Mrs. Harold Hove dies

KIMBERLY — Mrs. Harold (Arlene) Hove, a well-known banker's wife died today of apparent natural causes. She was socially prominent in Kimberly and Twin Falls. Her husband is a Twin Falls banker, current chairman of the Twin Falls County Fair Board, and former owner of the Kimberly Advertiser.

SkyLab 3 launch readied

CAPE CANAVERAL (UPI) — The SkyLab 3 launch rocket and crew command ship were thoroughly tested and being loaded with fuel today for a mock firing that stood as the final hurdle for liftoff of the last space station crew Nov. 10.

Technicians were performing all of the tasks during the drill they will have to do on launch day, ending with the rehearsal blast-off this morning.

Astronauts Gerald P. Carr, a Marine lieutenant colonel, civilian scientist Edward G. Gibson and William R. Pogue, an Air Force lieutenant colonel, were winding up their 2½ years of training for the record-length space mission of at least 60 days.

Ill Elvis flooded with fan mail

MEMPHIS, Tenn. (UPI) — Baptist Hospital has received as many as 5,000 letters a day since Elvis Presley was hospitalized Oct. 15 with pneumonia. Presley goes home sometime this week, and hospital officials say things will never be the same.

"I have to turn away two teenage girls who drove 150 miles to see him," hospital spokesman Maurice Elliott said. "It's amazing how many nurses and staff members find things that need to be done on his floor."

Jaworski to follow Cox's footsteps

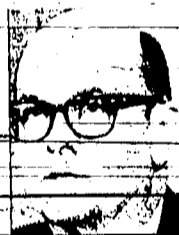

HOUSTON (UPI) — Newly appointed special Watergate prosecutor Leon Jaworski, who says he'll begin his investigation where his predecessor Archibald Cox left off, plans to look into the matter of the missing presidential tapes before anything else.

"I plan to go to the tapes matter first," Jaworski said Thursday. "I didn't even know until just now which particular ones are missing. I tell you frankly that that wasn't discussed (Wednesday) when he was asked to take the job."

Jaworski, a veteran trial lawyer, conservative Texas Democrat and former president of the American Bar Association, said he will begin work in Washington Monday.

Brinegar rides jet train

ORLEANS, France (UPI) — U.S. Secretary of Transportation Claude Brinegar rode on a new French train which moves on air cushions and is powered by a jet engine rather than a propeller Thursday. The "Le Mans Aerobahn" went 323 miles an hour and Brinegar said the ride was "very good."

New US bomb raids warned

HONG KONG (UPI) — The commander of U.S. Air Force operations in the Pacific was quoted Thursday as saying American warplanes may resume bombing missions in Indochina in the event of a new Communist offensive.

"Now that we are not actually dropping bombs (in Indochina), we must maintain our capability to resume such action if we have to," Gen. John W. Vogt Jr., commander in chief of the Pacific Air Force command, said in an interview with the Pacific Star and Stripes newspaper.

British 'humiliation' blasted

LONDON (UPI) — Opposition politicians and the press accused the United States Thursday of humiliating Britain during the Middle East war and treating it like "a banana republic."

Members of the opposition Labor party charged Prime Minister Edward Heath's Conservative government timidly accepted America's unilateral actions in the war.

Former Prime Minister Harold Wilson, the Labor party's leader, said in Parliament the American decision to call a worldwide military alert and "not to consult us was an outrage."

Summit stroll

ISRAELI Prime Minister Golda Meir is escorted by President Nixon following their talks at the White House Thursday. Mrs. Meir said her country would not unilaterally withdraw from its current positions on the west bank of the Suez Canal except through negotiations with Egypt. (UPI)

Renewed war hinted

By United Press International
Egypt and Israel hardened their diplomatic positions today and there was talk in both Cairo and Tel Aviv on the possibility that the Middle East War might be renewed. Egypt reimposed its wartime blackout and carried out new negotiations with its Arab allies.

Mohammed Hassanein Heikal, influential editor of the semi-official Egyptian newspaper Al-Ahram and a confidante of President Anwar Sadat, said a resumption of the Arab-Israeli conflict was more likely than a Middle East peace conference.

In Tel Aviv, Lt. Gen. Haim Bar-Lev, former chief of staff of the Israeli armed forces, said in an interview with the newspaper Ma'ariv that Egypt might try to renew the war but that Egypt had no chance because Israeli forces inside Egypt are sitting on that country's soft belly.

In Washington, Israeli Prime Minister Golda Meir told a news conference after talks with President Nixon that the cease-fire line in Egypt should be negotiated by the two countries and that "Israel feels there will have to be a redistribution of forces on each side."

She said Israel has given first priority to an exchange of prisoners of war and said Israel would unilaterally withdraw from the Oct. 22 lines.

Robber hits TF station

TWIN FALLS — A lone robber, wielding a shotgun, held up two attendants at the Stinker service station, Thursday night.

Twin Falls detective captain, Tim Qualls said the robbery occurred about 9:25 p.m. when the man entered the station, and demanded the two employees give him the money from the station's cash register.

Qualls said the robber took about $325 from the service station and then demanded the attendants' wallets.

Attendants Paul Gilbert and Mark Cole said the man fled the station and they were unable to determine if he was on foot or had an automobile nearby.

City wins ticket court test

TWIN FALLS — A court challenge to Twin Falls' right to issue parking tickets for leased parking spaces has been decided in favor of the city.

Twin Falls County Magistrate Daniel Meehl found L. James Koutnik guilty of a parking violation.

Koutnik, Twin Falls, was charged with violating the city parking ordinance by parking his car in a space leased to someone else in a downtown public parking lot.

Koutnik had pleaded innocent, arguing the city's parking ordinance violated an agreement with the federal government in Urban Renewal funding of the parking lot.

He argued the ordinance could not properly be applied to such leased parking and that the city police action was an invalid use of police power by the city.

Meehl agreed with the city's argument that the court need not determine whether the city ordinance breaches the contract with the federal government.

The court held the city parking ordinance was not voided for being in conflict with the governmental agreement.

Meehl held the city exercised proper police power in the case.

He held that the owners of private property abutting a public parking lot "also have a right to ingress and egress and that this is a 'public right' subject to regulation and police control."

Sentencing of Koutnik, who had been freed on bond, was delayed pending further communication with him.

Jobless rate dips

WASHINGTON (UPI) — Unemployment dropped sharply last month from 4.8 to 4.5 per cent, the lowest jobless rate in more than 3½ years, the government announced today.

The Nixon administration's target was reducing joblessness to 4.5 per cent by the end of the year.

The October decline in unemployment was the sharpest drop since November, 1972, and ran counter to other economic statistics indicating that the nation's economy is slowing down.

74 Valley pump installations curtailed

TWIN FALLS — Hard-pressed by growing electrical demands of a booming farm economy, Idaho Power Co. has shut the door on further commitments on Magic Valley irrigation power lines for the 1974 season.

The unprecedented cutoff took effect on Oct. 23, the Times-News learned Thursday.

Skyrocketing orders for new pumping capacity reportedly has outstripped the utility's ability to install new lines.

The power firm does not have the manpower or material to meet the rising number of orders from farmers for irrigation pump installations, according to E. E. Haroldson, southern division manager for Idaho Power.

"The affliction of the farmer has caught up with us," Haroldson said.

"Those farmers (have) got money. And when they've got money they go spend it," he added.

