Nixon tape erased 5-9 times

WASHINGTON (UPI) — U.S. District Judge John A. Sirica today said the 18.5 minute tape on one of President Nixon's Watergate tape recordings was caused by "erasing and re-recording" five and perhaps as many as nine times.

Further, the experts said, the erasures had been caused by hand operation of the machine on which it was played — not by a foot pedal as Nixon's secretary, Rose Mary Woods, insisted under oath she had used while working with the tape.

The experts said there was evidence the tape had contained conversation but that there was no known way of recovering an intelligible version.

Without saying so directly, the panel of six audio experts strongly suggested in their final report on the June 20, 1972, tape that its obliteration apparently was deliberate.

"Magnetic signatures" that we have measured directly on the tape show that the buzzing sounds were put on the tape in the process of erasing and re-recording at least five, and perhaps as many as nine, separate and contiguous segments. The 18.5-minute segment could not have been produced by any single, continuous operation," the report said.

US fuel policies announced

WASHINGTON (UPI) — The government told homeowners and schools today to keep thermostats 6 degrees lower than last winter but promised all fuel users "fair and equitable treatment" in allocations.

"The basic strategy is to preserve jobs," said John Sawhill, deputy administrator of the Federal Energy Office.

New allocation rules covering heating oil, gasoline, propane, butane, kerosene and diesel fuel are intended to establish a "flexible system for allocating fuel," Sawhill said.

"Under the gasoline allocations, filling stations stand to get about 20 per cent less than their expected demand," Sawhill said.

In the average home and school, a 6-degree reduction in temperature means maintaining a 68-degree level, federal officials said. All other users of home heating oil are required to lower thermostats by 10 degrees, else they might run out of oil before winter is over.

No homeowner is going to be allowed "to freeze" and appeal procedures are included in the regulations for hardship cases, Sawhill stressed.

Sawhill said that if a homeowner consumed an inordinate amount of fuel he would be faced with government red tape in attempts to get more.

The new fuel allocation regulations became effective today with publication in the Federal Register. They also allocate gasoline, propane, kerosene and diesel fuel in these services: — Gasoline: Agriculture, transportation, emergency services, energy production industries and sanitation services get 100 per cent of their current requirement. Other businesses get 100 per cent of what they got in 1972. Gasoline stations are limited to their 1972 consumption, which means their supplies will be down about 20 per cent from current levels.

— Butane: Agriculture, petrochemical production and medical buildings get 100 per cent of current requirements. Homes get 95 per cent of what they got in 1972.

— Aviation: Business airplanes get 90 per cent of 1972 amounts of aviation gasoline. Private planes 75 per cent of 1972. Commercial airlines earlier were given 95 of the jet fuel they used in 1972.

— Propane: Agriculture, sanitation, energy production and dispensing stations get 100 per cent of current requirements. Resellers can sell bottled propane in quantities up to 15,000 gallons a year.

For the average consumer the most sweeping regulation was the nationwide allocation of heating oil at 15 per cent of what had been estimated to be the 1973-74 demand. In general that means that whatever a consumer would have used this winter he will actually get 15 per cent less.

Valley solons awaiting Andrus budget message

By DAVID ESPO
Times News Capitol Bureau

BOISE — Magic Valley lawmakers reacted with praise Monday for Gov. Cecil D. Andrus' state of the state message, but also said they wanted to see more specific proposals in the annual budget message.

Rep. Steve Antonio, R-Ruhl, said Andrus' speech was "the best speech the governor has delivered since he became governor. It was a comprehensive review of the economic situation."

Rep. Steve Antonio, R-Rupert, said Andrus had not "said too much to ripple waters. I have to agree with most of his proposals." Antonio also said he wanted a close look at the governor's suggested reduction in property taxes because of the effect it might have on some local districts.

Rep. Ralph Olmstead, R-Twin Falls, said Andrus did "an excellent job of reporting the situation as he sees it. Many of the proposals he presented I can agree with and can support fully." On other proposals, Olmstead said, he disagrees with the governor. He specifically said an academic scholarship program Andrus proposed was a "great idea."

Olmstead pointed out that athletic scholarships are distributed on the basis of athletic skill, not on the ability of the athlete to finance his own education. The same should be true for academic scholarships, the representative said.

Church seeking data on 'secret' decisions

(Times News Service)

WASHINGTON — Sen. Frank Church, D-Idaho, has alleged in letters to Secretary of State Henry A. Kissinger and Atty. Gen. William French Smith that "secret" decisions by the government have shaped the nation's energy policy for 20 years.

Last Friday, Church requested that 38 sensitive documents, written in the 1950's by the late Sen. William F. Buckley Jr., be made available to the public. He said the documents "throw light on some of the most important decisions of the post-war era."

Congressional sources said the documents showed in detail how the oil industry was exempted from certain antitrust laws by the Eisenhower administration. The reason given for the exemption, the sources said, was national security.

Church is chairman of the subcommittee on multinational corporations. The subcommittee is scheduled to hold hearings on the oil industry on Jan. 20.

Mideast plan nearly set

By United Press International

U.S. Secretary of State Henry A. Kissinger met with Israeli leaders today to try to reconcile Egyptian and Israeli plans for a separation of their forces on the Suez front, Senior U.S. officials said the two plans already were close enough to make compromise possible.

Kissinger and Israeli officials set up a special working group to draft a new proposal for troop disengagement. Israeli government officials said the group, composed of four Americans and three Israelis, planned to meet tonight and present a plan for Kissinger to take back to Egyptian President Anwar Sadat Wednesday, the officials said.

The Egyptian disengagement plan was drawn up in Aswan Monday after officials there said an Israeli proposal, which Kissinger presented was "unsatisfactory."

TF County budget near $7 million

By BONNIE BAIRD JONES
Times-News writer

TWIN FALLS — The tentative Twin Falls County budget reportedly will call for spending of just under $7 million.

County Auditor Harold Lancaster said the budget, at just under $7 million including revenue sharing funds, should be released later today.

Last year's tentative budget, including revenue sharing, totalled about $6.17 million.

The new budget will include an average salary increase of 3.0 per month per man for the 75 male employees of the sheriff's office and $40 per month for the women employees, according to Sheriff Paul Corder.

County Commission Chairman William Chancy said all women employees of the county will receive $40 per month salary increases and the commission could not give one department's women employees more than another department's women employees.

Sheriff Corder had asked for a total of $21,463 in salary increases in an attempt to bring his deputies in line with other law enforcement salary scales across the state.

The commissioners divided the salary budget for the sheriff and in a deadline meeting Monday afternoon granted $11,400 for the 15 men and $2,800 for the six women, giving Corder an opportunity to divide it.

Corder said this morning it will average $60 per man but will be divided on a basis of seniority and job assignment. This will give the chief deputy $100, the next bracket group of 3 men, $85; the next four men, $75; the next four $75; and the new four $65 each per month.

"I am pretty well pleased with the men's salary scale," Corder said today. "It gives me a step-up program with an incentive for the men to stay with the job and work up to a new salary bracket — something we have never had before."

Rock Creek park study scheduled

By DAVID HORSMAN
Times-News writer

TWIN FALLS — A study of potential parks and recreation areas along Rock Creek has been commissioned by Twin Falls County.

A team of students and a director from the University of Idaho's School of Architecture will spend "most of this summer" on the project, according to Don Zuck, chairman of the Twin Falls County Parks and Recreation Commission.

Most of the project costs will be covered by a federal grant, with the county paying for transportation and meals.

The study "will be confined to Rock Creek" from its mouth on the Snake River to its entrance into the Sawtooth National Forest south of Blanesburg, Zuck said.

"We feel that Rock Creek possesses one of the greatest potentials for future (parks and recreation) development of any area in the county," he said.

"It's a natural. It's right at Twin Falls' doorstep," Zuck added.

"The creek has a potential for nature trails, for wildlife study, for fishing and hunting and for water storage sites. Water might be impounded for fishing and canoeing."

"Of course we want a majority of it left in a natural state," Zuck said.

"We feel that if we can get the pollution cleaned up, the stream will live again. The area in the canyon is abundant with wildlife."

"A few years ago, south of the sugar factory, trout weighing five and six pounds were being caught. But today's pollution has essentially wiped out the fish population," Zuck said.

The pollution comes primarily from the Amalgamated Sugar Factory (Idaho Frozen Foods and feed lots), he said. The city of Twin Falls also discharged pollutants into Rock Creek in the past, according to Zuck.

"We hope that eventually Rock Creek Park will be a good fishing area," he said. "Right now it's producing fish but people don't feel too good about eating them."

"Although most of the Rock Creek canyon is privately owned, we do know there are certain people willing to make a gift of their land to the city or county providing there will be planned development," Zuck said.

Canyon rim fall kills TF hunter

TWIN FALLS — The body of a Twin Falls youth was discovered late Monday at the bottom of the Snake River canyon east of the Perrine Bridge.

Sheriff Paul Corder said today David Malberg, 19, was apparently killed late Sunday when he slipped and fell from the south canyon rim while hunting rabbits with a bow and arrow.

Malberg was the son of Mr. and Mrs. G. M. Malberg, Twin Falls.

Corder said the search started about 10 p.m. Sunday when the family notified his father that the youth had not returned from the hunting trip.

Malberg's body was spotted about 4:40 p.m. Monday by Pat Parrott, a member of the Twin Falls volunteer search team, as he scouted the canyon with binoculars from the Perrine Bridge, Corder said. Jerome County officers also searched.

Magie Valley Ambulance Service used a helicopter to remove the body from the canyon. Malberg was pronounced dead at the scene by Coroner Joyce Edwards.

He played the time of 6 a.m. as Sunday evening.

Edwards said the boy's father originally called for the helicopter to search the canyon. He said the family became alarmed when one of two dogs with the youth returned home without him.

Hospital board elects officers

TWIN FALLS — Robert Brackett was re-elected chairman of the Magic Valley Memorial Hospital board Monday night along with other serving board officers.

Present with him for the current year will be Clarence Hollifield, Hanson, vice chairman; Herb Thorne, Murtaugh, secretary, and Joe Savage, Kimberly, treasurer.

It was announced Dr. Vaughn Pond is now president of the medical staff, succeeding Dr. Ben Kalls who now serves on the hospital board. Dr. Roy Shaul is president-elect, Dr. Stephen Green, secretary-treasurer.

R. W. Pierce, chairman of the building committee, announced an agreement has been reached between the hospital board, manufacturer, — engineer — and — installing contractor for the complete repair or replacement of the hospital's two air conditioning units.

These have not worked satisfactorily since being installed two year ago. Pierce said the interested groups met last week and reached an agreement to the complete satisfaction of the hospital administration.

He said they will be installed and functioning by the time they are needed next summer.

Board members expressed their appreciation to the county commissioners for a statement of support of the hospital expansion plan and pending bond issue election.

"This is the first time we have had a definite statement of complete support from our county commissioners — and we feel it is the most important event in connection with the bond issue plans to date."

The board approved recommendations from James Rosenbaum for the purchase of three new washer units for the laundry at a low bid of $38,200 from G. A. Braughn Co., with offices in Salt Lake City. The firm was low bidder of five submitting offers and Rosenbaum said laundry managers liked the equipment as well as the higher cost models.

Hailey chamber opposes lighting airport runway

HAILEY — The Hailey Chamber of Commerce has joined the city planning and zoning commission in opposing installation of runway lights at the Friedman Memorial Airport, Hailey.

The chamber vote came Monday night at the unanimous request of the city with members also going on record to oppose take-offs to the north and runway extensions. Chamber member William House, who also serves on the planning and zoning commission, said runway lighting would encourage night flights. He termed these flights "hazardous to Hailey, Bellevue, the whole area" and said they would cause noise problems.

Claude Packer said the runway lighting was "not in the city of Hailey." He said, if the lights were allowed, the city may be faced with a revamping of a proposed program to extend the runway another 1,000 feet to facilitate larger planes.

During a separate, brief meeting with Blaine County Airport Commission members, Hailey Airport Commission member — Hailey Mayor Lawrence Hoelsch said the Blaine County commissioners Monday recommended a thorough study of the lighting issue.

Commission chairman C. W. (Andy) Gardner read a letter from Idaho Civil Aeronautics Director Darrell Manning, stating that the Federal Aviation Administration may approve the lighting but the county airport commission must first initiate and endorse the project.

The commissioners recommended that further input be obtained from all interested parties.

Gas price up at Valley

VALLEY SCHOOLS — Rising fuel costs headed the agenda of the Valley School Board meeting Monday night.

Kermit Douglas, bus contractor for the district, said gas prices have risen 10 cents per gallon since school started and trustees agreed to his request to pay for the increased cost.

William Mitchell, high school principal, and Bryce Sorenson, elementary school principal, were re-elected for the 1974-75 school year.

Don Lowman, American Family Life

Assurance Co., explained the cancer care insurance program now available to school board members.

Parents of two children now attending the Hazelton kindergarten asked trustees to have the school buses pick up their children.

The cost of fuel is up 15 cents in a gallon and the bus use about 600 gallons a week.

The increase represents a $1,710 increase in gasoline costs for the remainder of the school year, assuming gasoline

Gooding school bus costs up

GOODING — The cost of running school buses in the Gooding School District has increased $90 per week, bus contractor Willie Cheney reported to the Gooding school trustees Monday night.

The increase has occurred since the beginning of the school year, Cheney said.

He met with the trustees to request a revision in the bus contract to include the increases due mainly to the higher cost of gasoline. He said the cost of fuel is up 15 cents in a gallon and the bus use about 600 gallons a week.

The increase represents a $1,710 increase in gasoline costs for the remainder of the school year, assuming gasoline

Shoshone bus route eliminated by board

By MELBA THORNE Times-News Writer

SHOSHONE — Shoshone school trustees voted to eliminate one bus route Monday night because of the increased cost per student.

