Shoshone crossing crash kills woman

SHOSHONE — An elderly Jerome woman died this morning in a train-car collision at a crossing in downtown Shoshone.
Pronounced dead at the scene was Lenora N. McMahon, 75.
According to police, Mrs. McMahon was killed when the car she was driving was hit by an eastbound freight train at the Apple Street crossing.
The fatality was the second from a train-car accident in downtown Shoshone in less than two weeks.
Police said Mrs. McMahon, a long-time Jerome resident who moved to Boise two weeks ago, was travelling south on Apple Street when her car was struck by an eastbound freight train.
The accident occurred about 9:45 a.m., police said.
Mrs. McMahon's small dog was also killed in the collision.
According to Lincoln County Sheriff B. J. Anderson, a crow bar was used to pry the crumpled wreckage away from Mrs. McMahon's body.

Public demands canyon rim guard

By DAVID HORSMAN
Times-News Writer
TWIN FALLS — A public mandate to protect the Snake River Canyon rim surfaced at a public county zoning hearing here Tuesday night.
But there was sharp disagreement how the county commissioners should get the job done.
The commissioner had called the hearing to consider a proposed zoning ordinance which had not included mention of rim protection.
About 325 persons attended the hearing at the College of Southern Idaho.
Most of those testifying asked the commissioners to delay their vote on the ordinance, to "back up and reflect" on the "piece-of-magic" that is the canyon rim, as Dr. Harry Brumbach put it.
The proposed ordinance would allow development of about 10 miles of the rim north of the Twin Falls City.
County Commission Chairman William Chancey today said the commissioners would make a decision on the ordinance "within the next few weeks."
"We will talk about the public input and review the tapes," he said. Testimony at Tuesday's hearing was tape recorded.
Asked his impression of the hearing, Chancey said, "I was glad to see some of the (rim) landowners speak up. It's good to have the pros and cons of everybody involved."
All comment at the hearing favored preservation of the rim.
The rim landowners asked that the preservation be accomplished with "just compensation" for their holdings.
"We better fetch out our wallets and do the job," Brumbach said.
He also supported a one year moratorium on rim developments while methods of preservation are studied.
A moratorium was urged by many of those testifying. Most thought the holding action was necessary while the ordinance is reconsidered.
William Howard, general manager of the Times-News, made a surprise offer to the commissioners:
He said the newspaper would publish necessary changes in the ordinance with no charge to county taxpayers.

Cambodian attack fails

PHNOM PENH (UPI) — Communist insurgents laying down heavy fire from a Buddhist pagoda today halted a government attack by tank-like armored personnel carriers six miles south of Phnom Penh. A Communist counterattack then routed a nearby government armored support column.
The nearness to the capital emphasized the steady tightening of a Communist noose around the capital, with clashes reported on three sides of Phnom Penh.

Hijack attempt deflected

AMSTERDAM (UPI) — Royal Dutch Airlines pilot Capt. Hein Kogel, 39, and a stewardess foiled a hijack attempt Tuesday, disarming a gun-wielding West German.
Using a "pre-arranged anti-hijack procedure" which was not determined, they disarmed Josef Strenner, 35, who tried to commandeer the airliner in an attempt to force the resignation of Chancellor Willy Brandt.

Black leads Atlanta vote

ATLANTA (UPI) — Atlanta, which once billed itself as "a city too busy to hate," moved a step closer to naming the first black mayor of a major Southern city Tuesday as Vice Mayor Maynard Jackson ran far ahead of a field of 11 candidates.
Jackson got 47 per cent of the vote and immediately became the favorite to beat Mayor Sam Mimsell in an Oct. 16 runoff.

Stroke fells writer Lippmann

NEW YORK (UPI) — Walter Lippmann, 84, giant of American journalism and vice winner of the Pulitzer prize, suffered a stroke at his home early today.
Lippmann was rushed to New York Hospital where he was later in "critical condition."
He had been in poor health following a heart attack about a year ago. He retired seven years ago.

Church amendment passes

WASHINGTON (UPI) — The U. S. Senate Tuesday voted 68-23 to pass an amendment sponsored by Sen. Frank Church, D-Idaho, to cut the U. S. foreign aid program by a quarter of a billion dollars a year.
The amendment would plug a loophole in existing laws allowing the administration to use up to a quarter of a billion dollars in foreign aid without going through the normal authorization and appropriations process in Congress.

State shifts on Burley vice

By DAVID ESPO
Times-News writer
"BURLEY" — The Department of Law Enforcement has changed its mind about helping investigate houses of prostitution in Burley.
Local authorities are unimpressed, however. They say the job was done months ago with local funds — after the state department turned down their request for help.
Cassia County Prosecutor Gordon Nielson said he was offered investigative help in a telephone call Monday from Richard Cade.
Cade, the department's Liquor Law Enforcement Division head, also called Burley City Police Chief Ken Barry and Cassia County Sheriff Ray Mitchell with similar offers.
Nielson said he told Cade he had "already taken care of it. We did that ourselves."
Barry and Mitchell said he had relayed the same information to Cade.
But Nielson also said he had contacted Cade earlier this year and had requested assistance in closing down houses of prostitution that were allegedly operating in the city.
Nielson said "we asked them for help months ago and they never helped us." He added, "we had asked for help from Cade's office last spring and they said they couldn't take part in prostitution investigations. That they didn't do it."
Nielson also said he had been informed by Cade in his telephone conversation Monday a department change in policy prompted his telephone calls.
Cade confirmed in a telephone interview Tuesday Nielson's version of a past request for investigative help from the local authorities and his subsequent rejection. But he said there had been "no formal change in policy."

Newsman fired for TF council try

TWIN FALLS — Twin Falls television newsman Dick Tuininga was fired Tuesday night after he told his boss he intended to seek election to the City Council.
Tuininga quoted television station general manager Harold Hirte as telling him "You cannot run for the City Council, I forbid it."
Hirte said today he had fired Tuininga, the station's news director for the past two and a half years, because "I do not feel that a newsman can sit on the City Council and honestly disseminate the news to the people of the Magic Valley."
Tuininga, 31, who said he would file candidacy papers with the city clerk to qualify for the November election ballot, was appointed to the council to fill a vacancy created by Mike Gray's resignation last month.
At the time of his appointment, he indicated he would seek the remaining two years of the term at the polls.
Tuininga said he would appeal his firing if he had the legal right to do so. "If I have the legal right to, yes, I would appeal it," he said. "I don't like being discriminated against just because I am a newsman."
The councilman said he and Hirte has been discussing his position with the council since his appointment a month ago.
He had never indicated to anyone prior to last night that he would terminate me if I filed. I had assumed perhaps he wasn't in favor of it."
Hirte said Tuininga was "strong in his conviction that he wants to run for the City Council. I just don't feel that anyone on the news media can sit there... there will be some conflicts of interest."
Hirte said he regarded a newsman as someone who "works 24 hours a day."
Tuininga said he had covered a story last night, and returned to the station from the College of Southern Idaho where a county zoning meeting was being held.
He met with Hirte at the station and "at three minutes to 10 he fired me," Tuininga said. The evening newscast, which begins at 10 p.m. and which he prepared earlier in the evening, was read in its entirety by another station newsman, Tuininga said.

Paul man cleared Agnew move 'proper'

BOISE — A federal district court jury in Boise has acquitted a Paul man of charges of federal income tax evasion.
Darwin P. Nelbaur, 45, a Paul farmer, who was charged with two counts of tax evasion involving his 1968 and 1967 income tax returns and a third count of filing a false federal income tax return for 1968, was acquitted according to his attorney, J. Jay Bullock, Salt Lake City.
Nelbaur was indicted by a federal grand jury Feb. 9, 1973. Bullock said the evidence presented to the grand jury was accumulated by the Internal Revenue Service during an investigation which began July 7, 1969. The 12-member U. S. District court jury found Nelbaur innocent on each of the three counts.
During the trial which began Sept. 24 and continued to Monday, 30 witnesses were called by the federal government and 67 exhibits were introduced.
The jury began deliberating at 1 p.m. Monday and returned the verdict of innocent shortly after 5 p.m. Bullock said.

Threat delays Segretti's tale

WASHINGTON (UPI) — Donald H. Segretti, his testimony interrupted by a bomb threat, told the Senate Watergate Committee today that presidential aide Dwight Chapin hired him to conduct political sabotage on Democratic hopefuls last year.
The freckled, diminutive Segretti testified that he received $45,000 in salary and expenses for his campaign, which he said he mounted in "about half a dozen" states, principally those which conducted Democratic presidential primaries.
He said Chapin, an old friend from college days and President Nixon's appointments secretary at the time, hired him late in 1971 to play "pranks" on Democratic hopefuls. He said Chapin often told him exactly what to do.
Chairman Sam J. Ervin, D-N.C., abruptly adjourned the hearing shortly after 11 a.m. EDT until early afternoon "very much against my will" after being informed by police that there had been a telephoned bomb threat at the Senate Caucus Room where the hearings are being held.
The chief committee counsel, Samuel Dash, said there had been other bomb threats reported to police before "but we never had one taken so seriously before."
Segretti, who said he once was a registered Democrat, testified he used the name "Don Morris" when calling the White House to talk to Chapin.

Jury under news ban

BALTIMORE (UPI) — Federal judge Walter E. Hoffman issued special instructions to grand jurors today, decrying news leaks on the supposedly secret investigation of alleged wrongdoing against Vice President Spiro T. Agnew.
The judge cautioned jurors to disregard the news reports.
"It would be a tragedy to the cause of the administration of justice if grand jurors returned an indictment merely because the jurors may have heard or seen comments by the news media," Hoffman said.

US border patrol shoots smugglers

JACUMBA, Calif. (UPI) — Border patrolmen alerted by Vietnam-type intruder sensors, tracked down a human pack chain of Mexicans carrying marijuana through the darkness Tuesday and fought a gunbattle less than 400 yards north of the border.

Three marijuana-pickers were killed and one border-patrolman was wounded. A man believed to be waiting to receive the marijuana was arrested.

The rest of the band, believed to number about seven, fled back across the border, eluding pursuit through the rugged, scrub-covered mountains about 70 miles east of San Diego.

Police in Tecate, on the Mexican side of the border, reported capturing a man believed to be one of the fleeing smugglers, and said that three of those who escaped may have been wounded by the U.S. officers' gunfire.

The wounded officer, Norman Barry, 31, was struck in the side by a .22-caliber bullet, which skimmed around his chest along a rib, without breaking the rib or entering the chest cavity. He was released from Scripps Memorial Hospital in San Diego after treatment.

Barry said that electronic sensors planted along the border had alerted the Border Patrol Friday and Saturday that large groups were illegally crossing the line in the Jewel Valley area west of Jacumba.

Such sensors were used in Vietnam to detect Communist troop movements, and have since been brought into use along the U.S.-Mexico border to detect the movements of dope smugglers and illegal aliens.

Monday night, the sensors again sounded the alarm, Barry said, eight patrolmen in two cars sped to the scene. About four miles north of the border they found a Cadillac parked on a dirt road with about 500 pounds of marijuana in the trunk, they said.

