Giscard defends minister firing

PARIS (UPI) — President Valéry Giscard d'Estaing told his cabinet today he fired a newly-appointed minister in defiance of the voters' choice of France's nuclear tests in the atmosphere was "inexact."

The president, embroiled in a front-paged government scandal as a result of two weeks after he took office, dismissed Minister of Reform Jean Jacques Servan-Schreiber late Sunday.

Servan-Schreiber, owner of the news weekly magazine l'Express, said at a news conference Sunday he opposed the decision of the president to resume atmospheric tests this summer despite Giscard d'Estaing's promise that after 1974 the explosions would be set off underground.

After the cabinet meeting, Michel Fontana, director of Michel Polonowski told reporters, the president had termed Servan-Schreiber "inexact" when he charged that the Defense Ministry "resisted" the tests.

Giscard d'Estaing, who informed the cabinet he had cancelled one of this summer's planned explosions, the spokesman told reporters.

The president did not say how many explosions would be set off.

Radio commentators said the new president was trying to keep to a minimum any objection from other countries of the tests.

The spokesman said the ministers at the cabinet meeting agreed to propose a new law to lower the voting age in France to 18, fulfilling a campaign promise by Giscard d'Estaing.

Servan-Schreiber long had been a critic of the test and was seen as a minister two weeks ago in an effort by the president to bring members of the reformers movement into his government.

Navy man injured in TF crash

TWIN FALLS — A U.S. Navy man home on leave suffered cuts and bruises when his car was struck by another about midnight Saturday in Twin Falls.

City police said Theodore Leon Bell, 18, Twin Falls, was driving a car which was struck by a car driven by Sherry Lynn Blankenship, 18, Twin Falls, at the intersection of Falls Avenue and Washington Street.

Blankenship was released from minor injuries and Magic Valley Memorial Hospital. The vehicle she was driving and that of Bell were both demolished. Officers estimated damage at $2,500.

Police reports said Bell stopped on Falls Avenue and as he drove across Washington Street and his vehicle was struck by the Blankenship auto. Miss Blankenship was cited for failing to observe the basic rule.

Question
When a deceased person is entitled to both Social Security and Veterans death benefit allowance, how is the distribution made?

Answer
The lump sum Social Security death benefit is paid to the veteran's widow without regard to funeral cost, if she was living with her husband. The $250 Veterans burial benefit usually is paid to the mortuary.

If there is no widow, or the widow was estranged from her husband, Social Security will pay as a death benefit only the difference between the Veterans allowance, and the cost of the funeral. The maximum payable under these circumstances may not exceed the Social Security entitlement; this is usually $255.

Feel free to contact our office for copies of the latest official bulletins concerning Social Security and Veterans benefits, as well as other survivors' rights and benefits.

Northwest DDT spraying starts

GRAND COULEE, Wash. (UPI) — The long-awaited DDT spraying of Northwest forest lands infested by tussock moth began Sunday on 1,850 acres of Indian- and private lands near here.

Kirk Horn, an information officer for the U. S. Forest Service at the tussock moth project headquarters in Walla Walla, said, "We're very happy with the operational aspect. It went very smoothly for the first time. We don't know about the kill yet."

He said entomologists would go into the sprayed lands today, and "we should have results in a couple of days."

The area sprayed included two units, one of 1,150 acres and the other of 500 acres. One gallon of solution containing about three-quarters pound of DDT was used per acre. A single helicopter completed the spraying in 2 1/2 hours.

Horn said the next spraying probably will be Wednesday in other units of the same general area.

The Forest Service finally won permission from the Environmental Protection Agency to use DDT this year on 450,000 acres of Oregon, Washington and Idaho timberlands severely damaged by tussock moth. DDT is the only known means of killing the moth.

About one-sixth of the affected 490,000 acres will not be sprayed as scientists can test other means of killing the moth.

Spraying must be done just after the moth eggs hatch. Weather must be good with a wind of more than six miles per hour considered too brisk for effective spraying.

LaVERNE HUTTON — new manager
FAY SHARP — retires

Canning kitchen opening scheduled

TWIN FALLS — LaVerne Hutton is the new manager at the Twin Falls Canning Kitchen, succeeding Fay Sharp who has held the post the past 12 years.

The kitchen will open July 8 according to present plans. Appointments should be made immediately with Mrs. Hutton for chili, pork and beans and hum and beans. Her telephone number is 734-9476.

Mrs. Sharp said since "everyone is planting a garden" this year, the directors expect to have a big year this season. Last year the kitchen handled the largest number of cans in its history and is anticipating more this year.

Local ministerial changes reported

TWIN FALLS — Bishop Jack M. Tuell of the Oregon-Idaho Conference of the United Methodist Church has announced changes in Magic Valley ministerial assignments.

Churches in three local communities were assigned new ministers. The Rev. Raymond Thompson, formerly of Montavilla Church in Portland, was named to the First United Methodist Church in Twin Falls.

Former Twin Falls minister Rev. Herbert E. Morris was assigned to a church in Albany, Ore.

Rev. Edward J. Stubbs has been named the new Gooding minister. The former pastor, Rev. Edson Gilmore, was assigned to the West Portland church.

Other appointments include the assignment of Rev. C. Keith Mills, formerly district superintendent in Idaho, to the Oak Grove, Ore., church.

Data status eyed

CINCINNATI (UPI) — If President Nixon refuses to turn over certain information to the House Judiciary Committee, Sen. Sam Ervin, D-N.C., said Sunday he believes it would constitute an impeachable offense.

Ervin, addressing a studenting class at the University of Cincinnati, also said he considered willful obstruction of justice and failure to pay income taxes impeachable actions.

However, Ervin, chairman of the Senate Watergate committee, stopped short of calling for impeachment or saying flatly that Nixon has committed an impeachable offense.

$4,500 per year considered poor

WASHINGTON (UPI) — An urban family of four earning $4,500 or less a year is considered poor under the government's new increased poverty limits, the Labor Department announced Saturday.

The new limit is $250 more than last year for a family of four.

The definition affects youths applying for summer jobs under government-manpower programs.

The department said a nonfarm single person living in the continental United States is considered poor if he earns $2,300 or less annually. Last year, that limit was $2,200.

The new cutoff is $6,770 for an urban family of seven, an increase of $70 over last year.

A farm family of four is defined as poor if annual income is $3,876. A farm family of seven is poor at $5,750.

In Hawaii, poverty for the nonfarm person is an annual income under $2,680, under $2,200 for a family of four and under $7,790 for a family of seven.

At Alaska poverty for the one person, four person and seven person nonfarm families is $2,910, $5,690, and $8,460 respectively.

For families of more than seven, $740 is added for each additional member of nonfarm families in the continental United States, $850 more in Hawaii and $200 in Alaska.

A year ago, the poverty income level for an urban mainland family of four was $250 lower, for an urban family of seven $370 lower and for one, $130 lower.

Mideast 'journey for peace' starts

"We believe this trip, like the other journeys we have taken, will contribute to that lasting peace which we as Americans here so dedicated, he continued.

