Zone move test looms

By DAVID HORSMAN
Times-News Writer

TWIN FALLS — If adopted by Twin Falls County, a 300-foot strip of agricultural zoning along the Snake River Canyon Rim will be contested in court, probably with success, according to a Twin Falls attorney.

Asked by the Times-News for an opinion, the attorney said those opposing the rim zone would have a "60-40 chance" of winning a court battle.

Although the attorney said he currently is not retained by anyone opposing or favoring the rim zone, he questioned the intentions of the county in considering the rim designation.

He said the recommended agricultural strip appears to be "just a subterfuge" to stop development of the rim "without paying for it."

The Twin Falls County Planning and Zoning Commission last week voted unanimously to recommend agricultural zoning of a 300-foot strip along nearly the entire length of the canyon rim north of Twin Falls City. A small section of rimland west of Perrine Bridge, owned by Lywood Development Corp., was zoned commercial to permit development.

The zoner's recommendation was passed to the Twin Falls County commission for final consideration. The commission plans a public hearing Tuesday at 8 p.m. in the College of Southern Idaho Fine Arts auditorium to take comments on the proposed new county zoning ordinance, including the rim zone.

The Twin Falls attorney said an agricultural designation of the rimland would be a "misnomer."

LACK OF ORGANIZATION at top government level is hampering efforts to clean up all slick in Vancouver Bay. An estimated 180 tons of oil spilled when British and Japanese ships collided. ## Maryland jurors given evidence BALTIMORE (UPI) — Under extreme security, federal prosecutors today began giving a grand jury evidence of alleged bribery, extortion, tax fraud and conspiracy against Vice President Spiro T. Agnew despite his claim of immunity from indictment.

The first known witness to appear before the panel was William J. Muth, a former member of the Baltimore City Council, who told reporters later: "This whole investigation is a lot of bull."

Muth now is vice president for public relations of a civil engineering firm, Hurst Rosch, and served one term on the Baltimore City Council from 1947 to 1951. He handled public relations work for H. H. "Bud" Hanonman, a longtime Agnew friend, during a brief "Spiro of '78" campaign last November.

As the 22-member grand jury convened in tight secrecy at 10 a.m. EDT in the federal courthouse here, Agnew was at the White House sitting in on a meeting between President Nixon, Republican congressional leaders and Cabinet members.

One congressman who attended the White House session said Agnew's legal situation was not discussed, and that the vice president appeared calm and "didn't say a word."

News reporters jammed the corridor outside the fifth-floor grand jury room of the federal courthouse here, but a small army of U.S. marshals kept them far from areas used by the jurors or witnesses.

So tight was the security that at one point a CBS News television crew was taken into custody after going to the rooftop of a nearby building to take pictures of the courthouse. None of the crew was formally charged.

Agnew was described by supporters and allies as confident of vindication and expressing public determination to remain in office while resignation rumors continued to circulate.

The federal prosecutors proceeded with the Agnew presentation with the approval of Attorney General Elliot L. Richardson, who assumed the responsibility for deciding how far the Agnew investigation could go as part of a wide ranging inquiry into political corruption in Maryland.

today in brief

Soyuz sent up

MOSCOW (UPI) — The Soviet Union launched two rookie cosmonauts into earth orbit aboard a Soyuz-12 spacecraft today, its first manned space mission since three cosmonauts died on a June, 1971 flight.

The Tass news agency said the crew, Lieut. Col. Vasily Lazarev and flight engineer Oleg Makarov, will remain in orbit two days. It described their mission as "one on the stages in the work of further improving manned spacecraft."

Tass said the cosmonauts will test improved flight systems, automatic and manual controls in various flight conditions and photograph separate sections of the earth's surface "with the object of obtaining data for the solution of economic problems."

Idaho Senators consistent

WASHINGTON (UPI) — Idaho's senators were consistent in their votes on the U. S. troop reduction proposal Wednesday.

Democrat Sen. Frank Church twice voted for the amendment to the military procurement bill and Republican Sen. James A. McClure twice voted against it. The amendment — to reduce U. S. overseas troop strength 40 per cent — passed the Senate 49-46 in the morning but was defeated in an afternoon vote 51-44 when four senators switched sides.

Italian film star dies

ROME (UPI) — Italians said farewell Wednesday to actress Anna Magnani, 65, who died of cancer in a clinic here hours before her last film went on television.

Her fame began in 1946 with the film "Open City." She won an Oscar in 1956 for her role in "The Rose Tattoo." She will be buried in Rome's Verano Cemetery on Friday.

Romney won't seek Senate seat

WASHINGTON (UPI) — George Romney, former Nixon Cabinet member and Michigan governor, said today he will not be a candidate for U.S. Senate from Utah.

Romney said he had "other plans," and will not campaign for the Republican nomination in 1974, thus throwing open the race to succeed retiring GOP Sen. Wallace F. Bennett.

Boyle regains consciousness

WASHINGTON (UPI) — W. A. "Tony" Boyle, former head of the United Mine Workers Union, regained consciousness today but was reported still in critical condition after an apparent suicide attempt.

A spokesman at George Washington University Hospital said Boyle, who had been unconscious since taking an overdose of barbiturates Monday night, was now awake.

McAllister fined, sentenced

GLEN BURNIE, Md. (UPI) — Elizabeth McAllister, wife of Father Phillip Berrigan, received a $100 fine and a 10 day suspended sentence for shoplifting here Wednesday.

Judge George Taylor also placed her and Sister Judith Lafemina on a year's probation. They were arrested Sept. 27 on charges of taking an electric drill, sump-pump and picture hangers from a department store.

Ex-POW charges dropped

WASHINGTON (UPI) — Navy Secretary John T. Warner has decided to dismiss charges of mutiny and aiding the enemy against two ex-prisoners of war officers, Pentagon sources said.

One source said Warner planned to announce today he was dropping all charges against fighter pilots Marine Lt. Col. Edison W. Miller, 41, of Tustin, Calif., and Navy Capt. Walter E. Wilber, 43, of Columbia Cross Roads, Pa.

The sources refused to disclose the reason Warner was dismissing the charges against Wilber and Miller, but they said it was not lack of evidence.

Class fund cut likely

TWIN FALLS — Magic Valley school systems will receive slightly less federal money for migrant education programs this year, according to Ardis Snyder, supervisor of migrant education Title I funding at the Idaho Department of Education.

The Department of Health, Education and Welfare has awarded $822,356 this year for 28 migrant education projects in Idaho, down from $835,999 awarded last year, Mrs. Snyder said. She said the Department of Education has not allocated this year's money yet, but there would be no major shifts between the districts receiving money.

Last year the Twin Falls School District received between $40,000 and $45,000, according to Bicket School Principal Clarence Parker, who ran the migrant program. During the year the district uses the money to hire Mexican-American teachers aides, who can explain the lessons in Spanish, Parker said. As many as three such aides at one time have worked at Bicket where the majority of the district's Mexican-American students attend, he added.

Parker said during the summer the district offers a special program to "help these kids that move around so much and miss so much school catch-up." Last summer about 150 children aged 4 to 14 attended special classes which stressed reading and language development in addition to offering physical education, arts and crafts, swimming lessons and lots of field trips.

Three nights a week the schools also offered classes for teenagers who worked in the fields during the day. Ten paid teachers and 10 teacher's aides participated in the program.

Norman Hurst, instructional director for the Burley school system, said last year the district requested $22,000 for migrant programs and received $14,000. This year, Hurst said, the district will probably receive around 90 per cent of last year's money.

With the money the district runs a summer program much like Twin Falls. Students, who come from the Burley and Kenyon farm labor camps, study basic skills and participate in "enrichment experiences" such as field trips and organized sports, Hurst said.

During the school year the district provides a resource room and teacher (not bilingual) to help the migrant children with basic skills.

Aides mum on queries about Nixon-VP talks

By LESTER KINSOLVING
Times-News Washington Bureau

WASHINGTON — "The President did not ask for the vice president's resignation," deputy press secretary Joe Warren told a White House press briefing Wednesday, in disclosing details of a meeting between Nixon and Spiro Agnew.

"And there was no pressure in this regard. But in the broad context of options open, the subject of resignation came up," he said.

"There was no discussion of the possibility of the vice president actually resigning," Warren said.

Within two hours of this press briefing, Vice President Spiro Agnew told reporters: "I am not resigning. The President and I have not discussed my resignation."

When asked for clarification of the apparent difference in statements made by the White House and by the vice president, Agnew's press secretary, Marsha Thompson, said:

"The possibility of the vice president's actually resigning did not come up. It was not asked for nor offered. I think that Jerry (Warren) got himself into something of a box. Resignation is in the realm of a conceivable option, but was not discussed as a possibility."

Jerome man, 62, injured

TWIN FALLS — Lyle Hepworth, 62, Jerome, was listed in "guarded" condition this morning in the Twin Falls Clinic Hospital following a farm accident.

Jerome County Sheriff Elza Hall said Hepworth was working on the Charlie Marshall farm on the butte east of Jerome when the accident occurred about 6:30 p.m. Wednesday. The mishap resulted in the loss of one leg by Hepworth.

Sheriff Hall said Hepworth was operating a bean combine and had to get off the tractor to unload the machine. His pant leg caught in the power takeoff pulling him into the machine and whipping him completely around the unit.

Sheriff Hall said when he arrived, other workers had freed Hepworth from the equipment and were preparing to put him into the ambulance.

The sheriff said both of Hepworth's legs were badly injured.

Envoy's son, 12, held hostage by guerrilla

SANTO DOMINGO, Dominican Republic (UPI) — An urban guerrilla held the 12-year-old son of the Mexican ambassador hostage in the embassy today, threatening to kill the boy with a hand grenade unless he was granted safe passage out of the country.

The government of President Joaquin Balaguer promised the gunman, identified as Manfredo Casado, 35, safe conduct and the Roman Catholic Archbishop of Santo Domingo tried to persuade the man to accept the offer.

Casado, described as a member of the clandestine, pro-Castro Dominican People's Movement, has been living in the Mexican embassy as a refugee for more than a year.

The government repeatedly denied him safe conduct and on Wednesday, he grabbed Clutiahuac Concepcion Garcia, son of the ambassador, and held up in a room of the embassy.

He threatened to destroy the building by igniting a cache of gasoline with the hand grenade.

Casado first demanded a plane to fly him to Peru, but officials there said they would refuse to accept him. Later, unofficial sources at the Mexican embassy said Casado might go to Paris, but this was not immediately confirmed.

Ambassador Francisco E. Garcia said his son was "okay, thank God. His mother has spoken to him through the door several times and except for saying he is hungry, he is all right."

One of the men negotiating with Casado said the archbishop offered to take the boy's place as captive this morning, and that Casado refused.

But the archbishop apparently persuaded Casado to promise to release the boy to him on the ramp of the aircraft Casado eventually takes.

The embassy spokesman said the boy had become friends with Casado during the long asylum, and had frequently played cards with him. Casado allowed food and water to be passed through the door for the boy and himself this morning, after refusing a similar offer Wednesday night, the embassy reported.

Probe panel turns shaky

(c) Washington Star-News

WASHINGTON — The Democrats who control the special Senate Watergate committee may be thinking President Nixon gave them good advice when he called for an end to the public hearings.