Suppl. Kenneth Crothers said the Shoshone district is 10th from the top in the state in cost per student of bus operation.

The district had six buses and one stationwagon, all under contract for operation and maintenance to Martin and Peugh, Shoshone, to transport 150 students. Clayton Peugh met with trustees Monday night to work out the agreement.

The bus route being eliminated had 24 students, and they will be divided between two other buses to the north Shoshone area, now carrying 23 and 23 students respectively, Crothers said.

In other business, trustees: — Approved adult business courses to be taught by Ed Anderson. Registration was held Monday night for beginning typing, French, typing and office practice. Cost of the 15-session two hour classes will be $1 per class.

— Appointed board members Bernie Ray Webb, E. B. Sares and Donald Runnels to the regulation committee to work with a committee from the local Idaho Education Association unit to work out salaries and other contract agreements.

— Decided to increase the cost of school lunch 5 cents, making the cost 40 cents for elementary students and 45 cents for secondary students. The increase will become effective Feb. 21.

— Voted to advertise for a new 30-passenger bus. Bids will be opened at the Feb. 11 meeting.

— Set a recessed meeting for Jan. 22.

Arson report studied

BURLEY — An arson investigation report received this week concerning an October fire at the Burley Junior High School will have to be studied before a decision on possible prosecution is made, the Cassia County prosecuting attorney said Monday.

The investigation was begun in November by the Idaho Department of Law Enforcement at the request of Cassia County School District officials. The fire gutted the junior high school in less than four hours on October 30.

"I can't say it's arson and I can't say it isn't arson at this point," prosecuting attorney Gordon Nielson said.

Nielson said he had not read the entire document yet and planned to question witnesses under oath who had been interviewed by the state before making a decision on possible prosecution. No preliminary hearing on alleged arson in the fire has been held, he said, despite local rumors that there had been.

The fire apparently started in an open space between the second and third floors of the building near the girls' lavatory, according to Burley Fire Chief Douglas Shill.

Following the fire Shill said there was "not enough left of the building" to determine if arson was involved, but that any investigation into possible arson would have to be based on questioning of students.

Fresno Junior College, established in 1910, was the first junior college in California, according to the California Teachers Association.

TF hospital adopts abortion policy

By BONNIE BAIRD JONES
Times-News Writer

TWIN FALLS— Magic Valley Memorial Hospital trustees unanimously adopted a liberalized abortion policy Monday night.

The policy would permit abortions during the first three months of pregnancy on the recommendation of a physician and on the request or with the consent of the patient.

Attorney Fred Decker said the policy will bring the hospital policy into line with the state law in Idaho and the U. S. Supreme Court ruling on abortions.

The policy becomes effective immediately and will permit staff physicians of the hospital to perform abortions under specific procedural regulations.

However, the policy states any employee or physician objecting to performing or assisting such operations may be eliminated from the program by filing a written objection with the hospital administration.

"For a woman in the first trimester, the abortion regulation requires the doctor to consult with the patient to determine if the operation is 'appropriate.' The doctor considers such factors as, but not limited to, physical, emotional, psychological and family factors, whether the child would be born with mental or physical defects, if the pregnancy resulted from rape, incest or other felonious intercourse, and whether the girl is under 16 years of age.

In the second trimester the same factors apply as in the first. In addition, the physician must judge termination of pregnancy to be in the best medical interest of the patient.

In the third trimester the opinion of the physician must be corroborated by a similar opinion from a consulting physician and must be necessary either to save the life of the mother or the doctor must concur the infant would not survive if delivered.

The regulation permits any staff physician—otherwise qualified to practice at the hospital—to perform the abortion with consent of the patient, and when required by law, consent of others.

In the past, abortions were permitted at Magic Valley Memorial Hospital only if the life or mental state of the mother required it.

Attorney Decker recommended the hospital not go into sterilization procedures at this time. He said there is a good chance a new Supreme Court ruling will be forthcoming and the hospital will then need to adopt a specific procedure.

The policy approved Monday night along with abortion regulations states no sterilization procedure whatever may be performed, whether pursuant to a court order or not, unless the hospital board has given specific authorization after a full investigation.

No sterilizations involving a minor shall require any physician or employ who objects to such sterilization on grounds of religion or moral grounds if a written objection is filed with the administration.

Galena opening set at noon

SHOSHONE Galena summit on Highway 93 north of Ketchikan is expected to be open by noon today, after being closed by blizzard conditions Monday.

District highway officials at Shoshone said highway crews with heavy trucks were working this morning on the summit where 18 inches of snow fell over the weekend. It was still snowing and blowing late Monday.

Highway officials also reported a snowslide on Highway 93 between the summit and Stanley, Monday, but it was cleared and that

Jerome aides to select architect

JEROME — The Jerome School Board will select an architect to design a proposed high school at a special meeting Thursday.

Lyle Van Orman, chairman, said Monday night the trustees are considering the architectural firm of Johnstone, Prohart and Gowland, Payette and Ivan Stone, Twin Falls.

The two firms have been selected for consideration from nine architectural firms who sent representatives to meet with the trustees during the past week.

The Jerome School Board will tour the high schools at Filer and Kimberly today. Both of them were designed by the Payette firm. They will also visit buildings in Twin Falls which were designed by Stone.

A special meeting will be conducted at 4 p.m. Thursday to decide which architectural firm will be retained by the district.

In other school business Monday night, a letter from Dan McCanta, manager of the Boise field office of the Public Employees Retirement System, was read. In the letter, he commended the school district for its accurate handling and record keeping of retirement deductions for the district's teachers. McCanta said he could find no fault in the procedures used during a recent audit of the district's books.

A letter from Carol

Robertson, Jerome Education Association, was read. The letter asked the board to consider paying the teacher's portion for Blue Cross Health Insurance. The district now pays one dollar per teacher.

Van Orman said it would cost the district about $18,000 to pay for the teachers' Blue Cross insurance. "I don't feel we can give the teachers a raise along with paying the Blue Cross. If we assume the Blue Cross payments, it could be incorporated as part of the raise," Van Orman said.

Mrs. Forrest Hymas pointed out that the matter would not be brought before the board until the budget was decided on several months from now.

Approval was granted a request by Superintendent John B. Campbell to amend the budget in order to transfer $38,000 from the reserve fund to capital outlay. Campbell said the fund transfer is needed to pay for the new north building addition to the junior high as well as furniture for the new structure.

The budget was also amended to transfer $48,000 to the emergency fund money to the general fund. Campbell reported that the new addition to the junior high is complete, but that the furniture is somewhere between the Mississippi and Salt Lake City.

"When the furniture arrives, we will start conducting three eighth grade science classes in the new building. This will help alleviate the over-crowded conditions that now exist in these classes," Campbell said.

He noted that Mrs. Betty Johnston, 25, who holds a BA in biology and chemistry, will be hired as an extra science teacher.

Campbell said the new building will also be used for seventh, eighth and ninth grade lunch as well as varsity and junior high wrestling.

Campbell reported that some difficulty has developed in finding funding for the Appleton School project. "The Governor's Council turned down our application for funding on the proposed school for physically handicapped children," Campbell said. The state only receives $72,000 a year in federal funds for such projects and has 100 applications for on-going projects. "However, other agencies we have contacted for funds have indicated favorable consideration," Campbell said.

Class openings

FILER — There are still openings in most of the Filer Community Education Programs which are beginning this week, according to Mrs. Roy Watson.

Classes in cooking, sewing, mechanical repairs, physical education and others are being conducted under qualified instructors at the high school and elementary school. There is still time for interested persons to enroll in the classes, most of which will continue for six to eight weeks.

Further information on any of the classes may be obtained by contacting Mrs. Watson.

Utah Symphony sets concerts

TWIN FALLS — The Utah Symphony will present two performances in Twin Falls tonight and Wednesday morning, both in the College of Southern Idaho Fine Arts Auditorium.

The appearance here of the orchestra, which is one of the outstanding symphony groups in the country, is sponsored by the district's Junior Music Clubs.

Concert times are 8 p.m. today and 10:30 a.m. Wednesday.

Tonight's public concert, under the direction of Maurice Abravanel, will include Mozart's "Marriage of Figaro," considered one of the most delightful overtures in the repertoire. First performed in Vienna, May 1, 1786, the comic opera is based on a comedy of 18th-century France which first was banned by the emperor because of its "immorality."

Highlight of the performance will be Beethoven's "Symphony No. 3 in E Flat Major," known as the "Eroica," said to be the favorite of the composer's nine symphonies. The work is the first piece of music Beethoven composed that has a really profound and important spiritual content, according to a biographer, J. N. Sullivan.

The occasion of the symphony appears to have been the career of Napoleon whom the composer first admired. But when the composer learned that his hero had forsaken his former ideals, he retracted the dedication, which, in the title page of the original manuscript, bore the word Bonaparte.

When the symphony was published in October, 1806, the title merely said it was to celebrate the memory of a great man.

The orchestra also will play Prokofiev's "Symphony No. 1 in C Sharp Minor," first performed Oct. 11, 1932. It is the composer's reflection on life and memories of a long-past childhood and includes fantasies, toy marches and mischievous dances. Prokofiev first thought of writing a symphony for a children's radio broadcast.

4 TF girls injured

TWIN FALLS — Four girls were treated and released from Magic Valley Memorial Hospital this morning following a minor traffic accident.

Debbie Canfield, 12, and her sisters, Heidi, 9, Holly, 7, and Judi, 5, were taken to the hospital in a squad car about 7:45 a.m. this morning along with their mother, Jane Lucille Canfield, 32, Twin Falls, after Mrs. Canfield's vehicle hit a car which pulled in front of it on Main Ave. West.

None of the girls was seriously injured. The driver of the second car, Martha Jane Lyon, 54, Twin Falls, received a bump on the head but was not treated, according to investigating officers.

Gooding staff adds 1

GOODING — Robert Snow, a mental health worker, is the latest addition to the Department of Environmental and Community Services (DECS) staff at the former Gooding TB Hospital.

Snow, who began work Monday, will be providing mental health services in Gooding, Camas, and Lincoln counties; for both assistance and non-assistance families. Some of the services available will include counseling and group and individual therapy, Snow said.

Before his employment with DECS, Snow was a child welfare worker in Redding, Calif. He had had experience in adolescent group therapy, family group counseling, foster home supervision and school consultation.

During his schooling, he worked at the Utah State Hospital and the Utah State Penitentiary. Snow received his master's degree in social work from the University of Utah in 1972.

He and his wife and three children live in Gooding.

Legislative priorities

Governor Andrus' State of the State address Monday stressed two areas of concern to the state's citizens.

He asked the Idaho Legislature to provide tax reductions in several categories and he stressed the need for land use planning.

1973 was a boom year for Idaho, which has pushed state tax revenues higher than predictions.

Under these circumstances, with an overflowing state treasury, the tax reduction suggestion is well founded.

The method of reduction suggested by Andrus has merit, particularly his request for a further shift away from the local property tax to support schools.

The governor's argument that a land-use planning process be implemented at the state level has merit and should be supported by legislators.

Rickover returns

SALT LAKE TRIBUNE - Salt Lake Tribune

It is sometimes sound military strategy to retire and lick your wounds after suffering a small defeat, while waiting a chance to achieve victory...

He has chosen the energy crisis as the staging area for a new attack on the Navy's fleet of conventionally powered ships.

Rickover is still battling against fremontians odds. After a recent review, prompted by oil shortages, the Navy has again concluded its fleet modernization needs are for a large number of ships.

Rickover has found a strong rebuttal, however, in the rising cost of bunker fuel. In September the Navy estimated that if fuel costs rose to $10 a barrel it would cost about $15 million a year to operate a conventional air craft carrier.

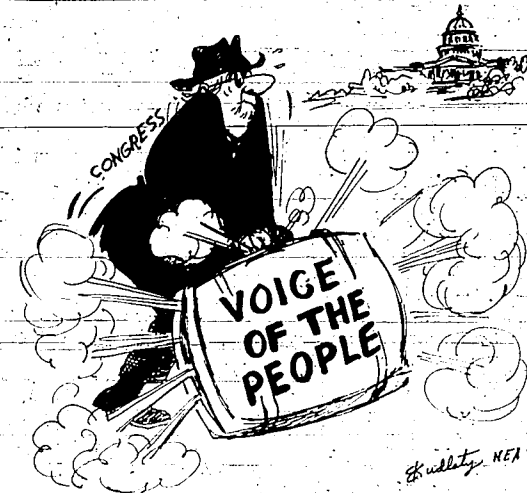

With the operation costs of a nuclear carrier estimated at $7 million annually, the operational cost differential is narrow as the oil crisis deepens.

Rickover and his allies say the superior endurance, speed, versatility and firepower of nuclear powered larger ships are needed to meet the Soviet naval threat.

With the cost of bunker fuel going up it becomes easier to find the high costs of a fully nuclear-powered surface fleet less awesome.

How come the Americans can go to have an energy czar and we don't?

Bringing Back His Homework

Never, never or never?

Some will never make it. All the talk about enforcing the 55 mile-per-hour speed limit should be taken in the light of what usually happens when, say, the limit was 70 miles an hour.

When it was 70, we never made a trip anywhere out of town but what a majority of the traffic - trucks, big cars and small cars, buses and what have you - passed us. And we were extremely careful to stay as close to the limit as possible.

What we are getting at is the only way to enforce the 55 mile an hour limit is to throw the book at those who exceed it!

A FREE DINNER Fire Chief Bobby Bopp would skin us alive for telling this one, but we believe it should be told just because it was so nice a thing to do - what Mr. Bopp did, we mean.

We were able to gather a letter which was secreted from Chief Bopp without his knowledge. Unlawful to do such a thing? Well, not really, because the letter was only borrowed, not stolen.

