Snowstorm stalls Nixon checkup

WASHINGTON (UPI) — President Nixon left the White House today by auto for his long-delayed physical checkup, but a driving snowstorm and morning rush-hour traffic forced him to return less than an hour later.

White House spokesmen said the decision to turn back was made because of poor driving conditions on the George Washington Memorial Parkway in Virginia.

Military seizes African state

OUAGADOUGOU, Upper Volta (UPI) — The armed forces seized power in a peaceful coup today, suspended the constitution and dissolved parliament in this West African nation.

Gen. Sangoule Lamizana, 58, president of this former French colony, made the announcement in a nationwide radio message early today. He immediately placed the landlocked country under curfew.

Upper Volta borders on Mali, Niger, Ghana and the Ivory Coast.

Bank cuts prime rate

NEW YORK (UPI) — Cleveland Trust Co. announced today that it will cut its interest rate on prime business loans to large customers to 9 per cent from 9 1/2 per cent, effective Monday.

Meanwhile, several more large commercial banks cut the prime rate to 9 1/4 per cent, a move started by a few banks earlier this week.

Among those joining the parade to 9 1/4 per cent were Bankers Trust Co. and Marine Midland Bank of New York.

Wilson heads Sioux tribe

PINE RIDGE, S.D. (UPI) — Dick Wilson, a crew-cut former plumber, today won victory over militant Indian leader Russell Means in their pitched battle for the presidency of the Oglala Sioux tribe.

The elated Wilson, a decided underdog, proclaimed "a new destiny for American Indians" as the vote swung slowly into his column.

Wilson, 39, claimed victory well ahead of the final election announcement by David O. Brewer, head of the Tribal Election Board.

Actress found dead

HOLLYWOOD (UPI) — The body of former film actress Arline Judge was found in her West Hollywood apartment Thursday. Authorities said the 61-year-old woman apparently died of natural causes.

The New York-born actress worked as a dancer and chorus girl before traveling to Hollywood during the 1930s. She starred in a series of light romantic comedies through the 1940s.

Strike hikes unemployment

By United Press International

The number of unemployed Americans, already boosted by the energy crisis, has been growing as a result of the truckers' strike.

The latest workers to be hurt are those in the food industry.

The American Meat Institute in Chicago reported that 21 meat processing plants employing 10,000 workers have been closed. It said nearly all of the packers and processors across the nation would have to close if the strike does not end by the weekend.

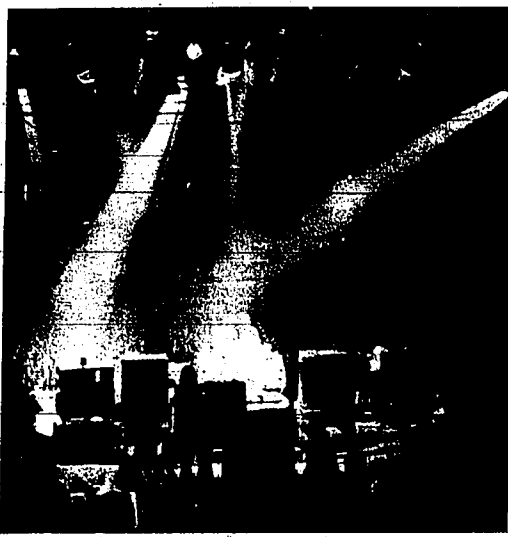

Food markets in the Northeast have been laying off workers because produce has not been arriving from Southern and Western growing areas.

Hospital project would provide beds, equipment

By CRICKET BIRD Times-News writer

TWIN FALLS — Magic Valley Memorial Hospital is like a woman who had so many children she didn't know what to do.

Not enough beds, a worn out washing machine and dishwasher are just a few of the problems scheduled to be corrected by the proposed $4.5 million construction project.

Twin Falls County residents go to the polls Tuesday to vote on the hospital bond issue.

The additional beds planned are perhaps the most talked about part of the bond proposal, although they are only one area of change.

The new beds will be installed on the second floor's west wing, for use by surgery patients. Presently the space is occupied by classrooms and offices.

The conversion to beds is actually a reconversion of an earlier construction. The second floor west wing was originally patient rooms which were converted to the present uses in an earlier construction project. The plumbing and electrical outlets remain, according to hospital administrator James Rosenbaum.

Only 60 to 90 days will be required to convert the space back to patient rooms, Rosenbaum says. Total cost for the patient room renovation is estimated at $87,500 for 4,380 square feet.

Approximately 26 beds — plans aren't final yet — will be added from the proposed construction, according to Mary Goe, hospital public relations director. Four of the total 30 beds to be assigned to surgery are gained by taking over two, two-bed obstetrical rooms. Because of the decline in number of births, only 14 of the 18 beds now designated for maternity beds should be needed, according to hospital administration.

As part of the reorganization and patient room renovation on the second floor, the labor and delivery rooms will be modernized, with improvements for Cesarean section procedures. A new nursery will be located in the present auditorium, with an area for intensive newborn care. The old nursery will be one of the areas converted for surgery patients.

The addition of extra beds should relieve overcrowding in the hospital, Rosenbaum says. More surgery beds, expanded surgical facilities and outpatient surgery would all combine to shorten the elective surgery schedule, now with delays of 20 to 27 days.

Hospital facilities could be used more efficiently. Now, for example, according to Dr. John McKinn, general surgeon, "when a patient in intensive care no longer needs intensive care, we many times must move him there because there is no other bed available."

Originally, according to Rosenbaum, a 50-bed addition was considered. The Comprehensive Health Planning division of the State Department Environmental and Community Services, to avoid overbuilding and duplication of services, advised a cut to 30. With the free-up of beds resulting from outpatient surgery, the agency felt that 30 additional beds would be adequate for the hospital to operate in the preferred range of between 70 to 80 per cent occupancy. Jaworski, Nixon lawyers huddle

WASHINGTON (UPI) — Watergate Prosecutor Leon Jaworski and White House lawyers held a "lengthy meeting" today, apparently to discuss the latest dispute over obtaining further evidence from President Nixon for the grand juries investigating the scandal.

There was no indication precisely what was discussed, or whether any progress was made toward meeting Jaworski's recent request for more tapes and documents short of a court battle.

"The special prosecutor and White House special counsel held a lengthy meeting this morning," Jaworski's office said in a terse statement. "The matter remains under discussion."

The White House had no immediate comment.

Meanwhile, U.S. District Judge Gerhard A. Gesell was reported to be preparing an order, to be issued later in the day.

Burley aide succumbs

BURLEY — Gerald E. Wyant, 48, Burley city councilman and owner of Wyant's Small Motors in Burley, was dead on arrival early this morning at Cassin Memorial Hospital.

Wyant began his first term on the Burley City Council Jan. 1.

The cause of death has not yet been determined.

Violence hits trucker pact

By United Press International

A split in the ranks of the independent truck drivers over acceptance of a government settlement after today triggered new violence in the 9-day-old drivers' strike.

Even so, there were indications that more trucks were on the road than at any time this week and that truck stop business was returning to normal.

Two truck drivers were shot and wounded, one critically, in Ohio early today. In Pennsylvania, a truck traveling on Route 22 near Hollidaysburg was struck by a bullet fired from a passing car. The slug failed to penetrate the cab and the driver was not injured.

The Mississippi Highway Patrol reported three trucks fired on during the night. Two lumber trucks were hit by bullets and a third one was fired on by two white men armed with shotguns. No one was injured.

Two drivers have been killed thus far as a result of violence connected with the strike by drivers for lower fuel costs and higher freight rates. One driver was shot to death and the other was killed when a rock thrown through the windshield of his truck caused him to lose control and crash.

Lawrence Huff, 48, New Waterford, Ohio, was shot in the stomach today while driving on Ohio 11 near East Liverpool for the Ray Molder Carrier Corp. Snipers opened fire on his rig and another that had been following close behind, police said.

Another truck driver was shot in the leg near the Elyria exit on the Ohio Turnpike. The Ohio Highway Patrol said he was standing beside his truck when he was fired on by someone in a passing car.

Today's violence came only hours after many drivers, across the country, shouted against a compromise proposal reached Thursday in Washington that did not meet all of their demands. There were threats to continue the walkout.

Meanwhile, more and more grocery outlets reported dwindling food supplies.

In Washington Teamster President Frank E. Fitzsimmons, Nixon's staunchest labor supporter, condemned the strike Thursday and urged all of his members to keep the trucks rolling.

More than half the independent drivers who own their own rigs are members of the Teamsters. But many of them were forced to join in order to remain in business and are hostile to the union.

Astros land safely

ABOARD USS NEW ORLEANS (UPI) — The last Skylab astronauts landed on target in the gentle Pacific today from man's longest spaceflight, an 84-day, 31.5 million mile journey that opened the way for a trip someday to Mars.

"It's good to be back," said mission commander Gerald P. Carr as he, Edward G. Gibson and William R. Pogue chatted with recovery forces in helicopter hovering overhead their landing capsule.

The Skylab 3 astronauts splashed down about 6,000 yards from this veteran recovery ship. The astronauts indicated they were in good shape after spending nearly three months in weightless space.

"Well done," said Pogue as he and his crewmates took pulse readings to see how well they were adjusting to the rigors of earth gravity. They wore special pressure pants to prevent blood from pooling in their legs.

Guerrillas release hostages, fly away

KUWAIT (UPI) — Five Arab guerrillas ended a two-day occupation of the Japanese embassy today, released the last of their 16 hostages and left Kuwait aboard a special Japanese plane for Aden.

A Japan Air Lines spokesman said the plane left shortly after 4 p.m. and was expected to arrive in Aden, capital of the Peoples Republic of Southern Yemen, three hours later.

Aboard were the all-volunteer, nine-man Japanese crew of the DC8 jet, a number of Japanese and Singapore government officials and nine guerrillas, the five from Kuwait and four from Singapore who looted off the hijack drama more than a week ago.

George plans biggest birthday

Washington plans TF gala

George Washington. You remember him, don't you?

He was that white-wigged gentleman from Virginia who led our boys against the British almost 200 years ago and ended up as first president of the country.

Well, he's donning his duds and coming to Twin Falls for the next 10 days for a bit of "birthday hoopla."

A joke? Not at all — although it must be admitted, for honesty's sake, that the real Mr. Washington (of colonial fame) died over 170 years ago.

But Twin Falls has its own Mr. Washington — portrayed by Hardy Bond, a retired Swift and Co. executive who makes his home in Twin Falls. And Bond will be playing a big role around town as Feb. 18, the official celebration day, draws near.

It's all a part of the "George Washington Birthday Celebration," being planned by Twin Falls merchants and citizens in honor of the annual event. And the star will be George (our George) playing George (the founding father).

US nears canal treaty

PANAMA CITY (UPI) — Negotiators started work today on the details of a new Panama Canal treaty after the United States agreed to hand over eventual control of the waterway to the Panamanian government.

Secretary of State Henry A. Kissinger said the United States would try to wind up the negotiations "as quickly as possible" in an attempt to put an end to a sore point in relations between the two countries.

Thousands of demonstrators, however, shouted "Yankee animal" and "gringo murderer" Thursday as Kissinger and Panamanian Foreign Minister Juan Antonio Tost signed an eight-point statement of intent to guide the treaty talks.

"In the President's name, I hereby commit the United States to complete this negotiation successfully and as quickly as possible," Kissinger said in signing the accord during his six-hour visit.

