today in brief

Rocky oath rite Thursday

WASHINGTON (UPI) — Nelson A. Rockefeller will be sworn in as the nation's 41st vice president on Thursday, promptly after he is confirmed by the House, top congressional leaders said today.

The swearing-in ceremony will be held in the Senate and will be televised nationally, according to Assistant Democratic leader Robert C. Byrd. The White House said President Ford will attend, but is not expected to address the lawmakers.

Meanwhile, it was disclosed today that Secretary of State Henry A. Kissinger told the House Judiciary Committee that he never discussed national security wiretaps with Rockefeller.

Delays appeal

MEDIA, Pa., (UPI) — An appeal by former United Mine Workers Union president W.A. Boyle of his first degree murder conviction has been postponed until Feb. 17 because of the firing of the prosecutor in the case.

A county court judge postponed the appeal hearing Monday, at the request of Special Prosecutor Richard A. Sprague and defense attorney A. Charles Donato.

Leaders briefed

PRESIDENT FORD met with Congressional leaders at the White House today, briefing them on his summit meeting with French President Giscard. With Ford is House Majority Leader Thomas P. O'Neill. He was also informed that Senate House conferees on the $2.7 billion foreign aid bill have agreed to resume U.S. military aid to Turkey until Feb. 5. (Analysis of Martinique summit, p. 10.) (UPI)

U.N. demands S. African withdrawal

UNITED NATIONS (UPI) — The Security Council decided unanimously today to demand a solemn commitment from South Africa to withdraw from Namibia (South-West Africa). In a resolution adopted 15-0, the council condemned "the continued illegal occupation of Namibia by South Africa" and the South African policy of racial discrimination in the territory.

If South Africa fails to comply in the council's demand, the resolution specifies, the council will take "appropriate measures" under the U.N. charter.

Boston keeps 4 high schools closed

BOSTON (UPI) — Four high schools in the racially troubled South Boston-Roxbury complex remained closed today in the wake of a violent outbreak last week. But three elementary schools and a middle school reopened.

The decision to keep the high schools closed came Monday after the Boston School Committee refused by a 3-2 vote to approve a court-ordered plan to integrate all 200 of the city's public schools by September.

Still closed were South Boston High School, the I. Street Annex, the Hart-Deen School and Roxbury High School. Reopened were Gavin Middle School and the three elementary schools — Andrew, Perkins and O'Reilly.

Aids politicos

SACRAMENTO, Calif. (UPI) — Howard Hughes contributed more than $50,000 to the campaigns of 65 Democratic and Republican candidates just prior to California's general election, campaign spending reports show.

According to the reports made public Monday, among the largest contributions by the mysterious tycoon was $3,000 given to Houston L. Flannery, the unsuccessful Republican nominee for governor.

Last sextuplet slightly improved

SAN JOSE, Calif. (UPI) — The condition of the only surviving Lange sextuplet improved slightly Monday, officials at Valley Medical Center reported.

Jolene Lange, who is nine days old and weighs just over two pounds, continued to have mild respiratory problems. She was the first of six premature babies born Dec. 8 to Mrs. Charlotte Lange, wife of an armored truck driver.

Korean court upholds death decree

SEOUL (UPI) — South Korea's supreme court today upheld the death sentence for Moon Seok-wan, the convicted assassin of President Park Chung-hee's wife.

Unless Park pardons him or reduces the sentence, Moon will be hanged in six months.

Moon, a 23-year-old Korean living in Osaka, Japan, was sentenced to death by an appeals court Nov. 20. He appealed to the high court two days later.

He attempted to assassinate Park during a public meeting in Seoul Aug. 15. Park was unhurt but his wife and a teenage girl were killed.

Polls open until 8 p.m. in CSI board election

The California State Institute (CSI) board election polls are open until 8 p.m. today. Voters must be registered and at least 18 years old. The election is for the board of trustees of the Southern Idaho College of Education. Candidates include Jerome Craig, incumbent, and Allen Duane Pierson, both from Jerome. Other candidates are David Woodhead and Leon Wright, both from Twin Falls; Dr. Charles Lehmann and George Anthony, both from Boise; and Henry Brock, Castleford.

REED MAUGHAN offers plan

TF Council leaves anti-hazard plan in limbo

By Dick LABAREUS
Times News writer
TWIN FALLS — Magistrate Court Judge Reed Maughan appeared to the Twin Falls City Council Monday night to correct city traffic hazards. But after extended debate the council left the matter in limbo.

Maughan asked the city to restrict parking near intersections, put up more signs, reduce speed limits along Blue Lakes Boulevard North, require more access to shopping centers and reduce left turns at key intersections during rush hours.

"The suit the city has a higher traffic accident rate than other Idaho cities of similar size. Several councilmen supported Maughan's recommendations, however, the council adjourned and immediately met in an unannounced special session from which the public was excluded.

Councilman Leon Smith, an attorney, twice asked whether the city's placement of parking spaces next to stop signs and crosswalks is illegal. If so, he said, the city should take immediate action to eliminate such parking.

Simon hints call near for new tax surcharge

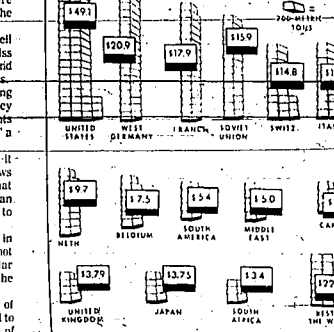

WASHINGTON (UPI) — The administration is considering a renewal of its call for a 5 per cent income tax surcharge, Treasury Secretary William E. Simon said today.

"If the surtax is most clearly going to be an option we will give the President next week," Simon said in testimony to the Senate Budget Committee.

While emphasizing that President Ford had made no decisions about the economic package he will present to the Congress early next year, Simon appeared to dispute hints from the White House and others in the administration that the surtax was now a dead issue.

Simon also emphasized that the administration had not abandoned its policies of fiscal discipline — sometimes called "the old-time religion" — despite a deepening recession.

WASHINGTON (UPI) — The administration is considering a renewal of its call for a 5 per cent income tax surcharge, Treasury Secretary William E. Simon said today.

Under the surtax proposal, the portion of individual earnings above $7,500 — $15,000 for a family — would be subject to the 5 per cent surtax. It was designed, according to the administration, to place a portion of the burden of fighting inflation on those who could afford it.

Idaho could boost hydro power 8-fold

BY BILL LAZARUS
Times-News Writer

TWIN FALLS—Idaho could increase its hydroelectric generation of peak power by more than eight-fold.

But only about four per cent of that potential power is likely to be developed in the foreseeable future, according to Verli King, Idaho Water Resource Board planner.

Environmental concerns have blocked most plans to harness Idaho's rivers for electricity and lack of federal funds has indefinitely stalled some specific projects, King says.

A resource board study prepared by Idaho Power Co. in 1970, showed that Idaho's peak hydroelectric capacity totaled 13 million kilowatts while the undeveloped peak was a whopping 124 million kilowatts at that time.

Since then only one major hydroelectric project has been completed in Idaho, King says. Dworshak Dam, built by the U.S. Army Corp. of Engineers on the Clearwater River near Orofino, will be capable of producing up to 400,000 kilowatts of electricity.

A dam on the Tetón River is now being completed by the U.S. Bureau of Reclamation and will have a hydroelectric capacity of 200,000 kilowatts.

