Suit asks Bork ouster

WASHINGTON (UPI) — Sen. William Proxmire, D-Wis., filed suit in federal court today to remove Robert H. Bork as acting attorney general.
The suit is based on a law limiting to 30 days the term of any person who fills a vacancy in the top office of any executive department.
The 30-day period for Bork, named acting attorney general after the resignation of Elliott L. Richardson, expired Nov. 18.

Arab sees Mideast hope

WASHINGTON (N. Y. Times) — Sheik Ahmed Zaki Al-Yamani, the Saudi Arabian petroleum minister, said Wednesday peace in the Middle East is "now more feasible than at any time in the past."
Al-Yamani made the comment after meeting for 90 minutes with U. S. Secretary of State Henry Kissinger. He held out little hope for immediate easing of the Arab oil embargo against the United States and other nations.

Golda wins party mandate

TEL AVIV (Chicago Daily News) — Premier Golda Meir won a new mandate today to lead her powerful Labor Party in this month's general election and serve another term as Israel's prime minister.
The endorsement was given in a secret ballot in which 291 members of Labor's central committee voted for Mrs. Meir and 33 against.

Sisco takes college post

WASHINGTON (UPI) — Joseph Sisco, U. S. assistant secretary of state, has resigned that post to become a college president.

Ireland future meet topic

LONDON (Chicago Daily News) — Britain, the Irish Republic and Northern Ireland opened a historic meeting on the future of all-Ireland today under a heavy blanket of security provided by helicopters, guard dogs and hundreds of police.
Prime Ministers Edward Heath of Britain and Liam Cosgrave of the Irish Republic topped the list of 24 officials gathered in the Berkshire countryside west of London.

Hot air decision slated

SANTA FE, N. M. (UPI) — Is there more hot air in New Mexico or in Arizona?
That question will be settled by an inter-state "hot air balloon championship" between Gov. Jack Williams of Arizona and Gov. Bruce King of New Mexico, after the former issued the challenge.
No date was announced for the event.

Mexico City slide kills 10

MEXICO CITY (UPI) — A landslide from a hill on the outskirts of the city killed at least 10 persons — most of them children — and left another 19 injured early today, police said.
The sudden collapse of a huge chunk of terrain hit low-class homes in a working district known as Las Butacas, named after a hill of the same name.

Danes seek confidence vote

COPENHAGEN (UPI) — The leaders of Denmark's 10 political parties decided today to convene parliament next week for a vote of confidence in the caretaker government of Anker Joergensen, who resigned as prime minister in a voter revolt against high taxes and inflation.
Among the party leaders at today's session in Christiansburg, Castle was millionaire lawyer Mogens Glistrup, who led his anti-tax party to second place in Tuesday's national elections on a platform of abolishing income taxes and replacing the armistice with a recorded telephone message telling callers in Russian "We surrender."
Joergensen resigned Wednesday but agreed to head a caretaker government until a new ruling coalition is formed. The 10 party leaders agreed today to convene Parliament Tuesday for the confidence vote on his interim government.

WASHINGTON (UPI) — Sparked in large part by a record jump of nearly 35 per cent in the cost of gasoline and other petroleum products, wholesale prices turned upward last month, despite a third consecutive monthly decline in wholesale food prices, the government said today.
The price index for fuels and power — reflecting the energy shortage — went up 19.1 per cent last month, almost four times the previous high rate for a single month. The previous peak increase in fuel prices was 5.4 per cent last June. The 34.7 increase in the index for gasoline and petroleum products compared with a previous monthly high of 0.5 per cent in June.

Overall, wholesale prices went up last month 1.6 per cent following declines in three of the previous four months.
The wholesale price index for consumer finished goods other than food went up 6.4 per cent in November, an all time high.

But wholesale prices for farm products and processed foods and feeds dropped 1.4 per cent in November, following declines of 6 per cent in September and 3.9 per cent in October.
Wholesale prices for consumer finished foods edged up 0.1 per cent before seasonal adjustment following two months of decline, but after adjustment the prices for consumer foods went down 0.6 per cent.

The Bureau of Labor Statistics at the Labor Department said the index of overall commodity industries went up 3 per cent last month before adjustment for seasonal factors, the biggest jump since December, 1946.
After seasonal adjustment, the increase was 3.2 per cent, highest since adjusted records were started in 1947.

Ford nomination wins House nod

WASHINGTON (UPI) — Playing a role in selection of a vice president for the first time in history, the House cast an overwhelming test vote today in favor of Gerald R. Ford's nomination to the nation's No. 2 post.
Before voting directly on Ford, the House voted 389 to 15 in favor of a rule permitting the nomination resolution to be considered. The final confirmation vote was set for late afternoon, with swearing in of Ford as 40th vice president coming soon afterward.
The 60-year-old House Republican leader was nominated Oct. 12 by President Nixon, two days after Spiro T. Agnew resigned as vice president and pleaded no contest to a tax evasion charge.
Ford was selected under the 25th Amendment to the Constitution, which permits the President to fill a vice presidential vacancy with the approval of both houses of Congress. It was the 17th time that a vacancy in the vice presidency had to be filled, but the first time that Congress has played a direct, constitutional role in the selection.

Rep. Peter W. Rodino, D-N.J., surprised colleagues by announcing during morning debate that he would vote against Ford. As chairman of the House Judiciary Committee, Rodino voted to send the nomination to the House floor.
The vote was not against Ford as a man, Rodino said, but because of "the President's indifference to the plight of so many Americans."

Revised PUD measure set

TWIN FALLS — Twin Falls Zoning Administrator Ed Woods presented a revised draft of a planned unit development ordinance to county commissioners Wednesday for approval.
The commissioners said today they would delay final action on the ordinance until after consulting their zoning attorney.
Details of the revised ordinance were kept secret by the commissioners until after meeting with their attorney.
According to Woods, the revised ordinance would make only minor changes from earlier drafts.
A "planned unit development (PUD)" can be set in any zoning category. Usually a PUD is a large development which in effect creates its own neighborhood.
PUD plans must be submitted in advance to zoners. Major variations in those plans must also be approved.
Woods said environmentalists who had argued that the PUD ordinance had been too broad probably would not be any happier with the revised ordinance. He said developers who felt the ordinance was too restrictive likewise would not be pleased.

Trout farm pollution charge hit

By BILL LAZARUS
Times-News writer
BUHL — Hagerman Valley trout farmers defended their industry Wednesday, saying it was not a major source of water pollution.
The Idaho Trout Resource Committee said trout farmers "are not polluters in the usual sense of the word pollution."
The committee said in a news release the fish wastes actually beneficially "enrich" the Snake River waters.
At the same time a University of Idaho professor said his earlier estimates of the Idaho fish population may have been inaccurate. He agreed he could have "counted" nearly twice as many fish as exist.
The trout industry spokesmen said a reduced fish count would mean a reduced pollution load going into the Snake River.
Using the earlier fish count figures, the Times-News had estimated the waste-load from trout hatcheries in Magic Valley was more than half Magic Valley's total.
But using the revised estimates of trout population, the trout industry's percentage of the total Magic Valley water pollution load would be reduced to about one third of the total.
On Dec. 11 trout farmers will meet with the EPA in Portland, Ore., "to work out guidelines to control the quality of discharge waters from trout farms," the release states.
By law, the EPA must have preliminary pollution guidelines established for the trout industry by Jan. 1.
"In an effort to determine if the industry is a detrimental polluter, and if so, to what extent they pollute, the industry, in cooperation with the University of Idaho College of Forestry, Wildlife and Range Science, is instituting a study to obtain facts," the committee said.

Jets tangle in suex skies

By United Press International
Israeli and Egyptian warplanes battled over the Gulf of Suez today in the first such incident since the Middle East cease-fire took effect on Oct. 24, and Israeli troops went on a war footing comparable to that which preceded the 1967 Six Day War.
Israel said it shot down one Egyptian MIG21 in the aerial duel near Suez City and that all of its planes returned safely. An Egyptian military spokesman said the MIGs shot down one Israeli plane, that the others fled eastward and that all Egyptian planes returned safely to base.

Suspect held

BURLEY — A Burley man was arrested late Wednesday in connection with a $7,000 burglary of Hinz Jewelry last Friday night.
Emilio Ramos, about 29, was arrested by Burley officers about midnight after police recovered a portion of the stolen goods at a residence at 600 Conant Ave.
The search warrant was issued late Wednesday on the strength of information from a confidential source, Police Chief Ken Barry said. Barry said the department has another suspect under investigation and expects to make another arrest in the near future.
Ramos is being held in the Burley city jail on a charge of first degree burglary. He is expected to be arraigned today. The burglary netted about $7,000 worth of jewelry and stereo equipment.

TF grocery stores cut hours; others hold line

TWIN FALLS — Some all-night grocery shopping in Twin Falls has fallen victim to the energy crisis, but downtown stores will maintain Sunday and night hours at least through the Christmas season.
Robert Gordon, president of the Twin Falls Downtowners Association, said the energy crisis and possibilities of shorter hours have been discussed but no action taken. He said after Christmas, store owners may want to consider the matter again.
Presently, major department stores are open Sunday from 7 to 5 p.m. and several nights per week.
John Massey, Downtowner member, said letters have been circulated to members with the suggestion they write their congressional delegates, the President and governor, expressing willingness to cooperate in shortening hours.

Idaho Power Co. officials met with the merchants, he said, and expressed confidence they will be able to handle all normal demands for electricity if hours continue as they are now.
Buttery's supermarket in Twin Falls will shorten hours the day after Christmas. At that time the store will remain open from 8 a.m. to 11 p.m. weekdays, and 10 a.m. to 7 p.m. on Sundays. The store is currently open until midnight weekdays.
Albertson's in Twin Falls is already operating on a shorter schedule. All-night service was discontinued last week with hours 7 a.m. to 11 p.m. until further notice.

Hunt mishap claims woman

KIMBERLY — A 33-year-old Kimberly woman was killed in a pheasant hunting accident Wednesday afternoon when she crawled through a fence with a shotgun in her hand.
Sheriff Paul Corder said Jeanne Wooten had gone hunting west of her home northeast of Kimberly. She was hunting on the family property and had apparently attempted to climb through the fence without putting the gun down.
It caught on a wire and discharged, shooting her in the head, Corder said it appeared she died instantly. She was the wife of Larry Wooten and the mother of two young children.
Her husband and a friend found her about an hour after she was shot, the sheriff said.
Corder said the accident occurred about 2 p.m. The gun was a 410 gauge bolt action, shotgun, the sheriff said.
Mrs. Wooten was active in community affairs in Kimberly and was a Cub Scout den mother and Parent-Teacher Association member.
County Coroner Clough Edwards pronounced the woman dead at the scene.

Andrus scores federal energy guidance lack

By DAVID ESPO
Times-News Capitol Bureau
BOISE — Gov. Cecil D. Andrus, back in his office Wednesday after a brief trip to Washington, D. C., said the federal government wasn't providing any leadership in meeting the nation's energy problems.
The governor told a news conference the nation's capital was a "very sterile area," and that "no one has a plan for the future as to what they're going to do."
Speaking about the problems the energy crisis has caused, Andrus said, "I've never seen a matter as important as this getting as little serious consideration." The governor flew to Washington Monday on a personal business trip, but he said he also tried to get some answers to the problems Idaho faces this winter.
He said he arrived to find the new federal energy agency didn't have an office assembled and hadn't had telephones installed yet.

The governor also announced one additional step taken in Idaho earlier in the day to try to ease the problems transportation industries are facing. He said permits would be available at the Department of Highways that would permit truckers to increase their hauling capacity on the interstate highways. The special permits would bring the interstate limit up to meet the limit on state primary roads, Andrus said.
But in other areas, the governor said, the federal government was usurping the state's decisions and said in some areas, that practice could lead to disastrous results.
He said federal guidelines that gas stations remain closed for part of the weekend could mean "sheer disaster" for the recreational areas of Hailey-Ketchum and other parts of the state. He suggested permitting the state to decide when the gas stations should be closed, while making sure they didn't sell more gasoline as a result.

Astronaut ponders over life
HOUSTON (UPI) — Gazing at billions of stars from his safe and cozy home in space, Skylab 3 astronaut Edward G. Gibson says he wonders sometimes if there is intelligent life beyond our solar system.

"You know, being up here and being able to look out, both down at the earth and out at the sun, you realize just how dependent we really are and have been," the mission scientist said Wednesday during a televised tour Tuesday of Skylab's solar observatory.

Gibson and fellow crewmen Gerald P. Carr and William R. Pogue reported by their doctors in excellent physical and mental health, can only devote a fraction of their time to such speculation, however.

UN postpones Cambodian issue

UNITED NATIONS (UPI) — The U.N. General Assembly has shelved a Chinese move to unseat the U.S.-backed Cambodian government, approving an American-supported resolution to postpone the issue for a year.

In a close vote of 53-50 with 21 abstentions, the assembly agreed Wednesday night to delay a vote on installing exiled Prince Norodom Sihanouk to take over the Cambodian seat held by the government of Prastiant Lon Nol.