Farmers have more money to spend and want to extend their irrigated acreage but Idaho Power has reached its limit in labor and material for construction of additional electric pumping lines by the 1974 irrigation season.

In a letter to Idaho Power district managers, Haroldson said, "Utilizing all available private contract crews, plus all of our own crews, it is apparent that we have all of the irrigation line construction that we can successfully perform by the beginning of the new irrigation season."

"The letter continued, "Thus, it is with reluctance that effective immediately, all new requests for irrigation pumping be received with the understanding and agreement by the customer that we cannot provide service for the 1974 irrigation season."

Idaho Power is also "up against" shortages of material used in the construction of transformers, poles, crossarms and conductors.

Haroldson blamed material shortages on the booming economy. Electric utilities are buying supplies faster than manufacturers can turn them out," he said.

"Manufacturers are slow in delivery," he added, "their orders are booked up solid."

He said Idaho Power is also "behind the eight ball" in manpower.

"Linemen are in extremely short supply," according to Haroldson.

The power firm has already started crash training programs, both on-the-job and at Idaho State University, to beef up its labor force, he said.

Prosecutors give challenge

In another development, The Washington Post reported today that a June 28, 1972 memo from former CIA director Richard M. Helms ordered his deputy to urge the FBI not to expand its Watergate investigation "into other areas which may, eventually, run afoul of our operations."

Helms had told the Senate Watergate committee that the CIA resisted White House pressure to keep the FBI from probing matters that would involve agency activities.

Sirica's court Thursday and today look up questions which have arisen since the White House said two of the tapes did not exist.

Secret Service agent Raymond C. Zumwalt, under cross-examination, said he didn't know whether former aide H.R. Holdeman might have taken some a tape home. The box containing the tape was marked Part I, and that raised a question whether somewhere there was a Part II.

The court hearing did not cover the question of why, during a three month legal struggle over the tapes, the White House didn't check until last Saturday to see if they were all there.

White House Counsel J. Fred Buzhardt gave an answer to newsmen: "There was no cause to," he said. "We thought we could win the suit and we'd never have to bother with them. We presumed the conversations were available."

Hansen scores Nixon capacity

He also said the new prosecutor should have some protection from discharge on the President's wishes "without concurrence of the Congress or the Courts." But Hansen nevertheless said he thought the president should appoint new prosecutor as he could make use of the investigative agencies of the executive branch of government, including the Federal Bureau of Investigation.

Hansen also commended Nixon's selection of Sen. William Saxbe, R-Ohio as the new attorney general. "He has demonstrated a great deal of courage and independence," Hansen said of Saxbe, and "has the confidence and support of his colleagues in the Senate and in the House also, I'm certain."

Hansen also said he supported the current House Judiciary Committee inquiry into possible grounds for initiating impeachment against the president. He said he supported the move by the committee "to make such inquiries as may be necessary" to see whether there are grounds for impeachment.

3 final suits filed

TWIN FALLS — Three final condemnation suits in connection with the improvement of West Five Points intersection in Twin Falls have been filed in Fifth District Court here.

The Idaho Department of Highways has taken action to condemn property owned by Andrew and Elsie Anderson and two parcels owned by Arlon L. Bastian and his wife. The three cases seek court action to condemn right of way needs for the highway department and to set a fair price the state is to pay the property owners.

District highway officials in Shoshone said there are a total of 35 parcels of property needed for right of way in connection with the intersection improvement. Only four condemnation suits have been filed, two having been filed earlier this year.

Highway officials said they hope to have the project ready for a call for bids in the first quarter of 1974 so work can be completed during the 1974 construction season.

Plans call for widening and redoning of the five-point intersection. The intersection is part of U. S. Highway 30 and U. S. Highway 93 and will be reconstructed with federal funds.

Involved will be widening of Washington Street, Addison Avenue and Addison Avenue West and Main Avenue in a short distance each direction from the intersection itself.

One of the major needs, officials said, is the right of way from the Albertson Store property owned by Bastian. Right of way is needed on both Addison Avenue and Washington Street.

Bastian is contesting the condemnation on grounds the property needed for the project would seriously damage the store business by removing a large percentage of the parking space and building area along Addison Avenue.

Inspection set

Members of Collax No. 13, Ladies Auxiliary Patriarch Militant will have their annual inspection Monday night in the Buht Odd Fellows Temple.

Lady Marie Jenkins, the Department Association President of Idaho, will also make her official visit.

Speaker raps proposed laws

KIMBERLY — Warning's against pending "liberal" child-care legislation were sounded here Wednesday night in a meeting of the Twin Falls County Central Committee of the American Party of Idaho.

Harriett Crank, Bridge, introduced Mrs. Paul Barnes, a former Head Start teacher from Malta, and guest speaker Mrs. Barnes, who visited Washington, D. C. in September to urge congressional delegates from Idaho to oppose the child-care legislation said it will "endanger family life and weaken parental authority and responsibility."

She told American Party members as of Oct. 1 there were 41 child-care bills pending before the U. S. Congress, all designed to provide government care of the "total child" from conception to death.

These bills, Mrs. Barnes said, provide dental, physical, mental and emotional diagnosis and treatment for all children under the direction of the Department of Health, Education and Welfare.

"The bills, she said, define "parents" as any persons who have the day to day care of a child.

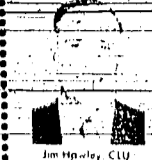

"This," she said, "leaves the legal status of the natural parents in question."

Mrs. Barnes said Abraham Ribicoff is sponsoring one of the bills, (S2258). This bill refers to children as "our most valuable natural resource," she said, and states the federal government has the fundamental obligation to assist the state and local governments in meeting the needs of children and youth.

"I say baldersdash," she said. "My children are each a child of God and not a natural resource to be categorized and compared to water, timber or rocks and the only people who are obligated to care for my children are my husband and myself," Mrs. Barnes said.

"If American parents don't become aware of the type of legislation being promoted in Washington, D. C., in the name of child care, we all may lose our right to guide and control our children," she warned.

Blood drawing stated Monday

HONORARY chairman, William Chancey, at right, is a typical "red blooded American" he will be donating 2.5 trillion red corpuscles of blood Monday in the Red Cross Blood drawing. Here Commissioner Merv Leonard, left, tries to squeeze out a few trillion in preparation for the drawing. Leonard said it was a "dry run."

TF sets 150 pint quota

TWIN FALLS — William I. Chancey, chairman of the Twin Falls County Commission, will serve as honorary chairman of the Red Cross Bloodmobile visit Monday in Twin Falls.

—He urges all residents of the area to donate a pint of blood between the hours of 1 and 6 p.m. The drawing will be held in the St. Edward's Parish Hall and a quota of 150 pints is being sought.

Chancey congratulated the Twin Falls Red Cross Chapter on their past record of consistently meeting the quota and said this time he hopes to be able to go over the quota.

There are six blood drawings per year in the community and while people may begin to think of them as routine, they are each an "emergency," Chancey said.

Demands for whole blood, for which there is no substitute, must be provided when an accident injury or sudden illness requires it. Chancey said the need always represents a life and death emergency for the receiver although the donor gives at his convenience during the six drawings.

David Nelson, blood program chairman for the Twin Falls Red Cross Chapter, said persons between the ages of 18 and 66 may give blood. Each person, he said, has between 10 and 12 pints of blood and for those who like worthless bits of information for conversational purposes, there are 2.5 trillion red corpuscles in each pint of blood.