Power from both these federal projects will be fed into the Bonneville Power Administration system, King says.

In its 1970 study, the bureau reported that even though about 75 per cent of the state's potential hydropower lies in the Clearwater and Salmon River drainages, development of these areas is unlikely due to "public conservation policies."

But the report did mention 10 projects which might be underfaken. Together, the projects would add double the state's hydroelectric production and would increase its peaking capability three to four times.

Two of these proposed projects are the Dworshak and Tetón hydroelectric plants. The other proposals fared less well.

With two exceptions, none of the proposed projects are now being planned, Kings says.

The exceptions are at Swan Falls-Goffery on the Snake River in western Idaho and at the proposed American Falls replacement dam. Together the dams could produce 22,000 kilowatts of power. But even these projects are under negotiation and not certain, Kings says.

A proposal to build a 1.5-million-kilowatt capacity plant on the Middle Snake at Mountain Sheep is still being considered but has little chance since national legislation is likely to prohibit damming the area.

BALTIMORE (UPI) — Nathan Polanski says anyone who's 76 would understand why he objects to women running around naked — and why he's taken a part-time job paying him $30 a day to look at dirty movies for the Maryland Board of Censors.

"I needed something to do," Polanski explained Monday after he was selected as one of nine part-time censors who will monitor "S" and "R" rated movies for the board. "I'm on Social Security and that doesn't get me enough money."

White Christmas

CHRISTMAS in Sun Valley will be welcomed by a blanket of white snow and holiday visitors from near and far. Sleighrides are a popular pastime for visitors as well as the Torchlight Parade at dusk Christmas Eve, a 35-year-old tradition when ski school instructors wind down Dollar Mountain with lighted torches followed by Santa's arrival in the Village Square.

Agency seeks addresses for 36

TWIN FALLS — The U.S. Department of Labor is looking for 36 "unlocated individuals" in Idaho to pay them back wages.

The last known address of 14 of the persons are in the Magic Valley.

The federal agency is holding about $2,000 for the individuals, representing back wages owed in minimum wage or overtime cases.

Those with Magic Valley addresses include:

Delphino Castro, Jose Chavez, Victoriano Fernandez, Jose McFamley and Ismael Nunez, all Rupert; Mario Balderras, Lorenzo Corrales and Jose Romero, all Burley; Ken Booth Jr., Anley James and Leslie James Sol, all Fairfield; John Harder, Twin Falls; Robert Gardells, Kimberly; and Daniel Cline, Glenns Ferry.

They should write to the Department of Labor, Employment Standards Administration, 2009 Smith Tower, 506 Second Ave., Seattle, Wash. 98104, or telephone (206) 442-1536 to collect the money due them.

BPW holds party

TWIN FALLS — The Twin Falls Business and Professional Women had a Christmas party Sunday at the Rogerson Hotel Roundup Room.

LaVerna Rudolph, president, gave the welcome and read a holiday poem. Members from the "Bible-Burley" and "Magic Valley" churches sang.

Barbara Carlson, program chairman introduced Jennie Hatchford who spoke about Christmas customs in foreign countries. Mrs. Hatchford, accompanied by Helen Allen sang carols which originated in all corners of the countries.

Everyone present joined in singing some of the more familiar carols.

A food basket for a needy family was prepared. Use of money to purchase clothing for this family was approved.

Lois Adamson and Geila Miller assisted Mrs. Carlson with the decorations.

Holiday events set

TWIN FALLS — The Magic Valley-YMCA's Christmas Fun Club will meet eight times during the holidays.

Daily activities for boys and girls in the first through fourth grades will include games, crafts, stories, songs and special programs. Pre-registrations now are being accepted and sign-ups can be made by calling the Y office at 733-4323.

Barbara Upton will direct the annual program for the second year. She is an education major and senior at the University of Idaho.

Holiday party held

SHOSHONE — A Christmas party was held at the Wood River Convalescent Center, with open house from 2 to 4 p.m. Sunday.

Hospital staff members, instead of their own gift exchange, chose to draw names of patients at the center thus providing each with a gift under a brightly decorated tree.

The program featured songs by Ham and Geraldine Wallace, Cindy Bergin and Sandra Kidner, and Mrs. Marvin Haysler and Mrs. Melvin Haysler, accompanists.

Woman backs power plant

Editor, Times-News:
A recent letter to your paper, contributed by Mary Hillingsley, ACCAIO, Boise, expresses interest. She asserts she is a second generation Idahoan who is no longer proud to be so designated and condemns apathy on the part of those who would permit Idaho to become another Georgia through installation of a coal-fired power plant.

"Then she lashes out at a major utility in our state, one which has served us all well for many years—the Idaho Power Co. as a large corporation with vast amounts of money to spend to benefit their own, biased views to the public."

"In a breathless diatribe with their well paid 'experts' and ill founded facts:"

This corporation derives its only income from the power it is able to generate and make available to all who live here and this public utility has served us well, efficiently and at reasonable cost. I say this as one who has spent little time outside our state for more than a half century, most of my life being spent in the areas of Idaho Falls, Emmett, Jerome, and Boise. I write not as a "returnee" to Idaho.

I certainly shall write to the Idaho Public Utilities Commission, Boise, and Idaho newspapers, as Ms. Hillingsley suggests. But I shall request that Idaho Power Co. be allowed to build the coal-fired generating plant it proposes.

The PUC makes it mandatory that all the people of Idaho be served at the least possible cost and surely it should satisfy the Idaho Conservation League, so highly lauded by Ms. Hillingsley, that if and when the PUC grants a license to the power company, the plant must be built to meet Environmental Protection Agency standards and eventually a license to operate it will be granted by the Department of Health, Education and Welfare.

What more guarantees do the conservation league desire?

I note representatives of this league presented their case against Idaho Power Co. and the proposed plant at the Jerome Kiwanis Club on December 5th. On the 6th the Idaho Chamber of Commerce voted unanimously to support the power company's proposal, following several weeks of study and after opposition opinion had been presented by a local environmentalist.

Idaho communities have been similarly visited by "experts" speaking on behalf of the league.

What does ACCAIO, appended to the Hillingsley letter, stand for? What is the Idaho Conservation League and who are their members?

Who finances trips to their "experts" disseminating "ill founded facts" in an attempt to "brainwash" Idahoans to a rejection of the

YOUR GOOD HEALTH

Finding right answer major task

Dear Dr. Thosteson: I guess you might say my daughter was the opposite of Mrs. P.H.S.'s. Mine had plenty of sleep, lots of outside play, quiet time, no messy habits and bed. But her appetite was poor and we had troublesome headaches here.

On top of that she was the weepiest, crankiest personality a child could be. "Where did I go wrong?" I would cry to myself, until I realized that I had tried everything I could think of to help the child.

Finally I laid the problem of her behavior right on the source—her, not me. After a long talk during which I pointed out things she could do to make life easier for everyone, she began to see the light.

It was not an overnight miracle, but it has made her aware of the responsibility for herself.—M.L.

A most interesting letter and you put your finger on what may well be the most difficult task a doctor has to meet. That's the need to find the right answer to a problem, not an answer that more or less fits a case.

For example, sometimes it takes careful observation, a high sense of suspicion, and some special tests to tell

Idaho Power's proposal for a coal plant designed to generate the electricity necessary to serve us.

