Thai mobs raid U.S. embassy

BANGKOK (UPI) — Mobs of Thai students demonstrated against visiting Japanese Premier Kakuei Tanaka today and then turned their wrath tonight on the U.S. Central Intelligence Agency (CIA) with a massive march on the U.S. Embassy. Sweating U.S. Marine guards rushed into the coffee shop on the sprawling grounds of the embassy and evacuated through a rear entrance, nearly 20 persons who had been attending a weekly bridge game. The Marines would not let the bridge players attempt to reach their automobiles parked near the entrance of the embassy and they were forced to take taxis or walk from the area behind the compound.

Miners' demands rejected

LONDON (UPI) — Lord Carrington, appointed British secretary of state for energy Tuesday, told 200,000 coal miners today the government will not surrender to their pay demands. Carrington, 54, has full authority over all energy supplies, which are threatened by slowdowns by coal miners and railroad engineers. The miners have offered a 16.5 per cent pay increase and that is the maximum offer.

More gasoline production due

WASHINGTON (UPI) — Energy chief William E. Simon said today he would order refineries to produce more gasoline to meet summer driving needs if the heating oil production reaches a "safe level." The government has directed refineries to give more priority to heating oil to warm the country during the energy crisis this winter.

Crude oil prices frozen

GENEVA (UPI) — The world's major oil supplying nations decided today to freeze the price of crude oil at present levels until April 1. "There will be no increase or decrease in the price of crude oil until April 1," Iran Finance Minister Jamshid Amouzegar told newsmen.

Wayne takes Harvard challenge

CAMBRIDGE, Mass. (UPI) — The college humor magazine Harvard Lampoon says John Wayne has accepted a challenge to answer questions from students on the campus. Earlier, the magazine had dared the actor to "have it out with the young whelps" who would call him "the biggest fraud on earth." A ceremonial saloon slugfest is among the activities planned, the Lampoon said.

Viet planes strike Cong areas

SAIGON (UPI) — South Vietnamese government warplanes have started bombing behind Viet Cong lines in the first systematic effort since the cease-fire to blunt an alleged Communist buildup, a military spokesman reported today. Col. Le Trung Hien, spokesman for the Saigon command, said the strikes are aimed at destroying Communist buildings and infiltration routes.

Ulster homes, hotels hit

BELFAST (UPI) — Extremists launched six pre-dawn attacks in Northern Ireland today, burning down three homes and blowing up two small hotels. An army spokesman said damage was heavy in the bomb attacks.

Trudeau plans Europe visit

OTTAWA (UPI) — Canadian Prime Minister Pierre Elliott Trudeau is planning a trip to Europe next month to talk about improving trade, and hopes to visit Brussels and Vienna. The visit will be Trudeau's first official trip to continental Europe since he became prime minister in April, 1968. He has visited England several times and has vacationed in the Alps and Mediterranean areas.

Former Blaine aide dies at 65

KETCHUM — Charles E. "Chuck" Atkinson, 65, Ketchum former Blaine County commissioner, died Tuesday in a Phoenix, Ariz., hospital after a short illness. Mr. Atkinson developed several commercial enterprises in the Ketchum area, served on the Blaine County Airport Commission, and was instrumental in erecting the memorial to the late Ernest Hemingway on Trail Creek. Memorial services at Ketchum will be Jan. 16. (Obituary, p. 2.)

Right — it was coldest

KIMBERLY — If you thought it was unusually cold this morning you were right. Weather Service officials here said the coldest temperatures of the year were recorded this morning. Lows included 11 below zero at Kimberly, 7 below in Twin Falls; minus 16 in Rupert; minus 10 in Buhl and a minus 11 in Hagerman, usually the warm spot of Magic Valley. Fairfield, which the weather bureau does not consider part of Magic Valley, reported 32 below while the Stanley Ranger station had a minus 38 this morning and a minus 22 Tuesday. High in Fairfield Tuesday was 9 degrees below zero. For the past nine days, temperatures have remained below zero in Stanley. Forecast Service readings indicate. Weather officials said high temperatures Tuesday reached 25 in Hagerman and about 10 to 15 degrees in most other Valley stations. Optimistic weather service officials say they think a warming trend can be expected about Saturday.

California pilot unhurt in Bellevue crash

Flier unhurt as plane crashes near Bellevue

BELLEVUE — A Manhattan Beach, Calif., man escaped injury Tuesday afternoon when his light plane flipped onto its top during a forced landing in a field south of Bellevue. The pilot, Kirk L. DuShane Jr., 39, said the 1965 Cessna 162 Skylane sustained about $10,000 damage. The incident was investigated by a Blaine County sheriff's deputy and Bellevue City Marshal Bud Taylor. DuShane said he took off from Fritchman Memorial Airport about 1:35 p.m. in the single engine craft. He was destined for Sacramento, Calif. He said he reached about 500 feet and began to lose power. "I just tried to maintain minimum speed until I got over Bellevue," DuShane said, then, "I took the first field I could find."

The deputy said the plane traveled about 178 feet on the ground and went across a hump about nine inches high, which apparently caused it to flip. The craft came to rest on its top about 91 feet from the hump. The field, about one-half mile south of Bellevue, is owned by Don Christenson. It was covered by about one foot of snow, the deputy said.

Henry slates Mideast trip

SAN CLEMENTE, Calif. (UPI) — Secretary of State Henry A. Kissinger will visit Egypt and Israel starting this weekend to aid in negotiations on the disengagement of military forces along the Suez Canal, the White House announced Wednesday.

Kissinger is making the trip at the specific request of the Israeli government and at the invitation of the Egyptian government to help work out some stumbling blocks in Geneva and to speed progress on disengagement. "This will be Kissinger's third major trip to the Middle East since the Arab-Israeli war broke out last October."

US court overturns Indiana vote oath

WASHINGTON (UPI) — The Supreme Court ruled today that an Indiana law requiring a party can get a place on the state election ballot violates constitutional guarantees of free speech and press. Justice William J. Brennan Jr. said in the majority opinion that for the purpose of getting on a ballot, a group's advocacy of violent overthrow of the government as an abstract doctrine need not necessarily be considered advocating illegal actions. The court said the constitutional freedoms apply to state laws regarding access to the ballot, joining the party of one's choice; casting an effective ballot and running for office. Three Indiana political parties, the Communist, American Independent and Peace and Freedom, were denied access to the 1972 ballot because they refused to subscribe to the 1945 loyalty oath qualifications.

Books checked

WASHINGTON (UPI) — Internal Revenue Service agents are checking the books of 254 of the nation's biggest corporations for possible violations of government wage-price controls rules, it was announced today. Officials of the Cost of Living Council (CLC) said the corporate price check was just one of several new enforcement actions being taken to ensure compliance with economic stabilization regulations.

Treatment bar upheld

WASHINGTON (UPI) — The Supreme Court today upheld a federal law barring addicts with two prior felony convictions from rehabilitative treatment under the 1968 narcotic law rather than imprisonment. Chief Justice Warren E. Burger, speaking for the majority in the 6-3 decision, said "when Congress undertakes to act in areas fraught with medical and scientific uncertainties, legislative options must be especially broad and courts should be cautious not to rewrite legislation." Burger said Congress could rationally assume that an addict with a multiple-felony record is likely to benefit less from rehabilitative treatment and possibly make more difficult the successful treatment of others besides being a greater threat to society upon release. Under the 1968 Narcotic Addict Rehabilitation Act, a sentencing judge may order treatment for an offender instead of sending him to jail. The two-felony exclusion was challenged by Robert Marshall

Energy crisis meeting called

By United Press International. President Nixon has sent personal messages to the head of major European governments, Canada and Japan inviting them to a Feb. 11 meeting in Washington to discuss possible solutions to solve the energy crisis, the Western White House announced today. The President also has sent personal messages to the heads of Arab and Asian oil-producing countries informing them of the conference and suggesting that the oil-producing and consuming nations meet together at a later date. The countries Nixon invited to attend the Washington conference also included West Germany, Great Britain, Italy, the Netherlands and Norway. Also invited was the secretary general for the Organization for Economic Cooperation and Development, a spokesman at the Western White House said. Messages also were sent to the following oil-producing states to attend a meeting at a later date: Abu Dhabi, Algeria, Ecuador, Gabon, Indonesia, Iran, Iraq, Kuwait, Libya, Nigeria, Qatar, Saudi Arabia and Venezuela. Secretary of State Henry Kissinger announced at a recent news conference in San Clemente that Nixon was developing several new initiatives to stall the world problem of petroleum production and pricing. Kissinger raised the possibility of a global depression unless the oil producing and consuming nations bar together in a common policy. In Washington today energy chief William E. Simon had said he would order U.S. refineries to produce more gasoline to meet summer driving needs if the heating oil production reaches a safe level.

FTT, milk decisions defended

(c) New York Times Service LAGUNA BEACH, Calif. — President Nixon acknowledged Tuesday he took "traditional political considerations" into account in ordering a controversial 1971 increase in federal milk price supports. "But he said charges he granted favors to milk producers and to the international Telephone and Telegraph corporation in return for campaign contributions were "utterly false." The President's position was set forth in two White House statements that last November had promised to make public to get out the "facts" on both cases. But documents supporting the statements were not made public on the ground that they previously were voluntarily delivered to the special Watergate prosecutor.

