Nixon asks mass transit aid

WASHINGTON (UPI) — Spurred by the energy crisis, President Nixon asked Congress today to enact a $2.1 billion program designed to overhaul the nation's creaky mass transit and railroad systems.

One phase of the program called for a unified transportation assistance program, with almost $16 billion set aside for urban mass transit systems, subways and buses in major cities. An additional $1.4 billion goes to develop transportation in small cities — under $50,000 — and rural areas.

Ex-POW slates Congress bid

SANTA ANA, Calif. (UPI) — Former Navy Lt. David G. Rehmann, 31, who spent six years as a North Vietnamese prisoner, plans to run for Congress as a Republican.

Rehmann said Tuesday he will seek the nomination for the House of Representatives seat held by Democrat Richard T. Hanna, who will not seek reelection. Rehmann was shot down in 1966 and was liberated one year ago Tuesday.

Assassination plot squelched

BUENOS AIRES (UPI) — The Argentine government announced Tuesday night it had smashed a plot to assassinate President Juan D. Peron, Vice President Maria Estella de Peron, and Uruguayan President Juan Maria Bordaberry.

Federal Police Chief Miguel Angel Iniguez said police arrested an Argentine with a history of leftist guerrilla activity in a planned hand grenade attack on Peron and Bordaberry as they rode together in a ceremonial car during the Uruguayan's brief visit to Buenos Aires Tuesday. The visit went off without incident.

Aide predicts Nixon gain

MANHATTAN, Kan. (UPI) — Presidential adviser Anne Armstrong, highest ranking woman in the Nixon administration, said Tuesday President Nixon would regain the confidence of the American people.

She said he would do this by letting the courts prove him innocent of charges of wrongdoing and by guiding the nation out of the world-wide energy shortage and other problems.

Calley case goes to US court

COLUMBUS, Ga. (UPI) — Attorneys for 1st Lt. William Calley have turned to the federal courts in an apparent all-out effort to reverse his My Lai murder conviction and 20-year sentence.

One of Calley's attorneys, Kenneth Henson of Columbus, held a news conference Tuesday and announced that U.S. District Judge J. Robert Elliott has scheduled a hearing Feb. 27 on a writ of habeas corpus aimed at freeing Calley.

Eaton sees Cuba friendship

CLEVELAND (UPI) — Industrialist Cyrus S. Eaton said in a telephone interview Tuesday he sees no reason the United States could not resume friendly relations with Cuba.

Eaton, who has been making regular trips to Cuba for more than 50 years, said he is seeking friendship and understanding between the two nations. He visited Premier Fidel Castro during a recent visit to Cuba.

NZ ex-premier dies at 80

AUCKLAND, New Zealand (UPI) — Sir Leslie Munro, former president of the United Nations General Assembly, died at his Hamilton home 80 miles from here today. He was 72 years old.

Auckland-born Sir Leslie was trained as a lawyer and was editor of the New Zealand Herald from 1942 to 1951, when he was appointed New Zealand ambassador to the United States and permanent representative to the U.N.

Nixon passes physical exam

WASHINGTON (UPI) — President Nixon took his annual physical examination today and his doctors reported "He is very well."

Nixon did not talk with newsmen on emerging from Bethesda Naval Medical Center after 2 1/2 hours of tests but an aide said "he feels fine."

Asked how the doctors assessed results of the medical exam, the spokesman said: "He is very well."

It was Nixon's first full physical since he spent eight days at Bethesda with viral pneumonia last July.

TF rejects hospital bonds

By CRICKET BRD
Times-News Writer

TWIN FALLS — Twin Falls County voters Tuesday rejected a proposed $4.6 million building program for Magic Valley Memorial Hospital.

Only 61.6 per cent of votes cast supported the bond issue. A two-thirds majority was required for approval in the "Election's Birthday Anniversary vote."

Only Murtaugh, Kimberly and Hansen areas supported the measure. Twin Falls, Buhl, Filer and rural areas failed to give enough support.

Disappointed supporters of the proposal today said voter apathy and resistance to a 4.6 mill tax increase helped kill the proposal.

"They said the proposal probably would be submitted again to the voters."

"I'm very disappointed," hospital administrator James Rosenbaum said. "I didn't dream for a moment that it wouldn't go — I had heard so little opposition."

Rosenbaum cited voter apathy and over-confidence by some who felt the issue would pass and didn't bother to vote as possible reasons for the failure. Also, some voters may have decided against the bond issue on the basis of the increase in taxes, Rosenbaum said.

"We probably did not justify the expense enough, and apparently we did not convey a sense of urgency," he added.

Robert Brackett, hospital board chairman said he was "very satisfied" by the outcome, but that "the people have voted and that's what you abide by in this country."

"As conservative as some people are here, they may have felt that they might just take another look at it," Brackett said, adding "there were far more people for the bond than against. We have a definite commitment to give the people that voted for it a chance to look at it again."

Dr. Ben Katz, pediatrician and hospital trustee, also attributed the loss of the election to voter apathy. "I think that the campaign was factual and realistic," he said. "It failed not because of giving inadequate information to people, but because of voter apathy."

Dr. Katz compared the need at the hospital to the energy crisis, saying, "People look at it the same way as the energy crisis. They won't believe in it until it hurts them."

"There's no way to lighten our belt and make do," Dr. Katz said. "We're just going to do less, that's all."

James Sinclair, chairman of the Concerned Citizens Committee which sponsored advertisements supporting the bond issue, cited the opposition to tax increases, along with low voter participation as reasons for the defeat.

"The elderly people who are the taxpayers have indicated that they are not willing to pay the price," The younger generation failed to turn out," Sinclair said. "It's the people who have the most to gain from it that failed to turn out."

What's the next step? Almost certainly, another attempt to win voter approval for hospital expansion and modernization is needed, in the opinion of those concerned.

"I see no alternative," Dr. Katz said. "Just because it was voted down doesn't mean the need goes away."

Brackett said the issue may be presented to the public again. "The need hasn't changed. The people in this Valley are faced with the same needs they had before."

Brackett said the bond issue for the original hospital had failed the first time. "The next one went over," he said. "The need hasn't changed. The people in this Valley are faced with the same needs they had before."

Rosenbaum agreed that another attempt was necessary. "I see us going back, restudying this thing, and coming back to the voters."

The hospital administrator indicated that the method of funding may have to be reconsidered. "It looks like a general obligation bond is not the satisfactory way to finance this," he said, adding that a revenue bond would undoubtedly increase the cost of a hospital stay significantly, perhaps resulting in an $8 to $10 rise in room rates.

A waiting period is required before a bond election is brought up again. "We'll wait whatever the legal requirement is, and then we'll pursue it again. We're not going to quit with this one effort," Rosenbaum said.

Final decisions on the next step will be made by the hospital board.

Russ writer in Germany

BONN (UPI) — Russia's most famous living author, dissident Alexander I. Solzhenitsyn, left the Soviet Union and arrived in West Germany today, a day after his forcible arrest in Moscow.

A West German spokesman had announced that his government had agreed "to accept" the Nobel prize winning novelist when informed by the Soviet Union he was coming. He had reportedly said he would not leave Russia voluntarily.

Solzhenitsyn's wife, Natalya, and three young children remained behind in the Soviet capital where seven Soviet policemen muscled their way into his apartment Tuesday and took him away.

A spokesman for the West German Luftwaffe airline said its officials saw Solzhenitsyn depart from an Aeroflot plane at Frankfurt airport and enter a black Mercedes car bearing the license plate BD 7-27. The BD 7 series of licenses belongs to the West German Foreign Ministry.

Earlier, a German provincial official said he would go to the home-of-future-Nobel-prize-winner, German author Heinrich Boell.

At Langenbroich, in the Eifel Mountains west of Cologne, where Boell has a country home, the German author said "I know nothing. I have come here to work in peace on a new novel."

The Luftwaffe spokesman said the Aeroflot airliner landed at 4:13 p.m. (11:13 a.m. EDT). He said the plane stopped at its unloading area and about 40 passengers got out.

Last off the plane was Mr. Solzhenitsyn, escorted by Aeroflot Security men," the spokesman said.

"Mr. Solzhenitsyn got directly into the black Mercedes car which left the airport by a back exit."

Airport security men kept a milling cluster of cameramen and photographers 1,500 feet away from the plane and the Mercedes car.

More oil crisis talks needed, conferees say

WASHINGTON (UPI) — The 13-nation conference of oil consuming countries reached broad agreement today on the necessity of holding a meeting with Arab and other oil producing countries "to try to alleviate the effects of the world crisis."

While declining to go along with some of the steps the other countries believed necessary to work out a solution to the petroleum crisis, France agreed to a general call for cooperative action.

As he left a meeting of foreign ministers who had been discussing a draft communique, British Foreign Minister Sir Alec Douglas Home said there was "broad agreement on a product-consumer conference."

A draft of the communique made available to UPI called for "concerted international cooperation between all the countries concerned including oil-producing countries...to accelerate an improvement in the supply and demand situation, ameliorate the adverse economic consequences of the existing situation and lay the groundwork for a more equitable and stable international energy relationship."

According to the draft communique — which bracketed portions on which there was not unanimous agreement — there is no dispute about the need for a comprehensive program.

