.

Cannery strike ends

SAN FRANCISCO (UPI) — California's 65,000 cannery workers reached agreement Sunday to end a five-day strike that threatened to drive up prices of processed fruits and vegetables.

The Teamsters Union said it would make every effort to have the workers back on the job to resume canning in the nation's major fruit and vegetable growing state, now in the midst of the peach, pear and tomato harvest.

The agreement to end the strike at 84 California canning plants was announced in Washington Sunday by W.J. Usery Jr., director of the Federal Mediation and Conciliation Service.

"I am happy that intensive mediation has made it possible to end this serious work stoppage before major crop losses occurred with the peak harvest season close at hand," Usery said.

State government officials and farm leaders had warned that if the strike had gone on much longer there might be serious shortages of some fruits and vegetables that would have driven prices higher.

Cloud mushrooms

NEW ZEALAND CABINET Minister Peter Coleman looks out across the South Pacific from the frigate Otago as a mushroom cloud rises over French nuclear test grounds Sunday, France, ignoring a stream of protests in an order by the International Court of Justice, triggered a nuclear device suspended from a sausage-shaped balloon hovering over Mururoa Atoll 720 miles northwest of Wellington, New Zealand. Costs investigated in missile site

WASHINGTON (UPI) — Rep. Les Aspin, D-Wis., Sunday called for an investigation into a suspicious cost overrun for construction of a Safeguard antiballistic missile (ABM) site.

The comment by the persistent Pentagon critic came after the Defense Department made available figures Sunday showing the single ABM site now under construction in Grand Forks, N.D., will cost $1.3 billion more than the 1969 estimate for a two-site ABM program.

Couple weds in temple rites

SHOSHONE — Lana Kay Peterson, Salt Lake City, became the bride of Delbert Russell Parker July 12 at the Logan LDS Church Temple.

She is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Harvey L. Peterson, Shoshone, and he is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Norman A. Parker, Fort Macleod, Alberta, Canada.

President Heaton performed the double-ring ceremony at the temple altar in company of family and friends.

Those accompanying the couple, in addition to their parents, to the temple were Mr. and Mrs. Glen Capps, Jerome; Mr. and Mrs. Edgar Green, Terreton; Mr. and Mrs. Larry Glassett, Sandy, and Bishop and Mrs. LaMar Duffin, Shoshone.

A wedding breakfast was served after the temple ceremony, hosted at the Sherwood Hills dining hall by her grandparents, Mr. and Mrs. Dennis Green, Terreton.

A wedding reception was held at the Shoshone LDS Church cultural hall July 13.

The bridal party received guests before a colonnaded background in shades of lavender and white with overdrape of lavender sheers. Two tall baskets of flowers at each end of the colonnade were of white gladioli, yellow daisies and baby breath. All were set on a lavender color carpet.

The bride's gown was fashioned with polyester crepe skirt, a bodice of lace and fitted sleeves. From her Julieann cap at the crown, her net veil flowed to chapel length. It was trimmed in lace to match that on the edge of her wedding gown.

Her bridal bouquet was of white carnations, yellow daisies and baby breath from which fell white streamers.

Debbie Hardy, Salt Lake City, was maid of honor, and bridesmaids were Terri Hirschi, Las Vegas, Nev.; LuAnn Westley, Salt Lake City; Connie Peterson and Jolene Peterson, sisters of the bride.

Gary Peterson, Shoshone, brother of the bride, was best man.

Guests were registered by Kathy Capps, Jerome, cousin of the bride. The round registration table was covered with a floor-length lavender-lace skirting.

The bride's table was also set with purple underskirt and topped with lace. Candelabra arrangements with miniature tapers in lavender colors graced the table top which was centered by a square four-tier wedding cake. The cake was done in all white except for tiny yellow daisies. It was topped with tiny figures standing under an angel-hair arch.

Guests were seated at round quartet tables covered with lavender and lace and centered with tiny baskets of yellow flowers. The guests were seated within a serving area enclosure of ribbon and pompon stands.

Serving the cake was Mrs. Glen Capps, Jerome. Punch was poured by Pam Parker, sister of the bridegroom.

The gift table was handled by Mrs. Lewis Green and Mrs. Mary Alice Green, Terreton, and Shauna Dankes, Montpelier.

The gifts were carried by Geanna, Trena, Jayda Peterson, Filer.

Open house was held at the Macleod, Canada, LDS Church, July 20.

A pre-nuptial shower was held for the bride by friends in Salt Lake City early in July.

Special guests at the reception were the bride's grandparents, Mr. and Mrs. Dennis Green, Terreton; Mr. and Mrs. Garn Herschi, Las Vegas; Lynn Williams, Salt Lake City; Mr. and Mrs. Merrill Jemmett and Debbie, Mr. and Mrs. Lewis Green and Rachel and Mrs. Edgar Green, Terreton; Mr. and Mrs. Emry Belnap, Blackfoot, and family and friends from throughout Magic Valley.

After a wedding trip to Canada, the young couple will make their home in Salt Lake City where he is attending the LDS Business College and she is employed at the LDS Church office building.

Father, son grow unusual tomatoes

(c) Chicago Sun-Times

CHICAGO — This is a story about a 16-year-old boy who got into trouble because he came home one day in June with three tomato plants, or rather, what looked like three tomato plants.

The story, as it was told by youth officer Robert Zemaitis of the police department begins with the boy telling his father: "Dad I just bought these plants. They'd be great for your tomato garden. Can you water them for me while I'm in school?"

The father said he followed his son's instructions, although he thought it curious that the plants did not bud as tomatoes normally do.

Both father and son were home when the police department received a complaining phone call July 2.

Friendly iguana on the loose

CASTRO VALLEY, Calif. (UPI) — A 4 1/2-foot iguana who shared his bed with Hyme for six years before the reptile escaped Friday.

The dragon-like lizard is friendly, according to his owner. "He'll open his mouth and hiss, but he's not going to like to go through open windows. If he enters the house he'll either go on the bed or up a curtain," said Millard, anyone finding Hyme in bed: "Rub his forehead. This kind of hypnotizes him and you can pick him up and carry him."

Color and color combinations on the fall fashion scene are expected to be subtle and sophisticated. They include: misty heather shades, foggy greys, sage greens, teal blue, lavender and russet.

Abby

Abigail Van Buren

© 1973 by Chicago Tribune-N. Y. News Synd. Inc.

DEAR ABBY: I am a mother and sole bread winner of three school-age children. I have worked hard to provide for us since my husband died four years ago.

Recently I landed an ideal job as a housekeeper for a rather wealthy family. I work three days a week and the location and pay is excellent.

