City, rural residents may vote in election

TWIN FALLS — City residents as well as rural residents in the Twin Falls, Kimberly, Hansen, Hollister, Rogerson and Berger areas are eligible to vote Monday in the Twin Falls Highway District election.

Keith Anderson, district engineer, said voters do not need to be property owners and they may vote for candidates in both commission districts involved in the election.

Latest filings resulted in competition for both incumbent highway commissioners. In the first district, board chairman Kenneth Poe is opposed by Claude F. Jones, Twin Falls, and incumbent Lloyd Shewmaker, Kimberly, is opposed by Burton Webb, Twin Falls, in the second district. Anderson said voters need only be 18 years of age and residents of the highway district. They will sign a voter's oath at the polls and need not be registered. A voter may vote in any of the nine district polling places with polls open from 1 p.m. to 7 p.m.

Voting places include the Twin Falls County Courthouse, Twin Falls City Hall, the city hall in Kimberly and city hall in Hansen and the Don Deen home in Pleasant Valley. Polling places will also be open in the Twin Falls Highway District office, the Salmon River Canal Co. office in Hollister, Berry's Service Station in Rogerson and Loyal Neighbor's Community Hall at Berger.

Those elected will serve a four-year term.

Personal, property tax notices mailed

TWIN FALLS — About 21,000 personal and property tax notices totaling nearly $7 million have been mailed to Twin Falls County taxpayers.

According to county Treasurer Ruth K. Jones, real property taxes make up about $6.6 million of the total, with an additional $363,518 assessed for personal property.

Mrs. Jones said the $7 million tax bill is an increase of about $106,000 over 1972.

The tax notices were mailed last Friday, Mrs. Jones said. She urged property owners who have not received a tax notice to contact the treasurer's office "immediately." She also urged taxpayers to pay their taxes as soon as possible.

The deadline for payment of the first installment of the taxes is Dec. 20, she said. She asked personal property taxpayers to remember that their payment deadline is now the same as that for real property owners.

Mrs. Jones said that more than 99 per cent of the 1972 Twin Falls County property taxes have been collected, with only $75,000 remaining unpaid.

Elizabeth Terry

TWIN FALLS — Mrs. Elizabeth Terry, 84, a pioneer Twin Falls County resident, died Tuesday in Ridgecrest, Calif.

Valley RR delay

In the years following World War II, Americans took to traveling by car and plane. They virtually abandoned rail travel.

Passenger trains almost joined the dodo in extinction by the early 1970's when the railroads turned over the few remaining runs to Amtrak — a public corporation — and began concentrating on their freight service.

Then came the energy crisis. Airlines cut back flights. Motorists began fearing fuel wouldn't be available. Within a few days of President Nixon's pronouncements on fuel conservation, the number of prospective railroad passengers started skyrocketing.

Sun Valley, a resort served by a branch line of a main transcontinental railroad, began exploring the possibility of lining up a daily train to bring in ski season patrons.

The two key factors in this specific operation, it appears, would be a guaranteed 400 riders each day between Salt Lake City and Sun Valley, and the availability of fuel, locomotives and passenger cars.

A similar arrangement is being considered by Las Vegas and Nevada officials to keep the resort and gaming center running full blast. But Amtrak told them the same thing — the availability of cars was the big obstacle.

Hopefully those problems can be overcome and the Wood River Valley will again echo to the whistle blasts of regular passenger service bound for Ketchum and Sun Valley with, perhaps, connections to Las Vegas.

It's ironic. Amtrak was regarded only a year or so ago as a rathole into which Congress was reluctantly dribbling a few dollars to maintain sketchy operations.

Now Congressmen, travelers, resort operators and a good many other Americans are looking to rail transport as a fast, economical way to ease one pinch by the energy situation.

But Amtrak officials, suddenly besieged by requests for more cars, more service and additional runs, have yet another problem — the lack of serviceable equipment to meet the demand.

When Amtrak took over passenger service, it acquired only the coaches, Pullmans, diners and other cars in the best running condition. That was a limited fleet at best. The railroads kept the rest of their passenger and baggage cars, diverting them into work train service or scrapping them.

Now it looks as if Americans who want to travel by rail may have as much trouble finding a seat on a day coach as they are having getting one aboard airplanes.

Those who maintained faith in passenger trains as a mode of long distance travel can delight in feeling vindicated. But they may not be able to get aboard, either.

So in the nation's energy crisis, riding the rods or in "side door Pullmans" — as did the hoboes of American folk legend — may return as an acceptable means of rail travel.

Drive to restore trust founders once again

WASHINGTON — President Nixon's campaign to restore public trust in his leadership has again faltered on the "ambiguities" surrounding the Watergate tapes.

Just when Nixon and his associates felt progress was being made in what the White House had dubbed "operation candor," new questions of credibility have been raised by the mystery of a damaged tape involving a conversation with a top aide three days after the Watergate break-in and burglary on June 17, 1972.

Now an 18-minute erasure occurred in the recording conversation June 20 between the President and his former chief of staff H.R. Haldeman is now being explored in Federal Judge John Sirica's court.

The President's personal secretary, Miss Rose Mary Woods, has admitted she inadvertently erased the segment and informed Nixon about it last Oct. 1. But the president told her not to worry because the particular tape had not been subpoenaed by the special Watergate prosecutor.

But what chafes the White House about the new development is the obvious erasing it puts into the President's campaign to dig himself out of the quicksand of Watergate. The disclosure about the damaged tape occurred shortly after the President assured a group of Republican governors in conference at Memphis, Tenn., Nov. 20 that he anticipated no new Watergate "bombshells."

The governors expressed satisfaction and relief, but upon learning of the gap in the June 20 tape, several of the state leaders were outspokenly disappointed and critical. Before the latest episode in the tapes controversy, White House aides were confident the President had begun to rebuild public faith in his stewardship. They believed he had been "impressive" in his hour-long televised news conference with editors on Nov. 17.

Through a series of selective appearances, they hoped, the President would continue to regain public support and find a new footing in handling his job. Now they are again assailed by doubts.

Nixon himself betrayed no signs of doubt he appeared before the Senators' International Union convention here Monday. If he was privately troubled by the new development, he concealed it in a burst of confident rhetoric about the energy crisis and with an appropriate metaphor that pleased the union delegates.

Then without mentioning his Watergate troubles but in an obvious allusion to resignation demands, he added "I can assure you that you don't need to worry about my getting senile or jumping ship. I am going to stay at the helm until we bring it into port."

The White House was far less confident and effective, however, in discussing the tapes and a Time Magazine story which reported that Paul Hall, president of the Seafarers' Union who introduced the president with warm and unflinching praise, was under investigation for illegal campaign contributions.

Deputy Press Secretary Gerald Warren accused the office of special prosecutor Leon Jaworski of "leaks" involving both stories. Warren said he found the coincidence very obvious that the magazine printed the story on the day the President addressed the Seafarers' Union.

"Sorry, We Gave at the Office!"

Jaworski gains status

WASHINGTON — Before informing U.S. District Chief Judge John J. Sirica that another key 18-minute segment of the presidential tape recordings is gone forever, White House lawyers pleaded with Special Prosecutor Leon Jaworski — unsuccessfully — to delay breaking the news.

That Jaworski flatly turned down the appeal powerfully reinforces his status as independent prosecutor. But far more important, the fact that the White House actually asked for a delay shows how ominously this latest fiasco looms in the wary eyes of President Nixon's lawyers.

Indeed, the obliterated 18 minutes of conversation between the President and his then chief of staff, H. R. Haldeman, on June 20, 1972, the first working day after the Watergate burglary, may prove Nixon's most severe problem of all.

Last Wednesday, less than 48 hours after Nixon had assured Republican governors meeting in Memphis he is not aware of "any more bombs," Jaworski's office received a telephone call from the White House. Fred Buzhardt, Nixon's lawyer handling the Watergate case, requested and received an appointment with Jaworski at his office.

Buzhardt, accompanied by White House counsel Leonard Garment, dropped his bomb: 18 minutes were obliterated from the June 20 tape subpoenaed by Cox. He had no explanation for it. But he had a request: would Jaworski please give him a little time — a few days — to get his ducks in a row before shocking the nation once again?

This was the moment of truth for Leon Jaworski, senior member of the Houston establishment as one of the Southwest's richest corporation lawyers. Moderate LJB Democrat Jaworski had already disappointed the White House with his full approval of the tough investigative approaches of liberal Kennedy Democrat Cox. Now, on Thanksgiving Eve, the Nixon men were bidding hard for sympathy.

Had Jaworski granted the delay, he would have committed a heinous offense, particularly in the eyes of zealous deputy prosecutors inherited from Cox — would, indeed, have endangered his relationship with them. Instead, without hesitation, Jaworski said no.

Unlike the non-existent tapes controversy two weeks ago, the White House had no ready explanation for the missing 18 minutes. The six technical experts now operating under the court's auspices will examine the tape, and each person believed to have handled it will testify under oath.

That testimony may pose a new challenge for Jaworski. Sirica, though obviously irritated by the White House handling of the subpoenaed tapes, has shown understandable reluctance to initiate action against the President. Rather, he is looking toward the special prosecutor for guidance. Based on his peremptory refusal to grant the White House a delay last Wednesday, Jaworski is apt to move hard as this week's hearings expose White House shenanigans.

Simultaneously, Jaworski faces another challenge. When Buzhardt asked for his appointment the prosecutors thought he would produce documents about the White House plumbers unit, including files on the mysterious M-1 and Odessa projects. Those papers had been denied Cox but were promised Jaworski. However, with Jaworski on the job three weeks now, the papers have still not been produced. He must decide soon whether to institute legal action.

Against this backdrop, Nixon's ballyhooed "Operation Candor" fades into insignificance. He is still dunned by prosecutors for secret documents and, much worse, is forced to explain highly unusual deficiencies in the physical evidence. Depending on what happens in Sirica's court this week, the worst for Mr. Nixon may be yet to come.

Keep quiet, avoid detection

That the polygraph has just about fizzled in Washington, where it could be having a field day if there was much to it. After a lengthy investigation, a House sub-committee once reported that there is no such thing as a valid lie detector.

At one time, Mr. Spectator must point out, it was hailed as a great boon to crime detection. Now most courts consider it of not much value. Even police now use it infrequently.

What went wrong with the polygraph is not entirely clear except that probably too much was expected of it. It is not an exact science such as fingerprinting.

At one time it was frequently demanded by suspects desirous of clearing themselves but officials say it is really of doubtful value.

One thing wrong, they say, is that it is dependent upon the operator. And, being human, operators make mistakes one way or another.

So we would say that the best way to escape lie detection is to keep your mouth shut.

ENERGY AND SUCH

Mr. Spectator made a great contribution to the energy crisis Sunday evening after listening to President Nixon's call for voluntary energy savings.

As soon as his address had ended, we got up out of the easy chair (rather slowly) and walked over and turned off the TV set.

What more could we be asked to do?

Anti-sub war effort asked

(c) N. Y. Times Service NEW YORK — Senior military and civilian sources in the United States defense establishment are urging a security dialogue with Japan centered upon the pooling of antisubmarine warfare resources.

The Japanese, American sources emphasize, now depend on the United States Navy for the protection of the sea-borne supplies on which the island nation lives. Japanese self-interest, they argue, calls for an expansion of their anti-submarine warfare effort.

These sources say that with the expansion of the Soviet submarine service, particularly in the North Pacific Ocean but also in the Indian Ocean, antisubmarine warfare has become the primary strategic concern of all non-Communist, maritime countries.

Japan is almost completely dependent on oil supplies from the Middle East, particularly the Persian Gulf states of Iran, Saudi Arabia, Kuwait and, to a lesser degree, Iraq. There are never fewer than 110 tankers at sea between Japan and the Middle East, the majority of them using the Strait of Malacca between Singapore and the island of Sumatra in Indonesia.

For military planners in Washington, Tokyo and western Europe, this strait is becoming one of the two most important waterways. The other is the Strait of Hormuz at the exit of the Persian Gulf.

Stoppage of the Malacca Strait, or of its alternative, the Lombok Strait, "at any level of war would be a disaster for Japan," according to one highly placed source.

The reference to "any level of war" by analysts in this country and abroad reflects the experience of 1939-1940 when Nazi Germany's principal weapon was the submarine directed against the overseas imports of Britain.

Defense planners believe they must take into account a hypothetical situation in which the Soviet Union would employ its submarine fleet to interrupt international oil traffic without unleashing ground forces in Central Europe or elsewhere.

Japan, at the moment, has 32 destroyers and 19 frigates as her principal antisubmarine weapons. The fastest destroyers are those of the Arisaka class, rated at 35 knots, compared with a submerged speed of 30 knots for Soviet Charlie class submarines. The Soviet Pacific fleet now deploys about 110 submarines, according to intelligence sources.

Harsh decision rapped

Now that Judge Sirica has handed down his final sentences on the Watergate Seven, it is appropriate to remark the singular cruelty of this judge.

It is curious that our culture asks us to dull our minds to the deficiencies of individual justices. Yet one must suppose that no one resents this more than the judges themselves, who must be particularly appalled at the slovenly work of some of their delinquent brothers.

Doctors resent quacks more bitterly than other men do, and for the same reason that judges who struggle to be fair and patient and even-handed must resent the unfair, impatient and volatile behavior of those few members of their fraternity who nevertheless dispose of the great powers and prestige of the judiciary.

Thus even President Nixon was constrained, in referring to Judge Sirica in one of the Watergate broadcasts, to compliment the judge.

During the Watergate trial, Judge Sirica snapped, "I couldn't care less about what happens to this case on appeal. . . . I couldn't care less what the Court of Appeals does, if this case ever gets up there."

Obviously he doesn't care. On Nov. 7, one more time, the Court of Appeals reversed a ruling of Judge Sirica, commenting that he had "exceeded his discretion."

A court-watcher was quoted by the Washington Post as noting that Sirica's rate of reversal in the appeals court "is among the highest of the district court judges."

That to be sure is the view of a liberal doctrine. The Washingtonian, a magazine of similar leaning, recently listed judges who should be removed from the bench, and prominently included Judge Sirica. But the analysis stressed that the case against Sirica is hardly philosophical.

In the Watergate case, Sirica "badgered, accused, and castigated witnesses, prosecutors, and defense lawyers. He read transcripts of confidential bench conferences to the jury. He used the threat of lengthy sentences to force defendants into abandoning their constitutional rights. He turned the trial into an inquisition, and justice into a charade."

When that kind of thing was done in Chicago, by Judge Hoffman, and in (the temporary) expense of the seven Gentlemen of the Left, the outcry was all but universal. Not now.

So now the judge has turned the key tighter on the Watergate jailhouse. His most conspicuous victim, Howard Hunt is to be put away for two and a half to eight years. Never mind that his family of four children is left left left left left, that his wife was killed, that he did a lifetime's honorable service for the United States Government.

