Vintage cars in funeral procession

Valentine bash held in prison

DWIGHT, Ill. (UPI) — The warden of the women's prison at Dwight called it "a night that was worth all the bad nights." It was a goody party for the 120 inmates who will be transferred when the facility is converted into a minimum security center for men.

"For one grand old time, we wanted to do everything for them," said Warden Robert Buchanan.

And there was nothing like it before in the prison's 46-year history. There was a catered steak and chicken dinner for 200 persons — inmates plus staff and guests — and afterwards dancing to a 17-piece band called "Hot and Cold" from Chicago.

Buchanan said the St. Valentine's bash was the way prison personnel wanted to say goody and good luck to the women inmates who will be transferred about March 1 to facilities in Chicago or Vienna.

"It was fantastic," he said. "It was a night that was worth all the bad nights."

Antique car buff gets last request

BRANDON, Fla. (UPI) — Clarence Lane, a retired mechanic, was an antique car buff and at one time or another had owned seven vintage Chevrolets.

When he discovered he had a terminal illness, he began planning his funeral, and included a request that he be taken to the cemetery in an antique hearse and that members of two antique auto clubs in which he was active drive their old cars in the funeral procession.

Wednesday the body of the 58-year-old Lane was carried to the cemetery in a gleaming black 1935 Packard funeral coach.

Trailing the hearse were his family and friends in a procession of vintage cars—including a 1930 Ford Town Sedan, a 1929 Model A roadster, a 1936 Chevrolet Master Deluxe, a 1931 Model A roadster, a 1931 Model A sedan, a 1929 Model A Phaeton, a 1930 Model A roadster and a 1955 Thunderbird.

"When he found out that he had a terminal illness, he made up his mind that this was what he wanted and he talked about it all the time," said family friend Mary Bernhardt.

"I asked him once why he was so set on the idea and he told me that since he'd always loved the old cars so much and the clubs and the people in them, he wanted to do something that his friends would be able to remember him by," she said.

TWIN FALLS — City Manager Jean Milar said the city, county and airport commission members are currently interviewing prospective restaurant operators for the city-county airport terminal building.

Bickel to install playground items

By MARYLYN ELLIOTT Times-News Writer

TWIN FALLS — After months of research and fundraising, the Bickel Elementary School PTO is nearly ready to install nine new pieces of playground equipment at the school.

The PTO decided last fall two merry-go-rounds, slide and monkey bar sets were inadequate for over 600 children attending the school, said Marylynn Newbry, chairman of the PTO's playground committee.

The organization set up an auction for the first week in December. "We expected maybe $300 from the auction and ended up with $900," Mrs. Newbry said. "It was really fantastic."

The playground committee then launched a research campaign. Members spoke with Bickel Principal Clarence Parker, physical education director Robert Donnelly, district Supt. George Staudaher, and a Twin Falls architect who had worked with playground equipment, as well as some of the elementary students themselves to determine what type of equipment would be best. Wanting to "keep business here in town," the committee contracted with Kregel's Machine Co. to build the new equipment when the final selection was completed. The contract called for a shorter gym set for younger students, two sets of parallel bars, two balancing beams, concrete pipe for "craw" throughs, two "back-aboos" and a set of gymnastic-type rings.

The playground equipment was designed to be set up in a unique pattern that will allow teams of students to run through an exercise course.

Staudaher, however, offered to construct a fence separating the playground from the street and to match half the funds according to Mrs. Newbry. The PTO committee originally wanted to fill the playground with a sand base for the children's safety, she said, but research proved the idea unfeasible at this point. Sand is easily tracked into the building and also tends to attract cats, she said, which creates a health hazard. The playground currently has a blacktop surface.

The playground project is not considered completed. Committee members are already making plans for further improvements.

raised by the PTO. The superintendent's support for the project was "great," Mrs. Newbry said.

The short gym set has already been installed on the playground and is filled to capacity with youngsters during every recess. The rest of the new equipment will be installed next month, Mrs. Newbry said.

'Y' membership goal set at 1,000

TWIN FALLS — Membership in the Magic Valley YMCA-YWCA is expected to reach 1,000 by the final membership campaign report meeting Wednesday.

Mrs. Marjorie Kramer, general membership chairman for the YWCA and Ron Kienzle, chairman of the YMCA portion of the campaign, have announced plans for a "victory dinner" in connection with the Wednesday meeting.

The event is set for 7 p.m. at the YMCA.

The two say about 160 men and women have volunteered their services to sign up members in the two organizations during the past month.

During the Wednesday meeting, prizes and special recognition will be given the top member producer and the top membership producing team and the individual worker who enrolled the largest number of members.

Through the enrollment of new members, Kienzle said, services and programs of the YMCA and YWCA can be expanded and 25 programs provided by the organizations will be sustained.

Dedication rites set

RUPERT — The Veterans of Foreign Wars will conduct a flag dedication ceremony at 3:30 p.m. Saturday at the Magic Valley Funeral Chapel.

United States and Idaho flags will be dedicated. Roger Lietzke will direct the ceremony.

The public is invited to attend.

Israel speeds move

By United Press International
Israel stepped up its withdrawal from captured Arab lands today in a rush to meet next week's deadline for giving up all Egyptian territory seized during the 1973 Middle East war.

In New York, Syria accused Israel of flagrant cease-fire violations on the northern front and warned full-scale fighting might erupt unless Israeli guns stopped shooting.

In Tel Aviv, Defense Minister Moshe Dayan said Israel must maintain its hold on the occupied Golan Heights, captured from Syria during the 1967 Middle East War, regardless of the price.

The Cairo newspaper Al-Ahram said Egyptian and Saudi Arabian envoys will travel to Washington Saturday to notify President Nixon of a new policy toward the United States following an Arab "Big Four" summit in Algiers.

