

Tapes show Nixon closes on high court

01-13 Universal Microfilm Corp.

 Chicago, Ill. 60610

WASHINGTON (UPI) — Special Prosecutor Archibald Cox won the first battle Wednesday in his efforts to obtain President Nixon's secret Watergate tape recordings, moving the case a step closer toward an historic showdown in the Supreme Court.

Chief U.S. District Court Judge John J. Sirica ruled that Nixon should produce the tapes for Sirica to inspect privately so the judge can determine whether they should be turned over to the Watergate grand jury.

The Western White House said Nixon would not comply with the order and that presidential lawyers were considering an appeal, or how otherwise to sustain the President's position." Sirica gave Nixon five days to appeal.

The White House noted without elucidation that one course open to the President would be to ignore the order.

Through this legal strategy the President would in effect be inviting a contempt citation which could lead to a Supreme Court decision on the separation of powers without specifically involving release of the tapes.

Cox said he was "naturally very pleased" with the ruling. Sen. Sam I. Ervin Jr., D-N.C., chairman of the Senate Watergate committee which is pursuing its own suit to get the tapes, said it was "a great victory in the search for truth."

In quick developments in District Court Wednesday:

—A team of seven White House lawyers replied to the committee by saying the senators were overstepping their authority by conducting "in fact, a criminal investigation and trial," and that releasing the tapes would interfere with the President's confidentiality with his advisers.

Seeking to speed up the proceedings, the Senate committee filed a 78-page document seeking a summary judgment ordering Nixon to produce the tapes. "There is evidence that, if believed, would tend to implicate the defendant President in criminal conduct," the committee said.

"What distinctive quality of the presidency permits its incumbent to withhold evidence?" Sirica asked. "Analysis of the question must begin on the well established premise that the grand jury has a right to every man's evidence."

No fires, please

By TERRY CAMPBELL
 Times-News writer

KETCHUM — The Ernest Hemingway Elementary School, Ketchum, will open Tuesday with no appreciable fire protection for its 250 enrolled students, according to Ketchum Fire chief Bill Brand.

Brand spoke before the regular meeting of the Ketchum-Sun Valley Papoose Club.

According to a club news release, the fire chief said that four chemical extinguishers were the only equipment immediately available at Hemingway in the event of a fire.

The possibility of a school fire was one of the major problems facing fire departments, Brand said. This problem, he said, was compounded at Hemingway with the lack of a sprinkler system and water source.

The nearest fire hydrant was located about one-quarter of a mile away from the school, Brand said. However, he said, a shortage of hose and the loss of pressure — if hose was available — made this hydrant useless.

The school was serviced by a three-inch water pipe and a well was available for lawn sprinkling, Brand said. But neither water source could supply enough water for the fire department, he said.

Brand also said that a fire truck carried water, but this supply would be exhausted in about two minutes with a major fire.

Gas retailers appeal controls

WASHINGTON (UPI) — A group of gasoline retailers made an emergency appeal to Chief Justice Warren E. Burger today to block the imposition of price controls on 165,000 brand name dealers this weekend.

Burger took the request under advisement, with no immediate indication when he would rule despite the possibility that many service stations may shut down in protest over the Labor Day weekend if the price controls go into effect on schedule.

The National Congress of Petroleum Retailers petitioned Burger to set aside a ruling by a special appeals court Wednesday which would allow the Phase IV controls to go into effect Saturday.

The appeals decision overruled an action last Friday by U.S. District Judge Barrington Parker which would have prevented the price control move.

The Supreme Court is in recess until Oct. 1 and individual judges can act on such special appeals either on their own or in consultation with the other justices.

Lawyers for the retailers asked Burger to vacate the ruling of the appeals court and to reinstate the decision by Parker which held that the price ceilings to be applied by the Cost of Living Council were discriminatory, arbitrary and capricious. The petition also asked that Burger allow oral arguments to be heard, but that was unlikely in view of the Supreme Court's recess.

In Pittsburgh, John Huemrich, executive director of the gasoline retailers organization, said he didn't know whether or not a widespread shutdown would materialize over the holiday weekend.

"We are not advocating this, but our members are very angry and when people get angry, anything can happen," he said, adding that if a protest action occurs, consumers should "blame it on the U.S. government, not on us."

The retail dealers maintain that the controls discriminate against them because oil companies raised prices two cents a gallon on Aug. 2 and dealers would not be allowed to pass that added cost along to consumers.

Gooding man killed in family squabble

By BONNIE BAIRD JONES
 Times-News writer

GOODING — One man was shot to death and two other persons wounded early today following a family argument in an apartment over a downtown Gooding cafe.

County authorities identified the dead man as Don Wooten, 18, Gooding. His wife, Eva Wooten, also 18, is listed in good condition in Gooding Memorial Hospital.

Juan Ruiz, 52, Gooding, Wooten's father-in-law, is in Gooding County Jail pending the filing of a formal charge. Ruiz was wounded when police attempted to apprehend him following the shooting incident, according to Gooding County Prosecuting Attorney Andrew James. Ruiz was treated at the county hospital for a gunshot wound in the left arm and released to the custody of the Gooding County sheriff.

Wooten was reportedly shot several times with at least four wounds in the trunk of his body. He was pronounced dead at the scene, James said.

James said the shooting apparently followed an argument in the Ruiz family apartment over the El Mexico Cafe which Ruiz owns and operates. He said the Ruiz family and the Wootens lived together in the apartment. The couple was shot shortly after 1 a.m. in their apartment bedroom.

James said Ruiz, two Ruiz boys, two Ruiz girls and two grandchildren (the small children of Mrs. Wooten) were in the bedroom at the time of the shooting. Mrs. Ruiz was in the apartment but not in the same room.

He said officers are continuing to question witnesses to determine further details of the incident.

James said officers were called to the apartment following the shooting and as they arrived Ruiz, who was in the street, ran into the apartment, down the hall and out the back door. James said Gooding officers gave chase and a number of shots were exchanged between Ruiz and police before Ruiz was shot in the arm and surrendered. James also said none of the officers involved was injured.

Ruiz was armed with a revolver when arrested, James said. He said he believed all of the Ruiz family, including Eva Wooten, worked in the El Mexico Cafe. Don Wooten, was believed employed on a highway project in the Glens Ferry area, James said.

Milk prices soar

By BILL LAZARUS
 Times-News writer

TWIN FALLS — Magic Valley students are finding the cost of drinking an extra carton of milk at lunch has doubled over what it was last year.

Like everyone else, they are victims of rising costs. But in addition, federal cutbacks in nutrition programs are adding to the increase in the cost of their primary lunchtime beverage.

The Department of Agriculture Child Nutrition Service's milk budget was slashed from $25 million this year, from last year's $95 million.

In addition, federal cutbacks have resulted in a nickel rise in the cost of hot lunches as well as the soaring milk prices for Magic Valley students.

Twin Falls school children are paying 10 cents for extra half pints of milk, according to Evelyn Beck, Twin Falls district school lunch supervisor. The first half pint of milk will be included with the hot lunch costing 35 cents for elementary and 40 cents for junior high and high school students, itself a nickel increase.

"We have a half pint on the tray, but most of our children buy extra milk," Mrs. Beck said. Last year half pints of milk cost the district six and a half cents. The government reimbursed the district four cents on each carton and the children paid three cents. The half penny difference covered the handling cost, Mrs. Beck said.

But this year the government is no longer subsidizing the extra milk program. In addition the cost of a half pint of milk has gone up to 7.35 cents for the district, as a result, students are paying six cents more than last year for their extra milk.

Mrs. Beck also said the government's cut-off of dry milk has proved to be "quite costly." She said the district uses dry milk to bake bread and for cooking, and estimated it would be spending $6,000 this school year for dry milk alone in new expenses.

With the cut-off in other government commodities such as cheese, canned fruits and vegetables, and meat, Mrs. Beck believes that school lunch program expenditures will rise from $25,000 to $28,000 or $29,000 per month.

She said the district would take in about $11,000 from the nickel rise in lunches. "The way we're sitting right now, we just don't know very much about what's going to happen," she said adding it is impossible to know whether the school district will have to jack up the cost of the lunches again.

The situation is the same in Gooding and Jerome schools. A nickel more for the hot lunch and another dime for extra milk.

Betty Otto, Jerome district hot lunch supervisor, said the government will continue to subsidize the first half pint of milk coming with the school lunches, but she does not know how big the subsidy will be.

Commenting on whether prices for the hot lunches will have to rise further this year she said, "Who knows? It depends largely on how high meat prices rise after the freeze lifts."

The money was reported missing by a secretarial employe of the SCAA.

"All we know now is it's missing," Qualls said of the money. He said the loss occurred sometime between Aug. 17 and Aug. 29.

Trash collections costly for taxpayers

SHOSHONE — Trash and litter collections from the 5,000 miles of state highway system in Idaho cost gem state taxpayers $235,344.19 last year.

That is the good news. Despite the astounding figure, it is a reduction of about $7,931.12 over the previous year, reports Melvin R. Laraway, district traffic engineer.

Now for the bad news. While littering on the Idaho highways is improving, vandalism is not. Highway signs damaged by vandals or other means cost taxpayers about three times as much in 1972 as in 1968. Not only did the number of damaged signs increase but their cost also increased, boosting the taxpayer's bill by two dimensions.

