VC mm on Saigon cease-fire bid

SAIGON (UPI) — South Vietnam appealed today for a cease-fire and negotiations guaranteed to give the Viet Cong a share of power in the South Vietnamese government.
Ma, Phuong Nam, the Viet Cong press officer in Saigon, said he had not yet seen the government offer and that there would be no official Viet Cong comment until the Communists had studied it.

Strong quake shakes Mexico City

MEXICO CITY (UPI) — A strong earth tremor shook Mexico City early today. There were no immediate reports of damage or casualties.
Mexico's Meteorological Office said the tremor, registering 5.6 on the open-ended Richter scale, struck at 5:18 a.m.

Ford sets bid

WASHINGTON (Star) — President Ford has decided to enter the New Hampshire presidential primary election next March if a strong Republican challenger for his nomination emerges.
Ford's associates said today that should no major challenge develop, the President will probably run in the primary anyway. Ford and his associates don't regard New Hampshire Gov. Meldrim Thompson Jr. as a strong contender, though Thompson has hinted he may run.

Cincy quints' prospects good

CINCINNATI (UPI) — Mark Levy, 47, the father of quintuplets born four weeks prematurely to his wife who had been taking fertility drugs, said today he doesn't know what's hit me. "I've never changed diapers."
Doctors said chances for the quints survival were very good.

Judge denies murder count dismissal

WASHINGTON, N.C. (UPI) — A Superior Court judge today denied a motion for dismissal of a murder indictment in the slaying of a white jester by a black woman who claims she was defending herself against a sexual attack.
Judge Henry A. McKinnon rejected the contention of lawyers for Joan Little that the process of selecting the jury that indicted her had discriminated against blacks, women and the young.

Gold soars, 8 slides on Europe mart

BRUSSELS (UPI) — A sudden wave of selling sent the U.S. dollar into a slide today on all major European money markets. Gold's price rose.
Gold gained $1.50 in Zurich to open at $167.50. A 50-cent overnight rise brought it up to $167.25 in London, and the morning price was set at $168.75.

Historian named to board

BOISE (UPI) — An historian from Ricks College at Rexburg is the newest member of the Idaho Historical Society's board of trustees.
The State Board of Education appointed Dr. David L. Crowder, coordinator of the Ricks history department, to the society's board. The society board is responsible for preserving historical sites and monuments in the state and for preserving historical documents and artifacts.

Another group voices opposition

IDAHO FALLS, Idaho (UPI) — The Idaho Wildlife Federation is the latest of conservation groups to voice opposition to the nomination of Former Wyoming Gov. Stanley Hathaway as Secretary of Interior.
Federation President Richard Schwarz wrote Idaho Senators Frank Church and James McClure that Hathaway has a record of indifference and opposition to the concepts of conservation which our organization holds dear.
Schwarz noted there was extensive amount of public land in Idaho under jurisdiction of the Department of Interior; he said "the federation strongly feels that the office of secretary should be filled by someone who is more perceptive to the need for stewardship of the natural and especially the wildlife resources on this land."

Construction delayed

BOISE (UPI) — Construction will delay traffic along the Middle Fork of the Boise River from Arrowrock Dam to Atlanta between now and June 6, the Forest Service said today.
Weekdays the road will be closed from 8 to 10 a.m., 11 a.m. to 1 p.m. and from 2 to 5 p.m.

Evacuee airlift moves to Guam

By United Press International
The United States shifted its airlift of Americans endangered South Vietnamese from the overburdened Philippines to the U.S. territory of Guam today.
The evacuation from Saigon brought complaints in both destinations and reports of food hoarding.
The first group of 219 refugees arrived today at Andersen AFB on Guam aboard a military-chartered DC8 from Saigon. A spokesman for Guam Gov. Ricardo J. Bordallo said as many as 131,000 refugees were expected to pass through Guam in the next few weeks.

Another source on the small Pacific island said about 60,000 refugees were expected in the next 10 days, nearly doubling the island's population.
A U.S. official in Saigon said the number of Americans left in South Vietnam "should be down to around 1,500 today." President Ford ordered the evacuation to get the number down to about 1,000.
So far 7,000 refugees from Saigon — Americans and their Vietnamese families — have been handled at Clark AFB in the Philippines. About 4,000 evacuees arrived at Clark Tuesday aboard C141 Starliner jets and C130 Hercules transports in the heaviest day of the airlift.

The arrival of South Vietnamese to Americans aboard the evacuation flights appeared to be running at about 20 to 1.
State Department spokesman Robert Anderson said in Washington the Ford administration was discussing with "foreign governments and international organizations" prospects for relocating some of the South Vietnamese refugees evacuated.

Anderson branded as "poppycock" a statement by Los Angeles County Supervisor James Hayes that the United States might evacuate 500,000 to 1 million South Vietnamese to California.
On Guam, there were reports that many of the 85,000 residents of the island, which is only 30 miles long and 4 to 5 miles wide, were hurriedly buying food and boarding it.

Farm bill facing veto

By N.Y. Times Service
WASHINGTON — The House of Representatives passed Tuesday and sent to the President a bill that would increase price supports and income guarantees for farmers.
The measure faces an almost certain veto.
The House passed the bill by a vote of 248 to 166, 28 votes short of the two-thirds that would have been needed Tuesday to override rejection by the White House. The nays provided a surplus over the 146 that would be needed to sustain a veto even if all 435 members of the House were present and voting.
The bill, passed by voice vote in the Senate, would increase "target prices" and price supports for cotton, wheat and livestock feed grains and price support loans for milk products.

(Related story, p. 15)
Target prices are a trigger for subsidy payments. If market prices fall below the targets provided, the government would be required to make up the difference in direct payments to farmers.
Price support loans enable farmers to borrow from the government, using their crops as security, while withholding their products from the markets in the hope of improved prices, or for any other reason.
Before debate started Tuesday, Rep. Thomas S. Foley, D-Wash., who is chairman of the House Agriculture Committee and floor manager of the bill, said he was still hopeful of avoiding a veto but skeptical about any prospects for mustering enough votes for an override.
The vote was on a compromise reached at a Senate-House conference on differing versions of farm bills. The conferees had scrapped higher targets and price supports passed by the Senate and had chosen the lower figures of the House in an effort to avert a veto.
Support for the final action, however, fell short of the 259-162 vote by which the original House version was approved.

Scott flays delay in Viet aid funding

WASHINGTON (UPI) — Senate Republican leader Hugh Scott today accused his congressional colleagues of conducting a "mini-filibuster against mercy" by delaying action on funding of humanitarian and evacuation aid for South Vietnam.
"I think we are endangering the lives of Americans in South Vietnam if we delay" action on such legislation any longer, Scott said.
Scott made his remarks to newsmen as the Senate began consideration of a bill to provide $200 million to finance the evacuation of Americans and friendly South Vietnamese and provide some humanitarian aid. The House was scheduled to debate a similar measure that would provide $327 million in aid.

"There is footdragging on the floor of the Senate and House which in a sense amounts to a mini-filibuster against mercy," Scott said.
"There is no sense of urgency on the part of the Senate."
His Democratic counterpart, Mike Mansfield, denied that delaying tactics were being employed. He acknowledged, however, that the Senate might not take a final vote on the evacuation financing legislation until Thursday.
Mansfield said "There is no mini-filibuster. The President already has the authority to evacuate Americans and the Defense Department already has funds" that could be used to finance the evacuation.
"The Defense Department has at least a dozen ships in the South China Sea" that could be used for evacuation purposes.
"I hope that action on it can be finished today or in certainly a day for a vote set for tomorrow," Mansfield said.

to reach a political settlement to avoid further bloodshed and attempt to salvage something from the rapidly deteriorating situation in South Vietnam.
Broomfield would not identify what nations were acting as go-betweens. Other sources indicated France was involved.
Other Republican leaders said Ford assured them "the barest minimum number" of Americans were still in Saigon. Sen. Clifford Case, R-N.J., quoted Ford as saying "about 1,500 Americans would be left in Saigon by (Tuesday) evening... to carry on a skeleton operation."

Water need rises

WASHINGTON (UPI) — America's efforts to solve the energy crisis are thrusting the nation toward a potential future water crisis, the Water Resources Congress reported today.
The organization said past projections of U.S. water requirements are no longer valid because rapid expansion of energy production in the next decade will put new demands on the nation's water resources.
The WRC released a study today showing that the United States must develop more than 7 million acre-feet of consumable water by 1985 to provide the water needed for energy production alone. This would be above present requirements.

Blast claims 6
SAIGON (UPI) — An explosive device blew up in a crowded Vietnamese market in downtown Saigon at dusk today, killing or wounding more than six persons and spreading panic in a city riddled by Communist troops.
The North Vietnamese army was so close to the city that South Vietnamese commanders moved the government's last warplanes out of Bien Hoa today in advance of an expected Communist assault against the base only 14 miles north of Saigon.
"I hope that action on it can be finished today or in certainly a day for a vote set for tomorrow," Mansfield said.

TF school bounds OK'd

By DAVID HORSMAN
Times-News writer
TWIN FALLS — Boundary changes for the five Twin Falls elementary schools were approved Tuesday night in a special school board meeting.
The changes were prompted by a $3.5 million building program in the Twin Falls district.
Under that project, a new elementary school, recently named Sawtooth Elementary, will open this fall north of Twin Falls High School. Washington Elementary will be vacated and classroom additions or improvements will be made at several of the other schools.
Sawtooth, Morningside, Harrison and Lincoln Elementary schools will receive about 625 students each as a result of the boundary shifts, according to Supt. George Staudacher. Lincoln Elementary's student load will be about 465, a reduction of about 165 students from this year's load, Staudacher said.
The attendance figures do not reflect the number of five-year-olds that might enroll under the district's new kindergarten program. School officials estimate that the kindergarten students will enter the program. If that number holds true, each elementary school will receive about 80 five-year-olds.

In drawing the new boundary lines, school officials attempted to eliminate the need for students to cross major streets or roadways in the district, Staudacher said.
The new Sawtooth district is bounded on the west by Blue Lakes Boulevard North and on the south by Addison Avenue East. The district takes in both sides of Addison east of the road one mile east of Eastland Drive.
The Morningside district takes in the area generally south of Addison Avenue East and east of Blue Lakes Boulevard.

Judge may reconsider Hansen term

By BILL LAZARUS
Times-News writer
WASHINGTON, D.C. — U.S. District Court Judge George L. Hansen will consider changing Rep. George Hansen's jail sentence if a motion to reconsider comes before him.
But the judge denies his decision to put Idaho's Second District Congressman behind bars for two months was harsh.
"If I'd thought it was harsh I wouldn't have given it," he said in an interview Tuesday.
Hart said reconsideration is "always a possibility." "I would act on it once it comes before me," he said.

The judge said he does not know how often the federal campaign law is violated. He refused to say whether other candidates who file late reports and who file financial information on a wrong form should be punished equally.
Each judgment would depend on the case, he said, adding that he does not have any comment on any case which doesn't come before him.
Hart gave Hansen a one year prison sentence with 10 months suspended for two misdemeanor violations of the 1974 Federal Elections Campaign Act.

Hansen had pleaded guilty to charges that he failed to file one campaign financial report on time and failed to file one candidate's report at all.
By law, each candidate must file a campaign financial statement both for himself and for his committee.
Hansen maintained the $2,150 in receipts which should have been reported on his personal campaign finance report was mistakenly included in the committee report instead.

Insurance protest persists

FORT LAUDERDALE, Fla. (UPI) - Surgery patients at 18 Broward County hospitals, was slowed today by an anesthesiologists strike called to protest rising malpractice insurance rates.
 The anesthesiologists walked out Monday for at least one week saying they would refuse to participate in any operations except those classified as emergency or urgent to save lives.
 The action to protest rising malpractice rates drastically slowed surgery activity Tuesday at most county hospitals. An exception was Holy Cross Hospital, which reported a "rash of auto

Hill memorial concert set

TWIN FALLS - Jonas Nordwall, Portland, will be guest organist Sunday afternoon at the dedication program of the Hill memorial theater organ.
 The public concert at which the instrument owned by the late J. Hill will be presented to the College of Southern Idaho is scheduled for 4 p.m. in the Fine Arts Auditorium.
 In addition to the guest organist, several other groups will perform briefly. These include the CSI stage band, directed by Larry Curtis; Magie Valley Country Music Association and vocalists, Mary Walker, Roger Vincent, Martha Mead and Jay Fowles; Shoshone, and Curtis, instrumentalist.
 Nordwall is product specialist for the Rodgers Organ Co., Hillsboro, Ore., and is a 1970 graduate of the University of Portland. He has studied piano and organ since he was 12 years old and has been a frequent guest of the American Theatre Organ Society groups.
 He has made several organ recordings and is also gifted player of classical literature, having done advance studies of classical literature with Frederick Geoghegan, one of Canada's well-known organists.
 Nordwall serves as organist at Portland's oldest church, the First United Methodist.
 Frank Hill, son of the late Mr. and Mrs. Hill, will attend the dedication concert, as will Mrs. Hill's sister, Evelyn Ellis, Twin Falls.

