Student protests spark Peru clashes

LIMA, Peru (UPI) — Hours after Peruvian army troops and tanks smashed into district police stations to drive out striking policemen, students marched in protest today, burning cars and buses in defiance of the government.

Smoke from the fires rose high over the streets of the downtown capital, now enjoying balmy summer weather. Downtown merchants closed their stores in fear of further violence.

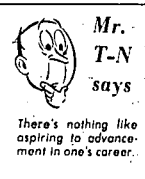

Plan outlined

ST. LOUIS (UPI) — Interior Secretary Rogers C.B. Morton said Tuesday Americans can expect gasoline price increases of 10 to 15 per cent before they level off. Morton also said the proposed excise tax on natural gas has been misinterpreted. It will have only a small and gradual effect on consumer cost since it is intended to spur interest in new gas well exploration.

Dunlop nominated for cabinet post

WASHINGTON (UPI) — John T. Dunlop, who managed President Richard M. Nixon's Cost of Living Council, will be named Secretary of Labor succeeding Peter J. Brennan, it was learned today.

President Ford has offered Brennan an ambassadorship in Ireland. But Brennan has not accepted so far and is expected to return to New York to resume a role in organized labor.

Mr. T-N says

There's nothing like aspiring to advancement in one's career.

Bella running

WASHINGTON (N.Y. Times) — Rep. Bella Abzug, D-N.Y., the feisty feminist, said she is a candidate for the Democratic nomination for the U.S. Senate seat now held by Conservative Republican James Buckley.

She said she is a candidate because "the state has to be represented by someone who cares about the people" and to pursue "all the issues that I've fought for."

Simon says economic slack needed

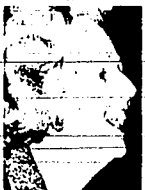

WASHINGTON (UPI) — Treasury Secretary William E. Simon warned today against "irresponsible" efforts to end the recession and said some slack must remain in the economy for years to avoid intensifying inflation.

Testifying before Congress' Joint Economic Committee, Simon also sought to reassure Americans that they are not headed for a depression.

Senate panel OK's stamp cut block

WASHINGTON (UPI) — The Senate Agriculture Committee today overwhelmingly approved a House-passed bill blocking an administration order to cut food stamp benefits to the needy on March 1.

The committee voted 11-2 to send the bill to the floor for passage later in the day provided the full Senate gives unanimous consent to take up the matter.

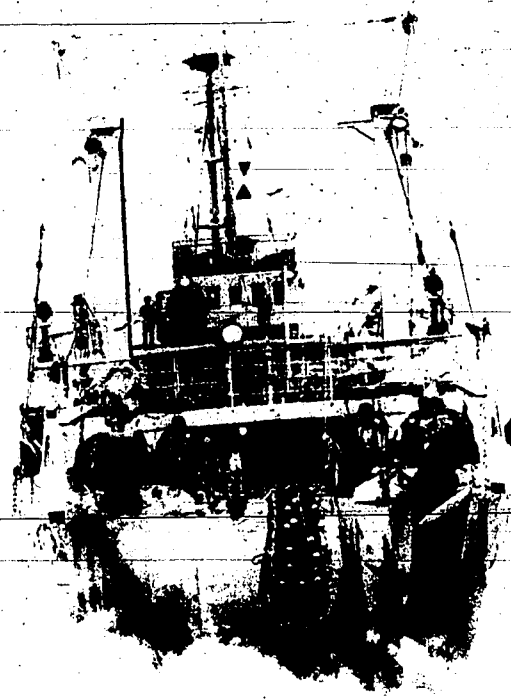

Woman PM?

LONDON (UPI) — Mrs. Margaret Thatcher, 49, could become Great Britain's first woman prime minister. She won leadership of the Conservative Party in a poll Tuesday but chairman William Whitelaw promptly announced she will run against her on the second ballot for the post next week. Bookmakers are quoting her as the 5-4 favorite to win.

Ford pledges Pakistan food aid

WASHINGTON (UPI) — President Ford told Pakistani Prime Minister Zulfikar Ali Bhutto today the United States will provide that drought stricken country with as much food aid as possible and also may end the U.S. military aid ban.

The two met for 70 minutes with Bhutto seeking thousands of tons of grain and also military aid — banned by the United States since the 1965 India-Pakistan War.

Fishery invasion

Canada, oil companies set tar sands refining

OTTAWA — The Canadian Government and two provinces announced Tuesday they would invest about $1.4 billion to name a project to extract oil from the Athabasca tar sands in Alberta.

Donald S. Macdonald, federal minister of energy, mines and resources, announced the agreement in the House of Commons.

Syncrude Canada, Ltd., a consortium of three United States oil companies formed to develop the tar sands, had threatened to drop the plan because inflation has caused cost costs to soar. The development, originally estimated to cost $2 billion, was expected to yield 125,000 barrels of oil a day when fully operative sometime after 1978.

A second one-year postponement has been disclosed in the timetable of a $1 billion plan to strip-mine United States deposits at Western end for conversion in non-polluting synthetic gas.

The three companies in the Syncrude consortium — Imperial Oil, Ltd., an Exxon subsidiary; Canada-Cities Service, Ltd., owned by the Cities Service Co. of Tulsa, Okla., and Gulf Canada, Ltd., a subsidiary of the Gulf Oil Corporation — had set a deadline of midnight last Friday for obtaining additional investment of $1 billion or abandoning the project.

Agreement on the contribution of government capital was reached in conferences Monday and Tuesday after the companies had eased the deadline. Operations have been costing the consortium about $2 million a day, an expenditure that the companies were unwilling to continue without further financing.

Atlantic-Richtfield Canada, Ltd., withdrew from the project last year, because of rising expenses, and the Shell Oil Co. declined an invitation to join the consortium.

Under the new agreement, the federal government will pay $80 million to the consortium for a 15 per cent interest in the enterprise. The province of Alberta will assume a 10 per cent ownership for an equity investment of $20 million and Ontario province will buy 5 per cent for $100 million.

US aides see more Turk help

WASHINGTON (UPI) — Government officials say they expect a resumption of U.S. military aid to Turkey sometime before the suspension could cause significant damage to NATO's southern flank.

The State Department interpreted the act of Congress which requires the aid cutoff as taking effect at midnight tonight.

Back-fire

TWIN FALLS — A Twin Falls store clerk was twirling a loaded pistol at work Tuesday night. Sure enough, he shot himself in the hand.

John Howard Rossman, 26, Twin Falls, told police he had been twirling the .25 caliber pistol at about 10:13 p.m. when he slapped the gun into the palm of his hand, causing the weapon to fire. Rossman was treated and released at Magic Valley Memorial Hospital. The bullet struck only soft tissue of the hand, attendants said.

Arab investing hits $11 billion

WASHINGTON (UPI) — Members of the Organization of Petroleum Exporting Countries have invested $11 billion of their new oil earnings in the United States, Treasury Secretary William E. Simon told Congress today.

These investments, particularly by the Arabs, recently have given rise to fears that the oil producers could gain too much control of American business. Sen. Harrison Williams, D-N.J., has introduced a bill to limit such investments in industries where they would run counter to the national interest.

President Ford told a news conference Tuesday that the State Department and the National Security Council are studying the question. "It is a matter, I think, that will require our best analysis and probably a final decision by myself," he said.

But Simon expressed no dismay over the level of OPEC investment in U.S. business, which has always sought similar investments abroad.

He said the 13 OPEC nations last year received about $90 billion from their oil sales — four times what they earned in 1973. Other exports brought them about $5 billion, raising their total receipts to $95 billion, he said.

Of that sum the oil producing countries spent about $16 billion on imports and invested $70 billion.

About 18.5 per cent, or $11 billion, was invested in the United States, Simon said. He said figures available to the Treasury show that about $6 billion was invested in U.S. government securities, about $4 billion in bank deposits or other bank issues and "as best we can tell, less than $1 billion was invested in property and equities in this country."

In the first direct Arab takeover of a major American enterprise, Saudi Arabia's Ghali Pharoan, son of an adviser to King Faisal, earlier this week bought control of Detroit's $1 billion Bank of the Commonwealth.

Pan American Airways also has confirmed that the Shah of Iran has offered to help bail out that financially troubled airline.

Testifying before Congress' Joint Economic Committee, Simon gave this further breakdown of OPEC investments:

—About $21 billion was deposited in banks in Europe.

—About $7.5 billion is believed to have been invested in the United Kingdom, either in banks, government securities or corporate stocks.

—About $5.5 billion may have been loaned by OPEC countries in "official and quasi-official institutions" in countries other than the United States and Great Britain.

—About $1.5 billion was invested in such international institutions as the World Bank or the International Monetary Fund.

—Perhaps $2.5 billion was invested in developing countries, including such institutions as the Kuwait Fund and the Arab Bank for Africa.

Egypt, Soviets seeking fresh start at Geneva

By United Press International
Egypt and the Soviet Union called today for an "overall" Middle East settlement that would include all parties involved, including the Palestine Liberation Organization, and all problems stemming from the conflict.

A joint Soviet-Egyptian communique issued at the end of an official visit to Cairo by Soviet Foreign Minister Andrei A. Gromyko said, "Only such a settlement can correspond to the vital interests of all the states and peoples of the region, and their endeavor to live in permanent and guaranteed peace and security."

It said the Soviet Union and Egypt believe that the Geneva Middle East peace conference is the most appropriate place for discussing all aspects of the settlement and that "The two sides, therefore, call for an immediate resumption of the conference, with the participation of all concerned parties."

Despite the call for resumption of the Geneva conference, diplomatic sources in Cairo said Gromyko had not judged Sadat from his support for Secretary of State Henry A. Kissinger's step-by-step approach to a settlement before the Geneva meeting resumes. Kissinger is expected to visit Israel, Egypt and Syria next week.

Washington reports said Gromyko and Kissinger would meet in Geneva after Kissinger's latest swing to discuss the current stage of Arab-Israeli talks and that the meeting would demonstrate there is no effort on the part of the United States to isolate the Russians from attempts to reach a settlement.

Diplomatic sources in both Cairo and London said Gromyko promised military aid to Sadat but far less than Sadat needs. The London sources said he improved Egyptian-Russian relations but failed to put the Soviet Union on an equal footing with the U.S. peace moves.

"The Soviet Union and Egypt reiterate their conviction that the Geneva peace conference is the most likely forum to discuss all aspects of a settlement," the communique said. "The two sides call for an immediate resumption of the conference with the participation of the parties concerned."

Ford plans re-election bid in 1976

WASHINGTON (UPI) — President Ford will seek election to a full term in 1976, regardless of the state of the economy, his chief spokesman said today.

"The President's decision to seek election in 1976 is unrelated to the state of the economy," said White House Press Secretary Roy Rosen, elaborating on Ford's own statement at a news conference in Atlanta Tuesday.

Furthermore, Nessen said he knew of no circumstances under which Ford would change his mind.

Nessen raised the subject with reporters without being asked. "Somehow it has gotten around that he would run if the economy is good and might not if it is bad," Nessen said of Ford. "That is not true."

Wearing it out

RIGHT IN STEP with the times, Alan Greenspan, chairman of the President's economic advisers, displays a hole in the sole of his shoe while waiting for a press briefing to start in Washington, D.C., Tuesday. Greenspan said recession and unemployment will worsen in coming months. (UPI)

TF grocery prices dip

TWIN FALLS — The Twin Falls price of groceries fell sharply during January, bringing pleasant relief from the upward march of food prices.

According to a Times-News survey of 20 items at five Twin Falls supermarkets, prices fell 1.4 per cent during January.

However, prices of a full 18 per cent above a year ago. Lower prices for sugar, meat and eggs during January helped lower the average price of a market basket.

Ground beef is selling at a average of 60 cents a pound, down from an average of 64 cents last month.

