

Nixon urges swift action on his goals

WASHINGTON (UPI) — President Nixon, pledging a new spirit of compromise, called on Congress today "to play its proper role in guiding the affairs of the nation" by taking swift, decisive action on his major legislative proposals before the end of the year.

Asserting that the next four months will be a "time of great testing" for Congress, Nixon submitted a 15,000 word second State of the Union message to urge enactment of about 50 administration proposals. Almost all of them already are before the Democratic-controlled Congress.

The presidential message was Nixon's third thrust in less than a week to nudge Congress on his programs. It followed a news conference statement Wednesday and a radio address Sunday in which he took his case to the people.

On inflation—which members of Congress said they had learned is the No. 1 issue in the minds of the public—the President said: "Americans want and deserve decisive action to fight rising prices. And they want every possible step taken now—not a year from now or in the next session of the Congress."

Nixon said that "in the spirit of responsible cooperation which must prevail between the executive and the Congress if we are to make genuine progress this fall, I am fully prepared to work closely with members of the Congress in hammering out modifications—in disputed legislation."

He stressed at the same time that he would continue to fight any moves by the Democratic-controlled Congress to increase federal spending, reduce the defense budget or limit the powers of the presidency.

"The problems of the nation are pressing, and our elected leaders must rise to the occasion," he said. "These next four months will be a time of great testing. If the Congress is to play its proper role in guiding the affairs of the nation, now is the time for it to take swift and decisive action."

In his expressed spirit of cooperation, Nixon met this morning over breakfast with House Speaker Carl Albert and House Democratic Leader Thomas P. O'Neill. He met Friday with Senate Democratic Leader Mike Mansfield and Mansfield said today he felt Nixon was serious about cooperating.

Mansfield pledged that Congress would give expeditious consideration to Nixon's proposals and said he felt both sides would prefer negotiation to fighting. But Mansfield made clear that one focus of sharp conflict was defense spending: "Frankly, I think the administration is asking too much."

Expressing strong opposition to any tax increase, Nixon said: "We want to fight inflation and balance the budget by placing restraints on spending and not by adding to our current tax burdens."

He said he would not hesitate to veto legislation he felt would be "budget busting."

Alaska crash kills 6

COLD BAY, Alaska (UPI) — The rocky face of 4,834-foot Mt. Dutton and the mists of the Aleutian Islands today kept investigators from reaching the wreckage of a World Airways DC8 in which six men died.

The plane, carrying a cargo of tires, crashed Saturday on a landing approach in fog and drizzle. The wreckage was sighted Sunday morning during a break in the heavy overcast that usually hangs over the Alaska peninsula.

Those killed were pilot John A. Winterger, 55, San Jose, Calif.; first officer Greg W. Evans, 27, Mountain View, Calif.; and engineer Robert W. Brockdesby, 46, Fremont, Calif.

Others aboard the plane were Kelti Kato, 45, station manager at Yokota, Japan, and off-duty officers Harry J. Werner, 31, Sparta, N.J., and Scott B. Chapman, 30, Hayward, Calif.

Jilted First Lady stays loyal

WALDORF, Md. (UPI) — Barbara Mandel made her first public statement this weekend since her husband, Maryland Gov. Marvin Mandel, announced two months ago he was leaving her for another woman. She said she would work for his re-election next year.

Cuba boycotts Israel

ALGIERS (UPI) — Cuba severed diplomatic relations with Israel Sunday, implementing a resolution by 76 nonaligned nations to boycott the country because of its occupation of Arab lands captured in the 1967 war.

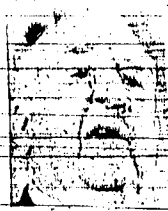

Announcement of the split by Algerian President Houari Boumedienne marked the end of the 12th annual nonaligned countries' summit conference, which also called for recognition of both the exile government of deposed Cambodian ruler Prince Norodom Sihanouk and that of the Viet Cong as the legitimate government of South Vietnam.

Rail workers hit by summonses

VANCOUVER, B.C. (UPI) — At least 20 dissident railway employees defying federal legislation ordering them back to work got summonses today, which could result in heavy fines and prison terms. Local union officials warned the legal action could lead to another nationwide strike.

The first such summonses were issued late Saturday on six Vancouver area employees, but only four of them were actually served. Justice Department officials drew up the next group Sunday and a spokesman said "at least 20" would be served today.

Chairman Sam honored

DREXEL, N.C. (UPI) — The look at each place setting read "Quotations from Chairman Sam" Saturday night at a testimonial dinner for Sen. Sam J. Ervin Jr., D-N.C., chairman of the Senate Watergate committee.

Some 500 persons turned out for the celebration, just 10 days short of the bushy-browed senator's 77th birthday.

Toxic fumes kill 3

SULPHUR WELL, Ky. (UPI) — Three persons were killed Sunday, one by one, when they were overcome by poisonous fumes while cleaning an underground septic tank. Two more were hospitalized.

Authorities said one man fell into the tank, apparently overcome by fumes, and the others were asphyxiated as they were lowered one by one into the tank in futile rescue attempts. The dead were identified as Babe Porter, 63, his son Duke, and Ricky Jessie, 17, all of Glasgow, Ky.

Blackout ban OK'd

WASHINGTON (UPI) — A House subcommittee approved legislation Monday to ban permanently television blackouts of home games of professional football teams when the events are sold out 72 hours in advance.

The Senate passed a bill last week to limit a similar ban to a one-year trial period.

The bill approved by the House Communications Subcommittee received one dissenting vote — cast by Rep. James M. Collins, R-Tex.

The House version originally would have banned TV broadcast blackouts when games were sold out 48 hours in advance. It was amended by the subcommittee to conform to the Senate's 72-hour time period.

The measure would require the Federal Communications Commission to report to the subcommittee no later than April 15 of each year on the bill's effectiveness.

The subcommittee chairman, Rep. Torbert MacDonald, D-Mass., indicated he would try to obtain House action on the bill this week — before the pro football season begins next Sunday.

Beef price thaw brings little rise

By United Press International
The freeze on beef prices began thawing today, but the cost of rump, sirloin, round and other cuts did not rise appreciably in some areas from the ceiling levels of last month.

In Dallas, the Tom Thumb supermarket chain took out full-page ads to announce that it would stop giving trading stamps, apparently so it could offer reasonably priced beef instead. The company listed meat prices comparable to those before the freeze and the shortage-rump roast $1.59, sirloin $1.79—but guaranteed them only for today and Tuesday.

In New York, wholesale meat suppliers said meat supplies were back to normal because of the lifting of price ceilings and plants were running at near capacity for the first time in several weeks. The wholesale price of beef was reported to be the same today as last week, indicating that consumers will not experience an immediate increase in retail prices.

A spokesman for First National Stores in Somerville, Mass., said he expected a return to supply-and-demand with beef coming back in plentiful supply. He said he felt the market would be "fairly-reasonably stable" in the near future.

No one, however, is willing to predict just how much beef prices will rise during the next days and weeks.

The price will depend on how much more beef hits the market. Farmers had been holding back cattle during the early stages of Phase IV in hopes of getting a higher price when the freeze ends. A large supply hitting the market would hold the price down.

The Cost of Living Council announced Friday that the freeze would end today; two days before originally scheduled under Phase IV.

Charles Bradley, president of the Colorado Cattlemen's Association, said the freeze had done "irreparable" damage to the industry, but said consumers might see a reduction in price. "The damage inflicted to the beef industry is irreparable. If the cattle market drops any lower, many cattlemen may be forced to liquidate their businesses," he said in Glenwood Springs, Colo.

The chief executive officer of the U.S. Chamber of Commerce, Arch Booth, said the beef price freeze had not halted rising prices.

"Once again an unregulated fluctuation with controls has proven that artificial restraints cannot solve economic problems and continue to fulfill that most uncontrollable of all economic forces: consumer demands. And homemakers know there was a failure to halt rising beef prices," Booth said.

"Our only complaint on lifting the freeze on beef prices is that it was not accompanied by an end to all wage and price controls.

Angry gas sellers close shop

By United Press International
Many gas stations across the nation closed this weekend to protest price controls that force them to charge less for gas than they had to buy at increased prices. Others stayed open, however, and there were no reports of a massive shortage.

The owner of Mobil station in Detroit said he remained open Sunday so he could preach to all his customers. "I don't know why the oil companies can raise their prices when we are foree to lower ours," he said. Dealers are required under the Phase IV economic rules to determine prices by adding their Aug. 1 profit margin to the cost of wholesale products Jan. 10. They are not allowed to pass on recent increases, such as Exxon's one-penny-a-gallon hike, to the consumer.

Police reported that the handful of stations open on the major freeways had lines 25 cars long.

'Unthinkable' Sirica tape ruling fought WASHINGTON (UPI) — President Nixon asked a U.S. appeals court today to overturn a lower court order that the President hand over to Judge John J. Sirica tapes of his secret Watergate related conversations. White House lawyers called the ruling "utterly without precedent."

