Idaho panel proposes broader county power

By DAVID ESPRO
Times-News Capitol Bureau
BOISE — A citizens committee that has been looking into possible changes in local government in Idaho approved a series of recommendations Thursday that would expand the authority of county commissions.

The Citizens Study of Local Government Inc. also is going to ask the state legislature to fund a two-year recodification study of the existing laws that affect county government.

A recodification of the municipal code was completed in 1965, and an attorney who worked on that project, Dan Slavin, Twin Falls, is also working with the citizens committee.

The committee agreed to seek a constitutional amendment that would permit county commissions and city councils taxation authority beyond property taxes. Excise taxes would be levied at the local level with public approval if the amendment were adopted.

The recommendation also said, however, that legislation would be introduced explaining that the property tax would still be the primary source of government revenue and that certain taxes would be used to provide specific services.

The committee also wants to weaken the autonomy of special taxation districts, and put them under the direct control of county commissions. Under the proposal the special districts would be advisory to the commissions.

Commissions would also be permitted to establish "service areas" which would function in advisory roles but would have no budgetary or taxation authority of their own.

Other changes sought by the committee include:

— Authority of commissioners to set their own salaries and the salaries for county prosecutors. The legislature currently controls the salaries.

— Permit counties to elect commissioners by districts, as school board members are currently picked. Committee members rejected a plan that would also give local counties the option of electing all commissioners at-large without residency requirements inside a county.

The committee, financed by the Department of Housing and Urban Development through the State Planning and Community Affairs Department, conducted a series of task force hearings throughout the state earlier this year.

Its final report will be made to the state legislature early in 1974, according to Sue Reents, Boise, a staff worker with the group.

Meeting in Boise earlier this month, the committee approved a local option plan that would permit counties to elect a commission with three to seven members.

Also included in the suggested changes was one to permit election or appointment of a county executive.

Haig gets call in tapes probe

WASHINGTON (UPI) — Watergate prosecutors and White House lawyers said today they would call presidential chief of staff Alexander M. Haig to testify, possibly as early as Tuesday, on the Watergate tapes.

U.S. District Judge John J. Sirica called off today's hearing because certain witnesses were not available, but arranged a closed session in the afternoon with attorneys to discuss the issue of executive privilege. The public hearings resume Tuesday at 8 a.m. MST.

Sirica also said he would begin examining the White House tapes on Monday, about six weeks after the U.S. Court of Appeals ordered them turned over to him.

Assistant special prosecutor Richard Benveniste and White House counsel Leonard Garment both said they wanted to question Haig as soon as his schedule at the White House permitted.

Prosecutors indicated Haig would be questioned about conversations he had with President Nixon concerning an 18-minute gap in one of the Watergate tapes and why the White House waited a week before telling the courts about it.

Garment said the tape, the recorder and other equipment used by Nixon's personal secretary, Rose Mary Woods, when she was listening to it had been turned over to a New York private research laboratory for tests to determine if the tape could have been altered.

Special prosecutor Leon Jaworski suggested Thursday that four of the Watergate tapes be turned over to the grand jury immediately and said he may ask that all three years of White House recordings be given to the court for safekeeping.

Medicare fee cut given nod

WASHINGTON (UPI) — The Senate has voted to reduce the fees patients must pay for hospital treatment under the Medicare health insurance program for the elderly.

The action was taken during consideration of a bill to increase Social Security benefits by 11 per cent in two steps between now and July, 1974.

The bill is expected to pass the Senate today and will go to a House-Senate conference committee which is likely to trim down some of the liberalizations adopted by the Senate.

Under existing law, Medicare covers all of a hospitalized elderly person's hospital bill except for the first $72 for the first 60 days of his stay. He must pay a coinsurance fee of $10 a day for the next 30 days.

If he remains hospitalized, he draws from a "lifetime reserve" of 60 days and pays $36 a day.

The Senate amendment, offered by Sen. Frank Church, D-Idaho, reduces the fee for "lifetime reserve" days to $18. It also doubles the reserve to 120 days.

An amendment to be offered today by Sen. Edmund S. Muskie, D-Maine, and 40 cosponsors, freezes the deductible at $72 for 1974. Under the formula in existing law, the fee would go to $84 next year. The amendment would also prevent the scheduled rise in the coinsurance rates from $18 to $21, precluding an estimated rise of $103 million in the medical expenses of the 20 million elderly covered by Medicare.

The bill's chief provision calls for a 7 per cent increase in Social Security benefits upon enactment and a 4 per cent increase payable next July.

Cassia test striking gas

MALTA — Seeking gas or oil, Standard American hit several more pockets of gas Thursday night near Malta but drilled past the gas sections to 5,200 feet.

"Prospects still look good," according to Standard American president A. Griffith. This is the firm's second drilling attempt in the Malta area in a search for gas or oil.

"We think this is good oil and gas country," Griffith said.

Thursday it was reported that geothermal resource development groups were trying to halt or slow down Standard American's drilling operations in the area.

Griffith today blamed the move on "a bunch of bureaucrats that are trying to get government money so that they can have a little for their pockets."

"They've got a little water out there and they think they've got a big deal," Griffith said. "We don't think it is a good area for geothermal development; we haven't hit any water at all."

With the rock formations and the pockets of oil and gas, the possibility of good geothermal resources is doubtful, according to Griffith.

"We're the ones spending the money, not them (the geothermal developers)," he said. "Anything we learn they'll benefit from. Most people would give us support instead of trying to stop us."

Griffith said he hated to see all that government money (geothermal developers recently received a government grant of up to $300,000 for a pilot plan) spent in the area if nothing was there.

Burned victim given ticket

TWIN FALLS — Glenn A. King, 63, Rogerson, suffering burns over a large portion of his body, received a traffic citation today.

He was issued a citation for inattentive driving and told he was lucky to be alive.

Sheriff's officers said he lost control of his car and traveled 164 feet along the edge of the roadway about 11 miles south of Rogerson early Wednesday. The vehicle then struck a culvert and wedged against the wall, exploding on impact.

He was able to crawl out but was burned about the back, legs, hands and face. Officer's said the vehicle was burned when they arrived at the scene, with only the metal shell remaining.

King was taken to the hospital by a passing truck and is listed in fair condition today.

Mr. T.N. says
A lot of people will be happy if it keeps on setting snowfall records.

Papers yielded

(c) New York Times Service
WASHINGTON — The Justice Department has turned over to the office of Special Prosecutor Leon Jaworski documents on milk industry contributions to President Nixon's reelection campaign.

The department previously had refused, on orders from the White House to give the documents to former special prosecutor Archibald Cox.

A Justice Department official said Thursday the White House had waived the claim of executive privilege which it had invoked to deny the materials to Cox.

Researcher eyes farm tech lag

TWIN FALLS — An Agricultural research director said scientific discoveries vital to farming are being made. But many will not be applied promptly to help farmers.

The time lag between scientific discovery and technological application was the key topic at the 1973 annual meeting of the R. N. Irving Chapter Soil Conservation Society of America this morning at the College of Southern Idaho.

Dr. Marvin E. Jensen, director of the Snake River Conservation Research Center gave numerous historical examples of 50 to 200 year lags between scientific discovery and technological innovation.

He said two reasons for the lag are that scientists are often unaware of the importance of their discoveries and "technicians tend to become complacent" in making new applications. However, he predicted that farmers who don't keep up with scientific discoveries will soon be using obsolete techniques and will be unable to compete.

Jensen foresaw some of the following farm developments soon, including mathematical model irrigation control of entire river basins, remote control of irrigation and the ability of major food crops to determine their own fertilizer needs.

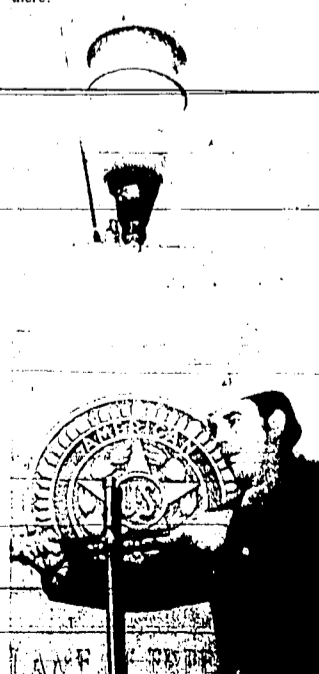

Rupert boy crash victim

RUPERT — A 13-year-old Rupert boy was killed Thursday after he reportedly grabbed the steering wheel of the car his mother was driving, causing an accident.

Idaho State Police officer Jim Whitehead said the boy, Daryl Knight, was a passenger in a car driven by his mother, Sharon Ann Knight, 36, Rupert. The vehicle was southbound on Meridian Road four miles north of Rupert when the accident occurred.

The officer said the boy grasped the steering wheel, causing the woman to lose control of her vehicle. It went off the right edge of the highway, came back to the center, slid broadside through an intersection and rolled over one and one half times, coming to rest in a private driveway.

The boy was thrown from the vehicle, the officers said. The accident occurred about 9:52 p.m. The boy died at 11 p.m. in Minidoka County Memorial Hospital.

GOVERNMENT researchers say they may have photographed for the first time the virus that causes infectious hepatitis, shown, the liver disease usually spread by contaminated drinking water or food. (UPI)

In isolating the suspected virus, they said. Once it is isolated, a vaccine to prevent the potentially epidemic illness can be made. Mrs. Stephen M. Feinstone, Albert Z. Kapikian and Robert H. Purcell photographed the virus after it was mixed with an antibody, which made the virus stand out under an electron microscope, NIH said. The virus was taken by other researchers from experimental infected volunteers at Joliet Prison in Illinois and students at Willowbrook State School for the Mentally Retarded in New York. Although 54,000 cases of infectious hepatitis were reported last year, down from 70,000 in 1971, experts think the actual incidence is 10 times greater because of difficulty in diagnosing the disease and failure of many patients to seek medical care. The disease is rarely fatal and often mild. A second form of the disease, serum hepatitis, can be more deadly but is less likely to be involved in community-wide outbreaks.

Irrigation water users against plan

By BILL LAZARUS
Times-News writer

TWIN FALLS — Irrigation water users lambasted the state and federal Draft Water Quality and Management Plan for the Upper Snake River Basin at a special hearing here Thursday.

Five out of six persons who testified spoke out against the plan's recommendations on stream flow management and control of irrigation caused pollution.

They objected to the U.S. Environmental Protection Agency's requirement in the plan that irrigators obtain permits and to the recommendation that storage irrigation water might be used to dilute industrial and municipal wastes in streams during dry winter months.

The water quality management plan was compiled by the EPA together with the Idaho Department of Environmental and Community Services.

Rep. Vernon Ravnescroft, R-Tuttle, said that part of the plan boils down to asking state condemnation power for existing water rights. This, he maintained, will be "setting off a situation where you'll get the environmentalists waving banners and the water users shaking fists."

"Instead of taking irrigators water for cleaning up streams, Ravnescroft proposed the state concentrate on saving water and developing more water sources. He mentioned new pumping systems and canal improvements as means of bringing this about.

"In my opinion the worst thing that has happened to the United States since the Civil War is the EPA," Ben Morgan, president of the Magic Valley Contractors Association, said. Morgan objected to the EPA requirement that farmers apply for permits to irrigate. "How can a dryland farmer prevent sediment from getting into streams? Have God not rain on them?" he said.

"I want a stream just as clean as possible, but I think we have to be realistic about this thing. Irrigation water is what made the state of Idaho," he said.

John Rosholt, Twin Falls attorney, who identified himself as representing four irrigation canal companies, estimated that a closed pipeline irrigation system, which would be necessary to meet EPA's zero pollution by the 1985 goal, would be "accomplished for approximately the same investment as presently exists in the ownership of all of the farms and improvements thereon."

Rosholt objected to the lack of information in the plan on the economic impact which would occur if parts of the plan are enacted. "To me the quality of life also includes a job, food and fiber for my family, a heated home and some kind of economic stability for the economy. Clean water is only one factor," Rosholt said.

"We have not had an opportunity for formal or informal input on the water quality plan. Tom Cotton, president of the Idaho Water Users Assn., said.

Cotton, along with many of the approximately 50 hearing participants, complained there had been no adequate publicity about the hearings and no discussion of the plan in smaller communities.

"This is the greatest example of administrative ambush I have ever seen," Rosholt said. He objected that participants were not given time to consider complicated correction sheets to the plan before the meeting.

The water quality plan itself was delivered to various local state agencies late Wednesday afternoon. Although a DECS and EPA spokesman announced the plan was available to the public the Twin Falls District Health Office for distribution, no copies were there Thursday afternoon for such purposes.

"After a two week period meant for public input, the Idaho Department of Environmental and Community Services will revise the draft water quality plan. If major revisions are made, more public hearings will be held."

Rehab supervisors meet

GOODING — A training session for rehabilitation workshop supervisors began Thursday at the Gooding TB hospital.

High priests banquet held

JEROME — "The Intervals" furnished the musical entertainment for the annual Gooding LDS Stake high priests banquet Thursday night in Jerome.

High priests and their wives attended the banquet held in the Gooding LDS Cultural Hall. The dinner was served by the First Quorum of Elders of Gooding stake.

K. Dwain Butler conducted the program and the stake president Richard Everson spoke briefly and gave Christmas greetings.

Members of the rehabilitation workshop administration, training center at Seattle University and the University of San Francisco met with rehabilitation personnel from Magic Valley rehabilitation service, the Department of Environmental and Community Services, child development centers and development workshops from Twin Falls, Pocatello, Boise, Ontario, Ore., and Idaho Falls.

According to Patricia Ruegg, Seattle University, the purpose of the workshop was to teach the rehabilitation supervisors production methods, training techniques, work adjustment and work evaluation methods.

The workshop also served to help identify the role of the supervisors and enable them to plan each client's vocational development and oversee his progress.

Ruegg said those under rehabilitation must be able to learn good work attitudes and good work habits and to become efficient producers of goods.

The facilities at the TB hospital are utilized in training the clients and the actual workshop is located in Twin Falls. Ruegg said the workshop is actually a small business which can sell products directly or sub-contract, and that workers are paid competitive prices.

The training at the TB hospital includes janitorial, maid and food service. Ruegg said she was pleased with the facilities at the TB hospital.

Other staff of the center training center included John Thompson, Seattle University; and John Layser, University of San Francisco.

3 bicycles stolen

TWIN FALLS — Dr. Ben Katz told city police Thursday someone took three bicycles from the carport of his home.