Referring to his historic trips to China and the Soviet Union, Nixon said he believed that these journeys had a "profound impact" not only on the nations involved but on "building a structure of peace for the whole world."

Nixon's objectives for the trip are primarily symbolic. Aides said he wanted to demonstrate to President Anwar El-Sadat of Egypt, King Fahd of Saudi Arabia and other Arab leaders that the United States has substituted an even-handed Middle East policy for the nation's earlier pro-Israel stance.

As a result of the change in the diplomatic climate, the chilliest reception of the trip may be awaiting Nixon in Israel, where he is scheduled for an overnight stop Sunday.

The trip was arranged on shorter notice than is usual for overseas presidential travels, leading some Nixon critics to charge that its purpose is primarily to depict him as a "world leader and serve as a contrast to the impeachment investigation in Congress."

Ford stresses 'family life'

SALT LAKE CITY (UPI) — Vice President Gerald R. Ford discussed the need to maintain a "sound family life" in America with Mormon Church President Spencer W. Kimball Sunday.

Ford met briefly with church leaders following a special performance of the 375-member Mormon Tabernacle Choir in the vice president's honor.

The meeting concluded a three-day visit to Utah. He then flew to Cleveland for another speaking engagement Sunday night.

Ford told 6,000 people jammed into the Salt Lake Mormon Tabernacle it was Horace Greeley, "a member of the eastern establishment," who said "the West young man — go west."

"But it was Brigham Young who knew where to stop," he said.

Kimball told the vice president, "If our country is to develop and succeed, it must be based on a sound family life."

"The principles of Mormonism are those principals that can benefit all of us," Ford replied.

Kimball and his two spouses, Mrs. Edith N. Eldon Turner and Marion G. Romney, presented Ford with signed, leather-bound copies of the "Book of Mormon" and other church texts.

The vice president and his wife Betty arrived in Utah Friday night. Ford delivered a graduation speech and received an honorary doctorate degree at Utah State University Saturday in Logan and then went on a two-day visit to his son John, 22, a forestry major at the Logan school.

Ford told 2,028 USU graduates he will continue listening and speaking to Americans in all 50 states, despite advice from friends and relatives that he should stay in Washington and "not take a graduate student class."

"To help us I have the physical capability and so long as I can contribute to the climate of reason and truth in this country, I will remain my own man, fly my own course and speak my own convictions," he said.

Bombing 'mistake'

BELFAST (UPI) — An extremist Protestant organization claimed responsibility Sunday for a fatal bombing today that killed a 13-year-old girl but said the bombing was a mistake and that it had meant to blow up a nearby school.

The explosion occurred at a dog racetrack four miles south of Belfast. The girl's father lost a hand and 11 other people including her brother and sister were injured.

The girl's death boosted the toll in nearly five years of sectarian strife in Northern Ireland to 1,033 Protestants, Roman Catholics, British soldiers and police.

A man who identified himself as "Capt. White" called a local radio station this morning and said he was a spokesman for the Ulster-Freedom Fighters, a splintered Protestant group blamed by security officials for a wave of sectarian killings in recent years.

(c) New York Times Service WASHINGTON — There is a statistic that nearly drives Sen. Robert Dole to distraction. The statistic emerged from the most recent statewide poll taken by television station KAKE in Wichita, Kan., Dole's home state. It showed 50 percent of the electorate wanted President Nixon to continue in office, 48 per cent wanted him to quit, 2 per cent said they didn't know.

Nixon. The next guy comes up to me and says, 'I'm for you, Bob, but you've got to get Nixon off your back.' No way to stay on that tightrope." Dole is a good example of the Republican senators trying to win reelection in this year of Watergate — except that he is more candid than most in admitting his problems, in part perhaps because his problems are more numerous.

But he is clearly troubled — especially, he said, by discussions of "hush money" on March 21, 1974, by Kops on key tapes, and by his "lawyer's presumption" that "if there was some unmistakable clear evidence of the president's lack of involvement, the White House would have published it months ago."

Everywhere he goes in Kansas — and he spends his much time as he can live — Dole encounters Nixon and impeachment. He tries to emphasize other issues, Dole when asked whether he would like the President to come to Kansas to campaign for him that he "wouldn't mind if he flew over." That produced widespread chuckles, but also a batch of hostile mail. One woman wrote from Kansas: "That remark is going to cost you a lot of votes, including mine."

So Dole goes his ambiguous way, trying neither to criticize too much or defend too much, conscious always of the nearly total polarization of the Kansas electorate on Nixon.

Lately, he said, he has become philosophical, almost fatalistic, although he still thinks he will win. He has been reading about Edmund G. Ross, the Kansas senator who cast the deciding vote in the impeachment trial of President Andrew Johnson.

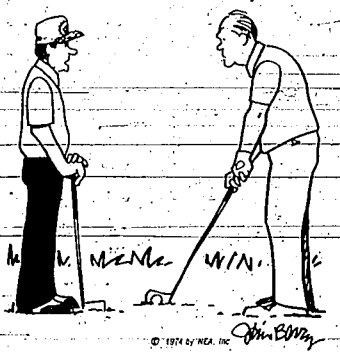

"Ross," he said, "looked down into my open grave," as he later put it, lost his seat and has driven me nuts in Kansas. "I wouldn't mind losing my seat if the man is innocent," Dole said, "and I voted to clear him, but I'd hate to be deceived. And I don't know, I don't know."

Times News Devoted to the citizens of Magic Valley William E. Howard, General Manager Monday, June 10, 1974

Dole has tried a number of approaches to defuse the Nixon issue. He has toyed with the idea of calling together all the Republican Senators to draft a statement of independence, but gave that up as impractical. He tried telling an audience that Nixon wanted him re-elected, and was taken to task by several backers.

SEN. ROBERT DOLE queries hard to answer

Reagan resists break with Nixon; aides worry

SACRAMENTO, Calif. — To the dismay of his political handlers, Gov. Ronald Reagan is no closer to a break with President Nixon than a year ago and continues to resist that politically necessary rupture even as he prepares to run for president.

His advisers do not want Reagan to lead the posse into the White House to root out the President. Should Nixon not serve out his term and Vice President Ford succeed him, Reagan's 1976 chances would disappear. But the Reagan inner circle flinches over his refusal to find any fault with the embattled President.

hesitate to snipe at the President during Nixon's first term, he has flinched from criticism since the Watergate scandal broke 14 months ago. Apart from Watergate, Reagan did not echo criticism of some conservatives that a Watergate-precupped President has not controlled runaway federal spending.

(including influential Mississippi State Chairman Clark Reed). They are displeased with Ford more because of ideological inconsistency than zigzagging about the presidential tapes.

Criminologist learns from police practice

Mr. Hugo Park of the Atlanta Journal has the good sense to read the FBI Law Enforcement Bulletin where recently he saw an account of the extraordinary experiences of one George L. Kirkham, assistant professor of criminology at Florida State University, form which account I put together the following:

the double-parker raised a crowd by shouting that the police were harassing him. "A hysterical woman screaming and tried to grab Kirkham's revolver and an angry mob converged on the two officers," Park writes.

goes, "Any man who is not able to maintain absolute control of his emotions at all times has no business being a police officer."

should cross the tracks and see what conditions there are really like, which is good advice. It is not often that comparable advice is given to those whose knowledge of crime is circumscribed by poetic admiration for the decisions of the Warren Court.

