Major fires contained

By United Press International
An army of 10,000 firefighters today were controlling a series of fires in the Pacific Northwest that have ravaged nearly 200,000 acres of range and forests in the past week.

Officials at the Boise Interagency Fire Center, which has coordinated much of the fire fighting effort in Montana, Idaho, Washington, Oregon, northern California and Nevada during the last seven days, said today only four major fires remain uncontrolled.

"The situation is much better if you compare the whole thing to what it was several days ago," Roger Leonard, public information officer for the center, said. "We have a major fire in each of four states."

Those fires still burning, according to Leonard, were the Pine Creek fire north of Boise, Tri-creek in Montana's Lolo National Forest, the Freeze Out fire in Oregon's Willowa-Whitman National Forest, and the Pilliken fire 25 miles east of Placerville, Calif.

Leonard said there were some smaller fires in Montana and one larger range fire north of Susanville, Calif., that continued to burn but control times were expected sometime today.

Leonard said the agency hsted 60,000 acres of uncontrolled fires in a four-state region. The figure stood at 100,000 acres Tuesday. He said there were also 120,000 acres of controlled or contained fires in the region. He said the acreage figure includes only major project fires in the Pacific Northwest and Western states and there were other fires and additional acreage of burned timber and rangeland the center did not list.

One of the major fires still burning out of control was located 25 miles east of Placerville. The fire has blackened 9,000 acres already and has threatened homes and closed Highway 50. About 2,000 men have been dispatched from Boise to that fire.

The problem fire in Montana is located in the Tri-creek area in the Lolo National Forest 15 miles west of Thompson Falls. Some 6,000 acres have burned and nearly 1,000 men are fighting the blaze.

In Idaho, the Pine Creek fire in the Boise National Forest continues to burn out of control. Some 560 men fought the blaze which has charred 2,300 acres.

The remaining uncontrolled fire in Oregon burned today 19 miles south of Hells Canyon dam in the Willowa-Whitman forest.

Officials reported two fires in the Nez Perce National Forest in Northern Idaho were controlled late Tuesday. They burned a total of 8,500 acres.

A huge range fire north of Miles City, Mont., burned 33,000 acres before it was controlled late Tuesday.

Paul man accident victim

RUPERT — A collision near Heyburn Tuesday killed a Paul man and injured his wife and a Rupert youth.

Neil Reno, 71, was pronounced dead on arrival at the Minidoka Memorial Hospital following the accident about 3:50 p.m. Tuesday at 400 West and Base Line Roads.

According to Minidoka County sheriff's reports, Reno and his wife, Nioma, 71, a passenger in the vehicle, were headed west on Base Line Road. Reno apparently failed to stop at a stop sign and collided with a two-ton cattle truck driven by Robert Bott, 19, Rupert, who was headed north on 400 West, officers said.

Mrs. Reno was listed in fair condition at Minidoka Memorial Hospital this morning. Bott was treated and released following the accident.

Both vehicles were destroyed in the accident.

According to the sheriff's reports, one head of stock was killed in the accident and four more cattle were destroyed following the wreck. There were 11 head in the truck. Investigation is continuing, according to sheriff's officers.

Sawtooth fires small

TWIN FALLS — Four small fires occurred Tuesday on the Sawtooth National Forest.

Fire dispatchers reported one fire was on the Fairfield ranger district and three were on the Twin Falls ranger district. All covered less than an acre and all were lightning caused. All four were extinguished by fire crews.

Rain was reported today on the Cassia division of the forest which would help cut the danger to some extent, officials said. Conditions remain extremely high on most of the forest and lightning is forecast, forest officials said.

Ruling week off on tape demand

WASHINGTON (UPI) — A White House lawyer, defending President Nixon's refusal to disclose tape recordings bearing on Watergate, told a federal judge today that impeachment by Congress is the only remedy to abuse of presidential power.

Watergate Special Prosecutor Archibald Cox, pressing for a court order to compel Nixon to surrender the tapes, claimed that a federal grand jury had to have access to the tapes to determine conclusively who should be indicted in the scandal.

"There is reason to believe that the executive offices have been corrupted, although the extent of the rot is not yet clear," Cox asserted.

Cox and White House attorney Charles Alan Wright presented their positions before U. S. District Judge John J. Sirica. A large crowd was present at a show-cause hearing preceding an expected historic battle on the issue in the Supreme Court.

Sirica announced at the conclusion of the two and a half hours of arguments that he expected to hand down a ruling "a week from today" — which would be next Wednesday.

Among the spectators were Samuel Dash and Fred Thompson, counsel for the Senate Watergate Committee which is suing Nixon separately for release of the White House tapes.

Wright, speaking first, maintained that the President was given extraordinary powers by the framers of the Constitution and that they wanted him to use those powers.

In the event a President abused them, Wright said, the framers provided "a remedy — the impeachment powers of Congress."

Cox rejected Wright's claim that the President has the sole power to determine what material should be made public, saying that position runs counter to "the ancient precept that no man should be the judge of his own cause."

Cox argued that Wright was asking the judge to grant Nixon "the right to withhold evidence on his own say-so that is not shared by any other citizen or other government official."

The President, said Cox, cannot place himself above the law to protect the confidentiality of presidential conversations and papers.

Responding to that Cox contention, Wright said: "We do not contend for one moment that Richard M. Nixon is above the law, but that there is a limit to the extent of the law ... against the office of the presidency."

Wright said at one point that sensitive national security information was involved in the tape recordings. "The President told me one tape has a national security matter so highly sensitive he didn't even feel free to hint to me that it was," he said.

Sirica, who has handled most of the Watergate-related court activities here since presiding over last January's trial of the original seven defendants indicted in the bugging affair, questioned both lawyers extensively but gave no clear hint to the way he will rule.

When the judge asked Wright if he were "arguing the President is the sole judge of the scope of executive privilege," the lawyer replied: "Yes, sir."

"Doesn't this pose a potential for grave abuse?" asked Sirica. "Isn't this a threat to the spirit of checks and balances?"

Wright replied: "The framers of the constitution were aware the powers they were granting were great and could be abused and there was a remedy — the impeachment powers of Congress. But so long as he is President, they wanted him to use those powers."

Rogers out of US post

WASHINGTON (UPI) — The resignation of William P. Rogers as secretary of state will be announced later today by the White House, according to administration officials.

Word that Rogers is quitting — presumably under pressure — was expected to come from President Nixon in San Clemente, Calif., site of the Western White House, officials said.

News of the resignation came first from officials in Washington who have been critical of Rogers for some time. It was confirmed in legal circles in New York where Rogers is understood to have talked with members of the law firm he left to join President Nixon's Cabinet in 1969.

A longtime friend and adviser of Nixon, Rogers was the last original member of the Nixon Cabinet.

Cassia resort sued for bill

By MARILYN ELLIOTT
Times-News writer

BURLEY — Riblet Tramway Co., Inc. is suing Pomerelle Ski Inc. and Bruce Neibaur, Paul, for payment of repair bills allegedly incurred following a January accident at the resort near Albion.

The Tacoma, Wash., company filed suit in Fifth District Court Monday afternoon for payment of a $4,013.44 bill in addition to interest of $162 up to Aug. 1 and six per cent a year after that date for repairs it claims were made on the ski lift at the resort.

A lift brake failure New Year's Day injured 17 persons. The suit contains two actions, one against Pomerelle Ski Inc. and one against Neibaur, vice-president of the resort corporation.

The suit alleges that Neibaur called the repair company after the accident and said he would "personally guarantee the engineering work, the parts and labor that would have to be performed by the plaintiffs in putting the ski lift back in operation, and would pay the same in the event Pomerelle Inc. failed to make said payment."

If Pomerelle will pay the bill, Neibaur will not be held accountable, Norman Nielson, attorney for the tramway company said today. But if Pomerelle fails to pay, Neibaur will have to be paid.