In a 95-page brief, Nixon's attorneys said Sirica was preempting the President's authority to decide whether the public interest would best be served by keeping presidential conversations confidential.

"As recently as a year ago such a ruling would have been unthinkable," the brief said. "The universal view of the legal community was that the courts lack the power to substitute their judgment for that of the President on an issue of this kind and that they lack power to compel a President to make production," the brief said.

The presidential lawyers said the clamor over the Watergate affair had created a climate in which long established constitutional principles were in danger of being violated.

They urged the U.S. Court of Appeals for the District of Columbia to make its judgment "in confidence and not (be) moved by the passions of the moment" upholding the President's right to maintain the confidentiality of his office.

"It is no exaggeration to say that the revelations of Watergate have so sharpened the public appetite for more revelations that the claim of a presidential right and responsibility under the Constitution to maintain the confidentiality of presidential conversations must run the gamut of a broadly held sentiment that the claim is probably unjust and therefore presumably unsound," the brief said.

"The hydraulic force arising out of that sordid and unhappy episode has led men of great distinction to suppose that the Constitution means something different today than it meant throughout all of our history and to contend that the need to exhaust every avenue of factual inquiry concerning Watergate ranks so high on our national priorities that it must be served, even if the costs to impair markedly the ability of every President of the United States from this time forward to perform the constitutional duties vested in him."

Sirica, chief judge of the federal district court in Washington, ordered the White House to produce for his personal nine tapes in question. Nixon had made clear in advance that he would oppose this "in camera" inspection of the tapes "that is in the judge's chambers—as well as turning the tapes over directly to the Watergate grand jury."

Watergate Special Prosecutor Archibald Cox was not satisfied with the ruling completely and has asked for a modification aimed at trying to make sure the grand jury gets the tapes. Sirica had said that after listening to them, he might not turn them over to the grand jury if he felt they contained sensitive matter on other subjects that he felt the jurors should not hear.

School trustee vote set

TWIN FALLS — Twin Falls school district trustees will vote Tuesday on the proposed $3.5 million school bond issue at the board meeting Tuesday night.

District Supt. George Staudtner said the board will also consider buying two new school buses for the district. He said the buses are necessary because more students are moving out of the city. The district has added one bus already this year.

Hiring two teachers as replacements will also be on the agenda. Staudtner said one teacher never showed up and one left after three days of school this year.

Staudtner described other matters the board will consider as "housekeeping." He predicted the meeting will be "a long one."

Cans add to pool fund

TWIN FALLS — Youngsters participating in the YMCA-YWCA Aluminum Can Contest collected 1,272 pounds of aluminum for the Y's indoor swimming pool project.

The first phase of the contest climaxed Saturday at the Y with Kalen Robbins, a leading collector, turning in 176 pounds of cans.

Charles Upton, executive director of the "Y," said the contest will run through September with the final turn-in scheduled for Oct. 1 at 5 p.m. To date more than 4,000 pounds of aluminum has been received at the "Y." He said the collection will go a long way toward boosting swimming pool funds.

Top winners Saturday included young Kalen Robbins, Steven Swafford, 151 pounds; Harold Joy, 127 pounds; Jamie King, 126 pounds; Lois Molyneux, 122 pounds; Scott Brown, 110 pounds; Timmy Langdon, 90 pounds; Joanne Linderman, 50 pounds and Nancy Donnelly, 44 pounds.

The winners selected prizes for their efforts ranging from all the Me-n-Ed's pizza they can eat to cases of Pepsi or 7 Up or Coca Cola; two passes from the Twin Cinema, all the Big Reds they can eat; a half-gallon of ice cream from Youngs Dairy; a box of candy from Hemenway and Moser; a bicycle pump from the Fall Circle Co.; and a box of candy and gum from the Whitehead Vending Co.

Matt Smith, in charge of the aluminum can drive, said another selection of monthly prizes will be available Oct. 1 to the youngsters turning in the most cans.

TF police probe robbery

TWIN FALLS — More than $400 in merchandise was stolen from Norco Welding Supply, 203 South Park, over the weekend.

According to police reports the Norco building was entered through a broken window between noon Saturday and 5:30 p.m. Sunday and $407 in equipment was taken. The case remains under investigation. In other criminal activity reported over the weekend:

James Corle, 460 Ash Street, told police the back tires were taken off his 1971 car between 8 p.m. Saturday and 12:35 p.m. Sunday. Corle later told police he thought he had spotted the tires on another car but could not positively identify them. Corle valued the tires at $150.

Dr. B. J. Hawkins told police about $195 in merchandise was stolen from the camper on his pickup parked near his dental office at 241 4th Avenue North. The theft occurred about 2 p.m. Saturday, Hawkins said.

Anna Mae Eastman reported a stereo tape deck valued at about $80 was stolen from her unlocked car as it was parked in front of her house at 214 Van Buren. She estimated the time of the theft at between 11 p.m. Sunday and 7:15 a.m. today. According to police reports, force was used to remove the tape deck from the car.

Deputy helps seagull

TWIN FALLS — How would you like to spend the early morning hours with a seagull?

Twin Falls County Sheriff's deputy Richard Haynes did just that this morning.

Haynes was patrolling Poothill Road east of Murtaugh about 2 a.m. this morning when he spotted the gull, apparently injured, in the road.

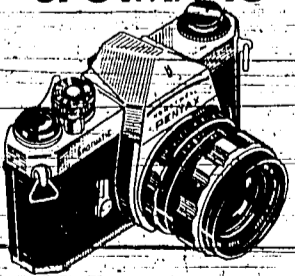

Haynes said he turned off his lights and creeping up in the dark captured the bird after a short chase. The gull's wings were broken, he said.

Haynes put the seagull in his car and continued patrolling, returning to his house to get a box to put the bird in before daylight.

Later this morning, Haynes turned the bird over to Bill Gorgen, Twin Falls area manager for the Idaho Fish and Game Department. He said Gorgen planned to take the bird to a veterinarian.

Allende resignation proposed

SANTIAGO, Chile (UPI) — Provincial leaders of Chile's largest opposition political party called Sunday for the resignation of President Salvador Allende to end massive, middle-class strikes across the country.

Provincial chiefs of the Christian Democratic party issued the plea as more and more Chileans went on strike, critically curtailing food supplies in this nation of 5 million and bringing the economy to a virtual halt.

The province officials urged the central party's national leadership to demand "a return of power to the people, which implies the resignation of the president of the republic, as well as all of Congress."

"It is this that citizens, freely and democratically, can elect their new leaders," the Christian Democrats said in a statement.

The party controls the largest single block of votes in Congress, but Allende rules through a leftist coalition, including the Communist and Socialist parties.

The nationwide walkouts of middle class workers, professionals and businessmen have sharply cut food supplies in the country with bread lines in the capital growing longer every day. One newspaper reported only three days of bread left.

Chile's 8,000 engineers went on strike today to join the growing protest against Allende's three-year-old Marxist government.

The country's 45,000 truckers, mainly owner-drivers, sparked the massive protests by going on strike July 26 to demand higher wages, increased spare part imports and guarantees against nationalization.

Shopkeepers, doctors, nurses, lawyers, airline pilots and dozens of other professional and business groups have joined the walkout in recent weeks to protest against the economic policies of the Allende.

FORMER Texas Gov. John Connally tells newsmen in San Diego Saturday he is terrified by the thought of being President of the United States. Embarking on a two-month speaking tour, Connally said, "I'm not ruling it (1978 race) out; not ruling it in." (UPI)

GOP hopefuls take forum

SAN DIEGO, Calif. (UPI) — John Connally and Gov. Ronald Reagan, who may wind up fighting each other for the 1976 Republican presidential nomination, were the star attractions Saturday and Sunday at the largest GOP convention in California history.

Neither expressed much interest in running for the 1976 presidential nomination, although both looked, acted and sounded like candidates.

Reagan told reporters it was "just too early to speculate" about a presidential bid and said he would decide "certainly not before 1974."

"I'm not ruling it out; not ruling it in," Connally told newsmen, adding he was embarking on a two-month nationwide speaking tour.

The man who knew President Johnson intimately, was wounded while hiding with President Kennedy when he was assassinated and served as President Nixon's adviser said he felt "terrified by the thought" of occupying the White House.

This was Reagan's home political territory and party workers still cheered and screamed and whistled after having listened to him for nearly eight years.

But Connally scored significant political points in his debut as a Republican before a GOP audience.

He (Connally) went over sensationally, a great speech, said Republican state chairman Gordon Luce, a Reagan intimate.

"I think Gov. Reagan gives a pretty fantastic speech. Now I've heard two great speakers. They really 'turn on the listeners,'" said Luce.

Connally, who only recently left the Democratic party and joined the GOP, told the 2,000 delegates: "There is not a Republican in this room who has to hang his head in shame."

