Moslem rebels kill 12

MANILA (UPI)—Moslem rebels ambushed an army battalion just outside a besieged southern Philippine provincial capital early this week, killing at least 12 troopers, travelers reported today.
Twenty-eight other troopers were reported missing when the 4th army division's 2nd battalion, composed of about 500 men, ran into the ambush Monday a mile and a half south of Cotabato city, they said. Cotabato is about 600 miles south of Manila.
Military spokesmen in Manila said they have no information on the incident.

Onassis enters Paris hospital

PARIS (UPI)—Aristotle Onassis slipped into the American Hospital through a back door today for emergency medical treatment for a potentially deadly muscle disease. He looked tired and had deep circles under his eyes.
The 69-year-old Greek shipping magnate hurried through the rear entrance with his doctor after spending the night in his Paris apartment, his wife, Jacqueline Kennedy Onassis, at his side.

Near miss reported

WASHINGTON (UPI)—A federal safety board was told today that a United Airlines passenger jet last October barely missed the same Virginia mountain where TWA flight 214 crashed Dec. 1, killing all 82 persons aboard.
A written statement by United Airlines vice president J.D. Smith said his company had received an anonymous report from one of its pilots of a premature descent during an approach to Dulles International Airport last October.
The pilot was unaware until after his landing that he cleared Mt. Weather, 23 miles northwest of Dulles, by only about 36 feet.

Wallace serving illegally?

MONTGOMERY, Ala. (UPI)—Justice Department officials have begun a study of the 1965 voting rights act to determine if Gov. George Wallace is serving his third term illegally. Wallace had no opponent.
A Justice Department official Thursday said the department was trying to decide if a 1967 amendment to the Alabama constitution allowing state officials to succeed themselves in office should have been submitted to the department for approval.
Under the Voting Rights Act, any law change in Alabama, or five other Southern states, which might affect the minority voting rights must be submitted to the Justice Department. It appears the 1967 amendment was not submitted.

Cosell sued by youth

SAN DIEGO (UPI)—A 17-year-old boy is demanding $3 million damages from sportscaster Howard Cosell, charging Cosell hit him in a hotel lobby and called him a disgrace to the country.
Scott Schindler alleged that when he asked Cosell for an autograph at the Sheraton Airport hotel on March 30, 1973, the sportscaster insulted and hit him.

Chrysler calls back 160 workers

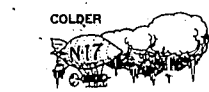

DETROIT (UPI)—The number may be small, but the 160 workers Chrysler Corp. is calling back from indefinite layoff at a Detroit engine plant may be a turnaround point for the crippled auto industry.
The No. 3 automaker Thursday said the workers will return to their jobs Monday at the Mound Road engine plant, a facility whose employment dropped from 3,000 last August to 1,200 in January. Production of 318-cubic-inch engines for cars and trucks will be increased from 1,150 a day to 1,500.

Seniors accused of setting 500 fires

NEW YORK (UPI)—A 73-year-old woman and her 66-year-old sister were among three persons arrested Thursday for allegedly setting some 500 fires in the last 12 years to collect millions in insurance, authorities said.
Queens County District Attorney Nicholas Ferraro said a seven-month, undercover investigation conducted for his office and the office of Fire Marshal Edwin Sheppard led to the indictments.
He described the three as leaders of a ring that allegedly hired professional "torches" to set hundreds of fires in Queens and Nassau County to collect millions of dollars of insurance money.

Service food bargains halted

WASHINGTON (UPI)—A century of subsidized groceries available to servicemen in military commissaries will come to an end next year, the Pentagon said today.

Gem unemployment climbs to 12-year high of 7.3%

By DIANE ALTERS
Times News writer
TWIN FALLS — Unemployment reached 7.3 percent in Idaho in January, the highest point in 12 years.
Some 31,500 people are looking for work at this rate, which is adjusted to account for regular seasonal layoffs.
The actual rate, according to labor market analyst Steve Seward at the Department of Employment, is 8.0 percent. These "forecast" figures were just released today to coincide with the federal government's releasing of national unemployment figures for January.
The official figure of 7.3 percent does not take into account food processing plant layoffs, which will appear in next month's figures, possibly making the February rate even higher.

The rate is a jump from December's 6.4 percent rate of unemployment and is a "major change," according to Seward. He said the unemployment rate in Idaho has been climbing steadily, but is the highest it has been since May of 1963 when the rate hit 7.4 percent.
Still below the national average of 8.2 percent, the rate is higher than expected, Seward said. It's "unusual" for Idaho to be below the national unemployment rate, and the lower rate "doesn't mean it's good, it just means it's slower," he said.

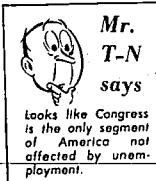

The picture for Twin Falls County is lower, estimated at 6.3 percent with 1,350 people out of work, according to Jack Voegelz of the local Department of Employment. The county figures don't reflect any January layoffs either, Voegelz said. Any January layoffs will show up in February figures, he said.
The high figures for Idaho "can't last forever," said Steve Seward at the state office. "Idaho won't be hurt as bad as the nation" unless something falls apart in agriculture. "If something falls apart" in agriculture, it won't be related to the recession but to weather and prices, Seward said.
What about the people looking for work now?

Those 31,500 people out of work in the state have some chance of collecting unemployment insurance benefits.
About 17,583 people applied for unemployment insurance benefits in January, Seward estimated. The figure has been climbing steadily since the first part of December, when 10,149 people applied for benefits. December's unemployment rate was 6.4 percent.
Figures are not yet available for how many January claims were approved, but the Department of Employment estimates that each person on unemployment insurance "draws an average weekly payment of $63.68."

'Mynah' joke

RAJAH AND RANI, both Mynah birds, perch on Rabbi Aaron Zimmerman, Toronto, who will officiate at their marriage in two weeks. They will exchange vows in Las Vegas or Niagara Falls. "The world is in such a sad state it needs a good laugh," Zimmerman said Thursday.

Mr. T-N says

Looks like Congress is the only segment of America not affected by unemployment.

Church asks joint probe

WASHINGTON (UPI)—Sen. Frank Church, D-Idaho, chairman of the Senate's special inquiry into CIA activities, suggested that his committee work with a similar House panel and possibly hold joint hearings.
"I will stand ready to cooperate," Church told reporters Thursday at the conclusion of the Senate panel's initial meeting.

Colson slaps FBI

WASHINGTON (UPI)—Former White House adviser Charles C. Colson, citing one incident involving Navy Lt. John F. Kennedy and Nazi agents, lashed out today at FBI surveillance of prominent Americans.
"It's a practice that ought to be stopped. That's the wrong use of the FBI in a free society," said Colson, recently released from a federal prison after serving seven months for obstruction of justice in the Daniel Ellsberg break-in case.
He said the FBI presented two pieces of intelligence information — one on former President Kennedy and another on Sen. George McGovern, D-S.D. — to the White House when Richard M. Nixon was president.
"It really was the kind of thing that I didn't want to use, frankly," said Colson in an interview on the NBC Today show.
Colson declined to discuss the items in detail. But he indicated neither had national security importance and neither was used by the Nixon administration.

Lima cools; 100 reported dead

LIMA (UPI)—The military government of Peru announced today that "around 100 persons" died during the army's suppression of the civil disorders that rocked Lima Wednesday and Thursday.
As tranquility returned to the capital and the government ordered Peruvians to return to work, an official communique said:
"The number of deaths in the vandalism and counter-revolutionary activity is around 100."
The left-wing government, whose spokesmen have contended the riots were caused by reactionary elements opposed to its program of reform, said it was releasing the figure to combat false rumors.

Jobless count hits 8.2%

WASHINGTON (UPI)—Some 930,000 persons lost their jobs in January, driving up the nation's unemployment rate by a full percentage point to 8.2 percent — the highest rate since 1941 — the Labor Department said today.

With no relief in sight, the department's Bureau of Labor Statistics announced that a total of 7.5 million persons were out of work in January. Especially hard hit were the blue collar workers, whose unemployment rate rose to 11 percent.
The Ford administration has predicted unemployment will reach 8.5 percent this year and will average near 8 percent over the next two years.
The January rate, up from 7.2 percent in December, far surpassed a 1959 peak of 7.5 percent and a 1949 high of 7.9 percent.
The unemployment rate has not exceeded 8 percent since 1941, a year in which the average annual rate was 9.9 percent as the nation began to shake off the effects of the Depression and before it entered World War II. The government did not begin collecting monthly data on unemployment until 1948.

Predicting the current meteoric rise in unemployment will peak at 8.5 percent sometime in 1975, President Ford's chief economist, Alan Greenspan, conceded Thursday there is not much the administration can do to bring it below 8 percent in the next two years.

Ford's budget message last week included predictions the jobless rate would average 8.1 percent this year and 7.9 next year when he plans to run for the presidency.
The number of Americans left with jobs in January totaled 84.6 million, about the same level of employment as August, 1973.

The department estimates that for each 1 percent increase in unemployment approximately 90,000 persons have lost their jobs.

Virtually all worker groups have been affected by the recession. Some 18 million jobs were eliminated from September to January — 640,000 of them between December and January — as the nation's economy has contracted.

A 15 percent unemployment rate was recorded in the construction industry; 10.5 percent in the manufacturing industry and 10.2 percent among agricultural wage and salary workers.

Gem Senate to vote on lower pay boost

BOISE — Proposed salary increases to 25,000 state employees would be knocked down 30 percent by a Senate resolution up for a vote today.
Republican and Democrat leaders both agree that the vote is too close to call.
Democrats and state employees representatives question the legality of the resolution already approved by the Republicans in caucus.
In his budget message Gov. Cecil D. Andrus proposed state employees be given 7.5 percent cost-of-living salary increases, costing the state $10.9 million.
An additional $4.4 million would be spent to reallocate "reallocation" salaries or make the wages of specific types of state employees equal to the wages they could expect in private industry, under the governor's plan.
This money — plus normal "steps" increases given for longevity at the job, on the average would raise state employees wages 14.5 percent, according to Rep. Phil Batt, R-Boise, and Senate majority leader.
Attorney Bill Roden, executive director of the Idaho Public Employees Association, says that state law provides that state employees receive the "prevailing rate" paid in the private sector to workers doing the same job. This law necessitates reallocation when there are differences between public and private wage earners doing the same job.

Tax reduction measure passed by House panel

WASHINGTON (UPI)—A $9.1 billion tax reduction bill, including rebates of up to $200 for all taxpayers this spring or summer, has made the first step on a trip through Congress.
The House Ways and Means Committee, which must originate all changes in federal tax law, voted 25-5 Thursday night for a combination of $3 billion in 1974 tax rebates, $3.5 billion in 1975 personal tax reductions, and $3.8 billion in increased investment incentives and cuts for business.
This was $4 billion more than President Ford requested in recession-fighting tax cuts.
Big business struck out, however, as the committee narrowly defeated a $1 billion bailout of financially troubled companies such as

Chrysler and Lockheed, and voted to limit the giant American Telephone & Telegraph Co. to $100 million in additional investment incentives, $385 million less than AT&T would have received.
The bill, completed by the committee in less than four days, was a personal victory for Rep. Al Ullman, D-Ore., who replaced Rep. Wilbur Mills as Congress' chief tax writer this year and who promised to have the bill finished by the end of the week. Mills remained a committee member after he resigned the chairmanship and was hospitalized for treatment of alcoholism, but he had not yet returned to Congress.
If the bill should be passed by the House and later the Senate, everyone who paid taxes in 1974 rich or poor — would receive a check from the government this spring or summer.