With the committee's fall term only three days old, the once seemingly well-oiled machine is showing signs of falling apart.

Now in a five-day recess for the Jewish high holy days, the committee is not sure who its next witness will be. One thing is sure, however, when the hearings resume Tuesday there will be no more of the full-time live television coverage which made some of the Senators into matinee idols.

The networks — NBC and ABC, at least — have decided there is not enough interest in the sessions to pre-empt the soap operas. CBS had been willing to continue.

Fourth job

WASHINGTON (UPI) — William D. Ruckelshaus began his fourth job with the Nixon Administration Wednesday when he was sworn in as deputy attorney general.

Ruckelshaus, 41, succeeds Joseph T. Sneed in the No. 2 position of the Justice Department. Sneed has been named to the Ninth U. S. Circuit Court of Appeals in San Francisco.

Trident wins by 2

WASHINGTON (UPI) — The Senate voted today in favor of proceeding promptly with work on the new Trident missile submarine.

By a 49-47 vote, the Senate rejected a move to delay the project by two years until about 1980. Trident supporters won their fight with arguments centering on Soviet missile progress.

Sen. Thomas J. McIntyre, D-N.H., was principal sponsor of the proposal to delay the Trident by deleting $885 million from a $1.5-billion administration request for the submarine this fiscal year, which began July 1.

Funds for production of the Trident were sought in the $21.9 billion defense procurement authorization bill that has been before the Senate since last week.

Both foes and proponents agreed the submarine eventually would be built. McIntyre argued that the Navy's request to expedite the Trident meant the ship would be in production before necessary research had been completed, and that this could result in expensive changes later in the completed subs.

Some senators, led by Henry M. Jackson, D-Wash., want to launch the first sub in 1978 instead of 1980, arguing that the Soviet threat necessitated the rush. They cited recent Soviet tests of a missile with a 4,000-mile range like that planned for the Trident.

2 Buhl men placed on probation

TWIN FALLS — Two Buhl men sentenced to 14 years for grand larceny involving cattle theft were placed on 18 months probation by Fifth District Judge Theron W. Ward.

In court actions filed this week, Judge Ward ordered the 14 year sentences he handed out previously to William Elwin Baggs, 41, 24, and Steven Shackelford, 22, both Buhl, withheld and the men placed on probation. They were charged with the theft and butchering of a calf from the Easterday Farms in January.

Judge Ward also signed an order this week allowing David Lee Jones to withdraw a plea of guilty to charges of delivery of a controlled substance and dismissed the charge. Jones had been on 18 months probation which the court said has been completed satisfactorily.

Trial was set for Oct. 31 at 10 a.m. for Johnny Gale Potter, charged with delivery of a controlled substance within the Twin Falls county jail. He entered a plea of innocent. Potter is charged with giving drugs to an inmate of the jail Sept. 7 while he served as a trusty.

Virgin Hurt, 30, Twin Falls, was given a five-year prison sentence which was suspended in favor of 18 months probation. He is charged with driving while intoxicated, repeated offense.

Teresa Hernandez, 21, Twin Falls, charged with insufficient funds check entered a plea to a misdemeanor charge and was placed on six months probation.

Robert P. Kindberg, 33, Twin Falls, charged with the embezzlement of an automobile from David Fife, was sentenced to 14 years in prison and the sentence was suspended in favor of 18 months probation providing the defendant accepts a job offer in Ada county.

Trial will be set for John Robert Livingston, 19, charged with receiving stolen property. He entered a plea of innocent. Charges state he allegedly received $500 stolen from Jordan's Market at Filer. He is free on $1,000 bond.

Judge Ward ordered the expungement of the record of Steven Harding, 19, Twin Falls, following completion of a satisfactory probation. He was charged with delivery of a controlled substance.

Only virgins need apply

URBANA, Ohio (UPI) — Sharon Doldman, 17, a senior student at Urbana High School, was ruled off the homecoming queen ballot Wednesday by a school principal who told her "only virgins can run for homecoming queen." Sharon, an unwed mother, continued to attend classes after her baby's birth March 23. She was on the homecoming court last year and was nominated by classmates to reign as queen this year.

"The administration," said School Superintendent Roe W. Hildreth, "feels that those on the court reflect the values of the community."

Sharon's parents filed suit in U.S. District Court in Dayton Wednesday asking that the student election be voided. The voting results were to be announced today.

SEN. BAKER to speak

Hansen funding fete set in TF

BOISE — Sen. Howard Baker (R-Tenn.) will be featured speaker at a fund-raising dinner for Idaho Republican Hansen to be held at Twin Falls Nov. 16.

Plans for the dinner were announced by co-chairman for the event, former Idaho Senator Len B. Jordan and Mary Brooks, director of the United States Mint.

Cong. Hansen and Sen. Baker serve together on the Joint Committee on Atomic Energy. It is expected that Senator Baker's wife, Joy, daughter of the late Senator Everett Dirksen, will attend the dinner honoring the Idaho Congressman and his wife, June.

Sen. Jordan said that the dinner, to be held at the Twin Falls Holiday Inn, provides an opportunity for us to show our appreciation for the leadership and service Orval Hansen is giving to Idaho and the nation in the U.S. Congress.

Hansen is serving his third term as representative from Idaho's second Congressional District.

Sen. Howard Baker was the first popularly elected Republican senator in the history of Tennessee. His decisive re-election victory in 1972 established a new voting record unparalleled since Tennessee's emergence as a two-party state. Sen. Baker played a major role in achieving responsible reforms in the Senate. His plan to reform the seniority system by providing for the election of ranking committee members won unanimous approval from the Republican Senate Conference at the beginning of the 33rd Congress.

Can contest turn-in set

Money's not everything

BOISE (UPI) — A Boise couple vowed today to fight a proposed shopping center they feel threatens their way of life on a 10-acre farm on the outskirts of the city.

Mr. and Mrs. Lawrence Ott are the only holdouts among the owners of the 523 acres on which Daum Industries, Nampa, wants to put the West Boise Mall — a projected shopping center.

Daum's proposal, which would have parking for 5,600 cars, would be the biggest in Idaho if built — twice the size of Karcher Mall at Nampa.

Although the Ott's say Daum offered a "good price" for their land on North Ash Park Lane, they don't want to sell it. And they say they don't like the idea of living next door to a huge shopping center with its attendant noise and fumes. They have 10 acres of farm land on which they run eight horses. "Money doesn't mean anything to us," Mrs. Ott said. "We worked our whole lives to get what we want and this place is it."

Other property owners in the area have agreed to options to sell their property to Daum if the company goes ahead with its development plans but the Ott's say they will not sign.

"This option, in our opinion, would sell out our right to object to having our land rezoned and to keep it the way it is," Mrs. Ott said.

"It's very pastoral here now. If this thing goes through, our taxes will go up and we'll suffer from traffic, light and noise pollution."

Mrs. Ott suggests that Daum Industries look to downtown Boise if it wants to put in a shopping center. She said that area already has the sewers and parking lots it needs.

But Daum is competing against downtown for a regional shopping center and an official says the company will build around the Ott's if it has to.

"We'll put in a thicker growth of landscaping in that part of the lot to lessen the impact on the Ott's," Richard Sparrow, project manager said.

"It isn't the most desirable thing to build around them, but it won't hurt us."

District court decisions made

TWIN FALLS — Nine persons received sentences on criminal charges in Fifth Judicial District Court this week before Judge James M. Cunningham.

A pre-sentence investigation was ordered for William H. Martin, 42, Twin Falls, an insufficient funds check charge. He entered a plea of guilty to the charge.

James McKay Davis, 23, Twin Falls, charged with first degree burglary was sentenced to five years with the sentence withheld for 24 month period. Davis was placed on probation for the two year period. He pleaded guilty to the July 18 burglary of Kingsbury Pharmacy.

Edna Hawes, 26, Twin Falls, was placed on 18 month probation after pleading guilty to a charge of writing an insufficient funds check.

Judge Cunningham ordered an 18 months probation for Dennis J. Herman, 18, and Jimmy Lee Edridge, 20, on charges of first degree burglary. They were charged with the theft of tires, wheels and other merchandise from Bob Haynes, Twin Falls.

Marvin Holsby, 29, Twin Falls, charged with lewd and lascivious conduct with a 12 year old girl, was sentenced to more than five years in prison after entering a plea of guilty. He was placed under the jurisdiction of the State Board of Corrections by the judge.

Wanda L. Schmidt, 40, Twin Falls, entered a plea of guilty to charges of issuing an insufficient funds check. The court ordered a pre-sentence investigation.

Marvin Pearl Hinton, 18, was ordered to complete a five-year sentence and the court revoked his present probation. He was originally charged with first degree burglary and had been placed on probation. The sentence was ordered enforced on charges of parole violation.

Edward Albert Heinke, 23, Buhl, was granted a pre-sentence investigation after pleading guilty to one count of burglary and one of grand larceny.

Reform urged

TWIN FALLS, Idaho (UPI) — A former majority leader of the Idaho State Senate called today for replacing the Legislative Council with "effective staffing of the permanent standing committees."

Wayne Kidwell, Boise, made the comments during a meeting with the governmental affairs committee of the Associated Industries of Idaho.

"The Legislative Council, as we know it in Idaho State Legislature, should be junked — and replaced with effective staffing of the permanent standing committees," he said.

Kidwell said such a reform would make the Legislature more responsive.

"For example, we have a lot of dedicated legislators right now spending a lot of hours considering something as critically important to Idaho's state land use planning," he said.

Dear Mr. Speaker: Agnew wants a hearing

WASHINGTON (UPI)—Text of Vice President Spiro T. Agnew's letter to House Speaker Carl Albert Tuesday requesting an investigation by the House of allegations against Agnew.

Dear Mr. Speaker: I respectfully request that the House of Representatives undertake a full inquiry into the charges which have apparently been made against me in the course of an investigation by the United States Attorney for the District of Maryland.

This request is made in the dual interests of preserving the Constitutional stature of my office and accomplishing my personal vindication.

After the most careful study, my counsel have advised me that the Constitution bars a criminal proceeding of any kind—federal or state, county or town—against a President or Vice President while he holds office.

Accordingly, I cannot acquiesce in any criminal proceeding being lodged against me in Maryland or elsewhere. And I cannot look to any such proceeding for vindication.

In these circumstances, I believe, it is the right and duty of the Vice President to turn to the House. A closely parallel precedent is suggested.

Almost a century and a half ago, Vice President (John C.) Calhoun was beset with charges of improper participation in the profits of an Army contract made while he had been Secretary of War. On December 29, 1826, he addressed to your body a communication whose eloquent language I can better quote than rival:

"An imperious sense of duty, and a sacred regard to the honor of the station which I occupy, compel me to approach your body in its high character of grand inquest of the nation. Charges have been made against me of the most serious nature, and which, if true, ought to degrade me from the high station in which I have been placed by the choice of my fellow-citizens, and to consign my name to perpetual infamy. In claiming the investigation of the House, I am sensible that, under our free and happy institutions, the conduct of public servants is a fair subject of the closest scrutiny and the freest remarks, and that a firm and faithful discharge of duty affords, ordinarily, ample protection against political attacks; but, when such attacks assume the character of impeachable offenses, and become, in some degree, official, my being placed among the public records, an officer thus assailed, however base the instrument used, if conscious of innocence, can look for refuge only to the Hall of the immediate Representatives of the People.

