Water hearing in TF Thursday

TWIN FALLS — A public hearing on the proposed Upper Snake River Basin Water Quality Management Plan prepared by the Idaho Department of Environmental and Community Services (DECS) will begin at 9:30 a.m. Thursday at the Shields Building at the College of Southern Idaho.

The hearing is one of several prior to consideration of the plan for adoption by the DECS board. It contains the department's proposals to maintain water quality in the Basin.

Surgeon ordered to pay

SACRAMENTO (UPI) — Dr. John G. Nork, 45, an orthopedic surgeon who is an admitted drug addict, has been ordered to pay a dying former patient $2 million.

The action came following a trial in which Nork was charged with performing unnecessary back surgery, resulting in two suicide attempts and terminal cancer. Nork also has 25 other malpractice suits pending.

Wilderness additions proposed

WASHINGTON (UPI) — President Nixon today proposed adding more than 1 million acres to the National Wilderness Preservation System in 12 new areas.

The areas are principally located in the southwestern states — Colorado, Arizona, Texas — and in California, Missouri and other eastern states.

Prober's home ransacked

WASHINGTON (UPI) — The home of Jill Volner, an assistant special Watergate prosecutor, was burglarized Tuesday while she was in court questioning President Nixon's personal secretary about a gap in one of the Watergate tapes. She told police the burglars took four boxes of canceled checks, clothing and a key to a safety deposit box in New York.

Cambodia fighting continues

PHNOM PENH (UPI) — Government troops advanced on two fronts south of Phnom Penh today but barely fought off Communist attacks northeast of the capital, field reporters said. In the biggest battle 36 miles southwest of the capital, 900 soldiers with 40 armored vehicles struck westward off Highway 4, the blocked route to the sea, and pushed forward about a mile before Communist forces stopped them, field reporters said.

Oil shale work ordered

WASHINGTON (UPI) — Interior Secretary Rogers C. B. Morton today ordered the western oil shale lands opened for development and said he is ready to issue a right-of-way permit for the trans-Alaska oil pipeline.

The twin actions by Morton will not warm the nation's homes or fuel its industry this winter or even in the next few years, but will open the way to vast new energy sources in the late 1970s and 1980s.

Prospects for the immediate future, under newly published government regulations, are that homes and businesses will be 6 to 10 degrees colder than last winter.

Morton said he expected to issue the trans-Alaska pipeline permit in the next two weeks. President Nixon signed legislation Nov. 16 clearing away legal impediments to construction of the 789-mile-long pipeline to carry oil from the frozen north-slope fields in Alaska to the ice-free southern port of Valdez.

Aleyeska Pipeline Co., the firm created by a consortium of oil companies to build the line, hailed Morton's plans to issue the right-of-way permit as "a most significant milestone."

Edward L. Patton, Aleyeska president, said in a statement issued simultaneously with Morton's announcement that "we are hopeful that there will be no new challenges" in court to the project which he said would be started in the spring.

Patton also cautioned would-be job seekers not to go to unemployment ridden Alaska looking for work. "There are absolutely no pipeline construction jobs presently available in Alaska," he said, and that none will be available for quite some time.

Morton also announced he would ask about 250 private industry executives to serve temporarily in administering the government emergency fuel allocation program.

Most of the industry experts are members of the National Defense Executive Reserve who, under the 1950 Defense Production Act, are on a standby basis for federal callup in an energy emergency.

TF firm seeks FM station OK

By DAVID HORSMAN
Times-News Writer

TWIN FALLS — Media West Inc., Twin Falls, has asked the Federal Communications Commission for approval of a 100,000-watt FM stereo radio station to be constructed west of Twin Falls.

Members of the corporation are Richard Tuininga, a former newsman with television station KMVT; J. J. Alexander, John Carlson and Mark Whitesides, employees of KMVT, and Robert Coiner, an arbor farmer.

Coiner owns the land, one mile west and three-quarters of a mile south of Magic Valley Memorial Hospital, which the corporation will lease for the station, according to Alexander.

He said the station would require an investment of $110,000 to $120,000 "to get on the air" and would probably employ seven persons "to begin with."

Alexander said a legal notice of the FCC application will be published four times during the next two weeks and mailed to the federal agency. A 30-day "protest period" follows FCC receipt of the legal notice, he added, during which protests against the proposed station can be filed with the FCC.

He said the studio, transmitter and antenna will be on the Coiner property. The tower and antenna will be 310 feet high.

The station would have a broadcast range covering "generally the Magic Valley area," Alexander said.

The corporation has applied for an "upbeat, middle-of-the-road" music classification, Alexander said. "We're talking about a variety of music, including artists like Neil Diamond, the Carpenters, Johnny Cash and Joni Mitchell," he said.

"The whole theory behind our broadcast concept is to base it around lots of music and a short, informative newscast."

The station would "lean very heavily toward local and agricultural news," Alexander said. Broadcast time would be 20 hours daily "to begin with," he said, "from 5 a.m. to 1 a.m."

DST measure passes House

(C) N. Y. Times Service

WASHINGTON — The House voted 311 to 88 Tuesday to put the nation on year-round daylight savings time for the first time since World War II to conserve energy.

The bill, one of several emergency measures sought by President Nixon to help meet the energy shortage, now goes to the Senate, where a similar bill is awaiting action.

Under the house bill, clocks in most of the nation would be turned ahead one hour starting at 2 a.m. on the first Sunday that falls more than 15 days after enactment of the bill. The year-round daylight savings time would stay in effect for two years, under the bill.

Under the bill, states would no longer have the option of exempting themselves from daylight savings time. Such state action is now permitted under a 1966 federal law. Also under the bill, states divided by time zone boundaries would be allowed to exempt one part of the state from daylight savings time so that there would be a uniform time for the entire state.

Idaho solons against DST

WASHINGTON — Both Idaho Congressmen voted against a bill establishing year-around daylight savings time Tuesday.

Republicans Orval Hansen and Steve Symms were among 88 voting against the bill, which drew 311 supporting votes.

Hansen said he voted against the bill because it presents a hardship to rural school children who would have to meet school buses in the dark, to farmers and because he questions whether year-round DST would save significant amounts of energy.

Three major voters were taken in the U. S. Senate Tuesday. Sen. Frank Church, D-Idaho, voted for confirmation of Gerald R. Ford as vice president.

Scribe 'never listened to tape'

WASHINGTON (UPI) — Rose Mary Woods, President Nixon's personal secretary, said today she did not know whether she actually erased any conversation on a White House tape because she said she never listened to the segment in question.

Miss Woods testified earlier in the court of U. S. District Judge John J. Sirica that while transcribing the tape she accidentally pushed the "record" button on the machine when a telephone call distracted her.

But she said her action could have accounted

Ford wins Senate VP nomination nod

WASHINGTON (UPI) — Vice Presidential nominee Gerald R. Ford centered his drive for confirmation in the House today, bolstered by a 92-3 Senate vote of approval.

The historic Senate vote came Tuesday as Ford's wife, Betty, and family friends watched from the gallery and Ford himself waited a few feet from the House chamber, in the office of Senate Republican Leader Hugh Scott.

It was the first time a branch of Congress acted under the 25th Amendment, ratified in 1967, which provides for majority votes in the House and Senate to confirm a president's nomination to fill a vacancy in the vice presidency.

The House is expected to take up the nomination Dec. 6. Easy confirmation in the House is predicted even by a leading opponent, Rep. Jerome Waldie, D-Calif.

"I guess we would be lucky if we could get 70 votes (out of a potential 434) against Ford on the floor," Waldie told UPI.

Voting against Ford in the Senate were Sens. Gaylord Nelson, D-Wis.; William Hathaway, D-Maine, and Thomas Eagleton, D-Mo.

Nelson said Ford wouldn't provide the kind of "inspirational leadership this nation will need should he succeed to the presidency." Eagleton leveled the same criticism.

President Nixon, who nominated Ford Oct. 12, two days after Spiro T. Agnew resigned, telephoned congratulations to Ford.

"He said it was a great vote and he wished me well in the vote on the House side," Ford told newsmen.

At least 75 senators flocked to Scott's office to congratulate the 60-year-old Michigan lawmaker. One of them, Sen. Hubert H. Humphrey, D-Minn., a former vice-president himself, told Ford: "You know this is the first time in my life I ever voted for a Republican for vice president."

Fresh push on Israel

By United Press International

Diplomatic sources in Cairo said today the United States is pressing Israel to soften its position at the deadlocked military talks with Egypt and that this was the probable reason behind Israel's request for a 24-hour postponement of today's scheduled session.

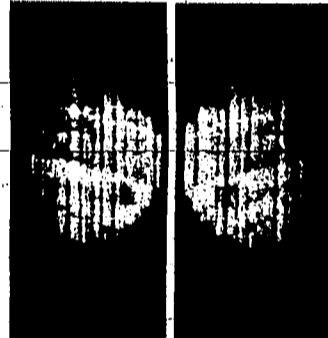

Egyptian President Anwar Sadat has talked openly of resuming the war unless the deadlock is resolved. Today the leaders of the Arab world meeting in Algiers said there would never be peace until Israel gives up all occupied territory, including Jerusalem and restores the rights of the Palestinian refugees.

King Hassan II of Morocco told the closing summit conference to tumultuous applause there would be victory marches in Cairo and Damascus and prayers in Jerusalem. There was a pledge to use "all means" including the oil weapon to attain this end.

The report by UPI correspondent Maurice Guindl in Cairo that the United States was applying pressure on Israel coincided with a London report by UPI diplomatic correspondent K. C. Thaler that Russia, apparently piqued at Sadat's recent friendship with Washington, is taking a backseat to the United States in Middle East peace efforts.

The Cairo diplomatic sources said the United States would like to see a measure of agreement reached in the Kilometer 101 negotiations in advance of the projected Arab-Israeli peace conference expected to open in Geneva Dec. 18.

Israeli Maj. Gen. Aharon Yariv and Egyptian Maj. Gen. Mohammed Gamsay have held nine meetings since Nov. 11, six of them devoted to discussion of disengagement.

Hijackers surrender

BEIRUT (UPI) — Three Palestinian guerrillas who hijacked a Dutch jumbo jet airliner last Sunday surrendered today in the Persian Gulf sheikhdom of Dubai, exhausted after an Odyssey that took them thousands of miles around the Middle East. Their 11 hostages went free.

A spokesman for the Royal Dutch Airlines (KLM) said in Amsterdam "the jumbo jet hijacking has ended. The hijackers and crew have left the plane and are being taken to a hospital for medical check ups." A spokesman in Dubai confirmed the report.

The hijackers had demanded and received 3,000 gallons of fuel for the big 747 that has flown without maintenance over a four day period and with a 10-man crew that has had no rest. But instead of taking off on another flight in search of refuge they turned themselves in after long negotiations with the leaders of Dubai.

"At 6:45 p.m. (7:45 a.m. MST) the commandos, accompanied by their hostages came into Dubai airport terminal after the leader of the operation agreed to surrender.

Report shows teacher pay variance

By DAVID ESPO

Times-News Capital Bureau
BOISE — A special committee of the State Board of Education has issued two separate reports that show a wide variation in the salaries school districts pay their teachers for comparable positions.

The reports also find little or no correlation between the size of the paycheck and the size of the district or even between the wealth of the district and the amount of money it pays its instructors.

The Bliss School District, for example, rates 13th among the state's 100 high school districts in the criteria normally used as an ability to pay, while the report rates the district's average salary for 1972-73 as lowest among the 100.

Twin Falls, on the other hand, while ranking only 79th in the state in the ability to pay factor, has a salary schedule that rates 53rd statewide.

The ad hoc committee for state salary schedule and/or salary commission is seeking creation of a statewide salary commission and statewide salary schedules to eliminate the present variation.

The recommendations of the committee were presented to the Board of Education several weeks ago, but the board took no formal action. The reports prepared by the committee had been held up pending a case in Fourth District Court that challenged the constitutionality of the present method of school funding in Idaho.

Judge J. Ray Dartsch ruled last week that the system is unconstitutional because it violated a constitutional mandate calling for a uniform system of schools. Appeal is almost certain, according to officials involved.

The main report issued by the committee makes several recommendations designed to raise salaries statewide and introduce uniformity into the salary structure. Included among the recommendations are:

— Establish a five-member salary commission to review salaries of school districts, making sure they are competitive with neighboring states and other types of similar work.

— Build a "phase-in" period into the commission's work so that districts can adjust their budgeting to the schedules;

— That a base salary for a new teacher without experience be set at $7,300 for the 1974-75 school year. The current beginning pay varies between $5,800 and $7,800. Adjustment of the schedules so no teacher would be deprived of money when the district complied with it is also a recommendation.

2 separate jetliners crash

By United Press International
Commercial DC9 jetliners crashed during separate foul-weather landings in Chattanooga, Tenn., and Akron, Ohio, Tuesday, but there were no deaths. Thirty-six persons were injured, one seriously.

An Atlanta-to-Chicago Delta Airlines jet carrying 77 persons burst into flames Tuesday night after crashing while trying to land in a thunderstorm at Chattanooga.