The draft said foreign ministers of all 13 countries — the nine members of the European Common Market plus Canada, the United States, Japan and Norway — "concurred in the need for comprehensive action program to deal with all facets of the world energy situation by cooperative measures."

It added: "They recognize that on some of these aspects they may wish to invite, as appropriate, other countries to join with them in these efforts."

The communique agreed that such an action program of international cooperation should include "the sharing of means and efforts" in the following areas:

- Conserving energy and restraining demand.
- A system of allocating oil supplies in times of emergency or severe shortages.
- Speeding development of additional energy sources so as to diversify supplies.
- Accelerating energy research and development programs through international cooperative efforts.

France continued to insist that the "action program of international cooperation" should be carried out within the existing framework of the Organization for Economic Cooperation and Development (OECD), which includes all the countries represented at the Washington Energy Conference plus several European nations not present.

4 Arab leaders at oil summit

By United Press International
Leaders of four Arab countries headed for a summit meeting in Algiers today to discuss peace progress in the Middle East and consider ending the Arab oil embargo against the United States.

To avoid the outcome of the summit, a full meeting of the Organization of Arab Petroleum Exporting Countries (OAPEC) scheduled to begin Thursday in Tripoli, Libya, was postponed.

Algerian officials said the talks between the heads of state of Egypt, Syria, Saudi Arabia and Algeria probably would not begin until late today but there were no indications how long they would last. By midday, none of the three visiting heads of state had arrived in Algiers.

Riyadh — Radio — said King Faisal of Saudi Arabia left by special plane for Algiers accompanied by a high-ranking government delegation including Foreign Minister Omar Sakkaf and Oil Minister Ahmed Zaid Yaman, Egyptian President Anwar Sadat's departure was reported from Cairo.

Sadat, who took the initiative for the meeting, is reported to be pleased by the smooth progress in troop disengagement on the Suez front between Egypt and Israel and favors a similar deal between Syria and Israel along the volatile Golan Heights truce lines.

As a gesture towards the United States in recognition for sealing the troop disengagement pact, Sadat is believed to favor resuming limited Arab oil shipments to America.

On the Suez front, Egypt today regained control of another slice of Israeli-occupied land and Israeli forces began withdrawing from their last territorial hold on the west bank of the canal.

The two developments, which came in quick succession, were officially reported by a spokesman for the United Nations.

US forces shift eyed

DETROIT (UPI) — The Detroit News reported today that Defense Secretary James R. Schlesinger is proposing a major realignment in the armed forces — a move which could prove "to be the biggest armed forces shake-up since Robert S. McNamara hit the Pentagon."

In a copyrighted story, the News said Schlesinger's plans, which come after seven months' scrutiny of the defense establishment, include major realignment and redistribution of responsibilities and therefore, of forces, money and manpower among the four services.

Water conveyance plan killed

By BILL LAZARUS
Times-News Writer

TWIN FALLS — Shareholders of Twin Falls Canal Co. have voted two-to-one to kill a proposed water conveyance agreement to 47 square miles of new land west of Salmon Falls Creek Canyon.

The final vote was 47,937 shares voting for transfer of water and $2,004 shares against. Only 34.3 per cent supported the transfer.

The Canal Company trustees had said a two-thirds majority was required for approval.

Before the ballots were counted, Emery Wisner, president of Canyon View Irrigation company, had said he expected the proposal would not be approved.

Canyon View and Tuana Mutual Irrigation companies tried to contract with the company for conveyance of 600 cubic feet of water per second to the west end of the canal company's system.

The companies plan to store the water and in summer irrigate about 47 square miles of desert land directly west of Buhl and west of the Salmon Falls Creek Canyon.

Wisner said at a result meeting Tuesday night the directors agreed "we are not ready to abandon the project by any means if the vote should be negative."

"The board came up with several alternatives which it is 'not prepared to announce' yet," Wisner said.

He did say the project's feasibility would be "real questionable" if water could not be conveyed through the Twin Falls canal system.

A possible alternative would be to supplement water conveyed by the canal company with water flows from the Salmon Falls Creek.

Wisner said pumping these flows up the canyon will be expensive, but perhaps would lighten one objection by opponents that the Twin Falls Canal Co. might not be able to deliver off season water 85 days every year. Taking water out of Salmon Falls Creek could mean Canyon View would need less water conveyed by the canal company.

But Ed Reichert, chairman of the Twin Falls Canal Co. board of directors, thought the canal company would not consider an alternative proposal. "A controversy like this upsets everybody. We have enough trouble without trying to consider an alternative," he said.

After two years of work, canyon company directors unanimously approved the plan and presented it to stockholders for a vote.

Reichert said the vote would reflect the stockholders' confidence in their board of directors. "If it was a no, vote I would consider a vote of no confidence," he said. But Reichert said that if the vote does not go through would not consider resigning at this time.

Reichert said the board has always believed that "the entire board should be charged to fast." He said he could not give "a qualified answer" on whether a vote of no confidence would be a serious problem to the board of directors.

Harry LeMoyné, president of Tuana, said the company's board of directors will meet later in the week to discuss alternatives if the vote does not go through.

He believed the project would not be feasible without water conveyed by the Twin Falls Canal Co., but said he believes in any conveyance plan would also be considered.

If the project is approved Tuana would still have to wait for an unknown amount of time for the US Bureau of Land Management to complete its environmental study on the proposed project lands, LeMoyné said.

Tank cars derail, explosions erupt

ONEONTA, N.Y. (UPI) — Scores of persons were injured Tuesday when railroad tank cars containing propane gas derailed and exploded, sending 100-ton freight cars flying through the air.

One witness said the explosions leveled two-foot-thick trees "like matchsticks." At least 58 persons were injured, most in the first of four explosions.

More than half of those hurt were released after treatment for minor burns, but one person was critically injured and five others were hospitalized in serious condition.

The first of a series of explosions occurred as volunteer firemen were laying hose near a fire in one car of the derailed Delaware & Hudson freight train late Tuesday afternoon.

As onlookers gathered to watch firemen battle the blaze, the first explosion tore through the group without warning. Three others followed in quick succession.

"All of a sudden, there was a sheet of solid orange flames and I was on fire," said Oneonta Star newspaper reporter Mickey Hirtler, 24, who was standing next to the firemen 100 feet from the cars.

Officials said two of the cars were thrown into the Susquehanna River, which runs alongside the tracks.

"It took down 24-inch diameter trees like they were matchsticks," said Al Sayers, a fire-department spokesman.

Throughout the night, the blaze was visible in the sky more than three miles away.

Sayers said the firemen could not move in to put out the fire until the possibility ended that the one remaining propane gas car might explode.

Carl B. Sterzing Jr., D&H president, said crewmen of the 55-car freight told him they felt a sharp jolt to the rear of the lead locomotive, and then one of three engines and 25 cars derailed.

The fire started when one of seven tank cars carrying the propane gas ruptured, he said.

Tournament scorings will be sent to the United States Chess Federation for national ratings.

Officers for 1974 will be elected at the tournament. Present officers include Hartwell, president, and Vandenburg, secretary-treasurer.

The Twin Falls Chess Club, sponsoring organization, has invited anyone interested to attend the tournament.

Minico discusses land use planner

By ED MITCHELL Times-News writer

RUPERT — Hiring of a land use planner was discussed by Minidoka county commissioners and county mayors Monday.

Discussion centered around the questions of what type of planning will have to be done and what the qualifications of a planner will be.

Commission Chairman Elmer Ketterling said the possibility of hiring one man to do the job for both Cassia and Minidoka counties should be given serious consideration. Ketterling also said that basic information should be gathered up before we hire a planner.

Minidoka County has budgeted $12,500 for hiring a planner. Additional money will be contributed by county towns, but the amount has not been determined. No decision will be made until further meetings take place.

The commissioners approved a request by the hospital board to hire the firm of Frank Dalayans and Allen Moke, architects, to plan the proposed expansion at the county hospital.

No one appeared before the commissioners to discuss the proposed county budget in public hearing.

A letter was sent to the commissioners by a group of county residents stating that they had formed a posse comitatus, a citizen's law enforcement organization, to help the sheriff. A booklet outlining the group's philosophy and purpose accompanied the letter. Identical letters and booklets were sent to the sheriff and county prosecutor.

BURLEY — The first in a series of statewide meetings about areas and issues of interest to the Idaho Bicentennial Commission will be at 7:30 p.m. Thursday in the Almo LDS Church.

The second meeting will be at 7:30 p.m. Friday at the Burley High School.

Public comment on preservation of the City of Rocks is invited.

Paul Fritz, superintendent of the Craters of the Moon

National Monument, will outline a National Park Service plan for preservation of the City of Rocks. Interested persons are invited to comment in person or by writing to the Cassia County Historical Society, Box 331, Burley.

Preservation of the City of Rocks is one of the major goals of the Idaho Bicentennial Commission as part of the nation's 200th anniversary observance in 1976.

Abortion agitation continues

It was widely supposed that the Supreme Court decision of a year ago would put an end to the controversy over abortion.

It appears not. There is considerable agitation to permit the House of Representatives to vote on a constitutional amendment, and here and there legislators are discovering that the resolute opposition to abortion-on-demand is neither an exclusively Catholic hang-up, nor the preoccupation of career caustics who are now arrived at the abortion issue, and are pitching their tents until a fresher cause comes up.

