Tel Aviv raiders wiped out

TEL AVIV (UPI) — Palestinian guerrillas in a raid on a Tel Aviv hotel early today, slaying 10 guerrillas, including the leader of the latest Middle East mission, seized a waterfront hotel in Tel Aviv and held it until they were wiped out by Israeli security forces. The guerrillas, landing aboard two silver-gray rubber commando boats with guerrilla leader Yasser Arafat's name painted on one, came ashore around 11 p.m. Wednesday, advanced to the rundown Savoy Hotel 200 yards from the coast with machine guns blazing and took 30 guests hostage, some of them foreign tourists.

major Arab raid against Israeli targets. The guerrillas, reports on the number of casualties and the number of hostages killed was not clear. Hospital officials put the death toll at 10, including guerrillas, Israeli soldiers and civilians. The military command put the death toll at 13, including three soldiers and three civilians. The command would not say if the dead guerrillas were Israelis or foreigners but a cabinet committee said at least some of the dead were not Israelis. It did not say whether there were any Americans in the group. Reports of the number wounded ranged up to 19.

When they reached the building the guerrillas rushed in through the front door, trapping 30 guests inside. Holding the guests as hostages, the guerrillas then traded heavy machine gun and rocket fire with troops surrounding the area. At about 2 a.m., the shooting stopped and negotiations began over the fate of the hostages with the guerrillas demanding release of 10 persons from Israeli soldiers, advancing under cover of a barrage of machine gun fire.

FAA bars early flight descent
WASHINGTON (UPI) — The Federal Aviation Administration today formally revised U.S. flight regulations in an effort to prevent premature descents such as that which occurred when a TWA jetliner crashed in Virginia Dec. 1 killing 92 persons. An FAA spokesman said the new regulation was a direct result of the crash of TWA flight 514, the worst U.S. air disaster of 1974. The TWA jetliner hit a mountain after descending too soon on a landing approach to Dulles International Airport near Washington.

Panel OK's single university plan
BOISE (UPI) — By a one-vote margin the Idaho House Education Committee sent to the floor with a favorable recommendation today a bill to create a single university system in Idaho. Two of those who voted to put the bill out of committee said they did so primarily so the measure could be aired. They reserved the right to debate and vote against it. Under normal procedures the proposal could come up for debate Monday or Tuesday. By another one-vote margin, the committee agreed to ask a privileged committee to introduce a proposal to require election instead of appointment of the State Board of Education.

Inflation fever in cooling trend

WASHINGTON — Wholesale prices declined in February for the third straight month, the Labor Department reported today, continuing that the economy's inflation fever is cooling off. The decrease of 0.8 per cent from January to February was the biggest drop since September 1974. It was the first time since 1967 that wholesale prices had declined for three straight months. There were declines of 0.2 per cent in December and 0.3 per cent in January. Sharp drops in farm and food prices led the way last month. Industrial prices rose much less than last year. The downward wholesale prices is starting to work its way through to retail prices, although there are lags and prices paid by consumers tend to be sticky. Consumer prices in January, the last month for which figures are available, rose 0.6 per cent, about one-third less than the average monthly increase in 1974. World-wide recession is the main cause of the slowdown in inflation. Ford administration officials expect inflation at the retail level to drop to an annual rate of about 6.5 to 7 per cent this spring, apart from the impact of any oil tariff and energy price increases from the rate of about 12 per cent in the closing months of last year. However, there is concern that the respite from inflation may not last long. The administration warns that excessive moves to pull the economy out of the recession could bring a new burst of inflation in 1976.

Even with the recent declines, wholesale prices last month still were 14.6 per cent above February, 1974, reflecting the huge increases through most of last year. The price rise from February, 1974, to February, 1975, was the smallest for any 12-month period since last June. The slowdown in inflation was dramatized by the 6.2 per cent annual rate of decline in the latest three months, contrasted to the 11.1 per cent rate of increase in the preceding three months. The 0.8 per cent price decline in February was adjusted to discount seasonal influences. In absolute terms, without seasonal adjustment, the decrease was 4.0 per cent. Within the total index, prices of farm products dropped 4.6 per cent, seasonally adjusted, in February to a level 1.71 per cent below February, 1974. While the decline of farm prices is good news for some, it is causing concern in agricultural states. Prices of processed foods and feeds fell 2.8 per cent last month but still were 10.9 per cent above a year earlier. Further along the line, wholesale prices of consumer goods — essentially the prices paid by retailers — fell 1.7 per cent in February, the strongest monthly decline. Retail prices, prices on average have continued rising in recent months, reflecting widened margins for businessmen, but the increases have been smaller than through most of last year. ## Treaty block set

WASHINGTON — The administration's plan for a treaty with Panama that would concede sovereignty over the Canal Zone and grant other major concessions to the isthmian Republic has suffered a severe and possibly fatal setback in the United States Senate. The roadblock arose when Sen. Strom Thurmond, R-S.C., and Sen. John McClellan, D-Ark., submitted a resolution to the Senate accompanied by the signatures of 37 cosponsors calling on the federal government not to transfer any of its rights over the waterway and the canal zone to Panama. Under Senate rules, 67 votes are required for ratification of a treaty.

Cambodians attack Red gun positions

PHNOM PENH (UPI) — A force of 1,000 to 1,500 government troops struck today, spreading a 10-mile fire from a Pochentong airport in an effort to silence the Communist gun positions. The bombardment of the airport has threatened the city and almost inevitable defeat of the Lon Nol government. U.S. officials halted their emergency airlift of rice and ammunition for four hours early today to "recess" the military situation in view of heavy shelling of the airfield. Flight resumed this afternoon. One U.S. plane suffered minor damage from shrapnel which knocked out its hydraulic system and Communist guns bracketed another with artillery shells but missed the plane itself. By midmorning, the U.S. flights and opposing insurgent shelling were going full tilt again. All Cambodian civilian aircraft used to fly in supplies from outlying provinces remained grounded, adding to Phnom Penh's desperate food and fuel situation. The Cambodian government push was aimed at Communist forces that had taken 70 miles from the city. The river was blocked one month ago. An estimated two to three government battalions pushed into the Tuol Leap area in an attempt to knock out rocket positions and 105mm howitzer captured from the Americans earlier in the war. There are about 500 men in a Cambodian battalion.

Surplus estimate boosted

T-N Capitol bureau BOISE — The House Revenue Projections Committee today boosted its estimate of the state surplus to $1.1 billion from $922 million. The surplus, mostly in state revenue, has not been spent. The surplus generally is used for one-shot programs such as public works or tax relief.

Food prices hold line for TF market baskets

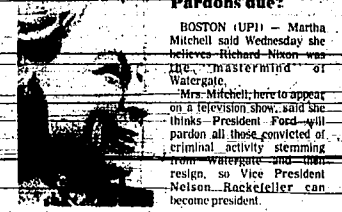

By DIANE ALTERS Times News writer TWIN FALLS — Food prices held steady in Twin Falls in February, indicating family budgets might not climb as much as they did last year. A Times News survey of 20 items in a typical shopping basket at five supermarkets showed that families probably were paying about the same for food in February as in January, when prices dropped slightly — less than a percentage point — from January. But food still isn't a bargain. The same food basket cost 13.8 per cent less last year of this time, and prices had declined to reach that point. Averages for each item were about the same, although the average price for produce dropped 4.9 per cent thanks to cheaper potatoes. Twenty pounds of potatoes fell as low as 69 cents at two stores, down from $1 in December. Meat was up almost a percentage point.

Food prices hold line for TF market baskets

because bacon prices edged up throughout February. Sugar, still a big cause of high prices, seems to be dropping slowly although it's got a long way to go before it reaches the 10 cents for a pound that it reached in 1974 on the 80-cent average in February 1974. Sugar sold from between $4.94 and $5.20 for 10 pounds, or an average of $5.10, in the latest survey, compared to an average of $3.32 for January, a 4.2 per cent decrease this month. That's still a big 111 per cent increase over prices in February 1974. Individual stores' totals for the shopping basket increased or decreased by less than a percentage point in each case. The highest priced store dropped its prices slightly from last month but retained its high-price position as the high priced market in town. The cheapest of the stores surveyed brought its prices up to be more in line with the other markets.

Oil price, inflation tie proposed

ALGIERS (UPI) — The world's major oil producing nations offered today to stabilize petroleum prices if the Western industrial nations in return agree to tie the price to inflation. The 13 nations of the Organization of Petroleum Exporting Countries in their final declaration also called for price stabilization would be "linked to a fundamental and urgent reform of the world monetary system and a massive program by the West to modernize the Third World, nations now in the process of economic development."

Pardons due?

BOSTON (UPI) — Martha Mitchell said Wednesday she believes Richard Nixon was the "mastermind" of Watergate. Mrs. Mitchell, here to appear on a television show, said she thinks — President Ford — will pardon all those convicted of criminal activity stemming from Watergate and then resign, so Vice President Nelson Rockefeller can become president.

CIA denies assassination links

WASHINGTON (UPI) — Eugene M. Holmes, CIA Director Richard Helms gave President Lyndon B. Johnson "unqualified assurance" in 1965 that the agency had never been involved in any assassinations. The Washington Post, meanwhile, reported that the Central Intelligence Agency is apparently concerned that current intelligence investigations may pursue alleged CIA involvement in murder plots against at least three foreign political leaders: Fidel Castro, Rafael Trujillo and Patrice Lumumba.

Arctic gas pipeline draws fire

WASHINGTON (UPI) — Fourteen U.S. and Canadian conservation groups joined Wednesday in opposing any construction of an oil or gas pipeline across the Arctic National Wildlife Refuge from Alaska to the United States. Such a pipeline would cause unacceptable damage to "some of the most superb scenery, wilderness and wildlife habitat on this continent," the organizations said.

Idaho lawmakers see windup by end of next week

By BILL LAZARUS Times News Capital Bureau BOISE — The Idaho Legislature is entering the home stretch with most lawmakers predicting they will finish their work by the end of next week. Some legislators are even saying they could finish this session. But, despite the late date, prospects for land-use legislation, no fault insurance, tax relief, road construction, city taxation and even that long-time stickler of the session — STATE EMPLOYEES SALARIES — are uncertain. In fact, in many instances, key legislators have widely varying ideas on what is likely to emerge. All agree on one thing: The legislature must appropriate funds and determine what to do with the surplus before adjournment. Bills which have not been acted upon before this occurs may die on the vine. The pure no-fault insurance bill approved by the Senate Wednesday and House bill HJR 200, land-use legislation, could well be among these. Speaker of the House Alvin Larson thinks that these measures have a good chance to come up for a vote in the House. When one chamber has gone over a bill for years and years, he says, the other house usually has less chance of coming from these two bills. But Larson believes that State Affairs, Resources and Conservation are the "germane" House committees to send land-use legislation to. Land-use supporters believe the bills would have less chance of coming from these two committees than from Rep. Bill Onweller's Local Government Committee, which participated in public hearings on land-use earlier in the session.

"It may not see the floor if it goes to the other committees," Onweller, a strong land-use supporter, says. Sen. Lyle Cook, R-Boise and chairman of the Senate Local Government and Taxation Committee, says that he would be "rather surprised" if the House accepts either no-fault or land-use bills without detailed study, which takes time. House Majority Leader Walter Little, R-New Plymouth, says taking care of appropriations and the surplus is the most necessary before adjournment. He believes "important legislation such as land-use and the no-fault will be considered. "But if there is a stalemate, the best thing you can do is adjourn," he adds. Even on basic money matters, there is no certainty. Appropriations bills drawn up by the Joint Finance Appropriations Committee are passing the House and Senate. But, following two Andrus votes of tax relief measures, there is disagreement on how the surplus should be used. Rep. Steve Antone, R-H Rupert, and chairman of the Revenue and Taxation Committee, sees the likelihood of about $10 million in tax relief and $10 million for roads and some for state building. But Larson believes proposals to provide about $8.4 million for roads and about $11 million for tax relief are likely. He, like Antone, believes excess surplus can be taken care of in providing more property tax relief and early payment of the state's endowment fund debt.

Bigger mid-income rebate proposed

WASHINGTON (UPI) — Treasury Secretary William E. Simon urged the Senate Finance Committee Wednesday to rewrite the tax reduction bill passed by the House in order to give a larger tax rebate to middle-income wage earners.

Simon also commended the committee for deciding Tuesday to delete a section of the bill that would abolish the oil depletion allowance.

"If significant delays result from discussing and considering any extraneous matters," Simon said, "our economic suffering could be prolonged unnecessarily."

Simon said that the rebates should favor those who earn between $10,000 and $40,000 a year because people in this income group are the major buyers of such durable goods as cars, television sets, washing machines and air conditioners.