U.S. negotiator Morey Bell scheduled meetings with Panamanian officials today to discuss the new treaty to replace a 1903 pact that gave America control of the canal "in perpetuity."

The statement of principles called for a two-part handover of the canal.

The United States promised to recognize Panama's jurisdiction over the Canal Zone as soon as the treaty was signed and promised Panama "total responsibility" for running the waterway at the expiration of the new treaty.

In an apparent concession, Panama agreed to let the treaty include "provisions for new projects, which will enlarge canal capacity."

The State Department, in a white paper issued in Panama City, said the United States was considering either adding a third lane of locks to the canal or building a new, sea-level waterway.

"Sacrificing neither interest nor self-respect, Panama and the United States have made a choice for partnership," Kissinger said at the signing ceremony in Panama's Legislative Palace. "While we have taken a great stride forward, we must still travel a difficult distance to our goal."

Heiress kidnap claimed

BERKELEY, Calif. (UPI)—Police said today that the terrorist group which says it kidnapped publishing heiress Patricia C. Hearst appears to have more evidence to back its claim.

The Symbionese Liberation Army, an underground organization that previously said it assassinated the Oakland, Calif., school superintendent, said in a letter Thursday that it was holding Miss Hearst, 19, in "protective custody."

"The letter warned she would be killed if attempts were made to rescue her."

A gasoline credit card was enclosed in the letter to authenticate the message and the victim's father, publisher Randolph A. Hearst, identified the card.

Police Lieutenant David Johnson said he had seen a Detective Division revealed early today that Miss Hearst's fiancé, Steven Weed, told investigators her wallet was taken by the abductors who burgled her apartment Monday night, bent him and fled with his hostage.

Johnson speculated there would soon be "another communication" and said additional letters from the wallet would probably be enclosed.

It was Johnson who also "speculated" late Wednesday night that the kidnapers would be "heard from in the next day or so."

The letter was received the next day by Berkeley radio station KPFA.

Johnson told newsmen he felt the terrorists "probably mean what they say about execution."

Charles Bates, special agent in charge of the FBI office in nearby San Francisco, said the bureau "will not take any action to jeopardize the victim."

"Our first consideration is the safety of the girl," he said.

Weed said Thursday he will not testify against the kidnapers if Miss Hearst is returned unharmed.

Bates said it would be "up to the family" to decide if "authorities would press their search."

Briefs

TWIN FALLS—Among the survivors of the FBI office in Blackburn, B. Fruittland, who died there Wednesday, is a son, Harald K. Blackburn, Twin Falls.

Spud law asked

BOISE (UPI)—Five House members proposed Thursday to make it a misdemeanor to sell steamed potatoes under the guise of baked potatoes.

If enacted his would make it a crime in Idaho to advertise or offer for consumption a steamed potato cooked in foil as a baked Idaho potato.

The penalty would be a maximum fine of $300 and/or 90 days in jail.

Belfast campaign launched

BELFAST (UPI)—Detectives launched a campaign today to crack an extensive arms manufacturing ring operated secretly by Protestant extremists in Belfast's foundries.

The sources said hundreds of crude but effective pistols and even light machine guns were being made in secret by industrial workers.

The sources said detectives launched the latest search campaign after police found 23 locally made pistols Thursday in a vacant house overlooking a Belfast foundry.

"They pose no threat against the high-powered weapons of the security forces, but because they can be slipped through security checks," one police source said.

The source said the "zip" guns were "easily produced using pieces of metal tubing which are freely available in any of Northern Ireland's many foundries."

Authorities have reported 949 persons slain in four years of strife among majority Protestants, minority Roman Catholics and British troops in the province.

A bomb partially detonated outside a Catholic Church in South Belfast late Thursday but caused little damage, police said.

Missing girl found in road culvert

MISSOULA, Mont. (UPI)—A county road crew found the body of a missing 5-year-old girl alongside Interstate 90 in western Montana Tuesday.

Little Siboban Cunningham had been missing since Tuesday afternoon and had been the subject of a search by more than 225 volunteers and lawmen.

Police said her body had been placed in a culvert near the highway approximately 10 miles southeast of Missoula where she was last seen.

Missoula County Coroner Laurence Livingston said an autopsy will be performed to determine the cause of the girl's death.

Water agreement safe, wise choice

It would be easy to lose sight of the main features of a proposal to bring water to new farmland west of the Salmon Falls Creek Canyon.

A brief summary:

1. There is water available. The water must be taken from excess flows during the late fall and winter. This water is now being wasted, flowing unused down the Snake River.
 2. There is good land waiting to be farmed. The developers of Canyon View and Tuana projects expect to bring water to 47 square miles of good land west of Salmon Falls Creek.
 3. It is economically feasible to bring the water to the land.
 4. Cooperation will be required to irrigate the new land. First, the 100 or so farmers who will own the new land must cooperate in the large irrigation system required to bring water westward.
- Also the cooperation of the Twin Falls Canal Company is required to convey off-season spill water from Milner to the edge of the Salmon Falls Creek Canyon where it would enter the Canyon View and Tuana irrigation systems.
5. If not used here, the water involved will not be wasted for long. If it isn't used in Twin Falls County it will be used elsewhere else, most likely in California. The water is too valuable to waste.
- Everything now hinges on the vote by Twin Falls Canal Company shareholders on whether to convey Canyon View and Tuana's water westward from Milner.

The Twin Falls tract shareholders, knowing the value of their own water, are properly concerned about the status of Twin Falls Tract water rights. They are willing to help out a new development, but not at the expense of Twin Falls tract rights.

Suspensions have been heightened by shifting statements of intention involving the Tuana portion of the proposed development. It has become apparent, for one thing, that Tuana's system is designed to have its reservoir replenished during the irrigation season. Facing shifting grounds for discussion, it is understandable that canal company voters should be cautious.

However, in our view the canal company shareholders would be safe in approving the specific contract put before them.

The contract provides for three key items: — It provides for conveyance of water only owned by others: It does not authorize conveyance of tract water.

— It provides for off-season conveyance only. It does not allow seasonal conveyance.

— It forces the Canyon View and Tuana Developers expressly to waive claims to Twin Falls Canal Company water.

— If Tuana and Canyon View want on-season water, or want to buy Twin Falls tract water, or want to gain control over Twin Falls tract rights, they would have to do so with some other agreement, not this one.

A paragraph from the proposed agreement with Canyon View makes clear the protection guaranteed Twin Falls tract water rights:

"Water Rights. It is understood and agreed that the water which is the subject of this conveyancing arrangement shall be represented by rights which are held by Canyon for the benefit of its member-stockholders and it is herein acknowledged that Canyon shall establish no rights in and to any water represented by water rights held by the (Twin Falls Canal) Company in trust for, and for the benefit of, the Company's member-stockholders. Any water which is conveyed pursuant to the terms of this agreement shall be water to which Canyon has a water right independent and separate from any water right held by the Company."

At the same time the Twin Falls tract shareholders have much to gain. They will reduce the cost of their own water delivery by the income from conveying Canyon View and Tuana water.

Moreover, they would strengthen the farming base of the area's economy. There could be no more wholesome, socially beneficial and environmentally sound development here than opening new farmlands.

And if Idaho water is put to good use in Idaho instead of California, so much the better.

WASHINGTON — The political and economic consequences of the energy crisis at home are obvious — unemployment now at 4.7 million and going up; prices and inflation increasing — but the long-range consequences in the world at large are even more disturbing.

For example, in their anxiety to ease the energy crisis, the major nations are now trading arms for gas, and easing the world into another arms crisis. Before long, we may see an easing of the oil embargo, but after it's over, as one observer put it, the Middle East is likely to be bristling with modern weapons: "Two tanks in every tent."

Iran is getting modern planes from the United States. France and Britain are bidding against each other for new plane and tank contracts with the Arab states, and of course the military supplies keep moving from Moscow to Egypt and from Washington to Israel.

It was hoped that the cease-fire in the Middle East and the separation of the Egyptian and Israeli armies might lead to an agreement between the United States and the Soviet Union to keep the military balance in that part of the world about where it is, but the arms curve is not leveling off but steadily rising.

Meanwhile, the success of the oil embargo in producing spectacular profits for the oil states is just beginning to have its effects on other countries producing basic raw materials required by the advanced countries. Here again, the trend is for the producers to combine in limiting production and raising prices. A few figures will illustrate the problem. By 1985, U.S. officials estimate that this country will be relying on imports for about half of all its essential raw materials.

The spectacular rise in fuel prices alone has not only contributed to serious economic and political problems in Britain and Japan, but has greatly complicated the world monetary crisis, and there is little evidence that the world oil conference in Washington next week will produce any effective remedies.

Against this background, Washington has had some difficulty in agreeing with President Nixon's view of the state of the union or the state of the world in his latest report to the nation.

While Nixon was saying that "there will be no recession in the United States of America," his economic report a couple of days later suggested that the recession may very well have begun.

Underneath these public remarks on the state of the nation, there is going on here in private a basic dispute over how the United States should face these new challenges not only from the other advanced countries but from the producers of raw materials.

On the one hand, Nixon is being urged to take a more protectionist view of the crisis, to make the country "independent" of all foreign oil producers by a massive program to develop oil and produce new sources of energy, and to strike much stiffer bargains in trading abroad.

At the same time, he is also being urged to avoid protectionism which might lead to even greater disarray in the monetary, trade and commodity markets, and lead eventually to a world-wide depression.

All this, plus a new arms race to boot, scarcely adds up to a picture of temporary inconveniences and a generation of peace and prosperity, but to a long-range crisis for which neither the executive nor the Congress is prepared.

"Fancy meeting you here."

Watergate czar needed

WASHINGTON — Is Watergate a hoax to take our minds off the energy crisis? Dr. Heinrich Applebaum, who keeps tabs on the Watergate industry, maintains it is not.

"The Watergate crisis is for real, in spite of what President Nixon says. In fact, it is so serious that it may well lead to a total reorganization of the government," he said.

"Another reason," said Applebaum, "is that the President thought he had more tapes than he really did. There was a shortfall of more than 100 tons of White House tapes, and this actually triggered the crisis in the summer of 1972."

"What would he do?" I asked.

"He would make sure we would never run out of Watergate material. For example, the czar would have the power to allocate Watergate indictments so every state would get a piece of the action."

"The special prosecutor's office seems to be supplying only their favored customers, and this is causing extreme hardship in the Middle West where farmers and truck drivers were depending on Watergate to get them through the winter."

"You do need a czar to straighten that one out," I conceded.

"Dealing with the shortage of White House tapes would also be under the czar's direction," Dr. Applebaum said. "One of the reasons for the shortage is that the President's lawyers have put an embargo on the tapes until Congress goes back to the session in June of 1974."

"Another reason," said Applebaum, "is that the President thought he had more tapes than he really did. There was a shortfall of more than 100 tons of White House tapes, and this actually triggered the crisis in the summer of 1972."

many people believed Nixon was withholding the tapes so he could jack up the price on them."

"How would you solve that one?" I asked.

"The czar would have White House tape ration stamps printed. Each grand jury and congressional committee would be allotted 10 grand jury stamps. If they didn't use up their allotment, they could sell their stamps to another grand jury. This would be an equitable way of guaranteeing everyone would have enough tapes to get through the month."

ART BUCHWALD

Dr. Applebaum believes although the crisis is real there is still enough Watergate evidence in the country to implicate everyone.