He said two of the cycles were valued at $125 each and the third at $95.

Bob Scheele, Poplar Ave., reported someone broke into his 1967 Volkswagen and took the dialing and tuning knobs from his radio and tore the blades from the windshield wipers.

Lack of questions kept tapes hidden

WASHINGTON (UPI) — Alexander P. Butterfield, who disclosed the existence of President Nixon's tapes to the Senate Watergate committee, Thursday said he was ready to tell Justice Department prosecutors about them in April but they never asked.

"But I was reluctant to have Senator (Sam J.) Ervin and Senator (Howard H.) Baker call me before the cameras," he said, referring to the chairman and vice chairman of the Watergate Committee. "I knew it would be embarrassing to the President and the country and it was, I was very, much aware the import my testimony would have."

Speaking with reporters after testifying Thursday at a federal court hearing about possible tampering with the tapes, a former White House aide who was responsible for installing the tape recorders, also said he pleaded with the committee not to make him testify in public.

"I told (Baker) my concern was that I didn't think this should be made public because it would be terribly damaging to this government," Butterfield said.

Currently the head of the Federal Aviation Administration, he said he had no qualms about telling the story to investigators in private.

The highest point in New Mexico is Wheeler Peak in the northern part of the state. It is 13,161 feet high.

(c) New York Times Service
WASHINGTON — An undercover agent has told Senate investigators that, despite White House denials, he made "perhaps 10 or 15" telephone calls to the White House last July in an effort to alert staff members here to the halting of a narcotics investigation after it led to Robert L. Vesco, the fugitive financier.

Charged

FORMER White House Aide Dwight L. Chapin was indicted by a grand jury Thursday on four charges of lying about "dirty tricks" in the 1972 presidential campaign. He was charged with false statements in April 11 testimony. (UPI)

Prosecutor staff draws fresh blast

WASHINGTON (UPI) — The White House has pointed an accusing finger once again at the office of the special Watergate prosecutor, charging members of Leon Jaworski's staff with having an "ingrained suspicion and visceral dislike" for President Nixon.

All of the tapes turned over to the court are "intact," Ziegler asserted. "There was no tampering with the tapes. The experts will find no tampering exists."

Ziegler was careful to say he was not speaking personally of Jaworski, the former president of the American Bar Association who was called in to take over from ousted Archibald Cox, but of "the Cox group" that Jaworski inherited.

That blast, issued Thursday by Press Secretary Ronald L. Ziegler, carried with it the implication that Jaworski's assistants were trying to turn the Watergate hearings into a political witchhunt.

Ziegler specifically mentioned Richard Ben-Veniste, the young New York attorney who heads the prosecutor's courtroom team. He implied Ben-Veniste pursued an irrelevant line of questioning in court to produce a spate of headlines when he said there were other "gaps" in subpoenaed Watergate tape recordings.

"I have personally very serious questions about the staff of the special prosecutor's office in political terms," Ziegler said.

"Although they, no doubt, are attempting to work fairly, I think their political background — what they have felt, their views — would suggest that they enter into this entire procedure with a certain amount of ingrained suspicion and visceral dislike for this President and this administration."

Statements assailed

WASHINGTON (UPI) — The AFL-CIO, in the third of a weekly series of position papers urging the immediate impeachment of President Nixon, says Nixon made 16 statements about the Watergate investigation that were either false or at odds with sworn testimony.

The labor federation said Thursday the presidential statements were either "demonstrably false or conflict with the sworn testimony of others."

FDIC to probe funding

WASHINGTON (UPI) — A congressional subcommittee has asked the Federal Deposit Insurance Corp. (FDIC) to look into $30,000 in bank financing obtained by the former director of the Richmond, Va., office of the Small Business Administration (SBA) for the purchase of a Virginia farm.

The request was made by Rep. Frank Annunzio, D-Ill., a member of the House small business subcommittee, which is investigating the case.

Annunzio said he wanted to know whether any of the bank loans obtained by Thomas F. Regan to purchase the Keswick, Va., farm violate FDIC regulations and how Regan obtained the loans with virtually no collateral.

Regan testified Thursday that he received 100 per cent financing for the purchase with three bank loans—one of $30,000 and two others of $15,000 each. The smaller loans, he said, were obtained from banks that have dealt with the Richmond SBA office on a regular basis, while the larger loan came from a North Carolina bank that once received a $42,000 payoff from a loan approved by the Richmond office.

Annunzio said Regan's annual salary of $32,100 would barely cover the yearly interest on the three loans while his net worth, estimated by Regan at barely $100,000, would not seem large enough to secure the loans.

Annunzio also disputed Regan's testimony that personal financial dealings with SBA borrowers and lenders, including a $5,000 "moonlighting" loan, represented no conflict of interest with his government job.

"You're just damn lucky you don't run for office," said Annunzio.

Rep. Parris Mitchell, D-Md., said Regan's testimony left him with the "personal impression that the witness at best—and using the kindest possible words—could be described as evasive."

Regan was characterized as a "fairy godfather" by Annunzio for his outright loans to friends with no assurances other than a "handshake" agreement that the money would be repaid. Regan testified that he has cosigned a $20,000 note for an unnamed personal friend and assumed debt obligations of $66,000 for another friend, Charles Drago, within the past year.

Drago, a former staff assistant for two Virginia congressmen, needed the money to buy a batch of Chinese rugs for a Georgetown import shop he planned to open, Regan said.

Aide says peace settlement vital

(c) New York Times Service NEW DELHI — Leonid Brezhnev said today that unless an early peace settlement is reached in the Middle East, "a new and even more dangerous military explosion may occur."

In a speech before the Indian Parliament, the Soviet leader said, "the hostilities have made it clear that the Arab world today is not what it was six years ago ... they have dispelled the myth of the invincibility of Israel's armed forces ... the political and diplomatic isolation of Israel resulting from its aggressive policies has become especially obvious these days."

Brezhnev observed: "As regards the Soviet Union, it has no selfish interests in the Middle East whatsoever: Our only profound desire is to see that a genuinely stable peace, a just peace, is finally established in that part of the world, situated in proximity to the borders of the Soviet Union. And the Soviet Union, for its part, will do everything to facilitate this."

Task force formed to aid unemployed

WASHINGTON (UPI) — Labor Secretary Peter J. Brennan has set up a special task force in his department to assess the potential job loss from the nation's energy shortage and to develop ways to help workers who are laid off, it was learned today.

Undersecretary of Labor Richard Schubert was scheduled to announce the task force at a news conference in Philadelphia later today (12:30 p.m. MST) during a visit to the regional Labor Department office there.

Schubert told UPI the task force hopes to find ways to provide adequate unemployment pay for workers who lose their jobs because of the fuel and energy shortage, to help them find or train for new jobs, and to encourage industry to find ways to reduce the need for laying off workers.

Chairman Herbert Stein of President Nixon's Council of Economic Advisers said Thursday the council expects unemployment to go as high as 6 per cent at times next year if the Arabs continue to ban shipments of oil to the United States. Joblessness now is 4.5 per cent of the work force.

Some private economists have predicted unemployment could rise as high as 8 per cent because of the energy shortage. Layoffs because of the fuel shortage have already started.

The House Wednesday approved and sent to the Senate a job training bill that included a program to help ease unemployment resulting from the fuel crisis.

Laird will resign WH position

(c) Washington Star-News WASHINGTON — Melvin R. Laird said today he expects to resign his White House job shortly after his long-time political associate Rep. Gerald R. Ford is confirmed as vice president.

"The work I am doing ... I think could be better done by the vice president of the United States," Laird told a group of reporters.

Laird, President Nixon's counselor for domestic affairs, also said that, based on his discussions with his former house colleagues, there is not now a majority that would vote for Nixon's impeachment.

Asked if he believes Nixon will serve out his term, Laird said, "I believe the president when he says he doesn't have any plans to resign."

Laird said it would have been better if Nixon had admitted to Republican governors last week in Memphis that 18 minutes of a key Watergate tape recording had been obliterated.

Laird said he planned to do "several things" after leaving the White House.

"I will also have a full-time job," he declined to elaborate.

Laird, who resigned as Secretary of Defense following Nixon's first term, was called back to the White House to fill the post, that John D. Ehrlichman resigned after his name was linked to the Watergate scandal.

At the time, Laird said he did not plan to "make a career" of White House service.

Associates of Laird have said he has been dissatisfied because Nixon has conferred much more frequently with

Chief of Staff Alexander M. Haig Jr. and Press Secretary Ronald L. Ziegler, than with Laird.

Civilian employe cut ordered

(c) Washington Star-News WASHINGTON — The House Appropriations Committee has ordered the Defense Department to make an intensive effort to reduce substantially the number of its civilian employes.

In reporting out defense's 1975 fiscal money bill, the house group ordered a cut of 15,500 civilian jobs beyond what the Nixon administration had planned.

Declaring that the 15,500-job reduction amounts to just a "token" cut, the house committee said it "expected" that the next year's defense budget request would provide even sharper reductions in the number of civilian jobs.

Defense already is going through a reduction of about 36,000 jobs.

Jupiter fields mapped

MOUNTAIN VIEW, Calif. (UPI)—If Pioneer 10 meets a sudden radiation death on the way to its Monday encounter with the planet Jupiter, the spacecraft still will have discovered much about man's possible flight to the outer solar system.

Pioneer's findings reported Thursday about Jupiter's magnetic field came on top of a list of discoveries during the nuclear-powered vehicle's 21-month trip so far.

In its current encounter with Jupiter, Pioneer is discovering whether the giant planet's magnetic field is safe enough for spacecrafts to enter so they can exploit the slingshot effect.

Space Agency experts at Ames Research Center near San Francisco said Thursday that Pioneer has found the magnetic field to be eight million miles in diameter, the largest region in the solar system. The only other magnetic field is earth's, and its diameter is 80,000 miles.

Pioneer data run through computers suggested that Jupiter's field is 40 times that of earth's, or twice of what was expected.

The magnetic field contains one million times the radiation of earth's, and a Pioneer task in the next few days is to determine if its instruments will survive.

'Canals' storm tracks

PASADENA, Calif. (UPI)—Some planetary scientists still believe there is the possibility of life on Mars even though space missions failed to find any and showed the Martian "canals" are really only the work of dust storms.

Scientists at the International Colloquium on Mars, a meeting sponsored by the California Institute of Technology, were advised Thursday to rule out at least two once widely held hypotheses about life on Mars.

Carl Sagan, Cornell University physicist, noted in a discussion of the Martian albedo, or reflection of light, that dark streaks on the surface that may turn light in later photos are due to high winds, not plant growth.

HOUSTON (UPI)—Gerald P. Carr, firing salt into his dinner with a syringe-type gizmo, looked like he needed a shave but didn't appear to be too concerned about today's activities.

Edward G. Gibson ate part of his meal upside down as he hummed it up for the television cameras.

And William R. Pogue seemed to be in a playful mood bounding from his restraining strap that screams as a chair to retrieve a fork dangling in the air.

But if the three Skylab astronauts appeared calm, flight director Charles Lewis was biting his nails.

The astronauts were told to make a couple of photographic passes today that will require turning their 100-ton orbiting laboratory over. This stabilization maneuver earlier in the week used up six times as much gas as it should have and today was the first they have tried the maneuver since that problem arose.

"I know I'll be nervous waiting to see if we figured right," Lewis said. "We've run it through the simulator again and again and we should be okay. But I'll still be nervous."

Today was the 200th day in orbit for America's first space station, launched May 14. The giant ship lost a heat shield and jammed a solar power generating wing 63 seconds after that launch. The Skylab 1 crew put up a protective heat umbrella and freed the solar panel on a repair spacewalk.

A number of other problems caused concern during the three flights, but the space pilots cured the station of its Brezhnev bugged?

WASHINGTON (UPI)—The "national security" matter President Nixon wants barred from current investigations involves covert operations against the Soviet Union, possibly including "bugging" of Soviet party leader Leonid Brezhnev, it was reported Thursday.

The Scripps-Howard News Service said disclosure of the operation "ultimately would endanger the life of a U.S. intelligence source close to the highest Russian official circles."

"I have no doubt that it is highly likely a life would be snuffed out," the Scripps-Howard News Service quoted one source. "It would, in the words of the CIA (Central Intelligence Agency), put an individual in 'extreme prejudice'."

The operation apparently was connected with the White House "plumbers" who were investigating Washington news leaks and who burglarized the office of the psychiatrist of Dr. Daniel Ellsberg who was responsible for release of the Pentagon Papers on Vietnam.

Nixon referred to the security aspects 10 days ago in talking to editors in Orlando, Fla., saying the matter was "so sensitive" that leaders of the Senate Watergate committee had decided "they should not delve into it."

Syndicated columnist Jack Anderson has said the CIA may have eavesdropped on Kremlin leaders. Scripps-Howard said, "And the CIA is reported to have been involved in the bugging of the Soviet Communist Party leader, Leonid Brezhnev."

Wallace clears air

MONTGOMERY, Ala. (UPI)—Attempting to rid himself of all connection with a deepening scandal in the State Highway Department, Gov. George C. Wallace says he will not let anyone—no matter who—ruin his public record.

"I don't want anybody around me that would taint my reputation," Wallace told reporters Thursday in his second statement in as many days on the scandal.

An investigation into a scheme to bilk the highway department has allegedly implicated employees in three state departments and the governor's brother, Gerald Wallace.

Allegedly, those involved in the scheme received payments from a bogus corporation set up to sell non-existent machinery parts to the highway department.

DEAR ABBY: I am in prison, but please don't say where. I pleaded guilty to a charge of child molesting, even tho I was innocent. I did it to protect my cousin from the harm that prison life can do to a person. My cousin, who did the molesting, had never been in prison, and I had. Now everyone in my family hates me because I had to make them believe I was guilty. If I tell the truth now, I will probably be released, but my cousin will have to serve time.

How can I get forgiveness from my family and still protect my cousin? WITHHOLD MY NAME

He takes prison rap

DEAR WITH: Anyone who would molest a child is sick and in need of treatment. Altho you meant well, you did your cousin no favor by taking the rap for him. Now he is free to molest other children while you are being unjustly punished. My advice to you is to confess innocence to the charge, and guilty to lying about it.

DEAR ABBY: You were asked if it was proper to send a sympathy card to parents who had had a full term stillborn child. You said it was. We disagree. We waited six years for a baby, and when he finally arrived, he was stillborn. Our family and friends knew how we felt, and sympathy cards were the last thing we wanted.