Environmentalists blast clean air rule setback

WASHINGTON (UPI) — Environmental and public health groups today accused the Environmental Protection Agency of condemning city dwellers "to lives of pollution-aggravated disease" by recommending clean air rules for automobiles he suspended until 1980.

The EPA's decision was announced Wednesday and the National Clean Air Coalition charged today it is another example of "the special relationship that exists between the oil industry and the Ford administration."

The coalition said that later would be the price of producing gasoline low enough in sulfur to avoid the sulfuric acid pollution cited by EPA as the reason for recommending that Congress act on a sweeping delay in the timetable for exhaust.

The auto industry, and the arrangement with mixed response, generally favorable but some saying the EPA stand didn't go far enough.

The clean air coalition (includes such groups as the Sierra Club, Friends of the Earth, the American Public Health Association and the National Public Interest Research Group.

"By supporting Detroit's request for temporary suspension of the auto emission standards, the Environmental Protection Agency forgets its environmental mission and condemns urban dwellers to lives of pollution-aggravated disease," the groups said in a statement released at a press conference.

"No other agency of the federal government will step forward to protect the citizen, for these polluted masses are unprotected industry."

EPA administrator Russell E. Train, in announcing the suspension proposal Wednesday, said desulfurization is not practical because it would cost too much.

If the Congress allows the delay EPA is recommending, the groups said, the total pollution from cars of carbon monoxide in 1985 will be nearly double the level called for under the 1970 Clean Air Act.

AF plans job slash

WASHINGTON (UPI) — President Ford has asked Congress for more than $2 billion to extend summer emergency government jobs for six more months and to create 700,000 new jobs for young people this summer.

Parley (Republican) Wednesday, saying it should not be interpreted as an indication that unemployment is getting worse.

Nessen said Ford will ask Congress for $1.625 billion to continue until July 1, 1976, the 300,000 public service jobs already budgeted at $2.5 billion. He said that would be extra money, the Labor Department would have to start plugging out these jobs by this July.

The President also expects to ask Congress for $112 million for the 700,000 summer youth jobs program. State and local governments have been spending too little federal aid funds on the program, Nessen said.

Nessen also disclosed Wednesday that a Ford had ordered an immediate study on how best to help unemployed persons whose jobless benefits have expired.

Dangers pinpointed

ASWAN, Egypt (UPI) — An Egyptian government spokesman said today the guerrilla attack on a Tel Aviv hotel and its bloody aftermath showed "the urgent, need to diffuse Middle East tensions."

It pinpoints the dangers embodied in the price of state-of-affairs and underlines what we have been saying all along namely that it is necessary to defuse the situation and carry on with the peace process, the spokesman said.

It emphasizes the need for quick disengagement and quick resumption of the Geneva conference.

Force use times seen

WASHINGTON (UPI) — Secretary of State Henry Kissinger told congressmen there are conditions under which the United States could be forced into surrender of some military force, over oil.

He made the statement to 20 House-Senate members who came to breakfast at the White House. It was explained by Ron Nessen, President Ford's spokesman, as "not a prediction of what will happen but a warning of what could happen unless a national energy conservation program is adopted, not a prediction but a caution."

Nessen's deputy, John Hines, quoted Kissinger as saying that the price of oil, which the United States would buy, either surrender or using military force.

This would require a series of steps, Nessen said, such as: if the Arabs suddenly cut the price of oil to a ridiculously low figure such as $4 or $4 1/2 a barrel, reducing U.S. intake to 20 percent of domestic requirements.

The United States could become dependent on this cheap oil, making it vulnerable to an Arab embargo.

He did not explain why Kissinger said that Wednesday, as members of the organization of Petroleum Exporting Countries met in Algeria to discuss the possibility of raising oil prices, but the price of oil is beginning to rise.

The argument seems similar to threatening to blow up the oil barge store if it lowers prices, on the supposition that one could become an alchemist and be in trouble if it suddenly closes.

Administration and congressional allies who declined to be named because it would appear they were making jokes, explained the arguments.

Current crude oil prices are between $10 and $14 a barrel, maintained by OPEC agreement.

A lot of oil is around, more than the consumers need. Conservation and higher prices have created a surplus of oil in many oil fields today. Production is being curtailed and there is talk of lower prices.

Petroleum Council consists about 20 nations allied to produce. The OPEC nations could lower their prices to $1 a barrel, even $2, and keep the "petrodollars" rolling in.

Lecture ends in hot finale

TWIN FALLS — While a number of hospital employees were attending a lecture on fire control methods Wednesday afternoon, nurses on the third floor were getting acquainted with the fire alarm system.

Clare Harkins, Twin Falls Fire Department, inspector, had just finished his lecture on fire control methods at the hospital fire alarm system.

He and others rushed to the third floor of the hospital where they found nurses dousing a smoking television set with fire extinguishers.

The set in a patient's room had become overheated and began smoking. Nurses wheeled it into a utility room and proceeded to follow directions they had learned earlier about quelling electrical fires. All was under control.

The Wednesday lecture was part of the first week's program in a three-week session of special training from fire department officials for all hospital employees.

Donnelley said the city recreation basketball play will continue as usual and youngsters are asked to complete either before or after their regular games whichever time is scheduled for their age groups.

Trophies will be given in each age group, Donnelley said.

Jerome council meet set today

JEROME — The Jerome Planning Council's comprehensive planning committee will meet at 8 p.m. today at Woodvale.

The council is writing an outline for a comprehensive plan being developed for Jerome County. The goals will include both all strengths and weaknesses that were defined by the committee last year.

Helen Smith, coordinator, said the recreation committee is working independently to evaluate high priority potential recreation sites so that the county will be able to qualify for some state matching money.

The recreation committee proposals must receive the approval of the comprehensive planning body, steering committee of the Jerome County Planning Council and the county commissioners. It is to be completed during March and April, Mrs. Smith said.

Polishing a new gem

About a decade ago, provision was made for the Harriman Ranch in eastern Idaho to become part of Idaho's state park system...

In the intervening years, many Idahoans forgot about the gift, unless they happened to remember they were crossing the ranch as they traveled between St. Anthony and Island Park.

Now the Idaho Department of Parks is starting a two-year-long study of the ranch property. The examination will include the land, wildlife, fish, plants, and perhaps most important...

In Boise Wednesday, State Parks Director Steven Byl outlined present plans for use of the ranch after it becomes a state park. These plans call for day use only, with the interior of the ranch accessible to visitors only on foot...

In light of those anticipated uses, it would appear that preparation now for the eventual use of the extensive ranch property is a proper course which will ultimately provide a unique park of great value to Idaho.

Bedside bureaucracy goes berserk in boondocks

WASHINGTON — The story comes from a group of country doctors out in northwest Oklahoma, on beyond Emul, but it could come from anywhere...

The story provides one more example of bureaucracy gone berserk. The doctors fear their small rural hospitals are doomed. To understand their apprehension, you have to know something of how medicine is practiced in the boondocks...

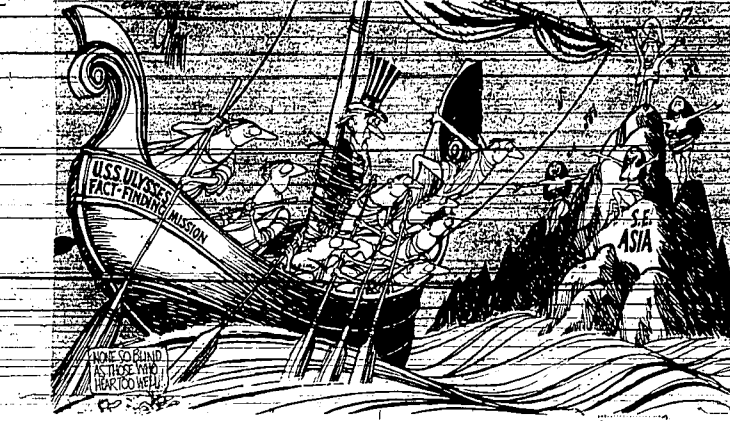

country practice and accept the rural way of life. These are small institutions, in northwest Oklahoma, they range from 20 beds at Wynoka to 60 at Woodward. To speak of their "staffs" is to put a large smile on a small face...

New regulations imposed by the Department of Health, Education and Welfare, having to do with Medicare and Medicaid, patients have made a bad situation worse. These regulations demanding that every hospital adopt a utilization review panel, became effective Feb. 11. B. H. Dutter, at Okene, says flatly that it is "impossible" for small rural hospitals to comply...

with a staff of 100. For a hospital in Watonga, Fairview or Alva, they are woefully unrealistic.

Under the new rules, the admission of a Medicare patient sets off a bureaucratic convulsion. Within 40 working days, the admission must be reviewed and justified by "a staff committee of the hospital composed of two or more physicians..."

'OMIGOD! THEY'VE LOST THEIR EARPLUGS!'

Moscow trying to apply squeeze play to Sadat

N.Y. Times Service (AP) One thing clear from any conversation with Anwar El-Sadat is the fact that Moscow is doing its utmost to keep the Egyptian president from signing any peace treaty...

promised to come to Cairo in January. He didn't. No date has since been set and the matter remains under discussion.

During the large, two-month period following the Yom Kippur war, the USSR promised to ship replacement of material lost in the Yom Kippur conflict, the Russians were warned.

Last December Moscow asked its policy sharply and started sending a torrent of the material whose delivery had been held up.

The Soviets have now promised Cairo to make all deliveries originally pledged for 1974-1975, but no more. Egypt therefore complains it is up to a squeeze as Israeli forces have been wholly unopposed by the United States just as Syrian forces have been by Russia.

Egypt refuses to accept new Soviet military "technicians" or "advisors" — only temporary "instructors" with any new weapons types provided in order to teach Egyptian how to use them. There have been no such weapons. Although France and Britain have signed some arms contracts with Egypt, these don't approach the levels previously supplied by Moscow.

Diplomatically there is a wider breach than has been allowed to appear. When Gromyko was recently here, he sought to persuade Sadat to abandon the "three pillars" of his peace-making formula and join in an immediate new Geneva conference. Sadat said whenever Israel was ready to give Egypt back territory, he was ready to accept it.

This independent attitude displeases the Kremlin. "The Soviets are not to recapture prestige lost in the Arab world and they don't intend to let Egypt get in the way. This Sadat feels caught in a superpower vice."

Moscow, playing for time, contends that existing differences can only be settled when the Brezhnev visit materializes. But this has already been promised many weeks and no firm date has been set. Apparently Moscow has put the entire argument in its rearview.

his country's extensive military supplies in late 1974 and throughout 1975.

However, the promise was forgotten. Deliveries failed to arrive. When Egypt's defense minister "invented" this charge in Moscow trip last October and requested Energy order nearing?

Christian Science Monitor It is now widely expected that the whole energy picture only a few months ago the mood was one of frantic. Yet today, because of the economic slump and an unusually warm winter, there is a growing of surplus and virtually every oil-producing nation has cut back production.

While the short-term urgency for conservation has dissipated, it is nevertheless important to keep an eye on the broad long-range goal. That is to reduce the West's dependence on foreign sources of oil that is subject to political manipulation and pressure. This means bringing about a sensible, less-wasteful use of this vital resource everywhere.

Hence the momentum toward devising a new energy strategy for the remainder of the century must not slacken. Development of two fronts are being undertaken.

Domestically, three energy programs are now on deck and the focus of attention shifts to forging a compromise. The latest Democratic package from the important House Ways and Means Committee is a well-considered strong alternative to the Ford program, including oil at 40 cents a gallon, an increase in the federal gas tax up to 40 cents a gallon, an excise tax on huge cars, a phasing in of oil import quotas, creation of a federal agency to help improve oil and a windfall profits tax.

The White House indicates this plan is more aligned to the President's approach than the Wright-Patterson energy program. So there are grounds for hope that a compromise will be hammered out.

Internationally, too, there are good things to report. The oil-consuming nations are pressing ahead with plans for a preliminary conference with the oil producers in April. Saudi Arabia has persuaded the hard-line Algerians to soften their position, so this critical meeting will be able to deal the oil price fluctuations.

The oil consumers, meanwhile, who have differing interests and a different blend of energy requirements, are in the process of deciding how to approach the producers. The Kissinger plan for a "floor price" of oil appears to be gaining acceptance, with some modifications.

As for that prospect that there is perhaps a salutary lesson in the OPEC oil producers. While the economic recession has caused a drop in demand for oil, the depressed demand in turn levels the economic recession. Hence, if the producers do not come in terms with the consumers, this trend could well continue to have a counterproductive effect.

In short, the imperatives at home and abroad are for compromise and cooperation.

Berry's World

"Why do you have to go around telling people 'we're broke, when you can do simply say we're without cash flow?'"

