Solar explosion

0916Z

HUGE solar flare that erupted off the surface of the sun Thursday was viewed through telescopes at Canary Island tracking station. Center picture shows flare at its peak when it was 10 times the diameter of the earth. Skylab crew photographed flare, too. (UPI)

Astronauts photograph second solar eruption

HOUSTON (UPI) — The Skylab 2 astronauts today photographed a mammoth eruption of gaseous energy off the surface of the sun that appeared to be even larger than a giant explosion they saw Thursday.

Alan L. Bean, Owen K. Garriott and Jack R. Lousma all rushed to the controls of Skylab's battery of solar observation instruments to record the flare, which scientists on the ground classed with the largest of the mighty explosions.

The space explorers Thursday snapped pictures of the largest flare that had been observed during the two space station flights so far. That eruption had the fury of 100 million earthquakes.

"It's a big daddy," Bean said as he and his crew put all six of their hands to work on the complex instrument operation, a job usually handled by only one man.

"We were on to this flare," Garriott, the mission solar scientist, said happily. "It was very near peak at the time we came over the horizon. We're just eluding away as rapidly as we can."

Flight controllers for the second time during the two-month research mission cancelled a natural resources picture-taking sweep, this time over southern Europe, so the crew could keep watch over the sun.

Scientists on the ground today were poring over pictures of Thursday's violent activity on the sun, saying they expected more and better information about the sustainer of all life on earth from Skylab than ever before. "We will have more data and better data from this one Skylab mission than from the total of past missions," said Dr. A. Reeves of the Harvard College Observatory, one of the researchers.

Joe Hirman of the National Oceanographic and Atmospheric Administration, said the giant solar flare that leaped off the sun's surface early in the day had 100 million times as much energy as the 1906 San Francisco earthquake.

Lousma climbed the sun lights in his home town of Grand Rapids turned on in his honor as the 100-ton space lab cruised over North America Thursday night.

"I've got a lot of relatives down there," Lousma said. "Grand Rapids was the place I was first launched. I just want to say how much we appreciate all the folks in Grand Rapids remembering us as we go whizzing over the Earth. Just don't send me the electric bill."

Sampson was commissioner of the GSA's public buildings service for several years before he became administrator of the entire GSA three months ago. The public buildings division is the landlord firm of the U. S. government.

After its selection for the Social Security job, Gaudreau hired and the GSA routinely approved Greiner Environmental Systems, Inc., to draft an environmental impact statement in connection with the complex. Greiner also is under investigation in the kickback probe.

The president of Greiner Environmental Systems, Jerome B. Wolff, worked under Agnew while he was county executive from 1962 to 1968, Maryland governor from 1968 to 1969, and vice president from 1969 to 1970. Wolff reportedly has been cooperating with U. S. Atty. General Beall allegedly furnishing information involving Agnew in return for limited immunity from prosecution.

Agnew is under investigation for possible bribery, extortion, conspiracy and tax law offenses involving state and federal contracts.

Vawter, speaking for Sampson Thursday, said Beall's office has not subpoenaed any GSA records in connection with its probe. Neither has Beall informed GSA that the Gaudreau contract is under investigation, Vawter said.

Sampson said he chose the Gaudreau firm as architect for the expanded Social Security headquarters in an effort to get a "good mixture of (architectural) design" on the project and not because of any possible political connections between Agnew and Gaudreau. In a letter to GSA dated Feb. 29, 1972, Jack S. Fetterman, then a high-ranking administrator for Social Security, recommended that two architectural firms be selected to plan the agency's new computer and office buildings.

The firms, which had done all previous architectural work at Social Security headquarters and already had issued a feasibility study on the new complex, were Meyer, Ayers, Saint, Stewart, Inc.; and Fisher, Nes, Campbell, Inc. — GSA had chosen these firms for the previous Social Security projects without question, Fetterman said.

"It seems obvious to me that interest of the government to use their experience, expertise and knowledge of our functional needs to insure continuity of planning and harmony of design," Fetterman wrote to Sampson. Sampson, who said he has no recollection of the Fetterman letter, selected Gaudreau in July after a GSA screening panel recommended eight firms for consideration, including Meyer-Ayers, Fisher-Nes, and Gaudreau. According to a private source with knowledge of the award, they (Social Security) weren't happy but there wasn't anything they could do about it.

The Social Security Administration, whose national headquarters are located in Baltimore County just north of the city, is planning to build a $112 million computer center there and an $82 million office building in downtown Baltimore.

Architectural and engineering contracts are awarded by GSA on a non-bid basis. Fees are negotiated between government officials and the contractors after selection of the contracting firm is completed.

In an interview Thursday, Fetterman, who is now retired from the government, said he was puzzled over the selection of Gaudreau. He said he recommended both Meyer-Ayers and Fisher-Nes specifically to insure the architectural mix Sampson says he wanted.

At first, Fetterman recalled, GSA seemed receptive to his recommendations. But in the spring of 1972, he said, Social Security learned that the GSA was encountering "undefined problems" involving its selection of the architect.

Although Sampson chose only Gaudreau to work on the new complex, Gaudreau soon requested GSA's "permission" to form a joint venture, expressly to design the complex with Meyer-Ayers and with Richter, Coburns, Matthal, Hopkins, Inc., a combine that had merged with

Contest set for firemen

TWIN FALLS — Eleven teams of expert firemen will be competing in Twin Falls this weekend in a "make and break" hose laying and "beer barrel" contest.

Lynn Smith, Twin Falls fireman, who chairs the event, said firemen from north Idaho and British Columbia in Canada will be in Twin Falls for the annual competition.

There will be nine outside teams and two from Twin Falls. On Saturday the teams will compete in timed demonstrations of setting up hose for fire fighting purposes. Sunday the "beer barrel" contest involves a beer keg tied from a tower above the field with firemen training hoses on the keg as it swings free. With the accuracy of the fire hose they will attempt to keep it in a given position.

Contests with the public welcome to witness them will begin both Saturday and Sunday at 11 a.m. at the College of Southern Idaho parking lot.

Trophies will be awarded the winning teams. Last year, Twin Falls firemen returned from north Idaho with most of the trophies given in the competition.

Bethel No. 43 opens season

TWIN FALLS — Laurie Beal, honored queen of Bethel No. 43, International Order of Job's Daughters, conducted the first meeting of the fall Wednesday evening.

The Bethel will meet the first and third Wednesday of each month this year.

Torri Blei served as pro tem mistress.

Introduced were Terri Blei, past honored queen of Bethel No. 43; Suzanne Guthrie, Grand Bethel representative to Iowa; Lola Sonius, grand marshal of the State of Idaho; Janice Beal, guardian of Bethel No. 43, and James Beal, associate guardian of Bethel No. 43.

Ticia Bradbury was installed third messenger and Cheryl Hack was installed fourth messenger by Miss Beal.

An invitation from Twin Falls Masonic Lodge No. 45 to the appreciation picnic Sept. 10 at Harmon Park was read. Communications were read from Doris Day, grand guardian.

Appointed to sunshine committees were Amy Eden, Robert Stuart; Audrey Fuller, O'Leary, and Sue Thompson, high school. Debbie Fridmore was reported ill.

Miss Beal reported on the Grand Session in Pocatello in June at which Bethel No. 43 received second in ritual competition and on a bake and craft sale in July and new homes cleaned in August. Members will continue to collect beer cans for recycling.

Tickets for an original oil painting by Janice Beal to be given away at the last meeting of the honored queen's term

Youths critical

TWIN FALLS — Two young Buhl area men remain in critical condition today at Magic Valley Memorial Hospital where they have been receiving treatment since Tuesday.

Carl Blackwood, 19, Filer, and Mark Heaps, Buhl, were injured in a traffic accident Tuesday afternoon five miles south and one mile east of Buhl. Both suffered head injuries.

In fair condition is William John Reynolds, 31, Buhl, who was driving a milk truck which collided with the pickup truck in which the two youths were traveling. Reynolds suffered severe burns when his vehicle caught fire following the impact.

Andrus opposes NRTS repository

By DAVID ESPO, Times News Writer

FILER — Gov. Cecil D. Andrus said Thursday he would oppose any effort to make Idaho a repository for waste that has no part of the program at the National Reactor Testing Station west of Idaho Falls.

But, he said, "if you're talking about fuels that we reprocess I find no fault with it." What he opposes, he said, is "interim storage meaning waiting 20 years before we do anything."

Andrus made his comments in an interview as he toured the Twin Falls County Fair in Filer.

Rep. Orval Hansen, R-Idaho, said last month he thought the NRTS had the facility and the technical expertise to function as an interim storage site for much of the waste material from civilian nuclear sites across the country.

Andrus also said he continued to hold out hope that federal money would be available to permit independent state monitoring of radiation at the NRTS. "I am advised there is the possibility of federal money," he said, adding that if it were not available, he would request state funding from the legislature next year to permit the state to set up a monitoring system that operated separately from the present federal monitoring.

The governor also said the state was getting advice from California officials to go slow in permitting the development of geothermal resources in the state. He said a delegation of Idaho officials, including R. Keith Higgins, a nuclear administrator of the Department of Water Administration and John Hough, a member of the governor's staff, has visited "the only functioning geothermal plant we have" in the United States. California officials made some candid recommendations, Andrus said, and cautioned the Idahoans "do not hurry."

The State Land Board is preparing to issue regulations for geothermal operations, and attorney general W. Anthony Park has been asked to make recommendations at the Tuesday Land Board meeting.

Andrus also said he had "no preference" among possible candidates for a successor to State Democratic Chairman Joe McCarter, Corral.

Couple files complaint

TWIN FALLS — A complaint has been filed in Fifth District Court here by Pete and Dolly Oneida, against Ben and Joe Oneida and Onaldia Inc., and the South Idaho Production Credit Association, alleging they were removed from the partnership illegally.

The plaintiffs said they own two partnerships in the firm which operates land and livestock in Lincoln and Blaine County, and that they purchased the shares in the business from Benita Oneida, widow of Frank Oneida. The firm was originated by Frank, Martin, Joe, Ben and Pete Oneida, and Frank and Martin Oneida have since died.

The Pete Oneidas charge they were removed from the partnership and its assets and that other members of the partnership have borrowed from SIFCA without approval of the plaintiffs. The complaint charges they plan to borrow further amounts which will place the firm in financial jeopardy.

The plaintiffs ask the court for a show cause order as to why the plaintiffs should not be advised of firm plans and a show cause order why they should not be restrained from borrowing additional money. They also ask a $150,000 judgement from the defendants and a $25,000 judgement from Southern Idaho Production Credit Assn.

It Is A Time For Alibis

WASHINGTON (NEA) — We live in a time when the nation and indeed much of the world, seem to need alibis to explain why so little is being achieved toward the solution of great problems.

For too many years we used the war in Vietnam as the grand excuse. Nothing really big could be done about the pressing human issues, many people said, until the war was over. Well, it had hardly ended as a major American enterprise before we found a new crutch: Watergate.

Obviously, for President Nixon to talk about "getting Watergate behind us" is self-serving. But many Americans who think this will not and should not happen until there is a clear fixing of responsibility for these scandals nevertheless accept the proposition that Watergate is a major distraction.