In one event it was a note from Douglas C. Conroy of Los Angeles, a member of one of the larger law firms in that community. Seem as though Mr. and Mrs. Bopp, just before Christmas, were driving south on Highway 99 when they spotted a car off the route. They turned around at Berger and came back to help, discovering that Mr. Conroy and his son had but little time to get to the Twin Falls Airport to catch a plane-for-home. But their rental car was off the road. So Mr. and Mrs. Bopp put the father, son and suitcases into their car and sped for the airport. They made the flight and the Conroy's got home.

Energy move brings worry

BY JACK C. LINDAU (E) Newsweek News Service WASHINGTON -- The energy crisis has put the environmental law movement in a quandary.

Conservationist lawyers fear the drive for more coal, oil, natural gas and electricity will cause legislatures and courts to undermine tough anti-pollution standards.

As evidence, they cite anti-pollution defeats in Alaska, California, Florida, New York City and Washington, D. C.

But the environmentalists - at least initially - are savoring "the kind of victories we didn't even dare dream about - a 25 per cent cut in auto traffic in Sanquidrian, Los Angeles," says Gus Speth, of the Natural Resources Defense Council.

Peter Crane, a lawyer with the environmental law Reporter, says most environmentalists' fears so far are unfounded.

Now that the energy crisis will be considered "an essential consideration of national policy" justifying despoliation of the environment.

KGB pushes hard line

WASHINGTON — When news of the arrest of Lee Harvey Oswald for the assassination of President Kennedy reached Soviet leaders and the boss of the KGB, the vast Soviet secret police apparatus, a member was dispatched from Moscow to Minsk by the Kremlin.

The purpose: to retrieve Oswald's secret dossier in the KGB's office in Minsk (where Oswald had lived before returning to the U.S. in June, 1962) and fly it to Moscow for inspection.

As it turned out, to the Kremlin's relief - according to KGB defector Yuri Nosenko's version in a new book on Soviet secret intelligence - the file showed no link.

Nevertheless, this association between KGB and Oswald was another near-miss when the independent operation of the mighty Soviet secret police threatened disruption of world peace against the Kremlin's announced policy - a danger more prevalent in today's era of détente.

Writes author John Barron, "Nosenko states that two panels of psychiatrists independently examined Oswald at KGB behest and each concluded that, though not insane, he was abnormal. Accordingly, the KGB ordered that Oswald be watched but not recruited."

Oswald returned to the U.S. in June, 1962, then sought entry to the Soviet Union via the Soviet embassy in Cuba in September, 1963. When the KGB blocked his return, he went to Dallas.

That episode is brought to light in Barron's authoritative expose of the International spy network "KGB: The Secret Work of Soviet Secret Agents" (Reader's Digest Press) is the first definitive study of this foreign espionage and internal state police apparatus written with assistance of western governments, including the U.S., West Germans, Dutch and British.

The reason for this help is in itself significant. After years of shrouding Soviet spying, Western governments realize little national security is involved. Obviously, KGB has all the threads of its own operations and would learn nothing from disclosure.

There is a more ominous reason for the desire by Western security agencies to have more information made public on KGB operations. This is the fact that KGB, confronting internal resistance to the Communist system arising from the Kremlin's policy of détente and expanding contacts with the West, is growing larger, more oppressive and more dangerous.

Every Kremlinologist knows of the KGB's deep penetration into Soviet life. But disturbing questions about its Kremlin influence are raised by Barron's study.

Thus, on Sept. 6, 1964, Barron writes, KGB agents fired a poison-pistol at a West German technician, sent from Bonn to "cleanse" the Soviet bid for détente. Within five weeks, Khrushchev was fired. Detente was delayed for nearly six years.

The connection between the event in Moscow and Khrushchev's downfall is conjectural. KGB's power to thwart Khrushchev's step toward detente was indisputably clear. That is one of Barron's chilling conclusions: KGB, pushing the hardest line, has an impact all its own on Kremlin actions abroad.

Yet, argues Barron, it carries total immunity. "Disarmament of the KGB would remove the very foundations of Soviet society," he writes, "foundations laid by Lenin more than half a century ago."

THOSTESON, M.D. Normal bulk in diet good

Dear Dr. Thosteson: I have diverticulitis and have been told not to eat fresh fruits and vegetables. I have also been told that wheat germ and corn-bread and also lettuce and tomato salad which has always been a main part of my meals.

Diverticulitis merely indicates the presence of small pouches in the intestinal wall. These often cause no trouble at all.

Diverticulitis (note the last four letters) means that the pouches have become irritated and inflamed.

There was a time, some years ago, when it was taken for granted that a bland, low-residue diet was the correct thing for either condition.

Experience has shown that this was not the right answer. A normal amount of bulk is preferable with diverticulitis, as well as being necessary for good intestinal function.

Dear Dr. Thosteson: I am 72 and have several things wrong, such as heart trouble, diabetes and high blood pressure. My left arm and side of my face and ear have a burning feeling all the time. What causes this? Is there such a thing as diabetes neuritis? - B. H.

That's a question I can't answer because so many things can cause that kind of trouble. Yes, there certainly is such a thing as diabetic neuritis, but you'll have to let your doctor decide whether that is your trouble.

'When' question (C) New York Times Service WASHINGTON - Fifteen years after the first American combat troops entered South Vietnam, the American intelligence community is telling, the President that the question is still when, not whether - North Vietnam is going to launch a major offensive against the south.

According to intelligence sources and administration officials, the formal position of the intelligence community, as embodied in a policy paper, is that the chances are slightly less than 50-50 that Hanoi will strike in a big way in the next six months.

But the informal positions of analysts in the Central Intelligence Agency, the Defense Intelligence Agency and the State Department - very significantly on both sides from that formal posture, in fact, most intelligence officers believe that the odds are not slightly but significantly less than 50-50 that North Vietnam will mount a big offensive in this dry season in Vietnam.

White House 'plot' unfolds

(U) Chicago Daily News — WASHINGTON — The White House secretly plotted in 1972 to swing multi-million dollar federal grants for maximum political support of President Nixon's re-election, Senate investigators revealed today.

Frederic W. Malek, who is now deputy budget director, took charge of mobilizing the government departments and agencies on behalf of the President's second term, according to White House documents.

Malek reported to H. R. (Bob) Haldeman, Nixon's former chief of staff, that he had talked with each cabinet officer and heads of six agencies on how to "make re-election support the top priority" in 1972.

He claimed credit for switching a $2.2 million Labor Department grant for a program to help a Nixon group despite the agency's earlier decision that a rival organization had the "best proposal."

Malek also indicated he persuaded William Brown, then chairman of the Equal Employment Opportunities Commission (EEOC) not to file a suit charging the University of Texas with discrimination in faculty hiring.

In confidential-eyes only June, 1972, report to Haldeman, Malek talked about forming a "political network" in each federal department with a top official, usually the undersecretary, who would be the "political contact" for his program.

Key states, counties and voting blocs wooed by the Nixon forces were identified so federal contracts, grants and other U. S. aid could be funneled to them and withheld from areas that were not likely to vote for the president anyway.

Demo probes documents

The subcommittee already has obtained the classified documents, which are said to include accounts of action taken during National Security Council meetings at the White House, as well as confidential correspondence between oil company officials and John Foster Dulles, former secretary of state.

The documents are said to explain how seven large United States oil companies were allowed to form a consortium to produce oil in Iran. They also show how the anti-trust legislation was tailored to allow the use of foreign and national security to permit control of Middle East oil by the seven major companies, a source said.

Among the documents that the Justice Department was asked to declassify is a 1964 report from the attorney general to the National Security Council entitled "a grand jury investigation of the international oil cartel."

Another of the documents is a 1963 memorandum about a conference between a Justice Department official and state department and defense department officials about Middle East oil.

Two documents which Church asked the state department to declassify are from the National Security Council to the attorney general, involving "participation of petroleum companies in international consortium to contract with the government of Iran," and "United States policy toward Iran."

"The cold war was used as a reason for exempting the big oil companies from the anti-trust laws at the production level," a source said.

"It was to keep Iran out of the hands of the Communists. This is a precursor of the problems we're having now."

Critics complain that the nation's largest oil companies have been allowed immunity from various laws and government regulations, giving them extraordinary power to control markets.

Commission orders hearings

WASHINGTON (UPI) — The Consumer Product Safety Commission has ordered hearings on whether a million electric frying pans and 33,000 gasoline-powered chain saws are hazardous.

The frying pans were identified as Presto brand 13-inch size, model No. FP-15AD and FP-15B. The chainsaws are the McCulloch No. 14 "Mini Line" series.

In both cases, the commission said, there is a difference of opinion as to how serious the problem is and the panel has decided to turn the matter over to an administrative law judge to decide.

It said people might receive electric shocks from the pans and the saws may leak gasoline. No injuries have been reported from either product.

Oil facts don't jibe

WASHINGTON (UPI) — Federal energy chief William E. Simon says some oil products are more plentiful now than a year ago but that the situation could get worse.

Consumer activist Ralph Nader says that kind of reasoning may have caused the energy crisis, in the first place.

Sen. William Proxmire, D-Wis., who heard both views, says Congress probably is to sort out the contradictions and inadequacies of information about oil.

Proxmire held a day's hearing Monday in his Subcommittee on Priorities and Economy in Government, part of the Joint Economic Committee. He will hold another session next Monday on the same topic.

"To a certain extent," Simon said, "the plain logic of a shortage has been confused by seemingly contradictory facts — primarily very favorable inventory position at year end."

Some oil products, he said, are more plentiful now than a year ago when the clamor of "crisis" was less.

"This is due to unusually warm weather through the winter to date, the effect of conservation by the American people, and leakage of the Arab embargo," Simon said.

"The result has been increased inventories." "However," he said, "these can be misleading. As of Dec. 29, the American Petroleum Institute reported we have only slightly over 30 days' supply of the major petroleum products. The shortage caused by a fully effective embargo will quickly reduce these to dangerously low levels unless we act quickly to reduce demand and equitably allocate the available supplies."

Nader said Simon is giving the industry line about dangerously low levels that "the entire upper echelon of Mr. Simon's corps is industry-oriented," and that if the federal government were to announce a shortage of stocks there would be a "panic."

Nader said Simon said at the hearing they did not know exactly what figures he had in mind concerning "increased inventories." The American Petroleum Institute has said it has stocks of crude oil for the week ending Jan. 4 totaled 238,500,000 barrels compared with 242,500,000 barrels Jan. 5, 1973. It said stocks of automotive gasoline were down in the same period from 213,450,000 to 208,980,000 barrels.

Simon is asking oil companies for regular reporting on inventories.

4,300 service stations close

By United Press International — More than 4,300 service stations have closed across the United States since the start of the energy crisis, according to industry estimates.

A nationwide spot check by United Press International today showed that the gasoline station closings were not confined to any one area of the country.

The UPI survey found that the fuel shortage led to as many as 500 filling station closings in Chicago alone.

The American Petroleum Institute (API) in Washington, D.C., said no one really knows how many gas stations have been forced out of business because of the fuel shortage, but he said the rate of station closings shot up 90 per cent nationwide during the first six months of 1973. At the same time, the number of new stations opening up dropped by 20 per cent between 1972 and 1973.

The hardest hit areas appeared to be Las Angeles and Chicago.

Lundberg Survey, Inc., of North Hollywood, Calif., reported 1,074 gasoline stations in Los Angeles County have closed

Army's program ruled 'illegal'

WASHINGTON (UPI) — The Army's program for combating drug abuse among the military in Europe has been ruled illegal because it ignored the constitutional rights of soldiers.

In a decision handed down Monday, U.S. District Court Judge Gerhard A. Gesell ordered the Defense Department to abandon the program at once and withdraw the circulars and orders issued.

The Pentagon had no immediate comment on the ruling.

The ruling came in a case brought by the American Civil Liberties Union and the Lawyers Military Defense Committee on behalf of 18 GIs ranging from private to sergeant and all other U.S. enlisted men in Europe up to the rank of sergeant.

Key student testifies

CLEVELAND (UPI) — Dean Kahler, one of nine students wounded in the Kent State University shootings, Monday said the federal grand jury investigating the incident was not "pulling any punches."

"Kahler, 23, now a junior at the university, has been confined to a wheelchair since the May 4, 1970, shooting incident in which four other students in a crowd demonstrating against the U.S. invasion of Cambodia were killed by Ohio National Guard rifle fire.

The jury is "doing what they have to do," Kahler said after testifying, "and if part of that process is no indictments I'll take it as it stands. I'm not bitter now, and I don't see why I should be bitter later. I don't think they're pulling any punches."

Hughes charges fraud

LAS VEGAS, Nev. (UPI) — A federal grand jury Monday indicted John Meier, a former scientific aide to Howard Hughes, and three others on charges of conspiracy and evading taxes on millions of dollars from the sale of mining claims to the billionaire.

Hughes has charged, "in a civil suit, that he was defrauded."

"The indictment involves sales of mining claims to the Hughes Tool Co. exceeding $8 million," said U.S. Attorney Devote Heaton.

The defendants, the government charged, diverted about $4.8 million into foreign firms, and the gum wound up on their books as "profits which properly were exempt from taxation as income and would not be reported as taxable income in the United States."

The Internal Revenue Service said the three prepared false individual and partnership income tax returns and set up corporations, trusts and bank accounts in foreign countries with the money from the mining claim sales.

The others indicted were Anthony Hatis, 47, Salt Lake City, president of the Toledo Mining Co.; James D. Crowley, 45, a Salt Lake City attorney who has represented Hatis since 1966, and Robert Kahan, 59, a Los Angeles accountant.