Hussein, Sadat negotiate union to confront Israel

By United Press International — King Hussein of Jordan and President Anwar Sadat of Egypt began talks in Cairo today designed to heal the rift between the two countries and create a common front with Syria against Israel.

The visit by the 38-year-old Hussein was his first to the Egyptian capital since he expelled Palestinians from Jordanian soil in 1970.

Syrian President Hafez Assad was to join the talks later today. The three Arab countries lost territory in the 1967 Middle East war and called today's meeting to discuss plans for stepping up action against Israel.

But Hussein first had wounds to heal in his rift with Egypt and Syria.

US health effort 'chaotic'

NEW YORK (UPI) — Dr. Jesse L. Steinfeld, former surgeon-general of the United States under President Nixon, has charged that the nation's health affairs are in "a kind of chaos."

The New York Times reported today.

Steinfeld, in an interview in Washington, said the administration had been dragging its feet in implementing medical programs needed by the country.

He said efforts to reform and revitalize health efforts had more form than substance during his three years as surgeon general because of what he called a lack of interest, leadership and money.

The Times also said Steinfeld was at odds with the administration for supporting a national health insurance proposal backed by liberal Democrats, rather than the version sponsored by the Republicans.

Steinfeld said it was "ironic" that Caspar W. Weinberger, once head of the budget office, was now secretary of the department of Health, Education and Welfare.

Wool, cotton tied up

WASHINGTON (UPI) — Sen. Herman E. Talmadge, D-Ga., said today the Japanese virtually have cornered the world's supply of wool and are threatening to do the same with cotton, driving up the worldwide prices of both textiles.

He compared the situation to last year's Russian wheat deal, in which the USSR bought a quarter of the U.S. crop at low prices, driving up the price of wheat and bread in this country.

In a speech prepared for delivery in the Senate, Talmadge, chairman of the Senate Agriculture Committee, urged the administration to impose export licensing and controls on cotton now, so the U.S. can supply its regular customers and meet its own needs. Several weeks ago, the American textile industry made the same proposal but the administration rejected it.

New Way Found To Stop Hair Loss, Grow More Hair

HOUSTON, Texas — If you don't suffer from male pattern baldness, you can now stop your hair loss and grow more hair.

For years they said it couldn't be done. But now a firm of laboratory consultants has developed a treatment for both men and women, that is not only stopping hair loss, but is really growing hair.

They don't even ask you to take their word for it. They invite you to try the treatment for 32 days, at their risk, and see for yourself.

Naturally, they would not offer this opportunity unless the treatment worked. However, it is impossible to help everyone.

The great majority of cases of excessive hair fall and baldness are the beginning and more fully developed stages of male pattern baldness and cannot be helped.

But, if you are not already slick bald, how can you be sure what is actually causing your hair loss? Even if baldness may seem to "run" in your family, this is certainly no proof of the cause of YOUR hair loss.

Hair loss caused by sebum can also run in your family, and many other conditions can cause hair loss. No matter which one is causing your hair loss, if you wait until you are slick bald and your hair roots are dead, you are beyond help. So, if you still have any hair on top of your head, and would like to stop your hair loss and grow more hair, now is the time to do something about it before it's too late.

Each Laboratory Consultant, Inc. will supply you with treatment for 32 days, at their risk. If they believe the treatment will help you — just send them the information listed below. All inquiries are answered confidentially, by mail and without obligation. Adv.

Former Demo mayor backs Republicans

SAN DIEGO (UPI) — Sam Vorty, the former "maverick" mayor of Los Angeles who perennially deserted his own Democratic party to support Republicans, has made it official.

Vorty, 63, re-registered as a Republican voter Sunday at the GOP State Central Committee's fall convention.

"Over the years I haven't hesitated to support Republicans whom I agreed with," Vorty told the 2,000 delegates and party workers. "It was getting a little bit monotonous finding that happening all the time while my registration remained Democratic."

Vorty lost a fourth term bid for mayor in May.

"All things considered," Vorty said, "I believe the Republican party now offers the best hope for our national preservation as a free nation, as free individuals in a free world. So I am pleased to join with you in what I see as a great common purpose."

There was speculation Vorty intended to run for the GOP Senate nomination next year in hopes of capturing the seat now held by Democrat Alan Cranston.

"I doubt that very much," Vorty told newsmen. "I haven't made this change with any thought of running for anything."

Arab guerrillas face Kuwait trial

KUWAIT (UPI) — Kuwaiti officials vowed Sunday to put five captured Arab guerrillas on trial for seizing a group of Saudi Arabian diplomats in a bizarre attempt to free a jailed Palestinian leader.

Acting Premier Sheikh Saad Al-Abdallah said the gunman, who surrendered Saturday when troops surrounded their jetliner at Kuwait Airport, would be tried on kidnapping and extortion charges.

All major Palestinian commando groups disassociated themselves with the guerrillas during the 81-1/2 hour ordeal which began at the Saudi Arabian Embassy in Paris and ended on the tarmac of Kuwait's modern airport.

Yasser Arafat, chairman of the Palestine Liberation Organization, the umbrella guerrilla group, said the guerrillas would be "dealt with severely."

The five claimed to be members of a previously unknown guerrilla group called "Al-Iqab" (The Punishment).

The saga began in Paris early Wednesday when the guerrillas seized the Saudi Arabian Embassy and took 16 hostages.

The commandos freed all but four Saudi diplomats after a 27-hour stay at the embassy in return for a jetliner to fly them out of France. They flew a zigzag pattern over the Middle East before landing Thursday night at Kuwait.

The drama ended when local troops ringed their Boeing 707 parked in a corner of Kuwait Airport and ignored the gunmen's 14th and final threat to kill their four remaining hostages.

A wooden ladder was propped against the side of the jetliner and the guerrillas, carrying pistols and hand grenades, came down one by one, hands up in the air.

The four Saudi diplomats flew home Sunday, turning down requests for a news conference.

They were unarmed.

The gunmen had demanded the release of guerrilla leader Mohamed Abu Daoud, a Palestinian commando serving a life term in Jordan for plotting to overthrow King Hussein. Jordanian officials persistently refused to free him.

The commandos threatened time and again to toss the hostages out of the plane while airborne one at a time unless Jordan agreed to Daoud's release.

European aides ready to deal

COPENHAGEN (UPI) — With opposition from France eliminated, European foreign ministers are prepared to draft a joint position to present to the United States when President Nixon visits Europe this autumn, diplomats said today.

Nine foreign ministers from the Common Market met in the chamber of the Danish Parliament today to discuss proposed drafts of a "declaration of principles" for Nixon's visit.

"The difficulties are fading away," said British Foreign Secretary Sir Alec Douglas-Home. "I think it will go pretty smoothly."

The White House has said Nixon might cancel his European trip unless the Common Market nations can get together to draw up a declaration. The proposed declaration would reaffirm the unity and purpose of the Atlantic alliance formed after World War II to block feared Soviet aggression.

French opposition to the plan — first proposed last April by Henry A. Kissinger as a "new Atlantic Charter" — blocked progress until now. But French Foreign Minister Michel Jobert joined in the expressions of optimism today and Common Market sources said preliminary soundings indicated a major shift in the French position toward more cooperation with the alliance.

Belgian, French, West German and Ireland prepared drafts of the two documents which are expected to emerge from the two-day meeting — the list of topics to be discussed with Nixon and a separate "European identity" setting out the principles of the Common Market itself.

Details of the papers were kept secret.

Irish Foreign Minister Garrett Fitzgerald agreed that the French position had altered. Asked why, he said, "I wish I knew."

Most sources said the ministers would be able to reach agreement on the topics to be discussed with the United States and included in the "declaration." These topics will then be refined by a working group and discussed — possibly at the opening of the United Nations General Assembly next month.

In a speech April 23, Presidential adviser Henry A. Kissinger called for the Western allies to write a "new Atlantic charter," re-stating the principles and aims of the alliance to meet the changed circumstances since it was formed after World War II. Since then, the "charter" idea has been watered down to a search for a "statement of principles."

The ceremonial signing of the "charter" or "declaration" — a symbolic affirmation of the unity in the Western world — had been planned as the keystone of the Nixon trip.

Nader accuses oil industry

WASHINGTON (UPI) — Ralph Nader has accused the oil industry of deliberately creating a short term oil crisis to force construction of the Alaskan pipeline and lessen price competition.

"There's no question that the oil industry has been calculatingly developing a short term energy crisis in order to get what it wants out of Washington," Nader said Sunday in a UPI Washington Window interview.

He said one thing the industry hopes to gain is congressional approval of the proposed trans-Alaska oil pipeline, which is fought by environmentalists.

Another, Nader said, is the right of industry to develop offshore oil "on its own terms."

He said the oil industry also hopes to use the oil shortage to drive out independent refineries and gasoline retailers which provide most of the price competition.