These views about the war and Watergate are, of course, not wholly inaccurate. Yet they are deceptive. The unassailable fact is that confusion is engulfing us and the world on a huge scale that we almost certainly would be smothered by our problems if there had never been a Vietnam or a Watergate.

No people is better at "living by its wits" than the pragmatic

Japanese. In their islands there has been a sort of perennial optimism in the face of adversity. But a bright young observer just returned from Japan tells me that some of the most thoughtful Japanese feel right now that the world is in the worst chaos since the now largely forgotten bleed which gripped it in the aftermath of World War I. Then, near-starvation or worse afflicted many areas, newly carved-out nations struggled to establish themselves, a workable global economic system seemed a remote dream, a sharp panic hit the U.S. economy, disillusionment over governments — and even general human behavior — was rampant.

A Belgian poet, surveying the scene even as it was unfolding in 1915, dedicated one of his books with the words:

"With emotion, to the man I used to be."

There are still a lot of Americans around who have looked at four wars in six decades, who have struggled through their bewildering aftermath years.

Today, with this country and the world flooded with people born during or since World War II, there are hundreds of millions who have known nothing else.

Who needs to hear again the long catalogue of economic difficulties and social ills which beset the peoples of this earth in varying degrees? The affluent and the poor alike are bewildered by the swift-moving currents swirling around them.

More is known about the earth than ever before. Technology, the means of dealing with it, is at highest tide.

Yet spreading and rising human aspirations for a good life are taxing world resources. Energy, the driving force of the industrialism which people see as the path to betterment, is thought to be imperiled. The great cities, which should be the crown of advanced living, are deteriorating into jungles which few animals would care to prow.

The wonderful computer is said to make all solutions possible, yet fewer and fewer things work well. Distrust is far greater than that between men and their governments. Order and discipline are seen not as guarantors but enemies of freedom.

Like the stars of the universe, people seem to be racing in retreat from each other into isolation. But man's compact world gravely needs a coming together of human effort and will.

"The Boss Says Make It Funny!"

ROWLAND EVANS & ROBERT NOVAK

Labor: The Grievance With Strauss

WASHINGTON — Organized labor's operatives who helped elect Robert Strauss Democratic national chairman this month also have a private grievance against him: his formula for distributing funds from the national party

Democrats to regain control following the McGovernite revolution. Consequently, they resent Strauss's role as honest broker between all factions. COPE is not Strauss's only ally within the party. Moderate governors who worked hard to elect him — particularly Bumpers of Arkansas — are delighted with his efforts at conciliation. So are congressional party leaders.

Thus, growing allegation between Strauss and political representatives of AFL-CIO president George Meany is certainly not fatal. "Like sinus," explains a Strauss lieutenant, "it hurts like hell, but won't kill you." However, the split ultimately undercuts the common goal of both Strauss and COPE: returning the Democratic party to the center in time for the 1976 election.

Just how much this alienation involves tactical disagreement can be seen in the current, largely concealed irritation over distributing telethon funds. Strauss's formula: "one-half to the Democratic National Committee, one-half to states in proportion to their contributions to the telethon. In his opinion, that distribution will energize state party organizations and bridge ideological gaps. For instance, Strauss has collaborated closely on telethon business with assemblyman John Burton, the militantly reformist California state chairman, to be otherwise would be self-defeating.

An O.K. Loan

Ralph Nader called it a "massive corporate welfare scheme." The consumer advocate was echoed on the floor of Congress, where various critics warned that it marked the beginning of a "parade of private industry" lining up for federal handouts.

They were talking about the government's decision in 1971 to "cosign" a financial shot in the arm to the Lockheed Aircraft Corp., which was caught in a bind because of the collapse of Britain's famed Rolls Royce, supplier of engines for Lockheed's wide-bodied L-1011 jetliner.

None of these dire predictions has come anywhere near true. From the inception of the bank loan guarantee (a government guarantee, not a government loan) in August of 1971 through the middle of this year, Lockheed has paid nearly $6 million in fees to the Emergency Loan Guarantee Board under the terms of its commitment. This year it has held drawdowns under the loan guarantee to $20 million. Lockheed has recorded profits for 10 consecutive quarters. Virtually all its programs are making money, except for the L-1011, whose sales are being booked at zero profit. So far, 39 of the planes have been delivered, with another 17 to be delivered before the end of 1973.

The Emergency Loan Guarantee Board, created by the 1971 legislation, reports that it is unaware of any other situations requiring government loan guarantees. Because of this, it is recommending to Congress that it be allowed to go out of existence on schedule at the end of this year.

expected to net over $2 million and possibly twice that amount, is Strauss's pride and joy. He sees the healing balm of money — joining party regulars and reformers in joyous solvency. But sharing praiseworthy dollars with his foes, Strauss's labor supporters grumble, is only the latest example of his compulsive desire to appease his enemies while neglecting his friends.

This is the heart of the steadily escalating unhappiness between Strauss and Alexander Barkan, head of the AFL-CIO Committee on Political Education (COPE). Big labor's political operatives feel Strauss was elected not as a unity candidate but as the vehicle for traditional labor's operatives who helped elect Robert Strauss Democratic national chairman this month also have a private grievance against him: his formula for distributing funds from the national party telethon will benefit "new politics" forces dominating the state parties in California and New York.

the split ultimately undercuts the common goal of both Strauss and COPE: returning the Democratic party to the center in time for the 1976 election.

But Strauss's labor critics grumble that what seems to be his fast new friendship with Burton is illusory, bound to dissolve in the first real ideological test. So they conclude, the effect of the Strauss formula is to turn money contributed by traditionalists in California over to Burton's new politics.

For fear of endangering the telethon, that particular complaint is not being formally voiced. But it follows a long line of Barkan grievances over Strauss's handling of sometimes petty, always hideously complex quarrels fought out inside the Democratic party since the 1972 election.

Already well known is Barkan's unhappiness over Strauss's neutrality in intraparty contests lost by COPE: elections of a national Young Democrats president, the head of the national state chairmen's organization and new members of the party's executive committee. In addition, John Perkins, Barkan's deputy, complained that Strauss operative Robert Keefe gave him little help in July's charter commission meeting at Fort Collins, Colo.

But the focus of COPE-Strauss tension has been the Delegate Selection Commission headed by Baltimore city councilwoman Barbara Mikulski. The bewildering, three-cornered intrigue boils down to this: Strauss believes he can do business with Miss Mikulski in search of moderate rules which will avoid the excesses of 1972. Barkan feels Miss Mikulski is irrevocably in league with the reformers and should have been neutralized long ago.

MR. SPECTATOR

O'Leary Boys

It must have been a couple of years ago — or so (more or less) — that we wrote a column about O'Leary Junior High School students who used to sit on the steps of the Our Savior Lutheran Church and eat lunch.

In the process they would leave sandwich paper, soft drink cans, paper plates, napkins and what have you scattered up and down the steps. We took a picture of the mess and used it in the Mr. Spectator article.

Well — the Our Savior Church is gone now. It has been torn down. And the youngsters who used to make the mess there are probably "upper classmen" in the local high school.

But the mess seems to be with us. Wednesday a group of 12 or 15 boys were seated in the shade of the Alturas Building we believe that is the name of it) across from the Drive-Way Market. As they finished their soft drinks they were throwing the cans into the street. There was a container between them and the street — but the boys were not very good marksmen and the street was getting the cans.

Which makes us remark that time marches on — but students apparently do not change to any given extent at a particular "age" in time.

Actual Spending Studies Needed

WASHINGTON (NEA) — To this reporter, the most disturbing feature of government today is that the Congress has no way of effectively checking on the quarter-trillion dollars the federal departments and bureaus spend each year.

Today, for example, no one in Congress knows for certain whether we are spending too much money for defense or too little, and whether what is being spent is used most effectively.

The same goes for the $80 billion a year for Health, Education and Welfare and the millions spent by the Veterans Administration, by Agriculture, by the Agency for International Development, by Interior, by the National Aeronautics and Space Administration and so on down the line.

Talk to a congressional staffer and he moans. The Pentagon tells us they need so much equipment for so many squadrons. But we have no way of knowing whether they need the units, whether this is the right equipment, or whether we should hold off for awhile until some new research pans out.

Congress does not have the staff to adequately study even the major multibillion-dollar proposals which come before it to determine whether they are needed, adequately planned and free of fat. Or whether other programs aimed at the same objectives would be more effective, or cost less to achieve the same ends.

The Library of Congress research service and the General Accounting Office perform some of these functions. But they are so understaffed they can only pick at the surface. The GAO does it work, in the main, on programs already in effect. Its investigations normally do not include proposals. Yet it is obvious that the time to halt wasteful, ineffective programs is before they start.

The hearings Congress holds on the spending proposals of the various departments are often ludicrous. Senators and congressmen, lacking information, frequently don't know what questions to ask. They are snowed by diagrams, charts, figures and lengthy statements of justification and objectives.

Independent institutions, such as Brookings, have attempted to fill the gap in some instances, making suggestions of what could be cut or changed if Congress had a mind to. Though there are some exceptions, these studies too are usually somewhat thinly manned. Too often they are heavy with a variety of opinions, not hard facts. Intricate formulas, erudite statements and a variety of figures are imperative — but quite often hide a paucity of real information.

The government departments and bureaus have staffs of tens of thousands to call on up and down the line in preparing their proposals, and millions to spend in studies by private think tanks.

Congress needs equivalent resources: a larger number of research assistants for one. And the House and Senate must on a regular basis let major contracts out to research groups independent of government for thorough studies of spending proposals and investigations into the results of major programs after they've been in effect for a year or two.

the objectives we have set for our government are being met.

BERRY'S WORLD

"I move that we make the standards for movies in our community the same as those existing in Las Vegas!"

Sculptor adds to community

HAGERMAN—The newest addition to the growing artistic community of Hagerman Valley is metal sculptor Joseph Spencer.

Mr. and Mrs. Spencer will be making their home during the summer months at the home of Mrs. Spencer's mother, Mrs. Harold Soper, where they renovated a barn, estimated to be 60 years old. The interior of the barn has been cleaned and painted this summer in preparation for Saturday and Sunday open house. The studio is just north of Hagerman on U.S. Highway 30. Punch and cookies will be served from 2 to 8 p.m. both days and Spencer will be giving metal sculpture demonstrations.

Spencer, from Chicago, was a designer and manufacturer of church interiors and decorations until he became heavily interested and involved in metal sculpture.

He works with brass and copper, using bright glass glaze fused under intensive heat. Delicate flowers, leaves, birds and butterflies are mounted on stems and clustered on bases using native materials from all over the United States. Items being made for Christmas sales will involve extensive use of Idaho anglebrush and lava rock. Flat boulder rocks from the Teton Mountains also will provide the bases for the decorative gifts.

Spencer fashions plants ranging from two to three inches high up to very large items for office decoration.

The Spencers plan to travel this winter with the People's of the World Art Show in California and Arizona and will spend some time at the Dayton-Hudson shopping malls in Minneapolis, Minn. They plan to leave Hagerman in late September and return in April or May for a summer's work here.

Joseph's Garden, which the Spencers have named the studio, features a unique blend of decorative antiques, and hunting trophies as a background for the highly modern sculptures.