The IRS alleged that Meier reported his 1969 income as just under $57,000, with a tax bill of $23,000, while he actually took in more than $1.7 million and should have paid more than $1.3 million in taxes. For 1970, the IRS charged, Meier paid about $13,000 in taxes on an income of around $42,000, while he actually made so much he should have paid $1.3 million in '69, '70.

Hatis received $150,000 from a Swiss bank in 1970 and 1971, the indictment said, and $50,000 in cash.

The Hughes Tool Co., then Hughes' main operating arm, reportedly paid $18 million to $20 million for about 2,700 mining claims in Nevada in the late 1960s, with Meier serving as its consultant.

Hughes filed suit in Salt Lake City against Meier and seven others last year, charging the firm had paid exorbitant prices for the claims and been defrauded. Hughes demanded more than $8 million in damages.

Recruiting goals met

WASHINGTON (UPI) — For the second month in a row the Army met its recruiting goals in December, increasing his all-volunteer force will succeed.

In December the Army attracted 102 per cent of the recruits it set out to get. It made 104 per cent in November. In the nine previous months since the all-volunteer force began, the Army had never achieved its recruiting goals. It topped 90 per cent only once.

Nixon's doctor orders checkup

WASHINGTON (UPI) — President Nixon's doctor says a brief physical examination shows him to be in good health, but he wants the President to undergo a complete checkup which Nixon recently postponed.

Dr. Walter Tkach, an Army brigadier general, gave the President the brief checkover Monday and said Nixon's heart is in good condition, his pulse normal and his chest clear.

Tkach said he wanted to talk to Nixon Tuesday about taking the comprehensive physical examination that Nixon postponed several days before Christmas.

"He seemed good to me today," the doctor told reporters, conceding that Nixon may appear weary "because he's not getting enough sleep because of his frequent postponements."

Watergate scandal may "take his toll in his appearance by reflecting fatigue."

Asked if Nixon was seeing a psychiatrist, Tkach replied: "Hell no. You can't get a psychiatrist to see you without someone knowing about it. You can't stop a leak."

Skylab 3 astronauts set record space time

HOUSTON (UPI) — The Skylab 3 astronauts Monday set a record for time spent in space, surpassing the Skylab 2 mark of 59 days, 11 hours, 9 minutes and 4 seconds. They planned to stay aloft for 84 days, a figure likely to stand for decades.

Astronauts Gerald P. Carr, Edward G. Gibson and William R. Pogue had made 858 orbits of the earth and traveled a total distance of 24,241,000 miles when they set the record at 9:10 p.m.

The 8-month old, 100-ton space ship suffered only one "worrisome" problem — a that caused a persistently out-of-controlling gyroscope. The gyro slowed momentarily again Monday night but planners were not

Lower speeds cut death toll

WASHINGTON (UPI) — The highway automobile death toll in November dropped by as much as 20 per cent in states that lowered the speed limit to conserve fuel, a government survey showed Monday.

When all states conform to the nationwide 55 mile-an-hour speed limit signed by President Nixon earlier this month, the yearly death toll could be cut by 5,000 persons, said James B. Gregory, head of the National Highway Traffic Safety Administration.

But Gregory warned that this decrease in auto deaths could be offset because of increased use of motorcycles and bicycles, a growth in small car usage and the possible effects of car pooling. Deaths in these areas could rise from 1,000 to 2,000 persons, he said.

The insurance Institute for Highway Safety reported meanwhile that it would be expected to conclude that reduced traffic deaths during the Christmas and New Year holidays were a side effect of the energy crisis. The private group said such figures are "uncomplicated because holidays are, by definition, not typical of other periods."

According to Gregory, an analysis from it states that voluntarily reduced highway speed limits in November showed a drop in fatalities of 15 to 20 per cent below November, 1972.

The 34 other states whose drivers were not legally required to cut highway speeds in November showed a decrease in fatalities of only 3 per cent.

But Gregory claimed "a part of the 2 per cent drop" could be attributed to drivers who voluntarily reduced speeds and the overall cut in auto travel brought about by the gasoline shortage.

Gregory also said "significant reduction" in fatalities over Thanksgiving, Christmas and New Year's holidays was "further evidence that the lower highway speeds and some reduction in highway travel are paying off in highway safety."

In 1973, 57,000 Americans died in highway accidents. At some point in 1974, the United States will record its two millionth highway death since the turn of the century.

But Gregory said "assuming that all states pass and conscientiously enforce the reduced speed limits, we hope for as many as 8,000 fewer automobile fatalities in 1974.

Shutdown reduces production

UNFINISHED automobile chassis sit on a idle assembly line at Ford Motor Co. plant at Mahwah, N. J., after it was shut down for a week to reduce production of slow-selling big cars. About 3,000 workers were laid off but all will be recalled when production resumes on Jan. 21, (UPI)

The fifth goal, according to Dr. Ray's report, would be research and development on such renewable resources as solar, geothermal and hydroelectric energy and long-term research on fusion power.

About 9 per cent of the total research effort would fall in this fifth category.

Conservation of energy and energy resources by more efficient use.

- Increases in domestic production of oil and gas.
- Substitution of coal for oil and gas by a variety of means including transformation of coal into liquid or gaseous fuel.
- Further development of nuclear power, including the breeder reactor that would greatly expand available nuclear fuel materials.

US energy research focuses on coal

WASHINGTON (UPI) — The administration will propose spending about $1.6 billion for energy research and development during the next fiscal year, with the heaviest new emphasis on greater use of coal, according to government officials.

That spending level, which is more than 75 per cent above current programs, would mark the first year of a long-term effort aimed at ushering in a new era in energy in which the United States would be far less dependent on supplies of oil and other natural fuels than it is now.

Proposed budget figures for the fiscal year 1975, beginning Oct. 1, will not be released until later this month. Government officials have made it clear that energy research and development will follow basically the five-year, $10 billion program outlined in a report to the president last month by Dr. Day Lee Ray, chairman of the Atomic Energy Commission.

The differences will be in detail, officials said. For example, they said, there will be more emphasis on coal than is called for in Dr. Ray's report.

Such plans mark a return to a stronger emphasis on federally sponsored research after several years of relative decline.

Just how much of the sharp rise in energy funding will be offset by cuts in other areas, however, remains to be seen.

In another recent administration initiative—the effort against cancer—other science projects were held down to a degree that roughly balanced the increase that went to cancer.

One federal official said the energy program would certainly make more jobs for engineers, scientists and other technologically trained persons. But he foresees greater emphasis on retaining existing manpower than on training large numbers of new people. Everyone recalls unhappily the surplus in highly trained aerospace technical manpower that developed when the space program was cut back.

The ultimate objective is to make the United States self-sufficient in energy, a goal that has been announced by President Nixon. Dr. Ray's report, however, does not contend that research and development can accomplish that goal by the President's target date, 1980.

That report recommends, over the five-year period, roughly equal efforts on four fundamental research and development tasks and substantial, although lesser effort on a fifth. The first four goals are:

Federal study says US short 30,000 doctors

WASHINGTON (UPI) — Despite a recent prediction by the Nixon administration's top medical officials that the nation may be able to have an surplus of doctors, unpublished federal estimates of the current shortage at 30,000 physicians.

Such studies made by the National Institutes of Health indicate that even if ever a dozen more doctors are added, it will be about a dozen years before a balance is struck between the supply of physicians and the nation's demand for them.

Further, the studies estimate that the number of practicing physicians who are graduates of foreign medical schools. As many as 164,000 may be working in the United States by 1990, more than double the current total.

Foreign medical graduates are stimulating increasing controversy in the health field because many are considered by health experts to be less well trained as compared with graduates of American and Canadian medical schools. Yet the foreign graduates are being relied upon increasingly to staff hospitals.

Almost 40 per cent of the physicians employed by American hospitals are foreign medical graduates. In West Virginia, as one of the states reports, "all staff physicians in the five state mental hospitals and the one institution for the mentally retarded in that state are foreign medical graduates—over 80 per cent of whom are not fully licensed."

In addition, according to one study in preparation, perhaps as many as 3,300 unlicensed foreign school graduates are practicing medicine in the United States without the approval of the state authorities.

The studies, which collectively run to more than 1,100 pages, were either made or conducted for the division of manpower intelligence of the health institutes. Copies were made available to the New York Times upon request.

In a study—determined estimates of future needs for doctors and the national supply, it was predicted that supply and demand would not even out until the period 1985-90, when the total would be about 550,000 or almost 200,000 more doctors than there are today.

The estimates assume that some form of national health insurance will be in operation, which will increase the demand for doctors, and that a sensible ratio will be 100 family care physicians for every 100,000 Americans. This ratio is widely used by health maintenance organizations as a proper balance.

However, if the current national average of 159 per 100,000 were used, a case could be made that there might be a shortage of 91,000 family care physicians today.

Lolo Pass stays shut

LEWISTON, Idaho (UPI) — Lolo Pass on the Idaho-Montana border is going to stay closed until it is safe for travel, an Idaho Department of Highway Safety spokesman said Monday.

The 28-mile highway, 12 about 156 miles east of here, was closed due to slides Sunday.

District Engineer Marvin Lorenson said five slides have come down from the roadway, blocking travel over it.

January big time for sales

January is big sale time and, faced with racks and racks of "bargains," it can be hard to know what's a good buy and what isn't.

Here are some tips from Glamour Magazine on the sales you'll be seeing advertised in the local papers.

An ad for a "special purchase" sale means the items are not the store's regular merchandise marked down, but merchandise bought from one or two manufacturers — maybe an overstock of clothes already too late for the regular selling season — at a low price. You'll find good bargains, but don't expect to find that sweater you saw in the fall but couldn't afford.

When the store marks down its regular merchandise the ad will usually say "mark-down" and this is when you'll find that sweater.

A sale that advertises "seconds" or "irregulars" means there's some irregularity in the merchandise. It can be slight or a real flaw. Just be certain you know what's wrong with anything before you buy so you won't be sorry later.

Here are some good buys to watch for: A winter coat — a good special purchase and mark-down item — can be a real bargain now. Pick a classic style like a trench, duffle, wrap or a short jacket coat that looks terrific with pants. These are never out of fashion.

A fur jacket, if you've been wanting one but couldn't afford it, is a good buy now. The little hip ones will still make smashing cover for pants next winter. A classic, V-necked cardigan sweater over white shirts and turtlenecks is always great.

MR. AND MRS. DALE TRAPPEN

Miss Rutan, Trappen exchange promises

JEROME — Patricia Rutan and Dale Trappen were married in 8 p.m. rites Dec. 27 at the Meridian Methodist Church.

Rev. Charles Easley performed the ceremony. The bride is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Leonard Rutan, Meridian, and the bridegroom's parents are Mr. and Mrs. George Trappen, Jerome.

Dale Trappen was best man. Douglas Trappen and Margie Ruten were ushers. Mrs. Wes Lee Hualst was organist.

The couple was honored at a reception in the Methodist Church Fellowship Hall. Reception assistants included Yvonne Ruten, Rhonda Ruten, Lucille Depler, Nancy Burton, Vicki Woods and Rosie Tewksbury.

The couple resides in Pocatello, where the bridegroom is employed as assistant manager of JB's Big Boy Restaurant.

The bride has attended Idaho State University, Pocatello, where she was a member of Alpha Chi sorority. The bridegroom attended the College of Southern Idaho.

'Y' dinner slated

TWIN FALLS — The annual dinner meeting of the Twin Falls YMCA-YWCA will be held Jan. 28 at 7 p.m. in the Y building.

Members are asked to bring a meat dish and a salad or dessert with rolls and beverage furnished. Those attending should also bring their own table service.

The program will include the presentation of the Evangeline

White and the Rose Sinclair awards to outstanding community residents.

New officers of the YMCA and YWCA will be installed. A program, "What's Going on at the 'Y,'" will be given.

Keeping the thermostat set at 68 degrees is recommended to all wanting to help conserve fuel. Turn it down to 60 at night.

Workmen 'strip' in protest

PALERMO, Sicily (UPI) — The garbage men of Villabate went to work in their undershorts over the weekend.

The weather was an unseasonably mild 50 but that was not the point. The garbage men striked in a demand for gloves and overalls, an extra month's salary every year and other allowances the town fathers have said they can't afford.

Film set

TWIN FALLS — A film, "Every Child Can Be Developed," will be shown on Wednesday and Friday at the high school at 7:30 p.m.

This film is an hour-long presentation discussing the philosophy and method of Shinichi Suzuki in teaching music and especially violin to young children. Interested persons are invited to attend at no cost.

Abby

Abigail Van Buren

DEAR ABBY: Thanks for sticking up for the poodle lover. We know how she feels because we have an 8-pound boxer named Gus, whom we love like some parents love a child. Gus is well-trained and far more obedient than some of the neighborhood children. We wouldn't think of taking a trip without Gus, and we also spell in front of him because he understands everything we say.

I know a woman who gave her dying parakeet mouth-to-mouth resuscitation and revived him. This may seem strange to some people, but an animal lover would understand. Do you?

PHOENIX (GUS'S "MOTHER")

Animal lovers

DEAR MOTHER: Do I? I just sent $50 to The Beaver Dam, Wis., Veterinary Clinic for spaying a Dalmatian named "Dear Abby."

An employee of the Humane Society in Beaver Dam informed me that they had a female mutt named "Dear Abby," who, because she wasn't spayed, was having difficulty finding a home. He said they were praying for a "miracle" because if they couldn't place "Abby" soon they would have to destroy her.

Well, they prayed, I prayed, and "Abby" was spayed.

DEAR ABBY: I sometimes receive a letter and notice that the postage stamp on the envelope has not been canceled, so I just pick it off and it again.

Would you call that cheating? T. G.

DEAR T. G.: I wouldn't call it being honorable.