Clash erupts

BOCA RATON, Fla. (UPI) - Black students, enraged by a racial slur chanted on a gymnasium wall, today battled white students with fists, belts and chains for nearly two hours at the high school in this resort playground.
 At least three persons required hospital treatment, officials said, and police reported at least four arrests before the brawl ended.
 Teacher Elliott Kraviz said one of his teeth was knocked out as he attempted to restore order. Athletic Director Steve Cujtoros said he was struck in the face with a belt buckle as he intervened to prevent injury to another teacher.
 At least 200 of the school's 2,800 students were involved in the fighting, officials said.
 Officers at the scene rushed to police headquarters for tear gas and a quantity of canisters was sent to the scene but it was not immediately determined whether any was used.

First flight reaches US

TRAVIS AFB, Calif. (UPI) - The first of three jetliners in what may be the start of a gigantic airlift of Southeast Asian refugees seeking resettlement in America today landed at Travis Air Force Base.
 The Vietnamese arriving on today's first flight were sponsored by Americans.
 Two more planes are scheduled to land later today and a fourth plane is expected Thursday. An Air Force spokesman said the next arrival would be a Boeing-747-jetliner with 340 passengers, 216 of them Vietnamese.
 Aboard the DC8 when it reached this Northern California airport were 219 persons, of whom 138 were Vietnamese.
 Among the Americans aboard were civilians, contractors, dependents of servicemen, servicemen and government employees.
 The Vietnamese were taken to a customs office for processing before being turned over to their sponsors.
 Ralph Baird, 59, a helicopter mechanic from Southgate, Calif., brought his wife, Truong Thi Chon 42, and her three children.
 "It is my personal opinion there will be a moodshift, especially for the Vietnamese supporting Americans," Baird said. Rocks were thrown at the cars taking refugees to the airport in Saigon and a bus was bombed, he said.
 Another American arriving with his wife and her family was Charles Downs, 26, of Columbus, Ohio. He said he and his wife, Nam Thi, 28, have been living in the United States for four years and went back to Vietnam to get her children and her parents.
 Downs had his stepchildren, a boy 6 and girl 9, but said the Vietnamese would not permit his mother-in-law, with whom the children had been living, to leave.
 Mrs. Kae Hsiung Kane arrived with her 4-year-old daughter and 7-year-old son. She said the children had been staying with her mother in Saigon. Mrs. Kane said she tried to bring her mother too but she would not leave.
 "She said she was too old to go to the United States ... she wants to stay in her house in Saigon," said Mrs. Kane, wife of a Navy man now in Spain.
 The people in Vietnam are scared, said the Navy wife, who is staying with her husband's relatives in Philadelphia, "but they keep doing their shopping and driving their cars."

Bomb blinds boy
 BELFAST (UPI) - A transistor radio packed with explosives and nails blew up today in the face of a 10-year-old boy. The blast blinded him in both eyes and doctors had to amputate his right arm.
 Two of the child's brothers suffered serious facial injuries in the explosion and a third was hurt slightly.
 Police said the bombing appeared to be the latest in a series of random sectarian attacks involving Northern Ireland's feuding Protestant and Roman Catholic communities.

Encampment OK'd

BOISE (UPI) - The Land Board said "yes" Tuesday to a Girl Scout request for an encampment in 1976.
 The Silver Sage Girl Scout Council asked the board, through D.E. "Skip" Chubbey, director of administration, for permission to use land around the old state penitentiary - June 17-21 - for an encampment to celebrate the bicentennial.
 Board members were unanimous in granting Chubbey authority to draw up contracts with the Girl Scouts for their project after Chubbey assured them the scouts have money in their budget for sanitation facilities, water supplies, security and will clean up after the three to four-day camp.
 The camp is expected to draw 1,500 girls from Idaho and eastern Oregon.

Lodge drapes charter

GLENN'S FERRY - A charter draping ceremony was held at the Monday evening meeting of the Aileen Rebekah Lodge.
 The charter was undraped for Mrs. Lutella Allison, then draped in memory of Mrs. Gladys Watkins. Warden and Contractor, Mrs. Roy Marnoch and Mrs. Arthur Greer undraped the charter. Noble grand, Mrs. R. James Robertson; chaplain Mrs. Florence Greer; and staff captain Mrs. Ray Whitt took part in the ceremony.
 Mrs. Whitt gave a report of the recent district 8 meeting at which time she was appointed the chairman for the next district meeting, which will be held at Glenn's Ferry. Mrs. Z. Lewis was named vice chairman; Mrs. Oral Irving second vice chairman, and Mrs. Zoe Hull as the secretary for the meeting.
 Reports were given of the funeral dinner served for the family of Mrs. Watkins. An auction of "white elephant" items was held for the benefit of the lodge treasury.
 Mrs. Robertson and Mrs. Whitt served refreshments.

CBers set meet

TWIN FALLS — 180 Citizens Band members will meet May 18 at 1:30 p.m. in the J.H. Henry building at Kimberly, Violet Baker, publicity chairman, said Tuesday.

Plans for the group's jam-boree June 20-22 at the Twin Falls County Fairgrounds, Ellert, were repeated at a meeting Sunday in Mountain Home. About 100 members and guests attended, including six carloads of persons from Magic Valley.

Diet Workshop open house set

TWIN FALLS — Glen and Kay Jamieson, area directors, announce plans for the Diet Workshop open house Friday at 8 p.m. at the YM-YWCA. All interested Magic Valley residents are welcome to attend.

The Diet Workshop, a national organization of weight control, stresses its motto, "We Care," in its approach to the basic diet program, according to the Jamiesons. "There is no insistence on foods such as liver or fish, which many people cannot eat," Mrs. Jamieson said. "Acceptable protein substances are taught for these meals. Members are taught how to eat foods that supply all nutritional requirements and to eradicate past bad food habits," she said.

Class set for tots

TWIN FALLS — Parents interested in enrolling their first-grade children in the summer kindergarten program at Morningside Elementary School should contact the school at 733-6507. The summer program is free and is restricted to children who have had no kindergarten or Head Start experience.

Auto sales down

DETROIT (UPI) — Mid-April new car sales were 15 per cent below year-ago sales, marking the worst mid-April sales in 14 years, but sales are still up over March figures. Industry analysts say they're waiting to see if the traditional spring upturn materializes in May.

The sales reports, for the mid-April period, should show deliveries of about 152,000 cars, off 15 per cent on a daily sales basis from 202,340 last year. There were eight selling days in the mid-April period this year and nine last year.

April sales have been following the traditional pattern, analysts say, with deliveries up about 4 per cent over March.

"The reports won't show any strength in the market, but they won't show any decline," said one analyst. "Sales are just sitting there."

"There's no spring surge, that's for sure," he said. "But I think you have to wait to see what happens in May before you write off spring."

Besides issuing sales reports today for the April 11-20 period, the automakers began outlining production plans for the coming week.

Industry executives have been basing their production plans on an expected upturn. Small car output is up and workers are being called back to jobs they left during the winter.

American Motors said all of its assembly and manufacturing operations will be normal next week with 3,500 workers returning from one-week layoffs at the Milwaukee and Kenosha, Wis., plants. Initial layoffs will drop slightly to just 730 of the 24,000 blue-collar workers.

However, Joloffs this week still kept 203,000 workers off the job—192,000 of them on indefinite layoffs, the lowest figure since the last week of January.

General Motors, with around 128,000 workers still on indefinite layoffs, could recall as many as 30,000 of them by the fall start-up of the 1976-model production. If the sales picture continues upward, according to GM Chairman Thomas A. Murphy.

Guard injured

AN INJURED prison guard is lifted into an ambulance after prison uprising was put down at the Joliet Correctional Center, Joliet, Ill., late Tuesday. More than 200 inmates took over a cell block at the correctional center and seized 12 hostages. The rebellion collapsed some five hours after it had started. (UPI)

Joliet rebellion ends with 1 dead, 8 injured

JOLIET, Ill. (UPI) — More than 200 convicts seized a dozen hostages and took over a cellblock at the Joliet Correctional Center Tuesday when the uprising ended five hours later, one convict was dead and eight others were injured.

Police drove all but 70 of the rebel inmates back to their own cells with tear gas, and the rest gave up their hostages and surrendered after the warden agreed to two of their demands.

One of the demands agreed to was to stop the scheduled transfer of three inmates to Menard State Prison in Southern Illinois. Authorities later said the planned transfer apparently triggered the disturbance, but officials would not say why the transfer had been ordered or why this would have caused an uprising.

The other demand was safety for the rebel convicts.

The inmate killed during the disturbance was Herbert Caltell of Chicago, whose body was found when authorities gained entry to the inmate-held cellblock. Officials said his throat has been slashed, presumably by other inmates.

During the first stages of the takeover, prison guard Keith Fort, 47, one of the hostages, was beaten and kicked repeatedly in the groin. He was admitted to Silver Cross Hospital for treatment of injuries. Two other guards were hospitalized. No one was believed seriously hurt.

Five other injured persons — four guards and a medical technician — were treated at a hospital and released.

The prisoners seized eight guards and four members of the prison staff. Two of the hostages were released when police pumped tear gas canisters into the convict-held cellblock. Fort was released a short time later and the rest were freed unharmed when the prisoners ended the takeover and returned to their cells.

Police fired tear gas into the west cellblock of the 117-year-old prison to put down the first stages of the rebellion. State Police in full battle gear then surged beyond the four-story limestone walls which surround the "old prison." The inmates attacked them, mass murderer Richard Speck, the convicted killer of eight students, ares.

The tear gas drove most of the rebels back to their cells, but 70 inmates defied police and guards and holed up in a gallery of the west cellblock with nine remaining hostages.

Hours of negotiations then began between the insurgents and Warden Fred Finkbeiner. Officials said the prisoners' main demand was that the scheduled transfer of Thomas Blair, Earl Good and Ralph Lumpkins be halted. They also called for assurances that none of the insurgents would be subjected to bodily harm.

US expands uranium search

WASHINGTON (UPI) — The government is expanding its search for new sources of uranium deposits in an effort to meet the future fuel demands of the nation's expanding nuclear power generating industry.

The U.S. Geological Survey announced Tuesday it is has ordered nine grants totaling $240,000 to explore for new uranium deposits in areas that show promise as potential uranium producers yet which have not been extensively studied.

The research will be carried out in northern New Jersey, eastern Pennsylvania, central Alabama, the Texas panhandle and south Texas, east-central Arizona, southeastern Utah and southern and eastern Wyoming.

Most of the nation's uranium now comes from New Mexico, Wyoming, Colorado, Texas, Utah and Washington. The United States produced 12,000 tons of uranium last year.

If the nuclear power industry grows as anticipated, the Geological Survey said the United States will need 100,000 tons of uranium annually by the early 1990s. The demand then will fall if the controversial breeder-type nuclear reactors go into operation late this decade. If not, the uranium demand will continue to increase.

"The anticipated increase in the use of nuclear energy for power generation during the rest of this century will create a demand for uranium far in excess of domestic reserves," said E.N. Harshman, deputy chief of the Geological Survey's branch of uranium and thorium resources.

The Energy Research and Development administration estimates the country has 315,000 tons of known uranium reserves recoverable at a cost of $10 a ton. It has been estimated that 935,000 more tons of high-grade uranium may exist in the United States.

Harshman said most of the easily accessible uranium deposits have already been found. Future exploration will be at greater depths and in less favorable areas.

Concern for uranium supplies also exists in Europe. The Organization for Economic Cooperation and Development said in a recent report, "It is essential that urgent steps be taken to increase the rate of exploration for uranium to maintain an adequate reserve will be maintained."

Fate of US MIAs released by Hanoi

WASHINGTON (UPI) — For the first time in two years, North Vietnam has announced the fate of some American servicemen who disappeared during U.S. combat missions in Southeast Asia. The three men named in a Hanoi Radio broadcast Tuesday were all killed in action.

The U.S. government said two of the men named by Hanoi were already listed as killed in action. The third man, Capt. Ronald Dwight Perry of Gallatin, Tenn., died Dec. 21, 1972, when his plane was shot down in Ha Bac, the broadcast said.

U.S. officials had Perry listed as missing.

The Hanoi broadcast said the information released Tuesday was in response to a request about MIAs from Sen. Edward Brooke, D-Mass. Kennedy had been given the three names by Hanoi on April 15, but had withheld them until their relatives could be notified. Hanoi Radio said the names were passed out of humanitarian concern for the families.

The other MIA names released by Hanoi were Lt. Col. James Filton of Cape Coral, Fla., who died Feb. 29, 1968, and Lt. Cmdr. Jesse Taylor Jr. of Long Beach, Calif., a Navy pilot shot down Nov. 17, 1965, over Haiphong.

Party expells Campora

NEW YORK (UPI) — Buenos Aires — Dr. Hector J. Campora, former President of Argentina, was expelled Tuesday from the Peronist movement.

