Dayan arrives for talks

Israeli Defense Minister Moshe Dayan arrived in Washington today to begin talks today with US Secretary of State Henry A. Kissinger for the disengagement of Israeli and Syrian troops in the Golan Heights where artillery battles thundered for the 18th straight day.

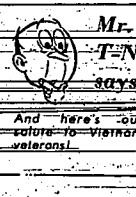

Syrian artillery shells arched over the 1807 coast fire line there to hit near Israeli civilian settlements. Israeli forces returned fire, an Israeli spokesman said, in the daily shelling designed to exert pressure at the conference table.

Windup pushed

BOISE (UPI) — House leaders called party caucuses today in an effort to restrict unnecessary debate, finish their work and bring final adjournment of this Legislature by Saturday night.

Speaker Wm. J. Lanting, R-Hollister, said there are 41 bills on which the House must get before the Legislature can head home.

House Majority Leader H. Fred Koch, R-Boise, said the leadership in both parties will appeal to the members in caucus to turn off the wind.

Senate leaders so far appear to have their calendar right. They have a long-winded debate on foregone conclusions.

School bond issue wins in Blaine

BLAINE — Blaine County School officials were jubilant Thursday as the bond proposal passed with a whopping 85 per cent yes vote.

In what Supt. Wayne Fagg called a "heavy" turnout, 2,850 ballots were cast. The unofficial tally is 2,250 yes and 269 no votes.

The $1 million proposal replaces the present 10 mill a year plant facility levy with a 10 mill a year bond fund for 20 years.

School board chairman Ronda Hunt said his initial reaction to the results was "pure pleasure." He said he felt the vote "speaks real well for the progressive thinking people of Blaine County."

Hunt also stated he "would just love to say thanks to all the people who have worked so long and so hard on the various committees."

Blaine County Jefferson, who also serves as coordinator for the Blaine County program and health center, says toward a new high school, said the election results were "a real testimonial to all those people who worked so diligently in determining the program for the past two years."

The vote margin was topped by a 100 per cent yes vote among 65 absentee ballots and a 93 per cent yes vote at both the Wood River High School and Blaine Sun Valley Inn polls.

The unofficial vote breakdown at Blaine was 712 yes and 82 no votes, with 372 yes and 29 no votes at Sun Valley.

Unofficial tallies at the remaining polls include Henningway Elementary School, Ketchum, 652 yes and 70 no votes; Picoabo, 52 yes and 7 no; Bellevue Elementary, 233 yes, and 85 no, and Carey, 188 yes and 23 no.

Injury suits filed in TF

TWIN FALLS — Two personal injury suits seeking close to $500,000 have been filed in Fifth District Court.

The suits are filed against defendants charged with negligence and drunken driving resulting in injury to the plaintiffs.

In the first suit, Nellie Connerley has filed against Norman J. Benham.

Mrs. Connerley alleges that she was a passenger in a car driven by the late Nettie Fay Lanes when the lances car was struck by a "pileup" truck allegedly driven by Benham.

Mrs. Lanes was killed in the head-on collision, which occurred last October on US Highway 30 east of Buhl.

In the suit Mrs. Connerley charges gross negligence on the part of Benham for allegedly driving while intoxicated and crossing the center line and causing the accident.

Mrs. Connerley seeks compensation for medical expenses as determined at time of court action including approximately $10,000.

In medical expenses already incurred general damages of $250,000, punitive damages of $100,000, miscellaneous damages of $25,000 of the suit and further relief as deemed proper by the court.

A jury trial has also been scheduled in the second injury suit in which Vern and Kay

First meet in new TF offices

FIRST MEETING of the South Central Health District board in its new home was held Wednesday. The second floor room, formerly the Commander's Room of the American Legion Hall, will provide meeting space for the district board.

District board members will meet today and Friday.

The board consists of Commissioner Leslog Hall, District Director Norman J. Benham, Mrs. Connerley alleges that she was a passenger in a car driven by the late Nettie Fay Lanes when the lances car was struck by a "pileup" truck allegedly driven by Benham.

Health board meets in new quarters

TWIN FALLS — South Central Idaho Health District board members inducted the new district headquarters building Wednesday afternoon with the first meeting in the new conference room.

The building has been completed by the contractor and will be occupied by district personnel following moving operations today and Friday. It contains nursing offices, a large reception room, secretarial facilities, examining and treatment rooms, and private offices for district administrators.

The building, formerly the American Legion Hall, was purchased nearly a year ago for $27,500 and has been completely remodeled for about $120,000 including a second-story conference room furnished by Twin Falls County in lieu of rental fees not required here for county services because of district headquarters being in Twin Falls.

Other of the eight counties provide rental space for district personnel working in their counties.

One of the issues discussed Wednesday was parking spaces for the district customers and employees. James Ingalls, assistant administrator, said negotiations are underway with the TOOF Lodge for lease or purchase of the lot behind their building. It is 75 by 140 feet. Ingalls said it would provide about 12 parking spaces.

Lit space can be leased on a monthly basis by employees wishing to park behind city hall. Ingalls said. This space will be made available by Twin Falls City as lots behind the city hall are cleared of buildings, he said.

Ingalls said the old Grace Baptist Church is also available for purchase, but he estimated the cost would be high for parking.

Ingalls and administrator Dr. Wayne Carle will report further on the parking negotiations during the April meeting.

Board members approved April 15 as the date for the open house in the new building and also for the next board meeting. The meeting will begin at 9:30 a.m. and open house will be from 10 to 7 p.m.

Board members heard a report from Dr. Carle on finishing the basement area of the building not required by the state health laboratory and means to get annual income.

He suggested Twin Falls County or another larger county loan the district the money to Youth faces drug charge

TWIN FALLS — A California youth was arrested on drug possession and destruction of property charges early Thursday.

The allegedly tried to tear down a partition at the Holiday Inn.

Joe Dennis, 20, 127 Coker, Calif., was arrested by Twin Falls police after Twin Falls County sheriff's deputies about 2 a.m. today after police received a phone call from the manager of the inn.

According to chief of detectives Tim Qualls, Quinn was detained by inn employees after he allegedly tried to tear down a folding partition between the bar and restaurant at the motel.

Arresting officers then discovered alleged drugs in Quinn's possession, Qualls said.

Quinn remains in the county jail in lieu of $500 bond.

TF company sues

K mart contractor

TWIN FALLS — An electrical firm has filed suit in Fifth District Court against the contractor on the construction of the new K mart building.

Electrical Equipment Co., Twin Falls, filed the suit against Crownson Construction Co., as prime contractor for C and W Whelan Associates, and other defendants seeking payment of nearly $2,000 in fees.

The firm has also allegedly provided by Electrical Equipment during the construction of the new shopping center.

The electrical firm claims that in March, 1973, it entered into a contract with Crownson to provide equipment and services in construction of the building. The contract is still owing from that contract.

The electrical firm seeks, in addition to the alleged $2,000 owed, attorneys fees of $8,000 and statutory interest on the $2,000. The firm has also asked the court to grant it a lien on the K mart property.

In a second, unrelated civil suit, Electrical Equipment has filed a suit against Bio-Pure Inc., seeking nearly $3,000 for alleged services and materials rendered to Bio-Pure.

4 degrees conferred

TWIN FALLS — Four new members received the fourth degree Wednesday night at the Twin Falls Grange meeting.

The four, now the youngest members of the Twin Falls Grange, are Kurl and Christine Brown and James and Cecilia Kinball. The Kinballs are the 99th and 100th new members to be recruited into the Grange by T. T. Creed. He has been active in carrying Granges over the past 20 years.

A note of appreciation was received from Harbor House thanking the Grange for construction of a roof on the building.

Members voted to participate in the annual Johnny Horizon Day May 4.

Potluck set

BUHL — The Magic Valley Ramblers chapter of the Good Sam Club will have a potluck dinner at 7 p.m. Saturday in the Lincoln Courts Social Hall, Buhl.

Kerrel Clark, Idaho state director of the club, will be a guest and other state officers and chapter presidents will also attend. Several Idaho rallies will be planned.

MV resorts close

TWIN FALLS — Two Magic Valley (M) resorts will close for the season after this weekend. Other, with the exception of Pomerelle near Buhl, will curtail operations.

Sun Valley and Maple Mountain will close as of Sunday evening and Scudder Mountain will reduce operation to weekends only. Rotarun has closed.

Sawtooth National Forest reports "ski conditions show resorts have early all received new snow for the weekend.

Sun Valley has eight inches of new snow with six inches at the top of Baldy. 25 at the Roundhouse and 11 on the valley floor. All facilities at Sun Valley and Elkhorn operate through Sunday then close for the week.

Maple Mountain has six inches of snow at the top of Baldy. The remainder of the season will be a dual slalom on Pike Mountain Saturday and Sunday through April 14.

Pomerelle has about 4 inches of new dry snow, and total depths range between 65 inches at the lodge and 115 at the upper lift terminal.

Auction

JEFFERSON — The Magic Valley Indian dancers of Boy Scout Troop 36 will sponsor a neighborhood auction Saturday at the Jefferson High School.

