

Nixon hits Congress

WASHINGTON (UPI) — President Nixon charged Congress Wednesday with a "very disappointing" performance and said he will send it a new State of the Union message next Monday calling for inflation-fighting budgets, except in defense, and enactment of proposals for meeting the energy crisis.

Nixon's remarks at a televised press conference were made at a time Democratic leaders are offering the olive branch in a new spirit of bipartisanship. Democratic leaders used such phrases as "grossly unfair" and shot back his "very disappointing" label in responding to Nixon's assessment of Congress' performance. House and Senate Democrats went ahead with a meeting this morning to map a priority schedule while GOP leaders met with Nixon at the White House on the same subject.

A presidential aide said today that public response to the Nixon news conference, based on telephone calls and telegrams to the White House, was very favorable. Republican supporters in Congress and elsewhere gave him excellent marks.

While asserting that spending proposals before Congress would "bust the budget to the tune of at least $6 billion," Nixon said cuts in the $80 billion-plus defense requests would be a "fatal mistake" and would put the United States in a position of negotiating nuclear arms limitations with the Soviet Union in a "second class" position.

Back in form and displaying poise in a 35-minute tilt with reporters in the gold draped East Room, the President confessed his economic advisers "have not been very good" in their predictions and said he would be "misleading the public" if he forecast when inflation would start to recede.

"We are doing everything that we think should be done, and that can be done to stop inflation without bringing on a recession and that is the name of the game," he said.

Some benefits may flow from increased food, supplies and controls over the next few months, he said.

Guerrillas skip out

PARIS (UPI) — Franco permitted five Palestinian guerrillas to fly to an unnamed Arab country today with six Arab diplomats as hostages, more than 24 hours after they seized the Saudi Arabian embassy in a bid to free guerrilla leader jailed in Jordan.

The guerrillas released four women hostages before proceeding to the airport in a minibus, accompanied by Arab diplomats and a single police car. But dozens of uniformed and plainclothes police mingled at the airport which was shut off to all other air traffic.

Millions of Frenchmen watched the plane liftoff via a television broadcast from the airport in north Paris. Interior Minister Raymond Marcellin appeared glad to have the problem out of his hands. "I am reassured. I can tell you I did not sleep very much," he said.

A total of 786 of the 1,402 registered voters went to the polls and dropped 493 no ballots and 293 yes ballots into boxes at three Burley precincts. The proposal, which needed a simple majority of votes to pass, received only 37 per cent of the total votes.

BPA may cut energy deliveries

High on the meeting discussion list is the long-range implementation of the hydro-thermal power program, he said. The difficulty comes because of an inability to carry forward the regional program, or its equivalent, past 1981 "unless an alternate method of financing can be devised."

Under discussion at the present time is a four-point program, any of which could change the entire BPA concept. All these will be thoroughly reviewed and discussed at the Burley session.

Open house set for area woman

KIMBERLY — Mention the name Mildred Gill and anyone who ever cashed a check in the east end of Twin Falls County knows who you are talking about.

To prove it, there will be a Mildred Gill Day in the east end area Friday in honor of a young lady with half a century of banking experience to her credit.

Miss Gill, a resident of Kimberly and now teller and assistant cashier at the Kimberly Branch, Twin Falls Bank and Trust, will retire Friday after more than 50 years of banking service, 40 of it with the Bank and Trust.

Friday will be Miss Mildred Gill Day in Murtaugh, Hansen and Kimberly with an open house at the bank. Friends are invited to attend and have cake and coffee with the honored guest.

Miss Gill, whose parents came to the county in 1909, has lived here since that time. Her father was a blacksmith and later a garage mechanic, and a brother still operates the business in Kimberly.

Miss Gill began work in the Bank of Kimberly in 1920 and remained there until 1933 with three years off for illness and schooling.

In 1933 she began working for the Twin Falls Bank and Trust in Twin Falls. For 18 years she commuted from Kimberly to Twin Falls every day for work. When the Bank and Trust opened the branch in HAILY — The Blaine County school district tentatively anticipates an enrollment increase of about 40 to 50 students over last year.

According to assistant superintendent Ray Jefferson, figures on the extent of the increase cannot be readily determined while students continue to register at Wood River High School and other schools.

In estimating enrollment changes, Jefferson compared current enrollment figures with those of Sept. 22, 1972.

The major student increases are felt in the first grade classes.

Bellevue Elementary currently reports 62 first graders, a five student increase over last year. The two first grade sections at Hemingway Elementary, Ketchum, increased by 10 students, with a total of 66 first graders this year.

Total enrollment at Bellevue increased by 13 students over last year's 287 students. The largest class currently is the fifth grade, with 84 students.

Total enrollment at Hemingway increased by 23 students, with a total current enrollment of 310.

The Wood River Junior High School, Haily, reports an increase of 11 students and a total current enrollment of 274. The sixth grade shows the largest gain with 15 students over last year.

A larger increase at the junior high was apparently mitigated this year by the initiation of the independent, Ketchum-Sun Valley Community School which reports an enrollment of 32 sixth through ninth grade students.

According to headmaster Sam Hazard, all but one of the community school students attended district schools last year.

At Wood River High School, Haily, current enrollment figures are not available because of the continuing registration.

However, Jefferson said that principal John Burton has expressed confidence that enrollment will exceed last year's 405 students.

The Carey School, with first through 12th graders, shows a slight decrease of nine students with a current enrollment of 244 compared to 253 last year. The elementary grades decreased by seven students, the junior high by 56 and the high school grades gained three students.

The Haily learning center shows a current enrollment of 10 students compared to 14 last year.

A thought for the day, British writer Lytton Strachey said, "Perhaps of all the creations of man language is the most astonishing."

Travel is not new to her. She has been in every state in the U.S., including three trips to Alaska, several to Hawaii, and has visited most of Canada and Cuba as well as Mexico.

She plans to continue living in Kimberly where she owns her own home but after her trip she says, "I have no idea what I am going to do."

Miss Gill is a member of the Twin Falls Business and Professional Women, the Readers Guild and Kimberly Methodist Church.

Fred Harder, manager of the Kimberly Branch, said she will be missed as much as she will miss her work. He said her knowledge of the residents of the East End and the banking business has been a big help.

Miss Gill has been presented a certificate of appreciation signed by the three mayors who officially proclaimed Mildred Gill Day Friday. These include Von Nebeker, Kimberly; Harold Miller Jr., Hansen; and LaVere Bennett, Murtaugh.

MILDRED GILL to retire

Remain critical

TWIN FALLS — Two Twin Falls county youths injured in a two-vehicle south of Buhl Tuesday afternoon, remain in critical condition today at Magic Valley Memorial Hospital.

They are Carl Blackwood, 19, Filer, and Mark Heaps, 18, Buhl. A third person, William John Reynolds, 31, Buhl, is reported in fair condition by hospital officials.

Reynolds was driving a milk truck north on a county road five miles south and one mile east of Buhl when it collided at an intersection with a Green Giant Co. pickup truck believed to be driven by the Blackwood youth. He and Heaps both are employed by the firm.

Future Hope

Russian physicist Andrei I. Sakharov has been called the "father of the Soviet hydrogen bomb."

uncontrollable bureaucratic machine... He described the Soviet Union as a country "where anything that happens may be shielded from outside eyes."

Reality was one of the things Russia's leading dissident told Western newsmen in a courageous interview in his Moscow apartment...

But beyond this minimum partly expressed in at least one resolution pending in Congress on behalf of Russian Jews...

The best hope lies in the growing number of Russian dissidents, not all of whom, unfortunately, have been permitted to speak as freely...

These brave, decent men must be given every possible moral support which we, who are pleased to call ourselves the free world, can give them.

(c) New York Times Service WASHINGTON - In the days since he was nominated to be the 67th Secretary of State, Henry Kissinger has arranged a series of intensive discussions with the most experienced former and present leaders of the State Department and the foreign service.

This gesture to the old pros is obviously good manners and good public relations, but it is more than that. It is an attempt to rescue many useful men from the isolation of their private lives...

Meanwhile, in these days when thoughtful minds in Washington are trying to learn the lessons of past blunders and tragedies, it may be that this reaching-out for help to men who have been here before could have a wider and even a more formal application.

Why, in these difficult next three-and-a-half years of the Nixon administration, should this effort to find common approaches to common national problems not be applied to other departments and agencies of the government...

The principle of inviting the cooperation of past officials was recognized in the '60s when former presidents were given the right to speak in the Senate without a vote.

President John Quincy Adams demonstrated after his overwhelming defeat by Andrew Jackson in 1829, how a man can continue his public service if he puts the interests of the nation above personal pride.

