Earnings, profits dip
WASHINGTON (UPI) — Corporate profits declined slightly between July and September, the first quarterly drop in after-tax earnings of American business in nearly three years, the Commerce Department reported today.
The department also said the economy grew a little more slowly and prices rose at a slightly faster rate in the third quarter than was tentatively reported last month.

Reds ask European troop cut
VIENNA (UPI) — The Soviet bloc has proposed a troop cutback plan for Central Europe with East and West pulling out 20,000 men each in 1975, sources at the Vienna arms reduction conference said Thursday.
The sources said the initial cutbacks by the Communist Warsaw Pact and the allied North Atlantic Treaty Organization (NATO) would be followed by troop withdrawals of 5 per cent in 1976 and 10 per cent in 1977, according to the Soviet plan.

'Bridal bribe'
LONDON (UPI) — Maureen Baker, designer of Princess Anne's bridal gown, said Thursday she was offered a $50,000 bribe to disclose the secrets of the dress to the American garment industry before the wedding. The royal couple is honeymooning today aboard a royal yacht after a storybook wedding.

S. Viets in fierce fight
SAIGON (UPI) — The South Vietnamese command said today 136 men have been killed in two days of fierce artillery, tank and infantry fighting for control of the southern Central Highlands.
Military sources said the fighting for three strategic outposts in the region, 110 miles north of Saigon, was so heavy a second government regiment of about 2,500 men was sent in to reinforce South Vietnamese troops.

Military gets first oil
WASHINGTON (UPI) — The Pentagon has invoked a 1950 law which allows the military first crack at domestic oil supplies.
The Defense Department said Thursday the Arab oil embargo has cut nearly in half the military petroleum supply, forcing it to invoke the Defense Production Act Nov. 1 to make up the 300,000 barrel a day loss.
Arthur F. Mendolia, assistant secretary of defense for installations and logistics, said although major reductions have been made in military operations, 1 to 2 per cent of the already shrunken domestic supply would have to be diverted to the armed services.

Spacecraft films Jupiter
MOUNTAIN VIEW, Calif. (UPI) — Here is the first usable picture of the planet Jupiter taken by Pioneer 10 spacecraft from about 12 million miles. Pioneer 10 will most closely approach Jupiter on Dec. 3 and is now about a half billion miles away from Earth. The central vertical line in the photo is caused by a faulty TV scan line across the planet. But one half is much brighter than the other half because Pioneer is viewing Jupiter from an angle impossible to reach on Earth.

Nuclear waste spilled
RICHLAND, Wash. (UPI) — An estimated 7,000 gallons of lethal nuclear waste spilled into the ground from a pipe Thursday at the Hanford Atomic Reservation.
But a new spill-monitoring system kept the leakage small according to officials of the federal plant, where more than 530,000 gallons of nuclear waste have leaked into the ground since 1958.

Rationing may not occur
WASHINGTON (UPI) — The United States may get through the fuel crisis without gasoline rationing after all.
Some administration officials have said they think rationing is inevitable. But Treasury Secretary George P. Shultz said Thursday the administration is still considering other ways out, including higher gas taxes.

Nixon approves pipeline

WASHINGTON (UPI) — President Nixon signed into law today a bill aimed at expediting construction of the Alaskan oil pipeline, and said for the time being the nation's energy crisis must take precedence over environmental considerations.
The pipeline is envisioned as a partial, permanent answer to the oil shortage caused by the current embargo by Arab oil-producing countries on shipments to the United States. Nixon hinted at lifting of the embargo at some unspecified time in the future.
Nixon said a change in Arab attitudes was "just a possibility. While that can happen, even if it happened tomorrow, we would still have this energy crisis for this year."
For the short run, he said, environmental concerns must take second place in the energy situation. Environmentalists opposed the Alaska pipeline on grounds that the hot oil flowing through it would melt the tundra and cause permanent ecological changes.
Nixon insisted that safeguards imposed on the pipeline project by the Interior Department would protect the Alaskan ecology.

House panel OKs new AF dam

By JUDY PRISLEY
Times-News Washington Bureau
WASHINGTON — A key House subcommittee Thursday approved legislation to permit construction of a new American Falls Dam to replace the existing crumbling structure.
Rep. Teno Roncallo, D-Wyo., moved for favorable reporting of the bill to the House Interior and Insular Affairs Committee after testimony was heard in the Water and Power Resources Subcommittee. The Senate already has passed the bill, authorizing the secretary of the interior to enter into agreements with non-federal agencies for the proposed construction.
Idaho's Rep. Orval Hansen spoke briefly before the subcommittee on behalf of two bills that he had introduced, with the state's other representative, Steve Symms.
One of the House bills would provide for the Department of Interior to "construct, operate and maintain" the replacement dam, while the other bill — identical to the one passed by the Senate — authorizes agreement between Interior and non-federal agencies for the job. Both of these bills will be reported to full committee.

Also testifying before the subcommittee was Idaho's Sen. James McClure.
Completion of the dam, in the event of prompt legislative action, is anticipated for March, 1976. A hydro-electric plant would then be expected to be in operation with the dam late in the same year.
Rep. Harold Johnson, D-Calif., chairman of the subcommittee, indicated Idaho delegates are favorable to the use of the Senate's bill on American Falls Dam as that would expedite legislation.

This Washington hearing followed a hearing on the same subject in October at Burley which drew about 40 witnesses who testified to the priority need for the new dam.
Testimony at the House subcommittee — all in favor of the dam construction — was made by Assistant Secretary of the Interior Jack O. Horton, accompanied by Edwin F. Sullivan, acting commissioner of reclamation, and Dr. J. W. Hill, chief of the division of design; James G. Patrick, chief of the hydro division of Bechtel Corp.; Robert Hogg, retired vice-president of the Idaho Power Co.; Cecil Hobday, attorney representing American Falls Reservoir District No. 2 and Thomas G. Nelson, attorney representing American Falls Reservoir District.

House votes SS increase for workers, widows, tots

WASHINGTON (UPI) — The House has voted an 11 per cent increase in Social Security benefits for some 29 million retired or disabled workers, widows and dependent children, with the cost to be paid by upper-income workers.
The legislation, voted by the House Thursday, now goes to the Senate, where the Senate Finance Committee has approved an almost identical bill, with the exception that the Senate bill would pay the first 7 per cent immediately. Final Congressional action is expected this year.
Under the House bill, the first 7 per cent of the increase will come in checks mailed next April and the other 4 per cent will come in the July checks.
The benefit increase, to cost an additional $1.7 billion during fiscal 1975, would be financed by increasing to $13,200 the wage base on which Social Security taxes are calculated. The 1973 base is $10,800.

With the tax rate remaining at 5.85 per cent, the entire burden of paying for the additional benefits would fall on the upper income taxpayer, those making more than $10,800. The maximum Social Security tax, therefore, would be $772.20 in 1974, compared to $631.80 in 1973.
The 11 per cent increase in both bills is essentially an early payment of the automatic cost of living increases that would have gone into effect next July and in January, 1975.
Under the House bill, the minimum Social Security monthly benefit would be increased from $84.50 to $90.50 in April checks and $93.80 in July checks. The average old age benefit would rise from $107 to $118 in April checks and $100 in July. The average benefit for an aged couple would increase from $277 to $290 in April checks and $310 in June checks. Average benefits for aged widows would increase from $158 to $169 in April and $177 in July.

Andrus considers action to cut Gem speed limits

By DAVID ESPO
Times-News Capitol Bureau
BOISE — Gov. Cecil D. Andrus may request the State Highway Board of Directors to reduce the speed limit on the state's highways to 60 miles an hour as a fuel conservation measure.
Andrus has ordered tests conducted by the Department of Highways to determine the rate of gasoline consumption by vehicles traveling at different speeds. The results of the tests are expected to be in Andrus' office today, according to one Highway Department spokesman.
Andrus' request to the Highway Board may come as early as next week, according to one estimate, but he is not expected to request a reduction below 60 miles per hour.
President Nixon has asked for a voluntary reduction to 50 miles per hour nationwide. Nearly a month ago, Andrus announced as part of a series of energy conserving steps that state vehicles were not to travel faster than 60 miles an hour. At the same time, he asked for the public to limit driving speeds to 60 across the state.

He said at the time "a reduction in the top speed limit reduces gasoline consumption by about 20 per cent." But he has since acknowledged that a program of voluntary compliance is not likely to result in a statewide reduction of speed.
The tests conducted by Highway Department personnel involved cars with pre-measured amounts of gasoline driven at speeds of 70, 60 and 50 miles per hour. The tests were designed to see how much faster the fuel was consumed at the higher speed than at the lower ones.
Similar tests conducted this month by the Idaho State Automobile Association determined that cars driven at 70 miles per hour traveled 15.7 miles per gallon. At 60 miles per hour, the rate of fuel use was 17.5 miles per gallon. At 50 miles per hour gasoline was used at the rate of over 20 miles per gallon.
Andrus, who was out of his office today, was expected to review the state test results early next week before deciding on a recommendation to the Highway Board.

Lab launch 'flawless'

HOUSTON (UPI) — Skylab 3's astronauts blasted off flawlessly and flew for a rendezvous with the giant space station Friday to close out the $2.6 billion program with a record holiday voyage of 12 weeks.
Rookies Gerald P. Carr, Edward G. Gibson and William H. Pogue, making the final manned American flight until mid-1975, rocketed away from Cape Canaveral precisely on time.
Their Apollo ferry ship was pushed into earth orbit by a Saturn 1B rocket which performed perfectly despite numerous tiny cracks that twice delayed the 30th U.S. manned launch.
The Apollo docking maneuver on the nose of Skylab was set for 4:41 p.m. after a five orbit chase.
The pilots hope to extend the ambitious Skylab research program to 84 days with man's best views of Comet Kohoutek. They will orbit earth during Thanksgiving, Christmas and New Year's Day with spacewalks scheduled for the first two holidays.
"You've got three happy rookies up here," said Carr as they soared toward Skylab. "It's a great world," added Gibson.
"We can't hardly take our eyes away from the window," Pogue said. "There's already nose smeared on the window."
They planned to enter the eight-room station Saturday morning. Physicians hoped their overnight stay in the cramped ferry ship would prevent motion sickness which the previous crew suffered initially.

Fattened Henry returns home

ANCHORAGE, Alaska (UPI) — Secretary of State Henry A. Kissinger returned to the United States today from a 12-day, 10-nation diplomatic trip, buoyed by his success in getting the Mideast shooting stopped and further improving U.S. relations with China.
The secretary appeared remarkably refreshed during a flight to Anchorage from South Korea and a brief refueling stop at Elmendorf Air Force Base outside Anchorage before flying on to Washington.
The most noticeable effect on Kissinger of his global trip, covering 24,000 air miles, was a more bulging waistline resulting from numerous diplomatic banquets.