Low and moderate income Americans also would find the government taking less out of their paychecks every payday in the last half of the year, the result of lower withholding rates brought about by the committee's increase in the standard deduction.
President Ford's requested program would have been limited to $4 billion in business investment incentives and $12 billion in individual rebates of 12 percent up to $100.
The rebate section of the committee bill would grant a 10 percent rate up to a $200 maximum with the largest rebates going to middle income families with roughly $10,000 to $20,000 of adjusted gross income. Above $20,000, the rebate would gradually be reduced until those making more than $30,000 would receive no more than $30 to $100. The exact figure is being calculated by the committee staff.

For an average family of four with $10,000 or less adjusted gross income, the rebate would amount to either $100 or the tax paid. The rebate would be $125 at $12,500 of income, $170 at $15,000 and $200 at $20,000.
Following the congressional Lincoln's Birthday recess, the committee still must consider final staff calculations as to exactly how high the rebate will be for upper income persons in order to remain within an $8 billion rebate ceiling.

Gum heir's wife killed

NEWPORT BEACH, Calif.—A 75-year-old Lebanese servant admitted he beat to death the wife of an heir to the Wrigley chewing gum fortune and stuffed her body in a cement-filled drum found in a junkyard, police said today.

Police said they were under a court gag order forbidding them to discuss the murder for the slaying but might be able to reveal it "in a few days."

Daniel Garbas Bedelian, 40, was booked on suspicion of murder in the death of Nancy Fuller Atwater, 50, widow of a Wrigley executive and heir to $10 million of the Wrigley fortune.

Atwater's sister is married to Philip Knibt Wrigley of Chicago, who owns the Chicago Cubs baseball team and most of Santa Catalina Island off the coast of Southern California.

Wrigley's son William is president of the chewing gum company in which the family fortune is founded.

Bedelian had been lured as a night nurse for Atwater, a mentally incapacitated invalid.

Police said Bedelian led them Thursday to Mrs. Atwater's body, discovered "trussed up like a ham" in a 55-gallon oil drum filled with 25 pounds of cement in an auto wrecking yard in San Valley, Calif. The cement had been improperly mixed and only a six-inch thick crust on top had hardened and had to be broken through.

The wrecking yard is owned by other Lebanese immigrants, friends of Bedelian's, who said he left the oil drum there.

The coroner's office said Mrs. Atwater had been killed some time before dawn Wednesday by a "blunt force" blow on the head, and may also have been stabbed in the head.

Newport Beach detectives and Orange County sheriff's deputies began searching for Bedelian after Atwater's day attendant became alarmed at Mrs. Atwater's disappearance.

Detectives said they found bloodstains on the walls of the family's $500,000 Corona del Mar mansion, which someone had tried to obscure by painting over them with yellow and black paint.

Atwater, 67, who sleeps in another bedroom, was apparently unaware of the beating death of his wife in her room, police said.

AN Orange County, California, deputy sheriff takes a 55-gallon drum in which the body of Mrs. Nancy Atwater was found Thursday to the crime lab. Mrs. Atwater, 50, was the wife of A.G. Atwater, millionaire member of the Wrigley chewing gum family. Atwater's male nurse has been arrested by police. (UPI)

Henry makes final negotiations run

WASHINGTON (UPI)—Secretary of State Henry A. Kissinger will be making his "last run" in shuttle diplomacy in the Middle East in the coming weeks, it is being said.

Arrangements are pending at Rabat for Kissinger's schedule for his 10th Middle East visit beginning Sunday and a expected final mediation effort a few weeks later, the officials Thursday said that if these efforts fail, Arab-Israeli negotiators will have to go to the Geneva peace talks with Soviet and American co-chairmanship.

"This would be Kissinger's 'last run' if step-by-step negotiations, founder, the officials said, although they pointed out that both the Israelis and Americans believe the time is not yet ripe for a full Geneva conference.

The secretary leaves Washington Sunday night and arrives in Israel Monday afternoon for talks with the Israeli government lasting through Tuesday.

From Beirut Kissinger will visit Cairo, Damascus and Israel again and then Jordan and Saudi Arabia.

The purpose of this first trip, officials said, is an attempt to assess the limits to which Israeli and Arab governments are reasonably prepared to go to carry the negotiations a step forward.

Such a movement is evident; Kissinger would go again in a few weeks for a more intensive effort.

Kissinger said Monday he was confident of progress in step-by-step negotiations, although "I obviously would not be going to the Middle East."

In addition to his Arab-Israeli fact-finding tour, Kissinger will meet in Delewa Plev, 161 with Soviet Foreign Minister Andrei Gromyko who has just concluded a Middle East tour of his own excluding Israel.

Gromyko's apparent objective was to persuade Arab countries to abandon Kissinger's mediation efforts and move peace negotiations to the Geneva conference where the Soviet Union will have a powerful voice.

While warning enthusiastic Syrian support, Gromyko appeared to have failed in Cairo where Egyptian president Anwar Sadat made clear his determination to continue negotiating with Israel through Kissinger.

Oil consuming nations approve energy plan

PARIS (UPI)—Eighteen leading oil consuming nations today approved a sweeping energy conservation plan that would chop their oil imports by two million barrels a day in 1975.

The 18 members of the International Energy Agency also said they have agreed to attend a preliminary meeting in March with petroleum producing countries to set up global energy talks on oil problems.

The IEA decision conflicted with demands by the 13-nation Organization of Petroleum Exporting Countries that global bargaining with the industrialized nations cover all basic raw materials.

Conference chairman Etienne Davignon of Belgium said the group made no decision on the latest proposal of Secretary of State Henry Kissinger to set a floor price on oil in order to encourage development of other energy sources.

Davignon said the IEA governing board established an elite study group to study the various U.S. plans on the oil crisis and report back to the board within a few weeks.

"There is nothing new in the latest Kissinger proposals and it is quite normal that we talked about them," Davignon said.

The IEA constitution already sets out energy conservation and development of substitute energy sources as the agency's main goal.

Possession charged

TWIN FALLS—Two men were arrested in Twin Falls Thursday on charges of possession and delivery of a controlled substance.

Det. Capt. Tom Qualls said Det. Frederick Metz, 29, Sacramento, Calif., is charged with two counts, a felony, delivery of a controlled substance, and a misdemeanor, possession of a controlled substance.

Steve P. Wirthlin, 20, Caldwell, was also arrested and charged with possession of a controlled substance, a misdemeanor. Both are scheduled to appear in court later today.

Skiers warned of danger

TWIN FALLS—At ski reports and snow machine areas report adequate snow for the coming weekend.

But U.S. Forest Service officials have issued an avalanche warning for areas of heavy snow.

Sun Valley has receive 40 inches of snow in the past week to bring depths to 64 inches at the top of Baldy mountain, 54 at the Hotdough and 25 inches on the valley floor.

Hotdough has a new 12 inches of snow with 25 inches total depth on the ski slopes. The area is open weekends and on Tuesday through Thursday for night skiing.

Soldier Mountain reports a total of 20 inches of new snow in the past week and all runs are covered—and in the best shape of the year. Lifts are all running Wednesday through Sunday.

Magie-Moonlight reports a snowfall of 11 inches during the week and is running Thursday through Sunday.

Panurelle also received eight inches of new snow in the past week and continues to operate daily.

Roads to all resorts require snow-tires or chains but are reported in good condition.

For cross-country skiing and snowmobiling, snow depths include Galena Summit with 60 inches, Sawtooth City the same and Cape Horn 40 inches. About half of this is new snow.

The Sawtooth National Forest reports a general avalanche warning is out from Hailey to Stanley. Rapid snow accumulations of the past week with high winds up to 25 miles per hour have combined to create serious avalanche dangers, the report states.

Persons going into back country or mountain areas should avoid avalanche areas including slopes of 30 degrees or more until the avalanche conditions subside.

Nazarene churches sponsor camp meets

TWIN FALLS—The eight Nazarene congregations in the Magic Valley will sponsor a mid-winter camp meeting in the Twin Falls church Tuesday through Feb. 16.

Services will be conducted daily at the church at 401 Sixth Ave. N., at 10:30 a.m. Wednesday through Friday and evening sessions are set at 7:45 daily. Nursery service will be provided for pre-school children.

Dr. Richard S. Taylor, professor of theology and missions at the Nazarene Bible College, Sidney, Australia, will be the special speaker. He is the author of several books.

Tom Dale, Northwest Nazarene College, Nampa, will be in charge of music.

There will be a youth choir from the valley each evening and other special members. A special half-hour concert will be given by the King's Brass Tuesday at 7:30 p.m. to be followed by the regular service.

Anyone interested is invited to all the services and more information can be obtained by calling 733-3679.

Participating churches include Buhl, Burley, Filer, Gooding, Jerome, Kimberly, Rupert and Twin Falls.

Birth expert testifies

BOSTON (UPI)—A New York City childbirth expert says the abortion whiffled to a surgeon's indictment for manslaughter of the fetus involved "perfectly acceptable" medical procedures.

Dr. Allan Barnes, former chairman of the obstetrics department at Johns Hopkins University, said even if Dr. Kenneth C. Edelin delayed in mid-operation to watch a clock for three minutes—as the prosecution claims—he would not have jeopardized the fetal life.

Barnes Thursday endorsed the steps Edelin allegedly took before, during and after an October 1972 abortion that led to his indictment and trial.

Edelin has denied any delay and denies even the presence of a clock during the surgical abortion on a woman about six months pregnant. But Barnes said the delay—even if it occurred—could not have jeopardized the survival chances of the fetus. He described those chances as virtually nil anyway.

Barnes' endorsement of Edelin's judgment and practice was unqualified and he held it despite intensive cross-examination from Assistant District Attorney Newman A. Flanagan.

At one point Flanagan asked if Edelin had followed good medical practice by his admitted failure to determine whether the fetus was alive before undertaking the somewhat dangerous operation, Barnes answered, "That is perfectly acceptable medical practice."

Sinai passes defensive keys

MITLA PASS, Israel-occupied Egypt (UPI) — This winding mountain pass strewn with the rusted wreckage of past conflicts is the path war will take if Egypt and Israel fight again.

To block any Egyptian thrust, Israel wants to keep the Mitla and the Gidi Pass, 10 miles away, until it can sign a peace agreement with Cairo.

It has insisted on not surrendering the passes, seized in the 1967 Middle East war, as part of a second-stage disengagement agreement with Egypt.

A senior military officer said Wednesday both Sinai passes, if returned to Egypt, would be Cairo's chief defense against possible attack on the Suez Canal.

"For Israel, both passes are the best point for defense against large armies, as is the Egyptian army," the officer said.

"For Egypt, the best point to defend the Suez Canal is also this chain of mountains and the Mitla and Gidi passes."

