

Verdict denies damages

TWIN FALLS — A directed verdict in favor of the defendants in a suit brought by Cascade Commodities Inc., Buhl, was returned in Fifth District Court here.

The verdict came at the close of a week-long trial before a 12-member jury in which the Buhl firm asked more than $700,000 in damages against property owners of Buhl as a result of an earlier court action.

A total of 28 Buhl area residents, including Russell Lyon, were named as defendants in the complaint filed in 1972. The plaintiffs charged action by the defendants resulted in the "burnout" rendering and meat products business.

Cascade Commodities Corp. was the name given the firm in Buhl owned by Mel Carter and his sons, Gordon and Ronald. Cascade operated a meat-rendering and obtained injunctions against the firm on grounds the odor from the plant located near their homes made it impossible to live in the area, especially in summer months when doors and windows were open.

In the complaint heard by the district court jury last week the plaintiffs charged the action of the defendants causing the plant to be closed represented loss of business and profits over the 18-month period during which the firm was closed by court injunction.

They asked $500,000 damages from loss of business, deterioration of the plant and the firm's market during that time.

Another $50,000 was asked in punitive damages and $15,000 in attorney fees. The plaintiffs called five witnesses including Gordon Carter who was on the stand the better part of two full days.

Fourteen witnesses were called by the defendants. Under direction of Judge Theron W. Ward, the jury, with Clarence Hoffstedt as foreman, returned a verdict fully in favor of the defendants and granted nothing to the plaintiffs.

Funds earmarked for playground

TWIN FALLS — Members of the Twin Falls Interact Club and the Rotary Club have donated $200 to the city parks department for use in further development at Dierkes Lake.

Arnold Bryson, city parks superintendent, said the money will be used for the purchase of playground equipment at the park area. He said the old road through the picnic grounds has been filled in and new trees planted. A parking lot at the entrance will prevent driving cars into the park area and onto grass.

City Councilman Paul Ostyn said the council, following recommendations of the Youth Advisory Council, plans to develop the area into a family recreation site with swimming, picnic, hike and play area for the smaller children.

If it is to be a family site, he said, the need for playground equipment is important and the money received from the two groups will help greatly.

Bryson said another addition planned for smaller children is a wading pond area.

US supplements jobless pay

By NEA/London Economist News Service. WASHINGTON (AP)—As more and more people join the unemployment lines the federal government is having to supplement the state-run unemployment insurance schemes. House takes fresh shot at Sunday drinks

BOISE (UPI) — After killing it on a 35-35 tie, the House revived Monday and held at the top of its debate calendar for another run today a bill to allow Sunday liquor by the drink sales.

Rep. Larry Jackson, R-Boise, successfully moved the measure for the vote, which the bill passed. Then the House voted 38-2 to revive it.

Next the House became involved in an effort to split the bill at the bottom of the debate calendar. But Rep. Gordon Hollifield, R-Terrell, one of its two sponsors, moved to hold it until Tuesday's opening debate.

In all the House considered three liquor bills Monday, taking up several hours on the floor.

It killed 34-35 a measure to make it a misdemeanor to have an open container of beer in any motor vehicle on any street or highway of the state.

Then it killed 29-41 a proposal which would allow officers to give more than one breathalyzer test before arresting when they suspect drunken driving or when they have committed a moving traffic violation or been in an accident.

Hollifield and Rep. Gary Ingram, R-Coeur d'Alene, opened the house-long debate on the Sunday liquor bill — a measure to allow sales between noon Sunday and 1 a.m. Monday.

Ingram said the present law which allows sale of lower and higher priced liquors by the drink — even though 12 ounces of beer contains the same amount of alcohol as a one and one-half ounce shot of liquor.

Hollifield said many persons like to go out to dinner at nice restaurants on Sunday evenings only to find them closed because liquor cannot be served by the drink.

Rep. Margaret Munger, R-Emmett, said he felt those who drink heavily on Saturday night should have one day in which to sober up before they return to work on Monday.