Everyone has a right to his own opinion, and ours is that it is better not to send sympathy cards for a stillborn baby.

It has been 32 years now, but we still remember.

NAMELESS

DEAR NAMELESS: I respect your opinion. But because funerals are generally indicated for full term infants, I would assume that the grieving parents would appreciate expressions of sympathy from friends.

DEAR ABBY: This is how I cured my husband of using objectionable language. I bought a piggy bank, and every time he used a swear word I made him put a quarter in it. And when he used a really-DIRTY word, I fined him a dollar. He quit swearing in three weeks. Once in a while he slips and uses a dirty word, but he's a lot better than he used to be.

Pass this on to your readers, Abby. It really works!

PIGGY BANK PEGGY

DEAR PEGGY: Consider it done!

DEAR ABBY: I am a 55-year-old man who has never married. When I meet an unattached woman at a social gathering, I always introduce myself as a widower. If I should date her later on I then tell her the truth. Why do I lie at first?

PUZZLED

DEAR PUZZLED: Because you probably think most people would assume there must be something wrong with a 55-year-old man who never married. It's a false assumption, of course. Many 55-year-olds (women and men) have remained unmarried thru choice. Play it straight. They might wonder why you lied in the first place.

Music scholarships available

TWIN FALLS — The Idaho Federation of Music Clubs has announced a number of college and summer camp scholarships for 1974. The scholarships are for colleges throughout Idaho and the Pacific Northwest, with one scholarship category for college of choice awards. The stipends range from $100 to $1,000 and are open to college students and high school seniors who are members of the Idaho Federation of Music Clubs. High school students who are not club members may join local clubs or obtain a special membership for $2, where there is no music club in the student's area. To meet deadlines, students must pay music club dues immediately. Applications for college scholarships are due March 1. The applications must include a $5 audition fee. Most auditions will be held in Twin Falls at the end of March for musical instruments or voice and in Idaho Falls in mid-March for dance contestants. Auditions for college music majors will be held in Boise in early April.

Applications for the summer camp music festival scholarships also must be received by March 1, with the same membership requirements as for the college scholarships. The summer camp awards vary from $100 to $300.

Audition requirements for both the college and music camp scholarships vary according to the event.

An applicant may apply for more than one award, but a separate fee is required for each application.

For detailed information on applications and auditions, students and teachers should contact Mrs. Donald Youtz, state auditions chairman, at 705 Walnut St. N., Twin Falls, or phone 733-7905.

The music clubs scholarships are presented with support funds from the Idaho Arts Commission and the National Endowment Fund.

Popcorn sale

TWIN FALLS — Boy Scout Troop 88 of Twin Falls Immanuel Lutheran Church will begin its annual popcorn sales drive on Saturday.

The scouts will sell boxes containing four packets of popcorn seeds with oil and seasoning. When popped the seeds will make four gallons of popcorn.

Money earned from the popcorn drive will be used to finance the Scout troop's summer activities in 1974.

Dance, party slated

TWIN FALLS — The Twin Falls IOOF No. 23 and Primrose Rebekah No. 76 are sponsoring a free community Christmas dance and pinocle party at the IOOF Hall in Twin Falls on Dec. 15 from 7 p.m. until 11 p.m.

An in-hand lunch at 7 p.m. has been planned. Those attending are asked to bring a salad or sandwiches. The music will be furnished by Floyd White's orchestra and dancing will start at 8 p.m. All fraternal groups, dancing clubs, as well as the general public is invited. For additional information call 734-2480.

The Argentine beach resort of Mar del Plata has 1,200 hotels.

Party set

TWIN FALLS — The fifth annual "lights on" (off) party at the Blue Jacket Country Club will begin at 7 p.m. Dec. 8. Hors d'oeuvres and surprises will be limited to the first 80 couples attending the semi-formal event. Music will be by Lou Ventrella, Boise, an associate of the Men in Blue.

a good six-card heart suit and only one spade, yet West had never made a peep over the spade opening. Could West hold either the king of diamonds or the queen of clubs?

South decided that he couldn't. In that case how could South make his contract? South worked it out.

He simply played the ace of clubs, a club to dummy's king and dummy's jack of clubs. East was in the lead with the queen.

He couldn't lead his fourth club. That would allow South to discard the eight of diamonds and ruff in dummy. So East led a low diamond and South let it ride around to dummy's queen.

CHURCHES

Services planned in Filer

Sets talk
SYDNEY FRANK, a Bible teaching evangelist and musician from Gladstone, Ore., will be heard at the Lynwood Chapel, 1306 Filer Ave. E., at 7:30 p.m. Saturday.

Jerome potluck planned

JEROME — Stewardship Sunday will be observed Sunday at the United Presbyterian Church in Jerome.

Rev. Ralph O. Marshall will be in the pulpit. There will be a potluck dinner following the morning worship service. Meat will be furnished by the session, according to C. K. Ricketts, chairman.

Ricketts urged all members to attend the services and the potluck.

"Following the potluck a discussion on the church's finances will be held. The church is at a crossroads in its present giving.

"By crossroads, we are talking about the impact that inflation has had on our church. All of the church's expenditures have gone up, including the salary that we will probably have to pay a new pastor," Ricketts said.

REV. CULBERTSON

Candle lighting set

TWIN FALLS — The Twin Falls Presbyterian Church will celebrate the first Sunday in Advent with the lighting of the Advent Candle at the 11 a.m. service of worship.

Twenty-four new members will join the congregation this Sunday. Rev. Robert Van Nest will deliver a sermon entitled "The Season of Expectancy." Robert Kroush will be guest speaker at the 9:30 service in the Fireside Lounge. Kroush will discuss our prison system and have a question and answer period following.

The Junior and Senior High Youth groups will meet Sunday evening at 7:30 at the church.

The Younger Couples Club will have a progressive dinner Thursday evening.

Film featured in Magic Valley

"For Pete's Sake!" a film credited as "unique" in its capacity to reach out to meet the problems of the people, will be shown in several places in Magic Valley this Sunday evening.

It will be shown at the Kimberly Church of the Nazarene, 205 W. Madison, at 7:30 p.m.; at the First Christian Church, 601 Shoshone St. No., Twin Falls, and at the Church of the Nazarene, 300 Broadway, Buhl, at 7:30 p.m.

The full-length comedy-drama, filmed in Eastman color by World Wide Pictures, will be shown once and open to the public free of charge.

It filmed entirely on location in Denver and the Colorado Rockies. "For Pete's Sake!" is the story of Pete Harper, a family man and service station owner, who is knocked flat by unexpected problems, but finds the strength to stand up again to face life anew.

"For Pete's Sake!" stars Robert Sampson, Pippa Scott, as Pete's wife, Marge, is well-known for her Broadway appearances and numerous television roles. John Milford and Sam Groom are both familiar to television audiences.

Other featured players include Johnny Jensen as Pete's son, Irene Tedrow as Grandma Harper, and Nicolas Surroy as Skip, the leader of a motorcycle gang.

A cordial invitation is extended to all families of the community by Rev. Douglas Money, who has made arrangements for this special showing.

Church news in brief

TWIN FALLS — The Christian Science lesson-sermon subject for 11 a.m. Sunday will be "Ancient and Modern Necromancy, alias Mesmerism and Hypnotism, Denounced." The program on KTFI radio at 6:30 p.m. Monday will be entitled "Win Over Athletic Injuries."

TWIN FALLS — There will be handwork, blankets, pillows and pillowcases, garden produce, bakery items and gifts for the Yuletide season on sale Saturday in the Magic Valley Adventist Church School basement. Food booths will serve sandwiches, salads, cakes and pies and other desserts. Anyone interested is cordially invited, says Sally Thompson, investment secretary.

EDEN — Trinity Lutheran Church will celebrate the coming of Jesus Christ during the Advent season through special worship services. Advent begins on Sunday with the showing of the film, "There's a New Wind Blowing," at the church. Special midweek services will be at 7:30 p.m. Wednesday. Both these services are for children and adults.

TWIN FALLS — Pastor James Hicks of the First Assembly of God, Twin Falls, will address the Magic Valley chapter, Full Gospel Business Men's Fellowship International Saturday. Wayne Barney, chapter president, said the meeting will begin at 7 p.m. at the College of Southern Idaho Multi-Use Building. He said Pastor Hicks has served churches in nine states during his career in the ministry, and at one time was a professional boxer.

FILER — Mr. and Mrs. Ed Andrews were in charge of dinner arrangements for the Progressive Bible Class when it met in the First Baptist Church. President Clarence Stanley conducted the business meeting. Cards were signed to be sent to members who are ill.

Priests to conserve fuel, lights

TWIN FALLS — Roman Catholics in Idaho might find they need to keep on their coats during mass this winter and country pastors might have to start out for their missions a little earlier than usual.

By a unanimous vote, the Roman Catholic Priests' Senate of the Diocese of Idaho determined to encourage the state's Catholic institutions to conserve energy in the wake of President Nixon's recent speech to the nation.

In their statement the priests requested cooperation in alleviating the energy crisis by turning all thermostats down to 65-68 degrees, reducing all lighting and electrical consumption and reducing the driving speed of all church related personnel to a maximum speed of 50 miles per hour.

Mortgage burned at Filer

FILER — A special mortgage burning service marked the Sunday morning worship hour of the Filer Missionary Church.

Rev. Joseph Kimbel, district superintendent for the northwest district of the Missionary Church, was present to officiate at the ceremony.

Rev. Stanley Runyon, pastor of the Filer church; Eva Metcalf, Women's Missionary Association president, and Stanley Dexter and Elden Ryals, deacons, each burned a piece of the mortgage which had been incurred in 1966 for the purpose of building a new parsonage.

The mortgage was paid off well ahead of schedule, according to Rev. Runyon.

Filer Missionary Church had its beginning in 1906 and was the first church to be organized in Filer, consequently is the oldest congregation in the town.

Health department regulation enforced

TWIN FALLS — South Central District Health officials are now enforcing a regulation adopted several months ago requiring registration permits for all firms and individuals installing or repairing subsurface sewage disposal systems.

Dr. Wayne B. Carte, medical director of the district, said the rule requires an annual installer's registration permit and a surety bond posted with the district. An annual examination for the permit is also required.

This does not apply to an individual doing his own work, but to all persons installing septic tanks or other subsurface disposal systems for builders or individual home owners.

Any person desiring an oral hearing or wishing to make a written statement to the South Central District Board of Health must submit such request or statement within 15 days after publication of the notice.

Sam Day takes post

BOISE (UPI) — The former editor of the Intermountain Observer, Sam Day, has accepted a job in Chicago as editor of an international magazine, "The Bulletin of the Atomic Scientists."

The publication is subtitled "Science and Public Affairs." It was founded in 1946 by nuclear physicists involved in the Manhattan Project.

The developers of the magazine objected to the dropping of the bomb on Hiroshima instead of a nonpopulated area.

Motorists slow down

BOISE (UPI) — Idaho motorists seem to be driving at slower speeds since President Nixon's announcement on ways to conserve energy, an Idaho State Police survey shows.

Nixon asked the American people to drive at 50 m.p.h. to save gasoline and help the nation through the energy crisis. He also asked for a 55 m.p.h. speed limit for trucks and buses.

Clark Hand, superintendent of the state police said officers in the state's six districts have reported decreased automobile speeds in the last few days.

Hand did note that speeds in the Boise area have not slowed considerably, except on the freeways.

Amendment proposed

WASHINGTON (UPI) — Sen. Frank Church, D-Idaho, has proposed an amendment to social security legislation to improve hospital coverage for elderly Americans receiving Medicare.

Church, chairman of the Senate Special Committee on Aging, first introduced legislation several months ago to raise Social Security benefits by 7 per cent.

Law questioned

BOISE (UPI) — The state's statute outlawing prostitution has been questioned by a Boise magistrate judge.

Judge Robert G. Newhouse has ruled that the statute is unconstitutional because it is vague and the average person cannot understand it.

The ruling came when the judge dismissed a criminal complaint against a Boise woman charged under the recently adopted law.

He emphasized that he did not rule on the "right or wrong" of prostitution, but merely on the wording of the law.

Preliminary hearing set

TWIN FALLS — Magistrate Court Judge Daniel Meehl has set Dec. 6 at 1 p.m. as the date for a preliminary hearing requested by Willard Earl Dunnagan, 18, on involuntary manslaughter charges.

Charges resulted from the death last week of his 19 year old brother, John Dunnagan. Sheriff's officers said the young man was shot at the Dunnagan Mართაუბა home. Witnesses in the home at the time said the shooting was accidental.

Recreation facilities aired

BOISE (UPI) — Cities and towns deserve to have recreation opportunities "close by," according to a policy statement of the Northwestern States Parks and Recreation Officers.

The officers, meeting in Boise Thursday, said state and federal leaders "should give priority consideration in planning their acquisition development programs toward providing adequate recreation opportunity in close proximity to cities and towns."

Rampton shows long-handles

SALT LAKE CITY (UPI) — Utah Gov. Calvin Rampton demonstrated one way of adapting to lower temperatures in his office Thursday.

He hikes a pant leg to display a new set of long-handled underwear after ordering all state capital thermostats set at 68 degrees.

The display came after some state employees complained about being cold.

Procedures challenged

LEWISTON, Idaho (UPI) — The independence of military justice procedures has been challenged by a second district court judge.

District Judge John H. Maynard issued a directive this week after an Idaho magistrate freed on a writ of habeas corpus an AWOL sailor held for five days in the city jail awaiting military authorities.

Maynard said military men must be given the same rights as other citizens, including a speedy court appearance when charged with a crime.

Equal salaries sought

BOISE (UPI) — The Boise State College Affirmative Action Committee is expected to take a proposal to the State Board of Education next week to equalize salaries for women and minority staff members.

The request, if approved, would require legislative action.

As a result of the proposal, presidents of the two universities in Idaho are expected to bring figures to the meeting on amounts needed to equalize salaries on their campuses.

And the University of Idaho and the State Human Rights Commission will hold a conciliation meeting Monday on a salary discrimination complaint filed by Moscow women.

School criticized

BOISE (UPI) — A survey team established by the Department of Environmental and Community Services has handed out criticisms on the way the Idaho State School and Hospital in Nampa is operated.

The 20-man survey team worked for a week last month to check all aspects of the state school and hospital.