Overlooking the western entrance of the pass from a fortress dug into the rock of an 1,800-foot peak, the officer said

If Israel gave up the passes its front line would expand from the present 87-mile length to 250 miles.

Return of the passes, which can be controlled with relatively light forces, would mean the Israelis would have to spread themselves thinner.

The officer made the comments to newsmen during a press tour of parts of the Sinai Peninsula conducted by the military command prior to the expected arrival in the Middle East next week of Secretary of State Henry Kissinger.

Sinaitic officers argue that the passes 19 miles east of the southern tip of the canal are the cornerstone of Israel's defense of Sinai because a battalion of men could hold off a division there.

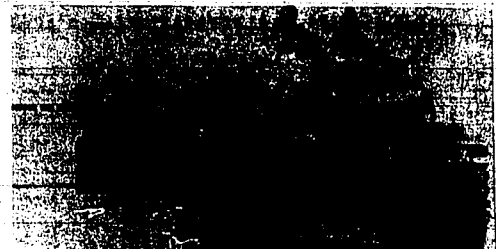

The holding action could buy the time Israel would need to call up its army reserves.

"It would be much more difficult to defend Israel without the passes," the officers said. "The only major attack that could succeed would be through the passes."

The Israelis have erected orange and white steel towers as high as 13-story buildings at the edge of their Sinai line. From them they watch the Egyptians on both banks of the waterway.

"Those towers are our eyes," the officer said. "We can see movement on roads on both sides of the canal. We are very much dependent on these towers so as not to be surprised again."

Bylaws approved

TWIN FALLS — Updated bylaws were approved at a meeting of the Twin Falls PTA Council Monday night at Vera C. O'Leary Junior High School.

Camden Meyer, assistant superintendent of schools, spoke on the selection of textbooks.

Con L. Keefe, Mrs. Ernest Romans and Darl Gilead were appointed to the nominating committee.

The next council meeting will be March 3.

She has eyebrow problems

By GEORGE C. THOSTESON, M.D.

Dear Dr. Thosteson: I tried to thin out and reshape my eyebrows. But I really messed them up and ended by tweezing them all out.

It's been four months now and I'm having a terrible time trying to pencil them with an eyebrow pencil. I never get them to look alike. One is always higher or lower. They get sore and red.

I spend two to three hours a day and a couple of hours at night when my husband and the kids are in bed.

Will they all grow back the way they were? I'm only 24 — M.R.

Well, a fine mess you got yourself into.

Yes, eyebrows grow back, but unfortunately, they grow in slowly. As a matter of fact, they grow the slowest of any hair on the body.

The best you can do is leave them alone and hope for the best, although they will likely grow back in the same lines from which they were plucked. Some of the follicles may have been damaged, in the plucking, however. Continuing to fuss with the area is not going to help the redness and soreness.

For appearance's sake, I suggest you get an allergen-free brow pencil, because some long-stamped and self-addressed envelope for your booklet, "How to Take Care of Your Heart." — Mrs. D.W.

Well, you're almost right.

And using the fancy term "myocardial infarction" instead of good old simple "heart attack" might take make explanation easier.

To take the terms one at a time, an infarction is defined as a sharply limited region of necrosis (death) in an organ caused by loss of blood circulation. Myocardial refers to the myocardium, the heart muscle — and that is what the heart is, one large, highly specialized pumping muscle.

Your husband's "myocardial infarction" did not mean "death to the muscle," as you put it, but likely death to a small portion of it. That portion that died will become scar tissue and useless. The rest of the muscle will, if he takes care of himself, perform sufficiently well, but not as well as before, when it was intact.

Different types back ERA

Editor, Times-News:

It seems there are two very different types of women lobbying for the ERA.

One group is the women's liberationists. Their motive is totally radical. They appear to hate men, marriage and children. They are out to destroy morality and the family. They look upon husbands as the exploiters, children as an evil to be avoided (if abortion is necessary) and the family as an institution to keep women in second class citizenship.

If you doubt the radical objectives and tactics of this group, you can read their own literature such as the magazine Ms.

In a news service article dated Sept. 26, 1972, New York Times, they say, "to give women full participation in society it is necessary to overthrow the structures on which the system is based. The first things to go would be the political institutions that perpetuate the system, such as institutional marriage which enslaves women for economic reasons."

Midge Deeter, currently the literary editor of World magazine and formerly the executive editor of Harpers wrote a recent book, The New Chastity and Other Arguments Against Women's Liberation. In this book she proves that the women's lib literature is totally radical and nihilistic.

The other group of women supporting the ERA for the most sincere motives is the business and professional women who have felt the keen edge of discrimination in employment. I am sure the majority of American women support them in their efforts to eliminate all injustices.

However, this can be done through the existing Civil Rights Act, Equal Employment Opportunity Act, 1972 Education Amendments and the Depository Institutions Amendments Act.

If the Hayden Modification had remained in the ERA these women would have broad support. Without the modification the Equal Rights Amendment won't give career women anything — but will take away fundamental rights and benefits from all the women. This group has every right to lobby for the extension of their rights, but not at the expense of the rights of other women.

The ERA allows no laws differentiating between men and women. This coupled with the "Right of Privacy" would make it illegal to deny a marriage license to homosexuals or discriminate against them in any way. This includes their being able to adopt children or be hired as teachers to influence your children.

Some contend that if the rulings brought about by ERA are unreasonable Congress can amend the amendment. However, Congress cannot amend or change a constitutional amendment once it has been sent out to the states for ratification.

LETTERS

The only way a constitutional amendment can be changed or modified, or exceptions added to it, is by the long, drawn-out process of passing another constitutional amendment. Many of these unreasonable results could have been eliminated before Congress passed the ERA with the Hayden Modification which states: The provisions of the article shall not be construed to impair any rights, benefits, or exemptions conferred by law upon persons of the female sex (i.e. draft, combat, seniorities, etc.).

This was attacked by the liberationists and deleted, proof that they wanted none of the gained rights for women. But is this what the majority of the American women want?

I feel our daughters and granddaughters deserve the same protection we have enjoyed through the 200 years of this republic. Please ask your legislators to rescind the Equal Rights Amendment.

Here's a new way to build record February sales volume

Jackson announces candidacy

New York Times Service WASHINGTON (UPI) — Sen. Henry M. Jackson of Washington announced his candidacy for the Democratic presidential nomination Thursday, betting that his traditional liberalism would prove popular in hard times.

senator eschewed a capitol hill announcement. Instead, his declaration of candidacy was contained in a five-minute television commercial scheduled for broadcast at 10:35 p.m. today on the Columbia Broadcasting Club System network. The broadcast was preceded by newspaper advertisements and press releases. "I would use the office of the presidency to help the people in this country who are getting hurt," Senator Jackson said in the tape-recorded broadcast. "The little people — little business, the elderly, the young, across the board — have been the ones who have taken the beating."

To supplement his long-anticipated announcement, which was produced by David Wolper, the documentary filmmaker, and which cost $30,000, Jackson scheduled a Washington news conference for today.

Senator Jackson is the fourth Democrat to declare his candidacy. He was preceded by Rep. Morris K. Udall of Arizona, former Gov. Jimmy Carter of Georgia and former Sen. Fred Harris of Oklahoma. Sen. Lloyd M. Bentsen Jr., of Texas is expected to make an announcement Monday.

The contest is considered wide-open at the moment, with no clear front-runner, as was Sen. Edmund S. Muskie of Maine at this stage four years ago. Many Democratic politicians expect the eventual nominee to be someone who avoids active campaigning — perhaps Sen. Edward M. Kennedy of Massachusetts, who has ruled himself out of the race, Muskie or Sen. Hubert H. Humphrey of Minnesota.

US plan draws interest

PARIS (UPI) — The United States appeared to be making progress today in its effort to have oil importing nations present a united front to oil producing countries when the test cases need for a global energy conference.

high enough to permit domestic energy producers to compete against oil imports.

Thomas G. Eiders, assistant secretary of state for economic affairs, presented Kissinger's plan to the IEA.

Eiders said at a news conference Thursday Washington would sit down and bargain over energy policies with the oil producers only after the industrialized nations had adopted a common stand on the issue.

Eiders warned that the only way to cut the power of the organization of Petroleum Exporting Countries will be for the industrialized states to make it clear they will spend money to develop their own energy sources.

Nuclear strength studied

WASHINGTON (UPI) — Communist China can deliver a nuclear strike on India, South Korea and the Soviet Union but the Chinese are unlikely to be able to hit the United States with nuclear-tipped missiles "for at least several years," Gen. Israel reclaims site of sermons

By GORDON N. CONVERSE
This is the third in a series of five articles.

CAPERNAUM
"And they went into Capernaum, and straightway on the sabbath day he entered into the synagogue, and taught." (Mark 1:21)

"At the end of a long winding dirt road in the northern end of the Sea of Galilee is Capernaum. In the quietness and emptiness it is hard to visualize it as a thriving city of traders, merchants and fishermen of long ago.

In ancient times the whole district around the water's edge was one vast orchard. Today Israel is slowly reclaiming the slopes that are now dotted with black volcanic rock.

The synagogue on the shore dates from some two centuries after Jesus but was, the authorities tell us, built upon the same site as the synagogue in which Jesus so often taught. This area witnessed more of his healing works than anywhere else.

The dramatic stonework of the courts indicates the extent to which Greek thought had influenced Jewish life in the area.

From Capernaum I drove high into the hills above. On those gentle slopes that sweep down to the blue waters below, Jesus sat with his disciples and shared the sum of his teachings — the Sermon on the Mount.

"Blessed are the poor in spirit; for theirs is the kingdom of heaven. Blessed are they that mourn; for they shall be comforted." (Matt. 5:3, 4)

It was here, high in the hills of Galilee, that I sat for some time in solitude. Over and over the words from Matthew kept coming back. "Blessed are the peacemakers; for they shall be called the children of God."

(c) Christian Science Publishing Society

JESUS often preached where the remains of this Capernaum synagogue rest.

Talk set at Gooding

GOODING — The Gooding United Methodist Church will have as its Sunday's seminar speaker Erwin Schweibert, assistant to the president of the College of Idaho in Caldwell.

Schweibert is well known in political and religious circles of Idaho. He has been a leader in the Idaho Council of Churches and a past lay leader of the Oregon — Idaho United Methodist Conference.

The seminar on global consciousness begins at 7 p.m. and a child care will be available.

The seminar is open to the public.

Presbyterians honor Scouts
TWIN FALLS — The Twin Falls Presbyterian Church will honor Boy Scouts Sunday at the 11 o'clock service of worship.

The Scouts of the Presbyterian troop will take part in the service. They will also be ushering. The church and the Scout troop are celebrating 50 continuous years of scouting under the direct sponsorship of the Presbyterian Church.

Current scoutmaster is Harold O. Wagoner with the institutional representative being Leland L. Talkington. Rev. D. Robert Van Nest will deliver a sermon entitled "How To Pray."

Mrs. Jeanne Deterraman-Bartelme will be guest soloist and the church choir will provide special music.

Church school will be held at 9:30 and 11 o'clock and child care will be provided for infants.