The auction on West Main, Jefferson, is under the management of J. M. Moore. Auction and will begin at 11 a.m.

Shoshone club hears energy talk

SHOSHONE — The energy crisis was discussed by Earl Haroldson at the Rotary Club meeting Wednesday.

Haroldson, district manager for the Shoshone area, said the gap between production and energy demand began to widen before the Midwest crisis and is now widening even more.

"It's not only reserves are not an encouraging level and indicated price rollbacks will decrease production and increase consumption."

Haroldson estimated "we will soon enter the next power age" which could give some relief to this problem of energy.

Other guests at the Wednesday noon luncheon were Maceo Colman, Eldon Lancaster, Shoshone, Idaho Power employees Don Smith, Gooding; Stu Murrell, Jerome; and high school seniors Dick Webb and Gary Curry.

Texan Connally exhorts GOP, parries questions on '76 candidacy

(c) Washington Star/News
ATLANTA — "I want anybody in this room who feels that he's responsible for Watergate to stand up," John Connally demands in the assertive tone that he sometimes favors.

When none of the 430 Georgia Republicans moves, he thrusts his cowboy jaw forward another inch and gives them the lesson for the day: "Well, then, don't let it plague you. Don't wear the cloak of guilt. You're not guilty."

This is John Connally in his new role as the cheerleader for the cheerless Republican party of 1974, the political prospecting for silver linings.

And it is also John Connally nourishing the notion that despite his Democratic past, despite his sponsorship by Richard Nixon — he might not be an outlandish possibility for the Republican presidential nomination, after all. Any Republican who can be optimistic in times like these surely has at least a chance.

Connally is ubiquitous at party gatherings these days. Since September he has visited 30 states. This month alone he has spoken for the party in Kentucky, Virginia, Rhode Island, Utah, Hawaii, North Carolina and Georgia, and this weekend he will be doing more of the same in Oregon and Idaho.

What this is doing for him no one can estimate now. It is difficult to write a scenario in which the Democrat-turned-Republican gets the girl in the end. But it is equally difficult to bid John Connally lightly. The raw force of his personality demands a degree of political respect.

Officially, Connally is doing what Charles Percy calls "the non-candidate tango," racing around the country while denying that he has any real designs on the nomination. Asked the inevitable question at a news conference here, he replied: "I have no plans to run. Then, with a broad smile, he adds: "And I have no plans to run. I have no plans at all."

It is accurate to say that Connally is not a candidate in the sense that he has made some irrevocable commitment to fight on to the bitter end. There is no organization beyond a few public relations men. No money is being raised; no committees are being formed.

But it is equally accurate to say that Connally considers himself the class of the field and is clearly unwilling to abandon his ambitions unless they are exposed as totally unrealistic.

He tells questioners that, as he put it in Raleigh, N.C., "Somebody has not been vaccinated with that fatal disease, Potomac fever, so I can take it or leave it."

But he is not a man ready to retire to concentrate on raising dabbles. And he is not making all these speeches because he enjoys overcooked toast beef in Raleigh one night and quick-frozen veal cordon bleu in Atlanta the next.

Aside from his exhortations against class guilt for Republicans, his message to party audiences is far less an application of the "non-candidate" situation as Connally sees it.

"We are living at a time when there are dark clouds, some doubts, some questions, some unrest," he told the champagne-sipping Republicans at the governor's mansion in Raleigh last week. "But you can preserve this political system if you are not faithless."

That the substance of the Connally message is less important politically than the picture of himself that he projects is debatable. Although he sometimes strays into gibberish — "We can clean up the cities but we are going to pay a price for it," he always manages to sound profound. Statistics roll easily from his tongue on countless subjects — unemployment, inflation rates, disposable income, beef prices, oil profits, the cash reserves of the oil-producing nations. At times he sounds like what he once was — a Nixon adviser on economic policy. Finding the good news in what the uninformed would think were bad figures.

"There are few applause lines in the Connally speech. He evokes no gasps or squeals. He does not move even the best-liquored Republicans to rebel veins. In short, he impresses them but he does not excite them."

He beats Nixon and the Watergate issue as if it had fenders. There is nothing in his standard speech comparable to

Finally, there is the problem of being the new boy among the Republicans, whose party Connally joined only last year after a lifetime as a Democrat.

There are still many Republican leaders who, privately, at least — are unconvinced. "I'd think we were in poor shape," one Midwest-Congressman said recently. "If we have to nominate somebody who just came over the fence,

YOUR GOOD HEALTH Help for Nature sought

By GEORGE C. THOSTESON, M.D.

Dear Dr. Thosteson: My husband and I both are over six feet, and assumed all our children would be tall.

When our firstborn was about six weeks old, her pediatrician said, "Well, when she gets to be about 11 or 12 years old, I would give her medication to keep her from growing those last few inches."

This doctor, since has left, and our children four girls are getting to that age. The oldest is 12½. Our doctor doesn't know anything about this procedure and referred us to a pediatrician whose nurse called and said this doctor didn't bother with this area but he had heard of a few cases. The nurse said he didn't want to take the risk, but when I asked what risks she meant, she said, "None."

It's confusing to have one doctor suggest it, and others either don't know or don't want to handle it. — Mrs. P. D.

It's no crime to be tall, but you imply that a dozen years ago, when your first child was just a baby, you made up your mind you didn't want her to be tall.

Why? Was being tall such a psychological handicap for you? How does your daughter feel about it? And your other daughters? It is my feeling that you should get your motives clearly in mind before making any decision, and consider primarily what your daughter's wishes are, or will be.

So, you see, I have a rather strong prejudice in favor of letting nature decide such matters as how tall we are.

But at the same time I have to respect your views even if they differ with mine, and I'll tell you what I can about preventing tall girls from becoming tall girls.

It involves some tampering with the endocrine (glandular) system — and I think most doctors will agree that such tampering should not be done except by experts familiar with the endocrine glands.

Large doses of the female hormone estrogen are given (usually somewhere between the ages of 9 and 13). This is done to close the epiphyses (ends) of the long bones, because that is where growth occurs, and when these ends close — no more growth.

To put it another way, those large doses of estrogen are given before comparable amounts appear normally in the body. You might say it is a way of artificially bringing on physical maturity a little earlier, since growth (height, that is) ceases as one reaches maturity.

Growth has been controlled by as much as two to five inches by this method.

One problem is that such large doses of estrogen may cause uterine bleeding, although this can be controlled with progesterone. Whether the advanced maturity time causes other and different psychological problems for girls of that age is another question. I would suspect that the emotional attitude of the girl would be important, but I cannot give you any case-specific information on this because I don't know.

Can there be other side effects from such use of hormones? Again I am not prepared to say.

But before you decide to go ahead, I think it would be wise to consult an endocrinologist (probably having to go to a medical center larger than available in your town, or at least to consult a gynecologist. I'd assuredly want the treatment supervised by an expert who has had experience with such cases.

Dear Dr. Thosteson: Is it possible for a man to father children after having one testicle removed surgically? If so, would all the children necessarily be of the same sex? — J.S.

First: Yes. Second: No. Note to Mrs. G. J. H.: The cause of prostatic disease is not yet determined.

Connally reacts heatedly to suggestions that the candidate of the oil-barons. He served three terms as governor of Texas; he points out, so it is natural he has an interest in the subject. "But that doesn't mean I'm a representative of the oil businessmen."

Finally, there is the problem of being the new boy among the Republicans, whose party Connally joined only last year after a lifetime as a Democrat.

There are still many Republican leaders who, privately, at least — are unconvinced. "I'd think we were in poor shape," one Midwest-Congressman said recently. "If we have to nominate somebody who just came over the fence,

Solons vote for child criminality

By DAVID ESPO
T-N Capitol Bureau
BOISE — The members of the state legislature have now voted to make felons out of their children.

A group of less than one third of the House managed to get the action for most of the day Thursday, but in the end necessary and offending legislation passed 44-26.

Lawmakers who supported it because they wanted to stop the pushers passed the wrong bill. The bill they wanted would have made it illegal to drive a motor vehicle that carries more than six or eight ounces of marijuana.

One legislative committee decided to do just that. About 250 kids — long haired and unclear looking — packed a public hearing that began Thursday morning at 8:30 a.m. It was a meeting that should have been called last January.

This legislation will have a broader impact than most the legislature will pass this year.

State registration of lobbyists asked in bill

T-N Capitol Bureau
BOISE — The Senate approved Thursday and sent to the House a measure to require professional lobbyists to register with the state.

The measure, which passed 27-13, repeals the state's existing law that prohibits lobbying except under certain circumstances.

An effort to send the measure to the floor for amendment, which would have been made to require lobbyists to make financial disclosures, failed narrowly 16-18.

Sen. Phil Batt, R-Idaho, the floor sponsor of the measure, said it was well suited to Idaho. The bill was drafted using the Montana state law as a model.

Sen. J. Wilson Steen, R-Glenns Ferry, debated against the measure. He said the state's existing law was all that was needed, and also said he had never been coerced into voting one way or another on legislation before the Senate.

Sen. Robert Kimphorn, D-Pocatello, who had strongly opposed the lobbyist bill the Senate had considered earlier in the session, endorsed the new one.