Nader summed up his view this way:

"The acid test of the oil industry's bad faith is the following: They knew that there was going to be an increase in demand for consumption of fuel as there is every year. Why didn't they ask the federal government to lift the oil import quota, which was restricting the importation of cheap foreign oil into the United States?"

Nader said that if the restrictions were lifted, "there would not be a short term energy crisis."

"There is an abundant short-term supply of oil around the world — indeed, there is some evidence that even in the southwest portion of the United States, the oil industry is not leveling with the public about their natural gas supply," he claimed.

But Nader said the energy crisis may backfire on the oil industry in the long run by prompting Congress to develop other sources, such as solar energy.

Norway election watched

OSLO (UPI) — Premier Lars Korvald's coalition government was given little chance of survival today by political experts who predicted a close race between the opposition Labor party and a coalition of five nonsocialist parties in Norway's two-day parliamentary elections.

Officials predicted a voter turnout close to 80 per cent. The election of 155 members to the Storting (parliament) started Sunday in some 200 of Norway's 440 municipalities, but no votes will be counted until closing time at 7 p.m. (2 p.m. EDT) tonight.

Pre-election public opinion polls predicted such a close race that the result may not become clear until Tuesday, officials said.

The major parties feared that a crop of small new parties would upset the traditional voting pattern. Voters today had 14 parties to choose between, twice as many as in the last elections four years ago.

But only one of the new parties, the right-wing "Anders Lange party," was given a real chance of winning any seats. Lange and his supporters campaigned on tax reductions and government encroachment and may win a few seats.

The present government of Premier Lars Korvald, a coalition of liberal, Center and Christian People's parties, commands only 30 of the 155 Storting seats and political experts said it would not survive the election.

WORLD ALMANAC FACTS

The American Museum of Natural History in New York City, with a floor space of 23 acres, is the largest museum in the world. The World Almanac says the museum was founded in 1874, and has large exhibits of man and his world from the most primitive times to the present, plus numerous other displays of natural objects such as minerals and gems.

Arabs feel threat of Nixon actions

KEVEN ANDERSON KENNETH J. RASCH

(c) Chicago Sun-Times
WASHINGTON — Last Tuesday President Nixon held a swearing-in ceremony in his White House office for the new director of the Central Intelligence Agency, William E. Colby, a career operative in the clandestine services and recently head of the CIA's "department of dirty tricks."
 On Wednesday Mr. Nixon pointedly reminded the Arabs of Mohammed Mossadegh, who was deposed as prime minister of Iran in a CIA coup in 1953 after he expropriated the Western oil companies.

Thursday, a White House spokesman denied the president was issuing veiled threats of secret U.S. intervention if the Arabs do not raise the price of oil or reduce the supply.
 But judging by the reaction of Arab officials here the denial was not persuasive. More conspiratorial than most in their view of history, Arab leaders have vivid memories of the events in Iran, even without a presidential reminder.
 When Richard M. Helms was removed early this year as CIA director and named ambassador to Iran, it was generally assumed here that he was being demoted and exiled for failing to cooperate in the Watergate cover-up. But in the Arab world the appointment was viewed as something of an ominous return to the scene of the crime.

 At the time of the coup against Mossadegh, Helms was a leading official in the dirty tricks department at CIA headquarters and presumably participated in the planning of the operation. The coup was directed in Iran by the grandson of President Theodore Roosevelt, Kermit Roosevelt, who went on to become vice president of the Gulf Oil Corp. and a public relations specialist with major governmental and corporate clients in the Middle East.

 The chief beneficiary of the coup was Shah Mohammed Reza Pahlavi, who was returned to his throne. With phantom jets and other U.S. equipment in large amounts, the Shah is now maneuvering to establish his dominance over the oil-rich Persian gulf.
 He is suspect among the Arabs for several reasons. Although he and his people are Moslems, they are not Arabs. Alone among the Middle Eastern countries, Iran has maintained normal, if secretive, relations with Israel and pumps much of its oil through Israeli pipelines.

 Arab leaders, both the radicals and the shiks, fear that the Shah covets their oil. With a former CIA director as U.S. ambassador to Iran, with a celebrated clandestine operative now heading the spy agency and with Mr. Nixon publicly recalling the fate of Mossadegh, this year is not likely to be removed by a pro-forma denial from the White House press office.

CSI sets diary of Ann Frank

TWIN FALLS — "The Diary of Anne Frank" will be the first major play presented by the College of Southern Idaho this year.

The play will be presented Oct. 25, 26, and 27 at 8:15 p.m. and a Sunday matinee is scheduled for Oct. 28 at 2:15 p.m.

The play is a dramatization of the real diary of Anne Frank, a 13-year old girl who with her parents and another Jewish family went into hiding in an attic in Amsterdam, Holland, in July, 1942.

They were to hid there for two years during the Nazis invasion before being captured by the Gestapo and forced into various concentration camps.

Only the father, Otto Frank, lived to be finally liberated. Anne Frank died in her concentration camp. The father found her diary on the floor of the attic as he came back to it later.

The play has won virtually every major award presented including the Pulitzer Prize.

Tryouts for the play will be posted next week, according to Ed Collins who will direct the drama.

Newly decorated

Shoshone room gets new look

SHOSHONE — The new business and social studies room at the Shoshone High School, though located in the old number-three classroom spot, has a completely new look.

"Bright and vibrant" is the way teacher, Mrs. Pam Phillips, described the room, and though used as a classroom for all six periods each day, she feels it is a spot that students will enjoy and take pride in caring for.

"Visits to new college decoration areas as well as some of the more modern secondary schools helped Mrs. Phillips to "dream" of this brightly colored room when former school principal John Meeks called for improvement ideas.

The use of pure color is very popular in many schools today, and the mixture of bright red on one wall, a daffodil color on two and yellow on the fourth should lift the spirits.

There is an informal area within the room, with couch, chair and tables for a listening station. There are six individual microphones for students to use in the section, and then an instructional area, with desks, blackboard and cabinets.

The cabinets contain books, charts and eventually they may be used to replace the former teacher desk area concept.

"With such an arrangement," Mrs. Phillips said, "teachers are forced to get with the students."

Tax resister gets sentence

PORTLAND, Maine (UPI) — Thomas Sutherland, 54, was sentenced to two weekends in jail Friday after he admitted to a federal judge that he had never filed an income tax return in his life.

Sutherland, a former Maine potato farmer who now lives in Worcester, Mass., was charged with willful failure to file tax returns for the years 1966 through 1970.

The Internal Revenue Service was prohibited by a statute of limitations from filing charges against Sutherland for years prior to 1966.

Andrus orders state cut back power use

BOISE (UPI) — Gov. Cecil D. Andrus sent a memorandum to the heads of state agencies calling for power reductions Friday only hours after public utility commissions from four states suggested immediate cutbacks of electricity used by state governments.

Andrus told the department and agency heads to take the steps to reduce their electric power use because the shortage of such energies becoming evident in the Pacific Northwest.

The commissioners from Idaho, Montana, Oregon, and Washington said following a meeting in Boise Friday they would ask the governors of the four states to immediately order a 10 percent cutback in all areas under state control.

They also said they will ask the governor's to appeal on a statewide basis for consumers to cut back on all nonessential use of electricity.

They said a massive public information program should be developed on a continuing basis with emphasis on such items as outdoor sign lighting, display lighting and decorative lighting.

Andrus said in his memo that the state's goal is also a 10 percent reduction.

"I confidently expect that Idaho state government and all of its departments and agencies will take a leading role in alleviating the electric power shortage he said.

Earlier, Andrus directed the Attorney General's Office to research the statutes to see if the state Public Utilities Commission had the power to initiate mandatory controls on electricity use.

Andrus said if the Attorney General's Office found that the commission did not have the power he would find alternative methods of controls as the chief executive of the state.

The commissioners also recommended each state develop a coordinated mandatory curtailment program directed at electricity users.

The areas to be concerned in the mandatory curtailment are governmental authorities, economic impact and enforcement.

Bond ok'd

IDAHO FALLS (UPI) — Voters approved a proposed 7.1 mill levy to build a new junior high school by an overwhelming vote of 4,467 to 462 Thursday.

Money from the levy will be used to pay off proposed bonds which, along with insurance monies, are to be used to replace a school that burned.

Probe sought in Quaker case

By LESTER KINSOLVING Times-News Washington Bureau

WASHINGTON, D.C. — The staff of the House District of Columbia committee is being asked by Idaho's congressmen Steven Symms to investigate the reported hearing and repeated sexual assault suffered by a Quaker war protester in the district jail.

"This is absolutely appalling," Symms told the Times-News regarding the statement of Robert Martin, 27, who said he was sodomized more than 50 times by 35 different inmates at the jail.

Martin had been arrested as part of a group of 60 White House visitors who knelt in prayer Aug. 9, protesting U. S. bombing of Cambodia.

While he could have posted a $100 bond and secured his release, Martin explained that similar to his concern for Cambodia, "so I wanted to witness against the inhumanity practiced in our institutions."