"This makes about 30 trillion red corpuscles in a person's system, and all we are asking for is 2.5 trillion," Nelson said.

Blood is used at Magic Valley Memorial Hospital for a number of life saving measures, Nelson said. Components of blood include serum albumin which is frequently required by accident victims and gamma globulin, another component helps combat infectious diseases.

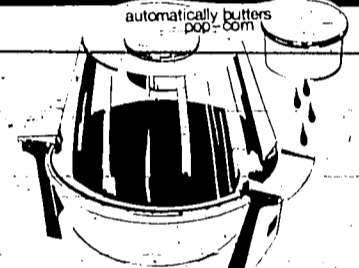

The Red Cross collects blood only from volunteers. None is purchased. As a result, the blood itself is given free to those who need it and only the cost of drawing, administering and packaging the blood is passed on to the users.

KEY DISCOVERY—The UPI—President Nixon, showing signs of tension from the continuing Watergate crisis, left his aides behind and abruptly flew here Thursday for a weekend at his vacation home.

Only Bryce N. Harlow, the veteran White House adviser who was recently recalled from private life to help Nixon out of the Watergate scandal, accompanied him.

His chief of staff, Alexander M. Haig Jr., and press secretary, Ronald J. Ziegler, caught a later flight Thursday night. Mrs. Nixon and other members of the first family remained in Washington.

Nixon's press office, which normally notifies newsmen in time for them to accompany the President on such trips, did not spread the word until after Nixon's departure.

This was seen by some observers as another indication of his growing irritation with the press. He severely chastised newsmen particularly television commentators at his news conference last week for "vicious, distorted reporting on the Watergate affair."

Harlow is one of Nixon's chief advisers on congressional relations and the President was expected to spend some time with him discussing ways of restoring confidence in his leadership among members of Congress.

This conference was further eroded with the disclosure that two of the nine recordings of presidential conversations on the Watergate affair which Nixon has been ordered to turn over to the federal courts do not exist.

The White House has explained that the conversations were not recorded because of a mechanical failure in one instance and the use of a telephone not hooked into the White House recording system in the other.

But even the President's supporters on Capitol Hill see this as a severe blow to his credibility.

Presidential spokesman Gerald I. Warren said the President arrived at his buy-site compound at 4:57 p.m. after a two-hour flight from Washington and was greeted by his friend, C. G. (Babe) Rebozo, whose home is adjacent to the President's and inside the presidential compound. Although the President has stoutly defended his honesty, Rebozo was the source of some presidential embarrassment with the disclosure earlier that he had accepted $100,000 in campaign contributions from billionaire Howard Hughes.

ATTORNEY GENERAL—nominee William Saxbe, left, said Thursday he might halt the Justice Department's reopened investigation of the 1970 Kent State shootings. The Ohio senator is shown with President Nixon at a White House introduction. (UPI)

Saxbe introduced

Constitutional snag cited in nomination of Saxbe

WASHINGTON (UPI) — A provision of the Constitution prohibits Sen. William B. Saxbe, R-Ohio, from taking the $60,000 a-year job as Attorney General he was nominated for Thursday. But his aides say Saxbe, if confirmed, will probably be able to serve.

Article I, Section 3, Clause 2 of the Constitution says that no member of Congress shall "during the time for which he was elected be appointed to any civil office which shall have been created, or the emoluments whereof shall have been increased during such time."

Saxbe was a member of the Senate, which Feb. 3, 1969, voted a pay increase for Cabinet members from $35,000 to $60,000 a year.

"We are aware of the existence of the Constitutional provision in question," Saxbe's office said Thursday. "We believe there is precedent and we don't think this would bar the senator from being attorney general."

The New York Times today quoted Solicitor General Robert H. Bork, the acting head of the Justice Department, as saying, "remedial legislation will be forwarded to the Congress with the nomination."

It was not clear what type of legislation Bork had in mind, but it was reported that when President William Howard Taft named Sen. Philander C. Knox secretary of state in 1909, Congress passed a law canceling the pay rise.

Only hours after President Nixon nominated him, Saxbe told reporters he would "have to practice keeping my mouth shut. And it won't be easy."

In April of this year, Saxbe, upset at reports that 75 per cent of violent crimes in Washington were committed by persons out on bail or parole, lashed out against "soft-headed programs." He said then, "We've got to get rid of some of the judges that think every criminal is a misunderstood boy."

He was also widely quoted as saying the President had "taken leave of his senses" by bombing North Vietnam last Christmas.

Confident Ford tells all

WASHINGTON (UPI) — Gerald R. Ford said he had nothing to hide. He earnestly detailed the cost of his son's orthodonty and how he came to afford a condominium at the ski resort of Vail, Colo., on a congressman's salary.

The House Republican Leader's apparent eagerness to answer all questions—and his pledge to serve as "ready conciliator and calm communicator" between a warring president and Congress—helped Ford weather his first day Thursday of congressional scrutiny on his fitness to serve as vice president. The questioning was mild and laced with compliments.

Lacking a scandal—the nationally televised hearing before the Senate Rules Committee failed to attain the degree of drama which the Senate Watergate committee often has had; and by mid-afternoon half the seats were vacant, a phenomenon that never occurs before Sen. Sam J. Ervin's Watergate sessions.

Ford's responses raised no apparent obstacle to his swift confirmation, possibly by Thanksgiving.

But he will be called back Monday to explain further his relationship with former lobbyist Robert Winter-Berger, who has sworn he gave Ford $15,000 that was never repaid—

a charge Ford called "astirne" and "utterly preposterous."

In questioning, Ford appeared to put some distance between himself and President Nixon on key Watergate questions. Unlike Nixon, for example, he said a president is subject to court orders. Nixon has argued a chief executive, as co-equal, can ignore the courts.

Ford also said he would have revealed the non-existence of two Watergate tapes "at a much earlier date."

He praised Nixon's choice of attorney general and special prosecutor and opposed the strong moves in Congress to turn over to Judge John J. Sirica authority to name the special prosecutor.

Secret memos opened

WASHINGTON (UPI) — Confidential White House memos show that top Nixon administration aides proposed a major campaign in 1970 against the news media.

Eight memos, written by White House aides, have been released from Senate Water-gate committee files by Sen. Lowell P. Weicker, R-Conn.

They show a deep concern by former White House Chief of Staff H. R. Haldeman, his then assistant, Jeb Stuart Magruder, and presidential counsel Charles Colson over what they believed was biased reporting about the administration.

Frequently mentioned in the documents were plans to use former Vice President Spiro T. Agnew as the main administration critic of the news media.

"We will keep tabs on examples of partisan press treatment and feed them into the Vice President on a regular basis," Magruder wrote on Aug. 28, 1970.

One memo was a "tentative plan on press objectivity," written by Magruder July 17, 1970, for Haldeman and White House communications director Herbert Klein. The memo was inspired, Magruder wrote, by "some extremely disparaging remarks about the President" made by television newsmen David Brinkley. But it outlined a media-wide program.

Statue unveiled

SHOWN is close-up view of massive bronze statue of Britain's revered war-time leader, Sir Winston Churchill, which was unveiled by his widow, Lady Clementine, and Queen Elizabeth II, Thursday. The 20 foot high monument was sculpted by British sculptor Ivor Trevor-Jones. (UPI)

Mrs. Churchill unveils statue

LONDON (UPI) — The frail widow, blinking back tears, stepped forward shakily to release a flood of memories in a quiet corner of Parliament Square where her husband, Winston Churchill, had his finest hours.