Everyone aboard walked off the craft, but the pilot, Capt. Ralph Hackley of Boston, and a passenger were hospitalized with back injuries. Eight other persons, including two stewards, were treated for minor injuries and released.

An Eastern Airlines DC9, landing during a light rain at the Akron-Canton Airport, crashed when it was unable to stop and rolled off the end of the runway, injuring all 26 persons aboard.

Sixteen persons, including the pilot and co-pilot, were admitted to six Akron area hospitals, all but one in satisfactory or fair condition. One Holley, 66, Holly Hills, Fla., was placed in the intensive care unit of Barberton Citizens Hospital.

John Stacey, 28, Dallas, a passenger aboard the Delta jetliner said, "It all happened so fast. There wasn't any panic until we came to a stop and then people started screaming, which is to be expected."

Writer praises TF performance

Review by MARY JANE KINNEY
TWIN FALLS — An appreciative audience of around 800 Magic Valley music lovers heard splendid vocal and orchestral music Tuesday evening in the College of Southern Idaho Fine Arts Auditorium when the Magic Valley Symphony Orchestra opened its 15th season by presenting a dramatic interpretation of the oratorio "Elijah" with the Magic Valley Chorus.

The Magic Valley Chorus, a comparative newcomer to our organized cultural activities, proved to be an exceptionally well-trained group of vocalists, and the soloists from this group were outstanding.

Roger Vincent, chorus director, had done an amazing job in coaching his singers, and it was unfortunate that because of illness he could not reap his reward — he would have been proud of such singing.

Vincent was to have sung the role of the prophet Elijah, but Norman Logan flew down from the University of Idaho to take over this major role.

Logan's majestic bass voice was the very embodiment of the prophet. His diction was superb; every word of this great Old Testament figure, with his zeal and obedience to God, came across perfectly and in perfect pitch.

Logan was Elijah — the man whose life was a protest against the idolatry and corruption into which his beloved nation Israel had declined — the patriot as well as prophet who served as the conscience of his country.

Logan is completely at home with Mendelssohn's "Elijah," and his generosity in sharing his talent with us at the last minute is appreciated by the symphony, the chorus and the audience.

Vocal generosity was evident in the soprano section also. At the very last minute, consummate soprano Joan Carr not only sang her own selection, but brilliantly interpreted the famous aria "Hear Ye, Israel," which was to have been sung by Mrs. Helen Allen, also ill.

Substituting for Mrs. Allen in the duet with Mrs. Carr was Mrs. Camille Cox. It is a tribute to our local vocalists what such substitution can be done at this last minute without in any way spoiling the blend and interpretation of the production. All the solo roles of the "Elijah" were well-chosen. Tenor Jack Van Buren handles a God-given voice with intelligence and sensitivity. Young Merrillce Bradshaw took the part of the young boy who first saw the welcome rain clouds appear, and Lanis Kingsford's fine contralto voice portrayed the Angel.

Del Slaughter, director of the symphony orchestra, was a genius in his conducting of the "Elijah." He achieved a unity and balance of style and technique not only with his orchestra but with the chorus.

The entire program moved along smoothly, flowing from solos to choruses with always the splendid orchestra underneath. Here were great high points in the chorus selections, but always the telling of the sacred story was in the forefront.

The total effect of the entire evening was a tribute to Slaughter. There was judicious cutting or editing of the score so that the performance was not overly long in time and did not drag, but neither Part I or Part II were edited at the expense of story or music.

Those of the audience who heeded the advice of Lorayne Smith in last Sunday's Times-News and read the account in the 18th chapter of First Kings in the Old Testament were at an advantage, for the oratorio "Elijah" is really a great, dramatic piece of literature as well as thrilling music.

In fact, reading from the 18th chapter to the 22nd chapter might be even better background for colorful characters come to light, especially Jezebel, the notoriously evil wife of King Ahab of Israel and an ardent worshipper of Baal.

Mendelssohn's reverence for the biblical text was too great to allow him to invent action not based upon the authentic words of scripture.

The Old Testament beauty of language combined with Mendelssohn's inspired music, from the rolling cadences of the chorus "Thanks Be to God," to the liftingly joyous acappella ladies chorus "Lift Thine Eyes," to finally the intensity of the orchestra and voices in the last chorus "And then Shall Your Light Break Forth" — all these highlights make "Elijah" one of the major peaks of religious music.

Prior to his employment with the post office he worked for Gifford and Driesel Construction Co. and Hancock Honey.

He is married to the former Judy Lynn Moore. The couple has one son.

Tree cutting dates limited

TWIN FALLS — Permits for Christmas trees to be cut in the Twin Falls Ranger District will be issued only one weekend this year.

District Ranger Lewis Munson said permits will be sold only on the weekend of Dec. 8 and 9 and will be sold only at the Diamondfield Jack snowmobile parking lot between the hours of 9 a.m. and 4 p.m.

Each permit will be $1 with one permit per family allowed. A limited number of permits will be available on a first come, first served basis, the ranger said. Trees must be cut and removed from the forest the same day the permit is obtained. Only lodgepole pine or alpine fir trees will be cut. No permit refunds will be made.

The Diamondfield Jack

snowmobile parking lot is about one mile beyond the Rock Creek Guard Station and Magic Mountain Ski Area.

Munson said persons going into the area to cut trees, will need a snowmobile, skis or snowshoes from the parking lot as the road is closed beyond that point.

Forest regulations prohibit cutting of a tree within 300 yards of any campground, summer home or organization site. Trees cannot be more than eight feet in height and larger trees cannot be topped. Anyone apprehended cutting a tree without a permit or topping a tree will be prosecuted, Munson said.

U. S. Forest Service personnel will be stationed at the parking lot to direct people to areas where trees may be cut and to patrol the area.

Items stolen

TWIN FALLS — Robert Crandall, 457 N. Bracken St., told officers someone entered a camper and small travel trailer at his home and took about $475 in appliances and other items.

He said the camper was broken into sometime between Saturday and Tuesday night. Missing were a propane stove, an ice box, propane tanks a small refrigerator and a glass window.

Alfred M. Tapajillo, 210 Sidney St., reported the loss of a color television set from his home Tuesday night. He said it was the only item taken and was valued at about $350.

Filer recreation district okayed

FILER — Voters passed by a simple majority Tuesday the formation of a Filer Recreation District.

A total of 145 votes were cast in the afternoon election. Of these, 84 voted in favor of the district and 61 voted against it.

A simple majority was needed to pass the ballot measure to set up a new recreation district to help finance maintenance and operation of recreational facilities in and around Filer. Coming under the new district will be the Filer City Park, started several years ago, and the new swimming pool in the park, which opened last summer.

The new district will be administered by three trustees appointed by the governor. The trustees will be named from portions based on equal populations in the new district.

Pending bill may give Congress budget control

(c) Washington Star Syndicate, Inc. WASHINGTON — More than 50 years have passed since Congress adopted the Budget and Accounting Act of 1921.

two chambers can agree on a major pending bill, Congress may be back in the saddle again. The matter is of towering importance to the American people, but the issue lacks political pizzazz.

and if the two chambers thereafter abide by the spirit and the letter of this reform proposal, a new sense of order will be imposed on the present chaos of federal spending.

continue to send up his budget in January, but it will cover a fiscal year beginning in October instead of in July.

The idea at this point is for Congress itself, by joint resolution, to agree upon a single comprehensive ceiling on total prospective spending.

It is an admirable goal, but seeing is believing. The proposed reforms demand that politicians turn into statesmen, and no alchemist yet has perfected that conversion.

Indecision big problem

(c) New York Times Service WASHINGTON — At some point the American people are probably going to have to think about the consequences of indecision.

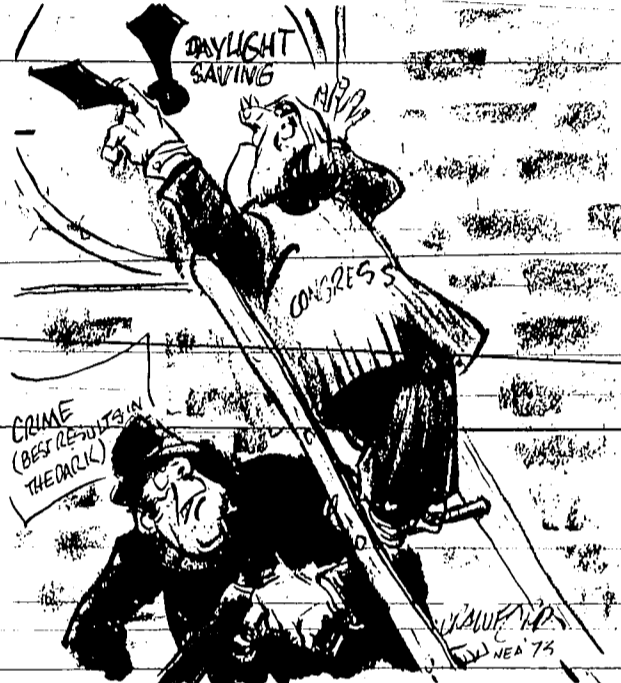

about it, established a secret police in the White House, and picked the clumsiest bunch of amateurs that ever tried to impose their bad judgments on the government of the United States.

You can excuse this all you like, and admire the President for fighting for his life; which is fair enough, but some things you cannot do.

JAMES RESTON

"That's Bad Luck!"

TF police news

The Twin Falls Police Department should adopt a more realistic policy regarding release of information to the public.

The department has assumed an unusual attitude toward providing information to the public. It releases as little information as possible.

An example. On Friday three Twin Falls Women allegedly were kidnapped at gunpoint and one raped.

In such cases it is customary to withhold the names of the women, particularly the person raped. Unless there is some unusual circumstance in the case, there is no public purpose to be accomplished by such release.

But when the Twin Falls police refuse to release the description of the gunman involved in the case who was still loose, that is another matter.

Most Magic Valley departments are glad to provide descriptions of dangerous suspects on the theory that the public may be able to provide information leading to an arrest.

Additionally, most departments consider such descriptions valuable to citizens who may encounter the suspect. Citizens could be helped in their self-defense under some circumstances.

Twin Falls Detective Captain Tim Qualls, through whom such information normally would be channeled, has another theory.

He has said repeatedly that if the police give information about the suspect, the suspect would know he was being sought and would make some effort to elude police.

Qualls believes that people who have committed crimes would be less likely to evade police when they think police aren't chasing them.

Carrying this point further, Qualls also is reluctant to release information about the crime itself. In the case of the kidnap-rape case in Twin Falls, Qualls would only say there was a kidnapping of three women, that the three were released, and that police were still investigating.

Again, the police apparently believe the more information given to the public and the criminal, the more difficult it will be to make an arrest.

The Twin Falls Police Department stands alone in Magic Valley as being reluctant to give rudimentary information about crimes.

In the Twin Falls kidnap-rape case, for example, Twin Falls County Sheriff Paul Corder was willing to release far more information than was the Twin Falls force. Corder gave a general description of the course of the crime and information about the suspect.

The Twin Falls Police have achieved a reputation as a good department. The views of a professional like Capt. Qualls should be taken seriously.

However, we believe the public has a right to be informed about crimes and should be warned about dangerous criminals on the loose. Citizens have the right particularly when the information could be important to their own self protection.

Crime is more likely prevented by an informed and alert citizenry than by even the best professional corps of policemen. And once a crime has been committed, the public can be of assistance to police.

Keeping the public poorly informed in the dubious hope of making a criminal think he is not being sought by police is a poor gamble.

3 ways to meet oil lack

(c) New York Times Service There are three ways of living with the oil shortage.

One is the government's way. It boils down to chins up, stiff upper lip, mittens in the bedroom, all-in-this-thing-together, sacrifice for the good cause, London can take it, and all that.

To survive this course, one requires a robust physique and an appetite for game playing. The basic thought behind it is that an oil shortage is really fun. Inconvenience and discomfort must be seen as challenges which persons of good heart must tackle with goodwill and eagerness to sacrifice.

The government's way will come easiest to people who enjoy self-denial in a good cause.

President Nixon has tried to add romantic appeal to the challenge-and-sacrifice aspect of the shortage, by recasting the satisfying challenges and sacrifices we all met and loved back in World War II. If you liked World War II, the President's argument goes, you'll love the energy crisis.

A lot of people will fail to see the parallel. Hitler is long gone. The Arabs are no substitute. When most Americans think of Arabs, they probably think of Rudolph Valentino.

Many Americans will not like this connection which the government urges upon us. And many of those who don't will resort to the second way of living with the oil shortage. This is, of course, by cheating.

Grand-scale shortages always make some people rich. This one will surely be no exception.

over ambiguous policies which in the end have to be taken on faith in the integrity and good judgment of the President.

And you cannot avoid the consequences of three more years of indecision. Not to decide this question is one way of deciding it, and assuring that the doubts and frustrations and cynicism of the people — particularly the rising generation — go on.

The judiciary committee of the House will not impeach and the Senate will not sit in judgment on the case unless they are forced to by public opinion. But the evidence "at this point in time," as the Watergate boys say, is that the people are tired and bored with the whole thing, and this is the President's hope, and the nation's problem.