The 9:30 service will be held as usual in the Fireside Lounge with a coffee hour following.

Rev. Thomas E. Young, assistant pastor, will chaperone a bowling party and overnight for all junior high youth of the church on Saturday evening. Reservations are necessary for this function.

The session of the church will meet Monday evening in Rev. Van Nest's study.

Benefit set at Hazelton
HAZELTON — A benefit for the Primary Children's Medical Center in Salt Lake City will be held at the Hazelton LDS Church Saturday evening.

Mrs. Kay Mechem, primary counselor in charge of the event, reports that the evening's activities will begin at 6 p.m. when barbecued hamburgers, homemade doughnuts, popcorn, punch and baked goods will go on sale.

A movie will follow at 7 p.m. Admission is by donation at the door. The public is invited.

The benefit is one of several in the area as part of the annual penny parade for the Primary Children's Medical Center and is conducted church-wide.

Congregation retains pastor
SHOSHONE — Rev. Wesley Johnson, pastor of the Shoshone Assembly of God Church, received a unanimous vote to remain with the congregation during the annual business meeting this week.

Waldo Faught was re-elected to the church board and will serve with holdover members Marvin Huyser, James Pate and Arnold Bridge. James Pate is the secretary-treasurer; Mrs. Harold Huser is the Women's Missionary Council president; Mrs. Marvin Huyser is the Christ Ambassador's president; Mrs. Larry VanOver and Mrs. Arnold Bridge are the Missionettes leaders; Larry VanOver and Mylin Huyser, leaders of the Royal Rangers; Waldo Faught, superintendent of the Sunday school with Mrs. Frank Lanes, assistant superintendent.

Minister announces topic
TWIN FALLS — This Sunday's sermon topic by Rev. Doreen Williams, minister of the Church of Religious Science, is "Life is Forever."

The sermon lesson will be given at 10 a.m. at the Holiday Inn. Rev. Williams said, "To most of us immortality means that we shall persist after the experience of physical death, retaining a full recognition of ourselves, and having the ability to recognize others. ... Our life can be compared to a beautiful rose, expressing beauty, to become dormant, and to express again."

For a "spiritual uplift," church members advise persons to call the "creative prayer line" at 734-8051.

Training sessions held
SHOSHONE — A training course for workers of the Shoshone and Gooding Assembly of God churches is being held.

The two-hour sessions were held on Monday and Tuesday evenings of this week and will be held Monday-Wednesday next week, alternating meeting places at the Gooding and Shoshone churches.

Pastors Wesley Johnson, Shoshone, and Don Mason, Gooding, are giving the instructions, following the theme, "The Spirit: God in Action."

Events planned at Filer
FILER — Mrs. Del Butterfield hosted the winter meeting of the executive board of the Idaho Unit of the Good Shepherd Home Auxiliary.

Mrs. Don Schroeder, Buhl, presented the devotional service of the Sufficiency Is in God.

Twenty announced 27 members have been gained for the Idaho unit. Two large boxes of homemade items were sent to the gift shop at Anaheim, Calif.

Coming events for the local chapter include a "Ground Hog" supper by the Eden group, and a "Connie Day" by the Buhl ladies, both in February. Proceeds from both events will go to the Good Shepherd Home, Terra Bella, Calif., a home for mentally retarded children.

Rev. Erwin Bernthal, Twin Falls, was appointed as pastoral counselor to fill the vacancy created when Rev. T.D. Johnson moved to a parish in Nebraska.

Mrs. Clarence Degner, Kimberly, was appointed chairman of the projects committee; Mrs. George Jasper, Buhl, in charge of coupons; Mrs. Butterfield, in charge of items made and sold by members of the Good Shepherd Home, and Mrs. Ben Rogers, Paul, a fourth member of this committee.

Mrs. Don Schroeder and Mrs. Dorothy Fischer, Filer, will attend the tenth annual meeting of the auxiliary March 11 — 14 at Terra Bella.

Ousted seminary president picked

Chicago Daily News

CHICAGO — The Lutheran Church-Missouri Synod's "seminary in exile" has elected the ousted president of Concordia Seminary, St. Louis, as its first president.

The president of the synod itself, Rev. Dr. Jacob A. O. Preus, in a talk, termed the move "a victory for hard-line elements" in the synod's moderate ranks.

Rev. Dr. John H. Tietjen was elected slightly more than a year after his suspension as Concordia president led to mass faculty and student walkouts and formation of a Concordia Seminary in exile, "Seminec."

Dr. Preus, addressed a standing-room-only crowd announced as almost 2,000 persons at St. Peter Lutheran Church in suburban Arlington Heights.

He said Seminec would be "the most serious problem" that synod leadership would have to face at the synod's biennial convention.

"We may have to call for removal from office of people not doing their duties," he said, referring apparently to district presidents who have approved candidates — of — Seminec graduates.

Every one of last spring's 106 Seminec graduates were placed in a Missouri synod congregation or agency, Dr. Tietjen told the Daily News in a telephone interview after Preus' talk.

"Dr. Preus has his own way of figuring who's hard-line and who isn't," Tietjen said, noting he was elected unanimously by the 11-member Seminec board.

At issue in the 231-member synod dispute between ruling conservatives and moderates is whether the Bible should be held sacrosanct or accepted or also with some figurative meaning.

Texan charged in missionary murders

AUSTIN, Tex. (UPI) — A district judge has set a March 17 trial date for Robert Elmer Kleasen, charged with murdering two Mormon missionaries, cutting up their bodies and grinding them into fertilizer.

Judge Tom Blakewell said he will appoint two psychiatrists and a psychologist to examine Kleasen and report on his sanity at a Feb. 19 pre-trial hearing.

Kleasen, 42, is accused of murdering Gary Smith Darley, 20, of Simi Valley, Calif., and Mark J. Fischer, 19, of Milwaukee, Wis. They officially were declared dead at an inquest, although their bodies have not been recovered.

Kleasen, who wore an ill-fitting dark suit during a brief court appearance, said nothing.

"Don't talk to him. The man's been held incompetent. Kleasen's attorney," Glen Wilkinson, told reporters who tried to question Kleasen as he was led handcuffed back to jail.

DEAR ABBY: I married during college, and my husband left me two years later while I was pregnant with my first child. Living across the street was a man I'll call "Jim." He was a professor, and we became good friends. Jim was wonderful to me, bringing me meals he had prepared, and looking after me as though I was his little sister. I asked him to be my child's godfather. I felt safe with Jim because he was a homosexual.

Two years ago, I married Jim's brother, then a widower with three children. We've had a fantastically good marriage, but last night we had a foolish argument and my husband lashed out at me and said: "I have never thrown up to you the fact that you were a prostitute and your first husband was a pimp." (It came out that Jim had told his wife that my first husband had told him that it was a pimp, but the fact that Jim actually believed it and told it to his brother, who also bought it, is something I just can't handle.

Leaves first, then libels

Today my husband tried to assure me that he didn't believe that story, but I'm not convinced. I'm so upset I missed work today. Something I never do.

Should I confront Jim? I don't want to put my husband in the middle, but he has to know that it is a lie. If it weren't for the children, I think I'd have committed suicide last night. Please help me. NO PLAY FOR PAY night.

DEAR NO: If you've had a "fantastically good marriage," believe your husband when he assures you that he doesn't believe that story. Put it out of your mind, and don't confront Jim unless your husband repeats the accusation. If he does, then talk to Jim and get the whole ugly mess settled one and for all.

DEAR ABBY: Lately, my mother, who is 43, and my father, who is 44, have started to act like they just got married. I am 12 and I have an older sister and two younger brothers who said they noticed it, too. Mom and Dad are taking me to the "Joy of Sex," and one night I heard my dad ask my mother if she wanted to try something new. I really thought this was disgusting. I am losing respect for them. Or am I wrong to feel this way? MIXED-UP KID

DEAR MIXED: You're wrong. You ought to be happy that your parents find each other so appealing. Lots of kids have parents who fight instead. Responsible sex is joyous, and it's perfectly respectable.

DEAR ABBY: Here's one I'll bet you've never been asked before: I get together one week, my mother, father, husband and I get together and play penny poker. I invited our 12-year-old son to sit in with us, and I taught him how to play. He caught on very quickly and loves the game. He has a newspaper route, so he has his own money. He can hold his own with the rest of us, but now I'm wondering if perhaps I didn't make a mistake.

Are we installing the love of gambling in his boy? Should I now refuse to let him play? Now that he's come to enjoy it so much, he begs to join us.

Thank you for some sound advice. SAN DIEGO MOM

DEAR MOM: Card playing sharpens one's wit and is good exercise for the mind. I see nothing wrong with teaching the boy to play poker. But not for money, Mom. He'll learn that on his own soon enough.

Everyone has a problem: What's yours? For a personal reply, write to ABBY, Box No. 69700, L.A., Calif. 90069. Enclose stamped, self-addressed envelope, please.

South wanted no time at all in finding a way to lose his contract. He won the first trick with the ace of diamonds, cashed three high trumps in order to pull the opponents' teeth and led a spade toward dummy. West played low and dummy's queen held the trick. Now South led a club to his king. West plopped the ace on it and led a second diamond. After this bit of unpleasantness South had no way to avoid the loss of a spade and a diamond and two clubs.

3 Jobies receive special honors

TWIN FALLS — Debra Weight, Joyce Fellon and Peggy Graybill received special travel awards during a bi-bethel meeting Wednesday night. Members of Bethel No. 43 and Bethel No. 56 met together. Sue Remaley, guardian of Bethel No. 43, presented the awards. Cheryl Armstrong and Nancy Graybill, honored queens, conducted the meeting. Cheryl Hack and Laura Bowman gave librarian reports. Jobs of the meeting were Paula Depeu, Bethel No. 43, and Ari Harder, Bethel No. 56. Jobie boosters were Marsha Eden, Bethel No. 43, and Bonnie Sampe, Bethel No. 56. Robie jobies were Peggy Graybill, Bethel No. 43, and Kathy Clark, Bethel No. 56. Birthday honorees were Dorothy Pfeiffer, Joan Kohl, Peggy Sante, Cindy Barlogi, Lori Sampe and Peggy Graybill. Refreshments were served following the meeting.

Members view slides

HOLLISTER — Mr. and Mrs. Dick Statton showed slides of a recent trip of 4,000 miles behind the Iron Curtain to members of the Hollister Farm Bureau. The group met at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Bruce Kunkle Wednesday evening. Chairman, William Laughmiller, presided at the business meeting. Dick Parrott gave a report of the monthly County Farm Bureau Board meeting held in Twin Falls. Marian Pedegrift reported on farm commodities and Jim Patrick announced that plans are being made for the annual Twin Falls County Farm Bureau banquet.

TWIN FALLS — Twin Falls County Pomona Grange will meet Monday at the home of Mrs. Lee Geppner, 391 Sunrise Circle. Each member is asked to bring a white elephant and valentine for their secret pal.

Jerome unit seeks help

JEROME — The Jerome Chamber of Commerce is seeking help from Jerome residents in planning for the 1976 celebration for Jerome County. Bill Hart, committee member, said they are soliciting participation and ideas from Jerome County citizens and asked that anyone interested in helping with the project contact him. Hart noted the committee has selected the Fourth of July weekend, 1976, as the time for the celebration.