Al-Ahram, which often reflects official Egyptian policy, did not say whether the stand calls for easing the oil embargo against the United States.

Julie's surgery success

INDIANAPOLIS, Ind. (UPI) — Julie Nixon Eisenhower was experiencing some discomfort and pain today, but was in satisfactory condition following surgery for a bleeding ovarian cyst. Doctors said the cyst was not malignant.

"Julie is fine," said Helen Smith, press secretary to Mrs. Eisenhower's mother, First Lady Pat Nixon.

Mrs. Eisenhower, 25, underwent a 45-minute operation in Indiana University Hospital Thursday and was expected to be hospitalized seven to 10 days.

Mrs. Eisenhower, one of the strongest supporters of her father, President Nixon, was recuperating in a private, sixth-floor suite in the hospital. Her mother and her husband, David Eisenhower, 25, flew to Indianapolis Thursday night, arriving at the hospital about a half hour after the surgery was completed.

Mrs. Nixon flew in from Key Biscayne, Fla., aboard a small Air Force jet, while Eisenhower arrived from Washington. They remained overnight, but it was not known how long they would stay in Indianapolis.

Old-fashioned go-go girls

SAN FRANCISCO (UPI) — Go-go dancers in halters and hot pants are just not luring members of the Chief Petty Officers Club at the treasure Island Navy Base.

The Navy disclosed Thursday that CPD members were going elsewhere and the club was losing money.

A Treasure Island spokesman said the girls were "old-fashioned go-gos. The girls dance. Period."

Miners extend picket lines

LONDON (UPI) — Striking miners today extended their picket lines to railroad crossings and threatened a blockade of the River Thames to halt crucial coal and oil shipments to power stations.

Government officials said Britain faced an indefinite electricity brownout in order to save dwindling fuel stocks. They also warned of power cuts for hours at a time if the five day-old national coal miners strike was not settled soon.

Strike pickets were posted on a grade crossing near a big oil refinery on the Isle of Grain on the Thames estuary east of London. They urged locomotive engineers not to run trains with oil for power stations.

In Yorkshire and Lincolnshire in northern England, pickets dangled posters from railroad bridges appealing to railroad engineers to refuse to move coal and oil.

"We have had one or two rebuffs, but are receiving almost total cooperation from the engine drivers union," said Arthur Soarajill, the Yorkshire miners' chief.

Terry Harrison, a miners' leader in Kent, said pickets had a 22-foot motor launch ready to patrol the Thames to appeal for support from workers at riverside power plants.

He said groups of between four and six miners picketed all power plants in the London area.

Four labor unions have announced they will refuse to move any coal or oil to power stations. They said this included imported coal.

Several ships loaded with imported coal have been blockaded at Inmunningham and other coal ports since the start of the strike at midnight Saturday because longshoremen have refused to unload them.

Author moves to Switzerland

(c) Chicago Daily News
LANGENBROICH — Alexander Solzhenitsyn left Germany today and moved on to neutral Switzerland.

After only two days in the west, the exiled Russian author left the old stone farmhouse of his friend, German novelist Heinrich Boll, and headed by train for Zurich in the company of his Swiss lawyer, Dr. Fritz Heeb.

Neither Solzhenitsyn nor the lawyer, who announced the move to a horde of newsmen camped out in the cobble courtyard of Boll's home, said anything about how long Solzhenitsyn would remain in Switzerland or whether it might become his permanent home-in-exile.

Nor would they say how soon Solzhenitsyn's wife and three children would be joining him in Zurich, or elsewhere.

The move to Zurich was announced from the doorstep of Boll's home last night by Solzhenitsyn's lawyer who refused to answer questions.

Instead he appealed to newsmen to leave the area as both Heeb and Solzhenitsyn wanted "a good night's rest."

Solzhenitsyn himself made three brief appearances outside the home yesterday, including a walk among the sheep and geese in Boll's small farmyard.

But for most of the day he remained indoors, huddling with the lawyer, Boll and other advisers.

N. Korean warships sink fishing boat

SEOUL (UPI) — North Korean warships sank a South Korean fishing boat and crippled another in the Yellow Sea today, breaking a lull in clashes since the two nations agreed to call off hostile actions a year and a half ago.

The South Korean Defense Ministry said an unknown number of Communist gunboats took part in the attack, sinking the Suwon 22 fishing vessel and crippling the Suwon 32.

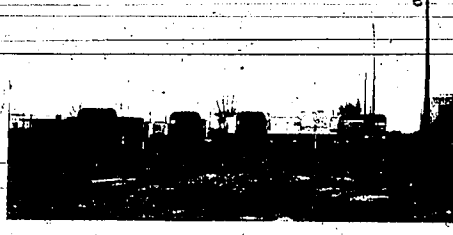

A ministry spokesman said he did not know the fate of the 24 crewmen aboard the fishing boats. He said it was the first attack against southern fishing ships since the two Koreas agreed in the summer of 1972 to stop raiding each other's vessels.

The spokesman said South Korean warships rushed to the scene after the attack, but there were no reports of armed clashes between the two navies.

North Korea laid territorial claim last Dec. 1 to the Yellow Sea area where the attack took place. The Communists said all southern ships sailing in the region had to get advance approval from northern officials.

Black Panther Party offers to deliver food

HILLSBOROUGH, C a 111. (UPI) — The Black Panther Party has offered to take full responsibility for the mass distribution of food demanded by the Symbionese Liberation Army in the Patricia Hearst kidnapping.

The offer was made Thursday by Panther leader Huey P. Newton in a letter to Miss Hearst's parents which noted that the Panthers had given away over $154,000 in free food in party-sponsored programs last year.

