Remap hearing set

—(N) Philip Bureau
BOISE — A federal court Friday set a hearing that might require the legislature to redraw county boundaries.

Attorney for Sen. H. Brian Sumner, Idaho's chief justice, said that the court's ruling, which was approved by the legislature last week, does not constitute a referendum on the constitutionality of the present boundaries.

For Gov. Robert Smylie, supporting legislative leadership, and chief justice Sumner, representing the state, submitted the legislation to the legislature is assumed constitutional unless proven otherwise.

One position is that House Bill 538, the number of the law approved by the legislature, is unconstitutional because it is a referendum on the constitutionality of the present boundaries.

He maintained the legislature had an obligation to require that the state along an urban vote lines with a referendum on the state constitution, unless there was a "valid state purpose" served by failing to meet that goal.

Veterinarian proposes better animal control

By Spencer Kimball
Times News Writer

TWIN FALLS — Dr. C. I. Manners, who operates the Blue Lakes Veterinary Clinic and currently practices in Twin Falls, has long pondered the problem of animal control in this area.

"Instead," he said, "he submitted a list of recommendations and proposals for better animal control in the city."

"It is not unusual for a veterinarian to submit bills and I did not. In fact, payment of the service was not mentioned," Dr. Manners said. He said if the city would adopt his proposals, based on the action taken during the American Veterinary Medical Association meeting in Philadelphia last year, he would be glad to continue operation at the point another year.

City Council members Monday night asked the city attorney to draw up a proposed agreement with the Twin Falls Humane Society along the lines of proposals listed in a bid for pound services from the society and submit it for further consideration and possible adoption by the city.

"It is a story on the city action, the Times News," Dr. Manners had also submitted a bid.

Recommendations from Dr. Manners include mandatory surgical neutering of all domestic animals adopted from pounds or shelters, strict enforcement of existing animal control laws and development of a more comprehensive and increased licensing program, substantial differential in license fees for unspayed and unneutered animals, control measures for cats comparable to those for dogs, intensive public education designed to help pet owners become more responsible and concerned, support of research for safe, inexpensive and effective non-surgical methods of birth control for dogs and cats.

Dr. Manners also recommended rabies clinics this spring, sponsored by the Magic Valley Veterinary Medical Association, reduced fees for non-immunized cats, and reduced rates for spay and neuter procedures. He also recommended that the city support the Humane Society's educational program of the "Right Veterinary Medical Association, and brochures given to each person attending the clinic.

Dr. Manners said about 10 percent of the dogs in Twin Falls are presently licensed and many programs, such as he proposed would increase this percentage and bring in enough revenue to finance a greater part of the animal control program.

Getting oil from Siberia extensive, costly job

By NEA-LONDON Economist News Service
LONDON (LENS)—The Arab oil producers still decline to lift their embargo on oil supplies to the United States and may have hinted at a new condition as well as a Syrian-Israeli disengagement.

The break between France and the rest of the western world still reverberates.
Could the solution to the west's problem lie in Siberia—the Soviet Union's vast and still largely undeveloped province that stretches from the Urals to the Pacific?

The answer is yes, in principle. Siberia is enormously rich not only in energy but in every kind of natural resource, from lumber to diamonds.

That, however, is a far cry from the reality. Back in 1700, by reason of the extreme cold, there was absolutely nothing in Siberia except a few nuts which grow on the cedar trees—had no idea of the treasures that lay under the earth's surface. In 1900, when he was writing about it, the Soviet Union's biggest new oilfield, in the Tyumen area.

Western experts estimate it is only a fraction of the amount because the Russians are extremely cagey about publishing any figures themselves. Two-twentieths of the world's potential oil-bearing strata are to be found in Siberia.

It has coal in abundance: about 4.5 billion tons of Russia's total reserves of some 7.7 billion are within the almost five eighths the size of America's.

It has four-fifths of Russia's natural gas reserves (35 trillion cubic meters, according to a 1972 estimate).

It has abundant, and still largely untapped supplies of hydroelectric power, timber, iron ferrous metals, diamonds and much else besides. The stuff is there, all right—and it has been there since the ground or under the seabed is one thing or another.

LENS

Being able to get it then, produce it, transport them and eventually either use or sell them is quite another. And here Siberia is severely handicapped by its remoteness from the main industrial centres in European Russia as well as from foreign markets in the non-communist world—by its savage climate; and by the fact that the Soviet Union has yet to open up its railways and good transport routes—what is called infrastructure.

On the credit side, the Russians themselves frequently point out, the new mineral resources in Siberia are in theory relatively cheap to get out of the ground, say for three or four times cheaper than the old mines in European Russia, for example. The discoveries in Siberia are so large that the unit cost of production can be dramatically lower. The Siberian oil wells are estimated to produce oil at a cost of about 10 cents per barrel, compared with 15 cents for the Texas wells.

Russia: Much of the coal mining is open-cast. But from here the problems begin. Transport, for a start. Professor Robert Campbell, of Indiana University, who is one of the world's leading experts on Soviet gas and oil, has estimated that the cost of transporting oil, even by the fastest pipeline, and with no special allowance for the extra expense of laying pipelines in the frozen tundra of the extreme north, comes to about half a ruble per cubic kilometer; and it is about 3,000 kilometers from the Tyumen fields to Muzhansk, and 7,000 kilometers to Nakhodka on the Pacific.

To transport gas over a distance of 3,000 kilometers through a pipe costs about six rubles per 1,000 cubic meters.

Unless new technology can cut those costs a lot, they will wipe out the basic cheapness of getting the stuff out of the ground.

The alternative solution is to burn the fuel in the spot and send the electricity thus produced via a series of high-voltage power lines to the rest of the country. And this, too, is an expensive business.

And the alternative solution—building pipelines around the Siberian gas and oil runs smack into the problems of the region's harsh climate.

It is proving harder for the Soviet authorities to get people to come and work in Siberia than it was for the Americans to get them to go to Alaska in 1969, according to Soviet sources, nearly a million more people left Siberia than went to live there. Potential immigrants are put off by the mosquitoes, the floods and the swamps in summer and the grinding cold and isolation of the dark and frozen winter.

Siberia is only partly the smaller part of the problem. In Siberia, machinery has got to do most of the work, and to get the machinery in, the pipeline, the road, the network of roads and railroads and air routes, and the systems for the townships and all the rest of the infrastructure. The investment this calls for is enormous.

The question is whether the West should put the necessary extra investment money into Siberia. The answer, even assuming Western countries have lots of money to spare after paying out the $50 billion or so for oil in Africa, depends on how soon they can get their hands on the new supplies of energy and minerals they want out of Siberia.

Some western specialists fear that, despite the advantages to developing Siberia as a major source of energy, exportable surpluses may not materialize for many years to come, perhaps not before the end of the century at the earliest.

The Soviet Union's population is still relatively low—less than that of Britain or East Germany, and only about 10 per cent of the American consumption. But demand is likely to accelerate rapidly as living standards, including such necessities as new clothes, new refrigerators, televisions, appliances in the home, and as the number of cars and trucks on the roads increases. It is estimated that from 1972 to 1980 Russia's demand for oil will increase by 73 per cent a year, and that by 2000 it will be 170 per cent higher.

At the same time, industrial expansion in eastern Europe, and the east Europeans' own shift to car ownership, mean that the demand for Soviet oil from its small neighbors will probably be growing rapidly.

No doubt production can be expanded if the necessary capital came in from the capitalist world. But this is where the potential western investors have to start weighing their yearning for oil against all these other factors, against the labor shortage, against the amount of money it costs to put new labor to work in the peculiarly unfavorable conditions of Siberia.

Against the high cost of getting the oil out and all the other problems listed above, the Siberian even when it has been pumped up—and there are two other semi-political problems as well, one is the question of Soviet management systems, which makes it difficult to get the best out of the investment will produce a smaller result in terms of actual output than it would be calculated to do in the west. The other is the fact that the West can help itself to get large amounts of Siberia's raw materials within the fairly near future seem much less glittering than they used to be.

The Russians show that they can open up Siberia, and do it in a remarkably cost-effective way. But the West can help itself to get large amounts of Siberia's raw materials within the fairly near future seem much less glittering than they used to be.

Land use plan bill ambushed

WASHINGTON—The most sweeping environmental legislation since the 1960s has been ambushed in the House of Representatives.

The bill, which would require the federal government to develop a comprehensive land use plan for the entire country, was introduced in the House by Rep. John D. Dingell (D-Mich.) on Tuesday.

The bill would require the federal government to develop a comprehensive land use plan for the entire country, including the protection of natural resources, the preservation of historic landmarks, and the control of urban sprawl. The bill also would require the federal government to establish a national system of land use planning, and to provide technical assistance to state and local governments in developing their own land use plans.

Story on drugs criticized

Editor, Times News Service: I am writing to you regarding the article in the March 3 edition of the Times News Service regarding the facts of the case of the region's drug abuse plan. First of all, the survey data gathered are not sufficient evidence to warrant the publication of one-third of one-half of the article. The article is sensationalistic, since the survey was too small and the method of selection was biased.

The article, which was intended to attract attention to the problem of drug abuse, is a sensationalistic piece of journalism. It is based on a survey of only 100 people, which is not representative of the population as a whole. The article also fails to mention the fact that the survey was conducted in a biased manner, and that the results are therefore unreliable.

British work stall dropped

LONDON (UPI) — Britain returned to a full-work week Saturday, ending 10 weeks of an economically crippling "three-day week" which Prime Minister Harold Wilson warned these were still serious economic problems ahead.

Wilson's minority Labor government, which took office only five days ago, formally ended the "three-day week" by the vote of the former Conservative party government to save fuel during the coal strike and to avert the strike and the return to a five-day week did not mean

Britain's economic crisis was over.

"We now have to face twin problems of our trade abroad and inflation at home," Wilson said in a speech Friday night. "This is going to mean an all-out effort by our people, the watchword is costs off for Britain."

The government estimated the three-day week cost Britain $1.5 billion in lost production alone.

British automotive firms said they were beginning to look for shortages of components from suppliers. Dr. Victor Pittman, head of the state-run British Steel Corporation, said the three-day week slashed steel output 50 per cent and it will take six to eight weeks to restore full production.

The government—officials—and members of the House of Commons are preparing a tough, but rich budget bill, which will be presented to Parliament March 20.

Tougher libel law considered

NEW HAVEN, Conn. (UPI) — The Connecticut legislature is expected to ask Congress later this year to pass a tougher libel law making it easier for public figures to sue.

The 200-page bill, which would make it easier for public figures to sue, was introduced by Sen. J. Bennett Johnston. It would require a plaintiff to prove that a statement was made with actual malice.

The bill also would allow a jury to award punitive damages if it finds that a defendant acted with actual malice.

McCord charges 'infection'

TWIN FALLS, Idaho (UPI) — A federal grand jury has indicted James Earl Ray, charged with conspiring to assassinate President Richard Nixon.

The indictment, returned last week, charges Ray with conspiring with others to kill the president.