RUSSELL BAKER

Sunday dinner because the tank is dry and when we must, therefore, sit home and listen to President Nixon who has just used 6,000 gallons of petroleum products to jet down to Florida and back urge us to sacrifice, we can give him — a gentle, sulky Bronx cheer.

Sulkers have probably always outnumbered the combined forces of cheats and heroes, for sulkers are the foot soldiers of shortage, crisis and war. Without them, the heroic would have no one to feel superior to and the cheaters would lack for those passive, gullible bones from which slightly shady wealth is so easily taken.

Inflation still alive, well

(c) N. Y. Times Service NEW YORK — Whatever happened to inflation?

Unfortunately, it is alive and well and being proclaimed in Washington. The announcement by the labor department that the consumer price index had soared 7.0 per cent in the 12 months ended in October was an unwelcome reminder that inflation is still with us and to an extent unprecedented in more than two decades.

Somehow, we'd almost forgotten about inflation or assumed it had gotten better or at least no worse. The energy crisis burst upon us with such intensity that everything else was blotted out. It's hard to worry about more than one economic crisis at a time.

But the crises get intermixed in the latest report on price inflation. Food prices, which had gone through the roof in late summer, have stabilized, and the villain of the piece has become energy prices. This broad category, which includes everything from gasoline prices to electricity bills, shot up 1.5 per cent last month, compared with eight-tenths of 1 per cent for the index as a whole.

This means that consumer prices were rising at a seasonally adjusted annual rate of 9.7 per cent in October, while fuel and energy prices, on the same basis, were rising 18 per cent. Changes in food prices were ambiguous. Prices actually fell three-tenths of 1 per cent, but on a seasonally adjusted basis, they rose by the same amount, or 3.6 per cent at an annual rate. At any event, food prices are 17 per cent above a year ago.

Thus after more than two years of wage and price controls of varied degree and effectiveness, belated and inadequate restraint in government spending and an erratic monetary policy that swung between tight and loose, inflation still reigns.

The question then arises what should be done about it, and the answer is not much. The lesson of price controls in the Western world over the last decade is that although controls may be useful as a temporary measure to slow down increases until supplies catch up or demands of costs abate, the inevitable result is a catch-up surge in prices once controls are lifted.

In a free enterprise economy, it seems, price increases must be allowed to blow themselves out, performing in the process their free-market function of allocating resources.

Happily, the experience with wage controls in this country is more salutary.

GEORGE S. THOSTESON, M.D.

'Dumping' causes distress

Dear Dr. Thosteson: My problem has been diagnosed as the "dumping syndrome." Can you give me any information on diet, etc.? — R. D.P.

This is a distressing problem which can develop after part of the stomach has been removed — including the muscle that controls the outlet of the stomach. The result is a rush of food into the small intestine. It is "dumped" into the gut.

Since it does not remain in the stomach long enough for the stomach to do its assigned chores in digestion, the result is diarrhea, sweating, weakness, giddiness, nausea, sometimes heart palpitation.

Diet is the primary although not entire treatment. Small, frequent meals that are high in protein and low in carbohydrates (starchy foods and sugar) are the best answer. Fluids should be taken only between meals rather than with meals, to retard the "dumping" speed.

Medication usually is given to slow down the motility (activity) of the stomach. Occasionally additional surgery is required.

Pioneer nearing Jupiter

(c) New York Times Service NEW YORK — After a 22-month, 600-million-mile voyage from Earth, the first into the outer reaches of the solar system, Pioneer 10 is within 4 million miles of Jupiter and streaking in fast for man's first close-up examination of the planet that is so massive and turbulent that it is sometimes considered the stillborn twin of the Sun.

The unmanned, 570-pound spacecraft is scheduled to make its closest approach to mighty Jupiter at 9:26 p.m. on Dec. 3. Pioneer-10 is targeted to fly within 81,000 miles of the planet.

But already the spacecraft's instruments are sensing the "presence of the planet."

A University of Chicago charged particle detector on Pioneer 10 is beginning to show traces of particle radiation from Jupiter, according to project officials at the Ames Research Center at Mountain View, Calif.

A University of Arizona imaging system has returned pictures showing distinct views of Jupiter's multicolored atmospheric belts and its mysterious Great Red Spot. The pictures, primarily tests of the system, were encouraging to the hundreds of expectant scientists.

And there were some preliminary indications that Pioneer 10 was beginning to cross into Jupiter's magnetosphere, the region where a planet's magnetic field plays an important role in all physical phenomena.

Pioneer 10 has already penetrated within the orbits of the outermost of Jupiter's 12 moons. Under the increasing influence of Jupiter's gravity, the spacecraft is gathering speed, now approaching at 25,000 miles an hour and expected to reach 82,000 miles an hour during the closest fly-by.

The spacecraft, launched from Cape Canaveral, Fla., on March 2, 1972, carries 11 scientific instruments and all are reported to have survived the long journey in working order. Pioneer 10 was the first man-made object to fly through the asteroid belt between Mars and Jupiter, finding it less of an obstacle course than had been feared.

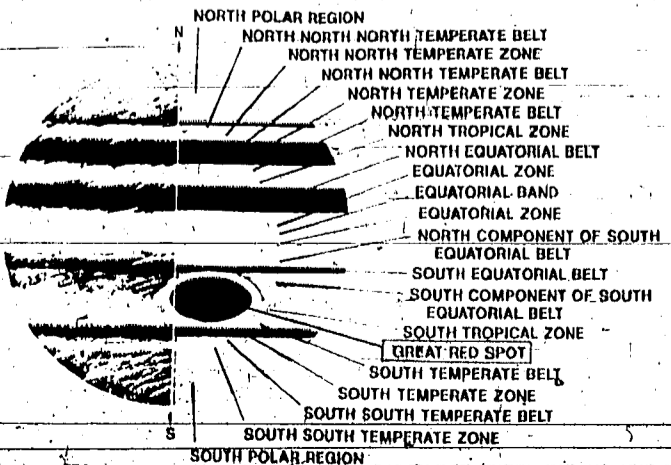

To Dr. James A. Van Allen of the University of Iowa, one of the project scientists, the flight of Pioneer-10 represents the "cracking of the planet barrier."

Until now, all planetary probes were aimed at Venus, Mars and the Earth's moon. They were close at hand and objects of fervent speculation, both scientific and popular. But it is estimated that 99 per cent of all the matter in the Sun's planetary system is out beyond the orbit of Mars — 71 per cent of it tied up in Jupiter.

An object of beauty and mystery, Jupiter is 1,300 times the size of Earth, a fluffy ball of gas with multicolored stripes of slate gray, blue-gray, salmon and yellow. Its Great Red Spot, floating in the southern hemisphere, is considerably larger than the entire Earth.

Pioneer 10 is expected to transmit 340 images of Jupiter and 10 images of its four largest planets. The resolution of the images will not begin to compare with the pictures from lunar and Mars missions. The smallest objects that should be visible in the images would be about as big as the state of Connecticut.

BERRY'S WORLD

"My Gosh! Are you still crying over the royal wedding?"

Campaign fund reform bill set

WASHINGTON (UPI) — The Senate has passed a far-reaching reform of campaign laws, a bill to outlaw private contributions to congressional or presidential candidates.

Under the bill, bona fide candidates would automatically receive payments from the U.S. Treasury to finance their election races.

A candidate for a House seat would get $50,000; for a Senate seat $175,000 and for the Presidency $21 million — less than half of what the committee to Re-elect the President reports spending on President Nixon's behalf in 1972.

The idea of financing campaigns from tax funds to reduce the influence of big donors has been advocated by figures ranging from Theodore Roosevelt to Spiro T. Agnew.

But major obstacles remain in the bill's path and it appears to have less than an even chance of becoming law.

The measure was attached as a rider to a bill raising the statutory ceiling on the national debt. The existing ceiling expires at midnight Friday.

The debt ceiling bill now goes from the Senate, where it won final approval on a 57-34 rollcall, to a House-Senate conference committee.

Rep. Al Ullman, D-Ore., who will lead House members in the conference, says he opposes riders which have not had full House committee and floor consideration. There is also the prospect of a presidential veto.

Privately, some members of Congress said they feared becoming vulnerable to attack for voting "to finance their own campaigns from tax dollars."

Others were said to oppose financing potential opponents. The bill would not become effective until 1976. Candidates in primaries for House and Senate seats would still depend on private donors to finance their races.

The bill allows taxpayers to designate on their tax form that they want to earmark $2 of their income taxes ($4 for a joint return) for the support of political candidates. But if that does not produce enough, Congress could appropriate enough to finance every race.

Congress to get Nixon 'packets'

WASHINGTON (UPI) — President Nixon plans to disclose information concerning his personal finances and income taxes but not his actual returns in a packet he will send to each member of Congress this week.

Nixon told a dinner gathering of 37 Democratic congressmen last night the package also will include information concerning the controversial antitrust case involving the International Telephone and Telegraph Corp. (ITT).

The President rounded up the House members as part of his "Operation Candor" counter-offensive to answer Watergate-related allegations in his fight to restore confidence in his administration.

But, according to the congressional guests, Watergate was barely mentioned, and only one question about ITT was asked.

Rep. Don Fuqua, D-Fla., said

Nixon told the group the "packet to the members of Congress" would relate to his personal finances, ITT and his tax returns.

Rep. John B. Breckinridge, D-Ky., said Nixon pledged to "make available data" about the tax returns but not the returns themselves. "I hope you will all study it very closely," Breckinridge recalled Nixon saying.

The report that only data on his Internal Revenue Service returns would be made public, rather than the forms conflicted with the understanding of a group of senators Nixon met with Monday night.

The President has had a group of White House staffers preparing the package — expected to be the first in a series Nixon will issue "to clear up once and for all" allegations concerning his finances and role in the political scandal.

Halperin testifies

(c) N. Y. Times Service
A former Nixon administration official has testified that Henry A. Kissinger barred his access to sensitive national security information three days before the official's telephone was tapped under a secret program that President Nixon had defended as necessary to halt leaks of such information.

In an affidavit filed Tuesday in Federal District Court in Washington, Morton H. Halperin, the former official, who is suing Secretary of State Kissinger and others in connection with the wiretap said that he had made an oral agreement with Kissinger on the question of access. The arrangement with Kissinger was made, Halperin said, on May 9, 1969, in a conversation at Key Biscayne, Fla. This occurred after Kissinger, then the President's assistant for National Security Affairs, told Halperin that he was suspected of supplying the information for a newspaper article that day about the secret bombing of Cambodia, the affidavit said.

Halperin, then a staff member of the National Security Council, which Kissinger headed, denied the accusation and his superior "indicated that he accepted my assurances," his affidavit said.

Sen. Baker eyes 'missing piece'

WASHINGTON (UPI) — Sen. Howard H. Baker Jr., R-Tenn., says the major "missing piece" in the Watergate investigation is whether a national security matter referred to in President Nixon's Florida news conference was related to the break-in at the Democratic national offices.

In an interview late Tuesday, Baker, the committee's ranking Republican, said that if it is shown the matter was related to the burglary, "then I've got a problem."

Nixon and Sen. Sam J. Ervin Jr., D-N.C., the committee chairman, have taken the view that the matter was too sensitive even for the committee to investigate.

Baker said he did not necessarily agree with Nixon and Ervin.

"The tip of the iceberg may be the only thing showing," Baker said. "I'm not sure we can put it together. There are a lot of missing pieces in the puzzle," adding that the major one was something Nixon referred to twice in his Florida news conference.

In the Nov. 19 news conference in Orlando, Nixon twice referred to "very highly sensitive matters" that Ervin and Baker had decided not to delve into further.

The committee voted Tuesday to adjourn until an unspecified time in January, at least in part because the staff investigation is stymied on President Nixon's alleged $2 million milk fund and billionaire Howard Hughes' $100,000 payment to Nixon's friend, C. G. "Bebe" Rebozo.

Baker said he believed hearings "probably" would resume in January, although for a short time.

Sen. Lowell P. Weicker Jr., R-Conn., complaining that the committee staff had lost its momentum since the first round of hearings ended in August, sought unsuccessfully to continue the hearings

Consumer takes crisis burden

WASHINGTON (UPI) — The government's new heating-oil allocation regulations put the fuel conservation burden squarely on the back of the American consumer, to the tune of a 6 to 10 degree temperature reduction in their homes and businesses.

The regulations, published in the Federal Register, will require that the end user of middle distillate fuels — the American consumer — cut indoor temperatures or face the prospect of running out of fuel during the coldest months.

The administration originally had hoped to solve heating oil shortages by allocation at the wholesale level only, but the new regulations put the primary responsibility on the final user.

The regulations are designed to force consumers to lower thermostats 6 degrees in homes and 10 degrees in businesses — the amount recommended by Nixon in a nationwide speech Sunday — or to reduce consumption of other scarce fuels by an equivalent amount.

Customers will get an initial "fill-up" if enough heating oil is available but after that supplies will be cut by the amount necessary to force the lower temperatures.

Anything left over will be saved for non-priority uses, including hardship cases and states are called upon to set up a "state reserve" from 10 percent of the nonpriority allocations.

The regulations will not go into effect until Congress has passed President Nixon's energy conservation legislation, expected to be law by mid-December.