Letters

Named for town

Editor, Times-News: How Hansen Bridge got its name, by the one who named it.

As I have been asked by the pioneers to tell of the naming of the bridge, I will recount the event.

The bridge commission was comprised of a group consisting of the Hillside Highway Commission of Minidoka County (now part of Jerome County), and the Twin Falls County commissioners, who were also the Twin Falls highway commissioners, of which I was a member.

We met for an organization to build a bridge. At the time of selecting a name, I suggested calling it the Hansen Bridge as the town of Hansen was the nearest geographically designated spot, and the town of Hansen was my home.

The name was not given in honor of any man or men, for it was built by a large group whose names were listed on large iron plates which were on each end of the bridge for nearly 50 years.

One plate is now at the historical museum in Boise; the other is at Eden in Jerome County. W.F. Brewer, Beloit, Kan.

Hearing sought

Editor, Times-News: The following is an open letter to Sen. Frank Church, D-Idaho:

Dear Senator Church: Will you please send me a copy of S. 2233 dealing with the proposed Hells Canyon Recreation Area?

I was disappointed to learn that Idaho hearings on this bill will be held only in Lewiston, Dec. 14 and 15 and that there are none being held in southern Idaho.

The legislation has great significance for Snake River water users. The prospect of traveling many miles of icy winter roads will discourage participation from southern Idaho. The fuel shortage will compound the problem.

"Won't you use your influence to schedule a hearing in Twin Falls or another southern Idaho location? Otherwise the hearing will be biased toward downstream interests.

Sincerely Yours, Robert R. Lee

Single parents meet in Burley

By Marilyn Elliott
Times-News Writer

BURLEY — Tuesday night in Burley about 10 single parents from throughout the valley met to organize a charter chapter of Parents Without Partners (PWP) to help cope with these unique problems.

According to PWP, our society is based on the traditional two-parent home, and is not equipped for, nor does it really understand, the special problems faced by the millions of people in the country who must bring up their children alone.

PWP, first organized in 1957, brings together single parents to share their experiences and provide them with activities in surroundings where they do not feel "like a fifth wheel," as one of the parents at Tuesday's meeting said.

Angie King, Twin Falls, a former member of a PWP chapter in California, said her organization planned many activities together, including tennis, camp-outs, discussion groups and bowling excursions along with the children.

Sally Schmitt, a charter member of a Nebraska PWP group, said the organization gave her "someplace to go."

"We're not looking for a mate," she said, "we just want places to go with people."

Mrs. Schmitt said the Nebraska chapter had monthly educational meetings where professionals spoke to the group on a variety of subjects.

The parents at the meeting decided they would like to hear speakers who could give them advice on raising children and coping with the world.

The parents complained that as single parents, married couples "don't want to associate with you" and that "people assume you can go out and dance all the time" when a single parent has as much to do as any other parent.

One woman said she would like her son to be able to associate "with people more like myself," so he could understand that her situation was not unique.

PWP is open to any parent who is widowed, divorced, separated or never married. Members do not have to have custody of their children to join.

In order to organize a charter chapter in the Magic Valley, a charter must be signed by 15 parents. The meeting Tuesday fell short of the required number, but those present were enthusiastic.

A meeting has been set for Dec. 11 in Rupert in an attempt to pick up more members. The meeting will be held at 7 p.m. at 215 First St., Rupert.

Another organizational meeting is planned in Twin Falls in the near future.

Funds available for WR project

WASHINGTON, D.C. — The Wood River Resource Conservation and Development Project is eligible for accelerated financial and technical assistance from the Department of Agriculture, according to Sen. James A. McClure.

McClure said he received a letter from the administrator of the USDA Agricultural Soil Conservation Service informing him that the agency was authorized to "proceed at once with assistance to the sponsors of the Wood River" project.

The project is sponsored by county governments in Blaine, Camas, Gooding and Lincoln counties, four conservation districts and 12 municipal governments. It was authorized for planning assistance to cover a total of 65 specific proposals.

Emergency room workshop set in TF

TWIN FALLS — An emergency room nursing workshop will be held Dec. 4 from 8 a.m. to 4:30 p.m. in Magic Valley Memorial Hospital.

It is sponsored by the hospital, the Southeastern Idaho Center for Health Resources at Idaho State University, Pocatello, and St. Alphonsus Hospital, Boise.

Sharon Job, head nurse at St. Alphonsus emergency room, will open the session with a review of concepts of emergency room nursing. Information on the nurses' liability in emergency room treatment will be presented by Robert C. Paine, Twin Falls attorney.

Job will also discuss emergency room records and the final presentation will be by Dr. Harold Wiedemann, anesthesiologist, Magic Valley Memorial Hospital. He will discuss the care of the patient in the emergency room.

Employees of the sponsoring institutions are invited to attend the workshop at no charge. A registration fee will be charged others.

R.N. Irving unit sets TF meeting

TWIN FALLS — The annual meeting of the R. N. Irving Chapter, Soil Conservation Society of America, opens Friday at the College of Southern Idaho.

Orval Bradley, director, vocational technical education, is scheduled to welcome soil conservationists from throughout Idaho to the two-day meeting.

Theme of the meeting is "future technology for soil and water management." Dr. Marvin E. Jensen, Director, Snake River Conservation Research Center, Kimberly, will deliver the keynote address. Also included on the program are discussions concerning satellite imagery for mapping purposes and NASA's Earth Resource Technology Satellite program.

Homer Roberts, Hollister, will be guest speaker at the buffet dinner Friday evening. A national honor award will be presented by Richard Call, National Council, SCSA, in recognition of outstanding contributions to the art and science of wise land use.

The business meeting Saturday morning will include installation of officers for 1974, according to Yuman President, Kimberly, Chapter, Massee.

DECS abolishes 390 job posts

BOISE — A total of 390 job positions in the Department of Environmental and Community Services have been abolished, according to administrator Dr. James A. Bax.

Bax said that in cooperation with the state budget office the unfunded and vacant jobs were being eliminated.

Noting that the jobs were unfilled, Bax said it was misleading to attach a dollar savings to the announcement. But he said the salaries for the jobs would total about a half million dollars if they were filled in the future.

"Consistent with our November 14 policy announcement," Bax said, "we are eliminating these positions which range from secretaries to psychiatrists." Bax also said the jobs could be re-established if and when funds become available and the need for the position is justified.

The November 14 policy announcement established a list of goals for the agency for the next several months and also announced the elimination of 12 high-paying administrative jobs, 14 jobs that were funded but vacant and 35 unfunded and unfilled jobs.

Senate spreads benefit

WASHINGTON (UPI) — The Senate has voted to broaden Medicare coverage to pay for prescription drugs to treat most chronic diseases of the 20 million elderly persons in the government health insurance program.

The proposal was attached to a bill raising Social Security benefits by 11 per cent—7 per cent upon enactment and 4 per cent in June 1974.

The House has approved a similar 11 per cent increase, but has not considered the Medicare drug extension.

Last year, the House rejected such an amendment on grounds it would take too much out of the Social Security trust fund.

The new amendment, however, carries an increase in Social Security taxes to pay for drug coverage.

The tax rate would go from its present 5.85 per cent of earnings to 5.9 per cent. The Senate bill also increases the amount of earnings subject to the tax from the present $10,000 to $13,200 a year.

Neither drugs only required periodically nor non-prescription drugs, except insulin, would be covered.

But drugs for these chronic diseases common to the elderly would be covered:

Diabetics, high blood pressure, cardiovascular disease, respiratory disease, chronic kidney disease, arthritis, rheumatism, gout, thyroid disease, cancer, epilepsy, Parkinson's disease, tuberculosis, glaucoma and myasthenia gravis.

Patients would have to pay $1 per prescription. Medicare would cover the remaining cost.

Under existing law, Medicare only pays for drugs given to hospitalized patients.

Another provision in the bill provides a rebate payable four times a year, to poor working families earning under $5,600 a year of an amount roughly equal to what they and their employers pay in Social Security taxes.

The rebate is known as a "work bonus" and is intended to keep such families from quitting work and going on welfare—which often pays about as much as they earn by working.

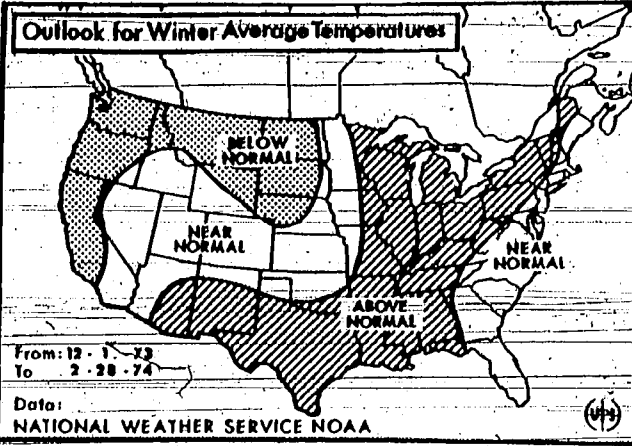

Oil shale land eyed

DENVER (UPI) — The development of oil shale land in the Western United States was long overdue, a former Interior Department undersecretary said Wednesday.

"Now it may be a major step forward to solving the energy crisis facing the nation, he said.

"The oil shale reservoir in Colorado, Wyoming and Utah is the largest hydrocarbon reservoir in the world," said Hollis Dole. "There is more oil there than there is in the Arab nations."

Dole is currently general manager of the Colony Development Cor., a consortium of four oil companies who will take part in development of one of six tracts of oil shale land in the three states.

Winter forecast

Winter temps predicted

WASHINGTON (UPI) — Because of the energy-related national concern about winter weather, the government's forecasters have released a highly speculative 90-day prediction of above-normal temperatures for much of the South and Midwest.

The National Weather Service long-range forecast released Wednesday predicts colder than average temperatures for the West Coast and Upper Plains states, rating chances for abnormally high or low winter readings a tossup in portions of 33 Atlantic Coast, and Central Plains states.

The forecast for December through February, which the Weather Service admitted is imprecise, was issued as Americans continued to worry about getting caught short of heating oil in the cold-weather months due to cutbacks caused by the energy pinch.

The government has been compiling long-range forecasts for 15 years for use by its own agencies but they have been "considered too marginal in reliability for general release," the Weather Service said.

Here is the temperature outlook for December, January and February:

—The Far West, Northern Rockies and Northern Great Plains will have a 60 per cent chance of suffering a colder winter than normal.

—The Midwest, most of the South—from New Mexico to Alabama—and the Northeast away from the Atlantic Coast are estimated to have a 60 per cent chance of enjoying milder temperatures than usual for this time of year.

—Temperatures for the rest of the country, including the entire East Coast, the Central Great Plains and Southern California, are rated a toss-up with an equal likelihood of being either colder or warmer than normal.

ASA result of the nationwide energy shortage the Commerce Department's National Weather Service is issuing this temperature outlook for the coming winter. The Far West, Northern Rockies and northern Great Plains are estimated to have a 60 per cent chance of suffering a colder winter than normal. (UPI)

Lead in gasoline ordered reduced

WASHINGTON (UPI) — Citing an increasing danger of lead poisoning in children, the Environmental Protection Agency (EPA) has ordered the oil industry to reduce the amount of lead in gasoline by 60 to 65 per cent by the end of the decade.

The agency estimated the changeover would cost the industry $75 million in refinery improvements in 1975 when the phase-in reduction begins. But it said the change is needed to protect both the public health and the anti-pollution devices on cars which will not tolerate leaded gas.

John R. Quarles Jr., deputy EPA administrator, said there is strong reason to believe that lead in paint is not the sole cause of lead poisoning which inflicts 2,000 to 3,000 children with permanent brain damage each year.

"Several studies indicate that up to 50 per cent of children with excessive lead exposure are known not to reside in homes where peeling lead-based paint can be found. We know that dust contaminated with lead can be found in urban areas, inside and outside of buildings including homes, schools and playgrounds," Quarles said.

"It has also been found that dust lead levels in homes near heavily traveled roadways are significantly higher than in comparable homes located along streets," he added.

Reform accord slated

WASHINGTON (UPI) — House leaders, under strong pressure from election reform advocates, have agreed to compromise with the Senate on legislation to finance elections for president with federal tax funds.

If Senate leaders go along with the compromise, the Watergate-inspired reform plan would be attached to a bill raising the ceiling on the public debt from $165 billion to $175.7 billion, which must be passed before midnight Friday.

President Nixon then would be hard pressed to veto the bill because at midnight Friday the debt ceiling would revert to its "permanent" level of $100 billion, and the government would be unable to pay its bills because the public debt is now far beyond $100 billion.

The Senate on Tuesday attached to the debt ceiling bill amendments that would finance both presidential elections and House and Senate elections from tax funds. In addition, there would be 50 per cent matching funds for presidential primaries.

Under the Senate bill, no private contributions would be allowed for general elections.

BOISE (UPI) — Although initially angered by President Nixon's energy crisis plan, Gov. Cecil D. Andrus says he will cooperate fully with whatever firm policies are enacted by Congress.

In a telegram to the National Governor's Conference, Andrus said, "while regretting that I was not given an opportunity for consultation prior to the administration's announcement which have led to needless confusion, I am willing to the administration's announced decisions which have led to needless confusion, I am willing to cooperate fully with whatever firm policies result from enactment of pending federal legislation."

Saxbe rule up to court

WASHINGTON (UPI) — The Supreme Court may have to decide if Sen. William B. Saxbe can serve as U.S. Attorney General or has to go into early retirement on his Ohio farm.

The Senate Wednesday approved, 75-10, a bill designed to clear a constitutional barrier to Saxbe's appointment. The House is expected to pass a similar bill.

That would open the way for President Nixon to formally submit the name of Saxbe to the Senate for confirmation.

The constitutional impediment to Saxbe is that he was a member of the Senate when Congress raised the pay of the Attorney General from $35,000 to $60,000. The constitution bars a member of Congress from taking a post for which he voted a pay increase.

The bill would allow Saxbe to serve at the old salary of $35,000, which is $7,500 less than he makes as a senator.

But Assistant Senate Democratic leader Robert C. Byrd said that the constitutional obstacle "is complete, final, absolute, and beyond remedy by legislation." Sen. Sam J. Ervin, Jr., D-N.C., considered the Senate's foremost constitutional lawyer, agreed.

With senators in disagreement on the constitutional question, the Senate adopted an amendment to the bill, by an 87-0 margin, that would expedite a court test by allowing a challenge to go directly to a three-judge federal court with an appeal directly to the Supreme Court.

If Saxbe is confirmed and the Supreme Court rules that the Senate-passed bill fulfills the needs of the Constitution, Saxbe would continue to serve as Attorney General.

If not, Saxbe might have a very brief tenure before going home to his farm in Mechanicsburg, Ohio. Saxbe had planned to retire from the Senate when his term expires in January, 1975.