Martin recalled that he was raped over a course of nearly five hours in cell block 2 in what he said fellow prisoners described as "the usual welcome."

In asking that the staff of the House D. C. committee investigate the case, Symms, a member of the committee, noted that he also has received mail regarding the District of Columbia's prison in Lorton, in northern Virginia.

"A high ranking law enforcement official has written me that conditions in Lorton are so deplorable that it would justify putting this prison under federal control," Symms said.

"Then when I learned about this atrocity in the D. C. jail," I recalled that the League of Women Voters has been on me to vote for home rule. Well, the ladies ought to think about this."

D. C. authorities are still investigating the case, although they confirm that Martin has identified two of his assailants. D. C. Correction Director Delbert Jackson recently "negotiated an agreement" with the inmates to provide "indoor recreation" until 11 p.m. at which time Martin broke away from his captors and fell sobbing at the feet of one guard.

The Washington Star-News has called for a complete housecleaning of what it describes as "house of horrors," beginning with the jail's superintendent, Anderson Magruder.

The newspaper also deplored what it reported as an account that guards do not usually venture into cell blocks at night for fear of being assaulted themselves.

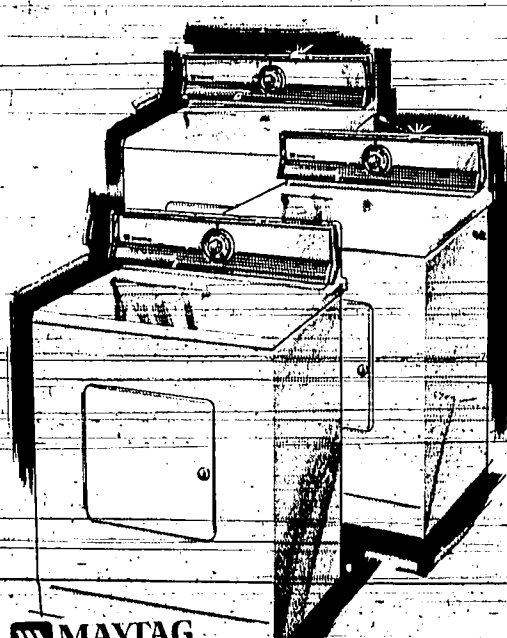

Martin, a former bureau chief for a servicemen's weekly newspaper, said yesterday that if convicted of praying on the White House lawn he intends to return to the D. C. jail, along with several companions, rather than pay the fine.

One of these companions, David Henderson, Arlington, Va., said that the group of Quakers try to practice "God-loving non-violence."

When asked if he was practicing this while he was being sodomized, Martin replied, "I didn't have time."

Food shortages create demand for implements

(c) Chicago Daily News
A continuing food shortage means nothing but trouble for

Export contracts decline

WASHINGTON (UPI) — Export contract totals for wheat, corn and soybeans declined slightly in the week ended Aug. 17 but were still above levels earlier predicted, the Agriculture Department says.

The new figures, made public Tuesday, may strengthen the hand of administration officials who have been resisting pressures from bankers and others to limit exports to conserve stocks for U. S. use.

Tuesday's report said undelivered wheat export sales as of Aug. 17 totaled 1.136 billion bushels, down 37.8 million bushels from an Aug. 10 report.

Undelivered corn exports were put at 1.181 billion bushels, down 23 million from the quantity listed Aug. 10. Soybean export contracts were put at 586.2 million bushels, down 7 million from the previous report.

But for the makers of farm implements, it's an opportunity akin to having steak every night of the week. The world's voracious appetite and poor weather conditions during the last two years have combined to trim world food stocks to dangerously low levels. Last week, the Department of Agriculture predicted another blow when it found a shortfall in U.S. production of wheat and corn production.

Most major food-growing areas in the world are reporting somewhat favorable progress in keeping up with existing demand, but it appears unlikely that substantial progress can be made in improving the world state-of-food.

A. G. Becker & Co., brokerage house, believes the U.S. farmer will be one of the major factors in rebuilding depleted stocks over the next two to five years.

But the current situation means that more inputs such as farm machinery, fertilizer and improved varieties of seed will be needed over the next few years to achieve higher yields per acre, says Becker research analyst Philip A. Cavalier.

He predicts another year of strong demand for farm equipment in 1974 and adds that 1975 is shaping up as a banner year as well.

Investors apparently agree, as they pushed the stocks of five farm-implement makers to the top spots on this week's winners' list: Allis-Chalmers, up 22.7 per cent; White Motors, up 16.3; International Harvester, up 11.7; Massey Ferguson, up 8.7; and John Deere & Co., up 8.4.

Cavalier's favorites are Deere, as a primary investment, and Harvester, as a more speculative issue likely to out-perform the general market.

Chicago-based Harvester, this week posted record profits and sales for the July quarter and predicted more of the same in the current quarter. White Motors said it plans to expand its White Farm Equipment Co. plant at Charles City, Iowa, for assembly of a new tractor currently under development. The plant is scheduled to be completed early next year.

Edible bean sales low

STOCKTON, Calif. — The Bureau of Market News reports that most varieties of dry edible beans quoted in their weekly price reports were not sold in sufficient quantities to make a firm quotation possible.

California pinks, small whites and light red kidneys; Colorado-Denver pintos; Idaho pintos, great northern, small reds, and pinks; Nebraska great northern; and Washington small reds, pintos and pinks were not sold in sufficient amounts during the period to test the market.

Prices are given, with comparisons to a year ago, in dollars per 100 pound bag for California baby limas, 24.50, 11.25-11.35; large limas, 36.00-38.50; 23.35-23.50; and blackeyes, 22.00-22.25, 13.25-13.50.

Gem fatality list mounts

Three more persons have been killed on Idaho highways, two men and one woman in three separate accidents.

That raises the Idaho traffic-fatality toll to 284, compared to 220 on this date last year. The victims were identified as Phillip W. Baker, 78, Route 1, Engle; James Edward Lening, 24, West Yellowstone, Mont., and Mrs. Mae Whitehead, 71, Grace, Idaho.

Baker was killed Sunday and five other persons were injured when two cars collided at 1:10 p.m. at the intersection of North Eagle Road and Franklin outside Boise.

Baker's wife, Iola, about 70, was in critical condition at St. Alphonsus Hospital.

The second car was driven by Norman C. Wardle, 28, Meridian, an Ada County deputy sheriff. He was treated at St. Alphonsus Hospital and released. His wife, Susan, 28, and their daughter, Rozanne, 4½, were in satisfactory condition at the hospital. Another daughter, Susan, 19 months, was treated and released.

The Idaho State Police investigated that accident.

Lening died Saturday from injuries received in a two-car accident two miles north of St. Anthony, Idaho. The Fremont county sheriff's office said apparently the steering failed on a vehicle driven by Tony Graham, 22, Sugar City, Idaho.

That vehicle then struck the left front fender of Lening's car. The 2:30 p.m. accident occurred on U. S. Highway 20. Lening died at an Idaho Falls hospital.

Mrs. Whitehead died Saturday night from injuries sustained in a truck-pedestrian accident in Soda Springs.

The Caribou County sheriff's office said the woman was walking on Main Street about 8:20 p.m., and was struck by a truck driven by Clarence Simmons, 61, Grace.

Freighters collide; seamen lost

LONDON (UPI) — Naval authorities launched an air and sea search for 10 seamen reported missing from a Greek freighter that collided with a Portuguese freighter early today and sank in the fog-bound English Channel, a coast guard spokesman said.

Large crowd attends Jerome groundbreaking

JEROME — A large delegation of Jerome residents were in attendance Saturday at ground breaking ceremonies for the First and Second Ward LDS meeting house.

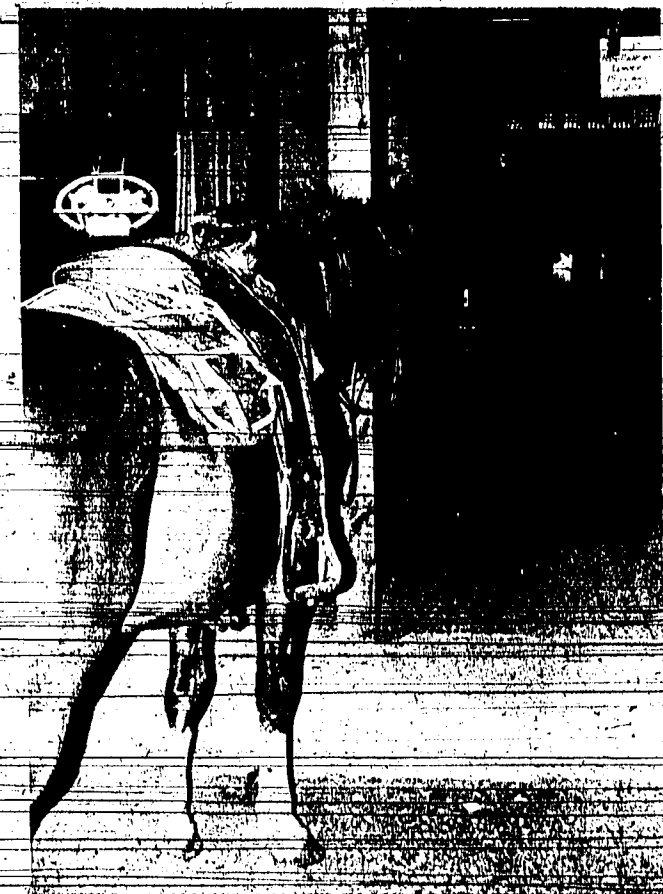

Ezra Taft Benson, member of the council of the 12 apostles, Salt Lake City, was the guest speaker. Also attending were Jerome mayor, J. A. (Jack) Russell, members of the city council and representatives of several Jerome civic and

Ada County arrests 5

BOISE (UPI) — Ada County detectives arrested five Boise residents over the weekend on charges of possession of heroin.