"When you add up the Democratic headquarters break-in, the ITT and milk fund scandals, mass perjury by Administration officials, the Howard Hughes donation, the erasure of White House tapes, the President's questionable tax returns and the impeachment proceedings, we have enough gallons of Watergate for every man, woman, and child in the country, providing the czar bans all Sunday bugging."

Rhetoric, facts differ

WASHINGTON — Housewives and people without jobs can be forgiven if they find the news coming out of Washington these days a touch confusing, because the rhetoric doesn't match the facts.

President Nixon says that "as I see it," 1974 will be "a good year for the economy as a whole." He says: "People are earning more. What they earn buys more. More than ever before in history." Nixon, meet your own Council of Economic Advisers.

In its forecasts for 1974, the Council makes the "feasible" prediction that there will be an increase in the Gross National Product (GNP) of 8 per cent. But as the Council then points out, this will not really be an increase, because the $102-billion "gain" over 1973 would be 1 per cent in real growth and 2 per cent in inflation. Real growth is what's left after adjustment is made for higher prices.

Last year, real growth was 6 per cent, and the inflation rate was 5.3 per cent. Thus, 1974 — by the Council's own estimates — will be worse than 1973. Mr. and Mrs. Main Street: 6 per cent of people indeed are earning more, as Nixon points out. But the administration's own figures admit these people are not better off. Real spendable earnings are lower now than they were a year ago. Put another way, if you have $100 to spend and the things you want to buy cost a dollar more than they cost in 1973, you've lost ground.

Then there are the unemployed. The Council of Economic Advisers has announced that the unemployment rate, which rose to 5.2 per cent in December, would average "a little above 5.5 per cent" this year. Last year's average was 4.9 per cent, and the average since World War II has been about 4.5 per cent.

Nixon himself scooped his Council on this bad news. His printed State of the Union message to Congress reported that in the "early part of this year" "output will rise a little if at all unemployment will rise somewhat and the inflation will be high." For reasons about which it is feeble to speculate, the President deleted this statement from the speech he delivered to millions of television viewers.

At any rate, a few days later, the truckers' strike against high diesel fuel prices spread to more than 20 states. Thousands of workers faced new layoffs in the automobile and livestock industries because trucks were not delivering essential supplies.

ANDREW TULLY

Everything seems to point to at least a mild recession this year — a recession accompanied by the novelty of still higher prices. Nixon's economic experts all but admitted as much in their report, which said output would shrink for "an interval" in the first half of 1974. And it long has been economic law that two straight quarters of lowered output constitute a recession.

Not necessarily, says Herb Stein, chairman of the Council. Even if the GNP does decline two quarters in a row, says Stein, it won't be a recession. He urges that the press and public "not be guided by simplified, mechanistic standards" which "have no standing in the economic profession."

ASTOUNDING. Apparently because the economic news is so bad that strong methods are needed to conceal its meaning from the public, Stein has passed a new law repealing the yardstick by which recessions have always commonly been measured.

Tell that to Sweeney, Mr. Stein, sir. Tell it to Mrs. Sweeney — and then duck.

Oil valves open slightly

By NEA-London Economist News Service
LONDON (LENS) — Both Henry Kissinger and President Sadat of Egypt have predicted that the oil embargoes will soon be officially ended. Presumably the cutbacks will be ended too.

Unofficially, some of the Arab oil-producing countries are already loosening the reins. The cuts still stand nominally at 15 per cent off the September production rates. America and Holland are still nominally embargoed. But hardly anyone cares any more.

Kissinger is now being billed as the hero of the hour; and the villains are no longer supposed to be the Arabs, but those old favorites, the international oil companies, whose talent and bad public relations is matched only by their secretiveness.

In both Europe and America the suspicion is widespread that the companies have tried to manipulate the situation to their own advantage. In America, the executives led a Senate sub-committee to grill the executives of the nation's seven biggest oil companies about the supposed bonanza profits they have reaped from the oil crisis.

However, gullible they are, the international companies are unlikely to hold over again the power they enjoyed before the crisis.

Henceforth they will be caught between the governments of the oil-producing and the oil-consuming countries, so that their profits will largely depend on what the different governments allow them.

A few years ago, the companies largely produced what quantities of oil they wanted, from where they wanted at a price they largely set themselves. Ah, memories.

Cuts not deep

(c) New York Times Service
NEW YORK — Shipments from the Persian Gulf in December were about 7.4 per cent below the September level, the last month before the Arabs announced production cutbacks and embargoes against the United States and the Netherlands, according to a study commissioned by the International Longshoremen's Association.

The Gulf embargoes included Iraq, which declined to take part in the cutbacks, and Iran, a non-Arab nation. In fact, Iran and Iraq increased production and thereby partially offset a 16.3 per cent cutback by Saudi Arabia and a 22 per cent cutback by Kuwait — the leaders in an announced move to 25 per cent cutbacks in December.

The study, the first major attempt to assay the efficacy of the "Arab oil weapon," also suggested that production increases by such non-Arab nations as Nigeria and Indonesia reduced the overall world short-fall to around 5 per cent, considerably less than the United States Government and other sources had expected.

THOSTESON, M. D.

Movement lack aids swelling

Dear Dr. Thosteson: When on long plane trips my feet and ankles swell. I do not do anything different except sit still longer.

Before recent surgery (removal of a cyst) the doctor asked me if my feet swell. I said yes so he wrapped them.

Why only under certain circumstances do they swell? When I am home (except for the surgery incident) I have no trouble. I eat the same and drink the same. I am 65. — Mrs. J. O.

You've really answered your own question: "I don't do anything different except sit still longer." It's the sitting still.

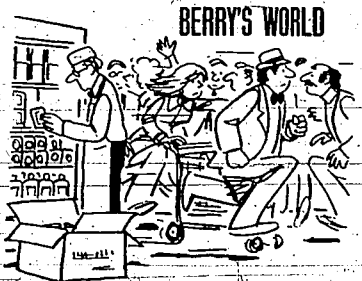

At 65 it's not surprising for your circulation to have slowed down a bit, particularly in the legs. All the blood and fluids that are pumped into your legs and feet have to be pumped back up again through the veins. It takes a lot of pumping.

All of the task of raising this fluid back up again is not done by the heart alone. The play of muscles against the veins also helps. If the muscles are not used, the veins have to do it. When you sit still you do not exert this muscle action.

In addition, you may or may not exert some constrictive pressure on the veins by the way you sit. Crossing your legs can have an effect. If you have any degree of varicose veins, that adds to the problem.

Egypt destroys missile sites

By United Press International
Egypt has blown up most of its deadly missile sites on the east bank of the Suez Canal, complying with the troop pullback agreement worked out by Secretary of State Henry A. Kissinger, Israel said today.

In Cairo, the authoritative newspaper Al-Ahram today quoted Egyptian President Anwar Sadat as saying the war with Israel had not ended and could be resumed at any minute.

The semi-official paper said fighting could resume if Israel withdrew from its bridgehead on the canal's west bank was proceeding smoothly. The Israeli forces have until March 5 to pull back from the canal to positions 13 miles into the Sinai Desert.

The Al-Ahram newspaper said President Sadat decided to postpone a planned cabinet reshuffle until Israel had withdrawn from occupied Egyptian territory. It said Sadat, bowing to popular demand, decided to remain his own prime minister.

The newspaper said Sadat was considering a program to provide jobs for Egyptian troops to be demobilized, but new warfare was still possible.

Shell denies part in scheme

NEW YORK (UPI) — The Shell Oil Co. Thursday denied it took part in a scheme to create a false boom heating oil shortage aimed at forcing prices up during the Arab oil embargo.
State Attorney General Louis J. Lefkowitz charged Wednesday that Shell, the Atlantic Petroleum Corp., Compania Shell de Venezuela and Shell Curacao, N.A., conspired to hold one million barrels of No. 2 home heating oil in storage tanks in New Jersey under a "customs bond"—not officially imported and not ready for immediate sale.
"We certainly did not in any way whatsoever participate in any scheme to divert heating oil from our own supply stream," the spokesman said, adding that Shell did not, as Lefkowitz had said, have anything to do with the management of the other firms.

Soviets 'lean' on Iceland

WASHINGTON (UPI) — The Soviet government has "leaned" on Iceland, threatening to stop sending oil to the tiny North Atlantic state unless it orders the United States military out of bases the Pentagon considers the keystone to Atlantic defenses, administration sources said today.
One source called the Soviet threat "a clear example of how the Arab oil boycott has frightened us. We've even begun to consider, in the era of cheap, apple oil, Moscow could never have leaned on a country like this."

The sources said the Soviet action was an "implicit threat" so that if the Icelanders called Moscow's bluff, the Soviets could back away and claim to have been misunderstood.

The Icelandic ambassador to Washington, Haraldur Kroyer, told UPI in an interview: "There is no foundation for this rumor...there have been some delays in deliveries of oil over the last month, but these delays are purely technical."

He said the Soviets reported the delays were due to difficulties in meeting their shipping obligations to other countries. One U.S. official contended this actually was a Soviet hint. But he said, "I doubt if the Russians would really carry out the threat if Iceland just called their bluff."

Moscow once before used trade to pressure Iceland, which has a population of only 200,000, in 1948 Soviet boss

Heath begins election campaign

LONDON (UPI) — Prime Minister Edward Heath began a three-week election campaign in crisis-shaken Britain today, fighting for his political life against militant unions opposed to his wage controls.

Opinion polls predicted Heath's Conservative government would run into serious trouble in the Feb. 28 parliamentary vote. One survey said the opposition Labour party would win by a three per cent margin if the vote were held now.

Heath took the election gamble Thursday by announcing plans to dissolve Parliament and hold a national vote as the only way out of Britain's crippling economic crisis.

The prime minister, in announcing the halting, abandoned efforts to head off this weekend's potentially paralyzing coal-mine strike, the latest and most serious union challenge to his government's anti-inflation wage guidelines. Government officials said

Heath decided to risk a vote because he needed the backing of a new, five-year mandate to deal with Britain's gravest crisis since World War II.

Television speeches launching their campaigns, Heath and former Prime Minister Harold Wilson, the Labour party leader, came out against an unnecessarily divisive or bitter electoral battle.

The government also announced a four-month extension of a state of emergency declared Nov. 12 when Britain's 260,000 miners began a slow-down slashing coal production 70 per cent. Britain depends on coal for 70 per cent of its electricity.

Viet prisoner exchange starts

SAIGON (UPI) — The Saigon government airlifted 72 captives to Viet Cong territory today, starting the final round of prisoner exchanges delayed by nearly a year of bickering.

On the battlefield, the South Vietnamese command reported 78 Communist force violations between dawn Thursday and sunup today, raising to 36,501 the number of alleged attacks since the signing of the Jan. 28 cease-fire pact.

The freed prisoners, flanked by a pair of military policemen, walked silently in groups of eight to the nine Huey helicopters for a 50-minute flight to Viet Cong territory.

Dressed alike in black pajamas and sandals, the 68 men and four women clambered aboard the helicopters for their flight from Bien Hoa, 14 miles northeast of Saigon, to the Viet Cong capital of Loc Ninh, 60 miles to the north.

The release began the final phase in a 12-month operation to free all Vietnamese prisoners seized during the Indochina war.

In Phnom Penh, six Cambodian field commanders have been relieved of duty and charged with cowardice for retreating from positions south of the capital without permission, military sources said today.

The sources said the six officers, all battalion commanders, would be brought before the War Council—a judicial body—to face the charges. The commanders were not identified.

Although the Nobel Peace Prize-winning Paris peace agreement called for release of all POWs by last April 23, South Vietnam and the Viet Cong slowed; then halted, the prisoner exchanges last July.

