Battle lines drawn over tapes

WASHINGTON — U.S. District Judge John Sirica today set a hearing for next Wednesday on President Nixon's attempt to cancel a prosecution subpoena for White House tapes and documents in connection with the Watergate cover-up case.

Nixon's attorneys requested the move by filing a motion Wednesday to quash the subpoena, which calls for material relating to 64 White House conversations between June, 1972 and June, 1973.

Sirica said the Watergate special prosecutor's office and any defendants in the cover-up case must reply to the President's motion by 2 p.m. next Monday, and Nixon may reply by Wednesday morning, just before the hearing begins.

Philip A. Lacovara, counsel to special prosecutor Leon Jaworski, noted that in Nixon's release Tuesday of White House transcripts, the President released transcripts of 20 of the tapes called for in the prosecution's subpoena.

Lacovara suggested that in so doing the President waived executive privilege on these 20 tapes and Sirica could immediately call those tapes should be turned over.

White House Attorney John A. McCallih replied, however, that Nixon has waived privilege only to the extent of releasing the edited and unverified transcripts. He said the privilege still is claimed for the tapes themselves.

The prosecutors have argued previously, however, that even verified transcripts would be unsatisfactory evidence, given the

Syrian guns take highest toll

By United Press International
Syrian gunners today took their highest toll of Israeli casualties in five days and Israeli artillery retaliated with strikes on Syrian targets as close as 9 and 12 miles from Damascus; the Israeli command reported.

In a communique at 4:35 p.m. (8:35 a.m. MDT), the command said four of its soldiers were killed and two wounded by Syrian shellfire on Israeli positions in the salient of Syria captured in October.

Bath Irving ends prison term

GENEVA (UPI) — Bath Irving, 39, who has served a two-year term in a Swiss prison for her part in the Howard Hughes autobiography, says she will be released from prison Friday.

She plans an exhibition of paintings done while in the prison. Her attorney said she plans to go to her home on the Spanish island of Ibiza following her release. Her husband, Clifford, recently completed a 12-month term for his part in the hoax.

Halg refuses probes queries

WASHINGTON (UPI) — White House chief of staff Alexander Haig was called before Senate Watergate committee investigators Thursday. Sources said he refused to answer more than 10 questions, most of them concerning the $100,000 Howard Hughes campaign contribution.

Committee sources said Haig told them he was ordered by President Nixon not to answer any questions.

SEC charges Penn Central fraud

WASHINGTON (UPI) — The Securities and Exchange Commission today said it has charged Penn Central with alleged fraud that it said cost investors billions of dollars.

Attie raps press questions

BOSTON (UPI) — The averest news reporter asks no more penetrating questions than the average high school student, Massachusetts Atty. Gen. Robert H. Quinn says.

Quinn's critique of the press questioning in a press release, saying he based his comment on his daily meetings with reporters since taking office five years ago.

Senate defeats control measure

WASHINGTON (U.P. Times Service) — In a decisive expression of dislike for wage and price controls, the U.S. Senate voted 57-21 Wednesday night against giving the Nixon administration power to reimpose controls.

The Senate then approved 44-11 reimposition of controls on companies violating price restraint commitments. The House gave the Cost of Living Council, and creation of an agency to monitor inflation.

Gina says watching streak 'fun'

TOKYO (UPI) — Italian actress Gina Lollobrigida says watching people running in the nude is "fun."

Her verbal approval of streaking came at a meeting of the Foreign Correspondents Club of Japan Wednesday. She is presently visiting Japan while on a round-the-world tour.

Idahoans oppose 'no-fault' bill

WASHINGTON (UPI) — Idaho's Senators voted against the national no-fault auto insurance bill, which passed the Senate Wednesday.

Democrat Frank Church and Republican James McClure were among 42 Senators voting against the measure, which received 53 favorable votes. (Related story, p. 6)

Energy administration approved

WASHINGTON (UPI) — The Senate gave final congressional approval today to a bill to create a Federal Energy Administration to monitor national energy resources and needs.

The measure was passed without opposition by voice vote. The bill, which now goes to the White House, actually provides statutory authority for the Federal Energy Office.

Coffee cup costs 25¢

By DAVID HORSMAN
Times News Writer

TWIN FALLS — The treasured American tradition of cheap coffee and good conversation in a cozy cafe may be priced out of existence in Twin Falls.

In a meeting two weeks ago, most Twin Falls restaurant owners and managers agreed to boost the price of a cup of coffee to 25 cents, effective May 1.

H. K. Kleinkopf, owner of the Rustlet Inn today said only two or three Twin Falls restaurants were not represented at the meeting in the Black Hills Inn.

Soaring supply costs in general caused the price boost, according to Kleinkopf, although coffee, labor and equipment expenses are immediately responsible.

Customers "won't be charged for refills," Kleinkopf said. "We're not getting 50 cents per cup — just 25 cents per customer."

Coffee isn't the only item hit by the price spiral, Kleinkopf said. But it is the only one with a higher price fixed by mutual agreement in Twin Falls.

"The last 10 days, all sandwiches in Twin Falls have gone up at least 5 cents and all meals except breakfast have gone up at least 20 cents," Kleinkopf said today.

And if that wholesale price don't stabilize it goes down within a year, he said. "I think you'll get 25 per cent of the restaurants in the city going out of business."

He listed some of the price boosts per restaurant operators: Coffee, from 80 cents per pound a year ago to $1.25 today; $1.00 per cent like in potato prices in the last six months; a 100 per cent boost in dry bean prices in the same time period.

Labor costs also have skyrocketed with the raising of minimum wages from $10 to $12.50 a week, Kleinkopf said. The salary hike will cost restaurant owners another 21 per cent in expense on a nationwide level, he said.

The Rustlet Inn has had "blank menus" printed to allow for future price changes as costs go up, according to Kleinkopf.

The changes will vary with each restaurant since consumer prices depend on individual wholesale supplies, he said.

"A man will have to depend on his source of supply," he said.

Quarter's worth

April's TF gas prices hold line

Only one service station of six surveyed by the Times-News had increased its price from April 1 to April 30. The cost of gas at this station went up 2 cents for both regular and premium.

The average cost of a gallon of regular gasoline was 54.6 cents on April 30. Premium gas was selling at an average price of 59.3 cents a gallon.

Prices at the six stations ranged from 51.25 to 62 cents for a gallon of regular to a high of 53.8 cents. The low for premium was 55.5 cents per gallon, and the high was 59.2 cents.

Steady prices may be short-lived. One Twin Falls station manager said that he expects a 15 to 2 cent increase during the first part of May.

Price hikes for gas usually come at the beginning of the month, he said, passed down from distributor to the local dealer.

Apparently it's another case of no sooner said than done. Before noon on Wednesday, May 1, Conoco announced a price hike of 3 cents a gallon for gas. A company source said no reason was given for the increase in wholesale price, and added that he really hadn't expected the price rise.

Five other major oil distributors surveyed reported no wholesale price increase, but most said they had no way to predict when a price hike would be made.

TF board vote

Contest likely

TWIN FALLS — At least one Twin Falls school trustee post will be contested.

Ruth Day, incumbent in zone 3, faces a contest from Douglas B. Egbert, who has returned to the school district after a school administration. Egbert is a custodian for the LDS Church.

Another petition has been taken out by a person school officials could not identify. The petition has not yet been returned. The deadline for filing is 5 p.m. today.

So far, zone 4 incumbent Tom Kley is facing an unopposed candidacy for re-election May 21 to the board.

Security primary goal, Kissinger tells Israel

By Chicago Daily News
Times News Writer

Secretary of State Henry Kissinger launched his toughest peace mission yet today, telling his Israeli hosts that he has come here to discuss concessions but to discuss security first.

Israeli precautions against anti-Kissinger violence reached unprecedented levels with his presidential jet shunted 900 feet from Ben-Gurion Airport. Heavily armed troops and police stood guard.

President Menachem Begin, the lone sign-off, the newly remarried secretary arrived in the company of his bride, Nancy.

As a result, foreign minister Abba Eban spoke toward the brightly colored American aircraft with his wife, Sabe, at his side.

Kissinger hinted in his arrival statement that he was aware of the misgivings that exist in many quarters here about the demands being placed on Israel in connection with the proposed

...to send the letter and two Democrats who wanted stronger language voting with the Republicans.

The committee has information from the White House in the form of tapes previously turned over to Jaworski as well as other material gathered by the grand jury, federal agencies, the Senate Watergate committee and its own investigators. The meeting today was to decide how to use that to its best advantage.

Potato workers strike

By ED MITCHELL
Times News Writer

HEYBURN — About 1,000 workers went on strike today at the J. R. Simplot Heyburn potato processing plant after midnight today.

Negotiations continued today between union and company officials, but no progress had been reported.

The strike closed the Heyburn plant as well as a similar plant at Heyburn.

The American Federation of Grain Millers, AFGM, called the strike at the Heyburn and Caldwell Simplot plants after the company made its final offer late Tuesday.

"We are sorry to see this happened, but after 60 days of negotiations we just couldn't get together," William T. Maxwell-Boise, director of public relations for Simplot said.

The Simplot firm offered a 50-cent per-hour first-year raise, a 30-cent per year contract, an increase of 12.5 percent. This includes wages, benefits and cost-of-living allowances.

The second and third year offer was 42 cents per hour for each year for a total of $7.24 for the three years of the contract. This would raise the hourly average wage from $3.20 to $4.16 in three years.

The union has asked for an increase of $1.19 per hour, a 36 per cent increase, according to Maxwell.

The second and third years would be renegotiated. About 2,000 union members and 1,000 non-union workers are affected by the strike at both plants.

No date for the strike was set for today.

70 NFO cows slaughtered in Valley price protest

By LORAYNE SMITH
Times News Writer

GOODING — About 70 dairy cows owned by National Farmers Organization members were slaughtered here Wednesday as part of a nationwide NFO protest.

They were owned by NFO dairy farmers throughout Magic Valley according to Rich Curtis, Gooding, NFO zone dairy chairman.

"This may not look like much here today," he said referring to some 20 Holsteins waiting slaughter in the yards of the Magic Valley Pucking Co. east of Gooding. The rest of the contingent were killed earlier in the day.