The driver, Felix Milanoz Morlin, a Mexican citizen, was arrested.

Near the Cadillac they found a foot trail leading across the border, they said. They staked out location about 300 yards north of the four-strand wire fence that marks the international boundary at this point.

The Mexicans came walking through the darkness before dawn, totting bags of marijuana on their backs, the officers said Barry waited until they were within 25 feet of him before flashing a light on them.

The smugglers began shooting, he said, and he was hit. The other patrolmen opened fire with pistols and shotguns from positions flanking the smugglers, killing three, and after a brief shootout the survivors fled south, he said.

Murder suspects arrested

GREELEY, Colo. (UPI) — Two murder suspects who escaped from the Utah State Prison were in jail here today on a battery of felony charges ranging from possessing firearms to assault.

Police positively identified the pair as William A. Sampley, 28, and Dennis R. Baker, 27, who broke out of the Utah prison early Monday.

Weld County sheriff's deputies said the escapees burglarized a house in Cheyenne, Wyo., assaulted an occupant of the house, and fled with a cache of weapons.

Cheyenne police put out a bulletin on the burglars, and they were arrested in Weld County on local charges of eluding a police officer and reckless driving following a high-speed chase.

Wyoming authorities said today they would begin extradition proceedings immediately on their felony charges against the pair. Utah authorities have also placed a formal hold on Sampley and Baker for escape.

Salt Lake County Sheriff's Capt. N.D. Hayward said if the two men are prosecuted in Wyoming or Colorado, Utah will await the outcome of those cases before asking for their returns.

Demo party treasurer interested in Gem seat

BOISE (UPI) — Mel Morgan, Democratic Party treasurer for Idaho, says he is again interested in seeking the state party chairmanship.

Morgan made the comment Tuesday after meeting with Gov. Cecil D. Andrus.

Morgan had withdrawn his name as a potential candidate because he was angry about a drug investigation in Pocatello which named him as a suspect.

Morgan, who was investigated by the bureau of narcotics an organized crime division under the control of Attorney General W. Anthony Park, was cleared of any involvement after he voluntarily submitted to a polygraph test.

"I would be interested in it," Morgan said of the party chairmanship.

Democratic State Chairman Joe McCarter, Corral, said last week he wanted to resign to spend more time ranching, but he added he would not leave the position until a replacement was found.

Andrus said after the meeting he has confidence in Morgan and praised him for the job he has done as state party treasurer.

The governor called the meeting between the two ranking party officials "very amiable" and said they discussed party business.

Morgan at one point was angry with Andrus because he could not get to see him when Morgan learned he was a suspect in the state drug investigation.

Morgan, who has been highly critical of the state drug investigation unit, received an apology from Park when it was learned he was not involved in the suspected Pocatello drug traffic.

TV set, money stolen

TWIN FALLS — Larry Clapper, 170 Monroe St., told police here Tuesday someone entered his home while he was on vacation and took a color television set valued at $880.

He said he left for a vacation in San Francisco in July and returned Tuesday. Relatives were in his home Sept. 16 and reported the set was there and on Sept. 17 found and repaired a broken window. They saw the set was missing but believed other relatives might have been using it while the owners were away.

City police are also investigating reports of a theft of money from the cash register at Crowley Pharmacy.

Bob Crowley, manager, told officers someone took between $30 and $40 from the cash register Tuesday between 2:30 and 5 p.m.

Burley awards contract

BURLEY — Contract for installation of storm sewers in the Highland and Suburban subdivisions was awarded Monday night by the Burley city council to PMF Inc., Twin Falls.

The firm submitted a bid of $104,280.36 before an earlier bid opening. City officials said the firm will be able to begin construction within three weeks, moving equipment to Burley from a project it is now completing in Salmon.

City council members also voted to participate in an advertising campaign to encourage electrical power users to conserve power in all possible ways. Guy Hughes, public utility specialist with Bonneville Power Administration, told the council if users cooperate the BPA hopes to be able to reduce power use by 7.5 per cent.

He also suggested the city might turn off every other street light on Overland Avenue and forego the Christmas lighting this year. Business buildings could turn off lights when not open for business and further reduce demands, he said.

John Christian, head of the Burley city electrical department, suggested the city set an example for other power users.

"We as the city must take steps before we can ask the public to do so," he said.

He estimated the city could save 200,000 kw of power by not using outdoor Christmas lights. This is about the same amount of energy used by 200 homes, he said.

The city voted to join in the advertising campaign with $100. Christian said if power is reduced it will probably mean a rate increase for users in the area.

Vandigrift Construction Co. advised the council it will hold open a bid it submitted for the Northside Sewer Project for 30 days. The bid was the lowest of several received but all bids exceeded the city's budgeted amount for the project.

Mike Anglen, project engineer, advised the city there may be another $60,000 to $70,000 available for the project through the Environmental Protection Agency.

This would still not be adequate to cover the chlorination plant for the project, he said.

In other action the council, acting on a recommendation for revocation of the license for Joe's Taxi Co., approved an order to show cause why the permit should not be voided. Chief of Police Ken Berry recommended the council revoke the firm's license for non-compliance with the city ordinance.

The council approved the purchase of the former Ranch Bonita Cafe property adjacent to the Burley municipal golf course for use in connection with the golf facility. The price of $19,800 was approved.

Polling places were approved Monday night for the Nov. 6 municipal election. They will be the same as in the 1971 election.

Libraries given alert

TWIN FALLS — Library officials have alerted librarians and trustees to the loss of federal grant.

Arlan call, Twin Falls public librarian and chairman of the Public Library division of the Idaho Library Association, and Mrs. Mary Jane Kinney, chairman of the trustees division of the IIA and local library trustee, have completed a tour of the state to discuss the fiscal picture.

They discussed state funding for the state library as well as legislation concerning libraries which has been proposed for the legislative session in January.

According to Mrs. Kinney, the legislative goals for 1974 will be to provide legal structure for regional library systems and increased state aid grant, totaling $500,000 to fund the systems.

The current draft of the proposed library legislation essentially provides a mechanism to formalize the regional library systems which have gradually developed in the last 10 years, she said.

The act would provide a method by which library boards may join together in regional library systems to provide improved library services. It would provide that boundaries for library regions be made by the Idaho State Library board, provide definitions, and give the regional board of directors the power to govern the system.

The bill would state powers and duties of the regional board that provides for the financing and administration of the regional library system, and provide for addition to or withdrawal from a regional system.

Mrs. Kinney reports that the 1973-74 President's budget lists library programs for "zero" funding, and this will mean a loss of almost $500,000 to Idaho. In order to maintain the major inter-library loan functions of the Regional Center, State Aid has been shifted to this area. If federal funds are again distributed to the states for library programs, most will go to Idaho's Regional Center libraries, one of which is Twin Falls.

2 Burley women get sentences

TWIN FALLS — Two Burley women, charged with burglary in the theft of clothing from the Mayfair Shop, appeared in fifth District Court for sentencing before Judge Theron W. Ward.

Judge Ward sentenced Vickie Curial, Burley, to the jurisdiction of the state board of corrections for a period not to exceed five years, and suspended the sentence to 120 days after which she may return to the court for probation providing her action has been satisfactory.

Endurance ride set Saturday

TWIN FALLS — Entries are continuing to come in for the first annual Diamond Field Jack endurance ride set for Saturday in the South Hills area.

They will be following the trail of Diamond Field Jack, accused murderer, who would have had to make the 34 mile ride in about five hours time to have committed the murder of two shepherders and have been seen at the points along the route where he was seen on the day of the murder.

Robert Harney, co-chairman, said those taking part in the ride must have their horses inspected by veterinarians Friday at the starting point of the race.

Cash prizes of $500 will be given winners in several divisions of the ride. All breeds of horses may be entered although the Appaloosa breeders of the area are sponsoring the historic event.

He said veterinarians will be at Crockett Meadows at about 1 p.m. Friday to inspect the horses at the Crockett Meadows south of Hansen on the Hoek Creek Road.

A barbecue will be served all riders Friday following the veterinarian examinations, and a dinner will be held at Jackpot following completion of the event.

Motion for bail okayed for Dayley

TWIN FALLS — Fifth Judicial District Judge James M. Cunningham granted a motion for bail to be set for John Stanley Dayley, 29, now in the Idaho State Prison following conviction on robbery and resisting an officer.

Dayley was found guilty by a district court jury and sentenced Feb. 13, to the Idaho State Prison.

Dayley was shot by a city officer in the course of attempts to arrest him.

He was charged with robbing Shelby's Market of $6,098 Oct. 2, 1972, and of pointing a gun at a city police officer who was attempting to apprehend him outside of the store following the robbery.

Burglaries probed

TWIN FALLS — City police are investigating burglaries of the Mountain States Mobile Homes office and of the Fearless Farris service station.

A window was broken from a trailer at the mobile home sales lot which serves as office headquarters. Officers said the break in occurred between 7:30 p.m. Monday and 9 a.m. Tuesday. About $20 damage was done and $1 in small change taken from a pop machine.

At the Fearless Farris station entry was made by unknown means and about $40 in change and currency taken from the firm's safe.

Gasoline cost up

POCATELLO, Idaho (UPI) - Gasoline prices at most major dealers in Pocatello rose at least two cents per gallon in the last week.

The increase was granted by the Cost of Living Council in an effort to get service stations open again after shutdowns in several states.

Dealers were allowed to jump prices according to May 15 rates, about 2.5 cents per gallon.

The increase was granted by the Cost of Living Council in an effort to get service stations open again after shutdowns in several states.

In no solution to this prolonged and frustrating problem, the letter said.

"We feel that advisers closest to you now have determined that there is nothing you can do to keep your sacred promise to us and have decided that the time has come to sweep this problem under the rug."

The letter concluded with a request for a personal meeting with the president by league representatives to discuss the MIA situation.

Tax reform urged

WASHINGTON (UPI) - Liberal Democrats in Congress have adopted a new strategy for their perennial effort to enact "a down payment on tax reform."

Defeated in both houses by narrow margins last June, this time they predict victory.

Rather than propose an array of tax reforms and provoke the united opposition of corporations and wealthy taxpayers, they will focus on a single proposal - an attempt to increase the "minimum tax."

The "minimum tax," enacted in 1969 with the purpose of trying to make certain that every person with substantial income pays at least some tax, is sometimes called "the millionaire's tax" since it affects only wealthy people.

It is a 10 per cent tax on "preferential income" - income which is untaxed or taxed at less than full rates because of preferences, or loopholes, in the tax laws for certain types of income.

A taxpayer with $100,000 worth of preference income is permitted to deduct the amount of taxes he owes on his non-preference, ordinary income and subtract another $30,000. He then owes a 10 per cent tax on what is left.

The tax reform proposal would eliminate the $30,000 exemption and the deduction of taxes owed and substitute a graduated scale, ranging from 7 to 35 per cent, for the flat 10 per cent tax rate.

At a news conference Tuesday, sponsors predicted success. They included Sen. Edward M. Kennedy, D-Mass., and Reps. Charles A. Vanik, D-Ohio, Henry Reuss, D-Wis., Brock Adams, D-Wash., John E. Moss, D-Calif., and Frank Thompson Jr., D-N.J.