Economy goals set

DETROIT (UPI) — Full-sized cars that deliver no less than 15 miles per gallon in city and suburban driving are a reality in three or four years, said General Motors Corp. chairman Richard C. Gerstenberg.

Facing threats that Washington will set a timetable to force Detroit to build cars that use less gasoline, Gerstenberg said Thursday the 15 m.p.g. goal is just a minimum. He said GM already is switching to more economical engines to meet customer demand.

"I think there still is a good market for a full-size car, but we have to be innovative enough to find some way to get a rather substantial improvement in fuel economy for a larger car," Gerstenberg said.

Package facts urged

WASHINGTON (UPI) — The Federal Trade Commission (FTC) today proposed that detergent makers be required to list all ingredients and their function on the package, so consumers will know what they're buying and what it's supposed to do.

The agency said the proposal, which will not be made final for at least two months, was designed to help buyers avoid chemicals to which they or their family may suffer allergic or other adverse reactions. It said the rules would also help shoppers more intelligently choose among the many brands on the shelf.

Under the proposal, any package containing more than one pound or holding more than one pint (and that covers most of the standard sizes) would have to list the ingredients by order of their predominance in the product.

Reapportionment bill OK'd

BY DAVID ESPO
Times-News Capitol Bureau
BOISE — The Senate approved a reapportionment bill of its own Thursday, 20-15, after narrowly defeating a House-passed version.

Both bills were held for possible reconsideration today, however.

Both of the measures would split Gooding County between two legislative districts. The one that won Senate approval makes no other changes in the Magic Valley, but redraws legislative district lines in eastern Idaho and the western part of the state.

The vote on the first bill to be considered, the Sponsor Sen. Dick Smith, R-Rezburg, argued for its passage, even though it makes no changes in the eastern Idaho legislative districts.

He said a preamble attached to the bill adequately set for the legislature's attitude that "Ricks College students who are not citizens of the state should not be counted in census totals."

But with the Republican leadership and few Democrats opposing it, the measure failed by one vote.

The notice of possible reconsideration for the two measures slows further the progress of the legislature in dealing with reapportionment. The courts have given the lawmakers 30 days to redraw the legislative district boundaries along one-man one-vote lines.

The deadline expires Tuesday. Under normal procedure, the version which passed the Senate will be transmitted to the House this afternoon following Senate action in the morning.

Among those speaking on the floor against the House-passed version were Sens. John Barker, R-Buhl and James Yost, R-Wendell.

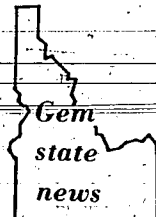

Barker said the courts have ruled that population is the most important consideration in reapportionment, including student population. He opposed the measure because it didn't make adjustment for the Ricks

College students.

Yost argued the judiciary "hasn't been doing an adequate job." He said after the Senate he thought court were assuming too great a role in passing laws rather than judging them.

R. Dean Summers, R-Boise, who voted for the bill that passed and then served notice of possible reconsideration, told the Senate he was appalled that 35 senators on this floor can "judge what the judges are going to do to."

He was referring to the claim of some lawmakers that the courts would strike down any reapportionment plan that did not make adjustments in Eastern Idaho.

Energy panel formed

BOISE (UPI) — An Idaho Energy Council was established by Gov. Cecil D. Andrus Thursday by executive order.

It will be made up of the majority and minority leaders of the House and Senate with the Governor serving as chairman.

The council will work with the Idaho Public Utilities Commission in an advisory capacity to the Idaho Office on Energy.

The executive order also formalized the existence of the Idaho Office on Energy, created last October by Andrus, and placed the Idaho Office of Energy formally under the Governor's office.

Andrus said he had received a telegram from William E. Simon, administrator of the Federal Office of Energy, asking that all states give his office more assistance in helping solve energy problems and carry out national energy conservation programs.

The telegram acknowledges that due to a failure of additional federal legislation to be enacted, they are appealing to states to accelerate their energy efforts," the Governor said.

Andrus added that while the Idaho Office had been awaiting additional federal legislation, "we in Idaho are ready to become even more actively involved and accelerate our own efforts."

"While I do take this telegram as an indication of more bad news to come from the federal level," said Andrus, "our Idaho office on energy is ready for most any federal promulgation."

Reorganization bill passes House test

BOISE (UPI) — House leaders won a major victory Thursday when they beat back attempts to amend a Senate bill reorganizing the Department of Education and secured its final approval 40-23.

This bill, which undoubtedly will be subject to follow-up legislation to restore some of the powers of the Superintendent of Public Instruction, is the first reorganization bill to pass both houses. It goes next to the Governor.

Earlier, the House had killed the water resources bill and passed the Governor's office bill. By a vote of 36-17 the House reconsidered the water bill and then approved it 42-28.

The bill blocked the reconsideration of the Governor's office bill.

Chairman Kurt Johnson, R-Idaho Falls, of the House Education Committee tried to put the education bill into committee of the whole for amendment, saying his committee wanted to restore powers the measure takes from the school superintendent and puts into the Board of Education.

Some compromise is needed," Johnson said.

He said the committee wants to amend the bill so that the superintendent could appoint his own staff members with the consent of the state board. Under the bill approved by both houses the board has both the authority for policy and appointments.

Chairman Harold Snow, R-Moscow, of the reorganization committee urged the House to beat Johnson's motion, saying if the legislature wants the superintendent to have the powers it can pass a follow-up bill.

He said committee of the whole where debate on amendments is quite limited.

Committee holds bootleg tape bill

Times-News Capitol Bureau
BOISE — The House Judiciary Committee Thursday decided to hold for rewriting a proposal to outlaw the production of sale of bootleg tape recordings.

Rep. Ralph Olmstead, R-Twin Falls, told committee members he had received some calls from constituents on the bill since the FBI raided a Twin Falls tape store several days ago and seized some merchandise.

The committee also voted against introducing two measures requested by court reporters, and then decided to ask a representative of the reporters to a future meeting to discuss the proposals.

League blasts ERA 'exercise'

Times-News Capitol Bureau
BOISE — The president of the Idaho League of Women Voters criticized Thursday the latest attempt to rescind Idaho's ratification of the "Equal Rights Amendment," national. With only six more states' approval needed, she said, "there are hopeful the other states will ratify before the end of 1974."

Mrs. Slotten made her comments in response to the introduction in the House Thursday of a concurrent resolution by seven house members. The proposal would repeal the earlier ratification of the "Equal Rights Amendment" in the 1972 legislation.

Marjorie Slotten, in Boise with a group of League members, said she was "disappointed that a few members of the House seem to feel that the subject of women's rights have not been fully debated."

"She said the League was in strong support of the ratification of the ERA

The seven sponsors include Rep. Lee Barron, R-Corral. Mrs. Slotten said the League Board of Directors would hold a two-day meeting beginning today.

Taylor cites $ needs

Times-News Capitol Bureau
BOISE — College of Southern Idaho president Dr. James Taylor said Thursday it would take $2.1 million to fund the state's junior colleges for academic programs for the coming fiscal year.

Taylor said the figure was in addition to about $800,000 needed for vocational education throughout the state.

Gov. Cecil D. Andrus has asked for a nominal $500 increase for the coming fiscal year over junior college of $1.8 million for the current fiscal year.

DECS pens aid contract

T-N Capitol Bureau
BOISE — The Department of Environmental and Community Services has signed a contract with another state agency for assistance in drawing up an affirmative action program.

Robert Bushnell, DECS general counsel, said the $20,000 contract has been signed with the Human Rights Commission so the department would have outside assistance in developing its program.

He said the federal Equal Employment Opportunity Commission would likely be watching DECS' final plan as an indication of what state government in Idaho would do to develop the program.

Linda Gonzales, commission director, said the HRC was hiring a consultant for the DECS job.

To kick off the festivities, Mr. Washington will be visiting elementary school classes and Twin Falls Civic Club tunebeats telling all about his historic mentor.
Highlighted in this year's celebration is a George Washington Coloring Contest open to all children pre-school age through 12 years and over. Prizes will be offered to winners in each age category. Children or their parents may pick up official coloring entry blanks at any Twin Falls store which is participating in the Washington's Birthday event. Participating stores are listed daily in the Times-News through promotional advertising.

Feb. 18 is expected to be the sales day of the year in Twin Falls.
Stores will be offering numerous fantastic bargains and almost unbelievable savings. Participation in this year's sellabration among Twin Falls merchants is expected to be greater than ever.
Shopping center groups and the downtown merchants association have already indicated record participation. All stores will advertise their special Washington's Birthday merchandise in the Sunday, Feb. 17 issue of the Times-News.

Safety precaution

LARRY LAROCCO, Twin Falls Bank and Trust marketing officer, presents fluorescent arm bands to Keith Turner, Lincoln School principal, left. The arm bands will be used for school patrols and children in the special education program.

Schools receive armbands

TWIN FALLS — If you happen to notice bright orange spots while driving — to work one of these dark daylight savings mornings, don't worry.
It's just school kids protecting themselves from the energy crises.
The Twin Falls Bank & Trust presented 300 fluorescent arm bands to the Twin Falls School District Thursday morning for school patrols and children in the special education program. The Bank and Trust is also donating 50 armbands to the Murtaugh, Hansen and Kimberly School Districts.
Bank marketing officer

Larry Larocco said $3,000 needed for all the school fluorescent dots are also on children.

Humane society head warns of phone calls

TWIN FALLS — Bobbi Glasmann, Twin Falls Humane Society president, said someone is apparently making calls to animal owners in their name and threatening impoundment of the animals.
She asked residents approached by such persons to insist on proper credentials or identification.
"We do not contact people by telephone in the event of an animal neglect or abuse case, but go to the address and investigate in person," Mrs. Glasmann said.

Several reports have come to the society, she said, indicating a woman caller is threatening persons, allegedly not providing proper care for their animals.

FREEZER BISCUITS
2 cups flour
4 teaspoons baking powder
1/4 teaspoon cream of tartar
1/4 teaspoon salt
1 1/4 tablespoons sugar
1/4 cup shortening
1 unpeeled egg
Two-thirds cup milk
Sift dry ingredients. Add shortening and work to the consistency of cornmeal. Add egg and milk, stir. Knead five times on a floured board and roll to one-half inch thickness. Cut out biscuits and place on a cookie sheet in freezer. When frozen, one to two hours, remove and place in a plastic sack. Return to freezer and use any time. Bake at 450 degrees for 15 minutes, if frozen, or 10 minutes if defrosted. Try cutting in different shapes, such as square or pie shaped.

BPW supports ERA

TWIN FALLS — The Twin Falls Business and Professional Women's Club is joining other BPW clubs across the nation in support of the Equal Rights Amendment, according to Faye Hoffman, Mrs. Hoffman said the national organization has as its goal for 1974, seeing the remaining necessary six state ratifications approved to make the ERA law.

Mrs. Hoffman said the BPW raised money to pay for a campaign to combat misinformation about the ERA. The national BPW hopes that dissemination of accurate information about the amendment will lead to its ratification by six more states, enabling its addition to the U.S. Constitution.

Abigail Van Buren

DEAR ABBY: I have a widowed sister who is 10 years older than I am. Edith has always been the good looking one in the family, and she still has a way with men. Alfred (my husband) is a great kiddier, and he used to tell me that he and Edith were having an affair, but I figured if it was true he wouldn't be telling me about it. Alfred said he was going to a lodge meeting, so you can imagine how I felt when I saw his car parked in front of my sister's house. I rang the doorbell, and her dog barked for 20 minutes before Edith came to the door. Then Alfred appeared because he knew I saw his car was out in front. Ed said he stopped by to fix her water heater. They both looked guilty as sin. I didn't say anything, but I thought plenty.