"In view of the fact that the documents and tapes are on file with the special prosecutor, it should be clear that the accounts published today are consistent with the basic facts contained in those documents and tapes," according to a covering statement issued by the White House press office. To publish the documents, the statement said, would violate the President's intention to maintain the confidentiality of materials submitted to the prosecution. Because the documents were not made public, however, as White House spokesmen indicated a few weeks ago they would be, and because the statements are subject to various interpretations, Nixon's move was not considered likely to end the controversy. Further, they contain little new information that has not been published. Rather, they interpret the facts from the President's point of view. (Continued on p. 2)

TF library project eyed

By DAVID HORSMAN
Times-News Writer
TWIN FALLS — Library officials are seeking a $190,000 addition to the Twin Falls Public Library. Tentative plans call for a three-story addition with 8,800 feet of air space on the south side of the library, according to Librarian Arlan Call. The plans were given a big boost last month when President Nixon released $1.1 billion in impounded funds for health and education programs, Call said Idaho will get $100,000 to $150,000 of the money for library service and construction. Although the final sum will be negotiated, Twin Falls library officials hope to receive "around $115,000" of the state's share, Call said. The Twin Falls library "has had first priority in the state for the past two years," according to Call. "I've met in Boise with the state librarian and they fully intend that we will be funded before anyone else." "I think we're certain as we can be without having the check in the bank," Call said. The federal money will be made available on a 60 per cent, 40 per cent basis, with local matching money as the lower percentage. According to Twin Falls City Councilman Stephen Lincoln, the city has "set aside" $50,000 for the last year with the hope that the library would be able to attain the federal monies. Lincoln represents the council on the library board. He said the $10,000 would be included in the city's 1974 budget. The library owns the property where the addition would be constructed, according to Call. The property value, about $10,000, could be credited to the local share, he said. Another $10,000 could be drawn from the library's operating budget, Call said, "although that's about as much as we can expect to draw painlessly." He said the Idaho Library Region 4 might also contribute to the project. "But that's still very much a pie in the sky," Call added. (Continued on p. 13)

TF aides oppose DST exemption

TWIN FALLS — The Twin Falls City Council will go on record opposing a permanent daylight saving time exemption for southern Idaho. City Manager Jean Milrar said a letter will be mailed today to area legislators informing them of the council's opposition.

Council members expressed a consensus of opinion against the exemption in a luncheon "work session" Monday at the Holiday Inn.

The federal government has granted southern Idaho a temporary DST exemption until Feb. 28. The state legislature must decide whether to retain the exemption after that date.

Milrar said today the council's letter will effectively ask that the legislature allow the exemption to expire on Feb. 28.

Councilman Stephen Lincoln said, "I think the time zone should be in step with the rest of the country. There are too many who are adversely affected."

"If the rest of the country can get by, how come we can't? I'm not sure that it does all that much good. It does seem a shame that we're out of step with everyone else," said Councilman H. E. (Bud) Cheney.

Milrar said the letter will ask that southern Idaho "convert to whatever time program prevails nationwide."

"We shouldn't be an isolated spot in the nation," he said.

But Milrar said he personally favors southern Idaho's inclusion in the Pacific Time Zone. With the current exemption, southern Idaho is effectively on Pacific time.

"I personally think that the TV station and relaying shows and all that baloney is a 'trumped up thing,'" Milrar said.

"Right now, they're broadcasting earlier and it doesn't seem to be causing any pain for anyone."

"It's a matter of personal and social adjustment more than anything else," he said.

"Whatever is most feasible and most economical should be followed."

Voluntary rationing

SALEM, Ore. (UPI) — Oregon's gas station operators Tuesday adopted the nation's first voluntary gasoline rationing plan, one which will allow drivers to buy gasoline at least three times a week.

The plan, which was arrived at earlier between Gov. Tom McCall and gasoline industry representatives, was adopted at a meeting attended by some 600 service station dealers and representatives. Only two voted against it.

Under the plan, which goes into effect Monday, motorists will buy gasoline on odd or even numbered days, depending on whether the last digit of their auto license plate is odd or even.

Those stations closed out of gasoline would show a yellow flag. Stations with gasoline available for the general public would display a green flag.

The plan also would allow everyone to purchase gasoline on Saturdays. Sunday closings would continue.

Priory users—those with essential public services to perform—would be allowed to buy gasoline every day of the week.

TF aides name public defender

TWIN FALLS — Twin Falls County Commissioners have accepted the highest bid, hiring the law firm of Rayborn, Forbush and Bachus as public defender for the next two years.

The action was announced today by William L. (Bill) Chaney, chairman of the Twin Falls County commissioners.

He said the firm bid a maximum of $42,000 for the defense of indigents per year during the two year period. Any major murder case or other unusual case involving additional legal services would be included in the $42,000 figure.

In accepting the bid, the county commissioners chose the firm with the highest price. Two other firms submitting bids included Golden Bennett with a bid of $35,600 and the firm of Taylor and Hollifield, also of Twin Falls, $39,000.

Chaney said the county commissioners chose the high bidding firm largely on a basis of the number of attorneys in the firm and the feeling the firm would have sufficient manpower to handle the county cases on a more prompt basis without causing a backlog in the already overworked magistrate court.

He said the county has done business with the firm in the past and was highly satisfied with its services. The expiring two-year contract in the amount of $35,000 per year is held by the firm of Webb, Pike, Burton and Carlson. This firm did not submit a bid for 1974 and 75.

Arrest reported

HAILEY — A La Jolla, Calif., man has been arrested on a California warrant charging burglary and receipt of stolen property.

According to the Blaine County Sheriff's Department, Raymond Lawrence France, 19, was arrested Tuesday morning in Hailey. Two sheriff's deputies were aided in the arrest by a Hailey Police officer.

The department said the warrant had been issued by the San Diego Police Department burglary detail.

France, who has waived extradition, is being held in the county jail, awaiting transport to California.

Rupert complex nears completion

RUPERT — With the receipt of the last federal payment of $6,223 last week, the Big Valley Park complex is nearing completion here.

Construction of the ten-acre park on the city's north side was begun in 1969 at a cost of $165,000. The cost of the project was shared by the city, the state and federal government. Matching funds would have made the city's share about $88,000.

What remains to be done to complete the project is planting shrubs, and installing playground equipment and picnic tables.

According to parks and recreation director Dan Schab, what is unique about the project, according to Schab, is its four baseball diamonds, though he emphasized that the park will have many other recreational uses.

The complex is located around a central building housing rest rooms and storage. All fields are fenced with backstops and two are lighted for night games.

The estimated completion date is Jan. 1, 1975. Schab says he foresees no delay in meeting the deadline.

Blaine hearing slated

HAILEY — The Blaine County Board of Zoning Appeals will conduct a hearing tonight on an appeal of a decision granting the Idaho Power Company a variance to construct a turbine generator and oil storage tank, north of Hailey.

The hearing is scheduled for 7:30 p.m. at the County courthouse.

The appeal was filed by Boise attorney John S. Chapman on behalf of Mrs. Dorothy J. Chapman who owns about 320 acres neighboring the Wood River substation — the planned site for the 50,000 kilowatt combustion turbine generator and the 50,000 barrel oil storage tank.

On Dec. 13, the county planning and zoning commission approved the variance after a four-to-four commission vote was broken by chairman Nick Durly.

Branen to head Ketchum City Council

KETCHUM — Glenn Branen was selected as president of the Ketchum City Council after a new mayor and two new councilmen took office Monday night.

Replacing former mayor, Richard Pichey, were William Brand and replacing councilmen Gerald Sidwell and Vern McClellan were Philip Puchner and Martha Poltevin.

Brand appointed the following councilmen to city commission positions: Poltevin, fire department; Puchner, sewer and zoning; Branen, police department; Jack Corroch, streets; Brand, administration and finance; and Poltevin and Corroch, for the Idaho Power Co., submit a program for shielding street lights and cost information to the council.

Paige met with the council after resident John Koppes complained at a previous meeting that a newly installed street light adjacent to his house shined into his residence and said that he felt that different street lights were available.

Paige said that Koppes' street light had subsequently been shielded. However, he said the company and about 7,000 of the 7,000 street lights in the area and that the lights were "prevalent throughout our system."

Agreed to have Puchner and Corroch select a committee to review the 1973 Uniform Building Code and to submit their recommendations for adoption or rejection as well as possible amendments at the Feb. 4 council meeting.

Approved payment of salaries for ambulance personnel, who also maintain fire department equipment for three months until the '84 budget is formulated. Brand said two firemen are each paid $500 a month and the officer in charge is paid $600.

Approved beer and liquor applications for the Holiday Inn in lieu of the submitted applications for the Big Wood

Agreed to have city building inspector John Jacoby and city attorney Willis Benjamin write a letter to property owners in the Curtis Subdivision, who had been cited as allegedly being in violation of a city ordinance.