But the Magic Valley effort is part of a nationwide campaign by NFO members to publicize their plight resulting from agricultural policies to "dump cheap, poor quality foreign imports" on the domestic dairy market, Curtis said.

About 300 head of cattle owned by Idaho and Oregon Dairymen's NFO members were slaughtered earlier in the Boise area, but this is the first kill-off of animals in the Magic Valley.

Curtis sees the move as the beginning of a struggle to "see who is going to control agriculture." He said the struggle will determine if family farms or large corporations will have final control of U.S. agriculture.

The Gooding NFO official said the large conglomerates are using imports, which he termed as "inferior quality," as "excuses to drive down domestic prices." He said the large firms can dictate lower prices to the farmer, regardless of the supply and demand.

The NFO protest is an effort to point out to the consumer, he said, that continued low prices for milk and dairy products will "force us out of business."

Club tour set Sunday

TWIN FALLS—The days of Model T's, Mustangs and other cars returning to Magic Valley Sunday.

The Horseless Carriage Club of Magic Valley is bringing cars from the past out for an annual airing. About 15 cars will tour through local towns at the racy speed of about 25 mph.

Club president Loyal Cooper, Kimberly, said cars in the tour will include a 1913 Model T runabout, a 1931 Model A Roadster, a '23 Dodge and a '29

Chevrolet, Seitan, among others.

The touring group, some rides equipped with old-time fashions, is set to leave Kimberly at 10 a.m. headed for Twin Falls. Arrangements with the Twin Falls group will take place at Hanson Park, before the parade sets off to Jerome on the old highway.

Stopping briefly at city park in Jerome, the group will continue to Clear Forks Trout Park via the Bob Barton highway.

After a rest stop, the tour will continue through Buhl and Filer, stopping from about 2:30 to 3:30 p.m. at the Twin Falls Historical Society Museum to let the public have a chance to see the autos.

The tour is to let club members "get their cars checked out and ready" for the club's car show scheduled for June 30 at the Lynnwood Shopping Center, Cooper said.

'Singing Bridge' repairs slated

TWIN FALLS — The "Singing Bridge" on Shoshone Street will be closed for about three weeks for repairs by the Idaho Department of Highways.

Howard Johnson, district engineer, meeting with Twin Falls City Manager Jean Milar, said the state hopes to begin work on the old bridge Monday — with state crews taking a contract.

The bridge has been in use since about 1916.

Plans are to keep the bridge open for emergency traffic only.

Johnson said one lane will be kept open while crews work on the other and foot traffic, police and fire or ambulance units will be able to cross on the single lane, but it will be closed to all other traffic until repairs are complete the week of May 26.

Repairs, Johnson said, will consist of replacing curbs on the bridge, and taking out breaking concrete and replacing it at the base of the bridge.

Johnson said nothing is planned for the bridge from and it will continue to "sing" during the traffic flow.

He said people who must cross the bridge to work on Shoshone Street will have to go by way of East Five Points intersection, then south along South Blue Lakes Boulevard across Rock Creek and back to the South Park area. They may also travel west on Addison Avenue and south on Grandview Drive.

Johnson said the department will post US Highway 93 at the junction with Highway 74, directing traffic to US Highway 36 for entrance into Twin Falls.

Milar said with South Park's residential and industrial area already somewhat removed from emergency services in the city, it is mandatory one lane be made available for such vehicles in case of fire or other emergencies.

SEN. JOHN BARKER seeks new term.

Barker sets bid for post

BUHL — Sen. John M. Barker, R-Buhl, said today he will seek his fifth term in the Idaho State Senate.

Barker's district includes the west end of Twin Falls County and the western third of Twin Falls City.

He is the chairman of the State Health, Education and Welfare Committee and has served as a member of the Legislative Council, the Idaho commissioner to the Education Commission of the States.

He is president of the American Falls Reservoir District.

Barker, 57, is owner and operator of an insurance real estate and real estate loan agency in Buhl, as well as manager of several farms.

He and his wife, Rose, live east of Buhl.

2 TF police staff vacancies filled

TWIN FALLS — Two new staff members joined the Twin Falls Police Department Wednesday.

Sue Cummins was hired as a desk secretary in the police reports room, replacing Judy Brooks, who resigned recently to accept a job as an investigator for the Department of Environmental and Community Services.

Mrs. Cummins is Mrs. Brooks' sister.

In addition, former Idaho State Police trooper Richard Hovel has joined the department as a patrolman.

Police Chief Frank Barnett said Mrs. Cummins will assist officers with crime reports and records and will eventually take on the added responsibility of drawing up criminal complaints for the department.

Dance sellout

TWIN FALLS — All tickets for the Magic Valley Memorial Hospital Auxiliary dinner dance have been sold, Mrs. E. B. Hicks, auxiliary president, said today.

The event is Friday evening at the Blue Lakes Inn. Proceeds will be used to help pay for a heart treadmill machine being purchased by the auxiliary. The machine is on order and will be delivered in the near future.

Mrs. Cummins, previously worked as a secretary for Twin Falls attorney and US Magistrate Henry Turner.

Most recently she was employed as a secretary for the Twin Falls law firm of Bennett and Frahm.

Mrs. Cummins is married and the mother of two children.

Patrolman Hovel served with the Albuquerque, N. M., police department for two years prior to joining the ISF in 1972.

Rast heads Gem. group

JEROME — Walter Rast, Hegerman, was elected president of the Magic Valley chapter of the Idaho State Employees Association Tuesday night.

Rast replaces Wayne King, Twin Falls. Other officers elected include Fred Brown, Gooding, vice president; John Perfecto, Jerome, treasurer; Ivan Mink, Jerome, director; Florence Peterson, Gooding, secretary; and alternates Ed Scholes, Jerome, and William Wilcox, Twin Falls.

Bills passed by the legislature also were discussed at the ISEA meeting in Jerome Tuesday night.

Truck taken

TWIN FALLS — Twin Falls police today are investigating a truck theft.

John Turner told police Wednesday a 1964 Ford pickup truck bearing 21-32140 plates with Glenn's Ski and Trophies signs on both doors had been stolen from the vicinity of Harmon Park. There were no keys in the vehicle, he said.

The committee leaders and staff have hitherto maintained that the committee itself had to be the judge of what was relevant, not the potential defendant. The President said "everything that is relevant" is included in the mass of material he was making public— "the rough as well as the smooth, the strategy sessions, the exploration of alternatives, the weighing of human and political costs."

It is "all there," he said, "blemishes and all."
Calling impeachment a "remedy of last resort," he said it is "the most solemn act of our entire constitutional process."

If the House voted a "format accusation" requiring a senate trial, he said, the nation would be subjected to "a wrenching ordeal it has endured only once in its lifetime, a century ago, and never since America has become a world power with global responsibilities."

He made no effort to disguise the fact he was embarked upon a political campaign, which, in effect, goes over the head of the House committee and the special prosecutor, to the people.

It was the appeal of a defense lawyer arguing his own case in the court of public opinion. Now comes the laborious sifting through of the evidence he has provided, and the hunt for further omissions and exclusions.

Confidence expressed in America

KNOXVILLE, Tenn. — For the better part of two days, we had been talking somberly of what is wrong in America today.

High-level corruption, rampant inflation, the loss of privacy, the pollution of everyday life. A student on the front row asked the last question of a long evening.

"What makes you think America will survive, when everything is crumbling around us?"

I paused before attempting an answer. I was spending several days with students at the University of Tennessee's College of Communications. The young men and women, prospective reporters and broadcasters, had been most interested in Watergate, impeachment, and the various crises that dominate the news — crises in the economy, in the environment, in the supply of energy.

JAMES J. KILPATRICK

They were uneasy about Big Brother government. They were not afraid of the future, but they were depressed that nothing seems to be working right. Why did I think America would survive?

The short answer is that our people have survived much worse.

Virginia abounds with historic shrines. The most moving of these is the old ruined church at Jamestown. If one goes there early in the morning before the tourists come, or late in the evening after the crowds have gone, when only the shorebirds are moving and a mist obscures the river's farther bank, one understands. This is where it all began.

Here our forefathers brought their small ships, faced the perils of starvation and disease, defended their pitiful company from the Indians, and refused to give up. They survived.

One hundred and sixty-nine years later, in 1776, another generation embarked upon a fateful revolution. Divided among themselves, handicapped for want of men and money, they raised a ragged army and waged war upon the most powerful nation in the world.

The people knew sacrifice and hardship and despair. But they survived.

The infant republic fell into political turmoil under the Articles of Confederation. Everything seemed to be crumbling. Out of the chaos came the greatest work of political art ever carved by the hand of man, but the Constitution barely won ratification. The concept trembled, but it survived.

The American nation went through the War of 1812, saw its capital in flames, and emerged from the perilous hour to plunge a few years later into the smoldering conflict of nullification. The odious practice of human slavery became intolerable. The Union tore itself apart in four years of bloody civil war. Men said the nation would never survive. It survived.

The passions of war could not be calmed. Andrew Johnson was impeached, tried by the Senate, barely acquitted. The South groined under reconstruction. The nation reeled under the scandals of successive administrations. In 1876, the office of the presidency itself was bartered off in a political deal. Men and women fought to settle the West. In the great cities, immigrant children labored in the dark and fetid lofts in a new industrialism. It was a wonder, but they survived.

We fought our way through a bloody world war, a presidential scandal, a market crash, a fearful depression. Dust storms blew half of Oklahoma away. A fourth of our wage earners were out of work. We saw bread lines and soup lines and old men selling apples on the street. Those who lived through that time still shake their heads and wonder how they survived.

"Very well," I said to the students, "Watergate is bad, inflation is bad, and the environment is polluted. If Mr. Nixon is impeached, the Republic will strudder. We will know political convulsion. These are not the best of times, but these are not the worst of times either."

"It is absurd to suppose that having come through so much, America will crumble now. Survive? Of course we will survive."

is essential and the words "urgently" and "initial" are underscored. Will Congress pass the necessary enabling bills?