Inmates aid sightless

VACAVILLE, Calif. (UPI) — The Vacaville Volunteers, a group of convicts at the state's medical facility, are working two shifts a day to turn out hoop balls for sightless youngsters. The soft balls, with complete audio systems inside, emit a beeping sound for easy detection so blind youngsters can play a sort of baseball. Turned at the facility repair and assemble about 57 balls a week and the product is supposed to keep being after being hit by a bat hundreds of times.

A Lovelier You THINK THIN AND STAY THIN

(Final column in special series How To Diet and Look It.)

By Mary Sue Miller

As a woman think that, so is she... It is true where a sleek figure is concerned. Most a habit of today's thoughts and, after reducing, you will stay in shape. Resolve to:

1. Weigh once weekly, measure twice monthly. More frequent tallies are misleading and discouraging.

2. Wear girdles and bras that fit today, not last month or next.

3. Cut back on your calorie intake if your weight increases as much as one pound. Those reduce-gain-reduce cycles lead to lined skin, spotty fat, diminished vigor. A truly frightening prospect.

4. Re-educate your appetite to make eating a pleasure, not the punishment it has sometimes been.

5. Exercise — take up a sport, go for brisk walks or perform spot exercise.

6. Consult your doctor about vitamin supplements before taking any. That goes for controversial substances, too, such as alpha-tocopherol (vitamin E). Young girls need advice on the consumption of iron; mature women on cholesterol.

7. Seek your doctor's permission to reduce. It is the better part of wisdom to do so if you are past middle age. Take the columns with you. If you are teenage, it is a must. You require more food than diets provide — at least 1,000 calories more than this one outlines. (Write me for further information.)

8. Watch this column for weekly reducing schemes. Meantime, think thin.

Designers try 'mini' again

ROME (UPI) — The style cycle seems to be getting shorter and shorter. After persuading fashion-conscious women to switch from miniskirts to pants and then to midcalf skirts, designers are trying out the mini again. First it was Halston in New York last fall with nothing he called "the skimp." Buyers were not enthusiastic. But industry sources said some Italian designers would take a flyer on above-the-knee skirts in the high fashion collections for next spring and summer. The collections are being shown in Rome this week. The general trend, however, was for more midcalf skirts, very high-heeled shoes with pointed toes and lingerie-looking evening dresses. Frank Martieri, a former New Yorker and the first of the 21 designers to show his collection, ignored the economic crisis and the Women's Liberation movement. He seemed to be designing mainly for rich Palm Beach matrons. Martieri showed no pants and his styles emphasized the traditional concept of femininity.

Springdale miss, Dayton-name date

SPRINGDALE — Mr. and Mrs. Ray D. Zollinger, Springdale, have announced the engagement and forthcoming marriage of their daughter, Elizabeth, to Leland Dayton, son of Dr. and Mrs. Leland K. Dayton, Provo, Utah.

Miss Zollinger is a graduate of the Burley High School and graduate of the Brigham Young University, Provo, with a degree in elementary education. She fulfilled a mission for the LDS Church to Austria and is presently teaching at Pleasant Grove, Utah.

Dayton was graduated from Provo High School and fulfilled a mission to the Mexican South East Mission for the LDS Church. He is a senior at BYU.

They plan a Feb. 28 wedding in Provo and will reside there following the ceremony.

Expensive chess set

SASALITO, Calif. (UPI) — Jeweler Herb Dubin has spent eight months fashioning an erotic chess set of 14-carat gold pieces studded with precious stones for a woman who is paying $65,000 for it. "I've learned patience and have customers for my erotic jewelry," Dubin said Wednesday of the set. "After all, sex and gold are eternal." The 38-year-old jeweler said the gleaming white and yellow set won't be finished for another six months. Dubin wouldn't identify his mysterious buyer except to say she was "one of my best customers who wanted the set as a filler-present for her husband."

No DDT for Montana moth infestation

MISSOULA, Mont. (UPI) — The U.S. Forest Service says a tussock moth infestation has developed along the Flathead Lake in Western Montana, but DDT or any other chemical is not being considered as a control agent.

An entomologist with the Forest Service here, Wayne Bousfield, said a virus agent would be used against the moth if it is found the insect is not being controlled by natural agents, also report areas very near the infested area.

Said, when the Forest Service sprayed 300,000 acres in Washington, Idaho and Oregon with the pesticide DDT last summer to halt the tussock moth in those states.

Historically, Bousfield said, the tussock moth has not infested anywhere as large an area in Montana, but did say the current infestation along Flathead Lake is much larger than the infestation in the same area in the mid-1960's when the insect population was lost in its epidemic stage.

Bousfield said the Forest Service is now running laboratory tests on tussock moth egg masses collected along Flathead Lake to determine what degree natural virus agents are present.

If natural virus levels are high enough, it would not be necessary then to spray the infested area with a more concentrated form of virus, he said.

Cheese income off for milk producers

BOISE (UPI) — Idaho producers received 15 cents less last December than they did the previous month for milk used in the production of American cheese.

They were paid $7 per hundredweight, which was down 75 cents from December the year before.

Producers averaged $7 per cwt. for milk going into butter plants, down 10 cents from a month earlier and down 29 cents from November a year ago, the Idaho Crop and Livestock Reporting Service said.

Milk production in December was 123 million pounds, one per cent below last year.

The service said American cheese production was down 27 per cent from December a year ago. Creamery butter increased 38 per cent while ice cream totaled 236,000 gallons compared to 210,000 produced in December of 1973.

Equipment show set

SHOSHONE Ivan C. Hopkins, Lincoln County extension agent, said today the fourth Idaho Irrigation Equipment Show will be Feb. 12 and 13 at the Western Idaho Fairgrounds, Boise.

Hopkins said there will be 80 booths and outdoor exhibits at the show, with the displays including the latest ideas and equipment in automatic and mechanize sprinkler and surface irrigation systems.

Hopkins said past shows have attracted over 4,000 farmers. He said show hours will be 10 a.m. to 7 p.m. Feb. 12 and 9 a.m. to 5 p.m. Feb. 13. More information about the show is available from Hopkins' office.

Fewer Gem cattle

BOISE (UPI) — The number of cattle and calves on Idaho farms and ranches Jan. 1, 1975, was six per cent below the number recorded a year earlier, the Idaho Crop and Livestock Reporting Service said today.

The Jan. 1 inventory is the eighth consecutive year that the number of cattle and calves on Idaho farms either increased or were unchanged from the previous year.

All cows and heifers that have calved totaled 370,000 head — up 20,000 from a year ago. The total cattle and calves recorded were 2.15 million head.

Shoshone clinic set

SHOSHONE County Livestock producers are invited to attend an animal health clinic Tuesday at 1 p.m., according to Ivan C. Hopkins, Lincoln County extension agent.

The session will be held in the Lincoln County Courtroom in Shoshone.

Dr. G. Card, University of Idaho veterinary science department, will discuss calving diseases. Dr. Card has been active in assisting with the determination of the causes — and possible remedies for the "week end syndrome" in the Salmon area and Bitterroot Valley of Montana.

Dr. Garth Sasser with the university's dairy department will discuss calving intervals and artificial insemination problems.

Gem meat output down

BOISE (UPI) — Idaho commercial red meat production during December was down five per cent from the year before.

The Idaho Crop and Livestock Reporting Service said today the December production of beef, veal, pork, lamb and mutton was 30.1 million pounds.

The total production for the year was 36.1 million pounds or 21 per cent more than the previous year.

Cattle slaughtered in commercial plants totaled 46,500 head compared with 28,500 head during December, 1973 — a decrease of four per cent.

The average liveweight of cattle dropped slightly to 1,101 pounds per head — 10 pounds lower than during December of a year earlier.

Hog slaughter in Idaho totalled 8,700 head compared with 7,800 head in December, 1973. While the number of animals slaughtered rose by 12 per cent, the average liveweight fell slightly to 225 pounds per animal — an eight pound decrease.

For the year, cumulative slaughter figures show liveweight production cattle to be up 21 per cent and hogs up 18 per cent from the previous year.

Blister rust control sought

MOSCOW (UPI) — Scientists from Japan and the United States are cooperating in an effort to control white pine blister rust, found in north Idaho forests.

Dr. Ed F. Widker, plant pathologist at the U.S. Forest Service forestry sciences laboratory at the University of Idaho campus, said the fungus disease has been destructive in white pine stands in the north-west for more than 50 years.

Dr. Widker is one of seven U.S. scientists to work with the program in Japan.

He said it is a relatively new forest disease in Japan.

House passes DST bill

BOISE (UPI) — With obvious reluctance Idaho fell into step with the rest of the nation Thursday when the House voted 45-24 for a Senate bill to put the state back on Daylight Saving Time by the last Sunday of this month.

This complicated action on the Senate-initiated measure which goes now to the governor for his consideration.

House sponsor Ralph Olmstead, R-Twin Falls, said that without the bill the state would not go on daylight time until the Fourth Sunday in April.

By approving this measure, he said, Idaho would be in step with other states and will have broad acceptance and transportation disrupted. "But Rep. Walter Little, R-New Pines, did not see it that way. "Once again we're being asked to put our stamp of approval on one of those great blunders by our great white fathers back in Washington, D.C.," Little said. "I think it's a shame our school children will have to live in the dark for two months because of this blunder."

Rep. Lyman G. Winchester, R-King, agreed, saying his constituents do not want their children out on the road in the dark waiting for a school bus.

"The proper term for this bill," Rep. Doyle Minor, R-St. Anthony, said, "is Daylight Play Time rather than Daylight Savings Time."

Rep. Russ Westenberg, D-Soda Springs, said if the bill were not passed it would create hardships for those living in southeastern Idaho who have daily dealings with residents of Wyoming and Utah.

Olmstead said "it's obvious everybody is not overjoyed with this bill."

Then he added: "I'm reminded of a neighbor who says if you miss the sunrise you miss the best part of the day. This will enable more of us to enjoy the sunrise."

Gem surplus estimate boosted

BOISE (UPI) — This year's general fund surplus may be $5-10 million higher than the $22.2 million previously estimated, the chairman of a Revenue Projection Committee disclosed Thursday.

Rep. Ralph Olmstead, R-Twin Falls, told a Republican House caucus that new figures indicate that the sales tax is continuing to increase at a rate of 17.3 per cent higher than last year.

He said his committee had estimated it would drop to about a 10 per cent increase but revenue projections as of the end of January showed it would continue at the higher rate.

Individual income taxes are up 52 per cent, he said, although his committee does not feel as comfortable with those estimates because income taxes do not follow trends like the sales tax.

"It's hard to analyze the figures accurately," he told newsmen after the closed-door GOP meeting.

While it appears there may be more surplus this year than earlier expected, Olmstead said, there are no plans to change the official projection recorded in a legislative resolution. The Senate Thursday completed legislative action on that resolution and one pegging next year's general fund revenue at $224.5 million. Olmstead said any additional surplus beyond that officially projected for this year can be handled through a bill which deposits it in $1.5 million increments — up to a total of $6 million — in the county school funds. Similar legislation enacted last year, this would be used to give up to four mills worth of tax relief to property owners on a one-shot basis.