DEAR ABBY: A situation in the grade school (grades 1-7) my children attend has caused concern. No toilet paper, soap, or towels are kept in the bathrooms. The students must ask for "supplies" from the teacher or the principal. The supplies are kept in each room in a "toilet bag" to hang down the hall or into the bathroom adjacent to the classroom.

Many students, rather than face the embarrassment of asking for the tote bag, and then be seen carrying it, will [1] hold their needs until recess at which time they use the bathroom, without using any sanitary supplies at all, or [2] try to wait until they get home at the end of the school day. I approached the principal. He listened patiently, then told me that because in the past the children had abused the supplies when left in the bathroom, the only alternative, as he saw it, was this method.

My suggestion for implementing a student bathroom patrol, and/or new types of dispensers was not readily received.

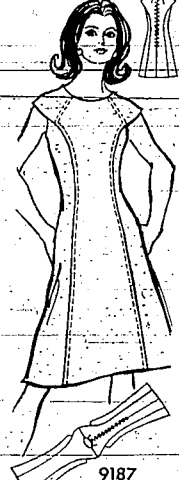

According to the principal, this is not just a local problem. I'd like to know if other schools have found a better solution to this problem.

CONFINED PARENT AUGUSTA, GA.

DEAR CONCERNED: We shall see. In the meantime, write to the National Committee For Support Of The Public Schools, Suite 410, White Lake Village Green, Columbia, Md. 21034. Also your local chapter of American Civil Liberties Union, may be helpful.

Problems? You'll feel better if you get it off your chest. For a personal reply, write to ABBY: Box No. 63700, L.A., Calif. 90063. Enclose stamped, self-addressed envelope, please.

HOLLISTER — Patricia C. Lanting and Robert J. Pratt were married in a 4 p.m. ceremony Dec. 28 in the United Presbyterian Church, Buhl.

MR. AND MRS. ROBERT J. PRATT

Rev. John Pickrell of the Southminster Presbyterian Church, Boise, and Rev. H. B. Thomas of the Community Presbyterian Church, Hollister, performed the ceremony.

The bride is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. William J. Lanting, Hollister, and the bridegroom is the son of Mrs. Robert Pratt, Fairlee, S.D.

The single ring ceremony was performed before a floral background of avocado, gold and turquoise accented chrysanthemums and carnations with three brass candelabra holding candles of the same colors.

Jerry Leonard, Indiana; Mrs. Bruce Fowles, Alabama, and Eileen Lanting, Hollister, all cousins of the bride.

Mrs. Terry Cooney was in charge of the guest book.

Richard Youree, Burley, presented a trumpet solo.

The couple was honored at a reception in the church fellowship hall immediately following the ceremony.

The bride's table was covered with a white lace cloth over gold with gold satin bows decorating the skirt.

The white cake was decorated with yellow roses and surrounded with angels. The top layer was decorated with a Christian emblem encircled with fresh yellow and white roses. The three tiered cake was placed on a fountain with green foliage at the base.

Mrs. Homer Roberts cut and served the cake. Mrs. C. M. Lanting, aunt of the bride, served the punch.

Miriam Kunkel, cousin of the bride, poured coffee.

Out of town guests attended from Oregon, Alabama, Indiana, Boise, Burley, Buhl, Filer, Twin Falls and Hollister.

The bride was honored at a bridal shower given by the women of the Hollister Community.

The parents of the bride were hosts for a rehearsal dinner Dec. 27.

The bride and bridegroom are both employed at Borah High School, Boise.

Buhl chamber hears forecast on energy sources

By BILL LAZARUS

Times-News writer

BUHL — Uranium and coal are the fuels which will enable the United States to survive the energy crisis, according to the vice president of Idaho Power Co.

Speaking at the Buhl Chamber of Commerce annual banquet Monday night, Robert J. O'Connor outlined the gravity of fuel shortages, blasted "frivolous lawsuits by environmentalists" and predicted a "nuclear electric economy."

"Availability of fuel may soon be the only question energy consumers will have," O'Connor said.

He maintained the United States is consuming far more natural gas and oil than it produces and said that the nation imports over 14 per cent of its total energy. In 1972 the country imported 19 per cent of its natural gas and 30 per cent of its oil or "liquid hydrocarbons."

Energy importation leads to a poor monetary exchange balance with other nations, resulting in political weakness, O'Connor said. He mentioned the vulnerability of the United States to the Arab oil embargo as an example of the weakness.

Rapidly dwindling supplies of traditional fuels in the nation are coupled to the importation problem. Only a 10 1/2 years supply of natural gas exists in the nation's proved recoverable reserves and even the speculated supply would last 35 years in terms of current production, O'Connor said.

Oil resources are more severely short, with only 6 years of known recoverable supplies and 17 years of estimated supply available in the nation.

While oil and natural gas are in low supply and high demand, the situation is some what reversed with coal. O'Connor said the United States has consistently produced more coal than it has used and that the available supply is greater than the supply of other fuels.

"There is no solution for southern Idaho other than coal at this time," O'Connor said, maintaining that coal is the "short term remedy" to the energy crisis.

In the long run, however, only uranium exists in supplies sufficient to meet the nation's energy needs. While other fuels would run out in decades, enough uranium exists to meet the United States' needs for 67,000 years, O'Connor said, using US Geological Survey information.

"This means that we will either by choice or by force switch to an electric (nuclear-powered) economy," he said.

To meet the short term energy needs of Idaho and the northwest, Idaho Power is joining other electric companies in the construction of the coal-powered Jim Bridger plant and plans two other giant electric plants for the early 1980s, the Idaho Power official said.

Because of rising cost of development and difficulties in raising money, rate increases can be expected with the development, O'Connor maintained. He said the Hell's Canyon project, built during the 1960s, cost $100 per kilowatt to build while the Jim Bridger project will cost $250 per kilowatt.

"Nothing is more timid than $1 million when they've got it and you want it," he said, lightly referring to the rising costs of borrowing money.

O'Connor said that "frivolous lawsuits by environmentalists who would choose to deny people their right to energy might stand in the way of necessary development. He called on the chamber members to speak out against the project delaying environmental concerns.

"Don't let the preservationist voice be the only one heard in Washington, D.C. or in Boise, Idaho," he said.

Following the meeting, O'Connor would not comment on Gov Cecil D. Andrus' message in his state of the state speech Monday that Idaho should not export one kilowatt of electrical energy which would serve out-of-state jobs and industry while hurting Idaho industry. He said he had not had time to give the governor's statement the attention it warrants.

O'Connor said the electric outlook for Idaho is good, unlike many other states. While the state imported more electricity last year than it exported, he said that on the whole the state is a supplier of energy.

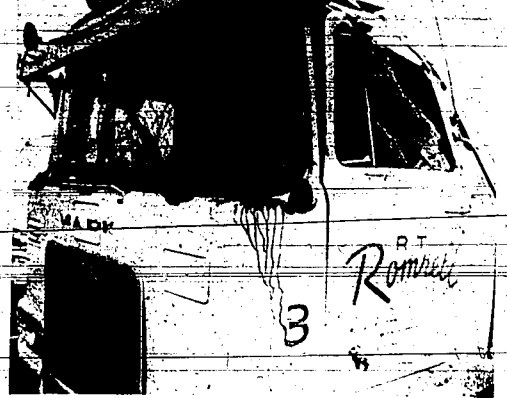

Wind overturns trailer house

TWIN FALLS — An Idaho Falls man sustained slight injuries Monday afternoon when a gust of wind blew over a trailer house he was pulling along Interstate 80.

According to Idaho State Police, Roland Taylor Romrell, 51, was eastbound on the freeway at a point just east of the US Highway 93 interchange when the 64-foot trailer was blown over.

Police reported the house trailer was blown over on its side, along the freeway and into the median strip where it came to rest back on its wheels. The truck tractor which Romrell was driving also tipped over on its side, separated from the trailer, tipped back on its wheels and rolled off the right side of the freeway, coming to a stop between the outside traffic lane and the Highway 93 off-ramp.

Romrell was taken to Magic Valley Memorial Hospital by a private citizen, treated for a scalp laceration and released. Damage to the truck cab, owned by Romrell, was estimated at $4,000. The trailer house, valued at $6,000, was destroyed, police said.

Mabe heads Buhl group

BUHL — Dan Mabe was installed as the new president of the Buhl Chamber of Commerce Monday night at the Chamber's annual banquet.

Mabe, who also serves as superintendent of Buhl schools, took over from the former president, Joe Jones.

Other installed officials of the Chamber were Hal Walker, vice president, and Mrs. Joe Fehrenbacher, who stayed on as secretary.

Members of the new board of directors are Ken Patterson, Loy Spaulding, Warren Saunders, Andy Anderson and Avery Kirkham.

Jeff Fehrenbacher was presented a trophy during the evening for playing Santa Claus.

Burley names city clerk

BURLEY — New Burley Mayor Charles (Chuck) Shadduck announced Monday that E. E. (Bud) Brinegar had been appointed Burley city clerk effective Feb. 1.

Shadduck named the members of the Burley Chamber of Commerce about the appointment. Monday's chamber meeting, Brinegar, who will replace Shadduck as city clerk, is currently manager of Van Engelen's Department Store in Burley.

The city is expecting delivery of a new truck-mounted sander-saler within the month to "stop some of the problems with ice on city streets," Shadduck said. The new machine will be on call 24 hours a day in coordination with the Burley Police Department, he said.

Shadduck told the group that a senior age and middle-income housing complex "in the works for several years" for Burley area residents will soon be realized. The construction of the apartment complex will pave the way for upgrading and demolishing sub-standard housing, now used by individuals who have no other place to live, he said.

Working through the federal department of Housing and Urban Development, Shadduck said, arrangements might be made to allow tenants to rent the apartments at rates set according to their incomes.

The building was originally financed by the Farmer's Home Administration which, Shadduck said, does not have such a program.

Shadduck reported that construction on the northside sewer project was hoped to be completed this year, and that the city had converted to a centralized receiving and shipping system which, under the control of the inventory control clerk, will allow the city to "know where everything is at any one time."

Shadduck refused to make predictions on the future of the city "until we know what our budget will be," even though the city is in a "good financial picture."

SV autopsy report given

SUN VALLEY — The combination of three drugs resulted in the death of the California woman in Sun Valley, according to Blaine County coroner Bruce Rathke.

The woman, Janice Howerton, 29, San Diego, was found dead in a Sun Valley Lodge room Dec. 27.

Rathke said, according to an autopsy conducted at Magic Valley Memorial Hospital, Twin Falls, the woman's system had contained methadone, amphetamines and barbiturates.

Rathke said the quantity of barbiturates found in her system was not in itself considered an overdose. A report on the quantities of the other two drugs is expected in about one month, he said.

Incumbents re-elected

HOLLISTER — The five incumbent directors of the Salmon River Canal Company were re-elected Monday at the company's annual meeting in the Hollister Grange Hall.

Marion Pendergrift will serve as director, of district one; Lester McGregor, district two; Dale Messner, district three; Victor Nelson, district four; and Elmer Wilson, district five.

Morris Huffman was retained as manager and Lloyd Webb, Twin Falls, will serve as legal counsel.

The auditor's report was given by Elmer Wilson, CPA, and routine business of the company was conducted.

A program of slides showing recent improvements to the company's water system was given and Jack Barnett, executive director of the Idaho Water Users Association spoke on water problems.

The Salmon Tract should have a very good water year, according to Huffman, with an average runoff of 135 per cent expected in the South Hills. A holdover of 60,000 acre feet in reservoir should get the farming season off to a very good start, he said.

Special guests at the meeting included Carlos Randolph, Bob Pittard and Terry Gully of the Burley Bureau of Reclamation and Allen McGregor and Don Shirts of the Boise Bureau of Reclamation.

At a recognition meeting, following the regular meeting, Parrott was named president, Messner first vice president; Pendergrift second vice president; and McGregor, secretary treasurer.

TF man hurt

BUHL — A Twin Falls man was injured slightly early Sunday when his freight truck went out of control on black ice and flipped over.

According to Idaho State Police reports, James Montgomery, Twin Falls, was driving a tanker loaded with salt water along US Highway 30 about two miles west of Buhl about 3:30 a.m. Sunday when the truck skidded on black ice and flipped.

The tank ruptured on impact, spilling the saline solution alongside the highway. The truck was bound from Salt Lake City to Sysco. Ore. It was leased to Clark Tank Lines, Pucallillo, by Rulon Gilbert, Twin Falls.

The tanker rolled down about 200 feet of fence before coming to a field owned by Lamar Orton, Buhl.

The damage to tractor and trailer was estimated at about $20,000.

Montgomery was treated by a physician for minor injuries and released.

No citations were issued.

Ambulance rate hike eyed

BURLEY — If requests by Miss Cassia Ambulance for rate increases are too high, the Cassia County commissioners said Monday, negotiations will be started with Cassia Memorial Hospital for a new ambulance service.

A representative of the local ambulance firm met with the commissioners Monday to let them know about a planned request for an as-yet unspecified increase in rates paid by the county for the ambulance service. The county currently pays the firm $400 a month for service.

If the increase is just a few dollars they will listen, Commissioner Walden Beck said, "but

TF will study park potential

"We'll only be able to develop them according to the finances available, including tax levies and matching state and federal funds."

Zuck said the Twin Falls County commissioners have expressed support for the Rock Creek project, including the possibility of extra financial aid.

He said the Rock Creek project "is our baby. We've inventoried over 60 sites in the county and picked Rock Creek because it has the most potential."

"My team of students might not complete the entire study this summer, according to Zuck. They may get only a portion done. More studies may have to be done later."

If the study has to be cut short, emphasis will be placed on the section of Rock Creek from the Snake River to the sugar factory, Zuck said.

Zuck said the study would be divided into four categories including natural, political, social and economic factors.