New Greek regime puts off elections

ATHENS (UPI) — The new military-backed regime, which came to power to head off next year's scheduled elections, has promised to go along with free balloting in Greece "when the country is ready."

Premier Adamantios Androusoopoulos said Wednesday night the new government was in favor of an eventual return to democracy, but would not be bound by any timetable.

"When the country is ready, it will be led to elections," the premier said in a 55-minute radio and television address. "We do not intend the establishment of a regime. Our ambition is to prepare the country for the undisturbed and purely democratic life."

The military leaders who picked the American-educated economist as premier strongly attacked the planned 1974 elections after coming to power last Sunday in a coup against toppled President George Papadopoulos.

The coup leaders called the vote "an electoral fake" and said Papadopoulos "with a parody of elections was trying to fool the Greek people—this forced the army to intervene and to save the country once more."

Hussein rejected

BEIRUT (UPI) — The Palestinian guerrilla leadership made clear today they would reject King Hussein of Jordan as their spokesman and oppose the return of Israeli-occupied territory to Jordan.

The Palestinian news agency WFA issued a strong condemnation of Hussein and said the Arab Liberation Organization as sole representative of the Palestinians spelled "the definite death (of Hussein) and his agent regime."

The agency statement followed by 24 hours a statement by Salah Khalaf, deputy leader of the Al Fatah guerrilla group, that the guerrillas could not allow the occupied west bank of the Jordan River to revert to Jordan.

Khalaf, also known by the codename Abu Iyad, said the commando movement would never recognize Israel or accept a peace settlement with the Jewish state.

Pioneer into deadly field

Thursday, November 29, 1973 Times-News, Twin Falls, Idaho 7

MOUNTAIN VIEW, Calif. (UPI) — The Pioneer 10 spacecraft voyaged to the deadly magnetic field of Jupiter today and sped two minutes ahead of schedule towards discovery of the large planet's host of awesome secrets.

The secrets lie at the heart of the mystery of how the solar system, and the Earth, were born. Answers would be applied to everything from producing nuclear energy to controlling Earth weather.

Pioneer is the first spacecraft to fly past Mars towards the solar system's outer planets. Eventually, the vehicle will become the first to escape the solar system and journey silently into the Milky Way galaxy.

Space Agency controllers learned Wednesday that Jupiter is heavier than thought—just enough so that its gravity is pulling Pioneer toward a target above Jupiter's cloudtops two minutes faster than calculated at blastoff 22 months ago.

Now 3.2 million miles from Jupiter, the 570-pound Pioneer is returning data of great value to Earth computers from its 11 instruments. Information will include color photographs of Jupiter and 10 of its largest moons.

Skylab sweep cleared

HOUSTON (UPI) — Space officials said the Skylab energy minister is really no problem at all and okayed a picture-taking tour of the Western United States today.

Astronauts Gerald P. Carr, Edward G. Gibson and William R. Pogue are to photograph the western United States today without rolling the station as they usually do. The lighting is good enough for them to make the picture-taking sweep at an angle instead of straight down.

Skylab program director William C. Schneider said engineers found an excessive amount of the gas was used Tuesday because of special circumstances and shouldn't happen again. Flight controllers had canceled any maneuvers of Skylab for Earth-orbit viewing until they understood why six times as much gas than planned was used.

"We feel we have essentially eliminated the restrictions on maneuvers for the rest of the mission," Schneider said.

Rules asked

GEORGIA Gov. Jimmy Carter told the Senate Select Committee on Small Business Wednesday that U. S. small firms will "suffer severe economic damage" unless Congress establishes fuel rationing guidelines and priorities. (UPI)

THE SWENSEN'S SHORT RANGE SOLUTION TO THE ENERGY CRISIS & SUNDAY DINNER PICNIC HAMS

YOU CAN GO A LONG WAYS ON 1 PICNIC HAM, especially at this price. Definitely not a fossil fuel (They're freshly cured) these hams could easily propel a family through 2 or 3 meals with very little additional fuel. And a pound of ham is less than the price of 2 gallons of gas, and speaking of gas, later on when you get your ration cards, Swensen's markets might like to trade you a pound of ham for a gallon of gas, if you need the ENERGY.

I'm going to be a Swensen's Ham

Gooding-Wendell medical rift emerges

The Times-News has learned of one emergency case, in April of this year, involving a Bliss woman, the patient of a Wendell doctor. The woman was taken by ambulance to the nearest hospital, in Gooding, and then rushed another 20 miles to Jerome reportedly because "the Gooding doctor on call refused to see the patient."

The woman reportedly was unconscious, suffering from an overdose of sleeping pills. Robert Higgins, an employee of Magic Valley Ambulance Service, said he attended the Bliss woman and was told in Gooding that she would have to be taken to Jerome.

He said an emergency room staff member told him "the Gooding doctor on call was notified and refused to see the patient."

Higgins recorded the Gooding doctor's name on no ambulance service billing notation but he and his employer, Cloyce Edwards, refused to release the doctor's name.

The sister of the emergency patient, also a Bliss resident, said he arrived at the Gooding hospital after the woman had been taken on to Jerome.

The "nurse on call" told her of the transfer and said "only that her doctor didn't doctor there," according to the sister.

Higgins said he did not "feel at ease" in transferring the woman to Jerome.

Although the woman's "vital signs were stable" when in Gooding, the ambulance attendant said, he "started to lose her about five miles from Jerome." Her blood pressure and pulse dropped, he said.

Higgins said he "put an airway in her throat" and gave her oxygen. The woman's stomach was pumped in Jerome but "she was still unconscious when we last saw her," according to Higgins.

In a recent letter to the Times-News, Dr. M. V. Klingler, Gooding, took issue with earlier comments made by Gooding County Deputy Sheriff Bill Boyer.

The Times-News had paraphrased Boyer as saying, "... Gooding doctors will not treat a victim if he is a patient of the Wendell doctors ... the ambulance has to be sent to Jerome so the victim can be treated by a Wendell physician."

In his letter, Klingler said ill or injured patients "are admitted to the emergency service" of the Gooding hospital. The nurse on duty at the hospital then contacts the patient's physician "whether it be a Gooding physician, or from Wendell, Jerome, or Twin Falls," according to Klingler.

"The Wendell physicians ... then determine what disposition should be made with their patients," the Gooding doctor said, "whether they want them brought to their offices in Wendell, whether they want them to be taken to the hospital in Jerome, or whether they wish to come to the Gooding (hospital) and care for their patients ... or whether they desire the patient to be seen by one of the Gooding physicians for him to assume the care of the patient."

In tracing the Bliss woman's case, the Times-News could not determine whether her Wendell physician had in fact been contacted and ordered the transfer to Jerome.

Both Scheel and Holsinger said they do not keep records of emergency calls and could not say whether they had been contacted by the Gooding Hospital in the Bliss woman's case.

Holsinger did say he had an X-ray of the woman taken in Jerome, the day of the emergency.

In Gooding, Dr. Short said he was "familiar" with the case but denied that a Gooding doctor was contacted. "I believe she was Dr. Scheel's patient and Dr. Scheel was not in," Short said. Dr. Holsinger then ordered the transfer, according to Short.

Gooding hospital officials would not disclose the name of the Gooding doctor on call at the time of the Bliss woman's emergency, nor would they reveal the name of the nurse on duty at the time.

Mrs. Frances Whorton, administrator of the hospital, deferred to the chairman of the hospital board when asked for the information.

Lee Wagner, Gooding, board chairman, said "We're going to put out a minimum of information. We don't think it's necessary."

"We don't think anything would be accomplished by getting into this case and airing it out," Wagner said.

Wagner refused further comment. Questioned about the Bliss woman's case, Scheel said, "I know of two or possibly three suits that were considered concerning Gooding doctors' care of our patients."

Asked if there was any danger to his patients in view of his charge that Gooding doctors would not treat them, Scheel said, "They (Gooding doctors) have been alerted to that ... They've been told and warned so why pursue it."

"They have not supported the hospital," Scheel said.

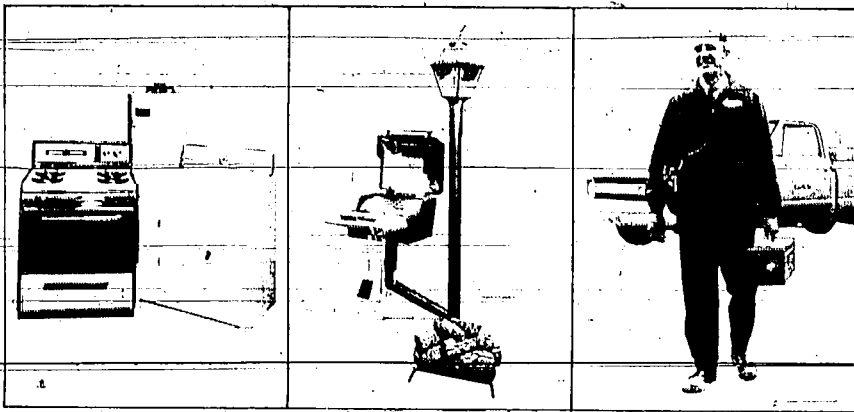

Gooding Deputy Sheriff Boyer, contacted by the Times-News concerning his earlier remarks, said he "had a directive from the sheriff that we are not to give any comments."

Sheriff Earl Brown said, "I just told the guys absolutely no more comments."

"Let them fight it out between the doctors, the hospital and the other people," Brown said.

He said, "there's a whole mess here that needs to be aired out and cleared up." But he would not go into specifics.

We sell more than gas.

Gas Appliances

We have an appliance store inside each of our gas company offices.

It's an appliance center where you can buy clean, efficient gas appliances. Ranges, clothes dryers, water heaters, air conditioners. Gas appliances that are, for the most part, more economical and more efficient than electric appliances.

Gas Home Accessories

We also sell gas home accessories. Our gas barbecue grills are perfect for year round barbecue meals. Gas fireplace logs and outdoor lights add comfort and charm to any home. They are convenient, economical and stylish.

Service

And we sell service. Throughout our service area we have 108 well equipped and fully trained service men in radio dispatched units ready to check and adjust your gas equipment, and diagnose improper operation.

CASH TALKS! FINANCING CAN BE ARRANGED, HOWEVER, OUR LOSS, YOUR GAIN!!

JEROME — The Jerome School Volunteers (JSV) has not yet begun its volunteer registration drive to recruit residents in an effort to obtain volunteers to help in the school district.

Mrs. Nancy Kennedy, vice president of the JSV, said "We are seeking that parents who are interested in working in the volunteer program to return the forms as soon as possible so that a program can be set up."

Mrs. Kennedy explained that the JSV program believes that the boys and girls of the community are the most important resource. "Many children need individualized attention. We need volunteers to help the teacher in ways which will allow her to provide more personal assistance to our children," Mrs. Kennedy said.

Mrs. Kennedy said the volunteer supplements but does not supplant the effectiveness of the professional staff. "The volunteer is in the school only at the request of the principal and teachers," Mrs. Kennedy said. She added that a formal education is not necessary — "Only a desire to help the children."

Anyone interested in serving as a volunteer is asked to call the school in which they would like to serve.

LAS VEGAS, Nev. (UPI) — Maude Chamberlain heeded President Nixon's message on the necessity to save energy — and wound up in the hospital.

Mrs. Chamberlain, 82, decided to change 60-watt bulbs for the 100-watt bulbs in her home but fell off a step ladder and broke her hip.

She underwent surgery at Valley Hospital and was reported in good condition Tuesday. Mrs. Chamberlain told the hospital to send the bill to President Nixon.

MEMPHIS, Tenn. — Cars representing luxury, regular, intermediate and compact-sized cars.

On the first half of the trip, the six-passenger luxury car, equipped with air conditioning, got 18.2 miles per gallon at 50 m.p.h. compared to the 15.1 m.p.g. obtained by a similar car traveling at 70 m.p.h.

The 60 m.p.h. regular-sized car averaged about 18.2 m.p.g. — a 20 per cent gas savings over its faster-moving counterpart. The intermediate sized car averaged 20.7 at 50 m.p.h. or 24.2 per cent better than the 70 m.p.h. intermediate, and the 50 m.p.h. compact got 20.3 m.p.g. — a 24.6 per cent saving over its counterpart.

4 county survey planned

JEROME — The South Idaho Resource, Planning and Development Association has initiated a contract with the University of Idaho to conduct a mailed survey of residents in Cassia, Jerome, Minidoka and Twin Falls counties.

The purpose of the survey is to provide information that will assist in the future planning of these counties, according to Art Rathburn, area specialist with the University of Idaho Cooperative Extension Service, Twin Falls.

"In order to plan effectively it is important to know how the people in the communities feel about where they live. What kind of changes they would like to see made, what aspects of the community they especially enjoy and what new facilities (if any) they would like to see in their communities," Rathburn said.

He noted that answers to these questions are important to guide further development and the answers can only come from the people who live in the different communities. That is why we have mailed out the questionnaires," Rathburn said.

'73 toy supply scarce

NEW YORK (UPI) — That popo stick, rocket or little red wagon may not be available unless the Christmas shopping is done early.

"Never before were toys expected to be so scarce," Henry H. Coords said Tuesday. He is president of the Toy Manufacturers of America Inc., the trade association of the toys, games and decorations industry.

"Now for the good news — 'Never before were toys so safe and probably never again will the prices of toys be so low as they will be this Christmas,'" Coords added.

The toy shortage is expected to curtail the selection of toys just before Christmas, Coords said.

The shortages anticipated are traced to dipping supplies of raw materials due to the fuel shortage. The plastics in toys are made from petrochemicals, byproducts in the refining of oil.

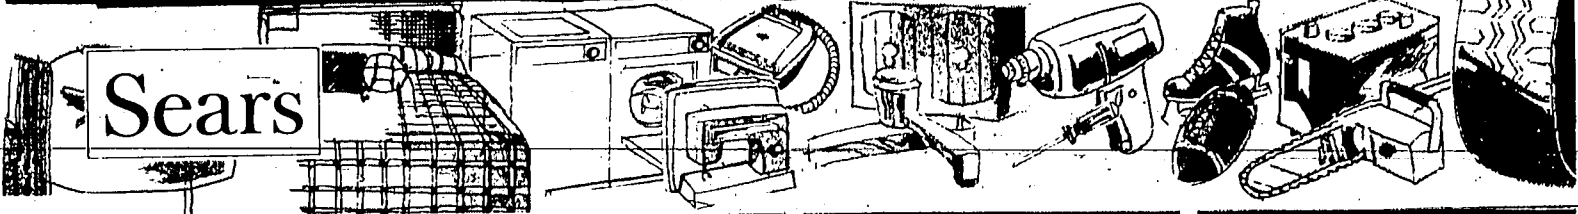

They also will spring from the fact that this year there is no extra shopping week between Thanksgiving and Christmas, due to Thanksgiving falling when it did.