At the crux of the dispute surely is the question whether abortion is a matter of private morality. Granted the argument extends beyond that even if one answers the first question in the affirmative. Whose morality? That gets into the question whether the mother has absolute rights over the fetus.

But the first question is the critical one, and here and there one finds evidence that there are those who, not themselves opposing abortion, begin to understand that the opponents, if they are right, are right on a universal point. If, in the taking of the life of a fetus licentiously — indeed, unwinchingly — is wrong, then it is wrong irrespective of whether the mother thinks it is right.

WILLIAM F. BUCKLEY, JR.

That didn't use to be too hard a distinction to insist upon, but it has lately got to be difficult, in part because of the individualization of ethics, of which of course the sexual revolution has been the striking wedge. I am indebted to M. J. Sobran, Jr., for his essay on Hugh Hefner's Playboy. In four pages he does more damage to the philosophical pretentiousness of "that magazine than has ever been done anywhere, by anybody.

Here, for instance, was a Playboy editorial, scolding the Supreme Court for its recent decision on obscenity. "The obscene is a subjective concept, existing only in the minds of the beholders. There are ultimately 200,000,000 qualified judges of obscenity in the U.S. and... each has a right to his (effective) opinion... raising the question, as Solomon pointed out, 'what, can... qualified possibly mean? Or obscenity?' Or 'right?'"

Of course, if 200 million Americans are absolute arbiters of porn, then indeed it is presumptuous to pronounce something as being obscene, or not obscene, even to use the word. The argument can be made, and is made, by deeply sensitive people that abortion-on-demand is all right by them. This is a responsible position. But it becomes irresponsible in extended argument to saying: A position that argues against abortion-on-demand is presumptuous insofar as it seeks to exert authority other than over the person making it.

It is the point of argumentation to convince others that Linda Lovelace's movies are pornographic, for instance, that bestiality is morally repulsive, that Playboy's taskmasters — that abortion-on-demand — is a violation of human metaphysics. It is the argument that needs to be listened to, rather than foreclosed, by the thoughtlessness of the Playboy philosophy.

Quick shot of confidence US need

(c) Chicago Daily News
WASHINGTON — This country seems to need right now is a quick fix.

It needs a robust shot of confidence. The public temper is too frazzled to be cozened by sweet talk.

Too many motorists are waiting too long in lines at the gasoline stations, afraid that by the time they reach the pumps, they will be served out of oil cans, by the drop. Too many household managers are creeping toward panic buying and hoarding; the "pushing" and "shoving" and grabbing thus far have been tentative, like the opening minutes of a grudge wrestling match. The hint of more violent responses to the shortages and the uncertainties threatens the peace in many places.

Any talk of self-sacrifice in this particular community these days is apt to produce laughter. Even in the best of times, any President would have difficulty dealing with energy shortages, rising prices, growing unemployment, record deficits, scarcities of some food stuffs.

For President Nixon, it surely is a problem without handles. In his battle for survival he cannot readily go before the people with stern messages. His authority to persuade Americans to be patient and long-headed about their predicament has been diminished by his own predicament.

PETER LISAGOR

Nixon has been made lame, of tongue and spirit, by the charges of scandal and corruption. A sense of faltering direction permeates the administration. A budget is sent to Congress in the spirit of John Maynard Keynes, deficit financing no longer an avowed sin but an economic imperative. At the same time, the administration recommends that all mandatory controls — except for those on petroleum products and health services — be allowed to expire April 30, and Adam Smith, the apostle of laissez-faire exults in triumph — as prices go through the roof.

While the antagonists at home appear to be mismanaged, the President and Secretary of State Henry A. Kissinger talk of travel overseas this spring and summer, tours of Europe and Moscow and possibly the Middle East. The circumstances that attended Nixon's truly triumphant swing through China and the Kremlin in 1972 have vanished. Kissinger has proved himself able to handle shuttle diplomacy so.

There is no quick fix in foreign junkets. The malaise in American life must be dealt with here at home. And no facade of vigor and bustle can obscure the urgent need for the President to grapple with it — out in the open, in concert with the Congress and the people.

Nixon, aides continue relations

WASHINGTON — Dwight L. Chapin, President Nixon's indirect former appointments secretary who faces up to 20 years if convicted for perjury, recently visited the White House — pointing up the strangely enduring relationship between the President and his fallen aides.

Ordinary citizens are barred from the White House inner sanctum, but Chapin — indicted on four counts of perjury Nov. 29 — had no such trouble while in Washington for a federal court appearance.

One aide told us Chapin was paying a courtesy call on old acquaintances. But, coincidental or not, his visit preceded new White House propaganda against deposed White House counsel John W. Dean III. In their campaign against the credibility of the chief accuser of the President and his former aides, Nixon's present lieutenants are pointing to a confrontation in court Friday between Dean and Chapin.

A hearing is scheduled that day on a motion by Chapin's lawyers to prevent Dean from testifying against Chapin on grounds it would violate the lawyer-client relationship.

Whether Dean is demolished or even appears as a witness Friday remains to be seen. Beyond dispute is the conscious interrelationship of two separate proceedings: the President's defense against impeachment and the defense of his ex-aides, ranging from H. R. Haldeman and John D. Ehrlichman down to Dwight Chapin, in criminal proceedings.

EVANS & NOVAK

Former Atty. Gen. Elliot Richardson has been promised a political tour by the militantly conservative Mississippi Republican party when he makes his first political foray there later this month. He decided to stick his toe in Southern political waters to test reactions in hostile country to his possible presidential candidacy.

Richardson, the Boston Brahmin who fell in last October's Saturday night massacre, is regarded in the South as far left, though in fact he is close to the Republican center. Nevertheless, powerful Republicans have pledged to court a large audience for him in Biloxi Feb. 25 for a "frankly political" speech.

Richardson originally accepted a nonpolitical date at the University of Mississippi Feb. 24, but then asked Reed to help arrange a political speech as well.

THOSTESON, M.D. It's just itchy

Dear Dr. Thosteson: Is poison ivy contagious? I've always believed it is. Recently I heard it isn't. Please answer to settle an argument.—L. R.

No, it is not contagious. The sap, or juice or resin whatever you care to call it, from the ivy, causes a reaction on the skin. If the sap is on your skin (or hands or garden tools or on a dog's fur) and is transferred to someone else's skin, it can set up irritation — but you don't give ivy poisoning to someone else just because you itch.

Dear Doctor: Please give me the address of the National Parasitosis Foundation.—Mrs. C. H. Suite 250, 6415 S.W. Canyon Ct., Portland, Ore.

Dear Dr. Thosteson: I have a relative, 80, who was in the hospital six months ago for bowel obstruction. She has diarrhea quite frequently and complains of gurgling sounds and pain. She refuses to go to the doctor. Would it be all right to give her anti-diarrhea medicine? —Mrs. M. S.

Under the circumstances I would not approve giving her such medicine until her physician has examined her.

Herd decline said crisis

Editor, Times-News:

The decline in deer and elk herds here in Idaho has reached critical proportions. Our game herds are in a deplorable condition; yet, for some reason the Idaho Fish and Game Department refuses to shorten the seasons. It makes one wonder if perhaps they aren't more interested in making money than they are in managing our game herds.

Four years ago I urged the Fish and Game Department to shorten the deer and elk seasons from the utterly ridiculous several-months long open season to two or three weeks open season at the most, with some management units closed altogether. They finally put a drawing only on the vastly over-hunted South Hills, Unit 54. Also, they are to be commended for putting the Picaço Hills, Unit 52, on a drawing-only basis. However, this is only a start.

In several of the game management units the open seasons are still several months long, with the sad fact being there are practically no game animals left whatsoever. Unit 48, which is comprised almost of the West River Valley, is so depleted of game it's unbelievable. This unit should have been put on a drawing-only basis years ago. This past season several of my sportsman friends packed back into the famous Selway Unit 17 with horses. They rode back 12 miles from the nearest road. There were 18 men in the party. They hunted hard on horseback every day for two weeks. One can imagine the vast country they could cover everyday with the aid of horses. Nevertheless, when the party came out two weeks later, they didn't have a single game animal of any type among them. Furthermore, these were experienced outdoorsmen, not a bunch of greenhorn dudes from L. A. or New York.

It is already too late to save the game animals in several units, but the season must be shortened immediately in other units. Senator John Peavey, R-Rupert, has called for a 15-day limit on deer and elk hunting seasons. This is an excellent suggestion. However, as drastic as it may seem, I feel the deer and elk hunting seasons should be closed altogether for at least 3 years, preferably 5; then with the termination of that time, the seasons might possibly be reopened for 2-weeks-only seasons. Besides our game herds being vastly overhunted, not enough emphasis has been given to the severe losses of game animals to winter kill, poaching, dogs, and the relentless slaughter from predators, such as coyotes, bobcats, lions, etc. A lot of people will laugh and brand me a pessimist at least, but multi this over, my friends: A couple of years ago if someone had told you the fuel and energy shortages we are now experiencing were coming, you would have laughed and ignored them. "You never miss the water until the well runs dry."

In conclusion I say, if you care about the future of Idaho's wildlife, demand that the Idaho Fish and Game Department at least drastically shorten the open-game seasons now, not next year.

Hospital need is still there

Tuesday was a grim day for Magic Valley Memorial Hospital. Despite the fact that a solid majority of voters expressed support for a proposed expansion and modernization program for the hospital, the issue failed for lack of a two-thirds majority.