Officers said they recovered heroin, three pounds of marijuana, amphetamines, barbiturates, several handguns and undisclosed amounts of stolen merchandise in their raids.

Taken into custody on the possession charges were Henry Benson, 26; his wife, Karen, 30; Florentino Segovia, 48; Douglas Convington, 23; and Wesley Johnson, 18.

service organization.

Participating in the ceremonies was a representative of Miller Construction Co., Twin Falls, which received the bid for construction of the new church, and H. Richard Heindel, architect.

Construction is expected to begin immediately on the $75,024 structure, which is to be completed within nine months. The new church will be built on three acres of land between East Avenues E and C. The area will also include parking and landscaping.

The church has purchased a total of six acres of land in the area. The remaining three acres will be sold in 100 foot lots for residential construction.

East Avenue E and will be extended to the east edge of the church property at the expense of the church. Sewer and water service to the property will be paid for by the church.

"The Lord expects us to live in the world but not to partake of the sins of this world," Benson said. "The church has never been stronger and never progressed like it is progressing today," he said.

The principles and standards of the gospel have not changed, nor will they change," he said and urged members to stand firm to their standards and ward off the adversary who is using every tool available to weaken the people of the world.

He told the young people present the leaders of the church want them to be happy, to be successful, to become good American citizens and love America, and to live that they can attain the highest degree of glory in the celestial kingdom of God.

Mrs. Benson attended the conference with her husband and spoke briefly. President Ross C. Lee, former Gooding Stake President, reviewed the series of events leading to the construction of the new chapel in Jerome.

Other speakers included Ernest Eberheart, president of the Oregon mission, and Mervin Gifford, co-ordinator of seminars in the south central Idaho district and Gooding Stake president, Richard Everson, who also conducted the conference.

Special music was furnished by the Hazelton ward choir under the direction of Mrs. Orville Udy, with Jan Beens, organist.

Boise women released

KETCHUM — Two Boise women have been released on bond after being charged with prostitution.

According to Ketchum police chief Dennis Haynes, Dora L. Elden, 25, and Pamela K. Davis, 23, were arrested early Sunday morning at a local motel by Ketchum Police Department officers aided by state criminal investigation agents.

Haynes said Davis has also been charged with possession of a concealed weapon.

Davis was released from the Blaine County jail on a $400 bond. Elden was released on $300 bond.

Blaine drawing set

HAILEY — The Wood River Lions Club will sponsor the Blaine County blood drawing scheduled for 2 to 6 p.m. Tuesday at St. Charles Parish Hall, Hailey.

Club president Bruce Rathke urged residents to participate and help top the drawing's 100 pint quota. Rathke also said that eight county residents need replacement blood, including Mrs. Thelma Early, Hailey, who is presently recovering from open heart surgery at St. Luke's Hospital-Boise.

The drawing will be staged by the Blaine County Hospital Auxiliary.

Jerome slates board meet

JEROME — The Jerome School Board will meet at 8 p.m. tonight in the audio visual room of the junior high.

Tonight's agenda includes a slide presentation by Warren Van Camp, high school biology teacher on his summer biology trip; a status report from superintendent John Campbell on the Title I project and on the school district's application for BLM land east of Jerome to be used as a possible site for a new high school; a report on the district's needs assessment project by Roy Parton, director; and the auditor's report.

Wrong name given

Miss Vincent was named Reserve Grand Champion for her work with her horse, Blaze King.

The Grand Champion entry was Buddy Fuller's barrow swine, Herbie.

The Times-News regrets the error.

TF man arrested

TWIN FALLS — David K. Asay, 18, Twin Falls, was arrested Saturday evening on charges of disturbing the peace and drunkenness.

The disturbance charge against Asay resulted after he allegedly assaulted a Sheriff's deputy at the County Fair after being stopped for having alcohol on the fairgrounds.

Asay was restrained by a second officer and then placed under arrest. He was released late Saturday night on $100 bond.

Blaze claims 3

BATH, Maine (UPI) — Four persons died Sunday in a fire at the Sedgwick Hotel, a white-columned seaside resort.

Eight others among the 40 guests were hurt escaping from the blaze, including one man who broke both legs leaping from the second floor.

Jerome house razed by fire

JEROME — Investigation is continuing today into a fire which destroyed a farm house northeast of Jerome.

The Jerome Rural Fire Department was called out at 1:15 a.m. today to the Leroy Larson farm where a recently vacated tenant house was on fire.

The fire department personnel battled the blaze for over two hours. The structure was destroyed.

Don Rupert, Jerome Rural Fire Chief, said he is not sure what started the fire but that a thorough investigation would be conducted today. He estimated the loss at about $8,000.

Larson said he was awakened this morning by a neighbor who had seen the fire. He said the fire might have been caused by faulty electrical wiring. However, the possibility of arson has not been ruled out, Larson said.

Firemen compete in TF

TWIN FALLS — A men's fire fighting team from Hayden Lake, Idaho won the beer keg contest Sunday in a firemen's event at the College of Southern Idaho.

The Hayden Lake men's team defeated two Twin Falls teams, a Jerome team, a Wendell team, a Ketchum team and a Creston, B. C. team in the beer keg contest.

The Twin Falls Number Two team took second and the Twin Falls Number One team took third.

In a corresponding ladies contest, the Twin Falls team defeated a team from Hayden Lake and a team from Jerome.

The beer keg contest, which involved pushing a beer keg along a cable with jets of water from fire hoses until the keg reached the opponent's end, culminated two days of contests sponsored by the Twin Falls Fire Fighters Association. Saturday two hose-laying contests, an American evolution and a Canadian evolution were held.

City Manager Jean Milner attended both days of the contest, Barnhill said. He said about 400 people attended the contest Sunday to watch the firemen take a dousing.

Con at work

TWIN FALLS — A short change artist was reported working the Twin Falls area Saturday.

According to police reports, a black male wearing fancy clothes entered the Yost Hallmark Card and Party Co., 135 Main Ave. East, about 4:45 p.m. Saturday and purchased a card, paying for it with a $10 bill and asking for singles in change.

The man then apparently pulled a $20 bill from a roll of money and asked to have it also changed into singles. The man was about to repeat the operation with a second $20 bill when he was interrupted by a store employee.

A check of the cash register after the man had departed showed it was $20 short, store officials told police.

Chief of Detectives Tim Qualls refused today to disclose how the short change trick worked except to say that after the first exchange the man was working "with the store's money, not his own."

Crash kills 4

IDAHO CITY, Idaho (UPI) — Four persons died in the flaming wreckage of their light plane when the craft caught a wingtip on a tree and smashed into a hillside near here.

A witness to the crash Sunday afternoon said the plane went into a steep turn, lost altitude and struck the tree. The craft crashed into a hillside, bursting into flames. The passengers apparently were killed instantly.

Boise County Sheriff's deputies said the names of the victims were not released, pending notification of next of kin.

Deputies said identification of the three men and one woman was difficult because the bodies were so badly charred. The wreckage was nothing but a mass of twisted, melted metal, said one officer.

Bodies of the victims were taken to Boise.

The Federal Aviation Administration ordered the area closed for security measures, so an investigation into the mishap could be made today.

Idaho economic indicators eyed

BOISE (UPI)—A state official reported some disturbing economic indicators for Idaho Friday and said budget analysts will be watching them closely for possible effect on state revenues.

D. E. "Skip" Chillberg, director of Administrative Services and formerly budget director, said 7 of 15 selected indicators contained in the monthly report of the Department of Employment did not improve from July's figures.

Three unemployment indicators, Chillberg said, were worse now than for the same time a year ago.

He said residential building permits dropped to their lowest figure since July 1969 and were down 54.8 per cent from July a year ago.

"The net effect is there are a number of leading indicators both statewide and nationally that the economy is in for a slowdown," Chillberg said.

He said it is a little difficult to tell "this early in the game" just how severe that slowdown may be or what effect it may have on state revenues.