Supported by a walking stick and her grandson Winston, Lady Clementine Churchill, 88, unveiled a towering bronze statue of the wartime leader Thursday eight years after his death.

She tugged at a golden tassel but the huge Union Jack shrouding the 20-foot-high monument did not budge. Then, Queen Elizabeth II, motherly and sturdy, stepped forward and together both women pulled the cord.

Down came the shroud, revealing the stooped, stocky

Lady Churchill looked up quietly and for several moments stood peering at the statue, recalling perhaps some cherished moment before her husband's death in 1965—10 years after he resigned as prime minister.

The statue wore not the determined glower Churchill often displayed as he led Britain through "the finest hour" during World War II, but a quizzical expression as if the great statesman were searching for the answer to a momentous problem.

The inscription on the granite base of the $80,000 monument, the work of British sculptor Ivor Trevor-Jones, said simply, "Winston Churchill."

Added charges won't see light

BALTIMORE (UPI) — The government considered adding an obstruction of justice charge in the evidence against Spiro T. Agnew after several grand jury witnesses told prosecutors that Agnew or his representatives tried to influence their testimony, U.S. Attorney George Beall said Thursday.

Beall, who headed the investigation that led to Agnew's resignation, said the Vice President was not charged because he agreed to plead no contest to a tax count and the obstruction of justice charge would have been hard to prove.

Beall confirmed that former U.S. Attorney General Richard Kleindienst called him twice last February after Agnew complained to the Attorney General that the Baltimore grand jury investigating Maryland political corruption might be embarrassing.

Beall assured Kleindienst that prosecutors had no evidence against the Vice President, and quoted Kleindienst as saying, Agnew demonstrated "a real worry that the investigation was politically motivated."

"Other witnesses and other persons interviewed in February indicated they had contacts with the Vice President or his representatives and there were attempts to influence their testimony," Beall said.

Agnew was not charged with obstructing justice in the government's 40-page document of evidence, Beall said, because "it was soft information as compared to the hard information that the document contained."

The summary, made public the day Agnew resigned, detailed extortion and bribery schemes allegedly involving Agnew when he was governor of Maryland and Vice President.

"The full exposition of charges included those bits of evidentiary information that the government thought was beyond question," Beall explained.

The prosecutor refused to say if the witnesses who said Agnew tried to influence them had particularly damaging testimony to present to the grand jury.

But Assistant U.S. Attorney Russell T. Baker said Agnew's calls to Kleindienst amounted to obstructing of justice.

Village captured

PHNOM PENH (UPI) — Rebel troops today captured a lightly defended government town only four miles north of Phnom Penh, the second village to fall to the guerrillas in three days.

Earlier, government spokesman Col. Ann Hong said Cambodian government units trapped a rebel force on a road near the coast on Thursday and killed 55 of the insurgents in a heavy battle. Government casualties were 12 killed and 50 wounded.

Field reporters said the town captured today was Prek Leung, on the opposite side of the Mekong River from Phnom Penh. It was left with a defending force of 60 men while the main force of 300 troops moved north three-fourths of a mile to relieve Prek Ampil.

The government troops had reached an outpost about 300 yards from Prek Ampil when they learned that the rebels had circled behind them and occupied Prek Leung.

The 60 defenders of Prek Leung, outnumbered by the rebels, surrendered the town's garrison and marched north to join the main government forces, field reporters said.

Government troops abandoned the town of Prek Kraby, six miles north of Phnom Penh and two miles north of Prek Leung on Wednesday.

Twin Falls City Council candidates air views

My wife Lena and I have resided in Twin Falls for 11 years. I have always maintained an avid interest in our city government and have been pleased with the progress made in the past years.

I endorse the continuance of progressive government policies to meet future demands. I favor the adoption of a comprehensive plan for Twin Falls city and county to provide guidance in planning for future growth patterns. I feel adequate facilities for housing, fire and police departments are of prime importance. I endorse a continuing program for development of additional recreation facilities.

Biography

Tell us something about yourself. Why would you make a good councilman?

I have served the past four years on the Twin Falls City Council. During that period I have served as police commissioner, fire commissioner, advisor to youth advisory commission, fire department negotiating committee and secondary sewage treatment planning commissioner.

I presently represent the city on the Twin Falls Planning Council and served as chairman of the Twin Falls County Resource Planning Committee on recreation.

I have had considerable public experience as a former football and basketball coach and school administrator for the Twin Falls School District and as athletic director at the University of Idaho. I have lived in Twin Falls for 10 years.

I have spent 14 years as a newsman and as such have had the opportunity to witness first hand the operation of government at all levels and feel if one is going to live and take from a community he must in return give something back to it. If elected it is my desire not only to give of myself but also to try and interest others in being more active in city government.

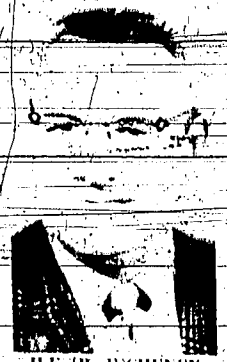

My name is Henry Woodall, a resident of Twin Falls since 1952. My wife's name is Lucile. I think I would make a good councilman because I have ample time to devote to the job (retired) all company executive and have a real desire to serve the people of Twin Falls.

A. A certified public accountant.
B. An instructor in the adult education program at the College of Southern Idaho.
C. Has done post graduate studies in management and economics.
D. Active in Kiwanis International.
E. Active in Boy Scouts of America Exploring program.
F. Member of national and state societies.

Most of the issues which face the City Council are economic issues—where and how do we spend tax monies. My training and experience as a business advisor and accountant qualifies me to make those decisions.

In addition to my profession, I have a family and am a Twin Falls property owner. Therefore, I have a vested interest in the future of our community.

I feel that my background in law and the fact that I am a registered professional engineer helps qualify me to handle the problems that are submitted to the City Council on a weekly or daily basis. Two years as Twin Falls County attorney will be helpful in coordinating planning between the city and county governments. I am familiar with the needs and the problems of our police department and the courts, insofar as our criminal justice system is concerned. I am proud of Twin Falls and what Twin Falls has accomplished. I want to contribute something to the community that has given me so much. I sincerely desire to devote my time and energies to the maintenance and improvement of my home town.

The major issues facing the city of Twin Falls at this time are the need for comprehensive planning both within the city and jointly with the county and adequate buildings for the fire and police departments.

Major issues

What are the major issues facing the city?

Street construction, new buildings for the fire and police department, secondary sewage treatment plant and the continued effort to keep up with the growth and development in the community, traffic patterns and an upgrading of city employee salary schedules are additional areas which will require considerable attention. Financing city government and services will become an increasing problem in the years to come.

Perhaps the two most important issues before the city at present are planning and zoning and the development of the city-county airport to meet not only the present needs but the needs of the future as well.

If Twin Falls is to grow with some sort of organization, planning and zoning are going to have to be given greater attention by the City Council. Spot zoning cannot be permitted. The city-county airport is the only facility of its type serving the area, and the possibility of a new facility (regional airport located across the river) is remote at best. Therefore the actions now concerning terminal facilities, and other improvements at the airport will have far reaching effects.