The group said in a statement, "We hope that comprehensive tax reform will be considered as soon as possible. But until then, we want to make a down payment on tax reform right now by strengthening the minimum tax."

Reuss estimated the revision of the minimum tax could bring in $4 billion in additional revenue.

Charges denied

WASHINGTON (UPI) - Elliot Roosevelt, son of President Franklin D. Roosevelt, today "completely and categorically" denied charges that he offered a convicted securities swindler $100,000 to assassinate the prime minister of the Bahamas.

Roosevelt, in written testimony to be given to the permanent investigations subcommittee, also called testimony accusing him of involvement in stolen securities transactions "vicious lies" and said the two men who made the allegations before the subcommittee had "perjured themselves."

Roosevelt, a former mayor of Miami Beach, flew to Washington from his home in Lisbon, Portugal, to answer charges made last month by Louis P. Mustrianni, who is cooperating in a government probe of the stolen securities racket.

Mustrianni, who is cooperating in a government probe of the stolen securities racket, has been in protective custody under an eight-year prison sentence for stock swindling.

China scores USSR, US

UNITED NATIONS (UPI) — China denounced the Soviet Union and the United States in a stinging U.N. speech Tuesday and charged the two superpowers were locked in a "fierce" scramble for world domination.

Chinese Vice Foreign Minister Chiao Kuan-hue told the world body, "We consider that the characteristic of the present situation is one of great disorder throughout the world and not tranquility."

In a wide-ranging speech that made references to the Indian-Pakistan war and the military coup in Chile, the Chinese envoy attacked both the United States and the Soviet Union, but reserved his strongest criticism for Moscow.

Kleindienst denies Texas stock fraud

DALLAS (UPI) — Former U.S. Attorney General Richard Kleindienst told a federal judge Tuesday the Nixon administration did not manipulate the federal prosecution of the Texas stock fraud scandal in such a manner as to discredit Democratic politicians in Texas.

Kleindienst said at the time of the investigation and the prosecution of the stock fraud case, he was so busy with other matters in the Justice Department he did not remember much of what went on.

"He answered many questions saying 'I really don't know' or 'I don't recall that, but if it's in my memo, it must be so.'"

He said he remembered calling presidential counselor Anne Armstrong of Texas, then co-chairman of the GOP Na-

Chile military junta warns industrialists

SANTIAGO (UPI) — The ruling military junta warned Chile's industrialists Tuesday against taking advantage of last month's coup to short-change their workers.

Gen. Oscar Bonilla, the four-man junta's interior minister, said the armed forces demanded "the respect of employers for their workers and the contracts in effect."

"There are people who have misunderstood what is happening in this country and they have made the mistake of believing the time has come to turn back the clock," Bonilla said. "They are very mistaken."

Bonilla told newsmen the junta, which ousted Marxist President Salvador Allende Sept. 11, backed justice for both employers and employees and "will not accept arbitrary firings."

He also warned Chilean exiles who left during Allende's three-year-old regime against running back and attempting an "economic about-face." "People who have been out of the

Premier admits Austrian defeat

(c) Chicago Daily News
TEL AVIV — Premier Golda Meir sadly admitted today that she failed to sway Austria's chancellor from his decision to curtail transit facilities for Soviet-Jewish emigrants.

Mrs. Meir said on her return home from Vienna that Soviet Jews will continue to pass through Austria en route to Israel.

Two alternatives were mentioned by her at an airport news conference: direct immigrant flights from the Soviet Union to the Jewish state and establishment of a new processing center in Holland.

The Israeli premier refused to elaborate on the second choice, saying the matter was to be aired before her cabinet later in the day.

She described a proposal for

Officer, hitchhiker killed in wild chase

TOPEKA, Kan. (UPI) — A hitchhiker shot and killed a state highway patrolman Tuesday, wounded a police officer and led officers on a wild chase through the city streets in a commandeered police car.

Cornered in a gas station, he tried to shoot his way out of the stolen squad car, he had wrecked and died in a police crashfire.

Police said highway patrolman James D. Thornton, 52, was shot in the back of the head by the hitchhiker identified as Edward Mitchell Jr., 22, Rhaec, N. Y. The trooper was making an identification check on the suspect when he was killed.

Witnesses said Mitchell, wanted for murdering his father in New York, then took the patrolman's car and sped away.

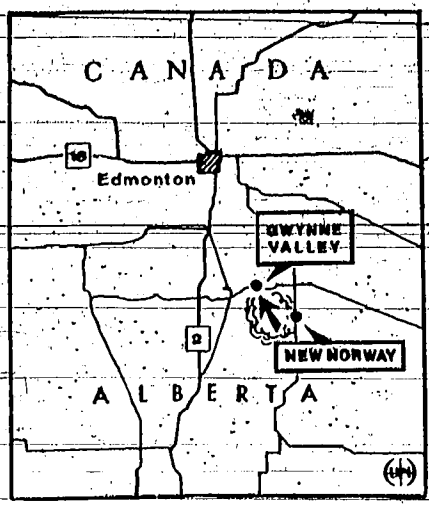

City police picked up the chase through the northern portion of Topeka. The chase ended when the stolen patrol car collided with two vehicles at an intersection in northwest Topeka.

Officers recovered the car at a service station where, according to police Cpl. Charles Chiles, Mitchell "came out shooting." Mitchell died in a hail of pistol bullets and shotgun pellets.

There were no immediate reports of violence in the campus takeovers which followed a series of demonstrations across the city the day before.

Peron, in private meetings with conservative supporters, has called repeatedly during the past three days for a "war against marxism" to purge the Peronist movement of leftists.

"No one should raise personal questions or dissension among groups that will weaken the fight against marxism," Peron was quoted as saying by his supporters.

Deadly gas cloud floats in Canada

NEW NORWAY, ALTA. (UPI) — A mile-long cloud of deadly hydrogen sulfide gas wafted with the winds 1,000 feet over the farmlands of central Alberta today and forced thousands of people in its path to flee their homes.

A spokesman for the Royal Canadian Mounted Police said there had been no deaths, or injuries, but he warned that the gas, which escaped from a Sunoco company well, "could kill everything below if it dropped. And a person could be severely injured if the cloud just got close enough to breathe its fumes."

He said officials feared that an overnight frost, which had been forecast, might make the cloud come down.

The Mounty spokesman said the hydrochloric gas well "just blew" Tuesday afternoon. The spokesman said the gas was

Island policemen hunt killer of 3

CROIXSTANSTED, St. Croix, V.I. (UPI) — Police arrested an illegal immigrant and launched an intense search for another suspect Tuesday night in the slayings of three whites on this racially troubled island.

The latest deaths raised to 10 the number of whites murdered on St. Croix in a little more than a year and marred the start of today's National Conference of Lieutenant Governors.

Plainclothesmen kept a discreet vigil at the Beach Hotel on the eastern end of the island as lieutenant governors from most of the U.S. states registered for their 12th annual conference.

Police said James Kirton, 21, a jobless black from Montserrat Island, confessed to the murders of Cheryl Barr, 22, of North Miami, Fla., and Betsy Reedy, 22, of Bethel, Conn.

The two victims, teachers at the Island's Grand Park public school, had disappeared Sunday after going swimming on the south shore of St. Croix, one of the three major U.S. Virgin Islands. Their bullet-riddled bodies were found Monday night.

Kirton, who had a small bandage on his forehead when arraigned Tuesday night, was charged with first degree murder and jailed in lieu of $50,000 bond.

Police said a "prime suspect" was being sought in the Monday night slaying of Henry Berry, 35, a French immigrant

Getty grandson reported free

ROME (UPI) — The mother of J. Paul Getty III, grandson of the American oil tycoon, said Tuesday she did not know his whereabouts despite Rome press reports of his release by kidnapers.

In London, the elder Getty, who had refused to pay a cent in ransom, was not immediately available for comment.

The 17-year-old grandson of Getty has been missing from his Rome home since July 9 and his mother, Mrs. Gail Getty, told police she received messages saying he was kidnaped.

Nevada ore hinted

HOUSTON (UPI) — Pictures taken from the Skylab space station have prompted geologists to begin exploring for a huge mineral deposit that may lie buried in eastern Nevada. A University of Utah geology professor, M. Leray Jensen, said the deposit is on public land near Ely, Nev., and is "within sight" of Kennecott Copper Co.'s Big Ruth open pit copper mine.

Land bills muddled

BOISE (UPI) — The legislative interim committee on land use planning studied a package of bills Tuesday which could govern land planning in Idaho for years to come. Committee Chairman Sen. David Rivenes, R-Payette, said the package included legislation for planning in critical areas in the state, required planning, state assistance in planning and four other bills dealing with city and county planning.

Jerome opens building bids

JEROME — The Jerome school board, in a special meeting Monday night, opened bids for a 40-by-40-foot school building.

The structure is to be erected behind the junior high school to help alleviate overcrowding in the school.

Bids were received from Ulman Construction Co., Twin Falls; Briggs Bonnett Construction Co., Twin Falls; and Valley Steel, Boise. The apparent low bidder was Valley Steel with a bid of $23,547.

The building will contain three and a half classrooms and hot lunch facilities for the junior high students.

Members of the school board delayed action on the bids until Wednesday night so that each bid could be evaluated and look at buildings which have been constructed by the low bidder.

Cats win

BURLEY — The cats have won the battle of the leash-law in Burley.

After several months of consideration, the Burley City Council has decided to eliminate the word "and" from the city's new animal control ordinance.

In taking the action Monday night, the council agreed it is "seemingly impossible to enforce laws for cats."

Burley was one of the first cities in the area to attempt to enforce an ordinance which would require the control of both dogs and cats. Residents of the area who do not have cats argued they could be equally as big a neighborhood problem as dogs but the city has not been able to enforce the ordinance as it pertains to the cats.

Burley course readied

BURLEY — The Parks and Recreation Department is "confident" the newly expanded municipal golf course will be ready for play next year, director Jack Keen said Monday.

Keen, speaking to members of the Burley Chamber of Commerce, said that after several years of work, "we can see the end" of the expansion program at the Burley course.

"In two or three years, the course will be paying into the department and not the other way around," Keen said.

Two years ago the golf course was put under the Parks and Recreation Department, he said, whose first goal was to put the course in "a reasonable financial position." For five years previous to the move, the course had been "20,000 in the hole," he said.

The department re-evaluated course personnel and set up a program outlining what was needed and how it would be handled. At the end of the second year, he said, the debt was less than half what it had been.

Last year the city received the first Bureau of Recreation grant for a golf course in the state. The city budgeted $85,000 for the expansion of the golf course and the grant matched that figure.

"The city did not have to float a bond or raise taxes to support the program, Keen said, although fees at the course had been raised slightly.

Costs were kept down by utilizing city personnel for work at the course. This labor was computed as part of the city's share of the matching program.

The program did not go off without any problems, he said.

The day after the grass was planted in July, it was hit by a hail and rainstorm. At the advice of the nursery, the grass was watered several times a day, and at the end of 28 days the grass came up "in beautiful shape," he said.