Los Angeles blaze kills 24, hurts 49

LOS ANGELES (UPI) — The worst residential fire in the city's history swept through a 45-year-old apartment building early today, killing 24 persons and injuring 49 others.

Many of the victims died in their beds. Others were killed when they leaped from the upper floors of the structure before firemen could rescue them.

Firemen recovered 22 bodies at the scene. Two other victims were dead on arrival at hospitals.

Of the 49 injured, six were reported in critical condition.

Firemen said the blaze apparently started in the lobby of the H-shaped Stratford apartments and swept upward through an open stairway which deputy Department Commander D. J. Brunetti said acted as a "gigantic chimney."

Tragically, the building owners had been ordered to close the open stairway to comply with an ordinance passed by the City Council following the disastrous Ponet Hotel fire which killed 19 persons three years ago.

The ordinance carried a four-year moratorium and the owners of the Stratford had not yet complied, though firemen said the frame-stucco building was under renovation.

The Stratford was located at 1735 W. 6th Street, about one mile west of the Los Angeles Civic Center in a deteriorating business-residential area of low income families.

It housed about 150 residents, many of them children and most of them Mexican-Americans.

"The place was loaded with kids, unfortunately, and we lost some of them," said fireman Steve Varney.

Famous Scalp Specialist Tells Truth About Saving Falling Hair

These private individual consultations will be held at the Apollo Inn Motel, 296 Addison Ave., on Saturday, Mon. 17th, from 12:30 p.m. to 8:30 p.m. Ask hotel clerk for Mr. Conner. He will do the rest. Phone 733-2010.

Twin Falls, Monday 16th. In an interview T. C. Conner, nationally famous consultant and director of the International Hair and Scalp Specialists, Inc., said, "There are many different scalp disorders that cause most men and women to lose hair. Using common sense, a person must realize no one tonic or so-called cure-all could correct all the disorders," he explained.

Guaranteed
"International, recognizing that most people are skeptical offers a guarantee," Conner said. Once a person avails himself of the International treatment his skepticism immediately disappears. You will be given a written guarantee from the beginning to end on a pro rated basis.

Hopeless Cases Discouraged
First the International consultants are quick to tell hopeless cases that they cannot be helped. But the "hopeless" cases are few. Everyone is given a complete private consultation to determine the condition of his or her scalp, and cause for their hair trouble.

Free Consultations
This consultation is very thorough and highly technical. It requires 20 to 30 minutes. There is no charge for this consultation and no appointment is necessary. After the consultation he or she is told the required length of treatment and how much it will cost. After starting treatment, a consultant will return to check client's progress.

To provide the opportunity of having normal, healthy hair to the thousands who are desperately looking for help, the firm is sending specialists to various cities throughout the United States to conduct consultation and start home treatment.

Hopeless Cases Refused
No Cure All... We have no cure-all for slick, shiny baldness. International consultants will accept only clients whose hair, we feel sure, will respond to treatment. They cannot help individuals who are slick bald, or the majority of cases of baldness, and excessive hair loss, called male pattern baldness, where no treatment, including the international treatment is of any value. Therefore, international will continue their policy of refusing all hopeless cases.

There is one thing Conner want to be certain every man and woman knows. If hair appears to recede at the temples or a spot begins to show up on the crown of the head, there is something wrong and it should be given immediate attention.

Hair For Lifetime
"If clients follow our directions during treatment, and after they finish the course, there is no reason why they will not have hair all the rest of their lives," Conner said. "Our firm is definitely behind this treatment; it all depends on the individual client's faithful observation of a few simple rules."

How's Your Hair?
If it worries you, just go to the Apollo Inn Motel, 296 Addison Ave., on Saturday, Monday, the 17th, from 12:30 p.m. to 8:30 p.m. or phone 733-2010. No appointment necessary. Interviews are given in private with no possible embarrassment.

TWIN FALLS — The Snake River Canyon rim story — pro and con — was discussed at the Kiwanis Club meeting Thursday noon.

David Mead, an officer in the recently formed Canyon Inc., urged a delay in any action on the rim so a "comprehensive plan" could be formulated to save "this irreplaceable piece of land which, once changed, can never be replaced."

Warren Barry, local businessman who favors development "not under the guise of zoning which will deprive landowners of the right to do what they would with their own land," warned that delay now "will see a government takeover." He mentioned Senate Bill 288 now before Congress which "will take away any rights you may have."

Both men admitted they were not too far apart in their thinking of what should be done with the rimland but that the difference, mostly, was in how it should be done. Barry said he would anticipate "no great clamor" for development even if the area was not zoned at all.

"People are not going to rush down and put a lot of houses on the rim overlooking the river," he said. "It is far better to develop the rim than to seal it off."

He advocated "rim overlooks" every one or two miles with developments of various types in between.

"This will let people look and will still let landowners make their own decisions," Barry said.

Mead, who said because "we are not sure how to develop the area" or what to do with it, the whole move should be held up until "a comprehensive plan can be arrived at."

Briefs

SHOSHONE — The Shoshone Rotary Club voted Wednesday to apply for an exchange student under the plan in which 18 Rotary clubs in Idaho are participating. The members also heard reports on progress of improved safety measures for the railroad crossings in the city.

At one point, Joe McCollum, who with associates is developing a golf course and other improvements on the canyon floor near the Blue Lakes Country Club, questioned whether "the committee (Canyon Inc.) or anyone else could put themselves up as more intelligent than the experts who have been hired to program the project."

Mead answered by saying that the plan of the committee was "overall" and "not just one project."

Barry said zoning was not needed at all "except in specific instances where danger to life might exist."

Neither speaker expressed an opinion regarding the application of Lynwood

Developing Corp. for a complex near the new Perrine Bridge, although Barry said "he could really see nothing wrong with the plans."

Announcement was made that next week's session, because of Thanksgiving, would be held at the Holiday Inn on Wednesday noon rather than the Turf Club on Thursday and the annual winter Ladies Night would be at the Blue Lakes Country Club Dec. 11.

Bax's ax

Dr. James Bax's decision to eliminate a number of high-level administrative posts in his state department is an experiment that is sure to be closely watched.

Bax removed a dozen high-paying jobs from the Boise headquarters of the Department of Environmental and Community Services (DECS) which he said will bring savings of about $200,000 a year.

In addition, he eliminated a number of positions which had been funded but which had not been filled by workers, which would save another potential $240,000.

Bax hailed the move as an action which "in effect, removed an entire bureaucratic layer from the department."

He said it was the final adjustment required in his policy of decentralizing the functions of the state's largest department. The workload formerly done by the persons removed would be shifted to the state's regional offices elsewhere in the state.

We hope the expectations of Dr. Bax come true. If so, Bax will have not only shifted things around but will have accomplished something in the process. Before judging Bax's action, several things should be considered.

There are two broad functions performed by the department. First, the department delivers a number of services — ranging from welfare checks to radiation monitoring. Second, the department acts as a regulator, enforcing health and environmental quality standards.

It would appear that delivery of services probably can be administered well at the regional level. For instance, it probably is easier to keep an eye on legitimate and illegitimate needs of persons receiving state financial assistance at the local level.

But a problem is evident when regulatory functions are delegated to local officials. As a practical matter, a Pocatello DECS administrator is less likely to embark on a crackdown on the Simplot fertilizer plant smokestack than would state-level officers.

Similarly, the political and social pressures exerted against the person attempting, say, a cleanup of Rock Creek Canyon Industries in Twin Falls would be enormous for an agent who lived and worked in Twin Falls.

This is not to say that it can't be done, but only that it is more difficult.

A second consideration should be kept in mind before we add up the remarkable annual savings Dr. Bax expects.

Assuming the same jobs will be accomplished at the local level as were done at the state level, there will have to be somebody hired to do that work. Bax has already set up stronger staffs in each of the regional offices, at an increase in cost.

Presumably the increased costs at the regional office will about cancel out the cuts at the state level. DECS will ask the legislature for money in about two months. We will see then what was saved.

Beyond these considerations, however, Dr. Bax has accomplished something which has been needed for a long time. He has shaken up the state's largest department and the state's fattest bureaucrats. The effect should be felt in the central offices of other state departments.

There, even if high-paid bureaucrats are not removed from office, they probably will work a little harder.

A taxpayer may now be able to telephone a state official at 4:30 Friday afternoons and find him in his office.

Sleep-ins save energy

WASHINGTON — Everyone is coming up with new methods of helping during the energy crisis. Some ideas are nutty, but others are very practical and should be called to the attention of the government.

Professor Heinrich Applebaum has been studying new methods of sharing heat, and has just written a paper titled "Bundling and the Energy Crisis" which he presented to the Society of Thermostat Inspectors.

Applebaum told me after giving his report, "The place where we waste the most heat in our homes is in bed. America can no longer afford the luxury of having one person sleep in bed all by himself."

If we can persuade people to voluntarily share their beds, we could turn down the thermostats in our homes seven degrees.

"Would these people have to be married?" I asked.

ART BUCHWALD

"In normal times I would say yes. But this is the biggest emergency our country has ever faced and I think people should be given waivers if they are 't married, at least until the crisis is over."

"Then you consider bedpooling as a major solution to the heating shortage?"

"Absolutely. We must make Americans feel unpatriotic if they go to bed alone. We must instill a new spirit of bundling in this country."

"It sounds great on paper," I said, "but suppose people refuse to share their beds with others?"

Applebaum pursed his lips. "Then the government will have to step in and take forceful measures. These could include putting a surtax on citizens who insist on sleeping alone. This tax would be so high that it would be very unprofitable to refuse to bundle with somebody else. We could also give tax deductions to those who are willing to pool their beds. For example, if Bob and Carol and Ted and Alice were willing to bundle together, they would get 10 per cent off their income taxes."

"What about people who have to sleep alone, such as policemen, doctors and newspaper reporters?"

"They would have a special sticker put on their beds exempting them from the bundling laws. This sticker would be given only to people who could prove their work is so essential they cannot bundle up with anybody."

"How do you think the American people will take to forced bundling?"

"I think the American people will be willing to share their beds with others once Nixon explains it to them. Body heat is still the greatest resource this country has, and we can get through the winter providing everyone — and I mean everyone — co-operates with each other."

"Suppose you have a large empty bed and no one to bundle with? What do you do then?"

"We hope to set up bedpooling information centers all over the country. All you would have to do is call a number and we'd tell you who is looking for someone to share a bed. These centers would be open 24 hours a day."

"It sounds complicated," I said. "But I guess it's worth it."

Applebaum said, "It will work. To get the people to co-operate, we will have an advertising campaign on television."