Major issues facing the city:

- (a) Need for a new police building.
- (b) Need for library building improvements.
- (c) Fighting rising costs without a tax increase.

The major issues are planning and money. We need to decide what kind of growth we want to encourage and how that growth will be financed. The city government has to be the dominant force in attracting new industry or restricting new industry. I would favor some extended public hearings and discussion to determine the nature and extent of future growth.

There are many issues facing the city including but not limited to, street improvement, planning and zoning, building construction, maintenance of city property, airport problems, public health problems, growth problems, employee grievances, parks and recreation, and a host of others. To my way of thinking, all of these issues and problems can be summarized by the all encompassing major issue, to-wit: "How much burden should we put on our property taxpayer in the City of Twin Falls to keep our community progressive and still provide the community services demanded by the residents of Twin Falls?"

I would advocate maintaining the present spending level, with increases only as necessary to continue the present level of services.

Spending levels

City spending has risen at a high average rate during the past four years.

Services have also increased. What level of spending increases/decreases would you support in the next four years. If possible, give per cent range.

It is true there has been a increase and I believe this increase was brought about in part by three important items.

The general increase in just doing business. It has been necessary to undertake considerable street reconstruction during the past three years. We have upgraded salaries considerably.

It is difficult to see four years in advance but for the next fiscal year the mill levy should remain where it is, without an increase. The last figure of the City Council was 60 mills where in reality only 58.5 mills were needed. Therefore if the council can keep within a 2 per cent increase which would be 60 mills I would agree to that 60 mill limit.

The present City Council (of which I am a member) does not want to increase the tax load of the people. We constantly strive to "hold the line" on spending. I hope to be able to give the people the services they want without increasing the tax burden.

I believe that some of the services currently provided at taxpayers' expense could be provided at a lesser cost by private enterprise. In that respect, costs could be reduced. However, since ours is a growing community, our general services such as police, fire, etc. will have to expand. In no case, however, should city spending rise faster than population growth.

In the face of increasing property taxes which have been or will be passed by bond elections for the school district, hospital, county and city construction projects and other increasing costs, I would favor maintaining a level of spending for the City of Twin Falls without increased mill levies.

Strip commercial development problems are the result of the absence of coordinated city-county planning. A comprehensive plan and its implementation would help alleviate the problem.

Strip commercial

Strip commercial development - business facilities along busy streets has led to major traffic problems in the city, as well as a "California look" on certain thoroughfares. What is your attitude to such development? What specific actions should the city take in its regard?

Strip commercial development and business facilities along major streets are and always will be a part of city growth and development. The city needs to provide information based on medium term planning and zoning and attack the problem with considerable thought toward improving the traffic patterns of the city.

Twin Falls is in a growth period, and if we do not allow spot zoning, the orderly development of the business district can be a reality. Spot zoning is normally where the city gets in trouble with the "California look."

It is logical that businesses should locate on a busy street where the potential is. The city can control this to a degree by zoning.

I don't regard this as a real problem. Traffic patterns will always be heavier in commercial areas. It's better to have "strips" of commercial traffic than to have frequent commercial "pockets" in residential areas.

Commercial development is an integral part of the American life-style. Whether it has the "California look" or the "Idaho look" is of little importance to me. As long as these businesses run their businesses properly, lawfully, and serve a community need, I believe they should be encouraged.

With improved access Joslin Field can be improved to adequately serve as a regional airport and utilize the existing investment as a base to build on Twin Falls County should not join the Regional Airport until the STRAA reveals its plans for future use of Joslin Field.

Regional airport

Where would you choose to locate a regional airport for the Magic Valley? Would you support Twin Falls County joining a regional airport authority?

I believe in the regional airport concept. Joslin Field in reality is a regional airport, however, only the people in the City of Twin Falls on the largest part and residents of Twin Falls on a lesser part are financially supporting its existence. I believe a "regional airport" should be paid for and maintained by all the people in the region.

Twin Falls is currently supporting the City-County Airport financially, which is in reality a regional airport. If support from other counties could be gathered to help finance the facility at its present location then I would favor the regional concept. However, I am against the proposal to move the facility across the canyon.

I think Joslin Field can be improved and used as a regional airport. I would and do support the regional airport concept provided it is located at Joslin Field. However, the access road leading to the airport should be improved and widened to permit quicker access from the east and the north.

I would support the joining of the RAA only if located at Joslin Field.

Under present circumstances in Twin Falls County and City, I would discourage Twin Falls City from becoming involved in the regional airport authority, unless and until the regional airport authority relents in its obsession to move the airport to a new site in Jerome County.

I do support downtown parking meters. The revenue is necessary to retire the debt incurred to improve the off-street parking lots. It also provides a measure to control the abuse of the parking privileges.

Parking meters

Do you support downtown parking meters?

Funds from downtown parking meters are dedicated to the payment of off-street parking lots.

No, I don't feel there should be parking meters in the downtown area and I feel further the main street portion of the downtown area should be restricted to pedestrian traffic only.

Yes - The city has some long-range commitments on some of the parking lots.

Absolutely not!

If I can be shown that downtown parking meters produce a net income to the city and/or alleviate parking and traffic congestion, I would support downtown parking meters.

Twin Falls city presently has some credits with HUD which may be used for neighborhood housing improvement projects. However, the federal program has not been funded so urban renewal is a dead issue in Twin Falls for the present.

Urban renewal

Do you support future urban renewal projects for the city? If so, what do you have in mind?

I would support any urban renewal project if, in my opinion it would be beneficial to the citizens of the City of Twin Falls.

I am very impressed with the results of the initial urban renewal project, and I would favor a similar project in the future, but one which would help restore some of the older residential area of town.

I see no immediate need for another urban renewal project.

There is a lot of work to be done south of Addison Avenue in the Rock Creek area. I would favor the city's becoming a party to cleaning up that area.

At this time, I have no feeling one way or the other regarding the additional future urban renewal projects for the city.

Should be part of a comprehensive plan. The service fees should be compensatory and not become a burden on the city taxpayer. Areas that will ultimately be annexed, if furnished with city utilities, will not present the septic tank and other related problems when they are taken into the city.

Sewer hookups

Do you support sewer hookups outside the city limits?

I do not support sewer hookups outside the city limits unless the area is annexable or adjacent to a main trunk line.

Sewer hookups outside the city. No.

No.

Only if taxes are also allocated to properties included in the hookups. The benefit ought to be shared only by those who bear the burden of cost.

I think there are circumstances which merit sewer hookups outside the city limits. I realize that this places a burden on the city and exceeds the city jurisdiction. However, I can see how it might be a considerable savings to the city to construct sewer hookups now, rather than later.

I would support collective bargaining only if it included all city employees.

Bargaining

Do you support collective bargaining for city employees?

I believe if collective bargaining is necessary in city government then it should be for all departments and not individual ones.

Collective bargaining, yes; the right to strike, no, for the vital services, such as police, and firemen.

No.

I would not interfere with the formation of a collective bargaining unit. It is the right of the employees to choose for themselves whether they will be represented individually or collectively.

Properly done, it has its place and performs a real service to the council as well as the employees. A professional representative can better explain and advocate the need of the people he represents.

An arbitrary limit on membership on the city planning and zoning commission would undoubtedly restrict many competent and interested people from serving.

Zoning interests

Do you think there should be any limitation to the number of people serving on the planning and zoning commission?