The administration said the limits on heating oil use are necessary to spread anticipated shortages "equitably throughout the nation."

Boyle's lawyer seeks dismissal

PITTSBURGH (UPI) — Lawyers for W.A. "Tony" Boyle, the former United Mine Workers (UMW) president, will ask U.S. District Court today to dismiss a federal indictment charging him with conspiracy in connection with the murder of Union insurgent Joseph A. "Jock" Yablonski.

Boyle will not be at the hearing, at which government attorneys also will ask Federal Judge Gerald Weber to quash subpoenas served by Boyle's counsel on Assistant U.S. Attorney General Henry E. Peterson and special prosecutor Richard Sprague of Philadelphia.

Boyle, 71, is in a Washington hospital, where he was admitted Sept. 5 suffering from an overdose of sleeping pills.

If the defense motion to dismiss the federal indictment is refused, Weber will have to set a date for Boyle to appear here for arraignment. That could be next week.

Boyle is the ninth person accused in the murders of Yablonski, who tried to unseat Boyle in a UMW election, and Yablonski's wife and daughter. They were shot to death in their Clarksville, Pa., home Dec. 31, 1969.

In addition to the federal conspiracy charges, Boyle also faces state murder charges in Pennsylvania. He has waived extradition to this state to stand trial.

Four of the other defendants were convicted at trials in Erie and Washington, Pa., on state murder charges.

Purists

To keep their language pure, Icelanders discourage the introduction of foreign words. When television arrived, for example, Icelanders rejected this alien word in favor of sjovarp, derived from the two old words: sjon (sight) and varp (throwing).

Bus gets trial run

JUST THE THING to beat the fuel shortage. This non-polluting, high pressured-gas powered "City Bus" rolls through streets of downtown Bonn during trial run. The 20 passenger bus will shuttle shoppers to and from the central bus stations during a four-week trial period in the West German capital's non-pedestrian section. (UPI)

Costs decline

WASHINGTON (UPI) — With retail beef prices dropping for the first time in 13 months, the cost of a typical food "market basket" registered its second straight monthly decline in October, according to the Agriculture Department.

The report, however, also showed the 0.5 percent October decline could have been 2.4 percent if middlemen had passed through to consumers last month's full price drop in raw farm products.

According to the report, the drop was due entirely to a continuing skid in the price of raw farm products.

But at the same time, middlemen charges rose 3.3 percent, or $29, to an annual rate total of $908 and thus eroded most of the farm price decline.

On a weekly basis, the retail market basket cost averaged $31.15 in October, 18 cents below September and 64 cents below the August peak.

Space laboratory eyes own 'crisis'

HOUSTON (UPI) — The Skylab orbiting space station has its own private energy crisis.

The giant space laboratory is using too much gas every time it tries to maneuver in space. And although the problem does not threaten the planned 84-day mission or pose any danger to the three Skylab astronauts, it could cripple some of the experiments unless repaired.

For instance, one of the most important jobs the astronauts have been assigned during this mission is taking pictures of the Comet Kohoutek. In order to

Airlines rap Pentagon

WASHINGTON (UPI) — An airline association says there will be a "devastating impact" on air transport if the Pentagon takes too much fuel away from civilian airlines for its own needs.

Government officials announced Tuesday that the Pentagon has ordered 22 major U.S. oil companies to divert 326 million gallons of petroleum products of all types, including jet fuel, from civilian users to meet military needs.

Officials said the action was the first ever taken under a 23-year-old emergency military fuel law but that similar orders may be issued quarterly as long as Arab nations embargo oil shipments to the United States.

The Air Transport Association (ATA), which represents airlines, said Tuesday: "Unless action is taken to increase jet fuel production, the armed forces will find it necessary to commandeer additional millions of gallons of jet fuel intended for airline use."

Paul R. Ignatius, president of ATA, said: "Any discriminatory cuts in jet fuel allocations to the airlines, or a failure by refineries to fill fuel quotas would have a devastating impact on the nation's air transportation system."

The Defense and Interior departments notified the oil firms of the 828 million gallon diversion Nov. 16, but it was not announced until Tuesday. The Nov. 16 order gave each firm a military fuel quota for November and December. Amounts of these quotas ranged from 108 million gallons for Shell Oil Co. and 106 million gallons for Texaco to 4.7 million gallons for the Douglas Oil Co. of California.

Arab leaders set tough united front over oil

ALGIERS (UPI) — The leaders of the Arab world have adopted a tough united front on oil, political sources said today. They decided to wield the oil weapon firmly and extend its use where necessary. The sources said that during six hours of summit discussions which will end today, 16 heads of state adopted a four-point resolution from their foreign ministers on how oil cutbacks and embargoes should be applied. The heads of state decided to exempt Japan and the Philippines temporarily from oil cutbacks. Arab League Secretary-General Mahmoud Rind said this was because of their stand favorable to Arab rights. The final session starting at 10:30 a.m. (3:30 a.m. MST) was to be followed by a public session and the publication of a communique.

drop in production. — A halt to the flow of oil to states which are opposed to "the causes of the African people" — Portugal, Rhodesia and South Africa. — Agreement that the oil policy should be "flexible but firm" which means that countries will be reviewed regularly, with the embargo lifted on states that support the Arabs and cuts for those who take an anti-Arab stand. European nations apart from Holland have been exempted from the cutback through December and this will apply to the Far Eastern countries too. Rind announced the leaders decided to recognize Yasser Arafat's Palestine Liberation Organization (PLO) as the authentic representative of the Palestinian people. Political sources said this could affect Jordan's participation in the Geneva peace talks with Israel scheduled next month. King Hussein, whose kingdom is more than 50 per cent Palestinian, claims to speak for the Palestinian people and reports from Amman said Jordan would not go to Geneva if the summit recognize the PLO. "King Hussein is another subject," Rind said. "He is talking about the future and that matter should be left to the people of the (Palestinian majority) West Bank to decide their destiny in a plebiscite."

No reply yet

ROME (UPI) — The mother of J. Paul Getty III said Tuesday she has not heard from her son's alleged kidnapers about her offer of $1-million ransom.

The woman, Mrs. Gail Harris, said only newsmen had contacted her about the latest ransom offer and appealed to them to stop calling so that her phone would be free in case an answer was received.

The youth, the grandson of the American oil millionaire, has been missing 142 days.

Passenger trains lacking equipment

By United Press International
Many Americans are turning to the railroads as a way around the gasoline shortage, a United Press International survey shows. Officials say they may not be enough passenger cars to meet the demand. Railroad spokesmen called the increased number of passengers in recent weeks "tremendous" and "dramatic," and said they expect the trend to grow as the energy shortage grows tighter. One Chicago commuter railroad reported a nine per cent jump in passengers in October compared with a year ago. Edward Edel, vice president of Amtrak, said that traffic on trains operated by the semi-public corporation is running 11 per cent over last year. He said it expects to carry about 17.5 million passengers in 1973, at least 1 million more than 1972.

Ken Mobley, spokesman for Amtrak's West Coast operations, noted a "tremendous increase" in passengers. He said it has used up all available equipment "but it's not enough" to keep up with demand. Penn Central-Amtrak reported that an extra 20,000 seats were added Sunday on its eastern seaboard routes. A spokesman called the increase "dramatic," and said another 200 new passenger cars are being ordered. He said it will be at least a year before they are delivered, so half of the line's existing 1,900 cars are being refurbished to meet projected demand. The Chesapeake and Ohio Railroad, Southern Railway and Union Pacific reported smaller increases in recent weeks. A UP spokesman said the line is operating "fairly close to full capacity right now."

Arabs may ease oil embargoes

(c) Chicago Sun-Times
WASHINGTON — The Arabs are expected soon to ease restrictions on oil shipments directly to Europe and indirectly to the United States, administration sources disclosed Tuesday. The sources said they expected a decision at the Arab summit conference in Algiers to restore full deliveries of oil to Europe. The decision, which may not be announced, will probably result in resumed deliveries of Arab oil that was refined in Europe and transhipped to the United States before the Middle East War. It is estimated that the transshipments accounted for as much as 5 per cent of the total U.S. consumption of before the war. At their summit Tuesday, the Arabs decided to cancel an additional 5 per cent cutback in oil shipments to Japan and the Philippines, a step they took earlier for all Western European nations except the Netherlands. The Arabs so far have reduced oil production about 25 per cent. The sources credited Secretary of State Henry Kissinger with persuading King Faisal of Saudi Arabia at their meeting Nov. 8 in Saudi Arabia to relent on the Arab cutbacks to Europe. Later, Saudi Arabia proposed to the other Arab states that the oil restrictions be lifted for Japan and Europe, with the exception of the Netherlands, which is considered pro-Israel. The Arab foreign ministers approved the proposal over the weekend, according to reports from the Arab summit, and it is expected to be adopted by the full conference later this week.

Secretaries question Rose Mary's version on erasure

By United Press International
A random check with secretaries around the nation shows that most of those who were asked found it hard to believe Rose Mary Woods' explanation of how a portion of one of the Watergate tapes was erased.

The President's private secretary testified Tuesday that she was distracted by a telephone call and inadvertently pushed the wrong button, erasing 18 minutes of recorded tape.

Linda Broadus, 21, secretary for a Louisville, Ky., insurance firm, said, "If I did that to my boss it would be my job. I can't imagine a secretary, especially one as accomplished as Rose Mary Woods, making a mistake like that. I don't believe it. She's got to be covering up for her boss as far as I'm concerned."

She said when asked that she would do something similar on purpose if she had to protect her employer. "Why not, I like my job," she explained.

But Linda Valentine of Memphis, Tenn., who used to work at Memphis State University, said "It would be simple to accidentally hit a record button and erase some tape. When I worked with a tape recorder I was always scared to death that I would do that."

Beth McKimmons, a secretary for the Seattle Post-Intelligencer, said, "It is possible 18 minutes of tape could be erased, although it has never happened to me."

Mrs. K. Bobb Halderman, secretary to the vice president for planning at Thomas Jefferson University-Hospital in Philadelphia, said: "I don't see how she could have done it. If you're working with something that's important you always look before you press any buttons, no matter how well you think you have them memorized."

"If Rose Mary Woods received a phone call and wanted to stop transcribing, if she had the newest equipment, which she probably did, being the President's secretary, she would not have to press the stop button because the way to stop was to lift her foot off the pedal."

"If she was working for the President and took pride in what she was doing she would not take the chance of not looking at the buttons."

Henry to Mideast

(c) New York Times Service
WASHINGTON—Secretary of State Henry A. Kissinger may make another trip to the Middle East in two weeks to discuss the prospects for the anticipated Arab-Israeli peace conference with key states in the area, administration officials said Tuesday.

The officials said that a final decision on Kissinger's trip had not yet been taken and would depend on developments in the next week. They said that if it took place it would follow the North-Atlantic Treaty Organization ministerial meeting set for Dec. 10 and 11 in Brussels.

Kissinger, who will head the American delegation to the NATO meeting, tentatively plans to fly from Brussels to London to deliver a speech he originally had scheduled in October, but which was postponed because of the Middle East crisis.

Invitations out

WASHINGTON (UPI)—The United States and Russia are inviting the Arabs and Israel to a peace conference in Geneva beginning Dec. 18.

A State Department spokesman said the first bids went out Tuesday. It was understood that those invited include Israel, Egypt, Syria and Jordan. The question of whether the Palestinians will be permitted to attend appears to have been left undecided.

Secretary of State Henry A. Kissinger said a week ago that the question of inviting representatives of the Palestinian refugees could be put off until the conference had an opportunity to decide.

Support sought

ATHENS (UPI)—Greece's new military rulers moved today to gain wider public support, freeing protesters jailed for taking part in a three-day rebellion against toppled strongman President George Papadopoulos.

The military chiefs, despite rejecting Papadopoulos' proposal for an election next year, were also reported ready to announce pure democracy as the main goal of their new regime.

In a conciliatory gesture, the government Tuesday began releasing—the 302 demonstrators arrested during the Nov. 18-19 student-worker uprising in Athens against the Papadopoulos regime.

Dimitrios Partalidis, chief of the Greek Communist party, was among the first group of protesters freed after more than a week in jail for taking part in the violent uprising which led to 12 deaths and more than 150 injuries.

Murder changed to self defense

LEWISTON, Idaho (UPI)—A charge of first degree murder against a bartender has been dropped after the prosecutor said he shot his victim in self defense.

Richard Hatton, 46, Lewiston, had been charged with the shooting death of Harvey Cantrell, 39, Orofino, on Oct. 19 at Jim's Playroom at Myrtle Beach about 15 miles east of here on U.S. Highway 12.

Nezperce County Prosecutor Roy Mosman asked in Second District Court Monday afternoon that the charge against Hatton be dropped and his request was granted.

Mosman told the court that after interviewing witnesses to the shooting he had determined it was self defense.

The prosecutor said Cantrell had pointed a 44 Magnum revolver at Hatton before Hatton pulled a 357 Magnum revolver from behind the bar and killed him with a single shot between the eyes.

Hatton had been free on $5,000 bond pending outcome of the investigation in the case.

Further gasoline cuts proposed

By ROBERTA HORNIG Washington Star-News

WASHINGTON—An additional 10 per cent cutback in gasoline supplies may be imposed by the Nixon administration over the next few weeks.