Sen. Robert Saxvik, D-Burley, supported Penney's position. He voted against the bill because it was an expression in fullness.

Sen. Marion Davidson, D-Bonners Ferry, and Patricia McDermott, D-Pocatello, were the only members of the House to oppose the measure.

Sen. Robert Saxvik, D-Burley, supported Penney's position. He voted against the bill because it was an expression in fullness.

Sen. Marion Davidson, D-Bonners Ferry, and Patricia McDermott, D-Pocatello, were the only members of the House to oppose the measure.

MV solon votes on pot, lobbying listed

T-N Capitol Bureau
BOISE — Here is the roll call of Magic Valley representatives on the final vote on the measure to make possession of three ounces of marijuana a felony punishable by five years in jail and a $5,000 fine.

The measure, which has already passed the Senate, cleared the House Thursday, 44-26. For the bill: Reps. Ike Barron, R-Corral; J. Ward Chabrun, R-Adrian; Earl Greenawald, R-Terome; Ernest Hale, R-Burley; Virgil Kraus, R-Mountain Home; E. McMillan, R-Kelcham; Vernon Hayesworth, R-Tulsa.

Here is how Magic Valley senators voted on the lobbyist registration measure that passed the Senate 27-13 Thursday.

Against the bill: Sens. John Penney, R-Huperti; Robert Saxvik, D-Burley; J. Wilson Steen, R-Glenns Ferry.

Then he pulled a series of photographs from his pocket. He passed the pictures around to the members of the committee. They were pictures taken at a inquiry.

Senior citizen taxes relieved

T-N Capitol Bureau
BOISE — The legislature finished work Thursday on special tax relief for the elderly of the state.

Sen. Dave Watkins, R-Idaho Falls, said he supported the bill because it was tied to the income of the taxpayer, not the value of his property.

The Senate approved, 35-0, a measure providing up to $1.5 million in special property tax relief for the state's senior citizens and other groups sending the measure to Gov. Cecil D. Andrus for his signature.

Andrus' approval seems certain, since he recommended the current break tax found in his budget message last January.

Sen. James Stolcheff, D-Sandpoint, who was the floor sponsor of the measure, said it would provide between $12 million and $1.5 million in relief. He said the exact amount was not yet known.

The bill will permit certain people to stop paying property taxes when they reach a fixed percentage of their income. Any tax that is lost to the local taxation unit will be made up by the state.

Senate passes tough marijuana measure

BOISE (UPI) — After an hour-long hearing and a two-day vote to a packed gallery the House voted 42-20 Thursday in favor of a tough new marijuana control bill.

Twice there were moves to send the bill to committee of the whole for amendment. One failed 25-39 and the second 28-33. There were two moves to shut off debate — one passing 50-36 and the other failing 49-39.

Those who are in opposition to this bill are users and pushers," he said. "Those for it are law enforcement officers."

Long-winded debate stops adjournment

By RICHARD CLARNOCK
BOISE (UPI) — Long-winded debate on foreign conclusions may prevent final adjournment of this legislative session this week.

While the legislative leadership works on the mechanics of granting state employees some pay increases, financing health and welfare and other matters, the House and Senate are busy talking.

House members spent more than four hours Thursday on a bill to make possession of more than three ounces of marijuana a felony — an issue on which most if not all members had votes against it.

Gooding school funded by land sale auction

BOISE — The House approved Thursday a measure establishing a special fund for the State School for the Deaf and Blind.

The proposal directs that the proceeds of the sale are perpetually appropriated to the school for the deaf and blind for capital outlay items to supplement the state's existing capital outlay items funded in the annual appropriations made to the agency.

Hearst readies more free food

SAN FRANCISCO (UPI) — We feel confident that the STA will release you unharmed.

Patricia Hearst, 26-year-old granddaughter of William Randolph Hearst, founder of the Hearst publishing empire, was kidnapped from her Berkeley apartment "Friday" by three members of the Symbionese Liberation Army.

For the ensuing five weeks, a series of letters and tape recordings making ransom demands were received from the SLA. But in the past 20 days there has been only silence while Hearst tried to meet the demands.

Hearst said she thought the long silence was because the SLA was waiting for the $2 million food program previously established to be completed and for assurances the future $4 million already pledged "is not going to be snatched back the minute they release Patricia."

"I didn't hear from them at that point, or if somebody didn't hear from them or have some kind of a negotiation taking place, I would then be very fearful that Patty is dead," Hearst told reporters at a suburban Hillsborough home Thursday.

But, he said, "I really think Patricia is well, she is okay and is unharmed."

While Hearst was speaking, a letter from two imprisoned members of the Symbionese Liberation Army within a subject at the University of California was received by a radio station. A part addressed to Patricia said:

Electoral reform bill eyed

WASHINGTON (UPI) — The electoral reform bill setting up federal financing of congressional and presidential election campaigns — faces additional amendments today as the Senate continues to work on the legislation.

It was further amended four times by the Senate Thursday.

The controversial bill would earmark 15 cents per eligible voter for major party presidential nominees and congressional candidates in primaries and general elections. Candidates could take part of the amount in private contributions, limited to $3,000 per donor.

Thursday the Senate approved amendments authorizing organizations to donate up to $6,000 to a single candidate; prohibiting campaign contributions from foreign nations; making electoral fraud in federal elections a federal offense; fixing an apparent legislative oversight; and extending to 60 days the pre-election suspension of mass-mailing, door-to-door canvassing, leafletting and other activities for incumbents. The bill had stipulated 28 days.

US force drop set

BANGKOK (UPI) — The United States and Thailand have reached agreement in principle to reduce American forces stationed here by one-third, including some of the last B-52 bombers stationed in Southeast Asia, a joint communiqué said today.

The agreement, which would reduce American forces in Thailand and the communiqué said the proposed reductions, to be started "around the middle of May," would involve "strategic and tactical aircraft and about 10,000 military manpower spaces."

A key government witness, he will be cross-examined when the trial resumes today.

Stans, former commerce secretary, and former Attorney General John N. Mitchell are accused of conspiring to impede an SEC investigation of Vesco's corporate manipulations to return for the secret $200,000 contribution. They also are accused of lying to the grand jury investigating the case.

Witness testifies Stans lied to jury

NEW YORK (UPI) — President Nixon's chief prosecutor, John Edgar Hoover, testified today that Stans, confided by lied to a Federal grand jury about his part in a $200,000 "cash contribution" by financier Robert L. Vesco, a witness testified in the Mitchell-Stans trial.

And, said former Securities and Exchange Commission Chairman O. Bradford Cook, Stans had suggested that he do the same in some other transaction.

Cook said he appeared three times before the same New York jury a month later and

Easter activity planned

TWIN FALLS — The week of Easter will be an action-packed week of activities for the First Christian Church, according to Don Pyle, minister.

The week of programs will begin Palm-Sunday morning with the choir, directed by Mary Nelson, presenting its Easter cantata, "Christ Triumphant."

The communion service is planned for Thursday evening at 8. This will be a service held under candlelight.

On April 13, an all night vigil is scheduled for the youth and senior high youth at the church. The program will begin at 8 p.m. and end around 5:30 a.m. Easter morning with the youth gathering at Shoshone Falls for an Easter sunrise service. This service will begin at 7 a.m. with the public, both youth and adults, invited to attend.

The sunrise service will be followed by an 8:30 a.m. worship service with Bible school at 9:45 a.m. and a second worship service at 10:50 a.m.

Trio featured

Gooding Nazarenes feature Filer trio

GOODING — Special services are continuing at 7:30 nightly through this Sunday, in the Gooding Church of the Nazarene.

Featured in the morning of the Spiritones ladies' trio from Filer, and preaching by commissioned evangelist Bernie Culbertson of Hermiston, Ore.

Attendance and interest in the pre-Easter spiritual emphasis has been consistently high since this special service began March 20, according to Pastor Earl Wilder, Gooding.

Following Sunday's 11 a.m. service, the congregation will participate in a potluck dinner in the church fellowship hall.

Attendance at this annual service is open to the public. Making up the Filer trio, the Spiritones, are Nadine Lancaster, Reba Triplett and Carol Kalfelbach.

Richfield Education Day set at Carey LDS Church

SHOSHONE — Education Day for the Richfield LDS Church Stake will be held at the Carey LDS Church.

Faculty members to be featured include Clifford Bernhies, nationally known book author, advertising and marketing consultant; Melva Niles-Barborka, acclaimed singer and actress, and J. Lee Gifford, a professor of speech communication at Ritviks College since 1962.

Gifford is author of a course in communication training, "Architect-director of the Hill Cumorah Pagoda, holds a master's degree from Brigham Young University and does special communication consulting for the United States Department of Civil Defense.

Miss Niles has starred in such hits as "Brigadoon," "I Do, I Do," and most recently "Piddler on the Roof."

TF concert planned

TWIN FALLS — The Adolphian Concert Choir of the University of Puget Sound will appear in concert in Twin Falls Saturday.

The performance, under direction of Dr. Bruce Rodgers, will be held at the sanctuary of the First United Methodist Church.