"What will be your slogan?"

"Every time you share your bed this winter, something in an Arab sheik dies."

Not much Watergate talk

WASHINGTON — Doubt has arisen here over the extent of the so-called "give and take" on Watergate and other scandal-tinged charges in discussions between President Nixon and members of Congress invited to the White House.

Presidential spokesmen proclaimed the President's campaign to clear himself of all charges as a "head-to-head" effort directed at the Republicans in the House and Senate and perhaps selected Democrats in both chambers. Nixon presumably was braced for tough questioning on the contradictions and inconsistencies in the accounts of the Watergate tapes.

In his first encounter with invited senators, however, the subjects discussed included the Middle East, Soviet-American Detente, Soviet-Chinese Conflict, and the energy crisis, among others.

In his session with six Democratic Senators from the Deep South and an independent from Virginia Monday evening, most of whom have supported the President on many issues, Nixon chatted about Watergate for only a few minutes of an hour-and-a-half session, according to both White House and Congressional sources.

White House sources said that two of the seven wanted to avoid any discussion of Watergate whatever. None asked any questions, the sources confirmed.

Meanwhile, Sen. John Tower (R-Tex.) headed a group of GOP senators to the White House yesterday evening for "another give-and-take" session, spokesmen said.

Tower predicted that Nixon would be "vindicated" of any complicity in Watergate or its coverage by important evidence not yet made public, but he admitted he had not seen it.

Presidential aides reported that indications already were being received at the White House that Nixon was making headway in his campaign to prove his innocence and restore public trust in his administration. They cited information volunteered by a number of GOP legislators and a subsiding of the mail and telegrams calling for impeachment or resignation.

PETER LISAGOR

"It's turning around," a White House official said, "the initial response to the President's opening to the Congress has been a good one, a heartening one."

Not every Congressman was subscribing to this optimistic outlook about a Presidential effort that was barely getting under way. Members of the Senate Watergate Committee, for example, said they would not attend any of the scheduled White House meetings on Watergate.

The committee has pressed for a meeting with the President which he would submit to interrogation. White House spokesmen say no decision has been made by the President on whether to accept the committee's request.

Many observers here believe that except for the special prosecutors' staff, the committee headed by Sen. Sam Ervin (D-N.C.) is the only group qualified to question the President in detail on the scandals that have enveloped the White House.

Don't ration or tax — just raise gas prices

It is both sad and amusing to read the public speculation over just how we are to save fuel. The challenge is a delight to bureaucratic ingenuity: there is a breed of men which is never so happy as when sitting down to regulate the habits of other men.

Rationing! With thousands of boards, before which each one of us would appear, impudently, pleading our special little exigencies.

The kind of thing that used to delight the New Deal bureaucrats, who at the height of their enthusiasm for that kind of thing wanted to regulate wages, profits, and prices, and never quite forgave the Supreme Court for saying it was unconstitutional.

The Nixon Administration has in it enough sensible people to resist — or so we hear — the lobby that turns instinctively to rationing as the way to handle the problem.

There is talk instead of huge tax. But as often is the case, one form of government interference introduces the need for a derivative interference.

It is feared that a tax a) large enough substantially to reduce the use of gasoline, would b) substantially reduce consumer spending power thus c) causing deflation; so that d) it is proposed that the tax having been taken from the motorist it be returned; posing the problem e) when?

WILLIAM F. BUCKLEY, JR.

If the following year, the temporary decrease in purchasing power might trigger the recession. If right away, then the taking away of the money and the returning of it blur in the consumer's mind, and the effect on the consumption of gasoline would be nugatory.

A few observations: 1) You are much better off reducing the amount of gas spent by raising the price of gasoline, than by setting up a gigantic bureaucracy charged with the impossible job of adjudicating everyone's claim to gasoline.

Whereas it is obvious that the doctor or the plumber needs gas in order to do his business, it is not obvious that the old retired couple do not need gas — when in fact their principal pleasure may be their afternoon drive together.

2) When there is true scarcity, basic needs must be protected. It is not yet known whether the scarcity that looms is on that order. It is conceivable, however, that it might be.

In that event, the government would be entitled to protect the basic needs of individual drivers by — let us say — stipulating that every Monday, drivers can fill up their tanks with government-priced gasoline.

But then on the following six days, gasoline vendors should quite simply peg their prices according to supply. As gasoline becomes scarcer, the price of it should rise.

As it becomes less scarce, competition would drive down the price. If it is not too complicated to permit the British pound to float, it ought not to be too complicated for the gasoline station to adjust its prices — perhaps even, like the pound's, every day, depending on demand and supply.

Mr. Nixon has a fine chance here to adapt conservative principles to a social emergency. Let us hope he will not miff it.

Court ruling leads toward judicial tyranny

WASHINGTON — On Oct. 15, the U. S. Supreme Court entered a laconic order: "Case No. 72-1511. Dickinson v. U. S. The petition for a writ of certiorari is denied. Mr. Justice Douglas would grant certiorari."

Few persons paid much attention to the order. It came at a wild time in the news, coinciding with the Agnew resignation, and Ford nomination, and a losing round for the President in the case of the Watergate tapes.

Yet the Supreme Court's refusal to review the sentences imposed in Louisiana upon Larry Dickinson and Gibbs Adams rank among the most significant and most ominous events of this term.

The effect is to give new and powerful meaning to the concept of "judicial supremacy," and simultaneously to jeopardize the people's right to know what goes on in their courts.

Let me try to give both sides. The case arose two years ago this month in Baton Rouge, where a black civil rights activist, Frank Stewart, had been arrested on a charge of conspiracy to murder the mayor.

Stewart denied the charge absolutely and contended that he was the victim of trumped up accusations by the state.

After various legal maneuvers, the case wound up before U. S. District Judge E. Gordon West for a hearing limited to the single question of whether Stewart's indictment was contrived or legitimate.

JAMES J. KILPATRICK

As the hearing began, Judge West made a stunning announcement: "It is ordered that no report of the testimony taken in this case today shall be made in any newspaper or by radio or television, or by any other news media."

That breath taking edict, amounting to absolute censorship of the press, was intended to protect the defendant from the possibility that pre-trial publicity might jeopardize the selection of a jury later on. Judge West was doing his duty as he saw it, and there is no reason to challenge the sincerity of his intentions.

Dickinson and Adams, reporters from the Morning Advocate and State Times, had a duty of their own. They could not possibly submit to any such gag upon a free press. They therefore wrote accurate, straightforward accounts of the hearing.

Judge West promptly found them guilty of criminal contempt and fined each of them $300. The effect of the Supreme Court's order of Oct. 15 was to uphold Judge West.

There is no question that Judge West's gag order was in flagrant violation of the Constitution. This was the ruling of the 8th U. S. Circuit in August, 1972, when the case came up on appeal.

In an opinion by Chief Judge John R. Brown, the Circuit Court held that West's blanket ban on publication of court proceedings "so far

LETTERS TF students eye ordinance

Canyon rim land north of Twin Falls once of limited interest suddenly brings prices in the neighborhood of $10,000 per acre and is going up fast.

Extensive residential and commercial development is foreseen. Planned developments include condominiums and apartments, prefabricated houses, a hotel with service station, and professional offices, etc.

The Twin Falls City Zoning Commission has proposed that a 300 foot strip of land for six miles along the rim be zoned agriculturally to slow development.

Twin Falls High School students became mildly involved in canyon rim politics last month when a petition in favor of the proposed ordinance was submitted to the roll rooms to be signed and then was given to the Twin Falls County Commissioners.

Whereas previous generations have had the unquestioned privilege, we wish, also to have the given right to preserve the scenic beauty of the Snake River Canyon in its present state.

Therefore, we it resolved that we, the students of TFHS support the proposed Twin Falls County Zoning Ordinance as amended after the public hearing held by the County Zoning Commission on Sept. 18.

Many students signed the petition without knowledge of the action involved in the ordinance. Fourteen of 30 students interviewed by the Bruin News did not comment because they "did not know what the ordinance was." Yet 12 of these 14 said they signed the petition.

It seems that nearly everyone interviewed was in favor of preserving the canyon rim land and was in favor of the ordinance for that reason.

Is the ordinance a justifiable one? It is apparently aimed at taking control of private property to retain the aesthetic value for the public. Such a move might be compared to demanding money for charity, knowing that the act is in good cause.

It would be good to preserve the rim land for future generations but will they be able to hold back development? If development cannot be controlled perhaps we can develop the land in a logical manner.

Most people think of development as an ugly type of progression because they think of development as smog or colorless buildings or as polluted water and land. If the canyon rim land will inevitably become developed, then why not plan suitably?

Development should be organized before it's too late. If professional developers can put their heads together they can devise fitting ways to develop canyon rim land.

If development involves housing, then why not build houses that would add to the land's beauty? The same should be done with other structures.

Whatever development is done for the rim should be done within the framework of a master plan. Quality should be emphasized. Hopefully, whatever type of development, if any, is done will be a credit to the community.

Landowners should be allowed to decide whether or not their land is developed. Hopefully, they will consider the value of its rare beauty before they sell it.

But as far as the proposed ordinance is concerned, "does the end justify the means."

BERRY'S WORLD

"Dear, I agree that we all must do our parts, but couldn't you turn the thermostat up just a bit?"

US industrial production up

WASHINGTON (UPI) — The U.S. industrial machine continued to crank out automobiles, steel and other goods at a healthy clip in October — and the nation improved its financial situation with foreign nations.

The Federal Reserve Board said Thursday that American factories increased production by 0.8 per cent last month, a sizeable figure considering that some industries are now running flat out with no room left to expand.

The rise was in line with monthly increases throughout 1972, with the exception of August, when a temporary auto production slowdown forced the first output decline in two years.

Meanwhile, the Commerce Department reported significant improvements in the U.S. balance of payments with foreign trading partners in the July-September quarter.

The official reserve transactions balance strengthened by $1.7 billion in the third quarter, moving from a narrow $400 million surplus to $2.1 billion in the black. While not the best barometer of long-term international economic relations, since it includes the effects of volatile short-term capital flows, the balance does serve as a good indicator of the strength of the dollar in relation to other major currencies.

Another measure of the U.S. international economic balance sheet, the liquidity balance, swung from a $1.5 billion deficit to a $1.1 billion surplus supplies in the third quarter.

A strengthening in the U.S. trade balance reported last month, which included heavier exports and a decline in imports, was chiefly responsible for the balance of payments improvement. Heavy buying of Wall Street securities by foreign investors also played a role.

For November, output of consumer goods and business equipment made strong gains, but production of industrial materials, where capacity is tightest, was little changed from September.

Coloring books lambasted

BERKELEY, Calif. (UPI) — Coloring books are worthless classroom busywork that may even provoke a youngster's hostility, according to Berkeley school superintendent Richard Foster.