William F. Buckley, Jr. "I had personally been of the opinion," writes Kirkham, "that police officers greatly exaggerate the amount of various types of physical abuse to which they are subjected in the line of duty."

Kirkham discovered something we all know in the abstract, but take little into account. "As a criminology professor, I had always enjoyed great amounts of time in which to analyze and think."

Oklahoma, Kansas clean up, mourn 25 dead

By United Press International
 People who live in the country's midsection known as "Tornado Alley" are hardened veterans of weather catastrophes but Red Cross volunteer Peggy Cline spent the weekend with tears in her eyes.
 "It's hard to believe what I've seen," she said while operating one of four disaster relief centers set up in Tulsa, Okla.
 "People are coming in without any homes. I stopped at a neighbor's on my way here and saw four houses had stood, there was nothing there but vacant lots."

 It was a weekend of killer tornadoes, torrential rains and "flash" floods in portions of Kansas, Oklahoma and Arkansas. As the last vestiges of the weather system moved peacefully eastward Sunday, the official death count stood at 25, hundreds were left homeless and property damage was expected to exceed $10 million.
 The governors of all three weathered "battered" states are expected to meet today where they would seek federal disaster relief assistance. Kansas counted six dead, Oklahoma said it had at least 15, and Arkansas reported four persons drowned.

 It began Saturday night with a tornado ripping the roof of a crowded nursing home at Drumright, Okla., and cutting a mile-long, three-block wide swath through the community of 3,000. But the violent weather quickly spread to other sections of the state and to Kansas.
 At Emporia, Kan., a tornado cut a mile-long path through the town, destroying all but five of a 100-unit trailer park and wrecking 22 businesses in a shopping center.

 Five of the city's victims were found in the rubble of the mobile homes. The sixth body was found in an apartment near the shopping center.
 "It looked like an explosion, a big green explosion," Liz Wilson, 14, said of the tornado which struck by Emporia.
 By the time the storm system reached Arkansas, the twister had died out but a deluge in the form of more than a foot of rain, sent creeks and rivers overflowing, their banks and into homes.
 Two persons drowned in El Dorado, Ark., Saturday when their car stalled on city streets and "was swept away." Two youths were killed Sunday near Manola, Ark., when raging waters swept away the gravel embankment under a culvert.

 Farther west at Guthrie, Okla., a creek swelled by almost five inches of rain drove about 100 families from their homes Sunday. City officials said the small town was cut in two by the raging waters.
 State officials said it could have been much worse in Oklahoma had tornado warnings not gone out as early as they did.

 Six died in Drumright and eight other Oklahoma cities reported fatalities, including Tulsa which recorded its first deaths attributed to tornado activity in its history.
 Oral Roberts University at Tulsa suffered extensive damage to an administration building and a new aerobics complex.
 "We went over there (Saturday) night and spent several hours," school president and evangelist Oral Roberts said.

"It was raining and dark and kind of sad. But today the sun is shining and it doesn't look nearly so bad."
 Many of the victims remained strangely philosophical. Mrs. Harley Roberts recalled a macabre coincidence to Saturday's tornado at Drumright, which left her family homeless.
 "In 1956 I was in the third grade and a tornado blew my house away," she said. "Last year (daughter) is in the third grade and now it blew her house away."

Israelis protect new Golan lines

By United Press International
 Dozens of flatbed trailers hauled more Israeli armor off the Golan Heights today to prepare Israel's withdrawal behind new lines in occupied Syria. Just in case, Israeli engineers laid mines and bulldozers dug tank traps to protect the front.
 The six nations United Nations force will separate the two sides under the military disengagement agreement negotiated by Secretary of State Henry A. Kissinger, set up headquarters Sunday in two buildings still standing in Quneitra.
 Quneitra, the Syrian Golan capital turned into a ghost town by six years of fighting, was returned to Syrian civilian administration in the last phase of the withdrawals along with the Baal-Bek junction west of the 1967 cease-fire line and the strategic peaks of Mt. Hermon. Israel has a Friday deadline to hand over to U.N. forces the first quarter of the disengagement zone, the southeastern corner of the salient captured from Syria in last October's war.

 "Of one thing you can be sure," an Israeli liaison officer said, "we'll be out of here by the time we're supposed to."
 The four-stage withdrawal will conclude June 28.
 Near Tel Shams, the northernmost point of Israeli occupation, U.S. officials, Syrian and U.N. officers consulted on technical problems of the troop separation pact Sunday. An Israeli officer said the Israelis and Syrians did not take to each other directly but only through U.N. officers.
 "They are working out the steps of the disengagement as they go along," he said. "They talk together here Saturday night."
 In Jerusalem, a senior military officer told Prime Minister Yitzhak Rabin a new cabinet that the accord would be implemented on schedule.
 "We don't have any reason to believe that the Syrians don't intend to follow the agreement to the letter," a cabinet spokesman said.

Mideast journey 'mistake'

WASHINGTON (UPI) — Sens. Henry M. Jackson, D-Wash., and Edward W. Brooke, R-Mass., said Sunday that President Nixon's trip to the Middle East is a mistake in view of his political problems at home.
 But House Democratic leader Thomas P. O'Neill, said the nine-day journey will be worthwhile and would not interfere with the House Judiciary Committee's impeachment inquiry.
 Jackson said the trip will be "cosmetic and ceremonial" and might upset efforts to forge a permanent peace in that area.
 The President is demonstrating "poor judgment" in leaving the country during the impeachment hearings, Jackson said, and Nixon's visit to the Soviet Union later in the month could present a "disaster."
 He did not elaborate.
 He was interviewed on CBS' "Face the Nation."
 Brooke, at a news conference in East-Lansing, Mich., described Nixon's trip as "patently political."
 He said the President is simply trying "to focus attention away from his domestic problems... I think it's a mistake, think it will serve no useful purpose."
 "The impeachment inquiry is going along normally, and the fact that the President will be out-of-the-country in my opinion is not going to stop the proceedings that are taking place in the House," O'Neill said, predicting a House vote on impeachment in the first week of August.

HAFEZ ASSAD pledges effort

Assad says Syria to resume US tie

NEW YORK (UPI) — Syrian President Hafez Assad Sunday said he has not received any guarantees for total Israeli withdrawal from occupied Arab lands, but "the United States has promised... (to) continue to make efforts in order to establish peace in the Middle East."
 In an interview in Damascus for the ABC "Issues and Answers" program, Assad said: "We are aiming at the restoration of diplomatic relations with the United States. This is what is required in the interests of both countries."
 He said Syria and the United States in the past have shown "a certain bias" in their dealings with one another, but "of course, we now see the symptoms of a new direction in the American policy; a new direction which is in conformity with the role the United States as the power which has special responsibilities in the world."
 Syria broke off diplomatic relations with the United States after the 1967 Middle East war.
 Speaking through an interpreter, Assad later said Syria would "stand by" support "the creation of a Palestinian state on the West Bank of the Jordan River."