Like most ex-presidents and affective and energetic cabinet members, John Q. found retirement a relief, but after a while it bore, so he ran for the House of Representatives in 1830...

1830, was elected and re-elected - right times, and according to his biographer, W. C. Ford, "he entered upon 17 years of influence and combat which made his Congressional service unique, and quite the most important part of his career."

Well, we have lost both Lyndon Johnson and Harry Truman in the last year, but on the whole we have also been losing the advice and experience of many former cabinet members who are still active, probably wiser and more objective than when they were in office here, but who have been unused and uninvited to return.

Of course, some of these former lions are invited to White House dinners and occasionally people like Douglas Dillon and Joe Fowler are asked to use their experience as former secretaries of the treasury on committees to study the sickness of the dollar.

country's experienced men and women, with or without previous high office in Washington, is a little sad. The opportunity is recognized in theory. The old boys are put on committees, old or young, they usually work very hard, but their reports on the whole are filed and forgotten.

So what to do? At least, the bad habit of appointing amateurs to the cabinet and then ignoring them when they resign - usually just when they have learned their jobs - is not ideal or very sensible.

Usually, these men come to Washington and are confronted with more work and problems than they can understand, then leave for more private freedom than they can bear, and are forgotten just when they might do some useful public service in their private lives.

This is a very old story in Washington. Back in 1920, in his revised edition of "The American Commonwealth," Lord Bryce wrote a wise and critical chapter on "Why The Best Men Do Not Go Into Politics" in the United States, and what he had to say then about the danger of public life.

is much more apparent now after Watergate. Nevertheless, if we cannot get our very best minds to come to Washington, at least we should be able to hold on to the men who do, to appoint permanent under secretaries of the departments from the civil service who can carry on from one administration or crisis to the next, and then call back the former cabinet officers for a regular consultation, instead of giving them a formal farewell letter and tossing them on the scrap heap.

Walter Lippmann once suggested that former cabinet members should be given nonvoting privileges to speak in the House of Representatives; just as former Presidents may now do in the Senate. But this is probably expecting too much. Kissinger seems to be searching for a compromise. He is expanding the area of consultation with the old pros and the young foreign service rebels, and if his notions were put on a more regular basis, it might ease the tensions between the generations and between the pros and the amateurs.

Pentagon Flunks Weapons Tests

WASHINGTON (NEA) - There's much in the news these days about major Soviet advances in intercontinental missiles, warships and submarines. But equally alarming is information leaking out in bits and pieces on weaknesses and possible unknown weaknesses, in a range of U. S. weapons...

Unpublicized Pentagon studies, made at the request of Congress, raise questions as to both the reliability and vulnerability in actual war conditions of weapons on which this country would depend in a crisis.

Back in July 1970, the blue ribbon panel found that Pentagon testing of new weapons is inadequate. There was, of course, development testing by the contractors, but the Defense Department rather consistently fumbled when it came to operational testing of new weapons in a realistic simulated combat environment.

Note these admissions in recent Pentagon statements to congressional committees: Our testing ranges have still not been "structured" to permit realistic multi-aircraft operational test and evaluation.

Before Vietnam, we expected AA (antiaircraft) guns to have only limited effect against attacking aircraft. Yet we lost heavily to such guns.

Recent evidence suggests that while some improvements have been made in testing and more planned, the Department of Defense has not made the progress it should have in this matter. As a result, we have met up with unhappy surprises in Vietnam and are likely to have more rude shocks if we ever become engaged in a nuclear war for our existence.

Most radar bombing accuracy tables are based on drops made in open ranges against uncluttered radar reflectors. When our focus is in Southeast Asia attempted such missions, errors were normally much larger than expected.

Laser-guided "smart" bombs were a sensation in the closing weeks of American participation in the Vietnam war. It is known theoretically that countermeasures are possible. Yet the Department of Defense has not yet run realistic tests to determine how vulnerable these new weapons may be. Testing is planned

The Air Force needs more realistic operational terminal-guidance information on radar-guided and infrared homing air-to-air missiles for producing improved missile design.

Better testing in all these areas is promised - in the future. After failures and deaths and widespread reports of ineffectiveness or possible future weaknesses. This time we were up against an enemy with a paucity of technically advanced weapons (with some noted exceptions). The time for testing, as the blue ribbon panel noted - and they meant rigorous battle condition simulation - was before purchase. Certainly before purchase in any quantity and most certainly before widespread use in actual war.

The Limp Blimp

Another tradition's just been shot. Etymologists have just discovered the real origin of the word "blimp" - a non-rigid airship.

For years it was assumed to be a contraction of the military designation of the World War I airship known as "Blimp, Type B, limp." Many have been inordinately proud of this useless bit of information. Now the bubble (or balloon) has burst.

Writing to the word specialists, British Air Commodore Sir Victor Goddard said he was inspecting a blimp in a British hangar when he originated the word. The hangar had a deep recess for the cab and as he walked by Sir Victor was on a level with the envelope.

He flicked the gasbag with his thumb and an odd noise echoed from the fabric. Later that evening, telling the story in the officers' mess, he imitated the sound as "Blim!"

Mr. Spectator would point out that perhaps this is a better version after all.

A THOUGHT New York and Hollywood are full of unemployed ex-television "stars," but what they are unemployed from shows no sign of improvement.

GEORGE C. THOSTESON, M.D.

The Doctor Says - Sonic Scan

Dear Dr. Thosteson: Recently I had an ultra-sonic scan as I am six months pregnant. I saw the pictures and started to wonder about the position of the fetus. The baby's body was in the middle and the head up near my ribs. The baby facing back. Is this a breech position? My doctor did not mention anything to me. This is my fourth child. - P. N. Yes, this is a breech position now. But that doesn't mean that you necessarily will have a brooch delivery. The fetus can change position as the time of delivery approaches.

Your doctor is quite aware of this possibility, and that is doubtless why he made no comments.

The ultra-sonic scan not only shows the position of the fetus but also accurately locates the placenta, and this procedure is sometimes ordered because of symptoms and sometimes in anticipation of delivery.

Dear Dr. Thosteson: Would you explain a troubled stomach (intestinal hernia)? Is there a cure with diets or medicine? When the pain comes it is very severe. - Mrs. C.R.A.

Intestinal hernia is only one of several types of stomach distress, but it is a very common one. The upper part of the stomach pushes a bit upward through the gap in the diaphragm through which the esophagus passes.

Treatment - both diet and medication - very much resembles treatment of an ulcer. (The pain is very similar, too.) But losing excess weight, to ease pressure from within the abdomen, also is important. For detailed information, see my booklet, "HINTS - HERNIA and Eight Ways to Combat It." For a copy send 25 cents for printing and handling, and a long self-addressed, stamped envelope to me in care of Times-News.

Dear Dr. Thosteson: My daughter lives in a house where the water is all softened with a water softener. No hard water to cook with or drink. Is this good for health? I am worried. - M. B. B.

What worries you? The only risk I am aware of would affect only certain individuals. Since some softeners work by substituting sodium for the minerals that make the water

"hard," such softened water should not be used by anyone who is on a low-salt diet. But there would be no harm to anyone else.

Dear Dr. Thosteson: I noticed what I thought was a lump in my breast and immediately went to my gynecologist who diagnosed it as a thickening, something to do with hormones.

He reassured me it is nothing to worry about. He also told me not to push on it as that might only make it more tender and sore.

Would you explain this? - Mrs. P.W.C.

Women sometimes get cysts in the ducts of some of the breast glands, and this is probably what your doctor is referring to as a thickening. The size and the degree of tenderness would increase during the menstrual period because more hormones are being secreted at such times. Thus his reference to hormones.

Note to G.A.S.: Crab lice are picked up from other people who have them - either directly, or via bedding, borrowed clothing, and such. Or, unlike venereal disease, from unsanitary toilets. There are effective lotions to get rid of them, but the most effective ones require a prescription.

Bed-wetting is a distressing problem if your child has the habit, write to Dr. Thosteson in care of this newspaper for a copy of his helpful booklet, "Enuresis - Ton Ways To Stop Bed-Wetting." Please enclose a long, self-addressed (use zip code), stamped envelope and 20 cents in coin to cover cost of printing and handling.

Dr. Thosteson is delighted to receive letters from his readers.

Nixon won't reveal plan

WASHINGTON (UPI) — President Nixon says he will not reveal in advance what course he will follow in the event the grand jury investigation into Maryland corruption leads to Vice President Spiro T. Agnew's indictment or resignation.