Reports exaggerated

I hope that somewhere along the line an investigation will reveal that the reports of J. Edgar Hoover's labored conditions to Lyndon Johnson on the moral habits of some of his important critics will prove to have been exaggerated.

I say this because I have a great respect for J. Edgar Hoover and his "missions" by these bastion stories, and I can't prove it, unless proved that they were exaggerated, or against the alternative of permanently lowering my esteem for Mr. Hoover. I know neither and so I opt out.

It is pretty shrewd stuff, the kind of America's FBI telling in barroom style to the president of the United States, which of his critics in Congress slept with whom, after putting away how many pints of gin, all which information having been gathered through the use of Neotome surveillance or talking done by FBI agents, do, however, and have not the accounts of these episodes, which is even something of the perplexed current position on the public morality.

A spokesman for the FBI insisted that only such Congressmen were investigated as were out of a federal position. For instance, if the president, considered naming congressman Jones to a federal judgeship, the FBI's required, under the law, to run a "security check" on Jones. How this is first and foremost a check to ascertain whether, by any chance, Jones is on the payroll of a Soviet Union or by ITET, not of course necessarily in that order of gravity.

A category below is an examination into the question of his rectitude in such matters as paying his bills, cheating his investor, that kind of thing.

Then there comes the third category, loosely put together under the heading of "morals." It is said, for instance, that Mr. Hoover reported to President Johnson that Congressman A. visited a particular brothel on his most recent trip to a great American medical center. And that Congressman B. got smashed at some public affair or other that when it came time to pronounce his opinion, he could hardly do an adequate job of it. In this report Lyndon Johnson was given to chucking with satisfaction at his knowledge of other men's habits, habits.

None in discussing these episodes, the youth magazine for time magazine referred to a "moralizing" or "cavaliers" of the institution in question. Now a petty offense is a petty fault.

But of course of this, so, then, you wonder why there is so much agitation over the subject, and then the talking to the president of these short offenses and petty faults. It is to say, a Congressman, being considered in a diplomatic position regularly, fails to use an underarm deodorant, here would be an example of a petty offense which would have some bearing on his suitability to be situated between, say, the taxpayer and the archbishopric of Cambridge on some future occasion. But a presidential is, it is less than professionally unimpeachable, one would suppose, not only for the FBI to insist, to me, that I have any opinion to shock.

Yet I do. I cannot imagine a Congressman running for reelection, and asking to the voters, "I'vek three days and every night of the week in the public interest, except Saturday night when I spend in a brothel."

And without passing any judgment on whether the public or Times Magazine, or whoever, has the right of the heavens, it is certainly the case that we have no special moral code of sorts. — Washington Star Syndicate

Long list of victims for 'Washington Triangle'

WASHINGTON — By now everyone must know about the Bermuda Triangle, a vast body of water extending from Bermuda in the north to Southern Florida and then east in a point in the Bahamas past Puerto Rico.

Charles Berlitz, who has written a best-seller about it, claims 100 ships and planes have vanished in the area without a trace, and more than 1,000 lives have been lost since 1945.

There are many theories concerning the mystery. Some people believe that UFOs are responsible. Others feel the disasters may have been tied in with the lost colony of Atlantis. — What has not been publicized is that there is a smaller phenomenon in Washington, D.C. It is called the Washington Triangle and it also has been a great source of mystery and unexplained disappearances. The triangle area is between the White House, the Capitol and the Jefferson Memorial. Most of the accidents have taken place in the Tidal Basin, a rough, treacherous sea 3 feet deep, which twists and turns as it empties into the Potomac River.

Jonathan Stone, who discovered the Washington Triangle, said: "The Triangle is a frightening place. In a period of 10 years we've lost 3,000 trip balloons, 100 canoes and rafts, 453 recreational mandalas, 230 tax cuts and one ship of state. They seem to have watergate with all hands aboard, including the President of the United States. A search produced nothing but an empty lifeboat with the message "I am not a crook" scrawled on the side."

What do you think happened to the vessel? asked Stone. "They lost their moral compass. Something happens to people's sense of direction when they get into the Triangle. It's best political navigators forget which end is up and which end is down."

What other disasters have taken place in the basin? "Recently, President Ford sent up an energy message to the Hill and it sank without a trace. At least a half dozen bills that Congress has sent down to the President to sign have drowned in the black, murky waters of the Triangle. Budgets have been smashed on the rocks, campaign promises have vanished into thin air. Even a cargo of prayer breakfasts was lost without a trace or explanation. "Do you suppose there is some supernatural power at work in the Triangle that is responsible for so many disasters?" I asked.

"I'm sure of it," Stone said. "There is one theory that sophisticated beings from another planet live on the bottom of the basin, and magnetically attract all the traffic between the White House and the Hill."

"Some say there's a minister that eats budgets, presidential messages, government servants and an occasional vice president of the United States."

"That could make sense, too," I agreed. "There is also the possibility that the bottom of the Tidal Basin could be the lost colony of Atlantis," he said. "You mean Fannie Foe could be from another world?"

"There are many people who believe it." — Los Angeles Times

Creek pollution astounds

Editor, Times-News:
During a fishing trip west of town along Rock Creek two miles above the Snake I was astounded to see the degree of pollution of one of our most cherished streams in the Magic Valley.

The first impression at close observation reminded me of a river at vomit. That is exactly what it looks like. When I stuck my hand in the water the slime literally covered my hand in a matter of seconds.

It is simply not conceivable. The Snake River looks like a glass of water by comparison. We can't blame anyone upstream because we can't know there is no one upstream who can be responsible. The malicious creation of this town must be stopped.

It is the duty of your newspaper to start doing something I alone can't do. I can only stand by showing you.

I personally volunteer to take you down there and show you. The Snake River is not to be taken lightly. They are a fact.

When you see it in your area any kind of human being at all will make you want to cry, save up or die. If you can't take me up on this my phone number is 233-9923 for call me at work 734-3123. I will be glad to talk to you.

Why not change seasons too?

Editor, Times-News:
Since our super-intelligent Congress and Legislature have the power to change our holidays and the time of day I wonder if they could consider changing the seasons.

Maybe if we didn't have tax writers, the country kids wouldn't have to roam in the dark and cold to meet the bus and their folks wouldn't have to queue at the "jerry" garbage incinerators and the buses at the "jerry" bus stop. My cousins can have that extra hour of recreation.

Maybe enough of us "country bumpkins" can't find the time to make enough of a margin by using other time of week and we can import food and services from the "big city" per cent of our farmers are government owned either through the FICA or Federal Reserve Bank. We don't want the government operate them and we can't take that much longer for a variety of

I'm really beginning to wonder if the American farmer for the most part knows how little of his operation he really owns, but I suppose if one can put on a face front and a million of times a year it doesn't matter, but the day may come sooner than we think when they'll come and tell us we can run our ranch, take them or get out, especially if we are no longer able to pay our higher tax and water bills.

There are not many more years are the farmer's incomes going to do the same? It might be something to think about.

We should be smart like any city cousins in stead of running on borrowed money and eventually losing our place west of the 114th meridian.

There are many more ways to increase our checks when our expenses exceed our incomes and get our pensions when we get tired of working on the job at it.

Extra ridicule unnecessary

Editor, Times-News:
The Times-News has a paper law, claimed to be the only one in the area. There is no charge for it except for the paper. I have extra copies. I don't write my opinion in reply to at least one very poor cartoonist and his wasted paper on the regular paper I pay for.

This article down I read Mr. Kiserger in my opinion it only shows some one's subtle feeling for the poor staying people in other lands.

Your paper did a thorough job of downgrading Mr. Qualls. Without this extra bit of ridicule in the TV Kojak article. Personally I was a head a Kojak or two in Twin Falls. Maybe you like lawlessness. I don't.

It is no wonder we have poor lawmen when all the news media protects the criminals along with the courts and dishonest lawyers. No wonder the miniature minds, the mentally sick and many others accept the dishonest way of life when everyone seems to be doing it. The police and Mr. John Doe who they follow are basically stupid.

Many say, get the total chaos. You are asking for it, you continue this line of editing. As for you—there are so out of the hat in the lawman isn't given the respect he deserves, you'll get your punishment soon. So is the human and other mistakes and I won't.

It appears the newspaper is trying to become the god they think the lawman might become. Are you kidding me?

There is lots more I'd like to write, but I lack the time, but, but maybe you ought to stop and think and take a good look at your self. Are you the saint of perfection you said Mr. Lamont to be? I wonder.

Seminar data corrected

Editor, Times-News:
I wish to correct George Wilke who published an article regarding the Lamaz Prepared Childbirth Seminar held during Women's Awareness Week at CSI.

Wilke referred to the Lamaz Prepared Childbirth Method as attempting to unite husband and wife concerning a childbirth without any checks.

First of all, the prepared complex does not "conduct" their childbirth. The attending physician is the leader in the childbirth experience. The husband and wife, due to their preparedness, are active participants.

The Lamaz prepared childbirth class held at the SYLVA is not a "natural childbirth" course. Natural childbirth is giving birth without anesthesia or other medication. The woman may or may not have been prepared by techniques.

That Lamaz Prepared Childbirth Method does not teach anything. It provides a natural birth, but rather gives the woman the means to deliver through the correct response to labor contractions. Many prepared women find that the techniques work so well that they never use medication or other help.

Our goal is to have a good, happy birth experience, not a painful one, and the issue.

Therefore, I would like to correct what is misreported regarding the Lamaz Prepared Childbirth Method and apologize to all affected parties.

LONDON (UPI)—The voice crackling on the radio from an offshore oil well in the North Sea had a worried tone.

"Twelve Soviet travelers are clinging to the rig," it said, stipulated within 20 yards. When the oil rig sent off a "stop-launch" to investigate other Soviet travelers were in 16 in all.

One of the Russian ships appeared to be firing with electronic "listening" devices the radio message said.

"Need help," it added.

It was later the only British oil rig at sea where near the area of Spruce Head, 200 miles off Spruce Head, 200 miles off Great Yarmouth only to the north of the British coast.

Other oil rig protest. We could not get to Moscow. This is a "new natural gas" platform and the area had been proclaimed a protection zone for the British coast.

Senate battle ends

WASHINGTON (UPI) — The Senate has crushed a controversial bill to amend the Voting Rights Act, ending a long and bitter debate.

The fight raged with fury for the past two weeks and finally came to an end Wednesday when the filibuster was squelched only the formalities remain before the Senate changes its mind tomorrow for the third time.

Repealing the act would have put the bill in the hands of the President, who would have to sign it into law. The current requirement is a two-thirds majority of those present and voting, amounting to 77 votes.

The filibuster is "taking a toll" on the Senate, said a spokesman for the House. "It is expected to take additional steps in the coming days to bring the situation under control," he said.

The President made his decision after a meeting Tuesday with his economic advisers and after House Democrats announced they would seek an additional $3.9 billion for more public service jobs and public works projects.

Earlier Ford recommended that Congress have been talking for some time about the need for more public service jobs and public works projects.

Outraged Bella bellows when name found in files

WASHINGTON (UPI) — Rep. Bella Abzug discovered her name has been in a file with the Central Intelligence Agency since 1955 and was outraged "CIA Director William Colby alleged some of the information there should not have been collected."

"I find me in your files is outrageous," said Ms. Abzug. "I consider it an attack on me, and on the democratic society in which I was born."

discover that the CIA had followed me as far back as 1955 when my activity was as a lawyer," she said. She added she wrote Soviet officials several years ago to obtain copies of birth and marriage certificates in an estate settlement for a client who had relatives in Russia.

"This activity has been terminated," Colby said, "and will not be resumed."

"I listen," she said, "let's get this straight. Opening mail of a lawyer is illegal. I don't think there's any argument on that. If you have any argument, I want to hear it."

"No," he replied. "We were following the activities of certain organizations. We were not following your activities."

Colby said the agency kept files on four Congressmen including yourself, Mrs. Abzug.

Funding sought for more jobs

WASHINGTON — President Ford's budget for fiscal 1976 called Wednesday for the expenditure of more than $2 billion above his budget for the White House Press Office said.

The President's action, however, fell short of the demands many members of Congress have been making for emergency employment and was not considered likely to have a major impact on high unemployment.

Earlier Ford recommended that Congress have been talking for some time about the need for more public service jobs and public works projects.

Harriman ranch studies planned

BOISE, Utah — The State Parks and Recreation Department is launching a two-year study on the land, wildlife, fish, plants of the sprawling Harriman Ranch and what effect man would have on the property's despoled system.

The sprawling ranch with lakes, streams, elk herds, wild swan nesting areas and a view of the Tetons Mountains belongs to Mr. and Mrs. Averil Harriman who have agreed to make a gift of the land to the State of Idaho in their will.

The terms of the gift will be handed from the State and allow only fly-fishing in its waters.

