WASHINGTON — The U. S. marshal service says final arrangements are expected to be made today for the serving of two subpoenas on former President Nixon.
 One subpoena, issued by attorneys for former Nixon aide John D. Ehrlichman, calls for Nixon to appear as a defense witness at the Sept. 30 Watergate cover-up trial.
 The second calls for Nixon to testify in a civil suit brought by persons who claim they were wrongly denied access to a Nixon appearance in Charlotte, N.C., in 1971.
 Gaylor Campbell, U. S. marshal for Los Angeles, has had the Ehrlichman subpoena since Aug. 19, four days after it was sent from Washington.
 Last week, a spokesman for Wayne Coburn, director of the service, said Campbell had been ordered to be "professional and discreet" in serving the subpoena, because of the unusual circumstances.
 Tuesday, the spokesman quoted Coburn as saying "there's no rush" to serve the subpoena but that final arrangements between Campbell and former presidential press secretary Ronald L. Ziegler are expected to be worked out today.

Efficient economy goal

(c) New York Times Service
WASHINGTON — The Ford administration is conducting a comprehensive study aimed at identifying government policies and programs that may be contributing to inflation by fostering inefficient operation of the private sector of the economy.
 The laws and regulations under examination range from rules of the Interstate Commerce Commission that keep interstate truckers from taking the fastest route between two points, to orders of the Agriculture Department that prohibit the shipment of some foods from one part of the country to another.
 All those involved in the review agree that getting rid of the laws and policies that may be making inflation worse will be difficult.
 The reason is that almost any change that might be recommended would bring real economic injury to some people at least in the short run.

 Those who could be hurt if the assertedly pro-inflationary policies were eliminated or modified would include not only businesses of many types but also individual workers in certain industries who might face the loss of their jobs and farmers in many regions who could suffer reductions in income.
 Nevertheless, top economic policy makers in the administration are eager to make some concrete proposals for reversal of government programs that result in inefficiencies because they believe the payoff, in long-term reduction of the inflation rate, could be significant.
 The study of inflation-causing governmental policies is being coordinated in the office of Kenneth Rusk, economic counselor to President Ford.

The study began during the Nixon administration, in Bush's office and at the Council of Economic Advisers. It is not clear that Nixon was personally involved, although he received one preliminary report from the council.
 At present, all that is going on is the collection of ideas for further study.
 Ford has, however, personally approved the inquiry.
 His longtime economic policy assistant, L. William Seidman, said that he thought the next move might be the creation of a small unit, in the executive office of the president, to cull the scores of ideas that have been submitted in an attempt to find the most promising ones.
 In selecting the ideas for further study, two standards will be applied, Seidman indicated.

Euromart cuts feed purchases

WASHINGTON (UPI) — The European Common Market will curtail its purchase of American livestock feed by about 10 percent in the next year in an effort to ease rising U.S. food prices, the market's agricultural commissioner said today.
 Agriculture Secretary Earl L. Butz praised the cooperation between the two continents to meet one of the world's major problems and said the decision meant that despite a sharp drop in U.S. corn production, the government will not have to impose grain export controls to keep U.S. prices from skyrocketing.

Oil strike

SAIGON (UPI) — A major Western oil company has discovered petroleum nearly a mile under the South China Sea just off the coast of South Vietnam, the Saigon government said today.
 Petex, a subsidiary of the Shell Oil Co., struck oil Sunday in the country's first test drilling, Industry Minister Nguyen Duc Cuong told a news conference today in a nationwide radio broadcast.

Nixon hires Watergate lawyer

WASHINGTON (N. Y. Times) — Former President Richard M. Nixon has hired a former high-level Justice Department official, Herbert J. Miller Jr., to represent him in connection with the Watergate cover-up and other pending criminal and civil matters, reliable sources said today.
 Miller's first goal, the sources said, will be to try and persuade Leon Jaworski, the Watergate special prosecutor, not to seek an indictment of the former president for his role in the Watergate scandal.

Grass fire blackens huge area

HEMET, Calif. (UPI) — A raging brush and grass fire blackened more than 10,000 acres of national forest about four miles east of Hemet Tuesday, forcing the evacuation of a remote mountain recreation area.
 The fire was reported today to be about 100 miles from the community of Idaho.
 Several fire fighters suffered minor injuries, mostly from smoke inhalation.

Faces trial

TEMPE, Ariz. (UPI) — Ernesto Miranda, central figure in the U.S. Supreme Court's "Miranda ruling," has been ordered to stand trial on a charge of possession of a firearm by a convicted felon.
 Miranda was paroled in 1972 after serving several years of a sentence "for conviction" and rape. His first conviction was overturned in 1968 when the Supreme Court ruled law officers must warn suspects of their rights at the time of their arrest.

TF grants Evel final jump meet OK

By CRICKET BIRD
 Times-News writer
TWIN FALLS — Twin Falls County commissioners Tuesday granted Evel Knievel's final approval for his canyon jump gathering.
 The action, which came after an inspection by commissioners of jump site preparations, confirmed the license issued July 22 to Knievel for the mass gathering.
 Commissioner William Wiseman said "they're living up to the requirements of the permit."
 Tuesday was the deadline for Knievel and his agents to "substantially" comply with the conditions and provisions of the license.
 Wiseman said there were still "a few little odds and ends to be picked up," but added "there'll be no problem in being ready for the jump."

The commissioners met Tuesday morning with Knievel representatives Mike Gray, attorney Don Mack and secretary officer Budgie Davis to go through the permit, for specific provisions being made.
 Knievel's representatives told the commissioners that:
 — the $10,000 protection bond required by the license had been posted, and more than $1.1 million in insurance required had been provided.
 — four of six mercury vapor lights required were installed and operating, with construction in progress for the remaining two.
 — telephone servicemen were in the process of installing the 16 pay phones required.
 — about 160 of the 200 chemical toilets required had been delivered with the remaining 40 expected late Tuesday or Wednesday.
 — forty garbage dumpsters, as required were at the site, as well as an extra 50 garbage cans. Also, $1,000 had been deposited to the YMCA swimming pool fund with the understanding that YMCA volunteers would help in daily clean-up efforts.

 — a total of 65 security officers have been hired, more than the 50 required by the license, to patrol and supervise the area.
 — the required two fire engines had been provided, one a stand-by vehicle from Twin Falls, another under contract, with staffers basically to be off-duty Twin Falls firemen.
 — a well, pump and motor have been constructed to deliver 3,200 gallons of water per hour as required, and 300 outlets for drinking water provided, although they are all located in one area where the permit states they should be distributed over the property.
 — a chlorinator and detention tank have also been installed.

Cosmonauts end mission

MOSCOW (UPI) — The two Soyuz-15 cosmonauts cut short their space flight after two days today and prepared to return to earth after apparently failing to dock with Russia's orbiting space laboratory.

Any docking failure might raise new questions about the scheduled linkup next July with an American space vehicle.
 However, a U.S. space agency spokesman said in Washington it would not affect plans for the linkup between a Soyuz and an American Apollo spacecraft because a completely new docking system jointly designed by the Americans and the Russians will be used for that mission.
 The Pass news agency said the cosmonauts had made repeated approaches to the Saljut-4 space station, which has been in orbit since June 25. Tass did not specifically say they failed to dock with it.
 "Somewhat surprise has gone wrong," one Western space expert said. "They could not have accomplished anything significant in only two days."

Reactions split on Snake canyon rim study promptly in providing development," Barry said.

 He said the present condition of public lands along the canyon illustrates his point.
 "The only attractive areas in the canyon at this time are those developed by individuals or companies. Most of the public land is used for trash or is maintained only as sagebrush and weeds," he added.
 Meanwhile, Twin Falls Joint City-County Planner David Richey, lauded the work of the agencies. "It appears to me that they've got real good recommendations," Richey said. "They appear to be right on with the existing trends."
 Richey said the key question was whether the rim would be left undeveloped or if developed that it would be developed completely.
 "To allow partial development of the rim, Richey said, would encourage urban sprawl which would be costly to taxpayers because of the provision of utilities and other services to outlying developments.
 Richey argued that either the rim would have to be preserved or be fully developed to prevent undue burdens upon taxpayers.

 The advisory report was compiled jointly by the Snake River Soil Conservation District, the Agricultural Research Service, the Agricultural Stabilization and Conservation Service, the Bureau of Land Management, and the Soil Conservation Service at the request of the South Idaho Resource Planning and Development Association and the Canyon Advisory Committee.
 In the report, the five agencies recommended:
 — prime agricultural lands in Twin Falls County, including those along the canyon rim, should be protected from urban use.
 — all developments on the canyon rim as far west as Rock Creek and as far east as Hansen be connected to city sewer system or centralized sewage treatment plants, with the use of individual septic tanks disallowed.
 — all costs of development, including streets and roads, be borne by developers.
 — a "severe" one-time change in use tax be levied upon developers taking land out of agricultural production.

— change of the minimum agricultural lot size from the present 5 acres to 40 acres.
 — establishment of canyon-rim parks and public view point.
 — Purchase by public agencies of all presently undeveloped private canyon bottom lands from a point one mile east of the Perrine Bridge to one mile west of the mouth of Rock Creek for public recreation use.
 — County Commissioners William Chancey and Merl Leonard both said today that the recommendations of the agencies will be taken into account along with further study of the use of the rim.
 "There is no question in my mind that their recommendations will be very seriously considered," Leonard said.
 On the question of a change in use tax, both Leonard and Chancey were cautious.
 "The legality of that tax would have to be thoroughly investigated—number, one, and number, two would have to have the approval of the residents of Twin Falls County," Leonard said.