Nor, said Nixon, will he reveal what discussions were held or decisions reached Saturday at his two-hour meeting with Agnew—a session which was held at Agnew's request and which forced Nixon to curtail his California stay and to return to the East's White House.

At his news conference Wednesday, Nixon said it would infringe Agnew's rights for him to discuss "hypothetical" questions arising from the criminal investigation of Agnew in Baltimore into possible violation of tax, conspiracy, bribery and extortion laws.

Nixon repeated his expression of confidence in Agnew's integrity but limited it, as he had during his news conference two weeks earlier, to the period when he knew Agnew—not the period under investigation. "I expressed my confidence in the vice president's integrity during the period when he served as vice president, during which I have known him,"

Nixon said. "But I decline to comment on those questions which were purely hypothetical and which would be a grave infringement upon the rights of the vice president."

Nixon ignored a third question about Agnew—whether the President will have any part in any future legal moves against the vice president.

Attorney General Elliot L. Richardson has said he alone will decide whether a grand jury constitutionally is able to indict a vice president, and, if so, whether the information gathered in the Baltimore investigation is sufficient to present to the grand jury for an indictment.

The jury since January has been looking into kickbacks and bribes paid to Maryland officials by consulting engineering firms which received millions of dollars worth of contracts without competitive bidding.

The constitutional question arises because the constitution's language is unclear. It says a president, vice president or judge may be impeached, convicted and removed from office and "shall nevertheless be liable and subject to indictment, trial, judgment and punishment according to law."

Gang fires on women marchers

SANTIAGO, Chile (UPI) — Gangs of leftist youths, fist-flying and guns blazing, attacked tens of thousands of women marchers Wednesday night in an attempt to smash a massive, middle-class protest against the Marxist government of President Salvador Allende.

Authorities fired hundreds of tear gas shells to keep the youths from hurting the women, but some of the leftists managed to break through police lines and pounce on the frightened marchers. Witnesses estimated about 50 persons were injured during the clashes, but there was no official police report on casualties. Many women were lying along the march route, but most appeared to have fainted. UPI messenger Jaime Canales said his brother, Oscar, and a friend, Gregorio Garcia, were shot when a group of leftist young men opened fire on the marching women along Alameda O'Higgins, Santiago's main thoroughfare.

"I was delivering a photo with my brother and Gregorio," Canales said. "We were near a column of marchers. All of a sudden I saw two fellows pull out pistols and start shooting at the column. My brother was hit in the head and Gregorio was hit in the shoulder."

Organizers claimed 500,000 women shouting "Get out! Get out!" took part in the giant march to Santiago's Catholic University to demand the overthrow of the three-year-old Allende regime.

There was no official figure on the size of the march, however, and witnesses said it was hard to make an accurate estimate because of the fighting and tear gas.

Communist and Socialist women staged a rival rally in front of the Presidential Palace to repudiate the anti-government march, but it was poorly attended.

Nixon aides file appeal

WASHINGTON (UPI) — Though President Nixon refused to say he would obey the Supreme Court on the issue, he instructed his lawyers to file an appeal today on the District Court order instructing the president to yield his secret Watergate-related tape recordings for judicial inspection. The appeal comes on the final day that Chief U.S. District Court Judge John J. Sirica allowed them.

The Senate Watergate committee asked Sirica Wednesday to speed proceedings in its separate suit to get the tapes by holding a hearing Sept. 12. The White House simultaneously asked Sirica to delay the hearing until Sept. 24. At his news conference Wednesday, Nixon acknowledged that he had taken a "hard line" on the tapes and that "we are going to fight the tape issue."

If any," Nixon said. "It would not be appropriate for me to comment on whether an order would be definitive or not. I will simply say that as far as I am concerned, we are going to fight the tape issue." He stated again the White House position that to release the tapes would harm the constitutional separation of power and "seriously jeopardize" the President's confidentiality with his advisers. He also seemed to hint that if he wins his case in the Supreme Court he might voluntarily disclose the contents of the tapes, which he contended again, saying that he did not know about the Watergate cover-up.

Split backed

WASHINGTON (UPI) — There is growing support for a proposal to split the Senate Watergate committee hearings into two separate probes.

The committee will decide next week whether to divide itself into two subcommittees, one to investigate "dirty tricks," the other, campaign financing.

Three members back the plan, which would speed up the committee's work, and probably have the incidental effect of ending live television broadcasts of the hearings.

In a related development, Sen. Robert Dole, R-Kan., introduced a resolution Wednesday to end the public hearings by the committee. Dole, a former GOP national chairman, urged Congress to turn its attention to inflation and other problems and said the hearings should be held in executive session.

Sen. Herman Talmadge, D-Ga., proposed splitting the committee into two groups to speed up the hearings. Howard Baker of Tennessee, the Republican vice chairman, and Sen. Edward J. Gurney, R-Fla., have endorsed the plan.

A number of major staff members on the committee oppose the plan on the ground that it would mean the end of television coverage. Chairman Sam Ervin has not expressed his feeling on the issue, but wants the hearings to end by Nov. 1.

Sen. Lowell Weicker, R-Conn., said in an interview he is undecided on the plan, but favors a speed-up.

San Francisco bus drivers strike, children wait

Disputes disrupt classes

United Press International — Labor disputes have disrupted the first week of autumn classes in at least 10 states. Some school districts told students to come to class only when the teachers show up or not.

In Michigan, the hardest hit state, teachers in 31 school districts including Detroit were on strike but school officials ordered Detroit schools to try to stay open today despite the absence of some 10,000 teachers, using supervisory and administrative personnel.

Several other Michigan districts also held teacherless classes while contract negotiations were in progress.

Other states experiencing labor problems in public schools included Illinois, Tennessee, Wisconsin, Rhode Island, New York, Connecticut, Pennsylvania, Ohio and California, where a strike of school bus drivers reduced attendance in San Francisco.

Teachers have taken hard bargaining stands in many districts, but school boards have generally chosen to weather the strikes rather than give in.

Inflation spread worries America

WASHINGTON (UPI) — Soaring prices at supermarkets and spreading inflation on all fronts are giving Americans deeper and deeper concern. Nothing else even comes close.

For more than a month, senators and congressmen have been home, listening to the problems of their constituents.

East, West, North, and South, the answer has been the same.

"Prices, prices and prices," is the way Assistant Senate Republican Leader Robert P. Griffin of Michigan put it.

A random survey by UPI showed almost every member of Congress queried returned to Congress this week with the same pulse-beat.

"Other problems" were mentioned, of course.

The Watergate scandal is a hot topic.

The mortgage crunch and the higher interest rates are also causing concern.

Mention is also made of a possible fuel shortage in the winter, the shortage of beef, school busing and even the forest fires out west.

Sen. Richard S. Schweiker, R-Pa., said food prices and inflation were without doubt the main gripes he encountered.

"I don't think there is anything close to it," Schweiker said.

Schweiker said he asked groups ranging from factory workers to senior citizens what the solution should be.

"Unfortunately, they were as frustrated and lost as most of the government is," Schweiker added.

"I've never stopped pushing a shopping cart," Sen. Lowell P. Weicker, R-Conn., said, "and food prices are too high for everyone."

Sen. Daniel K. Inouye, D-Hawaii, said housewives are "getting a bit irritated, mad."

Rep. Ogden Reid, D-N.Y., said "runaway food prices" are the number one issue.

Beef shortage threat gone in most cities

United Press International — With a week to go until the freeze on meat prices is lifted, it appears that the threat of a beef shortage has been met in many cities. Most stores have been able to keep their meat counters stocked, if not full.

The limit on meat prices that has been in effect since mid-June ends Sept. 12. Many cattlemen have been holding their animals back from market until then, but supermarket operators surveyed by United Press International said they did not expect a big boost in prices.

By the end of September, said Jack Evans, vice president of A.W. Cullum Co., of Dallas, "I feel everything will be normal, except maybe for price. Of course, we hope the market will adjust itself downward by then."

In a prediction that was typical of those surveyed, he said, "Personally, I see a small upsurge in prices after the 12th and then I think it will level off."

Many supermarkets have gone in for buying live cattle and having it custom slaughtered, among them the Ralph's organization, which owns 75 stores in California. A spokesman said the Ralph's stores have "full displays" of beef.

A spokesman for the American Meat Institute in Chicago said earlier fears of an almost total lack of beef proved unfounded. "We were predicting a complete dry-up," he said, "but custom slaughtering changed that picture markedly."

Indiana prison cells secured by guards

MICHIGAN CITY, Ind. (UPI) — The last of three cellblocks taken over by rebelling prisoners at the Indiana State Penitentiary was secured Wednesday afternoon by prison guards backed up by riot-equipped state troopers.