Tax relief debate set

BOISE (UPI) — House lawmakers take $12 million in temporary tax relief to floor debate today, armed with the news the general fund surplus may be $5 million-$10 million more than anticipated earlier.

One bill would increase the grocery credit on 1974 state income taxes to $80 from $15, and the other provide a 10 per cent credit on 1974 state income taxes.

Both would be financed with this year's general fund surplus — revenue estimated at $22 million.

Republicans endorsed on the two proposals, but Chairman Elaine Keates, R-Idaho Falls, said they reached no consensus in the closed-door meeting.

"We're just going to let them run and see what happens," she said.

But she said when the caucus learned of the increased surplus projection, some Republicans began taking a closer look at the governor's proposal to spend it on roads and buildings.

Democrats planned to attack the tax relief proposals in today's debate on grounds it would wreck the governor's program to build roads and public works and help the economy.

Gov. Cecil D. Andrus asked that $10 million of the surplus be put into road-building to keep the program on schedule, and provide $8 million in matching money to wipe out some longstanding bottlenecks.

A budget presented the legislature next year by the Transportation Board is $4.2 million short of revenue. Andrus' plan would make this up from the surplus.

The House Transportation Committee introduced a bill to dump $4.2 million of surplus funds into the road program, but twice balked on a 66 tie vote at spending $10 million of the surplus on roads. It also talked of, but took no action toward, a plan to divert sales tax revenue from the sale of motor vehicles to roads.

ERA critics win

BOISE (UPI) — Reps. I. Otter, R-Caldwell, and Ralph Gines, R-Nampa, won a 35-minute floor fight Thursday to force printing of a resolution rescinding ratification of the Equal Rights Amendment.

When the Printing Committee refuses to print a measure, the sponsors or others wanting it printed have to muster 32 votes on the floor to get it printed over the committee's objections.

They got exactly that Thursday. The vote to print was 32-37, Rep. Peggy Bunting, R-Boise, was the only member absent.

Chairman George Danielson, R-Cambridge, said the Printing Committee had held up the resolution for an opinion from the Judiciary and Rules Committee on whether it was proper for it.

Otter's resolution was a concurred resolution which requires only a simple majority to pass.

Counties ask indigent aid

BOISE (UPI) — The Idaho Association of County Commissioners and Clerks asked the legislature Thursday to come to the aid of counties with regard to the medically indigent.

The Association's legislative committee met with the Senate Health, Education and Welfare Committee and asked that the present law, which was enacted last year, be amended to give the counties stronger control.

Spokesman for the group told the Senate committee, the present law was too "open ended." Ralph Coates of Payette County said the counties, under the existing statutes, had no authority to "predefine" who gets the aid. He said the counties wanted the law changed to allow them to have prior authority.

Coates said county resources could be "wiped out" through prolonged illness and hospitalization.

Dean Huntsman, lobbyist for the association, said even a year after a patient dies, the hospital can come back to the county for payment. The referred to it as a "black check" opened ended situation. Sen. Orval Snow, D-Moscow, said he didn't understand why he voted for the bill a year ago.

He said it made collection agencies out of the counties. "If the hospitals can't collect the bills," Snow said, "they go back on the counties."

Association spokesman noted that there had been a couple of court battles where counties have been sued to collect for bills from medically indigent.

Pay bill introduced

BOISE (UPI) — Reps. Ralph Gines, R-Nampa, and Ralph Olmstead, R-Twin Falls, introduced a bill Thursday which would require the governor to be paid $5,000 more than any other state employee.

It stipulates that no employee of the state, except those in the judicial branch of government, shall receive a salary which exceeds $5,000 less than that prescribed for the governor.

"Any state employee currently receiving a salary in excess of that amount may continue to receive a high salary," the bill says. "But the salary for that position shall not be increased until such time as the Governor's salary exceeds the salary for that position by more than $5,000."

Fund loss aid urged

BOISE (UPI) — State Treasurer Marjorie Ruth Moon wants the legislature to appropriate the entire amount of losses sustained by Idaho's endowment fund as a result of selling investments for less than their cost.

Miss Moon said Thursday the legislature should make up the entire amount of losses, rather than try to make up the losses by bookkeeping entries coupled with a much smaller appropriation.

Panels ask road money

BOISE (UPI) — The Idaho House Transportation Committee has called for introduction of a bill to spend $2 million of the general fund surplus on road building.

But, on a 6-6 tie vote, it twice refused to introduce Gov. Cecil D. Andrus' bill to pump $10 million into the road to help the economy and to remove highway bottlenecks.

Chairman John Sessions, R-Driggs, said that in the not too distant future "we're going to have to face up to the fact that if we don't provide more money for highways we'll be down to a maintenance program here in Idaho."

Miss Moon cited a nearly $6-million loss to the endowment fund principal, which she said was documented by the legislative auditor in a special audit presented to the legislature in summary.

"If the legislature doesn't appropriate the entire loss," Miss Moon said, "the school kids of Idaho will forever lose the benefits they could have received from the interest earned on nearly $6 million of principal which hasn't been there and which won't be there if no cash is actually put back to make up the loss."

Reverses stand

CINCINNATI (UPI) — The 64, 250-point, seven-year veteran from the University of Houston made a special trip here from his Texas home to convey his new thinking to Bengals general manager and head coach Paul Brown.

Berry says he regrets exploding at the end of last season when he criticized the Bengals' organization and asked to be traded.

Women boycott Wimbledon

SAN FRANCISCO (UPI) — The Women's Tennis Association, which includes most of the top players, Thursday threatened to boycott Wimbledon unless an equitable solution can be reached on the distribution of prize money for men and women participants.

Jerry Diamond, executive director of the association, said 66 of the 84 members voted 44-22 against taking part in this year's event unless some prize money adjustment is made now or the sponsors of the prestigious British tournament assure the women a graduated improvement over the next few years.

Illini file protest

CHAMPAIGN, Ill. (UPI) — University of Illinois athletic officials said Thursday they have filed a complaint with the Big Ten over a rough and tumble basketball game in which Illinois' leading scorer Rick Schmidt was reported injured by a blow from Michigan State's Terry Furlow.

They said an investigation was proceeding "under Big Ten direction," and findings are "expected to be reached by the end of next week."

Bullets win at buzzer

OAKLAND, Calif. (UPI) — Phil Chenier, overcoming a frigid start, scored 17 points in the final quarter, including two free throws with no time remaining, to give the Washington Bullets a 98-97 National Basketball Association victory over the Golden State Warriors Thursday night.

Chenier, who had 31 points, went to the line with the Warriors thinking they had won the game. In the confusion, however, it was ruled that Butch Beard had fouled Chenier.

Suns win fourth

PHOENIX (UPI) — Charlie Scott, returning from a 120-hour furl, poured in 45 points to lead the Phoenix Suns to a 118-105 National Basketball Association victory over Seattle Thursday night.

The win, on the heels of a Phoenix win at Seattle Wednesday night, gave the Suns a four-game streak, their longest of the season, and moved them to within one half game of the second place SuperSonics in the Pacific Division.

Kings tip Bucks

MADISON, Wis. (UPI) — The Kansas City-Omaha Kings got 23 points from Larry McNeill and a lucky bounce from the basketball in the closing seconds Thursday night to win their sixth straight NBA game, 95-94 over the slumping Milwaukee Bucks.

Milwaukee lost for the third straight time and fell further into the Midwest Division cellar, three full games behind the third place Kings.

Drake downs Bradley

PEORIA, Ill. (UPI) — Terry McKissick netted 25 points Thursday night and Larry Haralson added 24 to lead the Drake Bulldogs to a 68-66 Missouri Conference basketball victory over the Bradley Braves.

The victory was the first for Drake at Bradley since 1970, and was close most of the way.

The Bulldogs led 33-32 at the half, and the lead fluctuated between one and three points until the game was tied at 60 with 3:05 left. It was tied at 62 with 2:15 left and Haralson and Ron Caldwell hit baskets to make it 66-62 with less than a minute left.

Louisville nips Wichita

WICHITA, Kan. (UPI) — Bill Bond made four free throws in the final minute Thursday night while Louisville carried on a successful stall that gave the third ranked Cardinals a 62-57 win over upset-minded Wichita State.

The Cardinals lifted their league-leading Missouri Valley Conference record to 7-1 and moved to 16-1 overall. The Shockers fell to 4-3 in the conference and 8-10 for the season.

Pistons still fading

ATLANTA (UPI) — The Atlanta Hawks squandered an 18-point second-half lead, but, led by Hern Gilliam's 15 fourth quarter points, recovered to dump the slumping Detroit Pistons 119-98 Thursday night.

Balanced Atlanta scoring and a tight defense contributed to Detroit's fourth loss in its last five games.

Seattle raps Reno

SEATTLE, Wash. (UPI) — Frank Oleynick poured in 26 points Thursday night to lead the Seattle University Chieftains to an 86-65 romp over Nevada-Reno in West Coast Athletic Conference action.

The Chieftans hit 22 of 34 field goal attempts during the first half to lead an 11-0 lead at the end of the first quarter.

The Wolfpack, now 1-7 in league play, could never get consistent scoring from Harry Campbell or Kevin Goetz. These two both have averages of better than 15 points per game, but Campbell was held to 11 points and Goetz was blanked.

Cards belt WSU

PULLMAN, Wash. (UPI) — Stanford's Cardinals started without center Rich Kelley but it mattered little as they rolled to a 71-58 Pacific-8 conference victory over Washington State Thursday night.

Kelley, bothered by a virus for about two weeks, still played 33 minutes, scoring 10 points. But Ed Schwentzer picked up the slack with 22 points as the Cards improved their conference record to 4-2.

After trailing early and switching to a zone defense, Stanford led 30-20 at half time and 50-21 with 17 minutes left in the game.

Filion repeats

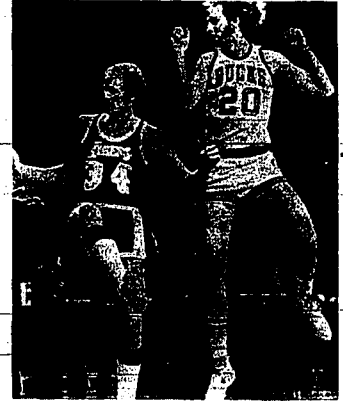

BOCA RATON, Fla. (UPI) — The harness tracks of America have named record-breaking Herve Filion harness driver of the year for the sixth consecutive time.

The 35-year-old Canadian finished with 95 of a possible 100 points in the HTA ratings by winning 67 of the 2,999 races he drove in 1974. He won $1,431,366 in purses and finished in the money in 86 per cent of the races he drove. The figures were all-time records.

Jerome, Buhl grab district mat titles

JEROME — The Jerome Tigers and Buhl Indians picked up district wrestling championships Thursday night and began preparing for next week's state finals at the College of Southern Idaho gymnasium.

Jerome, qualifying for 15 of the 24 places available in this district in the A division, amassed 195 points while Memo had 109, Burley 99, and Twin Falls 61.