McCord, who is accused of conspiring with Ray, is charged with providing information and resources for the assassination plot.

Stricken Streaker

WASHINGTON (UPI) — A federal grand jury has indicted a man, identified only as "Stricken Streaker," for conspiring to assassinate President Richard Nixon.

The indictment, returned last week, charges the man with conspiring with others to kill the president.

The man's name was not disclosed in the indictment.

Nixon proposes clean up of political campaigning

WASHINGTON (UPI) — President Richard Nixon proposed Friday to clean up political campaigning.

Israel mobilizes

By United Press International

With Israeli forces mobilized to a "maximum" level, Syrian hostilities against Israel resumed on the rocky Golan Heights Saturday. The Syrians said they destroyed a bulldozer and another vehicle in a 12-minute battle.

The Syrian military command said the latest in a series of clashes began at 12:45 p.m. when an Israeli engineering unit tried to start work on a road in the Golan Heights. The fighting ended at 12:30 p.m. and the Syrians reported no other casualties except the two vehicles.

The 7th Army, the Israeli command said, Syrian artillery opened up Israeli positions near Jaba in the southern sector of the heights, east of Kuneitra. In the early afternoon, Israeli troops returned and no casualties were reported.

Saturday's clash between Syrian and Israeli troops was the third reported this week on the heights, the scene of the bitterest fighting since the U.S. authorized Middle East peace talks.

Syrian and Israeli troops Friday exchanged artillery and tank fire in two separate clashes. Syria also reported that it captured a commander on the Syrian front, said Israeli forces on the heights were on a "pre-war alert" because of a possible attempt by Damascus to recapture the territory it lost in the 1973 Middle East war.

The unidentified commander said an Israeli officer was on the Syrian front, said the Israeli army radio. The traffic on their roads has been accelerated.

In recent days in view of the Syrian offensive, the Israeli army has been on a high special alert, which will be lowered when the situation calms down, it was reported.

TWIN FALLS, Idaho (UPI) — Judge Edward J. Lodge Thursday refused motions by the defense to suppress evidence in the murder trial of a woman charged with slaying her husband.

The defense requested its case on behalf of McMurtry, 28, Boise, who is charged with the slaying and dismemberment of her husband, Donald McMurtry, 46, on July 26, 1972.

The motion to suppress evidence was refused by the judge, who said the evidence was obtained lawfully and is admissible.

High milk prices cut Idaho sales

The rapid increase in milk prices forced by a drought in Idaho, said the price of milk went up too fast and the public slipped back in buying milk by about 5 per cent.

Oscar Sawyer, Stampa, who is the Idaho milk order administrator, said the order receives less than half the price of milk sold in retail markets.

"What's really hurting the dairy and beef people is the price for feed — which I blame on the drought," Sawyer said.

DeWard told the Idaho Statesman he feels feed grain exports are to blame for the cost of the grain.

"The price differential between producer and milk retailers and fell milk may be carrying more than its share of the load in some stores to make up for bargains in other departments."

Students to sell shamrocks

TWIN FALLS — The 50 members of the O'Leary Junior High School student council will be selling green shamrocks this week to aid the M.S.D.A. (Muscular Dystrophy Association) fund-raising drive.

Student council members will be collecting pennies in the grade schools Monday and Tuesday. On Wednesday, the students will sell shamrocks in the Twin Falls area.

Stuart James High is the target school for Thursday and on Friday the student council will be getting donations from the area's veterinarians.

Funds collected by the students will be given to the M.S.D.A. fund.

Kokanee killed near dam

ATLANTA (UPI) — A state fish and game official said today several thousand young Kokanee salmon are being killed in the deepwater pool behind the Bunchuck Dam.

Water Browning, Northern Idaho fish and game director, said about 10,000 fingerlings were killed earlier this year, and now dead or injured 10 to 15 inch Kokanee are being found in the lake.

"They're being killed by the dam's turbines," Browning said.

Buyers by mail guarded

WASHINGTON (UPI) — The Federal Trade Commission (FTC) proposed new rules Friday to protect customers of mail-order houses. The buyer would be entitled to a full refund if an item he ordered was not sent out within 30 days.

The proposal is revised in several ways from an earlier version. The most prominent change is that the time period was extended to 30 days from three weeks in the original rule.

The original proposal would have required that for all advertising material for mail-order firms carry a statement advising a customer of his right to a refund. The agency said it dropped this because it is impractical for small, classified ads.

The mail order seller would have one possible out from the refund rules if he notified the customer that shipment would be delayed due to circumstances beyond his control, and the buyer consented to the delay.

If a customer simply failed to respond to the seller's notice, the mail order house would be obligated to make the refund within 30 days after the payment was received.

The proposed rule, which will not become final pending a period for public comment and additional review, was first put forth in 1968.

Twin Falls High School Madrigals

Madrigals perform Monday

TWIN FALLS — The Twin Falls High School Madrigals will perform at a luncheon meeting of the Twin Falls Music Club at 10 a.m. Monday at the Holiday Inn.

Father strangles children, kills self

ST. JOHNSVILLE, N.Y. (UPI) — Roger Bernhardt, 49, apparently distraught over the breakup of his marriage, strangled three of his four children and then committed suicide.

The bodies of Bernhardt and his children, Donald, 11, and Denise, 13, were found in an upstairs bedroom in Bernhardt's two-story home in upstate New York.

State police were summoned to the house by Bernhardt's estranged wife, Joyce Bernhardt. She told them her husband had called her and said he had already killed three of their children and was about to take his own life.

Wilbur Mills, 64, to seek 19th term

ELITE ROCK, Ariz. (UPI) — Rep. Wilbur D. Mills, D-Ark., chairman of the House Ways and Means Committee Friday said he would seek a 19th term in Congress.

Mills, 64, told a news conference at the Arkansas Baptist Medical Center that he believes his health is up to another term. He has been hospitalized for two and a half months following surgery last August for a ruptured spleen.

Mills threatened to end his congressional career. Mills was to be released from the hospital later today. He has been hospitalized since Feb. 19.

Mills hinted strongly last week that he might retire if corrective surgery on his back was not successful. But he said he would not retire until he had served the 19th term.

Tax hole closure sought

WASHINGTON (UPI) — Sen. John Stennis, D-Miss., introduced legislation today that he calls a "loophole" in the District of Columbia's income tax law, which permitted President Nixon to pay no income tax in the district.

Quoting from a Nixon tax message of 1969, Stennis said "special preferences in the law permit far too many Americans to pay less than their fair share of taxes. Too many others bear too much of the burden."

Stennis said Stennis said Nixon paid no California tax because that state's rates that he was not a resident for tax purposes. And, Stennis noted, the President, high administration officials, members of Congress and their employees "are specifically exempt from the District of Columbia income tax."

The intent of Congress "was clear" when enacting the exception, Stennis said. "It recognized there were people who came to the district to represent a constituency and that they should be allowed to keep their identification with that constituency unless they chose otherwise."

Toronto fire kills 5 persons

TORONTO (UPI) — Five persons died today when a fire flashed through a downtown rooming house.

Police and fire officials said eight other persons, including two firemen, required hospital treatment for smoke inhalation. Six of the inhalation victims were residents of the rooming house and an adjacent home also damaged by the fire.

Fire officials said the two dead, four men and one woman, appeared to have died of asphyxiation.

Bellevue city council to lease radar unit

By TERRY CAMPBELL
Times-News writer

BELLEVUE—The Bellevue city council has passed a resolution to lease a radar unit for about $17,000 a month for a three-month trial basis.

During the three months, the council will monitor the city marshal's performance in determining whether the unit will save expense over other forms of speed control.

City marshal Bud Taylor, who requested the radar unit, said the $980 unit could be placed on a lease-purchase contract. He said he felt the unit was justified and would update the police department.

In other action Thursday night, the council voted to allow the installation of a banner across Main Street, urging residents to approve the March 20 school bond issue. However, the council stipulated that the banner would carry the name of its sponsoring organization.

The banner had been requested by Claude Ballard, principal of the Bellevue Elementary School, and Rev. Don Kunkel.

Mayor (Pete) Johnson had recommended the stipulation because he said he felt the banner constituted "pollution."

Ballard urged the council to approve the move. He said everyone can vote in a bond election and can "vote a load" on the taxpayer. He said he did not know the consensus of Bellevue residents on the election and opposed putting up a banner that the residents may not want.

Ballard termed the bond issue "kind of unique" because it will not result in an increase in taxes over current levels. He said that the issue called for the replacement of the present 10-million year plant facility levy with a 10-million year bond fund for 20 years.

The principal also outlined the proposed bond issue program in each community and said that each month the district waits before construction of a new Wood River High School would result in $40,000 in additional costs because of inflation.

Scheduled for the caucus meeting to nominate candidates for the annual city elections for 6 p.m. Wednesday at the city hall.

The election will be held April 1. Three, two-year alderman posts will be filled in the election, including those presently held by Martin, George McKay and Mike Jive, as well as the one term mayor's post.

Received an outline of the ordinance from City Clerk Anna Faye O'Donnell.

Helping in drive

LARRY HENMAN, Twin Falls County finance chairman, Dr. Fred Schries, Twin Falls Scout family enrollment chairman, and Gerald Fitzsimonds, Falls district scout executive, are participating in a Scout River Area Council fund-drive for the Boy Scouts of America.

Scouts conduct drive

TWIN FALLS—The Snake River Area Council of the Boy Scouts of America is attempting to raise about $35,000 from local businessmen and other scouting supporters.

According to Gerald Fitzsimonds, Falls district executive, the council has $45,000 left to use to help pay administrative costs, make camp improvements and fund council-wide scouting activities.

The Snake River Area Council includes the eight counties in the Magic Valley and Wood River areas.

Fitzsimonds said the council is currently about 5,500 members enrolled, the fund-raising effort is aimed at businessmen and scout families or friends of scout families. Under contract terms with United Fund, the council is prohibited from making door-to-door solicitations.

In order to become a sustaining member of the council, a donor is asked to contribute $2 per month or $24 annually.

Fitzsimonds said the Snake River Area Council includes the eight counties in the Magic Valley and Wood River areas.

Fitzsimonds said the council is currently about 5,500

scouts enrolled, with per capita enrollment at 34 per cent of those eligible youngsters, much higher than the 25 per cent national average.

Because of the high enrollment, the Snake River Area Council is recognized as a "model" unit.

James DeWitt and Mc-Tul are among the fund-raising drive in Twin Falls, Chuck Potter is east unit chairman; Carter Hines leads the drive in Piler; Herb Fox in Buhl; Hank Gangstang in Castleford; Hank Kinkade in Hollister; and James Perkins in Murtaugh.

Public blames victim of rape instead of attacker

ATLANTA (UPI)—A Georgia state research study shows the public often blames the victim of rape.

The study, conducted by the Georgia Institute of Technology, is the first to measure public attitudes toward rape victims.

One major reason why an estimated 75 per cent of sexual attacks are not reported, Carol Roberts, a 20-year-old graduate of the University of Georgia, said.