In the long run, of course, the sum required if Uncle Sam is to help Egypt to its feet is immensely greater than anything the administration is likely even to whisper these days. But if the price of diplomatic victory in this area is vast, so is the political and strategic implication of that victory.

Moreover, if we and friends we can rally should in the end fail to produce the goods, the result will be disaster for Sadat, a probable new Arab-Israeli war, and a return of Soviet naval ascendancy to the east-Mediterranean. How much is it worth to the American people to prevent this?

The question should be presented to them in precisely such terms with no effort to gloss over realities. Boiled to its essence, it can be stated as: What is the probable cost of peace in this area; a peace in which our interests (and incidentally Israel's) may be expected to flourish? And what is the probable cost of war?

Despite current investigations of ambassadorial appointments as a reward for contributions to President Nixon's reelection campaign, the White House was so anxious to make room in a choice European embassy for one generous fatcat that a valued foreign service officer was lost.

Matthew Looman, had been promised the vacancy as ambassador to Sweden once U.S.-Swedish relations warmed up. When the promise was broken, Looman resigned from the foreign service.

The reason: Room had to be found for California industrialist Leonard Firestone, long a generous Republican contributor. Although he contributed less than $10,000 to Nixon's 1968 campaign, in 1972 he gave the committee to Re-Elect the President (CREEP) $100,000 in the pre-April period when contributions did not have to be identified. Firestone gave another $15,000 in the Post-April period.

Firestone wanted to become ambassador to Belgium, the post held by Dr. Robert Strausz-Hupe.

So, in keeping with its policy of wooing Senate conservatives, Strausz-Hupe was transferred to Stockholm, waiting for months to leave for Stockholm, was odd man out. He resigned, and the foreign service lost a key man and suffered another blow to its morale.

Having survived two years with only 100 seats in a parliament of 283, Trudeau may be tempted to seize his moment of popularity by calling a summer election before the effects of further inflation damage his prospects. If this happens, and if he defeats Robert Stanfield for the third time, the Conservatives will be looking for a new leader. Navy, Air Force find transition to all-volunteer concept thorny path

By DREW MIDDLETON and V. Y. TIMMONS
NEW YORK — The Navy and the Air Force, though both traditionally volunteer forces, have found the transition to all-volunteer status anything but simple.

Senior officers and enlisted men talk of poorly educated blacks seeking meaningful careers in machine-oriented services or the difficulty of retaining key technical personnel tempted by industry, or low morale during long tours at sea that remain all-bases.

These problems, individually and collectively, are not as serious as those facing the Army, which had come to rely much more heavily on the draft since World War II.

But they impede progress toward technical sophistication and professionalism in a decade when both the Navy and the Air Force will receive tens of billions of dollars worth of equipment for more complex than any they had at the end of their participation in the Vietnam war.

The Marine Corps problems are different and less serious than those of the Navy and the Air Force.

The corps, proud of its high morale and standards of discipline, is as its officers say, "marginally oriented."

As they see it, their main problem is to instill the tradition of disciplined aggressiveness and unflinching versatility into youth who tend to reject discipline and collective action in favor of individualism.

Manpower levels in the three services are better than for the Army. On Jan. 1, the Navy was 9,000 short of its fiscal year 1974 requirement of 568,000 officers and men. The Marine Corps was at 183,000, or approximately 5,000 under strength, and the Air Force had met its requirement of 674,000. Each total includes a family component that is expected to grow.

The Air Force had approximately 20,000 women enrolled at the first of the year and expects 23,000 by July 1. The number is expected to peak at 48,000 in 1978.

The Navy has approximately 12,500 women now and a target of 18,350 in fiscal year 1975. Approximate figures for the Marine Corps for the same periods are 2,500 and 2,700. The Army, with about 27,000 women including nurses on its roster, leads the services.

Air Force and Navy success in attracting volunteers is explained, officers say, by the volunteer's idea that life in these services is cleaner, less demanding and less authoritarian than in the Army. The high-technical level in the two services promises the enlistee specialized training that would be expected to prepare him for a better job in civilian life.

The Vietnam legacy is considered another factor. Both the Navy and the Air Force, despite their bombing offensives, emerged from the war with a better popular image than the Army.

"Some reforms merely established procedures allowed to lapse in the Vietnam war," Officers were designed to make life in the navy more desirable to officers and enlisted men. A third ground away with customs and procedures that; Zumwalt and his colleagues believed, while seeming to maintain discipline actually had the opposite effect.

The impact of these reforms is hotly debated in the Navy. Opposition is strongest in two groups; senior officers on the verge of retirement and retired officers and those junior officers who have the most direct contact with enlisted sailors.

The main critical theme is that the reforms have weakened discipline in the navy which, for the first time since 1911, faces a powerful and expanding potential adversary, the Soviet fleet.

Retention is a problem. The Navy admits a "significant shortage" of about 50,000 in some important ratings or classifications. A large number of senior petty officers are due to retire in the new few years. As they phase out, they must be replaced from below with men of from five to 12 years of experience.

Over-all retention figures in the fiscal year 1973 where 37 per cent increase to 23 per cent in 1973 and 62 per cent in the first quarter of this year.

Retention of officers and seamen trained on the Navy's nuclear assets represents a serious problem.

The Air Force faces a similar problem. A senior general said that the Department of Defense had lost approximately 3,000 pilots annually to civilian aviation and he emphasized that it cost the government $250,000 to train a pilot.

The Air Force picture generally, is brightest. Not only has it reached and maintained its manning levels, but according to Gen. Lechels D. Gray Jr., "We have the best quality people we've ever had. We have so many applicants that the Air Force can be selective and reject volunteers who are below standard."

Officers explain that the services is attractive to because it teaches skills easily translatable to civilian life.

Racial problems remain, but one senior general said, "I no longer wait for the phone to ring and tell me about some new racial disturbance."

The enlisted men in the volunteer forces, on the whole, represent a qualitative improvement many senior officers believe, over the draftees. But it is likely they feel that the standard for the officers who show an even greater improvement as reductions in force stimulate the weeding out of the inefficent.

As this occurs the influence of graduates from the three service academies is likely to grow. The academies will not produce more officers — the Air Force Academy graduates 800 to 900 annually — but these officers will be a higher percentage of the whole.

Discussing the future of the services, a general said: "You have to believe that the higher the percentage of academy graduates, the better off we'll be. I'm not a trade school man myself. But I have to admit they have the qualities of intellect and motivation that the volunteer forces are lacking in itself."

STONE MOUNTAIN, Ga. (UPI) — When it comes to the Civil War, some southerners have neither forgotten nor forgotten. An example of lingering feelings is found in Stone Mountain State Park where the stunk house in a wildlife exhibit is named "Gen. Sherman's Mansion."

problem has been more acute in the Navy, although officers at sea and ashore insist the racial tension is diminishing.

The racial problem hit the Navy when it was undergoing sweeping changes in procedures, discipline and customs. Most of these originated in the office of the chief of naval operations, Adm. Elmo R. Zumwalt Jr., and took the form of "Z-Grams" directed to the Navy.

Some reforms merely established procedures allowed to lapse in the Vietnam war. Officers were designed to make life in the navy more

Reader takes issue with account of address

Editor, Times-News:
 I would like to thank you for once again displaying the paper, a good old-fashioned newspaper.

The article you used from the Idaho State Journal regarding the Church of Jesus Christ of Latter-Day Saints, as reported by Spencer Kimball, as per his speech in the last conference.

The Idaho State Journal has long been known for its ill-will against the LDS Church.

It is sad when few people can place themselves above a living prophet and add words to any given topic at their free will.

President Kimball is listed as making the statement on small families with the association of divorces, drugs and abortion.

What the writer wanted to say is that he is for abortion and just because the Church of Jesus Christ of Latter-Day Saints is against this practice the Journal played with words. And I ask that the reader of this letter judge and see if the children of God are being told how many children to have.

Quoting Kimball's talk as follows: "The church has consistently opposed the use of birth control, drugs or similar substances under circumstances which would result in abortion, in physical or mental impairment of children."

"The human body is the sacred home of the spirit-child of God, and unwarranted tampering with this sacred temple is a sin. We urge steady claim, uncontaminated, undefiled. Judge says: 'There should be no more in the last time, who should walk after their own ungodly lusts' (Jude 19)."

"Immorality is totally selfish. Can you think of a single unselfish element in that sin? Accordingly, if two good people will discard selfishness, generally, they can be compatible."

"Most divorces charged to incompatibility could have been averted had the wife kept her place in the twosome and the husband been kind and cooperative and both unselfish."

A careful analysis of many divorces will find the cause was a critical, uncooperative, demanding, selfish husband or wife, with most reasons traceable back to a determination to take more than is provided.

To continue President Kimball's statement, "abortion is a growing evil. Certainly the terrible sin of premeditated abortion would be hard to justify. It is almost inconceivable that an abortion would ever be committed to save a face, and embarrassment, to save trouble and inconvenience, or to escape responsibility."

"How could one subject to such an operation or be part in any way by financing, or encouraging. If special rare cases could be justified, certainly they would be rare indeed."

"We place if high on the list of sins against which we strongly warn the people."

"Abortion must be recognized as one of the most revolting and sinful practices in this day, when we are witnessing the frightful evidence of permissiveness leading to sexual immorality."

"We thank God for a program and society and the philosophy of religion which sets standards for men and women so here is low at home and high living and proper teaching and high standards

YOUR GOOD HEALTH

Frequent X-rays sound practice

Dear Dr. Theosten: Why do doctors insist on X-rays when entering a hospital if pictures are available and at their disposal of the same area of the body? Some might say that this is necessary and routine.

Duplication of the same areas seems unnecessary and dangerous to me. I have even taken pictures of previous X-rays with me but am asked to have more X-rays. This C. C. B. I realize that this practice puzzles and sometimes annoys patients, and it may well be that from time to time such X-rays are taken when they could be avoided and contribute nothing further to the patient's welfare.

All the same, there are sound reasons why this has been pretty generally accepted as routine practice.

For one thing, previous X-rays are ordinarily not available in a radiologist's office, or wherever it takes time to get the necessary permission and to have the X-rays delivered to the hospital.