In 1968, Idaho had an estimated 86,555 signs on the state highway system and 3,768 of those were destroyed and required replacement. Another 8,544 were damaged by vandals and had to be repaired in the field. The average cost per sign in 1968 was $10.95. Sign replacement, installation and field repair added up to $59,078 five years ago. However, Laraway said, in 1972 the number of signs on the state system has dropped to 56,007. Compared to 1968, however, about three times as many or 9,690 of these were destroyed and required replacement. Another 4,800 were damaged and required field repair.

As for the cost, Laraway said, the average per sign cost is now $13.36. Replacing signs damaged by vandals last year cost the taxpayers $129,458 compared to $41,136 five years ago. Installation was up to $16,500 compared to $5,526 in 1968, and field repair cost was $12,416 in 1968 and $39,000 last year. "Statistics are usually boring," Laraway said, "but the taxpayer pays a total of $184,958 to repair or replace signs vandalized by thoughtless persons. It becomes rather interesting."

Meet tonight

TWIN FALLS — A public meeting on the proposed $3.249 million school bond will be held at 8 p.m. at the Vera C. O'Leary Junior High School tonight.

The meeting will be informational and will be open to discussion about the bond's provisions. Twin Falls District School Supt. George Staudaer said "everyone is welcome" at the meeting.

The bond proposes a new elementary school, three four-classroom additions, a physical education "teaching center," and demolition and replacement of 12 Lincoln School classrooms.

Crap Game Operator Protests

WASHINGTON — Joey Polatz, who operates a chain of 24-hour crap games in powder rooms at the White House, State Department and Bureau of Engraving and Printing, says he has already ordered the proposition of organizational charts looking toward diversification of his empire when cigarette smoking becomes illegal.

Joey claims he was not taken by surprise when he read in The New York Times of a proposal by Richard O. Simpson, chairman of the new Federal Consumer Product Safety Commission, to ban cigarette smoking.

"I hear about those things months and sometimes years before the general public does," said Joey. "In my business, you got to be in the competition."

"I see where Mr. Simpson says his commission has the power to outlaw the butt under the Hazardous Substances Act, even though the Consumer Product Safety Act specifically exempts tobacco. My lawyers came to that conclusion eight months ago, and that's when I started making plans."

It is Joey's intention to go conglomerate. He will carry on with his dice operation and expand it into Maryland and Virginia. In the meantime, he is looking at properties in Washington, Baltimore and Richmond in a search for suitable sites for a chain of cigarette speakasies.

"The way I see it," said Joey, "it will be against the law to smoke a cigarette in public. What I envision, you might say, is a chain of luxurious appointed lounges where a respectable individual can go for a few hours of quiet indulgence in the weed. In some of these places we may have a take-out policy, although my advisers are not enthusiastic about such a phase. They favor a parallel setup of package stores for those who prefer to smoke in the privacy of their homes."

Joey insisted that respectability will be the keynote of his operation. "No kids," he said, "and no burns. The average cigarette smoker will want a place where he can socialize with the right kind of people, a place where he will feel secure with his own kind."

And of course there's dough to be made if you offer snob appeal. Most of the smoking lounges will be democratic, the first-come, first-served kind of operations. But there'll always be those smokers who want special treatment. So we'll have two rooms in some of our lounges, one downstairs for the VIPs and one upstairs for the common herd. After all, we've got to have a speakasy where Henry Kissinger, say, would be comfortable. And we gotta take care of those Senators. What I mean is, Kissinger and the rest are used to getting the best tables in restaurants. We want them to feel like they're going to another Jockey Club or Five Gauche when they wish to inhale a number of drags."

Indeed, Joey hinted that he already has approached several of Washington's leading maitre d's with job offers they can't refuse. "You might think it premature on my part," he said, "but that's the way you achieve success in business — by thinking ahead."

Anyway, Joey is confident that prohibition will come. "We're in what you might call a ban-oriented society," he said. "Society has a gullible complex about self-indulgence. Every day they ban another toy for the kids. It's getting fashionable for a guy to swear off booze. They tell us we're eating too much meat and that Catholics are too big. They're even clamping down on the breakfast cereal and vitamin pill rackets."

Joey's eyes lighted up. "I wasn't going to mention this because it's still in the preliminary planning stage and there are some bugs to work out. But me, and my advisers are seriously considering floor shows for the fancier joints, just like in Prohibition with Fanny Brice. That would mean a cover charge, but I think the big smokers would go for a speakasy where they could get Frank Sinatra with their Camels."

School Session

The Twin Falls School District goes public this evening with its proposals for new school construction.

Every citizen of the community who has an interest in the continuing education of the district's children has an interest in that meeting. The trustees, who have been meeting for several months to thrash out the details of a bond proposal, should and are making themselves available for public discussion and debate. But the success of the meeting depends as much on the public as it does on the trustees.

The school board has suggested a six-point proposal to update the district's school system. It includes construction of a new elementary school, additions to other elementary schools and construction at the Robert Stuart Junior High School. Like all proposals, it raises new questions as well as suggesting answers to old ones.

The school board has indicated it would ask the voters of the district to approve the proposal this fall. Barring any unforeseen changes at the meeting today the board will meet in regular session early in September, ratify the proposal, and call for a vote in mid-October.

The time to raise the tough, searching questions is at the public meeting and immediately before or afterwards. The school board should have a good gauge of the positive and negative aspects of its proposals when it sits down to vote.

The meeting begins at 8 p.m. today in the auditorium of the Vera C. O'Leary Junior High School.

Times Change

Time was when government jobs, whether on a local, state or national level, typically paid less than comparable jobs in the private sector. Government employment was desirable, however, because of security, pensions and other benefits.

Not so any more, as far as pay is concerned, that is. In fact, "soaring government payrolls have played a major role in triggering the current inflationary spiral," contends one student of the subject.

From 1965 to the second quarter of 1971, the earnings of federal workers increased 51 per cent, writes James W. Kuhn in Intellectual Digest.

By comparison, service workers' earnings rose 43 per cent and those of workers in wholesale and retail trade increased 41 per cent. The average hourly earnings of workers employed in manufacturing and transportation, the corporate, unionized sectors of the economy, went up 37 and 35 per cent respectively.

Increases for municipal employees have been so large in recent years, says Kuhn, that in the majority of 11 large cities studied so far, city government workers in clerical data processing and maintenance-custodial jobs now hold pay advantages over their counterparts in private industry and the federal government.

Philadelphia, for example, pays its clerical help a third more than the average paid by private industry. Maintenance workers in New York City and Newark, N. J., earn an average of 42 per cent more than their counterparts in private industry.

Since 1965, employment by state and local governments has increased by a third, adding 2.6 million more workers to the 7.7 million then employed. Government employees at all levels now account for over 18 per cent, or almost a fifth of all wages and salary workers.

With government purchases of goods and services now reaching the rate of $233 billion a year — 22 per cent of the Gross National Product — their inflationary potential is too great to ignore, says Kuhn.

JAMES RESTON

Richardson: He's Grave Under Pressure

(c) New York Times Service WASHINGTON — The new attorney general of the United States, Elliot L. Richardson, is an elegant man of elaborate, almost ostentatious serenity, and you could never tell by watching him these days that he is under more pressure now than ever before in his varied service to the federal government.

What will he do if his U. S. attorney in Baltimore recommends the indictment of Vice President Agnew on charges of criminal extortion, conspiracy, etc., support it or reverse it?

What position will he take on Richard Nixon's assertion that a President must first be impeached, convicted, and removed from office before he can be tried in court on criminal charges? And would Richardson's position be the same on the Vice President in the Baltimore case — namely that Agnew would have to be removed from office before he had to stand trial on criminal charges?

A prudent man facing such questions on a new job might be expected to take refuge in silence, even in isolation. Richardson instead is both available and voluble. He sees reporters as if he had all the time in the world, doodles and talks with meticulous care, smokes big black cigars in the morning, and says absolutely nothing on the points at issue, but — says "nothing" with admirable eloquence and unflinching courtesy.

Still, the days of putting political managers at the head of the Justice Department — Herbert Brownell, Robert Kennedy, John Mitchell — are now over, and Richardson's dilemma is that he has to protect the civil rights of Agnew against leaks and unproven charges, while at the same time being faithful to the law as it applies to the two top officials, his party and the nation.

Few attorneys general of the United States have ever had to face such a tangle of legal and loyalties in the first weeks of their work, and Richardson, after Watergate, is making clear that the integrity of the Justice Department, and even of the government is likely to depend, not on what he says, but on the performance of his duties.

His dilemmas are fairly obvious. If he supports a criminal indictment against the Vice President, no matter what the evidence, he will be accused by many members of his party with being disloyal to the Republicans; and if he doesn't follow a recommendation to indict, he will be accused of being more loyal to his party than to the law.

If he decides that the President is not subject to criminal charges until impeached and removed from office, he will go against his own special prosecutor, Archibald Cox, and if he sides with Cox, he will have to go against the President.

Neither the President nor the Vice President has made Richardson's task very easy. The President has said publicly that the time has come to leave the Watergate mess to the courts, but at the same time, he has denied the courts the power to compel release of the tapes that might contain the critical evidence of criminal activity.

More than that, the President has refused the compromise of allowing Judge Sirica to examine the tapes in private, so as to get at the criminal evidence without destroying the confidentiality of "national security" information.