In the "natural" category, the team will report on soils, geology, hydrology, vegetation, wildlife, climate and topography.

Political considerations include zoning, jurisdiction and government agencies involved. Social factors include raising and proposed city and county recreational sites, community desires as to potential recreational sites and history.

Jerome meet set

JEROME — The Jerome County commissioners will meet today to put the final touches on the proposed 1974 county budget, which may reflect a 10 per cent increase.

Claude Bernard, chairman, said they anticipate the proposed budget will reflect an overall increase of 10 per cent over last year's budget of $26,200, which did not include revenue sharing funds.

Bernard said the increase in this year's budget is due to several factors, including an increase in this year in the sheriff's budget for an additional man and car. Also included in this year's budget is roughly an eight per cent salary increase for county employees excluding elected officials.

Dog problems discussed

By ED MITCHELL
Times-News writer

RUPERT — Solutions to the problems of the Minidoka city-county dog pound were discussed at the Minidoka County commissioners meeting held Monday in Rupert.

Mayor Wendell Johnson and Police Chief Edward Culver met with county commissioners to find ways to correct faults in the current system of handling the stray dog situation. "It's a real problem," said Mayor Johnson.

Commissioner Tyre Burton said 114 dogs were brought to the pound last month; the county must pay an average of about $70 per month to have dogs destroyed.

While they are at the pound, dogs are kept in a 20 by 20 foot metal building with open ventilation spaces between walls and ceiling. During cold weather it has been heated with two small space heaters.

Commissioners Burton suggested that the ventilation spaces should be closed and that the building be insulated with urethane which would provide more comfort for the dogs in the

Blaine airs sewage plan

By TERRY CAMPBELL
Times-News writer

HAILEY — Preliminary plans for a sub-surface sewage disposal system to serve Blaine are being discussed by the Woodside McCulloch Properties Inc. Woodside Development have been outlined before the Hailey City Council.

Making the presentation Monday night were Dr. A. T. Wallace, University of Idaho, who serves as a consulting engineer on the project; and Gary Dayton, Trico Development Corp.

Dayton said the system is proposed as an alternative to joining the existing Hailey Sewage Treatment System.

Dr. Wallace said the proposed system is designed for the 5,000 ultimate Woodside population and would involve sub-surface disposal of secondary treated effluent.

The "secondary" treatment facilities would include, he said, an extended aeration activated sludge tank, dual media polishing filter and a chlorination basin. The sub-surface disposal facilities, he said, would "create essentially the same degree of removal" as tertiary treatment and would include about eight separate drain tile systems, each located on an about one-half acre tract.

The separate systems will be buried about four feet deep to facilitate year round use, he said.

Dr. Wallace said, by the time the effluent reaches the ground water, it will be "drinking water quality with the exception of the bacteria."

Dayton said the original McCulloch sewage disposal plan had been reexamined, firstly

TF budget $7 million

He said he was not happy with the salaries for the women and other women in the courthouse getting $40 each he has no alternative but to divide it evenly.

Another major change in the 1974 budget is a contract at $1,850 per month to Mr. and Mrs. Charles Allen, Twin Falls, for janitorial service.

Lancaster said the move should save money in the long run as the contract covers the judicial building and the courthouse and we couple to hire all necessary personnel, furnish all equipment and material including carpet shampooing and other major items.

One and possibly two building custodians will be kept for maintenance work and lawn care. This will eliminate at least three present salaries, Lancaster said.

The tentative budget will be open for public hearing Feb. 11, with commissioners permitted to continue the hearings as much as five days before adopting a permanent budget.

Road marked

PAUL — A railroad crossing west of Paul, the scene of a fatal car-truck crash Friday, was marked with crossing signs, according to a Minidoka Highway District official.

Highway Supervisor Ruben Kraus said a Times-News story Sunday incorrectly reported that the rural crossing was unmarked.

Mrs. Roger K. Hart, 29, Paul, was killed Friday afternoon when her automobile collided with a Union Pacific train at the crossing five and one-half miles west of Paul.

Kraus said the site is marked by two white railroad "crossarm" signs and two yellow highway district crossing signs.

The Times-News retracts the error.

East NBA stars will break again against West

SEATTLE, Wash. (UPI) — Boston coach Tom Heinsohn thinks his East squad has a second straight route to the West right out of the Seattle Coliseum and turn Tuesday night's National Basketball Association All-Star game into a second straight rout.

District attorney drops Cedeno charge

SAN TO DOMINGO, D.R. (UPI) — San Domingo district attorney Frank Diaz stunned the courtroom Monday with a motion to drop charges of involuntary manslaughter against Cesar Cedeno two hours after the trial of the Houston Astros outfielder began.

Cedeno is accused in the Dec. 11 early morning mole murder of 19-year-old Almagracia de la Cruz Cedeno, who was shot in the head with Cedeno's .38-caliber pistol.

The trial opened Monday morning and Cedeno had already taken the witness stand, when prosecuting attorney Diaz unexpectedly asked Judge Porfirio Natera to drop the charges.

"I am free on a $10,000 bond pending outcome of the trial," embraced his 21-year-old wife, Cora, when the trial adjourned. She had been at their winter home here at the time of the shooting.

The judge said he would rule later this week on the prosecutor's request, probably Wednesday or Thursday, but Diaz said he would file motions for dismissal almost invariably honored.

In moving for dismissal of the charges, Diaz said, "There appear to be no indications of responsibility compromising the innocence of the defendant and the prosecution believes he should be absolved."

Cedeno's own lawyer, Quirico Espinoza Perez, had just requested a summary judgment, filing a police report that a paraffin test indicated Miss De La Cruz had fired a weapon with her right hand.

This corroborated Cedeno's contention that Miss de la Cruz had accidentally shot herself.

Cedeno testified Miss de la Cruz grabbed the loaded revolver and he tried to get it away from her.

"In the struggle a shot went off," Cedeno said.

Cedeno called a motel employee after the shooting and told him to call the police. "A woman is being killed."

Before police arrived, Cedeno left the motel, but surrendered to police eight hours later.

Originally charged with voluntary manslaughter, roughly the equivalent of second degree murder in the United States, Cedeno spent 20 days in jail, including the Christmas holidays.

However, the charge was reduced to involuntary manslaughter, making Cedeno eligible for bail.

Heinsohn isn't sure his rabbits will get enough rebounds against the touring West to run their style of basketball.

"It appears that the East has a team that should have exceptional runners that fit into that (fast-break) style of game, if we can control the boards," Heinsohn told a news conference Monday.

"If we do that, I think we could run the West right off the floor," he said, adding quickly, "I'm not predicting that."

West Coach Larry Costello of Milwaukee, delayed in travel, was not present to defend his squad, but there was no question that his own 7-2 Kareem Abdul-Jabbar of the Bucks and a couple of 6-11 giants, Alvin Thompson of Golden State and Bob Lanier of Detroit, could gobble up enough rebounds to neutralize the East legs.

The East's 6-9 Elvin Hayes of Capital, considering what he will face before a record crowd of 14,300, admitted he'll "just try to sneak in and get a few (rebounds) and sneak out."

Last year the touring East buried the West 104-84 and Heinsohn at the helm, and the Boston coach would love to set up a fast-and-confident-West squad again.

"Last year we were the Davids against the Goliaths and this year is shaping up the same way," he said with a sly grin.

With only 12 players on each team this year instead of the 14 selected in the past, Heinsohn promised "a much more thrilling game."

"With 12 players—I think you'll have better organization, a chance for guys to play a little bit more, to get the feel of the game a little bit more and the tempo that is going on out there," he explained.

Heinsohn has some excellent guards to run his fast-break attack in starters Walt Frazier and Gene Anderson, plus Maravich of Atlanta and Pete Maravich of Atlanta. Plus there are Joe "Celtics" Joe White, Cleveland's Austin Carr and Phil Cheever of Capital on the bench to keep things flying, if the pace falters.

With only 12 players on each team this year instead of the 14 selected in the past, Heinsohn promised "a much more thrilling game."

"With 12 players—I think you'll have better organization, a chance for guys to play a little bit more, to get the feel of the game a little bit more and the tempo that is going on out there," he explained.

NFL must find way to take 'dull' out of its showpiece

HOUSTON (UPI) — The prime question left unanswered among departing fans here Monday in the wake of Miami's one-sided domination of Minnesota was not so much whether Don Shula's new ranks would be as exciting as the late Vince Lombardi, but what does football propose to do about its unbroken string of "dull" Super Bowl games.

A vast majority of the 68,142 who sat in on the Dolphins' second straight Super Bowl conquest at Rice Stadium Sunday called the game "boring" and "unexciting" and they seemed to reflect the general feeling of the millions around the country who watched Miami's mechanical—without mercy—24-7 crusher on TV.

"They called it a meeting of the two best teams in professional football," said one man who had seen the game and was checking out of the hotel here which had served as NFL headquarters. "I saw one of the best teams out there, but I never did see the other."

Actually, whatever excitement was generated in Sunday's contest was all over before the end of the first quarter.

By that time Larry Csonka, the Dolphins' super-bruiser, had already wrapped up the MVP award and Miami the ball game.

For the most part, the Dolphins' victory was a cut and dried affair, pretty much the same as all the other seven Super Bowl contests have been.

Ever since the very first Super Bowl game in which Green Bay defended the "champion" of the NFL by beating the AFL champion Kansas City Chiefs in January of 1967, pro football has felt it is providing the greatest of all sport spectacles with its post-season world championship game, but none of the eight Super Bowl games played have been particularly exciting.

"We feel it's exciting enough when we win," said Shula, who added he hopes the Dolphins will win a record third world title next season. "Other than that, we have no control over the reaction of those who watch the game."

The fact is although professional football has accepted its relatively new designation as the national past-time, the NFL, called by some the "world series of the past few years has endeavored much more excitement than the Super Bowl games played during this time.

Certainly more controversy.

What most of the fans were talking about here today was Csonka's super showing against the Vikings in leading the Dolphins to their second straight world title.

The back-to-back triumphs equaled those put together by the Packers in 1967 and 1968 and, improbably, gave rise to comparisons between Shula and Lombardi.

Shula has now led the Dolphins to a two-year record of 22-2, unmatched by any other team in the history of professional football.

Mary Fleming, the Dolphins' 31-year-old tight end who played on Green Bay's first Super Bowl championship, says the present Miami team is better.

"There's no doubt about it in my mind," says Fleming, "and I think you'll know the cause. I played on both teams."

Bar Starr, the Packer quarterback under Lombardi, disagrees with Fleming and calls the Green Bay team "one which went to three first two Super Bowls the 'best ever'."

Fleming, however, declined to be drawn into any choice between Shula and Lombardi, his present

Winners crowned in hoop shoot

Lane Cowan, Steve Hale and Mike Topolin took honors in the hoop shoot sponsored Saturday by the Twin Falls Fair.

Cowan won the 8-9 age bracket by hitting 17 of 25 attempts while Marcus Frazier was second with 12 and Bobby Lewis took third with 10.

In the 10-11 bracket, Hale scored 20 of 25, followed by Jim Crandall with 18 and Scott Beer with 17.

Topolin missed only two free throws in winning the 12-13 bracket while Bruce Thacker nipped Tim Tickner in a shoot-out for second and third. Both had 20 in regular competition with Thacker taking the runner-up trophy with five straight while Tickner missed one of five.

All three champions will advance to district shoot-offs planned to take place at Blackfoot or Caldwell Jan. 26.

The winners there will move on to the regional at LaGrande, Ore. If successful all the way, the national finals will be held at half-time of the NAIA invitational tournament in Kansas City, Mo., March 16.

Bama downs Mississippi

TUSCALOOSA, Ala. (UPI) — Junior guard Charles Cleveland scored a season high 27 points Monday night to lead Alabama to a 88-71 victory over Ole Miss at the tip-off of the Southeastern Conference with the Rebels.

Cleveland, who averages 13.2 points per game, also exploded for 16 rebounds. Leon Douglas was the only other Rebels player in double figures with 20 points.

Ole Miss jumped to a quick lead and stretched it to 12 points in the first half.

Alabama managed to tie it up twice before taking the lead 30-28 with 2:28 remaining in the first period.

Alabama went to the dressing room with a 36-29 lead at the half and never trailed in the second period. Dave Shepherd scored 16 for the Rebels, Fred Jaker 2-3 and Dean Hudson 1-3.

Quail counts

BY STU MURRELL, Regional Conservation Educator.

The annual waterfowl count was conducted by Stu Blake, Regional Lands Manager, on January 7th and showed a total of 44,063 ducks and geese compared to 43,978 in 1972.

The count was conducted in the area surveyed near the Bruneau Bridge on the Snake River upstream to Massacre Rocks and includes Hagerman Wildlife Management Area. However, the waterfowl count has been having excellent success in the cornfields surrounding Hagerman Valley and along the river in the Thousand Springs section, so even though the overall count was down, the ducks are accessible to the hunter because of the cold weather and snow cover. There were 19,063 ducks and geese counted on the river section and an estimated 25,000 ducks on Hagerman Wildlife.

Michigan St. drops Illinois

CHAMPAIGN, Ill. (UPI) — Michigan State, unbeaten 72 per cent of its shots from the field in the second half after falling behind 12-0 at the start of the game to post a 90-72 victory over Illinois in a Big Ten game Monday night.

The Spartans didn't get a field goal until 6 1/2 minutes had been played, but scored 11 straight points in the first half to tie the score at 24-24 with 2:41 left to intermission.

Midway through the second half, Illinois tied it again at 39-39, but Mike Robinson and Terry Furrow led a Spartan charge that netted eight straight points to put the game out of reach.

Sooners belt Colorado 91-66

NORMAN, Okla. (UPI) — Forward Herb Williams came off the bench to score 18 points and lead Oklahoma to a 91-66 victory over Colorado Monday night and take command of the still young Big Eight basketball title.