The council had received a letter, signed by six subdivision residents, stating that two residences each contained about four persons, allegedly violating the city ordinance which states that an unrelated group of not more than three persons cannot reside in a single family residence zoned dwelling.

New US health plan set

Nominated

(c) New York Times Service
WASHINGTON—President Nixon is expected to propose to Congress later this month a national health insurance program for all Americans that would cost about $7.5 billion next year.

About $5.8 billion in new federal funds would be spent on the plan in addition to money that would have gone into the existing Medicare and Medicaid programs, plus contributions from employers, employees and states.

The plan is outlined in a December memorandum to the president from Caspar W. Weinberger, the secretary of health, education and welfare.

The draft of a second memorandum dated Jan. 5 that Weinberger prepared for Nixon also has been made available to the New York Times.

MIDDLE EAST expert Joseph Sisco, 54, has been nominated by President Nixon to become undersecretary of state for political affairs, the third highest post in the State Department. He has been with the department since 1951. (UPI)

Final decisions on five specific points await action by Nixon before the completed bill can be sent to Congress, due in the last 10 days of January.

The national health insurance program, together with initiatives in the energy area, are expected to be the cornerstone of the Nixon administration's domestic program this year.

The current proposal, the final version of which Nixon is expected to refer to his State of the Union message next month, is substantially broader than the national health insurance proposal that the president introduced three years ago.

Unlike the earlier version, the new proposal would aid low-income people without children, the unemployed and people who retire before the age of 65.

The package of health benefits also would be broadened to include coverage for mental health services, prescription drugs for people not admitted to hospitals, and dental care for children.

Possible conflicts slow Jaworski work

(c) New York Times Service
WASHINGTON—In several instances in the Watergate investigations, the special prosecutor, Leon Jaworski, has withdrawn from personal involvement in cases because of possible conflicts of interest.

All involve connections to his old Houston law firm, Fulbright, Crooker and Jaworski. When Jaworski took over as the Watergate investigator on Nov. 5, he cut all ties to the firm, which is one of the nation's largest.

In three of the cases, from which Jaworski disqualified himself, because of possible conflicts, the Houston firm represents those under investigation.

In the fourth, the connection is less direct. The law firm represents a client who is in a lawsuit with a possible Watergate defendant.

When Jaworski took the job, he announced immediately to the staff that he would excuse himself from the case against a subsidiary of Ashland Oil Inc., and Oren P. Atkins, chairman of the company.

The case had already been prepared when Jaworski came to Washington to succeed Archibald Cox as special prosecutor. On Nov. 13, Atkins pleaded "no contest" to charges of making an illegal contribution to the Nixon campaign in 1972 and was fined $1,000.

President marks 61st

SAN CLEMENTE, Calif. (UPI)—Today is President Nixon's 61st birthday, and a small gathering of family and friends are expected to celebrate it with him at La Casa Pacifica.

A birthday cake was being baked for a small dinner party in the president's honor, the guests to include his wife, eldest daughter Patricia Cox and his close friend Charles G. "Bebe" Rebozo of Key Biscayne, Fla.

The president has remained mostly out of public view during his stay here, and he has been cooped up more than he likes by the heavy rains. Aides say his 13-day stay has been marked by concentrated work, mostly in scheduling. He confers with aides by telephone.

His health is described by his aide as "very good." The president did not undergo his annual physical examination last year, but was expected to have a checkup sometime after he returns to Washington.

In Washington, his daughter Julie Eisenhower will accept two specially designed birthday cards for Nixon from the National Association of Publishers of Greeting Cards.

IRS ruling expected on gains

NEW YORK (UPI)—The Internal Revenue Service (IRS) is expected to issue a ruling shortly that could cost President Nixon about $30,000 in back taxes plus interest of 6 per cent a year, the Knight Newspapers reported Tuesday.

The Knight report, in a dispatch carried in today's editions of the New York Daily News, said the IRS would rule that Nixon should have paid capital gains tax on the 1970 sale of part of his San Clemente, Calif., estate. Nixon sold part of the estate to his friends C. G. Rebozo and Robert Abplanalp.

The report said the ruling was expected from an IRS task force checking Nixon's tax returns for the years 1970 through 1972.

It said IRS Commissioner Donald C. Alexander "has not yet approved the recommendation from the task force, known as the Special Group, but a source familiar with the Nixon tax investigation said no one in the building" thinks the president's failure to pay capital gains tax on the 1970 sale was justified."

April oil shortage seen at least 10 per cent

WASHINGTON (UPI)—The United States could be faced with a shortage of between 10.6 and 18 per cent in its oil supplies by April, according to an unpublished study prepared by the Federal Energy Office.

Officials said the figure depends on factors such as how much Middle East oil leaks through the Arab oil embargo and how successful U.S. conservation measures turn out to be.

The report, called "The National Petroleum Supply and Demand Study" was disclosed by Energy Today, a Washington-based newsletter, and confirmed by energy officials. The report was prepared for use by a panel of private economists, whom energy chief William E. Simon last week asked to review administration energy projections.

Assistant energy chief John Saffig said the 18 per cent figure assumed no conservation measures in effect.

In other developments: President Nixon was reported trying to arrange an international conference to ease the fuel shortage. Deputy Press Secretary Gerald Warren said Tuesday Nixon wants oil producing and oil consuming nations to meet in Washington to discuss production and pricing policies.

"A maritime union leader challenged the oil shortage Tuesday, terming it 'a phony' as a 'bill'." According to Jesse Calhoun, president of the Marine-Engineers-Beneficial Association, the oil industry deliberately staged the shortage in hopes of increasing the price of natural gas, ridding the industry of environmental restrictions, and to open the offshore oil fields to large scale drilling.

In Congress, Rep. Richard H. Fulton, D-Tenn., called for a congressional investigation into petroleum industry profits, particularly program gas.

Rep. Bill Gunter, D-Fla., said he plans to introduce a bill to block test drilling for oil in Florida's Ocala National Forest. He urged the Interior Department to take back the land which it leased earlier to the American Oil Co. for possible oil and gas development.

Two major oil firms—Standard Oil of Indiana and Gulf Oil—jointly bid more than $210 million for rights to the first government-backed shale production project. The firms hope to develop 5,000 acres of federal land in western Colorado. A final government decision on the bids is not expected until next week at the earliest.

The Air Transport Association (ATA) Thursday said that energy crisis could increase the price of jet fuel by $1 billion in 1974 and place airline travel "beyond the reach of millions" of Americans. ATA President Paul F. Ignatius urged Simon to meet with airline executives to discuss the problem.

Airline expands

FRANKFURT, Germany (UPI)—Lufthansa, the West German national airline, has ordered eight Boeing 727 jetties to be delivered in 1974-75 for its domestic and European routes. It already has six Boeing 747s in its 81-jet fleet.

Hughes case postponed

RENO, Nev. (UPI) — Billions of dollars in the case of Howard Hughes has been given a two-week delay in his arraignment on criminal charges resulting from his takeover of Airwest Airlines in 1969.

U.S. District Judge Roger Foley of Las Vegas Tuesday postponed the arraignment from Friday to Jan. 25 and moved the case from Las Vegas to Reno. Foley, at the same time, disqualified himself without explanation. Court observers said he took the action because his brother, a lawyer, had represented Hughes in the past.

Hughes and four others were indicted in Las Vegas on Dec. 27 in connection with his $100-million purchase of Airwest.

They were accused of conspiring to depress the price of the airline's stock through trading and threats of litigation against airline directors opposing the deal.

Hughes, 68, moved from London to the Bahamas shortly before the indictment. The Justice Department was considering extradition proceedings, investigators said.

Office de-bugged

HARRISBURG, Pa. (UPI) — The office of state House Majority Leader Robert J. Butler was de-bugged Tuesday.

Two entomologists from the Pennsylvania Department of Environmental Resources removed more than 200 tiny praying mantis that were spawned in a cocoon on the trunk of an office Christmas tree.

Astros schedule hectic

HOUSTON (UPI) — The Skylab 3 astronauts, faced with their most hectic day of scientific research, not only completed all their assigned tasks Tuesday but found time to squeeze in a lot of other chores as well.

"It has been a super day," flight director Philip Shaffer said. "These guys really cooked along and still had time to sit around and visit with us about a sundry of things. The schedule called for astronauts Gerald P. Carr, Edward G. Gibson and William R. Pogue to work 28 man hours on various scientific projects Tuesday. They logged 30 man hours.

They took pictures of four boiling volcanoes in Guatemala hoping that they could lead someday to the Earth using its own heat supply as an energy source. Scientists believe the underground hot spots surrounding volcanoes could be used to boil water and produce steam to power electric generators.

Jurors screened for Indian case

ST. PAUL, Minn. (UPI) — Amid strict security and the heat of drama, Indian leaders Dennis Banks and Russell Means returned to court today to watch the selection of their jurors in the Wounded Knee trial.

U.S. District Judge Fred Nichol Tuesday said it may take two weeks to pick a jury for the case, in which Banks and Means are charged with crimes of felonies stemming from the takeover of the South Dakota hamlet last year.

Two men, each screened before a packed courtroom for two hours in Tuesday's opening session of the trial; here tentatively approved as jurors. There were 29 other candidates for the jury. All are white.

