TF bond vote Tuesday

By BILL LAZARUS
Times-News Writer

TWIN FALLS — Twin Falls school patrons will vote Tuesday on a proposed $3.5 million building program for the Twin Falls schools. The bond election is the district's first since 1962.

Demolition of the portion of Lincoln School built in 1909 and construction of a 12-classroom replacement structure at a cost of $650,000.
— And site acquisition for a future junior high school at an estimated cost of $150,000.
— The new elementary school will replace Washington School, located at East Five Plains since 1916.
— Staudaher said operating the school will be "economically unfeasible" when Addison Avenue and Blue Lakes Boulevard are widened by the state highway department. The widening will eliminate at least four classrooms from the 20-classroom structure, making it inefficient to run, Staudaher said.
The traffic hazard is now the most urgent problem at Washington for Bill Stover, principal. He recalls two children being hurt in traffic in the past two years.
A number of years ago a girl was killed by a truck at the busy intersection.

Supt. George Staudaher said today "I think it is imperative for the wellbeing of the children of Twin Falls that we have new buildings and remodeling for their safety and their education."
The annual tax cost of the building program is estimated at $10.40 for every $10,000 of property owned.
The building program places heavy emphasis on elementary-level needs. It includes:
— Construction of a new 24-classroom elementary school just north of the high school at a cost of $1.65 million.
— Addition of a four-classroom and library complex to Morningside Elementary and Harrison Elementary schools at a cost of $400,000 dollars each.
— Addition of a four-classroom and library complex and a P. E. teaching station (a gym without showers and lockers) to Robert Stuart Junior High School at a cost of $450,000.

SUPPORTERS OF Israel voice feelings during demonstration outside New York City Hall Sunday as more than 30,000 gathered. There was brief clash with pro-Arab supporters, with rocks and bottles being hurled. Mounted police drove Arab protesters into subway station, and ended violence. (UPI)

Who can vote?

TWIN FALLS — Polling places for the $3.5 million school bond vote Tuesday will be open from noon until 8 p.m. All residents of the district 18 years old or older are eligible to vote. Polling places will be at Twin Falls High School, Robert Stuart Junior High School, Washington Morningside and Lincoln Elementaries. District patrons may cast their ballot at any of the schools.

Douglas' dissent assails wiretaps

WASHINGTON (UPI) — Supreme Court Justice William O. Douglas said today Lyndon B. Johnson told him while he was President that Johnson's telephone was tapped. Douglas also said he was "morally certain" the high court's conference room has been "bugged."
"We live in a regime where the dirty business of wiretapping runs rampant," Douglas said, calling the practice "the disease which almost every newspaper tells us has poisoned our body politic."
"Dismissing in the high Court's denial of bail to a woman who claimed that questions put to her by a grand jury were the product of illegal surveillance," Douglas said.
"We who live in the District of Columbia know that electronic surveillance is commonplace. I am indeed morally certain that the conference room of this court has been 'bugged,' and President Johnson during his term in the White House asserted to me that even his phone was tapped."
"On other matters before it today, the Court:
— Agreed to determine the extent to which private schools and other organizations practicing racial segregation can be barred from using publicly owned recreational facilities.
— Agreed to review a New York Stock Exchange case which could profoundly affect class action lawsuits such as those being brought widely nowadays in the consumer and environmental fields.
Let stand a lower court ruling that the drug Krelbiozen was never generally recognized as safe or effective in treating cancer.
— Dismissed an appeal by members of a farm commune in Tennessee who claimed their conviction on charges of growing marijuana violated their religious freedom, since they used the substance in their worship.

Key Sinai passes focus of battles

By United Press International
Israeli and Egyptian troops battled for the three strategic Sinai desert passes today in what could be the decisive stage of the new Middle East war while Israeli reported that its warplanes struck unopposed deep into Egypt and Syria.
Each side claimed victories in the Sinai. Israel's claims of unopposed strikes constituted one of its strongest assertions of air superiority since the Arabs struck by surprise 10 days ago to launch the fourth Arab-Israeli war in 25 years.
On the northern front in Syria, Israeli forces formed "like a fist" at the crossroads town of Sasa, 25 miles from Damascus, but were bogged down there by heavy opposition. Israeli tankmen said some armed units were within 14 miles of the ancient Syrian capital and shells were falling on its outskirts.
In the fast-moving action, Egypt reported it carried out a surprise dawn raid — either by helicopter or ship — behind Israeli lines in Sinai along the Mediterranean coast, inflicting heavy damage and withdrawal.
Israel reported its planes struck three airfields deep in Egypt, one of them only 60 miles north of Cairo, and bombed Syria's coastal fuel dumps at Latakia and Tartous. Returning Israeli pilots also reported shooting down five MIG challengers on the Syrian front.
"The main feature of air activity by midday is the fact that only the Israeli air force has taken the initiative and is in the air on both fronts," an Israeli communique said.

today in brief

Agnew address set tonight
WASHINGTON (UPI) — Former Vice President Spiro T. Agnew, who has been in seclusion since he resigned and pleaded "no contest" to a tax charge, has scheduled a television speech to the nation tonight.
Both CBS and NBC said Sunday they would broadcast the speech live on radio and television at 7:30 p.m. EDT.

Peron calls cabinet meet
BUENOS AIRES (UPI) — President Juan Peron held his first cabinet meeting today for a general review of the situation in Argentina where a wave of political violence continues despite his return to the presidency.
Also participating in the meeting was Peron's wife, Isabel, 40, the vice president of Argentina.

Disorder shakes Thailand
BANGKOK (UPI) — Anti-military students burned the police headquarters and took over public buildings, including hospitals, today following the end of a decade of military rule Sunday.
The former military premier, Field Marshal Thanom Kittikachorn, resigned his post as supreme commander of the Thai armed forces today and left the country. He resigned as prime minister Sunday.
On Sunday, Thanom was replaced as premier by a civilian, Sanya Thammasak.

Crew escapes transport crash
PHNOM PENH (UPI) — A crippled Cambodian C47 transport plane returning from a supply mission to embattled troops 22 miles southwest of the capital landed at Phnom Penh's Pochentong airport today and exploded. Its crew managed to escape.
Command spokesman Col. Am Rong said the plane dropped food, ammunition and other supplies to troops at Trankhar along Highway 3 when it was hit by rebel gunfire.
The C47, a military version of the twin-propeller DC3, managed to make it back to the airport with flames darting from under its left wing. The four-man crew leaped from the plane as soon as it came to a stop.

Solon sentenced for fraud
WASHINGTON (UPI) — Former Pennsylvania Rep. J. Irving Whalley was given three years probation and fined $11,000 in U.S. District court today for mail fraud and obstruction of justice.
"This has been a terrible ordeal for me and my family," Whalley, 70, told Judge Lewis Smith Jr. "I'm extremely sorry for what I have done."

Murphy expected to announce bid

BOISE — Republican Lieutenant Gov. Jack M. Murphy is expected to become the first announced candidate for Idaho governor in 1974 Tuesday.
Murphy has scheduled a mid-morning news conference at a Boise hotel to make his announcement.
Currently in his second four-year term as lieutenant governor, Murphy was first elected to the State Senate in 1952 from Lincoln County. He served 12 years in the senate, four of them as president pro-tem. He was elected lieutenant governor in 1966. Murphy has practiced law in Lincoln County.
Murphy's announcement of his candidacy has been expected for several months. He said in a television interview in June he had the beginnings of a campaign organization in more than 20 counties throughout the state. He has also been reported discussing the campaign in recent weeks with Magic Valley Republican leaders.
Incumbent Democrat Gov. Cecil D. Andrus has not yet announced plans to run for a second term.

Hardware airlifted

WASHINGTON (UPI) — The United States has begun an airlift of military supplies to Israel to prevent a "massive airlift" by the Soviet Union from unsettling the military balance in the area, it was announced today.
The State Department's chief spokesman on the Mideast crisis, Ambassador Robert J. McCloskey, said the United States had learned that a Soviet airlift resupplying Egypt and Syria had increased from the standpoint of both numbers of flights and tonnage delivered to replace Arab losses in the war so far.

US role 'peacemaker'

WASHINGTON (UPI) — President Nixon today described America's role in the Middle East as that of "peacemaker" and said U.S. policy in the area is to ensure the right of every nation to "independence and security."
Current policy "is like the policy in 1956 when Lebanon was invaded and in 1970 when Jordan was involved" in a conflict with Palestinian Arabs, the President said.
"We want the fighting to end in a way to have lasting peace," he said.

Mr. T-N
SAYS...
The difference between spring fever and fall fever is about six months.

First Ford opposition surfaces

WASHINGTON (UPI) — The first organized opposition to Gerald R. Ford's nomination as vice president surfaced today. At the same time, Congress began a two-stage confirmation process which could take a month to complete.
The liberal group, Americans for Democratic Action, ADA, said its national board voted unanimously at a meeting here Sunday "to oppose confirmation of Congressman Gerald Ford as vice president."
Key congressional figures in both parties, however, have predicted that, barring the uncovering of some so far undisclosed flaw in his record, the 60-year-old House GOP leader should have an easy time being confirmed as the successor to Spiro T. Agnew.
"Congress should require a full investigation into the allegations of mishandling of the nominee's campaign funds," ADA said.
So far, the only question raised publicly about Ford's campaign finances concerns an $11,500 contribution to his 1970 campaign which he allegedly did not report to the Clerk of the House.
Ford told reporters Saturday the incident could be "adequately explained."
The first step of the congressional process is a thorough check of the Michigan congressman's personal and professional life by the FBI and other investigators, requested by the House Judiciary and Senate Rules committees. This is expected to take about two weeks.
Then the two committees will hold separate hearings, a process which some sources say could take up to two more weeks. The committee chairman, Sen. Howard Cannon, D-Nev., and Rep. Peter Rodino, D-N.J., have agreed to allow live television coverage of the hearings.
Sen. Robert P. Griffin, R-Mich., assistant GOP leader, said Sunday Ford should be confirmed within a week or so after the FBI report on the nominee.

Zoning 'subterfuge' hit

TWIN FALLS — Creating a 300-foot agricultural strip zone along the Snake River canyon could be challenged as "subterfuge," according to an assistant attorney general.
James Weaver wrote the Twin Falls County commissioners late this past week about the dangers of the narrow setback along the river zoned as agricultural.
"To set aside a narrow 300-foot strip and call it agricultural opens the door to the challenge that the county commissioners are creating an esthetic zone under the subterfuge of agricultural zoning," Weaver wrote.
A safer course, he told the county officials, would be "to zone the entire area agricultural, with a few pockets for developments assuming some development is desirable."
Weaver's letter also indicated the county had committed a number of procedural errors in steering the new proposed zoning ordinance toward passage.
He said there was no requirement in the law that the text of an ordinance be published until it had been approved by the commissioners. The county has already had the text of the proposed ordinance published twice as legal advertisements.