Roberts, whose survey is being compiled in a 100-page report to be published later, said in an interview two basic myths exist about rape.

"Rape is not a sexual offense, but a violent one. And 90 per cent of rapes could not have been prevented. The victim is not at fault," she said.

Annie Mather, head of the project's communications committee, said the attitude of the jury is a major reason so few rapists are convicted, and also the reason so few women report rapes or go through trials.

justified away from them. A victim needs all the emotional support she can get.

The study also found that the public tends to blame the victim of rape.

Boy, 5, suspended for too long hair

HOUSTON (UPI)—Billy Epperson, 5, had his hair cut and styled Thursday but his parents said he will not be readmitted to kindergarten.

Billy, who wears his long hair to hide a congenital but the defect, was suspended from the Golden Acres Elementary School two weeks ago for failing to meet the dress code. His parents had let his hair grow to his shoulders in embarrassment.

The boys parents appealed Thursday to the Pasadena school district superintendent, James Watson, and he said he would give the Eppersons an appointment until Monday.

"I'm disappointed and hurt that a seven-year-old boy should have to wait so long to get his hair cut back in school," Mrs. William Epperson said. "In 60 seconds he could have given us a haircut, this week, state District Court Judge William Blackton refused to order the school to readmit the boy before his parents went through the proper school channels."

The Eppersons complied with that order Thursday by first taking Billy to Principal Jack Harvey and then to assistant superintendent Richard Moore. Both rejected Billy's new hair cut.

What they're asking for is an exception and I can't do that. That has to be done by the school board," Moore said.

The Pasadena School district forbids a male's hair to cover the ears or touch the shirt collar.

The Eppersons made an appointment for Monday, if that meeting with Dr. Watson does not get Billy back into school, the Eppersons attorney said they would appeal to the school board that night and then go back to court if necessary.

USS Monitor too fragile to raise

WILLIAM S.C. (UPI) — Duke University scientists say the remains of the ironclad USS Monitor are too fragile to raise from the Atlantic using current salvage techniques.

John G. Newton, marine superintendent for the company of the school's marine laboratory in Beaufort, N.C., said Thursday the ship has been found lying upside down in 20 feet of water about 15 miles southeast of the Cape Hatteras light house.

Newton said the wreck was very fragmentary and would be difficult to raise. Rivets holding its iron plates have deteriorated in places and much of the hull is marine encrusted.

The wreckage of the 120-foot craft, said Newton, is past the safe range for skin diving and is in a position at the edge of the Gulf Stream where two- and current-made diving even for suited divers "is extremely dangerous."

The Monitor sank in the "chessbox" on a raft "is considered the forerunner of modern warships. Its deck was almost flush with the water and it carried a single, revolving turret.

The vessel, which fought the Confederate ironclad Merrimack, to a draw in Hampton Roads, Va., on March 9, 1862, was damaged and sank in a Cape Hatteras, N.C., where it was to participate in a tropical blockade.

The Monitor, considered too unsuited to being towed into open water and to being raised in the James River to Richmond, was destroyed by her crew in May, 1862 when Union forces took Norfolk. An identification of the craft was made following five months of examination of underwater television pictures, photographs, and historic records.

Advanced electronic equipment also was used in the search.

The first electronic device that was the wreck was unique. It didn't resemble any vessel in the area.

The ship, found by the school's search team, was located by following the path of the Monitor's tow ship, the Hatteras Island, as recorded in its log.

Positive identification was aided by an 1861 handwritten description thought to be a copy of the original contract specified by the ship's designer and builder, John Ericsson.

Brand-name drugs scored

(C) Washington Star-News WASHINGTON — Doctors who prescribe brand-name drugs for Madras and medical ailments when lower priced chemical equivalents are available will have to explain their reasons, under a new "government" policy that could take effect as early as this summer.

Forms will be provided for the purpose, to be filled out by the physician and attached to the prescription — the patient presents to a pharmacy. Dr. Charles G. Edwards, assistant secretary of Health, Education and Welfare, told the Senate Appropriations Subcommittee Thursday.

If a review committee then finds no medical justification for the use of the brand-name drug, the pharmacist would be reimbursed only for what a lower priced one would have cost.

Edwards told the Subcommittee chairman, Sen. Gaylord Nelson, D-Wis., that at the outset "prescriptions would be filled first and reviewed later. The review panels would probably be the doctors serving on the so-called professional standards review organizations — now being formed across the country to review the cost and quality of federally-assisted health programs.

But this system is thought to work, Edwards worked that further restrictions will be imposed, "We do not expect many physicians will find it necessary to specify that their patient can tolerate only a specific brand," he said.

Edwards said the generic brand medicines is often dramatic. On a wholesale basis, for example, "100 4-milligram tablets of an antiulcerant" sold as Chlorimintin by the Ayerst Pharmaceutical Co. cost $21.66, whereas an equivalent supply of the generic drug is only $1.45.

SmithKline Beecham's name variation of penicillin made by the Squibb Co. and known as Venticillin costs $10.04 for 100 tablets, in contrast to the generic drug at the same dosage, form and quantity, which costs $1.45.

Edwards reported at the hearing that final regulations on the matter will be published in the Federal Register in late May or early June and so could take effect this summer, if not challenged in court.

A court challenge would not be unexpected, he later told reporters, since the drug lobby believes that what is now proposed for the Medicare and Medicaid programs would almost certainly apply to any form of national health insurance that Congress enacts.

Nelson cited the case of Aldomet, a drug made by the Merck Pharmaceutical Co. which lowers blood pressure. After Merck synthesized the drug in 1967, he said, "the company could find no useful medical purpose for it until scientists at the National Heart Institute discovered and refined its properties of lowering blood pressure.

Brothers will stand trial for murder

BOISE (UPI) — A grand jury will either indict the brothers or dismiss charges against them.

The grand jury hearing in Worley, Idaho, today will be adjourned March 19.

A U.S. Magistrate in Court 4, Alene earlier this week ordered that Leonard Davidson, 47, and his brother William, 44, be bound over to U.S. District Court to stand trial on charges for the murder of Emma T. Johnson, 42, of Alene, Idaho.

Authorities said the grand jury will either indict the brothers or dismiss charges against them.

The grand jury hearing is a normal procedure even though the brothers have been bound over to stand trial in District Court, says U.S. Assistant Attorney Mike Williams.

The case is being handled in federal court because Mrs. Johnson was killed on the Court's Alene Indian Reservation.

Assault found in Rupert death case

The Traeger's pickup lights, windshield wipers, heater and ignition were still switched on when he began his investigation, Navares said. The motor was started. The pickup was driven back to Rupert and left unattended.

Navares says a 5-foot-10-inch-tall, 200-pound man wearing a dark jacket and dark pants was seen to get into the back of the pickup and open the trunk and take out the driver's seat.

The driver's door was bent in the lower rear corner and the door stop was broken, according to Navares. He said the damage appeared fresh. Navares says he might be made with a blood stain on the ceiling of the truck cab.

Sen. Frank Church to speak at Filer Kiwanis Club 50th year observance

The first members of the Filer Kiwanis Club were organized in 1924. Fifty years of community service will be observed by the Filer Kiwanis Club when it celebrates its 50th anniversary on Friday, March 15, at the Holiday Inn, Twin Falls.

Sen. Frank Church, Idaho, will be guest speaker. Mrs. Church also will attend, as well as a series of Kiwanis Club members. Since the banquet, a this year will take the place of the traditional studies night, usually held in February.

Filer Kiwanis Club, which first started March 15, 1924, and it is the second oldest club in the area. It is the only Kiwanis club to observe its 50th anniversary this year.

The meeting, planned by Sen. Church, will be held at 7:30 p.m. at the Holiday Inn. The group, which has continued to meet three years, Tuesday night for the past 40 years, except for a short hiatus when the church was undergoing remodeling and the club met in the Filer American Legion Hall.

Robert K. Dillingham, a dentist, was elected first president. H. H. Schildman, a banker, was elected second president. Jim Stein, secretary of the club, was elected treasurer, and W. D. Gillis, an attorney, was elected trustee.

Charter directors of the club were: George Demman, Eugene J. Boring, A. J. Boring, and W. D. Gillis.

Since 1952 the club has sponsored the local Key Club for high school boys. One Key Club member, David Hardesty, was elected international Key club president.

Each year the club gives two scholarships to a senior boy and girl at Filer High School. It also sponsors the sending of students to the state level. Sen. Church sponsors delegates to Girls State. It has provided funds to send needy children to Kittery, Maine, and has provided eye glasses for needy children who otherwise could not have them.

The club also sponsors a youth movement activities and has a standing reward offered for information leading to the arrest and conviction of anyone apprehended or confined for getting drunk in School District #13.

Since 1952 the club has participated in a tree-planting project and placed a row of pine trees down Yukling Street. The group makes up the club's annual budget. It also sponsors the Johnny Horizon project. It sponsors the high school track meets and assists the Filer Kiwanis Club with its athletic programs.

When the National High School Radio was one of the fairgrounds in Filer several years ago, the club fed over 3,000 people at a high fry. All the contestants and their families.

The club sponsors the Fifth District High School rodeo each spring and proceeds from the rodeo are given to the city park and swimming pool funds.

Last year the Filer club was selected to receive the "Fifth District Award" in the Youth-Action Project for the year. The project is now an international competition. It was given to the Filer club for the first time under the leadership of the city judge and the swimming pool at the park.

The need and desire to have a swimming pool in Filer has been a long-standing goal. Earlier attempts to raise the necessary money for the pool had failed. In 1972 a Filer Community Swimming Pool Committee was formed, which included several Kiwanis members and one non-member, Bill Brake. The 1972-73 Filer Kiwanis president, was named committee chairman. There were 20 fund drive chairmen, both Kiwanis members and non-members.

The drive started in April with a "20-mile" walk-a-thon by students of the local schools under the leadership of Roy Boylston, pastor of the First Baptist Church. The walk produced $2,000 toward the pool.

pool, and the Kiwanis Club donated $1,500 to the pool fund in addition to maintaining it of regular contributions. A total $41,000 has been donated to date with community donations to receive matching federal funds. The pool was opened July 21, 1973. It has now been turned over to the city for maintenance and operation. Other observations include the annual ladies' night, a family picnic in the summer and the club has plans for future family activities. This year the International Kiwanis theme is "Give of Yourself by enriching the lives of the aging," according to Birney Carlson, club president. The club works with the senior citizens group of Filer and with other projects for senior citizens in the area. At the dinner several of these citizens will be honored by the club for their activities during the past year. Ray Holstrom, Twin Falls, will serve as master of ceremonies. The sponsoring committee includes G. Bill Bunce, general chairman. Music will be presented by the Common Tapers of Filer.