Sugar, the recent culprit in high food prices, is selling at an average of $5.31 for 10 pounds, down from $5.52 last month. One store had a special on sugar, which helped bring prices, already lower, much lower still.

Potatoes rose dramatically in one store, but stayed about the same in the other four surveyed.

They are at a low of about 89 cents for a 10-pound bag compared to a high of $1.50 for the same amount last June.

Bacon took a big jump. One brand surveyed went from $1.35 a pound last month to $1.43 a pound in January.

Last year saw sharp increases during January, in contrast to this year's decline. Prices rose sharply during the first five months of 1974, then rose steeply in May. But during the summer prices tended to stabilize.

Then in November and December prices shot upward again at record rates, jumping a total of about 9 per cent in the two months.

The January figures were encouraging to housewives because it suggests both a break in the recent dramatic price increases, and also goes against the usual seasonal price increase during the winter.

Capacity crowds attend jamboree

BY NORMA HERZINGER

TWIN FALLS — Capacity crowds jammed the CSI Fine Arts Auditorium Monday and Tuesday nights for the 14th annual Country Music Jamboree.

Extra chairs had to be set up for country music fans arriving after 7:45 p.m. but no one seemed to mind as the tapping music began.

Merle Shoffard from the Magic Valley Easter Seal Center, along with some of the country music artists, welcomed the fans and served as usher. Zeb Bell was master of ceremonies both nights, with Rudy Williamson and Gene Bosserman co-directing the shows.

Several newcomers to the Magic Valley country music scene included several singles, Dee Lang, Filer; Ken Heltenback, Twin Falls, and Wes Stewart Jr., Mountain Home Air Force base; the Brassons — Reuben Branson, Sharlene Stauffer, Sherry Woolstenhulme and Iray Branson — who did some outstanding harmony work, and a real crowd pleaser, Buzz Goertzen, Twin Falls.

All proceeds from the various fund-raising events and jamborees are given to worthy organizations which serve the entire Magic Valley area. This year all proceeds went to the Magic Valley Easter Seal Center. Officers serving the group include Jim Walls, president; Curt Merchant, vice president; Joyce Walls, secretary; Betty Stewart, treasurer; and Cliff Haak, Bob Lutzer and West Stewart, members of the board of directors.

Gem public works projects eyed

WASHINGTON (UPI) — Sen. Frank Church, D-Idaho, said Tuesday public works projects proposed for Idaho in the next year will constitute a significant economic shot in the arm for the state.

Church said the administration budget includes proposals for nearly $16 million in Corps of Engineers projects and $25.5 million for work under the Bureau of Reclamation.

He said the budget items include a total of $60,000 for advanced planning of the Salmon Falls Division reclamation project near Twin Falls.

It is the first new start project in Idaho in years. The money will fund the advanced planning work needed before construction can begin. The project will provide supplementary irrigation water for lands first irrigated in 1910.

The budget also includes more than $18 million for construction of the new Teton Dam in Eastern Idaho and control tower opening set

TWIN FALLS — Official opening of the new control tower at the Twin Falls City-County airport is scheduled this week. City Manager Jean Milar told the City Council Monday night the formal opening will be at noon Friday when city and county officials are invited to tour the new facility. He invited all council members to participate.

The tower will be in operation prior to that time but Friday noon will be for the formal inspection by city, county and airport commission officials.

Sidewalk repair ordered

By BONNIE BAIRD JONES

Times-News writer

TWIN FALLS — Twenty-nine residents of property owners in the older sections of Twin Falls have been told by the city to repair sidewalks fronting their property. (The repair would be done at the property owner's expense.)

Ed Kibbe, city engineering department, said a survey of all sidewalks in the city was requested by the council several months ago. Out of these, he said, the 29 cases which appeared to constitute the greatest hazards by broken and displaced walks were selected and the property owners notified by mail to make repairs.

Kibbe said the notification sent out recently is an informal request, giving the property owners three or four months in which to have the work done. The city will assist during that time period by removing old concrete, shrubs, trees and whatever is necessary. The property owner is then responsible for replacing the sidewalks to meet city standards.

If the property owner does not do the work in the next three to four months, an official and formal order will be sent, giving them 15 days in which to complete the work. If it is not completed in that time, the city will do the work with general fund money and the cost will be assessed against the property owner's tax bill.

Kibbe said the city realizes many of the property owners involved may be elderly people on fixed income who cannot do the work themselves and may have financial problems and for this reason several months time has been allowed. Mr. and Mrs. Everett Hart who reside on Jackson street told the City Council Monday night they live on Social Security and Hart has a large hospital bill to pay. They said they would do what they can but said they can't afford the $145 just now.

Jane Marshall, Bay Scout leader who attended the meeting with a group of Scouts, volunteered the services of his Scouts to prepare the ground and pour and form the concrete for Mr. and Mrs. Hart if someone will provide the concrete.

Kibbe said most of the property involved is in the older area of the town and many other hardship cases may be involved for this reason several

SEC hits Salmon thorium miners

By CRICKET BRD

Times-News writer

TWIN FALLS — The Securities and Exchange Commission has taken action against nine individuals involved with two thorium companies in Salmon.

In one case, a US District Court Judge found a Salmon man to be in criminal contempt of an injunction issued by the SEC in 1964.

In the other action, the SEC in November filed a lawsuit against eight individuals and a Salmon-based thorium company.

US District Judge Fred Taylor, June 24 found Carroll W. Wells, president of Nuclear Fuels and Golden Pleasure Mining Co. Inc., to have violated the 1964 injunction.

Wells was found guilty of selling unregistered stock and of making "material misrepresentations in connection with the sale of the stock," according to Gerald Cunningham, an SEC attorney.

The sales took place in 1964 and involved several thousand dollars, Cunningham said. The 1964 injunction has been issued to stop Wells from selling the unregistered stock and making fraudulent claims.

Wells was sentenced Feb. 28 and faces a maximum penalty of six months in jail and a $500 fine, Cunningham said.

He said Wells was selling the stock and making untruthful claims, including telling lies the stock would go to $20 to $50 in a short time and stating the company was about to sign contracts for thorium with the West German and Japanese governments.

"These kind of predictions are considered to be inherently fraudulent," Cunningham said.

Information for the charges was obtained by interviewing investors, he said.

In the other case, the SEC lawsuit names basically the same charges against Jan Corporation, also Salmon, and eight people involved with the company, including Charles McConnell, Tendon, his daughter Donna Lou Davidson, Wilson, Wyo.; Philip Bechtoldt, Lawrence, Gin, both Salmon, and four out-of-statemans.

Five individuals and the company have already consented to the entry of a permanent injunction in other words, without admitting or denying the SEC's claims, they agree to abstain from the prohibited actions in the future.

The SEC was charging the eight with fraudulent claims and the sale of unregistered stock.

Stock must be federally registered whenever they will be sold to the public in interstate commerce; and when sales are made by persons with a controlling interest in the company.

Budget threatens Ford, GOP with big disaster

BY JACK W. GERMOND
(C) Washington Star-News
WASHINGTON

Ford's budget for 1976 comes wrapped in a jumble of red, white and blue cover.

Inside there is a design for political disaster for Ford and the Republican Party in the presidential election next year and perhaps indefinitely.

In political terms there is no saving grace for the administration in the President's recommendations for a national spending plan. Instead, it is a catalogue of deficit and decline not only to an electorate of voters who have grown up believing things are supposed to get better every year.

And, in many cases, even the bad news may be an understatement. The deficit predicted for fiscal year 1976, a stunning $51.9 billion, depends on some things happening on Capitol Hill and elsewhere that aren't likely to happen — such as, for example, the imposition of the proposed 5 per cent excise tax increases on social security benefits. Try selling that one through a Democratic Congress.

Perhaps the single most telling indicator of the political trouble ahead for Ford is a single line on page 41 of his message: an administration projection of unemployment over the next five calendar years.

It shows the expected average for this year as 8.1 per cent, which means the rate is likely to approach 8.5 per cent and is almost certain to run higher than at any time since the Great Depression. And it forecasts a 7.9 per cent rate next year when Americans will be choosing a president.

Indeed, according to administration forecasts, it will be 1980 before joblessness drops below the 7.6 per cent of accept in silence details of the proportion Ford says are inescapable.

The only substantial spending increase the President recommends is for defense and, however persuasively his case might seem, the constituency for higher defense outlays has been shrinking rapidly in the last few years. Both in Congress and in the electorate at large.

It is obvious that Ford, however reluctantly, now recognizes the political importance of seizing control of the economic situation. And his response has been a public relations campaign not unlike those Richard Nixon used to employ in similar circumstances.

And throughout the President is trying to shift some of the responsibility to the Democrats in Congress. If Congress does not go along with the spending reductions he is seeking, he said in his message, then the deficit next year will approach $20 billion. And that is enough to give even the most dedicated New Deal-Fair Deal-Great Society Democrat the heartburn.

But to politicians in both parties, this is leaven for position, while the message of the budget is plainly that Gerald Ford is likely to be more vulnerable next year than any president since Harry Truman in 1952.

And among Republicans, the document is likely to boost already healthy suspicions that Ford may not run next year, after all, whatever he says these days.

Analysis

1974, which was a bad year for the Republican Party.

It is not unprecedented, of course, for a president to be elected in a time of high unemployment. Franklin Delano Roosevelt did it. But Ford is, as he is quick to point out himself, not Roosevelt, and there is no precedent for giving a vote of confidence to a president whose party is perceived as being responsible for hard times.

What makes the budget such a politically unwelcome document for the President is the lack of any compensating gain.

Not in the budget itself, in please Ford's critics on the right of his own party. Although they may draw some comfort from a delay in health insurance, they can hardly

Restless legs cut sleeping

BY GEORGE C. THURTELL, M.D.
A restless leg is a condition that makes it difficult to fall asleep and causes sleep through the night. In this condition, the legs move every night from two to seven times with an uneasy crawling sensation on my knees and insteps.

I'm 76 years old and real active — Mrs. H. H. Restless or "titter leg" is a troublesome and annoying symptom that accounts for millions of sleepless hours every night of the year. I dare say it may be accompanied by sensations of burning, tightness in the limbs, aching and any number of other symptoms, none of them pleasant. The cause is not definitely known, although some have found it prevalent in persons with anxiety or other emotional problems such as depression. In others, anemia has been found. The cause and relief is given by iron supplements.

With no known cause established, a wide variety of treatments has been tried which have helped some but held no relief for others. Short of a physical examination, I can only suggest a few of these. Some sufferers have found relief in taking a walk before retiring. One physician friend found this to be his answer. Another found relief by elevating the covers slightly with a rolled up blanket at the foot of the bed.

Medical treatments have ranged from antihistamines, to quinine 15 grains before bedtime, tranquilizers, and barbiturate sedatives.

Another patient gave up coffee with good results. I hope you have mentioned this to your doctor. So many older patients when giving histories neglect to mention things that are causing them real problems. Be sure you don't forget the next time you visit the doctor.

Meanwhile, you can try the rolled up blanket idea first, or any of the others mentioned. Good luck.

The turkey's best friend, who also had little good to say about the bald eagle, was Benjamin Franklin. In 1794 he wrote his daughter from France: "The bald eagle is a bird of bad moral character, like those men who live by sharpening and robbing, while the turkey is a much more respectable bird, a true original native of America." He recommended the turkey, instead of the bald eagle, as our national symbol.

Opposition grounds cited

Editor, Times-News:

I am one of the many women who are urging that Idaho amend ratification of the Equal Rights Amendment. In reply to your editorial of Jan. 20, the charge that those lobbying for recession of ERA are poorly informed is outrageous. Those of us opposed to ERA are not presenting groundless fears, but are considering the opinions of many of the nation's most knowledgeable statesmen.