"I don't want to feel responsible for any children coming back from a Sunday school picnic having no money on their drunken drivers," Munger said.

Rep. Ernest Hale, R-Burley, said legislation such as this desecrates the sabbath. Rep. Dale

Robison, D-Nezperce, said a Seventh Day Adventist among his constituents could not understand why the legislature would allow the public to "do bad things on her sabbath day and not on ours."

"This bill is here to make dollars and that's the only reason it's here and I say it's darn poor business," Rep. Doyle Miner, R-St. Anthony, said.

"This is a local option bill," Rep. Don Maynard, D-Clark Park, said. "If you want in your county you can vote it in."

Maynard said it would help restaurants in Coeur d'Alene and Sandpoint for persons who like to go out on Sunday evening to dinner.

"I haven't been drunk for so many years I've forgotten what it's like to be drunk," Maynard said. "But I drink all the time."

Ingram said it was important to the economy of the state to have restaurants open for all who who congregate on the vision of a national child are teetotalers — because I know some of you who are not and who talked against this bill."

Judicial residence bill passes House

BOISE (UPI) — The House approved 48-31 and sent to the Senate Monday a bill to allow the supreme court instead of the legislature determine where district judges must have their residential chambers.

As approved by the House, the measure has a grandfather clause which would allow present judges to maintain their residential chambers where they are now while they remain in residence.

Still in committee is another bill which would allow a district judge to live somewhere other than the city in which he maintains his residential chambers.

Rep. Norman Dabner, D-Moscow, said both judges in Nez Perce County and that is illegal because the law requires one to live in Moscow.

She said the bill allowing the court to say where the chambers are would allow it to "rubber stamp this situation."

Rep. T. W. Silvers, R-Twin Falls, said he felt the courts should be able to adjust the residence of chambers to the workload before the courts — something, he said, changes over the years.

But Rep. Patricia L. McDermott, D-Pocatello, said enactment of this bill would be "strutting" at legislative responsibility.

Senate probes eye assassination tie

(C) New York Times Service WASHINGTON — The Senate select committee on intelligence will make a thorough investigation of allegations that the Central Intelligence Agency was involved in political assassinations, committee sources said Monday.

The committee is inquiring could well end up in public hearings.

Sen. Frank Church, D-Idaho, the chairman, did not rule out the possibility of public sessions when he plugged a central investigation of political assassinations that had been involved in plots to assassinate, or actual assassinations of leaders of foreign countries.

A source close to the Senator said, however, that Church is concerned about a possible embarrassment to the United States if details of such plotting were known.

The White House appeared to be encouraging the Church committee to look into the matter, a source said.

After persistent questioning Monday, President Ford's spokesman, Ron Nessen, told newsmen — "There certainly will be an opportunity for the Church committee to look into assassinations," they wish the charter of the Rockefeller commission limits it to allegations of domestic spying.

House Washington observers took this to mean that President Ford would favor the inquiry into the assassination question.

Several recent news reports have stated that the CIA was involved in plotting assassinations. Former Sen. Edward Brooke and President Francois Duvalier of Haiti and in the assassinations of Rafael Angel Calderon, head of the Dominican Republic and of Premier Partridge Lumumba of the Congo. President Ford has declined to comment directly on any of these allegations.

Reliable administration sources, however, have confirmed that the President was given an "oral" report on the matter of CIA involvement in political assassinations by William E. Colby, director of the CIA, in January.

Changes sought

BOISE (UPI) — The House shunted to committee of the whole for amendment Monday a controversial bill to require the State Board of Education to adopt standards for school building construction.

Proponents of the measure said it would give school districts one place to go at the state level where they could have plans approved in advance of construction and not have to make costly changes after the buildings were built.

But opponents said the measure simply would require one more inspection and would be putting a burden on the board that is beyond its capabilities.

Bill stuck

BOISE (UPI) — By a vote of 49-18, the House agreed to leave in the Resources Committee today a bill requiring beverages to be sold in returnable containers.