What should be done now? For sure, the supporters of the hospital should not abandon their efforts to update the hospital. There is little doubt that most people believe there is a real need for improved hospital facilities. Those same people are willing to see a great deal of money spent toward this end.

The basic needs of the community are still there, whether or not they are met. Among these are improvement of emergency facilities, development of low-cost outpatient treatment facilities; expansion of specialized medical services such as surgery, laboratory and X-ray, and eventual expansion of hospital bed capacity.

The basic proposal offered Tuesday, perhaps with a few refinements, should again be offered to the public. The need is still there, and growing.

2. Hospital supporters should consider some alternative approach to paying for the building program.

In our view, one important reason the issue failed Tuesday was the way the building program would be paid for.

Two arguments have been raised repeatedly with some force.

Many people say it is unfair to let all voters decide on taxes that will fall on a few property owners. Clearly some broader base of support than the property tax rolls would be preferable.

Another recurrent theme is suggested by this question: "Why should Twin Falls County people alone pay for a hospital that is used by people from other counties?"

Again, a better solution would be to spread the base of support to a broader cross section of the community served.

In our view these two grounds for criticism of a general obligation bond issue paid from property taxes should be taken seriously.

One good answer would be to use a revenue bond issue to pay for needed hospital improvements.

A revenue bond is supported by hospital revenues rather than from taxes.

The advantages are obvious. People pay according to their level of use of the facilities. When a person from outside Twin Falls County benefits by using Magic Valley Memorial, he also would be asked to pay his fair share of costs. Twin Falls County residents would not carry all the load.

And since nearly everyone comes into contact with a hospital during his lifetime, the charges would be spread more evenly and fairly among Valley residents than when property taxpayers foot the whole bill.

Moreover, a revenue bond requires only a 50 per cent majority vote for approval.

To pursue a revenue bond, however, will require a change in Idaho law. Under existing statutes, a city-owned hospital could hold a revenue bond election, but not a county-owned hospital.

A clear inequity exists, and should be corrected by the Idaho Legislature, whether or not Magic Valley Memorial pursues the revenue bond route.

A second possibility for revenue bond financing also would require change in law, but may be easier to obtain.

In 1972 the Legislature created a state health authority with power to issue state revenue bonds for use of local hospitals seeking to improve their facilities.

The law is designed only for privately owned, not-for-profit institutions. Incredibly, it excludes publicly-owned, not-for-profit institutions such as Magic Valley Memorial.

The state health authority was intended to help out hospitals which could not issue revenue bonds. There is no good reason the law could not be amended to permit the authority to issue revenue bonds for county hospitals.

The legislature should be responsive to such legislation.

If not, Magic Valley Memorial would have to consider becoming a city-owned hospital, or to build a new one out of current patient fees.

The only alternative to growth and modernization is stagnation, something nobody wants.

Thought for today
A thought for the day: World War II Supreme Allied Commander Dwight D. Eisenhower, later president, said, "Humility must always be the portion of any man who receives acclaim earned in the blood of his followers and the sacrifices of his friends."

Senate clears time zone bills

BOISE (UPI) — Two memorials asking for changing time zones in Idaho passed the Senate Tuesday and were forwarded to the House.

Approved by a vote of 19-15 was a memorial asking Congress to place 24 eastern and southern Idaho counties on Mountain time, and the remainder on Pacific time.

The Senate then passed by voice vote a proposal asking the secretary of transportation to study Idaho's time zones.

Sponsor of the measure to place the 24 counties on Mountain time was Senate Minority Leader John V. Evans. D-Malad, who said he had received "very little objection" to the measure.

He called the proposal "a reasonable compromise" which would just provide a guideline for Congress.

But Sen. Robert Saxvik, D-Burley, said he didn't think the legislature should be "monkeying around with the time issue." He said he would not be a party to splitting southern Idaho.

Saxvik was joined by Sen. Richard Egbert, D-Tetonian, who said he couldn't consent to a "division of unity we've had in southern Idaho."

Sen. John Peavey, R-Rupert, said that he would like to see the entire state on Pacific time and hopes Utah would do the same thing.

Sen. J. Wilson Steen, R-Glenns Ferry, said the memorial only "tells Congress this is what we want in Idaho."

Delay sought

BOISE (UPI) — House members completed legislative action 40:22 Tuesday on a Senate joint memorial asking federal court for an additional 30 days to reappointment the legislature.

Then the House adjourned until Wednesday after reading the Senate-approved reappointment bill for the second time.

There was no debate on the memorial.

Tuesday was the 30th and final day according to a court order for the legislature to reappoint itself. Otherwise, the legislature faces the prospect of the court doing the reappointment.

Blaine commission adopts budget

HAILEY — Blaine County commissioners — Monday adopted the proposed 1974 county budget after no protests were recorded during a public hearing.

The total budget of $1.09 million constitutes an increase of about $200,000 over last year.

Item for construction of new jail facilities. Other increases result from general pay increases in all county departments, the addition of new personnel and higher costs of equipment and supplies. County employees were granted a general $50 per month salary increase with a $75 per month raise for bridge and road department workers.

ERA advisory vote pullback defeated

BOISE (UPI) — An attempt to yank back into committee a bill calling for an advisory referendum on the Equal Rights Amendment was beaten down on the floor of the House Tuesday.

Reps. Ralph Gines, R-Nampa, and C. L. Otter, R-Caldwell, tried to pull the proposal back into the Judiciary committee until after a resolution to rescind Idaho's ratification of the ERA is considered on the floor today.

Gines told the House he felt the sponsors of the bill should be given the courtesy of holding it in committee until the other measure is considered. He said he felt there is a need for further discussion of the bill as it relates to another still pending in committee.

"We ought to debate them separately," Gines said. "They treat the problem from a different angle."

After Gines moved and Otter seconded his motion the House became embroiled in a parliamentary controversy that delayed the proceedings for some 20 minutes. The motion, which required a two-thirds majority at this juncture to pass, failed 24-41.

Deadline brings Senate proposals

BOISE (UPI) — On the final day of introducing bills in the Senate Tuesday had a flurry of 41 bills and four resolutions hit the hopper.

Otherwise, it was a slow day in the Senate as two memorials dealing with changing Idaho's time zones were the only proposals acted upon. They were approved and sent to the House.

Among bills introduced on the final day was one which would establish a state scholarship program.

The bill's stated purpose of the act was "encouragement of the state's most talented Idaho secondary school graduates to enroll in Idaho post secondary educational institutions is an important element for assuring the future leadership for the state."

It provides for a maximum of 100 scholarships per year at $1,500 per student with a total payment over a six-year period per individual not to exceed $5,000.

Another measure calls for the creation of a uniform building code, and two others set up regulations for alteration of stream channels and establish a forest practice act.

Worker licensing bill clears panel

BOISE (UPI) — The House Health and Welfare Committee Tuesday agreed to introduce a bill to license social workers but expressed some concern over a privileged communication section.

At the suggestion of Rep. Edward W. Rice, R-Boise, the committee also agreed to get an attorney general's opinion on the breadth and scope of the controversial section.

Rice pointed out there are a number of privileged communications laws on the books and that this must be considered in relation to the other statutes.

In other business the committee voted to introduce a bill which would allow the Department of Health and Welfare to provide adoption support for hard to place children. It is aimed at assisting the adoption of handicapped youngsters.

Confidence crisis cited by ex-solon

BOISE (UPI) — Former US Sen. Len B. Jordan told the Idaho Legislature Tuesday the nation is suffering from a crisis of confidence "in our leaders and in our institutions."

Speaking at a Lincoln Day observance in the legislature, Jordan said what the country needs is a "return to those traditional values and old fashioned virtues which Lincoln espoused and which have stood the time of time in all ages."

Jordan said Watergate should be left with courts and the Congress to "unwind and let the chips fall where they may."

"Without the albatross of Watergate," the former Senator said, "President Nixon's record in domestic affairs is fair and his record in foreign affairs is excellent."

Striking miners bar inspectors

LONDON (UPI) - Striking mine workers ignoring management warnings that one-third of Britain's coal pits soon may be destroyed by flooding or fire, today barred all safety inspectors from the mines.

The National Coal Board said that refusing safety inspectors entry to mines has left the pits' future "hanging by a slender thread."

Pickets also blocked coal transport from docks and fuel dumps into power stations and steel plants on the fourth day of the nationwide strike.

The nation's 229,000 mine workers began an indefinite strike at midnight Saturday.

They demanded a 20.50 per cent pay increase. The government-run National Coal Board offered 16.5 per cent.

Present basic weekly pay miners are $41.51 for low grade coal face workers, $52 for second and third grade underground workers, and $58.50 for lowest grade underground workers and all surface workers.

The National Coal Board has offered $90.52 for top grade coal face workers, $70.67 for lowest grade underground workers, $65.20 for top grade surface workers and $65.45 for lowest grade surface workers.

Following his effort to resolve the crippling labor dispute, Prime Minister Edward Heath ordered a national election Feb. 28 to seek a new mandate to lead Britain out of what he called the nation's "gravest industrial crisis since World War II. Most of Britain's electrical power comes from coal.

The coal board said one-third of the 560 pits are threatened with flooding or fire.