There is one small but important fact that has influenced me to oppose ERA. The Yale Law Journal, Vol. 81, No. 3, April, 1971, is recognized to be an accurate analysis of the meaning and effects of the Equal Rights Amendment. It states this interpretation:

Women may be drafted on an equal basis with men, to serve in every capacity; pregnancy would justify only slightly different conditions of service. One parent may be deferred from the draft to care for children, but if the mother was called first she might be required to serve and the husband be deferred to stay home with the children.

The ERA would abolish seduction laws, statutory rape laws, prostitution laws, and all laws against forcing women into prostitution. If a wife fails to support her husband he may use it as grounds for divorce. A woman may be forced to supply half the family support, or all of it if she is a better wage earner.

BOISE (UPI) — Rep. John Beardon, R-Ia., proposed today that 10 per cent of the endowment funds be invested in school bonds to help the schools and stimulate the economy.

Members of the House State Affairs Committee liked the idea well enough they agreed to have a subcommittee study the suggestion to determine if it is feasible and legislation should be drafted.

testified before the Judiciary Committee. laws outlawing wedlock between members of the same sex would be as invalid.

Also that ERA would require that there be no segregation of the sexes in prisons, reform schools, public restrooms and other public facilities. Literature published by the League of Women Voters supporting the Equal Rights Amendment tells us this could not happen because we have a constitutional guarantee to the Right of Privacy. No such guarantee is specified in the Constitution.

...This all sounds so insane to believe, but since I daily learn that lies, cheats, swears, adulterers, and alcoholics are in positions of highest trust and power in our government, I am forced to believe that anything is possible.

I have named only a few of the many objections of this amendment. Promoters of ERA are well aware of these implications, but choose not to share their knowledge with the public. States that have adopted Equal Rights Amendment at the state level are now trying to resolve issues such as those mentioned. In spite of efforts to convince us that it cannot be done, Nevada, Alaska and Tennessee have realized that this amendment is not what it is presented to be and have rescinded their ratifications.

There are many inequalities remaining in our society and we must work to correct them, but ERA is not the way. Its very simplicity and broadness make it dangerous. Those of us who have been too busy enjoying our roles as wives, mothers and homemakers to realize what was being done to us must take action now to see that this bill is defeated. The ERA will be acted upon any day now.

It is urgent that everyone who opposes this amendment immediately let their legislators know how they stand and to vote. I will be happy to help with information about ERA or how to contact legislators. My phone No. is 734-4407. If you don't bother to do our part now you'll have only yourself to blame when it is too late.

Houses razed by fires

TWIN FALLS — Rural fire departments were busy Sunday as high winds whirled flames through two homes and one stack of cornstalks in Twin Falls County.

Bill Taylor, rural fire chief in the Twin Falls area, said Monday a house owned by Gordon Paving Co., Twin Falls, and located on Eastland Drive one-half mile south of Kinney's road was destroyed. A Casford home under construction and nearing completion was also destroyed Sunday about 11 a.m. — The building was owned by Wayne Howe.

Taylor said the fire southeast of Twin Falls consumed the entire house and a garage and destroyed two automobiles parked near the garage. One, he said, was a 1974 model and the other an older sedan.

He said fire apparently was caused by the gas furnace and spread quickly through the entire building and to the garage. Winds at the time were estimated at about 15 to 40 miles per hour.

Taylor said he did not know the identity of the persons living in the building as they were gone by the time his equipment arrived. He also said the alarm was turned in to the city fire department, then called to the police and then the sheriff's office who in turn called his department.

Taylor said persons who rent homes should find out if they are outside of the local city limits and keep the rural fire department telephone number handy if they are not in the city.

The Casford Fire Department said the Bower home, one and one-half miles south of Casford, was also destroyed. The fire occurred about 11 a.m. Sunday when sparks caused by workmen who were wiring the building ignited building material, the fire department said.

Again the high winds whipped the flames out of control almost immediately, officials said. The Bower family resided in an older home about 30 feet away and had planned to move into the new frame building in the near future.

Taylor said his department also answered a call Sunday near the College of Southern Idaho on Falls Avenue and Washington Street. North of the said a pile of corn stalks caught fire when children playing in the area apparently lit a match and dropped it into the dry corn.

He said his department stood by to control the fire but did not put it out because the corn was damaged by smoke and fire when they arrived.

Business aides set sessions

TWIN FALLS — Eight Tuesday night discussions with local businessmen speaking on investments, estate and tax planning and marketing begins Feb. 11 at the College of Southern Idaho.

For 55 residents can enroll for the night sessions to be held in the mini-auditorium of the vo-tech building on campus. The first meeting is with Ken Cuijver, Alex Sunkar and Gene Sturgill who will discuss investments, bonds, stocks, real estate, trust, tax shelters, annuities and commodities.

Other topics to be covered in future sessions are marketing of agricultural products, hedging, financing, hedge loans. Local businessmen scheduled to participate include Dave Cuijver, Gary Roberts, Ed Smith, Jack Lowman, Jim Kinney, John Wolfe, John Peterson, Eldon Evans, Gordon Beckstead, Fred Becker, Lloyd West, Grant Starkey, Jack Mallowrey and Walt Burdick.

Health confab scheduled

TWIN FALLS — Rural health "consumers" are invited to a local meeting to prepare for a statewide conference to be held in Boise in April.

Sponsored by the Mountain States Regional Medical Program in collaboration with other health agencies, the meeting will be at the College of Southern Idaho on Feb. 12 at 7:30 p.m. in the Shields Academic Building, room 108.

Public opinion sought

SHOSHONE — Public comment on the proposed rules pertaining to the restructuring of the Board of Land Management advisory boards may be made until Feb. 10.

The comments must be mailed to the B.L.M., Washington D.C.

Under the new rules, district managers will appoint representatives, apportioning them according to the primary areas of concern. The boards will be limited to not more than 10 persons.

The board will make recommendations on policies and problems related to resources and uses of lands administered by the district manager.

Under the new system, there will be fewer members authorized but 11 new advisory boards will be created for districts which are now without them.

New areas of concern such as mining, mineral leasing, outdoor recreation, urban-suburban, environmental quality, information media, soil and water conservation, public utilities and state and local government will be considered by the boards under the new rules.

Jerome names chairman

JEROME — Mrs. William Hart has been named the Jerome County Chairman for the 1975 Heart Fund Campaign.

Mrs. Hart will serve as Restorative Chairman for Jerome County and Brent Compton will canvass the businesses for the campaign. Mrs. Jean Duffek will serve as memorial chairman for the campaign. All memorial donations are to be made directly to Mrs. Duffek.

Mrs. Hart said there has been no organized Heart Fund Campaign in Jerome for the past few years and that volunteers are needed.

Helping Mrs. Hart is the local Bethel of Jobs Daughters. Weedy's Chairman is organizing the girls for a door to door campaign on Heart Sunday, Feb. 23, according to Mrs. Hart.

Mrs. Hart explained that the purpose of the door to door campaign is to deliver information as much as secure contributions, to tell people how they can prevent heart disease.

New map available

TWIN FALLS — Sawtooth National Forest officials have announced publication of a new Sawtooth Wilderness map which is now available to the public at no charge.

The map shows detail of the wilderness area within the Sawtooth National Recreation Area and gives a scale of distances in miles from various points of interest within the area.

Compiled by David Lee, wilderness ranger, SNRA, the map folder also contains information about the area history, regulations and facilities and services. It also answers the most common questions asked by persons gaining info. the scenic wilderness area and by persons writing for information during the year.

The maps may be obtained from the supervisor's office, Sawtooth National Forest, in Twin Falls, or the Challis and Boise National Forest offices or from the SNRA office near Ketchikan.

Auxiliary convenes

TWIN FALLS — Members of the Magic Valley Memorial Hospital Auxiliary met Monday afternoon for a tea and business meeting.

Doris Jensen, president, conducted the meeting with Flo Harper, program chairman, Toni Parsons, in service educational coordinator on the hospital nursing staff, presented a program on breast cancer self-examination.

She also showed a film from the American Cancer society and answered questions from guild members.

President gives details on impeachment demand

WASHINGTON (UPI) — President Ford said an assistant-attorney general of the United States gave him the information on which he issued his 1974 demand for the impeachment of Supreme Court Justice William Douglas.

In 1969, during the debate on President Richard Nixon's appointment of Clement Haynsworth as a Supreme Court Justice, Ford said he was studying impeachment action against Douglas, who has been criticized by conservatives for many of his decisions. Nixon had criticized the High Court as too liberal.

After Haynsworth was rejected — partly because he issued judicial rulings on companies in which he had a financial interest — Ford, the House GOP leader, said the senators "have set new ethical standards. The investigation I instituted several months ago is continuing, will continue, and it would have continued whether or not Haynsworth was confirmed."

That investigation, Ford said Monday, included a briefing by Assistant Attorney General Will Wilson, then head of the criminal division. Reached by Westinghouse Broadcasting at his Austin, Tex., law office, Wilson said his boss, Attorney General John Mitchell, had told him to give the information to Ford.

At his news conference in Atlanta, Ford was asked if he got any FBI data in his investigation of the Douglas impeachment.

"I do not know what the source was of information given to me," he replied, "but I was given information by a high-ranking official of the Department of Justice. I do not know what the source of that information was."

Ford said the information did not come from Mitchell or J. Edgar Hoover, then director of the FBI. In response to a later question, he said:

"The information that was given to me was to a substantial degree included in the speech that I made on the floor of the House. The information was given to me by Mr. Will Wilson, who was then one of the assistant attorneys general."

In Austin, Wilson told Westinghouse that Mitchell telephoned him in 1970 with the instructions, "My memory is that it was a group of factual leads about Douglas' relationship with the Parvizi-Dobrym foundation primarily," he said. "That was most of the information. It wasn't evidentiary matter. It was mostly just factual leads."

Colby stays mum

(C) New York Times Service — WASHINGTON — William E. Colby, the director of central intelligence, has refused to identify police departments he says his agency assisted until two years ago because "such publication could hamper current police programs."

Colby, in a letter to Rep. Edward I. Koch, Democrat-liberal of Manhattan, said: "Confidentiality of relationships is generally a prerequisite to good intelligence. If we are forced to violate the trust and confidence under which these relationships were established, our reputation and effectiveness as a serious intelligence agency will be seriously impaired."

Central Intelligence Agency is currently facing investigations of allegedly illegal involvement in domestic intelligence activities by committees of the House and Senate and a panel established by President Ford.

Koch first inquired about the CIA's relationships with police departments two years ago following publication in the New York Times of reports that high-ranking officials in the New York Police Department had undergone training at the agency's headquarters in Langley, Va.

Committee okays tariff suspension

(C) Washington Star-News — WASHINGTON — The House Rules Committee approved Tuesday a measure suspending President Ford's increased tariff on imported oil, but in an unusual move, severed the legislation from a bill that would raise the legal limit on the national debt.

Democratic members of the House Ways and Means Committee had put the two measures into one bill in an effort to make it more difficult for the president to veto the tariff suspension.

A temporary increase in the present national debt ceiling is necessary to give the government statutory authority to continue operating when the debt limit is exceeded on Feb. 18.

The rules of committee's action, which came on a voice vote, clears the way for consideration by the full House today of separate measures that roll back the 51 tariff on imported oil that went into effect last Saturday and that increased the debt ceiling until the end of June.

Several members of the present national debt ceiling is necessary to give the government statutory authority to continue operating when the debt limit is exceeded on Feb. 18.

House rejects stamp plan

(C) New York Times Service — WASHINGTON — The House voted overwhelmingly Tuesday to reject the administration's plan to raise the purchase price of food stamps March 1 for almost all of the 17.1 million participants in the program.

It passed a bill, 374 to 38, to freeze the price until the end of the year so that no one would pay more to buy the food coupons until after that time.

The vote came after 40 minutes of debate in which only three members, all conservative Republicans, argued for the defeat of the measure.

The Senate Agriculture Committee will hold a hearing on this issue this morning, and the full senate is expected to vote this afternoon or Thursday.