The expulsion occurred by the party leadership here, as the culmination of Campora's fall from grace and power during the last two years.

Since the death of Gen. Juan Peron last July, Campora has lived in Mexico City in self-imposed exile and recently opened a dental office, resuming a profession he had abandoned for politics more than 30 years ago.

Peron chose Campora as his standard candidate for the presidential elections in March, 1973, which ended seven years of military dictatorship here.

Campora easily won the election with almost 50 percent of the vote. He had campaigned on a platform of loyalty to Peron and declared himself "an obedient servant" of the aging leader, who was not allowed to be a candidate in the election by military decree.

Light quake reported

SEATTLE, Wash. (UPI) — A light earthquake rumbled through the southern Puget Sound region late Tuesday, shaking residents in a 25-mile area but causing no damage.

The tremor registered 3.8 on the Richter scale and was centered about 25 miles south of Seattle. It was felt by residents in the Olympia area as well as Auburn, Puyallup and West Seattle.

Idaho sections show 4 distinct vote patterns

(Editor's note: Dr. Boyd A. Martin, author of "Idaho Voting Trends," has found enough evidence of political sectionalism in Idaho to devote an entire chapter of his new book to it. This is the final segment of a series on Idaho's political history based on Martin's work.)

By LINDY HIGH
UI News Bureau

When a newcomer to the state, shortly becomes aware of Idaho's sectionalism in terms of topography, agriculture, mining, economics, transportation and religion.

But Dr. Boyd A. Martin, author of "Idaho Voting Trends," to be published this spring, has divided the state into four different voting sections with distinct voting patterns: the 10 northern counties, the 10 counties in the southwestern corner of Idaho, the 14 counties in the southeast portion of the state and the 19 counties of the south-central section.

Martin, whose book spans elections from statehood to 1974 finds at the present time state-wide election results show the northern section to be strongly Democratic, the southeast section still Democratic but showing strong signs of a shift to the right, the southwest section strongly Republican and the south-central section the GOP stronghold of Idaho.

"A quick survey of the county voting behavior indicates that counties with a 65 per cent voting record for one party can normally be considered 'safe' unless the country is in a war, or depression, or the opposing party is carrying a landslide."

Martin said "Even if the county has a 55 per cent party voting record it is moderately safe."

The area of danger for either party, according to Martin, lies with those counties with between 45 and 55 per cent party records.

"Normal conditions, short of great personalities or major issues, will not cause the voters of Custer, Elmore, Lewis, Clearwater or Shoshone counties to vote Republican," Martin said. "Neither will normal circumstances move the voters of Clark, Ada, Cassia, Payette, Jerome, Lincoln, Gooding, Twin Falls, Caribou, Bonneville, Teton, Bingham, Bear Lake, Power, Lemhi, Madison, Fremont, and Canyon counties to vote Democratic."

Two counties in the transitional phase are Ada, which Martin believes is "going to the Democrats," and the traditional Republican stronghold of Latah County which has gone from a 55 per cent pro-Republican vote to a 194-72 Republican vote of 36.39 per cent.

Martin has carefully ranked the counties in terms of percentage of Republican victories since creation of each county for president, U.S. senators, U.S. representatives and governors. Since 1920, Clark County has given the nod to Republicans 50.50 per cent of the time, while at the other end of the scale Lewis County has voted Republican only 21.28 per cent of the time since 1920.

Between 1950 and 1964, Martin said, neither party could achieve a dominant political position, with 26 counties falling in Republican ranks and the others remaining strongly Democratic. Through those years the 10 northern counties were in a strong Democratic column.

But between 1966 and 1972, Republicans made great gains despite Sen. Frank Church's spectacular victory of 1968 when he won 72.92 per cent of the vote. Only seven counties remained loyal to the Democrats and even Blaine County voted Republican 45.45 per cent of the time.

The 1974 election, as Martin notes several times, was an abnormal one and it's too soon to tell whether the results are indicative of a "trend" or merely a one-time instance credited to the personalities or political stances by the candidates.

Significantly, Republican Bob Smith, challenging incumbent Senator Church, and those counties with solid Republican records, while Republican Steve Symms won a second term as first district congressman by picking up a number of counties considered Democratic.

"The characteristics of county voting make it apparent that great personalities have able to pull large numbers of voters from the opposite party," Martin said. "Some of the most recent big vote getters are Robert E. Smylie, Orval Hansen, Nixon, Pete T. Cenarrusa, Joe R. Williams, Marjorie Ruth Moon, Frank Church and Cecil D. Andrus. All of these people have either been able to help create landslides, to win against landslides or to remain in office for long periods against great odds."

Women due better credit access under proposed new regulations

WASHINGTON (UPI) — Women wage earners soon will be assured better access to credit under proposed government regulations that limit what a creditor can ask about a borrower's marital status, spouse's income or method of birth control.

The regulations proposed Tuesday by the Federal Reserve Board are intended to implement a new law that will take effect Oct. 28. The board meanwhile scheduled a hearing May 28 to receive public comment on the proposed regulations.

The new law prohibits all discrimination in credit on the basis of sex or marital status. But primarily the beneficiaries will be women wage earners, many of whom are now denied credit on the arbitrary assumption that they are poor risks.

The status of married women who have no income also would be improved under the regulations, which require their names be included on their husbands' accounts.

The regulations, written with the help of the women's movement and the credit industry, would change drastically many aspects of that industry. These are some of the important changes:

—Application forms for credit could no longer require identification of an applicant's sex or marital status, but a space may be provided for an applicant to voluntarily add his title—Miss, Mrs. or Mr.

—In some cases where a creditor could inquire about marital status, only the terms "married," "unmarried" or "separated" can be used—not the term "divorced."

—Creditors could no longer use a "scoring" system of credit applicants that automatically gives more points to a married person than an unmarried or separated person. Nor could they discount any part of a person's income because of sex or marital status.

—A person who has been denied credit or whose account has been terminated could demand a written statement of explanation from the creditor.

—Creditors would be required to consider alimony and child support payments as part of an applicant's income.

—Accounts used by both a husband and a wife would have to be maintained in both names by Oct. 28, 1976—one year after the law goes into effect.

Thus, a married woman without an income of her own would for the first time be building a "credit history" which she would rely upon in the case of divorce.

Senate wants memos

WASHINGTON — The Senate Armed Services Committee, reflecting growing Congressional suspicion, has demanded copies of all memos of conversations between top Nixon administration officials and former South Vietnamese President Nguyen Van Thieu.

Reliable senate sources confirmed that Sen. John Stennis, D-Miss., chairman of the committee, made the request last week in a letter to President Ford.

Stennis acted at the prodding of Sen. Henry M. Jackson, D-Wash., and other committee members who contended that Ford's denials of secret agreements with Thieu were based on selected written exchanges and not on what was said in private conversations.

Thieu insisted in his resignation speech Monday that he received a "solid pledge" from former President Nixon that the United States would protect him from final defeat by re-entering the war with U.S. military force.

APPEARING before the House Public Works Committee Tuesday, AFL-CIO President George Meany said the government has to be prepared to run up a huge budget deficit—possibly $100 million—to create jobs and set the economy right. (UPI)

US-Israeli relations tender

By United Press International
 The United States still is not satisfied with Arab stand on negotiations with the Arab countries and is applying pressure for more concessions through its reassessment of Mideast policy, an Israeli government official said today.
 In Riyadh, King Khalid of Saudi Arabia has renewed the pledge of his slain brother King Faisal to use his country's vast resources in support of Egypt and Syria against Israel.
 President Ford ordered the reassessment of Mideast policy last month after the failure of Secretary of State Henry A. Kissinger's mission to reconcile Egypt's demand for territory in the Sinai and Israel's demand for a pledge of non-belligerence.
 The U.S. reassessment "is part of the continued pressure on Israel to try and influence Israel in certain directions," the Israeli official said in Tel Aviv.

 "It's obvious that the United States wants us to do certain things we're not ready to do, such as offering new suggestions that would be more palatable to the Arabs."
 The assessment of U.S. Israeli relations came one day after Foreign Minister Yigal Allon returned from talks in Washington with Kissinger and said the "ice has melted" in relations between the two countries.
 Returning from the first cabinet-level contact between Israel and the United States since Kissinger's mission failed March 22, Allon said his country's relations with Washington had moved "toward a return to the old closeness."
 However, the unidentified official said, "There are indications that the United States is not entirely happy with our position and we are not entirely happy with theirs."

said in Tel Aviv.

"It's obvious that the United States wants us to do certain things we're not ready to do, such as offering new suggestions that would be more palatable to the Arabs."

The assessment of U.S. Israeli relations came one day after Foreign Minister Yigal Alon returned from talks in Washington with Kissinger and said the "ice has melted" in relations between the two countries.

Returning from the first cabinet-level contact between Israel and the United States since Kissinger's mission failed March 22, Alon said his country's relations with Washington had moved "toward a return to the old closeness."

However, the unidentified official said, "There are indications that the United States is not entirely happy with our position and we are not entirely happy with theirs."

Attica spy talks

BUFFALO, N.Y. (UPI) — "I committed a political crime," said former FBI informer Mary Jo Cook, her voice crackling. "It was as if I was a TV monitor into people's lives."

Miss Cook openly wept several times Monday as she testified in state Supreme Court about her infiltration of the Attica prison riot legal defense.

Justice Joseph Matina recessed the hearing, to resume today, so that the 26-year-old informer could regain her composure. Matina is presiding over the trial of Bernard Stroh, accused in the deaths of two fellow inmates during the 1971 riot.

Miss Cook, who admitted two weeks ago that she was a paid FBI informant, said she gave much information on the Attica defense to the FBI in as many as 40 reports a month. The FBI has confirmed that Miss Cook was an informer, but it denies she gave them information on the Attica cases.

"I gave them (the FBI) so much information without even thinking about it," she testified, her voice beginning to crack. "I can't believe I destroyed people's rights to privacy, to free assembly. Then, bursting into tears, she said, 'I do not believe that information will not be used against them.'"

Miss Cook said she began working for the FBI in June, 1973, informing on the Vietnam Veterans Against the War then later on the Attica defense.

Miss Cook said her FBI contact, who she identified as Gary Lash, assured her that no atrocities had "taken place during the riot and she began gathering information for the FBI."

Miss Cook said she was never specifically told to spy on the Attica Brothers Legal Defense but said she considered it her job.

Miss Cook said she provided information on the "fair jury project," legal defense strategy, courtroom strategy, communication between lawyers and clients, "positions on their (the defendants') personal problems and information on the internal structure of the ABL."

She said she had contact with several defendants, including John Hill, 23, of Buffalo and Charles Pemasallee, 22, of Camillus. Hill was convicted of murder and Pemasallee of attempted second-degree assault in the death of a guard during the rebellion.

Miss Cook said she detested her informer role was wrong after watching the Watergate hearings on television to "try to see if the FBI had ever been compromised before."

"It took me two months to quit," she said. "My life was a mess, really a mess. It threw my life into chaos," she added, again breaking into tears. "It threw my family into chaos."

O'Leary PTA board meets

TWIN FALLS — The O'Leary Junior High PTA board met Monday evening for election and installation of new officers.

Past president William Munger introduced the new officers who include Robert King, president; Richard Akkerman, vice president; Mrs. William Stonemets, secretary; Mrs. DeVerne Fuller, treasurer.

Final plans for the carnival Friday were made. A painting donated by Betty Evans, local artist, was displayed. It will be given away at the carnival along with other items donated by local merchants. Tickets can be purchased from junior high students or at the carnival.

Map of new Twin Falls elementary school districts

today in brief

New school borders OK'd

 Rock Creek forms part of the western boundary of the Morningside district, drawing in its western limits to Eastland Drive South from Blue Lakes.
 The Bickel district is enclosed by Shoshone Street on the north, Washington Street South on the west and Blue Lakes Boulevard, Rock Creek and Eastland Drive South on the east. The district also includes a small tract east of Eastland Drive and north of Kimberly Road and takes in the Twin Falls Labor Camp.
 The Harrison district is bounded on the east by Blue Lakes Boulevard North and on the south by Addison Avenue. A large section north of Addison, however, is included in the Lincoln district.
 The Lincoln district is bounded generally by Addison on the north and Shoshone Street and Washington Street South on the east. However, it also takes in an area north of Addison Avenue between Grandview Drive North and Harrison Street. This area stops south of Filer Avenue West.
 In other action Tuesday, the trustees awarded an $8,828 contract to Staftford Excavation Co., Boise, for demolition of the old portion of Lincoln Elementary. The work is to begin June 9 and be completed in 60 days.
 — approved a call for bids on furniture for the Sawtooth and Lincoln Elementary Schools.

Rupert boy hurt

RUPERT — A 16-year-old boy is in good condition this morning in Minidoka Memorial Hospital following a one-car accident late last night.
 Jeff McClure, Rupert, received lacerations of the face and head when his car left a county road and struck a tree late Tuesday night.
 McClure was alone at the time of the accident, which is still under investigation by the Minidoka County Sheriff's Department.