Attorneys did not challenge John M. Odden, 42, official of a boys' correctional facility, or James L. Igoe, 46, a machinist, the two who were first given tentative approval. Both said they had no severe convictions about the Wounded Knee murders.

Nichol advised each prospective juror that the trial might last up to four months, asking them if that would cause them great inconvenience.

39 Kent photos given to jurors

CLEVELAND (UPI) — One witness to the Kent State University shootings said Tuesday it appeared a federal grand jury investigating the incident was trying to determine "whether or not there was an order to fire" or whether it was spontaneous.

William J. McGuire, a former employe at the university, also said he gave the jurors 39 pictures that he said he had taken at the time he testified that he saw nothing that threatened the Ohio National Guardsmen who shot to death four students in a crowd protesting the invasion of Cambodia May 4, 1970. Robert T. White, president of Kent State at the time, was expected to appear Tuesday. Justice Department officials maintained their policy of not disclosing who was to go before the jury or what was discussed. Individual witnesses were free to talk with newsmen about their testimony afterward.

John Filo, Springfield, Ill., a former student who won a Pulitzer Prize with one of his pictures on the day of the shooting, said he gave the jurors about 60 or 70 pictures from among the 160 he took that day.

Consumers won't benefit from cut

GENEVA (UPI) — Middle East oil nations looked into the possibility today of cutting petroleum prices by six percent, but industry sources said consumers would benefit from the reduction.

OPEC officials said the Persian Gulf producers, which tie their petroleum prices to the value of the dollar, were weighing cuts to compensate for the U.S. currency's recent rise on money markets.

Middle East oil contracts, which are valued in dollars, call for petroleum prices to rise when the U.S. currency falls and to fall when the dollar rises.

The dollar has gained six percent since Dec. 1, requiring an approximately 60-cent cut in petroleum prices to about $11.70 a barrel. The reduction would cut the world's total oil import bill by $2.5 billion annually.

Iranian Finance Minister Jamshid Amouzegar said the Middle East nations were considering cuts for Feb. 1, but had not reached a decision. "It has not yet been decided," he said.

Diverted oil supply could reap profit

MIAMI (UPI) — Federal energy administrator William Simon's diversion of 310,000 barrels of Florida-bound Venezuelan oil to the Boston Edison Co. could reap an unexpected profit of more than $6.3 million for Exxon Oil, according to data gathered by United Press International.

The data showed that Simon's order, issued last Thursday, meant Exxon now was able to charge more than $9 per barrel above the rate it would have received from the Florida Power and Light Co., for whom the oil originally was intended.

The oil was contracted to FPL at a slightly more than $7 per barrel and ordered into the open market by Simon at a "reasonable rate" for the Boston market, $27.50 per barrel.

Boston Edison officials said they would refuse to accept the oil if Exxon charged the $27.50 price quoted.

FCC hearings eyed on changes in rates

WASHINGTON (UPI) — The Federal Communications Commission (FCC) is considering holding public hearings on rate changes proposed by the American Telephone and Telegraph Co. for customers who lease private intercity lines.

United Press International and some other news organizations using leased lines have criticized the changes as being discriminatory and impede the free flow of information.

The FCC is scheduled to begin consideration of the case today. It may decide to let the rates go into effect Jan. 14 or impose a three-month delay to allow for hearings.

The proposed changes would be a departure from the FCC's practice of charging the same rates for private intercity lines regardless of the geographic area involved. It has based this rate on its average nationwide costs.

In filing the proposed changes Nov. 15, AT&T said it must reduce rates in high-density areas to meet prospective competition from microwave and other specialized systems the FCC has allowed to enter these markets.

It proposed to raise rates in low density areas to make up the difference.

UPI charged on Dec. 17 that the proposed rate changes were "inherently and unreasonably discriminatory and hence unlawful" and would entail a "staggering" overall increase of 33.9 per cent.

"This could have the result of causing some (UPI) subscribers, particularly small newspapers and small radio stations, most of them in low density areas, to curtail or eliminate wire service entirely," UPI told the commission.

EPA says rotary engine inefficient user of gas

Wednesday, January 9, 1974 Times News, Twin Falls, Idaho

WASHINGTON (UPI) — An Environmental Protection Agency official said Tuesday the rotary engine is an inefficient gasoline user, and the EPA's tests on the Mazda automobile prove it.

Eric O. Stork, a deputy assistant EPA administrator, said recent criticism by Mazda of the EPA's mileage tests on the Japanese car was unfounded. The EPA test on three Mazdas showed mileage of 10.6, 10.7 and 10.8 miles per gallon. Mazda claims the mileage is actually much higher.

"Our test procedure is of urban-suburban driving," Stork said in an interview. "It does not include highway driving. We have every confidence in the validity of our tests. There isn't any question that rotary engine cars are significantly poorer."

Stork said the EPA tests were not meant to produce the same results that any driver would find in using a Mazda. And he conceded that it was possible for the company to have produced a higher mileage figure under different test circumstances.

He said the EPA procedure is meant to be typical of city use and said he would be very interested to see what results Mazda's manufacturer, Toyo Kogyo, got by duplicating EPA tests.

"The rotary engine, which has many things going for it, is quite inefficient in its use of fuel," Stork said. "I don't want to deny that you could come up with different fuel economy under different circumstances, but that in no way changes our view that in comparison to other cars in its weight class the Mazda gets substantially less fuel economy."

Stork said the validity of the EPA's position was underscored by General Motors' recent delay in the introduction of its rotary engine automobile.

FUNNY BUSINESS

Unwed mother angered

IOWA CITY, Iowa (UPI) — An unwed mother threatened legal action Monday because her baby failed to win newspaper-sponsored contest for the first-born baby of the year.

Pam Aubrecht, 18, said her son, Dwight Michael, was born at 7:54 a.m. Jan. 1, the first baby of the year in Johnson County. Another baby was named the contest winner. Pam said she is going to court to claim $200 worth of prizes.

"I could really have used the gift," she said. "I had to quit work Dec. 15, and I'd probably have to go on Aid to Dependent Children for a couple months to pay for the costs until I can get back to my job."

The winner of the first baby contest, announced in Saturday's Press-Citizen, was Shawn Elder, the son of Mr. and Mrs. John Elder. He was born at 10:55 p.m. New Year's Day.

William Eginton, managing editor of the Press-Citizen, said the contest operation included the "implied understanding that the parents are married."

"It is not stated in the rules that the mother must be married," Eginton said. "It is our feeling that it has always been the case that the parents were married. There is the usual disclaimer as in any contest that in the event of unusual circumstances a contestant could be disqualified."

Car pools lower insurance

HARTFORD, Conn. (UPI) — Aetna Life and Casualty, the nation's fourth largest auto insurer, Monday said it will reduce auto insurance rates by up to 18 per cent for certain commuters who take part in car pools.

The new program, which is to go into effect in most states Feb. 1, will reduce premiums for car poolers who share riding expenses with at least two other commuters on a regular basis.

"We hope it will be an added incentive to our customers to do their part in combating the fuel shortage," said Frazier P. Shipp, a senior vice president.

The new program is a response to the changed driving patterns of many of our customers."

Aetna said car poolers who drive three to 10 miles to work in most states will be eligible for up to a 12 per cent reduction in liability, comprehensive and collision premiums.

Commuters traveling 10 miles or more in most states will get up to an 18 per cent reduction. Aetna said that about 35 to 40 per cent of the cars it insures are driven to and from work.

Land board schedules hearing

BOISE (UPI) — The State Land Board today authorized the land department to proceed with a final hearing on new rules dealing with navigable waters in Idaho.

Presented to the board for consideration were two sets of proposed regulations. One dealt with easements and leases and the other with navigable waters in Idaho and others with navigational aid permits and navigable waters.

In other action, the board authorized the State Board of Corrections to take possession of 300 acres of land at the new prison site south of Boise.

Correction officials noted that the land was school endowment land which was part of the new correctional complex. They asked the board's advice as how to proceed in acquiring it.

Mr. and Mrs. Jimmy Shirley sold home in vain
St. Louis couple awaits death of son, 7 months

ST. LOUIS (UPI) — Mr. and Mrs. Jim Shirley were keeping a heart-breaking vigil at St. Louis Children's Hospital today, waiting for the death of their 7-month-old son from a rare liver disease.

The Shirleys are living at the hospital—they sold their home to finance a futile, 1,600-mile journey to Texas in hopes of saving their son, Shane.

Shirley, a 29-year-old former truck driver, construction laborer and factory worker, hoped a doctor in Dallas could cure their son of biliary atresia, an uncommon liver disease. However, after the lengthy drive during which the family was stranded in an ice storm and rescued by the Arkansas and Texas Highway Patrols, the doctor said there was nothing he could do.

"We're here until his fate meets him," Shirley said at the St. Louis hospital. "According to our doctor it isn't very far off. We've already made arrangements for when it does happen, because we may not be mentally capable of doing it when it does happen."

Their doctor in St. Louis, James P. Keating, head of the division of pediatric gastroenterology at children's hospital, said "success in treating such cases is extremely rare and that the operation the Shirleys hoped to get in Texas is experimental at best."

