Brezhnev, Kissinger in jovial mood Brezhnev eyes accord from SALT this year

MOSCOW (UPI) — Soviet leader Leonid Brezhnev opened talks today with U.S. Secretary of State Henry A. Kissinger and expressed hope of reaching a new strategic arms limitation (SALT) agreement this year.

The Communist Party general secretary made the comment to newsmen just before a three-hour meeting at the Kremlin with Kissinger.

Kissinger later said both sides are determined to overcome obstacles to better Soviet-American relations, including domestic criticism in the United States to the effect that détente is working to Soviet advantage.

"This period of cooperation of dealing with each other cooperatively and fairly, which was started two years ago, has gained momentum and will continue," Kissinger told a luncheon given by Foreign Minister Andrei A. Gromyko.

Kissinger said obstacles to this cooperation arise but, "We are determined to remove them. Occasionally we find domestic criticism, but we are determined to overcome it."

Kissinger said that the greatest goal of the Nixon administration is that "over the next three years we can make the relationship that has grown up between us into a people-to-people irrevocable."

The Kissinger visit is expected to pave the way for Russian visit by President Nixon. While agreement on a new arms limitation agreement will be the main issue in the three days of talks, other problems include differences on trade and the Middle East that have cooled the détente cooperation between the two powers.

Subpoena reply delayed 4 days

(c) Washington Star-News

WASHINGTON — The Watergate special prosecutor's office today extended until Friday the deadline for a subpoena served on the White House 10 days ago, delaying a possible court showdown.

A spokesman for Special Prosecutor Leon Jaworski said in a statement that presidential attorney James D. St. Clair had requested "a few more days in which to consider" the special prosecutor's request for "material related to Watergate."

The statement said, "In agreeing to the White House request, Mr. Jaworski emphasized the grand jury's need for the material covered under this subpoena."

While the prosecutors have not revealed what they called for in their subpoena, they have acknowledged that it deals with investigations in which indictments have not yet been returned. Major indictments already have been returned in the Watergate cover-up and Ellsberg burglary cases.

Jaworski's office has said it is ready to go to court to begin its attempt to force compliance if the President turns down the subpoena as he did the demand for tapes and documents last July.

Communist theory has been charged for the House Judiciary Committee to receive the Watergate grand jury report, which details President Nixon's relationship to the Watergate cover-up a year today after the initial Attorney for two former White House aides

Sunday gave up their fight to keep the report from the committee's hands.

John J. Wilson, attorney for former presidential assistant H. R. Haldeman, said he and John M. Bray, attorney for former White House aide Gordon C. Strachan, would take no further steps to challenge the committee's access to the report.

Wilson and Bray had asked the US Court of Appeals to overturn a ruling by US District Judge John J. Sirica that the committee was legally entitled to the annual report. On Thursday, however, the appellate court turned them down.

In a 5-1 opinion, the court agreed with Sirica that there were no legal bars to the report going to the committee, but said Wilson and Bray until 5 p.m. today to take their case to the Supreme Court.

The attorneys indicated Thursday they would not go to the highest court, however.

The report, or "presentment," consists of three parts that include a letter stating the grand jury's wish that evidence it had gathered relating to the President be forwarded to the house impeachment inquiry, an "index" of the evidence and a briefcase containing the evidence itself.

The separation of the annual report, according to informed sources, was deemed necessary because the grand jurors concluded at the end of their investigation that evidence presented to them was pertinent to the judiciary committee's investigation.

Hearst giveaway resumes

SAN FRANCISCO (UPI) — Urging recipients to "bring shipping costs," a revamped and expanded $2 million Hearst food ransom giveaway resumed today to try to convince Patricia Hearst's kidnapers to free her.

The latest distribution was the fifth since Patricia was kidnaped seven weeks ago and the SLA demanded the distribution as a "good faith gesture." It took place at 17 outlets throughout the San Francisco-Bay Area.

Cronkite raps press attacks

CHICAGO (UPI) — News anchor Walter Cronkite Sunday accused the Nixon administration of trying to undermine the press despite Constitutional guarantees of freedom.

Cronkite said newspapers and television are criticized for their efforts to maintain scrutiny of the activities of government agencies, are denounced and their reporters are subjected to investigation or other harassment.

Heavy losses in Cambodia clashes

PHNOM PENH (UPI) — Government and insurgent forces engaged in heavy fighting today on two sides of the former royal capital of Oudong, which fell to rebel forces one week ago on the fourth anniversary of the overthrow of Prince Norodom Sihanouk.

Field reporters said casualties were heavy on both sides in clashes east and west of the city.

Reds launch Mekong delta drive

SAIGON (UPI) — Communist forces broke off major fighting north of Saigon but launched heavy new attacks in the Mekong Delta, the Saigon command said today.