Please note that the terminology in quotes is what was used in the Hillingsley letter as being applicable to the Idaho Power Co.—a grossly unfair attack in the opinion of an Idahoan who is proud to be so designated.

This letter is much longer than the word limit specified for many Idaho papers accepting Letters to the Editors, but not as long as the Hillingsley letter published. So I trust it will be acceptable in this respect.

Mother wants father there

Editor, Times-News:
To the Magie Valley Memorial Hospital Obstetrics and Gynecology Committee:

I am writing this in regard to what you consider a "considerable burden" to decide if fathers should be allowed in the delivery rooms.

What burden? All you have to provide is a scrubbing area, a cap, mask and gown and a chair for dad to sit on while he holds his wife's hand during the delivery.

What do you think? That every man is going to go and interfere with your procedure?

My husband was present for all labor and delivery last year when we had our first baby in a Washington hospital. He had had no prenatal classes, just the consent of our doctor.

There was no waiting room frustration for him, especially at times during the long wait when "nothing much" is going on. After our baby girl was born, he accompanied the doctor while the baby was examined.

We are planning our second child immediately. In the next couple of months and there is no question that we will consider traveling a great distance away from home and our doctor just to get admitted into a hospital where that is considered part of the most wonderful miracle of life—the birth of a son or daughter.

No wonder more and more birthing areas being performed at home where a father has the right to make his own decision whether to be present or not.

Come out of the dark ages, Magie Valley Memorial Hospital. You'll find it won't hurt too much at all.

Surplus funds make Idaho lucky state

(Editor's Note: This is the seventh in a series of special dispatches previewing the first regular session of the 43rd Idaho Legislature.)

BY ROBERT VAN BUSKIRK
BOISE (UPI)—Surplus funds in Idaho's general fund are not looked upon as something bad by most state legislators and they feel nothing should be done to prevent them.

They contend Idaho is lucky to be in such a position since many states are having trouble making ends meet.

"The surplus should not be looked upon as something evil," Senate Majority Leader Phil Hatt, R-Idaho, said. "The state has been fortunate in being able to take care of some of its obligations during the past few years."

Hatt added that "leaner times are no doubt coming."

If the state continues to have a surplus, most legislators answering a UPI poll contend that it can always be used to provide tax relief, to fund education, to pay off the indebtedness to the endowment fund or to provide other needs. "A majority called for tax relief."

While most felt that the surplus reflected a healthy economy, and no steps should be taken to prevent a surplus, there were some like Rep. E.V. McLean, R-Ketchum, and Sen. Dave Little, R-Emmett, who said surpluses shouldn't occur.

Although McLean said they shouldn't arise, he added that if they do "the people should get a refund. Just like the workmen's compensation fund with $16 million surplus that's absolutely unbound government policy; or should be."

Sen. Dane Watkins, R-Idaho Falls, said the surpluses of the past two years have shown there has been an "over taxation." He said that "part of this money should be given to people who can't least afford the tax of inflation—people on fixed incomes."

Rep. Larry Jackson, R-

Boise, said the surpluses have been the result of "inflation and a blossoming Idaho economy" and it appeared if surpluses are available "some of it will be needed to keep pace with inflation" with some going for tax relief.

McLean said surpluses "should not be allowed to occur" although it was difficult to predict needed revenues "in a rising and inflated economy."

Rep. Perry Swisher, D-Pocatello, said in an open economy some surplus or deficit was unavoidable. He said, however, the size of surpluses "chronic since 1965 could be reduced by the self-discipline of not lying in the [revenue] projections."

Finding right answer major task

Dear Dr. Thosteson: I guess you might say my daughter was the opposite of Mrs. P.H.S.'s. Mine had plenty of sleep, lots of outside play, quiet time, no messy habits and bed. But her appetite was poor and we had troublesome headaches here.

On top of that she was the weepiest, crankiest personality a child could be. "Where did I go wrong?" I would cry to myself, until I realized that I had tried everything I could think of to help the child.

Finally I laid the problem of her behavior right on the source—her, not me. After a long talk during which I pointed out things she could do to make life easier for everyone, she began to see the light.

It was not an overnight miracle, but it has made her aware of the responsibility for herself.—M.L.

A most interesting letter and you put your finger on what may well be the most difficult task a doctor has to meet. That's the need to find the right answer to a problem, not an answer that more or less fits a case.

For example, sometimes it takes careful observation, a high sense of suspicion, and some special tests to tell

Gas squeeze hits east

By United Press International
The nation's energy crunch which had motorists lined up for scarce gasoline last winter has slashed into the nation's natural gas supplies this winter.

Gas supplies will be cut off Monday in Tennessee, Virginia, New Jersey, and Westchester County in New York.

Industrial users will bear the brunt of the curbs, touching off the possibility of more layoffs in an already crowded unemployment line.

A prolonged cold spell could put the gas squeeze on in other areas of the country.

"Natural gas is probably right now the critical fuel as far as shortages are concerned," a spokesman for the Arlette Gas Pipeline Co. said.

He said that wherever temperatures could drop to the teens, and natural gas is used, there would be shortages. Prolonged cold spells, he said, could lead to factory and school closings.

The East Tennessee Natural Gas Co. cut back supplies of natural gas to customers in Middle and East Tennessee and in Virginia by an average of 40 per cent.

Thomas I. Bell, president of the utility, said the curbs involved virtually every town in East Tennessee and that industrial users would be hardest hit.

The Aluminum Company of America, one of East Tennessee's largest customers, warned of possible economic repercussions.

"If we can't switch to an alternate fuel—oil or coal—there will be a very heavy layoff," an ALCOA spokesman said.

AICOA employees about 5,800 workers in the area.

Bell blamed delays in tying onto new wells, a higher than expected decline in deliveries, being inside a gas line in the Gulf of Mexico and Hurricane Carmen's damage last summer in the natural gas fields of the southwest for the curbs.

Abuses in nursing home cited

(C) New York Times Service
WASHINGTON — A Senate subcommittee cited Monday numerous instances of maltreatment of the nation's nursing homes and attributed such treatment chiefly to the "deeply negative attitude toward aging in the United States."

The subcommittee on long-term care, in the first of nine reports in support of its belief that half of the estimated 2.9 million homes in the country are substandard, described abuses ranging from deliberate injury to profiteering.

In proposing a series of traditional legislative and administrative remedies, it also decried the "basic societal drive to isolate and remove from view the diseased and the handicapped." The Senators added:

"The negative image of nursing homes in the country is the responsibility of owners and administrators of facilities. Nor is it entirely the fault of government bureaucrats who have neglected to establish standards and minimum protections."

Unfortunately, the panel suggested, old people are the victims of "a particularly potent form of bigotry" founded on what one witness called a "distaste for growing old, disease, disability, fear of powerlessness, uselessness, and death."

The subcommittee said that there had been at least 50 "major newspaper exposes" of nursing home problems over the last 10 years, and it reported that its own investigations paralleled the press findings.

At a home in Maine, the panel said, an aged patient who was "in a coma and taking too long to die" was smothered by an operator who "wanted to go on a shopping trip, but wanted to be present when the funeral director came."

Other abuses cited included the following:

— A Chicago patient died not from the heart condition that had paralyzed her but from the pneumonia she caught from a window carelessly left open.

— Despite a daughter's repeated pleas for staff attention to her mother, she watched her mother's feet blacken, and develop gangrene. It was finally amputated.