Coords, president of Fisher-Price Toys, said that "At no time since World War II have shortages of raw materials, such as plastic, wood, paper, steel and zinc hit the industry, until now."

To support his statement that never were toys so safe, Coords cited statistics gathered by the federal government that he said show what manufacturers have felt for a long time — toys are among the safest consumer products in the home.

Vesco accuses government of spreading 'a foul and sneaking lie'

NASSAU, Bahamas (UPI) — Financier Robert L. Vesco accused the U.S. government Tuesday of spreading "a foul and sneaking lie" connecting him with heroin trafficking.

He said the move was a bid to force him to help the government in its political prosecutions, an apparent reference to the impending Watergate trials of former Attorney General John N. Mitchell and former Commerce Secretary Maurice Stans.

Meanwhile, a Bahamian magistrate hearing a U.S. request for extradition of Vesco indicated Tuesday that he was unsympathetic with the U.S. case.

Vesco, in a written statement issued from his office at the Bahamas Commonwealth Bank, said allegations published in the last two days accusing him of helping finance illegal drug traffic were "so despicable" he decided to issue his first statement since he left the United States last February.

"This rumor is a foul and sneaking lie," Vesco said. He blamed it on U.S. authorities who are seeking his extradition.

The statement was issued just a few hours after Vesco's principal Bahamian attorney, Eugene Dupuch, completed his arguments at the extradition hearing before magistrate Emmanuel Osadebay. Dupuch said the U.S. government had not proved its case.

The United States is trying to extradite Vesco to stand trial on a charge of having defrauded the International Controls Corp., which he formerly ran, of $50,000 for his own use.

The two Bahamian attorneys representing the U.S. government, Cecil Wallace-Whitfield and Patrick Tothe, scheduled rebuttals to Dupuch's arguments today, but Osadebay gave a broad hint during Tuesday's hearing he was not sympathetic with the U.S. case.

Council completes area plan

SHOSHONE — Gov. Cecil D. Andrus has congratulated the Wood River Resource Area Council of Governments on its recently completed project plan.

The pamphlet containing the plan includes not only the resource information about people, climate, topography, geology, soils, irrigation and water, agriculture, wildlife, recreation, tourism, communications, industry and community facilities, but contains a definite plan of action to utilize all to good advantage.

The governor said this plan "is very timely in view of the rapidly changing conditions in this part of the state."

Project headquarters in Gooding with Don G. Fredericksen as chairman.

The Wood River Resource Conservation and Development (RC&D) project is located in southeastern Idaho and includes four counties — Blaine, Camas, Gooding and Lincoln.

It embraces a land area of 3.0 million acres with 71 per cent in federal ownership, 25 per cent private and 4 per cent state.

The area is rural in character with land uses of livestock grazing, irrigation and dryland agriculture, fishing, farming, forestry and recreation.

The population of the area is in excess of 18,000. The principal cities are Gooding, Ketchum, Halley, Shoshone and Wendell, with Gooding the only one that exceeds the urban criteria with a population of 2,500.

The climate is variable with temperatures ranging from winter lows of 45 degrees to summer highs of 110 degrees. Precipitation ranges from 8 to 16 inches in the agricultural areas to 65 inches in the mountains with snow accumulation of up to 20 feet. Frost free days vary from 60 to 140 days.

Management of water resources is a major key to continued and future growth and development in the area.

Irrigation, to some degree, occurs nearly every year. The floods occur from the Big and Little Wood rivers and tributaries.

Re-establishment of grass, shrubs and forbs on the droughty, lower rangelands is key to the support of livestock and wildlife on both private and public lands. Improved livestock and wildlife management is needed to maintain and improve the quality and quantity of the vegetative cover of the rangeland.

Present trout production, at 15 million pounds annually, can double with full utilization of the water resources and with expanded markets.

The Sawtooth Mountains, with elevations reaching 12,878 feet, give rise to seven famous rivers of Idaho: the Salmon, Big Lost, Little Wood, Big Wood, Boise, Payette and Camas.

The mountains satisfy a growing number of recreational needs. The famed Sun Valley began an era of condominium living associated with recreational and vacation complexes.

Hunting and fishing are popular activities in the area. Upland game birds and big game afford great opportunities for the local, state and out-of-state sportsmen. The wide variety of fishing opportunities and year-round recreational pursuits add greatly to the area's economic base.

The Wood River Resource Area Council is the primary organizational unit that will coordinate all other institutions to help find solutions to mutual problems and issues concerning the area's citizens.

The membership of the council constitutes a council of governments wherein the responsible elected officials can institute and coordinate a planning and implementation process for area development.

Council membership consists of 24 members composed of one representative from each of the four counties.

A Lovelier You

TAKE A SWING AT TENSION

By Mary Sue Miller

Seen on a movie location: It was just before the "take" of a big scene that the picture's lovely star flopped over rag-doll fashion and swung her arms from side to side like a pendulum. She then had a necessary touch-up to her hair and costume. Why did she go through those last-minute gyrations, do you suppose? She was taking a fast out for the relief of tense nerves and muscles. Many similar routines have been passed along through this column.

For a star, a relaxed approach is basic to a successful performance. Tension exacts a toll of the facial expression, the voice's quality, and the body's grace. Tension makes you feel miserable, too, and lowers your efficiency. You then can become fatigued to the point of collapse. And that's no condition to be in at this busy season.

Every Lovelier, in the public eye or not, should take steps to allay tension. Many doctors recommend outdoor exercise, such as a brisk walk. A leisurely bath and a nap are helpful to some people. Few of us can drop our duties to indulge in those relief measures. And here's where relaxing tricks, like the rag doll swing, come to the rescue.

Another good one is: Stretch out flat on floor and stiffen every muscle, slowly in turn, from toes to forehead. Now go limp — suddenly. Repeat three times; now rest in a limp state for five minutes. Then up and at 'em!

SECRETS OF A LOVELY FIGURE

What's your figure problem? To achieve total attractiveness send for my booklet, SECRETS OF A LOVELY FIGURE. It contains easy ways to reduce weight and proportions; to overcome grooming problems, such as fuz, freckles and blemishes; to move with grace and poise. For your copy, write to Mary Sue Miller in care of this news paper, enclosing a long, self-addressed, stamped envelope and 25 cents in cash.

Area miss sets Boise appearance

MURTAUGH — Debra Stastny, Murtaugh, will appear in the Boise Civic Opera presentation of "Street Scene" Friday and Saturday at the Boise High School Auditorium. Miss Stastny will portray Jenny, a young high school girl. Kurt Will did the musical adaptation for "Street Scene" which was taken from Elmer Rice's Pulitzer prize winning play. It was first performed in 1947 by the New York City Opera Company.

The story tells of romance, turmoil and tragedy in the lives of city dwellers.

Miss Stastny, the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Joe Stastny Jr., Murtaugh, is a former voice student of Mary Walker.

Wakened again, he played the eight of spades. South ducked, but the dormouse needed no further prods. He led another spade since there was no way to keep him from getting in with the ace of clubs and winding up with a total of three spade tricks.

"Curiouser and curiouser" thought Alice. "I wonder if he was really asleep. Had he played one of his high spades at trick one, South would have ducked and we would have had no way to beat the contract."

Here we are back at the Mad Hatter's bridge party in Wonderland.

The dormouse, sitting East, had awoken long enough to overcall the Hatter's opening club bid and had lapsed back into somnolence while the March Hare bid two notrump and was raised to game by the Hatter.

Alice opened the five of spades. The deuce was played from dummy and there was the dormouse asleep again. They prodded him. He stirred, yawned and played the nine.

Dealers 'pitch in'

DAVIE, Fla. (UPI) — A group calling itself the Broward County Marijuana Dealers Association Tuesday pitched in to help a bank here raise funds to pay for a child's heart operation.

The group gave the Sterling National Bank, trustees for the "Jody Dietrick Heart Surgery Fund," $2,000 in $100, $50 and $20 bills. The money, which was delivered by a young girl, was reportedly the balance needed to pay for the surgery needed by the 6-year-old boy.

It was the third time this year that a self-proclaimed marijuana dealers association donated money to charities. The previous two were in Gainesville, Fla.

The "association" in Gainesville first donated $10,000 to the Jerry Lewis Telethon and then $1,000 to a scholarship fund.

Abby

Abigail Van Buren

© 1973 by Chicago Tribune-N.Y. News Synd., Inc.

DEAR ABBY: Tell that doctor's wife to move over! (When she complained to her husband that she felt sick, he told her to take two aspirin and go to bed.) I am the wife of a prominent attorney, and here is my story.

Nearly two years ago when we moved across country, our van was involved in a serious accident, and most of my prized antiques were destroyed. Yes, they were insured, but we haven't collected because my husband hasn't had time to follow-up on the claim.

Last summer our 6-year-old son was hospitalized for two weeks when his counselor at day camp slipped and spilled hot wax over 60 per cent of my son's body! (That was the last time they attempted to make candles at that camp.)

Husband 'framed'

Altho the camp admitted their liability, and provided us with all the necessary forms, we have not collected for the hospitalization, medication or plastic surgery because my husband simply hasn't gotten around to doing the legal work yet.

I have a scrapbook filled with newspaper articles written about my husband, but if you print this in your "Dear Abby" column, I will frame it, and hang it in the bathroom!

MAY DAY

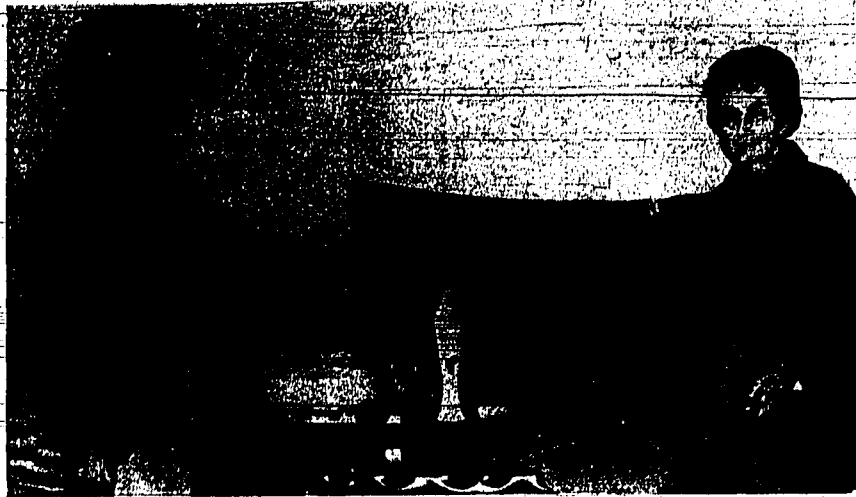

DEAR MAY: It's practically framed. (And so's your old man.)

DEAR ABBY: I sure got a bang out of all those women who wrote that they were married to doctors, plumbers, carpenters and handdressers, but when it came to performing services for their own families, they wouldn't do a thing.

I am married to a man who provides a personal service, but I sure don't want any of his professional services. At least not yet. He's a mortician.

LOVES LIFE

DEAR ABBY: You are being unfair when you attribute group sex to animals! Some animals mate for life. Some are promiscuous, and some are polygamous, but if you know of any that practice group sex in any form—from foursomes to the whole neighborhood, please name the breed or apologize for attributing human aberrations to the more normal furred and feathered creatures who cannot write to Dear Abby.

A. W. LYONS, PROSPECT, KY.

DEAR MR. LYONS: I apologize for insulting the animals. And in this connection, may I say that man is the only animal that blushes. Or needs to.

DEAR ABBY: Every time you print a letter about a dog barking, I get three copies of it in three separate envelopes—all meticulously anonymous. They are obviously from the same person.

Since I don't know who the person is, but know he (or she) reads your column, I'd like that person to know that I ignore such gutless infantile tactics, and place anonymous poison pen letters on the same level with barking dogs.

BOWSER IN ALTADENA, CAL.

DEAR BOWSER: You are slightly more charitable than I. I place them lower.

'Behind the Green Door' ruled obscene

NEW YORK (UPI) — A state appeals court Tuesday ruled "Behind the Green Door" obscene, charging the film showed "multiple and variegated ultimate acts of sexual perversion which would have been regarded as obscene by the community standards of Sodom and Gomorrah."

Three other films, "The Newcomers," "High Rise," and "The Innocent Abroad," were also included in the ruling, which granted injunctions sought by the city to halt showing the films.

The five-judge appellate court said, "It is beyond question all four films graphically depicted various acts of sexual misconduct including performances of sodomy and sadism, sometimes involving several participants in grossly perverted acts."

"Green Door" features Marilyn Chambers, who posed as a beaming young mother on Ivory Soap boxes, indulging in sexual acrobatics with four men on a trapeze.

"The average person in New York State, county or city would in all likelihood have concluded that these pictures appeal to prurient interests," the court said.

Caldwell man dies

CALDWELL, Idaho (UPI) — A former professional football player and a long-time resident of Caldwell has died. James E. Johnston played his college football at the University of Washington and later played professional football with the Washington Redskins and the Chicago Cardinals. He was 56. He and his brother operated a meat packing plant in Caldwell. Johnston died Tuesday.

Orofino school damaged

OROFINO, Idaho (UPI) — The about 500 students at Orofino High School were on an unexpected vacation today after a fire damaged the four-year-old structure. Tom Vopat, superintendent of schools, dismissed classes for the rest of the week to allow for cleanup of smoke and water damage from the Wednesday morning fire. Vopat said the fire was reported in the stage area of the auditorium at 11:30 a.m. It was fought by all available equipment until it was controlled shortly before 1 p.m.

Solon 'schocked'

AMERICAN FALLS, Idaho (UPI) — State legislator and former mayor Ralph Wheeler was downright shocked when he received a letter from the state threatening him with jail if he didn't pay back child support. Wheeler, 41, is married and has five children. The letter, which came from the old Department of Social and Rehabilitative Services — now a part of the Department of Environmental and Community Services — was apparently meant for another Ralph Wheeler. Department officials have apologized to Wheeler and say they will be more careful in the future. "They ought to be able to do some cross checking," Wheeler said.

Tips given

BOISE (UPI) — Pioneers in organizing a statewide bicycle program in Oregon have given some tips to the Idaho Trail planners. They included keeping bike paths wide, distinct from road ways and cover them with asphalt. The two representatives from the Oregon State Parks division also said horses should be banned from the paths.