He asserted at a school board meeting this week that "teaching kids to draw between little black lines is antithetical to education."

This time the psychic response really worked. West bid two clubs. George's unsuspecting partner raised to two hearts. East passed and George went to three diamonds. North liked his hand and bid three spades whereupon George bid a hopeful three notrump.

He worried a while but everyone passed and West was kind enough to open his fourth-best club. It took

Cruising pickets

DETROIT (UPI) — The Teamsters union has a "navy," and it is cruising a picket line in the middle of the River Rouge off Detroit.

The plugle ship in the union fleet is a 23-foot cabin cruiser owned by Fred Schumacher, 49, one of 360 members of Teamsters Local 283 who have been on strike against Marathon Oil Co. since Nov. 2.

The boat and its three-man crew have patrolled the river for a week to stop anyone from crossing the watery picket line to load a Marathon barge with oil. So far, no one has crossed the line.

But the $3,000 cruiser stalled Thursday and died in mid-river. It was out of gas.

"It must be that cheap Marathon gas we're using," said crew member Joe Ruals.

Then, to the embarrassment of Schumacher and his crew, the boat drifted across its own picketline and went ashore at the Marathon refinery.

Company officials ignored the boat while Schumacher put more gas into its engine and then chugged back to resume picket duty.

Cost expert raps defense programs

WASHINGTON (UPI) — Five years ago A. Ernest Fitzgerald, an Air Force cost expert, told Congress about cost overruns in the program to build the C5A military transport plane, and was Thursday, vindicated by the Civil Service Commission, which recently ordered the Air Force to rehire him, Fitzgerald was back, telling Congress that if some defense contractors tried to build $400 television sets they would have to sell them for $2,000 to meet expenses.

He said that while the Air Force has agreed to take him back, "I am told I will not be allowed to work in weapons systems."

Fitzgerald appeared before a joint economic subcommittee headed by Sen. William Proxmire, D-Wis., the same committee to which he had told his C5A story five years and two days before.

Proxmire said that, while Fitzgerald won his battle for reinstatement, "it appears that the victory has been lost."

Fitzgerald Thursday produced a copy of an official Army study which he said showed that some defense contractors have been operating at one-half to one-twentieth of accepted efficiency levels for commercial work. That, he said, would lead to the $8,000 television sets.

He said this was a direct result of the government's failure to reward its employes and contractors for efficiency or to punish them for inefficiency.

The "discipline of that profit and loss statement," he said, isn't found in defense programs.

Congress, he said, is not helping efficiency because its idea of how to save money is to chop out selected programs rather than insist that each program be efficient.

No resignation, Nixon stresses

WASHINGTON (UPI) — From breakfast through dinner, President Nixon made clear to all who would listen that he won't resign; and he is about to "come out fighting" on Watergate.

Rep. Paul N. McCloskey, R-Calif., no admirer of the President, said that was the message Nixon conveyed at breakfast with 78 GOP congressmen Thursday. Rep. Richardson Preyer, D-N.C., said it was the "impression" Nixon gave to 40 Democratic congressmen in a three-hour White House dinner.

In between were 4,000 members of the National Association of Retirees, who cheered when Nixon told them he had not violated any "trust" and that: "I was elected to do a job (and) I'm not going to walk away until I get that job done."

He was meeting with another group of House Republicans today and planned a series of appearances in Florida, Georgia and Tennessee in the next few days.

As the President continued his week-long series of private meetings with legislators on Watergate, the House of Representatives Thursday voted 367 to 51 to give its Judiciary Committee $1 million, above its usual budget, to continue its study of possible impeachment of the President.

There was some carping about the meetings with legislators. Sen. Charles Mc Mathias, R-Md., called the one he attended "a sort of get-acquainted... meeting... after we've been doing business for five years."

"I suppose," Mathias said, "historically it ranks with the meeting of King John and the barons of Runnymede when they were trying to tell him how to reform the government."

Efforts stepped up

By United Press International

Israel exchanged a second group of battle prisoners with Egypt today and stepped up efforts to get back captives seized by Syria during the 1973 Middle East war.

Egypt freed 27 Israeli captives during the morning and Israel released 240 Egyptians in the second day of a Cairo-Tel Aviv prisoner airlift run by the International Red Cross.

Defense Minister Moshe Dayan reported what he called a "far reaching" offer to Syria aimed at obtaining an exchange of prisoners seized on the northern front.

Dayan offered Thursday to let about 15,000 Syrian villagers return to abandoned homes in territory captured by Israel during last month's 17-day war in exchange for a trade of prisoners seized in fighting on the Golan Heights.

Diplomatic sources in London said a Middle East peace conference may be postponed until early next year despite initial Israeli-Egyptian negotiating successes and U.S. attempts to get full-scale talks started by Dec. 10.

The sources said the participants have not yet completed their preparations for the meeting and it might take until early 1974 to work out all the details.

X24B flight reported

EDWARDS AFB, Calif. (UPI) — The X24B rocket plane made its first powered flight Thursday, accelerating to 850 miles an hour and an altitude of 55,000 feet in a 6-1/2 minute flight, the NASA Flight Research Center announced.

SECRETARIAT, the Triple Crown winner, views his new home at Claiborne Farm, Paris, Ky., where he retired from racing to stud this week. Farm president Seth Hancock said he hoped to breed the horse within the next two weeks to a test mare to "see if he's fertile." Secretariat earned $1.3 million with a record 19 wins, three seconds, a third and fourth. (UPI)

Judge rules on Nixon subpoena

LOS ANGELES (UPI)—The judge in the Ellsberg burglary trial Thursday turned down—but only temporarily—an attempt to subpoena President Nixon to hand over White House tapes recording the birth of the "plumbers" and the Ellsberg investigation. He left open the possibility of a subpoena on the President during the trial, particularly if Nixon visits California. Superior Court Judge Gordon Ringer denied the request by Egli "Bud" Krogh's defense lawyer—Krogh, former top presidential aide John Ehrlichman, David Young and convicted Watergate conspirator G. Gordon Liddy face trial on conspiracy and burglary charges for allegedly dispatching the White House "plumbers" to burglarize the files of Daniel Ellsberg's psychiatrist during the investigation of Ellsberg for the Pentagon Papers leak. Krogh's attorney demanded, at a pretrial discovery hearing, that the presidential tapes be subpoenaed. He said they would confirm—the defense contention that the defendants, all former White House aides, were acting as federal officers carrying out presidential orders in investigating Ellsberg.

"This is clearly a project the President launched," defense lawyer Norbert Schlei argued. "It is clear the President has information which may be material to the defense and I think we have the right to pursue it." The judge ruled he does not "have the power" to issue such a subpoena—not because Nixon is the President, but because the request was made at a discovery hearing.

GOP whip retires

WASHINGTON (UPI)—Rep. Leslo Arends, the Republican whip in the House, Thursday said he will retire after 40 years at the end of his current term. Arends recently tried to become House GOP leader, replacing Gerald R. Ford if he is confirmed as vice president, but Arends withdrew after it became apparent that Rep. John J. Rhodes, R-Ariz., had locked up the job. In an interview, Arends said he had considered retiring two years ago after redistricting of his home base southwest of Chicago added 9 1/4 new counties to his constituency, "and it was almost like starting over again."

Rider expands FTC powers

WASHINGTON (UPI)—Riding into law with the Alaska pipeline bill are provisions that will give the Federal Trade Commission (FTC) new consumer protection powers, some of which it considers "practically invaluable." Like the pipeline bill itself, the FTC amendments are an outgrowth of the energy crisis. Sen. Henry M. Jackson, D-Wash., attached them to the pipeline measure after the FTC told him it could do nothing immediately to help independent gasoline stations who were then being driven out of business, even though its investigation concluded the big oil companies were guilty of monopolizing refinery capacity and gasoline supplies. The most significant FTC amendment, and the one which triggered opposition from big business and warnings of a White House veto, allows the commission to go to court to ask for a preliminary injunction immediately on uncovering what it considers unfair competition. It could halt an advertisement it considers unfair or a business practice it believes is bilking consumers. Under the old FTC practice, unfair competition would be attacked with a proposed complaint, then a formal complaint and finally, sometimes after two or three years, a cease and desist order. Meantime, the unfair practice continued.

practically invaluable." Two other major FTC provisions in the bill raise from $5,000 to $10,000 the fine for companies which violate cease and desist orders, and allow the FTC to take its own cases to court rather than clearing them through the Justice Department.

Mails 'to deteriorate' unless raises OK'd

WASHINGTON (UPI)—Postmaster General E.T. Klassen Thursday warned that postal service will deteriorate if postage rates are not increased. In final arguments asking for a 27 per cent across-the-board increase starting in January, Klassen asked the Cost of Living Council to make a simple choice: "Either the taxpayer pays, the man who uses the mail pays or a decline in service will result."

If Klassen's appeal to the Cost of Living Council is granted, the 8-cent stamp would increase to 10 cents and other classes of postage would rise from 13 to 150 per cent. Representatives of mail-using industries protested the proposed hike during two days of hearings before the council. The Direct Mail Marketing Association and the Mass Retailing Institute said in earlier testimony Thursday that the postal increases would amount to $1.9 billion over the next 18 months and would have a substantial inflationary impact on the economy.

Withdrawal requested

MOSCOW (UPI)—President Josip Broz Tito of Yugoslavia and Russian Communist party leader Leonid I. Brezhnev called Thursday for Israel to withdraw from all occupied Arab territories and grant "national rights" to Palestinian Arabs. The joint demand was made in a communique following three days of talks in Kiev between Tito and Brezhnev. The two men accused Israel of "flagrant flouting" the United Nations cease-fire resolution Oct. 22. Tito and Brezhnev "point to the dangerous consequences of Israel's adventurist actions," the communique said. Egypt has claimed—and Israel at one time admitted—that Israeli forces pushed forward for two days after the official cease-fire, besieging the Egyptian 3rd Army near Suez City.

BUHL — County officers were attempting Thursday to determine the owner of a 1974 Chevrolet automobile which was burned about 3:02 a.m. south of Buhl.

Officers said when they were called to the scene there was no one around the vehicle, it had no license plates and was so completely burned it was not possible to tell the original color.

Officers believe the vehicle was stolen from a dealer lot and deliberately burned.

Gas price stickers necessary

BOISE — All Idaho gasoline and diesel-fuel-retailers must obtain new ceiling price stickers for each pump or grade of petroleum sold and post them on pumps by 11:00 p.m. Wednesday.

Jerald Peterson, Idaho Internal Revenue Service stabilization officer, said today the stickers are needed because of recent changes in Cost of Living Council regulations.