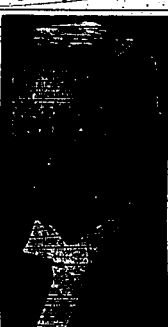

The concert is open to all interested persons. Rev. Herbert E. Morris, pastor.

Selections by contemporary and classical composers, among them Fast, Lewkovich, Lockwood, Leising, Pechelbel and Berlioz, will be sung by the 36 member mixed-voice choir. The Twin Falls appearance will be one of two in Idaho during a spring tour of six western states from March 24 through April 26.

Questions about the Resurrection and a discussion followed with the group contributing questions of their own.

Mrs. Grace McFarland, vice president, conducted a trial business meeting. It was reported that 44 calls were made by members. Ten devotional magazines have been sent to students. Mrs. Marion Wall reported.

Patron Saint Joseph of Arimathea is the patron saint of general directors.

DR. BRUCE RODGERS, director.

Methodist minister to appear

KIMBERLY — The Bishop of the Oregon-Idaho area for the United Methodist Church will preach in two area churches Sunday.

Bishop Jack M. Tuell, Portland, Ore., will give the sermon at 9 a.m. in the United Methodist Church, Murtaugh, and at the 11 a.m. service in the United Methodist Church in Kimberly.

Bishop Tuell will speak on "The Feast of Christmas."

Saturday night the members of both churches will meet at 7 p.m. in the Kimberly church for a potluck dinner and fellowship with the bishop.

Bishop Tuell serves as the leader of all United Methodists in Oregon and Idaho, and is responsible for appointing ministers to all United Methodist churches in the area. Before being elected bishop, he was pastor of the First United Methodist Church at Vancouver, Wash.

Pastor Darwin Secord of the Kimberly church advises that congregation members come only Sunday to assure a seat.

Presbyterians feature two CSI students

TWIN FALLS — The 9:30 service of worship in the Riverside Lounge of the First Presbyterian Church will feature two drama students from the College of Southern Idaho.

Corrie Allen and Sandra Hays, students of Paul Tamm, will give readings entitled "Child Safety" and "Use of Firearms" in connection with the current series of discussions "Quality in Life."

At the 11 o'clock worship service, Rev. Robert Van Nest will speak on "Who is Good?"

Wednesday evening at 7:30 a potluck dinner will be held in the dining room. The dinner will begin at 6:30 p.m. Bring a covered dish and table service. Child care will be provided.

Episcopal bishop sets visitations

JEROME — Rev. Hanford L. King Jr., Episcopal bishop of Idaho, will hold his annual visitations on Thursday and Sunday.

Services of Holy Eucharist and Confirmation will be held at Calvary Church, Jerome, at 10 a.m. Services will be followed by a reception at the parish hall.

Service of Holy Eucharist and Confirmation will be held at Holy Trinity, Buhl, at 12:30 p.m. with a reception to follow in the parish hall.

Bishop King will be assisted by Rev. C. Arthur Latta, rector of Calvary and Holy Trinity churches.

Messley sets Buhl services

BUHL — Rev. Leman Messley, pastor of the First Christian Church, Buhl, will conduct a series of services at the First Christian Church in Buhl Sunday to April 7.

According to an announcement by Rev. Harry S. Young, pastor of the Buhl congregation, the services on Sunday will be at 11 a.m. and 8 p.m. and at 8 each evening during the week.

Messley was raised in Buhl and graduated from Buhl High School. He received the bachelor of theology degree from Northwest Christian College, Eugene, Ore., and the master of divinity degree from Drake University, Des Moines, Iowa. He was ordained to the Christian ministry by the First Christian Church in Buhl, in 1955.

Before assuming the Buhl pastorate in March, 1972, Messley was chaplain at the Iowa Training School for Boys, Eldora, Iowa, and served part-time as pastor of the Eldora Christian Church. He has also held pastorates in Oregon and Washington.

Assembly pastor sets talk

TWIN FALLS — Pastor James Hicks of the First Assembly of God will address the Full Gospel Business Men's Fellowship Sunday.

The dinner meeting will start at 7 p.m. at the College of Southern Idaho—Multi-use Building, Wayne Barney, chapter president, said.

Special music will be provided by the Short children, Mary Solon and Robert. The latter two placed first in the Teen Challenge Search at Gooding, Barney said.

Abigail Van Buren

DEAR ABBY: My husband and I are an average young couple, except for one thing. My husband sometimes likes to have me spank him. And I enjoy spanking him, too. It's like the good, old-fashioned spanking kids used to get. He lies across my lap and I spank him with my hand on his bare bottom. This is sort of a part of our sexual relations.

It seems harmless enough since we both enjoy these spankings, but I have begun to wonder does this mean that there is something wrong with us? Have you ever heard of this before? NAMELESS IN OHIO

Enjoys spanking

DEAR NAMELESS—Yes, but as long as it remains within marriage bounds and takes place by mutual consent, and in private, it doesn't necessarily constitute a problem. However, should it ever reach the point of control, then you and your husband should seek psychiatric counseling without delay.

DEAR ABBY: Our cat, Don Gato, is our problem. You see, we have two dogs and they are rather mean. One of them looked Don Gato's head off and he was bald, and the other played so rough with him that Don Gato nearly lost an eye and ended up maimed.

It's really not the fault of the dogs. They are chained up outside and Don Gato teases them.

Don't tell me to keep Don Gato in the house. We can't because he won't use the litter box. NERVOUS

DEAR NERVOUS—If Don Gato, presumably meaning free, can't stay away from two mean dogs, Don Gato is a dumb cat. If you've penned Don Gato in with the dogs, Don Gato has a dumb owner. In this case, it's the dogs, not the one, so unless Don Gato really has nice Mrs., keep him locked away from the dogs.

DEAR ABBY: A lady friend of mine just got out of the hospital (nothing serious) so I stopped by her home at noon to see if there was anything I could do for her, and I must say I have never been so hurt in all my life!

She opened the door just a crack and when she saw me she said, "You've got a nerve to come over without planning first. You're still in my nightgown!" Then she slammed the door in my face!

Beck, I have been her in her nightgown before. A friendship of many years has been broken.

Please answer soon and tell me what I should do. VICTORIA, B. C.

DEAR VIC: The lady obviously overreacted. Having her come out of the hospital she could have been highly nervous and very touchy. Don't write off the friendship now. Give her a little more time to get back to normal.

CONFIDENTIAL TO A MAN I GREATLY ADMIRE W. G. DUNCAN OF LOUISVILLE, KY.: Thanks for sending me the following Winston Churchill quote on freedom of speech: "Some men's idea of free speech is that they are free to say what they like, but if anyone says anything back, it is an outrage."

Culbertson's main object in playing the Culbertson-Sims match was to push the Culbertson system. Thus, he took every opportunity to show how it was superior to the Sims system.

At the same time he gave the Sims system, which never achieved any expert or ordinary player acceptance, a lot of publicity. Of course, it was always unfavorable, but any publicity is better than none.

One of the interesting bids in the Sims system was the Sims three bid. It was forcing to game and asked partner to show aces in immediate response.

Thus, when Mrs. Culbertson opened three diamonds with the South hand she made a bid that neither Sims could have made with the same cards.

The bidding has been—

A—Bid four diamonds. You have gone to the limit—will give a little further.

TODAY'S QUESTION

Imagine that the three diamonds your partner has bid two spades over your two hearts. What do you do now?

USDA predicts higher beef production in April

WASHINGTON (UPI) — The Agriculture Department today is sending mass food buyers a new monthly newsletter with advance tips on the food supply situation for April.

The "Food Marketing Alerts" letter, also being distributed to media outlets so they can pass the word to individual consumers, predicts that beef production in April will be "sharply higher" than a year ago although it will be below the 1970-72 average for the month.

Retailers will likely pass on recent sharp declines in beef prices and put on more specials. Beef output will exceed last April's unusually low level, but will fall short of the 1970-72 average, the letter said.

Other sections of the brief, two-page letter include predictions of the supply outlook for poultry and eggs, milk and dairy products, fruits and vegetables, and grains and beans.

For the most part, the first edition of what is planned as a monthly reporting service steered away from predicting price trends although these are hinted at indirectly in reports on supply.

Notes of "adequate" supplies of some foods, however, do not necessarily mean lower consumer prices, one official said. He added the Department's Agricultural Marketing Service decided to say nothing about prices because "forecasting is hazardous and our agency is not in the business of predictions."

The new letter is a successor to a monthly "Plentiful Foods" report which the Agriculture Department issued monthly for many years until it was cancelled in August, 1973, because there were so few cases of heavy supplies and attractive bargains to report.

A spokesman said cancellation of the old report had produced complaints from many groups—including food buyers for institutions like schools and hospitals—who wanted a guide to the relative availability of various foods. So officials decided to try the new report noting the supply outlook even where individual foods are plentiful.

The initial "Alert" letter added that as of mid-March, the supply outlook for April included prospects for "adequate" turkey supplies and broiler chickens up 5 per cent from a year earlier.

The "light" milk supply situation may be caused by seasonally increasing production and the fact that buyers resistance to high prices has reduced consumer buying. Experts said there should be "ample" fluid milk even though production is down 2 per cent from last year.