The Sooners never trailed, but were ahead only 22-17 when Williams came into the game. He scored 12 of his points in the first half to help Oklahoma to a 45-33 intermission lead.

Forward Scott Wedman led Colorado with 23 points and teammate David Logan added 16. No other Colorado starter scored more than four points.

Oklahoma scored a hot 24.4 per cent from the floor.

UCLA-Irish clash set up by ratings

NEW YORK (UPI) — UCLA is in its scheduled No. 1 slot in the United Press International Board of Coaches ratings, but No. 2 Notre Dame is in a position to do something about it Saturday.

The Irish play host to the Bruins and UCLA may be without the services of lowering guard Gene Bates.

However, the Irish are the third highly-ranked team to get a crack at the Bruins' winning streak, now at 87, and the two previous encounters resulted in nothing extraordinary. That is, UCLA won.

But the possible absence of Walton leaves suspense to the Irish-UCLA clash.

The third to fill spots in the ratings remained the private domain of the Atlantic Coast Conference, although North Carolina State and Maryland switched places after the Wolfpack defeated the Terrapins 80-74 Sunday. The Wolfpack are ranked third, followed by Maryland and North Carolina.

Marquette maintained its hold on the sixth position, while Providence made the biggest advance of the week, climbing from 11th to seventh.

Vanderbilt was eighth again despite its upset at LSU and Indiana advanced to 17th to ninth. Long Beach State closed out the top 10.

The second 10 is headed by Alabama, followed in order by New Mexico, South Carolina, Southern California, Louisville and Missouri, all holders from last week.

However, newcomer Arizona State was ranked 11th and the 17th position and another newcomer, Michigan, tied Wisconsin for 18th. Syracuse returned to the rankings as the 20th-rated team.

CSI thumps ISU jayvees, begins 3-game road trip

College of Southern Idaho began a frantic nine-day Monday night by belting the Idaho State jayvees 86-59, the Eagles' third win this year over the young men's team.

to Twin Falls Monday and Tuesday to entertain the Montana State jayvees.

CSI picked up its 14th win in 15 starts Monday night by conserving as much man power as possible. Coach Jerry Hale went to his bench early and used 11 men in defeating the Bengals.

Excluding one tie at 22, CSI led all the way and everything swung to the Eagles with the score reading 10-7.

Lon Frazier and Lon Trotter started it with buckets and Arnold Dugger added four points. After Allen replied for ISU, Tom Barker and Dugger hit again to hold the Eagles into a 15-point advantage.

The Eagles' lead crested at 24 points in the first half and in the final three minutes Adams hit three field goals and got support from two other teammates in cutting the deficit to 42-27.

Bob Durham opened the second half with four CSI points and Barker and Dugger added the count to 52-27 before ISU could get untracked. That was about as close as ISU could come thereafter.

Forbes overcomes 2 operations to put bite into UTEP attack

DENVER (UPI) — Texas-El Paso forward James Forbes says he doesn't need any more crutches. All he needs is more playing time.

The 67-year-old underdog knee surgery twice in the past 12 months. After his second operation in June, it was doubtful Forbes would ever play competitive basketball again, much less see action his senior year.

But Forbes, who played for the 1972 U.S. Olympic team and the American entry in the 1972 Pan American games, the permitted the fast-breaking Wildcats only 31 field goal attempts and held them without a field goal for nearly 10 minutes in the first half.

Monday, that performance, combined with 16 points and eight rebounds in Friday night's loss to Arizona State, earned Forbes the WAC Player of the Week honor.

"It was about time I put together two half-way decent games in one weekend," the soft-spoken Forbes said. "In the past the knee would tighten up after I had a good game and I couldn't play the next night, but I didn't have any problems in Arizona."

The real turnaround in Forbes' condition came in mid-December when he discarded his knee brace and blossomed, earning back his starting spot in the UTEP lineup.

"The bandages and all didn't affect my mobility," he said. "It was more of a mental thing. Sometimes you put the brace on and it serves as a crutch, which you start depending on."

"It doesn't hurt me at all today," he said Monday. "I hope that means I'm going to get more playing time, better movement and better rebounding."

Against the two Arizona schools Forbes, who was an honorable mention all-WAC selection even though he played only seven games as a junior, played 67 out of 80 minutes, his most extensive action this year.

In earning the award, Forbes led the conference in scoring and Arizona State's Lionel Hollins.

Hockey loops may be near agreement

MONTREAL (UPI) — The National Hockey League is expected to decide this week on a set of proposals made by the World Hockey Association to settle differences between the two rival leagues.

NHL President Clarence Campbell said Monday the proposals were put to the NHL after a meeting of WHA officials in Washington, D.C. over the weekend. Campbell stressed no NHL officials attended the talks.

The Vancouver Sun reported Monday, both leagues were represented and they "made peace" through an agreement which needed only formal approval by the NHL Board of Governors and the WHA trustees.

"There is no agreement," the NHL President said Monday night. "We are just considering the proposals. We will make the final decision independently, probably this week." He added.

Campbell said the WHA proposals were "basically" "a detailed plan" by the Vancouver Sun, "but there are a lot of mistakes in them." He did not want to comment on any of the proposals detailed by the newspaper, however.

In its article, the Vancouver Sun said the terms of the agreement covered six major points:

—The WHA will drop its $60 million salary cap and the NHL over the validity of the reserve clause and will not change the NHL's new player contract with a one-year option clause. The NHL will pay the WHA about $1.9 million to cover its legal fees.

—The WHA will sign a new league-wide agreement with the NHL on legal action against the other. The WHA, in any attempt to sign an NHL player, will recognize the option year in his contract.

—There will be a minimum of 15 exhibition games between the two leagues, an All-Star game and consideration of a single game between the two league champions, or some combination of playoffs, in order to allow the WHA to compete for the Stanley Cup.

—The NHL will allow WHA clubs to place players on NHL farm teams and cease any attempt from blocking WHA teams from using NHL rinks. If an NHL team owned the rink, it would have first choice of scheduled dates.

Weiskopf wants more than one good year

RANCHO LA COSTA, Calif. (UPI) — Long-hitting slugger Weiskopf was honored by Western sports writers Monday night as pro golfer of the year for 1973 and said, "I don't want to go down as Tom Weiskopf, who had a great year in '73. I want to improve."

Last year's British Open champion said he hoped to win another major tournament in 1974 but quipped, "My first goal is to win some official money."

"He failed to make the cut in last week's Phoenix Open and his $500 in prize money from the Bing Crosby Pro-Am does not count on the official earnings statistics."

"I think I'm having my old-time swing back, who won six tournaments and more than $300,000 prize money in 1973."

"I really don't feel like playing golf. Maybe it's because I accomplished so much last year. I'm just not tuned in to playing golf right now."

"Physically I'm fine, but my concentration and desire weren't there for the first two tournaments."

Weiskopf, 31, disclosed he would return to his home in Columbus, Ohio, and would not play until the Glen Campbell Los Angeles Open Feb. 14-17.

Volts steady to drop Kentucky

KNOXVILLE, Tenn. (UPI) — Freshman Ernie Grunfeld brought Tennessee back from the brink of disaster Monday night in the Southeastern Conference basketball race, leading the Vols to a 67-54 win over Kentucky.

The victory gave Tennessee a 2-2 mark in the SEC and an overall record of 7-4. Kentucky is 3-2 in the SEC and 6-6 overall.

Grunfeld got 15 of his 20 points in the second half as the Vols overcame a 10-point deficit in the second period. John Sneyd had 17 points, Len Kosmaliski had 10—all in the first half—and Rodney Woods had 12.

Jimmy Dan Conner got 14 for the Wildcats. Kevin Grewey had 13 and Bob Guyette had 12.

Foreman will set bout soon

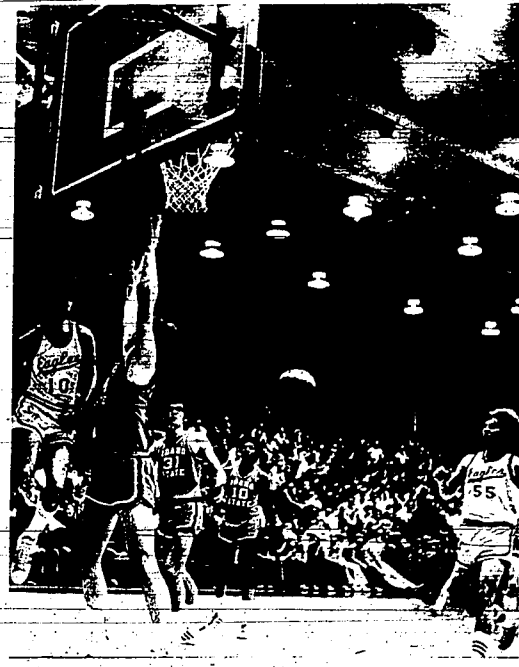

LOS ANGELES (UPI) — Dick Sadler, adviser to George Foreman, says the heavyweight champion is aware of the Jan. 21 deadline for defending his title and will have an announcement about an opponent within a week.

Both the World Boxing Association and the World Boxing Council have said Foreman must defend within a year the title he won from Joe Frazier in Jamaica Jan. 22, 1973.

McAdoo leads NBA scoring

NEW YORK (UPI) — Bob McAdoo of the Buffalo Braves averaged 28.1 points a game as the Atlanta Hawks are waging a spirited battle for the National Basketball Association's individual scoring title.

Statistics released Monday by the NBA showed that McAdoo has scored 1384 points in 45 games for a 29-point per game average while Maravich has tallied 1189 points in 41 games for a 28.9 average.

Behind the back pass — LAYOFF PASS is flipped behind the back by CSI's Kevin Duhyan to teammate Les Lee (55) who turned it into an easy bucket against Idaho State's jayvees Monday night. ISU's Allen is caught in the middle. CSI won 86-59.

Davis cup reversal hits U.S.

By United Press International What happened to American tennis?

How could the United States, Davis Cup holder 25 times and successful defender five years running, lose the Cup to Australia less than two months ago, and then be unceremoniously dumped out of contention in the very first round of 1974 play by Colombia?

How can a country boasting of players like Stan Smith, Jimmy Connors, Arthur Ashe and Marty Riessen fail to handle international unknowns like Jaime Velasco and Ivan Molina?

The answer is so gallingly simple. If you send second stringers against second stringers, anything can—and will—happen.

Because America's top players had "prior commitments," the U.S. Lawn Tennis Association sent a dedicated but inferior team to the sky-high city of Bogota, Colombia this past weekend.

Gasping for air—in the 8,600-foot altitude, faced with what suddenly became the biggest challenge they had ever faced, Dennis Ralston's forces proved inadequate.

The Smiths, Connors, Riessens, Ashes had promised they would be available for "the bigger, more important matches" later in the year, zeroing in on a Cup final challenge to Australia in December. They can forget it now.

"We played with the best we had," a disconsolate Cup captain Dennis Ralston said in Bogota.

Super bowl vets join Walton's availability for Irish will be decided today

SAN DIEGO (UPI) — Nineteen veterans of Super-Bowl VIII begin workouts with 21 other players under sunny skies here today in preparation for the NFL's Super Bowl.

The NFL and AFC squads were scheduled to practice here through Friday and then hold a final workout Saturday at Kansas City's Arrowhead Stadium prior to Sunday's 2 P.M. kickoff.

Twelve members of the Super Bowl champion Miami Dolphins are on the AFC-squad which was scheduled to take the field at San Diego Stadium at 10 a.m. today.

Until he does know, he can't determine exactly what style of game his peerless Bruins will play. Walton suffered a deep muscle bruise in his back last week, missed the last two UCLA games, and today the decision will be made whether he'll make the trip to the Midwest.

Walton could be as strong without him, Wooden said, "and we just have to wait and see. He'll play both against Iowa and Notre Dame, or he won't play either one."

Walton did not practice Monday and Wooden expedited him to practice today. Then, he said, the doctor, the trainer and Wooden will decide what Walton will do.

Walton's availability for Irish will be decided today

CHICAGO (UPI) — Next Friday might be the most decisive day of practice of the season for the No. 1 ranked UCLA basketball team.

That will be the only day on which Coach Johnny Wooden can drill his team for a showdown Saturday contest with No. 2 ranked Notre Dame, the last team to defeat the Bruins, on Jan. 23, 1971 on the Irish court.

Wooden, who won't let his team be pushed to practice tonight's contest in the Chicago Stadium against Iowa, with the Bruins trying for 88 straight wins, doesn't know whether he'll have center Bill Walton for either game.

Walton is so strong without him, Wooden said, "and we just have to wait and see. He'll play both against Iowa and Notre Dame, or he won't play either one."

Colonels put three on east ABA squad

NEW YORK (UPI) — The Kentucky Colonels placed three players on the starting East squad named Monday for the American Basketball Association's All-Star game Jan. 30 at Norfolk, Va., but the honor of leading vote-getter went to Julius Erving of the New York Nets.

Erving, the ABA's leading scorer with a 29-point average, Kentucky's Dan Issel, battling Erving for the scoring title, ranked second to the Nets' superstar in balloting for the forward spot.

Running out the starting team to guard Mark Calvin of the Carolina Cougars.

Also named to the team were center Billy Paulz and forward Larry Konon of the Nets, forward George Gervin of the Virginia Squires, guard George Thompson of the Memphis Tams and guard Ted McClain of Carolina.

LSU puts 7 men on suspension

STARKEVILLE, Miss. (UPI) — Seven members of the Louisiana State basketball team were suspended Monday for violating the Tigers only five players for their Monday night game with Mississippi State.

Jerry Walker, assistant sports information director for LSU, said Coach Dale Brown indefinitely suspended seven of the 12 players who made the trip to Starkville for violating the 11 p.m. curfew Sunday night.