On a few occasions the husband has come home unexpectedly, and when his wife hears his car in the driveway, she pushes me into a walk-in closet to hide me until she can get me out without having her husband see me.

When I asked her why she was hiding me, she said I was her "secret" help, and she didn't want her husband to know she had as much help as she does. (She has another woman come three days a week, too, but he knows about HER.)

Abby, I feel so foolish sneaking around this way, but I need the money. Should I stay on? What if the husband finds me one of these times? STIR CRAZY IN THE CLOSET

Hide and seek housekeeper

DEAR STIR: Since the job is ideal and you need the money, stay there. If the husband finds you, let his wife explain what you're doing there. If he has a sense of humor, you're home free.

DEAR ABBY: It seems I have a problem. I am 47 years old, and last year I married for the second time and my wife is expecting soon. Since this is the first child I have ever fathered, and probably my last, I want him to have a special name. [No argument, please. I KNOW it will be a boy.]

My surname is "Huffman," so I would like to name our son "Manhuff." My wife's maiden name is Wolfe, therefore I want his middle name to be "Wolfgang," his full name being, "Manhuff Wolfgang Huffman." (His nickname would of course be, "Manny.")

My wife objects strenuously. She says it will be a burden to the boy and people will make fun of him.

What do you think, Abby? If you feel the boy will be handicapped by such a name, please let me know, as I have his best interests at heart. JACK [OF ALL TRADES]

DEAR JACK: Never mind what I think. Since your wife objects strenuously, forget the "Manhuff Wolfgang," and name him "Jack Jr." [P. S. If he's a "she," you'll have no problem.]

DEAR ABBY: I am a 69-year-old man. I buried my wife five years ago. We had a good life together, but I think it is time now for me to get interested in some of the nice ladies who have been so kind to me these past five years.

My problem is that I have been paying $13 a year for the upkeep on my wife's plot. It's not the money that bothers me, it is the yearly reminder of my wife that keeps me from getting interested in another woman.

What do you suggest? NOT FREE YET

DEAR NOT: Inquire about the possibility of paying for the maintenance of the plot for the duration of your lifetime. I'm sure it can be arranged.

CONFIDENTIAL TO "HAD IT IN ELWOOD, INDIANA": Another matter of Elwood, Indiana provided the solution to your problem. He said, "The test of good manners is to be able to put up pleasantly with bad ones." He was Wendell Willkie.

Problem? You'll feel better if you get it off your chest. For a personal reply, write to ABBY: Box No. 9770, L. A., Calif. 90009. Enclose stamped, self-addressed envelope, please.

Completes course

TWIN FALLS — Herman Woebke, Twin Falls, Robert Stuart Junior High School instructor, has completed a summer mining course at the Colorado School of Mines.

The Idaho teachers attended on scholarships sponsored jointly by the Idaho and Colorado Mining Association.

Hints

- Buy eggs from a refrigerated case.
- Refrigerate eggs promptly at home, large end up, to help maintain quality.
- Variations in temperature while the eggs are stored causes egg whites to become thin.
- Mature green fruit, including tomatoes, ripens best if it's placed in a paper bag in a warm spot but not directly in sunlight. The bag traps the ethylene gas given off naturally by the fruit as it ripens. Tissue paper wrapping used by some shippers serves the same purpose. Ethylene gas ripening is also done commercially in ripening rooms with piped in gas.

Pioneer Day party slated

EDEN — The annual Pioneer Day party for the Hunt Ward LDS Church will be held at the church beginning at 7 p.m. Tuesday.

Activities will include a potluck dinner and games for everyone, followed by a program entitled, "That very Special Day," that will be presented by the primary children.

Ice cream, punch and watermelon are being furnished by the auxiliary organizations.

Jim: What is the most surprising play you have ever seen made?

Oswald: Strangely enough, it took place in a humdrum four-spade contract. I was dummy. The late Hal Sims was declarer.

Jim: It looks normal enough. South has to lose a club, a diamond and a heart. What happened?

Oswald: Hal won the first two tricks with his ace and king of spades. Then he plucked the deuce of hearts on the table. The game was match point duplicate and West followed with the four-spot. At this point

Hal said, "Goup! I played the seven. East played the three and there was a stunned silence."

Jim: I imagine it was broken by a gasp from West.

Oswald: It was more in the nature of the scream of a tortured prisoner. He had just let a seven-spot score a trick when he held king queen ten eight of the suit.

Jim: What did West have to say?

Oswald: He was also stunned to say anything, but Hal was there with a great comment when it turned out that East did hold the six. Hal remarked, "We're sure lucky that I played high from dummy."

Salmon runners record

SALMON — The main Salmon River is feeling a surge of recreational use this summer.

The river already is approaching the total boating use recorded in the entire season last year.

To date, there has been 1,843 boaters counted on the river downstream from Pine Creek. Last season's total was 2,200.

Frank Elder, North Fork District ranger, said that the use is expected to increase throughout the remainder of the season because of low water levels on the Middle Fork causing persons to divert to the main Salmon.

Of the 1,843 persons boating the river only 50 were counted in jet boats, the rest being in float boats or kayaks.

Elder noted the figure does not include the Teton Peaks Boy Scout Council kayak program which is being conducted on the river around Indianola and Spring Creek.

Because of the severe fire weather conditions and the increased use being experienced, the district has increased its fire prevention efforts and the river patrol boat operations.

The boat, runing from Corn Creek to Salmon Falls, a distance of 24 miles, on a three-day schedule, now is operating six days a week, with Friday off.

Floyd Alder is the forest patrolman with Dave Giles the jet boat operator.

GOODING — Two deputies have been hired to combat cattle rustling in a four county area.

Gooding County Sheriff Earl Brown said they are James Baker, a former state brand inspector, and LeRoy Hess, a former deputy sheriff in Gooding County.

They will work to apprehend rustlers and halt rustling in Camas, Gooding, Lincoln and Elmore counties. Each county has contributed $1,050 to go with a federal anti-crime grant to cover expenses of the program.

Record set for trading

WASHINGTON (UPI) —

Speculators and other traders in agriculture commodity futures broke all records by trading about $268 billion-worth of futures contracts in the fiscal year ending last June 30.

The value of trading in soybean, corn, wheat, cattle and other futures trading on government-regulated markets was up 81.3 per cent from a year earlier. The number of transactions for 21 regulated commodities rose to a record 17.8 million, up nearly 42 per cent from a year earlier.

CEA officials said it was the fourth consecutive year in which trading volume broke previous records. Individual commodity trading records were set for corn, cattle, live hogs and shell eggs.