Meanwhile, the father of the abducted girl said that the family was not soliciting money to help get her back and added that his wife was mistaken when she said they had received $1 million in mailed donations.

Handolph A. Hearst said that while cash is coming in from wellwishers and such generosity is deeply appreciated, "we are not soliciting money."

The kidnapers of 19-year-old Patricia have demanded that Hearst begin a free food to the needy program that could cost $200,000 to $400 million.

Mrs. Catherine Hearst told newsmen Wednesday that many people, including some on welfare, have been mailing donations. The total, she said, was near $1 million.

BOISE (UPI) — Land-use planning legislation proposed by an interim study committee received strong approval Thursday at a public hearing of the Joint Resources Committee of the legislature.

Voice, said the legislation "further erodes our freedom to own and develop property." He said it "assumes the authority of the cities and counties."

only destroy land and the quality of life." "We have the right to own and use property but not to be destroyed or reduce the value of surrounding land owned by others," Eardley said.

House amends ERA referendum bill

BOISE (UPI) — Despite warnings the Equal Rights Amendment could become a campaign issue the House amended Thursday for later consideration a bill calling for an advisory referendum on the subject.

if the bill were to be enacted. Rep. John Eyre, D-Pocatello, tried to block the move on grounds the House has spoken three times in the last three years on the subject and now should sit back and see what the amendment really does.

Scott McDonald, Pocatello, representing the Southeastern Idaho Council of Governments, said the 21 cities and counties he represents support both pieces of legislation.

State panel asked

BOISE (UPI) — The House State Affairs Committee agreed Thursday to ask Gov. Cecil D. Andrus to establish a state building authority for construction of public buildings.

be an independent agency and not a regular department of state government. Chilberg said the original bill has been revised to provide for legislative review of building projects.

Abolition asked

BOISE (UPI) — A veteran legislative leader said Thursday he will propose the House abolish its printing committee at the next session of the legislature.

Chapman Harold Snow, R-Moscow, of the House State Affairs Committee said he will propose the rule change near the end of this session so that it will not affect present members of that committee.

Biennial session proposal rejected

BOISE (UPI) — A memorial asking the people to return the legislature to biennial sessions received disapproval of the Idaho Senate Thursday.

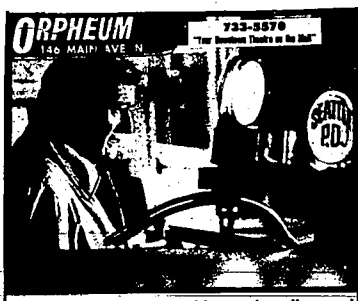

in the long run it was costing state government less. — He said it would be "practically impossible" to budget the state on a two year basis.

House sets fund guess

BOISE (UPI) — Despite contentions it would "lock up" the legislature to a specific appropriation figure the House approved 54-15 Thursday a resolution estimating $180.58 million as next year's general fund revenue.

Minority Leader Melvin Hammond, D-Rexburg, called the bill a "bad precedent." But Rep. James Elgin, R-Idaho Falls, said it is the same thing the House did last year.

the legislature so it would have some idea of what the appropriations and tax relief should be.

Receptor found in human brain

STANFORD, Calif. (UPI) — A team of Stanford University chemists say they have discovered the "opioid receptor" in the brain that acts as the channel through which drugs like heroin make users "high" and cause addiction.

Dr. Avram Goldstein, who headed the group, told newsmen Thursday the discovery "could have enormous importance in dealing with narcotic addiction."

The search for the receptors started three years ago and was carried out on the brain nerves cells of mice.

Very similar molecules are almost certainly involved in human narcotic addiction," Goldstein said.

Many of the effects of heroin and morphine are almost identical in mice, rats and other mammals including man," he said. "Mice and rats can become addicted to narcotics and suffer withdrawal symptoms."

The results of the work were announced at a news conference at Stanford and published in "Science," the journal of the American Association for the Advancement of Science.

Although addiction is generally considered a disease, science has very little knowledge of what kind of disease it is, Goldstein said.

"Better understanding of how the chemistry of the brain changes when a person becomes addicted might make it possible to restore healthy cell function more rapidly," Goldstein said.

"If we could show, for example, any difference between receptors that mediate pain-killing action and those mediating gratifying euphoric effects, we could develop non-addictive opium-like pain-killing drugs. This has been a goal of pharmacologists for the past 100 years."

Each roadway would consist of two lanes, a 10' outside shoulder that can be used for emergency stopping, and a 4' inside shoulder. The roadways would be separated by a 7' median. There would be left-hand turns and a median crossing between the roadways at the Golf Course Road which would provide vehicles using the old highway to Jerome or the County Road for Potlatch. A safe refuge while waiting for an opening in the traffic. The U.S. 93 main roadway construction would be 2.4 miles.

Elks paper drive ends at Burley

BURLEY — The Burley Elks phase of the county wide paper drive will end Saturday morning.

Elky residents are asked to put bundled papers in the curbs in front of their homes before 10 a.m. The Elks will pick up the bundles and then transport the paper to the Cascade insulation plant at the U.S. junction. Corrugated material will be hauled to the Boise Cascade container plant for recycling.

During the past month, the people outside the city have been leaving their paper at the drop box in front of the Elks Lodge in Burley, the Rainbow Hall in Oakley or Leonards Service in Declo.

Gale Keen, paper drive chairman, asked Cassia County residents to continue to save paper. "Several Boy Scout groups and other organizations are collecting paper to finance their programs," Keen said.

Ilaho man sentenced over aliens

TWIN FALLS — A Sunnyslope area man was sentenced to 45 days in the Twin Falls county jail Tuesday after pleading guilty to a charge of transporting illegal alien farmworkers.