Weaver also said there was no requirement that the county planning and zoning commission had to call a public hearing on proposals. One such hearing had already been held.
Weaver also encouraged the commissioners to take a "strong and bold position in zoning matters generally."
The evolving law in the powers of local government to zone, he wrote, does not justify the conservative position that some regulations make take private property without compensation.
"Great restrictions on the use of land have been upheld by many courts in many states as a valid exercise of the police power, and a few cases have gone so far as to hold that regulations which literally reduce the value of a particular piece of property to nothing are valid."
Weaver also encouraged the commissioners to regulate land uses before a developer becomes owner of the property in question to minimize the chance of a suit.

Aide against marijuana

INDIANAPOLIS, Ind. (UPI) — Marijuana may be less addictive than coffee, but it still should not be legalized, a former National Institute of Mental Health drug researcher said Saturday.

Dr. Louis Lemberger, a pharmacologist now with Lilly Laboratories for Clinical Research in Indianapolis, said legalization of the weed would condone its use.

"And if we find out later that it is dangerous-like finding out after 20 years that cigarettes cause lung cancer—then it will be too late.

"Once the horse is out of the barn, we'll never be able to get it back—like alcohol and cigarettes."

Lemberger said last week in Salt Lake City that all research on marijuana to date had failed to prove it is harmful.

"So far all evidence leads to the fact that it's not dangerous," he said. "But maybe the right experiment hasn't been done yet."

"The person who goes without his morning cup of coffee has withdrawal symptoms all day," Lemberger said.

"Marijuana has no withdrawal."

Yellow Pine replaces Samoa

YELLOW PINE, Idaho (UPI) — Who would give up the exotic Samoan Islands to come to Idaho's tiny outpost of Yellow Pine and teach school?

Apparently Richard Miller thought it was worth it. He and his wife Mary Ann and their three young daughters, originally from New Jersey, have lived and traveled in Europe and the South Pacific since leaving their conventional east coast life four years ago.

Coming to Yellow Pine — a small community that has managed to survive despite almost total isolation from the rest of the world — is a vivid contrast for them.

Last spring, the one-room school here was closed because of an anticipated lack of students for this fall, but now there are enough. Miller and family traveled through McCall, Idaho, this summer asking about teaching jobs in the school district area which includes Yellow Pine.

Discouraged about prospects, they set out for Europe looking for teaching positions.

But they ended up coming back to the U. S., and hearing of an opening at Yellow Pine, they traveled back to Idaho.

They think living on a small island such as Samoa has prepared them for the isolated life in Yellow Pine. Miller will be teaching eight elementary school children, including two of his own.

Immunization urged in month

BOISE (UPI) — During October, the Department of Environmental and Community Services is urging parents to have their children vaccinated against potentially serious childhood diseases.

DECS officials said they are concerned because the percentage of young children protected against diseases such as polio and measles is dangerously low.

October designated immunization action month is part of a cooperative national effort to immunize children in the age group 1 to 4 years against measles, polio, German measles, diphtheria, whooping cough and tetanus.

Dr. John Mather, state health officer with DECS, said only about 60 per cent of American children ages 1 to 4 years have been vaccinated against measles. He said this is not enough to prevent epidemics.

Mather said oral polio vaccine can be started at two months of age, with two doses given during the first year of life, followed by boosters one year later and at age 4 to 6 years.

CSI ski swap set for 6 days

TWIN FALLS — This year's annual "ski swap" sponsored by the College of Southern Idaho Ski Club will be held over a six-day period.

The event, featuring an assortment of used skis, ski boots, clothing of all types and accessories, will open Oct. 20 and continue Oct. 27, 28 and Nov. 2, 3, and 4 in the CSI gymnasium.

Items are being collected for the sale and persons wishing to offer their used or outgrown equipment should call the college, 733-9554, extension 303. Bob Wright, ski club adviser, will make arrangements for collection of the sales items. They may also be brought to the gymnasium and entered for sale at any time during the six-day program.

Persons wishing to sell their equipment may place a price on the various items. The ski club's commission will be 15 per cent of the sale price.

Funds from the annual ski swap are used by the club for special projects. Hours will be from 1 to 5 p.m. Friday; 10 a.m. to 11 p.m. Saturday and noon to 7 p.m. on Sunday.

Appreciative

By DALE STEWART
Times-News writer

TWIN FALLS — Audiences don't have to be large to be appreciative.

That was the case Sunday afternoon when the College of Southern Idaho concert and stage bands presented a fall concert under direction of Lawrence M. Curtis.

Members of both bands obviously enjoyed performing and the audience — probably reduced somewhat in size by a warm, sunny autumn Sunday — indicated from its applause that it enjoyed hearing them perform.

The concert band's presentations covered a broad range and were highlighted by two numbers featuring solo performers — "Harlem Nocturne," with Tom Breake on alto saxophone and "Serenade for a Picket Fence" with Mona Morrison on the xylophone.

The stage band's bouncy performances also drew appreciative applause. They ranged from modern rock back to the "big band sound" of the 1940's.

Warm autumn sunshine notwithstanding, it was a good way to spend a Sunday afternoon.

Literary unit hears review

TWIN FALLS — Pauline McCracken reviewed "The Snake Has All the Lines" by Jean Kerr at a Wednesday night meeting of the Booklore Literary Art Guild.

The meeting was at the home of Betty Armita. Carma Bingham gave the guided thought and Marian Crockett gave the author's sketch.

Annie George was a special guest. Hostesses were Velma Cox, Lorraine Flint and Mrs. Armita.

The next meeting will be Nov. 14 at the home of Olga Klinke.

Buhl truck found in Twin Falls

TWIN FALLS — Sheriff's officers reported the recovery of a 1968 pickup truck in Twin Falls Saturday night.

The vehicle, owned by Erb Brothers Market, Buhl, was reported stolen in Buhl Friday night and found abandoned on Fourth Street North late Saturday.

Y can drive winners told

TWIN FALLS — Eighty-two pounds of empty aluminum cans will fill a fair sized room.

If you don't believe it, ask the parents of Maurice Clifton, who won the first prize in the final YMCA-YWCA sponsored aluminum can collection contest this week. He brought in 82 pounds of cans to win the event. Dan Becks was second with 56 pounds and Doug Anderson was a close third with 51 pounds.

Other top 10 winners included Mary Ann Ellis, Bobby Floyd, Jack Roberts, Doug Rahney, Holly Kramer, Eric Peterson and Neal Farnsworth.

Winners were allowed to select from 10 prizes donated by local merchants including Mc-N-E-E's pizza, Young's Dairy, Pennywise Drug Co., McDonald's, Magie Bowl, Newton's Sports Center, Hemenway and Moser and Seven Up Bottling Co.

Charles-Upton said the September Aluminum can contest produced 1,000 pounds of aluminum cans to bring the total for the summer to 6,000 pounds. Money for the sale of the cans for recycling will go toward completion of the YMCA-YWCA indoor, year round swimming pool.

In addition to raising money for the community pool project, the aluminum can contest has helped rid highways, streets and yards of litter, Upton said.

Smoky school

BOISE (UPI) — The state's air pollution enforcers became a bit anxious each morning when they look out their office windows and see black smoke puffing from a nearby stack. So anxious, in fact, officials of the Department of Environmental and Community Services have notified the state and the Boise school district that the present coal-burning furnace in Central Elementary School is violating the state's air pollution standards.

The old school building sits directly outside the office window of DECS administrator James A. Bax and other high-ranking health and pollution officials.

The school has a high metal smokestack that tends to burn up heavy, black smoke each morning.

The building and the land were purchased recently by the state, but the Boise School District has the right of possession until the end-of-the-year.

Essay: On Webster's Birthday

COMMENT

Nixon's Rankle

Portland Oregonian History may record that Richard M. Nixon's downward plunge in national approval by Americans is largely attributable to their belief that he has taken advantage of them, the taxpayers, by using tax gimmicks to avoid state and federal taxes.

Many Americans can take in stride the campaign crimes and dirty tricks committed in the name of Nixon. They may consider him badly advised in his struggle to stop inflation and increase employment. They may give him full credit for getting out of Indochina and achieving breakthroughs with the Communist leaders to end the Cold War. But these are national and international matters. Taxes are right in the living room.

Some will understand, if they do not approve, President Nixon's acquisition of estates in Florida and California with the aid of his own credit and the cash of millionaire friends. The President did not elaborate on earlier statements, many times revised, on the separation of federal expenditures between presidential security and personal property purposes when asked again at his press conference Wednesday. Presidential security is, of course, a national necessity. But the President and his White House aides will not disclose his tax returns and will only affirm that these were audited by the Internal Revenue Service.

What has been reported is that his deductions on the federal income tax form were very large and that these consisted of interest, real estate taxes and a high appraised value for his vice presidential papers donated to the National Archives for tax benefit purposes.

The Providence, R. I., Journal-Bulletin now has reported that it has documents from government sources showing that President and Mrs. Nixon paid $792.81 in federal taxes in 1970 and received a $72,674.43 refund, and paid taxes in 1971 of $878.03 while receiving a refund of $58,889.41. The newspaper said the Nixon vice presidential papers were valued at $570,000.

Based on the President's salary and allowable deductions for that purpose, the newspaper said, "the Nixons presumably claimed a deduction of $60,000 for the gift of the papers in 1969, and $100,000 in subsequent years."

Putting aside the deduction for interest on debts owed by the Nixons, including those to rich friends who loaned the money to buy the estates, the question of the tax break for vice presidential papers rankles. Can these be considered personal papers? Most people, we believe, would consider them government documents, bought and paid for by the taxpayers in the official functioning of the vice presidency. And they were donated to the National Archives, which paid for them again in the form of tax deductions which less fortunate taxpayers must make up in their own tax bills.

It may be argued that high earners and wealthy men and women who do not hold public office use similar, legal tax offsets, and this is true. The private foundations thrive on such contributions for tax purposes. But it is not easy, nor would it be, for hard-working American wage earners to accept a system in which the President of the United States and Mrs. Nixon paid 1970-71 taxes, in the Journal-Bulletin's words, "roughly equivalent to taxes paid by someone who earns about $7,000 a year, claims one exemption and does not itemize deductions."

School Lunch

Idaho State Journal Every year the calendar is jammed with presidential proclamations designating certain days, weeks and months as times to honor specific persons, groups, or programs. Examples include Pulaski Day, National Little League Baseball Week, and Senior Citizens Month—worthy occasions that excite little general interest. National School Lunch Week, which begins Sunday, Oct. 14, could be different, however. The White House and Congress are at odds over the level of federal support of the school lunch program.