A summary of the findings was given Thursday to Region III Deputy Administrator Elwyn Weger, who is now responsible for the administration of the institution.

The summary included criticisms which ranged from weaknesses in coordination of admissions, transfers and discharges to major problems with manpower and the quality of the medical, psychological and social services offered at the institution.

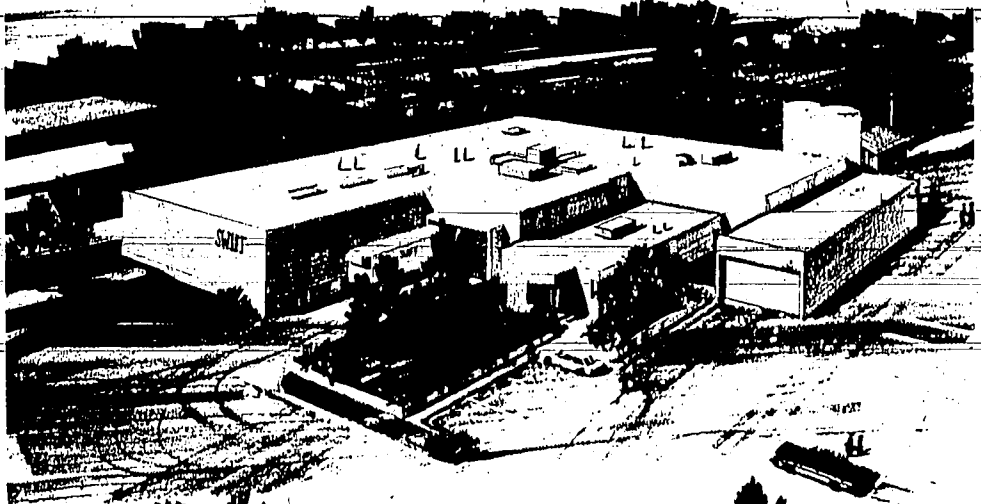

Raft River vote set

MAI,TA — Residents of the Raft River Highway District will elect two highway commissioners Monday.

James Powers and Marvin Hall are seeking the four year post in sub-district one. Selj Endow, the present sub-district one commissioner is not seeking re-election.

Alvin Nedd is seeking re-election to a four year term in sub-district two. He is unopposed and has served on the board for 12 years.

Polls will be open from 7 to 7 p.m. at the Raft River Highway District office, Malita.

Construction starts immediately on new TF plant

New plant slated in TF

TWIN FALLS — Swift Dairy and Poultry Co. has released details of its plans for a new building on State Highway 74 at the south edge of Twin Falls.

The building will house a new cheese production facility for cheddar and other natural cheeses. Contracts for the new building have been signed and construction will begin immediately with cheese production at the new facility to get underway by late next summer.

The plant will replace the firm's present smaller facility which has served here since 1926.

Contractors for the new project are Ulman Construction Co. Inc., Smith Electric and Home Plumbing and Heating, all Twin Falls.

"Cheese is the fastest growing segment of the dairy industry," said Elmer J. Hagerty, manager of the Twin Falls plant.

"The new plant will give Swift the added capacity to satisfy a rapidly expanding market for cheese on the West Coast," he added.

Hagerty will continue as manager of the new plant. It will have 24,000 square feet of floor space and will be located on a 20-acre site along state Highway 74 at Diamond Avenue. The site was recently annexed to Twin Falls City.

The one-story building was designed by Zassimopoulos AIA and Willich Architects of LaGrange, Ill., in cooperation with Globe Engineering Co.

Harald Gerber, associate architect, Twin Falls, will work with the contractor during the construction phase.

Until the new building is finished, the existing four-story structure in Twin Falls will remain in use, Hagerty said.

Swift Dairy and Poultry is a division of Swift and Co. the food sub-holding company of Esmark Inc.

Hagerty said the firm is happy to share in the growth of Twin Falls and to be able to provide a market for the milk producers and farmers of the area.

Ski season under way

TWIN FALLS — The 1973-74 ski season is underway in three major ski resorts in the Snake River National Forest this weekend.

Sun Valley has been open since Thanksgiving Day and today saw the opening of two other resorts, Pomerelle, near Albion, and Soldier Mountain at Fairfield.

Forest officials say Magic Mountain, Rotarun and Dollar Mountain are still closed, pending additional snowfall.

Pomerelle reports three-foot of snow at the lodge and five feet on the top of ski runs. Runs were packed in advance of the special free ski day today during which no charge will be made for lift passes. Normal operation on a seven day a week basis, begins Saturday.

Soldier Mountain will also operate today with about two and one-half feet of snow at the base of the slopes and four feet at the top. All runs are packed and the road has been plowed. The resort will operate Wednesday through Sunday during the season.

Bald Mountain is open with the Warm Springs side open during the week and the River Run side and bowls open on weekends. There is 36 inches of snow at the top, 32 at the Roundhouse and 12 inches on the valley floor.

Snow tires or chains are required for all ski resorts this weekend with the exception of Sun Valley.

Snowmobiling is generally rated only fair in most areas except Wood River Valley where it is good and in the Banner Creek Summit and Cape Horn areas.

Galena Summit has four feet of snow and Stanley lists 10 inches. Redfish Lake has 14 inches and Stanley Lake 18 inches.

Jerome aides hear plans

JEROME — Information on a proposed 1,000-acre public recreation area north of Milner Dam was presented to the steering committee of the Jerome Planning Council Wednesday night.

Nick Cozacos, district manager of the Bureau of Land Management, and Dell Waddoups, real estate specialist for BLM, both Burley, met with the committee to obtain its approval of the proposed project.

Cozacos told the council that the land in question is located on the north side of the Snake River across from the Milner Wildlife and Recreation Project.

"When the Milner Dam project was constructed the Bureau of Reclamation withdrew this parcel of land from the Bureau of Land Management. At the present time the Bureau of Reclamation has proposed an intensive type of recreation for the area which would include picnic areas and camping and boating facilities," Waddoups said.

The real estate specialist explained that the BLM is opposing the intensive type of recreation and is requesting the land be returned to BLM.

"A subcommittee has been formed and it has been concerned with recommendations for the Milner tract. It has recommended that the land which is designated as Class I Agriculture be disposed of to private ownership while the other land which includes approximately six miles of river frontage be returned to the BLM for retention and management in public ownership.

"The land would then be used for multi-purposes, namely wildlife habitat, water oriented recreation and a youth conservation camp," he said.

"However, one exception to the proposal would be those facilities required to operate the water distribution facility of the A and B Irrigation District. These would be retained by the Bureau of Reclamation," Cozacos said.

He noted that the area is in the Shoshone management district, but that a mutual agreement has been arrived at whereby the Burley district would manage the area in conjunction with the wildlife area already established on the south side of the river.

Waddoups said the area was heavily used by many different types of wildlife and the basic idea of the proposal was to retain the area in its open, natural state.

Stadium expansion urged

BOISE (UPI) — Boise State College President John Barnes will ask for approval to add 6,000 seats to Bronco Stadium when the State Board of Education meets next Thursday and Friday at Pocatello.

The proposal would expand the stadium's present capacity of 14,000 seats to 20,000 and would be financed through a $1.4 million parity bond at no increase in cost to students.

Death probed

COEUR D'ALENE (UPI) — More than a month has gone by since Debra Alice Pretz, 15, Coeur d'Alene was found murdered and sexually assaulted in a neighbor's back yard but police are still conducting an intensive investigation.

Miss Pretz's battered body was found by a neighbor in a back yard near her home Oct. 7.

While no charges have yet been filed in the case, Police Chief Robert A. Nuttleman said he has nothing solid in the way of leads.

Jerome building costs up

JEROME — The new addition to the Jerome County Courthouse will cost about $600,000 instead of the $450,000 announced earlier.

The announcement of the increase was made during a public hearing Thursday night. Merlin Alderson, Idaho Falls architect representing Sundberg and Associates, explained the proposed remodeling of the present courthouse and the addition of a new three-story extension.

Alderson said there are several reasons why the increase has occurred.

"At the present time there is legislation pending requiring easy accessibility to public buildings for the handicapped.

"Two of the major cost items for handicapped services include an elevator and a ramp leading into the courthouse," he said.

He estimated the additional cost would be $25,130. He said another addition to the original design is a provision for a drive-in garage facility to be used by law enforcement officers to load and unload prisoners. The cost is approximately $12,750.

Gene Fredericksen, prosecuting attorney, said the garage facility is a major safety factor for both the prisoner and officer as well as the public.

Alderson said the new addition would be located on the south of the present courthouse with the two structures being connected on all floors.

"The new addition, 50 by 70 feet and three stories high, will cost about $476,740. The major cost will be for joint law enforcement facilities located on the first floor," the architect said.

He explained the jail facilities will be jointly utilized by the city and county and will contain provisions for 38 inmates.

"The jail has been designed so prisoners can be segregated not only by sex but by degree of crime," he said.

Fredericksen said the jail facility is desperately needed because of the growth Jerome is now experiencing.

Jerome Police Chief Howard DuBois informed the group both the city and county jails are running at full capacity most of the time.

"Under our present operation we have no means to segregate the juvenile offender from the hard nose criminal," DuBois said.

Claude Bernard, chairman of the county commissioners, said the county commissioners will have to do some figuring to come up with the added funds. "I think we can work it out without having to call for a bond election. We might be about $60,000 short and may have to do a little cutting here and there," he said.

He said an agreement has been reached with the city whereby they will pay $2,114 per month for the first year to help pay the expenses of operating the law enforcement facilities.

Group opens club

TWIN FALLS — The Twin Falls Jaycees will open the old "N" Club west of Twin Falls beginning the first of December, according to Ray Abundis Jr., project chairman.

The Jaycees will use the facility for their own meetings and socials and will also rent the building to other organizations and groups for private meetings, parties and dances.

For further information on the building contact one of the Jaycee members or phone 734-2726.

Energy cuts set in Blaine

By TERRY CAMPBELL
Times-News Writer

KETCHUM — Voluntary community cuts in energy use have been proposed to insure continuation of the recreation based Wood River Valley economy.

The proposals came Thursday night during a Wood River roundtable session attended by about 30 persons, including Sun Valley Company Inc., officials.

Moderator James Donart said it was "elementary" that if the energy crisis resulted in the closure of the ski lifts, "the economy of the entire valley is right down the tubes."

Rene Meyer, Sun Valley vice president of finance, said projections for this winter indicate that revenue to tourist services in Ketchum and Sun Valley will total about $12 million.

"The tourist industry, he said, will employ about 2,000 persons in the two cities and these employees are expected to inject an additional about $2.8 million back into the area economy. The state's share through sales tax will be about $450,000, he said.

These figures, Meyer said, were based on an anticipated 250,000 visitor days, including 78,000 visitor days in Ketchum and 168,000 in Sun Valley and Elkhorn. Meyer said proposed gasoline rationing, no Sunday driving and potential airline gas rationing will "affect everyone" of us.

Ketchum-Sun Valley Chamber of Commerce executive director Lloyd Curtis estimated that about 6,000 persons were directly or indirectly involved in area tourism. The effects of cuts in the industry economy, he said, "just backs up all the way down the line."

Curtis recommended that the area do what it can to demonstrate that "at least one small community in the United States is concerned about its livelihood and will make cuts where it can."

Donart appointed Meyer, Don Walker and Phillip Puchner to study proposals for the next session, scheduled for Dec. 11, including a proposal to request the Blaine County commissioners to appoint an assistant to work on emergency energy and transportation problems.

Other proposals discussed Thursday night were establishing pickup points for hitchhikers in Ketchum, Sun Valley and Hailey, and a 20 per cent voluntary community "cutback" in energy use.

Sun Valley vice president Ed Pilkerton said bus transportation will be established within the next several days for the about 750 company employees who live in Hailey. He also said the company had hired a consulting engineer to recommend how the company can cut energy use.

On the proposed Amtrak service from Salt Lake City to Ketchum Pilkerton said "we really have to work on this as a community" and recommended that the entire community push for the service.

Court affirms prison term

BOISE (UPI) — Idaho's Supreme Court has affirmed a five year prison sentence for a range rider convicted of cattle-rustling.

James Trowbridge appealed to the high court on grounds District Judge Charles Scoggin abused his discretion in imposing the sentence. Trowbridge said he should have been put on probation.

Trowbridge pleaded guilty to grand larceny in the theft of four calves while employed as a range rider for the Star Lake Cattleman's Association.

Chief Justice Charles R. Donaldson said he could find no abuse of discretion by Judge Scoggin and affirmed the judgement of conviction and sentence.

BSC opens playoffs with South Dakota

BOISE — Ending the 1972 regular season with a 9-2 record was a warmup for Boise State head football coach Tony Knap and his team as they prepare to host the western region division championships Saturday, against South Dakota. The Boise State - University of South Dakota game will begin at 12:30 p.m. (MST) in 14,500-seat Bronco Stadium. Regardless of the weather, a near capacity crowd is expected to watch the inter-sectional clash between two league champions.

Boise State finished the regular season with a thrilling comeback win over a determined University of California Davis team, 32-31. The Broncos had to put 25 points on the board in the fourth quarter to get the win and the chance to host the first round of the Division II national playoffs in the western region.

"South Dakota is the champion of probably one of the toughest leagues in division II," commented Bronco head coach Tony Knap. "Since they are the co-champions of the North-Central conference, you know they are good," he added.

Boise State is the champion of the Big Sky Conference for the first time ever. The Broncos finished the season with a 6-6 league mark this fall.

Commenting further about the Coyotes, Knap said, "They use the wishbone attack but have some very effective passing concepts off of it. Their defense is very quick and aggressive. The University of South Dakota will be tough to handle."

The future to the Bronco head mentor looks like this: "The way we came back and won the University of California Davis game in Davis makes me think that there must be greater things in store for us that a defeat at the hands of South Dakota."

"We are planning on playing the best game of the year on Saturday against them," Knap said.

The University of South Dakota's two losses were at the hands of the University of Montana, 31-19 and to the University of North Dakota 54-21. Boise State defeated Montana 55-7 in Boise. The Coyotes have proven they can put it all together as they won three straight games after their Montana loss and their last game of the year after they lost to North Dakota.

Army winless, but can still save year

By IRA MILLER
UPI Sports Writer

Alabama can clinch the national championship, Oklahoma can finish an undefeated season and Georgia can earn a bowl bid but the team that can really do something special Saturday is Army, which would like to repay a 25-year-old debt.

