

Richardson says impeachment decision up to people

WASHINGTON (UPI) — Former Attorney General Elliot L. Richardson declined today to say whether he felt President Nixon should be impeached. That decision, he said, must be made by the American people themselves.

Asked if he would have done what Cox did in rejecting the tapes compromise proposed by the White House, Richardson said: "I would have done what he has done."

Richardson said he felt compelled to resign Saturday night rather than carry out Nixon's instruction to fire Cox because "it stake was the very integrity of the governmental process I came to the department to restore."

Richardson told newsmen he had full confidence that the Watergate investigation would be adequately handled by Henry F. Petersen, assistant attorney general in charge of the department's criminal division.

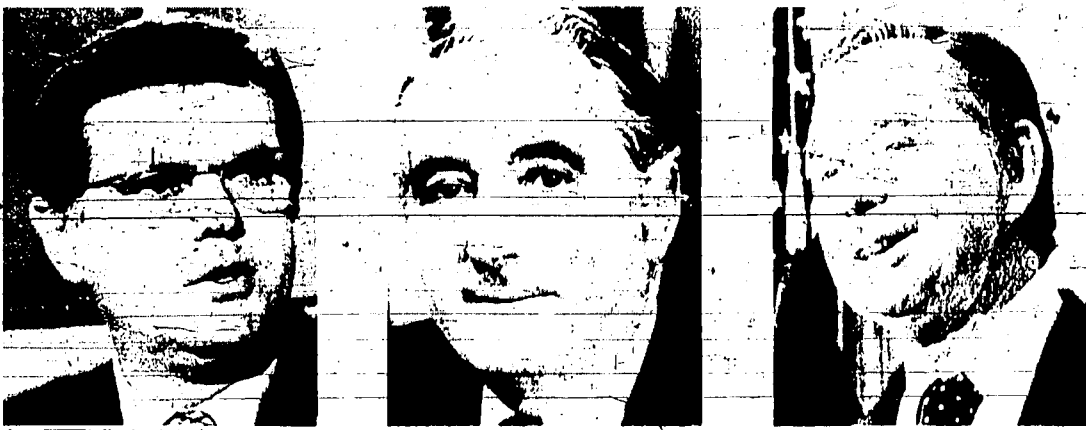

June and that the President deliberately set in motion the course of events which led to his discharge Saturday.

Key men in House

PRINCIPALS in House of Representatives actions regarding possible impeachment of President Nixon are (from left) Rep. Jerome Waldle, D-Calif., Rep. Peter Rodino, D-N.J., and Speaker Carl Albert, D-Okla. Waldle plans to offer an impeachment measure charging obstruction of justice; Rodino heads the judiciary committee which will handle such resolutions; and Albert headed a Democratic steering committee which today decided to find if impeachment grounds exist.

Impeachment inquiry set

WASHINGTON (UPI) — House Democratic leaders decided today to begin an inquiry into whether grounds exist to start impeachment proceedings against President Nixon.

The house leaders agreed on a three-pronged approach in the wake of Nixon's firing of Cox.

Sirica sets course

WASHINGTON (UPI) — U.S. District Judge John J. Sirica said Tuesday that "if necessary" he would appoint a replacement for Archibald Cox, fired Saturday as special Watergate prosecutor.

Sirica made known his willingness to act independently as he assembled members of both Watergate grand juries to tell them they are still in business despite Cox's dismissal and to urge them to "press forward" with their investigations of misconduct in the 1972 presidential campaigns.

"You are not dismissed and will not be dismissed except by this court on completion of your work. You must be prepared to press forward."

Sirica said members of the two grand juries, formed in June, 1972, and August, 1973, should "be patient (and) in due course the questions that now plague us will be resolved."

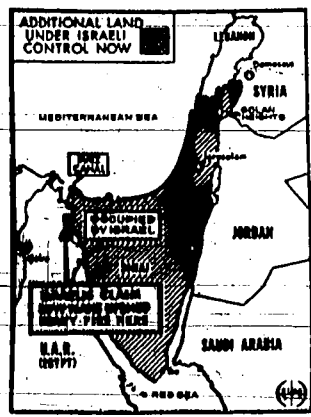

Both grand juries left the courtroom after Sirica read his statement. One of them will continue questioning former White House Chief of Staff H. R. Haldeman about the break-in at Democratic National headquarters at the Watergate complex.

Contempt ruling stands

WASHINGTON (UPI) — The Supreme Court refused by an 8-1 vote today to review the action of a federal judge who found two newsmen in contempt for publishing stories about testimony given at an open court proceeding.

Which grants a $500 property tax exemption to widows but not to widowers. The law was challenged on grounds of sex discrimination by a man whose wife had died.

In the Louisiana contempt case, a federal appeals court held that Dickinson and Gibbs should have obeyed West's order even though they thought it unconstitutional and challenged it through regular court channels rather than defy it outright.

UN meets as Mideast war flares

By United Press International
The cease-fire arranged by the super powers between Israel and Egypt collapsed in heavy fighting today with each side blaming the other.

Pentagon sources in Washington reported a major Egyptian thrust on both sides of the Suez Canal to try to cut the Israeli crossing corridor into Egypt.

The fighting on the main Egyptian front went on throughout the day but in Syria, which never formally accepted the cease-fire, U.N. observers reported it has ceased, at least briefly, late in the afternoon.

School event slated

TWIN FALLS — Lincoln School poster winners for the forthcoming PTA carnival have been announced by PTA judges.

Brad Kammeyer, son of Mrs. Sharon Kammeyer, placed first in the contest with Kermit Leir, son of Mr. and Mrs. Kermit Leir, second, and Pam Brownell, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Lester Brownell, third. The Lincoln School's annual PTA carnival will be held Friday from 6 to 9 p.m. in the school. Games, prizes, and food will be featured. Room winners included Jaynalene Willis and Karen Harr, 9-N; Garyldine Bragg and Carrie Hodge, 7-N; Nancy Donnelly and Buddy Stradley, 11-N, and Jeanette Hillman and Sherry Webster, 10-N.

PRIZE WINNING posters designed by students to promote the Lincoln School carnival were made by Pam Brownell, left; Brad Kammeyer, standing, first place winner, and Kermit Leir. The event will be held Friday night.

Marble contest set

TWIN FALLS — Young marble shooters will be limbering up their thumbs for the annual Twin Falls Kiwanis Club and Mingle Valley YMCA marble shooting tournament Saturday.

Contests will be held at the O'Leary Junior High School gymnasium. All interested boys from the first through the sixth grades are invited to participate in the contest. Registration will begin at 9 a.m. with the tournament opening at 9:30 a.m. There is no cost to participants and the sponsoring Kiwanis Club will provide each entrant with a free bag of marbles. The first four boys in each grade level will receive a ribbon. There will be a shoot-off among the top contenders in the first through third grades and the top shooters in the fourth through sixth grades, winners will receive trophies. Additional information will be available from the Y, 733-4384.

Fringe benefits denied

BOISE (UPI) — An opinion from the Idaho Attorney General's office says Big Sky Commissioner John Roning is not entitled to state employee fringe benefits.

The state board of education requested the opinion after newsmen raised questions on the arrangement allowing Roning to receive fringe benefits given to state employees. He received the benefits by being listed as an athletic consultant to Boise State College.

"Mr. Roning does not fit either factually or legally into the definition of employee," wrote Deputy Attorney General James R. Hargis Monday.

"Therefore, we must conclude that Mr. Roning is not entitled to the benefits otherwise accorded to an employee of the state of Idaho. Hargis said the relationship between the Big Sky Conference and the state of Idaho does not result in an employer-employee relationship.

He said an investigation by the Attorney General's office could not find any indication or suggestion that an ulterior motive prompted the arrangement made between the state and the Big Sky Conference.

He said the intent was to provide a service to the Big Sky Conference so the administration costs of the conference could be kept to a minimum. He added the cost to the state at present "is absolutely zero." Hargis recommended the conference provide the health, accident, and life insurance and retirement benefits Roning now receives under the State Board of Education and State of Idaho arrangement.

He said Roning should "not suffer" because of circumstances over which he had no responsibility or control.

BSC president John Barnes, said Roning was hired in June 1971 so he could receive the state benefits. He said the conference reimburses BSC for the commissioner's salary and other benefits.

Library feels penny pinch

By DAVID HORSMAN, Times-News writer
TWIN FALLS — Unless the city kicks in about $10,000 in November, the Twin Falls Public Library will have to close its doors during that month.

Jean Milar, the library will have to operate on borrowed funds (in November) or close the door. Milar was confident that the City Council would come up with the money, probably through a transfer from the city's general fund.

Milar and Eugene Stacey, chairman of the Library Board, considered the library's shortage commonplace because of "uneven flows of revenues" to various city departments. Milar said the rate of income to the library is "sporadic," while its rate of expenditure is "uniform." Stacey explained that property taxes (from which the library is paid) are collected in June and December of each year. This year's taxes, for instance, will be collected in December of 1973 and in June of 1974, according to Stacey. The city then pays the library in two bi-monthly installments, according to Stacey.

The library is fairly constant, Stacey said. "We just can't see that sufficient funds will be available to pay the November bills," Stacey said. He said revenues can be anticipated for the month of December, when one of the semi-annual payments is due from the city. Milar said the City Council will probably approve the fund transfer to the library at its next regular council meeting.

Editorial raps Nixon's actions

BOISE (UPI) — Idaho (UPI) — President Nixon should turn over his Watergate tapes to a court, resign or face impeachment, the Idaho Statesman said today.

"The startling events of the past weekend now require that the nation seriously consider whether Richard Nixon should remain in office," the newspaper said, in an editorial. "He has defied the congress, defied the courts and forfeited much of his remaining support. Whether there is a sufficient legal case for impeachment or not, the president's actions are indefensible — the high-handed maneuvering of a man who acts as if he considers himself above the law."

Radio stolen from TF truck

TWIN FALLS — A Twin Falls man reported to police Sunday that a citizen's band radio valued at about $160 was stolen from a truck late Friday or early Saturday.

Dick Adams told police the radio unit was stolen from a ten-wheel truck while it was parked outside Southwestern Hilde Co. He placed the time of the theft at between 11:30 p.m. Friday and 1 a.m. Saturday. In other police action over the weekend:

Jeanette Backus, Twin Falls, reported that her residence was broken into Saturday and $90 in cash stolen. According to police reports, no other items were taken.

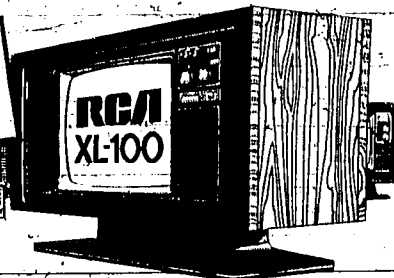

Falls, was arrested on a charge of delivery of a controlled substance. Crosser was arrested by Twin Falls police about 8 p.m. Saturday. He remains in the county jail in lieu of $5,000 bond.