Considering today's hospitalization rates, the cost of an extra X-ray is trifling compared to the expense of keeping the patient in the hospital for an additional day or more.

And, of course, in some instances the need for the X-ray is immediately more urgent from the standpoint of the patient's well-being.

Then there is the X-ray that is taken at many hospitals as a general agency for identifying the disease in the hospital. The prime example of this is the chest X-ray to detect tuberculosis.

Another, there is the question of whether any chest X-ray has occurred since the previous X-ray was taken. It may be helpful to know what the situation was six months or five months or even a couple of weeks ago, but it is sometimes essential that the doctor know what an X-ray shows right now.

For another reason, which may not be impressive to you but is of significance to me, as a physician, "reading" of the X-ray is important.

As an internist, when I send a patient to X-ray, I do, naturally, see the X-ray plates, but I do not depend entirely on the radiologist's interpretation of "reading" them. The plates are read by radiologists who are specialists in interpreting what the images signify, and want the value of the opinions of these experts, and the teamwork with them is something that develops as time goes on.

Likewise they are intimately familiar with the equipment, with which they are working. True, an X-ray is an X-ray, but there are differences in intensity and sharpness of the beam. Compare it, if you like, to the baseball player who wants his own pet bats in a game. A bat is a bat, but the percentages favor using his familiar bat. When a patient's well-being (perhaps life) is at stake, you want to take advantage of these added percentages.

As to "danger" of added X-rays, the exposure is so brief as to be close to negligible, a dose of X-rays amounting to, perhaps, a total of one added second of exposure. The price is outweighed by the benefits of having exactly what you need when you need it.

Dear Dr. Theosten: If you have incomplete intercourse with someone, is it possible that some sperm still could enter the vagina and cause pregnancy? — D.S.

The answer may not contain sperm in such a case, but if it does, yes, pregnancy is possible.

Note to A.R.: It is possible for a woman to be experiencing menopause at the age of 51, and sometimes younger. Not frequent — but it can happen.

Killers linked to cult

SAN FRANCISCO (UPI)—Seven black men arrested in pre-dawn raids, as suspected "Zebra" killers are believed to be ring-leaders in a cult called the Death Angels, investigators said today.

Mayor Joseph Alioto said the "Zebra" killers were definitely linked with the slayings of 12 whites in San Francisco since November and might be responsible for at least five more deaths. And he told reporters the group might have been involved in a total of 72 "murderous assaults" in California since 1970.

The seven suspects, including one-time San Francisco State College football star Thomas Manley, were arrested Wednesday. Police said an eighth suspect, Leroy Doctor, 35, was currently in state prison serving a term for assaulting a utility company employee.

Alioto called the seed "a kind of reverse of the Klu Klux Klan" and was dedicated "to the murder and mutilation of white and dissident blacks." He said the "Death Angels" members might extend outside California and police suspect the leader was in a northern city.

Alioto declined to pinpoint the city.

Police investigators are certain the ring-leaders who perpetrated the wave of terror attacks are "behind bars," the mayor said.

Members of the cult "literally earn their promotions upon presentation of proof of a murder and nature of the murders committed," Alioto said.

The other six men taken into custody were identified as J. G. Sweeney, 29; Larry Green, 29; Dwight Stallings, 28; Eugene Burton, 22; Manuel Moore, 28; and Clarence Jamerson, 27.

Police cracked the case after a $50,000 reward was offered. An informant met secretly with Alioto.

Suspect hides

A TASK force of more than 400 police swept through San Francisco early Wednesday, arresting seven black men described as members of a terrorist cult called the "Death Angels" and charged them with the random "Zebra" killings of 12 white persons. Here a detective escorts one of the suspects who hides under a coat at the hall of justice. (UPI)

Prisoner urges heiress release

SAN FRANCISCO (UPI)—A convicted murderer appealed to the San Francisco Superior Court Wednesday to free Patricia Hearst so the poor can get $4 million in free groceries.

Miss Hearst, 20, abducted by the terrorist group 54 days ago and a self-declared member since April 3, would be allowed to "work above ground" on behalf of the revolutionary movement, her father would like in a telephone call from Clifford "Death Row Jeff" Jefferson.

Jefferson said the convicted murderer appealed to the court because she will be allowed to speak freely on behalf of the S.L.A. Jefferson, 40, a founder of the S.L.A., said the call from Vacaville State Prison to Randolph A. Hearst's heavily guarded Hillsborough home.

Jefferson urged his "comrades in the S.L.A." to act before the Friday deadline set by the Hearst Corp. for Miss Hearst's safe release in return for an additional $1 million for food for the needy. Two million dollars worth has been distributed already.

Jefferson said his message was to General Field Marshal Cinque, whom authorities have identified as Donald DeFreese, 30, an escaped convict who once served time with Jefferson.

"It is my belief that General Field would better serve the S.L.A. above ground, going around the country, around the world, speaking to the people, taking to the people the love and loyalty of every S.L.A. member," Jefferson said.

Portugal leaders set talks

LISBON (UPI)—Gen. Antonio de Spínola, head of the week-old military junta, went into talks with Portugal's political leaders today in an attempt to form an interim civilian government and arrange free elections.

In Mozambique, some of the 500 black political prisoners freed Wednesday by the junta accused the former right-wing regime of starving 23 fellow inmates to death.

Ades said Spínola was trying to work out a civilian coalition capable of restoring democracy to Portugal after 46 years of right-wing dictatorship.

The new government would also be faced with the difficult task of fighting soaring inflation and winding down wars in Portugal's three African territories—the Mozambique, Angola and Guinea.

In London, Dr. Agostinho Neto, leader of the Angolan guerrillas, said Wednesday his forces would keep on fighting until the colony wins independence.

Ades said Spínola was greatly encouraged by Wednesday's mass May Day demonstrations celebrating the overthrow of Premier Marcello Caetano.

United Press International The price of everything from steel to vitamins and girls' magazines to light bulbs is going up now that government controls on prices have ended.

The last of the Nixon Administration's anti-inflationary restraints on wages as well as prices, imposed at midnight Tuesday and Congress declined to reimpose them.

Almost immediately Wednesday producers of basic consumer goods and important industrial supplies announced higher prices. And many workers demanded more money.

Time magazine was one of the first, saying the price of the magazine would be $1.25 a copy instead of a buck starting with the July issue.

Moschopoulos Electricals said its entire line of incandescent light bulbs would cost 10 per cent more beginning July 1.

Vitamins also will be more expensive. Hoffman-La Roche Inc. raised bulk prices substantially—20 per cent for vitamin C and 21 per cent for B1.

National Steel Corp., the nation's fourth largest steel producer raised its mill product prices 9.5 per cent—nearly double the amount allowable under the defunct guidelines: Youngstown Sheet and Tube Co. also raised prices, and other companies are expected to follow suit.

Several copper companies, Phelps Dodge, Kennecott Copper and Anaconda, posted higher prices up to 12 per cent for material needed to produce a lot of cars, houses and appliances.

Bucking the trend, four milling firms cut the price of flour by 12 per cent, reflecting lower wheat prices and an anticipated bumper crop.

But in New York, the city's commissioner of consumer affairs warned of higher food prices.

"For the first time in 32 months, the entire food industry is free to raise prices as much as they want. Unless something is done immediately, low-income consumers will find themselves in the midst of a disaster," said Commissioner Elmer Guggenheim.

John T. Dunlop, director of the Cost of Living Council, urged firms that had voluntarily agreed to hold the line on prices to live up to their promises. He said the Phase IV regulations were dropped with this understanding.

Although not affected by the general price control rules lifted Wednesday, four major oil companies—Shell, Standard Oil of Ohio, BP Oil and Skelly—raised prices from 32 cents a gallon to 6 cents.

Insurance bill eyed

WASHINGTON (UPI)—The Senate Wednesday passed a bill that would require the state to implement a national auto insurance plan based on minimum federal standards.

The fate of the measure, which passed 92-0 in a committee, is uncertain in the House, it is supported by the AFL-CIO and opposed by the administrators and the trial lawyers association.

Prior to the final vote, the bill's opponents, led by Sen. Roman Hruska, R-Neb., were defeated, 54-40, in an attempt to send it back to committee. However, it was successfully proposed by Sen. Walter Mondale, D-Minn., that would give consumers the option of using group health insurance as the primary form of medical cost protection.

The amendment was aimed at lowering the duplicate premiums consumers would pay to be covered for medical costs under both health and their group health policies.

Twenty-one states now have no full auto insurance, but only 14 of them set restrictions on when lawsuits can be brought—a key part of the Senate bill.

Unity stressed

TEANECK, N.J. (UPI)—A U.S. official told the closing session of the Organization of American States General Assembly Wednesday that the United States is determined to promote cooperation with Latin America.

The new spirit that is permeating the American system reflects the new reality that in this continent, as in the world, our nations face together—a broad agenda of interdependence, said Jack Kubisch, undersecretary of state for inter-American affairs.

The challenge before the Americas is to define our place in this global quest, to find how the distinctive and special bonds that have united us can foster cooperation among the nations assembled here and all of the nations of the world, he said.

He told the delegates "an important change in direction" in American relationships had been evident in recent meetings and that the U.S. welcomes "with bold and promising change."

House panel says Nixon didn't meet subpoena

(C) Chicago Daily News
 WASHINGTON—The House Judiciary Committee by a 20-18 vote advised President Nixon today he has failed to comply with a subpoena for White House tapes and documents. Chairman Peter Rodino, D-N. J., wrote Nixon a sentence letter to put the committee verdict on the record.

Rodino said the committee would hear tapes and other evidence for three full days next week as it pursues its inquiry on whether the president should be impeached.

The non-compliance resolution was adopted at an unusual night session Wednesday, with signs of partisan bickering.

Nineteen Democrats and one Republican, Rep. William S. Cohen of Maine, voted for the finding that Nixon fell short of meeting the committee's demand by supplying partial transcripts instead of tapes.

Seventeen Republicans joined unexpectedly by two liberal Democrats, to vote against sending a message to Nixon.