The Cadets, facing the first winless season in their history, go into the traditional finale against Navy as more than two touchdowns underdogs, but sometime before the kickoff you can be sure Tom Cahill will remind them about a little piece of history.

The last team to go into an Army-Navy game without a win was the Middies in 1948, a year that Army ironically brought a perfect record into the season-end. The game ended in a 21-21 tie, a monumental upset for Navy.

Snowmobile group cuts race slate

EAGLE RIVER, Wis. (UPI)—The United States Snowmobile Association Thursday announced a series of steps to reduce the use of fuel, including an elimination this season of Sunday racing and the reduction in length of endurance events.

A spokesman for the USSA said the group's executive committee met Wednesday in Minneapolis with 10 snowmobile manufacturers and agreed to: Elimination of all Sunday racing. Reduction by half of all endurance races and the elimination of all 24-hour endurance races.

The reduction of the professional racing circuits from 13 events to 11. The spokesman said that, because of prior commitments, the new regulations for sanctions would take effect on Jan. 1. He also said that because of the changes, sponsors with sanctions after Jan. 1 would be allowed to break their contracts with the USSA if they desired.

Now it's Army that would like to do a little upsetting of its own to salvage something from a miserable season, although the Cadets haven't really even been close in most of their nine defeats.

"For 15 years I've heard the Navy game is a whole new season for us," says Coach Tom Cahill of Army, who has a 5-2 record against Navy. "Well, now I'll get a chance to test the validity of that statement."

George Welsh of the Middies is coaching in his first game against Army but he has a little experience in the series, having quarterbacked the Navy teams in three games against Army — two of them defeats — from 1953 to 1955.

Both teams have been through brutal schedules that include two of the nation's top three undefeated and untied teams, Penn State and Notre Dame. Army also lost to Tennessee and Navy to Michigan.

The service battle at Philadelphia begins a TV double-header that winds up with Alabama-Auburn at Birmingham, the No. 1-ranked Crimson Tide trying to nail down their first national championship since 1964.

Alabama is undefeated and four touchdowns favorites, a situation similar to last year when the Tide blew a 10-3 lead and lost to Auburn 17-16 as two blocked punts resulted in touchdowns in the closing minutes of the game.

Oklahoma, ranked No. 2 and not going anywhere because it's on probation, is prohibitive choice over Oklahoma State, No. 4. Notre Dame is a heavy favorite over Miami in a night game at the Orange Bowl, and No. 8 LSU is favored over Tulane in a night game at New Orleans.

Mahaffey nabs lead in Disney tourney

LAKE BUENA VISTA, Fla. (UPI) — Skinny John Mahaffey, on a health kick and feeling aggressive, shot a 68 Thursday to take a two-stroke lead after two rounds of the $150,000 Walt Disney World Golf Classic.

The 25-year-old Texan, who won his first PGA trophy in the Sahara Invitational in late October, finished 36 holes at seven under par 137 and sold the Las Vegas victory "made me more aggressive."

"I know I can win now," said the 150-pounder, who dropped in four birdies and parred the rest of the 6,361-yard Palm course.

Smith and Gorman to defend cup

CLEVELAND (UPI) — Stan Smith is a big man, and on his big shoulders rests the biggest challenge of his tennis career. Smith launches America's Davis Cup defense Friday against an aging, but awesomely powerful Australian team whose lead-off man against Stan is Forest Hills champion John Newcombe.

Tom Gorman plays the second match against Rod Laver, who on the basis of two grand slams and millions of dollars, is regarded as the finest player of the past decade and more.

Dennis Ralston, non-playing captain of the U.S. team, went out on a limb in selecting the 27-year-old Gorman, whose game has been hampered by a recurring back condition and who has never won a final round Cup match—losing to Ole Nastase and Ion Tiriac in the heartstopping U.S. victory over Romania a year ago in Bucharest.

Starks hit two birdies on his last nine holes, with no bogeys. "I've putted the ball better the last two days than I have in a long time," he said. "I just moved the ball back in my stance a little."

Players wind up meeting

HONOLULU (UPI) — The player representatives of the major league baseball teams began leaving here Thursday after winding up a two-day meeting with Major League Players Association Executive Director Marvin Miller.

Miller said before he left that one of the main topics of discussion at the meeting was the energy crisis.

Miller said the crisis could affect baseball in night games and travel. He said the player representatives felt since money must remain flexible since no one was sure just how much effect the energy crisis would ultimately have on the sport.

"We are not willing to have the crisis used as an overall excuse by the team owners to do whatever they want," Miller said.

Sugar Bowl may face picketing

NEW ORLEANS (UPI) — Civil rights organizations said Thursday they were intent on blocking the New Year's Eve Sugar Bowl, possibly with sit-ins, unless its sponsors desegregated their organization.

The president of the New Orleans Mid-Winter Sports Association, sponsor of the Sugar Bowl, said he had no immediate comment on the threat, but hinted plans were in the works to give blacks more voice in operating the Sugar Bowl Classic, now in its 43th year.

Spokesman for the National Association for the Advancement of Colored People (NAACP) and the Southern Christian Leadership Conference (SCLC) said their actions might include a sit-in around the stadium.

The late Betsy Grable claimed she was the bright citizen who saw it that Frank Sinatra got his first big break. After Sinatra auditioned for trumpeter Harry James in 1939, Miss Grable said she told Harry: "Hire that skinny kid. He sings like Clark Gable makes love."

The gentleman hereabouts today weighs seven pounds more than did his counterpart 50 years ago. Studies show that—but it's not because the old boy now puts away more calories. On the contrary. This latterday lack of exercise is blamed.

There are more chickens on earth than any other sort of bird, so it's not likely they'll become extinct. Still, once there were more passenger pigeons on earth than any other sort of bird, and they're now extinct. Never can tell.

NICE
If you're thinking about marrying your niece, mister, better go to Pennsylvania. Understand that's the only state that will allow it under the law.

Yogurt will restore a balding man's hair. No, I don't believe that. But the Persians believed it. For centuries. If the bride is a teenager, her chances of being divorced run 36 out of 100. Still find it fascinating that cookbooks outsell sex books three to one. For religious reasons, numerous souls in Polynesia sleep nightly with their heads toward the east. Am asked how that penitentiary known as Sing Sing got its name. Came from an Indian word for a stony place.

TEETH
Medical researches in Great Britain recently examined an enormous batch of personnel records. Besides a lot of other technical data, they turned up one perfectly reasonable finding: The group of employees whose teeth appeared to be in the worst condition was the same group of employees who almost never took time off their jobs.

Certainly, it's a fact younger women get more headaches generally than do older women. But nobody yet has explained why older women are more apt to wake up with headaches. Can you? It's true.

Typical hurricane expends more energy in one minute than this country uses up in electricity during a half a century. Or so contend the weather boys. Remarkable, is true.

True, the female dog is more likely to bite than the male. But the male makes the best guard dog, no doubt about that. The biting female tends to snap without warning. The male is a little more inclined to growl a signal first. Or so says an authority on the matter.

FORECAST FOR SATURDAY, DECEMBER 1, 1973

GENERAL TENDENCIES The daytime is fine for deciding upon a new plan of action and new outlets for the future. The evening brings into expression an argumentative influence that could be costly. Use self-control and sidestep this situation.

ARIES (Mar. 21 to Apr. 19) The daytime is best for happy relationship with others. Don't forget to do important errands in the morning. Stay within your budget.

TAURUS (Apr. 20 to May 20) Morning is best time to get on the good side of a bigwig and gain the favor you desire. Much care in motion should be exercised tonight.

GEMINI (May 21 to June 21) The morning is a good time to go after the data you need. Use care in travel. Do your important shopping now instead of waiting until later.

MOON CHILDREN (June 22 to July 21) Find a better system for handling your affairs more efficiently and then show appreciation to an expert who helps you. Keep happy.

LEO (July 22 to Aug. 21) Discuss policy matters with allies in the morning and devise better methods of operation for the future. Be wise and get a good rest tonight.

VIRGO (Aug. 22 to Sept. 21) If you handle your affairs in a most precise way now, you can get ahead in your field of endeavor. Do some entertaining at home tonight.

LIBRA (Sept. 22 to Oct. 21) Morning could bring real happiness and more opportunity for enjoyment, but take care tonight not to lose your temper with close ties.

SCORPIO (Oct. 22 to Nov. 21) Work around your home today and make it look more charming. Listen to the ideas of others. Study them well and come to the right decisions.

SAGITTARIUS (Nov. 22 to Dec. 21) A good day for expansion and becoming a more successful and active individual. Discuss your ideas with associates and obtain their views. Show more devotion to loved one.

CAPRICORN (Dec. 22 to Jan. 20) Keep busy at whatever has to do with property management and finances. Make sure to control your temper. Gain the assistance of an expert.

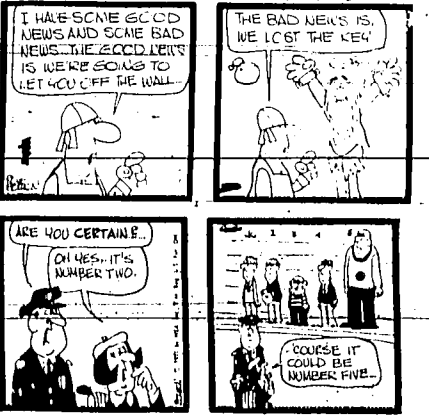

AQUARIUS (Jan. 21 to Feb. 19) Come to the right decisions when making plans for the future. Daytime hours are best for the social. Home is your best bet tonight.

PISCES (Feb. 20 to Mar. 20) Take the right steps toward your highest aims during the day but take it easy tonight. Do the research work that is vital to your future.

IF YOUR CHILD IS BORN TODAY ... he or she will be one of those individuals who in early life will want to help others in every way imaginable, which is a fine trait, provided it is done sensibly. The right guidance and schooling could result in a great religious teacher. Give cultural advantages and don't neglect sports.

VW Beetle
$2625.00

Plymouth Duster
$2511.00

HANK WILLIS

The VW Beetle is bigger than our Duster in one important category—price. As you can see, the '74 Duster's manufacturer's suggested retail price is $114 dollars less than the '74 VW. Destination charges, state and local taxes not included. That's something to think about. Especially when you consider that Plymouth Duster seats five. The VW — only four. Duster offers three times as much trunk space. Duster's engine develops about twice the horsepower and has an Electronic Ignition system that helps eliminate tune-ups. And Duster is heavier, wider and has a longer wheelbase than VW—for a better ride. And finally, Duster still looks and acts like a compact. With easy handling and parking. Good gas mileage and low upkeep. And with the money you save on Duster, you can put it toward extras like wheel covers, chrome bumper guards and whitewall tires as shown on the above Duster. No wonder Chrysler Corporation sells more compacts than anyone else. And no wonder Duster is Chrysler Corporation's best selling compact. That's something worth thinking about.

4-H exchange roster opens

TWIN FALLS Applications for participation in an exchange 4-H program to Japan will be accepted until Dec. 10 at the county agent's office in Twin Falls.

Lyn Morrisk, Twin Falls County agent, said each delegate to Japan under the 4-H exchange program will be required to provide $700 expenses.

The month-long visit to Japan will begin July 20. The exchange club member will reside with a Japanese family and take part in routine Japanese family life. Carolyn Jessor and Kurt Daw, both Kimberly, were delegates to the 4-H exchange program last year.

Adult leader applications are being accepted for chaperons and must also be returned to the county agent's office by Dec. 10. Delegates will be accepted on a first come, first served basis through the state 4-H office in Moscow.

Magie level down

SIIOSTONE — Magie Reservoir, contained 33,000 acre feet of water Tuesday, compared to almost 100,000 on the same date in 1972, according to Leon Grievie, manager of the Big Wood Canal Co.

The reservoir is now refilling somewhat better than earlier this fall, due to the above normal precipitation this month.

Grievie said no definite decision has been made about turning the winter water out of the Dietrich and South Gooding Main canals. If water is turned out of either one, it will be only for the very cold and froging part of the winter.

Grievie said Monday American Falls Reservoir contained 575,000 acre feet of water compared to 1,202,000 acre feet a year ago.

Stock water will be plim out of the Milner-Gooding canal December 1.

Skier needs met through Elkhorn

By TERRY CAMPBELL, Times-News Writer

ELKHORN — Elkhorn at Sun Valley will celebrate its first winter season with activities to rival Union Pacific's inaugural ceremonies for the 1936 Sun Valley opening. The activities will lead off Dec. 15 with "Christmas in Santa's New Workshop." Elkhorn will be decked out with decorations designed by Richard Elmore and based on Grimm's fairy tale figures and stories. "Edgar the Elk" will also tour the village and skating will be available on the ice rink, which is flanked by two firepits.

Other charter winter season events will include the USSA "Olympiad" in early January; Interline and the Sun Valley Ski Club Reunion; a "February Festival," and a "Spring Fling" in March. Elkhorn, Sun Valley's sister community, is located at the base of the south face of Dollar-Elkhorn Mountain, about one mile from the Sun Valley Lodge and Inn. The 2,950-acre development is a joint venture of subsidiaries of the Johns-

Manville Corp. and Sun Valley Co.

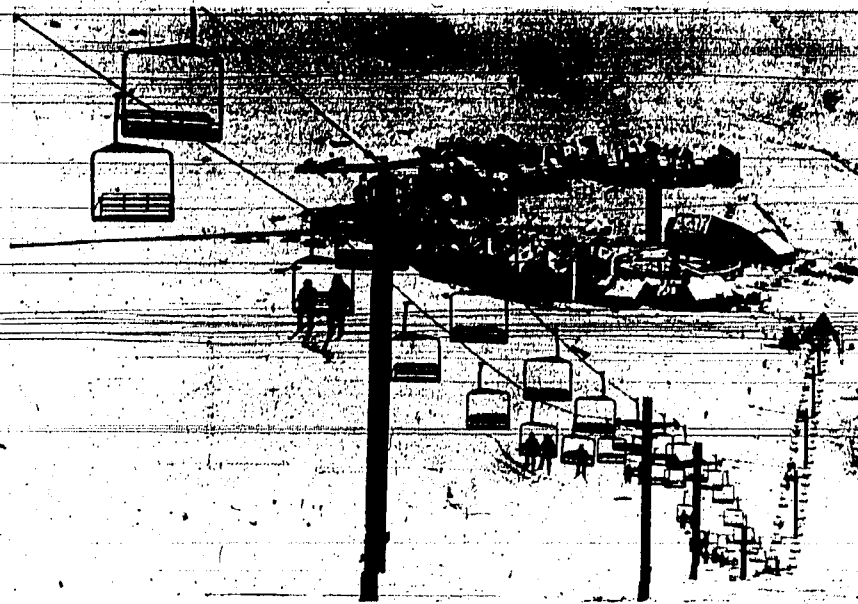

Total development costs to date, including land, for the $38 million, ten-year phased development, have been about $16.5 million.