I therefore respectfully call upon the House to discharge its Constitutional obligation . . . I have nothing to hide.

Vice President Calhoun concluded his communications with a "challenge" to "the freest investigation of the House, as the only means effectually to repel this premeditated attack. Your body responded at once by establishing a select committee, which subpoenaed witnesses and documents, held exhaustive hearings, and submitted a report on February 13, 1827. The report, exonerating the Vice President of any wrongdoing, was laid on the table (together with minority views even more strongly in his favor) and the accusations were thereby put to rest.

Like my predecessor Calhoun, I am the subject of public attacks that may assume the character of impeachable offenses, and thus require urgent investigation by the House as the repository of "the sole Power of Impeachment" and the "grand inquest of the nation." No investigation in any other forum could either substitute for the investigation by the House contemplated by Article I, Section 2, Clause 5 of the Constitution or lay to rest in a timely and definitive manner the unfounded charges whose currency unavoidably jeopardizes the functions of my office.

The wisdom of the Framers of the Constitution in making the House the only proper agency to investigate the conduct of a President or Vice President has been borne out by recent events. Since the Maryland investigation became a matter of public knowledge some seven weeks ago, there has been a constant and ever-broadening stream of rumors, accusations, and speculations aimed at me. I repeat to say that the source in many instances, can have been only the prosecutors themselves.

The result has been so to foul the atmosphere that no grand or petit jury could fairly consider this matter on the merits.

I therefore respectfully call upon the House to discharge its Constitutional obligation.

I shall, of course, cooperate fully. As I have said before, I have nothing to hide—I have directed my counsel to deliver forthwith to the Clerk of the House all of my original records of which copies have previously been furnished to the United States Attorney. If there is any other way in which I can be of aid, I am wholly at the disposal of the House.

Agnew's gamble with the House

By PETER LISAGOR (c) Chicago Daily News

WASHINGTON—The House "has no stomach for impeachment."

That prevailing judgment of politicians of both parties during the long months of the Watergate disclosure was thought applicable to President Nixon and any other civil official involved in allegations of wrongdoing.

But it has been challenged by Vice President Spiro T. Agnew. The body which had no appetite to impeach anybody now finds itself, as one congressional observer put it, "between a rock and a hard place."

Agnew has called upon the House "to discharge its constitutional obligation" by undertaking a full inquiry into charges of possible criminal violations while he was Governor of Maryland and county executive of Baltimore County.

Agnew quoted the words of John C. Calhoun, when he faced charges of impropriety. Calhoun was Vice President at the time, but the charges concerned his activities while he was Secretary of War. Calhoun said he was approaching the House in "its high character of grand inquest of the nation." Calhoun was exonerated.

If a House select committee, or the Judiciary committee, should find Agnew guilty, the entire body would be compelled to impeach him, and the Senate would serve as the jury. Chief Justice Warren Burger would preside over the Senate trial.

What Agnew has done is gamble on the House's suspected unwillingness to deal with the debilitating immediately after Attorney General Elliot Richardson announced evidence against Agnew would be presented to a grand jury yesterday. The Vice President conferred with his letter to Albert.

Observers of the House leadership and mood have agreed that, if that body had to "initiate" an impeachment proceeding, it would be most loathe, if not incapable, of doing so. "The Democrats just don't have the guts," was one uncharitable view of the house attitude. "The House leaders don't want to plunge the country into an agonizing, polarizing, unpredictable crisis," was a more charitable view.

But those judgments were directed at the possibility, now considered extremely remote, that President Nixon might face impeachment for alleged involvement in the Watergate and assorted illegalities; if concrete and irrefutable evidence had been produced against him. Some believe the impeachment prospect could be revived if the President should defy an ultimate supreme court decision ordering him to turn over the Watergate tapes.

In the Agnew affair, the Vice President has "hittated" the process. For the House to blink as its obligation, as Agnew defined it, would be to admit to a weakness of resolve. In the judgment of most observers, yet, it has been pointed out that the house might feel it was obstructing the course of justice by injecting itself between Agnew and a duly constituted grand jury.

But, whatever the outcome, the question of impeachment has been "thrown in their bloody laps," as a legislative aide put it.

In political terms, the Agnew move and Richardson's decision to go the grand jury route again throw a thick blanket of gloom over the Nixon administration, threatening a new period of immobility and uncertainty and doubt.

The uncertainty was manifest late yesterday afternoon when the Republican Senators caucused to discuss the Agnew developments. Minority leader Hugh Scott, of Pennsylvania, entitled it "an informal meeting." But one unidentified Senator raised the question of "why we've assembled at all; we might have to comprise a jury in the case." Another thought it should not have been a partisan caucus but a full Senate caucus, including Democrats.

Analysis

consequences of an impeachment proceeding. He also has made plain he intends to defy any federal grand jury action that might be taken against him, on constitutional grounds. In his words, "I cannot acquiesce in any criminal proceeding being lodged against me in Maryland or elsewhere," he said in his letter to House Speaker Carl Albert.

Agnew's action was not wholly unexpected. Rumors that he would "fight" against a grand jury indictment, have circulated here for days. So have rumors that he would resign if his plea bargaining with justice department officials proved satisfactory.

Buchanan defends Republican party

WASHINGTON (UPI) — White House speech writer Patrick J. Buchanan says Republicans relied on shrewd political strategy, not illegal tactics, to undercut the Democratic opposition and win President Nixon's re-election.

Buchanan denied personal wrongdoing in the 1972 campaign, but called the Watergate break-in a "grievous error" and a crime for which he said the Republican party was not to blame.

In sometimes impassioned testimony Wednesday, Buchanan defended a series of memos he wrote in 1971 proposing an attack on then Democratic frontrunner Sen. Edmund S. Muskie, D-Maine.

The committee adjourned until Tuesday. No witnesses have been announced for the hearing, but sources indicated among the first to be called will be Donald Segretti, a California lawyer allegedly involved in efforts to sabotage the Florida primary campaign of Muskie.

Buchanan's appearance apparently marked the end of live daily television coverage. The system of rotating coverage by the three networks has been scrapped, but CBS announced it would carry the hearings live when they are considered significant.

Much of the committee's questioning centered on Buchanan's philosophy of what constituted dirty campaign tricks.

Asked how far he would go to insure the President's reelection, Buchanan said "anything, not immoral, unethical, illegal or unprecedented in previous Democratic campaigns."

He said there was room in American politics for pranksters and hecklers as well as secretly supporting the weakest opposition candidate for nomination, on the theory that he would be easiest to beat.

In that vein, Buchanan suggested in an April, 1972, memo introduced in evidence that Republicans "do as little as possible at this time, to impede McGovern's rise" and refrain from attacks until the senator was certain to be nominated.

In other testimony, Buchanan:

- Accused the Watergate committee staff of a "covert campaign of vilification" by leaking what he said were untrue allegations of his involvement in dirty tricks;
- Refused to produce secret White House political memos or the advice of presidential counsel that they were protected by executive privilege.

UAW, Ford bargain on local issues

DETROIT (UPI) — Auto contract negotiations between the United Auto Workers and Ford Motor Co. were locked in a holding pattern Wednesday while bargainers attempted to clear up unresolved local issues with Chrysler Corp.

Malcolm Denise, Ford vice president for labor relations, said the conclusion of bargaining at Ford may be delayed because "it could take a couple more weeks to clear up the Chrysler situation."

Chrysler resumed production Monday following a nine-day strike but only 30 of 60 bargaining units reported settlement on national contract issues.

The situation was further compounded into Wednesday when nearly 5,000 engineering technicians at Chrysler, most of them employed in Detroit, voted to reject the national contract.

Dissenting members said wage increases were not substantial enough in the three-year contract signed last week.

The national settlement guaranteed a first-year raise equal to three per cent of the base wage plus 12 cents an hour and two more annual increases of three per cent.

UAW Vice President Douglas Fraser said the rejection probably will not interfere with production by the smallest of the "Big Three" automakers, but the union must now go back to Chrysler to renegotiate a settlement.

All other segments of the Chrysler work force represented by the union have ratified the national agreement.

US, USSR relations may cool

WASHINGTON (UPI) — The good will that now exists between the United States and the Soviet Union could be endangered if America tries to pressure Russia into allowing its Jewish citizens to emigrate freely, Secretary of State Henry A. Kissinger suggested Wednesday.

But Kissinger, who was in Washington today after three days of intense consultations at the United Nations, told reporters before he left New York he does not believe that Russia's warning to the West not to meddle in its emigration policies represents any cooling of the spirit of U.S.-Soviet cooperation.

Soviet Foreign Minister Andrei Gromyko told the General Assembly Tuesday that "we shall allow nobody to interfere with our internal affairs."

The Pentagon in Washington is the largest office building in the world.

World oil exporters to raise crude oil prices

VIENNA (UPI) — The world's major oil exporting nations said today crude oil prices will have to be increased because "oil companies are reaping high unearned profits."

In a resolution ratified by its 11 member nations, the Organization of Petroleum Exporting Countries (OPEC) said negotiations with the oil companies will begin in Vienna on Oct. 8 to adjust oil prices.

The oil companies are reaping high unearned profits," the resolution said.

Such a situation is detrimental to the member countries leading to a further deterioration of the value of their oil.

The resolution summed up the results of two days of secret talks between ministers of OPEC states held here earlier this month and released today.

"The crude oil prices are no longer in line with the current and expected future trends of world inflation," the resolution said.

OPEC's members supply 85 per cent of world oil imports. Western economists said any increase in crude oil prices would eventually be passed on to the consumer.

The resolution said the Oct. 8 price negotiations with the oil companies will be held by Abu Dhabi, Iran, Iraq, Kuwait, Qatar and Saudi Arabia.

OPEC's five other members, Algeria, Indonesia, Libya, Nigeria and Venezuela, will negotiate individually with the oil companies.

The resolution demanded a revision of the Tehran, Tripoli and Lagos agreements that fix oil structures.

Networks cancel Watergate

NEW YORK (UPI) — The three major television networks will no longer give live day-to-day coverage of the Senate Watergate hearings on a routine basis and called off an agreement to rotate coverage.

Under a plan that began early in the hearings, ABC, CBS and NBC had taken turns providing live coverage of the hearings.

A CBS spokesman said his network argued that the rotation continue but that NBC and ABC voted Wednesday not to continue it. CBS said it would carry the hearings live on any day when it considers them significant.

ABC said it had no present plans other than to cover Watergate in its regular newscasts. NBC confirmed the rotational coverage plan was being dropped, but said it had not decided on its own plans for television coverage.

Federal employes seek pay raise

(c) Washington Star-News
WASHINGTON (UPI) President Nixon's Pay Advisory Committee has recommended a higher pay raise for federal white-collar employes than was proposed by his "agents" — the Office of Management and Budget and the Civil Service Commission.
The advisory committee recommended a 5.47 per cent raise as compared to the 4.77 per cent increase proposed by the CSC and the OMB. Meanwhile, indications are that the Senate will approve overturning the President's action in delaying the pay raises two months and will make the increases effective Oct. 1, under the pay comparability law. House approval is not needed.