Four stiff fights were reported around Cang Long district capital, 50 miles south of Saigon just below the Mekong River mouth, the command said.

Amin purges Ugandan army

NAIROBI (UPI) — President Idi Amin of Uganda has purged at least 300 army officers following a weekend tribal battle between military units in Kampala, western Uganda, diplomatic sources said today.

They said the fighting was provoked by Amin trying to purge the army of dissident officers and the officers themselves trying to overthrow the flamboyant former sergeant-major and champion boxer.

N. Korea seeks peace talks

TOKYO (UPI) — North Korea asked the United States today to discuss the question of replacing the existing military armistice agreement with a peace agreement, said North Korean Foreign Minister Ho Nam.

"We formally propose to the United States of America to discuss the question of replacing the existing military armistice agreement with a peace agreement," said North Korean Foreign Minister Ho Nam.

Crash kills Burlley girl

BURLEY — Kathy Turner, 5, was killed instantly about 4:50 p.m. Saturday when she was struck by an automobile.

The little girl rode her bicycle from the driveway of the Warren Miller residence where she was visiting onto a county road south of Burley. She rode into the path of a car driven by Carolyn Bryan, 31, Burley, according to Cassia County Deputy Sheriff Don Green.

The child was the daughter of Gary and Clara Turner.

Demos seek tax cut

WASHINGTON (UPI) — Democrats on the Congressional Joint Economic Committee today called for a 10 percent tax cut to stimulate the economy out of what they said was a recession, but Republicans said it would be inflationary and ill-advised.

The investigations came in the group's annual report to the President's economic policy and suggestions to the Congress.

Chairman Wright Patman, D-Texas, said the bill would be "a major step toward the administration of a policy that ignores the problem of inflation."

He said the Nixon fiscal policies would "permit the burdens of a slowdown in economic activity, including a rise in unemployment to fall upon low and middle-income families with no effort to maintain employment or to raise the level of benefits paid to those who do become unemployed."

He said that unless steps were taken "quickly to halt recession, unemployment is likely to exceed 10 percent throughout the second half of this year."

Republicans on the committee, headed by Sen. Jacob K. Javits, R-N.Y., issued a minority report edging inflation as the main problem facing the nation this year.

"We believe fiscal stimulus in the form of a tax cut would be ill-advised and inflationary at this time," Javits said.

The Republican said contingency plans for a greater stimulus of the economy should be held "in reserve" and implemented "if there are no signs of an economic upturn especially in housing and automobile by the late second quarter of this year."

Irked shopper retaliates

MINNAPOLIS — A byer of shopper threw a bucket of water at a store clerk Saturday when the store reportedly ran out of an advertised special.

When Jay's Sav-on Foods reportedly ran out of the coffee special, the 19-year-old youth returned to the store with a large plastic bucket of water and threw the water at one of the female check-out clerks.

The young man then left the supermarket and began to run across the shopping center parking lot, bucket in hand. As the reporter came out of a nearby drug store, the water thrower was chased across Fillmore Street and down an alley, with two of the store's male employees in pursuit.

The grocery clerks later collared the juvenile and turned him over to police.

The victim of the water attack, however, declined to press charges and the young man was released. Police said the water thrower was 14 years old.

The manager of Jay's refused to discuss the incident, but a store clerk said the shopper became angry when he found advertised coffee sold out.

Last Wednesday, the market had advertised three pounds of Folger's coffee for $2.89 with coupon. The offer was advertised as good through Saturday.

Shells rip Golan

By United Press International

Artillery fire exploded in the Golan Heights between Syria and Israel for the 14th straight day today, Egyptian diplomatic sources said there must be a disengagement agreement there before further talks between Egypt and Israel.

Born Israeli and Syrian spokesmen reported the new firing in what appeared to be attrition fighting preceding the disengagement talks.

The Israeli newspaper Yediot Aharonot said Syria rejected a United Nations truce observer proposal to stop the clashes for a week, while Israel "immediately responded positively."

A Syrian communique said Arab gunners scored direct hits on an Israeli observation post at Tel Al-Farak in the southern sector of the Golan Heights Sunday.

Utah crash claims former MV couple

CEGAR CITY (UPI) — Robert Jones, 29, and his wife, Janet, 26, both Battle Mountain, Nev., died along with another Battle Mountain couple in the crash of a light plane Saturday.

Mr. and Mrs. Jones were former Hurley-Rupert area residents. The other couple, Mr. and Mrs. Alan K. Elquist, were Battle Mountain residents. Elquist was the pilot of the light plane.

Utah Highway Patrol officers said the plane disappeared Saturday morning after stopping at Cedar City to refuel while on a flight from Battle Mountain to Gallup, N. Mex. The wreckage was spotted near Cedar Breaks National Monument after a signal beacon from the plane was heard. All four victims were apparently killed instantly, according to authorities.