Hansen charges 'fraud'

By BILL LAZARUS
 Times-News writer
BOISE — George Hansen, Republican candidate for Congress Tuesday, charged the state treasurer of the Democratic Party with using illegal means to obtain a copy of his credit report.

Hansen said this morning that treasurer Mel Morgan, Boise, had stolen his credit report without his permission.
 Morgan would neither confirm or deny Hansen's charges. "I don't want to make any kind of a statement until I talk to my attorney," he said. But he said the charges surprised him, and said he was no familiarly with the candidate's credit rating.
 Hansen himself has been cited for "apparent violations" of several campaign finance laws by the House Administration Committee. The case has been turned over to the U.S. attorney general for action.

Following a "confidential" lead, Hansen said he contacted Mike MacButch, head of the Pocatello Credit Bureau, Tuesday morning, regarding Morgan's alleged attempts to obtain copies of his credit rating.
 MacButch confirmed during a taped interview that Morgan had ordered the credit report Aug. 16 without giving a reason for wanting it, said "As I understand it from our conversation with Mr. MacButch, the report was delivered," he added.

Hansen said he understands that a person must have business dealings at stake to legally obtain a credit report on someone else. "I have no dealings with the man [Morgan]," he said.
 Hansen's attorney John Runtz, Boise, said the report was apparently ordered by Nate Morgan, attorney for Hansen, a member of the state bureau on behalf of Mel Morgan.
 Runtz said that, according to MacButch, the contract between the credit bureau and its members states that a credit report can only be requested for specific reasons. Assuming the terms of the contract will be met, MacButch says he never asks what the reasons are," the attorney said.
 Since Hansen "doesn't know of having any business with Morgan," Runtz said the candidate has drawn "an assumption from the facts" that Morgan desired the report for political purposes. "It would appear that it very well might be a political fishing expedition," he said.
 Hansen said he did not know what good reason he would have for wanting the report for his political opponents. But he said the apparent fraud used to obtain the report violated his civil rights as well as the electoral rights of the Idaho's citizens.

Nixon calls Congressmen

WASHINGTON (UPI) — Four congressmen have received calls from former President Richard Nixon since his resignation. One said Nixon mentioned his Watergate problems but another said he just "wanted to talk to somebody."

Only two have been willing to discuss what was said.

The first call to be publicized was to Rep. Dan Rostenkowski, Ill. Tom, who said Monday Nixon told him he was being "watergated" by Watergate prosecutors. Others, who reported calls Tuesday in response to questions from UPI writer Sam Donaldson, R. N.C. and Heps F. Edwards, Helix, O.D., and G. V. "Sonny" Montgomery, D. Miss.

Sen. Carl Curtis, R. Neb., said he had had a call from Nixon, but that he had placed the call to Montgomery said he also got a phone call from Nixon Monday afternoon at an Air National Guard installation where he could not be reached at his Maryland-Ally office.

"Mainly," he said, "it was a personal call, and he invited me to come to California to come pay a visit. He mentioned that he certainly hoped I would support Jerry Ford that the Ford would need help from the Congress."

Montgomery was asked if Nixon mentioned Watergate troubles.

"He did not get into that line with me and we didn't get into that area at all. I think he knows how Mississippians feel that he still has his strings pulled," he said.

Montgomery was calling on an friend who wanted to talk to somebody.

Kuykendall, a conservative, said the only one to report an attempt to call him. He said Nixon called him on a vacation home in Cheyenne, Tex. and told him, "we've got problems with that fellow."

Kuykendall brought up the Treasury invites press, solons to help count Ft. Knox bullion

WASHINGTON (UPI) — The Treasury Department is inviting congressmen to come and see for themselves that about 62,000 bars of gold bullion are still in Ft. Knox.

"Never fear, the gold is there," Mary Brooks, director of the Mint, said Tuesday.

"It's been 10 or 15 years since some of the vaults were opened. I think it's time we did an audit."

She invited 46 visiting congressmen — and newsmen — to help count the bars following rumors that a couple of million dollars worth had vanished from the nation's main gold security depository in Kentucky.

Rep. Philip M. Crane, R-Ill., in July asked Treasury Secretary William E. Simon about rumors that some of the 147 million ounces of gold at Ft. Knox had mysteriously disappeared.

Simon said nonsense and told Congressmen they could go look — for themselves — and those who wish can on Sept. 23.

Mrs. Brooks and officials of the General Accounting Office, the auditing agency of Congress, will conduct the count.

Actually, counting each of the 367,500 bars listed at Ft. Knox would be too tedious so the auditors will make random samples to insure that the gold is checked where it is supposed to be.

Chips will be taken from some of the bars to test for purity of gold content.

With President Ford scheduled to fill the 40-year-old vault on gold ownership by Sept. 31, the count will be of public interest in the precious metal as an inflation hedge.

The free market price of gold has soared to around $175 an ounce, almost four times the "official" U.S. price of $42 2/3 an ounce.

Only 147 million ounces of the total U.S. gold stockpile of 276 million ounces is kept at Ft. Knox. At the official U.S. rate, the Ft. Knox deposit is worth $2.6 billion and the value jumps to more than $2.2 billion at the current free market rate.

The location and size of the rest of the U.S. gold stockpile is a closely guarded secret. It includes Denver, Minn., million ounces; New York Assay Office, 54 million

Newsman seek access to rim

BOISE (UPI) — The Idaho Press Club argued Tuesday that any agreement the state makes in allowing use of state land on the North rim of the Snake River Canyon for Evel Knievel's skyjump should include access for Idaho newsmen.

Members of the State Land Board decided earlier in the day to reopen the auction to the state-owned land on the north rim for use during the Sept. 8 jump. It will auction the property for lease at 1 p.m. Wednesday.

CBS had offered the board at a Tuesday meeting $50,000 to use the state property for live television coverage of the jump by the famed cyclist across the quarter-mile canyon. But the board decided it would be best to reopen bidding after hearing objections from promoters of the event.

The Idaho Press Club also appeared at the meeting, requesting the board to allow "broadcast" newsmen access to the area for "news" coverage.

After the board decided to reopen the bidding, Richard Charneck of United Press International in Boise, club vice president, wrote Land Commission Director Gordon Troutman urging access for Idaho's news media.

"It is our position we can co-exist with whoever should purchase the live coverage rights," Charneck said.

Charneck rejected arguments by promoters of the event that Knievel's privacy is being invaded or that proper safety precautions cannot be undertaken.

"Under the landing permit granted by this board Mr. Knievel is required to secure the area from the public any way," he wrote. "We do not see how our coverage from state lands can infringe on his privacy."

Charneck said it was not arguments by Knievel forces opposing access to the north rim "are merely a ploy to deny any Idaho film coverage of this event at a time when it appears it seems will not be able to enjoy any close circuit television coverage of it."

Miss Rodeo-America to host TF event

TWIN FALLS — Donna Howsley, Miss Rodeo America for 1974, will be hostess at a two-day open house at the Twin Falls Equitable Savings Office.

Jim Youngberg, branch manager, said the open house will be Tuesday and Wednesday. He said a highlight of the open house will be a replica of the Miss Rodeo America saddle which will be given away at 4 p.m. Sept. 6. He said entries will be accepted at Equitable Savings throughout the week and entrants need not be present to win.

Miss Howsley, El Paso, Tex., will be in Twin Falls for the Twin Falls County Fair and Rodeo and the Miss Rodeo Idaho Pageant.

Travelers get bypass routes

SUGGESTED alternate routes to bypass the Twin Falls area during Evel Knievel's planned canyon jump are traced by the Idaho Department of Highways for travelers who want to avoid traffic congestion.

The Idaho Highways Department has drawn up alternate routes for travelers in the Twin Falls area during Evel Knievel's jump week.

The alternate routes are suggested for drivers who wish to avoid traffic congestion from Sept. 1-8, especially Sept. 6, the day set for Knievel's canyon jump.

From Bliss to Burley, travelers can go through Shoshone and Hazelton, gaining only 15 miles over the usual Interstate 80 route.

Drivers proceeding from Bliss to Idaho Falls can travel through Shoshone and Arco, gaining eight miles over the 80 route.

And from Idaho Falls to Boise, travelers can re-route through Arco-Carey and Mountain Home, a saving of 18 miles over the 80 route.

The accompanying map illustrates the alternate routes.

Solon expects referendum okay

TWIN FALLS — Rep. Joe McCollum, R-Twin Falls, expects a referendum ending industry to acquire pollution control facilities through county bonds to pass without opposition.

"The working man benefits the industry benefits... the people benefit. So who could be against it," he said Tuesday.

Idaho is the only state that now does not permit such use of county bonds, he added.

By allowing counties to float bonds for pollution control equipment, companies would be able to install these facilities much cheaper without direct cost to the taxpayer, McCollum said. The interest rate on county bonds, he said, is up to 60 per cent lower than on private bonds due to state and federal tax breaks for pollution control bonds.

"All you're trying to do is to clean up Idaho," McCollum said. Passage of the referendum, he asserted, would encourage small companies to put in costly pollution control equipment. "You can kind of force the big companies to do these things. But how are you going to force the little companies," he said.

McCollum maintained it is "just a quick fix in our constitution" which prevents such county bonds for pollution control equipment. He said a joint resolution supporting a referendum to amend the constitution passed the Senate and House with strong bipartisan support.

Besides bringing better pollution control, the measure would "give industry some incentive to invest" in the state, he said.

McCollum and Sen. Orval Snow, D-Moscow, serve as co-chairmen of the Citizens for a Clean Idaho Committee. McCollum said the committee is geared solely toward publicizing the referendum.