Elkhorn will be ready for the racing season with the Elkhorn face on Dollar Mountain groomed and reshaped for ideal racing slopes. An electrical timing system has been installed for this purpose.

This year the National NASTAR will utilize the area as a training ground for the National Rossignol Team which will headquarter in Sun Valley for the winter.

An all-new community planned to complement the recreational atmosphere of Sun Valley, Elkhorn provides commercial facilities, stores, restaurants and overnight housing to meet the complete needs of the winter or summer guest.

An outdoor hydrotherapy pool with 46 water jets, a hockey pond, toboggan and sledding runs and the cross country ski course with competitive standards are among the facilities offered. A skating rink in the center of the village is also a popular addition.

Triple chair takes skiers up Elkhorn

The village design provides a variety of residential accommodations located above shops and stores.

There are accommodations ranging from studio apartments to four bedroom condominiums and small homesites or large ranches. All are within the guidelines of a master land use plan which has been followed in developing the resort area. This plan was approved by the Sun Valley City Council in April.

Entrance to Elkhorn Village is through an archway accessible over the winding road past Dollar Cabin. Appointed with bright heraldic flags, a kiosk is covered by posters announcing current happenings and blazing firepits on either side of a centrally located ice rink.

European architecture has been used throughout the development. Many of the living quarters are located on second and third stories above the shops.

The community boasts a general store, selling groceries, wine and household items; the Snug Co.,

sportswear, rental skis and skates and sporting goods; Hornblower, a clothing, cosmetics and import gift shop; Tallerken, offering housewares, crystal, china and gifts; Flower Power, florist shop; Tonsorial, men's and women's hair stylists; J Norman Gallery, art and jewelry; Treat Haus, offering pastries and ice cream; the Criss; Buck, cafe, and the Chart House, restaurant.

Carrico directs school

RICK CARRICO ... heads ski school

TWIN FALLS — Rick Carrico, formerly associated with the Soldier Mountain Ski School, has been named to direct the ski school at Magic Mountain this year.

Carrico, who now makes his home in Twin Falls, said he will have about 20 instructors this year and will be employing the GLM method throughout the school program. He said some 50 pairs of GLM skis are available at the resort rental shop for students.

Clinic sessions for the instructors began in late November and a junior package program will be held for three week periods beginning Jan. 6 and continuing through the season as long as interest is sufficient, Carrico said.

In addition to himself, an associate certified instructor, Carolyn Cornell, certified in the Pacific Northwest Ski Instructors Assn., will be assisting with the school this year.

Carrico said plans have also been made for an adult package program to be offered on Sundays at the resort, similar to the junior program.

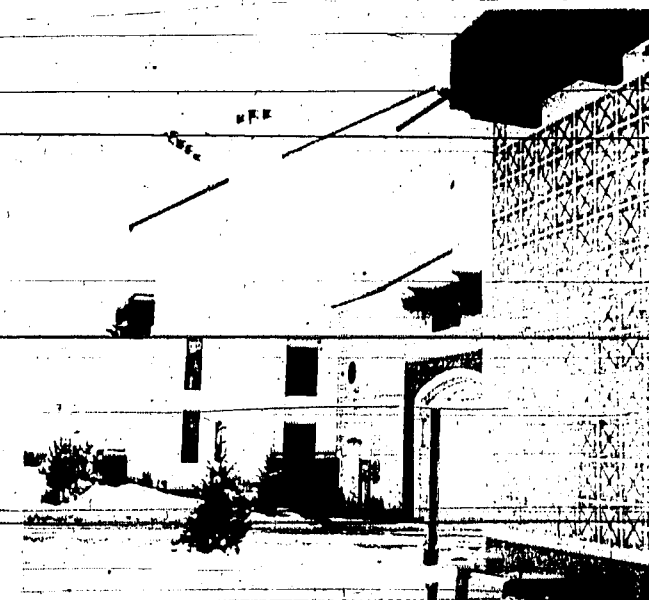

Registration for both will be held in ski shops of the area, he said. He hopes to see a junior racing program started at Magic Mountain this year although he will leave that to the resort owners to organize and promote.

Avalanche training completed

FAIRFIELD — A five-day avalanche training session held in Seattle has been attended by two Fairfield winter sports experts.

David Wheeler, manager of the Soldier Mountain ski resort, and Bob Martin, U.S. Forest Snow Ranger and ski patrol member, returned just prior to Thanksgiving from the special training. Five days of classroom work kept winter recreation specialists from throughout the Intermountain and northwest states busy.

Wheeler said a follow-up course will be held in January at Sun Valley in which the enrollees will be able to get in some field work in snow conditions.

The classes are sponsored by the U.S. Forest Service and open to those directly involved in winter recreation and search and rescue work.

Quiet Power

You may not have to use it. But it's nice to know you've got it.

For 1974, Scorpion alone is the one with "Quiet Power." Like so many Scorpion breakthroughs over the years, this was the brainchild of one of the 10 engineering teams that annually produce the Slinger line of snowmobiles.

Each team labored for a full year of its specialty: Styling and appearance, Sound level, Ride, Handling, Clutch, Acceleration, Component life, Safety, Hill climbing, Speed.

Testing along the way indicated the progress that each team was making. Then, after checks on the test benches and on the test trails and speed tracks, the production go-ahead was given.

Scorpion's 10 teams had done it again! All results are now in, and we believe that no tougher, no handsomer, no better-performing snowmobile will be found on the snows this year! The good-looking one? With "Quiet Power!"

Now, meet the machines themselves ... the 1974 Scorpion Super Slinger!

Rotarun draws youths

HAILEY — Improvements will again greet skiers this year at the Rotarun ski area west of Hailey.

Initiated by the Hailey Rotary Club, the area is presently operated by the Rotarun Ski Club.

According to Richard Anderson, ski club treasurer, Floyd Patterson, Hailey, has constructed a housing over the J-bar bull wheel to reduce noise and has installed underground power lines to the lifts to eliminate a number of the power piles.

The ski club has also repainted the interior of the warming hut, Anderson said, and hopes to have more rental skis for juniors available this year.

A unique ski area in the Wood River Valley, Rotarun is operated on a "break even basis," Anderson said. "Prices are kept low to enable local children and adults to learn to ski."

The roof of the area's maintenance, the hill for its run, is donated by George Arkoosh, Gooding, as long as the area remains non-profit.

Rotarun facilities include a single rope tow for beginners, a double rope for advanced beginners and the J-bar for intermediate skiers. Ski patrol services, under the direction of Oliver Adams, are also provided and are affiliated with the National Ski Patrol.

Snow conditions permitting, the area will be open during Christmas vacation and may be operated one or two weekends prior to that time, Anderson said. Following the holiday, Rotarun will be open for general skiing on weekends and will probably have two evenings a week of night skiing.

Anderson said the regular ski school program, headed by Jim Hurst, will begin on the weekend following New Years.

Magic Mountain takes on new look

TWIN FALLS — Magic Mountain ski fans will find a "new look" this year at the resort.

Under the ownership of New Magic Mountain Inc., the resort has a greatly expanded and completely revised day lodge. Everything from the location of the main entrance to the menu is being changed.

In an extensive remodeling program this summer the new owners have added a 24 by 40 foot addition at the east of the existing lodge. This area now provides the main entrance to the building with a sun deck and public entrance on the south wall. Here too is an entrance to the new ski shop, now part of the main building.

A lounge where the management will sell beer, wine and hot spiced wine for apres sking sessions has been added in what was formerly the front area of the building. This gives the lounge area the large stone fireplace with decorative walls, a modernistic decor and many other attractions.

The cafeteria is now in the main dining area with a circular fireplace in the dining room — for warming and socializing for those too young to enter the lounge. New restrooms were added in the basement portion of the expansion to more adequately serve the ski crowds. The restroom facilities are now about double the previous area.

Improvement to the ski runs this year included clearing the upper portion of the bowl served by the chair lift to make the entire area from the entrance skiable, and cutting a run from the bowl area to the upper and lower ridge runs served by both the T-bar and double chair lifts.

Owners of the resort involved in New Magic Mountain Inc. include Stan Detweiler, Twin Falls, president; Ronald Lierman, Hansen, vice president; Arthur Jones, Hagerman, secretary-treasurer, and Merle Lierman, Hansen, and Leroy (Cotton) Crumbliss, Twin Falls.

The resort will be operating Wednesday through Sunday with bus service available each

Saturday and Sunday, daily during the Christmas holidays, and on other holidays.

Detweiler said lift prices will raise 50 cents on all tickets this year to meet the higher cost of fuel and other supplies.

A central ticket office will be utilized to handle tickets for all lifts. Now, this year is the season ticket available at a $100 per skier.

Detweiler said the owners plan to operate the cafeteria, lounge, rental shop and other facilities and will have a complete line of new K2 skis for the GLM ski school program in addition to new boots, poles and other items.

Wyoming wildfowl targets

While the skiers decry the rains that turn the slopes into slush, there is a happy group of men standing in water with wet tails.

Overcast rainy days, though bitter cold for humans, keep the waterfowl down low, hopping from pond to lake to sheltered cove as the crack of shotguns moves them from spot to spot.

Before dawn is the favorite time to toss out the decoys, pick a spot for a screen from airborne eyes, settle down the retriever and check the wristwatch for legal shooting light.

You may have kicked a bunch off the pond when you walked on it to throw out the decoys and you hope there are other hunters doing the same.

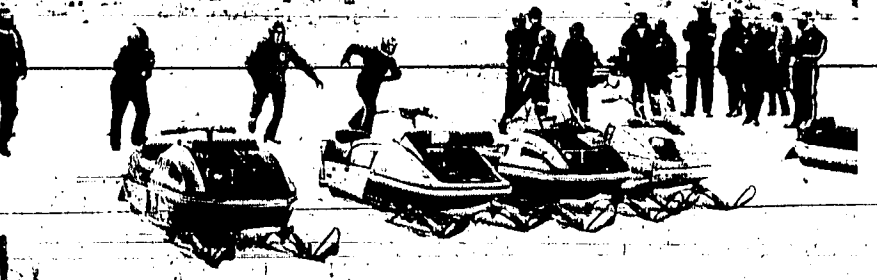

"To your right," speaks your hunting companion — softly. You glance back at the retriever and see that he, too, has spotted the flight circling back over the water.

Here they come. Now into the glide. You raise the gun. Whip goes your partner's 12-gauge. You pick up one flaring upwards and squeeze off the first shot of the day.

The retriever leaps from his perch, smashes into the water and you pull another shell out of your jacket pocket.

A little chilly here on the ground. You think about breaking open the vacuum bottle of coffee but see another flight winging in.

"Straight ahead," you say, and see your hunting partner turn his head. Looks like you get first shot. Going to try for a double this time.

Snowmobile trails set

FAIRFIELD — The whine of snowmobiles has already been sounding in the Little Smoky Snowmobile area about 15 miles north of here as winter enthusiasts take advantage of early snowfall.

The area, in the Sawtooth National Forest, involves some 2,000 acres of open trails and expanses of snow. Larry Weeks, forest ranger at Fairfield, says there is no conflict with wintering big game animals and most of the area is free of any avalanche hazards.

To assist the snowmobilers and to eliminate danger of avalanche, the forest service has marked trails for the machines to follow. The designated trail begins at the parking lot about five miles north of Fairfield and continues north over Wells Summit. Here the elevation is 7,095 feet and the winter recreationist finds himself in the midst of the scenic Smoky Mountains.

Weeks said efforts have already been made by the forest service and the snowmobile club members in this area to mark the trails. Standard trail markers and signs will be used to assist the snowmobiler, especially on days of poor visibility.

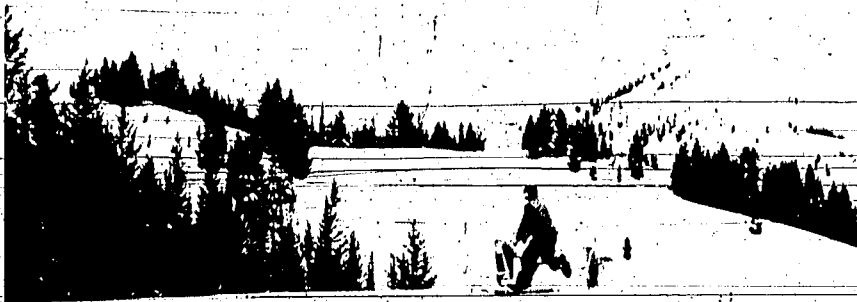

A new snowtrail grader has been obtained to maintain the trails, Weeks said. Money for the purchase of the equipment was provided by the Gooding Snowmobile Club and Fairfield Search and Rescue unit.

Some areas known to be hazardous are posted with special warning signs and recreationists have been asked to heed the signs for their own protection.

Snow on the play area is generally about 48 inches deep and provides for snowmobiling from December through April. This year early snow extended use of the area to mid-November.

Weeks said the parking area, which was newly expanded and improved last year, will have trash cans and toilet facilities available. A registration box is also located at the parking area and snowmobilers are asked to sign out and back in to help in case of missing snowmobile parties or individuals.

While experienced riders have an opportunity to leave the more gentle terrain and climb out to the high ridges, all should be aware of the avalanche potential on such steep climbs and on ridges where overhangs can develop. Snowmobiles can trigger avalanches that normally do not slide, Weeks said.

Smokey Mountain scenic view

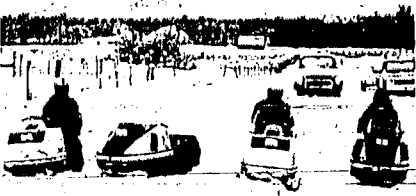

Agencies improving facilities

FAIRFIELD — The efforts of many individuals and agencies went into the improved snowmobile area near Fairfield last winter.

Located about six miles north of Fairfield, the area is under the direction of Sawtooth National Forest officials with Rex O'Neil as snow ranger. Land for the parking lot was provided by Gayland-Pauls, Gooding, and the Camas County road crews surfaced and shaped the parking area with funds from snowmobile registration fees.