There is another awkward situation. Speaking of the Watergate investigation on last April 17, the president said:

"If any person in the executive branch or in the government is indicted by the grand jury, my policy will be to immediately suspend him. If he is convicted, he will, of course, be automatically discharged."

This is the President's principle and promise, but would he, or could he, apply it to Agnew if the latter were indicted in the Baltimore case? This would not be Richardson's problem, but the President's, and though the Vice President is clearly "in the executive branch," it is not at all clear that the President could either suspend him, if indicted or discharge him if convicted.

These questions, of course, are not up for immediate decision, but they have to be very much on the minds of the President, the Vice President, and the Attorney General, for they cannot control the various actions of the district attorneys, the prosecutors, or the courts, and they have to anticipate the serious constitutional questions that could be placed before them in the coming weeks and months.

This is obviously harder on the President and the Vice President, who face the possibility of being accused, while Richardson merely has to anticipate the problem of being the accuser, but whatever Richardson decides, he is not likely to avoid the most severe criticism from one side or another.

Richardson bitterly resents such suggestions, and removes himself from any consideration of higher public office, but that's the way things are in this town these days. The new attorney general is trapped in a legal and political tangle, and he surprising thing is that he doodles and puffs away and takes it all with such remarkable outward calm.

Arms Race Is Duel Of Scientists

WASHINGTON (NEA) — Defense Secretary James R. Schlesinger's disclosures on Russian missile breakthroughs make it clear the U. S.-Soviet arms race will be more than ever a contest in technology, not numbers.

It will be a duel between scientists.

This will be true whatever treaties are signed and whatever limits imposed.

With numbers becoming less relevant, neither the U. S. or the U. S. S. R. can afford to ease up scientifically. The laggard could awaken some morning, shocked to find the other nation leaping ahead in a major way-out weapons system which would leave the country which scurried on science naked and exposed.

The technological race means these things:

A wider variety of strategic and technical weapons, but smaller numbers of each type.

No breakthroughs will give either the U. S. or Russia an advantage for long. There will be an increasing ability in each country to emulate the exploits of the other in quick time. And no one weapon developed by either country will long have the ability to surmount countermeasures developed by scientists on the other side of the curtain.

Weapons systems will rapidly grow obsolete as the peace of breakthroughs speeds up.

In summary, there will be a great instability in weapons systems. But curiously enough, this very instability may mean overall a greater international political-military stability or balance of power. For with both nations going all-out scientifically, neither could hold a critical or commanding lead for any significant period.

As evidence of the above reasoning, the Russians are currently running their military scientific laboratories at full tilt and steadily increasing their output. (The computer technology they lack and want from the United States has held them back in pushing military research as fast as they've desired.)

The breadth and imagination of the Soviet missile program was what surprised Defense Secretary Schlesinger more than the immediate technical advance in Soviet missiles.

U. S. military laboratories, too, have been going ahead full steam on dramatic new techniques in guidance, the use of lasers and in low-flying missiles less subject to radar detection.

The current arms talks are aimed at limiting quality as well as numbers. But technology is like water. Dammed in one direction, it will keep searching until it finds another path. There is simply no way of writing an agreement which can hold back technological advances — at least in the present state of the world.

What must be remembered is that this country has served notice, for obvious reasons, that we will sign no agreement which cannot be verified. Since the Soviet Union will not permit on-site inspection, in practical terms this means we will only agree to restrictions which can be seen and measured by spy satellite.

What goes on in research laboratories can't be measured by satellite. A good deal of the follow-on development work can be hidden or disguised. In most cases we are able to learn about major new weapons and their characteristics only when they are flight-tested or otherwise displayed.

By such time, this could require a considerable amount of catching up. That catching up period could be a hairy one indged unless the country catching up has continued to develop a formidable amount of the far-out technology needed to meet any unexpected developments.

The changing world described above does not necessarily mean major increases in defense expenditures. It does, however, require an imaginative rechanneling of defense funds and rigid weeding out of "good" projects of secondary importance.

MR. SPECTATOR

Broadcast Today, Pal?

A little reminiscent of the movie "Fantastic Voyage," a small radio transmitter pill has been developed which, when swallowed, can monitor deep body temperature by means of an FM receiver and associated electronics.

The miniaturized transmitter can detect very small variations in temperature in its passage through human alimentary tracts. Localized temperature rises may often reveal the presence of infections or other disorders, aiding doctors in their diagnoses.

Designed at Ames Research Center (NASA), the pill has been used to monitor persons in an environment simulating travel in a spacecraft. The advantage of the device is that it allows monitoring of body temperature continuously over a 24-hour period on a day-by-day basis, a task difficult to accomplish by methods presently available.

The pill transmitter, about the size of a vitamin capsule, can be swallowed and is coated so that it will not dissolve while passing through the digestive tract. That trip usually takes a minimum of two days, or can be as long as a week if a low residue diet is prescribed. Its advantage is that it requires no wires attached to the body surface, nor does it require conventional inserted instrumentation such as oral or rectal thermometers or a thermistor probe.

Since the pill is small and uses a very small battery, it does not have the power to transmit signals for long distances. It is used most easily in situations where the subject is in a confined environmental situation, such as a hospital. If a retransmitter the size of a cigarette lighter is used, signal transmissions up to 100 feet or more are possible. Such signal boosters can be carried in a patient's shirt or trouser pocket.

In normal operating conditions, the antenna is usually placed in the bed or attached to the waist-band or belt of the subject. The pill transmits continuously and has a battery lifespan of 52-76 days.

So Mr. Spectator must point out you can now do your own internal broadcasting. So far as doctors are concerned, this could be called a "news" broadcast. Life is interesting, ain't it!

Egypt, Libya merge

By United Press International

Political sources in Cairo said today the announcement by Egypt and Libya of "the birth of a new state" by a gradual merger into one country has forced Libyan leader Col. Moammar Khadafy to drop his demand for immediate union.

A joint announcement on Cairo Radio told of the last-minute compromise Wednesday between Khadafy and President Anwar Sadat of Egypt. It said the merger would be in stages and come three days before the two countries were to have voted on approval of the plans in a referendum, which has now been postponed.

Political sources said Khadafy was forced to back down on his demands for immediate and full merger of the two Arab states in three days of "showdown" talks marked by Sadat's unrelenting opposition.

The radio said the merger "is a step toward liberating (Israeli-held) Arab land, regaining Palestine and toward economic development and building a modern Arab state."

Khadafy had threatened to quit his post if the union did not go through by Sept. 1—the fourth anniversary of the bloodless coup that brought him to power. Sadat was said to have maintained his country was not yet prepared for a referendum.

U.N. Secretary General Kurt Waldheim, arriving in Tel Aviv today on a five-nation Middle East tour, told reporters "It is not my aim to submit new plans for the solution of the (Arab-Israeli) conflict but to establish personal contact with Israeli leaders." He was to hold talks later in the day with Prime Minister Golda Meir.

While Waldheim was in Beirut Wednesday, Palestinian leaders denounced his Middle East tour and accused him of planning to sell them out to settle the Arab-Israeli crisis. Waldheim said his talks with Lebanese leaders, including President Suleiman Franjeh, "have helped me to gain a greater comprehension of the Middle East problem."

Kickback witness to talk

(c) New York Times Service
BALTIMORE—Another key witness in the federal investigation of the alleged role of a number of officials, including Vice President Agnew, in kickbacks from Maryland contractors was reported to be cooperating with the United States attorney's office here in return for preferential treatment.

Informed sources said that J. H. Hammerman 2D, one of Agnew's closest friends in this city, was negotiating with George Beall, the United States attorney for Maryland. In return for limited immunity from prosecution, sources familiar with the investigation here said, Hammerman is prepared to provide the prosecutor with information.

It could not be learned whether his testimony, if it ever reached the grand jury, would concern directly the allegation of bribery, extortion and federal tax fraud that Beall has told Agnew by letter were the focus of the investigation surrounding the vice president. Hammerman also has extensive friendships and connections with others under investigation here.

Agnew and Hammerman were sixth-graders together here, and Hammerman has recently been a leader in booming Agnew for the Republican presidential nomination in 1976.

Hammerman, a millionaire financier and land developer and a major solicitor for and contributor to various Agnew campaigns, has avoided newsmen since Aug. 8. On that date he issued a written statement through his office acknowledging his formal notification by the prosecutor that he, like Agnew, was under investigation for possible criminal violations. Hammerman said then that he was confident that allegations involving him would "prove to be unwarranted." Hammerman could not be reached. At his investment company, the S. L. Hammerman Organization, Inc., he was reported to be out of town.

Hammerman's lawyer, Sidney S. Sachs, also declined to comment in any way on his reported contacts for his client with the U. S. Attorney. "I'm going to say 'no comment' to whatever you ask me," he said. "No comment is all I will say."

Several other lawyers involved in the investigation, however, said that they were now conducting their own clients' cases, on the assumption—"on information and belief," in one lawyer's words—that Hammerman "is talking to the federal prosecutors" and may have been granted limited immunity from prosecution in return.

Parents charged with 'faith healing' death

SAN BERNARDINO, Calif. (UPI)—Lawrence Parker and his wife, whose 11-year-old son died after they decided his diabetes had been miraculously cured by a fundamentalist faith healer, showed little emotion when they were arrested on charges of manslaughter.