Schmidt, party hit by fourth setback

BOHN (UPI) — Chancellor Helmut Schmidt and his Social Democratic party suffered their fourth electoral setback in three months in a cliff-hanging election Sunday.
 The Christian Union decided only at dawn today.
 Final official returns from the legislative election in Lower Saxony showed the opposition Christian Democrats had gained three percentage points to win the greatest number of votes, but Schmidt's Social Democrats still held a one-man majority in the state legislature in coalition with the Free Democrats.

Official results of Sunday's balloting were known only at dawn because of an election-day computer breakdown on election day.
 The "Christians" — the Christian Democratic Union 48.9 per cent of the vote and 77 seats; the Social Democrats 43 per cent and 67 seats, and the Free Democrats 7.1 per cent and 11 seats.
 Schmidt's party lost more than three percentage points, confirming a downhill trend that began in the Hamburg state election last March and continued through two more rounds of municipal polling.

Industrial tax breaks considered

(c) New York Times Service
 WASHINGTON — Secretary of the Treasury William E. Simon said Sunday he had been talking with key members of Congress about legislation that would provide special tax breaks for industries that need to expand if the nation is to avoid more shortages.
 The Nixon administration has worked out an detailed proposal of tax incentives for business expansion, Simon said.
 But he said he had received "encouragement" from Democratic leaders in Congress, as well as from many Republicans, for the idea of tax incentives that would encourage production in the United States "at a reasonable price," rather than reliance on foreign sources, which may be higher priced.
 Simon touched on the idea of tax incentives for business expansion in an interview that will be printed in today's edition of U.S. News & World Report.
 Among the products already in short supply, he said, may be fuels, paper and steel, Simon said.
 He said he was thinking about legislation that would permit businesses to take rapid depreciation write-offs for new plants and equipment.

Laxatives' danger told

(c) New York Times Service
 NEW YORK — A number of laxatives sold over the counter in the United States can cause mercury poisoning, according to a report in the current issue of the Archives of Neurology.
 The report describes the death of two women who used such laxatives daily for many years. Before their death from complications of mercury poisoning, the women exhibited such typical poisoning symptoms as tremor, loss of intellect, hearing loss, and kidney failure.
 One woman, aged 63 at death, had taken two laxative tablets daily, each containing 120 milligrams of mercurous chloride, better known as calomel. The other, who died at age 36, had taken a similar daily dose for six years.

Voting aid sought

WASHINGTON (UPI) — A study conducted by three nonprofit organizations urges Congress to renew the Voting Rights Act of 1965 because the Justice Department failed to enforce its full power to protect the rights of minority citizens until 1971.
 The report, entitled Federal Review of Voting Changes, concluded that Section 5 of the voting law has kept states from instituting new forms of discrimination, but that the Justice Department did not use its full power for the first six years.
 Section 6, which expired in 1970 and was renewed for five years, prohibits any of the covered jurisdictions from instituting new practices or procedures that affect the right to vote until they are cleared by the Justice Department or U.S. District Court here.

 When the voting rights act expires in 1975, the study said, there will have been only four years of "meaningful" experience with Section 5 instead of the 10 years which Congress called for.
 The study was published by the Joint Center for Political Studies, the Voter Education Project and the Lawyers' Committee for Civil Rights Under Law.

Hubert Green scores easy victory in Philly tourney

PHILADELPHIA (UPI) — Sunny weather with a two-stroke lead over U.S. Open champion Johnny Miller, was never seriously challenged; as Miller, despite an eagle on the par-five 17th hole, ran into trouble on the 18th.

Green's 72-hole total of 271, 17 under par, broke the 14-year record for this 12th annual tournament at the Whitmarsh Golf and Country Club and earned him $30,000, PGA money earnings of $156,165.

Green, who started the day's play under hot, humid and while Mike Hill was at 280 and Joe Inman had a 281.

Jim Dent, Tom Kite, and John Schlee were bunched at 282 and Gary McCord, Jim Jamieson and Dave Hill were at 283.

The talkative, 27-year-old Green, voting during his round that he would "whip" the tournament record set by Weiskopf and Billy Casper, had a round of six birdies and only the double bogey on the 11th hole.

He ran into his only trouble on the par-four eighth hole when his drive just went into the left rough and his "seven-iron approach" shot "flew over the green."

Schechter triumphs in Swedish racing

ANDERSTORP, Sweden (UPI) — Jody Schechter of South Africa barreled across the finish line less than a second ahead of Cliff Tyrrell teammate Patrick Depailler of France Sunday to win the Swedish Grand Prix and record the first Grand Prix victory of his career.

Schechter took the lead right from the start and kept his blue Tyrrell in front for the entire 80-lap race as he finished with a time of one hour, 58 minutes, 31.393 seconds and an average speed of 100.8 miles an hour on the 2.4-mile circuit.

Depailler was closer than a muffer to a tailpipe as he crossed the finish line in 1:58:31.771.

"I was in complete control all the time," the 24-year-old Schechter said after winning the seventh Grand Prix race of the year. "When we got the signals, from the pit-to-go, we went."

Depailler stayed right behind his teammate starting with the 10th lap after local favorite Ronnie Peterson of Sweden was forced out by a broken drive axle. Peterson had been in second place for the first nine laps.

Depailler, of Clermont Ferand, France, said he was a little worried during the race

Joanne Carner wins in Vegas

LAS VEGAS, Nev. (UPI) — Joanne Carner, taking advantage of one of the hottest streaks of luck ever seen in the tournament, shot a three-under-par 70 for a one-stroke victory in the $100,000 Desert Inn-LPGA Golf Classic.

Mrs. Carner, aided by Sandra Palmer's triple bogey on the 17th hole and the help of two spectators, who kept two of her shots from going out of bounds on the 18th, finished the 72-hole event at the 6,255-yard par 73 Desert Inn Country Club layout with an eight-under-par 219.

Her third win in the last four tournaments gave Mrs. Carner her richest victory on the Ladies Professional Golf Association tour — a first prize of $20,000 and a new car.

Finishing one stroke behind Carole Jo Skala, Shingule Springs, Calif., who picked up $10,000 from one of the four richest purses on the women's tour.

Her next shot was heading off a bounds again but the lady's savior wound up with a decent lie on the cartpath. She chipped up onto the green and then two-putted for the par she needed to win.

"All the way I thought Palmer was still seven under and would birdie the 18th green," said the winner.

Braves, Montreal split pair in Sunday games

United Press International

By Bill Davis paced a 12-in. Montreal attack with a double and singled to lead the Expos to a 7-3 victory in the second game of a Sunday doubleheader at the Atlanta Braves won the opener, 5-2, despite getting only four hits.

Davis' double came in the first inning when he and Ken Singleton, who had walked, scored on Bob Ballew's single. His first single drove in Phil Niekro, the second baseman, and he singled and scored in the sixth inning when Singleton sacrificed fly out to get one run and Davis romped home on a passed ball.

The Braves made the most of their hits in the first game with fifth-inning getting three of the four with a triple and two singles.