Buhl, which will have nine representatives at state, outscored Wood River over the final two rounds to post 114 points, while the Volcaniers had 99. They were followed by Filer 59, Kimberly 55, Dedic 50, Valley 42, Oakley 32, Wendell 28, Gooding 27, Holt River 26 and Glennis 19.

Brad Diehl, Jerome's undefeated 145-pounder, was named the outstanding wrestler in the A division while Steve Koler of Wendell repeated as outstanding wrestler for the B side in what must have been a close vote with Valley's Deloy Baker.

The A field had two repeat weight champions, Sean Kay of Minico repeating at 155 and Tom Cochran, Jerome, claiming his second 105-pound title. Two others won their second titles, but in heavier weights.

Ray Sargeant of Burley moved from 119 to 126 and Jerome's Rod Cox jumped from 145 to 167. Bill Pulsipher, Twin Falls, the 103 king last year, lost out in the 119-pound class.

Doug Yurbe of Buhl took his second 119 class B title. Koler jumped from 145 to 155 and Mark Milton, Oakley, went from 155 to 167 for their second crowns.

In 2, reversal of last year's 98-pound finals, Kendall Wolf of Buhl defeated Gary Ivie of Wood River in the 105-pound finale. Rocky Sherrine, the district and state 112-pound champion last year, was knocked off by Buhl's Jeff Hopkins 105 pounds this time around.

Looking at next week's state, Jerome undoubtedly will have the largest single team representation in the competition. Coach Jerry James' crew had nine of 12 individual champions and grabbed off six more runner-up spots. Burley had two champions and two runners up. Minico a champion and two seconds and Twin Falls two seconds.

In the B division, which will send three per weight, Wood River had three, three and two; Buhl four, two and three; Declo, zero, two and two; Kimberly, zero, one and one; Filer one, two and zero; Valley, one, two and zero; Wendell, one, zero and two; Holt River, zero, one and one; Oakley, one first; Gooding, one first and a third, and Glennis, zero and third.

CLASS B RESULTS
105 — Campbell, Burley; 112 — Gooding, Minico; 119 — Yurbe, Buhl; 126 — Sargeant, Burley; 145 — Cox, Jerome; 155 — Kay, Jerome; 167 — Milton, Oakley.

CLASS A RESULTS
103 — Sargeant, Burley; 105 — Kuberski, New Orleans; 112 — Sherrine, Wood River; 119 — Yurbe, Buhl; 126 — Sargeant, Burley; 145 — Cox, Jerome; 155 — Kay, Jerome; 167 — Milton, Oakley.

CLASS C RESULTS
105 — Wolf, Buhl; 112 — Ivie, Wood River; 119 — Yurbe, Buhl; 126 — Sargeant, Burley; 145 — Cox, Jerome; 155 — Kay, Jerome; 167 — Milton, Oakley.

CLASS D RESULTS
105 — Wolf, Buhl; 112 — Ivie, Wood River; 119 — Yurbe, Buhl; 126 — Sargeant, Burley; 145 — Cox, Jerome; 155 — Kay, Jerome; 167 — Milton, Oakley.

CLASS E RESULTS
105 — Wolf, Buhl; 112 — Ivie, Wood River; 119 — Yurbe, Buhl; 126 — Sargeant, Burley; 145 — Cox, Jerome; 155 — Kay, Jerome; 167 — Milton, Oakley.

CLASS F RESULTS
105 — Wolf, Buhl; 112 — Ivie, Wood River; 119 — Yurbe, Buhl; 126 — Sargeant, Burley; 145 — Cox, Jerome; 155 — Kay, Jerome; 167 — Milton, Oakley.

WAC teams shooting for 'other' berths

By TRACY RINGSBY
UPI Sports Writer

Utah coach Jerry Pimm figures the Western Athletic Conference title race is over, but the battle for post-season playoff berths is alive and Pimm would like have a couple extra games this year.

"Arizona State has to have something drastic happen to it for it not to win the league," said Pimm, an assistant at Utah for 11 years before becoming head coach this season. "They have the good schedule, good players and good coaching."

"That doesn't mean they won't lose a couple more games but they will win at least 11 and that's plenty."

ASU, which like Arizona, New Mexico and Texas El Paso, is a five road game, has a 6-1 WAC record, which includes four wins in its road games. The ninth ranked Sun Devils are 17-2 overall.

Utah is sixth with a 2-3 mark and a 12-5 overall record and is the Utes' best Wyoming on Friday and second place Colorado State, 3-2 in WAC and 10-6 overall, on Saturday. Brigham Young, tied with Wyoming for last at 1-4 and 8-9, hosts CSU Friday and Wyoming Saturday in the regional television game.

With the new NCAA setup of 32 teams, plus the commissioner's tournament and the NIT, the fourth place team in our league could get a tournament bid if its record is good enough," Pimm said. "It just depends on how things fit together."

The last WAC outings for Utah didn't fit together too well. The Utes lost at Texas El Paso and New Mexico but last Saturday Utah got a morale-booster with an 87-69 non-league win over Oklahoma City.

"A game like that gets your team back to thinking it's doing something good again," Pimm said. "We were only up 8 or 9 points up at the half before we broke it open."

Colorado State coach Jim Williams is a bit concerned about what two weeks of illness might do to his team. The Rams knocked off ASU 99-90 Jan. 24 and then in their last game, dropped an 85-82 decision to Arizona.

"We're not talking about catching Arizona State or anything else," Williams said. "We thought about Arizona State for two many hours last time after we beat them and I am sure our future to beat Arizona had something to do with that."

"Our concern is BYU and then we'll worry about Utah on Saturday. We proved you can't worry about other teams when you are playing another."

Coach reinstated

BAaltimore (UPI) — Morgan State basketball coach Nathaniel Frazier was temporarily reinstated as coach Thursday night after a week-long suspension during which the team boycotted two games.

Frazier resigned following his team to North Carolina for a two-game road trip. The players had departed on a bus earlier in the evening accompanied by assistant coach Aas on Johnson.

Late Thursday afternoon Frazier provided eight members of the school's athletic board with a detailed explanation of his version of an incident during a game with Brockport State last month in which referee Peter Pavia charged Frazier with cursing him and touching him.

"The reinstatement follows coach Frazier's providing the college with a statement on the Brockport incident which was more specific than the one previously submitted," said interim president Thomas Fraser Thursday.

The board had ruled an earlier explanation by Frazier inadequate.

Krahn hits 20 to lead ISU past N. Ariz.

FRANKSTAFF, Ariz. (UPI) — Frank Krahn of Gooding scored 20 points to lead Idaho State University to an 81-72 Big Sky Conference victory over Northern Arizona Thursday night.

Idaho State led 38-32 at halftime, then fought off the Lumberjacks and went to the free throw line late in the game when Northern Arizona was forced to foul after cutting the margin to two points on three occasions.

Dietrich drops Bliss by 61-48

DIETRICH — The Dietrich Blue Devils snapped a four-game losing spell Thursday night by downing the Bliss Bears 61-48 in a game postponed by weather from Jan. 10.

scoring were Steve Hayes with 18 and Matt Stranning with 14. Randy Stratton led Northern Arizona with 18 points.

The win gave Idaho State a 4-2 conference record and an 11-7 mark on the season. Northern Arizona fell to 3-4 and 7-11.

Miller clings to 3-shot lead in Hope tournament

PALM SPRINGS, Calif. (UPI) — Johnny Miller shot a 3-under-par 69 Thursday, and he needed it to hold off charging Tom Shaw and Mac McLendon for a three-stroke lead after two rounds of the $160,000 Bob Hope Desert Classic.

Shaw, who opened with a 70 at La Quinta, shot a 6-under-par 65 at Bermuda Dunes, his best round in longer than he can remember, for a 36-hole score of 8-under-par 168.

McLendon, who won his first title ever a year ago in the Walt Disney World after six years of trying, shot his second consecutive 68 — at Indian Wells — to tie with Shaw at 136.

Miller, who shot an 8-under-par 64 at Indian Wells in the first round, thus had a 36-hole score of 133, 10 under par. Miller went out in even par 36 at Tamarisk but rallied coming back with three birdies to hold the lead with three rounds left to play in this 90-hole event.

Miller said he was "determined" to win the tournament. He said he felt he was "in a hole" but he would not let it affect his performance.

Boise State edges Weber

OGDEN, Utah (UPI) — Boise State used a hot second half shooting streak and Weber State fouls to down the Wildcats 80-76 Thursday night in a Big Sky Conference game.

The win was the first ever for the Broncos in Wildcat Gym. Boise State's starters piled in, 65 per cent of their second-half shots from the field and outscored Weber State 18 to 10 from the free throw lane to grab the win — all but eliminating the Wildcats from the Big Sky title race.

Sophomore forward Terry Miller led the Broncos with 21 points, and freshman guard Steve Connor added 20. Miller also pulled down 10 rebounds.

Trent Johnson came through with 17 points — 12 in the second half as Boise State pulled ahead.

Weber State had led 20-8 early in the first half. But the Wildcats were ahead only 37-34 at halftime. Boise State opened the second half outscoring the Wildcats 12-4 and never trailed again.

Boise St. 18: Johnson 7-3-4, Miller 7-8-21, Hoke 0-2-2, Connor 8-4-20, Smith 6-0-12.

Stuart claims title

Robert Stuart protected meager leads throughout the second half Thursday night to nip East Michigan 45-39 for the annual Stuart basketball title.

O'Leary belted Kimberly 75-31 for the consolation prize.

East jumped ahead of Stuart at the outset and stayed ahead until just before halftime when the Bears muted ahead 23-21.

Stuart held small leads — no more than seven points — from then on out.

East's Hepworth topped all scorers with 16 while Dave Nutting had 12, Bill Miller 11 and Dave Wetter for Stuart.

Gordon charges NFL with discrimination

MINNEAPOLIS (UPI) — Dick Gordon, a former Chicago Bear star wide receiver, charged Thursday in federal court that the club's management discriminated against him and other black football players.

Gordon testified that Bears owner George Halas once attacked him when he accused Halas of treating another player like "a nigger child."

The former Michigan State star testified for the second day in the lawsuit by 16 present and former National Football League players against the Rozelle rule — a regulation that empowers the commissioner to set compensation before a player who plays out his option can be signed as a free agent by another team. It was named after NFL Commissioner Pete Rozelle.

The NFL Players Association, on behalf of the players, contends the rule is monopolistic.

Gordon, an All-Pro with Chicago in 1970, played out his option with the Bears in 1971 and then was unable to sign what he termed "a satisfactory contract" in 1972.

Gordon said when he became a free agent he signed a contract with Los Angeles on Oct. 13, 1972, after being contacted by at least six NFL teams.

Eighteen players may submit salaries for arbitration

NEW YORK (UPI) — Eighteen players have already filed notice with the Players Association that they wish to submit their salary negotiations to arbitration, but Pete Rose probably will not add his name to that list.

After entertaining thoughts of going to arbitration, Rose and his attorney, Jerry Kapstein, have presumably gotten things worked out.

A spokesman for the Reds' management said Thursday that Rose had agreed to terms and would sign his contract today. Kapstein, however, wasn't that positive about it.