"Certainly farm income is up dramatically from years past," he said. "Personal income was up for the first three months in 1973 where Idaho was second in the nation."

But he said that current indicators prompt a need for extreme caution in optimism.

Coupled with the signs of an economic slowdown, the said, is this week's State Supreme Court decision that Idaho cannot collect cigarette taxes on cigarettes sold on Indian reservations.

"Our first estimate on the cigarette decision is this could cost the general fund from one-half to one million dollars a year alone," Chillberg said.

"Based on a total anticipated collection of $9 million for fiscal 1974 we fell it could run as high as 10 per cent."

Chillberg said he did not know what further implications the court ruling may have on state tax collections on Indian reservation including such taxes as those on gasoline, electricity and income.

"Sales tax collections should not be affected," he said, since Idaho law provides for a "use" tax feature for items purchased where sales tax cannot be collected.

Although revenues may be cut Chillberg said the state probably will be all right for this fiscal year because of the surplus in the general fund. But he said the surplus may not be as large "as we thought it would be."

"We'll be watching the situation closely to determine revenue for the following year," he said.

Political influence charged in GSA hiring

(c) Washington Star-News

WASHINGTON—The U. S. Civil Service Commission is investigating allegations that political influence may have been used to secure normally competitive government jobs in the General Services Administration, particularly in Maryland.

The investigation has been underway for the past two months and centers on personnel in the GSA's region 3, which encompasses Maryland, Delaware, Pennsylvania, Virginia, West Virginia and the District of Columbia.

Sources close to the investigation have told the Star-News that the primary focus of the probe involves GSA employes in Maryland.

Investigators have received detailed information indicating that political influence resulted in preferential treatment for some GSA employes, and may have stifled open competition for some civil service jobs.

"The investigators are looking at those who benefited from preferential treatment and those who facilitated the actions," said one source. "There is no pattern. The allegations cut across all positions."

No individual cases were detailed by the sources who said "all the facts are not in yet, the investigators are still out in the field."

It has been learned from other sources that a prime figure in the federal grand jury investigation into alleged contract-kickbacks to officials in Maryland has told prosecutors that he paid $2,500 to Vice President Agnew in the summer of 1971 in return for help in securing a GSA job for someone else.

According to a source close to the federal probe, Lester Matz, head of a prominent Baltimore County consulting engineering firm, told prosecutors that he made the cash payment to Agnew in the vice president's office in the presence of J. Walter Jones, a Maryland banker and close friend and political supporter of Agnew.

Matz is one of at least three contractors and close political allies of Agnew who, sources said, have told prosecutors they have made "cash payments" to Agnew in return for business or personal favors. Matz, along with Jerome B. Wolff, a former aide to the vice president, have received limited immunity from prosecution in exchange for their testimony.

School meetings opened

BOISE (UPI)—The Idaho Board of Education Friday approved revisions for the school administrators' handbook specifying that all district trustee meetings are to be open to the public at all times.

The amendment to the handbook was introduced by J. P. Munson, board member from Sandpoint. He said he felt the area recommending open meetings as written in the handbook "was weak and seemed to encourage closed or executive meetings."

Dr. Roy Truly, administrative assistant to the Department of Public Instruction, agreed with Munson and said he feels all meetings should be open.

Closing meetings of public school officials often brings "public distrust," he said.

A former board member from Lewiston, said district officials can sit in a closed meeting and often make determinations of how they will stand on an issue.

He said it is a way of handling controversial matters "away from the public spectrum."

Board chairman John Swartz suggested the trustees should be consulted before the board vote on the revision, saying the board might be in for "lumps" from the districts if the change did not meet the approval of the administrators.

Truly countered that the manual was not written by the trustees but by the department for the trustees and it was "perfectly appropriate" for the state board to make the change.

The guideline says "school boards are public boards, and are to conduct the public's business, routine and controversial alike, in open public sessions."

"Trustees are allowed, on occasion when it is essential that business pertaining to personnel or property be conducted in private, to move into executive session. However, no final determination, rules, resolutions, regulations or decisions are to be adopted in such executive session."

Alford noted that the guidelines are in conformance with the state open meeting laws.

GOP distributes Nixon phone poll

(c) Newhouse News Service

WASHINGTON—The Republican National Committee has distributed 9,000 copies of a nationwide telephone poll which reported that President Nixon's job approval rating had regained the 50 per cent level at the end of August, for the first time since the start of the Watergate hearings.

National chairman George Bush sent 5,000 of the reports to Republican leaders at all levels across the country with a covering letter calling it to their attention.

Although the letter did not make an appeal for funds, the wide distribution of the poll is being interpreted as an incentive to apply the pressure for contributions.

An additional 4,000 copies of the poll were sent to editors and political writers by Robert R. Rousek, director of communications for the Republican National Committee.

Deputy White House press secretary Gerald R. Ford also cited the poll in support of his contention that confidence in the President among the American people is on the rise.

The poll was taken by Sindlinger and Co. of Swarthmore, Pa., which has been in the business of telephone polling for 18 years.

Dr. Randy Bean, Twin Falls veterinarian, and a young grey horned owl that was hit by a passing car. Bean operated on its broken wing but can't be certain the owl will fly again.

TF vet operates on wounded birds of prey

By BART QUESNELL
Times News Writer

Dr. Randy Bean lost about 50 per cent of all the "birds of prey" he operated on last year. Many of the birds he did save cannot fly and have been shipped to zoos or given to people who wanted a pet.

The Idaho Fish and Game Commission and concerned individuals brought crippled and dying birds into the young Twin Falls veterinarian throughout last year. Ten eagles plus numerous hawks and owls ended up on his operating table.

If the birds have any chance of flying or walking after sustaining a break, the operation "has to be perfect," Dr. Bean said.

According to Bean, "The bird has to be put back together exactly the way he was before the break."

Even though Bean has worked with and cared for birds quite a few years the success percentage of his operations is not that high. Some birds lie in the heat for a day sometimes and are nearly dead before someone brings them in.

Bean became interested in birds of prey in high school when he found and healed a sparrow hawk. At the University of Idaho he met a "falconer" who got him interested in training a redtail hawk to hunt.

He hunted with birds while completing his last four years of doctor of veterinary medicine at Washington State University and doctored birds in between.

His interest and respect for the birds of prey grew.

Today he does all of his work free unless a specific individual wants the cripple for a pet. If no one wants the birds Bean gives them to the Idaho Fish and Game Department to find homes for them.

Power lines and hunters are the great menace to the birds, Bean said. With the start of hunting season he expects to be getting more birds soon.

What began as a hobby has turned into a steady labor of love for Bean. An operation to insert a pin where a bone used to be in an eagle can take as long as two hours. He said he gets home late some nights.

"It take a lot of time but it's something I like to do," Bean said. "I just hate to see birds lie out in the desert to die."

USS Pueblo crewmen decorated

(c) Washington Star-News

WASHINGTON—Navy Secretary John W. Warner announced Friday that he had awarded decorations to 18 members of the crew of the USS Pueblo, the spy vessel captured by North Korea on Jan. 23, 1968.

Those honored were all nominated for the awards by Comdr. Lloyd Bucher, the skipper of the Pueblo. But Bucher himself was not recommended for an award and did not receive one.

Warner made no reference to Bucher, who has since retired from the Navy, except to state that he had initiated the recommendations for the awards.

The awards included two silver stars and three bronze stars. The others were Navy commendation medals and Navy achievement medals. One of the silver stars was awarded to fireman Duane Hodges, the only crew member killed during the attack.

Almost all of the awards were given for efforts made by the crew members, while under fire from North Korean gunboats and aircraft, to destroy classified information before the ship was captured.

The awards were all for actions on the day of capture and Warner said recommendations for awards for heroic actions taken by the crew members during their imprisonment in North Korea were still under consideration.

When the ship was seized in international waters in the Sea of Japan, 56 enlisted men and two civilian oceanographers. It was the job of the Pueblo, a lightly armed vessel, to patrol along the North Korean coast, picking up radio and radar transmissions of the North Koreans.

Bucher and his crew were released Dec. 22, 1968, after 11 months of imprisonment.

Warner said he had refrained from making the awards for heroic actions on the day of capture until after all other prisoners had been returned from Southeast Asia.

Although Bucher continued on active duty until earlier this year, many naval officials were critical of his failure to resist giving up the Pueblo more vigorously.

Idaho state job competition open

BOISE—The Idaho Personnel Commission has announced open-competitive examinations for several state civil service positions.

The positions include director I, maintenance and operations; outdoor program director; water resource planner I and II; personal service aide; and director Idaho Housing Agency.

The maintenance and operations position is with the Department of Environmental and Community Services at State Hospital North. Applications will be accepted until Sept. 25. Two years experience as a supervisor or journeyman craftsman is required.

The outdoor program director's position is with the Department of Environmental and Community Services, in Pocatello. A bachelor's degree in physical education, recreation, conservation, forestry or related field is required. Applications will be accepted until Sept. 17.