The overwhelming vote against the administration's proposal was seen in part as a manifestation of strong resistance to President Ford's economic policies. In his budget message Monday, the President called for a reduction in the rate of government spending for social programs, such as food stamps.

This was the first major bill to come up for a vote in the House in the new Congress, which was liberalized considerably in the election last year. But the conservative members seemed equally reluctant to vote against a program aimed at helping the poor and unemployed, at a time of economic decline.

William C. Wampler, R-Va., who is the ranking minority member of the agriculture committee, said that allowing the price increase would "place hardship on the poor."

Steven D. Symms, R-Idaho, could not recruit many participants in the opposition fight, which he led. At one point, when told he had several minutes remaining to present his argument, he turned to a Republican colleague and asked if he wanted to take the microphone. The man shook his head.

Talmadge backs Ford

WASHINGTON (UPI) — Sen. Herman Talmadge, D-Ga., today became one of the first key Democrats to support President Ford's appeal for a one-year delay on health insurance reform because of economic conditions.

Talmadge, chairman of the Senate health insurance subcommittee, said passage of national health insurance legislation this year would be inappropriate.

Democratic leaders generally have said they will push for insurance legislation despite the request.

In a speech prepared for the American Hospital Association's annual meeting, Talmadge also said the administration has relaxed its proposal for review of federally financed patient admissions to hospitals and nursing homes.

Never on Sunday
Legislation in 1945 ordered elections in the United States to take place during the first week of November because "harvesting is over then and winter has not yet made the roads impassable." Tuesday was designated instead of Monday because many voters lived a day's journey from a polling place and objected to traveling on Sunday.

Briefs

TWIN FALLS — There will be no DAV dance Saturday night.

Abby

Abigail Van Buren

DEAR ABBY: I am the mother of a very nice, but extremely shy 17-year-old son. He has never had a date in his life, and I'm sure it's because he's afraid he'll get turned down.

He is an A-B student, but doesn't do very well in sports, which could be the reason he isn't very popular with the "in" crowd at school.

He is slightly overweight, but there are fatter boys who seem to hit it off with girls, so that can't be the reason. It breaks my heart to see him alone all the time.

A girls' club has a dance, and the girls ask the boys. One of my best friends has a daughter in this club. Should I put a bag in my friend's car and ask her to ask her daughter to ask my son? He wouldn't have to know I arranged it.

SORRY FOR SONNY

Keep 'bugs' out of ears

DEAR SORRY: Don't put any bugs in anybody's ear. Your son may be a late bloomer. And another one of his problems could be a well-meaning mother who's inclined to run interference for him. Let him develop socially at his own pace.

DEAR ABBY: I read with interest the letter from the girl who lied. I wondered if sometime in her life she was forced to lie. Let me tell you my story:

When I was very young, I found that if I told the truth when my mother questioned me about a mischievous act, I would get a spanking, so naturally, to escape the spanking, I lied. She was a strict disciplinarian (she meant well, but her method was all wrong), so in order to get along with her I lied until I was 25 years old, when I married and had my own home.

When mother visited me for the first time, she asked me a question, and knowing that the truth would discipline her, I lied. I felt like a child, and right then and there, I made a vow that I would never lie to her again. Also I made a vow that I would never live with anyone I had to lie to in order to get along with. I'm 48 now, and I've kept both vows.

I know that some of my answers don't please the questioner, but I always tell the truth. I've often wondered who will be account for the lying I did for the first 28 years of my life.

BEEN THERE

DEAR BEEN: There is only one reason people lie. It's because they haven't the courage to tell the truth. More emphasis should be placed on truthfulness, and less on punishment.

DEAR ABBY: I was very angry after reading your reply to the woman who refused to use birth control because it goes against the teachings of the Catholic faith. There is no reason why people should question anyone having a large family. The number of children a couple should have should be left up to the individual couple. As this woman pointed out, she is asking no one's assistance in the upbringing of her children.

In my opinion, many people are limiting the size of their families not only because of their concern for the world, but because if Mom has too many children then she may not be able to work for some time, which may mean not having the latest car model, and the children won't be able to go to camp, and Mom won't be able to have new furniture for the house.

If people are happy living like this to be. However, if they want a large family with a lot more responsibilities, which in their opinion means a lot more fulfillment, then it's their business. ANOTHER PRACTICING CATHOLIC

Vincent Dowling's theater talk charms Bellevue students

BELLEVUE — Fourth and fifth graders at Bellevue Elementary School have a drama club.

They meet one day a week to put on different kinds of plays, according to their advisor Donna Gorman, fifth grade teacher.

They also write and direct the plays, design scenery and have visiting firemen as often as possible.

Last week Vincent Dowling, of the Abbey Theatre in Dublin, talked to the combined classes on acting — injecting his love of the theatre into his performance.

"What is imagination?" he asked the wide-eyed boys and girls. After receiving a variety of answers, he gave his: "It's someone didn't have imagination once, we'd still be hanging from the trees by our tails!"

He went on to say, "If all of us can imagine and pretend, it makes the whole world great fun. Pretending can put us in someone else's shoes and help us to understand them. And when you understand everything, you can be like God!"

I can't even begin to tell you all about the theatre, but I might start out by helping you understand what great fun it is."

He had all of them stand up and roam around the room.

"Now pretend," he instructed them. "Make believe you are on a one-way street driving the wrong way." And he showed them how to make expressions of horror while steering a car ever which way, which they did cheerfully and noisily mimicked.

Next I want some of you to help me. I want four girls whose first names begin with L."

Hands flew up and Dowling chose four at random.

"What is your name?" he pointed out.

"Laurie," she answered shyly.

He turned to another. "And what is your name?" he asked "Laurie," she giggled.

With a mock expression of amazement, he asked a third, "Don't tell me your name is Laurie, too?"

"Yes," she nodded, while the room exploded with laughter.

He looked at the fourth, questioningly.

"I'm Libby," she assured him.

"Good! Now I want Laurie I to pretend she is the mother, and Laurie II comes in to tell her mother she has just broken a window. The mother tells her daughter she must go to bed without her supper."

"Mother, I broke a window."

"Oh you had girl. Go to bed without your supper RIGHT NOW!"

And so it went. The hour was over too quickly as Dowling bombarded them with exercises, skits and admonitions that like life, the theatre is all team work — and most of all FUN!

WIDE-EYED students at Bellevue Elementary School watch actor Vincent Dowling as he tells them about his experiences in the Abbey Theatre in Dublin. Students are members of the school's drama club.

Opening lead — J ♠.

By Oswald & James Jacoby

As anyone who looks at all 52 cards can see, South is going to wind up one trick short at his four-card contract. West can take his ace of trumps and lead a second spade to give his partner a ruff after which start it will be a cinch for East to take his two aces.

Can South do anything about it? Not if the defense doesn't falter. The average false-carder will be his opponents. As a starter which high spade should be used to trick one? Clearly the queen is not the right one to play. The average false-carder wins with the ace. That also is wrong. West is very likely to lead a second spade. South's best bet is to win with the king. That play will show the ace but not the queen and might encourage a shift.

So South should play the king of spades at trick one and lead a trump. Clearly not the king. The king play will get the ace to come right up. How about the 10 or even the six? Too apparent an attempt at deception. West will know that South holds higher trumps.

So we find the right one to lead is the queen. West may think that South holds six trumps to the queen-jack-10 and is trying to bump the ace and king together. For this reason West may duck.

Not too likely against alert opponents, but the best try he can make.

'Top cop' pick due

TWIN FALLS — The Twin Falls Exchange Club will name the policeman of the year at its regular meeting Feb. 11 at noon at the Turf Club.

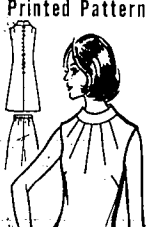

Mayor Winston Jones will proclaim the week beginning Feb. 9 as National Crime Prevention Week. With other Exchange Clubs in the country, the local one encourages citizens to cooperate to cut down on crime.

According to a fact sheet sent out by the national organization, crime has increased slightly more in rural areas than in cities. The Exchange Club offers a crime prevention kit, which consists of a balloon to blow up and pln to deflate it with, in keeping with their slogan "deflate crime."

The club also offers a pamphlet with a list of precautions citizens can take to avoid being victimized.

A Lovelier You MEASURE WITH PLEASURE

(Third in a series of five columns on How To Diet and Look Look II.)

By Mary Sue Miller

The "36"-25"-35" measurements, banded about as perfect, are not perfect unless you are over 5'6" tall. Individual proportions are the measure of an ideal figure. You can get a line on what your own proportions should be by using this rule of thumb:

The correct bosom measurement of a woman of 5' is 32". If you are taller, add a half-inch to 32" for each additional inch of height over 5'. If you are over 5'7", add 1" to the total calculations. An ideal hip measures the same, or nearly so, as the bosom. The waist measures 10" less.

In getting and keeping an ideal figure, four factors are involved — posture, underpinnings, exercise and diet. A discussion of the first three subjects will appear during the series. But diet is our immediate aim. The dinner bell rings for these sample menus, containing less than 550 calories:

- 1) Pouched red snapper, dressed with 1/4 pat butter or margarine and lemon slice; 1/4 cup corn niblets; 1/2 cup string beans; small slice angel cake. 2) Two slices lean roast lamb; 1/2 cup noodles, paprika; 1/4 cup steamed zucchini; freshly ground black pepper; baked 1/2 grapefruit, 1 tsp. honey. 3) Five large shrimp, cocktail sauce; vegetable plate with baby peas, carrots, onions, sliced beets, broiled mushrooms; wedge hard cheese, 2 crackers.

Today's menus are an example of how you can eat deliciously and lose 2 pounds per week!

Planning a wedding?

Your wedding may be the most important event in your life. We wish you every happiness.

In order to obtain the best possible news and picture coverage of your engagement and marriage a few newspaper rules should be kept in mind.

Time deadlines are important. Engagement stories and pictures must be run in the paper before the wedding. Space is short, and engagement stories take some time to process, so it helps to bring in or mail the information as early as possible.

Pictures of the wedding must be received by the Times-News within two weeks after the event. Beyond two weeks, wedding pictures will not be printed. Remind your photographer of the deadline.

After the two-week deadline, wedding stories will be printed, but often in shortened form as space permits. After three months, wedding stories will no longer be printed.

There is no charge for printing wedding and engagement pictures and stories.

Idaho cattlemen advised to seek legislative aid

By GEORGE WILEY, Times-News Writer
BOISE — The Idaho Land Board has advised Idaho cattlemen concerned with disruption of grazing tracts by land leasing policies to seek legislative aid.

In recognizing the plight of cattle growers, however, the board has also directed its staff to prepare a formula for working fluctuations in cattle market prices into its grazing tract appraisals.

At its monthly meeting last week the land board heard testimony from cattlemen, including a group from the Twin Falls area, that the board's computerized lease policy had disrupted cattle management by breaking up grazing tracts when isolated parcels of state lease land within the tracts were leased to outside parties.

The cattlemen urged the land board to develop a method of reviewing lease applications to prevent unqualified cattle growers from leasing parcels in grazing tracts and to prevent proliferation of at least run-down instances of lease blackmail in which cattlemen were asked to pay off to prevent outside parties from bidding competitively on state lease parcels.

"We do have these isolated sections of state land that frequently lie out in Bureau of Land Management grazing allotments," Gordon Trombley, commissioner of public lands, said, but he added the land board is required by law to accept lease applications from any party prior to Nov. 30 of the year in which the lease expires. If there is more than one lease application for a given tract, he said, then the lease goes to the highest bidder at an oral auction.

"This is a requirement of law in which we have no discretionary authority," Trombley emphasized.

He said that this is the first year that cattlemen have protested the leasing policy and the first time he has known it to be a problem.

Normally, he said, the ten-year leases are not contested and are then leased to the cattlemen at the board's appraised value.

Both Trombley and assistant director of public lands Jack Gillette said they had heard stories of lease blackmail cases in which cattlemen were asked to pay off to prevent competitive bidding on state tracts, but both said they knew of no substantiated cases.