Garr singled home winning run. Phil Niekro, 7-4, with the first run of the game and the Braves' other two runs came in the fifth inning when to give the Padres a triumph over the Cardinals and a sweep of their three-game series.

Willie Stargell drove in six runs with his fifth career grand slam and a two-run blast, and Richie Zisk hit in the end and drove in five runs in powering the Pirates over the Giants.

Terry Crowley and Johnny Bench hit two-run homers and Cincinnati used a seven-run seventh inning to defeat the Phillies.

In the seventh, Pete Rose walked and scored on Bench's home run. After a walk to Perez, Dan Driessen doubled to drive in a run. Eddie Wall walked pinch-hitter George Foster and then scored on a RBI single to Cesar Geronimo. Pinch-hitter Hal King singled in two more runs and after Rose an infield hit and pinch-runner Darrell Chaney scored on Dave Cash's throwing error. Morgan also homered in the ninth.

Hockey league meet plans rules today

MONTREAL (UPI) — The National Hockey League annual meeting opens here Monday with a meeting of the rules committee. However, the main event of the four day session is scheduled for Wednesday when the Washington Capitals and Kansas City Scouts each pick 25 players in the expansion draft.

Washington and Kansas City each paid $8 million to join the NHL. During the expansion draft each of the present 15 clubs can protect 15 players plus two goalies and lose no more than three players. All their other properties then become eligible for the draft by the two new teams, which begin operation next October.

Several new rules are expected to be implemented by the rules committee. Delaying of the game's start will be a thing of the past if NHL President Clarence Campbell has his way.

"There are too many arguments with the officials and Campbell. We hope to give

Rutherford claims title in Mays race

MILWAUKEE, Wis. (UPI) — Indianapolis 500 champion Johnny Rutherford recovered from an early spin-out to win the 150-mile Rex Mays Classic Sunday with an average speed of 110.942 miles per hour.

Rutherford, in a winning $17,268, took the lead for good during the 124th lap on the one mile, paved State Fair Park speedway and won by 31 seconds over Gary Bettenhausen. Both were driving McLaren-Chevrolets.

Bill Vitkowski, Dick Simon and Al Unser finished third, fourth and fifth respectively, all in Eagle-Offys.

Rutherford, who won the Indy 500 two weeks ago, spun out on the eighth lap but there was no collision and he got back into the race. The race took two hours and 21 minutes to run, with only 26 laps run under the yellow caution light.

Problems for some of the other favorites made things a little easier for Rutherford, who shared the front row with pole-sitter A.J. Foyt.

Foyt, who qualified at 128.958 miles per hour Saturday, finished sixth after spinning

NFL group may go on strike

CHICAGO (UPI) — The National Football League Players Association said Sunday it will go on strike if a new agreement is not reached with club owners by July 1.

Edward R. Garvey, the association's executive director, said the walkout would include newly signed rookies slated to play against the Miami Dolphins in a charity All-Star game in Chicago on July 26.

"We have 12 days of negotiations with the owners between now and July 1," Garvey told a news conference. "If nothing is settled by that time, we will declare a strike."

He said union representatives were talking to the 1974 rookie crop, including those on the All-Star roster, in the intervening days, "so that everything will be set by the July 1 deadline."

Yarborough is Turburo victor

RIVERSIDE, Calif. (UPI) — Cale Yarborough scored his sixth NASCAR Grand National victory of the year and his second win here in six months Sunday by outdueling Bobby Allison in a daylong, two-car race in the Turburo 400.

Yarborough, who started the day trailing Richie Petty by a slim 21 points in the NASCAR point standings, took the lead on the 131st lap of the 138-lap race after Allison pitted for gas on the 124th lap.

"Yes, I was surprised, Bobby had to stop," said the 35-year-old winner from Timmonsville, S.C.

DEAR ABBY: Bob (not his real name) and I have been engaged since last Christmas. The problem is I am pretty sure I am pregnant, and my wedding is four months away. I probably shouldn't wear a white gown and veil, but I already bought mine, and if I can get into it I'm going to wear it. I haven't told anybody but Bob, but I may have to tell my mother because I feelousy in the morning, and she wasn't born yesterday.

If my pregnant would it be okay to go ahead with the church wedding like I planned? We would tell people afterwards that the baby was premature. Rush your answer to me.

SUE (NOT MY REAL NAME)

Better marry soon

DEAR SUE: First, see a doctor. If you're pregnant, make the wedding simple and soon. And don't count on fooling anybody who can count to nine.

DEAR ABBY: You are, once again, absolutely wrong. You recently advised a reader to fall for one of the oldest tricks in the book—to pay for more gas than she asked for, simply because the attendant "made a mistake" and put an extra dollar's worth in her tank.

True, occasionally an attendant does make a mistake; but he is in business, and if it's his mistake he should bear the loss.

Would you pay the telephone company for a long distance call you didn't make but was billed to your number? By now you know I am a lawyer. I doubt if you will print this, but if you do, please correct my spelling. I am too busy trying to persuade my clients that the legal advice they got from their barber, mechanic, plumber, garbage man, friend who had a similar problem and columnist is not really the law, but always entirely correct, and is very seldom complete and/or accurate.

UPSET

DEAR UPSET: Of course the principle involved in that "dollar's worth of gas" letter must have eluded you. The customer said she'd go home to get another dollar, and bring it back. She never returned. Then her child wrote to ask me what Mother should have done. I said: "Since she promised to return with the dollar, she should have!" You're right. I wouldn't pay for a long distance call billed to me that I didn't make simply because that call is not a commodity I would eventually use. (Not so with the gas already in my tank.)

And if you write again, please include your name and address. I have more to say to you than I can fit into this column.

DEAR ABBY: About the wife who wrote that her husband was having an affair with a young teacher. (She was a minister's daughter he had met in church.) The wife asked you if she should tell the girl's father, and you told Oswald: "In match-point duplicate there is a tendency to prefer three notrump to a minor-suit game contract. The idea is that three notrump making four counts more than five clubs making five or six."

Jim: "There is a corollary theory. If you get to five clubs or five diamonds you might as well go on to six in order to beat notrump game bidders."

Oswald: "Here is a hand from a recent IMP team match that shows why this should not apply to IMP contests. The bidding in the box shows the bidding at table one. West opened the six of spades and South gave the hand the best possible play. He went up with dummy's queen of spades, led the ten of clubs and played his queen. West took the trick with the king, thought a while, decided his only chance to get a profit would be to lay down the ace of spades. He caught South's king and wound up setting declarer two tricks.

Jim: "I suppose the other table got out of the notrump trap, but went to six clubs."

Oswald: "They sure did. Furthermore, West doubted and set them one trick to cause a tie board."

Thanks for advising her not to tell Dad. I don't want her husband for keeps. I just want to borrow a little of what she doesn't want. (She says their marital relations are not enjoyable to her.)

If he's leaving town soon—maybe this experience will jolt that wife enough so she will at least try to love her husband. He certainly needs it.

It's positively stupid for any wife to leave her husband vulnerable to an affair when it's so easy to please a man.

Mary Bolton weds Hochhalter in TF

TWIN FALLS— Phillip Hochhalter and Mary Ann Bolton, both Twin Falls, were married May 24 at the Carillon in Twin Falls.