If the public cooperates by parking in uniform rows, the lot will accommodate 60 cars and trailers, O'Neil said.

Known as the Little Smoky Snowmobile Play area, the parking lot is headquarters for those using the 2,000 square miles of open snow covered terrain. Members of the Search Mountain Search and Rescue unit are available to handle any accidents and to search in the event of a lost machine operator.

Traffic tangle

AUTOMOBILES AND snowmobiles do not mix. State law prohibits the small vehicles on public roadways. Here machine operators ride beside the highway to reach open fields.

Riders set out goals

TWIN FALLS — A Twin Falls man, Orval Johnson, has been named to head the Idaho Snowmobile Association and to help direct the organization program.

Johnson, who was president of the Magic Valley Snowmobile Club last year, said the principal objectives of the state association involve passage of legislation to benefit snowmobilers.

He said the association was instrumental in obtaining a $300,000 refund from state and federal gasoline tax for four-wheel drive vehicles, snowmobiles and other off-road vehicles. This, he said, will be refunded in July and will be available for clubs for improvements of projects to benefit the recreation.

Johnson said an application will be made by the Magic Valley club for funds to build a large restroom facility at the new addition to the Diamondfield Jack snowmobile area.

Continuous efforts are necessary, Johnson said, to protect the revenue which is returned to the counties from snowmobile license fees. He said efforts are now being made to block two proposed changes.

At present $4 from each registration returns to the county for snowmobile improvements. Proposals now being prepared for legislative action would either turn this over to the Idaho Parks Department for their distribution or to have all money not used in two years time returned to the state.

Johnson said if all funds were allocated by the parks department, it could become a political football with all of the revenue going to one locality.

"It is our money to begin with and we would like to be able to say how it is used in our own areas," Johnson said.

He said in Twin Falls County the money has been used to provide the Diamondfield Jack facility which serves snowmobilers from a number of counties.

Johnson said other state officers include vice presidents, Jim Lemberg, Nordman, district 1; Chris Warran, Coalin, district 2; Carl Shannhan, Boise, district 3; Willis Welchel, Idaho Falls, district 4; Bill Otterstein, Halley, district 5; and Ray Nelson, Soda Springs, district 6, with W. D. Martindale, Halley, as secretary-treasurer.

Parking spaces

LITTLE SMOKY snowmobile area near Fairfield has undergone improvements with additional parking space, trail markers and other facilities. Many miles of open snow covered hills and flat terrain can be reached from this spot.

SV offers new, improved runs

SUN VALLEY — People around the world who haven't heard about Idaho potatoes, have probably heard of Idaho skiing.

The Sun Valley resort, now starting its 38th winter season, may take much of the credit for bringing Idaho snows to the foreground. To keep this reputation alive, the resort brings something new and better to the long list of top facilities each year.

One of the big additions this year was the snow making equipment on the River Run side of Baldy Mountain. And wouldn't you know it, before the resort could make its own snow, the weatherman took over his rightful job and dropped the earliest snow of such proportions the resort has had in some 37 years.

The snow making system, says Ken Zimmerman, one of the resort's mountain managers, will assure good snow cover in areas of heaviest traffic and where direct sun hits the slopes. Some snow making was done at the resort to form a good base prior to the natural storms of mid-November which enabled the Thanksgiving opening of the resort's Baldy runs.

While formal opening is not scheduled until Dec. 15, at which time all lodges, lifts and other facilities will be operating, the resort this year opened partially on Thanksgiving Day with two to three feet of snow on upper runs.

Snow making is now possible in the general area of the top of River Run lift to the bottom of Holiday run and in areas of lower College and lower River Run.

Other improvements this year Zimmerman and Max McKinnon, the resort's other mountain manager said, is a new "ski lane" between Cut-Off run and Blue Grouse run. This is higher on the mountainside with a less difficult grade for the intermediate skier to negotiate when going from Ego Flats to the Roundhouse or down Mid-river Run.

A change in the landscape around Lookout Restaurant at the top of Baldy will give skiers a better gravity slope to Lookout Lift, the triple chair which serves the bowls. A 16-foot tall snow fence has also been installed from the restaurant area to the ridge and the Lookout Ranger Station. This will create a drift which will catch the snow before it blows across the top of the bowls to form a cornice and should allow earlier opening of the bowl runs.

Although no major lift constructions were undertaken last summer, the resort now has about $7 million in equipment on Baldy Mountain alone.

The resort has 11 lifts and 55 trails on Baldy plus those on Dollar and Elkhorn, giving skiers of every degree of ability a mountain to ski.

Since Janss Corp. purchased Sun Valley from Union Pacific Railroad in 1964-65, the policy has been to build for the future and to anticipate the needs of the skiers and provide for them in time to prevent overcrowded slopes, long lift lines and offer a wide variety of ski trails.

Bill Janss, owner of Sun Valley Inc., says a lift ticket at Sun Valley should be a pass to the best skiing that can be bought and future plans will continue toward this end.

He noted the resort is not only interested in making Sun Valley the best but in protecting and assisting neighboring communities as well.

Bus routes set from Ketchum

KETCHUM — Two red-and-white buses have spelled success for the Ketchum-Sun Valley Chamber of Commerce.

The buses — forming the Ketchum-Sun Valley Transit System — will again roll this winter to serve area tourists, residents and shoppers.

Entering its third winter of operation, the system has chalked up a good usage record. The first year, utilizing leased buses, the system had about 15,000 paid fares. The second year, with the purchase of the two, 16-passenger buses, the system had 33,385 fares.

According to chamber manager Lloyd Curtis, the buses will operate on a 8 a.m. to 11 p.m. schedule beginning Dec. 17. Free transfers will be offered this year.

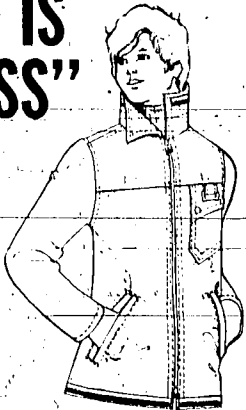

Curtis said one bus will make a once an hour loop between Elkhorn, Sun Valley, the Holiday Inn and the Warm Springs lift. The second bus will make a twice an hour shuttle run between Sun Valley, downtown Ketchum and River Run.

Fares will be 50 cents a ride, with a ten-ride book available for $3.50. A 100 ride book may also be purchased for $25 at the chamber office at the Devil's Bedstead Building (formerly Hawk's Barn), south of Ketchum.

Curtis said the chamber "feels proud that it can perform this unique service." He said the usage indicated the transit system is "much needed in the area."

What reports mean

POMERELLE — What is a ski report?

It should be an honest appraisal of ski conditions at the resort at the time it is given, says Woody Anderson, owner of the Pomerelle Ski Area.

"We intend to issue ski reports this winter on as accurate a basis as possible and will follow the guidelines used by major resorts around the nation," he said.

The Pomerelle ski reports will be based on the following definitions, the resort owner said.

Excellent — Ample base, well covered even the roughest and steepest terrain with superb surface conditions throughout the area. Surface has sufficient new snow and or packed powder to withstand at least one day of skier traffic with no bare or icy spots.

Good — Ample or adequate base with surface usually powder-and-packed-powder or loose granula over the greater portion of the area. Most trails and slopes readily skied from the top to bottom; a few bare or icy spots may be present but not enough to impair conditions materially and not necessary to be reported.

Fair — Either (1) ample to adequate base but skiing rather impaired by frozen granular or icy spots in many sections or (2) rather thin base over much of the area but skiable with care. Bare and or icy spots to be reported.

Spackman wins honor for patrol

FAIRFIELD — Thomas Spackman, member of the Soldier Mountain Ski Patrol, has been honored with an appointment as "National Ski Patrolter" in recent ceremonies in Seattle.

Spackman has been active in the Soldier Mountain Patrol since 1961. In addition to his ski patrol qualifications, Spackman qualified as a ski mountaineer and has been active in a number of rescue missions in the past few years.

He served as patrol director for two years and as first aid chief and chairman of the by-laws committee.

The national award is made only after extraordinary and continuous personal contribution for several years and for outstanding leadership, first aid, skiing and patrol procedure. In addition training in avalanche and winter mountaineering is required. The National Ski Patrol has 27,000 members but in the 35 year history of the system only 5,000 National Patrolter ranks have been awarded.

In addition to his ski patrol effort, Spackman operates a ranch in the Fairfield area.

Diamondfield Jack area popular with snowmobilers

S. Hills area growing to serve snowmobilers

TWIN FALLS — Several thousand white acres of winter fun are available to the snowmobile fan at Diamondfield Jack snowmobile area south of Twin Falls.

U. S. Forest Service officials who administer the facility say it is one of the best areas for snowmobiling in the state because of the wide expanse of snow covered ridges and sloping hills and because it is almost totally free of any avalanche danger.

Annually the area attracts large numbers of winter play enthusiasts and although parking facilities were improved only about two years ago they are now outgrown. To meet this problem, the existing parking is being nearly doubled with a new parking area being built on the west side of the roadway. This will also be developed to serve winter play fans with a tubing and sledding hill being developed just off the parking lot. The project began this summer and will be ready for next winter's use.

Lewis Munson, district forest ranger, said the facility is a cooperative effort on the part of the Magic Valley Snowmobile Club, the U. S. Forest Service, Twin Falls Highway District and the county commissioners.

Munson said much of the labor to clear trees from the new parking area was provided by the volunteer snowmobile club members. They also used their club revenue and fees from snowmobile licensing to help pay for materials.

Additional restroom facilities will also be provided in the new parking facility and those serving the present site on the east side of Rock Creek Road.

Numerous miles of trail in the vicinity of the parking area and south of the Magic Mountain ski area and ranger station have been marked with orange markers to help guide the snowmobilers and prevent their getting lost.

Blaine resort expands

PHIL JONES gets appointment

Former TF man earns Utah post

TWIN FALLS — Phil Jones, former Twin Falls resident and ski school director for the Park City ski resort of Utah has been named director of resort operations.

The promotion now gives him supervision and management of the ski school, lift operations, hill maintenance, ski patrol and all summer sports activities.

Jones is a native of Twin Falls, having attended school here. He joined the Park City resort in 1964 and was named ski instructor of the year in 1971 by the North American Ski Instructors Congress.

In 1972 he was honored as ski school director of the year by the Intermountain Ski Instructors Assn. He served as a member of the U. S. Seventh and Eighth Inter-Ski Demonstration teams and has worked with ski trail construction and golf course supervision at Park City the past three years.

He is married to the former Pam Hucken, also a former Twin Falls resident and is the son of Lucile R. Jones and Claude F. Jones, both Twin Falls.

East Idaho's Targhee looks to '74-'75 year

ALTA, Wyo. — Grand Targhee opened the 1973-74 ski season Nov. 27 under new ownership.

The resort, covering 1,200 acres and located in the heart of the Teton Mountains of Wyoming, is accessible through Driggs, Idaho, and is frequented by many Magic Valley skiers each year.

William H. Robinson, Wilmington, Ohio, is the principal shareholder in the new owner-firm of Big Valley Corp. The selling firm, Grand Targhee Resort Inc., will continue to own a minority interest in Big Valley.

Among the new personnel on duty this winter is Les Outz, formerly of Halley and Sun Valley. Outz has assumed the resort's position of marketing director, in charge of advertising and promotion. He has been managing the Lake Louise resort's mountain program in Canada the past two years and prior to that was the assistant ski school director at Sun Valley.

He is a native of Halley and the son of former sheriff, Les Outz. Outz said the resort opening was on somewhat limited snow conditions and only lower runs were open but additional snow has since fallen and ski conditions have improved.

One of the major improvements at Targhee this year was completion of an all weather road from the end of the previous oil to the ski resort. He said the $400,000 project should delight the resort's fans as it eliminated eight miles of frequently muddy and narrow roadway. A new snowcat and packer have been purchased for hill grooming.

Improvements in the main lodge have also been made this summer and the rental shop equipment has been expanded.

Discover the difference a new high-performance JDX with slide-rails can make!

JDX Snowmobiles have a new slide-rail suspension and track you won't find on any other make. During acceleration, weight is transferred to the rear of the machine which causes lift on the skis. The result is less snow resistance and faster acceleration. The amount of ski lift can be adjusted to match snow conditions and driver weight. And the system has twin shock absorbers — not just one — to dampen the suspension and smooth out the ride. JDX machines feature an exclusive 3-piece track that has both steel grouser bars and rubber cloths to give excellent traction on ice, hard pack, or powder snow. Grouser bars are molded to the track, not riveted.

Pomerelle family project

ALBION — Pomerelle is making a new life for itself. Two eager new owners, W. A. (Woody) and Sandra J. (Sandy) Anderson, have left attractive positions at Park City, Utah, to refurbish and operate Pomerelle, some 12 miles from here.

The resort has been plagued with problems in the past few years including the unusual one of too much snow and last year's lift accident which injured several persons.

This is in the past, say the Andersons and they plan to make Pomerelle the leading winter fun spot of Magic Valley.

The double chair lift has undergone a complete overhaul program this summer. Woody and Sandy began only in September to undertake the task of making the area ready for the 1973-74 season which is one of the reasons it did not open for the usual Thanksgiving skiing but will be ready for a Dec. 1 opening.

"We intend to make our ski resort the safest and most enjoyable anywhere," says Woody, "and our efforts since we decided to make this our area last August have been moving in this direction."

All of the resort buildings have been repainted inside and out and the lift is now blue as the result of another painting project.

The area's major emphasis has been to renovate the double chair lift. Anderson said the best and most experienced lift men available were brought to the area for the job and everything has been overhauled from the shaft bore and bearings.

An anti-rollback brake has been installed to prevent the equipment from going into reverse and there are five separate braking systems on the equipment at this time.

All towers are now equipped with limit switches and cable catchers.

The work has been done by Claude F. Jones, Twin Falls, a veteran of 33 years in the ski industry; John Henlon, lift superintendent at Park City, and Noff Murdock, electrician, Park City.

Anderson said Park City has operated a similar lift since 1963 without difficulty.

The Andersons plan to run all services at the resort themselves including the ski school. Both are certified ski instructors and members of the Professional Ski Instructors of America. Woody leaves a position of vice president and general manager of the Park City resort to become an area operator.

The Pomerelle lodge features a cafeteria and dining room, a ski shop with G.M. and regular length rental skis, boots, poles for all sizes and ski accessories.

