

Sharp price hikes seen with Phase IV

WASHINGTON (UPI) — Phase IV of the administration's economic program began today. Officials expected it to be marked by new increases in prices in most products other than beef and petroleum.

The phase started at midnight when prices on most products were declared free to rise within a range laid out under rules administered by the Cost of Living Council (CLC).

Gasoline, home heating oil and other petroleum products will remain under the freeze an extra week until Aug. 19. Beef will remain under price ceilings until Sept. 12, unless the administration gives in to pressures caused by beef shortages.

Economic planners decided to thaw the freeze in stages in an effort to prevent a sudden price explosion and to give the economy time to absorb the higher prices that officials conceded are on the way.

Consumers will not feel the weight of some price increases until mid-September, because the largest corporations will have to give 30 days advance notice to the government before boosting prices.

The Phase IV rules also require businessmen to cut prices under certain conditions, but reductions are expected to be rare.

Administration officials said shoppers should brace for a new inflationary surge as companies race to mark up prices that were held in check during the two-month freeze.

The basic rule governing Phase IV allows a company to add a penny to its price tags for every cent it incurs in higher labor, raw material and other costs. Nothing extra can be added for profit.

Required to give the CLC 30 days advance notice before boosting prices are companies with annual sales of more than $100 million.

Internal Revenue Service agents have been assigned to insure the stabilization rules are being followed. The IRS has added 1,000 new employees to help run the monitoring system.

Phase IV's standards for wage increases remains the same as before: 5.5 per cent a year for wages and 0.2 per cent for fringe benefits.

The administration's experiment with wage-price controls began almost two years ago—Aug. 15, 1971—when President Nixon imposed a 90-day, across-the-board wage-price freeze. Nixon called it a "temporary" measure that would lick excessive inflation "without the mandatory wage and price controls that crush economic and personal freedom."

Lacking beef, TF plant may close

By BILL LAZARUS
Times-News writer
TWIN FALLS
Independent Meat Co. may have to shut down its beef packing operation this week, Otto Florence, the manager, said today.

Should the plant close down, about 40 employees would be laid off, Florence said.

He said he had "no idea" how long the plant would be closed. Assuming the current beef prices hold and the price freeze on beef is not revoked before then, the firm probably would remain closed until at least Sept. 12, the scheduled end of the price freeze.

"We really don't have enough cattle to go through the week," Florence said. He said the company only has enough livestock to continue operations about one and one half days.

Even so, the squeeze would not be felt immediately, Florence said the beef

Independent is selling now was produced a week to 10 days ago. It would take about two weeks to "completely button up," he said.

Florence said that during the last couple of weeks Independent has been losing $25 to $35 a head, depending on the type of cattle.

He said at current cattle prices Independent would lose between $35 and $40 a head. Florence said that the beef packing operations may close this week because "all offerings are much more than we want to go."

"Most beef packers I know have closed their operations," he added.

Independent workers have waived the part of the union contract that requires they be informed of a layoff the week prior or be paid for 36 hours the next week. Instead, "they will come in and work as long as they can," Florence said.

Independent's operations on hog butchering will continue, but retail pork prices are likely to take a steep rise, he added. In the past week hog prices have risen $4 per hundredweight.

"Thanks to the local packing house we're still in business," Glenn Miller, assistant manager of Buttrey Foods, said.

Nixon signs highway act

WASHINGTON (UPI) — President Nixon today signed into law a $23 billion extension of the highway act which permits highway trust fund money to be spent for the first time on mass transit.

The President said in a statement that he was "particularly pleased to sign this legislation." He said it represents "a significant extension and reform of the federal highway program" and called it "an important step forward" in providing better, more balanced transportation.

Chrysler without strike ends

DETROIT (UPI) — A six-day wildcat strike by United Auto Workers at Chrysler's Detroit forge plant ended today in time to allow the company to begin production of 1974 model cars.

The unauthorized walkout over health and safety conditions in the massive facility disrupted national contract talks between Chrysler and the UAW.

Libya seizes half US oil firm

BEIRUT (UPI) — Libya nationalized 51 per cent of the U.S. Occidental Oil Co. and warned other foreign oil concerns in the country Sunday they face similar action unless they meet "legitimate" demands that Libya control its own wealth.

At Occidental's Los Angeles headquarters, board chairman Armand Hammer said the company was paid $135 million in cash for transfer of 51 per cent of its assets to the Libyan National Oil Co. and that the amount was "acceptable to the company."

UNITED NATIONS (UPI) — The U.N. Security Council was called into emergency session today at Lebanon's request to consider Israel's seizure of an Arab jetliner in a search for Palestinian guerrilla leaders.

TF theft loss set at $5,000

TWIN FALLS — A Tampa, Florida, man told Twin Falls police Saturday burglars stole his wife's purse containing over $5,000 in jewelry and cash.

Thomas Wierpenny reported the purse was taken from his unlocked mobile home parked at the Holiday Inn on Blue Lakes Boulevard North. According to Detective Capt. Tim Qualls, the purse contained six items of jewelry valued at about $5,000 and $85 in cash. Investigation is continuing.

Storms hampering final US strikes

PHNOM PENH, Aug 13 (UPI) — Low-lying monsoon clouds and rain closed in today on Phnom Penh, hampering but not halting intensified American air strikes against Khmer Rouge insurgents believed biding their time for an eventual assault on the city.

Communist forces reported 20,000 strong have had Phnom Penh under siege for weeks but began pulling back several days ago apparently to await the end of the American bombing campaign on Wednesday. Military sources said they had suffered enormous losses from the air strikes.

Government troops took advantage of the lull in ground fighting to consolidate and expand the capital's defense perimeter in anticipation of the bombing halt while the government brought in convoys on Highway 4 from the port of Kompong Somroad and on the Mekong River with as much supplies as possible before the

Cassia man shot

BURLEY — An apparent accidental shooting took the life of a Jackson area man at his home Sunday evening. The body of Edward John Cherry, 58, Rupert, Route 1, was found near his garage by a neighbor about 8:30 p.m. Sunday. Cherry had been hit in the face and head by a shotgun blast.

Gun cleaning equipment was open on the ground near the body, according to Cassia County Sheriff Ray Mitchell. There was an empty shell on the ground and no sound had been heard by the neighbors, he said. Cherry's wife was in Denver visiting their daughter at the time of the accident. The sheriff's office is continuing investigation.

Tapes sought

WASHINGTON (UPI) — Special Prosecutor Archibald Cox charged today that President Nixon is withholding vital criminal evidence about the Watergate scandal "by his personal choice" without any legal or constitutional right to do so.

In a 67-page legal brief filed in U.S. District Court, Cox urged Judge John J. Sirico to order the President to produce for a grand jury tape recordings of nine conversations with aides. Cox said the tapes could prove or disprove "criminal conspiracy and other illegal conduct" in the White House.

Such an order, Cox said, would reaffirm the American constitutional principle that "no man is above the law."

Gem plan studied

BOISE (UPI) — A three judge federal court panel in Boise today took under advisement a new state reapportionment plan to lower population and representation deviations in Idaho from the present 19.4 per cent down to as low as 10 per cent.

The judges indicated if they approved the plan they would recommend it to the next session of the Idaho Legislature with a mandate to change the present apportionment plan or the courts would do it.

An earlier panel in federal district court approved the present reapportionment plan put together in the 1971 session of the legislature and the judges said it fulfilled the guidelines set down by the U.S. Supreme Court.

The suit was appealed to the U.S. Supreme Court and this summer the court sent it back to the district court for further consideration.

TF man feared drowned

JEROME — Divers searched today for Dean Dotson, 26, Twin Falls, who is feared drowned in Wilson Lake.