The advisory group is composed of outside experts and is headed by Jerome Krosow, former assistant secretary of labor under Nixon and now a top official of the Exxon Corp.

Under the pay-comparability law, Nixon has to decide on the amount of the pay raise based on either of the proposals or a compromise somewhere between the two of them.
The advisory committee based its proposal on Bureau of Labor Statistics figures showing that the average industry salary increase last year was 5.47 per cent.
The OMB and the CSC recommended a 4.77 per cent raise because they contended the federal pay line was already slightly favorable to government white-collar employes in relation to industry salaries.
Meanwhile, government employe union leaders are very optimistic that the Senate will vote to overturn Nixon's action in delaying the scheduled Oct. 1 pay raise date to Dec. 1.

Soviet trading status denied

WASHINGTON (UPI) In a move with wide ranging implications for the administration's policy of detente with the Soviet Union, the House Ways and Means Committee has voted to withhold major trade concessions from Communist countries until they allow freer emigration.
The committee voted Wednesday to deny "most favored nation" trading status to most Communist countries until President Nixon certifies that each allows free emigration of its citizens.
The amendment to a major new trade bill was aimed at the Soviet Union, which has stirred resentment in Congress by raising obstacles in the way of Soviet Jews who want to leave the country.

Committing to a companion proposal pending in the Senate, which would link approval of a proposed U.S.-Soviet trade agreement to free emigration, Secretary of State Henry A. Kissinger said Monday that if the measure passed, "Then the question arises as to how much allies and other countries can depend upon our word."

Richardson says crime reduction encouraging

WASHINGTON (UPI) — Attorney General Elliot L. Richardson says the latest FBI report on crime, reflecting an actual reduction in 95 big cities, is encouraging.
The FBI uniform crime report showed Wednesday that serious crimes declined by 1 per cent nationwide during the first six months of 1973 from the previous six months, the same decrease reported for the first half of last year.
During the first six months of 1972, 90 cities had an actual decrease.
The report is based on statistics provided by local, county and state law enforcement agencies.

half of 1973 from the last half of 1972, compared to a 1 per cent increase in the first half of last year.
But property crimes such as burglary, larceny and auto theft decreased 2 per cent in the first half of 1973, compared to a 1 per cent decrease in the same period in 1972.
Murder increased 9 per cent nationwide, forcible rape and aggravated assault each rose 8 per cent, robbery and burglary each were up 1 per cent, larceny-theft decreased 3 per cent and auto theft was down 1 per cent.
Suburban police agencies reported a 4 per cent increase in serious crime compared to a 3 per cent increase for the first half of 1972. Serious crime in rural areas was up 7 per cent compared to a 6 per cent increase last year.

Violent crimes such as murder, forcible rape, robbery and aggravated assault increased 4 per cent in the first

Units evaluated

(c) N. Y. Times News Service
NEW YORK — The Justice Department is considering restructuring, or possibly dissolving, the 18 special federal strike forces set up during the last seven years to combat organized crime, according to department sources.
They said that the department was evaluating the effectiveness of the strike forces at the request of Attorney General Elliot L. Richardson.
Justice Department sources said in interviews with the New York Times that the attorneys told Richardson that a number of strike forces had failed to make meaningful organized crime cases and their offices could do the job better and at less cost.

The U. S. attorneys met with Richardson last Friday and, at his request, formed a 16-member committee to advise him on justice department policies and programs.
In addition, several subcommittees were created, one of which was assigned to evaluate the strike forces.

NO RAISINS AT SWENSEN'S

To some people, happiness is a little brown dried up, wrinkled grape — in short — a raisin. And this kind of happiness has been mighty hard to find lately. Even Swenson's Markets, which prides itself on having things when other stores don't, has been out of raisins.

Raisin lovers have recently been forced to dry their own grapes in the oven and even sort the raisins out of Kellogg's Raisin Bran (that's real dedication). Swenson's Markets suggest using prunes instead of raisins (they look a lot like raisins, only bigger) or boiling a bottle of cheap wine till all you have in the bottom of the pan is a few raisins (this is a real desperation move which Swenson's have not actually tried.) Well, Swenson's are still out of raisins and by now you're probably wondering why any store would be foolish enough to waste all this space talking about something they don't even have to sell...

We wonder too! But, for some really low prices on things we have plenty of. Please read the rest of our ad... P.S. We'll get the raisins later!

Astros fly home today

SAN DIEGO, CALIF. (UPI) — The record-breaking Skylab 2 astronauts fly home to Houston tonight in excellent health after a two-month space voyage that showed men can live safely in weightlessness for months at a time.

Dr. Paul Buchanan said the readjustment of Alan L. Bean, Owen K. Garriott and Jack R. Lousma to gravity after spending 59 days without it was "just a sort of amazing."

The spacemen faced still more medical tests and doctors asked them to undergo another half-day examination today before leaving the recovery carrier, New Orleans, this afternoon for the flight to Texas.

Buchanan said the three spacemen were "steadier and hungrier than they were after Tuesday's splashdown and he said they were walking about the ship Wednesday "as well as I do."

In Houston, Dr. Royce Hawkins, the pilots' chief physician, said the fact that the three astronauts were able to complete almost all the rigorous exercise testing program "says an awful lot" for their condition.

He said their hearts, not accustomed to pumping hard after having an easy time with no gravity to pump against, were in good shape.

"The crew is in excellent shape and continues to improve over their condition upon recovery," Hawkins said early today.

Buchanan said the men had each lost 4 to 5 per cent of their body weight, but this was expected. The only problem occurred when Bean aggravated an old back sprain by sleeping on a soft mattress aboard the New Orleans Tuesday night.

The astronauts' wives planned to greet them when they arrive at Ellington Air Force Base near Houston tonight, but the spacemen must stay in semi-isolation until Tuesday to guard against infections from common earth germs.

Bean, Garriott and Lousma will be able to go home with their wives, but their children will stay with neighbors to further protect the astronauts until they build up their immunity after living for so long in the near-sterile atmosphere of Skylab.

WASHINGTON (UPI) — A federal court here has been asked to open the doors of the Navy and Air Force academies to make way for midshipwomen and airwomen.

The Center for Women's Policy Studies filed a class action suit in U.S. District Court Wednesday challenging the requirement that applicants for the elite officer-training academies be men.

The suit was filed on behalf of Coralie S. Cross of Danville, Calif.

Stanek children said improving

DENVER (UPI) — The conditions of the five surviving Stanek sextuplets improved today.

"The babies are doing splendidly," University of Colorado Medical Center spokesman Barbara Springer said. "They are all out of the respirators now, and the doctors are optimistic." Three boys and the only surviving girl were in good condition. Nathan, the last to be removed from a respirator and still breathing through a tube inserted in his throat, was listed in satisfactory condition. Nathan and three of the other babies suffered from hyaline membrane disease, a lung ailment which took the life of Julia two days after she was born.

Atlantis chiefs sued

SANTA MONICA, Calif. (UPI) — The leaders of the unsuccessful Atlantis expedition were sued for $1 million Wednesday by a father and son who invested in a proposed documentary film on the search for the mythical lost continent.

John D. Couturie, a Hughes Aircraft Corp. executive, and his son, William, filed suit in Superior Court against Dr. Julian Nava, member of the Los Angeles Board of Education, and Maxine Asher, former co-directors of the Ancient Mediterranean Research Association.

The association, with Mrs. Asher in charge, mounted the expedition during the summer, taking some 50 persons, who paid up to $2,000 each, to the coast of Spain to look for the lost continent.

Abigail Van Buren

DEAR ABBY: This is for the doctor's wife who said she may have to call her husband's office and make an appointment under an assumed name in order to see her own husband for an hour.

I do volunteer work at a hospital, and 99 per cent of the doctors' wives live like queens and cry all the way to the bank.

Did that doctor's wife who complained that her husband never had time for her or their children make an appointment to conceive those children? It takes two to tango, you know.

I've seen and heard enough to know that doctors get put down so much, it's no wonder they eat up all the attention they get around the hospital.

Comments on wives

Most doctors' wives have college degrees, and many were secretaries and nurses, but once their husbands get up in the chips, all these social butterflies do is play golf!

KNOWS THE SCORE

DEAR KNOWS: Hold it! Generalizations are dangerous and unfair. In most communities you will find the doctor's wife to be a hard-working volunteer for any number of worthwhile charitable organizations.

DEAR ABBY: The doctor's wife, complaining of her absentee husband hit home with me.

For 22 years I was married to a professional social worker who had a private counseling practice on the side. He specialized in children's problems.

While our own five children were young, he constantly brushed their problems aside while helping other children. There were times when my husband was supposed to be in his office, but was "unreachable."

All the while, people kept telling me what a "wonderful, sympathetic, understanding" man my husband was.

Rats! When the children were old enough, I divorced him. I have since married a man who is everything my husband was not, but got credit for being.

The doctor's wife might consider that sometimes it's a good idea to change horses in midstream.

HAPPY CHANGER

DEAR HAPPY: I'm happy if you're happy. I've heard from quite a few horse-changers who would be glad to get their old horses back.

DEAR ABBY: Some questions for the doctor's wife who complained that her husband's work keeps him from his family:

- If you wanted a husband with the work schedule of an office clerk or a factory worker, why didn't you marry one?
- If you are ill, why don't you see another doctor? Physicians shouldn't treat their own families anyway.
- Does your extravagance make it necessary for your husband to work harder in order to keep ahead of your spending?
- Is your home an inviting place, and are you an inviting person for your husband to hurry home to?

PROFESSIONAL

Problems? You'll feel better if you get it off your chest. For a personal reply, write to ABBY: Box No. 89700, L. A., Calif. 90049. Enclose stamped, self-addressed envelope, please.

Easy method for fish

Fish is easy and quick to prepare; it should not be overcooked. One easy way with a fillet is to pan fry very quickly in a smidgeon of vegetable oil then lavish on fresh lemon juice. Or, brush a whole fillet with the oil, top with lemon or lime, and thin onion slices. Wrap tightly in foil and bake at medium heat for no more than 20 minutes.

We're not going to name the knight of the round table who sat South. We don't want to be challenged to mortal combat. Suffice to say that the wily Mordred, sitting West, really fixed him.

Mordred opened the jack of hearts. South saw that he had to win the trick and go after clubs. You readers, looking right at all the cards, can see that since West holds both club honors, South is sure to make his contract, but watch the wily Mordred in operation.

South led the ace of clubs and Mordred dropped the queen. He continued and Mordred played the nine. South was foiled and

Popular vote plan endorsed

WASHINGTON (UPI) — A proposed constitutional amendment to abolish the Electoral College and select the nation's president by a popular vote has gained the backing of two leading Republican and Democratic figures.

The administration was also expected to lend its support to the plan today before the Senate constitutional amendments subcommittee, chaired by Sen. Birch Bayh, D-Ind.