Tobias Padilla Reyes, 21, was arrested by US Border Patrol officers Tuesday after he was found transporting five Mexican nationals without visas to enter the United States.

Reyes' arrest followed a routine traffic check near Hollister by Idaho State Police. The ISP held Reyes and his passengers and notified the Border Patrol.

US Magistrate Harry Turner sentenced Reyes to 15 days in the county jail on a conviction for aiding and abetting aliens illegally within the US. Turner then suspended 30 days of the sentence and ordered Reyes to serve the remaining 45 days.

The five Mexicans with Reyes were charged with immigration violations and incarcerated in the county jail for transportation back to Mexico.

be within the existing 400' wide public right of way. The relocation of the County roadway approach to SHOSHONE FALLS would require some new right of way. All disturbed areas caused by construction and the use of borrow sources would be restored and revegetated.

Pope Pius XII under World War II clouds

ROME (UPI) — It is part of the history of World War II. Italian partisans killed 32 German SS troops and in reprisal Rome's Nazi occupiers executed 335 Roman men and boys.

It happened almost 30 years ago but controversy lingers centering on the role of the late Pope Pius XII.

Could the pontiff have averted the slaughter in the Argentine caves? On Tuesday a panel of three magistrates in Rome Criminal Court agreed for the first time in history to judge the actions of a Roman Catholic pontiff in an Italian court of law.

The three magistrates set March 25 for trial of a defamation suit brought by a niece of the late Pope against the film "Masters of Deceit." The film contends that Pius might have been able to prevent the killings, carried out by the Nazi elite guard, but chose not to do so for political reasons.

"In order to resolve the suit the court will have to decide first if the Pope knew in advance of the Nazi plan and secondly if he could have intervened," Public Prosecutor Giorgio Santoro said.

"It is the first time that an Italian court will judge the actions of a Pope," he said. Contessa Elena Rossignani, 56, of Rome asked for seizure of both the movie and the 1970 book on which it was based, "Death in Rome," in her suit which names as defendants producer Carlo Ponti, director George Pan Cosmatos and author Robert Katz.

The 40-year-old Brooklyn-born historian, who now lives in Rome, said in his study of the events of March 23-24, 1944 that "Pope Pius XII chose to do nothing in full awareness that action by him might prevent reprisal."

The Pope, he speculated, might have "learned or speculated in advance of the establishment of a radically left-wing anti-Fascist power in Rome, and with an incredulous explanation only if Pius believed himself already too compromised with fascism — the possible destruction of the Vatican city-state."

DO YOU NEED A FRIEND?

I mean a real friend who will stick with you and not just a friend who will stand a poor chance of finding one of the favors of the nearest loose woman. We have lived here for 17 years and we don't have anyone that we can really call close friends except our own "relatives." So try more average families than you might guess. 24 friends (with all gift times). (Prov. 17:17) There is a friend that sticks closer than a brother. (Prov. 18:24) JESUS CHRIST IS SUCH A FRIEND. Who can you turn to when your world seems almost of its end? The Christian community is 24 hours a day.

Give your heart to Him in willing obedience. He will not call you His servant, He will abuse you, but He will call you His friend and best friend. (John 15:15)

When anyone forsakes you, remember Christ has promised, "I will never leave thee, nor forsake thee." (Heb. 13:5)

We would love to introduce you to this GREAT FRIEND. This is our most purpose of existing as a church.

DEAR ABBY: Three years ago, when my husband was 58, he had an affair with his secretary. It was no secret, and all the tongues in this little town were wagging a mile a minute.

Once I found a motel key in his coat pocket, and he had the gall to tell me that he got tired driving so he checked into this motel to take a nap. (Three miles from home!)

Last year he had an operation which left him practically impotent, and since then I couldn't ask for a more devoted husband. He phones me if he knows he's going to be half an hour late. He buys me presents, sends me flowers, and even takes me on business trips, which he never did before.

Of course I'm enjoying all this, but why in your opinion has my husband suddenly turned over a new leaf?

WONDERING

New-found devotion

DEAR WONDERING: Probably because there's not much left under the old one.

DEAR ABBY: For years I have cherished the friendship of a very fine woman. She's a lady of character, intelligence and charm. She is very devout in her religion, as I am in mine, tho our religions differ vastly.

Lately, whenever we are together she tries to convert me to her religion. I have told her emphatically and repeatedly that her efforts to convert me are futile, but she is persistent.

How can I convince her that she is wasting her time and trying my patience? I don't want to end our otherwise pleasant friendship of many years.

SPIRITUALLY SATISFIED

DEAR SATISFIED: Send her this quote:

"I never told my own religion, nor scrutinized that of another. I never attempted to make a convert, nor wished to change another's creed. I have instead of the religion of others, and by this means, I have, I believe, been able to live a life of such exemplary virtue and correctness. For it is in our lives and not from our words that our religion must be read."

The above is a portion of a letter written by Thomas Jefferson to Mrs. H. Harrison Smith on Aug. 6, 1816.

If your cherished friend is as intelligent and virtuous as I say she is, she will get the message and act accordingly.

DEAR ABBY: My friend's mother died, and all the funeral arrangements were left to my friend, so she asked me to go with her for moral support.

Her mother had requested cremation. We went to the funeral and a man took us to a room where my friend picked out a casket. They were exquisitely finished, and expensive, so I asked the (dumb?) question, "What happens to that beautiful expensive casket after the body is cremated?"

The man gestured as tho he was pulling a loaf of bread in an oven, and said: "The whole thing goes in. It's against the law to reuse the casket."

My husband works for a utility company, and one of his coworkers was called in for a repair job where cremations take place, and he told my husband that the casket was NOT burned. It was returned, and re-used.