A week later I found a letter in Alfred's tobacco pouch. It was in Edith's hand, and addressed to Alfred in care of a post office box I never even knew he had. In the letter she told him how much she "loved" him, and what a "close call" they had, and that they would have to be more careful. Alfred is 39, and Edith is 78!

My heart is broken, but a divorce at my age is out of the question. What should I do? IN SHOCK

Affair no joke

DEAR IN: Tell Alfred you found the letter, and let him do the talking. But don't be too hard on him or Edith. They may not be playing with a full deck.

DEAR ABBY: My son is engaged to a girl I'll call Myrtle. She's as lazy as they come, never smiles, and can sleep around the clock after having done nothing all day. The only good thing I can say about Myrtle is that she seems to love my son.

I'm not writing to complain about Myrtle. I am writing to ask you if I should tell her what kind of man she's marrying. My son is no bargain. He's a terrible liar. He has seen other girls behind Myrtle's back, and I have to keep my cash locked when he's around, or it would be gone in a flash.

Should I tell this unsuspecting girl what she doesn't know about my son? Or should I let her find out for herself? HIS MOTHER

DEAR MOTHER: Examine your motives, Mother. Do you want to break up the match because Myrtle is no bargain? Or because you're disgusted with your son? I say, let sleeping dogs lie. Your son may reform. And so may Myrtle.

CONFIDENTIAL TO "TO WHOM IT MAY CONCERN": Your husband could be going thru the male counterpart of "change of life." A man who has worked hard for 25 years, and has been a good husband and father, is not likely to go off the deep end permanently.

Almost every man after 50 becomes a little worried about growing old, and losing his appeal—His ego needs a boost, and there are plenty of predatory females around, ready to flatter him and make him feel "young" again. He feels like a cone of teakwood; then the big thrill wears off and he comes crawling home to mama, feeling a little ashamed, but with a nice warm glow inside, reassured that there's life in the old yet.

The smart wife doesn't put on an Academy Award scene. She swallows her pride, accepts a little "blame" for not being as affectionate and reassuring as a little "blame" has been. And above all, she never mentions it again, and she tells NO ONE!

If the woman above is you, and the man is your husband, try this advice, and your man will probably spend the rest of his life knocking himself out trying to make it up to you.

TWIN FALLS — Leo Anderson, guest speaker at the Wednesday meeting of the Twin Falls Garden Club, showed "Nature's Colorful Carpet" in a selection of over 100 wildflower slides.

He was introduced by Mrs. Gabriel Nuttle, program chairman. Anderson showed slides of fields of glia and pentastemon against mountain backdrops, Ceanothus and various composite and cissampus of unusual and rare species as white columbine on Mt. Harrison.

Mrs. Victor Nelson reported on conservation in relation to conserving, protecting and wise use of natural resources of air, water, soil and birds. She cited statistics on the prodigal use of water.

Mrs. Renee Clark, Rupert sixth grade science teacher, described her students' horticultural project and said donations of plant material and containers would be welcome.

Nancy Taylor announced the Senior Citizens Festival of Heritage Art May 16 and 17 at the College of Southern Idaho.

She said anyone 55 or older is eligible to exhibit and sell any type needlework or art work. A talent show is also planned. More information is available by calling the Retired Senior Volunteer Program at the college.

Mrs. Kenneth Hodder, president, conducted the business meeting. Mrs. Mable Helton read the collect. Members voted to send a contribution to the world gardening project of the State Federation of Garden Clubs.

Mrs. Nelson, Mrs. Sam Porter and Mrs. S. W. Smith served refreshments. Mrs. Mark Knoll and Mrs. Hodder poured. A centerpiece of red geraniums, forced pussywillows and forsythia and greenery decorated the table.

Other guests were Mrs. Dan Daniels, Mrs. William Chancy, Mrs. Patrick Kennedy.

The next meeting will be March 6 at the YM-YWCA. Mrs. Nuttle will speak on "Poisons, Remedies and Old Wives Tales."

TF couple observes 50th year

TWIN FALLS — Mr. and Mrs. Wesley Ulrich will observe their golden wedding anniversary Saturday at their home.

An open house is planned July 2 at the John Ulrich home in Twin Falls, with a family reunion on July 6.

The Ulrichs have lived between Kimberly and Twin Falls for more than 30 years, coming here in 1942 when they

Ulrich worked for the former Telegram newspaper here, and then for the Times-News until retiring in 1967. He worked for 18 years at the Southeast Missourian at Cape Girardeau, Mo.

He and May L. Swain were married Feb. 9, 1924, in Benton, Mo. They have seven sons and one daughter, 26 grandchildren and seven great-grandchildren. Four of the sons followed their father in the printing business.

Boot mystery

TUCSON, Ariz. (UPI) — Somewhere there may be a forgetful woman with an impressive collection of useless boots. Or perhaps a one-legged lady thief.

The mystery developed when James Paris noticed a box in the back of his pickup truck that he did not put there. In it were 21 women's boots—all for the left foot.

License fee hike aired

BOISE (UPI) — Members of the Idaho Wildlife Federation would like to see a general increase in hunting and fishing licenses and tag fees.

Both resident and non resident sportsmen would pay for the license increase under the proposal. Federation spokesmen said that both classes of hunters and fishermen should bear the burden for the increased cost of managing Idaho fish and game.

McClure gives opinions

MOSCOW, Idaho (UPI) — Sen. James McClure, R-Idaho, said Thursday he favors short-term gas rationing, is uneasy about demands for lower diesel fuel prices for trucks, and called for a more "evenhanded" policy in the current Arab-Israeli conflict.

Ketchum man sentenced

HAILEY — Blaine County magistrate V.J. Jeppesen Thursday sentenced Steven G. Poetter, 20, Ketchum, to two days in the county jail for contempt of court.

According to Ketchum police, while being booked at the jail Poetter was also arrested for possession of a controlled substance. Poetter was arraigned on the second charge in magistrate court Thursday afternoon and requested additional time to enter a plea.

Solons to speak

GLENN'S FERRY — Two state representatives will address the Elmore County Cattlemen's 50th anniversary convention here Saturday.

Rep. Ralph Olmstead, R-Twin Falls, will discuss cattle and their influence on the economy. Rep. Vernon Ravenscroft, R-Tuttle, will speak on land use planning. Other speakers include Morlan Nelson, former state snow survey director, discussing environment, and Carl Agenbroad, who will speak on the economies of the livestock industry.

The four will appear on an afternoon panel which is open to the public. The convention will be held in the American Legion Hall.

Repeal asked

WASHINGTON (UPI) — Rep. Orval Hansen, R-Idaho, today introduced legislation in the House of Representatives to repeal year-around daylight saving time.

Hansen was an opponent of congressional action in November which put the nation on daylight time. He said there was "no real evidence that the measure would result in significant energy savings."

Election discussion set

HANSEN — There will be an open house from 2 to 3 p.m. Friday at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Orville Allen, Hansen.

The sewer and water bond election will be discussed to answer questions of residents.

George Urie and Mrs. Sandra Golay, council members, will be present to explain the proposal or answer any questions.

Crossing signals planned

SHOSHONE (UPI) — Shoshone Mayor Elwood Werry has met with Union-Pacific Railroad officials in an attempt to decide what measures should be taken to correct safety hazards in Shoshone.

The mayor said that although no final decision has been made by city officials, officials of Union Pacific Railroad and the Idaho Department of Highways have decided to erect crosswalks and signal lights on the U. S. 93 crossing.

The city of Shoshone will install all necessary crossing safety devices at the Apple Creek crossing.

Flu causes school closure

HAGERMAN — Schools in Hagerman closed Thursday noon and remained closed today due to the large number of students and teachers absent because of the flu.

School officials said classes will resume Monday on schedule. About one third of the grade school youngsters were absent Thursday and nearly that many in the high school. High school teachers were also absent Thursday making it difficult to continue schools.

Jim Ingalls, assistant director for the South Central Idaho Health District, said no other schools have reported any problems and their department has had no indication of an area wide or even a county wide flu epidemic.

Schools in Gooding, Jerome, Twin Falls and other areas reported no unusual absenteeism this morning.

Budget hearing set

TWIN FALLS — Public hearings will open Monday before the Twin Falls County commissioners on the proposed $7.3 million 1974 county budget.

The budget is higher than last year's $6.5 million figure and includes $89,700 in federal revenue sharing money. It also includes an average $40 per month salary increase for all county employees and a larger increase for male deputies of the sheriff's office to bring the pay scale in line with other law enforcement salaries around the state.

Nearly all departments of county government show an increase due to salary raises, higher cost in equipment and material and some proposed improvements.

County Commission Chairman William Chancy said persons are invited to the commission office to discuss the budget office to bring the pay scale in line with other law enforcement salaries around the state.

BUHL — A snag may have developed in the plan for the Twin Falls Canal Co. to convey water to two huge farm projects west of Salmon Falls Creek Canyon.

Diversion of 600 cubic feet per second of Milner Dam spillover water is not possible during most water years from Sept. 15 to about mid-October, Idaho watermaster records show.

The Twin Falls Canal Co. had planned to deliver this water between Sept. 15 and Dec. 15 to Canyon View and Tuana irrigation projects west of Salmon Falls Creek Canyon.

But the watermaster's records show that 600 second feet of water usually does not begin to spill from Milner Dam until around mid-October.

For example, in 1965 more than 600 second feet of water did not begin to pass Milner until Oct. 11. In 1967, this size flow began around Oct. 14. In 1971 it started Oct. 10.

Some years the Milner Dam spillover does not exceed 600 second feet until well into winter. In 1970 the average spillover at Milner was 434 second feet during October and 324 second feet during November. More substantial flows at Milner did not begin that year until Nov. 31 when 1,030 second feet was spilled.

Each of these years the total spillover at Milner was great enough to easily provide enough water for the Canyon View and Tuana projects. But in terms of the Twin Falls Canal Co.'s planning, the water was available late.

Al Peters, canal company manager, believes, however, that even if the company is unable to convey water in the fall, it can do so in the winter and spring.

He said the company would fulfill all its contract obligations by simply having the Highline Canal available for an 85 day period during the year to convey the water to the two projects.

Starting around Sept. 15, the canal would be available for such purposes, he said. In any case, the Twin Falls Canal Co. could convey the projects water in late fall and anytime from mid February to mid April, Peters added.

Only in unusually dry years, such as 1961, would this be impossible. The watermaster's records show the spillover at Milner during October, 1960, and April, 1961, never averaged more than 540 second-feet during any month. And, Idaho Power Co. would have had rights to much of this water.

Harry LeMoine, president of Tuana, said the proposed contract with the Twin Falls Canal Co. only calls for delivering off-season Milner Dam spillover water when it is available.

"If there was no water available we have to let the fields go dry," he said. He said the Canyon View and Tuana project would have no claims on Twin Falls Canal Co. water.

Opponents to the plan to convey water have doubted whether the canal company can deliver 600 second feet of water for 85 days during the off irrigation season each year.

Ted Quigley, a Castleford farmer, asserted delivering water in the spring is not feasible. He said water users on the west end of the canal company's system cannot get water as early in the spring as they want because of necessary maintenance of the canals before the water is turned on.