With revenue sharing funds, Keen said, the city had recently installed new play equipment at the West, East, North, Salmon and Waterways Parks. The department plans expansion at the tennis courts next year and is looking toward more lighted ball parks for the city, he said.

Ketchum tables ambulance bid

KETCHUM—The Ketchum City Council Monday night tabled for further discussion a $11,915 bid to purchase an ambulance for a planned city-operated ambulance service to be manned by Ketchum volunteer firemen.

City chief Bill Brand, appearing before the council, said additional needed ambulance equipment would probably increase the bid price—submitted by a Whittier firm—to about $13,000 to $14,000. He also said an encoder and pager will be required at a cost of about $2,500 to $2,700.

Brand said the van-type ambulance, which can hold four persons, had a guaranteed delivery date of before Dec. 1. Brand also said that a 1968 ambulance, which could be used as a back-up unit, was available in Idaho Falls for about $2,500.

In other action, the council: Approved the 1972 audit prepared by Stanley Snow, CPA, Twin Falls, and approved a contract with Snow to conduct the 1973 audit.

Reconveyed a five-acre tract, located near River Run back to the BLM.

Richey said the acreage had been obtained about 10 years ago for possible use by the riding club. However, he said the tract was located partially in the Wood Silver and partially on the west side of the river and contained no public access.

State now offers help at Burley

Department of Law Enforcement Commission John Bender also said there had been no change in policy about such investigations. He said "There is no change in policy. I would be making the policy."

But Bender also said he was unaware Cade had turned Nielson down earlier this year.
Bender also said he thought Nielson was "confused" when he claimed a request for state help had been rejected earlier in the year.

Nielson and Cade agreed, however, that the request had been turned down because Cade felt he couldn't commit his agents in the liquor law enforcement division to investigate prostitution.
Nielson also made several other points in a lengthy interview. He said:

- The Attorney General's Office Organized Crime Division twice responded to requests for assistance in investigating prostitution.

The first time, in 1972 "they did some investigative and gave us some information." But, Nielson said, "they never got around to closing them." The closing of three establishments was done through Nielson's office, he said, in late October or early November.

- When the two of the establishments closed in the fall allegedly reopened Nielson contacted both the Attorney General's Office and the Department of Law Enforcement.

Again, Nielson said, the Attorney General's Organized Crime Division responded, but Cade turned down the request for help. Dissatisfied with the state assistance, Nielson used local investigative funds to hire a private investigator.

- Based on the investigator's work, conducted with the knowledge of city and county authorities, two of the three establishments were closed last July.

- The establishments closed the first time with notices of abatement, included the Pine Hotel, the Lee Hotel and the Central Hotel, he said.

- There are no organized houses of prostitution currently operating in the city, the prosecutor said.

Solon panel

By TERRY CAMPBELL
Times-News Writer

SUN VALLEY — The prospects of a national health insurance program — although not viewed as an immediate reality — have drawn mixed reactions from Idaho's Congressional delegation.

Rep. Orval Hansen, Rep. Steven Symms and James Goller, Idaho assistant to Sen. James McClure, participated in a panel discussion Monday on national health insurance during the 10th annual Idaho Hospital Association convention in Sun Valley.

Speaking on behalf of Sen. McClure who has co-sponsored the proposed Medicare bill, Goller said the bill was the "best alternative" because it would "give the responsibility back to citizens" by establishing a system of tax credits for purchase of private insurance.

Rep. Hansen listed seven provisions, including a sensible system of regulations, which he recommended should be incorporated into any proposed national health insurance program.

Rep. Symms opposed a national health insurance program on the grounds of cost and quality of care.

Rep. Symms stated, "Free health care isn't free — it is very expensive."

The proposed Kennedy bill, Symms said, would cost an estimated $77 billion for the first year and other proposed programs would also cost several billion dollars.

Symms said the average individual had a 1970 health care cost of $172. Under the Kennedy plan, he said, the individual would pay nothing at the doctor's office or hospital, but his share of taxes necessary to pay for the program would be $265 or nearly 75 per cent more.

"But the expense isn't really the main objection," Symms

CONDUCTING A PANEL discussion during the Idaho Hospital Association convention on national health insurance and systems are from left James Goller, Idaho assistant to Sen. James McClure; Rep. Steven Symms, R-Idaho, and Rep. Orval Hansen, R-Idaho. They discussed the Medicare bill with Goller, speaking for McClure, supporting it; Hansen recommending additions and Symms opposing it.

So-called free medicine is detrimental to the quality of care, he said and cited data from the British health plan.

The campaign for national health insurance has been preface on the existence of a "health care crisis" in America, Symms said.

"Although it is generally agreed that there exist problems of varying degree in terms of cost and availability of health care, the extent of those problems has been greatly exaggerated," Symms said.

Rep. Hansen questioned whether a national health insurance program would be finalized by the House Ways and Means Committee by the end of next year. National health insurance was being placed further down on the high priority list behind trade legislation and tax reform, he said.

However, Rep. Hansen listed the following as essential provisions for a national health insurance program:

- That it build on experience instead of "sweeping everything away."

- That it include incentives for the public to provide for their own health care needs.

- That it be phased in over a period of time.

- That it be flexible to adapt to a particular state or locality.

- That it will require a minimum of record keeping and paper work.

- That it provide major incentives for qualified persons to enter the health care professions.

Goller said some of the aspects of a national health care system were disturbing to Sen. McClure and to the people who were involved in health care.

"The public, he said, was used to personal care. "Any departure from this system is a very serious thing," he said.

Rezoning OK'd by TF officials

TWIN FALLS Twin Falls City Councilmen in a meeting Monday approved rezoning a Filer Avenue lot from residential professional to commercial local.

The lot, at 510 Filer Avenue is owned by Eugene Conner who requested the zoning change and a conditional use to allow construction of a plant nursery and garden store. He owns and operates Western Nursery on the property.

In other action, the council tabled an application by Arlie and Bob White for a conditional use to allow a mobile home park on Eastland Avenue. The Council said the area should be given a firm zoning designation by the county before a vote is taken. The county is currently considering a new zoning ordinance.

Approved an amendment of the city sign regulation to allow signs to be placed on the parking lot side of the former Red Rock Cafe on Main Street. Western Realty plans to move into the building.

Approved a conditional use requested by Vernon Smith to allow a multi-family dwelling at 164 Morningside Drive.

Approved the bid of Arrington Bros. for construction of a passenger screening concourse and a shelter house for the baggage pickup area at the City-County Airport. Arrington's bid, $29,395, was less than a bid submitted by Wills Construction, $31,724. The approval will be forwarded to the county commissioners for final action.

Approved the bid of Boyd Martin, Salt Lake City, for a lawn sweeper at $3,945 and McVey International Harvester for a tractor at $3,395. Both machines will be purchased with revenue sharing funds.

Tot, parent reading plan begins

TWIN FALLS A children's reading program which is designed for both parents and small children will begin tonight in the public library.

The new "Read to Me" club for parents and their 4 or 5 year old children is designed to help the parents select books suitable to the "read to me" aged children.

"Ideally a child should be introduced and exposed to the pleasures that are within the world of books before entering school. Many times parents are at a loss when it comes to knowing how to aid children in choosing a good book and in orally presenting that book to the child," Annie Laurie Burton, library public relations representative, said.

The club will meet each Wednesday at 7 p.m. in the children's room of the public library for a six week period beginning this week.

Sally Carpenter, a children's librarian, or another guest speaker will introduce suitable books in an "interest area" such as the Caldecott Award books and will help in the individual selection of books and provide book lists and reading tips.

A bulletin board display will be used to give the preschooler a visual record of his progress through the world of books. Special activities are planned during the six weeks period — a dress-up parade, special story times, craft and nature studies.

Certificates will be presented on completion of the program and a special party will conclude the six weeks period.

As each child completes five books in any selected area, his name will be placed on a leaf to be colored by the child and hung on the Wise Old Owl's tree in the library.

All interested parents of preschoolers are invited to participate.

County zone views aired

If the proposed ordinance is altered, publication of a legal announcement would be required.

Commissioner William Wiseman Monday said the county could not revise the ordinance without republishing the new version at "excessive expense" to taxpayers.

Howard said the Times-News offer was made to eliminate the possibility that the county might be "financially required to accept the current ordinance."

He also asked the commissioners "to bring a plan for recreation areas to the public" with a formal election.

Charles Brumbach, a Twin Falls attorney and son of Dr. Brumbach, asked the commissioners to delay their decision on the ordinance.

"I think the better part of valor is to send it back to the county zoning commission" for revision, he said.

"It's obvious that the zoning commission had some second thoughts. They asked for a setback (along the canyon rim)."

The county zoners recommended a 300-foot protective setback along the rim north of Twin Falls City after their public hearing last month. The setback was to be zoned agricultural.

The commissioners discarded the setback recommendation, saying it should have been incorporated into the proposed ordinance, published, and presented in another public hearing.

Mrs. Robert Erkins, Buhl, representing the Idaho Park Foundation, suggested rimland and donations to purchase rimland be given to the foundation to aid preservation of the area.

The foundation is a non-governmental organization that accepts land donations, cash, insurance, trusts and securities for its parks and recreation system.

"I am not against preserving the property (rim land). If you'd like to work with me, then I could sell it," said Lee Barnes, a rim landowner.

Barnes supported the construction of more scenic overlooks on the rim.

"Build your little water fountains, Johns and chain link fences" at the end of section line roads, he said.

Fuel supply plentiful for Rupert

By MARILYN ELLIOTT
Times-News Writer
RUPERT — The city of Rupert will have fuel for the coming year.

The council heard a letter from the Arhoco Co. Tuesday night informing the city that gasoline would be provided quarterly on allocations based upon last year's consumption beginning Oct. 8, the day after the current contract with Amoco expires.

A month ago, at the scheduled bid opening date, the council received no bids for the coming year.

Amoco reserved the right to reduce the amount of gasoline provided if the allocations could not be met and also reserved the right to raise the price from the quoted 20.7 cent per gallon for regular gasoline, if a price increase became necessary.

Councilman Clark Cameron suggested that letters be sent to all department heads saying that the city was an allocation and they should "use every opportunity to conserve fuel."

In another effort to conserve energy, the council accepted the proposal of a special Chamber of Commerce committee to conserve electricity during the Christmas season.

Under the proposal, all Christmas lighting will be turned on at 5 p.m. and turned off at 10 p.m. and will be discontinued the day after Christmas instead of the day after New Year's. The chamber also decided not to sponsor a Christmas lighting contest this year.

The council authorized the installation of about 54 mercury vapor lights on nine blocks near the center of town. The lights will use one-third the energy of the lights now used and will consequently pay the city back for installation costs in two or three years.

The first reading of a new city ordinance establishing 25 mile an hour speed limits on all city streets and alleys was heard at the meeting.

City Works Director Ron Klebe and councilman William Strasser were authorized to study the possibility of either metal or concrete building for the Grandview pump house. The previous bid from Anderson Lumber Co. was rejected because the cost was too high.

Frank Fabrook of Hamilton and Voeller Engineers, Pocatello, told the council that the final draft of the sewer study would be completed in two weeks. The study must be submitted to the Environmental Protection Agency by Oct. 18 for the city to be eligible for a sewer grant.