— A woman suffering from a 106-degree fever was found by a member of her family hunched in a chair. The patient died the next day.

— A subcommittee subpoena turned up evidence that one home spent 54 cents a day on meals, 10 cents less than the

Monday, are to cover such problems as the misuse of drugs in nursing facilities and the level of profits that homes enjoy.

— In an introductory report issued last month, the panel found that the government standards for nursing homes were vague and watered down and that their enforcement was left largely to the states, most of which did an inadequate job.

The subcommittee said that there are 1.2 million nursing-home beds, a number greater than those in general and surgical hospitals combined, and that one American in every five will spend some time in these institutions.

The committee's nine "supporting papers," in addition to the one published

Monday, are to cover such problems as the misuse of drugs in nursing facilities and the level of profits that homes enjoy.

Sioux Indians stake claim

LINCOLN, Neb.—(UPI)—The Sioux Indian nation has staked its claim to the western half of South Dakota by rights of an 1868 treaty and Indian lawyers say the government should get the white man off the land.

Arguments were aired Monday in a U.S. District Court hearing on the treaty rights—a hearing that is an outgrowth of the 71-day armed occupation of Wounded Knee, S.D., and the tumultuous trials which followed the incident.

Attorneys for the American Indian Movement contend that treaty rights give roughly half of South Dakota to the Indians. Consequently, they argue, federal agents had no business at Wounded Knee, S.D., and federal charges stemming from last year's takeover of the Pine Ridge Indian reservation, hunted-are-invalued and should be dropped.

But the treaty rights argument presents even graver considerations, voiced in the opening statement of John Thorne, a San Jose, Calif., attorney who is AIM's chief defense counsel in the treaty hearing.

In his opening statement, Thorne told Judge Warren Urbom that if the court ruled in favor of the Indians, the western half of South Dakota would be condemned—land owners reimbursed and the property returned to the Indians.

Or, he said, those living on the land could be allowed to remain there until their death, but without the right to pass on their property titles.

During that time, he said, those who opted to stay would pay taxes to the Sioux nation.

Thorne also pressed over some of the Wounded Knee trials but refused to allow attorneys to use the 1868 treaty as a defense.

Sentencing of six persons convicted in a series of trials stemming from the Wounded Knee takeover has been postponed pending the outcome of the hearing.

Diane Nelson, the special U.S. attorney handling the case, argued that the government believes jurisdiction over people within the United States' boundaries is not dependent upon any treaty.

He noted that there are other treaties which recognize the sovereignty of the United States government.

Viet papers 'explosive'

WASHINGTON (UPI) — Government documents taken from the house of Daniel Ellsberg say the government tried to give a false impression of progress in Vietnam just before the deadly Tet offensive.

The 75 pounds of papers are in the hands of Rep. William Moorhead, D-Pa., who calls them "explosive" and says his House subcommittee on Foreign Operations and Government Information will hold hearings on them in Washington.

"I'm just glad they're going to be the subject of hearings in Congress," said Ellsberg, the former Defense Department employee who admitted releasing the Pentagon Papers on American involvement in Vietnam to newspapers.

Among the material, he said at his home in Mill Valley, Calif., were "copies similar in support to the Pentagon papers that they showed a deliberate effort to manipulate public opinion to give a false impression of progress just prior to the Tet offensive in 1967."

Ellsberg said one of the officials involved "said of the cables that they not only should not have been classified at all, but they should not have been written and making them seem like signing the death warrant of many thousands of Americans and Vietnamese."

These new documents were taken about Oct. 1 from Ellsberg's Mill Valley home near San Francisco. Police investigating another Mill Valley burglary found the papers on Dec. 4.

U.S. Attorney James Browning tried to get the documents, arguing if they were government property he did not plan to return them.

Ellsberg personally approached the committee, Moorhead said, expressing concern that the documents might never be made public. Moorhead said his subcommittee intends to review the material and release as much as possible.

"The 'new' papers contain material on the Cuban missile crisis of the early 1960s and a 'well documented' draft of a book Ellsberg was writing.

Surrounded by four stacks of materials "each more than a foot high," Moorhead said Ellsberg has confined the new documents may be "potentially as significant as some material contained in the original Pentagon Papers."

Godfrey Isaacs, Sirhan's lawyer, said today that he planned to file an appeal with the California State Supreme Court calling for reopening of the case on the ground of new ballistic evidence. Isaacs said that his client had asked him to file such an appeal.

Isaacs said Sirhan is serving a life sentence in San Quentin prison for the assassination of Kennedy last in 1963 in a Los Angeles hotel on the night of the senator's victory in the California presidential primary.

Sirhan appeal planned

NEW YORK Times Service LOS ANGELES — Dist. Atty. Joseph P. Busch, whose office oversaw the investigation into the slaying of Sen. Robert F. Kennedy, said today he would reopen an inquiry into the murder only if a court, at the request of Sirhan B. Sirhan, Kennedy's convicted assassin, ordered it.

Blonde prosecutor, veteran lawyer clash

WASHINGTON (UPI) — All day long they jostled: The bald, gravelly defendant, 25 years a practicing lawyer, former counsel of the Department of Health, Education and Welfare, and former assistant attorney general — and the calm, blonde prosecutor, six years out of law school.

It seemed as much a personal contest as a crucial cross-examination in the Watergate cover-up trial, now edging toward its completion.

The defendant, Robert C. Mardian, 31, said he was an impatient man, adding with rare laughter that his wife of 20 years was hearing him admit it for the first time.

"I she would stop asking questions that indicate an answer that is inaccurate, I wouldn't have to do that," Mardian replied.

Sirica scolded both of them. "I've been very patient. I want you to answer these questions," the judge told Mardian.

What's going on here is too many arguments. I've had enough of that. I'm not just talking about you, but also about the prosecution. I've had enough of it and it's going to stop.

Alphabet bomber? Lawyer quarreling

LOS ANGELES (UPI) — Maharam Kurberg, the alleged "alphabet bomber" responsible for the deadliest aerial bombing in U.S. history, carried on a bizarre written exchange in court today, trying to fire his attorney.

Kurberg is awaiting a sanity hearing Jan. 2.

He faces three murder charges for allegedly planting a bomb that killed three and wounded 35 persons at Los Angeles International airport Aug. 26 and nine other bombings and arson charges.

Kurberg communicated with his lawyer by hurriedly scribbling inter- and hand-drawn them to a bailiff, trying to fire his attorney, Public Defender Gerald Chaloff.

The bailiff, each time, handed them to Chaloff, who read them to the judge, who in turn denied Chaloff's professional competence to Kurberg.

Kurberg insists he is a mute, although his hand-drawn and neighbors said that before his arrest he could converse with them.

Oakland's Stabler named UPI's AFC player of year

NEW YORK (UPI) — Ken Stabler, who led the Oakland Raiders to the best record in the National Football League this season and the favorite's role in the American Conference playoffs, is United Press International's AFC Player of the Year.

Stabler, the smooth-as-silk left-hander who ranks among the most accurate passers in the NFL, was named on 16 of the 39 ballots cast by UPI's panel of sports writers. Three from each AFC city. He beat out Cincinnati quarterback Ken Anderson, second with 10 votes.

The only other player to draw serious consideration was Denver running back O.J. Simpson, who drew 10 votes. Stabler's lead in the voting was 20-10.