Among other foods, the report predicted ample supplies of apples and "abundant" citrus in April. But it said consumers will find potato stocks, canned fruits and vegetables tight. Officials said the wheat supply "should meet all needs."

Heavy consumer demand for "cheap" meat substitutes, however, has drained the dry bean supply and left it "not adequate" for April, the report said. Supplies of split peas and lentils also will be low, it added.

Water forecast meeting set April 5 at Hollister

TWIN FALLS — The annual forecast meeting for farmers and ranchers of the Roseworth and Salmon tract areas will be April 5.

The meeting, open to all interested water users, will be at 8 p.m. in the Hollister-Grainger Hall. Sponsors of the meeting are the Twin Falls Soil Conservation District forecast committee.

In addition to a report on the irrigation water supply outlook for 1974, the program will feature a talk and slide show by Robert Hoag, recreation and land staff officer of the Sawtooth National Forest.

Hoag will present information on the Sawtooth National Recreation Area under the administration of the Sawtooth National Forest and explain plans for multiple use programs.

Hoag also will discuss the water resources of the area, which includes the White Cloud and other high mountain peaks.

The water forecast committee has invited all district cooperators and other interested persons to attend. This is the 17th annual forecast meeting for farmers and ranchers of the area.

The reports will cover snow measurements during the winter and forecast data from the Soil Conservation Service as it pertains to the Salmon River Canal Co. and Roseworth Reservoir water users. Information on Rock Creek in Twin Falls County will also be provided.

Generally, the forecast is termed excellent with a good carryover in storage reservoirs and a good snow depth and water content on nearly all snow courses.

Information presented April 5 will include what farmers can expect in the way of water deliveries per acre of land during the 1974 season.

Soviet reversal seen

WASHINGTON (UPI) — U.S. farm experts believe Soviet crop production in 1974 probably will drop about 8 per cent from last year's record.

They think Russia probably will reduce its grain imports sharply and may return to its traditional role of a grain exporter.

Experts, in a report Wednesday, said they expected declines in Soviet grain production at least partly offset by another increase in livestock production because seed supplies from 1973 crops were good.

The analysis appeared in a report earlier predictions that the Soviet Union, which made record-breaking grain purchases from the United States two years ago, will buy much less from this country this summer.

There have been predictions Russian buyers might not buy any wheat from the United States in the 1974 season, although they probably would continue some corn purchases.

Lunch-beef purchases 'no help'

GREELEY, Colo. (UPI) — A spokesman for one of the world's largest feedlots says he isn't too impressed with President Nixon's attempts to boost cattle prices by having the government buy $45 million in beef for school lunches.

The $45 million might be called a stimulant or a sort of "pump" in the industry, says the spokesman, but it won't do hardly anything to relieve the backlog in the feedlot.

Meekins said cattle raisers had become frightened because of an estimated 15 per cent reduction in the livestock being consigned to feedlots.

At Denver, a spokesman for the American National Cattlemen's Association (ANCA) said that the $45 million would only buy 100,000 head of cattle, and that's just the average one-day kill nationally.

He said the government's purchases just won't be all that significant.

1,000 attend antique auction at Buhl

By LORAYNE G. SMITH
Times-News Writer

BUHL—Down deep inside, nearly everyone has wanted to go to an auction.

For farmers and serious collectors, auctions are regular occurrences and for a good many others who fall somewhere in between these categories, such events provide an occasional pastime.

But Thursday at the farm of the late J. Ed Vogel northeast of Buhl, there was an auction, conservatively described by the auctioneer as the largest antique auction yet ever held.

Everybody came; cars were parked on both sides of the road for two miles in either direction and Kaye Wall, Kimberly, of the firm of Wall and Patterson, which handled the event, estimated attendance at 1,000 persons.

The sale began at 10 a.m. and when the last item was auctioned at about 7:30 p.m., nearly half of the crowd was still there. Wall said there were bidders from Pennsylvania, Ohio, Michigan, Wyoming, Nebraska, Colorado, Montana, Las Vegas, Los Angeles, and even British Columbia. There were 30 bidders.

The auctioneer firm also received phone calls from one person in New York and another in Florida. Wall credited this nationwide interest partly to word of mouth.

The "loot" was well worth all the attention for the late Mr. Vogel had one of the largest collections of old-time equipment in this part of the West. He was especially well known for his steam engine operated threshing machines, which he demonstrated each summer for many years for the benefit of the modern small fry who never had seen such a mechanical monster.

Top prize for the biggest steam engine, estimated to have cost about $1,300 when new, was $500. It was sold to a Utah resident.

Mr. Vogel owned numerous old wagons, buggies, older gas tractors as well as considerable horse drawn farm equipment, cars and trucks.

One of the choicest items sold was the Idaho River, a steam-powered tugboat with boiler, paddle wheel and dual wheel heavy duty trailer for moving on the highway.

Wall declined to list how much it brought because it "was the only real bargain" at the auction. He said he told the crowd a wedding ceremony was performed on the steamboat and someone yelled, "The man who was married is right here."

One of the most interested observers at the day-long auction was Jim Acton, Ottumwa, Iowa, who became acquainted with Mr. Vogel when the longtime Buhl farmer brought his steam engines back to the Midwest Old Settlers and Threshers reunions at Mt. Pleasant, Iowa, each year.

Two of the Vogel oldtime engines are on permanent display there and a third will be added as soon as it is assembled, Acton said.

Acton and his wife, who accompanied him to the sale, once spent six hours on the river in the Vogel steamboat and the boiler steel, only pounds of coal which proved its efficiency, Acton said.

The Iowa man came to bid, but he didn't buy. Everything he bid on went like crazy, he said.

In addition to all the horse-drawn equipment, wall had a large collection of items, there were 10 sets of work harnesses, all sized and ready for use and an assortment of furniture to delight any antique buff. The furniture included a pot belly stove, wicker rocker and an old Monarch coal-burning and electric stove.

It was the head of a young man who grew up on poor "dirt" farms to realize, but anything new that smacks of the pre-motorized era has become valuable. A round oak table brought more than $200 and a Russian spinning wheel went to a Jerome man for $100.

There were many new models of lamps, too. I saw a woman carrying away an electric portable oven! But hundreds of individuals probably will spend the next few weeks sorting and displaying "treasured" items from the auction.

Mr. Vogel had a large collection of other intriguing objects like cowbells, hand sickle, washtubs and old lanterns.

Like many people, I've always wanted to go to an auction and though I attended cattle sales in the "golden days" with my dad, somehow I never got to a real farm auction. But this good-bye to one old man, for with trying to get pictures over all the people's shoulders, I couldn't see a thing to buy.

Gooding studies land use plan

GOODING—Gooding County's comprehensive plan for land use is nearing completion.

Members of the planning commission reviewed the parks, recreation and wildlife sections of the plan Thursday night.

The next major step will be to list the projects the commission would like to see completed in the next five years and potential uses of the land in each member's assigned area.

Dee Boyd, Hagerman, was selected to replace Aldrich Bowler on the commission, Thelma Ferguson explained a new provision of the National Flood Insurance program which will be effective July 1, 1975.

She told members that if a person builds in a flood plain area, he will be required to have flood plain insurance in order to qualify for federal grants, VA and GI loans.

The flood insurance is underwritten by the federal government and can be obtained through local insurance agents, she said.

The commission will request that a member of the Department of Water Administration meet with it to discuss the flood insurance program before the members decide whether to add a section on flood plain building in the comprehensive plan.

Rising prices aid war on junk

TWIN FALLS—Higher steel prices and offers from wrecking pits to pick up wrecked car bodies are helping rid Twin Falls of one solid waste problem.

Several wrecking yards have announced they will pick up old unpainted car bodies and haul them from private property at no cost.

In the first week one of the wrecking firms advertised the offer. City Manager Jean Millar said some 30 old car bodies disappeared from the scene.

He said the city is continuing to encourage residents to take advantage of the present opportunity to have the old car bodies hauled away. They are generally too large and difficult for the individual to handle and many people decline to pay the cost of having them removed.

As a result for many such junk boxes are sitting on private property around the city, Millar said.

Wrecking yards can now pick up the old car bodies and have them crushed and baled and sell the steel at a profit.

Several auto repair shops are working with the city to help eliminate the unwanted items but were forced to abandon the idea because of rising steel prices. The highest profit ranges to $20 per ton, Millar said.

Now, he said, he has heard quotations all the way up to $75 or $100 per ton.

If this is accurate or even half way accurate, he said it should provide enough incentive for wrecking lots to clear up nearly all of the car bodies in the city.

Old cars are being handled on sanitary landfills and are not permitted dump grounds, Millar said, and as a result have long constituted a major waste problem.

3 dogs kill 15 head of sheep

WENDELL—Ed Bowman reports that three dogs attacked and crippled or killed 15 head of sheep on his farm.

Bowman lives six miles south and one mile east of Wendell.

He said he hired a man to discover the dogs in the sheep when he went out to feed the flock. At that time, the dogs weren't mauling the sheep.