The council unanimously adopted a statement of support for the American Falls legislation to be submitted at a congressional hearing in Burley Saturday.

The council also unanimously approved a Rotary Club project to install chimes on top of the city building. The chimes will be programmed to signify the hour and quarter hour and can be programmed to play music for special occasions.

Oct. 15 through 31 were designated as fall clean-up days in the city.

GOODING — Members of the Gooding Memorial Hospital Corp. were scheduled to meet this afternoon with a prospective buyer for the old hospital building.

Emmett Kelly, president of the corporation, said the group has received a bid exceeding $20,000 from Joe Boyd, Montana, but declined further comment. The building, located on 14th and Main Street, has been vacant since the new county hospital was completed about two years ago.

The corporation raised the money for the original hospital and when the building was vacated, the property reverted back to the corporation, Kelly said.

The film highlights the latest in high-rise, alpine ski resorts in the United States and in the French Alps.

Hazelton posts lack candidates

HAZELTON — With the filing deadline only one week away no one has petitioned to run for the mayorship or the seats of two city councilmen which will be open to contest in the Nov. 6 city elections here.

Deadline for filing to contest the posts is Oct. 9. Hazelton City Clerk Jackie Christopherson said anyone interested in running for election should pick up a petition for nomination at the city clerk's office.

The openings were made by the expired terms of Mayor Elmer Pyne and Councilmen Wallace Bragg and Eddie Crumrine. All terms of office will be for four years.

Any person living in the city of Hazelton and at least 18 years of age may register to vote in the elections.

Youth ranch license probable

RUPERT — Changes at the Idaho Youth Ranch are likely to bring it a new license this fall, but may not insure state agency use of the facility.

"I see no reason from a licensing point of view why (the new ranch program) would not be acceptable," Rita Blackaller, director of Child and Family Services for the Department of Environmental and Community Services, (DECS) said Tuesday.

Blackaller said, however, she did question "whether the program will meet the needs of the kind of kids DECS comes in contact with." The youngsters, she said, "need a fairly sophisticated program" to give them the help they need.

The ranch was placed on a six month provisional license last May following an administrative upheaval. The license expires in late November.

The decision concerning the new ranch program will have to be made before that time by the DECS office, whose main concerns are the licensing aspect and the purchase of services, Blackaller said.

The ranch, although a private facility, must be licensed by the state, Blackaller said.

Boys are referred to the ranch and similar child care facilities through regional DECS offices. The state contributes $20 a month toward the care of the boys.

Unless DECS determines that the new program "will meet the needs" of the boys it is serving, referrals will not be made to the ranch, even though it may be licensed, she said.

The provisional license doesn't limit the ranch in accepting youngsters. The population at the ranch has grown from two boys this summer to five, with several more expected to arrive shortly.

The ranch received the provisional license under specific terms, Blackaller said. Before a regular license is granted, the administrative organization was to be revamped and a new intake policy, containing a firm statement on the kinds of children that would be accepted, was to be developed.

Ranch director James Worsley released a tentative ranch program last month which listed an age preference of 14 years or younger for acceptance of boys and stated that "seriously disturbed boys are not considered for placement."

Now bylaws accepted by the ranch's board of directors last month define the role of each administrator at the ranch and limit, for the first time, the term of office for directors.

Blackaller said she is "working with Worsley on the program" and that DECS officials in the Twin Falls district office are offering consultation to the ranch administration.

"There are some aspects (of the bylaws) which we would comment on," she said, "but nothing which would say they couldn't be licensed."

Frazier-Ali rematch set for Feb. 4 in New York

NEW YORK (UPI) — After nearly three years, former heavyweight champions Muhammad Ali and Joe Frazier will meet in a return 12-round match at Madison Square Garden on Feb. 4. It was learned today by United Press International.

rematch. Ali and Frazier will receive a net gross money this time, than they did when they met in the Garden on March 8, 1971. That night each man collected $2.5 million but this time around they're getting $50,000 or 32 1/2 per cent of everything, whichever ever works out as the bigger figure.

Idaho meets Colorado State in quest of second victory

MOSCOW — The University of Idaho Vandals, looking for their second win of the year, will host the Colorado State Rams in the Idaho Stadium on Saturday starting at 1:30 p.m. PDT.

and losses. The first game was played at Fort Collins, Colo., in 1969, the Rams winning 32-21. The Vandals came back with their win in 1971 when they defeated the Rams 10-0 in a game played at Spokane's Joe Albi Stadium. That win by the Vandals started them on a winning streak of eight straight games.

The Vandals, bowing to the strong Washington State Cougars 51-24, last Saturday, still showed an improving offense. They piled up 426 yards in total offense to outgain the Cougars who had 419. Mark Fredrick with 76, J. C. Chardband with 74, and Marshall Brantley with 62 yards led the rushing attack for the Vandals. Rick Seefried, Vandal quarterback, completed 15 of 30 passing attempts for 150 yards, with Tim Coles receiving eight and Kirk Dennis catching six passes.

Since then, however, both Frazier and Ali have fallen on rocky times, each apparently suffering after-effects from their gruelling struggle.

Frazier, in fact, spent a week in the hospital after the last fight and then knocked out Terry Daniels and Ron Stander, two nobodies, before signing to meet big, strong George Foreman in Kingston, Jamaica last Jan. 22.

ISU gets 'second chance' with Montana State, league opener

POCATELLO — A second chance doesn't come to everyone, but it does come to Idaho State Saturday night. The Bengals host Montana State at 8 p.m. The game will be homecoming for ISU.

Robbins announced the award winners for the week. Syd Lofton, sophomore monster back from Spokane, won the defensive award for his accomplishment.

Pritchard, veteran senior center from Renton, Wash., won the offensive award.

"We've had a very poor first four weeks this season, and it's possible to attribute it to our start at Bozeman."

Many newsmen at ringside had Norton ahead on points and Ali showed his displeasure with his performance that night by taking a swing at his cornerman Budini Brown after the final bell.

Both Joe and Ali are looking to meet Foreman in a title bout, but Ali has openly said he wants Frazier more than anybody else.

Golfers will name officers

Officers will be elected and the final tournament of the year played Sunday by the Twin Falls Municipal Men's Golf Association.

Negotiations for the Ali-Frazier return have been going on for two months and Bob Arum, Ali's attorney, only last week admitted Muhammad had agreed to terms and all that remained for the deal to be sealed was for "Frazier to put his name on the dotted line."

Breakfast will be served from 8 to 9:30 with the business meeting opening at 9 a.m. The scramble tournament, featuring 75 prizes worth $1,000, will get underway, from a shotgun start.

Nets defeat Kniekerbockers

NEW YORK (UPI) — Julius "Doctor J" Erving took advantage of the second half absence of his future boss, Dave DeBusschere, to score 19 points Tuesday night and lead the ABA New York Nets to a 97-87 exhibition triumph over their cross-town rivals, the NBA champion New York Knicks.

The International Olympic Committee has gone on record as wishing to reduce the size and scope of the Games before they become totally unmanageable, but the international sports federations want more events included.

Greek picks

LAS VEGAS, Nev. (UPI) — Oddsmakers Jimmy "The Greek" Snyder has picked the Cincinnati Reds and the Baltimore Orioles to win the National and American League playoffs and meet in the World Series for the championship.

Britain's Prince Philip, President of the International Equestrian Federation, recommended the IOC find a way to stage the sports the federations are asking for.

Las Vegas Odds: The Cincinnati Reds and the Baltimore Orioles to win the National and American League playoffs and meet in the World Series for the championship. Snyder quoted odds of 7-5 for Western Division champion Cincinnati to defeat the New York Mets of the East in the National League playoffs and installed Eastern Division champion Baltimore an 11-10 choice to beat the Oakland A's of the West in the American League playoffs. The playoffs are scheduled to start Saturday.

"More and more people are taking part in more and more sports," said Philip. "For this reason I am sure that all international federations view with dismay any idea of reducing participation of some or all the sports, or of reducing the number of events in some of the sports in the Games."

The IOC will consider two such plans when it meets privately at the end of the Congress Thursday.

The first will be to expand the period of time during which the Games are held. This would allow competitors to use a relatively small number of facilities one after the other rather than grouping all athletes together simultaneously.

The second plan, which can be combined with the first, is to spread the Games geographically through a country or even throughout a continent so that one city is not burdened alone.

Rubino, Bills hurl CSI to TVCC sweep

Joe Rubino and Roger Bills turned in three-batters Tuesday to pitch the College of Southern Idaho Golden Eagles to a doubleheader sweep over the Treasure Valley Chukars.

Babeo kept things going with a walk and Scott Becker hit a soft liner to rightfield. The TVCC rightfielder made a dive for the catch but missed and both runners scooted with Becker claiming a double.

But the Hungarian-born Bugner, who has predicted he will be world champion within two years, was unimpressive and the crowd gave him the slow hand-clap for his failure to register a knockout.

But CSI had to go to the sixth inning to nail down the victory. Fries opened that frame with a hit and Rick Spriggs pinch-ran. He stole second and moved to third as Nelson grounded out. Shawn Jenkins followed with a bouncer to first base and Spriggs beat the throw home.

My dad figured it (the goat) had run into a blind canyon and had to come back out," Allen explained.

Celts pin 6th loss on Pacers

ABA Stars to sue Beatty for breach of contract

SALT LAKE CITY (UPI) — The Utah Stars bid an angry farewell Tuesday to Zelmo Beatty, the veteran center known as "The Franchise" to fans, in a contract dispute.

Beatty, 32, the 6-foot-9, 235-pound center who led the Stars to an American Basketball Association title in 1971 and to Western Division crowns during the past two seasons, did not show up for the Stars' pre-season camp and has not played in exhibition games.

"As far as the team's management is concerned, it is through with this ball club forever," president Vince Boryla said, adding the team was suing Beatty, who averaged 20.9 points and 12.9 rebounds a game during his three-year ABA career, and his attorney for breach of contract.

The lawsuit will seek $250,000 in punitive damages from attorney Larry Fleisher of New York for allegedly interfering with a lawful contract. Fleisher represents Beatty as well as Jerry West, who rejoined the NBA Los Angeles Lakers Monday.

The amount of actual damages sought from Beatty and his lawyer were left open for determination by the courts. The suit charged Beatty breached his contract by not reporting, was liable for damages to the club, and that the Stars were no longer obligated to honor the pact.

Boryla said Beatty, president of the ABA Players Association, refused to play out the last year of a four-year contract, which reportedly paid him more than $100,000 a year. He was trying to negotiate a new two-year, $500,000 pact.

Beatty jumped to the ABA in 1970 after seven seasons with the St. Louis Hawks, now the Atlanta Hawks, of the National Basketball Association. The Golden State Warriors now hold the NBA rights to the balding pivotman.

His career totals as a pro include 846 games, 5,857 field goals and a 49.4 shooting percentage, 3,516 free throws and a 76.7 percentage, 9,952 rebounds and 15,600 points.