The House voted last month to raise the federal school lunch subsidy from 8 to 10 cents per child per day. The Senate countered by raising the subsidy to 12 cents. Both chambers acted after receiving reports that rising food prices would increase the cost of school lunches and thus cause millions of children to drop out of the program. The White House opposed both measures, claiming that the House bill would cost $84 million more a year, and that the Senate bill would cost $167 million more. House and Senate conferees are considered unlikely to settle for less than 10 cents. Accordingly, still another presidential veto may be in prospect.

Federal aid for school lunch programs began in 1936 with the donation of surplus foods to elementary and secondary schools. The National School Lunch Act of 1946 authorized a grant-in-aid program to states for school lunches in public and private schools. By fiscal 1974, Congress was appropriating $1.49 billion for the program and special provision had been made for free and reduced-cost lunches for needy children. Nevertheless, many observers complain that not enough is being spent to ensure nourishing meals for American school children, particularly those from low income families.

Critics charge that school lunches tend to be low in protein and high in fat and unenriched starch. Whatever its defects, the school lunch program does provide many children with their most nourishing meal of the day. But unless more federal assistance is forthcoming, many schools will be forced either to eliminate the program or substitute soups and sandwiches for meat and potatoes.

Tired Blood

St. Louis Post-Dispatch Medical researchers are not certain that human beings can withstand long space journeys to the outer planets. The "tired blood" weakness reported this week by the returning astronauts of Skylab 2 supports the skeptics.

Scientists who looked at the data from Skylab 1, which was up only 28 days, noted only slight bone and tissue deterioration due to weightlessness. But blood cells were lost and the body chemistry underwent a change.

Now with the return of Skylab 2 astronauts after 59 1/2 days, there are indications the changes are more profound and may indicate a progression rate that would set a limit on how long many may live in a weightless condition.

(c) New York Times Service WASHINGTON — On Oct. 16, lexicographers the world over will celebrate the 210th anniversary of the birth of Noah Webster.

The writers of dictionaries will face toward West Hartford, Conn. his birthplace, and affectionately retell the apocryphal story of the time that Wordy Worthing was embracing the chambermaid when his wife unexpectedly burst into the bedroom.

"Noah, I'm surprised!" Mrs. Webster expostulated. Whereupon the great definer coolly responded "No, my dear. You are amazed. It is we who are surprised."

But Oct. 16 must not only be a day of anecdote and merry puns: it is a day, too, for thoughtful second soberings. This has been quite a linguistic year.

Ron Zeigler has much to answer for in the coinage of "The President—Misspoken Himself," his computer program terminology, from "input" to "time frame" came cooper with "Inoperative." This essayist stubbed his pencil on "centered ground," which several readers circled and sent in with "there's a neat trick," and on another occasion I threw down a gantlet instead of a gauntlet. (I miswrote myself.)

Watergate writers made the long leap from "capor" to "horror," the "plumbers" gained a meaning beyond that of George Meany's profession; and the metaphysical cliché of the year became "at this point in time."

The most frequently misspelled new word at the Senate hearings was "misprision," a pre-legal word rooted in the French neoprene, (accent acute over first e to err, and quickly replaced by the easier-to-spell "coverup," which soon lost its lypen and thus its virginity. (Why am I tempted to point out here that "Senator" and "Senile" come from the same root?)

"Hardball" is probably the most useful new coinage in politicalingo, to differentiate between the tough-but-legal activity that our side engages in, from the "dirty trick" that your-side-perpetrates.

The translation error most frequently made in the past year was that the name "Segretti" means "secret" in Italian; no loss an authority that Mario Pei, America's leading vocabularian, writing in the quarterly Modern Age, held that "segreti" is the term for "secrets," and the single or double T gives the two words different pronunciations and derivations. (Mr. Pei is of Italian descent, he is sometimes thought to be Chinese when his name is confused with I. M. Pei, the architect, who is.)

The most furious inter-columnar battle over the meaning of an Americanism took place between David Broder and Mike Royko, on the word "clout." Washington's Broder used the word used defined in my dictionary — "power, or influence" — and Chicagoan Royko clobbered the "brazen misuse" of a word he takes to mean not power, but purely influence. "Clout is used to circumvent the law, not to enforce it," wrote Royko. Whom Broder sent this to me with "I rolled on your goddamn book and look what trouble I'm in." I turned to the ultimate arbiter, Arthur Krock, down the hall.

"Clout means impud," said Krock, disagreeing with all of us. "If I say something, it has an effect on public opinion, it has 'clout.' If you say it, it does not." That's it, gentlemen: Krock was probably a personal friend of Noah Webster.

The most brilliant pun of the year (there are a few of these awards envelopes still to open) was in a Wall Street Journal headline about a solvent developed to clean oil slick off seapulls, harmless — but temporarily befudding: "Leaves no'ton unstoned."

The most profound punster was Dan Rather of CBS, with his assessment of the energy crisis, which began: "You can fuel some of the people all of the time."

Best new word that fills a gap in the language was minted by architectural writer Ada Louise Huxtable to describe a happy marriage of form and function: "Beautiflly."

Best political derogation was Gov. Ronald Reagan's characterization of the expensive medical program put forth by Sen. Edward Kennedy: "Teddycare."

And the grammatical error most frequently made reflects a sad state of affairs: indictments are never "handed down," they are only "handed up."

Indictment grammar and etymology are worth studying because they metaphorically preserve truths too soon forgotten: an indictment is an accusation handed up to a high bench where a judge sits, for further adjudication. The Latin derivations in the oldest dictionaries give us the most up-to-the-minute political guidance: an indictment means "the writing down of a charge," and only a verdict means "the speaking of the truth."

"Happy birthday, Noah:

JAMES RESTON

Selection Is Criminally Negligent

(c) N. Y. Times Service WASHINGTON — The Agnew Affair, following on the Engleton Affair, suggests again that the normal procedures for selecting vice presidential candidates in America have been almost criminally negligent, so maybe they should be examined as President Nixon picks a successor for Mr. Agnew.

The system, if that's the word for it, has produced some odd accidental Presidents, notably Theodore Roosevelt, Harry Truman, Lyndon Johnson, and maybe Chester A. Arthur, who succeeded the murdered James A. Garfield, but it has also produced quite a few dud, who were chosen too fast and usually for the wrong reasons.

Engleton was picked by George McGovern at the last minute over the telephone in 1972, and everybody knows what happened to that. But even now, we don't know much about how Agnew was selected by Nixon in 1968, or who, if anybody, checked his record before he was sprung on a surprised Republican Convention.

The situation now, of course, is different. The President cannot impose his new man on the House and Senate, as he imposed Agnew on an obedient party in 1968 and 1972, but he still seems to be in a hell of a hurry to find a successor, before people have had time to think about what kind of successor the country needs.

During the last World War in London, there was a modest sign along the aisles in Westminster Cathedral. "In the event of an air raid," it said, "parishioners will descend to the crypts with all due reverence speed." That is not a bad guide to the present. Take it seriously, but take it easy. Nixon is seeking advice from everybody around here about the person to be chosen as vice president, as he did in 1968, when he paid no attention to the advice he was given. He asked for names in sealed envelopes, which is not a bad idea, but what's the hurry?

This capital is still a little dizzy from the Agnew resignation and the outbreak of war in the Middle East. It is not in the exhausted and boozzy atmosphere of the conventions, where Agnew and Engleton were chosen at the last minute and then shoved out into a howling hall, full of cigar smoke and balloons. But it is distracted by the past.

It is both sad and angry about Agnew. His friends feel he has let them down, and even his enemies feel both that he got off too easy, but that he was punished more severely than others guilty of more serious offenses, if not crimes. Nobody has yet had time to sort out the past, let alone to be clear about the future.

Maybe then, this is a time for little judicious leaving alone. There is no emergency. The President may be preoccupied with Agnew's problems and his own problems, but the government is carrying on, and carrying on with a better cabinet than it has had for years.

Ironically, it is being carried on in large part by a few Harvard types, in key jobs, who used to be the enemies of Nixon, Agnew, and Middle America. Kissinger of state, Schlesinger at defense, Richardson at Justice, Cox as special prosecutor, Dunlop on the economy. It would be funny if it weren't so serious, but anyway, the Republic will probably survive.

This time, there is a chance to ask the right questions, and check out the answers. The tragedy of the Engleton and Agnew nominations, as we now know, was simply that their backgrounds were not checked out, and while the two cases are quite different, they didn't tell the truth about their past.

They were nominated for the vice presidency, not because they were Presidential figures, or even because they had much to contribute to the ticket, but because they were attractive women, who were probably acceptable to the party or lobby powers, because they were unknown. Nobody concentrated on the question of character.

This casual cynicism has cost both parties much more than they imagined, and it will be interesting to see now whether the President has learned the lesson of the Agnew and Engleton disasters. Essentially, they were failures of character, and not of politics.

The President is being urged on the one hand to nominate the best potential chief executive he can find, even if this kills the 1976 presidential nomination toward the man of his choice, and on the other hand, to pick a competent caretaker, who will not run in 1976 and will be quickly confirmed and avoid more controversy, which nobody needs or wants.

There is a good argument on both sides of this question, and Washington is obviously divided about the answer. So it needs time to sort things out. After Johnson and Nixon, after the tragedies of Engleton and Agnew, maybe the country needs nothing more than a simple man of character, who will be plain and honest. But Washington is not thinking about this. It is not only confused for the moment about the answer, but about the question. It needs time to remember the tragedies of Engleton and Agnew, and consider, for a change, the future of the republic.

A Thought

Then you will delight yourself in the Almighty and lift up your face to God. You will make your prayer to him, and he will hear you; and you will pay your vows." — Job 22:26,27.

All of us, even those who are not attached to any formal religion, have need of that which silent prayer satisfies. It is the need of gathering together one's inner resources. — Felix Frankfurter, former U.S. Supreme Court Justice.

Times-News Public Forum

A Protest

Editor, Times-News:

In a recent article written by George Wiley, published in the Times-News, an item about property taxes appeared here is a quote from this article:

"The county taxes not only for its own operation, but also for each city in the county, all county school districts, the county highway districts, and the state general school fund, building bond fund, and water pollution control fund. Property owners this year will pay $62.73 on each $10,000 worth of property they own."

The property tax pays every year for these costs plus others this article did not mention. The county taxes help support the airport, the "sanitary fill," the welfare fund, the hospital, and the county fair, etc.

Anyone who owns property in this area pays these expenses every year. The schools are right now asking the voters to approve a bond issue to build and improve the schools. Everyone can vote on the issue, but who pays for the improvements? The PROPERTY OWNERS!

The hospitals is contemplating an addition. Property owners will have to do the financing on this, also; if the vote for a bond issue is affirmative. There are rumors of other improvements for the benefit of the general public floating around. Cost of many of these things will wholly or partially fall upon the property owners of this area.