"They expressed no reaction one way or another," said Edward Burke, assistant police chief at Barstow, where the Parkers were arrested at their home Wednesday.

"They are very unemotional people," he said.

Parker, 34, an unemployed NASA tracking station worker, and his wife, Alice, 29, were both charged with involuntary manslaughter and endangering the health of a child for the death of their son, Wesley.

After the boy was declared "cured" by a faith healer's

"laying on of hands," the Parkers said they threw out his insulin supply, which doctors say is vital to diabetics.

At one point in his coma, Wesley muttered the word "we," which Parker said showed that "diabetes is caused by two devils." He refused to allow insulin because it would bring the devils back, he said.

Wesley died three days after the faith-healing. A coroner's report Wednesday confirmed he died of lack of insulin.

The Parkers and about 200 fellow believers subsequently clapped, chanted and sang for hours in a funeral home, commanding Wesley to rise from his casket. Although Wesley was buried, Parker has clung to his belief that his son will be resurrected soon, saying "God is letting things go this far so he can receive the most glory from this when Wesley comes back."

The team of doctors was headed by Professors Carl Wood and John Leetong. The operation was carried out six weeks ago.

According to the hospital, the doctors removed sperm from the woman's husband and fertilized an egg from the woman's remaining ovary in a test tube chamber.

The egg was drawn from the woman's left ovary four hours before insemination, and was kept alive in its own natural fluid in an atmosphere of 90-per cent nitrogen and 10-per cent carbon dioxide.

Test tube conception achieved by doctors

MELBOURNE, Australia (UPI)—Doctors at Queen Victoria Hospital successfully achieved human conception in a test tube, a hospital spokesman said today.

The spokesman said the fertilized egg, which was later implanted in a woman's womb, survived for nine days before it aborted.

The achievement, the result of four years of intensive research, involved a childless married couple. The woman, described as a housewife, had her right ovary and fallopian tube removed in an operation when she was young and her left fallopian tube was blocked.

The fallopian tubes carry the egg to the uterus, or womb, and consequently she was unable to become pregnant.

The team of doctors was headed by Professors Carl Wood and John Leetong. The operation was carried out six weeks ago.

Military academy code rewritten

(c) New York Times News Service
WEST POINT — The United States Military academy has rewritten its book of regulations, replacing decades of accumulated restrictions with a simplified code emphasizing self-discipline.
 The revised version, which took four months to complete and went into effect this week as part of a new philosophy that the academy is introducing to adapt to a changing society as well as to respond to its critics.
 Lt. Gen. William A. Knowlton, the superintendent, said he felt the time was ripe to make the changes, which he had been planning over the last few years.
 "We've been mopping the bastions here, hanging tight to our standards in a society that was saying there were no standards," Knowlton said. "Now we feel that pressure is off, and the first step was to redo the 'Blue Book.'"

 The revised code, described by officers here as the most comprehensive regulation change in the academy's 171-year history, simplifies many rules and offers broad outlines on others.
 The commandant of cadets, Brig. Gen. Phillip R. Feir, said some prohibitions in the old code were self-evident. "For example, 'one regulation stipulated that 'no shoes will be worn into the shower room' and 'showers will be fully turned off after use.'"
 Cadets will be expected to "use common sense" in avoiding facilities "obviously not intended for them," according to the new rules, rather than having to memorize a long list of such places.
 The woods remain out of bounds, although regulations no longer contain pages of cross-hatched areas marking each potential trysting place. "For me to say cadets will stay out of the woods will not keep them out," Feir said.

 The new rules also will eliminate some traditional disciplinary measures — including the hated confinement — while leaving others unchanged, such as "area tours" (marching back and forth in full uniform with a rifle, sometimes hours).
 Confinement meant that cadets could be restricted to their rooms during free time periods for up to six months. "This was stifling and counterproductive," Feir said.
 The superintendent said he had asked Feir to come up with a book of regulations "one-tenth the size of the old one — the cadets didn't need a laundry list of prohibitions — and one that was positive in tone. We wanted it to say: 'Okay, you have more to do with running this place.'"

No sex claimed on expedition

MEXICO CITY (UPI) — The blonde Swedish skipper of a raft that crossed the Atlantic on a 101-day sociological experiment swore Wednesday there was no sex among the six-woman, five-man crew.
 The man who organized the expedition, Dr. Santiago Genoves, was asked what they did for entertainment. "They answered my questionnaires," he said, and studied water pollution that was so bad it had blackened the teeth of sharks.
 "I did not participate in any sex and I did not see any lovemaking aboard the raft," said the unsmiling captain of the raft Acali, Maria Bjornstam, 30.
 Her answer to an explicit question from a Swedish journalist ended two hours of haggling between Genoves, 49, who kept talking about the sociological consequences and scientific data gleaned from the 5,000-mile trip, and reporters who kept pressing less academic matters.

 "The only thing I recall concerning sex were the questionnaires and an occasional joke," said the still unsmiling Miss Bjornstam at the crew's first news conference since they reached Mexico from the Canary Islands Aug. 20.
 Genoves organized the voyage to test reactions of persons confined together in a small area for a prolonged period of time.

No power in NY area

NEW YORK (UPI) — A section of the city including 180,000 residents was without electrical power early today. La Guardia Airport was in the blacked out area, but switched to emergency generators.
 For most of the neighborhood stricken by the power outage during a sultry heat wave, the failure meant warm refrigerators, no traffic lights, subway delays and a night without air conditioning.

Chinese reds consider Soviets biggest threat

HONG-KONG (UPI) — The Chinese Communist Party made it clear at its 10th National Congress that the Soviet Union is considered the main threat to the security of China.
 At the same time, the congress, shortest in the party's 52-year history, endorsed the government's policy of improving relations with the United States.

 The dead man was Lin Biao, ex-defense minister who had been named at the 9th party congress in April 1969, as the "successor" to party Chairman Mao Tse-tung. Lin died almost two years ago after an alleged attempt to oust Mao and seize power.

A communique issued Wednesday on the congress touched only briefly on foreign affairs. But that brief glimpse was sufficient to enable China analysts here to draw the firm conclusion that the Soviet Union clearly is regarded as the nation's number one enemy.

The congress was held in secret in Peking from Aug. 24-28. It approved a political report by Premier Chou En-lai, adopted a new constitution and elected a new central committee.

Agnew's daughter leaves

RIO DE JANEIRO, Brazil (UPI) — Brazilian police said Wednesday the sudden departure of Vice President Spiro T. Agnew's daughter, Susan, was caused by "the problems her family is having" rather than threats against her life.

(An Agnew spokesman said Wednesday in Washington the vice president's 26-year-old daughter cut short volunteer work aboard the hospital ship Hope because of threats made in Brazil.)
 Nobel Cuiabano, federal police officer at the port of Maceio where the ship is anchored, said two agents were assigned to guard Agnew's daughter during the ship's stay in Brazil.

"There was never any threat against her physical security, including kidnaping, during the time that Miss Agnew stayed in Maceio," he said. "I think that her return can be attributed to the problems her family is having and perhaps she was homesick for her parents."

Two trapped in mini-sub

CORK, Ireland (UPI) — A team of divers armed with "the most sophisticated equipment in the world" raced out to sea today to rescue two men trapped with a dwindling air supply in a disabled mini-submarine on the sea floor 1,375 feet beneath the surface.

The two trapped crewmen, Roger Mallinson, 34, and Roger Chapman, 28, radioed that "we're okay and that our morale is fantastic."

The miniature submarine Pisces III was damaged and sank during a cable-laying operation Wednesday. The crewmen had enough air to last until Saturday morning, and perhaps longer.

"We have the most sophisticated equipment in the world, the experience and the know-how, and we are going to get those two men up," said Robert Starr, head of a six-man Canadian diving team which will make the rescue attempt.

Starr and five other Canadian divers flew into Cork today along with Pisces V, a newer and more highly developed model of the submarine on the sea bed.

"The men are in good shape, they're relaxed and waiting for us to do our job. And that's exactly what we're going to do," Starr said.

The white, 19-foot-long Pisces V was joined by an orange sister vessel flopping in from Scotland. A giant crane hoisted both aboard the Vickers Voyager, the 4,600-ton "mother" ship of the sunken submarine.

It set off for the accident scene about 160 miles southwest of Cork and some 94 miles from the nearest point of Ireland—several hours later than planned.

But Capt. Leonard Edwards, the Voyager's skipper, said he expected to reach the scene about midnight and that rescue work would begin immediately.

"To put it bluntly, we'll send one of the submarines down to put a rope around the stricken sub, and then we'll yank it up," Edwards said.

A gale was blowing in the rescue area today, and Starr said "It won't make it (the rescue) any easier."

Edwards said surface vessels were in touch with the two trapped men every half-hour. He said he told the two not to talk to each other to conserve their air supply, to lie down and take plenty of fresh fruit and coffee.

In a similar accident this June, Al Stover, 51, of Juno Beach, Fla., and Clayton Link, 31, of Binghamton, N.Y., died of exposure in another miniature sub trapped on the ocean floor. The research submarine was freed and recovered later.

New coins

BONN (UPI) — Coins of two-mark denomination and bearing the likenesses of Theodor Heuss and Konrad Adenauer, West Germany's first President and Chancellor, respectively, went into circulation July 1.