"It's just one more example of how people in desperation seek out solutions that aren't solutions at all but just exhaust their emotional and financial resources," the doctor said.

The Shirleys, who have two young daughters, have received financial help from several sources. The realtor who sold their suburban Fenton home knocked down his commission from $1,000 to $100 when he learned of their plight, and Children's hospital dropped $3,000 in hospital bills from an operation performed earlier on the child.

Keating says there is no way to tell how much longer Shane has before succumbing to the disease.

"I'm a mother—and as a father," Shirley said, "We didn't want to give up. This is how much love we have for our little son."

Event highlights include the first annual Winter Ski Carnival at 2:30 p.m. at Sun Valley. USSA members will participate in such winter sports activities as broom hockey, ice skating, basketball on skis, and chariot race on skis and cross country tours. A Miss USSA Contest will also be conducted Wednesday evening in the Sun Valley Inn.

Other activities during the ski week include giant slalom qualifying for the Citizen Critique and Council Challenge, a Nordic Citizen's Race, the Sun Valley Downhill and a snowman Contest.

Official event activities will conclude with an awards banquet at 8 p.m. Friday in the Sun Valley Inn.

Sun Valley presents
Alpine skiing event

SUN VALLEY — USSA Ski Week—the largest organized Alpine ski event in the United States—is in progress at Sun Valley.

Registration for the week presently totals 1,700, doubling the registration figures of two years ago. According to Mike Erickson, USSA executive vice president, about 2,000 skiing enthusiasts are expected to attend the week of ski-related activities which will conclude Sunday.

The 70-year-old organization has sponsored four annual ski weeks, with two being conducted in Sun Valley.

The 120,000 USSA members are represented in Sun Valley by persons from all nine organization divisions, including Alaska and Hawaii.

Lincoln-Blaine Grange
rejects daylight time

SHOSHONE — Members of Lincoln-Blaine Pomona Grange are not in favor of changing to Daylight Savings Time.

The members voted to send letters to President Nixon so indicating. They feel the hour earlier will very much inconvenience the farmers, particularly stockmen, and will also cause a hardship on families with children who must catch school buses.

The year's committees are Mrs. Dean Barney, women's activity chairman; Mrs. Louis Couch, hospitality; Mervyn Ridinger and John Drexler, agriculture; Sid Edwards, Donald Sandy and Ralph Towne, youth; Oscar Kerner, Glen Ross and Louis Couch, membership; Larry Tews, Don Spencer and Ward Mills, public relations.

The next meeting will be Feb. 9 at Wood River Center Grange, with a potluck dinner at noon followed by a meeting. Sourdough bread will be a feature of the dinner.

New Mexico propane prices take giant leap

CAPULIN, N.M. (UPI) — In many cases, residents of this northeastern New Mexico town are paying more per month to heat their homes than they are to buy them.

Mrs. Cephia Newton, postmaster, paid $195 Monday for about 30 days supply of propane gas to heat her home and small store. She's afraid she will pay more next month.

"When I bought the gas this morning, I paid 35 cents a gallon and I was told it may go up to 46 or 47 cents in two weeks," she said. "That is absolutely out of sight."

Prices last fall were 10 cents a gallon. The rise to 35-40 cents a gallon makes Mrs. Newton's situation no exception.

"Everybody that comes in here is complaining to me," she said. "It is taking everything you can scrape together just to keep warm."

The reason apparently is the federal government's method of restricting price increases on petroleum products. The restrictions hold down the price of gasoline and diesel, but permit oil companies to make up their costs with larger increases on propane.

When temperatures linger at below zero, as they do in northern New Mexico in the winter, that means a lot in dollars and cents.

One gas distributor, David Perovich of Toas, said Monday he is as unhappy with the prices as anyone.

"The people in northern New Mexico just can't afford the price of propane at today's prices," he said. "The majority of people here are on low or fixed incomes. To have to pay 37 cents is phenomenal."

Perovich, who is president of Colomex Oil and Gas Co., has a posted price of 37 cents for propane. He admits that is too high for many residents to pay but said he can't charge less and stay in business.

"This is something that needs attention," Perovich said. "The federal government needs to really investigate the reason."

Rep. Manuel Lujan Jr., R-N.M., toured northern New Mexico recently.

He said with the price jump from 10 cents to 35 or 39 cents a gallon some persons were spending $160 a month to heat their homes.

Researcher doubts impeachment

(c) Chicago Daily News
SPRINGFIELD, Ill. — Political researcher Richard Scammon told a student seminar here Tuesday night he doubts Congress will impeach President Nixon unless the polls show a significant majority of Americans want it. "This is one case where the Congress will be very responsive to public opinion," Scammon said.

He noted that most polls now show a majority of Americans believe Nixon is guilty of complicity in Watergate, yet only a small fraction favors impeachment.

"In other words, they think the punishment doesn't fit the crime," he told some 250 students at Sangamon State University.

Scammon, director of the Governmental Affairs Institute in Washington, was opening night speaker at a week-long colloquium on "Crisis in Confidence."

Warren Miller, program director of the Survey Research Center at the University of Michigan, took a less sanguine view on impeachment. "If it turns out three months from now that there may not be an impeachment, there may be a lynching," Scammon, former director of the US Census and now a member of the US delegation to the United Nations, said he thought "crisis" too strong a term to describe the "concern

Americans currently feel toward their government. He blamed the "sense of crisis" — an opposed to genuine crisis — on the "excessive rapidity of communications." Scammon recalled that 1,000 persons were killed in anti-draft riots in New York in 1965, and asked: "What would the impact of that have been if we had had TV then?" Scammon, author of the best-seller, "The Real Majority," acknowledged that Watergate would have an impact on politics this year. He said the Republican party will have trouble recruiting candidates, money will be harder to collect by either party, and there will be an increase in "scandalization."

But he drew a distinction between this general impact and the specific reaction of Americans coping with everyday problems removed from abstract issues. "The percentage of homes where the dinner dishes were pushed aside tonight and the evening spent discussing revenue-sharing is extremely limited," he said.

Families come to blows at baptism

SYRACUSE, Sicily (UPI) — A fist fight broke in front of the baptismal font at the Roman Catholic Church of the Passion when Angelo Bottaro arrived to be baptized. Three persons, including a policeman, were injured. Police said the four-month-old baby's parents separated 15 days after their marriage. When the mother, Maria Bottaro, 29, and her family took the infant to the church, the father, Pasquale Bottaro, 24, appeared with his family.

Union votes strike

MILWAUKEE, Wis. (UPI) — About 8,000 United Auto Workers' members in five cities are scheduled to strike the Allis-Chalmers Corp. Friday unless a new contract is agreed on before then. Edward Merten, president of union Local 248 at West Allis, Wis., said the union had given the firm the required five-day notice of contract termination and the notice expires at noon Friday. Talks aimed at averting a strike continued here. The firm and the union have been working since Nov. 1 under an extension of a three-year contract. The extension provided for the five-day notice. In addition to the West Allis plant, the plants involved are located at Pittsburgh; Springfield, Ill.; Gadsden, Ala.; and La Porte, Ind.

Spiro must pay own bills

(c) Washington Star-News WASHINGTON — Spiro T. Agnew's substantial legal fees have been paid in recent weeks by a special bank fund, but it appears that the bulk of the lawyers' bills incurred by the former vice president may have to be paid out of his own pocket.

According to knowledgeable sources, only about $200,000 was donated to the fund, which was established by Chicago insurance magnate W. Clement Stone shortly before Agnew resigned and pleaded no contest on Oct. 10 to a tax evasion charge.

It has been estimated that

Agnew, who still is in the process of closing out his office, may have to pay as much as $200,000 in legal fees to New York and Washington lawyers who represented him in his fight against bribery, extortion and conspiracy charges prepared by the Justice Department.

While the lawyers refused to comment Monday, sources close to the fund said some payments have been made from it in recent weeks to the Washington firm of Colson and Shapiro. The other firm involved in defending Agnew was Paul, Weiss, Rifkind, Wharton and Garrison of New York.

The exact amount of money contributed to the fund will not be known for several weeks, during which time an audit is being conducted.

Simon fears fan club

WASHINGTON (UPI) — Energy chief William E. Simon apparently is fearful he may be developing what most Washington officials reportedly desire — a personality cult.

As head of the new Federal Energy Office, Simon has been enveloped in a wave of publicity as a result of his efforts to ease the fuel crisis.

At a recent staff meeting, Simon told his assistant administrators he wanted more publicity for them, and less for himself.

Fidel makes peace overtures

MEXICO CITY (UPI) — The Fidel Castro regime is willing to resume diplomatic relations with the United States if the United States lifts its economic blockade of Cuba, Fernando Lopez Muno, the Cuban ambassador to Mexico, said Monday.

Lopez said lifting of the U.S. economic blockade is Cuba's only condition for resumption of relations with Washington "because we are not in a Holy War" with the United States.

The United States broke off relations with Havana in January, 1961, two years after Fidel Castro took power when the late dictator Fulgencio Batista fled the country.