The Double-L bar, named for the two l's in "Pomerelle," will feature an antique ranch and farm atmosphere and there is a boot room of "sack lunch" room in the basement where football and other games will be available.

Anderson said the resort will have a daily ski report which will be updated continuously. It will be available by dialing 678-3000. The owners say they will make the report as honest as possible and will include any road condition warnings or wind problems.

Pomerelle will operate seven days a week from 9:30 a.m. to 4 p.m. with day-pass tickets $5.50 and there will be half-day rates and special low prices.

Season tickets are available at $100 with family rates at which other members purchase tickets at reduced rates down to $50 each for the fourth and all succeeding members.

Next year the owners hope to begin construction on another chair lift. Anderson said it will be a shorter lift to serve beginner runs in the resort and to make the gentle slopes more accessible for ski schools and other beginner and low intermediate skiers.

To Idaho from Utah

NEW OWNERS of Pomerelle Ski Area Sandy and Woody Anderson, are looking forward to their first winter as Idaho ski area operators.

Busing energy answer

Threats of gasoline rationing and a ban on Sunday driving have a lot of ski resort owners looking at their economic potential.

David Wheeler, manager of Soldier Mountain, said some of the improvements his resort plans for next year will hinge on the coming season and if gasoline rationing cuts into attendance and daily revenue some may have to be postponed.

All resort operators agree recreation may be the first industry to suffer from such a tightening up-on free travel.

Stan Detweiler, president of New Magic Mountain Inc., said if the pinch begins to develop with the 1973-74 ski season his resort will go to busing as much as possible and will provide more buses on weekends and buses on week days when skiers are now expected to provide their own transportation.

Woody Anderson, Pomerelle, said a wait and see situation exists and "if personal automobile travel is limited his resort will make an all-out effort for public transportation."

Less difficulty is expected at the big resorts where airline travel and public transportation provides for a large percentage of the guests.

Highway departments plowing roads must also have an adequate supply of gasoline to keep resorts open for public use and to reach snowmobile areas.

If the recreation gasoline cuts are made, some winter sports fans are asking, "What about the snowmobilers?"

While they use little gasoline, few could be justified as necessary travel and the owner must tow the machines by other means to the snowmobile area.

Ski club reunion set at SV

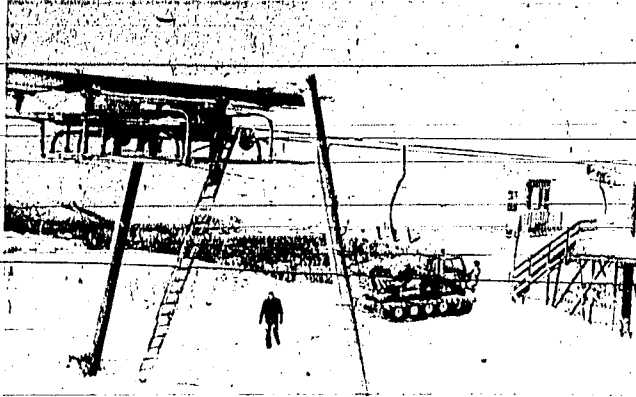

SUN VALLEY — There's going to be a reunion of the Sun Valley Ski Club Jan. 13 to 19.

The skiers who frequented the slopes of Sun Valley in the days of hickory skis, unpacked slopes and $3 lift tickets will hold their ninth annual ski club reunion. First such reunion was held in 1965 when Lowell Thomas was honorary chairman and the 1936 women's Olympic ski team members were honored guests.

This year delegates will be able to ski the new Elkhorn ski runs with apres ski fun in Elkhorn Village.

Lowell Thomas will again be honorary reunion chairman with Jane Harris reunion general chairman. For those members who may have "hung up their hickories" there will be plenty of other entertainment and reminiscing.

Sun Valley Ski Club, Box 314 Sun Valley 83351 can provide additional information.

Snowmobile areas open

SHOSHONE — Snowmobilers in the Gooding and Carey areas will find enlarged and/or improved facilities for parking this winter.

According to Terry Costello, recreation planner for the Shoshone district, Bureau of Land Management, two Special Land Use Permits (SLUPs) were issued last week for these areas.

Costello said that one SLUP was issued to the Northside Snow Riders of Gooding for the enlargement of parking facilities at the Johnson Hill snowmobile area. This area is located 16 miles north of Gooding adjacent to State Highway 46, near the Gooding-Camas County line.

The work has been completed, according to Costello, largely through the cooperative efforts of the snow riders and other local organizations.

The second SLUP was issued to Dwayne County for the construction of a parking area adjacent to the mouth of Road Canyon, three miles northeast of Carey.

This area, according to Costello, has been a favorite for Carey snowmobilers over the past several years and the lack of parking has created a safety hazard along the county road.

This work is scheduled to be completed through cooperative efforts of both the local Carey snowmobilers and the highway district.

Soldier awaiting new lift

FAIRFIELD — Big things are coming to Soldier Mountain, but a new double chair lift which has been purchased will go into service next year instead of this season.

David Wheeler, manager of the resort, said part of the lift is already in the parking lot, but the wheels of progress turn slowly on government land and an impact study, to justify the lift is still in Washington, D.C., being reviewed by U. S. Forest Service officials.

He said as soon as the snow melts in the spring, construction will begin. New brochures for the area show the 2,000-foot-long lift will run from near the top of the existing double chair to the top of Soldier Peak and will open up about four times the existing ski terrain.

It will delight some of the hot shots and experts, he said, because much of the new terrain is for advanced and high intermediate skiers.

Soldier Mountain which experienced a poor snow year last winter was able to open Nov. 30 for the 1973-74 season with about three feet of snow and is already off to a good start.

Plans also call for expanding the day lodge at the resort if the season is a good one and if rationing of gasoline does not hamper operations.

Wheeler said this year a new run to be known as Aspen has been cut to the right of Timber run. This opens some new expert and high intermediate skiing for Soldier fans and is nearly 100 per cent powder, Wheeler said.

A new ski patrol building was erected during the summer giving the Soldier Mountain Ski Patrol its own private facility and leaving the building it formerly shared with the ski shop for the ski rentals and sales expansion.

Headed by George Varin, the school will have about 35 instructors on a full or part time basis this year with Jim Varin, former ski school head, assisting. Instructor clinics have been held in preparation for the programs this year.

Soldier will again have a junior package program covering a six weeks period and beginning the first

Ski Patrolman at Soldier

Early opening

Saturday in January. Registration is being taken at ski shops throughout the Magic Valley, Wheeler said the G.L.M. method will again be taught in the Soldier school this year.

This year there will be a quick service line at the cafeteria for those wanting only coffee, soft drink or a sandwich. The regular hot food line will be separate.

Two old storage buildings near the base of the double chair were removed this year, Wheeler said, to make the area more attractive. New storage buildings are located south of the lift terminal.

Parking space has been enlarged to accommodate about 100 more vehicles, bringing total space to about 400 cars.

For the overnight guests, there is a new motel, the Motel 68 in Fairfield with two new cabins and several additional businesses including new bars. Wheeler said the road has been resurfaced with the old paving replaced and the gravel road now only two miles to the area. Next year this is scheduled for surfacing, he said.

There will be two helicopter ski days in March with skiers able to utilize a 0.5 mile run to the resort base.

Junior racing and some races for everyone are planned this year with dates to be announced.

This year the Soldier Mountain ski shop, in addition to 45 new pairs of G.L.M. skis, will have 10 pairs of touring skis and persons will be able to tour the Smoky and Soldier mountains from the top of the resort lift.

Lifts will operate Wednesday through Sunday with bus service as usual from Twin Falls, Filer, Jerome, Gooding, Wendell and Fairfield.

Lifts will run 9:30 a.m. to 4 p.m. and prices are up to $5.50 for day tickets with student and family rates. Season passes start at $77.25 per student and $82.50 for adults with family rates also available for season passes.

PLENTY OF SNOW gave Soldier Mountain an early opening date this year. Another double chair lift, similar to the one now in use is planned for installation early in the coming summer to open nearly four times the present ski terrain.

Winter touring opens Yellowstone

YELLOWSTONE NATIONAL PARK, Wyo. — Winter visits to Yellowstone are growing in popularity not only for the snowmobiler but for the ski touring fan and even the downhill skier.

Colorful brochures on "Snowtime in Yellowstone" for the 1973-74 season are now available at chambers of commerce and tourist information centers.

There is room for the casual weekend trip to the area by snowmobile or on cross country skis or a winter vacationer may participate in a package tour which includes transportation from the airport at Jackson, Wyo., snowcat travel through the park and overnight accommodations for individuals or groups and from one to eight days.

Those who have been to Yellowstone in the winter say it is not only an entirely different scene, but it is free of the crowds which flock to the park in summer months, making reservations difficult if not made well in advance.

Old Faithful lodge and cabins are open for winter use with prices as low as $18 per night for four persons in one room. A cabin room with private bath runs from $14 for one person to $20 for four.

For the person taking his own snowmobile to the park there are some 150 miles of groomed trails or roads. Gasoline and emergency repairs are available at Old Faithful Snow Lodge and snowmobilers may select their own overnight accommodations but are advised to plan their trips in advance to make certain they will be able to find accommodations at the end of the day.

Most Magic Valley visitors enter the park area through the West Gate at West Yellowstone, Mont., or the south gate via Teton village and Jackson, Wyo.

Snowcoach tours, via the big 12-passenger over-the-snow vehicles, leave West Yellowstone at 8 a.m. and 11 a.m. daily for the one-day or six hour tour. They return at 2:30 and 5:11 p.m.

Cross-country skiing catching on

SUN VALLEY — Cross country skiing and especially touring are enjoying a tremendous increase in popularity, according to Leif Odmark, director of the Sun Valley Nordic Ski School.

The key to the sport's popularity is contained in Odmark's statement, "If you can walk, you can cross country ski."

Odmark said last year the school experienced a 120 per cent increase in lessons, with at least a similar increase anticipated this year. To match the demand, Odmark said that 20 instructors will be available this year and said he expected to use all of them.

The school, in its third year of operation, is headquartered at the Nordic Ski Center-Hellport in the tennis court complex.

Offered daily will be half-day, full-day and several-day group and private lessons for beginners, intermediates, experts and racers. Group lessons will be one and one-half hours in length and will be offered from 10 to 11:30 a.m. and from 1 to 2:30 p.m.

In addition, alpine skiers who want to try cross country skiing will be able to trade one day of a week's lift ticket for nordic equipment rental for a day and a half-day of class instruction.

Odmark said a number of nordic tours are planned, including excursions to Prairie Creek Lake, Mijer Lake, Cherry Creek, Senate Creek and Senate Creek Ridge. The Clarendon Ski Tours will include time for swimming in the hot pools.

A helicopter trip to Devil's

Bedstead Guest Ranch can be arranged for lunch or an overnight trip can be arranged which includes lunch, dinner and breakfast.

Another popular tour that will be repeated this season is the tiki torch moonlight trip across the Sun Valley Golf Course to Trail Creek Cabin for dinner.

Going to sell something with a "classified ad" don't forget to put the price in the ad! 733-8931.

Touring set
ELKHORN — The Sun Valley Nordic program facilities have been expanded by about 100 per cent with the addition of a two and one-half kilometer and a five kilometer cross country course at Elkhorn.

According to Terry Cole, Elkhorn director of operations and recreation, the courses begin on the Elkhorn golf course fairway adjacent to the swimming pool complex and will enable Elkhorn to host national Nordic events.

Idaho in winter
 NEW BROCHURE on Idaho's winter resorts combines the state's famed potatoes and show for the theme. Ann Williams reads 1974 edition available from the Idaho Department of Commerce and Development Department.

Gem winter sport locations listed

TWIN FALLS — The 1973-74 edition of "Ski The Great Potato," the Department of Commerce and Development's story on Idaho ski resorts, is off the press and available at chambers of commerce and from the department.

A clever combination of promoting Idaho's ski country and world famed potatoes, the brochure contains information on 26 ski areas and resorts with mail and telephone contact information on each.

Areas of Magic Valley included are Sun Valley, Soldier Mountain, Magic Mountain, Rotarun and Pomperelle, with a large full page photograph of Magic Mountain's double chair lift at the back of the brochure.

The brochures, prepared under contract to Belcher-Bagley and Wehren Advertising, Boise, feature screened aerial photographs of the various ski mountains of the state with lift facilities marked in red.

They also tell nearest overnight accommodations and transportation facilities, days of operation and approximate length of seasons. Bruce Belcher visited areas in Magic Valley early last spring.

Radio stations providing ski reports are also listed for each area of the state.

Another publication, known as "Idaho Snow Country" is available from the Commerce and Development Department. This also includes a list of snowmobile areas including those on U. S. Forest Service land or those developed by private clubs or individuals.

Copies of both are available from most chambers of commerce or Department of Commerce and Development, Room 108 State Capitol, Boise 83720.

Sawtooth club's schedule listed

HAILEY — The Sawtooth Snowmobile Club will sponsor a jam-packed racing schedule this winter, offering competition to all snowmobilers at all levels of racing.

The schedule will lead off with the club's most successful and spontaneous "Fun Day Races" on Jan. 6. The event will feature adult broom ball, relay, man and wife and other races; children's speed oval races, and "jack-pot" races.

Racing secretary Joy Wheeler said about 800 persons attended the last club fun days event, conducted last April, and all participated in at least one race.

She said the event "is an ideal opportunity for everybody who owns a snow machine to test it against others in a relaxed atmosphere and for young teenagers to try out racing without the pressure of having to win."

Speed oval races will be held Jan. 20.

The rugged, fourth annual "Bellevue B" is scheduled for Feb. 17. The 100-mile cross country race will feature four-man teams competing in three classes, 1,250, 1,500 and 1,950 cc. In addition this year, individuals may compete in 340, 440 cc and open classes.

A "Snow Fun Weekend" will be conducted March 16 and 17, with the first day to feature a 70 miles individual cross country race for four classes, 300, 340, 440 cc and open. A special race for snowmobilers under 15 years age has also been added this year.

Another "Fun Days" event is scheduled for March 17.

All races, except the "Bellevue B," will be conducted at the Wood River Recreation Area four miles west of Hailey. All competing machines must be state registered and have mud flaps. "Snuffer's" are required for the cross country events.

Mrs. Wheeler said club members have widened and leveled the recreation area's speed oval track this year with the aid of Sun Valley Fed-Mix. A concession stand will also be available during the races.