Liberia introduced the surprise motion, backed by the United States, to wind up debate on the Cambodian dispute and postpone the issue until next year. The decision left the Lon Nol government as Cambodia's U.N. representative.

Delegates supporting the American position said they hoped by next year the two rival sides in Cambodia will have begun peace talks, making U.N. action unnecessary.

China and 32 non-aligned nations had urged the United Nations to recognize the exiled Sihanouk regime as the only legal government of Cambodia and expel representatives of Lon Nol.

The Soviet Union and other Warsaw Pact countries, although most still recognize the Lon Nol government, voted with China against cutting off debate.

The United States appealed to the General Assembly not to make a one-sided decision by recognizing the Sihanouk group.

"The Cambodian people have not, so far as I know, granted Prince Norodom Sihanouk any irrevocable right to rule over them," U.S. delegate W. Tapley Bennett Jr. told the assembly. "Neither, I submit, should we."

Bennett said the United States had pulled out of Cambodia while Sihanouk's Communist-led Khmer Rouge forces still received strong North Vietnamese and Viet Cong support.

He said the Chinese resolution was "particularly notable both for its one-sidedness and for its failure to take account of the real situation as it presently exists in Cambodia."

CHRISTMAS CAME early to Harbor House this year. Members of the Twentieth Century Club, Mrs. J. T. Anderson, center, and Mrs. E. E. Jellison, at right, present a $55 check to house parent, Mrs. Bob Stone. Canned food gifts were also given by the club.

20th Century club gives food for Harbor House

TWIN FALLS — Some College of Southern Idaho drama students presented scenes from "Christmas Collage," a new story about the Old West, at a meeting of the Twentieth Century Club Tuesday.

Mrs. Lavern Strong, program chairman, introduced Fran Tanner, CSI drama instructor and director of the play.

New club members introduced at the meeting include Mrs. Mae Chatterton, Mrs. Esther Blei, Mrs. Ina Schreiber, Mrs. Dick Kirklund, Mrs. James Miller, Mrs. William Moran, and Mrs. Dorothy Hickey.

Christmas donations of food and money for Harbor House were collected. Mrs. John Hayes announced that Dec. 10 is Human Rights Day.

The club, under the direction of Mrs. J. T. Anderson, chairman, and Mrs. E. E. Jellison, member of the welfare committee, presented canned food and a check for $55 to Mrs. Bob Stone, Harbor House mother.

The donation is an annual project of Twentieth Century which is given to some worthy recipient each year.

The invocation was given by Mrs. Mary Helen Perry and Mrs. Beulah Way led the pledge of allegiance. Mrs. Francis Ryder played background organ music.

It was announced that the January meeting will be the first Monday, Jan. 7, instead of the first Tuesday.

Complex planned for BLM

SHOSHONE — Shoshone will retain an engineering firm to assist with the contract and other necessary preparations for the Bureau of Land Management complex to be built.

Approval for this action was given at the City Council meeting Tuesday night. The cost, which is involved in the publishing and contract preparation and other related items, will be charged to the BLM, but the city will act in this administrative capacity to assist with the initial launching of the project.

Roy Hayes, BLM engineer, met with the city Tuesday night and presented specifications and drawings prepared by the BLM for the additional utility services needed for the complex.

They were approved by the city as presented.

In other business, the city agreed to pay some of the transportation cost for the high school ski club for the balance of the year.

Allowed placing of barricades to slow traffic around the grade school, as a safety measure to protect children.

An agreement was signed with the city, highway department and UP Railroad to allow the city and highway continued use of a right-of-way to May 7, 1978. Specifically, this was an extension rider on a lease between the city, highway and railroad.

There was some discussion on ways to conserve on use of fuel in city-owned vehicles. No definite decisions were reached.

Otis Jennings was hired as sanitation employee, replacing David Ritter.

The 1974 liquor and beer licenses were approved as presented in application form, and magistrate court reported $123.30 in fines and fees as the city's share of collections in November.

FS pushes cooperation of skiers, snowmobilers

KETCHUM — Potential conflicts between cross-country skiers and snowmobilers in the upper Wood River Valley may be avoided through a co-operative program organized by Sawtooth National Forest officials.

According to the forest service, a series of meetings have been conducted in the Ketchum Ranger Station between Sawtooth Snowmobile Club representatives and members of local nordic ski program towards a program of mutual respect and understanding for each other's needs.

Because each group requires particular types of terrain and snow conditions to have a good outing, the USFS said, attempts are being made to work together to honor each other's needs. Ken Van Leuven, president of the snowmobile club, voiced his group's desire that the two groups work problems out among themselves rather than force the forest service into creating closures to separate the two uses.

The snowmobilers state that they use the areas between Prairie Creek and Galena Summit generally only during very-early winter before other areas become usable.

Dale Gelsky, manager of Galena Lodge, and Leif Odmark, director of the Sun Valley Nordic Ski Program, state that the areas north of Prairie Creek offer some of the best cross-country skiing in the Wood River Valley.

Based on this division of the two winter uses by terrain and snow conditions, the Sawtooth Snowmobile Club has promised to help divert snowmobile use into areas such as Baker Creek, Easley and Boulder Flats.

When snow depths are adequate in these areas, signs will be posted advising that the area behind the sign is not recommended for snowmobile use. The sign will also serve as a reminder that a variety of winter uses are occurring and that all persons should respect the desires of others.

Frank Rowland, Wood River zone assistant for the Sawtooth National Recreation Area (SNRA), voiced the hope that people from other areas who use the Wood River Valley for winter recreation will seek out the recommended use areas and honor what promises to be a good system.

Information on the system is available at the SNRA headquarters south of Ketchum; the Ketchum Ranger Station on Sun Valley Road, and the Stanley Ranger Station.

Leadership lack hit by Andrus

He said he had ordered the highway department to stop printing speed limit signs for the state's roads, and added that motorists would be stopped by law enforcement officers only if they exceeded posted limits.

Several days ago the highway board of directors directed a reduction to 60 miles an hour on the interstate and 50 on the state primary roads. President Nixon since called for 50 miles per hour limits for automobiles and 55 for trucks. But the House of Representatives has passed legislation setting a uniform maximum of 55 miles per hour limit.

The governor said he wasn't going to have any more money spent having new signs painted for the roads. But he appealed to the motorists of the state to reduce their driving speed to conserve fuel.

The governor said he thought gas rationing was only a matter of time, noting that some recent federal guidelines issued appeared to be a "forerunner" leading in that direction.

Airline sale pressure cited

WASHINGTON (UPI) — Two former associates of billionaire Howard Hughes have told Senate Watergate committee investigators that P. Donald Nixon, the President's brother, interceded with the President to help get approval of the sale of an airline to Hughes in 1969.

Two committee sources said that Robert Maheu, former head of Hughes' Nevada empire, and his associate, John Meler, both told investigators that Donald Nixon had gone to the President to urge approval of the sale of Air West to Hughes.

The sources said that Donald Nixon, in a staff interview with the committee, denied he had taken such action.

"We only consider the claims of Maheu and Meler to be allegations at this point," one committee source said. "That's why we've been so hot on getting everyone in the Hughes organization who knows anything down here to testify."

The White House had no immediate comment. Sixteen present Hughes associates, in addition to Maheu and Meler, have been subpoenaed by the committee.

The committee sources said it was likely that Donald Nixon, along with all the Hughes group, will be called to testify when the committee resumes public testimony next month.

The Donald Nixon investigation is tied to a $100,000 contribution Hughes associates gave to the President's close personal friend, Charles G. Bohner, Rebozo, in late 1968 and early 1970.

The first half of that money was given to Rebozo shortly after the President approved the sale of Air West to Hughes. The second delivery was made shortly before the Justice Department dropped an antitrust suit that had blocked expansion of Hughes' Nevada hotel and gambling holdings.

Maheu and Meler contend the funds were for use in Nixon's 1972 campaign. But the current Hughes associates, including Richard G. Danner who gave Rebozo the money, contend the first half was for the President's 1968 campaign and the second, for 1970 congressional races.

Maheu is currently suing Hughes for $50 million, claiming he was fired after being assured he had an oral life-time contract with the reclusive billionaire. Maheu has also instituted a multimillion-dollar slander suit against Hughes who called Maheu a "thieving son of a bitch" in a telephonic news conference several years ago.

Nixon diary becomes tape hearing exhibit

WASHINGTON (UPI) — President Nixon's diary shows that he spent one hour and 22 minutes with his personal secretary, Rose Mary Woods, on Sept. 29, the day she began working on his Watergate tape recordings—far more than she has testified about.

The diary was presented as Exhibit No. 115 at Chief U.S. District Court Judge John J. Sirica's hearings on gaps in the subpoenaed tapes. White House Chief of Staff Gen. Alexander M. Haig was to return today for a second day of testimony. During the court hearing Wednesday:

—Assistant Special Prosecutor Richard Benveniste indicated that the White House sought to resolve the tapes controversy by proposing that Sen. John C. Stennis, D-Miss., "authenticate" a White House summary of the tapes, even though it already knew two tapes did not exist and that there were gaps in others.

—Haig testified that Nixon was "very, very disturbed ... almost incredulous" when Haig informed him Nov. 15 that 18 1/2 minutes apparently had been erased from the June 20, 1972, tape.

The diary showed that at Camp David, Md., on the afternoon of Sept. 29, Nixon and Miss Woods met four times. They met for 31 minutes between 6:19 and 8:50, and had dinner with Mrs. Nixon and Julie Eisenhower between 8:50 and 7:30.

The diary reveals that Nixon met with Miss Woods and Special Assistant Steve Bull for seven minutes as soon as he arrived at Camp David, and again between 7:30 and 7:35. The same afternoon and evening, Nixon spoke twice by telephone with Haig for a total of 33 minutes, and once with his Watergate lawyer, J. Fred Buzhardt for eight minutes.

Miss Woods testified Nov. 8 that she and Bull went to Camp David Saturday Sept. 29 and worked all that day until Sunday at 3 a.m. After three hours of sleep, she said, she worked all day Sunday and the Nixons "were kind enough" to invite her to dinner that night. She did not testify about eating with the Nixons Saturday night.

Former SBA aide held dual posts

WASHINGTON (UPI) — A former official of the Small Business Administration served as director of a foreign bank controlled by fugitive financier Robert Vesco while holding his government job, sources at the Securities and Exchange Commission have confirmed.

They told UPI Wednesday that Arthur McZier, who resigned as SBA associate administrator for minority enterprise Dec. 1, is identified in court documents in New York as a director of the Bahamas Commonwealth Bank.

SEC briefs filed in a New York federal court allege that the bank was used by Vesco and his associates to siphon off money from mutual funds managed by Investors Overseas Services Ltd. (IOS), a Geneva-based financial operation.

The SEC has alleged that Vesco, 37, and his associates caused the IOS mutual funds to sell blue chip U.S. securities and to invest the proceeds for their own benefit in foreign concerns of dubious value.

The United States is trying to extradite Vesco from the Bahamas to face trial in a securities fraud case in New York.

The charge of apparent conflict of interest was raised during hearings of the House Small Business Subcommittee last week. Former SBA Philadelphia regional director Russell Hamilton said McZier resigned his government job after agency administrator Thomas Kleppe was told about it.

Kleppe said McZier actually "told us about his desire to leave last July."

Financial data sought

(c) Washington Star-News

WASHINGTON — Republican Congressional leaders have told White House aides neither Congress nor the press will be satisfied that President Nixon's personal finances have been handled legally unless income-tax returns are released publicly.

Rep. John Tower, R-Tex., a member of the Senate Policy Committee, said this view was presented at a White House meeting Monday night where Congressional leaders were allowed to study a kit of materials summarizing presidential finances.

Asked for suggestions, Tower said both he and Rep. John Anderson of Illinois, chairman of the House Republican Conference Committee, recommended that income-tax returns and deeds on land transfers should be added to the kit whenever it was made public.

In addition, Tower said, there was "a bit of a fuzzy area" over the President's tax credit for giving his vice presidential papers to the National Archives. Tower said the public documents should contain some "validation" of that gift.

Tower said that the congressmen generally left the White House satisfied that the papers showed nothing "illegal, irregular or unethical" in Nixon's finances.

Tower said the congressmen were not allowed to take the informational kits, and he could recall few specific figures. But he noted that the President had purchased $300,000 in certificates of deposit during his tenure.

Oil price suit mullied

BOSTON (UPI) — The Massachusetts consumer protection division said Wednesday it is considering suing the U.S. Cost of Living Council for failing to regulate oil prices adequately.

Herbert Goodwin, chief of the division, said he has hired a special attorney general to study the possibility of a law suit against the council.

Goodwin met Wednesday with assistant attorneys general from eight states to discuss cooperative actions states might take against major oil companies. He said the meeting produced diverging opinions on possible antitrust suits, but set up a useful network through which states can share data on oil companies.

Ohio cops arrest 6 drivers

By United Press International
State police today arrested eight drivers who had been blocking highways in Ohio all night and National Guard troops towed away their tractor-trailer trucks.

More than 1,000 other truckers protesting rising diesel prices and reduced speed limits remained parked on the Ohio Turnpike and two other major roads, closing them to traffic. The prodded tow-aways and arrests occurred on secondary roads. Police said the action was taken for safety reasons.