The entrance to the studio has been covered by an archway made from wooden bracing of an old camp wagon surrounded by flowers and grape vines.

Spencer's workshop is set up in a more modern out-building adjacent to the barn-studio, giving him much more room to work than in the portable workshop used during the traveling months of the year when the Spencers' headquarters is a 35-foot motor home.

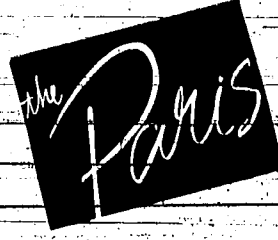

Addition to valley

MAKING PLANS for Joseph's Garden Studio open house in Hagerman Valley are Mr. and Mrs. Joseph Spencer. Metal sculpture demonstrations will be presented during the open house set from 2 to 8 p.m. Saturday and Sunday.

Basset hound wins first

FILER—A basset hound, owned by Peggy Smith, Buhl, received the best of show award in the dog department of the Twin Falls County Fair.

The dog had previously placed first in the hound class, followed by another basset, owned by Mrs. Smith, second, and a basset, owned by Leona Parks, Twin Falls, third.

First place winner in the sporting class was a Golden Retriever, owned by Dale Brock, Twin Falls, with a Shorthair owned by Theodore Muth, Twin Falls, second, and a Brittany, owned by Russell Terrell, Filer, third.

Toys: Pekinese, owned by Mike and Dolores Mulligan, Jerome, first; Pomeranian, owned by Orpha Noble, Rupert, second, and a pug, owned by the Mulligans, third.

Puppies: a miniature Schnauzer, owned by Harold Markt, Burley, first; a Shih-Tzu, owned by Orpha Noble, Rupert, second, and a Pomeranian, owned by Mrs. Noble, third.

The superintendents stated the dog entries this year are more than last year and they noted an increase in the larger type of dogs.

Creating interest at the dog show is a mother American Eskimo and her four three-week old white puppies.

Disappointed

BOISE (UPI)—The executive secretary of the Idaho Education Association said Tuesday he was disappointed with the final results of the 1973 legislature to increase the funds for public school education.

Wayne York, executive secretary of the Idaho Education Association, said, "the governor, legislators and teachers never dreamed that the spring and summer months would bring mounting inflation and spiraling cost of living increases which have teachers and others reeling on the ropes."

Krogh says innocent to burglary

LOS ANGELES (UPI) — Egil "Bud" Krogh has pleaded innocent to the burglary of Daniel Ellsberg's psychiatrist, admitting he authorized the break-in but saying that at the time he was convinced the covert operation was "fully authorized and lawful."

The former White House aide to President Nixon surrendered himself to custody in a county court Thursday and was promptly released without being required to post bail. Krogh was the first of the "Watergate West" defendants to appear for arraignment. Others indicted were John D. Ehrlichman, David Young and G. Gordon Liddy.

Curly haired and youthful in appearance, Krogh talked with reporters briefly in the corridor outside the courtroom after telling Superior Judge James G. Kolts that he was "not guilty."

Krogh said that he thought the burglary was a "mistake" immediately after he learned of the details and regretted it had occurred.

But Krogh said he had helped set up the "plumber's squad" after a directive from Nixon to stop national security leaks. Ellsberg had been identified as the source of the leak of the Pentagon Papers.

"At that time in 1971, the assignment was presented to me as being of extraordinary national importance," he told newsmen.

"In my mind it was fully authorized and lawful. I do not wish at this time to go into any of the legal matters but I do feel this case raises some very profound constitutional issues."

Ehrlichman's attorney has indicated that the former right hand man to Nixon would appear for arraignment next Tuesday.

The court, for the first time Thursday, revealed the full text of the indictment including a charge of perjury against Ehrlichman.

It referred to Ehrlichman's testimony before the grand jury in which he swore under oath that neither had he approved of the break-in in advance nor did he authorize it and that if he had known about the plan he would not have permitted it to occur.

The indictment concluded: "That in truth and in fact the defendant, John Ehrlichman, well knew said testimony was false and untrue."

Trial date pending

EGIL "Bud" Krogh, the first of the "Watergate West" defendants to surrender on burglary charges, is surrounded by newsmen Thursday outside the courtroom of Superior Court Judge James Kolts, where he was released without bail. Krogh was ordered to appear Sept. 20 for a trial setting date. (UPI)

Gas regulations set

WASHINGTON (UPI) — New price regulations for gasoline stations go into effect at midnight tonight. Many retailers say they will be hurt financially, and some may close.

Lawyers representing 165,000 brand name station operators had asked Supreme Court Chief Justice Warren Burger to block the regulations, but Burger turned them down Thursday in a brief order dictated from Rochester, Minn., where he is hospitalized for hernia surgery.

The new regulations are a delayed part of President Nixon's Phase IV price control program announced July 18. They set ceilings which will allow some dealers to raise prices but require others to roll them back.

Meanwhile, the Exxon Corp. added to the problem of many retailers Thursday by announcing a one-cent per gallon increase in its wholesale gasoline prices. Under Phase IV, the wholesale rise is legal, but retailers are limited as to how much, if any, they can raise retail prices.

Rep. William J. Bryan Dorn, D-S.C., asked John T. Dunlop, director of the government's Cost of Living Council to investigate the Exxon increase. The Council is already looking into a similar wholesale increase announced two weeks ago by ARCO. Officials indicated the new case would be examined also.

The new regulations set price ceilings according to a two-part formula based on the price dealers were paying for gasoline on Aug. 1, plus the amount they were adding for profit on Jan. 10, with at least 7 cents charged for profit. A price war was in effect in many areas Jan. 10, and just where dealers stood in it will determine whether they now can raise or must lower their prices.

The regulations also require dealers to post octane ratings on each pump.

Chile fights strike

SANTIAGO, Chile (UPI) — The Marxist government of President Salvador Allende dangled more than 6,000 new vehicles as bait Thursday night in an attempt to crush a crippling nationwide strike by Chilean transport workers.

A ministerial council said the new trucks, buses and taxis would be given to drivers willing to defy the 44-day walkout, which has paralyzed economic life in this nation of 9 million.

Chile's 45,000 truck drivers, who started the transport strike last July, were expected to denounce the government plan and vow to keep up the walkout.

Thousands of bus and taxi drivers have joined the trucking walkout in recent days, putting even greater strains on Chile's already damaged transportation system.

Follow-up strikes buried Mario Montussi, a slain bus driver, Thursday in the port city of San Antonio after a 50-mile motorcade from the capital of Santiago.

Drivers accused police of gunning down Montussi during a street demonstration last Thursday, but authorities claimed he was accidentally shot by another protester.

Demos prepare list of 'musts'

WASHINGTON (UPI) — Congressional Democratic leaders have drawn up a list of bills they call "musts" for this session, including pension reform, aid to education, campaign spending reform and training people for jobs.

The House voted 357 to 37 to give Amtrack $107 million to run passenger trains for another year and also to give it more autonomy from the executive branch. The bill goes to conference with a Senate measure.

President Nixon formally vetoed legislation to raise the minimum wage from $1.00 to $2.20 an hour. He said it would add to inflation and unemployment and proposed instead a slower rise to $2.00 now and $2.20 next July 1.

The House passed a bill to lower the interest rate on federal disaster loans.

In an effort to put the two packages together and get some measures passed, Nixon Thursday invited Democratic leaders to meet with him at the White House next week to discuss plans.

But the Democrats took pains to assert their independence. The joint leadership notes that the Congress does not perform at the behest of this president or any president. Senate Democratic Leader Mike Mansfield and House Speaker Carl Albert said in a joint statement, in legislative actions Thursday:

T. Boyle charged in assassination

WASHINGTON (UPI) — Former mine union chief W. A. "Tony" Boyle said Thursday he is innocent of state and federal charges he ordered the assassination of his rival, Joseph A. "Jock" Yablonski, four years ago. Boyle was arrested Thursday by the FBI after the indictments were handed down.

Boyle, 58, president of the United Mine Workers of America (UMWA) for 10 years, was charged with murder in a state complaint issued in Washington, Pa., and with conspiring to deprive Yablonski of his union rights in a federal indictment issued in Pittsburgh.

He was arraigned and released on $50,000 bond on the federal charges by U.S. Magistrate Arthur L. Burnett, and ordered to appear before Sept. 25 for removal proceedings requested by Pennsylvania authorities.

Boyle (Yablonski) conspired as much as I did in the campaign," the fiery Boyle told reporters at the federal courthouse here. Boyle said he was innocent, but did not elaborate.

Yablonski, his wife and daughter were found shot to death in their Clarksville, Pa., home on New Year's eve, 1969, three weeks after Boyle won the 1969 union election.

Boyle was defeated late last year by Arnold Miller, a Yablonski ally, in a new election ordered by the U.S. Department of Labor.

The charges against Boyle, and a simultaneous state murder charge against UMWA District 10 President William Turnblazer, 52, brought the number of persons accused or convicted in the case to nine.

"This is the end of the line," said special Pennsylvania prosecutor Richard A. Sprague. "I do not expect any more arrests."

Turnblazer pleaded guilty to the murder charge and was placed in protective custody by federal marshals in Pittsburgh pending sentencing, indicating he would testify against Boyle.

Sprague said Boyle would be tried first on the state charge.

Both state and federal documents charged that Boyle ordered Yablonski's murder in a meeting at union headquarters here "on or about June 23, 1969" with Albert E. Pass, former financial secretary of District 10 (Kentucky-Tennessee) and Turnblazer.

"Boyle told Pass and Turnblazer that Yablonski ought to be killed or done away

Illinois prison hostages free

YOLKERS (UPI) — Rebellious convicts at the maximum security Stateville Penitentiary released 10 guard-hostages Thursday night after state police threatened to take their cellblock by force.

An eleventh guard, who escaped 45 minutes after being taken captive, said some prisoners "blew up" as the 275 men of cellblock "B" were returning from lunch about noon.

The uprising collapsed nine hours later when the rebels, armed with hand made knives, sharpened sticks and bedlegs, were given five minutes to release their hostages or face an assault by state police using tear gas.

The hostages were released one by one. One had a bloody nose and a puffed-up face. Another, who has a heart condition, collapsed as he was brought out and was taken to a hospital. The others did not appear harmed.

They are leaders of the rebellion in cellblock "B", which prison authorities called a cellblock for "incorrigibles," and their grievances for almost two hours.

Nixon criticized for minimum wage bill veto

United Press International Labor leaders, though not surprised, are almost unanimous in their criticism of President Nixon for vetoing a measure to raise the minimum wage, charging it was an injustice to the nation's poor.

"I'm not surprised by it but disappointed in it," said Frank King, president of the Ohio AFL-CIO. "It's something that is badly needed. The reasons he gives just don't make any sense to me. He's living up to form."

The President vetoed the measure which would have raised the minimum wage to $2.20 from $1.60 an hour, saying he found it inflationary.

Sigmund Arnytz, president of the Los Angeles County Federation of Labor, said: "We think he is performing a great injustice to the very poor. If he's really worried about inflation he should look at the inflated bank interest rates and the inflated profits of just about every corporation in America. His lack of concern for the working poor is vintage Richard Nixon."