Paintings displayed at bank

TWIN FALLS — Twin Falls artist John Stoddard learned to paint to conquer the boredom of a long hospital stay. His teacher was an old Ute Indian. That was more than 30 years ago, when Stoddard was still an Alaskan bush pilot. Now, retired and painting full-time, Stoddard creates outdoor scenes that have the scent of an Indian southwest. Stoddard's work is on display at First Security Bank here for the month of March. In addition to his informal writing while convalescing, Stoddard has done minor paintings and illustrations for University Studios, Lee K. Parkerson. Stoddard takes scenes from his travels throughout the west and southwest for his paintings.

Abby

Abigail Van Buren

DEAR ABBY: What would you do if your husband came home with lipstick on his shirt, trousers and some of his neck, too? Also, Norbert has hairs on his coat, and they were a color like nobody in our family has. It looks like a mud fence.

I questioned him, and he swore up and down he didn't know how any of this stuff got there.

Norbert works in an office with just one woman. I've never met her, but he says she's as homely as a mud fence. I want to trust him, but with all this evidence, how can I?

UPSET IN PHILADELPHIA

Upset wife

DEAR ABBY: First I'd find out if this "mud fence" has red hair. If she has, I'd suspect that she was close enough to Norbert to transfer the above-mentioned evidence. (P.S. Any man who comes home in that shape can read "Upset" and get away with it.)

DEAR ABBY: I am in prison serving a 10-year sentence for the death of my wife. I did a terrible thing which will follow me for the rest of my life.

I have two children, 6 and 4. I love them very much. In fact, that's what led to my killing my wife. I thought she was neglecting them, so I put a gun to her head only meaning to scare her, but I killed her. God help me, Abby. I never meant to kill her.

My problem concerns my children. They are living in a foster home now, but before then, my wife, parents, kept them and naturally they did the kids what happened to their mother but I don't think the kids fully understood it. The foster parents were advised by a priest to tell the children something about death, so they were told their mother got sick and the angels came and took her away. They seem to accept her death, but they have been asking to visit me. They know I am "locked up" if they come here what shall I tell them? A NUMBER IN MARYLAND

DEAR NUMBER: Don't lie. Tell them you are being punished because while you meant only to "scare" their mother, you accidentally killed her. It's true. I wish proper counseling your children will grow to understand your part in this tragedy, and hopefully, they will harbor no bitterness or hate in their hearts for you and their mother.

DEAR ABBY: My problem is primarily one of vanity. For years I have been conscious of the fact that all the women in my family have faces that start to sag early. By the time they are 30, they look like 40.

I am in my early 30s, and already I can see the same thing happening to me. Is there anything I can do about it?

BLISS—Dr. Bowler, Bliss, active in theater, has been given special recognition by the Idaho State Commission on Arts.

Bliss is one of several Idahoans honored by the commission on arts and humanities.

Sutton D. Taylor, executive director of the commission, said the special awards are made to recognize and encourage excellence in the arts in Idaho and to stimulate support of exceptional talent of people in the state.

Miss Bowler has been active in the Idaho State Art Association and the Idaho State Art Council. She is known for her pottery and other artwork.

She is one of the six 1972 honorees announced this week. There were eight Idahoans selected for honors in 1970.

KITCHEN CARPETING was a novelty just a couple of years ago. It seems many housewives might have looked longingly at one of those bright new carpeted model kitchens and thought, "It's not for me... not with all the stains and spills I have to wipe up and all the kids coming and going."

Those objections like the stains and spills have long since been wiped away... because today's new kitchen carpets are designed specifically for areas of especially heavy foot-traffic (that's why they're in stores and supermarkets).

And the fibers are non-absorbent, which means water and other liquid spills stand "on top of" the carpet, easily sponged up and wiped away. The high cleanability means that grease and food stains are no worry either. Best of all, these new carpets bring a new life of decorative beauty and color to the kitchen... adding what a great bonus in peace and quiet. (Not to mention the savings in foot and leg fatigue.)

Speaking of savings, you'll get the greatest value anywhere in carpeting for your kitchen, bath, indoors or outdoors, when you look over our choice display of these popular new carpetings, in continuous rolls of easy-to-use tiles. Come look!

MIAMI (UPI)—Tom Weiskopf and Bruce Devlin, both leading back from slow starts, grabbed the lead at 13-under Saturday in the $50,000 Doral Eastern Open Golf Tournament.

Weiskopf had 27 and Devlin 26.

The two veterans pro held a two-shot lead over Jerry Heard, who fired a 72 for an 11 under par, and Buddy Alim who shot a 68.

Weiskopf, who had been plagued by a mysterious thumb ailment earlier this year, said he did not play quite as well as he did in the first two rounds of the tournament.

"This is the best I've ever had," he said. "But I guess overall I'm playing as well now as I did last summer."

Weiskopf was a seven-time winner of the tournament over the past six years. He has won since last Labor Day and he said earlier the lack of competition had hurt him. But he said Saturday he felt he was setting his competitive edge back.

Jack Nicklaus had one of the hottest rounds of the day, a 66 that included six birdies and no bogeys. He was still back in the pack with a seven-under-par 67, but said he was playing well.

"I just have to get off to a little better start in these tournaments," he said. "Nicklaus' only win this year was at the Hawaiian Open."

Bruce Crampton, who shot a 68 in a leglam at 13 under par, shot a hole-in-one on the 25-yard fourth hole with a five foot putt.

"There's no way anyone can make a hole in one where I'm at today," he said when he heard of Crampton's shot.

Bruins rip Rams for first A-1 state title

The Twin Falls Bruins broke a historical precedent and a 33-year drought for Magic Valley Friday night when they won the state title for the first time since 1941.

ROUNDHOUSE that from a rebound delivery got two points for Eric Hovey, left and Twin Falls just as the Ultra-quarter buzzer sounded Friday night. Bruin Dennis Bowyer is in foreground. All-Star Coach Don Hayes, center, and Mike Falash, right, try for the stop. Twin Falls won 66-63 in its first state basketball title in history.

The Bruins were not to be denied against the starter Rams who played very hard but couldn't compete after coach Hayes had turned the Bruins into a grinding machine against the running days through early February. Highland had dropped Twin Falls from behind to hand the Bruins their only home-court loss with a hot shooting fourth quarter and taking a point decision on the tip of a night when coach Hayes was injured and didn't play.

Highland planned on winning this one with the press because he was under the impression that Coach Hayes didn't even use his anti-press. The Bruins patiently worked the ball up floor and only twice in the late third quarter did the press manage a take-away.

Hovey, Lash honored

Jim Lash and Eric Hovey of the Twin Falls Bruins were named to the first team all-state A-1 tournament team Friday night. Lash, a 6-7 senior, was the leading rebounder in the tournament with 111 rebounds for the Bruins, a first in their first state title in history.

Highland's only reply was a 20-14 win in the second period. Hovey and Schmidt hit once and Hovey twice from the foul line. Hovey added two free throws. Twin Falls led 20-14 with 14:47 left in the second period.

Highland was at the top in the first period as Foster opened with a free throw and Good hit six points. Lash offed their walk-back within 10 minutes and then hit the foul line.

Highland's only reply was a 20-14 win in the second period. Hovey and Schmidt hit once and Hovey twice from the foul line. Hovey added two free throws.

Sports

From all angles

By Larry Hovey

Basically it was a quiet dressing room. No one was talking. The Twin Falls Bruins just kinda sat there and looked at the trophy. A couple sipped at a little orange juice around the reason for such a silent dressing room was obvious. Twin Falls Bruins had planned on winning this year, but it became quite obvious in the last night of the season and first night of the district tournament.

Working toward the abstract, I found Eric Hovey. The school was not only looking for a legitimate defense, they created in practice, but not in the game at the time. It was the first to get hammered. Now all these things seemed just for the obvious. Eric Hovey, Mike Falash, and Dennis Bowyer were great waiting around. Located all day Saturday. It's tough to find Highland-Borah in the finals - or at least Highland-Skyline - was the best of it. There was a lot of confusion in Highland's mind. The Bruins' team or crowd in this loss's history. The confusions replied, and the area per capita line went up sharply. Highland missed a lot of shots. The Bruins' team or crowd in this loss's history. The confusions replied, and the area per capita line went up sharply.

Lash, Hovey named all-league; Schmidt makes all-division

Bruins, Eric Hovey, the Skyline, Idaho Conference's second leading scorer by average and fourth in total, and Jim Lash, the league's second best rebounder, were named to the all-conference team by coaches Friday. Hovey was named to the year honors while Borah coach Steve VanOcker was selected.

Camas County batters Cats for A-3 crown

LEWISTON, UPI—Clark Fork County's first A-3 basketball championship Saturday, beat Mackay for third place 59-49 and Neperve beat Park River 52-41 for the consolation.

The final standings were: Camas County first, Clark Fork second, MDA third and Lewiston fourth.

Clark Fork and Mackay were played before a crowd of 1,600.

It looked like Clark Fork was going to run away with the game in the first quarter. All three quarters were close, however, and they finished the quarter ahead 17-10. But Camas County came back strongly in the second quarter to hold the shooting of 3 foot 6 game to 17-10.

Paul Trammell was the lead scorer for Clark Fork in all three games but was held to one in the second half by Camas County's first scorer, Richard Williams, who scored nine points in the game.

Trammell Clark Fork's problem in scoring, Jerry Williams received four fouls in the first half and was pulled from the game.

Lead scorer was Hofer Miller who hit 28 for Clark Fork. Stroud led Camas with 24 points.

Playing their last games of the tournament, the lead sawed the game before Neperve took control in the third quarter and scored 20-10.

It was a great contest, with Park River having only six team fouls and Neperve nine, the game was far in the balance.

Kurt Bradley took top scoring honors, pumping in 24 for Neperve. He was closely followed by Tim Schmidt and Tim James who each hit 20.

Hammered from behind. Clark Fork's Paul Trammell (14) is held by Camas County's Hofer Miller during the game.

UCLA topples Southern Cal

LOS ANGELES (UPI)—Three-time All America Bill Walton — pop's on a lily smashed University of Southern California's upset dreams, scoring 32 points and pulling down 20 rebounds Saturday night to lead UCLA to an 85-57 rout over the Trojans for the Pacific Eight title.

The surprisingly easy victory against the Trojans — team many thought had the ingredients to slip the Bruins dynasty in the bud, put UCLA in the Western Regionals next week and gives the Bruins a chance for an amazing eighth straight national crown.

Walton, whose senior season has been spotty in comparison to his sophomore- and junior years, did most of his damage

DENVER, Tex. (UPI)—Don Brooks and Ted Wuebner paced a 16-point Creighton surge late in the second-half Saturday night that produced a 77-67 victory over Oral Roberts.

The Blue Jays who blasted their way to 22-1 and tied for the eighth championship game in Tulsa on March 14.

The upstart Longhorns, who came into the tournament with a record of 14-1, despite winning the Southwest Conference title, held a six-point lead with 9:30 to play at 47-41.

But Texas did not score during the final 10 minutes while Creighton made up its deficit and jumped to a 50-41 lead.

During that spurt, Brooks scored six points finishing with 14 for the night, and Wuebner contributed four.