Independent truckers in several other states have joined the protest and closed major highways the past three days, but Wednesday a number of state governments, including

Ohio, warned the demonstrators they would be arrested and their trucks would be towed away.

Despite the warning, the Ohio protestors spent the night in their parked trucks, vowing not to move until fuel prices come down and speed limits go up. Gov. John J. Gilligan said he would take court action today to clear the roads. In New Jersey, Gov. William T. Cahill put the National Guard on alert and told truck drivers their vehicles would be towed away if they blocked traffic.

In Washington, Secretary of Transportation Claude S. Brinegar urged truckers to stop the protest roadblocks and ordered an immediate investigation of possible "price gouging on truck fuel sales."

Truckers in Pennsylvania said the protest had been successful and would not be continued today.

Other states hit by blockades Wednesday included Indiana, Delaware, Michigan and Arkansas. States hit by protesting truckers Monday and Tuesday included New York, Connecticut, and Pennsylvania.

The truck drivers organized the blockades using citizen band radios and by meeting at truck stops. They say the lower speed limit being enforced as a fuel-conserving measure prevents them from getting maximum mileage, since at the lower speeds they never shift into the highest gear, and that diesel fuel prices have gone to as much as 80 cents a gallon in many areas. It takes about 240 gallons of fuel to fill the tank of a tractor-trailer truck, and the independent drivers pay for their own fuel.

Senate Republican leader Hugh Scott called the blockades an "ugly mess" and urged the Nixon administration to press for talks between the Teamsters Union and independent truckers.

Teamsters President Frank E. Fitzsimmons asked President Nixon to meet with him to discuss the plight of the truck driver.

Four leaders of the truckers' blockade in Pennsylvania met with Gov. Milton J. Shapp and announced afterward the protest was already a "major victory" and would therefore not be continued.

Interstate 80, which straddles the state, was the site of blockades by truckers Monday and Tuesday night.

"They have agreed as leaders, to tell other truck drivers to start moving their rigs," Shapp said after the meeting. "They have indicated there will be no more incidents of this sort in Pennsylvania."

Recruits exceed US quota

WASHINGTON (UPI) — For the first time in 10 months the Army has met and surpassed its monthly recruiting goals, lifting Pentagon hopes that its all-volunteer experiment would work.

Army Secretary Howard H. Callaway said said Army recruiters signed up 102 per cent of the 12,900 November goal.

In every other month since the end of the draft was announced Jan. 27, the Army has failed to reach its enlistment target.

Callaway said, "There are a lot of people who don't think we'll succeed. But we are, and we're going to man the all-volunteer force with fine men and women."

In November, 0 per cent of the Army's new enlistees were women. During the 1950s and 1960s women made up only 1.5 to 2 per cent of the Army.

At the officer level, the influx of women was even more impressive. Twenty per cent of the college freshman volunteering for the Reserve Officer Training Corps (ROTC) this fall were women. It was the first year the Army program has gone coed nationwide.

Overseas respect for $ increasing

(c) N. Y. Times Service
WASHINGTON — "The dollar is today a respected currency in financial circles both here and abroad," Dr. Arthur F. Burns told Congress Wednesday.

Burns, chairman of the Federal Reserve Board, said the renewed strength of the dollar in the world's foreign exchange markets has "served to bolster confidence in our nation's future at a time when we have been besieged with all sorts of unhappy economic and political news."

In testimony before a subcommittee of the House Banking Committee, Burns did not try to paint a picture of general optimism about the economy. He called the problem created by the energy shortage "very difficult," for example.

But he stressed the "extraordinary" growth of about 47 per cent in United States exports this year and the "decisive turnaround" in the over-all U. S. balance of payments, concluding that "the dollar is again a strong currency" in the international sense.

Burns clarified somewhat an immediate issue in international monetary matters — the question of whether foreign central banks should and will intervene in daily trading in foreign exchange markets in order to halt the recent rise of the dollar by selling dollars that they hold.

He said a "substantial reduction" of foreign-held dollars, to be achieved by such intervention, "is clearly desirable as a long-run objective." He added that he would "anticipate sales of dollars on an increased scale."

But he said he sensed a "general willingness, particularly now in light of the energy shortage, to test markets rather than to characterize this or that situation as an equilibrium exchange rate and try to peg it there." This implied that rates would not be fixed at the levels established last February at the time of the last formal devaluation of the dollar, or at any other specific level.

MOUNTAIN VIEW, Calif. (UPI) — The radioisotope Pioneer 10 sped two million miles away from Jupiter today in a triumphant exit from its encounter with the planet's radiation.

The U.S. Space Agency disclosed that the spacecraft experienced troubles.

On the ground, 30 minutes of Pioneer's data was believed lost because a computer button in the mission control center was accidentally brushed during a visit of VIPs. Fortunately, the data had been recorded by a backup machine in Pioneer's fly-by, of Jupiter, three of its instruments went awry in the radiation belt which is one million times as strong as earth's.

Today NASA will fire Pioneer's thrusters in short bursts to precisely reposition the spacecraft's antennas at earth. Pioneer was moving 25,000 miles an hour relative to Jupiter and 59,000 m.p.h., relative to the sun on its way to the outer planets and escape from the solar system in 1987.

The space agency said glass in the craft's asteroid-meteorite detector was deeply darkened by radiation, reducing its sensitivity.

Close to Jupiter, the radiation created background levels, making the ultra-violet light measurements unusable.

Pioneer's picture-taking apparatus still was periodically responding to "false commands," apparently caused by some electrical fluke.

Nevertheless, the space agency said Pioneer's overall functioning was excellent. The radiation troubles were not unexpected and the spaceship escaped the "radiation by a hair's-breadth safety margin."

SANTA ROSA, Calif. (UPI) — A judge has ruled that a girl died because her heart was removed for transplant and not because of brain injuries suffered in a traffic accident.

Municipal Judge Frank Passalacqua cleared Jose Flores, 23, Santa Rosa, of manslaughter charges in the death of Colenda Ward, 12, injured Sept. 15 in a multiple car crash.

Dr. John Hanbery of the Stanford Medical Center said Colenda was the victim of "cerebral death" or "brain-death syndrome."

BOISE (UPI) — Richard Brown director of the state office of Energy told newsmen at the Idaho Press Club's headliner luncheon Wednesday that the Idaho office during its first month in operation was left to handle problems and answer questions that could have been taken care of by federal officials—but the Boise federal office did not open on schedule.

He said citizen involvement will be necessary to get the energy crisis under control.

He said action will have to be taken at the lowest levels in order to successfully deal with the crisis.

Miners threaten coal halt

PITTSBURGH (UPI) — United Mineworkers union leaders warned Wednesday that they are prepared to halt coal production for six months next year, despite an energy shortage, to win contract concessions from the coal industry.

UMI president Arnold Miller, entering his first negotiations with the coal industry, said at a news conference that even invocation of the Taft-Hartley Act could not force production should the coal operators fail to provide a satisfactory offer when the current contract expires next November.

"Did you ever hear of a miner working because a federal agency told him to," Miller said between sessions at the union's 46th constitutional convention. "There's talk of sending the Army in, but you know what the miners will say: 'Get the soldiers mine coal.'"

Miller's pledge was reminiscent of actions by former UMW president John L. Lewis, who defied military intervention in 1943 and sent the miners out four times that year after breaking a wartime no-strike pledge to win contract demands. The strikes proved successful.

However, the leadership must push through a strike fund amendment to the union's constitution to finance the strike, or face depletion of its regular treasury, which totals about $16 million.

International secretary-treasurer Harry Patrick pledged "every penny" of the union's treasury to keep miners from going hungry in the event of a strike. The UMW has been paying $10,000 weekly in benefits to maintain a key organizing strike by 180 miners at the Brookside mine in Harlan County, Ky., which began in July.

Miller said he hoped to present contract demands to the Bituminous Coal Operators Association by January 2, 1974 in order to put them "in a posture where they can't come back and say we haven't had time to consider this."

Office in Boise

SEATTLE (UPI) — An office for the U.S. Department of Labor's Occupational Safety and Health Administration has been established in Boise.

There has been only a field representative in the capital city. Officials said the change "will enable OSHA to provide closer, more complete service to employers and employees and more effective liaison service to the state, in the administration and enforcement of the occupational safety and health act of 1970."

Impeachment plans pushed

(c) Chicago Sun-Times
 WASHINGTON — Common Cause is threatening to initiate a nationwide citizens' pressure campaign unless the house judiciary committee moves ahead more rapidly with presidential impeachment proceedings.
 John W. Gardner, chairman of Common Cause, said chairman Peter Rodino (D-N.J.) was "sitting around ... waiting."
 He stressed that the nonpartisan nationwide citizens' lobby has not taken a position on whether President Nixon should be impeached.

But Gardner said the machinery should be permitted to operate so as to determine whether impeachment charges are justified.
 "Rodino's performance to date has been very disturbing," Gardner told reporters. "A staff counsel should have been appointed long ago."
 Gardner noted that "a curious alliance between the house Democratic leadership and the President" worked together to prevent a house veto on the campaign finance rider that was attached to the debt ceiling bill.

Soviets flying over W. Africa

(c) New York Times Service
 WASHINGTON — The Soviet Union has begun flying military reconnaissance missions from the West African nation of Guinea, apparently to monitor ship movements in the South Atlantic, Pentagon officials reported Wednesday.
 With the addition of a staging base on the west coast of Africa, military analysts say the Soviet Union is now able to cover almost the entire Atlantic ocean with reconnaissance flights.
 The eastern stretches of the North Atlantic, as far south as Gibraltar, are routinely covered by Soviet reconnaissance flights from the naval base at Murmansk in Northern Russia. Periodically, the Soviet Union has also conducted reconnaissance flights from Cuba covering the western part of the North Atlantic.

 In what some military officials regard as another extension of Soviet military power into the African continent, Tu-95's — long-range turboprop planes used for reconnaissance — have been observed flying out of the Conakry airport in Guinea in recent weeks.

Black market for fuel predicted

WASHINGTON (UPI) — Black markets and hijackings of petroleum supplies are almost certain elements of this winter's energy shortage, according to the Justice Department.
 The department's Law Enforcement Assistance Administration Wednesday announced a crash program to study potential energy-related crimes such as the black markets that sprang up during World War II gas rationing.

 "These might include violations of energy use and environmental protection agency restrictions, fraudulent diversion of allocated fuel, thefts of fuel, fraudulent sale of 'energy saving' devices, increases in commercial burglary and a shift in organized crime activity," an LEAS spokesman said.

Higher birth rate

CHICAGO (UPI) — Dr. Edwin Zolk, head of the DePaul University Psychology Department, says the fuel shortage could lead to increased alcoholism and rising birth-rates.
 "Those who find they can't travel and are restricted, you could expect an increase of their anxiety," Zolk said

Wednesday. "You could expect some of them will become depressed."

Disposable can ban suggested

WASHINGTON (UPI) — Two environmental groups said Wednesday that a nationwide ban on disposable bottles and cans containing soft drinks and beer would result in an energy savings equivalent to 131,000 barrels of oil daily.

According to a study released by the environmentalists, the savings would occur because the amount of energy which goes into making a returnable bottle would not have to be repeated over and over again as it is now with disposable bottles.

The study also said that recycling of cans and bottles is not a viable alternative. It said too much gasoline was wasted by people delivering their old cans and bottles to recycling centers, and by trucks which must carry the material sometimes hundreds of miles to factories.

The study was released by the Crusade for a Cleaner Environment, a nationwide organization, and by Sensible Citizens Against Throwaways (SCAT), a suburban Washington D.C. group which is pushing for a ban on disposable drink cans and bottles in Montgomery County, Md.

The organizations urged Congress to pass a bill introduced by Oregon's two senators, Republicans Mark Hatfield and Robert Packwood.

Their bill, similar to an Oregon law which has banned non-returnables in that state for more than a year, is scheduled for consideration by the Senate Commerce Committee early next year. John Breier, president of SCAT, said the Oregon experiment "has been a great success."

Really missed

SEATTLE, Wash. (UPI) — The following appeared in Tuesday's Seattle Post-Intelligencer classified advertisement section under personals:

"Sue, since you left me, my heart has felt a great loss. The house seems darker than ever before. No one to talk to at mealtimes. The warm glow that greeted me upon coming home is no longer there. Never had I realized how lonely life could be. Knowing how much this has hurt me, please stop my suffering and send the TV back. Rick."

Soviets want participation

LONDON (UPI) — The Soviet Union has renewed its demand that Russian troops must partake in the peace keeping force which is to guard the future Middle East peace, authoritative sources said today.

The United States earlier in the cease-fire talks rejected Moscow's proposal that both Russian and American troops play an active part in the projected international police force. Washington also rejected an ultimatum from Moscow last month that it may act unilaterally. If the United States refused to cooperate in this demand, it led to the controversial American troops alert.

Since then Russia has sent to the Arab side a number of so-called "observers" whose activities have remained obscure so far.

