Segretti guilty plea due

WASHINGTON (UPI) — Donald H. Segretti, hired as an undercover agent by Republicans, has agreed to plead guilty to federal charges of distributing fraudulent documents about Democratic presidential hopefuls. It was announced today.

The disclosure came after a federal grand jury in Tampa, Fla., re-indicted Segretti on charges of conspiracy and illegal publication of political statements about contenders in Florida's 1972 presidential primary.

Washington today, Watergate Special Prosecutor Archibald Cox said Segretti had agreed to have the case transferred to Washington where he would plead guilty.

Davis told Margolis that Segretti had always appeared in court when required. The magistrate released Segretti on his own recognizance.

Fund to bury poor dwindling fast

By GEORGE WILEY Times News Writer

TWIN FALLS — Twin Falls County budgeted $3,500 this year for burial of the indigent dead. So far, county taxpayers have underwritten the cost of eight such burials at a cost of nearly $2,700.

Sometimes they are elderly people without families. Coroner cases are distributed to each of the mortuaries of a rotation basis. Each mortuary takes all coroner cases in Twin Falls County for one month then passes the responsibility to another mortuary.

My husband is deceased. If I put my nephew's name on my home property with me, will this obligate him to arrange and pay for my funeral?

Answer...

There is no possible way you can title your residence property, which would by this fact alone obligate your nephew to arrange and pay your funeral and interment expenses. There was a time in early American history when an English common law principle held the owner of property responsible for the burial of residents in his household. Now the decedent's estate or his entitlement to a funeral benefit usually furnishes the funds required.

Growing in acceptance is the concept of pre-arranging and prepaying for a funeral. Funds left with us for this purpose are put into trust until needed. They are not subject to administration by creditors nor may they be withdrawn by anyone at anytime for any purpose except those associated with your funeral.

Local girl hurt

TWIN FALLS — A Twin Falls girl is in good condition in Magic Valley Memorial Hospital after suffering injuries in a traffic accident about 8 a.m.

Melania Hamilton, 15, received facial injuries and bruises on her arms and legs when a viola case she was carrying was struck by a passing car and then in turn struck her in the face, knocking her down.

According to police reports Miss Hamilton was walking north on Maurice Street, facing traffic, when a southbound pickup truck driven by Lynn Marie Crandall, 15, Twin Falls, struck the musical instrument case and the instrument case struck Miss Hamilton.

The accident remains under investigation.

Vandals damage TF car

TWIN FALLS — Vandals kicked in the side of a car belonging to a former Twin Falls policeman late Saturday.

The incident was reported to police by Wesley Dobbs, a former member of the police department who now teaches law enforcement at the College of Southern Idaho.

Dobbs told police the incident occurred between 8:30 p.m. Saturday and 11:30 a.m. Sunday. In addition to kicking in the side of the vehicle, Dobbs reported the vandals also spread paper towels and tissue over the lawn at his residence.

Damage to the vehicle was estimated at $175.

Trial set for trusty

TWIN FALLS — John Potter, 20, Twin Falls, a trusty in the Twin Falls County jail when charged with two felony and one misdemeanor count of possession of a controlled substance, has been bound over to District Court for trial.

The action was ordered by Magistrate Daniel Mooli following a preliminary hearing in the lower court Friday. He was charged with receiving certain drugs while on trusty duty and passing them to another prisoner. He was returned to custody in lieu of bond.

Legion plans fall confab

TWIN FALLS — Plans for the coming year and the Fifth District fall convention were made at an American Legion Fifth District Executive Committee meeting Sunday evening at the Holiday Inn.

The convention will be at Eden Oct. 14. Honored guests were Gene Halstrom, Department of Idaho Action, and Ernie Davis, national vice chairman for membership.

Summer project

Space theme slated for Scouts

TWIN FALLS — The new "roundup" of Cub Scouts, Boy Scouts and Explorers is under way in Twin Falls and is known as the "First in Space Roundup."

Derald Fitzsimonds, scouting executive, said under the new roundup of members, each boy who is a member of a Cub Pack, Boy Scout Troop or an Explorer, leader or otherwise affiliated with Boy Scouts of America will have his name on a scroll which will be placed aboard a satellite and sent into space.

The opportunity is open for boys in the nine western states and includes the Snake River Council. Fitzsimonds said each group will receive a scroll to be signed by members who of December of this year. These scrolls will be microfilmed and placed aboard the Scout satellite to be launched early in 1974.

Each boy is asked to bring in one new member to be included in the First in Space

Roundup and each unit is given a goal of eight new members. Fitzsimonds said in addition to the name-in-space opportunity the Scouting program will be offering numerous other programs on a local basis.

Cub Scout packs, he said, study a different subject each month with their programs and recreational activities based on the suggested theme or one of their own choice.

An especially active Cub Scout group is Den 7 of Pack 76, sponsored by the Harrison School. The seven boys under the leadership of Diana Westermann, den mother and Esther Bopp, assistant, spent the summer on a special Indian project.

They used drapery remnants, dyed yellow to make an authentic teepee with the boys doing the work themselves under the direction of the den mother.

Toy boys' fathers helped them cut poles in the South Hills, and they fashioned wooden pegs to fasten the teepee around the poles.

Designs were also made by the boys on paper and then transferred to the teepee. Costumes including loin cloths, vests and necklaces and head dresses were designed and made by the Cub Scouts.

Mrs. Westermann said while most Cub Scout dens recessed for the summer, the members of Den 7 worked diligently and met regularly to complete their project.

It has been completed in time for display in September with the September theme being Indian lore.

Members of this den include Tim Westermann, Paul Westermann, Marty Paxton, Ronald Bopp, Todd Brehm, Barry Blessing and Bobby Jones.

Services available

BOISE — The Idaho Department of Labor is offering three new services to employers in Idaho.

They include consultive inspections to help them comply with the Occupational Safety and Health Act and Industrial Hygienist services on an inspection basis. Also, training material and programs are available which will provide a safe work place.

These inspections and consultive visits will be handled by state inspectors who do not issue citations or fines. There are no charges for these services.

Anyone desiring these services should write or call the Idaho Department of Labor, 317 Main Street, Boise, or call 384-2327.

Remember one thing: More savers save more at Idaho First than at any other savings institution in Idaho.

Published statements, required by law, establish that. But, you're interested in the why of it.

The consistently high rates. The qualified banking people.

The numerous locations. The motor banking convenience.

The variety of plans... flexibility, income now, long term growth. There's a program for your individual savings objective.

That's the why of it.

The country is ready for such a start. Autumn, even more than the first of the year, is the time of new initiatives in America.

Dear Dr. Thosteson: I have read several letters in your column concerning the new operation, tubal ligation, but no one has asked the questions that concern me the most:

It is this impulsion to get to work, more than an aversion to Watergate as Messrs. Nixon and Agnew and their defenders have said in recent days, that has helped ready the American people for the President's new overture for Washington action.

The President will continue to get a hard time from Congress over impoundment, war powers, and defense appropriations. But this stems from a basic disagreement over policy and authority, not from any lack of attention from Capitol Hill.

How does this operation affect menopause?

Money behind trouble

Monday, September 17, 1973 Times-News, Twin Falls, Idaho 5

Affairs Center for Television said they would provide limited television coverage of the next round of Senate Watergate hearings, resuming Sept. 24.

WASHINGTON (UPI) — Sen. Daniel K. Inouye, D-Hawaii, a member of the Senate Watergate committee says "overabundance of money" is the root of campaign wrongdoing and that the Democrats might have been gully of unethical conduct in 1972 had they been richer.

"I'm certain that if the McGovern campaign had an overabundance of money, some of the overzealous members of that campaign organization might have been involved in activities which would not be quite ethical," Inouye said in a UPI Washington Window interview released Sunday.

Asked why the Watergate affair happened, Inouye's first answer was that "an overabundance of money" made it possible for President Nixon's campaign aides to carry out "grandiose ideas." He said the campaign of Sen. George S.

McGovern, D-S.C., "apparently didn't have this type of luxury money."

In related developments: Sen. Harold Hughes, D-Iowa, Sunday agreed with Sen. Edward M. Kennedy, D-Mass.,

Regional primary proposed

GREAT NECK, N.Y. (UPI) — Sen. Howard Baker, R-Tenn., Sunday proposed "a major overhaul" of the American political system, including a set of regional primaries and the abolition of the electoral college.

"Four regional primaries, possibly corresponding to the four time zones, might be worth considering," he said, "as well as the idea of electing by popular vote electing delegates."