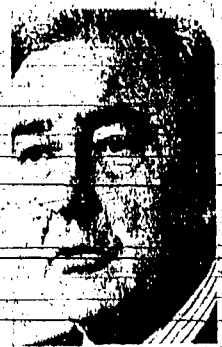

Under the proposal, the candidate who polls the most votes would win the election. But if no candidate wins at least 40 per cent of the popular vote, a joint session of Congress would be convened to choose between the two tickets.

which had polled the most votes.

The proposal won general endorsements Wednesday from Sen. Robert Dole, R-Kans., former GOP national chairman, and Robert Strauss, Democratic national chairman. Strauss, however, said he would prefer a run-off election if neither of the top tickets polled 40 per cent.

Bayh said he, too, preferred the run-off course but believed that by making Congress the final arbiter of a close election the proposal stood a better chance of winning congressional approval and ratification by the states.

Both Strauss and Dole urged that the present electoral system be changed before 1978.

Eyes race

FORMER Congressman Eugene J. McCarthy wants to return to the House of Representatives to help reform it, but he has said only he is "seriously considering" a race for the Minnesota Sixth District. (UPI)

Limit approved

WASHINGTON (UPI) — The House has approved legislation that would limit to 20,000 per year the number of immigrants allowed to enter the United States from a western hemisphere nation.

The bill would also establish priorities that would place emphasis on reuniting families.

Under present law, total immigration from all western hemisphere nations is limited to 120,000 per year. That total limitation will still apply, but no one nation will be able to take more than 20,000 of the total.

Junta frees 8 Yanks

SANTIAGO (UPI) — The ruling military junta freed eight Americans Wednesday after two weeks of captivity, but thousands of persons suspected of backing the ousted Marxist government were still being detained in a giant soccer stadium.

The four-man junta, which overthrew the late President Salvador Allende Sept. 11, also said firing squads executed three men accused of killing a policeman, raising to a half-dozen the number of officially reported executions.

The U.S. Embassy reported the release of the eight Americans and said they were all in good shape.

"We presume they will want to leave the country as soon as possible," an embassy spokesman said. "But we don't have any immediate details on individual travel plans."

The embassy said the eight, apparently the last Americans held by the junta, had been among an estimated 6,000 Chileans and foreigners taken to downtown Santiago's 65,000-seat National Soccer Stadium following the coup.

The embassy identified the freed Americans as the Rev. Francis Flynn and Joseph Dougherty, two Maryknoll priests; the Rev. Charles Welsh, a Holy Cross priest; Prof. James Gordon Ritter; Carol Nazzo; Charles Flek; David Hathaway and Juan Jose Velasco, a naturalized citizen.

Mines wreck 2 Viet trains

SAIGON (UPI) — Two trains were blown up by land mines Wednesday and military sources said a heavy Communist mortar barrage wounded eight persons at a Roman Catholic refugee camp.

The South Vietnamese foreign ministry also indicated that the government would launch an offensive soon to recapture a ranger base in the Central Highlands that was lost to the Communists last Saturday.

Lt. Col. Le Trung Hien, spokesman for the South Vietnamese command, said the two trains were blown up by land mines in Phu Yen province in the Central Highlands, 250 miles northeast of Saigon.

He said a child was killed and nine civilians injured in one of the incidents and there were no casualties in the other. Two locomotives and eight cars were damaged.

Sex no issue in '33 election, Burley woman says

By MARILYN ELLIOTT
Times-News Writer

BURLEY — Ida Parke didn't need women's lib — or lengthy speeches or expensive advertising campaigns in 1933 when she received a near landslide vote for the Burley city council seat. This year another woman, Lois Clayton, is seeking a seat on the Burley council "to get the woman's viewpoint on the council," but Mrs. Parke claims that in 1933 her sex was not an issue.

"They never paid any attention to it (the fact that she was a woman)," Mrs. Parke, who will be 83 on Oct. 7, said Tuesday. Mrs. Parke said she was approached by several men, including then mayor and state senator K. C. Barlow, who urged her to run for the council.

"I was interested," she said, but "if I hadn't won, I wouldn't have given a hoot."

Mrs. Parke's husband, Steven Parke, had been state Republican committeeman and was prominent in state politics before his death in 1912. He and Mrs. Parke moved to Burley shortly after their marriage in 1912.

On April 23, 1933, Mrs. Parke was elected to the city council. She received more votes than everyone except incumbent Mayor Barlow and incumbent Councilman George Scholer.

Mrs. Parke said she made no speeches and paid for no public advertising in her virtually non-existent campaign. "For me to have been very active would have been very hard," she said.

The elections at that time involved "no big action at all," she said, the candidates "just ambled about town talking to their friends and neighbors.

"I didn't know anything," she said, "but the council job was not hard. The council was cooperative and treated me beautifully."

"I was perfectly at home," she said.

"It was pretty quiet and pretty dull around here at that time," Mrs. Parke said of her term in office. The council met every two weeks and rarely had to have special meetings, such as are held regularly today.

She was not kept away from home much, Mrs. Parke said. At home, she had four children, the oldest two in high school, and no husband.

Mrs. Parke said she didn't do much talking when she was on the council. "I had the feeling of being the only woman and didn't want them to think I was shouting my mouth off about things I didn't know anything about," she said.

But Mrs. Parke, who describes herself as a "peppercut" at that time, did lose her temper occasionally.

Frequently an issue would come up and a vote would be taken practically before discussion got under way, she said. "I told them it seemed like most of the decisions were being made before the meeting even started," she said, "it used to infuriate me."

"Sometimes if meetings would get late, Mrs. Parke, the mayor's wife, would get awfully mad," Mrs. Parke said. Once, Mrs. Barlow came to a meeting about 11 p.m. and said to the council, "have you people any idea how late it is?" according to Mrs. Parke, and received a rebuke from the mayor that sent her home.

"I think that was awfully silly of her to do," Mrs. Parke said. Mrs. Parke was in charge of parks and buildings while she was on the council and played a large part, along with councilman George Scholer, in developing Scholer park near the East Burley Snake River bridge.

"The mayor had the welfare of the city at heart," she said, and the entire council backed him in his efforts to get the city out of debt.

"All those men (who were on the council) are dead but me," she said.

Current council salaries "just floor me," Mrs. Parke said. During her term, she said, councilmen received $15 or $20 a month and the mayor, who held the position on a part-time basis, received only about $60 a month.

In 1937, virtually the entire council ran for re-election on the Citizen's ticket and was defeated in a landslide by the People's ticket. Barlow did not seek re-election at that time.

Ida Parke was born in southern Oregon in 1880 and moved to Idaho in 1905. Her father was one of the earliest settlers in the Twin Falls tract. She moved to Burley in 1912 shortly after her marriage to Steven Parke.

She can remember driving an old Ford across the sagebrush to her home on Miller Avenue. But the sagebrush didn't last long.

"There was not a time when you could go outside and not hear saws and hammers," she said. "Burley grew very, very fast."

In fact, Burley grew so fast that in 1933 it was big enough to elect a woman to the city council, without a second thought.

Drug school starts

TWIN FALLS — A drug investigation training school is currently being conducted for area law enforcement officers.

Sheriff Paul Corder said the school is sponsored by the Idaho Attorney General's office with the local arrangements being made by the sheriff's staff.

Seven county officers are attending the school with a number of delegates from city, county and state officials from Twin Falls, Gooding, Shoshone and Jerome Counties.

Corder said all phases of drug investigation including new laws pertaining to such cases being explained. New officers and those who have been working in enforcement for some time are attending, he said.

Instructors of the course include Gene Lee and Marie Kelley, from the attorney general's office and Bureau of Narcotics.

Mugs destroyed

SAN FRANCISCO (UPI) — About 2,000 coffee mugs bearing a facsimile of a $3 bill with an uncomplimentary picture of President Nixon have been seized and destroyed by federal agents.

Horace Gibbs, agent in charge of the Secret Service in San Francisco, said Wednesday the mugs violated federal currency laws governing "similitude" — resembling in any way the paper money of the United States.

"Even one minute corner of the bill, if it's in similitude, is usually deemed a violation," Gibbs said. "And that's regardless of the material — whether it's paper, cloth, glass or anything."

"Even leaving the picture out would not change it."

U.S. Attorney James Browning said his office has declined to prosecute in the case. "This doesn't sound like the most serious violation I've ever heard of," he said.

Hagerman taxes to show large drop this year

GOODING — Residents of the city of Gooding will have a slightly higher tax bill this year but those in Hagerman are in for a bargain when they pay their 1973 taxes.

Levies approved by the county commissioners this week show Gooding city residents will pay a total of $13.55 per $100 assessed valuation compared to $13.65 last year, but with the change of the tax ratio from 15.25 to 15.75 per cent of the true value this year will be paying a bit higher bill.

A resident of Gooding city who owns a $10,000 cash value piece of property will pay $213.57 in taxes this year compared to $208.23 a year ago.

The property owner who resides outside of the city of Gooding, but in the Gooding school and highway districts will have a bill of $132.97 this year compared to $133.31 last year on each $10,000 cash value property. These figures include the county levies, highway, school, cemetery and fire districts.

The county levy alone in Gooding County is down from $3.31 per each $100 of assessed valuation last year to $3.23 this year.

Gooding city is slightly higher at $5.45 this year, compared to $5.26 last year per $100 assessed valuation. Wendell city is slightly down and Bliss is the same and Hagerman shows a big drop from $4.28 last year to $3.41 this year with nearly each division of the city levies cut this year.

School district levies show Gooding down from $4.51 to $4.30; Wendell down from $4.11 to $3.54; Bliss, up from $4.19 to $4.26; Hagerman down from $2.94 to $2.78. Other school districts in the city this year and last year are Joint 412, Buhl, $3.61 and $4.30, and Joint 261, Jerome, $3.07 and $2.83.

Elsewhere in Gooding county, the tax bill on each $10,000 cash value home or other property would include Hagerman city resident, $163.03 this year and $174.55 last year; Hagerman rural area, $116.44 this year and $110.93 a year ago; Bliss city, $191.13 this year and $185.21 last year; Bliss rural area $136.00 this year and $131.03 last year; Wendell city, $190.00 this year and $195.10 last year; Wendell rural area, $127.84 this year and $133.94 a year ago.

Canyon court contest seen

"If they (zoners) wanted an open space zone on the rim, that's what they should have recommended," the attorney said.

"What they're doing is setting up a moratorium to hold the ground until they have the money to buy it," he said.

Under an open space designation, the county would be forced to purchase the land for public use, according to the attorney.

He said an agricultural zone would permit the county to hold up development of the rim, "then come in and zone it open space, condemn it and buy it."

"If (agricultural zone) is tantamount to a taking and the landowner should be compensated."

He said rim landowners would probably ask courts for "inverse condemnation" if the agricultural designation is adopted. "Inverse condemnation" charges a government with impeding the use of personal property and orders the government to purchase the land at an equitable price.

The attorney also said that agricultural zoning would permit "haphazard" development of the rim.

The state law on plats permits the selling of five-acre parcels in an agricultural zone, he said. The five-acre parcels could then be divided into a maximum of five one-acre tracts for houses, he said.

In such cases, the landowner "has effectively developed the land without providing streets, sewers and water — without planning," the attorney said.