Mental health series slated

TWIN FALLS — The first of a monthly series of public meetings on various aspects of mental health is scheduled for Sept. 20 at the College of Southern Idaho cafeteria.

Chet Hargrett, geographic chairman of the Twin Falls County Mental Health Association, reported at a board meeting Monday night that the meetings will be held in the CSI Student Union cafeteria on the third Friday of the month with a no-host luncheon to which the public is invited.

Mental health as it relates to geriatrics, alcohol rehabilitation and other community problems will be program topics and personnel from the regional mental health center which is now being staffed will be presenting their plans during the monthly luncheons, he said.

Royal Seltzer, association president, announced the Idaho Mental Health Association sponsoring a bus tour to State Hospital South, Blackfoot, for families and friends of patients on Sept. 7.

Persons going on the bus must make reservations by Sept. 5 with Slotten at 733-2567. There is no charge for the bus, but participants will have to buy their own lunch at the hospital for $1.

The bus, which will pick up Boise area residents early in the morning, will depart from the Idaho Inn parking lot in Twin Falls at 8:30 a.m. Sept. 7, arriving in Blackfoot about 11 a.m.

The bus will arrive back in Twin Falls about 6:30 p.m. Families of patients will have opportunity to speak with some of the hospital staff during the trip, Slotten said.

Sharon Hubler, Caldwell, state president, and Sally Dignat, Ketchikan, former state president and national officer, who is newly appointed state organization chairman, attended the board meeting Monday night. They discussed problems of the state association with local board members and said the state annual meeting is tentatively planned for October in Twin Falls.

Cindy Schleiter, VISTA worker, who is leaving to be married, introduced Darrell Johnson, who is attending CSI on a work-study grant, and plans to work with the Community Friends program, which involves volunteers who herd and returning mental patients.

Chilling lesson

One of the most chilling aspects of the last days of the Nixon administration was the concern by some of the besieged President's aides that he might attempt some desperate military action to restore his presidency.

Nothing in fact happened. Nixon bowed out with some grace and the unprecedented transfer of power to President Ford was arranged without incident.

But the concern of Secretary of Defense James R. Schlesinger and Gen. George Brown, chairman of the Joint Chiefs of Staff, and others is worth considering.

Schlesinger and Brown reportedly were concerned that "somebody in the White House" might attempt to take some direct action involving the U.S. military.

Their primary fear reportedly was the possibility that Nixon might "turn the key in his black box" to electronically order the firing of nuclear weapons in an attempt to provoke an international crisis to draw support.

Schlesinger and Brown reportedly began "contingency planning" and kept close watch over the military and communications between the White House and military units that might occur outside ordinary military channels.

The only way to stop a nuclear attack once it is ordered by the President is for someone in the chain of command below the president to disobey his order.

Under the National Security Act, such an order from the president must go through the civilian secretary of defense before being relayed to military units.

According to the Chicago Sun-Times, Schlesinger and Brown understood that any such order must come through Schlesinger, not directly from Nixon. The thrust of Schlesinger's action was to place himself as a buffer between a potentially erratic president and the nation's arsenal.

A similar concern was voiced before the resignation by Nixon's chief of staff, Gen. Alexander Haig. Haig told a gathering of the demoralized Nixon White House staff that one of its primary functions was to prevent precipitous or dangerous actions.

The possibility that the President could crack under enormous pressure is a sobering thought. We suspect there are few people who could endure the pressures he sustained without showing some form of deviant behavior.

But at the same time the actions of the Nixon subordinates is encouraging.

It suggests that the long-term American tradition which places even the military under the restraints of the constitution would have held firm even had the President broken during those terrible last days.

The Republic can rest easier knowing that the military leadership places its constitutional obligations even higher than loyalty to its commander-in-chief.

Warranties not worth computer cards' price

Editor's note: Art Buchwald has gone on vacation. He left behind some of his favorite columns. Betty Furness in a speech revealed something that the average consumer has known for years: warranties that come with most American products aren't worth the computer cards they're printed on.

for a few days as we were too busy trying to get the thing to work. But if you didn't fill out and mail the green warranty card within 24 hours of purchase, it's hardly our fault that the electric can opener doesn't work, is it?

Opium is politics of people among Turks

Government is based on a coalition. The vote of the poppy growers was needed and all parties courted it. But the tax was rescinded July 1, just before Cyprus independence.

There is some disappointment and some bitterness among some conservatives, because there are those who remember less Rockefeller's very lady behavior in 1964 when he declined to support Barry Goldwater, than they do Rockefeller's Australian crawl towards communist sanity.

Ford's stability answer irks conservatives

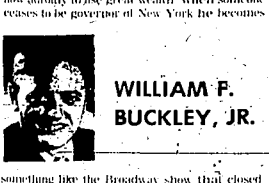

Concerning the nomination of Nelson Rockefeller as vice president, a few observations. President Ford was clearly in search of stability.

Rockefeller was preferred by Ford, who seeks now to broaden the base of his support. And there are the personal reasons for Rockefeller's eminence.

WASHINGTON - It is becoming increasingly clear that Gerald Ford is a different kind of President. He shows signs of playing a presidential role in the 20th century.

The Ford style was never more evident than in the manner he employed to announce that he favors clemency for the nation's 50,000 Vietnam war-era deserters and draft dodgers.

Much has been made of the fact that Ford has repeated the policy of President Nixon. That is merely significant. More important is the relationship between Gerald Ford and the people he serves.

It seems to me that above all Ford is a man who communicates. He communicates with people everywhere, and one who wants the people to communicate. Nothing has been done about amnesty in the last year or two, little had been said about it.

Secretary of Defense James R. Schlesinger to propose recommendations for a policy before Sept. 1.

That's what the office of the presidency is all about or should be all about. On amnesty, Ford is a leader. He refused to go beyond his statement that deserters and draft dodgers "work their way back" from exile, but that of a leader's obligations is to put good men to work on solving a problem and then make a decision based on their recommendations.

ANDREW TULLY

Whatever the solution, I think Ford's words on the subject of amnesty will live. He called those who shirked their duty "resistals" of the war, and reminded us all that they suffered from the inexperience of youth. He told of studying the records of men who had died in the Vietnam War and said, "I kept thinking how young they were."

And although some of the critics, whose criticisms were not serious, should still be subject to penalties, Gerald Ford was speaking in the tradition of the Republic when he asked that "these young Americans should have a second chance."

prompted by drug addiction. American politics is also involved. The U.S. Congress left its own government was not doing enough To prosecute congress, American ambassador Macomber, withdrawn from Ankara right after the restoration of poppy farming and the end of the opium trying party to the Cyprus fire.

There has been inadequate understanding on both sides. Americans cannot grasp the misery of impoverished poppy farmers - or the significance of their vote. Turks cannot imagine the horror of addiction among American youth.

It's certainly imperative that something here be ended and that the criminal chain from farmer to addict be broken.

Welfare overhaul will take skill

WASHINGTON (UPI) — Congress is responding to President Ford's pressure for quick enactment of national health insurance, but it may take all his legislative skills and more if he decides to overhaul the costly welfare system.

With Ford vowing to reduce spending, but not at the expense of a strong military defense — a likely target for trimming would be the government's vast social welfare programs, the next most expensive category in the federal budget.

The White House says Ford is reviewing all programs he inherited from President Nixon, and hasn't hinted which way the new President will wield the economy knife.

But Ford's endorsement of national health insurance was interpreted as a tentative signal that the President, a conservative, also is a political pragmatist, and seeks a wholesale dismantling of social programs long cherished by liberals.

Despite his liberal House votes on HHS, Medicare, the anti-poverty Office of Economic Opportunity and other such Democratic legislation, Ford was considered likely to strike a middle course of compromise between liberal reformers and conservatives. After meeting with Ford, Sen. Warren G. Magnuson, D-Wash., said the Senate would "relieve him of responsibility in a very sensitive matter" by cutting $10 billion out of budget requests for the Departments of Labor and Health, Education and Welfare.

On national health insurance, White House sources said after Ford met last week with HHS Secretary Caspar W. Weinberger, that the President was ready to talk compromise to get a bill through Congress this year.

While holding out for a "free enterprise" approach, playing up the role of private insurance companies and de-emphasizing federal control, Ford nevertheless is expected to give to get what he wants.

For instance, in a draft bill under intensive debate by the House Ways and Means Committee, in the hope of tentative action by week's end, there was provision for a PAYROLL TAX to cover catastrophic illness. Although some of his aides oppose a payroll tax, Ford was reported willing to forego a fight. Politically, a national health insurance bill would be Ford's first legislative success and a prime campaign issue for GOP candidates in November. It also would serve to head off the cradle-to-grave insurance plan, financed and operated entirely by the federal government.

Such a bill might otherwise pass a potentially more liberal Congress next year.

As for welfare, Ford faces a choice of leaving things as they are — with "major" cuts and inequities, or making fundamental changes that could alter the course of welfare for decades to come. Nixon's long campaign for welfare reform never succeeded.

"It is going to cost us quite a lot of money in the last half of this decade," said William A. Morrill, assistant HHS secretary for planning and evaluation. "You're going to spend the money anyhow, and the question is whether you want to spend it in a rational way."

"I sometimes say, why not leave this alone," he added. "Well, it's not leaving it alone." HEW has several alternatives ready at Ford decides to renew the reform, light. They boil down to perfecting the present system, letting states run welfare with federal money, or a negative income tax of direct federal payments to the poor that declines as income rises.

Whatever Ford inflates or retains will cost money. The estimates for national health insurance alone are between $3 billion and $7.2 billion a year. Ford probably will introduce new programs gradually, hoping that inflation and the budget can be brought under control before their full impact is felt.