The political system should be made "more accessible and more convenient, so more people can vote more easily and more often," he said.

"We also need a major overhaul in our system of nominating presidential candidates," Baker said. Another good idea, he added, might be to keep the voting booths open 24 hours on national election day.

Baker addressed a crowd of 1,500 at a synagogue here as part of a nationwide speaking tour to "sense the pulse of the nation on a variety of issues."

Contract proposal rejected

By United Press International

Striking employees at the MacMillan-Rothsay paper plant in Saint John, N.B., turned down a new contract proposal Sunday night, dimming prospects for an end to labor-management troubles in the Canadian paper industry.

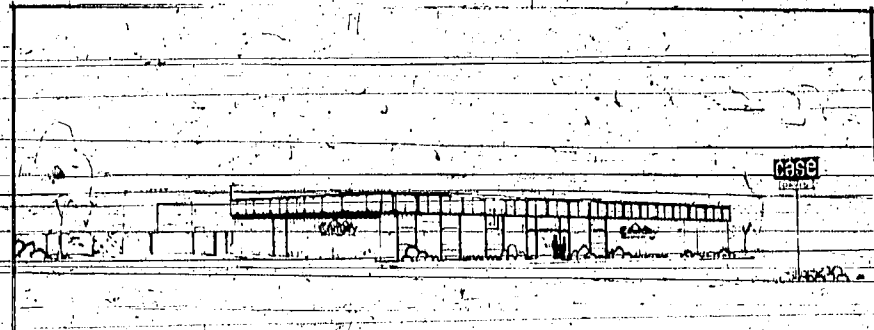

The strikes have affected the shipment of newspapers to American and Canadian newspapers, forcing some to cut back on advertising and editorial content.

The rejection of the MacMillan-Rothsay pact by two-thirds of the company's 400-striking employees, cast doubt on a settlement at Nova Scotia Forest Industries Ltd. in Hallowbury, N.S., where 650 employees were to vote Tuesday on virtually the same package.

At the same time, however, members of the United Paperworkers' International Union (UPIU) continued to vote on a new contract with Abitibi Pulp and Paper Co. By Sunday at least 13 of the 17 locals had ratified the pact and final results were expected today. Abitibi operates nine mills in Ontario, Quebec and New Brunswick.

unt. President Nixon should face impeachment proceedings if he refuses to obey a Supreme Court order to produce his Watergate tapes. To be afraid to use the impeachment process, Hughes said (on ABC's "Issues and Answers") "would be placing in the hands of this president and all future presidents... an implied power that they could do anything they wanted in defiance of the law..." Kennedy took a similar stand last week.

Sen. John C. Stennis, D-Miss., said on CBS "Face the Nation" that such a refusal by

UN seats to Germans

(c) Chicago Daily News

BONN — The induction tomorrow of both East and West Germany into the United Nations is the outgrowth of West German Chancellor Willy Brandt's Ostpolitik and the changing East-West political relationship.

But Ostpolitik has slowed in its final stages, and top West German officials — Brandt and Foreign Minister, Walter Scheel — plan to profit from visits to New York to further the transatlantic dialog the Bonn government has long encouraged.

Secretary of State-designate Henry Kissinger will be on hand, so the West Germans hope to "marry" proposals set forth by both the United States and the recent Copenhagen meeting of the European Common Market nine for updating the Western Alliance.

Brandt will address the U. S. General Assembly on Sept. 26. He will journey to Chicago Sept. 27 to lunch with Mayor Richard J. Daley and address the council on Foreign relations. Scheel, in a Bonn parliamentary debate on foreign policy last week, said U. S. membership means "for the first time we will take part in world decision."

Scheel's view of joining the world decision makers is a bit modest. West Germany has long been a weighty actor on the European stage. Nor can it be assumed that simultaneous acceptance into the United Nations is a precedent for East-West German cooperation.

The East Germans are likely to champion third world interests. Some of the non-aligned states recognized the East Berlin government well before the diplomatic boycott in the West was broken by the signing last year of the East-West German treaty.

West German membership is looked on skeptically by some black African states. Israel, in contrast, considers East Germany hostile and is scheduled to vote against its admission to the U. N.

Oil talks planned

VIENNA (UPI) — The world's major oil exporting nations, defying a warning by President Nixon, announced plans Sunday for a new round of talks on petroleum price increases.

The 11 members of the Organization of Petroleum Exporting Countries (OPEC) set Oct. 8 as the date for the start of new price negotiations with the world's major oil companies.

Western economists said any increase in price by OPEC nations would eventually push up consumer costs of gasoline and fuel oil.

President Nixon, announcing a new energy policy earlier this month, warned the exporting nations against pricing themselves out of the market.

A communique issued after two days of secret OPEC talks said prices for crude oil and compensation for inflation "are no longer compatible with prevailing market conditions as well as galloping world inflation."

The statement demanded a revision of the Tehran, Tripoli and Lagos agreements that fix oil price structures.

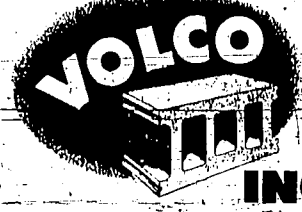

The communique said Abu Dhabi, Iran, Iraq, Kuwait, Qatar and Saudi Arabia will start price negotiations with the oil companies Oct. 8 in Vienna.

Victimless crimes aired by FBI head

WASHINGTON (UPI)—Law enforcement officials must expend time and effort on victimless crimes such as gambling and prostitution in order to prevent a takeover by hoodlums, FBI director Clarence M. Kelley said today.

In an interview with UPI, Kelley said that in the areas of narcotics, gambling and prostitution "there is too much chance for hoodlums to take over, and neglect by the police morally serves to milk the public dry."

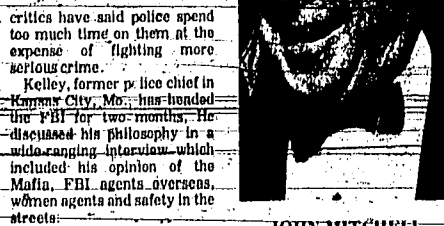

"When crimes without victims become an open field," he added, "it can become a playground for hoodlums."

So-called crimes without victims, including homosexuality, have become the subject of debate in recent years. Many critics have said police spend too much time on them at the expense of fighting more serious crime.

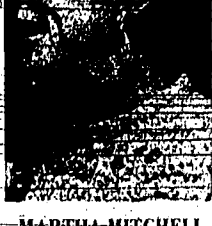

Kelley, former police chief in Kansas City, Mo., has headed the FBI for two months. He discussed his philosophy in a wide-ranging interview which included his opinion of the Mafia, FBI agents overseas, women agents and safety in the streets.

Kelley said that, despite concerted efforts by law-enforcement agencies, he is discouraged by the extent of progress against organized crime.

"Certainly the Mafia families are still operating," he said. "Just like you saw in the movie The Godfather, the operations are passed on from father to son. The old men say they don't want their sons to lead their life, but the fact is there is lots of money to be made in organized crime. I think we know who is in the so-called 'business' more than we used to because we've forced them to come out in the open more. They've been forced to run legitimate businesses like everyone else to meet expenses."

JOHN MITCHELL leaves Martha

MARTHA MITCHELL sees lawyer

Martha plans to see lawyer

WASHINGTON (UPI)—Martha Mitchell, describing in detail the erosion of her marriage, said Sunday night her husband, John, left her four days ago on advice of his lawyers. She said she will see her lawyer today.

But in early evening phone calls to United Press International, Mrs. Mitchell called the possibility of separation "horrible."

She denied reports in Newsweek magazine that she and her husband, President Nixon's former attorney general and campaign manager, engaged in "violent outbursts" after previous telephone calls to the news media and that he had tried to hospitalize her for psychiatric care.

Mrs. Mitchell said, "I never had a fight with him." Speaking to UPI's Helen Thomas, she called the Newsweek report "a goddamned lie."

Newsweek quoted an "intimate friend" of the family as reporting John saying, "You'd think the media would understand and leave Martha alone. It's obvious to anyone who knows her that she's a sick woman."

Mrs. Mitchell said, "He walked out, yes. But I've been trying to get him out," she said. "If you've got a man 24 hours a day, I couldn't stand it. He was watching the football games."

She said the marriage was strained because of Mitchell's indictment on charges of perjury and obstruction of justice for allegedly influencing the Securities and Exchange Commission to drop an investigation of Nixon campaign contributor Robert L. Vesco.

He is also under investigation by the Senate Watergate Committee and various grand juries for his role in allegations of campaign sabotage.