C. L. Entekin, executive vice president of the Alabama Labor council, said "although not surprising, the president's decision is disappointing and an affront to America's workers. The veto is

C. L. Entekin, executive vice president of the Alabama Labor council, said "although not surprising, the president's decision is disappointing and an affront to America's workers. The veto is unconscionable. The veto is but another demonstration of Nixon's love affair with big business."

Delia ruins rice crops

GALVESTON, Tex. (UPI) — Tropical storm Delia caused violent weather in Arkansas, Oklahoma, Texas and Louisiana Thursday, forcing thousands of coastal residents to evacuate their homes. It finally deteriorated deep in the heart of Texas.

Delia, little more than a violent wind and rainstorm, was a piker in the annals of storms, but the ramifications of her mini-fury may be felt around the world.

It drenched the valuable Texas and Louisiana rice fields where crops had not been harvested because of late planting this year. The two states provide half the country's rice output and much of it is exported around the world.

Rice growers surveyed farms of rice rotting in waterlogged fields and predicted the cost of rice and rice products — everything from cereal to beer — will go up in the supermarkets because of Delia.

Rice exports, upon which some nations depend to keep their poor alive, will be drastically cut back, the growers said.

Four tornadoes in Louisiana and one in Marshall, Tex., were blamed on Delia. The high tides Delia caused in the Gulf of Mexico chased 1,000 persons from their homes in low-lying Baytown, Tex., and floodwaters forced other evacuations as far inland as Jonesboro, Ark.

SHOSHONE - The Methodist Church will sponsor a rummage sale from 9 a.m. to 5 p.m. Friday and Saturday. Location of the sale is changing this time to the former Post Office location on North Hall street. Mrs. Elmer Terry, chairman, said all types of clothing will be sold as well as other type articles, toys and small furniture.

TWIN FALLS - The Magic Valley Saintpaulia Club will meet at 2 p.m. Monday at the home of Mrs. Floyd Hartman, 722 Greenacres Drive.

Event set

FILER - An "Over 60" potluck luncheon will be served at noon Sept. 13 in the Filer American Legion Hall.

The senior citizen activities up until now have been under the direction of the senior citizens committee of the Community Education Steering committee. The committee feels it will be to the advantage of all senior citizens to be organized as a group and be able to plan their own programs. This plan will be presented at the luncheon. The steering committee is stressing "Fellowship With a Purpose."

MR. AND MRS. RODNEY DUTT

Betty Becker, Dutt exchange promises

TWIN FALLS - Betty Becker and Rodney Dutt, both Twin Falls, were married in Aug. 19 - rites at Immanuel

Lutheran Church. The ceremony was conducted by Rev. J. Scholtz. The bride is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Ervin Becker, Loveland, Colo., and the bridegroom's parents are Mr. and Mrs. Emil Dutt, Twin Falls.

The bride wore a gown of nylon organza with panels of acetate and nylon organza Chantilly type lace. The bodice featured a sheer yoke and bishop sleeves.

She carried an arrangement of pink roses tied with blue ribbon ribbons on a white Bible.

Mrs. Robert Becker was matron of honor.

Dale Dutt was best man and ushers were Richard Becker, cousin of the bride, and Darius Becker, brother of the bride. Ringbearer was Durren Nickerson, Stanley Becker, brother of the bride, served as candlelighter.

The couple was honored at a reception after the ceremony in the Parish Hall of the church.

Assisting with the reception were Lucille Becker, aunt of the bride, and Ruth Dutt, Ethel Reese and Linda Pond, all aunts of the bridegroom.

The couple resides at 291 Caswell Ave. W., Lot D-10, Twin Falls. The bride is employed by Skyview Manor and the bridegroom is employed by Swift and Co.

Potluck slated

TWIN FALLS - The W. C. Mingo family will hold an afternoon potluck Sunday at 216 Ash St., Twin Falls, in honor of Mrs. Mingo's sister and brother-in-law, Mr. and Mrs. Rex (Bis) Thomas, Santa Rosa, Calif.

The Thomases will leave the first of next week for the Haley-Ketchum area accompanied by Mr. Thomas' mother, Mrs. Fern Peterson, Twin Falls, to meet Charles Thomas, a brother from Kennewick, Wash., for a fishing trip.

The Thomases are former Twin Falls residents.

- AVOCADO CAKE
- 1 and one-third cups sugar
 - 1/2 cup margarine
 - 2 eggs
 - 1 cup mashed avocado
 - Mix above ingredients well and add:
 - 1/4 teaspoon cinnamon
 - 1/4 teaspoon allspice
 - 1/4 teaspoon nutmeg
 - 1/4 teaspoon salt
 - 1 teaspoon soda
 - one-third cup sour milk
 - 1/4 cup chopped dates
 - 1/4 cup raisins
 - 1/4 cup chopped nuts
 - 1 1/2 cups flour
- The batter is quite stiff before baking. Bake in a greased heavy pan or pyrex cake pan at 300 degrees for one hour or until done. Serve with whipped topping. This cake is also good plain and is very moist and freezes well.

Abigail Van Buren

DEAR ABBY: Ever since I became an adult my mother has been pushing poor Dad around. She interrupts him to correct his grammar, tells him what to say, what to wear, and what to do. And when he talks on the telephone she literally stands beside him and prompts him as if he were three years old.

Dad doesn't like to be treated this way, but after a lifetime of fighting with competitors in business, all he wants now is peace at home. Occasionally he tries to assert himself, but it's such a hassle, he gives up and Mom wins again.

I've tried getting Mom interested in volunteer work, especially working with small children to satisfy her urge to boss somebody around, but she finds destroying Dad's manhood inch by inch more to her liking.

Nagging prevails

DEAR ABBY: I went to a charity luncheon as a guest of a friend of mine. One of the door prizes was a trip to Hawaii - I won it.

Afterwards, one of the women came up to me and congratulated me and she said, "I hope the organization can expect a nice donation from you."

To tell you the truth, I hadn't even considered such a thing. I don't want to appear cheap. Should I send in the price of a luncheon ticket for a donation?

DEAR ABBY: Recently I was in a drug store when a woman, who appeared to be about 60, came in grumbling about her "old age."

"The druggist, a good friend of mine, pointed to me, and said, 'This old gent is 87, and he seems to be doing all right.'"

The woman asked me how I did it, and I replied: "I don't smoke or drink, I attend church regularly and never fool around with more than one woman at a time."

She looked me in the eye, and asked: "Master, what do you do for fun?"

I told her that I wandered thru graveyards and copied unusual inscriptions from the tombstones. It's true, but I'm sure she didn't believe me.

25 year date set

TWIN FALLS - Mr. and Mrs. A. F. Nelson, Twin Falls, will be honored on their 25th wedding anniversary Sunday at the Valley Christian Church, 1708 Heyburn Ave. E. Twin Falls.

The couple's family will honor them with a potluck dinner at 1 p.m. which will be followed by an open house reception from 3 to 5 p.m. at the church.

The couple was married Sept. 6, 1948, at Twin Falls. Their six children will attend the celebration. They include Scott Nelson, Boise; David Nelson, Nancy White, Sherril Andy and Mary Nelson, all Twin Falls.

nally he decided to try a trap and bid two hearts. East doubled happily.

South tried two spades. West doubled that and now AI ran to three clubs. By this time a doubling rhythm had been established. East doubled that also.

West opened a trump, but the lead didn't do the defense any good. There was no way to defeat three clubs and AI had stolen the rubber.

Was East entirely to blame? No. Just about 80 per cent. West should have bid two diamonds directly over South's two clubs so he gets a small part of the total blame.

Fruit growers upset by OSHA rules

R. OLMSTEAD gets-pout

By HAROLD FABER
 (New York Times Service)
HIGHLAND, N. Y.—Fruit growers are up in arms against new safety regulations for farm laborers proposed under the Occupational Safety and Health Act (OSHA) that would set strict standards for farm workers entering orchards that have been sprayed with organophosphorus pesticides. The new rules, if and when adopted, would be nationwide in scope, covering farms that grow apples, peaches, lemons, grapefruit, oranges, grapes and tobacco. The objective is to protect farm laborers from toxic materials. Here in the heart of New York's Mid-Hudson Valley, where apples and peaches are a major crop, farmers are irate. They say the new proposals are not necessary and, if adopted, would drive costs so high they would be driven out of competition. They are organizing a delegation to go to Washington Aug. 22 to make their objections known at a hearing. So far, OSHA officials have held two hearings: one in Bozeman, Idaho, and the other in Phoenix, Ariz., and have scheduled a third hearing in Atlanta on Aug. 15. The controversy between the growers and OSHA is complicated by temporary emergency regulations, a lawsuit and an injunction. OSHA issued temporary regulations May 1 and amended them on June 29, but was prevented from putting them into operation by an injunction gained by fruit growers in federal court in New Orleans on July 13. An appeal from the court decision is pending. Meanwhile, OSHA is proceeding with hearings on permanent regulation, which would go into effect at the end of the year, at the earliest. Under the proposed rules, a farm employe re-entering a treated crop area in the first 24 hours must wear protective clothing and equipment, unless he is simply passing through a field. After the first 24 hours, but before the specified expiration of the re-entry time, which may last up to 14 days, only those employes who have "substantial contact" with treated foliage must wear protective equipment including those picking crops, hand thinning or pruning trees. The protective clothing was described as consisting of coveralls, or another whole body covering, hat, gloves, impermeable shoes and a respirator, certified as being able to strain out all pesticides from the air the worker breathes. All protective clothing must be washed or disposed of after each day's use, according to the regulations. David S. Roll, an apple and peach grower in nearby Milton, N.Y., said, "We have been using pesticides for years."

Can't Idaho pay its bills?

By RICHARD CHARNOCK
BOISE (UPI) — A commission charged with reorganizing the state's financial deadbeats, saying in some cases, agencies are three to four months delinquent.

He said he was aware the state had had some computer problems. But he said not all of the arrearages can be blamed on this.
"It seems to me somebody is not doing their job," Chase said, adding that some suppliers frustrated by slow-paying state agencies are selling short supply items to persons with ready cash.

"I think the State of Idaho ought to pay its bills" when they're due," Chase said, "and not make people wait three or four months."
Calling it a proper subject for the Reorganization Commission he suggested the staff look into the problem.

"I think somebody ought to get his knuckles rapped on this and the state should start paying its bills," Chase said.
Darrell Manning, state aeronautics director, former legislator and another member of the commission, agreed there is a problem and said he, too, feels it a proper one for the reorganization commission to study.

"There's an awful lot of unnecessary paper work involved in the bill-paying area."
Sen. Walter Yarbrough, R-Grandview, said the Joint Finance-Appropriations Committee has looked into the problem and has discovered the state is losing thousands of dollars in potential discounts.

Commissioners meet

BOISE (UPI) — Public utility commissioners from four western states delved today into complexities of heading off a power shortage this winter in an area heavily dependent on hydroelectricity.
Commissioners from Washington, Oregon, Idaho and Montana agreed there is a power shortage in the drought stricken Northwestern states.
They also agreed at the opening of a two-day meeting that solving it will take a combined effort and cooperation from the federal government.

Opposes plan

BOISE (UPI) — Fourth District Court Judge Alfred C. Hagan says the legislature system has plenty of safeguards and the state doesn't really need the "modified Missouri plan" adopted by the legislature to insure good behavior of the judges.
Hagan made the comment Wednesday in an appearance before the Idaho Press club in Boise.