"I know of no case where that has been taken to court," Gillette said.

Trombley said the land board requires all lease applicants to sign affidavits stating that they have been offered no compensation for withdrawal of a bid or have not bid in an attempt to force another party to forego a bid.

In addition, Trombley said, all lease applicants must submit with their application, payment of one year's rent on the parcel applied for at the board's appraised value for that year.

These measures were drawn up through the attorney general's office to "forestall any sort of blackmail happening," Trombley said.

In directing its staff to take account of cattle market fluctuations in making lease appraisals, Trombley said the land board was reacting to increasing pressure from cattlemen faced with depressed prices.

"In the last year or two there have been wilder fluctuations in the livestock market than perhaps any period that we can recall," Trombley said.

Trombley said no formula for tying market fluctuations into the appraisal formula has yet been designed.

Such a formula, he said, would have only yearly effect on the leases, since lease payments are made only once each year.

Even with such a formula, Trombley added, the land board would retain the authority to adjust lease rents from year to year, despite the tracts being leased for a ten-year period.

THE I.D. SHOE DEPARTMENT

Pay boost stirs fuss

BOISE (UPI) — Senate Minority Leader C. C. Chase, D-St. Maries, said today he wasn't ready to compromise a pay boost for state employees.

Chase said he would stand firm for a 7.5 per cent increase for all state employees, "unless they show me we are wrong and at this point I don't feel we are."

House Republicans voted 34-2 Tuesday for a compromise which would provide a 7.5 per cent raise to those employees below grade 10, and a four per cent boost to those grade 10 and above.

A majority of Senate Republicans also favored this attack to the problem but Senate GOP caucus chairman Walter Yarbrough, R-Grand View, said it was "just a majority."

Meanwhile, Sen. V. K. Brassy, R-Boise, started a one-man filibuster by forcing all bills in the Senate to be read at length in an attempt to bring the pay question to a vote on the floor.

There are two resolutions dealing with pay raises in the Senate. Democrats favor the one calling for the 7.5 per cent hike and Republicans want the one proposing a five per cent boost. Both were returned to the State Affairs Committee

Buildings approved

BOISE (UPI) — The House approved 59-10 and sent to the Senate Tuesday a bill to appropriate $300,000 in federal funds to construct office buildings for the Department of Employment.

Rep. Ralph Wheeler, R-American Falls, said some regional offices of the department are "woefully overcrowded" and need more space. "This is 100 per cent federal money and we can't use it for anything else," Wheeler said. "We can't use it for tax relief."

House Demos back Andrus programs

BOISE (UPI) — House Democrats have vowed to bend every effort to get the governor's program for surplus funds to the floor in hopes of persuading enough Republicans to help pass it.

At the same time, more than one Democrat suggested urging the governor to veto the GOP's 10 per cent income tax credit bill if it reaches his desk in order to free those funds for his program.

Gov. Cecil D. Andrus has recommended spending $10 million of the general fund surplus on road and building construction. Republicans have indicated they want to put the money into tax relief.

House Minority Leader Patricia L. McDermott, D-Pocatello, said she has detected "massive support" on a non-partisan basis around the state for the governor's plan.

"If we can get our bill out I think we'll find more support than they realize," Miss McDermott told her caucus Tuesday.

School bond investment proposed

BOISE (UPI) — Rep. John Reardon, R-Boise, proposed Tuesday that 10 per cent of the endowment funds be invested in school bonds to help the schools and stimulate the economy.

Members of the House State Affairs Committee liked the idea well enough they agreed to have a subcommittee study the suggestion to determine if it is feasible and legislation should be drafted.

Reardon made the recommendation while the committee discussed legislation proposed by Rep. E. V. McLean, R-Ketchum, to resolve a "built-in" conflict of interest on the endowment fund investment bond.

At present, some members of that board must be bankers and stockbrokers. McLean's bill would have the governor appoint five members of the general public — none of whom could be actively engaged in banking or investments.

McLean questioned whether the present law was ever legal, saying the constitution forbids a conflict of interest.

"There are certainly enough people of investment caliber that are retired, bankers that are retired that the governor could appoint," McLean said.

McLean said he agreed with Reardon about pumping some of the endowment funds into the Idaho economy by investing them in school construction bonds. He said he would be agreeable to having his legislation amended to include that requirement.

At present, he said, the investment board seeks top interest dollars for the principal of the funds and this usually takes most of the money out of the state for investment.

"There are at present about $104 million in endowment funds — most of which is dedicated to the schools. Reardon's proposal would put slightly more than $10 million into school construction bonds."

Reardon said the money should be available to districts which can show at least a seven per cent increase in average daily attendance so that the funds could be used by those needing them most.

Besides assisting the schools, Reardon said, his plan would stimulate the economy. He said $10 million put into the economy causes about $60 to $70 million to circulate.

Meanwhile, the committee voted to introduce another McLean bill — one to protect the principal of the public building endowment fund set up in 1890 for repair and maintenance of the Statehouse. There is more than $300 million in this fund at present and both principal and interest can be spent under present law.

McLean said he felt the founding fathers wanted the principal kept inviolate.

BOISE (UPI) — The legislative budget committee approved today a $33,400 supplemental appropriation for Idaho's contribution to the Pacific Northwest Regional Commission, but not before a flurry of debate over benefits derived from it.

Members of the Joint Finance Appropriations Committee argued whether there was not a duplication of programs and what good came from being in a commission with Oregon and Washington.

Both Reps. E. V. McLean, R-Ketchum, and Maurice Clements, R-Nampa, contended that the commission only duplicated programs.

And McLean told the committee it was going to cost

Idaho "more money down the line."

Sen. Walter Yarbrough, R-Grand View, said being with Washington and Oregon was "treating a lot of things into that Idaho should be with a group with 'common interests' and Common programs."

"They need us and we don't need them very badly," said Yarbrough, suggesting Idaho would be better off in a commission with Montana and Utah.

Rep. Larry Jackson, R-Boise, said he felt those objecting to the commission were "treating a lot of things into that that are not there."

"It's better that we be there to protect our interests," he added.

Evans vote kills

BOISE (UPI) — Lt. Gov. John V. Evans' first vote as president of the senate killed a proposal memorializing Congress to amend or repeal the Occupational Safety and Health Act of 1970.

The Senate then passed Tuesday a memorial asking Congress to provide for permanent on-site consultative service under OSHA. The vote was 18-16.

Notice of reconsideration was served for both measures.

Opponents of the memorial which was killed after Evans broke a 17-17 tie objected to the harshness of the wording in the measure. They especially took exception to the language about inspectors being "judge, jury and executor."

Idaho law enforcement chief admits speeding

BOISE (UPI) — State Law Enforcement Director John Bender and several members of the House Transportation Committee confessed Tuesday they sometimes do not obey the state's 55-mile-an-hour speed limit.

But the committee voted 7-5 to send to the floor with a favorable recommendation a bill making the 55 m.p.h. limit permanent.

The measure ran into trouble in committee because it restores full penalties for going faster than 55 miles per hour.

Last year, in order to keep from losing federal highway trust funds, the Idaho Legislature temporarily set the maximum speed limit on roads and highways at the state's 55.

But, because some lawmakers did not want to really adhere to it, they also tacked on a clause that limited the penalty to a $5 fine and $7.50 court costs as long as the offending motorist did not exceed the previous speed limit for that stretch of road.

Bender disclosed he is one of those Idaho motorists who sometimes goes faster than 55 m.p.h. when asked by the committee about the effect of the law on traffic along the state where traffic is slowing down.

Bender recalled driving to Idaho Falls from Boise in a state car recently to attend a funeral in the eastern Idaho city.

"I had my cruise control on it set at 57 miles per hour," he said, before remembering that newsmen were present.

Then, when it became obvious he was going to be quoted, he added, "that's to compensate for going uphill."

Only two trucks passed him, he said, and "they creep past us." He estimated the average freeway speed at 60 to 62 m.p.h.

Rep. Ernest Hale, R-Turley, disagreed that traffic seemed to be slowing down. He said when he drove home from the legislature to Burley recently he tried to stay at 55 — and 56 vehicles passed him. He also acknowledged he sometimes creeps over 55 m.p.h.

When the committee looked at a provision of the new bill that eliminates the 55 (sic, Rep. Russ Westenberg, D-Soda Springs, argued against it. He said in a rural state with great distances traveled this would become too restrictive.

Idaho freeways were built for 70 miles per hour at least, he said, his car gets 30 miles per gallon at 70, and when he goes home he looks to see if he has the 55.

"If he does, he said, he steps on the dashboard and gambles he won't be picked up.

Rep. Larry Jackson, R-Boise, said he, too, sometimes drives faster than the legal maximum. He said when he goes from Boise to Idaho Falls by way of Fairfield it takes three hours, 40 minutes but when he goes on the freeway it takes four and one half hours.

"The reason it's faster by Fairfield is that I don't see any state cops," Jackson said.

Rep. F. V. Mellan, R-Ketchum, moved to send the bill to the floor with a do pass recommendation as it is.

"I think if we have a law we should abide by it or we shouldn't have a law," Mellan said.

Pay plan approved

BOISE (UPI) — After a 90-minute caucus, House Republicans voted 340-2 Tuesday to back a leadership proposal to give the biggest pay raises this year to state employees on the lowest end of the scale.

Assistant Majority Leader Jack Kennebeck, R-Boise, said the proposal calls for a 7 1/2 percent increase through the first nine steps on the personnel commission scale. For those at step 10 and above, he said, the increase would be four percent.

Auto stocks even up

DETROIT (UPI) — Despite cash rebates and massive plant closings, Detroit automakers turned out almost as many cars as they sold in January. It meant they had barely any reduction in their record pile of 1.7 million unsold cars.

The "Big Four" companies reported sales Tuesday of 456,667 cars in January, or 17.1 percent from last year and the lowest for the month since 1961. In the same month, even with plant closings, the four turned out 441,245 cars.

Industry analysis said the four still have close to a 97-day supply of cars — the same number they had at the beginning of January. A 50-to 60-day supply is considered normal.

Safety checks repealer asked

BOISE (UPI) — Vehicle safety inspectors came under attack in the Senate Transportation Committee Tuesday as members voted to print a bill to provide for spot safety checks and to draft a measure to repeal all vehicle inspections.

The action came as service station operators were appearing before the House Transportation Committee asking that the fee for inspections be boosted to $5.50 from the present $2.

Senate President Pro Tem James Ellsworth, R-Leadere, and Sen. Walter Yarbrough, R-Grandview, asked that the repealer be drafted so it could be presented to the Senate along with the "spot check" measure.

Ellsworth told the committee he had been informed state personnel conducting schools for vehicle safety inspector had just threatened court action if the service station operators prodding the service overlooked defects and issued safety stickers.

He said many stations in his area would only accept regular customers for inspections and were shying away from strangers.

Sen. Dane Watkins, R-Idaho Falls, sponsor of the spot safety bill, said that the present safety inspection law was not doing an adequate job or cutting down the highway death rate.

Watkins also took note that service station operators were asking for more money to do the job. He said he felt the state could do a better job and eliminate the service station operators, especially since they were asking for the fee hike.

At the same time, dealers and their attorneys told the House committee they cannot make ends meet at today's wage rates on the $1.50 per vehicle they now get. They asked, too, that the fees for inspecting four-wheel drive vehicles and large trucks be lifted to $7.50.

All but 50 cents of the present fee goes to the inspection station. The same would be true under the operators' proposal.

Attorney Eugene Thomas, Boise, said the operators also want to be relieved of liability for the vehicles after inspection unless they are guilty of malicious or fraudulent practices in the inspections.

Rep. Dale Bronson, D-Nepreese, asked Law Enforcement Director John Bender what he thought of doing away with the inspections altogether.