Parks Director Steven Bly told the Idaho Press Club the Harrimans are helping in the planning of the future park. In addition, Bly said he has hired the California parks planner who worked on the redwood park to help with the two-year study.

Bly said plans now would keep the interior of the proposed park for foot traffic only with the exception of some maintenance vehicles. It will be a day-use only park.

The plans call for conducting educational programs where Idaho students and teachers could come to the ranch park to study conservation and the environment.

Bly said that the University of Idaho-Idaho State University and the College of Idaho are going to help by making ecological studies on the land.

Tel Aviv guerrilla raid toll hits 16

The attack brought a wave of funeral rites in Beirut and thoughtful citizens ran for cover when air raid sirens sounded at noon for the daily test in Tripoli. Lebanese militia opened scattered machine gun fire on two high flying Lebanese Air Force planes and an army spokesman said "We are very much on the alert."

An Egyptian government spokesman also condemned the attack and said "It punishes the dangers of current Middle-East tensions and the need to deuse it quickly and carry on with the peace processes."

Egypt Prime Minister Ibrahim Nasser visited a hospital in the late morning talking with the wounded at their hospital beds. Then he called a special cabinet session to discuss the attack and possibly to discuss retaliation against the Arab guerrillas. A statement issued after the meeting said:

"This murderous terrorist infiltration was synchronized for a political purpose: to bring any chance of progress toward political and economic negotiations."

Earlier statements by Al Fatah said the guerrillas demanded the release of 10 jailed persons including Greek Catholic Archbishop Hilmon Capucci, sentenced to prison in Israel for smuggling weapons to Palesitians. They demanded the United Nations fly them to an Arab airport after which the ambassadors of the Vatican and France would have negotiations for the release of the hostages.

The Palestine Liberation Organization "claimed" in a statement issued in Damascus that 20 Israeli soldiers were killed and 30 wounded and said the attack was carried out by the Al Fatah organization, a military branch of the PLO. Salah Rihabie Al Fatah's second-in-command, said of the guerrilla attack:

"There can be no peace in the Middle East without the Palestinians. This should be clearly understood" by Kissinger, in London en route to the Middle East, said he condemned "the senseless act of violence" and that it undermined the importance of his current peace mission. He arrives in Egypt Monday to try to work out an agreement between Israel and Egypt on another Israeli pullback in the Sinai desert.

Fire protection comes to WR area

By RIT ARMSTRONG
Times-News writer

BELLEVUE—Homes in the rural Wood River Valley will have fire protection within four months, according to rancher Bill Hart.

Disturbed by the lack of fire protection for residents of rural Blaine County, Hart, who lives at Deer Creek, initiated a new fire prevention district. Residents voted approval of the district last spring.

Called the Wood River Rural Fire District, it will cover the rural area as far as Blaine, Gannett in the southeast, up to the steel bridge on Highway 97, including the Gould house at the head of the valley.

According to Hart, Civil Defense has allocated two former National Guard M-1 trucks to the district. One will be modified into a fire truck at a cost of $10,000.

They are two and a half ton trucks with eight tires in the rear and two in front, large enough to carry about 1,000 gallons of water. The water is pumped from a well. The first thing you do is a fire out of the electricity, so the pump goes out and you have to use a neighbor, you can run hoses from his pumps, but there's not usually one close enough.

Hart went on to say, "Of course you have to keep filling water in the truck every two or three days. You can't have it in a house, so you have to have an insulated building to house it in."

We will convert an old county building in Bellevue and keep one engine there. The Bellevue firemen will operate it. We hope to have another building in Bailey, and we're talking of having two more buildings on the other side of the valley to support residential fires.

There's a huge amount of oil stored in the area as standby in case of power failure, which will be there until we get geothermal energy.

"We hope to end up having a fire prevention district for the whole valley," Hart said.

Hart feels that there should be a council of governments in Blaine County to coordinate fire districts as well as planning and zoning matters. He said that the Ketchum Rural Fire District covers the homes in East Fork, but in Triumph, which is further out on East Fork Road.

"Anyone going down East Fork should also cover Triumph," he said. "Right now Ketchum-Rural is taking the cream and leaving the milk."

Hart stated that taxes from the Wood River Rural Fire District should probably be about $35,000, but they won't see their first check until next year.

"We will have to sell tax anticipation certificates and pay interest on them so we can avoid the property and build the building."

"We need the protection now—KSI had a fire about six months ago, and a house burned down just outside of Bellevue. We should be ready to go in about two months."

The Wood River Rural Fire District has three commissioners, Wayne Clarke, who lives south of Blaine; Wallace Young, owner of the Mt. Bar in Bailey; and Hart, whose chairman.

House sustains tax rebate veto

HOISE (UPI)—After a brief but fiery debate over political philosophy, the Idaho House today sustained Gov. Cecil Andrus' veto of a bill to provide a 10 per cent rebate on 1974 state income taxes.

When the question came up on the floor, the House voted only 39-31 to override the veto—a move that requires two-thirds or 47 favorable votes.

In rejecting the bill, Andrus said one third of the proposed $4-million rebate would go to only 14 per cent of the people and that those with small incomes need money.

Rep. Gary Ingram, R-Coeur d'Alene, touched off a brief Republican—and Democratic—debate when he left the philosophy expressed in the veto message was one of giving to those according to their need and taking from those according to their ability.

That philosophy, Ingram said, is "alien" to this situation.

Minority Leader Patricia L. McBurnett, D-Pocatello, immediately objected—accusing Ingram of impugning Andrus' loyalty to this country.

She demanded a retraction.

Speaker Allen F. Larsen, R-Blackfoot, asked Ingram to speak carefully and take care not to impugn loyalties of the chief executive.

Rep. "Hutch" Otter, R-Caldwell, said while it might have seemed to some that Ingram was impugning the chief executive he said to him where he—and he left—the philosophy expressed in the veto letter.

Seat block fails

HOISE (UPI)—Confirmation of Willard Godfrey of Boise to the Idaho Fish and Game Commission was approved 24-14 by the Senate Wednesday despite an attempt to block this appointment by Sen. J. Wilson Steen, R-Glenns, Eastern Idaho.

The senate also confirmed Dr. John Sweigley, Boise, to the state board of education by a vote of 23-14 and Hal M. Turner as administrator of the Division of Budget, Policy Planning and Coordination.

Turner was approved by unanimous vote.

Steen objected to Godfrey's appointment on grounds of a "conflict of interests" and the fact Godfrey had lived in Idaho for only five years.

Steen felt a conflict existed because Godfrey operated a sporting goods store in Eastern Idaho on the afternoon was an outlier and guide and an associate professor at Boise State University.

Sen. H. Dean Summers, R-Boise, chairman of the State Affairs Committee which sent the appointment to the floor, read an attorney-general's opinion which found no conflict.

No-fault auto insurance OK'd

BOISE (UPI) — House Commerce Committee Tuesday approved a no-fault insurance bill designed to allow Idaho to pick up more than $10 million in federal highway funds.

The Senate has refused to accept any form of no-fault insurance. In urging its passage, Sen. Edith Miller Klein, R-Boise, said the bill would provide for everyone and would pay all medical and rehabilitation costs as well as provide for economic loss.

Mrs. Klein said that the bill would provide for everyone involved in automobile accidents. She said the bill would correct the fact that the state would not be liable for the expenses of the no-fault insurance system which had caused a deficit.

Senators opposed to the no-fault version said the decision had already been made by the Senate when it passed the earlier no-fault proposal and that to re-introduce a bill to the House would be counterproductive.

Road bills signed

BOISE (UPI) — Acting with dispatch Gov. Cecil D. Andrus Wednesday signed into law two bills designed to allow Idaho to pick up more than $10 million in federal highway funds.

The legislature had suspended rules last Wednesday and swiftly passed the bills in the general fund to match early releases in 1975.

Gov. Andrus said the bills would provide for highway trust funds and monies previously impounded by the federal government.

Senate panel mulls new pay plans

BOISE (UPI) — Two new pay proposals for state employees were discussed by the Senate State Affairs Committee Wednesday without action being taken.

At the request of the minority, action was delayed until this could be studied further.

The proposals call for automatic, merit-based pay increases based on the consumer price index and for bonuses if there is a surplus in the general fund as of July 1.

William Roden of the Idaho State Employees Association had been asked to draft the bonus measure by Senate President Frank James, Elsworth, R-Leander.

Roden said it would provide for a cash bonus as of July 1, 1975, if the employee had been with the state for six months. He said no figure had been plugged into the measure, but he would like to see an amount of $500 per employee.

The other proposal would provide an increase annually on July 1 if the consumer price index increased more than three per cent from October to October.

Roden said similar legislation was presented last year and that it had the support of the administration.

Amendment sought

BOISE (UPI) — Speakers for school boards and counties urged the House State Affairs Committee Wednesday to amend a bill in a general collective bargaining by public employees.

Committee members offered a number of proposals, including a management rights clause, a no-strike provision and elimination of supervisory management and confidential employees from coverage.

Sen. John Barker, D-Boise, sponsor of a modified no-fault bill, and Mrs. Klein, bill author, also spoke.

Sen. Barker said he would like to see the bill amended to allow the state to opt out of the no-fault system. He said the bill would provide for everyone and would pay all medical and rehabilitation costs as well as provide for economic loss.

Demos ply needle over pay increase

BOISE (UPI) — House Democrats Tuesday night in the Republican majority about pay increases for state employees.

John A. Wedemeyer, Republican, said he would like to see the bill amended to allow the state to opt out of the no-fault system. He said the bill would provide for everyone and would pay all medical and rehabilitation costs as well as provide for economic loss.

Bonus rejected

BOISE (UPI) — House Commerce Committee Tuesday rejected a proposal for state employees pay raises and bonuses because they feel they are overpaid.

Majority Leader Walter Little, R-New Plymouth, said the GOP indicated the plan already approved by both houses is the one that should be passed.

Little said the proposal would cost the state $10 million more annually for pay raises and bonuses. He said the proposal would provide for everyone and would pay all medical and rehabilitation costs as well as provide for economic loss.

Temple rites set

KAY DEITZ plans rites

TWIN FALLS — Mr. and Mrs. Walter A. Deitz, St. Anthony, announce the engagement of their daughter, Kay Deitz, Bird.

Bird is the son of Mr. and Mrs. L. Carroll Bird, Salt Lake City, Utah, former Twin Falls residents.

Miss Deitz is a 1970 graduate of Poplar Bluff High School, Poplar Bluff, Mo. She was graduated from Hicks College in 1972 where she is presently employed as a secretary.

Bird is a 1962 graduate of Temple High School in Temple, graduate of Hicks College and plans to attend Brigham Young University, the fall. He has served an LDS mission in Japan.

The couple plans an April 10 wedding in the Idaho Falls LDS Temple.

Dear Dr. Thosteson:

Will applying braces on a three-month-old baby correct bowed legs? How long will the braces have to stay on? — Mrs. G.P.

I read your letter a few times to be certain you did write three months.

This youngster is much, much too young for any such leg manipulation. I don't think I've ever seen a baby who wasn't bowed to some extent through the first 18 months of life. Perhaps if it weren't there would be more cause for concern, since that's the way it apparently is meant to be.

After the bowed-leg period comes a longer one, often lasting several years, during which a compensation takes place. Sometimes there may be a slight overcompensation toward knock-knees. As this is no cause for concern either. The legs eventually straighten out as muscles develop during adolescence.

If, after adolescence, there seems to be a malformation of the legs, then some attention can be given to it, but at three months — never.

Dear Dr. Thosteson:

I have been told I have a mild case of glaucoma in my left eye. After my visit to an eye doctor, he told me to come back in a few months. I am using eye drops, but I don't think they are very good. My left eye is still not too well, but my right eye is fine. What should I do? — Mrs. P. B.

Glaucoma is a progressive disease and it should be treated as soon as it is diagnosed. I suspect your eye drops are the kind used to constrict the pupils and thus promote adequate drainage of fluid within the eye. Glaucoma is a build-up of fluid pressure in the eye.

Early treatment, too, often includes use of medication to reduce the fluid production.

You have glaucoma in a mild case, the chronic type as opposed to acute glaucoma, in which the onset is sudden with severe pain. This latter case often leads to rapid deterioration towards blindness in the affected eye.

Your doctor may want to use this conservative method prior to making a follow-up examination in a few months to see whether it has arrested the disease.

FDA still gives negative evaluation

WASHINGTON (UPI) — A year and a half after it first pronounced feminine deodorant sprays worthless and possibly dangerous, the Food and Drug Administration is going to do something about it — in another 18 months.

It repeated the same negative evaluation of the sprays recently in announcing a final regulation governing the product, an which American women spend about $30 million annually.