Quigley said conveyance during the winter is not a good idea because of the possibility of a cold snap causing an ice blockage of the canal. But Peters said that only the top of a 600 second foot flow in the Highline Canal would freeze in the winter, creating a tunnel which water could pass through.

Opponents to the plan also believe that if enough Milner Dam spillover water was not available in the spring, the water rights of the Twin Falls Canal Co. stockholders might be jeopardized.

Expansion slated for hospital laundry room

Provisions for 20 extra beds for future use are included in the plan. On the third floor a rectangular shell structure capable of housing additional beds will be constructed on top of the northwest side of the addition. Plumbing fixtures and electricity will be put in — plumbing will be capped at the floor — but the room partitioning will not be constructed until the rooms are needed. The shell structures are located in the north wing addition extending up to the fourth and fifth floors, even though no shell structures equivalent to the third floor addition will be constructed at this time.

The new elevators will double the hospital's vertical transfer ability, with one used entirely for patient transfer and the other for a passenger and service elevator. The new elevators will increase the safety of the hospital, by doubling the facilities for emergency evacuation. Should the other shaft become unusable — cutting out both elevators — the new elevator, located in another shaft, will provide for alternate transportation.

A renovation of the nurses station area of the third, fourth and fifth floors is included in the plans. The nurses stations will be shifted west beds to the hall leading to the new elevators, and to the third floor, and eventually to new beds on the fourth and fifth. The new location permits better access and observation of hospital rooms.

The space now occupied by nurses stations would be remodeled into waiting rooms. The waiting space is now inadequate, according to Mrs. Goe, and visitors frequently stand or sit in the corridors.

The basement is another area scheduled for renovation and expansion. Plans for the laundry department call for an expansion of 75 per cent into a newly excavated area north of the present basement area. Two pass-through washers are planned, with separate areas for cleaning and soiled linen. In a pass-through washer laundry goes in dirty at one side, and comes out clean at the other. The openings are located in different rooms to avoid contamination.

The present facilities are not separated into clean and dirty areas, a violation of health codes. A new flatwork ironing machine and new driers are included in the proposal.

The machinery presently in the laundry has been there since the hospital was built 22 years ago. The machines are quite dependable, but because replacement parts are so difficult to obtain. Last summer, for example, the washing machine was inoperative for 30 days while parts were being located, Max Cazier, laundry manager says. During that time, the hospital used commercial laundry facilities at a cost of approximately $50,000.

Citing the machines' obsolescence as reason for replacement, Cazier adds that the old machines are not capable of processing the bulk of laundry received. Even with a six-day work week, laundry personnel sometimes work until Wednesday catching up on the extra laundry from Sunday, the one day off.

Total cost is estimated at $88,980 for 4,140 square feet.

Also scheduled to be expanded into the new excavated area is the boiler room. Originally, a separate building was planned for the boiler room and laundry, but was rejected for financial reasons, according to Rosenbaum. Present plans call for replacement of the three, 22-year-old boilers with three new, more efficient ones.

Cost is estimated at $184,400 for 3,160 square feet.

An alternate source of energy, or emergency generator, is required by law. The hospital's present emergency generator, voluntarily installed by the hospital for iron lung patients during the polio epidemic, is not adequate as a source of power for the entire hospital. Replacement or improvement of the generating facilities are planned, with possible relocation of the generator from outside the building on the northwest side to the expanded boiler room. An exploration of costs will be made by the architects if the bond issue passes.

Also included in the expanded basement is a major storeroom, the purchasing agent's office, housekeeping office and storeroom. The west side receiving door will then be next to storeroom facilities. The present storage space is at the opposite or east end of the basement.

Because the land slopes down towards Rock Creek on the west side, the architects do not foresee the need of extensive blasting to construct the basement addition. With the slope, the receiving door will be at ground level.

The kitchen plans call for replacement of much of the present equipment. A dishwashing machine is already on order because the need was too great to wait, according to Owen Black, food service director. All refrigerators except one are scheduled to be replaced with walk-in refrigerators. New ranges installed, equipped with ventilator hoods with automatic fire extinguishing devices. The present system — a belt dumb waiter combination that carries trays to patient rooms — will be replaced by heated carts, transported in the elevators.

The present system does not meet safety codes for fire prevention. Also suggested in the plans are a new tray assembly system, and an air flow ventilating system for employee comfort. The kitchen will be expanded somewhat, with more storage space provided.

Cost of the kitchen renovation is estimated $116,400 for 4,160 square feet.

In other basement areas, the central services department — where equipment, gowns and other supplies are stored and cleaned-up area. The area now occupied by physical therapy will be converted to two classrooms and an office for the inservice education director, according to plans.

Remodeling and expansion of the lobby-administrative area on the first floor involve an addition of approximately 4,400 square feet. Part of the space will be contained in an expansion to the west of the present lobby. Offices for the hospital administrator, assistant administrator, public relations person, director of nursing, nursing shift supervisors, personnel manager, and controller are planned, along with a room for data processing, a workroom, conference room — library, and student lounge.

Neither a personnel manager or assistant administrator are employed by the hospital now, but provision for office space is being made now to avoid further additions later.

The present entrance at the southeast corner of the building will be relocated on the east side, further north. In this way, people entering the hospital will not have to pass through the crowded hallway containing the administrative offices to reach the lobby. The former entrance area will be expanded, with relocation of various business offices.

School site discussed

By CHARLOTTE BELL
Times-News writer

JEROME — Over 50 Jerome residents attended a special public hearing Wednesday night on proposed high school sites.

The subject was discussed by members of the Jerome school site evaluation committee to give Jerome school patrons a chance to state their opinions on several sites for a proposed four year high school.

Leslie, chairman of the committee, explained how the committee was formed and the criteria used for evaluation of each site. He said the Jerome school district has selected several potential sites for a new high school.

"It was the purpose of this committee to study these sites within the framework of community planning for the present and future. The past few years have taught us that we can anticipate a certain growth rate and this will play an important part in the school board's consideration of a new school," Craig said.

He noted that the committee was cautioned not to get into a political debate over whether there should or should not be a new school. He said several factors were used to study each site such as availability of sewer and water services, site construction, traffic, access, transportation, fire and police protection insurance, growth direction, property costs, economic impact, size and environment.

"The committee was broken down into several sub-committees, with each sub-committee studying separate criteria and applying these questions to each site. In this way, we felt that we would not have a certain group of the committee interested in one site and another faction interested in another site merely because this is the one they studied," Craig said.

From the information gathered, the two top sites were the Parker and Rose property east of Jerome and the LDS welfare farm north of town.

"One hundred and twenty acres of 81-M land three miles east of Jerome was also studied by the committee and proved to be extremely expensive to develop. Part of the problem would be that the district would have to provide its own sewer system and water. There would also be a great increase in transportation costs and school insurance," Craig said.

Those attending the hearing were somewhat split in their opinion on which of the two sites should be used. It was felt by some patrons that locating the new school on the Parker and Rose property would help to alleviate some of the traffic in the populous area and around the grade schools.

From the LDS property, it was felt that it would help to keep the city growth in a northerly direction and that no extra monies would be involved in busing students.

Also attending the meeting were members of the architect firm of Probert, Gowland, and Johnson, Fayette, who have been hired by the district to design the proposed high school.

Duane Gowing said the architects favor either site, noting that the Parker and Rose property would involve less ground preparation work.

A final report on the sites will be presented Wednesday to the steering committee of the Jerome Planning Council, who will present the final selected report to the school board for the final completion.

Suspected arson told

TWIN FALLS — Police and fire department officials were investigating the possibility of arson today following the burning of a car outside a Twin Falls tavern last night.

Captain F. E. Horejs of the Twin Falls Fire Department said there was "possible arson" involved in the fire which destroyed a car belonging to E. D. Salazar, Twin Falls. Horejs said the cause of the fire had not definitely been established.

According to police reports, Salazar and another man parked the car outside the Blue Front Bar about 8 p.m. Thursday. While they were in the bar, two youths came in and reported "a blue car on fire outside."

The fire department responded to the blaze about 8:35 and put the fire out in 10 or 15 minutes. However, the car's interior was destroyed, according to police reports.

The car was declared a total loss. Police impounded the vehicle to aid in their investigation. The value of the car was estimated at $1,500.

Capt. Horejs said he did not know if the car fire was related to a series of arson which destroyed or damaged several Twin Falls taverns late last year. "It's in the same area, that's all we can say so far," Horejs said.

Top officer visits TF

TWIN FALLS — The commanding general of the U. S. Sixth Army, Lt. Gen. E. B. Roberts, will be on a staff visit to the Headquarters of the 11th Armored Cavalry Regiment Saturday morning.

"In all my 25 years of experience, Gen. Roberts is the highest ranking U. S. Army officer to visit the Twin Falls unit of the Idaho Army National Guard," said Col. Sam Magaw, regimental commander.

Accompanied by aide-de-camp Capt. Smith and CSW H.T. Fairweather, Gen. Roberts will arrive at the Twin Falls armory at 8:30 a.m. for a staff briefing and facility tour.

The highly decorated general is a graduate of West Point, 1943, and has served in such places as Iran, South Vietnam, and Austria. Gen. Roberts presently commands the Sixth Army at Presidio, San Francisco.

Market Review

NEW YORK (UPI)—Stocks were down on the New York Stock Exchange Friday, with plume issues taking substantial losses.

The Dow Jones Industrial average had a net loss of $2.88 shortly before noon, after opening a shade higher. Declines took the lead over advances, 319 to 517, among the 1,101 issues traded.

Concern over inflation, the energy crisis, the oil embargo and Watergate kept investors on the sidelines. Noon volume came to about 5,200,000 shares, compared with 5,600,000 shares changing hands the same time Thursday.

Early Friday, Cleveland Trust Co. reduced by 1/2-point its prime lending rate to 8 per cent, effective Monday. Bank of America's rate on the same money market was unchanged. Wall Street lately has been uninspired by the trend to lower interest rates, a favorable development which apparently has been overshadowed by other concerns.

Just right for weekend fishing

Twin Falls, northside, mostly fair through Saturday with warming daytime temperatures. Lows tonight to 10. The high Saturday mid to upper 30s.

The outlook for Sunday, dry and mild.

Halley, Comas Pratic.

High pressure centered at the surface and aloft along the northwest coast continues to dominate the weather scene over Idaho. No change in the current pattern is anticipated over the weekend.

Fair skies and warmer temperatures will prevail. With each passing day, the mercury in the thermometer will rise a few degrees until the current weather pattern breaks.

The extended outlook for the Idaho area Sunday through Tuesday is quite favorable for this time of the year, calling for above-normal temperatures and general dry.

Phillips-led CSI outlasts Utags in double overtime

LOGAN — Mike Phillips hit five pressure points and Bob Durham came up with clinching free throws Thursday night as College of Southern Idaho outlasted Utah State 99-97 in two overtimes.

The Eagles bottled off their backs, particularly when the one-two scoring punch of Arnold Dugger and Tom Barker fouled out in the closing minutes of the game. Much of CSI's woe was traceable to terrible free throw shooting, ending the night with 21 of 35. However, the Eagles were able to tie the first half, giving them a poor 12-25 in the final half. CSI won it at the line as Utah State, which hit 58 per cent from the field in the first half, had three more field goals.

The score was tied 11 times in the first 12 minutes of the game before Utah State pushed ahead 34-27 — its biggest margin of the night. Arnold Dugger's three-point play tied it at 39-39 but Utah State took a 43-41 halftime advantage.