Before starting court action against the zone, the attorney said, the landowners would probably file a petition with the county commissioners asking that a particular area be rezoned. If the commissioners turned down the request, the landowners would then start a group or "class" action in court, he said.

"I think a man's property rights must be considered; you've got to give him more than one alternative," the attorney said.

"There's got to be more than putting it (land) in limbo."

BLM adds member

SHOSHONE — Larry Curry is a new member of the Shoshone District, Bureau of Land Management staff.

According to O'dell Frandsen, Shoshone district manager, Larry will take over the chores of the chief division of Administration.

He is a native of Iowa, began his federal career with the Department of the Army in June, 1964, and in November, 1967, he became the administrative officer at the Mountain Home Job Corps Center and remained there until its close in 1969.

Prior to accepting the administrative officer's position, in Shoshone, he had a like position in the Cour d'Alene BLM District.

Larry and his wife, Geraldine, have five children, three of whom are still at home. Presently the Currys are looking for a home in Shoshone or surrounding vicinity.

BLM reports status of fires

SHOSHONE — The Shoshone district of the Bureau of Land Management reports an average number of fires this past season.

There were 121 fires reported and due to the excellent suppression activities of the crews, total acreage burned, 43,300, was below average, according to O'dell Frandsen, district manager.

"The single largest cause of fires this season was again man," noted Michael T. Green, public information officer for the BLM, Shoshone office.

"If one includes the fires caused by equipment, which is operated by man, they both account for 89 per cent of the fires," Green said.

The cool days, lengthening nights and higher relative humidities have tended to reduce the fire danger throughout the district. However, the danger is not eliminated, as hunters and other recreationists going into the field should use caution when making their campfires.

The majority of the fire crews have been released; however, there are still some members of the crew active. Two of the three lookout stations have been demanned, and the third, Natch Butte, south of Shoshone, will be closed in early October, depending on the weather.

The fire crews, in addition to fighting district fires, assisted Boise, Burley and Idaho Falls districts in their fire activity.

Any reports of fire or burning permit requests should be made to the district, 886-2200, Green points out. The burning permit season remains in effect until Oct. 30.

New fed law could halt funds for sewer projects

BOISE (UPI) — A state environmental protection official said Wednesday about 40 sewer construction projects in Idaho could lose funds because of new federal regulations which set priorities for financial assistance.

Dr. Lee Stokes, a Department of Environmental and Community Services official, said most of the sewer projects in Idaho have been completed and the new rules and regulations will not stop any construction.

He said the state stands to lose $1.4 million because of the regulations adopted by the Federal Environmental Protection Agency for reimbursement for sewer construction.

Stokes said the $1.9 billion federal budget for reimbursement will disperse the funds under the four following priorities:

— Those projects financed by the states.

Those given retroactive grants by the states under a federal-state matching program and no federal funds were made available.

— Those projects which don't fit into the first and second categories and did not get full federal funds at 50 per cent matching after 1966.

— Those projects which don't fit into the first and second categories and did not receive full federal funds at 30 per cent matching before 1966.

Idaho does not have any projects in the first and second priorities.

Stokes indicated that many of the communities that had the sewer projects did not fully anticipate the federal funds.

But he added that there is a chance that there will be money left after the first and second priorities are funded.

TF man charged

TWIN FALLS — David McMichael, 18, Twin Falls, was charged with possession of a controlled substance Wednesday night by Twin Falls City police.

Officers said he had been apprehended and brought to the police station on charges of petit larceny from a local grocery store. While he was being booked, officers reported a small packet of marijuana was found in his pocket.

Dietrich gets fire truck

"Incorporated town."

Mayor Clifford Davis explains that work is also underway there to establish a city park. A city block has been owned by the city for years for that purpose, but funds have been lacking to do the developing necessary. Some of the revenue sharing funds of last year and this will be used to go ahead with this project. They have received, last year and to date this year, around $7,000.

A pole has been set in the northwest corner of the block for installation of power for lights, and next spring the ground will be worked up, grass planted, pump and sprinklers put in along with some park benches and tables.

Davis said Stoddard was also the leader in seeing to it the power pole got in place this fall.

The Council hopes the one existing vacancy will be filled in the Nov. 6 elections. They have been operating with just four members for the past several months.

The council in Dietrich is filled by the "draft" method, Edwards said. There is seldom anyone who files, but people simply write in for those they want to serve.

At this time Davis, Stoddard, Edwards and Terry Costello are on the council. Both Stoddard and Edwards will be up for re-election as their two-year terms expire and the term of Davis, who is an appointed member, will also be up for election.

Vacancies have existed since the last election by a resignation of Herb Dodge, due to ill health; Doan Durfee, who moved to Alaska; Homer Anderson who moved to Shoshone and, Tony Palovch, who moved to Gooding.

Edwards has served on the council of Land since the 1940's. He doubles as treasurer for the council and Costello is the clerk.

Times-News writer

DIETRICH — The village of Dietrich is not only taking on a new look, there is a much needed extra service added this summer.

A fire engine is now ready for use, the first in village history. Mayor Clifford E. Davis said Councilman Roger Stoddard did a big share of the work in getting the fire truck equipped and in operating order.

The truck itself is one secured through the Civil Defense, an old Phillips 66 vehicle. It holds about 1,000 gallons of water.

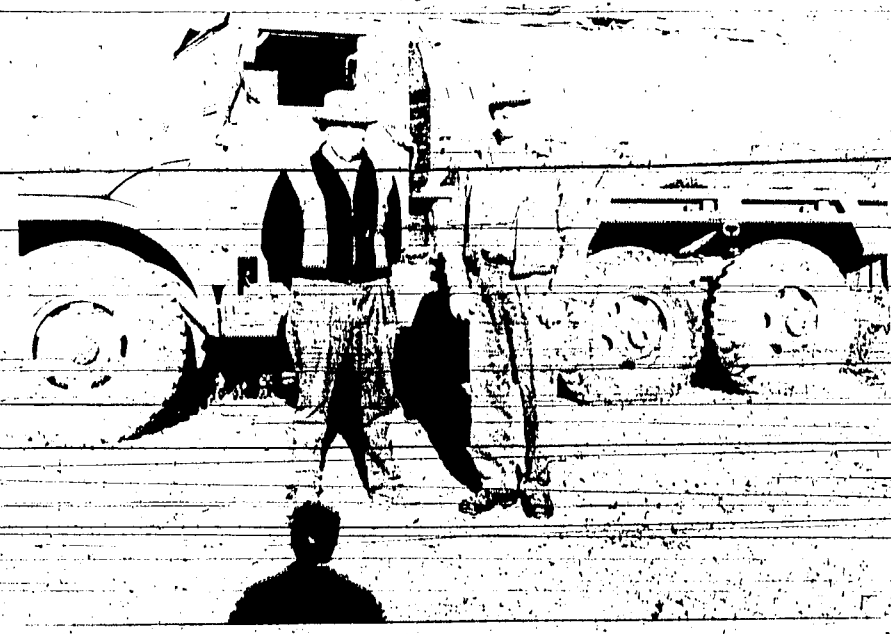

Stoddard got the pump for the truck from Boise and the tank from Pleaford, from a wrecked gasoline tank.

Council members gave the new truck a "tryout test" recently when they took it out to burn weeds and were able to control the blaze area.

Not only will the truck give added protection to property owners, it may have some desirable reflection in lower insurance premiums for residents there, the mayor said.

In other improvement projects at Dietrich, the city has continued this summer with their seal coating and mowing of roads. Overall about 16 blocks have been done the past few years and plans are to complete the entire city area, another approximate six blocks to go.

The main road in the community has been tilted for years, and a good foundation for this was laid, according to Sid Edwards, Sr., who said this work was done by a rock crusher laying a firm base. This work was done many years ago when the entire area was within the Highway district, before there was any

Rice use gaining

WASHINGTON (UPI) — Even with rice prices at record levels, American consumers may increase their use of the grain moderately during the coming year as they cut down on foods which cost even more, Agriculture Department economists said today.

Experts said nearly all of this year's record crop of 98.4 million tons — about 13 million tons more than last year — would be sold to foreign and domestic buyers.

Hearings set

WASHINGTON (UPI) — The Agriculture Department Tuesday announced it will hold four public hearings next month on 1974 sugarbeet prices and on minimum wages for sugarbeet field workers.

Under federal law, farmers who want government sugar subsidies must pay their workers wage rates at least equal to a minimum determined to be "fair and reasonable" by the Secretary of Agriculture.

The times and places for the hearings in beet-growing areas included:

- Any Arbor Mich., Oct. 10, at Weber's Inn;
- San Benito, Tex., Oct. 12, at the Community Building;
- Denver, Colo., Oct. 15, at the Federal Building;
- San Francisco, Oct. 17, at Appraisers Building.

Imports gain

WASHINGTON (UPI) — For the first time in about 40 years, the United States this year will be a net importer of nonfat dry milk, Agriculture Department economists say.

This development, noted briefly in a dairy review issued by department specialists, was produced by a combination of a sharp decline in U.S. production and a series of administration import-boosting orders. The situation is spreading gloom among many dairy leaders, who contend the administration policy is aimed at turning a growing share of the U.S. market over to foreign producers.

Agriculture Department spokesmen say the increased imports of nonfat dry milk ordered this year were needed to fill consumer demand and help put a lid on rising consumer food prices.

Leaders of the National Milk Producers Federation have charged, however, that orders allowing import of 35 million pounds of nonfat milk so far this year will discourage efforts to reverse the current downturn in domestic production.

Land meet set

BOISE (UPI) — Former Sen. Len B. Jordan, R-Idaho, will keynote an environmental and land use planning conference in Boise Oct. 18, the Idaho Farm Bureau Federation said today.

Other speakers will include James A. Bax, administrator of the Department of Environmental and Community Services; Gene Viers, Region X, Environmental Protection Agency; and Al Elguren, Leo Stokes and Bob Olson from Bax's department.

Gov. Cecil D. Andrus is scheduled to address a luncheon audience on land-use planning.

Rustling reward out

ENTERPRISE, Ore. (UPI) — The Oregon State Cattlemen's Association has posted a $1,000 reward for information leading to convictions of those involved in rustling or in slaughtering cattle illegally.

Beef price drop predicted

WASHINGTON (UPI) — John T. Dunlop, director of the Cost of Living Council, suggested Wednesday that the price of beef would go down soon at supermarkets.

Dunlop noted that cattle prices in Omaha, which were $50.75 per hundred pounds on Aug. 14, had fallen 32 per cent to $33.50 per hundredweight as of Tuesday. "We expect there should be declines soon" as the reductions work their way through the distribution chain, he said.

government's price controls — which Dunlop supervises — cut the price of beef on the hoof.

In a letter to the Agriculture Secretary Earl L. Butz and other officials, Mike Domich of Woodland predicted the price of slaughter cattle would probably drop to $30 a hundredweight by the end of the week.

"Everybody will go broke," said Domich, adding that the price of feed had dropped 9 per cent but "it was still out of proportion with beef prices. He said cattle producers were currently losing $150 per head and this will rise to $200 if the price slump continues.

Representatives of five farm organizations met in South Sioux City, Neb., Tuesday and adopted a resolution that farmers should use all means possible to "let the consumer know that beef is available in great quantity at prices considerably below the levels during the price ceilings."