Blue Jays' leading scorer was 6-4 forward Gene Harmon, who was hot early from the outside

Hammered from behind.

Clark Fork's Paul Trammell (14) is held by Camas County's Hofer Miller during the game.

DEFINITELY FOULED.

Twin Falls' Dennis Deane made a free throw rather than this fourth-quarter field goal attempt during the state A-1 finals Friday night. Making the shot for Highland's Mike Falash, Twin Falls won 66-45.

Kathy Whitworth is leader in tourney

HOUSTON (UPI)—Scoring Kathy Whitworth easily led two of the final six holes Saturday to overcome an earlier bogey, shoot one-under par 71 and slip into a one-stroke lead after two rounds of the 48-hole PGA Women's Slam Classic.

Miss Whitworth, of Richardson, Tex., the defending champion, passed first-round leader Chiffon Rodgers by a margin of nine as Miss Creed fell to 3 over a round of 79. She had led by one starting Saturday.

Miss Whitworth's putt combined with 74 Friday and 72 Saturday to give her a 144 in four rounds, the best of the tourney.

She led the second half by 1 stroke, 36-35, and she should have kept better. "I was just putting the ball all over the hole and it wouldn't stop."

Conquistadors down Rockets

SAVANNAH (UPI)—The Conquistadors swept all the way to the West playoff spot Saturday night as Steve Johnson scored 24 points to pace a 109-99 win over the Denver Rockets.

Steve Johnson hit 24 for the Q's and Travis Grant chipped in 20. Al Smith paced the Rockets with 22 while Byron Beck and Steve Johnson each scored 20.

The Q's opened a 14-point margin midway through the first quarter, taking a 25-12 lead. Grant scored half of his points in the period.

Denver rallied in the second period and won the first half, led with 37-11 in the half.

Denver led 58-47 at the half. Johnson's hot shooting gave the Q's the lead again in the third period. San Diego led 81-72 with 1:11 left in the period and never trailed in the final period.

West Jefferson drops Pilgrims for A-3 crown; Kamiah third

The running West Jefferson Panthers, headed by sharpshooting Richard Chase and his 25 points, faced just the New Plymouth Pilgrims 73 on Saturday night and into the Idaho state A-3 basketball championship.

The third-fifth place game was a flustered Kamiah's lack of Schoening. The big junior ripped through 35 points and in the last period the Kubs broke away from a 45-42 lead into the 14-point decision.

Schoening was at his best midway through the second period, just after Frustrand had hit a 13-point flurry that carried it from five down to eight up. Schoening then hit 10 straight points, interrupted once by a Grizzly score — and Frustrand never had it that good again.

The breakout started with the fourth period when Casey Holloway, Schoening and Bill Mercer opened with buckets. After a field goal by Dennis Sitka, Schoening carried two more goals around one by Phil Lyster to make it a 12-point lead and Frustrand never got closer than 10 thereafter.

Saturday afternoon Westside pulled away in the last third and early fourth quarter to win 74-67. The game was a four-point contest at most until the final minutes of the third period when Duane Sears ran in four buckets.

Sharpshooting Kevin Leek, who hit 34 of the game, added two free throws to open up a seven-point lead.

In addition to the state title the war clinched the best record in history for the Panthers. Both had entered the game with only one loss.

In other action the Kamiah Kubs took third place over Frustrand 65-57. Frustrand team members had a battle royale immediately after — and Westside defeated Lapwai 66-51 for consolation honors.

Chase, who was named to the all-tournament team, had a little trouble hitting early but once he started he kept the Panthers just ahead of New Plymouth.

The Pilgrims replied with another all-tourney selection — John Ziegler, who earned 21 points.

Ziegler had New Plymouth ahead through most of the first period but West Jefferson was tied about as often as it trailed.

Early in the second period Lynn Shulberg and Kevin Chastain sent West Jefferson ahead 44-43 and the Panthers never trailed again.

New Plymouth chased hard throughout and was never down more than six points around the rest of the second period on third quarter.

Chase and Chastain got back to back buckets early in the last quarter but West Jefferson took its biggest lead to that point at 46-47.

It stayed about there for the next two minutes when Chastain hit three points and Eldon Borrett a bucket.

Robert Lewis Chase hit again and with 1:31 left West Jefferson had a nine-point spread.

But West Jefferson didn't come back in the regular time kept running. In the next 31 seconds Ziegler, Nickodemus and Bill Pittman came up with New Plymouth points to cut to within three.

West Jefferson called time and New Plymouth thought a stall was in store; it was wrong.

The Panthers made three passes down court, put up a long one and Blake Bertel tipped a second-year player then found up a fast break and added a free throw to finally wind it up.

All-tourney

The second-place New Plymouth Pilgrims placed 10th in the first five of the state A-3 all-tournament team selected by sportswriters.

New Plymouth contributors Doug White and John Ziegler — they were joined by Jack Schoening, Kamiah junior Richard Chase, West Jefferson, and Gary Field.

On the second team were Randy McNair, Lapwai's Bill Pittman, New Plymouth's Jim Pepple, Frustrand, and Kevin

New Mexico beats Idaho St., Dayton wins in NCAA playoff

POCAHELLO, Idaho (UPI) — Fourteenth-ranked New Mexico, with Idaho coach Norm Elfenberg pleading with his team not to play, beat Idaho State 75-67 Saturday night in the second game of the NCAA Western Regional basketball tournament.

In the first game, three Dayton players scored all but points, 12 or those in the second half. Tennessee's Jack Sagers had 18 and Bill Hagins 14. The Lobos led 39-34 at the half and never trailed in the final 20 minutes as host Idaho State eliminated the Flyers. Dan Spaulder and Kevin Hoyt both had 14 points for Idaho State.

In the opening game, Mike Spivaker led all scorers with 30 points for Dayton, and three other players scored in double figures. The Flyers total to beat Los Angeles State 68-57. Idaho State refused to yield New Mexico in the second half of the night game, coming within two points of the lead seven times. But the Lobos stepped ahead to win their first NCAA playoff game in three tries.

New Mexico's Bernard Hardin led all scorers with 19 points. Dayton's Steve Smith had 22 points, Billy Malby had 14 and Jim Spivey had 14. Dayton led 22-20 at the half and 46-34 at the end of the game.

Spivaker team could get ahead in the first half, but Dayton left the floor at the break with a 46-14 margin. Dayton got a 24-14 lead in the first half, but Idaho State's Mike Spivaker led the team with 22 points and 11 rebounds Saturday night to lead Assumption College to its fourth straight NCAA West Regional regional collegiate basketball crown, defeating Hartford 81-68.

Sports Pittsburgh nips St. Joe's 54-52

MOHAGANTOWN, W. Va. (UPI) — Pittsburgh nipped St. Joseph's 54-52 in the opening round of the NCAA playoffs Saturday night and advanced to the Eastern Regional next week against Furman.

In a loosely played, slow-moving game in which both teams appeared jittery, Pittsburgh struggled to an 8-7 lead with 10 minutes gone in the first half, then widened the gap to a 25-16 advantage at the intermission.

The Panthers, in raising their record to 24-5, were led by Mickey Martin with 12 points.

St. Joe's coach Coach Buzz Reid employed a deliberate type game in which Pitt was never headed.

St. Joe's scored 10-0 in the first half of the game. Pittsburgh quickly built its lead to 14-0, then ran into a cold spell.

St. Joe's took advantage of the Panthers' scoreless eight unanswered points to pull within three at 40-37 with 4:52 left in the game.

Low Hill, a reserve forward, then called the Panthers with two quick field goals that ended a six-minute cold spell and built the Pitt lead to 44-37 with 5:52 to go.

St. Joe's rebounded, hit on an even 50 per cent of their shots from the floor as they extended their season record to 23-4.

How is this for CENTRAL HEATING?

THE HUGE, 3,000,000-horsepower Jim Bridger coal burning steam electric plant rises 25 stories above the desert floor. The cost of all three units, including the bridge, will be more than $500 million. Being built by Idaho Power Company and Pacific Power & Light Company.

It's not really "central" because it's located miles away. But it uses only low-bidding Idaho Power's share of the Jim Bridger plant to supply the needs of 85,000 homes.

While the primary source is Wyoming coal, it will be sold to your customer by wire in the form of clean electricity.

It's clean construction in a high wind swept desert area 35 miles from Rock Springs, the Jim Bridger plant is located in a coal field fifteen miles long, containing an estimated 140 million tons of low-sulfur raw ash fuel.

At the next step in meeting the growing electric needs of Idaho Power's customers, the Jim Bridger project will add another 500,000 kilowatts of 13,000,000 KVA capacity later this year.

At the same time it will help conserve scarce gas and oil reserves and help an environmentally acceptable manner.

Central pollution control, too!

Months of study by highly qualified scientists, engineers and consultants on air, water and land use factors have developed the environmental quality plan for the Jim Bridger project.

We will have a new source of electric power which should serve all of us well whether for "central heating" or for frying our breakfast eggs.

Pattern seen in hospital vote

TWIN FALLS - After about 30 conversations with no-voters on the "hospital bond" issue, Magic Valley Memorial Hospital Administrator James Rosenbaum thinks he sees a pattern in their opposition.

"No one has said there wasn't a need," Rosenbaum said, "and most people did not object to the cost of the package." The point under criticism was the method of financing, he said.

Many people feel that a general obligation bond is unfair to the taxpayer, Rosenbaum said, and suggest instead a method of payment which makes voters stand the cost. In all probability, Rosenbaum said, this would mean a big increase in hospital rates and other charges, including the high costs of construction.

Many people expressed the opinion that a county-operated hospital is needed, because it provides care for the poor as well as the affluent, Rosenbaum said.

One financing suggestion was to impose a county wide sales tax, excluding food and medication, to pay for hospital expansion. Another idea was to form a smaller, general obligation bond for urgently needed construction, and to use funds from operating revenues for further expansion, Rosenbaum said.

About one of three callers objected to the publicly campaign as too aggressive and not explanatory, Rosenbaum said.

The hospital board and building committee are currently reconsidering plans for the hospital building program.

N blasts planned to release natural gas

WASHINGTON (UPI)—A spokesman today confirmed plans to set off at least eight nuclear devices in one day outside Grand Junction, Colo., in 1977 to try and tap underground pockets of natural gas locked in rock. He also said engineers would begin within a few weeks drilling a shaft at the site of Project Rio Blanco outside Meeker, Colo., in efforts to reach underground pockets of natural gas formed by Project Rio Blanco last May.

The Atomic Energy Commission (AEC) technology director Dr. Edward H. Fleming said detonation of three 30-kilowatt nuclear devices last May failed to form three interconnecting chambers of natural gas. Fleming said two pockets of natural gas produced by the blast were not linked with a third, main chamber, already tapped by engineers for 100 million cubic feet of gas. He said the AEC did not know the reason for the failure. At the test, to link the underground caverns and that the new shaft hopefully would release the gas in the two chambers. He said the re-drilling should be finished by summer. Fleming said the gas from the two sealed chambers had to be pumped before planning began for a gas well in 1977 in the government's fourth attempt to stimulate natural gas production by nuclear explosions. He said the final experiment called for the detonation of 12 to 18 nuclear devices in four to six natural gas wells near Grand Junction, Colo., in one day.