YOUR GOOD HEALTH Circulation may cause pain

By GEORGE C. HOSTETSON, M.D.
Dear Dr. Hostetson: What causes a "charleyhorse" as we call it, and can anything be done for it? I get it in both legs and it is painful. — Mrs. L. S. M.

"Charleyhorse" is a good enough term, even gets in medical dictionaries, but I'm not sure that's what you have. A charleyhorse is a muscle cramp, from cravess, which means to pull together, but the specific problem may be a single muscle spasm, a rupture of the muscle, or a strain.

If it occurs frequently, as perhaps it does in your case, and in view of your having it in both legs, I would suspect that poor circulation, rather than spasmodic activity, might be the basic cause. The type of footwear could be a factor, too.

If it is a circulatory ailment, stripping at various times, support hose, or occasionally some more specialized treatment may help.

But for the occasional charleyhorse that develops after too much exercise, rest, heat and aspirin are the usual ticket. Antispasmodics are not nuclear bombs.

particular activity. Cramps may be the obvious one, either give up that activity, or spend more time getting into shape for it.

Since you don't say whether this is a daytime or nighttime problem, I'll add a note that leg cramps after you have gone to bed are a somewhat different matter because those cramps come when you are at rest.

Medication more calcium in the diet and a rather simple exercise to stimulate circulation are effective.

Dear Dr. Hostetson: I am a girl 13 and wondering if it's possible to become pregnant by a male cat. G.R.

That's silly. Not unless you are a female cat.

Dear Dr. Hostetson: I am astounded at some of the foolish questions you get in your mail. L.E.B.

Well, sometimes I am, too. But if some of the questions sound dumb, they still are questions that somebody doesn't know the answer to. As somebody once said, "We're all of us ignorant... but about different things."

Dear Dr. Hostetson: In 1928 our family was victim of trichina poisoning. It resulted in the death of both parents.

The only treatment administered at that time was aspirin and paracetamol to keep us comfortable. I have always wanted to know if there ever was medication discovered to help this ancient disease. I realize it is rare these days but am sure it can occur. E.S.

I would exactly call it trichina "poisoning." It is infection with the trichina worm, which comes from eating meat in which the trichina eggs and worm are present. And it can be a serious disease.

These days people are generally aware of the wisdom of thorough cooking of pork — pigs can acquire the trichina because they are meat eaters, eating other foods that other animals that eat meat can become infected. Not animals that don't eat meat, such as cattle and sheep.

Anyway, the treatment you mentioned is still used in mild cases of trichinosis. But in acute cases a drug called thiabendazole is used. Also steroids — that is cortisone type medication.

Andrus sets TF visit

TWIN FALLS — Gov. Cecil D. Andrus announced Monday that he plans to attend the Twin Falls County Fair on Sept. 6.

Andrus said he plans to spend much of the day at the fairgrounds in Filer, stopping to talk with as many persons as are interested.

"I want to hear from the people," Andrus said. "I have problems with the state curriculum, also. I want to know about them."

Tax data goes to committee

(C) Washington Star News
WASHINGTON: Nelson A. Rockefeller has turned over his income tax returns for the past seven years to the congressional committee investigating his nomination to become vice president.

The rules committee offices for yesterday's meeting. Rockefeller has said he would be prepared to disclose all tax returns, including a blind trust or dividend trust of any business interests which might conflict with his position as vice president.

Monday was no indication that Rockefeller would provide additional financial information, particularly including a net worth statement, to congressional investigators.

Monday's meeting was the first between Rockefeller's representatives and committee officials. No date was set for their next session, although a Senate staffer said "we'll be in touch again."

Boomer voters reject Hall; Hickel bid fades

By United Press International

Boomer voters have elected scandal-plagued Gov. David Hall a chance to become the state's first two-term governor, and former Interior Secretary Walter Hickel trailed in his comeback attempt for governor of Alaska.

In the Oklahoma primary Tuesday, Hall was slumped by congressman "Ike" Rogers and MesSpadden, a grand nephew of humorist Will Rogers, and 23-year-old reform candidate David Porco.

MesSpadden and Porco will vie in a Sept. 17 runoff for the right to face GOP nominee Jim Hefley.

Hickel, who left the Alaska governorship in 1966 to become former President Nixon's first Secretary of the Interior, is to be fired the next year. He is expected to be in a three-way primary fight for his old seat.

In early returns, he was behind former state senate president Jay Hammond and ahead of Keith Miller, who succeeded Hickel as governor.

Hickel, who as interior secretary once condemned "conservation for conservation's sake," left the Nixon cabinet following the 1970 elections after complaining that he could never become the president.

Alaskan Democrat William Egan was expected to win renomination. He lost to Hickel in 1968 but beat Miller in 1970.

Sen. Mike Gravel, D-Alaska, who in 1971 forced a vote in Washington his defaming public reading of the then-classified Pentagon Papers, faced three opponents in his bid for renomination.

Six Republicans fought for the right to seek Gravel's seat.

Oklahoma Sen. Henry Bellmon had to trouble winning the Republican nomination for another term and will face the winner of a runoff between Democrats Ed Edmondson, a former congressman, and Charles Nesbitt.

In the Oklahoma gubernatorial race, Boren, a political science professor and state legislator, pledged to "sweep out the old guard."

Ike and MesSpadden, the preprimary favorite, were running even with 37 per cent of the Democratic vote for Hall.

Hall, 43, has been under investigation almost since the day he took office in connection with alleged kickbacks in the awarding of state contracts.

He has been investigated by a federal grand jury grand jurors in Oklahoma County and Oklahoma City, the Internal Revenue Service and a legislative impeachment inquiry. Two former aides have been indicted.

All incumbent Oklahoma congressmen, including Speaker of the House Carl Albert, won renomination. Albert has no GOP opposition.

WILLIAM SAXBE raps permissiveness

'Air war' stakes in millions

PARIS (UPI) — The United States and France are waging one of history's greatest aviation battles, but the fireworks have been on the ground.

The stakes are high — $1.6 billion in contracts for about 35 warplanes and a fortune in follow-up sales.

French airplane magnate Marcel Dassault, builder of the Mirage jet fighter, says he expects to capture a third of the market in the battle between French and American manufacturers.

Holland, Belgium, Denmark and Norway touched off the contest by going shopping for new planes to replace their outdated F-105s made Lockheed and Sikorsky.

American, Northrop, Fiat, Fiat and France's Mirage F1 are the front-runners in the transatlantic competition.

The other U.S. entry is the General Dynamics F-16, Dark Horse and Sweden's Saab Viggen and the Franco-Belgian Jaguar.

Dassault doubts there will be a single winner. "I think France is almost sure to get a third of the market," he said recently.

Holland chooses the Northrop F-16, he said, because the Dutch have always preferred American planes. "But I don't think this will be very serious for the aftermath."

Dassault said Norway and Denmark "have not yet made a decision and the Belgians are firmly interested in the Mirage F1A3."

"In this operation, it is possible that the countries wanting to replace their F104 Starfighters will take two or perhaps even three different types of planes," he said.

A U.S. military attaché in Brussels, scene of the much of the hectic sales pitches, recently complained "Everybody is out there flying everything they've got, including the Wright brothers."

Criminals gain edge, Saxbe says

(C) New York Times Service

CHICAGO. — At Gen. William B. Saxbe warned Tuesday that the country's law enforcement bodies had lost the initiative in fighting violent crime and were falling to allow what he called "America's most agonizing fact of life."

Speaking to a gathering of police chiefs and public safety directors from most of the nation's largest cities, Saxbe said "final statistics" to be released soon would show that crime in the United States actually increased by 6 per cent during 1973 instead of the 5 per cent rise predicted earlier.

He also noted that during the first quarter of 1974 crime and risen 11 per cent above the rate of that quarter in 1972 and by 15 per cent in the first quarter of 1974.

Saxbe said he could not accurately predict the crime rate for the remainder of 1974, he said.

"But we can't perceive with shocking clarity that we have suffered a severe loss in the concerted effort to alter one of the nation's most agonizing facts of life: It is a failure of substantial dimension, harsh, bitter and disturbing, and it may prove to be the pride of worse things to come unless we again find the way to gain the upper hand."

He appealed for more realism in attempting to solve the problems of crime and complained of the tendency "by some" to blame crime on everything except the criminal.

"I believe a great many offenders commit crimes because they want to commit them. A great many feel that the risks of apprehension, arrest, and the risk of going to prison, even if caught, are even lower."

He said that no single approach in handling crime would work by itself, but that a starting point, at least should be an increase in the risk of criminal behavior, and to convince potential criminals that once they are caught and convicted they will go to jail.

Saxbe lashed out at the social climate in America today, charging that permissiveness was rampant, that "parents often fail to teach of property discipline their children, that alcoholism is our major health problem" and was contributing to crime, and that pornography had "become as widespread as baseball."

Gas tax increase idea worries auto builders

DETROIT (UPI) — A proposed 10-cent per gallon gasoline tax increase could cripple new car sales just rebounding from the worst first half in 11 years and hinder efforts to control rising car prices, a Ford-Motor executive has warned.

"One thing the nation certainly does not need at this time is another artificial depressant on automobile sales," John B. Naughton, Ford vice president for marketing, said Tuesday.

The White House last week said the 10-cent-a-gallon increase in the excise tax was one of many proposals being considered to generate revenue and cut fuel consumption.

Chrysler Corp. had no comment on the proposal and a General Motors spokesman said, "As we understand it, no serious consideration is being given because of its many bad features."

Naughton said higher gasoline prices would hurt new car sales and hinder the company's efforts to hold down prices.