A total of 30 Soviet "advisers" was said to have been deployed somewhere along the Egyptian side of the Suez Canal and the Syrian-Israeli cease fire lines. Some reports claimed there were many more, in various guises, in addition to so-called Soviet "advisers" who have been active especially in Syria and who have either stayed behind "on active service" during the war or have returned after a short absence.

The United States has sent in the wake of latest clashes in the area 28 more "observers," said to be army, navy, airforce and marine officers, bringing to 30 the number of Americans involved in the truce observation operation. They have taken up positions on the Israeli side of the Suez Canal and the Syrian lines.

But the Communists have also sent 800 Poles to join the international police force. They were said to be highly trained paratroops.

The sources said Russia has let it be known that beyond this it wants Soviet troops to be deployed in the Middle East after a settlement.

Apparently Moscow feels that superpower presence will be necessary in the Middle East for some time to come.

Buhl accident nets damage suit

TWIN FALLS — A $50,000 damage suit has been filed in Fifth Judicial District Court here involving a traffic accident in the city of Buhl. Beale and Chance McKeel are plaintiffs in the suit against Nancy Jo and Naomi Baxter. On May 18 Chance McKeel, 6, was injured in a traffic accident on Poplar Street. The plaintiffs charge negligence on the part of Nancy Jo Baxter, driver of the vehicle owned by her mother, Naomi Baxter. The child, a pedestrian, was knocked down and suffered leg fractures and other severe injuries, the suit charges. In another complaint filed in district court here, Clifford P. and Lois H. Morgan and Robert and Janice Stone, former employees of the Idaho Youth Ranch, are seeking money allegedly owed them as back salaries.

The Morgans are seeking a total of $1,950 and the Stones, $1,650. The suit states the money was earned while the two couples were employed at the ranch and has not been paid.

The Idaho Department of Highways board has filed condemnation proceedings against Percy and Marguerite Montgomery, the Title and Trust Co. and First Federal Savings and Loan Assn.

Agency sees no need for recall

WASHINGTON (UPI) — The government said today an investigation showed no reason to recall 5.5 million Ford cars for a safety defect critics charged could cause the front wheel to fall off.

The National Highway Traffic Safety Administration checked more than 700 reports involving a control arm in the front wheels of 1965 through 1969 full-sized Ford and Mercury cars, 1967-69 Thunderbirds and 1969 Continental Mark III cars.

"Numerous alleged cases of serious injuries or deaths attributed to lower control arm failure in such vehicles were investigated, and, with one exception appear to be without substance," the safety agency said.

But it did warn owners to inspect the control arms "immediately" if the cars have been involved in accidents involving sharp impact to the front end.

The Center for Auto Safety and consumer advocate Ralph Nader have been urging action since 1970 when Ford recalled 85,000 police cars for control arm failures.

Ford claimed the failures were the result of severe impact to the control arms caused by such things as police cars jumping median strips at high speeds.

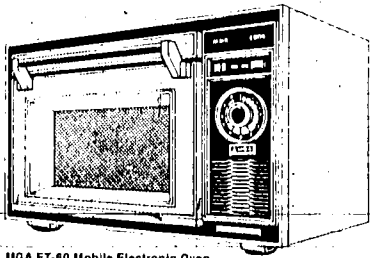

If Ford had been forced to recall the other 5.5 million cars, it was estimated replacement of the control arm would have cost the firm about $200 million.

In announcing its decision, the safety agency said it found no need for Ford to recall the cars.

Jerome's city crews conserve gasoline

JEROME — Bill Block, public works director for the city of Jerome, reported to councilmen Tuesday night that city crews are making efforts to conserve gasoline because of the energy crisis.

He said the city has only 6,000 gallons of gasoline for operations during the next five months. This amount is much less than normal consumption in recent months.

Penny not worth a cent

WASHINGTON — A penny soon may not even be able to buy a penny.

The rising cost of copper is threatening to make the metal in the cent coin worth more than the coin itself.

Mrs. Mary Brookes, director of the U. S. Mint, recently ordered a study group to determine what metal can be used in the one-cent piece in place of copper.

Copper was selling at $1.05 a pound Friday.

Song objectionable

ANNAPOLIS, Md. (UPI) — A black state legislator is asking that the words of Maryland's civil war-vintage state song be revised.

Sen. Clarence Blount said the words to "Maryland, My Maryland" contain phrases "which are objectionable to many citizens for their warlike and divisive connotations."

He pointed to such passages as "avenge the patriotic gore" and "northern scum" to support his argument that it's time for a change.

Blount pre-filed a resolution Tuesday which asks Gov. Marvin Mandel to appoint a committee to sponsor a contest "so that a new song may be chosen before the bicentennial celebration."

Industry said to waste much oil

(c) New York Times Service
LOS ANGELES — American industry could save the energy equivalent of more than 1.5 million barrels of oil a day — over a per cent of current national consumption — in fuel that is largely being wasted, according to an authoritative advisory organization.

The estimate comes from the E. I. DuPont de Nemours Co., the nation's largest chemical concern, on the basis of its

Nixon asks barber to performance

WASHINGTON (UPI) — President Nixon invited his personal barber to the White House Tuesday night to hear a performance of excerpts from "The Barber of Seville" by the Washington Opera Society.

The President introduced his barber, Milton Pitts to an east room audience when he arrived as an after dinner guest at the state gathering in honor of Romanian President Nicolae Ceausescu.

Nixon quipped that Pitts keeps reminding him that he is not a barber but a hair stylist.

experience in consultative engineering work for some 110 other industrial establishments.

Conservation of power in industrial processes is an area touched on little in proposals for ameliorating the energy shortage.

"Experience leads us to conclude that a significant conservation effort at an industrial plant will, on average, result in a 15 per cent reduction in the plant's total energy usage," David H. Dawson, the recently retired executive vice president of Du Pont, said.

"This factor, if applied to the energy used by all of industry in 1970, indicates a potential energy savings equal to about one million five hundred thousand barrels of oil a day — a saving in energy costs of close to $2-billion a year."

Conservation methods include eliminating excessive "safety margins" in power supply to particular processes.

One refinery, Dawson said, discovered that ordinary steam leaks were costing it $500,000 a year. Another plant was shown how it could expand its capacity without installing a planned $1.2 million boiler.

No energy crisis here

MAE Goodwin, 70, Salinas, Calif., doesn't mind walking to help the energy crisis but says she can't expect her 5-year-old french poodle to loaf if so she got him this grocery cart to ride in. (UPI)

Atoms not energy crisis answer

(c) New York Times Service
WASHINGTON — Dixy Lee Ray, chairman of the Atomic Energy Commission, has told President Nixon that even with a five-year, $10 billion research and development effort, the United States is unlikely to attain his goal of energy self-sufficiency by 1980.

Such a research effort, Dr. Ray said in a report she handed to Nixon at the White House Tuesday, would trim the country's need for imported oil to six million barrels a day in 1980. That would be half the level that industry economists have anticipated and just equal to the rate at which the United States was consuming foreign crude oil and refinery products when Arab producers imposed their embargo in October.

The report was not made public but information on its contents was made available by informed sources on Capitol Hill and elsewhere.

Informed sources said the report represented a personal response by Dr. Ray, not by the five-member commission, to a June 29 request Nixon made of "the chairman" rather than the agency. The report will now go for evaluation to the Office of Management and Budget, which is preparing the President's budget for fiscal 1975, the year that starts next July 1.

Dr. Ray's outline contemplates that more than half the total, $5.4 billion, would be spent on nuclear power, including $1.45 billion for development of a commercially practical process for harnessing the energy of nuclear fusion.

Nuclear fusion was listed under "renewable resources." Congressional sources speculated that the reason was to avoid showing nuclear power as accounting for more than half the budget. Another explanation, from a source close to the A.E.C. was that the fuel for fusion is deuterium, or heavy hydrogen, which occurs naturally in seas water and is so abundant that "it's an eternity of fuel."

The emphasis on nuclear power was regarded as in keeping with Nixon's oft-expressed belief that this energy source would be crucial in coming years and in keeping with his plan to create a proposed energy research and development administration.

Britons said to be liars

LONDON (UPI) — Britons say they smoke less and drink less than any other country in the world, but the government statistical office says there is one fault with the claim — it's a lie.

A spokesman for the agency said a survey of 7,000 residents on the level of their consumption of drink and tobacco was so far below the level expected from the known yield of duties on these items that the statisticians concluded they had to be lying.

Lincoln stations may feel pinch

Lincoln tax deadline soon

SHOSHONE — Deadline for paying the first installment of property taxes is Dec. 20, Lincoln County treasurer, Myron D. Johnson, said today.

Overall, tax notices sent out by the county for 1973 show a total of $708,337.61 levied to be paid. Of this amount — $333,817.84 — is corporation taxes; $255,960.27 farm; $100,732.01, town; $11,273.33, personal; $7,430.54 subpersonal; $424.67 and $1,498.95 trailer house taxes.

The taxes are based and levied on requests from taxing units, which include, school districts, highway districts, cities within the county, cemetery districts, weed charges, fire districts, library districts and county fair.

SHOSHONE — Sunday closure of gasoline stations in Shoshone has brought varied reaction for managers and owners.

One station, the Arco owned by Myron Harbaugh, Gooding, closed its doors Friday due to the Sunday closure and gasoline shortage.

Ed Carothers at the Gateway Service states he will definitely feel a shortage in income and others admitted that Sunday is a big day for the Shoshone stations, especially during the vacation periods and hunting seasons.

However, at least two stations have been closed on Sundays anyway and F. N. Stowell at the Texaco station said he can't see where this has hurt his business any.

Burton Thorne at Chevron station said he wasn't unhappy with the Sunday closure and said he felt it would be a good thing for all businesses to close Sundays.

Operators of the Conoco and American stations both indicate they are not too upset with the closure. The American station hasn't been open Sundays since the new operator, Tom Wood, took over a few weeks ago.

Pumps at Johnny's Country store and the South Side Market will be closed on Sundays if others in the area are, according to owners, but stores there will be open as usual.

Clayton Peugh, who has the contract for the Shoshone school buses, said he is having no problem so far in keeping enough gas, or so his deputy notifies, but the cost increase with the business has put him in a financial bind.

He is operating the fourth of a five-year contract with the school and said he will have to meet with the school board to see what might be done to improve his profit margin.

Mayor Ellwood R. Werry said the city will be deciding in the near future on some measures for cutting gas use, possibly not removing snow until it is a little deeper than usual, and curtailing sweeping sidewalks. He said the police department is cutting down on daytime patrolling to conserve gasoline.

Ambulance service is one area of concern for many citizens in rural areas.

Francis Bergin, who operates the ambulance here, said he has had no notice of regulations, or provisions to guarantee being able to get gasoline en route to more distant places on Sunday calls.

Shoshone Highway District has had no trouble so far in securing sufficient fuel for its operations, according to Lawrence Rands, supervisor.

Rotarians discuss fuel crisis effect

SUN VALLEY — The effect of the energy crisis on the local recreation based economy dominated discussion during the Ketchum-Sun Valley Rotary Club meeting Tuesday.

President Rene Meyer said a bill presently before Congress would put fuel allocations for recreation areas "dead last."

Meyer said according to figures prepared for the Wood River roundtable, the area is expected to gain about $12 million from tourists this winter. Tourist service employees are expected to channel about $3 million back into the economy.

Importance of recreation to the area economy.

Guest speaker Rep. Steve Antone, R-Rupert, pledged his efforts on behalf of tourism and said it was a big business for many states.

Antone said he felt the energy crisis could be solved by public cooperation. He said he did not favor a gas tax because it would constitute a hardship on about 65 to 75 percent of the public in an effort to curb consumption. He also said he disfavored gas rationing because it would promote black marketing.

Discussing legislation which will be considered by the next legislative session, Antone also solicited public opinion on state land use planning measures.

Two theories, he said, presently exist — instituting a state land use plan with state enforcement or a state plan with local enforcement. He said he felt under the state enforcement proposal local government "would lose another one of your rights to govern yourselves."

But, he said, one drawback to local enforcement would be that local people are subject to local pressures.

Any major cutback, Meyer said, "will result in serious unemployment in this area."

Jim McDonald, who was appointed chairman of a committee on the energy problem, said a plan has been proposed to have one area gas station open on Sundays on an alternating schedule between the various stations. The designated station would only serve cars from out of the area to aid tourist travel, he said.

McDonald also urged members to write their legislators, stressing the

4 hurt in Burley

BURLEY — Four Burley residents were taken to the hospital following a car-pickup collision at the corner of 17th Street and Yale Avenue early Wednesday.

Mrs. Deloris Kilmartin, 43, was listed in stable condition Thursday morning at Cassia Memorial Hospital. Mrs. Kilmartin's daughter, Janet, 10, was treated and released Wednesday as were Robert E. Jones, 17, driver of the pickup and his passenger Kevin Luke, 17.

The collision apparently occurred at 7:44 a.m. Wednesday. The Jones pickup traveling north on Yale Avenue entered the intersection and collided with a small foreign sedan driven by Mrs. Kilmartin. Mrs. Kilmartin was traveling east on West 17th Street.

The force of the collision rolled the Kilmartin vehicle onto its top, pinning Mrs. Kilmartin and her daughter for several minutes. The Jones pickup was spun completely around, coming to rest facing in the opposite direction.