The Pomerelle Inc. board of directors is expected to meet tonight at the Ponderosa Inn in Burley.

Neibaur declined comment on the case today.

Reverse

TWIN FALLS — Police in Twin Falls have chalked up a new first for women's rights.

Officers received a call late Tuesday from a young Twin Falls man who said he had received an obscene telephone call from a young woman. He said at first he thought it was his wife calling but soon discovered it was not.

The man told officers the woman asked him to meet her at a designated place. Police said the pattern of the call was generally that of most obscene telephone calls, but in the first on record here in which the caller was a woman.

Surrender due

WANTED ON federal warrant for threatening life of President Nixon, Edwin M. Gaudet Jr., 30, today told a relative he would surrender to Secret Service agents. His surrender would end a manhunt in the Taos area of northern New Mexico. Gaudet was sought on the basis of a remark in New Orleans several days ago threatening Nixon, but his wife claimed he could not have said it because he was with her in a New Mexico commune. (UPI)

Wrong turn thought plane crash factor

By BOB JOHNSON
Special to the Times-News

SALMON — The pilot of a plane which crashed Sunday morning in the Idaho Primitive Area killing four members of a Rupert family may have turned up the wrong canyon off the Middle Fork of the salmon river and become "bored in."

Lemhi County Sheriff William Baker, who investigated the crash, said the plane, which had left the Flying B Ranch minutes earlier, was flying at a 5,500 foot altitude.

It would have had to have been around 9,000 feet to get out of Aparejo Creek, Baker said, adding the normal way out is up Camas Creek, the next drainage to the south.

Killed in the crash were Dr. Ben K. Humphrey, 55, and his wife, Dr. Evelyn Martindale Humphrey, 48, and their sons, Brian, 16, and Steve, 14.

The four had been on a salmon fishing trip to British Columbia and were returning home. They had stopped at the Flying B Ranch Saturday morning where Dr. Ben Humphrey, chairman of the board of directors of the ranch, attended a board meeting.

Indictment names 7 Agnew backers

ANNAPOLIS, Md. (UPI) — Seven persons, including a close friend of Vice President Spiro T. Agnew, were named as defendants today in an investigation of financial records of a 1972 Maryland fund-raising dinner.

The indictment was handed down Tuesday by the Anne Arundel County grand jury and announced today. It charges that fraudulent financial reports were filed for a 1972 "Salute to Ted Agnew" dinner, designed to raise funds for the Maryland Republican organization.

Those charged included Maryland Republican chairman Alexander Lankler and J. Walter Jones, a banker and land developer who is one of Agnew's closest friends and most important fund raisers.

Also named were Mrs. Charles S. Broiler, wife of one of Agnew's running mates in the 1966 Maryland gubernatorial election; John Steffey, a realtor; Blagden H. Wharton, a banker previously indicted in the same case; Mrs. Harvey Meyerhoff, wife of a developer, and the Rev. Roy Pfautsch of St. Louis, a consultant who was hired by the "Salute to Ted Agnew" committee to handle its fund raising.

Gem agencies seek funds

BOISE (UPI) — The state permanent building fund advisory council Tuesday took a look at a $40 million request for construction by state agencies.

Higher education has asked for $20 million of that figure — a forecast of fiscal 1975 needs. Two university presidents told the council the funds aren't available to do what needs doing on the campuses.

Council Chairman Emory Hedlund, Democratic state representative from St. Maries, suggested the state consider doubling the head tax — from $10 to $20 — to get more money in the building fund. He said some people say there is no need for new buildings "but with $40 million in requests there certainly must be needs in the state."

Dr. James H. Barnes, president of Boise State College, said "It is real evident to all of us the resources to meet the needs of higher education just aren't there. It is our job to say that in a nice way."

Dr. William E. Davis, president of Idaho State University, said it now takes seven or eight years from when a proposal is first made and the building is completed.

Swimming ends

TWIN FALLS — Dierkes Lake and the Harmon Park swimming pool will close to the public Friday at 9 p.m.

Howard Johnson, recreation superintendent for the city of Twin Falls, said the closures are scheduled in conjunction with the start of school. Dierkes Lake will be posted for no swimming and guards will not be on duty. It operates daily from 10 a.m. to 9 p.m. until closure.

Interest rate effect noted

SUN VALLEY — The Maryland state comptroller said Tuesday the new announced prime interest rate of 9.5 per cent will have a big effect on states that have to borrow bond money to build schools and state buildings.

Louis L. Goldstein attended the 58th annual convention of the National Association of Auditors, Comptrollers and Treasurers at Sun Valley. He said he was particularly interested in the new interest rate because he will be trying to sell $66 million in bonds for the state next Wednesday.

Goldstein is concerned with the interest rate he will have to pay for them. "There's just a shortage of money and everybody is competing in the same market," he said.

Ivy Baker Priest, former U.S. treasurer under President Dwight Eisenhower, is attending the meeting as state treasurer from California. She said she is happy with the 9.5 rate as far as earning power for state funds is concerned, but unhappy when paying that interest.

She said last fiscal year net earnings for the state through short-term bonds, municipal and government bonds, amounted to $141 million — all new money for the state.

During the convention morning session, Roger W. Cox, manager of the industry marketing development for Burroughs Corp., made a presentation concerning automated warrant processing.

The system Magnetic Ink Character Recognition (MICR) has two programs that Cox would like to see used in state treasury offices, he said. The difference between data punching a computer card as a check and using this MICR system is about a $5 saving per piece," he said.

One system for warrant capturing would cost a state about $2,000 per month and a second system for warrant capturing and processing would cost between $4,000 and $5,000 per month. Cox said the second system is being used in California and Minnesota.

In other activities, Wolfgang Schdelkopf, vice president of Chase Manhattan Bank in New York told auditors, comptrollers and treasurers that short-term interest rates will go up until the end of this year and then will taper off.

Waste paper piled in office

BOISE (UPI) — A two-week accumulation of waste paper from Idaho state offices stands in stacks of multi-colored boxes and bundles waiting for shipment to a recycling center.

Thomas F. Payne, administrator of buildings services, said Tuesday he cannot estimate the tonnage of the papers from the first two Friday night collections at the Idaho State House and Len B. Jordan State Office Building.

The papers, sorted in the offices before collections, are piled in a storage area beneath the eastern outside staircase of the statehouse along with janitorial and yard work equipment.

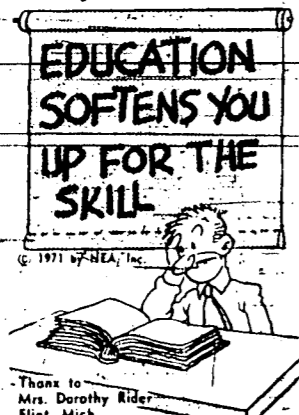

Bundles are also stored in the former St. Alphonsus Hospital Building.

Vicki De Mark, director of the Boise Recycling Center, said she hopes to send the first load of paper from the Statehouse for recycling within a week.

She said there is a market for the paper in the Portland area where quality office paper brings $50 a ton.

Armed forces prepare for base cutback

WASHINGTON (UPI) — The armed forces are preparing plans for a new round of base closings and reductions that may rival the controversial cutbacks of 1969 bases ordered this spring, Pentagon sources said today.

The sources said details of the new cutback, the fourth since 1969, probably would be announced this winter. Delaying any later, they said, would put it too close to election year activities and add unnecessary to the embarrassment cutbacks cause congressmen.

"This is just one more round in a process we will be seeing for some time to come," one source said, noting the force reductions resulting from the end of the Vietnam war and the pressures for reduced military spending.

million a year. But it drew heavy criticism because it affected only domestic Army, Navy and Air Force installations.

Sen. Alan Cranston, D-Calif., charged that President Nixon was "sacrificing" jobs in the United States in order to keep costly foreign bases open.