The Ministry of Finance says 140 million coins with Adenauer's portrait and 112 million with that of Heuss will be minted. Two-mark coins already in circulation portray physicist Max Planck, winner of the 1918 Nobel Prize in physics. West Germany issues coins in denominations of one, two, five, 10 and 50 pfennigs, and one, two five and 10 marks.

Unable to surface

MINI-SUB Pisces III, which was engaged with parent vessel in cable laying 150 miles southwest of Cork, Eire, reported Wednesday it is unable to surface. The two-man crew is reported alive. Another submarine is being flown from Scotland to aid in rescue operations. (UPI)

'Life' highway reopened

PHNOM PENH (UPI) — A two-pronged task force of 1,000 government soldiers and two dozer armored cars smashed through guerrilla territory today to reopen Phnom Penh's lifeline highway to the rice fields of Battambang.

Field reports said the government force broke the Communists' five-day stranglehold on the 160-mile stretch of Highway 6 between the capital and Battambang to the northwest.

The reports said three battalions of government troops coming from the direction of Phnom Penh linked up early today with two battalions coming from Battambang.

The reports said one government soldier was killed and one wounded in the linkup, 38 miles northwest of Phnom Penh.

The guerrillas had cut the road for the first time in nearly two months, halting the daily flow of giant 200-truck convoys carrying vital rice and livestock to Phnom Penh.

Food prices in Phnom Penh had skyrocketed since the road was cut with rice rising 30 per cent and pork jumping 100 per cent.

The opening of Highway 6 left one other key road still cut by the guerrillas, Highway 4, which links Phnom Penh with Cambodia's only deepwater port, Kompong Som, 40 miles west of Phnom Penh today. In other action, guerrillas attacked a hydroelectric dam

Healthy cutters finish

TWIN FALLS - The last meeting of the season for members of the Healthy Cooky Cutters 4-H Club was conducted Tuesday after school at the home of Luanne Platt, leader.

Each girl revealed the name of her secret pal. Gifts were exchanged.

Miss Platt showed her flannel board and the chart she will exhibit at the fair for a Child Care III project.

Club members reported on tours to Sew City Fabric Shop, the Main Fire Station and Longview Fibre Co.

Members visited nursing homes and handed out cookies and banana bread they had made along with small gifts. They modeled the outfits they have made for the fair at Heritage Manor.

The booth at the fair will be decorated Saturday morning. All members will exhibit projects in the fair and will participate in judging and the style revue.

Rustling meet set in Salmon

SALMON - The Lemhi County Cattle and Horse Growers Assn. has called a special meeting here Sept. 4 to deal with the problem of cattle rustling.

Dale Fayle, association president, said several ranchers have notified him that they have had calves missing in the past month.

The official indicated that the problem is expected to get worse when cattle are brought in off the range this fall and the full extent of losses can be determined.

The meeting is scheduled for 8 p.m. at the Elks Hall and all interested persons are invited to attend.

Officers, including the Lemhi County Sheriff's Office and the Idaho Fish and Game Department, are to attend, also.

Fayle said the meeting will discuss ways to stop rustling that is resulting from higher prices of meat.

The association offers a $500 reward for information leading to the arrest and conviction of anyone rustling cattle.

$300 in tools stolen

TWIN FALLS - A Twin Falls officer Wednesday said $300 in tools were missing from a truck parked in his driveway.

Morton L. Dierker told investigating county deputies he believed the tools were taken from his truck either Sunday morning or Sunday evening while he was attending church.

A thought for the day: British writer Rudyard Kipling said: "Youth had been a habit of hers for so long, that she could not part with it."

Jerome shed burns

SHERIFF'S officers are investigating a fire which destroyed a small storage shed and its contents south of Jerome about 1:10 a.m. Wednesday. Officers said cause of the fire has not been determined as there is no wiring in the building and materials in the building would probably not be self combustible. The building, owned by Victor Bengochea, is located behind the Farm Bureau office. Several head of sheep and calves were in the building when the fire broke out but escaped. A number of chickens burned, however. Also destroyed were between 20 and 30 tons of chopped hay and an undetermined amount of feed pellets.

Booth planned

GLENN'S FERRY — Plans were made for a booth at the Air Force Appreciation Day, at the Monday meeting of the Senior Citizens at the Center.

Handmade items as well as baked goods will be sold. Each member is asked to bring something for the booth.

The Elmore County Senior Citizen bus will be at the center at 9 a.m. Thursday, to take members to Paradise, up in the hills. Each one should bring a lunch, or be prepared to buy their lunch at Paradise.

Anyone interested in sewing of any kind, may bring his own machine to the Center, for the Friday sewing classes.

Concert at SV

SUN VALLEY — Ratchell, a contemporary rock group from California, will appear in concert each evening through Sunday in the Limelight Room of the Sun Valley Inn.

The concerts, sponsored by the Sun Valley Creative Arts Center and the Sun Valley Company Inc., will begin nightly at 8:30 p.m. Tickets may be purchased at the door.

Open Labor day

TWIN FALLS — Mrs. Faye Sharp, manager of the Twin Falls Canning Kitchen, announces the kitchen will be open Labor Day and Sept. 7 but will be closed Sept. 5 so the employees can attend the Twin Falls County Fair.

The kitchen will continue on a regular three days per week, Monday, Wednesday and Friday, schedule following fair week.

Challis man burned

STANLEY — Ray Griggs, 47, Challis, was listed in critical condition this morning at a Boise hospital from burns received when his propane camp stove exploded Wednesday morning.

According to Marie Osborn, nurse practitioner at the Salmon River Emergency Clinic, Stanley, Griggs — who was camped near Stanley — extinguished the blaze before driving about 40 miles into Stanley to seek medical aid.

Initial treatment was administered at the clinic and then Griggs was taken by ambulance to the Moritz Community Hospital, Sun Valley. Wednesday afternoon he was flown in a MAST helicopter to St. Alphonsus Hospital, Boise.

Area pair charged

HAILEY — A Hailey man and wife have been charged with one count each of manufacture of a controlled substance and possession of a controlled substance.

According to Hailey Police Chief Doug Williams, the couple is Jess Ellis 25, and Peggy L. Ellis, 21, both Hailey.

Williams said the arrests took place Wednesday night during a raid on the Ellis residence, by the Hailey Police Department assisted by a Blaine County sheriff's deputy. Confiscated in connection with the arrests were several large marijuana plants and other controlled substances, Williams said.

Mrs. Ellis has been released on her own recognizance. Ellis was being held this morning in the Blaine County jail in lieu of a $500 bond.

Shoshone crews busy

By MELBA THORNE
Times-News writer

SHOSHONE — City crews in Shoshone have kept busy this summer with maintenance work on streets and sewer and have done some street widening projects.

Most recently brushing in preparation for seal coating and patch work has been done.

L. M. Hatmaker, city overseer, said the street breakup from last winter had not been excessive and this summer's work has been routine for summer maintenance within the city limits.

The city has its own oil mix and the employees do the mixing right at the city shop. Some of the areas where work has been done includes West Seventh Street, west from the bowling alley and edges have been rebuilt on the road from the city to the weed office, on South Rail street.

Patch work is done along the side by the fair grounds toward the Dale Sluder residence and in the Northeast section of the city.

Some of the patch work is necessary from breakup during installation of the sewer system. Some areas were filled in and the excess had to be hauled out by the city crews.

Hatmaker also said the turnover in garbage collectors has caused extra work for the city employees. Rex Gallimore, the collector, was accidentally shot in the stomach last spring, and has been unable to work since. He is now at home and hopes to go back to work on a part time basis within the next few weeks.

Bill Trapp, the city sewer inspector, no longer works in maintenance.

Lava cinders from the Dietrich Butte area have been

Full patrol on holiday

BOISE (UPI) — Idaho's Traffic Safety Commission warned motorists today that a full complement of Alcohol Safety Action Programs patrols will be on the highways during the Labor Day weekend.

In addition, all available regular state police officers will be on duty and motorcycle patrols will cruise heavily traveled highways where traffic may be slowed below normal driving speed.

placed along alleys in the city. Officials feel this has cut down a good deal on maintenance work and also kept down weeds and dust somewhat.

City officials have had several complaints this summer from property owners regarding dogs destroying their gardens and flowers. They remind dog owners that they should be responsible for their animals at all times.

The city requires a dog license but there is no leash law.

Mountain States Telephone company has also been doing patch work on some roads in the city, where it had to tear up the roadway in order to put in the underground cables. This work is being done over a period of several years and plans are to eventually have all the telephone wires underground.

Man-caused fire burns 60 acres

SHOSHONE — A man-caused fire, burning beside U.S. Highway 93 north of Twin Falls covered 60 acres of federal land Wednesday afternoon.

Michael Green, public information officer of the Bureau of Land Management Shoshone District, said the fire broke out about 2 p.m. adjacent to the highway and burned to the southeast toward Interstate 80. Green said two tankers and one refill tanker battled the flames and one overhead spotter plane was used with a total of 12 men on the fire until about 6 p.m.

Twin Falls county and Jerome County officers directed traffic along U.S. 93 for more than an hour as flames burned adjacent to the pavement. Smoke from the fire could be seen throughout Twin Falls and Jerome.

Green said this is the 108th fire of the season in the Shoshone district. He said the fires have covered 37,300 acres of land, of which 30,259 acres are federal land. Other acreages are state or privately owned lands, he said.