Why is it the property owners are billed for these costs, and none of them are paid by salaried people, although many salaried people receive yearly incomes equal to or greatly exceeding the yearly incomes of those who own property? We know improvements are required from time to time but why should those who own property with which they earn their livelihood be compelled to pay all these costs, which are of benefit to all people living in an area?

A lawyer who moves into this area, sends his children to school, uses all public-owned facilities used by property owners, pays only income and sales taxes. It is the same with managers of department stores, school teachers, truck drivers, and many another salaried person. Property owners pay income and sales taxes, too!

People who own securities, stocks, bonds, and such, pay no property taxes on the securities themselves, but only on the increase from them. People who have their money in a savings bank pay no property tax every year on the amount they deposit, only income tax on the interest. People who spend money to get an education never pay tax on the education which empowers them to earn a very good livelihood. But the people who put their money into property are taxed on the property. Why is the property owner required to underwrite the costs for the improvements and services which benefit all of the general population? The answer is that this practice was started in 1776.

Times and conditions have changed. Methods of taxation have not been changed, or rather have only been changed by the addition of new methods of taxation.

The property tax is archaic and discriminatory. It should be abolished as a method of raising taxes, in favor of income or sales taxes. Property tax is unjust. In fact it is taxation without full representation. It is tyranny! Property owners are paying much more than their fair share of governmental expenses, and that means all non-owners are having a free ride at our expense.

Property owners should get together and bring an end to this discrimination. They should gather together in meetings, protest in the news media, raise their voices in public meetings, bring their grievances to the courts, and to the legislature. In fact they should be heard in every gathering having to do with bond issues, public improvements, and public services. Attention should be called to this gross inequity. Injustice will never be recognized and corrected until we fight!

Joe E. Hiedeman, Rte. No. 2, Twin Falls, Idaho.

BERRY'S WORLD

"Fredrick is really different. He broods about things nobody else is brooding about."

Surprise for Dad

VICE PRESIDENTIAL nominee Gerald R. Ford (right) does a double-take on meeting his son, John, 21, a student at Utah State University, Logan, Sunday. The last time they met, the younger Ford wasn't wearing a beard. They visited over steaks barbecued at the home of a friend in Tremonton, Utah. (UPI)

Ford pushes hearings

PORTLAND, Ore. (UPI) — Vice President-designate Gerald R. Ford, confident he has nothing to hide, pressed today for early Congressional hearings on his nomination so that he can get on with the work of "unity."

Ford implied during talks with newsmen and in public appearances in Salt Lake City Sunday and in scheduled appearances in Portland, Ore., today that he was anxious to be confirmed and move ahead as the nation's 40th vice president.

Ford told newsmen that his talks before a local, early morning Republican breakfast and mid-morning speech to the American Retail Druggist's Association would include the need for unity at this time.

The 60-year-old House Republican leader did not specify who he wanted to unite, but said it would include the White House and Congress and through them the nation.

"The nation has had enough stress over the past six months and it is time to put that aside and get on with much-needed work for the benefit of the nation," Ford said he would tell the Portland Republicans and the druggists.

Ford told a gathering at Utah State University near Salt Lake Sunday night, where he went to visit his 21-year-old son, John, that "I hope and feel that the two committees (in Congress) looking into my record will hold hearings soon and they can make any investigation they wish to make in any depth that they desire and as far-reaching as they want to go."

Both House and Senate committee chairmen who will conduct the hearings have indicated their investigation into the actual hearings on the nomination will take a month, Ford did not say if, but he implied that that much time was unnecessary.

"I hope they won't hang fire too long, but I won't set a time element on them," Ford told newsmen aboard an Air Force cargo plane, converted for top military brass and other VIPs.

The plane was still a peg or two below the level former Vice President Spiro Agnew used. Ford said the cost of the trip, including the stop to see his son, would be paid by the druggist's association, who had invited him to speak prior to his nomination. Newsmen traveling with Ford also paid their own fare for the flight.

Nixon appeal on tape ruling seen soon

WASHINGTON (UPI) — President Nixon this week is expected to appeal to the Supreme Court a federal court ruling that he must relinquish nine Watergate-related tape recordings.

The White House said Sunday Nixon's lawyers still are studying the 41-page decision made Friday by the U.S. Circuit Court of Appeals. It ruled that the tapes must be submitted to U.S. District Judge John J. Sirica for inspection as to their relevancy to a grand jury investigation of the Watergate burglary and the ensuing cover-up.

The appeals court gave Nixon's lawyers until Friday to appeal his 5-2 ruling.

The disputed doctrine of executive privilege is expected to remain the chief argument of the White House in opposing special Watergate prosecutor Archibald Cox's request for the tapes of conversations held between the President and his aides.

"The Constitution mentions no executive privileges, much less any absolute executive privileges," the court said.

The ruling, upheld Sirica's Aug. 20 decision and ordered the tapes given to the judge, who would decide which portions, if any, may be withheld from the grand jury on grounds they relate only to "national defense or foreign relations."

In another Watergate development, it was reported Sunday that the Senate committee has begun investigating Nixon's personal finances because of allegations that billionaire Howard Hughes made two $50,000 cash payments in 1969 and 1970 to Nixon friend Charles G. Kebozo.

Maryland grand jury reconvenes

BALTIMORE (UPI) — A federal grand jury investigating political corruption in Maryland reconvenes this week to continue investigating possible ties between politicians and businessmen.

The inquiry, which began last December, was delayed when the U.S. Attorney's Office investigation turned to matters involving Vice President Spiro T. Agnew, leading to Agnew's resignation last week.

Prior to the Agnew developments, the jury had returned indictments against 22 policemen and 37 civilians.

The next phase of the investigation will center on Baltimore County politicians and businessmen cited for soliciting kickbacks in a 40-page "exposition of evidence" against Agnew, which was made public in court last week.

Prosecutors in the case would not rule out the possibility the jury might also investigate Maryland Gov. Marvin Mandel, Agnew's successor.

TWIN FALLS — Hunters planning to go into the Sawtooth National Recreation Area were reminded by forest officials to be careful with fire.

In spite of recent rain and snow in higher elevations, a fire danger exists and factors for starting forest fires still remain, Tom Kovalicky, assistant superintendent of the SNRA reported.

Litter remains a major problem in the forest areas, especially in roadless regions. Idaho law now requires all refuse be taken to a sanitary landfill area or deposited in containers designed to hold refuse for collection.

Public cooperation is important to a clean environment, Kovalicky said. Hunters planning to use horses must obtain permits but there is not charge for the permits.

Commodity market eyed

WASHINGTON (UPI)—Record high food prices this year have drawn the attention of Congress to the commodities markets, where speculators make and lose fortunes on obscure items such as No. 2 shell corn and frozen porkbellies.

To many Americans, these markets may seem mundane in their products and exotic in their workings, but the prices of bread, meat and clothing are partly influenced by them.

The only public regulation of the $20 billion annual commodities trading comes from the Commodity Exchange Authority (CEA), a tiny federal agency with 17 regulatory professionals and a budget that matches the annual federal outlay for construction at the National Zoo.

The House Agriculture Committee said it would open hearings Tuesday on the possibility of strengthening the CEA to protect the public interest.

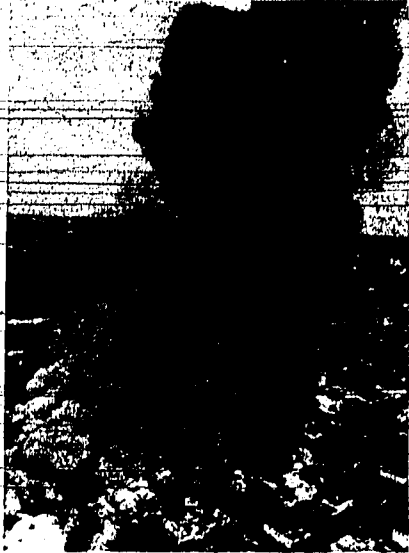

With the cost of food rising because of increasing world demand, devalued dollars and inflation, the committee said it would also look for evidence of artificial stipulation of prices on the commodities exchanges.

The House small business subcommittee of Rep. Neal Smith, D-Iowa, completed hearings two weeks ago, after which Smith said he believed that the CEA did not know what was happening in the commodities market.

Prices on commodities exchanges doubled this summer for soybeans, corn and durum wheat. The price of cotton soared from 27 cents a pound in 1972 to 99 cents last month, the highest level since the Civil War.

Under present law, the exchanges regulate trading and make periodic summary reports to the CEA. But traders found to manipulate prices are treated lightly if they are exchange members, according to Agriculture Department officials.

These officials also complained that dual reports are filed by exchanges in cases of alleged manipulation. A report for exchange members is detailed, they said, but the public summary is so vague that one Agriculture Department examiner said he could not tell "whether the weather... or a trade" was under discussion.

Blaze causes big evacuation

CHELSEA, Mass. (UPI)—Fired by winds gusting to more than 40 mph swept "like a tornado" through a depressed area of scrapyards and tenements Sunday, destroying nearly a quarter of the city and forcing more than 2,000 persons to evacuate their homes.

There were no deaths or serious injuries.

Mayor Phillip Spelman and Sen. Edward Kennedy, D-Mass., urged the government to declare the densely populated city of more than 30,000 persons just north of Boston a federal disaster area.

Some 500 National Guardsmen were ordered into city streets early today to help local police guard against possible looting.

Spelman told a midnight news conference after the general alarm blaze was declared under control that many human lives were saved because the fire started at 4 p.m., in daylight.

"If this had started at 3 or 4 in the morning, God only knows what would have happened," he said.

"It swept through the city like a tornado... the winds were high—very high," the mayor said. He said the city "would have been in real trouble" if it had not been for railroad tracks dividing it which created a natural fire line.

Asked what portion of the city was damaged, he replied, "I would say between 20 and 30 per cent."

University astronomer confirms tale of craft from other planet

PASCAGOULA, Miss. (UPI)—A Northwestern University astronomer says the "very terrifying experience" of two men indicates that a strange craft from another planet did land in Mississippi.

"Where they are coming from and why they were here is a matter of conjecture," Dr. Allen Hynek said, "but the fact that they were here on this planet is beyond a reasonable doubt."

Hynek and Dr. James Harder of the University of California interviewed by hypnosis two shipyard workers, who told authorities they were fishing from an old pier in the Pascagoula River when a "fish-shaped" vehicle emitting a bluish haze approached from the sky.

Charles Hickson, 42, and 18-year-old Calvin Parker, both of the Gauthier community, have maintained throughout a week-end of intense questioning that they were taken aboard the craft by three weird creatures with wrinkled skin, crab-claw hands and pointed ears.

Hynek, who was scientific consultant to Project Bluebook when it was conducted on UFOs by the U.S. Air Force in the 1960's, said after talking to Parker and Hickson:

"There is no question in my mind that these men have had a very terrifying experience. Under no circumstances should they be ridiculed. Let's protect these men."