"We should be putting money to work here at home in areas that create jobs for Americans rather than jobs for Icelanders, Germans, Spaniards and countless other foreigners," Cranston said at that time.

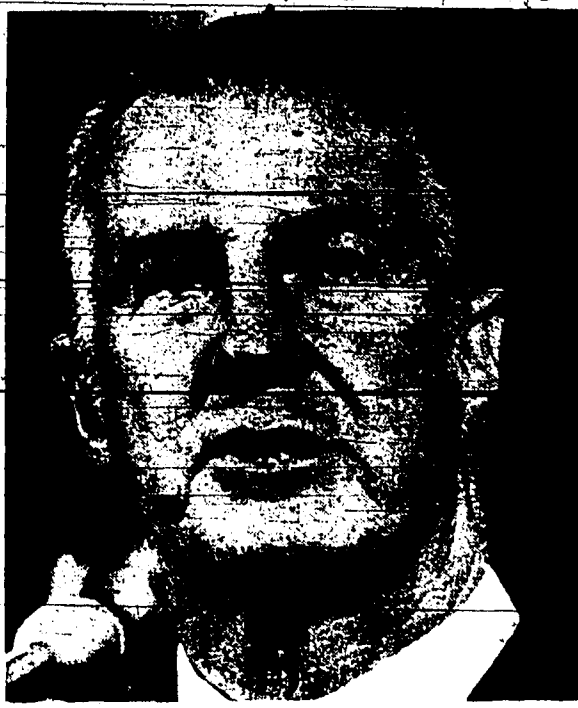

In the wake of the massive criticism, the Pentagon ordered the armed forces May 25 to search out U.S. bases overseas, particularly in crowded urban areas, that might be closed without hurting U.S. national security.

Unlike the cutback announced April 16, however, the next round of reductions would include bases overseas as well as in the United States, the sources said.

The April cutback called for closing 40 bases and reducing activity at 219 others, eliminating a total of 31,472 civilian defense jobs and 16,640 military positions. It was expected to save the government $475

Sources said the result of this foreign base search would be reflected in the next base closing announcement, along with new closures and reductions in the United States.

They said the armed forces are still working on the lists of bases to be closed, and that Congress has not yet been informed which installations might be affected.

VICE PRESIDENT AGNEW at press conference

Agnew scores JD officials

(c) Chicago Daily News WASHINGTON — Vice President Spiro T. Agnew, battling corruption charges, now, blames unnamed Justice Department officials for trying "to indict me in the press" whether they have evidence or not.

Agnew also jabbed at U. S. Attorney George Beall of Maryland, who is conducting the investigation into government contractors' kickbacks, in a statement read to newsmen Tuesday.

Atty. Gen. Elliot L. Richardson rebuffed Agnew's formal demand for an inquiry to see if Justice Department aides were leaking information about the vice president's alleged involvement to the news media.

Tuesday, however, he did not repeat these line but said: "I will fight to prove my innocence. I have nothing to hide. I am confident that the orderly process of justice will result in a complete vindication." — The word "orderly" was underlined in his statement.

Agnew gave some support to the Time Magazine story by saying that it was not clear that the information came from persons involved in the investigatory process."

He said it was a "clear and outrageous effort to influence the outcome of possible grand jury deliberations," adding: "I can only assume from this account that some Justice Department officials have decided to indict me in the press whether or not the evidence supports their position."

Agnew got backing from the western White House when President Nixon's deputy press secretary, Gerald Warren, said: "The President feels that leaks in situations such as this are certainly alien to our process of law and the rights of individuals and certainly do not assist in investigating privileged matters."

Richardson says no leaks to press

WASHINGTON (UPI) — Attorney General Elliot L. Richardson says the Justice Department has taken "every reasonable step" to make sure information is not leaked to the press about the investigation of Vice President Spiro T. Agnew.

Richardson made the statement Tuesday in response to complaints from Agnew that Richardson and U.S. Attorney George Beall in Baltimore were permitting underlings to mount an "outrageous" campaign to influence the grand jury investigating allegations Agnew was involved in a kickback scheme.

urged the news media to observe "restraint in what they report." He said this would help to insure fairness.

"I would point out, moreover, that we do not now have any firm basis for the assumption that the information which has appeared in the press has come from law enforcement officials," Richardson said. "In any case, any plausible lead implicating the Department of Justice will be pursued vigorously and appropriate disciplinary action will be taken against any department employee found to be responsible."

"I fully share the vice president's concern about unfair and inaccurate publicity," Richardson said. "I stand by my previous statement that every reasonable step is being taken to assure that the Justice Department has not been and will not be the source of any such publicity."

In a statement, Richardson

The attorney general declined to answer newsmen's questions, but department spokesman John W. Hushen said that Agnew's complaint to Richardson was made in a letter hand delivered to the Justice Department before Agnew went on television Tuesday.

"There is no evidence that anyone in the department is leaking information on the investigation and we will continue an admonishment to department personnel not to leak," Hushen said.

Milk price support documents delayed

(c) Washington Star-News WASHINGTON — A federal judge has ruled the White House does not have to turn over to him immediately documents dealing with the 1971 increase in milk price supports.

United States District Judge William B. Jones had ordered the White House to turn over the documents by Aug. 16 so he could inspect them. However, the Justice Department asked for a delay so that it could appeal the judge's order on a claim that the documents were protected by the President's "executive privilege."

Granting a delay Monday, pending a decision by the U.S. Court of Appeals on the government's claim, Jones stressed that he was not "retreating" from his earlier view that inspection of the documents was required under law.

"But at the same time the court recognizes that the public interest will best be served by a fair and orderly disposition of the public controversy surrounding executive privilege," Jones wrote in a nine-page opinion.

The judge said he ruled this way "to allow the issue of executive privilege to be considered and determined on appeal and eventually in the Supreme Court along with the related executive privilege questions pending before chief Judge John J. Sirica in the dispute over access to presidential tapes bearing in the Watergate case."

In seeking the delay to appeal Jones' order, the Justice Department contended that private inspection by the judge of the 67 documents in question could compromise President Nixon's efforts to protect the doctrine of executive privilege.

Indiana obscenity law hit

INDIANAPOLIS, Ind. (UPI) — The Indiana Supreme Court Tuesday struck down the state's obscenity law governing literature, saying the law was too vague to comply with U.S. Supreme Court obscenity law guidelines.

The high court ordered the convictions overturned of Harry Mohoney, convicted of sending pornographic literature into Indiana, and Allen Stroud, convicted of selling obscene literature.

The state law, enacted in 1961, banned the shipment of obscene material into Indiana.

WORLD ALMANAC FACTS

In 1889 Andrew Carnegie in his essay the "Gospel of Wealth" professed that rich men should use their wealth for the good of the public. The World Almanac notes: To aid educational institutions and research foundations, he gave endowments of some $33,000,000 including funds for 2,800 free public libraries. These trusts were made during Carnegie's lifetime as he believed that to die wealthy was a disgrace.

Jobs and jobless rate up

TWIN FALLS — Non-agricultural employment and unemployment showed gains in Twin Falls County during May, according to a State Department of Employment report.

"Total employment increased by 520 in the month's span with a similar increase in unemployment," the report said.

Employment in seasonal agricultural categories showed the biggest gain with an increase of 600 employees from May to June.

Non-agricultural employment showed an overall decrease from 15,390 to 15,310. Construction showed a gain of 80, from 80 in May to 160 in June.

The biggest increase in unemployment came in the food processing industry where the number of jobs dropped from 1,190 in May to 870 in June.

The report attributed what it called an "atypically large jump" in unemployment to layoffs in food processing and the influx of students onto the job market.

Unemployment increased from 3.2 per cent in May to 5.8 per cent in June.

The number of unemployed women increased dramatically from May to June, the report said, with 49.8 per cent of those unemployed in May being women while for June the percentage rose to 68.2 per cent.