Lloyd J. Harral, 39, Eden, was arrested on a felony charge of issuing a check without sufficient funds in the bank. He was arrested about 12:40 p.m. Sunday and bonded out about half an hour later for $1,500.

The U. S. Border Patrol booked 14 alleged Mexican nationals into the county jail Sunday on charges of immigration violation. Border Patrol officers were not available for comment Monday.

Reminiscence: A Mother's Key Role

WASHINGTON (NEA) — This is a personal reminiscence I want to share. It is my mother's 90th birthday. She is not here to see it, though she very much wanted to. She died in 1972, a bit short of her 89th. She is worth knowing about.

As I look back from this still close vantage point, I see her clearly as the central force which made a true family of her six children and my father, a driving lawyer with eccentricities both funny and difficult, too absorbed in work to play the key role.

Why go beyond private reflection? Because we're all looking for guidance in the choking chaos of 1973. And we can't get it in fullest measure even from the most exemplary, inspiring leadership in the presidency and other high realism.

We also need, I think, a special leadership, much closer to our personal lives, from an early time on. I would guess that only a strong family, well led, can supply it. To any in this free-spinning age who would dismiss this idea as old-fashioned and outmoded, I answer that the solid family is as new a need as tomorrow's sustenance — indispensable and enduring. Its aspect changes, but its core does not.

My bright-spirited mother made ours what it should be. She didn't look the part, but her strength and will were of rock. A country girl who came to Chicago from Missouri, she was frail and often beset by illnesses almost to middle age.

Women's liberation militants might have been horrified to observe some of the almost slave-like tasks she took on in running a big household, dealing with my father's routinely unpredictable ways, molding the diversities of two boys and four girls into some sort of workable harmony.

What the militants would have seen was real enough, yet deceptive. For my mother left her treasured haven to follow a self-generated interest in nature and all the arts, and to work constantly with other women in good causes. She was not a prisoner of a family fort. She walked freely across the moat as she chose.

Inside, she imparted to us, among many wonderful things, an order and discipline which put useful but not constricting boundaries around our lives. For the young especially, rules chafe and irritate, but they can at the same time be recognized as a welcome refuse from the bewildering mazes which puzzle the developing mind.

Discipline might break briefly, but not for long. A house of many children slips easily into disorder, but sooner or later ours always was set right. The rebellions of youth occurred, yet they never lasted.

Miraculously, this reining-in did not make for rigid, predictable, dull living. Our home for decades was a magnet for friends and relatives, drawn by unforeseeable, innovative excitements — warming and joyous, sometimes deeply serious, often hilarious. Freedom was at the full.

For long years, old friends near and far would see us somewhere and quickly say: "I'll never forget

As my mother slipped slowly a summer ago, she smiled one day and said: "We always had fun!"

My mother lit the spark she was remembering. Heavy labors never brought her down. She celebrated the year's ceremonies in magical ways, and her whole life was ceremony untarnished. She ruled and gave freedom. She showed that being led well is good, guiding and anchoring life but never smothering it. We need her like by the millions.

The FDA — Prudence Compounded

WASHINGTON — When it comes to passing upon proposed new drugs, what is the rule of the U. S. Food and Drug Administration? Under the law, the FDA and withhold approval until it is satisfied that the drug is (1) safe, and (2) effective. These criteria, and especially the bureaucratic fashion in which the FDA applies them, demand renewed attention.

At first glance, the two yardsticks appear unassailable. The awful lessons of thalidomide teach us what can happen when a drug is released before its safety has been established. And an ineffective drug is worse than useless to patient and doctor alike.

Yet the standards can be applied so rigidly, with such excessive prudence and such fearful timidity, that the healing acts are not helped but hindered. That is what has been happening in recent years at the FDA. By demanding the most absolute and overwhelming proof of safety and efficacy — proof according to the most costly and meticulous laboratory procedures — the FDA has stifled the development of new drugs and left sick human beings to suffer for want of the relief that new drugs might provide.

In the Current Reader's Digest, Walter S. Ross sums up the general picture: In a book newly published by Doubleday, "The Persecuted Drug: The Story of DMSO," science writer Pat McGrady, Sr., provides a specific and maddening example of timidity gone berserk.

Dimethyl sulfoxide (DMSO) is a solvent, derived chiefly from lignin. Its fantastic therapeutic properties were first explored in 1961 by Dr. Stanley Wallace Jacob, professor of surgery at the University of Oregon. By 1965, as word spread, some 100,000 patients had received the drug.

Upwards of 1,200 papers on DMSO have been published in the domestic and foreign literature. Investigators have submitted 193 volumes of reports to the FDA.

The overwhelming consensus of this prodigious research is that DMSO, while not a "miracle drug," is one of the safest compounds ever formulated. And though it is not effective for every patient in every instance in which it has been used, DMSO is amazingly effective in an impressive variety of cases.

McGrady's book suffers from its author's undisguised enthusiasm, but there is no reason to doubt the findings he reviews. DMSO has been identified, very uncertainly, as a causative factor in only a single death. Three research papers indicate that in massive dosages, DMSO can result in producing myopia in rabbits and rhesus monkey. That is about the sum of the adverse findings in terms of toxicity wholly unavailable to American physicians and their patients. The FDA effectively banned the drug, except in veterinary use, back in November, 1965. Just this past month, a select committee from the National Academy of Sciences and the National Research Council held the action "justified," and concluded that "in view of the inadequacies of available information, it does not seem prudent to make DMSO widely available under unregulated conditions."

The NAS-NRC committee was not altogether hostile. On the matter of safety, it agreed that eye damage in man "has not been established." Morphologic changes in the lens at the cellular level "have not been demonstrated." Indeed, a recent adequately controlled study demonstrated "no adverse effects upon the eyes of the subjects."

On the matter of effectiveness, the reviewing committee conceded that professionally satisfactory studies demonstrate DMSO's effectiveness in treating acute traumatic injury, milder forms of scleroderma, and certain fungal infections. In other areas, the evidence is "conflicting." Many reports reflect the enthusiasm of practicing physicians treating real-life patients, but these reports, alas, "simply do not qualify as scientific evidence of the caliber required for making decision that affect the quality of medical care in this country."

Stripped of professional jargon, what this means is that DMSO is still banned, except for brief experiments with minor ailments. Big Brother that is to say, is still watching you. At the FDA, Big Brother is indifferently watching you suffer, while reasonably safe and reasonably effective drugs are kept out of your doctor's hands.

Impeachment

Impeachment used to be a whispered word — now it is mentioned in Congress as often as "yes" and "no."

The turmoil stirred up by the President in his most recent action is a disaster in public relations. He is going down a road on which there is no return. He is finding few who agree with him in this instance and many members of Congress — and thousands of private citizens — believe he is digging his own political grave.

There is something wrong with his actions and it will all come out into the open at some point in time.

Now we're not sure why such action was taken. Without a doubt, his action was ill-advised and it now places greater responsibility on Congress and the Courts to uphold the principal that no man is above the law.

As we see it — no man is above the law, even if he is the President of the United States.

Impeachment action must, under law, be brought in the House but it is in the Senate where the final action will be taken — the final decision will be made. The ultimate test in Congress will be what the conservative Republicans decide to do.

Disaster Area For Maryland State?

WASHINGTON — If President Nixon had any class he would declare the state of Maryland a disaster area. Several of its leading engineers and builders have admitted to bribery. Its former governor, Spiro Agnew, has been convicted of income tax fraud. Its present governor, Marvin Mandel, has announced publicly he's in love with another woman. He is living in a hotel room but can't afford to pay his bill, and Mrs. Mandel refuses to leave the governor's mansion because she says the governor has taken leave of his senses.

It seems to me that all these problems could be resolved to everyone's satisfaction providing there is goodwill on everybody's part.

What I propose is the following: Since former Vice President Spiro Agnew no longer has any need to live close to Washington, and since it may be difficult to maintain a $100,000 home without help from the Secret Service, I suggest that he and Mrs. Agnew move into the governor's mansion with Mrs. Mandel. The rent they would pay would go to Gov. Mandel so he can still live in his hotel room.

The Agnews know the house well and would feel very much at home there. Mrs. Mandel would have companionship during these trying times and would be able to cut down expenses since she and the Agnews could share the food costs.

Now the important thing from Maryland's standpoint is that since it seems impossible to have their governor living in the mansion, they would at least have an ex-governor living there, which would give them confidence in their state government.

In ordinary times, Gov.

Mandel might object to having an ex-governor moving in with his wife; but these, as everyone will admit, are not ordinary times. I believe Gov. Mandel would be grateful to know that all the bedrooms in the governor's mansion are not being wasted. And there is no doubt that the rent the Agnews would pay could help him out of his financial difficulties.

From former Vice President Agnew's standpoint, his housing problems would be solved for a while and he would have a chance to renew old friendships with many people he had dealings with as governor of Maryland. While these relationships are now slightly strained, there is no doubt in my mind that if Mr. Agnew were living in the governor's mansion these former friends would come back to see him in the slight hope that they could get some more road-building contracts out of it.

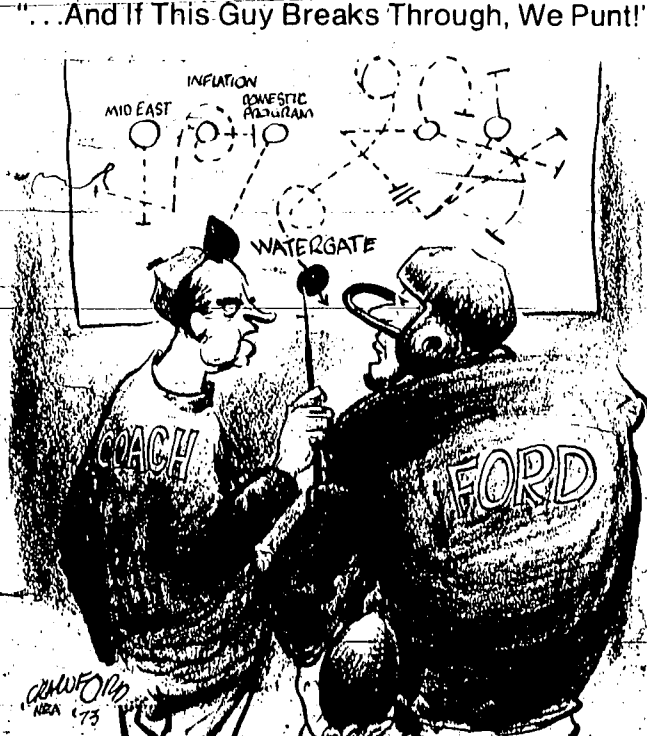

Now I know you're saying it's a perfect plan, but we should look at the disadvantages. There is always the possibility that Gov. Mandel could get a court order to evict his wife from the mansion. Then he might move in with the woman he loves. This could raise a great moral issue for the Agnews. They are very strait-laced people and might not approve of boarding in a house with an unmarried couple. It would smack too much of living in a commune.

