US Court postpones examination ruling

(C) Washington Star-News
WASHINGTON — The Supreme Court today postponed a decision on whether to examine evidence which led the Watergate grand jury to name President Nixon as an indicted co-conspirator in the Watergate cover-up case.

The justices deferred action on a request by Nixon for an order instructing the grand jury to send the evidence to the highest court.

The court said it would consider the question of "disclosure and transmission of grand jury matters" when it hears oral arguments July 8 on the tapes dispute between Nixon and Watergate special prosecutor Leon Jaworski.

James D. St. Clair, the President's chief lawyer, has contended the grand jury material — tapes, transcripts, minutes of grand jury sessions, exhibits and other evidence — will show that there were insufficient grounds for citing the President as a cover-up conspirator.

The highest court is not expected to rule on whether the evidence was sufficient or not. In fact, St. Clair did not ask them to do that.

Instead, he said the justices needed "as complete a record as possible" when they decide whether the grand jury had the constitutional authority to name Nixon and whether the President has a right to withhold tapes from Special Watergate Prosecutor Leon Jaworski under a claim of executive privilege.

The court is expected to hand down a final ruling in mid-July after the July 8 oral arguments.

"In the resolution of both these issues, it may be necessary for this (Supreme) Court to make a factual analysis of the grand jury's action," St. Clair said in a memorandum to the justices. St. Clair initially asked U. S. District Judge John J. Sirica to order the release of the grand jury evidence to him and the justices. But Sirica rejected that request. Then, the attorney appealed to the highest court.

Jaworski vigorously opposed the effort to have the grand jury material brought before the justices. He argued that the issue of the sufficiency of the evidence was irrelevant to the court's consideration of the constitutional issues.

It would be unprecedented to allow the President to challenge the grand jury's finding that he was a co-conspirator in the Watergate cover-up.

New subpoena out

WASHINGTON (UPI) — The House Judiciary Committee issued another subpoena against President Nixon today, despite his declaration that he would abide by an order.

The subpoena was approved on a vote 31 to 4. The opposition came entirely from Republicans.

The subpoena asked for 12 tapes and copies of Nixon's daily news summaries for a period in the winter and spring of 1972 when Richard G. Kleindienst was testifying before Senate Judiciary Committee hearings of his nomination as attorney general.

The committee issued four previous subpoenas since it began its inquiry into the possible impeachment of Nixon. The others sought 58 taped conversations, resulting in the release of 31 transcripts but no tapes.

Significantly, counsel for the President had not cited a single case in which any person named as an indicted co-conspirator has been allowed to litigate the sufficiency of the evidence available to the grand jury in support of that charge.

Jaworski said in a memorandum to the justices.

However, St. Clair said that for the court to review the two constitutional issues "without allowing the President a complete basis upon which to attack the validity of the grand jury's action would be a denial of due process."

Among the evidence that would be examined by the justices are the grand jury records of testimony of H. R. Haldeman, John W. Dean III, William O. Bittman, Frederick C. Laury and E. Howard Hunt.

The men were allegedly involved in the payment of $75,000 in "hush money" to Hunt. The grand jury apparently based its 1949 decision on Nixon as a co-conspirator on the belief that the President authorized the Hush payment.

In asking the court to examine the grand jury evidence, St. Clair submitted a memorandum under seal entitled, "The evidence establishes that the President did not authorize the payment of Howard Hunt's attorney fees."

Bell Rapids said 'model'

By LORAYNE O. SMITH
Times-News Writer

HAGERMAN — The 25,000-acre Bell Rapids irrigation project was heralded as a model of cooperative planning in a dedication ceremony here Sunday.

About 600 persons gathered at the tree-lined Hagerman city park for breakfast and the ceremony, which featured the state's top elected officials and the national head of the Bureau of Land Management.

Completion of the project after 10 years was praised by all speakers as a major accomplishment for the 75 landholders and many businesses involved in the project.

The project will serve regional needs and provide for pursuing world peace through better food production, Rep. Orval Hansen of Idaho, said. He called the project a model of cooperation between engineers, farmers, bankers, and all levels of government which will serve as a model for the future.

"And we desperately need faith in our future," he said.

Projects like Bell Rapids are part of the legacy in which the West was settled, Sen. Frank Church, D-Idaho, said. He estimated the project will bring in excess of $180,000 in direct taxes and crops will be worth an estimated $20 million.

British test 'few weeks ago'

LONDON (UPI) — Prime Minister Harold Wilson said today that Great Britain carried out an underground nuclear test explosion in Nevada "a few weeks ago."

He told the House of Commons no further British nuclear tests were scheduled in the near future, but the one which took place in Nevada was "necessary to maintain the effectiveness of our nuclear deterrent."

State ruling brings diploma

NEW YORK (UPI) — Roseann O'Brien, 17, smiles happily and clutches her diploma following graduation from Lake Ronkonkoma high school Saturday.

The handicapped girl was ordered to be allowed to graduate by state education officials after a special hearing. She lacked a quarter credit toward her graduation because she had missed a gymnasium course following an operation two years ago.

'BLA' claims 2 Florida murders

JACKSONVILLE, Fla. (UPI) — Three more tape recorded messages from the "Black Liberation Army" claiming responsibility for the murder of two white youths were received by two television stations on a radio station today.

Duval county police said the tapes definitely established that Stephen Lamont Roberts, 17, of Hialeah, Mich., and Stephen A. Olanda, 18, East Brunswick, N.J., were both murdered by the same group of three to five persons.

Court accepts spy trial appeal

WASHINGTON (UPI) — The Supreme Court agreed today to decide if a federal judge acted properly when he delayed the court-martial trial of an Air Force sergeant accused of spying for the Soviet Union.

M. Sgt. Raymond G. DeChamplain was charged with copying and attempting to deliver classified military information to a Soviet agent while stationed in Thailand in 1971. The documents varied from "confidential" to "top secret."

Jordan bans Michener works

Cassia food clash looms

BURLEY — The final chapter in a year-long battle against the food stamp program in Cassia County has begun.

Officials with the Department of Environmental and Community Services (DECS) say they are prepared to take the county to court to force funding assistance for the food stamp program, which must begin July 1. County officials continue to refuse assistance.

"The battle began last summer when the federal government set July 1, 1974, as the date when every county in the United States must adopt the food stamp program because of a lack of surplus food to supply the commodities program.

Cassia County adopted the commodities program in June of last year because the food stamp program was "extravagant" and because, the commissioners said, people in the community were "up in arms" over the abuse of the program.

The commissioners have maintained since last summer that they would not change to the food stamp program. When the commodities ran out, they said, someone else would have to maintain the program and commissioner Weldon Beck said several times the commissioners were willing to take the issue to court.

It now may come to that. (Continued on p. 11)

Airport sewage in open trench

TWIN FALLS — Sewage from the Twin Falls City-County airport is running above ground in a dangerous violation of state health codes, according to local health officials.

Gerald Hurst, district environmental health director, said today that sewage from the airport's septic tank system is running in an open trench towards the Highline Canal.

"Hurst could not say if the sewage actually enters the canal. "It was a gross violation of the regulations, so I don't go further," he said. Such open sewage, he said, is a danger to the public since it can carry a number of diseases, including hepatitis.

Hurst said the sewage from the airport runs into a three-compartment septic tank system, where it probably stays around two days. Then the sewage is fed into the ditch running towards the canal. The waste is untreated in the septic tank system, he said.

Hurst said environmentalist Alan Bierman had been in contact with city officials about what could be done. Bierman could not be reached this morning for contact.

City manager Jean Millar denied that there is a problem. "There's no raw sewage running anywhere."

For the past three years, he said, the city has been working with the Idaho Department of Health and Environmental Protection Agency to correct the airport sewage system with the city sewer system.

Millar expected approval for this project within the next two months.

"We have fully complied with any instructions that the State Department of Health has ever asked of us," Millar asserted. But then he said that the department had never given him city instructions on the matter.

Millar said the sewage system "might be in violation but that doesn't mean that there's a health hazard involved," he said. He expected any change in the present system until the state soon gives its approval to the hook-up with the city sewer system.

Dr. Wayne Carr, medical director of the health district, and Jim Ingalls, assistant district director, had been informed of the situation before, Millar said.

Hurst said the district has not been contacted.

TF workers lose jobs after strike

TWIN FALLS — At least six Twin Falls city maintenance workers involved in last week's abortive strike have been fired.

The six men were among 35 maintenance workers who walked off the job last week in an attempt to get the city to recognize the Teamsters' Union as bargaining agent for the employes.

The strike began last Monday and was called off Thursday. City Manager Jean Millar had given the strikers until 9 a.m. Friday to report to him personally in order to be considered for retention in their jobs. Thirty-two strikers did report back to Millar.

"A total accounting hasn't been made at this point... (we) have replaced about half a dozen," Millar said this morning. He declined to name the men who were fired.

The city manager also would not say the men were discharged. "Handling employes is a rather delicate operation and it involves a lot of personalities... I'll not disclose any confidence that is personal in nature," he said.

The half dozen terminated did not include the three men who did not report back to work Friday. These three employes also have been terminated, Millar said.

Teamsters Union business representative Roy Carson said this morning that the wives of the maintenance employes will not picket the city at this time. Friday he said about 20 wives were at the union hall waiting to picket if the results of the meeting with the city manager were not satisfactory.

But today Carson said, "We have other actions pending at this time that we feel are more important." He said he has filed formal complaint of discrimination against the city with the State Department of Labor and the Idaho Human Rights Commission. That city firemen and teachers should be able to unionize and not city maintenance crews is discriminatory, he said.

Carson again asserted the strike had not failed. "I think it's done the Teamsters Union good. It shows the residents the Teamsters Union is behind the people," he said.

Six fired employes were at the Teamster Union hall this morning. They were: Glenn Swindling, Robert Hale, Ronald Tipton, Melvin Ikenberry, Larry Coffey, and Mike Gillispie.

Swindling said he quit. "I couldn't see going back to work on $495 a month salary. I can't support my wife and two children on that. Ever since I started I haven't been able to pay all my bills," he said. He said he has a "pretty good prospect" for another job lined up.

Most of the other employes attributed their being fired to personal clashes with their department heads.

Buhl doctor examined, referred girl

The Times-News retracts the portions of a June 14 news story which quoted an Idaho State Police report saying Buhl Doctor Charles W. Cullings had refused to treat a fatally injured child.

A week-long investigation by the newspaper has shown the portions of the state police report which referred to the doctor's care of the infant were unsubstantiated and contradicted by some witnesses to the event, including the doctor himself.

Moreover, the newspaper since has learned the state police report was incomplete, as officers had interviewed relatives of the injured infant but had not talked to the doctor or to any of his office staff.

The news report was printed in good faith and without malice. The state policeman who gave the report to the Times-News, Frank Magness, is usually an extremely reliable and accurate official. He is one of the most professionally competent law enforcement officers in Magic Valley.

However, before printing the report, the Times-News had contacted a lot of live witnesses who had some involvement in the case, including Dr. Cullings, to ascertain the police report's accuracy.

Dr. Cullings was informed of the content of the state police report, but would not comment for print.

At the time the story went to press, the Times-News editor and the reporter who covered the child's death believed the account to be factual.

But because of subsequent statements made by witnesses, including the first public statement by Dr. Cullings, the Times-News has concluded the original state police report was unsubstantiated and incorrect in stating Dr. Cullings had refused treatment.

The Times-News therefore retracts the portions of its news story referring to Dr. Cullings, and apologizes publicly to Dr. Cullings. (Continued on p. 11)

Watchdog law repeal bid rejected: battle looms

(C) Chicago Daily News

CHICAGO—American Medical Association leaders have rejected a grass-roots demand for repeal of a physician-watchdog law, setting the stage for a major convention battle here this week.

At least 11 state delegations are mobilized in the Palmer House to commit the AMA to flat-out opposition to a system that allows doctors to police one another's treatment of patients.

But the board of trustees, in a "carefully weighed" report submitted to the policy-making House of Delegates, said repeal has no chance in Congress and that such an AMA policy would fragment the already splintered house of medicine.

Last week they asked the 247 delegates to authorize the AMA to "continue on its present course of leadership" in influencing directives and providing amendments to the House of Delegates.

The AMA is a professional standard body that does not otherwise, said Dr. Richard E. Palmer, board chairman, would "severely weaken" the AMA's authority as the voice of a unified medical profession before Congress, not only as a PSRO but other important health legislation.

Hunter said the board is fully aware of the growing call for repeal but contended it is unrealistic, imprudent and costly.