Castro, moving somewhat cautiously at first, soon put Cuba firmly on the road to what he called "Marxism-Leninism" and made the island a full-scale ally of the Soviet Union, a move that led to the 1962 "Missile Crisis" between the United States and Russia.

Lopez, who spoke at a news conference here Monday, did not indicate any further details on Cuba's position, which is in marked contrast to Castro's stated policy up to now.

Grant challenges Rozelle on locker room conditions

HOUSTON (UPI) — The relationship between Bud Grant, the factious coach of the Minnesota Vikings, and pro football czar Pete Rozelle is about as icy today as the frigid below zero weather back in Bloomington, Minn.

In a rare direct challenge to Rozelle's authority, Grant continued to criticize his team's Super Bowl training facilities even though an NFL official warned him that he might be fined by Rozelle for doing it. After announcing "he had been threatened with a fine for the first time in his career," Grant said, "Minnesota has the poorest facilities of any team in the league and it's still a lot better than this. Even the high school teams don't practice here, they just play the games on the field. While Grant was challenging Rozelle, the Miami Dolphins became sympathetic bystanders calmly preparing for the third straight Super Bowl appearance Sunday. Joe Robbie, the Dolphin president, even defended Grant.

NCAA to let pro in one sport remain amateur in another

SAN FRANCISCO (UPI) — Anthony Davis, USC's gifted junior halfback, may play professional baseball this spring and return to the Trojan college football wars next fall.

That possibility was opened to Davis and other multi-sport standouts Tuesday by action by the National Collegiate Athletic Association. Delegates to the NCAA's annual meeting amended rules in a decision which had been building for years. "It's been in the works for a long time," said Dave Daniels, of the NCAA News. "The rule-makers took input from the coaches and reviewed career cases."

Also approved were measures which would "Permit college athletes to try out with pro teams and retain amateur standing in a sport should they fail to sign contracts."

Big game drawing changes outlined

A non-refundable application fee and a "mixing" of those eligible from species to species will be used to determine big game permit winners next fall, Joe Greenley, director of the Idaho Fish and Game Department said Tuesday night.

Blitterot areas in wilderness classification. He anticipates the forest service recommending some areas in the Salmon River and Idaho primitive areas be returned to wilderness designation.

At the same time the service is compiling an inventory on five areas in Southern Idaho for wilderness status study. These proposals would cover about 4.3 million acres and include 16,000 acre addition to the Sawtooth in the Hansen Lakes area, 200,000 acres in the White Clouds, 55,000 acres in the Boulder Mountains; 31,000 acres in the Smokey Mountains and 23,000 acres in the Pioneer Mountains.

Otherwise, he will be freed by other rule adoptions to officiate sports on any level except professional and to teach physical education and sports techniques.

Lotsa parks

SALT LAKE CITY, Utah (UPI) — Thirteen per cent of U.S. national parks, seven per cent of the national monuments, and 15 per cent of the national recreation areas are located all or partially in Utah.

The mixers will be used to determine big game permit winners next fall, Joe Greenley, director of the Idaho Fish and Game Department said Tuesday night.

Greenley, speaking at the annual Twin Falls County Fish and Wildlife Conservation Corporation meeting, said the computer drawing would be continued "in the interest of speed and economy."

Greenley said removal of fishing fees last year caused a 107 per cent increase. While this proved greater than expected, economically it proved to be a "winning" method that required something like 25,000 money warrants being made out and returned by the auditor's department.

Lot'sa parks

Greenley emphasized the speed of the computer system which put notification nearly on a 24-hour basis, compared to the old two-week method used previously.

Representatives of the Bureau of Land Management in the Burley and Shoshone district reported their groups were working on use-reclamation projects.

The Salmon dam recreation project, for which $104,000 has been reserved, will go up for bid about mid-February following a survey day for prospective bidders Jan. 29.

Ed Fournier, Sawtooth Forest supervisor, explained the forest service's 10-year wilderness inventory is coming to an end and must be completed by September.

Smalley seen as No. 1 pick Valley plays Treasure here tonight

NEW YORK (UPI) — Roy Smalley, a tall, skinny former Chicago Cubs shortstop with the not-so-potent bat who retired 16 years ago, could be on the verge of making his biggest contribution to baseball today.

Smalley compiled a lifetime .227 batting average in 10 years with the Cubs, Braves and Phils, before quitting in 1958. Today he is 21-year-old son, Roy Jr., will be the first choice of the Texas Rangers when baseball holds its winter free agent baseball draft.

The Rangers, who had the worst record in the majors last year, have the No. 1 pick today and they will choose Smalley. It could cost them a record free agent draft price of $100,000 to get the Southern California shortstop to sign with them.

Smalley already has been selected by major-league teams in four previous drafts; but each time he had down the offer so he could complete his education. He still has another year of eligibility at USC, leaving him in excellent bargaining position.

Smalley had an excellent campaign in 1973, batting .338 with five homers and 29 runs batted in.

NEW YORK (UPI) — Stocks opened broadly lower on the New York Stock Exchange Wednesday. Trading was fairly lively.

The Dow Jones industrial average had fallen 0.81 to 850.85 a few minutes after the opening. Declines led advances by nearly three-to-one among the 374 issues traded.

On Tuesday, news from the government that wholesale prices showed the biggest rise last year since 1946 dampened Wall Street's spirits, and sent the Dow 15.07 lower to 861.78. The general news picture, which includes the Middle East peace talks, the oil embargo, and President Nixon's disclosure of the tapes Tuesday concerning the 171 case involving the dairy industry's contributions to the 1972 election campaign, remains clouded with uncertainty, analysts say.

In addition, the dollar and the price of gold declined sharply on European exchange Wednesday, following a spectacular two-month run-up.

No break in cold seen for MV

Twin Falls, Northside Area, Burley-Rupert: Continued cold. Partly cloudy with the chance of a few brief snow flurries through Thursday. Low tonight through 5 to 15.

Hailey, Camas Prairie, Lower Wood River Valley: Continued cold. Partly cloudy with the chance of a few light snow flurries through Thursday. Low tonight through 20 to 30 below zero.

A weak upper air disturbance, from Canada moved over the Magic Valley last night, but it was so dry that it gave no protective cooling. It did bring in a fresh supply of cold air which dropped temperatures in many places to their coldest levels so far this winter.

Twin Falls low of seven below was far from a record, however. It was 30 degrees below zero Jan. 4, 1952. Another Canadian disturbance is scheduled to move over the Magic Valley tonight resulting in continued cold temperatures through Thursday and only a chance of scattered light snow.

The extended outlook, Friday through Sunday, for a strong flow of warmer air developing in the central Pacific will try to force its way into the western states about Saturday. This gives us an opportunity for a break in the long cold spell, but with snow likely to accompany the change.

COPPER HIGHER — TOKYO: The Nippon Mining Co. said today it has increased its electrolytic copper price to 640,000 yen a metric ton from 630,000 yen a ton retroactive to Jan. 4.

The move is expected to be followed by other Japanese copper producers. The move came as a result of price increases for copper in overseas markets and a result of the decline in the value of the yen, the company stated.

Compare cost per serving WITH BUTTREYS EXTRA-VALUE-TRIM

How to figure your "per serving" cost-

As you shop for meats, think in terms of cost "per serving" rather than cost per pound. To figure cost "per serving," simply divide the price per pound by the number of portions to get your true meat cost. There are several things that affect cost "per serving." First of all, the amount of trim the meat has been given is vitally important to lowering "per serving" costs. Excess fat and bone is expensive to you. So, check the meat trim closely when you compare prices. We think you'll find Buttreys' Extra-Value-Trim does offer "extra value" for your meat money. Buying well-trimmed meats is the first step to lowering "per serving" costs. Next week, Buttreys Foods will offer another suggestion for lowering "per serving" costs.

Extra-Value-Trim...lowers "per serving" cost!

Couple exchanges promises

TWIN FALLS—Peggy Carter and Ronald L. Wiedenheft were married in Dec. 22 at the First United Methodist Church.

Rev. Herbert Morris performed the candlelight ceremony. The church was decorated in a Christmas theme, featuring advent candles and poinsettias.

The bride is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Don Grimes, Pocatello, and the bridegroom's parents are Mr. and Mrs. Keith Wiedenheft, Twin Falls.

MR. AND MRS. RONALD L. WIEDENHEFT

The bride wore an A-line dress of white velvet with long sleeves. The dress was trimmed with white fur and pearls and had a matching train. The gown was made by the mother of the bride.

Her shoulder-length veil was held by a velvet cap trimmed with white coral and pearls. She carried a bouquet of white feathered carnations centered with a going-away corsage.

Callen Carter, Pocatello, sister of the bride, was maid of honor. Patty Erickson, Phoenix, Ariz., sister of the bride, was matron of honor. Bridesmaids were Linda Copple, Beaverton, Ore.; Mrs. Chris Manning, Pocatello, and Debbie Wiedenheft, Twin Falls, sister of the bridegroom.

Duane Wiedenheft, brother of the bridegroom, was best man. Ushers were Rick Wiedenheft, brother of the bridegroom; Henri LeMayne, Dick Capps, all Twin Falls, and Ken Corning, Burley, word ushers.