Mrs. Mitchell said it was her husband, not her, who was distraught. "Whenever anyone came into our apartment, he was so kind to them. When they left, he got mean with me and Marty," her 12-year-old daughter.

"My God, I've done everything for him that I could," she said. "I've been through hell. I've been the best wife you've seen in your life, but I can't forget what I went through in California."

Colson faces wiretap charge

NEW YORK (UPI)—Former White House special counsel Charles Colson is under investigation as the man who kept the Watergate wiretapping plan alive until it was finally approved, according to Time Magazine.

Time and Newsweek both reported Sunday that Colson may be among the first former officials to be indicted in Special Prosecutor Archibald Cox's inquiry into the Ellsberg, psychiatrist burglary case.

Newsweek said Colson, former White House aides John Ehrlichman, Emil Krogh, David Young and G. Gordon Liddy may be among those named in the Fielding burglary indictments.

The Time article said Colson could possibly be indicted this week, most likely on charges of being involved in the burglary of the office of Dr. Lewis Fielding, the psychiatrist who had treated Daniel Ellsberg.

Times said federal prosecutors were determined to prove Colson, who the magazine said had arranged for the White House hiring of "plumber" E. Howard Hunt and was close to Hunt's partner G. Gordon Liddy, was a power behind the Liddy-Hunt wiretapping.

Colson has said he had no knowledge of the wiretapping of Democratic National Headquarters, but Times said, "The prosecutors are pursuing the possibility that Colson was fully aware of the nature of the projects."

Turner, Bailey, and the seven others were indicted by a federal grand jury on 28 counts of using the U.S. mails to promote fraudulent business ventures.

Turner to face trial

JACKSONVILLE, Fla. (UPI)—Over the protests of defense lawyers who said they were unprepared, attorney F. Lee Bailey, super-salesman Glenn Fungler, and seven others were ordered to stand trial today for alleged mail fraud.

The federal court trial could last as long as five months, and U.S. District Court Judge Gerald B. Tjoflat last weekend denied any more continuances.

He also denied motions that Bailey be permitted a separate trial.

Turner, Bailey, and the seven others were indicted by a federal grand jury on 28 counts of using the U.S. mails to promote fraudulent business ventures.

Money machine

CHICAGO — For one brief shining moment there was a machine that multiplied money. Put in a quarter and you got four quarters back. Repeat that 20 times and you've got an amount equal to the gross national product!

Camelot? Nope. But we have it on the authority of a police commander, a laundromat owner and an honest young lady that it happened.

Sandra Shador, 12, discovered the machine yesterday.

She tried it a couple of times and thought she'd better call police. The police tried it and quickly ran one quarter into more than 200.

How's this possible?

John Ditter, manager of Sunshine Laundromat, explained:

By mistake he switched the trays in a change machine. So, if you put in a quarter you got change for a dollar. But if you put in a dollar you got only two dimes and a nickel.

Some Camelot. Sandra received a $5 reward.

Astronaut sets bicycle record

HOUSTON (UPI)—Around the world in 93 minutes—on a bicycle. Alan L. Bean has done it.

Bean and his Skylab 2 crewmates Owen K. Garriott and Jack R. Lousma have set several world records during their historic mission, but most of them did not require tremendous physical stamina.

Bean, the 41-year-old moon-walking veteran, pedaled a stationary exercise bicycle for 33 minutes—a complete orbit of the Earth—Sunday, but said it was somewhat "hard to do without wheels."

His pedaling produced enough electrical energy to power a 100-watt light bulb for a trip around the globe.

"I wanted to ride it once around the world just to do it," Bean said.

His crewmates were not that impressed.

"Jack and I were thinking of writing until later in the week and taking one second off his record," Garriott told Mission Control.

The pilots had one unhappy note on their 51st day in orbit when they discovered the death of space spider Anita, a tiny animal which stole the spotlight several times by spinning webs without gravity's help.

"We just completed the memorial services," reported Garriott, a scientist-astronaut who shared his fillet mignon with Anita and her companion Arabella to try to keep them alive for the return to Earth Sept. 25. "I think it was because of inadequate food."

The spiders were fed a housefly before launch July 28 and the Space Agency had not planned for the spiders to live until splashdown. A wave of interest changed those plans and the spiders were fed rare steak, the closest thing to a spider's normal menu.

Garriott said he didn't think Anita had eaten any of the housefly sized bites of meat he gave her, but Arabella was fine. Arabella will be brought back for studies to see how she responds to gravity. Anita will also be returned.

Flight director Neil Hutchinson said Arabella will not be put back in the glass cage for any more web-spinning during the flight, but will be fed again to "give her a little something to eat."

Reform of state, local court asked

WASHINGTON (UPI)—A federal advisory panel has recommended reform of state and local court systems, including a new "family court" and a new way of selecting judges.

The proposals were made by a task force of the National Advisory Commission on Criminal Justice Standards and Goals in a report released Sunday.

The family court, which has been tried in some areas, would combine in one place functions that are now often split between various juvenile, domestic relations and criminal courts. It would hear cases on delinquency, neglect, support, adoption, child custody, paternity, divorce and annulment.

"We believe that more effective handling of delinquency cases and other matters involving family difficulties is likely to result from the creation of a family court," the report said.

The report suggested that judges—who are now elected in some places and appointed in others—be nominated by special commissions made up of public representatives and members of the judiciary and the legal profession.

A state governor would then select from the nominee list and appoint trial judges for four years and appeals judges for six years. In order to serve a second term, they would have to be approved by the public in a referendum.

Under the plan, if a governor failed to fill a court vacancy within 30 days after receiving a list of candidates, the nominating group would automatically appoint a judge from its own list.

The report, financed by a $1.75 million congressional grant, was the first in a series expanding on a summary report made public last month by the 22-member Commission.

The commission was set up by the Justice Department in 1971 to recommend improvements in the system of justice throughout the country.

DEAR READERS: On July 23, the following item appeared in my column:

DEAR ABBY: It seems I have a problem. I am 37 years old, and last year I married for the second time and my wife is expecting. Since this is the first child I have ever fathered, and probably my last, I want him to have a special name. [No argument, please. I KNOW it will be a boy.]

My surname is "Huffman," so I would like to name our son "Manhuff." My wife's maiden name is Wolfe, therefore I want his middle name to be "Wolfgang," his full name being "Manhuff-Wolfgang Huffman." This nickname would, of course be, "Manny."

MR. AND MRS. GREG E. CLARK

Beccie Massee bride of Clark

JEROME — Beccie Lynn Massee and Greg Edward Clark were married Aug. 31 at the Jerome Methodist Church. Rev. John Garrabrandt performed the 7 p.m. ceremony in a setting of large baskets of gladioli and daisies.

The altar was decorated with gold vases of gladioli and daisies. Pews were trimmed with large bows and a spray of gladioli.

The bride is the daughter of Dr. and Mrs. Truman Massee, Jerome, former Twin Falls resident, and the bridegroom is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Raymond Clark, Jerome.

The bride wore a gown of white tulle with a "V" shaped lace bodice trimmed with pleated ruffles and pink ribbon insertion lace. The bottom gown featured a ruffle of matching insertion. The long sleeves were finished with ruffles.

Her train-length veil was edged with small lace and was held by a tiara made by the bride's mother. It featured lace leaves edged with small seed pearls with small pink roses. She carried a bouquet of daisies, roses and baby's breath.

The blue garter she wore was loaned by the mother of the bridegroom whose mother had made it for her wedding. Rachel Massee, twin sister of the bride, was maid of honor. Bridesmaids were Kim Smith, Brenda Clark and Becky Clark, sisters of the bridegroom.

Mark Barnes, Jerome, was best man. Ushers were Gene Diehl, Twin Falls; Chris Clark, brother of the bridegroom, and Dan Massee, brother of the bride.

The Methodist Church Women were hostesses for a reception honoring the couple in the church.

Pam Christian Twin Falls, registered guests. Terri and Karen Trupp, Newdale, cared for gifts.

The bride's table was centered with a wedding cake iced with pink and white and decorated with pink daisies. Crystal candleholders, belonging to the mother of the bride, lighting six pink candles completed the setting.

Guest tables had nosegay centerpieces. Holly Gardon, Twin Falls, served punch. Mitze-Bryan, Twin Falls, poured coffee. The cake was cut and served by Sally, Shalel, St. Anthony, and LuAnn Stewart, Twin Falls.

After a wedding trip to Northern Idaho, the couple resides on a farm near Jerome. The bride is employed at Blue Lake Volkswagen.