Stabler is the fourth Oakland player to win the UPI award in its 13-year history. The first was Tom Watson, who won it in 1962 and is the only player to win it six years to capture the honor. Daryle Lamonica, the man Stabler displaced from his starting job last year, won it in 1969 and George Blanda captured it in 1970 with his game-winning heroics.

Stabler's selection ends a two-year hold on the award by O.J. Simpson, who won it in 1972 and 1973.

Simpson, a runaway winner the last two years, drew only one vote this season. The Raiders were 12-2 this year and the first team to clinch a division title and much of the credit belongs to Stabler. He ranked second in the conference to Anderson in passing and was the leader in touch-down passes with 26, by far the best in the league.

Perhaps his most spectacular performance this year came against Cincinnati, when with only 1:36 remaining and no time left, he heaved the Raiders almost the length of the field to set up the winning touchdown. It was a typical Stabler drive—cool and efficient.

Like most of the Raiders, who have known frustration in the playoffs, Stabler is looking forward to this year's postseason competition. Saturday's game against the Oakland Raiders and the Dolphins, they retain the home field advantage the following week against the winner of Sunday's Pittsburgh-Buffalo game for the AFC title and a berth in the Super Bowl.

"I don't set personal goals, number of completions, touch-down passes, things like that," says Stabler. "I'm a competitor. I want to win. The only goal you should have is to win. The ultimate win is the Super Bowl and if I'm the quarterback on the team that wins the Super Bowl, evidently I did something right along the way."

The frustration of the past has left its mark. "I've sat down and asked myself, 'what's keeping us out' and I can't come up with anything," Stabler said. "The team is super. We get in the playoffs and championships every year but we can't win the big games. I see that and I'm frustrated."

Oakland is hoping this is the year he finds that elusive answer.

Stabler's selection ends a two-year hold on the award by O.J. Simpson, who won it in 1972 and 1973.

Torrid Broncos rip Northern Colorado

BOISE (UPI) — Pat Hoke, Terry Miller and James Smith, each scoring 22 points, powered Boise State to a 115-90 win over Northern Colorado Monday night, as six Broncos finished the game in double figure scoring.

Boise State took the lead midway through the first half and held a 61-52 advantage at the intermission break. The Broncos kept piling it on in the second half and were out in front by as many as 26 points.

Behind Hoke, Miller and Hoke, freshman point guard Steve Connor added 15 points, Kip Newell had 12 and Trent Johnson 10.

Northern Colorado's Bob Fisks led all scorers with 21 points, on 12 field goals.

In the surprise of the night, Wendell's win was handed its first regular season defeat in a year by Jerome's Cox.

Limit of 20 entries set for Ky. Derby

LOUISVILLE, Ky. (UPI) — The Kentucky Derby, the nation's turf classic, has become such an overwhelming success in recent years that they've had to change the rules.

The Churchill Downs Board of Directors voted Monday to limit future Derby fields to no more than 20 thoroughbred 3-year-olds.

Last spring, it had been feared the number of entries for the 100th running of the Derby might force America's premiere horse race into two divisions. The 1974 Kentucky Derby field was reduced to 23 starters, however, by Derby day.

To avoid such a problem in the future, the board ruled that preference be given on the basis of lifetime earnings at the time of entry if more than 20 horses were entered.

With 23 colts in the field last May, some owners and trainers complained that the field was too unwieldy to give each horse a fair chance.

In setting his limit of 20 Derby starters, the board further stipulated that any entries eliminated from future fields would receive a full refund of nomination and entry fees totaling $1,192.

Spartans coast in

MARQUETTE, Mich. (UPI) — Sophomore forward Edgar Wilson scored six of his 10 points in an opening sport to boost Michigan State to a commanding 18-4 lead Monday night and the Spartans won on a jump. Northern Michigan 69-39.

Michigan State hiked its record to 4-0, while the Wildcats suffered their first loss in five games.

Northern Michigan missed 13 consecutive shots in a 10-minute span early in the game, but managed to nail within 36-37 halftime.

Needs scoreboard

LOS ANGELES (UPI) — UCLA Athletic Director J.D. Morgan can't find a scoreboard for the Pauley Pavilion.

"We're desperate," he said Monday. "If anyone knows where we can get one, I wish they'd call us."

Morgan said he had spent all day on the phone "asking around the country" to try to locate a replacement for the $20,000 scoreboard, which crashed to the floor at Pauley Friday.

The accident occurred only five minutes before the Bruins' basketball game was scheduled to practice. No one was injured, and the floor has been repaired.

Detroit wins

DETROIT (UPI) — Riley Dolsen and Terry Thomas combined for 40 points Monday night and the University of Detroit presented returning Coach Dick Vitale with an 82-69 win over Bowling Green, the Falcons' first loss in six games.

Vitale, who has been the "Twin coach" for two years, was released Monday from a Detroit hospital after being treated for a bleeding ulcer. He was on the bench for the first time in a week to watch his team hike its record to 3-2.

Devine to answer questions as first act as Irish coach

SOUTH BEND, Ind. (UPI) — Dan Devine was to meet the press today in his first official act as Notre Dame football coach and perhaps fill in the details of why he switched from coach of the Green Bay Packers to a pressure-packed college job.

Devine quit as coach and general manager of the Packers Monday, with one year to go on his initial five-year contract, to replace Ara Parseghian as inventor of the Fighting Irish. A Notre Dame spokesman said Devine signed a five-year agreement. Other terms of the agreement were not disclosed.

Parseghian resigned Sunday because he was "physically exhausted" and "emotionally drained" after 24 years as a college coach.

Obviously, Devine was hired by Notre Dame before he left the Packers. Parseghian said the Rev. Edmund J. Joyce, vice president of Notre Dame and chairman of the board in control of athletics, knew of his resignation in advance and thus had time to seek a replacement.

Devine's appointment was approved by the Irish athletic board Monday, shortly before resignation, which was accepted promptly by the executive committee. Devine did not attend the meeting at which Krause announced his selection to replace Parseghian.

Devine said he had turned down the Notre Dame job once previously, and it was known that he was among the candidates in 1963 when Parseghian was chosen and left Northwestern for Notre Dame.

Devine coached for 16 years in college with an overall record of 130-48 at Arizona State and Missouri, ranking 20th among the winningest college coaches. His 1957 Arizona State team was the first in school history to go unbeaten and he had one unbeaten team, in 1969, at Missouri. His Missouri teams won four bowl games the first time the Tigers ever triumphed in a postseason contest.

Krause said Notre Dame had "long been aware of Dan Devine's successful career at every level," and that Notre Dame "felt fortunate in getting a man of Dan's stature."

Parseghian meanwhile was working on plans for his last game as Notre Dame head coach, on the night of Dec. 31 in the Orange Bowl against unbeaten No. 1 ranked Alabama.

Following that game, he will work on the Notre Dame developmental program in a "non-athletic" capacity for a year, when he planned to review his status and determine whether he would want to return to coaching.

Devine, who will be 50 on Dec. 23, is approximately a year younger than Parseghian. Devine and his wife, the former Joanne Brookhart, have seven children.

Disenchantment hits Bengals as players ask to be traded

CINCINNATI (UPI) — Cincinnati Bengals veteran defensive end Ruyce Berry, disenchanting by what he calls management "problems" on the team, says he wants to be traded.