"We fear an increase in the gasoline tax would have a dampening effect on car sales, set off a wave of undesirable secondary effects throughout the economy and thus make it more difficult for everyone to comply with the President's request to 'hold down' prices," Naughton said.

Industry executives are especially wary of any further changes in either the price or availability of gasoline. American car buyers in the past few months have been switching back to the larger models, leaving the automakers overstocked on the economy cars they couldn't build fast enough during the winter energy crunch.

Ford has already announced plans to cut back output of its subcompact Pinto at its San Jose, Calif. plant.

Industry analysts expect little cars to regain their popularity, this fall after prospective big car buyers pick up "bargains" on the last of the '74 models, and prices are locked up almost 500 on the 275s. That could be changed swiftly if gasoline prices start climbing again.

FBI enters Newton hunt

SAN FRANCISCO (UPI) — The FBI today joined the search for fugitive Black Panther party co-founder Huey Newton.

Newton, who jumped $32,000 bail last Friday, was charged in a federal warrant Tuesday with unlawful flight to avoid prosecution for a felony.

The warrant, issued by the U.S. Attorney's office in San Francisco, means Newton, 26, was now subject to arrest in any state.

Newton, who had been living in a 1674-month penthouse overlooking Oakland's Lake Merritt, had pending charges of three assaults to commit murder, one involving a policeman.

Tanaka due Ford visit

WASHINGTON (UPI) — The prime minister of Japan will meet with President Ford Sept. 21 on his way north from official visits to Thailand and Mexico. Four days later, Italy's president will meet with Ford.

The White House announced Tuesday that Japanese Prime Minister Kakuei Tanaka will spend three hours in Washington to establish personal contact with Ford and discuss U.S.-Japan relations.

The White House also announced that Italian President Giovanni Leone has accepted Ford's invitation to visit Sept. 25, with his wife.

Henry starts talks

WASHINGTON (UPI) — Secretary of State Henry Kissinger today begins his fifth round of talks with foreign ministers who could help get the Middle East peace talks going again in Geneva.

Saudi Arabiam Foreign Minister Omar Sakkaf is due to arrive in Washington late today and meet with Kissinger in almost continuous sessions Thursday and Friday.

Sakkaf is No. 5 in the Middle East foreign minister pilgrimage within the last five weeks.

First year Israeli Foreign Minister Yigal Allon. He was followed by the foreign ministers of Jordan, Egypt and Syria, with Jordan's King Hussein dropping for a special session of his own with Kissinger and President Ford.

Kissinger and his visitors have given only the blindest estimates of the way the talks have been going.

"Encouraging, useful, helpful" are the usual phrases that Kissinger and the ministers have used.

There were indications that talks were proceeding in a promising way until last week, when both the Syrian foreign minister and Kissinger declined to meet with reporters at a crucial meeting and also failed to issue a communique.

Enough gas

WASHINGTON (UPI) — If current conditions prevail into next week, gasoline stations around the country will be able to supply labor-Day weekend motorists with enough fuel, the American Automobile Association said Tuesday.

The AAA said it has checked 4,801 gas stations in every state except Alaska and found that less than one station in 100 was out of fuel.

The Australian government has announced that all future military barracks will provide private room accommodations, for all, right down to privates.

US oil company holdings in Venezuela may be seized within 90 days

CARACAS (UPI) — U.S. oil company holdings in Venezuela may be nationalized within three months, President Carlos Andres Perez has announced that the industry will be nationalized within 10 to 12 months, but sources predict the 51-year-old chief of state could announce the takeover in December.

Nationalization would end 50 years of foreign oil company management of the industry, which now supplies a third of U.S. oil imports. Venezuela produces three million barrels of crude a day. The companies now hold some 5.4 million acres of oil fields, from which they have pumped more than 20 billion barrels of crude oil since 1917. Although the exact terms for takeover of the industry are still being drafted by a 36-member presidential commission, President Perez has said that the companies will be compensated for the unamortized part of their assets. The companies, headed by Exxon, Shell, Gulf and Mobil, have avoided any public protest on nationalization plans. Privately, they reason that they will still have some kind of role, even after nationalization. With more than 90 percent of its 22,000-man work force Venezuelan, the country is capable of running its industry within its frontiers, but the real problem lies in marketing

Venezuela's oil exports. With the exception of Shell, which has its international marketing based in Venezuela, the rest of the companies depend on their home offices. This means that there is a severe shortage of Venezuelan marketing experts. President Perez has repeatedly stated that Venezuela's traditional oil clients, mainly the United States and Canada, have nothing to fear from nationalization. He says that they will suffer no interruption of supply. While political sects admit privately that Venezuela will have to depend on multinational companies to market its oil immediately after nationalization, there has been no clear indication of the arrangements that will be made. Experienced observers feel that Venezuela will negotiate the right to market its oil with the companies in return for broad agreements including transfer of technology and administrative help as well as possible international oil marketing agreements.

Pocatello man seeks Gem post

BOISE (UPI) — Daniel "Danny" Daniels, Pocatello hotel operator, told United Press International today he will run for secretary of state on the Democratic ticket this fall. Daniels said he was confirmed as the party's nominee at a meeting of the State Executive Committee recently in Boise. He ran for the office unsuccessfully some 20 years ago and, in 1952, sought the Democratic nomination for state auditor. "What I'm primarily interested in is getting a good team for the governor," Daniels said. He said he wants to help Gov. Cecil D. Andrus get some legislative help to set an example for the federal government to help "cut inflation and reduce taxes." "Our number one problem is inflation, our second problem is crime," Daniels said in a telephone interview. "The other problems are a result of those two major problems." Daniels, general election opponent will be Republican Peter J. Conrath, now completing his seventh year in the office. Daniels, who has chaired Democratic central committees in three counties, was born in Malad and educated in public schools here and in Pocatello. He attended the University of Idaho Southern Branch (formerly of Idaho State University), has a bachelor of arts degree from the University of Southern California and a law degree from the University of Idaho. He also is a graduate of Link's Business College. Since July 1, 1950, he has been co-owner and operator of the Yellowstone Hotel in Pocatello. Daniels has lived at Malad, Pocatello, Twin Falls, Ketchum, Sun Valley, Hailey, Yuleta, Jerome and Boise. He has worked as an auditor, real estate broker and insurance agent. He was registrar, city clerk and a city council member at Ketchum, a justice of the peace at Ketchum and was secretary of the Ketchum Sun Valley Chamber of Commerce for 10 years. He also was an auditor for the U.S. Treasury Department, educational adviser with the Civilian Conservation Corps and a campus examiner for the U.S. Employment Compensation Commission. Daniels is married to Ruth Hamilton of Pocatello. When asked his age he said, "Let's wait and see."

FBI wants escapee

SANDPOINT, Idaho (UPI) — One of three men sought by authorities here in connection with a July 22 jailbreak is also wanted by the FBI for being absent without leave from the Navy, the Bonner County Sheriff's office said today. The man earlier identified as Steven Alexander also used an alias, the sheriff's office said, and has been identified by the FBI as Stefan Staskiewicz, 21, North Hollywood, Calif. Staskiewicz and Jesse R. O'Connell, 22, Lakeville, Ill., broke William Levitt out of the Bonner County Jail at Sandpoint, prompting an extensive search for the three by authorities for several weeks.

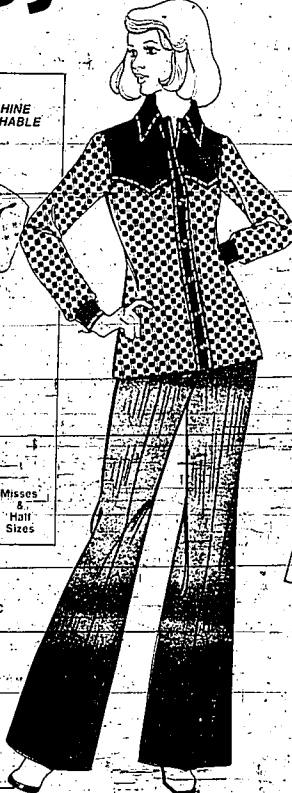

LEWISTON, Idaho (UPI) — Larry L. Kelley, 24, Lewiston, has been sentenced to 10 years in prison for second degree murder in the shooting death of another Lewiston man. District Judge Roger Swanson handed down the sentence for Kelley, who earlier pleaded guilty to the charge stemming from the March 31 death of Louis Edgar

Malone, Stars near final agreement

PETERSBURG, Va. (UPI) — Two-time high school All-American Moses Malone agreed to a multi-million dollar, long-term contract with the Utah Stars late Tuesday night and was scheduled to fly to New York Wednesday morning a few hours before he was to begin classes at the University of Maryland, for the formal signing that would make him the first high school player to be paid more than $1 million. Malone, whose father is a $100-a-week employee at a grocery store here, did not sign the agreement Tuesday night, saying that formally for a 20-year contract in New York.

mother, Mary, to go over the contract. Ferris said the Stars' offer was "substantially" in excess of a million dollars, and Malone himself indicated the minimum he would consider before jumping to the pros must be "three" and "a half million dollars" for 11 years.

Redskins release Thomas

CARLISLE, Pa. (UPI) — Washington Redskins Coach George Allen said today that he would not release controversial running back Duane Thomas Tuesday following a disagreement between Thomas and an assistant coach.

"We all tried to help Duane, the coaches and the entire organization," Allen said. "He has made considerable progress and he can help someone. He is in great condition. I like him very much and wish him good luck."

"He is talented, but talent alone is not good enough," Allen said. He said the disagreement between Thomas and the assistant coach occurred at Monday night's team meeting.

Thomas appeared to have found a home with the Redskins after Allen acquired him from the San Diego Chargers in 1974 in exchange for a first round draft choice in 1975 and a second round pick in 1976.