Gooding youth cited

TWIN FALLS — A Gooding youth was cited for following too closely after his vehicle ran into the rear of another car Thursday afternoon.

Idaho State police reported $450 damage to the vehicle driven by William M. Willard, 17, Gooding, which ran into the rear of a vehicle driven by Barbara Larsen, 23, Wendover, Nev., who was stopped at the junction of Highways 93 and 30 west of Twin Falls at 1:25 p.m.

The Larsen vehicle was damaged about $550, officers said. Both vehicles were headed east. There were no injuries.

Church robbed

TWIN FALLS — Burglars entered the Grace Baptist Church, 211 4th Ave. E. sometime early this week and took $1,369, mostly in checks.

Rev. Robert J. Seaman told city police he had been away from Sunday night until Wednesday night and apparently the break-in occurred sometime during those dates. Officers said someone broke out a window in the church to gain entry and pried open the door leading to Rev. Seaman's office where they discovered the checks and bills. About $1,110 of the loss was in checks.

Kitchen hours listed

JEROME — Mrs. Harry Brown, chairman of the board of directors of the Jerome Canning Kitchen, said Thursday that the canning kitchen will be opened Monday and Fridays beginning Monday.

Mrs. Richard Jasper, kitchen supervisor, requests that people pick up their canned food as the shelf space is needed.

Mrs. Brown said the kitchen will stay open through the month of September.

She noted that the kitchen is a community owned project paid for by membership fees of $1. "Everyone is welcome to can and utilize the kitchen facilities," Mrs. Brown said.

Groundbreaking slated

JEROME — Groundbreaking ceremonies for the new Jerome LDS Church will be held Saturday at 2 p.m. at the east end of East Avenue C.

Ezra Tait Benson, a member of the Quorum of the Twelve Apostles, will preside and be the featured speaker.

Miller Construction Co., Twin Falls, has been awarded the contract for the $489,200 building. Total cost of the improvement will be $575,000, including land, furnishings, landscaping and street improvements.

Construction of the new church is scheduled for completion in June, 1974.

Kimama man charged

SHOSHONE — Charles Curtis, 54, Kimama, was bound over to district court Thursday to answer charges of lewd and lascivious conduct.

Curtis appeared before magistrate Charles C. Shaw who issued the order that Curtis appear in district court for trial. No trial date has been set.

Curtis was arrested in August on a complaint signed by the father of a 14-year old boy.

Woman shot

MARSING (UPI) — A woman was shot to death and her husband wounded late Thursday night in a farm house one mile south of Marsing.

Owyhee County Sheriff Tim Nettleton identified the woman as Donna Joe Van Derhoff, 42.

Nettleton said the facts surrounding the shooting were unclear, but added he did not think a third party was involved.

Hearing date set

GOODING — A preliminary hearing for Juan Ruiz, charged with first degree murder in the death of his son-in-law, will be held Monday at 10 a.m. before Magistrate Charles Shaw.

The charges stem from the Aug. 30 death of Dan Wooten, and the wounding of Ruiz daughter, Eva Wooten, in the family residence at Gooding. Ruiz also is charged with assault with a deadly weapon with intent to commit murder on his daughter.

Philip Becker, public defender, is representing Ruiz. Ruiz is in custody of the sheriff's office.

$667,000 farm housing complex construction under way

Work begins on Hazelton complex

By CHARLOTTE BELL
Times-News writer

HAZELTON — Work has begun in Hazelton on a 38-unit farm housing complex due for completion in April, 1974.

The $667,000 complex, which serves both Eden and Hazelton, is located on 20 acres of land west of Hazelton, and is bordered by the Murlaugh road.

Ground preparation work is presently being done with construction of the 48 units to begin later this month.

When completed the "Valley Agricultural Housing Complex" will contain 24 duplex units, built in a park type setting with parking for trucks and family vehicles.

The 48 units will each have from one to three bedrooms, a bathroom family and kitchen area. It is anticipated that each unit will be equipped with stove, beds, refrigerator, table and chairs.

Plans for the project were drawn up over a year ago but because of a conflict over sewage facilities the building program was postponed until March, when a bond issue was passed to construct a new Hazelton sewer system.

Willard D. Stevenson, in charge of Farm Home Administration rural housing division, said Thursday that the Eden-Hazelton housing authority has obtained an agreement with the city of Hazelton to hook on to the present sewer system until the new one is completed. He noted that the agreement has been approved by the South Central Idaho Health District.

Stevenson said original plans had called for a 50-unit complex to be constructed. But because Hazelton did not have the money to build a lift station to the housing development could hook on to the sewer system one of the duplexes was dropped so the housing authority would be able to pay for the lift station.

Stevenson said the development is for the benefit of people making a living from agricultural work. He noted a need to try and provide more and better housing for the migrant workers so they will settle in one place and make a permanent home.

It is anticipated that when the new housing is completed the present migrant labor camp in Hazelton will be closed.

Nielsen Construction Company of Twin Falls was awarded the contract for the development at a cost of $677,740. After the bids were opened it was found that because of the delays in the project the amount of the bids was put over the amount of grant monies approved by the FHA to the housing authority. Through renegotiations with the FHA additional money was obtained for the project.

Dalry to seek Jerome office

JEROME — Mario Dalry, 47, Jerome is the first person to announce he will seek the office of city councilman in the Nov. 6 city election.

Dalry, who has lived in Jerome since 1967, said he has always been interested in city government and feels he could be of service to the community.

He has been with the Idaho National Guard for the past 23 years and works as a supply technician in the guards maintenance shop in Jerome.

He has served as a city volunteer fireman and is presently assistant fire chief.

Dalry was born in Clis, Italy and came to the United States when he was nine months old.

The terms of councilman Elwin Tinker and Walter Bentzinger expire this year. Tinker said last week he will not seek reelection. Bentzinger has said he will run again.

Jerome Mayor J. A. (Jack) Russell said he will not be seeking reelection. Former city judge Cyff J. Shupe has announced he will be a candidate for the position of Mayor and a petition has been taken out for F. L. (Fred) Bauscher, who has not decided yet whether he will run or not.

Youth escapés

TWIN FALLS — A 17-year-old Twin Falls youth who escaped from the county jail last Saturday and then gave himself up to officers is free again today.

The youth had been held in the Twin Falls city jail after he walked back to the sheriff's office last Saturday night and voluntarily returned to custody.

City officers said the youth had been given permission to take a shower and left while dressing. He was reportedly wearing no shoes when he left the police station about 7:45 p.m. Thursday.

He and another youth broke out of the county jail last Saturday when they punched a hole in the ceiling near a pipe and worked their way into the rafters and onto the roof of the four story building. They utilized scaffolding left by crews now cleaning the exterior of the courthouse to reach the ground.

The other youth, also 17 and also from Twin Falls is still at large.

Hazelton to hook on to the present sewer system until the new one is completed. He noted that the agreement has been approved by the South Central Idaho Health District.

Stevenson said original plans had called for a 50-unit complex to be constructed. But because Hazelton did not have the money to build a lift station to the housing development could hook on to the sewer system one of the duplexes was dropped so the housing authority would be able to pay for the lift station.

Stevenson said the development is for the benefit of people making a living from agricultural work. He noted a need to try and provide more and better housing for the migrant workers so they will settle in one place and make a permanent home.

It is anticipated that when the new housing is completed the present migrant labor camp in Hazelton will be closed.

Nielsen Construction Company of Twin Falls was awarded the contract for the development at a cost of $677,740. After the bids were opened it was found that because of the delays in the project the amount of the bids was put over the amount of grant monies approved by the FHA to the housing authority. Through renegotiations with the FHA additional money was obtained for the project.

Severe illness

TRENTON, N.J. (UPI) — An 18-month old Hampton, N.J., child has contracted Eastern Encephalitis—a severe illness transmitted from animals to humans by infected mosquitoes, the state Department of Health said Thursday.

The department said the unidentified child, contracted the disease Aug. 22, and has been hospitalized.

Five cases of horses infected with the disease have been identified in New Jersey, the department said, but the chance of individuals contracting the disease is "infinitesimally small."

MV gas stations to remain open

When the rollback occurs, Murri said, the station will still be able to clear between a half and one cent profit on gas. He said he had heard no talk of a strike, but if distributors raise their prices, a strike would be justified.

"We don't see any real problems up here. We're going to be able to get the gas and we're still going to make some profit, so we're not too worried," Bill Beavor, owner of Rays American, Shoshone, said. He said, however, that the station would be rolling back prices three to four cents per gallon.

Herb Stroud of Herb's Texaco Station, Gooding, said the price ceiling would have no immediate effect on his station, but expressed concern that his supplier might raise prices. "Seems like if one comes up the rest will follow suit," he said. He said if his distributor raises gas prices by a penny per gallon he would "keep going all right, but it would be tougher."

Regarding the possibility of a strike Stroud said, "There hasn't been any talk of that around here. I'm not saying it couldn't happen though."

One station owner said the price ceiling would have a harsh effect on his operation. Dale Howerton, Dale's Texaco, Buhl, said with his men's wages and rent to consider the station will not be able to make a profit when the ceiling is imposed.

"We won't close, but one thing I'm considering very strongly is just put my pumps out there and have complete self-service," Howerton said. He said he has not heard talk of a strike around Buhl, but he "surely would" consider joining one.

Named riders at Filer

FILER — Top name cowboys from 15 of the United States and two provinces of Canada are taking place in rodeo events at the Twin Falls County Fair.

Included among the list of 185 contestants are Dennis Reiners, Scottsdale, Ariz., 1970 World champion saddle bronc rider; Joe Alexander, Cora, Wyo., 1971 and 1972 world champion bareback rider and currently in the lead for the 1973 championship; Jim Dix, North Collie, West Australia, the first Australian cowboy to qualify for the National Finals Rodeo.

Bobby Steiner, a 21-year old cowboy from Austin, Tex., currently in the lead for the world championship in the bull riding; John Quintana, Cresswell, Ore., 1972 world champion bull rider; Tom Ferguson, San Martin, Calif., 1973 national intercollegiate steer wrestling champion, and Bob Christopherson, Sioux City, Iowa, three times national high school champion steer wrestler and 1971 national finals steer wrestling winner.

These and many other tough cowboys will test their skills against the good stock brought to Filer by Cotton Rosser and the Golden State Rodeo Company.

The whole family will be entertained by Larry Clayman, Hillsdaleville, Mo., and his chirp Toto. Also clown John Taylor, Burbank, Calif., will be on hand.

Miss Rodeo America, Pam Martin of Las Vegas, Nev., will be making personal appearances as will all the contestants for the Miss Rodeo Idaho.

Shoshone to elect three

SHOSHONE — Shoshone city voters will elect a mayor and two councilmen in the Nov. 6 municipal election.

Terms of Mayor Ellwood R. Werry and Councilmen Frank Carollers and Paul Jacobson will expire. They have not indicated whether they will seek reelection.

The polls will be open from noon to 8 p.m. Nov. 6 at the city hall. Nominating petitions may be filed from Sept. 27 to Oct. 9 and must have at least 13 signatures of qualified and registered electors. The petitions should not contain more than 40 signatures. Mrs. Claude Chess, city clerk, said.