The further reduction, over the 15 per cent that President Nixon announced Sunday in his energy message, would be at the retail level and would affect passenger cars, an administration source said.

The President's cabinet-level emergency energy action group was to take up Tuesday possible measures to discourage gasoline consumption.

Treasury Secretary George Shultz will present a variety of tax proposals, among them a 30-cents-a-gallon gasoline tax that officials estimate would reduce gas consumption by 22 per cent.

There is at present a four-cent federal tax on gasoline. The proposed tax would boost the price of a gallon of gas to around .75 cents.

Another proposal under consideration is a coupon system combined with a tax. Under it, the 30-cents-a-gallon tax would be coupled with a coupon allowing motorists 10 to 20 gallons of gasoline a week.

Still another proposal is a coupon system that would allow motorists a percentage, estimated at 60 per cent, of the gasoline they normally consume. Above that level, motorists would be penalized for each additional gallon of gas.

Also to be presented is an energy use tax, or a fee that would be imposed on electricity and natural gas when consumption exceeded a certain level.

One treasury official said he does not think a tax is "politically feasible" in Congress at this time.

Administration sources now privately concede that gasoline rationing may be necessary if the Arab boycott is prolonged.

Paving company's appeal tabled

HAILEY—Gordon Paving Co.'s appeal for reconsideration of a variance to allow continued use of its Hidden Hollow asphalt batch plant, north of Hailey, boiled down to legal questions Monday night.

After about a one and one-half hour session, the Blaine County Planning and Zoning Board of Appeals adjourned, with a decision on the appeal expected to be made in about 10 days.

Appeals board chairman E. Ze Schlender said time will be allowed for Lloyd Walker, Twin Falls attorney representing Gordon Paving, and county attorney Stephen W. Boller to file briefs; the board will conduct an executive session, and will publically announce its decision.

During the Monday night session, Walker said Gordon Paving was appealing the county planning and zoning commission's Oct. 2 decision unanimously approving an administrative decision to deny reconsideration of the variance terms granted to Gordon Paving in June, 1971.

The 1971 variance had stipulated that use of the batch plant would terminate at the end of the 1973 construction season.

Walker requested the appeals board to "review without emotion" the legal questions of whether the planning and zoning commission had the power to do more than make recommendations and suggestions and whether it has the power to "take away a property right."

"According to Idaho enabling statutes for planning and zoning commissions, Walker said, 'nothing empowers (commissions) to make a decision or final determination.' He also said that the county planning and zoning ordinance contained nothing to delegate power from the county commis-

today in brief

Low bidder listed

BOISE (UPI) — A Blackfoot construction company was the apparent low bidder for state highway work on U.S. 101 in Eastern Idaho.

The Goodwin Construction Co. submitted a bid of $540,507 for construction of a 642-foot pre-stressed concrete bridge and approaches over the Snake River in Jefferson and Madison Counties. There were four bidders for the project.

Guide recovers

SALMON, Idaho (UPI) — A Craigmont hunting guide was recovering today in a Pocatello Hospital following a pack string accident which injured him and killed five animals on the middle fork of the Salmon River.

Officials at St. Anthony's Hospital said Andy Wozniak, 21, was in serious condition.

Wozniak was flown to Salmon Tuesday and then on to Pocatello.

Reports indicated that Joe Pack, Challis outfitter, and four employees, including Wozniak, were bringing the pack animals out of the back country following the conclusion of the hunting season.

The string of six horses and mules apparently lost their footing and slipped from the trail.

Proposal scheduled

BOISE (UPI) — A delegate assembly of the Idaho Education Association will take up a proposal this weekend for an $18.1 million increase in state aid to the public schools.

Executive Secretary Wayne York said the delegate assembly also will consider a statewide uniform salary schedule for teachers, a public employe collective bargaining bill and a district court order for uniform financing of the school system.

Approximately 350 teachers are expected to attend the two-day meeting which begins Friday at Capital High School.

Levy approved

MERIDIAN, Idaho (UPI) — Voters here have approved a bond levy of $3.2 million for the construction of a new high school.

A record number of voters turned out Tuesday for the election.

Officials said 73 per cent of the 1,779 of the votes cast favored the levy.

Breaks ground

TF annex recommended

By DAVID HORSMAN

TWIN FALLS — The Twin Falls City Planning and Zoning Commission Tuesday voted to recommend annexation of four properties into the city.

Most of the parcels had already been granted city water and sewer services under agreements that required annexation.

The K mart property southeast of the Addison Avenue East-Eastland Drive intersection was recommended for annexation with a commercial local zoning designation.

The North Campus Apartments property, developed by the Greater Idaho Corp. north of the College of Southern Idaho, was recommended for annexation with a residential medium density zoning designation.

A 28-acre parcel south of the College of Southern Idaho, containing the Twin Falls West Apartments, was recommended for annexation with two zoning designations. The apartment area, comprising about four acres of the parcel, was recommended for residential medium zoning and the remaining land for residential low density.

Two lots, at 452 and 456 Sunrise Blvd. N. were recommended for annexation with residential low zoning. Two duplexes are located on the lots.

The zoners also recommended approval of a rear yard set back variance request by Kimble Durham for his property at 1239 Fourth Ave. E. Durham requested that the set back requirement be reduced from 25 feet to 10 feet to allow construction of a garage and storage area. The zoners recommendations will go to the Twin Falls City Council for final action.

Teacher salaries vary

The commission would also be responsible for setting a salary schedule for non certified district employes and that job descriptions and salary schedules of certified and non-certified personnel be correlated so that equal responsibility results in equal pay.

That a uniform fringe-benefit program be provided by all districts;

That the State Board of Education be permitted to certify additional mill levies for districts if it finds they cannot meet the requirements of the schedule for the 1976-77 school year.

The reports note a variation in the beginning salaries paid to teachers ranging from $4,800 to $7,800 and a difference in average salary between just above $9,000 and $9,338.

The reports also contain figures that show Idaho's low ranking among the 50 states in teacher salaries, although they do not contain comparative information for the current year.

The 1973 legislature appropriated substantial increases in money for public schools, and passed a letter of intent explaining the funds should go to upgrade teacher and non-certified personnel salaries.

Figures for the 1972-73 school year, however, show Idaho 48th among 50 states in salaries for its teachers, while the national average teacher's salary, set at $10,600, was $2,500 above the state average.

Also noted in the main report is a variation among school districts in a single county. Gooding County school districts, for example, show a variation in average salary of $1,200, with the best paying district offering $820 more for a new teacher than the lowest-paying district in the same county.

On the topic of wealth, the report says, "It is evident that there is no correlation between the districts' ability to pay and the salaries paid, if it is assumed that assessed valuation per (weighted average daily attendance) is a measure of ability to pay."

Senate hopeful plans to 'undo things'

TWIN FALLS — Bob Smith, Nampa, said here Tuesday he would try to turn things around in Washington if elected to the US Senate.

Smith, a conservative Republican and the only announced candidate for the 1974 Senate seat now held by Frank Church, would try to reduce the power of government.

Within government, however, he would try to shift power away from the President toward the Congress, and leave the courts where they are, he said.

Smith said he had adopted the slogan "Don't ask what a politician can do for you. Ask what he can undo."

Smith, a lawyer, had been the campaign manager for Idaho First District Rep. Steve Symms and Symms' administration assistant in Washington. He resigned that post at the end of October when he announced his candidacy.

In outlining his political position, Smith said the central theme was reduction of the power of government. He said he did not support the "new federalism" proposed by President Nixon and others which would shift power from Federal to state government.

Instead, Smith said, government at all levels should be reduced dramatically. Governmental regulation would be replaced with free market mechanisms under this plan.

Within the reduced federal government, Smith would try to curtail the power of the executive and "return it" to the Congress.

"The President is far too powerful. I'm committed to reducing the power of the executive office,"

Smith made a clear break with President Nixon's view of the proper power of the presidency. He said Nixon had expressed distaste for fuel allocation and wage-price controls "but he does them anyway."

He objected to the War Powers Bill which was recently passed over Nixon's veto. He said the bill would give additional power to the President.

"The presidential power ought to be limited to emergency situations involving the defense of the United States. . . . If the Continental United States is not in jeopardy of an imminent attack then the Congress ought to define it and not the President."

Smith was critical of US involvements abroad. "We have no business trying to be the policeman to the world. Moreover, the nation should not provide foreign aid to others."

"We ought to be sure we're strong and be willing to trade with anyone in the world, but we ought to insist we get paid. I don't think the US taxpayer ought to be supporting any kind of a foreign aid program."

Joint plan okayed by Jerome aides

JEROME — Jerome County commissioners and Jerome City councilmen reached an agreement Tuesday afternoon on a joint law enforcement plan.

Under the plan the city and county will share use of a proposed new county courthouse addition, but the two law-enforcement departments will continue to operate separately.

Claude Bernard, county commission chairman, said today agreement papers are being drawn up.

"The agreement states that the city will pay the county approximately $2,114 the first year to help defray the expenses of operating the law enforcement facilities, which will be jointly housed in the new courthouse addition," Bernard said.

"We expect expenses of the departments to remain at the present level, but combining the two agencies in one building will provide the city and county with better law enforcement on a 24-hour basis," Bernard said.

Bernard explained that the agreement with the city will not go into effect until after the new facilities are built a year from now.

He said that the mutual agreement on cost sharing for the new jail facility had to be reached now in order for the county to apply for $110,000 in grant moneys from the State Law Enforcement Planning Agency.

In addition to the joint law enforcement, the new addition, which is expected to cost between $400,000 and $450,000 will have a new courtroom, offices for the prosecuting attorney, public defender and a conference room.

Also in the plans will be the renovating and expansion of some of the present offices in the courthouse.

A public hearing on the proposed new addition will be held at 8 p.m. Thursday at City Hall.

"Ample time is planned for citizens to express their views on the proposal," Bernard said.

TF hospital funds tight

TWIN FALLS — Hospital financial conditions will be tight, bordering on critical, in 1974, Magic Valley Memorial Hospital board members were told here Tuesday.

In a special meeting of the board Tuesday afternoon hospital administrator James Rosenbaum and attorney Fred Decker explained the application of the Phase 4 program.

Rosenbaum said a maximum of 7 per cent increase in hospital charges will be allowed to offset rising costs which are several times that amount in various categories of supplies and equipment.

"It appears, based on aggregate income as required under Phase 4, we will actually get about a 5 per cent increase and our 1974 budget reflects this," Rosenbaum said.

If the hospital has an upsurge in volume of services, the rate of increase allowed in charges to the hospital customer will go down, Rosenbaum said, and there will be at least some increase in services.

As for the present financial condition, he said, it is not good but not as bad as had been anticipated. "At the beginning of the year accountants predicted the hospital would operate 'in the red' in 1973."

"We will end the year about $43,000 in the red," Rosenbaum said. "But we had anticipated the figure would be higher. Due to some cutbacks in personnel and other operation reductions, we have been able to reduce the figure some."

The hospital is going ahead with plans for a $4.5 million bond issue Feb. 12 to provide for much needed expansion of hospital bed space.

"This is the only way we can see to keep space with the needs in view of our tight financial situation," Rosenbaum said.

California man charged

TWIN FALLS — A man identified as Buddy Cleon Van Voltenburg, 34, Santa Rosa, Calif., was arraigned in magistrate court here this morning on charges of kidnap and rape.

Judge Daniel Meehl set bond at $10,000 on each count for a total of $20,000 and the man was remanded to the sheriff's custody pending preliminary hearing. He requested a preliminary hearing on both charges.

Sheriff Paul Corder said the man is charged with the rape Friday night of a 20-year-old Gooding woman near Rogerson and also faces a charge brought by city officers of kidnaping the woman and her two 18-year-old companions Friday night in Twin Falls.

The two younger women were left bound in the desert near Rogerson and the other was let out of her abductor's car near American Falls a few hours later.

Corder said Van Voltenburg was arrested by Blackfoot city police Monday night and held for local authorities.

He said he has contacted Santa Rosa police and has been advised a man fitting the description and known there as Buddy Van Voltenburg is under grand jury indictment in California Superior Court in Santa Rosa on three counts of rape, three counts of armed robbery and one count of car theft.

There is also a parole violation warrant for him in that city with a $100,000 bond. He was paroled from the California Men's Colony in San Luis Obispo July 13, 1973, for a three-year period, authorities reported.

Corder said the district attorney there is contacting Twin Falls County prosecutor Robert Galley to determine if the suspect is to remain in Idaho or return to California to face charges there.

Listed 'fair'

TWIN FALLS — Glenn A. King, 63, Rogerson, was listed in fair condition at Magic Valley Memorial Hospital this morning with third degree burns over the back portion of his body.

He was taken to the hospital by a passing motorist after his vehicle left the highway just north of the state line shortly after 5 a.m. today. The vehicle caught fire, officers said and by the time they arrived the man had been taken from the scene. Sheriff's officers were continuing to investigate.

Hospital authorities said on Tuesday another motorist, Joseph Lawrence, 61, Contact, Nev., was treated and released. Hospital attendants said he also suffered burns in a traffic accident south of Twin Falls.