They could, of course, move out with Mrs. Mandel and take another house, but it wouldn't be the same thing as living with her in the governor's mansion.

This is the only drawback I can think of. I must admit I have not checked out my plan with the Agnews or Mrs. Mandel. And I haven't called Gov. Mandel at the Hilton Hotel to see how he feels about it. But I have discussed the idea with many leading citizens of Maryland who are very enthusiastic about the idea.

One Baltimore resident summed up the feelings of all the Marylanders I talked to when he said, "It makes a lot of sense to me. The Agnews would be fools not to do it, and certainly Barbara Mandel would have nothing to lose."

Just More Bungling

It's a good example of the government — or someone else or some other group — getting their noses into places where noses shouldn't be.

We have in mind the change of Armistice Day from Nov. 11 where it has been for these many years to whenever it is now. It was observed — federally last Monday — but even now it is difficult to remember the date.

So what was wrong with Nov. 11? Nothing, as we see it. Why just change things for change sake? And that's about all that can be said on the switching of Armistice Day.

Now we are faced with two observances. Some places closed for a day — or for a half-day — Monday. Then when Nov. 11 comes around (it's on a Sunday this year so the observance will be Nov. 12) some places will once more be closed for a day or for a half-day. Many professional and political offices will observe that holiday because it will be officially proclaimed by Governor Andrus. They will be the same ones observing last Monday, which was officially proclaimed by the federal boys.

Sort of silly, isn't it? But it is a good example of what happens in this old land of ours when you have too many people doing too little work — they have to dream up some sort of change to keep their jobs going.

And a happy holiday to you, too!

SPOOKS AND THINGS Halloween, the evening preceding All Saints Day, once again approaches. Spooks, costumes, goblins, apple cider and window soaping are again the order of the day.

Probably no annual celebration has undertaken such an evolution as has Halloween. Originally a religious holiday, it now has become a combination of New Year's Even, a Mardi Gras-type celebration and a costume ball. Youngsters of pre-high school age, whose faces and innocent hands once sought the fruits of "tricks and treats" are now replaced all too often by those in their late teens and older.

Because of the destruction formerly caused on Halloween, the tendency in recent years has been to abolish, or greatly curtail, the activities of the younger set this one evening which should be theirs.

It is not too much for a child to ask of his parents a costume, a paper bag and an escort around the neighborhood on Halloween.

But it sort of gives us the wrong feeling when the parents drive the youngsters to all parts of town and park while they make the rounds in various neighborhoods — or when high-school-age kids knock on the doors for tricks or treats.

Mr. Spectator feels that Halloween should be for the real youngsters — and it's time parents and the older kids realize this.

Probe asked by Kennedy

By STEVE GERSTEL
WASHINGTON (UPI) — Sen. Edward M. Kennedy, D-Mass., is pressing for a full-scale investigation into the dismissal of Watergate Prosecutor Archibald Cox. He says Cox may have been fired because he was "too hot on the White House trail."

Kennedy said he will ask the Senate Judiciary Committee to begin the inquiry when it meets Wednesday, with Cox as the first witness.

Chairman James O. Eastland, D-Miss., scheduled the meeting at the request of Senate Democratic Leader Mike Mansfield, who asked that the committee consider all "the factors involved."

"Certain promises and pledges were made by the Attorney General to the Senate Judiciary Committee," Mansfield said Monday in a telegram to Eastland. "Certain commitments were made so that Mr. Archibald Cox could assume an independent position as special prosecutor."

"The Senate proceeded in good faith on the basis of these promises, pledges, and commitments," Mansfield added.

An Eastland spokesman said the committee can do nothing about the firing of Cox, but liberal members have been discussing what action might be taken.

Meanwhile, Sen. Birch Bayh, D-Ind., proposed that Congress create a new post of special prosecutor, placing it under the judicial branch. Chesterfield Smith, President of the American Bar Association, also urged Congress to re-establish the office of special Watergate prosecutor and make his occupant "absolutely independent" of President Nixon. In a statement issued Monday, Kennedy said evidence was "now beginning to accumulate that Mr. Cox may have been fired for reasons that originally had nothing to do with the tapes, and that the tapes compromise was a sham, a pretext to fire the special prosecutor, because Archibald Cox was too hot on the White House trail."

The statement did not cite what evidence has been unearthed. Kennedy and Cox conferred once, possibly twice, during the weekend.

"The chain of implications raised by the disturbing reports now circulating is obvious," Kennedy added.

He said the investigation should determine whether President Nixon had decided to fire Cox well before the tapes compromise was initiated, whether Cox was dismissed out of fear of the investigation, whether the chief concern was not the tapes but the notes, memorandums and other documents Cox was seeking, whether the tapes compromise was a pretext to oust Cox, and whether the Senate Watergate committee was used as a tool to give the White House compromise public credibility.

Kennedy said "if some or all of these charges are true, then in my view, the President's action was a clear obstruction of justice, which is an impeachable offense—a fresh and flagrant example of the very Watergate corruption the special prosecutor was so effectively investigating."

House panel sets Nixon pal probe

NEW ORLEANS (UPI) — House Banking and Currency Committee Chairman Wright Patman, D-Tex., said Monday his committee will investigate reports C.G. "Bebe" Rebozo, a friend of President Nixon, used his influence to get federal insurance for a savings and loan association in Key Biscayne.

Nixon's Florida White House is located on Key Biscayne. Patman said reports indicate Rebozo may have used his influence to obtain insurance for the Key Biscayne Savings and Loan Association from the Federal Home Loan Bank Board after the board had earlier refused the insurance. Rebozo is the chairman of the only other bank on the island. A charter for a competing bank was recently turned down by federal banking authorities.

Patman said in a news conference his committee's staff is examining the association's records.

Trial ruling set

NEW YORK (UPI) — A federal judge is expected to announce today whether the conspiracy trial of John N. Mitchell and Maurice Stans will be adjourned until Jan. 7. Federal prosecutors asked that the trial for the former cabinet officers be adjourned because of President Nixon's refusal to provide a tape recording of a conversation with John W. Dean III, a former aide.

however, that it will be postponed, although for how long is not known.

Mitchell, former attorney general and Nixon's campaign manager in 1972, and Stans, former commerce secretary, are accused of trying to influence a stock fraud investigation of New Jersey financier Robert T. Vesco.

Judge Lee Gagliardi ruled last week that Nixon will have to release the tape or Dean could be barred from testifying. The conversation took place on April 15. Dean is said to have asked for immunity against prosecution in exchange for testimony in the Watergate investigation. The trial for Mitchell and Stans was to have started today. It was learned.

WH aides prepare tape data

(c) Newhouse News Service
WASHINGTON — The White House, which is trying to keep alive its so-called compromise agreement on the secret Nixon tapes, has begun preparing the tape summaries and other data which it hopes to start turning over to Sen. John C. Stennis, D-Miss., by the end of the week.

Despite mounting Congressional resistance to the agreement and the possibility that District Court Judge John J. Sirica may reject it, the White House was proceeding Monday under the assumption that the agreement was still in force.

Aides in the office of the President's counsel were reported to be making partial transcripts and writing summaries, which will be turned over to Stennis for authentication.

Stennis, 72-year-old chairman of the Senate Select Committee on Standards and Conduct, was designated by President Nixon to hear the disputed tapes and vouch for the accuracy and completeness of the summaries the White House has agreed to give the Senate Watergate committee and Judge Sirica.

Under criticism for the arrangement, the White House agreed over the weekend to allow Stennis to call in outside electronics experts, if he deems it necessary, to determine whether the tapes have been edited, erased or otherwise altered.

But a White House source said Monday the assumption was that Stennis would be able to review the tapes alone, without assistance. The source made it clear that was the White House's desire.

Solons show indecision on impeachment

WASHINGTON (UPI) — Congress is undecided about whether to begin impeachment proceedings against President Nixon although there is widespread disapproval of his firing of Watergate special prosecutor Archibald Cox, a UPI poll indicated today.

Republicans, who might normally be expected to rally to the President, showed greater indecision than Democrats, and some normally key GOP Nixon supporters said they would withhold judgment until after more facts are in.

Although more members of the House and Senate favored the start of impeachment proceedings than opposed it, about half of those contacted indicated they were undecided about what to do.

A substantial number of congressmen, including many of those who opposed impeachment proceedings, registered disagreement with Nixon's decision to discharge Cox. A number of Republicans said they felt Nixon's actions were wrong, but were insufficient to warrant impeachment.

All House and Senate members who could be contacted—more than half of both bodies—were asked: "Would you favor the beginning of impeachment proceedings against the President?"

In the House, which would have to initiate any impeachment proceedings, 65 favored the idea (50 Democrats and six Republicans), 50 were opposed (13 Democrats and 37 Republicans) and 107 were undecided (49 Democrats and 58 Republicans).

In the Senate, which would try any articles of impeachment brought by the House, 19 were in favor (17 Democrats and two Republicans), 11 were opposed (two Democrats and nine Republicans) and 35 were undecided (19 Democrats and 16 Republicans).

The two Republican senators favoring impeachment proceedings are Sens. Clifford Case of New Jersey and Edward Brooke of Massachusetts. The six GOP House members in favor are Reps. Paul McCloskey, Calif., Richard Mallary, Vt., Charles Whitten, Ohio, Lawrence Williams, Pa., Joshua Ellberg, Pa., and Alan Steelman, Tex. The patterns of support and opposition for impeachment did not always follow normal political patterns.

Senate panel seeks Watergate evidence

(c) Washington Star-News
WASHINGTON — Members of the Senate Judiciary Committee sought today to seize the Watergate evidence gathered by deposed special prosecutor Archibald Cox, to protect it from possible destruction.

Liberal Senators on the committee attempted unsuccessfully to reach Sen. Sam J. Ervin, D-N.C., chairman of the Senate Watergate committee, in an effort to get him to subpoena the Cox evidence.

Prosecutor endorsed

WASHINGTON (UPI) — Charging President Nixon with "an unprecedented flaunting of the rule of law," American Bar Association President Chesterfield Smith has urged Congress to re-establish the office of special Watergate prosecutor.

In a statement Monday, Smith also proposed that Congress make the prosecutor "absolutely independent" of the President.

"The people of this country will never believe that justice has been done in the Watergate affair until such time as an independent prosecutor is permitted to go into all aspects of the affair..." Smith said.

No stand by Reagan

SACRAMENTO, Calif. (UPI) — Gov. Ronald Reagan says the firing of Watergate Special Prosecutor Archibald Cox by President Nixon is "relatively unimportant."

The governor characterized the dismissal of Cox as the "same problem" facing President Harry S. Truman in 1951 when he fired Gen. Douglas MacArthur for defying orders in Korea.

In a statement released by his office Monday, Reagan, who steadfastly has supported Nixon in the Watergate controversy, did not agree or disagree with the firing of Cox.