The report called the increase in unemployed women a "direct result" of heavy layoffs in food processing plants.

Manufacturing (including food processing) accounted for only 28.3 of the unemployed in May, but in June the percentage reached 54.7.

Unemployment in wholesale and retail trades dropped from 23.1 per cent of total unemployment in May to 18.3 per cent in June.

Service and miscellaneous categories also showed a decrease during the month, long span, from 33.1 per cent in May to 17.4 per cent in June.

The job market in Twin Falls as of July showed an abundance of sales jobs in both in-store and outdoor selling. Skilled workers and waitress and other restaurant workers were also needed, the report concluded.

Carr, the son of Mrs. Mary Carr, 161 Elm St., took the course from June 9 to July 20. Cadets normally attend the training between their junior and senior years of school. Carr attends Tarleton State College in Texas.

The ROTC advanced camp provides an opportunity for cadets to develop and demonstrate leadership capabilities in a field training environment.

Carr and his wife, Linda, live in Texas. His father, Howard Carr, lives in Jerome.

Mrs. S. W. Smith will be in charge of the picture box with members participating in the booth display.

A report on plant combinations was given by Mrs. Morris Hoffman, followed by "Annals and Perennials" by Mrs. Lyle Schmitzer. Mrs. Pete Thornton reported on the July picnic.

Mrs. Lanting displayed pictures of gardens she visited in Vancouver, British Columbia.

Special gifts were received by Mrs. Victor Nelson and Mrs. Lanting. The next meeting will be a luncheon and garden tour Sept. 17.

The Faggs are moving to Hailey, where he will be superintendent of school in Blaine county and Mrs. Fagg will teach music in the Hemmingway Elementary School in Ketchum.

Special guests were Mr. Fagg's mother, Mrs. Myrtle Fagg, Rupert, and his nephew, Randy Fagg, Rupert; the Fagg's daughter, Mrs. John Haight, of Lansing, Mich.; the son, Bruce, and daughter, Sandy, both of Rupert; and Sandy's fiancé, Lance Hayes, and his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Art Hayes, Paisades.

Billfold found in lake

ELY, Minn. (UPI) — Lee Reinders' $213 is en route to him by mail, somewhat worse for wear after a year on the bottom of Moose Lake.

An Iowa doctor, scuba diving with his son, found Reinders' soiled, soaked billfold in 12 feet of water. The bills worth $213 were pretty well decomposed but still identifiable.

Reinders was carrying the money to pay customs when the canoeing trip of Boy Scout Troop 539 of Janesville, Wis., passed through the Boundary Waters area into Canada. But as the troop neared customs, he discovered it was missing.

Canadian officials allowed the Scouts to pass in lieu of future payment.

Refund okayed

EMMETT — The Emmett Convalescent Center has voluntarily agreed to refund $865 in excess prices charged in violation of Phase III price controls.

According to Jerald M. Peterson, assistant Idaho director of stabilization for the IRS, the nursing home exceeded its base period profit margin (percentage of net income before taxes to revenue) by $865.

Phase III regulations, Peterson said, prohibit price increases of those of base years if profit margins are also increased above profit margins during the base period.

Nixon said under strain

SAN CLEMENTE, Calif. (UPI) — President Nixon's aides have acknowledged for the first time that he is under tension and strain as a result of Watergate revelations, but they insist that he is capable of performing his presidential duties.

President's unusual display of anger and lack of poise while on a speechmaking trip to New Orleans Monday.

The President, who was obviously frustrated by the rerouting of his motorcade because of an assassination threat, gave Press Secretary Ronald Ziegler a hard shove when they entered Convention Hall where he addressed the Veterans of Foreign Wars and told him he wanted "no press" to follow him.

The incident was widely publicized and TV cameramen caught the scene on film which some stations later broadcast in slow motion. The film clip showed an angry Nixon and a stunned Ziegler.

During his off-the-cuff remarks, the President also blew some of his lines and misquoted the duke of Wellington. His eyes looked puffy and some of his words were slurred, according to close observers.

"Watching the President speak yesterday there is considerable speculation that the President is under considerable strain and pressure," a reporter told Warren. "How would you describe his mental state at this time?"

Warren said he checked with White House doctors and Nixon is not taking any medication.

Rare questions about Nixon's mental and physical health were handled, to the surprise of reporters, in an almost routine fashion at a news briefing Tuesday.

They stemmed from the

2 miners trapped

A TEAM OF rescue workers emerges from the Hecla Mine near Casa Grande, Ariz., where two miners remain trapped 1,300 feet below the surface. Smoke and heat from smoldering timbers in the mine have hampered rescue efforts. Officials estimated it will be Thursday before rescuers could reach the men and possibly longer. (UPI)

Trouble

SANTA MONICA, Calif. (UPI) — Student pilot John Watson, 23, coming in for his first solo landing, made a perfect touchdown Tuesday. Then his troubles began. Watson, coping with engine trouble, couldn't make the runway at the Municipal Airport and so landed on nearby Sardis Avenue. As he rolled, on losing speed, a wingtip caught on a light pole, swinging the plane into a driveway, where it crumpled, stopping about a foot short of the house.

BURNABY, B.C. (UPI) — Donald Ross, 35, and his wife Dorothy rode a Burnaby bus briefly Monday, then got off when they discovered they were going the wrong way. But Ross forgot he had left his windbreaker—with $30,000 in the pocket—on the bus seat. The Los Angeles man told Royal Canadian Mounted Police officers in this Vancouver suburb the money was U.S. currency, $50 and $100 bills.

GOP aide elected

ANNAPOLIS, Md. (UPI) — A first-term Republican state legislator has been elected to Congress from Maryland to fill a seat left vacant by the suicide of the late William O. Mills in a Watergate-related episode last May. Robert E. Bauman, 36, a scholarly conservative from the state's eastern shore, Tuesday night narrowly defeated a Democratic colleague in the state senate—Frederick Malkus, 60. The final vote was 26,938 to 25,519 and represented about one quarter of the registered voters in the sprawling first district that extends to the north, southern and eastern reaches, and where the party split is two-to-one Democratic. GOP national chairman George Bush called it "an important victory...in a race that has been proclaimed as a first test of Watergate's impact at the polls." "This victory says a lot," Bush went on. "It says a lot for the ability of the candidate and it says a lot for the Republican party."

Oil industry denies charge

TALLAHASSEE, Fla. (UPI) — The nation's oil industry today denied charges that it created a gasoline crisis to jack up prices and said the "real" shortage could be alleviated by offshore drilling to find new supplies off Florida, Alabama and Mississippi.

Frank N. Ikard, president of the American Petroleum Institute, testified at the second day of hearings being conducted by the U.S. Interior Department on federal proposals to sell oil leases for 886,000 acres ranging from the offshore area of Biloxi, Miss., to below Tampa, Fla.

The institute represents all the nation's major oil companies.

"We need positive actions to increase energy availability to consumers, not politically inspired accusations that will not add one gallon of oil or one cubic foot of natural gas to our nation's energy supply," Ikard said.

Florida Attorney General Robert Shevin has filed a federal anti-trust suit charging that the nation's 15 biggest oil companies conspired to create the gasoline shortage. The Federal Trade Commission and the Connecticut attorney general have filed similar suits.

Ikard flatly rejected "the unfounded charges that the preset shortfall has been contrived by the large oil companies in order to increase profits, exert pressure to build the Alaska pipeline, despoil the environment, and drive the non-branded independent marketers out of business."

"These charges... leveled without a shred of evidence—are being repeated often and insistently," he said. "As a result, they have become an example, almost without parallel in American history, of unsupported statements gaining an air of credibility through repetition."

Ikard said the oil industry had been warning of an impending shortage "for years," and that it finally happened for several reasons—one of which, he said, was a delay in offshore oil drilling leases

White House gives access to ITT file

WASHINGTON (UPI) — Investigation of the controversial antitrust settlement between International Telephone and Telegraph Corp. (ITT) and the government by special Watergate prosecutor Archibald Cox has been given a boost by the White House.