The committee earlier voted to hold the bill indefinitely.

University bill stalls

BOISE (UPI) — At the request of Chairman Kurt Johnson, R-Idaho Falls, the House voted 47-21 to send back to the Education Committee today a bill to establish a state university system.

Johnson said the bill was sent to the floor last week when not all committee members were present. With the full committee meeting today, it was decided the action was hasty, Johnson said.

Cliff "Bulch" Otter, R-Caldwell, a proponent of the legislation, said the move simply was an attempt to kill the bill late in the legislative session.

Another proponent, Rep. Larry Jackson, R-Boise, said the House will not be the final body to act on the bill — that it must go through the Senate even if it passes.

He said the Education Committee already has reviewed the proposal for several weeks.

Rep. Dale Branson, D-Nez Perce, urged the House to support the committee system by voting to send the measure back.

Andrus asks probe

BOISE (UPI) — Gov. Cecil D. Andrus asked the Board of Corrections to investigate complaints of mistreatment listed in a letter inmates of the state prison sent to the governor.

"I am particularly concerned with the allegation that correctional officers at the institution have stolen personal property that belongs to inmates," Andrus said in the letter to the board.

"I recognize, and I know that you do, that the inmates at the Idaho State Penitentiary are not confined because they are dangerous; however, they should not be subjected to any cruel or inhumane treatment, and, even as inmates, they do have individual rights as set forth in our rules and regulations."

The governor said he is "not in any way critical of our rules and regulations at this point, because I understand that security is our foremost concern, followed closely by effective rehabilitation."

"One request that I can grant at this time, and I'm certain you'll concur, is that there will be no reprisals for communicating with me on any matter by any individual, and that includes inmates at the Idaho penitentiary," he said.

The governor in that postscript pointed out to members of this news media had copies of the letter from the inmates Friday afternoon and he did not receive his until mid-morning Monday.

"Obviously, you have a security problem at the institution that should also be investigated," he said.

Gem school fund measure adopted

BOISE (UPI) — Yanking it up from near the bottom of the calendar over Democratic objections, the House debated and passed 57-13 Monday a $101,778,700 appropriation for the public schools.

Appropriation Chairman William Roberts' bill held the measure at $11 million more than the present public school effort by the state but that also includes $12 million for public kindergartens approved earlier this year.

The total amount — $76,937,000 would come from the general fund. The appropriation includes money for the school foundation program, teachers' retirement, Social Security and the School for the Deaf and Blind.

Rep. Ralph Olmstead, R-Twin Falls, spoke against the appropriation because it contained money for kindergartens. So did Reps. Gary Ingram, R-Coeur d'Alene; and T.W. Silvers, R-Twin Falls.

Roberts said he also disagreed with enactment of the kindergarten bill but he said that decision was made by a majority in both houses and he does not think the house should be asked to undo the decision.

Rep. Russ Westergren, D-Soda Springs, said he felt the joint finance appropriations committee failed to meet the needs of public education in some areas. But he said he doubted if any more could be appropriated so he would reluctantly support the bill.

One member of the appropriations committee, Rep. E.V. McLean, R-Ketchikan, took after the bill because he said it takes money from the "chip pockets" of the teachers and fails to do anything for vocational education other than pay it "lip service."

When the move was made to pull the bill up the calendar for immediate consideration, Minority Leader Patricia L. McDermott, D-Pocatello, tried to block it and failed, 34-1. Democrats did not want to adjourn before the governor's program is enacted and passage of key appropriations bills will speed up adjournment.

Abby

By Abigail Van Buren

DEAR ABBY: Four months ago, when we were on vacation, my husband neglected to shave for a few days, and our daughter said, "Oh, Daddy, you'd look neat in a mustache, please grow one!"

Well, George grew a mustache. I didn't like it one bit, and I told him so, but he hasn't said anything about shaving it off. I don't hassle him about it, but he knows how I feel. Some of our friends like George's mustache, and some don't, but George seems to hear only the compliments he gets on it.