Persons may register anytime at the city hall. Those who did not vote in the last election two years ago must also register, Mrs. Chess said.

Barrel race set Sunday

SHOSHONE — Jackpot barrel race will be held at 2:30 p.m. Sunday at the Shirley Daniels Arena, four miles north and 10 miles west of Shoshone.

Andrus visits TF fair

By MARJORIE LIERMAN
Times-News Writer

FILER — Gov. Cecil Andrus had high praise for the Twin Falls County Fair when he visited it Thursday.

The governor said, "The Twin Falls County Fair proves to be one of the outstanding events of the year."

He said he wanted to compliment the people of the county on the facilities they have maintained over the years which he said are unequaled anywhere in the state.

A highlight of the fair is the Hereford show with its outstanding stock, the governor said. He added that in talking with a number of livestock breeders from Wyoming, Oregon and California all agree that in their opinion this show is the best in the Pacific northwest.

Gov. Andrus toured all the display buildings on the grounds and even took the wheel of the minitractor which he drove around the grounds with its load of passengers.

Attendance at the fair on Thursday was over 15,500, more than a 10 per cent increase over last year's second day attendance figure. The roster attendance Thursday evening was over 1,700. Today is West End Day and fairgoers will attend from Buhl, Filer and Castleford.

The big western Standard of Perfection Polled Hereford Show got underway this morning in the rodeo arena before this evening's rodeo events begin.

FEA round robin sitting and showing winners in the junior division were Bill Holloway, Twin Falls, swine and dairy; Wado Williams, Filer; beef, and Richard Carney, Twin Falls, sheep.

In the senior division, Dan Palneck, Castleford, was winner in the best fitting and showing; Darrell Wetstein, Buhl, dairy; and Darrell Stelgenmole, Buhl, swine, and Randy McCoy, Castleford, sheep.

Buddy Fuller, Twin Falls, received the grand champion swine fitting and showing 4-H award and also placed first in the 4-H round robin fitting and showing.

Jackie Canel, Twin Falls, received the open class trophy for swine quality and the 4-H and FFA grand champion in lightweight class for swine.

Winner of the best artistic exhibit of flower clubs was the Plant People, Castleford, with the Bowl and Blossom Club, Twin Falls, taking second. The Garden Friends, Buhl, won first for best quality of 12 kinds of flowers with the Petal Pals, Castleford, placing second.

The Twin Falls Garden Club was first place winner in best quality of one kind of flower, with The Green Thumb Club, Twin Falls, second, and the Countryside Flower Club, Twin Falls, third.

Saturday's fatstock sale will begin at 10:30 a.m. and Saturday afternoon 4-H awards will be presented in the Tom Parks pavilion.

Thursday night rodeo results include bareback riding Joe Alexander, Cora, Wyo., 70 points; Larry Mahan, Dallas, Tex., 71; John Edwards, Red Lodge, Mont., 69, and Dunne Sorenson, Spanish Fork, Utah, 67.

Steer wrestling Wayne Elso, Dillon, Mont., 5.8 tied with Larry Ferguson, Sam Martin, Calif., with 5.8 time; Casper Schaefer, Miles City, Mont., 5.9, and Bob Christopherson, Sioux City, Iowa, 5.9.

Saddle bronc riding Daryl Kong, Kaycee, Wyo., 72 points; Larry Mahan, 70, Dick Ottley, Burns, Ore., 69.

Cow riding Bob Jaker, Gubb, 14.1; Buzz Stehen, Tatcher, Idaho, 15.8; and Dan Thompson, Sandy, Utah, 16.

Girls barrel racing Marion Mestas, 17.5; Tamara Spencer 17.9; and Jennifer Ward, 17.4.

Bull riding Brian Claypool, Canada, 70 points; Bill Balenske, Hillsboro, Ore., 73 points, and Roy Dahl, Billings, Mont., 69.

Persecution aids church

By LOUIS CASSELS
 United Press International
 Jesus foretold it. St. Paul and other early Christians experienced it. It has occurred countless times in the 2,000 year history of the Church. Yet each time it seems to sort of miraculously under persecution, instead of collapsing, the Church thrives.

This phenomenon is now occurring once again under the Communist regime of Fidel Castro in Cuba.

Persecution of Christians seems to be something all new Communist dictatorships feel they must try. Older Communist governments, such as that of the Soviet Union, have learned halfheartedly, at most.

But Castro's Cuba is a relative newcomer to the roster of red nations, and it still is putting some muscle into harassment of Christians.

According to the Rev. Bibiano Molina, who has retired in Fort Worth, Tex. after spending 50 years as a Baptist pastor in Cuba, Castro's antichurch activity is producing the same result as every other persecution of Christians since the time of the Roman emperor Nero.

Mission boards in the United States or other countries to send any money or manpower into Cuba.

"When this happened, Christian ministers and lay people of Cuba reacted by supporting themselves," Molina said in a recent report to the Southern Baptist Home Mission Board.

The government continues to make life difficult for Cuban churches, according to the Baptist pastor.

"The government blocks off both ends of the street whenever a church holds a service," he said. "The streets are used for baseball, soccer and track, and the games are conducted while church is in session. But this does not keep young people from coming to church. Cuban churches are filled with young people each Sunday."

In an effort to avoid the overt appearance of persecution, which is out of favor with more advanced Communist countries, the Castro government uses indirect harassments such as a law stipulating that preaching is allowed only inside a church, never outside in the open.

Services are normally allowed only at the customary hours on Sundays. A special permit must be sought to conduct a revival meeting with week night services.

Disrupt these and other forms of "strong government opposition," Molina said, "the church is still very much alive in Cuba."

"It is a miracle," he said. "Church members are stronger than ever in their faith. Churches once dependent on mission boards are now self-supporting."

Best of all, the future seems assured, because young people, told they should not go to church, are responding as any parent might have told Castro they would. They go to church - voluntarily, openly and stubbornly.

That the church thrives under persecution should come as no surprise to any reader of the New Testament. In one of his last talks with his disciples, Jesus warned them: "You will be arrested and persecuted and put in prison. But they should not be dismayed when that happens, he said, for 'this is your best chance to preach the gospel.'"

"We can rejoice when we run into problems and trials," said the great apostle, who finally lost his own life in one of Rome's persecutions.

"Trials and troubles are good for us because they help us to learn patience," Paul said. "And patience strengthens our character. It teaches us to trust God more firmly each time we suffer, until finally our confidence in Him is complete."

Dedication slated Sunday Jerome parish hall rites set

JEROME - Dedication of St. Jerome's parish hall and education center will be held Sunday following the 10 a.m. mass.

Rev. Sylvester Treinon, bishop of the Diocese of Boise, will be in Jerome Sunday to dedicate the new parish hall, which has just been constructed by St. Jerome Parish.

The hall designed by Ivan Stone, and built by Gene Jonson, Twin Falls, contains six classrooms which will be used for educational purposes, as well as parish meetings.

Also included in the new building is a multi-purpose room which will be used for parish and community functions as well as a complete kitchen.

Invited to participate in the dedication ceremonies besides Bishop Treinon is Rev. Bernard McBride, who was the pastor when construction began and Rev. Francis DeNardis, present pastor.

Lay people taking part will be Stan Pfitzer, master of ceremonies, John Hosina, chairman of the building committee; Frank Titus, who will present a brief history as well as members of the planning committee; Mrs. Kenneth Martin, president of the Catholic Women's league, and Vince Alberdi, president of Holy Name Society.

An open house and coffee hour will follow the dedication.

Country fair set Sunday

FILER - Final plans for a country fair and watermelon feed were made by the Idaho Unit of the Good Shepherd Auxiliary at the group's last meeting.

The event will be held Sunday at the Robert Adolf home, two miles east of Hagerman.

There will be a white elephant booth, baked goods, garden produce and handwork for sale. Fish ponds and guessing games will be provided for children. Articles made by retarded children will be displayed and slides and information on the three homes, Terra-Bella and El Toro in California and Cornelia in Oregon will be shown.

Watermelon will be available to eat and to take home.

Nominating committee for the annual meeting includes Mrs. Arnold Werner, Jerome; Mrs. Benno Deters, Twin Falls, and Mrs. Clarence Dagner, Hansen. The annual meeting will be held Nov. 2 at the Kimberly Lutheran Church.

Members listened to recordings to the Good Shepherd choir. Rev. T. D. Johnston offered a closing meditation. Mrs. Donald Schroeder served refreshments.

Mrs. Del Butterfield will host the Oct. 1 meeting, assisted by Mrs. Larry Schwarz.

League elects

FILER - Rockne Lambers has been elected president of the Peace Lutheran Walthers League.

Pam Kolb (Latach) is vice president, Christy Gregg, secretary-treasurer. Sandra Yoder and Carol Puder, Christian growth chairman, and Brent Thaele, Cheryl Puder and Danhy Daniels, athletic committee.

Initiation of new members was recently held following a swimming party and picnic.

PERRY COTHAM
 ... speaker

Texan to address sessions

TWIN FALLS - Perry Cotham, Grand Prairie, Texas, will speak at a week-long meeting at the Church of Christ, 2002 Filer Ave. E., beginning Sunday.

Perry has traveled and preached in more than half of the United States, as well as Canada, Europe, Brazil, West India, South Africa and Rhodesia.

The services will be held at 11 a.m. and 6:30 p.m. Sunday and at 8 p.m. each weekday evening. The lessons will be biblical and interesting, according to local church officials.

Revival set

JEROME - The Church of the Nazarene will hold revival services each evening at 8 p.m. starting Sunday and continuing through Sept. 14.

The Rev. Tony Taft will be the special speaker, according to Rev. Floyd Young.

Music will be provided by members of the local church. The revival services are open to the public.

Sunbeams win

TWIN FALLS - The Twin Falls Sunbeams, sponsored by the Salvation Army, won a blue ribbon for troop inspection during the recent encampment at Camp Cascade.

Susan Bridwell received a trophy for being chosen honor camper and Stephanie Matlock was chosen candy princess for the Twin Falls troop, having sold nearly 400 boxes of candy. She was first runner up for Candy Queen for troops from Idaho and Oregon.

Twelve members of the Twin Falls Sunbeams sold candy last winter to pay for a portion of their camp fees.

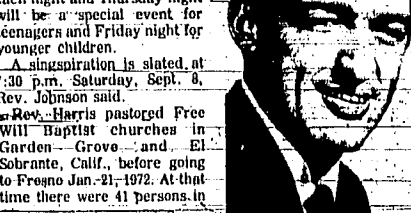

Services at Jerome

JEROME - Rev. Charles Harris, Fresno, Calif., will conduct revival services at the Jerome Free Will Baptist Church, Monday through Sept. 14.

Services will begin at 7:30 p.m. each evening, according to Rev. Bill Johnson, pastor. There will be special music each night and Thursday night will be a special event for teenagers and Friday night for younger children.

A sing-along is slated at 7:30 p.m. Saturday, Sept. 8, Rev. Johnson said.

Rev. Harris pastored Free Will Baptist churches in Garden Grove and El Sobrante, Calif., before going to Fresno Jan. 21, 1972. At that time there were 41 persons in the congregation and a year later attendance was 450, Rev. Johnson said.