Warden Hugh "Big Boy" Cash said the prison would not return to normal for at least two weeks. Guards continued a headcount to make sure no prisoners escaped during the riot at the prison that started Sunday.

Inmates remained locked in their cells.

Prisoners took three guards hostage Sunday and used them as a lever in negotiations of their demands, which included amnesty. The prisoners also demanded to talk with newsmen about conditions at the prison that they wanted improved. The guards were released unharmed Monday.

Probation violated

SHOSHONE — Danny Stover is back in the Lincoln County jail on violation of his probation.
Stover was told to leave the county upon release after serving one month of his six month jail sentence for disturbing the peace. He left town when released last month, then returned.
Magistrate Nancy Haddock said he will now serve the remaining jail sentence.
Stover was originally arrested in July after a complaint was signed by Mrs. Dora Turaka, owner of the Shoshone Ice Caves Service Station north of Shoshone.

Camper demolished

SHOSHONE — A 1960 camper being pulled behind a pickup-camper was demolished when it broke loose from the pickup and rolled over south of Shoshone Tuesday night.
State Patrolman Leslie Stimpson said the driver, Mrs. Pearl May Dietrich, 64, started to pull around another vehicle as she was traveling south on US-Highway 93, when noticing another car, she pulled back, lost control of the pickup and drove off the road on the right. It was then the camper pulled off and rolled.
The driver was not injured. She was cited for driving while intoxicated.

Blaine sets blood drawing

HAILEY — The fall Blaine County Blood Drawing has been scheduled for 2 to 6 p.m. Tuesday at the St. Charles Parish Hall, Hailey.
According to Rita Hogg, publicity aide, about eight county residents need replacement donations, including Mrs. Thelma Early, Hagley. Mrs. Early is presently recovering from open heart surgery at St. Luke's Hospital, Boise.
Quota for the drawing is 100 pints. Mrs. Hogg said the summer drawing set a record with 135 donors.
The drawing will be staged by the Blaine County Hospital Auxiliary. Chairwoman is Norma Fica.

Man faces embezzlement charges

BOISE (UPI) — A loan officer for the Federal Credit Union at Mountain Home Air Force Base is scheduled to appear in U. S. District Court next Tuesday on charges of embezzlement.
Gordon Leroy Harm, Boise, is accused of 15 counts of embezzling funds from the Credit Union. An indictment against him alleges he converted $11,766 to his own use between July 30, 1970 and Nov. 22, 1971.
Harm was manager of the Credit Union during the time the government alleges he took the money.

Accident injures 2

TWIN FALLS — Two persons injured in a traffic accident near Buhl Wednesday are listed in good condition today in Magic Valley Memorial Hospital.
Hospital officials identified the injured as Mrs. Yvonne Garber, 39, Stanfield, Ore., and Delbert Kappell, 33, Union Town, Wash. The woman was being treated for severe scalp lacerations and Kappell for facial lacerations and a fractured collar bone.
The accident reportedly occurred at a rural intersection near Buhl. Twin Falls county sheriff's officers are investigating.

Magic reservoir down

SHOSHONE — Magic Reservoir contains 45,500 acre feet of water, Leon Grieve, manager of the Big Wood Canal Company, said today.
Last year the reservoir contained 166,600 acre feet of water.
At the Big Wood Board of Directors meeting this week Tuesday, the board decided not to allow extra water this year since the reservoir is so low. They felt that any water saved at this point might be used to better advantage if next year happens to be short.
From the last Snake River water report of August 31, American Falls contained 230,000 acre feet of water. The Big Wood Board decided that American Falls water would be shut off Sept. 30.
A newsletter will be sent to water users explaining the events concerning the new American Falls dam and the costs incurred by it.

Washington couple dies

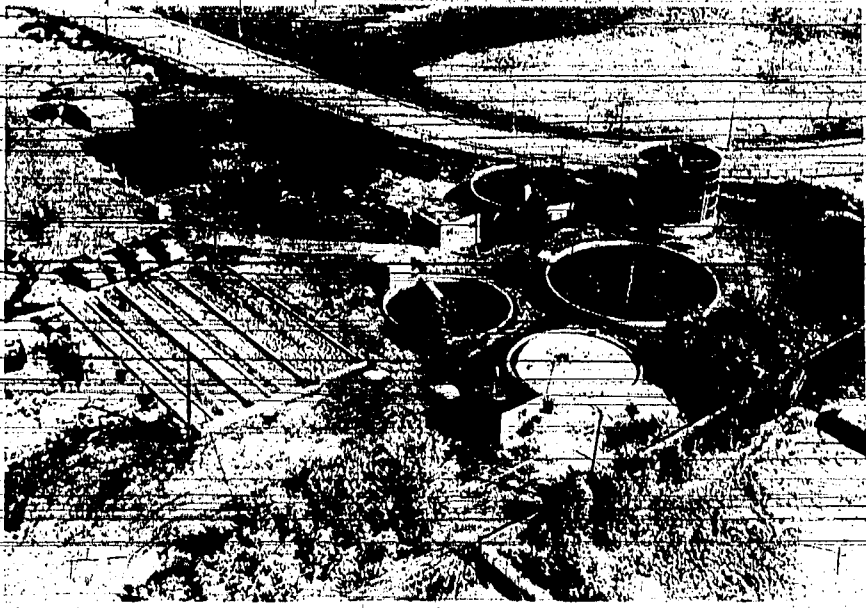

DIETRICH — Mr. and Mrs. Eddie Orcutt, Lopez Island, Wash., died early Monday morning when a fire destroyed their mobile home.
Mrs. Orcutt is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Alfred Holkan, Dietrich. She is the former Lavon Bymaster and grew up in Dietrich, graduating from the Dietrich High School in 1958.
Mrs. Orcutt's children, Brian and Cheryl Walker, left the day before the fire to visit with their father in California.

Cost increase set

BOISE (UPI) — Mobile telephone service in Boise, Pocatello and Twin Falls will cost more beginning Sept. 20.
Idaho's Public Utilities Commission has authorized Tel-Car, Inc., Meridian, to hike its rates for such service on all billings on and after that date.
Present rates and charges, the PUC said in its order, "are not adequate to support the necessary increased expenses of Tel-Car, Inc."
Monthly charges for two-way communication service will be hiked to $22.50 from $19.50 and the subscriber limitation on flat-rate calls will be cut to 100 from 150. Charges for excess calls will be increased to 30 cents per call from 10 under the new rate schedule.

I-response to bid

RUPERT — The Rupert City Council received only one response, and that a negative one, to their call for gasoline bids Tuesday night.
Atlantic Richfield Co. in a brief letter, told the council it could not submit a bid at this time. The American Oil Co., current supplier for the city, said no bid but had earlier stated it could not bid because of "unstable prices."
The current fuel contract expires Oct. 8. The Council did not decide on action to be taken for fuel supplies.
Councilman Clark Cameron advised city department heads to study methods of cutting back on energy consumption in view of the current energy crisis.
"Nonseasonal things" will have to be the first to be cut back, the council decided which could include Christmas lights, store signs and air conditioning.
No action was taken on the discussion.

Present Jerome sewer system under thorough study

Jerome hears study data

By CHARLOTTE DEWITT
Times-News Writer

JEROME — A progress report on the waste-water study being conducted in Jerome was presented to the Jerome City Council Tuesday night.
J. Garrett Andrew, project manager for Cornell, Howland Hayes and Merryfield, a Boise engineering firm, said that since the firm was hired last May 16 work has been progressing with primary emphasis placed on collecting necessary data to form the basis of the study report.
He explained the data includes present and proposed land use patterns, existing collection and treatment facility data, present and anticipated population, municipal waste water and industrial flows to be treated.
He said the firm has been working with the Jerome City Planning committee through City Engineer Bill Block in developing a boundary for the area to be studied for future sewer service.
He said that land use patterns within the study area are being developed to form a basis for sewer planning.
The Jerome Planning Council last month drew up a map showing anticipated growth patterns for the city 10 and 20 years. The map, which extends the city limits to almost one and one-half miles, was submitted to the city council at the last meeting.

Tuesday night the council agreed to table acceptance of the map until council members had opportunity to study it.
Andrew told the council that local input of the committee was invaluable because when the plans are presented to the public there will be a better chance of having them accepted.
"We may find that some of the areas within the map boundary will be economically unfeasible to provide with sewer services," he said.
Andrew said they have collected maps, drawings and other available data concerning the waste water collection and treatment facilities.
He said the present population projection show as many as 11,000 persons may need sewer service by 1993, according to an estimate of the Idaho Water Resource Board survey.
The sampling and testing data shows that about 20 per cent of the hydraulic load and about 45 per cent of the organic load being treated at the sewer plant comes from the Ida Gem Dairyman plant, he said.