The bride is a 1972 graduate of Twin Falls High School and attended the College of Southern Idaho for one year.

The bridegroom was graduated from Jerome High School in 1971 and attended CSI for two years.

Special guests included Mrs. Georgia Damon, Salem, Ore., grandmother of the bride; Lorna Nelson, Jerome, and Mr. and Mrs. Tom Clark, Jerome, grandparents of the bridegroom.

Out-of-town guests attended from Eugene, Ore., Newdale, St. Anthony, and Nampa.

The bride was honored at pre-nuptial showers given by Holly Gardon and Rachel Massee, Twin Falls, and by Mrs. Jack Nelson, Jerome.

Mothers appoint group

TWIN FALLS — American War Mothers met Friday at the home of Louise Barron.

Ann LeClair was chairperson. Appointed to the nominating committee to select officers for 1974 were Emma Stone, chairman; Louise Barron and Josephine Wurst.

It was reported Sue Pratt is in the hospital and Ruth Linderman has a broken arm. Jessie Sulphin received the mystery gift.

The next meeting will be at 1 p.m. Oct. 12 in the Big Boy Restaurant.

Sherrie Bastow weds Bradley

TWIN FALLS — Sherrie Bastow, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Allen V. Bastow, became the bride of Ronald L. Bradley, son of Mr. and Mrs. Bill Jansson, Gooding, Idaho, in a double-ring ceremony on Sept. 1.

The ceremony was performed by Bishop James Dodds at the home of the bride's parents. A reception was held in their honor after the ceremony.

The bride wore a gown fashioned of silk organza with allene lace forming a high neckline and encircling the long bouffant sleeves. The gown featured a lace panel in front and a satin bow in the back. Her floor-length veil of silk organza was trimmed with daisy-chain lace. She carried a cascade bouquet of pink roses, white pompons, mums and pink carnations.

Maid of honor was Kathy Schultz, Kaysville, Utah. Best man was Norman Deconret, Tampa, Ariz.

Holly Bastow attended the guest book. Giftbearers were Vivian and Judith Bastow and Christie Hadfield. Assisting in the kitchen were Connie Bjorn, Betty Hall, Ruby Victor and Arla, Tony, Sheila and Shelly Hadfield. Refreshments were served by Aileen Bastow and Vickie Hadfield.

Sherrie chose the pastel shades of pink, yellow, green and blue for her colors.

The three-tiered wedding cake was made and decorated by Mrs. Pearl Belzer.

Among the guests were grandparents of the bride and bridegroom, Mr. and Mrs. Vernon Bastow, Kearns, Utah; Mrs. Grace Hadfield, Logan, Utah, and Mr. and Mrs. C. D. Bradley and Mrs. Mrs. Bill Deno, all Twin Falls. Other out-of-town guests attended from Idaho, Utah and Arizona. The couple will reside in Twin Falls.

No problem it's a girl

My wife objects strenuously. She says it will be a burden to the boy, and people will make fun of him.

What do you think, Abby? If you feel the boy will be handicapped by such a name, please let me know, as I have the best interests at heart. JACK (OF ALL TRADES)

DEAR JACK: Never mind what I think. Since your wife objects strenuously, forget the "Manhuff Wolfgang," and name him "Jack Jr." [P. S. If he's a "she," you'll have no problem.]

For an interesting follow-up, please read on: This morning, I received this delightful letter:

DEAR ABBY: The dilemma of "Manhuff Wolfgang" has been solved. We are pleased to announce that our baby arrived, three weeks early. After I was assured that both mother and baby would be all right, I realized that nothing else mattered—including the fact that it was a GIRL! We have decided to name our beautiful, four-pound, red-haired daughter "Heather Ann Huffman."

DEAR ABBY: We just received a beautifully engraved wedding invitation which included (in engraving, mind you!) the name of the store where the bride was registered.

Don't you think the establishment that engraved it is just as much at fault as the bride for not having advised her that this is in the worst possible taste?

DEAR FLABBERGASTED: Don't blame the engraver. He may have advised the bride against it, and she may have insisted on it anyway. Engravers can only make suggestions. In the final analysis (with very few exceptions), the engraver will defer to the wishes of the customer.

POOL PIE:
1 can sweetened condensed milk
2 bananas
1 pie crust
In a large pot, boil the unopened can of sweetened condensed milk for two hours. The can must be kept covered with water during the boiling time, as it may burst if the level is allowed to drop. Open the can and stir. The milk thickens during the cooking.

Slide the bananas in the bottom of a baked pie shell. Spoon the cooked milk over the bananas. Chill and serve with whipped cream.

Book Review

By LUCILLE Routh
Twin Falls Public Library
TWIN FALLS — "Julie of the Wolves," a novel written by Jenn Craighead George, was awarded the 1973 Newberry Medal for the most distinguished contribution to American literature for children.
The story grew out of a summer that she spent studying wolves and the tundra at the Arctic Research Laboratory at Barrow, Alaska.
The story has two inspirations; one a 13-year-old girl walking the vast and lonesome tundra, the other a magnificent wolf leader of a pack in Mount McKinley National Park.
Miyax, a 13-year-old Eskimo girl rebelled against a home situation of a prearranged marriage, runs away and tries to find her way to San Francisco, toward a pen pal she has corresponded with for more than a year.
Miyax could not remember her mother very well, as she was scarcely four years old when she died. Her father, Kapugen, cared for her and taught her the art of making her own sealskin clothing and the way of survival in the Alaska tundra country.
Miyax is lost without food on the North slope of Alaska. The barren slope stretches for

Civil Rights office singles Cassia for review

By MARILYN ELLIOTT
Times-News Writer

BURLEY — The Cassia County School District was selected for review by the Office of Civil Rights because at least one school has a concentration of over 50 per cent minority students, school officials say.

O'Connell Elementary School in Burley currently has 87 minority students and 84 Anglo students, according to instructional supervisor Norman Hurst. The Miller Elementary School, also in Burley, has an enrollment of slightly under 50 per cent minority students, he said.

Percentages in the other district schools are much smaller, he said. For example, the Burley Junior High School registers less than 10 per cent minority students, according to Hurst.

The Office of Civil Rights, an agency of the Department of Health, Education and Welfare, will send a four-person review team to the district the first week in October to go over district policies and determine whether they are in compliance with the non-discrimination sections of the Civil Rights Acts of 1964 and 1972.

The office has requested detailed data on a wide range of district policies. The data, which is currently being compiled,

Hurst said, will be delivered to the office sometime next week. When the review team arrives, it will go over district records and policies in depth and conduct interviews throughout the district, Hurst said.

The district has had to conduct a special survey in each of the schools to determine the ethnic background of each of the students in compliance with a request from the office of Civil Rights.

"We didn't have those kinds of records," Hurst said, "because we conduct a policy of non-discrimination" and don't ask students for this kind of data.

As background information, the Office of Civil Rights also asked the district to provide detailed data on 20 items of district policy and procedures.

Included on the list were the written guidelines on the curriculum, structure, a listing of special projects, maps of attendance zones and changes which have been made in them along with explanations for the changes and future plans and projects in the district.

The office also requested the names and addresses of all board members and the lengths of their terms, a listing of all standard tests given in the district, a listing of special education of all teachers and their ethnic backgrounds, a similar listing for the special education students and a written description of placement procedures in special education classes.

"A description of disciplinary practices as well as a listing of all students disciplined in the district during the last two years, including the student's race and grade, were also requested.

The district asked for a clarification on the last requirement and was allowed to limit the report to those disciplinary measures coming from the administration office, where complete records were available, Hurst said.

Samples of forms sent to parents to inform them about their children and copies of personnel policies, including recruitment, assignment, transfers, evaluations and promotions were also requested by the office.

All proposals for federal programs for the coming year and descriptions of ongoing Title I and Title I-M projects were also sent to the office at its request.

The Cassia County District was the first in Idaho picked for review by the Office of Civil Rights.

"We have nothing to hide," Hurst said Friday.

The present city office will be rented by the post office.

Wyoming miss injured

BURLEY — Donna L. Stalkup, 19, Casper, Wyo., was injured in a one-car rollover one and a half miles east of Burley on I-80 Saturday morning.

She was treated and released at Cassia Memorial Hospital. She was a passenger in a car driven by Julia J. Ossa, 18, also Casper. Ossa was not injured.

State policeman Dee Davis said the accident occurred at 11:30 a.m. The vehicle was headed west when it swerved into the median, rolled, came back onto the highway, swerved again into the median and rolled twice.