Hickson and Parker, "both scared to death and shaking all over," told the Jackson County sheriff's office of their bizarre experience Thursday night.

Sheriff Fred Dimmond said he believed "something" happened to the men because they were "scared to death and on the verge of a heart attack."

Other residents of the Pascagoula area reported to the sheriff's office they saw a similar UFO in the vicinity of the fishing location about the time the two men maintain they did.

The men, who have volunteered to undergo lie-detector tests, wore checked for radiation exposure Friday at Keesler Air Force Base, but the results were negative.

2 cows killed by UFO in Ohio

DAYTON, Ohio (UPI)—A woman "hysterically" told police Sunday evening that an oblong object with blinking lights killed two cows when it landed in a field.

Her report was one of 80 sightings of unidentified flying objects that residents of west central Ohio told police about that night.

However, the sheriff's office said a three-hour search by several cruisers and an airplane in the area where the UFO supposedly landed uncovered nothing.

"Her directions were only half-way reliable," said patrolman Charles Conklin. "The only directions were 'behind Boston, Ohio on Petersburg Pike,' which runs about 10 miles... through farm country."

The woman, "hysterical" and "screaming," said a couple of cows were killed when the object landed, Conklin said.

Other descriptions of the UFOs varied from sightings reported late last week. Again, none of the UFOs was detected on radar.

Israeli-Arab backers clash

NEW YORK (UPI)—More than 30,000 pro-Israeli demonstrators clashed briefly with a handful of pro-Arab supporters Sunday in a rock-and-bottle exchange, but police on horseback drove the Arab protesters into a subway station and ended the violence.

In other parts of the nation, fund drives to help Israel in the Middle East war reported raising millions of dollars, and five volunteers left Philadelphia for Tel Aviv to help in the war effort.

Israeli supporters massed in New York's City Hall Park to hear speakers, including Israeli Foreign Minister Abba Eban and several celebrities, and to chant slogans urging a quick victory of Israel's war with the Arabs. But 40 Arab backers showed up—and the groups exchanged first obscenities and later rocks.

Police said they decided to clear out the small group of pro-Arab demonstrators after a stink bomb was hurled from their area into the opposing crowd and fistfights broke out amid rocks and bottles hurled back and forth. No one was reported seriously injured.

Eight persons were arrested, including Mohammed Mehdi, secretary general of the Action Committee on Arab-American Relations.

Murder trial begins

SANTA CRUZ, Calif. (UPI)—Ermond Kemper III, a 6-foot-9, 280-pound road worker, has pleaded innocent by reason of insanity to killing seven women and then his mother to prevent her from "suffering embarrassment."

Kemper's murder trial begins today.

He was arrested April 24 as he talked with Santa Cruz police from a Pueblo, Colo., telephone booth about the killings.

Kemper, 24, entered the insanity plea to charges he killed his mother, her friend and six hitchhiking coeds, but two psychiatrists said he is capable of cooperating in his own defense.

Abby

Abigail Van Buren

DEAR ABBY: This is a plea for churches to consider women counselors. Your statement: "When a secretary starts crying on her boss's shoulder, she frequently winds up in his arms," was very, very true. The same could apply to ministers.

There have been more heartaches caused by women crying on their ministers' shoulders than anyone can imagine. Ask any minister's wife, and she will tell you (if she is honest) that many women have taken their problems to their clergymen and after several sessions of unburdening themselves they tell the minister they are in love with HIM!

Ministers are only human, and some are flattered, and some even try to console the troubled women in some very untheatrical ways.

Women counselors

This problem could be eliminated if the minister consulted with his female parishioners a time or two, and then turned them over to a woman for further counseling. ONE WHO HAS SEEN MUCH.

DEAR ONE: Your suggestion is an excellent one. It would lighten the burden of many an overworked clergyman. And his wife would appreciate it, too.

DEAR ABBY: I manage a large furniture store, and my problem is how to handle wild kids whose parents bring them along when they come to shop. These roughnecks tear off our price tags, pull out drawers, leaving them on the floor, and they actually jump from one sofa to the next. Most of the time the parents look the other way. When I ask the child not to do these things, many of the parents get insulted and leave.

Should I put up a sign stating that we welcome children, however, we run a furniture store not a recreational park, and parents will be charged for any damage done by their children?

How would you handle this situation?

HARRIED IN HOUSTON
DEAR HARRIED: Forget the sign. If a child proceeds to abuse your merchandise, advise the parents that they will be held responsible for damage by their children. And if damage is done, sock it to 'em!

DEAR ABBY: The letter from the man who was seriously injured in an automobile accident and had the local funeral home people "call on him" while he was still in bad shape in the hospital, reminded me of my own experience.

Six months ago I suddenly lost my husband. That was bad enough, but before he was even buried I got a "sympathy card" from a man who sells real estate. I hardly knew this man. He had written on the card: "If you want to sell your house, let me know."

I reported him to the real-estate company he worked for, and now I notice he is trying to sell cars. -ANGRY

CONFIDENTIAL TO "B AND F" IN SAN DIEGO: Show me a married couple who boast that they have never had an argument, and I'll show you a pair of lovebirds—complete with birdbrains. It's not humanly possible for two thinking people to always be in complete agreement on everything, but how they handle their differences can make or break a marriage.

would make hearts trump. West would double and redoubles would continue until the penalty for a one trick set would be everything the victim could be expected to pay. Incidentally, why was the hand dealt in hearts, not spades?
Oswald: "In bridge, hearts was the ranking suit."
Jim: "At contract, South will bid seven hearts and be down seven tricks. There is a funny story about this. Someone stuck this hand in a duplicate game. Top score went to a player who got excited and bid seven no-trump. He was only down six while everyone else went down seven."

By Oswald & James Jacoby
Jim: "Here is a letter from Edward B. Stauffer of Cape Coral, Fla. He wants us to show the Mississippi heart hand again in our column."
Oswald: "Let's oblige. The hand was originally dealt on a Crooked River boat by some crooked gamblers to fleece a man out of all his money on one hand. The game was bridge (the grandfather of contract). In bridge, the dealer made trump; all hands were played at the one level; either opponent could double and there were unlimited doubles and redoubles."
Jim: "I see. The victim

BLM permits new boat ramp at Magic Reservoir

SHOSHONE — The construction of a boat ramp on the Camas arm of Magic Reservoir has been authorized, the Idaho Fish and Game Department and has been recently improved in accordance with their specifications.

The Blaine County commissioners and planning and zoning commission have also been consulted on the proposed development and have given their approval. The Idaho Parks Department has been contacted and may provide a portion of the necessary construction funds from the state waterway funds.

The boat ramp will be located on national resource land administered by the BLM, directly across State Highway 68 from Moonstone Lodge. The short access road which leads to the site crosses land owned by the Idaho Fish and Game Department and has been recently improved in accordance with their specifications.

Traffic death brings Hailey suit

HAILEY — A $10,000 suit has been filed in connection with the 1972 traffic death of James E. Stricker, 17, Hailey. The Fifth District Court suit was brought by Edward Stricker and Mrs. Darlene Day, young Stricker's parents. Cited as defendants are Barry W. Shipman and his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Jack Shipman, Bolevoue.

negligence by young Shipman included driving "in excess of and in dangerous speed; driving the car on the left side of the highway, failing to have the car under proper control in light of existing highway and traffic conditions and failure to keep proper lookout ahead." The suit states that Mr. and Mrs. Shipman were the owners of young Shipman's vehicle and that he operated the car with the knowledge and consent of the owners.

with the accident and two counts of first degree burglary. He was released Sept. 6 on a three-year probation. The complaint contends that young Stricker's parents were deprived of the "comfort, society, counsel, companionship and services" of their son to their general damage of $10,000. Also sought are costs and disbursements of the suit. The Strickers are represented by Kenneth Pedersen, Parsons and Smith law firm - Burley. Missouri is known as the Cave State because it supposedly has more commercially developed natural caves than any other state.

Intimidation charges in Blaine eyed

By TERRY CAMPBELL, Times-News Writer

KETCHUM — A newspaper story quoting charges of "intimidation" of merchants by unnamed "media representatives of the area" has provoked responses ranging from concern to disbelief.

The charges were contained in a front-page article appearing in this week's edition of a Ketchum newspaper — the Sawtooth Mountain Star — written by publisher Nalley Bedingfield.

The article said "The Sawtooth Mountain Star publisher has a list, compiled over the past year, of merchants who say they have been threatened by media representatives of the area with being attacked editorially if they did not advertise and/or handle distribution for those requesting it."

The article also said "a second list is made up of those merchants who indicate they have been told by the same sources that their bills would be paid off in advertising — whether this was the wish of the merchant or not, and without prior arrangement."

Bedingfield concluded by stating that merchants and residents "approached with threats, implied or otherwise" were invited to contact any Star staff member "to be added to either of the lists. The information will be sent through the proper channels," the article said.

A survey of area newspaper officials produced the following comments.

Gordon Glasmann, Standard Examiner Publishing Co., Inc., whose firm assumed ownership of the Wood River Journal on Sept. 1, said, "I know nothing about it."

Glasmann said he was "appalled anyone would try to do something like that."

Stephen Lathrop, editor of Ketchum Tomorrow since about mid-August, said "The charges which Nancy charges in her article is reprehensible if it exists."

"Unfortunately," Lathrop said, "the article provides no facts as to who claims to be intimidated or who the alleged intimidator may be. That fact makes it utterly impossible to comment in a specific fashion."

Sally Donart, former editor of Ketchum Tomorrow, said, "The vagueness of her (Bedingfield's) charges taints the whole media picture in the Wood River Valley."

Donart also said, "It's only fair that she name — names on her list and specific media to which she is referring."

Gordon Curtis, retail advertising manager for the Times-News, said the newspaper ad representative "does not in any way use any threats or pressure, because our advertising and editorial departments have always been run separately."

Bedingfield, when contacted, said "It should be obvious to everyone that the merchants are not referring to all media of the area. The large majority of people in the media in this area conduct their business in a highly professional and ethical manner." But she refused to disclose the list of merchants or the media or medium which was allegedly involved.

"The merchants were assured that no list of names will be released until the list is complete and then only through the proper channels," she said.

Bedingfield further stated, "Any merchant being subjected to this treatment should feel free to go to his mayor or anybody else in city or county government, if he prefers."

"It is an insult to the area and a disgrace to the industry that even one case of intimidation has been reported," Bedingfield said.

Balloon attracts attention in Hollister landing

Balloonist gets near AF

SPRINGFIELD, (UPI) — Millionaire Malcolm Forbes, carried 15 miles from his target by a sudden wind gust, landed his giant blue and yellow hot air balloon in a field outside this small farming town Sunday night after the longest flight on his cross-country trip.