Burley tot school under way

BURLEY — Following a dubious beginning, public kindergarten got underway Tuesday in Cassia County.
The program is being run in conjunction with the federally financed Headstart program. Headstart funds, based on the number of those students enrolled, and fees from public kindergarten charges are combined to finance the classes.
Because the Headstart program is set up on a four-day a week basis, the kindergarten will also operate four days a week, instructional supervisor Norman Hurst said.
Charges originally set at $18, then lowered to $15, have now been lowered to $12 a month because of the four-day week, he said.

Under the Headstart program, the fifth day, Wednesday, is used for consultation with parents and for home visits.
About 10 headstart and 12 kindergarten students are enrolled at the Springdale school, about 11 headstart and 13 kindergarten students at Declo Elementary, about 7 headstart and 8 kindergarten students at Malta Elementary, and about 10 headstart and 11 kindergarten students at Oakley Elementary.
There is a Headstart program operating in Burley, Hurst said, but only two students signed up for the public kindergarten. "It doesn't look like we'll have a kindergarten program in Burley," Hurst said.
The classes run for 8 months, each under the direction of a teacher and aide.

Gooding subdivision aired

GOODING — A possible 12 acre subdivision to be located north of the Fink Addition was discussed at Tuesday night's city council meeting.
Dwaine Butler and Dale Glauner met with the councilmen to present plans for the 33 home development which they have requested the city to annex.
Councilman Earl Greenawald recommended that Butler and Glauner meet again with the council and present formal plats of the proposed subdivision. He suggested that they acquaint themselves with provisions of the city code since they are apparently misinformed about what services the developers and the city must provide.

In other council action a contract was awarded to Pacific States Cast Iron Pipe Co. for $27,803.83. The company was the sole bidder for the pipe, gate valves and connectors necessary for the city to upgrade its water system. Revenue sharing funds will be used for the project, according to Mayor Harley Crippen. Two building permits were accepted for a total of $1,000.

Staff grant forwarded to Seattle

TWIN FALLS — A proposal to provide staff members for a regional mental health center will be sent to the Seattle office of the Department of Health, Education and Welfare by Monday.
The revised grant, which requests $314,000 in federal money, will first be sent to Boise where Department of Environmental and Community Services (DECS) will forward it to Seattle.
Regional board members Wednesday night met with local DECS officials and voted to have DECS become the applicant agency and administrator.
The board will have 30 days in which to review the grant, make comments and suggestions, even though a copy already had been submitted to Seattle, according to Don Harlow, program director for the Initiation and Development (I & D) grant, or "seed" money, under which the staffing grant has been compiled the past year.
The regional board also discussed extending the I and D grant expiration date until Oct. 31 to allow time for the board to follow the grant through the review process and to write an official letter of confirmation and comment.
The staffing grant has been integrated into DECS, which since its formation last spring as a merger of several social service agencies will administer mental health services in conjunction with its already established community offices.
DECS officials meeting with the regional board included Milton Klein, regional director; Paul Burnett, Tony McNevin and Kay Diebert, all Twin Falls.
The board voted to become a regional mental health advisory board to DECS. Members will meet Sept. 18 to review the grant.

Elmore range fire controlled

GLENN'S FERRY — A wind driven range fire which spread over about 1,300 acres of range land near here last night was brought under control about 7 a.m. but is still being battled by men and equipment.
Bureau of Land Management officials in Boise said the fire broke out about 9 p.m. Wednesday night, probably from lightning, and because of extremely high winds spread rapidly through sagebrush and grass in the Glenns Ferry and Hammett area.
In addition to brush, the fire destroyed a number of power poles and left many residents in the area without power for two to two and one-half hours. Most of those who lost the power service were in King Hill and Glenns Ferry. Residents of Hammett are also reported to be without electrical service.
Officials of the Idaho Power office in Glenns Ferry expect to restore the service this afternoon.
In addition to the federal land, at least some private land was covered and one large haystack of about 240 tons of hay burned near Hammett.
At 10 a.m. today 30 men, two bulldozers and four tankers were still fighting the fire but expected to contain it within the 1,300 acre area. Idaho Power Co. crews were also assisting as were a number of ranchers. BLM officials said all available men were called during the peak of the fire.
Walt Walstra, Idaho Power Co. division manager, said all of his firm's available crews from both Mountain Home and Boise were sent to help with the power problem and to fight the spreading flames.

BPA meet slated

(3) — The same Federal decision making process as in alternate one but adding local control through providing a source of financing for the Federal system through the Federal System through a "locally controlled bank."
(4) — The Federal system would remain in status quo, relying on Federal appropriations and funding and additional power sources would be supplied through non-Federal methods.
Under alternate 3 the financing entity would be to raise funds through revenue bonds. Its bonds would be secured by firm contracts with the BPA. Under alternate 4 construction of new thermal generating facilities by individual utilities or by groups of private or public agencies could be financed by "mid-Columbia" type sales contracts.
The various suggestions, according to Hodel, are long and involved but detailed discussions will be a feature of each of the five-set meetings.

Payoff

NEW YORK (UPI) — Americans received $18.9 billion in payments from life insurance policies and annuities in 1972. That total was 8.1 per cent greater than in the previous year. So reports the Institute of Life Insurance in its latest fact book.

TF stores and schools close to attend fair

By MARJORIE LIERMAN

FILER — Today is TWIN FALLS Day at the Twin Falls County Fair with stores and schools closed so employees and students may attend.
Wednesday's fair attendance was up approximately 800 from last year's with 12,300 people going through the gates as compared to 11,500 in 1972. The rodeo also saw a great boost in its first night attendance with 300 more people attending this year's first night than last year's.
Mike Gray, fair board member, said the board is well pleased with the fair and the attendance. He said the rodeo is "tremendous" and was enthusiastically received by the crowd.
The buffet show began early today in the beef arena. Deanna Scott, Hazelton, Idaho Hefler Queen, is presenting the ribbons and an official of the First Security Bank, Twin Falls, is presenting the trophies to the winners.
In the opening class this morning the BB Cattle Co., Parnell, Washington, received first place trophy for junior bull calves with the Stone Hoffer Ranch, Hermiston, Oregon, second, and the Hayes Hoffer Ranch, Rockmond, third. The BB Cattle Co. also won first and second places in winter bull calves with the Mountain Meadow Hefler Ranch, Buhl, placing third.
The Howard Angus Ranch, Buhl, received grand champion bull award in Wednesday's angus show with the Herman Angus Ranch, Levine, Mont., receiving the reserve champion in 4-H sheep fitting and showing. Sandy Cox, Castleford, was named grand champion and Patty Casell, Twin Falls, reserve champion. Betty Fuller, Twin Falls, was grand champion fitting and showing of swine and Camilla ZeBarth, Twin Falls, was reserve champion.

Dan Palouck, Castleford, was named beef grand champion fitting and showing in the Futura Farmers of America competition.
The Best of Show award in the antique building went to a shaded pink art glass vase, marked Stevens and Williams and owned by LaGrande Nelson, Twin Falls. The antique department has a good display this year with glassware and china predominating. A gun collection is a favorite of the male viewers.
The mini-train "Tom's Folly" is in operation at the fair and is becoming a favorite with the crowds. Mrs. VanKauffman is driving the train and taking her riders on tours of the fair grounds.
Governor Cecil Andrus was scheduled to arrive at the fair shortly after the noon hour today and attend the Hefler show.
Special entertainment this afternoon in the band shell will be a performance by members and guests of the Western Country Music Association. The rodeo will commence at 8 p.m. with band marching and riding events preceding it. Calf riding by youngsters of Twin Falls County is a specialty of each night's rodeo.

Abby

Abigail Van Buren

DEAR ABBY: I have this best friend I'll call Jane. She has been over here asking me what's wrong with her because she and her husband have been fighting a lot. She says he hasn't been coming home for supper lately. He cuts out and comes home at bedtime.

I know one thing that is wrong, but I can't find the words to tell her. The minute you walk into Jane's house you smell this funny smell. It's like food decaying. And that's probably what it is, because you never saw such a filthy house. You have to stop over boxes and sacks to get from one room to the other.

You can't sit down anywhere because every chair and couch is covered with stuff—books, newspapers, clothes, boxes. Her dining table is loaded with more stuff, and so is her kitchen table.

Best friend asks advice

I noticed she served John his dinner every night on a tray in front of the TV because she's too lazy to clear off space on the table.