Wilt jumps to San Diego as new player and coach

SAN DIEGO (UPI) — Wilt Chamberlain, saying he wanted to make San Diego the "world's best basketball team," jumped from the NBA Los Angeles Lakers Wednesday to the Conquistadors of the rival American Basketball Association.

The 7-foot-1, 24-year veteran signed a three-year pact as player-coach of the Conquistadors but declined to say how much he would be paid. It was believed he signed for about $600,000 a year.

Chamberlain, the most prolific scorer and rebounder in NBA history, said he had been discussing the move with San Diego owner Dr. Leonard Bloom for two years.

"I signed because I was assured of a good and very long future in San Diego," Chamberlain said. "I wanted to accept the challenge of making the Q's the world's best basketball team and it is the biggest challenge of my life and I accept it as that."

Chamberlain's contract with the Lakers expired this year but it contained the usual reserve option clause binding him for another season.

Lakers General Manager Pete Newell said in a statement released by his office that the Lakers "hope Wilt will have every success as a coach in San Diego" but made clear Los Anges will take "all necessary steps" to keep Chamberlain from playing for the Conquistadors.

Chamberlain said he has worked out every day but admittedly is not in "good basketball condition."

He said he will join the Q's in about seven or eight days after he fulfills personal commitments.

How much he plays with the Conquistadors will depend, he said, on the other centers on the team. He said he will talk with Bloom about acquiring a particular player he has in mind. He would not name the player.

Chamberlain succeeds K.C. Jones, former assistant Lakers

Site for new CCA college cage meet narrowed to two cities

ST. LOUIS (UPI) — A post-season basketball tournament organized to compete with Madison Square Garden's National Invitational Tournament in New York will be held next March in either St. Louis or Nashville, Tenn., it was announced Wednesday.

The new tournament, sponsored by the Conference Commissioners Association, would have the second-place teams from eight of the conferences which are members of the CCA. The nine conferences which have agreed to support the new tournament are the Big Eight, Big Ten, Pacific Eight, Missouri Valley, Western Athletic Conference, Mid-America Conference, Southwest Conference, Southeast Conference, and Southern Conference.

Whether St. Louis or Nashville has been chosen for the tournament will be known within a couple of weeks. Conference commissioners explained that they want a central location for the tournament.

Part of the desire for a new tournament stems from the NIT's habit of filling its field with eastern teams.

Chuck Neinas, commissioner of the Big Eight and spokesman for the tournament committee of the CCA, said, "The NIT is an eastern-based tournament and is sponsored by the colleges in New York. Half of the teams that take part in it are from the east."

With the conference commissioners committed to send teams to the new tournament, the NIT will not be able to invite some of the better teams from the midwest, south and west.

The new tournament will be held on four days or nights, probably at about the same time as the NCAA regionals, which in 1974 will be the third weekend in March. One doublerider will be played on each of the first three nights, with single elimination, and the championship will be played as a single game without a third-place consolation game.

importance only to the Olympic Games.

SANTO DOMINGO (UPI) — Los Angeles, unsuccessful candidate in its bid for the 1976 Olympic Games, today emerged as a possible venue for the 1975 PanAm Games when it was originally awarded to the Chilean capital of Santiago.

Santiago stepped down as the host site Tuesday at the request of the military junta, which earlier this month seized power from President Salvador Allende's Marxist regime, and now the Pan-American Sports Organization must find an alternative.

San Juan has signified its interest, but first the local Olympic Committee must receive approval from Gov. Rafael Hernandez Colon, currently on a visit to Washington, as to whether he's willing to clear the necessary public funds for the building of new stadia and improving existing facilities.

Jose Luis Arlonga, executive secretary of the Pan-American Sports Organization, speaking by telephone from Caracas, Venezuela, told Raul Bellagria, secretary of the Puerto Rican Olympic Committee, "The junta's decision has caught us by surprise."

Bellagria said Arlonga told him no official word has yet been received from Santiago, but "several cities, reacting to newspaper reports of the Chilean capital's withdrawal, have indicated they're prepared to step in as alternates providing the games are delayed six months."

Los Angeles, host for the 1932 Olympics, has the necessary facilities to stage the games, the western hemisphere's only major multi-nation amateur meeting which ranks second in

NEW YORK (UPI) — The Montreal Expos, on the verge of falling out of the see-saw National League east pennant race, Wednesday extended by one year the contract of manager Gene Muech through the 1975 season.

March 46, the Expos' only manager since 1968 and the third oldest in the majors in the point of service, has always operated on a two-year pact and has now been extended five straight years by the Expos.

"Gene's the guy for us to entrust our players to bring them along as championship calibre," said Expos' general manager Jim Fanning prior to the Montreal-New York Mets Wednesday night game. "Much of the credit for this season's great success must be attributed to Gene and his handling of our players."

No figures were announced, but it was believed March was given a raise after guiding the Expos to their best season ever this year in which they remained in the pennant race down to the final week of the season.

Tennessee hopes to beat long Auburn grid jinx on Saturday

By JIM MADDEN, UPI Sports Writer

Bill Battle has lost only five games in three years as head football coach at the University of Tennessee. Three of them, however, have come at the hands of one team — Auburn.

Well, this Saturday at Knoxville, Battle will lead his ninth-ranked Volunteers out onto the hometown sod in quest of their third victory of the season. The opposition? Thirteenth-ranked Auburn.

The oddsmakers have tabbed Tennessee a one-stouchdown favorite, but don't bet on it. If tradition holds true, this showdown of Southeastern Conference powers will be decided by one or two points — give or take either team. Just ask Bill Battle.

Elsewhere around the country, some interesting matchups are in store for college football buffs. Top-ranked Southern California is a shaky seven-point pick over No. 8 Oklahoma, Georgia also is a seven-point pick over North Carolina State, Texas is favored by two touchdowns over Southwest Conference rival Texas Tech, Iowa State is picked by seven over Arkansas, Missouri likewise rates a seven-point choice over North Carolina and UCLAs is an 11-point pick over Michigan State.

Last year's Auburn-Tennessee war saw the underdog Tigers pull off a 10-6 win and the year before, it was 10-9 Auburn. About the only difference this time around is that the Vols — and especially Battle — are not likely to take Auburn lightly.

Focal point of this year's unbeaten (2-0) Auburn squad is the quarterbacking of Wade Whitley and Rundy Walls, who alternate the directing of coach Snugg Jordan's multiple offense.

Another key is punter Roger Pruitt, who is averaging 42.5 yards per kick and has not missed a point after touchdown.

Tennessee, fresh off its 37-18 win over Army at West Point, is considered to be even better than last year's 10-2 club. Reason is the added year's experience of quarterback Comdredge Holloway and the running of senior tailback Huskel Stanback.

Stanback, who last year established himself as Tennessee's all-time single season rushing champion despite missing two games, is aiming for a 1,000-yard season.

"Huskel has been our bread-and-butter back," says Battle. "We depend upon him to carry the ball 20 or 25 times per game — he's that durable."

The Southern Cal-Oklahoma matchup should decide once and for all how potent Johnny McKay's defending national champion really are a year later. The Trojans, splintering from offensive woes in their narrowest-than-expected wins over Arkansas and Georgia Tech, can end all the speculation that they're not as good as originally believed — by putting away the Sooners.

Oklahoma, it will be recalled, was not expected to be as strong as last year after an NCAA suspension barred the Sooners from post-season activity and took away their No. 1 quarterback, Kerry Jackson. But in their first game, they rolled in typical Oklahoma fashion; 42-14 over Baylor two weeks ago.

March to remain as Expo boss

NEW YORK (UPI) — The Montreal Expos, on the verge of falling out of the see-saw National League east pennant race, Wednesday extended by one year the contract of manager Gene Muech through the 1975 season.

March 46, the Expos' only manager since 1968 and the third oldest in the majors in the point of service, has always operated on a two-year pact and has now been extended five straight years by the Expos.

"Gene's the guy for us to entrust our players to bring them along as championship calibre," said Expos' general manager Jim Fanning prior to the Montreal-New York Mets Wednesday night game. "Much of the credit for this season's great success must be attributed to Gene and his handling of our players."

No figures were announced, but it was believed March was given a raise after guiding the Expos to their best season ever this year in which they remained in the pennant race down to the final week of the season.

Cardinals' run may be year premature

ST. LOUIS (UPI) — When the St. Louis Cardinals blew a lead in their first game of the 1973 season and went on to lose 12 of their first 13, no one could believe they were that bad.

When they fought back to reach the .500 mark in June, then grabbed first place in the National League East and stayed on top for six weeks, no one could believe they were that good.

When they finally wilted in the heat of one of the closest pennant races in years, no one could believe they had stayed so high for so long.

Though all the ups and downs of the roller-coaster season Manager Red Schoendienst, in his ninth year at the helm, stuck with some young ballplayers and juggled his bullpen to try to find a winning combination. Looking toward next year, he thinks he has the nucleus of a winning ballclub.

"We've got some good-looking young kids along with our veterans," Schoendienst said. "Another year of experience will do them a lot of good."

But the Cards trailed every other major league team in homers, and only one-third of their total came at home. The opposition hit more than twice as many balls out of Busch Stadium as the Cardinals did.

Inability to hit with men on base also hurt the Cardinals. Joe Torre, the league's leading hitter two years ago with a .363 average, had a .287 average with only 69 runs batted in.

Torre was bothered by a recurring shoulder inflammation that put him out of action for the last week of the season.

A series against the Mets during the first weekend in August was the turning point downward. Veteran new Bob Gibson injured his knee while running the bases and was out for the rest of the year, and Rick Wise didn't win another game for nearly seven weeks.

The Cards pulled .400 ball in the last six weeks of the season and couldn't stay on top of a division in which it seemed as if nobody wanted to win.

There were bright spots. Mike Tyson and Ken Reitz came through at shortstop and third base, and Bernie Carbo gave the lineup some left-handed hitting punch while playing solid defense in right field. The bullpen was usually strong, with Diego Segui, Orlando Pena, and Al Hrabosky proving to be effective stoppers.

The most consistent performers were Lou Brock, a mainstay in the Cardinal lineup for 10 years, and catcher Ted Simmons, who missed only one game and raised his average into the top-10 in the league. The 34-year-old Brock once again hit near the .300 mark and came close to his career high of 74 stolen bases to extend his major-league record to nine straight years with 50 or more thefts.

For next year, Schoendienst is definite in his needs. "Like everybody, we're looking for a starting pitcher, preferably left-handed," he said, "adding that some power, also, would be welcome."

With a young outfield like the three Cruz brothers, Jose, Hector and Tommy, plus Luis Melendez and Bake McBride and veterans like Ted Sizemore and Alan Foster to provide stability, the Cardinals should be able to make the 1974 East Division race interesting again.

"In his statement, Newell said, 'The Lakers feel a sense of loss with the departure of Wilt Chamberlain. We wish him well.'

"We hope Wilt will have every success as a coach in San Diego and certainly appreciate his many contributions to past Lakers successes," Newell said.

"As for his status as a player, the Lakers' legal position is quite clear. Chamberlain has a binding contract with the Lakers for the 1973-74 season and the Lakers will take all necessary steps to prevent him from playing with any other club than the Lakers."