Jones was thrown from the pickup by the impact. Citations are pending further investigation. Both vehicles were demolished.

Fast action promised

BOISE (UPI) — An Intermountain parcel service carrier has been assured that the Idaho Public Utilities Commission wants to act speedily to grant tariff increases in view of the fuel situation.

Wycoff Co., of Salt Lake City, testified and asked the commission Wednesday for rate hikes ranging from three to 15 per cent. It was just one of several requested hikes because of the increases in fuel and operating costs.

At the conclusion of Wycoff's testimony, the company urged the commission to grant immediate increases. Commission officials said they wanted to take "fast action in view of the fuel situation."

Agree on services

BOISE (UPI) — The administrator of the Department of Environmental and Community Services and the president of the State Mental Health Association say they are in general agreement about services to the mentally ill.

A joint statement followed an article in a Boise newspaper which quoted Sharon Hubler, president of the Mental Health Association, as a critic of DECS administrator James A. Bax.

Mrs. Hubler was critical of Bax making a late-night visit to State Hospital South in Blackfoot and taking a newspaper reporter with him.

She questioned whether Bax was using the mentally ill "to distract the public from the administrative difficulties of DECS."

Mrs. Hubler and Bax, in their joint statement, said "we regret that the media has overemphasized the negative aspects of their report and neglected to report the story in its entirety."

Boise youth hurt

BOISE (UPI) — Charles R. Tillman, 15, Boise, was reported in satisfactory condition at St. Alphonsus Hospital recovering from injuries he received in a motorcycle-car collision Wednesday.

Boise police said a motorcycle the youth was riding collided with a car driven by Donna Gail Goodson, 21, Boise, as she attempted to turn left at the intersection of Federal Way near Kootenai. Miss Goodson was cited for failure to yield white making a left turn.

Land use bills set

BOISE (UPI) — A legislative interim committee has agreed to introduce four bills dealing with land use planning during the coming session of the legislature.

If passed, the legislation would institute a three-level system of land use planning in the state, requiring each city and county to zone and plan for itself. Another proposed bill would make technical assistance available from the state for some of the smaller areas.

Employees fired

CALDWELL, Idaho (UPI) — More than one-third of the work force at KII Manufacturing Co. in Caldwell has been fired because of the shortage of gasoline and low demand for recreational vehicles.

About 100 of the employees at the three recreational vehicle manufacturing plants and 17 workers in the mobile home plant were laid off. Another 170 of the 220 employees remaining on the payroll will work only four-day 32-hour weeks.

R.D. Shively, vice president of the company's recreational vehicle division, said there usually are seasonal layoffs in the industry this time of year but this year the layoffs "is much more severe than anything we've had before at this plant."

More weight allowed

BOISE (UPI) — Gov. Cecil D. Andrus says truckers will be allowed to carry more weight on their rigs when using interstate systems in Idaho.

But the governor added at a press conference Wednesday that the truckers will have to apply for permits before increasing the weight per axle.

The weights, according to the governor, will be increased to 20,000 pounds from 18,000 for smaller trucks and to 34,000 pounds from 32,000 for larger ones.

The action would allow truckers to carry greater loads and reduced speeds.

KII election set

KING HILL — The King Hill Irrigation District will hold an election for a director for district 3 on Dec. 11.

The election will be between the hours of 1 and 7 p.m. Polling subdistricts are the King Hill Irrigation offices in King Hill; the city hall in Glenns Ferry; and the Ben Taylor residence in Hammett.

King Hill is subdistrict 1, Glenns Ferry subdistrict 2 and Hammett subdistrict 3.

Firm needs generator

HAILEY — Idaho Power Co. representatives today testified in favor of a proposed gas turbine generator at Hailey.

Idaho Public Utilities commissioner's conducted a hearing on the proposed $5.8 million generator planned by the utility.

Glenn J. Hall, Idaho Power operations-engineering vice president, said the generator is needed to meet growing customer loads in the Hailey, Ketchum and Sun Valley area. "Most important is the fact that it can be installed and available for operation by June, 1974, when Idaho Power will need additional power and energy," Hall said.

The IPU hearing is being conducted on application by Idaho Power for permission to install the generating unit at its Wood River substation between Hailey and Ketchum, and to boost energy-carrying capacity of an existing line between the Wood River and Ketchum substations.

Hall said energy needs in the area cannot continue to be dependably served by the present single 138,000 volt line and that the combustion turbine could provide emergency service in the event of a serious power outage and would be a contribution to system reserve requirements.

He noted that the Wood River Valley area's winter load is high due to the number of buildings heated electrically and said it is expected that much future construction in the area will be heated electrically.

Hall also said a prolonged outage of the principal transmission line to the area is possible because it crosses terrain subject to severe winter weather conditions.

A representative of General Electric Co., manufacturer of the turbine unit proposed for installation said emission and sound levels for the unit are low.

Estimated total cost of the proposed project is $5.8 million.

Wood River Council asks passenger service

SHOSHONE — The Wood River Resource Council of Governments voted Wednesday to support the Upper Wood River Valley's efforts for Amtrak passenger service to this area.

The meeting was called to prepare a budget for the 1974 calendar year and to endorse new measures for support. The budget will remain the same as last year, raised through a per capita basis for towns involved. County participation will be on a matching 70:1 funding plan.

Andy Gardner, Hailey, was named to represent the council today in a special meeting in the Wood River Valley, called to discuss the energy crisis.

Alternate means of supporting improvement of the West Magic Reservoir road was considered. At this time the council is waiting for an answer from the eight counties within the area on their proposal for sharing a three year expense project improvement program.

To date, Carnas, Lincoln, Gooding and Blaine counties have indicated plans to participate. The four others have made no commitments at this time.

Possibilities of seeking support of Northside Communities Inc. in the sale of bumper stickers to support the Magic Reservoir road were discussed. Funds from the bumper sticker sale would be used toward the improvement cost. Once the road is oiled counties through which it runs would maintain it.

Council members said more than 75,000 vehicles were checked over the road during a test period when traffic counters were used this summer. Most of these are sportsmen with a few government agencies and farmers.

Discussion of making it a toll road to help finance costs as a means of spreading the expense through a wider area and to provide assistance from those who benefit from the road was also held.

Five measures were approved by the members including range reseeding by the Bureau of Land Management, the recreational complex at Fairfield, the Carey water and sewer system, ground water development and water study for the Bellevue Span and Silver Creek areas, and special extension service project.

The council will ask the extension service to come up with an average figure on the cost to a city to service a new home with streets, water, sewer and other facilities.

Cities have indicated they would like this information so they can determine a proper charge to the specific owner or developer with the extra expense involved not having to be absorbed by taxpayers as a whole.

Potter said the district presently contained 108 equivalent residences.

Estimated monthly user costs for the average residence, he said, was $8.43 for sewage and $3.70 for water or a total of $12.13.

Potter matched the total figure with an estimated $18.20 per month anticipated average consumer saving with the systems, including $2.23 a month in fire insurance from an anticipated reduction of residential fire ratings from the present ten to an eight rating because of the water system; $4.16 in water pump depreciation; $3.33 in septic tank pumping, and $8.48 in power costs to operate the water pump.

Adamson said he wanted to dispell rumors that any of the district directors would gain by the installation of the systems. He said law prohibited the directors from doing any business with the district.

Adamson said he had also been assured by Clarence Swanson, manager of the Kraft cheese plant, that the installation of the systems would not cause Kraft to relocate outside the town.

Discussing the effect of monthly rate charges and residence hookups on the elderly residents, Adamson said the district directors would like to see a 50 per cent rate reduction for elderly residents, if such a reduction proves feasible after the system is initiated, and stated that low interest rate loans are available to cover hookup costs.

Ross Young said he felt residents had not been informed well enough about the formation of the district and its subsequent activities. He said he felt that presently "we have obligated ourselves to the point we've faced with several bond elections if this is defeated."

using information from the U. S. Environmental Protection Agency (EPA) and the University of Idaho, the Times-News earlier reported that valley hatcheries discharge BOD wastes using up about 150,000 pounds of oxygen per day.

BOD is a common yardstick in measuring pollution.

Klontz said the nature of the BOD pollution from trout industries may be quite different from that of industrial pollutants.

Up to very recently, Klontz said, the EPA has used a five day period to measure the BOD of industrial wastes. Some of these wastes, however, can continue using oxygen for long periods of time. Recognizing this, the EPA is expanding its testing times to obtain truer BOD measurements, he said.

Although no tests have been made on how long it takes trout wastes to use up oxygen, Klontz said the indications are strong that it's for only a short period.

He diagrammed the bio-chemical reaction which takes place when the wastes convert themselves to nutrient end products which fish feed on and said that the oxygen consuming parts of this reaction can occur in minutes

Malta well answer soon

MALTA — With the drill at a depth of 6,554 feet, American Standard should know within a week if its Malta well will produce gas or oil.

The Texas firm has been drilling the well for nearly three weeks, about five miles south of Malta. An earlier effort in the area was plugged at 7,000 feet.

"It has to look pretty good if we're still drilling," Al Griffith, president of the firm said Thursday. Griffith termed the well "promising."

Several more pockets of gas have been hit by the drill since the first were discovered late last week.

If this well has to be capped, Griffith said, the firm will drill another in the area. The speed of operation will depend on the weather, he said.

To Puerto Rico

BURLEY — Burley Mayor Garis Robertson has been sent at city expense to a mayor's convention in Puerto Rico.

Robertson, a past president of the Association of Idaho Cities (AIC), left Burley for the 10 day convention Dec. 1, with the current AIC president and two other Idaho mayors.

According to Burley deputy city clerk Dorothy Graff, the convention is open to all mayors "if the cities choose to send them. And Burley decided to send its mayor."

Mrs. Graff said she had received no word from Robertson concerning the riots rocking Puerto Rico this week.

Check presented

Ketchum-SV rescue unit gets boost from Janss

KETCHUM — Contributions to the newly initiated Ketchum-Sun Valley Rescue Unit have grown by $1,000 with a donation by the Janss Foundation.

According to Ketchum Fire Chief Bill Brand, the ambulance service was primarily organized to reduce response time. Manned by emergency medical technician (EMT) trained Ketchum volunteer firemen, the service is operated on a 24-hour-a-day, year-round basis.

The rescue unit utilizes a new, four passenger $12,000 ambulance, which was obtained on a lease purchase agreement. Brand said donations have presently funded about $1,000 in payments.

He said the ambulance contains about $3,000 in equipment, including radios. Highway Safety Act funds covered 75 per cent of the costs of a $1,000 radio in the ambulance and 75 per cent of the costs for a radio base station on Dollar Mountain which had been purchased by Moritz Community Hospital.

Brand said the radio system allows communication between the ambulance and the hospital and between the ambulance and other area hospitals.

Delivery of a second, used $2,500 ambulance — purchased from the Idaho Falls Fire Department — is expected before Dec. 15, Brand said. It will be used primarily for ski injuries, the fire chief said, and as a back-up unit for the new ambulance.

Three full-time firemen are presently assigned to the service on rotating shifts so that one will be on duty at all times, Brand said. The three include Dan Hart, John Alexander and Dick Burks. Four other firemen have also completed the EMT course, Brand said.

Cost for an ambulance trip is $35. However, Brand said he hoped the cost could be reduced next season after operating costs are determined.

Zoning meet set tonight

By DAVID HORSMAN
Times-News Writer

TWIN FALLS — At least three groups will submit recommendations concerning the proposed Twin Falls County zoning ordinance at a meeting of county zoners tonight.

The meeting is scheduled for 8 p.m. at the County Judicial Building.

The new Canyon Advisory Committee, a 12-member group created by the zoners, will present proposals for a comprehensive land use plan covering a 14.5 mile section of the canyon north of Twin Falls.

The committee's presentation "will be very interesting ... with mock-ups and displays," according to member Dave Mead.

Dave Armstrong, chairman of the advisory group, will make the presentation, using "11 or 12 map overlays" as examples of the planning process.

In a recent meeting of the committee, Armstrong listed several areas that might be covered by the plan: Geology, land form, soils, hydrology, vegetation, public and private lands, views, historical monuments, transportation, wildlife and utilities.

The plan might take "up to a year" for completion, according to Armstrong.

Mead said the committee, if given the go-ahead by county zoners, would seek expertise for each area studied, and might ask the county for money to study areas requiring professional advice.

Mead also indicated that the committee supports passage of the proposed zoning ordinance, with the comprehensive canyon plan added later as an amendment.

Canyon Inc., a private organization seeking "orderly development" of canyon lands, will ask the zoners to recommend approval of the ordinance with a temporary zoning designation protecting the canyon until a land use study can be completed.

The Farm Bureau will ask that the new ordinance retain the agricultural base of Twin Falls County.

Richard Farrott, Twin Falls County Farm Bureau chairman, will submit a petition asking the county to restrict housing developments to within one mile of municipalities, require the developments to have municipal sewer hook-ups, cut off further developments until the proposed zoning ordinance is adopted and raise the minimum lot size in agricultural zones from five to 40 acres.