Forbes, 51, traveled about 120 miles after leaving Hollister, 6½ hours behind schedule.

He brought the big balloon down at the end of the 8,000-foot Pocatello Municipal Airport runway, but before he could anchor it, a gust of wind carried him aloft again. Forbes came down 15 miles to the northwest in a field outside Springfield after flying over American Falls Reservoir.

The flight from Hollister, south of Twin Falls, to Springfield was longer than the 105-mile voyage Saturday over the Nevada desert from Tuscarora, Nev. "That had been Forbes' previous best day since he left the Oregon coast last week."

Forbes, publisher of Forbes Business Magazine, hopes to become the first man to fly a hot air balloon across the United States.

"Now we are in position to cross the Rockies," Forbes said before leaving Hollister. The next leg of his flight should take him into Wyoming, where he must cross the continental divide.

But gusty winds prevented an early take-off Sunday and the balloon finally got into the air at 1:25 p.m.

Residents in the Twin Falls area got a glimpse of the balloon as it flew over houses and farmland. A sheriff's deputy said, "I didn't see it, but my wife said it was beautiful."

The balloon was spotted directly over Twin Falls about 1:50 p.m., and stayed in sight for almost one hour. The hot air craft drifted slowly, one observer said, and suddenly took an updraft and sailed away.

The communication center at Forbes' Trinchera Ranch 200 miles southeast of Denver, Colo., said a phone call from the balloon ground tracking crew indicated the balloonists had hoped to get to Pocatello but might go farther if good winds prevailed.

Mrs. Jean Ryland at the ranch southeast of Denver, said, "They (the Forbes team) are behind schedule. The weather hasn't been as good as they wanted. They haven't had the winds they needed."

She said by now Forbes hoped to be in St. Louis. The party left Cross Bay, Ore., Oct. 5 on the cross-country trek.

Jerome school speak-ups set

By CHARLOTTE HEM, Times-News writer

JEROME — A school needs-assessment committee will be named this month in Jerome to evaluate information gathered at "speak-ups" which will be conducted Tuesday.

Roy Parton, director of the needs assessment survey, said Monday that a representative group of 20 to 30 school patrons will be asked to attend an analysis workshop to study data gathered during the "speak ups."

Parton said meetings will be held at 8 p.m. Tuesday to discuss the needs and concerns of the Jerome school district.

"These meetings will be conducted at all five Jerome schools and school patrons are invited to meet at the school of their choice and voice their concerns."

The meetings are intended for the public only, without administrators, teachers and students taking part.

Citizen concerns expressed will be classified and grouped into categories according to similar topics and themes. They will be processed through a series of considerations (called concerns analysis). This must be done before a concern can be classified as a real need," Parton said.

Parton said facts relevant to each concern will be listed by the needs assessment committee, which will also prepare a statement describing the "ideal situation when the problem is solved."

Information from the concerns analysis will be sent to the steering committee which will decide on the priority of needs.

The committee will establish a tentative operational philosophy for implementing changes. It will also recommend a statement of goals and objectives for the district and develop a plan for resolving the validated needs which will be published.

The publication will be used by the school to implement the changes necessary to meet the needs of the district, Parton said.

Blaine school annual meet ruled lawful in suit brought by citizens

HALLEY — The June 11 Blaine County School District annual meeting has been ruled as "lawful" even though trustees refused to consider subjects raised for discussion by the public.

Making the ruling for the Fifth Judicial District was Judge Arthur P. Oliver, Pocatello.

The suit had been brought by Corby Dibble, Philip Ritzau, Duane Gibson, Beatrice Jangley, Alice Shernthanner, John Weekes and "all others similarly situated."

Named as defendants were trustees Ronda Hurl, Mark Patterson, Dorothy Moore and Dr. Arthur Richards.

Judge Oliver decided the plaintiffs were not entitled to the relief asked.

As the June 11 annual meeting was in fact a lawful meeting, Judge Oliver stated, "the resolutions and motions proposed from the floor by the electors of that district were properly rejected by the defendants."

The original plaintiffs' complaint stated that during the meeting the school board failed to respond to "various and numerous requests from the electorate to discuss and consider general questions pertaining to the school and its interests."

These questions, the complaint stated, included "future salaries, the proposed 1973-74 budget and the facts and circumstances surrounding the refusal of said board to offer a contract of employment to the principal of the Ernest Hemingway Elementary School."

Judge Oliver also stated that prior to the 1963 reclassification of educational laws, school trustees were elected at the annual meeting by the electors present and that the code provided that questions properly coming before the annual meeting should be determined by a majority vote of the qualified voters present.

With the reclassification, Judge Oliver concluded, the organization of the board "is the only mandatory item of business to be included on the agenda at the annual meeting."

Judge Oliver also concluded that a provision of the Idaho Code which requires all school board meetings to be public meetings "does not mandate the participation of the public in such meetings."

Serving as attorney for the plaintiffs was E. Lee Schlender, Ketchum. The school district was represented by Ketchum attorney Stratton Lagels.

TF school patrons vote Tuesday on $3.5 million bond election

Construction of a total of 12 extra classrooms for the school system would greatly alleviate space problems, Staudacher said. In Harrison and Morningstar Elementary schools there are as many as 38 students per classroom in the upper grades and 35 students per classroom at the O'Leary Junior High School.

The new classrooms would mean that classes would have 26 students on the average. Also, Staudacher said the new classrooms would give the district enough room space to begin a kindergarten program if the funds are available.

The 1900-portion of Lincoln School, which is to be replaced, is known as a firetrap among school and fire department officials. Open stairways and old heating flues in the building would "act like a chimney" should fire start, according to Twin Falls Fire Marshal Fred Higgins. Architect Ed Peterson said the new addition would probably be one story high. Heating and cooling problems and inadequate classroom space make the building "educationally unsound," Lincoln Principal Keith Turner said.

New classrooms at the Robert Stuart Junior High School will help alleviate crowding at O'Leary where classes are often composed of 35 students and where there is no playing field at the school. Approximately 120 O'Leary students will be transferred to Robert Stuart if the classrooms are built.

The new gym "teaching station" would help to accommodate the new students and would lessen the extremely crowded gym conditions at the school now, Robert Stuart Principal Jack Witts said. During the basketball season the gym is scheduled for use from 7 a.m. to 11 p.m. At times, four classes totalling around 120 students are using the gym at once.

Acquisition of a new Junior High School site will be in preparation to replace O'Leary. Staudacher said the replacement will be necessary because the school is in an "old, antiquated building" and because of the lack of playing field for the students.

Costs for the proposed projects have been estimated by determining present costs and raising them 12 per cent according to Peterson. He said inflation has been 10 to 12 per cent in the construction industry during the past several years and he expects this trend to continue.

Teacher workshop held at Hagerman

HAGERMAN — "You don't have to be an expert in the scientific field to teach someone about his environment."

This was the theme of the environmental workshop held Friday for 55 teachers from the Magic Valley.

The Magic Valley Environmental Education Team, chaired by Stuart Murrell of the Idaho Fish and Game Department, sponsored the workshop which provided teachers with exercises in classification of plants and animals and field investigations. Problem-solving techniques were utilized in identifying flora in the Thousand Springs area.

Field investigations included soils, plants, water and wildlife. Soil characteristics were determined, oxygen content of water was tested and aquatic insects were subjected to various types of pollution, including detergents, pesticides, herbicides and potato wastes.

The teachers also experimented with painting using natural materials, such as charcoal, flower petals, leaves and different colors of soils.

According to Murrell, the workshop covered all disciplines of a school's curriculum, enabling teachers to implement in the classroom what they learned at the workshop.

Murrell said there was excellent response by the teachers, almost half of which attended from the Wendell School District. The Wendell district was instrumental in staging this year's workshop, he said.

The Magic Valley Environmental Education Team was formed in 1971 and consists of eight members. It has sponsored five workshops, with 300 teachers participating.

Arson probed

BELLEVUE — Arson is suspected in a Bellevue fire which destroyed an unoccupied wooden building early today.

Fire Chief James Pigg said investigation into the fire will continue today.

The blaze occurred at about 2 a.m. in the about 25 by 15-foot building, located adjacent to the Union Pacific railroad tracks in south Bellevue.

City Marshal Duane Dudley received the initial report of the blaze. He said he tried to put out the fire with an extinguisher but when attempts failed, called out the fire department.

Twelve Bellevue volunteer firemen responded and contained the fire in about 15 minutes, preventing it from spreading to an adjacent metal building.

Agency lifts ban on wood

BOISE (UPI) — Edward Maw, Boise National Forest supervisor, says the ban has been lifted on taking firewood from that forest for personal use without a permit.

Maw said by letting the public remove wood debris from the areas, the new policy was expected to cut down the fire hazard.

He said the policy applies only to national forest land, and the only restrictions were that dead materials only may be taken, people may not take more than 20 cords of wood per year, and wood cannot be sold.

New York tops A's 10-7 in 12th frame

OAKLAND (UPI)—The New York Mets evened the World Series at a game apiece Sunday when ancient Willie Mays singled home the go-ahead run in the 12th inning and three more scored on errors for a 10-7 victory over the Oakland A's in the longest World Series game ever played.

Mays, whose "farewell to America" had been threatening to become a disaster for the Mets, bounced an 0-1 pitch from Rolfe Fingers, the fifth Oakland pitcher, through the box into centerfield to score Bud Harrelson with two outs.

The distraught Fingers, who saved 22 games for Oakland this season and was upset at the prospect of being beaten by an over-the-hill, 42-year-old Mays, threw his glove up in the air in disgust.

Second baseman Mike Andrews—the third man to play that position in the game for Oakland—then made errors on two successive routine plays to allow three more runs to score.

That made a total of five unearned runs in the game for the Mets and five errors by Oakland, but the Mets were happy to take them since they kicked the first game away the same way Saturday.

The Mets' victory sends the Series East for at least three more games and both teams have their No. 1 pitcher primed for Tuesday night's third game at Shea Stadium—Oakland's Jim "Catfish" Hunter and New York's Tom Seaver.

Sunday's game took 4 hours and 13 minutes, exceeding the former time record of 3:28 for the sixth game of the 1945 Series, won 8-7 by the Cubs over the Tigers. Only one other Series game—in 1916—went more than 12 innings but, a 14-inning game, was completed in two and a half hours.

The Mets, who lost a 6-4 lead with two outs in the bottom of the ninth, lost a chance to win in the 10th when umpire Augie Donatelli apparently blew a call at the plate.

Harrelson started the winning rally when he lined a double to right-centerfield. Tug McGraw then popped a bunt over the head of charging third baseman Sal Bando, and it fell for a single as Harrelson moved to third.