Dotson and his brother-in-law from Oregon were wading Sunday evening in Wilson Lake about three-fourths of a mile southeast of the dam on an old roadway which runs into the reservoir. Dotson, who could not swim, reportedly stepped off the end of the roadway into a deep hole and was caught by a swift current.

Dotson's brother-in-law went in after him and was able to hold him up while the current carried them about one-fourth mile downstream, where he lost hold of Dotson. He was unable to find Dotson again though he made repeated dives looking for him.

Jerome County sheriff's officers and volunteers — up to 11 boats at one time — searched the area until midnight Sunday, when Sheriff Elza Hall called off the search for fear of losing someone else.

Divers Butch and Harlan Fillmore, Twin Falls, began diving this morning in search of Dotson. A full ground search is being made.

Hall said the accident occurred about 7 p.m. Sunday. He said information is sketchy since Dotson's brother-in-law was suffering from shock and was not able to tell authorities much about the accident.

Dotson is an employee of Longview Fiber Co., Twin Falls, where he works as a corrugator-fallor. He was born in Fayetteville, Ark.

No sign of bad illness before prisoner died, sheriff says

TWIN FALLS — There was no indication that Everett Bohrn, who died Friday morning in the county jail, was seriously ill prior to his death, Sheriff Paul Corder said today.

He said the man only appeared to be intoxicated. Bohrn, 49, toppled from his bunk in his jail cell about 10:50 a.m. Friday and was observed to be dead about five minutes later by Sheriff Corder after he was called to the fourth floor cellblock by a deputy who had been alerted by Bohrn's fellow prisoners.

Corder, who is officially deputy coconre, was filling in for Coroner Cloyd Edwards, who was out of town Friday.

Corder said Bohrn was arrested for being drunk in public by Twin Falls police officers Thursday morning and transferred to the county jail about 11 a.m.

He said a report Sunday in the Times-News that Bohrn had not been booked into the county jail was an error. He displayed a booking sheet which bore a shaky signature in the name of the dead man.

Corder said Bohrn was too intoxicated to be arraigned Thursday. He said it was the responsibility of city officers to take him to arraignment. A check with city police determined that the delay in arraignment was not unusual in cases of drunkenness. Sheriff Corder said he didn't think a man on duty in the cellblock area could have prevented Bohrn's death.

Coroner Edwards said today that following an autopsy Bohrn's death was blamed on liver failure. He said Bohrn was a chronic alcoholic.

Mixup hampers Skylab

HOUSTON (UPI) — Ground controllers said today a computer mixup was responsible for problems with Skylab's orbital stabilization system and there was nothing wrong with the vital apparatus itself.

Alan L. Bean, Owen K. Garriott and Jack R. Lousma performed more basic space research today as they entered their third week in the big lab, including testing of a one-man flying machine that may aid future astronauts.

Three of Skylab's eight working stabilization gyroscopes quit functioning Sunday, and the crew tried a number of maneuvers to make them work properly.

Spacecraft communicator Bruce McCandless said apparently the computer that is programmed to keep the gyros working right was confused by the astronauts' manual efforts to make the system work again.

The problem arose basically from the fact that the software (computer) was unable to cope with the situation, McCandless told the crew in a lengthy, detailed conversation. The gyros were really a result of this situation and were not the underlying problem.

Bean replied that he had thought to himself when the gyros misbehaved: "I wonder if it really knows what it's doing?"

Mission control spoke of a possible unscheduled spacewalk to fix the problem since the astronauts carry extra gyros aboard, but that alternative was avoided.

"It doesn't particularly have us worried," Flight Director Charles Lewis said of the gyro problem. "If we lost all the gyros in an axis or we were down to one that was not reliable, at that point we would start thinking about an EVA (spacewalk)."

Bean had four hours set aside to run the first zero-gravity test of the Astronaut Maneuvering Unit (AMU), wearing the contraption on his back like a camper setting out on a hike.

The AMU has a propellant tank and its own stabilization system. The schedule called for Bean to maneuver himself about the 21-by-20 foot experiment compartment by hand-operated thrusters.

He was to evaluate how an apparatus like the AMU might be improved for use by astronauts working outside a spacecraft.

It was an experiment that might someday make the problems like the gyro trouble less serious in the future.

The gyros keep the giant ship stable in space and it needs at least one working gyro in each of its three axes in order to fly correctly.

One gyro has not worked in months and three more went out briefly Sunday. Engineers quickly restarted two failed gyros but that left only one working gyro in one of the axes — a workable but borderline situation.

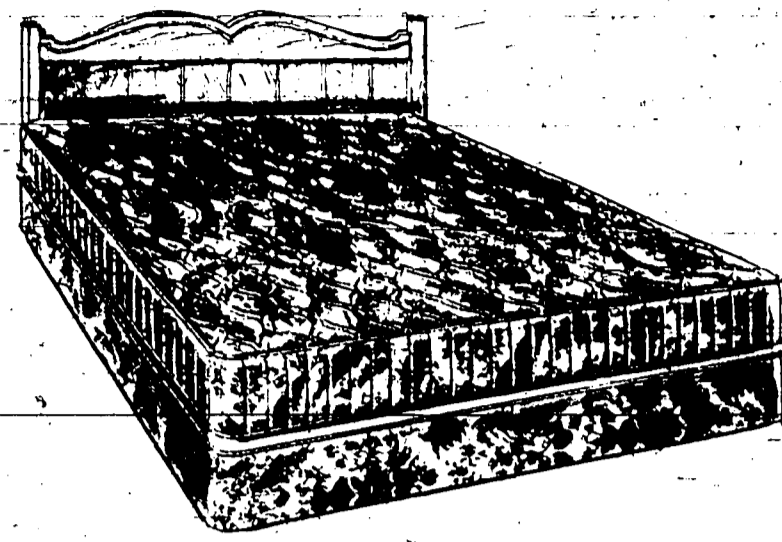

The engineers then figured out a system that harnessed the solo gyro to good gyros in the other axes.

"We're going to use these patches and see if they won't relieve the gyro problem," said Lewis.

Bean, Garriott and Lousma managed to complete their last earth resources photographs for three weeks taking detailed shots of the western United States and Latin American despite the gyro trouble.

Demo blames politics

WASHINGTON (UPI) — There are still unanswered questions about the secret American bombing campaign in Cambodia, but Sen. Harold Hughes, D-Iowa, believes he knows why it was kept quiet.

"I've been of the opinion all along that this concealment was a result of the American political environment rather than the Cambodian political environment," Hughes said last week shortly before the Senate Armed Services Committee recessed hearings into the issue.

He recalled the widespread antiwar demonstrations that followed President Nixon's announcement of the American invasion of Cambodia in the spring of 1970. The demonstrators complained the U.S. role in Indochina was being expanded. When Hughes made his observation about the domestic politics factor, Adm. Thomas Moorer, chairman of the joint chiefs of staff, replied, "I agree with you."

"Domestic politics was a key factor," Moorer said.

Former Chairman Earl G. Wheeler of the joint chiefs of staff testified the secrecy was not required for military purposes because the North Vietnamese knew they were being bombed.

The Pentagon said the secrecy was needed because the then Cambodian ruler, Prince Norodom Sihanouk, "acquiesced" to the bombing but wanted to maintain an outward appearance of neutrality. Sihanouk has since denied this.

The American bombing campaign in Cambodia is scheduled to end at midnight Tuesday.

It began in deepest secrecy almost 53 months ago—the spring of 1969, shortly after Nixon took office and 14 months before he ordered U.S. ground troops into the supposedly neutral country. During those 14 months, U.S. B52 bombers flew 3,630 missions in Cambodia, dropping 103,921 tons of bombs. The raids were reported as having occurred in South Vietnam.

It was one of the best kept secrets of the Indochina war. Even Air Force Secretary Robert Seamans did not know, the startled Senate committee members were told during their probe. The Pentagon lied to Congress and the public until one month ago.