Personally, I think he should listen to me. As his wife, I surely want what is best for him and I wouldn't steer him wrong.

Abby, why would a man insist on wearing a mustache (or a beard) when he knows his wife doesn't like it?

ONE WIFE

She's not pleased

DEAR WIFE: Facial hair on men communicates a variety of messages. Among the most obvious are "Like it or lump it; I've got enough to shove and shove the whiskers to prove it, and I'm doing my own thing."

It's a symbol of independence, and in some cases, it's a decoration one courageously confers upon himself.

DEAR ABBY: What one thing most inspires you to write?

NOSE IN NOSE

DEAR NOSY: The Bureau of Internal Revenue.

DEAR ABBY: I prepared a huge, lovely dinner party myself. When my guests departed, they all thanked me and raved about how wonderful everything was.

The next morning, each one telephoned to tell me again how much they enjoyed the dinner, repeating the compliments about the food, etc.

Abby, I had no help, and there was plenty of cleaning up to do after that party, and I was very much annoyed with those unnecessary calls. Each one talked for 15 minutes to half an hour, and when they all finished, my morning was gone.

After having already thanked me, I felt it was totally unnecessary for them to call the next morning and take my time as they did.

On top of it all, one of the guests took a tremendous amount of meat for his second helping, and then asked for a doggie bag.

What is your opinion of both cases?

DISGUSTED

DEAR DISGUSTED: In addition to verbal thanks on departing, a written note to reiterate one's appreciation is far more appreciated, and less intrusive than a telephone call. And as for the doggie bag number—Wow, and bow wow! Shame on her.

DEAR ABBY: My wife recently lost her mother whom we loved dearly. My wife was an only child and "Moms" left us a substantial sum of money.

Although we are a young family with young children and have had a difficult time making ends meet, we cannot bring ourselves to spend any of our inheritance.

We don't dislike money, and could have enjoyed spending some of Mom's money while she was still alive if she had just made an occasional small gift to us and said: "Here, I know you can use a few luxuries, so please take it," and

Darci Zea, Juker exchange promises

TWIN FALLS—Darci Zea and Jeff Juker were married Feb. 22 at the Carillon Wedding and Reception Center, Twin Falls.

The floor length skirt was decorated with wide strips of lace down the front, sides and back.

Her floor length veil was of yellow net and was trimmed with matching heart design lace. She carried a bouquet of pink and white baby roses with yellow netting, baby's breath and yellow ribbons. The bride's sower and veil and other dresses for the wedding party were made by the mother of the bridegroom.

Bouquets carried by the bridesmaids and matriarch of honor were of yellow satin flowers and were made by Fran Mison.

The couple resides in Twin Falls. The bridegroom is employed as a welder in Jerome and the bride is a legal secretary in Twin Falls. They plan a summer honeymoon trip to California.

DEAR WONDERING: I think you're probably sufficiently "normal" to get over your present attitude, and adopt the "better-late-than-never" philosophy. (P.S.—Write to me in a year from now, and if you still can't spend it, I can recommend some dandy charities.)

Everyone has a problem. What's yours? For a personal reply, write to ABBY: Box No. 69700, L.A., Calif. 90089. Enclose stamped, self-addressed envelope, please.

Eagles to play Ricks for regional title, trip to nationals tonight

Eighty-ranked College of Southern Idaho belted Umpqua College 66-55 and Ricks keyed by Byron In-The-Woods scoring, overhauled Lane 18-71 to set up an All Idaho finale in the region 18 junior college tournament Tuesday night.

The two Idaho clubs will settle the matter of the championship and who goes to nationals at 7 p.m. Tuesday at the CSI gymnasium after Lane and Umpqua meet in the consolation finals at 7 p.m.

Both games will feature teams who have split the season series so the Tuesday night battles will also serve as the rubber match for both.

CSI, saw for the first few minutes of the game, had no problem in sending Umpqua into the consolation bracket. But Ricks trailed from late in the first half until 4:00 remained in the game.