But it gave the industry another 18 months, until September 1976, before the manufacturers will have to label the products with a warning to inform consumers of the hazards. And it said products with the old label could be sold for another year beyond that so they can be taken up.

FDA Commissioner Alexander M. Schmidt hinted the agency might declare them not to be deodorants at all. He said the FDA would soon try to establish a formal definition for what constitutes a deodorant, and right now vaginal sprays cannot accurately be called that.

These sprays offer no medical usefulness or hygienic benefit and in many cases do not adequately destroy or neutralize or mask unpleasant body odor, Schmidt said.

The warning on the label would read:

"Caution — For external use only. Spray at least eight inches from skin. Do not apply to broken, irritated or itching skin. Persistent, unusual odor or discharge may indicate conditions for which a physician should be consulted."

Bowed legs worry mother

You are fortunate to have had such an early diagnosis; for treatment then has a good chance of success. The fact that the glaucoma is progressing at different rates in the eye is not unusual.

My booklet, "Cataracts and Glaucoma," is available to provide more detailed treatment of the subject than I can give here. For a copy, send 50 cents and a business stamp and self-addressed envelope to me in care of this newspaper.

Dear Dr. Thosteson:

I am 59 years old, of average frame, 5 feet, 2 inches tall, and I weigh 115 pounds. Am I overweight?

Also, I have varicose veins which do not trouble me but they protrude and are ugly. I enjoy cycling and lifted great white I'm pedaling. But I feel perhaps that this is putting added strain on my legs.

I feel good, but would like to care for my veins before they become more serious. — Mrs. A. R.

For your height and frame, 115 pounds is ideal. In fact, you are just in between what would be considered the beginning of overweight for you (125 pounds) and what would be thought to be a bit underweight (105 pounds).

The exercise is fine. Keep it up. It will keep blood from puddling in the varicose veins. You might try support stockings also. If the veins are not too large, injection treatment could help. In this, the vein is emptied of blood and injected with a fluid that promotes constriction. Stripping, removal or ligation (tying off) are last-resort treatments that you might not need if you keep your sensible weight and continue to be active.

MR. AND MRS. JAMIE GRAHAM

The bride is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Bernard N. Schmidt, Twin Falls, and the bridegroom's parents are Col. F. J. Graham and Rep. Lorraine H. Graham, Huntington, V.

The bride, given in marriage by her father, wore a floor-length gown of ivory satin crepe featuring a wrap neckline. The dress was styled with sheer lace sleeves and a lace overlay at the bodice. The collar was also trimmed with lace. The empire style train hid an A-line skirt.

Pam Christian was maid of honor and Barbara Harris was bridesmaid.

The couple was honored at a reception at the Bittersweet Room following the ceremony. The bridesmaids were carried with a pale blue lake fabric with light embroidery. Silver candelabra completed the table decorations.

The three tiered wedding cake was decorated with white and lavender flowers and topped with white roses. The distinguished guest of honor, Frankie Brunner and Tosh Simpson, officiated at the ceremony.

The double-ring ceremony was performed by Rev. Richard Larson. The bride is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Tommy Russell, Kimberly, and the bridegroom's parents are Mrs. Mary Dana and Robert Perkins, Hansen.

Given in marriage by her father, the bride wore a floor-length gown of pearl white crepe with a lace overlay. The dress featured a square neckline and short sleeves. A satin lace marked the waistline.

The bride was honored at a luncheon pre-nuptial showers given by Mrs. Harold Moore, Mrs. Dennis Butler and Mrs. Roy Hancock at the Moore home and by Bonnie Larson, Ethel Peterson and Mrs. Doug Werner at the Werner home.

The bride's gown was held in place by a floral lace headpiece. The two tiered veil fell to a long train. She carried a bouquet of white gladioli and shattered red carnations surrounded by white lace.

Bonnie Larson, Hansen, was maid of honor. Bridesmaids were Mrs. Doug Werner, Kimberly, sister of the bride, and sister of the bridegroom. Darrell Dalrymple, Hazelton, was best man. Groomsman were Greg Moore, Hansen, and Don Hodge, Kimberly. Ushers were Dave Russell, brother of the bride, and Ted Christensen.

The serving table was covered with white nylon organza over white satin. It was centered with a four tiered cake with a heart shaped base. The cake was trimmed with red flowers and hearts. Two white satin veils before a white lace head were placed on top of the cake. Two silver and crystal candelabra flanked the cake along with candy striped organza and a white organza skirt.

CATHY HOUSER reveals plans

Counselor thinks marriage should be renegotiable

TORONTO (UPI) — A psychologist, Ernest Mloss, a marriage counselor, thinks marriages should be like a formal business pact, an initial contract renegotiable after three years.

The contract should be signed before the partner exchange vows to knock all that "starreyed nonsense" out of marriage.

"Couples should come to grips with reality before taking that final, fateful step," says Mloss, who runs a counseling and "personality development" center.

"The possibility of a couple remaining happily together is increased — otherwise — if they've drawn up a well-considered marriage contract."

"I would certainly not marry without a contract setting out freedoms and responsibilities for both partners," said Mloss, who is short, stout and in his late 40s.

Mloss also urges premarital psychological examinations to avoid marriages bound to turn out unhappy.

"It is not being cynical but realistic," he said.

"If you could see the marriages I have seen, they after day for years and years, you would realize the need for as many safeguards as possible," Mloss believes.

But Mloss' contracts are enforceable by a court of law.

They have become almost necessary these days because many traditional views about marriage are no longer valid.

"Many brides today have no intention of committing themselves to a housework or childbearing, he said. "And many young men refuse to relinquish their freedom of movement and still want to enjoy pleasures with other women."

But Mloss covers almost every aspect of married life: Handling of money, division of property if the couple part, contraception, religion, drinking, extramarital affairs and in-laws.

"Laws who live in the same city should never be permitted to lodge in a couple's home whenever they want," says Mloss. "It should be by mutual consent."

A woman, married for her husband's money, should state she would want him only once at parties that he was attending to freely.

If he paid no heed, she would go home alone. The husband then would have no right to enter the house for three days. When he did rejoin his wife, she was under an obligation not to mention the incident.

In another contract, a husband assumed responsibility for taking the children to school every day. If he failed to do so, he had to pay the shopping — a job normally done by his wife.

However, sex especially the frequency of sexual relations, often forms a sensitive area when a contract is being considered.

Generally, we try to reach a verbal agreement," Mloss said. "We don't like to include such items in a written undertaking because it may have to be discussed openly in court one day."

Also, while a court will uphold a property agreement between man and wife, it is unlikely to enforce clauses governing sexual behavior.

Flutist compares 'lib' in Europe, US

By LORAYNE SMITH
Times-News writer
TWIN FALLS — The flutist in movement is native in Europe but is not as widespread as in the U.S., according to a musician who studied there.

Judith Mendenhall, flutist with the Marlboro instrumentalists who appeared at the Twin Falls Community Concert program, said the movement is "more contained within itself" in Europe.

When she studied in Paris a few years ago she said she was impressed by the "musical friendship" that an instructor had kept all the girls in the class "after school" and told them they didn't really take their studies seriously and just got married instead of pursuing musical careers.

"The thing which made my friend the maddest is that not one of the girls argued the point. They just sat there. And my friend could not speak French well enough to respond," Miss Mendenhall said.

The flutist, who currently is touring with five men in the Music from Marlboro ensemble for a two-week Community Concert engagement, said the women's movement is "musical friendship" that an instructor had kept all the girls in the same way, but it was harder for women to get started, she feels. Now, with more emphasis upon individual development, more women are feeling free to pursue music on a professional basis.

Miss Mendenhall and four of the ensemble from a year-round group, the Autos, who were quartet in England. They joined Paul Schoenfeld was "imported" for this tour from the University of Toledo in Ohio.

The other quintet members were Rudolph Vrsky, oboist; David Singer, clarinetist; Alexander Heller, bassoonist; and Robert Roth, French horn.

Since the five are associated all year, touring doesn't present any unusual problems. Miss Mendenhall said, but she added with a chuckle, "We carry lots of Band-aids."

Their presentation, termed "Music from Marlboro" gets its name from the famed summer community of artists at Marlboro, Vt., which brings together outstanding music artists from throughout the country.

The refrigerator door in an average household is opened 53 to 100 times a day, according to Sears, Roebuck and Co. research studies.

Nude encounter sessions end

FAMONA N.J. (UPI) — Prof. Jack Barene invited his students to nude encounter sessions at his home to help them overcome sexual traumas. He will not be returning to Stockton State College this fall, Woodward C. Thornbly, vice president of the college, said the school's board decided not to renew the philosophy teacher's contract when it expires in June.

Barene said he conducted the encounter classes at his home in nearby Aberdeen Highlands during two semesters ending last year.

He said students had the option of removing their clothes during the session, held to allow students to discuss what they believed to be their physical inadequacies.

Abby

By Abigail Van Buren

DEAR ABBY: An incident happened about two months ago, and I can't seem to get it out of my mind. In fact, when I think of it, it still repulses me, and I'd like to know if you think I'm wrong to feel this way.

My mom and I were eating lunch during the rush hour at a fairly nice restaurant. A man and a young boy entered together. The man had no arms, just stumps, hanging in full view of all. They sat near us, and ordered their lunch. The man's plate was placed in front of him, and he proceeded to knock it into eating position with his stumps. Then he put his face down into the plate and proceeded to eat just like a dog. I was so nauseated, I couldn't finish my lunch.

I honestly felt sorry for the man, but I also felt that he should not have exposed the people to that kind of scene. Please tell me how you honestly feel about it. It bothers me how much his looks and eating habits repulsed me. NO NAME OR PLACE you very much.

Incident repulsed her

DEAR NO: You ask: "Am I wrong to feel this way?" Consider this: The armless man had to overcome his self-consciousness and learn how to handle the stares and looks of revulsion from strangers in order to eat in public. (A major victory for him!)

It takes a mature and compassionate person to handle unesthetic situations with grace. I hope you learn to do so because you will need to deal with life realistically. And if you don't, it will be YOUR problem.

DEAR ABBY: There is this guy who is a year older than me, and a whole lot bigger. The other day he gave me a black eye. I would like to get back at him, but I don't know how to do it.

BLACK EYE

DEAR BLACK EYE: Stay out of his way, or you might end up with a matched pair.

DEAR ABBY: I met a man about a year and a half ago, and I really think he is the man for me. The only problem is that he is very set in his ways, and one of his habits is always being late. If he says he is going to call me at 6 P.M., he doesn't call until 7 P.M. And if he says he is coming over at 8 P.M., he never gets here until 9 P.M. He is always about an hour late.

I have talked to him about this, and he says he's always been that way. It really infuriates me. I want to marry him, but I'd like to break him of this habit first.

He treats me very well, and he is the nicest man I've ever met, but his constantly running an hour late all the time is something I can't stand. How can I change him?

NEEDS HELP

DEAR NEEDS: Don't try. In the future, when you want him to come over at 8 P.M., ask him to come at 7 P.M. Just set everything up for an hour earlier, and when he's an hour late, he'll be on time.

CONFIDENTIAL TO --LOVED-AND-LOST-- It's not always better to have loved and lost than never to have loved at all. It depends upon what you've lost.

Everyone has a problem. What's yours? For a personal reply, write to ABBY, Box No. 69700, L.A., Calif. 90069. Enclose stamped, self-addressed envelope, please.

Syphilis rate high

TALLAHASSEE, Fla. (UPI) — Infectious syphilis per 100,000 Florida has the highest percentage last year, a 20 percent increase since 1970, according to the State Division of Health.

The division said that 2,915 cases of infectious syphilis were reported in 1974, compared to 1,946 in 1973.

In a survey released Tuesday, health officials reported 35.3 cases of in-

McClure opposes debate cutoff

WASHINGTON (UPI) — Sen. James McClure, R-Idaho, was the only senator from Utah and Idaho that voted against cutting off debate on a resolution to change the anti-billholder rule. Democrats Frank Church of Idaho and Frank Moss of Utah and Republican Jake Garn of Utah all voted Wednesday for the move to bring up a resolution to end the rule.

Motion filed for new trial

BOISE (UPI) — Bunny J. Ward, 30, has filed a motion for a new trial on murder charges in the death Aug. 31, 1973, of John Rex Brema, 40, at a Garden City night club.

Fourth District Court Judge Alfred C. Hogan has scheduled a hearing on the motion for March 12. Last week, Ward was convicted of second-degree murder in Brema's death. Judge Hogan set April 2 as a tentative date for sentencing.

Break-ins probed

TWIN FALLS — Twin Falls police today were investigating two house break-ins on Dubois Street. Both break-ins involved forced entry to homes in the 200 block of Dubois, and, according to police reports, both occurred between 7:30 p.m. and midnight. Both residents reported their houses had been ransacked. One reported about $19 in missing items, while the other reported $40 in missing goods and $35 damage. Police have not determined if the break-ins are related. "It's possible they could have been committed by the same persons," said detectives from the police today.