The plane apparently lost power, hit two large aspen trees and came to rest against another tree in rough terrain, covered by heavy snow about five miles southeast of Cedar Breaks. The engine of the plane dug into the ground about a quarter mile off Utah Highway 14.

'Gate conciliation time here, probe aide says

WASHINGTON (UPI) — Declaring the time for conciliation is at hand, Vice Chairman Howard Baker of the Senate Watergate committee urged Sunday that House investigators and the White House both "give a little" on demands for 42 presidential tapes.

"If there is any reasonable claim that those tapes or any other documents are relevant, I think the President ought to give them," said Baker. "That would better serve the institution of the presidency and certainly the country. However, the Tennessee Republican said the House Judiciary Committee ought to honor whatever reasonable requests the President makes, such as the presence of counsel in the principal deliberations and investigations of the committee."

Lawyers for former presidential aide H.R. Haldeman and Gordon Strachan, both Watergate defendants, said Sunday they did not plan to appeal to the Supreme Court today and appeals court ruling that the House Judiciary Committee must receive a sealed grand jury report purportedly dealing with Nixon's handling of the Watergate cover-up.

Both men had until 5 p.m. today to make their decisions. The committee, inquiring into possible grounds for impeaching Nixon, is considering sending a subpoena to the White House if Nixon does not surrender them voluntarily, and Nixon has said he will not because many of them are not relevant to the investigation.

"The time for conciliation is at hand," said Baker in an interview on CBS' Face the Nation. He said there was a "compelling responsibility on the part of the House and the President to give a little ... otherwise he'll have a terribly terrible unpleasant experience regardless of the outcome."

The most important question the tapes might resolve, said Baker, was the one of "hush money" for the Watergate burglars discussed in a March 21, 1973, taped conversation with White House counsel John W. Dean III.

"The country would be hugely better off if we could simply hear that tape," Baker said. "I think the most important thing the President can do right now is to decide what the appropriate will make these judgments."

SEN. HOWARD BAKER 'give a little'

Baker probing CIA scandal links

WASHINGTON (UPI) — Sen. Howard Baker, R-Tenn., who became well-known last summer during the Senate Watergate hearings for two questions he repeated to various witnesses, now has three questions on the subject involving the CIA.

Baker is trying to determine what, if any, involvement the Central Intelligence Agency had in the Watergate affair, at whose instructions and what was the effect on the situation.

The senator disclosed on the CBS program Face the Nation Sunday he had submitted to the Watergate Committee, of which he is vice chairman, an extensive report on the question of possible CIA involvement in the Watergate cover-up. The report was the result of a personal investigation he said.

However, Baker said he had some information which he was not at liberty to discuss at the present. But he did say the report was not about some CIA tapes which were destroyed. About the report, he said:

"I do say there are aspects of the involvement of the CIA in the Watergate case, June 17, 1972, that require further inquiry."

"I'm simply trying to find out what if any involvement the CIA had in Watergate, at whose instruction and belief and what effect, if any, it had on the totality of the situation."

Bike, foot paths assured US funds

WASHINGTON (UPI) — Some federal highway money can be used in the future to construct bikeways and walkways, the government announced Sunday.

The Transportation Department said the new program permits use of any federal highway money, except money for state highway funds, for construction of cyclist and pedestrian facilities on the basis of 70 per cent federal money and 30 per cent state funds.

Federal Highway Administrator Norbert Tiemann said his department would actively encourage the state highway departments to take advantage of this opportunity to utilize federal-laid highway funds for the program because of the many worthwhile environmental, recreational and safety benefits involved.

Tiemann said the new program does not involve a separate fund for constructing bikeway and pedestrian ways, rather, it simply authorizes the use of funds appropriated for highways for such purposes at the discretion of the state agency administering the funds.

Other states have a terribly terrible unpleasant experience regardless of the outcome."

The most important question the tapes might resolve, said Baker, was the one of "hush money" for the Watergate burglars discussed in a March 21, 1973, taped conversation with White House counsel John W. Dean III.

"The country would be hugely better off if we could simply hear that tape," Baker said. "I think the most important thing the President can do right now is to decide what the appropriate will make these judgments."

Decoding offer set

WASHINGTON (UPI) — Two congressmen today offered to decode the military discharge papers of their colleagues.

The Defense Department said last week it no longer would code military papers so that the reason for discharge could be determined. The Pentagon decision, topped a long-dormant effort by Reps. F. Edward Hebert, D-La., Edward Koch, D-N.Y., and Les Aspin, D-Wis.

The congressmen said last year 35,000 servicemen were given SP3 (Separation Program Numbers), indicating unsatisfactory military service, and that in many cases the men were unaware they had such a specification on their discharge papers which could ruin their chances of getting jobs.