ALBION — The Oregon Trail Festival of the Arts has about two weeks to reply to a notice of cancellation of their lease on the Albion campus before a court order is served. According to Albion city attorney Herman Bedke, a notice of cancellation of the organization's long-term lease on the old Magic Valley Christian College campus was sent about two weeks ago. The stipulations on the lease give the organization 30 days to reply, Bedke said Wednesday. The move began earlier this month when the Albion City Council decided that "several stipulations on the lease agreement have been broken." "We don't feel they are doing what they promised to do," Albion mayor ODeen Redman said Wednesday. Redman said that according to the lease the campus was to be used for educational purposes. "I don't think it has been used for anything in the last two or three years," he said. Bedke said other lease agreements had also been broken, including the failure to maintain the buildings and failure to pay utility bills. But the main complaint, he said, was that the organization was to maintain an education program and had failed to do so. "I don't think they've ever had one," he said. The lease was signed about three years ago by Doug Teeple, Albion, representing the Oregon Trail Festival of the Arts. Teeple could not be reached for comment Wednesday. Earlier this year, in a dispute with the council, Teeple said that the organization had been cleaning up and repairing facilities on the campus in preparation for educational programs.

Gem teacher pay varies

Special to the Times-News
BOISE — A pair of reports of a special committee appointed by the State Board of Education issued this week indicates a disparity in the salaries school districts pay their teachers. Below are some of the average salaries for all educators in districts in the Magic Valley area. The number in parentheses indicates the rank of the salary level out of 106 high-school operating districts. The figures and ranking are taken from the committee reports. Mountain Home, $9,536 (4); Minidoka County, $8,826 (24); Cassia County, $8,696 (34); Glenns Ferry, $8,690 (36); Wendell, $8,667 (39); Twin Falls, $8,636 (42); Mustang, $8,618 (45); Blaine County, $8,523 (52); Castledo, $8,431 (60). Gooding, $8,417 (63); Shoshone, $8,221 (74); Jerome, $8,220 (75); Hagerman, $8,177 (78); Kimberly, $8,165 (81); Camas County, $8,104 (83); Buhl, $7,895 (95). Hansen, $7,520 (98); Filer, $7,510 (99); Richfield, $6,824 (104); Dietrich, $6,544 (105); Bliss, $6,110 (106).

GC man stabbed

GARDEN CITY, Idaho (UPI) — A Garden City man was stabbed Wednesday evening and police have charged another man with assault with a deadly weapon in connection with the incident. Listed in serious condition at St. Alphonsus Hospital in Boise was Norman Holmquist, 23. Garden City police officers said the man was stabbed once. Officers arrested Larry Lang, 21, Garden City, and booked him on a charge of assault with a deadly weapon. Police said the stabbing occurred in a residential area of Garden City.

Plant opening queried

WEISER, Idaho (UPI) — The Champion home builders manufacturing plant in Weiser is expected to announce Friday whether the facility will begin production again next week. Because of a shortage of insulation materials and a seasonal lag in sales, the plant closed down Wednesday. Don Smith, sales manager for the Weiser plant, said the Thanksgiving to Christmas period is slow in mobile home business. Smith said this year the uncertainties posed by the fuel and energy shortages and political problems have added to the business deceleration.

Only 6 testify

POCATELLO, Idaho (UPI) — Only six persons have offered testimony during a public hearing here on management of water quality in the Snake River. The meeting held Wednesday at Idaho State University was under the jurisdiction of the Idaho Department of Environmental and Community Services. Assistant Attorney General Don Burnett, who chaired the session, said that written testimony will be accepted for another 15 days.

Professor resigns

CALDWELL, Idaho (UPI) — Dr. Gilbert J. Hunt, a college of Idaho Professor and a faculty athletic representative in the Pacific Northwest, has resigned from the college staff effective in late February. Hunt has served as the college faculty athletic representative to the Pacific Northwest Intercollegiate Athletic Conference and the National Association of Intercollegiate Athletics. He will join the J.R. Simplot Co. in Caldwell after he leaves a teaching job in chemistry at the college.

2 TF men arrested

TWIN FALLS — Two Twin Falls men were arrested early today and charged with burglary of a truck at the Wycoff Co. terminal. Twin Falls Police Capt. Tim Qualls reported Marvin Spacek notified officers about 3:15 a.m. that he had seen a young man run from the back of one of the Wycoff trucks as he left the building. State police later apprehended the vehicle fitting the description given by Spacek and the two occupants were arrested. They were identified as Mike Anthony Fahay, 19, and John Anthony, 20.

Fuel saving proposal

BOISE (UPI) — Mayor Jay Amyn and a land developer have proposed a system of satellite parking lots and express buses to cope with fuel shortage transportation problems in Boise. Amyn and developer Richard B. Smith propose establishing satellite parking lots at key locations throughout the city. Persons who live outside the central city area but work in the central city then would drive to a satellite lot in their neighborhood, park their cars and take a downtown express bus. Amyn said he will take the idea to the City Bus Committee. "I'd certainly like to give it a try," he said. "Instead of trying to cover almost every street in the city we could go to running shuttle buses to and from key areas."

Schedule outlined

HILL AFB, Utah (UPI) — Officials at Hill Air Force Base say they will adopt one of two special work schedules for the Christmas holiday season in an effort to conserve heating oil. Maj. Gen. Bryce Poe, II, commander of the Ogden Air Materiel Area, said both schedules will give workers extended holiday weekends but "will not force anyone into a nonwork status."

Wood River water meets snow

WOOD RIVER, Idaho (UPI) — The snow on the mountainsides of the Wood River area is melting, and the water is running down the slopes. The water is meeting the snow, and the snow is melting. The water is running down the slopes, and the snow is melting. The water is meeting the snow, and the snow is melting. The water is running down the slopes, and the snow is melting.

Board mulls camp sale

According to camp accountant Harold Armstrong, the labor center is owned by the Twin Falls County Farm Labor Sponsoring Association, Inc. Armstrong said today that there were "a lot of (government) restrictions" on the sale of the camp. "It's a long, complicated affair," he said. "I'm not sure we can sell it. We might have to give it away." Labor Center board members pointed Wednesday night to decreased sugar beet acreage as an indication of reduced camp operating income. The camp is managed with fees of about $2 an acre assessed from beet growers, with Amalgamated Sugar Co. contributing an additional 10 cents per acre to the camp's operation. Because of reductions in sugar beet acreage, the labor center board also discussed a possible $2 per week increase in the rent charged to migrant families for lodging. Camp manager James Rathbun said the camp was barely able to stay within its budget this year. Further reductions in beet acreage assessments, he said, would put the operation in the red. Amalgamated Sugar Co. production manager Bob Day said today he did not have "the slightest idea" how much beet acreage would decline in 1974. He said the Beet Growers Association had indicated a reduction in beet acreage due to the high price of beans, but he said it was "ridiculous" to assume that beet acreages would therefore be reduced permanently. Day said he foresaw no drop in the demand for migrant labor in the beet fields in the next few years. Dennis Ellison, a VISTA worker attached to the IMC, told Labor Center Board members Wednesday night that the labor camp could be given a multi-use designation, possibly serving both as a migrant facility and as a site for much needed low-income housing in Twin Falls. "We ought to have some input from the community as to what this facility should be used for," Ellison said. "Perhaps in your positions you should make the community aware where this camp is going in the next few years," he told board members. If the labor center is sold or otherwise disposed of, board member Carl Boyd said, then the IMC would be given priority over other potential owners.

Hospital space 'at a premium'

TWIN FALLS — Hospital space was at a premium Wednesday at Magic Valley Memorial Hospital with 118 patients housed in the adult and pediatric section which provides only 108 beds. Hospital officials said the 126 bed-hospital includes the obstetrics and infant areas leaving 108 regular beds. With 118 patients a number of lounge and treatment rooms are being used for regular patients. Only one hospital bed was available Wednesday, and hospital officials had cancelled seven surgeries scheduled for the day because of lack of space. These were surgeries which could be delayed without endangering the life of the patient and were of a non-emergency nature. Officials said they dislike having to cancel surgery when the patient has prepared himself or herself for the event but under present conditions there is no alternative. Officials said there had an accident occurred Wednesday there would have been some beds in the hallways. As of this morning conditions had eased somewhat because of a sizeable number of dismissals. Surgeries for today were allowed to remain on the schedule. There were no accident admissions during the night.

Water price up

JEROME — The board of directors of the Northside Canal Co. have set the operation and maintenance assessment for the 1974 irrigation season at $5 per share. Ted Diehl, canal company manager, said this is an increase of $1.40 per share over the last season. He said the major portion of the increase is due to the American Falls Dam replacement and the remainder to inflation costs. Diehl said that all irrigation companies had an increase this year, some less than the Northside Canal Co., but most of them greater. Assessment notices will be sent out around Dec. 15 and shareholders wishing to pay maintenance prior to the first of the year can do so, Diehl said.

Thefts probed

HAZELTON — Two burglaries occurred in Hazelton during the early morning hours Wednesday, according to Jerome county sheriff Eben Hall. Hall said the burglars entered the Klassy Kurl Beauty Shop about 3 a.m. Wednesday after breaking a window. He said entry was made by breaking a window at the back of the shop. A small strongbox containing a small amount of cash was taken. "The burglars then broke through an adjoining door to enter the state liquor store where 32 cases of different alcoholic beverages were taken. The value of the stolen liquor has been set at $2,411.50. Also taken from the liquor store was a 150 pound safe containing $216 in cash," Hall said. "The burglaries are still being investigated, Hall said.

Area fish now big polluters

Klontz questions Liao's formula for measuring fish pollution when applied to Idaho hatcheries. He said because hatcheries in this state use different feeds and different water temperatures, trout here may produce more of less waste than trout in Washington state. Whatever the amount of BOD waste going into the Snake River and nearby waters, both Klontz and Erickson believe the effects have not been very harmful. In fact, wastes deposited into ponds below some trout farms appear to have positive effects on the fish life, they maintain. Clear Lakes, which three hatcheries deposit waste into "has some of the most fantastic fish in it that you've ever seen in your life," Klontz said. Erickson said trout manure is converted into nutrients which fish feed on through a "biological reconditioning." This reconditioning, coupled with the dilution of the manure in huge quantities of water, prevents the manure from causing much harm, he said. When water leaves the trout farm, it is saturated with oxygen, Erickson said. However, he admitted that the manure has not gone through reconditioning before it leaves the fish tanks. Klontz mentioned the "tremendous diluting factor" as being an important consideration. He said that this summer 20,000 cubic feet of water per second — well over 13 million gallons of water per day — was being flushed through Idaho's trout hatcheries. Harold Gerren, director of the EPA Idaho Operations Office, said that in low concentrations the nutrients contained "in almost any organic discharge" would probably be beneficial to fish in water poor in nutrients. Even though the trout manure does not seem to be particularly harmful to fish, the wastes do damage recreational and aesthetic qualities of Idaho waters, Gerren said. One major problem is that part of the manure and uneaten fish feed settles out, forming sludge deposits on the bed bottoms of lakes and streams. These bacterially active sludge beds can produce noxious gases, Gerren said. "The whole issue," he said, "goes back to the underlying philosophy" of the EPA Clean Water Act: that industries should be responsible for cleaning up their own wastes regardless of the effects of those wastes. Sedimentation basins are now being developed to clean up hatchery wastes, Gerren said. These basins hold the hatchery wastes until fish wastes and feed settle to the bottom and can be scooped out by machinery. Gerren said that taking out the settleable wastes would cut down the BOD requirement by 80 per cent. Because of the huge amount of water now used by hatcheries, water might not stay in sediment basins long enough to allow wastes to settle out thoroughly, Gerren said. He believed that most hatcheries are "probably using several times the amount of water" that they need. In any case, the tremendous dilution of fish waste by hatcheries is no reason for the EPA to overlook that waste, Gerren said. He maintained that any industry could dilute its wastes with a large amount of water. Gerren said the EPA is now working on trout hatchery waste discharge permits which will require the industry to use the best practicable cleanup technology. Klontz believes Idaho hatchery pollution should be studied in greater depth before the EPA requires hatcheries to install clean up equipment. At present, the EPA is going slow on the cleanup requirements because there is "no information now to really make the (water pollution) guidelines stick," he said. "To gather more information on Idaho's fish industry Klontz has proposed to the state's water resource board a project involving periodic collection of intake and discharge samples from each hatchery in the state. Also, in January a bill to create an Idaho Food Fish Commission will be introduced in the state legislature, Klontz said. Functioning like the Idaho Beef Commission, this commission would be responsible for developing statistics on the pollution problem as well as gathering market information for fish growers.

Man transferred

SHOSHONE — Richard G. (Rusty) Tewes has been transferred from the Shoshone office of the Wood River Water and Soil Conservation District to the Caldwell WSC office. He began work there Monday as a conservationist after having worked through the Shoshone office on a temporary basis serving the Gooding, Lincoln, Blaine and Camas counties since graduation from Idaho State University in 1971.

Andrus' objections bring reactions

WASHINGTON, D.C. — Idaho Gov. Cecil Andrus' characterization of President Nixon's requested speed limit of 50 miles per hour as "ridiculous" brought reactions Wednesday from both the secretary of the interior and the White House. The Idaho governor's strong objection to a different speed limit for trucks and automobiles as well as similar objections from several other western governors was cited by the Times-News during Interior Secretary Rogers Morton's press conference as well as during the daily White House press briefing. "Any kind of controls are liable to cause a flurry," replied the secretary of interior. "But I think that as the shortage develops, they will realize that this is a pretty good idea as we're saving thousands of barrels of oil every day." Secretary Morton was also asked by the Times-News about widespread complaints that diesel trucks cannot operate either efficiently or at fuel-saving economy unless at 65 miles per hour. Replied Morton: "The President took gear ratios of diesels into consideration and concluded that there is not too much safety hazard in a difference of 5 miles per hour." Morton was particularly amused when asked about Las Vegas service station owners who have refused the President's request to close on Sundays in favor of Tuesday closing. "I could expect Las Vegas to be unique!" he said amidst laughter. In the White House, President Nixon's deputy press secretary Gerald Warren explained: "The President will not comment upon the Idaho governor's description of a program which has been carefully thought out." Idaho's two Republican congressmen, Steven Symms and Orval Hansen, appeared to have split on another issue. For Symms told the Times-News: "I support the statement of Gov. Andrus and he's absolutely right."

But Hansen answered: "I support the recommendation of a 50 m.p.h. speed limit and have complied with it fully in all of my driving. It is an undisputed fact that an automobile uses more gas going over 50 m.p.h. than it uses at 50 m.p.h. "The fact that some people drive faster than the recommended maximum limit works to the disadvantage of those who observe the limit. Those who drive faster are unnecessarily using a disproportionate supply of valuable gas, with the possible result that many people will not be able to drive at all." Idaho's Republican Sen. James McClure is presently in the Middle East as a guest of the government of Kuwait. Sen. Frank Church, D-Idaho, commented: "I commend the governor for acting to reduce speed limits, but uniformly, for all vehicles. . . It takes longer for a truck or a bus to brake, and when those vehicles are travelling faster than cars, a dangerous situation could develop. As for reducing speeds generally, this will save significant amounts of fuel and I join others in urging all Americans to slow down." Morton introduced to his press conference retired Admiral Eli T. Reich, who is currently recruiting a force of 1,350 people who are experienced in logistics to serve in his Office of Petroleum Allocation. "I'm looking for unflappable people who are used to chaos and confusion," said the admiral. "Is there chaos and confusion at present?" "In terms of the letters we have been receiving and from what I am told by Congress, yes," replied the admiral. When asked about possible gasoline rationing, Morton told newsmen: "We have been making progress and have been blessed with warm weather, so that I hope that we can keep gas rationing in our back pocket."