Beatty was the team's acknowledged leader on and off the court and was a candidate for the Stars' coaching position this season before Joe Mullaney left Kentucky for the Utah post. Boryla said the Stars' center post would be filled by 6-10 veteran Gerald Govan, who averaged only 6.4 points and 9.5 rebounds as a reserve last year, and 6-9 rookie Roy Ebron of Southwestern Louisiana.

Jackson misses workout

OAKLAND (UPI) — Reggie Jackson, the American League's top run producer, missed Tuesday's workout with an infected throat as the Oakland A's began preparations for the AL playoffs against the Baltimore Orioles.

"Reggie's temperature is back to normal and he'll work out Wednesday," manager Dick Williams said.

Williams sent his team through a light drill but promised a full-scale intrasquad game Wednesday with all eight pitchers on the roster seeing some duty.

Monday night, Williams met for five hours with Billy Herman, who scouted the Baltimore Orioles for the A's.

After Tuesday's workout, Herman met with the coaches and team captain, Sal Bando, and later with the pitchers on the staff. Herman, who served as manager of the Red Sox a year before Williams led them to their "Impossible Dream" championship year, will meet with the entire Oakland team Wednesday.

Momentary victory

DALLAS (UPI) — Tom Landry next Monday night's Washington-Dallas game will represent two things — a chance for him to find out how good his club really is and a chance for the Cowboys to lurch themselves in a championship direction.

"It is hard to say how good we are after that St. Louis game last week," said Landry, referring to the 45-10 romp over the previously unbeaten Cardinals. "We looked real good but then they didn't look too good. When you beat a team like Washington you know something. We will find that out Monday night."

The Cowboy-Redskins game is a critical contest, particularly to Washington since a loss at home would put the defending NFC champs two games behind Dallas in their division.

"This is a big momentum game," the Dallas coach said. "Just like the San Francisco-Los Angeles game was for those teams last weekend, I think we have to split with Washington and then just try to outdo them over the rest of the season."

"I think Washington is still the best team in our division. They are the division champs and should be considered as such until somebody beats them out of the championship."

Dallas coach sees Washington as proving ground for title

The Redskins' offense has had a slow start this season, particularly on the ground, and although Billy Kilmer was completing 60 per cent of his passes, he was replaced at quarterback last week by Sonny Jurgensen.

"I'm sure we will see Sonny in there against us," Landry said. "He will probably be their No. 1 until he loses a game he ought to have won. Kilmer is a great competitor and gives you all he has got every time he is on the field. Just Sonny is a better overall drop back passer. Everybody recognizes that."

"Washington is doing the same things they always do. I understand Larry Brown has been having trouble getting into shape and how they do on offense depends a lot on how he does."

"Their defense is just like it was last year. St. Louis did well against Washington when they played but St. Louis threw the ball into a lot of tight spots and got away with it."

The Washington-Dallas series has become one of the more intense rivalries in the NFL and it has picked up considerably with the appearance of George Allen as Redskin coach.

Last year there was a good deal of bitterness on the part of the Cowboys because Allen complained about crackback blocks thrown by Dallas and it was Cowboy linebacker Chuck Howley who wound up with a knee operation because of a crackback block thrown by a Redskin.

The Cowboy reputation for non aggression has been washed away in recent years. Last week against St. Louis tight end Jean Fungelt and defensive back Cliff Harris were expelled from the game.

Seaver's shoulder may not let him start playoff with Reds

NEW YORK (UPI) — Tom Seaver, ace righthander of the New York Mets, may not start the National League playoff opener against the Cincinnati Reds Saturday because of a sore shoulder.

Seaver insists he'll be fit, but manager Yogi Berra is leaning to left-hander Jon Matlack.

Matlack, meanwhile, says he doesn't know anything about it.

The odds-makers have made the Mets an underdog to the Reds no matter who pitches, the latest line from Las Vegas being 6-7 in favor of Cincinnati.

"Yes, I had a little shoulder soreness after Monday's game and it's been bothering me," Seaver said from his home in Connecticut. "But I fully expect it'll be all right after a couple of days and I'll be able to start against the Reds Saturday."

"In any case, I haven't heard anything from Yogi (pitching coach Rube Walker) or Yogi about not starting."

Berra however said Tuesday he would look at both Seaver and Matlack on Wednesday and "make my decision then."

Berra had expressed some concern about Seaver on the plane ride home from Chicago Monday night after the Mets clinched the National League east division "mini-flag" by defeating the Cubs, 6-4.

Matlack, who wound up with a 14-16 mark, seemed perfectly willing to start, but emphasized he had not been told one way or another. "I heard that Tom had complained of soreness after Monday's game," Matlack said. "But no one has said anything to me about starting. I expect Yogi will make that decision when we have our first workout on Wednesday."

Seaver, who finished with a 19-10 record last year, was 4-2 down the September stretch for the Mets. But he struggled in his last four starts — especially in the division-clincher against the Cubs when he needed relief help from Tug McGraw after yielding four runs and 11 hits in six innings.

Whether Berra elects to go with Seaver or Matlack on Saturday, he will almost surely come back with "the other" Sunday and then throw left-hander Jerry Kosman (14-15) at the Shea Stadium on Monday.

Kosman actually has been the Mets' best money pitcher down the stretch, having pitched well against Pittsburgh on Sept. 20 without getting a decision, beating Montreal 2-1 on Sept. 25 and then stopping the Cubs 9-2 in the all-important nightcap of the Sept. 30 doubleheader after Matlack had lost the opener, 10-0.

Palmer's book no best seller, but Orioles may read it closely

BALTIMORE (UPI) — Baltimore Oriole pitching ace Jim Palmer is an author of sorts. His latest work will never make the best seller list, but the 22-game winner hopes it helps the Birds earn a trip to this year's World Series.

The book's leading characters include the starting line-up of the Oakland A's, the American League West champs, who the Orioles meet here Saturday in the opening game of their best-of-five playoff series.

The theme of the book, also referred to as "The Palmer Method," deals with how to get the potent lineup to make outs instead of singles, doubles, triples and homers.

The book reads as follows: Bert Campaneris — Number One, keep his blinding speed off the bases. "I'll try to throw him breaking balls, mostly hard sliders," all of which should he strikes.

Sal Bando — "A good fastball hitter who likes the ball down. I try to keep the ball up and in, or away."

Reggie Jackson — Frankly, Palmer would rather not pitch to this ever-dangerous slugger. Because he has to, he will, very, very carefully.

"Ideally you want to throw the ball up and in on him," Down and away might result in a home run.

Deron Johnson — "Basically, he's a low ball hitter, but this year he has hit curves, sliders and fastballs for home runs (three) off us. I try to pitch him sliders, low and away, up and away or up and in."

Gene Tenace — "He's a high ball hitter who likes the fast ball but doesn't like it way in. That's where Palmer will try to put it," way in.

Palmer makes a special note that Tenace's lack of speed makes him a "good double play man if you make him hit a good pitch with a breaking ball."

Dick Green — Also rates with Palmer as a good double play hitter. "You can get him out with breaking balls and inside fastballs. Make good pitches with him and he can be had."

Joe Rudi — "He can hit any type of pitch," and Palmer describes him as a Roberto Clemente type hitter. "You can change speeds on him, but not too often."

Ray Fosse — "Primarily a low ball hitter, you can pitch him up and in or up and away."

Mike Andrews — "Basically, he's a pull hitter and not too good a breaking ball hitter."

Palmer terms Andrews as another "good man to hit into double plays."

Bucs blame coach for mound flop

PITTSBURGH (UPI) — The Pittsburgh Pirates, denied the National League East pennant largely because of poor pitching, fired pitching coach Mel Wright Tuesday and said manager Danny Murtaugh would announce his replacement and perhaps other coaching changes later.

Wright, 45, was hired by former manager Bill Virdon, a close friend, at the start of the 1973 season. Virdon was fired Sept. 6 and the Pirates finished in third place with only two of their starters posting winning records.

"Mel Wright will be replaced as pitching coach and Danny Murtaugh will announce his replacement later along with any other changes in his coaching staff," said the terse announcement.

The three remaining coaches Don Leppert, Bill Mazerakis and Dave Ricketts were expected to be retained for the 1974 season, however. All are close personal friends of Murtaugh, who was persuaded by General Manager Joe Brown to succeed Virdon as manager.

Breakdown blamed for Falcon loss

ATLANTA (UPI) — Atlanta Coach Norm Van Brocklin Tuesday blamed Monday night's 31-6 loss to the Detroit Lions on a "breakdown" in the Falcons' offense.

"We're not making the big plays," Van Brocklin grumbled. "Our offense is breaking down. We missed some big plays in the first half and the Lions turned them around."

"When we blow a chance for seven points and they convert our mistakes into seven for them, that's 14 points difference."

Van Brocklin came to the defense of the Falcon defense which has yielded 31 points two weeks in a row, first to the Rams, then to the Lions.

"With our offense breaking down, our defense winds up spending a lot of time in the game," said Van Brocklin. "If someone keeps pounding on you, you're going to crack."

Van Brocklin was particularly concerned about the Lions' success on two reverses.

"Those two reverses gained them 100 yards," he said. "Our linebacker had the play contained, but they had too many people out there. Some people may not realize it, but Detroit has great speed."

The Falcon coach was asked why he kept his first-string backfield in the lineup late in the game when Detroit had the game won.

"Let 'em play," snapped Van Brocklin. "You can learn to play from behind just as well as you can learn ahead. We can handle substitutions when we need to."

Reds open four-day workouts

CINCINNATI (UPI) — The Cincinnati Reds, who clinched the National League Western Division title a week before the New York Mets won the Eastern Division, started four days of workouts at Riverfront Stadium Tuesday to get ready for Saturday's first playoff game.

Manager Sparky Anderson ordered players to report at 3 p.m. EDT Tuesday through Friday, with workouts to get underway at 4 p.m., the starting time here for the first two games of the best-of-five series.

Anderson said Jack Billingham and Don Gullett, who between them won 37 games for the Reds this season, will pitch the first two games, but he didn't immediately disclose who would work the opener.

Nineteen-game winner Tom Seaver is expected to start the playoffs for the Mets.

Billingham, who won 19 games, was the Reds' most effective pitcher against the Mets this year. The 6-4, 215-pound righthander had a 2-0 record against New York, giving up just three runs in 25 1/3 innings for a sparkling 1.00 earned run average.

Gullett, a lefty who won 10 games, was 1-1 against the Mets. Ross Grimsley and Fred Norman, also lefthanders, will pitch the third and fourth games. If the series goes into a fifth game, either Billingham or Gullett, whoever appears stronger, will come back to pitch.

If it's sunny Saturday and Sunday, the 4 p.m. starting time will produce a combination of sun and shadows that makes it tough for hitters to see the pitches at Riverfront Stadium.

Market Review

NEW YORK (UPI) — Stock prices moved upward in active trading Tuesday on the New York Stock Exchange.

The Dow Jones Industrial average was up 1.60 at 658.31 with minutes after trading opened.

There were almost three times as many advances as declines, 173 to 61, among 330 issues traded.

The market was up in heavy trading Tuesday, its 11th advance in the past 13 sessions.