People from development and real estate establishments are needed. I do not believe we should overboard the planning and zoning commission with people of this interest background.

No. People in real estate are professionals and therefore can offer some of the best insight, and in due time those people have done an outstanding job for the city.

Yes.

Absolutely. No one special interest group should be allowed to control such a powerful political body.

I think that having a person with a real estate and developer background on the city planning and zoning commission is helpful. However, I am opposed to "stacking" these people on the commission.

West Minidoka LDS ceremony Saturday

PAUL — Ground breaking ceremony for the $1016,000 Minidoka West LDS Stake building will be held at 10:30 a.m. Saturday at the construction site west of the Manning-Grove addition on Highway 25.

The building will be constructed by Gary D. Jones Construction Co., Burley, and is expected to be completed in 40 calendar days. The building will contain 25,000 square feet. Mommy, Johnny hit me... The games children play anticipate the games that people play. Some of them deadly. Twenty thousand people die by gunfire each year in the United States. This is a brutal statistic that comes to mind. We know that violence is in all of us. So is God. And non violence is a realistic goal. Individual men and women have achieved it. Perhaps one day nations will. God together with your family, friends, neighbors, or co-workers to discuss the problems of violence and how you can work together to help solve them. Abby

Abigail Van Buren

DEAR ABBY: We just moved to a place that's close enough to my husband's job for him to come home for lunch every day, and that's my problem.

I don't want to sound like a selfish wife, but Abby, having George home for lunch every day upsets my whole routine.

For years I've given my family (four school boys) a hot breakfast every morning, and I never saw them again until the kids came home from school, and George came home for supper. Now, here comes George home for lunch every day, it cuts into my day something terrible. He's not the kind of man who can get his own lunch. I have to prepare it and serve it to him. (A little "snack" won't do for him. He likes a MEAL at noon.) Also, he gets annoyed when we're home alone, but that's another letter.

Other starting times and distances include grades 5 and 6, 10 a.m., three-quarters mile; grades 7 and 8, 10:15 a.m., one mile; grades nine and 10, 10:30 a.m., one and one-half miles; grades 11 and 12, 10:45 a.m., two miles; ages 10 through 22, 11 a.m., 2.5 miles; ages 23 to 30, 11:15 a.m., 2.5 miles; ages 30 and over, 11:30 a.m., one mile for the "super stars" and 11:45 a.m. persons 30 years of age and over — 1 mile.

Recreation director Chad Browning said competition is open to men and women although last year there were no women adult racers. If women are interested in an adult contest a race will be set up for them.

Immunization clinic available

HAILEY — Blaine County residents are reminded that an immunization clinic is conducted every Tuesday afternoon in Hailey.

According to county public health nurse Geraldine True, the clinic is scheduled from 1 to 5 p.m. at the South Central District Health Dept. office at 115 South Main.

She stressed the importance of families having their children immunized. According to a spot survey conducted in 1972, she said, 60 per cent of the children in Blaine County had not been immunized.

The series of immunizations available at the clinic include polio, diphtheria, tetanus, whooping cough, measles and rubella. Registration fee for the series is 50 cents.

The clinic also offers an immunization series for overseas travelers.

She boils over lunch

I feel guilty just writing this, but I need some advice. Should I come right out and tell George to buy his DAY RUINED

DEAR RUINED: Tell George you married him for better or worse—but not for lunch. A lot of women would welcome your problem, but since you feel otherwise, honesty is still the best policy. So level with George and hope for a fair compromise.

DEAR ABBY: About that Jewish girl who was selected to represent her county at a horse show, which happened to fall on the Jewish High Holy Days: Even if the girl can't participate on a Jewish holiday, why not let the horse participate with another rider? Surely, the horse isn't Jewish. Half the team is better than none.

A. C. IN RIO RANCHO, N. M.

DEAR A. C.: Maybe so, but another reader suggested that scheduling an important sports event on a Jewish holiday was thoughtless and inconsiderate. "In fact," he said, "it was downright UNCHRISTIAN!"

DEAR ABBY: My mother in law, who lives with us, told my husband that spotted eggs are not fit for human consumption, so now my husband insists that I go thru dozens of cartons in the supermarket to make up a box that doesn't contain a spotted egg. If my mother in law finds a spotted egg, she disposes of it in the garbage.

I feel embarrassed rearranging cartons of eggs in the supermarket.

Personally, I don't think there is anything wrong with spotted eggs, but would appreciate an expert's opinion.

H. IN AURORA

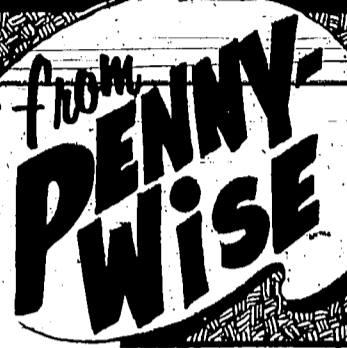

DEAR H.: I am not eggs-actly an eggs-pert on this subject, but Dr. Hamre at the University of Minnesota is, and he said: "Spotted eggs are just as fit for human consumption as any other eggs." So, since the price of eggs these days is no "yolk," tell your mother in law she's mistaken.

DEAR ABBY: When I was growing up, a child who was born "prematurely," was referred to as a "love child"—and was usually prettier and smarter than the other children.

...would end in never-never land. Suppose that he ducked that diamond. Would West still find a shift to a club? Maybe, maybe not! Could South duck and discourage a shift at the same time. Yes, he could! All this thought had finished through South's mind quickly. Then he played his seven of diamonds and let West hold the trick. West stopped to think for a while, but finally played a second diamond. There was no way he could tell that his partner's six wasn't some sort of encouraging card and he had landed in South's trap.

By Oswald & James Jacoby

South's two-notrump opening was in line with general bidding practice. With 21 high-card points and a five-card suit he decided that he could afford the luxury of one unstopped suit. He was happy with West's choice of the jack of diamonds for his opening bid. Let the diamonds break 4-2 and he could take the first 10 tricks. But diamonds might just break 4-1. If South won the first diamond and started to develop his fifth diamond for a trick, there would be a good chance that West would find a club lead and South's three-notrump contract

Egypt holds 'scuds'

WASHINGTON (UPI) — Egypt probably possesses powerful Soviet-built "Scud" missiles capable of hitting both Tel Aviv and Jerusalem, according to U.S. intelligence analysts. Revised estimates based on "bits and pieces" of new evidence, the once skeptical officials said Thursday, have led U.S. analysts to conclude that Egypt may have about 20 mobile Scud-B missile launchers in the vicinity of Cairo. The sources said there was no indication the Egyptians made any move to use these missiles in the 18-day Middle East war. Scud is the name given by the North Atlantic Treaty Organization to a family of Soviet Short Range Ballistic Missiles (SRBMs), believed to include three different versions. The Egyptians are thought to have received the SRBMs model.

Sources said the Egyptian Scuds are believed armed with high-explosive warheads, rather than nuclear devices. Scud-B has an estimated range of 185 to 200 miles, allowing missiles placed in the northeast corner of Egypt near the Suez Canal to hit much of Israel, including Jerusalem and Tel Aviv. Although they lack the accuracy to knock out tactical military targets, the sources said Scuds armed with high-explosive warheads could cause heavy destruction in urban areas.

Many uncertainties about the Scud remain, sources said, including whether they were in Egypt before the latest war broke out Oct. 6 and whether they are manned by Egyptians or Russians.