Committee amends bill for pipeline

(c) N. Y. Times Service
WASHINGTON — A House-Senate conference committee has quietly amended the Alaska pipeline bill in a way that administration officials say would lead to large increases in the price of heating oil and gasoline.

As widened by the conferees, officials contend, the bill's exemption for small wells or "stripper" wells, would effectively nullify price controls over crude oil, the raw material from which refineries produce petroleum products.

The price control rules allow refiners and distributors to pass on to consumers higher prices for crude oil.

John T. Dunlop, director of the Cost of Living Council, estimates that, because of the soaring Middle East crude oil prices, the "stripper" provision could cause the price of gasoline to rise by 7 or 8 cents a gallon and heating oil by 10 to 12 cents.

Another provision of the pipeline bill was understood to be coming under attack from the American Petroleum Institute, the U. S. Chamber of Commerce and other business groups. The provision would strengthen the powers of the Federal Trade Commission to enforce its subpoena and to seek court orders to enforce commission orders prohibiting unfair competition.

The conferees completed their deliberations last Thursday, but may not formally issue their compromise version of the senate and house-passed pipeline bills for several more days.

As agreed at the final session, the bill includes a provision that would exempt from price controls any mandatory supply-allocation program the oil and gas liquids, such as propane, produced from any lease with an average production that does not exceed 20 barrels a well. The bill does not specify a reference period for calculating production. If the provision became law, such a time period would have to be designated by administrative regulation.

The bill passed by the Senate last July 17 set a 10-barrel standard. It was sponsored by Senator Dewey F. Bartlett, R-Okla., a state that has many smaller producing operations. The House disapproved this provision.

Oil still flows from Arab ports

BRUSSELS (UPI) — Oil industry experts said today it appeared that Arab political leaders have not yet issued orders for oil embargos against the United States and the Middle East cease-fire may convince them never to do it. Industry sources said oil was still flowing normally from Arab ports unaffected by the war, despite pledges of cutbacks and complete cutoff of oil shipments to the United States.

Saucer proof available

LIMA, Peru (UPI) — A Lima architect said Monday he took 50 yards from a flying saucer "shaped like an overturned soup plate," photographed the object and offered his pictures as proof.

"I never thought I would see a flying saucer, much less photograph one," said Hugo Luyo Vega. "I think using the finest camera equipment in the world, I would never be able to do it again without the same extraordinary luck that I had last Friday."

Hugo Luyo offered both his pictures and the word of a client he had taken to the Lima countryside in search of a home site as proof of the event. He said he and his client had driven about 54 miles inland along the Rimac River when they came to a stop near a valley surrounded by tall hills.

In the midst of their survey, he said, "my client, obviously excited, told me he saw a shining object in the bottom of the valley that was advancing towards us extremely slowly. The car was not far away. I ran back for my camera, because in that fraction of a second I thought I, too, had seen something interesting.

"When I pointed my camera and took the picture, the object was less than 50 yards away from us and about 20 yards off the ground.

"Suddenly, the object changed direction, headed toward the east and increased its speed. It rose off the ground as if trying to avoid some high tension wires that came down from the top of one of the hills and crossed the valley, and disappeared from view."

Hugo Luyo said the object "was the color of burnished silver. It was shaped like an overturned soup plate with a cupola on the top.

"At the very top of the cupola, there was a round object giving off a fixed sky-blue light. Lower on the cupola, we could see a row of small windows like port holes in a ship."

On the bottom of the object, he said, was what appeared to be "the propulsive force of the object... a dark red throbbing light that was aimed toward the ground from a sort of turbine in the middle of the upturned plate. Near the turbine-like part, we could see protuberances like half-eggs."

The architect said only about 30 seconds elapsed from the time they spotted the object until it disappeared.

"But from the minute that I held in my hand the polaroid photograph, I had proof that what my client and I saw was not an optical illusion," Hugo Luyo said.

US and Moscow prod for peace

(c) N. Y. Times Service
WASHINGTON

Administration officials said today that in the wake of the Middle East cease-fire resolution — they expected Washington and Moscow to take the lead in trying to prod Israel and the Arab states into negotiating a political settlement of the long-standing Middle East problem.

Although details of Secretary of State Kissinger's talks in Moscow over the weekend with Leonid Brezhnev and other Soviet officials remained secret here, officials said that they anticipated a major diplomatic effort by the United States and the Soviet Union to follow up on the military cease-fire they were able to push through the U. S. Security Council early this morning.

The officials, most of whom have not been fully briefed on Kissinger's discussions, said that they would be surprised if the negotiations were not prolonged, since they have consistently defied solution for more than six years.

The initial comments by Israeli and Egyptian officials seemed to confirm the impression that the two sides still have strongly divergent views on how they envision the final settlement.

Aside from the cease-fire, the main element in the three-point resolution was the stress placed on the obligation of Israel and the Arab states to begin negotiations "immediately" to achieve "a just and durable peace in the Middle East."

Hope still alive for POW families

LOS ANGELES (UPI) — A top Communist official has said there is a "remote chance" that some Americans may still be prisoners of war in Laos, according to a group of relatives of missing U.S. servicemen that returned Monday from Asia.

Members of the National League of Families, a POW-MIA families organization, said they met in Vientiane with both Pethasay, senior Pathet Lao representative there.

He held out hope that some U.S. servicemen might be found and returned after formation of a coalition government in Laos, George L. Brooks, vice chairman of the league, told a news conference.

there are absolutely no more (U.S. military) men alive in the Pathet Lao area."

Virginia West, national coordinator of the group, said Pethasay promised that after a coalition government is formed, the Pathet Lao will see to the release of any Americans still in the country and provide information where possible on the deaths of those now listed as missing.

She said the group has new hopes that as many as 100, or the 330 reported missing Laos, may be alive. She did not say on what she based the figure.

"He allowed for the remote possibility that men may have been captured and held by the tribesmen in areas he has not been able to reach," Brooks said.

"He has not taken the strong stance, that he once had, that

Abigail Van Buren

DEAR ABBY: Someone signed "SMELLS BAD IN ROANOKE" wrote to say she was extremely clean about herself and her clothing, but she smelled a terrible odor about herself, which nobody said they smelled, and it was driving her out of her mind.
I had the same problem for four years. Finally my doctor discovered I had diabetes. He put me on a low carbohydrate diet, and the smell left me. CURED NOW

DEAR ABBY: This is my 50th year as a physician and I have seen a number of cases like the one described by "SMELLS BAD."

Readers give advice

That person should consult an ear, nose, and throat specialist for possible "Ozena" (stink nose), which causes a breath so foul that everything smells bad to her. The condition is the result of a chronic infection in nose and sinuses causing upper respiratory membranes to degenerate.
ARIZONA M.D.

DEAR ABBY: I also smelled bad and didn't know why. My doctor looked into my navel with a flashlight and that's where the smell was coming from. He cleaned it out and advised me to keep it clean with a bit of cotton on a toothpick, and my problem was solved. ON THE BUTTON

DEAR ABBY: Dr. Marion B. Sultzberger, a famous dermatologist, once told me that he had a patient who came to him with the same problem as "SMELLS BAD." The doctor had the man strip. He still smelled bad. Then the doctor told the man to remove his gold wedding band. That was the culprit! In some people, their body chemistry and certain metals create a very unpleasant odor.
J. T., CORONA DEL MAR, CAL.

DEAR ABBY: Tell that lady who smells bad my brother had the same problem. He went to doctors and nobody could help him. Finally an old man told him to drink four ounces of dry white wine four times a day before meals, and again at bedtime. He did and in a week the odor was gone, and he was like a new man. COFFEYVILLE, KAS.

DEAR ABBY: "SMELLS BAD" should make an appointment with her dentist immediately. I had that problem, and didn't know it was caused by an infected wisdom tooth. When my dentist discovered it he was amazed that I did not have a toothache that raised the top of my head. I never had a twinge of pain, but that terrible odor nearly drove me nuts!
OKAY NOW

TWIN FALLS — Dr. Lewis Catellor, Twin Falls, will address the Big Ten Club of Podiatry's 34th annual meeting in Columbus, Ohio, Nov. 11. His subject will be "Making the Most of Your God Given Talents."

CHENEY, Wash. — Ronald G. Braun, Twin Falls, has been selected to perform in the EWSC Music Theatre's fall quarter production to be presented in three successive performances starting Nov. 18. Braun, a pianist, is the son of Mr. and Mrs. J. W. Braun, 222 Fourth St. W., and is a senior music major at EWSC. He will sing in the rock opera, "Tommy" and the contemporary one-act opera, "The Man on the Bearskin Rug."

TWIN FALLS — The joint meeting of Magic Tonistress and Twin Falls Tonistress Clubs will meet Thursday at 7:30 p.m. in the Alley's Idaho Room; visitors are welcome.

SHOSHONE — Members of the Magic Grange Home Economics Club will participate in the Nov. 14 hobby fair sponsored by the extension service. The event will be held at Richfield and various clubs within the county will have displays and demonstrations. The county hobby fair falls on the club's next meeting date so there will be no meeting in November.

TWIN FALLS — The Goodwill Club will meet at the home of Wanda Dimmick, 111 Syringa Drive, at 2 p.m. Wednesday. Roll call will be a "joke or prank." Members are asked to prepare a list of handcrafts they can donate for the club handcraft sale.

TWIN FALLS — The joint meeting of Magic Tonistress and Twin Falls Tonistress Clubs will meet Thursday at 7:30 p.m. in the Alley's Idaho Room; visitors are welcome.

TWIN FALLS — The Mountain Rock Grange will meet Wednesday at 8:30 p.m. All members are urged to attend.

DEAR ABBY: If "SMELLS BAD" wears glasses she should check the nose piece of her glasses. I smelled something vile for months and couldn't detect its source. Finally I discovered it was the perspiration collected in the nose piece of my glasses that was causing it. I bought new glasses, and clean them with alcohol regularly, and haven't had any trouble since. SMELLS GOOD IN BALTIMORE

DEAR ABBY: It's the woman's gall bladder. A friend of mine kept sniffing everywhere for "dead mice" for six months. Finally, a doctor examined her and found that she had gall bladder trouble. She was smelling her own infected gall bladder!
R. L. D. IN VERMONT

DEAR ABBY: The woman who smells bad should be asked if she has had her ears pierced lately. When I had mine pierced, I smelled bad for months before I found out I had an infection in both ears from the piercing.
HAD IT IN ALABAMA

DEAR ABBY: Tell "SMELLS BAD" to check her ears. I have itchy ears, and I used to feel like there was something crawling into my ears, so I would scratch them with whatever was handy. Once I scratched my ear with a crochet needle. It caused an infection deep inside my ear which gave off a frightful odor, but I didn't discover it until I went to a doctor.

By Oswald & James Jacoby

Waldemar von Zedwitz, one of the greatest bridge players of all time, loves to show today's hand as an illustration of how the best laid plans can go completely wrong.