The stickers are available at IRS offices in Idaho. The Twin Falls office is located at 548 Blue Lakes Blvd. N., and is open from 8 a.m. to 5 p.m. The office telephone number is 734-4600 or 734-4682.

Peterson said written requests for stickers should be made only to the IRS district office, 1310 W. Idaho, Boise. When calling or writing for stickers, retailers should specify how many they will need.

Peterson said the new stickers should be posted directly on top of the old ones.

Shoshone schools will close May 23

SHOSHONE — Instead of May 22, Shoshone schools will reopen for the summer vacation on May 23, Supt. Kenneth Crothers said Wednesday.

Change in the closing date was made in keeping with the state board of Idaho ruling that Oct. 12 was to be a closing day for teachers to attend fall teacher's conferences. Originally, the Shoshone School Board had approved school remaining open that day. The extra day added on at the end of the school year will make up the Oct. 12 closure.

At a meeting Tuesday night, the board approved purchase of a gas booster water heater for the high school. It is used to supplement water heating during the peak use.

The board voted not to change the Shoshone school participation in sports at the present time. Athletic director Ed Sandy met with the board to discuss the matter of declining enrollment and competition with schools with much higher enrollment.

Abby

DEAR ABBY: I am a widow with my hands full. Ralph, my 28-year-old son, recently divorced a no-good wife, so now he and their 4-year-old child are living with me. (His wife ran off with another man, but that's another letter.)

Now Ralph is mixed up with Rosetta, his 25-year-old first cousin who has had several affairs before. (I was told this by Rosetta's mother, who is my sister.) Rosetta's husband served papers on her last month, took their two children, and put her out. He charged her with prostitution, alcoholism, and drug addiction. Rosetta is now living with her mother, right in my neighborhood, which makes it worse.

Abby, I can't make my son see that there is anything wrong with Rosetta. He says he loves her and wants to marry her. It is killing me. Help me.

TRoubled Out West

DEAR TROUBLED: Love is blind. It's also deaf and dumb in most cases. If you put down Rosetta, your son will only become more determined to defend her. Some people have to learn the hard way, so quit fighting a situation that YOU can't change.

If Ralph is ever going to see the light, he'll have to discover it himself. Besides, most all states allow first-cousin marriages. Also, as bad as Rosetta's record is, she could reform.

DEAR ABBY: I play cards with a woman who is always bragging about her children. Several times lately she has said that her 21-year-old daughter, who is a junior at the University of Iowa, is the only virgin in her sorority. I think this is a terrible reflection on the rest of the girls in the sorority.

I am just dying to put this woman in her place. If she says it again, what should I say? ANOTHER MOTHER

DEAR MOTHER: Ask her how she can be sure.

DEAR ABBY: I hope you won't think I am some kind of nut, but here I go:

Last week I called a friend on the phone who told me she was sick in bed with a miserable cold. She said it started with a sore throat, which developed into a head cold, and she went into all the details, telling me how miserable she felt.

I know this will sound ridiculous, but I no sooner hung up the receiver when my throat started to ache. The next thing I knew, my nose started to run, and the next morning I was down with one of the worst colds I had ever had. I was feeling perfectly fine until I spoke to this friend of mine.

I am better now, but it took five days of medication and plenty of rest to get over it. Is it possible that I got this cold thru the power of suggestion? I've heard of men actually having labor pains when their wives were in labor, and wonder if my cold could have come about thru sympathy to my friend? PANAMA CITY, FLA.

DEAR PAN: It's possible. The power of suggestion can be mighty powerful.

CREAM CAKE

Break an egg into a measuring cup. Fill cup with country clubbied cream. Pour into a bowl and beat gently. Add one cup sugar, one teaspoon salt, one teaspoon lemon flavoring and one teaspoon vanilla.

Sift one teaspoon soda with two cups flour. Add to liquid and beat with electric mixer. Grease a loaf pan and dust with flour. Add cake batter and bake 35 to 40 minutes at 350 degrees or until cake tester comes out clean from the center of the loaf cake.

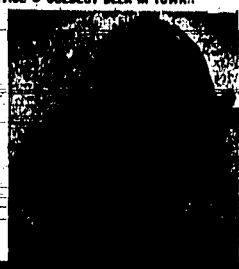

This cake is excellent for strawberry shortcake or may be frosted with any desired white or chocolate frosting. Do not use dairy sour cream. If available cream is sweet, use one teaspoon lemon juice or vinegar to thicken it.

The Times-News will pay $5 each week for Magic Valley Favorites. If you have a favorite recipe, just mail it to the Recipe Department, Women's Page Editor. The recipe becomes the property of the Times-News and cannot be returned.

Adventist center seeks supplies

FILER — The Filer Seventh-Day Adventist Community Service Center has issued a call for bedding, clothing and kitchen utensils for local distribution.

Mrs. Emma Plummer, director of the center located at Fifth and Idaho Streets, said one of the priority needs for the next few months is bedding, including sheets, blankets and pillows.

"We are presently helping a number of families who have been referred to us for aid," she stated. "These are people who are not eligible for food stamps at this time. They need food, clothing and bedding."

The center director noted that bedding is always in short supply as are kitchen utensils — especially pots and pans. She also invited local residents to donate towels and washcloths.

In listing the needs of the center, Mrs. Plummer said that a supply of children's clothing would be a real blessing during the coming winter months when fire and other disasters may strike without warning.

During the past year the center has given away hundreds of articles of clothing to area residents along with mattresses, bedding, kitchen items and toys.

The center is open every Monday from 10 to 4 p.m. and is operated by volunteer help. Those wishing to donate items to the center are asked to call Mrs. Plummer at 733-7300. On days when the center is closed items may be left in the receiving drop attached to the front of the center.

Presbyterians hear TFHS principal talk

TWIN FALLS — Norman Thomas, vice principal of the Twin Falls High School, will be guest speaker at the 9:30 a.m. worship service Sunday at the First Presbyterian Church.

He will talk on "The Drug Scene" and a discussion period will follow. At the 11 a.m. service Rev. Robert Van Nest will give a Thanksgiving sermon on "Things Aren't as Bad as They Seem." Jean Deternann Hatchford will be guest soloist.

The membership class will be held at 7:30 p.m. Sunday in the pastor's study. Anyone interested is welcome. The youth also will meet at 7:30 p.m. at the church.

The Keenagers will hold their monthly potluck dinner at 6:30 p.m. Monday in the church dining room, Mrs. Roy Painter, Mrs. P. B. Wilson and Mrs. W. A. Colner will give the program on their recent trip to Yugoslavia, Greece, Italy, Turkey and several African nations.

All interested persons are invited to attend.

Methodist women's groups set ceremony

TWIN FALLS — A celebration and installation ceremony will be held at 3 p.m. Sunday at the Twin Falls First United Methodist Church.

The event will observe the uniting of the two women's organizations in the church, the Wesleyan Service Guild and the Woman's Society of Christian Service, into the new organization known as the United Methodist Women.

A charter will be signed by all women attending the celebration, according to Ollima Armstrong, who will be installed as president, succeeding Wilma Champlin. Other officers for the new organization include Return Kimpton, vice president; Marjorie Miller, secretary; Elsie Rosenbaum, treasurer.

Edna Smith, secretary of program material; Irene Melton, chairman of nominations; Almeer Bryan and Elizabeth Sims, Christian personhood.

Janice Snodgrass, supportive community; Marilyn Bell, Christian social involvement; Evelyn Haslam, Christian global concerns; Ann Smith, membership; Elita Given, courtesy; Marie Piller, publicity; Wanda Elliott, adviser; Donna Scott, harvest, indder; Wilma Champlin, bazaar; Roxie Simcoe and Carlene Knight, wedding hostesses; Hope Brown, yearbook.

Group leaders include Mary Mitchell, Dortha England, Lucille Scott, Lula Heck, Clarice Potter and Irene Melton, Gladys Griffin, Anna David and Margaret Schmidt. The Merry Marthas, formerly the Wesleyan Service Guild, will be headed by Myrtle Starley.

Canadian appointed

TWIN FALLS — The church education department of the LDS announces the appointment of Edwin C. Orr as director of the Twin Falls Institute of Religion, succeeding Gary Beckstead. Orr is native of Lethbridge, Alberta, Canada, where he served as district coordinator of the South Alberta Seminary District for years and prior to that time was principal of the Cardston and Raymond seminaries.

Valley church news in brief

JEROME — Union Thanksgiving services sponsored by the Jerome Ministerial Association will be conducted at 8 p.m. Sunday at the First Baptist Church. Rev. Robert C. Cooper, host pastor, will present the welcome and call to worship. Rev. H. Dean Hill, ministerial association president will offer the invocation. The Thanksgiving sermon "Thanks Spontaneous, Response of the Heart" will be delivered by the Rev. Dan Knauft, Seventh Day Adventist Church, will give the offertory prayer. Rev. Norman Archer, Church of God, will proclaim the benediction. Special music will be provided by the Youth Ensemble and First Baptist chorus.

FILER — The Maranatha quartet, male gospel singers, Nampa, will give a concert at the Filer Mennonite Church at 7 p.m. Sunday. There is no admission and the public is invited.

TWIN FALLS — A "Week of Thanksgiving" is being planned by the Twin Falls and Kimberly Ministerial Association. A Thanksgiving Worship Service will be held Nov. 21, the eve of Thanksgiving Day, at the First Baptist Church, 9th and Shoshone, at 7:30 p.m. Mr. Ray Rostron, manager of the Chamber of Commerce and a member of the United Methodist Church, will be guest speaker.

TWIN FALLS — Four services with Evangelist Jim Davis will be held in the Assembly of God. Both services on Sunday at the 11 a.m. worship service and the 7:30 evangelistic service. Also Monday and Tuesday evenings, the 19th and 20th at 7:30. Davis is well known throughout southern Idaho having pastored the Assembly of God in Gooding for six years.

TWIN FALLS — The youth group of the Episcopal Church is now taking orders for Thanksgiving pies. Taste quality and crust are guaranteed, according to Mrs. Stephan Green, sponsor of the group. Orders must be in by Monday and may be placed by calling 733-2401 or 733-6561. They'll be baked to order (the pies that is).

TWIN FALLS — The annual Thanksgiving dinner of the Seventh-Day Adventist Church will be in the YWCA-YMCA at 7 p.m. Sunday. The dinner is sponsored by the home and school of the Magic Valley Adventist Church School. A special menu is planned with an evening program following the meal. The program is under the direction of Mrs. Ronald Hamilton, president of the home and school for the current school year.