Highlights of the report: Soybean trading declined 6 per cent, but the beans, which furnish high-protein feed for livestock, remained the most actively traded of all commodities and combined soybean products trading rose 4.7 per cent.

Trading in pork bellies, which are sliced into bacon, declined 20 per cent, but trading in cattle and live hogs boomed and volume in the cattle market surpassed pork bellies.

Shell egg and potato trading more than doubled the previous year's volume.

Robert G. Everett said Great Western Producers Cooperative had asked that the purchase agreement be extended. He said officials of the cooperative were notified Friday that GWU would consider an extension beyond Aug. 1, the present cut-off date.

Farm unit aide raps bill foes

DENVER (UPI) — The President of the Rocky Mountain Farmers Union Friday accused the Nixon Administration of opposing the farm bill currently before Congress because it makes the federal government accountable to the consumer and taxpayer.

John Stencil also charged the administration of creating distortions in explanations of the bill.

"It is time to put a stop to the carping and lies being told about the Agriculture and Consumer Protection Act and start facing the hard facts," Stencil said.

Segments of the news media, whether because they are not well informed or because of their own prejudices, are guilty of spreading the lies through inaccurate editorials and plain bad reporting," he added.

The union president also termed as "absolute malarkey" reports that the bill would cost the taxpayers $7 billion or higher.

"It will only cost the taxpayer that if the administration continues to play footsy with its grain trade buddies by peddling our products overseas at below bargain-basement prices," Stencil charged.

UFW sues store

DAYTON, Ohio (UPI) — The United Farm Workers Union Friday charged Liberal Markets with using its black eagle trademark to sell non-union lettuce.

In a $50,000 suit filed in federal court the union said the store here and in Cincinnati put the trademark above the produce counter, without the union's consent, then sold a variety of lettuce not picked by union labor.

The UFW also said the firm's use of crates carrying the trade mark created the impression that the lettuce in those crates had been picked by union labor when it had not.

Bee colonies dying

RICHMOND, Va. (UPI) — Thousands of honey bee colonies near Berryville in northern Virginia are mysteriously dying, endangering the state's famous apple crop, officials said Wednesday.

The bees pollinate trees and are essential to the state's $19 million apple industry.

An estimated 8 per cent of the 85,000 bee colonies have been killed by an unknown enemy since the bees returned from the apple orchards about May 10.

The threat to the apple yield is "more than a remote possibility," said H. P. Powers, the Virginia state apiarist.

Fish dinners? Not for birds

Ken Ellis, farm pond manager for Clear Springs Trout Co., was instrumental in arranging that meeting. He said besides the loss of fish to birds, there is the danger of disease being spread by birds capturing a sick fish in one rearing pond and then dropping it in another rearing pond.

Most troublesome the hatcheries both commercial and government are seagulls, black crowned night herons, and great blue herons. At times merganser's and occasionally mallards cause problems, as do kingfishers and magpies.

Ellis said seagulls can take fish up to six inches long. Occasionally gulls try for larger sizes but drop them once airborne and find the load too heavy. "A heron can get any size fish by stabbing it with his bill," he said.

Sick fish, because they are inactive, are often targets. And birds aren't afraid to sweep in and land on the rim of a rearing pond even though there may be someone working only a few feet away.

"They're smart. They know you can't shoot at them," Ellis said.

In the past, he said, occasionally killing or shooting at predatory gulls and herons scared them away from ponds. "Shoot one and they all fly away," he said.

While herons, gulls and other fish-eating birds seemingly concentrate on the rearing ponds in hatcheries — where there are more fish — farm ponds where fish are grown on contract for commercial producers are also hit heavily. The reason for heavier losses there is apparently because there are fewer people around at any time, where in hatcheries workers are near ponds most of the day.

In early morning and evening hours when fewer people are around, more birds are attracted.

Although Ellis did not have specific fish loss figures other than "a substantial amount," he said hatcheries have sometimes lost 200 to 300 fish in an hour.

Another factor in increasing losses to predatory birds is the rapid increases in fish culture in the Magic Valley in the past few years. With more rearing ponds offering more fish, more birds move in to try for an easy meal.

Besides shooting birds to keep them away, Ellis said other methods have been tried but "aren't effective." He said the State Fish and Game Department has provided a series of firecrackers attached to a slow-burning fuse and bird alarm — which screams loudly — has been tried out.

The latter, he said, is thought by some to violate Occupational Safety and Health Administration standards because of the loud noise.

"Yell at them, that's all you can do," Ellis said.

He said hatchery operators only want permits to shoot birds in the immediate vicinity of rearing ponds or near farm ponds where fish are grown on contract.

In the past, he said, the killing permits were issued annually and holders were required to report what was shot and when it was shot to the issuing agency.

Neil T. Argy, special agent for the division of law enforcement of the Bureau of Sport Fisheries and Wildlife, said before any permits to kill migratory birds causing damage can be issued, the bureau would have to be satisfied "that there is significant economic loss or danger of spreading disease, and that all available measures short of killing have been tried but have not stopped the damage."

Under the former permit system, there was no limit on the number of birds which could be taken so long as they were eating fish. "I'm sure that will not be a feature of permits any more," Argy said.

The change in permit procedure was brought about in part by recognition of the esthetic value of the predatory birds — although Argy said the bureau realizes fish culture is a significant part of the Idaho economy and concern over the numbers of birds that were being killed.

Hatchery sources say none of the birds involved in raiding their ponds are endangered species although most are protected.

The new procedure involves investigation of complaints by Sports Fisheries and Wildlife personnel, determining the species of birds involved, the number of fish lost, and the type of ponds — and bottom or concrete pens. If it can be proven that all non-lethal methods tried haven't worked, then the director of the bureau can be asked to issue a killing permit.

That official is the only one who can issue the permit. Argy formerly did, but hasn't since 1970.

Of non-lethal methods, Argy says, "Some work, some don't. Every situation is different." Cracker shells, firecrackers, scarecrows, dogs to chase birds, careful disposal of dead fish are all possible methods.

Edward B. Scholes, of the Idaho Fish and Game Department, Jerome, said that screens over ponds will prevent ducks from taking smaller fish, which they prefer. But, he said, even if permits were issued they would not allow waterfowl to be shot.

Argy said other methods may be recommended for the Magic Valley hatcheries. One is playing recorded distress calls of gulls. He says that has worked well around airports where gulls became endangered jet aircraft.

"I'm sure where none of this is found to work that a permit will be issued but with severe restrictions as to numbers of birds and where they may be shot," Argy said.

He said some state fish hatcheries still hold killing permits but these are about to expire and aren't likely to be renewed. Some of those permits have been provided for research work. However, the federal fish hatchery near Hagerman, which has the same problems as other fish rearing facilities along the river, doesn't have a permit.