This, the board has moved little from its position of last December while the number of states demanding a policy of repeal has grown from five to 11 at the same time, other member states have taken steps to implement PSRO. Trustees said they have the obligation to protect the interests of these groups as well.

Members of the trustees' statements, as well as 24 resolutions on PSRO, were debated before a reference committee will come back for floor discussion.

Meanwhile, other political interest centered around a proposal to elect trustees in a way that would no longer favor physicians. Delegates' notes of board decisions are looking to this method as a way of gaining greater representation on the board.

The future role of Dr. Richard Wilbur who was suddenly derailed by internal maneuvering after he had been slated to become the $120,000 executive vice president of the AMA, was drawing corridor discussion.

Some sentiment was building in California and Wisconsin delegations to nominate him to run against Dr. Mark H. Parrall, a member of the board for president-elect.

Wilbur, former assistant secretary of defense, spoke before an Illinois caucus on developments in Washington but did not mention interest in the job. When asked if he would serve, Wilbur said he is not a candidate but would respond to a draft.

Wilbur has contended the AMA leadership is becoming increasingly dominated by the political powers-of-medicine.

Rabin also said frontier settlements would have to take a part in the defense of the region.

Israel will have to prepare for a continuous and protracted war against the terrorists," he said.

The government of oil-rich Kuwait called for a conference of Arab foreign and defense ministers to discuss collective Arab action against Israeli attacks on Palestinian refugee camps in Lebanon.

A statement issued by Sheikh Jaber, Al-Ahmed, Al-Sabah, crown prince and prime minister of Kuwait, said his country, which earlier offered aid to Lebanon to strengthen its defenses, "now sees that the problem goes beyond bilateral responsibilities and calls for collective Arab action."

"Therefore Kuwait considers it necessary to hold a conference of Arab foreign and defense ministers to discuss a decisive action to protect our two brotherly peoples."

In Alexandria, President Anwar Sadat told the Egyptian fleet today the war against Israel will not end until every inch of Arab land occupied by Israel is liberated and the rights of the Palestinian people are restored, Sadat said.

Blaine sets subdivision review

By BART QUENELL, Times-News Writer

HAILY — Requests for about 2,000 acres of subdivisions are set for review by the Blaine County Planning and Zoning Commission.

The commission has 10 subdivision applications, including some which have been held for months until a completion of a comprehensive land use plan. The plan is finished and needs approval by the zoning.

A huge chunk of the requests lies about 15 miles west of Haily. McCulloch Properties Inc. wants to use 1,500 acres for an equestrian-residential area in Democrat Gulch.

According to the plan, McCulloch will sell 62 lots on 138 acres as "homesteads" and leave the rest as grazing or riding land. The area will contain high-priced homes and will include a huge ranch house and stable area.

Terrel Corp. is attempting to sell about 130 acres on both the east and west of Big Wood River near the Gimlet airport. Teron has submitted the plan as four different subdivisions with parks and roads running through each.

Western National

Corporation wants to develop 180 acres adjacent to Haily running north between the railroad track and Highway 93. Most of the area will be residential, but the firm has asked that 35 acres near Haily be approved for a trailer park.

A request for a 3.5 acre subdivision along the east side of Magic Reservoir has been filed. Perry-Carrill plans to divide the land into 70 lots.

A subdivision request for 37 acres south of Bellevue on the west side of Gannett Road has been filed under the name Beaverstock. The division proposes single family dwellings of 8.5 to 9 acre lots. Deer Creek Subdivision 2.5 miles northwest of Haily is seeking permission to sell 14 single-family lots on 14.27 acres.

The Broadford Highlands Subdivision, if approved, will divide 28 acres west of Friedman airport between Broadford Road and the strip into 22 lots for single family dwellings.

According to Bob Barnes, commission administrator, subdivision review will begin after the comprehensive plan is approved. The plan faces public hearings during July.

Reports presented for Filer Grange

FILER — Worthy master Everett Bonnichson conducted a meeting of Filer Grange Friday night at the Grange hall.

He welcomed those present. Mrs. Craig Dunlap gave a safety report on dangers of some poisonous house plants. She also discussed the different types of common home injuries.

By United Press International
Some newspapers are uneasy about President Nixon's commitment to Egypt of a nuclear generator, while others praised all the President's decision, and said just because something is nuclear does not mean it makes into a bomb.

Here are excerpts from some newspaper editorials commenting on the generator and other aspects of Nixon's just concluded eight-day tour of the Middle East nations.

Chicago Today: "In spite of obvious need for commercial agreements between the U.S. and Arab nations as a kind of peace insurance, there is something unsettling about nuclear assistance offered to Egypt by President Nixon. Given the restrictions on the proposed aid, there seems the word 'nuclear' takes on a grim meaning when used in a context that includes a war. Mr. Nixon's proposal is an even-handed one that promises nuclear power reactors to both Egypt and Israel. The benefit will be purely economic... to Israel, the advantage will be strategic as well, since it will reduce dependence on oil."

Chicago Daily News: "Last week was a week of nuclear politics and the allies of the global audience are justified. One role was played by President Nixon, who promised Egypt's President Sadat that nation's first nuclear power reactor, and later promised one to Israel to square things off. It won't quite square things off, of course. Israel has been working toward it for years and may even have one. Egypt had none and little immediate prospect until Mr. Nixon made his offer."

St. Louis Post-Dispatch: "The sudden and radical change in Washington's relations with the Arab world provides room for serious concern over U.S. assurances to provide nuclear reactors and fuel to countries that have fought each other for more than two decades. Most Americans we think had expected that Mr. Nixon would offer some form of assistance to both sides at a tangible evidence of America's new approach to the Middle East, but few are likely to give unqualified support to his decision to extend nuclear aid. There is, in reality, no foolproof prevention of this, and the basic technology involved in building an atomic power plant is similar to that required for building an atom bomb.

Columbus Dispatch: "Relentless efforts on the part of the United States have resulted in the 'possible dream' of peace in the Middle East."

"Receptacles" accorded President Nixon in his follow-up visits to the various heads of state in the Mideast is ample evidence the people and their leaders want peace.

"Mr. Nixon's top staff will ease some anxieties by underscoring the pertinent point that, although some deservous more credit than leaders of the United States, Messrs. Nixon and Kissinger, whose efforts motivated the possible dream."

Cleveland Press: "President Nixon's pledge to sell Egypt atomic fuel and the technology to build nuclear power plants raised concern in Congress and other quarters."

"We share some of those fears but think that Nixon realistically had little choice. When a country as politically important as Egypt makes a decision to have nuclear power plants, it will get them."

"We think the United States is likely to do a better job than other countries in guarding against diversion of nuclear fuel to weapons."

"Finally, the reason Nixon promised Egypt is not due to be completed before 1980. If Israel and the Arabs do not settle their dispute by 1980, there may not be any Middle East then, so there is very little need to worry about."

Cannibalism devours Bay State's GOP

BOSTON - The split in ranks of the once proud Massachusetts Republican Party is now engulfing the convention of popular Republican Governor Francis W. Sargent and his unique brand of liberal party politics in this overwhelmingly Democratic state.

Embittered Republican revolt against Sargent will peak this week when the 80-member Republican state committee meets to vote on whether to endorse Sargent's reelection effort - Sargent's opponent, Carroll E. Sheehan, the symbol of long-standing passions against the liberal Sargent within the Republican hard core. Sheehan, a conservative business man, has no visible chance in the Sept. 10 primary, but state committee non-endorsement symbolized the hostility toward Sargent inside Sargent's own party.

Admittedly, Sargent's survival as a Republican in George McGovern's only winning state was never a bed of roses. With Republicans comprising one-fourth the total registration, he has surrounded himself with liberal Democratic staff assistants and works more comfortably with Democrats than Republicans in the state legislature - Democratic - by a four-to-one margin. Moreover, while House efforts to downgrade the party rightward were calculated to undermine Sargent within his own party.

But his zeal to avoid the taint of Republicanism and consolidate his hold on Democrats and independents has made his name a word in powerful Republican quarters.

During his administration, the Republican Party has gone through six state chairmen. The present chairman, William Barnstead, has one full-time assistant and a single telephone in his Tremont St. office. When asked to take the post last March, Barnstead, a longtime party worker, drafted a letter for campaign needs. The state committee hasn't even received an accounting of the treasurer proceeds of those two fund-raisers.

All this helps explain the explosion at the state convention June 17 when a pro-Nixon resolution was "thunderously" adopted. Conservative-leaning delegates, backed by the pro-Nixon resolution party to dramatize Republican partisanship and wound the governor.

Customing the party's symbolism is the fact that the camp of Sen. Edward Brooke, also popular as a liberal Republican, is working both sides of the street, in the Sargent-Sheehan primary. Party operatives are certain Brooke, publicly supporting Sargent, would weep if the Democrats took the governorship, making him the lone prospective Bay State vice-presidential candidate in 1976.

Although successful as political lions, Sargent and Brooke must share responsibility for the state of their party along with Nixon's Watergate scandal. The result could well be the election of a Democrat, most likely Atty. Gen. Robert H. Quinn, who now leads Michael Dukakis by six points in the highly professional statewide security poll.

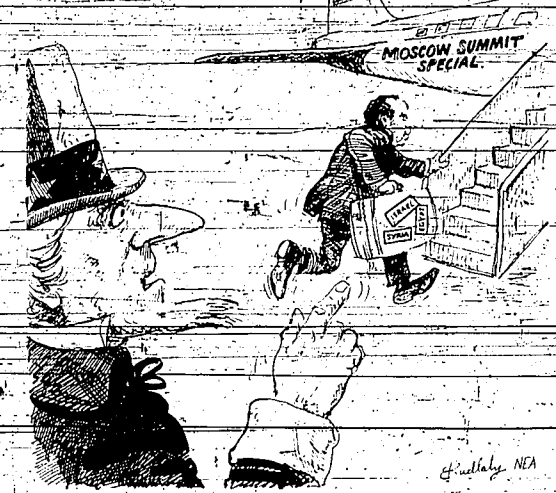

Sargent's loss to Quinn or Dukakis would end a unique era of 1960's government - but paradoxically might resurrect the party, which now has no soul.

Sargent's signature committing the governor to routine help for his party's acknowledged opponents, his "responsibility as future leader" to help arrest "the decline in the Republican party" and raise $250,000 for legislative candidates this summer.

Instead, Barnstead got a watered-down letter from Sargent pleading to help in the way of campaign funds but expressing "hope" that two party fund-raisers in April and May would go "a long way" toward meeting party

Great Whale made one mistake: people

(C) New York Times Service
A mother whale and a father whale were swimming along the coast with their adolescent son when the mother sighted a school of people on the beach.

"That they bolt!" she sang out in her eerie whale voice.

"What's that?" asked the son whale, who had never seen a school of people before, or even a stray person.

"That's people, son," said the father whale. "You see them all up and down this coast at this time of year. They cover themselves with oil and lie up there on the sand and toil themselves until they stave."

"But they're such little things," said the son whale. "I bet I could swallow one whole and have him live in my stomach."

"His mother said she would not want her stomach filled with anything that had been boiled in oil and had sand all over it."

"What do people do?" asked the young whale.

"They sit on the beach and stare at the ocean," the father whale said. "And they eat hot dogs."

"They seem to be useless," said the son whale. "Why did the Great Whale make people anyhow?"

"Son," said the father whale, "No creature in the Great Whale's universe exists without a purpose. If the Great Whale made people it was for a good reason.

The father whale called their attention to a scribble of people who had detached themselves from the school and were getting into a metal box mounted on wheels. When they were all inside, the metal box moved along the beach throwing up a great cloud of sand and destroying vegetation and birds' nests.

eat hot dogs, a mustard jar, some banana peels, and an empty plastic booty oil container.

"Maybe that's the reason the Great Whale made people," said the young whale, "to make garbage."

"The world doesn't need garbage," growled the father whale.

"Now, now," said the mother whale, "we must ween the world as it is and learn to live in harmony with it."

"Sometimes," said the father whale, "I think the Great Whale doesn't know what he's doing."

"Your father has been sensitive about garbage," the mother whale explained, "ever since he'dived thirty tons of fresh sludge off the New Jersey coast."

"Eight hundred tons of sludge!" cried the young whale. "Wow! That's what I call garbage production!"

"What are they doing now?" asked the son whale.

"Making garbage," said the father whale. "People make almost all the garbage in the world, and they use those little moving boxes to do the job."

"And inside the box," they are also preparing more garbage."