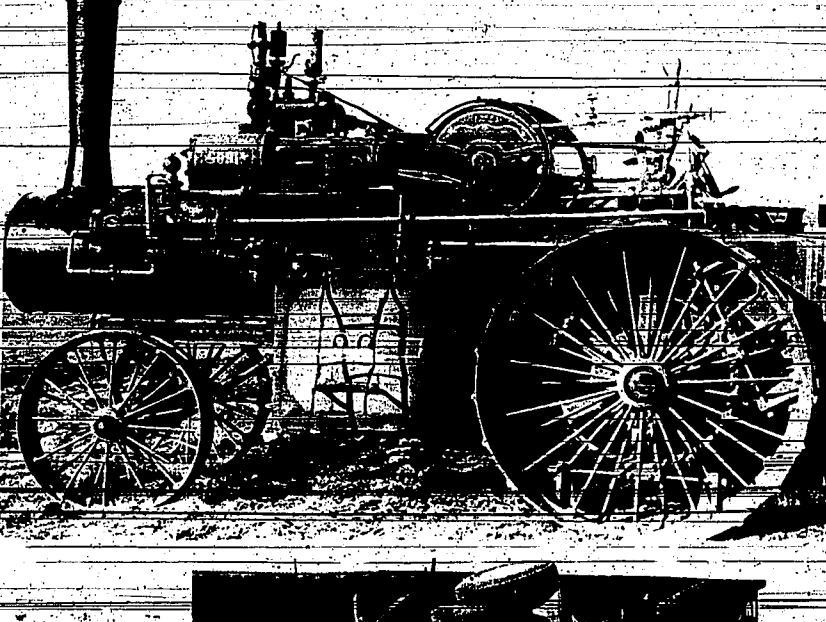

Bowman said that when he went to neighboring farms to ask if anyone had seen any of the mauling dogs, the man showed him a sheep which had come to the place and it was shot, leaving two of the sheep killers still at large.

Bowman said he had the sheep in three bunches in fenced pastures within a quarter mile of his residence and that sheep were unharmed or killed in each bunch.

He said the sheep were killed Wednesday night and that no trace of the dogs has been found.

According to Bowman, Earl Brown, Gooding County sheriff, has been notified of the incident, but since the dogs had left long before he arrived on the scene, he has been unable to trace any of them.

Bowman said the nearest other flock of sheep is 10 miles from the ranch and to his knowledge, no one else in the area has had a problem with dogs bothering sheep.

Antique auction

TOP price of $3,900 was paid for the steam engine.

Antique auction Thursday of the Ed Vogel estate near Buhl, owners of the pickup truck, right, were among the 300 bidders at the sale which did not go home empty-handed.

An estimated 1,000 persons from throughout the United States attended and many stayed until the last item was sold about 7:30 p.m.

DECA finals set today

By CRICKET BIRD
Times-News Writer

TWIN FALLS—Finals contests at the DECA state convention were completed Thursday, with finals set today.

About 50 students, members of the Districtwide Education Clubs of America (DECA) were selected by judges to advance to the finals.

More than 100 Twin Falls business persons judged the DECA members in advertising, salesmanship, public speaking, window display, advertising layout and other business plans.

So far, the convention has been excellent from the standpoint of participation and representation, Anthony Maulgoie, state supervisor for DECA said. He praised the cooperation and support of the judges and community.

About 200 DECA members are attending the state convention. More than 300 students were expected, said Kim Babender, Caldwell, state DECA secretary, but the last moment other things must have interfered, she said, such as court cases, family problems.

The convention attendance is about the same as last year, according to John Holup, teacher-educator for DECA from the University of Idaho. "We expected more, we were looking at our increased membership," Holup said.

DECA membership last year was increased by 70 per cent, making it the second highest increase in the nation, according to Maulgoie.

"There's a good deal more awareness on the part of the parents and students as to the relevance and importance of education. They want something that will lead to careers," Maulgoie said.

Holup said the unemployment rate for people that have been in the DECA program is much lower than the average for their age group.

Fay Hodson of the Twin Falls Chamber of Commerce spoke at the DECA recognition banquet Wednesday night. He affirmed his faith in young people, and in the development of the youth of today into tomorrow's leaders.

The committee recommendations for a certificate of appreciation to Twin Falls community for its support of DECA, Holup said.

A concluding awards banquet is scheduled for tonight. Gov. Cecil D. Andrus was asked to speak, but will not be able to because of a conflict with the legislative session, according to an aide.

Views heard on Jerome revamp plans

JEROME—County commissioners held two public hearings Wednesday on the courthouse remodeling project.

Only one protest was heard on the half-million dollar addition and remodeling project.

The press and four county employees were the only people attending the afternoon session. The same people attended the evening meeting with the addition of Mrs. Warren Kuy's, who spoke favoring the project, and Mario Dalry, who agreed with Mrs. Kuy.

Mr. and Mrs. J. T. Kelley were the only protesters.

Kelley said he thought the money should be given to the prosecuting attorney and sheriff's departments to increase their personnel.

Claude Bernard, commission chairman, told Kelley that the county had authorized the addition of another deputy to the sheriff's department and has provided funds in the prosecuting attorney's budget for a deputy prosecutor.

As with the new building, we will be able to combine the sheriff's department and city police in one facility, which will provide 24-hour police protection in the whole county," Bernard said.

The commissioners have scheduled one more open meeting for 8 p.m. APRIL 27th the Hazelton Grade School to give residents of the east end of the county an opportunity to express their opinions. The commissioners are expected to award the bid for the construction of the addition and remodeling project following the final meeting.

Nelson and Co., Twin Falls, is the apparent low bidder for the project. The firm's base bid was $549,300 with an alternate bid of $12,845 for an elevator.

The commission has allocated $55,000 in this year's budget to pay for the project. The county is matching a $119,000 grant from the state Law Enforcement Planning Agency, with the majority of the remaining funds being derived from 1974-75 revenue sharing money.

Barnard said following the evening meeting he could not understand the public's lack of interest in how tax money is going to be spent.

Expansion plans approved

HAILEY—The Blaine County Airport Advisory Board has approved expansion plans for the new terminal building at Friedman Memorial Airport.

During a meeting Tuesday in Hailey, the board agreed to have the original plans for the terminal re-drawn to increase its size by about one-third.

Board secretary Richard Anderson said the recommendation for expansion stemmed from discussions with airline operators. He said the plan alterations would require about 100 hours of labor at $10 an hour.

After the meeting, Anderson said the facility will reportedly be constructed this summer. The terminal, which is expected to cost about $100,000, will be funded by a $50,000 Idaho Department of Aeronautics grant, with the remainder to be covered by airport fees, airport operation funds and funds from the county airport fund.

Anderson said the building will contain ticket office rental spaces, a waiting room, restrooms, quarters for a manager, and possibly a snack bar.

The terminal will be located on the west side of the airport at about the mid-point of the runway drive.

Cassia school project plans advance

BURLEY—Planning is in the final stages for several of Cassia County's school building projects.

Bid openings for the new Burley Junior High School were delayed by the school board at a meeting Wednesday night to give contractors more time to submit their bids.

It is now scheduled for April 5. Five general contractors and a number of subcontractors have shown interest in the project at this point, according to William Richardson, architect for the school district.

Final plans for the new Burley Elementary School and the renovation of Oakley High School will be ready for the approval of the board at its last meeting in April, Richardson said.

The latest cost estimate for the elementary school is $1.15 million. The estimated cost of the Oakley remodeling was brought down by $15,000 from the last estimate. The old locker rooms at Oakley will be renovated, rather than building a new building to house them. Renovation is expected to cost about $24,000.

The board approved Richardson's proposed color scheme for the Declo Elementary School. Richardson said the work there is currently ahead of schedule and going very well.

Richardson cautioned the school board to "look at life cycle costs" in building projects as well as initial costs. He said that a five per cent saving in initial cost can result in 10 per cent or more additional cost over the lifetime of the building. He used the example of energy costs and possible scarcity as it relates to building design.

Bids for maintenance projects, a maintenance department pickup and basketball backboards for Declo will be opened April 24.

The board changed the proposed 1974-75 calendar as it was presented by the calendar committee. Because of building projects, the committee had recommended starting school a week later than usual on Sept. 3, which would have kept school in session until May 30.

The board approved this proposal and set the school opening as it had been in the past—beginning Aug. 26 and dismissing for the summer May 22.

All teachers on continuing contract with the school district were approved for rehiring, except for three who are "currently on administrative probation. All but two teachers on non-continuing contracts were re-hired.

Supt. Harold Blauer told the board that considerable shifting of junior high school students will be necessary next year to allow Burley High School to go back on a single shift basis.

With the completion of the new Declo Elementary school in the fall, the district can use the old elementary school building to alleviate crowding problems until the other school building projects are completed.

Blauer said shifting of the junior high school students would be better for the majority of Cassia County students, although it may be a disadvantage to junior high school students and teachers.

The board approved Blauer's proposal for shifting junior high school students within the district.

Blaine favors improvements

KETCHUM—The Ketchum-Sun Valley Chamber of Commerce voted in favor of an improved two-lane US Highway 88.