Heath Tuesday warned if the strike is prolonged, the government will switch investment from plants to nuclear power plants and offshore oil.

Historic subpoena finally delivered

WASHINGTON (UPI) - The Postal Service has found and delivered a historic subpoena that has been lost in routing and chugged cross-country by surface mail like any ordinary package.

White House spokesmen had already indicated President Nixon would "respectfully decline" the subpoena to testify at the California trial of three alleged "White House plumbers" - but the question unanswered until Tuesday was what happened to it?

Los Angeles Superior Court Judge Gordon Ringer signed the subpoena and had it posted "certified mail" on Feb. 5, intended for air mail letter delivery to the White House.

When it did not arrive in reasonable time, postal officials admitted it had gone astray.

Tuesday, a postal official said the letter "was misrouted" but the subpoena apparently was delayed because "it looked like a package" and traveled surface carrier from Los Angeles to Washington.

A formal statement said only: "The letter was delivered this morning. We traced it and found that it was 'stuffed' as having been sent by surface mail from Los Angeles some time on Feb. 5."

In other Watergate developments:

- Senate Watergate committee counsel Samuel Dash said Tuesday he expects the panel headed by Sen. Barry Goldwater Jr., D-N.C., to reopen public hearings on the Howard Hughes $100,000 campaign contribution and Dairy Industry political donations, possibly in late April.

Truck traffic normal

United Press International
 Truck traffic throughout the nation was back to normal today and National Guardsmen activated to help police the highways were returning to their civilian jobs. Some truckers continued the strike, and there were a few incidents of new violence.

W.J. Usery Jr., President Nixon's labor advisor, declared Tuesday trucking "has substantially returned to normal." A government-trucker agreement reached last week guaranteed drivers fuel and allows them to ship higher fuel costs on to passengers.

A bomb blast Tuesday night tore a three foot hole in a rear wall of the home of Ted Anderson, who acted as a liaison between the government and the striking truckers in the Detroit area. No one was injured.

A shotgun was fired from an overpass at a truck on the Pennsylvania Turnpike in the south central region of the state late last night, state police reported. The driver escaped injury.

The Ohio Highway Patrol reported one incident that may have been related to the strike late Tuesday when a trucker said a rock was thrown at his rig from an overpass on Interstate 70 near Columbus.

Gem weather picture looks good

Twin Falls, northside, Burley-Rupert area: Mostly fair with increasing cloudiness Thursday... with a chance of showers over the mountains. Lows tonight 25 to 30. The high Thursday in the 40s.

The outlook for Friday, partly cloudy.

Halley, Camas Prairie, lower Wood River Valley: Mostly fair with increasing cloudiness tonight with a chance of showers Thursday. Lows tonight 5 to 15. The high Thursday in the 30s.

The "outlook" for Friday, partly cloudy.

Synopsis: A weak cold front which moved into Idaho yesterday brought a few showers to the mountains of central and northern Idaho. The systems only produced partly cloudy skies in its dying stage over southern Idaho.

Another weak system along the Washington and Oregon coast this morning will produce some periods of rain in northern Idaho Thursday and spread a few clouds south with some scattered shower activity over the central mountains.

The weather picture for southern Idaho looks good except for occasional cloudy periods through Thursday.

The extended outlook for southern Idaho through Sunday calls for little change in the current weather pattern with mild temperatures and a little light precipitation possible about every two days.

Publisher faced with bizarre ultimatum

BERKELEY, Calif. (UPI) — Publisher Randolph Hearst was faced today with the bizarre ultimatum of arranging to provide $300 million worth of free food for 4.9 million needy Californians as a first step in the release of his kidnapped daughter.

A family spokesman said Hearst would "do everything in his power" to meet the demand of the terrorist Symbionse Liberation Army in order to save the life of 19-year-old Patricia Hearst.

A recording of the girl's voice, a monotone which an FBI agent said sounded as if she might be very tired or drugged, was sent to Hearst Tuesday along with a letter demanding a month-long hand-out of food in supermarkets from San Francisco to Los Angeles.

The hearse said she was "okay" and had not been harmed, although she was blindfolded most of the time.

She called on her "daddy" to "get that food thing organized" and warned against any attempt to track down her abductors or free her by force.

Charles Bates, head of the FBI investigation of the kidnap, said agents had no intention of "going into a house with guns blazing," even if they located the hideout. He said they would abide by Hearst's wishes.

The letter from the hitherto, obscure S.L.A. set one "ransom" condition as the providing of $70 of food apiece beginning Jan. 19 to everyone on welfare, receiving social security benefits, disabled veterans, parolees and persons out of jail on bail.

Jack Cook, vice president of the Hearst Corp., said that the millionaire son of legendary newspaper empire builder William Randolph Hearst "intends as quickly as possible to talk to agencies and institutions to determine how feasible it is to meet their demands."

At the federal courthouse, a 72-year-old minister who said he represented an organization of one million California senior citizens handed someone a statement saying "we will go hungry before we accept food under the threat of violence."

The Rev. Edward Peet, president of the California Legislative Council for Older People, said "welfare recipients throughout the state hope and pray Patricia Hearst will be released immediately."

The tape recording of Miss Hearst's voice, dated Feb. 8 and delivered to a local FM radio station, started out: "Mom, Dad, I'm okay."

"I had a few scrapes and stuff, but they washed them up and they're getting okay and I caught a cold but they're giving me pills for it and stuff. I'm not being starved or beaten or unnecessarily frightened... My hands are often tied, but generally they're not. I'm not clogged or anything. I'm comfortable and I think you can tell that I'm not really terrified or anything, and I'm okay..."

"I'm with a combat unit that's armed with automatic weapons and there's also a medical team here and there's no way that I will be released until they let me go so it wouldn't do any good for somebody to come in here and try to get me out by force."

Free food costs millions

SACRAMENTO, Calif. (UPI) — The Symbionse Liberation Army's free-food criteria in the Patricia Hearst kidnap case would cover some 4.7 million persons and cost her family in excess of $300 million.

The S.L.A. said Tuesday in a letter to Randolph A. Hearst, father of the University of California code, that it would consider releasing her after $70 in food was given to "all people with welfare cards, Social Security pension cards, food stamp cards, disabled veteran cards, medical cards, parole or probation papers and jail or bail release slips."

These figures totaled 4.7 million persons who might be eligible for the payments under the S.L.A. guidelines.

Authorities pointed out, however, there was no way to count duplication or estimate how many persons might avail themselves of such free food.

San Francisco (UPI) — A 36-year-old mother of three said she'd accept $70 worth of free food "only if Patricia Hearst is released first" and a single man of 22 said the demands of the kidnapers of the newspaper heiress only made him "hate interrevolutionary movements."

Many food stamp and welfare recipients acted with surprise Tuesday when informed that they were "apparently" the reason for the kidnaping of

Recipients surprised

Miss Hearst, 19, by the Symbionse Liberation Army. "I think it's crazy," said Becky Ziegler, 19, "I could dig the free food but I wouldn't want the food on someone else's expense."

"An elderly woman said she wouldn't accept the food "under any circumstances," and a law student, Bob Bates, 29, said that legally any person who accepts the $70 in merchandise becomes a participant in the crime."

Valley school trustees consider building

Kimberly building studied

KIMBERLY — Kimberly school trustees have decided to begin investigating the cost of remodeling the junior high school auditorium into a music room.

The auditorium is not large enough to hold either the junior high or high school student bodies as the assemblies are held in the gymnasium, school officials said. Trustees have been studying possible use of the space to relieve cramped quarters in the music room. On Monday night, the board told Dale Vawter, head custodian, to obtain cost estimates.

Since the remodeling project would be paid for out of next year's capital improvement budget, nothing can be done until it is known how much money will be available, school officials said.

Trustees also voted to accept the bid of $6,750 from Kirkman Brothers, Twin Falls, for a new 66-passenger school bus. The amount includes trade-in. The board voted to defer payment for the delivery.

Other bids were received from Magic Valley International for $7,979 with trade-in and two bids, for chassis only, were received from Western Mountain Superior Coach firm.

In other action, trustees: Approved a request by Mrs. Edna Jacobs, lunch supervisor, for a 5 cent hourly wage increase for four cooks in the school hot lunch program. This will not affect price of lunches.

WILLARD NELSON
... retiree

Dietrich canal man ends career

SHOSHONE — Willard Nelson, Dietrich, 43-year member of the Big Wood Canal Co. Board, is retiring. He has missed only three meetings of the board since first taking office.

A gold watch and chain was presented Nelson by Wendell Johnson, representing the board.

Also honored were Francis Sillimpon, who has served 19 years, and Harold Pridmore with 2 years experience. They, too, are retiring and were presented plaques.

The plaques included a picture of Magic Reservoir, name of the retiring member and dates of service.

VALLEY SCHOOL — Citizens of Valley School District discussed a possible elementary school building project with the school board Monday night.

No decision was made whether there should be two new buildings, one for the grade school and another for junior high students, or one combined building. Citizens began groundwork for meeting building needs, Supt. Arlyn Bodily said.

The board will take the matter under advisement when a more positive proposal is made by the committee. It was also asked to determine how others in the district feel toward such a project.

Grades one through seven are now housed in old buildings in Hazelton and Eden.

Monte Andrus, athletic director, received approval for the Valley Booster Club's plan to sponsor a boxing smoker as a fund raising project. No date was set.