The water resource planner I and II positions are with the Idaho Water Resource Board and require a bachelor's degree in economics or agricultural economics and one year of experience or a master's degree in either field. Applications will be accepted until Dec. 15.

The personal service aide will work in the Department of Environmental and Community Services. Applicants must be able to read and write and have some knowledge of housekeeping procedures, food preparation and personal care services. Applications will be accepted until Dec. 15.

The Idaho Housing Agency director must be familiar with federal housing programs and have experience in administration of low-income oriented housing programs and the ability to work with low income people, senior citizens, boards and minority populations. Applications will be accepted until Sept. 25.

More information and applications for any of the positions are available from the Idaho Personnel Commission, Boise, or local Department of Employment offices.

FORECAST FOR THURSDAY, SEPTEMBER 11, 1973

GENERAL TENDENCIES: Solid and, secure methods in which much energy is expended but little risk of changes of any type taken are favored. Think in terms of your overall aims and what you can do to secure data that can make them an integral part of your existence.

ARIES (Mar. 21 to Apr. 19): Make sure you do not dash off to some activity you know little about and keep busy getting your home life more secure and comfortable. Plan how to make your fondest dreams come true.

Taurus (Apr. 20 to May 20): If you do not confide your plans to others, you can do much to improve your monetary position. Just at this time. Listen to good advice from a clever friend. Follow it to your real advantage.

GEMINI (May 21 to June 21): Avoid that nagging associate and contact a higher up who can help you with your problems. Then take care of financial problems very intelligently. Show more affection for note.

MOON (June 22 to July 21): Fine new ideas come to you now that can make your future more prosperous, happy. If you do something about them quickly. Work at a measured pace so you do not overtake yourself. Show more broad-mindedness with others.

LEO (July 22 to Aug. 21): Come to a better understanding with both debtors and creditors so your position in life is improved. Do not spend too much money for entertainment that you will later regret. Avoid one who has an eye on your assets.

VIRGO (Aug. 22 to Sept. 22): Come to a better understanding with associates and improve your mutual affairs. Know what your true position is with the public in general. Think along more intellectual lines. Early to bed tonight.

LIBRA (Sept. 23 to Oct. 22): If you get to work early instead of going off on some tangent, you can get out of some present difficulty. Take good care of your health. Evening is then fine for light entertainment.

SCORPIO (Oct. 23 to Nov. 21): You want to have a good time, which is fine, provided you take a friend along who keeps you from spending too much. Entertain those who have done you past favors. Show how much you appreciate them.

SAGITTARIUS (Nov. 22 to Dec. 21): You can do much to improve the situation at home as well as add to public prestige today. Either entertain or be entertained by the right people. Listen to your radio more.

CAPRICORN (Dec. 22 to Jan. 20): You are able now to secure the information you need, get the errands done that are important. If you start early. Use care in buying and selling. Handle any transportation matters well.

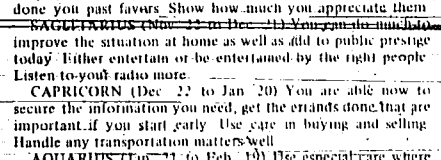

AQUARIUS (Jan. 21 to Feb. 19): Use especial care where monetary matters are concerned so you do not make any mistakes. Use your intuitive faculties since they are accurate now. These can also be helpful where romance is concerned.

PISCES (Feb. 20 to Mar. 20): Know what is expected of you by kin and try to please them more; and this also holds true where associates are concerned. You are dynamic because of the Full Moon. Make sure to control your temper, though.

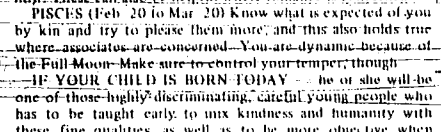

IF YOUR CHILD IS BORN TODAY: He or she will be one of those highly discriminating, careful young people who has to be taught early to mix kindness and humanity with these fine qualities, as well as to be more objective when dealing with others, or feelings can be hurt badly. An ideal chart for career in laboratories, research, whatever requires much patience and working with details, figures. Give spiritual training early. Music is good as a hobby.

The stars impel, they do not compel. What you make of your life is largely up to YOU!

Young lady, did you get three proposals of marriage between the ages of 19 and 29? If not, what went wrong? That is the number of proposals the average American woman receives during those six years of her life. Or so reports the American Institute of Family Relations. Might mention, too; 25 per cent of these romantic queries are put to the girls in cars; 23 per cent are sprung on them in their homes, and 20 per cent are offered in public places.

Tricky little beast, the seal. It has about one and a half times as much blood as any similarly sized land mammal. When it dives, most of its little porous trappings snap shut, cutting off the blood supply to everything except the vital organs.

Nothing new about price controls. Olden code of laws in world history set them on game, wool and lead. That was in the Babylonian kingdom of Eshnunna. In the 19th century B.C.

PARACHUTE
Let's see you come up with the name and age of the first woman ever to parachute from an airplane. It's direct a customer. All right! That little lady was Tiny Broadwick. And she was 18. Bailed out of Glenn Martin's plane at 1,000-foot and landed in a grain field near Los Angeles in 1931, that was.

One Louisiana boy, how many fair-sized hurricanes actually hit this country, hard enough to do serious damage every year?
A Two. That's average. Such storms have killed about 5,500 people in the last 50 years.

That Mount McKinley in Alaska is the highest mountain in North America, no doubt you know. But did you know it's polluted? Littered with tin cans, bottles, rags, paper tacks, whatever. Most climbers give up, junk whatever to retreat.

SLIM AND PLUMP
Stretch show that overweight man tend to marry overweight women? At least to an extent exceeding the chance expectations by about 80 per cent. And slim men tend to marry slender women, too. At least to an extent that exceeds the ordinary chances by about 50 per cent.

Exactly what it is about a firm that makes him a reliable husband I do not know, but research into the matrimonial statistics indicates he is one of the five professional follows least apt to get divorced. Other four are the farmer, civil engineer, teacher and accountant.

The science-fiction boys are way out ahead of the real scientists, always. Take medicine. It was in 1911 that a science fiction writer conceived of an artificial heart. And in 1915, an artificial kidney.

Market Review

NEW YORK (UPI) — Stocks

opened slightly higher Monday in moderate trading on the New York Stock Exchange.

The Dow Jones Industrial average was up 0.08 to 898.71 shortly after the opening, and it was held in a thin lead over declines among 350 issues traded.

On Friday, two government reports — showing wholesale prices were up 6.2 percent, and unemployment had worsened by 0.1 percent put a damper on stock buying. The Dow fell 2.41 to 898.63, but some analysts said they were pleased the market had stood up reasonably well to such potentially damaging news.

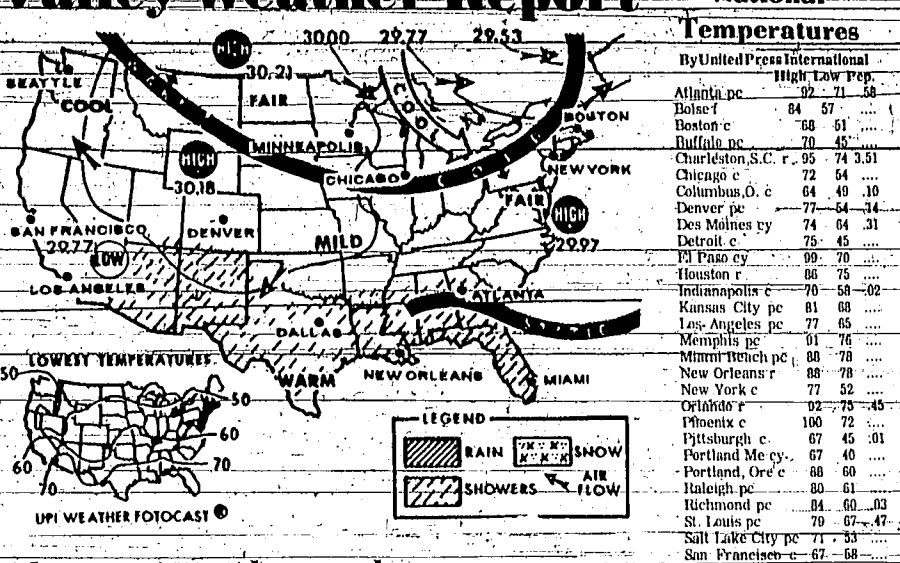

The hope interest rate may be a primary source of renewed investor confidence, and according to some observers, the main spring of the gains of the last two weeks. If so, the strength of the stock market could rest on how well that confidence withstands any new rise in the prime, or other key interest rates.

Banks offer small investor planning

New York Times News Service — NEW YORK — Millions of people own stock today, but millions more who can't afford to invest are not in the market at all. Many are on the sidelines because they were frightened off by the declining market. Others are not investors because it seems so complicated.