Cost data on Carey's proposed sewer, water plans given at meet

CAREY — Information on a proposed Carey water and sewer systems were detailed at a public meeting attended by about 80 persons.

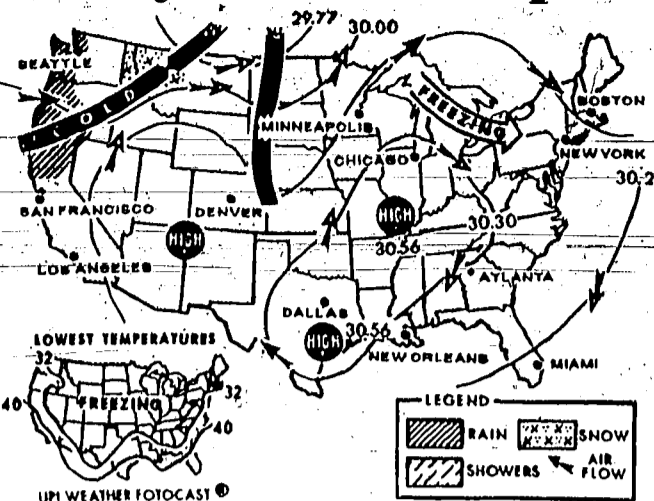

The two propositions — whether the water and sewer district should be authorized to issue $205,000 in bonds for a water system and $250,000 in bonds for a sewage system — will go before district voters Dec. 12.

Discussing the proposals at the Tuesday night meeting, which was called at the request of the Concerned Citizens Group of Carey, were Robert Adamson, chairman of the district board of directors; Les Killingsworth and James Potter, representing Tudor Engineering Co., Boise; James M. Runsvold, environmental engineering

Potatoes dip 20 points

CHICAGO — May Idaho Russet potatoes broke 20 points on the CMC Wednesday. Prices dipped slightly at the opening and extended their decline to close on the lows for the day in a trade of 22 contracts vs 57 yesterday. Little fresh news appeared to be in the market, with weakness attributed mostly to the weakness in other CMC traded commodities and a break of 5 to 10 points in Maine potatoes in New York.

Purchase proposed

NEW YORK (UPI) — Boise Cascade Corp. said Tuesday it is offering to purchase up to 1.6 million shares of its common stock at $14.50 per share in cash net to the seller. The offer expires Dec. 17, officials said. Now you know By United Press International Ulysses S. Grant's first name originally was Hiram.

Slick roads expected Friday

Twin Falls, northside, Burley-Rupert area: Mostly cloudy today, chance of a little snow or rain tonight. Clearing Friday. Highs this afternoon and Friday near 40. Lows tonight in the middle 20s.

Halley, Camas Prairie, lower Wood River Valley: Mostly cloudy today, chance of a little snow tonight. Clearing Friday. Highs this afternoon and Friday in the mid 30s. Lows tonight in the teens.

Synopsis: Another fast moving Pacific low pressure disturbance was moving on-shore this morning and will move across the Magic Valley area tonight, accompanied by a little light rain or snow. This storm system seems to be slightly stronger than the past two or three were, but the precipitation should still be quite light. There will probably be just enough snow tonight to cause slick roads Friday morning. Workers should probably be prepared to start to work a little early Friday morning.

There is still no change in sight in the general weather pattern. More of the fast moving weak storm systems can be expected at 24 to 36 hour intervals through the weekend. There will be no important changes in temperatures.

NEW YORK (UP) — After a sharp slide the previous day, stocks opened a bit higher on Thursday in active trading on the New York Stock Exchange.

The Dow Jones Industrial Average was ahead 0.82 to 789.13 shortly after the opening. Advances and declines were about even among the 372 issues traded.

The Dow sagged to a three-year low Wednesday, dropping 14.9000 points, an unsettled Middle East situation continued to erode confidence.

Mayists felt the Dow, in falling past the 800 mark with relative ease, had obliterated a technical—and psychological—zone of market support.

In little more than five weeks the Dow has dropped nearly 200 points. Federal Reserve chairman Arthur Burns Wednesday told Congress he didn't think an easing of the nation's credit would do much good in resolving the energy crunch.

On that news, money market rates skyrocketed, and added to Wall Street's growing feeling a new round of rises in the nation's interest rates is on the horizon.

One analyst said "Burns' comment must be construed negatively" for the stock market.

UCLA coach leaves for Ga. Tech

LOS ANGELES (UPI) — "It was the most difficult decision I've ever had to make," Pepper Rodgers said Wednesday after it was announced he was leaving as the UCLA football coach to accept the same post at Georgia Tech.

Rodgers, 42, quit the Bruins less than two weeks after they lost to University of Southern California 23-13 for the right to represent the Pacific-8 at the Rose Bowl.

"Just having the privilege of working for UCLA and J. D. Morgan (the Bruins' athletic director) was a great experience," he said. "I've worked for one of the great universities and one of the great athletic directors of America but I'm going back to work for another great university and director."

"I really regret leaving UCLA but I'm excited about going home to Georgia Tech."

Randle returns to alma mater

CHARLOTTESVILLE, Va. (UPI) — Sonny Randle went home Wednesday, taking over the head football coaching duties at the University of Virginia where he played 15 years ago.

Randle, who has coached at East Carolina University the past three seasons, was named successor to the ousted Don Lawrence at UVA, a school that has had but one winning football team in 21 years.

"I'm home and I'm delighted to be here," Randle said, "and I don't plan to leave anytime soon."

Finley says he won't let manager go; Marshall traded to dodgers for Davis

HOUSTON (UPI) — Oakland A's owner Charles O. Finley, the odds-on favorite to be superstar of baseball's winter meetings, has not disappointed a soul.

Dick Williams, for one, is not surprised. Bowie Kuhn does not seem astonished. Joe Cronin is taking it calmly as usual.

Cronin, the soon-to-be retired president of the American League, sat down with Finley and New York Yankee president Gabe Paul Wednesday to try and thrash out a compromise which would allow Williams to trade in his kelly green and polar bear white Oakland managerial duds for some old-fashioned Yankee pinstripes.

Two hours later, having failed to get his way, Finley said:

"We have notified the Yankees they can forget the whole thing. We don't feel there is anything to resolve. From here on as far as we are concerned the matter is closed."

Finley thus dared league officials to tell Williams he can go ahead and manage the Yankees without receiving Finley's permission.

Finley's histrionics even overshadowed the gaudiest trade made in the first three days of the meetings.

The Los Angeles Dodgers dealt their 14-year veteran centerfielder Willie Davis to Montreal in return for Cy Young runner-up Mike Marshall, termed the best relief pitcher in baseball by both Expo manager Gene Mauch and general manager Jim Fanning.

The Dodgers, with an embarrassingly rich supply of pitchers; then sent reliever Pete Richert to St. Louis for someone to replace Davis in centerfield — Tommie Agee.

Detroit, which had traded rollover Fred Scherman to Houston two days ago, purchased Pittsburgh's Luke Walker to fill Scherman's spot in the bullpen.

Between Finley's stubbornness and Paul's perplexity sits Williams. And the spot he is sitting in Riviera Beach, Fla., sometimes playing golf and sometimes fishing.

"As for Charlie," said

Williams, "nothing he does would surprise me. You would think he would keep his word (Finley said on national television following Oakland's second straight world series victory that the Yankees could have permission to talk to Williams.) Evidently, he hasn't again."

Kuhn, who slapped $7,000 worth of fines on Finley, was in no distress over Finley's remarks Wednesday. Kuhn seemed to think Cronin would work out the dispute before Cronin retires Jan. 1.

"I don't plan to arbitrate the matter," said Kuhn. "I feel it will be resolved this month."

Minico hosts Borah, Caldwell invades TF

Twin Falls and Minico get into the Southern Idaho Conference schedule Saturday night with the Bruins hosting the Caldwell Cougars and Minico going against the conference-favored Borah Lions.

Questions still remain to be answered about the two Magic Valley teams. First, is Twin Falls as really dominating as it was last weekend? And second, how will Minico come back after the rouosting it received at Provo last week.

Bufs upset Long Beach

BOULDER, Colo. (UPI) — Scott Wedman scored 32 points and had 13 rebounds to lead the University of Colorado to a 73-71 upset win over Long Beach State Wednesday night.

Wedman hit a layup with 28 seconds left in the game to give Colorado a four-point lead to put the game on ice. Long Beach could manage only one more two-pointer under a full court press by the Buffaloes.

Rosco Pondexter had 21 points to lead the Long Beach effort, followed by his brother Clifton Pondexter with 16. Also in double figures for the visitors were Glen McDonald with 12 and Leonard Gray with 14.

N.C. stalls to beat Cal

CHAPEL HILL, N.C. (UPI) — North Carolina had to use its "four-corner" offense, a virtual stall, to eke out a 74-70 win Wednesday night over California.

The Tar Heels moved their players wide apart, tossing the ball around to eat up the clock late in the game after Olympian Bobby Jones blocked a shot that would have put California within reach of a win.

North Carolina held a 43-36 edge at halftime, but California outscored the Tar Heels early in the second period and moved ahead in a rally behind 6-foot-10 freshman Rock Lee.

So far Twin-Falls hasn't had anyone play more than three quarters of a game and 15 men have come close to earning their letters already for Coach Don Haynes. They have surprisingly easy decisions over Burley and Jerome.

Minico Coach Gary Swan feels it is much too early for his injury-wrecked Spartans to play people of Borah's caliber. The Lions will bring 12 seniors to Rupert and a lot of experience and height.

"We were so thoroughly dominated in that (Provo) game (by a seven-footer) that the boys lost their confidence and just didn't perform well," Coach Swan said. "I'm glad we had that game with Oakley (Tuesday night). At the start of that one the boys really showed the effects of the intimidation. It wasn't until the second quarter that they started getting on their games and by the end of it they were performing about the way we expected them to this early in the year."

Answering a question, Coach Swan said "I like playing the tough team in the first game because even when you are beaten as badly as we were, the boys get the idea of how much they'll have to work if they want to play that kind of basketball. They're really been working this week."

The Spartans still are without three-year letterman Scott Morehouse who now is trying to rebuild the strength in his leg after a six-week football-caused injury. Minico will go the entire season without Stoller and 6-4 junior Duncan, both because of football leg injuries.

Borah will have the tallest man on the court in 6-8 Randy Lee, an excellent shooter. After that the Spartans are close to being as tall. Still the Lions hold a definite edge in the guard line where Steve Connor, one of the state's all-time best at 6-2, and Ernie Thompson, 6-1, who started some last year, are back.

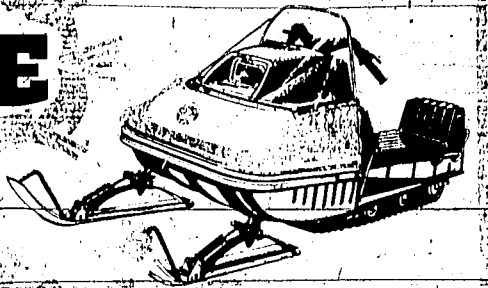

Twin Falls will be a 6-5 man deeper for this weekend since senior Brent Watson won't be traveling around the country looking at universities for football purposes. Watson, one of the leading SCIC scorers and the second best percentage shooter in the league for Buil last year, was at the University of Tennessee and didn't see his teammate roll.

Caldwell is not expected to be a tall team and should be relatively inexperienced having lost the top three scorers from last season.

So far Jim Lash has been the most pleasant surprise for Twin Falls, scoring well and leading the team in rebounding. He also is working hard defensively.

Coach Haynes is looking for improvement from his team to see if they can be as tough as indicated in first blush. "We count down our turnovers quite well between Burley and Jerome and our shooting percentage was up. Both of these areas need more improvement," Coach Haynes said. "Defensively we got a little strung out at times against Burley but were more consistent against Jerome. Our juniors are showing better with Dennis Bowyer showing us he's harder nosed than we ever saw in practice. We just have to keep coming because all of the other teams will be, too."

Camas-Murtaugh, Jerome-Burley battles highlight weekend slate

Rematch between the Camas County Musers and Murtaugh Red Devils and the first meeting between Jerome and Burley should prove the most interesting matchups of a 22-game Magic Valley weekend basketball schedule.

play weren't particularly pleasing to Coach Bert Bruns last week, will travel to Valley where the Vikings have one loss to show in one try thus far. Hagerman Coach Joe James, who has been lamenting a lack of size, will get about a break-even situation at Shoshone. The Indians are relying heavily on juniors and that inexperience betrayed them in the final quarter of two defeats last week. Oakley, evened up at 1-1 since the Tuesday Minico defeat, will be home to Carey, which split a pair in Eastern Idaho last weekend. In other north-south matchups, Castleford will travel to Dietrich in a return game while Hansen, now up to nine men on the varsity, will be at Richfield.

'Nemesis' Utah State invades Southern Idaho gym tonight

College of Southern Idaho runs into an old nemesis, the Utah State Jayvees, Thursday night and the prospects for the tight game at the Golden Eagle gym are about as bright as they've been this year. Game time is 8 p.m.

Last year Utah State brought some sophomores off the varsity to challenge the CSI 57-game home-court winning streak that the Utag pulled it off. They also defeated CSI in the return match at Logan later in the year. In fact, Utah State far and away holds the best won-lost series ratio in the history of CSI.