Berry, captain of the defensive unit five of the past six seasons, also claims two other unnamed players already have asked to be traded.

"Meanwhile, a local newspaper quotes an unnamed assistant coach as saying 'I've had it,' in declaring he will not back next year."

"The Bengals just lost their final three games of the season and finished with a 7-7 record, their worst in three years."

Creighton wins

OMAHA, Neb. (UPI) — Doug Brookhart hit a season high 32 points Monday night to lead Creighton to a surprisingly easy 81-69 victory over Southern Illinois.

Brookhart, a 6'9 senior, hit eight of 15 shots from the field and a perfect 16 of 16 from the free throw line as the Jays upped their record to 4-1.

Baseball awaits word to start Hunter derby

NEW YORK (UPI) — Commissioner Bowie Kuhn will get his turn at bat in the free agent case of Jim "Catfish" Hunter that has rocked the baseball establishment — and once he does, the bidding war in all its fury will be on the Oakland Athletics premier right-hander.

Kuhn, in a "better late than never" gesture, has told the baseball owners via telegram that any bidding for Hunter, who won his free agency from a neutral arbitrator Monday, would be considered tampering until an official ruling is handed down by the commissioner's office.

Of course, Kuhn has really only one way to rule on the Hunter case inasmuch as the arbitration proceeding, which Hunter used in presenting his case was set up by the baseball establishment.

And, had the commissioner acted earlier, before Hunter entered into arbitration — a compromise with A's owner Charles O. Finley might have been worked out which would have avoided what has now become a landmark "black eye" for the baseball establishment.

Nevertheless, the majority of baseball officials eager to land the four-time 20-victory Cy Young Award-winning hurler are keeping their checkbooks in tow until Kuhn has his final say.

"Yes, we received a telegram from the commissioner that in effect says arbitration can't make Hunter a free agent, only the commissioner of baseball can," acknowledged a Kansas City Royals' official late Monday afternoon.

"But even though the commissioner still has to rule him a free agent after considering the evidence and reviewing the fact, it seems like only a technical point."

Minnesota Twins' owner Calvin Griffith, although not expected to be in there bidding with the real heavy rollers like the Yankees, Mets, Red Sox and Dodgers, agreed that Kuhn still had to hand down the official word of Hunter's free agency.

"I would not attempt to contact Catfish Hunter about joining the club until the commissioner of baseball made an official statement on the situation," Griffith said.

"The announcement has come from the Players Association and I will await an advisory from the commissioner."

Hunter, who won his freedom when Finley breached his contract by failing to deposit $50,000 of the ace right-hander's $100,000 salary with an insurance company as a tax shelter, was in no hurry to negotiate what will surely wind up as a seven-figure deal.

"I'm going to listen to all the offers first," Hunter said from his home in Hertford, N.C.

As for whether any offer from Finley's would be considered tampering with the others, Hunter replied: "Sure, but he's going to have to match the other clubs. Yes, I'd go back if the money were right."

However, of his past history of stubbornness, Finley is not expected to join the bidding war for his "ex-pitcher." More likely, the strong-willed A's owner, who took the Yankees to court last winter over the legal rights to Manager Dick Williams, will turn again to the courts — in an effort to retain Hunter.

Meanwhile, amid the embarrassment of Kuhn and the rest of the club owners over the decision, the mood of the baseball establishment could best be summed up by San Diego Padres' President Hugh Downs.

Said Downs: "The decision was harsh, but the boy got a fair hearing and won."

Skorich resigns as coach of Cleveland

CLEVELAND (UPI) — The famous last words of any coach who has just been fired are: "You've got to win in this business and I didn't."

That's what Nick Skorich said Monday after Cleveland Browns' owner Art Modell dismissed him as head coach of the Browns the day after the team ended the season in club history with a 4-10 mark.

The final defeat Sunday, a 26-24 loss at Houston which was the Oilers' first victory over Cleveland, was not the last straw, according to Modell, who made his decision "in final form" 10 days to two weeks earlier.

But that loss gave the Browns their worst percentage ever, only their second losing season and their first basement finish in the AFC Central Division.

"With deep regret," Modell said at the start of a 15-minute joint appearance with Skorich at Cleveland Stadium, "I have asked my friend Nick Skorich to step aside as head coach."

"He has been asked to stay

Coin flip may give Dallas top choice for second year

DALLAS (UPI) — With the right flip of the coin, the Dallas Cowboys could become the first NFL team in 35 years to choose the No. 1 college player in the nation two years in a row.

Not since the Chicago Cardinals owned rights to the initial selection in 1939 and 1940 has a club been in position to pick first in the college draft two times running.

But the Cowboys can do just that if the New York Giants win the coin flip with the Baltimore Colts to determine the No. 1 drafting position in next month's player selections.

New York and Baltimore each finished with 2-12 records — worst in the NFL — and Dallas owns the Giants No. 1 pick for sending Craig Morton northward at midseason.

A coin flip to determine the No. 1 choice will be held in Miami during the week preceding the Pro Bowl game Jan. 20.

USC drops Houston strong front line

HOUSTON (UPI) — Center Clint Magnan hit 15 of 20 field goals and grabbed 10 rebounds to lead Southern California to a 59-36 victory over Houston Monday night and extend the Trojans' unbeaten string to five games.

Chapman, a 6-9 senior from Denver, joined the Trojans' strong front line, including Bob Trowbridge and John Lambert, in outbounding the Cougars 40-28.

Houston, 1-3, playing without leading rebounder Maurice Preston until the final minutes, fell behind early and trailed the fifth-ranked Trojans by five points at halftime.

McCutcheon wanted NFL rushing crown

LOS ANGELES (UPI) — Lawrence McCutcheon admits it. He wanted to win the National Football League rushing title.

Denver's Otis Armstrong wound up with that honor while McCutcheon had to settle for the National Football Conference ground gaining crown.

"I was a little disappointed," said the only player in Los Angeles' history to run for more than 1,000 yards in two consecutive seasons.

"I thought I had a shot at it. But I didn't get in the playoffs and have a crack at the Super Bowl than win the league's rushing championship."

McCutcheon, 24, led the NFL in rushing for five weeks this year, losing the lead to Armstrong after the Rams had wrapped up their second straight NFC West title. In the

Autopsy finds cause of death

OMAHA, Neb. (UPI) — A final autopsy report on 7-foot-11 Creighton University basketball star, Mike Heck, showed he died of a "cardiac standstill," authorities said Monday.

Heck, 20, a junior from Papillion, Neb., was found dead in his dormitory room early Dec. 5, within hours of a 90-minute practice session.

James J. Keenan, acting Douglas County coroner, said Heck's heart, which weighed 650 grams, was especially large.

Herron generated 38% of Pats' effectiveness

BOSTON (UPI) — What would the New England Patriots have been this season without Mack Herron?

About 38 per cent less effective.

Herron, the 5-5, 170-pound dynamo who was recruited from a Chicago jeans store 16 months ago, finished the season Sunday with a National Football League record of 2,444 yards in total offense.

He led the Patriots in all offensive categories — gaining 824 yards, averaging 17.1 receiving, 57 returning punts and 629 running back kick-offs — accounting for 38 per cent of the team's offensive output.

By piling up 185 yards in Sunday's season-ending loss to Miami, Herron topped Gale Sayers' 10-year-old total offense record by four yards.