Fingers then bore down and fanned Wayne Garrett on a 2-2 pitch and got Felix Millan on a pop-up to first.

That left it up to Mays, who helped prolong the game in the first place when he fell down chasing Deron Johnson's fly ball, and it fell for a double to start Oakland's two-run catch-up rally.

Fingers fired a fastball past Mays for the first strike, but Willie bounced the second pitch over the mound and into centerfield to score Harrelson and send McGraw to second.

When Cleo Jones followed with a line-drive single to left that filled the bases, Oakland Manager Dick Williams removed Fingers and brought in lefthander Paul Lindblad to pitch to the lefthanded hitting John Milner.

Milner rolled a grounder to Andrews and it rolled right between his legs for a two-base, two-run error—just as Milner, the New York Mets' second baseman, had booted a simple grounder in the first game to give the A's their only runs of a 2-1 victory.

McGraw and Mays scored on the error, making it 9-6, and Milner and Jones wound up at second and third.

On the very next play, Andrews easily fielded Jerry Grote's grounder but his throw to first pulled Gene Tenace off-the bag and Jones scored on the error, to run the count to 10-6. Lindblad then got Don Hahn on a grounder to third to end the inning.

McGraw, making his longest pitching appearance of the year and one of the longest of his career, had allowed only four hits while striking out eight over six innings but he weakened in the bottom of the 12th and again a misplay by Mays contributed.

Mays, either misjudged, or lost Reggie Johnson's deep fly in the sun, and it fell at his feet for a triple just in front of the center-field wall. When Tenace walked, McGraw was replaced by George Stone.

Stone surrendered a run-scoring single to Jesus Alou before Ray Fosse forced Alou at second. But Stone walked Andrews on four pitches to load the bases—and bring the potential winning run to the plate.

Bengals upset Steelers 19-7

CINCINNATI (UPI)—Horst Muhlmann kicked four field goals and rookie Bobby Clark ran for a touchdown to lead the fired-up Cincinnati Bengals to a 19-7 upset victory over the previously undefeated Pittsburgh Steelers Sunday.

A rugged Bengals' defense completely shut off the vaunted Pittsburgh offense during the first three quarters and the Steelers trailed 19-0 midway through the final period.

Muhlmann, who kicked five field goals in Cincinnati's 15-10 win over Pittsburgh here last year, booted field goals of 41, 20, 20, and 19 yards. Clark scored the Bengals' only touchdown on a three-yard run in the third period.

Pittsburgh's lone score came with 8:13 left in the game on a one-yard run by Preston Pearson.

The win boosted Cincinnati's record to 3-2, while Pittsburgh is now 4-1.

Mets feel game should have finished in 10th

OAKLAND (UPI)—As far as the New York Mets are concerned, the second game of the World Series should have ended in the 10th inning.

After the Mets pulled out a 10-7, 12-inning victory over the Oakland A's Sunday to even the series at 1-1, there was much talk about a controversial play at the plate in which Bud Harrelson was called out.

With Harrelson on third and one out, Felix Millan lofted a short fly to left. Harrelson dashed for the plate after the catch and was called out by plate umpire Augie Donatelli when A's catcher Ray Fosse made a sweeping tag.

"He patted me on the behind when I came to the plate in the first inning, the slender Met shortstop said. That's the only time he touched me all day."

The inning-ending double play extended the game another two innings and again it was Harrelson who participated in the winning rally.

He looped a double to right and scored the first of four runs in the 12th on Willie Mays' hit.

Getting back to the 10th inning play, Harrelson said he momentarily entertained the idea of trying to bowl over Fosse.

"But I had nowhere to slide," the skinny shortstop said. "I saw a piece of the plate on the right side so I went for it. He really had the plate blocked off."

"I still don't think he touched me."

Manager Yogi Berra concurred with Harrelson.

"I think he was safe," Berra said. "If I didn't think so, I wouldn't have argued so vehemently. If Bud says 'He missed me' I believe him."

Mays, who knocked in the go-ahead run in the 12th, had some problems in the field but said his hit took some pressure off him.

"I wanted to do something myself," he said. Earlier, he lost Deron Johnson's fly ball in the ninth and that helped the A's tie the score.

"I didn't see it at all," he said of the fly in left-center. "I'm not trying to alibi and I don't want to make excuses, but just didn't see the ball."

Ferrin the 12th—Mays made an all-out effort for a drive by Reggie Jackson but the fly eluded him and it turned into a triple for the A's.

"I guess I should have played it a little more safe on Johnson's fly because we were only two runs ahead at the time," Mays said.

On Jackson's blow, Mays, who is retiring at the end of the World Series, said he thought he had a chance to make the catch. "But I shouldn't have let the ball play me," he said.

The victory went to ace reliever Tug McGraw, who worked six-plus innings before giving way to George Stone.

"I never know when I get tired until somebody takes me out," he grinned. In Saturday's opener, he worked two innings

Jerry Ruth wins drag race event

AMARILLO, Tex. — Jerry Ruth of Seattle won the 1973 drag racing world championship recently in the National Hot Rod Association's world finals, beating favored Gary Beck on the final run.

Ruth, who won $12,000 in the top fuel championship, posted a record 6.11 second timing on the quarter-mile track to beat Beck, winner of the U. S. national crown last month. It was Ruth's first major NHRA victory.

Stewart quits auto racing

LONDON (UPI)—Jackie Stewart, three-time World champion driver, announced his retirement from motor racing in London Sunday.

Stewart, a 34-year old Scot, made his decision public at a special Ford Motor Co. celebration to mark his triumph in the 1973 Formula One Championship.

"As from today, I am no longer a racing driver. I have retired and I am very happy about it," Stewart said.

"I decided to retire way back on April 5, but I could not announce my decision before today."

"At no time has my wife Helen given me any pressure about leaving motor racing. It would have been an unreasonable strain for her if I had said in April that I would still drive in five, then four, then three Grand Prix until the finish of the season."

The only man who knew Stewart's decision was Ken Tyrrell, his Formula One team manager. Stewart explained that "I had to tell Ken so that he could make his plans for the future."

Minnesota nips 49ers 17-13 to stay unbeaten

SAN FRANCISCO, Cal. (UPI)—Viking safety Paul Krause intercepted two of Steve Spurrier's passes in the final period Sunday to blunt San Francisco drives and preserve unbeaten Minnesota's 17-13 win over the 49ers.

The Vikings jumped to a 14-0 halftime lead, on a 12-yard scoring pass from Fran Tarkenton to wide receiver John Gilliam and a one-yard plunge by rookie running back Chuck Foreman to extend their unbeaten string to 5-0.

However, the 49ers fought back to within one point with 4:48 to go in the third period when Spurrier hit Ken Willard with a 7-yard touchdown pass to climax a 80-yard drive. During the march, Spurrier connected with wide receiver Dan Abramowicz on passes on 21, 5, and 18 yards. The 21-yarder came on a key third-and-nine call at the San Francisco 21.

San Francisco, now 2-3, appeared to be marching for the go-ahead score when it drove from its own seven to the Viking 13 with 6:31 left. Then defensive end Carl Eller tipped a Spurrier pass and Krause intercepted it on the Viking 14. That drive consumed 8:29 of the final period.

After a Viking punt the 49ers were again pressing on the Minnesota 42, when Krause pilfered another Spurrier pass and ran it back to the San Francisco 40 to set up a 22-yard field goal by Fred Cox to close the scoring with 1:02.

Starting at the San Francisco 31, Tarkenton hit Gilliam for 17 yards. Foreman gained two and Tarkenton then connected with Gilliam, who caught the ball on one knee on the two and dove into the end zone.

Bruce Gossett, kicked field goals of 28 and 41 yards for the 49ers points in the first half. His 41-yarder came on the final play of the half, and eliminated a 70-yard drive in eight plays.

After Gossett's 47-yard try for a field goal hit an upright early in the second period.

Oakland defeats San Diego

SAN DIEGO (UPI)—Ken Stabler directed an 80-yard fourth quarter touchdown march and came back 53 seconds later with a 28-yard scoring pass to Bob Moore to give the Oakland Raiders a come-from-behind 27-17 National Football League win over the San Diego Chargers Sunday.

The touchdown pass with 9:01 left led the game and gave Oakland a 3-2 record while San Diego dropped to 1-4.

The Chargers had taken a 17-14 lead with 21 seconds left in the third quarter when rookie Dan Fouts completed a 36 yard touchdown pass to Jerry LeVias, who out-wrestled Melvin Wilson for the ball in the endzone.

Starting from his own 20, the next time Oakland got the ball, Stabler marched the Raiders 80 yards in 14 plays, completing five passes to backs en route. An interference call against Willie McGee put the ball on the one and Marv Hubbard plowed over right guard for the score two plays later.

McGee fumbled the ensuing kickoff and Pete Banaszak made his second fumble recovery of the day on San Diego's 28, setting up Stabler's second scoring aerial of the day. He had connected on a 54-yarder to Cliff Branch to give the Raiders a temporary 13-10 lead in the third quarter.

Los Angeles holds Dallas to preserve 37-31 victory

LOS ANGELES (UPI)—John Hadl threw four touchdowns to Harold Jackson to give Los Angeles a 20-point halftime margin but the Rams had to fight off a second-half Dallas Cowboy rally before winning 37-31 Sunday.

A sell-out crowd of 81,428 saw the Rams run their record to 6-0 and reinforce their hold on first place in the National Football Conference West. The Cowboys lost their second straight game after three victories.

Hadl and Jackson looked like they were going to make the game a runaway in the first half but Roger Staubach, sacked three times by the Rams before the intermission, came back to throw two touchdowns passes to Otto Stowe and narrow the gap.

Hadl opened the scoring at 3:05 in the first quarter when he connected to Jackson down the middle on a play good for 53 yards. At 5:06 of the first period, Hadl hit Jackson on a 16-yard touchdown pass after Les Strayhorn fumbled the kickoff and Steve Preece recovered.

In the second period at 1:05, Jackson again outdistanced the Cowboy secondary and made a fingertip catch of a Hadl pass on the Cowboy 22 and went all the way into the end zone. The play was good for 67 yards.

At 9:17 in the second quarter, after Eddie McMillan intercepted a Staubach pass, Hadl found Jackson for the fourth time on a touchdown pass that went 36 yards.

Atlanta tops Chicago 46-6

ATLANTA (UPI)—An Atlanta offense unable to score a touchdown in three games was brought to life Sunday on the passing of Bob Lee and the running of Dave Hampton, to give the Falcons a 46-6 victory over the Chicago Bears.

Profit and field goals of 23, 32, and 33 yards by Nick Mike-Mayer.

The Falcons also got a safety with 1:43 left in the game to post the highest score run up by any NFL team this season since they scored 62 points against New Orleans in their opener.