Solons doubt Nixon ousting

(c) Chicago Sun-Times
CHICAGO — State legislators attending the National Legislative Conference meeting here indicate belief that President Nixon will not be impeached and should not be impeached, based on current watergate and related revelations.

When asked whether Nixon should be impeached if allegations against him are found to be true, several delegates to the nationwide meeting that ended this weekend thought impeachment was proper.

Rep. Peter X. Fungina, Minnesota Democrat, said the President should step down if found guilty of the charges against him, explaining, "A man in public office should step out if he violates the public trust. I think he would have outlived his usefulness (as public official)."

Fungina added, however, "I very much doubt he will be impeached, based on the evidence so far."

Rep. Charlotte White, Maine Republican, could not foresee Nixon being impeached.

"It will be shown that things are not quite as bad as they appear to be," she said. "I believe he will be exonerated of his charges."

State Sen. Jack Hightower, Texas Democrat, also felt the evidence is now insufficient to warrant impeachment.

"But if the president is found guilty of a serious crime," Hightower said, "action will have to be taken. I think that event is extremely unlikely."

Rep. Richard Pacheco, Arizona Democrat, didn't think anyone could decide on impeachment based on the information available now.

"I think the facts will come out in the next six months," he said. "President Nixon should be given a fair chance to speak for himself. I think he should address the committee in person and clear up the issue."

"I think this is an extraordinary constitutional crisis and it needs an extraordinary constitutional remedy," replied Rep. David Neiditz, a Democrat from Connecticut.

Given possibility that the President is found to be illegally involved, Neiditz thought "President Nixon should resign and a constitutional amendment passed to hold a special election to find man to finish the term."

"The American people do not want to see their President impeached," said Illinois House Speaker W. Robert Blair, a Republican.

All of the legislators questioned said their constituents were still interested in the hearings and the American people were interested in all the truth before they would consider the issue of impeachment.

Buffalo bazaar

SAN FRANCISCO (UPI) — A major supermarket chain is offering a giant sale on buffalo meat today in the San Francisco Bay area.

In the Shasta County community of Anderson, Calif., however, a country meat market has already done that with a weekend bazaar that saw 100 customers lined up to purchase the bison cuts.

Cala Food Stores, which operates 20 outlets in the bay area, said buffalo steaks, roasts and ground meat will be offered for sale today at prices "probably a little higher than beef." The chain hopes the buffalo meat will last until the beef price freeze ends Sept. 12.

McGovern says reform possible

WASHINGTON (UPI) — Sen. George McGovern believes that if he had defeated President Nixon last November the Watergate cover-up might have continued indefinitely.

McGovern, writing in an article published Sunday in the Washington Post, said he "wondered whether all the facts could ever have come out under a Democratic administration?"

"The unravelling of the whole White House tangle of involvement has come about largely by a series of fortuitous events, many of them unlikely in a different political context," McGovern wrote.

"Without these events, the cover-up might have continued indefinitely, even if a Democratic administration vigorously pursued the truth."

The South Dakota Democrat said it might be important that he lost so overwhelmingly because Nixon's re-election and the Watergate scandal have compelled the country to reexamine the electoral process.

He said this examination "may lead to a reassertion of our political ideals" and "may return an essential sense of perspective to our public debate."

"In the wake of Watergate may come more honest and thorough campaign reform than in the aftermath of a successful presidential campaign which stood for such reform," McGovern wrote.

Peron fights again

BUENOS AIRES (UPI) — Juan D. Peron and an old political rival, Ricardo Balbin, will square off next month in a repeat of the battle for president they fought 22 years ago.

Peron, 77, the symbol of Latin American strongman rule, was considered a cinch to again defeat Balbin, 69. A Peron victory would return to him the leadership of Argentina he lost 18 years ago in a military coup.

Peron, who defeated Balbin in 1951, accepted the presidential nomination of his

Justicialist party Saturday. Balbin was nominated Sunday by the Radical Civic Union

Parents complain to police

DR. RALPH ABERNATHY, president of the Southern Christian Leadership Conference (SCLC) has suspended the western branch of the civil rights organization. HOUSTON (UPI) — Parents of teen-age boys tortured and killed by a homosexual bachelor and his two companions are upset at the way police investigated their sons' disappearances.

Police Chief Herman Short called a news conference today to explain the police's side of the controversy.

At least seven of the victims are believed to be from an area of northwest Houston called The Heights. The seven children all apparently knew each other.

Elmer Wayne Henley, 17, who has admitted taking part in the deaths of the 23 victims whose bodies were recovered prior to the resumption of digging operations today, also lived in The Heights.

The neighborhood parents believe the police should have thought something was wrong when a large number of Heights' teen-age boys began turning up missing two years ago.

Selma Winkle told police two years ago her son, Gregory Malley Winkle, left home to go swimming and never returned. She said working with the police on her son's disappearance was like "talking to a blank wall." Her son is believed to be one of the victims.

Mrs. Winkle said her son had 80 cents and was wearing a bathing suit the day he left home. "You don't run away with nothing but a bathing suit and 80 cents," she said.

Winkle and David Helligeist, who went swimming that day with Winkle, were the first two teen-age boys from The Heights reported missing.

"If all these children were reported missing in this area, we couldn't understand why (the police) didn't do anything," Dorothy Helligeist said.

Mrs. Helligeist and Mrs. Winkle said police were "uncooperative" when they reported their sons missing. W.T. Scott, whose son disappeared 16 months ago, said he was "rudely treated" when he called police last week to see if his son was one of the victims. Scott said the police never notified him his son might have been one of the bodies recovered.

"I didn't appreciate having to look in the newspaper to find out my son was dead," Scott said. "I felt like the police were saying 'We can't mess with one father because we've got too many bodies.'"

N.M. search called off

ALBUQUERQUE, N. M. (UPI) — The ground-air search for a small boy believed lost in the mountains of Central New Mexico has been called off. Officials say there were never certain the radioed "distress" calls were legitimate.

"We have not come up with any information that is definite enough to say that there actually is someone out there and where this person might be," State Police Chief Martin Vigil said Sunday.

Just in case, he said, four directional finding stations were established in the area to listen for any further signal and pinpoint its location.

The boy's calls for help, often tearful and incoherent, were first reported Tuesday by a California citizens band operator. Since then operators across the nation and in Canada have reported hearing the boy.

The voice said his name was Larry and that he was seven years old. He said his father was dead or seriously injured in a pickup truck accident. He did not know where he was.

"There is the real possibility that this whole thing was a hoax," CIVIL AIR PATROL coordinator Lawrence Marshall said Sunday. "But there is also the possibility there had been some real distress calls."

It was on this logic that a search was mounted. More than 30 civilian and military aircraft carrying some of the most sophisticated radio-tracking devices.

Escape injuries

THE DRIVER and 28 children escaped with only minor injuries Sunday morning when this chartered church bus went out of control and hit a utility pole in far northeast Oklahoma City. The children, ranging in age from 9 to 17, had been picked up at their homes in the Luther-Jones area and were on their way to services at the First Assembly of God Church, Oklahoma City. (UPI)

Agnew named in accusations

NEW YORK (UPI) — Two construction consultants from Maryland who profited from government contracts have accused Vice President Spiro T. Agnew of extorting campaign contributions from them, Time Magazine reported Sunday.

Agnew is under investigation by federal prosecutors in Baltimore who are looking into allegations of extortion, tax evasion, bribery and conspiracy. Agnew has not been charged.

Time said the two are presumably being forced by the government to testify against Agnew to save themselves since the two businessmen themselves are believed to be deeply involved in the payoff scandal.

In another report, Newsweek Magazine said President Nixon knew of the federal investigation of Agnew as early as February. Newsweek said Richard Kleindienst, who was then attorney general, was told by Baltimore U.S. Attorney George Beall about the investigation and he passed the word on to the White House early this year.