"We're all so proud of Mack and his accomplishments," said New England Coach Chuck Fairbanks. "He broke a record set by a great player that stood for many years. And I'm happy the entire team had something to contribute to his efforts."

Karen Boyd, Twin Falls, cousin of the bride, was maid of honor. Laurie Sharp, Filer, sister of the bride, was junior bridesmaid. Jodi Johnson, Idaho Falls, cousin of the bride, was trainbearer. Ralph Andrews, Filer, was best man. David Cowger, brother of the bridegroom, and Robin Sharp, brother of the bride, both Filer, were ushers. Monte Johnson, Idaho Falls, cousin of the bride, was ringbearer. Dale Williams, Filer, was soloist. Mrs. Darrell Howard, Twin Falls, grandmother of the bride, was organist and accompanist.

The bride's table was covered with a sheer ruffled skirt over a yellow cloth. Guests were seated at quartet tables covered with orange and yellow fabric cloths. Hand-drawn centerpieces containing floating fall flowers were placed in the center of the tables.

Mrs. Eddie Howard, aunt of the bride, was in charge of gifts. Gift bearers were Selena and Julie Howard, Buhl, Salina, Okla.; Boise, Mrs. Louisa Crandall, Twin Falls, all cousins of the bride.

Special wedding guests were Joseph Howard, Chester, great-grandfather of the bride, and Mr. and Mrs. Charles O'Dell, Twin Falls, grandparents of the bridegroom.

In the early stages of civilization religious duty often served as a substitute for hygiene code. Among other things prohibited were food cut with a sword, dog meat, human meat, meat of carnivorous animals, of locusts, camels, and hairless or excessively hairy animals.

DEAR ABBY: I read a letter in your column from a student who was unfairly punished for defending himself against another kid who started a fight. You advised the boy who had been picked on to report the matter to the school authorities, since fighting on the school grounds was against the rules.

I disagree with you: Running to the authorities to tattletail is a coward's way out. That would only make the bully more determined to get even.

It's not the child who has run up against this situation, and the advice I gave them is as follows: "Never strike the first blow, but if the other guy does, then it's clearly a case of self defense, so you are perfectly justified in using anything handy (fists, feet, club, gun, knife, etc.) to wipe out the aggressor."

Father gives advice

If this happens, and my child is about to be punished, he is to call me, and I'll be at school within ten minutes, and if it's a case of self defense, nobody will punish my child without getting past me! My method may be crude, but it works.

DEAR FATHER: You claim to be a peaceful man who "detests violence," yet you suggest using a knife or gun! While exchanging blows may be justified in a case of self defense, no peaceful man would consider knifing or shooting one who threatens him unarmed.

DEAR ABBY: This morning when I got up, our house was icy cold! My husband asked me what the matter could be, and then I told him that I had had my bridge club over the day before. All the women in the club are between 35 and 55. One of the women got up and pushed the thermostat down - saying she was "burning up."

DEAR CELIA: So I'm complying. DEAR ABBY: A man signed "Bugged" objects to his wife writing him notes to remind him of important things.

I write my husband notes and keep the carbons so he can't say I did it. I doubt that he'll ever tell me to quit nagging him. Note writing is a lot easier than reminding him verbally. Besides, I find myself more than once he tells me to quit nagging him.

CONFIDENTIAL TO "UPSET IN PITTSBURGH": The Chuck who wanted to interview his wife in swinging did NOT live in Pennsylvania. Far from it. About 1,000 miles.

Everyone has a problem. What's yours? For a personal reply, write to ABBY: Box No. 69700, L.A., Calif. 90069. Enclose stamped self-addressed envelope, please.

A salesman of varied and lengthy experience says he'd rather work the floor in a carpet store than sell any other sort of commodity. "Women don't usually go into a carpet shop just to browse," he says. "Once they walk through that door, you can regard them as real prospects. But you need to treat them delicately and give them a lot of time. Carpet shoppers are sensitive and nervous. They're scared they'll make an expensive mistake."

FOOTBALL Q. "Who was the football lineman whose name you got pulled out a gun and shot the ball carrier?"

A. Can't come up with the fellow's name, but it happened on a November afternoon in 1918 at Henderson, Texas. That lineman not only missed his tackle, incidentally, he missed his shot. The bullet creased the running back, but didn't drop him short of the goal. It was his fifth touchdown of the day and he said he had already been hurt worse in earlier plays.

Every year some bright soul suggests that be done. The cardmakers have tried it. Repeatedly. The new color scheme won't sell. Players insist on black and red, nothing more.

Futures prices falling

Thursday, December 17, 1974 Times-News, Twin Falls, Idaho 17

NEW YORK (UPI) — The stock market, searching for stimulating news, opened lower Tuesday in moderately active trading on the New York Stock Exchange.

The Dow Jones Industrial average, which lost almost 6 points Monday, was off by 0.24 at 368.59, shortly after the opening. Declines led advances by 106 among the 481 issues crossing the 100.

Investors have adopted a wait-and-see attitude recently in light of the deepening recession. Analysts said there is uncertainty in Wall Street about how long the recession will last.

The Federal Reserve Board, confronted with inflation and recession at the same time, has eased its monetary policies, which should make money available.

Analysts have noted some institutions are cleaning up their portfolios for the new year, prompting some selling. Also there has been some oil embargo should another major war erupt.

Child diseases become threat

ATLANTA (UPI) — The untimely deaths of young children from polio, mumps, measles, rubella, diphtheria, lockjaw and whooping cough are becoming a threat again because of public apathy toward immunization.

Officials of the National Center for Disease Control say some of the diseases already are on the rise in some communities.

"This is a cause for concern and if we don't do a good job in reversing some of these trends, we are going to have some problems," said Dr. John Witte, director of the CDC's immunology division.

Witte said the immunization levels among preschool children have been dropping at an alarming rate during the past few years, particularly polio.

The immunization level against polio fell from a high of 84.1 per cent in 1967 to a low of 60.4 per cent last year, Witte said.

Fortunately, he said, there have been fewer cases of polio this year than in any year in the CDC's history despite the low level of immunization. There have been only five polio cases reported this year, compared to seven in 1973. The immunization level against measles currently is 61.2 per cent, with 16.6 per cent, mumps 34.77 per cent, and diphtheria, pertussis and tetanus 72.6 per cent, all down from last year, according to Don Stenhouse, a public health advisor in the immunology division.

The reasons for the drop, said Stenhouse, are that many young parents don't remember the one-time terror of these diseases and many doctors, because there are so few cases, are concentrating on cure rather than prevention.

Vaccines are available that will give almost 100 per cent protection against all of these diseases, and the CDC has become the coordinating office for a massive national effort to bring immunization levels up to 95-99 per cent.

Stenhouse said the campaign will concentrate on public and private health care providers and parents.

He said older children get the vaccines in public schools where they are required by law in most states, and a large part of the population, particularly men, received the vaccines through military service.

Adult women, however, are a large under-immunized group, he said.

Midwest oil price levels won't fall

BEIRUT (UPI) — Saudi Arabian Oil Minister Ahmed Zaki Yamani said Monday that cutting down oil consumption is the only way to bring prices down.

The Shah of Iran said oil prices have been stabilized.

Yamani, in an interview in the Beirut weekly Middle East Economic Survey, said Saudi Arabia favored some reduction in prices "but those who are calling for cuts of $2 to $4 a barrel are really being quite unrealistic."