Butz pledges farm fuel priority

SAN FRANCISCO (UPI) — Secretary of Agriculture Earl L. Butz has promised farmers they will hold top priorities during the nation's energy crisis.

"If you ask farmers for higher production, the fuel and fertilizer must be given to them," he declared Tuesday in a speech before the National Milk Producers Association.

The cabinet member also said the "government will get out of agriculture as a pricing factor."

"Last year the federal government gave farmers $4 billion (in price supports); this year the figure will be $2 billion and next year we expect that to drop to half a billion dollars," he said.

Concerning foreign trade, the secretary said the administration is willing to consider negotiating away dairy import quotas but only if U.S. farmers are protected against foreign governmental subsidies.

Butz urged "countervailing duties," under which imported dairy products would be taxed by the United States to offset any subsidy by a foreign government.

Box forgotten

SAN JOSE, Calif. (UPI) — Helms of Mrs. Ida McGovern were making an anxious search of files in area banks Tuesday.
Mrs. McGovern left a sizable fortune in stocks, bonds, savings and property, said her James Orum, and put part of it in a safe deposit box.
But Mrs. McGovern forgot to tell anyone where the box was, Orum said. Bank officials were cooperating in the search, he said.

(c) New York Times Service
NEW YORK — The United States Air Force flew 22,300 tons of military equipment, ammunition, spare parts and medical supplies to Israel from Oct. 13 to Nov. 14.
The Military Air Lift Command, announcing these figures, asserted that the operation proved the efficiency of the giant C-5 Galaxy transport. Development and production of the Galaxy was hotly debated in Congress in the 1960's.
In the Middle East emergency the Cargo included M-60 tanks, weighing about 50 tons; CH-53 helicopters of 12 tons and 175-MM and 165-MM guns of 28 and 24 tons.
Intelligence analysts, weighing the effect of the American airlift on the balance of Middle Eastern power, stressed a significant statistic on the other side. During a comparable period the Soviet Union carried more than 200,000 tons of material — some experts put the figure at 225,000 tons — to Syria and Egypt, the principal Arab combatants, by sea alone.
The Russians, in the opinion of qualified sources, demonstrated anew their ability to improvise a major supply effort. Material destined for ships was loaded in Hungary and sent by rail or highway to the Black Sea ports without any serious dislocation of ordinary traffic.

Employees fearful

WASHINGTON (UPI) — Such a "frightening situation" existed at the Small Business Administration office in Richmond, Va., that one employee was afraid to testify and another got a gun permit, the former director of the Philadelphia SBA office said today.
Russell Hamilton, who had authority over the Richmond office until Nov. 15, told a hearing of the House Small Business subcommittee the situation has existed in the Richmond office since the investigation of the legal loan activities in the SBA began.
He said one Richmond employee is afraid to testify before the committee "for fear of his life" and that Ken Bowie, the finance director of the Richmond office, recently obtained a gun permit from police.
"He was suspect that perhaps there might be organized crime involved," Hamilton said of Bowie.
He said he has seen some "tendencies" in the operations of the Richmond office under former director Thomas S. Reagan that could indicate the involvement of organized crime, "but it also could be some sophisticated finance sharpshooters. They work the same way."
Earlier a congressional investigator said SBA rewards employees who make many loans, even if they're bad loans, and penalizes employees who are more careful.

Faintly heard cry brings rescue

SEATTLE, Wash. (UPI) — Policemen Jim Geiser and Tim Perry were patrolling in the "skid row" area when they heard the faint cry:
"Help! Anybody, help!"
"Where are you?" they called.
"Down here, you dumb."
They pointed their flashlights down a manhole at Western and Madison streets. They discovered a 65-year-old man dangling almost upside-down about 15 feet below the street level.

"He was just hanging there from an old pipe running along the wall near the bottom," Geiser said. "His left leg was wrapped around that pipe like a pretzel."

"He said he'd been down there about four hours — and it was none of our business how he got there," Perry added.
Two more officers and a squad of firemen arrived and the man was extracted from the manhole, still refusing to explain how he got there.
"The funny thing," said-

Geiser, "he was ornery, cantankerous — but stone sober."

Jerome charter uncertain

JEROME — Jerome will soon become a three bank town, but there seems to be some question as to whether or not the town will have four banks.

In March of this year it was announced that two banks, Idaho First National and Sawtooth National Bank and Trust Company, had applied to the Idaho commissioner of finance for charters to operate banks in Jerome.

By May both banks had received approval for charters. However the charter for the Sawtooth National Bank and Trust was approved on the condition that Federal Deposit Insurance Corporation (FDIC) insurance was obtained.

Last week, it was announced that the Idaho First National Bank would establish a branch bank in Jerome by the first of the year. Jerome is presently served by the Bank of Idaho, which earlier protested the applications for charter, and by the First Security Bank.

William Hart, Jerome attorney representing the Sawtooth National Bank and Trust, said Tuesday that he has not been notified that the bank has received FDIC coverage. He said he did receive a letter of intent to approve the charter for the Sawtooth Bank providing FDIC coverage is obtained.

"We have applied for the insurance to the FDIC regional office in San Francisco and I am not sure what the delay is. I know the application must also meet the approval must also meet the approval of the FDIC's national headquarters in Washington," Hart said.

The proposed new independent bank is capitalized by Idaho shareholders including, besides Gliese, Milford Jones and John Van Orman, both Jerome County commissioners; H. E. Wilson, Jerome farmer; Thomas Prescott, Jerome insurance agent; Joseph G. Hansen, Wendell cattle feeder; J. Robert Tullis, Boise certified public accountant; Fred P. Thompson, Jr., Boise banker, and John C. Hepworth, Buhl attorney.

Flags given

Children presented posters

TWIN FALLS — The Twin Falls chapter of the Knights of Columbus is presenting miniature American flags to first graders and framed patriotic posters to first grade teachers in schools throughout the county.

Grand knight Ray Sabala said this local effort is being done in conjunction with a statewide program by the Knights of Columbus to distribute the flags and wall hangings. Sabala said the program was "kicked off" by Gov. Cecil Andrus and the Master Knight Fourth Degree.

... idea rejected

(c) Washington Star-News
WASHINGTON — President Nixon should submit himself to detailed questioning — perhaps under oath — by a special panel of experts to settle the question of his involvement in the Watergate affair, former attorney general Elliot L. Richardson said Wednesday.
 Richardson, interviewed on the Dick Cavett television program, said he had suggested such a showdown to several White House officials in August.
 After taping the program here last night, Richardson said he had made the suggestion to presidential aides Alexander M. Haig Jr., J. Fred Buzhardt Jr. and Melvin R. Laird. Although he was told the suggestion had been passed on to the President, it was not followed.
 Richardson said he suggested the President be questioned by Sen. Sam J. Ervin Jr., D-N.C., chairman of the Special Senate Watergate Committee, Sen. Howard H. Baker Jr., R-Tenn., ranking Republican on the committee, and by Archibald Cox, then Watergate special prosecutor, with a neutral person like Sen. John Stennis, D-Miss., serving as moderator.
 He said he still feels such a panel, with Leon Jaworski, the new prosecutor, taking the place of Cox, is the best way to clear up the entire Watergate matter.

 Such a confrontation, Richardson said, would be better than impeachment, which he described as "a long and clumsy way of doing it."
 But if the President does not keep his promise of full disclosure — "as soon as there is a new process of foot dragging," — the possibility of impeachment, "would have to be taken even more seriously than it is now," Richardson said.
 The process of disclosure should begin, Richardson said, with the delivery to Jaworski of the documents relating to contributions by milk producers to the President's re-election campaign.
 While he was attorney general, Richardson said, those documents were in the civil division of the Justice Department. He was unable to get White House agreement to turn them over to Cox.
 Richardson described some of the White House officials he dealt with as political "amateurs." Afterwards, he said he was thinking primarily, but not entirely, of the officials who have since departed the White House.

"The White House staffers tended to think of me as not a politician at all. In fact I had been in politics in various ways for more than 20 years. To me, they were amateurs because they thought it was smart to be smart," Richardson said.
 "It takes experience to know that the simpler, more direct approach, one in which you assume that things are going to be known... (is best.)"
 "You can spin through the process of calculations but conclude that the way to play it is straight."

TF, Elmore 4-H Club members claim awards

TWIN FALLS — Two Twin Falls County and one Elmore County 4-H club members have received awards in the National 4-H Congress now in session in Chicago.

Rusty Jessor, Kimberly, has received a $600 4-H achievement program scholarship, and Carol Skinner, Twin Falls, was awarded a $700 scholarship. Janet Groefsema, Elmore County also received a $700 award.

Jessor, the son of Mr. and Mrs. Roy Jessor, received the award offered by Ford Motor Co. for outstanding 4-H achievement program efforts. He has been in 4-H work the past 10 years and was named 1973-74 state 4-H club president in June. He is a member of the Twin Valley Saddle Club and currently a freshman at the University of Idaho where he is majoring in agricultural business.

Skinner, the daughter of Mr. and Mrs.

Norman Skinner, Twin Falls, received her scholarship for outstanding performance in 4-H automotive programs with projects in competition with male 4-H automotive members.

She has four years in 4-H work and is also a member of the Twin Valley Saddle Club and now attends the College of Southern Idaho planning a career in accounting.

GROEFSEMA was named Idaho's sheep project winner and also won the national award with her sheep projects. She received an expense paid trip to the national Congress from the Idaho Wool Growers Assn. She is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Ralph Groefsema, Mountain Home and a member of the Desert 4-H Club and Four Paws Each Dog Club. She has nine years of 4-H club work to her credit. She is a senior in the Mountain Home high school and hopes to become a veterinary technician.

Grassland seeding slowed by storms

SHOSHONE — Frequent storms across the Shoshone district of the Bureau of Land Management have hampered rangeland seeding efforts.

O'Dell Grandsen, manager, said today.

A combination of mud and snow, followed by freezing temperatures, have nearly halted seeding operations.

The jobs are about 65 percent complete, and unless we get some unseasonably warm temperatures within the next couple of weeks, we will have to suspend operations until spring," Grandsen commented.

The seedings are located on national resource lands east of Richfield and south of Shoshone. The two seedings will culminate fire rehabilitation measures for this year. To date, 8,100 acres have been seeded to forbs, grasses and shrubs, in an effort to protect soils, improve livestock forage conditions, and enhance wildlife habitat.

Many of the seeded grasses are fire resistant and will reduce the occurrence and speed of future fires. Local stockmen, who customarily graze their animals on the burned rangelands, are cooperating in rehabilitation efforts. They have agreed to defer grazing burned areas for two consecutive growing seasons to allow for seedling establishment.

Frandsen commented "It is hoped that the fire resistant grasses will also improve the stability of range livestock operations by supplying a more dependable forage source."

Midwest visit off

TWIN FALLS — More than 100 area farmers will have to give up plans to visit the John Deere Equipment Co. plants in Moline, Ill. and Waterloo, Iowa.

Fred Wanzelried, owner-manager of Gem Equipment Co. said United Airlines officials had cancelled a scheduled charter flight out of Twin Falls the morning of Dec. 5. The farmers were scheduled to spend two days touring the manufacturing plants and to return here the evening of Dec. 7.

Oklahoma is the 18th largest state in the nation, covering 69,919 square miles.

Beef, pork price decline

WASHINGTON (UPI) — Retail beef and pork prices may rise "a little" from January through March, but consumers should find them generally declining for the rest of 1974, Agriculture Department economists said today.

Prices could sag even further than currently expected if the energy crisis should slow the overall national economy more than currently forecast, specialists added. If that happens, they said, consumer demand for meat "may not be as strong as our price forecasts indicate."

On the basis of current general economic conditions, department experts writing in a livestock and meat situation summary said - higher prices this winter will be produced by a dip in supplies. The expected drop in prices beginning next spring will reflect another upswing in supplies and lower prices for live animals, especially cattle, the report said.

Tracing the beef pattern, forecasters said high feeder cattle and feed prices, plus disruptions caused by price controls had led to a slowdown in moving cattle into feedlots. Because of this, the currently high rate of cattle slaughter will be followed by a period of low slaughter volumes during the winter.

Price said OK

WASHINGTON (UPI) — The Agriculture Department ruled Tuesday prices for sugar beets included in 1973 contracts between growers and processors are high enough to comply with the Federal Sugar Act.

Under that law, companies which grow and process beets, and which also buy additional beets from independent farmers, must pay for the purchased beets at prices approved as "fair and reasonable" by the Agriculture Department.

Compliance with this requirement is needed before the processor or producer firms can qualify for federal sugar payments on beets grown on their own farms.

Agriculture officials said they had studied 1973 beet contracts and concluded that processors who pay the contract prices or higher will be ruled in compliance with the "fair price" regulations.

Beef price spread hit by farmer

OGDEN (UPI) — The president of Utah-Idaho Farmers Union wants to know why there is a substantial gap between the price of beef to the farmer and to the consumer.

Roy Holman, Ogden, said the price of beef on the hoof dropped from 53 or 58 cents in August to the present 37 cents, while the price to the consumer has dipped only one or two cents during the three months.

In letters to Utah's congressional delegation, Holman asked for investigation "into the great disparity between the price of beef to the farmer and the prices being paid for that same beef by the consumer."

"It shouldn't take three months for a 20-cent drop, which is about a 33 1/3 per cent reduction in beef prices, on the hoof, to show up in the market, and it may not show up at all," he said.

Safety act draws fire

BOISE (UPI) — The Idaho State Horticultural Society has urged President Nixon and Congress to repeal the Occupational Safety and Health Act (OSHA).

In a resolution adopted at the closing session of its annual meeting, the society said OSHA is too restrictive, regulatory, punitive and probably unconstitutional.

Larry Limbouch, Fruitland, was elected president of the society and Leroy Falen, Caldwell, vice president. L. E. Bolt, Emmett, was re-elected secretary-treasurer.

Prep basketball season begins on weekend

All 26 teams will taste action in 22-game slate

Basketball begins its three-month reign of Magic Valley this weekend with all 26 of the area high schools getting in at least one bit of action.

The features are several. Charles Farmer, out of coaching two years after six at Twin Falls' helm, will debut with the Wildcats when Kuna comes to Filer. Minico and Coach Gary Swan get a look at a solid prep-all-American and supposedly seven-footer in Vrom of Provo at the Utah city. And three of the top five A-1 schools from last year's state meet, Murtaugh, Oakley and Camas County, will be in action.