Anyway, I think you get the picture. I just hate to hurt Jane's feelings, but I'd like to tell her to clean up her house and keep it that way and maybe John would feel like coming home more often.

JANE'S BEST FRIEND

DEAR FRIEND: A "best" friend should do the friendly thing and TELL Jane exactly what she thinks is the matter. What are you waiting for?

DEAR ABBY: A neighbor in my condominium complex recently suffered a heart attack, and within minutes after the police and ambulance arrived, a crowd gathered.

Some of the onlookers interfered with the ambulance attendants so they could get a good look at the victim as he was being placed in the ambulance. One man actually stopped the man's wife as she was getting into the ambulance with her husband, and asked: "What happened?"

Let me tell you I was part of that crowd, I viewed all this from my apartment window.

How can people be so cruel and nosy? And then they attempt to excuse their action by saying they were "concerned."

NOT NOSY IN LAUDERDALE

DEAR NOT NOSY: Call it "morbid curiosity." There will always be people who chase fire trucks and ambulances and who take some perverse pleasure in witnessing the suffering of others.

DEAR ABBY: Having always believed that it is customary for your future in-laws to suggest the manner in which they wish to be addressed, I waited, but nothing ever was said.

I've been married for two years, and I still have the problem of not knowing what to call my in-laws, and "hey, you," is not my style.

I would feel awkward at this late date continuing to call them, "Mr. and Mrs. _____" as I did before I married their son.

I cannot call them by their first names, as some of my friends address their in-laws.

"Mother and Dad" is unnatural for me, as that is what I call my own parents. [They have told my husband to call them "Mom" and "Pop," which he does very naturally.]

My in-laws are both avid readers of your column, so perhaps if you print this, they will see it and my problem will be solved.

For heaven's sake.

NO-NAME

DEAR NO: For heaven's sake, why don't you come right out and ask: "What would you like me to call you?"

DEAR ABBY: Speaking of signs in offices of professional men, one of the best I've seen was in a medical doctor's office in San Diego.

It said: "Morticians dig cigars and smokers."

One of the standard questions bridge experts ask one another is along the line of, "If someone held a gun to your head and told you to lead a diamond which one would you lead?"

South wins the heart lead in dummy, and plays the jack of spades, and plays low from his hand. West wins the trick with his ace and while he is considering his next play the man with the gun appears and says, "Lead a diamond!"

Actually this threat wasn't necessary. In a rubber bridge game anyone worth his associate membership in the ex-

Shoshone aides hear opinions

By MELBA THORNE
Times-News writer

SHOSHONE — Most of the time at the Tuesday night City Council meeting in Shoshone was devoted to hearing citizen's views.

These included objection to out-of-town people using City electric outlets at the City Park to gather nightcrawlers for commercial use, opposition to the City's suggestion to improve sidewalks along North Rail Street and objection to fencing a 30-acre area, southeast of the City by a private property owner.

The council stated it does not approve of the commercial nightcrawler business, and will put a stop to this on City property.

Businessmen on North Rail Street who met with the Council said in some instances it would cost them as much as $1,500 to replace the sidewalks.

Further study of the sidewalk condition will be made by the City Council.

The discussion pertaining to fencing on private property adjacent to the City on the southeast section was prompted by a petition presented by George Merrill, who asked that the City prohibit the fencing. Merrill said he uses a path roadway across the property to go to some property he owns on the west side of the property being fenced.

The Council decided to send the property, Harrell Thorne notice to suspend fencing until legality of the matter is established.

Mayor Ellwood Werry stated that until an opinion is secured from the City Attorney he could not definitely state what interest the City has in this matter, but in his opinion at this point the property is privately owned and the City has no jurisdiction.

Contacted later, Thorne said he had gone to the extra expense of putting in two gates on the entrances, east and west sides, of the property.

"Properly used, they can provide access, but this area is no longer open for dumping of old trees, rocks and debris. Nor is it open as an area from which dirt may be hauled. If opening and closing the gates is inconvenient," Thorne said, "I suggest another access road to the area be used. This runs north and south along the entire west side of this property and is only four blocks from U.S. 83 in Shoshone."

In other business Tuesday night, the Council issued building permits to John Lallies for a retaining wall and carport, and Vera Clifford to remodel a porch.

Approved attendance of the City Clerk at the Association of Fire Officers Convention in McCall Sept. 21 and 22.

Received the City's share of Magistrate fines for the past month in the amount of $329.40.

Issued a bartender's permit to Keith Mabbitt.

Passed a resolution calling for municipal election for Nov. 6.

Variance okayed

TWIN FALLS — The County Commissioners Tuesday approved a setback variance to allow E. B. Seabaugh to build a home on a narrow Snake River Canyon Rim lot.

The County's zoning ordinance calls for a 30-foot back yard setback on all home construction, but the Commissioners granted a variance in Seabaugh's case to allow him to build next to the canyon rim on property he owns near the entrance to the Taylor Grade. The Commissioners followed the recommendation of the County Zoning Board in making the change.

Rebekah lodge drapes charter

TWIN FALLS — Mrs. Betty Dameron, noble grand, conducted the first meeting of the fall session Tuesday.

The charter was draped and members observed a moment of silent prayer for the late Mrs. Verna Henson.

Mrs. Stella Bell was elected first delegate to Grand Lodge. Other delegates include Mrs. Clarice Wolter, second delegate, and Mrs. Goldie Ridgeway, third delegate.

Mrs. Willa Ridor, junior past noble grand, was chosen for recommendation to the assembly president as lodge deputy for the coming year.

Mrs. Helen Benham, financial secretary, was honored by Mrs. Dameron and presented a gift.

A Joint Old-Fellow-Rebekah corn on the cob and melon potluck preceded the meeting.

The next meeting is at 8 p.m. Sept. 18.

Demonstration set at fair
SPINNING WHEELS are back in use. Here Linda Barinaga, Castelford, demonstrates how to spin raw wool. She will demonstrate spinning Saturday in the Idaho Woolgrower Auxiliary booth at the county fair.

Spinning show scheduled

TWIN FALLS — Demonstrations in the spinning of raw wool will be given this week at the Twin Falls County Fairgrounds in the Idaho Woolgrower Auxiliary booth.

Located in the Merchant's No. 1 building, the demonstration features Linda Scott, Boise, and Linda Barinaga, Castelford. Each will work with raw wool from the Idaho sheep, showing the art of spinning it into woolen thread by use of a spinning wheel.

This "lost art" is now becoming popular among many persons who use the course wool homespun thread for art work or in special clothing and rug items.

Mrs. Laird Noh, president of the auxiliary, said the display Wednesday by Miss Scott attracted considerable attention. On Saturday Miss Barinaga, a teacher in Aberdeen schools, will spin the wool and display large wall plaques she made for her parents from wool taken from her father's sheep.

Miss Barinaga uses the unwashed wool to make the thread and then washes it after it is spun. It turns a snowy white, she explains. It can be used with the natural black wool from black sheep for accents and she uses sagebrush dye to color it a soft yellow and special dye made from the Cochineal bug to color it red.

TF club hears music program

TWIN FALLS — Mark Neiwirth entertained members and guests of the Twentieth Century Club with a program of piano solos at the annual Autumn Tea Tuesday at the TFC Club.

Ruth Brown, president, introduced Mrs. Lionel Denn who introduced the past presidents in attendance, presenting each with a small gift.

Mrs. Mark Knoll, membership chairman, introduced 14 new members, presenting each a red rose. Also introduced and presented roses were Mrs. Ivan Hopkins, District Four president, and Mrs. John J. Trent, president of the Rupert Women's Club.

Mrs. Cecil Jones was commended for her work in assembling scrap books, many of which have won contest prizes.

Lynette Barry, Girls' State delegate, spoke of her experiences. She received a citizen's award, a silver medallion.

Tea was served by Mrs. Frank H. Feldman and her committee, Mrs. A. P. Oslund, Mrs. Paul Detweiler, Mrs. Robert Young and Mrs. Francis Rider.

Airport meet set

TWIN FALLS — Members of the City Council will meet Sept. 11 with Twin Falls County Commission and Airport Commission members to discuss airport matters.

Jean Milar, city manager, said today the council has been asked to attend the 2 p.m. meeting with the county. The airport project is a joint city and county facility.

Milar also announced another meeting will be held by the airport commission regarding the proposed fee schedule change on parking. Other fee schedule changes were approved by the council Tuesday night and will now go to the county for approval.

He said because operators involved in the parking fees were not aware of the final meeting on fee changes another meeting will be required.