Mike Grimes, cousin of the bride, Missoula, Mont., was ringbearer. Tracy Grimes, Missoula, Mont., cousin of the bride, was flower girl. Danny Wiedenheft, was candlelighter. Steve Johnson was vocal soloist. Willie Ryder was organist.

The couple was honored at a reception following the ceremony at the Carillon Reception Center.

The table was decorated in a red, green and white theme. Gold and white candles placed in the center of the tables were made by the bride's mother.

The three tiered cake was trimmed with poinsettias and was flanked by two sweetheart cakes.

Jauni Toews, Twin Falls, had charge of the guest book. Gifts were cared for by Mrs. Leah Jones and Shirlee Joslin, both Twin Falls.

Refreshments were served by Mrs. Bessie Cully, grandmother of the bride; Laura Cheney, great-aunt of the bride; Sharon Stemons, Marie Kinsey, Wanda Roberts and Bernice Hiles.

Out of town guests attended from Missoula, Mont., Boise, Pocatello and Burley.

Following a skiing honeymoon to Jackson Hole, Wyo., the couple resides at 603 Fourth St. N., No. 2, Twin Falls. The bride is employed at Lincoln Elementary School, and the bridegroom is employed by the Twin Falls Credit Bureau.

Beat winter sniffles—snuggle

CHICAGO (UPI)—To beat the sniffles brought on by lower temperatures during the energy crisis, try "snuggling," the American Medical Association said in an editorial in its latest edition.

"If the Prairie winter really should be severe this year, and if all else fails, we would recommend that one can beat the sniffle by snuggling," said Senior Editor M. Theresa Southgate in a lighthearted editorial.

"Not to suggest that we are improper. Midwesterners but only to say that here on the Plains we like to be friendly, within the limits of Z.P.G.

(Zero Population Growth) of course."

The AMA has lowered the temperature at its eight-story national headquarters building to 69 degrees.

There is "nothing to support the fact that an indoor room temperature of 75 degrees is mandatory to health," the editorial said.

"It is simply the great American custom, set by who knows who in the long forgotten past. Perhaps it is a kind of status symbol. Since heat costs money, the warmer you keep it indoors, the richer you must be."

"Frankly, an indoor temperature of 75 degrees is quite uncomfortable for working, even when the work is done sitting quietly. After a few hours, the brain grows dull, the nose becomes stuffy, and the throat gets scratchy."

"For those who find it (69 degrees) too cool for comfort, we would respond you can put on any amount of clothing, but you can only take off so much."

"The editorial, concluding that snuggling is more fun, said: "Right on, energy conservationists. We'll not freeze."

Tickets available for Jan. 15 concert

TWIN FALLS — Tickets are now on sale at all area music stores for the Utah Symphony concert, slated for 8 p.m. Jan. 15 at the CSI Fine Arts Auditorium.

The appearance of the symphony, recognized as one of the great orchestras of America, in Twin Falls is one of the major music events of the year, according to Mrs. Donald Youtz.

Sponsored by District 5 Junior Music Clubs, the symphony, directed by Maurice Abravanel, will give a student concert also at CSI at 10 a.m. Jan. 16 as well as the evening event, to which the public is invited.

Abravanel, signed for one year with the Utah Symphony in 1947, but has remained to build it into one of the country's major orchestras. He insisted that the orchestra embark on an ambitious recording program, which now boasts 65 classical releases hailed throughout the world for their excellence.

He also led the crusade for funds enabling both better pay for his musicians and a longer season. An American citizen of Spanish-Portuguese ancestry, Abravanel was born in Greece and reared in Lausanne, Switzerland, where he first conducted at the age of 18. He studied in Berlin and conducted at the Berlin State Opera. In 1932 he made his Paris debut as a symphony conductor.

He also has conducted in Australia where a three-month engagement was extended to two years, and when the Metropolitan Opera imported him to America in 1936, he was the youngest conductor ever engaged there.

After two years at the Opera he left to conduct other leading orchestras, as well as the Chicago Civic Opera and the Mexico National Opera. Much of his energy is devoted to school and youth concerts and active encouragement of young, talented musicians.

MR. ABRAVANEL, conductor

The fact that we are going to show negative doubles by the partner of the opening bidder in this column, does not mean that we recommend the bid strongly. You can get on well without it. Unless you and your partner understand just what you are doing, it can get you in real trouble. If you do want to experiment with it, start by using it only against one heart and one spade overcalls of a minor-suit opening. It should show at least seven-high-card points (possibly just six) and guarantee four cards in the other major. Obviously, the partner of the man making this double is expected to bid the other major if he holds four cards there and must bear in mind that his bid shows no extra values.

The South hand is a rock-bottom minimum if you care to call it that, but he has no problem after the negative double. He bids two hearts. North raises to three and South passes.

Three hearts isn't the greatest contract ever, but it makes sense, all South has to lose are two spades and two diamonds. He will even make an overcall if the defense doesn't cash their diamonds right away.

East-West will make a spade if allowed to play it, or three diamonds if they can find that suit, but the negative double has taken them out of the action.

Abby

Abigail Van Buren

© 1974 by Curtis, Tribbe-N. Y. News Synd., Inc.

DEAR ABBY: For 26 years I have been married to a man everybody thought was the perfect husband. No one knew the heartaches I suffered silently to keep my family together when my children were small.

Our daughter has been married for three years. She has one sweet baby and another on the way. Recently she confided that she has proof that her husband has been repeatedly unfaithful to her.

I have come very close to telling her that her father did me the same way. Would that be wrong? They say that misery loves company.

KANSAS CITY

Daughter's problem

DEAR KANSAS CITY: Yes, it would be wrong. If misery loves company, whose "misery" would you be attempting to provide with company? Your daughter's or your own?

DEAR ABBY: I once made the terrible mistake of sending away for some of those gummed back "name and address stickers," and I have been deluged ever since with catalogs and junk mail from a dozen different gift houses.

This junk mail clutters up my mailbox, and I don't want any of it. I never look at it, I just throw it out.

I wrote to one of these gift houses and asked them to please take my name off their mailing list, and after that I started getting TWO of everything!

I can't look my mailman in the face any more. One day he had 22 pieces of junk mail for me. I apologized to him and explained that I didn't send for that stuff, but I know he didn't believe me. I even asked HIM how to get off their mailing lists, and he said he didn't know.

I have quit giving to charities that solicit by mail because for every one I give to, I get requests from 10 more.

Can't something be done about mail-order merchants who sell lists of names to other businesses?

ANT JUNK MAIL

DEAR ANTI: Other than requesting that your name be taken off the list, there is nothing you can do. I'm sorry for your mailman, but those mail order houses want to spend money on catalogs that are never looked at, and pay a fee to deliver them. It's their loss.

DEAR ABBY: You said that most male doctors do not get turned on by an attractive female patient. You're all wet! My ex-wife had a thing going with her doctor for a long time before I caught on. I didn't prosecute because I figured the poor guy had enough trouble being emotionally involved with my wife.

During the last five years I paid enough doctor bills to put another Cadillac in his garage.

Sweetie, you may know a lot about teen-agers, but you had better do a little more research on doctors.

BURNED ONCE

DEAR BURNED: There are exceptions in every profession, but most doctor-patient relationships are strictly professional and there is no fooling around. Too bad yours was a bumner.

"I took the bong-oid off myself, Mommy! I think I'm going to be a doctor!"

LIL ABNER

What's What

L. M. Boyd

There are still a few Pacific theater veterans of World War II whose lives are saved by intravenous couplings of coconut water. It's pure, you know. And the couple of cupsful from one coconut contains about two tablespoons of sugar. Medically, it's just about as good as a sterile glucose solution.

"In the Old West, what was the price of a stagecoach ride from Missouri to California over the Santa Fe Trail?"

A. Say $225. Not counting meals. Took 23 days. And the drivers changed horses about every 15 miles. Have I told you more than you wanted to know?"

Meaning generally in England, the only big town with no zoning ordinance is Chester, then in smudged cities with zoning.

"Robert" used to mean "lamour."

GRIZZLIES

Certainly you know we're rapidly running out of grizzly bears. Client asks which outnumber which among what? Well, the males or females. The females, will grow. Male cubs always outnumber the female cubs by two to one, but they get killed off a lot more readily than the females.

Just about every Gemini fellow knows his constellation; represents the twins. But he is aware of their names and occupations? Possibly not. That one called Castor is a horseman and the other named Pollux is a boxer.

"Nations to rise up against nations" is a phrase in the Bible. But a mapman in a translation of said Bible in the English language turns it into "a pair of opposites to rise up against pair of opposites." And the lay reader up there are said to be stumbling on it.

ROACHES

Am repeatedly asked what's the best way to get rid of roaches. Simple. Sprinkle borax acid powder roundabout. Powerful roach-scarer those roaches call it, temporarily before they get accustomed. Borax acid powder, it's subtle. Takes it a couple of weeks to get to the little beast. And they don't realize they're being done in.

Q. "What's the tag of a six-legged insect?" A. Walker's tagline: "With shorter legs and kind legs on one side. And the middle leg on the other. Hind legs push; fore legs pull, middle legs just hold the thing up in the air."