The game was match point duplicate and the standard result was three no-trump made with an overtrick. Against Waldy, there were two overtricks and we will let him tell his own sad story.

As soon as dummy hit the table, I saw the chance for a most unusual play. Give my partner exactly three diamonds and I could duck twice if declarer finessed twice. Then with the third finesse I would take my king and leave dummy's ace high and dry.

Things started out perfectly. South won the heart lead and finessed a diamond. It worked! He returned to his hand with a club and repeated the successful diamond finesse. I was able to duck with confidence because my partner had played the deuce and then the trey of diamonds. He would have high-loamed with an even number.

Then my balloon exploded. South returned to his hand with a club and cashed two more cards in that suit. My partner discarded the nine of diamonds and there was my king exposed to the world in his unprotected state.

Continental Casualty presents a unique supplementary hospital policy CNA/PLUS

If your application is accepted, you will receive benefits of $40 a day... from the first day in the hospital for any sickness or accident.

If you compare the CNA/PLUS plan with many of the other supplementary hospital plans available, you'll find a number of features in our plan that set it apart. For example:

No waiting periods—your coverage begins immediately. If your application for CNA/PLUS supplementary hospital plan is accepted, we help insure you against any sickness or accident—not just most of them. You're eligible for the benefits this plan offers the minute your policy is in force—not 6 months, or a year or even two years from now.

Unlike many hospital supplements, this plan offers you benefits beginning with your first day in the hospital... not three, four or six days after you're confined. You'll receive CNA/PLUS benefits no matter how long you are laid up in the hospital. There is no time limit and no maximum amount. Your benefits may continue for life, if need be, at the rate of $40 a day.

Benefits begin with your first day in the hospital for all sicknesses—any accident.

In other words, if you are hospitalized, you have benefits coming. You are also entitled to benefits if your wife or children are hospitalized, assuming you've chosen one of the CNA/PLUS plans that covers them. Should you and your wife both be hospitalized, you'll receive benefits for both of you.

Your wife's benefit is the same as yours—in both the Husband/Wife Plan and the Family Plan. The Family Plan also covers each child at a benefit level of $20 a day while hospitalized. Benefits will continue to come directly to you, unless they are assigned to your doctor or the hospital, for as long as any one in your family is hospitalized.

It is common practice to put a time limit on benefits in many supplementary hospital plans. Or, a certain figure may be stated, beyond which you are no longer entitled to benefits.

CNA/PLUS has neither limitation. It will return benefits on any person covered by this plan for as many days as that person is in the hospital—regardless of time or amount of benefits.

Here's this Plan's one EXCLUSION

This is the one exclusion you will find in the CNA PLUS plan, word for word, as it appears in the policy: "We will not pay benefits for hospitalization in a hospital that does not customarily charge its patients." For example, benefits are not payable in V.A., federal, state or local government hospitals.

Part VII

When a Covered Person is hospitalized while this policy is in force, a Schedule beginning with the date for each day of hospitalization. A Covered Person's Daily Hospital Charge commences after the Coverage is then in force.

As you can see from the wording above, the CNA/PLUS policy is written in plain English—with a minimum of legal-sounding language. This is so you can really understand what you're getting. The portion of the policy reproduced above shows the large, readable print used throughout.

Renewability

Your CNA/PLUS policy can only be terminated or the rates changed if all policies with this same form number in your state are terminated or changed. Of course, you may terminate your policy at any time.

These are your CNA/PLUS benefits for each day, week, month you're hospitalized

Let's suppose you have the Individual Adult Plan and go to the hospital. Your benefits are $40 a day beginning with your first day of hospitalization, regardless of whether you are in the hospital for sickness or an accident. The amount depends on the number of days you are hospitalized. Example: 1 day—$40... 7 days—$280... 30 days—$1200 dollars.

Your benefits continue for as long as you're hospitalized

Under terms of this plan, you'll receive benefits whether you're hospitalized for a single day, a week, a year or the rest of your life. You're also entitled to benefits—sent directly to you, unless your benefits were assigned to your hospital or doctor, for your wife ($40 per hospital day) or any child age 3 months through 18 years of age ($20 per hospital day) provided you chose the CNA/PLUS Family Plan.

How we can offer this unique plan at these reasonable rates

Most newspaper offerings of hospital insurance accept all applicants; regardless of their state of health, including many people with a history of illness.

To keep rates from going too high, many of these policies do not immediately cover health conditions for which an applicant has recently received medical treatment or advice. In insurance language, these health conditions are called "pre-existing conditions" and are often not covered for 6, 12 or sometimes 24 months.

CNA/PLUS is different. If you qualify, you're immediately covered for all conditions, including pre-existing conditions. This is possible because you're selected by our underwriters on the basis of a reasonably good health record, as stated in your application. Please be sure to include all items of health history, as required by the application. An omission could result in voiding of your policy.

Can people who don't have perfect health be accepted? Of course! In fact, we anticipate that we'll be able to accept about 80% of all applicants for CNA/PLUS. Once you're accepted, this plan covers you for all sicknesses, even those conditions you may have had before. And you're entitled to benefits immediately, if you do have to go to the hospital.

Why you may need CNA/PLUS If your regular hospital plan doesn't cover expensive medical-hospital surgical bills completely, you may wish to use your CNA/PLUS benefits to supplement your other insurance. You may also use your benefits for those necessary extras that some plans do not cover, including: ambulance, X-rays, lab fees and so on. Many people also discover, after they get to the hospital, that groceries aren't the only thing that have been hit by inflation.

Future children automatically covered at age 3 months—no increase in premium

The CNA/PLUS Family Plan offers a number of advantages to any couple with children and to those planning more. Your premium does not go up because your family grows. (Some plans charge extra for each child covered.) Your rate is the same whether you have one child or ten.

Your premium does not go up because you reach a new age bracket, either. In fact, your rate cannot be changed unless the rate for all policies with this same form number in your state is increased.

The graph above shows that the average cost per day for a hospital patient (nationwide) has risen from $48.15 in 1966 to $105.30 in 1972. And the cost is still rising!

The point is, many of us—even those who have hospital and medical care plans—need the kind of supplementary benefits made available by CNA/PLUS. The cost is reasonable to those who qualify.

No reduction in benefits at age 65

If you are familiar with supplementary hospital plans, you may know that many such plans reduce benefits as much as 50% at age 65. This is not the case with CNA/PLUS.

CNA/PLUS does not reduce your benefits at age 65, 70 or any other age. Nor do we reduce benefits for your spouse, if he or she is covered under one of the plans. You are entitled to benefits of $40 a day any time you are hospitalized—regardless of age, other insurance you may have, or Medicare. And, you may apply for CNA/PLUS at any age.

SEND NO MONEY NOW
complete application form and MAIL TODAY!

It won't cost you a cent to find out if you're eligible

All you need do is complete the application form attached, sign it and drop it in the mail. Send no money with this form, please. Your policy is issued on the basis of your answers to the questions. So please answer them carefully and completely.

Meantime, to find out exactly what your premium will be, check the "Monthly Rate" chart by age and the CNA/PLUS plan you prefer. We urge you to act now, because who knows when you may need this protection. The sooner you apply, the better off you may be. If your application is accepted, your policy becomes effective on the date it is issued.

Continental Casualty—since the 1890's one of America's most respected companies

The CNA/PLUS supplementary hospital plan is the latest in our continuing effort to bring you better protection—at reasonable cost—against today's soaring costs of being sick, hurt and in the hospital. Continental Casualty Company, underwriter of CNA/PLUS has a net worth of more than $330 million dollars and is considered one of the nation's largest and most respected insurance firms. Continental Casualty is licensed in all 50 states.

CNA/PLUS Makes It Easy to Find the Plan That's Exactly Right For You

The Individual Adult Plan

This plan covers any adult, 18 or over, for one modest monthly premium. There are no restrictions as to age, sex or marital status. You can apply at any age. The plan is designed to supplement your regular hospital insurance, not to replace it. Daily benefits while hospitalized: $40 a day for life, if need be. Benefits begin with the first day in the hospital, and last as long as your hospitalization.

The Husband/Wife Plan

This plan covers both you and your wife for one modest monthly premium. You may apply for this plan even if you have children, but they are not covered. Daily benefits while hospitalized—for life, if necessary—are as follows: Husband $40 a day; wife $40 a day. All benefits begin with the first day in the hospital and last as long as the hospitalization. Benefits for maternity begin with the first day of hospitalization. However, pregnancy must occur after your policy is in force.

The Family Plan

This plan covers your entire family—husband, wife and children for one modest monthly premium... regardless of how many children you have. All children age 3 months through 18 years are covered. Future children are automatically included after age 3 months at no increase in premium. Daily benefits while hospitalized—for life, if necessary—are as follows: Husband $40 a day; wife $40 a day; each child $20 a day. All benefits begin with the first day in the hospital, and last as long as the hospitalization. Benefits for maternity begin with the first day of hospitalization. However, pregnancy must occur after your policy is in force.

CNA/PLUS supplementary hospital plan is available in most states.

Idaho Supreme court opens today in Twin Falls

TWIN FALLS — Idaho Supreme Court Justices convened in Twin Falls this morning to begin a full week's session here during which they will review 14 cases.

Most of the cases are appeals from Fifth Judicial District Court decisions and sentences.

This morning the high court opened with arguments on a court ruling by District Judge Sherman Bellwood, Burley, dismissing an action brought by the Commercial Credit Corp. against Chisholm Bros. Farm Equipment Co. The case involved an automobile purchase in Colorado arranged by Chisholm Bros. and financed by the credit firm. No payments were made by the purchaser.

Also on schedule today was an appeal of Jim Warren to a court ruling by District Judge Theron W. Ward, Twin Falls, enforcement of a property sales agreement between Warren and Mari and Janet Hansen. Judge Ward dismissed the action and the plaintiff has appealed the case.

Another dismissal by Judge Ward has been appealed by the prosecution. It involves a criminal action against Lois Nadine Jennings, Twin Falls, charging her with issuing an insufficient funds check of more than $25.

The issue in the appeal involves the introduction of hearsay evidence in the form of an affidavit from the bank manager.

On Wednesday an appeal from James B. Trowbridge, Shoshone, to a district court sentence on charges of cattle theft will be heard at 9 a.m. He was sentenced to five years by District Judge Charles Scoggin after pleading guilty to the theft of four calves from Star Lake Cattleman's Association while working as a range rider for the association.

Another Wednesday case involves the appeal of George Leman and Norman Stendal, Hagerman, in a dispute over priority to the water rights of Rock Springs and Rock Spring Creek in Hagerman Valley for trout farm purposes.

The current court session will conclude Oct. 30 following an afternoon hearing on a Gooding County cattle theft case.

On Monday the court will hear an appeal from the Idaho Department of Highways arguing it should have been allowed to intervene in a district court case in Twin Falls.