Councilman Paul Ostyn said he personally asked if these operators were given an opportunity to attend the final meeting before he voted on the fee change and was given an affirmative answer.

Milar said they did attend two meetings, but the airport commission apparently did not advise them of the meeting at which final action was taken. As for other fee changes, he said the new schedule will be personally delivered, each airport user and the user will have 30 days in which to accept or protest the schedule.

UCLA, Huskers head piling up gold opening grid slate

By FRED McMANE
UPI Sports Writer

It might be too early for many and it's probably too early for others, but the college football season will open anyway this Saturday with 21 major games scheduled from Massachusetts to California.

With temperatures and humidity still hovering in the 80's in certain sections of the nation and the drama beginning to unfold in the four major league baseball divisions, the idea of college football at such an early date will doubtless be uninteresting to many.

But in places like Lincoln, Neb., and University, Miss., where college football is a year-round topic of conversation, they will greet Saturday's opening of the campaign with wild-eyed enthusiasm.

The University of Nebraska and the University of Mississippi are two of the nation's major powers, who will open their campaigns Saturday, and the Cornhuskers of Nebraska will be showcased against another power, UCLA, in the season's first nationally televised game.

Picking Lincoln as the site for the first nationally televised game should help stimulate interest for the rest of the season. In the state of Nebraska the fortunes of the university football team is as important as the rise and fall in the prices of corn. People around Lincoln have been known to plan their weddings and divorces around Nebraska home games.

The matchup with UCLA is, by far, the best event on the Nebraska home schedule this fall and nearly 80,000 fans can be expected to overload Memorial Stadium to see the Cornhuskers try an average last year's embarrassing opening loss in the Bruins at Los Angeles.

Last year's setback unsent Nebraska from the No. 1 ranking in college football, and the Huskers never recovered. They were beaten 20-17 in the final 22 seconds and went on from there to a disappointing (for them) season of 8-2-1.

UCLA returns basically the same team which beat Nebraska last year while the Cornhuskers have lost a few of the big names—like Johnny Rodgers, Rich Glover and Willie Harper—that made them a fearsome foe for the past three years. Still, now coach Tom Osborne has plenty of talent available, including last year's starting quarterback David Humm, to make the Huskers a pre-season favorite for the Big Eight crown.

Humm, however, may not be available for UCLA. The talented passer suffered strained knee ligaments in pre-season workouts and has participated in only six drills. Humm's status may not be known until just before game time.

Mississippi, Virginia, North Carolina State and defending small college champion Delaware are among other well-known colleges who open their season Saturday.

A thought for the day: English writer Samuel Butler said, "The man who lets himself be bored is even more contemptible than the bore."

38-year-old Rosewall steals net spotlight with fifth win

DELGRADE (UPI)—The United States boosted its gold medal total to eight Wednesday as Kenna Rothhammer led one two sweep in the 200 meter freestyle. Lt. Phillip Briggs won the three-meter springboard dive and the Americans captured the 400 meter men's freestyle relay event at the world swimming championships.

Miss Rothhammer, from Santa Clara, Calif., and Shirley Babishoff, a triple medal winner at last year's Munich Olympics, were impressive in their sprint victory.

The men's 4 x 100 meters freestyle relay squad of Mike Nash, Joe Bottom, Jim Montgomery and John Murphy took an event which has become an American specialty, while Lt. Briggs of the USAF Academy surprised Italy's Klaus Dibiasi in the dive to give the U.S. an 8-6 gold medal edge over East Germany.

The Germans picked up gold through their beefy breaststroke and backstroke girls. Overall, the United States is 8-6-3 and the East Germans 6-1-6 in the medal standings.

No new world records fell Wednesday after four were broken on the opening at outdoor Thurmstadt pool.

"We are doing all right considering we have only had the prints so far, which are not our strong events," said U.S. coach Gus Stager. "I reckon when we get to the distance events we will do better."

FOREST HILLS, N.Y. (UPI)—When Stan Smith takes the court today to face New Zealand's Onny Parun in their quarterfinal match of the U.S. Open Championships, the tennis buffs on hand may stop talking about Ken Rosewall—but don't bet on it.

Once etched in the patented agony that is his, the amazing 38-year-old Australian marched into the semifinals on Wednesday, getting rid of the big volley, big serve and big smile of Vijay Amritraj, 6-4, 6-3, 6-3, to gain his fifth straight win without loss of a set. An unbelievable drive for a man his age in the continuing blast furnace that is the West Side Tennis Club.

Walking off the court, Rosewall looked as exhausted as could be—but then Ken has been known to look exhausted after just three games of a first set.

In fact, so overpowering has Rosewall been that only 19-year-old Jun Kamitani of Japan has been able to extend him in any set at all, carrying him to a tie break in the third round and for his effort getting blown off the court, 7-6, 6-1, 6-1.

Rosewall, who won here as an amateur back in 1956 and then 14 years later in 1970, now has a Friday date with John Newcombe, who was a 6-4, 7-6, 7-5 winner over Jimmy Connors on Wednesday.

In girls' play, Jimmy's friend Chris Evert entered the semis for the third straight year—by holding off a late charge by Nastie Kijack to win, 6-1, 7-5. Evonne Coolidge had a comfortable and needed workout in a 6-3, 7-5 win over her Australian compatriot Kerry Melville, and Helga Masthoff put out Julie Heldman, who had, with the help of the heat, eliminated Billie Jean King in the only shocker thus far in the placid march of the women to Friday's semis.

Miss Evert will oppose Margaret Court, whom she beat 6-3, 1-6, 6-1 in the Wimbledon semis, and Miss Coolidge is heavily favored over Miss Masthoff.

Rosewall, as always, was the teacher or perhaps better professor of the game.

Ram-Minico, Jerome-T.F. tilts feature Friday play

The Minico Spartans' best perhaps, the best team in the state while Twin Falls meets Jerome in the highlights of a 2-game Friday football schedule in Magic Valley.

Minico will be entertaining the Highland Rams who certainly have to be rated the best team in the Eastern division of the SIC. It is a tough opening assignment for Coach Bart Templeman's charges who number only 30 while Highland will bring two busloads.

Included in those two vehicles will be 6-2, 190-pound senior quarterback Mike Falash who split duties with Mike Grgen last year and wound up third in SIC total yards. Another will be Larry Kemp, who many judged the best junior running back in the league a year ago. In addition, there's Progi, who missed just about all of last year with an injury but up to that time was considered Highland's best back.

Then, of course, Coach Jim

Koetter has to be able to find some other talent in the 77 junior and senior turnout of this fall.

Despite the lack of numbers, Coach Templeman isn't crying poor. He believes that quality wise, the Spartans will be better than last year. But the major problem is late game tiredness that will cost the close ones and the ever-present injury threat that could wipe out the season in a hurry.

Jerome hasn't beaten Twin Falls in football for a long time but should have a good shot this time around. The Tigers have more experience than Twin Falls plus a little extra in having one game under their belts already. Size-wise, the teams are fairly equal, both having 200-plus pounders to put in the line, with Twin Falls having a larger backfield.

Although the teams are playing at Bruin Stadium, this is a Jerome home game due to the increased seating available. Twin Falls student activity and Bruin Register cards can not be honored at the gate.

NEWCOMER Brent Watson, a 6-4, 240-pound transfer from Buhl, will go both ways for Twin Falls Friday night when the Bruins meet Jerome in Bruin Stadium. Watson, the SCIC top running back last year, will stay at tackle for Twin Falls. He is considered one of the prime blue chip college prospects in the state.

Cardinals and Reds increase loop leads in National races

In another big game, the Burley Bobcats will be host to Bishop-Kelly, another Boise team that is rated very strong among A-2 circles. Burley opened with a late loss to Bear River, Utah, while Kelly tied with FIC power Bonneville-12-12.

Wood River, which also lost on a late pass play, will be home to Salmon Friday afternoon.

Wood River's defense was strong through most of the game at American Falls, particularly in the first half.

Declo, which opened by defeating Glenna Ferry, will be at Shoshone which lost to Piler first time out. Declo's defense was strong against the Pilers while Shoshone had some trouble moving consistently on offense. Defensively, Shoshone hit well.

Valley, which edged archival Murtagh 6-0, travels across the river again, this time playing the Hansen Huskies. Meanwhile, in another of that four-way hate series, the Kimberly Bulldogs, with their biggest point total in a couple years, will be at Murtagh. The conflict of interest will drive a lot of east-end Twin Falls Countyites crazy.

One of state's best

Defensive inexperience to hurt Bruins

Lack of experience in the line and the defensive secondary are the primary concerns of Coach Benny Almqvist as he prepares his Twin Falls Bruins for their opener Friday night with the Jerome Tigers.