Gooding election slated on mayor recall issue

GOODING — Mayor Leo Rice, Gooding, said today he does not plan to resign his office in the face of recall petitions filed against him two weeks ago.
 Rice was notified officially of the recall action in a letter mailed last Friday from the clerk's office.
 State law provides five days during which the individual named in the recall petitions can resign. If he does not, the city clerk must call an election within 30 days. Rice will now become a candidate in the election.
 A tentative election date of May 20 has been set, but will require formal approval and appointment of election officials by the Gooding City Council. Members of the council will meet Thursday night to discuss the election date, hours and workers.
 At Monday night's council meeting a statement was read in which the mayor refuted charges of "improper actions" of harassment of citizens who signed the recall petition.
 The statement says, in part: "For information of the councilmen, to my knowledge no public officials of the city of Gooding have harassed or otherwise in spirit of malice or vindictiveness used his office against any person who may have signed any petition for recall of the mayor."
 "No city official of Gooding to my knowledge has requested any persons signing the petitions to remove his name or cause his name to be removed except that the mayor directly contacted three persons, whom he believed were his friends, and asked them because of such friendship and not to make any agreement with any person relating either to my own personal political problems or to any political issues or problems now pending before this council."
 The mayor was referring to the vacancy resulting from the resignation of Pal Klingler two weeks ago. James Alastra, Gooding banker, was named to fill the post Monday night.

2 small children injured

TWIN FALLS — Two small children were treated for cuts and bruises Tuesday afternoon after they reportedly fell from a pickup truck.
 Kelly Martinez, 4, was treated for knee injuries and Colby Akers, 8 months, for face and knee abrasions. Both were released after treatment at Magic Valley Memorial Hospital.
 Reports indicated the children were riding with their mother, Mrs. Wallace Akers, when the door of the vehicle came open as she turned a corner at a slow rate of speed.
 The two children rolled out of the vehicle to the pavement.
 The accident occurred at about 11:15 a.m. Tuesday at the intersection of Eastland Drive and Sugar Factory Road, Sheriff Paul Corder said. Mrs. Akers took the children to the hospital.

Filer school budget discussed

FILER — Trustees for the Filer School District discussed the school budget at a special meeting Monday evening at the high school.
 Trustee Leo Gehring will meet with Ray Baker, superintendent, and principals Bill Heaps and Edwin Marshall to finalize the budget and prepare it for the board's approval.
 The unified session program has been dropped from the budget due to lack of funds.
 The trustees hired Janet Burdick, Twin Falls, to teach Spanish and English at the high school.
 Permission was given Charles Showers to farm the school land behind the elementary school.
 Contracts will be offered to the teachers by the first of May.

American party meet planned

RUPERT — An American Party organizational meeting is scheduled for 8 p.m. Friday in the Law Enforcement building conference chambers at Rupert.
 Party officials said purpose of the meeting is to organize the party in Minidoka County for the 1976 election and "save America through Idaho." Interested persons from Rupert, Paul and Aquelea areas are invited.

Organizational meet set

BUHL — There will be an organizational meeting Friday in the VFW Hall at 8 p.m. to form a St. Andrews Society of Southern Idaho. People of Scottish descent or people who are married to Scottish people may apply for membership. Purpose of the society is to perpetuate the customs and music, dress and dancing of Scotland.

TF woman injured

TWIN FALLS — Laurene Larsen, 21, Twin Falls, suffered cuts and bruises in a traffic accident Tuesday morning at the intersection of Shoup Avenue and Carney Street.
 City police said Mrs. Larsen was traveling east on Shoup and collided with a vehicle driven by Georgia M. Harris, 60, Twin Falls, who was traveling north on Carney.
 Mrs. Larsen was cited for failure to yield right of way.

TF man listed 'fair'

TWIN FALLS — Bruce Glandon, 58, Twin Falls, remains in fair condition at Magic Valley Memorial Hospital after suffering injuries in a fall from a utility pole.
 Glandon was injured Friday afternoon when he fell from the pole and struck a steel fence post. He is employed by Magic Valley Cable Vision.

Judge orders dike removed

By BART QUESNEL
 Times-News writer
 HAILEY — Fifth District Judge Douglas Kramer has ruled a dike constructed on a subsidiary channel of Big Wood River by a Ketchum man must be removed.
 Kramer made the decision Tuesday, one month after a three-day trial hearing of a suit brought by the state of Idaho and Tom and Lynn Campion against Owen Simpson, Ketchum, who blocked the channel of the river.
 The Idaho attorney general's office had filed suit in 1973 contending Simpson was trespassing on state land and was causing a public nuisance. The Campions in a $140,000 civil suit in June last year contended Simpson's acts had caused floodwaters to be diverted against their property, located downstream from Simpson, about a mile south of the Warm Springs Bridge.
 Fifth District Court had consolidated the two cases.
 Kramer declared the Big Wood River a navigable body of water and that the state of Idaho owns the bed of the river. Simpson, consequently, was trespassing on state land, Kramer said this morning.
 The dike was partially to blame in the damage to Campion's property, Kramer said, although most of the damage was due to flooding conditions. He awarded the Campions $500 punitive and $500 damage costs.
 In addition, he said Simpson will have to remove the dike and pay the expense of removal under the supervision of the Idaho Land Board.
 Attorneys for the plaintiffs had argued Simpson in effect had blocked two channels, one running around a small island, another smaller stream flowing west into Warm Springs Creek.
 Kramer ruled Simpson blocked only one channel going around the island. The state has until Oct. 1 of this year to order Simpson to abate the nuisance.

Defender request denied at Rupert

RUPERT — A husband and wife charged with the torture-murder of his mother were turned down in their request for a public defender.
 Ernest and Griselda Rufener, Rupert, were arraigned Tuesday before Magistrate Jerry Wegman on charges of first degree murder, first degree kidnaping and felonious embezzlement.
 The two are accused of the death of Anna Marie Rufener, 77, Ernest's mother.
 Wegman ruled the two had assets that could be converted to cash for their defense.
 According to charges brought by Minidoka County Pros. Atty. William Manning, the two defendants murdered Rufener's mother by "means of a prolonged, calculated, premeditated, malicious and systematic torture which included repeated beatings..." which culminated in her death by strangulation by a chain which had been bolted around her neck for the purpose of "...secretly confining, detaining and imprisoning (her) against her will... for the purpose of extortion..."
 The charges state the defendants embezzled about $5,000 from Mrs. Rufener.
 In Idaho, conviction of first degree murder or first degree kidnaping carries with it a mandatory death sentence.
 The Rufeners are being held without bail in the Minidoka County jail.
 In testimony given before a coroner's jury, Ernest said he had occasionally struck his wife with an open hand but had never kicked her.
 Rufener said he could not explain bruises found on his mother's leg and thigh after her death.
 The story was first made public by the Rufeners before a coroner's jury the first of April.
 At the time, the Rufeners told how they had doted a six-foot low chain around the neck of Anna Marie and secured the other end to her bed.
 The Rufeners said the woman was restrained "for her own protection." The defendants said they usually released or exercised the woman daily during the four months she was chained to the bed. However, for the two-week period preceding her death, the woman was never unchained from the bed, they stated.
 Ernest said his mother had inherited a $33,000 estate from his father but that he did not consider using the money for his mother. Instead, he said he spent most of the money on himself or for the purchase of property in Seattle.
 Through mismanagement, Rufener said, he lost most of the money invested.
 However, Rufener said some of the money had been invested in a Seattle tavern, Tuesday Wegman said $13,000 equity in the tavern could be converted to cash to pay for the Rufeners' defense.
 Six weeks before his mother's death, Rufener said he had $500 from the sale of property purchased with his mother's money. Rufener said he spent the money on himself, buying a car and paying off bills.
 Wegman ruled the car was a liquid asset which could be sold to help pay for the Rufeners' defense.

TF trustee vote scheduled

TWIN FALLS — Two trustee seats are up for grabs in the Twin Falls School Board election scheduled for May 20.
 The trustee posts in Zone 5 (the southwest portion of the district) and Zone 2 (the southeast portion) will be decided. Dr. Howard Ronk, chairman of the school board, is currently the Zone 5 representative and Richard Sayers is the Zone 2 trustee.
 Sayers told the Times-News Tuesday he will not seek re-election. Ronk said he will file for re-election.
 J. T. Anderson, clerk of the school district, today said no nominating petitions for the two seats have been filed.
 The petitions, which must bear the name of a candidate and the signatures of at least five qualified electors, must be filed with Anderson by 5 p.m. on May 2. Candidates must be residents in the zone they wish to represent.
 Both trustee posts carry three-year terms.
 Voting will be restricted to Zones 2 and 5. For example, residents of Zone 2 will vote for candidates seeking the Zone 2 seat.
 The polling places will be Bickel and Lincoln Elementary Schools. Polls will be open from 1 p.m. to 6 p.m.

Drill almost real thing

RUPERT — A Rupert disaster drill nearly turned into the real thing Tuesday when an ambulance carried six victims of the simulated disaster was involved in an accident.
 None of the volunteers were hurt.
 Rudy Howard, Mini-Cassia Ambulance Service, said the drill was a joint effort of the ambulance service, local police and Minidoka Memorial Hospital.
 The goal of the program was to test the reaction of the several emergency health care units to a disaster involving a number of injuries, Howard said.
 But in the midst of the drill an ambulance driven by city patrolman Ron Hamlet and carrying six high school student volunteers collided with a car.
 Minidoka County Deputy Sheriff Ray Jarvis said the car was driven by Gordon Cresse, Rupert.
 Jarvis said the ambulance was headed west on Eighth Street when Cresse pulled out from a stop sign on "B" Street into the path of the ambulance.
 No one was injured in the real accident. Jarvis said Cresse was cited for failure to yield to a stop sign, Jarvis said.

Burley probes rape cases

BURLEY — Burley city police are investigating two rape cases reported within three days.
 Detective Capt. Pete Rodriguez said the first incident was reported Saturday night by an 18-year-old woman who said she was assaulted while walking from downtown Burley to her home.
 She told police a white male accosted her near an abandoned service station at the corner of Main and Occidental.
 Police have no suspect in the case but are still investigating.
 The second case was reported by a 24-year-old Albion woman. She told police she was raped in Burley.
 However, today Rodriguez said the Albion woman was refusing to cooperate with police. The woman would not say where or when the assault took place, he said.
 "We're not sure it's a case of rape," Rodriguez said.

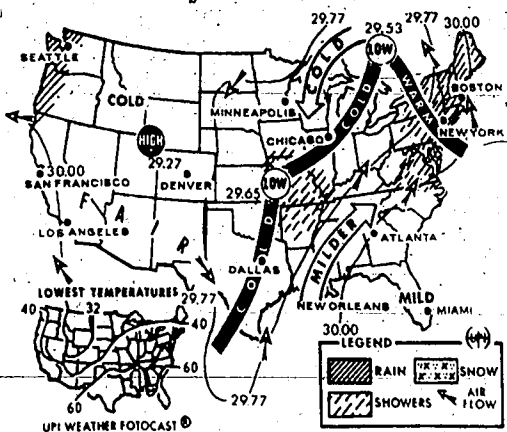

Enrollment begins today

TWIN FALLS — Kindergarten enrollment for next fall begins today in School District 411.
 School officials have asked parents of children who will be five years old on or before Oct. 15 to register them for the kindergarten program. Children who will be six years old on or before Oct. 15 may be registered for the first grade.
 Registration begins today from 8 a.m. to 4:30 p.m. and will continue during the same hours on Thursday, Friday, Monday and Tuesday. Parents may register children either by phone or in person at the school the child will be attending.
 Schools and their telephone numbers are Bickel, 733-4118; Harrison, 733-4229; Lincoln, 733-1311; Morningside, 733-6507, and Washington, 733-8454.
 Washington school will be replaced by next fall by the new Sawtooth Elementary school, but parents of students in the Sawtooth zone are asked to enroll students through Washington school.
 Parents who need information concerning the school zone in which their children should attend can call the District Office at 733-8900.
 School district officials emphasize that students should be registered now in order that the number of rooms and teachers needed for the kindergarten program can be determined.
 The kindergarten classes will be held for two-and-one-half hours each school day, either in the morning or the afternoon. Classes will begin Aug. 15.
 Bus transportation for kindergarten students will be provided unless the children live close enough to walk to the school.
 In addition to registration, parents are encouraged to have children examined by a physician and given necessary immunization shots before classes begin.

Congress may lose farm bill veto fight

WASHINGTON (UPI) — Congress is probably facing defeat in its effort to legislate an increase in 1975 farm supports over the opposition of President Ford and Agriculture Secretary Earl Butz, a top Democratic farm spokesman conceded.

Butz has indicated Ford's expected veto of an emergency one-year support increase bill, scheduled for passage in the House next fall, is probably approval last week would probably be quickly followed by administrative action granting smaller hikes in price support loan rates for wheat and feed grains.