The Time report identified the two businessmen helping the government build its case as Jerome Wolf, 55, president of Greiner Environmental Systems, Inc., an affiliate of one of Maryland's biggest construction consulting firms, and Lester Matz, 49, partner in Matz, Childs and Associates, another Maryland construction consulting firm.

RNC puts claim on surplus funds

WASHINGTON (UPI) — The campaign financing of President Nixon's last two campaigns is "troubling the heck out of" many GOP donors, according to Republican National Committee (RNC) chairman George Bush.

They are bothered, he said in a UPI "Washington Window" interview Sunday, because the RNC rescued the campaign committee from what it was told was a large deficit after the 1968 campaign—only to find out later the committee actually had a $2.5 million surplus.

Bush said he wants to get back whatever money is left from the Committee to Re-elect the President (CRP)—after the 1972 bills are paid, and lawsuits resulting from the Watergate break-in are settled.

"I want to be right up at the head of the line," the former United Nations ambassador said. "We've picked up every deficit for a campaign in the past, and if there happens to be any surplus left after the vultures have descended on that money, I'd like to have it."

The existence of a surplus was confirmed in testimony July 17 before the Senate Watergate Committee by Herbert Kalmbach, who as Nixon's personal lawyer had custody of the money between the 1968 and 1972 election campaigns. Kalmbach said it consisted of $1.9 million in cash and $570,000 in a checking account.

Another witness, H.R. Halderman, former White House chief of staff, confirmed that in 1970 he approved channeling $400,000 of the money to help finance Alabama Gov. George C. Wallace's opponent in the state Democratic gubernatorial primary.

Mekong Delta attack heavy

SAIGON (UPI) — South Vietnamese military sources today reported 21 government militiamen missing after a heavy Communist attack Sunday in the Mekong Delta, 105 miles southwest of Saigon.

The sources also reported more fighting Sunday for a key portion of coastal Highway 1 on the Binh Dinh-Quang Ngai province border, 299 miles north of the capital.

A government spokesman said Communists also shelled and attacked a ranger position northeast of Pleiku in the Central Highlands, killing two rangers and wounding 17.

In the Delta fighting, the military sources said a Regional Forces company four miles southeast of Kien Binh was attacked Sunday night by a large force of Communists.

The sources said the militia carried out a "strategic withdrawal" from their post to a nearby pagoda. At the end of the attack the sources said 21 militiamen and 18 weapons were missing. There was no report of government or Communist casualties.

The sources said the missing men included an officer but his rank was not known.

Salmon man said guilty

MOUNTAIN HOME, Idaho (UPI) — A 12-member jury returned a verdict of guilty against Edmund L. Gutzman, 34, Salmon, Idaho, who was charged with armed robbery in connection with a February incident at the E-Z Shop in Mountain Home. Sentencing is scheduled for Sept. 17 in District Court.

Kissinger queried

WASHINGTON (UPI) — Henry A. Kissinger said Sunday he was "not familiar" with reports the United States had been asked to help remove President Lon Nol and install Prince Norodom Sihanouk as chief of state in Cambodia.

Kissinger, President Nixon's national security affairs adviser, was asked to comment on reports from Phnom Penh which said high-ranking members of the government had asked the Nixon administration to arrange for Lon Nol's removal in favor of Sihanouk, who has been in exile in Peking since 1970.

"I'm not familiar with anything like that," Kissinger told UPI in a telephone interview from his White House office. "I'm not familiar with any major new developments at this point."

Kissinger said the reports do not "seem to be true."

The President's chief foreign policy adviser also said he knew of no new communications that Sihanouk might have sent Senate Democratic leader Mike Mansfield Saturday. It was reported that Sihanouk sent Mansfield a cable saying the prime condition for peace in Cambodia was an end to all U.S. interference there.

"I'm in frequent contact with Sen. Mansfield," Kissinger said. "I have found the senator is always meticulous about keeping us informed. I mean that sincerely. We have not heard from Mansfield, and if he had received such a cable, he would have called me."

Kissinger was asked when he might make another trip to China where it would be possible for him to meet with Sihanouk.

"I haven't got the date set," Kissinger said. "As soon as I have, we'll announce it."

Kissinger had been expected to go to China early this month, but the trip was postponed indefinitely without official explanation.

Abby

Abigail Van Buren

DEAR ABBY: Phil and I were married for two years, and I thought we had a great marriage. He was 23 and I was 25.

Then Phil went back to college full time, while I worked and paid the bills. (I'm a surgical nurse.) It was working out fine until Phil became more than casually involved with a female classmate, and in a sequence of events they were both kicked out of school. (He had stolen a test and they were both caught in possession of it.)

Phil then transferred to another school. The girl also transferred with him. By the way, she's 21, divorced, and has a child.

I demanded a showdown and Phil said he "loved" us both and couldn't decide between her or me.

My pride was hurt, so I locked him out, and now, of course, he is seeing her.

I still love him and regret locking him out. I don't want to lose him, but I couldn't take his running from her to me. Please tell me how to get him back. SORRY

DEAR SORRY: You could swallow what's left of your pride and ask Phil to reconsider, but after locking him out, I'd say you blew it.

DEAR ABBY: I am a working girl, 19, and I live at home. I have several younger brothers and sisters, and it is really sad to find that someone in your own family steals. That is my problem; and I don't know which one it is.

I have hidden my purse in my bowling bag, underneath my clothes in drawers, and even far back in my closet, but someone always finds it and helps themselves to some money. I have missed 5s, 10s, and even $20 bills. (They never take it all.)

How can I find out who is guilty? DISGUSTED

DEAR DISGUSTED: I know of no "traps" you can set, although I'm sure there are many. Why don't you put a lock on a drawer (or closet) and wear the key around your neck on a chain?

DEAR ABBY: I get so riled up when I read those pathetic letters signed, "Neglected Mother," or "Forgotten Father." They are from old folks who are not wanted by their children. Abby, I wonder if they have ever stopped to ask themselves why?

One day, many years ago, I came home from work and found my four children watching TV. When I poked my head into the room, they didn't even say hello. I was hurt and angry. Then I said to myself: "You fool! If you can't make yourself more interesting than that damned TV set, it's your own fault."

I admit, I used a bit of bribery in the form of peppermint candy and a few minor toys, but within a few days when I entered the house, there were hoots and hollers: "Daddy's home!"

Old people should consider that their loneliness could be caused by themselves. Many are excused for being difficult because of their age. Why? No one has a right to be difficult whether he be young or old. Old age doesn't give one the license to complain all the time (we all have troubles), to talk all the time and reminisce too much (other people like to talk about themselves, too), or to expect constant attention.

Old people should make an effort to be good company. They should also have a hobby, so they can enjoy being alone.

I am 60 years of age, and if I grow old and nobody comes to see me, I hope I am wise enough to realize it's 99 per cent my own fault. CHARLIE IN ROME

DEAR CHARLIE: Loneliness for you? I'll bet against it.

CONFIDENTIAL TO "WORKING GIRL IN OMAHA": If you are one of the "working girls" heaven is supposed to protect, heaven help the poor fellow for whom you are working.

South makes all the tricks.

Jim: Sonny's story was that he was called to the phone as the hand was being dealt and got back to find that Jackie had picked up his hand and bid to six spades. He wanted to play but the opponents insisted that since Jackie had bid it she had to play it.

Oswald: Jackie won the heart lead and led a low heart at trick two. The best West could do was to ruff with the three spade. Jackie overruffed with the five drew trumps and had 12 tricks in spite of the bad diamond break. Her play only worked because East held the 9-8-6 of spades, but it worked which is what counts when the score is added up.