The board voted against furnishing bus transportation for private kindergarten children to attend kindergarten in the district.

Trustees also voted to seek permission from the state for school junior Bud Corben to work beyond retirement age of 65.

Allen Starny, vocational agriculture instructor, asked permission for the Valley High School auto judging team to attend the national contest later this spring in Oklahoma. The Valley team won the state contest earlier this year. Action was tabled pending further information on the national event.

High school Principal William Mitchell said Valley High School has been accredited by the National Accreditation Association for the 1973-74 year.

Bodily said parent-teacher conferences are scheduled March 28 during the afternoon and evening, and on the afternoon of March 29. Parents will be notified by letter about specific time schedules.

Valley High School wrestler Delyo Baker, Lonnie Sellers and Monte Sellers were given permission to participate in the state tournament this week in Boise.

Devils snap Wolves' win streak at 17

MURTAUGH - The Murtaugh Red Devils, picking up the extra kick from Wade Quensen, ended the undefeated streak of the Castelford Wolves 57-45 Tuesday night.

The victory not only ended Castelford's string at 17 games but left the Wolves in a Friday night against Oakley Valley Conference title. Each has lost one game. Oakley dropped Deco Tuesday night to make the Castelford battle its season finale. The Wolves will meet Hagerman Saturday night. Both games are slated for Castelford.

Quensen pumped through 12 points - the margin of difference - as Murtaugh got usual double point production from Bob Wright at 12 and Scott Furkes at 12. The Wolves has Wiggins at 16 and Foukal

Miller wonders if he's hungry enough

LOS ANGELES (UPI) - After finishing in a four-way tie for fourth for a $6,249 payoff in the Bob Hope Desert Classic Sunday, blind-hunted Johnny Miller had a strange observation.

"I guess," analyzed the best of pro golf's so-called young lions, "I'm just not hungry enough." The Janky Northern Californian who is entered in the Glen Campbell Los Angeles Open this week, must have higher than high standards for himself.

With six PGA winter tour events in the books, the 1973 U.S. Open champion has won more money than any pro golfer before him at this date - $100,932.

He has victories at the Bing Crosby Pro-Am, the Phoenix Open, and the Denny Martin Tucson Open. And he has 20 par-or-better rounds this year.

Miller, who won't be 27 until April 29, finished eight shots behind winner Hubert Green at Palm Springs, Calif., and expressed concern about his 20 straight par and sub-par rounds.

"Maybe I'm thinking about Bing, Pistons defeat Kings" - DAIETHOIT (UPI) - Dave Bing scored 10 of his 24 points in the fourth quarter Tuesday night to help the Detroit Pistons to a 113-106 National Basketball League victory over the Kansas City-Omaha Kings.

The victory was the Pistons' 48th this year, equal to their total number of wins last season. Willie Norwood contributed to the team's eighth consecutive home win, a club record, by getting 12 of his game high 27 points in the third quarter when the Kings erased a 13-point deficit and took the lead.

But Bing led a charge that pulled the Pistons back in front. Bob Lanier was held to only 14 points, but he did grab 10 rebounds and ruck up 12 assists for Detroit. Curtis Rowe chipped in 16 points.

Oakley tops Declo, sets title showdown

OAKLEY - The Oakley Hornets zipped away in the third quarter to crush Declo 70-50 and set themselves up for a shot at the Magic Valley Conference championship.

The win, coupled with Castelford's first loss of the season at Murtaugh, left the Hornets and Wolves tied with a loss each in the standings.

Both coaches went to their benches after that. Lanky Don Pickett threw in 16 points in the first half as Oakley inched out to a 30-24 advantage. Early in the third period Declo went to a press, which had Oakley stymied for a couple minutes.

Kroc assumes control of team, begins pay hassle with trio

SAN DIEGO (UPI) - Multimillionaire Ray Kroc Tuesday was in complete financial control of the San Diego Padres as he purchased the franchise, agreed upon, but then found himself immediately involved with three of his players who weren't satisfied with contract offered them and had asked for arbitration.

Outfielders Leron Lee and Clarence Gaston and reliever Gary Ross filed for arbitration of contract negotiations under the major league agreement. "Things have been worked out to the satisfaction of all parties involved," president Buzzie Bavasi said of the sale after all day meetings Monday with attorneys of the various interests. "The club now belongs to Mr. Kroc."

Bavasi said the three players notified the team of their decision before the mid-night deadline. Ross also asking to be traded.

Bavasi said only 22 of the 40 players on the roster have been signed.

A number of unsigned players have been in winter ball," he said. "We don't negotiate with them until they return to the states."

Ross, 26, said he originally was asked to take a cut but later the club decided to pay the same as he received last year when he compiled a 4-4 record with a 3.26 era.

Eagles beat slowdown for second victory over Utah

The University of Utah jayvees, evidently unhappy with losing by 36 points Monday night, turned to a slowdown Tuesday and College of Southern Idaho had to be content with 5-32 decision. The victory moves CSI against University of Idaho jayvees at 9 p.m. Saturday in Twin Falls. The prelude to that one will find the Twin Falls Bruins meeting the highly-regarded Skyline Grizzlies at 7 p.m.

Utah's slowdown tactics did keep things close through the first half and midway through the period the Redskins had a five-point lead.

But CSI then started picking up steals and turnovers and behind Arnold Dugger regained the lead. CSI hit the first six points of the second half which left Utah out of touch regardless of what it did so the Utes stuck with the slowdown.

Alston begins 21st season with L.A. on optimistic note

L.A. (UPI) — "I'm disappointed in last year because we blew it. We had a lead and it got away from us and we're not going to make any excuses."

Armed with his 21st one-year contract from the Los Angeles Dodgers, Walter Alston candidly assessed his team's 1973 National League season and said he was "optimistic" about '74.

Appearing at a Dodger Stadium news conference Tuesday, Alston said, "I do feel this club is a little better than it was last year."

Alston, who will earn an estimated $85,000 for his 21st season, lauded the San Diego Padres for their deals for Willie McCovey, Bobby Tolson and Glenn Beckert.

"I don't know how they did it but they came up with some pretty good ball players," he said. "They have some age but a lot of times it's a little stimulant to be traded and I think they all want to stay in San Diego. There's no question in my mind the Padres play better against us than they do against everybody else."

acquisition was reliever Mike Marshall from Montreal for outfielder Willie Davis and Alston noted: "I can't think there's anyone I'd rather have go in-right-now-and hold a one-run lead."

Utah took the lead at 8-6 on McCleary's field goal and he added three of the five points that carried Utah ahead 13-8 with 10:27 left in the half. Dugger scored after a backcourt violation and Fryson converted on a steal. Then with 7:28 remaining, CSI got the ball back on a five-second jump ball situation and Dugger capitalized with the bucket that put the Eagles ahead for the night.

It was a physical game with Utah running a double stack and screening solidly around the keyhole.

Celtics rally past Warriors

OAKLAND (UPI) — John Havlicek scored 15 of his 34 points in the final period Tuesday night as the Boston Celtics stormed back from a 13-point deficit to topple the Golden State Warriors 107-102 in an NBA game.

The Warriors had taken an 88-82 lead early in the fourth quarter but Havlicek scored six straight points to pull the Celtics within one. Havlicek, who scored 24 points in the second half, connected on a jump shot with 5:54 remaining to give the Celtics the lead for good.

Rick Barry, scoring 22 of his game-high 37 points in the opening half, paced the Warriors to a 53-40 advantage late in the second period.

A year ago, the Reds overhauled the Dodgers in September and won the division by 3 1/2 games. The Dodgers did have the third best record in the big leagues.

"These fellas did win 65 games and there's not many youngsters who could come through and win that many games for you," Alston said. "I think that's something I'm rather proud of."

The Dodgers' main off-season.

Scholarship limits help school, athlete

COLORADO SPRINGS, Colo. (UPI) — The executive director of the NCAA said Tuesday scholarship limitations on major universities would save schools, money and create better guidance for student athletes.

"With the limit of 30 scholarships a year for football, you are not going to have the schools taking a large number of athletes," Walter Byers told an NCAA seminar.

"For example, some boys who have been going to the big schools are going to start going other places."

University of Southern California football coach John McKay said USC averaged only 19 scholarships a year and had never given more than 27 annually.

"There's no way you can coach great numbers," said McKay, one of the country's most successful collegiate coaches. "When you bring in the large groups, you usually lie to youngsters and tell them they will play," McKay said.

"Five or six years ago, Woody Hayes, (Ohio State) went to our system of taking only 20 or 22 boys and I didn't see any foul-up on his part this past New Year's Day."

Ohio State beat USC 42-21 in the Rose Bowl.

Under NCAA guidelines adopted last August, any school competing in Division I football will be allowed 30 new recruits a year. Included would be any person recruited for athletic purposes, despite whether the player receives a scholarship.

Stan Bates, commissioner of the Western Athletic Conference (WAC), and one of the sturmiest opponents to the yearly limitations, said some schools could wind up dropping football because of the restriction.

"I don't think the purpose of this legislation is to run schools out of football but in some instances that could very well happen," Bates said.

He said several WAC member schools had high attrition rates because their campuses were so remote, including University of Wyoming at Laramie and the University of Texas at El Paso.