CHARLES HARRIS
 ... sets talks

Week-long service set at Burley

BURLEY - The Burley Free Will Baptist Church will host a series of old-fashioned revival meetings beginning Sunday.

Rev. Milan Ruble, Wenatchee, Wash., will conduct the special revival services at the Free Will Baptist Church, 1301 East 16th Avenue, Burley, beginning at 7:30 p.m.

The revival meetings will be held Sunday through Sept. 16. There will be instrumental music and special singing each night.

Rev. Delmar Hopkins, pastor of the Burley Church, said the public is invited to attend any or all of the revival sessions.

Winter schedule to begin

TWIN FALLS - The First Presbyterian Church in Twin Falls will return to its winter schedule this Sunday, with services at 9:30 and 11 a.m.

The early service is an informal one held in the Fireside lounge. Coffee will be served after the service.

Rev. Robert Van Nest will preach on "How Do You Say Goodbye?" Mrs. David Mead and Mrs. Van Nest will sing a duet.

All senior-high-youths are invited to a get-together in the Fireside lounge at 7:30 p.m. Sunday to discuss what type of fellowship program they prefer for the winter months. Refreshments will be served.

100th anniversary marked at Salmon

SALMON - The Salmon United Methodist Church Sunday celebrated its 100th birthday.

A worship service and a noon basket dinner with a program following comprised the events with Rev. Theodore Cox officiating.

The first account of religious services in Salmon is associated with the coming of a Methodist Circuit rider early in 1872.

Rites set for new pastor

TWIN FALLS - Rev. Don Habermehl, formerly youth pastor in Roseburg, Ore., will be installed as pastor of the Lynwood-Chapel Missionary church at the 11 a.m. worship service Sunday.

Rev. Joseph Kimmel, district superintendent of the West-Northwest districts, will officiate.

The new pastor and his wife, Judy, moved to Twin Falls recently to assume the local pastorate. He was graduated from Mountain View Bible college in Didsbury, Alberta, Canada, in 1972 and has served as youth and assistant pastor the past year in the Groen Missionary church in Roseburg.

The public is invited to the installation service Sunday morning.

Rev. Hugh Duncan, whose home was in Virginia City, Montana Territory, covered a circuit in the Beaverhead country in Montana and took it upon himself to visit Salmon City.

The Salmon church was organized by Rev. R. A. Higgin and W. W. Van Orsdal in a visit 100 years ago. Van Orsdal, known as "Brother Van," established many churches, hospitals and a home for children.

The Salmon church was the first with which he had a part in organizing, Rev. Cox said.

The first church in Salmon was built by the Methodists at the corner of Main and Church streets. The present church on First Street was completed in 1952.

Last-second field goal lets Dallas edge Miami

IRVING, Tex. (UPI) — Tony Fritsch kicked a 22-yard field goal with three seconds left in the game Thursday night to climax a 20-point Dallas rally and give the Cowboys a 20-23 preseason win over Miami in their first meeting since Super Bowl VI. A rash of first half mistakes had left Dallas behind 23-6 and only two excellent defensive efforts deep in their own end of the field kept the Cowboys from being behind even further late in the first half. But Roger Staubach hit former Miami flanker Otto Stowe with a 20-yard touchdown pass with only 40 seconds left in the first half to put the Cowboys back in the game. Fritsch kicked a nine-yard field goal in the third quarter to being Dallas within seven points, and the Cowboys tied it with 6:40 left in the game on a six-yard pass from Craig Morton to Stowe. Morton then marched the Cowboys down the field in the dying moments to set up Fritsch's winning field goal.

It was the second straight loss in the exhibition season for the defending Super Bowl champions who had not lost in 24 straight games before bowing last week to Minnesota. It was also the second straight week Miami had blown a large lead, allowing the Vikings to make up a 14-point deficit last week.

Miami's scoring fall took place in the first half with Jim Kiick and Larry Csonka each scoring on one-yard runs, and Bob Griese hitting Marlin Briscoe on a five-yard touchdown pass. The Dolphins also scored a safety when center Jim Arneson snapped the ball over the head of punter Marv Bateman and out of the end zone.

Dallas scored first in the opening quarter on a 20-yard run by Calvin Hill on the Cowboys' first play from scrimmage. In the first half Staubach fumbled once and threw an interception to set up Miami touchdowns.

A poor punt from Bateman also set up a Miami opportunity, but the Dallas defense, playing its best game of the preseason, stopped Miami four times from inside the two yard line. Later in the second quarter Miami had a first and ten on the Dallas 14 but D. D. Lewis intercepted a Griese pass to stop that threat.

The Cowboys limited Miami to only 20 total yards in the second half. It was only the second meeting between the two teams with the only other being in Super Bowl VI when Dallas whipped the Dolphins, 24-3.

The Cowboys finished preseason actively with a 4-2 record while Miami ended 3-2-1.

Wendell defense makes Scott's TD stand up for win over Buhl

WENDELL — Tracy Scott burst loose on a 21-yard scoring play late in the first quarter and the Wendell Trojans outbatted the Buhl Indians for an 8-6 decision Thursday night.

Wendell failed to convert on a couple of scoring breaks early and from about the middle of the second quarter on, Buhl built up a statistical lead. But the quicker — and thinner — were able to turn back all but one of the Indian's thrusts. The game gave both teams 1-1 records.

Wendell, after failing to capitalize on Matt Bunn's interception at the Buhl 22 early, used a fumble recovery by Kober to set up its winning sequence. The fumble occurred after a punt exchange and set the Trojans up on the Buhl 6. After absorbing a five-yard penalty, Wendell sent Scott on a live. It opened up suddenly and the junior halfback streaked into the end zone.

Wendell's first two-point conversion pass failed but Buhl was flagged and on the second chance Bunn ploughed into the end zone for the decisive points.

The Trojans' best drive came in the second period when they drove 36 yards but lost the ball on a fumble at the Indian 24. From that point Buhl turned to the air. Right hander Charlie Hepworth hit Scott with a strike to the Wendell 40 and lefty Ken Folkings followed with a 25-yard strike to sure-handed Mike Hamilton. Hepworth, now at running back, then belted to the seven and three plays later Rick Landa punched in from the end zone. The conversion pass failed.

The Indians had a golden chance just seconds later when, due to a rush, Wendell's punt went straight up and resulted in a minus two-yard net. Buhl, taking over on the 20, got a first down at the seven but Wendell's Bob Bitterli intercepted to end the threat.

The second half was a matter of Buhl keeping offensive pressure — although with no truly deep threats — and Wendell's defense holding the Indians.

Smith, Kodes clash in semis

FOREST HILLS, N. Y. (UPI) — Stan Smith and Jan Kodes, the man who succeeded him as Wimbledon champion, Thursday reached the semifinals of the U.S. open tennis championships, Smith by the short route and Kodes the long way.

The heat, humidity and the close matches of the previous eight days were a memory. A light rain even fell briefly during the day to ease the players' lot, but Smith needed no aid from the elements as he swept by New Zealand David Copper. Onny Parun, 6-3, 6-3, 6-2.

Kodes, 27, won a two-hour, 40-minute thriller from the mostly Nikkei Pile of Yugoslavia, 6-2, 4-6, 6-1, 3-6, 7-5.

Smith, 28 and Kodes, one year his senior, meet in one semifinal Saturday, one day after Australians Ken Rosewall, 38, and 29-year-old John Newcombe, who advanced Thursday, meet in the other.

The women's semifinal pairings are Helga Masthoff of West Germany vs. 22-year-old Evonne Goolagong, of Australia, and Chris Evert, the 18-year-old star from Ft. Lauderdale, Fla. vs. Margaret Court, a 31-year-old Australian who is seeking her sixth title. Both will be played Friday.

ANAHEIM (UPI) — Joe Rudi's double highlighted a two-run sixth inning and Vidal Blue, with eighth inning relief from Horacio Pina and Paul Lindblad, picked up his 16th triumph Thursday night as Oakland beat the California Angels 6-4 to increase the A's lead in the American League West to 5 1/2 games over idle Kansas City.

LA drops No. 7 LOS ANGELES (UPI) — Nate Colbert and Fred Kendall singled in a run each in the sixth inning Thursday night to carry the San Diego Padres to a 3-2 victory over Los Angeles and end the slumping Dodgers to their seventh straight defeat.

Bar banned WASHINGTON (UPI) — Seventy-six football fans who happen also to be members of the U.S. Senate have voted to limit football blackouts.

With six senators voting no, they approved Thursday a bill that would forbid television blackouts of home games that are sold out 72 hours in advance.

The bill goes to the House where similar legislation was being prepared in hope of final passage before the football season begins Sept. 16.

But National Football League Commissioner Pete Rozelle doesn't buy the idea.

Paralyzed MINNEAPOLIS, Minn. (UPI) — The doctor for former Minnesota Vikings' defensive back Karl Kasulke said Thursday there is virtually no hope that Kasulke will ever walk again.

But the doctor said there is no reason that the former football star cannot lead an "independent and productive life."

Kasulke was critically injured in a car-motorcycle accident in the Twin Cities on July 24, the day before the Vikings' training camp opened.

Bucs change skippers

PITTSBURGH (UPI) — Pittsburgh's floundering Pirates, feeling they have a chance to win, fired Bill Virdon Thursday and reached out to their trusty old lifeline, Danny Murtaugh.

To serve his fourth hitch as manager. Murtaugh led the Pirates to their first world championship in 35 years when they beat the New York Yankees on Bill Mazeroski's ninth inning homer in the seventh game of the 1960 World Series. He guided them to another World Series victory in seven games against the Baltimore Orioles in 1971.

Virdon was the second major league managerial casualty within a week. The Detroit Tigers fired Billy Martin Sunday.

Pirates' General Manager Joe L. Brown told a hastily-called news conference that firing Virdon "was the most difficult decision I've had to make in my 35 years in baseball."

"But I've always felt that when you have a chance to win you should do everything possible to increase your chances of winning, even if it means changing managers."

Brown said Murtaugh was "shocked" when he asked him to take over the team.

Swim records fall

BELGRADE (UPI) — Rick De Mont of San Rafael, Calif., led an avalanche of four world records in six races Thursday and kept the United States one gold medal ahead of East Germany in the World Swimming Championships.

De Mont, who lost his gold Olympic medal when he failed a drug test at Munich, got his revenge when he won the 400 meters freestyle with a world best time of 3:58.18. In a carbon copy of the Olympic final, he beat Brad Cooper of Australia by a fingertip after overtaking him in the last 50 meters.

The other U.S. gold went to Robin Backhaus of Redlands, Calif., who led Stovo Gregg of Wilmington, Del., to a 1-2 sweep of the 200 meters butterfly.

Three of the gold medals and two of the world records went to the East Germans while David Wilkie of Britain broke the U.S.-East Germany monopoly of gold by swimming a world record 2:19.20 in the 200 meters breast stroke and forcing Jupp Hencken, the old record holder from Santa Clara, Calif., to take the silver.

Wilkie's swim proved the highlight of the third day's finals and contrasted with the dull and predictable efficiency with which the hefty East German girls swept the gold in their races.