The White House decided Tuesday to give Cox access to a special file on ITT, which was part of the office data left behind by John W. Dean III after he was ousted as President Nixon's legal counsel.

James Doyle, a spokesman for Cox, said the prosecution task force now has "access to the file."

"The file is in the White House and we have been permitted to read it and make copies of material we might need," Doyle said.

The ITT case was a major issue at the Senate confirmation hearings on the nomination of Richard G. Kleindienst to be Attorney General in 1972. The present attorney general, Elliot L. Richardson, announced June 16 that he had asked Cox to look into the circumstances surrounding the ITT antitrust settlement.

The issue arose again at the Senate Watergate hearings with the release of a White House memorandum that said documents existed that could link President Nixon to the settlement, the largest in antitrust history.

Chrysler named strike target

DETROIT (UPI) — The United Auto Workers Tuesday chose Chrysler Corp., smallest of the "Big Three" auto makers, as this year's strike "target." That means Chrysler will face a strike in mid-September unless it comes to terms with the union on a new contract. The UAW has made good use of the "strike target" strategy it dreamed up in 1955 to put added pressure on one auto company to agree to a pattern-setting contract.

In its simplest terms, it means: "Give us an agreement we can take to our members or be shut down while your competitors keep building new cars."
Chrysler was selected Tuesday in Milwaukee by the UAW's International executive Board as this year's "target," and now has 24 days to work out a basic agreement before contracts expire.
That hasn't always been an easy chore for company and union negotiators.
Chrysler was the target in 1964 and gave the union a breakthrough in the field of early retirement. UAW President Leonard Woodcock said he hoped Chrysler would lead the way again this year on voluntary overtime and other basic worker's rights.

Liberation fair, boycotts slated

LOS ANGELES (UPI) — Women across the nation plan to hold liberation fairs, conduct boycotts and collect signatures this weekend in a double-barrelled demonstration calling attention to the Equal Rights Amendment and the state of the economy.

They take positive action to assure equality and the first step is the minimum wage bill. NOW is emphasizing that Women's Equality Day is not only a celebration but the symbol of a continuing struggle and we feel thousands of postcards to the President can make the distinction clear.

The occasion is the 53rd anniversary of the 19th amendment to the constitution. It went into effect Aug. 26, 1920, and gave women the right to vote.

On Saturday, picket lines will be set up in Los Angeles, New York City, Austin, Tex., Detroit, Trenton, N. J., Washington, D.C., and in other cities at stores that sell pants manufactured by the Farah Co. of El Paso, Tex.

The weekend activities are being spearheaded by the National Organization for Women (NOW) and its 500 chapters but also includes other women's liberation groups.

Farah, which employs mostly Mexican-Americans, more than half of them women, has been the target of a strike for more than two years in a dispute over wages and union representation.

Arlie Scott, the national coordinator for the weekend, said activities in the 21 states which have not yet ratified the Equal Rights Amendment will focus on calling attention to state legislatures to the meas-

NOW's national conference last February approved a resolution calling for a boycott of Farah products.

Elsewhere, Ms. Scott said, weekend activities will concentrate on economic issues and NOW's "action year against poverty."

In St. Louis, NOW will conduct a massive parade with floats and period costumes—re-enacting historical events from the suffrage marches of more than half a century ago.

"We are emphasizing economic equality this year," she said.

In Philadelphia, a combination fair will feature ecumenism prayer and feminism while in New York, demonstrators will wear black and hold a funeral service.

"There is a crisis of hunger in this country because of Nixon's economic policies," she said. "The economic disaster is as serious as any natural disaster. For women on welfare or with a limited income our economy is a real disaster."

Ms. Scott said NOW expects the President to sign a bill declaring Aug. 25 "Women's Equality Day."

But, she added, "we demand

Interest rates to taper off

SUN VALLEY (UPI) — The vice president of Chase Manhattan Bank in New York told auditors, comptrollers and treasurers Tuesday that short-term interest rates will go up until the end of the year and then will taper off.

Wolfgang Schedlkopf, New York City, addressed the 58th annual convention of the National Association of State Auditors, Comptrollers and Auditors in Sun Valley.

Enlarging on his prediction, Schedlkopf said, "We are in uncharted waters. We don't know what effects the high interest rates will have on the economy."

"I don't know where the ship is sailing, but I know if it is still under water."

Another speaker, John E. Shantz, vice president of the Discount Corp., New York, discussed alternatives for investing short-term funds and urged treasurers to invest as much of the idle fund money as possible because a small increase in investment could bring big returns to the state.

Monday night, Gov. Cecil D. Andrus told the convention that Idaho's $3.3 million surplus at the end of the fiscal year was the kind of foul-up that happens occasionally.

Bill would control major oil firms

HOUSTON (UPI) — Sen. Frank E. Moss, D-Utah, Monday told a group of petroleum retailers a massive realignment of the oil industry into a competitive framework is necessary to ease the nation's fuel shortage.

Moss, addressing the national congress of petroleum retailers, said the major oil companies have stifled competition by having control of all phases of fuel production.

"If one wants to drill for oil, fine. He should produce the oil and sell it," Moss said. "If one wants to refine oil, fine. He should buy the crude and sell the refined product to other companies or individuals."

The Utah Democrat said he has authored a bill to require major oil companies to divest themselves of "various functions carried out in production, transportation, refining and selling of petroleum products."

"At a time of increased regulation and control, I believe that our best hope is to stimulate the competition within well-defined boundaries of endeavor," he said.

"Call it what you will — divestiture or divorcement — in the long run it all boils down to the same thing, reinstating competition," Moss said. "The free enterprise economy in which the best are rewarded for their service and efficiency will thrive."

Moss also laid part of the blame for the fuel crisis at the doors of the administration.

"There is no coherent national energy use policy just as there is no energy supply and distribution policy," he said. "If we have any such thing, it is decided on an ad hoc basis and in simple response to local problem after another without any adequate consideration of the overall picture."

Burley election scheduled Sept. 5

By MARILYN ELLIOTT

Times-News writer BURLLEY — Changing to the council-manager form of government would improve city operations in Burley, councilman James Roper told members of the Burley Chamber of Commerce Monday.

Roper told the group that city elections would be held Sept. 5 to determine if the change will be made. Burley currently operates under a mayor-council form of government.

According to the Idaho Code, Roper said, only a majority vote is needed in the election to make the change which would have to go into effect within 75 days of adoption — probably Jan. 1, 1974.

Under the council-manager plan, a new 7-man council would be elected in November. This council would elect one of its members to serve as mayor. The council would then hire a professional manager who would have general supervision of the city.

Roper stressed that the manager would serve "at the pleasure of the council." Most managers do not work under a contract and may be fired at any time, he said.

"The key to any good city government is still with the council," he said.

One of the major objections against the change in government is the increased cost of hiring a professional, Roper said, but "the average city manager in a community doesn't get as much as the school superintendent in that same community."

Currently the mayor's salary is $700 a month, less than is paid some city department heads, he said. The council planned to consider raising the mayor's salary — possibly to $1,000 a month, at the council meeting Monday night, he said.

At a salary of about $15,000 for a city manager, the cost would not be that much greater than for a mayor, he said.

Surveys show that most cities feel they have made better use of revenue, increased expenditures for capital improvements, found the manager more accessible, improved long range planning, and were, in general, better satisfied with government after changing to the manager form of government, Roper said.

In 1963 Burley elected its first fulltime mayor and "at least 40 per cent of the last ten years we haven't done as well as we might have done," Roper said.

"The results are spotty and this is a problem with a mayor form of government," he said.

"When you elect a man for four years, long-range planning is for four years," he said.