What can be done to protect grieving survivors from being swindled out of thousands of dollars? In their sorrow and befuddled state they never ask any questions.

D. E. P. IN MILL VALLEY

DEAR D. E. P.: Your husband's coworker is mistaken. A casket is never "re-used" or rented out. It's against the law.

Problems? You'll feel better if you get it off your chest. A personal reply, write to ABBY: Box No. 69700, L.A. Calif. 90069. Enclose stamped, self-addressed envelope.

Once a Jacoby two-trump sequence has started, the way to sign off is to jump right to game in the second suit.

North has a very sound game forcing hand opposite an opening spade bid and responds two trump.

South's three clubs call shows a singleton club. The first duty of the opening bidder is to show a singleton if he has one.

That three club rebid is just what North doesn't want to hear. It makes his king and queen of clubs rather worthless for slant purposes.

Hence, his sound game force has been weakened materially and he jumps to four spades to warn his partner that he, North, has absolutely no slam interest.

South is rather unhappy. He really liked his hand when North forced to a spade game, but South is a good partner and passes.

It is well that he does. There is no way to avoid the loss of three tricks so even five spades is too high.

We can't claim that use of the Jacoby two trump kept the North and South out of trouble. All we know when the hand was actually played, several pairs playing other conventions got to five or even six spades with the North-South cards.

Record grain flow to Mideast

WASHINGTON (UPI)—American wheat is flowing to the Middle East at a record pace this year despite Arab-Israeli tensions and the Arab oil embargo, an Agriculture Department official said today.

A trade specialist, John Parker, said that sales to the troubled area will more than double in the 1973-74 fiscal year ending June 30, with most of the increases going to Arab countries.

Parker said in an interview that overall sales of U.S. wheat and other grain to the area—including Israel—may reach $800 million in the current year compared with about $415 million in the previous year.

Parker said most of the increase was concentrated in the six months ending in December and many orders apparently were placed before U.S. prices began skyrocketing last summer. But the higher prices posted since then have apparently not deterred buyers in countries enjoying increased oil revenues, he indicated.

Iran, for example, is expected to buy more than $200 million worth of wheat in the current fiscal year compared with $80 million last year. Saudi Arabian purchases are estimated at more than $100 million compared with $35.8 million and Iraq is expected to take over $60 million worth of wheat compared with only $2.6 million in the previous season.

Parker estimated sales to Egypt may top $120 million compared to $23.3 million the previous year. Israel, traditionally a large customer for U.S. farm products, was expected to take about $200 million worth of grain compared with about $145 million in the previous year.

He said demand for American grain in the Middle East is likely to continue.

"If we have a good 1974 crop, they'll be good buyers again," he said.

Prosperity now farm problem

By O.A. (GUS) KELKER
TWIN FALLS — Prosperity for the farmers is causing problems.

Ken Christensen, chairman of the board and chief executive officer of Northrup, King and Co., told 300 seed growers and guests Wednesday night, seed production is "fighting for acreage" because of the current high prices of commodities which farmers produce.

"We thought we had problems with all the government regulations," he said, "but now we have all those problems plus the prosperity problem. But we have a kinship with the source of our wealth and this is where we start, with you growers."

"We do not have the great price fluctuation which is apparent in other fields. Once our prices are established they are not much affected by commodity prices. There is a two or three year period between the contract and the seed sale. Now we are having to compete with $5.50 wheat. The Minneapolis, Minn., official is a Utah native. He joined Northrup, King Co. in Salt Lake City as a salesman and owns a working ranch on the Salmon River in Idaho. He told the growers "we are interested in just what is on the minds of the farmer."

"This high price prosperity is a great thing but it is not only in the farm industry. We are for farm prosperity, just as we are for motherhood, virtue and apple pie. But right now the farmer is able to grow almost any agricultural product for a worthwhile profit. So we are interested in what the farmer has on his mind. Really, of course, we have been trying to figure this out for years," Christensen said.

The speaker asked the growers "who would have thought of the prices today?"

"A year ago wheat was $2.35 a bushel. Today it is $5.50. A year ago corn was $1.64 and now it is $3.09. A year ago cotton was 36 cents and now it is 77 cents. Farm sales abroad turned over an $18 billion trade balance in favor of our country. We would never have believed it," he said.

He discussed the coming contract signing between the company and the growers and said he expected a favorable conclusion "which will benefit both of us."

He showed a series of slides of company operations in the United States and abroad. He said the Twin Falls area was "one of the main research centers" for seeds.

Emery Chaffee, Twin Falls branch manager, was master of ceremonies. He presented production awards of a plaque and a government bond to Clarence Werner for Green Isle beans; Alvin Madsen for the open class; H. H. Bryant in the spritz class and Randy Sellers in the wax bean class.

Among other company officials attending was Pat Kelly, Boise, vice-president in charge of the intermountain region.

Wool pool slated

TWIN FALLS — The 1974 wool pool is being organized by the Twin Falls County Livestock Marketing Association.

Lyn Merrick, extension agricultural agent, said sheep producers wishing to participate should follow this procedure:

— Obtain, fill out and return a wool marketing agreement from the county extension office, 631 Addison Ave. W., or by calling 733-3300, extension 46.

— Attend a membership meeting when the wool is sold. The date and place will be announced.

— Deliver wool for loading at a place and time to be announced.

— Checks will be received about a week or 10 days after the loading.

Wool marketing agreements must be returned to the extension office by March 1, Merrick said. This will allow advertising for bids on the wool pool.

Further information is available from the extension office.

USDA food buying role end proposed

WASHINGTON (UPI)—Sen. George S. McGovern, D-S.D., has made public an internal Agriculture Department memo to Secretary Earl Butz which strongly recommends the department stop procuring food commodities for schools, orphanages and disaster victims.