Rep. Edward Hutchinson of Michigan, the ranking committee Republican, explained his view of the minority vote: "Confrontation never works. Confrontation only produces stalemate."

The two Democrats who joined Hutchinson, Rep. Jerome Waldie (Calif.) and John Canjays (Mich.) said they favored even stronger action—citing the President for contempt of Congress.

It was one of the closest votes taken by the judiciary panel on a major issue. The subpoena, for example, was approved by a 23-18 margin.

Rodino spoke for the majority saying: "We did not subpoena an edited White House version of partial transcripts of presidential conversations."

"We had hoped and expected the President lawfully to comply. The President did not."

Nixon supplied the partial transcripts Tuesday in response to the subpoena, but did not furnish tapes, dictated recollections, notes or memos of 42 conversations.

Chief Counsel John Doar also said the committee staff already has produced transcripts "fuller and more complete" than the President's copies of some of the tapes the committee received from the Watergate grand jury.

Doar said the House had better quality equipment to filter out noise so listeners could hear parts of the conversations labeled "unintelligible" on the White House transcripts.

Rep. Robert McClory of Illinois, the second-ranking Republican, said the President's compliance was "substantial and adequate" and added: "It's information we're seeking and not rigid compliance with the subpoena."

Rep. Thomas Ralaback, R-Ill., urged the committee to send a more conciliatory letter to "keep things alive" without hardening attitudes between Democrats and Republicans on the panel.

But Rep. James R. Mann, D-S. C., made a counter argument, saying: "How could anyone object to the whole truth? Unless I get it, I am handicapped in my service to the American people."

Tapes questioned

SOME OF THE tapes provided the House Judiciary Committee by the White House, are inaccurate, John Doar (left), the panel's special impeachment counsel, said Wednesday. Doar, co-chair with Rep. Jack Brooks, D-Tex., prior to a night session of the panel. (UPI)

Attorney spurned January plea bid

WASHINGTON (UPI) — Special Watergate Prosecutor Leon Jaworski offered in January to let Charles W. Colson plead guilty to a misdemeanor, but Colson refused, saying he is innocent. It has been learned Colson, former special White House counsel, was indicted March 1 on two counts of conspiracy and obstruction of justice in the Watergate cover-up, and on March 7 on one count of conspiracy against the rights of citizens in the Ehrlich break-in. He faces a maximum penalty of 15 years in prison and $15,000 fine if convicted.

Two sources told UPI that Jaworski made the offer to Colson during intense plea bargaining. They said Colson replied he could not plead guilty—even to a misdemeanor—because he believed he was innocent.

Colson and a spokesman for Jaworski both refused comment.

Small portion of requests met

WASHINGTON (UPI) — The edited transcripts released by President Nixon represent less than one-third of the tapes requested by Watergate investigators.

The House Judiciary Committee and Special Watergate Prosecutor Leon Jaworski are seeking about 350 Watergate tapes. Nixon made public transcripts of 47 tapes, indicating that all he plans to give up.

The 150 do not include more than 100 conversations subpoenaed by the Senate Watergate committee.

More public are transcripts of 31 of the 46 conversations subpoenaed by the House committee. The White House said nine of the tapes were never recorded and two others were missing.

Ruckelshaus proposes tape check

(C) Chicago Sun-Times
 CHICAGO—Former Deputy Atty. Gen. William D. Ruckelshaus says electronics experts should be allowed to check the White House tapes requested by the House Judiciary Committee.

If the experts are allowed to do so and if the leaders of the judiciary committee are allowed to listen to the tapes, Ruckelshaus says he then would believe President Nixon's release of edited transcripts "is a reasonable compromise."

Ruckelshaus resigned in October, 1973, over the firing of special prosecutor Archibald Cox.

He declined to comment whether the transcripts, released Tuesday, support or hurt Nixon's claim of innocence in the Watergate affair. He said he could not do so because he was presently in charge of the Watergate investigation for 60 days as acting director of the Federal Bureau of Investigation.

Martha questions data

(C) New York Times Service
 NEW YORK — Mrs. John F. Mitchell, disgraced with President Nixon's substitution of edited transcripts for the White House tapes, called upon newspapers and members of Congress today to press for what she called "the real thing."

"I haven't read them yet," she said of the transcripts. "I'm not sure I'm going to either. After all, what's the real thing they want you to see. We need the real thing."

Mrs. Mitchell, the estranged wife of the former attorney general, has ordered a $12.25 copy of the 300-page transcript in the meantime, she said in a telephone interview. She "only glanced through" newspaper accounts and what tape transcripts have already been published. She said she thought a lot of things were missing.

What "ingrained" Mrs. Mitchell the most, however, was John Dean's reticence to refer in his March 21 conversation with the President. They were talking about raising money, and at one point, Dean said: "Well, Colson doesn't have any money."

Haldeman seeks inspection

WASHINGTON (UPI) — H.R. Haldeman asked a federal court Wednesday to allow him to examine White House tape machines used to record presidential conversations and to transcribe them, saying he needs to determine whether those machines were operating properly.

Haldeman, once President Nixon's top aide, is among seven men indicted March 1 in connection with the cover-up of the burglary of the Democratic National Committee's headquarters in the Watergate office complex. All of them Wednesday asked that the charges be dismissed because of extensive pre-trial publicity.

Sorts also asked that if they must be tried, the case be moved from Washington. The six men indicted a week later for complicity in the burglary of Daniel Ellsberg's psychiatrist's office have made a similar request.

Prosecutor Leon Jaworski

must respond to the motions by the cover-up defendants by June 3. The case is scheduled to go to trial September 10.

Haldeman, in demanding access to all his taped conversations with Nixon, specifically cited five conversations, including the one on June 20, 1973, containing the 18-minute gap that a panel of experts said was manually filled.

Haldeman also wants access to grand jury documents given the House impeachment inquiry and papers from the White House, the Senate Watergate committee, and the Central Intelligence Agency.

Medic says elderly can enjoy sex until 80s

CHICAGO (UPI)—Old people can have an active sex life into their 80s and 90s, a Washington psychiatrist says. "It's time to dispel the myths and jokes saying people go 'over the hill' in their 60s. Our culture has a great sensitivity towards old people should be changed such that we're not ridiculing or laughing at making jokes about sexual activity on any other activity that older people may engage in," Dr. Robert N. Butler said Wednesday at an American Medical Association conference on the aging.

He said there are many serious myths about the sexuality of the elderly and these contribute to misapprehension, fear and uneasiness among older people and their families.

"I think it's extremely important for physicians to help their older patients to understand that many of these myths are simply that," he said.

Butler said the evidence of numerous studies "clearly points to a continuing physical capacity and sexual desire throughout life, even into the advanced 80s."

"If older men lose interest in sex or have severe impotence," he said it could be caused by boredom, fatigue, overeating, excessive drinking, medical or psychiatric disabilities or fear of failure. Butler said women in good health experience little biological sexual impairment as they age but they too can be affected by boredom and fatigue, alcohol and excessive use of drugs.

"It's very important for general physicians to regard the older person the kinds of things that can be done to prevent impotence," he said.

Doctors should warn patients to use caution with drugs, particularly if they are not necessary. He said the elderly should be told to be wary of medical because of its harmful effects on the sexual drive.

"It's also important to understand the positive elements of the environment which can help improve sexual activity which are love and tenderness, closeness and warmth and mood and good feelings—music and a variety of elements," he said.

Butler, on the faculties of three Washington colleges and a government consultant, said physicians should devote more time to the sex problems of older people. He said individual psychotherapy can be a good method of treatment.

"The notion that one should not invest too much time and energy in older people is a failure to realize that the best years of life may just as well be in the 80s as in the 20s."

He also said there is more to sex than the explosive vitality

BLM employees transferred

BOISE (UPI)— Idaho Director William L. Mathews of the Bureau of Land Management announced Wednesday that two BLM employes have been transferred to the state office in Boise to fill key staff positions.

Lanny O. Wilson has been named wildlife chief on the resources staff and Donald L. Watson joins the planning and coordination staff.

Wilson succeeded Hugh Harper, who has been promoted to BLM's Denver service center, and Watson fills a position vacated by Gerald Magnuson, who has been transferred to the BLM's Washington, D. C. office.

State offices sought

BOISE (UPI)— Two more candidates have announced for state offices.

P. K. Harwood says he will seek the Republican nomination for Lieutenant Governor. John E. Moore declared himself a candidate for the GOP nomination for superintendent of public instruction.

Salmon School Board adopts release policy

SALMON—The Salmon School Board has adopted a policy regarding student release time.

The policy, to take effect next fall, authorizes the release of students during the final seventh period of each school day, by application of the parent, for any educational reason.

Robert Banks, Salmon superintendent, said the policy resulted from a request last year by officials of the Salmon River State, LDS Church, that release time be granted every period of the day for students in attendance at LDS seminary classes.

Banks said that if an educational reason would include almost anything except "running around downtown," the board had promised to grant the request and come up with a policy before scheduling classes for next fall.

Rock Creek recreational development scheduled

TWIN FALLS—A plan for recreational development of Rock Creek will be announced to a public meeting here Friday.

The study, drafted by a team of students and instructors from the University of Idaho, will be discussed in an open meeting at 7:30 p.m. in the College of Southern Idaho's mini-auditorium.

Hens Wells, director of the university's Community Development Center, today said the plan calls for a "cleanup along the whole stretch" and "recreational development at selected access points."

The study, commissioned by the Twin Falls County Parks and Recreation Commission, takes in a 1.5-mile portion of Rock Creek from its mouth on the Snake River to its entry into the Sawtooth National Forest.

Wells said the plan provides a shopping list of alternatives for lawmakers and "people in the county." It will suggest methods of gaining public access to private lands "if the landowners are willing," he said. "Purchase by condemnation" is not proposed, according to Wells.

Recommendations for cleanup of pollution in Rock Creek are included in the study. A member of the university team said the stream is "too polluted for primary contact recreation." The stream ranks near the top of the list for pollution abatement.

"This means basically that the stream is one of the most polluted in Idaho," according to a university news release. Wildlife and vegetation resources and historical values also are analyzed.