Pocantello hearing set

POCATELLO (UPI) — The Pocatello City Council will hold a public hearing Thursday to discuss a proposed municipal budget of $8.9 million — $1 million higher than the 1974 record budget of $7.9 million. City manager Charles Moss said more than half the increase is for water and sewer-system improvements. In addition, he said there are salary increases for city employees averaging 10 percent.

Director named

BOISE (UPI) — Charles J. Nicholas, 31, a Nampa native, is the new state director of the Idaho Commission on Human Rights. Nicholas joined the staff of the state office in Seattle with the district office of the U.S. Equal Employment Opportunity Commission.

Nampa fund grows

NAMPAN (UPI) — Contributions to a fund for a California man who died near Marsing Saturday night while helping victims of a car wreck totaled more than $1,000 today. Millard Preston Jones, 33, San Jose, Calif., was returning home after making arrangements for a funeral for his son in Boise. Stopping to help a group that had been involved in a wreck on Highway 30, he was run over by his own car when someone started to drive away. Initiators of the fund said the money would be used to ship the bodies of Jones and his son back to California for burial.

Power firm withdraws request

POCATELLO (UPI) — Utah Power & Light Co. withdrew its request Wednesday for a one-time non-refundable $50 charge to connect new irrigation systems. The Idaho Public Utilities Commission approved the motion at the end of two days of testimony on the Utah Power proposal. Under terms of the motion, the power company will consolidate an additional rate increase with one scheduled for a public hearing in Pocatello March 19. That rate hike would raise the per cent increase to cover noncontrollable expenses and a three per cent surcharge to recover excess costs of purchasing power during the time when the company's Nighthorn generating units were out of service in Utah.

Senators air complaints

WASHINGTON (UPI) — Nine conservative Republican senators today pressed their complaints to the White House, saying they believe Ford understood their complaint. Sen. James A. McClure, R-Idaho, chairman of the Senate Steering Committee, said he believes Ford understood their complaint. McClure told reporters the group told Ford at a White House meeting that he can be "assured we're going to support him as fully and as wholeheartedly as we can but this support cannot be taken for granted." He said the conservatives feel the White House talked them in allowing Vice President Nelson A. Rockefeller to side with their opponents in their fight to retain the billholder rule in handling of the budget and in other matters on which they feel they should have consulted more closely. McClure said Ford was told he could not carry his program through Congress without their support. "The President recognizes the difficulty," McClure said.

Excuse not good enough

CHICAGO (UPI) — "Not feeling so hot" is no excuse for skipping jury duty, Lela Wallace, a 23-year-old student at Kennedy-King Community College, has learned. Miss Wallace, a juror, failed to show up Friday for the fifth day of a personal injury suit trial. She left two defendants, assorted lawyers, her 11 fellow jurors and Circuit Court Judge Reginald Holzer waiting. The judge telephoned Miss Wallace at home. She made an excuse. The judge asked Mrs. Wallace to show up. "I'm sorry, I don't feel so hot." When the judge insisted, she hung up on him. On Tuesday, Miss Wallace appeared before Holzer. "Such an act could be punished by jail," the judge told her. "Have you visited the County Jail?" "No, no," she said. "I don't feel so hot." "No," said Miss Wallace. "I had you in contempt of court," the judge said. He fined her $25 and docked her $60 in jury pay. He also ordered that she never again be summoned for jury duty.

TWIN FALLS — Magic Valley borrowers are behaving as if they don't know there's a national recession. They're paying back their installment loans. In the face of a declining national economy, installment loan officers at local banks say that the area's agricultural base has kept most borrowers in the black. "We haven't experienced any increase in delinquencies," said George Oswald, loan officer at First Security Bank. In the Magic Valley we can't even compare the economy to the rest of the nation. Income is a lot more stable than in many parts of the country and people are more conscientious and aware of their debts," he said.

Our delinquency rate is well below the national average and well in line with what we expect," Oswald said. First Security also saw a slight increase in the number of auto and home improvement loans in the last two months of 1974. Oswald predicted that the Idaho economy, with its diversified agricultural base, would eventually show some signs of the recession. "It hasn't touched us yet, but it's like a disease; it'll spread," he said. Neal Garrison, vice president at Twin Falls Bank and Trust, said that the delinquency rate on installment loans at his bank has been "status quo," and that auto loans, which declined about four months ago, had "picked up again in the last couple of months." Home refinancing loans and loans for car repairs have increased, probably an indication of some belt-tightening, as people fix up what they have rather than buying something new, according to Garrison. Idaho's First National Bank's Rick Coraggio said that the bank's delinquency rate was also "well below the standard in the nation" and that he had seen no change in borrowing habits. The only officer that said he would "revise his bank's delinquency rate was A. H. "Gipsy" Gerdes, who said that the Bank of Idaho's rate was "1 per cent less" and that the bank has been able to maintain that figure. "It's a different type of economy here, a farm economy with industries that are nonoperating profitably. We haven't had the unemployment picture that is shown in other areas," Gerdes said.

Paintings shown at 'Y'

TWIN FALLS — About 60 paintings by students of Martha Carlson's YWCA art classes are on display at the Y. The show includes oil, acrylic, charcoal, pencil and water color work by 21 students of Mrs. Carlson's art classes and by Mrs. Carlson. These paintings will remain on display throughout the month of March. All interested persons are invited to visit the Y during hours the building is open for regular business and inspect the display. Mrs. Carlson has been teaching art for a number of years and some of her students have been studying as long as seven years. Others will be displaying their first paintings in the March exhibit. Artists exhibiting will include Mrs. Carlson, Ruth Candler, Eleanor Sheridan, Susan Orr, Sue Pack, Eleanor W. Dixon, Wilma Hodder, Juanita McManan, Edie Roberts, Dora Hicks, Leah Potter, Eleanor Carter, Mary Anderson, Barbara and Juli Balsch, Hazelton, Willa Adson and Belle Carlson, both Kimberly, and Tom Schutte and Darlene Gilbert, both Ellier.

Jerome budget for '75 shows increase of 18%

By CHARLOTTE BELL Times News Writer

JEROME — The proposed Jerome city budget shows an increase of 18 per cent over last year's budget. The budget totals about $1,455 million for 1975, compared with $1,235 million for 1974. The estimated total revenue for 1975 is $432,370 compared to $419,007 budgeted last year. The assessed property evaluations were down in 1974; the valuations was $918,200 compared to $947,200 in 1974.

Shoshone eyes fund shortage

SHOSHONE — The Shoshone city council faces a fund shortage and property taxes may have to be raised to cover expenses. The proposed budget for 1975 is $432,370 compared to $419,007 budgeted last year. The assessed property evaluations were down in 1974; the valuations was $918,200 compared to $947,200 in 1974. The decrease in assessed valuation means that the city has lost out on which to levy taxes to raise necessary funds. Property taxes may have to be raised to make up the difference, according to city clerk Mrs. Uelde Chess. "On top of having less money," Chess says, "about $200,000 in unpaid taxes, because an error in assessment was made according to city officials. Public hearings on the proposed budget for 1975 is set for 8 p.m. March 24 at the city hall. The possible tax raise will be discussed and officials will determine the exact amount of money required to be taken from taxes. Four areas of the budget use the funds — these are: general fund, which needs $66,884 this year compared to $63,551 last year; streets and street lights, $112,120 this year and $102,491 last year; library, $5,520 this year and $6,210 last year; and recreation, $2,903 this year and $2,710 last year. Other areas of the budget are self supporting and do not rely on tax funds, according to Mrs. Chess. They are estimated to be: City ditch, $2,847; water works for operation $36,500; sewer expenses for 31 sewer lines, including interest and all operation and maintenance expenses; $47,000; Federal revenue sharing funds, $25,523; sewer project trust fund $10,400; sewer construction, $93,194. The city hopes to be able to drill a new city well this year as presently the city depends on the lead during summer months without a severe cut on pressure. Work on the sewer system is complete except for construction on one loop. Orders for the biggest work have been submitted to the Idaho Health Department and the Federal Environmental Protection Agency. The city hopes to start work down in 1975. With revenue sharing funds the city plans to make street light improvements, fix control construction in remodeling of a city owned building to house fire trucks, purchase a restaurant, install a sprinkling system, provide personnel training for the police department, and buy the paint for the city library. In other business, the council reviewed safety requirements that had been set for the city shop area, as required by the Idaho Department of Labor. The labor department inspection report shows the building's electrical equipment needs to be grounded; all mobile vehicles in the building need fire extinguishers on them; first aid equipment is needed and at least one of the city employees in the precinct should have a first aid course; a first aid kit should be in the shop, and a barricade should be built around the gas pump.

Amendment loses again

BOISE (UPI) — The Idaho Mining Association and local dowry again Wednesday when the Senate committee of the whole refused to consider an association amendment submitted from the floor to a land-use planning bill. It was pointed out when the amendment from the association was read on the floor that it had not been considered by the full committee of the local government and taxation members. Local Government and Taxation Committee Chairman Lyle Colby, R-Idaho, moved that the committee of the whole not consider the amendments after objection had been expressed. Amendments by the association touched off a partisan squabble in the government last week Monday, when the committee reconsidered the amendments and rejected them. Colby said he agreed to let the latest amendment come up on the floor provided there was no objection. The amendment would have allowed existing industrial sites, including forest and mining, to expand more size than non-industrial areas. Sen. John Peavey, R-Rupert, raised the question to Sen. James Risch, R-Idaho, whether the amendment would not allow existing industrial sites to be doubled. Risch said it would. Peavey said he thought it reasonable to exclude existing industries from provisions of the land-use planning bill but he didn't feel they should be allowed to expand. "I can see a lot of lawsuits over this," said Peavey. Risch suggested that the amendment and be considered by the Senate. Risch, R-Idaho, objected. Yost said that it would just provide protection for existing industries. Colby's moved that the amendment not be reconsidered and he was upheld.

US inflation fever cooling

Wholesale prices of consumer goods other than food rose 0.1 per cent in February. In the agricultural category, there were notable price decreases for grains, cattle, oilseeds, animal feeds, sugar and confectionery products, fats and oils, and meats. Prices of industrial commodities rose 0.4 per cent in February, the same as in January, but much less than in 1974. These prices last month still were 21.9 per cent higher than a year earlier. In the industrial category, which is considered the most meaningful gauge of underlying trends, prices rose last month for chemicals, machinery, electrical equipment, machinery, metals and lumber and wood products. The rise for lumber and wood followed nine consecutive monthly declines. The slowdown of inflation started with raw materials around the middle 1974. Prices of crude materials declined 0.1 per cent in February. This was the fifth straight decrease, but it was smaller than in recent months.

Filer aides OK lighting

FILER — Street lighting on South Adell Street was recommended by Idaho Power company to the Filer City Council at a meeting Tuesday evening in the city office. The City Council approved the application of Jerry Monigomerie to build a convenience store on the corner of Highway 30 and Idaho Street. Beginning June 1, a flat rate of $30 per foot of materials will be charged as a water tap fee for buildings. The vacation schedules of Mike Burgess and Richard DeVall, patrolmen, were approved by the council. The council voted to change the pay schedule for city employees from once a month to the first and 15th of each month. Councilmen approved the annexation of school property purchased by the district from Lyle Abel, east of the high school. The property is used for parking. The council made a ruling that any patrolman sent to the state academy must remain with the city for at least one year after the schooling. If the patrolman fails to do so, he must repay half the cost of the schooling to the city. Any employee leaving city employment must return all property belonging to the city before receiving final paychecks.