Chairman Thomas S. Foley, D-Wash., of the House Agriculture Committee told a meeting of newspaper farm editors Monday night that passage of the bill today would be "virtually automatic." But Foley added, "I'm skeptical of our ability to override a veto."

Butz, also appearing before the Newspaper Farm Editors of America Monday, said Ford had told him directly the bill would be vetoed and predicted "I think we'll sustain a veto... the count is with us."

Butz said, however, that "I think we should, and I think we will" act administratively to grant what he termed "substantial" increases in scheduled 1975 support loan rates for wheat and feed grains. Current supports, he said, are "unrealistically low" and hikes would encourage bankers and businessmen to grant normal credit to farmers.

The bill also would raise soybean supports, which were $2.25 a bushel last year, to $3.94 and would increase milk supports to 80 per cent of the "fair earning power" parity price, or $7.31 a hundredweight, up 7 cents from the current level.

The legislation also would increase "target prices" for wheat from the present $2.05 a bushel to $3.10; for corn from the present $1.38 a bushel to $2.25; and for cotton from 38 cents a pound to 45 cents.

Those levels, which serve to trigger federal deficiency subsidies to farmers if markets dip below the target rate, would be unchanged if a veto is sustained, Butz indicate.

The secretary said he was dubious about administrative increases for cotton and dairy products, but hinted action might be considered for soybeans and said it might be "politically difficult" to leave cotton out.

Backers of the legislation have contended it is needed to protect farmers against economic collapse. The administration has opposed it on grounds it would increase the budget deficit and because Butz fears it would eventually lead to a return to an era of subsidies—and government controls.

Foley said the House, which would have to act first on overriding a veto, undoubtedly will make the effort even if prospects appear shaky at best.

If an override fails, he said, farm leaders will move on to an omnibus farm bill for consideration later this year, including features which could range from another attempt to hike farm supports to changes in the food stamp program.

He said farm lawmakers than will have to decide whether to negotiate acceptable farm program revisions with the administration or to tailor a "veto proof" bill.

In a final effort to rally support for the emergency farm bill, Foley and the ranking House Agriculture Committee Republican, Rep. William C. Wampler, R-Va., Monday sent a letter to all House members urging the bill "on earnest effort to fashion legislation which would be beneficial both to farmers and consumers." The final bill was virtually identical to an earlier House-passed version Senate-House conference committee scrapped almost all of a costlier three-year Senate version in hopes of averting a veto.

Stress hits Idaho stock

BOISE (UPI) — Idaho livestock continue to show some stress from the extended winter and shortage of hay is becoming more widespread, the state Crop and Livestock Reporting Service said today.

The agency said hay was becoming short as pastures that normally are being returned to produce excellent forage at this time of the year remain covered by snow or are too wet for livestock use.

Growth on pastures in all areas of the state, except the southwest, has been retarded by the abnormally long winter weather, the agency said.

It also reported that calving and lambing losses continue to be reported but have stabilized somewhat in most areas.

Favorable weather conditions during the week ending April 18 allowed field work and planting operations to pick up. Spring work is most advanced in the southwest areas with crops making fairly good development.

The service noted that soil moisture supplies continue to be above normal and warm weather is needed in most parts of the state to dry heavier soils.

Forecast dates set

BOISE (UPI) — The Statistical Reporting Service announced today it will release acreage planted estimates and harvest forecasts for 1975 late in June rather than July.

Richard Max of the Idaho Corp. Reporting Service said this was being done to provide the information sooner to aid farmers with marketing, policy, program and other decisions associated with the current marketing season.

The fall potato acreage, including Idaho, will not be released until Aug. 11.

IF YOU'VE HEARD THIS BEFORE, WHY HAVEN'T YOU DONE IT?

Once a year, even if you're feeling terrific, see your doctor for a checkup. A checkup can detect cancer before any signs or symptoms appear. And early enough for your doctor to do something about it. For adults, a complete physical checkup, from head to toe should include a prostate. And for women, a Pap test for detecting cancer of the cervix. If there's something wrong, your doctor can find it. If nothing is wrong—great. Don't be afraid. Cancer is one of the most curable of the major diseases in the U.S. today. But it must be caught early. Get a checkup today. Even if you never felt better. If's what you don't know that can hurt you.

Oil firm curtails search

PITTSBURGH (UPI) — Gulf Oil Co. said today it would drastically reduce its oil and natural gas exploration because of actions of a "vindictive" Congress.

B. R. Dorsey, chairman of the board, told the annual shareholders' meeting that the firm's 1974 earnings totaled more than $1 billion on revenues of $18.2 billion, a record.

"We discovered more new oil and gas reserves within the U.S. than in any year in a decade and recorded significant discoveries in the North Sea and Canada as well," Dorsey said.

He said during the past two years Gulf has spent $1.1 billion searching for and developing U.S. oil and gas supplies but said that "we will no longer be able to maintain this accelerated exploration pace."

"We had hoped that the vindictive mood in Congress would dissipate as oil became more plentiful, as profits passed their peak and as Congress recognized the tremendous need for future capital investments in energy supplies," he said. "Unfortunately, that has not been the case."

"It seems incredible," he continued, "but instead of investigating the nation against Arab embargo by stopping investments in joint U.S. energy reserves, Congress has weakened the drive toward independence by bleeding off $2 billion in oil depletion funds. Gulf's share of this additional tax burden will be about $80 million this year, rising to $110 million in 1977."

Dorsey said the additional taxes brought about by the elimination of the oil depletion allowance would come from funds previously earmarked for oil and gas exploration.

Dorsey also criticized Congress for passage of the 1975 tax reduction bill and urged President Ford to veto a surface mining and control reclamation bill should it be approved by Congress.

Dorsey reported that earnings for the first quarter of this year fell 33 per cent to $185 million, and he said he sees "little in the horizon which leads me to look for much improvement."

Filer students screened

FILER — The Filer Elementary School is sponsoring a pre-school screening in conjunction with the Child Development Center Friday.

The screening for all children entering the first grade in Filer this fall will include speech, hearing, motor and academic readiness. Children must be 6 years old by Oct. 15 to enter first grade. Parents are requested to contact the Filer school at 226-4368 for an appointment.

Results of the screening will be provided to each parent at the time of screening, according to Tijuana Cochauer, Child Development Center.

Bandits murder woman

SACRAMENTO, CALIF. (UPI) — A woman customer depositing church collection money in a bank was shot to death without reason Monday during a $13,000 robbery by four "raving and raving" bandits, including a woman.

Sheriff's deputies said they had no clues to the identities of the robbers, who wore ski masks during the holdup at a Carmichael branch of the Crocker National Bank.

The victim, Mrs. Myrna Lee Opsahl, 42, wife of a surgeon, was hit by a blast from a 12-gauge shotgun "for no reason and without provocation" as the bandits entered the bank, sheriff's spokesman Bill Miller said.

She was hit at close range as the robbers ordered everyone to lie on the floor. Mrs. Opsahl died of a wound in the left midsection at American River Hospital, where her husband, Trygve, was at work.

Opsahl said his wife went to the bank to deposit weekend collections from the church their family attended.

Students beautify Malta

MALTA — Malta elementary and high school students are planning a "Beautify the City of Malta" campaign, with the cooperation of church and civic organizations.

Students will be available for such jobs as painting, building or tearing down fences, raking and burning weeds and trash, hauling garbage, trimming trees and bushes and other spring cleaning chores.

Survey slips are being distributed by students to determine what type of work needs to be done.

Helping with the project are Kenneth Crilling, Malta High School principal; Marlon Shidan, high school student body president; Mrs. Vernon Tracy, chairman of the President's Environmental Committee for the LDS church; and Don Carson, representing the Malta Lions Club.

Taking a flying leap
LUNGING Dave Meyers of Pocatello couldn't put the tag on Twin Falls' Gene Turley (15) after bobbling a grounder Tuesday afternoon. Twin Falls took a pair of 2-1 decisions in the eastern division; SIC, doubleheader.

TF takes pair from Pocatello

Bruce Hilt and Gary Huff provided the hitting and Randy Persinger and Scott Williams the pitching Tuesday when the Twin Falls Bruins took a doubleheader from Pocatello.

Bird's triple with two out in the first inning gave Twin Falls a 2-1 decision as Persinger threw a two-hitter. Williams also won 2-1 as Huff scored one run and Bob Woods plated Bird with the second one.

Persinger brought in the first run in the opener, living on an error, moving to third on Kenyon's single and scoring on a passed ball. He made that stand up until Meyers got a twoener that rolled for a block

CSI splits with Utah, eyes Ricks

SALT LAKE CITY — College of Southern Idaho's Golden Eagles and University of Utah traded 8-3 decisions as the Eagles went through their final tunic before a showdown series with Ricks College.

CSI will travel to Heber Thursday for a twin bill with the Vikings returning the doubleheader Saturday tentatively set for 4 and 6 p.m. at Jaycee diamond.

The winner of that series will become eligible to advance to the regional finals next month.

Utah came up with an eight-run outburst in the fourth inning of the first game to wipe out a 2-0 CSI lead. Kevin Murphy homered in the third to provide most of the CSI fireworks.

But the Utes jumped on reliever Billy Hayes for three consecutive hits to open the fourth and then rolled away.

In the nightcap, CSI broke a 3-1 tie on a squeeze bunt by Mike Gilbert that plated Scott Becker.

Utah took a 3-1 lead into the fifth inning when Jack Fandl walked, Mike Trammel cracked a double and Becker walked to load the bases.

Shagon Jenkins singled in two runs and Gilbert's hunt then plated Becker.

In the seventh, two walks, an error and singles by DePasquale and Fandl scored four more Eagle runs.

WR wins five-way track meet

GOODING — The Wood River Wolverines set five school records Tuesday afternoon in defeating five teams during a track meet at Gooding.

Despite the easy victory by the Wolverines, Camas County sounded a warning note to A-3 competitors that it will be tough to handle in district.

Elmer turned in a sharp 10.1 100-yard dash, the Mustangs picked up two relays and Ben and Bob Stroud took double points — Ben two victories — out of the distances.

Heuston paced Wood River with victories in the weights while Louis Quesnell won a tight 220-yard dash with a fine 2:5 clocking.

Team scoring — Wood River 37; Mountain Home 24; Camas County 21; Fairchild 18; Gooding State 15; Shoshone 12; Burley 10; Mountain Home 8; Wendell 7; Bliss 6; Shoshone 5; Burley 4; Mountain Home 3; Wendell 2; Bliss 1.

Murtaugh preps for conference meet

MURTAUGH — The Murtaugh boys warmed up for the Magic Valley Conference track championship Tuesday by waltzing away from five teams while the Hansen girls topped Murtaugh and Raft River in a triangular.

Murtaugh, which hosts the league test Friday, had much too much depth for its opponents. Wade Quesnell turned in probably the best performance, a 42.9 in the intermediate.

Celtics trip Houston 122-116, stretch playoff lead to 3-1

HOUSTON (UPI) — Paul Westphal came off the bench to score eight points late in the first quarter and spark Boston, behind the rebounding of Dave Cowens and Don Chaney's 31 points, to a 122-116 victory over Houston which sends the Celtics home with a 3-1 NBA playoff series lead.

Boston trailed by nine points before Westphal, a third year guard from Southern Cal, replaced John Havlicek with eight minutes gone. Boston narrowed its deficit to three at the quarter and then blitzed the Rockets 20-4 in a six minute span of the second quarter.

Five Boston players scored four points during the surge, but the biggest difference was on the boards. Cowens got seven rebounds in the second period and totaled 24 rebounds to go with his 31 points.

Havlicek, coming back after his breather in the first half, played most of the second half and wound up with 22 points.

Houston, with Rudy Tomjanovich's pair of three point plays, ran off nine straight points for a 25-18 lead early in the game. Tomjanovich scored 25 points to go with Calvin Murphy's 25 and Mike Newlin's 31.

Cowens, held to only eight points in Houston's only win of the series last Saturday, dominated the lane in limiting Houston centers Kevin Kunnert and Steve Hawes to a total of 16 points.

Houston scrambled in the last few minutes to make the final score closer.

Pocatello has title

Pocatello's Indians won the eastern division, SIC, golf title Tuesday afternoon in one of the closest prep matches ever held on the munny course.

Only 24 strokes separated the six teams. Pocatello had 319, Highland 314, Twin Falls, 319, Idaho Falls, 323, Skyline, 333 and Minico 334.

Freshman Dana Collard of Highland was medalist at 72.

Twin Falls — Dodson '78, Empey '80, Klussen '80, Latham '81, Courtwright '82, and Minico — Coll '81, Hayden '81, Antone '85, Hieb '87 and Temple '83.

Twin Falls placed third at Idaho Falls, Pocatello winning that one with 321, followed by Idaho Falls 329, Twin Falls 330, and Rigby 375. Jay Empey medaled at 75.