Minico Coach Gary Swan believes in getting the toughest possible opener for his team — for opposing board purposes — and also likes to get into Utah. Last year he took the Spartans to Logan — and lost. This year Provo is rated the best in the Beehive state.

Murtaugh won the state A-4 championship last year and a lot of those same faces will be in the lineup at Fairfield, where Camas County counts all but a couple back from last spring's state consolation winners, Oakley, the runner-up in state, also has some good ones back and will entertain Firth in their opener Friday.

In other action, Glens Ferry travels to Buhl where the Indians debut under new Coach Jerry Koster with some good size returning and the guard line in good condition.

Wood River, which Coach Fred Trenkle says can muster little scoring punch compared to last year, will be at Kimberly where the Bulldogs will be their shortest in three seasons.

Richfield lost four of the five met that took them to state last year and will look at their year's crop at home against Hansen. The Huskies have only seven men out for varsity, but Coach Gordon Hogan doesn't feel this will mean he'll be unable to "hold down" the score against opponents. "We've got two playing well right now but the others haven't gotten over football yet," he says.

Hagerman is hoping to ease the plummet of last year from state champion to also-ran and will test its new hopes at Wendell. The Trojans seem to be questionmarks in scoring but Coach Yogi Behrens' teams always play good defense.

Gooding State, with several good ones gone from the contending squad of the past two years, will travel to Bliss in a game of opposites. Gooding State should be down a little. Bliss is very young but should be up some from last season.

New Declo Coach Mike Matthews takes his Hornets to Shoshone with Declo having most of the veterans. Shoshone lost almost all its height from last year.

Castelford, its two top guns graduated, will seek its offensive punch when it plays host to Dietrich. The Blue Devils probably are the shortest team in the area this season.

Carey opens out of district on a two-night tour, stopping at North Gem on Friday and Grace on Saturday.

In Saturday night action, Wendell crosses the river to test Buhl while Wood River goes home to play the Salmon Savages. Hagerman will be at Richfield while Filer stays home to help Valley open its season. Castelford stays in Lincoln County, this time taking on the Indians at Shoshone.

Gooding also gets underway Saturday with the shortest team in several years. They'll be host to the Emmett Huskies, who reportedly are in their last season, as an A-2 school, going A-1 next year.

The other Saturday game finds Oakley entertaining Firth.

Buckeye vote explained

LANSING, Mich. (UPI) — Michigan State Athletic Director Burt Smith revealed Wednesday night he voted for Ohio State as the Big Ten's Rose Bowl representative this year.

Speaking at the Spartan Football Bust in Lansing, the annual awards banquet held to honor Michigan State football players, Smith said he voted for Ohio State "solely on my professional judgment of the athletic merits involved."

Personalities or institutional jealousies were totally absent from my decision. Based on my review of the entire football season, including the fact that Michigan State played both tennis, it was my conclusion that Ohio State best met the definition of the "most representative team."

Johnson named new coach of NBA Kings

KANSAS CITY, Mo. (UPI) — Phil Johnson has his work cut out for him.

The newly-named head coach of the Kansas City-Omaha Kings takes over a team that has lost eight straight, 18 of their first 24 and is floundering in the cellar of the National Basketball Association.

The job is the 32-year-old Johnson's first as head coach in the NBA, although he was head coach at Weber State for three years. At Weber State he posted a 60-16 record and won three Big Sky Conference championships before rejoining Dick Motta as assistant coach of the Chicago Bulls. He graduated from Grace, Idaho, High School.

Johnson signed a contract for the remainder of this season and two more with the Kings.

In making the announcement, Kings General Manager Joe Axelson said, "We're pleased that Chicago made it possible for us to get Johnson at this awkward time in the playing season. He fulfills every criteria we had established in our search for a new head coach following Bob Cousy's resignation."

"Namely: Head coaching experience, youth, winning background and a hard-nosed approach. He's all of these. I'm very impressed with him."

Interim Coach Druff Young will return to his former duties as assistant coach and scout for the Kings.

"I can't wave a wand and bring a division championship," said Johnson. "I'm going in with the attitude of wanting to find out what they (the players) can do for me and what I can do for them."

Johnson said possibilities of the Kings gaining a playoff berth were "remote, but we're still going to strive for it."

He also admitted the Kings don't have the greatest talent in the NBA, which is reasonably obvious.

"We don't have the greatest talent and because of that, I'll take a team effort to get back on the winning track."

The Kings have been hampered much of the season due to the inability of Nate Archibald to play. He was out more than a month with a foot injury and only recently returned to action.

Axelson said Johnson was under no pressure to produce an immediate winner.

Newcomer ties Jones in Disney tourney

LAKE BUENA VISTA, Fla. (UPI) — Tour newcomer Larry Wise sank a 25-foot birdie putt on the last hole Wednesday for a 67 and a tie with Grier Jones for the lead in the first round of the $150,000 Walt Disney World Golf Classic.

Wise, a slender former club pro at Washington's Congressional Country Club, who says teaching taught him when to gamble, finished at five under par and tied Jones, who is complaining of a hip "which gets out of whack."

Wise said gusty winds riding in on a weather front didn't bother him as he sank six birdie putts, two from 25 feet out, and had a lone bogey on Disney's 7,162-yard Magnolia course.

"In fact, the wind seemed favorable on the Magnolia course," he said. "It didn't play bad at all today."

Jones, grinning he was "just tickled to be anywhere near a 67," also had six birdies and one bogey in a wild round that put him in the bunkers at six stops.

"My bunker game was good," said Jones, who has picked up $82,351 — far below his last year's mark — down to his last tournament of the 1973 tour.

Hearings slated on managerial shifting

NEW YORK (UPI) — American League president Joe Cronin informed the Yankees Wednesday Detroit has requested and been granted a formal hearing concerning the Tigers' hiring of former New York manager Ralph Houk.

Cronin scheduled the hearing for Wednesday morning at the Astro-World Hotel in Houston, where the major league baseball winter meeting will be in session.

In addition, an informal hearing has been scheduled for later the same day between the Yankees and Oakland regarding New York's attempts to hire A's manager Dick Williams.

The managerial snafu is the result of Oakland owner Charles O. Finley's demand the A's receive indemnification in the form of players from the Yankees for Williams.

Sobers listed as starter for 18th-ranked Las Vegas squad

LAS VEGAS, Nev. (UPI) — The University of Nevada, Las Vegas, among the top 20 in the UPI basketball major college pre-season poll, opens the season Friday night in an exhibition game against the "athletes in action."

Coach Jerry Tarkanian's recruiting and coaching reputation pushed UNLV into an 18th ranked pre-season slot and landed a super set of new recruits for Las Vegas.

The Rebels begin regular season play Saturday in a clash with defending southwest conference champion Texas Tech which defeated UNLV 67-53 a year ago.

The rebel starters Friday are: Less Brown, 6-10, center, a freshman from Los Angeles; Jim Baker, 6-3, forward, a junior from Philadelphia; Bob Florence, 6-4, forward, a senior from Des Moines, Iowa; guard Rickey Sobers, 6-3, a junior from New York City and Eddie Owens, 6-6, guard, a freshman from Houston, Texas.

Robert "Jeep" Kelly, a high school all-American from Schenley High in Pittsburgh where he was the most valuable player in the dapper dan' roundball classic this spring, rebel team this week.

Tarkanian said Kelly was an "excellent prospect" who found the adjustment to college life difficult to make at present.

"He may return here for the second semester in February," said Tarkanian of the much sought after 6-1, 165-pound freshman.

"We made it clear to Jeep that we'd like to have him back if he ever decides to return. He's a good solid player and a hard worker."

ISU meets Denver and BYU on weekend

POCATELLO — You couldn't find a much tougher opening trip for Idaho State's young and hopeful basketball team. The Bengals, with only two starters returning from last year, open at Denver on Friday, then travel to Brigham Young for a Saturday contest, and play Wyoming at Laramie on Monday.

6-5 forward Jim Anderson and 6-10 center Dan Spindler are the only starters off last year's 18-8 team. Incidentally, that record was ISU's best since 1960.

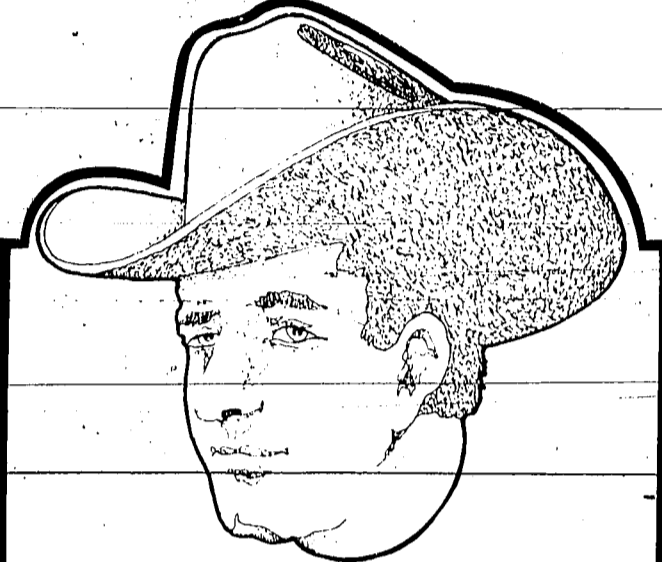

and two reserves from last year.

Drawing the starting assignments will be Spindler at center, Anderson and Leroy Gibbons at forwards, and Kevin Hoyt and either Mitt Strannigan or George Rodriguez at guards.

Spindler and Anderson both scored in double figures last year and Gibbons saw quite a bit of action at forward. He's a great jumper and defensive player. Top reserves in the front line will be JC transfer 6-5 forward Ron Kruidhof (Cerritos College), 6-7 sophomore Frank Krahn, and 6-10 center Steve Hayes from Aberdeen.

That means Coach Jim Killingsworth, who have never had a losing season in 24 years of coaching, has a major rebuilding effort in progress, and he's doing it with three junior college transfers, a couple of freshmen, two players off last year's Jayvees,

In the backcourt, Hoyt is a playmaking type, while Rodriguez likes to drive and muscle his shots in, and Strannigan is a top-notch outside shooter.

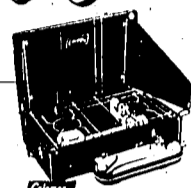

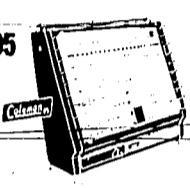

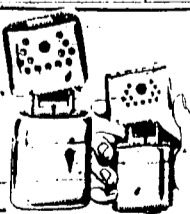

It's the Western man's look. Bailey and American hats, in-up-to-date styles offering you good looks and durability. A variety of styles and colors are available in all sizes. Prices range from $25 to $35. It's a holiday idea from Walco.

Bruins host Burley, Jerome in openers

A very familiar looking bunch of Twin Falls Bruins will begin their 1973-74 basketball season Friday and Saturday night by entertaining the Burley Bobcats and Jerome Tigers in non-conference action.

Two starting forwards, Bob Durham and Charlie Browne, are gone from the past two seasons but 5-9 Landy Haynes and 6-9 Kent Schmidt are back for their third starting years.

In addition, 6-6 Kim Nielsen, who broke the starting lineup in early January last year, and 6-1 Eric Hovey, the team's leading scorer, are back. What Burley and Jerome will see at the other spot will be 6-7 senior Jim Lash. All of it amounting to Twin Falls' tallest lineup over.

In reply, Burley will be sending one of its shortest teams in recent years, while Jerome will have one of its taller ones.

"These are traditional openers for us and we certainly are expecting some solid competition," Coach Don Haynes says. "In our last four meetings, I don't think there's been more than six to eight points difference between us and Burley and the last one went down to the final second. Burley also has good outside shooting back. Jerome will be tall and we think (John) Donkersloot is an excellent junior prospect. At 6-8 he's not giving much away to us."

On the other end, however, Coach Ivan Davis sees Twin Falls height as too much. He has two 6-2 returning veterans and two juniors at 6-3.

"We will be small but it should be a scrappy team," Coach Davis says.

He also has six men with two years of varsity experience. Kerry Taylor, Paul Jackson, Ed Rasmussen, Steve Heitzman and Brent Martindale all fall in the 5-11 area—Taylor an inch over six feet. However, all of those men are rated by Bruin Coach Haynes as having good outside shooting ability and a couple having the ability to go "unconscious" at times.

Javier Cardiel, a 6-2 senior and a four-point student, rounds out the veteran list.

If Burley has a rebounding ace in the hole it's Brent Bodily, a 6-1 junior who is a great leaper. He saw enough action to pick up his varsity letter last year as did 5-8 junior Terry Vaughn.

Jerome Coach Billy Emerson sees guard as a problem that must be solved.

"We've been very inconsistent at that position. Several boys have shown the ability to perform pretty well but the next night regress on us," he says. However, Kelly Emerson, the coach's son, has been looking good.

Jerome's size is good and fairly well experienced despite being young. Donkersloot started last year as a sophomore and is now 6-6. The starting center is 6-5 Steve O'Toole who might rival Bodily as a riser. Lee Champman another 6-3 junior, is back for his second year and senior guard Rick Nelson stands 6-1. Emerson is 5-11 while junior Byron Lyons goes at six feet even.

New juniors bringing height are 6-5 Dick Van Dyke, 6-4 Larry Simpson and 6-3 Bill Stewart. Coach Emerson also is pleased with the early showing of a sophomore, Stanley, who goes 6-5 already.

Coach Emerson isn't wild about the idea of playing at Twin Falls in his team's first game. "We had one scheduled for Friday night but due to a scheduling conflict by them we had to set it back into February," he said. "No," he quickly responded to a question, "a night of scouting won't replace having that first game under our belt."

SIX-ONE GUARD Eric Hovey, the leading point man off last year's Twin Falls team, will lead the Bruins against Burley and Jerome Friday and Saturday to kickoff a new season. The picture, of course, is a put-on.

CSI points to TVCC tourney

With two tournament titles in hand, the College of Southern Idaho Golden Eagles head for Ontario, Ore., Friday night to open a quest for a possible third.

The Eagles will be meeting a new foe in this one, the Oregon State University jayvees, and Coach Jerry Hale says the young Beavers will just about be able to look his club in the eye. Not many of them can.

CSI meets Oregon State at 7 p.m. with host Treasure Valley taking on a highly-respected Spokane Falls Community College at 9 p.m. The two winner will play for the title at 9 p.m. Saturday, the losers in consolation at 7 p.m.

"I understand that they (Oregon State) have a good 6-9 player and a couple of other men at 6-7," Coach Hale said. "We expect a rugged game. Spokane Falls has some boys I've seen and heard of and I know they can be a very respectable team."

Going into the weekend CSI has opened up a 13-point advantage over opponents in average scores. They have allowed 263 points for a 65.7 average and are hitting an even 70 points per outing with 312 games.