"At that moment six beer cans came flying out of the box, followed by a bag containing fruit

Some leaks beneficial

(C) New York Times Service
WASHINGTON - Ever since Adam - or was it Eve? - leaked the news about that tempting apple and other funny business in the Garden of Eden, the human race has been arguing about the wisdom of leaking forbidden news.

The latest chapter in this long story is now unfolding again in Washington.

Sen. Barry Goldwater wants the attorney general to prosecute the Washington Post for leaking confidential FBI documents. Pat Buchanan and Ken Cuccinelli of the White House staff, top of the leakiest top in the White House, members of the House Judiciary Committee to be punished for leaking anti-Nixon information out of the impeachment proceedings. It should be noted, however, that they propose the abolition of all leaks - only the leaks they do not like. And this brings us to the theme of this epistle, which is that the leak is the safety valve of democracy.

It leaves room for honest dissenters. It is the refuge of conscience. It can be used for good or evil: disclose the murders of Mylai, the secret bombing of Cambodia, the cover up of Watergate.

instigated, government are using the leaks to embarrass truth out rather than to keep it.

The conflict comes when governments try to have it both ways - to use the leak to their own advantage and to suppress and condemn it when it discloses truth they do not like.

For example, the President declares the leak when it is used against him but it is one of the most effective tools in his own political arsenal and he couldn't get on without it.

And there is nothing new or wicked in this. In the Middle East war, when the information here was that the Soviets were about to send seven airborne divisions into the Middle East, the President could either have sent an ultimatum to Moscow to pull back, or quietly ordered a worldwide alert of American forces, and cultivated the war between the two sides. He chose the latter method and put his message to the Kremlin without a direct challenge.

As a matter of fact, anybody who has studied or practiced the art of leaking knows government officials use the leak more than it is used against them. For in many Obviously, there are times when security information and grand jury information should not be published - and the press has not yet analyzed the distinction between being bold and being irresponsible - but it is not the power of the press but the power of the state that is really at hand.

For if nobody had talked against the government's policies and actions in the last few years, we would not have heard about the horrors in Vietnam, the secret bombings of Cambodia, the espionage and sabotage of the 1972 Presidential campaign, and all the lies and fiddling of the President's men.

Always remember that to talk out in opposition or in conscience, and look to the press, usually against government orders, is an untidy process, often subject to misdeeds, but it shouldn't be knocked or destroyed without a little care. The President needs it as well as the opposition.

West End residents defend physician

Editor, Times-News:

As the result of an unjust statement in the Friday, June 14 Times-News the West End may lose one of its two doctors.

Dr. Charles Cullings was falsely accused of refusing treatment to a 22-month-old girl, Leticia Lopez. Dr. Cullings examined the child and told the parents that she was breathing but her only chance was to rush her to Magic Valley Memorial Hospital in Twin Falls.

He told the parents that waiting for an ambulance would be a waste of valuable time. This article also stated that when a reporter contacted Dr. Cullings he refused to comment, but he did answer their questions.

One of these questions was, what is the closest hospital you could send them to? This article has deeply hurt the people of the West End as well as Dr. Cullings. The Cullings family has been receiving malicious phone calls since this article was printed.

The West End has worked very hard to keep the doctors who have and they don't like seeing either of these fine doctors insulted. If we lost Dr. Cullings the other doctor will have to go the work of several other doctors.

We all feel that the death of this child was very tragic but we don't believe that the blame belongs to Dr. Charles Cullings.

By RICHARD CHARNOCK
BOISE (UPI) — Sen. Frank Church sounds like a worried politician.

In an election year when he should be home free, he has made some statements recently that seem mighty strange for a man of his experience and stature.

First, his inability to recall whether he signed a petition endorsing Cesar Chavez's lettuce boycott in 1972 is downright amazing.

His memory in the past has been fabulous. In fact, he still can remember — if not the petition itself — what the Republicans did with that petition to shatter Bud Davis' dream of becoming a senator.

Second, he hinted in a press statement this past week that a

"flap about what kind of salad" to be served the concluding banquet of the 1972 Democratic convention in Sun Valley was more "over men's than philosophy."

"I do remember some flap about what kind of salad was to be served at the concluding banquet, lettuce or carrot," he said. "I signed on against lettuce — although actually I would have preferred potato salad" — but I didn't read the statement at the time nor have I seen it since.

As one of the reporters who covered that convention I can recall very clearly what the Republicans did with that resolution banning lettuce from the banquet — at which Church was the principal speaker — as a token of support for Chavez.

If Frank Church signed on against lettuce, then whether he knew what he was doing or not — he endorsed the boycott.

Church's statement makes it sound as though everybody simply was dining a preference for salad.

That was not the case. There even was a minority report on the issue, a debate on the convention floor. That's a cute touch about "potato salad," too.

Third, Frank Church appears to be trying — in that same press statement — to use a reverse "smear" on his opponents in an apparent attempt to tar them with the sins of Watergate.

After demanding his opponents "make public now" the petition he is supposed to have signed, he states he voted against endorsing the boycott then it came up at the national convention later in Miami. Then he states:

"So whatever it is that my political opponents claim, let them bring it out in the open right now, not withhold it for a score-and-smear campaign in the closing days of the election."

That happened to Bud Davis two years ago at the best minute on the same issue. Undoubtedly, these politicians would like to use the same tactics again.

But the politics of concealer has a place in Idaho: The last election should have given the Americans people their fill of dirty tricks. I am sure that Idahoans are sick of such tactics. I know I am.

For a man who stands so tall in Washington, D. C., that is stooping rather low. It sounds like the Senator is between a rock and a hard place.

This is not a "last-minute" campaign. It is an issue being raised at the outset — nearly two months before the primary election.

Agricultural boycotts are not popular in agricultural Idaho.

Frank Church long has championed the working man. Now, the Senator is caught between his support of the Idaho farmer on the one hand and the cause of organized labor on the other. That sort of thing "deliberately" takes some explaining.

But dismissing the elimination of lettuce from a banquet salad as a diner's choice rather than a political endorsement and painting opponents with the Watergate brush seems a poor way to do it.

It sounds, in fact, like a "cover-up." Senator Aid, as a study of the Watergate revelations and accusations has disclosed, voters now consider that the worst political sin of all.

Authority

Lack cited

BOISE (UPI) — The Attorney General's office does not have any authority over elective sewer districts, according to Deputy Attorney General Warren Felton.

About 700 to 800 persons in the South Fork-Cogur d'Alone River Sewer District petitioned the Attorney General to investigate operation of the district. They contended they were being charged for service which is not being provided and that rates are out of line.

Felton suggested that the protestants "should" join together and file an action against the directors of the district to force compliance with the law and settle any problems.

He said there were several possibilities for correction of the problems: "The creative process and various types of law suits would be possible by the residents of the district. Also, the Department of Environment and Community Services may have some say in the matter."

Break saves pea crop

MOSCOW, Idaho (UPI) — The administrator for the Washington and Idaho Dry-Pea and Lentil Commission says the break in the hot weather "came" just in "time" to considerably help the prospects for this year's dry-pea crop.

Harold I. Blain said the 11 days of hot weather were just beginning to stop pea plants from "blotting" when the cooling trend arrived. Until Thursday there had been an 11-day period when the temperature either neared or broke the 90 degree barrier.

However, Thursday's temperature dropped to the 70s and the break continued into Friday.

Blain said an extended hot weather spell during the blooming period stops the blooming and thereby reduces the crop.

He said this June's hot spell had damaged the crop which initially was expected to be a bumper year for dry peas in eastern Washington and northern Idaho.

Pope hails peace

VATICAN CITY (UPI) — Pope Paul VI has hailed what he called "a new light of hope for peace" in the Middle East following President Nixon's visit last week and urged world leaders not to forget the Palestinians.

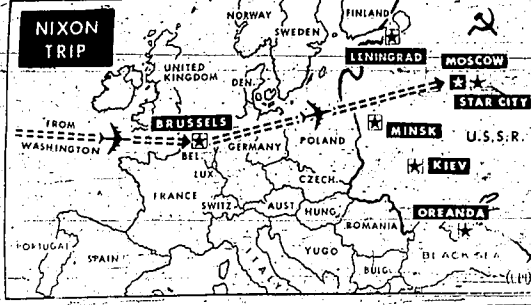

The 76-year-old pontiff emphasized the Middle East in a major address to Roman Catholic cardinals Saturday afternoon on the 11th anniversary of his election as successor to Pope John XXIII.

"We do not wish to pass over in silence the new light of hope for peace in the Middle East which has been kindled by the intense activity and the converging joint efforts of men in the high posts of responsibility — a peace yearning for and so difficult," the Pope said.

He urged "all the responsible parties not to omit any effort of good will and political wisdom in the search for a just and becoming means of unraveling the problem, so difficult and so sad concerning the destiny of the Palestinian peoples."

Pope Paul's address related the church's position that Christians, Muslims and Jews must have free access to the shrines of Jerusalem.

The section of Jerusalem that was in Jordan was annexed by Israel after the 1967 Middle East war.

Depreciation ethics eyed

WASHINGTON (UPI) — Sen. William Proxmire, D-Wis., said today that the aerospace industry is trying to weaken proposed Pentagon standards on depreciation in defense contracts and if they are successful, American taxpayers would lose millions.

Under present rules, Proxmire said aerospace firms can invest in expensive new plants and equipment knowing they will be reimbursed through accelerated depreciation. The plant and equipment, paid for mostly or entirely with taxpayers' money, is then used on commercial business for years after they have been fully depreciated.

Austria elects leader

VIENNA (UPI) — Rudolf Kirchschlaeger, a political independent, has been elected president of Austria with strong backing from the country's ruling Socialist party.

The 61-year-old Kirchschlaeger, a foreign minister in Chancellor Bruno Kreisky's cabinet since 1970, won Sunday's special election when Kreisky's Socialists who had backed his candidacy fared better than expected.

Kirchschlaeger got 2.23 million — a margin of 3.4 percentage points — over his rival, Imstadracker Mayor Alois Lang, who won the ticket of the opposition Conservative People's party.

Kirchschlaeger ran particularly well in the provinces of Upper and Lower Austria and Salzburg, where the Socialists had taken a beating in recent local elections.

Kirchschlaeger will be sworn in as president later this week. "I will represent all Austrians," he said in a victory statement.

Although Austrian presidents hold sweeping powers, including the right to dissolve parliament, Kirchschlaeger said he would continue the mainly ceremonial role of his predecessor Franz Jonas, whose death on April 23 midway through his second six-year term set up the special election.

Troop buildup military threat

SEOUL (UPI) — South Korean Defense Minister Suh Jong-chul charged today that Communist North Korea has increased its troop strength near the 151-mile Korean truce line. He said the buildup was a new military threat to the south.

The North Korean navy added 130 vessels, including about 70 amphibious aircraft and missile-carrying boats, to its arsenal since last year and the Communists' air force got 90 MIG fighter planes and 100 AN-2 aircraft, he said.

A look at the North Korean military buildup during the past 10 years sufficiently indicates how frantic North Korea is in seeking a chance of renewed aggression and in preparing for a war, Suh said.

He said the overall strength of the North Korean army was 300,000 men, supported by 15,000 pieces of artillery, 1,100 late-model tanks, 850 planes and 400 ships.

Suh said the North Koreans recently moved surface-to-surface missiles to the vicinity of Panmunjom, a truce village about 27 miles north of Seoul, and opened new air bases at the western border.

Military experts said the new bases would enable North Korean aircraft to reach Seoul in a matter of minutes in a surprise attack.

Since 1973, Suh said, the North Korean army upgraded a number of infantry brigades to the division level and activated several light infantry brigades.

Allies, ex-enemies due visit

WASHINGTON (UPI) — President Nixon has a short visit with his old NATO allies this week and a longer one with his old enemies of the Soviet Union.

The planned trip may show how much the diplomatic world has changed since the Atlantic Alliance was formed in 1949 as a warning to the Russians that Europe was protected by the U.S. nuclear umbrella against possible communist invasions.

President Nixon goes to Brussels Tuesday to sign a new version of the Atlantic Charter and meet with European leaders who saw the NATO alliance under extreme tension during last year's Arab-Israeli conflict.

Nixon then travels to Moscow for a summit meeting where he is expected to expand on a spirit of détente.

The Russians had been planned for Nixon to spend a day at Yalta, site of the World War II meeting of President Franklin D. Roosevelt, Russian Premier Josef Stalin and England's Winston Churchill, at which agreements on eastern Europe were reached.

According to American sources in Moscow, the irony was not appreciated by White House advance men who changed the site so as they arrived last Thursday in order to prevent a deadline that carried memories of the Cold War and the possibility that Nixon's enemies could elude a new "sellout."