Argy said his office feels hatchery operators "did show an extremely cooperative attitude toward the problem and are making an effort to see both sides. We're sure the bureau isn't going to make everyone happy but we're trying."

There is also the question of where the predatory birds come from. Some varieties nest along the river — kingfishers and herons — and federal law prohibits disruption of nesting sites. Gulls are apparently centered on the Magic Reservoir rookery, and where waterfowl is involved it may come from game refuge areas and nesting areas along the river.

Buhl corn pack slated to start

BUHL — Corn sample testing is underway at the Green Giant Company in anticipation of the annual corn pack scheduled to begin this week.

The annual corn pack lasts about 60 days. This year a whole kernel cut corn bulk freezer has been constructed within the freezer plant. Frozen whole kernel cut corn will be placed in bulk bins and shipped to Watsonville, Calif., for distribution.

This year both the corn-on-the-cob pack and the bulk-cut corn will be frozen.

With the addition of the bulk freezer, about 16 employees will be added to the freezer staff.

Officials report the total work force will reach about 1,000 people, including full-time and seasonal employees. About 128 Mexican-American women from Texas will be employed during the pack. They will live in the west wing of the dormitory completed last year.

A slight increase in the 1973 corn crop over last year's crop is presently indicated. No production records are indicated at this stage.

Nine new huskers have been installed in the canning factory. A new canteen has also been constructed, due to the increase in personnel.

The pack will begin using corn from the King Hill area. Officials say the factory and freezer plants will begin production the same day.

Park study set

HAILEY — The National Park Service soon will begin a study on the value of establishing a national park within the Sawtooth National Recreation Area and the adjacent Pioneer Mountains.

The study also will consider the short and long-range effects of alternate land uses.

Aspects to be considered are: the local economy and the natural and cultural environment; management and use of water resources; the management of grazing, timber and mineral and other commercial activities; management of fish and wildlife resources; the continued occupancy of existing homesites, and campsites; commercial and public recreation enterprises and future development of other privately owned properties; and the interrelation between recreation areas, wilderness areas, and park lands.

Representatives from the Park Service's Denver Planning Office, the Regional Office in Seattle, Craters of the Moon National Monument in Idaho, and the Bureau of Outdoor Recreation will comprise the study team which will begin field work July 31.

If a recommendation is made to establish a national park, it will be accompanied by a master plan outlining the development, administration, and cost of the park. The plan would also suggest proposed legislation for creating the park.

The National Park Service study will take place in accordance with provisions of the act establishing the Sawtooth National Recreation Area.

Blood quota set

SHOSHONE — The Lincoln County Red Cross blood drawing will be from 11 a.m. to 3 p.m. Tuesday at the First Baptist Church.

Mrs. Leo Senften, county chairman, said replacement blood is urgently needed.

Quota for the drive is 75 pints. Donors cards for replacement units will be available at the drawing and donors may designate units to their choice.

Replacements are needed for Henry Clegg, Rex Thomas, Andrew Frees, Carl Ray, Dennis Everett, Myrtle Burdett, Jose Garayoa, Ida Alexander, Earl McCarter, George Holt and Merle Swain. Some of them need as many as 12 and 17 pints of replacement.

Mrs. Senften said if the county residents do not meet the quota and actively support the blood drive in the county, and continue to use blood, the program may be discontinued and persons needing blood would be required to purchase the blood at higher costs.

Blaine firm installs dust control equipment

HAILEY — Gordon Paving Co. has completed installation of about $30,000 in dust control equipment at its Hidden Hollow asphalt hot mix plant north of Hailey.

According to Ron Jolicœur, factory representative for Dustex, Buffalo, N.Y., the new dust collector of "bag house" will remove over 99 per cent of the dust from the plant's emissions.

Kenneth Hansen, president of Gordon Paving, said the dust collector is the first such device installed in Idaho and far exceeds state requirements for dust control.

The dust collector, Hansen said, accumulates about 50 to 60 pounds of dust per hour while the plant is in operation. The dust is subsequently recycled into the asphalt mix, he said.

The new equipment, Hansen said, is part of a company effort to show that a hot mix plant can be compatible with a residential area. The company intends to reapply for a conditional use permit for the plant after the company's present permit expires this fall, he said.

Hansen said further improvements planned at the Hidden Hollow plant include installation of noise abatement equipment on the plant; checking mufflers on the company trucks; paving heavily traveled areas to cut down on traffic dust; and planting additional trees around the perimeter of the four and one-half acre site.