FILER — Two members of the Filer First Baptist Church have been elected to serve as intermountain officers. Mrs. Laura Bulth has been elected secretary-treasurer of the area and Mrs. Roy Watson is

Wind, showers hang in there

Twin Falls, northside Burley-Rupert area: Period of rain today, turning to widely scattered showers tonight and Saturday. Windy at times. Lows tonight, mid 30s. Highs Saturday in the 40s. Outlook for Sunday little change. Hailey, Camas Prairie, lower Wood River Valley: Periods of rain or snow today, becoming widely scattered tonight and Saturday. Windy at times. Lows tonight, mid 20s. Highs Saturday near 40. Outlook for Sunday, little change. Synops: An upper trough of low pressure along the Washington and Oregon coast remains stationary. As a result, major weather disturbances continue to move through the northwest every 24 to 36 hours and minor disturbances about every 12 hours. Another storm in the series is moving through Idaho today. Predominantly cloudy skies with periods of rain in the valleys and snow in the mountains above 4,000 feet will continue through Sunday. The next storm is expected on Saturday. The extended outlook, Sunday through Tuesday for southern Idaho, some rain or snow in the valleys and snow in the mountains likely at times throughout the period. No important temperature changes with highs mostly in the 40s and lows mid 20s through 30s.

Effluent can ruin cropland

LAS VEGAS, Nev. — It is predicted that if waste obtained from an Idaho potato processing plant is spread on medium textured soils for a prolonged period, the land will be ruined for crop production. Making the prediction was Dr. R. E. McDole, University of Idaho associate research professor of plant and soil sciences at the UI Branch Experiment Station in Aberdeen.

McDole, appearing here today before scientists attending the American Society of Agronomy meeting, based the prediction on his study of a 60-acre tract of loam textured soil used by a processing plant as a disposal field for potato wastes. McDole explained that the waste material is effluent from using a lye solution to loosen potato peels followed by a washing process to remove skins.

Prior to establishing the disposal field in November, 1971, the waste material — water and suspended solids — had been channeled into streams causing pollution.

The disposal field was tried as a way to eliminate the pollution problem. McDole said the effluent contains a high concentration of sodium, potassium, nitrogen and solids. About 500,000 to 1 million gallons of effluent per day were applied to the disposal field during two seasons, one lasting seven months and the other six months.

TWIN FALLS — A Snake River Canyon study and preservation group will petition Twin Falls County commissioners Monday to reverse their approval of a controversial canyon rim subdivision.

Charles Brumbach, vice president and attorney for Canyon Inc., said the petition by the recently incorporated group, which advocates orderly development and preservation of the canyon rim based on a comprehensive plan, would give the commissioners a chance to reassess their decision on the Meander Points subdivision without the filing of a legal suit to block the development.

Brumbach said legally the petition asks the commissioners to "vacate or withdraw the subdivision plat through procedures specified in the Idaho Code.

Code.

Meander Points is a 35-acre subdivision lying just east of Rock Creek on the south Snake River

Canyon rim. As detailed by property owner and developer Harold Frazier, the subdivision contains 53 "building" lots serviced by septic tanks and centralized well water.

The county commissioners approved the Meander Points plat on Oct. 15 by a vote of 2-1, with the provision that Frazier gain a 50-foot access right-of-way to the property.

In the vacation petition, Canyon Inc. questions the legality of the plat approval on five basic points:

- The approval was illegal since two or three lots in the subdivision do not meet minimum square-foot requirements as contained in the present subdivision ordinance.
- The use of septic tanks in a "lava basin area." Brumbach said the state standards themselves are questionable when applied to lava deposits. The subdivision was approved by the South Central Health District.
- The petition points out that Frazier has investigated the possibility of FHA loans on the construction of some of the homes and notes that the Environmental Protection Agency advises or requires "environmental impact studies" on developments wholly or partially financed with federal funds.

The petition questions the legality of approval of the subdivision without the enactment of a countywide comprehensive plan. Noting that a comprehensive plan is required in the Idaho Code, Brumbach said that neither the county zoning ordinance nor the subdivision ordinance is based upon a comprehensive land use plan.

— The petition attacks the practice of what is termed a "floating subdivision zone."

Brumbach said the county commissioners have followed a practice of zoning areas for subdivision in a capricious manner without the guidance of strict zones for subdivisions.

The Frazier development is on land currently zoned agricultural. Brumbach said the commissioners have turned down subdivisions in agricultural zones and have been "somewhat inconsistent" in the granting or rejecting of subdivision plats.

To operate on the basis of capricious

"floating" subdivision zones, which some land use planners call "leap frogging," is discriminatory, Brumbach said.

In telling some developers "yes" and some "no" the commissioners have been discriminatory and, as such, have violated the 14th Amendment of the U.S. Constitution, Brumbach argued.

Brumbach also said the floating zones defy the purpose of a zoning ordinance, which is to designate some areas for development and withhold development in other areas.

In approving the Meander Points subdivision, Brumbach said the commissioners also failed to consider the hardship to be worked on adjacent property owners by the cutting-of-an-access to Frazier's property.

The plat approval was conditional upon a 50-foot access, Brumbach said, and since there is none, adjacent property owners will be adversely affected by the cutting of an access.

Brumbach said the petition will be filed Monday morning. The commissioners, he said, have set a hearing on the petition for Jan. 6, 1974.

Shotgun stolen

TWIN FALLS — Scott Anderson reported to city police Thursday the theft of a shotgun from his unlocked 1957 half-ton pickup truck.

He traced the gun was valued at $140.

SV benefit set

KETCHUM — The annual Wild Game Dinner to benefit the Sun Valley Junior Ski Team has been scheduled for Saturday evening in Ketchum.

This year's dinner will feature two seatings — 6 p.m. and 8:30 p.m. — at the Warm Springs Ranch Inn.

Proceeds will benefit the Junior Nordic and Alpine Ski teams.

Shoshone chosen

SPOSHONE — Shoshone has been chosen as one of six sample towns in the state to be included in a "Small Towns Assistance" research project, according to Art Rathbourn, University of Idaho Cooperative Extension Service.

The research project is to be conducted by the University of Idaho Department of Agricultural Economics and Cooperative Extension Service.

Rathbourn said the purpose of the project is to attempt to identify the characteristics unique to small towns and determine why these characteristics are unique.

"The first phase of the project will be a small public survey and an extensive survey of local businessmen," Rathbourn said.

Marijuana confiscated

SALT LAKE CITY (UPI) — Federal and local narcotics agents have arrested two men and confiscated 1,500 pounds of marijuana in a crackdown on what they describe as one of the nation's largest marijuana operations.

"This is about as good a marijuana trafficking outfit as you will find in the country," said Harry R. Sumega, special agent in charge of the Salt Lake Regional Office of the federal Drug Enforcement Administration.

Sumega refused to speculate on the size of the Tucson-based operation, but said it was "major."

Man charged

TWIN FALLS — City police have arrested Reuben Moses Jones III on charges of grand larceny in connection with an alleged theft from United Electronics Thursday.

Officers said the man was apprehended at the firm after the manager detained him until police could arrive. He was charged with taking two walkie-talkie radio units from a merchandise display in the store.

Officers said both units were recovered. The value was reported at $158.

Wormy problem

SALT LAKE CITY (UPI) — Hogle Zoo has a wormy problem. It needs another 80 dozen of the slimmies to be used as winter feed for 25 "finicky eaters" in the snake cage, including 10 baby boa constrictors.

Zoo Director Lamar Farnsworth says the zoo needs 120 dozen night crawlers for the snakes, but only 40 dozen have been collected since a public appeal last week. They have been put into the ground to be used as needed, but Farnsworth is worried he won't get the number he needs before the ground freezes.

IPUC okays application

BOISE (UPI) — The Idaho Public Utilities Commission has approved an application from the Intermountain Gas Co. and Washington Water Power Co. to participate in natural gas explorations in Colorado, Wyoming and Utah.

The exploration program will take five years and is expected to cost $16 million. The gas companies will not be able to fund the program with present rates and will be required to request a rate increase of approximately .133 cents per therm.

Newsstands stolen

TWIN FALLS — K. E. Otto told city police Thursday someone took two large shelf-type newsstands from the news agency property at 265 North Ash St.

He said the wooden type shelves measured eight and six feet in length and contained about six shelves each. He estimated the value at $35.

The shelves were stored outside the building, Otto said.

Short change artist

TWIN FALLS — City police said a short change artist may be at work in Twin Falls.

A young lady working at Winchell's Donut House, Blue Lakes Boulevard North, told officers a man entered the business and purchased three donuts for 31 cents.

In the process of paying with a $10 bill, receiving $9.69 in change and then asking for the $10 back so he could pay for the purchase from a one dollar bill and then asking to exchange some $1 bills for $5 bills, he left with nearly $20 more than he had when he went in to purchase the three donuts.

Maintenance funded

BOISE (UPI) — The State Parks and Recreation Department has budgeted for the maintenance of the Hell's Gate State Park but now can't pin down the Army Corps of Engineers on when the park will be completed.

The proposed park will be six miles south of Lawton. It first was suggested by the state four years ago and has a development budget of $2.7 million in federal funds.

Steve Bly, director of the parks department, told a meeting of the Parks and Recreation Board Thursday that he has included $100,000 in his budget for operations and maintenance of the facility.

But he said he has been unsuccessful in pinning down the corps on a completion date. He said during the last meeting with the Corps, officials named a completion date for 1976. Originally they set 1975 for the completion.

$300,000 due

SALMON — Steele Memorial Hospital has $300,000 in outstanding accounts receivable and the hospital administration's objective is to cut this in half.

Jim Tronson, the new hospital administrator, told members of the Salmon Chamber of Commerce that in the future Idaho First National Bank of Boise is going to be doing the hospital's accounts receivable and everyone will get a bill monthly.

"We are going to get a little tougher and try to turn the tide. We are going to take people to court on a select basis to make sure those who can pay do pay," he said.

Proposals criticized

BOISE (UPI) — The director of the National Wildlife Federation criticized Boise Cascade Corp. proposals to avoid permanent exclusive classification for primitive areas as only ways to declassify half the existing wilderness in Idaho.

Ernest E. Day, who also is a director of the River of No Return Council, said the plan proposed Thursday by Boise Cascade President John Forry "proposes to take the best of our Idaho wilderness, road and log huge chunks of it, and encourage mining exploration in all of it."

No protests

TWIN FALLS — A public hearing Wednesday on the proposed West End Cemetery District passed without notice.

County commission chairman William Chaney said the hearing was for public comment on the election but no one showed up to protest or commend the proposed district.

The commissioners set Dec. 18 as the official election date on the proposed cemetery district.

County Clerk Harold Lancaster said polls in Buhl and Castleford will be set up for the election. Buhl residents will vote at the IOOF Hall, while those in the Castleford district will vote at Blick Seed Co.