In-The-Woods hit eight points in the two-minute, 30-second span to tie the possession and Ricks, again, showing the proclivity for the slowdown, went to a Monday night with a one-point lead and a 34-21 lead.

That turned it into a one-on-one game every where and In-The-Woods was too quick for Lane's guards.

Ricks broke out to early leads twice in the first half, moving up to 14-12 and 16-11 but after the second time Greg McKay hit three field goals and four times in the Johnston wound up a spree that sent Lane ahead by one.

The teams battle through three lead changes and four ties—until Ames and Ricks Weidig collected six points. By halftime Lane carried a 40-34 advantage.

Lane's best chance to break away came in the early minutes of the second half. Allen Parrish, and Roland Omani pulled Ricks back to within four points but then Lane reeled off six straight for a 59-40 lead.

That was the high point for the Oregonians. Quickly Hymas hit twice and In-The-Woods collected eight points and within four minutes, Ricks was back on top 54-52.

Umpqua broke ahead of CSI 7-4 in the early going but it was a matter of time until the Eagles took over. Coach Boyd Grant's charges swarmed the backboards and then switched to their trap defense.

Less than seven minutes into the game CSI had the lead at 11-9 on a Kenny Davis buckets. Quickly Lan-Evettter, Davis, Dwight Boyles, Andre Wakefield and Gary Yoder collected points to spring CSI ahead 20-9.

Five minutes later CSI had extended that to 33-13 and there wasn't much suspense after that.

Save one moment, when (fresh guard) Oscar Sprull fell late in the game and was injured already depleting CSI down to eight healthy ones, it appeared a crushing blow. But the youngster sustained only a muscle cramp and should be fine for Tuesday's finale.

BOWED Robbie Smith of Lane Community College is bent out of shape by Ricks College's Roland Omani during regional action Tuesday night. Looking on is Allen Parrish, Ricks topped Lane 81-71 and meets CSI for the title tonight.

IMPALED Andre Wakefield of CSI was called for an offensive foul when he would up on the shoulder of Umpqua College's Mike Goetzel. CSI dropped Umpqua 66-55 and will take on Ricks tonight for the regional championship.

Marymount wins NAIA opener

KANSAS CITY, Mo. (UPI) — Fourth-seeded Marymount (Kan.) built a 16-point lead in 30 minutes left in the first half Monday, then fought off a second-half comeback by Missouri (M.J.) State for an 86-72 victory in the first round of the NAIA basketball tournament.

Second-seeded Fairmont (Va.) State met Kearney (Nebr.) State in the second game of the night session.

Millsville (Va.) State edged 14th-seeded Ferris (Mich.) State 82-74 in the final game of the day.

Marymount, which held a 40-2 lead with 6:17 to go and maintained a 40-31 halftime lead, saw its margin cut to eight points midway through the first half before pulling away in the second half.

Jimmy Hearn and Sylvester Caylor scored 17 points each for Marymount, while Bill Terry led Missouri with 20.

IRS to auction player contracts

BIRMINGHAM, Ala. (UPI) — The Internal Revenue Service Monday said it would auction off the contracts of 59 players of the World Football League champion Birmingham Americans.

W.F.L. self-acting state IRS director said the auction was designed to recover more than $200,000 in back federal Social Security and unemployment taxes due from the Americans.

Americans head coach and general manager Jack Gott said he believed that the team had breached the contracts of most of the players by failing to pay their salaries and that there would be few, if any, bidders on the contracts.

W.F.L. president Chris Hemmeter said in January that the league had revoked the Americans' franchise owned by William Putnam of Atlanta and that the league-owned the players. Putnam has disputed Hemmeter's claim.

CSU splits twin bill with BSU

BOISE — Freshman Mike Stover threw a strong routine game 2-0 against Boise State Monday afternoon after the Broncos had topped the CSU Golden Eagles, 6-1 in the baseball season opener.