Adequate fuel brings cost up

WASHINGTON (UPI) — Americans should have more gasoline for mowing, vacation driving, but they will have to conserve fuel by observing the 55 m.p.h. speed limit and curbing use of their air conditioners.

In presenting this prospect Sunday, energy chief William P. Simon said predicted increases in gasoline prices would bring higher prices because of the resumption of imports of expensive Arabian oil. He said they would go as high as 75 cents per gallon in the northeast.

Interviewed on ABC's Issues and Answers, Simon said inflationists must carry on with conservation measures such as slower driving, less use of automobiles in congested areas, and not making unnecessary trips.

Americans into minimizing the depth of the energy shortage. The United States, Simon said, had demonstrated it could conserve fuel and had avoided the school closings, industrial shutdowns and the economic slump that some had predicted last fall.

"We have a lot of fat, a lot of waste, in our consumption in this country and with the marvelous cooperation of the American people and conservation efforts we showed that we can lick this thing and we did lick it with minimal economic impact," Simon said.

Administration sources have said President Nixon intends to name Simon to be Treasury secretary when George P. Shultz steps down in May. Asked about this, Simon said: "I have not been asked by President Nixon to become secretary of the Treasury. I consider the job that I have as one of the most important in my country, if not in the world."

WILLIAM SIMON sees price hike.

House eyes federal school aid

WASHINGTON (UPI) — Congress this week takes up campaign financing, federal school aid and possibly no-fault auto insurance with two of the bills being voted on by President Nixon and the Democratic-controlled legislative branch of government.

The House is scheduled to open debate Tuesday on school aid while the Senate takes up campaign spending. The Senate hopes to get to no-fault auto insurance late this week, possibly splitting its time between the two bills.

The President is adamantly against public financing because it amounts to taxation without representation because taxpayers would be taxed to support a candidate or a party he opposes.

Instead, Nixon wants to limit individual political contributions to $15,000 for any one presidential candidate and to $5,000 for a single congressional candidate.

Allen killed similar legislation last year with a filibuster and says "any year's bill" will be introduced.

The campaign bill, threatened with a filibuster by Sen. James B. Allen, D-Ala., would allow presidential and congressional candidates to use both public and private funds with most of them expected to use public money.

"should be debated at length." He contends public financing of campaigns would lead to voter apathy.

Troop size criticized

WASHINGTON (UPI) — Sen. Democratic Leader Mike Mansfield, longtime proponent of U.S. troop withdrawal from Europe, says a small military force in Berlin is all the United States needs to express its determination to defend the continent with nuclear power.

Mansfield said in an introductory report to the Senate that the 310,000 U.S. troops in western Europe, said there is no need for a large "American expeditionary force" 29 years after the end of World War II.

The campaign spending bill, a Watergate inspired measure, was promised a test of will between Nixon and the Democratic-controlled Congress. The fate of no-fault auto insurance — in which the Pentagon employe upgrade costly

WASHINGTON (UPI) — Rep. Les Aspin, D-Wis., says the upgrading of Civil Service workers at the Pentagon is costing more than $100 million a year.

Aspin, frequent critic of the Defense Department, said this figure was the conclusion of a House of Congress study made at his request.

Secretary of the Department of Defense James H. Schlesinger told Congress earlier "as with other federal agencies, the Department of Defense has over the long term experienced a persistent rise in the average grade of civilian position."

Aspin said Sunday unless the Pentagon "reduces its costs, Congress should cut the cost through a specific amendment to the defense budget."

Scientists study Mercury photos

PASADENA, Calif. (UPI) — Scientists worked today to compare the first close-up photographs of Mercury taken by still-distant Mariner 10, hoping to find something new enough to make public.

The cameras seem to be picking up a bright spot which may evolve into a prominent surface feature, a spokesman for Cal Tech's Jet Propulsion Laboratory said.

Scientists began a 10-day probe on Mercury. The 1,300-pound space explorer will make its closest approach Friday, streaking to within 416 miles of the planet's surface and transmitting back to Earth.

Martinez was to be about 2.5 million miles from Mercury at midday today.

The pictures received Sunday were taken from about 2.8 million miles but, and the planet appears small, about the size of a marble.

The scientist said the photos were being computer enhanced—a common process with televised space explorer pictures, involving highlighting the contrast to emphasize light and dark areas.

Mercury, from the more than 88,000 m.p.h. it reached earlier in the journey, it will surge picking up speed Thursday as it feels the pull of Mercury's gravitational field, which is weak because the planet is so small—about 50 per cent bigger than the earth's moon.