Under the council-manager form of government the city would give one trained person the responsibility of managing the city under the direction of the council, he said. The move would bring professionalism to the management of the city's $3 million annual "business."

Mayor Garis Robertson told chamber members, "I don't think you can go wrong."

"The one big objection," he said, was the cost of a professional but "I think he would save the money many times over."

Robertson, who has announced he will not seek reelection, said that mayoral candidates often have no previous experience in city government. "We can't afford to take those kind of chances any more," he said.

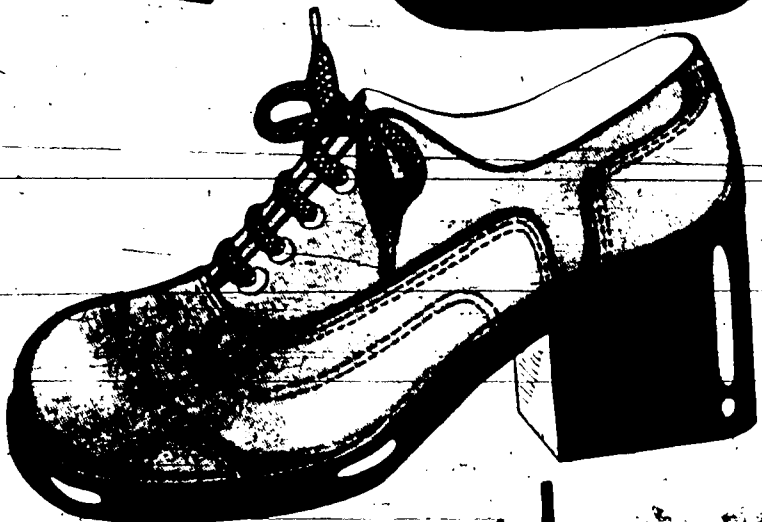

The chamber decided to refer to the new type of government as council-manager instead of city-manager as it was previously called.

He has nothing to lose with this play. If West holds both missing trumps he is sure of two trump tricks. If East held the trump ace he would have used it to capture the queen.

Against the actual holding West must play the ace with only a later on South picks up East's last trump. South ends on club on a high heart and can cash a trick to the club ace.

What about three no trump? Declarer would still try the obligatory finesse but against a heart lead would have trouble collecting more than eight tricks and no chance to score 11.

Abigail Van Buren

DEAR ABBY: I would like to find a wealthy woman to marry, but she has to have more than money. She must be well-educated, pretty, and have a good figure. I don't want one with children living with her. She can take a social drink but she should know when to stop. Under no circumstances would I marry a woman who smokes. She can be anywhere from 35 to 50, but she must be in good health and romantically inclined.

I am a 49-year-old widower who was happily married to the same woman for 26 years. I am 6 ft. 3 and weigh 210 pounds. I am in excellent health and work out in the YMCA daily. I have a master's degree and earn $12,000 a year. I work a 40-hour week and have every weekend off, like to dance, swim and travel. I do not smoke or get drunk, and I am definitely romantically inclined.

I think it's just as easy to love a rich woman as a poor one if all the other qualifications are met. Does this make sense to you?

Lloyd Walker, Twin Falls, welcomed the audience and introduced artists who included Clare Gibbs, violinist; Laura Vincent, pianist; Bill Reichenback, trombonist; Martha Mead, and Florence Curtis who joined Mrs. Mead in a vocal and saxophone duet and Laura Vincent, pianist, accompanied her sister, Jane Vincent, in an oboe solo to conclude the first half of the program.

During the intermission guests were served a buffet supper. Participating in the last half of the concert were Roger Vincent, Filer, vocalist; Ernest Moss, violinist, and Lawrence Curtis, both Twin Falls, and Mary Walker, vocalist. Vincent and Mrs.

Rich wife wanted

DEAR LOOKING: Yes. And it's just as easy for a rich woman to love a rich man. And a lot easier for her to land one, so don't get your hopes up.

DEAR ABBY: My husband and I live directly across the highway from his parents, who are very nice.

We have an opportunity to sell our home, which is on a one-acre piece of property given to us by his parents. They say we shouldn't sell because they gave us that land. Now my husband has reconsidered selling, and I am very unhappy.

Abby, we have two sons, 3 and 5 years old, and it is very dangerous living on a busy highway because the boys like to run across it a lot to visit their grandparents. We can't keep them inside all year round, and a fence doesn't help.

We offered to pay his parents for the land, but they refuse to accept anything. Are they being selfish? Or am I being hoggish?
WANTS TO SELL

DEAR WANTS: A gift once given becomes the property of the person to whom it was given. His parents have attached strings to their gift. This is their way of keeping you near them, and unless your husband is sufficiently independent to sell anyway, they've got you where they want you.

DEAR ABBY: I am writing for suggestions on what to do about a husband who is in the armed forces, stationed in Missouri. He doesn't feel that it's necessary to keep in touch.

I've asked him to write. He's too "busy." I've asked him to phone. It's too expensive.

Since he doesn't bother writing to me, I didn't write to him, so finally after a long silence, he called me. When I tried to explain why I hadn't written he wouldn't listen.

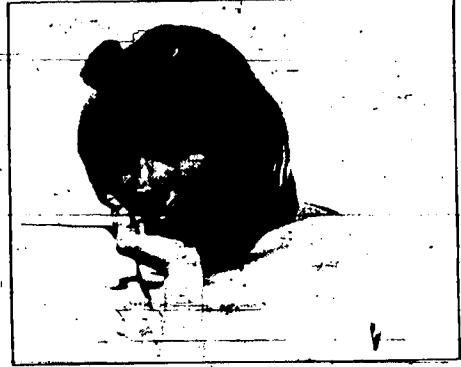

I am employed full time and have two children to look after. I told him I worry when I get no word from him, and his response was: "If I die, the service will inform you."
What do you suggest?
LETTERLESS

DEAR LETTERLESS: Quit playing tit for tat, and write to him whether you hear from him or not. And write happy, cheerful, newsworthy, interesting letters. And include local newspaper items and amusing cartoons. You can catch more bears with honey than the bait you're throwing out.

CONFIDENTIAL TO S. F. IN ATLANTA: No one said it better than Mark Twain: "Grief can take care of itself, but to get the full value of joy, you must have someone to share it with."

Problems? You'll feel better if you get it off your chest. For a personal reply, write to ABBY: Box No. 69700, L. A., Calif. 90000. Enclose stamped, self-addressed envelope, please.

Slang has a way of sticking around. Record shows the most widely delivered bits of street speech in 1912 were: "Beat it," "Feaved," "Sure," "Clasy," "It's a cinch," "What do you know about that?" "Fused," "Speedy," "Peachy," "Nitty," "Get your goat." And "Kissin'" the only of the bunch you rarely hear anymore.

Unexpected medical expenses, that's the main cause of personal bankruptcies, studies show.

Q. How come the nightclub section of a city is usually called the Tenderloin district?

A. Credit New York City Police Capt. A. S. Williams for that. In 1876, he was transferred to the West 30th Street precinct in the middle of the fancy restaurant neighborhood. Said he: "I've been eating chuck steak ever since I've been on the force, but now I'm going to get a little tenderloin." Newsmen parlayed it.

HOLY RULE

The Holy Rule of Saint Benedict is posted in the men's bar at the National Press Club: "If any pilgrim monk come from distant parts, with wish as a guest to dwell in the monastery, and will be content with the customs which he finds in the place, and do not perchance by his lavishness disturb the monastery, but is simply content with what he finds, he shall be received for as long a time as he desires. If, indeed, he finds fault with anything, or expose it, reasonably, and with the humility of charity, the Abbot shall discuss it prudently, lest perchance God has sent him for this very thing. But, if he has been found gossiping, and contumacious in the time of his sojourn as guest, it shall be said to him, honestly, that he must depart. If he does not go, let two stout monks, in the name of God, explain the matter to him."