Some analysts attributed its most recent strength to growing investor confidence, which they said has become an additional factor in the latest rally along with the decline in short-term interest rates and hope that the Federal Reserve is about ready to ease its tight monetary policy.

There was a slight reversal in the path of interest rates Tuesday, however, when those on Treasury bills moved upward about one-half percentage point. The previous day, the Treasury bill rates had fallen to their lowest level since June.

Paper price hiked

TORONTO (UPI) — Abitibi Paper Co. Ltd. has announced an increase in the price of paper used by newspapers of $15 a ton, effective next Jan. 1.

It is the biggest price increase for newspaper paper in 20 years.

Abitibi advised its customers of the price increase in a letter Monday. The price of newsprint in New York will jump from $175 to $190 a ton, and the Canadian price will jump from $166.75 a ton to $182.

In the past, when one company has announced a price increase the other companies have soon followed suit.

Timber cut holds

JACKSON, Wyo. (UPI) — Timbering in the Teton-Bridger National Forest won't increase despite recent orders to increase cutting in all national forests, a forest supervisor says.

Charles T. Coston said at least a year will be taken to prepare a land use plan for the national forest and until the plan is complete, no increase or reduction in timbering will take place.

"We have recognized that there is a lot of conflict in uses in northwestern Wyoming and we're in the process now of redrawing our land use plan and at the end of this process we'll derive a new annual cut," Coston said.

Coston also said the Forest Service didn't feel justified in increasing the cut until the plan was complete, nor would he guess at a possible increase.

Price hiked

LOS ANGELES (UPI) — Atlantic Richfield Co. announced Monday it was increasing the wholesale price of gasoline to retail dealers by 1 1/2 cents per gallon.

Senior vice president John W. Simmons said the "continuing escalation" of the costs of crude oil, product imports and transportation have made the price rise necessary.

Scouts aid DUP cabin restoration

TWIN FALLS — Boy Scouts of Troop 59 are currently assisting the Daughters of the Utah Pioneers with a major historical preservation project. Lucy Stricker, wife of Herman Stricker, gave the Daughters of Utah Pioneers permission to place a historical marker on the cabin May 16, 1942. Later under the leadership of Mrs. Frank M. Egbert, a stone marker was erected near the cabin and a bronze plaque was mounted on the marker telling brief historical facts about the site.

Mrs. Luke said the DUP is most appreciative of the assistance from the Scouts and other groups. "The old Stricker cabin is of vital importance to the history of our area and we hope the public will appreciate and help us preserve it," Mrs. Luke said.

Mrs. Luke said the Stricker cabin was the first home built in the valley, having been erected long with a dirt roof in 1865. Early emigrant travel on the Old Oregon Trail passed the cabin and travelers frequently stopped to rest and obtain supplies. The party express and the Gen Hallyday State line also passed the Rock Creek area and the Stricker home and store served as a station on the Hallyday line. Until 1884 the heaviest traffic to Oregon passed this route.

Grain official denies profit

PORTLAND, Ore. (UPI) — An official of a major grain exporter denied Monday that his firm made money in the sale of wheat to the Soviet Union last year. "Not only did the audit show we did not make money on the Russian sale," said William Fisher, regional manager of Cargill, Inc., "it showed we lost $675,000."

Fisher told the Portland Chamber Forum that "for the first time in my company's history, we opened our books to the public" to answer allegations about grain exporters thinking a windfall in the Russian sale. Fisher predicted that, based on contracts for 1974 wheat that specify a price only $1 under today's high prices, that the market looked good for wheat producers next year.

Gem Blue Book available soon

BOISE (UPI) — The 1973-74 edition of the Idaho Blue Book, listing state offices, commissions, boards, legislators and election tabulations, is expected from the printer in November. Secretary of State Pete Conrath said today the revised booklet will cost $7,406 with the funds coming from the general appropriation for his office.

Lewiston meet set

BOISE (UPI) — Idaho's Board of Environmental and Community Services, and the Washington State Ecological Commission plan to meet in Lewiston Oct. 25 to discuss environmental matters of mutual interest. John Van Orman, Jerome, chairman of the Idaho board, said discussions will center on the middle and lower reaches of the Snake River.

Hearing set on land use

RUPERT — Disposition of about 12,000 acres of undeveloped lands in the North Side Pump Division area will be aired at a hearing here Oct. 17.

The hearing will be conducted at 8 p.m. in the Civic Center Building by U.S. Bureau of Reclamation officials.

W. A. McGregor, chief of the bureau's planning field branch, Boise, said the hearing is open to any person interested in use of the area's natural resources and its effect on the Magic Valley.

To be discussed are whether or not to develop the lands and the purposes or needs of subsequent use, McGregor said.

The meeting is being arranged through the bureau's planning field branch in Boise through the Minkola Project Office, Burley, and the A&B Irrigation District, Rupert.

Under study is about 12,000 acres of dry land north and west of Rupert, in tracts interspersed among irrigated lands in Units A and B. These dry lands have potential for wildlife enhancement, recreational use, and provision of additional food production, McGregor said.

The study of the dry lands and surrounding areas will also examine presently irrigated lands regarding erosion and sediment, flood control, drainage, and water quality, he said.

No beet lid set

WASHINGTON (UPI) — The Agriculture Department has announced that there will be no acreage allotments for the 1974 sugar beet crop.

The department said Monday projected figures indicate that the total crop will be well below surplus levels which require establishing an allotment program also known as "proportionate share."

An estimated 1,200,455 acres of sugar beets were planted this year. The department said sugar production should total about 3,200,000 tons — some 349,000 tons less than this year's adjusted marketing quota for the sugar beet area.

The inventory as of Jan. 1, 1974 — including sugar on hand but not the beet sugar produced after that date — will probably be about 2,569,000 tons. That figure was "considerably below the desirable level," a spokesman said.

Proportionate shares have not been in effect in sugar beet areas since 1966, although they were established for the 1970 crop and then later rescinded.

Abby

Abigail Van Buren

DEAR ABBY: My wife said she saw a grown woman walking down the street with a pacifier in her mouth! I said she must have been trying to quit smoking, otherwise she'd feel too silly to go out in public that way.
My wife and I were both heavy smokers, but we recently gave it up because we wanted to experience the joy of breathing thru clean lungs again and rediscover our senses of taste and smell.
I said I could understand that woman's walking around with a pacifier in her mouth. She was replacing one bad habit with one that was less damaging.
Abby, why do you think people smoke? Is it a nervous habit? Is it an infantile compulsion to have something in their mouths to comfort them? Or is it simply an unconscious death wish?
QUIT IN CLARKSBURG

Public display

DEAR QUIT: Most young people begin to smoke because they think it makes them look "grown up" or smart, or to emulate someone they admire. Some smoke to keep another smoker company. They continue to smoke because they "enjoy" the feeling of relaxation it gives them. (at first) and many say it keeps their weight down. Then they become addicted. (Nicotine is habit-forming, and don't let anyone tell you it isn't.) The "unconscious-death-wish theory" is also valid. Anyone who persists in doing that which he knows could be his undoing is unconsciously hastening his end.
DEAR ABBY: My husband and I are both retired. We've been married for three years. It's his second marriage, and mine, too. He is good to me in every way. We enjoy having company, but my friends are not used to swearing, and neither am I.
If someone says: "Isn't it a lovely day?" he says: "You're g-d-- right it is!"
He greets people with, "Well, I'm a s. o. b., if it isn't George!"
Abby, I deplore that kind of language, and I've told him about it, but to no avail. I don't want to nag him because it wouldn't do any good, and would only make him irritable. I am so embarrassed before my friends.
He reads your column. Maybe you can say something to make him more careful. If it weren't for this one fault, he would be perfect. And I do adore him. ANSHAMED

DEAR ANSHAMED: My advice to you is gently to tell this otherwise perfect man to watch his language. Nobody's perfect, and much as I dislike cursing, there are worse faults.

DEAR ABBY: After 23 years, my wife and I agreed to a friendly divorce.
I have long owned a choice corner lot which is convenient to my work. It happens to be right next door to a long-time friend-of-my-ex-wife.
I am planning to build a home there, but I have run into a night-problem. Rumors are circulating through my soon-to-be new neighborhood about the "wild parties" I'll be having, etc., so I have made some minor changes in my house, eliminating ALL windows on the side of the house facing the neighbors.

Do you think I'm making a mistake?
PERPLEXED IN OHIO

DEAR PERPLEXED: Possibly. Eliminating the windows might create the impression that you're something to hide. Also, on the practical side, consider what it might do to the resale value.

Texas community depends on 2 nuns

RAYMONDVILLE, Tex. (UPI) — Until last year, midwives delivered babies for the poor people of Willacy County at the mother's home, with no prenatal care and no followup. Nobody knows exactly what the statistics were. If a baby were born dead, they just buried it in the back yard and never reported it, said Sister Angela Murdaugh, who is helping to change that.

Sister Angela of the Order of St. Mary, and Sister Gertrude Louise Welsh of the Order of the Holy Cross, opened "Su Clinica Familiar" (Family Clinic) July 18, 1972. Since then, the two nuns have delivered 150 babies to the wives of seasonal farm workers in the Rio Grande Valley.

Willacy County has a population of about 20,000 but has no hospital. Even if it did, most of the patients who go to the nuns could not afford to go to the hospital.

Farm workers' wages are low and their families are large. So they go for treatment to Sister Angela and Sister Gertrude, both of whom have master's degrees in maternal nursing from Columbia University.

"We just tell them to pay what they can pay," said Sister Angela. "You see, it depends on a lot of things, like how many other children in the family."

She said the small clinic tries to help poor working families who are not of welfare but who make such low wages that they cannot afford medical insurance or hospital bills.

"I have gotten things like onions and vegetables and oranges and that kind of thing," Sister Angela said. "And I don't know if they were actually given as payment as much as a friendship gesture."

"That's the little bit they can give. There have been very few who have paid nothing. Most of them make an effort to pay something. The maximum I have received is $100."

The two women care for expectant mothers through the pregnancy and until six weeks after the child is born.

"It's rewarding because you know people are being cared for in an exceptionally good way that would not be if we were not present," Sister Angela said. "If we weren't here, there would be nobody to take care of them."

The clinic is funded by a grant from the Department of Health, Education and Welfare. The two nuns get no pay. What little money the patients do pay goes back into the clinic.

role of mayor

Children's Theatre opening slated

TWIN FALLS — Art Frantz will portray the mayor in the Children's Theatre presentation of the "Pied Piper of Hamelin" which opens Oct. 13 at O'Leary Junior High School.

The play will be presented at 10 a.m., 2 and 7:30 p.m. Oct. 13; at 4:30 p.m., Oct. 19; and at 10 a.m., 2 p.m. and 7:30 p.m. Saturday.

Frantz, in the role of mayor, won't admit that the town has a rat problem until the rodents eat the floor supports from the front porch and he falls through.

Frantz has appeared in 12 of 15 Dilettante shows including his portrayal of Prof. Higgins in "My Fair Lady," the grandfather in Oliver, the grandfather in "Guys and Dolls" and the judge in "Hello Dolly." He has also appeared in at least six children's theatre plays, including "The Reluctant Dragon" and "The Emperor's New Clothes."