Briefs

RUPERT — River Reelers Square Dancers will dance at the IOOF Hall, Rupert, at 8:30 p.m. Saturday. All square dancers are welcome. Those attending are asked to bring potluck dishes and own table service.

Wrong total listed

WENDELL — The bid total for the Wendell sewer system is $214,934 instead of $215,934 as incorrectly reported in the Tuesday Times-News.

The Times-News regrets the error. Neilson Construction Company, Twin Falls, submitted the bid.

Highway funds drop

BOISE (UPI) — State Highway Engineer Vic Richardson says Idaho will get only $125 million for interstate highway construction next year, a drop of nearly $7 million from the present apportionment.

Richardson told the fall meeting of the Idaho Highway Users Conference Tuesday that at present funding levels "it is all too obvious that Idaho's interstate program will continue into at least the mid 1980's."

He said there are 612 miles of Interstate highways in Idaho, including 475 miles of four-lane routes and 54 miles of two-lane roads.

Salary budget cut

CALDWELL, Idaho (UPI) — A budget committee has cut the salary budget of the Southwest District Health Department by nearly $15,000 at an unpublished meeting.

While the decision was disclosed at a budget hearing Tuesday afternoon, it was made at a secret session Tuesday morning in the Canyon County Courthouse.

Mrs. Rachel M. Enulsen, Wilder, chairman of the district board, said she thought it was "most unfair."

"They set the budget without having any comment from the board of health whatsoever," she said.

U of I system sought

MOSCOW, Idaho (UPI) — The University of Idaho, in an effort to save energy, plans to ask the board of regents next month for approval to purchase a power management system.

Dr. Sherman Carter, financial vice president, said Tuesday the system should permit the school to save approximately 5.3 million kilowatt hours of electricity annually at a cost savings of about $22,700.

Carter also said the new system would allow the school to save about $29,000 annually on fuel costs.

The system, which requires purchase of a small, special purpose computer, would monitor 137 electrical motors and electrically driven devices, many in the school's heating system, which now run continuously.

Comet viewing set

MOSCOW, Idaho (UPI) — Idaho residents should have a clear view of the Kohoutek comet around the first of the year, a University of Idaho physics professor said today.

Dr. Thomas Ingerson said Kohoutek, first discovered eight months ago and named for its founder, will be most visible Jan. 1-7. He said the head will appear with a 30-degree tail on the horizon just at sunset and the comet then will continue its course around the sun and disappear by May or June.

Ingerson said the new comet is a "dirty snowball" composed mainly of dirt and ice. Evaporation as it nears the sun causes the tail which is always pointed away from the sun because of solar pressure.

Unlike Halley's Comet, which reappears every 76 years, Kohoutek may never return, Ingerson said.

Road section opened

BOISE (UPI) — The new Curtis Road Interchange on-ramp connecting Curtis Road to the east bound lane of the Boise Interstate West connector opened Tuesday, highway department officials said.

The $50,000 project is designed to relieve traffic congestion at Curtis Road and the Fairview Avenue intersection. The work was done by Boise Paving and Asphalt Co.

Opposition expected

BOISE (UPI) — State Rep. Bill Onweller, R-Boise, who plans to introduce legislation at the next session of the Idaho legislature which would change property tax assessments, said Tuesday he expects most opposition to his measure to come from owners of vacant land.

Addressing the Idaho Consumers Affairs, Inc., Onweller said "under the legislation I plan to offer, anyone but the land speculator will benefit."

Market Review

NEW YORK (UPI) - Stocks opened sharply higher Wednesday on the New York Stock Exchange. Volume was fairly heavy.

The Dow Jones industrial average had risen 2.88 to 820.59 a few minutes after the opening. Gainers led losers by nearly three-to-one among the 382 issues traded.

The market was unable to sustain two halfhearted rallies attempts Tuesday, ending with a broad loss. The Dow fell 7.22 to 817.75 after tumbling to its fifth worst loss Monday in history - 29.05 points.

Analysts say the energy crisis, doubts about the Nixon administration's ability to deal with it, fear of a recession, and a steadily lengthening stance by the Arab oil sheikhs have combined in the last four weeks to pummel the Dow some 170 points lower.

In Wednesday's news, UPI QUOTED Arab political informants as saying Arab leaders have taken a tough united stand on using oil as a political weapon.

Another factor weighing on the market has been the growing number of margin calls by Wall Street's retail houses. Individual investors are being forced to sell at depressed levels to comply with Federal Reserve Board maintenance requirements.

Brent Watson

Watson top SIC lineman; Hardy cited

Brent Watson, who played in the Southern Idaho Conference only this year, dominated everything possible in the coaches all-star balloting Tuesday by being the only person named to both the offensive and defensive units — and capped it all by becoming conference lineman of the year.

Watson, who transferred to Twin Falls from Buhl last summer following two years as a starter for the Indians, missed by one vote of unanimously being named to the all-defensive unit. He tied for second in offensive tackle balloting and took the lineman award with five votes, two ahead of Skyline's Gary Moss who broke most of the conference receiving records. "I think," said Borah Coach Dee Pankratz, "that Watson is the best lineman college prospect in the conference — and if he had played in this league all the way through he would have been unstoppable."

Twin Falls Coach Dennis Almqvist was all beams, noting "I know that Brent is the best offensive blocker I've ever coached with tremendous straight-ahead penetration. He's a great defensive player. Right now he has a few technique problems that he'll have to correct, like standing too upright, but he'll get those down."

Almqvist, with another grin, couldn't resist adding "now if we had played him at fullback like so many seemed to want us to, he would never have had a day like this."

Only one other Magic Valley man joined Watson in the all-SIC lineup. Lonnie Hardy of Minico plucked the starting offensive center assignment. Wayne Schenk of Minico earned a second-string nod at linebacker in the 5-2 defensive alignment.

Larry Kemp of Highland repeated as "back of the year" in the coaches eye, rather a surprise in that he defeated teammate Mike Palashi, rated the best quarterback to come out of the loop in many years, by four votes. Kevin Weller, Highland, and Ritchie Donner, Minico, garnered the other two votes.

John Cooper of Boise and Jim Koetter of Highland shared coach of the year honors with Idaho Falls' Bob Omera getting the other two.

Behind Watson and Moss is the lineman voting were Tom Reichart, Highland; Bren Ferris, Boise; Tom Klumpp, Boise, and Lynn Rice, Capital all with one each.

First team offense included split end, Gary Moss, Skyline; tightend Marty McCurdy, Borah; tackles (three due to voting tie) Scott Erickson, Borah; Brent Watson, Twin Falls, and Lance Soderquist, Highland; guards Tom Reichart, Highland; Bren Ferris, Boise; center Lonnie Hardy; quarterback Mike Palashi, Highland; halfbacks (three due to voting tie) Larry Kemp, Highland, Kent Hollingsworth, Caldwell, and Kevin Weller, Highland; fullback, Chris Prost, Highland.

Second team offense included: split end Charles Tucker, Meridian; tightend Willy Bennett, Capital; tackles Kevin Wilson, Pocatello, Tori Lewis, Capital; guards Tom Ward, Capital, Lee McDaniel, Boise; center Jack Betty, Highland; quarterback Greg McGillis, Capital; halfbacks Tony Monroe, Pocatello, Mike Montgomery, Capital; fullback Dave Barish, Meridian.

Defense first team included: ends Doug Bowman, Highland, and Ernie Hughes, Capital; interior linemen Brent Watson, Twin Falls; Karl Stephan, Borah, and Lynn Rice, Capital; linebackers Steve Walker, Highland and Scott Spjut, Boise; defense secondary Mike Olsen, Highland, Wally Kelly, Highland, Tom Klumpp, Boise, and Frank Needs, Nampa.

Second team defense, ends Gary Riggs, Boise; Doug Vanderboegh, Pocatello; interior linemen Doug McCoy, Capital; Franklin King, Pocatello, Jerron Moore, Meridian; linebackers, Cory Plandro, Highland, and Wayne Schenk, Minico; secondary Pat Veasy, Capital, Steve Martin, Idaho Falls, Scott Poole, Highland, and Rick Kirtland, Capital.

Punter was tied between Marty McCurdy, Borah, and Chris Keyes, Nampa, with place kicker Ralph Lowe, Meridian.

FLYING Iton Fryson of CSI takes a rebound in front of Idaho State's Greg Hess during final round action in the Golden Eagle tournament Tuesday night. Fryson and the Eagles trimmed the Bengals 85-68 to win their second straight tournament title with another two-day event coming up in Ontario, Ore., this weekend.

CSI wins own meet; Barker named MVP

College of Southern Idaho broke to a 10-point lead in the first six-minute-and-held-it most of the way Tuesday night in dropping Idaho State juvees 85-68 in the finals of the CSI season-opening tournament.

Weber juvees, behind the clutch shooting of Jon Williams and John Zakariassen, downed Walla Walla 91-85 in the final minutes for the consolation prize.

CSI's seven-foot Tom Barker was voted the most valuable player in the tournament and was joined on the all-tournament team, selected by participating coaches, by Dennis Green of ISU, Arnold Dugger of CSI, Williams and Kevin Goetz of Walla Walla. CSI winds up its first full week of the season Friday and Saturday by travelling to Ontario and another two-day tournament with Oregon State juvees, TVCC and Spokane Falls.

Idaho State last saw daylight four minutes into the slow starting finale at 8-8. Then Ron Fryson hit a bucket, Bob Durham added a free throw and Dugger came up with two field goals to blow the Eagles away. Barker, Fryson and Dugger came up with additional points as CSI made it 22-8 and from that point on the outcome wasn't in doubt.

ISU succeeded in chipping back to within eight points momentarily on points by Green, Brian Bemis and Bernard Curry, but by halftime CSI was comfortable at 45-29.

The Eagles hit 20 points with 15:09 left in the game and Idaho State was back by at least 11 the rest of the way.

In the opener, Weber showed the same fine outside shooting it had in the first half against CSI when it threw a scare into the eventual champions. With Walla Walla's Kevin Goetz having a poor shooting night, Weber hauled into a 59-46 lead four minutes into the second half.

But Walla Walla came back hard in the final minutes and whittled that down to one point.

The Warriors took their first lead since the opening minutes when Bob Boykin converted a crumpled steal for an 85-84 edge with 2:13 left.

Weber reclaimed the margin seconds later on a short jumper by Tracy Nielsen, ex-Burley center who wound up with 29 points, and two Zakariassen free throws topped that to 87-84 with 53 seconds left. Benny Tillman slipped inside for the crushing crumple.

Orioles' Bumbry gets AL rookie of year

NEW YORK (UPI) — Speedy Al Bumbry, the Baltimore Orioles' pesky "bumblebee" who was supposed to spend this season in Rochester, was named the American League's rookie-of-the-year for 1973 today by a landslide vote of the Baseball Writers' Association of America.

A Vietnam veteran, the 26-year-old Bumbry is the oldest player to win the award in 10 years. Gary Peters of the Chicago White Sox also won it at 26. Lou Piniella of Kansas City was 26 when he received the award in 1969 but he played most of the season at 25.

Bumbry, who teamed with 18th Coggins to add speed to the Baltimore lineup against right-handed pitchers, won it with surprising ease. He got 134 votes while Pedro Garcia of Milwaukee was second with three votes.

Pitchers Doc Medich of New York and Steve Busby of Kansas City and catcher Darrell Porter of Milwaukee each received two votes. Coggins got 1 1/2 votes to complete the balloting.

The voting was done by 24 members of the baseball writers — two from each league city. Three writers voted for Bumbry and Coggins as an entry, giving each of them one-half vote.

Bumbry is currently playing winter ball in Venezuela.

It's unusual for a platooned player to win the rookie award but while Bumbry did make a major contribution to Baltimore's successive season, there wasn't exactly a bumper crop of rookies in the American League in 1973.

It also was surprising that Bumbry won by such a big margin over Coggins because their statistics were almost identical. Many Baltimore observers thought the two players deserved to share the award.

It was the hitting and running of Bumbry and Coggins that helped carry the Orioles to their fourth eastern division title in the last five years after the team had faded in 1972.

US may surrender dairy guard quotas

SAN FRANCISCO (UPI) — Agriculture Secretary Earl L. Butz told dairy farmers Tuesday the administration is willing to negotiate away protective dairy import quotas.

Butz added, however, in a speech prepared for delivery to the National Milk Producers Federation (NMPP), he has taken a "strong position" against allowing foreign governments to continue to subsidize the cheese, butter and other dairy foods they ship to the United States.

"This administration is prepared to put the matter of quotas on the negotiating table in order to get other countries to liberalize trade terms for U.S. grain and other products," but we're not going to give them away," Butz said.

"I have taken a strong position in favor of countervailing duties to avoid unfair competition in our markets. In other words, if we liberalize import quotas in the United States, we must have some companion mechanism that protects our farmers against the threat of subsidized competition," Butz said.

Under countervailing duty plans, a foreign dairy product arriving in the United States with its price artificially lowered because of a home country subsidy would be hit with a U.S. import tax offsetting the subsidy. Such duties are already provided by U.S. law and the NMPP is currently pressing a legal fight to force the Treasury to collect them on some imports from the European Common Market.