Walker said the only players available for the Southeastern Conference game with Mississippi State would be starters Eddie Palubinskas, a senior guard, 6-6 senior center Coffis Temple, and three reserves, 6-9 freshman center Frank Lefevre, 6-8 sophomore center Ed LeBeau and 6-3 junior forward Randy Herring.

Those suspended were starting guard Mike Darnall, sophomore forward John Evans, starting forward Wade Spivey, starting guard-forward Glenn Hanson, center Carl Sienier, guard Dawn Tonkovich and guard Dennis Wolf.

FORECAST FOR WEDNESDAY, JANUARY 16, 1974

GENERAL TENDENCIES: Get correct facts about anything confusing or mysterious. Look into the various aspects of your financial arrangements and let others know you are willing to see their viewpoints.

ARIES (Mar. 21 to Apr. 19) Be exact in handling important matters today. Show more devotion to mate for tight response. Avoid one who is a troublemaker.

TAURUS (Apr. 20 to May 20) Carry through on the policy level with partners and all goes smoothly. Reconcile with an old associate with whom there is a break.

GEMINI (May 21 to June 21) Plan activities to accomplish the maximum in a.m. Tone up your system through exercise, other treatments later. Evening is ideal socially.

MOON CHILDREN (June 22 to July 21) See friends during spare time for recreation, but not after dark, when home is your best bet. Put face talents to work.

LEO (July 22 to Aug. 21) Make home a source of greater comfort and joy. Don't try to lord it over a family tie, or you get into real trouble.

VIRGO (Aug. 22 to Sept. 22) Plan time more intelligently to get routine work done in big time and handle new matters. Get advice you need from expert.

LIBRA (Sept. 23 to Oct. 22) Consult with a financial expert who has been helpful to you in the past. The evening is fine for romance. Find means of adding to present income.

SCORPIO (Oct. 23 to Nov. 21) Use your dynamic qualities today to further your aims wisely and cleverly, whether business or personal. Dress charmingly.

SAGITTARIUS (Nov. 22 to Dec. 21) Sit in the privacy of your home or office and plan how to add to success in aim. Keep life's proper steps to carry out plans. Evening ideal for love.

CAPRICORN (Dec. 22 to Jan. 20) Be with persons who can assist you in making your life more prosperous or happy through social avenues if feasible. Spend p.m. at home.

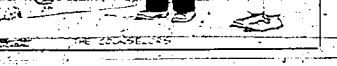

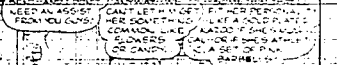

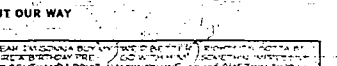

AQUARIUS (Jan. 21 to Feb. 19) Do special job cleverly and you gain approval of bigwigs and fine benefits. Pay bills and take no chances with credit.

PISCES (Feb. 20 to Mar. 20) You are highly inspired, and should follow through with your ideas with enthusiasm. Your intuitive faculties are working accurately and should be heeded.

IF YOUR CHILD IS BORN TODAY... he or she will want to run roughshod over others in the ambition to get ahead at any cost. So teach early that ambition is fine provided there is cooperation with others and that more can be accomplished through noble and honest methods. Send to college and shut the educator along financial, investigative, or business lines. Early religious training is imperative.

Market Review

NEW YORK (UPI)—Stock prices opened slightly higher in moderate trading on the New York Stock Exchange Tuesday. The Dow Jones industrial average was ahead 0.6 to 840.64 minutes after the opening bell. Advances narrowly led declines among the 418 issues traded.

The stock market followed a rocky path Monday, with bargain hunting carrying the list higher in the morning, and depressing Middle East developments finally turning the widely followed average mixed.

The Dow industrial declined 1.30 to 840.18.

In Tuesday's early news, the dollar moved to post-devaluation highs against the British pound, and was sharply higher against other European currencies. And International Monetary Fund chief H. J. Witteveen said oil shortages, soaring oil prices, and resulting sharp inflation "will place strains on the monetary system far in excess of any that have been experienced" since the Second World War.

Idaho Valley Weather Report

Kite flying weather predicted

Twin Falls, northside, Continued mild through Thursday with light rain. Windy. Light rain tonight and Tuesday. High tonight near 50. High Wednesday in the 40s.

Outlook for Thursday, partly cloudy and a little cooler.

A low pressure at the surface and aloft, located off the Pacific northwest coast in the vicinity of Washington, is moving eastward through Idaho, inland and producing heavy rain along the Washington and Oregon coast.

Due to a strong pressure gradient, between the surface low off the coast and high pressure over Utah, high surface winds can be expected from the coastal areas inland through Idaho, through Wednesday. Wind gusts to near 50 miles per hour can be expected over exposures of the Snake and Weiser rivers in the vicinity of Weiser.

Mostly cloudy skies with periods of rain will continue through Wednesday with very little temperature change. During the night, moderate rainfall up to the 8,000-foot level in the mountains along the Weiser River continues a series of some flooding along the Snake and Weiser rivers in the vicinity of Weiser.

Cattle futures vary

CHICAGO—Live cattle futures received a wide range of 1.60 to 2.00 per hundredweight Monday before closing with strong gains.

Prices ranged from unchanged in February to limit up in a thinly traded December. Deferred months showed the most strength throughout the irregular and nervous trading day with all back options reaching up and down limits.

Prices closed 68 cents higher than with the other back options finishing with near-limit gains. Commodity News Service reported.

Trading was relatively heavy with 12,000 contracts changing hands compared with 15,397 on Friday. Prices opened limit down across the board in response to an overrun of 15,500 at the major contract.

Idaho spuds post gains

CHICAGO—Idaho russet potatoes posted a limit gain on the May contract Monday.

The price rose 35 points from 123.00 to 123.35 per cwt. The contract high of 146.00 where it finished, Commodity News Service reported. The sharp gains set a new contract high for the sixth consecutive trading day. The trade in Chicago, closely followed New York Maine potatoes which also closed with limit gains in the options—apparently in response to risqué prices for cash potatoes.

"Volume in May potatoes was moderate with 40 trades reported, compared with 60 on Friday."

Hotline project needs volunteers

TWIN FALLS — The Hotline in Twin Falls is providing a needed service, but could use more volunteers, according to the new coordinator.

Kay Viste said there are not enough people to man the phones for the number of hours the Hotline operates, which is three hours each week night and four hours on weekend nights.

Mrs. Viste, who can be reached at the Community Action Agency, 733-9351, said volunteers are expected to attend a training session monthly so they are aware of community resources for persons with problems.

Some of the phone calls to the Hotline deal with crisis situations, she said, and the weekend operators especially feel they are serving a real community need. At other times, many of the calls simply are seeking information.

The coordinator reported on the status of the Hotline operation to the Twin Falls County Mental Health Association executive committee this week.

Inflation outpaces income

WASHINGTON (UPI) — The average American family, contrary to what the administration says, was worse off economically in 1973 than in 1972, according to a congressional study on inflation.

With inflation and higher taxes outpacing wage increases during 1973, the average family ended the year with 1 per cent less purchasing power than it had in 1972, and the outlook for 1974 is no better, the report said.

The study, entitled "Inflation and the Consumer in 1973," was prepared by the staff of the House-Senate Economic Committee.

A "middle range" family of four with $12,500 to spend had to pay an extra $1,100 to maintain its 1972 living standard in 1973, the study said.

Food cost that family $502 more during the year and Social Security taxes rose by $150 over 1972. Food price increases accounted for 61 per cent of the year's rise in the Consumer Price Index.

"There is no indication at this time that the rate of inflation will moderate in 1974 and consequently the real purchasing power of consumers is likely to continue to decline," the study said.

"In view of the recent slowdown in economic activity, and the energy crisis, unemployment will certainly increase during 1974. This situation of higher prices and fewer jobs will further erode consumer income and confidence, which in turn will add substantially to recessionary prospects in 1974."

Herbert Stein, chairman of the Council of Economic Advisers, testified last Aug. 1 that "probably the key thing to say is that the real per capita incomes of the American people, after allowing for inflation, rose substantially from the fourth quarter of 1972 to the second quarter of 1973."

Hearing delayed

LOS ANGELES (UPI) — A county judge Monday delayed until Feb. 25 a hearing on whether burglary charges should be dropped against John Ehrlichman and others in connection with the break-in of Daniel Ellsberg's psychiatrist's office on grounds they were acting as federal "police officers."

Superior Court Judge Gordon Ringer also postponed until Jan. 29 a decision on whether another former White House aide, David Young, should have charges against him dropped on grounds the grand jury indictment was improperly prepared.

Attorneys for Ehrlichman, Young and a third defendant, G. Gordon Liddy, are preparing to argue that the White House "plumbers squad" was acting under orders of President Nixon to investigate security leaks when the files of Dr. Lewis Fielding were rifled.

Costly idea

BREMEN, Germany (UPI) — Because Friedrich B. wanted to de-flea his dog "Bobo" his home caught fire, police said.

Bobo fled under a table when the 70-year-old man sprayed him with insecticide.

Friedrich let loose with the spray once more and particles of the fluid caught fire from an electric radiator. The flames spread to Bobo who fled then under a sofa which also caught fire and the blaze spread.

Bobo, fleas, and Friedrich survived the flames, police said. Estimated damage was $2,160.

Robber 'polite'

NEW YORK (UPI) — "Madam," began the respectful note handed to Lola Goolsby as she stood behind the counter at a Manhattan savings bank Tuesday.

"I do not wish to hurt you, but I'm extremely desperate. Do not become excited while filling this bag with the contents of your drawer."

The man, whom police said was aged about 50 and wore a brown tweed coat and white sweater, waited patiently while Miss Goolsby filled the bag with $3,500 and pushed it back across the counter.

She's a rifle-carrying soldier

PHNOM PENH (UPI) — Toch Voon, a petite shy girl, looks as though she would be more at home playing with dolls than carrying an American-made M16 rifle in an all-woman combat outfit which is battling the "American imperialists."

But until her recent capture by Cambodian government troops, Toch Voon, 14, was a rifle-carrying, foot soldier of the insurgent "Communist" 12th Battalion.

Toch Voon said there currently are two such battalions engaged in the heavy fighting northwest of Phnom Penh, each with about 350 girls and young women, and each commanded by a woman.

Toch Voon was one of six girls presented to local and foreign journalists by the Cambodian high command. Officers of the command did not interfere with the questioning of the girls by newsmen.

The six girls were all captured at Samrang, about four miles northwest of Phnom Penh, the same day insurgent forces launched a major offensive in the region.

Toch Voon, who giggled and tugged at her dirty black pajama guerrilla uniform throughout the interview, said she was abducted by insurgent forces two months ago from her village northwest of this capital.

She said she was forcibly taken from her village along with about 10 other boys and girls to insurgent-held territory for two weeks of training.

"We couldn't resist, because those people who took us away said they would kill us and our families if we refused," Toch Voon said through an interpreter.

After brief training, Toch

Voon said she was issued an M16 captured in earlier fighting with government troops, and 40 rounds of ammunition.

In addition to basic military training, Toch Voon said the girls attended political classes. She said "the leaders told us we were going to fight the traitorous clique of (Cambodian President) Lon Nol and the American imperialists."

Toch Voon said she had never seen an American before, and stared in amazement at this reporter.

All of the girls said the insurgents lived well and the others were told to stay in a trench and not to fire until told to do so.

Toch Voon said she never fired a shot at the "enemy."

Colorful ceremonies

OTTAWA (UPI) — Jules Lezer, 60-year-old diplomat and scholar, was sworn in Monday as Canada's 21st governor general.

In colorful ceremonies in the scarlet chamber of the senate the tall, quiet-spoken Lezer took his oath of allegiance to the queen, becoming her official representative in Canada.

The opening notrump is a picture bid—it describes a hand with a definite point count. The standard is 16-18 but more important it describes a hand with a balanced pattern. To get best value from your notrumps the hand pattern should be 4-3-3-3, 4-4-3-2 or 5-3-3-2.

Since the notrump is a picture bid it is possible to develop very effective methods of responding to it. With a balanced hand you simply add your points to your partner's. The total determines whether you want to play a part score, game or slam.

The Stayman convention allows you to find 4-4 major suit fits. North's two club is an example of this convention. The bid does not show clubs. It merely asks partner to bid a four-card major suit if he has one.

South does have one and bids two spades. North raises right to the spade game and South proceeds to make his contract with an overtrick by drawing trumps, knocking out the ace of clubs and eventually losing the heart trick.

South would also make three-notrump because the enemy hearts divide 4-4, but spades is the right spot.

Continental Insurance Cuts Idaho Auto Rates 35%.

Watch out, fellows. Continental Insurance is after more business.

When it comes to writing private passenger auto insurance, we're pretty big in most of the country. But in Idaho, we're pretty small. To attract more good drivers in this state, we've slashed our premiums for bodily injury, property damage, collision and comprehensive by 35%.

But we offer more than a good deal. Compared to most auto insurers, we offer a good deal more. 24-hour toll-free Dial-A-Claim service. 1,600 claims adjusters in the U.S. and Canada. Discounts for more than one car, for good students and for driver education. Automatic increase in liability to meet any other state's required minimum. Fair, fast settlements. And an opportunity to combine auto and home coverage into a single policy.

(Our rate cut applies to the auto portion of this "PCP" policy, and to pickup and panel truck coverage as well.)

Our biggest plus is the Independent Agent we sell through. He doesn't work for us, he's a local businessman working for himself. He chooses to represent us because our pricing and service are good for his clients.

The number of Independent Agents who offer our auto insurance is growing, especially since we've cut our rates. So watch out, you other insurance companies! When your policyholders start signing with our agents, don't say we didn't warn you.