Few realize that the average man has more hairs on his body than the average chimpanzee. It was Mme. Henri-Robert who said, "Insurance companies, like women, conceive in pleasure and bring forth in pain." Only about one out of every 12 narcotics offenders are over age 40. Don't believe I mentioned the average Japanese has a larger brain than the average Irishman. It has been customary in Abyssinia for the man, not the woman, to wash the family clothes.

At one time or another, the ordinances of Hartford, Conn., have forbidden dramatic readings, shaving on Sunday and the chewing of tobacco, without a doctor's prescription.

Renowned is the city of Canton, Ohio, because it's home to football's Hall of Fame. But the Ladyfriend regards that fact with some disdain. Far more noteworthy, says she, is that Canton is where the vacuum cleaner was invented. All right.

FORECAST FOR THURSDAY, AUGUST 23, 1973

GENERAL TENDENCIES: The daytime finds an odd influence in effect. You need to be careful not to become involved in a shady situation without realizing it. The evening finds you with the energy and good judgment to put a new project into action.

ARIES (Mar. 21 to Apr. 19) A fine day for being observant but not for forcing your ideas on others. Once your outside duties are well handled, do some entertaining at home. Invite charming people and have fun.

TAURUS (Apr. 20 to May 20) Daytime can be confining with important duties you have to handle but later you can air your views to the right people. Engage in only those recreations you like in the evening. Be poised.

GEMINI (May 21 to June 21) Do whatever will add to your vitality during day hours. In the evening go out socially and make a good impression on others. Talk with a trusted adviser on ways to increase income.

MOON CHILDREN (June 22 to July 21) First handle those personal affairs that are important to your well-being and then go to the amusements that you like. A new plan needs more study if you want it to succeed.

LEO (July 22 to Aug. 21) Steer clear of one who gossips during day hours. Engage in activities of a constructive nature. Personal aims can be achieved later in the day. Come to a better understanding with loved one.

VIRGO (Aug. 22 to Sept. 22) Not a good day for adding to public prestige, so keep rooted to routines and get them out of the way. Know what your personal goals are and then be positive in action. Relax at home tonight.

LIBRA (Sept. 23 to Oct. 23) It is wise to obtain the data you need early in the morning so that you will be prepared when dealing with a higher-up later in the day. Evening is fine for enjoying favorite amusement.

SCORPIO (Oct. 23 to Nov. 21) Bussing yourself with the handling of monetary affairs in the morning is wise and then you can meet with allies and make better plans for the future. Intuition is excellent tonight.

SAGITTARIUS (Nov. 22 to Dec. 21) Being more understanding of the ideas of an associate and cooperating more with this person brings about greater success now. A civic matter should be handled before attending the social.

CAPRICORN (Dec. 22 to Jan. 20) You have to be more determined and take on regular duties early so that you have free time for recreation later in the day. Take time for health treatments. Be more pleasing to kin.

AQUARIUS (Jan. 21 to Feb. 19) You are now able to delve right into that work you have been putting off for a long time. Put those creative ideas to work and impress others. Try to please good pals in the evening.

PISCES (Feb. 20 to Mar. 20) If you keep silent at home, those tensions will soon be removed and then you can accomplish a great deal in the business world. Evening is ideal for the social side of life. Be happy.

IF YOUR CHILD IS BORN TODAY he or she will be one of those charming young people who may have a late start in life because of a quirk in the nature that requires careful study and discipline. Lost time will then be easily made up once the mind is in perfect control. Your progeny would do very well in the fields of banking and property management.

Foster takes 15-round decision from Fourie

ALBUQUERQUE, N.M. (UPI) — Light heavyweight champion Bob Foster wore down South African Pierre Fourie with his machine-like jabs Tuesday night and scored a unanimous 16-round decision to successfully defend his title for a record 11th time.

It was only the second time since Foster had become champion that a challenger had lasted the distance, the other occasion being in 1971 when Ray Anderson went the route. There were no knockdowns during the bout.

Fourie, who has said he had a "secret plan" to down Foster and who told Foster during the weigh-in that "tonight's the night, boy," was given a boxing lesson by the champion from the opening round on.

Foster immediately began jabbing his left in Fourie's face and by the second round Foster had opened a cut in Fourie's nose and in the third round a small cut appeared over the left eye of the challenger.

Apparently declining an attempt for a knockout despite the urgings of 11,000 persons who packed the University of New Mexico Auditorium to see Foster make his first title defense in his home city, the champion was content to work on Fourie's head with his ceaseless jab.

Foster was awarded the decision to the delight of a hometown crowd despite a late flurry by Fourie during which the challenger opened up a cut over Foster's left eye.

Fourie ripped open the cut in the 10th round and in the 13th he reopened it with two hard left jabs. But Foster fought off the knockout attempt by Fourie and was awarded a comfortable decision thanks to the consistent work of his left jab during the first nine rounds.

Foster, who was angered by taunting remarks from the challenger during the weigh-in earlier in the day, was given the fight on the cards of the two judges, 149-138 and 149-130 and the referee scored it 148-128 on New Mexico's "10-point must" system.

Foster came into the fight at 173 pounds, just one pound under the limit, and his South African challenger weighed 168.

Blood began to smear Fourie's face by the end of the third round and although Fourie attempted to use his left jab as well along with an occasional roundhouse right, he did not land a solid blow until the fifth when he landed a left jab in the champion's face.

Sensing an opportunity to turn the fight in his favor Fourie became the aggressor in the sixth round, and although his jab began to land with more consistency Foster put an end to that surge with two heavy rights to Fourie's face that brought the crowd to its feet.

After that Foster was in command until he suffered the cut in the 10th round, but even that did little to slow him down.

It was only the third loss in 49 fights for Fourie, and the first time in his career he had lost to a fellow light heavyweight. Foster, who captured the title five years ago from Dick Tiger, won his 50th victory against only six losses. It was only the eighth time he had won a decision, the other 42 wins coming on knockouts.

All of Foster's losses have been to heavyweights, with the last one being to former world champion Muhammad Ali at Stateline, Nev. last November.

Foster, a one-time bomb factory employee, was guaranteed a $75,000 minimum for his title fight. He had earlier turned down an offer from Fourie's manager for $100,000, tax free if the fight were held in Swaziland, Africa.

The top-ranked challenger was guaranteed $100,000 for the title fight.

Report says NFL doesn't need blackouts

WASHINGTON (UPI) — National Football League (NFL) teams are rich enough today they no longer need the protection of television blackouts of home games, a House committee concluded Tuesday.

The Special Investigations subcommittee of the House Commerce Committee recommended Congress ban the blackouts when tickets for regular home season games are sold out before the season opens and Congress limit the area of any blackouts allowed.

NFL contracts, with the networks prohibit a television station from broadcasting a game within the team's home territory when the team is playing on its home grounds. The area means any radius including potential fans, but usually is considered to be about 75 miles.

"About 35 per cent of the nation's population resides in blacked-out areas," the report said. "Thus the impact of television blackouts is considerably greater today than in 1961."

Congress granted professional football an exemption from antitrust laws in 1961 so they could negotiate collectively for television coverage and enforce television blackouts of home games.

"These exemptions were granted at the request of the NFL on the premise that they would assist the clubs in obtaining a needed degree of financial stability," the report said.

"It was anticipated that gate receipts would be protected, thus enhancing the chances for a number of the financially weaker clubs to survive."

As a result, the report said, professional football has gained unprecedented popularity and within the past 12 years has added four more club franchises, the American Football League has become a profitable venture and merged with the NFL, more games have been scheduled, most clubs play in new or enlarged stadiums and attendance has more than doubled.

"Moreover, in recent years this increased attendance has resulted in most games being sold out," the report said. "Many clubs perennially sell out all games several months before the beginning of the season to the same season ticket patrons."