Pentagon scraps proposal

WASHINGTON (UPI) — The Pentagon has scrapped a controversial proposal to make conscientious objectors stay in the service, but it may ask Congress to require that they reimburse the government for their military education when they leave.

During 1972, 2,285 active members of the armed forces applied for conscientious objector status. Twenty-five per cent were turned down; 10 per cent were shifted to non-combat roles and 65 per cent were allowed to leave the service.

The general counsel's office at the Defense Department recently proposed ending a regulation which allows servicemen to be discharged if they show they have become legitimate conscientious objectors. Under the proposal they could still be shifted to non-combat assignments.

One reason given was that many servicemen receive expensive education at government expense, which they are supposed to repay in military service.

Officials cited the case of an officer who was graduated from West Point in 1963, did graduate work at Emory University in Atlanta at government expense, served in Vietnam and then applied for CO status and was discharged in 1971.

The proposal met strong opposition both inside and outside the military. The American Civil Liberties Union threatened a suit if it were approved. The Army judge advocate general and the chief chaplains of all three services opposed it. "It is contrary to our historic tradition," said one chaplain.

The proposal now has been scrapped. Officials said they are considering asking Congress to require that any man with a government-financed education who leaves the service prematurely would have to pay back to the government at least part of the cost of his education.

News media protests

WASHINGTON (UPI) — United Press International and the Associated Press have appealed to Secretary of State Henry A. Kissinger to reconsider and make room for a news still photographer on his trip to the Middle East and China. They acted Thursday after State Department spokesman Robert J. McCloskey responded to previous protests over the lack of a still photographer in the press group by saying "regrettably" that there was no way to make room for even one more person.

but the Associated Press has been told that no still photographers will be permitted on your trip. "We do not want in any way to inhibit television coverage of your trip or suggest that it be curtailed in any way, but I would like to point out that such a discriminatory action against U.S. newspapers seems unjustified." While rejecting the request for space on Kissinger's plane, McCloskey did offer to help the two news services get one photographer each into China to cover Kissinger's visit there November 10-13. This would rule out any still photographic coverage of the Secretary during the initial stages of his trip when he will visit four Arab states and two other Middle East countries as part of the administration's peacemaking efforts.

"We feel the presence of photojournalists is imperative if nearly two thousand American daily newspapers, as well as hundreds of foreign newspapers, are to receive a complete recording of events of such a crucial nature." Wes Gallagher, AP President and General Manager, said in his telegram to Kissinger that "provision has been made for a large television camera contingent occasional snow flurries tonight and Saturday. Continued cold. Low tonight 5 to 15, high Saturday in the 30s. Outlook for Sunday, little change. moisture available to produce some cloudiness but only light scattered snow flurries. No major storm activity is in sight for the next several days. The storm system which was causing heavy snow in Montana and Wyoming Thursday has moved on eastward, so that travelers can proceed eastward with just usual wintertime precautions.

However, heavy snow warnings have been issued for eastern Colorado and the Dakotas. The main storm activity extends from the Great Lakes region down across the Missouri River valley and the plain states into Texas and into Colorado. Launch scheduled

CAPE CANAVERAL (UPI) — Mariner-10, the first spacecraft to use the gravity of one planet to propel it toward another, is set for an unmanned launch to Mercury and Venus early Saturday.

A 131-foot-tall Atlas-Centaur rocket will boost the 1,100-pound satellite first toward Venus, where the planet's gravitational force will bend its flight path and shoot it on to Mercury, the smallest planet in the solar system and the one closest to the sun.

The first satellite to visit the mysterious planet, Mariner 10 will take television pictures of Mercury and use six scientific instruments to record data on the magnetic fields.

Penn State tries to make Maryland sound fearsome

By BILL MADDEN
UPI Sports Writer
Mention the name Maryland Terrapins among college football circles in recent years and the reaction would likely be laughter—certainly not fear.

But mention the Maryland Terrapins to Joe Paterno on any crisp autumn day of this week and the Penn State coach says things that sound pretty close to being fearful.

"This is the biggest game for Maryland since the days Jim Tatum was coach," says Paterno of his Nittany Lions' foe this weekend at College Park, Md. "There's no question this is the best team we've played so far this year and is the best Maryland team in the last 10 or 12 years."

The best team Penn State has played this year? Well, okay, we'll buy that. Joe. Especially since the Nittany Lions have already "gotten by" the likes of all three service academies plus two of the nation's "winless six"—Towson and Syracuse Army (0-0) is also one of the six.

Twin Falls and Kimberly grab district volleyball crowns

Kimberly dropped Richfield and Twin Falls outlasted Jerome to claim the class B and A girls district volleyball championships Thursday night.

Kimberly defeated Richfield in straight sets but Coach Lee Lipson's Bruins had to go a little longer.

Jerome appeared like a comeback team when it swept through Twin Falls 15-6 and 15-5 to throw the double elimination tournament into the extra session. Twin Falls studied to win the first game earliest. That gives the local crews a long time of nothing but practice.

White, the Devil quarterback, leads the nation in total offense with 216.3 yards a game. Green, an all-America last year, leads the WAC in rushing with a 110.5 norm and Malone, who had 250 yards and five touchdowns against Oregon State last week, is second to Green at 33.7 yards.

Crenshaw leads in first PGA tourney

SAN ANTONIO (UPI) — The 21-year-old Crenshaw, playing out of nearby Austin, Tex., turned the corner two-under and then shot four birdsies on the back nine. He finished without a bogey. Crenshaw, who drew the lowest gallery of the day including a group of pretty girls called "Hen's Boosters," was followed by Peter Brown of Los Angeles and Bruce Fleischer of Miami, who both shot 65 over the 6,000-yard Woodlake Golf Club course.

Charles Coody, a Texan now playing out of Poplar, Fla., was alone at 67, while John Schroeder, Bill Evans, Orville Moody and George Archeon stayed close with 68.

Yanks continue to fill front office

NEW YORK (UPI) — Paul Smith, a longtime associate of Gene Paul, rejoined his old boss Thursday, being named executive vice president of the New York Yankees — the key move in a major restructuring of the club's front office.

The 40-year-old Smith, a 16-year veteran of major league baseball experience, partly fills the shoes of Lee MacPhail, who resigned as Yankee vice president and general manager to become president of the American League last week.

Crenshaw said it was his first time to play at Woodlake, but that it did not matter for his type of play.

Crenshaw, whose best putt dropped in for a 60-foot birdie on the 206-yard par three eighth hole, said he was "kind of fortunate."

T.F. sops thump Boise

The Twin Falls sophomores wound up a 7-2 season Thursday afternoon by belting Boise 35-0.

After seeing Boise miss an 85-yard field goal after a fumble in the opening four minutes, Twin Falls took the lead on Gene Turley's 76-yard gallop on a trap play. Late in the second period, Twin Falls recovered a fumble at the Boise 17 and Jeff Osborne threw a 12-yard scoring strike to Joe Ward. Minutes later, Tom Mathews tackled the Boise punter at the 10 and Ron

Series 'star' goes unclaimed

OAKLAND (UPI) — Mike Andrews, storm center of the 1973 World Series, went unclaimed on waivers and Thursday was held in a "dead end" unconditional release by the World Champion Oakland A's.