Nixon spent the weekend at his Camp David, Md. retreat, doing homework for the visit. He breaks away from foreign affairs for a few hours today to discuss inflation and other economic problems with his economic advisers.

The President is apparently leaving his Watergate defense in the hands of his lawyers.

White House aides said Nixon has held only one hour-long session with his chief Watergate lawyer, James D. St. Clair, since his return from the Middle East.

Secretary of State Henry A. Kissinger holds a news conference today to explain diplomatic plans for the trip.

Questions are sure to touch on the national security wiretap investigation and a statement from Sen. Henry Jackson, D-Wash., that a "secret deal" has already been made. The State Department denies the statement.

Soviet Premier Leonid I. Brezhnev will only say that he expects Nixon's third meeting since the two leaders began yearly discussions "in 1972 to lead to a new, good agreement" that "will" "make people happy." The White House cautioned against expectations of spectacular results and said the main wish was for further improvement of food will between the two nations.

Nixon's eight-day stay in the Soviet Union will begin Thursday and include state lunches, an address to the Soviet people on national television, and long hours of discussions, along with side trips to Minsk in the Belarussian republic and the Black Sea resort of Otruda — instead of Yalta.

Angry White House saw Ellsberg 'above the law'

WASHINGTON (UPI) — What happened as a result of the "very great concern and very great anger" in the White House because Daniel Ellsberg gave the Pentagon Papers to newspapers will come out this week as John D. Ehrlichman goes on trial.

President Nixon's former domestic adviser is expected to be tried in U.S. District Court for conspiracy in the burglary of the office of Ellsberg's psychiatrist, Dr. Lewis Fielding, on Labor Day, 1971. Charles W. Colson, who by reputation was a tough political operator now a convert to Jesus Christ, is expected to be a major prosecution witness.

Another preliminary hearing is scheduled Monday before U.S. District Court Judge Gerhard A. Gesell. Ehrlichman says the "notes are needed to prepare his defense, and President Nixon — citing executive privilege — has refused to release them. Watergate Special Prosecutor Leon Jaworski is expected to respond to Ehrlichman's requests.

On Friday when Colson received a sentence of one to three years in prison, he said: "The President on numerous occasions urged me to disseminate damaging information about Daniel Ellsberg, including information about Ellsberg's attorney and others with whom Ellsberg had been in close contact."

In a broadcast interview Sunday (CBS' "Face the Nation"), Leonard Garment, a presidential lawyer, insisted that although the actions might seem irregular, "there certainly does not seem to be anything that constitutes a violation of law."

During 1971, Garment explained, "the atmosphere in the White House was one of very great concern, and very great anger, at the enormous amount of very sensitive national security information — namely, the Pentagon Papers — that had been leaked as a result of Mr. Ellsberg's unilateral determination."

There was concern at that time if Mr. Ellsberg became a hero in the eyes of the American public for making this unilateral determination that he was above the law, that this practice would be encouraged and that negotiations of the most delicate character at least one part of the bill to vote against the whole package.

Kennedy has vowed to offer each part of the package separately if the whole measure is defeated, but Allen or some other opponent could then resume the filibuster as time runs out on the debt bill.

The Kennedy package would cut individual taxes slightly by increasing the personal exemption from $750 to $825, with an optional $100 tax credit for low income taxpayers.

To make up the loss to the Treasury, the liberals would strengthen the minimum tax, and some business depreciation advantages and export incentives, and and the oil-depletion allowance, which permits oil companies to deduct 22 per cent of oil and gas income, up to a maximum of 50 per cent of taxable income.

While defeat of the Kennedy amendments will not end the effort to scrap the oil depletion allowance, the week of maneuvering has shown that all-oriented legislators now stand a good chance of preventing any big tax increases for the oil industry.

Even the normally conservative House Ways and Means Committee approved an oil tax

LEONARD GARMENT reacts to Colson.

Guantanamo comment was the first actual White House response to Colson's statement. Nixon has said in a letter to Gesell "that the fullest authority of the President under the Constitution and the law should be used if necessary to prevent such disclosures.

The trial is primarily of Ehrlichman, but codefendants are G. Gordon Jiddy, Bernard I. Barker and Eugenio R. Martinez, all accused of violating Fielding's civil rights. Plumbers Earl Krogh and David Young were indicted — Young was given immunity and Krogh finished his six-month jail sentence Friday in time to testify against Ehrlichman.

Felipe de Diego, was indicted for the break-in and has been granted immunity in Florida and California for the case. If he testifies, he may raise a new question about what was found in Fielding's office.

Barker has testified that all they found was his name on one of the doctor's address books.

The trial is primarily of Ehrlichman's file and that he held the contents while Martinez photographed them.

Floods claim 51

DACCA (BPT) — Floods around the port city of Chittagong, 125 miles southeast of Dacca, have left 51 persons dead and about 50,000 other homeless, press reports said today.

Bangladesh newspapers said the floods were triggered Friday by heavy rains which broke coastal embankments around Chittagong, exposing rice fields to the onrushing sea water of the Bay of Bengal.

Rebel loss heavy

MANILA (UPI) — Government troops backed by air strikes and heavy artillery here, he said, a separate rebel force attacked the outskirts of Midsayap, 25 miles east of Cotabato and began shelling government positions.

At dawn on the following day, he said, a separate rebel force attacked the outskirts of Midsayap, 25 miles east of Cotabato.

Cyclist charged

(C) Chicago Daily News

CHICAGO — Tony Hulsey was arrested for drunken driving after crashing into a station wagon.

He was riding a bicycle.

Illinois State Police Trooper George Rakin said the law under which Hulsey was charged refers only to "vehicles."

"The way I read it," Rakin said, "if he was drunk while driving a bicycle, then he ought to be charged with drunk driving."

Hulsey, 20, also was charged with falling to stop at a stop sign.

Rakin said Hulsey rode his 10-speed bicycle out of a forest preserve entrance into the right-of-way of a moving station wagon. No one was injured.

Big Oil's friends may win round

WASHINGTON (UPI) — The oil industry's friends in Congress are likely to win a key round this week in their effort to save the oil depletion allowance.

And if the liberal-sponsored package proposed by Sens. Edward M. Kennedy, D-Mass., Hubert H. Humphrey, D-Minn., Walter Mondale, D-Minn., and others who use the spending debt ceiling bill to try to force their tax reform ideas through Congress.

The debt bill, which would raise the ceiling on the national debt by $19.3 billion to $495 billion, is considered "a veto proof" because it must become law by midnight Sunday or the government will no longer be able to pay its bills.

But the administration let it be known that President Nixon would veto the bill anyway if it came to his desk with tax cut attached.

Sen. James B. Allen, D-Ala., backed by oil-state senators, then skillfully maneuvered the liberal measure toward defeat, first with a time-consuming filibuster and then by forcing a vote — set for Monday afternoon — on the liberal package as a whole, not on each separate part as the liberals wanted. Enough senators oppose at bill which would cost oil companies more than $12 billion over five years, including a phase-out of the oil depletion allowance. The committee was reacting to an obviously overweighing anti-oil sentiment in the House.

But that bill is bogged down by Democratic infighting, partly because liberals successfully persuaded the Democratic caucus to order the Rules Committee to allow floor amendments that would have greatly strengthened the committee bill.

Liberals may now run out of time in this Congress. Numerous factors are working against them.

The Ways and Means bill, probably will not be ready for floor action until sometime in late July or August, at about the same time that an impeachment resolution will reach the floor. Taxes then would take a back seat.

Less power loss

PORTLAND, Ore. (UPI) — A federal agency says it may have a way to reduce losses of electricity during transmission, save the environment, and possibly, cut costs.

Bonneville Power Administration, the federal marketing agency for power in the Pacific Northwest, asked for $5.5 million in fiscal 1975 for research on high voltage transmission lines.

Probers checking Viet bomb bypass

WASHINGTON — Senate and House investigators are looking into the possibility that President Nixon committed the law in bypassing his secretary of defense in the bombing of North Vietnam in 1971.

The investigators are also trying to find out if Nixon's secretary of defense, Henry Kissinger, was involved in the bypassing of the law.

Moeger as chairman of the joint chiefs of staff, despite his suspected role in military spying on the White House, in order to cover up illegal bombing raids.

Both the bombing orders and the alleged cover-up could be cited as impeachable offenses by the House Judiciary Committee.

Former White House aide John D. Ehrlichman declared in a court statement Thursday that Nixon gave the order to bypass the law directly to Moeger and later directed that precautions be taken to prevent disclosure of the admiral's role in the military spying.

The National Security Act, as amended in 1958, requires that the President pass all his orders through the civilian secretary of defense who in turn transmits them to unified military commands and overseas. The chairman is supposed to serve only as a communications link between the secretary and the field commander.

White House sources insisted that Melvin R. Laird, then the secretary of defense, was fully aware of the bombing and thus there was no real violation of the law. On the other hand, sources close to Laird indicated that was not the case.

NEW YORK (UPI)—Trading was slow and prices were mixed Monday in one of the dulllest days on the New York Stock Exchange since the start of the Dow Jones industrial average was up 0.24 at 815.63 shortly before noon. Declines, however, led again, 587 to 437, among the 4,174 issues reported in the tape.

The two-hour volume amounted to more than 4,300,000 shares, compared with 5,600,000 traded during the same period Friday.

About the only news Wall Street noticed early in the day was the report First National Bank of Chicago raised its prime rate, the highest key corporate customer's to a record high 11 1/2 percent.

Rising interest rates and the Federal Reserve Board's tight money policy are both expected to weigh for months. There are no signs either will subside soon. These events have forced investors to the sidelines in recent sessions.

Chrysler (dividend) was "the most active issue, off 7/8 at 33," on 107,000 shares. Caterpillar is the parent company of First National City Bank, second largest in the nation, which raised its prime rate to the prevailing rate of 11 1/2 percent Friday.

National Union Electric was down 1/4 on 272,000 shares, 100,000 shares. It followed off 1/4 at 25 1/2 on 70,700 shares.

Gold mining issues look a-bounding as bullion prices declined about 1/4. ASA Ltd. lost 1/4. Homestake Mining 3/8. Dome Mines 1/4 and Campbell Iron 1/4.

Oil issues were mixed. Halliburton added 1/8. Petroleum 1/4. But Getty Oil lost 1/4.

Gamblers did little. Polaroid gained 1/4.

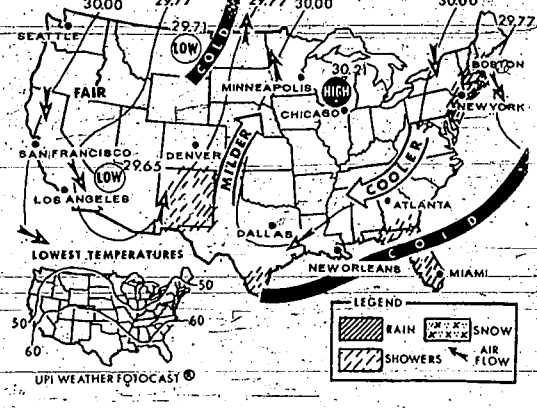

Other groups were irregular. Locations, another sign of the dullness.

Prices also were lower in light trading on the American Stock Exchange. Marindque B was the most active, down 1/4. Issue, unchanged. 3/4 on 38,500 shares. Butterfield Continental followed, up 1/4 at 7 1/2 on 15,100 shares. Syntex was third, off 1/4 at 4 1/2 on 13,200 shares.

US industrial output up in May

(C) New York Times Service: WASHINGTON—Industrial production rose in May for the second straight month. Following four months of decline, the Federal Reserve Board reported today that the index of industrial production, which amounted to four-tenths of 1 percent, added to the composite picture of an economy that is lacking in vigor but not smoking.

Other elements in this picture are the unemployment rate, which has been rising slowly in dollar terms but declining somewhat in terms of the volume of goods sold, and housing starts, which have risen from the lows reached last winter but are still far below the levels of a year ago.

The increase in industrial production in May, left the index nearly 2 percent below the high point it reached in November. The 4.4 percent rise in May, coupled with upward revisions of 2.2 percent in both March and April, brought the index to 125.4 percent of its base of 100, which represents industrial output in the year 1967. One of the big increases in production in May was in the output of automobiles, which rose 3.6 percent. The industrial production index attempts to measure the actual physical volume of production of the nation's factories, mines and utilities. The index therefore counts each automobile, whether subcompact or large luxury car, as one automobile.