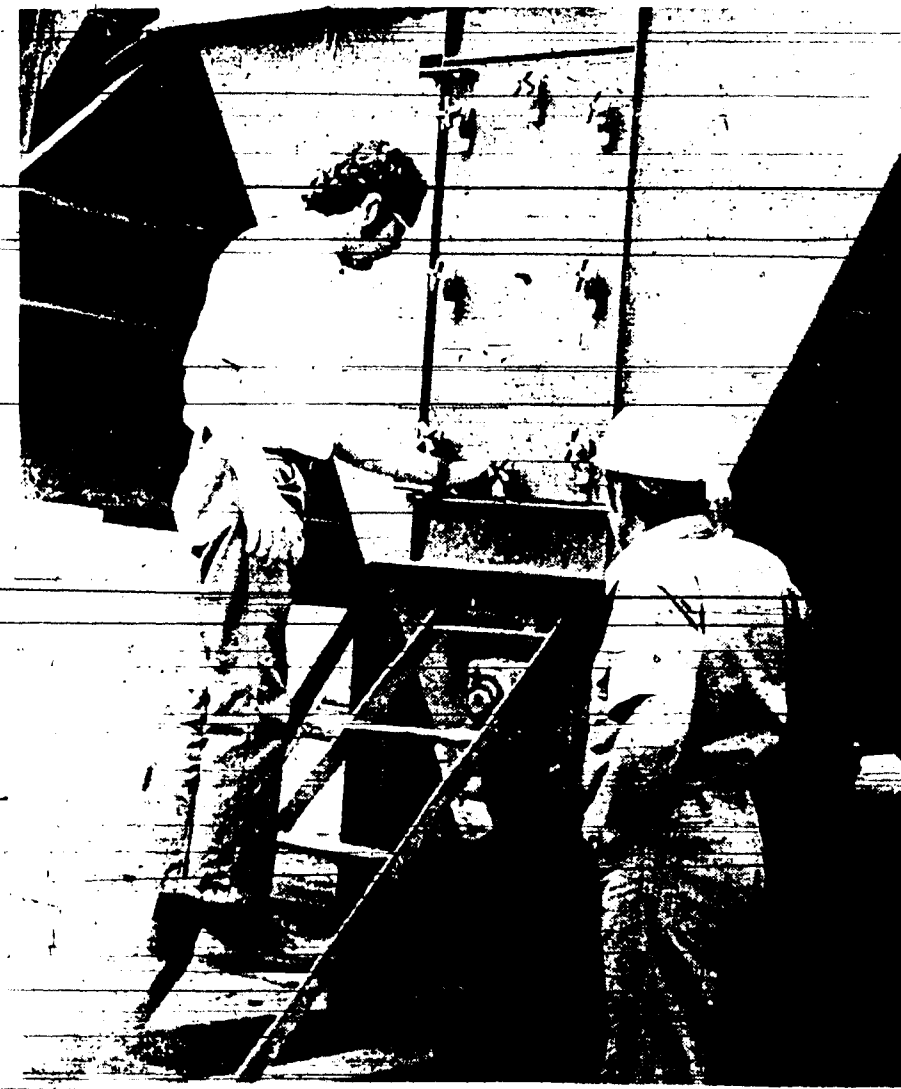

The plant is presently also using cleaner aggregate which will aid in dust control, Hansen said.

The public will be invited to view the new dust collector and the plant improvements at a plant open house to be scheduled in several weeks, Hansen said.

RUPERT — Harriet Cox, 21, Paul, was reported in good condition this morning at Minidoka Memorial Hospital following a motorcycle accident, Friday night.

Miss Cox was injured when she lost control of the motorcycle she was driving. Paul Cartwright, Minidoka, a passenger, was not seriously injured.

The accident occurred when Miss Cox opened the throttle of the motorcycle too much and dropped the clutch when putting the vehicle in motion. The motorcycle lurched and hit a pickup owned by Ruben Ketterling, Rupert. The motorcycle sustained $200 damage and the pickup was not damaged.

The accident occurred on Seventh Street between E and F streets. Rupert police department officers, who investigated the accident, issued a citation to Miss Cox for inattentive driving.

Learning process key

KETCHUM — Vic Jepsen, newly appointed principal of the Ernest Hemingway Elementary School, Ketchum, will stress how students learn the learning process rather than subject matter content.

According to a Blaine County School District news release, Jepsen has been active in the education field for the past seven years, holding both teaching and administrative positions.

Before his appointment as principal, Jepsen served as intern supervisor for the Eastern Montana College Teacher Corps program. The program involves seven schools and includes the goal of bringing about change in the public schools by working with the school administrators and teachers to individualize classroom instruction.

Prior to that time, Jepsen was associated with the Educational Professional Development program at Idaho State College and was responsible for supervision and training teacher interns.

According to the news release, Jepsen feels that the education of children can best be accomplished through the concept of open classrooms.

Jepsen advocates varied teaching and learning processes based upon the preferences, interests, sociometric, learning styles, abilities and achievements of the students.

The new principal states that group instruction is not "taboo" and that grouping students for academic and social learning is a necessary component of the open classroom.

While the open classroom allows student flexibility, Jepsen states, it requires sound planning by the teacher. He states that the skills needed to work in an open school concept must be taught and practiced similarly to the methods subject area skills are taught and practiced.

Jepsen received his B.A. degree from Black Hills State College, Spearfish, S.D. He attended Idaho State and received his M. A. specializing in curriculum supervision. He has also completed a major portion of the academic requirements leading to a doctor of education degree with specialization in elementary school administration.

Mike Sweet tames wind, greens for Gooding win

GOODING—Weiser's Mike Sweet tamed gusty winds and slick and rough greens to win the Gooding Amateur by three shots over first day leader Bill Spencer, Burley and Dean Oliver, Boise.

Sweet carded a three over 74 to go with his first day 72 with steady play on the back side Sunday. Oliver shot 75 Sunday as Spencer slipped to 78 as the two tied for second at 149.

Glenn Blakeley, Burley, who looked like a challenger at one time during the day fell back the last nine to a 76 for third place at 151.

Kevin Packard, 1972 Gooding champ, led the tournament several times until four putting the 14th hole and hitting his second shot out of bounds on the par five 15th hole. His closing 78 put him in a tie with Don Hulbert, and Gary Duncan, both Twin Falls, at 152.

Most of the day it seem as if the winner would either be Spencer or Packard as the 1972 champion played steady golf through the first thirteen holes.

Spencer took a costly double bogie on the third hole and bogies on the fourth and ninth to turn at 40, four over. From that point on he had problems with chipping and putting to the slick greens.

In the first flight, Don Newman, Ron Harris, both Boise and Dale Williams, Burley, tied for first at 158. Don Newman won the ensuring playoff to win top money followed by Harris at second and Williams third. Newman, Williams and Greg Smutney were tied for the lead after the initial 18 holes. Smutney faded with an 87 Sunday to finish out of the money.

Bob Stuart, Gooding, came from behind in the second flight to win with a gross 167. Three players, Paul Shrum, Glenn Ferry, Jim Murray, Twin Falls and Harold Huston, Filer, tied for second at 168. At the least money spot was John LeMoine, Gooding at 169.

In the third flight Paul Rose, Gooding, won by a convincing 12 shots as he easily outdistanced G. D. Pierce, Wendell, at 177 and Bob Wills, Twin Falls at 177. Lowell Wills, Twin Falls was fourth at 178 and Gene Fredericksen, Jerome finished fifth with 180.

Concluding a Gooding sweep of the last three flight winners, Bob Anderson, Gooding won the fourth flight with a net 134, followed by Stan Jones, Glenn Perry.

ST. LOUIS (UPI)—The St. Louis Cardinals scored three runs in the eighth off reliever Jim Brewer Sunday for a come-from-behind 5-4 victory over the Los Angeles Dodgers and moved into first place in the National League East, 1-2 game ahead of the slumping Chicago Cubs.

Royals defeat Milwaukee 7-5

KANSAS CITY (UPI)—All Star outfielder Amos Otis snatched a two-out three-run homer in the bottom of the ninth Sunday, lifting the Kansas City Royals to a 7-5 victory over the Milwaukee Brewers and sweep of their three-game series.

Fran Healy singled after one out in the ninth against loser Ed Rodriguez, 2-1. Steve Floyd replaced Healy on base when he grounded into a fielders' choice and Dan Money, who hit two home runs, bobbled Cookie Rojas' bounce for an error before Otis stroked his home run, which carried over the left centerfield fence.

The Brewers had taken a 5-4 lead in the eighth when Pedro Garcia singled, scoring Joe Lahoud from second. Garcia's hit broke an 0-2 slump.