"The focus should be recycling of oil revenues to help the balance of payments," he said.

He told the weekly that he did not think that attempts to force a lowering of oil prices by cutting down consumption as part of a confirmation strategy can work.

The Organization of Petroleum Exporting Countries can cut production by at least 25 per cent without financial damage to its members, whereas even a 10 per cent cut in consumption would be highly optimistic.

The Shah of Iran said in an interview published in Caracas, Venezuela, that "right now we've almost arrived at an authentic oil price."

"And I say 'almost' because what really counts is how much money it will cost to find an oil substitute for oil."

The Shah said oil would reach its "real value once the world appreciated the fact that petroleum is used not only for energy and heating but in the manufacture of plastics and other items."

He said that if a substitute is found for oil, then the present deposits could last up to 300 years instead of being depleted in 30 to 50 years.

The Organization of Petroleum Exporting Countries, of which Iran is a founding member, increased oil prices by 3.9 per cent last week for an average price of $10.12 a barrel. Last year, OPEC members quadrupled prices.

THE FOOD PEOPLE 'Who Care'

Auto-material costs level off

DETROIT (UPI) — The cost of materials used by Detroit automakers to build new cars has leveled off and may even be declining, General Motors survey shows. But don't expect any quick price cuts on 1975 model autos.

GM Chairman Thomas A. Murphy said in a Detroit Free Press interview Sunday that raw material costs jumped 42 per cent in the year ending this August.

Between Aug. 1 and Nov. 1, they held steady and then actually dropped slightly by Dec. 1.

The drop in the overall cost of raw materials — steel, rubber, aluminum and other items — may indicate inflation is winding down and this could spur consumer confidence in the economy, Murphy said.

Automakers could use an upsurge in consumer confidence to help get rid of a record supply of 1.75 million unsold cars. Auto output in December is the lowest in 23 years and 1974 auto production will be the lowest since 1962.

"I don't mean it (inflation) will suddenly go down to zero but it is coming down and it will continue to come down," Murphy said.

"I think that is going to give people some assurance that we're bringing them back into a buying frame of mind."

Murphy would not indicate when consumers might expect more cars to be sold, but he did not rule out.

"We are not going to overlook any possibility that might stimulate the market," Murphy said.

The lack of buyers for new cars means even more layoffs in the industry this week. New car sales in early December were off nearly 20 per cent with higher sales of inventory cars the one bright spot.

"Close to 117,000 auto workers will be off the job this week as the industry closes out its worst December production in 21 years before shutting for a Christmas-New Year's holiday."

"Twelve assembly plants and 150 engine plants will be closed the entire week."

Of the 116,840 hourly and salaried workers, 110,000 are on open-ended layoffs, not knowing when or if they will return to their jobs.

That figure will climb to 113,000 by Friday, including 6,000 white-collar workers laid off at Ford and GM, and will increase to at least 120,000 by the end of January — more than the 115,000 workers laid off during last winter's energy crisis.

Auto output in the first three months of 1975 is estimated at between 1.5 million and 1.7 million cars, the lowest in 17 years — and industry analysts expect more layoffs.

The 1.75 million cars on hand at the beginning of December were close to the total inventory even if all assembly lines were shut.

UN employees due pay hike

UNITED NATIONS (UPI) — Some 30,000 U.N. employees, already the highest paid civil servants in the world, are due for a $26 million pay raise Jan. 1, but the United States is mounting a last-ditch effort to stop the windfall.

The Soviet Union and most other Communist bloc nations have lined up with American efforts to block the 6 per cent salary increase, but the pay package was passed by the General Assembly's Budget Committee last week.

The vote was 52 to 21 with 12 abstentions. Those against included the United States, the Soviet Union, eight other Communist nations, France, Italy, Israel and a smattering of third world states.

The 138-member Assembly must vote on the raises Tuesday, the final day of this year's session. A two-thirds majority vote is needed for approval.

"We are attempting to get the one-third blocking that's required," one U.S. official said. "There is still a chance it won't go through."

The United Nations, which pays one-quarter of U.N. bills, calls the pay increase "inconsistent and inflationary" because they will raise salaries of U.N. staff an average 4.6 per cent above those of U.S. federal employees.

The United Nations' own guidelines call for staff salaries commensurate with those of the highest-paid national public service, currently the United States.

Cutoff pinches Northwest

BILLINGS, Mont. (UPI)—Operators of two large oil refineries here say Canada's plan to cut back crude oil exports to the U.S. may put Spokane and the inland Empire in a critical supply situation for the first time.

Earlier this month, Canadian Prime Minister Pierre Elliot Trudeau announced that Canada would cut off all Canadian exports to the U.S. by 1982. He said exports would begin dropping from 900,000 barrels a day to 700,000 barrels at the first of the year.

Officials of both Continental and Exxon, operators of the largest refineries in Billings, say the move is going to affect their operations.

A Continental spokesman said his company's Billings plant is 70 per cent dependent on Canadian crude, and said Continental may even be forced to shut down. Exxon says it is between 40 and 50 per cent dependent on Canadian imports.

Both the Continental and Exxon refineries are the major suppliers of petroleum products for the Spokane area.

So far, while other areas of the country have found themselves in critical supply situations, the Spokane area has generally been able to get enough petroleum to meet its needs.

Both the Continental and Exxon refineries handle 45,000 barrels of oil a day running at peak capacity.

More snow expected Wednesday

Twin Falls, northside, Burley-Rupert area: Clearing tonight, but with patches of valley fog. Increasing clouds and snow of rain likely again Wednesday. Low temperatures tonight in the mid 20s. Highs Wednesday near 40. Probability of measurable precipitation increasing to 70 per cent or more again Wednesday.

Halley, Camas Prairie, lower Wood River Valley: Clearing tonight, but with patches of valley fog. Increasing clouds and snow likely again Wednesday. Low temperatures tonight in the teens. Highs Wednesday in the 30s. Probability of measurable precipitation increasing to 70 per cent or more again Wednesday.

Synopsis: Fast moving Pacific storm systems will continue to move across Idaho at 24 to 36 hours intervals for the remainder of the week. One such storm moved through the Magic Valley area early this morning, about 12 hours ahead of schedule, and produced rain-snow at most stations. The most reported was one inch of snow at the weather service office near Kimberly and about one-half inch fell in the city of Twin Falls. Fairfield, Jerome and Buhl reported only traces of snow, while Hagerman received only rain. Mosters received only less than .05 of an inch. The next storm system expected Wednesday, seems likely to produce similar amounts.

New quotas sought

WASHINGTON (UPI)—Canadian egg producers are pressing their government to reinstate import quotas on American eggs, the Agriculture Department reported Monday.

"As a result, Ontario eggs are reportedly moving into other provinces, disrupting the Canadian Egg Marketing Agency's control of egg supplies and creating a provincial price war," the FAS said.

The import quotas were suspended in mid-September. Since then, American shipments to Canada have been increasing because Canadian prices had been higher than those in the U.S., the department's Foreign Agriculture Service said in a report.

The agency said shipments of American eggs to the provinces of Quebec and Ontario in recent weeks caused the Ontario Egg Marketing Board to reduce its guaranteed minimum price for Canadian farmers by 10 cents a dozen to 65 cents a dozen.