There have been more fires this year than last year, Green said, but acreage is about the same as last year at this time.

He said a special appeal is being made to dove hunters for this week and when the dove season opens. Green said hunters should be extremely careful with fire arms and should not smoke in the field because of the unusually dry condition this year. Some of the largest fires last year occurred about this time of the season and were extremely hard to control, he said.

Fete slated at Bellevue

BELLEVUE — Bellevue will hold its 54th annual Labor Day Celebration Monday.

According to event chairman Bill Aitken, the festivities will begin with a "shoot out" on Main Street, staged by the Halley Hellers, at 10:30 a.m.

At 11 a.m., the parade will start on Main Street, with cash prizes to be awarded to the first three place finishers. Anyone who wishes to take part in the parade is encouraged to enter, Aitken said.

The free barbeque will begin at 1 p.m. at the new city park. Featured on the menu are about 900 pounds of barbeque beef and 1,500 pounds of corn on the cob. Concession stands — manned by local civic groups — and a carnival will be available on the site.

Starting at 1:30 p.m. guests will be entertained by a contingent of the Old Time Fiddlers.

At 3 p.m. street sports will be conducted on Main Street. Highlight will be the "Roberta Mc Kercher Handicap" for venerable residents. Aitken said Wally Young, Halley, has won the race for two years "running."

Event chairmen, in addition to Aitken, include co-chairman, K. C. Burrell; meat, Bill Shappee; finance, Mrs. Mc Kercher and Boyd Jones; parade, Bill Snowwater and Garth Sims; and street sports, Charles Young and Glenn Stelma.

Donations for the community-supported event may still be made at the Silver Dollar Bar and Cafe.

Hagerman vote set Wednesday

HAGERMAN — Hagerman School district voters go to the polls for the fourth time Wednesday to vote on a proposed $380,000 bond issue to construct a new elementary school.

The existing facility is "deteriorated and in hazardous condition," according to superintendent Ken Black. It was built in 1926.

The site proposed for the school is adjacent to Hagerman Grade School. Plans for the eight classroom new school include addition of a library, a special education classroom, a large multipurpose room which will also serve as a cafeteria, a play area for the winter and a school stage — all facilities the present elementary school lacks.

"The cost of the upkeep has been more than it makes sense to pay," Black said referring to the elementary school building now used. He mentioned as an example that $2,000 was spent to repair the school's furnace last year and that it still is in bad condition.

Laura McAnulty, district clerk for Hagerman schools, said three similar bond proposals for a new elementary school have been rejected by voters in the past. Most recently, the bond was voted down in 1969.

Hagerman residents may vote on the bond at the Gooding County American Legion Hall and at the office of the Upper Salmon Power Plant for Twin Falls County from noon to 8 p.m.

Performance set at Burley

BURLEY — The Antique Festival Theatre will present a special performance of "Medicine Wagon" Friday at 8:30 p.m. at the Burley High School football field.

Proceeds from the show will go to the Cassia County Historical Society and museum, which is sponsoring the event.

The performance will be the last of the season for the troupe, which has traveled throughout the state this summer presenting this and its two other summer plays.

Tickets will be sold at the door or at Thriftway Drug, Sav Mor Drug, Skaggs Drug, the Merc, the historical museum and the South Idaho Press in Burley.

In Oakley tickets will be sold at Clarks for Shopping, in Declo at Gillette's Market and in Albion at the Keith Amende residence.

Burley inquest slated Friday

BURLEY — A coroner's inquest into the shooting death of a Burley woman last June will be held in Fifth District Court Friday.

Delliah Mae Bowden, 46, was found dead in her home with three gunshot wounds in her chest on June 7. Earlier reports from FBI laboratories indicated the death was not suicide, sheriff's officers said recently.

The inquest is set for 10:00 a.m. and will be conducted by recently appointed county coroner C. Bruce Young.

Thursday in magistrate court a preliminary hearing will be held for John Cocklin, 29, Burley who was charged with assault with a deadly weapon and one count of assault with intent to commit murder in connection with a shooting incident August 11.

Cocklin allegedly fired one shot from a revolver wounding his wife, Joanne Cocklin and a visitor, Dale Wood, in a Burley home.

Suit filed

PAUL — Suit has been filed in U.S. District Court against Green and White Trucking Co., Paul, by the Interstate Commerce Commission.

The suit alleges that the firm is engaging in business without a certificate of public convenience and necessity.

The ICC said the company was involved in hauling 15 shipments of goods from California points to Idaho cities and in its suit seeks an injunction preventing the firm from engaging in interstate commerce without authority of the ICC.

Ketchum holds outdoor class

By TERRY CAMPBELL
Times-News writer

KETCHUM — About 50 Blaine County School District teachers were invited to discover their environment during a two-day "outdoor classroom."

The event was an environmental education workshop, conducted at the Central Idaho 4-H Camp, north of Ketchum.

Sponsoring agencies included the Magic Valley Environmental Education Committee (MVEEC), the U. S. Forest Service and the Sun Valley Creative Arts Center through a federal Environmental Education Grant.

According to Vern Fridley, Ogden, Utah, Forest Service, the session was based on a problem solving approach to environmental education.

During the workshop, the teachers collected information and data and formulated their own solution to a particular problem.

Individual involvement, self-discovery and observation were keynotes by the teachers' name tags, which were made from tree core samples and carried the inscription — "I am a person."

The environmental investigations covered animal habitats, the forest environment, water quality and "Tuck's Thing." The latter, designed by Jerry Tucker, Boise State College, provided participants with an opportunity to become aware of how the environment shapes their perceptions and feelings and, how individuals' feelings and actions influence the environment.

During the forest investigation, Fridley said the teachers studied tree core samples and other forest evidence to determine past events in the forest and to predict future trends.

A special feature of the session was a simulation game. Fridley said the participants were given a description of a mythical piece of land and broke into small groups, each representing a special interest such as agricultural or industrial.

Each group developed a plan and went before a board of county commissioners, which decided which proposed use best served the land and the needs of the community.

According to Stuart Murrell, Jerome, Idaho Fish and Game Department, and a workshop staff member, the workshop format could be applied to the study of any type of environment, including a classroom environment.

Murrell, who serves as chairman of the MVEEC, has conducted three, similar one-day workshops.

Another workshop has been scheduled Oct. 12, teacher institute day, Murrell said. It will be conducted at Camp Roach in the Hagerman Valley. Featured during the session will be a simulation game in which participants would propose the most advantageous use for the Thousand Springs area.

Abby

Abigail Van Buren

DEAR ABBY: This is in response to the letter stating deliverymen and servicemen often combined business with pleasure where housewives were concerned. In my 20 years of marriage I have not had one man make any advances toward me.

I have been told I am very attractive, and my 19-year-old son has said, "Mom, if you weren't my mother, I could go for you."

I have let servicemen into my home, even leading them down the cellar. Sometimes there were two of them, and if any of them ever had any ideas, they never showed it. They simply read the meter, checked the gauge, or did whatever they came to do, and left.

Service with smile

Once a fellow did indicate that he wouldn't mind hanging around. He said, "Mmmmmmm, that apple pie you're baking sure smells good. I can smell the cinnamon."

My answer was, "Oh, really?" And that was the end of that. It must be a very lonely housewife who sent out signals that would make a serviceman think he had a chance with her.

NO FOOLING AROUND

DEAR NO: You're lucky you had a serviceman who only wanted a piece of your apple pie. One woman wrote to say the meterman told her he'd heard that she had a water bed, and could he bounce around on it a bit just to see how it felt.

DEAR ABBY: For years my husband, son, and I have been planning a grand trip to Europe. (Combining our 25th wedding anniversary, our son's college graduation, plus visiting a French couple who saved my husband's life during World War II.) We have our reservations, passports, new clothes, etc. and are scheduled to leave in three weeks.

However, my mother-in-law, who lives in the midwest, just phoned to say she plans to have cataract surgery the week before we leave! She has known about this for two years, but has been putting it off. My husband spoke to her doctor who says a three-week delay won't harm her.

Should we ask her to postpone her surgery for three more weeks until we get back? My husband says, no matter what, our trip is still on, but I can't see how we could go and have a good time with her in the hospital. We have spent every vacation with her for 24 years, and now I feel it is our turn.

What is your opinion? Am I selfish, or is she being contrary? And what if she doesn't postpone it?

TORN

DEAR TORN: If she's put off the cataract surgery for two years, and her doctor says another three weeks delay won't harm her, go, have a wonderful time, and don't feel guilty.

ruffed the third diamond and drew trumps. Then he tried and lost the club finesse. East took his king and led a spade, but the boat had sailed. South rose with the ace and was able to discard his queen of spades on dummy's fourth club.

If only East had been willing to signal with the queen of diamonds West would have led low. East would win the jack and, assuming he was smart enough to lead back a spade, the defense would have wound up with one spade trick in addition to the two diamonds and one club they were sure to get. Just one trick, but the one to set declarer.

When your partner leads the king of a suit, under what circumstances do you play the queen?

There is one easy answer. Any time the queen is a single ton.

When else do you play the queen? When you want to tell your partner that you also hold the jack.