Davis said Ossa was cited for inattentive driving.

Faulty fan blamed

TWIN FALLS — A faulty air circulation fan filled Mc-N-E-D's Pizza with smoke this morning.

The Twin Falls Fire Department was called at 7 a.m. by a janitor in the building. The smoke was removed by 7:50 a.m. A fire department spokesman reported no structural damage.

Demos pledge $13,300

BOISE (UPI) — Some 900 Idaho Democrats pledged $13,000 Saturday night during the Democratic National Telethon, America Goes Public.

Some 20 volunteers took telephone pledge donations at the Idaho building in Boise.

Part of the money raised during the national telethon will be used to pay off the national party debt, and part will go to finance party organization.

The final tally made by the party was more than $5.3 million.

Heating fuel supply good

By MARGARET BAILEY

BOISE (UPI) — Heating fuel dealers expect their supplies of gas, oil and coal to meet the needs of their customers "if we have a normal winter" this year.

Frank Sattler, oil heating institute, Boise, said dealers "don't foresee any problems whatever if we have a normal winter."

He added that a prolonged stretch of cold weather in this or any other area where there is a possibility of an exceptionally cold winter could change the availability of fuel supplies.

Dealers reported their suppliers have guaranteed they will receive supplies ranging from 70 to 110 per cent of the quotas they received last winter.

Bob Cooper, Fuel West, Boise, said he has assurance from his supplier for an allocation equal to his supply last year, and, with a few reservations, says he expects a normal year.

"I can take care of last year's customers. If everyone else does the same, we have no problems, barring a severe winter."

Cooper also said he will receive a quantity of fuel based on "an escalated growth factor to take care of increases from population changes, attrition from other companies and new business through aggressive sales."

He expects his supply of coal also will be adequate for the winter. So far, he has stockpiled 3,000 tons or 50 freight car loads to provide two-thirds of the coal needs for his customers. The remainder of the coal will be shipped to him later, he said.

"The whole thing is if everyone else is in the same condition, we're alright. If everyone is not in this condition, the whole thing could go to pot," said Cooper.

Howard Potas, an employee of Davidson Service, indicated everyone is not in the same condition. He said Davidson's supplier, Blue and White Transport, has agreed to furnish an allotment equal to 70 per cent of their last year's allotment.

The allotment does not include an allowance for growth, but Potas said the company is not planning to stockpile fuel. Neither are there plans for the company to ration fuel for their customers.

Bill Foster, Foster Heating, Boise, questioned that there would be a shortage.

"It's the newspapers and radio stations that are causing most of the problems," said Foster.

He is on an allotment of 110 per cent of the shipments he received last year.

Foster said people frightened at the possibility of a shortage have installed 1,000 and 5,000 gallon tanks for fuel storage, "and after they get an inch of snow, no one will fill 'em."

Instead of the super tanks, Foster suggested the average family with the standard 300-gallon tank for a two-to-three-months supply of fuel could save on their heating bills and conserve energy by turning down their thermostats two to three degrees.

"It's up to the people," he said.

Sattler agreed, saying, "People have to recognize there is an energy crisis in all forms of fuel and have to take steps to conserve energy in all forms."

Natural gas dealers also expressed optimism that they could take care of their customers through the coming cold months. They added warnings for homeowners to cover windows and patch draft-causing holes in addition to lowering the thermostat.

"But on the house up a bit," admonished Harvey Blingham, Propane Service.

"If everybody pulls together, I don't think we will have a shortage," said Blingham.

County burial fund low

According to Patterson, until about a year ago, all county burials were done at Twin Falls Cemetery, but now, at the request of the County Commissioners, Patterson said, indigents are also buried in plots at Sunset Memorial Park in Twin Falls and at the IOOF Cemetery in Ellettsville.

"We haven't worked out a strict rotation system," said Patterson. "It's relatively new."

Bill Madland, Jr., of Twin Falls Cemetery, said indigent dead receive the same cemetery services as those buried privately, including the erection of a canopy during services, a lined grave, a casket plager and lowering device and chairs for those attending the services.

"No matter what the funeral is, it's done just the same," said Madland. "There is nothing unusual or out of the way (in county burials). When it comes right down to it, human dead is human dead. No dead human body deserves less dignified services than another."

Madland said Twin Falls Cemetery charges the county $25 for a burial plot, compared to $95 for a privately paid plot. There is also a $60 fee to the county for grave opening and closing, which compares to $75 for a private service.

Madland said the cemetery makes the indigent plots available "as a concession to the county." Out of the $25 plot fee, $15 goes to a "irrevocable" trust fund for perpetual maintenance of the cemetery, he said. The additional $10, he said, "doesn't cover your bookwork."

While morticians services and cemetery services may be similar for private services and for indigent burials, the relative equality ends with headstones.

"Very seldom will there be a headstone for any indigent burial said Reynolds. The funeral director will provide a marker that is supposed to be temporary but these are sometimes omitted in cement to be as permanent as possible."

At the Twin Falls Cemetery several of the indigent graves are without markers, while quite a few have flat metal markers provided by the Veteran's Administration.

Madland pointed to one headstone — all of them are flat — which said simply: Beverly Shelton — I Loved Her.

"A man just brought that out one day," Madland said. "He didn't give his name or anything, he just said 'Here's the money — put this up.'"

The Idaho law charging the counties with responsibility for indigent burials refers to "the estate of the deceased" but makes no mention of family responsibility.

"We try to get the family to pay," said Patterson, "but if they absolutely refuse to pay, our only recourse is to go back to the commissioners."

Patterson said he had dealt with cases where a family might have been able to pay for the burial of an indigent relative and had refused to do so, but he said to his knowledge this had only occurred where the burial costs would impose a financial hardship on the family.

Some families, Patterson said, are too proud to accept County burial for loved ones, even if they don't have money.

"As far as his mortuary is concerned, he said, "If the family requested we did not go to the county, then we wouldn't."

"As a member of the International Order of the Golden Rule, Patterson said his mortuary, "very seldom" but in extreme cases provides a free burial.

"Our casket and services are available at whatever price the family can afford. If payment is impossible there is no charge."

Patterson said he had performed only "a couple" of Golden Rule burials in the last eight or nine years. Most families refusing county burials, he said, are able to make arrangements to at least match the $250 county burial fee.

"But," he said, "we have to have something available for all people, regardless of their status in life."

Weed bureau gets new truck

TWIN FALLS — Twin Falls County Commissioners Friday purchased a pickup truck for the County Weed Bureau and formally rejected a bid for a roof on the Fairgrounds grandstand.

The $3,746 truck bid approved by the Commissioners was submitted by Magic Valley International. The bid price included a trade-in on a 1967 vehicle owned by the County. Unsuccessful bids for the truck were submitted by Bill Workman Ford and Ace Hansen Chevrolet.

According to Commissioner Merl Leonard the ¾-ton vehicle will be used to transport spraying equipment.

All three bids met County specifications for heavy duty springs and other special features, Leonard said.

In unrelated action Friday, the Commissioners, as expected, formally turned down a $233,000 bid for a cover for the Fairgrounds grandstand.

The bid, from Nielsen and Co., Twin Falls, was rejected on the advice of the Fair Board as excessive. Original costs estimates of the roof project had been about $110,000.

The Commissioners said Friday they did not know what the next step in obtaining the roof would be.

"It's a dead issue right now," said Commission Chairman William Chancy.

Revision asked on divorce law

BOISE (UPI) — The Idaho Commission on Women's Programs chose task force studies for action during the coming year, including the revision of Idaho laws on divorce, rape and property rights.

They voted unanimously during their two-day meeting in Boise to recommend the commission be continued under the Office of the Governor after executive reorganization.

They plan to work for revision of laws that discriminate against women in financial matters and in educational discrimination women face in athletic programs.

They also are concerned with career counseling for women for employment and believe it should start in the elementary grades.

Laws the commission hopes to change include Sec. 32-902, Idaho Code, designating the husband as the head of the household, and Sec. 32-912, Idaho Code, so it would give the wife equal powers of management and control of community property.

Narc bureau audit shows problems

BOISE (UPI) — Funding irregularities in the Pocatello Bureau of Narcotics have surfaced in an audit conducted by the Law Enforcement Planning Commission.

Robert C. Arneson, Boise, confirmed Sunday that a complete audit report of the statewide drug control program — surveying narcotics bureaus in Boise, Coeur d'Alene and Pocatello — was turned over to him for review.