Bates also said he was concerned because once a football season began, a coach could add players to his roster by "borrowing" on the following year's allotment.

Futch rejects idea of Frazier-Quarry

NEW YORK (UPI) — With Muhammad Ali walking out on Jerry Quarry, and George Foreman taking on Ken Norton, where does that leave Joe Frazier?

Should Joe, who has gone 27 bruising rounds with Ali, winning one and losing one, pick up the date with Quarry, setting his sights on a title match with the Foreman-Norton winner?

"No way," says Eddie Futch, the man who now calls the shots for Frazier after having done the same for Norton for five years.

"There's no point I can see for Joe to fight Jerry. Joe is entitled to a title shot without having to qualify. He's the man who gave Foreman the big chance, and among gentlemen, you reciprocate," Futch said.

But who ever said boxing is populated by gentlemen?

"Frazier and Futch have yet to sit down and decide what the former champion will do, if anything, in the ring again."

"I feel," Futch said, "that Joe gave Foreman the title shot when they were others who could have had the shot. There was a gentleman's agreement that if George won it, he would return the favor. I think it would be good if George honored that commitment, verbal or otherwise. As far as Quarry is concerned, Jerry has had three shots at the title. I can't see any pressing reason why he should get a fourth over other fellows like Joe."

As for his own role with Norton, Futch keeps his cool, but you can feel the undercurrent of resentment. He points out he was the one who guided Norton to his sensational win over Ali, and then the hair-line loss in the return bout.

"The people who handle Ken always told everyone I was the man who decided where and when Ali and Ken would fight," Futch recalled. "They did that right up to the time Ken became a top contender. Then I was out. But there's no difficulty between Norton and myself."

Futch said he would go to the Caracas, Venezuela, March 26 to see his former charge bid for Foreman's title.

"I'd like to see Ken win it, and I think he can if he uses all the things he's going for him. If he can put it all together. Don't misunderstand, he's got a good, a fine trainer in Bill Slayton, who has all the ability in the world."

But what of Joe Frazier?

"We'll have to talk. I'm dead set against him fighting for anything but the title, or against Ali one more time. I don't want him to fight just another match. It has to be a meaningful one — and the only meaningful ones would be against Foreman or Ali."

Market Review

NEW YORK (UPI)—Stocks opened narrowly higher in light trading on the New York Stock Exchange Wednesday.

Just after the opening bell the Dow Jones industrial average was ahead 0.24 to 806.87. Gainers were 399 ahead of losers among the 399 issues traded.

Early Wednesday, a conference of Arab oil ministers set to begin Thursday was suspended until further notice, according to a spokesman for the Kuwait embassy in Beirut.

The meeting was supposed to have discussed whether or not to lift the current oil embargo against the United States. Its cancellation may have dashed some hopes on Wall Street for an early end to the embargo.

No reason was given for the cancellation.

On Tuesday, stocks were mixed in light trading, with the most of buying centering on recent market declines.

The Dow rose 2.73 to 806.63.

Idaho spuds gain

CHICAGO—Idaho russet potato futures posted limit gains in heavy trading Tuesday with the May opening closing at 15.73 per hundredweight, a gain of 35 cents from Monday.

Commodity News Service reported an estimated 163 trades, with the cash market in Chicago about steady. Prices were mostly 12.75-13.00 per cwt. for a four cent minimum.

Idaho's futures trading appeared to reflect Maine futures, which finished high gains of 36 to 3 points on a volume of 4,702 contracts Tuesday.

Cattle futures drop

CHICAGO—Live cattle futures suffered only in February Tuesday due to sharply lower live and dressed beef prices.

Final quotations showed strength in all back options, commodity News Service reported. Prices ranged from limit down in February to 90 cents higher in August with 70 cent gains in June and October.

Volume was brisk with 3,231 contracts changing hands. Carcass beef prices stood at 74.00 per hundredweight Tuesday, down as much as 16.00 from last Friday's high and 4.00 per cwt. below Monday's late trading. Feeder cattle futures finished sharply lower across the board with a limit down in April, March and May were 85 cents and 90 cents lower with October down 10 cents. Volume was moderate with 93 contracts changing hands.

74 OLDS OMEGA
 BIG CAR FEATURES—SMALL CAR PRICE

When Oldsmobile's big-car people give you a little car, you can be sure Omega isn't going to be just another compact. It sure isn't. Omega is more car than some of the other compacts. Its wheelbase is longer — the tread is wider too. A smooth-running 250 cubic inch engine is under the hood. You can see the big-car thinking built in — and feel it, too, because inside, it's surprisingly roomy and quiet. Omega uses the same kinds of sound insulators put into Big Oldsmobiles. And they're used generously. Add it up, and Omega is indeed a lot of little Oldsmobile. Small enough for tight budgets and for tight parking spots — but in driving satisfactions, it doesn't fool small at all. It's just about what you'd expect from Oldsmobile isn't it?

Mini-Reviews

TWIN FALLS — Twin Falls Public Library officials have released mini-reviews for some of the new books recently received by the library.

"Pearl's Kitchen" by Pearl Bailey. This book ranges way beyond cooking. Pearl wrote this book at her kitchen table late at night "thinking of yesterday, and cooking for tomorrow."

"Come Back if It Doesn't Get Better" by Penelope Gilliot. In these nine stories there are no approximations, no evasions, no studied confusions. The characters are in plain view and their voices carry.

"You and I and Yesterday" by Marjorie Holmes. Here is all the charm and simplicity of yesterday captured by Marjorie Holmes in this collection of memories about her childhood.

"Second Breath" by Jan Benes. The place — a labor camp in Czechoslovakia. This novel was not granted publication permission in Czechoslovakia.

"Flight of the Grey Goose" by Victor Carrington Smiler, now almost 16, is again on the lam, determined to stay free of the police, until his father returns to establish his innocence.

"Thinking Metri" by Thomas and Marilyn Gilbert. Most of us are beginning from ground zero and must learn to understand a new system.

"Siege" by Edwin Corley. An expertly trained black militant army has taken over the island of Manhattan. Their goal — a separate state for American negroes.

"Sylvia, the Mink" by Ewan Clarkson. A novel that reveals the world of nature and nature's laws through the engaging story of one small animal.

"The Stars Grow Pale" by Karl Bjarnhof. One of Denmark's most celebrated writers tells the moving story of a boy who is going blind.

"The Dreamers" by Ellen Bromfield Gold. Two extremely diverse individuals have a common capacity for dreaming and a willingness to gamble to achieve their goals.

MR. AND MRS. RICHARD L. FISH

Jennifer Cook, Fish exchange promises

Rev. Robert Van Nest, First Presbyterian Church, performed the ceremony. Members of the immediate family attended including the bridegroom's parents, Mr. and Mrs. Richard Fish, Seattle.

The couple repeated their vows which they wrote themselves under an archway banked by pink mums. The bride carried a white spray of carnations and baby orchids. Her wedding dress was a bridal gown of India, in maroon velvet. The bridegroom wore a maharaja wedding robe of maroon velvet.

A reception dinner was held following the wedding at the home of the bride's parents.

Club program given

TWIN FALLS — Mrs. Williams Chaney presented a program on flower mythology at a Monday meeting of the Magic Valley Saltspaula Club at the home of Mrs. Evelyn Paulsen.

Mrs. Carol Utley was co-hostess and furnished the arrangement of the month. Small potted African violets for a yearly project and yearbooks were distributed by Mrs. Fild Hartman. Clara Walton gave each member a violet, book-marker, and valentines were exchanged. She received a birthday anniversary gift from her secret pal.

The March 11 meeting will be at the home of Mrs. Ruth Duggan.

Jacoby 2NT gives options

of the Jacoby two notrump is that it allows an entire extra count on sliding below game. The rebids by opener are:

1. Three of a new suit to show no singleton or void.
1. Three of a new suit to show no singleton and minimum.
1. Three notrump to show no singleton and at least three points above a minimum.
1. Three of a new suit to show specifically a 6-5-1-1 distribution.

Today's hand shows a 22 high-card-point slam bid. By the use of the Jacoby two notrump-South rebids, three hearts to show the singleton. He has a minimum opening, but still must make this bid.

This enables North to go right into Blackwood to get to the easy slam. He knows that all his high cards will be workable.

NEWSWORTHY ENTERTAINMENT

★CARD Sense★

The bidding has been:

West	North	East	South
Pass	3♠	Pass	4NT
Pass	5♥	Pass	5♠
You, South, hold:
♠A K 7 6 5 4 3 2 ♣K 10 4 3
What do you do now?
A — Bid — five — spades.
Theoretically this bid asks your partner to sign off at five notrump. In practice it has another purpose as we will see tomorrow.
TODAY'S QUESTION
Your partner does bid five notrump. What do you do now?
Answer Tomorrow

The two notrump response to a major-suit opening bid by an unpassed hand is popular with all bridge players, who feel that the Declaration of Independence gives every red-blooded American the right to bid notrump before his partner gets a chance to do so.

It also is one of the least necessary bids there is. We have seen many minor suits slams lost because of the abuse of this bid.

Thus, when we take this bid out of our kit and give it the artificial meaning that it is a forcing raise of partner's major suit, we aren't hurting our regular bidding at all.