By Oswald & James Jacoby

Oswald: Sonny's story was similar to us in that when he got married he got the better of the deal Jackie, his wife, played fairly good bridge, but Sonny wrote many articles describing some outrageous play by Jackie.

Jim: Jackie probably would have killed him if it weren't for the fact that her outrageous play always worked.

Oswald: The correct play of today's slam is for South to win the heart lead, draw trumps and go after diamonds. Assuming the suit breaks 4-2,

Book Review

TWIN FALLS — Twin Falls Public Library officials have released mini-reviews for some of the new books recently received by the library.

"People in Glass Houses" by Shirley Hazard. The author explores the lives of a handful of inhabitants of this inbred world, exposing the heroics, antics and private tragedies.

"The Bloody Field" by Edith Parteger. A historical novel that brings real figures back from the royal toms and the scrolls of history.

"Buffalo Bill: The Noblest Whiteman" by John Burke. This is Cody in his long johns, breakfasting on a tumbler of rye, as well as Buffalo Bill in full regalia riding into a packed arena.

"The Testament of Theophilus" by Leonard Wibberly. Born a slave, Theophilus has risen high. Here is a colorful, panoramic narrative of the Roman empire.

"Kissinger: Portrait of a Mind" by Stephen R. Graubard. This is more than a study of a powerful intellect or of an intellectual coming to power.

"All Under Heaven" by Pearl Buck. A novel of an American who returns home from a diplomatic career when the Communists take over.

"The Great American Novel" by Philip Roth. A novel as dense as a Bruegel painting with graphically drawn figures rushing to and fro across the American landscape.

"Explorers of the Brain" by Leonard Stevens. The first historical narrative of the long and difficult effort to understand the brain and nervous system function, and how they control life, thought and personality.

"Coming Home" by George Davis. A raw and powerful novel about three fighter pilots in Thailand.

"Two, Three Many More" by Nicholas Van Hoffman. A novel of student revolution at a great American university that offers an urgent message and a warning.

Giants nip Boston 13-7 in exhibition

FOXBORO, Mass. (UPI) — two field goals Sunday night as the New York Giants slipped to the New England Patriots, 13-7, in a National Football League exhibition game.

Snead, who missed most of last season with a leg injury, capped a 10-play, 60-yard drive at 11:58 of the third period with a nine-yard strike to Ballman, who was alone in the right corner of the end zone. Snead completed five passes without a miss in the drive.

The touchdown, which staked New York to a 13-0 lead, proved important after New England scored on a one-yard plunge by Paul Gipson early in the fourth quarter.

The Giants took a 3-0 lead at 8:27 of the first period on Gogolak's 12-yard field goal, finishing a 10-play, 73-yard drive. Key play in the march was a 47-yard pass from starting quarterback Randy Johnson to Rich Houston.

The Giants, who lost the Schaefer Stadium opener here two years ago to the Pats, took a 6-0 lead into the second period on Gogolak's 35-yard boot. Vin Clements, a rookie from the University of Connecticut, logged the ball twice for 34 yards and caught a seven-yard pass from Johnson in the 60-yard drive.

After the Giants had bolstered their lead with the Snead to Ballman score, New England marched 48 yards in six plays. Newly-acquired Mack Herron rumbled 50 yards with a Brad Van Pelt punt to set up the score.

New England was doubly aided in the drive by an offside call on a short Bill Bell field goal attempt that resulted in a first down on the New York 33 and a pass interference call that moved the ball 31 yards to the two. Two plays later, Gipson swung right, against the flow, for a one-yard score.

CHAMPION Jack Nicklaus watches a putt drop during the final round of the PGA tournament victory that made him golf's all-time major tournament champion. (UPI telephoto).

Nicklaus hopes he's not asterisk-ridden

CLEVELAND (UPI) — Jack Nicklaus has golf's greatest record and he hopes the record keepers won't place an asterisk against his name.

When Nicklaus won the PGA National at Canterbury Sunday he chalked up his 14th major championship victory to surpass by one the old mark he shared with the legendary Bobby Jones, the man who gave the nation the Masters tournament in Augusta.

"Fourteen is just a number," Nicklaus said. "But I hope they don't put an asterisk against my name as they've done with Henry Aaron."

"Poor Roger Maris, Henry Aaron and me," the 33-year-old superstar laughed when he thought about it, but turning serious, he said: "Jones and I played in different times. We played against different people. Bobby won his titles in quick time. There is no knowing what he could have achieved had he played for a lengthy period. But there is no real point in comparing stroke averages, money won and the like. The courses are different and the game is different today from his time."

Nicklaus, who has only played 15 tournaments this year, was adamant he will continue to play "for a long time." But to suggestions he was in a slump, he said: "I've won five times and been in the top six a total of 12 times. Is that a slump?"

Nicklaus said "it is too early" when asked how he felt about reaching No. 14. "I guess it will sink in during the next few days, but now I want to go home and do whatever the kids want to do."

Asked if he believed No. 14 would come to him in time following five straight setbacks since his U.S. Open victory last year, Nicklaus said: "I never believe anything will ever come. You've got to make it happen."

Nicklaus said he believed he could win from the moment he arrived at Canterbury. "If I could play solid, aggressive golf. You can't be timid here and lay back, otherwise you leave yourself 40-footers and that usually means a few threeputts."

The champion said he did not deliberately "change his formula" of missing the preceding four events to get in casual practice. "I was defending champion at Westchester last week and had to play."

Idaho misses out

WESTFIELD, Ohio — All three of Idaho's representatives to the national pro-am tournament missed the cut with leader Gary Duncan losing out on the last two rounds in a playoff.

Duncan, who appeared in good shape with a 75 Saturday, carded a 78 to lock with 10 others at the cutoff point. But he was defeated in the playoff. Meanwhile, Bruce McNee of Twin Falls was 83-78 — 161 and Jeff Higham, Shelley, fired 84-80 — 164.

Duncan ran into trouble with an early tee-off time following a night of rain. The softened course caused his approach shots to come up short and by the time he adjusted, he had lost four strokes to par.

However, as one of the "near misses," he will spend the final two days in the tournament and will caddy for PGA tour pro Jim Colbert.

Poky ends Legion reign by Lewiston

NAMPA (UPI) — Lewis-Clark Twins for the first time in the past 13 years are not the Idaho State American Legion champions. That honor belongs to Pocatello following a 4-3 victory over the Northstars Sunday.

Pocatello first baseman Shawn Jenkins, as he did in Pocatello's 5-4 extra inning victory over the Twin Friday, had too big a bat for the Twins once again.

Leading 1-0 in the sixth inning, Lewis-Clark pitcher Dave Hedi gave up a double to Bob Sherwood and a homerun to Jenkins. Lewiston came back with two runs in the eighth inning thanks to four Pocatello walks and two sacrifice flies.

The game was tied 3-3 in the eighth inning when Jenkins again came through for Pocatello.

After a walk to John Knoff, Jenkins moved him to third with a single off the right field wall. Kirk Bybee then drove home Knoff with a sacrifice fly to left field.

In Lewis-Clark's last at bat, Pocatello pitcher Tom Williams struck out the first two men, walked the third man and then got Twin clean-up hitter Jim Dompier to fly out deep to center field to end the game and the Twins' 12 year domination.

The win moves Pocatello into the regional tournament in Caldwell Aug. 22-26.

Lozares has Treasure Valley win

CALDWELL (UPI) — Brad Lozares of Saratoga Calif., frittered away his lead Sunday but made a comeback to win the fifth annual Treasure Valley open golf tournament with a 72-hole total of 277, seven strokes under par.

Sharing runner up honors one stroke back were Bob Duden of Portland, Ore., who won the crown in both 1970 and 1971, and Tom Storey, of Las Vegas, Nev.

Each hit a 69 Sunday for a final 278, while Lozares was posting a 72.