ATT denies charge

WASHINGTON (UPI) — American Telephone and Telegraph Co. has denied the Justice Department's antitrust charges and asked a federal court to dismiss them.

The largest antitrust suit in the nation's history seeks to force ATT to divest itself of Western Electric and "some or all" of its Long Lines Department. It included Bell Telephone Laboratories and 23 subsidiary telephone companies, but did not specify what action should be taken.

On Monday, ATT lawyers filed a 24-page response to the Nov. 20, 1974, lawsuit which said ATT monopolized the country's telephone services. In its U.S. District Court brief, ATT said the suit should be dismissed because the Bell System already is operating under a consent decree and final judgment.

Amnesty fizzling?

WASHINGTON (UPI) — The month-long extension of President Ford's amnesty program has started off with a big fizzle.

The program was scheduled to end Jan. 31. Officials had long predicted the closing days would erupt in a torrent of volunteers — a combination of the lazy who put off applying earlier and the fearful who had waited to see if there were any tricks.

As expected, the Armed Forces clemency center at Ft. Benjamin Harrison, Ind., was overwhelmed last week with an average of 141 volunteers each day. But this Monday only six men showed up.

At the Justice Department, which handles the part of the program for draft evaders at large, a spokesman said, "our calls have gone to a halt."

The third part is the Clemency Board, empowered to wipe clean the slates of men convicted of desertion or draft resistance. A spokesman said the board was still engaged in mail.

"There isn't a place in here where you can sit," she said.

IRA inmate dying

DUBLIN (UPI) — One of 16 hunger-striking Irish Republican Army prisoners was reported close to death today and refusing to take food until the government bows to IRA demands.

Patrick Ward and the others began their strike Jan. 3 for better conditions, plus status as political prisoners. The Irish cabinet said it, because of IRA refusal to call a new cease-fire in Britain and Northern Ireland.

Ward was moved from Portlaoine jail to the military hospital at the Curragh camp last week after he received the last rites of the Roman Catholic church.

IRA inmate dying

"The doctors told him he had no resistance left and that he could go into heart failure at any time," Mary Lawlor, his girl friend, said.

A government spokesman said there was still no response from the prisoners' council in Portlaoine to the message relayed to it Monday saying Ward would end his fast if it ordered him to do so.

Jerome accepting applications

JEROME — The Jerome School District will be accepting applications for superintendent of schools until March 1. Lyle Van Orman, board chairman, said the trustees have advertised for a new superintendent since the first of December when John Campbell formally resigned the position. Van Orman said the board has received over 20 applications. Interviews will begin March 1. He said trustees have not offered Campbell a new contract when his expires June 30, nor have they considered offering him a contract for the coming year.

Gray heads fair board

TWIN FALLS — Twin Falls real estate agent Mike Gray was elected chairman of the Twin Falls County Fair Board at a noon meeting of the board Monday. Gray, who has served on the board for more than a year, replaced outgoing chairman Harold Hove. Hove resigned the first of the year. Other officers elected included Gary Bлек, Castleford, who was named vice chairman, and fairgrounds manager Tom Shouse, Filer, who was named board secretary. Raymond Johnson, Kimberly, was appointed to the board to replace Hove. According to Mrs. Tom Shouse the board has contracted with Golden State Rodeo Co., Marysville, Calif., for the production of the 1975 Twin Falls professional rodeo. Mrs. Shouse said the board will meet again the first Monday in March to choose a theme for the 1975 fair.

Aviation safety clinic tonight

TWIN FALLS — A general aviation safety clinic will be held tonight in the Shields Building on the College of Southern Idaho campus. Harry Merrick, Twin Falls airport manager, said the program will deal with multi-engine aircraft operations but is open to pilots of all types of aircraft. The clinic will be in room 117 and will begin at 7:30 p.m. James W. (Pete) Campbell, assistant division chief, flight standards division of the Federal Aviation Agency in Seattle, will be featured speaker.

Mini-Cassia accidents reported

RUPERT — A dozen car accidents, one resulting in serious injuries, followed Tuesday's late afternoon snowstorm in the Mini-Cassia area. Barbara Jean Hinkley, 34, Burley, was admitted to Cassia Memorial Hospital in serious condition Tuesday afternoon following a two-car collision on Highway 27 between Paul and Rupert. The Minidoka sheriff's office said Hinkley lost control of her car on the icy roadway and slid into the oncoming lane of traffic. Hinkley's car collided with one driven by Neil J. Mitchell, 43, Burley. Mitchell was not injured. Neither car had passengers. Hinkley was listed as in improved condition by the Cassia Memorial Hospital this morning. Burley city police said there were 8 accidents reported in the city following the 3 p.m. snowstorm. However, no injuries were reported. The Cassia County Sheriff's office said two accidents had been reported to them but no injuries were reported.

Inspection certificate suspended

JEROME — The operator of a Jerome gasoline station has had his vehicle inspection certificate suspended for 30 days. The certificate for Gary and Gary's Union 70 station was suspended because owner Gary Towle failed to attend training classes on certificate procedures as required by the state.

TF man appears in court

TWIN FALLS — Charles Anthony Ardlsson, 18, appeared in Fifth Judicial District Court this week after completing 120 days of two five-year sentences. He was charged with burglary and malicious destruction of property in connection with an entry at the KMYT-TV station in Twin Falls in 1973 in which extensive damage was caused to electronic and photographic equipment. Judge Theron W. Ward placed the young man on two years probation with the provision he make efforts toward restitution for damage at the station. He had several arraignments on each count, to be served concurrently. The court retained 120 days jurisdiction.

Jerome meet set

JEROME — A meeting will be held at 7:30 p.m. Feb. 13 at Wood's Cafe to discuss further development of highway project from I-85 to New man's Corner. The specific area is located seven miles north of State Highway 25, according to Howard Johnson, district engineer, Shoshone, Idaho Highway Department. The public information meeting is set to secure public input and all interested persons are invited to attend.

TF woman injured

TWIN FALLS — Mrs. Anna H. Hayes, prominent Twin Falls pioneer resident, suffered injuries early today when she either fell on ice or was struck by a car on Blue Lakes Boulevard North. She was admitted to the Twin Falls Clinic Hospital shortly after 7 a.m. and was reported in fair condition. City police were told two young men found her lying beside the curb as they walked by the Episcopal Church. They assisted her into the church. She apparently did not think she was injured until she saw her arm was bleeding and asked for assistance. Officers said the woman was either struck by a hit and run vehicle or slipped on ice and fell, possibly as vehicles were approaching.

Jerome loses second official

JEROME — Jerome has lost another official. Fred Bauscher, newly elected councilman, has resigned from the Jerome City Council, effective Feb. 1. Bauscher is the second councilman to resign in the past month. Long time council member S. N. (Shorty) Weeks resigned the first of January.

Both men stated that because of their health they were resigning their positions. No successor has been appointed by the council to replace Bauscher.

Bill Buhak was appointed in early January to replace Weeks. Bauscher was councilman in charge of city streets.

Resignations are also hitting the Jerome School board. It is anticipated that during the regular board meeting Monday night trustee Darrell Wolfe will submit his resignation.

Lyle Van Orman, board chairman, said Wolfe is working in Twin Falls and expects to move to Twin Falls. "I think the board will accept Wolfe's resignation and re-appoint him to the position to serve out the term until the May school trustee election, when a new member can be elected to fill Wolfe's position without holding a special election," Van Orman said.

Van Orman, who has been on the board for two years also said he would not be a candidate in the May election. "I feel I have served my time, so I will not be running again," Van Orman said.

Mrs. Forrest Hymas, the other trustee whose term expires this spring, has said she will be a candidate.

Financing press pledged

WASHINGTON (UPI) — Sen. Frank Church, D-Idaho, says he would press for early federal financing of a pilot geothermal plant in the Raft River area if further exploratory research proves successful.

The exploratory work in the eastern Idaho area brought in a geothermal well Sunday. Church said he was disappointed that no specific funds were included in the President's fiscal 1976 budget for an Idaho pilot geothermal plant. But he said he would press for such funding if word from the exploratory site is in.

He said Idaho has untapped geothermal resources which could play a key role in an resources which could play a key role in an alternative energy program.

TF 'idea' meet slated by SCCAA

TWIN FALLS — The South Central Community Action Agency is holding a public meeting Saturday at 2 p.m. at the Grange Hall here to get ideas for the use of a $760,000 grant.

Low income and other interested persons are urged to attend the "People's Meeting," and discuss possible uses for the grant with city officials. The five-year grant was made to the City of Twin Falls under the Housing and Community Development Act of 1974. For each of the first three years $190,000 will be used and then $80,000 will be spent for the next two years.

The money can be used for a variety of projects. Without public input, city officials and planners will make decisions as to the use of funds. For instance, the money could be used to purchase deteriorated or undeveloped land for rehabilitation or conversation activities, SCCAA officials said. The land could be used for open space, scenic areas or recreational areas.

Or the funds could be employed in public work projects, for instance the construction of parks, neighborhood facilities, senior centers, historical properties, playgrounds and other recreational facilities. The funds also could be used in clearing away of dilapidated buildings and homes to alleviate dangerous conditions and improve neighborhood's appearance.

The funds, SCCAA officials say, could be employed in public services not otherwise available and involved with child care, crime prevention, economic development, drug abuse or recreational needs. Many other fund uses are possible.

Times-News Capitol Bureau

VALE, Ore. — Idaho Power Co. may build its next coal-fired power plant somewhere in Oregon, according to Malheur County Judge Roy Hiral.

"We'd love to have them quit building the Pioneer Plant and come over here," Hiral said this morning. He added that the Malheur County board of commissioners had made this request to the power company.

Following the request, Hiral said he spoke confidentially with an Idaho Power official who said the company is considering a site in Oregon for its next coal-fired power plant.

Idaho Public Utilities Commission President Robert Lemphong said he did not know of any Idaho Power plants to build a coal-fired plant in Malheur County, next to Idaho.

He said the company verbally had presented long-range plans to the commission about two months ago. The plans did include a joint Idaho Power-Utah Power and Light nuclear plant, but no site was named, Lemphong said.

Robert Brown, director of public relations for Idaho Power, did not know early this morning whether the power company is planning a coal-fired plant in Oregon.

Hiral spoke of Idaho Power's study of an Oregon plant site at a recent meeting of the Oregon Economic Development Commission.

Jerome studies new ordinance

JEROME — The Jerome City Council is considering a new ordinance which would permit a townhouse complex to be built in the north section of town.

Bill Hart, city attorney, told the council at its regular meeting Tuesday night that a new ordinance would have to be drafted and changes made in city zoning and building codes in order for the proposed townhouse project to be completed.

The complex was proposed by Neal Brutsche, Twin Falls developer. The project would consist of six individual units each containing five individual homes that shared a common wall.

Hart said he felt the complex would provide a type of housing needed in Jerome but he warned the council the high density living area if not properly controlled and regulated could cause problems.

"Because of the problems you have with so many people living in one small area," Hart said, "the council should consider an ordinance which would provide that X number of feet be provided for recreation which is to be maintained by the homeowners."

Hart said regulations should also be adopted that would require the homeowners association formed by residents of the proposed complex to see that the area is landscaped and well maintained.

"I think a study should also be conducted of the city building code to see that the complex would be properly built under the city building code and would not be a shambles in a few years," Hart said.

Hart also suggested that a joint meeting between the City Council and the city zoning commission be held in an effort to work out the problems.

Bill Buhak, newly-appointed councilman, said from his recent tour of the water system he did not see how the city could support the project and provide it with water.

Howard Dubois, chief of police, said he had seen townhouse complexes in California and they don't work. "They are a jackpot for the builder," the chief said. "He builds on a small area of land, sells high and then gets out. In a few years, they start running down because you can't force the homeowners to maintain their places."

Rupert hears flood hazards

RUPERT — A consulting firm, under contract to the U.S. Department of Housing and Urban Development, says the north part of Rupert is subject to floods.