The first great advantage

Book Review

By ANNIE LAURIE BURTON
Twin Falls Public Library

TWIN FALLS — Money — the root of all evil? Not according to Daniel Behrman and his new book, "The Man Who Loved Bicycles."

It's the automobile which is the malign force causing the destruction of our environment as well as our own deterioration.

This tirade began when Behrman's publisher asked him to study and report on systems... "old systems, new systems, trains, buses, that 'it works as if it were designed as a pollution system', a form of chemical warfare we wage to defoliate our cities then our suburbs, our countryside and ultimately ourselves." The car is a cripple, which not only prohibits and inhibits physical activity, but also filters and inhibits our sensory stimuli.

With statements that are at times totally unsupported with any more than emotional eloquence, Behrman still manages to shock if not persuade the reader into taking another look at our dependency

Abby

Abigail Van Buren

© 1974 by Chicago Tribune-N.Y. News Synd., Inc.

DEAR ABBY: I have a question I think is very important. My sister was married last April and I don't think she was really married. She was standing on the wrong side.

Shouldn't the bride be on the groom's left to make it legal? Well, my sister was standing on the groom's right. I was her matron of honor and I stood on her right instead of her left.

Is this marriage legal? FRANKFORT, IND.

DEAR FRANK: As long as they were both standing up, of legal age, and in their right minds, it doesn't matter who stood where—they are married.

Legality questioned

DEAR ABBY: My husband is friendly with a man who works with him. They play golf together. My husband and I go out with this man and his wife occasionally, but she's really not my type [she talks but I am rather quiet] so I seldom see her unless it's with our husbands.

Yesterday she dropped in on me unexpectedly and invited me over for lunch, and immediately started to regale me with all her intimate marital problems. I was astonished because I didn't know she had that kind of trouble. Wanting to remain completely neutral and uninvolved, I hardly said a word. She did all the talking, but I could see she was irritated with me because I didn't side with her.

All the while she was telling me what a heel her husband was I was getting more and more uncomfortable, but there was no changing the subject.

This has never happened to me before. How does one handle such a situation? STICKY WICKET

DEAR STICKY: As soon as it becomes apparent that you have been selected as a willing wall, say: "I sympathize, but you need an objective, impartial counselor, and because our husbands are such good friends, I'd rather not hear about all this." It's blunt, but it beats listening. After you've listened [interested or not] you'll be considered an ally.

DEAR ABBY: I think it's about time girls got over this ridiculous hangup of refusing to give a guy a goodnight kiss. A goodnight kiss is just an expression of thanks. Why hurt a guy's feelings by turning him down? There are all kinds of kisses. A goodnight kiss is one way of saying, "Thanks for taking me out and spending your hard-earned money on me." A SENSITIVE GUY

DEAR SENSITIVE: Sorry, but I don't believe a girl should kiss a guy for taking her out and spending his hard-earned money on her. She might prefer to give him the cash and call it square. A kiss should say, "I like you," not "Thank you."

Problems? You'll feel better if you get it off your chest. For a personal reply, write to ABBY, Box No. 9709, L.A., Calif., 90099. Enclose stamped, self-addressed envelope, please.

Eating habits

FRANKFORT, Germany (UPI) — Many foreigners believe the Germans live on sauerkraut and wurst (cabbage and sausages) but the 1972 edition of Food and Nutrition tells another story.

According to the booklet, West Germans eat more fruit, eggs, slimming-milk dishes and pork than any of their West European neighbors.

The French eat more meat than any other Europeans, averaging 189 pounds per person in 1972. The Germans average 166 pounds in second place.

The Germans lead the pork-eating field with an annual consumption of 82 pounds per capita, trailed by the Austrians, who average 75 pounds.

Jerome students honored

JEROME — The Jerome Kiwanis Club honored four sixth grade students Monday as part of its "Hope of America" program.

Receiving special recognition were Holly Roholt, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Hugh Roholt; Linda Bell, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Robert J. Bell; Brian Thompson, son of Mr. and Mrs. Bill Thompson, and Kurt Clark, son of Mr. and Mrs. Reynold Clark. Each student received a special award recognizing outstanding scholastic excellence.

The "Hope of America" program is to recognize outstanding sixth grade students for leadership and scholastic effort. Bob Robinson, who is in charge of the program, said:

Robinson said two boys and two girls will be recognized for the first, second and third grading periods. "In April, from the 12 selected during the year, one girl and one boy will be chosen and honored as 'Hope of America.'"

He said the students are chosen on the basis of scholastic ability, personality, and ability to get along with other students and teachers.

Consumption chances wane in US

WASHINGTON (UPI) — The people of the United States will have to change their life drastically in the next few years, according to futurist Victor Perlicks of Georgetown University.

"We simply cannot continue to increase consumption and use of resources at an exponential rate," says the professor of government.

The futurist says Americans are running out of second chances.

FORECAST FOR THURSDAY, FEBRUARY 14, 1974

GENERAL TENDENCIES An outgoing day and p.m. in which you can show your affection with St. Valentine's Day greetings. Communicate also with those at a distance.

ARIES (Mar. 21 to Apr. 19) You are inspired about ways to please those you like and should do so. Don't ignore hunches at all for they are accurate.

TAURUS (Apr. 20 to May 20) Please higher-ups and improve your position in life. Get involved in politics for which you have a natural inclination. Social pleasure in p.m.

GEMINI (May 21 to June 21) Be more affectionate with mate now to avoid some possible misunderstanding. Come to a better rapport with outside associates, also.

MOON CHILDREN (June 22 to July 21) Work happily and gain the cooperation of co-workers. Look for more modern clothing and have that smart look that is flattering.

LEO (July 22 to Aug. 21) Make this a happy day with one you admire. Your creativity makes an excellent impression. Succeed via the social ladder.

VIRGO (Aug. 22 to Sept. 22) Make home life more secure, comfortable and harmonious. Entertain intelligent persons you admire. Avoid one who has gruesome ideas.

LIBRA (Sept. 23 to Oct. 22) Show you appreciate others' support of your interests and insure good relationships. Don't neglect reports that make your interests operate more efficiently.

SCORPIO (Oct. 23 to Nov. 21) Helping another either with money or advice can prove very fine for you now and in the future. Make a good investment.

SAGITTARIUS (Nov. 22 to Dec. 21) Be sure, you know what you really want in a m., then go out it vigorously. Enjoy a group-meeting later. Don't stay out too late.

CAPRICORN (Dec. 22 to Jan. 20) Seek out those who have data you require. Show more devotion to mate and become a happier person your way as well. Be tender.

AQUARIUS (Jan. 21 to Feb. 19) Be your gregarious self now, and enjoy friends and new contacts, exchange ideas. Plan how to achieve what you want in future. Romantic p.m.

PISCES (Feb. 20 to Mar. 20) Show your finest talents and charm and make big headway with business, others now. Give credit to others. Best to postpone a plan to travel.

IF YOUR CHILD IS BORN TODAY he or she will have great humanitarian qualities and should be permitted to have many playmates from earliest days for development and understanding of others. Many friends should be made early who can be helpful throughout life. Give the finest education possible, also advantages of early travel, music, foreign languages, horseback riding, etc.

"The Stars impel, they do not compel." What you make of your life is largely up to YOU!

What's What

L. M. Boyd

Str. do you recall when you first fell in love? Did it tend to make you stammer? Or cause you to perspire? And pick up your heartbeats some? That's what happened to the son of one of Alexander's generals in the Third Century B. C. The renowned doctor of the day Erasistratos, observing the lad over several days, noted the aforementioned symptoms everytime the boy's new stepmother showed up. "Love sickness," diagnosed the doctor, solemnly. What he prescribed for the condition is not a matter of record, unfortunately.

There are said to be 109 slang synonyms for a swirl of easy virtue, but not more than three slang synonyms for a virginal young lady of high moral character. Why is that?

FACE THE MUSIC
 Q. "Where'd we get that phrase to face the music?"
 A. Goes way back. To 1785, in fact. In the theater jargon of the day, it alluded to moments of stage fright when actors walked out in front of the orchestra pit.

Q. "What's the normal body temperature of a turtle?"
 A. Same temperature as whatever surrounds said turtle.

Q. "Louis, who's your favorite actor?"
 A. Alan Alda. This week.

Statistics out of the Soviet Union indicate that there are just about twice as many people over 100 years of age there in this country.

SOLAR ENERGY
 Long ago, somebody roughed out a notion of how steam could power an engine. Took 160 years thereafter for it to materialize in a locomotive. Much later, somebody roughed out a notion of how the chain reaction of nuclear fission might work. Took only six years thereafter to bring out the atomic bomb. The science boys now point out this fancy fact as they tug at the government's sleeve about solar energy.

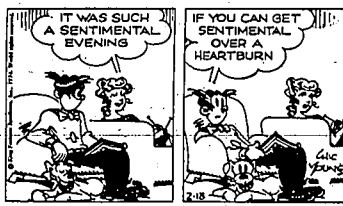

In an Ottawa supermarket, some rascal reportedly stole the "Shoplifters Will Be Prosecuted" sign, but tut.

Census surveys show seven out of every 10 wives aged 18 to 24 expect to have no more than two children.

That disease said to be most feared by women is breast cancer. By men, heart attack.

The French word "lenses" means "ready." Which is where we got the word "lenses." Inasmuch as that's what the French of yesteryear said before the serve of the ball. So reports our Language man.