A strong fourth place finisher at 279 was Chuck Milne of Salem, Ore., after a final round 70 and one place back was Charles Green of Ventura, Calif., with a final round 73 for 281.

Next at 282 was Glenn McMin of Scottsdale, Ariz., and Bill Feil of Los Angeles while Ken Sparks of Nampa finished at 283.

The low amateur was nationally famed calf roper Dean Oliver of Boise with 287. He carded a 75 Sunday over the par 71 Purple Sage course.

First Federal-Shuffle repeats as district slowpitch champ

First Federal-Shuffle Inn, backed to the limit by rallying Depot Grill-Turf Club, won its second straight district slowpitch softball title Sunday night and will open defense of its state crown Friday evening at Lewiston.

First Federal-Shuffle topped Depot Grill 7-3 in the extra session championship game after Depot-Turf had pinned the first loss of the tournament on the champs in a rollicking 13-6 laughter-an-hour earlier. Paris-Culligan-Bank and Trust grabbed the third state tournament spot available to this district when it eliminated Western Auto of Jerome in the first game Sunday afternoon and then bowed 8-7 to Depot-Turf.

First Federal picked up the edge over Depot-Turf in the second inning of the final game on four consecutive hits worth three runs. Rusty Eller cracked a solo homer in the third but it was closed, Depot-Turf cashing in two errors for two runs, going into the last inning.

The champs iced it when, with two away, Gary Quessnell and Rusty Eller came up with hits and Mike Florence drove both in. Depot-Turf came back for a run on Rick Semba's hit in the seventh but died with two men on.

In the first meeting, Depot-Turf mounted a big lead and coasted home. In the second, Steve McClain, Alan Rowa and Tim Soran singled with one scoring on Dave Frazier's bounce that was erred. Mike Govia's fielder's choice scored another and Semba logged out an infield hit for the third. Rick Cook scored in the third on Rick Spriggs' sacrifice fly and Depot-Turf moved well away in the fourth when Cooke's grounder was erred to let in two runs and Spriggs singled in Cooke.

Biggest bang for First Federal-Shuffle in the opener were homers by Eller and Jim Bianchi.

Nicklaus wins PGA and 14th major golf tourney

CLEVELAND (UPI) — Jack Nicklaus became golf's all-time leading winner of major championships when he won the PGA by a record-tying margin for the third time Sunday, but it took a loser to put things in perspective. "It took the best in the world again to beat me in a major championship," said runnerup Bruce Crampton, and no one was going to argue with him. "It's very difficult," Crampton went on, "to beat the best player in the world when he doesn't make a mistake. Nicklaus didn't make a mistake, either. He hit every green, shot a two-under par 69, and finished with a 72-hole total of 277, seven under. Crampton, runnerup the last three times Nicklaus has won a major championship, was at 281 after an 18th-hole birdie for a 70. Crampton said he enjoyed "being in on history" but Nicklaus, who has been trying to win his 14th major title for a year and a half, said that was being a little too dramatic. "Fourteen is just a number," said Nicklaus, who surpassed the legendary Bobby Jones and ended doubts that his tremendous success may have killed his desire. "Bobby Jones won his in a much shorter period of time, so there's no telling how many he might have won," Nicklaus said. "It's bordering on the unbelievable," said Crampton, "that a man still so young, in his early 30's, could have won

ST. LOUIS (UPI) — Doubles by Bobby Tolan and Pete Rose sparked a five-run second inning for Cincinnati Sunday as the Reds beat St. Louis, 7-3, for the Cardinals' seventh straight loss. NEW YORK (UPI) — Overcoming an 11-5 deficit with six runs in the seventh and two in the eighth, the Oakland A's scored a 13-12 victory over the New York Yankees Sunday and moved to within one game of the division leading Kansas City Royals. The Yankees had knocked Ken Holtzman and Paul Sinden around for 11 runs and 15 hits in six innings but the A's rallied off Sam McDowell and Sparky Lyle in the seventh when the Yankee defense collapsed.

SAN DIEGO (UPI) — Dave Roberts slammed a bases-empty home run with one out in the bottom of the 10th inning Sunday to give the San Diego Padres a 4-3 win over Montreal after the Expos had won the opener of the twinbill, 2-0. The split moved the Expos within three games of first-place St. Louis in the National League East.

CARL RAY, Shoshone, presents the book "Six Decades Back" by the late Charles S. Walgamott, to Shoshone City Librarian, Mrs. Marx Nielsen. The book had belonged to Ray's brother, the late Rem Ray, and family members had given it to the Shoshone man.

Presents volume

Historical book given to library at Shoshone

SHOSHONE — A gift of the book "Six Decades Back" by Charles S. Walgamott has been made to the Shoshone City Library by Carl Ray, Shoshone.

This is one of a few copies of this publication, considered rare and valuable, a series of historical sketches of early days in Idaho, particularly the area in and around Magic Valley.

In giving the book to the library, Mr. Ray told librarian, Mrs. Marx Nielsen, that he felt it would be better preserved and put to use there than in his exclusive possession.

The book was a recent gift to him from the family of his late brother, Rem Ray.

Mrs. Nielsen explains that due to the value of the book, it cannot be let out of the library, but anyone may visit the library and read it there.

Even the chapter titles are enticing to a reader, with such topics as "A Day's Hunt with Indian Tom," "The Legend of Redfish Lake," "The Massacre of Almo Creek," "When Gunmen Died with Their Boots On," page 181, tells a story about the grandfather of Shoshone-present day resident, Al Butterfield.

There are picture illustrations of buffalo herds, old Rock Creek station, "big game of 50 years ago," "first hotel of Shoshone Falls and many more.

The fly page of the book contains the simple statement: "Falling in Love with Idaho," while the epilogue lists names of communities, their origin and meaning.

An example is "The name Shoshone comes from the true Indian word 'Shawnt,' abundance, and 'Shawnip,' grass, which was changed to the name Shoshone and in English conveys the thought of plenty of grass.

Helen Ray, wife of Rem Ray, has recently been quoted in a story entitled "Truly Western" in the magazine True West. She tells in some length about Chief Willie George and his tribal rule.

She said in 1955 she met Willie George when she and her husband accompanied a gift load of clothing and cans of salmon to the Shoshone Indian tribe. As a reward she said, a beautiful parade was staged for them and after the peace pipe was passed, "just like Lewis and Clark days" she was called forward and surprised to be adopted into the tribe.

The name given her was Bu-he-don-ze-up, meaning Green Flower of the Shoshone. Mrs. Ray treasures the feather that was then placed in her hair. She now lives in Oklahoma.

Carl Ray said he is a native of Idaho, having been born in Weiser and had lived in Rupert for a time prior to moving to Shoshone in 1967. He spent from 1932 to 1967 in New York state where he worked for the department of education.

Shoshone worried over dog damage

SHOSHONE — Mayor Ellwood Werry expresses concern over damage being done by dogs running loose in Shoshone.

Werry said specifically, persons in the northwest section of the city are complaining about dogs

The mayor advises that large dogs should be penned at night as they can cause extensive damage when allowed to run.

Shoshone has no leash law, but owners of dogs are asked to be responsible for their animals.

Bad luck

SAN DIEGO (UPI) — A 15-year-old broke into the home of David W. Raitt.

Police said he cut his hand braking a window and was scented by a dog that barked. That frightened him into dropping a record player. The noise produced by that alerted a neighbor, who took his pistol and chased the boy.

In the chase, the youth lost his sneakers. He was so occupied looking behind at the pistol-waving pursuer that he ran full tilt into a parked car, breaking his nose and hurting his knee.

The neighbor, Robert L. Williams, caught up with him and whacked him on the head with the pistol. The boy broke free and vaulted a fence.