Hochhalter is the son and stepson of Mr. and Mrs. Duane Harrison, Idaho Falls, and the son of Emil Hochhalter, Twin Falls. The bride is the daughter of Mrs. Lorna Bolton, Twin Falls, and Dennis Bolton, Burley.

Rev. Herbert Morris performed the ceremony before an altar decorated with large baskets of pink and white mums made by the groom's aunt, Marge Morgan.

The bride wore an A-line gown of white satin and angelskin-peau with a venise lace and rose applique design, high neckline and shepherdess sleeves. She wore a full attached chapel train and a ballerina veil.

Heyburn plant force rises to 600 workers

TF board meets tonight

TWIN FALLS — The trustee board of Magie Valley Memorial Hospital will hold its regular meeting today at 8 p.m. at the hospital.
Board members will hear reports on the status of laundry equipment installation, the air conditioning system, and recruitment of certain personnel.
The public is free to attend.

Genp Demo confab set

COEUR D'ALENE, Idaho (UPI) — The Idaho Democratic State Convention is slated for June 29-30 in Coeur d'Alene. Gov. Cecil D. Andrus, Attorney General W. Anthony Park and other state party leaders will head the delegation.
Registration, committee meetings, and a candidate's workshop are scheduled for Thursday with the first general session set for Friday morning.

Federal grant matched

WASHINGTON (UPI) — A total of $36.824 million worth of Army Corps of Engineers and Bureau of Reclamation irrigation and water resource projects in Idaho has been approved by the U.S. House.
Of that amount, $2 million was added for an additional appropriation to speed completion of Teton Dam irrigation facilities.

Bond totals given

BOISE (UPI) — Sales of U.S. Savings Bonds totaled $982,554 in Idaho during April to put the sales campaign at 37.2 per cent of its goal, Volunteer State Chairman H. Westerman Willock has announced.
So far in 1974 sales of the bonds have totaled $4,014,973.

Boise man seeks post

BOISE (UPI) — Bob Linnville, 51, a Boise businessman who has been Ada County Republican Central Committee chairman for three years, wants the chairmanship of the State GOP Central Committee.
The chairmanship of the State Central Committee will be vacated by Marjorie Minter of Wallace this month.

Boise conference slated

BOISE (UPI) — The theme of the 27th annual Idaho Cities Conference Thursday through Saturday in Boise is "emerging city issues."
Gov. Cecil D. Andrus will give the keynote address. About 500 city officials from throughout the state are expected to attend.

Sessions begin

CALDWELL (UPI) — Girls representing most of the high schools began arriving Sunday on the College of Idaho campus Caldwell for the week-long 1975 Girls' State.
"The girls will elect local and state officials, hear explanations of the workings of government and take part in a local legislative session at the statehouse in Boise."

Project funding approved

BOISE (UPI) — Idaho's efforts to acquire land and develop outdoor recreation facilities in Malad Gorge State Park will be helped by a $165,000 matching grant from the Bureau of Outdoor Recreation.
The federal grant will be matched by the state, bringing the total cost of the project to $330,000.
The Malad Gorge State Park, 20 miles northwest of Jerome, Idaho, a bicentennial site. Of the state's share $75,000 comes from special bicentennial funds appropriated by the last session of the Idaho Legislature.

Accident claims Caldwell man

BAKER, Ore. (UPI) — Robert E. Stone, 39, Caldwell, Idaho, was killed Sunday when his truck-trailer rig went out of control on Interstate 80N, overturned and plowed into undergrowth.
State police said the accident happened 35 miles east of here. Police said Stone was westbound when his rig went out of control on a curve. Cause of the accident is under investigation.

Work training outlined

SEATTLE (UPI) — Fifteen Idaho workers who are unemployed under employment will be trained as plasterers and cement masons under a national on-the-job training contract with the U.S. Department of Labor.
The federal agency is putting the program together with the AFL-CIO Plasterers' Union. Some 800 workers will receive the training in the Northwest.
Federal funding totaling $17,225 will provide the training in Idaho. Preference will be given to veterans in selecting trainees.

Search continues

BOISE (UPI) — Boise River officials began lowering the Boise River water level Sunday to help facilitate a search for a young woman who reportedly jumped off a bridge into the river.
Bill Lawley, Boise, told police, "I saw the girl sitting on the railing of the Eighth Street bridge as I drove across the bridge. By the time I got to her, she had jumped."
Lawley told police the girl jumped from the bridge as he approached her.
Ada County Sheriff Sargent Gil Wright said the search, which began Saturday night, resumed early Sunday morning and would continue today.
Wright said 27 volunteers combed the area from the Eighth Street Bridge down both sides of the river to the Glen Wood Street Bridge — a distance of about three miles.

Scholarships eyed

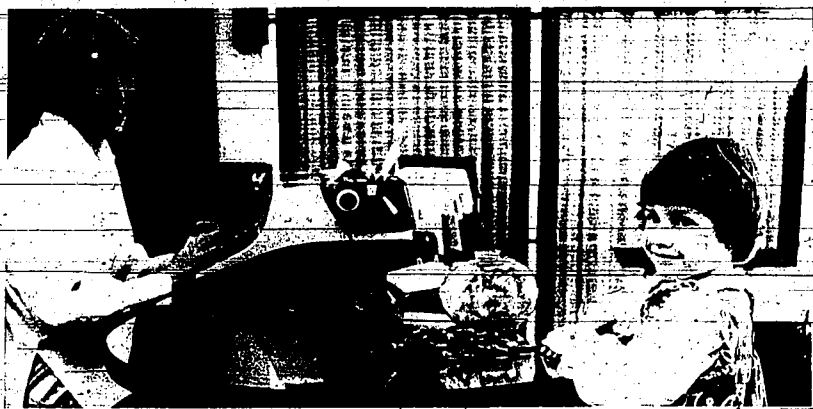

BOISE (UPI) — Names of 26 high school graduates who will receive the first $1,500-a-year scholarships will be announced this week during a meeting of the Board of Education in Caldwell.
Several hundred students applied for the merit awards approved by the Legislature at its last session. The academic and vocational scholarships go to Idaho students who remain in Idaho colleges and universities.
This will be the first meeting of the State Board of Education to be conducted on the College of Idaho campus. The College of Idaho is a private school.
The meeting will be held Thursday and Friday.
Name wrong
HAILEY — The Times-News incorrectly reported Sunday that Robert Fry was the Blaine County treasurer.
Derby Fovey has held the post for several years. Mrs. Fovey is retiring from office this year and Ms. Fry has filed for the position.
The Times-News regrets the error.

HEYBURN — Simplot officials said today the firm's struck-bound Heyburn processing plant is now operating with nearly two-thirds of its full production workforce.
According to Lowell Dayley, assistant personnel manager, the plant was operating with more than 600 production workers on Friday, not counting supervisory employees.
And according to personnel manager John McBride, the number of strikers "permanently replaced" had risen to "350 to 360."
About 900 members of the Grain Millers-Union had struck the potato processing plant more than five weeks ago in a dispute involving pay and benefits.
Dayley said that 156 members of the striking union had returned to work during the strike. He said the plant is operating at about 60 per cent of full capacity, which would extend the production run until early July.