The Royals tied the score 4-4 in the seventh. Lou Piniella doubled and was sacrificed to third by Kurt Bevacqua before Healy bounced a run-scoring single up the middle. Rojas singled and Otis followed with another single up the middle scoring Healy.

Money's two homers drove in three runs for the Brewers. He slugged a solo homer in the first then cracked a two-run shot in the fifth after Bob Coluccio walked breaking a 2-2 tie. The homers were Money's seventh and eighth of the season.

Jackson hits A's past Indians 5-2

OAKLAND (UPI)—Reggie Jackson took over the American League home run and RBI leads Sunday when he drove in four tallies with his 22nd and 23rd homers in powering the Oakland A's to a 5-2 victory over the Cleveland Indians.

Jackson, the starting right-fielder for the A's in the All Star game Tuesday, now has 81 RBI, one more than John Mayberry of Kansas City He also leads Mayberry and George Hendrick of the Indians in homers by three.

Deron Johnston added his 12th homer to complete the A's scoring and lefty Ken Holtzman, another member of the All Star team, went the distance on an 12-hitter to gain his 15th victory compared to nine losses.

The Indians treated starter Duck Bosman to a 2-0 lead but the A's moved ahead to stay in the third on Jackson's first homer, a three-run drive, and Johnson's blast.

The Indians picked up six of their 11 hits off Holtzman in the first two innings but a pair of double plays kept the Oakland left-hander out of trouble as he went the distance for the 14th time this season in 25 starts.

ATLANTA (UPI)—The Philadelphia Phillies scored their winning run in the first game on a wild pitch and then took advantage of seven Atlanta errors in the second game to sweep a doubleheader from the Braves Sunday, 6-5 and 5-1.

Del Unser, who had doubled, raced home from second on a wild pitch by Max Leon in the eighth inning of the first game for what turned out to be the winning run when Darrell Evans of Atlanta led off the bottom of the ninth with his 27th homer of the season.

All five Philly runs in the second game, off Carl Morton, now 8-7, were unearned as the Braves broke an Atlanta record set in May, 1968 when they committed six errors against the Pittsburgh Pirates.

Pittsburgh sweeps pair from Padres

PITTSBURGH (UPI)—Rookies Dave Parker and Richie Zisk and National League home run leader Willie Stargell accounted for eight runs and powered the Pittsburgh Pirates to a doubleheader sweep of the San Diego Padres Sunday, 3-1 and 13-7.

Stargell and Parker exchanged slugging roles in the doubleheader. Stargell took over the league RBI lead with 75 with a two-run double in the first game and hit his 29th and 30th homers of the season in the second game.

Parker's third major league homer came in the first game and he went 3-3 including two doubles in the second game. Zisk, pinch-hitting for Parker in the seventh inning, smashed a bases-loaded double that highlighted an inning that produced six runs on four walks and four hits including a homer by Bob Robertson.

Dave Roberts hit a solo homer in the seventh for the Padres' only score in the first game.

Yankees divide games with Chicago

NEW YORK (UPI)—Fritz Peterson and Sparky Lyle combined for a four-hit shutout as the New York Yankees earned a split in the second game of their Sunday doubleheader, downing the Chicago White Sox, 2-0. The White Sox won the opening game, 4-2, as Stan Bahnsen beat the Yankees for the fourth time this season.

Before a crowd of 53,664, Ron Blomberg doubled home the game's only runs in the first inning of the nightcap with a low liner that dipped under the glove of centerfielder Buddy Bradford. The hit drove home Bob White and Bobby Murcer and put the Yankees 13 games over the 500 mark to equal their high point of the season.

Chicago eighth game in 18 decisions while Lyle, who retired the side in order in the ninth, picked up his 26th save. Lops in the majors' Steve Stone took the loss for Chicago.

All-star classic won't have designated hitter but will have backup manager

KANSAS CITY (UPI)—There won't be a designated hitter in the 44th All-Star game but there will be a designated manager.

That's what Chuck Tanner, the manager of the Chicago White Sox, is calling himself since he'll represent Dick Williams at the traditional Monday morning press conference and will handle the squad's afternoon workout at the Royals' new stadium.

But Williams, the Oakland A's manager who was hospitalized on Thursday in Oakland for an emergency appendectomy, is still expected to arrive here in time to manage the squad Tuesday night and he'll also name the starting pitcher.

Williams is likely to name one of his own pitchers, Jim Hunter, to start the game even though a majority of the nation's fans would like to see baseball's newest sensation, smoke-throwing Nolan Ryan in the starting role.

"I'm just the designated manager," Tanner quipped. Williams will make the decision I'll confer with him by phone and find out what he wants to do.

"The American League president (Joe Cronin) told me that I'll represent the league at the press conference and at the workout. But Williams is still the manager for the game and he'll be there but I'm not sure when he'll arrive."

The American League will follow the National League's rules in the game so there won't be a designated hitter. But since pitchers are limited to three-inning stints, they are often lifted for pinch-hitters.

Williams has the luxury of having four well-rested possible starters—Ryan, Hunter, Minnesota's Bert Blyleven and California's Bill Singer. Ryan hasn't pitched since Thursday and Hunter, Blyleven and Singer haven't pitched since Friday.

Hunter has excellent credentials besides being one of Williams' players. He's won 10 straight decisions and has a 15-3 record. By contrast, Ryan is only 11-12.

But the fans don't care about that. They're interested in the fact that Ryan has pitched two no-hitters this season and last Thursday night came within six outs of becoming the first pitcher in history to throw three no-hitters in one season.

Of course, Ryan was originally left off the team by Williams because of his so-so record. But after some behind the scenes arm-twisting, baseball commissioner Bowie Kuhn announced the squads were being increased from 28 to 30 players and Ryan and Willie Mays, who'd been left off the National League team, were being added.

Tanner said, "I would think Ryan will get into the game before it's over."

The American League has lost nine of the last 10 games and trails 24-18 in the 44-game series. This is the 40th anniversary of the first All-Star game played in Chicago in 1933 but it's the 44th game because two games were played each year from 1959 to 1962. Twenty players from that first game—including Cronin—will be honored at this contest.

The American League should have a good shot to change its fortunes in this game. It has an unusually well-rested pitching staff and it has two relievers—

Sparky Lyle and Rolfe Fingers—although Fingers' selection over Detroit's John Hiller was a surprise.

Susie Berning captures women's open tourney

ROCHESTER (UPI) — Susie Maxwell Berning, steadily grinding out pars while her opposition faded, celebrated her 22nd birthday Sunday by winning the U.S. Women's Open Golf championship for the third time.