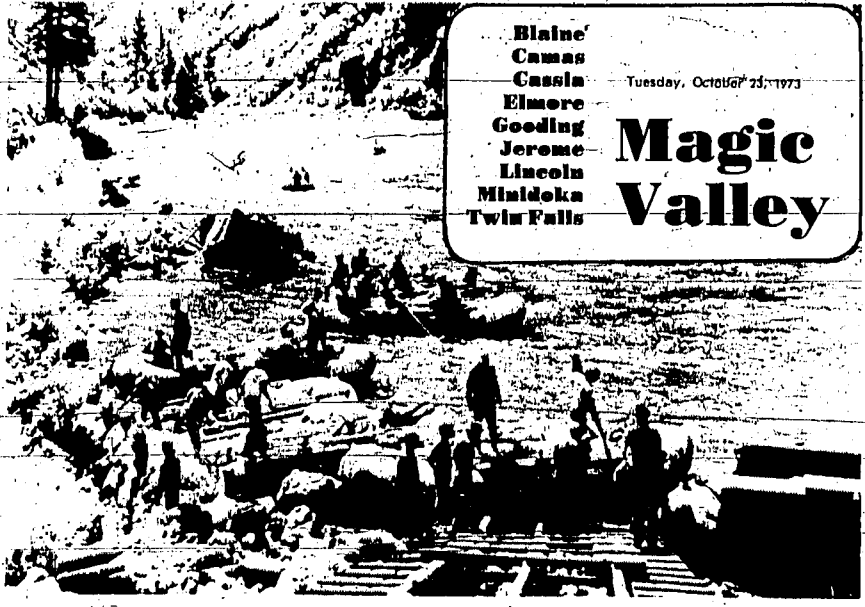

The Highway board of directors is appealing on the grounds of intervention in a case involving load limits on highways in Idaho as covered in a ruling by Judge James M. Cunningham in the case of Sterling H. Nelson and sons vs. John Bender, commissioner of law enforcement, and Clark Hand, superintendent of the Idaho State Police.

The matter involved an overload citation issued to the plaintiff. During the district court case it was charged one load limit was established for one type of produce, while another, less restrictive load limit, was established for agricultural products.

Judge Cunningham ruled the more lenient load limit should apply to all types of produce trucked on Idaho highways. The appellant argues the legislature was not unreasonable in allowing a higher load limit for lumber, mining and agricultural products than for the fish food pellets being hauled by the plaintiff respondent.

The Department of Highways sought to intervene in the case, contending a change in load weight restrictions could adversely affect highways throughout the state.

Magic Valley

FLOAT boats are shown reaching the end of their Middle Fork trip at the boat dock facilities on the main Salmon River at the mouth of the Idaho Primitive Area river. Most of the congestion of past years was eliminated by a reservation system which assigned departure dates and campground sites.

End of trip

Gem river float trips popular

SALMON — The number of persons floating the Middle Fork and the main Salmon River showed increases during the season just ended.

The main Salmon River float boating nearly doubled with approximately 3,900 persons compared to 2,200 last year during the peak use period of mid-June to early September.

Middle Fork traffic showed an 11 per cent increase with 4,372 persons floating the river during a 72-day period compared with 3,972 last season. The Middle Fork season ran from June 24 to Sept. 3.

Roy Barrett, Middle Fork wild river manager here, said that less use had been anticipated because of the extreme low water.

As a result of the increased use, a reservation system in effect on the Middle Fork, will be extended to the main Salmon next season.

Reservations now are being taken by the U.S. Forest Service for the 1974 season. Barrett said reservations are coming in at the rate of four a day now for the Middle Fork.

Jim Wiley, recreation assistant on the North Fork Ranger district, said the reservation system on the main Salmon also will include both private parties and commercial outfitters, the same as on the Middle Fork.

Commercial outfitters already have been scheduled as to departure dates and private parties will be scheduled as they apply.

Maximum group size for commercial outfitters has been tentatively set at 20 persons with no more than two groups per outfitter on any given departure date.

Private parties will be limited to three trips per year (total) regardless if they use one or both rivers. Three private parties will be permitted to launch each day on the main Salmon.

Wiley noted the forest service had floated the main river this summer in an attempt to arrive at the most desirable management goals.

"We will continue to study the alternatives along with expert advice from knowledgeable outfitters and others in order to provide for proper use of this recreation resource, while protecting and enhancing the scenic river values on national forest lands, and providing enjoyment for all," he said.

In order to gain more accurate figures on the use on the main river, the forest service initiated this past season a trip permit requirement.

Anyone who floated the river was required to first obtain a trip permit which was free and was used for the purpose of obtaining statistical data and trip planning information for following parties.

These permits will continue to be used for these purposes and for other information. The permits were available at the North Fork Ranger District office and at the mouth of the Middle Fork. Wiley said the forest had personnel stationed at the mouth of the Middle Fork seven days a week from June 18 through Sept. 2. This person not only issued permits for the main Salmon but also collected the permits that were issued for the Middle Fork trips.

In addition, he checked in the numbered garbage bags which were issued for the Middle Fork and also issued bags for the main Salmon. These bags would then be left at the take-out points down river from Corn Creek.

Cooperation on the packout garbage policy was very good, particularly with the commercial outfitters, Wiley indicated.

Barrett said that 367 persons were counted on the Middle Fork from June 24 through June 30, 3,100 persons in July, 831 in August, and 64 during the first three days of September.

Seventy per cent of those floating the Middle Fork went with a commercial outfitter with the other 30 per cent private. Of the total, 3,050 persons went with commercial boaters while 1,322 were in private parties.

The average length of stay on the Middle Fork was 5.6 days. The average size per private group was nine persons and 13 for the commercial. There were 1,346 boats with an average of 3.2 persons per boat.

Barrett said the forest service crews had experienced the cleanest year on the Middle Fork, hauling out only 420 pounds of garbage. The boat crew hauled out 2,355 pounds of old boats, wrecked airplanes, old cable from cable cars and other junk in an effort to bring the area back to what it once was.

Barrett said there had been excellent cooperation from the outfitters and private groups.

He noted that with the record number of persons on the river there still were fewer mixups on camp assignments and that the reservation system worked well. The kayak crew provided information services and because of their speed was able to contact twice as many boaters as the boat crews could. There was a noticeable increase in back packing.

Boaters had to have a permit to float the river, advanced reservations were required and campgrounds were assigned by party preference.

Barrett said with the increased use the forest service is looking to a longer season with some floating in April and June and later into September.

There was considerably more floating of the Middle Fork and Salmon River the same trip.

Plan to impeach rapped

By DAVID ESPO
Times-News Boise Bureau

BOISE — The executive secretary of the Idaho Republican Party said Monday if the House and Senate continue to talk of impeachment of President Nixon, they would "disgrace themselves."

Don Todd said in an interview the President had "no obligation to maintain a fifth column in his administration and if the Senate wants a special prosecutor let it hire one. It has hired enough of them."

Todd, who took over his position as party executive secretary earlier this year after having served as Kootenai County Republican Chairman, defended Nixon's handling of the Watergate tapes and the firing of special Watergate Prosecutor Archibald Cox.

The party secretary observed the President had obeyed a court directive to come up with a compromise on the tapes issue.

"The president has come up with a compromise," Todd said, adding the Senate Watergate Committee leaders had also agreed to it, but Cox, he said, "went up to his ivory tower and decided he would not."

Todd also said former Attorney General Elliot Richardson had done the right thing by resigning.

"If you are not a member of the team, then the thing to do is get off the team," Todd said.

The party official compared talk of impeachment of President Nixon to the impeachment over a century ago of President Andrew Johnson. Johnson's impeachment trial was held because he tried to fire some of his cabinet officials. His conviction failed by one vote in the Senate.

Todd also said incumbent Democrats, Gov. Cecil D. Andrus and Sen. Frank Church, are losing their popularity. He said Sen. Church was "weaker than he has been in the past and the governor is a 'shoo-out.'"

The party's executive secretary also predicted there will be three opponents for the Republican party's gubernatorial nomination in 1974, but he declined to name them.

U. Gov. Jack M. Murphy is the only announced candidate thus far but Todd said he has spoken with two other men who have said they are interested in running for governor.

Sheriff says suicide fingerprints wiped

By MARILYN ELLIOTT
Times-News Writer

BURLEY — No fingerprints were found in the house of Burley woman who allegedly committed suicide because "somebody's wiped them off," Cassia County sheriff Ray Mitchell said Monday.

Mitchell would not speculate as to who wiped the fingerprints off the gun which killed Mrs. Delilah Mae Bowden or off the household items in the trailer where she was found dead with three gunshot wounds in her chest last June.

In spite of the unanswered question, Mitchell said he was "plumb satisfied" with the decision of the coroner's jury on Aug. 31 that the death was suicide.

"I'm sure there isn't a chance" of re-opening the case, he said.

Mitchell said there was no doubt that Mrs. Bowden could have shot herself three times. "We've had people shoot themselves five times before," he said.

Even if the first shot fired had been the one that pierced her heart, Mrs. Bowden could have lived long enough to fire two more shots, Mitchell said.

Investigation, he said, "It was a very thorough job of investigation."

Sandra Rodriguez, Mrs. Bowden's daughter pointed out five consecutive suspects to the department, Mitchell said, and all of them were investigated and ruled out.

"We have 15 to 18 tapes of testimony and pages and pages of notes on the investigation," he said. "It was a very thorough job of investigation."

Deputy Don Taylor and special state investigator Floyd Robinson devoted three weeks solely to this investigation, he said.

"All of the relevant material" was presented to the coroner's jury at the inquest, Mitchell said.

TF GOP supports Nixon in wake of Cox firing

TWIN FALLS — Local Republicans Monday night voted to express support for President Nixon, in the wake of impeachment talk following the firing of Special Prosecutor Archibald Cox this weekend.

"I think the crowd there was unanimous in believing that this is politics as usual and that it is the Democrats who are doing most of the talk on impeachment to take over the White House," Twin Falls County Republican Central Committee Chairman Douglas Kramer said today.

Kramer said the committee, with no dissenting votes, endorsed sending a letter to Nixon to assure him of local Republican support and to deplore current talk of impeachment.

David Mead, committee legislative district chairman, said some discussion occurred in regards to the ways the President has done a good job.

Church's stand represents "a total reversal of positions" there is "not a total reversal" as far as the President's is concerned.

Mead said that prior to passage of the resolution, members mounted "quite a discussion as to whether we (the U.S.) could remain neutral" while Russia supplies arms to the Arab countries. Some members said this resolution would be in opposition to the President's own policy, and a few members spoke out against Israel's right to be a nation to begin with, he added. The resolution was passed with only two or three dissenting voice votes, Mead said.

The resolution proposed the U.S. should express friendship for both Israel and the Arab countries.

The committee also "enthusiastically endorsed" President Nixon's nomination of Rep. Gerald Ford (R-Mich.) as vice president.

McClure raps Nixon action

COEUR D'ALENE, Idaho (UPI) — Sen. James McClure, R-Idaho, said Monday that former special Watergate prosecutor Archibald Cox was a "stubborn, willful man" and added it was "inevitable" he be dismissed by President Nixon.