The memo is from Assistant Secretary Clayton Yuetter and proposes the government get out of the business of buying and distributing food by June 30, 1975, starting with a phasing down of institution programs this year.

McGovern said if the Yuetter proposal is implemented "it would work real hardships on orphan homes, school children and school budgets, disaster victims and relief agencies, older Americans and the institutions serving them, and especially the most undernourished among us."

Yuetter predicted "some difficulty" in ending the help to institutions but said the "much more difficult battle will be with the child nutrition lobby."

He said in the memo that the Agriculture Department's strategy should be to convince the child nutrition lobby "we'd be hurt little, if any, by the changeover from commodities to cash and "to provide an

Beef price levels seen edging down

GREELEY, Colo. (UPI)—The president of the world's largest feedlot said today that consumers will be paying less for beef in supermarkets because of the lifting of a ban on acattle-growth hormone.

"Consumer beef price levels should be reduced by from 5 per cent to 10 per cent normal within six months because of the decision to remove the Food and Drug Administration (FDA) ban against diethylstilbestrol (DES)," said Kenneth Monfort.

Monfort is owner and operator of Monfort of Colorado in Greeley, Colo. The feeding lots owned by Monfort are the world's largest.

He referred to a recent decision by a federal appeals court upping the FDA ban on DES. The appeals court Jan. 24 in Washington removed the ban, saying the FDA first should have heard cattlemen's arguments.

The FDA ban was put into effect because traces of the chemical were suspected of promoting cancer in beef.

Cattlemen argued after the ban that DES was dangerous only if consumed in extremely high quantities.

Monfort said he expected the FDA now would conduct hearings on the safety of DES, and he predicted the outcome would be a reversal by the FDA on its ban.

"DES usage in cattle feeding should change the current feed-to-beef conversion ratios to such an extent that it would be the same as adding 3 million to 5 million acres to the production of the 1974 corn crop," Monfort said.

Slaughter stock down

WASHINGTON (UPI)—Following up warnings that consumers face several months of lower beef supplies and higher prices, the Agriculture Department says the number of cattle being fed for slaughter was down 4 per cent this month, in these seven producing states from a year ago.

Government economists have predicted that beef slaughter will move ahead of 1973 levels by summer and that supplies will be more plentiful in the last half of the year.

The seven states included in the report are Arizona, California, Colorado, Iowa, Kansas, Nebraska and Texas.

A department survey showed 9.6 million head of beef cattle on feed Feb. 1 compared to almost 10 million a year earlier.

Errant peacock evades capture

By GEORGE WILEY
Times-News Writer

TWIN FALLS — The liberated peacock seemed to be enjoying himself as he flew from tree to tree along Jackson Street.

"I don't know what we're going to do with the old boy; I don't know how we're going to get him out of there," said city hunter officer Keith Saville as he gazed at the bird perched about 100 feet off the ground in the bare branches of a poplar tree. "I could pluck him with a dart gun, but it would probably kill him. He doesn't weigh much under those feathers."

Saville said he wanted to check with the Fish and Game Department before taking a chance on killing the bird as it might have protected status.

Two or three years ago a few peacocks escaped and were shot with a shotgun by a resident on Maurice Street for making too much noise in the morning, Saville recalled. He said he did not want this bird to be killed.

"We might call the fire department," he said. He recalled an incident in which the fire department had squirted a mottled out of a tree with a fire hose.

Saville said he did not know where the bird came from or who owned it. He said he had received a report from a resident on Jackson Street that the bird was in a tree.

As Saville was considering alternative methods of capture, the bird left the tree and flew to a nearby rooftop. Moments later, it disappeared from view.

Saville said today the Fish and Game Department had advised him not to shoot the bird with a tranquilizer gun. However, the point was moot as the bird had not been seen again.

"It may have flown out in the country someplace or gone back to where it belongs," Saville said.

Liberated peacock

IT'S NOT a pear tree. It's a poplar. And it's not a partridge. It's a peacock. This bird roosted about 100 feet off the ground in a tree on Jackson Street Thursday morning, while the city humane officer wondered what to do about it.

$7.3 million budget adopted for TF County

By BONNIE BAIRD JONES
Times-News Writer

TWIN FALLS — County commissioners adopted a $7.3 million 1974 county budget Thursday afternoon.

The budget had been scheduled for adoption today following a full week of public hearings, but Commission Chairman William Chancy said there have been no protests and no taxpayers in to discuss the budget since Tuesday.

He said the commissioners felt it would be useless to hold the adoption off another day in view of the apparent satisfaction of taxpayers in general.

No protests have been registered during the hearings, Chancy said, but a few residents have asked questions about various department budgets.

This year's budget is $712,750.77 higher than the $6.59 million budget of last year. It represents a 10.8 per cent increase.

County commissioners said the only change in the final budget as approved Thursday from the tentative budget proposed prior to the public hearings was a correction in the revenue sharing figure.

He said the tentative budget showed $69,700.57 in revenue sharing, which commissioners said was an error in addition.

The figure is actually $589,655.57. Factors in the budget increase this year include a blanket raise of $40 per month per employee in the county with an additional amount budgeted for men in the sheriff's office to bring base salaries in line with other law enforcement officers of the area.

The sheriff's budget increased from $192,956 to $249,076. There were no protests during the hearing. Prior to setting the figure, cattlemen and other taxpayers met with the commissioners to request a better salary schedule for county officers.

The hospital budget, which is a required part of the county budget accounts for $4.49 million, up from $4.21 million last year. Commissioners said many of the questions asked by those attending public hearing sessions were directed at the large hospital budget.

Chancy said nearly all of the amount comes from fees charged at the hospital, but to be spent for hospital operation, the amount must appear in the county budget. Of the more than $4 million dollars budgeted, only two million about $100,000 comes from tax levies.