Indiana drops Denver 131-124

DENVER (UPI) — Guard Billy Keller came off the bench early in the second quarter to rally Indiana and rookie forward Billy Knight poured in 44 points Tuesday night to lead the Pacers to a 131-124 win over Denver and even the ABA Western Division finals at one game apiece.

It was only Denver's third loss in 47 home games this year and marked the second time Indiana has beaten the Nuggets in the Arena. The Pacers beat Denver 122-107 March 22.

The series moves to Indianapolis Thursday and Friday nights and returns to Denver for the fifth game Sunday. The winner of the playoff meets the winner of the ABA Eastern Division playoff between St. Louis and Kentucky for the ABA title.

While Knight, who had 27 points in the first half, was grabbing three rebounds, Pacer workhorse George McGinnis, who averaged 38 points in Indiana's 4-2 playoff win over San Antonio and had 39 in the first game at Denver, scored 18 and had six rebounds.

Warriors slip ahead of Supersonics 3-2

SEATTLE (UPI) — Rookie-of-the-Year Keith Wilkes hit 24 points Tuesday night to lead Golden State to an easy 124-100 victory over the Seattle Supersonics and give the Warriors a 3-2 lead in their NBA Western Conference semifinal playoff.

The Warriors move to Seattle Thursday night for the sixth game in their best-of-seven series.

Wilkes, a former UCLA All-American who received the Rookie-of-the-Year award from only Monday, hit eight points in the first half and ran off a dozen points in the third quarter before he was pulled with four fouls. He got his final four points in the last stanza.

The Warriors jumped to a 32-17 lead at the end of the first quarter and the second quarter, was nearly even with the score 57-46 at the half.

Golden State came out firing in the third quarter, dominating the boards while Wilkes led a hot-shooting show that broke it open to a 91-67 margin after the third stanza.

The final quarter was highlighted by Rod Dierline's 15 points after coming off the Supersonics' bench. The only help he got was from veteran Archie Clark, who had eight points.

Clark, Fred Brown and Dierline wound up with 15 apiece to lead the weak Sonics attack.

Johnson named NBA 1975 coach of year

NEW YORK (UPI) — Phil Johnson, who led the Kansas City-Omaha Kings into the National Basketball Association playoffs in his first full season as a head coach, was named Tuesday the NBA Coach of the Year for 1975.

NBA Commissioner Walter Kennedy said Johnson, 33, received 21 of the 54 votes cast by the panel of sportswriters and broadcasters, three from each of the 18 member cities, after taking the Kings into their first postseason competition since 1967, when they were known as the Cincinnati Royals in 1967.

Golden State's Al Attles, who guided the Warriors into their first division title since 1967, was the runner-up with 10 votes as a record number of 11 coaches received at least one mention.

K.C. Jones of Washington finished third in the 13th annual balloting with five votes, followed by Bill Fitch of Cleveland and Bill van Breda Kolff of New Orleans with four each. Houston's Johnny Egan polled three votes, Boston's Tom Heinsohn a and Philadelphia's Gene Shue each received two votes and Buffalo's Jack Ramsay, Seattle's Bill Russell and Portland's Lenny Wilkens got one each.

"Making the playoffs was our goal this year," said Johnson, and his team accomplished that objective. The Kings finished second in the Midwest Division and posted the third best record in the Western Conference. Currently they are battling the Chicago Bulls in the Western Conference semifinal round, with the Bulls leading three games to two.

"I've coached since I was 21 years old and I've never had a group of players who played together like this team," Johnson said. "They've taken what I've given them and still wanted more hard work because they have the desire to win. Philadelphia's Gene Shue received two votes and Buffalo's Jack Ramsay, Seattle's Bill Russell and Portland's Lenny Wilkens got one each.

Johnson assumed the coaching position for Kansas City-Omaha in November, 1973, after Bob Cousy resigned. The Kings won 27 of 57 games the rest of the way and, this season, compiled a 44-38 record.

Johnson will receive his trophy Wednesday at Kemper Arena in Kansas City when the Kings meet the Bulls in the sixth game of their series.

Ray Scott of Detroit was last year's recipient.

NFL talks making progress

WASHINGTON (UPI) — Negotiators for the pro football players and the owners bargained throughout the day Tuesday in a renewed effort to settle their prolonged contract dispute that precipitated a costly strike last year.

Subcommittee teams from both sides convened at the headquarters of the Federal Mediation and Conciliation Service in the morning and continued almost without break through the afternoon on player working conditions. Other subcommittees from the NFL Players Association and the NFL Management Council were expected to meet soon on such issues as pensions, grievance procedures and general contract terms, including minimum pay.

The two sides talked for seven hours and James Secaree, deputy director of the Federal Mediation Service, described the session as "a very good meeting." The negotiators identified the issues involved and had in-depth discussions. He said more meetings on player working conditions by the two subcommittees are planned for "the near future," and added that similar subcommittees to deal with player pensions should be under way early next week.

In advance of the new talks — the first formal bargaining sessions since a players strike ended last August without a contract settlement — Secaree expressed hope that progress could be made.

"I'm encouraged," he commented. "I think we're headed in the right direction for an agreement."

At the outset of the new talks, Secaree met briefly and separately with the players' contingent and the owners' group, and then left the two four-man subcommittees alone to try to reach some sort of agreement. That both sides continued their bargaining until late afternoon was viewed as encouraging.

John Thompson, outgoing executive director of the owners' council, and his designated successor, Gilbert Karch, New York Giant owner Wellington Mara, and the Minnesota Vikings' Jim Finks represented the management team. Dick Bertleson, chief assistant to NFLPA Executive Director Ed Garvey, union vice president Kermit Williamson, were the chief bargainers for the players.

Vandalism hits superdome

NEW ORLEANS (UPI) — Builders of the $163 million Louisiana Superdome said Tuesday a 12-week outbreak of vandalism costing $200,000 to repair threatened to delay the scheduled Aug. 1 completion date.

Robert Morgan, construction director for Huber, Hunt and Nichols, and Blount Brothers Construction Co., blamed the vandalism on construction employees apparently unhappy over union problems at the building site.

Colonels fans blasted

LOUISVILLE, Ky. (UPI) — Noting that attendance for their playoff games has fallen off by more than 50 per cent from the regular season, Kentucky Colonels officials wondered aloud Tuesday how Louisville could ever qualify for a big-league city.

"It's just disgraceful the way our attendance has dropped off in the playoffs," said Colonels publicity director John Y. Hamilton. "I'll bet we would be drawing twice as much — 13,000 or 14,000 a game — if we were playing the New York Nets instead of St. Louis in this series."

Eagles trade Dempsey

PHILADELPHIA (UPI) — The Philadelphia Eagles announced Tuesday they had traded kicker Tom Dempsey to the Los Angeles Rams for a future undrafted draft choice.

Dempsey, who last year made 26 of 30 extra points and hit on 10 of 16 field goals, holds the NFL record for the longest field goal, a kick of 63 yards made in 1970 while with the New Orleans Saints.

Cox may retire

BUFFALO, Minn. (UPI) — Minnesota Vikings placekicker Fred Cox says he hasn't decided if he will return for the 1975 season or work fulltime at his chiropractic office.

Cox, who ranks right behind Lou Groza among the game's best placekickers, opened the Cox Chiropractic Clinic at Buffalo, Minn., in February.

Viking Coach Bud Grant is figuring on Cox's return for a 13th straight season.

Ali might fight Frazier again but not for paltry $3 million

NEW YORK (UPI) — Muhammad Ali may yet fight Joe Frazier for a third time — but it certainly won't be at New York's Madison Square Garden for a "paltry" $3 million.

That was the amount offered the heavyweight champion to meet Frazier Sept. 15 according to an announcement by the Garden Tuesday but, in the words of Ali's manager Herbert Muhammad, "It's a little ridiculous, don't you think?"

In explaining his ridicule of the offer, Muhammad pointed out that Ali received $2.5 million plus for his first bout against Frazier in 1971 at the Garden when his fighter wasn't even champion and, as challenger, he received $5 million when he regained the crown by knocking out George Foreman in eight rounds last October in Zaire.

"I received a letter from the Garden last week notifying me of the offer," said Muhammad in a telephone interview from his home in Chicago. "But I didn't even dignify it with an answer. I don't know why they revealed their offer today without even waiting for an answer from me."

"Ali definitely won't get in the ring with Frazier at the Garden for $3 million."

Muhammad went on to say he has an offer of $5 million plus for Ali to defend his crown against either Foreman or Frazier in Cairo, Egypt, in late September or early October. Also on record, according to Muhammad are three separate offers of $3 million each for Ali to meet European champion Joe Bugner in either Europe, the Dominican Republic or Malaysia plus an offer for the champion to face Frazier in New Orleans.

"I'll decide which offer to accept after Ali gets past Ron Lyle in Las Vegas next month," added Muhammad, referring to Ali's next title defense on May 16 which will be shown on home television.

"This is the most money ever offered by the Garden for a boxing match," said Garden president Mike Burke after revealing his offer of $3 million to Ali and $1.5 to Frazier to meet in the Garden for a third time.

PLACE KICKER Bob Plourd had no credentials but his determination in climbing a fence and outrunning two security guards landed him a professional contract with the Baltimore Colts. General manager Joe Thomas gave him a try and Plourd, 21, still with ladders on his feet, booted the ball 50 yards and won the job. (UPI Telephoto).

Buhl golfers get tight win

GOODING — The Buhl Indians nipped Jerome 347-348 Tuesday afternoon to claim a six-way high school golf match over the Gooding course.

Flier's Doug McKay took medalist honors with an eight-over-par 71.

Team scores include Buhl 217, Jerome 248, Gooding 351, Flier 367, Kimberly 371 and Twin Falls Jaycees 380. Most of the teams will play Tuesday at Jerome.

Connors wants court resurfaced

LAS VEGAS, Nev. (UPI) — Bill Riordan, manager of tennis star Jimmy Connors, said Tuesday legal action might be filed this week to force the resurfacing of tennis courts to be used in the $250,000 match with Australian John Newcombe.

Riordan said Connors' attorneys would arrive in Las Vegas Wednesday and associate with a local law firm in filing show cause action against Newcombe.

The purpose of the legal maneuver will be to force Newcombe to keep his contractual agreement to play Connors on a "new, supreme court" surface, said Riordan.

The $250,000 winner-take-all competition is scheduled April 26 in the Caesar's Palace Hotel's indoor tennis pavilion. This present surface of the court is a "supreme court" surface, and it is 2½ months old. It is the same surface on which Connors defeated Rod Laver last February to win $100,000 but Connors still wants a change made for "a new surface" that would be "rougher in composition."

Connors, who arrived in Las Vegas Tuesday, said if the situation were not resolved he would leave.

Speaker set for Altrusa fete

TWIN FALLS — Paula Hollifield will be featured speaker at the Twin Falls Altrusa Club's Founder's Day Banquet tonight at the Ropeson Hotel.

Mrs. Hollifield, a speech, drama and English teacher at Filer High School, is a relative newcomer to Twin Falls but has already made a name for herself in education circles, according to Altrusa Club officials. Born and raised in Cambridge, Mass., she received her B.A. degree from Boston College. She received her M.A. degree in public communications at American University, Washington, D.C.

Paula served six and one-half years active duty in the U.S. Army. The first year and a half as a recruiter in North New Jersey, then two years in Japan and then three years as the social aide to the chairman of the Joint chiefs of staff in Washington, D.C. She is presently a captain in the Idaho National Guard.

She is a member of the American Association of University Women, Toastmasters Club, and Magic Valley Little Theatre.

Ola Cannon will serve as mistress of ceremonies for the banquet with the club's girls of the month, scholarship winners and Girls State delegate and their parents as guests. The honored girls will present a short program under the direction of Mrs. Chris Charlton, Twin Falls. High School counselor.

Margaret Watts, Altrusa information chairman, and Mary Helen Perry, vocational service chairman, are in charge of arrangements for the banquet assisted by the international relations committee and the community service committee.

PAULA HOLLIFIELD speaker

Hearing, vision clinic slated

TWIN FALLS — Parents are reminded to bring their pre-school age children to the free hearing and vision clinic at the "Y" Thursday and Friday.

Clinic hours will be from 9 a.m. till 5 p.m. Jay Lloyd, audiologist, trained the volunteers who will operate the audiometers which were provided by Telax and Malco, both Twin Falls.

The clinic is being sponsored by the Delta Gamma Alumni sorority, the Twin Falls Junior Club and the Welcome Wagon.

Installation slated

SHOSHONE — Installation of new officers for Lincoln Chapter Order of Eastern Star will be held at 8 p.m. Tuesday at the Masonic Temple.

The newly elected officers include Mrs. Frank Finlayson, worthy matron; Charles Pendleton, worthy patron; Mrs. Elmer Terry, associate matron; Frank Shaffer, associate patron; Mrs. Charles Pendleton, secretary; Mrs. Arthur Martin, treasurer; Mrs. Gladys Shaw, con- ductress; Mrs. Frank Shaffer, associate conductress.