Potential recreational uses along the stream include public camping, swimming, hiking, hunting, cycling and picnicking.

Noting the small territory at a previous public meeting concerning the project, Wells said, "We urge members of civic groups, church clubs, school staffs and all concerned citizens to be present. We want to hear from everyone having an interest in both public and private use of Rock Creek."

Rapist picks wrong victim

CHICAGO (UPI)—A 10-year-old girl wielded a cooking fork, a hammer and a pot of boiling water to help her brother-in-law subdue a man who tried to rape her, police said Tuesday.

The alleged assailant, Charles Joyner, 29, was hospitalized with stab wounds, cuts, burns and broken teeth. A spokesman for Cermak Memorial Hospital at Cook County Jail said he was in fair condition.

"He's lucky to get away with his life," homicide investigator Thomas Quinn said. "It was amazing. That little girl really gave it to him."

The girl, who police do not identify, was baby-sitting with the children of Clifford Rome when the assailant burst into the South Slic apartment, forced her into a bedroom and tried to rape her.

Just then Rome returned home, saw the struggle and went to the girl's aid with a pocket knife. Quinn said the girl ran to the kitchen, returned with a hammer and began flailing at the intruder.

Jerome school trustees set May budget hearing

JEROME—Trustees here sat May 13 for a hearing on the proposed 1974-75 budget for the Jerome School District.

The proposed $1,549,922 budget is $207,313 above last year's total of $1,342,609.

The assessed valuation of the district for 1974-75 is $19 million, compared to $14.1 million for 1973-74.

This year's budget includes a seven per cent raise in salaries for teachers and administrative personnel, plus the addition of an added step to the salary schedule which will mean a nine per cent raise to some district teachers.

The total general fund revenue for the 1974-75 budget is $1.5 million, compared to $1.3 million last year. The general fund revenue reflects an increase this year in school district taxes which are $568,000, compared to $515,500 last year, including a $18,000 school district emergency tax.

The estimated cash reserve balance at the end of 1974-75 year is $12,291.

Total administrative expenses have been set at $46,900 which includes $1,981 for the district clerk salary; $16,910, district administrator's salary, compared to $15,804 last year; $13,666, office personnel compared to $12,400 last year; $5,000 contracted services, same as last year; $5,045, supplies and other administrative expenses and $3,500 for administrative travel.

Total instructional expenses are $1,127,729 for 1974-75 compared to $948,974 last year. Instructional expenses include salaries for elementary principals, $15,021; secondary school principals, $28,333; supervisory salaries, elementary, $18,061 and secondary, $22,553; elementary teachers, $363,500, and secondary teachers, $407,000.

Health service expenditures are set at $2,000. Pupil transportation is $98,205, an increase of $8,750 over last year.

Total operation of plant expenses are set at $162,650 for an increase of $30,027. Total plant maintenance expenditures reflect an increase of $4,783 for a total of $54,000.

Vandalism investigated

TWIN FALLS—City police are investigating a series of vandalism incidents and burglaries.

Dr. W. H. Krauter told police someone entered his 1960 Jeep while it was parked at 385 Martin St. Tuesday evening and slashed the upholstery. He estimated the damage at $25.

Magic Valley Electric Co., reported about $70 damage from a piece of cement thrown through a plate glass window Tuesday night. Officers said apparently no attempt was made to enter the building.

Earlier in the week several instances of broken windows in which cement or plaster blocks were used were reported to officers.

Brian Crawford, 609 Washington St. N., reported the theft of a stereo player and two speakers from his automobile.

11 arrested by Minidoka lawmen

RUPERT — Eleven persons have been arrested in Minidoka County on drug charges since Saturday. The arrests were made by county sheriff's office personnel and agents of the State Bureau of Narcotics and Organized Crime in cooperation with Cassia County law enforcement agencies.

Arrested in Minidoka County were:

- Sheldon R. Durant, 19, Rupert, held in lieu of $10,000 bond for delivery of heroin and marijuana.
- Francis J. Ryan, 19, Rupert, held in lieu of $25,000 bond on two counts of delivery of heroin.
- Frederick A. Stark, 22, Burley, held in lieu of $30,000 bond on one count of delivery of heroin and one count of delivery of DL-amphetamine.
- Kevin Babel, 18, Rupert, held in lieu of $30,000 bond on two counts of delivery of marijuana.
- Thomas Newcomb, 22, Rupert, released after posting $500 bond for one count of delivery of marijuana.
- Martin Nino, 18, Heyburn, Smith.
- Mario Mancias, 19, Rupert, held in lieu of $5,000 bond each for delivery of LSD.

Thomas H. Grisenti, 20, Rupert, held in lieu of $10,000 bond for delivery of marijuana; Gus Slonicker, Burley; Victor Shafer, Rupert; and Michael Wiggans, Burley, released after posting $500 bond each. They are charged with frequenting a place where drugs are sold, delivered or used, a misdemeanor.

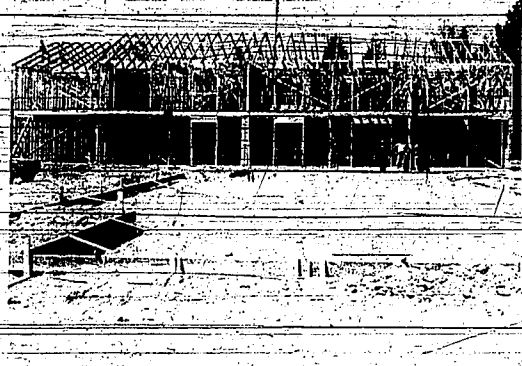

Cruz Garcia, 27, Burley, held in lieu of $30,000 bond in Cassia County after his arrest Saturday on one count of delivery of heroin, one count of intent to sell heroin and one count of delivery of amphetamines.

Paul Curriel, 26, and Raul T. Ortiz, 25, both Burley, were released Monday after charges of frequenting a place where drugs are sold, delivered or used, were dismissed in magistrate court for lack of probable cause.

They were arrested at the same time as Garcia.

James Thurston, 23, Caldwell, and Michael Garcia, 24, Burley, were released after their arrest for possession of marijuana with intent to sell.

Robert Neilson, Minidoka County prosecuting attorney said, "we're trying to get the junk and chemicals here. We've still got work to do." He complimented the local law enforcement agencies and the state agents for their work in the arrests.

Jerome apartment complex under construction

Jerome housing increases

JEROME — A 22-unit low income apartment complex is under construction in Jerome. The rural rental housing project is being built on East Eighth Street behind Bob's Sawtooth Market.

Developer for the project is Neal Brutsche who designed the complex. Brutsche, who will manage the apartments, said the total project calls for six apartment complexes.

"At the present time we have three of the complexes under construction. We expect to begin work on the other three at the end of this year or the first of next year," Brutsche said.

He said the project is being financed by the Farm Home Administration. Cost of the complex, now under construction, is estimated at $270,000.

The apartments will have one, odd two bedrooms, complete with private balconies, electric heat and kitchen facilities. They will rent to low income families. There is a great need in Jerome for this type of housing. So far, he has received several requests to rent the apartments when they are finished, Brutsche said.

"The first phase of the project is expected to be completed by June 1."

TF man takes first

TWIN FALLS — Humor won the day for David Mitchell of Twin Falls.

Mitchell took first prize in the Magic Valley Senior Citizens Talent Contest Sunday with a humorous sketch. Prior to the regional contest, Mitchell took second in the Twin Falls seniors' talent show.

Second place went to Beulah Calahan Buhl for her vocal selection of gospel music. Marie Wright, also Buhl, took third for her performance on the autoharp.

An honorary prize went to Guadalupe Sanchez for her recitation of a poem in Spanish.

features pattern system

TWIN FALLS — An explanation of the Sunburst Pattern System, showing women how to alter patterns for their own special need will be featured here May 7.

Toger W. Burke, representing the company, will discuss the sewing system May 7 in the YM-YWCA building in Twin Falls in a meeting open to all interested seamstresses.

The system was developed to help women who sew at home fit patterns to their own specific needs without extensive alterations. The time of the demonstration and fee will be announced later.

Twice the chair you think it is!

Stratolounger Lo-Back

We just created a whole new kind of chair. A recliner that doesn't look a bit like one until you want it to: it's the fabulous Stratolounger LoBack. Winner of the coveted Innovator's Award for the most creative new reclining chair. At first sight... you think it's a handsome living room chair. But then... someone (your husband) sits down, leans back and the Stratolounger LoBack becomes a full-size recliner. The hidden headrest glides up, the built-in ottoman slides out and you settle into a sumptuously comfortable reclining chair. You have a perfect TV position. Or stretch way out, and enjoy full reclining comfort—even if you're over six feet tall. Our feature chair is a stunning velvet-covered chair style with attached pillow back and reversible seat cushion. But see them all. Every Stratolounger LoBack is twice the chair you think it is.

should have made his contract? He had started out beautifully by cashing two of his aces, diamonds and both the spades. The trump lead led to his own high, followed by the lead of the queen of spades was also correct, but he went wrong on the discard from dummy. He should have jettisoned the heart high diamond. Then he could have ruffed his last diamond with the queen of clubs and trumped and overcame the bad break.

TWIN FALLS — Vernon Nicholson, Wichita, Kan., son of Mr. and Mrs. Lloyd V. Nicholson, Twin Falls, has named "recipients" of the annual Harry Robert Wilson Award for outstanding choral educators.

Walk-a-thon prize winners announced

TWIN FALLS — Tony Gamet, a Twin Falls seventh grader, topped more than 100 others to win first prize in the walk-a-thon by collecting $332 in pledges.

Gamet, a 13-year-old Olney Junior High student, will receive a ten-speed bicycle for his first place participation in the 20-mile walk held April 6 in Twin Falls for the March of Dimes.

Second place went to Bob Wright, an instructor at the College of Southern Idaho. Wright collected $519 in pledges.

Prizes will be presented to more than 30 walk-a-thon participants this afternoon. Awards include a camera, wristwatches, tickets, dinners, soft drinks, pizzas and permanents.

"We urge all walkers to collect their pledge money," said Gamet. "The deadline for pledge money has passed, but any additional funds will be gladly accepted."