Kansas wheat crop off 12%

MANHATTAN, KAN. (UPI)—Early reports indicate the Kansas wheat harvest will be some 12 to 15 percent below the official prediction of 34.2 million bushels.

Executive director Frank Mosier of the Kansas Agricultural Stabilization and Conservation Service said cutting now covers the southern half of Kansas. Reports of yield per acre range from 7 to 45 bushels.

It will be another week or 10 days before officials can determine the extent of the holding action. Mosier said, "One thing that affects yields this year is lack of good seedling production from last fall. And you can't tell what effect it's going to have until you actually get into production." Mosier confirmed reports producers are holding much of their crop this year, waiting for market prices to rise. He said

Abigail Van Buren

DEAR ABBY: Harvey is 76, and I am a few years younger. We've been married for two years, both having lost our mates in death.

My problem is his interest in other women. He says he just likes to "talk."

We went to the Bahamas for a holiday, and he took up with an old maid he met in the hotel lobby. She was with a "tour," but found Harvey so fascinating she stayed behind and let the group go on without her. (Now don't tell me all he gave her was conversation!)

When Harvey was in the hospital for a few days for tests he called up an old girl friend, and she came to visit him. Even with me in the room he held her hand, and they talked over old times. The head nurse told him he couldn't have any more visitors after that because it ran up his blood pressure. You can imagine how humiliated I was.

Divorce is not the answer: If it weren't for this thing he has about other women he'd be a good man.

Am I considering inviting two or three women over every day, and let him get all talked out. Should I, or not? HURT

Husband big problem

DEAR HUNT: I wouldn't, Harvey might have more conversation in him than you think.

DEAR ABBY: How does a parent deal with this new breed of woman? I need advice on this matter. Somehow I find it hard to accept this business of living together without marrying.

Am I wrong to deny them sleeping quarters together in my house?

My daughter is well educated, with a master's degree from a fine eastern university. She is only dumb where men are concerned. NO NAMES, PLEASE

DEAR NO: What your adult offspring do away from home is their business. What they do in your home is YOUR business. If you don't feel right about their starting sleeping quarters in your home, tell them so. And if they don't like it, they can stay at a motel.

DEAR ABBY: What can be done about a neighbor who comes over every day as soon as I come home from work at 3:45 p.m.? Her husband travels, so she stays 10 hours. I have no time for myself and absolutely no privacy. Some days I've had a hard day at the office and would like to lie down for an hour before I start preparing dinner, but I can't because she's here.

She brings her two preschool children along, which makes matters worse because she doesn't discipline them, and they run wild.

Otherwise she is a good neighbor and does a lot of little favors for me. I haven't wanted to say anything that might hurt her feelings, yet these poorly timed visits are getting to me. Any suggestions? WEARY

DEAR WEARY: Yes. Tell her you sometimes like to lie down after work to please telephone before coming over. I don't know what "little favors" she does for you, but you're paying a big price for them. Is it worth your fatigue? Think about it.

CONFIDENTIAL TO "DESPERATE OLD MAID": At 29 you are far from an "old maid," so drop that label and don't act so desperate. Think of yourself as a whole individual, not a hat looking for another half.

Jim: "How about discussing the way to play certain combinations?"

Oswald: "Good idea! Let's make a common one of play a suit when you miss the king, jack and some number of small cards."

Here's a fairly simple one. South reaches four hearts after East's notrump pass—East wins the first trick with the ace of clubs and proceeds to cash both red suits. Then he leads a club and you win the dummy and trump trick.

Oswald: "The normal way to play the trump trick is to have you hold six to the ace and partner to the queen."

Oswald: "You pick."

Up the suit if either opponent holds the singleton king. Jim: "A review of the bidding marks East with the king. He is in for his opening notrump. It also marks him with at least one card with it. People just don't open one of a trump with a singleton."

Oswald: "This leaves South just one way to make his contract. He must lead the queen of trumps from dummy. Nothing will help him if East holds king-jack or king-jack-ten, but it turns out that East holds king-seven. If he ducks you let the queen ride. If he covers you play your ace. If he covers you play your ace. If he covers you play your ace. If he covers you play your ace."

Miss Wonderlich, Koonce wed in TF

TWIN FALLS—Nancy Jane Wonderlich and David Scott Koonce were united in marriage June 7.

The ceremony was performed by Father Albert Allen at the Episcopal Church of the Ascension.

Parents of the bride are Dr. and Mrs. Lyle Wonderlich, Twin Falls. The groom is the son of Mrs. Evelyn Koonce of Sulphur, La.

Paula Galloway, Twin Falls, served as maid of honor and brother of the groom Joseph Koonce was best man. Ushers Steven and Vance Wonderlich are brothers of the bride.

The bride was dressed in a floor-length gown and veil made by herself, mother and grandmother. The gown was of crystaline with lace trimmed neckline and inset, long full sleeves, and lace-trimmed midriff.

The fingertip veil of illusion, trimmed in lace was held by a Juliet cap of crystaline. The bride also wore a pink veiling heirloom belonging to her great-aunt. She carried a bouquet of pink and lavender, roses and carnations accented with blue butterflies and white streamers.

The couple was honored by a reception. Covering the cake:

table was a hand-crocheted overlay made by Leola Todd, grandmother of the bride. The cake was three tiered, decorated with pink and lavender roses. Topping the cake was a cupid in a fountain underneath an arch with a blue butterfly.

Taking care of the guest book was Cary Tucker and Denise Dillon. Gifts were handled by Margaret Harvey and LeAnn Olmstead and Candy Brian. Kjm Breeding, Patty Westbrook and Sue Tompser were in charge of the cake table.

The newlyweds traveled to Louisiana for their honeymoon.

They plan to live in Lake Charles, La., where the groom is employed at Livingston Ship Building Co. He plans to enter McNeese State University in the fall.

MR. AND MRS. RICHARD BENNETT.

Martha Wartes weds Bennett in Wendell

WENDELL — Martha LeNore Aplov, Wartes, and Richard Craig Bennett, were united in marriage June 8. Rev. Anthony Gamley and the bride's father, Rev. William Warter, performed the double-ring ceremony in Wendell's United Presbyterian Church.

The bride is the daughter of Rev. and Mrs. Williams C. Wartes, DeTour, Village, Mich., and the bridegroom is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Arthur R. Bennett, Hagerman.

A white daceron floor-length, semi-sheer gown was worn by the bride. The gown was made by Mrs. Stephen Lowry, Spokane, Wash., sister of the bride. The bride also wore a floor length veil of chiffon and lace and carried a bouquet of white roses and spray of green with a lime green orchid in the center.

Mrs. Meredith Lowry, Spokane, Wash., sister of the bride, was the matron of honor. Bridal attendant was Lynn Kellog, Wimore, Ky., sister of the bridegroom. Candles were lit by Joleen Beth Lowry, Spokane, the bride's niece; Lillian Joy Lowry, Spokane, niece of the bride; the flowergirl.

The bridegroom's best man was Stephen Bennett, Nampa, brother of the bridegroom. Broomsmen was Thomas Bennett, Hagerman, and usher Douglas Bennett, Hagerman, both brothers of the bridegroom. Eldon Wartes, DeTour Village, the bride's brother, was also an usher.

Providing music for the ceremony was organist Mary Lou Hagerman, Caldwell. Vocalists were Arthur Bennett, William Wartes, Clayton Wartes and a duet by Meredith and Stephen Lowry.

Following the ceremony the couple was honored by a buffet supper reception. The three-tiered wedding cake, baked by Mrs. Lee David, was topped by a small gold cross.

Serving of the cake was done by Mrs. Stewart Rodda, Seattle, Wash., aunt of the bride. Punch was poured by Mrs. Don Miller, Boise; tea by Mrs. Irene Miller, and coffee by Mrs. Robert Smith, Honolulu, Hawaii.

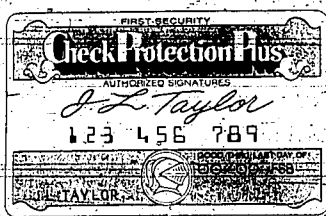

Gifts were carried by Chris Hagerman, Wendell, and opened by the newlyweds at the reception. Marriage bulletins were handed out by Mrs. Steve Bennett, Nampa.

Lillian Joy Lowry was specially recognized on her 9th birthday by a sheet cake given to her at the reception by the newlyweds.

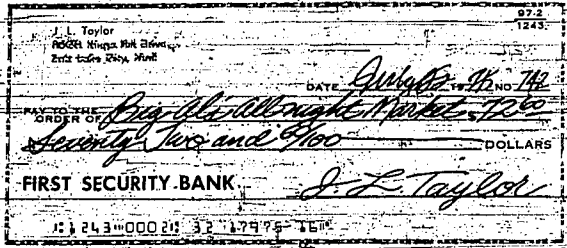

Special guests were Mrs. Evarilla Pomina, Hills-Hawaii, grandmother of the bride; Mr. and Mrs. Al Lowrey, Hagerman, all grandparents of the bridegroom.

The couple now resides in Hagerman.

Champion fiddler named
WEISER (UPI) — Bennie Thomason, Toulé, Wash., was crowned the national grand champion fiddler Saturday night at Weiser. Thomason, the third-place winner in open competition for the past two years, defeated 82 other fiddlers competing for the honor. The 65-year-old fiddler was taking home three trophies in all. One for being the grand champion, another for capturing first place Friday in competition for seniors, 65 and over, and third for being the best-kid fiddler. Thomason was also awarded $600 for his efforts.

50 people stranded
RIGGINS (UPI) — Lonnie Stout, an Idaho County road maintenance man, said about 50 people have been stranded in the Idaho primitive area by bad road conditions. Stout said "I told all the tourists Thursday night that they would be sealed off in here because of the high water, and to my knowledge, not one of them has come out." He said he put up signs telling drivers the road was closed, but people still are trying to drive through.

GF clinic relocates
GLENN'S FERRY — The Glenns Ferry Immunizations Clinic has been moved from the City Hall to the Glenns Ferry Medical Clinic. The immunizations clinics continue to be on the last Tuesday of each month from 3:30 to 4 p.m. Immunizations available include the baby shots series, PPD skin test, adult tetanus boosters, and those needed for overseas travel. Questions should be directed to the Central District Health Department office, phone 567-5347.

Andrus sets policy meet
BURLEY — Gov. Cecil D. Andrus will be in Burley tomorrow for talks with Burley citizens under his "capitol-for-a-day" program. Andrus is expected to arrive at the Burley airport about 9:30 a.m. The governor will dedicate the new section of the Burley Municipal Golf Course, enlarging the course to 18 holes from the former nine. He is scheduled to have lunch with area mayors and city department heads and their wives. Andrus plans to meet with Burley citizens during the afternoon.

Spending eyed
BOISE (UPI) — Idaho Gov. Cecil D. Andrus and Lt. Gov. Jack Murphy, the two lone gubernatorial candidates, spent more than $5,000 of state funds this year mailing graduation congratulations. The Idaho Statesman newspaper reported Sunday that Andrus spent $3,000 in state funds, while sending out 12,866 notices. Andrus is the first recent governor to send out the notices to Idaho graduating seniors.

Window breakage probed
TWIN FALLS — Capt. Tim Qualls, chief of detectives, said the Twin Falls Police Department is investigating an incident late Saturday night involving a broken window at Sandy's restaurant on Main Avenue East. Qualls said an object was thrown through a window of the restaurant but no extensive damage was caused. He said it could have been a "fire bomb" or some other burning debris as officers found a broken window and slight burned area on the carpet. The report was received about 11:35 p.m.

Progress made in labor talks

BURLEY — Some progress was made in labor negotiations here over the weekend, according to officials of the American Federation of Grain Millers Union. Representatives of the company and the union were scheduled to meet again at noon today to try to settle the labor dispute which caused the strike at the Heyburn and Caldwell J. R. Simplot Company plants May 2. Simplot public relations representative William Maxwell said "nothing of any significance" was decided at the meetings. At the last meeting on June 4 spokesmen said no economic issues had been settled. The company offer was an average of 30 to 40 cents per hour pay increase and the union has demanded $1.10 per hour raise.

The question of whether employees which Simplot has hired since the strike began will be retained under the new contract has not been settled. Following the June 4 negotiations, both sides reported "some slight progress on non-economic issues." Simplot officials have said that production at the Heyburn plant has been about 60 per cent of maximum with about 600 employees working in production. They said a full work force totals about 1,000 people. The Caldwell plant is also back in production. The end of the year's production run is expected in the second week of July.