The public is invited to the open installation.

Talent show set May 2

WENDELL — The Wendell Lions Talent Show May 2 will feature three divisions of competition — adult, high school and junior high and college school and younger.

The contest will begin at 8 p.m. at the Wendell Elementary School auditorium.

The grand prize will be $50 cash. First and second place awards will be given in each division.

Then South played three rounds of clubs, while taking care to ruff the third lead. Next came a diamond-to-dummy's ace and a ruff of the last club. So far so good. West had held four clubs.

South cashed his last two diamonds and once more West had to follow. He led his queen of hearts, overtook with dummy's ace, led another heart and ruffed with the queen of trumps.

West could overruff or under- ruff, but one of his trump tricks had vanished into thin air.

South looked over dummy for a fraction of a second. The hand was solid except for the trump suit and since the game was rubber bridge, South decided to forget about an overtrick and play as safely as possible for the small slam.

He won the heart in his own hand and played his ace of trumps. East showed out and the clinch contract had changed into one that was almost impossible.

"Why don't you give up?" chorled West. "You can't do anything about my trumps."

"Maybe so, maybe not," replied South. "If you hold exactly two hearts, three diamonds and four clubs I'll bring this one home."

You, South, hold: ♠KQ985 ♡A2 ♣K4 ♣Q987

A — six diamonds. Your partner has shown second round heart control. You can now afford to show second round diamond control. Of course, the hand is going to play in spades but if he bids seven you won't be unhappy.

TODAY'S QUESTION

Your partner continues to six spades. What do you do now?

your health

Dear Dr. Thosteson:

I was bitten last summer and the summer before, each time by yellow jackets. Both times shots were given as well as pain pills. Every spot was swollen and red for at least 24 hours. I have been told I was lucky, and that the next time I'm bitten, it could be fatal. Don't the shots do away with the toxic poison? I do not know what kind of shots they were. — Mrs. C.L.H.

It's important for you to know what kind of shots you received. Drugs such as epinephrine or one of the antihistamines are usually given in emergency situations involving insect-bite reactions, and this is very likely what was done in your case. The purpose is to counter the toxin in the venom causing the swelling. The venom also contains irritants which can cause the angry red appearance of the skin around a bite.

However, the point is that this emergency treatment does not confer any immunity against future bites. In fact, successive bite episodes. If you are hypersensitive, could produce even severer reactions. But the odds of your dying are not very high. In one 10-year period in this country, one study revealed, 22 deaths were traceable to yellow-jacket venom reaction.

He faces insect battle.

Dr. George Thosteson

To be desensitized, you must receive a series of carefully measured doses of insect extract. Shots are available that desensitize against several other insect bites simultaneously. You should look into this before the next insect battle looms.

You might presently carry an emergency kit made specifically for persons with sensitivity to such bites. This is especially advisable for persons who work out of doors in the summer and who may have heart problems which can be heightened by a sting reaction.

Dear Dr. Thosteson:

Can you say anything about oral medication for a diabetic? I have a relative who has been taking one of them every day for the past five-and-a-half years. He has had his blood-sugar checked every six months, and the last one read 120 milligrams. I read recently they are finding bad side effects from taking the oral medication. Can you list some of them? This relative is 75. His blood pressure is 120/60. — Mr. W.Z.

There has been some concern about this recently following a group study which suggested that an increase in deaths from heart disease occurred in patients taking certain oral agents. Let me hasten to add, however, that when the medication was judiciously used, no such risk was found. The questions raised by the study have not, I believe, been settled.

I doubt that at 75 your relative is in any danger. The 120 mg. blood sugar reading is normal for him at his age. The blood pressure reading would also be considered normal for him. Blood sugar levels of diabetics tend to be higher than those of younger persons.

If he adheres to a sensible diet, one might even question his need for medication at all. In many cases of "mature onset" diabetes things can be kept pretty well under control by diet alone.

As to the possible side effects you mention, these can include nausea, stomach upset and headache. If your elderly relative does not eat regular meals, he might also develop symptoms of

SAUSAGE HAWAIIAN
1 (20 oz.) can pineapple chunks in pineapple juice
1 (16 oz.) can sweet potatoes, sliced one inch thick
1 (12 oz.) pkg. smoked-link sausages, sliced at one inch intervals
3 tablespoons brown sugar
2 tablespoons cornstarch
1 teaspoon salt
1 tablespoon butter or margarine

Drain pineapple, reserving juice. Add water to juice to make one and one-fourth cups liquid. Arrange pineapple chunks, sweet potatoes and sausages in a 10-by-6 by 1 1/2-inch baking dish.

In a small saucepan, combine brown sugar, cornstarch and salt. Gradually blend in reserved pineapple juice mixture. Cook and stir until thickened and bubbly. Cook and stir one minute more. Remove from heat. Stir in butter. Pour over sausage mixture in casserole.

Cover and bake for 35 to 40 minutes in a 350 degree oven or until heated through. Serves four to six.

Dear Doctor:
Is it possible for a woman to have too small a vaginal opening to use tampons? If so, what can be done about it? — L.T.

Ordinarily not. The vaginal opening can be dilated quite readily. If the hymen is intact, the opening may be relatively small. I suggest you try a coating of plain surgical jelly around the end of the tampon. You should not have any trouble.

DEAR ABBY: An acquaintance of ours is well-bred, refined, extremely well-educated and informed. He would be wonderful company if only he would give somebody else a chance to talk. Whenever this man is in a gathering, he dominates the conversation.
How does one deal with such a person—short of telling him off?

FRUSTRATED

DEAR FRUSTRATED: Avoid him. He may be extremely well-educated and informed, but he is neither well-bred nor refined.

The person who comes into your company and hoggs all the conversation is no less a hog than the person who comes to the table and sets all the food.

Not well-bred nor refined

DEAR ABBY: My wife and I have been married for two years and are ready to start our family. The problem is my wife's weight. She is 5 ft. 3 in. and weighs 160 pounds. I have told her that unless she loses at least 20 pounds, I am not going to impregnate her!

With all the problems women have during, and after pregnancy, I think I'm doing her a favor by insisting that she lose some weight before becoming pregnant.

My wife thinks that I am being unreasonable, but I am sincerely concerned about her health as well as the health of the baby.

Three months ago I laid down the law, "No diet—no baby." So far she hasn't lost an ounce, and she doesn't even try.

What do you think about this?

INDIANA

DEAR IND: While your attitude makes sense, your problem is far "heavier" than 20 pounds of blubber. Why is she punishing you? And why are you punishing her? Don't let baby make three before you are sure you have a reasonably stable marriage.

DEAR ABBY: I have a very beautiful daughter who absolutely refuses to go out with a fellow unless he is at least six feet tall.

What is wrong with her?

Hailey council eyes possible annexation

By BART QUESNELL
Times-News writer

HAILEY — Annexation possibilities of land north of Hailey to prevent commercial expansion surfaced during the regular Hailey City Council meeting Monday night.

Don Angell, city councilman, who also represents Hailey on the Blaine County Planning and Zoning Commission, said the land north of Hailey is zoned commercial under the new county comprehensive plan.

Hailey has advised the county many times it does not want expansion north of town because it would take business away from the city center. The area is zoned residential now, Angell said. The only way to control expansion is to annex the land into the city, he said. The council took no formal action on the proposal.

In other business, Angell asked mayor Lawrence Heagle if he would write a letter to the U.S. Forest Service reaffirming the city's support of the Sawtooth National Recreation Area headquarters building at North Fork.

"I think it could get run out of here," Angell said. "I think they could use any support they can get."

Mayor Heagle and the other council members indicated support of the building. Angell moved that Heagle write a letter to SNRA Supr. Gray Reynolds reaffirming support of the building.

Heagle said he had written a letter of support in 1972 and has not changed his support of the site. The council did not vote on the motion to write the letter.

Bill Burt, chairman of the rural fire department, told council members the rural fire operation should be going in 30 to 40 days.

He asked the City Council if it would send firemen out of the city to rural fires. The Hailey rural district extends north of Hailey to the East Fork road, about six miles north of Hailey.

The council reserved making recommendations until the firemen are asked if they will fight fires in the county. In addition the city must check to see if its insurance is in jeopardy if fire trucks leave the city limits.

Burt said the county commissioners have approved six deputy sheriff cars to carry 20 gallon containers of chemical retardant. The sheriff or a deputy will make a run to the fire first with the small amount of retardant, Burt said.

The sheriff's department will summon the rural fire department if the blaze warrants.

The council voted to allow Hailey Police Chief Dan Norton to purchase a $1200 radar speed gun. Norton has been trying for some time to slow speeders through Hailey's Main Street section. The speed limit through town is 25 miles per hour, which Norton said at times is too fast.

Blaine trustee vote set

HAILEY — The election for a trustee position from zone 5 of the Blaine County School District now held by Dr. Paul Heuston will be May 20 at Hemingway Elementary School.

A person must be a legal voter of the district and a resident of the trustee zone in order to run as a candidate. Applicants must submit to the district clerk a nominating petition not later than May 2, showing not less than five signatures.

Applicants have until May 8 to remove their names from the ballot. Interested persons may call the district office for application forms.

Zone 5 includes generally land lying north of the Warm Springs Road. The zone includes land north of the intersection of Bitterroot Road and Sun Valley Road, southwest along Sun Valley Road and Third Avenue to the Union Pacific Railroad.

The line extends north to the intersection with Warm Springs Road to Big Wood River, then south along theriverto the conjunction of Sabala Street and Foster Addition, then east to the county line.

Polls will open at noon and close at 8 p.m. May 20.

Ketchum changing sewer permit fee

KETCHUM — The city is in the process of changing the sewer hookup permit fee in the light of a recent court decision. The FIFTH DISTRICT COURT here ruled early this year that the building and sewer hookup fees charged by the city "do not bear a reasonable relation to the cost of the regulation."

Clarence Grubb, a Ketchum builder who won the court decision, had paid a building permit fee of $1,234 and sewer hookup fee of $1,200 in April, 1974. He paid the fees under protest and later filed suit contending the fees were set unconstitutionally.

The city in 1974 was charging

$1.75 for each $100 valuation for a building permit and $300 for each sewer hookup.

Grubb approached the City Council again Monday night, demanding his money back. He has been asking the city for at least two months when it would give his money to him.

"I have a favorable opinion from the district court," he said, "this lawsuit has been litigated. You owe me $1,200."

In a letter to the council, he said "the" informality with which the mayor and City Council have handled a formal court action and the time consuming delays which have resulted, prompts me to question the sincerity, ability and integrity of the mayor and City Council to handle public matters and supervise the expenditure of public funds.

"Such informality and inaction certainly raise the question of damage to taxpayers and others affected."

City Atty. Jim Phillips told Grubb the building fee decision of the district court has been appealed to the supreme court. The council, he said, is in the process of passing an ordinance to reset sewer hookup fees.

The new ordinance read for the first time Monday night states there will be two classes of building and sewer permits. There will be one for residential and commercial sewer service and one for sewer service to establishments producing industrial waste.

The permit fee has been set at $100 per hookup under the proposed ordinance for residential and commercial service payable at the time of filing of application.

The amount of the permit and inspection fee for industrial wastes will vary with each permit and shall be established by the city at the time of application.

Meet to discuss improving census

TWIN FALLS — Representatives from Twin Falls will be at Boise State University Monday for a conference that will bring together persons from several southern Idaho towns to discuss ways of improving the 1980 census.

The meeting, which is sponsored by Boise State, the Greater Boise Chamber of Commerce, and the Ada Council of Governments, will begin with a general overview of 1980 census plans by Carolee Bush, a demographic staff assistant for the Bureau of Census.

This talk will be followed by a look at housing and population issues. The participants will discuss the next census for the remainder of the meeting, and adjourn at noon.

Church accuses Amtrak stalling

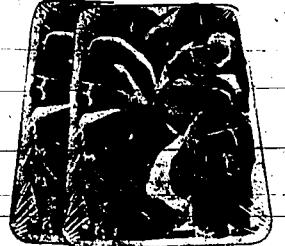

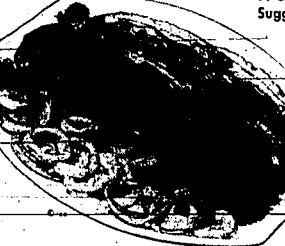

WASHINGTON (UPI) — Sen. Frank Church, D-Idaho, accused the Ford Administration today of stalling to avoid implementing a law which calls for providing Amtrak passenger service in southern Idaho.

"Numerous times in recent years the Congress has been faced with an executive branch which fails to heed or distorts the intent of the law," Church said. "Once again, the administration is dragging its feet — this time on a matter of importance to states seeking railroad passenger service."

Under legislation passed by Congress last year, southern Idaho was designated as an experimental route for Amtrak, a route to be implemented sometime during 1975.

But Church said that nothing has been done so far this year. Meanwhile, the entire body of law creating Amtrak will expire June 30.