Dairy leaders have criticized the administration's moves toward expanded imports of milk products, asserting the result would be a shrinking U.S. industry. But Butz insisted there "can be no rational alternative to free trade" and predicted U.S. Dairy men can compete with European farmers.

Butz conceded that while many farmers this year have seen net incomes rise to record levels, dairy men have been pinched by high feed costs. However, he predicted there are some "strong signals of better days ahead" for milk farmers.

One real hope of relief, Butz said, lies in the fact that per capita consumption of fluid milk—the highest-priced dairy product—recently ended a 25-year downward

Farming policies assailed

SAN FRANCISCO (UPI) — The dairy farmers have been the "scapegoats" in an administration anti-inflation policy made by people who "don't know a sow from a silo," according to the president of the National Milk Producers Federation.

In his address to the federation's 57th annual convention here, Glenn Lake charged Monday that the administration bowed to pressure from consumer groups to keep the lid on food prices.

Lake, North Branch, Mich., attributed farm produce shortages and high prices to the administration policies which he said were "motivated by short-term policies."

Lake said the Cost of Living Council should have provided means for passing price increases through the market and along to dairy farmers. "There will be adequate food supplies," Lake told more than 2,500 federation members, "if adequate incentives are provided for farmers."

Angus sale result told

SALMON — The Nelson-Adams-Angus sale saw 131 head bringing a total $128,450 and an average of $980.33 per head.

Clyde Nelson sold 72 and two-thirds head for $82,200 for an average of $1,131.30 while Bob Adams and Son sold 58 and one-third head for $46,250 for an average of $796.90.

Emerald Glen Ranch of Prineville, Ore., and Sonya Johnson, Sparks, Nev., purchased two-thirds interest in Angus bulls for $3,000 each.

A bred feiler was purchased for $4,300 by Burtons Highland Meadows, Corvallis, Ore. The price established a new record for an Angus cow-selling at auction in Idaho.

Jane Reports...

JANE ARMSTRONG, Consulting Home Economist for Buttreys Food Stores

The traditional "three squares a day" seem to have taken a back seat in many homes today. Some folks have instead begun to substitute "snack meals" daily. Others have taken to enjoying more "natural foods" in their menus. Teenagers continue to snack their way through the day. And someone we know is always trying out the latest fad diet.

With this wide variety of eating styles, you may be concerned about family members missing individual nutritional needs. You'll be happy to know that, if each family member is eating a wide variety of foods, you can be reasonably sure that nutritional requirements are being met.

Snacks, for instance, can be fun to eat and nutritionally sound at the same time. Here are a few suggestions:

- Pizza with added cheese and/or meat
- Ice cream shakes (use milk or fruit juice as base)
- Fruit yogurts

Some of the natural foods on the market today also offer nutritious new alternatives for your menus. Granola cereals, for example, are a great breakfast food with milk. They're also good for out-of-hand munching or as topping for ice cream and pudding. Other "natural" flat can add up to healthful eating are dried fruits, nuts and various seeds (pumpkin, sunflower, sesame); whole grain bread (100% stone ground whole wheat, pumpernickel).

Fad diets (grapefruit, high protein and water, banana — to name a few) are popular and not necessarily harmful if followed for only a couple of days. But there is cause for concern if adhered to for a longer period. That's because no single food can supply all your nutritional needs. Many nutritionists recommend that, instead of cutting out foods from our diets, we instead cut down on the foods we eat. Here are some ideas on doing just that:

- Instead of a regular sandwich, make it open-face
  - Use oil and lemon juice for salad dressing
  - Reach for extra-ripe fruit (it's sweeter) instead of cookies or candy
- So, no matter how you or your family members deviate from traditional eating patterns, remember the key word — variety. The more you vary the types of foods you eat, the more you can be assured of the good health that good foods provide!

What IT MEANS MORE EATABLE MEAT PER POUND!

Before weighing and packaging fresh meats, Buttreys meatmen remove excess bone and trim off outside fat to approximately 1/4-inch. Excess fat and bone, if not trimmed from the retail cut, cost you money. Buttreys' Extra Value Trim means, simply, giving you extra value, with the proper trim. When you consider the amount of fresh meats you buy in a year, the difference in trim can represent sizable savings to you. When you compare prices on meats, compare the trim, too, to realize the most value for the money you spend on meats.

This Ad Effective Nov. 28, 29, 30

ROUND-BONE ARM CHUCK ROAST ... as it's cut from the Beef Chuck Primal ... before Buttreys' Extra-Value-Trim.

Fat and bone are trimmed away to leave the meaty portion of the roast.

Finally, the small portion of excess tallow on the back side is removed.

Granny's Barn' opens Friday

BUHL—A new and unusual Christmas gift boutique, "Granny's Barn", will open Friday in Buhl.

Granny's is located in a barn on the Fewell Chisliani farm, two miles south and one-fourth mile east of the Burley corner in Buhl.

The shop decor carries out a patchwork granny theme. The walls have been covered in bits and pieces of leftover wallpaper in a patchwork pattern.

Patchwork carpet and braided rugs cover the floor which once housed cattle. The shop is heated by a small woodburning stove.

Display shelves have been made from orange crates, a kitchen cupboard, wormwood boards and old ladders with barnboards placed across the rungs.

A Christmas tree is decorated with handmade ornaments, which will be for sale.

All items at Granny's are handmade, many by the five women who originated the idea, and some items taken on consignment from people in the area.

The boutique will offer a complete line of Christmas decorations including decorated eggs, tree ornaments, angel and toy soldier dolls, and many other items.

Gift items will include quilts, knitted hats and scarfs made by a Disabled American Veteran in Buhl, Raggedy Ann dolls, ornamental dolls, stuffed animals, granny, hostess and cobbler aprons, doll clothes, handpainted items and decoupage items.

Originators of the idea are Mrs. Stan Ayres, Mrs. Lambert-Lauda, Mrs. Jim Lunte, Mrs. Clyde McClain and Mrs. David Pierce.

Valley Briefs

GOODING—Alvin Allen, Nyssa Police Chief and the son of Mrs. Arlen Allen, Gooding, and the late Mr. Allen, has been accepted at the FBI National Academy, Washington, D. C. Allen will study police administration, a course being offered from Jan. 7 through March 29, 1974. Allen is one of only two Oregon law enforcement officers selected to attend the course.

TWIN FALLS—College of Southern Idaho faculty wives and women are having a Christmas exchange Dec. 8 at the home of Virginia Schell at 7:30 p.m. Gifts are to be hand made. For more information call Mrs. Schell at 733-2688.

Troth revealed

BUHL—The engagement of Beverly Ann Iverson to David A. Brenner was announced in a traditional candle-passing ceremony of the Alpha Phi society.

MR. AND MRS. EARL MITCHELL

Miss Hove, Mitchell exchange promises

KIMBERLY—Julie Hove and Earl Mitchell were married in an early morning ceremony Nov. 7 at the home of her father.

The bride is the daughter of Harold O. Hove, Kimberly, and the late Arlene Hove.

The bridegroom is a Jackpot, Nev., resident.

The ceremony was performed by Rev. Darwin Secord of the United Methodist Church.

Given in marriage by her father, the bride wore a long red and white checked skirt with a white long sleeved blouse trimmed with ruffles.

Janette Watson, Kimberly, was the bridal attendant. Lyle Dille, Jackpot, was best man. He sang to his own guitar accompaniment.

The couple was honored at a reception after the ceremony. Mrs. Donna Watson served wedding cake and poured coffee and orange juice. The blue and white wedding cake was baked by Mrs. Lewis Huether, Kimberly.

The bride is a graduate of Kimberly High School and attended Boise State College for two years. The couple is touring Mexico.

Caroline loses protection service

WASHINGTON (UPI)—Caroline Kennedy celebrated her 16th birthday Tuesday and lost her Secret Service protection.

The daughter of the late President John F. Kennedy has been under the guard of agents since her father was elected president in the fall of 1960. She was 3 years old at the time.

Under the law, she no longer is entitled to government protection on reaching the age of 16.

Her brother, John F. Kennedy Jr., who turned 13 years old two days ago, will continue to be assigned round-the-clock Secret Service agents for three more years.

Miss Kennedy, a student at Concord Academy in Concord, Mass., was expected to be guarded by private agents hired by her stepfather, Greek shipping tycoon Aristotle Onassis.

Her mother, Jacqueline Kennedy Onassis, lost her Secret Service protection when she remarried.

DR. JOHN FURBAY
... speaker

BURLEY — "The world's most traveled man," Dr. John Furbay, will speak to members of the Burley-Rupert Knife and Fork Club Tuesday.

Furbay, whose subject will be "Revolution: Which One?" has been around the world 34 times and has represented Trans World Airlines and General Motors Co. in 38 countries.

Furbay is one of America's best known platformists with an international following. His various activities and contributions to aviation earned him the award as "Man of the Year in Aviation" in 1955. He received the "Oscar," symbolic of that recognition, from President Eisenhower at a mammoth dinner in Washington on the anniversary of the Wright Brothers' historic flight.

Smallpox cases up

ATLANTA (UPI) — The National Communicable Disease Center said Monday that the World Health Organization has reported an increase in the number of smallpox cases worldwide.

The NCDC said the highest total since 1967—101,823 cases—was recorded for the year. Bangladesh, four Indian states and a Pakistani province reported more than 90 per cent of the cases.

is left with the 10 spot and South must go to dummy with a diamond in order to pull this last trump.

The careful way to do this is to lead the 10, not the seven. Dummy wins with the queen; the last trump is drawn; South leads a diamond-back to his ace; notes that East shows out but has no worries because he can lead the seven and score the rest of dummy's diamonds irrespective of what West does.

Bidding decides most Swiss team events. The reason for this is that the Swiss movement continually matches winners against winners and losers against losers, so that in later rounds, play tends to be the same. Poor in the leaders' brackets; good among those contending for the championship.

Today's hand decided a very important Swiss match. The bidding in the box is that at the winning table. At the losing table North bid just four clubs. West thought about going to four hearts, but decided that he did not want to push his opponents into a game contract.

Five clubs makes with careful and proper play. Hearts are opened and continued. South ruffs the second heart and plays out his king-queen and jack of clubs. East

Two health food products banned

WASHINGTON (UPI) — The Food and Drug Administration (FDA) warned today that two health food products made with parts of the apricot pit contain a poison which could kill both adults and children.

The FDA identified the products as "Aprikorn" and "Bee-Seventeen," which it said are being sold in health food stores in at least 30 states as special dietary supplements.

It said that the products contain hydrogen cyanide, a substance which naturally occur in apricot pits but is dangerous in the concentration in which it exists in the products.

The products are sold in capsule form, the agency said. The FDA said that the "Aprikorn" capsules contain an average of two milligrams of hydrogen cyanide each and a child could be poisoned by swallowing five of them. It said 20 capsules could be fatal to an adult.

MR. AND MRS. ROBERT ALWORTH

SHOSHONE — Kathy Ann Larson and Robert J. Alworth were married in an evening ceremony Nov. 10 at the Shoshone ward LDS Church. The double ring ceremony was performed by Bishop Roy E. Hubert before an archway decorated with baby's breath. White wedding bells were tied to the top of the arch with hot pink bows. The arch was flanked by pillars topped with bouquets of hot pink and light pink roses.

The bride is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Sam S. Larson, Shoshone, and the bridegroom's parents are Mr. and Mrs. Gwinn Porter, Twin Falls.

The bride, escorted by her father, wore a floor-length gown of daron polyester organza with bishop sleeves. The empire silhouette gown was trimmed with sequined scalloped chantilace. The lace extended down the front of the gown and the length of the detachable chapel train.

Her long veil of illusion was trimmed with scalloped chantilace. She carried a bouquet of pink roses on a white lace covered bride's Bible given her by Mr. and Mrs. F. W. Reed, Twin Falls.

The bride wore a gold pendant watch which belonged to her late grandmother, Hannah Larson. She also wore a string of pearls, a gift from her brother.

Diana Sweet, Shoshone, was matron of honor and Leora Knowles, Dietrich, was maid of honor. Heidi Nance was flower girl.

Danny J. Larson, brother of the bride, was best man. Ered House and Jerry Kuykendall, brothers-in-law of the bridegroom, were ushers.

The couple was honored at a reception and dance at the Dietrich Grange Hall.

The bride's table was covered with pink satin and a beige tablecloth handmade by the bride's late great-grandmother, Edith Stumpf. White lace skirting completed the table covering.

Pink candles with flowers and large hot pink bows flanked the four-tiered cake. The cake was decorated with hot pink and light pink flowers and scalloped white frosting at the base of each layer. Mrs. Mary Harrell, Burley, made the cake.

Ruth Chess was organist and Lucinda Brown was soloist, both are from Shoshone.

Serving at the bride's table were Mrs. Elsie Ridinger, Mrs. Nina Sorensen, Mrs. Reed Shaw and Mrs. Shirley Mitchell.

Rose Gallager, Jerome, was in charge of the guest book. Shelly Kuder and Donna Strunk, cousins of the bride, both Jerome, Deann Sorensen and Sue Curry, both Shoshone, cared for gifts.