Mrs. Berning, who also won in 1968 and 1972, coasted to an even par 72 that gave her a 72 hole total of 290 and a comfortable five stroke margin over Shelley Hamlin, a second year pro, and 1966 LPGA champion Gloria Ehret whose 71 was the only sub-par round of the day.

Without a serious challenge once the final round got under way, Mrs. Berning methodically ground out 16 pars—most of them by two-putting in her unique sideways style where both feet point at the hole—made one birdie, and suffered only one bogey.

The victory, her 10th title in a decade on the LPGA tour, was worth $6,000 and raised her 1973 earnings to $24,771—a career high—but it might not have been possible without a five dollar putter her husband bought for his antique club collection in an Oklahoma City pawn shop two months ago.

She pulled out the putter Saturday after falling seven strokes behind at the 36-hole mark, shot a 69 to tie for the lead and used the 30-year old club again Sunday in her successful title defense.

Mrs. Berning was tied for the lead with Pam Higgins entering the final round but Miss Higgins fell from contention at the sixth hole when she three-putted from four feet for a double-bogey six. She made another double-bogey at the 10th, hitting into the woods at the left of the fairway and needing two shots to get out.

Sandra Palmer, the only player besides Miss Ehret to get anything resembling a charge going when she birdied the fourth and fifth holes, also saw her slim hopes vanish at No. 10 when she hit her second shot out of bounds and made a double-bogey.

Meanwhile, Mrs. Berning—whose only bogey came at No. 6 where she trapped her approach shot, made routine pars on every other hole until

No. 15 when she finally made a birdie to clinch the tournament.

The only other times besides No. 6 where she had any danger at all were at the 5th, 11th, 16th and 18th holes. Each time she dunked her approach shot into a bunker, and each time she blasted out with her 40-year old sand-wedge and made a putt with her 30-year old putter to save par.

Her husband Dale, a Nevada realtor whose collection includes over 100 wooden-shafted clubs, was in the gallery but Mrs. Berning said she did not know what he was getting her for her birthday.

"This tournament is the present I really wanted," said Mrs. Berning who became only the third person in the tournament's history to win consecutive championships.

Anne Quast Sander, three-time National Women's Amateur champion, shot a final round 74 and was alone in fourth place at 296. Miss Higgins, an Ohio professional who has only won once in five years on the tour, was at 297 with a final round 79.

U.S. track team faces tough time with Soviets

MINSK, USSR (UPI) — The U.S. track and field team, minus several of its top athletes and working on a slow track, will have a tough time against the Soviet Union, head coach Jim Bush said Sunday.

"We're going in over our heads," said Bush of the annual two-day meet against the Soviet Union which opens here Monday. "The Russians are waiting for us. We are tired and minus several of our aces. It will be tough."

To the disappointment of the 40,000 Soviet fans expected to jam the Central Republic Stadium in this Bzlorussian capital, among the U.S. athletes missing will be Dwight Stones.

The 19-year-old was the star of the team's Munich meet with his high jump world record of 7 feet, 6 1/2 inches.

"We really wanted to see this man Stones," said one Soviet Sports Committee official.

The Los Angeles student is unhappy with treatment by the Amateur Athletic Union (AAU) and said after Munich he would be unable to make it to Minsk because of other commitments in Scandinavia.

Also on the missing list is discus thrower John Powell, who was unable to make it here for personal reasons, according to Bush. Out with injuries suffered in last week's match against Italy are pole vaulter Mike Cotton and Steve Prefontaine, the U.S. 5,000-meter record holder.

Benny Brown, holder of the fastest time in the world for 400 yards will not be in the 400-meter event because he was called home due to a family emergency.

Then there are those who are here but for various reasons will not be participating in their usual events.

Dave Wottle, the U.S. Air Force star who formerly was co-holder of the world record for 800 meters, said he is not up to competing in the event and will run only in the 1,500. The U.S. hopes for the 800 tie with Rick Wohlhuter, the 880-yard world record holder.

Maurice Peoples, another U.S. hope in the 400-meter dash, said he is not feeling well and will participate only in the 1,500-meter relay.

Bush said he made a last minute change in the 400-meter relay because Marshall Dill would not be participating for "reasons I'd rather not go into." The Michigan State University student told newsmen he was not feeling well Saturday, went to sleep, was late to practice and Bush barred him from the event.

Mark Lutz will join the relay in the No. 3 position behind Herb Washington and Ed Hammonds. Steve Williams will anchor.

On the Soviet side, Valery Borzov, gold medalist at the Munich Olympics in the 100 and 200 meters events, will only participate in the latter, sports committee officials said.

Told of this, Bush said: "Borzov not in the 100 can only mean one thing—he is not in very good shape."

Both teams had a workout in the stadium Sunday as workers finished putting the track and stadium into shape. Rain fell overnight and left much of the area soggy.

Athletes and coaches of both teams complained that the track was slow.

"I'm afraid I don't expect any world records," said one of the Soviet coaches, Igor Ter-Ovanesyan. He predicted an overall Soviet victory but said his team had more of a chance to take the women's events than the men's.

The last Soviet-American meet in Berkeley, Calif. in 1971 ended in a tie. Since the competition began in 1958, the Soviets have taken seven of the meets, lost two and tied one—counting aggregate scores.

Mark Donohue is easy 200 winner

WATKINS GLEN, N.Y. (UPI) — Fast-charging Mark Donohue methodically reduced the competition to also-rans Sunday as he won both ends of the $75,000, 200-mile Can-Am race to take over the series lead with 39 points.

The 36-year-old Donohue's Sunoco Porsche 917-30 scored an easy 80-second victory over David Hobbs of England in the first heat and then beat the Englishman by 42.9 seconds in the 30-lap nightcap session.

Donohue averaged 119.199 miles per hour in the opener, considerably slower than his Watkins Glen track record of 122.989 mph he set Friday in gaining the pole position.

Jody Scheckter, the brilliant South African newcomer to high speed racing, finished third in his German-built Vasek Porsche 517.10 and Charlie Kemp, a Mississippi stockbroker, finished fourth in an RC-Cola Porsche.

Donohue's triumph climaxed a personal weekend goal for auto racing's foremost chassis engineer. He partnered George Follmer to an anticipated sixth place in the manufacturers' six-hour endurance here Saturday behind the powerful Matra, Ferraris and Mirages, and then whipped Follmer in the first heat of Sunday's Can-Am race. Kemp's teammate, was forced out in the 21st lap when his Turbocharger failed as he tried to increase the engine's speed to cut down on Donohue's 45-second lead.