"We have no idea who the individuals will be that they'll be bringing up here but it should be a donnybrook," Coach Jerry Hale said Wednesday night. "I talked to Dan Dressen (Utah State varsity center and ex-CSI player) and he said, 'coach, they're coming up there to beat you'."

"We always enjoy these Utah State games because they always have good talent and are coached well. We've always seemed to play pretty well against them, too, but they seem to play better at times," Coach Hale added.

The Eagles appear in about as good physical condition as they've been in all season. Ron Fryson and Arnold Dugger are back from leg injuries and Bob Durham's knee swelling has subsided somewhat. Center Tom Barker reports a continuing soreness in his lower back due to a tumble last weekend, but says it seems to be getting better.

Statistically Barker continues to lead the team with 14 points, but is only four points up on Dugger. Fryson is third with 128 while Lon Frazier has 48 and Bob Durham 33. Barker is tops in free throws with 30 while Fryson's 19 fouls are the most against an Eagle thus far.

In team stats the Eagles have scored 539 points while allowing 456. They have been outscored from the foul line 71-65 and with 98 fouls have been whistled down four more times than their foes.

As a sidelight, Coach Hale said a telephone conversation with Jerry Tarkanian of Nevada, Las Vegas, revealed an interesting point. "Jeep (Jones) will be up to play for you," Coach Hale was informed. The interest comes from the fact that Jones was announced to have left campus last Wednesday and returned home. He called Coach Hale soon after and said he was transferring to CSI.

"This is the kind of thing you run into all the time in recruiting," Coach Hale smiled. "I've got to check around tomorrow and find out what's going on. That might not even have been Kelly who called me."

Cepeda top designated hitter

MANCHESTER, N.H. (UPI) — Boston Red Sox slugger Orlando Cepeda, whose career appeared finished when he was released by Oakland a year ago, was named the major league's first Outstanding Designated Hitter Wednesday. Cepeda, 36, beat out Tony Oliva of the Minnesota Twins and Tommy Davis of the Baltimore Orioles in the balloting by a seven-man committee. Publisher William Loeb of the Manchester Union-Leader and New Hampshire Sunday News established the award, to be given to Cepeda Jan. 24. Cepeda, who was signed as a free agent by the Red Sox on Jan. 10, 1973, was chosen by four of the seven judges. Oliva was second with two votes. Davis received one ballot. In one of baseball's greatest comebacks, Cepeda played a major role in Boston's second place finish in the American League's eastern division. He also played with the San Francisco Giants, St. Louis Cardinals and Atlanta Braves of the National League in his 16-year career.

Now even Harvard prof agrees—anything can happen in US economy

By MIKE ROYKO
(c) Chicago Daily News
One of the worst things about an economic crisis is that we are forced to turn to the professional economists for enlightenment.
But it is easier to read a physician's prescription than to understand an economist. And to make things worse, no two economists ever agree. If they sense an agreement, one of them quickly shifts position. They realize that if they agreed, I could drive down the market value of both of them.
But at last I have found one of them who makes complete sense.

He is John Kenneth Galbraith, the eminent thinker from Harvard.
A few days ago, while discussing the economy, he came right out and said:
"I think we can pretty well count on almost anything happening."

That's exactly what I've been saying all along. And it is reassuring to know that a Harvard professor feels the same way.
In fact, I have gone so far as to say it is almost certain that almost anything will happen. Some time ago, I said that to a friend of mine.
He scoffed saying, "How can you be almost certain?"
"Just watch," I told him.
And sure enough, within the next couple of days, almost anything almost happened.
My friend told me: "You were right, but how could you have been almost certain?"
"I just had a feeling," I explained.

Later, this same friend asked me if I thought something specific would happen.
"We'll see," I told him.
Sure enough, before long we did see.
"You were right again," he said.
I just chuckled.
The next time I saw him, he was worried.
"The thought that anything might happen really scares me," he said.
Many people feel this way and you can't blame them. It is awesome.
But I told him not to worry.

Solon says rules hurt hospitals

WASHINGTON (UPI)—Sen. Frank Church, D-Idaho, has charged the Nixon administration's Phase VI rules for hospitals will discriminate against most hospitals in Idaho.

In a letter to Dr. John Dunlop, director of the Cost of Living Council, Church referred to proposed new regulations governing health care institutions.

Under the new rules, those hospitals that manage to lower the average length of per-patient time in the hospital will be rewarded by being allowed to raise prices. Those that do not lower the average per-patient time will be penalized.

Church said Idaho hospitals already boast the lowest average length of per-patient stay in the nation. He said per-patient time in Idaho is 5.24 days compared with the national average of 7.9 days.

DON'T MISS IT!

"Most things probably won't happen," I said.
"Are you sure?" he said.
"I think we can pretty well count on it."
The events of the next few days proved me correct again. Most things did not happen.
"How do you do it?" my friend asked.
He was visibly relieved, but I warned him not to become complacent.

"Remember, there is no way we can be sure what might happen."
He phoned me later and said:
"It is just as you said. I haven't found any way to be sure. You are uncanny."
"Not really," I said. "It is fundamental economics — knowing what to look for."

"And what is that?" he asked.
"Almost anything," I said.
Of course, it is one thing to count on almost anything happening, as Prof. Galbraith and I do.
It is another matter to prepare for it.
As I explained to my friend,

"It is the same with economics as with natural disasters. If you were preparing for a hurricane, what would you do?"
"I would hide in the cellar," he correctly answered.
"And if you feared a flood?"
"I would get up on the roof."
"Right. But what would happen if you prepared for a hurricane and instead got a flood?"

"I would drown."
"Of course," I said. "Now you understand."
"Understand what?"
"That making preparations

can be wise, but it can also be stupid."
"But how can I be sure?" he asked.
"By the way it turns out."
"And that is economics?"
"I'm almost certain."

Lincoln pool fund boosted

SHOSHONE — The Lincoln County swimming pool fund has received a little more than $1,000 benefit from the recent sale of a beef.

Awarding of the beef quarters was made at the Shoshone Deco ballgame Friday night, according to Myron D. Johnson, Rotary Club chairman.

The animal had been donated by city councilman and farmer, Howard Hill, who actually gave one-half the beef himself. The Rotary Club paid for the other half.

Receiving the beef were Mrs. Russell Robinson, Ralph Beltz, both Shoshone quarters, and former Shoshone resident, Mrs. Lola Pielstick, Jerome, received the other half.

Mrs. Pielstick had made a $200 contribution to the pool fund which placed her in position to win the beef half.

Mini-Reviews

TWIN FALLS — Mini-reviews for some of the new books recently received by the Twin Falls Public Library have been released by library officials.

"Will" by Wilton Norman Chamberlain. If there's a more candid and revealing book about basketball or the life of a sports superstar, it's yet to be written.

"Grouper Street" by Claire Ruyner. Set against the sprawling London of the early years of the last century, the turbulent life of the theater and medical world is recreated.

"The Onton Field" by Joseph Warmbaugh. The vivid story of an incredible murder and its equally incredible aftermath.

"Red Shift" by Alan Garner. In a superb fusion of fantasy and reality, this compelling novel moves back and forth among three young men and three different periods of history.

"The Victorian Album" by Evelyn Berckman. The fascination of piecing together the strange jigsaw of work and photographs grows into an obsession.

"Joseph Pulitzer and the New York World" by George Juergens. Pulitzer's innovations marked the emergence of the first modern, mass circulation daily and thus influenced the entire American press.

"The Polygamist" by Ndabang! Sithole. Seven wives share Mink! Dube, head of a Rhodesian tribal village, on a rotating basis. The clash of the old and new values is portrayed with great warmth and wisdom in this entertaining tale.

Annual personnel tea given at MV hospital

TWIN FALLS — The Magic Valley Memorial Hospital Auxiliary held its annual personnel tea for hospital employees Monday afternoon.

While hospital administrator James Rosenbaum poured a pink frappe punch, hospital staff members helped themselves to more than 75 dozen cookies baked by 25 members of the "pink ladies."

The tea was held from 1:30 p.m. to 4 p.m. to accommodate both the early and late day shifts at the hospital. Staff members chatted with the auxiliary women while seated at tables decorated with red cloths and Christmas basket centerpiece made by the auxiliary.

On a table at the far end of the hospital conference room a gingerbread circus train complete with clowns and catered zebras drew admiring comments from guests.

The train, executed entirely in gingerbread and frosting, was made by auxiliary member Pat Heinemann and will be used later as part of the Christmas decorations the auxiliary plans to put up in the hospital in mid-December.

Thelma Dean, chairman of the tea, estimated that about 300 persons attended. Mrs. Dean was assisted by Viola Hicks and Ann Pait. Also helping were auxiliary publicity chairman Betty Jackson and auxiliary president Vivian Hicks.

Special guests at the tea included Twin Falls County commissioners William Chancey and Merl Leonard and former hospital administrator Irene Oliver.

Skin disease responds

(The Chicago Daily News) CHICAGO — Psoriasis, the skin disease with the reddish silvery patches on the knees and elbows, is responding to drugs that also improve certain cancer patients, a Stanford dermatologist said here today.

However, he emphasized, this does not mean that the chronic skin disease has any relationship to cancer.

The anti-cancer drugs are being used with increased frequency in patients who can not be helped by skin applications and are disfigured, incapacitated and frequently depressed.

But the drugs have a serious side-effect, Dr. Eugene M. Farber told the American Academy of Dermatology. They can be toxic to the liver and bone marrow and may actually make the patient more vulnerable to cancer. Other drugs less toxic are also less effective.

Farber, chairman of the department of dermatology at Stanford, said these drugs should be reserved for difficult cases and administered only at a hospital.

"So far we do not have a specific drug for psoriasis," he said. "Since psoriasis is not a fatal disease, it is incumbent on the physician not to harm the patient. We can't talk of cure but we can help our patient live with his disease. If the quality of living declines to the point that toxicity from a cytotoxic (anticancer) drug is preferable to complete disability, then we cross the rubicon and enter a period of therapy"

Abby

Abigail Van Buren

DEAR ABBY: Today I am celebrating, but I don't want to do it alone, so I'm writing to you. What am I celebrating? Well, I have been off drugs for six months, and I think that's worth something. Maybe it's because I don't need to steal or run away from home anymore—that makes me so happy. Quitting drugs was the hardest thing I've ever done in my life, but the most rewarding.

I'd like to pay tribute to the teacher who helped me do this. I won't mention his name, but he was the one person who never looked at his watch during all the hours he spent with me. My parents liked a lot. I really thought I hated them, but I now realize it was the things I was doing that I hated. I love my parents, and I want them to know that.

I want everyone to know how much I love life now, and how much I love God.

Six months going on 60 years, because I know I will never go back.

Teen celebrates

Please print this. There is so much in it I could never have the courage to say out loud. Maybe this will help someone else.

By the way, I'm 15 years old. "ANOTHER LEAF"

DEAR LEAF: Congratulations! I'm sorry you didn't send me your name and address. I would have enjoyed sending you a modest but meaningful present.

DEAR ABBY: My family is just about ready to break up over this problem, which may not have a solution. Maybe you can tell me if I am in the wrong.

My husband and two partners have two establishments which they call "Health Studios." But they are really massage parlors which employ pretty young girls who massage men, and you can imagine what other services they sell.

Abby, we have three school-age children who have come home in tears because of what the kids at school are saying about their father.

I have begged my husband to get out of that business and go back to selling, but he says he's making good money and will stay with it as long as he can.

When my husband was a salesman he didn't make as much money, but it was respectable, and we were happy. Am I wrong? RATHER HAVE LESS IN OHIO

DEAR RATHER: No. But don't give your husband an ultimatum unless you're prepared to leave him.

DEAR ABBY: Our problem is kind of touchy, family-wise. Every other Sunday we go to a relative's house for dinner. We enjoy these visits, but they are on an organic food kick, and that is all they serve.

This means lots of tasteless, unseasoned food, and no meat at all. The diners they serve may be appetizing to them, but not to us.

They are aware that we do not follow their organic diet at home. Would we be considered rude if we brought our own meals after this? MEAT EATERS

DEAR MEAT EATERS: You know your relatives better than I do. If you think they would be offended, tell them you will skip dinner, and join them afterwards.

CONFIDENTIAL TO "LOST FOR WORDS IN CHICAGO": My advice on this matter is to follow the advice of Proverbs: "Do not answer a foolish man in the language of his folly." [28:4]

Problems? You'll feel better if you get it off your chest. For a personal reply, write to ABBY: Box No. 69700, L. A., Calif. 90069. Enclose stamped, self-addressed envelope, please.

MURTAUGH — Laurie Fowler and Jackson W. Allred Jr., were married in a 7:30 p.m. ceremony Nov. 24 at the Murtaugh United Methodist Church.

Rev. Darwin E. Secord performed the ceremony in an orange and white setting. Brass candelabra, an altar bouquet of orange and white pom-pom chrysanthemums and orange bows on the pews carried out the theme.

The bride is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Warren W. Fowler and the bridegroom's parents are Mr. and Mrs. Jackson W. Allred Sr., all Murtaugh.