Tickets for "The Pied Piper of Hamelin" are available by calling 733-0050 and will be sold in the schools.

HORNSEA, England (UPI) — The town council of Hornsea, on the north sea coast of Yorkshire, Monday night voted to let the central council for British naturism use a local beach as Britain's first for nude bathing.

"They are not nudists," said Mrs. Sylvia Wood, a councillor who voted for the move. "Nudists are people who take their clothes off in night clubs."

Consumer tips from YOUR GAS COMPANY

save more money with gas when you bake

DON'T PEEK while you're baking. It lets heat escape, which not only wastes your money, but it delays your meal. Bake by time and temperature, instead.

TEMPERATURE. Whenever you can, plan oven dishes that require about the same oven temperature. If three dishes are supposed to be cooked at 325, 350 and 375 degrees, for example, cook all three together at 350°. Also, if one dish requires a shorter cooking time, place it in the oven during the cooking cycle of another dish.

PREHEATING. Preheat your oven only for foods requiring less than an hour to cook, and for baked goods requiring precise oven temperatures at the start of the cooking cycle. And as soon as you're finished, turn off the oven. Added up over a year, the cost of unused heat could surprise you.

And since food costs enough when you buy it, don't waste money to cook it. Cook with gas. It's economical. And it's clean. Gas burns with no smoke and virtually no emissions, so it doesn't ruin the air we breathe. Gas is dependable. There's enough gas for home use for many more cold winters and hot summers. In Idaho we have gas to burn. But we all must burn it wisely. That's why we take the time to tell you about ways to use gas wisely.

Intermountain Gas Company

WASHINGTON (UPI) — So far, 29 states have ratified the Equal Rights Amendment. Nine more legislatures must approve before the Women's Rights Amendment becomes part of the U.S. Constitution.

The states that have ratified the amendment are: Alaska, California, Colorado, Connecticut, Delaware, Hawaii, Idaho, Iowa, Kansas, Kentucky, Maryland, Massachusetts, Michigan, Minnesota, New Hampshire, New Jersey, New Mexico, New York, Oregon, Pennsylvania, Rhode Island, South Dakota, Tennessee, Texas, Vermont, Washington, West Virginia, Wisconsin and Wyoming.

The amendment was passed in Nebraska in 1972, but that state's legislature rescinded the action earlier this year, the first state to do so. The amendment has been rejected in one or both legislative houses in these 15 states:

Alabama, Arkansas, Florida, Illinois, Indiana, Louisiana, Maine, Missouri, Montana, Nevada, North Carolina, North Dakota, Oklahoma, South Carolina and Utah.

It may be reconsidered in some states. The law allows until 1978 for adoption, and it is possible that in states where the legislature has defeated the proposal, a new legislature could consider it again before 1978.

Society rage

SAN QUENTIN, Calif. (UPI) — The San Quentin News has reported that denim clothing is the fashion "rage of society" but there is a critical shortage of the material.

The prison newspaper said it has a possible solution to the problem. "Perhaps some enterprising designer will look to the California Department of Corrections for relief to the denim crisis," the paper said.

"There is a virtual bonanza awaiting them within California institutions of denim and fashion plates dying to strike a trade for other less fashionable garb."

STANFORD, Calif. (UPI) — If you think food costs in the United States are too high, be glad you don't live in a country where rice is the staple diet, says Walter Falcon, director of Stanford University's food research institute.

Falcon said on his return from a six-week trip to five Asian countries. "During the last 24 months alone, the international price of rice has gone from less than $100 to more than $400 a ton. He blamed the price increases on continued drought."

"American food price increases are dwarfed by recent movements in rice, the staple food of over a billion Asians."

Canton, auxiliary convene

TWIN FALLS — Colfax Canton No. 13 and Ladies Auxiliary Patrons will meet Monday evening at the Twin Falls IOOF Hall.

Mrs. Helen Breeding, president, conducted the business meeting. Mrs. Frank Eastman gave the thought for the day.

Officers for the coming year were nominated. Mrs. Irene Childers presented an article commemorating Mrs. Elizabeth Fairhall for the institution of the first Ladies Auxiliary. The charter was draped for the late Brig. Gen. Roy O. Ingle.

The play at two hearts is fairly simple. South wins the club lead and goes after spades, not trumps. He wants to set up dummy's long spade suit if he can.

It turns out that he can. Spades break 3-3 for him and he winds up josing one spade trick and one trick in each of the other suits. Of course, he goes after trumps once he has set up the long spades.

One no-trump played by South would not be a tragedy. He would collect six tricks, three hearts and three outside aces, but it sure is better to make a part score at hearts than to be set in no-trump.

Group raps Gem AG

BOISE (UPI) — A spokesman for a group trying to recall state Rep. Patricia McDermott, D-Pocatello, has accused Attorney General W. Anthony Park of prejudice.

Paul West, secretary for the recall movement in Pocatello, sent Park an open letter expressing deep concern about the possible conflict of interest on "Miss McDermott's part."

The letter noted that Miss McDermott is married to a paid lobbyist.

"On more than one occasion when you have been asked for an opinion regarding this matter you have refused to reply and yet two recent occasions you have rendered opinions to private citizens," Mrs. West said.

"As an elected public official we would anticipate that you would be an Attorney General for all of the people of the state of Idaho without discrimination," she said.

"Our preparation involving this same representative both publicly and privately over the recall issue is well known to all."

Mrs. West also asked Park to answer three questions about conflict of interest.

Park said he will answer informational questions from private citizens but as a public official will not render formal opinions for them.

ARCO probe urged

WASHINGTON (UPI) — U.S. Sen. James A. McClure has sharply condemned a reported pull-out by the Atlantic-Richfield Corp. that could cut already slim fuel supplies in the Boise area by as much as 250,000 gallons per month.

"Citing any such pullout as a clear and blatant violation of the voluntary allocation program," the Idaho Republican said such a move as an example of "why some form of mandatory allocation will be forced."

"Idaho is clearly among a group of rural states where gasoline shortages remain a serious problem," McClure said, "and for a major supplier to abandon five of its seven stations in an already tight market, something is clearly amiss."

Delegation plans trip

BOISE (UPI) — Gov. Cecil D. Andrus will lead a delegation of Idaho officials, businessmen and educators to the ninth annual meeting of the Federation of Rocky Mountain States in Albuquerque, N.M., Oct. 9-10.

Approximately 200 Rocky Mountain lawmakers, industry leaders and educators will take part in the meeting which will include discussion of ways to develop the region's rich energy resources without abusing the environment.

State probes houses

BOISE (UPI) — The Commissioner of Law Enforcement in Idaho says more closures of houses of prostitution can be expected in the state.

Commissioner John Bender announced Monday that his agents are working on other prostitution cases in Idaho. He said he could not identify the area or it would pinpoint the case.

Bender's remarks followed the closure of several houses of prostitution in Wallace, Idaho over the weekend.

Monday Gov. Cecil D. Andrus announced in a news conference that as a result of an investigation by state agents, local authorities in the Northern Idaho town had closed the houses down.

Andrus said the state probe was triggered by reports last spring that a state employe made a suggestion that prostitutes in the Wallace area be "tired by the state as mental health convalescers."

Bender said he had met with officials in Wallace last May and discussed closing the houses down.

The officials were told at the time Bender said, the houses should be closed and if the local officials needed assistance from the state the manpower would be supplied.

Bender said the investigation and the closure work done by local officials and "none of my men" were sent to the houses. Bender said he was informed of the action Sunday night when he returned from a four-day out-of-state trip.

He did say if the houses in Wallace re-open for business abatement orders would be sought through First District Court.

Wallace Mayor Arnold Kehler Saturday served notices on the Lux, Laxette, U and L, Oasis and Sahara. He told them they would have to close down.

Debrae Arnold, madam at the Lux and Laxette for the past 20 years, said the closure came as a surprise to her.

She said customers were asking where they should go now. She predicted the number of rapes in the county would increase because of the closure.

Salmon favors judge

BOISE (UPI) — A District Magistrate Commission has voted 9-1 to keep Salmon Magistrate Judge William Pruette on the job.

Pruette had resigned protesting the liberal conduct of many members of the judicial toward wrong doing. The judges' decision to resign followed a session in district court where four persons charged with delivering a controlled substance were released on their own recognizance.

Pruette had set a $5,000 bond on each of the suspects during a magistrate court hearing. Ten members of the commission listened to Pruette's reasons for writing his letter of resignation. At one point he withdrew his resignation.

Among Americans who get married once, nearly three out of four stay married. Among Americans who get married twice, about two out of three stay married. Our Love and War man points to the foregoing with pride. And he advises the young about matrimony much as President Nixon advises them about politics. Don't turn your back on it. It needs good people. Get in there and clean it up. Or words to that effect.

Remember that ancient ditty entitled "Ever Little Movement Has a Meaning All Its Own"? An accurate lyric, evidently. Now the psychology experts say a man is expressing hostility when he rubs his nose with his finger. Watch for that.

In that fascinating municipality called Saco, Mo., it's a crime to wear any sort of hat which frightens timid citizens, children or domesticated animals.

QUERIES FROM CLIENTS

Q "Wasn't it Don Marquis who said: 'A woman that loves to be at the window is like a bunch of grapes on the highway'?"

A No, that's an old Anglo-Saxon proverb. Don Marquis said, "The females of all species are most dangerous when they appear to retreat."

Q "Any hummingbirds in Europe?"
A Not loose. The hummingbird is a Western Hemisphere article. Know a music professor in Berlin years ago who repeatedly said his only goal in life was to see free hummingbirds. Didn't get his point until long afterwards. He just wanted to come here, that's all.

Q "How come we refer to those independent oil explorers as 'wildcaters'?"
A Our Language man thinks it's because early parties of Pennsylvania drillers were said to be going into "wildcat country."

TAPED TRIALS

Our Chief Prosecutor believes future courtrooms will be equipped as television sound stages. Crews will tape trials. Appellate courts will review replays, not written records. Computerized tape libraries will contain countless courtroom scenes—all vital. And the history of jurisprudence will become somewhat more dramatic.

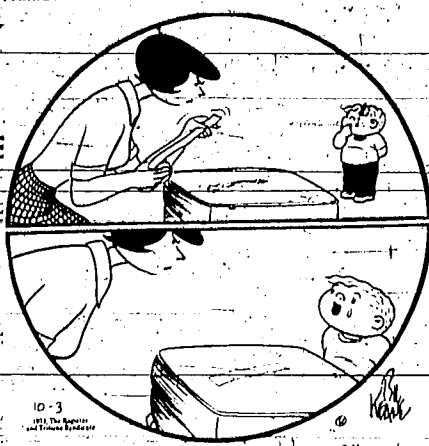

Which way is the sap flowing when you tap a maple tree, up or down? So queries a customer. Down. The up-going sap in the spring is water with salts from the ground, mostly. The down-going sap has the flavor.

Lions reproduce more swiftly in captivity than in the wilds. Far more swiftly. That's why numerous zoos now advertise and in Europe are selling lions back to Africa.

Direct the education along governmental lines. Give the proper kind of discipline early in life. Sports here can be very fine. Musical education should also be given.