Effects of no-fault insurance studied

By BILL CAPLANTUS Times News Columnar Bureau

BOISE — No-fault insurance means exactly what its name implies — protection without regard for fault. Under most liability car insurance policies, the insurance company of the driver at fault only pays the damages of the "innocent" driver involved in an accident. In a legislative hearing on no-fault recently, Jerry Wilson, American Insurance Association attorney, cited a federal study which shows that $2.7 billion of the $7.8 billion in liability car insurance policies sold yearly in the United States goes to pay investigation and legal fees needed to settle lawsuits. Those legal fees are reflected in the cost of liability insurance. And since actual medical and wage damages are automatically paid, the need for costly lawsuits to recover damages disappears in most cases. That means the system operates at less expense to the insurance policy holder, despite the more comprehensive coverage, according to supporters of no-fault. In a legislative hearing on no-fault recently, Jerry Wilson, American Insurance Association attorney, cited a federal study which shows that $2.7 billion of the $7.8 billion in liability car insurance policies sold yearly in the United States goes to pay investigation and legal fees needed to settle lawsuits. Those legal fees are reflected in the cost of liability insurance. Under the "pure" no-fault system, pain and suffering lawsuits would be allowed in only the most extreme circumstances — accidents involving death, permanent injury or loss of work for more than six months. No-fault insurance proposals differ on the amount of automatic compensation given and on the "threshold level" for lawsuits. The pure no-fault system approved Wednesday by the Senate would provide unlimited medical and rehabilitation expenses, pay up to $10,000 per month to replace lost wages and pay for services the injured person cannot perform for himself or his family. One chooses to buy a higher cost policy, the benefits would be greater. It should have a first aid course; a first aid kit should be in the shop, and a barricade should be built around the gas pump. Under a "modified" no-fault proposal by Sen. JOHN BARRER, the automatic compensation would be less and a person could file a lawsuit for pain and suffering damages in most instances. Both these systems, according to supporters, would lower insurance premiums by eliminating costly lawsuits. But a plan proposed by attorneys would have provided much "no-fault" coverage without any restrictions on lawsuits. Supporters of this form of no-fault argue that the higher cost insurance premium is worth preserving one's right to file a lawsuit. But in favoring the pure no-fault bill, the Senate rejected Barrer's "modified" proposal and did not consider the attorney's bill. Now the House must consider the no-fault bill.

WR snow depths, water over norm

HAILEY - Water content and snow depths are both above the long-term average in the Big and Little Wood River drainages.

Readings taken last week by the Soil Conservation Service for the Last River drainage are 11.2 inches below the long-term average however.

Water content and snow depths are generally below March 1974 readings. Spring runoff last year damaged many levees and blocked some county roads.

Galena Summit measured 78 inches of snow, 21.4 inches of water - Graham Ranch near South Fork measured 46.7 inches snow, 12.2 inches of water. Galena is at 111 per cent of the long-term average of water. The Graham Ranch readings are equal with the long-term average.

Lost Wood Divide at the head of Trail Creek had the highest snow and water recorded for the Last River drainage with 59.1 inches of snow and 17.5 inches of water.

Readings at the long-term average water year are 28 per cent of average. Mr. Bailey had 66.1 inches of snow and 17.5 inches of water which is equal to the long-term average.

Vienna Mine recorded the most snow and water of all courses with 50.8 inches of snow and 29.7 inches of water and is at 89 per cent of the long-term average. Vienna Mine is located in the Salmon River drainage about five miles west of Galena Summit.

Snow depths and water content at most of the snow courses in the Little Wood drainage are above the long-term average.

Swede Peak measured 51.3 inches of snow and 13.2 inches of water, 96 per cent of average. Midtown measured 31.5 inches of snow, 7 inches of water or 106 per cent of average.

Anti-trust charge cites tractor firm

WASHINGTON (UPI) - The Justice Department has filed suit to force International Harvester Co. to sell its holdings in Steiger Tractor Inc. on grounds it is in violation of the Sherman Antitrust Act.

The suit, filed in U.S. District Court in Chicago, challenged the legality of International Harvester's purchase of 76 percent of Steiger stock in May, 1953.

The suit said the acquisition agreement gave International Harvester the right to fill three seats on Steiger's nine-member board of directors, purchase additional Steiger stock, and buy about half of Steiger's output of four-wheel drive farm tractors.

Asst. Atty. Gen. Thomas E. Kalper, in charge of the Justice Department's antitrust division, said the acquisition had only eliminated competition generally in the sale of four-wheel drive farm tractors and high-powered tractor tractors.

The suit asked the court to order International Harvester to divest itself of all Steiger holdings, cancel its agreement with Steiger, and issue a permanent injunction against any similar acquisition or agreements in the future.

Kansas had five territorial capitals before voters settled on Topeka in an election after statehood was achieved.

Salmon Tract, Roseworth runoff down

TWIN FALLS - In spite of above-normal water content on water sheds, runoff in Roseworth and Salmon Tract areas, unusually dry soil will mean about average or below run-off.

This was reported by the Twin Falls Soil Conservation District following a review of the March 1 measurements of snow courses in the South Hills area.

All 12 snow courses with the exception of Red Point, show water content somewhat below last year but significantly above the long-term averages, officials said. With the extremely low soil moisture content, a large amount of runoff will be absorbed leaving the overall condition at or below normal if the present conditions continue.

Measurements were made by Lyle Putter, Marvin Taylor and Harry Noh members of the Roseworth and Salmon Tract snow survey committee.

Courses and measurements in snow and water this year and last year and the long-term average include:

Magic Mountain, 52.3 inches of snow and 18.5 inches of water this year with 40 inches of snow and 22.5 inches of water last year and a 29 year average of 17.1 inches of water; Decade Ridge, 41.2 and 21.3, 78.8 and 25.7 and 19.4 for 21 years; Shoshone Basin 28.4 and 8.3, 30.2 and 8.6, and 5.9 for 14 years; Hummingbird Springs, 65.4 and 21.4, 70 and 21 and 19.2 for 20 years; Cedar Creek, 35.3 and 10.9, 44.6 and 11.7 and 9.6 for 18 years; Bear Creek Meadow, 77 and 24.3, 45 and 14.4 and 17.2 for 11 years; Fox Creek, 48.8 and 14.6, 41.3 and 11 and 9.5 for 41 years; Red Point, 22 and 6.5.

Council endorses pool

JEEROME Tuesday night the Jerome City Council endorsed construction of a new swimming pool, a chamber of commerce-sponsored bi-centennial project.

The council agreed to pay a requested increase in its dues to the Jerome Chamber of Commerce. A letter from the chamber stated the increase to all members is needed to help defray expenses for the planned bi-centennial program to be sponsored by the chamber around July 4, 1976.

Bill Hart, city attorney and chamber member, said the chamber is planning a three-part program which will include a festival week and some type of program to involve the youth of the community.

We are also going to undertake a special community project. A special committee has been formed and David Holt, Idaho First National Bank, is serving as chairman. So far the only improvement program we have been approached on is a new swimming pool and unless things change in the next couple of weeks, we will be planning for a new pool. Hart said.

with a bi-centennial stamp on the project, it will be more favorable for receiving the other funds," Hart said.

Mayor Charles Hinesek said the city would be more than willing to assist with the project. "It will help get a new pool. We'll put two stamps on it," Hinesek said.

An unsigned letter headed "Citizens for Education Committee" requested the council to re-evaluate a city ordinance which requires curbs and gutters only on new sidewalks in new subdivisions.

The letter said, "Many of us who live in the north-northeast section of Jerome consider the amount of sidewalks on our neighborhood a serious oversight on the part of the City Council. We feel that the rapid growth and development of Jerome's residential areas in the past three years warrants a review of the present ordinance which requires curbs and gutters only." In a related matter, Howard Guthrie, chief of police, said the Idaho Highway Safety Council will be allocating most of the funds for bike paths in the state this year and that a member of the committee will come to Jerome to help plan several bike paths for the area.

The city has applied to HUD for a $75,000 grant to improve the city's water system.

Coach Jim Kilmaswarth cleared the bench, eliminating 14 Bengals to see floor action.

Jones scores hole-in-one

When William Jones says he scored a hole-in-one at Blue Lakes Wednesday afternoon, he has a whole bunch of people to back him up.

Jones was playing in a sixsome with Denny Hogue, Dick Serpa, Jack Claiborn, Al Westergren and Sterling Vaughan. All of them can attest to the fact that his seven-iron shot on the par three, 155-yard 15th hole went into the hole.

Yankees figure to be tough contenders in American loop

FORT LAUDERDALE, Fla. (UPI) — Bill Virdon has actually been seen smiling during the New York Yankees' spring training here.

That should be some indication of the prognosis for the Yankees. This season to evoke a smile from Virdon is equivalent to getting some snow at canyon town Mt. Rushmore.

But it's easy enough to see why Virdon would be grinning. All he has to do is look at his lineup card. It automatically conjures up seasonal championship celebrations and World Series rings, something the Yankees haven't been associated with in over a decade.

The Yankees, like the Baltimore Orioles, worked overtime during the winter to build their club into one of championship caliber. If they fail, it will not be because of poor management tactics.

The two deals the Yankees feel can bring them the world championship this year were the acquisition of pitcher Jim "Catfish" Hunter and outfielder Bobby Bonds. If both can turn in the type of years expected of them, then another pennant could fly over the Bronx.

Virdon is talking at an hour's notice. For 20 years, Virdon, "and it everyone says so, there must be something to it."

STRENGTH: Strong from line pitching with Hunter (25 wins in '74), Doc Medich (19 wins in '74), and Thurman Munson (361 fanning batters).

WEAKNESSES: Infield defense suspect. Lack of infield depth.

NEW FACES: Bonds and Hunter are being counted on must, but Bob Oliver, Eddie Leon and Skip Lockwood also should help Oliver plays first, third or outfield and hits with power.

LOOK: Enough talent to take it all.

ANNAPOLIS, Md. (UPI) — Cole: Martin Mandel said Wednesday a group of investors headed by Bill Veeck, backed by a proposed $4 million state loan, has the best chance of buying the Baltimore Orioles and would keep them in Baltimore.

"Veeck wants to keep the team in Baltimore, to be ends or buys," Mandel said. "He wants to play 11 games in Washington but he has no doubts he can make it in Baltimore."

"The Veeck group remains the solid group with the money," Mandel said. "It's the only group that's got the money to buy the team."

The $4 million loan would have certain conditions requiring the Veeck group to keep the team in Baltimore for an unspecified time, Mandel said.

Mandel said Veeck's offer was the only one on the table since last week when Hottelberger rejected a league-backed bid by former General Motors President E. Stewart Cole, who was planning to move the team to Washington with the American League's blessing.

"I don't know what the Cole offer was. I just know Jerry turned it down," Mandel said.

Mandel said he called Baseball Commissioner Bowie Kuhn last month after reports indicated Cole was the American League's choice for buying the team.

"I told Kuhn that if the league was going to get involved in moving the team to Washington they'd be involved in an antitrust suit," Mandel said.

Mandel has served as an intermediary during negotiations between Veeck and Hottelberger during the past month, in trying to prevent the sale of the rights to fingers who would move it to another city.

"I'm not making the deal, I'm just making it possible for making—the deal—the Veeck deal," the Veeck said.

Mandel also proposed the $1-million state loan deal to help Veeck finance the deal, said Veeck was the only bidder with a hard cash offer and attorneys for Veeck and team-based chairman Jerry C. Hottelberger would meet Thursday to continue negotiations.

The Veeck group, which also includes Baseball Hall of Famer Hank Greenberg and former major league general manager Earl Williams, offered $12 million for the team in November.

Mandel said the state's loan of $1 million would enable Veeck to raise his offer to about $12.5 million. Just from the money he would save through the lower interest rates.

The governor said he believed playing 11 games in Washington would help promote the Baltimore Orioles.

"It will be an attraction for them," Mandel also said he has been assured that the team will play no more than 11 home games outside Baltimore.

"Veeck feeds the worst kind of operation would be playing half their games in Washington. You don't build up a following of fans that way," the governor said.

Veeck, who has owned three major league clubs, was part owner of the St. Louis Browns which were sold for $2,475,000 to a Maryland group, including Hottelberger, and then moved to Baltimore to start the 1954 season.

N.C. State faces tough ACC tourney

GREENSBORO, N.C. (UPI) — Ninth-ranked North Carolina State faces a tough battle in its effort to capture a third consecutive Atlantic Coast Conference basketball tournament championship.

The Wolfpack (25-8-1) faces Virginia (12-12, 4-8) at 8 p.m. EDT tonight and then, if it wins, "MUST" meet second-ranked Maryland (22-9, 10-2), the regular season champion, in Friday night's semifinals.

"We'll concentrate on doing the things that we do best and hope that it will be good enough for us to win," said Wolfpack Coach Norman Sloan.

North Carolina State became the terror of the conference after All-America David Thompson joined the lineup three years ago, losing only once — to UCLA — in two seasons and capturing the 1974 NCAA title.

But this year, with 7-foot-6 Tommy Burleson, off to the pros, the Wolfpack came cropper — dropping five games, including both contests with Maryland.

Today's other opening round game, #13-ranked North Carolina (18-7, 8-1) against Wake Forest (13-12, 2-10) at 1:30 p.m., and #14-ranked Clemson (16-9, 8-7) against Duke (13-12, 2-10) at 3:30 p.m.

Maryland, by virtue of its regular season crown, enjoys a first round bye and will swing into action at 7 p.m. Friday.

The other semi-final is at 9 p.m. tonight with the title match at 8:30 p.m. Saturday.

With NCAA rules relaxed to permit more than one conference team to participate in the playoffs, Maryland is practically assured of a crack at the NCAA title.

"I wanted one thing as the season came to an end," Turn Coach Lefty Driesell said. "That was to finish with the regular season championship. I don't see how it can do anything less for me now."