Seven-foot Tom Barker leads the club with 34 points and a 23.5 average while frosh guard Arnold Dugger has 77 points and a 19.2 mark. Sophomore Ron Fryson is averaging 14.5. Those three have accounted for 76 per cent of the CSI scoring. With sophomore Lon Frazier averaging 9.2 points, fans can easily tell why Coach Hale would like a little more balance.

So far the entire top scoring trio have been injured — but missed no real playing time. Barker worked out Wednesday night and reported a soreness in his back due to a heavy fall in Tuesday night's game against Idaho State. Fryson and Dugger apparently have come back from leg injuries.

Coach Hale still expresses concern over his team's defense. He was unhappy with the allowing of 45 first-half points to Weber Monday but pleased with the second-half 15-point reduction.

Except for the first half against Weber, turnovers were within a liveable limit for this early in the year but still will require reduction.

By and large Coach Hale was satisfied with individual performances. He cited the rebounding, particularly on the offensive board, by Twin Falls frosh Bob Durham, the relief strength provided by Lon Frazier and the mentorship of Kevin Dabynn.

Following the Ontario tournament, CSI returns to the Boise Valley Monday to play the Boise State jayvees at 5:45 p.m.

Wichita cans grid coach

WICHITA, Kan. (UPI) — Bob Seaman, the Wichita State football coach, was fired Wednesday. Athletic Director Ted Bredehoff said Seaman would be dismissed after his contract expires Dec. 31.

The announcement had been expected since the close of the season which left the Shockers with a 4-7 record. They had won six of 11 games last season.

A unanimous vote by the Athletic Department's Board of Directors followed Bredehoff's recommendation.

Bredehoff said that although "we at the athletic department feel Seaman's contribution to the Shockers football program has been a significant one, we have decided not to renew his contract for the coming season."

Hot Rockets trim Knicks

NEW YORK (UPI) — Houston hit 14 of 16 first 17 shots in the second quarter and then almost lost a 30 point lead as the Rockets defeated the New York Knicks 114-106 Wednesday night with the help of Mike Newlin's 26 points.

The Rockets were fabulous during that shooting spree as they grabbed a 68-38 lead with 3:03 remaining in the second period. A 32-6 surge helped energize the Rockets to the seemingly unsurmountable lead.

Houston netted a remarkable 68 percent shooting in the first half, second only to its 70 percent accomplishment against Boston in one half earlier this season.

A 10-0 spurt helped New York wobble to Houston's lead to 70-48 at halftime and then the Knicks got torrid in the third quarter as they ran off a 26-8 string to cut the Rockets' lead to four points at 78-74 with 3:45 remaining in the quarter.

Boston whips Capital

BOSTON (UPI) — Five Celtics, led by John Havlicek's 24 points, hit double figures Wednesday night to power Boston over the Capital Bullets, 111-104.

The win was the 12th straight for the rampaging Celtics who continue to dominate the NBA Atlantic Division.

The Celtics moved the ball and scored at will over the sluggish Bullets. Boston ran away to a quick 24-14 lead in the opening period, but relaxed and let Capital catch up 31-23 at the buzzer.

Capital closed the gap to 42-41 midway in the second period, but Boston ripped off 12 straight points to pull away again, and commanded a 58-45 lead at halftime.

Boston didn't let up in the third period, adding 10 points to their lead and dominated 90-67 going into the final period. The Bullets chipped away in the fourth period to knock off 16 points of the Boston lead, but the Celtics held on to the final buzzer.

Alabama can clinch U.S. title Saturday

By United Press International
There's a lot at stake in college football on the final Saturday of the 1973 campaign — the winner of the UPI national championship and the final bowl contestant.

Alabama, which took over the No. 1 ranking this week, can win the national crown by beating Auburn Saturday and another Southeastern Conference team, Georgia, can sew up a Peach Bowl bid if it beats intra-state rival Georgia Tech.

Most of the nation's teams have already finished their seasons, and only a handful of traditional rivalries are left on Saturday's calendar. Among them are the inter-service clash between Army and Navy at Philadelphia and the intra-state battle between second-ranked Oklahoma and Oklahoma State.

It is Alabama, however, which will draw the most attention: The Crimson Tide, boasting a perfect 10-0 record and headed for a Sugar Bowl meeting with Notre Dame, has not won the national championship since 1950 and will certainly be the choice of the UPI coaches ratings board if it can beat Auburn.

Alabama will enter the game a 20-point favorite over Auburn, but who can forget last year when the Tigers scored twice on blocked punts in the final five minutes to win 17-10 and spoil the Tide's perfect season.

"This is the most important game of the year for a lot of reasons for us," says Alabama Coach Paul "Bear" Bryant. "We've got to concentrate on winning this game and get our minds off everything else. Auburn has had a lot of injuries this season but should be getting their squad back in good shape since they've had two weeks to get ready. We're going to be blind about their offense since they've gone to the year."

Georgia has been guaranteed a bid to the Peach Bowl to meet Maryland if it can defeat Georgia Tech, but that doesn't figure to be an easy task. Tech, which has recovered after a disastrous start, has won three games in a row and a victory will guarantee the Yellow Jackets a winning season.

If Georgia loses then the Peach Bowl committee has said it will select South Carolina to oppose the 17th-ranked Terrapins. South Carolina has finished its season at 7-4.

The Army-Navy game is nothing like it used to be in terms of national prestige, but it still figures to draw close to 100,000 fans. This will be Army's last chance to win a game this season. The Cadets are 0-9 and no Army team in history has ever gone through a season winless. Navy is favored by 17 points.

Oklahoma, which could finish as national champions should Alabama lose, should have no trouble with Oklahoma State. The Sooners are a solid 24-point favorite to complete their season at 10-0.

Notre Dame, ranked No. 4, also closes its season Saturday night at Miami (Fla.) and if the Irish win they will complete their first perfect season since 1949.

In other games Saturday, Florida meets Florida State, Vanderbilt plays Tennessee, Rice hosts Baylor, SMU entertains TCU and eighth-ranked LSU visits Tulane.

NFL players ready to jump to new loop

By WILLIAM N. WALLACE
(c) N. Y. Times Service
NEW YORK — At least a dozen members of the champion Miami Dolphins would jump to the proposed world football league if the latter gets off the ground and can pay higher salaries, according to Doug Swift, the Dolphin linebacker.

"A dozen to 15 if they had the money," said Swift. "They can have Jim Mandich right now."

Mandich is the talented reserve tight end for Miami who is playing more, but still not enough to satisfy him. He did not sign a contract this season and will be a free agent within the national football league next May 1.

Manny Fernandez, Swift's teammate, concurs. A lot of NFL players would jump to the new league, says Fernandez, "because the money in the NFL is so limited. Pro football is the most popular sport, with the biggest television money, and it's players are the least paid."

"Our least concern is getting players," Gary Davidson, the new league's organizer, said recently. "The college turn out about 1,500 good ones every year."

In the opinion of many of the world football league will come alive or wither on the basis of its television arrangements which would be the major source of income. The outlook is dim. Davidson proposes to play the games on Tuesday or Wednesday nights because the NFL's Monday night contests have been so successful.

Davis cup lineup uncertain

CLEVELAND (UPI) — Marty Riessen and Tom Gorman worked out Wednesday but United States Davis Cup Captain Dennis Ralston did not announce his decision which man would take the No. 2 singles slot. Stan Smith was sure to be the No. 1 U.S. singles player, and will team with Erik Van Dillen, his regular partner, in the doubles event against the Australian team here Friday through Sunday. But Ralston was to decide between Riessen and Gorman for the other singles assignment and a spokesman predicted he would not announce his decision until the draw Thursday. Meanwhile Australian coach Neale Fraser also had decisions to make but he too did not make an announcement.

Judo players cop 3 trophies

Wiley Dobbs of Twin Falls took a first place and Robert Stanger and Brad Archibald grabbed seconds in the Salt Lake Judo tournament over the weekend.

Dobbs, representing the YMCA team, won the 15-16 year-old intermediate division. Stanger, CSI Judo team, was second in the senior 151-pound class while Archibald, CSI, was second in the open class with Wayne Hamilton, YMCA, third.

The seconds in the senior division were the best yet managed by Twin Falls individuals.

The team title was taken by Denver, with 13 teams entered in this competition.

FORECAST FOR FRIDAY, NOVEMBER 30, 1973

GENERAL TENDENCIES One of your best days for whatever has to do with health, wealth and new beginnings. Also, fine for making new friends and enjoying old ones. An excellent time to extend your horizons far beyond their present limitations.

ARIES (Mar. 21 to Apr. 19) Joining congenials at the fun places you enjoy is wise now. Think over your fondest aims and pursue them with vigor. Show that you have wisdom.

TAURUS (Apr. 20 to May 20) Sound thinking will show you how to make your life more successful. Some public work you do now can add much to present prestige. Keep active.

GEMINI (May 21 to June 21) You can now engage in new activities which have been difficult to pursue in the past. Make contacts that are important to your advancement.

MOON CHILDREN (June 22 to July 21) Find a more efficient way of handling your debts so your life is more streamlined. Take time out to dinner and amusement tonight.

LEO (July 22 to Aug. 21) Come to a better understanding on the policy level with associates and make the future brighter. Don't neglect to take health treatments.

VIRGO (Aug. 22 to Sept. 22) Use your intelligence and handle those duties well that are facing you. Come to a better understanding with an associate. Relax tonight.

LIBRA (Sept. 23 to Oct. 22) First attend to the work that is important and then engage in favorite hobby. Anything of a creative nature can be handled well now.

SCORPIO (Oct. 23 to Nov. 21) Study your home and see what can be done about expansion for more comfort. Evening fine for entertaining. Invite only congenials.

SAGITTARIUS (Nov. 22 to Dec. 21) Ideal day to talk over those clever ideas with the right persons who can help you make a success of them. Use your good judgment.

CAPRICORN (Dec. 22 to Jan. 20) Fine day for embellishing your surroundings and adding more comfort. Put a plan in operation that will add to your abundance.

AQUARIUS (Jan. 21 to Feb. 19) Discuss your aims and future plans with associates. Don't permit a small minded person to curb your style. Show that you are independent.

PISCES (Feb. 20 to Mar. 20) Check over your ideas with specialists before you put them in operation. The romantic side of life can be very pleasant in the evening.

IF YOUR CHILD IS BORN TODAY... he or she will be one of those individuals who will like practically everyone and should be taught early not to be so naive or there could be unexpected hurt in life instead of great success. Direct the education along humanitarian outlets. Teach early to be a practical person. Give ethical training early in life.

A Not much. Except both were first introduced as headache cures.

The female of the species comprises 33 per cent of those who watch professional football on TV.

Sale of frozen-TV dinners has never been higher. Sale of fancy gourmet cookbooks has never been higher, either. Explain that curiosity, miss.

Nobody knows how many retired couples live together now out of wedlock so their social security benefits won't be reduced by matrimony, but the number is just astounding, I'm told.

PILFERAGE

Some of the supermarket men who are now keeping their stores open 24-hours a day, say their theft losses have dropped. At first, they feared late-night robbers. But now they believe a lot of the previous pilferage was by employees. And they think customers who circulate through the stores day and night now also protect the merchandise somewhat.

Q "Who was the first race car driver to hit 90 m.p.h.?"
A None other than Henry Ford himself. Drove a machine called "999" near Lake St. Clair, Mich. That car had no clutch, no gears. Vibrated so much Ford's mechanic had to lean out over the dashboard during the wild ride to hold the throttle open.

Just about one out of every seven children under age 18 nationwide lives with one parent only.

TABLE FORK

Nobody yet has satisfactorily explained why we heretofore persist in holding our table forks in our right hands while all the other peoples in the western world hold their table forks in their left hands. Wait, no complaint. Lived in Europe many years myself, but never did get the knack of the left-handed table fork. Just curious as to why not, that's all.

A rational alternative to rationing gas.

What's right with this picture? Well if it were true, we'd be saving 28 billion, 560 million gallons of gas every year.

How did we arrive at that figure? Since we're a nation of national averages, we know the average car uses about 735 gallons of gas a year. The Beetle, 399*. Turn the eighty-five million average cars on the road right now into Beetles, and it works out to a saving of 28,560,000,000 gallons or take a few gallons!

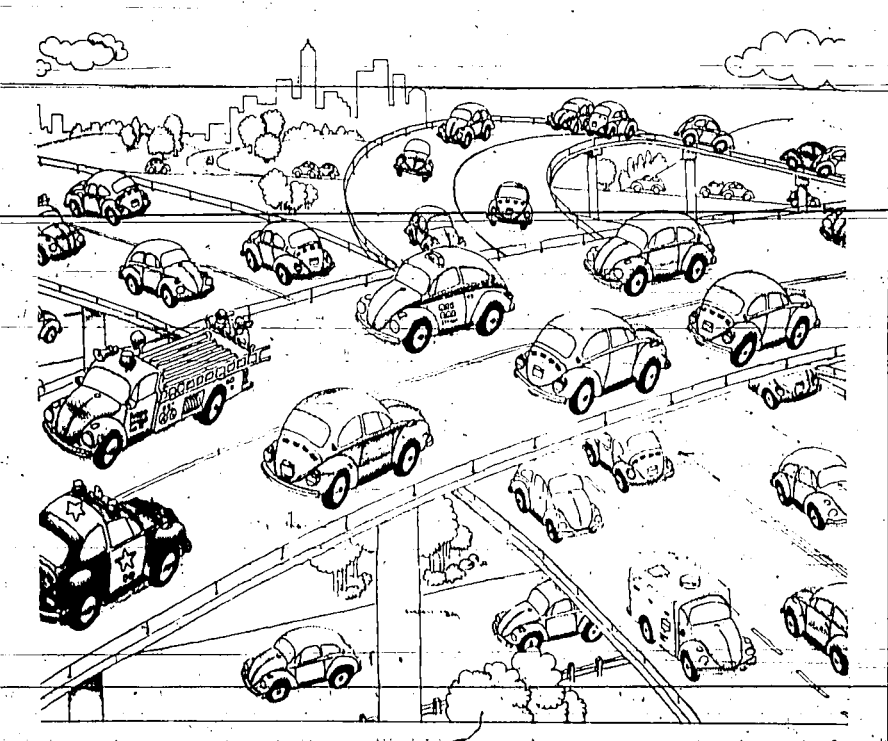

Now we haven't figured out all the water and antifreeze that would be saved with the Beetle's air-cooled engine.

Nor can we compute the extra parking space that would be around. Not to mention all the money people would be able to save in a world of Volkswagens.

But we know for sure that this is no pipe dream. There already are police car Beetles up in Ossining, And a custom built, chauffeur-driven Bug in L.A. And Volkswagens taxis all over Honduras. And a Beetle that herds cattle in Missouri.

So, with gas prices going up and rationing becoming a reality, the Beetle never looked so good. In fact, you might almost call it beautiful.

Few things in life work as well as a Volkswagen.