The group voted unanimously Thursday to adopt a list of recommendations for Highway 88 and State Highway 75 submitted by a chamber study committee chaired by Bill Carr.

The committee recommendations also included that the existing Union Pacific Railroad line not be used for a possible highway route and that it be retained for future mass transit for the Wood River Valley.

Idaho names Jarvis as new cage coach

MOSCOW (UPI) — The University of Idaho announced Thursday afternoon Jim Jarvis, head coach at Spokane Falls Community College, has been selected as the new head coach of the Idaho Vandals basketball team.

Jarvis, 31, succeeds Wayne Anderson, who resigned earlier this month after serving as the Vandal mentor since 1967. Anderson was a member of the Oregon State University basketball team from 1963-65, won the distinction of the most valuable player in the Pan West Classic in 1964, was on several All-American teams, won a spot on the all-Pac-10 conference team in 1965 and was captain and most valuable player of the Beavers that year.

Nicklaus, Barber tie for meet lead

NEW ORLEANS (UPI) — Miller Barber, finishing after the sun went down, tied defending champion Jack Nicklaus with a 67 on Thursday in the first round of the Greater New Orleans open golf tournament.

Seven other players, including Lee Trevino, trailed by the co-leaders by one shot with 67. The others were Bruce Crampton, Tom Watson, Earl, Larry Hinson, Roy Price, and George Archer.

"I feel like I've been here a long time," Barber said after a 67 on Thursday in the first round of the Greater New Orleans open golf tournament. Barber, playing the back nine first, made the turn in five under 31 and picked up another birdie on the front side to equal Nicklaus' score. Barber had stood up for the lead for almost four hours. Nicklaus sank two long putts in the first four holes and played a near-perfect round, three stringing together three successive birdies. "I had two periods of streaking," Nicklaus referred to his birdie run. "The only difference was I wore clothes."

Venezuela detains champ for tax lien

CARACAS (UPI) — Heavy-weight champion George Foreman being held for ransom until somebody pays more than $100,000 in taxes on his purse from Tuesday night's title fight.

planned to go swimming or sightseeing today while challenger Ken Norton was going home to get a passport to leave. However, a spokesman for Foreman said he doubted this would be done until Monday.

McGuire wants curb on height

ATHENS, Ga. (UPI) — Colorful Marquette basketball coach, Al McGuire, says he "wants a rule change to stop all that garbage" under the offensive baskets.

Foreman, who knocked out Norton at 2:00 of the second round, seemed to be enjoying his prolonged stay after overcoming an intestinal bug. "I'm feeling fine now," he said in an interview. "I really haven't had a chance to relax, since the fight." He added, "Maybe I'll be out of here swimming in the pool or buying a camera and going to the beach."

Foster quits Utah for Duke

DURHAM, N.C. (UPI) — Bill Foster, head basketball coach at Utah for the past three years, was given the head coaching job at Duke University Thursday night.

Foreman and his 15-man party were stopped by immigration officials at Maquetta airport Friday morning when they tried to leave. "They're holding the champion for ransom," complained his spokesman, Bill Caplan. "Norton also went to the airport Friday seven hours before Foreman, but only to see some members of his party off."

Milwaukee wary of Lakers in playoffs

MILWAUKEE, Wis. (UPI) — Despite having the best win-loss record in the National Basketball Association, and despite the fact old pro Oscar Robertson is playing well, the Milwaukee Bucks express typical doubt when they open a best-of-seven playoff with the Los Angeles Lakers Friday night. The reasons are four-fold. One, Bucks will be without Robertson's star running mate, Lucius Allen, who is out of the playoffs with a leg injury; the Lakers are playing extremely well; the Bucks are the only team to hold a season edge on the Bucks, and they've always been tough for Milwaukee in playoffs.

N.Y. meets Bullets in opener

NEW YORK (UPI) — The New York Knicks start defense of their World Championship basketball title against an old foe, the Capital Bullets, Friday, buoyed by the return of skipper Willis Reed who was sidelined for four months of the season. For much of the season, the regular season the Knicks played like anything but champions, but they earned their playoff berth and now the Madison Square Garden faithful will be making with the "A-C-res-se" chant, expect nothing short of an appearance in the championship series.

Milwaukee won the Midwest Division title with a 56-23 record, finishing five games ahead of Chicago, Los Angeles and the Dallas Division crown until the last few days of the season in a wrestle with Golden State. But they won four of six with Milwaukee. Bulls Coach Larry Costello has been looking at game films to come up with some wrinkles to compensate for the loss of Allen and take away some of the Lakers' threats.

Filer girls take 4-way track win

WENDELL — The Filer girls picked up most of the points in the long jump and quarter-mile Thursday in winning a four-way meet at Wendell.

The Chiefs may have held a sentimental edge over the WFL in bidding for the Eight's offensive player of the year. In 1969 as a high school sophomore, Jaynes attended a Chiefs football clinic and was a locker room equipment manager during the championship season. Jaynes' career at Kansas resulted in more than 5,000 yards in passing and 35 touchdowns. The senior quarterback completed 112 of 330 passes for 2,100 yards and 15 touchdowns. He was intercepted only nine times as he led the Jayhawks to second place in the conference and a Liberty Bowl appearance.

Nets given edge over Squires

UNIONDALE, N.Y. (UPI) — It could not be said to be a surprise when the New York Nets won their American Basketball Association Eastern playoff series against the Virginia Squires at the Colonial Knight.

Wendell provided the top individual sport winners as Miss Langford again doubled in the weights while Miss Goodhart took three firsts, the 100 and 75-yard dash and the hurdles. Her sprint victories came by a matter of a couple of inches over Miss Chadwick of Filer.

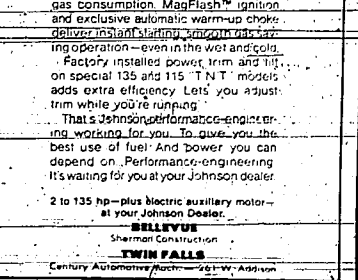

Jaynes inks contract with Chiefs

KANSAS CITY, Mo. (UPI) — The "World Football League" Thursday lost its No. 1 draft choice, Kansas All-American quarterback David Jaynes, to the Kansas City Chiefs of National Football League.

Colonels win final game MEMPHIS, Tenn. (UPI) — The Kentucky Colonels rallied for 31 points in the last quarter Thursday night to hand the Memphis Tams their 63rd defeat, 107-105, in the last game of the season. The Tams finished at 21-63, the worst record in the ABA. Artis Gilmore led Kentucky with 24 points and forward Dan Issel chipped in 20 as the Colonels rallied from an 81-75 third quarter deficit to win. Guard George Thompson was high for the Tams with 31 points.

FORECAST FOR SATURDAY, MARCH 30, 1974

GENERAL TENDENCIES: Force nothing. Be fully understanding others better, handling cultural matters all are favored in a m. but it's advisable to concentrate on building up health in afternoon. Evening then is good for contacting, enjoying, or other.

ARIES (Mar. 21 to Apr. 19) Enter train at home tonight. Be sure to emotional. Plan what is best for you to do. Think along very constructive lines.

TAURUS (Apr. 20 to May 20) Get chores done early, then you can go out with good pals for amusement. Drive with utmost care to avoid trouble.

GEMINI (May 21 to June 21) Plan budget to avoid worry about money. A trusted adviser is off base now, but a wise person can be very helpful.

MOON CHILDREN (June 22 to July 21) Stay on the constructive side of the contest of watching the opposite direction. After a hard day, you can have much happiness tonight.

LEO (July 22 to Aug. 23) Fulfill business and instead of dashing out for recreation. You can make big headway, so don't waste time foolishly. Don't act gratuitously.

VIRGO (Aug. 23 to Sep. 23) You know what you want, but wait from optimism to pessimism about it, so think positive. Have a quiet, relaxing time with good pals. Contact them early.

LIBRA (Sept. 23 to Oct. 23) Ideal day to solve problems that are important and to increase prestige. Do nothing that can injure your good name.

SCORPIO (Oct. 23 to Nov. 21) Get duties done, then you're free of pressures. Don't accept further commitments you cannot meet. Study modern trends very carefully for future action.

SAGITTARIUS (Nov. 22 to Dec. 21) Concentrate on what means the most to you, so you can have greater happiness later in the evening. Don't annoy an associate or agent.