Arneson said the report was also made available to Attorney General Park, who is chairman of the LEPC. The commission is a state agency which administers all federal funds for crime prevention, under the Omnibus Crime Bill. Arneson is the LEPC director.

The audit was made by an LEPC staff auditor. This is the second time in recent years that the LEPC has conducted an investigation audit of drug enforcement in Idaho. The drug enforcement duties were previously under jurisdiction of the State Board of Pharmacy and were transferred to the attorney general's office after massive discrepancies were uncovered under that department.

Much of the investigation of the Board of Pharmacy was never revealed to the public.

The State Bureau of Narcotics receives about $232,000 per year in federal funding, funding coming through awards of federal grants from the LEPC.

Of the Pocatello Narcotics Bureau portion of the audit Arneson said, "It would appear there are certain policies that have not been adhered to, but the degree will be determined after the attorney general's office and I have fully evaluated the auditor's findings."

He said audits do turn up minor things such as bookkeeping irregularities, but those showing up in the Pocatello bureau audit "are major."

He said he would elaborate once the audit was reviewed.

Meantime, Attorney General Park said he would investigate state drug enforcement in the Pocatello area. John Cobley, supervising agent in the Pocatello bureau, said he would submit his resignation as requested by a state narcotics official.

Court decision on land nears

WASHINGTON (UPI) — Returning in October from summer recess, the U.S. Supreme Court will decide whether to review an Idaho case which involved federally-owned desert lands.

The appeal case involves 3,700 acres in Owyhee County, that were to be reclaimed by private citizens under the Desert Land Act, which allowed entrance upon a tract of desert land up to 320 acres.

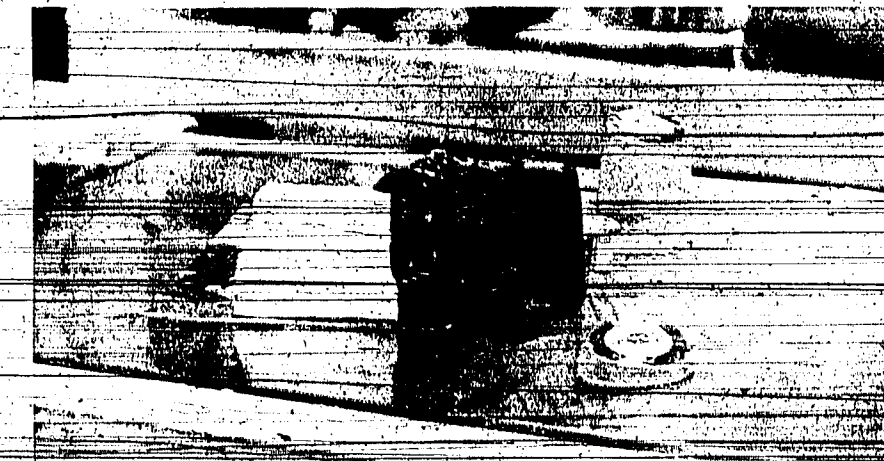

If the citizens irrigate and reclaim the land for farming, they can — for a small price — get permanent ownership. In the appeal case, five persons were granted final ownership of tracts, and seven had entries.

But last June, a circuit court of appeals ordered that the entries and patents be canceled. The three-judge panel said there was a secret understanding that after each person obtained patents, the ownership of the lands was to pass to Hoodco Farms, a subsidiary of Hood Corp., an Idaho outfit.

But in overturning a U.S. District ruling which was in favor of Hoodco, the appeals court said Congress never intended bargain-price desert land to be provided for large landholders or for the benefit of corporations.

Desert entrymen are arguing that they made agreements with Hoodco so they could get financing to provide irrigation to develop their lands and eventually go back to independent development.

One point in the current appeal has Hoodco and the entrymen contending that new hearings could not be ordered by the Department of the Interior on the matter after the Interior's Bureau of Land Management upheld the entrymen's case in 1964.

4-H'er rewarded

DAN CHURCHMAN, Shoshone, had this display at the South Central Idaho District 4-H Fair at Jerome accompanied by a note. The note read "This is what is left of my model airplane project after my little brother stepped on it." He received a blue ribbon for his work.

Hale Irwin breezes to 5-stroke Heritage win

HILTON HEAD ISLAND, S.C. (UPI) — Former Colorado University football star Hale Irwin breezed to his second victory in six years on the pro golf tour Sunday, capturing the $150,000 Heritage Classic by five strokes.

Irwin, whose only previous tour victory was in the 1971 Heritage, saw-sawed between birdie and bogey en route to a final round of one-over-par 72 over the tight Harbour Town golf links for a 272 total, 12 strokes under par.

Californian Jerry Heard, coming with a one-under 70, and former NCAA champion Grier Jones, with a three-under 68, were Irwin's nearest challengers at 277.

Big Jim Wickers posted a 68 to finish at 280, a stroke ahead of Gary Player who had a 72 Sunday.

Arnold Palmer was at a distant 70-284 while U.S. Open winner Johnny Miller, the defending champion, had a 71-289. First round leader Hornero Blacques, bothered by a swollen knee, was at 201 following a final round 67.

Irwin, who led by three strokes after the second round and seven after the third, wound up with five bogeys and four birdies for the final round.

"My old friend out there hit back today, but not too badly," said Irwin, whose $30,000 winner's check vaulted him past the $100,000 mark for the second consecutive year.

He admitted he had trouble getting psychologically pro-pared after posting brilliant rounds of 5-under-par 66 Friday and 6-under 65 Saturday to gallop away from the field.

"I just really never felt pressed," he said. "It might have been different if I had had to make a birdie or a par."

He bogeyed the first hole by missing the green, made birdies on the next two holes by two-pulling from 40 feet and then sinking a 45-footer and had bogeys at No. 4 and No. 6 to make the turn a stroke over par. On the back nine he offset birds on the 10th and 15th holes by bogeying 12 and 18.

"I tried to eliminate bad mistakes," he said. "I made a pretty good pass at the ball. I came up with a good shot when I had to."

Jerome man collects Owyhee desert sheep trophy

By JULE B. HOVER
Times News Column Writer

It all came about six weeks ago when a permit was drawn for Idaho's top trophy animal, of seven permits drawn.

Jack Hoyer, Jerome, was one of the lucky hunters to draw for the prized desert sheep permit in Owyhee County. This is a once-in-a-lifetime ticket, hit or miss, you get only one tag in the Gem State.

Immediate research began. All the printed word was gathered in reference to the desert ram and his habits. Hours of study gave him a better understanding of this ghost of the desert. Three week-end trips to the area to get an on the scene live picture of this world terrain, and the Ram that he wanted to research.

On the third trip in 110 degree heat, we finally caught up with these elusive critters. We found the book on these sheep was not what the experts write.

"These sheep, planted here about 13 years ago, had to adapt to this strange terrain. The plant took hold and the last three years an open draw hunt was permitted, thanks to the F & G for the foresight to stock this fine game animal."

Out previous season permit trips paid off, your writer and son Jack suddenly became overnight guide and hunter — the hard way. The F & G boys said, "you better be prepared." This was good advice. This country is remote. Use a bit of caution and prepare, you'll enjoy the rugged Owyhees. Be careless and it could cost you a heap of woe.

Here you are alone with your partner, in no place is asking for it. This area is so vast, the JON (Jack) HOVER, Jerome, shows off his trophy desert ram. Jack used the high intensity 6.6 x 800 WWII cartridge in a target match rifle. The ram was dropped at 300 yards, estimated weight 175 pounds, near Battle Creek area of Owyhee County.

Nice shot

county sheriff who has been in the area for 30 years claims he still hasn't seen half of it. He swears there are places where men haven't set foot.

While back a writer of Idaho Wildlife wrote of the "Haunting Owyhees, the area of varied woods, all type of terrain, deep canyons, Junipers, desert and high mountains." You will find about all this varied rock-type real estate right here.

When one tries to hunt up the canyon areas, fingers going in all directions, some just later up to meet the desert. Only way to describe this canyon area is that you are on the top and bottom of this strange place at the same time. You go down to get up.

We arrived a day before opening day, set up base camp about three miles from the Battle Creek area canyons, getting as close to our hunt area and using the camper for overnight stays.

Daybreak found us at the edge of a huge canyon, glassing each ledge and place where the sheep might be. This is when we found out the books on other sheep don't apply here.

Jack headed for a high spot on far canyon, I stood my ground and searched the area for miles around. A look straight across the canyon produced a feeding lone full curl ram. I watched this animal feeding for a full hour. Finally he bedded down in a spot where he could see the whole area. I tried to locate Jack and did catch his eye. I waved him to come back, when he arrived, I showed him the full curl ram.