Cassia school board wins jurisdiction

JEFF JONES      GARY RICE      LARRY RICE

By ED MITCHELL
Times-News Writer

BURLEY — The question of jurisdiction in an effort to expel a case was settled in favor of the Cassia County School Board in magistrate court Thursday.

The school board's right to hear the expulsion case was challenged when attorneys for a 13-year-old Burley Junior High School student served the school board with a restraining order Monday night. The board received the order shortly before it was scheduled to hear the case.

The restraining order was signed by Magistrate Judge Gleason Anderson and the order caused her to violate the terms of her oath which included the stipulation that she remain in school.

Magistrate Judge Gleason Anderson issued the order which required the school board to come to court to show cause why it should continue with the hearing to expel the student.

An attorney for the school district, Herman Bedke, argued before the court Thursday for a motion to dismiss the petition and set aside the restraining order. Bedke said the petition was legally invalid because it had been signed by the juvenile, who has no legal status as a minor and the form of the petition was incorrect.

He called the restraining order "defective on its face" because it was not legally addressed to the school board and charged that the board had improperly served it.

"We shouldn't be required to respond," Bedke said. "He came to court on the order only to question the jurisdiction of the court in the matter, Bedke said. He cited several sections of the Idaho code which he said showed that the court has no jurisdiction in the case."

The court cannot act in the matter until the board has met and made a decision, Bedke argued. He said the judge cannot question an anticipated action by a body such as the school board, although the court can review the decision once the board has acted.

James Amest, attorney for the parents of the girl, argued that the court had retained jurisdiction over the child in the expulsion case, and had required her to attend school. He said that she had brought the petition because school officials by their conduct toward her were forcing her to violate the attendance stipulation and were forcing her out of school by expulsion.

Amest argued that this was a "status quo" question involving the jurisdiction of this court. The court has a "duty" to hear the case to find out if the school board is interfering with its orders, Amest said. "As I see it, this court has absolute and exclusive jurisdiction over the child," he said.

Judge Anderson agreed with Amest that the court has the power to enforce its orders. Such power would set aside Bedke's motion for dismissal.

Anderson said the court had not "asked to usurp the powers of the school board" but that the court has the power to enforce the status quo until juvenile proceedings pending.

inquiry concerning the juvenile are settled.

Bedke returned to argue that the school board was forcing the girl out of school by expelling her from Burley Junior High School since there are three other junior high schools in the district which she can attend.

The school board last week offered her the option of going to one of the other schools, Bedke said the charge that she is being forced to break her probation is thus founded.

The court does have jurisdiction over the child but not over the school board at this point, Bedke said. "All we're saying is where she can comply" with the terms of probation, he said.

Amest said that this school was "unreasonable" in view of the distance to the other schools and that the school board should not be allowed to "hide its misdoings behind this offer."

Judge Anderson dismissed the restraining order and agreed that the school board could continue with the expulsion hearing as long as the girl will attend school in the district. He said the court could review the decision of the board when it is made.

3 arrested in smuggling case

TWIN FALLS — US border patrol officers from Twin Falls last week arrested three persons on charges of smuggling illegal Mexican farmworkers into Idaho.

The felony smuggling charges were later reduced to misdemeanor charges of aiding and abetting aliens within the United States.

On Monday, border patrol officers arrested Ignacio Solo, 49, Paul, a Mexican national with permanent resident status in the US after he was apprehended near Bliss with nine Mexican farmworkers under the cover of the back of his pickup truck.

Solo was arraigned before US Magistrate Harry Turner on a misdemeanor charge on Thursday. Solo pleaded innocent and was released on his own recognizance while awaiting trial.

On Tuesday, Minidoka County sheriff's officers apprehended Solo and a woman from Phoenix, Ariz., with eight illegal farmworkers in their van.

Joel A. Pantaja, 27, and Susanna A. Fleming, 30, were turned over to Border Patrol officers by the Minidoka deputies. Pantaja and Solo Fleming were arraigned before Magistrate Turner on Wednesday. Both pleaded guilty and were sentenced to 180 days in the county jail with 100 days of the jail sentence then suspended. Miss Fleming was fined $500 and given a 90-day suspended 180-day jail sentence.

Stanger said Pantaja and Fleming were apprehended in apparent aid of the road where the aliens, coming from Arizona, were bound for. He said they intended to find ranch work.

The aliens with Solo, Stanger said, were bound for Caldwell possibly for work in the hop fields or as pruners in apple orchards. The aliens had been in the area since Stanger said he had been unable to find work.

Stanger said Mexican farmworkers are now flowing into Idaho for field preparation and harvest work. Within a month's span, he said, three husbands of aliens have been transported from Twin Falls back to Mexico. In addition to the 12 aliens picked up with Solo and Pantaja and Fleming, officers from the Twin Falls district of the border patrol, which covers about two-thirds of the state, last week also apprehended 48 aliens through investigations not involving smuggling.

Valley Comment . . .

QUESTION: "Do you believe boys and girls 18 years of age and under should have access to birth control information and why or why not?"

Ram - Henshall - Halley:
"Yes, I think they should have the information. Which is better - giving them information and assistance in an abortion."

Winston Kennedy, Twin Falls:
"Yes. For one thing, they wouldn't get into as much trouble if they knew the answers."

Jonnie Dauven, Twin Falls:
"Yes, I do. The way things are in the world today, these young people need all the help they can get. Education is definitely the best way."

Lynn Goodman, Twin Falls:
"Yes. Society is less strict and prudish today - many of these youngsters are not learning such things in the home and may need an easy way to learn what might be a hard lesson."

Jean Hatch, Twin Falls:
"Under certain circumstances, yes, but in some cases no. It all depends on the kids and on the parents, too. When I was a teenager, such information would never have been made available - at least - entered outside of the home."

Marcus Keele, Twin Falls:
"I think that about says it (Mr. Goodman's comments). If I had teenage boys or girls, I would not object to their having birth control information. In fact I would welcome the information for them."

Roxanne Vbarguen, Twin Falls:
"Yes, definitely yes. There should be an easy means of making such knowledge available to young people. I think they will be better off and better people for it."

Don - Pharratt - Twin Falls:
"In many cases - this might be the only chance these kids have to obtain the information. It is easier sometimes than asking parents and it is much easier than learning by making mistakes."

3 women head activities of Girl Scouts in TF

TWIN FALLS — The "big three" in Girl Scouting in Twin Falls County are Mary Bennett, chairman; Wilma Allen, secretary; and Rheda Hartz, troop organizer.

Mrs. Bennett, who has been in scouting for nine years, has served as neighborhood chairman for two years. In her position of directing Girl Scouting she appoints leaders and troop committee members, on recommendation of the troop organizer, presides at meetings of the neighborhood association and service teams. She was instrumental in organizing scouting in Twin Falls six years ago when she moved to Twin Falls from Pocatello. She also served as troop leader for the Cadette and senior troops and also has been day camp director for four years.

Mrs. Allen, the neighborhood secretary has served Twin Falls scouting program for almost five years. She has led a junior troop, which is sponsored by and meets in the First Christian church in addition to her neighborhood duties as secretary. Mrs. Allen has two daughters in scouting.

Mrs. Hartz has been involved in Scouting for 16 years, having been in the program as first in Idaho Falls and in the campus program in Pocatello. As a troop organizer she forms the individual troops and keeps them going by obtaining support of parents and the community, recruits leaders and places girls in troops.

She also is neighborhood cookie chairman, coordinating individual leaders and supervising sales. Proceeds of the cookie sale support the Girl Scout camps and wider activities offered the older scouts.

The foundation of the active scouting program, Mrs. Bennett says, is interested adult leadership. Troop leaders on the routine level for ages 5 through 12 are Kaye Joann, Chaffin, Penny Howe, Annette Coy, Peg Quessell and Elaine Hedges.

Other Brownie leaders include Gail Herman, Landon Drexler, Lorraine British and Marilyn Swanson.

Leaders for the Junior level, ages 11 through 14 in Twin Falls are Marie Thomas, Ruby Peterson, Karen Stewart, Esther Hynes, Wilma Allen, Barbara Davis, Billie Thornton, Donna Crist and Dorothy Gies.

A leader for the Cadettes, 15 through 18, and the seniors, 19 through 21, are Mary Bennett and Jan Kelly.

6 years old

TWIN FALLS — Girl Scouting was organized in Twin Falls six years ago, with two registered adults and 10 girls.

At that time Twin Falls was associated with Neighborhood 48 in Jerome County. Two years ago Twin Falls became an independent neighborhood and now is known as Neighborhood 191A District 11 of the Silver Sage Council.

The council includes six districts encompassing parts of southern Idaho, eastern Oregon and a small portion of Nevada.

This year Twin Falls County has 45 registered Girl Scout adult leaders and 487 girls.

Chairmen in some of the other neighborhoods in Magic Valley include Mrs. Gary Cook at Jerome; Mrs. Albert Johnson in Gooding; Mrs. H. L. Abough-Hinley; and Mrs. Sunny Barbury.

Camping available for all

TWIN FALLS — Camping opportunities are available to all Girl Scout age groups in the Silver Sage Council of Idaho.

Trips in all divisions of the program are seven. An opportunity to attend a week of camping in one of the several established Girl Scout camps is the first.

These include Camp Tandy in the Caribou National Forest, 17 miles south of Pocatello, or Camp Ta-Ma-Na-Wis, also in the Caribou National Forest about 35 miles east of Idaho Falls.

There is also Camp Alice Detweiler on the shore of Payette Lake near McCall, a favorite of managers, the girls, and the day-camping facilities in mountain areas around Twin Falls.

Additional information about camping program may be obtained by calling Girl Scout camping officials at 733-0832 or 733-9552.

Medic explains causes of muscle spasm

Dear Dr. Thosteson: What causes muscle spasm? — G. R. M.

Muscle spasm is the direct result of a complex chemical process that takes place when the muscles are used. Normally, the body is able to complete the process without any problem or we would be nothing but a mass of aches and pains all of our lives.

When we use the muscles, we are converting chemical energy into physical energy. In this case, chemicals such as starch and glucose and carbohydrates, in any exchange such as this, there is a waste product left over. With the muscles, it is lactic acid. It is a case of producing the acid faster than it can be taken away by the body's waste removal systems.

When this happens, minerals, particularly sodium and potassium, are thrown out of balance. The result of this is that certain imbalances are reached, causing the muscle to contract and give the feeling of a spasm.

Sometimes the amount of lactic acid is so excessive, a pair of muscles used extensively during the day may continue to contract at rest and the result can be the spasm.

It is not difficult to correct the problem if a spasm occurs in the foot while lying down, simply stand on the foot. For some reason, utilizing the opposing muscle, muscles always in pairs, seems to counteract such a spasm.