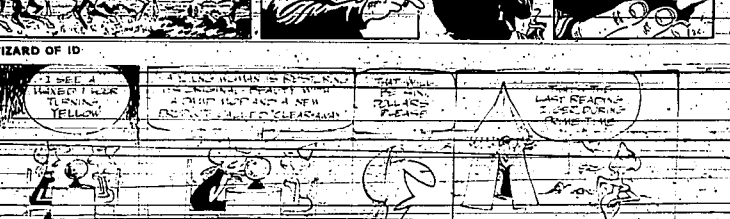

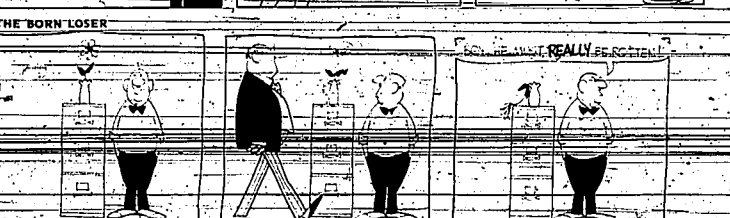

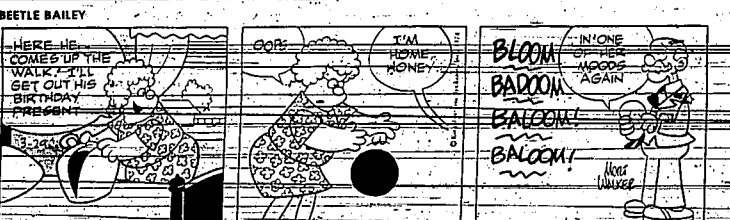

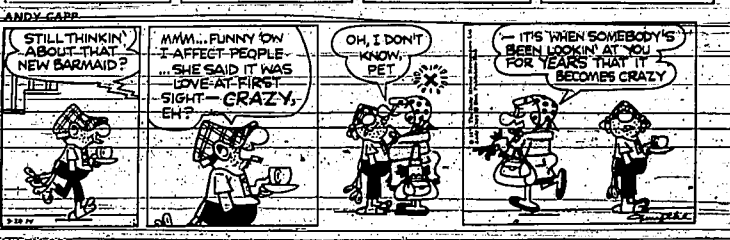

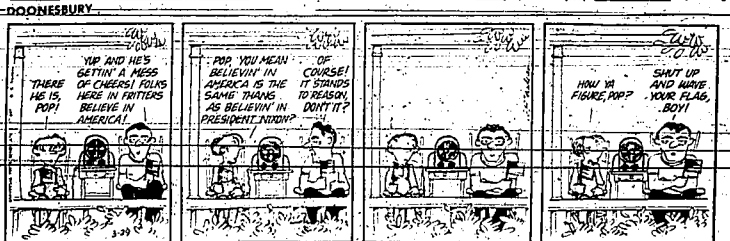

CAPRICORN (Dec. 22 to Jan. 30) Try to understand an associate better now by acting in an understandable fashion. Enjoy social recreation with good friends after a happy day's work.

AQUARIUS (Jan. 31 to Feb. 19) You have a good deal to do and won't be able to rest until evening, so keep busy. Think health and down on tensions.

PISCES (Feb. 20 to Mar. 20) Accept others as they are and stop trying to change them and don't let their moods annoy you. You're doing very fine.

IF YOUR CHILD IS BORN TODAY He or she will have many emotional problems. The care of life if the right diet is not given and if not taught to use emotions only in the most intelligent way. Ideal chart for merchandising and putting ideas across to others. The field of public relations is just fine here. Give spiritual teachings early. Teach while young to think about the interests of others, to help help hand when needed.

"The Stars impel, they do not compel." What you make of your life is largely up to you!

What's What

L. M. Boyd

A fairly youthful student wants the Dust-Bowl years idealized from 1934 through 1936, they were. Record shows 253 great blizzards in what they were called. Lot of days the sun was just a dark red ball at noon. Little more. Some lead foot of cover dust. And the tops of buried fence posts looked like statues in a fantasy photos.

A: "Will you accept a moose in that category? If so, the giant moose on Alaska's Kenai Peninsula rates No. 1. Other runs are feet tall at the shoulders."

Q: "Was there a real Hiawatha?"
A: Some scholars say so. A Mohawk chief.

WAITRESS
You don't go overboard anymore a waitress sing out to a "cook." Fry two omelets or "Burger-with" or "Blue plate!" Why is noteworthy, I think. Waitresses and cooks used to quarrel a lot. In those restaurants where the waitresses gave as many orders as they took. But some "stakeholders" installed the now-famous ticket system. Waitresses simply insert their orders in the trayman tray. And the cooks pick them out in succession as time allows. Now waitresses and cooks don't fight so much now. Hardly at all, in fact. But to get this peaceful coexistence, owners also had to remove that counter-bell which those cooks are apt so combatively to bang when the orders are up.

Our circus want a quod amount for the Ringling Brothers, Roman and Bailey, bands. They have an excellent one here in Germany. Those two circuses are said to be almost but not quite identical. We contend you can identify the German circus as the one where in the elephants march without bending their knees.

July SR float trip reservations filled

CHALLIS — Only August and September dates are open for reservations for private party float trips on the Middle Fork of the Salmon River.

Advance reservations are required for individuals who wish to float the Middle Fork according to Challis National Forest officials.

All dates in July have been filled, the officials said, though openings are available after the middle of August.

Extremely low water last August hindered floating operations, officials said, but prospects for 1974 look much better. The snowpack in the Salmon River drainage is considerably above average.

With normal spring runoff should be higher than last year and the good floating season will extend into September.

Summer early float trips may be very hazardous or even impossible due to high water, officials said.

For reservations or additional information contact the Middle Fork District Ranger, Challis, Idaho 83226.

Many commercial outfitters will arrange float trips down the Middle Fork of the Salmon. Most of these outfitters have openings for 1974 float trips.

Brief church news

SHOSHONE — A program on special missionaries was given at the Baptist Women's Mission Society meeting Thursday afternoon. Mrs. Paul Bancroft was program chairman. The meeting was held at the home of Mrs. Frank Shaffer. A letter was received thanking members for the gifts—the women had made from her mother's estate. The next meeting will be at 8 p.m. April 3 at the home of Mrs. Dan Kelley.

TWIN FALLS — About 140 members of the Jehovah's Witnesses Church in Twin Falls attended a circuit meeting Sunday at the Pocatello High School. George L. Cook, Shoshone, Wyo., was the speaker. Members from Buhl, Burley, Halley, Heyburn and Wendell were included in the crowd of 2,053, local church officials report.

TWIN FALLS — The singing group "His Own" will be at the First Church of the Nazarene Sunday. They will be singing in the morning worship service. At the 7 p.m. service there will be a "Night of Music." This will be an exciting, glorious time of singing, according to church officials.

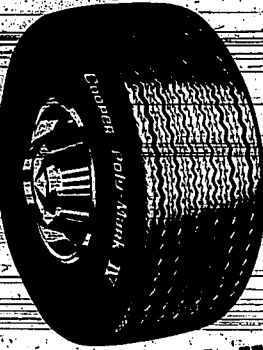

NAMPA — The Bill Galther Trio will appear in concert April 11th at 7:30 p.m. at the Northwest Nazarene College gym in Nampa. From Alexandria, Indiana, the trio is composed of Bill Galther; Bill's wife, Gloria; and his brother, Dan, all former school teachers who now devote all their time to concerts, recording, and writing. Tickets are available at First Church of the Nazarene in Twin Falls or by mail.

New straw hat sets off celebration

CHARLESTON, W. Va. (UPI) — His new straw hat, explained the accused drunk was just too pretty to "spend the day in jail." He asked Judge John Charnock to consider the circumstances surrounding his arrest and that of his wife and 29-year-old son for drunkenness.

"We were drinking and celebrating my birthday at my home and I had admitted the midnight suspect Wednesday," said some windows were broken and maybe we did get a little noisy. "But, judge, I got this here hat as a present and I'd rather walk up Virginia Street with it in my hand than spend the day in jail with it in my hands. We are sobered up, anyway."

With a grin, Charnock replied, "Case dismissed. Happy birthday."

SS officials plan new travel schedule

TWIN FALLS — A revised travel schedule for Magic Valley has been announced by John K. Carleton, district manager of the Social Security office in Twin Falls.

The Twin Falls office, 156 Second Ave. W., is open from 9 a.m. to 4:45 p.m. Monday through Friday. Effective Monday, the new schedule calls for a representative to be at the Burley Senior Citizens Center, 927 East Main, every Tuesday from 9:30 a.m. to 1:30 p.m.

Schedule for other towns include: Minidoka County Courthouse, Rupert, Wednesday from 9:30 a.m. to 1:30 p.m.; Gooding, first and third Thursdays, back room of the city hall; 9:30 a.m. to 1:30 p.m.

Blaine County courthouse, Halley, first Friday of each month, 9:30 a.m. to 1:30 p.m. and the West End Senior Citizens Center, 113 N. Bond, second and fourth Fridays of each month, 9:30 a.m. to 1 p.m.

Hydrologists can now detect dissolved mercury concentrations as small as one part per 10-million parts of water.

Chicano senior citizen group formed

TWIN FALLS — The first successful Chicano senior citizens group under the Idaho Office on Aging has been organized in Twin Falls.

The group, called MAA for Mexicanos Americanos Adelante, has been meeting since March 14, according to Al Reyes of the Community Action Agency. So far, he said, the group has about 20 members.

Reyes said some door-to-door canvassing had been done to inform the community of the new group. "We've let the word out that we are looking for all senior citizens in the valley. We're trying to get them informed," Reyes said.

A Sunday meeting and pollack dinner is set for 1 p.m. at the Twin Falls Senior Citizens Center to draw up bylaws and discuss the possibility of incorporation.

For more information about the group, call Al Reyes at 723-9351.