When we watched this hand played, East signaled with the eight of diamonds. West continued with the ace and six. South

Gooding-Buhl battle draws opening weekend spotlight

Gooding and Buhl put their conference hopes up for grabs as the 1973 high school football season opens Friday but the other six games will be a matter of muscle flexing as coaches try to get a line on their new charges.

Gooding's Senators will be at Buhl Friday evening and neither can afford a loss in the South Central Idaho Conference for the reason that both still must play Jerome and Mountain Home, ranked at the top by pre-season dopesters. And the league is so small, only five teams with Filer now out of football convention, two losses should be too many.

In other action, the Jerome Tigers, who haven't lost much in the past couple of years, take a pretty seasoned outfit against Wendell, which has to be down at least a little after five years of solid gunning. The home-standing Tigers will have a good size advantage in the line.

Filer, due to problem with its lights, shifts to an all-day schedule, entertaining the Shoshone Indians at 1:30 p.m. Filer brings a veteran backfield and a question mark interior line into the fray while Shoshone, debuting under new Coach Ed Sande, has a size problem and the matter of whether the Indians still have the tough defense going for it.

In a traditional thing, The Valley Vikings, under new Coach Forrest Fonesbeck, will cross the river to give the Murtaugh Red Devils battle. The Devils apparently have lost two-year starting quarterback Stanger to a slow healing wrist injury. This cuts down on Murtaugh's strong aerial game and graduation took the one-two running combination.

Hansen, quite small but described by Coach Gordon Hogan as a bunch of hitters, faces a huge veteran squad in the Miners at Mackay Friday afternoon.

Richfield, welcoming back Coach Leroy Johnson after a three-year stay at Gooding, gets into action Friday afternoon by hosting the Wendell Jayvees.

Unheralded Flirth wins Hambletonian

DU QUOIN, ILL. (UPI) — Unheralded, Flirth won the prized Hambletonian in straight heats Wednesday, becoming only the second gelding ever to capture the classic event for 3-year-old trotters.

The Arden Homestead stable horse trotted the second fastest heat in the 48-year history of the stake, which this year boasted a record purse of $144,710, with a clocking of 1:57 1-5 in the second heat. He was timed at 1:58 2-5 in the first heat.

It was only the fifth and sixth victories for Flirth in 11 races. The horse was unraced as a 2-year-old due to physical problems.

Putting rule helps champion post win

TOLEDO, Ohio (UPI) — Defending champion Vinny Giles, taking advantage of a unique putting rule used only in match play competition, advanced to the third round of the 73rd U.S. Amateur Championship Wednesday with a three and one victory over Mickey vanGerbig of North Palm Beach, Fla.

Joining Giles with second round victories were veterans Billy Campbell, Dale Morey, Bill Hyndman III, British Amateur champ Dick Siderowf, and England's Mike Bonalack. Although Giles, 30, of Richmond, Va., never trailed in the match after jumping out to a three-hole margin after four holes, the 32-year-old vanGerbig, an attorney, battled back to be only one hole down after the 11th.

On the 12th, however, Giles made use of a match play rule which allows a golfer who is putting to take advantage of his opponent's ball position.

vanGerbig's ball stopped inches from the cup. Giles, who was about seven feet away, requested vanGerbig mark the ball and leave it there. When Giles' putt fell below the cup, it hit vanGerbig's ball which went into the hole, giving him a birdie four and the hole.

Giles made the turn in one over par 36 on the 6,816 yard, par 71, Inverness Club course and was two over par for the 17 holes he played.

Campbell, a 50-year-old insurance executive, from Huntington, W. Va., who is appearing in his 30th U.S. Amateur, got off to a running start for the second day in a row by winning his first two holes from the young Mark Tinder. After that, the 16-year-old Tinder — the youngest played quite well and made the turn only three holes down, thanks to a 20-foot putt which he made for a birdie to halve the ninth.

Campbell, however, was too tough for the youngster as he finished with birdies on both the 12th and 13th.

Ashe just advances in net meet

FOREST HILLS, N.Y. (UPI) — Arthur Ashe was forced to fight for his tennis life Wednesday in the opening round of the $227,200 U.S. Open championship which saw joint top seeds Stan Smith and Ilie Nastase advance comfortably.

All the players complained about the stifling heat with the temperature around 100 degrees on court, but Ashe, the 1968 winner and 1972 runnerup, got caught in a battle of service power before he put away Colin Dibley of Australia, 7-6, 6-7, 7-5, 6-2.

Smith, the 1971 winner and the world's No. 1 player, beat French Davis Cupper Patrick Proisy, 6-4, 5-0, retired, while Nastase, the defending titleholder from Romania, took out Humphrey Hose of Venezuela, 6-4, 6-4, 6-3.

Dibley's service, which comes off the grass at 135 miles an hour, is reported to be the fastest in the world and there was little wrong with his delivery during the first two sets which both went to the nine-point tie-break. Ashe took the first 5-3 and the lanky Australian the second, 5-2.

Mooney to defend crown in Magic Valley amateur

Mike Mooney of Pocatello, who felt he'd "backed into" last year's title, will return for a chance to repeat as Magic Valley amateur champion by storm this weekend when the event is run Saturday through Monday at the Twin Falls municipal golf course. Mooney heads a solid championship flight that will lead a full contingent of at least 200 players into the fray. Coming back for another title are ex-champions Don-Knap of Elk, Glenn Blakeley of Burley, Dr. Chick Cutler and Willie Peterson. Not to be overlooked in the field is state amateur champion J. P. Howard who is playing out of Boise.

The young turks also are represented in the field, including Gary Duncan and Kevin Packard of Twin Falls and state junior champion Bill Spencer of Burley. Jim Purves, who says his putting hasn't been of championship quality lately, and the youngsters appear "Twin Falls' best hopes of producing a home-grown champ.

Host professional Clyde Thomsen said the field of 200 is slightly over subscribed at the present time as a hedge to inevitable dropouts.

The tournament again will feature a nine-hole elimination derby at 4:30 p.m. Sunday. The low 10 scores and ties from Saturday's first round will make up the derby field.

Pairings for Saturday's opening round include:

Expos rally for four runs in ninth inning to edge Dodgers

MONTREAL (UPI) — Boots Day singled with the bases loaded and one out to cap a four-run ninth inning explosion Wednesday night and Bob Bailey drove in five runs as the Montreal Expos came from behind to down the Los Angeles Dodgers, 6-5.

With the score tied 5-5 and reliever Jim Brewer on the mound, Hal Breen hit a single and Mike Jorgensen went in as a pinch-runner. Brewer's pickoff attempt went all the way into right field and Jorgensen scooted to third base.

Intentional walks to Tim Foli and Bob Stinson loaded the bases as the Dodgers hoped to get out pinch-hitter Day.

Houston rallies to drop Cards

West may not play 14th year

LOS ANGELES (UPI) — Jeff West, 35, said Wednesday that he may not return for a 14th season with the Los Angeles Lakers although he has a year left on a two-year, $600,000 contract.

"Every player has a time in life when you can't... you don't feel like you want to continue to play," he said. "I haven't really decided what to do. "I think in any sport, the older you get, the harder it gets for you. I don't look forward to training camp and I don't think many other players do. But it does take more for me to get in shape than it has in the past."

CLEVELAND (UPI) — Steve Busby picked up his 13th victory of the season Wednesday as the Kansas City Royals took advantage of three Cleveland errors to beat the Indians 3-2 and snap a four-game losing streak.

FORECAST FOR FRIDAY, AUGUST 31, 1973

GENERAL TENDENCIES: A day when the sudden and the dramatic can be the order of things, so be prepared for almost any event that could happen. You do not need to fear anything, because the unexpected can be followed by some very agreeable and fortunate conditions. A day and evening to show your affection for others. Be happy.

ARIES (Mar. 21 to Apr. 19) Do whatever will please your associates more, even if you have to resort to dramatics. If you handle that civic affair well, you can have much acclaim now. Show you are a most ethical person.

AURUS (Apr. 20 to May 20) Ideal day to get into that specialized work you want to do for fine results. Give a co-worker backing for some worthwhile project he has in mind. This will bring you benefits later.

GEMINI (May 21 to June 21) Plan a little extra time for some possible invitation that may come your way that you may find delightful. Show mate the better side of your nature and get along much better. Avoid one who is a known troublemaker.

MOON CHILDREN (June 22 to July 21) Something unexpected may occur today that is hardly to your liking but then turns into a real opportunity for you to advance. Entertaining some very successful person at home is wise.

LEO (July 22 to Aug. 21) Keep busy telephoning or calling on those people you like who can be helpful to you in some venture. You can take care of problems most intelligently and quickly now. Think Grow.

VIRGO (Aug. 22 to Sept. 22) Plan both how to add to prosperity and how to handle what you have more intelligently. Take positive steps and get that practical affair operating wisely. You can handle money matters wisely now.

LIBRA (Sept. 23 to Oct. 22) You're full of charm and can now get in touch with persons who can help you progress much faster with right results. Plan social affairs far into the future. Accept an invitation extended you for the p.m.

SCORPIO (Oct. 23 to Nov. 21) Get into those private dealings with others that can make your future more successful. Enter into the right spirit of things for good results. Take time to listen to your radio more and be better informed.

SAGITTARIUS (Nov. 22 to Dec. 21) Plan some time for the sports you like in the company of good pals. Sit down with a good friend and talk over how you can become more successful in the future. Avoid one who has an eye on your job assets.