However, the firm, Michael Baker Jr., Inc., hasn't conducted a field study, and it gathered all data by telephone, according to Bobbi Johnson, Planning Coordinator, for Rupert.

Johnson made the report to the Rupert City Council Tuesday night. According to Johnson, the consulting firm had a contract with HUD to study Minidoka county and to identify flood hazard areas.

Once identified, the flood areas can be designated as flood hazard areas by HUD. Existing buildings in the hazard area are then eligible for flood insurance, Johnson said. However, the city must pass an ordinance prohibiting further development in the designated area, she stated.

Further, Johnson said, once HUD designates an area as flood prone, federal agencies and federally insured lending institutions will no longer grant loans for new development in the flood area.

Johnson read a letter to the council from Michael Baker, Jr., Inc., that designated all of the city north of 'F' canal as flood prone. Later, Johnson said, there is no explanation for such a designation. She also said, the designated area is where most of the city's new development is taking place.

According to Johnson, the consulting firm conducted no field work, but just called up the Soil Conservation Service. Johnson says the firm apparently misunderstood the SCS, and designated the wrong area as flood prone.

According to Johnson, an area north of the 'B-2' canal is flood prone, and has been so designated by the county. The City Council and Johnson plan to write letters of complaint to HUD and the Baker firm.

Pocatello firm low bidder for Blaine school plan

By BART QUESNELL
Times-News writer

HAILEY — Bids for construction of the new high school were lower than expected with Mitchell Construction Co., Pocatello, the apparent low bidder.

Mitchell Construction has submitted a bid of $3.2 million for construction of the school and a new addition to the old high school which will become Wood River Junior High School.

Miller Construction Co., Twin Falls, bid $3 million; Ormond Construction Co., Twin Falls, bid $3 million; Neilsen and Co., Twin Falls, bid $3.4 million; and Tekton Corp., Salt Lake City, $3.3 million.

Early in 1974 Blaine County voters passed a $4 million bond issue for construction of a new high school plus additions to all schools in the county. The district has a $500,000 plant facility fund which can be used for the construction.

Clark Brothers Construction, Idaho Falls, was the low bidder at $67,460 for additions to Carey, Bellevue, Hatley and Ketchum schools. Clark Brothers began work in the fall of 1974 and are nearly 85 per cent finished with the additions at Bellevue, Carey and Hatley schools.

Two rooms are being added to Bellevue Elementary and Hailey Junior High and a small all-purpose room, kitchen and band room are being added to Carey school. Walls and roofs are constructed and workers are completing interior work now on these three additions.

A concrete slab has been poured at Hemingway Elementary School in Ketchum for three classrooms, a music building and enlargement of the lunchroom there. Workers are to move to Hemingway to complete that job as soon as the other three projects are finished, according to Wayne Fagg, superintendent of schools.

The school district here was told in the summer of 1974 that spiraling construction costs might push the construction of the high school and all of the additions over the $4 million figure.

However, the district may stay under the $4.7 million figure with all basic construction in the district as well as several alternatives they wish to add.

The district was concerned about earlier bid projections, but will probably now be able to afford to complete auditorium seating, retractable bleachers, a greenhouse, metal ward lockers, stage curtains and tracks, carpeting in lieu of hard floors, quarry tile and other alternatives in the high school.

It will cost the district about $4 million to complete the high school and new junior high school, including the alternatives the district originally wanted in the high school.

Canadians feel Olympic problem solved

MONTREAL (UPI) — Organizers of the Montreal Olympics are ready to go to Europe to report to the International Olympic Committee that the 1976 games are back on the track.

Roger Rousseau, director-general of the Olympic Organizing Committee (COJ), said Tuesday at the completion of a two-week parliamentary probe into the Olympics — that he will soon telephone IOC President Lord Killanin to arrange a meeting this month.

"I can go to Lord Killanin now and reassure him that what he was worried about is straightened-out," Rousseau said before leaving Quebec City where the National Assembly Committee hearings were held.

He said he probably would not see Killanin and other officials before a scheduled Feb. 22 meeting of the IOC executive board in Lausanne, Switzerland.

Rousseau has put off the often requested meeting until completion of the Quebec City hearings.

He said he was "much relieved" that the hearings were over.

The committee, which concentrated mainly on the games' escalating costs which now project a $250-million deficit, did not recommend any alterations in the facilities planned for the games, including the $380-million Olympic stadium complex.

The entire project was placed in jeopardy late last year by a construction workers' strike at the stadium site, but settlement of that dispute has put the stadium back on schedule.

The commission did not deal with possible ways of making up the deficit within the framework of Montreal Mayor Jean Drapeau's "self-financing" pledge. Nor did it recommend an infusion of provincial or federal funds to shrink the gap.

Both Quebec Premier Robert Bourassa and the federal government have indicated they would cooperate with Drapeau in implementing any schemes to raise money for the games. But they have refused any outright grants.

The Mayor has yet to put forward his plans, saying asserting that he will keep the games "self-financing."

The games currently project $653 million in expenditures and revenues of about $400 million from the sale of Olympic coins and stamps, a national lottery, various promotional and licensing fees and ticket sales.

Gooding overhauls Jerome to remain in SCIC chase

GOODING — The Gooding Senators, behind Bruce Ware and Kevin Durfee, came from behind in the fourth quarter Tuesday night to drop Jerome 57-49 and stay in contention for the South Central Idaho Conference crown.

The Senators, trailing 10-0 by one game, will host Wood River Friday night in their last SCIC battle of the year. Gooding nipped the Wolverines in four overtimes in Hatley in their first meeting.

The Senators had considerable trouble scoring through the early part of the third period against Jerome, which holds one of the two losses Gooding has sustained in the loop.

It was light through the first half, Gooding managing a 25-22 lead. But in the third quarter Jerome jumped ahead 30-25 and still had a two-point lead when the last period began.

Gooding caught up in the opening moments and then inched steadily away.

Part of Gooding's problem was inability to hit free throws, with seven of 19 attempts, while Jerome had 13 of 20. Gooding's stats showed the Senators hitting 48 per cent from the field against 35 for Jerome and 40 for the Wolves.

that the Senators held a 34-25 rebounding edge.

The mild winter in the Magic Valley region combined with a good fawn crop should help to provide the deer hunter with a good season in 1975.

Game officials classified a total of 1,629 deer in Region 4 the past two months and found an average of 91 fawns per 100 does.

The counts varied from 70 fawns per 100 does in Unit 47 (Three Creeks) to 103 fawns per 100 does in Unit 54 (Cassa). This is excellent production and if there is good fawn survival a bumper crop of yearlings should be available next fall.

composition count of fawns, we are experiencing some type of mortality after our December-January counts.

A study to determine the possible causes of these losses is planned for 1975. Robert Antleith, research biologist at Jerome, is presently attempting to trap some does on winter range in Unit 54 and place radio collars on them. If he is successful, they will be followed in their fawning areas this spring to help biologists locate newborn fawns. The newborn fawns will be captured and special radio collars placed on them. These collars are designed to send out a different signal if the fawn is motionless for about four hours and they can then be located to determine the cause of death.

There are a number of similar studies that have been conducted in nearby states which have utilized the special collars. Results of a three-year study in the Steens Mountains of Oregon showed that an average of 34% of fawns monitored in 1971-1973 died during the first month of life. The principal single cause of mortality was predation which caused 56% of the deaths. Coyotes accounted for two-thirds of the predation and butcaets one-third. Other causes of mortality were starvation and abandonment, accidents, and disease — each accounting for 12.5% of the total mortality.

A study in Nevada in 1973 showed that 9 of 14 collared fawns were recovered dead. Starvation was the prime factor here with four dying of its effects, two from accidents, and two from bobcat predation. Cause of death of the remaining fawn could not be determined.

Idaho's study may show that one factor is important, or that fawn losses are minimal. However, it will provide excellent information for future management of our deer herds.

Injured gridder plans to walk by summer

HOUSTON (UPI) — Kent Waldrep, the Texas Christian University football player partially paralyzed in a game last fall, plans to be walking this summer.

His doctors told him after his injury he would probably never have feeling or movement below his neck.

Tuesday night, he wheeled himself to the sidelines of the Rice-TCU basketball game and received a standing ovation. He lifted his right arm and brushed his eye, an embarrassed smile drifting across his face.

"I'll never be that way. I thank God for the use of my hands and legs. I can see. I'll never be satisfied until I'm out of this wheel chair."

Sharing the TCU Horned Frogs bench Tuesday night was Waldrep's first public outing since being injured making a tackle in the TCU-Alabama game last season. It took a lengthy operation at the Alabama Medical Center to save his life.

Waldrep said early diagnosis was that his spinal cord had been crushed, but now it appears to be only badly bruised. The fourth, fifth and sixth vertebrae are damaged and the fifth one was pushed in and cut the area around the spinal cord.

He can lift a glass of water while playing cards although the muscles in his hands are extremely weak. A tingling in his legs and feet give him more hope.

"My feet were like foreign objects for a while," he said. "You just have to gain patience and I didn't have that for a while."

Waldrep is undergoing therapy at the Texas Institute for Research and Rehabilitation, exercises for one hour in the morning and again in the afternoon. He's trying to lift weights and do pushups.

"Doing that pushup feels like I'm trying to lift up the building. I can get my head six to eight inches off the floor."

A native of Alvin, Tex., Waldrep was on the high school basketball and golf teams as well as football. Watching the game, talking with players and eating a hot dog, Waldrep said it was a little tough just sitting on the sidelines.

"But I think it would hurt me more if I had to be on the sidelines during a football game," he said. "When I was lying in bed back in Alabama listening to the Horned Frogs game, it bothered me a lot."

Marquette tops Badgers

MADISON, Wis. (UPI) — Earl Tatum scored 22 points, most of them on long range jump shots, to lead 12th-ranked Marquette to a 69-63 victory over scrappy state rival Wisconsin Tuesday night, their 10th in a row over the Badgers.

Wisconsin, which won its first Big Ten game Saturday, came on strong in the first half behind Dale Koehler and Bruce Marney. The Badgers squeezed out a 34-33 halftime advantage after the lead had changed 13 times.

The game stayed close in the second half, with the lead changing five more times until Marquette took a 45-40 lead.

NC St. nips Clemson

RALEIGH, N.C. (UPI) — With All-America David Thompson scoring 29 points, sixth-ranked North Carolina State weathered a second half rally by Clemson to nip the 15th-ranked Tigers 92-89.

The Tigers, down 54-36 at the half and trailing by as many as 22 points in the second half, came within a point of the Wakepack at 90-89 with 15 seconds to go.

Terps beat Virginia

COLLEGE PARK, Md. (UPI) — Fourth-ranked Maryland had to go to the stall to beat plucky Virginia Tuesday night, sneaking away with an 84-79 victory.

Maryland had taken a 44-31 halftime lead on a 12-point spurt mid-way in the first half, but the Terps came out flat at half-time and allowed the Cavaliers to peek away at the lead.

Maryland had struggled back to a 14-point, 74 to 60 margin with 7:48 left, and then watched the Cavaliers reel off 11 straight points in the next four minutes behind the ball-shooting of Andy Bonini and Wally Walker.

Richfield rallies past Dietrich 70-62

RICHFIELD — Ron Holland and Mike Robinson split 20 points in the final quarter Tuesday night to lift the rallying Richfield Tigers past the Dietrich Blue Devils 70-62.

Dietrich's defense did its best job of keeping the ball away from the 6-3 Robinson over the first three quarters and during that time Coach Larry Messick's crew mounted a slight 40-38 lead.

In the final period, Holland ripped three long shots and added a couple more field goals and Robinson got loose inside for 10 points. Richfield hit 22 points in the first period against 12 for the Devils.

The Tigers also enjoyed a good 18 for 27 night in the foul line to cement the win.