Abby Bridge

Abigail Van Buren

DEAR ABBY: For the last two years, my husband and I and our little son have been spending the Christmas holidays with my family (parents, sisters, brothers, etc.).

On Christmas morning everyone gathers in the living room and we all open our Christmas gifts under the tree. My son, except my husband. He refuses to open his presents at that time. He takes them home—still gift-wrapped, and opens one or two a week. It takes months before they're all opened. He says it spreads the excitement over a long period of time he enjoys it more than opening 25 or 30 gifts in a half hour and then experiencing a big letdown. He prefers to prolong the joys of Christmas as long as possible.

Christmas all year

I think it's rude to make people wait months to be thanked for a Christmas gift. (As of today, he still hasn't opened mine!) He says they are his gifts and he can open them whenever he feels like it. What do you think of this weirdo!

NEW MEXICO WIFE

DEAR WIFE: His behavior is somewhat strange, but he's right, they're his gifts to open whenever he feels like it. By now your family must be accustomed to this "peculiar" behavior. But it might comfort you to know that there's at least one more "weirdo" who likes to prolong the joys of Christmas.

DEAR ABBY: There is a nut who lives across the street from us who still has his Christmas ornaments up. People come from all over just to drive by his house and laugh. But it's not just a decorated tree out in front either. He's got Santa and the reindeer on the roof, and he holds his front porch and lawn are decorated with every kind of Christmas ornament you can imagine.

Wouldn't you think by this time he'd take that silly looking stuff down?

When the neighbors see him, they say, "Merry Christmas" (in March) and he responds with, "And a happy New Year!"

DISGUSTED IN PENNSYLVANIA

DEAR ABBY: I don't mean to carp, but I was bothered by one of your reader's references to being "gypped" and by the use of that word in the headline of your column.

It's a common but probably unintentional slur, for most people are unaware that the expression "gypped" comes from the word gypsy.

I am not a gypsy, but because of the connection between these two words, I am offended. Gypsies do stop using the word "gypped" as a synonym for cheat.

CONCERNED IN ANN ARBOR

DEAR CONCERNED: Even though according to Ted Bernstein, my expert on words, the expression "gypped" probably came from the word "gypsy," I doubt that even a gypsy would make a connection and feel maligned. In any case, I am not responsible for the headlines on my column. Your local editor is.

Problems? You'll feel better if you get it off your chest. For a personal reply, write to ABBY: Box No. 8719, E. A. C. Co., 2000 E. 10th St., Boise, Idaho 83720. Self-addressed envelopes please.

Will the chairs keep filled?

Granges still serve rural community despite many changes in farm life

By LARAYNE O. SMITH
Times-News writer

BUHL—What is the future of the Grange?

Can the farm-oriented lodge, whose ritual is couched in Victorian prose, survive the modern trends which lead away from the family-operated farm? The answer seems both yes and no.

Begin in the 19th century as the Grange movement, the organization has been an integral part of rural life in Magic Valley for more than half a century.

The Granges stem from the establishment in 1867 of the National Grange of the Patrons of Husbandry, which grew rapidly after the panic of 1873 and was instrumental in fighting business abuses for farmers in the early decades.

The Grange still is concerned on a national level with political issues affecting agriculture, but on the county or Pootona level, as well as in the subordinate local Granges, the organization long has been more a community force than a political one.

The Lucerne Grange, whose members live in the rolling lands northwest of Buhl, is one where the community spirit has "held pretty well," according to Mrs. Arnold Svancara, former lecturer and active member.

Yet she readily admits the Grange is going downhill and young people are not as interested as their parents.

"Frankly, I can see the future for the Grange if they do not 'modernize,'" she says, adding young people think the effective ritual and procedure are "stupid." The ritual contains great ideals, she says, borrowing heavily from both Masonic and biblical influences, but the younger people usually are "bored to tears."

However, the Lucerne group, which observed its 50th anniversary this past winter, probably is more active than many other Granges in the Magic Valley.

Twin Falls County seems to be one of the strongholds of the organization, with 12 subordinate groups still functioning.

These include, in addition to Lucerne—Oscar, Urow, Buhl, Piler, Twin Falls, Fairview, Castleford, Deep Creek, Mountain Rock, Knoll, Kimberly and Murtaugh.

However, Ada County has the most active Grange organization, despite the more heavily populated base area, according to Mrs. Don Twin Falls, who, with her husband, Kenneth, long has been active on Bonanza and State Grange work.

A recent report indicates the Grange is "holding its own" statewide, Mrs. Poes says.

The local Grange used to be tied psychologically as well as physically to the county school, Mrs. Svancara said, with the Grange often using the schoolhouse for its meeting hall.

They were the two main influences in the life of the rural community, and Grange members raised money to provide amenities for the school, she recalls, a function long since taken over by the PTA.