Chancy said this makes the hospital levy about the same as the levy for the county general fund, a little more than for the janitorial budget and less than for the sheriff's office budget.

Info snags Bax

"Dr. Bax is doing an excellent job of getting the system organized," he said, and also told the committee DECS was performing "100 per cent better in the field" than the old health department that was merged with two other agencies to form the department.

High twice told the committee he didn't oppose the confirmation of Bax to his position. But, he said, "my concern is that if we're going to have a supersagency it should be super responsive, not only to the people but also to the legislature, or else it will be out of control."

Earlier in the day, High said in an interview there still may be a need for a second DECS hearing before the Joint Finance Appropriations Committee.

He said requests for further, more detailed information on the proposed DECS budget had been made available to the committee, which could now write a "program budget." But High also said he was requesting a further breakdown of the mental health and mental retardation programs on a region by region basis.

He also said the legislature might want a look at the proposed intermediate care facility plans the department is working on. In a related development, the chairman of the Senate Health Education and Welfare Committee said the panel would probably spend one or two meetings going over the DECS budget. Sen. John Barker told the committee he also wanted to spend time on the public schools budget.

In previous years, it has been the job of the Joint Finance Appropriations Committee to oversee budgets, while the other committees, like Burken's, dwell on programs.

High said he would welcome the scrutiny of the HEW Committee on the DECS and other budgets.

Jerome workshop slated Saturday

JEROME — The Jerome County Planning Council will have a workshop from 10 a.m. until 4 p.m. Saturday at the Junior High auditorium.

The workshop is the first step in a council program to give residents an opportunity to help create a citizen's comprehensive plan for Jerome County, according to Art Rathburn, University of Idaho community development specialist, who will be the main workshop speaker.

Rathburn said he will outline a plan to enable all county residents to plan an active role in deciding the county's future. He will also help to set up subcommittees and explain the best manner for the various committees to perform their work.

Rathburn said he believes Jerome County is ahead of other counties in Idaho in planning for orderly growth for the county. "So-called experts say a project like this can't work," but the Canyon North committee has already shown it can," Rathburn said.

He said the plan, when completed, will be presented to elected officials for approval.

J. Wixom, community resource development specialist, Pocatello, and Blaine Linford, district extension supervisor, will also be speakers at the workshop. "This is the first of two parts of preparing for actual planning. The first one, which is Saturday will deal with what a comprehensive plan is," Rathburn said.

Ray Mikelson will speak on existing planning structures and the laws covering planning and planning organizations, Rathburn said.

Also to be discussed are what are the original relationships of a planning body with the existing structure; what types of planning bodies are there; and how do committees interact and make decisions so that they are truly reflective of the citizens' desires.

Rathburn said the second section will deal with the planning process from beginning to end. He urged all Jerome County residents to participate in the workshop.

"The final comprehensive plan will be only as good as the amount of effort that is put in by local citizens," Rathburn said.

Chess tourney set Saturday

TWIN FALLS — A state chess tournament will be held in Twin Falls this weekend at the YMCA-YWCA.

The tournament, open to all interested persons, will consist of five games. Registration will open at 8:30 a.m. Saturday and the first of that day's three games will begin at 9:30 a.m. Sunday, play will begin at 9 a.m.

An entry fee of $5 for juniors (anyone 21 years of age or younger) and $10 for adults will be charged.

Participants must be a member of the US Chess Federation to play, but may join the organization when they register.

Trophies will be awarded for the top three finishers in each age group. They will be given to the first three places in each class.

The tournament is sponsored by the YMCA-Chess Club.

No legal action planned

The attorney general's office, Meuleman said, has undertaken an official investigation attempting to find out which organizations were responsible for the sponsoring of Fleetwood Mac, and if the band was actually Fleetwood Mac.

"It appears that the suit will be brought against three organizations, according to Sims: American Talent International, New York and Los Angeles, which purchased some dates on the group from Mac manager Clive Davis of Great Britain; Activities, Inc., of Seattle, which in turn purchased dates from American Talent; and Factory Productions, Boise, which booked the Boise and Twin Falls concerts.

"Our major interest," Meuleman said, "is to prevent this from ever happening again and to recover from the parties responsible any money they may have taken in as a result of any misrepresentation."

"The nature of the suit," Meuleman said, is "to seek injunction from the continued promotion of this concert and others that may be misrepresented, and also to seek recovery for the ticket price for everyone who went to both concerts in the state," Feb. 6 at Twin Falls and Feb. 7 in Boise.

The final award in a successful suit would be up to the judge.

Each individual who went to the concert has the right to file suit under the consumer protection act, Meuleman said. A minimum of $500 in damages and attorney's fees can be recovered if the suit is judged in the individual's favor.

If an award is granted by the court, CSI students on the program board say they are discussing the possibility of offering a concert in lieu of attempting to refund the ticket price to all concertgoers.

Valley solon asks vote

An earlier reapportionment bill that passed the House inserted Bell Rapids into District 22.

Rep. E. V. McEhan, R-Ketchum, also spoke against the reapportionment plan. He criticized "a lot of do-gooders" who split Lincoln and Minidoka counties between districts in "reapportionments, but are now unwilling to divide other counties in the western or eastern parts of the state."

"The shoe, maybe fits your feet," he said, "maybe it fits as well as it did on ours last time," McEhan said.

Rep. Mel Hammond, R-Rexburg, attacked the bill for inserting elements that were unacceptable in the House the last time reapportionment was debated this session.

His remark was a reference to the proposed changes in the eastern part of the state, which were omitted in the House-passed bill. In their place was an amendment which explained the reason no changes were being made was because of non-residents attending Hicks College.