A stalk was in order. Backing off and snaking down a game trail to the bottom, and the climb that would bring him to sight of the prize ram. A perfect stalk put him about 100 yards below, the Ram decided to get up and stretch, feeding and walking up to another small canyon.

Jack cleared the spot where the ram was and looked back through his binoculars for directions. I motioned straight up. Minutes later found him clearing the rim and out of sight. A shot broke the silence and the canyon echoed from end to end. I figured the hunt was over.

He came back over the small crevice. No ram. Putting the thing together I figured ram fever overtook him, this scourge that has plagued hunters since stone ages.

I questioned Jack as to what happened. He claimed no rise fever. When he cleared the rise he heard a faint sliding and spotted the ram on a ledge. Both spotting each other, the ram left the ledge in full flight, about a 10-foot jump, and out of sight. He only offered a split second shot. A clear miss, and a very disappointed hunter, wiping out the beautiful stalk.

A lunch and more glassing closed the first day.

The next day showed three rams miles away. No way to get over the third finger of a canyon. A few ewes showed, and the day passed with no luck.

Next day, out early again. Five rams were spotted clearing a hill miles away. Jack went after them with no luck, just plain outsmarted him.

We vowed we'd fool those grey ghosts next day. Lady luck smiled on us. Eight feeding rams all out on the edge of the canyon and the 15 x 80 binoculars showed at least three top rams.

They were milling around feeding and finally turned their white butts toward us. Jack took off in a crouch in a small low spot in the almost flat area with short sage and rocks.

Our plan was that I'd decoy the rams. They were a full mile away, I walked off toward the canyon, I was spotted there was 16 pair of ram eyes, on me, I stayed in plain view. It was evident. They decided to see what I did. They bedded down about 9:30 and glued all eyes on me. Jack and I spent time crawling in their direction. Jack meeting a rattler eye ball-to-eye ball would have brought the episode to a quick head. The range narrowed to about 300 yards. A beautiful drama was unfolding through my 15 x binoculars.

I might point out here, these animals must have a built-in sensor type system. I think they feel danger. A legal ram got 10 feet. Jack, not knowing what lay before him as the seven other rams stayed down took on the standing ram. As the shot rang out all hell broke loose. The 6.5 x 390 WWII did its job. His ram was down. The remaining seven bunched up together, reminding me of a football play, as the minor rams appear to shield the full curl rams. Jack claims he doubts that he could get one of the full curl animals under those conditions.

Cards defeat Pirates to tighten NL east

By United Press International

Tommye Agee's pinch hit homer in the bottom of the seventh provided the winning run as the St. Louis Cardinals beat the Pittsburgh Pirates, 7-3 Sunday and turned the National League East once again into a four-team dogfight.

Agee delivered a 400-foot solo shot to deep centerfield in the seventh to break a 3-3 tie and help the Cardinals to snap a seven-game losing streak.

The Cardinals, who now trail the Pirates by just two games, erupted for three more runs in the eighth to ice the game.

In other National League games, Montreal downed Philadelphia, 4-2, New York nipped Chicago, 4-3, Cincinnati nipped Atlanta in 12 innings, 4-3, San Francisco trounced San Diego, 9-4 and Houston beat Los Angeles, 6-2.

Montreal took advantage of eighth inning errors by Jim

Lomborg, Denny Doyle and Mike Schmidt to push across three runs and win their fifth game in a row. The triumph left the red-hot Expos only one half game behind the Pirates.

Jerry Grote's squeeze bunt in the eighth-inning scored John Miner from third base with the decisive run as New York beat Chicago. The win cut the Mets' deficit behind first place Pittsburgh in the National League East to 2 1/2 games — with a five-game series between the two teams starting Monday.

Buffalo defeats New England

Buffalo defeated the Atlanta Braves to stretch their winning streak to seven games and boost their lead over the Los Angeles Dodgers to 6 1/2 games in the National League West.

Giants blank Houston 27-0

NEW YORK (UPI) — Sparked by an alert defensive unit that picked off four Dan Pastorini passes in the first half, and a pair of touchdown runs by Ron Johnson, the New York Giants built up a 27-0 halftime margin Sunday and coasted to a 34-14 opening game victory over the Houston Oilers.

Yanks, Orioles divide pair

By United Press International

Jim Ray Hart's bases-loaded double sparked a five-run fifth inning in a 7-5 nightcap victory as the New York Yankees split a doubleheader with the Baltimore Orioles Sunday.

The Orioles won the opener 2-0 behind Jim Palmer's two-hit pitching.

Sparky Lyle came on in relief of Pat Dobson in the second game to notch his 27th save.

Hart's three-run double down the left field line chased Baltimore starter and loser Doyle Alexander. Palmer pitched a two-hitter in the opener for the Orioles, who reduced their magic number in the American League East to seven.

In other games Oakland topped Texas 9-4, Milwaukee downed Detroit 5-3, Cleveland beat Boston 5-1, and Minnesota defeated Chicago 4-1.

Steelers outlast Detroit Lions

PITTSBURGH (UPI) — Terry Bradshaw fired touchdown passes to John Mackin and Ron Shanklin in the final period Sunday to snap a 10-10 tie and propel the Pittsburgh Steelers to a 24-10 victory over the Detroit Lions.

Shanklin caught a six-yard pass with 30 seconds remaining to climax a 30-yard drive set up when Detroit failed to make the necessary yardage on a fourth down play.

Mackin made a fingertip catch on the touchdown which broke the tie. Linebacker Mike Lucet was virtually draped over him in the climax of an 83-yard drive which featured the running of Steve Davis.

The Steelers were aided by their usual tough defense. Mel Blount intercepted a pass by Greg Landry near the middle of the final period on the Detroit three-yard line where Ron Jessie was the intended receiver.

Landry experienced his first frustration with 1:51 remaining in the first half when safety Glen Edwards stepped in front of intended receiver Larry Walton two yards inside the Detroit goal line and returned the ball to the Steeler six.

The play preserved the 24-16 in season opener

BLOOMINGTON, Minn. (UPI) — Quarterback Fran Tarkenton passed for two touchdowns to lead the Minnesota Vikings to a 24-16 victory over the Oakland Raiders Sunday in their opening regular season National Football League game.

Minnesota charged to a 10-0 lead in the first quarter. Oakland took over in the second period to lead 13-10 at the half, and Tarkenton then brought the Vikings back to life in the second half.

tackler Dan Conners and went over to put Minnesota ahead 17-16. The Vikings started their final drive late in the third period when linebacker Jeff Simon forced Oakland's Marty Hubbard to fumble and recovered for Minnesota on the Raiders' 36. Brown finally drove over from the six.

Cleveland tops Baltimore 23-14

CLEVELAND (UPI) — Mike Phipps threw two touchdown passes to Frank Pitts Sunday to lead the Cleveland Browns to a 24-14 victory over the Baltimore Colts in the NFL season opener for both teams.

ensuing kickoff back 51 yards to the Cleveland 37-yard line. After four plays, Jones threw a 33-yard pass to Cotton Speyer to tie the score 7-7. On Baltimore's next series, punter David Lee received a low snap and was tackled on his seven yard line. After three incomplete passes, Don Cockroft kicked a 14-yard field goal to put the Browns ahead 10-7.

Denver topples Bengals

DENVER (UPI) — Methodical Charley Johnson masterminded four lengthy scoring drives Sunday including three which ended with Floyd Little plunging over the goal line, in the Denver Broncos 28-10 season-opening win over the Cincinnati Bengals.

Washington thumps San Diego 38-0

WASHINGTON (UPI) — The Washington Redskins converted three Mike Garrett fumbles into three first period touchdowns and intercepted Johnny Unitas three times Sunday to thrash the San Diego Chargers 38-0 in their season opener.

Briggs grabbed it off and ran it in from the two for the first Washington score. Two minutes later, Unitas completed his first pass as a Charger to Garrett, but he fumbled again. Washington's Ken Houston recovered and took the ball to the San Diego 22.

Atlanta tops Saints

NEW ORLEANS (UPI) — Dick Shiner completed three touchdowns, passes and the Atlanta defense made six interceptions to rout the New Orleans Saints 62-7 Sunday.

St. Louis throttles Eagles

PHILADELPHIA (UPI) — St. Louis exploded for three first period touchdowns behind Jim Hart's passing and rookie Terry Metcalf's running and survived a series of second half mistakes Sunday to defeat Philadelphia 24-7 in the National Football League coaching debut of the Cards' Don Coryell and the Eagles' Mike McCormack.