Newell added that the Lakers were "proud" that they had been able to obtain center Elmora Smith from the Buffalo Braves and sign him to a contract. He described Smith as "the NBA's great promising young center."

FORECAST FOR FRIDAY, SEPTEMBER 28, 1973

ARIES (Mar 21 to Apr 19) Good day for business and practical matters and getting everything in the best order possible. Show you are a valued partner. Reach fine understanding with male.

TAURUS (Apr 20 to May 20) Don't force an associate to do what you think best, or you get stiff opposition. Try to make it a matter of give-and-take for best results. Relax tonight.

GEMINI (May 21 to June 21) Center energies on duties and avoid new outlet about which you know practically nothing. Show more cooperation with co-workers.

MOON CHILDREN (June 22 to July 21) You are highly creative today and can accomplish a great deal if you don't go off on some tangent. Don't permit others to get you off beam.

LEO (July 22 to Aug 21) Do thoughtful things for kin to show you are loyal and devoted. Get rid of bad habits that have brought disharmony. Control temper.

VIRGO (Aug 22 to Sept 22) Care in motion is important, or you could lose much. Be sure to think before you speak, and take a little time to rest if tired. Watch diet.

LIBRA (Sept 23 to Oct 22) A good day to find ways to increase income. Contact experts, read newspaper for opportunities. Some business expert can be most helpful now.

SCORPIO (Oct 23 to Nov 21) Make the most of any contacts you may make today and be sure to meet others' expectations. Out to the social and state your aims to those who can assist you.

SAGITTARIUS (Nov 22 to Dec 21) Study progress made toward goals and decide if they are the right ones to pursue. Get information from experts. Use intuitive hunches. Evening can be happy socially.

CAPRICORN (Dec 22 to Jan 20) A new attitude toward good friends brings progress, greater mutual success. You can now make a new, most successful friend who aids your success in the future.

AQUARIUS (Jan 21 to Feb 18) Keep busy at some new project that interests you greatly. Although the situation could be tense, keep your credit high and be a good manager.

PISCES (Feb 19 to Mar 20) Find right sources of information for making plans you have more successful. Impress on associates that you will more than meet your part of any bargain.

IF YOUR CHILD IS BORN TODAY - he or she will be one of those dynamic young people who has to be taught early to cooperate more with others if the fine success possible in this chart is to be fully realized, otherwise your child will lose his or her temper with others and lose out in alliances. Give chores to perform early that will teach to work and to complete whatever has once been started. Religion early is a must. Also sports to teach fair play.

Korn in Germany means whiskey. Shortly after World War II, a U.S. Army supply officer asked a batch of German what they wanted most, and Korn is what they said. So somehow the old-boy reports resulted in the shipment of tens of thousands of gallons of unfamiliar bakers managed to make exceedingly bad bread out of it. Lot of those Germans were zealous. They wanted Korn! Real Korn.

The women in which occupation are most likely to get married? So inquires a feminine client. The statistics make that one easy to answer, young lady. Unquestionably, it's the homop economic teacher in the small town school.

Quick, what's "enervating" mean? Put that query to an 10 citizens and nine will say "atronghtoning." Why is a mystery. Actually means, weakening.

GIRDLE
This is true. The old girl went boiling into the corset shop at Wanamaker's in New York City, waving a girdle. The department head, a distinguished looking fellow, stepped up, and said, "You wish to return it, madam? What's wrong? Doesn't it fit?" She yelled, "Fit! How could it possibly fit!" She pointed to the label. "Made expressly for John Wanamaker."

It has been determined that 28 out of every 100 unmarried men over age 17 sleep nude.

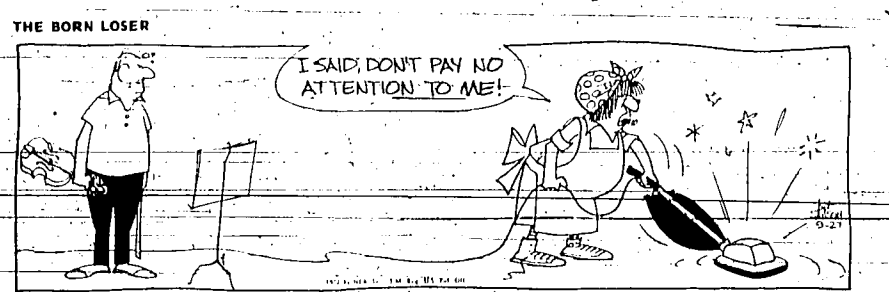

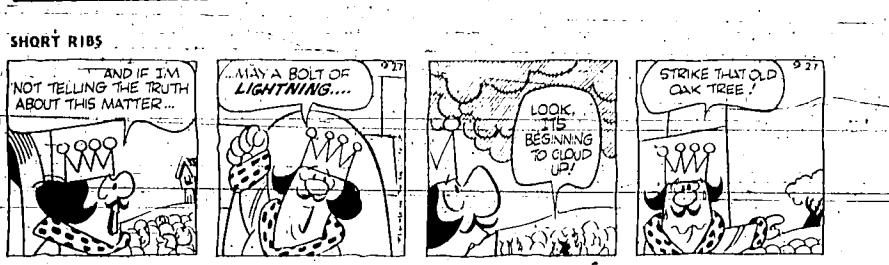

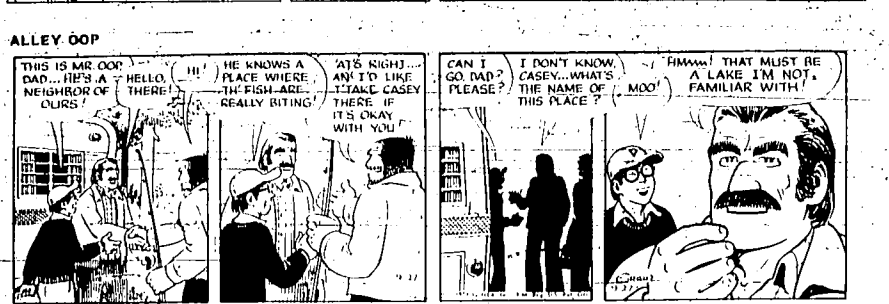

Those lunches fixed at home to be eaten at work are on the increase. In fact, during the last five years, the brown baggers have multiplied by about 15 per cent, it is said.

Whittier's mother looks fairly serene in that painting of his, does she not? But you should have seen her the day she caught the parlor maid peering in the nude for her boy Jim. History records that she shook, rattled and rolled.

TO GROW HAIR
Young lady, if you want your hair to grow most luxuriantly, never cut it except during the time of a new moon. Do you believe that? Neither do I. But it was devoutly believed by numerous girls for many generations in England. They thought that hair, cut at the dark of the moon would tend to become prematurely gray. They also thought a haircut in March would give a girl a headache.

Can you name the only U.S. president who did not use the personal pronoun "I" in his inaugural address? Teddy Roosevelt.

A widely known firm which manufactures men's vested suits reports it uses just about 145 different pieces of fabric in each. That's more than 15,000 square inches of fabric; to be specific. With 565 yards of thread. Plus 16 buttons.

Bear future dims
WASHINGTON (UPI)—The grizzly bear population in Yellowstone National Park may be faced with extinction because of a new government policy to shut down garbage dumps inside the park...

The Fund for Animals Inc., a privately financed organization, alleged that the National Park Service has attempted to suppress a study which would remedy the present National Park Service program and predicts dire consequences for the grizzly if it is continued.

Dr. John Craighead, an authority on grizzly bears from the University of Montana who helped head up the study, confirmed to UPI that it was submitted to the government in July and that it projects a "pretty dim" future for North America's largest land mammal.

A Park Service spokesman, while not denying existence of the report, said he had no direct knowledge of it. He also said the latest survey indicates the grizzly bear population in Yellowstone National Park is "very healthy" and that the population apparently increased this year for the first time in several years.

The Park Service policy attacked by the report involves the decision to close down garbage dumps in Yellowstone and to remove, and eventually kill, any bear which persists in returning to campfires. Craighead and his brother, Dr. Frank Craighead, had recommended a 10-year phase-out of the dumps in order to wean the bears away from a source of food to which they had been accustomed during the past century.

Approval urged on direct vote

WASHINGTON (UPI) — Democratic National Chairman Robert Strauss and Sen. Robert Dole, the former GOP national chairman, called Wednesday for abolishing the electoral college system and replacing it with a direct, popular election of the President.

Testifying together at a Senate subcommittee hearing, Strauss and Dole said the time was long overdue for ending the present system. They urged approval of a reform proposal for the direct election of President and vice president, although they differed over the question of how to decide an election when neither candidate won a majority of the vote.

The subcommittee is considering a constitutional amendment that would throw out the electoral college system, elect the President solely on the basis of a popular vote, and allow a special joint session of

Fully equipped

SAN FRANCISCO (UPI) — Four call girls arrested in a downtown hotel when they met four policemen posing as businessmen were equipped for any financial transaction.

Capt. Gerald Shaughnessy said the girls entered the officers' rooms Tuesday and carried machines which were to be used for credit cards.

Court dates set

BOISE (UPI) — The Idaho Supreme Court will hold oral arguments Oct. 2 on an appeal from Bunker Hill Co. on the state mine inspector's right to employer representatives during mine safety inspections.

The case is one of nine the court will hear during its fall session in Lewiston.

First Judicial District Judge James G. Towels ordered Bunker Hill to provide the employee representatives at the request of the inspector.

Hughes gives political funds

LOS ANGELES (UPI) — Richard Danner, a Hughes aide who is now general manager of the Hughes-owned Sands Hotel in Las Vegas, Nev., gave Rebozo the first suitcase at the Western White House in 1969, Maheu said.

Maheu said he and Danner gave Rebozo the second suitcase in 1970 at Key Biscayne, Fla., where Rebozo has a home.

He said he gave Humphrey $50,000 in cash during the 1968 presidential campaign, handing it to Humphrey as the vice president sat in a limousine outside the Century Plaza Hotel in Los Angeles.

London police hunt arsonist

LONDON (UPI) — Police Wednesday hunted an arsonist at London Airport who touched off a major fire in the new intercontinental terminal. One officer said the suspected arsonist "could kill."

"Literally hundreds of innocent travelers could be his victims," the officer told newsmen at the scene of Wednesday's fire, one of a series at the airport in recent weeks.

Wednesday's fire sent about 900 passengers fleeing from the new terminal building, serving flights to the United States and

'Lot' of problems

MIAMI (UPI) — Carlos Gonzalez and Alvin Rose knew they were going to be neighbors. But they never expected to find themselves on the same lot.

Gonzalez moved into his newly built, $52,000 home this week, only to learn it had been built on Rose's lot. His lot stands vacant next door.

Gonzalez thought the situation was funny at first. But now he is worried about how the problem will be settled.

"I have nothing against the builder," Gonzalez said. "An error has been made. After all, we are all human."

Legally, Rose is entitled to the house on his lot, even though Gonzalez paid for it. But Gonzalez' lawyers said Rose does not plan to take over the house in which Gonzalez, his wife, and two children have been living for the past three weeks.