"Cox' liberal Democratic ties were well known, and he made no secret of his partisan views," the freshman Senator said.

UN Day outlined

TWIN FALLS — The Baha'is of Magic Valley, a newly formed religious group, will observe United Nations Day Wednesday learning more about the UN and its efforts toward world peace.

A statement issued by the Baha'is organization says "The United Nations has played a major role in the economic progress of developing countries and in the promotion of universal education, world law and human rights. The United Nations is a step towards the eventual attainment of world peace."

Jerome meet set

JEROME — The Jerome County Farm Bureau Board of Directors will meet at 8 p.m. tonight at the multi county Farm Bureau office.

Gordon Hollifield, chairman, said this will be the regular monthly meeting but that the agenda for the November annual meeting will be discussed.

Rupert workshop slated Oct. 30

RUPERT — Hospital emergency room personnel will be offered a workshop from 1 to 3:30 p.m. Oct. 30 at Minidoka Memorial Hospital, Rupert.

Information presented during the program will include airway management; resuscitation; assessment of multiple injury patients; assessment of patients with medical problems; procedures in different emergencies — burns, drugs, chest injuries. Also discussed will be policies and procedures of legal aspects and the sorting and first aid treatment of casualties.

Irene Doppert, charge nurse in the Bannock Memorial Hospital, Pocatello, emergency room, will be the instructor. The workshop is being sponsored by Minidoka Memorial Hospital, Bannock Memorial Hospital and the Southeast Idaho Center for Health Resources, Pocatello.

Employees of SCHR member institutions may attend at no charge. A five dollar registration fee will be charged others.

News tip

Albert Sherry Wright, Twin Falls, will be mailed $5 for the best news tip of the week. She called the Times-News to say that a well-known Blaine County doctor had been injured in a traffic mishap at Galena Summit.

In a typical week more than 100 news tips are received by the Times-News. From this large group, one is chosen by the editors as the week's best, and $5 is mailed to that person.

If you know of something you want in your newspaper, phone the Times-News at 733-0931 or use our toll-free lines.

We want your news.

IF man arrested

TWIN FALLS — Jerry Faye Snodgrass, 27, Idaho Falls, was arrested by Twin Falls city and county officers shortly after midnight Monday on charges of grand larceny.

Twin Falls Police Capt. Tim Qualls said the charges involved the theft of guns in Twin Falls recently. Snodgrass was also charged with carrying a concealed firearm, officers said. He was held in county custody pending a court appearance.

Racial imbalance seen in TF schools

The imbalance on the junior high level is more pronounced. Whereas 91 Chicano students attend O'Leary Junior High School this year, only five go to Robert Stuart.

With just one high school here, imbalance on this level between schools is impossible. Comparison with junior high school Chicano enrollment, however, points out another serious problem: a staggering dropout rate.

High school counselor Chris Charlton estimated that 25 Mexican-American students attend high school here. This figure, coupled with the fact 60 Chicanos now go to Twin Falls junior high schools, indicates that over 70 per cent of the Chicano junior high students drop out before they reach high school.

"I think you'll find the area of highest attrition is probably between the ninth grade and high school. When they get to be 16 (legal drop out age) they go to assist the parents," Twin Falls High School Dean of Students Dick Baun said.

Baun said the overall drop-out rate of students attending the high school is between 4.8 and 5.2 per cent. Because the district makes "no distinction" between groups of students he could not say how many of these students are Chicanos. But he believed that Mexican-Americans in high school do not drop out at a higher rate than other students.

Baun mentioned that the University of Oregon sponsors a program for Chicano dropouts. Twice a year, he said, scouts for the program come to help students having difficulties in school and to look for dropouts who might want to attend a special education course in Portland. Baun did not know of any local program aimed specifically to deal with the Mexican-American dropout problems.

Busing may be a viable solution to the pattern of accent segregation at Twin Falls schools, Bickel Principal Parker said. Chicano students attending Bickel are already bused from the Migrant Camp and the South Park area and busing to other district schools would only entail a few miles longer ride.

But Parker also spoke of advantages in concentrating Chicano students at one or two schools. When other Mexican-American students are around "these kids feel more at home," he said. Also, because of the high number of Chicanos at Bickel, the school is able to provide special programs for them.

In any case, Parker said he has not heard any complaints about the pattern of segregation in the school district. He added, however, that he is not sure that such complaints do not exist in the Mexican-American communities here.

"We try to work in as many aides and special reading programs as we can," Parker said, describing the efforts the school makes to help the Chicano students. In the past Bickel has employed one or two bilingual aides with federal Title I migrant program funds. This fall, however, Parker has not been able to find a qualified bilingual aide for the school.

Bickel also offers a year-long preparatory class for all students old enough but not ready for first grade. Because of language difficulties, nearly all the Bickel Chicano students enter this class, Parker said.

Chicano students are also concentrated in one second grade class, together with Anglo students, because Trina Sloane, a second grade teacher, speaks some Spanish and takes special interest in the Mexican-American children, Parker said.

By teaching Spanish fundamentals and something about Mexican culture everyday in class Mrs. Sloane said she tries to build the Chicano children's positive regard for themselves and perk up their interest in the class.

"I think they are more interested in what I'm teaching if I'm more interested in them as individuals," she said, adding that she also visits the homes of her Chicano students.

Mrs. Sloane said the Chicano children do very well in school in the early years. The crunch begins in the fourth, fifth and sixth grades when vocabulary is more complex and facility with the basics of English are assumed. At this point the Spanish-speaking children begin to lag and lose interest in school, she said.

Stern marshals BSC over Idaho State

BUHL. — Boise State's jayvees, rallied on cue by the appearance of quarterback Greg Stern, downed the Idaho State jayvees 21-13 Monday night in the first meeting between the two clubs.

Stern, a huge quarterback from Coeur d'Alene at 6-4 and 205 pounds, took the young Broncos to an early lead. Then the BSC coaching staff took a look at three other signal callers during the middle quarters. When Stern reappeared on the field, the Colts pushed the game out of reach and it hardly mattered that ISU scored a late touchdown.

ISU, with a bulk of its underclassmen playing on the varsity this season, showed a spark of class in the running of Curt Ashton plus the receiving of Zoltan Horvath and Crocker.

In a penalty marred night, Boise State took the lead on its second possession following a short punt — against the early wind — by the Bengals. The kick set the Broncos up on the Idaho State 21-yard line and five plays later the Broncos had it in the end zone.

The payoff came on a 19-yard strike from Stern to Bob Bruce Pooley and Ty Morris, added the point after.

Boise State played most of the half in ISU territory, missing a field goal late in the first quarter and fumbling away another chance just before the period ended.

Stern left the game and things became considerably more even.

Midway through the second period the most explosive part of the game erupted: Idaho State started it when it was punted into a hold on its own eight-yard line. After one first down, quarterback Barney Jacobs was caught for a six-yard loss. On the next play he handed off to Louis Mitchell on a trap play, and Mitchell, breaking a couple of arm tackles, sailed 87 yards for the first ISU score and Chuck White's kick tied it.

But only momentarily. On the ensuing kickoff, Tom Sims grabbed the ball on its own six-yard line and went the distance. "It was obvious the youngster from Chicago had it made after the 28-yard line."

From that point on ISU seemed to have a little better of the action, particularly in the number of plays run. The Bengals best chance to tie came late in the third period when an ISU punt was fumbled and Horvath fell on the miscue at the Boise 15. On the first play, ISU went with a halfback pass. It was wide open but Ashton underthrew the ball and it was intercepted at the 10, while the receiver was open in the end zone.

The decisive points came after a good defensive play by the Colts. A lateral was knocked down with Boise State taking over on the Bengal 32-yard line. Sims and Bill Paul punched the ball to the ISU nine but the next two running plays netted only two yards. Stern then flipped a scoring pass to George Hayes to nail down the victory with 4:10 remaining.

ISU rebounded immediately, largely on passes from Jacobs to Crocker. That combination clicked three times as ISU moved from its own 27 to the Colt 23. After Ashton carried twice for eight yards, Jacobs hit John Gallinger for 13 yards to the two. With 1:36 remaining, Jacobs rolled out and scored on a stroll. But Mel Person blocked the point-after try to stem any hopes for a later comeback.

Williams endorsed by owner

CLEVELAND (UPI) — Owner-president George Steinbrenner, the man who calls the shots for the New York Yankees, gave Dick Williams his ringing endorsement Monday — and you know what that means.

It means that most any time now the Yankees will be ringing up the former Oakland manager and asking how he'd like to manage them next year.

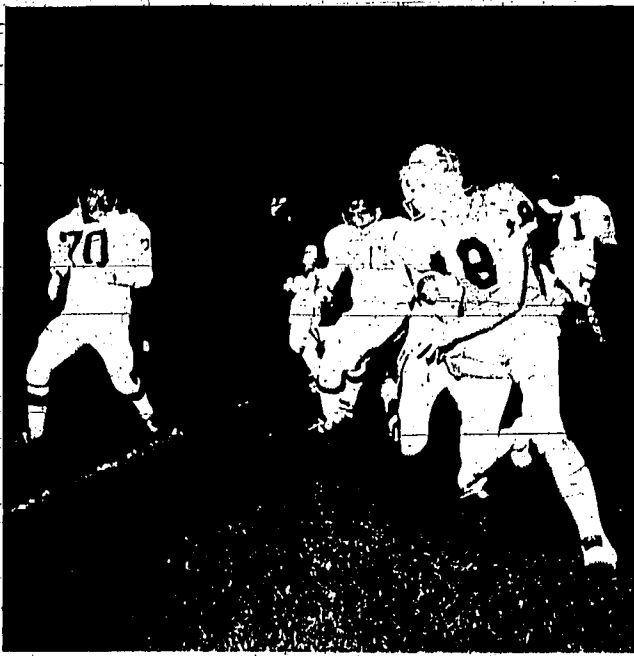

Williams' answer will be an unqualified yes.

"To my knowledge, however, nobody has approached Williams for the job," Steinbrenner said from his shipping offices. "Gabe Paul and Lee MacPhail have orders not to approach him unless he's legally cleared by the American League."

Williams had a two-year contract with Oakland and even though he announced his resignation as A's manager, we still must be sure we wouldn't be tampering with his services. That's a matter for the legal department. If he's available, we'd like to have him."

Steinbrenner said the Yankees have got to be interested in Williams. He brought the Boston Red Sox from ninth place to a pennant and led the A's to consecutive World Series championships. He's the manager with the best track record around today."

The Yankee owner said he has made several recommendations to the New York brain trust, but that he's just one voice in the overall selection of a successor to Ralph Houk, who announced his resignation on the final day of the season with two years running on a contract and then signed as manager of the Detroit Tigers several days later.