KEEP radio disc jockey Arlis "Straight Arrow" Trimmer added up pledges of more than $1,000, topping the list, but was not in competition for any of the prizes, Runty said.

Abby

Abigail Van Buren

DEAR ABBY: You have got to help me before I do something really dumb. I am a 12-year-old boy and this is my first year in junior high and I have to take physical education whether I like it or not and I just hate it. I ain't no good at sports, and I am scared to death to play football or basketball and even baseball. I've tried and my coordination is lousy.

Is there any way I can get out of taking P. E. I am a good student but I am what people call a "sissy." I have been thinking that maybe if I accidentally cut off my finger or poked a hole in my ear I could get out of taking P. E. (I wear glasses, but that won't get me off.)

Please help me, Abby, but don't use my right name or school. Thank you.

HATES P. E.

Honesty best policy

DEAR HATES: Honesty is the best policy. Have a frank talk with your favorite teacher or a counselor at school, and come right out with the truth. It's nothing to be ashamed of. But sometimes the easiest way to get around something is to go right through it. So if you have to take P. E., remember, it's no disgrace to fail if you do your best. At least you'll have tried.

DEAR ABBY: What do you think about this new streaking craze? SAN DIEGO SUE

DEAR SUE: I think it's overbearing.

DEAR ABBY: My husband used to refer to me as "the old lady" when speaking to his friends. I disliked that very much and told him so, but he didn't pay any attention. One day one of his friends asked my husband if he wanted to go fishing, and I heard him say, "I'll have to ask the old lady." I said, "I don't think your mother would care if you went, darling."

He hasn't called me "the old lady" since. OKIE

DEAR OKIE: Maybe his mother wouldn't care to be called "old" either. In my book, a person isn't old until he thinks he is.

DEAR ABBY: This has been on my chest for two years, and now I am going to get it off. My husband has always liked those great big bath towels so I keep them on hand for him.

Well, my husband had to go back to his hometown for a funeral, so I packed two of his favorite bath towels. I've often heard him say that nothing does the job for him like they do. I suppose I should mention that my husband stayed at his mother's.

When he came home he said: "I have a message for you from my mother. She said to tell you that you had better get another towel for her house."

Abby, was I wrong to have packed those towels? I always thought a person could pack anything they wanted as long as it wasn't against the law. MEANT WELL

DEAR MEANT WELL: Let it bother you. The next time your husband goes to visit his mother, let him do his own packing. And if he packs his favorite towels, his mother can blame him, not you.

Hate to write letters? Send $1 to Abigail Van Buren, 322 LaSalle Dr., Beverly Hills, Cal. 90212 for Abby's booklet, "How to Write Letters for All Occasions."

A Lovelier You

IN PAJAMAS GO OUT NIGHTS

By Mary Sue Miller

The patio is your own in the garden and for quiet evenings at home you go out to parties. Materials and designs are too lovely to sequester. Outing began in Florida during the winter season, or so it is rumored. In any case, the fashioning began with warm, heavy, wool-blend suits.

What's so special about the outgoing pajama? Well, it's like a gambler at a game of the best. It's pale lemon silk, crepe de chine pants as wide as a skirt under a handkerchief-hemmed top, knee-length and boat-necked. Pumpkin-knit is the marking of a tucked-front blouse over soft pants.

They begin to say they're not with a trim and downy, elegant trim. Pretty elegant dressing, wouldn't you say?

Actually, it's all in the way you dress the fashion. Simplicity keeps the choice of accessories. Against the backdrop of fine fabric, jewelry has a special place. Pieces should be fine but few—a choker, chain, earbobs, or a watch or bracelet with the color above, a ring, anklet, or silk strike, the right footnote.

But effects may go for naught unless one's hair is party perfect and one's makeup perfectly natural. These are not for a lovely, simple, easy carriage, as always, marks a lovely woman.

HIP REDUCING ROUTINES

You can't let your feet become feet-right and will be heavy. Reduction in the hips is a good thing. For a lot of quick and effective exercises for any woman. THE REDUCING HOLDSIVE. Write Mary Sue Miller in care of this newspaper, enclosing a stamped, self-addressed envelope and ten cents in coin.

Field Enterprises, Inc., 1974

FILER—Janie Vincent has been selected valedictorian of the Filer High School class and Kathy Williams has been named salutatorian.

Miss Vincent is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Roger Vincent. She has maintained a straight A grade point for four years of school. She has served as president of the National Honor Society, vice president of the Dedoloum—service club, member of student council, YMCA youth legislature and was state senate chaplain in the 1974 session.

She has been JV and varsity cheerleader, Key Club sweetheart, wrestling queen candidate and was named most valuable band student in 1973. She was a member of the all-state orchestra and a winner of four summer music camp scholarships.

She has been a member of the Twin Falls Municipal Band and the Magic Valley City Symphony Orchestra for the past four years and served as president of the state Junior Music Club.

She is active in 4-H club work and is the reigning Twin Falls Junior Miss and was third runner-up in the state competition.

Miss Williams is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Dale Williams. She has a grade point average of 3.92. She is a member of the Dedoloum National Honor Society, Pop Club and JV and varsity cheerleader. She is secretary-treasurer of the Delta Team, GSA, girls track and volleyball team.

She was voted most intellectual senior girl at the high school. She is worthy member of the Order of the Rainbow for Girls, a member of the YMCA youth legislature and secretary-treasurer of the Methodist Youth Group.

Four high honor students in the senior class, all with 3.5 grade point averages, are Mary Nell Pastoor, Cindy Miller, Lynn Thacker and Rick Schwitzer, according to Edwin Marshall, principal.

KATHY WILLIAMS salutatorian

JANIE VINCENT valedictorian

Installation slated

TWIN FALLS—The Ladies of the Elks will install new officers at 7 p.m. May 7 in the lodge rooms.

Jim Winkle will present a musical program. LaVern McInister will be mistress of ceremonies.

Eric Smallwood will serve as installing officer. Dinner reservations should be made immediately by calling 733-4573 or 734-4530 after 6 p.m. Members are invited to bring their husbands and other guests.

Rupert miss competes

RUPERT—Idaho's Junior Miss, Rhonda King, Rupert, has entered three snapshots in the Kodak Junior Miss Photo Award competition.

Miss King entered three color snapshots following the awards theme "fill the frame with meaning." Her pictures depicted her family relaxing at home.

She is competing against the other state representatives for the $3,000 in Kodak college scholarships as well as the Junior Miss title to be awarded in Mobile, Ala., next month.

Classrooms added

OVERCROWDED conditions in the Jerome Junior High School have been alleviated some, with classes now being conducted in a new metal classroom building constructed behind the school. The new building also serves as lunchroom and physical education facilities.

Schools improved in Jerome

JEROME — Overcrowded conditions in the Jerome Junior High School have been alleviated some by the use of a new metal classroom building. The new addition is located behind the junior high and provides two ample classrooms of 40 by 34 feet plus lunchroom facilities for the junior high students. The junior high school this year failed by 1,500 square feet to meet state requirements of 30 square feet per student.

MELODY YOUTZ

Stipend presented

TWIN FALLS — Melody Youtz has been awarded a total of $2,700 in scholarships to the College of Idaho. Miss Youtz is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Donald Youtz, Twin Falls. The College of Idaho awarded her a $2,400 scholarship and in addition she received the entering freshman class award of $100 and the Smith-Hickney-Rook Memorial scholarship of $200 presented by the Twin Falls Music Club to the student carrying the highest number of points in entrance in Junior High School. She has entered in 1967, 1968 and 1969. She has entered the festival for the past 12 years and has earned four gold cups with a total of 67 points in piano qualifying her for the grand gold cup in 1973. In addition to piano, she has entered in violin, violin duets, theory and musicianship 'ballet' for four years. She has won a gold cup in dance. She entered the junior concert event in 1967, 1968 and 1969.

Secretaries to see mock court trial

TWIN FALLS — A mock district court trial will be held Saturday by the Twin Falls Legal Secretaries Association. The annual event is designed to give the secretaries who prepare all of the necessary legal documents an opportunity to see what happens in the courtroom. Cherie Hine, chairman of the event, said the secretary is usually too busy with the paperwork to get to the courtroom and the "Day in Court" will fill in this gap in her experience and education. Everything from the selection of the jury to the verdict will be covered Saturday from 9 a.m. to noon. Two defendants, Fleetfoot and Running Bear, will be brought to trial through legal procedure. They are charged with stealing which comes under the proper legal term of indictment.

The legal secretaries from throughout Magic Valley will attend the day-long program. Following the court trial, a luncheon will be held with speakers including James Klatner, Twin Falls city detective and R. P. Hovel, ASAP program.

A number of attorneys including prosecuting attorney Robert Galley who will serve as prosecutor, and Leon Smith defense attorney, will assist with the event, as will law enforcement officers. All secretaries are invited to attend and they need not be members of the association.

Derby may attract more than 24 limit

LOUISVILLE, Ky. (UPI)— Entries for Saturday's running of the Kentucky Derby closed today with the possibility that as many as 24 names may pass through the box.

That would make the field for the 100th running of the turf classic the largest in history, more than the record of 22 set in 1958.

But it would be one short of the 24-horse limit set by Churchill Downs, a track which has ruled that it would not be safe to permit more than two dozen aspirant Triple Crown champions to start.

And it prevents a confrontation between the 24th running of the Kentucky Derby and the 100th running of the Kentucky Derby. Both of them usually drop far back in the early stages of a race and depend upon a strong charge through the stretch to carry down the richest jockey's purse in Kentucky Derby history, $274,000.

The race will be worth a total of $726,500 with $30,000 to the second place, $15,000 to third and $7,500 to fourth.

Judge will have a running mate in Cannonade, another stretch runner, while Blue Creek will be commended to the post at 4:30 p.m. (EDT) on Saturday by Acceptor, this colt has a lot of early speed.

Angel Santiago rides Acceptor while Angel Cordem guides Cannonade.