He said the plant then will be closed to maintain machinery in preparation for next fall's operation.
The American Processing Workers Independent Union, Buckley Local No. 1, is attempting to gain enough signatures on authorization cards to call for a certification election allowing employees to vote for a choice of union representation.
Thirty per cent of the work force is required to sign the cards before the National Labor Relations Board can hold the election.
The new union has announced that it now has 213 signatures. The Simplot Co. reports that they have 1,118 employees, a figure which would require at least 306 signatures to make up the necessary 30 per cent.

The figure could be higher if employees on strike whom the company has "permanently replaced" are considered. The company has replaced over 300 striking workers but may have to take them back when a settlement is reached.
A Grain Millers executive board official said Saturday, "quite a few" workers who thought they had to sign independent-union authorization cards to go back to work during the strike are submitting statements to the Grain Millers resigning from the new union.
The statements say, "If my name appears on an authorization card or petition for the independent Union, it is either a forgery or was obtained under false pretenses," according to the Grain Millers official.

The official said there had been cases of forgery on the authorization cards.
Simplot and the Grain Millers Union may go back into negotiating sessions next week if federal mediator John Garvey finds both parties willing to negotiate.
Both Simplot and the union indicated willingness to negotiate after sessions were held in Boise in late May and the first week of this month.
Progress on non-economic issues was reported by both sides in the negotiations.

WENDY MICHAEL, 5, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. George P. Michael, 2187 Addison Ave. E., helps ease the penny shortage by cashing in $4.85 at the head office of the Twin Falls Bank & Trust Co., Twin Falls.

Helps ease shortage

Penny pinch felt in TF

TWIN FALLS — Officers of four local banks today made a general appeal for local citizens to turn in their pennies.
"We need to get pennies out of dressers, drawers, pickle jars, piggy banks — and back into circulation," Idaho First National manager Jack Ramsey said.
A penny shortage has been plaguing the nation recently and the pinch is being felt in Twin Falls, the bankers said.
But Ramsey emphasized, "There is no shortage of pennies, but shortage of circulation." He credited the high price of copper and zinc farmers that pennies would soon be made of aluminum with creating the crunch.
According to Larry LaRocco, assistant vice president at the Bank and Trust, the crunch has leveled off for the time being. He added, however, pennies are needed here. The Federal Reserve system has cut the banks quota of pennies to zero. "We are simply circulating pennies as they come into the bank at the present time," LaRocco said.
Other bank officials stressing the need for citizens to turn in their pennies were Rich McKernan, manager of the Bank of Idaho and H.P. Nelson, First Security Bank, assistant manager. All four banks will participate in the certificate program, officials announced. Each person or group bringing in $25 in pennies is presented special citation issued by the U.S. Department of the Treasury.
"The Girl Scouts, along with mint director Mary Brooks and Treasury Secretary William Simon, is in appreciation for 'patriotically responding to the U.S. Mint's June, 1974, appeal to American citizens to return the U.S. penny to circulation.'"

Blaine grants use permit

HAILEY — The Blaine County Planning and Zoning commission has granted a conditional use permit to Bob Barnes for location of a mobile home in Mortgage Row subdivision.
Barnes agreed to disconnect the present mobile home sewer connection.
The commission disallowed a conditional use permit request by Al K. Hall to locate a mobile home in the floodway of the Wood River until they could consult with the Army Corps of Engineers.
Hall wishes to place the trailer near the Wood River bridge west of Hutton on West Bullion street. According to the county ordinance no structures permanent or temporary are allowed to be built or moved into the floodway designated by the corps.
The land owner testified she had never seen the river reach that area since 1948. Hall said the trailer would be 11 feet above the present river level.
The commission agreed to seek an opinion from the corps to possibly reassess the present floodway designation.
A request by Wilmette Construction Co. to extract shale from an existing pit about two miles up the east fork road was tabled.
"There was some confusion whether the area was located in an A-2 or B-2 zone. If the land is in an A-2 zone a variance would have to be requested; however, the proposal was for a conditional use permit.
Finally the commission allowed a conditional use permit by Carlyle Castle to operate a rock quarry on about ten acres of land between Gannett and Priceto.

Playful bison changes tune

GOODING, Idaho (UPI) — Buffaloes are mighty protective of newborn calves, as the Clet Floyd family of Gooding, Idaho, has learned.
It used to be that the Floyds' son, Larry, a recent Gooding High School graduate, spent every afternoon in the corn growing hay, and dodging Edna the playful buffalo.
But that has all changed with the new addition. Larry is no longer welcome, and the entire herd, which includes the mother, four other cows and the bull Mr. Bob, spend their days looking after the calf, moving when she does and shielding her from curious onlookers.
Mrs. Floyd believes the calf is the first one born in captivity in this part of the country. "Buffalo seldom ever breed when they are penned up, although they breed easily on the open range," she said.

Airmen critical

BOISE (UPI) — Two airmen from Mountain Home remained in critical condition at St. Alphonsus Hospital today from injuries received in a one-car accident Saturday north of Bruneau on Highway 31.
The two airmen, Clayton Heights, Pa., and David L. Brown, Bremerton, Wash., were thrown from the car in which they were riding when it overturned on a road five miles north of Bruneau.
"Other airmen were hurt but their injuries were less serious."

Musical benefits pool

SHOSHONE — Idaho Secretary of State Pete Conrussa entertained guests in two languages Saturday while acting as master of ceremonies at a Basque musical in Shoshone.
The musical, featuring the Aniak-Danok choir under the direction of Juan Onatibia, was performed in Shoshone for the benefit of the Shoshone public swimming pool fund.
Conrussa reviewed Basque history, spoke in both English and Basque and paid high tribute to Onatibia for organizing the music and dancing.
Onatibia, Basque folk musician and teacher from Spain, in addition to directing the choir composed of singers from the Boise area played a drum and a tabata, a clarinet type instrument, to which some of the dances were done.
Dancers were also from Boise and the Shoshone area.
Since Easter Onatibia has been in Boise giving Basque language, folk dancing and music instructions to children and adults in the Basque Studies Center program. After performances with this group appearing in Shoshone, he will KETCHUM — Approval or disapproval of ski lift expansion plans on Bald Mountain will take longer than was originally reported.

Ed Fournier, Sawtooth Forest supervisor, said the time required will be longer than originally reported. The plans will be reviewed by Forest Service officials this week.
Butch Harper, deputy ranger of the Ketchum office, who prepared an environmental analysis plan for Bald Mountain said he hoped for approval of the plan, an expansion proposal, during May.
Fournier said Monday "we just don't work that way."
Fournier said an extensive review would be undertaken. Tommy Farr, Ketchum office ranger, and Harper will meet with engineer and specialist last week to review the plans.
Sun Valley company plans to build six new lifts in the Seattle Ridge Round House and Lower Pole Springs area as well as a new lift in Frenchman's Gulch.
Fournier said he had no idea when or if the plans would be approved. Consultation with area specialists is needed before the plans are approved, he said. He said approval may have to come from the regional Forest Service office in Ogden.