FORECAST FOR THURSDAY, APRIL 24, 1975

GENERAL TENDENCIES Avoid confusing conditions at all costs; be receptive to solid and secure plans, methods by means of which you can be successful. Evening favors social events, romantic happiness.

ARIES (Mar. 21 to Apr. 19) Cooperate more with loved one and don't expect to have your own way all the time. Be more generous with gifts. Show understanding to all.

TAURUS (Apr. 20 to May 20) Make your abode more charming—"for" treatise" happiness, better results in entertaining. Buy attractive clothing within your budget.

GEMINI (May 21 to June 21) See persons you like and enjoy pleasures together, have delightful conversations. Doing something thoughtful-for-mate-brings more affection.

MOON CHILDREN (June 22 to July 21) Doing more entertaining within the home is wise since it is safer and more enjoyable. Make small improvements to it first.

LEO (July 22 to Aug. 21) Plan early with congenials for entertainment later in the year. Handle business matters, congressional. Visits bring good results.

VIRGO (Aug. 22 to Sept. 22) Do whatever will make your property more attractive and valuable. Shop around to avail yourself of real bargains. Think.

LIBRA (Sept. 23 to Oct. 22) Planets favor you now, but don't be too forceful in dealing with others. Dress well. Take it easy tonight.

SCORPIO (Oct. 23 to Nov. 21) That puzzling situation can now be solved intelligently. Plan quicker future advancement and then put plan in operation in p.m.

SAGITTARIUS (Nov. 22 to Dec. 21) Some interest needs the aid of a friend, but you have to explain it more thoroughly, or there is trouble later.

CAPRICORN (Dec. 22 to Jan. 20) Be conscientious in career matters. A higher up is in a bad humor, so handle with kid gloves. Attend some nice social affair.

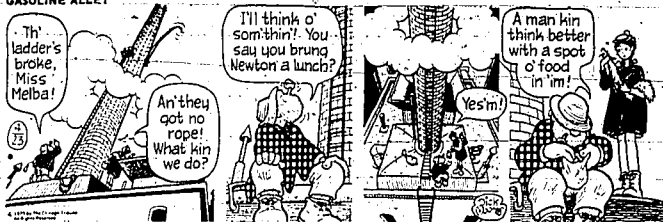

AQUARIUS (Jan. 21 to Feb. 19) Make plans for future; don't go off on any tangents that could spoil them. A new acquaintance can make helpful suggestions.

PISCES (Feb. 20 to Mar. 20) Keep promises made conscientiously for good results. It is vital to make relations with mate more ideal now. Act intelligently.

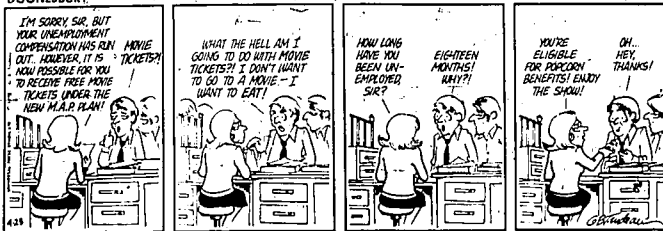

IF-YOUR-CHILD-IS-BORN-TODAY... the gr. she can do much to make the lives of others happier, so slant the education along lines of entertainment, personal embellishment, art, the social amenities, and the like. Teach early not to be too fussy or others could resent this quality. Also teach while young the value of a dollar and how to budget wisely. A fine sport in this chart. Religion important here.

The Stars impel; they do not compel! What you make of your life is largely up to YOU!

Client asks if a husband legally can invite his own mother to join the household even though his wife objects. Evidently so. At least the record of such cases so far would indicate that's the husband's legal right. However, the law tends to side with the wife, if the husband tries to put his mother in charge of the whole shebang.

MAJOR HOOPLE

FAA pledges policy reform

WASHINGTON (UPI)—Criticized by Congress for its slow reaction to air safety recommendations, the Federal Aviation Administration announced Tuesday for a major policy reform to speed the process of updating flight rules.

James E. Dow, the FAA's acting chief, said the agency has spent too much time issuing exemptions to air safety rules when the rules themselves should have been changed.

Citing the time needed to process exemptions as a major factor delaying the revision of outdated or inadequate regulations, Dow proposed new procedures making exemptions harder to obtain by requiring that they be requested six months in advance instead of the present two.

Dow said this longer advance time would lead to less disruption of the FAA's normal rule-making process.

He emphasized, however, that requests genuinely requiring priority handling—such as those related to the Southeast Asia conflict—would be given priority.

He said that the FAA's flights—still would be considered on an expedited basis.

Dow said normal rule making—also would be separated as much as possible from the processing of exemptions. He said that where there are many requests for exemptions to the same rule, he said, consideration will be given to changing the rule itself.

Last year, Dow said, the FAA Flight-Standards Division processed 102 exemptions to existing rules and issued only 22 new or revised rules.

"That says to me we're doing rule-making by exemption," he told a group of reporters.

"We can no longer afford to give all exemption requests, regardless of subject matter, priority handling when that handling results in delaying the issuance of safety regulations."

In a wide-ranging discussion with reporters, the man who took over the FAA April 1 also said:

—Details of his limited immunity program for pilots and air traffic controllers have been worked out and will be published within a few days.

Dow acknowledged there is opposition within the FAA to the program, designed to let pilots and controllers report rules violations or dangerous practices without fear of punishment unless criminal actions or gross misconduct are involved. But he predicted the immunity plan would win general support.

"The time has come for flight controllers to take responsibility for more than just keeping planes from colliding in flight, although that remains their main job," Dow said a controller who sees a pilot flying too low must now warn the pilot. Controllers, he said, are being asked to testify at inquiries into two recent crashes near Washington where aircraft flew too low while trying to land, have objected to such responsibility.

Action promised to 'skill' group

BOISE (UPI)—Idaho's education chief told the initial meeting of the "Superintendent's Commission on Basic Skills" today their recommendations would not "sit" so well as the state's public instruction. Super. Roy Truby told the committee he would expect a report by next fall. The group was appointed to find out how well Idaho school children can read, write and multiply.

Truby said he hoped to combine the committee's recommendations with another study dealing with performance based graduation requirements, in which students would have to know certain basic skills in order to graduate from high school.

Virginia Smith of Boise was named chairman of the new committee.

"We view basic skills as a knowledge of—and ability to—apply communication, computation and life—survival skills," Mrs. Smith said. "The commission feels that competence leads to confidence, and positive attitudes should be preserved in the process of learning."

She said the committee will identify sources of concern about basic skills, gather existing test data and study school needs assessment and evaluations before working on recommendations.

Truby cautioned the committee to make a determination on whether a basic skills problem exists in the schools "before defining solutions."

The next meeting of the statewide 16-member group will be June 19 in Boise.

SAMPLE RECALL BALLOT

REASONS FOR RECALL:

- (1) CONFLICT OF INTEREST — Serving as Mayor and Building Inspector for water.
- (2) NEGLIGENCE OF DUTY: — Failure to enforce City Ordinances when referred to him.

OFFICER'S JUSTIFICATION OF HIS COURSE IN OFFICE:

- (1) The Mayor and Council were aware of conflict of interest to the Mayor holding the position of Building Inspector and that we were advised by the City Lawyer to continue to do so, because we were unable to find a qualified Building Inspector who would take the position.
- (2) Whenever complaints have been referred to me, I have tried my best to find out what the problems were, and to correct them if I could. I have always urged the City Police and the City Council to enforce all ordinances of the City, and to treat everyone equally regardless of who they were. If you will check with the city police, you will find that this is the truth. I have done the best job I can.

TF council eyes one-way streets

TWIN FALLS — Recommendations from the Twin Falls Highway Safety Committee to make Third Street a one-way couplet were reviewed Monday night by the council — referred to the traffic engineer for additional study.

The streets are currently through routes carrying traffic to the city center.

City Manager Jean Miliar requested from the Idaho Division of Highways for city assistance in clearing right-of-way on Second Avenue South and West. The request covers right-of-way encroachment which Miliar said includes such things as un-desired sidewalk areas, sidewalks and basement encroachments.

Council members agreed to handle the matter as it was handled in improvement of the downtown mall area. This involves notification of property owners to either abandon and fill in the storage areas or re-enforce them sufficiently to meet city code requirements.

The council voted to invest, on a short-term basis, the $46,000 received from the state as its share of surplus state funds earmarked for street and highway improvement. Plans for using the funds will be formulated in later City Council meetings. Miliar said new legislation will permit the city to amend the budget to include the $46,000 by holding a public hearing.

The city will again attempt to sell a house it owns behind the city hall. Some time ago the property was purchased for expansion of parking and construction of a new city law enforcement building. An earlier sale of the building failed to materialize.

An agreement of requirements for sewer, water, street and other improvements on new subdivisions was amended by the council. The council will now require a bond to cover the portion of a subdivision being developed in a single phase. No bond will be required until the developer sells a lot or builds a home.

Signing an easement with John Breckenridge for a power line across his property was authorized. The line will serve a proposed traffic signal on the road leading to Snake River Canyon on the south side. The road serves the city sewage treatment and water facilities and private property.

A resolution endorsing the Association of Idaho Cities' stand in favor of continuing the revenue sharing program was adopted by the council.

The city has received $720,000 in revenue sharing and has been able to provide such improvements as the new fire station and plans for a new police building, the resolution states.

Copies of the resolution will go to all of the Idaho congressional delegates. May 4 to 11 was proclaimed as National Music Week by Mayor Winston Jones.

Bakeries queried

WASHINGTON (UPI) — President Ford's inflation monitoring council today asked eight of the nation's largest bakeries to explain why retail prices of bread, cookies and other baked goods have risen while the cost of sugar, milk and other vital ingredients have gone down.

The Council on Wage and Price Stability said it has sent letters to the firms asking for price and cost information on six products — white bread, whole wheat bread, layer cake, cinnamon rolls, cream sandwich cookies and saltine crackers — for each month between January, 1973, and April, 1975.

The council announced earlier it intended to probe price trends in the bakery and cereal industries.

UNITED STATES DEPARTMENT OF THE INTERIOR BONNEVILLE POWER ADMINISTRATION NOTICE OF AVAILABILITY OF DRAFT ENVIRONMENTAL STATEMENT ON BPA PARTICIPATION IN REGIONAL INTERUTILITY COOPERATION

Bonneville Power Administration announces availability of a draft environmental statement entitled "BPA Participation in Regional Interutility Cooperation." This statement covers the continued participation by BPA in regional programs of interutility cooperation, including the performance of functions such as providing bulk power transmission, providing peaking resources from hydro, providing load growth and forced outage reserves, coordinating power operations, and marketing power.

Written comments on the statement will be accepted until May 27, 1975. All comments received will be considered in the preparation of the final environmental statement.

Copies of the draft statement are available for inspection in the library of the BPA office, 1002 NE Holladay Street, Portland, and at the Idaho Falls District Office, 531 Lamox Street, Idaho Falls. Copies also have been placed in Federal depository libraries in the BPA service area and in public libraries in Boise, Burley, and Idaho Falls. A limited number of copies are available by writing to the BPA Environmental Office, Bonneville Power Administration, P.O. Box 3621, Portland, Oregon 97208, or to the Idaho Falls District Office, P.O. Box 2558, Idaho Falls, Idaho 83401.

Private cars cost state $2 million

BOISE (UPI) — State agencies are paying out an estimated $2 million a year for use of private cars on official business, the director of administration said today.

Director D. E. "Skip" Chilberg said the estimate came from a study conducted by Dan R. Pilkington, purchasing administrator, of actual usage for the first seven months of fiscal 1975. Using that base, Pilkington projected the total for the year.

Pilkington said the cost was projected out at the rate of 15 cents per mile. "That $2 million represents some 13 million vehicle miles in private vehicles," Pilkington said. "Further, based upon average yearly use per vehicle of 12,000 miles, that represents some 1,083 vehicles."

"This office is contacting all state agencies who are paying large sums to their employees in order to determine if these payments can be reduced," said Pilkington, who operates the small state motor pool in Boise.

"Historical data shows that we can operate state vehicles at approximately 10 cents per mile," he said.

"This compared to the 15 cents per mile shows that a possible savings in excess of $600,000 could be achieved if we had more state owned vehicles and could reduce the use of privately owned vehicles."

Chilberg said he plans to add additional automobiles to the Boise motor pool and, when regional office centers are established elsewhere in the state, he may buy cars for use in those areas, too. "We will be contacting those agencies that are paying the most private automobile mileage to see if there is any step that can be taken to reduce those costs," Chilberg said.

Q: "What do I feed a dog who doesn't like dog food?"

A: First, open a can of Blue Mountain Beef Chunks or Horse Meat Chunks. But don't let your dog see you open the can. (We're serious.) Put the dog food on a plate, then with your dog watching, take it off your table and set it before him. He'll think he's getting table scraps. But what he's really getting is the complete 100% nutrition he needs.