Filer, Buhl advance in girls' cage meet

FILER — The Filer Wildcats and Buhl Indians scuffled their opposition Tuesday night to gain the semi-finals of the Magic Valley sectional girls basketball tournament.

Filer thumped ice cold Camas County 29-8 while Buhl, getting 20 points from Meier, belted Murlough 46-12.

Camas County went the entire second period without a point and during that time Filer jumped its lead from two points to 16-1.

Murlough managed only two points in each the second and fourth quarters.

The tournament will resume with four games Monday at the Filer gymnasium.

Kimberly needs Shoshone at 1 p.m. with Camas County taking on Murlough at 3 p.m.

The losers will be out at 6 p.m. Twin Falls takes on Minto with Buhl and Filer colliding in the nightcap.

Champions will be crowned Tuesday night the consolation finals set for 7 p.m., third place at 8 p.m. and the finals at 9 p.m.

Declo free throws top Hagerman 50-42

DECLE — The Declo Hornets used free throws to offset a full-court press by Hagerman's Pirates Tuesday night and collect a 50-42 triumph.

Declo had to come from behind in the final 12 minutes to pull out the victory.

After a season's first halt, Hagerman moved ahead by four points in the third quarter with Declo coming back into a 26-23 lead.

Hagerman then turned to its press and the Hornets started hitting off the foul line. Declo outscored the Pirates 10-4 from there to ice the victory.

ISU faces crucial weekend on road

POCATELLO — Idaho State is in a "must-win" situation this weekend. The Bengals take to the road in Big Sky basketball action, playing Northern Arizona at Flagstaff Thursday and Weber State in Ogden Saturday.

It now appears that Northern Arizona has the most reasonable chance of catching league-leading Montana. The Lambs will split on the road over the weekend, losing 101-77 to ISU but taking a one-point decision at Boise State. NAU now has two road wins and is 1-0 at home. Montana is 6-0, with three wins at home and away.

ISU is 2-2, but yet to be win away from home. Weber is 2-4 with a road win over ISU, but a home loss to NAU.

"We split at home last weekend, and that's suicide in the Big Sky," says ISU Coach Jim Killingsworth. "The only way we can get back in it (the league race) is to win both games this weekend, and that will be tough."

Killingsworth continued, "We seem to be falling right behind at the start of every game, even the ones we win ...

Bowling meet opens

TWIN FALLS — Bowlers from Magic Valley will be competing now through Feb. 9 in the Midas Open Bow-O.

Winners may have a chance to represent this area in the national pins-over-average tournament.

Castleford thumps cold Hansen 46-28

CASTLEFORD — The Castleford Huskies zipped past the cold-shooting Hansen Huskies 46-28 Tuesday night to even the season record between the two clubs.

Hansen couldn't challenge the Wolves as it managed only six points in each of the first three quarters.

The Wolves weren't a lot hotter, outscoring the Huskies 15 field goals to eight.

Harper hits 28 as Trojans top Devils

MALTA — Rick Harper put on a 28 point scoring display and Hutchison added 20 more Tuesday night when the Holt River Trojans dropped the Murlough Red Devils 52-25.

The victors kept the Trojans one game behind Oakley in the Magic Valley Conference race and set up a showdown between those two Friday night at Oakley.

Harper scored from just inside the three-point arc, and Alan Wallace isolated his high scoring junior guard for one-on-one play several times.

The Trojans broke away in the second quarter, outscoring Murlough 20-10 during that span.

ISU eventually must declare Davis cup status

NEW YORK — Jimmy Connors is ready to play on the U.S. Davis Cup team without any provision. The selection committee has to be changed along with the procedure for choosing the players.

"He'll play for the Davis Cup team tomorrow," Connors' advisor and close friend, Bill Rordan, said Tuesday. "He'll play, providing they get the politics out of it."

Connors' continued and conspicuous absence from the U.S. Davis Cup team came into extra sharp focus Sunday after he strengthened his reputation as the world's No. 1 tennis player by beating Australian Rod Laver in a $100,000 match at Las Vegas when the United States' tennis fortunes simultaneously were hitting rock bottom with a defeat at the hands of Mexico's Davis Cuppers in Palm Springs, Calif.

"His life Jimmy has wanted to play for his country," said Rordan. "That's the only thing he's never done, and it has been his ambition since he was a little boy. But he's not a hypocrite. Before he plays on the Davis Cup team, they're going to have to shake up that whole selection committee and change the way they choose the players."

Connors won $201,200 playing tennis last year, and added $300,000 more in endorsements and appearances. With the fine financial head start he got for subduing the determined 36-year-old Laver, he is in an excellent position to surpass that total this year.

Some of Connors' critics, and he has a number, have cast aspersions on his patriotism for passing up invitations to join the U.S. Davis Cup team three consecutive years now. Others maintain the independent 25-year-old is sincerely interested in making money.

Rordan, president of the Independent Players' Association of which Connors is vice president, contends all this is plain hogwash. Speaking from his law office in Salisbury, Md., he said:

"When the ultimate history of tennis is written, Jimmy Connors will emerge as the one leading individual who was willing to fight to keep the sport free from the graspers, trying to infect it Jimmy is not intensely loyal and faithful person, more patriotic than anyone I know."

The closest Connors ever came to playing for the U.S. was in 1972 when he actually was a member of the squad directly for an American Zone match with the British West Indies in Kingston, Jamaica.

Connors never got to compete because Dennis Ralston, the captain of the team, said he didn't feel he was playing well enough.

Both Connors and Rordan believe the reason Ralston wouldn't permit Connors to play for the U.S. is that, because the then relatively unknown 19-year-old Belleville, Ill., native had not agreed to allow Donald Dell to be his business representative. Dell, a past Davis Cup captain and now a players' agent is also the legal counsel to the Association of Tennis Professionals, a rival group of the Independent Players' Association.

Ever since then, Connors and Ralston never have seen eye to eye.

Rordan, who has had a marked influence on Connors, also makes his feelings clear about Ralston.

"When the Association of Tennis Professionals banned Wimbledon in 1974," Rordan remembered, "I received frantic phone calls from Alan Heyman, then president of the International Lawn Tennis Federation, and Walker Elcock, then president of the United States Lawn Tennis Association, pleading with me to make sure (that) Nastase and Connors would play Wimbledon."

"I told them, 'don't worry. They're both going to play.' They (Ralston) turned around and boycotted Wimbledon. I said then that with him being on the USLTA payroll, it was like the President of General Motors going on the picket line. Ralston shouldn't be rewarded."

Should Ralston be booted as captain now, it undoubtedly would pave the way for Connors' return to the Davis Cup team.

Horoscope

Carroll Righter

FORECAST FOR THURSDAY, FEB. 6, 1975

GENERAL TENDENCIES: A good day and evening to find money ways to put rest into whatever you have to do, be it personal or of a creative nature. You can make a vital decision in the morning and organize the details later.

ARIES (Mar. 21 to Apr. 19) Obtain the information you need for a new project you have in mind. Sidestep a person who has an eye on your assets. Be alert.

TAURUS (Apr. 20 to May 20) Follow your intuition and handle a problem accurately that comes up in the middle of the morning. Reach accord with mate.

GEMINI (May 21 to June 21) Complete arrangements with associates early in the day. Come to right understanding with one who opposes you. Be honest.

MOON CHILDREN (June 22 to July 21) Dive into your work early and get it out of the way so you'll have time for social activity later. Avoid arguments.

LEO (July 22 to Aug. 21) Plan how to put your finest talents to work so you can gain your objectives. Don't be so explosive and you will be appreciated.

VIRGO (Aug. 22 to Sept. 22) Make plans with family members about future activities. Don't neglect something that is of vital importance to your welfare.

LIBRA (Sept. 23 to Oct. 23) Once you have handled outside responsibilities efficiently, you can entertain congenials at home. Discuss future plans.

SCORPIO (Oct. 23 to Nov. 21) Make sure you know what your financial position is before making any large purchases. Stay within your budget when shopping.

SAGITTARIUS (Nov. 22 to Dec. 21) Be certain that a personal matter is handled wisely early in the day. Show close ties how important they are to you.

CAPRICORN (Dec. 22 to Jan. 20) Know what it is you want and then bend your efforts in such directions. An adviser can lead you in the right course.

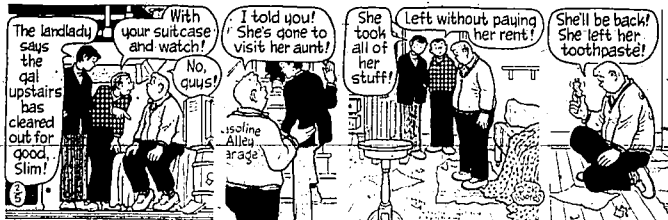

AQUARIUS (Jan. 21 to Feb. 19) Make long-range plans for the future with associates. Don't neglect health treatments. Evince is best for correspondence.

PISCES (Feb. 20 to Mar. 20) Contact an influential person you know for the support you need for a project. Be sure to attend the social tonight.

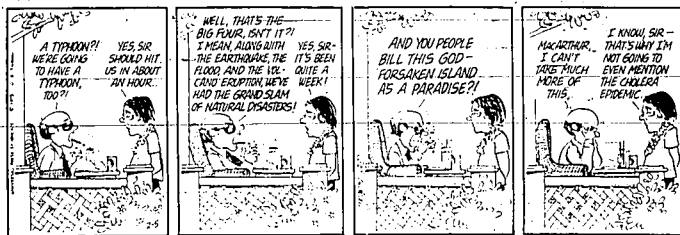

IF YOUR CHILD IS BORN TODAY: ...he or she will have a strong mind and body, and could easily excel in sports. Make certain to give the finest education you can afford, so that their progeny will use "the energies wisely and become successful. Give ethical training early in life.

"The Stars impel, they do not compel." What you make of your life is largely up to YOU!

What's What

L. M. Boyd

In 1960, the census takers found out that 34,000 men and women nationwide were living together without the benefit of the marriage ceremony. In 1970, those statisticians discovered that 286,000 men and women were doing likewise. Golly, Zero! But researchers say the trend is reversing of late.

BASEBALL was a pitcher's game when it started out, no doubt about that. In 1879, a pitcher could throw nine balls before the batter walked.

IS THERE such a thing as an average thundercloud? Must be, because weathermen say the average contains 100,000 tons of water.

"HORMONE" is a Greek word meaning "I set in motion."

QUEEN BEE

Q. "Will a queen bee sting you?"
A. Not unless you're another queen bee.

IT HAS BEEN claimed by whimsical folk that people are divided into two kinds, those who put sugar on their tomatoes and those who put salt on same. These are not the same spokesmen, it's assumed, who contend all people are divided otherwise, those who like their strawberries on sponge cake and those who like their strawberries on biscuits. For my part, all people are divided differently, those who put down their corn on the cob between bites and those who don't.

BLOODY

It's now reported that the English expletive "bloody" originally was regarded as blasphemous inasmuch as it was a contraction of "By Our Lady."

THE JAPANESE have come up with a vending machine that freshly cooks and serves spaghetti with meat sauce in 27 seconds. Ach!

ITEMS from our Love and War man's file on matters romantic: 1. "That fellow who springs the excuse that he's not good enough for you, young lady, is right." 2. "If the boyfriend and his girl like each other sufficiently to fight, they probably can repair the damage." 3. "Remember, son, a girl in the car is worth two in the little black book."

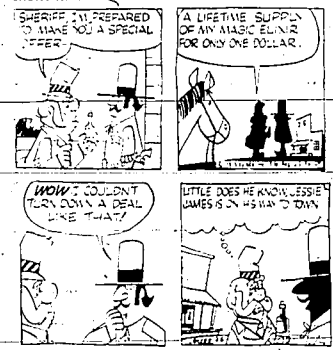

IF YOU WANT to get some idea about how old the game of bowling is, consider the fact that a set of nine pins and some balls were found in an Egyptian tomb sealed up in approximately 5,000 B.C.