The bride, given in marriage by her father, wore a gown of imported French Jersey trimmed with re-embroidered alencon lace accented with seed pearls. The modified empire style gown featured bishop sleeves and a peek-a-boo neckline.

Her double cathedral length veil of illusion was trimmed with alencon lace. She carried a bouquet of white pom-pom chrysanthemums with orange rosebuds and baby's breath in a cascade style. The bouquet was tied with white lace ribbon streamers.

She carried a silk handkerchief carried by her mother and great grandmother. She also carried a new Testament which was given her mother at her birth. She wore a blue garter crocheted by Mrs. Harb Allred, grandmother of the bridegroom, and a diamond necklace, gift of Mr. and Mrs. Wesley Fowler, grandparents of the bride.

Mrs. Jill Allred Wornell, sister of the bridegroom, was matron of honor. Bridesmaids were Julie Fowler, Beth Fowler, Murtaugh, and Gay Nelson, cousin of the bride, Escalon, Calif.

Gene Rambo, Burley, was best man. Ushers were Gary Lee, Pocatello; Mitch Allred, Murtaugh, cousin of the bridegroom, and Paul Wornell, Burley, brother-in-law of the bridegroom.

The couple was honored at a reception following the ceremony in the social hall of the church.

Connie Allred, cousin of the bridegroom, was in charge of the guest book. Debbie Fowler, sister-in-law of the bride, and the bridesmaids cared for gifts.

The couple greeted guests before an Austrian backdrop. Guests were seated at sextet tables covered with white lace cloths and centered with bowls and pitchers holding fresh flowers.

The bride's table was decorated with orange and white chrysanthemums, pom-pom chrysanthemums and greenery. A silver service, silver punch bowl and candelabra completed the table setting.

The three tiered chocolate and white cake was frosted in white and decorated with fresh orange pom-pom chrysanthemums and chrysanthemums.

Mrs. Marge Jackson, and Mrs. Wally Nelson, both Escalon, Calif., aunts of the bride, Mrs. Bob Allred, Murtaugh, aunt of the bridegroom, and Mrs. Carolyn Cornell, Twin Falls, cousin of the bridegroom served.

Julie, Jodie and Jeanette Breeding, Murtaugh, assisted in clearing tables.

Out-of-town guests attended from Magic Valley communities, Pocatello, Nampa, Boise, and Ogden, Pravo and Layton, Utah.

The bride was honored at a miscellaneous shower given by Mrs. Geneva Mense, Mrs. Velman Carlson and Mrs. Marge Hogue at the Mense home and at a personal shower given by Mrs. Jill Wornell at her home in Burley.

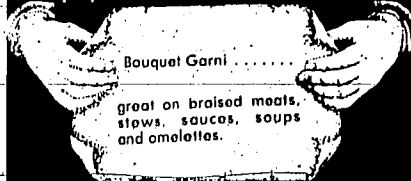

Following a skiing honeymoon at Targhee and Jackson Hole, the couple resides at Nampa.

Y begins basketball program

TWIN FALLS — The Magic Valley YMCA's annual basketball program for elementary school age boys begins Saturday with a sign up and instructional clinic from 10 until 11:30 in the gym of the Presbyterian Church at 209 Fifth Ave. N.

Charles Upton, YMCA director, said there would be three classifications of play. Biddy is for the first and second graders; junior is for the third and fourth graders, while the fifth and sixth graders will play in the all-American league.

Upton indicated the purpose of the program is to teach boys the game of basketball and to give every boy the opportunity to play at least one quarter in each game.

He also said that the fourth through sixth grade boys playing on a Twin Falls Recreation Department team are not eligible to play on a Y team.

The Y is interested in those youngsters who would like to play basketball, but for one reason or another are not on a recreation department team.

Finally, Upton indicated that boys can sign up on Saturday and also on Dec. 15 and that the league play will get underway in January.

For further information please call 733-4384.

South plays the 10 or jack. West wins that trick, but has to lead to give South the rest. What happens if East pulls up the queen of hearts? South simply lets East hold. The trick then leads another heart. South hops up with the ace and leads back to the jack to develop the same type of end play.

Suppose East shifts to a diamond. Once more South plays a low honor. West wins the trick and is now forced to lead a club to give South a ruff and discard or a red card right up to South's tenace.

All very simple when you see it on paper.

COOKIE CRISIS

CRITICAL SHORTAGE DISCOVERED!
 It has just been discovered that not enough cookies are being made in Magic Valley. In fact, a spot check around the area revealed that a lot of cookie jars are completely empty, and many are only half full. The cookie shortage is directly related to the energy crisis as many young people simply can't make it through 'til supper without a couple of cookies. So, in view of the severity of the cookie shortage, one of the President's advisors has designated Swensen's Magic Markets as "Cookie Czars" to help fill cookie jars. In compliance with Federal orders . . . No cookie fill-ups on Sunday at Swensen's Markets.

Unified meat inspection setup proposed

WASHINGTON (UPI)—State meat and poultry inspection officials, with some encouragement from the Agriculture Department, are drawing up plans for a proposed unified national meat-poultry inspection system.

Agriculture spokesmen say they're not committed to support of any particular move of this kind yet. But they point out that Agriculture Secretary Earl L. Butz has put himself on record in favor of efforts to make more efficient use of the nation's 14,000 meat-and-poultry inspectors.

Most of the inspectors, about 8,800, work for Agriculture's federal inspection program, which covers plants selling products in interstate commerce. The remaining inspectors work for state governments which control plants selling their products interstate—only within their home state boundaries.

The outline of a proposed unified national program, combining federal and state operations, was presented here last week at a meeting of Agriculture's national meat and poultry inspection advisory committee. The group is made up of state government officials and had earlier appointed a subcommittee of three state officials and three agriculture department employees.

The study group presented three alternate plans. All of them call for a single national federally-supervised inspection standard with actual inspection carried out by some combination of federal and state employees. Once the new system was in operation, all inspected products—whether supervised by state or federal agents—would bear the same inspection stamp and would be eligible for sale across state lines.

The advisory committee last week decided to have the alternate plans hotted down into a single, detailed proposal for study at another meeting, probably next spring. Then, the panel is expected to urge the adoption of its plan by the Agriculture Department.

Department officials concede, however, that several potential obstacles lie in the path of the plan.

At present, some consumer, labor and meat industry groups oppose interstate sale of state-inspected meats on grounds that some states do not enforce inspection standards as rigidly as the federal government does. Enforcement of uniform national standards on all plants might solve that problem, but one department said today that states may be reluctant to accept federal dictation over every word, phrase and comma in inspection regulations and every detail of inspection operations.

Controls blamed for shift

SCOTTSBLUFF, Neb. (UPI)—Federal price controls on sugarbeets were blamed by an industry spokesman Tuesday for forcing growers to other crops in hopes of making more money.

"The insensitivity of the Cost of Living Council to the plight of sugarbeet growers resulted in some growers turning away from sugarbeets to crops which seemed more financially attractive," said Richard W. Blake.

Blake, executive vice president of the National Sugarbeet Growers Association (NSGF) said at present domestic growers received less for sugarbeets than foreign suppliers who receive the full price because of federal law.

"Such controls must, however, be applied with reason and justice for all," Blake told 500 delegates to an annual NSGF convention in Scottsbluff. "During the past two years, the CLC failed to recognize the uniqueness of the sugarbeet industry."

Blake said because of the CLC's policy, beet producers and processors suffered inadequate returns "at a time when increased production of all farm products was the keystone of our balance of payment problems."

Blake also said that the Nixon administration had been warned against suggested scrapping of the Sugar Act which determines industry prices in favor of a free market.

"The present Sugar Act is a workable and successful program," he said. "Certainly, there are compelling reasons for continuing the act in its basic form with proper and necessary modifications!"

No refunds asked on extra payments

WASHINGTON (UPI)—The government overpaid wheat growers an estimated $475,696,000 in its 1973 wheat subsidy program, but the Agriculture Department, in disclosing the excess payments today, said no refund will be required.

The situation developed because officials earlier this year underestimated the average July-November market price for wheat, which determines the subsidy rate for wheat growers.

Under a law which expires this year, grower payments must cover any gap between the July-November market price and the full "fair earning power" parity price of wheat.

In July, with wheat parity at $3.39 a bushel, officials estimated the July-November market would average $2.40 a bushel and a 90-cent a bushel payment would therefore be needed. Acting under a law requiring preliminary summer payment of three-fourths of the estimated total, growers were given 68 cents a bushel on July 1.

Those preliminary payments, made on each farmer's share of the U.S. market for wheat used in human food, totaled $475,696,000.

When the actual July-November market average was calculated, it came to $3.99 a bushel, well above the parity price of $3.39, meaning there was theoretically no need for any wheat subsidy at all this year.

New beef mart open

BOISE (UPI)—Beef producers in the United States have new market opportunities in Japan, according to Haruyo Matsubara, executive director of the Japan Trade Center of San Francisco.

Matsubara, told the Idaho Cattlemen's Association 60th annual convention Tuesday Japan's growing demand for beef is a result of rising consumer affluence and the westernizing of Japanese tastes.

What's What

L. M. Boyd

Matrimonial researchers contradict the widespread claim that nobody ever wins an argument. Wives, they say, win 85 percent of all arguments with husbands. And wives get their way on more than half of their requests, reportedly. Our Love and War man says that thing called feminine intuition explains this matter simply. Most wives only tend to ask for what they know they can get, he says.

Egypt is that nation wherein the largest number of citizens advertise daily in the classified sections of for matrimonial mates.

If you're average, you'll blink your eyes once for every three times your heart beats, approximately.

REFUGEES

Friend down the hall has this theory that the most intelligent of peoples worldwide are the offspring of refugees. Wherever, in crisis, he says, the bright ones flee, the mediocre remain. He avers, therefore, the Chinese outside China are smarter than the Chinese inside China. And that the Israelis are smarter than the Egyptians. And that the Japanese are smarter than the Koreans. And that the Canadians, U.S. citizens, Spanish Latin-Americans are smarter than the resident Europeans, generally. Will you buy that? I pass.

"Says here rain remains in the sky as moisture for about three weeks on the average before it falls. What's it do up there?"

A. Nothing. Just hangs around in the clouds, waiting for you to wash the car, I guess.

Birds that hatch in tree nests stay helpless quite awhile, but birds that hatch in ground nests get up to romp around fairly promptly.

POTHoles

Mister, what do you do, when you see a deep pothole in the road ahead of you? Hit the brakes? That car driver of some renown, Parnelli Jones, says tut tut. Or words to that effect? I quote, imperactly: "If you're running into a hole, take it head on. When you hit the lip, make sure you've got the power on. If you slide in with your wheels locked, that can flip you."

President George Washington once bought a little device, consisting of two rods each three inches long. One was identified as an alloy of copper, zinc and gold. The other, of iron, silver and platinum. According to the inventor, Dr. Elisha Perkins, President Washington could magnetize away any of his physical ailments by drawing these two little bars over the afflicted portion of his body. It didn't work. He was disappointed. Deeply disappointed.

Frozen ducks fall from sky in Arkansas

STUTTGART, Ark. (UPI) — If the stars can fall on Alabama, if the moon shines over Miami and if the swallows really do come back to Capistrano, then there's no reason why frozen ducks can't tumble down on Stuttgart.

On the day after Thanksgiving hefty, mature mallards came crashing out of the sky. Many of them were frozen stiff.

"They were good," Roberta Essex said Tuesday. Her husband cleaned seven of them and put six up in the freezer for use later.

"We ate one of them and one we had from last year, and they tasted about the same," she said.

The day the ducks came tumbling down was a wild and turbulent one in Arkansas. Several twisters were sighted over the state and several touched down amid violent springlike thunderstorms, wild flurries and hail storms.

Two tornadoes caused minor damage along the southern outskirts of Stuttgart.

"It was about 4 p.m.," said Lloyd McCollum, chairman of the State Game and Fish Commission, who lives here. "Within 10 to 15 minutes all of them had come down, all mature, fairly heavy ducks."

The ducks came down with a lot of hail and several were completely ice-encrusted, according to witnesses. Possibly they may have been pitched up higher than normal and frozen along with the hail.

"They got up there in colder atmosphere and, just like an airplane, got iced over," McCollum said. "They got ice on their wings and couldn't fly. In short, they just froze to death."

"They were very healthy looking ducks and a bunch of people just picked them up and ate them. I'm sure they're just as good as freshly killed and of course they were."

Stuttgart, in Southeast Arkansas, is on the route of ducks heading south for the winter. Some even stay in the hardwood areas of the state although most head further south towards the marshes of Louisiana.

"For sure no one had ever heard of such a thing happening in these parts."

"I've lived here all my life, and it's a unique experience," McCollum said.

Council pinches hits for King George III

BURBANK, Calif. (UPI) — The city council Tuesday night imposed a new tax, for the specific purpose of having it defied.

The council, pinching for King George III of England, established a tax of $25 a case for tea, effective Friday. As part of the city's bicentennial celebration, a group of actors will then re-stage the Boston Tea Party on Dec. 16, the 200th anniversary of the defiant gesture.