The Briton, who has trained for the past six months at Miami University in Florida, swimming with a yellow cup and a pair of goggles, had the 3,500 crowd at the outdoor Tasmanian pool on its feet as he surged past Hencken in the final 50 meters and drove on to his world record.

ABA to name new chief NEW YORK (UPI) — The American Basketball Association is expected to name Mike Storen its third commissioner in 14 months today.

Storen, former general manager and president of the Kentucky Colonels and now a league consultant, is the leading candidate to replace Robert Carlson, who resigned Thursday to return to his practice of law.

Carlson, a former commissioner of the ABA in July, 1972, replacing Jack Dolph. He told the league's trustees at a meeting in Chicago Thursday he had given himself one year to achieve consolidation of the ABA and the rival National Basketball Association.

"While that may have been overly optimistic, I believe that the ABA has made significant progress toward that goal during the last 12 months," Carlson said. "The decision to return to my law firm was a difficult one for me as I do not like to leave a job undone."

Yankees sell Alou brothers NEW YORK (UPI) — The New York Yankees, apparently abandoning any hopes of winning a pennant this year, dealt away their two Alou brothers Thursday to contending National League teams.

The Yankees sent 38-year-old Felipe, a right-handed hitting outfielder and first baseman, to the Montreal Expos for an undisclosed amount of cash and they dealt 34-year-old Matty to the St. Louis Cardinals for a player to be named later, or cash.

Only grass ahead

POCATELLO — The Filer Wildcats softened Gooding's defenses up with a brother passing combination Thursday afternoon to pull off a 14-0 South-Central Idaho Conference victory.

Junior quarterback Steve Thaeete threw to halfback brother Lonn Thaeete most of the time and it proved the only way the Wildcats could get the ball moving.

Meanwhile, Gooding, which hasn't scored now in two outings, missed three chances, two of them solid ones, to move ahead in the first period and failed. After that Filer defense, which is unscored upon in eight quarters, held the Senators well at bay.

Filer moved 65 yards midway through the second quarter to push ahead, the Thaeete-Thaeete thing happening four straight times to get three first downs. Then fullback Bruce Lincoln burst off-tackle, cut to the outside and outlegged three defenders on a 30-yard scoring jaunt. Bean booted the first of two conversions.

It stayed like that until the final period when Gooding made a miscue. Its punter misplayed a good pass from center, picked it up on the first bounce and kicked it just as Filer's Bill Blass got there to block the ball. That set the Wildcats up on the 27 yard line. Steve Thaeete rolled out for 71 yards and then threw a touchdown pass to Lonn for the final score.

Gooding's best chance came on the first play of the game when Filer fumbled the ball and John Giese covered it at the 27. The Senators then turned on a single wing for a couple of plays, lost a first down on a penalty and were stymied.

BREAKING LOOSE, Filer's Bruce Lincoln leads for the goal line 30 yards away and the go-ahead points against Gooding Friday afternoon. Filer defeated the Senators 14-0.

Thaete-to-Thaete passing combination leads Filer past Gooding in 14-0 win

ISU faces defending champs in opener

POCATELLO — We are on schedule in our preparations for Montana State, says ISU Football Coach Bob Griffin. "The hitting and enthusiasm in our practices has been good. The only question is — will we have the same hitting and enthusiasm on Saturday?"

The Bengals open the 1973 season at Bozeman against defending Big Sky champions Montana State on Saturday.

ANAHEIM (UPI) — Joe Rudi's double highlighted a two-run sixth inning and Vidal Blue, with eighth inning relief from Horacio Pina and Paul Lindblad, picked up his 16th triumph Thursday night as Oakland beat the California Angels 6-4 to increase the A's lead in the American League West to 5 1/2 games over idle Kansas City.

LA drops No. 7 LOS ANGELES (UPI) — Nate Colbert and Fred Kendall singled in a run each in the sixth inning Thursday night to carry the San Diego Padres to a 3-2 victory over Los Angeles and end the slumping Dodgers to their seventh straight defeat.

Bar banned WASHINGTON (UPI) — Seventy-six football fans who happen also to be members of the U.S. Senate have voted to limit football blackouts.

With six senators voting no, they approved Thursday a bill that would forbid television blackouts of home games that are sold out 72 hours in advance.

The bill goes to the House where similar legislation was being prepared in hope of final passage before the football season begins Sept. 16.

But National Football League Commissioner Pete Rozelle doesn't buy the idea.

Paralyzed MINNEAPOLIS, Minn. (UPI) — The doctor for former Minnesota Vikings' defensive back Karl Kasulke said Thursday there is virtually no hope that Kasulke will ever walk again.

But the doctor said there is no reason that the former football star cannot lead an "independent and productive life."

Kasulke was critically injured in a car-motorcycle accident in the Twin Cities on July 24, the day before the Vikings' training camp opened.

Yankees sell Alou brothers NEW YORK (UPI) — The New York Yankees, apparently abandoning any hopes of winning a pennant this year, dealt away their two Alou brothers Thursday to contending National League teams.

Horoscope

FORECAST FOR SATURDAY, SEPTEMBER 8, 1973

GENERAL TENDENCIES: Interesting friendships can be continued or started now. Good judgment and interesting activities can be realized by those who want to make humanitarian progress. You are able to make progressive gains in social activities.

ARIES (Mar 21 to Apr 19) A fine day for contacting good friends and making new contacts. Plan new recreations and hobbies that are more to your liking. Show more devotion to family in the evening.

TAURUS (Apr 20 to May 20) You are now able to contact influential persons at recreations. See what can be done about improving your credit rating. Use a practical approach. Take time to engage in amusements.

GEMINI (May 21 to June 21) Take a trip to whatever place will open up new vistas and profitable outlets for the future. Take a more definite approach to what has been impossible to achieve in the past. Be firm.

MOON CHILDREN (June 22 to July 21) Confide a plan you have to loved one and get the cooperation you need to make it a success. Put tasks behind you that are vital although they may seem unimportant at this time.

LEO (July 22 to Aug 21) An associate needs your cooperation and advice now, so be sure to give. Take part in a civic affair that you enjoy. Do something constructive about an emotional problem you have.

VIRGO (Aug 22 to Sept 22) Adopt new appliances that can make your work less tedious and save time, strength and bring in more benefits. Find the right apparel that makes you look more charming and up-to-date.

LIBRA (Sept 23 to Oct 22) Getting together with individuals you truly like can make this a most pleasant day. Show loved one more devotion and affection and deepen the bonds between you. Be helpful to others.

SCORPIO (Oct 23 to Nov 21) Some changes at home can make the conditions there more pleasant in the future. Do cooperate with kin more closely. Make the home more functional and add more comforts. Be more cheerful.

SAGITTARIUS (Nov 22 to Dec 21) Good day for visiting new places and taking in pleasures that give you a feeling of happiness. Think along more optimistic lines. Clear others up. Do something constructive.

CAPRICORN (Dec 22 to Jan 20) Making improvements at home would be welcome now and a fine way to spend the day. Meet with financial expert late in the day and get new and better ideas for advancement in the future.

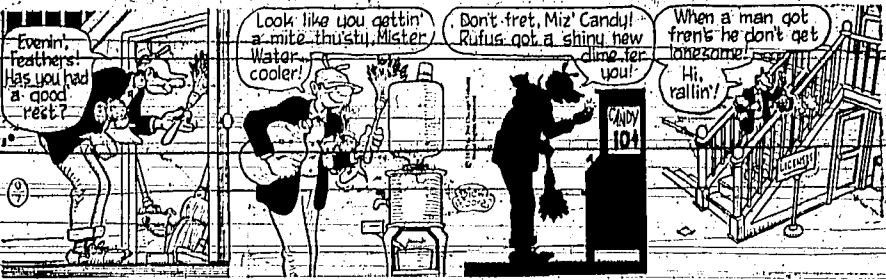

AQUARIUS (Jan 21 to Feb 19) Entertain or be entertained by good friends whom you want to remain in your life far into the future. But that fine, energetic quality into constructive use at this time.

PISCES (Feb 20 to Mar 20) Follow your intuitive promptings and know where to go so that you can become more successful in the days ahead. The evening can then be fine for the romantic side of life.

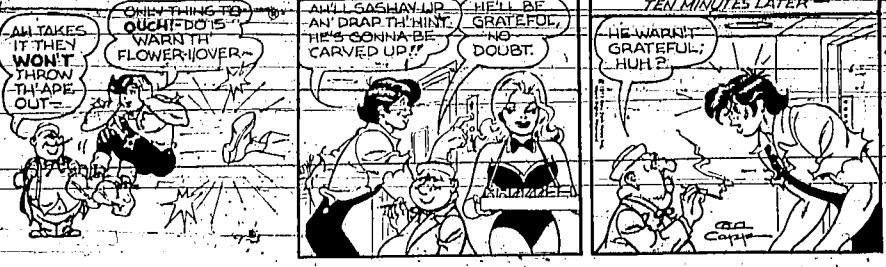

IF YOUR CHILD IS BORN TODAY—he or she will be one of those delightful young people who will want to be of service to others and for this reason would do well in personnel work, nursing and in the social service fields. Education should be directed in pleasing the public. The nature is a discriminating one. Teach kindness early.

What's What

L. M. Boyd

Kansas City, Mo., is said to be another bachelors' paradise. In the 18- to 24-year-old bracket there, the women outnumber the men by 30,962 to 24,650. And in the six-county metropolitan area thereabouts among that age group, the women outnumber the men by 74,000 to 89,000.

Do you realize that men every year buy about $15 million worth of hair coloring? Another little-known fact about the late President John F. Kennedy is he changed his suit of clothes three times a day. Farmer in Africa's Uganda typically pays his hired hand now about $7.50 a month. Undergrad 40 boys enrolled in last semester's sewing class in Denver's Aurora Central High School. That day of the week on which a school child is most apt to be hurt in a car accident is Friday.

SAFETY PIN

It's common knowledge that Walter Hunt of New York invented the safety pin one fine day in 1846 after tinkering for a few minutes with a piece of wire. He was not the first to do so, however. The old Romans used safety pins. So did previous souls thereabouts as far back as 2,000 B.C. What's mysterious is why the secret of the safety pin got lost around A.D. 500. And nobody anywhere conceived of such a device again until Mr. Hunt came along almost 1,400 years later.

The divorced citizen is more likely to try to commit suicide than the married soul—that's clear. Specifically, the suicide rate among divorced men is four times that of married men, among divorced women, three times that of married women.

BITTERS

Q: "You said only four people know the secret recipe for Anjouera bitters. Who invented it?"
A: Dr. Johann Blasen, a German physician in 1604. He was trying to come up with something to pick up the appetites of Simon Bolivar's troops. He named it after the town of Anjouera in Venezuela.

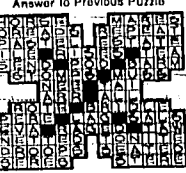

Am told it's not uncommon in that Spanish city of Madrid to see families strolling through the streets until the early morning hours. An opera there may last until 3 a.m. Movies run even later. The Madrilenos are nicknamed "Gatos" meaning cats because of these late hours. This is said to be one reason why so many expatriate celebrities prefer to live in Madrid.

Rapid reply: No, sir, it was the late President Lyndon B. Johnson who installed telephones in all the White House bathrooms.