Your good health

Dr. Thosteson

Often a firm massage will help, and aspirin or an equivalent will cause the ache to subside. If spasms occur frequently, a small dose of magnesium sulfate (about three grams) will be helpful. Your diet should include, usually, a hot tub bath will also stimulate. The expectation and the process of removing the so-called waste product referred to will take place.

I suspect there will be a number of complaints concerning new systems of shoes. The advent of the new platform shoes which put muscles in positions no one ever intended them to be put in.

Dear Dr. Thosteson: I had a Pap smear and the doctor's nurse called and told me the results came back and I was Class 2 and I should have another Pap test in three months.

My question is, can I have abnormal cancer cells in my body and they wait to check and see if these are dormant or are growing. Am I correct? — B. L. C.

No, you're not. Class 2 means that some abnormal cells were found in the smear, but not cancer cells. Because they were abnormal, the sensible thing to wait a few months, then have a smear and see whether the abnormality has corrected itself, or is getting worse.

Class 1 means normal cells, Class 3 means highly suspicious, Class 4 means definitely cancerous. But Class 2 is an intermediate which says there's something and mean nothing, so another look is in order.

Dear Dr. Thosteson: My husband has a "hypertension" diagnosis. He has to be out on the street. Will there be a cure? — Mrs. L. M.

There's a very small section in the section, and I doubt if you would even be able to see it.

Note to Mrs. L. M.: Hypertension may be induced by nervous tension but may be caused by nerves. While there is no specific curative medical treatment, can limit the severity and discomfort.

High blood pressure can be controlled. To find out what causes high blood pressure and what can be done to treat it, get "Controlling Your Blood Pressure (Hypertension)" by Dr. Thosteson. To obtain a copy of this helpful booklet, write to him in care of this newspaper.

Send me 48 cents in cash and a long, self-addressed return envelope. Scanned and mailed. Dr. Thosteson welcomes all reader mail but regrets that, due to the tremendous volume received daily, he is unable to answer individual letters. Readers' questions are incorporated in the column whenever possible.

Aide no longer to hire women

BOISE (UPI) — The Idaho State Penitentiary has discontinued hiring women correctional officers because female officers cannot be worked like men.

Bill Crowl, associate administrator of security, said women officers total six of the 125 correctional officers at the prison.

"They can call a woman they want to discipline or fire any day," Crowl said. "But we're finding out you can't work a female officer like a man. Crowl feels the program to hire women guards started in 1967, has failed.

"I can't work a woman just anywhere," he said. "I can't work them in the canteens where the men take baths. We'd never fire her."

He said about one-half of the total prison staff is needed for canteens, many of the inmates are women anywhere to work

"If we had a situation where the inmates got violent, she couldn't handle it. It's a risk I can't justify taking. A man at least has some chance," Crowl said.

Consequently, if new hire women must be assigned to the most usually considered preferred assignments, such as desk job, work in the kitchen or in the canteen, training times and the meal room — all positions sought by the male guards.

BILL HARDING, Jerome, may have a new career ahead. This bull, while not the largest, was no doubt the quickest in Mexico, but Harding displayed a natural talent as a matador at the La Venta bullring, Guadaluajara, during the Times-News Magic Carpet tour. Mr. and Mrs. Hanson, Nelscott, Gooding, top right, were among the 76 valley residents recently completing the tour.

Magic Carpet tour back

TWIN FALLS—Seventy-six Magic Carpet tour members have returned from sunny Mexico and the Times-News sponsored Magic Carpet tour. The group left Twin Falls Feb. 16 for a winter vacation trip to warmer climates. Four nights were spent in Mexico City, one of the largest cities in the western hemisphere. Here the group's residence toured historical landmarks of earlier civilizations. Another three nights were spent in Guadaluajara, Mexico's second largest city. Parks, scenic spots, flowers, fountains, Home of the Mariachis and markets featuring Mexican made handicrafts were visited. From there the group went to Manzanillo for another three nights. This is one of Mexico's most beautiful tropical regions with coconut palms and open beaches. The tour left Twin Falls by Hughes Aircraft at 9:30 a.m. and arrived in Mexico City late the same afternoon. Points of interest during the first portion of the trip was a visit to the pyramids of Teotihuacan. Other points of interest included the Aztec and Temple of Quetzalcoatl, and the Shrine of Guadaluapa and the monastery of San Augustin acolman. Other excursions in tours included Tlaxcoaque Village, and Chapala Lake and the village of Ajijic where many tour members purchased souvenirs of embroidery and hand bleached cotton and wool fabrics. At Manzanillo, the group enjoyed the Pacific Ocean and the tropical swimming in the tropical resort of Toca del Mar. The tour ended Feb. 26 when the group headed back toward Blaine's Salt Lake City and Twin Falls.

Girl Scouts observe 62nd anniversary with special events

TF girls plan displays

TWIN FALLS — Displays celebrating the 62nd anniversary of Girl Scouting in the United States will be on display in downtown Twin Falls this week.

There will also be special projects and displays in the downtown area. The girls will also take advantage of this occasion to say "Thank you" to the adults who have helped them in their lives.

Scoutiness not only teaches the girls to develop values and individual worth, but it can also help the young women develop skills and interests which will help her select a career or vocation in the future.

At the 21st World Conference of Girl Scouts held in Toronto, Canada, last summer, the girls met to consider ideas from Girl Guides and Scouts to help expand and improve Girl Scout programs in all countries where Girl Scouting or Girl Guide organizations function.

Almost 90 countries participated in the conference and the exchange program is now underway in all of these countries.

Some of the projects include the special anniversary program called P.A.F.E. (Planning Ahead For A Girl Scout) which is a study of the Girl Scout program in the past, present and future.

Through the international exchange program sponsored by Girl Scouts of the United States of America and Girl Scouts of the United States of America, the girls will have the opportunity to share their own experiences with other girls from other countries.

Voluntary contributions of Girl Scouts around the United States, most of them in the form of gifts, are being sent to the girls.

Girl Scouts help with cleaning

SPECIAL THINGS, for the 62nd anniversary of Girl Scouting in the United States, will be on display in downtown Twin Falls this week. The girls will also take advantage of this occasion to say "Thank you" to the adults who have helped them in their lives.

Each month a birthday cake will be baked for the girls, honoring those with birthday birthdays during the year.

At left, the Senior Citizens Center is being cleaned up with Mary Ellen Bennett, Kathy Stewart and Marlene Allen on the top and bottom.

Seniors help younger girls

Girls give games to Head Start

TWIN FALLS — Members of Junior Girl Scout Troop 466 have made toys for the children at the Head Start classes in the old St. Edward's Catholic school.

Leaders Marie Thorne and Ruby Petersen said the girls first decided which toys and games would be suitable for that age and which materials would be safe to use.

They spent four afternoons of their weekly meetings making the toys and games, fulfilling all the requirements to give the toys to the children.

They helped wrap and pack them and delivered them to the children earlier this month.

Troop members include Susan Engelhart, Kandace Sample, Michelle Petersen, Beina Thorne, Carla Edwards, Wanda Farley, Lora Tewalt, Debbie Clawson and Rhonda Chaffin.

12-year span

REPRESENTING the four age levels of Scouting from 6 through 18, are from left, Christine Hoopes, Pam Kirschewitz, Jennifer Roberts and Diane Bennett. Citizenship is one of the major emphasis of the Girl Scout program and in the Twin Falls area, as throughout other Magic Valley communities, Scouts participate in community service projects of many kinds, some of which are illustrated on these pages.

Energy crisis helps appreciation of home

By GEORGE ABRAHAM
HOME SWEET HOME: The energy crisis is having one healthy effect on our lives. It's taught us the importance of the coziness there is in being at home. If your home is your castle:

It took less gas to make appreciate our homes more. The automobile broke up the family. Years ago the whole family used to sit on the front porch and watch the world go by.

Then the car came along and we were porch sitting and carbon patterning. People got off front porches and new homes were designed without them. The whole family took to the road.

Now that we have no gas, let's slow down. Let's have our home and wake up and live. Let's appreciate the backyard. Let's have a living in a hammock, stretched between two cooling trees, reading a book or a paper.

Use your backyard estate for roasting corn and hot dogs. Improve your mind and body by mulching with flowers, vegetables or shrubs.

Build yourself a little water pool and watch the fish weaving among the water lilies.

Relax in your favorite chair and watch a record busily reading the computer in the nest above your head.

Watch a hummingbird fly. Watch a bird forming a nest, sucking about, nesting, feeding, putting a blossom.

Tune in on the sweet notes of a song sparrow singing down from a pine or oak or maple.

And for a real thrill arise early in the morning and behold the shimmering diamonds on the dew-saturated blades of grass.

After the morning sun glances the dew away, let the feel of industry in your own bare feet on blades of cool, soft grass.

As the season advances, get high on the taste of fresh, supple, fruited, or a chin-trickling tomato plucked from your own plants. Enjoy the beauty of flowers raised by your own efforts.

You say you don't have a back yard? Then build yourself a window box, fill it with soil, press it, you've got yourself a miniature soil-belted ridge with three basic elements—food, water, and cover—enough to support a microcosm of life.

Spend your leisure time in your own back yard. It's a lot more enjoyable than watching traffic on a closed highway, waiting in line for a stretch of fuel.

Gardening: America's No. 1 hobby, just might be the one factor that will save our homes and family. With the gas shortage, let's get back on the road to sanity, and stay home!

By C. O. A. McLENNAN
Cyclamen, sometimes called the snowflake, is one of the showiest house plants we have.

This is one house plant that enjoys the sun—especially because it's a cool room plant.

Grow your plant as cool as possible during the day, and at night you can even move it to a 50-degree room. Avoid direct sun, but give it a bright window.

Water the cyclamen daily as it is watered. But do not happen to forget watering. Fowers and flowers will start to wilt.

Now, let's get on to the next item on our list—a plant of water for half an hour or so. Cyclamen likes moist drainage. It cannot tolerate wet feet for any length of time.

Yellowing of leaves is due to high room temperature, lack of light or dry soil. After your plant begins blossoming, start using the curtain if a slanted light is better by avoiding direct water. Place it in the basement and fall.

At that time, scrape off the upper inch or so of soil and replace with a fresh mixture composed of equal parts of peat and sand. Avoid watering the plant while it is in this soil.

You can start new plants from seed. Florists sow seed in a mixture of sand and peat, transplant seedlings into a loose mixture, and get flowering plants 12 months later.

We understand that the University of Minnesota has developed a fast-crop program for growing cyclamen. The seed for this program is sown in August, they start seed in the dark in April at a temperature of 66 degrees and below 72. Temperatures above this inhibit germination.

Green Thumb

Seedlings are kept at a 55 degree night temperature until they are 1 1/2 inches tall when it is lowered to 65 degrees. Temperature is again dropped to 62 degrees on October 1st. The plants should blossom in Christmas.