The parents of the bridegroom were hosts for a rehearsal dinner at the Colonial Room of the Rogerson Hotel.

A pre-nuptial shower honoring the bride was given by Dorothy Barker, Wendell.

Mrs. Mabel Peterson, Jerome, grandmother of the bride, was an honored guest.

Out-of-town guests attended from Jerome, Boise, Twin Falls, Pahr, Kimberly, Ketchum, Dietrich, Rupert, Burley, American Falls, Pocatello, Rockland, Rexburg, Ashton, Price, Utah, and Elko, Nev.

After a honeymoon trip to Reno, Nev., the couple resided at Dietrich. The bride is employed at Upperware, Jerome, and the bridegroom is engaged in farming at Dietrich.

BOSTON (UPI) — Lamberto B. Aledia, a pharmacist's mate in the Navy, won $1 million Monday in the Massachusetts lottery, a state spokesman said.

The 22-year-old bachelor said he was thrilled with his sudden wealth, but added it was ironic that he had just re-enlisted for six more years in order to earn money to go back to school, the spokesman said.

Aledia, of Cavite, The Philippines, is attached to the Newport, R.I., Naval Hospital. He said he originally joined the Navy to see the world.

Deputy to check traffic

TWIN FALLS — Sheriff Paul Corder has announced plans for enforcement of special regulations on the Rock Creek Canyon road in connection with opening of the ski season Saturday.

He said a county ordinance limiting uphill traffic and requiring snow tires or chains during icy conditions will be strictly enforced this year.

A special deputy has been hired to work out of the Idaho Fish and Game Department cabin at the forest boundary. He will stop all traffic going uphill between 3 and 5 p.m. during the operation of the Magic Mountain ski resort. This will include weekends and holidays or during special events.

He will also check and advise motorists on conditions requiring snow tires or chains, and will assist the Twin Falls Highway Department by holding traffic during road clearing operations, Corder said.

In addition, a regular deputy will be checking traffic and other activities in the canyon, at the ski resort and snowmobile area south of the ski area.

Corder said the U.S. Forest Service has posted a sign requiring chains or snow tires and the deputy will urge motorists to cooperate with this request.

GLENN PIZZIOLA, 19, Negaunee, Mich., had just gone over this area with his new snowmobile when a hole 20 feet in diameter and at least 75 feet deep opened up, apparently the result of mining activity a century ago. The hole widened later and people were evacuated from the house on the right. (UPI)

BPA impact report inconclusive

BURLEY — A recently released report by the Bonneville Power Administration (BPA) concludes that the environmental impact of a proposed 20 to 30 per cent rate increase is uncertain.

This inconclusive conclusion was the result of a 240-page report requested by Assistant Secretary of the Interior Stephen Walkerfield in regard to the environmental impact of the rate increase for wholesale power proposed for Dec. 20, 1974.

Don Hodel, BPA administrator, said that despite the uncertainty of its environmental significance, an environmental statement will be submitted with the rate proposal next April because of its controversial nature.

"Our study indicates that the future consumption of electricity in the Pacific northwest will be less with the rate increase than without it," Hodel said, "but by 1990, after all adjustments to an across-the-board 1974 rate increase have been made, total regional demand for electricity will be only about two per cent less than it would otherwise be."

"In any event," he said, "consumption of electricity in the northwest in 1990 will be more than double present levels whether or not there is a BPA rate increase, hence the uncertainty about its environmental effects."

Though the environmental impact of the increase is questionable, Hodel said, "there is little doubt that the matter is highly controversial."

BPA has received conflicting reports from outside interest groups about the study. "Some say the environmental effects of different kinds of rate increases can be significant. Others say they will be inconsequential or nonexistent," he said.

"We intend to resolve the doubts in favor of preparation of an environmental impact based not on significance of effect but on the controversial character of the matter," Hodel said.

The BPA rate impact study, prepared by a special task team of economists, concluded that the rate at which demand for electricity will be growing will depend in part on the prices that consumers pay for it.

The report pointed out that the way in which retail electric rates are structured — not by BPA, but by the electric utilities which receive their power supplies from BPA — can also have an important bearing on the rate of growth in demand for electric energy. Public policies toward energy conservation programs can affect the rate of growth in demand for electricity, according to the report.

BPA is required by law to charge wholesale power rates that are sufficient to recover fully all of the costs associated with construction and operation of the Federal Columbia River Power System.

Because these costs have been increasing faster than BPA revenues, a 1974 BPA rate increase is considered almost inevitable.

What's What

L. M. Boyd

Our Love and War man has been digging into surveys of matrimonial mates again, the rascal. He says they show wives are just about twice as likely to get homesick for their parents as are husbands. But more husbands than wives think their spouses' families strengthen the wedding bonds. This appears to indicate that numerous husbands are glad their wives have someplace to run home to, occasionally interesting.

A nature lover reports: Rabbits invented snowshoes. Bats invented radar. Hummingbirds invented helicopters. And turtles invented military tanks. Remember that.

BIBLE QUIZ

How can you call yourself a Biblical scholar, if you can't answer the following: King Solomon had: A Seven wives and three concubines; B Seventy wives and 30 concubines; C Seven hundred wives and 300 concubines; D Seven thousand wives and 3,000 concubines. Correct, the answer is C.

O 'I'm 37. So how much did a good house cost the year I was born?'
A Maybe $5,000. That's a good ordinary house, no palace. And a good new car cost less than $1,000.

In Great Britain, it's a rare suicide who uses a gun. Mostly, suicides there take drugs. Second mostly, they cut their throats or their wrists. Third mostly, they turn on the gas. Now I don't want to talk about it anymore.

MINORITIES

Seven out of every 10 young people between ages 18 and 24 in Jewish families nationwide are in college. Five out of every 10 Japanese-Americans in that age bracket are likewise. But only two out of every 10 Anglo-Americans of those years can so claim.

It came to pass in bygone years that the police chief of Long Beach, N.Y., decreed: "No couple, walking on the beach or bathing, shall approach each other closer than six inches or 16 centimeters. Inspectors will be provided with foot rules in order to make sure that bathers will preserve this distance."

It's common knowledge that a hollow column is stronger than a solid column of equal weight. Less widely known is how that basic principle known to all architects first came to be realized. Doctors determined it long ago while examining human hollow leg bones.

Businesses, states voluntarily comply with conservation plea

Salmon lighting term cut short

SALMON — Because of the energy crisis, the Salmon Christmas lights will not be turned on until Dec. 8, Pat Benoit, chairman, advised.

He said the delay is in keeping with the trend in other communities.

Lemhi Telephone Co. and the city will install the lights, the same number as last year.

The Salmon area is served by Idaho Power Co. which has advised that it expects energy supplies to be sufficient this winter for its customers.

Mayor William Cannon indicated that Salmon presently is fortunate as regards to the fuel situation but urged residents to conserve fuel where practical because of the uncertainty of the national energy picture.

He noted that a problem area is where there is a greater need for diesel fuel than last year such as in the case of some log haulers.

Because of the concern about the energy crisis, many persons here have been putting in wood stoves and fireplaces to give them additional heating protection.

And most of the new homes being built are heated by electricity.

The Salmon Chamber of Commerce has gone on record requesting that the tax on gasoline not be raised and if it would the factors of distance, lack of other forms of transportation, that most products are hauled by truck and that all businesses as well as the poor and working class would be penalized, should be considered.

Federal agencies here have instructed their employees to maintain 50-mile an hour speed limits to conserve gasoline.

The agencies also have reduced their thermostat settings to register highs of 68 to 70 degrees.

United Press International

Businesses and state governments have begun voluntarily complying with President Nixon's plea to conserve energy.

Several major oil companies, including Standard of Ohio (Sohio), Phillips Petroleum Co. and Skelly Oil Co., said they would close their company-owned stations at 9 p.m. Saturdays and all day Sundays.

Sohio Vice President Robert Griffin also asked independent dealers with Sohio franchises to join in the weekend closings.

The New York State Thruway Authority

announced it was closing gasoline stations on the 550-mile toll road on Sundays. The thruway itself and restaurants along it will still open Sundays, however.

New York state already had lowered speed limits to 50 miles an hour in response to an earlier plea from Nixon. Authority Chairman R. Burdell Bixby said even though Nixon is asking for a 55 m.p.h. limit for trucks and buses, it will remain at 50 m.p.h. for safety reasons.

Robert Jacobs, executive secretary of the Illinois and Indiana Gasoline Dealers Associations, said his groups support Saturday night-and-Sunday-closings. But he said since stations would lose 15 to 20 per cent of weekly sales, they will fight for reduced rents charged by major oil companies.

Fifteen trucking firms in Michigan said they would voluntarily slow their trucks to 55 m.p.h. to save fuel.

Chicago's Lindbergh Beacon atop Playboy Towers on North Michigan Avenue will be darkened because of the energy crisis, Playboy Enterprises Inc. said it would turn off the world's most powerful aviation beacon to encourage a spirit of cooperation among Chicagoans.

The avenue may not be completely dark. The North Michigan Avenue Association said it will ask for approval to light the traditional small Italian bulbs in trees lining the avenue during the Christmas season. Electricity used in Chicago is produced "almost entirely by coal and atomic power," and not by petroleum, the association noted.

The association also recommended that stores along Michigan Avenue continue lighting first floor windows to aid police patrols after dark.

American Party sets Boise meet Saturday

TWIN FALLS — Nolan Victor, Twin Falls, state chairman of the American Party in Idaho, has called a meeting for Saturday in Boise.

The meeting will be attended by Tom Anderson, Pigeon Forge, Tenn., and William Shearer, Lemhi Grove, Calif., American Party officials.

Victor said all interested persons are invited to attend the meeting which will open at 10 a.m. in the King's Table, 1514 W. State St., Boise. He said

Federal agencies prepare answers about Nixon friend Vesco

(c) New York Times Service
Two federal agencies are developing preliminary answers to the question of whether they halted a narcotics investigation when it led to Robert L. Vesco, the controversial financier. The Bureau of Customs position is that information alleging that Vesco would provide $300,000 financing for a 100-kilogram heroin smuggling scheme came in just after the bureau's anti-narcotics responsibilities had been transferred to another agency on July 1.

The Drug Enforcement Administration, which assumed responsibility for anti-narcotics work from the Customs Bureau, said that the man who gave it the information about Vesco was being misled by Canadian underworld figures, who meant to victimize him, and had become "hard to handle" about payment of expenses. Both agencies, as well as the Secret Service, have been under pressure from the Senate Permanent Subcommittee on Investigations, headed by Sen. Henry M. Jackson, D-Wash., to explain why they did not pursue the tips about Vesco from Frank Peroff, the government source. Vesco has been a matter of public interest in recent months because of his relationship with the Nixon administration. He has been indicted on federal charges along with two former Nixon cabinet members, for instance, and the President's nephew, Donald A. Nixon, is employed as a Vesco aide. In interviews with the New York Times, top officials of both Customs and the drug agency explained their positions and gave no information that they had tried to explore the chain of their underworld contacts to determine whether Vesco actually was involved in the heroin case. The result of the drug agency's handling of the matter destroyed Peroff's usefulness as an agent after he had been used successfully to seize huge sums of counterfeit money and 25 kilograms of heroin, as well as to bring about the arrest of eight drug smugglers.

Power company pushes conservation

SPOKANE (UPI) — Washington Water Power Co. says it has changed its promotional program to the conservation of energy. The utility, which serves a large portion of Eastern Washington and Northern Idaho as well as a small section of Northwestern Montana, said Monday it has stopped promoting either natural gas or electrical heat. A company spokesman said, "Most of our promotion now is aimed at conservation of energy."

The company said the announcement of a rationing of fuel oil has had little effect on its natural gas business. "New business is near the normal rate and we still hook up new gas customers if they are on a gas line," the spokesman said. However, the firm has told its 28 interruptible gas customers they are going to have more cold days this winter. The company serves several large institutions in the inland empire including hospitals, colleges and industries.

Labor department warns employers of violation

SEATTLE — The U.S. Department of Labor today cautioned employers to beware of violating federal law in granting employees four-day holidays during the Thanksgiving, Christmas and New Year weeks. Many firms, says the Department's Employment Standards Administration, will be declaring four-day holidays because Thanksgiving falls on Thursday, and Christmas and New Year's Day on Tuesdays. There's no problem if the employer grants the Friday after Thanksgiving or the Mondays before Christmas and New Year's Day, as holidays either with or without pay. But reports indicate that some firms are planning to have their employees "make-up" the time lost by working an extra day some Saturday. The department says such an arrangement may be in violation of the Fair Labor Standards Act which covers 47 million workers. The act provides payment of time and a half for hours over 40 worked in any work week.

Pedestrian charged with theft

TWIN FALLS — State Patrolman Bill Walker stopped to check a pedestrian on Interstate 80-N near Burley Monday afternoon and arrested him for auto theft. Walker said he picked up the pedestrian who had abandoned his automobile a short distance away and turned him over to Sheriff Elza Hall. Hall charged the man, David L. Newport, 23, Kansas City, Mo., with the theft of two vehicles in Jerome County earlier in the day and said he is also wanted for parole violation and burglary charges in Kansas.