CAPRICORN (Dec. 22 to Jan. 20) You are able to contact that higher-up now and show your finest capabilities for that special work you want. An official gives the support you need, also. Make this a banner day, p.m.

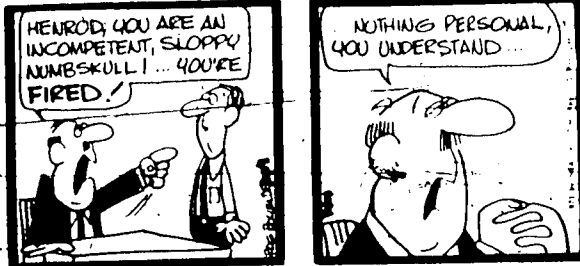

AQUARIUS (Jan. 21 to Feb. 19) You have new ideas that should be put in operation quickly and well in a.m. Be sure to make the right associations that can be helpful. You get a letter that can be most important to your welfare. Answer it quickly.

PISCES (Feb. 20 to Mar. 20) Follow your intuition so you can get into the right path of progress right now, and be more willing to work harder. You can come to a fine understanding with mate now. Follow suggestions given.

IF YOUR CHILD IS BORN TODAY... he or she will be one of those young persons endowed with many talents who should be given as fine an education as possible so the life becomes successful. Guide intelligently and teach to cooperate with others more. There is much ability to deal with large groups, whether in corporations, in public office, the theater, clubs, etc. Much happiness is possible in marriage and with friends. Spiritual training early. The Stars impel they do not compel. What you make of your life is largely up to YOU!

Dietrich school enrollment down

DIETRICH — There are 103 students enrolled in the Dietrich school system this fall, Superintendent Wayne Perron reported Tuesday.

The figure is down four from last year's 107 enrolled although a few students usually do enroll later in the fall.

Of the 103, 69 are in the grade school and 34 in the high school, compared to 64 in the grade school last year and 43 in the high school.

There are some new courses offered in the school this year, according to Perron. These include a general business class and chemistry for the high school as well as boys and girls lifetime sports. There are 28 classes taught in the high school.

In the grade school, new this year are one day each week of music and art and physical education two days each week. Perron also said there would be a teachers' reception 8 p.m. Sept. 4 at the lunch room. This is sponsored by the Dietrich school and Boosters.

There will be no school Monday, Labor Day, and a football game will be played at 2 p.m. Sept. 7, at Rockland.

Students down at Shoshone

SHOSHONE — School enrollment at Shoshone this week showed a decline of 21 students over last year's first day registration.

Supt. Kenneth Crothers said there were 149 elementary students enrolled compared to 157 last year; 74 in the junior high, compared to 79 last year and 149 High School, compared to 157 a year ago.

There may be a few other students who will register this week, Crothers said, as is often the case the first few days after school starts.

There will be no school in Shoshone Monday, Labor Day, and the first football game of the season will be at 2 p.m. on Friday, Aug. 31, at Filer.

Heyburn man given scholarship

BOISE — Clay E. Harrison, Heyburn, has been selected by the Idaho Water Users Association to receive its $1,000 scholarship being awarded to an outstanding college student in Idaho.

Harrison is the son of Mr. and Mrs. H. A. Harrison Jr., and was raised on an irrigated farm in the A and B Irrigation District. He is a graduate of Mindoka High School and attends the University of Idaho where he will continue studies in farm and ranch management this fall.

He has been active in FFA, 4-H and the Idaho Junior Hereford Association. With his brother, in addition to working the family farm, he has, for two years, operated a 100 acre irrigated farm.

Legal help

MOSCOW — Melvin C. Edwards, Twin Falls senior law student at the University of Idaho, will be providing free legal assistance to poor persons.

Edwards, together with William C. Suart, Gooding, will staff the Lewis-Clark Legal Services, Inc. office from 2-5 p.m. Tuesdays and Thursdays. Suart and Edwards, who earn academic credit for their work, make no charge for their services and only will handle non-criminal matters such as marital relations, consumer protection, landlord-tenant relations and credit transactions.

The legal services program is financed by the Office of Economic Opportunity and has been in existence at the university since 1969.

Sen. Church puts priority on getting wilderness area

BOISE (UPI) — Idaho's senior U.S. senator Wednesday said he placed high priority on establishing a wilderness area in central Idaho, combining the main stream of the Salmon with the Salmon breaks.

Sen. Frank Church told a news conference he is "strongly of the view" that the main stream Salmon should be combined with the Middle Fork as wild and scenic rivers.

He said joining the wild rivers with a primitive area in the Salmon River breaks "would go far toward completing our wilderness area and would not trespass on our working forests."

Church said some areas such as Hells Canyon also could be added to the wilderness (and wild rivers classifications but he would not favor inclusion of any area subject to lumbering or grazing.

However, he said he does not consider it feasible to include the St. Joe River as a wild river because the North Idaho river passes through tracts of private land. It is impractical to include the St. Joe, he said, where the bank land owners oppose its inclusion.

"The cost involved in buying scenic easement would be prohibitive because of the limited funds available for the wilderness program," he said. On other topics, Church said: "Congress can regain its powers but needs a period of 'prolonged peace.'"

Grand Opening of Salmon Run

Salmon River Properties

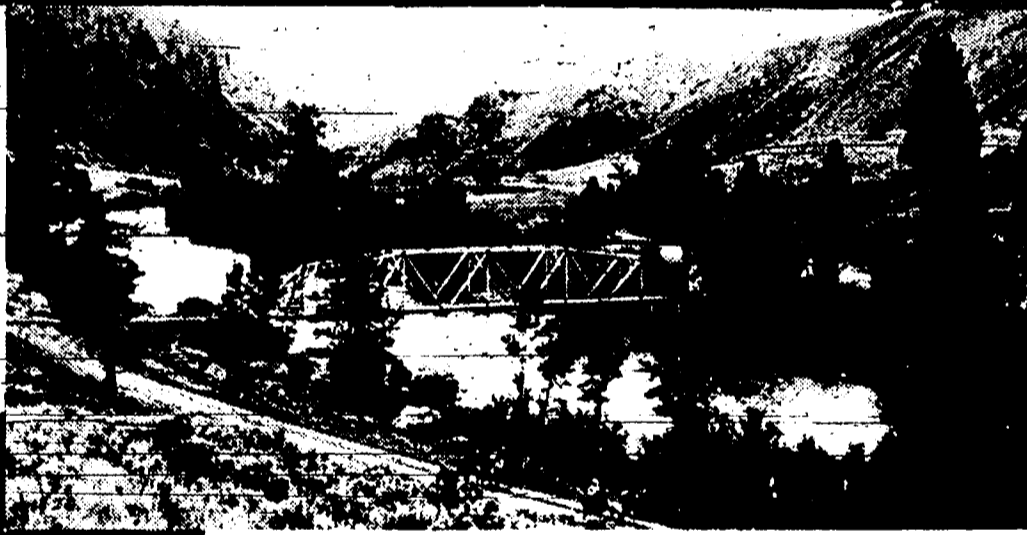

SAT. SEPT. 1 SUN. SEPT. 2 MON. LABOR DAY

Want to be a river runner? Take a float trip with us — free — down the Salmon River Rush through white water, around sudden curves, through boiling rapids. Then glide into smooth slicks where you can catch your breath and revel in the scenery!

It's spine tingling excitement but perfectly safe, even for the kids. Our giant river raft, the Tower Queen is manned by old hands at making the run.

The occasion? We're celebrating the Grand Opening of Salmon Run on the Salmon River, just 20 miles from the city of Salmon. Now, we know we don't have to brag up the Salmon River to fellow Idahoans. Chances are you've fished here during our salmon and steelhead runs. But did you ever think you could own your own cabin or camper site, right on the river, where you can enjoy the fishing and hunting and relaxing here, all year around? Well, we've got a magnificent array of sites available. Some right on the waterfront. Some a little back a couple of hundred feet or so. But all have easy boat launching access to the river.

And that's what all the excitement is about! Pile the family in the car and over the long, three end. You'll have a lot of fun and you'll have first crack at some beautiful, private cabin sites!

—And just to make things festive —

FREE REFRESHMENTS

Snacks and cold drinks served every day

FREE WAGON RIDES

Take a tour of the countryside in an old style wagon. The kids will love it!

SOME LUCKY LOT BUYER WILL WIN A LIVE STEER

Lot buyers needn't be present to win! Drawing at 4 o'clock on Labor Day. You could win a lot of prime steaks, roasts and ribs. Delivered on the hoof!

COME EARLY FOR THE BEST CHOICE OF SITES

Nestled in the heart of some of the most beautiful country in Idaho, Salmon Run is open country, surrounded by national forests — and it's going to stay that way!

This is the place for real outdoor people to build a cabin, park a camper or trailer, or pitch a tent.

Plenty of fishing, fabulous hunting, horseback riding — even panning for gold — right in the area. Williams Lake is only 10 miles away. And, of course, at night your lullaby is the murmur of the river. That sudden splash? Roll over and go to sleep. It's just a lunker, night feeding. He'll probably be right there, waiting for you, in the morning.

That whet your appetite? Then, get up here over the Labor Day weekend. We're only telling Idaho residents about our Grand Opening. It's only fair that you have first chance!

Let us know you're coming so we can prepare our snacks and cold drinks.