He landed in a pack of dogs. They nipped his buttocks and legs until police arrived.

Police would not reveal the boy's name because of his age.

Timber sale

SALMON (UPI) — Don Goodrich, branch chief in charge of timber management, announced Saturday the Salmon National Forest plans to sell 31.83 million board feet of timber in fiscal 1974.

Goodrich said about 18 million board feet or 57 per cent will be sold the first half of the year and the remainder the last half.

The timber sales goal for fiscal 1973 which ended June 30 was 35.1 million board feet but only 29.3 million board feet actually were sold.

Goodrich said another 21.7 million board feet were prepared for sale but could not be sold because the timber was in roadless areas.

Variety festival

KETCHUM — Two persons were listed in satisfactory condition this morning at Moritz Community Hospital after they were involved in a one vehicle accident Saturday night in Ketchum.

According to the Ketchum Police Department, injured were the driver of the vehicle, Jim George Grove, 24, Ketchum, and a passenger, Jolene Fontaine, 20, Boise.

Officers said the accident occurred about 10:30 p.m. on Richey Drive near its intersection with Jane Lane. The Grove vehicle had been heading south on Richey Drive and failed to negotiate a curb. The vehicle went over an embankment on the left side of the roadway and came to rest on its side, officers said.

Corn brings crowd

BUHL — Fresh corn on the cob for two cents a pound!

The word is out around Buhl these days now that the annual fresh corn pack is underway at the Green Giant plant here.

One afternoon this weekend 18 cars and pickup trucks were parked to the side of the road near the entrance of the corn processing plant on the eastern outskirts of Buhl.

About fifty persons chatted in the hot mid-afternoon sun or beneath a few trees nearby, waiting.

Suddenly people grab for their gunny sacks and begin moving forward about 10 yards to wait in a rough semicircle as a tractor pulling a low wagon idles up.

The wagon is heaped with ears of corn just brought in from the fields surrounding Buhl.

As soon as the tractor's out of gear the scramble begins as each person seeks out the choicest ears for his own sack.

Those who don't have their own 100-pound capacity burlap sack can obtain a smaller paper sack from the driver who has taken up his post at the tractor's drawbar where he opens up a small cash box.

A paper sackful for 40 cents. Stuff your gunnysack for $2.

Most of the corn gatherers work in pairs, the wives reaching far out to the center of the heap for the ripe ears, while the husbands stand behind in a second layer attempting to stuff as many ears into their sacks as can fit.

"I've got 31 so far," one fellow says cheerily, and he still has room for a few more ears in his 40 cent sack.

It only takes about 10 minutes for about two thirds of the wagon load to land in sacks. By now a young girl is sitting astride the center of the pile handing out the best ears remaining.

Two elderly women can be seen struggling with their heavy sacks toward their car. A fat man can just barely carry his 40 cent sack that has nearly a two dollar load carefully piled high.

The annual event lasts until 8 each night during the packing season.

Too bad it wasn't meat on that wagon.

News of Servicemen

Butcher termed villain

(c) Chicago Sun-Times
CHICAGO — "You wouldn't believe what the customers do to my husband," the young butcher's wife says.

"They come sidling up and say, 'honey, you're the handsomest butcher here. You must have some steak somewhere.' Or, they holler at him and call him dirty names," because prices are high or there isn't a steak.

"One butcher I know got a roast thrown at him and some hot dogs, too.

"But it's not the butchers' fault. They can't lower the price and I'd just like to tell the butchers' side of the story," Sally said.

Sally is not her real name. She asked that she not be identified because she is scared.

"My husband was laid off (last spring) during the meat boycott just after our baby was born. Now he has a good job in another store and I'm scared he'd be fired again if anyone knew we had any complaints."

Sally, 23, and her husband, 26, live in a suburb with their baby and another child, 5. Her husband is a union member and likes his new job.

They're buying a home with a Federal Housing Administration loan and a 30-year mortgage.

"We live cheap, but it's a new home and we don't owe anything but the mortgage. Everything was beautiful until my husband got the ax," Sally said.

"When people boycott the stores, the companies don't lose a dime," she said. "It's the employees who suffer — the meat cutters and the butchers."

"I had to go back to work when my baby was 8 weeks old. I worked 40 hours a week, nights, as a key punch operator, because he was laid off."

I wish some of those rich women in the consumers' movement whose husbands make $75,000 a year had to break their fingernails on a punch machine for a living.

I know who some of them are in their fancy homes on the North Shore. They haven't got anything else to do but polish their fingernails and boycott," Sally said.

"We butchers' wives don't know what's going to happen from day to day. Every Saturday we wonder if our husbands will be working next week.

"We have to eat, too. One of my neighbors said to me, 'at least you get your meat free.'"

"I was so mad I could have hit her. We don't get it free. We pay the same price like anybody else.

The only advantage we have is that we can buy a big section and our husbands can cut it up at home. But anybody can do that.

Plan averts shutdown of six bankrupt railroads

(c) Newhouse News Service
WASHINGTON — Members of a House subcommittee, working with input from the Nixon administration and trustees of the Penn. Central, have reached general agreement on a method to plan restructuring of six bankrupt northeast railroads.

The compromise plan, "fairly well accepted" by the House Transportation Committee, is a planning structure which aims to avert a total rail shutdown. Unless it, or some other plan, is accepted by Congress, this seems inevitable.

Meanwhile, trustees of Penn. Central Railroad, the nation's largest, will submit their liquidation plan to a federal judge Oct. 1. It would take effect 30 days later unless the house subcommittee's plan, or another, is approved in Congress by that date.

However, the subcommittee's planning structure, while important, represents only the first of three areas the subcommittee must deal with. The stickiest area, where the money needed to maintain pared-down passenger and freight service will come from, will be examined when the subcommittee returns from a summer recess in September. Its staff has been requested to pull together a wealth of financial data on the rail situation.

The third area for consideration concerns 102,000 men and women who work for the six bankrupt railroads. Scaled-down service would mean fewer jobs, so some equitable solution acceptable to labor also is vexing the subcommittee.

The legislative vehicle currently on the inside track is sponsored by Rep. Dick Shoup, R-Mont., with bipartisan support from the two other Republicans and five Democrats on the subcommittee. It recently picked up backing from Republican Sens. James B. Pearson of Kansas and J. Glenn Beall of Maryland.

The two senators plan to offer the Shoup measure as an amendment to a bill the Commerce Committee, of which they are members, will bring to the floor in September. The Senate bill, sponsored by Sen. Vance Hartke, D-Ind., already has drawn threats of a presidential veto.

In its planning structure, the Shoup bill attempts to reach a compromise among the myriad of railroad legislation now a wash on Capitol Hill.

Dietrich school teacher exhibits 50 paintings

SHOSHONE — Latest display of talent at the Shoshone City Library is a collection of 50 water color paintings of Idaho birds by Mrs. Helen DeCoursey, Dietrich.

Mrs. DeCoursey is a third and fourth grade teacher at Dietrich and does the painting as a hobby. She said she does teach art to her classes, but is not specified as an art teacher there.

She is aiming at doing 250 Idaho bird paintings before she finishes this particular project.

She takes pictures of the birds, then goes indoors to do the actual work as water colors dry too fast outdoors, she points out.

It takes her from three to eight hours to do one of the paintings such as are on display at the library.

Mrs. DeCoursey taught school in Jerome four years, had lived in Homedale 20 years where she commuted to Wilder to teach for six years and also spent two years in California as a teacher.

She also does some oils and has some of Idaho scenery she displays in her own home.

Mrs. Marx Nielsen, librarian, urges all interested persons to visit the library and see the bird paintings.

FORECAST FOR TUESDAY, AUGUST 14, 1973

GENERAL TENDENCIES: Morning finds you able to be more direct in gaining personal wishes and you can better understand also what your friends want from you, but the afternoon and evening bring a sudden feeling you are not succeeding in reducing overall aims to a workable success, so adjust this.