It has been proven that the lower down the social ladder a fellow considers himself to be, the tougher he'll behave toward subordinates. Any military man knows that. The lieutenant never or almost to be as generous as the general. Point is, however, this fable isn't a human characteristic. It's evident among coops and soos, too, among chickens and monkeys.

Americans have it best ever, Butz believes

(Chicago Daily News) WASHINGTON — Despite inflation, unemployment and shortages, Americans including welfare recipients never had it so good, Agricultural Secretary Earl L. Butz believes.

"The plain-speaking Hoosier cabinet member delivered that message to participants at a four-day conference here of the Washington-based National Consumer Information Center (NCIC).

He came off unscathed, even though the organization, which works with community agencies have a total membership of about 50,000 to 60,000 persons, has a heavy representation of ghetto, or inner-city, residents.

Butz also dropped a few hints on what's in store for the 1974-75 budget year, which may have helped to dilute the undercurrent of hostility to him that was evident in his audience. Among his disclosures:

—He is trying to shift the food stamp program — now helping to feed 15 million persons — to the department of health, education and welfare. Expressions of approval by his listeners made it obvious they consider HEW more sympathetic to the consumer.

The agricultural chief said about half the $9.9 billion spent by his agency in the year ending in June, is devoted to distributing foodstuffs under welfare programs, including subsidized school lunches.

Butz fears that any budget economy cuts forced upon him will have to come from agricultural research and development programs. Instead of the food programs, which are politically tangential to slash.

—So called "incentive" payments to farmers to keep land out of production, which amounted to $4 billion in 1972, and $2.5 billion last year, are expected to be less than a half billion dollars in the 1974-75 fiscal year.

Otherwise Butz devoted himself to rebutting the notion that food prices are out of line and that the farmer is enriching himself. The price of furniture, clothes, autos and other products have gone up more than the price of food over the long run," Butz maintained.

In the last decade, he said, food prices have increased an average of 48 per cent. Admitting that comparisons were "small comfort" to his audience, he went on to cite increases in other countries in the same period: Denmark 97 per cent, Japan 81 per cent and the United Kingdom 79 per cent.

"While the average American spends between 16 and 17 per cent of his after-tax take-home pay on food," said Butz, in Canada it is 20 per cent, Japan 27, Western Europe 19 to 34, and it "approaches 50 per cent in Eastern Europe."

Also, food assistance programs would not be available, he declared, if the United States did not have a strong profit-oriented, technologically developed agricultural system, the farm chief argued.

"The result is," he said, "that even the people on welfare in America live better than the top third of the population in most other countries. In what other country do people on welfare have automobiles, central heat, running water, electricity, indoor toilets, color television, public health service and medicine?"

A different tone came from the Rev. Ms. Willie Barrow, a vice-president of Operation PUSH (People United to Save Humanity), based in Chicago.

Ms. Barrow said the American economy "is designed to help the big corporations get bigger."

"Large scale unemployment and rampant inflation" is now "the crisis in everyday living," he said, warning that "the so-called energy crisis is going to intensify this pattern."

At the same time, said Mrs. Barrow—a leader in women's rights and black-politics and delegate to the 1972 Democratic convention—the energy crisis "increases the possibility to organize and educate great numbers of people, who are losing their illusions along with their jobs."

Ms. Barrow advocated the PUSH program of a "moratorium" on bill payments, withholding rent payments in the absence of heat and hot water in rental units, income tax deductions of heating costs for homeowners, and "resistance" by workers to being laid off their jobs.

Post Falls family wins Gem honor

BOISE (UPI) — The Lloyd D. McEachran family of Post Falls has been chosen the District I Farmers Home Administration farm family of the year for 1973.

State FHA Director Donald L. Winder said the McEachrans will compete against the winners of three other FHA districts for the title of Idaho State Farm Family of the year.

State winners will be judged on a nationwide basis late this winter and the national winner will be awarded a trip to meet with President Nixon at the White House.

The McEachran family was chosen as the family that best exemplifies the purposes of the FHA credit to contribute a substantial economic and social contribution to their community," Winder said.

He said this family started farming under very adverse conditions with very little money, a few low-producing cows, a poor farm and a large young family of twin boys and triplet girls.

"They almost called it 'quits' several times, Winder said. Neighbors said they would never make it when they bought the farm.

But he said, with the help of FHA and other agricultural agencies the family improved the products of the farm to what is now recognized as a top-producing farm, built a dairy herd from 200 to more than 600 pounds butterfat average and is financially successful.

Number of US farms continues decline

WASHINGTON (UPI) — Continuing a long decline that began nearly four decades ago, the number of farms in the United States on Jan. 1 dropped another one per cent to an estimated 2,821,000, the Agriculture Department said today.

A similar 1 per cent decline had been reported between Jan. 1, 1972, when farm numbers were estimated at 2,870,000 and Jan. 1, 1973, when the estimate was 2,844,000.

As a result, the average farm size has been growing steadily. From an average of 332 acres per farm in 1964, average farm size rose to 383 acres in 1973 and 385 acres at the beginning of this year, the report showed. It estimated there were nearly 1,087,000 acres of land in farms on Jan. 1, 1974 compared with 1,090,000 a year earlier.

and 1,146,000 a decade earlier. The report gave no breakdown on the trend in farm numbers for big and little farms. In recent years, however, most of the loss in farm numbers has been concentrated in small and medium-size units while the number of large farms has increased.

Despite the continuing downward trend in the number of farm units, U.S. agricultural productivity has continued to increase as farms grow fewer and bigger. For 1974, agriculture officials have predicted farmers will set new all-time crop production records if adequate supplies of fuel and fertilizer are available.

The 1974 report showed there was no decline from 1973 in farm numbers in 16 states, including two of the nation's leading agricultural producers, Texas and California. The other states which had as many farms Jan. 1 as a year earlier included Alaska, Delaware, Georgia, Hawaii, Kansas, Kentucky, Minnesota, Missouri, Nevada, New Jersey, Ohio, Pennsylvania, West Virginia and Wyoming.

Farm fuel first

BOISE (UPI) — Idaho agriculture probably will get a higher priority for fuel allocation from the federal government, says Rick Brown, director of the State Office of Energy.

Brown said Monday it also appears that recreation in Idaho may be treated more as an industry for fuel allocations.

He said the state should know later this week whether agriculture will get a bigger share of fuel.

First claim
WASHINGTON — The Dominican Republic will not supply sugar to the world market until all obligations are completely fulfilled with the U.S. preferential market, Quirillo Vilorio, executive director of the National Sugar Institute has been telling the U.S. agricultural attaché in Santo Domingo.

Dominican sugar sales to the world market will probably reach about 400,000 short tons in crop year 1974, Vilorio reportedly stated.

Methane machine on trial

HARRISBURG, Pa. (UPI) — Farmers here are testing fuel under their feet they can use to fry eggs, run tractors and heat homes.

It is cow manure.

In a startling demonstration at the Pennsylvania Farm Show, cow manure is converted into methane gas used to power machines and cook eggs.

The machine was constructed by Lyndon County Agricultural Agent Glenn Miller, Assistant Agent Newton Blair and Don Harter, all of Penn. State's extension service.

Agriculture Secretary James McHale said Pennsylvania's cows could produce enough fuel to supply the natural gas needs of 210,000 people.

The machine is filled with cow manure and water. Excrement from other animals, leaves or grass also can be used. An electric heating element heats the mixture to 100 degrees.

The machine actually is a digest in which animal waste is converted into methane gas by organisms that live in heated, oxygen-free atmosphere.

The Agriculture Department said the sludge that is left over from the process is good fertilizer.

Bakers rap US failure

NEW YORK — The independent wholesalers of the United States have denounced the administration for failure to act in time to prevent a threatened shortage of bread on the shelves of the United States.

In testimony before the U.S. Tariff Commission, the bakers alluded to the minimal government efforts to remove restrictions on wheat imports which total 1 million bushels, while failing to control wheat exports which exceed 1 billion bushels.

In a separate statement received by THE TIMES-NEWS, Richard Kelly, an attorney for the association, said starting with the Russian wheat deal in 1972 the U.S. department of agriculture has shown a callous disregard for the needs of the American consumer.

Kelly stated that the U.S. has already oversold its supply of wheat and due to a worldwide scarcity of wheat there will be severe disruptions in milling and baking industries this spring with higher prices and no bread at all for the consumer in some areas.

Small crop of oranges

RIVERSIDE, Calif. — The worst orange harvest here since 1917 will put "premium quality" navel on the nation's growing list of scarcity items in 1974, according to the Riverside County agricultural commissioner.

Only about ten per cent of the normal navel Valencia orange crop is still on the trees and city of Riverside area groves, Robert Howie told the Journal of Commerce. Ninety per cent of the crop is killed by 109 degree temperatures last Memorial Day which abruptly followed "a cool spring."

Orange growers have not been this hard in 57 years when a similar heat wave was wiped out 90 per cent of the crop. Howie says the heat was so intense on Memorial Day and the change in sudden, young oranges fell from the trees.