School district consolidation back in the 1940s and the demise of the little rural schools have contributed to the chipping away of the Grange influence in the community, in addition to the obvious changes brought about by modern roads, autos and more money for the wide variety of recreation now available to farmers and their city cousins alike.

The Lucerne members solved their housing problem after their country school closed by purchasing and remodeling a building from the former Hunt residence center in 1947. The structure was literally cut in two and attractively pieced inside.

Mrs. Svancara says "quite a few" of the young men in the Lucerne Grange—continued to farm and two of the Svancara's three sons, for example, have stayed on the land.

"Although they are well aware of changing times and as ready as city people to utilize modern conveniences, the Granges are worried about the impending subdivision of farmland.

They see this coming "locally in Melon Valley, which is 'just over the hill' from the Svancara farm. 'You hate to see the land being turned to housing developments,'" Mrs. Svancara said, but many out of staters, such as Californians, have purchased residential sites in the Melon Valley area which contains marginal farmland.

However, "despite" such factors, Mrs. Svancara has an enthusiastic group of junior gardeners and the Lucerne Grange still holds annual church drive-a community-wide participation. The old fashioned Christmas program with youngsters reciting verses is still a highlight of the Grange activity, drawing members and nonmembers alike.

The Grange boasts of being the only farm organization for the entire family and excerpts from minutes of past meetings of the Lucerne group verify this, with the initiator from a 1929 meeting when 23 members and 19 children attended.

Mrs. Svancara took excerpts from the old record books and printed them on display posters for the open-house. A glance through the items resembles a reference volume in American history through the decades since the group was formed Jan. 2, 1924.

The organizer was W. W. Deal, a Methodist minister and father of the late Edson Deal, former lieutenant-governor.

Minutes include—1925 fly catching contest won by Mrs. I. A. Kjekleton, with 14 potatoes of one quart size of flies and a petition formulated for county general hospital, had 56 signatures.

1926 A community dinner was served at Parker Sunday and a local fair was held at the Lucerne schoolhouse for children under 14. 1923 members favored a gas tax.

1920—Grangers favored a junior tax reduction.

1921 The home-economics committee was in charge of relief for the needy and unemployed. 1934—debate held on "horse trader is better than turtle."

1933 Resolved: "A man with a handsome face is more desirable than one with a good disposition." (There is no relation of the decision.)

1934 An exchange program with other Granges was cancelled to save tires and fuel. 1931—250 persons attended flower night. 1954 members opposed a junior college in the county. 1964 snow contest held. Beauty show, 1966—Peace Corps ton reported. 1971—snowball throwing contest, using cotton, was held. A 1973 program topic was county planning.

But of the most enthusiastic members is Tom Hejtmalek, current trustee, who joined the Lucerne group in 1930. Another former pastor is State Rep. Bill Roberts.

Grange Hall remodeled from barracks

BARRACKS From the former relocation center at Hunt, in eastern Jerome County, was cut in half back in 1947 during remodeling to provide a hall for the Lucerne Grange, which for many years has been a local point for the rural community northwest of Buhl. In the early days the Grange met in the former Lucerne rural school.

Oldtime Grangers

THESE UNIDENTIFIED early day Grangers are in one of the many pictures kept for posterity in the scrapbook of the Lucerne Grange, which observed its 50th anniversary this past winter. The farmers in this rural area out of Buhl still feel a sense of community spirit, and the day's information was gathered for this article. 11 of them were planting fields for a neighbor who had suffered a heart attack.

Farm auction draws large crowds.

Tractor shortage not seen in MV auction bids

By BILL LAZARUS
Times-News Writer

KIMBERLY — Despite a continued shortage, tractors were not in short supply at the Kimberly Farm Auction Saturday. About 400 people showed up at the auction, one of Magic Valley's largest, where more than 1,000 items including tractors, pickups, swathers, haulers, trucks, field choppers and a speed boat were sold.

"It's been going real good. There aren't as many sales as last year, but the prices are up," Irvin Filer, auctioneer for Messersmith Auction Service, said. Because of the current shortage of machinery, Filer's estimation of the auctioned farm equipment is up in price 25 to 35 per cent over last year.

He said that a 60 horsepower tractor which would have auctioned for $3,000 a year ago would go for $4,500 to $5,000 now.

But a number of tractors at the auction went for a lower price than expected.

The largest tractor, a 1971 Farmall 680 Hydro International, sold for $6,000. Filer said that if the machinery had been advertised before the auction, it would have brought in $9,500.

Glenn Schworer, the tractor's former owner, said he bought it new two years ago for $9,500. Now it has some 2,000 hours on it and is in good condition.

A 1968 Massey Ferguson with 150 hours use since a complete overhaul sold for $4,400. The seller, Neil Larsen, Hansen, said that Farmall 560 gas tractors sold at other auctions for $3,500. "I had time to get more than that out of it," he said.