Osborne threw a 12-yard scoring strike to Joe Ward. Minutes later, Tom Mathews tackled the Boise punter at the 10 and Ron

There are a number of reasons why I left the Astros for take this job," Smith said. "Most important, I guess is the New York Yankee image which I believe to be No. 1 of all the 24 clubs in baseball. It was also a real tribute to me to come to work in New York City."

Andrews was placed on waivers by the A's and could have been picked up by any major league club for only $1.

Hanratty has no arm pain

PITTSBURGH (UPI) — Terry Hanratty says he'll have "no trouble playing on Monday night" when the Pittsburgh Steelers host the Washington Redskins in a nationally televised interconference game.

Paul, who also announced the appointment of public relations director Bob Fisher to a vice presidency and field director Clyde Klutz to director of player procurement and scouting, cited the "huge shoes to fill" of the outgoing MacPhail, who was also present at the news conference.

Andrews committed two costly fielding errors in the second game of this year's World Series, handing the New York Mets four unearned runs in an extra inning victory.

Hanratty threw passes Thursday for the first time since suffering bruised ribs in the Steelers' 20-13 win over the Cincinnati Bengals last Sunday. Hanratty relieved starter Terry Bradshaw in the second quarter of the Bengals' game after Bradshaw suffered a shoulder separation. In the second half, linebacker Bill Buryge dropped Hanratty on a blitz, and while he finished the game, it had been feared he would not be capable of playing against the Redskins.

In an obvious reference to the pending Dick Williams-Ralph Houk managerial contract jumpings, Paul added: "Yes, we asked permission of the Astros to sign Tal."

Idaho travels to Montana on Saturday

MOSEOW — This week the University of Idaho Vandals have hopes of getting back on the winning track as they invade Missoula, Mont., to meet the University of Montana Grizzlies in a 1:30 p.m. game Saturday.

The Grizzlies were manhandled by the Boise State Broncos last week, 55-7, while the Vandals were drubbed by the Montana State Bobcats 35-14.

Comstock, who has been bothered by a sore shoulder most of the season, will probably not be starting now, this week, according to Coach Don Robbins. Although Dave did throw one pass up for grabs, he performed well, ran the club with authority and rushed himself several times for good yardage. He could be our starting quarterback this week," Robbins said.

The Vandals came back after spotting the Bobcats 29 points in the first half and made a game of it with an improved performance in the second half. Robbins said, "But that is all behind us and this week we are going out with new spirit and try to start a string of three wins which would finish the season in a hurry," Robbins said.

The Grizzlies do have some talent and they have two fine

Those researchers who put together the Guinness Book of World Records (and no proof exists that anybody ever lived more than 114 years. Still, a citizen named Shiral Baba Muslimov in the Soviet Union contends he just celebrated his 168th birthday. He says his wife Khalina is only 107 years old. They claim to have been married 75 years. Muslimov neither smoked nor drinks. Any more. He smoked once. About 150 years ago, he says. And he took his first and last drink 100 years ago. Fascinating, if factual.

"If I had a wallet with a lot of money in it, can I telephone the owner that I'll only return it on the condition I got a decent reward?"

The contention that no doctors make house calls anymore must be wrong. A survey of 41,000 citizens shows 42 per cent of them say their family physicians will indeed drop by the old homestead.

PARACHUTIST: Tudy Broadwick, now 81 years old, was indeed the first woman to jump from an airplane. From Glenn Martin's airplane in 1913. She was 20 then. But she made her first parachute jump from a hot-air balloon in 1908 when she was only 15. So report parachute expert Charles W. Ryan.

If the fifth-born child is a boy, he's by rights named Quentin. Which means fifth. That's widely known. "But what do you name a girl, if she's the fifth-born?" inquires a feminine customer. Quinla, corresponds, madam.

Two-thirds of all the new jobs created in the last 10 years are jobs for women. It's possible to find more varieties of ice cream flavors in Los Angeles than anywhere else in the world. New evidence indicates the world's first farmers lived in what is now Thailand. Research indicates far more boys than girls seem unable to sing the musical scale. Now the Secret Service is catching up with about 1,400 counterfeiters each year.

No man could live in the same village with his mother-in-law. That was the law in that region of Egypt called Nubia. And the law until fairly recently, too. It was Gamel Abdel Nasser who changed it. He moved out those Nubians to make room for the Aswan Dam. And he decreed that mothers-in-law were to be welcomed in the new abodes of the Nubians. The men didn't like that, no. The separation of married couple and mother-in-law had been the rule since prehistoric time. Nubian men always had obeyed it scrupulously. And happily.

Harry Trump was the most reasonable of bridge guests. He demanded only two things. New cards and Early Times.
Emil Frostbitt knew this. On September 28, 1972, the cards were stiff in the cellophane. But the bourbon....
For some never-to-be-determined reason, Frostbitt had not ordered Early Times. That night, for the first time in years, Emil Frostbitt played bridge without Harry. No Early Times. No Trump.

No idle talk

SAN FRANCISCO (UPI) — Danny Richards, 24, was in no mood for idle talk as he prepared to go home from his job at the U. S. Assay office. Then the metal detector that employs a must have went off. Richards opened his mouth and guards forced him to remove 27 silver dollars. He was charged Tuesday with embezzlement.

Rebozo cleared

(c) Washington Star-News. WASHINGTON — Charles G. Rebozo, President Nixon's close friend, has been cleared by the Justice Department of allegations that he knowingly cashed $91,500 in stolen stock in 1968. The justice investigation, conducted by a Strike Force headquartered in Miami, was conducted following published reports of the allegations last week. Edward T. Joyce, deputy chief of the justice department's organized crime unit investigating division, said a similar investigation had been carried out earlier with similar results. But he said the renewed investigation was made because of the publication of the allegations.

Sterilization studied

(C) N. Y. Times Service

WASHINGTON — Doctors in some cities are cynically subjecting women, most of them poor and black, to surgical sterilization without explaining either potential hazards or alternate methods of birth control, the Health Research Group charged in a study released Tuesday.

The group, an arm of Ralph Nader's Public Citizen Inc., also urged that the Department of Health, Education and Welfare issue meaningful rules that would prevent indiscriminate use of surgical sterilization.

Included in the study were the following charges: — Many women were being subjected to sterilization methods that posed a higher degree of medical risk than other methods in use. — "Informed consent" forms demanded of women by some hospitals were a farce in many cases.

Doctors in some hospitals were "selling" irreversible sterilization operations to many women who had few children and who were under psychological stress and might not be making rational decisions.

The study was conducted by Dr. Bernard Rosenfeld, a resident in obstetrics and gynecology at the Los Angeles County hospital. Dr. Sidney M. Wolfe, a physician with the Health Research Group, and Robert E. McGarrah Jr., a buyer with the group.

"Selective sterilization must be weighed against other methods of contraception in terms of benefit and risk," the study said. "If, after this comparison is made, with the affected person fully aware of all the facts, surgical sterilization is deemed most appropriate, so be it."

"What is clear, however, is that in many instances, there is little evidence of informed consent by the patient, and that these operations have been sold to the public by surgeons in a manner not unlike many other deceptive marketing practices."

Mix and match

LITTLE ROCK, Ark. (UPI) — The 1968 general elections in Arkansas left political analysts scratching their heads. Carrying the state's majority votes in that year were George Wallace for president, a third party candidate; Winthrop Rockefeller for governor, a Republican; and Sen. J.W. Fulbright for senator, a Democrat.