Boise State, which opened Saturday, jumped ahead of starter Steve Stover in the first inning when a pair of walks and an error let two runs. The Broncos added two more in the fourth inning off freshman Jim Rogers.

CSU broke the shutout in the seventh when Lou Casati and Bob DePasquale each was five-for-seven in the twin bill, collected singles. Scott Becker's tripler's choice plated the lone run.

In the second game Stover was overpowered by the Broncos including six in a row.

Meanwhile, a pair of opening walks and a Steve Morgan single set in two runs and hung the loss on Bruins Larry Furumme. In the fourth Murphy and DePasquale singled and no score on a fielder's choice.

CSU wrapped it up in the seventh when a walk, a double by Joey Velasquez and a throwing error let in the final two runs.

CSU now leaves for spring training in Arizona and will meet the Arizona State Jayvees Friday and Mesa Junior college Saturday.

NEW YORK (UPI) — The long handle Texas-rancher type mustache quivered into a smile, and the non-Texas Australian became the voice was conciliatory. John Newcombe had come to Iowa to tell everyone that "I've never had an argument of any kind with him. I feel an affinity to him myself. I can imagine why people feel so violently against him."

"Jim" of course is Jimmy Connors, and Newcombe is already playing the match he will have with Jimmy on April 25 in Las Vegas.

The 31-year-old Australian who now lives almost half of each year in Texas, has his strategy and tactics under preparation for the battle on the court, but he has his psychological war against Connors already launched.

"I was rather surprised when I learned how much the credit of the U.S. Open was for Rod Laver, him being an Australian and all against an American," Newcombe said. "And I was just as surprised this weekend up in Connecticut, where we played for the Aetna World Cup. At a cocktail party, all these Americans kept coming over to me to talk about my match with Jimmy, and they were really quite vicious. They pleaded with me not only to beat him, but to kill him."

Newcombe shifted in his chair in the American Airlines board room, where he had come to announce that he had definitely would defend his title in the airline's $175,000 tournament March 31-April 6. That tournament, plus one in Jackson, Miss. and another in Denver, will be the basis of his earnings for the clash with Connors.

"But, I really have no way of knowing if I can beat Connors again," he said, casually mentioning as he always does his 30 record over the man who was rated No. 1 in the world for 1974. "Connors has an unusual style. He has an unusual left-handed serve that kicks back, and he's very aggressive."

The week was coming now for sure and Newcombe hit home. "Of course the fact that he doesn't play the top players all the time is an advantage to him. He hits hard and when we rarely see him, he psyches people out with that hard hitting. If you remember, though, the Aussie has supposed to be just great, but when he played World Championship Tennis last year, we got a long look at him and then pulled him back, and he wasn't good."

White Connors' absence from the men and boys who play in Newcombe's Association of Tennis Professionals and in WCT may disturb most men when they finally take the court against Jimmy, Newcombe says it doesn't bother him.

"Connors' aggressiveness and hard hitting frightens some players," he said, "but it doesn't frighten me. You see I have no fear of losing. I go out playing not to lose. I don't care if I lose."

Did his victories over Connors give him some sort of line, some characteristic of Connors' play that relates to some other player John knows well? Again the drawl and smile.

He plays like nobody I can relate to, and further, it's hard to get a line on him because he can't even find some one to practice with, so I get no information that way either."

He settled back in his chair with a smug smile and glittering eyes.

Advantage, Newcombe. Connors to serve next.

Kentucky's Hall given 4-year extension

LEXINGTON, Ky. (UPI) — On his way to a second NCAA tournament and with two Southern Conference titles under his belt in three years, University of Louisville basketball coach Joe Hall was rewarded Monday with a four-year extension of his contract.

His first three years have certainly not been dull," said Hall, who took the reins from legendary Adolph Rupp three seasons ago and guided his team to a total of six victories against 23 defeats.

Hall, 46, whose Wildcats suffered through a dismal 1973-74 season last year and was said to be ready to resign the post, coached Kentucky to a 24-10 mark this season.