Bob Durham and Dugger opened the second half with buckets and CSI went ahead by two to four points until it was 55-53. Then Durham made four steals which CSI converted into easy buckets and an 11-point lead. But three straight turnovers brought Utah State back to life and, after CSI missed two one and one free throws in the final minute, the Aggies gained a 77-77 tie.

In the first overtime Phillips hit two free throws that carried the game into the second one. The teams saw-sawed to an 87-87 draw before Kevin Dablyn made a foul shot. Phillips followed with a free one off a technical foul and Durham then closed it out with two more.

CSI now is idle until Monday and Tuesday when it hosts the University of Utah jayvees in a two-game set.

In the regional outlook now, Ricks College defeated North Idaho 85-81 and now could clinch the top seed and host-learn designation by defeating the Cardinals in Coeur d'Alene. A North Idaho victory, however, would put those two and CSI in a three-way tie.

Virgil Carter jumps to new grid league

CHICAGO (UPI) — Virgil Carter, an outspoken quarterback once sold by the Chicago Bears for a $100 waiver price, has been added to the incipient roster of the Chicago Fire of the World Football League.

Fire owner Tom Origer proudly announced his new acquisition at a Thursday morning news conference.

Four hours later, Bears Coach Abe Gibron took over the same space to announce his National Football League team has signed Dave Gallagher, a 245-pound All-America defensive tackle from Michigan and the team's second draft choice.

Carter said the deal he was offered by Origer made it worth his while to jump from the NFL, where he had played for Cincinnati and San Diego after leaving the Bears four years ago.

"I want to play for a winner," Carter said with a glance at Origer.

Carter left Chicago in 1969 after he described Coach Jim Dowley as "chicken-bleep" and later said the same term applied to owner George Halas. Halas sold his contract for $100.

The Bears expressed no desire to see Carter again but they did express interest in another athlete lured into the Fire house.

He is Mark Keller, the national collegiate rushing champion from Northern Illinois who was signed by Origer. He also discussed terms with the Minnesota Vikings.

Also on hand for the Fire announcement were Isaac Jackson, Kansas State running back, who was signed along with Keller, and end Jim Seymour, whose Fire contract had been previously announced.

Maravich rejoins Atlanta tonight

ATLANTA (UPI) — "Pistol Pete" Maravich, No. 2 scorer in the National Basketball Association, rejoined the Atlanta Hawks Thursday after being suspended for two games for "disciplinary reasons."

Maravich, averaging 28.3 ppg before coach Cotton Fitzsimmons suspended him Tuesday, will go with the Hawks to Philadelphia for their game there Friday night.

Maravich met with Fitzsimmons Thursday morning and although there was no comment about that meeting, or earlier events, Fitzsimmons announced the suspension had been lifted.

Maravich, well on his way to his second straight 2,000 point plus season in his fourth year of NBA basketball, trails only Buffalo's Bob McAdoo (29.1 ppg) in league scoring.

"Pistol Pete," who had a record career average of 44.2

ppg-for-his-three-very-lousy seasons at Louisiana State University, missed Tuesday's game against the Capital Bullets and Wednesday's game against the Los Angeles Lakers. The Hawks won both games.

"We played the sort of basketball we should have been playing all along," noted Fitzsimmons without specifically referring to Maravich.

Flinn, Reynolds grab honors in women's city bowling meet

Una Reynolds and Karen Flinn grabbed all-event honors in the Twin Falls women's city bowling tournament according to unofficial standings released Thursday.

Mrs. Reynolds posted a 1,548 to win the scratch division while Mrs. Flinn had 1,972 in handicap.

Doris Shelton won the scratch singles at 561, followed by Mrs. Reynolds and 557 and Margie VanAmburg with 525. In the seven team event, Mrs. Shelton was tops at 705 while Mrs. Flinn had 666 and Mrs. VanAmburg 660.

A tie developed at 1,256 for the doubles handicap between Lena Kemper and Reba Gwin and Kay Crom and Carmen Kevan. Lois Gage and Penny Gentry won third at 1,245. Just one pin ahead of fourth place Norma Kerbs and Irene Earl.

In scratch doubles, the Kemper-Gwin combination took the title at 1,652 while Mrs. Crom and Mrs. Kevin share second with Mrs. Kerbs and Mrs. Earl. Both teams had 1,046. Loree Dobbs and Dione Moore were fourth with 1,037.

Ford Transfer and Storage fired a 2,396 to win the team scratch division followed by Wagners at 2,349 and Mc'n Eds at 2,330. Handicap title was taken by Mc'n Eds at 3,000 with the Cove second at 2,965 and Fillies third at 2,923.

Regional Conservation Educator Personnel of the Idaho Fish and Game Department are in the process of teaching all the seventh grade students in Magic Valley a basic gun safety course. About 95 per cent of all the seventh graders in Idaho's school system have been given this instruction for the past seven years. This amounts to approximately 16,000 students annually. There are close to 2,600 students trained in Magic Valley each year. Hunting accidents per 100,000 license holders have been steadily dropping the past three years in Idaho and it is felt the good coverage on the gun safety course is beginning to show results.

The basic course consists of three hours in the classroom during regular school periods and an opportunity to shoot a 22 rifle if there are shooting facilities nearby. A real effort will be made this year to provide the shooting portion of the course for all students. The course is given at the discretion of the individual school principals who are contacted each year by the local Conservation Officer to arrange the schedules sometime in January, February, or March. This is the slack time of year for many of the Conservation Officers and provides an excellent opportunity to meet with the future hunters and fishermen they will be meeting in the field.

The classroom work entails knowledge of guns, home gun safety, safe shooting habits.

landowner sportsman relations, wildlife identification, survival techniques. Demonstration firearms are used to illustrate the different kinds of guns and how they work. Movies are shown which portray the tragedy of a gun accident and hunting safety.

Monies from the recently enacted Federal tax on handguns have been utilized to finance numerous parts of this program. Demonstration guns, ammunition, targets, target rifles, bullet traps, hunter safety handbooks, and slide and movie projectors have all been purchased from this fund. In addition, this year there should be money available to reimburse the private rifle and pistol clubs at the rate of one dollar per student who utilizes their range for shooting. This will mean a considerable sum can be utilized by the clubs for their own shooting programs. For example, if Robert Stuart Jr. High, O'Leary Jr. High, Kimberly, Hansen, and Murtaugh schools shoot at the Twin Falls Rifle and Pistol Club, then they will be reimbursed about $700, the number of students in these schools using their shooting range.

A number of local people help train the students during the firing session. These people range from Explorer Scouts in the Fish and Game Post to farmers and local sportsmen in the various communities throughout Magic Valley. National Rifle Association instructors also have the option of providing additional training of those students who wish to earn a Safe Hunter Certificate.

ranked UCLA and defense-oriented Oregon met for the top spot in the conference. The Bruins and the Ducks, both 5-0 in Pac-8 play, engaged in a bitter struggle in Eugene a year ago after which UCLA coach John Wooden said, "I can't recall having won a game so handily and had such a bad taste in my mouth afterward."

"At issue was the Ducks' tenacious defense, the pride and joy of Oregon coach Dick Harter."

"We call it aggressive defense," Harter said. "We do anything we can to win. . . as long as it's within the rules. I have yet to see a rule that says players can't dive for the ball."

"Basketball was meant to be a finesse game and it still should be," responds Wooden. "But more and more, you see teams—hand-checking and using moving screens—and being allowed to get away with it."

Respecting UCLA's seven straight national titles, Harter said, "If UCLA says it doesn't emphasize aggressive defense the way we do, well, who can knock them? Especially with their record."

The Bruins, 16-1 on the season, meet Oregon State on Saturday night. UCLA travels up north next weekend, meeting Oregon State on Friday night and Oregon on Saturday.

UCLA-Oregon battle spiced by grudge

LOS ANGELES (UPI) — What was expected to be a dull, one-team Pacific eight race heats up tonight when top-

Toronto given baseball hope

TORONTO (UPI) — Baseball commissioner Bowie Kuhn said Thursday Toronto is "well up the list" as a site for a major league franchise, but he indicated the city would have to wait until the next expansion to get one.

Talk of a big league baseball franchise for the city has been on the increase since a high-level municipal committee recently recommended expansion of the Canadian National Exhibition stadium to accommodate baseball as well as football.

But Kuhn, here to attend a sports celebrities dinner and to talk to groups and politicians interested in a franchise, said no expansion date had been set yet. A joint major league committee is, however, studying expansion, Kuhn added.

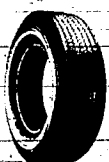

He said Toronto was "well up the list" as a potential expansion site, but acknowledged Washington was the prime contender.

Representatives of the Toronto Baseball Co., which commissioned the CNE expansion plan, were to talk to Kuhn.

INTRODUCING: OUR TAKE SIX PAYMENT PLAN

You can take six months, with absolutely no finance charge, to pay for the tires you buy at Big O. You don't have any down payment nor are there any carrying charges, on approved credit.

So when you buy our Michelin BF Goodrich or Sonic tires, or our Tru Bond Retreads, you pay only for the tire. The simple truth of our Take Six Payment Plan is that it's free. Period.

Excellent skiing listed

TWIN FALLS—The night skiing, Tuesday and Thursday.

SUN VALLEY—The week's winter recreation report shows excellent skiing at all resorts, a forecast of sunny weather, and good to excellent snowmobiling for the weekend.

SOLDIER MOUNTAIN reports four inches of new snow during the week with 60 inches at the top of ski slopes and 45 inches at the lodge. Roads are plowed but snow tires or chains are recommended.

The resort is open Wednesday through Sunday with new operation hours for daylight savings time. Lifts now run from 10 a.m. to 4:30 p.m., buses run each Saturday and Sunday with a new bus service on Wednesday, leaving Twin Falls at 8:30 a.m.

Rotorun near Hatley has four inches of new snow with a 32 inch base. The area operates Saturday and Sunday from 10 a.m. to 4 p.m. and is open for night skiing, Tuesday and Thursday.

SUN VALLEY received four inches of new snow this week. Total depths are 71 inches at the top of Baldy Mountain, 60 inches at the Roundhouse and 28 inches on the valley floor.

SUN VALLEY and Elkhorn lifts operate daily. There will be an K-2 team race Saturday at Elkhorn and the Lynn-Reddy cross country race begins at noon Sunday from the Sun Valley golf course.

Magic Mountain received six inches of new snow with total depths ranging from 60 inches at the lodge to 78 inches at the top of the runs. Snow tires or chains are recommended and the road closes to uphill traffic from 3 to 5 p.m. on weekends. Lifts operate from 10 a.m. to 4:30 p.m. Wednesday through Sunday. Buses run Saturday and Sunday.

Pomerelle lists six inches of new snow. Total depths range between 112 inches at the upper 114 terminal and 98 inches at the lodge. Chains or snow tires are required. The lifts operate daily from 10 a.m. to 4:30 p.m. and night skiing has been added at the resort Friday and Saturday from 4:30 p.m. to 9 p.m. on the Buttermilk rope tow. Buses run each Saturday and Sunday.

Cross country skiing is reported excellent in all areas. Snowmobiling is listed as excellent in the South Hills, Flower Canyon, Conner Flats and the Hagar Area.

The road to Hagar is muddy and rutty at present. Snowmobiling is good to very good in the Little Smoky area near Fairfield and the area around Ketchikan and Stanley Basin reports good conditions. Stanley has 30 inches of snow and Galena Lodge, 62. Depths on Galena Summit range up to 90 inches.