"The junior class hasn't brought up much help in the line as yet and there will be a lot of single platooning for the senior linemen who are big but not many. In the defensive secondary, only one man has any experience.

But Coach Almqvist doesn't feel the season is going to be disastrous. "We need some early success," he admits. "It would do us a lot of good from a morale standpoint to win the first two games. But that's not going to be easy." The third one on the list is strong Capital.

"Jerome is a solid ball club. They have good size and experience and we hear they expect to beat Twin Falls this year," Coach Almqvist says. "I think it will be a good ball game. I know its one word love to win and we expect Jerome will be higher for this one than probably any game on their schedule."

Coach Almqvist believes the team's strength is in its running backs where 185-pound senior Mel Hard, 185-pound junior Craig Day and 155-pound sophomore Mike Allison are pencilled for starting duties.

"I think each one is a potential all-the-way on every play. All three are good receivers and all three are excellent blockers. If we get some blocking from the offensive line ahead of them, we could have a strong running game."

The Bruin passing game isn't there yet in two juniors, Bryant Rudd, and Rod Shiner are just learning their trade. "We've been pleased with the progress of both quarterbacks. Rudd seems to be a little ahead right now and will start Friday night."

Twin Falls is very big with good mobility on the line, but generally is only one position deep as there is little senior backup strength and no experience in the juniors. Tom Ashenbrenner, 6-1, 180, and Steve Brawley, 6-0, 180, are the returning veterans, with Fred Matthews moving from end to center. The tackles will be Bill Miller, 6-4, 205 and Brent Watson, 6-4, 240, a transfer from Buhl. Terry Hillman, 6-2, 215, will be at tight end with Kevin Rosenau, 6-0, 175 at wide receiver.

Basically that line just turns around on defense with Curt Ward, 6-0, 205 moving in at end. Hillman will be nose guard with Watson and Miller at tackle. Linebackers will be Denny Mitchell and Day.

In the defensive secondary are Macomber, 6-7, 141; Bob Jackson, 5-9, 160; Mike Rostron, 5-9, 170 and Bob Woods, 6-4, 160.

The addition of Watson to the Bruin lineup gives the coaches something to think about. The young giant was the South Central Idaho Conference top ground gainer last year, but Coach Almqvist has decided to leave him at tackle. "I think he can help the team more there. We have faith in our running backs to do the job and know that there's probably no better player around for opening a hole for someone else than Brent," Coach Almqvist said.

But he added with a smile "one day we did put him at fullback and he chewed us up which indicates the decision might be final particularly if a running back becomes injured."

Old West lawman Wyatt Earp made himself famous by enforcing an ordinance, just one. That was the law that forbade firearms to be worn or displayed in town. True, he arrested souls from time to time for other crimes and misdemeanors. But it was that gun law on which his career was built, really. Where the law job rank on that list of most popular cosmetic surgeries? A. They're No. 3. Right behind No. 2, facelift. And No. 1, reduction of baggy eyelids. And just ahead of No. 4, breast implants. Do you realize that just one day's flow of the Amazon River would be sufficient to supply New York City with water for nine years?

INTELLIGENCE If both the husband and the wife are particularly bright, it's usually the husband who is the brighter. But if one is exceedingly intelligent while the other is downright stupid, it's probably the wife who is the brighter. Exceptions abound. But the foregoing seems to be indicated by recent studies of the matter. In Sweden, less than 10 per cent of the elderly retired people live with their offspring. In Denmark, it's about 20 per cent. In the United States, figure 28 per cent. And in Great Britain, more than 40 per cent.

From the day you order any given magazine, it takes an average of 37 days to get delivery of the first copy. True, some show up sooner, some later. But studies indicate that to be the average wait among 108 popular publications.

SINGERS A century ago in Germany, some enterprising soul opened a specialized school which promised to teach finches how to sing melodies composed by human musicians. The thing caught on. For awhile there, such schools were opening and closing all over Europe. A lot of tuition money changed hands. But no record indicates any bird ever learned how to render Chopin or whomsoever.

If you live in some city that only a moderate number of thunderstorms, chances run one in 100 your house will be hit by lightning on any given year.

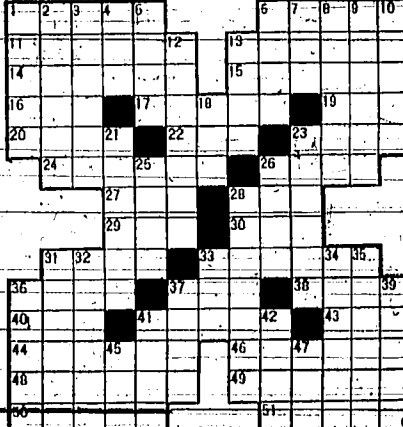

That a French croak named Jules Loolard invented tennis is widely known. Less widely known is the fact he also invented the trapeze.

It's said every third child nationwide started out in an unplanned pregnancy.

Market Review

NEW YORK (UPI) — The stock market resisted the profit takers Thursday, and moved ahead in moderate trading on the New York Stock Exchange. Minutes before noon, the Dow Jones Industrial average had gained 3.30 to 902.47. Advances topped declines: 755 to 403 among 1,500 issues across the tape. Noon volume totaled approximately 6,500,000 shares, compared with 6,800,000 at the same time Wednesday. Some analysts said buying on this day following President Nixon's press conference late Wednesday had carried over into early trading Thursday. Nixon stated he wouldn't change existing taxes to combat inflation, and added he would block congressional bills aimed at raising the minimum wage. In other news, the Commerce Department said businessmen have boosted capital spending plans in the third and fourth quarters. In overseas markets, the dollar was fixed sharply lower. Crown Zellerbach led the actives, off 1/4 to 32 1/2 on 90,600 shares. Kennecott was second, and gained 1/2 to 32 1/2 on 90,600 shares. American Telephone & Telegraph Co. was third, up 1/4 to 49 on 78,000 shares. A company spokesman said Wednesday A-T-T expects a good year in 1974, even with an economic slowdown.

USDA prepares credit program

WASHINGTON (UPI) — The Agriculture Department is preparing to launch this fall a new credit program under which small rural towns can get low-interest loans for community facilities ranging from water and sewer systems to industrial parks, streets, community centers, and perhaps even a municipal golf course.

The loans, carrying a 5 percent interest rate, will be made with funds from private lenders backed by government insurance. Officials of the Farmers Home Administration (FHA) which will make the loans, said they expect the program to be in operation within a few months.

The new loan system was authorized in the 1972 Rural Development Act. In passing that law, Congress took an existing system of FHA loans for rural water and sewer systems, and broadened it to include loans for other essential community facilities.

The law set no ceiling on the revised rural credit plan, which is available for towns of 10,000 and under. However, administration budget officials earlier announced proposals to insure $545 million in water, sewer and community facility projects in the 1973-74 fiscal year which began July 1. Both the House and Senate, in separate versions of the annual Agriculture Appropriations Bill, have agreed on the $545 million total. But minor differences over whether part of the fund should be specifically earmarked for facility loans still remain to be ironed out on Capitol Hill.

Although the new community facility loans won't begin flowing to rural towns until after Congress completes the appropriation bill and formal FHA regulations are published, agency officials say they're already getting preliminary inquiries from local officials in many parts of the country. The queries have indicated plans to seek financing under the new rural development loans for projects including libraries, clinics, streets and roads, industrial parks, air strips and hospitals.

There has also been special interest among local officials in exploring possible rural development loans for building fire stations, one official added.

A spokesman said the law creating the loan program doesn't specifically define what an "essential community facility" is, and thus doesn't specifically include or exclude any type of project. Public recreation projects, conceivably including public golf courses, could be eligible if a locality submits a proposal.

"We'll take a look at any application and judge it on its merits. The real question is whether the local people want the project badly enough to pay for it," added an FHA official who asked not to be identified.

The community facility lending activities, like other programs authorized by the 1972 Rural Development Act, were designed to help promote balance national growth by promoting economic growth in rural areas.

Harvest stopped

BOISE (UPI) — Federal Judge Fred M. Taylor has enjoined the U. S. Forest Service from continuing its harvest of 450 acres of crested wheat grass seed in Oneida County.

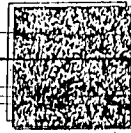

The Curlew Valley Cattle and Horse Grazing Association asked for the preliminary injunction in a suit contending the harvest, which got under way Aug. 17, violated an agreement under which it paid grazing fees through Dec. 15.

The Association alleged the harvest will subject its members to irreparable loss of grazing land at a time when cattle feed is in short supply.