Also expected to be entered are Ajitahle, Bald Clarion, Buck's Bid, Confederate Yankee, Consiglion, Crispin Ruler, Deshauser, Elise-Bell, Go-Hoff, Gold and Myrrh, Hudson County, J.H.'s Pet, Judge Mexico, Little Current, Pat McGroder, Sgt. McGroder, Sharp City, Sir Tristram and Triple Crown.

Sir Tristram was sent from France for the race while Sgt. McGroder and Sharp City were imported from Venezuela in the hope that one of them can duplicate the victory by Cannonade in 1971.

To hold down the size of the field for the 100th running of America's greatest horse race, the entry fee was raised this year to $4,000. It will cost an additional $3,000 to start on Saturday. That didn't discourage too many as the size of the field remains

Wendell girls edge G.E. for loop title

GLENN'S FERRY — The Wendell girls ripped Glenn's Ferry by one-sixth of a point Wednesday to win the Little Five Conference girls track and field title.

Wendell's mile relay team took second behind Glenn's Ferry's record-setting victory in the final event of the day and still allowed the Trojans to make that fraction stand.

Wendell had 619.5 points while Glenn's Ferry had 612.3, Kimberly 53, Valley 48 1/2 and Shoshone 11.

The meet produced a pair of double winners in Miss Schlegels of Valley who took the 100-yard dash and 55-yard dashes. The other was Miss Hansen of Kimberly who won the 220-yard dash and the long jump.

A total of 11 records were set for the three-year-old meet and the field had the advantage of one of the better running days.

The girls who qualified in major competition last week will advance to the combined class A and B regionals at 11 a.m. Saturday in Twin Falls.

Buhl, M.H. battle for SCIC title

BUHL — The Buhl Indians and Mountain Home Tigers are expected to have a good battle for the South Central Idaho Conference golf title Friday.

The two are favored to go one-two in some order while the other members battle for the other spots over the Jerome County Club course.

Buhl prepared for the test by winning another weekly event Tuesday at Gooding. Headed by medalist Charles Herpworth, 79, the Indians had 220 followed by twin falls juniors at 223, Kimberly 289, Jerome 323, Jeff Herpworth 84, Glenn Eastman 85, Twin Falls 87, Dodson 85, Mingo 85, Pampay 87, Patten 96, Kimberly 97, Sandeys 98, Palmer 98, Taylor 96, Wilkinson 105, Jerome 106, Moran 81, Callen 81, Blake 90 and Deah 99. Brown says he was wrong in raiding Canadian loop in 1955

CINCINNATI (UPI) — Cincinnati Bengals head coach and general manager Paul Brown admitted in federal court Wednesday that 14 years ago he did what he now seeks to keep the World Football League from doing — sign players already under contract.

But said Brown of his actions in 1955: "I was wrong."

Brown testified in the third day of a US district court hearing here to determine if the World Football League should be forbidden to sign any players under contract to the Bengals.

Proceedings in the Bengals request for a preliminary injunction against the NFL and WFL team officials were being closely watched by NFL and WFL team officials.

The Bengals are the first national football league team to take the NFL to court, and the decision there was expected to be regarded as a precedent.

Also testifying Wednesday were Jack Pardee, head coach and general manager of the NFL's Virginia-Southwesters, and Mike Brown, Paul's son and the assistant general manager of the Bengals.

After hearing more than five hours of testimony Wednesday, US district court Judge David S. Porter ordered the hearing to continue at 10 a.m. (EDT) Thursday.

The courtroom became silent when Brown was asked to explain his own "raid" of which WFL attorney George Meyerino had made mention several times.

The incident came in 1955 when Brown coached the Cleveland Browns. He said he

White Sox end jinx held by McNally

CHICAGO (UPI) — Dick Allen and Tony Luck turned delivered a surprising victory Wednesday to give the Chicago White Sox a 2-0 victory over the Baltimore Orioles behind the six-hit pitching of Jim Kaat and Terry Farmer.

The White Sox led for the eighth time in the last 10 games. Don Baltimore started since McNally for the first time May 14, 1972 and for made his second start in his last 10 decisions against the Sox.

Girls regional, A-3 district, loop championships feature weekend track

Sports

Camas County boys and girls, and Jerome should have winning days while Twin Falls will be sorely pressed to retain its four-straight SIC track honors this weekend. Meanwhile, the Twin Falls girls "ran into an unknown quantity" in their long-dominant girls' class A track.

Camas County's boys, headed by sprinter Layne Osborne but also with good depth, appear the team to beat in the district A-3 tent at 3 p.m. Friday at Murtaugh. Jerome should romp off with the Southern Idaho Conference title at Mountain Home Friday afternoon and Twin Falls doesn't appear to have the first-place stuff to make a championship impression at the Southern Idaho Conference finals at Boise State stadium.

All that comes Friday. On Saturday, the best of girls, both class A and B, will collide at Brain stadium in the third-fourth district regional. Camas County girls appear to have all the spring power needed to win the B division while Twin Falls probably will win the A. Trouble is, the performances of their third district counterparts are available to doublecheck. The girls will start running at 11 a.m. Saturday, alternating B and A by event.

Camas County came out of Thursday's qualifying with good points—potential while the girls will start running at 11 a.m. Saturday, alternating B and A by event.

Camas County came out of Thursday's qualifying with good points—potential while the girls will start running at 11 a.m. Saturday, alternating B and A by event.

Osborne will meet four Riders of Decia in the 100-yard dash and go against Alan Smith of Cassioma in the 200-yard dash. Osborne's times have been better than Riders and he takes the favorite for both events. Schultz hopes for a 220-yard upset of Osborne probably will be decided in how much effort he must expend beating Carey's Moynock in the quarterfinals.

From the halfmile up it is a matter of how Coach Jerry Wilding of Gooding-State will use John Hunter and Craig Pale. Pale doubtless will go in the mile and two-mile. If Hunter goes there, the Redskins should plan 10 points from each. However, the halfmile is another possibility for points. The schedule of events rather than the halfmile, since the three quarters immediately precede it.

Hunter will run in the intermediate hurdles where the chief competition is Wade Queen of Murtaugh.

"The high hurdles could be the toughest of the day."

In the field events, Osborne has to be a big challenger in the triple and long jump. Susan Borah appears the heir apparent to Twin Falls in the SIC as the Lions have good relays, sprint and hurdle depth. Nampa's Dawsonport could well take care of the three jumping contests. The Bruins' main first-place hopes come with Terry Hillmar in the shotput, Brian Watson in the discus and Gary Miller in the pole vault. But all three have strong competition. Those three events also could see the Bruins getting double and perhaps triple places.

On the track, the sophomore-laden Bruins just figure to sneak out a point or two here and there. Doug Larson, Rick Moberly and Lonnie Hendrix seem the best bets.

Minico's chances of first places seem remote and the Spartans also will have to settle for points on the track where they can be found.

On the girls' scene, the third district game up sharply in last year's regional and could be a strong fighter. For a couple of years, a district place here usually was interpreted as a ticket to the state finals.

Camas County should get its usual plethora of points out of the sprints, relays and hurdles. The Musherettes have too much quality to think of places lower than second in those events.

Wagner's of Twin Falls fired a 3,277 to win the weekly team prize. At $1.00 in the background bowling tournament concluded at Magic Bowl over the weekend.

Meanwhile, the only change in the top 10 of the doubles came in a tie for third place where J. Zabriski and F. Melzmore, Twin Falls, fired a 1406 to tie D. Hondricks and D. Kozanitsky of Kemmerer. Melzmore and Paul Miller of Twin Falls maintained second place at 1,409 while the top prize went to J. Cochrane and J. Goodwin, Blackfoot, at 1,411.

Market Review

NEW YORK (UPI)—Stocks opened higher in moderate activity on the New York Stock Exchange Thursday.

The Dow Jones Industrial average had added 0.16 to 854.04 shortly after the opening. A volume of 1.1 billion shares was traded.

A growing feeling interest rates may be near their peak, coupled with the ending of wage-price controls, are expected to be the best rallies of the year.

Wednesday, the Dow slipped 17.13 to 853.88, with the bulk of that advance occurring in the final two hours of trading.

If optimism is sufficiently widespread, Wall Street may not be too ruffled if the prime lending rate—that charged on loans to top-rated business corporations—rises 1 percent at major banks. The level seems to be that that level will represent a final plateau, and subsequent decline. There are signs loan demand is finally being stimulated by historically high short-term interest rates.

Firm plans heat use

BOISE (UPI)—The president of Albertson's Inc. has announced plans for a company-wide energy conservation program that will be installed in all new retail units.

Robert Bolinder, said the new system of heat reclamation is designed to save up to 50 per cent of the normal energy requirements for heating.

He said the system uses heat normally expelled from the stores' large refrigeration units to the outside air to be recycled to heat the sales area of the store.

GIANT-COMBINATION

BIRTHDAY NO. 1

In 1954, 20 years ago this year, Swensen's Magic Markets had their inauspicious beginning at 628 Main Ave. South. It was truly a Ma & Pa and the Kids' Store, complete with coffee grinder, antique collapsible shopping carts and the apartment upstairs. Today this location is the site of Swensen's Newest & Finest Grocery store just completed two months ago.

In 1944, approximately 30 years ago, a group of independent grocers in Salt Lake City pooled some money and founded Associated Food Stores, Inc., a cooperative wholesale grocery warehouse which they themselves owned and from which they bought their stocks of goods. The beginning of A.F.S. was about as small and shaky as Swensen's, but the warehouse soon grew and prospered until Associated Food has become the largest wholesale-grocery distributor in the Intermountain West with over 800 Owner-Member stores. It was the advent of this warehouse company that made it possible for local independent merchants to compete with the large chain stores by enabling them to buy in large quantities at lowest possible prices.

WEDDING

1954 marks the marriage of Swensen's Magic Markets and Associated Food Stores, Inc. This was a very important event in the life of Swensen's, for their membership in Associated Food Stores has made it possible for Swensen's to grow and prosper (everything is relative) and at the same time offer competitive prices through the years.

OTHER IMPORTANT EVENTS: May, 1965 — Swensen's opened their second store just across the 'Singing Bridge' in South Park in Twin Falls; February, 1973 — Swensen's acquired their third store in Paul, Idaho.