Driesell was named ACC Coach of the Year after leading Maryland to its first regular season title in conference history — a fourth place club won the tournament in 1959 after upsetting regular season champion Duke in the semifinals.

Another team enjoying better days is Clemson. Never more than a third place team, the Tigers this year finished in a tie for second with North Carolina and North Carolina State.

Coach Tate Lockett has the only genuine but faint in the league, 7-foot sophomore Wayne Hollins. Hollins boasts an average of 11 rebounds a game and 12 points a game.

North Carolina, with a long history of tournament success, finished its season on the up-beat, ending two years of frustration with a 76-74 win over North Carolina State and a season-closing triumph of 74-70 over Wake Forest.

Duke, Duke and Virginia are rebuilding under new head coaches while Wake Forest has lacked strength inside

WEBER STATE'S Jimmie Watts (13) pulls off a rebound over Utah State's Oscar Williams during play in Ogden Wednesday night. The 15th-ranked Utahns needed an overtime to win 72-70 (UPI telephoto).

Utah nips Weber in overtime

OGDEN (UPI) — Rich Haws scored Utah State's final six points in overtime as the 15th-ranked Aggies nailed down their 24th win with a 72-70 defeat of Weber State Wednesday night.

With its best season in four years, Utah State hopes to get a bid from the NCAA for this year's playoffs.

With the score tied at 60-all at the end of regulation play, the Aggies and Wildcats tied it three more times in the extra period before Utah State snapped a 66-all deadlock and went ahead to stay in Haws' hands.

With 3:12 left in regulation play WSC seemingly had the game put away with a 57-48 margin, but USL outscored the Wildcats 12-3 in three minutes to win in overtime.

NCAA will fill tourney today

MISSION, Kan. (UPI) — The NCAA will begin filling the 32-team field for its basketball championship Thursday at 10:30 a.m. (EDT) and will make its pairings later in the afternoon.

For the first time, some conference teams other than conference champions will be included in the field and the tournament will expand from 25 teams to 32 teams.

Champions from 11 conferences will qualify automatically for the tournament and the other 16 teams are expected to be split among independents and conference also-rans.

Staggered announcements will be made Thursday morning with the field for the Eastern Regional starting at 10:30 a.m. (EDT). The Midwest will follow at 11:30 a.m., the West at 12:30 p.m. and the East-West at 1:30 p.m.

With the finals matching the East-Midwest vs. the Midwest-West again, conference also-rans will be placed in opposite brackets so that they might meet the champions of their conference again only in the national finals. For instance, should a Pacific-8 runnerup be chosen that team probably will go into the Midwest field. If the Atlantic Coast Conference runnerup is chosen, that team would go into the Midwest Regional.

Sites of the March 15 first-round games:

- East — University of Pennsylvania and Charlotte (N.C.) Coliseum.
- Midwest — University of Alabama and University of Kentucky.
- Midwest — Texas Tech and Oral Roberts.
- West — Arizona State and Washington State.

First-round winners will advance to the March 20-22 regionals and victors of those tournaments will go to the NCAA finals March 29-31 in San Diego.

Bearcats certain of getting berth

CINCINNATI (UPI) — University of Cincinnati basketball coach Gene Catlett feels his redhot Bearcats have an NCAA Tournament bid locked up.

The invitations are to be dated out Thursday and Catlett confidently predicts, "I think we're assured of a bid."

The 19th ranked Bearcats finished their regular season with a 21-5 record and own a six-game 10-game winning streak. Only top-rated and undefeated Indiana sports a better string.

Catlett is so sure of an NCAA bid that he has already scheduled a "practice" for Thursday afternoon. He also had his players meet privately Wednesday to voice preference for either the NCAA or New York City's National Invitation Tournament (NIT).

But the coach saw the academic gesture and said the NCAA tourney — and the national championship it offers — was of utmost interest here.

The guys already told me they want to win the national championship and obviously we can't win the national championship, going to the NIT," Catlett said.

One objective now is the national championship and the players think they can win the rest of their games. So, until I see something to prove differently, I've got to believe them."

The 43-year-old outgoing and talkative coach, who played with Jerry West at the University of West Virginia, complained about lack of national recognition for his team.

Cincy poly this week cracked the UPI top 20 coaches poll.

Catlett admitted before the season that he had somewhat "waxed" down this year's schedule to help his young team come along quicker. He starts four newcomers — three freshmen and sophomore Brian Williams, who didn't play his freshman year.

But now Catlett says the 15-game win streak, which included a victory at Marquette, should more than offset the early losses to Harvard and Navy and some wins over rather weak opponents.

Tickets for region tourney now on sale

Tickets for the region basketball tourney at the College of Southern Idaho gymnasium Monday and Tuesday went on sale Wednesday morning throughout the state.

CSI will meet Emporia and Hicks College goes against Lane Community College in the openers. The top winners will play Tuesday night for the title and opportunity to advance to the national finals in Hutchinson, Kans., the following week.

Despite a stir of controversy earlier Wednesday, the "first-round" pairings remained the same. Regional Director Syd Andrews, Bend, Ore., had announced Hicks was ineligible to participate because one of its players, Byron "In The Woods" had participated in a Pocatello city league game in early December.

This violation, one of the NCAA rules concerning competing for more than one team. But Andrews later in the day was overruled by both national headquarters and local officials. To The Stars were declared eligible.

Meanwhile, Chad Scholtes, CSI Golden Eagle booster president, prepared his crew for a five-day ticket sales blitz.

He announced tickets would be available at the Rogerson

Coliseum, Idaho—First National Bank ( downtown ) Gray Realty at the Holiday Inn, the Boy Scout office and the CSI business office.

Individual boosters also will be selling tickets, and most of the community's sponsoring Twin Falls will be covered by the CSI business office.

Hicks Scholtes said the double headers will begin at 7 and 9 p.m. on Monday.

He also emphasized that this season pass, student activity card, senior citizen or other pass, will be honored for this event since it is sponsored by region B, which sets the ticket prices. Scholtes said anyone planning on attending the tournament should plan on paying

Miami lets lawyer renew season passes

MIAMI (UPI) — The Miami Dolphins' having won another court skirmish with Attorney Ellis Rubin, retained Wednesday and agreed to renew his family's five season tickets to the Dolphins home games.

Dolphins Ticket Manager Mike Holthe last month refused to renew Rubin's tickets because the lawyer had brought a series of lawsuits against the club the past few years. One lawsuit seeking to have preseason games announced before the ticket package, claimed Rubin was being "forced to buy an undesirable product."

When the Dolphins found out the regional, Rubin tried at first to refuse to sell him down on the renewal.

"All's well that ends well," Rubin laughed.

Rubin home. The tickets, previously had been sold to Rubin's law office.

"We are happy to accommodate the Rubin family on this basis," Mike Holthe said "Quite obviously when Mr. Rubin's family refers to the Dolphins as 'our team,' they do not consider the season tickets an 'undesirable product' for a commercial or promotional use. They are 'Dolphin fans'."

Rubin had held the season tickets since the Dolphins first season in 1966. The attorney led the fight which eventually led to Congress lifting the home area television blackouts of sold-out pro football games and he claimed this was a primary reason for the Dolphins' trading him down on the renewal.

all week, my son will take me to the game on Sunday. In the meantime, he will have to borrow the money from me to pay for his tickets."

When the Dolphins traded down the regional, Rubin tried at first to refuse to sell him down on the renewal.

"All's well that ends well," Rubin laughed.

McMillan signs with Ti-Cats

BOISE — Two Boise State Broncos football players, Al McMillan and former fullback Mike Haley, have signed contracts with the Hamilton Tiger Cats of the Canadian Football League.

Making the announcement was Tiger cat head coach Jerry Williams.

McMillan, a present Boise State senior from Caldwell and a graduate of Valhalla high school, was a unanimous selection as All-Sky quarterback the past two years. He was an All American in 1972 and 1973. He is also a member of the Associated Press, United Press International and the American Football Coaches Association (Kodak). He also played in the East-West Shrine game in 1974. He was named a first-team All-Canada as a fullback for the Broncos in three years. In 1971 he was injured in the first Bronco game of the 1972 season and that injured his college career. During his three years at Valhalla he carried the ball 171 times for 627 yards and eight scores.

He signed with the B. C. Lions of the CFL in 1972, but was later injured. Haley, currently completing his college education at Boise State.

Oleynick eyes pros

SEATTLE (UPI) — Frank Oleynick may have launched his last basketball for Seattle University.

Then again, he may not.

The 20-year-old junior who scored 975 points in his three-year career and finished off with 34 straight free throws — going to the line — in his hard-ship case.

Under the hard-ship rule, player may discuss pro offers, but he can withdraw his name without incurring scholarship eligibility prior to the draft.

The pros definitely are interested in the slick 6-foot-3 shooter who last year was named Player of the Year in the West Coast Athletic Conference and whose 872 points are a conference record.

One team interested in the home town Superstars of the NBA.

"Oleynick is an excellent shooter, he's a scorer and a good passer," says. Some scouts believe they would definitely consider drafting him."

Bob Hopkins, assistant Sonics coach, also is high on Oleynick. "I don't doubt Seattle will get a crack at him," he says.

"I really think Oleynick will be gone when it's our chance," he says. "I know a lot of ABA teams are interested in him and so is Portland in our league. And Portland can use a player like Oleynick."

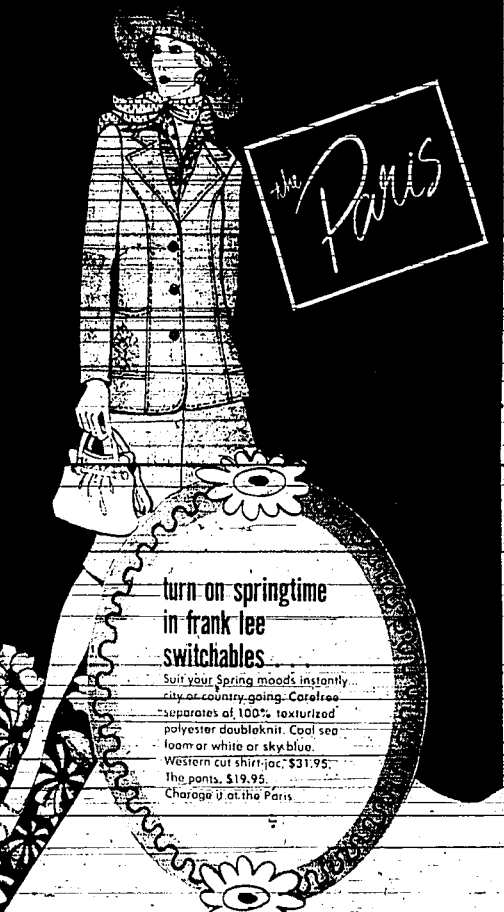

Oleynick, who ranks the floor extremely well and threats needles with his passes. He is an excellent ball handler, can make the play and is a tremendous shooter.

what's what

L. M. Boyd

Don't know where Henry Kissinger sleeps from night to night on his international rounds of diplomatic negotiation. Can't tell you, however, something about the sleeping habits of that great world diplomat of yesterday, Mahatma Gandhi. In 1931, while he bargained for India's liberty with Great Britain, he went to bed each night on a straw pallet at a place called Kingsley Hall in London's East End. But the more intriguing point is that he kept a goal in his room so he'd have milk for food. Gandhi's dedication led to India's liberty, as every schoolboy knows. Call him a success. Fact that Kingsley Hall subsequently was turned into a research center for mental health is a reflection on the great man. Kissinger doubtless will not keep a goat in his room, but if an elite rat, it's a thought.

SAUNA

Q. How hot should a sauna bath be? How long should you stay in it?

A. Women in this country seem to like it at about 125 degrees F. Men are said to prefer approximately 200 degrees F. Might mention that some Finns are known to heat it up to as much as 248 degrees F. That's the hot. Meanly say a citizen would die well if stayed in a sauna less than five minutes and no more than 15 minutes.

MOST MEN who go to public meetings show up on time. Most women get there a little late. Scholars checked such audiences to find that men are also late, but that an equal number of men and women arrived ahead of time.

WHISTLES

In France if a stage actress hears somebody in the audience whistle, that's bad. And if said actress hears a lot of whistles, that's just awful. Like Bronx cheers here, whistles there don't just mean the audience is approving, but the audience is furious. Odd fact is that an actress who hears a whistle in this country regards it as you know.

OUR LOVE AND WAR man is "suddenly" proud of the fact that Rogee's Thesaurus lists 404 synonyms for "love" but only 107 synonyms for "hate."

WHY the perfume makers in the Soviet Union have not yet successfully competed in the worldwide markets may be suggested by the fact that one of their recently experienced scents was named "Black & Blue."