A ban on blackouts when tickets are sold before the season opens would have affected 12 of the 26 clubs in 1972, the report said. The NFL says, however, that only nine clubs sold out and only seven of those before the season began.

Miami and San Francisco already have sold all their tickets for the 1973 season opening next month, the report said, and they were not among the last year's 12.

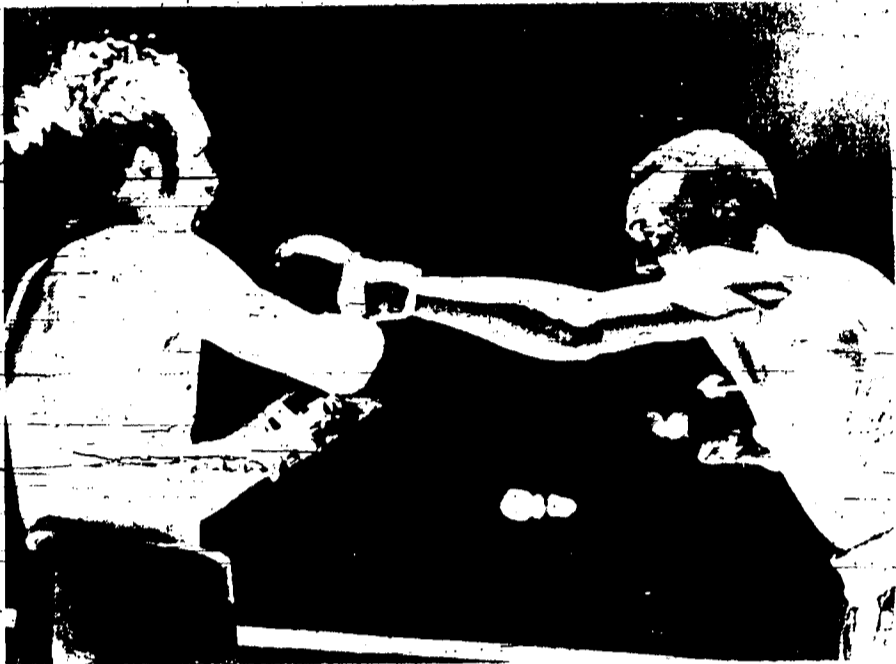

For the other clubs which don't sell out, the committee report recommended the blackout be limited to the area of signal penetration by the television stations which principally serve the same city where the game is being played.

Hearings on the report and other alternative proposals are to resume in September with the NFL officials the principal witnesses.

Jab finds its mark

Champ says he carried Fourie for full 15 because of insult

ALBUQUERQUE, N.M. (UPI) — Light heavyweight champion Bob Foster said Tuesday night he carried South African challenger Pierre Fourie the entire 15 rounds of their title fight because Fourie had called him "boy" during the weigh-in.

"I wanted to go the whole 15," said Foster, who won a unanimous decision before a home town crowd. "I had him four or five times. He called me 'boy,' this morning and I don't like anybody to call me a 'boy.'"

Fourie, following the decision, walked to Foster's corner and spoke briefly to the champion.

"He apologized for calling me that," said Foster. "I accepted his apology."

Fourie's manager, Alan Towel, heatedly argued after the fight that Fourie meant no racial slur when he told Foster "during the weigh-in."

"Tonight's the night, boy," "You yankees call each other boy all the time," said Towel. "So what's wrong with somebody, else doing it."

"I never hit him very hard," said Foster. "But every time I hit him he was hurt."

The 34-year-old Foster, seemingly in shape to go several more rounds, was unmarked except for a cut over his left eye which Fourie opened in the 10th round.

"He butted me," said Foster. "He didn't hit my eye."

Fourie discounted Foster's statement that Foster did not try for a knockout.

"An old man never likes to go 15 rounds," said Fourie, who is called him "boy" during the weigh-in.

"I wanted to go the whole 15," said Foster, who won a unanimous decision before a home town crowd. "I had him four or five times. He called me 'boy,' this morning and I don't like anybody to call me a 'boy.'"

Fourie, following the decision, walked to Foster's corner and spoke briefly to the champion.

"He apologized for calling me that," said Foster. "I accepted his apology."

Fourie's manager, Alan Towel, heatedly argued after the fight that Fourie meant no racial slur when he told Foster "during the weigh-in."

"Tonight's the night, boy," "You yankees call each other boy all the time," said Towel. "So what's wrong with somebody, else doing it."

"I never hit him very hard," said Foster. "But every time I hit him he was hurt."

The 34-year-old Foster, seemingly in shape to go several more rounds, was unmarked except for a cut over his left eye which Fourie opened in the 10th round.

"He butted me," said Foster. "He didn't hit my eye."

Fourie discounted Foster's statement that Foster did not try for a knockout.

"An old man never likes to go 15 rounds," said Fourie, who is

Exhibition game called

Enough umpires have backed out of a commitment to play the women's city softball championships. Rod's Trading Post, that the planned Friday evening exhibition must be cancelled, an irate spokesman for the ump's said Tuesday.

The size of the turnout, however, does give the coach something he hasn't had for a while. A total of 38, including four transfers, is working out now and Coach Watson doesn't have to think about more than a year or two to remember when 25 would have seemed a bunch.

Swimmers get U.S. on gold medal binge

MOSCOW (UPI) — The United States, finally awaking from its week-long "sleeping giant role," plunged headlong into the World University Games gold rush today with three first-place medals in swimming and then coupled that with another resounding men's basketball triumph.

The Americans, gaining golds from Cathy Carr in the women's 200-meter breaststroke, Sally Tuttle in the 100-meter freestyle and Allen Poucher in the men's 100-meter butterfly, moved into second place in the overall medals race with five golds, while the host Russians upped their leading total to 47.

The U.S. cagers, who have been winning contests by an average of more than 80 points, suffered a mild "letdown" in making Czechoslovakia their fifth straight Games victim, 110-59.

Miss Tuttle, a native of Ventura, Calif., did not set any records, but her 1:00.3 100-meter freestyle win over West Germany's Jutta Wever was her first victory ever in international competition.

Poucher, of Jacksonville, Fla., got the men into the act with his fastest career 200-meter butterfly time (56.4). Byron MacDonald of Canada was second with a time of 57.2. The other swimming final—the men's 100 meter freestyle—went to Vladimir Bure of the Soviet Union and the Russians also picked up golds in men's springboard diving and men's tennis doubles.

Although they still won by 51 points, the U.S. basketball men committed numerous errors against the towering Czechs, whose front line averaged 6-feet, 10-inches. "We had day off yesterday and it hurt us," U.S. head coach Ed Badger said.

Still, the Americans raced off to a 20-2 lead after five minutes and, paced by a 21-point performance by center Marvin Barnes of Providence College, were never in any trouble.

Miss Carr, the two-time Olympic champion from Albuquerque, N.M., found herself locked in the day's most exciting duel when she held off Ludmila Porubaiko of the Soviet Union in the 200-meter breaststroke. Miss Carr, the world's premier breaststroke at 100 yards, set a Games record of 2:42.3.

"I haven't been able to train much since school got out," the blonde, 18-year-old Miss Carr said.

No bars on crop exports

DES MOINES, Iowa (UPI) — An administration farm official promised today the United States will not impose export controls on grains and soybeans in the 1973-74 marketing season unless some unexpected disaster hits the 1973 crop.

Despite pressure from bakers and others who want export controls invoked to assure bigger domestic supplies at prices below current boom levels, Assistant Agriculture Secretary Carroll G. Brunthaver said the United States would lose more than it could gain by limiting exports.

"The United States has been suffering from a severe balance of payments problem," Brunthaver said. "We have not been able to pay for all the things we have been importing, and we need to import even more things like fuels and raw materials in the future. The one major area where we can significantly increase exports is in farm products."

"We are not going to impose export controls short of some unforeseen disaster to this year's growing crops."

Brunthaver also told the American Soybean Association he thinks the current wave of booming demand and peak