Man sentenced in larceny case

TWIN FALLS—A young Twin Falls man has been sentenced to 14 years in the Idaho State Penitentiary following a grand larceny conviction.

Fifth District Court Judge Theron W. Ward imposed the sentence on John C. Anthony, 20, after receiving a presentence report from probation and parole officers.

Anthony pleaded guilty to the grand larceny charge on Jan. 4. He was accused of stealing about $400 in tools from a toolbox on a pickup truck on Highway 21 on Nov. 28. He was arrested Dec. 19.

Anthony was on probation for an earlier burglary conviction when arrested on the grand larceny charge.

In sentencing Anthony to 14 years in prison, Judge Ward, at the request of Anthony's attorney, allowed credit for 67 days served in the county jail.

In other court action, Judge Ward sentenced Johnny Lee Branson, 19, Twin Falls, 15 years in prison for burglary but then suspended the prison sentence and placed the youth on 18 months probation.

Part of the probation agreement obligates Branson to make restitution to Gem State Oil for items he allegedly stole from the business on Dec. 24.

Branson pleaded guilty to the burglary charge on Jan. 11. He was arrested Dec. 25 by Twin Falls police detective Cpt.

Income tax meet set

SHOSHONE—Lincoln County persons who need help with income tax returns may attend a meeting at 2 p.m. Tuesday at the courthouse.

Charlie Correll, accountant, from Jerome, will be present to answer specific questions.

Martha S. Lee— "Let your light so shine before men, that they may see your good works, and glorify in you who are in heaven." This was Mrs. Lee's testimony for me during her living. We are family who to express our grief to all of our friends and family. The assistance given by the doctors and nurses with grateful hearts and letters, calls, visits, the generous help from the American Legion of Richfield, Earl Harrison and the family of Mrs. Lee. The help of Pastor Francisco and his many prayers and words of comfort and love we thank you, Vera Woodruff, Alice, family and Audrey Van Wagener & Family.

Korea sentences 'Protestant Six'

(c) Chicago Daily News
SUIU—Four Protestant clergymen were sentenced to 15 years in prison by a military court for defying South Korean President Park Chung Hee's one-man rule, according to courtroom sources. Two others were given 10 years.

The official verdict in the case of the "Protestant Six" was announced Thursday. All six were charged with violating a Jan. 8 presidential decree banning criticism of Park's one-man rule.

They were arrested after a Jan. 17 "prayer service" declaration demanding that Park scrap his own constitution and restore "democratic order." The stiff sentences promised to harden the growing confrontation between Park and some of the country's four million Christians.

Some of the country's best known religious leaders, both Protestant and Catholic, have defied Park by publicly voicing their opposition to his authoritarian rule and demanding a return to "normal constitutional government."

But the cutting edge of the Christian opposition to Park is a little known, loosely organized but highly disciplined social action movement which has its roots in the pavement of Chicago's south side and whose organizing techniques bear the familiar stamp of the late community organizer Saul Alinsky.

The "Protestant Six," all in their late 20s or early 30s, were active either in labor unions or as neighborhood organizers in Seoul's slums.

Rev. Kim Jun Hong, 33, leader of the six, told the court he did not expect to serve out his sentence because he did not expect the Park government to last.

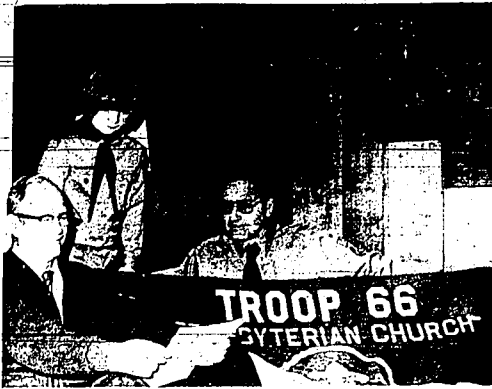

He also demanded to know why he was being tried by a military court. "Human rights are a gift of God," he told the court.

Kim's wife, an Ehwa University graduate who had vowed to carry on his work, was reportedly detained by the Korean CIA. There was no official confirmation of this.

Meanwhile the government announced the arrest of five popular novelists and intellectuals on charges of spying for Communist North Korea.

This brought to 24 the number of dissident intellectuals, students and clergymen who have been arrested since Park invoked emergency measures last month in an attempt to bludgeon his critics into silence.

A special military court Saturday sentenced seven students to 5 to 10 years' imprisonment for speaking out against Park. The seven before, two older men, one of whom led a campaign to gather one million signatures on a petition to restore democratic government, drew 15 years each.

TROOP 66 PRESBYTERIAN CHURCH
JOHN S. FELDHOSEN—left, first Scoutmaster of Troop 66 which observes its 50th anniversary Sunday tells about the "old days" to the troop's present Scoutmaster, Harold Waggoner, right, and the newest Scout, Aaron Vecera, center. The anniversary will be noted during the regular worship service at the First Presbyterian Church Sunday morning.

Celebrates anniversary Troop 66 observes 50th year

TWIN FALLS — The 50th anniversary of Scout Troop 66, sponsored by the First Presbyterian Church, will be observed Sunday morning during regular worship services.

The troop, organized in 1924, has operated for 500 consecutive months — longer than any other troop in the area, according to records.

John S. Feldhosen, the first Scoutmaster, recalls there were nine charter members in the troop, originally designated No. 10. None of these are still local residents but two others who joined shortly afterward, still reside here. They are Kenneth Kall and Howard Wiseman.

At the time he became Scoutmaster, Feldhosen was agricultural inspector at the Twin Falls High School. He came to Twin Falls as assistant agricultural agent in 1922 and has lived here since.

"It's easy to remember the year I became Scoutmaster," he said, "because it was also the year I was married. My wife and I are still together and the troop is still together."

He recalled that the population of Twin Falls at that time was listed at 8,000 and that the Presbyterian troop was "famous" over the area for a first-aid demonstration team made up of the members.

Feldhosen was Scoutmaster for eight years. Earl Bickford, who also lives here, was second Scoutmaster.

Feldhosen recalled that the early adult "sparkplugs" of the troop included DeWitt (Rusty) Young, F. W. Harder, Roy Painter and H. S. Cowling. The troop met each Tuesday evening in the church basement and he recalled the first summer camp, in Shoshone Basin, "was really primitive compared to the camps today."

Fellowship planned by Nazarenes
TWIN FALLS — A junior choir program, under the direction of Shirley Hodgdon, will be presented Sunday evening in the First Church of the Nazarene of Sixth Avenue North.

Subjects for the Sunday sermons will be "Consecration" in the morning session and "The Fire Within" for the evening service.

A potluck fellowship will be held following the morning service to bid farewell to the Hodgdon family.

Nazarenes present indoor camp meets

TWIN FALLS — The seventh annual Magic Valley Indoor Holiness Camp Meeting will be held Feb. 12-17 at the First Church of the Nazarene, Twin Falls.

The services are sponsored by Magic Valley Churches of the Nazarene and will begin at 7:45 p.m. each evening and also at 10:30 a.m. Wednesday through Friday.

Evangelists for the meetings will be Rev. Kenneth H. Pearsall, president of Northwest Nazarene College, a former pastor and church administrator, Dr. Pearsall has previously served on the administrative staff of Eastern Nazarene College and as superintendent of the New England and the Upstate New York districts.

Science of Mind set for TF presentation

TWIN FALLS — Charles W. Day of the Boise First Church of Religious Science will be the guest speaker at the sermon-lessons in Science of Mind being presented each Sunday morning at 10 a.m. at the Holiday Inn.

Day will be substituting for Mrs. Eloise J. Clark, also from Boise. Rev. H. Donald Clark, minister of the Boise church, will be attending the annual Congress of the United Church of Religious Science at Los Angeles.

In private life Day is a longtime car dealer, presently operating his own business in Caldwell. He was recently elected president of the Used Car Dealers Association of that area.

Day has completed three years of accredited work in Science of Mind and holds an associate of religious sciences. As a member of the board of trustees, he serves as the president of the corporation.

The sermon-lesson topic for Sunday is "Love, Faith and Meditation." The public is invited to attend.

The first white man to reach California overland from the United States was in a party of fur traders led by Jedediah Strong Smith in 1826.

Stake positions filled before capacity crowd

TWIN FALLS — Everett J. Morgan and David L. Carter were sustained to stake positions at the quarterly conference of the LDS Twin Falls Stake last Sunday.

E. J. Morgan was ordained a patriarch for the stake replacing Clifford Tolman. Tolman served in this capacity until his death in January. He had fulfilled this office for 21 years. Morgan was released after 11 years as second counselor to Stake President Lloyd Hamilton.

David L. Carter was sustained as second counselor in the stake, replacing a capacity crowd of 1850 church members. President Carter had been bishop of the Kimberly ward.

Presiding over the meeting was Elder Boyd K. Packer, member of the Quorum of Twelve Apostles from church headquarters, Salt Lake City. The theme for the conference was importance of the family unit in a changing society.

Teachers to meet in Eden

EDEN — The Magic Valley Lutheran Sunday School Teachers will meet Saturday from 1 p.m. to 5 p.m., at the Eden Lutheran Church.

The four hour program is aimed at showing new methods and ideas in helping children pray, worship, grow in stewardship and use the bible. A film of Concordia Publishing House will be used for the presentation.

Other teachers participating are welcome. Mrs. Ileana Bruns; opening devotion, Pastor G. E. Benedy; introduction, E. Scholtz, E. Schwartz, Mrs. Marie Kohls, Mrs. Herman Hoettig and Mrs. Barbara Pohl.

Baptist leaders selected

FILER — New chairmen for the First Baptist Church boards have been announced by Rev. Roy Watson, pastor.

Gordon Larson heads the board of deacons; Mrs. Arthur Haag, deaconess; Mrs. Larson, Christian education; Hog, trustees; Ed — Andrews, stewardship; Mrs. Stanley Wells, music.

Mrs. Marshall Johnson, social and service; Mrs. Pearl Nelson, library, and Johnson, nominating committee.

The bus ministry committee includes Joe Miller, Jon Wells, Jane Larson, Richard Melton, Good News Singers representative, and Winona Watson, representative of the youth division of the board of education.

Former Buddhist speaks

SHOSHONE — A fireside for the special interest group of the Blaine Stake LDS Church was held Sunday evening at the Shoshone ward chapel.

The program was coordinated by priesthood representative Glenn L. Sorenson, District.

Clinton Kingsford, stake missionary, talked on keys to happiness and showed the film "Meet the Mormons."

Joseph Nishimoto, District, told of his conversion to Christianity and the church from a Buddhist background. He also said if his parents had not come to the United States, he would have been attending a high school located just one and a half miles from the spot the atomic bomb was dropped on Hiroshima.

Many of his relatives were killed. He expressed appreciation for living in the United States and for Christianity and the church.

Mr. and Mrs. Nishimoto sang "Amen" in the Japanese language.

Vatican revises rites

VATICAN CITY (UPI) — The Vatican today revised the rites for the Roman Catholic sacrament of penance to make it more communal and more of a reconciliation than a confession.

A new "Ordo Penitentiae" (Rules for Penance) issued with the approval of Pope Paul VI by the Sacred Congregation for Divine Worship does not eliminate the traditional private confession and absolution.

But it does permit individual confession and absolution to be inserted into a communal celebration in which the faithful listen together to the word of God, admit their sinfulness and invoke the mercy of the Lord.