Donohue and Hobbs' Carling McLaren were the only cars in the same lap starting the second heat since both had lapped all rivals in the opener.

The Newtown Square, Pa., wheelman, 1972 Indianapolis champion, was still super-charged starting the second heat and Donohue raced to a 30-second lead over Hobbs at the end of 40 laps and was in front by 37 seconds with 10 laps remaining.

Medical researchers say that day of the week when children are most apt to get headaches is likewise Monday. Cops come from oak trees, guess you realize. A third of the widows who remarry after their husbands' deaths wait eight years or longer to do so. Every third soft drink sold is a Coke. Am still trying to verify Curt Gowdy's report that Nebraska is the state with the most lakes. Hard to believe.

You'll note from TV commercials that Life Savers is marketing a new chewing gum. With no hole. Pretty daring. Originally, Life Savers didn't have a hole, either. Then a fellow named John Edward Noble bought the company in 1913 for $2,900. He poked a hole in that small candy, and up, up went sales way past $100 million a year. If I were Life Savers, I certainly wouldn't ignore that hole. Too chancey. Likewise the doughnut didn't really get popular until it first came out with a hole, remember that?

HORSEMEN

Client asks which of the American Indian tribes claimed the best horsemen. Depends. Best riders were the Comanches. Best breeders, the Mesquero.

A little more on that matter of love at first sight, if you don't mind. University researchers have looked into it. They now say 66 per cent of the love-and-first-sight situations last less than two months, 29 per cent less than one month.

A little garlic oil will kill mosquitoes, the science boys have learned. Also potato tubular moths, red cotton bugs, red palm weevils and house flies. Some of these science boys, therefore, suggest the nation be drenched in garlic oil. Interesting. Still, more expensive experimentation is called for somewhere, no? In Italy maybe.

OSCAR

Q: Didn't the late Humphrey Bogart, like George C. Scott, refuse to accept the Academy Award Oscar?

A: No, but he laughed at the notion. Claimed nobody could judge the best performance unless all the nominated actors played the same part for the same director. Then when he was the next year for 'The African Queen,' he did indeed hotfoot it down the aisle with his thank-you speech at the ready. Fine fellow, Bogart.

Was reported here earlier that young fellows in ancient Greece carved the names of their girlfriends on their own sandal soles. To imprint said names in their tracks. Now one historian tells me the ladies of the night there and then did something similar. Carved the Greek word for 'follow me' in their sandal soles to leave their invitations in the dirt before the loiterers.

Patton to Germany

WASHINGTON (UPI)—Maj. Gen. George S. Patton III is being transferred to headquarters of the U.S. Military Command in Europe, the Pentagon said Friday.

He is presently assistant commandant of the army tank school at Fort Knox, Ky., and will assume his new position at Stuttgart Germany August 1.

Magic Valley highway projects in full swing

SHOSHONE—A few highway project this month within the Shoshone district is announced by district engineer Howard Johnson.

This project is over an 8.9 mile section of US 20, 26 and 93a from the junction of US 93 East, Shoshone east.

The work includes construction of plant mix pavement overlays and contractor is Allied Paving Corp., Idaho Falls, for a contract amount of $199,670.

There are also several projects being advertised for bids, Johnson said.

Work of constructing 198 foot and 228 foot steel bridges over the Malad River on 004 mile section of 80N in Gooding County is being called for bids to be opened Tuesday.

To be opened on Aug. 14 are bids submitted for work of constructing the roadway, drainage structures, plant mix base, and plant mix surface with future seal coat, signing, delineation, and illumination of Coterrell Port of Entry on 448 miles of I-80N from Junction 15 W Coterrell in Cassia County.

Also to be opened on Aug. 14 will be bids submitted or work of modifying the existing slopes, minor structures, signing, illumination, guard rail, seeding and reconditioning of frontage roads on about 25.9 miles intermittent stretch on I-80N, Vahvey Road interchange, Meridian Road in Jerome and Minidoka Counties.

Johnsonsaid seal coating operations by state forces has started and crews will be working on US 93 A between the Craters of the Moon and Arco and near Mackay during July. August work includes SH46-Wendell and Gooding, SB 25 near Tulle, US10 near Hagerman, SH27 between Bakley and Burley.

Periodic traffic delays can be expected for a time at the Sublet interchange road project, Howard Johnson, district highway engineer said.

The project at Interstate 80N, Idaho-Sweetzer and Coterrell Idaho location, is progressing at this time. Hauling and placing of base aggregate and asphalt treated base is being bid.

At the Burley interchange-Snake River and Paul-Rupert road projects, I-80N, crushing of seal coat aggregate is now complete. The contractor expects to begin seal coating operations about the first of August. Controlled traffic can be expected at that time.

Pairing has been completed on the steel shell pilings and handrail on six bridges on I-80N from Layburn east to Cassia and Minidoka counties.

The last bound lane of the Tulle-Wendell project, interchange 80N, has been seal coated and it is anticipated that seal coating operations will commence on the west bound lane next week.

Controlled traffic can be expected at that time. Upon completion of seal coating, the 8.901 mile interstate project will be complete.

Formwork and placing of concrete for deck and beams at the West Bliss interchange and erecting formwork in preparation for concrete placement in the deck at the East Bliss interchange is the status of the projects there.

The Union Pacific railroad will be realigned over a new structure and the roadway completed at a railroad underpass project on 80N also. Completion of the underpass is anticipated this month.

Formwork and placing concrete from the bridge pier columns and west side bridge abutments is being done near King Hill where two bridges are being constructed over Snake River on I-80N near King Hill. Steel girders will be placed this month.

Surfing will be completed this month on the Kunaia-West road.

In the Twin Falls area subcontractor P. J. Construction Co., Denver, Colo., has completed rock excavation for the south bridge abutment site on the new bridge over the Snake River, US 83.

At this time excavating is being done for the north abutment and preparation is being done for rock bolt installations and sealing operations. Periodic traffic delays can be expected.

Rock drilling and blasting operations are presently underway by subcontractor, MacGregor Triangle Co., Boise, in preparation for constructing a pedestrian stairway and walkway to the future bridge viewpoint on the north side of the canyon.

The sub-contractor has completed rock excavation for the roadway approach section on the north and will begin hauling and placing borrow next week.

It is anticipated that seal coating will be completed early this week on the Filer-Twin Falls roadway. Controlled traffic can be expected.

The motorists cooperation is requested, Johnson said, around all construction work and is especially important on seal coats.

Slower speeds and consideration can prevent much "flying rock" vehicle damage. High speeds and sudden starts and stops are very damaging to new seal coats. "So please slow down to protect your own car, your fellow motorists and your highway investment," Johnson asks.