ARIES (Mar. 21 to Apr. 19) Morning is fine for discussing whatever is uppermost on your mind with associates and getting good results. Be more willing later in the day to assist others with their problems. Forget own worries and show you are poised.

TAURUS (Apr. 20 to May 20) Handle public and credit affairs wisely and take care that another does not cause you to lose a good friend. Show sympathy and warmheartedness, although actions of others may puzzle you.

GEMINI (May 21 to June 21) Morning is best time to get out to new sites, meet with new contacts. Later you can handle those routine matters connected with your career. Study whatever can be educational for you. Think.

MOON CHILDREN (June 22 to July 21) Being very conscientious in handling duties in a firm is fine, but take care you do not run off on any tangents later. Get together with experts and become more efficient in your career work.

LEO (July 22 to Aug. 21) Take time to please an associate before you start work awaiting your attention. Listen to what bigwigs suggest for your advancement. Follow their leads wisely.

VIRGO (Aug. 22 to Sept. 22) You need to handle much work early before you tackle the problem of coming to a better understanding with an associate. Forget the fun side of your existence until all your work is behind you. Think constructively.

LIBRA (Sept. 23 to Oct. 23) Contact those whose ideas of fun are similar to yours and make appointments for social activities early. Then you can do the creative work you like. But you need recreation just at this time.

SCORPIO (Oct. 24 to Nov. 21) Make sure you get home in order and kin feeling happy before you leave for recreation. Do not spend more than you can afford. Purchase that new convenience for home and please mate.

SAGITTARIUS (Nov. 22 to Dec. 21) You can put through measures that will add appreciably to present income, so do just that before you discuss them with others. Then get into regular routines. Plan time for improving any real estate you may have.

CAPRICORN (Dec. 22 to Jan. 20) Morning is best for handling monetary matters. Then write letters and take care of any other necessary communication. Listen to what an expert has to say about making repairs to property. Get good ideas.

AQUARIUS (Jan. 21 to Feb. 19) First get your health improved, then you can tackle financial problems intelligently. Make appointments for the social early so you won't be disappointed in p.m. Dress in elegant style.

PISCES (Feb. 20 to Mar. 20) First make the right plans to gain your aims, then plow through with vim and vigor and you get fine results. Sit down with clever advisers and plan the future more intelligently. Show your true ability.

IF YOUR CHILD IS BORN TODAY — he or she will be one of those charming young people who will want to have many friends and be very active early in life, but in midstream will feel so disappointed with others that the recluses could emerge here. So be sure to teach moderation in all things while young and give as fine an education as possible, then your youngster can have a successful life. Also, right diet is important to overcome a frail body.

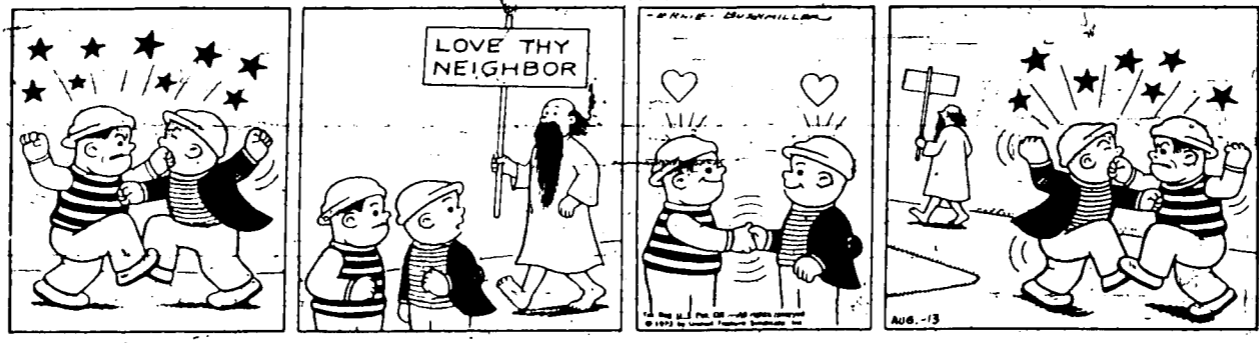

The stars impel, they do not compel. What you make of your life is largely up to YOU.

What's What

L. M. Boyd

When a bachelor meets a single girl, that thing called physical attraction is said to be what interests him most. Surprised? According to a professor at the University of Louisville, this average man rates said average girl as follows: About 40 per cent, simply sex appeal. About 15 per cent, her knack as a cook. About 15 per cent, her skill with money, if any. About 5 per cent, her sewing. About 15 per cent, her health. And about 10 per cent, whether her opinions match those of the discriminating fellow who makes these impertinent judgments.

The word "venerable" traces back to old Rome's love goddess Venus. A law in Maine requires school teachers to instruct elementary students for 10 minutes every day on how to be kind to animals. Penalty for killing a cat in old Egypt was death. Easiest car to steal, according to a professional auto thief, is the hardtop. That muscular fellow named Rudolph Nureyev wears see-through pantyhose.

JUSTICE DOUGLAS

Q. "What's the deal about Supreme Court Justice William O. Douglas almost becoming president?"

A. That's right, Douglas and Harry Truman were contenders for the vice-presidential nomination. Democratic National Chairman Bob Hannegan supported Truman. President Franklin D. Roosevelt said either would be satisfactory. But he told party friends that Truman ought not be considered if he'd passed 60. He ordered forth a Congressional Directory to check out the Missouri senator's age. However, Hannegan swiftly diverted FDR's attention, so that query went unanswered. In a letter dictated to the Convention later, Roosevelt said he thought either Douglas or Truman would be acceptable. But Hannegan intercepted that note, ordered it retyped with Truman's name first. Thus the Convention got the notion that Truman was FDR's first choice, so gave him the nomination.

IRISHMAN

Client asks the national origins of veteran actor J. Carroll Nash who died last January. An Irishman, he. Curiously, though, he was never cast on stage, screen or television as an Irishman, because, he said, he wasn't the type.

Was only 48 years ago that the word "sexy" was quoted as English slang in a French magazine, its first appearance in print ever.

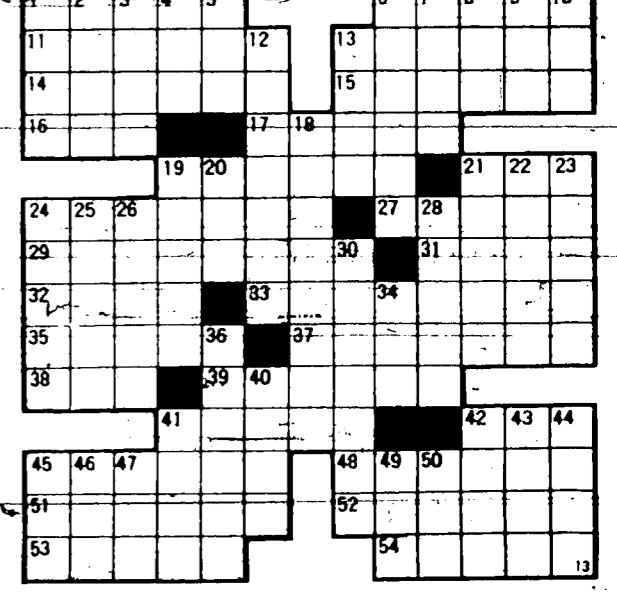

Tadpoles is one more nickname for the people of Mississippi. But how they came to be so called is not at all funny this year. They're tadpoles, it used to be said, because they live half their lives underwater.

It's wnt that job cried out, "Let the day perish wherein I was born." And numerous elderly citizens, particularly around Maryland, will tell you that's why no February 30 on our calendar job's birthday, they say.