Knievel receives $6 million advance

TWIN FALLS — Evel Knievel will get a $6 million advance today for his planned Sept. 8 Snake River Canyon jump, according to a wire service report. Knievel's producers, Top Rank, Inc., will present the advance money to the motorcycle daredevil at a New York City press conference. He will eventually receive 50 per cent of the gross revenue of the closed-circuit television broadcast of the jump. Top Rank hopes to gross $30 million on the promotion. Knievel says his jet-powered motorcycle will top 300 miles an hour on the take-off run for the jump. Exact width of the canyon at the jump site is not known, but canyon width at the Perrine Bridge, about one mile away, is 1,400 feet, and depth is about 475 feet.

Buhl doctor helped girl

Dr. Cullings' statement to the Times-News is as follows: "On Thursday, June 13, 1974, a Mexican-American infant was brought into my office after having been run over by a Victor Arrendondo in his car. "In the presence of my office nurse, several Mexican-American women and Victor Arrendondo, the child was examined. A diagnosis of massive injuries to the abdominal organs was made. Victor was told that he must take the infant to the hospital at Twin Falls where attempts at corrective surgery could be made. "He asked about an ambulance and I told him that he did not have time to wait for an ambulance. It usually takes 15 minutes or more for the ambulance to respond to a call, I felt the child probably would be dead prior to arrival at the hospital. Having been in the hospital several times in the past few years, Victor was familiar with the route to the hospital. "When they left my office I called the nurse on duty in the emergency room at the hospital and informed her that I was sending a child in with severe abdominal injuries. I suggested that she alert the surgeon call. "The facts bear out the correctness of my treatment. If we had waited for an ambulance the child would have been beyond the help of heroic measures by the time she would have arrived at the emergency room. The findings at autopsy confirmed the correctness of my diagnosis in the office. "Using hindsight I would have followed the same procedure again. Doctors' offices are not equipped to do such emergency surgery as was required in this child's case. "The facts do not bear out the truth of statement made by the Times-News. Investigation by the Times-News has supported the statement of the doctor with the exception of his references to ambulance services. "The doctor's claim that an ambulance usually takes 15 minutes to respond to a call in Buhl has been challenged. "According to Twin Falls County Coroner Clyde Edwards, the owner of Magic Valley Ambulance Service, the office has an ambulance stationed in Buhl several blocks away from Dr. Cullings' office. "Edwards said the ambulance typically would reach the doctor's office within two minutes unless the ambulance was on another call at the time. "Edwards said the ambulance was available and equipped with emergency life support systems and had an attendant trained in emergency care and a driver waiting at the time of the June 13 incident, but was not called.

Unleaded gas money saver

SUN VALLEY, Idaho (UPI) — The unleaded gasoline needed for auto emission control systems on 1975 models will save motorists money and help their cars last longer. General Motors Corp. President Edward N. Cole said today. In remarks prepared for the annual conference of the Idaho Motor Car Dealers' Association, Cole said: "Besides its emission control benefits, unleaded gasoline is an attractive automotive fuel because it can bring about significant reductions in maintenance costs by extending the life of spark plugs, engine oil and exhaust system components. "Cole said ample supplies of unleaded fuel will be available before the 1975 cars are introduced. "He said allocation and distribution of unleaded gasoline can be "an outstanding success from the start" if new car dealers across the country pitch in and help. "Cole said dealers should be aware of the availability of unleaded fuel in their communities and should inform service station operators and regional distributors of the importance of having adequate supplies on hand. "The federal program requiring unleaded gasoline for new cars goes into effect July 1. "If you aren't completely up-to-date on this subject," Cole told the dealers, "I would urge you to start doing your homework right away. The start of the federal program is now only one week away, and we should use the next two months to good advantage so that all of the bugs can be out of the distribution system by the time the new models are in the showrooms."

4 arrested in Gooding

GOODING — Gooding police officers over the weekend arrested four men on unrelated charges according to patrolman Larry Hensley. Paul E. Rinehart, 18, Nampa, former Gooding resident, was arrested at about 1:15 a.m. Saturday and charged with possession of a controlled substance, marijuana. He has been released on $300 bond and is to appear in magistrate court before Judge Charles Shaw June 26. Hensley was the arresting officer. Harry LeRoy Vanhorn, 41, Gooding, was arrested at 6:19 p.m. Friday by sergeant Vern Sawyer and was charged with assault and battery by Elsiebrook and Slinger. He has been released on $250 bond and will appear before Shaw July 1. John Caswell, 22, Gooding, was arrested at 9:05 p.m. Friday and was charged with being drunk in an automobile, resisting arrest and carrying a concealed weapon. Elsiebrook and Dave Slinger were the arresting officers. Caswell was released on $50 bond and will appear before Shaw July 1. Orel Fairchild, Gooding, was arrested at 9:35 p.m. Friday and was charged with assault and battery by Elsiebrook and Slinger. He has been released on $50 bond and is scheduled to appear before Shaw today.

Young bike riders compete

TWIN FALLS — Young riders, aged four to 14, competed Sunday in the Checkmate Motorcycle Club children's rodeo at Nat-Soo Park. Youngest rider in the event who received a special trophy was Allison Abram, 4, whose mini-bike, complete with training wheels, covered the course for riders eight years old and under. Winners in the various age divisions included 12 to 14 year olds, Jeff Beangard, first; Jeff Breeding, second and Dale Reed third. In the nine through 11 year age group, winners were Jeff Gomez, John Gomez and Kelly Elinger and Barry Messner, tied for third. For the youngest riders, eight and under, winners were Thad Brunell, Cindy Fray and Amy Abram. A total of 37 young cars completed in the events which included covering obstacle courses rather than speed events. "Timers for the event included Kenneth Scheffer and Joe Molyneux. Announcing and officiating was under the direction of John Fry and Larry Kuhlman. Mardeen McWilliams and Bonnie Fray were score keepers. The Motorcycle Club officials said the event drew a record number of spectators and entrants.

Taxi driver faces count

TWIN FALLS — A Twin Falls taxi driver was arrested and charged with burglary of the United Bus Depot early Sunday morning. City police said Lloyd Gene Sams, 28, was arrested and charged with burglary. He was at the scene when officers arrived to investigate the burglary. Officers said the taxi cab drivers share the building with the bus depot. "Sams" taken from the bus depot portion of the building, according to the police report. Capt. Tim Qualls, chief of detectives, said investigation is continuing. Another burglary reported to police Sunday occurred at the Walker Appliance and Television, 453 Main Avenue East. Officers said the building was entered by forcing open a glass door. Missing were a 9-inch color television set, valued at $409, and a television stand, valued at $39.95. David LaPey told officers someone broke into his 1963 automobile Saturday night and removed a stereo tape deck valued at $69.

Valley hospital charges to continue increasing

By CRICKET BIRD
Times-News writer
In addition, hospitals are being hit by new minimum wage regulations. "Our largest portion of expenditures is wages," Roenbaum said, and hikes in the minimum wage have made it necessary for hospitals to increase prices to pay the higher wages. "We're not opposed to high wages," Roenbaum said, but he added any wage hikes are necessarily reflected by higher patient charges. "Hagen, a traveling consultant for the hospital, said that the price of the services would be made as slowly as possible, but said hospitals need to catch up with costs now that prices controls have been removed. "During the price freeze, hospitals were not permitted to raise prices as much as necessary; now they are facing a period of adjustment," he said. "Neither man would predict when new price hikes would come, but both left little doubt that hospital costs would continue to increase.

Reverse decision asked

COLUMBUS, Ga. (UPI) — An attorney for former Army Lt. William L. Calley Jr. asked a federal court today to overturn Calley's murder conviction in the My Lai massacre, charging publicly in the case had been perhaps the "most massive, the most vile, the most damaging in the history of American jurisprudence." J. Houston Gordon told U. S. District Judge J. Robert Elliott at the start of the hearing that the media "ran rampant and went unchecked" in its coverage of Calley's role in the slaying of civilians at the South Vietnamese hamlet 18 years ago. Gordon said five of the six jurors who sat on Calley's court-martial board were not named to the panel until more than a year after the My Lai story broke. "These jurors admitted seeing the press, admitted seeing (Capt. Ernest) Medina on television but said they would remain unbiased," the attorney said. Medina was Calley's company commander during the "massacre." Gordon charged that one juror, when he was being questioned before—implying—had admitted seeing Medina and said he found him to be a "credible witness." That same juror, his name was Maj. McIntosh, said he had no sympathy for Lt. Calley. "Gordon said the court of military review had thrown out an appeal based on prejudicial pretrial publicity, noting that there were numerous Calley supporters who became vocal across the country. "The attorney also said that Life Magazine had published photographs taken at My Lai of victims. "The judge asked if the same photographs had been introduced as evidence in the court-martial. "Gordon replied, "Yes, 12 were introduced in all. "Elliott said in other words the prosecution evidence had already been published. "Yes," Gordon said. "My answer is unequivocally yes. "In opening his argument, Gordon said, "the publicity in this case is perhaps the most massive, most-irre, the most damaging in the history of American jurisprudence. "He was critical of statements made by President Nixon, top U. S. officials and Gen. William Westmoreland which he said the press carried and which provided a command influence upon the court-martial board to saddle some one with the killings.

Cassia food stamp showdown due

DECS officials are reluctant to accept the county's refusal to support welfare programs. One problem facing the agency is a lack of funds. Since the last session of the legislature did not appropriate funds for the food stamp program, DECS would be scraping the bottom of the bucket for funds to support a program in Cassia County, according to Bob Bushnell, DECS legal services. In addition, DECS officials fear if Cassia County can get away without paying its share for food stamps, other counties may follow suit. "If the rest of the counties in the state pull out of the food stamp program, it could cost DECS as much as $45,000 to $50,000 a year. "Cassia County is the only county in the state that has not adopted the food stamp program. DECS officials say the matter can either be solved through arbitration or, the end of July, or the agency can take the county to court and sue for failure to pay. "Cassia County Commission chairman John Clark said Monday that the county had received no word from DECS about the possible suit and was "just standing by." The subject may be discussed at today's county commission meeting. He said that the county had received no word from DECS about the possible suit and was "just standing by." That same juror, his name was Maj. McIntosh, said he had no sympathy for Lt. Calley. "Gordon said the court of military review had thrown out an appeal based on prejudicial pretrial publicity, noting that there were numerous Calley supporters who became vocal across the country. "The attorney also said that Life Magazine had published photographs taken at My Lai of victims. "The judge asked if the same photographs had been introduced as evidence in the court-martial. "Gordon replied, "Yes, 12 were introduced in all. "Elliott said in other words the prosecution evidence had already been published. "Yes," Gordon said. "My answer is unequivocally yes. "In opening his argument, Gordon said, "the publicity in this case is perhaps the most massive, most-irre, the most damaging in the history of American jurisprudence. "He was critical of statements made by President Nixon, top U. S. officials and Gen. William Westmoreland which he said the press carried and which provided a command influence upon the court-martial board to saddle some one with the killings. "Everyone will be on their own, and the women will have to go out and find those responsible for their kids," he said. "Officials said about 300 of Cassia County's 17,800 residents are on food assistance.

Project praised

He also cited the project as a "graphic demonstration" of the worth of the Desert Land Act, passed in 1877. The Nixon administration has proposed repeal of the law, he said, as part of the new "organic act" for the Bureau of Land Management. "Gov. Andrus offered an amendment, accepted by the Senate Interior Committee, to keep the Desert Land Act on the books. "Sen. James McClure, R-Idaho, noted the benefit the project will bring to the people of Idaho. "Curtis Berkland, the BLM director, said his agency is committed to the Desert Land Act. "He said in the past the agency has had only a 39 per cent success rate with such irrigation projects, but Bell Rapids has a 100 per cent success record. "This is possible "not because of the federal government but in spite of it," Berkland said. He was introduced by William Matthews, Idaho BLM director. "Gov. Andrus, billed as the principal speaker, said more land is available and, since there is water to put on it, "we can do it." He said Idaho has benefited under federal laws passed around the turn-of-the-century allowing the state's residents to "purchase" opportunity to develop natural resources. "Our friends from the Polomac have about said it all," the governor said, but added it is essential that the state water plan be completed, showing the need for this water within the state. "Following the brief dedication ceremonies, climaxed by the closing prayer of Bishop Floyd Marsh, most of the guests boarded six school buses and were driven on a tour of part of the project. The buses were accompanied by several private cars. "Bishop Marsh, who said as a boy he used to hunt on the site of the project and dream of its potential development, asked that the land be used to feed the hungry and continue to "blossom as a rose" for the betterment of mankind. "Clyde Keithly, president of the Bell Rapids Mutual Irrigation Co., was master of ceremonies and made a surprise presentation of a plaque of appreciation to G. T. (Bud) Newcomb, Ketchikan, Alaska, for his general counsel to develop, process, financial institutions and irrigation suppliers involved in the economy of the project.