He started off in the pros with Dallas in 1970 and helped the Cowboys to a 24-7 win over Miami in Super Bowl VI by gaining 87 yards.

Cowboys lose end and kicker

DALLAS (UPI) — The Dallas Cowboys learned Tuesday they had lost linebacker Tom Fister for the season and that defensive end Fred Tomoy had signed a multi-year contract with the Birmingham-Americans of the World Football League effective in 1978.

Fister will undergo surgery Wednesday at the Shuster, Tex., clinic operated by Cowboy team physician Dr. Marvin Knight for torn ligaments in his left knee. He was injured last Saturday night when blocked on a kickoff in the loss to the New Orleans Saints.

Tomoy's ultimate departure to the Americans had been rumored for weeks.

Tennis champion

DOUBLES CHAMPIONS Lee Holmes, left, and Bill Steege, Boise, won the doubles title in the Magic Valley tennis tournament Sunday. Steege also was the men's singles champ.

Boise area players cop net titles

The singles championships left Magic Valley when Bill Steege, Boise, and Terraine Doerr, Caldwell, won them Sunday.

Steege defeated Lon McDonald, Jerome 6-2 and 6-2 for the men's singles crown while Mrs. Doerr dropped Jan Mitchell, Twin Falls, 6-2 and 6-3.

Mary Prentiss, Twin Falls, and Leon Smith combined to win the mixed doubles over Mary Lou Brown, San Marjorie, and McDonald, and Mary Prentiss shared in another when she and Mary Lou Brown defeated Carolyn Matlock, Twin Falls, and Carol, San Bernardino, 6-1, 6-4 for the women's doubles crown.

Steege and Lee Holmes dropped Leon Smith, Twin Falls, and McDonald 6-1, 6-3 in the men's doubles final.

SINGLES FINALS for women's in the Magic Valley tennis tournament saw Lorraine Doerr, Caldwell, right, defeating Jan Mitchell, Twin Falls, 6-2, 6-3 for the title.

Pioneer loop may expand

GREAT FALLS, Mont. (UPI) — The Pioneer Baseball League will have a new president and maybe two more teams next year, Great Falls Giants general manager Logan W. Hurbert said Tuesday.

The current league president, Claude Engbert of Ogden, Utah, is recovering from a massive stroke and will not remain in his post, Hurbert said, adding that he will not seek the job because he is recovering from open heart surgery.

Hurbert said league officials have been working this season to spark interest in expanding the league to six teams. He said Lethbridge and Calgary in Alberta, Canada, are "ready to go." He said Twin Falls, Idaho, wants back in the league, and Butte, Mont., has also expressed tentative interest.

There are currently four teams in the rookie league, but in 1977 there were six. Hurbert added that at least two major league teams, the St. Louis Cardinals and the Montreal Expos, have expressed interest in sponsoring a Pioneer League club.

Monzon to test other champ

MENDOZA, Argentina (UPI) — Carlos Monzon of Argentina, the World Boxing Association, (WBA) middleweight champion said Tuesday he hopes to fight Colombian Rodrigo Valdes, the World Boxing Council (WBC) champion before the end of the year.

Monzon made the remarks upon arrival in the western state of Mendoza for the premier of a film in which he stars. The 32-year-old boxer also mentioned the possibility of fighting in the light heavyweight class if Argentine Jorge Aruanda loses his Sept. 10 WBC title bout with John Conteh of Britain.

Hut walled in dispute

MEXICO CITY (UPI) — Margarita Jimenez woke up before dawn Tuesday to discover that the doors and windows of her rented single-story dwelling had been walled in.

Neighbors answering her shouts pulled away freshly laid bricks in the morning, to find Margarita bleeding from the hands and feet after struggling for hours to fight her way out of the hut.

A newspaper said Miss Jimenez was imprisoned on purpose by a landlord angered by Miss Jimenez' legal fight to block a rent increase from $20 to $32. The newspaper quoted police as saying the landlord ordered a workman to wall the hut up with its occupant inside.

Dodgers belt Cubs to protect loop lead

LOS ANGELES (UPI)—Jimmy Wynn's 29th homer of the year drove in two runs in the fourth inning and Bill Buckner and Joe Ferguson connected for solo shots Tuesday night to power the Los Angeles Dodgers to a 12-5 victory over the Chicago Cubs.

The National League's Western Division leaders had to battle back from early deficits of 2-0 and 7-1 in the eighth to retain their three-game advantage over second-place Cincinnati.

Billingham, now 16-8, scattered seven hits to become the National League's first game winner this season. Dick Ruthven, 6-11, took the loss.

"I heard the noise but a lot of the other parks are bigger and you hear more noise," said Torres, who got back in the rotation and started his first game since Aug. 6.

SAN DIEGO (UPI)—Willie McCovee and Dave Winfield tagged Bob Gibson for solo homers Tuesday night as the San Diego Padres outlasted the St. Louis Cardinals 12-1.

Stars challenging Florida for lead in WFL east race

By United Press International
Aside from a defeat in Birmingham, the New York Stars have been the hottest team in the World Football League, during the last five weeks, and they've put themselves in prime position to catch up with the Eastern Division leaders from Florida.

New York, riding a five-game winning streak after opening with two defeats, travels to Houston Wednesday night for a return engagement

With the Texans, who are 2-4-1. The Stars, following a 3-1 trouncing of Houston last week, now have a 9-2 record, leaving them one game behind the Florida Blazers.

Florida, although it will beat home for a third consecutive game, is up against a tougher opponent Wednesday night in the Memphis Seaflames, who have converted the league's top-producing offensive machine into a 5-2 record.

In the other Wednesday night action, the two remaining winless teams in the WFL will try again to get into the start column. The Portland Storm, with one tie to show for seven outings, will be at Southern California and the Detroit Wheels, who are 0-7, are at Philadelphia.

The best matchup will be seen on national television Thursday night when Birmingham, 7-4, is at Chicago's Soldier Field for a dual with the 6-1 Fire

In a game last Sunday, Jacksonville beat the Hawaiians 14-0.

Stars' quarterback Bob Gladue, enjoyed a banner game against Houston—last week, personally carrying the ball over for three touchdowns and passing for a fourth to turn a catch as the WFL Player of the Week.

New York leads the WFL in rushing offense while Houston ranks second in pass defense. Richmond Flowers, a veteran defensive back, is expected to make his debut for the Texans, for whom he will be a wide receiver.

NCAA champion, veteran claim U.S. amateur golf victories

RIDGEWOOD, N.J. (UPI)—NCAA champion Curtis Strange survived his own erratic play to win a second round match Tuesday in the U.S. Amateur Golf Championship, but his Wake Forest teammate, Jay Haas, was eliminated in the day's biggest upset.

"I was lucky as hell," Strange said. "I didn't think I could play this badly."

The 19-year-old Strange, who has won a half-dozen major amateur titles this summer since becoming the second freshman to win the National Collegiate championship, ousted Art Nesb of Kent State, 2-1.

Bill Campbell, the 31-year-old insurance agent from Huntington, W. Va., who was playing in his first National Amateur, he was the winner in 1964, also advanced in one of the longest matches in the tournament's history.

making double bogeys at the second and third holes.

He missed the green at the 17th and second, and needed four to get down. Then at the 556-yard third, Strange four-putted from 20 feet, knocking his first putt down a hill and 30 feet beyond the hole.

He finally caught up at the 40-yard eighth, drilling an eight-foot to within a foot of the hole for a birdie, then won nine, 10 and 11 with pugs to go ahead for good.

"I'm not pleased," Strange said.

"I've been playing six straight months now and after all that time, I ought to be playing better. Instead I'm getting worse."

Strange's victories this summer since the NCAA, including the prestigious Western Amateur title, where he beat his good friend, Haas, in a sudden-death.

Tuesday, Haas took an early 1-up lead on Brauch but lost the fifth, sixth and seventh holes and never caught up.

Other second round winners included 1973 Canadian Amateur champion George Burns, who beat Leo Spooner of Duluth, Minn., 5 and 4, and Bill Hendman, 11-10, the National Senior champion, who eliminated Bruce Furman.

NFL will compete without contract

CHICAGO (UPI) — National Football League teams will play the regular season at full strength, although the players' strike has not been settled, negotiators agreed Tuesday.

The negotiations session was recessed for an indefinite period when representatives of the teams and the players failed to reach a settlement.

The players' representatives, by a vote of 25-1, rejected an offer made Tuesday by management representatives and another side would yield in a night session.

The player representatives, after rejecting the new contract offer, voted to continue the "cooling-off" period under which striking players would enter training camp for an indefinite period, meanwhile they will attempt to negotiate a contract.

Players' Association Executive Director Ed Garvey said the extension of the cooling-off period was the intention of the players, that the regular season games be played without intervention.

Chief Federal Mediator W. J. Casey began meeting with players and owners Tuesday shortly after a player representative from every club and some alternate player reps had a separate session.

Casey met with the owners and players separately in a

Tuesday morning session which was concluded in less than two hours after an 11-hour negotiating session Monday.

He said there were "several difficult issues to still resolve," indicating that both sides still would have to yield in some respects to obtain a settlement.

Still remaining as major points of difference when Monday's meeting began were disputes in the option clause, trades, waivers, the standard player contract, arbitration and various economic demands.

Agreement had been reached on 14 categories under negotiation.

Intrepid wins race, trails in series

NEWPORT, R.I. (UPI) — Gerry Driscoll on Intrepid beat embattled helmsman Dennis Cramer on Courageous by two seconds in the 12th Tuesday and went on to take the new aluminum 12-meter yacht by one minute and 12 seconds in their America's Cup U.S. trials.