Heading for sidelines

IDAHO STATE QUARTERBACK Barney Jacobs (18) is about to go down in grasp of an unidentified Boise State player during jayvee action in Buhl Monday night. Boise State defeated ISU 21-13.

Oklahoma coach describes his methods of winning football

NORMAN, Okla. (UPI) — Winning football is a matter of doing the same thing over and over and taking pride in doing it right, no matter whether the opponent is Colorado or Kansas State, Oklahoma Coach Barry Switzer philosophized Monday.

Switzer, whose team has scored big victories over highly-regarded Texas and Colorado the past two Saturdays, was explaining why he did not think Oklahoma would be "down" for its game with Kansas State next weekend.

John Barnhill, late coach and athletic director at Arkansas, Switzer's alma mater, was once asked by a player why the team had to run the same basic play 1,000 times in practice.

"Because 999 is not enough," Barnhill told him.

"It's an all-season process," Switzer said. "Coaching philosophy is pretty repetitious. If you've got things you believe in you've got to say it a thousand times. And it's a matter of pride performing on Saturday when it counts."

Switzer said the turning point of Oklahoma's 34-7 victory over Colorado was a fourth and one at the goal line, when the Sooners forced Colorado to give up the football. At that time the score was 21-7.

"From that point on we dominated the game both offensively and defensively," he said. "From then on they didn't get much and we got a lot."

Switzer singled out offensive linemen Eddie Foster and John Roush for helping spring fullback Waymon Clark for 182 yards and halfback Joe Washington for 118 yards against Colorado.

"We 'blocked well inside, but we did not execute as well on the corners," Switzer said. "I felt our performance in the ball game wasn't the best game we've played."

Switzer said everybody talks about Oklahoma's probation except the coaches and the players and although he would just as soon the talk stopped, he knows it will grow louder.

"We don't talk about it any more," he said. "But the toughest part we haven't arrived at yet, that's when it gets down to the bowl selections."

The Big Eight and NCAA have forbidden the Sooners to appear in bowl games or on television for two years after this season because of recruiting violations. Switzer said Colorado Coach Eddie Crowser was right in assuming Sooners' coaches would be embarrassed by an attorney's effort to have Crowder served a subpoena at kickoff time Saturday. The summons was delivered the night before, asking Crowder to appear at a deposition hearing Nov. 15 on a lawsuit against the probation.

"I think it ought to have been embarrassing for the people having it done," he said.

Oakland parade not that great

OAKLAND, Calif. (UPI) — "It wouldn't be like this in New York!" said one spectator Monday as the vintage cars carrying the world champion Oakland A's passed by.

Intermittent rains during a victory parade through downtown Oakland kept the crowd down to 70,000 from the 250,000 fans who welcomed the champions last year.

Absent from the celebration were A's pitchers Jim "Catfish" Hunter and Vida Blue.

"I saw the parade last year," said Stan Cox, a certified public accountant from nearby Emeryville. "There's very little enthusiasm this year. The players look sullen and bored. Oakland will never be a baseball town and the players know it."

"It wouldn't be like this in New York."

One stalwart A's fan, Richard Patterson, 13,

Berkeley, noted the quiet of the crowd.

"This signifies a lot of dissension," he said. "The A's are losing a good coach, plus a lot of players want to go somewhere else."

"It wasn't worth a series to lose Williams," said Dick McNeely, an Oakland law clerk. "The A's are an exciting team but they don't play well together. It takes somebody to solidify them."

Williams himself got a rousing ovation when he took the podium at the end of the parade.

"I hate to leave," he told the crowd. "I don't see my family enough. God bless all you wonderful people, and Oakland will win other division titles."

Charles Finley, the controversial A's owner, said he wasn't going to sell the team, and he added: "We're going to make it three in '74."

Parsons is driving champion

DAYTONA BEACH, Fla. (UPI) — Benny Parsons, a North Carolina native who lived in Detroit 10 years before returning south to race, Monday was named the 1973 NASCAR Winston Cup Grand National Driving champion.

Parsons, 32, overcame an early accident in Sunday's race at Rockingham, N. C., and a subsequent one-hour pit stop to finish the race and gain enough points to win the Winston Cup and the $20,000 prize money.

Parsons, from Ellerbe, N. C., edged Gale Yarborough in the point race for the Winston Cup. Bobby Allison was third and James Hylton was fourth.

Consistency more than winning determines the Winston Cup winner. Parsons enjoyed a string of high finishes early in the season and won the southern 500 at Bristol, Tenn., in July. In 28 races this season he finished 15 times in the top five and 21 times in the top 10.

New AL president will be selected

CHICAGO (UPI) — Recommendations to "modernize" the American League, as well as a list of candidates for president, will be presented to club owners today and perhaps they will take immediate action on some phases of the report.

It was regarded as virtually certain the owners would select a new president to replace Joe Cronin — whose contract has two years to run — immediately or to serve as understudy to Cronin for an unspecified period before taking office.

There were reports that Cronin, a baseball Hall of Fame member who was both player and manager at Washington and Boston, would step up immediately to become chairman of the board of directors and that Lee MacPhail, now general manager of the New York Yankees, would be named president.

That was the format followed in 1959 when Cronin left the Boston Red Sox to become president, replacing the late Bill Harridge, who then became chairman of the board until his death.

A committee charged with recommending changes in the league constitution and suggesting possible presidential candidates called today's meeting simply to make its report. The report was presented earlier in preliminary form and the committee was instructed to expand on some points which it covered.

Committee members have interviewed "several" candidates for the office of president, but it was understood MacPhail almost was an automatic choice because of his long connection with baseball and the respect held generally for his baseball knowledge.

Denver battles Oakland to tie

DENVER (UPI) — Veteran Jim Turner, who missed a pair of lengthy first half field goals, booted his third three pointer out of the game from 35 yards out with only three seconds remaining Monday night to give the Denver Broncos a 23-23 tie with the Oakland Raiders.

Only 33 seconds prior to Turner's game-tying boot, George Blanda, who was appearing in a record-tying 188th consecutive national football league contest, had kicked a 49-yard field goal, his third of the game and 302nd of his career, to put the Raiders into a temporary lead.

After Ray Guy booted two kickoffs out of bounds after Blanda's apparent game-winner, Denver got the ball on its own 38 and quarterback Charley Johnson hit Floyd Little with a 13-yard pass, running back Joe Dawkins ran for 12 yards and Little scampered for nine more to set up Turner's kick.

Quarterback Ken Stabler, undisturbed by Denver's pass rush which threw him for losses six times, completed 16 or 24 passes for 313 yards, and two touchdowns as Oakland fell into a tie with Kansas City for first place in the AFC Western lead at 3-2-1. Denver remained a game back at 2-3-1.

Denver scored on an 80-yard fumble return by safety Bill Thompson in the first period, a one-yard first-period run by Little and Turner's field goals of 43, 37 and 35 yards.

Turner's first two field goals were set up by fumbles by Marv Hubbard on Oakland's 44 and Tom Maxwell, who dropped a Billy Van Housen punt on his own 38.

FORECAST FOR WEDNESDAY, OCTOBER 24, 1973

GENERAL TENDENCIES. Until sundown you have an excellent chance to please those of whom you are fond by entertaining them or doing something special that makes them realize you are truly thoughtful of them. In p.m., avoid anything resembling an argument. Keep poised.

ARIES (Mar 21 to Apr. 19) A communication from a distance can please you greatly. Don't argue with a good friend in p.m. Make new plans during day and don't change them in p.m.

TAURUS (Apr 20 to May 20) Giving more loyal support and affection to one of whom you are most fond is important today. Show you handle responsibilities well. Control your temper.

GEMINI (May 21 to June 21) Attend function with associate for chance to iron out most points. React intelligently to that public matter and gain more prestige. Drive with care.

MOON CHILDREN (June 22 to July 21) Improve your surroundings to increase the harmony within your home and create happy conditions. Buy some new articles that add to its charm, but within the budget.

LEO (July 22 to Aug. 21) Use magnetism for excellent results, but don't irk others in p.m. Communicating with key persons gains you their favor. Avoid a hypocrite.

VIRGO (Aug 22 to Sept 22) Discuss good ideas with kin for increasing income, but only during day hours. Make improvements in home that will be appreciated. Think.

LIBRA (Sept 23 to Oct 22) Communicate with others and be accurate in making out statements, bills. Become more efficient at your work. Take it easy tonight and improve health.

SCORPIO (Oct 23 to Nov 21) Talk over your finest projects with experts and then you know exactly what to do, can proceed with more assurance. Do not try to anger another person.

SAGITTARIUS (Nov 22 to Dec 21) Get a good friend to help you gain your finest personal wishes. Attend social groups where you can meet people you should know. Avoid a jealous person.

CAPRICORN (Dec 22 to Jan 20) Discuss with a higher-up how to become more successful in your career. Get into public work that you can handle very well. Evening favors resting, building up energies.

AQUARIUS (Jan 21 to Feb 19) Get out with a fine friend to new places to make new contacts of worth. Be more cooperative with others for good results. Dress well.

PISCES (Feb 20 to Mar 20) Confer with higher-ups on how to make payments owed, and you succeed. Praise mate more in public for better results. Do something nice for your parents.

IF YOUR CHILD IS BORN TODAY he or she will have a peculiar charm all his or her own and can delight others easily and therefore would make a fine associate or marriage partner. The ideas here can be very big and lead to big success, so be sure to send to the right schools that will bring out this fine talent. Give as many other cultural advantages as you can. Sports are a natural here, give plenty of leeway. Music good, too.

Retired airline stewardesses make the best wives. Or so one marriage counselor contends. Paraphrasing, this is because said stewardesses are used to treating men like wheels and catering to their wishes. Will you debate that?

No, nobody wins an ice skating race by a nose. That winner has to get not just one but both skates across the finish line first. Experts say the "stream fisherman" who knows "what's what" wears light tan clothing.

LOVE AND WAR

"Your Love and War man said the No. 1 remark a young lady can make to enliven the interest of her gentleman friend is 'I've never met anybody like you before.' Is there a No. 2 remark? And a No. 3?"

A. Certainly No. 2 is "You're too dangerous." And No. 3 is "I can't get you out of my mind."

"How many of our presidents played musical instruments?"

A. Caronly think of five: Jefferson and Tyler played fiddles, Truman and Nixon pianos, Harding the alto horn, and Coolidge the harmonica. Any others?

"Doem" Oklahoma turn out the tallest men?"

A. In that matter of height, those Oklahoma fellows tie with the boys from Texas, Mississippi and Tennessee for tallest.

MARRIAGE ADS

It was in 1728 that a girl named Ellenborgy Morrison put the following ad in an English newspaper: "God gave Adam a wife. I am single and seek a man who would be faithful." She was jailed for three months on a charge of "proclamation of the institute of marriage and debasement of social standards." Unfair. Mighty unfair. Lot of people advertise for matrimonial mates in Europe today. Did you know about 14 out of every 100 marriages in West Germany now result from classified ads in the personal columns?