The proposed cemetery district was brought before the county commission last month by petitioners. A favorable vote in next month's election would establish a cemetery district in the portions of the Buhl and Castleford school districts lying within Twin Falls County.

BOISE — The president of the Idaho League of Women Voters appealed to the State Land Board Thursday to declare a moratorium on sale of state land until a classification and inventory of the lands can be completed.

Marjorie Slotton, Twin Falls, told land board members the state was in the midst of a land boom and said "League members believe that it may not be in the best interests of the endowment fund to sell endowment lands and we urge reserving land from sale so that in this current land boom, valuable state land is retained for the future."

Blaine office gets shut down order

By TERRY CAMPBELL
Times-News writer

HAILEY — The Blaine County Health and Environmental Services Office, Hailey, was shut down Thursday under a stop work order by the Idaho State Department of Labor.

The "red-tagging" occurred about noon and stemmed from electrical wiring and other problems within the building.

The office located at 115 South Main had housed the Department of Health, public health nurse and sanitarian's offices and the Department of Environmental and Community Services (DECS) youth rehabilitation, financial assistance and food stamp offices.

According to county commission chairman C. W. (Andy) Gardner, remodeling work is presently being conducted on a new office located adjacent to the Hailey Eye Center with completion expected in about two weeks.

Gardner said he telephoned Jack Richmond, Boise, chief safety officer for the department of labor, Thursday afternoon to request an extension to enable continued occupancy of the old building while the new office was being completed.

However, Gardner said Richmond had told him that no extension would be granted.

Gardner said the commissioners had been notified of a warning order, issued Oct. 24, and had immediately started work on obtaining another office. At that time, the labor department had granted a two week extension.

Deficiencies of the building which were cited in the Oct. 24 order included:

- The old style, two conductor wiring is not grounded.
- No hot water existed in the offices.
- No lighting existed in the back hallway.
- No covered containers existed in the women's restrooms.
- Many drugs and medicines are stored in the back rooms. According to public health nurse Geraldine Truo, the drugs and medicines had been left by a previous tenant and the majority of them had been removed.
- The back hallway light switch emits

Nader says firms greedy

By DAVID ESPO
Times-News Capitol Bureau

BOISE — Ralph Nader said Thursday night the nationwide energy crisis was contrived, brought on by the greed of the oil and gas industries and fueled by a "vicious circle of waste."

He told an audience of several hundred people at Boise State College the short-term energy scarcity was brought on by the industries to create a "stamped political pressure" for an even more favorable atmosphere for them to operate in.

Oil and gas companies, he said, are after higher prices, lower pollution standards, offshore drilling in the Atlantic Ocean on their own terms and squeezing out the independents in their field.

Nader called on Congress to deliberate before approving any special legislation requested by President Nixon for energy conservation. He claimed the President's energy speech of several days ago "put the primary burden of sacrifice" on the consumer, when in fact industry and commerce account for 70 per cent of the nation's energy and the consumer only 30 per cent.

For the short term, Nader said the country should depend on existing fossil fuels for energy while concentrating its research and development efforts on solar and geothermal energy.

The consumer advocate urged the development of what he termed a "civil philosophy" to foster self government. He said consumers should be more careful about what they buy in supermarkets and what they believe in advertising and should be more strict about pollution caused by business and industry.

"The average consumer will work hundreds of hours to buy a new car," Nader said, "but won't spend four hours learning how to buy a new car."

About pollution, he said it was "much more serious to health than is generally recognized and much less expensive to control than is generally recognized." The country needs to understand, he said, "that industry has the money and the technology to dramatically reduce pollution."

"Toilet training for industry should not be the big challenge of the 20th century, but it has to be," he said.

Speaking to a news conference before his speech, Nader said President Nixon's meetings of the past week with Republican lawmakers was an effort to "weaken the impeachment drive in Congress."

But, he said, the confirmation of vice president-designate Gerald Ford would be a "turning point in getting many Republicans to go away from their support" of the President.

He said there were several Republican senators and congressmen who will support Nixon only as long as a Democratic speaker of the house is first in line for succession.

New building delivered

JEROME — School Supt. John B. Campbell says a 40-by-82-foot steel addition to the junior high has been delivered.

"The building arrived Thursday night and everything is now on schedule," Campbell said. He said the firm of Valley Steel, Boise, which received the building bid also will do the concrete work as soon as weather permits.

The building is being erected behind the junior high school to help alleviate overcrowded conditions in the junior high.

Campbell said the new addition will contain space for two classrooms of 30 by 34 feet. Usual classrooms are 32 by 34 feet.

Space will also be provided for hot lunch to be served to students. This will eliminate their running to the high school for hot lunch as they do now.

Campbell also said he has not received confirmation on his order for the folding furniture for the new addition or other needed equipment. "We may have a finished building by the first of the year with nothing in it," Campbell said.

He noted that space will also be provided in the structure for physical education classes, boys for two weeks then the girls will use the new building for two weeks trading back and forth from the gym to the new facility, he said.

After school hours the additional space will be used for wrestling.

AF dam bill approved

Statements from the witnesses also regarded the construction across the top of the new dam of State Highway 39, replacing the road presently in use on the dam, as well as a new two-lane road downstream which would accommodate traffic while the new dam is being built.

Hogg assured subcommittee members of up to $19 million promised by the company. "The estimated cost of a replacement dam and a new power plant is $51 million. The cost of the replacement dam is about $10.7 million," he said.

Located on the Snake River west of Pocatello, American Falls Dam presently is operating at only about 68 per cent of its reservoir storage capacity in order to reduce pressure on the weakened structure.

When the dam and proposed power plant are in operation, the energy generated, Hogg explained, will be equivalent to 210,000 tons of coal or 28 million gallons of oil per year.

Sen. Frank Church, D-Idaho, commented from his office that there is possibility of "extraordinarily fast action on legislation as complex as the American Falls measure."

He observed that if the House version of the bill did not differ greatly from that already passed by the Senate, the way could be clear for action to be completed this year.

Church is chairman of the Senate Interior Subcommittee on Water and Resources and was author of the Senate legislation for reconstruction of the dam.

"This Senate bill authorizes the American Falls space-holders — those who use the stored water in American Falls reservoir — to finance the reconstruction of the dam by selling bonds," Church explained. "These, in turn, would be repaid by the Idaho Power Co. in return for rights to use the falling water at the reservoir for now-hydro-electric generation."

As the House subcommittee hearing was conducted yesterday, the room in the Rayburn Office Building was adequately and comfortably illuminated — with only half of the ceiling lighting panels turned on as government offices conserve power.

Richmond said that department inspector Elden Ryals subsequently re-inspected the building, found that only one item had been corrected and the Oct. 24 warning order was issued.

At Gardner's request, Richmond said the department granted a two week extension on Oct. 30 while a new office was being remodeled.

However, Richmond said that Ryals re-inspected the building Wednesday, finding that it still was in use, and the department had "no alternative" but to close it.

Both True and sanitarian David Dingman said they will continue their field work outside the office. However, True said the weekly immunization clinic will be discontinued until the department moves into the new office.

Gardner said that Lyle Moncur, eligibility supervisor, told him that eligibility records had been removed to Twin Falls. Moncur said the department will continue to serve the regular food stamp customers, but that no new applications would be taken in Hailey until the office is re-opened.

Market Review

NEW YORK (UPI) — Stock prices opened mixed in moderately active trading Friday on the New York Stock Exchange. Minutes after the market opened, the Dow Jones industrial average was off 1.20 at 873.55. Advances were running slightly ahead of declines, 141 to 132, among the 303 issues traded.

The Dow rebounded with a 4.67-point gain Thursday, breaking a series of four consecutive declines, but more issues fell in price than gained. Analysts were not impressed with the partial turnaround, which they said was overdue after a fall of 317.10 points in the Dow in the past 13 sessions.

Some analysts said, however, that such a severe decline could prompt a somewhat more extended rebound than Thursday's limited action, and they placed importance on trading Friday as a sign for the near-term future.

The fuel crisis remains the primary factor affecting the market, they said.

Cosell, TV artist

By Ira Berkow

NEW YORK — (NEA) — Howard Cosell has been introduced on TV talk shows as "The Man People Love to Hate." This is a provocative cognominate, to use a sequeladation-Cosellism, for Cosell's showy-biz side. The epithet is less cuddlesome for serious journalists, who would rather respect and admire Cosell's pro-often, however, he makes it difficult.

He is, in fact, the man many reporters hate to hate. Sometimes, Cosell has been magnificent. He broke ground several years ago with a moving TV special on Grambling College football. He was one of the few, and earliest, sports journalists to defend Muhammad Ali's civil liberties when the former heavyweight champion was barred from boxing because he refused to accept the military draft. Cosell has asked probing questions, one of the few television sportscommentators ("No, I'm a sports commentator," he insists) to do so.

One recent Monday night, Cosell brought a novelist's sense of drama to a football game. This was when Joe Gilliam, a third-string black quarterback for the Steelers, entered a tight game after Terry Bradshaw and Terry Hanratty had been physically defused.

Cosell painted a brief historical vignette about the void of black quarterbacks in pro football and sketched in pertinent biographical stuff on Gilliam. This added an uncommon human dimension to the telecast.

When, characteristically, Hyperbolic Howard grew outrageously rapturous with the raspings of his often imitatively inimitable modulation, Dandy Don got his feathers up: "Aw Howard, why don't ya just lay it all on the table."

Paradoxically, one senses the benign aspects of Cosell's influence here in Meredith feeling open enough to say on the air that the cornpone is in the other mouth.

Vacant Frank Gifford also may have profited from Cosell. In that same Steeler game, Gifford shocked the nation by saying something interesting. During one long huddle, Gifford's monotone noted that on upcoming pass plays rookie quarterbacks (like rookie writers) explain too much. Thus the long huddles. Next play was indeed a pass.

(Prior to this, Gifford's professional TV reportorial highlight came in the 1970 post-Super-Bowl game locker room when he interviewed Len Dawson for about 20 minutes and never asked him the most obvious and most important question: Did the headline accusations of his association with a gambler affect his play?)

One watches and listens on Monday night and knows that Cosell is Cosell the Star, and only somewhat Cosell the Journalist. In fact, a New Yorker magazine writer wryly wondered why the Monday night game is always trying to muscle in on the Howard Cosell show.

Ducks Unlimited benefits by $7,500 in Magic Valley banquet

A record crowd of about 240 came up with an Idaho state record of $7,500 dollars for Ducks Unlimited Thursday night at the third annual Magic Valley DU banquet.

The attendance, paying $20 per head for the banquet plus "auxiliary" benefits, was a record for this festivity. The approximate $7,500 for "duck factories" in the Canadian wetlands was about $3,500 ahead of last year's $4,000 total which led the state.