Larsen said that at recent auctions he had seen tractors three or four years old sell for as much as they cost now. He said that the tractors did not seem to be selling so well at the Kimberly auction.

"A few of the crops have fallen off. Everything is running high in costs and I think our farmers are beginning to realize that," he said.

A 1964 Massey Ferguson was auctioned for $1,100. The tractor was worth $2,000, its owner, Cecil Smith, Twin Falls, refused to sell.

A 1958 Massey Ferguson with a Davis loader, however, went for much more than his owner expected. Harmon Halzen, Jacinto, hoped for between $1,500 and $2,000 for the machine, but received $5,000.

He said he bought the tractor without the loader in 1968 for $4,000.

The tractor listed in this story was different auction items going at once; except in early afternoon when tractors and trucks were sold.

Filer Jaycees chartered

FILER — The newly-organized Filer Jaycees received their charter as a business Saturday evening in the Filer American Legion Hall.

Bill McCam, Lewiston, state Jaycee president, presented the charter to Jack Frates, Filer president, following the banquet here.

John Frates, state chapter vice president, presided over the dinner.

Glenn Schworer, national regional director, led the group in the pledge of the American flag.

Gary Muckel, District Eight president, introduced local officials as well as neighboring regional state chapter officials. Mike Thomas, regional vice president, led in the Jaycee creed.

McCann presented the new Filer unit officers which include Frates, president; Bill Schiewe, internal vice president; Tom Whaley, exterior vice president; Pat Schindler, secretary; Wayne Ingram, treasurer; and Jerry Brown, state director.

Other charter members of the new group include Jeff Bourner, Lynn Carter, Tom Davis, Larry Fisher, Terry Fisher, Steve Gentry, Gene Hartwig, Kenneth Knefel, Don McMurphy, Gary McLaughlin, and Hunt, Tom Smith, Jerry Smith, and Danis Wolf.

The group has adopted the Jaycee creed which states: "We believe that faith in God gives meaning and purpose to human life; that the brotherhood of man transcends the sovereignty of nations; that economic justice can be best won by free men through free enterprise; that government should be of, and for, the people; that our earth's great resources are in human personality; and that service to humanity is the best work of life."

The new Filer group meets each Wednesday in the Filer High School.

Rupert taxes increase but spending cut due

RUPERT — Rupert City will tax more, raise employee salaries, and spend slightly more for most city services this year according to a proposed budget.

But total spending will fall sharply because of reduced spending on the city's secondary sewer-treatment project.

General fund spending for 1974 will rise to $85,882, an increase of two per cent. General fund spending is for most routine governmental services.

The total budget will fall by $7,000 to a total of $1.8 million. This reflects a decrease in spending for the city's sewer project. Last year the city budgeted $788,000 for the sewer plant. This year only $298,000 was budgeted, a decrease of $490,000.

This means that all spending aside from the sewer project rose about $20,000 this year. The budget provides for a 3.1 per cent cost of living salary increase for city employees.

Local taxes would rise 5.5 per cent, to $70,000 in 1974. Last year's taxes had totaled $66,331 in the budget.

Anticipated revenue sharing funds this year would amount to $45,500, with most of that for street, sanitation and parks departments. The Parks Department budget was reduced to $36,200 this year from last year's total of $97,000.

The Valley Parks is nearing completion, awaiting for the reduction. The only large expenditure remaining for the park is purchase of shrubbery.

This year's contingency fund will be set at $46,348.

The public hearing on the proposed budget will be held March 23.

Hailey hearing tonight

By LARRY CAMPBELL
Times-News Writer

HAILEY — The Hailey City Council will conduct a public hearing on the proposed 1974 budget at 7:30 p.m. tonight in the city hall.

A total proposed general fund budget of $189,930 constitutes an about 7.4 per cent increase over last year's $166,624 budget.

According to city attorney Stephen W. Boller, the new budget reflects an effort to hold the city's tax rate constant this year, and will.

The city's assessed valuation is also expected to jump this year with the addition of the McCulloch Properties, Inc., Woodside development.

Jack Spigeborn, the evaluation agency, stated at about $4.6 million. As of June 1, Woodside added about $29,525 in assessed valuation, constituting about 50 per cent of the city's current assessed valuation.

With the county re-evaluation program and the city's tax rate held constant, the city will have to fund the new budget more heavily by lowered taxes, Boller said.

This year, 67.5 per cent of the budget will be raised through taxes, compared to about 63.17 per cent last year.

Other additional projected revenue includes $25,000 for the road and street fund from carryover funds from 1973; and $25,000 in federal revenue-sharing funds, which will be allocated to the general fund and devoted primarily to capital outlay. Law enforcement planning commission grant funds is expected to cover 75 per cent of the salary for an additional police officer.