THE BEST TOMATO. We're often asked which is the best tomato, the answer, there is not one tomato that is best for everyone. A good early and a good late tomato is the best.

Supersome is the best. It starts coming on early and this is followed by Supersome, a mid-season type that produces a lot of round fruit right up until frost.

Both are resistant to fungus and verticillium wilt. Both can last the longest in the garden. Supersome is quite resistant to cracks in skin. Supersome B has even better crack tolerance, but starts to bear a little later than the regular Supersome.

All in all, regular Supersome is still the general favorite. There are many other good varieties such as Big Boy Heinz, which are more resistant to late blight. When you select, you find varieties suitable for your garden. It's a good idea to suck with them.

QUESTION BOX
Q. I have a lot of THE WEEBIE P-R of Twin Falls. Will you please let us now to acquire your sunflower seeds. We have any way to get the seeds.

A. We don't know of a practical way to get them. One way to get around the problem of shelling is to sprout the seed. Here's how one reader does it: Put about 4 or 5 layers in a pint jar with a cover with water, and let stand for 24 hours. Pour off the water.

About 3 times a day, rinse them with water. Keep them in a paper bag in a cool, dry, shady place. The shells often fall off as they are pulled off.

They make the most delicious salad and are healthier, if eaten raw. The seeds must be at least 6 months old to sprout.

To make it easier to pour off the water 4 times a day put a piece of cheesecloth over the top with a rubber band. Do any one have a better method?

Another reader tells us she sprouts using alfalfa and wheat seeds in a jar. She says the key of her success is to drain the seeds and change the water.

She says she has had them happen to have a bad electric stove, that's out. It takes about 4 cups of mine-bred sprouts to fill a 1/2 gallon jar.

When rinsing morning and evening, it's a good idea to use water that is at the right temperature.

US economics, mores hinder women's jobs

By SUSAN FOGG

(C) Newhouse News Service
WASHINGTON—Jobs for single-welfare mothers might be the ideal solution to the welfare mess, but a key administration official says a combination of economic and political realities make it unlikely the nation will put these women to work.

But the women with young children have a right to stay home, dependent on husbands or the state, has been shaken over the past decade by rising rates of divorce, and declining rates of economic work force participation by women at all economic levels.

But the sanctity and worth of motherhood still has credibility for many Americans, and moreover, putting welfare mothers with preschool children to work may cost far more than society can afford, says Tom Miller, Education and Welfare (HEW) deputy assistant secretary for welfare legislation.

Although details of the administration's welfare reform proposal, promised in President Nixon's State of the Union address, have not been worked out, Mrs. Miller said that the program will be modeled on some form of a guaranteed annual income plan.

Such income maintenance schemes are being tested in New York and California, and since welfare recipients get a job without losing a welfare dollar for each dollar earned, work incentives applied to welfare families have been broadly successful, but Mrs. Miller proved in an interview that they may do little to reduce the dependency of single mothers on welfare.

Discussing the work of two economists at Ford Foundation Urban Institute, a think tank, Mrs. Miller agreed that welfare mothers should be striving for economic independence through jobs, as mothers with children under 18 are doing in France and Germany.

But a host of problems beset any such effort to get welfare mothers, especially those with children under 6, off the dole and into jobs, Mrs. Miller said.

"The most apparent is the burden of preschool children. Establishment of day-care centers to tend the children while their mothers worked has been suggested in some quarters, but Mrs. Miller, like economists Heather Ross and Isobel C. Sawhill of the Urban Institute, says the costs would be astronomical—$1,200 to $2,000 a year, on average," Mrs. Miller said.

There are 3.1 million children under 6 years of age on welfare.

"I doubt Mrs. Miller could say we're ever going to be able to afford, politically or economically, to put welfare clients with children below age 6 to work."

"Even if we could afford day care, the jobs aren't there now, and I doubt that the job market will ever be that good."

Government-financed public service employment is one way to create jobs, but again the costs are enormous—a job paying $4,200 a year would likely cost $4,600, Mrs. Miller said.

"Another approach to creating jobs for welfare mothers could be worked out through the Social Security Administration that operates benefit programs for the retired and the disabled as well as the poor," she said.

Arizona's program, in which Arizona matched up welfare clients with aged or disabled recipients who needed home care, helped with home care, and provided job opportunities.

Welfare mothers could increase in benefits, and states could use the money it might have had to spend to institutions on the aged or disabled.

Of course, older welfare recipients are willing to take these jobs, but the younger ones need reassurance that if they're doing work, that it could lead to a job as a nurse's aide, a dietitian, something like that," Mrs. Miller said.

Stripped family planning programs, subsidized by the government, could cut illegitimacy rates, she said.

Nine per cent of the rise in welfare-dependent families among whites in the 1970s was caused by children born out of wedlock and 23 per cent of the increase among blacks, according to the Ross-Sawhill economists.

But making such programs available where they might have the most impact through the schools could be a political bombshell, Mrs. Miller said. However, any welfare reform package to emerge from congress will have to provide family planning for married welfare mothers, she said.

A combination of public service jobs administered through social security, reduced work requirements for welfare mothers whose children are in school, and new means of administering support payments due women whose husbands have abandoned them are probably political necessities for any welfare reform to pass congress.

Democratic Sen. Russel Long, chairman of the senate finance committee that will oversee welfare reform next year of the top-level thinking along these lines, Mrs. Miller said.

He said to preferential treatment for such kinds of families in government job training and placement programs in the 23 states where welfare is offered to intact families also would help women and jobs, Mrs. Miller said.

She also favors programs to encourage state employment agencies, which often are understaffed, to offer compensation to great welfare clients, even landlady once they register for work.

"These agencies often do not know how to help welfare clients just in terms of teaching them some basics about getting a job, dressing up for the interview, getting there on time, filling out forms and the like," she said.

But none of these initiatives is likely to enable all those on the welfare rolls to become self-supporting, Mrs. Miller said. The costs are too great, at least in the short haul, to make it possible to put welfare mothers with young children to work with any economy of equity, Mrs. Miller said.

A: L.A. San Francisco, Calif.

A Peck, 57 years old and the acting business hasn't been particularly kind to him since he stepped down from the "Hillbilly Mockingbird" in 1962. Q: What can you tell us about Finbar Nolan, the "Faith healer" — St. Louis, Mo.
A: He is the 21-year-old son of a retired Irish police constable and has been heralded in Ireland as having special powers since age two when the locals in County Cavan, noted he was the seventh son of a seventh son. Many highly heralded "supers" have been attributed to him but Finbar dislikes being called a "faith healer." He says his power has nothing to do with religion. "I believe in God, something I can't pretend to understand. I don't work on the wire and you'd think I can't say why. He likes flashy clothes, fast cars, and has covered several million dollars' worth of never-ending but nice second gifts."

Q: How does Jack Anderson pick up all his dirt? — N. M. Baltimore, Md.
A: The muck-raking columnist, whose revelations about political corruption have been "a source" of embarrassment to many in Washington, has a number of top-notch highly paid reporters working for him. He also has key people in various places in government who feed him information, but Anderson also uses his "nine" children. Recently he sent them all over Washington looking for the cars being used by the Attorney General in charge of internal security. This dirt cost Anderson a penny and resulted in one of his top information columns.

Q: Can you explain why the Pope (ared the retirement of Cardinal Mindszenty? — H. W. Cleveland, Ohio.
A: Mindszenty, 67, long by living in Austria with the Archbishop of Vienna, Zver since he accepted safe passage to the West two years ago after spending 15 years in Soviet imposed exile in the American Embassy in Budapest. Though the Vatican grants him his courage, Mindszenty's insistence on remaining in Hungary until Hungary's free elections has blocked the Vatican's policy of trying to help an estimated 60,000,000 Roman Catholics remain in the Communist bloc. The Pope has once he promised Mindszenty he could always remain in Hungary, but in a letter to the Cardinal, His Holiness said he would not be allowed to stay in Hungary, suffering for his faith. However, the Pope feels the fate of all those Catholics is more important than Mindszenty's non-functioning life in the West.

Q: I've been reading interviews that Mrs. Rose Kennedy has given to the press in connection with her recently published memoirs. Do reporters find her easy to talk to? — H. L., Tampa, Fla.
A: Not particularly. The 84-year-old matriarch of the Kennedy clan is always gracious but somewhat remote. Before interviews come from Mrs. Kennedy's staff usually ends to warn about her reactions to the death of her children, about Chappaquiddick, or about money.

Q: And I'd like to know how she got on with her various wives? — G. S. Memphis, Tenn.

Then there are two with Christine Kaufman, wife number two. 27-year-old Alexandria and 7-year-old Margaret. She has a stepdaughter, third wife Leslie Allen, Nicholas who is 4, and the baby, Emanuel Benjamin.

Q: What is the state of Women's Liberation in Israel? That's terrible. — J. P. New York, N.Y.
A: It's practically nonexistent in some women's publications like "Emanation" and "The Women's Voice" which are the only two viable ones in Israel. In a recently won battle against the country's patriarchal women's civil rights are still under secular law which denies many rights to Israeli women. For instance a woman cannot divorce her husband even if he refuses to jail as a convicted murderer. By law she is her husband's property. Mrs. Aloni, mother of three, wants to divorce her husband in Israel as a first step in women's liberation there.

VANESSA REDGRAVE
time-out for politics

QUESTION YOU NEVER ASKED: Why are London theater folk so glib with Vanessa Redgrave? Vanessa signed a run-of-the-play contract for Noel Coward's "Design for Living" but has refused to run for the office of Mayor of London. She is a candidate for the Workers Revolutionary Party. The producers will have to drop her unless she agrees to run. What do you want to see Vanessa out of the theater? Fellow actors feel this is unfair to the rest of the production.

Q: I know Diana Rigg's TV show was dropped because it wasn't any good, but how could such a talented actress get herself involved in such a lousy one? — E. J. Pass, Tex.
A: The main reason for the fiasco was that the scripts weren't any good and weren't right for Diana either. She wanted to join her best friend, and when she did there was one wild blowup with a lot of bruised egos around. Unfortunately, by the time Diana got out of her contract the 13 weeks were up and there was no interest in renewing the program.

A: We don't know how sinister but the behavior of the Soviet Embassy in Washington water gate is an act of voiding terms and the Collection of Soviet Documents in the name of a "Washington" advantage over an enemy.

We want the Y.M.C.A. pool . . .

Now

Someone has said that we should always remember that the time we are living in now will one day be looked upon as the "Good Old Days". Over the years of discussion about the pool there was always the feeling "we are not ready" and while those years passed by more of our children grew up without knowing how to swim, more of our young people found trouble in place of wholesome activity, more of our adults missed the opportunity to swim with their families. Perhaps there is never a right time, only we believe the time is now! It's action or else it's failure.

We are asking firms and individuals for at least $1000.00 or more if they can see their way clear. We have already received the following contributions:

Mr. & Mrs. James W. Henry . . . . .	25,000.00
Mr. & Mrs. Bill Howard, Publ. of Times-News . . . . .	1,000.00