About $2,500 was raised from the raffle drawings made for merchandise prizes donated by Magic Valley businesses. About $14 per person also went into the DU fund, over and above the price of the meal.

The bulk was made up in auctions, conducted by Jim Messersmith, for donated items. Ed Redman and Larry Stone, co-proprietors of the Pioneer Saloon in Ketchum, made it three straight in the painting department. They purchased the "Marshlanders - Mallards" for $50, although Redman plainly stated the $500 initial bid by a fellow Ketchum hunter was pushing the limit a bit.

Bill Reese, Twin Falls, won the Remington special DU antioleander magnum shotgun at $900, some $400 over the allowable minimum. Bill Babcock came up with $220 for a painting of Hagerman valley by Mrs. Ray J. Holmes and Bill Cook took another painting at $100.

Jim McDonald, Ketchum post master, was the big winner of the night taking a tricycle donated by Jerome Implement and Marina.

Gordon Edgar, Twin Falls, newly appointed chairman of sponsors committee, promised those attending he would be among them in the near future to get a minimum of $200 for the special club. Currently the Magic Valley sponsors include Arch Walker of Bliss and Voy Hudson and Gordon Edgar, both Twin Falls.

Don Zuck, father of this series, and Paul Beck, current banquet chairman, beamed over the success of the night.

NBA Bulls claiming $1,728,000 deficit

CHICAGO (UPI) — The Chicago Bulls of the National Basketball Association lost $1,728,000 last year, Johnny Kerr revealed Thursday in explaining changes in ticket sales policies.

Kerr, the first coach of the Bulls, said the club never had a profitable year in seven seasons under the old ownership, which sold to a nine-man syndicate before the current season began. Kerr is sales and promotion manager of the team now.

He said the Bulls' player payroll for this season would be $1,551,000, $225,000 more than the gross ticket receipts last year. This figure, he said, does not include stadium rent, front office payroll, or travel or equipment expenses.

The Bulls have averaged about 4,500 paid for the six home games so far this year, and Kerr said the dollar revenue from ticket sales, with tickets priced higher this year, was slightly ahead of the first six games last year. However, attendance was smaller.

Harry Trump was the most reasonable of bridge guests. He demanded only two things. New cards and Early Times. Emil Frostbutt knew this. On September 28, 1972, the cards in Frostbutt's posh game room were still in the cellophane.

But the bourbon.... for some never-to-be-determined reason, Frostbutt had not ordered Early Times.

That night, for the first time in years, Emil Frostbutt played bridge without Harry. No Early Times. No Trump.

FORECAST FOR SATURDAY, NOVEMBER 17, 1973

GENERAL TENDENCIES: You have a big opportunity to use the energy now generated to make some long-range plans and a chance to engineer them in such a way that they can put you far ahead of your present position. Be alert at all times.

ARIES (Mar. 21 to Apr. 19) You are tempted to make changes in plans, but this would not be wise. Engage in detailed work connected with it instead.

TAURUS (Apr. 20 to May 20) The morning can be slow but later you can accomplish a great deal at your favorite activities. Show more devotion to mate. Be happy.

GEMINI (May 21 to June 21) If you are careful in motion, you find this can be profitable. Show much hospitality to invited guests. Show that you have poise.

MOON CHILDREN (June 22 to July 21) Don't invest in a worthless venture at this time. Arrange your budget so you know just where you stand now and in the future.

LEO (July 22 to Aug. 21) You could be suffering from frustration but this is only negative thinking. Combine good common sense with your intuitive faculties.

VIRGO (Aug. 22 to Sept. 22) Forget a worrisome matter and go out and meet interesting people. Improve your appearance and become a more efficient person.

LIBRA (Sept. 23 to Oct. 22) You must take care of routine duties if you are to expand as you desire. The evening can be a happy time with the one you love.

SCORPIO (Oct. 23 to Nov. 21) Provided you take no risks in business matters, the latter part of the day can be very happy in the company of good friends.

SAGITTARIUS (Nov. 22 to Dec. 21) Forget going on a tangent you have in mind. Bring your talents to the attention of others. Open new doors of opportunity.

CAPRICORN (Dec. 22 to Jan. 20) You may feel like going back on a promise you have made, but it is better for you to carry through or you could get into trouble.

AQUARIUS (Jan. 21 to Feb. 19) Avoid an associate who can be very annoying. Listen to a new plan with interest which may help, and go along with it for best results.

PISCES (Feb. 20 to Mar. 20) Ideal time to join with a partner at whatever improves joint interests and forget dull routines for now. Long talks produce fine results.

IF YOUR CHILD IS BORN TODAY he or she will be one of those charming young people who may suffer from some health deficiency early in life, but then overcomes it and becomes strong. Direct the education along humanitarian lines such as medicine, research - whatever helps the public. Give finest benefits you can afford.

"The Stars impel, they do not compel." What you make of your life is largely up to YOU!

What's What

L. M. Boyd

Another thing that humans have in common is atrocious spelling. Or so contends a scholar who has investigated those souls. He concludes bad spelling in some cases, if bad enough, might be the sign of a potentially violent personality. Surprised to hear it? My secretary has always smiled so pleasantly.

Let me quote now, please, out of a note from editor Tom Knevel. "Darkman we had once wrote a beautiful story about the best chili spot in Amarillo. Hole in the wall. Presidents came there. Bankers lunched there. Etc. A Northerner came up totally without warning one afternoon, ripped loose a lean-to storage shed back of the chili house. Four thousand empty dog food cans rolled past the feet of the departing diners."

SECOND TERM
O "Statistically, what are the chances that a Republican president like Richard M. Nixon will complete his second term?"

A Statistically? Two chances out of 13. Grant and Eisenhower completed theirs. Lincoln and McKinley, though, re-elected, were assassinated. Teddy Roosevelt and Coolidge served the unexpired terms of their predecessors plus four years each. And service was four years or less for Hayes, Garfield, Arthur, Benjamin Harrison, Taft, Harding and Hoover. Statistics in such a small sampling don't signify, however.

Am asked if the rate of violent crime in the big cities was ever higher than now. Certainly was. Much higher. Right after the Civil War. And higher, also, right after World War II.

NEW FOODS
After recent experiments to find new foods, the science boys contend they'll soon be able to put together green cooking made out of a high protein flour which will come from algae harvested down around the sewage disposal plants. Have a cookie? Thanks anyway; not right now.

Question arises whether people can fall asleep with their eyes open. They can. University researchers proved that. They taped the eyes of volunteers open. Elastically. To permit blinking. And said volunteers still dozed off.

Shortest single English word that contains the first six letters of the alphabet is "feedback." I'm told. Shortest two words are "bold face."

One out of every four students of karate in this country is a woman. Average 6-year-old boy today is three inches taller than his counterpart of 1933. Two out of three used car buyers pay the asking price without haggling. Some medicos contend that about 99 per cent of us bear the lung scars of tuberculosis. Bulletin, takes two a half pounds of paraffin to make a quart candle, young lady.

Military claims fuels

WASHINGTON (UPI) — The Arab oil embargo has denied the U. S. military nearly half of its petroleum supplies and forced it to invoke a little-used act giving it priority over civilian users, the Pentagon said Thursday.

Installations and logistics, said the defense Department would have to make up its loss of 300,000 barrels of foreign oil a day from domestic supplies. He disclosed that the 1950 Defense Production Act has been invoked on Nov. 1 for the first time to force petroleum producers to meet Defense Department requirements before filling civilian orders. To meet the crisis, he said: The 300,000 U. S. troops in Europe and the 60 ships of the U. S. 6th Fleet in the Mediterranean have been forced to dip into their war reserves.

The Idaho Primitive Areas

A proposal to preserve their wild character AND enhance their benefits

CURRENT STATUS

The area shown in the map at left encompasses two areas of nearly 1.75 million acres (The Idaho Primitive Area and the Salmon River Breaks Primitive Area and adjoining study areas). Currently, the U.S. Forest Service is studying proposals to reclassify this land and determine its permanent status for the future. The areas could be classified in several different ways, but there are basically two approaches that have received strong support to date. One is the approach which would classify the entire 65 mile long, 36 mile wide block as permanent Wilderness - allowing no roads, no land vehicles, no sanitation facilities, inadequate fire and no insect protection, no forest management of any kind.

The other is a total declassification of the areas and a return to a combination of uses such as recreation, with road access, mining, timber harvest, grazing and other uses. Boise Cascade suggests neither extreme. We strongly favor a combination of protected wild areas and graduated multiple use tailored to the best and most appropriate use of the land - including the portion along the Middle Fork and main Salmon River, more than a third of the area, which would be left wild in a ROADLESS RECREATION AREA to be administered by the U.S. Forest Service.

RECLASSIFICATION PROPOSAL

The map at the left represents a new philosophy of forest management endorsed by Boise Cascade which would allow the wild character of this land to be preserved while providing flexibility to manage various sections of it for their best and most appropriate use. The plan suggests four categories of management which would encourage or restrict the uses of the land as dictated by the land itself.

ROADLESS RECREATION AREA

We suggest more than one third of the area be classified Roadless Recreation (principally the Middle Fork and main Salmon River canyons).

A principal difference between a Roadless Recreation Area and a Wilderness Area is that limited sanitation and primitive camping facilities would be permitted. These facilities and this classification is most appropriate because of the increasing number of people on float trips on the Middle Fork and main Salmon Rivers. The surrounding lands, to the crest of the canyons, plus other areas would be left predominantly wild.

MULTIPLE USE: SPECIAL

This category would require special management plans for watersheds and areas along road corridors, streams, game habitats, scenic meadows and other critical resource areas. Roadbuilding, forest management, many forms of motorized recreation and other uses would be allowed only under rigid restrictions established to protect the watersheds with their valuable water yield and other ecological values of these areas.

MULTIPLE USE: MARGINAL

Uses of the area would be determined by the need to ensure protection of their fragile values. Their principal uses would be for recreation, game habitat or special aesthetic views.

MULTIPLE USE: STANDARD

This management category would allow full multiple-use management, including carefully controlled harvest, minimum impact roads, camping and recreational facilities and other uses common to the National Forest lands.

We advocate preservation of the wild character of the Idaho Primitive Areas. At the same time, they can also be made more accessible to greater numbers of people. They can contribute greatly to the economic health of our state. They can contribute badly needed timber on a sustained yield basis as well as quality water yield so necessary for man's use. They can support additional use for many recreational pursuits while enhancing their value for game habitat and scenic beauty. And we can ensure their protection from the ravages of wildfire, insect epidemic and disease. To do this we all need to make our voices heard in favor of a balanced Multiple Use Plan.

Public hearings will be held to consider the recommendation of the U.S. Forest Service on the following dates:

BOISE