Colbert is American winner after sudden death playoff

AKRON, Ohio (UPI)—Jim Colbert won a four-man sudden death playoff Sunday to capture the $170,000 American Golf Classic and a first prize of $34,000.

Colbert, Ray Floyd, Guy Brewer and Forrest Fezler, were thrown into the four-man playoff, the first on the PGA tour since the 1971 Kemper Open, when they all finished 72 holes at one-over par 71.

Colbert, 33, of Wesley Chapel, Fla., two-putted from 25 feet for a par five on the long 65-yard 16th hole to eliminate Floyd who missed a four-foot putt for a bogey six.

Both Fezler and Brewer bowed out on the 230-yard 15th hole when they suffered bogeys while both Colbert and Floyd parred.

Brewer, who had a final round 71 was the only one of the four-players to hit the 16th green, but was 45 feet away. The other three were in a hole surrounding the green, Fezler and Floyd in the right and Colbert in the left.

After Fezler, the third round leader, missed an 18-foot putt and was forced to take a bogey four, Floyd earned his 12-foot putt and Colbert dropped in his putt from 10 feet to save par.

Brewer, who left his first putt four feet short of the hole, slid the second one just to the left of the cup and bowed out along with Fezler.

Final round scores soared on the long Firestone course with a pair of one-under-88 by Jim Dent and Arnold Palmer being the day's best.

Colbert, who entered the final round trailing Fezler, the third round leader, by three shots, had an even par 70-

Floyd, who led at the end of one round, and, was tied at the halfway mark, also had a 70, while Brewer had a 71 and Fezler a 73.

The wind, which gusts to 35 miles per hour, made the 465-yard par 4 18th hole one of the key's to the tournament.

Both Floyd and Brewer bogeyed the 18th and Bert Yarney, who needed only a par to win the tournament, suffered a double-bogey six when he drove into the rough and then three putted. Yarney finished with a 72 for the day and a 282 total.

Also at 282 were J.C. Snead with a 69 Sunday, Dwight Neal with a 72 and Jim Jamieson with a 73.

The win was the fourth for Colbert since he joined the tour eight years ago and it was his first playoff.

Colbert bogeyed three of the first five holes Sunday and made the turn in two under par 32. He had a share of the lead with Yarney going to the 15th, but suffered a double bogey five when he hit his drive into some trees on the left.

But Colbert, trailing by a shot going to the 18th, managed to salvage a par with an excellent chip shot out of trouble a foot and one-half from the pin. That got him into the playoff.

Jamieson, Tom Kite, Bruce Crampton and Jerry McGee, also were in contention through the day, but one by one they fell by the wayside.

Kite, who finished alone at 283, saw his chances go down the drain with a double bogey six on the 13th hole. He finished the day with a 74.

Crampton, who finished with a 284 with Mason Rudolph and McGee, bogeyed the 15th and had a double bogey seven on the 17th to end his chances.

McGee, who shared the second round lead with Floyd, stayed the day with a pair of birdies to go top under, but bogeyed seven and eight and double bogeyed the 465-yard ninth which, like the 18th, was directly into the strong wind.

Floyd, Fezler and Brewer took second place tie, while Jamieson, Yarney, Neill and Snead each earned $5,886. Kite received $1,300 and Crampton, McGee and Rudolph, who had a final round 70, each got $3,910.

AKRON, Ohio (UPI)—Results of the American Golf Classic:

Jim Colbert	124-200
Guy Brewer	125-201
Forrest Fezler	126-202
Ray Floyd	127-203
Jim Jamieson	128-204
Dwight Neal	129-205
J.C. Snead	130-206
Tom Kite	131-207
Bruce Crampton	132-208
Jerry McGee	133-209
Mason Rudolph	134-210
Arnold Palmer	135-211
Jim Dent	136-212
Edgar Snodgrass	137-213
Patte Barber	138-214
Jim Dent	139-215
David Graham	140-216

Floyd hits from rough
RAY FLOYD OF Lake Havasu City, Ariz., came within inches of dropping a chip shot in front of the 16th green for a bird as the ball bounced past the cup. But Floyd made this shot he would have won the $170,000 American golf classic in the second extra hole in sudden death playoff with Jim Colbert. Floyd bogied the hole while Colbert parred it, thus winning the tournament. (UPI Telephoto).

Lauda is first in Dutch grand prix

ZANDVOORT, The Netherlands (UPI)—Nikki Lauda of Austria, at the wheel of an Italian Ferrari, took his second Grand Prix of the season today with a start-to-finish win in the Dutch Formula one championship.

Screaming around the 2.6 mile Zandvoort circuit—which twists through sand dunes a few hundred yards from the North-Sea—Lauda took an early lead and held on to give Ferrari its first Dutch Grand Prix win in 10 years.

Tenniste Clay Regazzoni, of Switzerland, recovered from a bad start to quickly climb up to second place and hold it to the finish.

Emerson Fittipaldi of Brazil, looking for points to consolidate his position at the head of the world drivers' championship standings, drove skillfully to take third place in his Texaco Marlboro McLaren.

The four points he gained gave Fittipaldi 31, one ahead of Lauda and three ahead of Regazzoni at the halfway mark in the championship season.

The accident-ridden Zandvoort circuit, boycotted by the drivers two years ago, was unsafe and street improved took a heavy toll of the 25 starters.

Only six cars finished in the same lap as the winner. More than half the entries had the problems in today's hot, sunny weather.

In a spectacular first lap two cars crashed without even completing one circuit. Tony Brundle of Britain, in a Shadow Ford, hit the guard rail at the first curve, barely half a mile from the start. Hans Stuck of West Germany, in a March Ford, hit the rails on the second curve. Neither driver was injured.

Lauda, who completed the race at an average speed of 114.76 mph in one hour, 42 minutes, 30.35 seconds, is 25 and the youngest driver on the Grand Prix circuit.

His win today was his second formula one victory. His year's first was the Spanish grand prix in April.

An interesting fight developed for third place. Patrick Depailler of France, in a Tyrrell Ford, held third spot behind the rapidly vanishing Italian cars for the first 36 laps of the 75 laps.

Fittipaldi, who dropped track after starting on the second lap of the grid, sat on Depailler's tail for 44 laps. On the 37th, he slipped inside Depailler on the Tarzan hairpin bend. He was followed through by Mike Hailwood of Great Britain, Tyrrell veteran and South African Jody Scheckter in a Tyrrell Ford.

Fittipaldi, apparently resigning himself to third position, contented himself with holding off challenges from Hailwood and Scheckter and made no attempt to catch the leaders.

Top seed wins women's title

KALAMAZOO, Mich. (UPI)—Top-seeded Carrie Meyer of Florida's Marymount College rallied from the brink of defeat Sunday and won the national women's collegiate tennis tournament with a parrow 6-4, 2-6, 7-6 victory over surprising Lindsay Morse of California-Irvine.

The tall, red-haired Miss Meyer came back to win with excellent shot placement in the third set after running into problems with double faults in the second.

and helped Roger Nelson to his fourth victory. Perez's homer in the eighth, his 12th of the year, came off reliever Joe Niegro and helped reliever Pedro Borbon to his sixth triumph.

In other NL action, Los Angeles edged San Francisco 4-3, Montreal downed St. Louis 4-2, Houston whipped San Diego 8-2 and Chicago...defeated Pittsburgh 7-3. New York at Philadelphia was rained out.

Pinch-hitter Ken McMullen delivered a run-scoring single with one out in the ninth inning, enabling the Dodgers to sweep their three-game series with the Giants. Mike Marshall, appearing in his 45th game, bent the Giants for the third straight day and boosted his record to 7-3. Steve Garvey hit his 14th homer for the Dodgers.

Tim Lincecum in the ninth inning drove home the tiebreaking run as the Expos defeated the Cardinals. Ken Singleton also singled home a run in the ninth for Montreal, which became the first team to score against the Cardinals' bullpen in the last 31 appearances. Hal Breeden and Bob Bailey homered for Montreal.

Cesar Cedeno and Bo Watson homered to lead the Astros to victory over the Padres. Claude Osteen backed relief the previous 13 days, went the distance for Houston to gain his sixth win against seven losses. George Gross had four hits for the Astros, who handled Dave Freisleben his 10th loss in 11 decisions.

Bill Madlock, Rick Monday and Don Kessinger each drove in two runs to pace Chicago's triumph over Pittsburgh. But Bonham went eight innings, striking out nine, for the Cubs to gain his fifth win in 15 decisions.

Reds sweep pair to regain post

By United Press International
Joe Morgan collected three hits, including a homer, and drove in two runs in the opener and Tony Perez hit a 10th-of-a-homer in the 12th inning of the nightcap Sunday, pacing the Cincinnati Reds to a doubleheader sweep over the Atlanta Braves, 4-2 and 2-1.

The double victory enabled the Reds to regain second place in the National League West.

Morgan's two-run homer capped a three-run first inning and helped Roger Nelson to his fourth victory. Perez's homer in the eighth, his 12th of the year, came off reliever Joe Niegro and helped reliever Pedro Borbon to his sixth triumph.

Sandra Haynie holds on for two stroke tourney victory

SUTTON, Mass. (UPI)—Sandra Haynie held off a seven-stroke lead on the last six holes, but held off JoAnn Carner with a par on the 18th Sunday to win the $50,000 U.S.G.A. Championship at Pleasant Valley Country Club by two strokes.

Miss Haynie, who now has won two straight tournaments, started the final round at four under par, holding a single stroke lead over Sandra Palmer. The 31-year old pro from Dallas, Tex., went ahead by as much as six strokes when she birdied the 11th hole to go eight under par.

But, for the first time in the tournament, she was inconsistent, bogeying the 13th and the 16th and carding a doublebogey six on the tough 17th hole to lead charging Mrs. Carner by just two strokes.

Miss Palmer, who had a tournament record of 66 in Friday's round, finished one stroke back at 291.

Not one other player in the field of 88, that was cut to 61 after two rounds, was able to equal par 292 on the grueling 6,130-yard course. Rain on Friday and cold, "delicious" conditions Sunday made the usually tough course even more unmanageable.

Miss Haynie, third among all-time money winners of the women's tour, had three birdies on the first four holes and turned the front nine in 33. She added her final birdie on the 11th with a 12-foot putt before faltering.

Miss Haynie said the birdie on the first hole "set up my whole day. When I made that putt, I thought I was off and running. Then I just missed a putt on the second and felt I really had some juice going."

"That juice apparently ran out after she parred the 12th hole." "Once you make that turn at 12, you have some tough holes. I don't care if you're 15 up, you had to worry."

Despite bogeying 13 and 16, Miss Haynie's "gut" held a fourstroke lead heading into the double-water-holed 17th that is considered by many pros one of "the toughest, but funnest in golf."

Miss Haynie said she had a good drive on the hole that just caught the rough. "I just hit out, that's all. I could do, and I had a seven iron left," she said of the 291-yard par four. "I didn't make a good swing—I admit to being nervous—and hit it fat."

Newcombe, King favored for Wimbledon titles

WIMBLEDON, England, (UPI)—There are English, (UPI)—There are few grass court tournaments left in the tennis world that everyone starts the $24,480 Wimbledon Tennis Championships Monday evening in at least one respect—they all need grass court practice.

But from there on class will tell and bookmakers and tennis experts agree that only seven players have a chance for the status of the old classic in the game with John Newcombe of Australia, heavily favored to be the $24,480 winner, title and Billie Jean King of Long Beach, Calif., for the $16,000 women's crown.

Both are top-seeded against opposition so dangerous nothing is certain, especially in a tournament of lightning fast grass following long campaigns on clay or indoor surfaces and competition in World Team Tennis where matches are decided on one set rather than five and where playing spectators seem to be as important as winning.

Five hard sets arguably the exception at Wimbledon and in a series of remarkably frank comments on the favorite, the other players conceded Newcombe was a strong likelihood he would have hurt his game less than most. He is a 7-4 favorite with the bookmakers—and even more impugnt.

Second-seeded Iliie Nastase of Romania, who is 4-1, said: "There are two men I am afraid of—Newcombe and me. For us Wimbledon is routine. Even though I have reached the finals (1971) never really believe I can win this title." He has already announced he will take two months off this winter to revive his enthusiasm for the game.

"I am very tired physically and mentally," he said last week.