Courageous now leads by 4-2 in head-to-head racing in these final trials, in which the New York Yacht Club Selection Committee must choose the defender by Sept. 3. The Cup races, almost certainly with Southern Cross of Australia as the challenger, start Sept. 10. The Aussies lead France 3-0 in their best-of-seven series, and the two foreign yachts took the day off Tuesday.

Sommer became the center of attention Monday night when Alan Bond, head of the Southern Cross syndicate, attacked his appointment as starting helmsman for Courageous. Cramer had been helmsman for Valiant and Mariner, two U.S. contenders now eliminated, earlier in the summer, and had been impressive and aggressive in his starts.

Bond called Cramer's style "routinized tactics, degrading to the dignity of the America's Cup."

Angels nip Tigers 7-6 in 13th

DETROIT (UPI) — Bill Oliver's sacrifice fly with one out in the 13th inning, his third RBI of the game, pinned John Hiller with his ninth defeat instead of a record-tying 10th victory Tuesday night when the California Angels defeated the Detroit Tigers 7-6.

Hiller was shooting for the league record of 16 wins by a "ruth" pitcher. Dick Klatofz of Boston in 1964 when he gave up a double to Elbie Rodriguez to start the 13th. Hiller tried to get Rodriguez off third on a sacrifice bunt by Bob Rose but his throw was late and Oliver followed with his sacrifice fly.

KANSAS CITY, (UPI) — George Brett drove in three runs and Hal McKee sparked a seven-run first inning with a double, one of five for the night, Tuesday as the Kansas City Royals routed the Cleveland Indians 13-2 in the second game of a rain-delayed twilight doubleheader.

Manager says Ali may require 10-11 rounds to deck Norton

DEER PARK, Pa. (UPI) — Angelo Dundee, Muhammad Ali's trainer, disagrees with Ali's prediction that George Foreman will be knocked out in eight rounds when Muhammad seeks to regain the heavyweight crown in Zaire on Sept. 25.

"His bright little eyes, glistening behind overlarge, egg-shaped glasses, Angelo was holding forth in the coffee shop of the motel at the foot of Muhammad's Mountain, after watching his charge complete yet another strenuous workout in the tiny gymnasium."

"Now of course Foreman's point is, of that there's no doubt, but I think (Ali) take in maybe 11 rounds, before it's finished for Foreman. I just hope George lights my man the way he fought Joe Frazier and Ken Norton. That's all Ali needs."

"Look," Dundee continued, then paused for sipping an astonishing concoction of orange juice, ice cream and honey set before him in a tuxedo high glass. "Look, Ali is so confident he's the greatest of all time, and nothing is going to stop him. Nothing. You have no idea — well, maybe you do how great it is, pride."

But it won't be pride alone that will make Ali champion of the world once again, adding the "recognized champion" to his own self-announced "people's champion" laurel.

"Everything is working in our favor," Angelo grinned.

"The climate's no problem for Ali. He's worked in my place in Miami in weather just as hot, just as humid as it will be in Kinshasa. Foreman's the one who'll get it. Big man, do you know?"

"And will Ali ever psyche him? Believe me, he'll get to Big George. He gets to everybody, starting with Sonny Liston and going right down the line."

"Another thing — All this about Foreman's big punching power. He hits down. He clubs the other guy. But people forget that Ali is exactly the same height as Foreman, and also has the reach on him. His reach is 80 inches, a foot and a half more than Foreman's. But to me, so important is the fact that George can hit down, not Muhammad."

Florida State isn't worried about slap

TALLAHASSEE, Fla. (UPI) — Florida State University Athletic Director John Bridges said Tuesday the National Collegiate Athletic Association (N.C.A.A.) reprimand of FSU will not affect the Seminoles' recruiting program.

The N.C.A.A. Monday placed the FSU Athletic Department on one year's probation because the university failed to follow proper administrative procedures while "smuggling financial aid" to two athletes. It also criticized the school for allowing the football team to practice in the off-season under coaches' supervision.

The N.C.A.A. said Florida State can continue to receive funds from commercial television coverage and can participate in interscholastic competition.

Bridges' "30-day" news conference the probation is a minor form of discipline and will not hinder the operation of the FSU Athletic Department.

"There was no intent on the part of any individual in our athletic program to purposely violate the N.C.A.A. rules," said Bridges. "It was simply a case of negligence. The only effect is the stigma attached to being on probation for a year."

He said he expects no recruiting difficulties when explaining the probation to prospective high school and junior college athletes.

Proxmire calls NFL owners Simon-Legree

WASHINGTON (UPI) — Sen. William Proxmire, considering a possible congressional inquiry, Tuesday called owners of professional sports teams "Simon-Legree's" who make second-class critics out of their players.

"The Wisconsin Democrat said it was time to recognize professional sports as big business and treat it as any other free enterprise."

"Tax advantages, antitrust exemptions, reserve clauses, some tax-supported stadiums and a cavalier attitude toward labor organizations — these are the benefits enjoyed by the owners of big-time sports enterprises that other businesses just don't have."

Proxmire added that he was considering a study-by-a-subcommittee of Congress' Joint Economic Committee "as soon as possible" to look at sports as business.

Proxmire was highly critical of the reserve clause which binds a player to a club.

"Thanks to the reserve clause, professional team owners are playing Simon-Legree's to the players' Topsy," he said. "It keeps players from getting the highest salaries they can fit in the marketplace supposedly so that there will be better balanced leagues for fans to watch."

"Athletes: the reserve clause benefits the owners and creates a second class group of citizens."

Possible feed grain cutbacks discussed by Butz, Europeans

WASHINGTON (UPI)—U.S. and European farm officials met Tuesday in what one spokesman termed a "first summit" to discuss potential cutbacks in American sales of livestock feed grain to Western Europe.

The meeting between Agriculture Secretary Earl Butz and Petrus Van Duijn, director of the European Common Market, followed an announcement by Butz Monday that the administration plans to encourage U.S. farm output next year in hopes of slowing down the increase in domestic food prices and rebuild shrunken grain reserves.

The meeting between Butz and Van Duijn also focused on other problems such as food aid for developing nations in a world of disappointing total world food production, an aide said.

Dealer prices on beans told

DENVER (UPI)—Dealer selling prices for dry edible beans during the week of Aug. 21 have been released by the Agricultural Market Inspector.

Prices are given for 100-pound bags of ear and truck lots for good U.S. No. 1, cleaned and longed, top specified rate area, with comparison to year ago.

Prices, Colorado, northern, 14 to 15.00; southern, 14 to 15.00; southeastern, 14 to 15.00; supplies insufficient to establish market value.

Prices, Colorado, northern, 14 to 15.00; southern, 14 to 15.00; southeastern, 14 to 15.00; supplies insufficient to establish market value.

Trade was limited to small lots for 30 to 40 days in the market. There was considerable inquiry for new crops and availability.

Only a few truckloads of profits were traded at unchanged prices. All crop supplies are virtually cleaned up.

Prices for great northern, 24.00 to 25.00; western, 24.00 to 25.00; supplies insufficient to establish market value.

Prices for great northern, 24.00 to 25.00; western, 24.00 to 25.00; supplies insufficient to establish market value.

Butz and his aides say they expect major foreign buyers including Japan and Europe to voluntarily reduce purchases in the coming year.

Butz's similar meeting last week between U.S. and Japanese officials, Agriculture Department spokesman reported after the Japanese meeting that expected a voluntary cut in grain exports to Japan during the coming year.

DEAR ABBY: I identified with that woman who wrote in saying we should try to be more patient with our elderly parents.

I am trying to be patient with a mother who is at times quite exasperating. However, not all elderly people are the same. Some of Mother's contemporaries are charming and quite remarkable.

I do believe that as we grow older, we should try to keep active and interested, so that we will be interesting to others.

For many years we had my wife's grandmother living with us, and now my mother-in-law, who is nearly 80, is making her home with us.

Charming senior

With my vast experience in dealing with the elderly I've been meaning to make a list of things to do and not do so that I will one day be a charming senior citizen, but with my lousy memory will probably fail, and I won't be able to find the list.

DEAR GETTING: Thanks. You've given me an idea. I'll make up a list from the experience of others. My own parents weren't lucky enough to become senior citizens. And my husband's parents are in their 70's but more beautiful, independent and ageless couple I've never known.

DEAR ABBY: My husband's business partner, who is a fine young man of 29, recently married a 20-year-old girl. She was very promiscuous before they met, but he probably knows nothing about it as he is a newcomer to this town. Being pretty, she "swept him off his feet" and they married after a whirlwind romance.

She is pregnant, and it wouldn't surprise me one bit if her husband wasn't even the baby's father. I heard that shortly after their marriage she was seen with another man.

We must see them socially, which is very painful, as we because we know about her background. My husband and I are torn between telling this best friend and business partner the truth and keeping quiet. Please tell us how to cope with the situation.

NO ADDRESS, PLEASE
DEAR NO ADDRESS: Keep quiet, of course. And don't believe everything you hear. The gossip could be entirely without foundation.

DEAR ABBY: A poor, homely type girl became impregnated by a married man who had no intention of leaving his wife and marrying her. The poor girl says it's too late for an abortion, but the father-of-the-unborn suggested that she have the baby and let him and his wife adopt it as they were childless and desperately wanted a child.

This would have been a perfect solution to everybody's problem. But you say "no," and even have the gall to suggest that the child be handed over to an adoption agency.

How can you be so narrow-minded? Any child born under such circumstances would rather be in a home with its biological father than in a "nice" home with adopted strangers.

Are you so arrogant that you think you can play "God" with people's lives with your often-biased advice? It seems to me that you need a little advice yourself.