Gooding student honored

GOODING — A Gooding student has been named the outstanding senior in the University of Idaho College of Letters and Sciences.
Brian E. Koester, son of Mr. and Mrs. Edward Koester of Gooding, was awarded the Ernest Hiram Lindley award, Elizabeth Kilder Lindley Award at the university.
He was graduated summa cum laude from the U of I in May, and is continuing his medical study at the University of Washington School of Medicine.
He was a graduate of the Gooding High School.
Recipients of the Lindley award are selected by a committee on the basis of a high academic average and other activities and contributions to the university. His name will be placed on a permanent plaque in the U of I Administration Building. He also was presented reference works in his field.

Parochial school equality upheld

In other actions today, the Court:
— Rejected S-3 attempts by Chicano leader Reyes Lopez Tijerina to overturn his conviction for assault in an incident in which he was first charged with kidnapping a deputy sheriff.
— Agreed to decide whether the Federal Power Commission has unprecedented authority to license nearly all fossil fuel power plants.
— Agreed to decide the constitutionality of a provision in the 1971 federal election campaign law requiring certification that independent political advertising is not paid for with campaign funds.

— Agreed to decide if the Civil Service Commission can exclude aliens from all federal jobs.
Blackmun said state and local school authorities may provide for on-premises instruction for parochial school children. But if they do not choose this method, or if it turns out that state law prevents it, they have these options:
— A plan not using on-premises instruction but still giving comparable services to both public and private schools.

— Elimination of on-premises instruction in public schools and use of a neutral site or a summer program.
Not participating in the federal program at all.
State officials brought the case to the Supreme Court after the 8th U.S. Circuit Court of Appeals ruled that parental personnel services must be afforded children attending private schools during school hours if the same services are furnished public school pupils.
Blackmun said the lower court properly refused to involve itself in the First Amendment issue, since no actual order had been entered requiring on-premises instruction in parochial schools.

State authorities had run up against a Misdollar rule that would have forbidden duplication of public school instruction in parochial schools. The 8th Circuit said the matter reversed by a federal law, but Blackmun said Congress did not intend any bars under state constitutions to be superseded.
Congress had the policy of accommodating state law, Blackmun said.

Horoscope

FORECAST FOR TUESDAY, JUNE 11, 1974

GENERAL TENDENCIES: The early part of the day is fine to attend to duties you have been putting off for a long time. Later you find it difficult to make your ideas work out as you wish. Study all phases of a plan for better understanding.

ARIES (Mar. 21 to Apr. 19): You can handle affairs secretly in the morning but be sure you get down to business later in the day. Avoid being suspicious.

Taurus (Apr. 20 to May 20): Get in touch early with a good pal who can give you valuable data you need. Avoid any social gatherings today. Keep calm.

GEMINI (May 21 to June 21): Taking chances with your good name could be bad now, so be above suspicion. Don't push any highways. Sidestep one who gasps.

MOON CHILDREN (June 22 to July 21): Don't delay working on a new plan since later you are likely to meet with all sorts of irritations. Relax tonight.

LEO (July 22 to Aug. 21): Attend to those chores ahead of you and don't get confused by distraction. Avoid an argument with mate. Take time for pleasure.

VIRGO (Aug. 22 to Sept. 22): Try to establish more harmony with associates by doing more listening and less forcing of your will on them. Be polite.

LIBRA (Sept. 23 to Oct. 23): Don't try to force co-workers to do more than is required of them. Plan to rest more so that you don't learn your health.

SCORPIO (Oct. 23 to Nov. 21): Don't force others to go along with you where amusement is concerned since there are tensions which the planets could cause.

SAGITTARIUS (Nov. 22 to Dec. 21): You had better use tact at home or you could be confronted with much difficulty. Do something to clear up misunderstanding.

CAPRICORN (Dec. 22 to Jan. 20): Plan to make appointments and calls but steer clear of those that could be troublesome. Try to be more courteous to all contacts.

AQUARIUS (Jan. 21 to Feb. 19): You think money will cover up almost anything now, but if you use more ethical methods, you will do much better. Be thrifty.

PISCES (Feb. 20 to March 20): You want to gain some personal desire and the best way is for you to use tact and improve your appearance. Think logically.

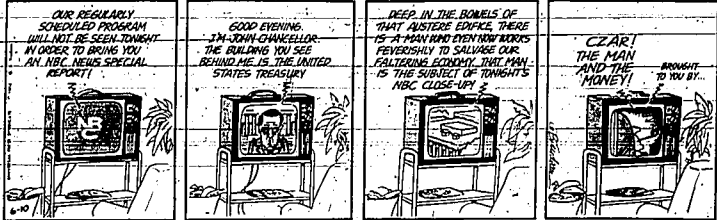

IF YOUR CHILD IS BORN TODAY: He or she could easily have unwarranted suspicion of others, so teach early in life to get on the positive side. Give good food, exercise and spiritual training, and they will have a happy and well-adjusted person who can accomplish a good deal during lifetime. Study of music is fine here.

The Stars jimpel, they do not compel. What you make of your life is largely up to YOU!

Am surprised to hear the report that four out of five of Japan's business enterprises still are done on the abacus. The abacus, like Mickey Mouse, Lassie, and Snoopy, is a millionaire. One pollster contends more citizens nationwide recognize a picture of Andy Granatelli than of Robert Redford. As many as 10 bank robberies a day were reported this winter in Paris. Gambling was outlawed in ancient Egypt or the popular "threeabouts" rather than "it made men eliminate.

Formerly eminent why the "latter" of the liberation movement don't quote the great Aesop, who claimed you always should judge a woman by her mind, never by her appearance. Maybe so. Still, our Love and War man says it's exceedingly difficult to snore somebody's looks, man's or woman's. How Lady Godiva looked when she appeared in public "lingers large" in human history than why she so appeared.

QUERIES FOR CLIENTS

Q "What's a big fat rattlesnake worth if anything?"
A Its venom, about $35 per milligram. Its meat, about $4 per pound.

Q "The so-called 'long dozen,' sometimes called the baker's dozen, is 13. What's a 'long hundred'?"
A That's 120.

Q "Where'd we get the word 'potato'?"
A All I know is the Indians used to call a sweet potato a "batata."

Q "Saltwater fish are not necessarily saltier than fresh-water fish, young lady."

LANGUAGE MAN

Those "footprints of lines" on a geological chart look something like the footprints of a crane. Or so an imaginative Frenchman once thought. He identified such a chart as a "pie de grue" meaning "crane foot." Whence come, says the Language Man, our word "pedigree."

The class ring originated in this country at West Point.

Remember, that gallon of white paint will cover a lot better if you use a couple of ounces of lamp black into it.

This nationwide firm of private detectives tracks down missing persons. Twenty five years ago, it reports, the ratio of runaway husbands to runaway wives was about 200 to one. Just 15 years ago, it was approximately 100 to one. Today, it's almost but not quite a tie to one. Surely, still more husbands than wives took off. But you can see from these statistics that more and more wives every year are going over the hill.