Ejorn Borg, the 19-year-old Swedish prodigy, rated 7-1, also picks Newcombe to win and he should know for he lost to the Australian in the finals of the World Championship tennis tournament in Dallas last month.

Incidentally, Wimbledon officials are so worried about the blond Swede's teenybopper following that it has appointed a 200 girl school principals to warn their students tennis is not a pop music concert and not to mob him.

Billie Jean King, No. 2, S.C. the fourth seed, who also has a chance if Newcombe falters, says he is tired but Saturday's $16,000 first prize Wimbledon has put the spring back in his heels. It has also advanced him to 9-2 in the betting.

In their opening matches Monday, Newcombe meets Georges Gopen of France, Nastase plays the dangerous Jiri Hrbec of Czechoslovakia. Borg opposed Graham Sillwell of Britain and Smith battles Grover Reid of Greenview, S.C.

Smith shares America's number one ranking with Jimmy Connors of Belleville, Ill., the third seed, whose first match is against Oyv Bengtsson of Sweden. Connors is 18-1, Billie Jean, aiming for her sixth singles title, is a prohibitive 11-0 to win while second-seeded Chris Evert of Ft. Lauderdale, Fla., who won at Eastbourne Saturday, is 2-1.

Although the Wimbledon Extreme Golfing of Australia is in 12, there is growing support for her. Vic Edwards, her coach, has often said 1974 would be her year.

The rest of the field is 18 to 1 or longer odds.

The honor of opening the 97th year of the tournament on center court falls as is traditional, to defending champion Jan Kodes of Czechoslovakia, who plays Sherwood Stewart of Goose Creek, Tex. Kodes is seeded sixth, the lowest in history for a reigning Wimbledon titleholder.

Royals stop Oakland to end loss streak

By United Press International

Veteran Lindy McDaniel, making one of the rare starts in his 20-year major league career, stopped the Oakland Athletics' streak Sunday to halt the Kansas City Royals' three-game losing streak and give them a 4-1 victory.

George Brett batted in two runs with one of his three singles as the Royals scored four times in the third inning off loser Glenn Abbott.

McDaniel, making only his second start of the season, pitched against Oakland permitted only two base runners in recording his first victory in three decisions.

In other games, New York beat Detroit 4-1 but the second game of the doubleheader was postponed by rain. Chicago won 2-1 before bowing 4-3 to Minnesota. Boston routed Cleveland 6-0 and Milwaukee flipped Baltimore 9-1.

Rudy May, making his debut with New York, tossed a four-hitter and Bobby Murcer knocked in two runs to lead the Yankees' three-game winning streak.

Murcer, doubled in Lou Piniella from first with the tie-breaking run in the sixth inning and scored an insurance run moments later on a single by Chris Chambliss. May, acquired from the California Angels on June 15, struck out nine and walked three white evening his record at 1-1.

Dwight Gooden hit a grand slam homer and Don Money added a solo shot, powering the Braves to their victory over the Orioles and helping Clyde Wright to his first triumph since May 27. Wright's "crash" came with two out in the first inning following walks to Don Honey and Bobby Mitchell and single by George Scott. Money's seventh homer of the season concluded the Braves' scoring in the eighth.

Rick Wise, making his first start since May 23, combined with Dick Drago on a four-hitter to lead the Brewers to a 7-2 tape measure home runs to lead the Red Sox. Wise, who was on the disabled list, allowed only the Indians' two "both singles, in the 10th inning, work in his first appearance since breaking a "finger" in a freak home accident.

Danny Thompson tripled in the ninth inning, followed by Steve Brye's single scored the winning run to give Minnesota, a victory over Chicago after the Twins had come from behind to tie the score, the sixth on a single by Brye, a walk to Jerry Terrell and Bobby Darwin's 10th homer.

The White Sox won the first game behind the four-hit pitcher of Steve Blass. Blass walked three and struck out four to even his record at 7-7. The White Sox scored the winning run in the fourth on a single by Curtis Menz on an error by shortstop Luis Gomez, a fielder's choice and a wild pitch by loser Joe Decker.

In night action, California was at Texas.

FORECAST FOR TUESDAY, JUNE 25, 1974

GENERAL TENDENCIES: A day to put all of your affairs in order so you will be able to venture forth and handle the important events coming up. Make your surroundings spotless and gain the respect of allies. Speak with increased confidence.

ARIES (Mar. 21 to Apr. 19) If you are not careful, with regular task you could get into trouble. Take the health treatments that will give you more vitality.

TAURUS (Apr. 20 to May 20) Don't attempt to push your personal views on others, especially where amusements are concerned. Avoid one who is impatient.

GEMINI (May 21 to June 21) Jumping from one activity to another could be upsetting; now to keep a steady pace. Make certain not to criticize others now.

MOON-CHILDREN (June 22 to July 21) Buy appliances and other articles needed in the home. Obtain data that will simplify your daily work. Be constructive.

LEO (July 22 to Aug. 21) Plan how to cut down on expenses so you have abundance in the future. Go to the right sources for the information you will need.

VIRGO (Aug. 22 to Sept. 22) Know what it is that you desire of a personal nature and then make the moves that are wise. Get rid of whatever is obsolete.

LIBRA (Sept. 23 to Oct. 22) Obtain the data you need to make a new project work more effectively. Show associates that you are an expert in your field.

SCORPIO (Oct. 23 to Nov. 21) Think out a plan that requires the cooperation of trusted associates. Avoid the social at this time. Take health treatments.

SAGITTARIUS (Nov. 22 to Dec. 21) Engaging in civic affairs at this time will bring excellent benefits. Stop procrastinating about paying an important bill.

CAPRICORN (Dec. 22 to Jan. 20) You have not completed a course of action for several days and this is a good day to do just that. Add to present knowledge.

AQUARIUS (Jan. 21 to Feb. 19) Know what your position is with an associate before making any future plans. Your intuition is not good now so be careful.

PISCES (Feb. 20 to Mar. 20) Consulting with associates in a firm provided you do so in a constructive way. Any prejudicial remarks could prove destructive.

IF YOUR CHILD IS BORN TODAY ... he or she will be one who needs to be guided early in life and should be taught to persevere in one direction instead of jumping from one thing to another. A fine salesperson, here, as well as a statistician, a laboratory worker or anything of an ultra-modern nature. Give ethical training.

What's What

L. M. Boyd

Babies that weigh less than 5 1/2 pounds at birth tend to grow up to be slightly less intelligent than heavier offspring—Or such is the claim of Sir Dugald Baird, a Scottish professor who studied the case histories of 1,000 Aberdeen citizens from birth to maturity. Numerous exceptions acknowledged. Still, the weight of the child on the day it's born appears significant in that matter of its future IQ, he claims.

Q. "If a girl wears contact lenses, when should she apply her makeup, before she puts them in or after?"
A. "After. And said makeup should be removed after taking them out, too. Or so say the experts."

WRITERS devote a lot of space from San Francisco to "None of our presidents was as poor a speller as Harry Truman."

ACOUSTICS

In Syracuse, Sicily, is an enormous bell-shaped cavern called the Ear of Dionysius. It's an ancient natural out of about 400 B.C., the tyrant Dionysius made a dungeon out of that hole. And built his throne over it. Whatever his prisoners said, even in whispers, he could hear distinct in a large hearing chamber above. Contention is that the cavern's name on earth, not even the Mormon Tabernacle, is so fantastically live to today's sound.

ALL four-footed animals—pigs, mice, ANTS can be taught to heel, says GRIZZY BEARS have been taught to heel, too. THE OLDER the whale, the darker the whale meat. AND ALL truffles grow wild.

REDECORATE

Numerous women like to redecorate their homes periodically. That's widely known. Switch the furniture around, paint the kitchen, change the carpet color. But do you know why they're so compelled? That scholar Theodor Reik claims it's because they're dissatisfied with their own looks. He says, in effect, that such household redecoration serves as a sort of self-image-making. His theory is a little too cynical, I think.

AN ATTORNEY writes: "The law requires a person to have and use only one given name. Therefore, a middle name has no importance in a court action. Its insertion, omission or incorrect spelling in legal papers is immaterial." Is this true?

'Crisis' treatment due high inflation rates

WASHINGTON (UPI) — Treasury Secretary William E. Simon said today the nation's double-digit inflation rate would continue to be "unacceptably high" the rest of this year and that the administration is treating it as a "crisis situation."

At the same time, Simon said government experts believe there will be a reduction in the inflation rate when second-quarter economic statistics are compiled, and that the rate will go down later in the year.

The present inflation rate, running about 11 per cent according to latest cost-of-living figures, and a $5 billion budget cut as a means of controlling inflation were among subjects for discussion at a meeting President Nixon called this morning with Simon and other economic advisers.

Kenneth Rush, Nixon's newly named economic coordinator, said in an interview with the Washington Post today that the $5 billion budget cut and a $300 spending limit had been decided on for fiscal 1975 starting a week from today.

Prior to the White House meeting, Simon was interviewed on the NBC-TV Today Show.

"There is no instant cure to inflation — no instant economic cure," Simon said. "We have to get back on the right path of fundamentally sound fiscal and monetary policy to bring this back to an acceptable level."

He added, "We're very much treating this situation as a crisis situation and our forecasts have been that the inflation rate will begin to abate toward the end of this year and gradually decline from the double-digit inflation we are experiencing at this time."

"When the second quarter figures come in, I think you'll see a diminution in the rate of inflation, but this is not going to be done quickly, and at the end of this year, we are still going to have an almost unacceptable rate of inflation as far as I am concerned."

He said that what it needed to correct the nation's economic imbalance is to return to "the old-time religion" of balancing spending with federal income — "to return to fundamentals for a substantial period of time."

Report due soon

WASHINGTON (UPI) — Sen. Sam J. Ervin Jr., D-N.C., said Sunday the Senate Watergate committee is expected to have a report ready by Thursday, but said it probably will not be made public until after Congress' July 4 recess.

Ervin said the reason for delay in releasing the report was the trial of four defendants in the Ellsberg break-in beginning Wednesday.

Ervin said he expected the report to be released "around July 10 after Congress and the committee are back from the Fourth of July holiday."

Sanford panel formed

WASHINGTON (UPI) — Supporters of former North Carolina Gov. Terry Sanford have announced formation of a "Citizens Committee to Nominate Terry Sanford" for the 1976 Democratic presidential nomination.

The committee, headed by former West Virginia Gov. Bulett C. Smith, registered with the Office of Federal Elections

(OFE) and will make regular reports on its financial status.

Sanford, president of Duke University and chairman of the National Democratic Charter Commission, said in a statement that he had not formally announced for the nomination.

Sanford was an early candidate for the Democratic presidential nomination in 1972.

Court backs felon vote bar

WASHINGTON (UPI) — The Supreme Court ruled today that ex-felons who have served their prison sentences can be barred from voting in state and local elections.

Justice William H. Rehnquist delivered the 5-3 majority opinion and said the 14th Amendment, guaranteeing "equal protection of the laws," does not apply to state laws denying the vote to felons.

Rehnquist cited another section of the same amendment which permits denial of the vote for "participation in rebellion or other crime."

The Court ruled in a California case, reversing a decision by that state's supreme court that the state law violated the 14th Amendment.

Joining Rehnquist in the majority were Chief Justice Warren E. Burger, Byron R. White, Potter Stewart, Harry A. Blackmun and Lewis F. Powell Jr.

Justices William O. Douglas, Thurgood Marshall and William

J. Brennan dissented.

The case did not challenge the right to vote in federal elections. Federal law also bars ex-felons from voting in most instances.

Virtually every other state has a law similar to California's denying voting rights in state and local elections to convicted felons. Most states permit the courts, the governor or some other official to restore the right on a case-by-case basis.

Three convicted felons had challenged the law in California on behalf of all ex-felons by suing voting clerks in San Luis Obispo and Monterey Counties. They said the law violated their right to vote.

Rehnquist cited a long history of debate on passage of the 14th Amendment and the Reconstruction Acts after the Civil War. The felons had contended the portion barring voting for "participation in rebellion or other crime" was meant to apply to those who had taken up arms in the Civil War.

Local standards backed

WASHINGTON (UPI) — The Supreme Court, ruling the film "Carnal Knowledge" was not obscene, said today that justices may be instructed to apply their own "community standards" rather than broader standards in dealing with obscenity cases.

The court had been urged to tailor its obscenity standards to the laws of the 50 states on the ground that movie makers and book publishers could not cope with possible suits in thousands of separate political subdivisions in the country.

But in an opinion by Justice William H. Rehnquist the court said the standards it laid down last term approve such an instruction.