The Bears, who came into the game rated an even chance of beating the Falcons, actually scored first in the game. Carl Garrett swept right end from 15 yards out to cap an 85-yard drive with only 2:58 gone in the second period.

Hampton, who gained 90 yards in less than three periods, also had a two-yard touchdown early in the third period. Lee, who completed 11 of 13 passes for 181 yards in less than three periods of play, threw a 41-yard touchdown pass to Art Malone midway through the third period.

The Falcons, who scored 17 points in the second period and 21 in the third, also had a five-yard touchdown run by Joe Profit and field goals of 23, 32, and 33 yards by Nick Mike-Mayer.

Brown leads Skins past Giants 21-3

NEW HAVEN, Conn. (UPI)—Larry Brown scored two touchdowns and Pat Fischer and Dave Robinson came up with key pass interceptions in the second half Sunday to lead the Washington Redskins to a 21-3 victory over the New York Giants in the Yale bowl.

With the Redskins leading 7-3 late in the third period, Fischer, a veteran cornerback, picked off a Norm Sneed pass on his own 19 and streaked 68 yards to the Giant 13.

The Giants defense held and Curt Knight booted a 14-yard field goal.

But Giant safety Pete Atlas was called for roughing the kicker and the Skins elected to pass up the three points and go for the touchdown. On the next play Brown swept left end from 4 yards out to make the score 14 to 3.

Robinson, a star linebacker with the Green Bay Packers, who came out of retirement to play for George Allen this season, picked off another Sneed aerial and raced 28 yards for Washington's final touchdown.

A roughing the passer penalty called on Dan Goich set up the first Redskins touchdown in the opening quarter. Goich, a defensive tackle, hit Redskin quarterback Sonny Jurgensen after his third down pass fell incomplete. The ball was moved to the Giant seven and three plays later, Brown bulldozed over from the one.

Kicks by Howfield let New York win

FOXBORO, Mass. (UPI)—Bobby Howfield booted a 22-yard field goal, his third three-pointer of the game, with 1:36 left in the fourth quarter Sunday to give the New York Jets a 9-7 victory over the New England Patriots behind third-string quarterback Bill Demory.

Howfield accounted for all the New York scoring as he hit on field goals of 40 yards in the opening quarter and 39 yards in the third period.

The winning drive was engineered by Emerson Boezer and John Riggins who carried the ball 12 times while Demory threw a 12-yard pass to Dave Knight as the Jets moved the ball from their own 45 to the New England 15 to set up Howfield's decisive kick.

The Patriots had taken a 7-6 lead at 8:27 of the third quarter when linbacker Will Foster pounced on a blocked punt in the end zone.

Guard Willie Banks broke through the line to bat down Julian Pagan's punt from the Jets' 33 and defensive end John Tanner bobbed the recovery and it was recovered in the air by Arthur Moore and Sandy Durko.

They ran together with the ball to the goal-line where they fumbled and it squirted into the end zone. Foster dove on the loose ball for the touchdown.

The Jets missed three big defensive opportunities in the first half as Dolley Howell, Burgess Owens and Chris Faraonopoulos all dropped potential interceptions of Jim Plunkett passes.

Buffalo topples Baltimore

ORCHARD PARK (UPI)—Buffalo quarterback Joe Ferguson threw his first touchdown pass as a pro and rushed for another, and O. J. Simpson ran for two touchdowns—one for 78 yards—to power the Bills to a 31-13 victory over the Baltimore Colts at Rich Stadium Sunday.

The victory gave Buffalo a 4-1 record and left the Bills in sole possession of first place in the American Football Conference East Division, a half game ahead of the idle Miami Dolphins.

Ferguson, a rookie from Arkansas, who took away the No. 1 job from veteran Dennis Shaw, hit Lenny Watkins on a 10-yard pass late in the second quarter to put the Bills in front 7-3. Ferguson drove the Bills from their own 35, getting the touchdown at 12:35.

But it was Simpson, held to only 74 yards by the start of the fourth quarter, who stole the show for the Bills when he broke loose for a 78-yard touchdown run at 1:52 of the final period.

It was the fifth straight game this season and the seventh over two seasons that Simpson has run for more than 100 yards.

Late TD lets Saints win

NEW ORLEANS, La. (UPI)—Bill Butler ran for a one-yard touchdown with 39 seconds left in the game Sunday to provide the New Orleans Saints with a 20-13 victory over the Detroit Lions.

The Saints thought they had it won, 16-13, with 1:04 left in the final period when Happy Feller kicked an 11-yard field goal. But Al Barnes was found guilty of roughing the kicker so the Saints had a first down the 2-yard line and went for a touchdown this time.

Howard Stevens, who helped set up the winning touchdown with a 47-yard kickoff return, swept untouched around his right end with 10:50 left in the fourth quarter and Feller kicked field goals of 10 and 16 yards to round out, the Saints scoring.

The Lions, now 1-3-1 for the season, scored on a 33-yard pass from Greg Landry to Earl McCulloch with 1:22 left in the third period and two 34-yard field goals by Errol Mann.

Denver drills Houston 48-20

HOUSTON (UPI)—Charlie Johnson threw four touchdown passes, including three to Haven Moses in the first half, and rugged Floyd Little rushed for 139 yards and another score to lead the Denver Broncos to a 48-20 triumph over the fumble-prone Houston Oilers Sunday.

Johnson hit Moses with scoring strikes of 21, 33, and three yards and connected with Bill Van Heussen with a 62-yard fourth quarter toss. Two of the Moses touchdowns came after fumbles by Oilers' quarterback Dan Pastorini. Johnson's passes for 214 yards enabled him to become the 17th player in NFL history to break 20,000 yards with a 20,017 total.

Denver drills Houston 48-20

Bill Thompson raced 59 yards to score on a Pastorini pass interception with 10:39 left in the third quarter to break open the game and give Denver a 31-20 lead. Little scored on a three yard burst in the third quarter and Jim Turner booted field goals of 32 and 12 yards and six conversions.

Eagles beat Cards 27-24

ST. LOUIS (UPI)—Roman Gabriel fired a 23-yard touchdown pass to Don Zimmerman with no time remaining on the clock Sunday as the Philadelphia Eagles beat the St. Louis Cardinals 27-24 for their first win of the season.

Late field goal lets Chiefs tie Green Bay

MILWAUKEE (UPI)—A 36-yard field goal by Jan Stenerud in the fourth quarter Sunday, minutes after Green Bay's Chester Marcol had his second field goal attempt blocked, salvaged a 10-10 tie for the Kansas City Chiefs against the Packers.

Stenerud's tying field goal capped a 52-yard drive after Waltie Young tipped Marcol's 11-yard attempt with 2:55 left in the third quarter. Young also blocked a 24-yard attempt by Marcol at the end of Green Bay's first drive in the opening period.

Nate Allen recovered that ball, setting the Chiefs up on the Packers 88 and eight plays later Len Dawson threw an eight yard touchdown strike to Morris Stroud to give the Chiefs a 7-0 lead in the first quarter.

The Packers got the ball on their own 20 at the end of the first quarter and drove to the Kansas City 39 where the Chiefs stalled Scott Hunter's drive and Marcol was brought in again. This time the National League Football scoring champion connected on a 48 yard attempt to make it 7-3.

Gabriel, hitting on 20 of 49 pass attempts for 379 yards, led the Eagles on two fourth period touchdown drives as they came back from a 24-10 deficit. Moments earlier, he had passed 26 yards to Harold Carmichael for a touchdown.

Philadelphia then tried an onside kick and Tom Bailey appeared to have recovered a fumble for the Eagles. However, the officials said Kermit Alexander was offside and the next attempt failed.

The Eagles' defense held and Gabriel marched the team 56 yards in seven plays for the final touchdown.

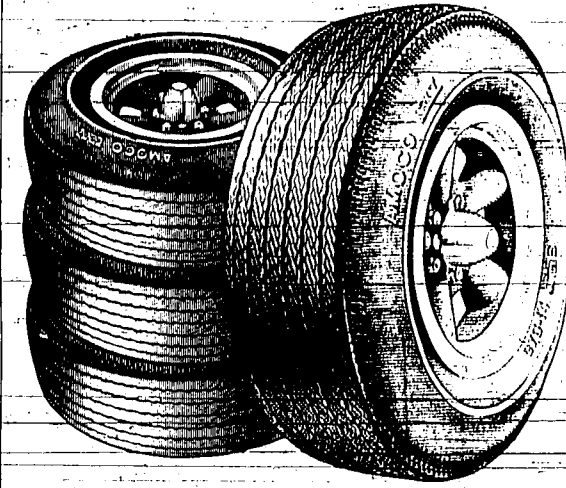

Ahmad Rashad caught touchdown passes of nine and 65 yards from Jim Hart to give St. Louis the earlier lead.

The Rams got a 27-yard field goal and a 37-yarder by David Gray in the second period and enjoyed a 34-14 lead at halftime.

Client asks our Love and War man to describe "the ideal woman." He is preparing his report. Meantime, let it be said that Ring Lardner identified her as "one with lockjaw," while W. C. Fields called her "one who can mow the lawn and put up the storm windows in December."

Nobody really knows how the word "Amen" came into the language, I'm told. Used to be the custom in the Middle East ceremoniously to kill a dead man's dog so both could be buried together. Still can't believe that Florida, which claims 30,000 lakes, is that state with the most such bodies of water.

Experienced nurses will tell you it takes slightly more pressure to pierce a woman's skin than a man's when giving an injection.

COED WARD

The Wharfedale General Hospital in Yorkshire, England, got pretty crowded. So doctors there turned one wing into a coed ward for both men and women. Those patients liked that. A lot. Everybody started getting well in a hurry. Apparently, the ladies hosed up their hair. The men either shaved themselves with regularity or demanded shaving help. At time of release, some of them even suffered relapses, requiring further care.

"All right, Louie, I'm running out of money-making notions, it's time you came up with a new way for me to earn a million dollars."

Nothing to it. Market a wax perfume. To be dabbed on lit lightbulbs. So the heat from a same will give the room a fragrance like incense. That's my bright idea No. 78641A. File it in its proper place, please.

BEER CLUB

The ideal retirement community should be centered around a club house where beer is served. Such is the claim of a Boston doctor. He says experiments with elderly people in nursing homes indicates those who are given a prescribed amount of medicinal beer in conversational groups in the late afternoon and before bedtime seem to sleep better, wake up more alert, and maintain a livelier outlook. They do far better than do those on other drugs, he says. Please note that word "other."

That dwarf most often seen in the Hollywood movies over the last 20 years was Michael Dunn, now dead. At age 38 He stood 3-foot-10-inches tall. A little known fact about Mr. Dunn is IQ registered 178, certainly a genius level.

No American of Indian ancestry should forget that dream analysts didn't really start with Freudian psychiatry, but dates back at least 300 years to the Iroquois.