Remap impossible

Times-News Capitol Bureau

BOISE — A veteran legislator predicted Thursday passage of reapportionment legislation through the current legislature would be virtually impossible.

Rep. Harold Snow, R-Moscow, chairman of the State Affairs Committee, said "I don't think you can pass anything" that makes changes in eastern Idaho because of opposition in the House. In addition, he said, plans met with opposition in the Senate for opposite reasons — they don't make changes in the eastern districts.

"The result, Snow said, is "you're never going to get anything through."

Snow made his remarks after he carried a Senate-passed reapportionment plan in the House. The measure was defeated soundly, 20-49.

Nearly 100 persons attend the annual event in the Holiday Inn. Bob Smith, Nampa, Republican candidate for the U. S. Senate nomination, was guest speaker, discussing the topic, "Giving the Government Back to the People."

Guests included Sgt. Quate, Boise, on the staff of the Idaho Farm Bureau Federation; Tom Geary, Rupert, vice president of the state group; Bill Chace and Merle Leonard, Twin Falls county commissioners; Clinton Doucety, Pilo, representing the Pomona Grange, board members and insurance agents.

Richard Parrott, president of the county Farm Bureau, was master of ceremonies. Edda Lancaster, Hansen, gave a dramatic reading and the Salmon Tract Farm Bureau women made the centerpieces.

Nicklaus' '66 leads first day of L.A. tournament

LOS ANGELES (UPI) — Magnificent Jack Nicklaus, playing in only his third PGA tournament of the year, mastered the demanding Riviera Country Club course with a five-under-par 66 Thursday to take the first round lead in the $150,000 Glen Campbell Los Angeles Open.

Two weeks ago, and then skipped the Bob Hope Desert Classic last week, shot nines of 63 over the 7,023-yard, par-35-36-71 course.

Defending champion Rod Funseth, a 40-year-old San Jose, Calif., veteran, withdrew after shooting an opening round 75. He complained of a bad back.

A year ago, Funseth shot an eight-under 276 for 72 holes, only one shot off Ben Hogan's record at Riviera, made in the 1948 U.S. Open.

NFL-AFL veteran Ewbank sees WFL only as minor skirmish

NEW YORK (UPI) — A man who fought on both sides and still survived the NFL-AFL war of the 1960s says he doesn't expect the new World Football League to cause the NFL any serious trouble.

In fact, Webb Ewbank, who recently retired as coach but remains as general manager of the New York Jets, likens the establishment of the 12-team WFL to the Canadian Football League — which never has been more than a gadfly to the rich, established NFL.

Ewbank says he already has signed two of the Jets' 1974 draft choices, although he's not saying which two, and is "close to six or eight" others. He said NFL any serious trouble.

Nobles sees Canada as best pass chance

HOUSTON (UPI) — The National Football League has a racial hangup about playing the "quarterbacks" which hurts many qualified athletes, former University of Houston star D. C. Nobles said Thursday.

all question marks apparently hindering Nobles' pro chances. But the 62, 180-pounder said he was given him why he was not drafted by the NFL.

There is a difference now, however. "We're already warmed down," Ewbank said. "So is baseball." There are now nearly 1,300 players on NFL rosters, compared with about 400 when the AFL was founded in 1960.

Finley sells team to hockey league

SAN FRANCISCO (UPI) — Charles O. Finley, admitting failure for one of the few times as owner of a sports franchise, Thursday reluctantly sold the cellar-dwelling California N.M. drops WAC leaders.

Golden Seals to the National Hockey League for an estimated $6 million. During a break in baseball salary arbitration meetings with several of his Oakland A's players, Finley also turned his players as a reason for selling the Seals over to the league which will run the franchise until a new owner is found.

Known for being a little lighted on the matter of player salaries, Ewbank stepped down at the end of the 1973 season and turned the coaching reins over to his son-in-law, Charlie Winner.

What's What

L. M. Boyd

The notion that a newspaper's classified ads must not be categorized under "male" and "female" is embarrassingly idiotic. At least, a Salt Lake City advertiser must think so. In the Desert News classified, he inserted: "Man or woman to work in advertising agency, making razor blade commercials. Must have heavy beard." And "Pregnant man or woman to model maternity clothes."

A lot more people lately are getting a lot more lice. The U.S. Public Health Service says that. Specifically, lice infestations have increased 800 per cent during the last 10 years. That's a terrible, isn't it? Medicines blame changes in attitudes about baths, hair and so.

BEDS
Q "What's the most popular size of bed in this country?"
A. The queen is No. 1. Double is No. 2. King is No. 3. As for twin beds, our Love and War man is pleased to report that children use them mostly. And sometimes twins.

Here's a job offer for you—it's last only 30 days. Starting pay is one cent per day. But the pay will double with each succeeding day. What you won't take it? Tut! Tut! That 30 days work would get you $10,738,618.23.

Burt Reynolds reports his preferred lunch is raw ground round, raw egg and chopped raw onion on rye. A cannibal sandwich, no? It was believed for many years to be a sex stimulant. Suppose there's something to that?

DOCTORS
In examining their patients to diagnose, most doctors in this country order extra tests. Gets expensive. But they do it to guard themselves against malpractice suits. Or so a recent American Medical Association study indicates. It has been reported that one out of every three x-rays is unnecessary.

Young lady, when a diamond expert tells you your stone contains 40 points, here's what he means: Each carat is divided into 100 points. So a diamond weighing half a carat has 50 points. Average diamond contains 40 points.

Sweden has more college students per capita than France, France more than Italy, Italy more than the Netherlands, and the Netherlands more than England, England more than Switzerland, and Switzerland more than Belgium, Austria and West Germany. But the United States has three times as many college students as all of these countries put together. File this under Patriotic Notes, please.