The proposed general government expenditures total $242,000 this year compared to $229,000 last year.

Additional expenditures stem from an increase in salary for the mayor and councilmembers for a new $2,600 expenditure for accountant fees to handle the city's accounting and sewer and water billing funding for additional volunteer firemen and the addition of $3,500 as the initial appropriation for another fire truck.

This year's proposed road and street fund of $27,215 shows an about $2,500 decrease from last year.

The proposed allocation for street construction and maintenance was reduced this year to $200,000 from $230,000 last year because of the amount of work which could be accomplished during the construction season.

The road and street fund also includes an additional allocation of $7,000 for a new structure to house street maintenance equipment as well as a $24,000 appropriation for sand and gravel and a $4,500 increase for bus and diesel fuel.

Vandals hit TF HS

TWIN FALLS — A number of weekend burglaries including a "break-in" at the Twin Falls High School and the theft of an estimated $4,900 to $4,000 in old coins were under investigation today by Twin Falls City police.

Dick Baum, high school official, told officers someone entered the school sometime Saturday night or early Sunday morning. He said nothing had been found missing from the school, but an undetermined amount of damage was done.

Four classrooms were entered, he said, and books, pencils, papers, and other materials scattered about the rooms. A fire extinguisher was used to spray foam on furnishings, walls and floors of the rooms.

Howard Kinsfather, operator of the Coin Shop, 276 Blue Lakes Boulevard North, told officers someone entered the shop between 3 p.m. Saturday and 10 a.m. Sunday and took a number of coins. Full amount of the loss is unknown pending an inventory.

Someone entered his parked automobile and removed its hand operated spot light from the glove compartment. He estimated value at $13.

Officers were also investigating the destruction of a number of chickens and ducks. Coleman Featherstock, 307 5th Ave. E., told officers someone killed about 60 chickens and ducks while she was gone from her home. She said the fowl-herds had been cut off and the carcasses left in the back yard with blood spread around the rear of the property.

Fire razes shed

FILER — A fire destroyed a home and shed and machinery on the Andy Helms farm on the Hunt project Sunday afternoon.

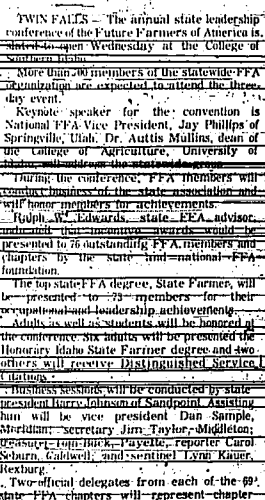

The Filer fire department answered the call about 8 p.m. but was unable to save the building or its contents.

A car, grain drill, corn planter, plow and other miscellaneous items were all destroyed. Cans of diesel oil in the building added to the flames.

Mr. and Mrs. Helms had been business ditch banks that morning and had gone into the house to eat dinner, apparently thinking the fire was extinguished. A wind evidently ignited sparks that blew into the grass near the shed, setting the fire.

Damage is estimated at $10,000. Machinery was covered by Farm Bureau Insurance, however.

There were no injuries.

Market Review

NEW YORK (UPI) — Stocks moved lower today as slow trading on the New York Stock Exchange amid a report the economy is enjoying a recession.

The joint economic committee of Congress predicted the country's unemployment rate will near 6 per cent by the middle of the year and the rate of inflation will rise to 8 per cent before the year has ended.

Around noon the Dow Jones industrial average was off 6.02 at 872 1/4.

Declines outnumbered advances 775 to 336 among the 1,562 shares traded. Volume was 4,890,000.

Sears lost more than a point following a Wall Street Journal report that an analysis of the company's report of a higher year net was causing some concern about the firm's future prospects. One analyst noted that most of Sears' gain came from an "all-State" insurance rather than from sale of its goods.

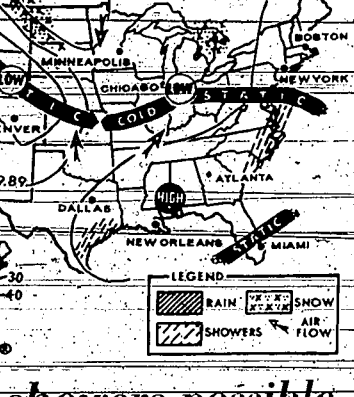

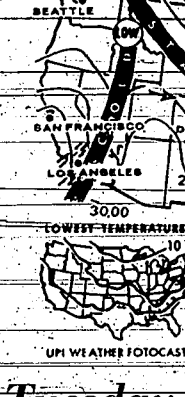

General Motors

analyst said some analysts had lowered their own estimates of GM's first quarter earnings.