DEAR MR. F.: What assurance have you that after this unwed mother hands over the child to the man with whom she's in love (a "detail" you ignored) she will simply disappear forever?

I have received many letters from people who have been a party to such a deal, much to their regret. If one could eliminate one factor—the natural mother's emotionalism, you would be right. But one can't.

Everyone has a problem. What's yours? For a personal reply, write to ABBY, Box No. 69700, L.A., Calif. 90069. Enclose a stamped, self-addressed envelope, please. For Abby's booklet, "How to Have a Lovely Wedding," send $1 to Abigail Van Buren, 132 Leaky Dr., Beverly Hills, Cal. 90212.

Young driver

SAN FRANCISCO (UPI) — Finna Perry, 3, has discovered for herself why she shouldn't fool with Daddy's car.

Finna moved into the driver's seat Monday while left alone in the car.

She apparently released the emergency brake and the 1968 Cadillac dropped down a 40-foot cliff into a neighbor's yard. Finna escaped unhurt.

Soda listed twice

TWIN FALLS — The recipe for "Applet Cakes" in Monday's issue of the Times-News lists one teaspoon of soda twice in the ingredient list.

The recipe calls for only one teaspoon of soda. The second listing should be ignored. The Times-News regrets the error.

It is even easier to get there after a one-heart opening by North, but only one-card majorite would open the North hand with one spade. The heart suit just might be missed as the bidding went forward.

Not that the heart suit should be missed. Any two bidders should reach that heart game on any system and would wind up losing two diamonds and one heart.

Yesterday was said that you definitely should not open one spade with four cards each in spades and clubs. Our center rule for other hands with two four-card suits is when you hold four diamonds and four clubs in one club, with four hearts and four diamonds to open a diamond, unless your hearts are very good with clubs and other major to open one club and with spades and hearts to top one heart.

In addition we also open three-card club suits with hands like today's. We do hold four cards each in

Couple exchanges promises

TWIN FALLS—Katherine K. Thorne and Ronald W. Jesser were united in marriage Aug. 27 at the Christian Center.

The bride is the daughter of Mrs. L. Z. Rezer, Mahomet, Ill., and Dale Thorne, Richmond, Calif. The bridegroom is the son of Mr. and Mrs. George Jesser, Twin Falls.

Pastor Sheridan Slagel performed the double-ring ceremony before an arch of candelabra decorated with baby's breath, yellow, pink, blue and lavender flowers with white tapered candles, which were lighted by Lennie Jesser, brother of the bridegroom, and Andrea Wildman, cousin of the bride.

The bridegroom sang to the bride as she came to the aisle. She wore an Hawaiian styled long gown of ivory crystalline. The yoke of the gown was an inset of lace and seed pearls with tiny accent lace and seed pearls turned the standing collar.

The bride carried a rainbow bouquet of yellow roses, pink and white carnations, lavender and flowers, blue bachelor buttons, white stephanotis filled with baby's breath and tied with ivory streamers.

piece of the room. Soloists were Cand Freeman, Mrs. Randy Shank and Dennis Hollies who wrote and composed songs especially for the bride and bridegroom. Mrs. Clifford Shelby, was the toast.

The couple were served communion and given a blessing by Tracy Hansen. The communion table was decorated with a floral centerpiece of rainbow colors and three tapered candles, an antique glass tablet and host of bread on a silver platter.

Following the ceremony a reception was held at the YM-YWCA Hall.

The bride's table was pink with a yellow face overlay on which rested a four-tiered cake of pink, yellow, blue and lavender.

Mrs. Sheridan Slagel and Mrs. Don Jesser served the cake, minis and naps. Terry Johnson served coffee and Pam Mason served punch. Mrs. H. Schultz and Mrs. Bill Plastic trees?

SOUTH LAKE TAHOE, Calif.—UPI—Plastic trees and shrubs may soon invade the scenic, forested Tahoe Basin. If certain highway planners have their way.

The plan, already approved by the Chamber of Commerce, calls for using plastic plants for landscaping—the highway entrance to South Lake Tahoe. Proponents of the plan say the fake foliage is needed because there is no water in the highway's center divider strip to keep real plants alive.

But opponents contend that water would still be needed to wash dust and auto exhaust residue off the plastic shrubs to keep them from turning into an ugly brown eyesore.

"On the face of it, the project is absurd. The great natural forests of the Tahoe Basin would become the laughing stock of the country," said Larry Aloss, the Sierra Club's conservation director.

US forest offenders mail fines

SALMON — Individuals involved in petty offenses on US Forest Service lands can now pay their fines by mail.

Alan Caraway, Boise, special agent for the forest service, said the new system will save a person from having to go before a federal magistrate in many instances.

"On the other hand we don't have to file a formal complaint on every violation. In lieu of that we just issue violation notices and paying a fine by mail indicates a nolo contendere plea.

Caraway was here Aug. 22 and conducted a training session for forest service employees on-the-job by mail fine system.

The system is being initiated on order of the US District Court.

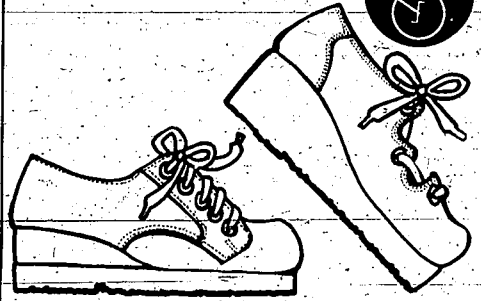

In the past, the forest service issued violation notices to persons clearly violating federal regulations. These violations were opposed by a tortured collateral or a request for hearing.

The training session was held to give forest personnel information to operate under the federal court order. The order was effective July 1 and applies only to petty offenses.

Caraway handles law enforcement for forests in southern Idaho and the Bridger-Teton in Wyoming.

Food aid regulation proposed

SAN FRANCISCO (UPI)—Regional Social Security officials here "recommended" Tuesday a new eligibility proposal under the food stamp program.

Any person who wishes to retain food stamp eligibility must, under the U.S. Department of Agriculture proposals, accept a job requiring he or she join a recognized labor organization recognized by the National Labor Relations Act.

Public comments are being invited on the proposed regulations. Written comments should be mailed to Royal Shupp, Acting Director, Food Stamp Division, Food and Nutrition Services, U.S. Department of Agriculture, Washington, D.C. 20250. Such comments must be received no later than Sept. 30.

The proposed order should require the food stamp recipient to join a company union. They also require the recipient to register for and accept employment.

Buhl team wins two places

BURL—The Buhl Knight Riders Jamboree Club took two third places in jamboree competition at Burley last weekend. Gail Collier, club reporter, said today.

The Buhl group placed in the cloverleaf and seven barrel races. He said 24 teams competed from the Wood River Jamboree and the Eastern Idaho Jamboree Associations.

The Buhl club also held a weekend trail ride in the Baker Creek area north of Ketchikan with 19 members and guests participating.

This is the first year the Buhl Knight Riders participated in the Wood River Jamboree Association which has just completed its season. Nine valley riding clubs belong to the association.

Monthly potluck supper meetings for the Buhl Riders have been postponed until October Gatherings.

What's What

L. M. Boyd

Am asked what sort of gun fired the first shot in the American Revolutionary War. A pistol, that was. At Lexington, Mass. in 1775. One Maj. Pitcairn, that was the commander of some British troops there, told the gathering of American patriots to scatter. They ignored him. He lost his cool, pulled his pistol, and fired into their midst. That did it!

A FALLING BRAINDROP changes its shape 16 times per second. DID YOU KNOW an elephant's heart would fill a bushel bucket? MAN is the only animal who'll eat with an enemy.

YOU SAY you've never heard of a nomenclature? That's a collector of oddball names. The monks of a people called Smallpox Dingle, Gardens Salad, Hit Crag, garrulous Cromwell, such as these should find their way into the files of a nomenclature.

PREHISTORIC MAN

Q. "What's the best guess of the scholars as to the life span of the average prehistoric man?"
A. About 18 years is the most common estimate.

IF THAT GIRL is the youngest child in her family, she's a poorer marriage risk than are her older sisters. Of so a pair of sociologists have reported. They studied more than 500 married couples, some of whom eventually divorced. The proportion of those divorced wives who were youngest daughters seemed just too high for mere coincidence.

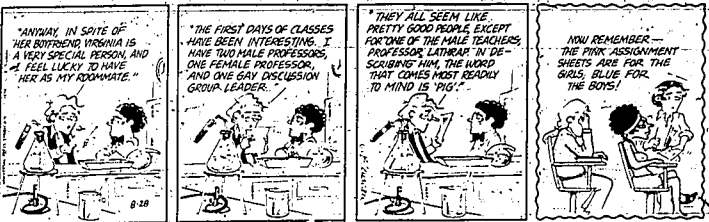

IT TAKES a newborn rabbit only six days to double its weight.

NAMES

You won't find one in a thousand who recognizes the name of Arnold Dorsey, now known as Engelbert Humperdinck. SAYS MR. HESTON about that monkier Charlton: "my mother's maiden name."
WHAT YOU didn't know? That the Berra called "Yogi" started out as "Lawrence Peter".
THE RENOWNED Mr. Hope didn't change his name to Bob from lex until school comparisons started calling him "Hoppeles".
AND BUDDY HACKETT began as "Leonard Hucker." Incidentally, it was his father who invented the convertible sofa. I'm told.

WAS A FRENCHMAN named Nicholas Appert who first devised a way to preserve food in sealed glass jars. In 1795, Bad food kept poisoning Napoleon Bonaparte's soldiers. So the French government offered a prize to solve the situation. Appert, that clever fellow, won.