"I expect we'll sign without going to arbitration," is what Wayne Kapstein put it. "We've made a great deal of progress."

Rose, whose batting average fell below .300 last season for the first time in 10 years, has previously rejected a contract calling for an 18 per cent cut from last year's $160,000.

With the deadline for filing for arbitration only four days away, the Players Association revealed Thursday that 18 players have already given notice that they wish to pursue that course. John Gahrn, chief counsel for the owners, said he felt that figure was slightly lower than last year at this time but was quick to point out that the number was likely to change drastically before next Monday's midnight deadline.

"As of today I would say there are less players filing notice for arbitration than at this time last year, but the figure is misleading because they have all day tomorrow, Saturday, Sunday and Monday to try-and-reach agreement with their teams," said Gahrn.

It was revealed last week that seven of the players who have filed for arbitration are members of the "world champion Oakland A's," but even Marvin Miller, attorney for the Players Association, admitted that the Oakland situation is "a different breed of cat."

Among some of the more prominent players handled by Kapstein who are still unsigned are Steve Garvey of Los Angeles, the NL's most valuable player; Richie Zisk of Pittsburgh; Bert Campaneris of Oakland; Larry Davis of Philadelphia; Darrell Evans of Atlanta and Bobby Grich and Ross Grimsley of Baltimore.

Kapstein was hopeful that most of his clients would be able to reach a satisfactory settlement with their clubs without resorting to arbitration.

Most hunters go after elk and buy a grizzly permit just in case they see one. In 1973, 810 grizzly permits were sold.

Interior just caved in to the trophy hunting lobby again," Regenstien said. He said that the fund was contemplating filing a lawsuit to ban all grizzly hunting.

Several hunting guides in Montana said, however, that the restrictions had not been needed because grizzlies were so difficult to find that few have been killed anyway.

Grizzly protectors decry all hunting

By JAMES P. STERBA © New York Times Service DENVER, Colo. — "As Bob and the guide topped the ridge, the bear let out a blood-thinning howl and came at them in an angry, headlong charge."

Bob's first rifle shot — at 75 yards, broke the bear's shoulder, the second hit its chest.

The third broke the other shoulder. And then, "my son ran around to one side and finished him with a bullet in the neck."

Thus, in the pages of this month's Outdoor magazine, another ursus arctos horribilis bites the dust.

These stories appear monthly in various outdoor sports magazines, but Mr. Horribilis the grizzly bear of North America — has been losing confrontations with rifle-equipped man much more frequently.

Once tens of thousands of these huge, ferocious animals presided over the North American wilds from northern Mexico to Kentucky to Alaska.

Now, south of Canada, there are perhaps 1,000 left although all estimates are considered to be little more than guesses — virtually all in the three shrinking wildernesses in Idaho, Wyoming and Montana.

When that bird known as the male tern goes out cruising for a mate, he carries a small fish crossways in his beak to offer to the female tern of his choice. If she accepts that, it's instant matrimony. Those Love and War experts Lorus and Margery Milne, who report the foregoing, point out that a fancy fish between terns is even more effective than chilled champagne between people.

HUMORISTS have treated at length that whimsical custom of requiring a suspected drunk to walk a straight line. But it was not always a joking matter. Originated aboard ships. A seaman's inability to walk the chalk could land him in the brig or worse.

FIRST of the new-car guarantees in 1902 was good for 60 days, I'm told.

GAS STATIONS

Q. "How many of the country's gas stations were forced out of business last year?"
A. Between the summer of '73 and the summer of '74, about one out of every 10 stations failed. Almost 20,000 to be specific.

Q. "ARE there supermarkets in Germany?"
A. Call them minimarkets. They're almost exact copies of the U.S. stores, but so small that six could fit into the average supermarket hereabouts.

Q. "THE LATE Johnny Rovenenti was the most famous midget because of his 'Call for Philip Morris' commercials. Did he have counterparts for that tobacco company in other nations?"
A. No, Johnny also sang out same in Spanish, French, German, Swedish, Italian and Chinese, even.

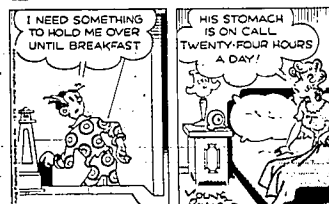

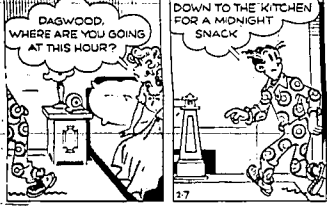

DOG AND CAT

Note it stated in print that a dog never feels ashamed of itself. Can't believe it. I've seen a poodle, clipped too short, go hide under a bed until his hair grew out. And a certain dalmatian frequently skulked away in obvious embarrassment when it skidded off course in a squirrel chase. It's true, however, that a cat never feels ashamed of itself.

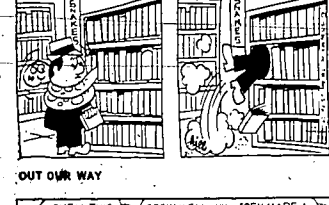

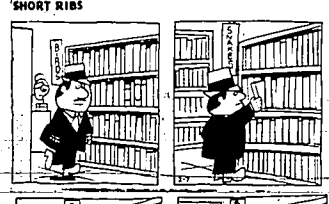

THOSE FAMILY tree experts think there are about 3.5 million people nationwide directly descended from John Alden and Priscilla of Mayflower fame. That romantic pair had 11 children. Who in turn. And who in turn.

The Dow Jones industrial average, which lost 34 points Thursday, was held to 1,104.72 on Friday, ending lower. Declines led off among the blue chips, with the more than 311 issues crossing the tape.

Turnover amounted to around 400 million shares. Thursday's volume of 32,020,000 shares was the second heaviest in NYSE history.

Right after the market opened, the Labor Department reported unemployment in January soared a full percentage point to 8.2 per cent, the highest level in 13 years. It showed the recession was deepening and disturbed investors.

Wall Street also showed concern over the vote by the House Ways and Means Committee to put a $100 million cap on new investment credit for American Telephone & Telegraph. AT&T is the widely-held stock in the nation.

Throughout the past two weeks, investors have been heartened by the decline in interest rates at the Fed Reserve Board.

Mutual Funds

Investment in mutual funds has risen sharply in the past year. Investors are looking for long-term growth and income.

Courtesy Sinclair & Co. (CHICAGO)—Sugar and grains posted advances in futures trading Thursday. Commodity News Service said the world sugar market in New York traded at sharply higher levels all day, closing 1.55 to 2.20 cents higher on 2,059,174 trades.

Dealers said the reports of Trinidad's potential problem in meeting European Economic Community commitments helped firm sugar. Other export reports helped firm the market. The Sugar 10 market was 1.75 to 2.0 cents higher on 130 trades while Sugar 12 was not traded but settled 1.55 to 2.00 cents higher. World spot prices were hiked 1.5 cents on tone, fixed at 35.25 cents a pound, FOB Caribbean ports. The two domestic spots were increased 1.50 cents to 37.50 cents a pound, duty paid.

Trading in the wheat pit included all segments of the market, and the day ended with futures 4 1/2 to 6 1/2 cents higher in current crop months and unchanged to 2 cents higher in July and beyond. There were spots of commercial hedge selling and export and elevator purchases.

Prices in wheat futures view favorably the recent Federal moves to expand PL 480 allocations, but the market had no reports of fresh lookings although there are several nations waiting to buy grain.

Other buyers produced a rally but, late liquidation forced a close at near the day's low. Net declines ranged from 57 cents to 1.15 per hundredweight with April the weakest.

Soybean imports decline

Washington (CNS) — Japanese imports of U.S. soybeans in the first half of the Japanese fiscal year (April 1974 to March 1975) and for calendar year 1974 are expected to be smaller than in previous years, the Agriculture Department said today.

Japanese imports of U.S. soybeans, during its 1974 fiscal year, are estimated at 2.08 million metric tons compared with the previous year's 3.16 million tons, USDA said.

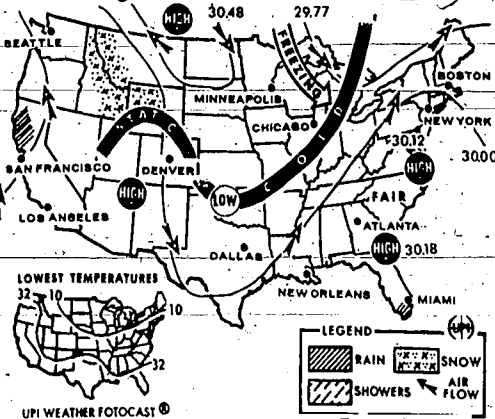

Comparing calendar years, 1974 imports from the United States fell to 3.1 million tons from year ago record levels of 3.21 million tons, USDA added.

USDA said during the 1975 calendar year, Japanese imports of all soybeans are estimated at 6 million tons, of which the U.S. will furnish 3.25 million.

Idaho farm prices dip

BOISE (UPI) — Prices received by Idaho farmers for most major crops were lower Jan. 15 than a month earlier, the Idaho Crop and Livestock Reporting Service said today.

However, livestock were slightly higher than the previous month. Prices declined for wheat, oats, barley, mixed grain, apples, potatoes, dry beans, dry peas and eggs.

Potatoes were at the lowest level since November, 1973 and dry peas were the lowest since May, 1973.

LOOKING FOR A LARGE FARM OPERATION?

S. Africa farm gains reported

Washington (CNS) — South African agricultural production, exports and earnings last year soared above previous records, the Agriculture Department's Foreign Agricultural Service reported today.

Corn from the largest harvest in South Africa's history was that nation's top export earner in 1974, with exports from the 11 million ton crop continuing to move out in the early months of this year.

For almost all crops, production rose to highest levels; while producer prices continued to show fairly marked advances. It looks like the value of South Africa's agricultural exports during 1974 may total close to $1.4 billion, the highest in the country's 1974-75 season, could yield foreign exchange earnings of about $300 million.

Corn exports could earn a record $500 million from a large exportable surplus of corn of probably around 4.5 million to four million tons.

Agricultural imports of rice, tallow and other products which come mostly from the United States, rose above those of the previous year. Also, an estimated 2,000 to 3,000 head of breeding cattle entered the country, mostly from the United States.

With South African red meat consumption on the rise, the country is implementing a beef cattle improvement scheme to bring it close to self-sufficiency.

HUD slices rates

Washington (UPI) — The Department of Housing and Urban Development reports effective interest rates on federally-underwritten home loans closed during the first week of December were lower than in early November.

HUD said the average effective interest rate on Federal Housing Administration and Veterans Administration guaranteed home mortgage loans averaged 9.67 per cent in early December, compared to 9.95 per cent in November and 10.5 per cent in October.

The effective interest rate on new commitments dropped to 9.56 per cent in December, 12 basis points lower than November and 45 under October, HUD said.

The agency said the decline in interest rates occurred among all major lender groups surveyed. The effective FHA-V.A. rate on mortgages closed at mortgage companies was 9.71 per cent, at commercial banks, 9.47 per cent, at mutual savings banks 9.29 per cent and at savings and loans 9.79 per cent.