Kentucky shared the conference title with Alabama but will be the SEC's No. 1 representative in the NCAA tournament by virtue of defeating the Crimson Tide twice in regular season play.

Both teams finished with 16 conference records.

The Wildcats will face Marquette in the NCAA Midwest Regional in Tallahassee, Fla. Saturday.

At Kentucky, a four-year extension of Joe Hall's contract reflects an unqualified vote of confidence from the athletic board and the university administration, said university President Dr. Ows Singleton.

The new contract runs through June 30, 1980.

The signing was announced by Athletic Director Harry C. Lancaster, who called Hall "one of the nation's outstanding young coaches who has done an exceptional job in his first three years at UK, both as a coach and a recruiter."

Hall, an assistant to Rupp before the "Baron" retired, coached Kentucky to a 20-2 record his first year and the SEC title after rebounding from a poor start.

Drug charges hit racing vet

CHICAGO (UPI) — Dr. Water, D. Wilkey, an Oak Park veterinarian, was charged Monday with drugging race horses.

The 40-year-old, during the 1974 racing season, drugged Chicago area racetracks.

The charge was filed with the Illinois Racing Board by the board attorney, Jowal Klein.

If charges against the veterinarian are upheld, he faces a one-year suspension from racing, a substantial fine and possible criminal charges.

Miss Klein filed the charges against 16 horse trainers, contending they raced their horses knowing they were drugged.

She said Wilkey drugged many of the horses in question.

The board Monday released the names of the final four of the 16 charged. They are: Elmer S. Clark, Jr. of Chicago; George J. Getz, Haledale, Ill.; Enoch Rea, Collinsville, Ill.; and Warren E. Lamont, Lebanon, Kan.

Miss Klein has charged that throughbred breeders at Thornough Park, Sportsman's Park and Hawthorne racetrack were given morphine, a derivative of morphine which stimulates horses and makes them run faster.

The drug is illegal and if the Racing Board finds the trainers guilty of allowing their horses to be drugged, it can fine them, temporarily suspend their right to race or both them from racing permanently.

Charles D. Stein, an attorney for nine of the trainers, said Monday he plans to file court suits challenging the commission's charges.

what's what

L.M. Boyd

Our Love and War man is saddened by the recent report that only one wife in five is satisfied with her husband as is. Four out of five tell the researchers they'd like to see some changes for the better in their matrimonial mates. What they mention most frequently is a desire for a little more conversation. Indications are that too many husbands stop listening to their wives in the second year of marriage; and stop talking to them in the third year.

LOTS OF BOWLING alleys in Japan now sell special privilege cards which let the holders go immediately to the head of the lines to get the first alleys open.

DID YOU REALIZE one out of every 59 persons in this country is a Kelley?

NOSES Q. "Any scientific basis for the claim that people who live in the tropics tend to have broad flat noses while people who live in cold weather are inclined to have long narrow noses?"

A. That's a pretty widespread notion. Theory is that long noses help warm the freezing air, thus to protect the lungs from frost, while broad flat noses permit swift breathing, thus to cool the body somewhat. However, I can think of some exceptions. Broad-nosed Eskimos and long-nosed Arabs, for two.

ACCORDING TO the statisticians, average man in this country now has to put in one hour, 26 minutes on the job to earn a fifth of whiskey, if such be his inclination.

FIRST MACHINE What was the first machine ever devised by man that worked automatically in his absence? No requires a client the animal trap, no? Incidentally, did you know there are only four kinds of such traps: They are the gravity, snare, spring pole and torsion.

SPOKESMEN for the foot-wear plastic shoe, they couldn't get anybody to buy their fancy plastic shoes until they impregnated them with a synthetic odor of leather.

TAKE THE YEAR 1973. The U.S. Senate held session then for only 184 days; figure 3 hours, 30 minutes per session. That was about the longest the U.S. House of Representatives that year only held session for 790 hours. Do you have any idea how many hours you put in on the job that year? About 1,920, if you're average.