But the Cards' Jim Bakken booted his second field goal with 70 seconds left and running back Donny Anderson scored his third touchdown 15 seconds later after Tom Sullivan fumbled away the kickoff. Metcalf, a collegiate track star who leaps over tacklers the way he used to jump high hurdles, gained 133 yards on 16 carries and set up the first touchdown on a 50-yard draw play on the third play of the game. Hart then combined with Anderson on a two-yard scoring pass.

Cowboys win 20-17 over Bears

CHICAGO (UPI) — The Chicago Bears gambled and lost on fourth down Sunday and the Dallas Cowboys cashed in for an 11-yard field goal by Toni Fritsch with 1:28 left in the game to pull out a 20-17 victory.

They lined up in punt formation and then tried a trick which had worked successfully once before—a pass from center to blocking back Bob Parsons. Parsons lunged forward but was nailed for a three-yard loss and Dallas took over on the 23.

Miami beats 49ers 21-13 to extend winning streak

MIAMI (UPI) — Miami's patched-up defense kept San Francisco within range for three periods Sunday until Bob Griese threw a fourth-quarter touchdown pass and Garo Yepremian kicked his third and fourth field goals of the game for a 21-13 victory to extend the Dolphins' win streak to a record 18 games.

Yepremian kicked his third and fourth field goals of the game for a 21-13 victory to extend the Dolphins' win streak to a record 18 games. Griese threw a 10-yard touchdown strike to Paul Warfield with 11:35 left in the game to tie the score at 13-13. Then Yepremian put Miami in front for the first time on a 45-yard field goal with 0:25 left.

Yepremian's final field goal, a 22-yarder with 3:08 left, put the game out of reach. The 49ers earlier gave Miami a two-point gift with a safety when center John Watson snapped the ball over punter Tom Wilburn's head into the end zone with 5:46 remaining.

Yepremian kicked field goals of 31 yards in the first period and 53 in the second but San Francisco took a 10-6 lead into halftime.

Los Angeles upsets KC 23-13 behind John Hadl

KANSAS CITY, MO. (UPI) — John Hadl passed for two touchdowns and field goal holder Steve Proece turned a bad snap into a touchdown as the Los Angeles Rams smashed the favored Kansas City Chiefs 23-13 in the National Football League opener for both teams.

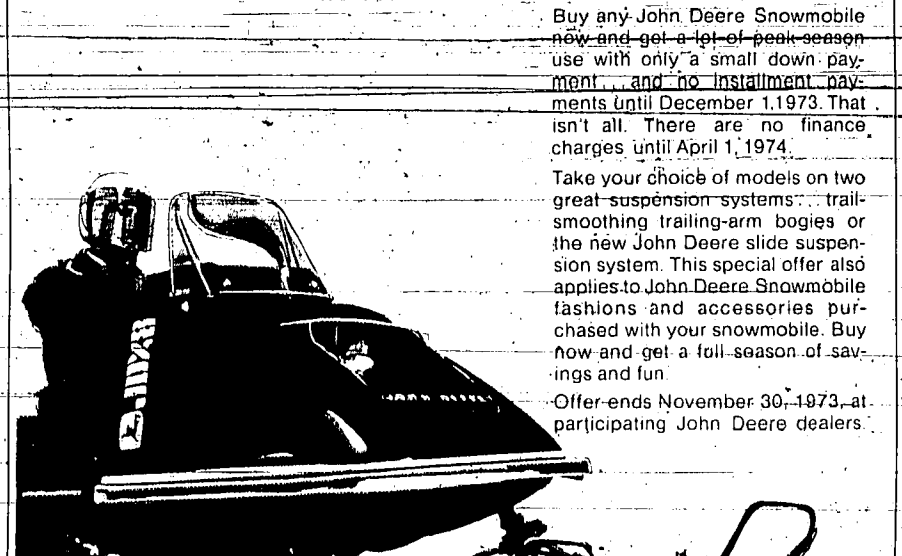

Although 70,346 tickets were sold at Arrowhead Stadium, only 62,313 fans showed up due to local television, early morning rain and a September cold front that dropped temperatures to 56 degrees at game time.

half-time lead over the injury-riddled Chiefs. Four Kansas City starters were unable to play due to injuries, including regular quarterback Len Dawson.

Bruce Gossett kicked a 47-yard field goal early in the game and quarterback John Brodie engineered a 70-yard touchdown drive for the 49ers' first-half points. Vic Washington, playing with an injured knee, scored from the three-yard line with 1:02 remaining in the half to give San Francisco a 10-6 lead.

ARIES (Mar 21 to Apr 19) You have made promises to others that require your undivided attention today. This can help you make progress in your line of endeavor. Show the generous side of your nature to loved one.

TAURUS (Apr 20 to May 20) Important you save more money now for the days ahead. Also, give more attention to monetary matters so they become more profitable. Making improvements in your home can add much to its value.

GEMINI (May 21 to June 21) Good day for contacting good friends and exchanging ideas that can be mutually beneficial. Group affairs can produce fine results today. You are apt to be overly cautious about money matters.

MOON CHILDREN (June 22 to July 21) Some quiet planning can make your future operations more successful. Your intuitive perceptions are good now so follow the most practical ones. Try not to criticize others at this time.

LEO (July 22 to Aug. 21) Plan to look up friends you really like and who can be most helpful to you in the future. Repaying social obligations is also wise. Take care of important business matters early and well.

VIRGO (Aug. 22 to Sept. 22) Handle those important matters in the business world more intelligently now and gain the approval of higher-ups. Don't procrastinate where a credit matter is concerned. Relax tonight.

LIBRA (Sept 23 to Oct 22) Getting into new outlets that you really like is wise, since you can then have success with them. Come to a better understanding with associates. Show appreciation to a steadfast friend.

SCORPIO (Oct. 23 to Nov. 21) If you are enthused about the work you have to do, you can get it done well now. Buy the clothing that will bring out your individual charm. Spend only within your budget. Be thrifty.

SAGITTARIUS (Nov 22 to Dec 21) Listen to what associates have to suggest for improvement of mutual benefits and then you gain the goodwill of others. Avoid one who is a troublemaker. Make use of your talents.

CAPRICORN (Dec 22 to Jan 20) You can take care of all that work ahead of you with enthusiasm and clever handling. Take exercise and health treatments you need during your spare time. Avoid a troublesome situation.

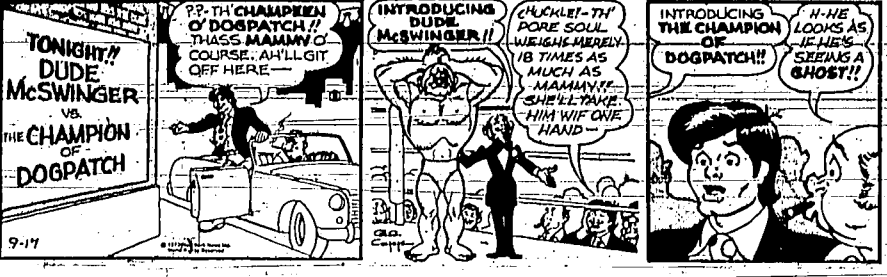

AQUARIUS (Jan 21 to Feb 18) Attend to routine duties early so that you can then go out for the pleasure you want in the company of good friends. A business expert can give you the data you need. Avoid extravagance.

PISCES (Feb 20 to Mar. 20) Study the situation at home very carefully and plan how to show more devotion and intelligence there. Precision where detail is concerned is wise. Take time for the cultural things of life.

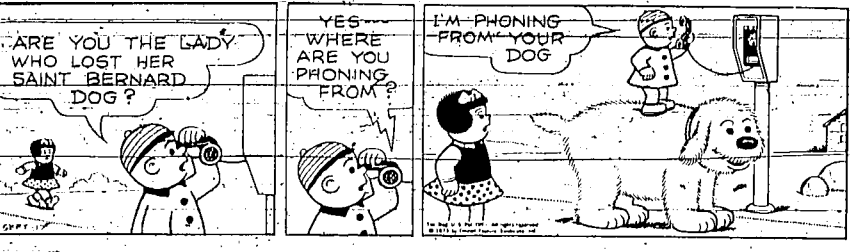

IF YOUR CHILD IS BORN TODAY... he or she will be one of those charming young people who has practical ideas that can be put in motion but must be taught not to leave work unfinished, otherwise there will be failure instead of success here. Direct the education along lines in which much money can be made and your progeny will be successful.
